In the same part of the city Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Butler's new double garage apartment has been occupied and their new stucco home is nearly finished.

A new starter Thursday was one to be erected on North Wesson Street. The concrete foundation was due to be poured Friday and frame construction should begin Monday. The project will be a five-room residence that H. J. Woodul and his family, of the McCarty community, plan to occupy.

Mrs. Morris was a long-time resident of Dawson county. She came to Lamesa twenty years ago with her parents in Anson, Jones county, and has resided in the local area since that time. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church and had numerous friends and acquaintances who were grieved to hear of her untimely death.

Services were held at the First Baptist church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. E. F. Cole officiating. Burial services were at Lamesa cemetery.

The show was staged by experts from the department through cooperation of the county agents in District 5. Thirty-two head of outstanding dairy stock were exhibited with all entries from this county. F. R. Eudaley and G. G. Gibson of the extension service assisted in the judging. Both had parts on the day's program and gave some valuable pointers on how to select the best type of dairy stock to get the most production. D. T. Simons, field representative for the American Jersey Cattle club, who travels over several states, also was one of the main speakers and authorities on cattle, and provided much information on the educational program. Mr. Simons commented on the good condition of the cattle that were entered in the contest.

The boys will bring their calves to the Fair Grounds where they will be prepared for the show and then take them to the Court House square for exhibition and auction sale.

A number of business firms of the city will bid on the calves to be offered at auction. In a recent survey of the men who bought the calves last year it was found that all who purchased the calves last year it was said that all were satisfied with their purchases and the quality of the beef was excellent.

These calves in most instances have been fed and well taken care of for more than a year. They have been taught to lead, also and the exhibition is sure to be interesting.

It is planned for at least fifty boys to obtain baby calves for feeding demonstrations this year. Everyone of them keep records on their calves and can tell what it has cost them to feed up to the present time.

Another Big Fire Destroys Linters Cotton Sunday

Loss Being Tabulated By Adjusters Here Thursday

Another fire of unknown origin razed a warehouse of the Dawson county Cotton Oil Company early Sunday morning and destroyed 1,900 bales of lint cotton which was stored in the large building, which was located approximately one mile north of town.

Insurance adjusters had not determined the exact damage Thursday, but the loss was estimated to have been in the vicinity of $25,000, which included the building, according to J. Fred Smith, manager.

Firemen who arrived at the scene at 2 o'clock Sunday morning reported the fire apparently started in the northeast corner and the building collapsed shortly after they arrived.

Noble Cain Presents Famous Choir on N.B.C.

Noble Cain, one of America's leading choral directors and author of the textbook, "Choral Music," presents his famous A Capella Choir on the N. B. C. morning show, "Aunt Jemima's Cabin at the Crossroads."

The choir, a mixed chorus of eight voices, offers secular as well as sacred music. Their interpretation of old-time negro spirituals is so realistic that it has created unusual interest in the show.

Cain, who is Hoosier-born, was for many years employed by N. B. C. to audition all aspiring singers. He attended the American Conservatory of Music and is considered one of the country's outstanding authorities on all types of choral music.

The Noble Cain chorists also offer the theme music for "Margot of Castlewood," the fifteen-minute script show which comprises the second half of the Quaker Oats half-hour program. The "Aunt Jemima" show is presented at 9:00 a. m. C. S. T. Monday through Friday on the N. B. C. Blue network. It includes the contralto voice of Etta Moten, the tenor voice of Roy Brower, the comedy of Forrest Lewis and Vance McCune, the swing music of Sammy Williams' band, and the hospitality and philosophy of Harriette Widmer, who plays "Aunt Jemima."

"Margot of Castlewood" follows the Jemima show and is broadcast over the same network.

Six-Man Football Squads To Make Appearance Soon

The new type football for smaller schools which six men compose a team is to be tried out this spring at Hancock and McCarty schools. Principal Ralph Hanson of Hancock and Howard Humphrey of McCarty decided to try this game and their boys are in training. Some uniforms and equipment was borrowed from the left-over or used stock of the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes for use between the two squads. The game will be played on McCollum field after the practice period and the public will be notified that those interested in the game may have the opportunity to see it and judge the possibilities. Several of the other schools in Dawson county are interested in this experiment and wish to observe this initial game which may open up a new sports activity in this vicinity. The six man game is planned for those schools with relatively small numbers of boys in the student bodies and most Dawson county schools have the required number for such contests.

M. C. Lindsey returned Sunday from a two-week visit in Mineral Wells.

Approximately 8,000 persons are expected to attend the Fiesta, which will be highlighted by the Texas Tech-Sul Ross Spring football game that night. Rev. D. J. Murray Was Rotary Speaker

Rev. D. J. Murray who was the speaker at the Rotary club luncheon last Friday spoke on Immortality and its significance to civilization. He brought out the close relation in the value placed upon human life and belief in immortality.

Reference was made to Prof. Michael Papin, Serbian herdsboy who became one of America's leading scientists, quoting some of his statements given in an interview shortly before his death in 1935. The speaker said science gives proof of Supreme Being and Immortality of the Soul.

According to Rev. Murray's address the scientist had greatly strengthened his religious faith. His theory was that everything happened in the great universe for a purpose and that purpose is the development of the human soul.

Rev. Murray brought out the Christian evidences of life after death with the facts of the Resurrection of Christ which was very appropriate on the Easter program.

At the meeting this Friday it is stated that the First Aid Scouts will present the program, as has been the case this week at the two other civic clubs.

KLONDIKE H. D. CLUB REPORT

Fly traps have a distinct place in the control of the house fly and other noxious fly species," said Mrs. D. L. Sprawl to the Klondike Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Jewell McKinney, April 12.

Fly trapping should begin in early spring if it is to be of greatest value. Sticky fly paper made by heating two pounds of rosin in a done pint of castor oil until it looks like molasses. Take a paint brush and spread this on heavy paper and place in stacks and barns breeding places of flies clean will also help keep down flies.

Plans were talked over for going to district meet April 30.

"Here's What I Expect An Advertisement To Tell Me"

"Where Can I Buy It? Naturally, one of the first things I want to know about something I see in an ad is—where can I buy it? It isn't simply a matter of convenience and of saving time in planning my shopping, either! No, the name of the merchant, itself, often decides whether I buy or not. Invariably, you see, I give preference to stores whose ads I see regularly and often—I know those stores must have good value or they couldn't go on advertising year after year!

"What Will It Do For Me? I find it so much easier to make up my mind when the ad tells me facts about the merchandise! What is it? What will it do? How will it help me? Why do I need it? I want to know about color, weight, texture, material, style—I enjoy reading those things and I usually buy from the merchant who tells them to me.

"How much Is The Price? Of course nearly every ad mentions the price, but if an item has been marked down I want to know from how much. So many sale ads say 'Was Higher' . . . how much higher? I want to know how much I am saving and I want the chance of deciding for myself if the item is a real value or not. I have more confidence in the store that is consistently truthful and buy from such a store regularly—and my husband says an old customer is worth three new ones because new ones cost additional money to get!"

Soil Conservation Service director says. Contour tillage operations, strengthened by terraces where necessary, will catch and hold moisture from the early rains evenly over the field. Farmers have learned by experience, his even distribution of moisture tends to insure an even crop stand and higher yields, when planting is due at opportune times.
 Experiment station data show that crop yields in the wind erosion region are increased on the average of one-third by the use of soil and moisture conservation practices.
 A survey made by the Soil Conservation Service on 63 farms including more than 11,000 acres in the wind erosion area, shows that a large increase in yields may be expected from terracing and contour tillage.
 Heated grain sorghum yields from terraced fields of all but sandier soils were 134 pounds more to the acre than on contour-tilled fields, and 262 pounds more to the acre than on straight-row fields.
 Examination of fields after severe dust storms this spring has revealed that where a crop was produced last year with a protective stubble being left on the land, there has been little soil loss. On the other hand, it has been observed that fields which produced no crop or which were left without a protective stubble now are suffering severe losses of topsoil.
 "Crooked-row" farming will be practiced on approximately 40,000 acres in the Soil Conservation Service demonstration area near Lamesa, Texas this year. F. A. Vestal, camp superintendent announced today. Thousands of additional acres will be contour farmed outside the erosion control demonstration area in Dawson, Lynn, Terry, Howard, Borden, Martin, Gaines and Andrews counties.
 "Larger yields on many contour-tilled fields in 1937 than on fields cultivated in straight rows running up and down the slopes are influencing other farmers to adopt the practice this year," points out F. A. Vestal, camp superintendent. "Many farmers reported increased yields of grain sorghum and cotton due to contour tillage operations last year."
 Conservation of early spring moisture and the insurance of good stands by contour farming are believed to have added to the popularity of the practice in this vicinity. Contour tillage materially reduces blowing, crooked rows do not fill up or blow out as readily as straight rows.

 In Lamesa demonstration area, both drilled and row crops are being planted on the slopes parallel to terraces on terraced fields and following contour lines on others.
 Farmers who have entered into five-year cooperative agreements to use soil and moisture conservation practices on their land are finding that erosion is being checked and that increased yields are more than repaying them for their work.

 Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McWhorter visited in San Angelo Thursday and Friday of this week.
 Miss Kathlene Hastings, of Teah, Lubbock, spent the Easter holidays visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hastings.
 Miss Annie Beth Curry of Seymour was a business visitor here Saturday.

Insurance Methods Against Erosion
 Every drop of moisture conserved and stored in the soil this spring for the use of vegetative growth will be just so much insurance against the recurrence next year of the devastating dust storms now sweeping over the wind erosion region says H. H. Finnell, director of the Soil Conservation Service in the Southern Great Plains area.
 These winds are normal in the Southern Great Plains during the spring, and all land without a protective cover at this time naturally is subject to wind erosion damage. Emergency tillage is the only practice farmers can use now to check the blowing of their valuable topsoil, but it is an opportune time to take action for obtaining protection for next year.
 In much of the wind erosion region, a large portion of the annual rainfall comes in hard, dashing downpours in late May and early June, unless the seed beds have been prepared in advance a large amount of this much-needed moisture may be lost through runoff instead of being held in the soil for crop use.
 Seed beds prepared on the contour and in advance of the spring rains will prove of great benefit to the farmers, both in increased yields and in checking wind erosion next season the

Notice to Cancer Sufferers

Dr. J. E. Powell who has specialized in the treatment of cancer for several years, and uses the only successful method of treatment known to medical science, will be at Douglas Hotel, Big Spring, Texas on April 27, 1938 for one day only, where he will give you a free examination, and will tell you if you really have cancer or not. Then advise you exactly what to do. Dr. Powell uses an Antioxin which is painless and harmless even to the weak or aged. This treatment requires no hospitalization. Therefore you can take treatment and remain at home with your family and friends, thereby greatly lessening the trouble and cost of treatment. You will find that his treatment is far less costly and much more satisfactory in every way than going away from your home to some distant cancer hospital for treatment. Dr. Powell has practiced medicine in West Texas for over forty years, and is now permanently located in San Angelo, Texas. So you are not trusting your life to some one of whom you know nothing except what you hear over the radio or through the highly colored literature Dr. Powell has probably, successfully treated more cases of cancer than all the physicians of Texas combined.
 Dr. Powell also treats hemorrhoids or piles, which often terminate in the worst forms of cancer, by a mild non surgical method, which is practically painless and does not interfere with your work. He has numbers of cured cases all over West Texas. Come in for your free examination. It costs you nothing and might be the means of saving your life. If you can not come while he is here, come to his clinic at San Angelo, or write for literature.

Cotton Allotments Increased By New AAA Amendments

College Station, April 18.—Amendments to the new farm act provide a reserve of 4 per cent which will be added to the cotton acreage allotment of each state and that farm cotton allotments in necessary cases shall be raised to a minimum level, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The total increase in allotments due to the amendments may exceed 2 million acres, he said. The original acreage allotment for 1938 was 26,300,000 acres. In Texas the additional allotment will amount to around 330,000 acres.

The 4 per cent reserve will be used to assure minimum allotments to allotments were materially reduced because of an unusually large number of small farms in the county, and to provide representative allotments to counties or farms which otherwise would receive allotments which are low in comparison with the amounts allotted to producers in similar areas and in comparison with their usual cotton acreages.

The amendments also provide that if the allotment to any farm is less than 50 per cent of the sum of the 1937 cotton acreage plus diverted acres, the allotment shall be increased to 50 per cent, provided that the increase does not bring the allotment up to more than 10 per cent of the tilled land on the farm.

Texas Wheat Crop Loss Is Reported About 50 Per Cent

The Department of Agriculture estimated the 1937-38 winter wheat crop in Texas at 39,862,000 bushels in the April 1 report, but this estimate was made before the freeze and high wind damage of April 6 to 8. Texas in 1936-37 produced 41,690,000 bushels, and the ten-year average 1927-36, was 29,984,000 indicated yield in 75 bushels.

Reports from Amarillo are to effect a survey of the Texas Panhandle region, just completed by agricultural experts, shows an estimated reduction of around 20,000,000 bushels from a previous forecast of 45,000,000 bushels of hard red winter wheat as result of the big freeze and dust storm of April 6 to 8. The crop is now placed at between 15,000,000 and 30,000,000 bushels. It is estimated that from Swisher county south, including the South Plains, the freeze caused 25 to 50 per cent loss. Flood Hale and Crosby counties suffered the most severe damage as wheat had matted like a

Mesquite Grass Is Used To Sod Lawns

"Mesquite grass is the practical grass to use in sodding lawns where water is limited and where the lawn will likely be abused" said Miss Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape specialist, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stuart, April 11. "There are two kinds, one which puts up little stems and flowers and the kind which has seed pods near the roots. The seed pods have the appearance of grass buds and sometimes one mistakes the flowers for the seed, but they only serve to pollinate the seed germ. The seed bearing variety is preferred because a heavier sod can be had in a shorter length of time than the other kind.

The lawn was plowed, levelled and manure added. The grass was dug up in blocks in the lake, then broken into small pieces and set out about two feet apart over the lawn. Space was left around the house for the foundation bed of shrubs and around the trees in order that the growth of the trees might not be interfered with.

Approximately 25 women attended the demonstration representing five communities. Members of the Shumake club served as hostesses and entertained the group with games.

Tests Prove the Power of Food

Demonstrate a Vitamin-Rich Diet Is Vital to Health

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS
MANKIND owes many things to the animals which have been used as test subjects in laboratories all over the world. As doctors and scientists have waged their war against disease, as they have made great strides forward in the study of foods and nutrition, they have carried on many of their experiments with rats.

The rats pictured here dramatically illustrate the power of food to influence growth. Although these two rats are exactly the same age, the weight of one is twice that of his brother. Where one animal is puny and underdeveloped, the second is fat and sleek and full of vitality.

What has produced such a difference in weight and general physical well-being? Merely a slight difference in diet. The two rats have lived under identically the same conditions, but the smaller animal on the left has received food lacking in sufficient vitamins, while the other rat has been fed the same diet, reinforced with vitamins.

If a well-balanced food ration is vital to the health of animals, how much more vital it must be for human beings. Surely the lesson is plain to see. If a mother wants her children to thrive she must feed them adequately. The child who is receiving a diet lacking in vitamins has no chance to grow and develop properly. Nor will the adult on a deficient diet attain or maintain optimum health.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To plan a diet wisely, to recognize the foods rich in important food elements, we must learn to utilize the discoveries of science. We must keep abreast of the newer knowledge of nutrition

Scouts Entertain Luncheon Club With First Aid Exhibit

There were only fifteen members of the Business Men's Luncheon club at the session Tuesday, when Judge W. M. Yates, president presided.

Weldon Lindsey presented the local Boy Scout team from Troop 23, which gave a demonstration in first aid, and explained their recent trip to Sweetwater and Lubbock where they won honors in this event. At the latter place the team was awarded a Scout Statute that was proudly displayed in the Collins Dry Goods window this week.

The trophy has an appearance of gold and the inscription under the statue means quite a lot to the troop. First Aid work was introduced into Scouting as a result of the Red Cross First Aid Course which is being conducted here each Thursday night. The sixth meeting was conducted Thursday night in the district court room.

Mrs. Pearl Watson of Lubbock spent the Easter holidays with her brother, Roy Hoback.

Diabetes Took Toll Of 600 Lives In Texas Last Year

Austin Tex. April 11.—Diabetes, the price no-ferns pay for soft luxurious living, took a toll of 600 lives in Texas last year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"While the controllable diseases, such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are causing a smaller number of deaths each year in this country, diabetes, which was notably absent in the early pioneer days, is now taking a staggering number of lives," Doctor Cox said.

"Up until the highly mechanized age diabetes was not a health problem, but the disease became noticeable in direct ratio to the development of luxury living, soft eating, soft habits and general disregard for basic hygienic laws evinced itself among the population. Diabetes is nature's back-slap at coddling and pampering the body," he said.

"Diabetes is a class disease, it appears. Certainly it seems to attack the indoor desk man more often than the outdoor person, whose work is more vigorous or who takes more exercise. What ever the actual cause of the development of the disease may be, variation or economic conditions are factors, for those who can not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for physical effort are not frequently affected."

"There would be fewer victims of ravishing diabetes," Doctor Cox added "if those who are indulging in soft, antiseptical living would realize the folly of their ways. Especially middle aged persons and those beyond it should exercise care. Simple living and annual physical examination, and, if already showing the results of indulgencies obtaining and abiding by the

School Pupils Aid Planning Board In County Road Survey

According to J. E. Wright, district supervisor of the Highway Planning Survey, who was in Lamesa this week, local high school students have been granted permission by V. Z. Rogers, superintendent, to assist in a special study soon to be made for the use of the state highways, county roads, and city streets by car owners living in Dawson county. This is a part of the statewide and nationwide program to collect information needed in planning the construction and maintenance of highways, roads and streets.

This information which is being collected through the local school is an important part of the Highway Planning Survey, according to Mr. Wright. He said that both local and state school officials have cooperated fully in this work, and it is anticipated that local students will furnish a great deal of much-needed and valuable information concerning Dawson county.

A detailed road map is being prepared for each county. Traffic counts have been made on all state highways and are now being made on county roads; traffic flow maps will be prepared from this information. The trucks which travel on state highways have been weighed in order to find out how great a strain they impose on the road surface. The average life and cost of each of the various types of road surface are being studied. Amounts of money spent by cities on streets, by counties on secondary roads, and by the state on highways are being analyzed. Special tabulations are being made of tax resources and public debt. The use of the different road systems is studied, and special safety studies will be started soon.

As one of their regular homework assignments, high school students here are expected to begin their work on May 2nd. The students learn civic duty through helping their government and information hitherto unattainable.

Stamford Prepares For Annual Cowboy Reunion July 4-6

Stamford, April 18.—Though the Texas Cowboy Reunion is still two and a half months away, towns and cities already are selecting cowgirl sponsors to represent them at the big annual round-up of cowhands. Dates of the reunion this year are July 4, 5, and 6.

Mrs. Lane Ann Markham, charming young Stamford matron, has been appointed by the reunion directors as hostess to the visiting sponsors this year. She is the wife of Charles Markham, assistant cashier of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Markham will be assisted in entertaining the visiting sponsors by the Stamford sponsor, Miss Mildred Hood, pretty young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hood of this city. Miss Hood was selected for this coveted honor by the directors of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce.

From far away California comes one of the first official selection of sponsors. South Pasadena, near Los Angeles, has appointed Miss Lois West as its sponsor at the Texas Cowboy Reunion. Miss West will come from a greater distance than any sponsor who has participated in the Cowboy Reunion in its eighty years history.

However, she will not bring her mount with her, having arranged for a Texas cowpony, according to a letter received by H. G. Andrews, chairman of the sponsors' committee.

Miss Virginia Wood has been selected as sponsor for Stephenville, Texas. Miss Wood was winner in a contest for selection of queen of the fifth annual Erath County Horse Show and with that victory went the additional honor of representing Stephenville at the Texas Cowboy Reunion. Stephenville won first prize in the cowgirl contest in 1936, being represented by Miss Mary Louise Purdom that year.

Four prizes will be awarded to girls participating in the sponsors' contest in the 1938 Reunion. Top prize, as usual will be a handsome, hand-tooled saddle. In determining the winner, the girl's personality will count 15 per cent, her riding logs and equipment 15 per cent and riding ability 30 per cent. Her mount also will be scored, conformation and appearance counting 10 per cent, equipment 10 per cent and

This as well as other dances honoring the sponsors will be held on the second floor of the Cowboy Pavilion, overlooking the clear waters of the lake on the Reunion grounds. W. B. Harrison, chairman of the sponsors' ball plans to secure an outstanding orchestra for this affair.

Number Of Trench Silos In Texas Reaches 10,000

College Station, April 11.—The number of trench silos filled in Texas during 1937 as officially reported by county agricultural agents was 9,883, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, who said that unreported silos would bring the number up to well over ten thousand.

The silos contain 711,525 tons of feed or an average of slightly over 75 tons per silo. Silage is valued at from $3 to $6 a ton in accordance with the type of feed used.

In addition to the standard feeds, such as corn and the sorghums, which are usually stored in trench silos, Eudaly cited many instances where farmers had used the trenches to save frost bitten crops and sprouted grain, Russian thistles, sweet potato vines, Johnson grass, broom corn, prickly pear with dry fodder, cotton stalks and similar crops have been successfully made into silage in short crop years.

A recent report from Frank Brummenan, county agricultural agent of Cameron county, stated that grapefruit rinds had been placed into a trench silo. His use of the by-products of citrus canneries, which is normally wasted, is considered especially interesting in view of recent tests which have shown that grapefruit rinds have the same food value as beet pulp.

The use of trench silos has practically doubled each year since 1930, when only 12 trenches were filled. The low initial cost of the silos, ease of filling and feeding from them, and their adaptability to any number of animals, is largely responsible for the increase, Eudaly said. Farmers and ranchmen are also becoming aware of the need for reserves of feed, and notling fills their need like the trench silo, which in addition to being economical, is rat, insect, fire and flood proof, and will hold silage for indefinite periods, he pointed out. A trench silo contest sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce is expected to result in expansion in that section.

Jimmie Cole spent the weekend visiting friends in Abilene.

Federal Housing Funds Available In Small Towns

A recent report, showing present conditions of mortgages accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administration according to city-size groupings, indicates that ample mortgage funds at reasonable rates are now available for home financing in the smaller communities of the country.

For several years prior to the enactment of Title II of the National Housing Act and the establishment of the Insured Mortgage System, all residential construction in many smaller cities and towns was virtually at a standstill. Not only was money scarce, but when it could be obtained the rates of interest were very high in some areas. Efforts on the part of lending institutions to correct conditions were ineffectual under the old mortgage systems.

Approximately one-third of the entire business transacted under Title II of the National Housing Act, during 1937 represented mortgages on dwellings located in cities having 10,000 or less population. More than one-sixth of these mortgages were secured by properties in towns having 2,500 population or less.

Federal Housing Administration officials, commenting on this report, said that in making mortgage funds available to smaller communities, as well as large cities, the FHA is carrying out one of the major objectives of the National Housing Act.

In addition to stimulating lending at interest rates well below those that formerly prevailed in many areas, the Insured Mortgage System has made it widely possible for borrowers to amortize mortgage loans over a period of years as long as 25 years on certain properties. With the long term and monthly amortization features effective, the necessity for mortgage renewals with attendant fees has been virtually eliminated.

Aviation Field Project Is Being Discussed By Civic Leaders; Efforts Will Be Made to Promote Landing Facilities and Hanger

Much Enthusiasm Was Shown By Civic Group

A group of interested citizens met at the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday night and discussed plans for the proposed municipal airport, which was recently introduced as a worthy project at the Business Men's Luncheon club.

It has been pointed out the field once used for emergency landings is no longer safe inasmuch as a portion of the field is now under fence and numbers of planes would come to Lamesa if a field could be obtained with hangers and proper facilities.

It was agreed that Lamesa is a growing city and with further development it is going to be necessary within the near future to have this asset. The citizens present expressed the opinion that now is the time to prepare for this project and correspondence is being made with airport officials to determine what steps could be taken.

A. G. Bearden, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stated there are several local air-minded citizens who can fly a plane, and would probably if a field could be located in this vicinity. There are also several oil men and company officials who frequent this territory, but have to fly to Lubbock or Big Spring and then come to Lamesa by automobile.

It was reported that outside assistance will be introduced in promoting interest in obtaining the type of field desired.

Forty-One Baptist Of Lamesa Attended Angelo Convention

Richardson Store Had Big Business Day Last Saturday

Sam Richardson, proprietor of Richardson's Super Store, reports a large volume of business at his store last Saturday when it was re-opened for the first time following the recent $10,000 re-modeling project, had been finished.

The employees were over taxed to supply the big demand for purchases in all departments and as the fixtures and stock had been completely rearranged and new merchandise was purchased. The store was hardly ready to be opened and for this reason Mr. Richardson states he is repeating his sale again this Saturday.

The store has been completely de-partimentized and the employees are now ready to render the most efficient service. A modernistic type of black glass is blended with the large new style front and window display. This has resulted in many compliments on the establishment during the past week. A large ad contained in this issue announces their specials throughout the store for this Saturday.

L. B. Stuart Adopts Soil Conservation Program Complete

So convincing has been the value of soil and moisture conservation practices on the 640-acre farm of L. B. Stuart, 10 miles south of Lamesa, that, from a modest beginning in 1935, the owner now has adopted the program on all of his acreage.

When Stuart became a cooperor of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration camp at Lamesa in 1935, his cultivated land was being damaged by both wind and water erosion, and the pasture had been depleted of grass and gullying had started.

In the Spring of 1936, Stuart contour furrowed his 190-acre pasture and terraced 90 acres of his cultivated land in order to determine the value of conservation practices. The terraced portion of the field was planted to wheat and the results caused Stuart to decide to expand the program.

During the spring of 1937, he terraced an additional 70 acres, and contour tilled 135 acres. A strip-crop plan was used on the terraced land and on the 155 acres that remained in straight rows. Stuart then became more convinced of the value of soil and moisture conservation.

This spring he has terraced the 155 acres that had been in straight-row cultivation, giving him a total of 295 acres of terraced land and 135 acres being tilled on the contour. He plans to strip crop his entire 450 acres of cultivated land this year.

"I am more than pleased with the conservation practices I am using on my farm," Mr. Stuart says. "I have continued to terrace more of my land each year because I find that loss of water by run-off can be controlled in this manner, and that gullying practically has been checked."

The singing school at the Highway Baptist church conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Wilson is to have a concert Thursday night, April 28, a small admission will be charged. The public is invited.

Local C. of C. Men To Attend Wichita Falls Convention

Lamesa and adjacent Chamber of Commerce organizations are preparing to send delegates to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention at Wichita Falls, on April 25, 26 and 27, that is scheduled to be outstanding in W. T. C. C. history.

"A Square Deal for the Producer," is the convention theme and business programs are planned to deal with three vital West Texas subjects, agriculture, livestock and oil, at group conferences which successful figures in those industries will address.

The parade on April 26 will attract bands, floats and visiting marching delegations from all West Texas and Oklahoma. Mayor LaGuardia will review the parade with Senator Tom Connally, featured speaker on April 27. LaGuardia will address the convention in Memorial Auditorium at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

West Texas and New Mexico visitors, from the area served by the W. T. C. C. largest regional organization in the United States, will be augmented by other thousands from Oklahoma, there to attend one or more sessions, to enjoy the convention programs, or to see the parade, which Mayor LaGuardia is scheduled to head, on Tuesday afternoon.

The Wichita Falls invitation to the W. T. C. C. to permit it to be the host city accepted at the 1937 Brownwood convention, was the fifth successive bid. With its acceptance, Wichita Falls soon began to make plans, working with Milburn McCarty, of Eastland, W. T. C. C. president, and D. A. Band-deem, manager, to build a constructive and notable program of business sessions. Wilburn Page is the convention manager.

Abilene will make a strong bid to be host city in 1939. The city is sending four bands, numbering 230 student-musicians, comprising the McMurry College, Collegiate Band, their high school Eagle Band and the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, and the Cowgirls, co-ed pep organization.

Miss Inez Mayo of Denton, Miss West Texas for 1938 will have a place of honor in the parade on a specially designed ice float. Miss Elizabeth Huff, "Miss Wichita Falls" and official hostesses for the convention, will have a float designed in her honor.

Tax Assessor And Collector Advises On Poll Exemptions

County Tax Assessor-Collector R. W. Herndon, in explaining who is eligible for voting exemption and homestead exemption, has the following information that should prove valuable to those who have reason to doubt their eligibility in voting:

"All persons who became 21 years of age before February 1, 1938, were required to have gotten a poll tax exemption, but those who have become 21 years old after February 1, 1938, and those who will be 21 years old before election day, may vote without an exemption certificate. Persons that were 60 years of age before January 1, 1938 are exempted and are not required to have an exemption.

"A homestead exemption cannot be more than $3,000 of the assessed taxable value of resident homesteads, and in rural districts not more than 200 acres of land, together with all improvements. It is advisable for all real estate owners who are entitled to such homestead exemptions to render such exemption property so they may be sure of getting all benefits of the exemption on their state tax.

KLONDIKE H. D. CLUB NOTICE

T. B. FULKERSON      Commission Agent

Brought to Light . . .
By HARVEY SMITH

Charles H. Doak, one of the West Texas frontier citizens, who came to this area and settled near O'Donnell in 1899, was in Lamesa Saturday of last week and extended District Judge Louis B. Reed and County Judge, W. M. Yates an invitation to attend a big barbecue and rodeo at O'Donnell Friday and Saturday to represent citizens of Dawson county at the celebration being staged in appreciation of the Arizona Chemical Company, that will be in full operation on May 1. Mr. Doak owns the property the huge plant is situated on. Part of it is situated in Dawson county and the remainder is located in Lynn county. He has seen the West develop into a prosperous ranching, farming and industrial area but apparently had never dreamed that so many of the new large chemical plants in this section of the country would be situated on his ranch land. Among other things he witnessed the last big herd of Texas cattle that was driven overland through this section to Montana. Mr. Doak is chairman of arrangements for the celebration.

The Arizona Chemical plant occupies a tract of over 400 acres. Rich deposits of sodium sulphate together with other minerals will be extracted from the Dawson county area, according to reports, and the huge steel frame type of buildings, four stories high, with storage tanks and chemical departments, etc. are situated mostly in Lynn county. The gigantic plant is said to be something that will bring a large volume of revenue to this area. Thirty five or more technical men and laborers will be employed at the plant. No specific information was available here relative to the nature of the products to be turned out. It is understood that salt will be one of the chief products and sodium sulphate and other minerals with valuable deposits will be recovered.

Five New Pupils Enroll At School

Five new pupils were on hand to meet Mr. G. M. Roberts at his office in the elementary school building of the Lamesa system last Monday. In addition to the roster brings the total list in that school to 1129 and the total to 1665 against 1660 of last week. All previous records have already been broken this year and now it is only a question of how many more will be added during this term. Officials report that several pupils are out because of bad weather or illness and additions are provided for because of space of absent pupils being available otherwise the problem would be more acute.

This is the season of the year for conventions of virtually every description and Lamesans are sharing their part on the many state programs. Only last week S. L. Forrest, retiring president of the Texas Lumbermen's Association presided over the 52th annual convention. Speaking to the group at Dallas he urged the members of the association to organize themselves against "harmful" government interference with private business. He also mentioned high taxation as a hindrance to the advancement of private enterprise.

Mr. Forrest was succeeded by C. E. Locke, Beaumont, as president of the association during the fiscal year ending in April 1939.

Next comes the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention, which convenes at Wichita Falls, April 25-27. Perhaps this will attract more civic interest than any other one convention, exclusive of the various press associations slated throughout Texas the latter part of this month and during the early part of May. All leading West Texas cities will have a queen to represent them and Lamesa should be no exception in as much as Owen Taylor, local postmaster is one of the directors of the West Texas organization. At least four local Chamber of Commerce leaders are planning to attend. They will be accompanied by Robert B. Snell, high school senior and president of the class who was recently declared the "best boy actor" at the District Interscholastic League. Robert will make an address before the convention when he will compete with others from West Texas for regional honors.

Dawson county citizens in excess of 300 men, women and children were gathered around a large circle on the court house lawn last Saturday afternoon to witness a little exhibition staged by two dinky colored fighters, Louis Jackson, an Oklahoma City negro and Curtis Simon, an East Texas negro were mixing blows after the spectators had contributed some $3 to help pay Jackson's fine. Jackson was being held in the county jail on a misdemeanor charge and apparently Constable Jack Algrige thought perhaps he needed a little exercise as well as the money so the match was staged and from all accounts the spectators were well pleased despite the fact the boys fought to a draw for the five rounds.

Evidently the Conroe Courier man has been brushing up on the Beatitudes taken from the Bible with the following excerpt taken from a recent issue:

Blessed are the merchants who advertise for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, for she shall have the details and names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything but who tell him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy Pastor able to preach Sunday at 11 o'clock at Bartlett. No services at night. Not very largely attended, sickness hindered some. Omer, we know not what.

We are told that the Easter program at Welch was good. A large crowd attending, Sunday being the Baptist preaching day here, and they attended the Easter program at Methodist church from 10 o'clock to 11 o'clock, then it was decided for the Baptist pastor to preach at the Methodist church. We are glad to have had it thus, it helps to cultivate a spirit of Christian fellowship among our people. Come again and any time we can help you we shall be glad to do so.

We are anxious to have a large attendance next Sunday. We have lost a much time we need some extra help to catch up.

There will be singing in the afternoon next Sunday. Also don't forget that we are asking the cooperation of other churches in arranging programs for Mothers' Day, second Sunday in May. Let us put on a good one. We can if we will.

If you are not attending any other Sunday school you are invited beginning now to attend ours.—J. G. Walker.

Blessed are they who cooperate with all efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known to all men, far and wide, as a good place in which to live and do business. Blessed are they who do not think they could run the paper better than the editor runs it—yes, thrice blessed are they because there are so few of them.

Mrs. G. F. Thorpe, chairman of the Dawson County Home Demonstration who resides in the Klondike community, southwest of Lamesa, demonstrated her ability in picking a dairy cow last Friday at the Dairy Show, when she picked the best type of cow from four, all of which were one hundred per cent correct. To make it really hard to pick the winner, G. W. Stubbins entered team cows. But she selected them and was awarded the prize. About 40 men and women participated in the judging, which was exclusive of certain agents and dairy specialists.

Steam Pressure Cookers Add To Flavor Of Meals

By GLADYS WRIGHT
To save time in meal preparation, let us recommend some steam pressure cooker combinations. Instead of using all the burners on your range for an hour or so, in the preparation of a meal, use one burner for one-third of the time. Flavor, taste and health giving vitamins are preserved.

When preparing complete dinners, place the dishes which contain the foods hardest to cook nearest to the bottom of the cooker to give them the advantage of the heat. It will be evident that foods cook faster right on the bottom of the cooker than when placed within the inner pans.

When cooking combination menus of meats, vegetables and desserts, always put the dessert in the middle pan and not in the top unless it is always with some kind of loose cover.

Menu 1, serves 4, cook 20 minutes:
Stuffed ham roll lima beans with tomato sauce-baking powder, biscuits, stewed prunes with cream with one slice of ham one-quarter inch thick. Cover with stuffing made of one cup dry bread crumbs, mixed with one-half teaspoon mustard, one egg, slightly beaten, add milk to moisten. Roll up the ham and tie with string, put in cooker and surround with one cup of beans, which have soaked for several hours. Pour two cups of tomato juice cover and cook for 30 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Remove ham to platter and surround with beans and sauce. If prunes are to be cooked at the same time, put in after meat has been cooking for 20 minutes and then cook 10 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Menu 2, serves 5, cook 15 minutes:
Bread veal, scalloped potatoes, chocolate custard. First dish, breaded veal, salt and pepper the veal steak and roll it in fine bread or cracker crumbs, dip it in beaten egg, then roll it in crumbs. Fry in hot fat on bottom of cooker until a golden brown. Put bits of butter over the top and a little cream if desired.

Second dish, scalloped potatoes, butter an inset pan, put in a layer of sliced cold boiled potatoes, then a layer of white sauce to which grated cheese has been added, then another layer of potatoes and cheese sauce. Put buttered crumbs on top.

Third dish, chocolate custard. Heat two and one-half cups of milk, add two tablespoons melted chocolate, cook slightly, add three beaten eggs and one third cup sugar and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Pour in individual custard cups and place in inset pan. Place latter within cooker. Fasten cover properly and cook 15 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Your pressure cooker will more than pay its way in the summer, both as a convenient aid in preparing meals and as an indispensable part of your camping equipment. If you go camping include the pressure cooker and the necessary equipment. You will find it worth the trouble.

SODDING THE LAWN DISCUSSED BY SPECIALIST

"Mesquite grass makes an excellent lawn for farm homes," said Miss Sadie Hatfield, landscape specialist from A. and M. College to members of the Dawson County Home Demonstration clubs in the home of Mrs. L. B. Stuart of the Shumake club, April 11.

It is really better than bermuda in that it does not spread to the orchards and fields but when cared for as bermuda makes a lovely lawn. It can be killed around trees and borders by cultivation or by hoeing up, also by cutting straight down through the sod with a hoe that has been straightened out.

To transplant the grass, block out a square of grass and take up with a spade then cut into four smaller squares. These are then placed in holes that are dug about twenty-four inches apart each way and a little deeper than the grass and sod is thick. After placing the clumps of grass in the holes pull the dirt in but leave a slight depression that will hold the water, then water the grass well. In one summer it will cover the spaces between clumps if well cared for.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crow spent Sunday in Hobbs, New Mexico, visiting friends.

Scouts Prepare For Annual Circus To Be Staged Soon

Lamesa Scouts will assemble with some 1,600 others from twenty counties in the South Plains Council at Lubbock, Friday, May 6th for the second annual Boy Scout Circus to be held at the Texas Technological College Stadium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Earl Heston, Lubbock general chairman announced.

Seventeen fast moving Scouting acts will take place in rapid succession, depicting such events as firebuilding, first aid, Chariot Races, communication, Scouts on the Flying Trapeze, Indian scenes and dances, and pioneer camps with cowboys, Mexicans and other scenes that appeal to the Scouts and Cubs.

One of the most unusual acts will be Noah's Ark, where every Cub in the Council will take part, each designing and making his own costume for the animals on Noah's Ark. The Giant Hootus, the Gook, Giraffe, Ostrich and others will be outstanding among the animals.

It is reported that the Circus this year will be larger and better than the first Scout Circus, held in November, 1936. Tickets are already on sale in this city, as in every other town at savings for advance tickets.

Scouts from almost every troop in the council will be represented on these covered wagon tours, that are
