President To Offer Speedy Okay Of Bill

Advisors Have Been Emphasizing Necessity For Speed To Affect This Year's Planting In Farm Belt

Meetings Called

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. — The house and senate quickly stamped final approval today on legislation for a new $500,000,000 farm-aid program to replace AAA crop control subsidies invalidated 53 days ago by the supreme court.

President Roosevelt generally was expected to lose little time in affixing his signature to make the bill law. His agricultural advisors have emphasized the necessity for speed to affect this year's planting.

Little Opposition

Approval of the conference version of the controverted "soil conservation" measure was almost perfunctory in both branches. Both adopted the report with voice votes. There were only scattering "noes."

The senate, whose action was punctuated only by an assertion by Senator Borah (R-Ida) that the bill conferred "'omnipotent powers" on the secretary of agriculture, recessed until Monday, but Vice-President Garner was given unanimous consent to sign the measure during the holiday to assure quick transmittal to the White House.

Meetings Are Called

AAA officials, already hard at work drafting plans to administer the new program, have called regional meetings for next week to discuss details.

(The bill sets up both temporary and permanent programs. Until Jan. 1, 1938, the secretary of agriculture would have virtually unlimited authority to make payments either directly to farmers or to states adopting federal formulas, in proportion to lands taken out of commercial crop production for conserving soil and increasing fertility. After two years, all states which have not adopted programs in the interim would have to take such affirmative action to benefit from federal grants.)

To Propose New Taxes

New taxes to replace the invalidated AAA processing levies will be proposed to reimburse the treasury for the $500,000,000 authorized in the bill for the first year's subsidies. A White House-congressional parley tonight was called to consider the tax plans.

Congress meanwhile is expected to approve an actual appropriation for the program. In passing the independent offices bill the senate included an amendment appropriating $440,000,000 for subsidies and reappropriating $30,000,000 of unexpended balances in the old AAA fund. This has been held up in the Newly elected directors were A. Kessel, O. D. Kinney, J. Martin, W. T. Driver, R. W. Scott, and E. N Dickens, who displaced the following directors whose terms have expired: Marvin Abernathy, N. R. A. J. Payne, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, spoke on a triple observance to be celebrated July 4 here, Slaton's silver anniversary, Texas Centennial and July Fourth. Merchants have decided to close shops that day, on Saturday, and thousands of persons from throughout the area will be expected here.

Mothers of music students served dinner.

Following the meal, the following was presented: "The History of Slaton," Miss Mary Harlan; a play "Dead Expense," with Mrs. S. A. Peavy, Mrs. Govan Stokes, Mrs. R. W. ## First Head Of Oil In Yoakum County

Flow Of 80 Barrels In About 18 Minutes Is Reported; Hole To Be Cleaned Out

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 27. — Yoakum county got its first head of oil on top of the ground this afternoon when approximately 80 barrels from the No. 1 Bennett of the Honolulu Oil Co.-Cascade Oil Co., flowed into a tank in 17 to 18 minutes.

It is not a producer yet, at least William Brewster, drilling superintendent for C. J. (Red) Davidson, part owner and driller of the wildcat test, was unwilling to admit a well. "It looks good, we don't know how good," he commented.

Hole To Be Cleaned

Mr. Brewster said there were "several thousand feed of oil yet in the hole." He added, "We will have to clean that out, and get the 60 or 75 feet of mud and silt off the bottom before we can go ahead and drill further.'"

A large crowd of people from the territory stretching from Amarillo to Midland and Odessa and from New Mexico to Abilene and Breckenridge, was present for the swabbing of the test. As many as 75 automobiles were parked at one time in the pasture around the rig. The Sligo school, in Yoakum county, eight or ten miles from the scene, closed for the afternoon in order that pupils might visit the location.

1,400 Feet Removed

Swabbing of the hole began shortly after noon. Head Driller Bill Adkins and his crew worked under the direction of Brewster. The swab was run down into the pipe. It was estimated that approximately 1,400 feet of oil was removed.

After the oil was run into one tank, gas was used to blow out the oil over the slush pit. The gate was then closed and Brewster said: "We're through for the day, boys, change your clothes."

Interested spectators were L. P. Bennett, Abilene, and Mrs. Bennett, with their son Ralph, who is a nationally known rodeo star. The Bennetts lived on the ranch for a score of years, up to several years ago. Mr. Bennett was all smiles.

Abilene Men Present

John McKenzie, chairman of the board of trustees of Abilene Christian college and J. S. Aldredge, both of Abilene, were present and watched events. Also a number of early day Yoakum county ranchers, old time friends of the Bennetts, were here. The college, through the generosity of Mr. Bennett, has some acreage (two sections is the common report) on the ranch on which they hold mineral rights. The acreage was exchanged, it was said, for education of the younger Bennett children.

Seagraves was well represented at the scene. The town was almost deserted a good part of the day until late in the afternoon. Plains likewise was depopulated. Brownfield also had a delegation headed by Banker Marsh Kendrick. Tom Cotten, Amarillo, who has acreage east of the Bennett ranch and who has announced plans for a test soon, was there.

Entire Stock Destroyed By Blast, Flames

Merchandise Ruined And Building Housing Stanton's Furs And Cleaners Damaged Late Thursday Afternoon

An explosion and fire believed by firemen to have originated from spontaneous combustion in a drying room Thursday afternoon destroyed the entire stock of merchandise and damaged the building of Stanton's Furs and Cleaners, at 1113 Avenue K. Firemen, in addition, made four other runs during the day.

Two other establishments, Co-Ed Beauty Shop, at 1115 Avenue K, and Armstrong Radio and Refrigerator company, at 1111 Avenue K, suffered slight damage in the Avenue K fire.

Joe Stanton, proprietor of the cleaning shop, said he and Mrs. Stanton were the only ones in the establishment at the time of the blast.

Rocked By Explosion

"Mrs. Stanton said she wanted to finish a silk dress and needed a light," he said. "I began screwing in a larger bulb and the explosion rocked the place, evidently from the front, near the ceiling in a gallery. Mrs. Stanton's fuzzy woolen sweater was partly burned in the back and her hair caught fire, but she was not injured. We barely had time to get out before flames were general all over the shop. At that, the plate glass display windows in the front beat us out, having been blown across the street to near Lubbock hotel.

"There was no clothing in the drying room at the back of the shop, and had not been all day. Ventilation seemed to be all right, for two of the front upper windows were opened and there was a vent leading from the drying room to allow escape of possible fumes."

Stock Is Destroyed

Firemen were not able to prevent loss of stock, since the fire had too much headway and was general.

Mrs. Stanton required emergency treatment after she had escaped from the building, having fainted.

D. A. Forbess, fire marshal, said the blaze appeared to investigators to have started in the drying room. He said he would investigate all tailor and dry cleaning shops today to check ventilation vents from drying rooms.

"If vents required by law are not

Favorite Son Being Entered

Robert A. Taft, Son Of Late President Howard Taft, Is Chosen To Oppose Borah In Ohio Primaries

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27. — Ohio organization Republicans pitted a "favorite son" presidential candidate today against Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho for control of the state's 52 delegates to the national convention.

Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, son of the late President William Howard Taft, was chosen by the state central committee as the organization's presidential candidate, to whom its slate of delegate candidates will pledge their first choice.

Second Man Named

Charles R. Frederickson of Coshocton was selected as a second "favorite son" candidate to whom delegate candidates will pledge their second choice.

The committee's action came after four other possible candidates informed State Chairman Ed D. Schorr they would not enter the state primary. They were Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa; Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher; Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Senator Borah's backers immediately announced his complete slate of delegate and alternate candidates-at-large, headed by John S. Knight, Akron newspaper editor.

Mae Is Having Trouble Again With 'Husband'

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP) — Asserting that "right is might," Frank Wallace today renewed his effort to obtain a court order declaring him to be the husband of Mae West, motion picture star.

From Supreme Court Justice John E. McGeehan he obtained permission to serve Miss West through the sheriff of Los Angeles county, California, with papers in his suit for a declaratory judgment.

"She has money and power," he said, "but justice is on my side. That makes it even."

Wallace, denying it was a publicity stunt as charged by Miss West, said his reputation had been damaged by her statement that she never had heard of him.

He made it plain through the new lawyer, however, that he wished to avoid any "unpleasantness or embarrassment" be-

Grave Crisis For Japan Is Near Solution

Rebellious Soldiers Agree To Return To Their Barracks; Threat Of Pitched Battle In Streets Averted

BY GLENN BABB
Associated Press Foreign Staff

TOKYO, Feb. 28, (Friday)—One of the gravest crises in the history of the modern Japanese empire appeared near solution today as rebellious soldiers, who toppled a government with bullets, agreed to return to their barracks.

The threat of a pitched battle in the streets of the capital was averted when the revolters acceded last night to the government's request that they leave police headquarters. It was unofficially reported they did so at the emperor's command.

Statesmen Are Killed

After assassinating four elder liberal statesmen Wednesday at dawn, the soldiers had barricaded themselves in the headquarters.

The rebels promised to return to their barracks, but under the compromise agreement they will retain their arms—and avoid the dishonor of being disarmed.

Eyewitnesses said hundreds of the insurgents last night, quitting the bleakness of government buildings, swarmed the famous Koraku and other restaurants and hotels nearby.

They ate, drank, took hot baths and enjoyed life in general on the eve of their return to the harsh barracks' discipline.

Credence To Reports

Despite the denials of high military officials, civilian authorities gave credence to reports that it was upon Emperor Hirohito's direct command that the insurgents accepted the arrangement to return to barracks.

The arrival last night of the first battle fleet in Tokyo bay was considered to strengthen the government's position against the insurgents, since the overwhelming majority of the navy's opposition to the insurrection was a telling factor in the capitulation of the rebels.

The question of punishment of those participating in the revolt, it was understood, was left to future negotiation.

Danger Believed Over

High officials of the army expressed confidence that the danger of further bloodshed was over.

This arrangement for liquidation of the insurrection relieved tension,

Plans For An Institute For Merchants Will Be Outlined

Plans for a Merchants institute to be conducted here next Thursday and Friday by Henry W. Stanley, director of the trade extension department of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, will be laid at 9:30 o'clock this morning when Lubbock business men meet at the chamber of commerce.

The institute will result in lectures on merchandising outlook, retail selling, turnover, advertising and kindred subjects.

Appearance of Stanley, here several years ago for a similar program, costs nothing to Lubbock men. His expenses are paid by the Dallas chamber. He is nationally recognized for economic and business knowledge.

Merchants who wish to attend the institute are invited to this morning's session.

Ban On Public Gatherings Is Being Studied

Schools Closing

Health Officers In Several East Texas Cities Taking Precautions To Halt Epidemics Of Diseases

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 27. — Spinal meningitis caused two more deaths in East Texas today as health authorities, combatting epidemics of other diseases, considered banning all public gatherings at which diseases might be spread.

Previously there had been seven deaths attributed to spinal meningitis in the Texarkana area.

Gathering Places Closed

All Kilgore schools, churches, theaters and other public gathering places were ordered closed today after an autopsy showed that Nettie Lee Carter, 7, died there of meningitis. How the quarantine would be in effect had not been determined, authorities said. Kilgore had no other cases of the dread disease.

The first case of meningitis in the Lufkin section proved fatal to A. G. Ament, 23. Doctors could find no other cases in the county but were taking precautions to prevent transmission of the disease.

Theaters in Texarkana will be allowed to open tomorrow after a five-day quarantine imposed by health officials there in an effort to curb a threatened spinal meningitis epidemic. Schools may reopen Monday. No new cases have been reported. Two known cases are recovering.

Seven Lives Claimed

Seven have died in the Texarkana area since the first of the year and, in Arkansas, there have been a number of fatalities.

Texarkana school officials planned to meet Saturday afternoon to decide whether schools should be reopened Monday.

In Beaumont, where schools were closed yesterday because of an influenza epidemic, 200 new cases were reported today to City Health Officer W. W. Dunn.

Mayor D. Renfro issued a public

Flood Damage Going Higher

Overburdened Rivers Causing Additional Deaths And Property Loss; Waters Rushing Through Streets

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 27—Overburdened rivers brought death and additional property damage to flooded regions today.

The death list rose to four in western Pennsylvania as ice laden waters from rampaging mountain streams swirled into cities and towns. Property loss mounted and scores of persons fled to higher ground.

10 Feet In Two Hours

Four feet of water surged through the streets of Parkers Landing after the Allegheny rose ten feet in two hours.

From the village of East Hickory, inundated to a depth of five feet, came reports of an ice gorge 50 feet high sweeping down the river.

The Ohio river rose above flood level at Pittsburgh, the waters poured into basements of business houses and homes in the downtown sections.

Cold Wave Forecast

A cold wave was forecast for that area but rivermen expressed the opinion it would have little effect on water levels for several days.

In other sections east of the Mississippi, however, a predicted drop in temperatures to well below freezing raised hopes the thaw would be checked and the burden of melted snow could be carried off.

Public Is Invited

The public has been invited to attend, and persons interested, to join.

The meeting is perhaps the most important the society has conducted in that the college museum program soon is to be launched under auspices of the group. Progress toward obtaining the college museum, construction of which has been authorized, will be reported at the night meeting. ## Lubbock Men Face Charges

Joe Scharnberg And Geo. Harp Lodged In County Jail On Charges Of Rape; Statements Made By Girls

Charged with rape, two Lubbock men, said to be more than 50 years old, early Thursday night had been placed in county jail.

The men, Joe Scharnberg and Geo. Harp, were arrested by Deputies Sheriff Grady Harrist and Cap Moore a few hours after three juvenile girls, one of whom alleged she was to become a mother within a few weeks, had signed statements in a court of inquiry conducted by County Attorney Jess C. Charges were filed in Trigg's court.

Others To Be Charged

Other charges likely will be filed today, against other persons, said the county attorney.

Scharnberg recently was indicted by a grand jury in connection with a probe of alleged contributing to delinquency of minor girls.

Program Designed To Raise Enough Revenue To Cover All Government Costs Is Outlined By Roosevelt

Dissension Looms

Federal Budget To Be Restored To Status Prior To Passage Of Bonus Bill And Invalidation Of Processing Taxes

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—A broad tax program for the next fiscal year intended to produce enough revenue to cover all government costs except the big items of relief was handed to reluctant congressional leaders tonight by President Roosevelt.

After a White House conference which ran past midnight—and with indications that some dissent was expressed—Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee told reporters that the bill to be introduced would restore the federal budget to its status prior to passage of the bonus bill and the invalidation of processing taxes.

Condition Is Discussed

"The conference was a full discussion of the whole fiscal condition of the government," he said. "The president informed the conference that next week he would send a message to the congress relating to the necessities and needs of the government for further money and for raising revenue to balance the budget for 1937."

"Do you mean to include recovery and relief costs?" he was asked.

"No. Of course, we can't tell what they will be."

"Was the bonus included?"

"The recommendations will deal with the need for revenues caused both by the bonus bill and by the supreme court's decision invalidating AAA."

Whether this meant that the president proposed taxation to cover all cash bonus payments in the next year was made uncertain, however, for in his next sentence Harrison said that the bonus would "not be a big item."

This led some to the conclusion that the intention was to provide money for administrative expenses incident to cashing the bonus, with the possible addition of such an amount as, continued through the intervening years, would amortize the bonus cost by 1945, the year in which it was originally due.

Cities Are Dark After Lines Cut

EL PASO, Feb. 27. (AP) — Two power lines of 66,000 and 23,000 voltage serving southern New Mexico towns in the Rio Grande valley were cut near Canutillo, Texas, 20 miles above El Paso at 8:45 p. m., tonight, leaving all towns in darkness, according to Mesilla Valley Electric company officials at Las Cruces, N. M.

The breaks were found by sheriff's deputies from El Paso at 10 p. m. Four line crews were dispatched to repair the damage.

At Las Cruces a conference of electric company officials and Col. Uil Lane, national guard commander there, was called in an attempt to place responsibility. Colonel Lane declined to act as the break was reported to have occurred in Texas and the generating plant which is in New Mexico, had not been damaged.

Towns left in darkness were Canutillo, Texas, Anthony, Las Cruces, Radium Hot Springs and Hatch, N. M.

Original Leaders Of Parent-Teacher Work In Lubbock Are Honored At Program

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

"MOST interesting," said the sweet young thing to the motor car salesman, "and now show me the depreciation, please; I hear it is heavy in these cars."

"As a matter of fact, madam," replied the opportunist, "we found it a source of worry and had it removed altogether."

IN THE MAIL

THE woman's department received in Wednesday's late mail a page from a current issue of a magazine designed primarily for men. It concerns women's pages and is written by that very efficient and somewhat bitter critic, George Jean Nathan. The sheet was torn from the magazine and sent to "Evelyn and Margaret" without comment or name of the sender.

We have decided it was the work of a woman since we think we can trace the fine Italian handwork of one of our sex in the anonymity of the thing and we have the magazine's boast that at least half of its interested readers are women. A man would have signed his name and added comments is our conviction.

That's neither here nor there. We're concerned with what Mr. Nathan wrote. Mr. Nathan, who dips his pen in gall before he writes and who considers himself capable of discussing any subject, be it opera, the movies, the arts or woman's choice in newspaper reading.

IN GOOD HUMOR

WITH charity to all and no malice for Mr. Nathan we suggest that the writer has not described a condition typical in all strata of society in his flat assertion that "still edited for the bustle era are the sappy columns concocted for today's male minded mamas and that the so-called woman's feature pages in our daily newspapers are today as much of an anachronism as bicycles built for two or Fanny Ward's grandmother."

Quoting Mr. Nathan: "The woman of today reads men's novels and men's magazines, attends men's plays, frequents men's cafes." And again, "Women do not want to read other women's advice on how to captivate men; they want to get the dope, if they want it at all, straight from headquarters. They like to read of booze and sex, of scandal. . . . They want in short, not women's page stuff but men's page stuff—and with a bang."

We believe women do like to read advice on how to get and keep a husband or else why do Dorothy Dix and Winifred Black and other "heart throb" writers have such followings? Women like to read new recipes; they like feminine food and feminine fashions. The mannish women of our acquaintance are so unusual as to be rare.

AND ANOTHER THING

LAST, but by no means least, G. J. N. writes: "In a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances among women I tell only the simple truth when I report I have yet to discover one who confesses that she even so much as glances at any such page."

All we have to say in retaliation is that this gentleman does not know the right women. In OUR wide circle of friends and those not so friendly among women we have discovered that at least nine out of 10 women who read the papers at all read the women's pages. Miss Babb, who was in a group that punched 10,000 doorbells in Chicago investigating the subject several years ago, would be the first to agree that women read features about and for and by women.

Perhaps the makeup of women's pages appear dull at times, but not half so dull as an article by a man who sets himself up as a critic for what women like and dislike.

So to our unknown benefactor we offer thanks for the contribution. It gave us a column idea that was badly needed and provided a safety valve for letting off steam. We read the article at a friend's house when it was released last month.

War Buddies Plan Reunion

First American Expeditionary Force Annual National Reunion To Be Staged In Dallas Sept. 2 To 13

DALLAS, Feb. 27. (AP)—World war veterans who heard bullets whine, crouched together in dugouts and peered through anxious eyes for sight of an enemy submarine periscope, will march down the highway of memories again.

From Sept. 2 to 13 the first American Expeditionary Force annual national reunion will be held here.

FDR To Attend

Present will be President Roosevelt, chief of the army and navy, and Gen. John J. Pershing. Positive acceptances also have been received from Gen. Malin Craig, present chief of staff of the U. S. army; Newton D. Baker, war-time secretary of war; Josephus Daniels, war-time secretary of the navy; Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who served with the first division of the A. E. F.; Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, who commanded the second United States army; Gen. James G. Harbord, who commanded the second division at Chauteau Thierry and Gen. Beaumont B. Buck, commander of the third division which stopped the enemy at the Marne.

A committee of 35, headed by Dr. J. E. McReynolds, has worked for months on the reunion. Commanders of the army, air corps, divisions and separate units of the A. E. F. have been contacted and all have answered they will attend, Dr. McReynolds said.

Full co-operation of the military and civil authorities at Washington has been assured several committees that have contacted them and practically all of the 47 governors outside Texas have announced hope of attending with veterans from their respective states.

Elaborate Plans Laid

Elaborate plans have been laid. There will be a company or battery street for everyone attending. Squad rooms and mess tables will be arranged for old buddies to be together once more.

A complete signal corps pictorial history of every division of the A. E. F. will be presented and a complete panorama in fireworks picturing the evolution of the American soldier from the battle of the Alamo to the Argonne will be shown nightly for a week.

The greatest military air maneuver ever presented in America has been planned and the grand finale will come on Gen. Pershing's birthday, Sept. 13.

Reunion Of Memories

"This will be a reunion of memories," said Dr. McReynolds. "Memories of when you marched down the white highway of France between poplar trees, memories of that high climb at Brest to the rest camp; of nights in a 40 and 8 to wake up every morning with a hobnail in your face. Of those impatient days back of the lines with the red glow on the night horizon and the distant thunder of guns, belching death; memories of those rush orders to the front with forced marches through the night; the Marne, Belleau Woods, the Ourcq and the Vesle, Fismes and Fismette, St. Mihiel, the Argonne, Varrennes, artillery, ammunition trains, water carts, rolling kitchens, ambulances filled with wounded, drawn faces, torn clothes, long nights of patrol on the high seas observation for marines—and the Armistice."

The password for all festivities will be simply:

"Remember when?"

SADLER APPOINTED

HOUSTON, Feb. 27. (AP) — Appointment of E. E. Sadler of Brownsville as deputy United States marshal for the Brownsville division, was announced here today by United States Marshal M. Frank Hammond.

Sadler, whose appointment becomes effective March 1, will succeed Duncan Wright.

Equipment For Important Expansion Of Wirephoto Service Is Developed

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Equipment for an important expansion of its nationwide system for transmitting pictures by wire was demonstrated today by the Associated Press when a news photo was sent from a portable transmitting machine over the regular wire photo network.

The machine itself is small enough to fit easily into a suitcase. It was developed in the research laboratories of the Associated Press.

Automatically Enlarged

A unique feature is the fact that a picture 4 x 5 inches in size transmitted through this new portable wirephoto machine is automatically enlarged and is received as an 8x10 inch picture by stations on the regular network.

This factor is important because it will enable photographers in the field to avoid delays and the necessity of carrying enlarging equipment.

It is planned to place these machines in approximately 25 cities strategically located, thus doubling the number of cities in which sending stations are located, and in addition have them available for spot picture coverage in the area tributary to these cities.

Pictures sent on these machines can be routed directly over the wirephoto network without any intermediate operation, or they can be received separately at any of the 26 stations on that network. The eqiupment can utilize commercial communication facilities, making it available for instantaneous use in any place, however isolated, which has a telephone.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity

Enlargement Of Museum At Canyon Okayed By Directors

CANYON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Enlargement of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society's museum has been approved by the society's board of directors.

The board voted to use about $18,000 of a $25,000 allotment from the Texas Centennial committee to enlarge the present building to take care of a rapidly growing collection. The remainder will be spent for equipment including a number of new exhibit cases.

Drinking of salt water can change a man's life from one of acute fatigue and inertia to one of brightness and activity, said Professor K. Neville Moss in a paper read to the Institute of Civil Engineers, London.

J. E. Holdren Of Slaton Held In Lieu Of $10,000 Bond; Daughter Says Father Had Threatened Life

In lieu of $10,000 bond, J. E. Holdren of Slaton was returned to county jail Thursday afternoon to await action of a 72nd district court grand jury on a complaint charging him with incest.

Holdren waived examining trial when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg. The complaint was signed by R. L. Wacker, Slaton police chief to whom Holdren's 20-year-old daughter had appealed for assistance Wednesday. The accused 47-year-old man was arrested Wednesday.

Statements Taken

Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, and Grady Harriet, deputy sheriff, took statements from the woman and her brothers, 18 and 9 years old, yesterday.

The woman's sworn statement included an allegation that she had submitted to her father's advances for several months. She said her mother died in 1929. The family, the officers were told, is in near-destitute circumstances. An investigator contributed 25 cents, and the woman purchased three loaves of bread and a can of pork and beans.

Burks said that the two brothers and their sister refused to return to their home until assured that their father was not there. They had declared he had threatened their live.

The family has been residing in a three-room residence about two miles north of Slaton.

City Commission Will Meet Today

City commission meeting originally to have been Thursday afternoon and tentatively set for Thursday night when Mayor Ross Edwards was delayed in returning to the city from a fishing trip to South Texas, has been rescheduled for this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Mayor Edwards said last night.

The mayor had wired officials at City hall Thursday morning that because of a delay occasioned by car trouble south of Abilene, he would be unable to attend the meeting which had been called at 1:30 o'clock and directed the session be held at 7:30 o'clock or this afternoon. A city official had informed the Evening Journal that the meeting would be held last night, but later commissioners definitely postponed the Thursday session.

Application of officials of Texas Technological college for extension of city limits of Lubbock beyond College avenue west to include approximately half the campus of the college will be submitted at their session. The request has been pending before the commission for approximately a year.

Other matters on the docket include consideration of a contract with the Universal Signal Co., Fort Worth, for placing traffic signs on city streets without cost to the city, in return for permission to place advertising on the markers; and passage of third and final reading on a paving ordinance.

Plans and specifications for a municipal gas system, submitted by City Manager W. H. Rodgers at the last meeting, may be discussed. No special meeting of the commission, as had been indicated at the Feb. 13 session, had been called for action on the papers.

At some English airports, it is possible to hire an airtaxi at 6 cents a mile.

The body was discovered nearly decapitated and otherwise mutilated. The slaying was attributed to enemies of socialistic education. A local police official who was with the teacher when he was seized was not molested.

Troops were sent in pursuit of the slayers.

Nine Negroes Held In Jail

Additional Suspects Are Held After Beating Victim Dies In Oklahoma; Some Angles To Be Cleared

MANGUM, Okla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Three more negroes, bringing the total to nine, were ordered held for questioned today in the brutal slaying of a mother and her daughter at Blair last week.

Her head badly beaten by a sharp-edged hoe, Mrs. Alice Wilson, 31, died last night without regaining consciousness. Her five-year-old daughter, Alice Othello, died from a blow from a heavy skillet shortly after a posse slew her alleged attacker, Willie Jones, Texas negro ex-convict.

Sheriff E. N. Clabaugh said he had taken the wives of Ernest Wright, "Bubbles" Arthur and John McNelley into custody. The three husbands had been held since the attack.

Others In Jail

Imogene Jones, widow of the slain negro, Ernest McNelley and Roy Long, all negroes, also were in jail.

Clabaugh said he would not release any of the nine negroes until he had completed his investigation.

Mrs. Wilson was the wife of Marcus O. Wilson, wealthy Blair farmer.

Sheriff Clabaugh said he had been informed Jones was supplied with fresh clothing after Mrs. Wilson and her daughter were beaten.

"I want to find out more about that and other unclear angles," he added.

Five Baylor Students Are Injured In Auto Accident

The car in which they were riding with Lloyd Russell, star back on the Baylor football team, overturned after crashing into the rear of a car that had stopped on the highway.

All Medicines Lost Their Power On His Case Until Gly-Cas

Stomach And Bowels Were Disordered, Stabbing Neuritis Pains Unbearable; Gly-Cas First To Help Him—All Else Failed

Many medicines have been introduced here in past years but never has any medicine before received such widespread and sincere praise as is now being accorded this new Gly-Cas. Many thousands of boxes have been sold right here in Lubbock and vicinity and hundreds upon hundreds of former local sufferers are now enjoying good and glorious health and rightfully lauding this new remedy as the Only One they have ever found that "DID WHAT IT CLAIMED TO DO."

MR. JOHN P. LONG

Read what Mr. John P. Long, 1710 7th Street, Wichita Falls, Texas, said recently in lauding the action of this remedy:

"Gly-Cas merit is outstanding and those who give it an honest trial will easily be convinced," said Mr. Long. "All my life I had been habitually constipated and compelled to take the strongest of laxatives but they all soon lost their power on my case. Regardless of what I ate gas would form in my stomach afterwards and there were many foods I did not dare touch for the suffering they would cause would be too severe. Neuritis pains in my back and shoulders were so sharp and stabbing that I could hardly stand it at times and try as I did to free myself of this terrible affliction—they were with me always. Night after night my sleep was impossible. And I had found that to take medicines were a loss of money—as they all failed to help me—but when I finally gave Gly-Cas an opportunity in my case my health was soon restored."

"Gly-Cas took right hold of my case from the very first dose," continued Mr. Long. "For the way in which I have been benefitted I will not be able to say half enough for this remedy. My entire system has been thoroughly cleansed of its poisons, bowels and stomach are now in fine condition and I can eat anything I want and as much as I want now without any ill effects afterwards. I even sleep good at night and have not felt so well in years. There is only one Gly-Cas and those who suffer should realize it and profit by it."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—No C. O. D. Mail Orders.—adv.

Emma Willis Is Very Blue

Young High School Girl Who Killed Father Is Dejected As She Contemplates Entering Insane Hospital

ANADARKO, Okla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Emma Willis was blue today because a jury had called her insane.

The 18-year-old high school girl who slew her father with a shotgun showed more foreboding over the prospect of confinement in an institution than joy that the jury had acquitted her of a murder charge.

Her characteristic stolidness was gone. Her manner was dejected.

Feels No Different

"Yeah, but they've called me crazy," she said to her exuberant relatives who congratulated her on her acquittal. "And I don't feel any different than I did before they said I was insane. I want to go home. I don't want to go to a hospital."

The jury of ten farmers and two businessmen stipulated in their verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" that she should be sent to an institution for slaying her father, Iddis H. Willis, tenant farmer.

The prosecution asked for "the limit" penalty, which would have been execution on conviction of murder.

This story will interest many Men and Women

NOT long ago I was like some friends I have...low in spirits...run-down...out of sorts...tired easily and looked terrible. I knew I had no serious organic trouble so I reasoned sensibly...as my experience has since proven...that work, worry, colds and whatnot had just worn me down.

The confidence mother has always had in S.S.S. Tonic...which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down...convinced me I ought to try this Treatment...I started a course. The color began to come back to my skin...I felt better...I did not tire easily and soon I felt that those red-blood-cells were back to so-called fighting strength...it is great to feel strong again and like my old self.

Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the blood-red Cellophane-wrapped package...the big 20-oz. size is sufficient for two weeks' treatment...it's more economical, too.

Forces Of Senator Borah Roll On Toward Primary Skirmish Ground In Ohio

Frank Gannett Second Choice

Senator Says That Choice Of Newspaper Publisher Is An Admirable One; Action Is Required By Law

By LEONARD B. SHUBERT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. — The forces of Senator Borah of Idaho rolled on toward the primary skirmish grounds of Ohio today, equipped with the required "second choice" for the Republican presidential nomination.

Frank E. Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., publisher of a chain of newspapers, will fight alongside the senate veteran for the 52 delegates the Buckeye state will send to the Cleveland convention.

An Admirable Choice

Informed that his Ohio forces had selected Gannett, Borah said: "I have a very high opinion of Mr. Gannett. I think it is a most admirable choice."

Prior to the announcement at Columbus last night there had not been a hint of the identity of the man who, as required by Ohio law, would be selected to receive the votes of any Ohio delegates pledged to Borah should the latter be blocked in convention. The "second choice" rule does not mean the selected person would be vice-presidential candidate.

Gannett has been a strong supporter of the Idahoan. Last Saturday he issued a statement pointing to Borah as "the only man who can wage a successful campaign against a master politician and arouse the nation to action by vigorous, convincing appeal."

Mean Great Sacrifice

Representatives of John Knight, a Borah leader in Ohio, in announcing Gannett's acceptance, released a statement from him in which he said it would mean a "great sacrifice."

"However," said Gannett, "such a grave crisis confronts the nation that all who believe in our precious institutions, who wish to preserve the constitution and the integrity of the supreme court must be ready and willing to make any sacrifices."

At his winter home in Miami Beach, Fla., Gannett declared he had been persuaded to have his name on the ballot only after "a long talk with Senator Borah in which he convinced me of his deep sincerity and his determination to make a vigorous fight for the nomination."

Committee In Session

The Republican state central committee of Ohio was in session today to decide whether it will support some potential candidate. It must do either that or follow its original plan of putting an uninstructed delegation in the field.

While the Republican pre-convention activity speeded up, the G.O.P. was assailed in Chicago by Secretary Ickes as "cold blooded exploiters" of the negro.

In an address before the Chicago Urban league, an interracial organization to aid negroes, Ickes declared:

"During political campaigns the Republicans were the solicitous friends of the race, but between campaigns it was a different matter; then the economic exploiter could have his will with the negro."

Razor blades, oak leaves, nails, valentines, snapshots, matches, street car transfers, and bridge tallies were found to be used for bookmarks by St. Louis public library readers.

Bull Downs Amateur Toreador On Street

Pedestrians got most of the thrills and all of the laughs when a bull escaped into the business district of Milwaukee and became irked at efforts to capture him. The bull is shown taking a fall out of Roy Brown when Roy thought he could capture the animal single-handed. Other amateur cowboys joined forces and finally lassoed the bull. ### Agriculture Planning Will Be Discussed On Saturday

A long time agriculture planning program for Lubbock county is to be discussed by county farmers at a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the district court room.

Henry Mahoney, Shallowater, president of the county farm association, issued the call for the meeting. Each of the 29 communities in the county is asked to send as large a representation as possible.

Carl Linnaeus, the man who knew from memory the scientific names of thousands of plants and animals, could not recall his own name at the time of his death.

Many Tickets Sold

More than 470 tickets had been sold Thursday. Tickets are being sold at 50 cents each.

Jack Norman will act the part of Wallace Morgan, a newspaper man in love with Peace Blossom, played by Gladys Hall, supposedly a Chinese girl. Sing Song, acted by G. V. Pardue, her opium smuggling father, is determined to "get" Morgan. Bernice La Rue, a debutante, acted by Betty Blankenbeckler, also wishes to do away with the flashy newsman. Douglas Blocker is the laundry man who finally convicts Sing Song. Comedy is provided by Jane King as Melinda Botkins, who acts an old maid.

Scenes Are Painted

Oriental scenes were painted by Agatha Turner and Ruth Sanders, assisted by Phylis Highley. Properties were collected by Alberta Barnett and Frances Wilson. Durwood Taylor will be stage manager and Kathleen Dickey will assist in make-up.

Noted Russian Is Claimed By Death

LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Feb. 27. (AP) — Ivan Petrovitch Pavloff, the physiologist who became internationally famous for his "purely materialistic" theory of conditioned reflexes and for his research into the mental processes of animals, died today of influenza. He was 86 years old.

The son of a village priest, he argued that human life is based on reflexes or reactions of the nervous system to outside influences. This, the Soviet encyclopedia says, applies to "the highest nervous activity—formerly called the soul."

Conduct of both men and animals, Pavloff maintained, is directly dependent upon this relationship between organism and its environment.

Soviet government contributed large sums toward his scientific work. He had extensive laboratories in the Leningrad district, at Koltushy, and was director of the physiological section of the Institute of Experimental Medicine as well as the physiological Institute of the Academy of Sciences.

Films Taken During Alaskan Hunting Trip Shown Here

Films taken during an Alaskan hunting expedition last summer were shown at the Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday at Lubbock hotel by W. G. McMillan. The program was in charge of W. C. Wood.

Response to a request that members of the Kiwanis club aid in a movement to assist in caring for 5 boys at the home for orphans conducted by Mrs. W. T. Milam was sought in an announcement made by George P. Kuykendall.

The Lubbock club has been invited to a Kiwanis ladies night program at Big Spring Tuesday night, Ray Mowery, president, said.

The old Germanic custom of offering bread and salt to newly wedded couples has been revived by the protestant clergy in the region of Ballenstedt.

Even Lubbock Firemen Get Bouquets; Thanks Expressed

Bouquets are received occasionally by firemen.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty has received the following letter from D. Coalson, secretary of Walker-Smith company, Brownwood:

"We want to express to you our sincere appreciation for the excellent work your department has done during the past year. These good records come to cities where good fire departments are on the job, doing not only their regular work, but also constantly calling the people's attention to the necessity of exercising caution in dangerous risks."

Lubbock's fire record last year resulted in an increase of the city's good fire record credit from 15 to 20 per cent.

Man's sense of hearing is as good as that of animals and better in some ranges, tests show.

"We Specialize To Serve You Better"

Here's a fact so important to your pocketbook that we repeat it in bold-face type:

While the choke is out, your gasoline is being consumed 5 to 15 times faster than normal.

Hence the biggest everyday saving you can make in your gasoline bill is to use a motor fuel which requires the least possible choke . . . which starts cold motors instantly and warms them up fast, even in freezing weather.

And that is a perfect description of Phillips 66 Poly Gas —the extra high test gasoline which costs nothing extra.

Into every drop of this livelier gasoline, the scientific POLYmerization process crams an added supply of heat units. These extra B. T. U.'s—as engineers call them—blaze into action with split-second speed. They humor cold motors. Warm them up so fast that coughing and sputtering are practically eliminated. Improve acceleration and power. And with the aid of Tetra-Ethyl Lead, make carbon and compression knocks fade right out of the picture.

Why not save the drain on your battery and gas tank? Treat your car and your purse to the quickest winter starting and the longest winter mileage you've ever had. Get a trial tankful of Phillips 66 Poly Gas . . . GO EASY ON THE CHOKE . . . then just feel that difference.

INSTANT FLOW
prevents winter damage to motors

The first few minutes of motor operation in cold weather are crucial. If the oil in the crankcase is stiff or sluggish, your motor is subject to excessive friction, ages fast, gets loose and noisy.

Protect your motor car investment with instant-flowing Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It is absolutely our finest quality. 100% pure paraffin base. Practically free of carbon. Guaranteed to remain perfectly fluid at temperatures 50° below freezing.

Suits Attacking PWA Allotments For Power Projects To Be Heard In March

Early Action Being Sought

Case Of Texas Utilities Company Against Plainview Set For Trial; Dates Are Month Earlier Than Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP) — Driving for early court rulings on its municipal power program, the Public Works administration announced today, the District of Columbia supreme court would try four suits attacking PWA allotments on March 30.

It said this was a month earlier than desired by the power companies.

Anxious For Action

Justice Jesse Adkins fixed the early hearing date after Jerome Frank, counsel for PWA, said the administration was anxious to have the cases decided in time for appeal to the circuit court of appeals this spring.

PWA said lawyers for the four power companies and the Edison institute, associated with them, asked that the suits be postponed until April because they were busy with other PWA power cases. A hearing on whether a permanent injunction is to be issued against three PWA-financed projects in Nebraska has been set for April 20.

In asking for an early hearing on whether permanent injunctions are to be issued against ten PWA power allotments in Alabama, Texas, Vermont, and Oklahoma, Frank said the Public Works administration was acting as a "trustee for the unemployed."

No indications had reached Washington whether the Duke Power company would comply with Ickes' recent invitation to appeal immediately from a PWA victory in the fourth circuit court of appeals which released a $3,000,000 allotment to Greenwood, South Carolina.

Five other PWA municipal power allotments including those before the District of Columbia court, now are tied up by injunction.

The four suits fixed for the March 30 hearing, in each of which PWA is named as a party along with the towns receiving allotments, are:

Alabama Power company vs. Florence, Sheffield, Decatur, Tuscumbia, Russellville, Guntersville, and Hartsell, Ala.; Texas Utility company vs. Plainview, Texas; Central Vermont Public Service company vs. Brandon, Vermont; Oklahoma Utility company vs. Harmony, Oklahoma.

Gray-Haired Alabama Woman Is Forcibly Ejected From Hearing; Infringement Of Her Copyright Is Charged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP) — Miss Susan Lawrence Davis, a gray-haired woman of about 65 from Athens, Ala., was forcibly ejected by capitol police today from a hearing of the house patents committee on revision of the copyright law.

She was hustled to a guard room in the new house office building and later released.

Friend Of Solon

Rep. Carmichael (D-Ala.) who said the woman was a friend of his and claimed to be related to Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, said she sought to testify about infringement of a copyright on a history of the Ku Klux Klan she had written.

After guards had prevented her from moving up to the front of the caucus room where the hearing was being held, Miss Davis went to Carmichael's office and obtained a letter requesting that she be allowed to appear before the committee.

But when she returned and somewhat noisily demanded to be allowed to testify, a committee aid instructed police to remove her. Sergeant Frank Gann and Lamar Saxon, a plain-clothes man, shoved her through the door and offered to let her leave. When she protested stormily, they seized her by the arms and took her to the guard room.

Bill Is Pending

Carmichael said he had a bill pending before the District of Columbia committee to pay Miss Payne $50,000 damages for being held in Gallinger hospital here several years ago for mental observation.

Her removal took place as Gene Buck was renewing charges that broadcasters sought to destroy the American Society of Composers, authors and producers, of which he is president, through the Duffy copyright bill passed last session by the senate.

"Why did Warner brothers (movie producers) break with your corporation?" asked Rep. Deen (D-Ga).

"Greed," Buck replied.

"Greed?" Deen repeated.

"Just plain greed," Buck shouted. "G-r-e-e-d!"

Nathan Burken, ASCAP counsel, clashed with Deen over the latter's reference to the society as an organized minority.

"The greatest threat in the country," the Georgian asserted, "is an organized minority."

Lubbock Candidate In Army Corps To Remain In Dallas

Sergeant Major Relta Bridges, candidate for training college, terminated an appointment Thursday night as assistant to Capt. and Mrs. John G. Churchill of the Salvation army corps here and will remain in Dallas as assistant to Maj. Margaret Saunders of Dallas' No. 2 corps, it was announced Friday on the eve of the leaving here for Dallas of 15 young people from Lubbock and four from Plainview.

All will attend an Army Young People's congress today through Sunday.

Today's session will feature an elimination speaking contest and bonus examination for Texas candidates who will enter the training college at Atlanta. ## Deputies Okay Military Pact

Mutual Assistance Pact For French And Russians Given Approval; Near Clash Seen In Chamber Session

PARIS, Feb. 27. (AP)—The chamber of deputies today ratified the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance treaty.

The vote followed lengthy debate and a near clash today between opposing groups which had to be separated by attendants after members of the right had shouted to prevent a socialist deputy from speaking.

The government had passed word to the chamber to ratify the treaty before dinner time and had declared that a safe majority of affirmative votes had been pledged.

Ratification Predicted

Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister, predicted the past will be ratified by the senate next week.

The treaty provides for mutual assistance between Russia and France in the event of an attack on the eastern border of France or the western boundary of the Soviet.

It was signed May 5, 1935, at Paris by former Premier Pierre Laval and Maxim Litvinoff, foreign commissar of Russia.

Tense Japan Waits For Army Insurgents To Halt Actions

Associated Press Writer In Japan Tells Of Incidents In Rioting In Which High Officials Were Slain

By GLENN BABB

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

TOKYO, Feb. 28 (Friday, 7:45 a. m.) (By Transpacific Telephone To San Francisco)—Tense Japan, facing prospective military or Fascist government, waited this morning for the thousand army insurgents to carry out an agreement to return to their barracks.

Four elder statesmen were assassinated Wednesday morning by the insurgents group, in which the highest officer is a captain.

Only the army can clean up the mess. There is no civilian authority capable of restoring order.

Headed By Goto

While the government is nominally headed by Home Minister Fumio Goto, carrying on as acting premier at Emperor Hirohito's request, the imperial princes and high army officials stand before the surviving members of the cabinet in conferences with the emperor.

While the insurgents had agreed to return to their barracks by 8 a. m. today, a trip through the affected area at 7:15 a. m., revealed no movement.

A cordon of government troops which had surrounded the area since late Wednesday had been withdrawn on that side through which the insurgents would have proceeded to their barracks a mile away from their headquarters in the official residence of the prime minister.

Premier Shot Down

It was in the garden of this residence that Premier Keisuke Okada met his death in the snow Wednesday morning. Called out by the insurgents, he tried to flee across the garden. He was shot down and his assassins drew a single mat over his body. Fresh snow covered it.

All day and all night long, Okada's body, almost concealed by its white mantle, lay in the snow. His sister, his son-in-law, and his secretaries sought to obtain the body but were turned back by the fixed bayonets of the insurgents.

Late yesterday two secretaries were permitted to take the body away. It was placed in a coffin at ceremonies not attended by anyone of prominence, following the Buddhist rite, and taken to Okada's humble home in Yodobashi, there to await funeral services.

Equally Dramatic

The death of Minister of Finance Korekiyo Takahashi, was equally dramatic. The insurgents entered his bedroom and one opened fire with a pistol. Although hit three times the minister still stood.

"What are you trying to do?" he demanded of the intruders.

The question, witnesses said, seemed to infuriate the officer at the head of the assassins. He drew his sword and slashed at Takahashi nearly severing the elder stateman's right arm.

Takahashi died within a few hours.

The wife of Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, lord keeper of the privy seal, was with her husband at their residence not far from the imperial palace when a party of about a score of the rebels, armed with machine guns, broke in. She tried to move between the assassins and her husband, and even placed her hand over the muzzle of one of the machine guns being used to kill him.

Her hand was wounded. American Ambassador Joseph Grew who had entertained her and the Viscount at dinner only a few hours previously, called upon her late yesterday and expressed sympathy.

Scout Leadership Course Being Held

SPUR, Feb. 27, (Special)—Fifteen men attended a fifth session of Spur's Boy Scout Leadership Training course tonight at the First Methodist church.

O. C. Thomas, neighborhood commissioner, and George Link, local chairman, were in charge.

Plans were laid for a final session March 6, when an outdoor meeting and a campfire program will be staged. Members will cook their own meals. Those who complete the course will be awarded certificates in elements, part 1.

A new scout troop was organized, as well, numbering 12 boys.

G. B. Wadzeck, Spur High school coach, is scoutmaster, and Link is chairman of a troop committee otherwise made up of O. L. Kelley, Lester Ericson, Morris Golding, Ned Hogan, W. D. Starcher, and D. L. Granberry.

The new troop is sponsored by the Rotary club.

ALPHABET SCARFS

PARIS (AP)—Alphabet scarfs give a smart rather than learned touch to mid-season costumes. They are long streamers of colored crepe embroidered with the scattered letters of the owner's name.

SCIENTIFIC REPORT FAVORS BRAN

Relieves Common Constipation* Safely

Read this statement, taken from an article in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, pages 133-134, Nov., 1932:

"The inclusion in the diet of a small portion of bran . . . would seem a very practical way of getting fiber which is not likely to be disintegrated. This bran has the additional advantage of furnishing a considerable amount of vitamin B and of readily available iron."

Exhaustive tests, over a period of five years, have proved Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to be a safe, effective way to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" or fiber in meals. It is accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods for this purpose.

You will enjoy this pleasant way to prevent the dangers of constipation. You can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream. Or cook into delicious breads and muffins.

Usually two tablespoonfuls apiece daily are enough to protect your family from common constipation.*

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ACCEPTED AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

Housing Plan Being Pushed

Federation Of Labor To Carry Fight For Low Cost Housing Program Directly To President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor decided today to carry its fight for a $500,000,000 low cost housing program directly to President Roosevelt.

Already called upon to arbitrate a dispute among high New Dealers over details of a program they have been working on, Mr. Roosevelt will face a labor demand for both federal subsidies and low interest loans to build homes for low income workers.

No Approval Given

The federation's demand for a $500,000,000 appropriation this year to start off the program came in the face of a White House assertion that the administration had approved no such figure.

The federation proposed that the program be entrusted to a national public housing authority, divorced from existing housing agencies.

The administration scrap centered around a difference over whether the government should provide subsidies or only low interest loans. The recently announced government search for places to cut expenses was reported to have played a part in the controversy.

Tech Drops Rough Cage Battle To Cowboys, 50-42; Series Continues Tonight

Rally In Last Half Wins For H-S Hoopsters

Six Players Use Up Quota Of Personal Fouls As Matador And Cowboy Athletes Renew Rivalry Of Years

The too-tall Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons university made it three in a row over Texas Tech's cagers last night with a 50 to 42 victory in a rugged and reckless encounter on the Tech boards.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight the same teams meet to resume the series and wind up their basketball schedules for the year.

Two thousand fans gathered to witness the renewal of athletic feud between Tech and Hardin-Simmons, and they were not disappointed—except in the final score. They kept up an incessant yelling, some of it at the wrong time and their sympathy, if any, was more for the young and harassed officials than for the players. The whistle-tooters, who came very near wearing out their whistles, picked a bad time for their debut at Tech.

No Love Match

Matadors and Cowboys don't play "drop-the-handkerchief" when they meet in athletic warfare. They played "drop-the-ball-through-the-hoop" last night, but the manner in which they went about it was suggestive of a more rugged sport. Everything considered, the officials did a fair job. They called a total of 39 personal fouls and two technicals, 23 of the personals against the big Cowboys who always found a little Matador under their feet.

Six players left the game after using up all their personal fouls. Four of them Cowboys, and the visitors finished the game, played the last 15 seconds, with three men Benson and Harris, regular forwards, Scroggins the center, and Reeves and Calloway, reserves, all left the game. Paul Morris of Texas Tech was charged with four personals.

The Cowboys leaped to a six-point lead as the second half started. Before that, it had been a nip and tuck affair, the lead changing hands twice, being tied four times in the first half.

Wilkinson Returns

Curly Wilkinson, Tech's tallest player who returned to the court after a three-weeks layoff on account of illness, was controlling the tip as frequently as his taller adversary, Scroggins of H-S, until he was relieved just before the half. Bob Case shifted to center, and was no match for the tree-top Cowboy tipper-offer. First Glover, long guard, then Sam McCollum, his running mate, took the tip-off and scampered for the goal to take a 27 to 21 lead as the second half opened.

Tech took possession then and Snodgrass, Garrett and Wiginton made five points between them, drawing up to within three points of the lead. But McCollum made two quick field goals, and, after Snodgrass had dropped in a free pitch, the Cowboys went to town for 13 tallies in succession and a 44 to 27 lead.

Eight minutes remained, and the Matadors made them count right pertly.

Tech took advantage of the Cowboy fouls for 18 of their points last night, being hard pressed in the field goal department. The game got faster and Matadors kept getting in the way of Cowboys. Garrett, Wiginton, Wilkinson, who had returned to the game, and Bob Hale made four three tosses in a row, Dan Corbin added a long field goal and Corbin another free toss. They were ten points behind, 11 points as Scroggins made a free toss on Morris' last foul.

Hale bucketed a field goal as the game grew frenzied, and Wilkinson lifted one in, followed by Hale's free throw, making the score 39 to 46. Terry made a free shot for the visitors and added a field goal after Glover's two-pointer for the Cowboys' 50th and final point. Little time remained, but Hale made another field goal and Corbin a free toss before it was over.

Close First Half

The Matadors, making their first appearance at home after the successful Border conference trip, were wildly received by an admiring fandom, and for the first half it looked as if they might keep up their winning streak.

The Cowboys jumped off to a three-point lead, Scroggins and Glover scoring, but Garrett and Case tied it up. McCollum made one from scrimmage and Case made a field goal. Morris fired another, then another, from far out, to give Tech an 8 to 6 lead. Scroggins counted twice and Snodgrass, whose passing under the basket was quite nifty to see, who passed some times when he might have fired for crips, made a free toss. It was the first of five he converted. Benson shot a long one for H-S and tied the score at 9-all.

Hardin-Simmons took a 14 to 9 lead then, Harris, Scroggins and Benson making them one point at a time. Garrett and Case made field goals for Tech, Harris one for the visitors, and Snodgrass and Garrett made one at a time to tie the score at 16-all. Harris and Glover made field goals, and Garrett wiped them out with a couple of pretty ones from the side, taking sleight-of-hand passes from Snodgrass. The score was 20-20, with a minute to play. Harris and Scroggins made three points and Morris one more before the half ended.

Glover of the Cowboys took individual scoring honors with a dozen points, nosing out Garrett, Tech's seasonal leader, by a tally. Sam McCollum made 10 for the visitors, Harris and Scroggins nine each.

Yost Condemns Spring Drills

Michigan Athletic Director Believes Gridders Should Play Tennis, Or Something, Out Of Football Season

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (AP) — Spring football practice is "not much use," said Fielding H. Yost, University of Michigan athletic director today, and a fast game of tennis probably would do more good.

"Take tennis," said the veteran "Hurry Up," one of football's legends, "what do you want in a football player? Speed, coordination, fast thinking under pressure and foot work. Where can he develop those things better than in tennis? I can teach you all there is to know about blocking in 30 minutes, although I might have you 3,000 years without ever seeing you execute one properly."

Suggests Diversification

The mentor said over-emphasis on football practice in the Big Ten was discouraged by encouraging athletes to participate in other seasonal sports.

"I believe the boys get tired, burned out on football if they play too much. Give me diversification."

He said track, tennis and basketball could keep a football player in trim without too much emphasis on actual grid training.

"If you have a good football player they'll learn the fundamentals quickly and execute them properly without a whole year of drilling, and if you don't have the men you might as well give up anyway."

Yost, in Texas on a visit, left here to visit friends at Randolph field, the West Point of the air located near San Antonio.

Fishing Party Returns After Coastal Venture

An epidemic of "fish stories" hit town about mid-afternoon yesterday with the return of the "Casey crew" from Port Aransas and points south.

The long, sausage-shaped, five-compartment trailer built by Jack Casey for the purpose of taking parties a-fishing rode jauntily back home after its maiden voyage, with all hands reporting "good fishing and a swell time."

It was the Mayor's party—Mayor Ross Edwards, Hub Jones, Lawrence Bacon, John Dalrymple and W. E. Humphries—on the first trip, with, of course, Host Jack Casey and his driver. At Port Aransas, Robert S. Rodgers joined the party.

They fished in the bay and in the Gulf of Mexico, caught their fill of fish—redfish, salt water perch, sheephead, sea trout—and shipped or brought home more than 200 pounds of fish.

Lost All Night

"All the fish we wanted, and enough fun for anybody," was the unanimous report, in spite of the fact that several of the party were stranded eight miles off shore for a day and a night when the large house-fishing-boat ran aground on a sand bar. Hub Jones, nominated "sheriff" of the force after catching the biggest fish—a 5 1-2 pound redfish—and Lawrence Bacon remained at camp while the others were "lost."

They did not go in for deep sea or "big fish" fishing, the season being a little early for heavier trout and tarpon.

Honor of catching the most fish went to Humphries, although Jones hooked the largest single fin.

Casey said the second party would leave about the middle of next week.

The first crew was gone a week and a day. The return trip started at mid-afternoon Wednesday, after the fishermen had caught 100 pounds of sheephead Wednesday morning.

Arkansas May Cop Southwest Crown Tonight

Porkers Await Arrival Of U. Of Texas Longhorns; Second Game Of Series To Be "Just For Fun," Say Porkers

(By The Associated Press)

Those lanky Arkansas Razorbacks, needing but one more victory to cinch the Southwest conference basketball championship, made up their minds Thursday night to settle the matter at the expense of their old rivals—the Texas Longhorns.

The Longhorns are scheduled for a two-game series with the high-scoring Arkansas team at Fayetteville Friday and Ssturday nights, but the Razorbacks intend that the second shall be just for fun. They intend to grab the win they need Friday and put a quick end to Texas' aspirations.

Texas Is Second

Texas, with seven victories and two losses, stands second in the conference, with a chance to taking the title should they win both games from Arkansas. The Razorbacks are way out front with nine victories and only one loss.

Determined to upset the Razorbacks if possible, Coach Marty Karow of Texas has pointed for the Arkansas series and even made special arrangements to acquaint his players with the small Arkansas court. Karow re-lined the Longhorn gym at Austin to make it 10 feet shorter and six feet narrower, to conform to measurements of the court at Fayetteville.

To Use Tallest Team

Another piece of strategy will be to use his tallest players against the Razorbacks. Joe Roach and Bill Baxter will start at forwards, Jack Collins at center, and Bob Butler and either Don White or Jerry Clifton at guards.

The big job will be to hold in check "Ike" Poole, giant Arkansas center, who has scored 107 points in conference games this year and a total of 242 this season, counting non-conference games.

Jim Lee Howell, the 6 foot 5 inch Arkansas Captain is another dangerous man. He shot in 80 points this season playing a guard position.

Patty Berg Named On Touring Squad

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Patty Berg, the Minneapolis wonder girl golfer, achieved international stature today when she and seven others were named to the Curtis Cup team which will meet a British women's team in Scotland May 6-7.

At 18, freckle-faced Patty becomes the youngest American feminine internationalist in history. As a member of the team she takes her place with Glenna Collett Vare; Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas City; Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Louis Cheney of Los Angeles; Maureen Orcutt Crews of Coral Gables, Fla., and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. Goldthwaite is the former Aniela Gorczyca.

All but Miss Berg have been members of one or both of the previous teams in the biennial series which was launched at Wentworth, Eng., four years ago and resumed at Washington in 1934. The United States won the cup at the inaugural and successfully defended it two years ago.

WINS ANOTHER MATCH

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—Patty Berg won the battle of the school girls today to defeat Hilda Livengood, 17-year-old Illinois state champion, five up and three to play, in the quarter-finals of the South Atlantic women's championship golf tournament.

The Minneapolis red-head, played even par on nine holes, went a single stroke over par on three and collected three birdies to win the match with relentless regulation figures.

BERGER STILL HOLDOUT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Six rookie pitchers, along with Wally Berger and Hal Lee, the only Boston Bees holdouts, were among the missing today when Manager Bill McKechnie directed his first workout.

General Manager Bob Quinn, however, did not appear to be worrying over the absentees. He predicted the young pitchers would show up tomorrow and Berger, whom he described as "about the highest price outfielder in the National League," and Lee would be on hand March 3, when the infielders and outfielders will be put to work.

A film of oil a hundred millionth of an inch thick is sufficient to calm a rough sea.

In Major League Rookie Ranks

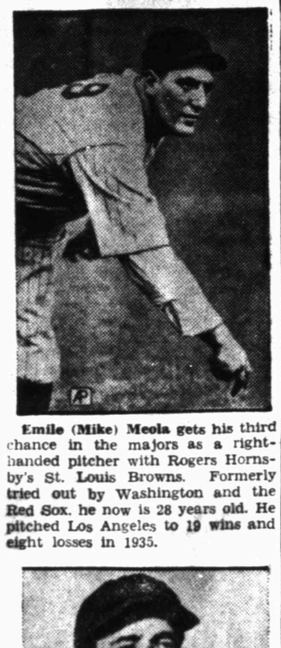
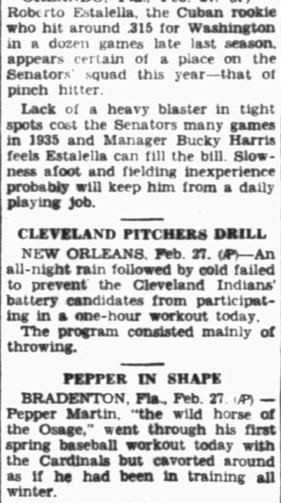
Manuel Salvo, 200-pound right-hand hurler from Sacramento's Pacific Coast league club, gets his big league chance with Tom Yawkey's best-that-money-can-buy Boston Red Sox. Salvo, 22 years old and 6 feet 3 1-2 inches tall, won 11 and lost 17 for Sacramento last season.



Emile (Mike) Meola gets his third chance in the majors as a right-handed pitcher with Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns. Formerly tried out by Washington and the Red Sox, he now is 28 years old. He pitched Los Angeles to 19 wins and eight losses in 1935.

George Stumpf, left-handed ball hawk from the Kansas City club of the American Association, hopes to patrol the outfield for the Chicago White Sox next summer. Batting left-handed, he hit .322 in the A. A.



Donald Ross, who goes up to the Detroit Tigers with a reputation for sensational base-running and third-basemanship, batted .299 with Beaumont in the Texas League last season.

Cincy Reds Beat Island Club In Exhibition Game

Baseball Season Is "Opened" As Reds Cop 8-2 Battle

(By The Associated Press)

PONCE, P. R., Feb. 27.—The Cincinnati Reds trounced a cosmopolitan team representing this city today, 8 to 2, collecting 11 hits off the Islanders' pitching, and making good four of them in the sixth.

Hub Walker, brother of Gerald Walker of the Detroit Tigers, collided with Alex Jampouris in going after a seventh inning fly and had to leave the game. The score:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Reds | 000 040 031 | 8 | 11 3 |
| Ponce | 000 100 101 | 2 | 6 5 |

SIMMONS HITS 'EM

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers and his new $75,000 outfielder, Al Simmons, conducted a two-man training session today, with Simmons concentrating on a lighter bat he will use this season.

"He's going to be all right," Cochrane smiled as Al swung the stick against a couple that would have been home runs in Navin Field.

GIANTS SCRIMMAGE

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP) — Despite a rainy day, Bill Terry sent his collection of Giants batterymen and assorted candidates for jobs through a seven inning game today. Harry Danning's team beat Gus Mancusco's 4-3 with Danning driving in the winning run.

GRIMM TO PLAY

AVALON, SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Feb. 27. (AP)—Sunburned Charlie Grimm, manager of the Chicago Cubs, champions of the National League, is going to return to the baseball wars as a player after a lay-off of a year.

Grimm revealed his decision today to go back to his job at first base when the 1936 season opens, supplanting his 19-year-old pupil, Phil Cavarretta, who will be held in reserve.

At the age of 36, with 18 years of major league experience back of him, Grimm is the "peppiest" among the Cubs in training here, flashing his old time form in fielding and hitting.

CUBAN FOR SENATORS

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP) — Roberto Estalella, the Cuban rookie who hit around .315 for Washington in a dozen games late last season, appears certain of a place on the Senators' squad this year—that of pinch hitter.

Lack of a heavy blaster in tight spots cost the Senators many games in 1935 and Manager Bucky Harris feels Estalella can fill the bill. Slowness afoot and fielding inexperience probably will keep him from a daily playing job.

CLEVELAND PITCHERS DRILL

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27. (AP)—An all-night rain followed by cold failed to prevent the Cleveland Indians' battery candidates from participating in a one-hour workout today.

The program consisted mainly of throwing.

PEPPER IN SHAPE

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP) — Pepper Martin, "the wild horse of the Osage," went through his first spring baseball workout today with the Cardinals but cavorted around as if he had been in training all winter.

Manager Frankie Frisch expressed himself as well pleased with the showing of the rookies, especially Lou Scoffic, outfielder up from the Card farm at Bloomington, Ill.

Dizzy Says He'll Quit If Demands Are Not Met

DALLAS, Feb. 27. (AP) — Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean said tonight he would retire from baseball for this year and possibly go into the furniture business if the St. Louis Cardinals didn't agree to raise his salary to around $40,000.

"I'm shooting straight from the shoulder now, too," said the ace pitcher after waiting several days for word from the Cardinal management. "I mean it when I say I'm going to retire if I don't get $40,000 or near enough to it to show that the St. Louis club officials appear to be making a gesture to give me a fair deal. They haven't written me or Paul either and I'll guarantee you they'll find him even harder to move than I am."

Paul (Daffy) Dean, brother of Dizzy, reported no progress in negotiations for a higher salary. He indicated last week he likely would retire if the Cardinals didn't meet his terms.

Eight Regional Cage Tourneys To Open Today

Two Chances At Canyon

At Canyon, Pampa and Friona will play at 2:30 p. m. Friday; and Abernathy and Carey will meet an hour later. The Canyon tournament, Region 1, is a double elimination affair. At 7:30 p. m. Friday winners of the first-round games will play and at 8:30 the losers will meet. Saturday at 10 a. m. the winning team of the second round game between the two losers of Friday will oppose the loser of the second round game between the two winners in a semi-final match. The team that wins in a semi-final match will then meet the team that was victorious in the match between the two first-round winners.

Denton said the champions of last year, the Denton Broncos, would meet Waco Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. and Dallas Tech would play Nocona at 7 p. m. The championship game between the winners will be at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Grave Results Being Feared

Further Shift Toward Military Fascism Being Expected As Result Of Jap Coup; Serious Reaction Looms

BY JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MOSCOW, Feb. 27. — In Soviet Russia's first official reaction to the Tokyo military uprising, the authoritative commentator Karl Radek today predicted the attempted coup would mean "a further shift toward military Fascism" in Japan, with possible serious consequences in foreign policy.

Radek, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, expressed the belief the Japanese plotters "were convinced force would not be used against them, and therefore the result will be a further shift toward military Fascism.

"It may have very serious consequences in Japan's foreign policy," he added.

The recent series of sanguinary conflicts on the borders of Soviet-advised Outer Mongolia and Japanese-dominated Manchoukuo have brought the foreign policies of Russia and Japan into sharp conflict.

Tokyo-Moscow negotiations for a mixed commission to inquire into the latest clash, in which fifteen soldiers reportedly were slain last Jan. 30, were proceeding in satisfactory fashion at the time of the Japanese revolt.

But Moscow observers speculated today on whether these negotiations might now continue, in the light of developments.

One Fugitive Is Jailed At Clovis

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 27 (Special)—Richard Young, one of four fugitives who figured last night in a jailbreak here was being held by Clovis, N. M., authorities tonight and Deputy Sheriff Sam Hutson was en route there to accept custody of him.

While clues as to whereabouts of the other three men had been picked up, no other arrests had been made late tonight.

The fugitives were: Pat Cranford and Audie Chandler, both about 21, of Plainview, each under 5-year sentence for robbery with firearms; Irvin Loggins, about 36, arrested here for officers who wanted him for questioning in investigations at Comanche and Seminole, and Young, 19, suspect in theft of sudan seed, who is under a 5-year suspended sentence for automobile theft at Muleshoe. Cranford and Chandler Wednesday were sentenced by Judge R. C. Joiner of 64th district court.

A wide net thrown last night after Deputy Sheriff Hutson had discovered the jailbreak shortly before 8 o'clock had not snared the fugitives, nor had brought clues as to their whereabouts. The men were in the run-around and their absence was discovered when Hutson went to lock them in their cells about 8 o'clock, as was customary.

The escape was effected through the women's ward, door of which was removed. Sheriff F. A. Loyd said his investigation had disclosed the prisoners had made a key which was used in opening the outer cell door. The wooden outer door of the jail building was smashed open.

Larissa College, Mother Of Trinity, Among Sites To Be Marked In Texas

RUSK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Among Cherokee county sites to receive Centennial markers is Larissa college, mother of Trinity university.

The recognition is especially pleasing to Mrs. John Wade of Mt. Selman, oldest living alumnae of East Texas' early day fresh-water college. Mrs. Wade, a great-grandmother, wrote a column, "Thoughts by the Wayside," for the Bee-Hive, a campus publication edited by the Larissa co-eds.

"An entire edition was written in longhand and the sheets of foolscap sewed together," she recalled. "The editor-in-chief, a senior girl, furnished a sentimental story and my column had plenty of spice. The boys, not to be outdone, launched the Hornets Nest and the feathers flew until the faculty interfered and both publications were banned."

Launched About 1848

Larissa college came into being about 1848 through the efforts of Rev. T. N. McKee and Mrs. S. R. Erwin, mother of Mrs. Wade, who opened a school in a small log house with herself as teacher. It flourished and its graduates are widely scattered.

In 1856, under direction of the Brazos synod, the school was chartered a college. New buildings were erected and Dr. F. L. Yoakum, brother of the historian, was chosen president. After the Civil war the synod, for unknown reasons, abruptly severed its connection with Larissa and three years later the Presbyterians founded Trinity at Techana. The spirit and traditions transferred from Larissa and have been regarded as more valuable to Trinity than the material assets.

Mrs. Wade said chemistry and astronomy were the most popular courses at Larissa, chemistry's charm lying in it being the only subject open to boys and girls. She recalls her awe in looking through the $1,000 telescope, which the sale of one of the Yoakum slaves made possible of purchase.

The Same Tune, Same Key!

NO MATTER how wise a man may be, no matter how experienced and ordinarily sensible he is, connect his name with the presidential or vice-presidential nomination and he's just like a schoolboy. He falls for it like a kid falls for an ice cream cone and immediately becomes, in his own mind, "presidential timber," even though deep down in his heart he knows he hasn't a Chinaman's chance to reach the White House or the Senate's presiding chair.

Most recent demonstration of this peculiar condition comes from Frank E. Gannett, one of the nation's best newspaper publishers, a self-made man and an altogether admirable citizen. Mr. Gannett knows how presidential nominations are made. He knows his views on a number of public questions would not and could not be acceptable to his Republican party. But someone, as the search was going on for a running mate to Senator Borah in the Ohio primaries, suggested Mr. Gannett and forthwith came this statement by the publisher of 19 metropolitan dailies:

"It would mean a great sacrifice for me to accept any public office. I prefer to devote myself to my newspapers and thus influence public opinion by a fair presentation of the truth on all questions.

"However, (get that HOWEVER!) such a grave crisis confronts the nation that all who believe in our precious institutions, who wish to preserve the constitution and the integrity of the Supreme court must be ready and willing to make many sacrifices. . . ."

Mr. Gannett's statement is just the same old song in the same old key.

It is a habit with our leading men to "beat the devil around the stump" instead of speaking their mind, which, if they did, would run something like this:

"Would I like to be president or vice-president? Of course I would. Any man would. There's nothing that would suit me better. Do you think I can get over? Anyhow, I'll gladly make a stab at it. It's an honor, even if you're beaten!"

Sad to say, we're not as frank as we should be in these matters.

Somewhere back along the line it became a practice and a tradition to speak loftily regarding high office, instead of getting down to brass tacks. But today's public, wiser than it was in Andrew Jackson's day, takes the lofty pronounciamentos with a grain of salt. Folk are not any more fooled by statements like Mr. Gannett's than they are by the statement of the candidate for constable who announces that he's running because so many of his friends asked him to!

After all, politics is politics, regardless of the importance of the office in question.

TALMADGE'S ADVANCE ALIBI

Squawking Gene Talmadge, governor of Georgia, is rating himself too highly when he claims "the New Deal has caused this trouble in Georgia so I'll have to stay home this summer and won't be able to campaign the country against Roosevelt." We don't believe the New Dealers — or anyone else—take Governor Talmadge that seriously.

The Atlanta loudspeaker has flopped badly as a possible third party leader and even New York anti-New Dealers, who thought and hoped for awhile that Talmadge could seriously hamper the Roosevelt campaign, will admit it. Talmadge was such a flop in his "grass roots" conference that his onetime backers shied away from him.

Georgia, itself, is full of people who will bet money, marbles or chalk that Talmadge can't even swing his own state from the Roosevelt columns in or out of the convention. A politician in that shape isn't worth worrying about.

The Morning Avalanche's guess is that the cracker governor is merely alibi-ing in advance!

THE WORLD IN ONE BLOCK

For Pete Pappas of Birmingham, Alabama, the world is just one city block. He likes the neighborhood in which he lives. In fact he likes it so well that he has not left the block on which his home is located in 20 years, although he has no physical handicaps or anything else to keep him from doing so. Twenty years ago, Pete walked into a restaurant and asked for a job. He went to work, settled down in rooms in an adjoining building, has never had any recreation except talking to his friends in the restaurant, and has never had any desire to see even the city of Birmingham.

The Country Doctor

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DR. JOHN LUKE, country doctor in the little north woods settlement of Moosetown, receives an emergency call to the lumber mill when MIKE SCANLAN, lumberman, is crushed under a fallen log.

Mike has a close call, is obliged to stay behind when the mill crew leaves at the end of the season.

Storms isolate Moosetown, breaking telegraph and telephone connections. Then a diptheria epidemic strikes the community. FATHER BONEL, parish priest, and Dr. Luke convert the church into an isolation hospital.

Mike Scanlan, who, since his injury, has been tinkering with a radio set, tries to get a message through to Montreal, to have antitoxin sent by plane.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

MINUTE followed long minute in the little room. There was no sound but Mike's droning voice. "CQ. CQ. — any amateur, especially Montreal . . ."

"Don't you hear ANYTHING?" pleaded Dr. Luke.

Mike made a gesture for silence. "CQ. CQ . . ." he repeated, and listened more intently.

Then from his receivers came a voice, strained and faraway, but audible, barely audible. "CQ. Go ahead!" it said.

"I've got it! I've got it!" cried Mike wildly. The faraway voice droned a station number.

"Quick! Take it! It's Montreal!" whispered Mike.

Fumbling clumsily, nervously, his skillful hands all thumbs for once, Dr. Luke took Mike's place at the table. His voice trembled in the effort to speak clearly.

"Can you get a message to my brother, Dr. Paul Luke, at the Curzon Street Hospital? It's very serious—an emergency! Can you get hold of him and let me talk to him?"

"Yes, sir. I'll do it! I'll get him and try to call you back in 30 minutes!" The faraway voice was clearly that of a very young boy. So much depended on his understanding, acting. Sweat stood out on the doctor's forehead as he pronounced, "Thank you very much." Then with a faint click the receiver went dead.

Dr. Luke subsided on the edge of the bed. Mike leaned back on the pillows. They looked at each other in silent dread, in awful helplessness. Was the receiver at the other end a responsible person? The voice sounded like that of a mere boy. Had he really understood? Would he do anything? Both Mike and the doctor felt their utter helplessness. There was nothing they could do, nothing even that they could say. Each kept his thoughts to himself.

Once Mike made a gesture toward the apparatus on the table, then caught himself. "Better not monkey with it," he muttered. "It brought them in before. Maybe it will again. Honest, I don't know enough about it to try to change . . ."

The doctor shook his head. Both were silent. Twenty minutes passed. Thirty. Thirty-five. An alarm clock on the bureau ticked disconcertingly. Then there was a faint buzzing on the instrument board.

Mike tensed toward the instruments, torn between the temptation to make adjustments so as to resolve the voice, and the chance that he might lose it entirely. Then it became clearer. A station call letter could be distinguished.

"Here he is, Doc! Talk to him!" quivered Mike.

The doctor again slid into position before the table.

"Hello, Paul?"

"What is it, John? Are you all right?" The voice was clear and distinct. Thank God! Thank God! both men murmured inaudibly, deep inside themselves.

"I'm all right, but we're in a bad way, Paul." The doctor's voice was steadying now. "It's diphtheria—and we're snowed in. Wires down, blizzard raging. The serum's just about out, and we've got to have more—right away. Got more than 30 children in an isolation ward in the church!"

"Can a car get through?" came Dr. Paul's voice.

"No, the roads are completely blocked. Go to the Trading Company. See Sir Basil Crawford. See him—the head man—himself. Tell him he's GOT to send a plane with a supply of serum—today!"

Then the doctor's voice rang with simple sincerity and all the devotion of the lifetime he had given to "his" children.

"Tell him about the 30 children, Paul! You've got to help me. He's got to help me!"

"I understand, John," came the brother's voice. "I'll see Sir Basil immediately. I'll see that you get the serum. Goodby. Steady it is, until we get there!"

The call resolved itself into a series of call-letters and signals, then faded away.

"I knew Paul would do it!" There was a choke in Dr. Luke's voice.

Mike wiped beads of sweat from his forehead. "Gee! Was that exciting!" he whispered. "Like a movie!"

Dr. Luke appeared not to have heard him at all. There was an almost religious thankfulness in his voice as he said:

"Mike, it's a funny thing. As long as you had good legs, you were just a dumb lumberman. Along comes a spruce log—and the next thing you know your brain starts working. You build a radio, and . . ." the doctor broke into an almost hysterical little chuckle, "it works!"

Then, as if he feared to trust himself to speak farther, he rose and almost abruptly strode out the door. His sleigh and the patient horse shivering in the icy blast of snow were waiting. Instantly the thought of the church-hospital and the children crowded out everything else. "Sorry, old fellow," said the doctor softly, rubbing the horse's nose. "I guess this is just one of those nights. There'll be apples and a good bedding of hay for you later." The doctor was half-dozing under the blankets when the horse pulled up in front of the church door.

Nurse Kennedy met him in the vestibule. "This is the last of the serum," she said gravely, handing him a box. "Laura Ogden needs it badly."

The doctor had already shucked off his big fur overcoat. "Well, I don't know of anyone I'd rather see have it than Jim Ogden's child," he said. A few minutes later he was wiping his hypodermic needle and putting it back in its worn leather case.

He made his rounds then, shaking his head sadly from time to time.

At intervals he would shuffle to the church door and turn sleep-heavy eyes toward the skies. A figure came tramping toward him through the driving snow during one of these anxious vigils.

At first he could not make out who it was, then as the figure came closer, its bulk made it certain that it could be no one but MacKenzie. Gruffly, and without preliminary salutation, MacKenzie shot out a question: "Is Mary in there, Doc?"

"Yes, she is," replied Dr. Luke softly. "And it was a pretty gallant and generous thing, Mac."

"Send her home—at once!" came MacKenzie's peremptory command.

"But I need her, Mack," interposed the doctor mildly. "Didn't you tell her—"

"No!"

There was a pause. Then, "She's safe, you know," suggested the doctor.

MacKenzie spoke with cold deliberation. "Dr. Luke, you seem to forget that I'm capable of deciding for my own family—" then his voice rose to an angry pitch, "—just as you seem to have forgotten that I am the head of this community—not you!"

"Ridiculous!" snorted the doctor in return.

"And I warn you now," continued MacKenzie in a rising voice, "that when you begin to get the idea that you're a bigger man than the district manager for the trading company that you're getting on mighty dangerous ground!" His manner was menacing as he leaned forward and shouted the words.

Curtly, and with just a shade of contempt, the doctor replied simply, "I'll tell Mary you want her." He turned on his heel and re-entered the church, leaving MacKenzie. "Tell Mary to go home," he said briefly. "Tell her we appreciate all she's done—but that we won't need her any longer."

Nurse Kennedy surveyed him cynically. She understood what had happened. "Do you blame her for wanting to get away?" she asked as she moved away.

Weary to the soul, Dr. Luke picked his way through the crowded chruch aisles, through the chancel rail and into the dingy vestry. He paused a

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

WHEN William Edgar Borah was asked point-blank in the Senate cloakroom if his under-cover favorite in the Republican presidential free-for-all was Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, he dodged the question. The two have conferred frequently and their unexplained huddling mystifies friends and foes of the Idahoan.

Senator Borah hedged that the convention balloting would never reach the stage where a dark horse would slip through the field to upset the handicappers' books. What he meant is that his rivals will gang against him early in the running and crowd him against the outside rail. Between the lines you can detect an admission that he doesn't hope to dominate inner councils at Cleveland.

Smart politicians agree with him. They gather from important GOP-ers' palaver that Alf Landon is as good as in because of the "Borah scare." The Kansas governor appears to be the political heir of the Coolidge and Hoover factions and unpledged Old Guard delegations eye him more favorably than they did. Washington money says the Kansan will be nominated within four ballots.

FLOURISHING: You may wonder why GOP publicists have not headlined the vast fees dished out to Democratic lobby-lawyers since their party took over the government.

President Roosevelt expressed his distaste for political practitioners two years ago at a notable press conference. His criticism forced the lobby-lawyers to resign as Democratic national committeemen but it did not drive them out of town. Secretary Ickes spotlighted Arthur Mullen's $175,000 bill for urging a PWA grant to Nebraska power districts, but the Roosevelt floor manager at Chicago still thrives. It is estimated that three prominent Democrats have made a million dollars each since March 4, 1933. They are Mr. Mullen, ex-Gov. O. Max Gardner of North Carolina and J. Bruce Kremer, former vice-chairman of the national committee. Their legal success is the talk of the town, though they never appear in a courtroom.

The inside answer for the GOP's indifference is that political lobbying is a bi-partisan institution which nobody desires to disturb. Such eminent GOP-ers as Pat Hurley, Mabel Walker Willebrandt, William P. MacCracken and William J. Donovan work the other side of the street. It's a street paved with political gold.

WEIGHTY: New Dealers are more grateful than they advertise for GOP Gov. Frank Merriam's declaration that "God placed Franklin Roosevelt in office at this particular moment." The Californian's eulogy may become the Democrats' major campaign slogan for 1936.

Despite Democrats' ridicule of the Literary Digest's general poll, they are worried over the revelation that a majority of the clergy seem to be antagonistic toward Mr. Roosevelt's policies. The administration's solicitude for the good opinion of these shepherds was reflected in the White House questionnaire asking priests and ministers to comment on New Deal accomplishments and local needs. The result of that poll was never made public.

Next to newspapers, clergymen are regarded by politicians as their most helpful asset. Confidential studies disclose that since 1916 the candidate who had the pulpit on his side has been victorious—Wilson in 1916, Harding in 1920, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt. Hence the pronouncement by the Chief Executive of Herbert Hoover's state may be one of the most important of the year—and the campaign.

CASUAL: A Washington dowager famous for her Sunday night suppers recently staged a critical symposium of the Supreme court. On her right sat Justice Owen J. Roberts and on her left was the distinguished historian of the court and civilization—Charles A. Beard.

Dr. Beard was promptly asked to set forth his interpretation of the founding fathers' purpose in framing the constitution. Although a kindly and diplomatic spirit, the distinguished author left no doubt that, in his opinion, the court's recent limiting of the federal government's power was all wrong. He gave dates, names and debates to demonstrate that the fathers intended to give Uncle Sam all the authority he needed to remain a going and growing concern. Gently but deftly he riddled the NRA and AAA rulings.

Mr. Roberts displayed great curiosity. He asked many questions but he did not dispute Prof. Beard's thesis. Some who listened in think that the supper-table philosopher may have helped the New Deal more than its legal staff have in their court appearances. Many a grave problem has been settled by casual words dropped at an afternoon tea.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

BILL GREEN'S latest play in his poker game with John Lewis was a bold one. By officially ordering all bodies directly chartered by the American Federation of Labor to refrain from supporting or endorsing Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization he will force a direct showdown in many labor fields.

The order failed to specify penalties for disobedience, but conveyed a strong intimation that offending bodies would lose their charters and be replaced by more tractable groups. Green's gesture will certainly be called by several unions sympathetic to Lewis—including the radio workers. If it turns out that he was bluffing, his prestige and influence will be shot. If he means business, the war will be on in earnest. In that case the "disintegration and disruption" of the Federation that Green proclaims he is trying to check is likely to develop with dramatic swiftness.

Insiders understand that Lewis is glad to sit tight and let his opponent force the issue. He feels he will gain more followers for the decisive battle by remaining on the tactical defense and letting Green pick a quarrel with him than by the reverse.

CONSUMERS: The Committee on Consumer Credit continues its aggressive fight for the elimination of instalment selling abuses. It has just filed a report with the General court of Massachusetts citing 200 cases, taken at random, of instalment rates on used cars, auto equipment, tires, radios, furniture, etc. The true annual carrying charge in a majority of these cases was between 37 per cent and 943 per cent.

The committee advocates a law requiring every dealer in instalment goods to state the true carrying rate and contends that forced competition in the open will reduce costs to consumers.

There is evidence that carrying charges are already declining in those branches of instalment selling where publicity of rates prevails. This also applies to the small loan business where the law compels truth-telling.

UP: Little by little the growing public appetite for securities is forcing some stocks back above the peaks they reached in 1929. Only a small number of issues are in this category as yet but more of them are gradually and constantly being added to the list.

This uptrend is more noticeable among preferred shares than common stocks—further evidence that steady pressure of investment demand is responsible rather than manipulation or spectacular hunch-playing. Despite the psychological pressure of adverse legislation, 12 utility preferred issues have topped their '29 highs.

DEFENSE: New York observers were amused to note that Jim Farley took care not to pose as a farm expert in his Topeka speech. Critics crack it was real smart of Jim to conceal his probable lack of information concerning the difference between wheat and oats. That was rated a perfect defense against embarrassing questions.

TOWNSEND PLAN AGAIN

Editor, The Avalanche: Suppose our congress should enact a law requiring the collection of a two per cent tax on all transactions, small and great within the confines of the United States, the proceeds of which are to be placed in a special fund to be re-distributed to all members of society (and by society I mean all inhabitants of the U. S.) by prorating it out to primary beneficiaries in monthly installments not to exceed $200 and requiring them to spend it within 30 days.

Suppose our society consists of 122,000,000 people who are naturally divided by age into three groups. First there are those 21 years old and under, who are not producers but consumers and dependents. They are in the age of development physically, morally and mentally. They number about 42,000,000.

Then there are those from 21 to 60 years of age who are the producers of all wealth; they are the bone and sinue of the society; upon them rests the responsibility of supplying society with all things necessary for comfortable living. They number about 70,000,000. The third group is those 60 years of age and over who have passed the age regarded as employables; who no longer hope to be of much benefit to society in a material way, but who can be of great benefit in the moral and spiritual realm. These are consumers, and for the greater part are dependent upon members of the younger group for maintenance.

Now suppose that 8,000,000 of this third group qualify for the monthly benefits and it reaches the maximum of $200 and they start out to spend it. It is a cinch they can't spend it among themselves for they all have it to spend; so of necessity they will spend it with the second group and that means they will have $1,600,000,000 to spend with the second group every 30 days, by this means they become the secondary beneficiaries of the society, and since the first group are not producers but are consumers and must be clothed, fed and educated by members of the second group, they become the third beneficiaries of the society.

Now this is a gigantic mutual aid association. It is unlike some of the mutuals that have been organized by individuals all over our land and country, which function nicely for a time and then fail for lack of members, for this reason: those who participated in these joined upon their own volition, and could withdraw at will, so they soon died out for want of patrons. But when this federal mutual is established every inhabitant of the United States, whether a citizen or an alien, will contribute to this fund, whether willingly or unwillingly, just to the extent that he or she buys and sells, and no one can withdraw from this association without moving out of the country.

This being a government institution, and since the government collects and disburses the funds it is safe beyond question.

Veal Manly,
Lubbock.

Eradication Of All Prairie Dogs Expected Within Year

AMARILLO, Feb. 27. (AP)—County Agent E. R. Duke of Potter county estimates that another year will bring about eradication of prairie dogs.

For many years farmers and cattlemen have directed a fight against the pests, which congregate in "towns" and cause heavy damage to crops and pastures.

The Potter county commissioners court recently set aside $258 for the purchase of poison and grain to carry on the eradication campaign. Part of the $750 made available last year has not been spent.

Employes of the U. S. biological survey will place milo maize as bait around the prairie dog colonies. A few days later the same kind of grain will be poisoned and spread near the holes. Chemicals will be poured into the underground caverns later and the entrance stopped up so that the remaining dogs will suffocate.

John M. Hill, jr., of the biological survey will direct the campaign and CCC enrollees will assist.

The history of the horse shows it as one of the world's most curious animals. Its gradual change from a tiny many-toed animal, to one that walks on the end of a single toe, is without parallel.

Biggest Arrest
Big Problem Faces Warrant Officer

HOUSTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Warrant Officer Neal Arnold made the "biggest" arrest of the year here then had to let his man go.

Arnold went out to serve a warrant that charged failure to stop at a boulevard. The man named was sitting on his porch.

"Sorry, but you'll have to come with me," the officer said.

The man submitted but as he arose Arnold hesitated and asked: "Say, friend, how much do you weigh?"

"Only 385 pounds," was the reply.

The officer looked at his light automobile. "Let's see," he mused, "I can't put you in the front seat because you wouldn't fit there with me. If I put you in the back seat there might be some damage. Guess I'll have to leave you on your honor to come to the police station tomorrow."

The man came and the police judge, A. C. Winborn, found he was innocent. Another man had forged his name on a traffic ticket.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out .5 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

EVERLAY Double Duty CHICK STARTER

SAFE-GUARDING
Your Chicks!

The most economical way to safeguard YOUR chicks against the common chick troubles is to make sure of an abundant supply of Vitamin, Mineral and Protein in the ration. This gives definite protection against slow growth, nutritional roup, rickets and losses.

Successful poultrymen appreciate the fact that EVERLAY MASHES are outstanding in producing HEALTH and GROWTH because they contain:

1. Sardine Oil — Rich in vitamin A and D.
2. Fish Meal — High in digestable protein and rich in mineral and vitamin D.
3. Milk Sugar Feed — Rich in lactose and more than 50% higher in vitamin G than dried buttermilk.
4. Oatmeal — Of all grain products the greatest body and muscle builder.

These EXTRA elements PLUS controlled milling is the reason more Plains poultrymen are turning to EVERLAY for EXTRA GROWTH and EXTRA PROFITS.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS, No. 137 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

With solemn satisfaction the Cannanite soldiers surveyed the battlefield, where a full score of shiftas lay dead. Only one of the warriors had been seriously wounded, and Tarzan instructed his men to make a litter of boughs and bear him back to camp.

Then the ape-man hurried away to reconnoitre in the vicinity of the crater exit. From the edge of the forest he saw a group of brigands clustered about the opening, watching the racing Nazir, who was hastening to make his report to his chieftain. . . .

. . . Boris Garetto's flaming anger mounted rapidly as the wild-eyed Nazir approached. As soon as his lieutenant was within earshot, he shouted: "Where are your men?" Nazir had no breath to answer until he flung himself trembling and exhausted at Garetto's feet.

"Dead," he panted; "all dead!" "Dead?" stormed Garetto. "Why? How?" Nazir drew three quick, short breaths before he replied fearfully: "Tarzan!" Garetto's rage exploded. "Tarzan!" he screamed. "Tarzan shall pay for this! With his own blood he shall pay!"

Terry and reserved the vendor's lien to secure the payment of five notes of even date therewith, the first being for $1460.00, and the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th for the sum of $1500.00 each, payable, respectively, on the 1st day of November of the years 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921; and that on or about the same day the said C. M. Terry and wife made, executed and delivered to said P. P. Ladd a deed of trust, with power vested in Charles L. Kribs, Trustee, to sell said land at auction, etc., in accordance with the provisions of said deed of trust and the law applicable to trustee's sales in the event of default in the payment of any of the aforesaid vendor's lien notes, whereby the said C. M. Terry became bound for the payment of said purchase money and the title to said land encumbered with said liens, including the power of said trustee to sell in case of default in the payment of any of said indebtedness, as more fully shown by the aforesaid conveyance, notes and deed of trust hereby referred to and made a part hereof.
(5) That thereafter, towit, on or about April 5, 1918, after default in the payment of said indebtedness and upon request of the holder of said notes, as provided in said deed of trust, the said trustee, after duly advertising said land for sale and otherwise complying with the provisions of said deed of trust and the law applicable thereto, sold and conveyed said land by trustee's deed to the plaintiff, who has been the owner of said land and in the possession thereof ever since.
(6) That from and since the date last mentioned the plaintiff has been in the peaceable and adverse possession of said land, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, and paying taxes thereon each year as they accrued, under the aforesaid trustee's deed duly registered in the Deed Records of Cochran county, Texas.
(7) That the defendants mentioned have been asserting adverse claims to said lands and the minerals therein, as herein alleged, but that said adverse claims are wholly subordinate and inferior to the plaintiff's title and possession to said lands, and create a cloud thereon, to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of $10,000.00.
(8) The defendants are asserting the aforesaid adverse claims by reasons of the following instruments: (Here follows list of instruments).
(12) The plaintiff, claiming to be the owner of said land and minerals and entitled to possession thereof, alleges that the defendants are asserting the aforesaid adverse claims, and also asserting that they are the owners of said land and of the minerals therein, and entitled to the use and possession thereof, all of which adverse claims and assertions made by the defendants create and constitute a cloud upon the plaintiff's title and possession to said land and minerals, and make the plaintiff's title unmerchantable, to his damage aforesaid; which adverse claims and assertions the plaintiff is entitled to have removed and cancelled. The plaintiff is also entitled to judgment for the title and possession of said land, and a further decree quieting such title and possession in him as against all of said defendants.
(13) Wherefore, plaintiff prays the court that the defendants be cited to appear and answer in the time and manner required by law, and that on final hearing he have judgment of the court for title and possession of said land as against all of said defendants; that the aforesaid adverse claims of defendants be removed and cancelled; that the title and possession be quieted in the plaintiff as against said defendants; and that the plaintiff have such other and further relief to which he may be entitled either in law or equity.
Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 24th day of February, A. D. 1936.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Traders stepped into the stock market in the final hour today and whirled steels, rails and industrial specialties up 1 to 4 or more points.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 shares the market advanced 1.3 points to 61.8. Transactions totaled 1,515,500 shares against 1,023,080 on Wednesday.

Brokers said the market had much bullish food for thought.

To the fore in the minds of the financial district, they said, was the proposed entry to the capital market by Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. in quest of the largest sum of "new" money so far recorded under the securities act—$31,000,000.

Added to this as a market factor were a number of other sturdy props such as:

A dividend of 25 cents a share for Allegheny Corporation, the first since 1931; 1935 earnings for the company equal to $1.39 a share against 22 cents in 1934.

Another boost of .05 of a cent a pound in the price of lead by two major metal companies the second in two days.

A gain of 8.9 per cent in the bank clearings for 22 leading cities over the like period last year.

Government bonds were steady as investment circles focused sights on the announcement of Secretary Morgenthau that the treasury's mid-March financing will total about $1,800,000,000—$800,000,000 of which will be asked in new cash.

Corporate bonds were strong.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27. (AP) — Prices worked two to six points lower in a dull and featureless session in the cotton futures market today.

The market closed around the lows for the day after showing but slight fluctuations. Scattered hedge selling and some trade buying were credited with the little activity shown.

Still awaiting final determination of the government's program for the cotton farmer next year and displaying nervousness over the international outlook, speculative interest in the market was held in check.

Hedge selling forced May down to 10.00 at one time, or six points below the previous close, but price fixing came into the market and the close was 10.03.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Cotton was quiet with a narrow range today, closing steady, net two points higher to lower.

News of the approval of the conference report on the farm bill appeared to have been anticipated and was without effect on the market.

Exports today 24,471, making 4,598,699 so far this season. Port receipts 11,127. U. S. port stocks 2,444,720.

cause he said he still had the warmest esteem and admiration" for the alleged Mrs. Wallace.

The alleged Mrs. Wallace, who contends she "never heard of the guy," called her alleged husband's latest move a publicity stunt.

"The guy's trying to cash in again," she said in Hollywood. "I got a new picture out, and he's pulling the same stunt he pulled the last time one was released."

Wallace, in his court action, seeks to enjoin her from making cracks like that.

Yoakum Well

the Yoakum County News and her husband, Judge R. P. Moreland came over, along with a number of county officials. A large Lubbock group, including A. B. Brown, Jim Williams, Charles Pierce, William Estes and W. S. Hodges, visited the scene.

Half a dozen scouts from Odessa and Midland were there, as were several from New Mexico.

Many oil lease brokers and buyers were in and about the place during the day. Some transactions were semi-officially reported for Yoakum county land as well as for Gaines and Terry counties.

Further operations are expected Friday. It was indicated that the well might not be brought in before next week, although none of those connected with the operations were prepared to set any definite date as to when production might come in, if at all.

The test is located in section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is 17 miles northwest of here and about 13 miles southeast of Plains, Yoakum county seat.

Four hundred cases of mumps and German measles were reported in Tyler today.

house pending final passage of the farm measure.

Debate Is Resumed

After adopting the conference report, the house resumed debate today on the $161,000,000 regular appropriation bill for the agriculture department. An attempt by a midwest group to save part of the proposed tree planting shelter belt from the Canadian to the Mexican borders was blocked by a 81 to 35 vote rejecting $180,000 to continue studies and for distribution of nursery stocks to farmers.

The farm subsidy bill had been termed a "mere subterfuge, a fraud and a sham" by Republicans who advanced substitute plans after AAA was smashed but did not press them in the face of the big Democratic majorities.

Although some Republicans voted for the measure, it drew only lukewarm support from Senator Smith (D-SC) who introduced it in the senate after his committee revised an original bill offered by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala).

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Brisk upturns of prices and lively trading distinguished the wheat market for a time today, but unevenness developed later, and new crop futures declined.

May wheat rose temporarily to above $1.01, whereas yesterday a star achievement was the surpassing of the dollar-a-bushel level.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅝ off to ⅝ up compared with yesterday's finish, May $1.00⅝@1.00¾, July 91⅛@91¼, corn at ¼ decline to ⅛ advance, May 60¾, oats unchanged, and provisions varying from 2 cents setback to 10 cents gain.

Corn and oats mainly followed wheat market changes. Cold weather over the corn belt pointed to continued heavy feeding requirements.

Provisions were responsive to upturns of hog values.

Insurance was $1,500, said Stanton, $1,000 of which was on stock, $500 on fixtures. He said he estimated his total damage $7,500. That excluded the building, which did not belong to him, he said.

Other Losses Slight

Loss to the other establishments was believed slight, said Forbess, who said further investigation of those losses would be made today. Fire fell through the ceiling of the beauty shop, and smoke damaged that establishment and the refrigerator company, to some degree. Both latter places carried insurance, though the amounts were not known to the marshal.

Kindling in a wash house at 2112 Eighteenth street caught fire about 9 o'clock that morning, but no damage was reported.

A call at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon to a residence at 1908 Avenue O, where trash caught fire, was answered.

After the Avenue K fire firemen were called to extinguish feed stacks in 2800-block Avenue Q, said W. E. Twitty, fire chief.

Light wires on a house on the Slaton highway caught fire and caused a run of the department after 10 o'clock at night. The owner, whose name was not learned by firemen, had extinguished the blaze soon after telephoning the alarm, the department said.

In addition to the first fleet in Tokyo bay, the second fleet, under the command of Vice Admiral Viscount Takayoshi Kata, was at anchor in Osaka bay. Both fleets were summoned in from the high seas because of the threatening situation yesterday.

Tokyo was still under martial law although the crisis was over.

Princes of the imperial blood continued to confer at the palace with Emperor Hirohito, but no progress toward the choice of a new premier was disclosed.

The capitulation followed upon mediation by high officers, acting on behalf of the government. Terms of the agreement were not made public.

He was conscious of Nurse Kennedy standing beside the chair.

"Didn't mean to wake you up, Doctor," she said, "but you needed those few hours of sleep, and you WOULDN'T go to bed."

Shouldn't have allowed it, Katherine," he reproached her, rising stiffly from the chair. "Look here. You blew up a little bit this morning, Katherine."

"I ought to be kicked," rejoined the nurse remorsefully.

"I just want to warn you," went on the doctor wearily, "that what we've been through is nothing to what we may have to go through now."

"No news at all?" asked the nurse.

"Oh, you can't blame 'em," he went on tonelessly. "We're just a little settlement on the edge of nowhere, and this weather and all—they're human, too. Only—I guess I've never learned to take things the way a doctor ought to take them. I know all these kids, and their mamas and daddies. They're my babies. I brought 'em into the world. And to have to see 'em strangle to death because—"

His sudden anger died away. He cocked his head, listening intently. Then excitedly.

"What's that? Hear that, nurse? By golly, that's it! A plane!"

The two leaped from the side door of the vestry into the chill air. High above, unseen in the waning blizzard, was the unmistakable drone of an airplane motor.

Vice-President To Have Flag Of Own

Well may John Nance Garner regard this flag with interest and pride as his teeth clamp down on his cigar. It's his flag, the first time in the nation's 147 years, that the U. S. vice-president has had a flag of his own. The banner is white, with blue stars, while the presidential flag is blue with white stars.

West Texans Stick To Rattlesnakes

Persons Elsewhere May Dine On Crow But Folks In Western Texas Will Take Prairie Dog, Armadillo Or Polecat

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Persons elsewhere may dine on crow if they desire but most West Texans intend to keep on eating chicken, prairie dog, armadillo, polecat, gar and rattlesnake meat.

Thousands of crows are in this section and a dinner could be prepared if the populace agreed with those who term crow meat a delicacy.

Armadillo meat is "good eating," John P. Lee and J. M. Pfluger, leading farmers of this section, say. Many Mexican families eat polecat meat and the finny gar is widely eaten by negro families. Many ranchmen have eaten rattlesnake steak.

Were Eaten In Greece

Pano Cotsi of San Angelo said he often ate crow meat when a boy in his native Greece but only crows with white bills, which was evidence the birds were not scavengers. The black birds were rejected.

Tom Green county agent W. I. Marshall said virtually all the crows in West Texas have black beaks.

G. W. Dunlap president of the Runnels county Fish and Game Protective association explained that ravens in this section consume dead animals along with a general diet of bird eggs, hen eggs, corn, grains, nuts, melons and practically all other edibles of birds and animals.

Crows do greatest damage in the ranch country by pecking out the eyes of ewes and young lambs. They also inflict serious damage to grain and all other crops.

HAMLIN, W. Va., Feb. 27. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Ellsworth Payne was ordered held for grand jury action today on a charge of being the accomplice of his schoolgirl cousin, Gladys Dillon, 14, in poisoning eight members of her family.

Prosecutor W. F. Damron said the boy and girl conspired to "get even" with Gladys' mother after Gladys and Payne had disobeyed warnings and visited their sweethearts in Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dillon and their six children have recovered from effects of the poison, mixed with flour and used for making bread and gravy.
