Hope To Cap Well Today

MEXICO CITY (AP)-Mexican oil workers hope to finish capping the runaway Ixtox-I oil well today after lowering a 125-ton steel cone into place over the maverick gusher that has fouled Gulf Coast beaches from Mexico to southern Texas.

The capping operation, aimed at reducing the flow of oil and natural gas by 85 percent, was halted by darkness Sunday. A team of 300 technicians, divers and engineers from the Mexican state oil monopoly PEMEX had worked for a dozen hours Sunday to lower the 35 foot by 69 foot cone onto the under-water superstructure over the well.

"The cone is in place on the structure and Monday we will rotate it 90 degrees to put it over the mouth of the well," said Jose Luis Garcia Luna, a senior PEMEX engineer working on the project, dubbed "operation Sombrero."

Houston Rains Flood Homes

HOUSTON (AP)-A Red Cross survey indicates last week's heavy rains flooded about 2,837 homes in Harris and Brazoria counties.

By comparison, the downpours spawned by tropical storm Claudette the last week in July flooded 7,004 homes.

A Galveston County survey had not been completed.

Bill Barron of the Red Cross said 1,937 Harris County homes were flooded last week with 250 of them falling in the major damage category.

Food For Frederic Victims

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)-Tons of food donated by residents of Alabama and Georgia began piling into this devastated port city while Mobile County school officials delayed classes indefinitely because of the havoc caused by Hurricane Frederic.

School Superindent Abe Hammonds said Sunday that officials had hoped to reopen school on Tuesday, but many campuses still are littered by debris, a number of buildings are damaged and many schools have no electricity.

He said he had no idea when schools, closed two weeks ago, would be able to open again.

Dallas School Official Appeals

DALLAS (AP)-A top school administrator fired after an internal investigation into corrupt business practices has appealed the firing, a newspaper reports.

Dr. Weldon Wells, assistant superintendent for support services, submitted a copy of his appeal to school officials last week, The Dallas Morning News reported Sunday.

Wells is one of eight employees fired by School Superintendent Linus Wright on Sept. 14. The firings took place after school attorneys reported to the school board on 11 separate internal investigations into irregular business practices.

Wells' attorneys also have asked that Wright and his predecessor, Dr. Nolan Estes, be on hand for a hearing because they might be called as witnesses, the newspaper said.

Autumn Arrives

By The Associated Press

Autumn officially arrived Sunday, but you wouldn't know it by the weather. It's still summer in Texas.

The National Weather Service forecast temperatures in the 90s for all of Texas today except for the Panhandle and the mountains of far West Texas, where maximums in the upper 80s were likely.

Skies were clear early today over the state, with no precipitation, although fog was forming in the lower coastal area. Visibility dropped to two miles an hour at 4 a.m.

Dollar Slides, Gold Soars

LONDON (AP)-The dollar slipped to its lowest afternoon price in 11 months against the West German mark today following a revaluation of Europe's strongest currency. Gold prices shot up by $7 an ounce or more in early trading.

In Frankfurt, dealers "fixed" the dollar rate at 1.7654 marks this afternoon. That was down from the morning rate of 1.7697 but still up from Friday's close of 1.7635.

It was the lowest afternoon fixing rate, however, since the fixing at 1.7367 marks to the dollar on Oct. 31, 1978, the day before President Carter announced a massive dollar rescue plan.

Some dealers suggested that the dollar's afternoon weakness against the mark indicated steps to realign currencies of the European Monetary System which were announced early today, may not take pressure off the dollar.

Wine Market Booming

By The Associated Press

By the glass, the bottle and the jug, Americans are downing millions of gallons of wine and the market is expected to more than double by the end of the next decade.

Marvin R. Shanken, editor and publisher of Impact, a newsletter on wine and distilled spirits, said the wine shipments in the United States last year totaled 430 million gallons - about two gallons per capita - up 61 percent from the 267 million gallons shipped in 1970.

By 1990, Shanken said, wine shipments should total 1.1 billion gallons.

California growers, who provide a little more than 70 percent of the wine Americans drink, are in the midst of harvesting this year's grapes and the producers predict an excellent crop, in terms of quantity and quality.

Quick Trip To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)-Rep. Mickey Leland made a quick trip to Cuba last week on the U.S. mission to retrieve released American prisoners, and the freshman Democrat from Houston returned feeling proud of himself.

"I feel that it was a tremendously exciting kind of involvement that I had," Leland said on his return to Washington.

Bokassa Goes To Africa In Search For Asylum

PARIS (AP)-Deposed dictator Jean Bedel Bokassa took to the skies again today, heading back to Africa in search of asylum after spending 56 hours at a military base west of Paris in an abortive effort to gain sanctuary in France. Unconfirmed reports said the Ivory Coast agreed to accept him.

But official French sources who reported Bokassa's departure declined to give the precise destination of the former self-proclaimed emperior of the Central African Empire, overthrown in a bloodless, French-backed coup Thursday by former President David Dacko.

Bokassa was in Libya negotiating for aid when the coup occurred in the former French colony. He and 26 members of his retinue left aboard Bokassa's personal Caravelle jet for France and landed at Evreux Friday night after being denied permission to land at Charles de Gaulle and Orly Airports outside Paris.

Bokassa and his party remained aboard the parked Caravelle for more than 48 hours while the French tried to find a country to accept him. Then late Sunday they left the Caravelle and boarded a French military DC-8 which took off on the next leg of the odyssey.

The 58-year-old dictator, who served with distinction in the French army during the Indochina War, is a French citizen and possesses a valid French passport. But the government declared him "undesirable," and officials said his presence in France at this time would be "inopportune."

The government's refusal of asylum for Bokassa aroused the ire of legal circles and the French Democratic Association of Jurists, an organization of lawyers and judges, expressed astonishment at the official attitude.

Tractor Of Snyderites Blows Up During 'Pull'

FORT WORTH—The clutch on a souped up tractor driven by C.D. Gray Jr. of Snyder blew up during a tractor pull meet in Fort Worth Saturday night injuring at least 15 people.

Gray, who was not injured, had pulled a 32-ton sled about half way across the arena when the tractor's clutch apparently exploded, said Fort Worth Fire Department Capt. Earl Valentine, sending pieces of metal into the crowd of 7,000.

A member of the measuring crew lost a hand and another person had his nose slashed as pieces flew as high as 150 feet, it was reported.

Louis Owen, executive director of the Tarrant County Convention Center, said three of the injured were hospitalized but were believed to be in stable condition.

The tractor, owned by Gray Brothers Pork Producers, was specially fitted with three Chevrolet engines. Two engines were mounted on either side of the front of the rig and the third was balanced over the rear wheels. The tractor bore the legend, "The Mean Rat and Two Blind Mice."

Following the excitement, the remaining events in the semi-annual event were run without any further trouble.

In a tractor pull meet, drivers compete for cash prizes by pulling weighted sleds. Valentine said it was evidently too much of a strain for a tractor to carry the three engines.

"He (Gray) started with one engine and and then about halfway down the track, he kicked in the other two."

He said the activation of the additional engines apparently caused the problem.

Police said a metal guard, normally placed over the clutch plate to

South Of Beirut...

Israeli, Syrian Planes Battling

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) —Israeli and Syrian warplanes battled in the skies south of Beirut today, and two to four Syrian jets were reported shot down. It was the second dogfight between the old enemies in four days.

Lebanese government spurces said two Syrian fighters crashed in flames near Beirut International Airport but their pilots parachuted to safety.

An Israeli military command spokesman in Tel Aviv said four Syrian planes were downed and all Israeli aircraft returned safely to base.

Associated Press reporter Mohammed Salam said he saw a large explosion near the airport when he was driving to work.

"There was a big orange flash and a big explosion and then smoke," he said.

The air clash came at a time when the United States and other countries are growing increasingly critical of Israeli military actions in neighboring Lebanon. But Israel vows to continue its policy of striking at Palestinian guerrilla bases in southern Lebanon.

Syria's Damascus Radio said last Thursday that Syrian jets had engaged and driven off Israeli aircraft flying over southern Lebanon. Israeli newspapers said the Syrians used air-to-air missiles in that encounter.

Syrian and Israeli jets clashed for the first time in five years last June 27, when the Israeli air force used its U.S.-made F-15 fighter for the first time in combat. The Israelis claimed they brought down five Syrian MiG-21s in that battle over southern Lebanon.

Military activity stepped up in Lebanon's troubled south late last week.

The Palestine Liberation Organization claimed an Israeli armored force crossed the Israeli-Lebanese border last Friday and engaged PLO guerrillas, who drove the Israelis back across the frontier. Israel denied its troops had entered Lebanon, and said fighting Friday and Saturday in the border region was between Palestinians and Israeli-backed Lebanese Christian militiamen.

Israeli warplanes have frequently flown through Lebanese airspace on reconnaissance and other missions in conjunction with the campaign against guerrilla strongholds in the south.

City Council To Discuss RV Hook-Ups

The Snyder City Council has scheduled a special session for 6:30 p.m. this evening at city hall.

The meeting was called to consider a proposal for city participation in the installation of recreational vehicle hook-ups at the Scurry County Coliseum.

County Commissioners already have given informal approval to a plan for installing the hook-ups, which will enable the coliseum to host rallies of trailer and motor home clubs and provide facilities that are in demand during other events, such as rodeos and basketball tournaments. The city is being asked to assist in providing materials for the project.

winners make rules

In a confrontation heavily influenced by the Carter-Kennedy rivalry, Maine and Massachusetts are defying orders from the national Democratic Party to push back their 1980 presidential caucus and primary dates.

Under new party rules adopted last year, states are not supposed to begin selecting 1980 convention delegates - whether by the caucus system or by primaries - until March 11.

But Maine has scheduled caucuses for Feb. 10 and Massachusetts has set a March 4 primary. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is expected to do extremely well in both, a prospect that hardly pleases President Carter and his allies on the Democratic National Committee.

If the two states can be forced to switch to the March 11 date, any Kennedy gains there might be offset by results from primaries in at least three Southern states - Alabama, Florida and Georgia - that may yet be joined by South Carolina, Mississippi and Tennessee.

The national party's compliance review commission has already granted rule exemptions to Iowa, with its Jan. 21 precinct caucuses; New Hampshire, with its first-in-the-nation Feb. 26 primary, and Minnesota, with Feb. 26 precinct caucuses.

In all three states, the dates were set by state law and Republicans control either the governorship or the legislature and refuse to agree to changes. Maine and Massachusetts, however, have no such excuse and their requests for similar exemptions from the DNC have been denied.

Party leaders in both states say they will stick to their guns, raising the possibility that their delegations to the 1980 Democratic National Convention in New York will be denied seating for having been chosen in violation of the rules.

But as one key Massachusetts Democrat noted, that could well depend on who wins the presidential nomination. Party rules - like history books - tend to get written by winners.

If you've been preoccupied with matching dwindling income to escalating outflow and other aspects of rampant inflation, it may come as a surprise that the United States is rated the most creditworthy of the world's nations by those who know the subject best - international bankers.

A survey conducted by Institutional Investor magazine in which 50 banks rated national credit standings on a scale of zero to 10 put the United States at the top with an average 9.89. There were no surprises, however, in the runners-up - West Germany, 9.83; Switzerland, 9.82 and Japan, 9.69.

Interestingly, none of the supposedly super-rich oil exporters were among the leaders. There judgement was that oil alone does not a stable economy make.

That may be comforting to the United States and its hard-pressed industrialized allies. But when it comes to footing the bills for precious heating oil this winter, it could turn out to be somewhat cold comfort.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

I've just read a magazine article about the "abused parent" who jumps every time her child cracks a whip. It read like my biography.

It all fit. I'm the mother who, the moment her child comes in late for dinner, jumps to her feet like someone just turned on the current in her underwear, runs to the kitchen and begins cooking.

I'm the mother who goes into her children's bedrooms after they've left for school and remakes their beds so they will pass the coin-bouncing test.

I'm the mother who sits up at 3:00 in the morning hemming a dress for my daughter who works two hours after school each day and is "tired."

I was raised to believe a good mother returned library books for her children because it made them good citizens.... cleared the table after them and rinsed off their plates because it set a good example...put their toys in boxes and dressed their naked dolls because it instilled a feeling of order. I held their hot sweaters on my lap at picnics so they wouldn't lose them....picked them up at school when they got caught without boots.

What I have succeeded in doing is bringing back serfdom. If you're wondering whether or not you're an "abused parent," here are a few questions worth addressing yourself to:

When you ask your child to get you a glass of water, does he or she ask directions to the kitchen? Does he ask, "What is a kitchen?"

If you hid your handbag for a week, would your teenager face the wall in his bedroom in a fetal position and not be able to function?

Has your child ever seen unsliced bread? The inside of a washer? Can he make ice cubes? Set an alarm clock? Write a thank-you note?

The article really moved me. It got through to me so much that I posted a sign on the back door for all to see. It read: "THIS HOUSE IS BEING CONVERTED TO SELF-SERICE. THIS INCLUDES STOVES, WASHERS, DRYERS, BATHROOMS, AND TRANSPORTATION. IF YOU NEED ASSISTANCE, FORGET IT."

My daughter read it and took a deep sigh. "Too bad," she said to her brother. "Just when we were going to give Mom a cost-of-living hike in her allowance."

WASHINGTON (NEA)— Despite the Carter administration's peculiar talent for snatching defeat from the jaws of victory, the SALT II treaty should not be written off as a lost cause.

The flap over Soviet combat troops in Cuba, a crisis largely of the administration's own making, has unquestionably interrupted the momentum for treaty ratification that had been steadily building in the Senate.

But the damage thus far is more apparent than real. With all the fussing and fulminating that has emanated from Capitol Hill in recent weeks, only one senator — Russell Long of Louisiana - has actually come out against SALT and linked his decision to the Cuban situation.

Long is a wily and influential politician (and one who is running for re-election next year), but nobody ever accused him of expertise on defense issues. Furthermore, treaty advocates had never cherished more than the faintest hope of winning Long's support.

"On a scale of 1 to 5 for likelihood of a 'yes' vote, we had Long at a 4," said one White House lobbyist. "This just moves him to 5."

Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd effectively prevented Long's announcement from touching off a stampede by publicly and privately urging other senators to keep the whole matter in perspective. Soviet troops in Cuba are certainly irritating, Byrd, conceded, but as a threat to American security, they are hardly in the same class as a nuclear holocaust.

The strategic arms treaty will not reach the Senate floor for another six weeks at the earliest, and by then the political storm over the Cuban situation should have abated -- provided that President Carter and the Soviets find some "solution" that allows for face-saving on both sides.

The other big side issue that has become entangled in the SALT II debate is the size of the defense budget over the next five years.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., and a number of like-minded senators are insisting the defense budget should grow by a "real" (after inflation) 5 percent a year beginning in fiscal 1981, while President Carter is unwilling to ask for more than a 3 percent real growth for those years.

Unless Carter agrees to the higher figure, these senators hint, they won't support ratification of SALT II.

The problem with that, of course, is twofold. First, it is not the president but the Congress that determines the size of the defense budget - and Nunn et al. simply haven't been able to persuade their colleagues that the higher spending levels are necessary. So why "punish" Carter (and SALT II) for their own failure to make a convincing case?

The second obvious hitch to their strategy of putting the arm on Carter for a commitment to higher defense spending is the likelihood that he won't be around to deliver even if he were prepared to promise what they want.

Most Senate Democrats, including several who support Sam Nunn's demands for higher defense spending, are hoping and praying that Teddy Kennedy will be the next president. But if Nunn thinks Jimmy Carter is stingy with the military, wait until he sees the budget a second President Kennedy would propose!

Arguments over Soviet troops in Cuba and over the proper level of future defense spending may make for some lively discussions in the Senate, which can certainly use a bit of stimulation, but they are essentially irrelevant to the ratification issue.

When the vote on SALT II finally comes, every member of the Senate will be forced to confront the only question that really counts: Will the United States be better off with the treaty or without it?

For all its bobbling on the side issues, the administration has made a strong case for the merits of the treaty itself. When the roll is called, that may yet suffice.

john cunniff

NEW YORK (AP)— Don't hold your breath, as they say, or keep your fingers crossed, or in fact get involved in any of those physically uncomfortable positions, but ... could interest rates be peaking?

That notion is spreading among securities and economic analysts. It worked its way into the latest bond market review of Smith Barney Harris Upham & Co. And Merrill Lynch Economics sees a sharp drop ahead.

More importantly, some investment institutions, such as pension and mutual funds, apparently feel the same way - or so you would judge by their sudden interest in blue chip stocks late last Thursday.

Among those who have declared themselves most forcefully is Albert Cox, Jr., president of Merrill Lynch Economics, a subsidiary of the big investment house. He foresees a "downward spiral" of interest rates.

In Cox's opinion, the reversal most likely will begin "in a matter of weeks," although he admits to some indecision. The downturn might be delayed until yearend, he concedes, with even higher rates until then.

No matter, he forecasts, the prime interest rate, now at 13.25 percent, will reach 8.5 percent by late 1980, aided by cutbacks in industrial inventories and thus the need for credit to finance them.

In theory, as interest rates drop stocks become more attractive.

The explanation is uncomplicated: When interest costs fall, so do business costs. Moreover, companies can again afford to invest in more productive plants and equipment, further lowering unit costs.

While most investors remain cautious about all markets, and others seem intent on getting the last fraction of a percent advantage out of rising interest rates, some already have been returning to stocks.

Are they acting prematurely? Investors recall that last spring, hoping to spur interest in stocks, some brokers told clients that interest rates already had peaked. So much for foresight.

It is true, too, that attempts to see the future are complicated by convulsions of the dollar, gold, interest rates, stocks, housing, energy. Alone and as they relate to each others, they baffle reason.

Hunches - now they're another thing. With interest rates at levels never before recorded, and with the signs that industry and individuals are lowering their credit demands, the feeling is spreading.

The feeling, that is, that interest rates that seemed headed to the heavens might be returning to earth, accompanied by economic static, to be sure, but returning nonetheless to their natural environment.

The re-entry isn't to be awaited with bated breath, any more than the next appearance of Haley's Comet. But it will be an event, a big one, and already they're talking it up in business and investment circles.

Says Small Town Mayor...

Little Towns Lose In Washington

DUNELLEN, N.J. (AP)- Because big cities have political pull, says Mayor Larry Anzovino, small towns are losing out in Washington. As chief executive of this town of 7,200, he's pushing a plan to give Small Town U.S.A. a piece of the action.

Anzovino is executive director of the New Jersey Mayors Association, which lobbies for small towns. That group, which represents 260 of New Jersey's 550 communities, wants to form a national organization to give small communities the ear of the president.

"We feel that there is no closer official to the people than the mayor," he said. "But unfortunately, the great potential of the office of mayor collectively has not been used."

Small-town chief executives, he says, are tired of being excluded when decisions are made by the states and federal government.

Big-city mayors "have the opportunity to meet with the president, sometimes at short notice," he said.

Major cities are represented by The U.S. Conference of Mayors, which accepts only mayors from cities of 35,000 or more - 700 of the 15,000 communities in the United States, Anzovino said.

"They've got their own tremendous problems, and because of the concerns of the large urban cities, the smaller towns are losing out on their problems," he said.

"They don't represent every city in the country," said Livic Mancino, mayor of Kenilworth, N.J., population 9,000. "We don't have a voice now. Who's going to listen to me."

Anzovino was appointed chairman of the ad hoc Mayors Energy Committee by then-White House energy czar William Simon during the 1973 oil crisis. He said he heard the complaints of big cities and small towns alike while serving on the energy panel. Many times, he said, it was the bigger communities that took priority.

"Just about every piece of legislation that is handed down is most of the time to the detriment of small towns," he said.

He cited mandated building codes intended for large urban buildings, lack of public transportation, the high cost of sewage projects and fear of losing federal revenue-sharing funds.

"Let's take Victor Gardens N.J.," Anzovino said Sunday.

"They eliminated their entire police department ... The revenues from the federal government had almost ceased for them. I'm sure that if they were a city, the government would recognize the problem. But since it's a small town they were forgotten."

He has now asked the White House to help organize a national group of mayors from large and small communities to advise the president on every city's needs and is waiting for word from Vice President Walter Mondale, he said.

"I know in the past he (the president) may have turned the big city mayors for advice, but we want to get involved in trying to solve the energy problems," Anzovino said.

Democrats Must Change Leaders, Says Gov. Brown

DALLAS (AP)-California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., offering himself as a alternative candidate, says if Democrats don't change leadership they are doomed to defeat in 1980.

"I offer an alternative within the Democratic Party. My ideas are sounder on economics, investment, technology, strengthening America," Brown said. "It's obvious the economic policies we've been following have been disastrous. This country is in a mess."

Gov. Jerry Brown

He arrived Sunday to begin a three-day Texas visit here and in Houston, returning to California Tuesday night.

"I'm coming down here to stir up some votes and some interest, and to raise some funds," the 41-year-old California governor told reporters during an airport news conerence upon his arrival at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

"And, the Democratic Party, if it doesn't want to go down in defeat, needs news leadership," said Brown, who has not formally announced as a candidate for the party's presidential nomination.

He said he was flatly opposed to the development of more nuclear plants.

"The ones we have we're going to have to phase out where that can be responsibly done," he said. He urged reliance on fossil fuels, solar energy, and natural gas to "give us the bridge we need until newer technologies are developed."

Brown, in his second four-year term, said he had a record in California of cutting taxes, but he said Congress was going to have to learn to cut spending.

"The Republicans are just saying cut the taxes and that will somehow make everything all right. I think Congress is going to have to bite the bullet and start curbing expenses."

Brown has not formally announced as a candidate, and his campaign organization is the "Brown for President Exploratory Committee."

Bob Hope Object Of Soviet Swipes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press is calling Bob Hope the "Pentagon's comedian" as the Kremlin steps up its swipes at that most American of institutions - Hollywood.

The list of film stars and movies attracting Moscow's attention is growing almost weekly, including Elizabeth Taylor, Jane Fonda, John Travolta, "Apocalypse Now," and even James Bond's "Moonraker."

The latest target of Soviet barbs is Hope, whose recent trip to China irked Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said this weekend, and not just because of what it said was his "low standard of comedy" about Chinese laundries.

"Now this clown, an envoy of the American military establishment, has visited China and made a movie whose goal is to advertise the Pentagon-backed policy of military and political rapprochement between Peking and Washington," Tass maintained.

It said Hope will be involved soon in a "New venture of a dubious nature," involving the Middle East.

According to the news agency, Hope has instructions from Washington to star in a show in Cairo commemorating the second anniversary of President Anwar Sadat's precedent-setting journey to Jerusalem.

Just last week, Tass denounced Miss Taylor's just-completed trip to Cairo, noting that not too long ago her films were boycotted in Egypt because of her strong pro-Israeli stand.

Why this avid Soviet interest in Hollywood's people and products?

The reason may well be that as more and more Western influences penetrate Soviet society, the government is feeling the need to combat what it sees as Hollywood's dangerously alluring glitter.

A Siberian schoolteacher proudly displays a West German magazine cover of teen idol Travolta, though she has never seen his films.

And Soviets line up to see Miss Taylor's U.S.-made "Cleopatra," now showing at local movie theaters, though it is years old.

Soviet citizens go to the cinema an average 17½ times a year, making them one of the world's leading movie-goers, behind Singapore and Hong Kong. In America, people go only about five times a year.

And the price of a movie ticket here is cheap, ranging from 45 to 75 cents.

Dear Abby

Boat People: Stormy Issue

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc

DEAR READERS: AMERICA FIRST wrote to say that we in the United States were foolish for taking in the "boat people." I disagreed.

Judging from the passionate response from my readers, I touched a raw nerve in a very nervous nation. My mail has been running roughly 200-to-1 in favor of AMERICA FIRST.

Some typical excerpts:

"Overpopulating is the basic cause of all the world's problems. Overbreeding Europeans took over America from the Indians. Are we going to let overbreeding Asiatics take over our country? We should help them only if they agree to be sterilized!

MT. CRAWFORD, W. VA."

"The immigrants who came here from other countries made this country great. Are we to deny others the same chance our forefathers had? By God, I hope not! If there's room in the heart, there's room in the land!

A VOICE FROM UTAH"

"I am sick to my stomach seeing our Navy planes and ships wasting our taxpayers' money searching for boat people.

We welcomed the Europeans who have similar lifestyles, but let the Chinese go where they can eat raw fish, rice, ride bicycles, live 20 in a room and smoke opium!

EL PASO, TEXAS"

"I have as much compassion as you concerning the refugees from Vietnam, but why must the United States take in as many as we can rescue? Some other countries have taken in a token few, but they are too practical to act as emotionally as we.

KAILUA, HAWAII"

"Now it is fashionable to open up our country to Vietnamese who are bringing more diseases with them than we have cures for. I think it's a Communist plot to destroy this country!

SHELBYVILLE, IND."

"If AMERICA FIRST had suffered one half the misery we in Holland had to endure at the hands of the Nazis, he would open his heart to the poor homeless boat people. I thank God every day for the generosity of America.

GRATEFUL IN SHERMAN OAKS, CALIF."

"The boat people have hit this country like flies, and we are paying for the cost of transportation, food and shelter! People say we have plenty of room in our country for them. I say, 'Baloney!' Why not send them to an unpopulated area like Alaska?

IRATE IN N.Y.C."

"Assisting the boat people is like the motorist who stops to pick up an attractive hitchhiker, only to have the husband, half a dozen kids, and aunts and uncles oozing out of the bushes for the ride. I'm with AMERICA FIRST; I haven't changed my name or my nose, and I am not anti-anything. Sign me . . .

PRO-WASP IN K.C., MO."

"I am a native San Franciscan, employed as a teacher in a city high school. I've seen hundreds of Asian-born students and know their families. As a rule, refugees from Burma, Cambodia, Vietnam, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Korea do not demand welfare, food stamps or special privileges. They are good workers, good students, good citizens and good neighbors.

FOR THE REFUGEES"

Damage From Oil Spill May Not Be Over Yet

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)- Damages to Texas caused by oil from a crippled Mexican well that has stained the state's southern Coastline may not be over yet.

But the autumn shift of Texas offshore currents to the south has helped push many large oil patches away from from shore, Coast Guard officials say.

And in the Bay of Campeche, Mexican authorities report they are on the brink of placing a cone over the runaway well to reduce the flow by 85 percent.

So far, seven weeks after the world's largest oil spill began blackening South Texas beaches, damage claims and cleanup costs total at least $360 million.

The U.S. Coast Guard reports $5.4 million has been spent or earmarked for beach cleanup and protection of inland bays. An additional $1.1 million is available for oil removal operations and more funds probably would be authorized by the U.S. Coast Guard command if that amount runs out.

Fears that the oil would kill thousands of birds, fish and marine animals have not come true.

However, scientists say they do not know what effect the oil will have on wildlife habitats if the brown crude settles on the ocean floor or at the bottom of freshwater bays.

The threat of oil, as well as its presence, is what has hurt the tourist-dependent economy of the Gulf Coast.

Three damage suits seeking a total of $355 million have been filed. The defendants are Pemex, the Mexican national oil company that owned the well; Permargo, a Mexican drilling contractor hired to operate the well; and SEDCO, a Dallas-based company that leased the offshore rig used at the Ixtoc I well.

Texas Attorney General Mark White says he will sue SEDCO to recover state costs of handling the spill. White said he will file suit after President Carter meets this weekend in Washington with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

Oct. 23 is the deadline for filing suits against SEDCO, the corporation founded by Texas Gov. Bill Clements. The international company claims it has a maximum $300,000 liability.

Clements Says...

Politics Behind SEDCO Lawsuit

DALLAS (AP)-Gov. Bill Clements says politics is behind a lawsuit planned by the Texas attorney general against the oil drilling equipment company the governor founded.

"I think it is more political rhetoric than substance," said the Republican governor, who returned to Texas Saturday from a 22-day trip to eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Attorney General Mark White, a Democrat, has promised to file suit against SEDCO, Inc., accusing it of partial liability because its equipment was used to drill a Mexican offshore well that blew out June 3 and spilled oil that stained Texas beaches two months later.

Clements also said he was not consulted about legal maneuvers SEDCO took to minimize lawsuits stemming from the oil on the Texas coast.

"One of these days, you all will believe I don't have anything to do with SEDCO anymore," said Clements, who put his interest in the company in a blind trust when he became governor.

He said he learned of legal action by SEDCO Saturday morning when his flight stopped in Holland, and also learned then of Texas Attorney General Mark White's announcement that he intends to sue SEDCO over oil spill damages.

Earlier this month, SEDCO filed a motion in a Houston federal court to have all suits related to the spill consolidated and to limit recoveries from damage to $300,000.

After that motion, White said he had no choice but to sue.

The drilling platform that blew out was towed to deep water and scuttled after the blowout, prompting White to claim the scuttling might have destroyed evidence that might have proved negligence.

Fishermen and tourism-related groups have filed two damage suits against SEDCO.

Clements said he believed the threat of a lawsuit by the State of Texas has been turned into a political football. He said Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard and State Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg had joined in criticizing the governor from his comments on the SEDCO role in the blowout.

Oswald: "I played against him many times. It was always a pleasant struggle. Here is a hand where the Army didn't give the Navy a chance to make a fine defensive play."

Alan: "I asssume that he won the diamond lead with his king. Led a club to dummy's king after you ducked and then returned the deuce of hearts."

Oswald: "The play destroyed all Navy communications. It didn't matter how we continued. He was able to play a second club, get to dummy later on and discard his last diamond on dummy's remaining high club."

Alan: "If Murray had routinely led a spade to his hand you would have taken your ace, led a second diamond, gone up with the ace of clubs when the suit was led next and underled your ace-queen of hearts to put your partner in with the king so he could take the setting diamond trick."

Oswald: "A nice play that I never had the chance to make.

NFL Notes Wild Weekend

By The Associated Press

Sometimes, it's quality that pays off for quarterbacks.

--Example: Tampa Bay's Doug Williams completed just five passes Sunday, but two of them went for touchdowns and the Bucs beat Los Angeles 21-6.

Sometimes, it's quantity that pays off for receivers.

--Example: Buffalo's Jerry Butler caught 10 passes for 255 yards and four TDs as the Bills trampled the New York Jets 46-31.

And sometimes, it's a little bit of both that pays off for benchwarmers.

--Example: Sub Craig Morton of Denver came in to complete 11 of 16 passes for 178 yards, throwing three TDs in 2½ minutes as the Broncos rallied for a 37-34 victory over Seattle.

In Sunday's other National Football League games, it was New England 27, San Diego 21; Pittsburgh 17, Baltimore 13; Minnesota 27, Green Bay 21 in overtime; Houston 30, Cincinnati 27 in overtime; Kansas City 35, Oakland 7; Washington 17, St. Louis 7; Detroit 24, Atlanta 23; New Orleans 30, San Francisco 21; Philadelphia 17, New York Giants 13; and Miami 31, Chicago 16.

Dallas plays at Chicago tonight.

Bucs 21, Rams 6

Unbeaten Tampa Bay packed three touchdowns into the second period, two of them on passes by Williams to Larry Mucker for 15 yards and Jimmie Giles for 29.

For the game, Williams finished with 5-of-20 and 101 yards but the quality of his completions outweighed the quantity.

Bills 46, Jets 31

Buffalo was trailing 24-12 when Butler caught a deflected pass and took it 75 yards for a TD on the final play of the first half.

That touched off a Buffalo burst that resulted in 34 consecutive points. Joe Ferguson threw for 367 yards and five TDs, with Butler's scores coming on 5, 75, 74 and 9-yard plays. His 255 yards was the seventh best single-game for a receiver in NFL history.

Broncos 37, Seahawks 34

Denver was trailing 34-10 halfway through the third quarter when Morton came off the bench to shatter Seattle.

Chiefs 35, Raiders 7

Kansas City sacked Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler six times, with Art Still recording four, in a victory dominated by the Chiefs' defense. Gary Barbaro returned a Stabler interception 70 yards for one TD and J.T. Smith returned a punt 88 yards for another score.

Tigers Finish Third In Monahans Tourney

MONAHANS -- Coach Joyce Elrod's varsity Tiger team won consolation here over the weekend, winning four straight matches to take the prize.

Snyder, 11-4, travels to Colorado City tonight for matches at 6 (junior varsity) and 7.

In other play here, Fabins defeated Monahans in the finals for first place, while San Angelo Central thumped Crane at grab third.

Snyder's lone loss here was to Central on the first day of the meet. The Tigers rallied by defeating Fort Stockton later in the day.

Named all-tournament from Snyder were Billie Owens and Lisa Cobb.

Friday, Snyder outlasted Denver City 15-3 and 16-14. Kim Harlin served up 9 points, while Sherry Mayes had 8, Patsy Casas 7, Cobb 5, Suzy Fisher 3 and Owens 2.

Saturday early action had Snyder ripping El Paso Andress 15-6 and 15-4. Cobb paced the effort with 10 points, while Mayes had 9, Casas and Harlin added 4 apiece, Fisher got 2 and Owens noted 1.

In consolation finals, Snyder dumped El Paso Bel Air 15-8 and 15-9. Harlin had 8, followed by Mayes with 7, Casas with 6, Fisher with 5, Cobb with 3 and Owens with 1.

"All of the girls had their good games," commented Coach Elrod. "All played well. The match with Denver City was the worst we've played in a while, but the next one, the one with Andress, was the best we played all weekend. Overall we played well for the tournament."

Angels Deflate Ranger Bubble

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Royals are knocking on the California Angels' penthouse door.

And tonight, they get a chance to break it down a little.

"Realistically, we have to sweep," says Kansas City Manager Whitey Herzog as the Royals open a do-or-die, three-game series with the American League West pacesetters.

The Royals remained three games behind the Angels by beating Oakland 4-2 Sunday while California was defeating Texas 6-1. Two victories by the Angels in the Kansas City series will give them the West title.

Winning pitcher Marty Pattin contributed to Kansas City's latest victory with seven strong innings in a rare starting assignment.

In other AL action, newly crowned AL East champion Baltimore lost a 4-3 decision to Cleveland, in the first game of a doubleheader before winning the nightcap 3-1; Milwaukee whipped Minnesota 8-7; New York outscored Toronto 7-5; Boston defeated Detroit 2-1, then lost a 3-2 decision and Seattle whipped Chicago 8-3.

Angels 6, Rangers 1

Carney Lansford's three-run homer keyed a six-run fifth inning and Dave Frost spun a six-hitter as California beat Texas. Frost, 16-9, allowed Texas' only run in the seventh on a sacrifice fly by Willie Montanez. Frost struck out five and didn't issue a walk.

After being limited to one hit by Ferguson Jenkins, 15-14, the Angels chased him with five consecutive hits starting the fifth.

Cats Third At Lamesa

LAMESA—Snyder freshmen took a third place victory at the Lamesa Volleyball Tournament held over the weekend.

The Tigers, 3-1, will host Kermit in Snyder's high school gym Thursday at 4 p.m.

Snyder defeated Andrews in its first match of the tourney, 6-15, 15-5 and 15-2, but lost to Lamesa 9-15 and 11-15 in the second round.

Playing for third place, the Tigers edged Denver City, 11-15, 15-9 and 17-5.

Competing for Snyder were Natalie Gist, Becky

Cowboys And Cleveland...

Undefeateds Vie Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)-If history repeats itself, as some believe, then the Cleveland Browns should be favored to beat the Dallas Cowboys in their National Football League clash tonight.

Instead, the Cowboys head into the meeting of undefeated teams as three-point favorites.

The kickoff of the nationally televised game is scheduled for 8:05 p.m. in front of a sellout crowd of more than 82,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

The Browns helped launch Monday night football on Sept. 21, 1970, with a 31-21 victory over the New York Jets. In fact, they've won four of their six appearances on Monday night, while the Cowboys have managed just one victory in eight appearances before the ABC cameras.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry shrugs off his team's Monday night history, saying, "I don't know why we've had so little success, but every game is different. You just have to take them as they come."

The Browns aren't thinking about past performances either, but most of them are happy for the chance to gain some national limelight.

Don Cockroft, the veteran placekicker who booted the winning field goal in Cleveland's last Monday night appearance - a 30-27 overtime victory over New England two years ago - is one of them.

"Every game is important, but I can say I'm glad they feel we're worthy of being on national television, and it also will be great playing one of the best teams in football," Cockroft said.

Browns running star Greg Pruitt has another reason for looking forward to the national exposure.

"It should be a great measuring stick as to what kind of team we are, and how good a running back I am. I think I'm as good as any guy in the game, and I'm looking forward to going head-to-head with Dallas running back Tony Dorsett," Pruitt said.

The powerful Cowboys made it to the Super Bowl last season. But they lost to Pittsburgh in that game and have not been impressive in three cliffhanger victories so far this season.

Despite that, they're favored by the experts against the Browns, who also have three narrow victories to their credit. But that doesn't bother Cleveland.

"They're just another football team with different jerseys and helmets, as far as I'm concerned," said Browns wide receiver Reggie Rucker, who began his NFL career 10 years ago with the Cowboys.

"They've been given a lot of credit for giving football its sophisticated edge, but it still comes down to tackling and blocking," Rucker added. "when they don't do that, they lose - just like anybody else."

Landry figures the game as a toss-up, saying, "They've been playing very well, just about the way we've been doing. We both have been winning close games, so I would think we're pretty evenly matched and should have a great game."

Netters Thrash Lubbock Duo

LUBBOCK -- Snyder's varsity tennis team lost only four matches out of 40 in defeating Dunbar, 18-1, and Estacado, 18-3, in matches played here Saturday.

Reds, Expos Win...

Races Tighten More

By The Associated Press

For the Pittsburgh Pirates and Montreal Expos, there was no time to savor the lastest crucial victory. The next "must-win" game was only a day away, and both teams knew it would stay that way - for the next few days, anyway.

Because tonight the Pirates and Expos play a twi-night doubleheader to start a four-game series that, in the words of Pirates Manager Chuck Tanner, "could decide the National League East title.

"This four-game series now has become the most important series of the year for the Pirates and the Expos," he said.

So by the time the last pitch had been thrown, Jim Bibby's three-hit, 6-0 masterpiece over the Chicago Cubs had been shunted to the background - it lay behind the Pirates, not ahead.

"This game was just as important as any coming up in the Montreal series," said the Pittsburgh right-hander, aware the first-place Expos had beaten the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 to maintain a one-half game lead over the Pirates in the National League's East Division.

"That one-half game," said Tanner, "doesn't mean a thing."

It meant a lot to Expos catcher Gary Carter.

"Our fate is in our hands," he said after Andrew Dawson hit two solo homers and Chris Speier drove in three runs with a single and a two-run homer to back Bill Lee and Montreal. "The whole season could be riding on that Pittsburgh series."

On Sunday, the Cincinnati Reds and Houston Astros completed what had been billed as just such a series. The first-place Reds scored a controversial 7-1 triumph over the second-place Astros and boosted to 1½ games their NL West lead.

The key play came with two out in the Reds' fourth, when Ray Knight - easily beaten to the plate by the throw to Astros catcher Luis Pujols - was ruled safe at home by plate umpire Joe West.

Now the Astros hit the road for their final seven games, while the Reds play their last six at home.

In other games Sunday, St. Louis trimmed New York 7-4 in 10 innings, San Francisco edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 5-2.

Oilers Nudge Past Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)-Houston Oiler Coach Bum Phillips had room to second-guess himself after Sunday's 30-27 overtime victory against the Cincinnati Bengals, since the Oilers nearly fumbled away Toni Fritsch's chance to kick a 29-yard field goal to defeat the winless Bengals.

"Hindsight is always better, but that was poor coaching," Phillips said. "I probably should have kicked it on the first play. You saw what we did on the next."

Earl Campbell had rescued the Oilers from a fourth-and-inches situation at the Bengal 33-yard line, but Houston again sent Campbell up the middle for one yard rather than kick.On the next play, Campbell carried wide and the ball was jarred loose.

The Bengals recovered, but defensive end Ross Browner was detected offsides on the play. Houston got the ball at the Cincinnati 12 yard line with 38 seconds left, and Fritsch kicked a 29-yard field goal that bounced off the left upright and through the goalposts.

Campbell finished with 158 yards in 34 carries, incluing an eight-yard touchdown run. Quarterback Dan Pastorini passed for two touchdowns, and Fritsch kicked three field goals, altogether, as Houston upped its record to 3-1 and Cincinnati fell to 0-4.

'It hurts to lose. There's no way to describe the hurt," said Bengal Coach Homer Rice.

"But we'll bounce back. It's still early in the season."

The Bengals dominated the first 24 minutes of play behind rookie quarterback Jack Thompson, subbing for the injured Ken Anderson. Dick Jauron picked off two Pastorini passes, Pete Johnson scored twice on one-yard runs and rookie Charles Alexander on a two-yarder and Chris Bahr kicked a 52-yard field goal.

"Everything we did early went against us, and the same thing for them in the second half," Phillips said.

"The two interceptions killed us, but then we hit on our basic stuff," said Pastorini. "We made early mistakes but were able to make the adjustments we needed."

Pastorini hit Kenny Burrough in the endzone with a 35-yard scoring pass with just under five minutes left in the second quarter and Fritsch kicked a 43-yarder to close the half.

"Houston seemed like they were out of the ballgame, and we allowed them to lull us to sleep," said Bengal defensive end Gary Burley. "Once you let down, you give the other team the momentum."

Houston scored the next three times it had the ball, recovering the second-half kickoff to set up Campbell's touchdown run, Pastorini hitting Rich Caster on a 24-yard touchdown play and Fritsch kicking a 47-yarder with 1:53 left in the third quarter.

Bahr sent the game into overtime when he kicked a 55-yard field goal with 3:26 left in regulation play, eclipsing the club field goal record of 53 yards set by Horst Muhlman in 1970.

Bahr missed a 32-yard attempt in overtime that would have given the game to the Bengals.

Cardinals Crush Hosting Blackwell

BLACKWELL — Hermleigh's Cardinals picked up their first win of the season here Saturday night, spoiling Blackwell's homecoming festivities in the process.

The Cardinals, 1-2, host Water Valley, 0-1, on Friday.

Hermleigh, sparked by John Williamson and Chip Roemisch, ripped off a 30-0 tote before Blackwell found the end zone in the second period.

Williamson scored on runs of 1 and 3 yards and Roemisch, quarterback, hit Kenny Riley for touchdown passes of 30 and 48 yards as the Cardinals steam rolled the hosts. Roemisch added three of four points-after kicks.

Highland got on the board late in the second period as Brad Holland crossed over from 25 yards out. Blake Holland kicked the points-after.

Hermleigh went to work again in the second half as Roemisch hit Smiley Fuentes on a 17-yard scoring pass. Roemisch added the PAT kick.

Early in the quarter, Coach Clarence Spieker began substiting his talented but inexperienced squad, and Hermleigh apparently lost no force by doing so.

Dennis Jones promptly ran back a punt for 56 yards and scored later from 12 yards away before Black Holland took off on a 55-yard scoring run to make the score 50-14.

In the third quarter, Jones scored on a 5-yard run. Then, with six minutes left on the clock, Williamson brought the points rule into effect by blocking a Blackwell punt into the end zone and falling on it for the final touchdown.

"We're still learning," said Coach Spieker, who lost a heap of talent to graduation last year and is still without would-be starter Johnny Arellano - who hopefully will be in good health by the district wars. "We've still got a ways to go. We're doing some good things, but we're still making an awful lot of mistakes. It's just learning."

College Powers Find Saturday's Fare Tough

By The Associated Press

Southern California poured it on in the first half, Alabama rolled it up in the second half and Oklahoma split things pretty much down the middle. But no matter how you slice it, college football's three top-ranked teams had matters firmly under control Saturday.

The same could not be said for the rest of The Associated Press Top Twenty. Notre Dame, Penn State and Pittsburgh were losers while Texas, Nebraska, Michigan State, Missouri and Washington had to rally for second-half victories.

There likely will be no changes at the top of this week's ratings. Top-ranked Southern Cal surged to a 35-0 halftime lead as All-America Charles White rushed for 153 yards and two touchdowns and plastered Minnesota 48-14.

Meanwhile, runnerup Alabama broke open a relatively close game with four touchdowns in the final period and flattened Baylor 45-0 while third-ranked Oklahoma scored 21 points in the opening period, 21 more in the final one and crushed Tulsa 49-13.

Elsewhere, though, fourth-ranked Texas overcame a 9-3 halftime deficit to turn back Iowa State 17-9, fifth-ranked Notre Dame was knocked off 28-22 by No. 17 Purdue, Texas A&M stunned No. 6 Penn State 27-14, No. 7 Nebraska and No. 8 Michigan squeaked past Iowa and Miami of Ohio, respectively, by 24-21 scores and ninth-ranked Missouri walloped Mississippi 33-7 after trailing 7-3 at halftime. Houston, the No. 10 team, was idle.

The only loser in the Second Ten was No. 13 Pitt, which bowed to North Carolina 17-7. Eleventh-ranked Michigan downed Kansas 28-7, No. 12 Washington edged Oregon 21-17, No. 14 Florida State thrashed Miami, Fla., 40-23, No. 15 Arkansas whipped Oklahoma State 27-7, No. 16 Ohio State trimmed Washington State 45-29, No. 18 Southern Methodist held off North Texas State 20-9, No. 19 North Carolina State trounced West Virginia 38-14 and No. 20 UCLA mauled Wisconsin 37-12.

Ira Underclassmen Zap McCaulley Eagles 56-19

IRA—Ira's junior high gridders dumped McCaulley last week, 56-19.

The Bulldogs scored on the first play of the game as William Coton snared a pass from Wayne Fox for 65 yards. Fox tacked on the two-point conversion.

McCaulley scored on runs of 5 and 12 yards, but Ira held a 25-12 halftime lead. Ira's other first-half TDs came on a 34-yard pass from Fox to Larry Bounds, a 6-yard run by Danny Denson and a 25-yarder by Cotton. The 'Dogs pulled off one conversion, a pass from Fox to Mike Murphy.

Ira jumped out to a good start in the second half as Fox took the opening kickoff and returned it 60 yards for a score.

Later, Cotton found Charlie Sanchez open for a 10-yard scoring pass. Fox, followed with the PAT.

Again Ira scored with Cotton hitting Fox on a 32-yarder. Fox kicked the points-after. The final Bulldog score was on a 58-yard run by Cotton. Jay Clark booted the points-after.

McCaulley scored on a 37-yard run and passed for the 1-point PAT to complete the contest.

Grain Strikers Appear To Be Near Settlement

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)— Striking millers and the last of eight grain elevator companies have reached a tentative contract agreement that could end a two-month labor dispute which blocked the shipment of a bumper harvest and cost Midwest farmers at least $1 billion.

Grain shipments from Duluth and its twin port, Superior, Wis., could resume as early as Wednesday if the 530 members of Local 118 of the American Federation of Grain Millers approve the new contracts in balloting set for Tuesday, said to John Rogers, spokesman for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The last of the proposed contracts was reached Sunday in Minneapolis after a 19-hour session between the union and the giant General Mills Co. Rogers said union negotiators would recommend approval of all eight agreements, but no details were released.

The strike began over a wage dispute on July 6, a week after the old contracts expired, and quickly spread to all eight elevators in the Twin Ports.

By July 25, the walkout had halted all shipments through the Twin Ports to Lake Superior, aggravating the impact of a strike against the Rock Island railroad, a major Midwest grain hauler, just as a bumper harvest began in the Midwest.

The talks were conducted by top federal mediator Wayne L. Horvitz, under orders from President Carter. "These were very difficult and complicated negotiations because each company negotiates a separate contract with the union," Horvitz said.

The strike has had a severe impact on farmers in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, who could not move their crops to elevators for shipment to market. Thousands of tons of grain were already piled up on farms across the Midwest by farmers unable to get trains cars to move it to market and hoping for price increases.

Charles Rhoades, head of the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers, said the strike caused $1 billion loss in his state alone, with the millers' walkout responsible for the slowdown among farmers, shippers, truckers and country elevator operators.

Davis Helberg, director fo the Duluth Port Authority, said 22 ocean-going ships are in the harbor waiting to load grain. He estimated the strike had cost $40 million in "direct economic impact to the port including lost earnings and services."

About 35 percent of all food shoppers begin sets - such as china or encyclopedias -- at supermarkets.

Only one in three who start buying ever complete the set.

Charley horse help

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My son had what he called a charley horse in his leg. It left a huge knot and a mass of broken blood vessels about five inches long and covering a good part of the front of his thigh. I thought that a charley horse occurred only in the back muscles of the calf or the back of the thigh. I've had them that left knots but never broken vessels.

The only two people I knew who had this happen other than my son were a womap in her 80s and a man is his 60s and I attributed it to old age until it happened to my son and he's only 43.

Do you consider this as something serious? What could cause it? Is it a vitamin deficiency and what can be done to prevent it from happening? Needless to say, I'm very worried.

DEAR READER — I've recently had an epidemic of letters about charley horses. These letters demonstrate that people have entirely different ideas about what a charley horse really is.

The term is most often used in athletes who develop an area of tenderness and soreness in the muscle and that often occurs from some extra athletic effort, something that strains or overworks the muscles. The most common location is over the front of the thigh muscle.

The muscle fibers are irritated and some may actually be torn. As a result, there's swelling and sometimes there's bleeding into the area which causes black and blue spots. Tenderness and stiffness are usually part of the picture. The charley horse usually heals spontaneously and it helps to apply heat and massage to induce some comfort.

It is important to know how to treat swellings and when to use cold and heat. I am sending you The Health Letter number 11-6, Swelling: Causes And Management, to give you more information on this. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents in check or coin with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Now not everyone who develops a bruise or lump in the muscle has that type of charley horse. I have no idea what your son really has and it would have to be looked at and examined to be sure what it is. Just because he's 43 doesn't mean he couldn't have sprained his muscles from overwork, particularly if he was doing something that used his thigh muscles a great deal.

I doubt very much that the 80-year-old woman you spoke of was having muscle pains or cramps because of unusual athletic activity. A letter from another reader indicates that she thinks a charley horse is a muscle cramp and she described it as being throughout her body. Muscle cramps are an entirely different problem and may be caused by a variety of things from inadequate circulation to a disturbance in calcium, salt or other chemical imbalances in the body.

Since the athletic type of charley horse is often associated with muscle injury, it follows that injury from other mechanisms can produce a similar picture. Unless your son knows he injured his thigh muscle through some direct injury or from overuse, he should let a physician determine what he really has.

Rising Cost Of Labor 1 Cause For High Food

WASHINGTON (AP)— The price of food products at the farm varies considerably from year to year and among the different commodities involved, but the Agriculture Department says rising labor costs have had a steady impact on consumer food prices in recent years.

Recent figures and economic studies show that in the five-year period of 1973-78 the situation shaped up this way:

--Retail food prices, on the average, rose about 10 percent a year.

--The "farm value" of food, roughly what farmers get for raw products, averaged approximately 4.5 percent higher each year.

--Labor costs of getting food from farmers to consumers, including processing and handling, rose an average of more than 10 percent annually.

"The rising cost of labor has been a major factor behind food price inflation in the '70s," says the department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service. "Even in years when farm prices did not increase, marketing costs - and labor, in particular - continued to push retail prices up."

When food eaten away from home is included along with groceries, the labor cost of getting food from farms to family tables accounts for about 32 cents of each $1 Americans spend on eating.

The farmer's share of the food dollar is about the same, 32 cents, and the remainder is split between transportation, 5 cents; profits, 5 cents; packaging, 8 cents; and "other" expenses such as taxes, interest and the like, 18 cents, according to USDA analysts.

"The key factor is labor productivity, which has not grown fast enough to offset sharp gains in wages," the report said, "In addition to wages, worker benefits, the minimum wage and total employment in the food industry have all increased in recent years."

Hourly wages of workers in the food marketing pipeline still average less than those in major non-farm industries, but they are rising at a faster rate - 8.4 percent a year in the 1973-78 period against 7.6 percent for other workers.

One reason for the faster rise is the "flexibility possible in pricing foods," which enables the food industry to "pass increased labor costs on to consumers without suffering much reduced demand," the report said.

Analysts provided these comments on what they called "the slow rise in labor output" in the 1970s:

--"Business has been reluctant to invest in new plants and equipment because of rising costs and lack of confidence in the economy.

--"Environmental and safety rules have directed capital away from labor saving investments into less-productive, though perhaps more socially desirable, uses.

--"Due to rising energy costs, some energy-intensive equipment has become uneconomical or obsolete. As a result, labor has begun to be substituted for energy, reducing total output.

12-MONTH GAS SAVER TUNE-UP!

Includes 3 FREE Electronic Check-Ups To Save You Gas All Year Long

Here's How It Works

Under this special service policy Goodyear will tune your car electronically, following the 7-point check list shown here. Anytime within one year of your tune-up, take your invoice and free engine analysis certificate back to the store that performed the tune-up, and Goodyear will provide an electronic analysis free of charge. (Up to 3 separate analyses are provided free during the year.) If any of these check-ups indicate the need for any adjustment or part replacement (that were part of the original tune-up), Goodyear will make the adjustment or replacement free of charge. What could be fairer than that!

Tight-Formation Basins:

NOW ANOTHER MAJOR SOURCE OF NATURAL GAS IN TEXAS!

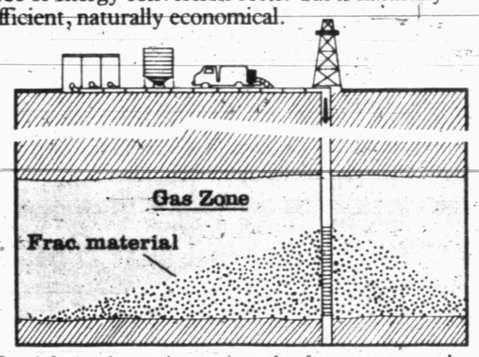
Tight-formation reservoirs are now among the industry's hottest new gas prospects. Good, because there are thousands of square miles of these gas-rich formations beneath Texas. These basins are in areas crisscrossed by Lone Star's pipeline system, which means we'll have excellent opportunities to buy this new gas.

"TIGHT" FORMATIONS

Shaded areas indicate the major tight-formation gas basins in Texas.

The excitement, the sudden interest in these reserves, is being created by massive hydraulic fracturing — a new improvement in a proven technology. This process forces crevices into a tight formation and gives the gas faster routes to the wells. Expensive? Yes, but it can greatly increase production rates.

Even at higher prices, gas remains economical to use because it works for you in its original form — free of energy conversion costs. Gas is naturally efficient, naturally economical.



Special pumping equipment is used to force enormous volumes of, sand-bearing fluid down the well and into the tight formation under extreme pressure. The fractures created by this force are propped open by the sand. These fractures, which can extend for up to a half-mile on either side of the well, give the gas faster flow routes through the formation.

Gas. It's plentiful, efficient and right for the times.

Nuclear Rally Ends Peaceful

NEW YORK (AP)—It was billed as a protest against nuclear power. By the time it ended, sunny skies, free music and a controversial issue drew an estimated 200,000 people to the tip of Manhattan for a "No Nukes" rally.

Why did they gather here on the crisp first day of autumn?

"It was mainly for the music that I came, and to remember Woodstock and the '60s," said Princeton student Janine Verbinski, 20.

"People here will learn about the cause," said Jonie Miller, who came to take a stand against nuclear energy and sat in the front row.

The peaceful day-long gathering was the largest anti-nuclear, pro-solar rally in history and the focus of a day of similar protests nationwide. There were no arrests or other incidents here.

Fire Destroys Cabin At Lake

A small cabin on the south side of Lake J.B. Thomas was destroyed by a fire late Saturday night. The structure was owned by Jeff Bartlett, firefighters reported.

Responding first to the call was a fire control unit operated by the Colorado River Muncipal Water District lake patrol. Snyder firefighters were notified of the call about 11 p.m.

Fire Chief Alfred Kohl said he has not ascertained the cause of the fire.

Tractor

prevent metal from flying in the event of an explosion, was not in place on the tractor. Officials of the sponsoring Southwest Hardware and Implement Association would not confirm that the safety guard was missing.

It was the first time in the show's four years that such an accident has occurred, though tractors blow out engines often.

Officers said there was no panic among the crowd.

"We used the loudspeaker system and told people to sit down and stay out of the aisles," Police Lt. Mike Culpepper said.

"I've been in this business now some 40 odd years, and the spectators were absolutely fantastic," said Owen, "They helped, they worked, you couldn't have asked for anything better."

C.D. and his brother Don Gray have competed with the tractor in numerous pulls in Texas and New Mexico without mishap.

The brothers started their farming operation in Snyder in 1961. C.D. is primarily responsible for the farming end of the partnership. Both are Scurry County natives, the sons of C.D. Gray Sr. and the late Mrs. Gray.

Two Knives Are Missing

Five juveniles were picked up and questioned by police in connection with the disappearance of two knives from the G&G Grocery Store.

The juveniles, who ranged in age from 12 to 16, were later released. The incident was reported to police about 7:15 p.m. Sunday and was investigated by officer Buddy Kinney.

Dale Whittenburg investigated a minor traffic accident Saturday night about 8:30. The collision occurred in the 4100 block of College Ave. and involved a 1977 Ford driven by Tracy Collier and a 1973 Chevrolet driven by Robert Neeley.

Saturday morning Joe Alexander told officer Dale Burns that a 1962 Chevrolet pickup truck he owns had its front and back windshields broken out. No dollar estimate of the damage was available.

Basin's Rig Count Rises

Drilling activity increased again last week in Permian Basin oil fields, according to Reed Rock Bit Company's weekly survey. The count showed 284 rigs running, an increase of five over the previous week and 14 more than recorded in the corresponding week of 1978.

Lea County, N.M., had 40 rigs in operation to lead the Basin. Pecos County was the West Texas leader with 21.

Scurry County had two rigs making hole, the same as the week before. Figures for other area counties, with last week and the week before, in order: Borden 3 and 2; Dawson 2 and 3 Garza 6 and 5; Howard 10 and 11; Kent 3 and 3; Mitchell 2 and 3.
