For Seventy-four Years a Builder in Collingsworth County
WELLINGTON, COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY, TEXAS 79095 THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1983

Number 11

1931 CAR TAG SHINGLES

Unused license plates from 1931 provided the shingle material for a house that Wayne Johnson built during the Depression 7 miles east and 1 mile south of Lutie. Johnson's house burned, and he built a small house and shingled it with the car tags. His family lived in the house for a few years during the Depression until a new house was built. Apparently Johnson obtained the tags from the clerk's office because none appear to have been used and many are in sequence on the roof, a reminder of the economic times that prevented many people from registering their vehicles and left the county clerk with piles of unclaimed tags. The house stood until a couple of years ago when a pipeline crew accidentally knocked it down. About 1,000 of the 1,500 original car tag shingles remain on the roof.

City Water, Sewer, Trash Rates Go Up

City of Wellington water, sewer and trash rates will go up in the October billings that will begin coming out next week.

Residential users will pay $5 more per month, including a $2 increase in water rate minimums, $2 in sanitation and $1 in sewer.

New residential rates $10 minimum for water, $8 for sanitation and $6 for sewer. Commercial water rates have been increased from $8 to $10 and the commercial trash rate scale has been increased from the old $10 to $18 range to a new $15 to $50 range, depending on how many times a week the City picks up a business's trash. Commercial sewage rates are figured on the gallons of water used each month.

The increases are the result of the City's financial status which was reported to Council members in an audit report last week--the City spent $32,552 more than it took in during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1983.

"We are looking at increases this year of about $80,000 in costs that we can't control," City Manager Glen Taylor said this week. "Our street lighting bill, for example, has jumped from under $600 per month to over $2,000. And our state-mandated firemen's retirement fund cost will increase $11,000 this year."

"We were also losing money on our sanitation services and we were having to take too much money out of other departments to subsidize sanitation. The increase will help to replace trash trucks and other sanitation equipment as they wear out."

The City's revenues totaled $767,372. Expenditures, including $148,317 in capital expenditures, totaled $792,924.

Property taxes brought in about $63,000. Water, sewer and sanitation services brought in about $430,000. Gross receipts taxes from Lone Star Gas, Cablecom, West Texas Utilities and General Telephone earned the City about $45,000. The City sales tax netted the city about $71,000 last year.

The City also received a Revenue Sharing funds of about $26,000. And the City received a grant of $90,000 from the Texas Aeronautical Commission which went into airport improvements.

General fund expenditures are broken down into 9 major departments: administration $120,448; municipal building, $26,003; park, $18,926; fire department, $24,608; airport, $11,949; police (combined law enforcement) $98,302; shop, $10,213; street and sanitation, landfill, $182,209; and swimming pool, $10,301.

(The swimming pool, by the way, took in $7,688 during the fiscal year. It's hard to compare pool expenses and receipts, though, since most of the expenses are in one fiscal year and most of the receipts from that season are in the next.)

expenditures were $147,376.

The City has no bonded indebtedness, although it does have a note at Wellington State Bank with which it paid for seal-coating streets and on which it is making principal payments of $3,000 per month.

Rockets, Stinnett Meet There Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets take on the Stinnett Rattlers, one of the two top teams in District 1-AA, Friday, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. at Stinnett.

"We're going to have to execute with our quarterback," head coach James Williams said this week. "We have a new quarterback starting this week and he'll be under pressure."

Joe Bill Munn, who has been starting at quarterback, is scholastically ineligible this week and Michael Souder will take over quarterback duties. Darvin Nix may also run the quarterback slot this week, Williams said.

"This will be another good test for our offense," Williams said. "We felt like we got off the ball well and moved the football last week--if we can come off the ball quickly again this week I think we can move on them."

"I think Stinnett's strongest point is their defense," Williams said. "They're larger on defense than on offense."

Stinnett's offense runs out of the I formation much of the time, and they run lots of wedge plays similar to plays the Rockets saw against Hollis.

"I look for them to give the ball to their tailback and run double wedges straight at us," Williams said. "And their quarterback is a state champion high hurdler--he likes to fake inside and keep outside. We'll have to try to contain him. And if you give him time he's capable of hitting them on passing situations. Basically, we have to stop their wedge plays and contain the quarterback outside."

Stinnett is 2-1-1 for the season, compared to the Rockets' 2-2.

Stinnett beat Lefors 40-0 in the season opener, then lost to Panhandle 17-0. They tied Shamrock 22-22 and beat Spearman last week 7-6.

Country Club Schedules Championship Tourney

Wellington Country Club championship tournament is slated for Saturday and Sunday, October 1 and 2, according to Eddie Orr, tournament chairman.

Champions will be named in each the men's and women's divisions, Orr said. Defending champions are Louise Mabery, who has held the title for the last three years, and Willie Gragson, who picked up his second championship under the present country club organization.

There will be 18 holes of play each day, with tee off time at 1:30 both days.

There will be a $10 entry fee and cash prizes awarded.

In addition, Wellington State Bank is sponsoring a trophy for the winner of each flight.

"We expect from 25 to 30 in the men's division and approximately 20 in the women's division, and most of these have already signed up," said Orr.

"We will try to get everyone to play in the afternoon, although it is possible we could have a flight to play in the morning of each day. The championship and first flights definitely will be in the afternoon, both men and women," said Orr, newly elected club president.

First of the championship tournaments under the present Wellington Country Club organization was held in 1979, when Billie Holton and Bill Cole of Hollis were champions of the two divisions. Others have been: 1980, Willie Gragson and Louise Mabery; 1981, Mrs. Mabery and Mark Williams; 1982, Mrs. Mabery and Gragson.

"The course is looking pretty good considering the drought, and the rain last week helped," said Orr.

He was elected president of the club in a recent directors meeting to succeed Steve Davis, who did not seek re-election to the office.

District Court Handles 5 Cases, Grand Jury Returns 7 Indictments

District Court handled two revocation of probation hearings and three pleas and a Collingsworth County grand jury handed down 7 indictments Monday, Sept. 19.

Probation was revoked for Michael Lee, who was on probation for a 2-year sentence for driving while intoxicated in Collingsworth County. Lee had been charged with DWI in Donley County following an automobile accident there.

Calvin Roland's probation for a 1982 burglary and theft conviction was not revoked at the hearing last Monday. District Attorney David McCoy said that the judge found that although Roland had not met all probation mandates, the infractions were not serious enough to require that he be sent to prison.

Stanley Stephens pled guilty to criminal mischief and was sentenced to 7 years probation, $700 fine and court costs and restitution of $2554.75 to Mack Shields, Rodney White and Raymond Lee, whose tractors northwest of Wellington had been vandalized.

Cecil Verdell Masten pled guilty to felony driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to 2 years probation, $200 fine and court costs.

Gary Phillips pled guilty to felony driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to 2 years probation, $200 fine and court costs.

The Collingsworth County

grand jury returned seven indictments:

*Harvey Dale Adkins, felony DWI;

*Ernest Benton, criminal mischief;

Tony Glover, aggravated assault;

*Juan Sanchez, burglary of motor vehicle;

*Daniel Trejo, burglary of motor vehicle;

*David Davila, burglary of motor vehicle;

*Albaro Robles Slvdrez, burglary of habitation.

ANTIQUE RECORD PLAYERS

Lorene Jenkins, left, member of the Collingsworth County Museum board, displays with L.C. Sweat two antique hand-cranked record players recently donated to the Museum by Mrs. Sweat's brother, the late Dewey Young of Dallas. Young purchased four record players over 20 years ago from an advertisement in a Dallas paper from an Augusta, Maine firm. The four players were purchased for $500 total with the intention of donating one to Clarendon College, one to the Shamrock Museum and two to the Collingsworth County Museum. The player on the left is a Victor brand Graphophone and the one on the right is an Edison brand cylinder phonograph dating from the turn of the century.

offense also starts on defense, but two team members usually play defense only: defensive tackle Joe Murphy, senior, 250; and defensive back Alex Deluna, junior, 155.

The Skyrockets are listing only one injury this week. Michael Skelton has a pulled back muscle, but coach Williams thinks he'll be ready to play again by Friday night.

The Skyrockets beat Stinnett 21-7 here last year. It was the teams' first meeting in at least a decade.

Tax Notices Go In The Mail Friday, Sept. 30

Tax notices will be in the mail Friday. That's the word from local taxing entities.

Wellington Independent School District and Collingsworth County tax collectors both said their property tax notices will go out in Friday's mail. The City of Wellington said their notices will go out Friday or early next week.

There is no change in the tax rate this year for the City, the Hospital District or the County. But the school districts rates are all up: Wellington 10%, Samnorwood 3.8% and Hedley 4.7%.

Blue Angels Highlight Amarillo Air Show

AMARILLO-The U.S. Navy Blue Angels will arrive in Amarillo, Texas, October 8-9, for the second professional air show in that city's history. The precision jet pilot team will appear on a bill including the Eagles Aerobatic Flight Team, the world's smallest jet "Silver Bullet" and the U.S. Army Golden Knights Parachute Team.

Amarillo Air Show '83 will be held Saturday and Sunday (Oct. 8-9) at the city's International Airport on I-40 East. It's sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee. Free parking is available on the southeast side of the airport. Gates will open at 10 a.m., to allow visitors time to tour the ground displays.

The newest military aircraft, World War II aircraft, the latest business aircraft, experimental craft and a few ultra-light aircraft will be spread out on the 20-acre air show tract at the airport. Nearly 30 Amarillo community service organizations will run the concessions at the show.

Gate admission will be $6 for adults, $2 for children 6-12, and free for under 6. Pre-ticket sales are being held at the Hastings Book Stores in Amarillo, Pampa and Borger. In Amarillo ticket sales will also be at Sears, Sharp's Honda and the Amarillo International Airport Information/Insurance Counter.

In addition, a trip for four to Disneyworld will be drawn for at the Air Show on Saturday. The trip is sponsored by American Airlines and Coca-Cola. Contest forms are being distributed throughout the Panhandle in Coca-Cola six pack cartons. On Sunday 2 trips to Nassau will be drawn for courtesy of Delta Airlines and McDonald's Restaurants. Application forms for that drawing are being distributed through McDonald's Restaurants in the area.

The Blue Angels demonstration consists of six A-4F Skyhawk II's performing a prescribed sequence of maneuvers. The aircraft are seen in three components: a diamond formation of four aircraft; two solo aircraft that oppose each other along the line of flight; and, finally, all six aircraft in a delta formation.

In combat, the tactics that the Blue Angels demonstrate might be flown from treetop level to 60,000 feet. However, for the aerospace enthusiasts who come to watch the Amarillo Air Show, the Blues bring all maneuvers down to eye level. Bringing it down involves performing at low altitudes, using skills taught to student pilots at high altitudes.

None of the maneuvers are stunts or "daring feats," for all are part of the stock-in-trade of any fighter or attack pilot in tactical maneuvers. They are done in extremely close formation rather than individually and are done at a lower altitude than is normally the case.

The Eagles Aerobatic Flight Team is comprised of Charlie R. Hillard, Tom Poberezny and Gene Soucy. Flying the Eagle I sport biplanes, the team is returning to Amarillo to share the bill with the Angels. The Eagles opened the first world class air show in Amarillo in May of 1982.

The Eagles are known for the opposing knife-edge "Switchblade" maneuver that they introduced in 1980. Team leader, Charlie Hillard is often identified with a spectacular maneuver he introduced known as the "Torque Roll." Hillard holds the airplane in a vertical climb through zero airspeed, maintaining a continual rolling maneuver all the way to the top of a vertical line and back down. The plane seems to hang on its propeller while rolling in a direction opposite the propeller's rotation. In 1972 the Eagles took the world aerobatic championships in France and Hillard took the world individual championship.

The World's Smallest Jet-The Coors Light Silver Bullet-was built by Bob Bishop and his wife, Mary Ellen, along with the help of many friends, during the winter and spring of 1976. Even though the jet is tiny, it is capable of amazing aerobatic maneuvers and of obtaining speeds nearing 300 mph. Built largely of light gauge aluminum, the Coors Light Silver Bullet is the world's smallest and lightest man-carrying jet aircraft. It weighs 432 pounds and its total length is 12 feet.

Born in Lubbock, Texas, Bishop narrates his own performance from the cockpit of the Silver Bullet via a radio. He climaxes the show with a fall backwards, tail first, towards the earth in the Silver Bullet. For a time the craft is lost in its own smoke. After a long slide and a violent looking tumble the nose points earthward until Bishop pulls the Bullet out of the dive.

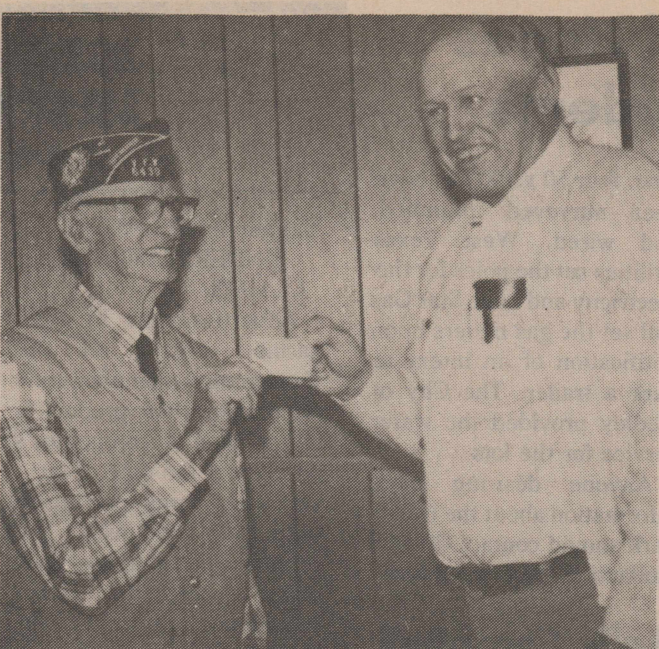

The Golden Knights are the Army's official parachute demonstration team. These specially selected airborne soldiers complete in national and international parachute competitions, help develop new parachuting techniques and equipment and, each year, demonstrate their skills before millions of spectators.

Four events mark a Golden Knight performance: the baton pass, the cutaway, the diamond track, and the formation. Two jumpers are involved in the baton pass which requires them to free-fall for 60 seconds holding hands and passing the baton. The cutaway features one jumper. He free-falls for 3,500 feet, then deploys the first main chute. He causes that chute to collapse, free falls for another 2,000 feet, then opens his main chute to land. The Diamond Track involves two jumpers who free fall until they are as far apart as time will permit, they return together while free-falling and open their chutes at 2,000 feet. Four jumpers exit the craft in the formation event. After 10 seconds they come together and free-fall for 60 seconds in the shape of a diamond. At 3,000 feet, the jumpers 'bomb burst' seperating into a free-fall, and the main parachutes are opened at 2,000 feet.

7th, 8th, JV Travel Thurs. To Panhandle

Wellington 7th Grade, 8th Grade and Junior Varsity football teams meet Panhandle for the first time this season at Panhandle Thursday, Sept. 29. The teams will meet again at the last game of the season Nov. 3.

The 7th grade games begins at 4:30 p.m., 8th grade at 6:00 p.m. and JV at 7:30 p.m.

October 1 Detox Fund Deadline

Unless help is received by Oct. 1, the Panhandle Regional Detoxification Center in Amarillo will close for good.

"We need your tax-deductable donations now to continue the work started in June," said Roy L. McClellan, Hansford County Judge who is chairman of the Panhandle County Judges Chemical Abuse Services Systems, Inc.

County Judge Zook Thomas is a member and he pointed out that in the brief period the detoxification center has been open, two Collingsworth County residents have used the facility.

He feels both received much benefit from its services.

The donation will also benefit the Panhandle Alcoholic Recovery Center, which will close within 6 months if help is not found.

"Many of those who started their recovery in detoxification continued it at the recovery center and are now tax-paying citizens again," said Judge McClellan.

Those making donations by the end of this month should send them to:

Judges Fund, P.O. Box 9257, Amarillo, Texas 79105.

Hedley Board Hopes To Attract Students

A contract was approved by the Hedley School Board at its September meeting for the leasing of newly constructed trailer house parking spaces. This contract is the final step in a cooperative plan by Hedley Schools, the City of Hedley and the Hedley Lion's Club.

The idea was formulated with one major goal in mind: To provide more places to live in the Hedley area. The board hopes that if more living or renting space is available, people may be attracted to live in Hedley. This will improve the economy and provide an increased enrollment for Hedley Schools if families with children choose to reside here. To enhance this idea, the board decided to allow a family with children attending Hedley Schools to park permanent trailers at no charge for the space.

The plumbing and construction of the park were completed by Loyd Riddle-spurger. At the present time, four 50 x 100 lots have been surveyed, plumbed, and wired. West Texas Utilities set the poles for the electricity and Lone Star Gas will set the gas meters upon notification of an intent to park a trailer. The City of Hedley provided the water service for the lots.

Anyone desiring more information about the trailer park should contact Glyndol Holland at Hedley Schools.

She placed 5th in pole bending, 6th in the barrel race, and 1st in goat tying. For the latter, she received a belt buckle.

Width Limits Don't Apply to Farmers

(AUSTIN)--Commissioners for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation approved Wednesday a policy maintaining the traditional exemption from width limitations that allows overwide agricultural implements to move short distances on public roads.

The commissioners acted to clarify the meaning of HB 1602, passed in the recent legislative session to comply with federal highway assistance regulations. Some staff members at the Highway Department believed that a technical reading of the legislation could mean the end of the agricultural exemption.

Concerned about the effect of such an interpretation on farming operations, Texas Agricultural Commissioner Jim Hightower contacted Governor Mark White and Highway Commission Chairman Robert C. Lanier of Houston, who pledged their assistance in solving the problem.

"We agreed to correct it about 15 minutes after we learned of it," Lanier said, after Wednesday's action. "We felt the intent of the legislature was to regulate the loads on the highway and not to restrict farmers."

Without the clarifying action by the commission, farmers could have been required to purchase permits at a cost of $40 per month in order to move vehicles wider than eight and a half feet on any public road.

"The effect of the commission's action is to keep the exemption just like it was," Lanier said.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Bigby

September 27, 1983

UNDERSTAND FAT CLAIMS

Advertisements by margarine, cooking oil and shortening manufacturers often claim their product is better than a competitor's because of the type of fat -- saturated versus polyunsaturated -- it contains.

Since all of these food makers present rather convincing arguments why their product is better for you than the other, it's easy for consumers to become confused. But you can sort out the advertising claims with a few facts about fat.

Fats are complex structures with many different parts of elements linked together. These links are actually chemical bonds.

A saturated fat is one in which all of the links are filled.

Saturated fats are usually solid or hard at room temperature and are mostly found in animal fats and in a few plants. The fats in lard, beef, pork, lamb, butter fat, egg yolk and poultry skin are mainly the saturated type.

Palm and coconut oils are also highly saturated, although they come from plants. Coconut oil is more saturated than butter fat and is used in many "nondairy products" such as coffee creamers, dessert fillings and toppings.

Chocolate also contains saturated fat from cocoa butter.

Polyunsaturated fats are those in which the links are not all filled, or saturated. These are liquid at room temperature and come from plant sources, such as corn, safflower, soybean, sunflower, cotton seed and sesame oils. Peanut and olive oil are more saturated than these, and are classified as monounsaturated fats.

Hydrogenated fats are vegetable shortenings and margarines which are solid at room temperature even though they originate from plants. The vegetable oil has undergone a process in which hydrogen was added to fill some of the chemical links. This hardening process causes the oil to become more saturated and increases the storage life of the products.

Is any one type of fat better for you than another? Food and nutrition specialists with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service say that research gives conflicting answers to this question. High consumption of saturated fats tends to raise cholesterol levels which are associated with heart disease. High consumption of polyunsaturated fats lowers cholesterol, but has been associated with increased incidence of cancer in laboratory animals. Over-consumption of any type of fat is probably not good for you.

In the meantime, consumers should recognize that certain amounts of fats -- saturated, unsaturated or both -- are necessary for good health and part of a balanced diet. So you might be better off to select fat products on the basis of preference, calorie level, or intended use of the fat rather than the advertising claims for a "healthful" product.

Reducing Acreage Can Help Wheat Farmer

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas wheat farmers have started planting their 1984 crop, but many are still in the dark as to what to do about the government's wheat program.

"While the new wheat program is not as attractive as last year's, participating in the 30 percent reduced acreage program (RAP) could be profitable," says Ed Smith, an economist in grain marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"This is because the expected deficiency payment rate ($1.15 per bushel) more than compensates farmers for not producing on the least productive 30 percent of their wheat land. Overall, the 30 percent RAP looks like cheap price insurance."

On the other hand, the decision to participate in the 20 percent PIK phase of the program is not as clear cut, notes Smith. Participation in PIK is close to a breakeven situation with the 30 percent RAP program since a producer gives up deficiency payments on 20 percent of his land and is paid 75 percent of his farm program yield in PIK wheat.

Farmers still have plenty of time to make a decision--the sign-up period is Jan. 16 through Feb. 24, 1984. And Congress could still make some changes. But, as of now Texas

Merrihearts Have Meeting Tues. Sept. 27

The Merrihearts of the First United Methodist Church met Tuesday, Sept. 27 in the church fellowship hall. The blessing was given by Rev. Tom Thomson.

After the luncheon, the group sang "Happy Birthday" to five people with September birthdays. One of those with a September birthday Mrs. Florrie Graham, gave a humorous reading, "When I Do Grow Old." She has just celebrated her 91st birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Johnson had a beautiful musical program. They sang solos and duets and she played several piano solos. Their closing song was joined by the group.

Attending were guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cummings and Ryan, Rev. Tom Thomson and Craig, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Florrie Graham, Mrs. Ruby Ball, Mrs. Pearl Reeves, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett, Mrs. Donald Curry, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. G.E. Van Pelt, Mrs. Bettye Conant, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Johnson and Molly, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith, Mrs. Mary Karnes, Mrs. Pauline Masten, Mrs. Wayne Reynolds, Mrs. Robert Owens, Mrs. Mamie Terry, Mrs. Erma Spillman and Mrs. J.B. King.

farmers have three options: --Not participating in the RAP and forfeiting all rights to direct farm program benefits.

--Participating in the 30 percent RAP only, guaranteeing access to Commodity Credit Corp. loans and possible deficiency payments.

--Participating in both the 30 percent RAP plus an additional 10 to 20 percent PIK acreage diversion.

Major differences in the 1984 wheat program and the past year's program are these:

--The target price will increase from $4.30 to $4.45 per bushel.

--The national average loan rate will be lowered by 35 cents to $3.30 per bushel.

--The maximum deficiency payment rate will increase from 65 cents to $1.15 cents per bushel.

--Acreage reduction requirements will increase from 20 to 30 percent of the established wheat acreage base, and there will be no paid acreage diversion or advanced deficiency and diversion payments.

--Grazing of reduced acres will be allowed only outside the six principal wheat-growing months, and no haying or graze-out will be permitted.

The effectiveness of the new wheat program will have a major impact on prices for the '84 crop. However, Smith sees '84 wheat being at or slightly below the loan rate, barring weather disasters.

He also sees little price improvement for '83 wheat through the remainder of this year but some strengthening in early 1984 as farmers hold their wheat in the loan program and have used PIK entitlements. That increase will likely be short-lived, though, with competition from the Southern Hemisphere and new crop expectations, says Smith.

PTO to Hold First Meeting October 5

Wellington Elementary School Parent Teacher Organization will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, Oct. 5 at the school.

Plans for the annual Halloween carnival will be started.

At the end of the meeting, PTO members will adjourn to the individual rooms where room mothers will be elected.

"We encourage each parent who can be there to come, for this is an important meeting," said Nancy McKinney, interim president.

Norma Spillman is PTO secretary, Pat Pruitt treasurer, Janetta Britten, reporter and Sondra Daniel, publicity chairman.

The Halloween carnival, which will be Saturday night, Oct. 29, is the one money-making project sponsored by the PTO each year.

Free Trees Available from Arbor Day Group

Ten free flowering trees will be given to people who join the National Arbor Day Foundation during September, 1983.

The free trees are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America.

The Foundation will give two White Dogwood, two American Redbud, two European Mountain Ash, two Washington Hawthorn, and two Flowering Crab trees to members joining during September. The six-to-twelve inch trees will be shipped this fall postage paid with enclosed planting instructions.

These trees were selected because they will give a colorful flowering of pink, white and red blossoms throughout the spring, according to the Foundation.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during September.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to Flowering Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by September 30, 1983.

Family Honors Mrs. Nell Cook Saturday on Her 90th Birthday

A reception in honor of her 90th birthday was given for Mrs. Nell Cook Sunday September 25 in the Heritage Room. Hosts were her three children and their spouses, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Harrell (Helen) of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Cook of Roswell, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlton Cook of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Cook and her two sisters, Mrs. Grace Grose of Tipton, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Blanche Galloway of Tulsa, Oklahoma, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Frank Cook registered the guests at a table covered with a crocheted lace cloth, which Mrs. Cook had made for the occasion.

The reception table was laid with a linen cloth sent from Germany by a granddaughter, and pink and orchid flowers were in the centerpiece. Crystal appointments were used.

Two granddaughters, Mrs. Nikki Bettinger of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Phyllis Landrum of Friona served the guests. Great granddaughters assisted, Terressa Coen of Roswell, N.M., Mary Nell Bettinger and DeeAnn Bettinger of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Cook has lived in Wellington since a short time after she and the late Jess Cook were married, December 24, 1911, at Tipton, Oklahoma.

Her parents had come from Albany, New York, and homesteaded in Kansas. Mrs. Cook, the former Ellen Florelia Buell was born at Wamego, Kansas Sept. 25, 1893, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.K. Buell.

Mrs. Cook was one of 14 children.

In 1901, the family again moved to a newly settled country, Tipton, Tillman County in what was then the Indian Territory. Again Mr. Buell filed on new land. For periods of time, it would be necessary for him to return to Kansas, and Mrs. Buell and the children remained on the claim, farming it.

Mrs. Cook is a member of 1st Baptist Church and has always been active in its work. She is a member of Wellington Garden Club and the Good Neighbor Club.

Relatives and friends coming from out of town were Mrs. Grace Grose and Mr. and Mrs. Homre Grose and son, Jerry, of Tipton, Okla.; Mrs. Blanche Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bouda of Tulsa, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jock Landrum and family of Friona; Bryan Landrum of Plainview; Nikki Bettinger, Mary Nell Bettinger, DeeAnn Bettinger, all of Ft. Worth; Terressa Coen, and David Russell of Roswell, New Mexico.

Hospital Auxil. Covers Variety of Business Tues.

Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary met Tuesday, Sept. 20 in the Heritage Room. Mrs. Loretta Wright, president, conducted the business meeting, Mrs. Bertha Mae Keller read the minutes, and Mrs. Doris Knoll gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Knoll announced that the bed races, bucket brigade, and soft drink stand at the Home Grown Fun Fair were quite successful.

These proceeds added to memorial funds received will aid the ongoing project of curtains for each of the patient rooms and some new projects under consideration.

Projects being considered are new numbers for all patient room doors, a shower chair and a shampoo bowl for patients who have prolonged stays in the hospital.

Auxiliary members voted to sponsor an educational program offered by the Collingsworth County unit of the American Cancer society.

Members were reminded that Dr. G.N. Pillai of Amarillo will be here every three weeks to provide an oncology clinic for cancer patients and that possibly auxiliary members will offer their help if needed.

It was also noted that people with magazines for the hospital should take them to Hartman Electric Co. to be stored and placed in the hospital as needed. The hospital foyer supply had gotten low but was recently supplied by a donation of magazines by Mrs. Richard Fourmentin.

A new member, Mrs. Charles Britten, was introduced and will begin her service hours soon.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Austin Sen. Lloyd Doggett's governor-for-a-day ceremonies couldn't have come at a better time for Lloyd Doggett, or a worse time for Bob Krueger. Doggett, who is in the midst of a tough campaign against Krueger for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, was feted Saturday as governor-for-a-day. That is the day when the governor and the lieutenant governor traditionally leave the state for 24 hours to allow the president pro tempore of the Texas Senate—in this case Doggett—to serve as acting governor. The honoree gets to serve just long enough to sign a few proclamations and resolutions, but not long enough to take any real action.

However, the day does provide the honoree with a chance to pull out all the stops, invite in a lot of friends and political supporters, raise a bit of campaign money and—best of all—get a lot of media exposure.

With all the speechifying, wining and dining and politicking that goes on during a governor-for-a-day ceremony, Doggett should get plenty of newspaper space and radio and television air time.

And that translates into a lot of free campaign advertising.

Considering that Doggett is the acknowledged underdog in his race against Krueger, a former congressman and ambassador-at-large to Mexico, Doggett needs all the free publicity he can get to build his name identification among voters.

In addition to Krueger, Doggett also will be taking on Lubbock Congressman Kent Hance in the Democratic primary this May.

Gramm Announces

The Republicans also have a carload of candidates who already have announced for that Senate seat, the one being vacated by Republican Sen. John Tower.

And the latest of those candidates is College Station Congressman Phil Gramm.

Gramm threw his hat into the ring last week, joining Houston Republican Rob Mombacher, Houston Congressman Ron Paul and a host of other potential candidates who are sizing up the race.

Gramm is the "Boll Weevil" Democrat who bolted the party earlier this year after being unceremoniously kicked out of the House Budget Committee.

For the GOP, Gramm could prove to be a very good candidate.

During a time when statewide Democratic candidates have been running roughshod over Republicans, Gramm provides name identification and a strong following in at least part of the state. Gramm's switch to the Republican Party did little to hurt his political strength in the Central Texas district in which he resides—a district that will be very important in the 1984 Senate contest.

However, the Democrats also are more than a little pleased to have Gramm in the race. Democratic leaders are confident that Gramm cannot win a statewide race in Texas, that he has not yet built a strong enough following in the GOP to pull votes away from more established Republican candidates and, most importantly, his entry into the Senate race gives Democrats an outstanding chance to recapture the congressional seat they lost when Gramm rebelled last year.

The GOP primary contest could be one of the most interesting Republican battles in years, particularly if former Senate candidates Jim Collins of Dallas and Walter "Mad Dog" Mengden of Houston make the race.

Mattox Arraigned

While the U.S. Senate race continued to heat up, Attorney General Jim Mattox's legal problems continued to mount.

Mattox was arraigned on charges of commercial bribery in connection with accusations that he threatened to ruin the bond business of Houston law firm Fulbright and Jaworski.

That firm is representing Mobil Oil Corp. is a $1.7 billion lawsuit brought against Mobil by the State of Texas and South Texas rancher-oilman Clinton Manges.

Mobil had subpoenaed Mattox's sister to testify about banking transactions involving Mattox campaign loans when the threats purportedly were made.

Mattox has denied making any threats, has accused Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle of trumping up the felony bribery charges just to save face after a six-week investigation had turned up nothing and vowed to stay in office even if convicted of the charges.

Mattox, who has a reputation as a fighter, bully and an extremely abrasive politician, says the whole thing comes down to whether he or Mobil Oil will run the Attorney General's Office.

Mattox also has been quick to point out at nearly every opportunity that it is the school children of Texas who would benefit if the state wins its $1.7 billion suit.

That fact, he hopes, will give his fight the appearance of a little guy versus big guy contest and build public opinion on his side.

Phone Rates

While Mattox was vowing to fight on against big oil, another giant, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., was bringing out its big guns in an effort to convince the Public Utility Commission that it really does need the $1.7 billion rate hike it has requested.

Southwestern Bell trotted out former Carter administration economic advisor Alfred Kahn to tell a PUC hearings examiner that consumers must pay the price for "luxury" telephone service.

Kahn, the 65-year-old economist who served as "inflation czar" for President Jimmy Carter from 1978 to 1980, said the current local telephone rates are far below the cost of providing service.

"If you want a Cadillac, I'm happy to let you have a Cadillac as long as you pay for it," he said.

That testimony drew sharp criticism from the PUC's new public counsel Jim Boyle.

Boyle called Kahn the telephone company's "hired gun."

The $1.7 billion rate hike request is the largest ever presented to the PUC and has brought howls from consumer advocates who feel the phone company is trying to take advantage of the court-ordered break-up of American Telephone & Telegraph, Southwestern Bell's parent company, to gouge consumers.

The request, if granted in full, would result in a tripling of local basic telephone service charges, a situation which many feel would price the poor and elderly out of phone service altogether.

PUC members have vowed they would do whatever possible to make sure that did not happen and to preserve the concept of "universal" telephone service.

The Japanese at one time hung red lobsters, crabs and scarlet tangerines over their doors at New Year's to indicate hopes for long life and happiness.

Senator Bill Sarpalius

Reports

Amendment No. 2

AUSTIN — Since its beginning, Texas has traditionally protected homes from forced sale to satisfy debts owed by the homeowner. The only exemption to this broad protection were for debts incurred to purchase the home itself, debts incurred in making home improvements, or unpaid taxes on the home. Aside from these three exceptions, a debtor's homestead is exempted from the reach of his creditors.

Under the Texas Constitution, a homestead is classified as either rural or urban. The rural homestead exemption cannot consist of more than two hundred acres of land, without regard to the value of improvements thereon. The urban homestead, however, is limited to land valued not in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), not including the value of improvements thereon. Thus, while the rural homestead is based upon size, the urban homestead is based upon value.

On November 8, Texas

voters will be asked to adopt a constitutional amendment to replace the current value limitation of an urban homestead with a limitation based upon size. This proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution would provide that a homestead in a city, town or village may consist of not more than one acre of land without regard to the value of improvements thereon.

Proponents of the amendment contend that the current urban homestead exemption is inadequate. Many lots situated in urban areas are valued in excess of the current ten thousand dollar ($10,000) limitation.

which makes them subject to forced sale by a creditor. They add that should this amendment not be adopted, continued increases in inflation and the price of land will require periodic updating of the current value limitation. Finally, as rural homesteads are defined in terms of size, and not value, this proposed amendment would create a similar standard for its urban counterpart and thereby provide consistency and fairness.

Opponents of the amendment argue that such an expansion of the urban homestead exemption is unnecessary, as the current value limitations were never related to a homeowner's needs, and that the limitless value of improvements upon the homestead are the critical factors for protection.

Others claim that the intent of the homestead exemption is to ensure security for a family's home, not to provide a person with an opportunity to escape payment of a legitimate debt. In short, opponents of this proposed amendment are confident that the current urban homestead exemption of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), plus unlimited improvements thereon is adequate to provide a family with a secure home.

If you have any questions about this or the other 10 proposed constitutional amendments please contact me by writing Senator Bill Sarpalius, Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Skyrockets Massacre Nocona Indians 47-0 at Vernon

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, September 29, 1983

12

The Wellington Skyrockets crushed the Nocona Indians 47-0 at Vernon Friday, Sept. 19 to even the season at 2-2.

The Rockets scored on the fourth down of the game and never looked back. Nocona could not keep their hands on the ball. The Indians fumbled a dozen times and the Rockets recovered 5 of them, and Wellington intercepted 3 Nocona passes.

Dewayne Culpepper put the Rockets on the board with a 24-yard dash with less than 2 minutes ticked off the scoreboard clock. Mark Hunnicutt kicked the extra point.

Nocona fumbled on their first play and Wellington recovered at the Nocona 20. Less than a minute later Dewayne Culpepper scored again on a 10 yard run. The extra point kick was off the mark and the Rockets held a 13-0 lead with 9:13 still showing on the first quarter clock.

Wellington missed a field goal from the 11 yard line on its next possession.

But the next time the Rockets touched the ball Dewayne Culpepper broke for a 59-yard touchdown run. An extra point pass from Joe Bill Munn to Rosendo Villanueva made the score 21-0 at the end of the end of the first quarter.

Excellent downfield blocking by the Rocket line led James Benton on a 34-yard scamper on the Rockets' next possession. Then Benton carried from the 10 for another touchdown and Mark Hunnicutt's extra point kick made it 28-0 57 seconds into the second quarter.

Less than a minute later Wellington recovered another Nocona fumble at the Nocona 17, and the Rockets scored again with a 17-yard toss from Joe Bill Munn to Mark Hunnicutt. The kick failed and the Rockets held a 34-0 lead that they took into half-time.

Nocona drove to the Rocket 13 but Bill Reeves killed the drive with an interception, and the Rockets came back to Nocona's 10-yard line before the half-time buzzer.

Wellington came out of half-time and scored on their first possession (as they've done in two other games). Quarterback Joe Bill Munn kept the ball for a 68-yard touchdown run on the first play of the half. The extra point kick made it 41-0 with 24 seconds gone in the half.

On the next possession, Nocona drove to the Rocket 18, but fumbled again. The Rockets fumbled back, but James Benton intercepted a Nocona pass at the 2 yard line to stop the Indians again.

The Skyrockets only other score came with 3:10 play in the game when Jay Warrick intercepted a Nocona pass and raced the left sideline for a 50-yard touchdown. (It's Warrick's second time around—he intercepted for a touchdown run last year.)

The extra point kick failed, to make the final score 47-0.

The score would have been more lopsided, but Wellington killed the ball at the Nocona 3 yard line on the final play of the game.

Firecrackers Defeat Cyclone 36-6

Wellington 8th grade Firecrackers defeated Memphis 8th grade 36-6, playing on Cyclone Field Thursday, Sept. 22.

Alex Johnson opened Wellington's scoring with an option play around right side for about 20 yards and the touchdown. Brad Long scored the 2 point conversion on a move around the left side.

Johnson scored again in the second quarter, on a dive play over the right side. Again, Brad Long accounted for the two points on an option play to the right.

Memphis scored in the second period when the Firecrackers fumbled the ball on their 5 yard and Memphis punched it in on a quarterback sneak.

The halftime score was 16-6.

In the third, James McIntosh ran the ball about 40 yards then scored on a wedge play. The try for two points failed.

Alex Johnson returned to the spotlight in the 4th and after another run amounting to about 40 yards scored on a dive play to the left. McIntosh ran the ball over for the two extra points.

It was McIntosh again in the 4th period, who scored on a 25 yard run option play.

"We had a real good offensive game," said Coach Gano Wilson. "We had two touchdowns called back on penalties. We didn't get many penalties, but those we got really hurt. We also had a real good defensive ball game."

The Firecrackers travel to Panhandle Thursday, Sept. 29, to play their 8th grade.

This is another strong team and last year each team won once.

Skyrockets-Cyclone JV Battle 0-0 Thursday

Wellington Skyrockets and Memphis Cyclone Junior Varsityes battled 0-0 Thursday, Sept. 22, on the Cyclone field.

"Our guys played an excellent defensive game. We stopped them (Memphis) nearly all night long," declared Rocket JV Coach Carl Taylor.

Michael Mackey and Chuck Brown did a good job at linebackers, and as far as down linemen, Victor Williamson, Ruben Cantu and James Patterson had a good night defensively," he continued.

Wellington made four penetrations inside the Memphis 20 yard line, while Memphis got inside the Wellington 20 only once all evening.

"We moved the ball well on offense at times, but we were not consistent. We would get inside the 20 and then couldn't get the ball on in for a touchdown," the coach pointed out.

Wellington collected penalties at crucial times.

"We made some deep plays and got them called back. We really should have had a couple of touchdowns," Taylor said.

The Rocket JV is working on offense this week—offense and consistency.

Their opponent Thursday, Sept. 29 will be Panhandle, in a game played there.

All Panhandle teams have been good for several seasons, but beyond that, not much is known of this week's opponent, except that they defeated Shamrock 40-0 earlier this year.

7th Grade Loses To Memphis 28-6

Wellington 7th Grade football team lost to Memphis 28-6 in a game played there Thursday, Sept. 22.

Memphis had collected 22 points by half-time, while the Wellington 7th grade had not crossed the goal line.

Memphis scored one more time, then the Wellington boys got things together and held Memphis to no more points for the remainder of the game.

"They had big—guys we couldn't bring down. We finally figured how to bring them down," said Coach Tommy Johnson.

Thomas Crytser accounted for Wellington's only touchdown. The team had taken the ball on the 40 yard line and drove it down to the 5, from where Crytser took the ball over on a quarterback run around right end.

"The 1st half we had one first down; the second half we had two or three pretty good drives and several first downs. We showed up well in the second half—showed we wouldn't quit.

Wellington 7th grade will travel to Panhandle Thursday, Sept. 29, to meet Panhandle's 7th grade.
