25 Million Chopped Off U. S. Propaganda Project

Johnson Lines Up Backers

AUSTIN (AP)—Lyndon Johnson-for-President forces have lined up a long list of political big names—many of them former political supporters of Gov. Allan Shivers—to spearhead their campaign into every corner of Texas.

"While I am sorry to lose the support of these good people," said Shivers, "I do not question for a moment their right to make this choice or their sincerity in choosng as they have.

"At the same time, I am grateful to a great many other friends who have been placed under terrific pressure these last few days but who have resisted this pressure even when it might have been to their personal advantage to 'give in and sign up.' Here again it is a matter of individual conscience.

"I am still confident that a majority of Texas Democrats feel as I do about the principles for which we are waging this fight for the delegation leadership," he said.

The list of 183 persons on the committee announced by the Johnson-for-President forces took in a cross section of professions and past political leanings.

Shivers and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson are battling for leadership of Texas' 56-member delegation to the Democratic national convention in Chicago. Johnson is seeking the role of favorite son candidate for president, but Shivers has said he is interested only in becoming delegation leader.

The group named here yesterday was officially designated as the "Johnson for President Committee."

Shivers went to Houston today to meet with campaign workers after telling reporters in Dallas that he knew he was "the underdog" in the contest with Johnson. He said he was optimistic about the outcome despite the desertion of some of his top supporters to Johnson.

In another major development yesterday, Texas' national committeewoman Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin said in Washington that she would back Johnson as favorite son candidate but not as delegation leader. She believed Texas would send a divided delegation to Chicago, and said she hoped that Johnson himself would help promote a compromise by withdrawing from the delegation leadership contest with Shivers.

However, Mrs. Weinert said she

Local School Pay Increased

Snyder School Trustees voted Thursday night to raise the base pay of classroom teachers in the school system here by $500 per year.

The increase will put the starting salary for beginning teachers with bachelors degrees at $4,000 per year. So far as could be determined that figure is the highest base salary among public schools in the state.

Some schools were starting qualified teachers at $3,650 per year, or $150 per year more than the Snyder system, and some have voted pay raises since the last state - wide figures were compiled. However, it is believed no oher system in the state has reached the $4,000 mark.

The decision to authorize the increase here came on a unanimous vote of the board, following a detailed discusion of the salary scale for teachers here.

The state minimum starting salary is $2,800 per year.

Salaries for the administrative staff and other school personnel are still under study by the board.

At the same time the board authorized the superintendent, Dr. C. L. Yarbrough, to survey duties of some department heads. It was felt that some may be needed for additional work in the school immediately prior to and immediately following the nine - month school term each year. In cases where such work is needed, the board indicated that it planned to make salary adjustments accordingly.

Although definite figures will not be available until faculty requirements for next term are determined, it is estimated that the pay hike for classroom teachers alone will increase the school payroll by approximately $100,000 per year.

STEEPLE TOPPLES—The steeple of St. Phillip Roman Catholic church in East St. Louis, Ill., is shown falling during a fire which destroyed the church and damaged a nearby convent. Strong winds and low water pressure hampered firemen. Damage was estimated at $104,000 to the two buildings. One fireman was overcome by the dense smoke.

Prison Request Sliced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut 25 million dollars from President Eisenhower's request for the government's overseas propaganda program.

It also refused to approve money sought by the Justice Department to build two new prisons and criticized a State Department proposal to buy an unspecified number of "executive wastebaskets" at $27 each.

The committee said it "would be a wasteful abberation" to give the U. S. Information Agency the entire 135 millions requested for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

The 110 millions it recommended for USIA—which handles the propaganda program—is $22,663,370 more than the agency received this year.

The committee approved the full amount sought for USIA radio broadcasting programs, known as the Voice of America, but specifically rejected a request for $3,790,500 to fit out an aircraft carrier for use as a floating theater equipped to show Cinerama, a new movie technique.

The USIA funds were included in a $451,367,372 bill to finance the State and Justice departments, the judiciary and the USIA. The committee's recommendations are subject to action by the full House and Senate. House consideration is scheduled for next week.

The total recommended is $56,802,448 less than Eisenhower sought for all the agencies but is $46,794137 more than they received for the current year.

The State Department's budget was cut $9,700,548. Included in its allotment of $171,506,737 was $33,830,875 for payment of the U. S. share of expenses of international organizations, mainly the United Nations; $1,906,000 for the U. S.-Mexico Boundary and Water Commission; and two million for work on the Rama road linking Central America with the United States.

The Justice Department was allotted $215,965,000, a cut of $19,915,000 from Eisenhower's requests. The FBI was granted the entire $95,510,000 it requested.

Rejected were requests of the Immigration Service for funds to build 34.3 miles of fence along the Mexican border and of the federal prison system for 17 million dollars to build a close custody reformatory for youthful offenders and a maximum security prison for more hardened criminals.

For operation of the federal courts, the committee approved $35,395,635, a budget cut of $2,186,900. Funds rejected included 1½ million dollars to air - condition courtrooms and court offices.

Vote On Bond Issue Scheduled Tomorrow

Scurry County's taxpaying voters will go to the polls tomorrow to write their decision on a $205,000 bond proposal.

The ballots will list three separate proposals, one calling for a $90,000 bond issue to finance construction of a public library, another for a $65,000 issue to finance additional public park facilities and another for $50,000 for construction of an east-west runway at Winston Field, the county airport.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. at the 20 voting boxes in the county. All poll tax holders and exempted voters who have property rendered on the county tax roll are eligible to vote in the election.

The library issue involves a proposal to construct and equip a library building and to provide a bookmobile for regular library service in the rural areas.

A park is proposed near the south edge of Snyder, somewhere in the vicinity of the Abraham Lincoln School. Also proposed are picnic facilities in rural communities of the county.

The east - west runway at Winston Field has been proposed here as a safety factor and to provide better facilities for planes to land here in inclement weather.

Democratic Party Has Money Crisis

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said today his party is facing a "financial crisis" which if not solved quickly will seriously endanger its chances for victory next November.

He said fund raising should be given "No. 1 priority" if the party is to be able adequately to present the issues to the people. He said those issues include "what it means to them to have a part-time president."

Butler, opening a two-day meeting of the national committee to discuss convention and campaign plans, said in prepared remarks the Republicans now have five million dollars in their campaign chest. Against that, he said, is a Democratic bank balance of a mere $100,000—a 50 to 1 advantage for the GOP.

To emphasize his point, he said the $100,000 Democratic balance "is not enough to purchase time and produce a half-hour program on a major nationwide television network."

"There is no use kidding ourselves," he added. "The Democratic party is confronted with a financial crisis. If we don't find a way to solve it promptly we are faced by the very real danger that the 1956 election will be won not by the party with the best issues but by the party with the most money."

Butler said sizable funds will be needed to "drive home to the people the full significance of the President's veto of the farm bill."

"We have to show the voters how our foreign policy and defense programs have vacillated and drifted to a point where our security is in grave peril," he said. "We have to drive home the lack of leadership in Washington.

"We have to show the people what it means to them to have a part-time president. We have to tell the people how this administration has favored the wealthy few at the expense of the rest of us."

The two-day rally ends tomorrow night with a $100-a-plate Woodrow Wilson Centennial Dinner in the National Guard armory. The dinner is expected to raise around $250,000, although acceptances have run far below the peak of 5,000 that the party has jammed into the same hall in the past when it held the White House.

Two Texans Charged In Bookie Probe

FORT WORTH (AP)—Felony complaints were filed here yesterday against two Fort Worth men in a Treasury agent crackdown on a purported bookie syndicate.

The men, J. H. Winn, 59, and J. B. King Jr., 33, were charged with an attempt to "defeat and evade" federal tax on wagering.

Both men made $1,000 bonds at a preliminary hearing yesterday. A hearing for permanent bond was set for this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner Pete Van Orden.

The men were seized in an Arlington Heights residence. Randall Winston, assistant chief of the U.S. Treasury Department's North Texas District, led the agents in the raid.

The agents entered Winn's home under search warrants issued by Commissioner Orden.

Winston reported that scratch sheets and betting tickets were found "all over a bed" in the home. He said the home was equipped with three telephones hooked to two separate lines.

Winston and U.S. Attorney Heard Floore were noncommital on whether other raids were staged here.

U.S. Attorney Malcom D. Anderson announced simultaneous raids yesterday in Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston and Newport, Ky. Winston said here that raids were also staged in Des Plaines, Ill., near Chicago.

Pickup Is Recovered By Sheriff's Office

The new International pickup truck stolen from the Goodyear Service Store in a burglary Tuesday night was recovered by officers of the Sheriff's department the next day.

The truck was located in a gravel pit about three miles east of Snyder, and was reported to the sheriff's department by a person who saw it there while driving by.

An air compressor mounted on the truck was still on it, Bill Love, chief deputy, said.

The truck had only three and one-half more miles registered on its speedometer when found than when stolen, and apparently was not damaged.

Several tires and batteries also stolen in the burglary have not been recovered, however.

New Runway Will Be Voted On Here

(This is the last in a series of articles on the $205,000 bond proposal which will be submitted to Scurry County's taxpaying voters on Saturday.)

The possibility of adding as east-west runway to Winston Field, Scurry County's airport, has been under discussion for at least two years, but no specific proposal was made until an overwhelming amount of evidence of need was accumulated.

As early as Jan. 2, 1954, some of the regular users of the local airport suggested that an east-west runway was needed. On that date, Webb B. Cooley, manager of the ad valorem tax department for Magnolia Petroleum Co., communicated with the county commissioners court as follows:

"The last time I visited with your court in Snyder, you may remember we were travelling in the company's DC-3 airplane.

"We had a pretty brisk cross-wind which affected our take-off to a small degree. This developed the question of whether or not our airport needed an east-west runway. It so happened that we had four officials of our company on the plane with us, including the head of our aviation department.

"It was the concensus of opinion that since you are using commercial air lines, it is necessary that you have an east-west runway. In their opinion the safety factor alone would be worth the cost of building this landing strip."

Similar comments from others have been received and placed on file by the county airport board.

"Weather and wind conditions in that part of the state are frequently unfavorable for landing aircraft when only a single runway is available. There is no question in our minds as to the desirability, if not the utmost necessity of an east-west runway at Winston Field...," writes J. M. Gray, assistant vice president of McCullough Tool Co. of Houston, which has a branch in Snyder.

"A few weeks ago we landed the Warren Petroleum Corp. plane on your present runway with a strong cross wind. This was a hazardous undertaking, and for a while we were debating as to whether we

Firemen Here Douse Blaze

An oil field fire raged for about three hours yesterday before it was subdued by Snyder firemen.

The fire occurred 36 miles southwest of Snyder west of Vincent in Howard County.

Firemen reported that cause of the fire was undetermined, and extent of damage to the equipment was not known.

Three units from the Snyder fire department went to the scene and fought the blaze about 45 minutes before getting it under control. It had been burning for some time before the fire trucks arrived. It was first reported to the fire department at 12:10; o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Absentee Voting Is Started Here

Absentee voting is underway here on the local option proposal which will be voted upon May 5.

Absentee ballots for that election may be cast in the County Clerk's office until three days before the election date. Qualified voters who will be out of the county on the election day are eligible to cast absentee ballots.

Texas Gets More Rain

By The Associated Press

Showers continued to dot Texas Friday but the quantity of moisture was only enough to revive hopes, not parched crops and pastures.

Although the showers were welcomed, they were making little dent in the drought which government experts say is becoming critical in many sections of the state.

Junction reported a Thursday night shower of .02 inch while light rains fell early Friday at Houston, El Paso, Salt Flat and Bergstrom Field near Austin. Shortly before dawn Brownsville and Alice reported light rains.

Continued showers along the coast and in West Texas were predicted for Friday and Saturday. Skies are expected to be partly cloudy to cloudy over the weekend with temperatures remaining mild.

Early Friday temperatures ranged from 34 degrees at Dalhart to 68 at Brownsville. Salt Flat with 48 degrees was the coolest spot reporting Thursday afternoon with 48 degrees while Brownsville and Beaumont were the warmest with readings of 76.

Nasser Flying To Conference With Leaders Of Arab States

JERUSALEM (AP)—Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser was flying to Jidda today for a conference with two Arab sovereigns, King Saud of Saudi Arabia and Imam Ahmed of Yemen, according to the semiffocial Egyptian Middle East News Agency.

Jida is a Saudi Arabian Red Sea port about 40 miles northwest of Mecca, the holy city of the Mosiems.

The anouncement came as U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold launched a final round of talks with Israeli officials on technical Palestine border questions before heading back to his Middle East headquarters in Beirut, Lebanon.

Less than 48 hours after a new, unconditional cease - fire agreement was ordered effective on the Israeli - Egyptian frontier, U. N. truce observers were back at the old grind investigating a complaint of violation.

The Egyptians said a 15 - man Israeli patrol invaded the Egyptian - held Gaza Strip yesterday and fired on a post near Deir el Ballah. A spokesman said the Egyptian detachment suffered no casualties and did not return the fire.

In Jerusalem, Israeli authorities denied the charge.

The Israelis told of a new incident on the Israeli - Jordan frontier, whose pacifcation is another job for Hamarskjold's peace mission. Israelis said a group of armed Jordanians opened fire from inside Israeli territory last night at an Israeli military car in the Beith Guvrin area of the Judean Hills and the Israelis returned the fire.

Full-Scale Talks Are Opened By Russian Leaders And Eden

LONDON (AP) —Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khruschev opened full-scale talks today with Prime Minister Eden on the explosive situation on the Middle East.

Bulganin raised his hat and Khrushchev put on his best smile for a crowd of 250 as they left their Claridges Hotel headquarters. The crowd replied with silent stares.

About 7,000 persons lined the two-mile route from the hotel to No. 10 Downing - St., Eden's official residence. So hushed was the crowd that the whirl of the tires on the Russians' big car could be heard.

The Kremlin chiefs were accompanied by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, already in London for the five-power disarmament negotiations; and Jacob Malik, the Russian ambassador to Britain. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sat in with Eden.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were scheduled today, for a total of almost five hours of talking. Both sides agreed to keep the talks secret, and to put out communiques at the end of each day's sessions.

Eden expected to get down to cases at once on the explosive Midle East situation, where Communist arming of Egypt threatens to upset the balance of power between Israel and the Arab states.

The British fear this may touch off big-scale fighting which would ultimately involve Communist and Western military might in a holocaust of mutual destruction.

Grocers Here Will Enroll In Training

Snyder grocers and their employes are enrolling for a grocery training course which will begin Monday, Dan Martin, local chairman of arrangements, has announced.

Sponsored jointly by local grocers, Texas Retail Grocers Association, the DE department of Snyder Schools and the Chamber of Commerce, the course will be conducted by Clyde Bennett, retail grocery training specialist of the University of Texas. Bennett is former owner and operator of Bennett Food Stores in Waco.

Since joining the university staff four years ago, he had directed similar training programs for grocers and their employes in many Texas cities. Bennet has spent 16 years in the retail grocery business and in addition has taught in the public schools of Texas for a number of years.

A practical course in "Grocery Checking Procedures" has been arranged for all grocers and their employes. It will include training in better customer contacts, better mental arithmetic, standard methods and procedures and actual grocery checking.

The first session will begin Monday, and the course will continue through April 26 would support Johnson if the May 22 state convention named him for both honors.

Johnson's friends over the state were receiving a letter from the senator in which he said the issue in the May 5 conventions is whether or not Texans will have a unified, effective delegation to Chicago that would be "accorded a respectful hearing." The alternative, he said, was "to use the delegation as a vehicle for carrying on personal fights and old political grudges."

The Johnson-for-President committee was announced by Mayor Tom Miller and E. H. Perry of Austin, co-chairmen. The honorary chairman is former vice president John Nance Garner of Uvalde.

Among the members are former governor Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, former attorneys general Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio. It includes many who have been identified with both the liberal and conservative factions of the party in the party fight that has been going on since 1944. Johnson has often said he wants to work with a united delegation representing no faction.

Among political figures on the committee are:

Former U.S. representative Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., of Houston, who has been a close friend of Shivers; R. E. Bibb of Eagle Pass, a former member of the Shivers-controlled state Democratic executive committee; Eugene B. Germany of Dallas, a former chairman of the state executive committee; Gene Houchins of Victoria, recently a member of the Shivers-dominated executive committee, who quit after a dispute with the governor.

Also, Vann M. Kennedy of Corpus Christi, a former secretary of the state executive committee; former U.S. representative John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi; C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder oil man who as been one of Shivers' principal backers and member of the state executive committee; Raymond Buck of Fort Worth; and J. D. Dickson of Seymour, former executive committeeman with Shivers backing.

Stinging Sensation

RUNWAY

should go to another airport. We believe that the general activity in Scurry County justifies the additional facilities of an east-west runway," H. F. Beardmore, production manager for Warren Petroleum Corp. informed the airport board.

Winston Field, incidentally, is the only Scurry County facility that is now self-sustaining. This is accomplished by rental fees from commercial carriers in the administration building, and from sale of aviation fuel at the field.

The bond proposal Saturday includes $50,00 0for construction the east-west runway. The county still has $15,000 of a previous airport issue, which would make a total of $5,000 available in county funds. The Federal government already has announced a grant of $69,000, which is available for construction of the east-west runway, provided the county matches government expenditures on the project. Estimates indicate that the funds as outlined would be adequate for the project.

Also on the ballot Saturday will be a $90,000 library proposal, and a $65,000 park proposal.

It is estimated that the entire $205,000 proposal would require a tax levy of about 4½ cents per $100 valuation for five-year bonds. That would amount to about 50 cents per year for five years for the average home in Snyder.

Oil Engineer Speaks Here

Earl Thurman, district engineer for Magnolia Co., discussed the SACROC unitization project at a ladies night meeting of the Snyder Kiwanis Club ii the Hilander last night.

Thruman explained how SACROC mas organized in 1950 after operators in the Kelley - Snyder field and the railroad commission became alarmed over gas pressure in the field.

Detailed studies mere made of cores taken from wells in the field and other related data before the project was launched, he explained. The objective was to increase the percentage of recovery.

Although success of SACROC already is assured, the full potential connot be calculated yet, he sure that life of the field wil extend 40 to 65 years.

Thurman, who is being transferred to a Magnolia installation near Midland, introduced Bill Tibbets, his successor here.

WOMEN

Mrs. Tooley Is New Head Of Surburban Study Club

The Suburban Study Club has recently been formed by women living in the Sunray Mid-Continent Gasoline camp. Mrs. W. M. Tooley, the president, said "although at present all our members are living in the camp, we do not intend to restrict membership on that basis."

Mrs. Tooley, a native of Pottawatomie County, Okla., added that "Mrs. J. D. Richardson is the real one to get the club started. She and the rest of us felt the need of having some organization which would bring us all closer together and at the same time afford us a chance for cultural and civic study."

The club's plans for the rest of this year include a program on "Fashions, Past and Present," "Women of the Bible" and "The History of Music."

Although Mr. Tooley was transferred to Snyder only three years ago, in that short time they have made many permanent ties with this part of the country. Their daughter is Mrs. R. G. Kilgore of Snyder, and their son, recently discharged from the Navy and living in Lubbock, was married to Billie Mae Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Hutchins also of the Sunray Mid-Continent Camp.

In addition to her new position, Mrs. Tooley is a member of the Tri Community Home Demonstration Club and superintendent of Nursery 5 in the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church.

HOLY SPIRIT AND PENTECOST

"PENTECOST" IS A NEW TESTAMENT TERM. This feast has three names in the Old Testament: (1) The feast of weeks (Ex. 34:22: Deut. 16:9-12), (2) he feast of harvests (Ex. 23:16), and (3) The firstfruits (Num. 28:26). In the New Testament the feast is known as "Pentecost." It always comes on the first day of the week (Lev. 23:11,15,16).

THE HOLY SPIRIT CAME UPON THE APOSTLES ON PENTECOST (ACTS 1:26-2:1). The kingdom of God was to come with power, during the life time of those who lived with Jesus (Mark 9:1). The "power" came when the Holy Spirit came (Acts 1:6-8). But the Holy spirit came on pentecost (Acts 2:1-4); hence the kingdom of God came on that day. The kingdom of God and the church of Christ are the same institution (Acts 8:12; 9:31).

THE HOLY SPIRIT CAME WITH PHYSICAL MANIFESTATIONS. First, there was the sound of "a rushing mighty wind." (Acts 2:2). This appealed to the ear. Second, there appeared unto the apostles "cloven tongues like as of fire" (Acts 2:3). This appealed to the eye. Third, the apostles "began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance." (Acts 2:4). This appealed to the intelligence of the people. The apostles were "filled with the Holy Spirit."

PENTECOST IS THE BIRTHDAY OF THE CHURCH. The church had existed in the eternal purpose of God (Eph. 3:10,11); it existed in prophecy (Isaiah 2:2-4; Dan. 2:44); it existed in preparation (Luke 3:1-18). During His personal ministry, Jesus further prepared the way for the establishment of His church; then on pentecost, the Holy Spirit took the prepared material (people) and organized it into the church.

THE HOLY SPIRIT TELLS CONVICTED MEN WHAT TO DO TO BE SAVED. Men were "pricked in their heart" at what Peter had preached (Acts 2:37). They asked, "What shall we do?" The Holy Spirit said, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost . . . Then they that gladly received his word were baptized . . . And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." (Acts 2:38,41,47b). To which church were they "added?" To the one spoken of in the New Testament. Dear reader, have you been added to the church? If not, do so today! Do just as these people did and you will be right. "THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST SALUTE YOU." (ROM. 16:16).

Truth About Texas

It is nice to be known around the world as an up-and-coming state, as the home of people who love to do things in the grand manner, as a generous and open-handed people who find themselves at home almost everywhere in the world—as Texas and Texans do.

Texas and Texans leap at you from the pages of newspapers and magazines, from motion picture and TV screens, from radio loudspeakers—not always in a complimentary way. In the magazine True's current number, for instance, there is a piece about the princeling Grace Kelly has married and Texas even got into that. It seems Prince Rainier volunteered for intelligence work with the French Army in WW II and was assigned to the Texas 36th Division, and ever since he has been devoted to Texas, to Texans and to the bourbon and branch water that is a sort of Texas hallmark among the bibulous.

But of recent years Texas has been widely depicted as the home of millionaires who throw money around. Oil, millionaires and Texans are linked in all sorts of tall stories. The word "Texas" has come to symbolize enormous wealth and spectacular living.

There are of course many wealthy oil people in Texas, but for every millionaire there are hundreds of others engaged in the various phases of that industry who make a modest living or barely get by—not to mention thousands who lost their shirts in that risky business.

The real Texas, the real oil industry, have been placed in an entirely false light—and that can be injurious in the extreme. Jake L. Hamon, board chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, who was named Texas oil man of the year by the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners this week, warned that this exaggerated feeling about Texas and the Texas oil industry as "a bunch of rich, overbearing braggarts with a tax gimmick" must be changed, or "we're going to lose our depletion allowance and generally go down the drain."

It is a point well taken. Any serious reduction in the depletion allowance would threaten not only the independent oil operators who make up the backbone of the industry in this state, but would dangerously undermine the whole economy of Texas.

First Class Proposals

A first class community is known by its first class citizens, and such citizens provide for themselves the things that make for better living for all the people.

Three issues will be submitted to the taxpaying voters of Scurry County on Saturday, and each merits our favorable consideration.

The library proposal calls for a $90,000 bond issue.

Texas has 254 counties whose various economic situations virtually span the scale. Yet, there are only 34 counties in Texas without library facilities for their citizens and their children. First class citizens demand such facilities.

Our own answer will be written at the polls Saturday.

The airport issue calls for $50,000 in bonds. Most communities realized long ago that a first class community demands a first class airport. This issue will provide an east-west runway, which will make our own airport adequate for commercial and private air traffic.

The third issue proposes an additional county park, with other park facilities to be located in various communities of the county. This proposal calls for a $65,000 bond issue. The major park envisioned in the proposal would be located somewhere in the vicinity of the Abraham Lincon School, and it would provide an adequate variety of recreational facilities.

Cost of the three projects, which would require bonds totaling $205,000, would be very small for the average taxpayer. For exampe, it is estimated that the average home owner in Snyder would pay only 50 cents per year over a five-year period to retire the bonds. That is only $2.50 spread over a five-year period.

These first class projects will materialize if the taxpaying voters of Scurry County go to the polls Saturday and vote favorably on the proposals.

Gen. Norstad's Appointment As Allied Military Chief Ends Term As No. 2 Man

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Circumstances have pushed Gen. Lauris Norstad out of his long-followed career — that of being an efficient No. 2 man.

Since Larry Norstad became the youngest general officer during World War II he has been the quiet, busy, seldom-seen second man for a line of well-known firsts — for the Eisenhowers, the Vandenbergs, the Gruenthers.

Tall, lithe, with the look of an airman about him. . . a quiet, deep voice. . , the easy manners of a diplomat and the cold, precise mind of a strategist. . . a long memory for facts and faces.

It has been things like this that made people like Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower say back early in the war that there was a handy man to have around.

Like the man he is succeeding, Army Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Norstad is looked upon in the military as a "brain," a thinker and planner.

Before he went back to Europe as commander first of American air forces there, then as commander of Allied air, Norstad served as acting vice chief of staff of the U.S Air Force, when Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) was secretary and Gen. Hoyt Vandenburg the chief of staff. Some old timers around the Pentagon were sizing up the brass. They classified them this way: Symington, the "spokesman;" Vandenberg, the "Face;" Norstad, the "Philosopher."

He also has a reputation as a persuader, in American military circles and abroad, among men over there whose interests are not always identical. Norstad says it is easy to get the airmen of different nations together because there is a universal companionship of men who work up there where there are no boundaries.

Of recent years, British Field Marshal Montgomery has become one of the foremost exponents of mighty air power. Montgomery calls on the articulate Norstad to expound the intricacies of air strategy and battle, and reminds the star-studded audience to listen well to what this 49-year-old man has to say.

Norstad, those who work with him say, has a valuable quality for a commander—he knows how and to whom to delegate authority. As a man who has made deputyship a career until now he has had much authority delegated to him.

Sometimes among the men in the trade, there is discussion of whether Norstad and Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, see eye to eye on all facets of air power. Norstad's exponents' reply is to look back into papers carrying Norstad's name, drafted in World War II and setting forth the plans and theories of strategic air power.

At times as a deputy, Norstad has had to call into play his utmost diplomatic skill. There was that occasion in North Africa. Norstad had been sent down from England to look over the provisional air force there and condition it for arrival of Supreme Commander Eisenhower The young brigadier general told air officers at the North African headquarters that if Eisenhower followed custom, he would talk to them. then ask if there was anything he could do or if they had any complaints.

"I want your answers to be that you're doing all riggt," Norstad told the officers.

The day came. Eisenhower arrived. He made a little talk. Then he asked the question.

An apparently unhappy colonel stood up said "sir, the rations are terrible and—."

Norstad zoomed into the situation. He was so sorry, colonel, but he had neglected to tell him an important phone call was awaiting. The colonel bustled out of the room, Ike's visited ended and everyone, except the absent colonel, was happy.

Norstad, with the European High Command and four stars upon him, has been well aware of the raised eyebrows that have come to mention of his age and rank in the last dozen or so years. When he talks about the problems of young officers he grins and says "I speak with considerable experience."

Norstad is of Norwegian descent the home of ancestors and some living relatives at Stavanger. Five years ago, Norstad went to Stavanger in connection with ceremonies held at the nearby airdrome of Sola.

A half dozen of the Norstad clan at Stavanger were present. Norstad was delight when the Norwegian colonel introduced the American general as "one of our boys come home."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

OROZCO. By Alma Reed. Oxford.

"Nothing succeeds at home like success abroad," says Mrs. Reed in a comment on Orozco's reception in Mexico after he had made a name in the United States.

But success abroad, for Joe Clemente Orozco, was not come by easily, as is revealed in this record written by a woman intimately associated with him and his struggle. Mrs. Reed found him living in New York City in obscurity, and she in turn introduced him to people of importance in the art world and helped arrange his first shows here. She finally opened Delphic Studios to have a place of her own for exhibiting him.

Despite some reluctant witnesses here and there — and Mrs. Reed staunchly names and chides them—the reception was enthusiastic. Praised by Dorothy Grafly, Elizabeth Luther Cary, Margaret Bruening and Henry McBride, Orozco in the next few years managed to secure the walls on which to fulfill his dream and paint his frescoes — at Pomona college, the New School in New York, Dartmouth and, at long last, the Museum of Modern Art.

He was "never a Communist," says Mrs. Reed, but he wasn't much of a capitalist, either. Religious, circles, Catholic and Protestan, objected to some jubject matter. Part of the New School masterpiece was curtained off — valued at $70,000, it was a work for which Orozco was not paid a dolla. Once as he entered this country at Laredo a U.S. Customs official deliberately destroyed 60 sketches, though there wasn't a nude in the lot.

Mrs. Reed is not an inspired or fiery writer, but she's a sincere and worshipful one. The bulk of her biography centers on the few years before and after 1930; the rest of the story of this one-handed painter is filled in quickly. With respect to the over - all Orozco picture, this is a detail, as artists say, but a detail close to the heart of the whole.

Russia's Offer In Middle East Crisis Confirms Communist Change In Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — There are good reasons for the Russians to step into the Middle East crisis as peacemakers and to agree to go along with a world agency to develop atomic energy for peace.

They have deliberately presented themselves in a new and friendly role, and they must seem to live up to it by deeds if they want to be believed. They can only get what they want if they are believed in a world long suspicious of them.

What they want—and Communist party boss Khrushchev has said so—is world communism. That hasn't changed. Their tactics have. Khrushchev said they should try to take over peacefully where they can and by force only where they have to.

To sound convincing they had to take a first, drastic step. This meant disowning Stalin, who had come to personify communism as violence, murder and revolution.

Stalin, set in his ways, relied on force alone. In his lifetime communism never advanced an inch without force. But reliance on force alone has become increasingly dangerous for the Soviet Union.

Since the United States and Russia both have atomic weapons neither can attempt force without the risk of destruction itself With something besides force how necessary, Russia's new peaceful line emerged.

Winning peacefully takes time. The Russians seem willing to take it: They have a lot of time. They have made tremendous progress in science and production. They will make far more if they stay out of war.

They are the Middle East's next-door neighbor. They can't take it by force without facing war with the United States. And at the moment they are not in a position to take it from within, either peacefully or by revolution.

In every Arab country of the Middle East, including Egypt to whom Russia recently sent arms through Czechoslovakia, the Communist party is illegal. There are Communist undergrounds.

If there were upheavals in the Middle East tomorrow—according to information here—the Communists in the area are not strong enough to take over.

So it will take time, and plenty of evidence of good will from Russia, before the Communists in the Middle East get legal recognition as a political party and therefore have a chance to move into the governments

Meanwhile, Britain would almost certainly move into the area with force if fighting between Arabs and Israelis threatened to shut off Britain's Middle Eastern oil supplies. France and the United States would probably back her up.

Once in, it would be likely they'd retain control of the area for some time to maintain peace. Russia couldn't oust them except by going to war. Why should she chance that?

She can hope to dominate the area eventually peaceful means since the British and French are widely hated there.

As for the Russian agreement to join the atoms-for-peace agency: the Soviets would have let the United States walk off with the lead in this field if they didn't join.

Under the pushing of President Eisenhower this international agency would have gone on making friends for the West without Russia.

Fears Of Recession Seem To Be At A Low Ebb Now

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever else the rise in interest rates does, it appears to indicate that the Federal Reserve Board agrees with the many businessmen who believe that the boom—after its short siesta—may be set for another sprint.

Fears if a recession to follow the late boom seem to be at low ebb.

Whether tightening credit will stop another inflationary boom is widely disputed. But by moving to make borrowing more costly the federal reserve seems to show it now expects another boom and would like to keep it within bounds if possible.

Businessmen have been betting heavily on a continuing boom to follow the leveling off of the last three months or so. They have been borrowing from the banks in record volume. Part of this has been to finance their expanded plans for spending more on new plant and equipment. Part of the loans appear to have gone into building up inventories.

Fears of another wage-price inflation spiral have grown as the time nears for the steel companies to talk with the labor unions.

Personal income totals have continued to rise. For some time now consumers have shown a tendency to pay off old debts before taking on new ones. But retail trade as a whole was good in March. And consumers by fall shoull be in an excellent condition to buy more big ticket goods on time if they want to.

Many manufacturers report an increase in orders. From all signs corporate earnings in the first three months of this year were better than a year ago. A sizable number of companies have increased dividends.

Times for the majority are pleasant indeed.

The Federal Reserve Board has said this is just what it would like to see continue. Then why did it do something that many interpret as putting on the brakes?

The federal reserve says it isn't doing that — it doesn't want to slow down prosperity. It just wants to deter some who might be borrowing in anticipation of another inflationary spurt which would lead to rising prices and a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar.

Party-Goers In Capital Have Many Celebrations

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—If you've forgotten your January first New Year's celebration just think of capital party-goers who help to celebrate about a half-dozen others—Chinese, Russian, Jewish, and most recently Iranian New Year!

This last comes with the beginning of spring and actually is observed much less hangoverishly than that January clambake of ours. Iranians here were saying "Nourouz", Persian for "Happy New Year" to their American friends and colleagues in th diplomatic corps when they gathered at a restive shindig given by the new Ambassador and Mrs. Ali Amini.

According to an ancient custom, seven symbols of spring's fertility and abundance were displayed at the embassy. All beginning with the Persian letter "S" they included a hyacinth, a cereal grain, vinegar, sumac, a seed, a green vegetable and multicoored hard eggs. The buffet was laden with Middle East holiday fare, whole lambs stufed with spiced rice, exotic begetables, yogurt and sweets.

This was the first time Washington got to meet Mrs Amini who arrived here several weeks after her husband. She's the first hostess the embassy has had in years. Former Ambassador Nazrollah Entezam was a bachelor.

The new chatelaine is a real beauty with shining dark hair worn in a shoulder-length pageboy, big brown eyes, ivory skin and small, slender figure. People are comparing her of Oscar-winning film star Anna Magnani. She wears her French and Italian-made clothes with a flair. She has verve and charm.

She is the daughter of former Prime Minister Vossough-Doleh and niece of famous post-World War II Prime Minister Ahmed Qavam who used his influence through the United Nations to force the Russians to evacuate Iran. Though she has grown up in an atmosphere of politics and international affairs, she herself never felt the urge to get into public life.

Mrs. Amini was educated in a French convent in Bierut, Lebanon and studied for two years in Europe. She speaks French and Spanish fluently and told Washington newswomen she's already started on her English. She's also interested in art and music

She was married to Dr. Amini at an early age and they have a son now 20.

Her husband also comes from distinguished forbears. His grandfather was former King Muzaferdin Shah, of the Kajor dynasty.

Picking Worthwhile Roles Important To Star's Career

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—To get ahead in the entertainment world, says Carroll Baker, "you have to be willing to turn down jobs—and eat macaroni.

"Half the problem in building a career is picking worthwhile roles."

It was her willingness to subsist on macaroni until the right part came along that has made Carroll Baker a star at 22. After only two films, she is already in the $50,000-to-$75,000 a picture class.

Chances are you never even heard of Carroll Baker, a slender, child-faced beauty who wears no makeup and looks as if she'd just stepped off a Victorian valentine.

But the chances are you won't be able to avoid hearing a lot about her before the year is out.

In the theater belt she is being readied for Cinderella girl buildup as director Elia Kazan's "latest discovery." To be discovered by Kazan is better than having a rich old uncle in Australia—it's the stepping stone to quick money in the bank.

Among the other young stars Kazan helped rocket to a morning fame are Marlon Brando, Julie Harris, Eva Marie Saint and the late Jim Dean.

Miss Baker had played only a relatively minor part in one film, the dramatization of Edna Ferber's "Giant," when Kazan had her try out for "Baby Doll." After one reading, he awarded her the title role.

"Baby Doll," written by Tennessee Williams, is a sex-haunted Southern tale in which a child bride comes to emotional maturity in an atmosphere of middle-aged arson and young grace.

The success of the 1¼-million-dollar production is almost sure to depend on how well the public likes Carroll's performance as the bewildered, thumb-sucking young bride.

But Kazan was so taken with her acting, he immediately signed her for another film—an unusual step for him. And Warner Bros. put her under contract for four more to be made in 6 years.

Carroll, the daughter of a traveling salesman turned farmer, was orn in Johnstown, Pa. She started her career as a dancer at 11. On one of her later jos on TV, she doubled as weather announcer. One night she lost her cue cards and while trying to improvise the weather from memory, she announced:

"There is a lot of air blowing in from Texas."

She made her Broadway deut in "Escapade," and first won critical attention in "All Summer Long." Later she auditioned for Jack Garfein, a young stage director, and he signed her soon after to a lifetime role as his wife.

Both she and her husband share a serious interest in the drama that goes beyond the opportunity for making a fast buck.

"I turned down film scripts for eight months before I thought the right one came along," she recalled.

"We were eating cheese and macaroni three times a week. But Jack and I believe integrity comes first."

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK, (AP)—A fellow who galloped in from the Ozarks the other day reported that the city of Springfield, Mo., used to be noted for butter, eggs and country music. Now, says he, it's noted for country music, tourists, eggs and butter.

As one of a passel of outri— with Red Foley he correctly identified this economic trend as the result of a television phenomenon called "Ozark Jubilee" which sets feet to beating all over America Saturday evenings by courtesy of the ABC-TV network.

Foley, in the unlikely event you don't know, has been called the dean of country music—though he looks too young and acts too modest to be the dean of anything. And country music, in case you don't know, used to be known as hillbilly music.

"But it's not just music from the hills," Foley says slowly. "It's music from all over the country, with a lot of influence in it. That's why it's called country music."

As one who has sold more than 25 million recordings of country music, Foley certainly should know what it is. Combine Foley, country music and some rousing square dancing and you have "Ozark Jubilee."

A son of Nashville, Tenn., Foley had the top job in "Grand Ol' Opry" there and helped make that city known as the nation's capital of country music. But in Springfield there lives a radio station owner and entrepreneur of musical talent named Ralph Foster who figured Springfield was the rightful capital of country music. So he sent his young vice president, E. E. (Si) Simah, over to Nashville to get Foley.

There are various stories on how Siman managed to lure Foley across the Mississippi after three months of persuasion. But lure him he did and now the citizens of Springfield in the Ozarks claim that Springfield is the capital of country music.

Wherever the capital is, Foster's country music enterprises reportedly bring in a couple of million dollars a year — and more than 50,000 tourists to Springfield annually. Foster's interests have expanded beyond Radio Station KWTO to include a variety of country music talent and transcriptions. His organization has, for example, transcribed 260 Tennessee Ernie Ford 15-minute radio programs which the country will be hearing for three years to come.

Flying Hoodlums Create Problems

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A local hoodlum sees a chance for a profitable robbery. Instead of pulling it himself, he "cases" the job and telephones complete information to friends in a distant city. They fly to the scene, commit the crime and, in a matter of hours, are safely back home.

Policemen tab this as one of the toughest types of crime to solve. They have good files on their local crimininals, but nothing on the out-of-towners who did the job. Federal agencies do not figure in it because it's a "local" crime.

Now, after years of effort, officers in a score of Western communities have taken the first concrete step toward creating a super police intelligence network to collect and distribute information about intercity criminals. It cuts right across state lines.

The new agency will be headed by San Francisco's Police Chief Frank Ahern and will center at the California State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation in Sacramento.

"Information is 90 per cent of our operation, and this thing is dedicated to furnishing information," Ahern describes it.

Twenty-six law enforcement officials, representing key cities in the vast area from the Pacific Coast east to the Mississippi River participated in the organizing conference in San Francisco. St.Louis, Denver, Seattle, Las Vegas, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Reno, San Diego and Portland were among them.

Ahern estimates it will take two or three months to get the bureau into full operation.

This is the first such agency set up by state and local law enforcement groups.

Capt James E. Hamilton, head of the Los Angeles Police Department's intelligence unit, explains the aim:

Local departments always have kept detailed files on the robbers, con men and other underworld characters living in their own city. They know the comings and goings, the habits and the operating methods of these people, but even large intelligence units, such as in Los Angeles, have never had enough information on the floating criminal, the hoodlum with out-of-town connections.

The Sacramento center is designed to fill the gap by exhanging information among police departments all over the West; possibly eventually nationwide, with accurate files on criminals everywhere.

Induction Delayed By Kentucky Man

DIXON, Ky. (AP) — Dixon's 27-year-old constable won't be reporting for Army induction today.

Hayden Townsend's attorney obtained a temporary order from the Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati restraining Webster County's draft board from drafting Townsend pending appeal from a Federal Court decision at Louisville.

Father of two children, Townsend has filed suit asking Federal Cout to order the board to reclassify him. But Judge Roy M. Shelbourne ruled the court could do nothing about reclassification.

Market For Hearses

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—There's a market for 1909 model, horse-drawn hearses, after all. Burton Roberts, a Richmond undertaker, said he had sold such a vehicle for use in a centennial celebration in Bristol, Tenn. The price was $225.

EVIDENCE OF WILD FOWL SLAUGHTER—Assistant U. S. District Attorney Tony Friloux, left, and U. S. Fish and Wildlife agents look over a pile of waterfowl at Houston which is only a small part of an estimated 200,000 killed illegally and sold commercially. Fifty-three persons were arrested in the market hunting racket which extended over the coast of Texas.

MAJOR TRUCKING PROBLEM—Here is a trucking problem of major proportions. The scene is a hairpin turn on a hill behind the University of California campus at Berkley and the object being moved at a snail's pace is the barrel of a new atom smashing gun for the university's laboratory. The barrel is the main part of the $1,500,000 heavy iron accelerator now under construction. The accelerator is designed to shoot atomic particles as heavy as neon an atomic weight of 20, and even silicon atoms which weigh 28.

Officials Praise New Atom Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The projected international atoms-for-peace agency should provide important pilot information toward a global arms control setup.

President Eisenhower, when he first proposed his atomic pool plan to the United Nations in December 1953, stressed the link between the problems of using the atom's energy for peace on a world scale and those of atomic disarmament.

Diplomatic authorities say it is now possble to spell out in more detail what those links are as a result of negotiations here which culminated Wednesday in agreement by the United States, Russia and 10 other countries on a charter for an atoms-for-peace agency.

These are the chief connecting points now emphasized:

1. Further work on the atoms-for-peace organization will provide a strong test of cooperation between Russia and the Western atomic powers. This is the first project in many years which has offered such a practical test. Assuming Russian willingness to contribute atomic materials out of its military stores, the remaining problems are not too difficult.

2. The atoms-for-peace agency will have to have an inspection system to make certain that materials provided to countries for use in power and research are not diverted into secret manufacture of atomic bombs.

The international inspectors will not need to operate in Rusia, the United States, Britain, France or Canada because those countries will be supplying fissionable material to the agency, not receiving it.

But a realistic inspection system will have to be developed if it is to work at all and the experience wil undoubtedly bring to light many practical problems which have not previously been foreseen or understood It thus could prove to be valuable later in setting up disarmament controls.

3. Increasing use of atomic materials for peaceful purposes may remove some of the mystery from the atom and thereby diminish fear and suspicion of it. This could be helpful in creating a more favorable international attitude toward practical disarmament steps.

New Gasoline Plant

DALLAS (AP)— Atlantic Refining Co. said that it would construct an absorption gasoline plant five miles northwest of Crane in the University of Texas Block 31 field. The plant will supplement existing pressure maintenance facilities and handle up to 25 million cubic feet of gas daily. The plant will remove natural gasoline, butane and propane from the formation gas.

Stalin Is Still Regarded As Top Figure On Homegrounds

Editor's Note—BAP correspondent Roy Essoyan is a member of the first group of Western reporters permited to visit Soviet Georgia since pro-Stalin demonstrations there last month. Following is his account of a trip to Gori, Stalin's birthplace.

By ROY ESSOYAN

GORI, Soviet Georgia (AP) — Joseph Stalin's luster may be fading in Moscow and other parts of the Soviet Union, but the home folks are planning to dedicate a new museum to him in this mountain village where he was born.

A top local official told four Western reporters who reached Gori yesterday the museum will be opened Dec. 21, the anniversary of Stalin's birth. He said the central government in Moscow had approved the action of the Georgian Republic earmarking 800,000 rubles ($200,000 at the official exchange rate) toward building the museum.

The official also asserted that schools in this area are teaching the same history courses glorifying Stalin as they did when he was alive. Moscow schools have suspended the study of world War II and the postwar era until new textbooks can be published playing down Stalin's role.

Leading Comunists here said local officials have no plans to rewrite Stalin's part in Soviet history or to erase his influence

Pro - Stalin demonstrations were reported in Georgia several weeks ago when the Kremlin campaign against the "cult of the individual" got rolling. The protests were said to have centered at Tiflis, the Georgian capital.

Residents of Gori obviously are unhappy about the drive to crack down on the local boy who became premier.

He still is referred to as "the great Stalin" here and one Georgian, made bold by the chance to talk in private, shook his fist and declared: "We won't forget."

Another said: "We don't talk about it much, but inside we're seething."

Communist party officials said the new official policy pushing collective leadership is being applied somewhat differently than elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

The anniversary of Stalin's death was observed by residents of Gori last month just as it has been in the past, they said. The only difference, they added, was that the wreath-laying ceremonies and speeches praising Stalin drew larger crowds than usual. The anniversary went unnoticed in Moscow.

This village itself is dominated by an ancient hilltop fortress bearing a big neon sign proclaiming "Glory to the Great Stalin." The brick and plaster house where he was born is enshrined by marble pillars. In the village's main plaza there is a giant monument to Stalin, and smaler statues and busts are found in positions of honor in every store and office and along the roadsides.

Western correspondents drew a blank, however, in atempts to contact relatives and friends of the late Premier.

Told that friends of Stalin lived at the Stalin collective farm 15 miles from Gori, the newsmen left for the region in a rented car. But when the Georgian driver learned their destination, he refused to proceed and turned back to Gori.

Official permission was finally obtained to visit the farm, but when reporters got there it was obvious that word of their visit had preceded them They were told that no friends or relatives of Stalin were around.

Youths Leave Court With Sore Cabooses

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Two young boys charged with breaking into a railroad caboose left juvenile court with sore cabooses of their own. The judge heard the charges and removed his belt, handing it to the father of the boys, 9 and 7. "You know what to do with it," he told the father.

After the whipping, the jurist threatened to jail the father if the boys got into more trouble.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleaningest" home rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is now available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical to use as ½ gallon of consentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IF SATURDAY'S COUNTY BOND election here fell a week or two later, assistant TCU football coach Allie White perhaps would be eligible to vote.

White has spent considerable time in Snyder since completion of football season last fall, principal reason being, of course, Jack Spikes.

White's visits have paid off immeasurably since Spikes has committed himself in selecting TCU for his college football career, although not in writing, yet.

Spikes, as you know, hasn't signed a letter of intent to attend TCU since he is still competing in track. Signing letter of intents automatically forfeits an athlete's further participation in schoolboy sports.

Spikes, however, has announced verbally that he has selected TCU.

But, as long as he hasn't signed a letter of intent, other SWC coaches are allowed to talk to him about changing his mind.

And White is still "hanging around" to sorta protect his interests, of course.

The latest SWC mentor to come through town is Rice's Jess Neely. We understand Neely treated Spikes to a dinner while visiting here.

And only Tuesday of this week a member of the Oklahoma coaching staff came to Snyder to talk to Jack. The Sooner mentor, according to reports, tried desperately to get Spikes to change his mind during a confab with Jack at the Tiger-Abilene baseball game here Tuesday.

White was also here Tuesday checking on his "interests."

It may be two more weeks before Spikes will be signing a letter of intent. Jack will take part in the regional track meet at Stephenville tomorrow and if he qualifies for the state meet, it will be May 3, the last day of the state meet, before he'll wind up his high school athletic career.

Visiting Scribe Praises Local Greens

Jack Holden, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, played a round of golf on the local course Tuesday and he was high in praise of the fine greens at the Country Club layout.

And once pro Shanty Hogan gets the water lines operating on the fairways, Snyder Country Club will have one of the finest courses in the southwest. The fairways (we never see it much when we play the course) are a little bare, as most West Texas courses are due to lack of rain, but with the water problem solved, it won't be long until the fairways will match the greens.

Holden, here for the Tiger-Abilene baseball game, came over early to play the course and he raved at length over the fine condition of the greens here.

In his column yesterday, Holden informed his readers thusly:

"You'll have to look long and hard before you find better greens than Shanty Hogan has on the Snyder Country Club golf course."

"The greens are like velvet, although they're exposed to all the blowing dust that's been heaped on West Texas in recent weeks."

Although it's purely a matter of opinion, we have a "bone" to pick with Holden on one of his statements concerning the Tiger-Eagle game.

Holden, in reference to the game, said:

"Although a couple of their runs were unearned, Snyder's triumph was no fluke. The Tigers have a good looking team, especially in the pitching and defensive departments."

Three Runs Were 'Earned,' However

The way we have it figured, though, three of the Tigers' four runs were richly earned.

The run that Holden considered unearned that we counted earned I'm sure, was the second Tiger run.

Don McNew was on third with one away after pounding a run-scoring triple in the first inning to set up the play in question. Pitcher Alan Snead, the next batter, grounded sharply to Eagle shortstop Robert Carothers with McNew breaking for home at the crack of the bat. Carothers was pulled out of position momentarily as the ball was hit in the hole.

Carothers fielded the ball cleanly at first and started to throw home but when he saw he had no chance to get McNew, he dropped the ball in getting position to throw to first and Snead got aboard on the miscue. Even if Snead had been thrown out McNew's run would have still counted and therefore it should go down as an earned tally.

Situations such as this, however, come up in almost every game and we realize everyone has his own opinion on how to score the play.

Since, however, the home team furnishes the "official scorer," then, just for the records, the Tigers earned three of their four runs in Tuesday's game.

Tulsa Pulls Into 3-Way Tie For Lead

By The Associated Press

Bad weather kept Shreveport and Houston on top of the Texas League while good weather plus a rambunctious rookie named Bob Will helped Tulsa join them Thursday night.

Shreveport couldn't play at San Antonio and Houston couldn't go at Austin because of the cold but Tulsa got in a game at Fort Worth and won it 12-7 on the clouting of the effervescent Will.

The Oiler centerfielder went to bat six times, got five hits, including a home run and a double and batted in five runs, which was exactly the margin of Tulsa's victory.

In the two games that were played wild hitting predominated. Tulsa pounded 16 hits in its conquest of the Cats while Dallas beat Oklahoma City 15-4 with an 11-hit attack that involved two home runs, a triple and a double.

Fort Worth wasn't exactly impotent against Tulsa. The Panthers laced a dozen hits, two of them homers by Dick Gray. Al Widmar was sent to the showers in the seventh but not before he managed to get credit for the pitching victory.

Bobby Prescott and Ray Dabek homered for Dallas—the first circuit clouts of the season for Eagle players. Manager Rudy Laskowski of Oklahoma City didn't stay around for all of the action. He was banished in the seventh for fussing with Umpire Ken Burkhart from the Indian dugout.

Pampa, P'view Win SW Tilts

By The Associated Press

The 10 teams in the Class B Southwestern League Friday night shift around from opening-series locations, hoping the travel will bring a change in weather.

For the second straight night Thursday three of the five games were postponed because of foul weather. Bad weather, cold and a slight drizzle in some spots, also hurt opening day attendance Tuesday.

In the only two games that were played last night, Plainview took over a share of first place with an 8-6 11-inning decision over Midland, and Pampa rushed past Ballinger 12-5. Clovis at Carlsbad and Roswell at El Paso were postponed because of cold, and Hobbs at San Angelo was postponed because of rain.

The highlight of the evening was Joe Fortin's three-run homer for Pampa.

Friday night's schedule calls for Plainview at Ballinger, Clovis at Midland, Roswell at Carlsbad, Hobbs at El Paso and Pampa at San Angelo.

Frosty Kennedy hit the first pitch in the bottom of the 11th for a home run to put Plainview in a first place tie with idle El Paso.

4 Tiger Thinlies To Region Meet

Four members of the Tiger track team left at 1:30 p.m. today for Stephenville where tomorrow the Bengal thinlies will compete in the Region 2-AA track and field meet.

The four boys representing the Tigers in the region meet are Jack Spikes, Powell Berry, Bill Fowler and Bobby Pollard. The four qualified for the region meet by placing in the top three of various events in the district meet held at Abilene two weeks ago.

The Tigers will compete in five events. Spikes and Berry will be the busiest Tigers at the meet, each competing in three events.

Spikes will enter the two weight events, shot put and discus, and run a leg on the 440-yard relay team. Berry will enter both hurdle events, 120-yard highs and 180-yard lows, and run on the 440-yard relay team.

Fowler and Pollard will only compete in the 440-yard relay event.

The four Tiger thinlies will be accompanied to Stephenville by Coach Jack Dillon and student manager Keith McCormick.

Preliminaries will start tomorrow morning at 10:15. Prelims will be held only in the 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, 180-yard low hurdles and 220-yard dash.

Finals will get underway at 2:00 in the pole vault, high jump and shot put.

First running event finals will be held at 2:30 with the high hurdles opening the track events.

Abilene and North Side are co-favorites to capture the regional crown.

Following are the teams who'll be represented at the region meet and the number of boys: Abilene, 16; Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, 13; Brownwood, 12; North Side, Forth Worth, 14; Paschal, Fort Worth, 10; San Angelo, 10; Wichita Falls, 10; Vernon, 9; Polytechnic, Forth Worth, 8; Snyder, 4; Sweetwater, 4; Weatherford, 3; and Carter-Riverside, Fort Worth, 2.

Russians Big Drawing Card

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The brothers Kalmikoff, an unloved Russian twosome with an army of paying enemies stretching from Texas to Winnipeg, claim they are wrechedly misunderstood by wrestling fans.

"It makes no difference that they throw the pop bottles at us," blurted Ivan Kalmikoff in a Volga baritone. "When they slash our car tires with razor blades—dat's too much, my friend."

The bearded Russian wrestlers are the latest rage of a sideshow industry that dotes on struggles between prince charmings and blackhearted villains.

Their tag team appearance six days a week on the circuit is untarnished box office gold. Some arenas haven't got enough seats to hold customers who want to sound off at the Russians.

Their goods of trade include such gambits as running an opponent head first into an upraised chair, trying to strangle him with corner ropes in full view of thousands, and scraping the laces of their black boots across the victim's eyes. At least that is what they appear to be doing.

"We stand up and fight," boomed the garlic-nibbling Karol. Dat's what we get paid for." The pay, which they estimate at $100,000 annually for each, can salve a lot of wounded feelings and head lumps.

"She's a tough life," Karol said with $100,000-a-year Russian fatalism, "but it's a living."

Women's Publinx To Semi-Final Round

LAREDO (AP) — Joanne Bruni meets Wanda Sowell of Tyler and Mrs. A. J. Krisch of San Antonio clashes with Mrs. Bill Congleton of Dallas today in semi-finals of the Texas Women's Public Links Golf Tournament.

Miss Bruni, the defending champion from Laredo, had to go 20 holes to beat Betty Jean Martinez of San Antonio in yesterday's quarter-finals as Miss Sowell was downing Velma Pope of Laredy, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Krisch defeated Marie Wohlfahrt of Houston 2-up and Mrs Congleton won over Dorothy Cutler of Houston, 2 and 1.

Clippers Tie Port Arthur For BS Lead

By The Associated Press

It's early but Port Arthur and Corpus Christi already are playing like they were in a last-week drive for the Big State League pennant.

Thursday night Corpus Christi opened a series with the Chieftains with first place in the balance. The Clippers whopped Port Arthur 5-3 and went into a tie for the top with the Chiefs.

Corpus Christi rammed four runs across in the fifth inning and seemed to be in very good shape behind the 3-hit pitching of Gustavo Muniz. But the roof fell in on Muniz in the seventh under an avalanche of doubles and a home run by Hal Sisco. Three runs were scored.

Wichita Falls, which had been tied with Corpus Christi for second, fell down to third because of idleness. Wichita Falls and Abilene postponed their game on account of wet grounds.

Victoria finally won one. The Eagles broke a 6-game losing streak by decisioning Beaumont 6-4. Consecutive homers by Jim Basso and Roy Williams did the job as Victoria came from behind for three runs in the fourth. It gave the Eagles a lead they never relinquished.

Gene Weglarz pitched no-hit bal for three innings in relief to get credit for the victory as Lubbock beat Waco 16-5. Lubbock scored eight runs in the sixth and that was too much for the shocked Pirates.

Gal Tourney Set

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—The first annual Women's Texas-Oklahoma Gof Tournament will be held here at Weeks Park Municipal Golf Club July 9-12.

Chick Igaya, Dartmouth College skier, won the NCAA slalom title the last two years.

Maxwell's 8 Under Leads Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., sliced eight strokes off par here yesterday in the first round of the Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament to take a one-stroke lead over Cary Middlecoff.

The former North Texas State College star shot a 64. He said he "made a couple of mistakes" but his putting offset them. He posted 31-33 over the par 36-36 course.

Pete Fleming of Hot Springs, with a 66, was third in yesterday's round while Buster Cupit of Ruston, La., had a 65. Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., and Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., were tied at 68.

Bo Wininger, defending champion, was five strokes behind the leader with a 69. He took last year's tournament with 67-67-68-68—270.

Jerry Breckenridge, 19, of Hot prings, was low among the amateurs with a 70.

Two of Maxwell's birdies came as a result of fine approaches that stopped about a foot from the pin. H had two birdie putts of about 5 feet, three of about 7 or 8 feet and a 12-footer.

Maxwell used a No. 4 wood on the 540-yard No. 10 hole and put the ball within five feet of the pin. He barely missed the eagle putt and took a birdie.

Colonial Field Lists Four Ex-Champions

FORT WORTH (AP)—The field is complete for the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament May 2-6 with 51 professionals and three amateurs.

Four former champions—Chandler Harper, Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff and Johnny Palmer—are entered. Harper won last year.

The ex-champions yesterday selected the final two in the field. They picked Don January of Abilene and Walker Inman Jr. of Augusta, Ga.

Faulk Leads Dallas Field

DALLAS (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., held a one-stroke lead today as the field of 46 moved into the second round of the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Faulk had a one-under-par 70 yesterday over the 6,218-yard Glen Lakes Country Club course. A stroke back was Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and two strokes away from Miss Faulk was Betsy Rawls of Spartenburg, S.C.

The favorites all were in contention. Louise Suggs, of Sea Island, Ga., picked to win the $1,350 first money, had a 74 and was tied with Patty Berg of Chicago and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Ashville, N.C.

At 75 were Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., and Bonnie Randolph of Linworth, Ohio.

Miss Faulk led the field of 23 pros and 23 amateurs by some fine putting but her game was steady all the way around. Miss Crocker had more birdies—4 to 2—but she also had four bogeys.

White Sox Continue To Hold 'Jinx' Over Tribe's Score

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Herb Score, Cleveland's fine young southpaw, says he doesn't sleep well after losing From the looks of things he could end up with insomnia just by facing the Chicago White Sox.

Score was the American League's No. 1 rookie last season, with a 16-10 mark and a record 245 strikeouts—but he couldn't beat Chicago in three tries.

Even though figured to win 20 this season, he found himself in the same old nightmare alley yesterday. He fanned 10 and gave just two hits, yet lost 1-0 to the White Sox, who got a two-hitter themselves, from Jack Harshman and scored the lone run without a hit.

With that follow-up to Billy Pierce's 2-1, five-hit victory, opening day, Chicago swept the two-game set between the two pennant threats and stayed unbeaten in the AL along with Boston, which defeated Baltimore 4-2 behind Tom Brewer's two-hitter, and Kansas City, which banged Detroit 4-1 on Boby Shantz' five-hit pitching. The New Yankees, after thumping washington twice, were dumped by the Senators 7-3.

In the National, only Milwaukee remained unbeaten, edging the Chicago Cubs 3-1 while Pitsburgh knocked the New York Giants to their first defeat 3-2. Brooklyn opened in its Jersey City "home" and beat Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings. Cincinnati also had to go 10 to beat St. Louis 10-9 with each club swatting four homers.

Score's big trouble with the White Sox, outside of yesterday's wildness, has been poor timing. He always runs into top pitching opponents. Last year he lost 4-1 against Pierce's three-hiter, 2-1 against Harshman's three-hitter, and 4-2 against Virgil Trucks' four-hitter.

Chicago didn't solve Herb for a hit until the eighth, but scored in the seventh on a walk, a two-run wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by ex-Tribesman Larry Doby, who had struck out five times in a row.

At Boston, Brewer also got into trouble with walks, but Mickey Vernon smacked a fly which Dave Pope lost in the sun and fell for a two-run double to break a 2-all tie. Ted Williams was on the bench with a bruised instep.

The senators got two in the first off ex-teammate Maury McDermott, then iced it in the fourth as Jim Lemon and Ed Fitz Gerald tagged the southpaw for solo homers. Chuck Stobbs held the Yanks to seven hits, including a homer and two singles by Elston Howard.

Ray Boone had three of Detroit's hits off Shantz, who was belted for a harmless homer by Earl Torgeson. The A's climbed on Steve Gromek for five singles and their four runs in the fifth.

Rookie Wes Covington, batting for wining pitcher Bob Buhl, cracked a run-scoring single to break a 1-all tie and send Milwaukee into a 2-0 record.

Frank Thomas singled home the deciding run in the eighth for the Pirates after Preston Ward's pinch single off Al Worthington scored two for a 2-1 Buc lead in the seventh.

The Brooks scored twice in the 10th to win for reliefer Clem Larrice as Rube Walker lifted a sacrifice fly in a pinch role with the bases loaded against reliefer Duane Pillette. Roy Campanella had tied it with a double—to become the sixth current Dodger with 1,000 major league hits.

For all the homers it was a bases-loaded single by Wally Post off reliefer Elis Kinder — who fanned Wally to save Tuesday's opener—that got the job done for the Redlegs. Ray Jablonski grand-slammed to get the Reds back in the game in the seventh. Ted Kluszewski (his first), Post and Smoky Burgess also homered for the Reds. Stan Musial, Wally Moon and Bill Sarni, who got two, whacked 'em for the Cards.

Kansas Relays Opens Today

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A fair sprinkling of this country's prime candidates for Olympic qualification will show in the 31st annual Kansas Relays opening with the first events of decathlon today.

The nine-man field entered in the grueling 10-event decathlon is headed by Dale Saxton, Ft. Bliss, Tex., soldier, and Buzz Frasier, former University of Kansas athlete representing the Baltimore Olympic Club.

Blazing competition and possibly new meet records appear in the offing in the university 880 and distance medley races and in the college sprint medley and 2-mile baton events.

Both Baylor and Texas have bettered the KU Relays mark of 1,25.2 in the half-mile university event this year. Kansas, Iowa and Texas are expected to tangle in a 3-way assault on the 10:09.7 record in the university distance medley.

Emporia State, with Tidwell anchoring in 1:47.5 won the college sprint medley at the Texas Relays two weeks ago and will be favored to set a new record here.

Howard-Payne won the university class 2-mile relay at Texas in the fast time of 7:42.4. It will be shooting for the 7:48.4 KU record.

BOTH Methodist and Baptist groups hold services at the Dermott Community Church, where the two congregations have a union Sunday school.

Two Groups Use Dermott Church

(Thirty - seventh of a series on Snyder and area churches.)

An arrangement which is unique for this area but not in some others is the union Sunday school and joint use of one building by Baptists and Methodists at Dermott.

The two groups hold services in the Dermott Community Church building, which was formerly a school building before consolidation of several small schools with the Snyder school district vacated that building as far as schools were concerned. Even before consplidation the building was used for church services.

The Baptist and Methodist congregations at Dermott are both old, but it could not be determined recenty just how old. Both the groups are said to have first started church services at the old Bookout schoolhouse, about a mile northwest of Dermott. The church memberships later moved to Dermott.

The present building will seat about 100 persons and has rooms for each Sunday school class.

The Sunday school has between 30 and 35 members. Sunday school superintendent is A. W. Scrivner. Teachers include Bert Sellars, adults; Mrs. J. T. Sullenger, juniors; Mrs. W. T. Steel, young people; and Mrs. B. A. Moore, small children.

The Rev. John W. Hawkins is pastor of the Dermott - Fluvanna-Gail Methodist circuit and preaches at the Dermott church one Sunday monthly. A layman speaks on another Sunday. Jimmy Smith, a ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons University, speaks for Baptists two Sundays monthly. Services at the church include Sunday school at 10 a.m., Sunday morning worship at 11, and Sunday evening service at 8.

Methodist officers include Scrivner, Moore, A. C. Elkins, Roland Sullenger, and Herman Elkins, stewards; Redge Heard, church clerk; and Scrivner, church treasurer. Baptist officers include W. T. Steel, deacon; Roy Scrivner, church secretary; and Mrs. Steel, church clerk. B. A. Moore is song leader, and Mrs. Moore is pianist.

Some of the Baptist pastors in the past have included B. A. Leslie, Revs. King, Todd, and Sanders, Forrest Huffman, Cecil Rhodes, George Lloyd, Buster Edwards, Rev. Cary, Anthem Wade, Leslie Kelly, T. A. Sutton, Wayne Randolph, and Willard Kerr. Methodist pastors have included Wayland Dowden, Gerald Sharp, K. M. Bowker, Thomas Bandy, J. R. Reedy, Melvin Mathis, H. W. Gaston, A. T. Mason, L. B. Taylor, J. N. Tinkle, H. R. Bennett, M. W. Clark, I. T. Huckabee, O. D. McDonald, Frank Story, Charlie Young J. R. Williamson, J. I. Kelly, Will Harris, C. R. Hardy, and B. A. Moores.

AMONG LEADERS in the Dermott Community Church are, left to right, Berton Moore, Mrs. Berton Moore, Mrs. J. T. Sullenger, Mrs. W. T. Steel, and Bert Sellers. Lee Watson Photographs)

Although the building has not been completed, the sanctuary is now in condition to be used for the revival.

The Colonial Hill Baptist Church has been using facilities in the West Elementary School since the church was organized in the summer of 1954. It launched a building program last winter on a site just east of the West Elementary building.

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Church, will be evangelist for the revival series. Director of music for the revival will be Walter Scott of Waco, who is a member of the faculty of Baylor University.

Federal Jury Indicts 3 In Maceo Firm

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A federal grand jury yesterday indicted two partners and the chief executive of Maceo and Company, Galveston amusement syndicate, on charges of evading a total of $70,695.34 in income taxes during 1950.

Frank and Vic Maceo, original organizers of the partnership, and Sam Serio, their top official, also were indicted last January of evading a total of $73,432.14 in income taxes for 1949.

In the indictments returned yesterday by the grand jury in its final report, Frank Maceo was charged with evading $40,911.72 in 1950 taxes, Vic Maceo was accused of evading $20,959.74 in payments, while Serio was accused of evading the government of $9,723.88.

The grand jury charged that Frank Maceo's 1950 return reported tax of $8,145 86 on an income of $31,392.88 when the joint income of he and his wife actually was $102,806.14 with $49,057.58 due in taxes.

Vic Maceo allegedly claimed net income of himself and his wife was $26,822.26 instead of $67,000.23, with tax of $5,887.06 instead of $25,946.30.

Serio's income was put at $42,400.96 instead of the $17,656.33 he reported, and the jury said he owed $12,892.28 instead of only $3,168 40 in 1950 taxes.

A. J. Adams of Galveston, another Maceo partner, was indicted last May on charges of evading $83,026.38 in income taxes for the years 1948, 1949, and 1950.

'Get Tough' Policy On Garbage Started

LUDLOW, Ky. (AP)—City Council plans to "get tough" with residents who don't know the meaning of "garbage."

It adopted that attitude last night after it learned the town's garbage truck wasn't tough enough to handle what has been found in garbage cans. The trucks grinding equipment broke down because residents were loading their cans with such things as cement blocks and iron wheels.

Telephone Company Settles Small Suit

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—It will take more than 25 cents to get General Telephone Co. of Kentucky t. tangle with a woman in court.

Mrs. Irene Hanson was determined to recover the quarter she said she deposited in a pay phone last December without receiving service. She shelled out $3.40 in costs to file suit, saying the company had refused to make a refund. But a company attorney dropped by the court with $3.65—$3.40 for the court and 25 cents for Mrs. Hanson.

Gas Pipeline Resolution Is Approved

DALLAS (AP)— Independent oilmen have authorized their leaders to seek laws which would "divorce from gas pipeline companies all unrelated activities carried on by them."

Such a resolution has been passed as the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn. closed its convention.

The resolution would limit gas pipeline firms' "activities solely to the purchase, transmission, sale and distribution of natural gas."

Growing acquisition of oil properties by gas pipeline companies was mentioned in discussion of the resolution.

The executive committee also was authorized to support national laws which would make gas pipeline companies "common carriers," to be regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and to "prohibit discrimination by gas purchasers in the purchase of gas."

Case Of Missing Rich Matron Will Be Aired By Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Where is Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott?

The question has kept the Police Department, the district attorney's office, the newspapers and an assortment of lawyers in a dither for more than six weeks since the disappearance 11 months ago of the wealthy, 63-year-old matron became generally known.

The case and the position of her husband L. Ewing Scott, 59, in it are coming to some sort of climax in a grand jury investigation beginning next Tuesday.

A conference to go over information and evidence is scheduled today among Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll; his chief deputy, Adolph Alexander; other D.A. staffmen and investigators; Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown, in charge of the police phase of the inquiry; and detectives.

There is no charge against Scott, who has repeatedly been questioned and requestioned and says he does not know the whereabouts of his wife. Her estate is reckoned at $600,000, with the bulk of her income from apartment house property in Milwaukee.

Is Mrs. Scott dead or alive?

The investigators say they have been proceeding on either or both theories. They have not come up with the answer, at least publicly.

The date of May 16, 1955, has been fixed as the day Mrs. Scott disappeared. Scott said he went out that day to buy some toothpaste for his wife and when he returned to their home in the Bel-Air section she was gone. He she had left before for short periods.

The authorities say he did not report her disappearance. Friends went to the district attorney's office last July and asked for a quiet investigation. It was kept quiet at their request, although D.A.'s investigators questioned Scott last August and again last February.

The case became public knowledge March 6 when Mrs. Scott's brother E. Raymond Throsby, 53, petitioned the Superior Court for appointment as trustee of her estate. There followed a hue and cry, with Police Chief William H. Parker inquiring acidly at one stage as to how come the district attoney had not previously informed the police.

There was no evidence of a crime having been committed, Roll retorted. Now, however, the prosecutor says there is evidence to be laid before the grand jury, relating to Scott's handling of Mrs. Scott's funds.

Detectives searched the Scott house and grounds March 10. They said then they found nothing of evidential value, but last week Brown disclosed that two pairs of reading glasses and a denture, identified as belonging to Mrs. Scott, had been found buried in the yard.

One safety deposit box which Scott had access to was opened, disclosing no evidence, police said except two puzzling envelopes which had sand in them.

Police In Rio Have Answer For Violators

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Break the law by speeding through Rio's streets or by passing a red light and no cop will run you down with a ticket and a tongue lashing. In fact, it'll be several days before you know whether you've been caught. And then you'll find out by reading your name in the newspapers.

In Rio, the police just don't have enough motorcycles or cars to use for traffic purposes.

If a policeman observes you breaking a traffic law, he merely writes down your license number. The newspapers print your name with a long list of recent violators. You're supposed to drop in and pay your fine—ranging from 20 cruzeiros (about 27 cents) to 150 cruzeiros (about $2). But this takes many hours so few people show up.

No one tears his hair out worrying about your fine and no one is sent around to collect. They just wait until the end of the year. Then it's settling up time. The whole month of January is devoted to the sale of new license plates. Citizens first pay their fines and then get their plates. Theoretically, it's pay for the year's offenses or don't drive.

But there's a gimmick. Drivers—like drivers the world over—wait until the last moment to buy their plates. Officials attempt to avoid a last-minute rush by promising that fines need not be paid before getting the plates if the plates are bought before Jan. 15. Of course, this does not cancel the fine but nevertheless most people don't pay. And the rush to buy plates goes on just the same.

Officials estimate millions of cruzeiros are lost yearly under this system. But it isn't going to be changed since everyone — except the city treasurer—is happy.

Underworld Appears To Be Softening Up

DALLAS (AP)—Police are wondering if the underworld is turning sissy.

A 32-year-old ex-convict who has served time for armed robber landed in jail for theft because officers caught him picking roses off the fence at the police garage.

And a 27-year-old hoodlum, veteran of half a dozen underworld knife and gun battles, was booked for malicious mischief after police caught him with an air rifle and a box of pellets hidden in his truck.

Partly Cloudy Skies Prevail

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy in most areas. It was a little cool in the Great Lakes region, Mid-Atlantic Coast states and the upper Mississippi Valley.

The warming trend continued from the central and northern plains westward to the Pacific coast.

Temperatures were a little lower in the South Atlantic Coast, eastern Gulf states and in southern Texas but remained around normal in most areas.

Precipitation this morning was in the form of light rain in east central Texas and widely scattered snow flurries from northeastern Ohio northeastward to extreme southern Maine. A trace of fresh snow fell in parts of the Northeast.

During the night rain or snow flurries were reported in the Northeast from Eastern Ohio northeastward through central New England, central Texas and over the southern Rockies and southern plateau region.

ALCOHOL FOR BRAIN

New Palsy Treatment Tried

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
... AP Science Reporter ...

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shooting alcohol into the brain often stops the constant trembling and muscle rigidity of shaking palsy, a neurosurgeon reported today.

The alcohol kills part of the brain send out the yolleys of nerve signals causing the tragic shaking. It is chemical surgery, in an area almost in the middle of the brain, known as the globus pallidus.

Brilliantly promising results with this and another new technique were described to the American College of Physicians by Dr. Irving S. Cooper, 33, of New York University College of Medicine.

A needle is thrust into the brain, guided by rays to reach the pallidus area. Novocaine is injected first to see if it temporarily blocks the trembling. If it does, a dose of pure alcohol is injected to destroy this small part of the brain.

There are two of the pallidus areas. Destroying one stop the shaking and rigidity on the opposite side of the body. Some persons have had both areas treated to eliminate shaking altogether, Dr. Cooper said. It does not cause loss of muscle strength.

Results have been excellent in 75 per cent of 145 persons undergoing this chemical surgery in the last two years, he said. Less than 3 per cent died.

One man, bedridden for eight years, now is working after chemical treatment of both pallidus areas halted his uncontrolled shaking and paralyzing rigidity, the young neurosurgeon said.

Perhaps half a million American men and women have shaking palsy. The new methods can probably benefit at least 30 per cent of them, Dr. Cooper said.

California had a population gain of 18.1 per cent between April 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954.

Distress Signal

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A quick search of the Ohio River waters hereabouts brought no results when the S. S. Canova was reported in distress. County police, acting on a telephone tip from a "Captain Light," notified the Coast Guard that the ship reportedly had struck a bridge in the darkness and needed help. After the search, a quick check of the records disclosed the S.S. Canova was dismantled 12 years ago.

Vote Saturday For Library — Park — Airport

Library

Estimates indicate that this will be sufficient to build and equip a modern library building. Moreover, it will provide funds for a "Bookmobile" for library service in the rural areas. $90,000.

Park

Towle Memorial Park already is pressed to take care of demands, especially during the spring and summer months. A need for another park exists so that citizens who live in areas not easily accessible to Towle Park may have recreational facilities. A new park somewhere in the area of the Lincoln School is proposed, plus picnic areas in rural communities. $65,000.

Airport

At present, Scurry County's airport (Winston Field) has only one runway. This makes it impossible for many planes, commercial, business and private, to land here when cross winds are blowing. The Federal Government already has announced funds to match county expenditures to provide an additional runway. $50,000.
