HST To Carry Labor Issues To People

President Planning Important Talk To Nation First Week Of New Year

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26—President Truman will carry his labor and other legislative proposals directly to the people in a radio address probably during the first week in January. It will be a state of the union address to start off 1946.

This announcement today came from the President at his federal building offices here in a news conference. Mr. Truman interrupted a busy Christmas homecoming to go to his office where he met friends and exchanged Christmas greetings. At the press conference he laughed off a suggestion he go back to Washington by train. The President replied in the negative when a reporter said he heard the address would be an anti-labor one.

On Overall Setup

"Oh no, it won't be that, it will be on the overall legislative program—a state of the union address," he said.

(Washington today reported that the President also likely will deliver his annual address to Congress in person on its reconvening Jan. 14, and that the speech may be set by television broadcast. The President's nationwide address to the people would precede his appearance before Congress).

The President's proposals for ending labor strife through use of fact-finding boards and a 30-day "cooling off" period while threatened strikes are under consideration was submitted to Congress recently. Much of the remainder of his legislative program has been stalemated on Capitol Hill.

First on the President's busy program today was a journey to pay his second Christmas call on his mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, 93, and exchange Christmas gifts. He ate a turkey sandwich and a piece of her Christmas cake, and found her spry and alert. The gifts, he said, were the kind of sentimental things you would give your mother, and receive from her.

Mrs. Truman, because of her age, was weatherbound at Grandview, Mo. Snow and ice covers everything. The elements, however, failed to stop the President

Hopes Fading For Trapped Coal Miners

PINEVILLE, Ky., Dec. 26.—The majority of workers, miners and families of the 30 to 50 miners entombed by a coal mine explosion here today, abandoned hope tonight that any of the trapped men would be brought out alive.

Rescue workers were reported to have encountered flames 3,100 feet from the mine entrance tonight, running into an inferno of burning debris and coal less than half way to where the trapped miners were believed to be entombed.

Blast Believed Violent

Indications were that the explosion was a violent one, and Daniel Harrington, of the Bureau of Mines at Washington, said it was probable that all the trapped men were killed.

Highway Patrolman Austin Hall, who reported the latest developments, said the miners were believed to be trapped at the deadend of the two and one-half mile long mine.

All available means were being employed to combat the flame, which apparently had been burning since the explosion occurred about 8:30 a. m.

To Take Some Time

Rescuemen had been in the mine seven hours, digging through piled framing, dislodged coal, smoke and gas fumes, when they came upon the fire.

Hall said it appeared unlikely that the explosion area could be reached short of "two or three days," and that there appeared little hope that the men could be reached in time.

The explosion, which mine operator W. E. Lewis said occurred about 8:30 a. m. (CST) today, was so far back from the mine entrance it was not heard above ground.

Rescue Squads At Work

Rescue crews, trained for such work, were summoned from several mines in the southeastern Kentucky coal fields. First squads entered the mine's lone exit shortly before noon, Lewis said, while clouds of smoke still boiled from the pit opening.

The source of the smoke was not determined immediately and there were no indications what caused the explosion. Lewis said the mine ranged back from two to two and one half miles from the pit entrance.

The number of day shift men was smaller than usual, company official said, because full production had not been resumed since yesterday's Christmas Day holiday.

Scores of persons, many of them relatives of miners, began to gath-

Business, Financial Outlook For 1946

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For more than four decades, Roger W. Babson, noted economist, has been forecasting at each year's end the nation's economic prospects for the year ahead. Amazingly accurate, the Babson reports have become a rule and guide for American business and professional men, farmers and investors. Below, by special arrangement with Mr. Babson, The Avalanche-Journal presents his forecast for the Year 1946.)

New Walkout Said Planned

By WILLIAM NEEDHAM
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 — The government ran into delay today in government conciliation talks and union leaders declared a strike of 200,000 CIO Electrical Workers appeared inevitable after Jan. 5.

The union announcement followed a two-hour conference with U. S. Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren, who had invited it to talk over its demand of $2 a day wage increases.

Parley Set Friday

General Electric and Westinghouse were asked to meet with Warren on Friday, but he said the former rejected a meeting this week. Westinghouse early tonight announced in Pittsburgh it would attend such a meeting on Jan. 2.

Prior to the Westinghouse announcement Warren said he had not heard from that firm, and that he did not know what the labor department's next move would be.

Approval Is Expressed

The announcement of W. G. Marshall, Westinghouse vice president, was read to Warren and the conciliation director commented:

"I am glad to learn from the Associated Press that he is going to be in Washington Jan. 2. The conciliation service will be happy to see him. I am sorry to learn he cannot come down this week. I still hope the General Electric can go to Washington for a similar conference."

Marshall said "an informal discussion" with the labor department of the demand would not mean that "a breach existed between the parties involved." The union has taken the view that bargaining has been broken off.

Union To Meet Jan. 5

After the union conference with Warren and before the Westinghouse announcement, James Matles, organization director for the workers, stated the union executive board would meet Jan. 5 in New York. There, he said, it will exercise the strike authorization voted earlier this month by 83 per cent of the union's membership.

The actual date of the projected walkout will be set by union locals but Matles indicated the date would be coordinated and the strike will be simultaneous.

Progress Made In GM Parley

DETROIT, Dec. 26. (AP) — The strikebound General Motors corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers agreed today to discuss minor grievances but reached no understanding on the all-important 30 per cent wage increase issue.

Spokesmen for both sides said the wage issue—crux of the strike that has idled 175,000 GM production workers since Nov. 21—did not figure in today's negotiating session.

Local Issues Talked

It marked the first time they had conferred since their Dec. 20-21 appearance at Washington before a special fact-finding board which President Truman named to study the strike issues.

The conferees, although aware that hearings are due to be resumed before the fact-finding board Friday if no agreement is reached before that time, discussed only local grievance procedure during a four hour meeting.

Talks To Start

Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, announced that the "principle of beginning negotiations at the plant level has been agreed upon and that they will begin shortly." He cautioned however that the decision to discuss such local issues between GM plants and individual UAW locals would not affect overall negotiations on the wage issue.

The conference broke up without scheduling another meeting here Thursday, but both sides denied that this meant a general

GEN. BREHON SOMERVELL
... Ends Long Army Career

Service Force Chief Named

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson today announced appointment of Lt. Gen. Leroy Lutes as commanding general, Army Service Forces, effective Jan. 1, to succeed Gen. Brehon Somervell who is retiring.

Lutes, a native of Cairo, Ill., was director of plans and operations on Army Service Forces from March, 1942, until April, 1945, when he became chief of staff and deputy commanding general, Army Service Forces, headquarters Washington.

Somervell's Work Praised

The Patterson statement said "it is with extreme regret that I announce retirement of Gen. Somervell as commanding general of the Army Service Forces. In organizing and directing the worldwide supply lines on which our troops depended on their offensive power, Gen. Somervell performed the service without parallel in military history.

Somervell, a native of Little Rock, Ark., is 53. He was appointed commanding general of the service of supply on March 24, 1942. The next year it was redesignated the Army Service Forces. He was given the temporary rank of general last March.

Lutes Is Army Veteran

Lutes saw service in six combat zones in the last war. In 1942, he initiated plans to assure adequate supply support for American forces in Britain. That year, he covered thousands of miles in the South and Southwest Pacific coordinating supply.

Later, Lutes assisted in preparation for logistical support of Air Transport activities through Brazil and to supply troops en route to and from Africa. In August, 1943, he was back in the Pacific.

Prior to the invasion of France Lutes was called to Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters to advise and was instrumental in expediting action that delivered critical items to meet that invasion deadline.

Warmer Weather Is Forecast For Nation

(By The Associated Press)

The nation may have a respite from sleet, snow and cold waves at least until the week-end.

The U. S. weather bureau said the weather would be "fairly good" over most of the country for the next few days.

Lowest official reading in the last 24 hours was eight below zero at Minot, N. D., which the bureau described as seasonal for that locality.

The storm which brought a Christmas package of freezing rain, sleet and snow to north central and eastern states has moved northeastward to Quebec, leaving only snow flurries in the Great Lakes region.

A heavy Christmas snow storm left the Donner Summit highway in the Sierra Nevadas closed to automobile traffic. Trucks and buses were being convoyed by a highway patrol while snow plows worked to keep the 7,000-foot high pass open.

New Unity Is Said Reached

MOSCOW, Dec. 26—The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain were said late tonight to have reached on agreement on all points of their discussions and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were making arrangements for an early departure.

(The Moscow radio in a broadcast heard in London said that the conference had ended and that Byrnes would hold a press conference at 7:30 a. m. Thursday (10:30 p. m. CST Wednesday).

Announ ment Is Awaited

Diplomatic observers forecast a prompt announcement of "important and definite results" concerning the conference.

Unquestionably agreement has been achieved on many main issues, these observers said, adding that the conference has gone well beyond anything that had been expected even by Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Soviet Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov themselves.

All world ills have not been solved, these informants said, "but progress, and great progress, has been made."

Good Progress Indicated

(In ndon, foreign office officials were called back from holiday vacations to be at their posts for an expected release of the conference communique.

(London diplomatic observers felt it was safe to assume that the major part of the conference had been devoted to current pressing problems and that problems with long-range significance were discussed for the purpose of an exchange of views, with final settlement put off.)

The air of optimism persisted here right up to the closing hours of the conference. Observers pointed out that the rapidity with which the three statesmen reached an agreement on peace treaty pro-

Jap Guard Gets Life Sentence

YOKAHAMA, Thursday, Dec. 27. (AP)—Tatsuo Tsuchiya, a prison camp guard who was the first war crimes suspect to be tried in Japan, was convicted today of killing an American prisoner of war and was sentenced to hard labor for life.

The U. S. War Crimes commission adjudged that Tsuchiya, known as "Little Glass Eye," along with other Japanese "willfully, unlawfully and unmercifully beat and killed Pfc. Robert Gordon Teas" of Streator, Ill., a survivor of the Bataan Death March.

Had Asked Death Sentence

The prosecution had asked the death sentence for Tsuchiya.

The commission also convicted Tsuchiya on other specifications. One was that he and another guard "brutally beat and tortured one Sgt. G. J. Lundquist," another prisoner of war. Another was that on numerous occasions Tsuchiya abused and mistreated American and British prisoners of war by forcing them to form two ranks and slap each other.

He was acquitted on charges that he beat Pfc. Fred L. Kololis and Pvt. Vincente P. Vigil.

No Appeal Indicated

Tsuchiya stood impassive before the commission as the sentence was repeated to him by an interpreter after it was announced in English.

The commission reached its decision by a secret, written ballot on each specification and on the sentence. The defense counsel gave no indication of an appeal.

Others Face Trials

The commission adjourned until this afternoon to meet again for the trial of First Lt. Ken Yuri, charged with directing guards to bayonet an American soldier to death in front of a group of American officers.

A second commission will begin trial tomorrow morning of Lt. Chotora Furushima, charged with beating prisoners and denying them clothing. Capt. Beverly Coleman, USNR, of McClean, W. Va., will be president of this second commission.

Solons Score HST's Housing Program

Lower Cost Housing, Rents Given Boost

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Administration handling of the nation's housing shortages, particularly with reference to veterans, drew criticism on Capitol Hill today from the ranks of President Truman's own party.

Representatives Outland (D-Calif) and Woodhouse (D-Conn) usually staunch administration supporters, told newspapermen they believed housing conditions might be worsened rather than helped by the program intended to channel scarce material into houses costing $10,000 and less.

"Not many returning veterans can pay $10,000 for a home, or rent at $80 a month," Mrs. Woodhouse said. "What we need is houses to sell below $6,500 and to rent at $50 or less."

Outland voiced the opinion that the administration program, announced last week to become effective Jan. 15, would mean that virtually all new housing would sell close to the $10,000 limit.

"Veterans can't pay anywhere near that," he said. "I would like to see $5,000 houses."

Studying Putman Plan

The two representatives, both members of the House Banking committee which is considering housing legislation, said the government made a serious mistake last fall in repealing the wartime control that channelled scarce materials into low cost housing.

The banking group is studying a bill by Rep. Patman (D-Tex) that would restore rigid priority privileges for contractors building low and medium-priced houses, and provide price ceiling for new and old dwellings.

Controls Are Planned

John D. Small, Civilian Production administrator, said the government would see to it that "a fair share" of homes next year will sell for less than $10,000.

Beginning Jan. 15, he said, critically scarce building materials will be restored to a priority system designed to divert them to homes to sell at $10,000 or less, or rent at no more than $80 a month. Veterans will be given first call for purchase or rental of the new dwellings.

Outland and Mrs. Woodhouse want definite specifications in the new program that houses must be built for substantially less than the $10,000 figure.

Small, apparently anticipating a possible tendency to build only the most expensive houses allowed under his control program, told newspapermen:

"If we find that a preponderance of priorities applications are for homes to sell at the $10,000 ceiling we will establish quotas to see that a fair share of the homes built are in the lower price range."

Demos Planning Action In Texas

FORT WORTH, Dec. 26 (AP) — Bill B. Wills of Austin has accepted the chairmanship of the 34-member legislative committee of the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas, Jack Carter, president of the organization, announced here today.

The committee was created by resolution adopted at the recent state convention of the Young Democrats here and was charged with the responsibility of seeking legislation to make the program of the organization effective.

Halsey On Committee

In accordance with another resolution adopted by the convention, Carter expressed the view in a letter to Wills that top place on the legislative program should be given to the quetion of repeal of the poll tax as a requisite for voting in Texas. Carter pointed out that there is a difference of opinion as to whether the repeal could be accomplished by act of the legislature or would require a constitutional amendment.

Other members of the newly created state legislative committee are: William B. Williams, Dallas; William C. Murray, jr., San Antonio; Ernest J. Browne, Beaumont; H. Y. Price, Austin; James C. Wright, jr., Weatherford; Oscar Lentz, Denton; Bernard Rapoport, Waco; William L. Donnell, Wichita Falls; Ernest Quinn, El Paso; Terrell Sledge, Kyle; Garrett E. Chinese Peace Hopes Are Hit

CHUNGKING, Dec. 26—Hopes of an early truce in China's undeclared civil war received another setback tonight when a scheduled formal resumption of negotiations between government and Communist leaders was postponed.

Representatives of the two sides met, but their encounter was described as an "informal social occasion," and a truce proposal which Communists earlier had said they would deliver in writing today was not presented.

Marshall Given Plan

A government spokesman, Minister of Information K. C. Wu, skeptically commented that the Communist truce offer, described as "unconditional" when it was first mentioned Dec. 19, actually had strings to it. He said it was conditioned on withdrawal of government forces from the railroads.

Leaders of the Democratic league, third largest political group in China, laid before Gen. George C. Marshall their organization's view of the troubled internal situation.

Marshall also received a letter from one of the leaders of the league, Prof. Chang Hi-Man, director of the Chinese Institute for Research of National minorities, urging the use of American troops to safeguard the implementation of any truce which might be agreed on. He suggested they should accompany Chinese truce supervisors to the various fronts.

Turks Sound Warning Nation Would Fight For Territory

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ISTANBUL, Dec. 25. (Delayed) —The semi-official news agency Anatolia said today that "for one inch of Turkish territory, all Turkey is ready to throw itself into the fire," and branded as "crazy" recent Geofgian demands, prominently displayed in the Soviet press, that Russia annex a strategic 180-mile stretch of the Black sea coast.

Anatolia's declaration reflects local sentiment growing out of an opinion expressed recently by Istanbul's conservative newspaper, Tasvir, which said "Turkey will answer no to all territorial demands and, if she is told that there will be war, she will answer 'all right we will fight.'"

The "territorial demand," published in the form of a letter from two intellectuals of the Georgian Soviet Socialist Republic, Stalin's birthplace, appeared in the Moscow press as the Big Three foreign ministers prepared to convene.

An area raching 180 milss southwest of the Russian oil port of Batumi to Giresun, stretching inland as deep as 75 miles, and defined as "our ancient land taken by Turkey," was sought by the writers, S. R. Djanashia, doctor of historical science, and N. Berdzenishvili, both members of the Science Academy of the Georgian Republic.

Texas' Holiday Death Total Hits 55; Slayings Take 17

(By The Associated Press)

Texas Christmas holiday death toll mounted to 55 Wednesday night.

Traffic accidents took 33 lives. Scores of others were injured.

Seventeen slayings were reported. Fires claimed two lives and an electrocution and two accidental firearms deaths accounted for the other four.

One of the last traffic accidents to occur involved a Dallas-bound bus from Houston. One passenger was killed and 11 others were injured when the bus plunged from a creek bridge as it neared Dallas shortly after midnight.

The 33 traffic fatalities were considerably less than the 60 predicted by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Public Cooperation Cited

Director Homer Garrison attributed this to three factors:

The assistance of the press and radio in alterting the public to holiday traffic dancers, alertness on the part of law enforcement officers and the relatively clear weather with little rain and no snow or ice.

The fire deathes occurred at Beaumont where Sabas Elizalde, 50, of Laredo died in an apartment house blaze and near Henderson were Arthur Rickett, 75, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home.

The President, the magazine said, "somewhat unwittingly, somewhat against his own will, became more than any other an responsible for the bomb, its use in 1945 and its future."

Except for the bomb, the greatest event of 1945 would have been the surrender of Germany and Japan, and the greatest men of the year would have been Allied military men, the magazine declared.

Talks With Britain, France On Franco Regime Approved

U.S. Break With Spain Talked

By Graham Hovey
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. — Although critical of all three regimes, the United States today took simultaneous steps in the direction of a diplomatic break with one European government and recognition of two others.

At his news conference, Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson disclosed these prospects:

To Discuss Spanish Regime

1. The U. S. has indicated willingness to discuss with the British and French governments all aspects of the relations of the three countries with Generalissimo Franco's Spanish regime.

2. Once the U. S., Britain and Russia have concluded peace treaties with Romania and Bulgaria on lines laid down by the Big Three foreign ministers at Moscow, this government will be ready to recognize regimes of the two Balkan states.

France proposed American-British-French discussions on Franco, and, presumably, on the Spanish Republican government-in-exile, now quartered in Mexico City, several weeks ago.

British Also in Talks

Acheson said the U. S. reply, expressing this government's complete willingness to talk about Franco wherever and whenever the French suggest, was delivered in Paris yesterday or Monday. He added that Britain also had sent a reply, but that he was not at liberty to say what it contained.

In London, a foreign office spokesman said British had informed France she would take part in a three-day conference on the Spanish situation if the French proposed one.

While the British dislike the French regime, this spokesman said, current policy is to let France or the United States take the lead in suggesting any action.

In answer to a question, Acheson said discussions could start any time—possibly early in January—but that the time and place are up to France.

It is believed possible that the talks may take place during the open session of the United Nations Assembly in London next month. Foreign ministers Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France and Secretary of State Byrnes all will be in attendance.

Moscow Parley Gives Big Three Control Over Peace Treaties

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

Stripped to essentials, the Moscow agreement on European peace treaties means that they will be dictated to a large extent by the Big Three.

The result is a diplomatic victory for Russia, which insisted on that in the first place. It represents a measure of compromise by Russia, however, in that 21 nations which took part in the war against the Axis will have a part in drafting the treaty, even though the final say, or power of veto, rests with the Big Three, plus France in the case of Italy only.

Progress Is Cited

The procedure may be disappointing to some of the smaller powers which had hoped for a larger voice in shaping the peace, but it represents progress, and therefore is to be welcomed to that extent. The stalemate among the big powers has been broken, and the way cleared for positive action.

The United Nations organization, which has no voice in the treaty making, would be handicapped in its operations if a large part of Europe were to continue in its present uncertain state of Armistice. The proposed arrangement looks to putting Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland on a basis of permanent peace.

May Take Long Time

Germany and Japan naturally will have to come later. Their status is more complicated and cannot be fixed definitely until satisfactory governments have been set up. In the case of Germany especially, it may take many years.

Meantime, the way has been cleared to regularize relations with the remaining enemy countries in Europe. The procedure is not unreasonably complicated, since it represents an effort to make concessions all around without compromising the final authority of the Big Three, or the Big Four in the case of France and Italy.

First, the deputies of the Big Five foreign ministers will meet immediately in London to resume the conference which failed so outstandingly last October. The five, with their technical staffs, will prepare the first drafts of the treaties.

Next, the conference of 21 nations will be called, to consist of all those considered to have taken an active part against the enemy states in Europe, namely, the United States, Russia, Great Britain, China, France, Australia, Belgium, White Russia, Brazil, Greece, Holland, India, Canada, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Ukrania, Czechoslovakia, Ethiopia, Yugoslavia and Norway.

Will Recommend Action

The larger conference will make recommendations on the treaties, in an advisory but not binding capacity. Then the final form of the treatries will be decided by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France. Only Britain and Russia will decide on the treaty with Finland, while France will have a voice with the other three only in the case of Italy.

Thereafter, ratifications by the big powers will bring the treaties into immediate effect, along with ratification by the enemy governments.

The method devised is not radically different from that of Versailles, where the big five dictated the peace terms. The preliminary approach by 21 nations is just a nice formality. It is likely to meet with objections from those two, like Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand, have expressed fear of a big-power dictatorship which would emasculate the United Nations organization.

Hazardous in BAD COLDS

Beware of sluggish elimination when you have a cold. If you are constipated you may be sure your intestines are retaining virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive waste matter. This condition may interfere with the treatment of the cold and lead to more serious complications.

Relieve this hazardous constipated condition promptly tonight with Calotabs. Calotabs are one of the most dependable of all intestinal eliminants. They pleasantly yet thoroughly act on every foot of the intestinal tract, thus helping to sweep out virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive material, enabling Nature to more effectively combat the cold. Get Calotabs from your druggist. Use only as directed on the labeling.

Nomura Asserts FDR 'Welcomed' Meeting

TOKYO, Dec. 26 (U.P.)—Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura, Japan's pre-Pearl Harbor ambassador to the U. S., said today that the late President "welcomed" a meeting with Premier Prince Konoye but was overruled by the State department and Navy.

Nomura spoke at memorial services for Konoye, who committed suicide rather than be arrested as a suspected war criminal. The former ambassador said he delivered Konoye's message suggesting the meeting to Mr. Roosevelt Aug. 26, 1941.

He said Mr. Roosevelt told him he would "like to meet Konoye and find out what kind of man he is." The late President suggested Juneau, Alaska, for the meeting, Nomura said.

But the Sate department was "overcautious," Nomura said. He said State department officials did not want the meeting to be held without a preliminary understanding for fear it might embarrass Mr. Roosevelt if the talks failed.

The Navy department expressed a similar opinion, Nomura said, maintaining that the meeting should be solely to obtain Mr. Roosevelt's and Konoye's signatures in the event of an agreement.

Parley On Recognition Of Indonesians Set

LONDON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Premier William Schermerhorn and a party of high Dutch government officials arrived here from The Hague today to inaugurate discussions of the Indonesian situation with Prime Minister Attlee and other members of the British government.

Accompanying Schermerhorn were acting Foreign Minister J. H. Van Royen, Minister for Overseas Territories J. H. A. Logemann and Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor-general of the Dutch East Indies.

The question of recognition of the self-proclaimed Indonesian republic in Java will be uppermost. Dr. Van Mook has recommended recognition of Premier Sutan Sjahrir's government, but the Netherlands cabinet rejected the proposal.

Attlee was believed to have made it clear that Great Britain wants an immediate settlement. Some questers expressed belief that he had asked the Dutch for their specific intentions in Indonasia.

Group Checking Demobilization

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (U.P.)—Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson recently sent a special mission to the Pacific to canvass chances of speeding demobilization in that area, it was disclosed today.

Patterson told of the assignment of a letter to Sen. Scott W. Lucas, D., Ill., in response to the senator's inquiry about demobilization delays.

Diversion Of Ships

Lucas asked particularly about reports that shipping has been diverted to take Japanese prisoners from the Philippines to Japan. He also asked whether ships were being used to carry arms and munitions to foreign governments in the Pacific.

Patterson said the Japanese troops were being taken home in cargo ships which were not suitable for returning American personnel on the longer ocean trip to the United States. He said that returning the prisoners to Japan relieved U. S. troops assigned to guard them in the Philippines.

No Munitions Moved

He said that since V-J day no arms or ammunition have been carried by any U. S. vessel to or from any foreign government.

Patterson also explained that demobilization in the air carps reduced the number of bombers that can be converted to troop transport.

Patterson assured Lucas that by the end of February all U. S. troops in the Pacific not assigned to the army of occupation or needed for surplus property disposal will be returned to the United States.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

TO SEND BRIDES OVER

PARIS, Dec. 26. (AP)—The Army will start sending brides of U. S. soldiers to the United States next month, European theater Service Forces headquarters said today. No quota has been set but the plans, said the Army, will not interfere with returning troops.

Ships near land may proceed with safety with aid of new maritime radar equipment through fogs so thick that lighthouse beacons cannot be seen.

If you'd like to have some nice frosted glasses, you can frost them by mixing epsom salts with varnish and applying it to the surface.

Tottering Jap Cabinet Holding On Until Elections In January

By RUSSEL BRINES
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 26—Premier Kijuro Shidehara's cabinet clearly is unwanted, but it probably will remain as an interim administration until late winter.

The Shidehara cabinet has taken more body blows than those which toppled its predecessor. The public has a general lack of confidence in its ability to solve livelihood problems. It also had stood under a series of directives from General MacArthur, the most important of which eliminated military pensions and recently imprisoned Prince Morimasa Nashimoto.

Elections Are Near

It still is too early to say for certain how long the cabinet will remain, but indications are that politicians will retain the groggy group in office until after the late January elections. Then the first party government in nearly 20 years is expected to be inaugurated.

However, any successor government would have only one month in office before the election results would force another change.

Meanwhile, Finance Minister Viscount Keizo Shibusawa has the inside track for the presidency of the dominant progressive party—a potential springboard into the premiership.

Progressive Party Strong

Seven members of the House of Representatives said the Progressive party soon would settle an internal fight for the influential presidency.

Shibusawa, 49-year-old former governor of the bank of Japan, is the main voice of a strong group advocating young leadership. His principal rival is 82-year-old Chuji Machida, former president of the defunct Hinseito party.

The party once made overtures for the leadership to former Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye who recently committed suicide, and subsequently considered the retired Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, 76. Shibusawa supporters say that Ugaki also is now out of the picture.

The Progressives claim 270 seats in the House of Representatives, a clear majority. Because their political machine is considered too strong for the opposition—particularly among the untutored electorate—the Progressives are expected to retain their leadership

Coast Guard Soon To Return To Treasury

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP)—Federal departments concerned with the Coast Guard service today were drawing up final plans for its return from the navy to the treasury.

One source who did not wish to be quoted directly reported that the changeover would be effected possibly within 15 days, through one of President Truman's first 1946 executive orders.

In peacetime the Coast Guard is an arm of the Treasury department. In time of a national emergency it moves into the Navy as it did on November 1, 1941.

Science, Engineering Reach New High For Progress In 1945

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26 (AP)—Science and engineering reached their all-time pinnacle in 1945 by providing the weapons to win the greatest of wars and by loosing the power which opened the atomic age—then turned abruptly to peacetime pursuits without loss of impetus.

That was the essence of the year end review of the Westinghouse Electric corporation, issued today.

New Advances Cited

New war implements which the review listed as useful in peacetime include:

Jet propulsion—Its adaptation to the geared gas turbine, which "seems destined to become the real workhorse of future commercial aviation."

Radar—For use in navigation and adaptation to stratovision, "a radically new technique for airborne television that will hasten coast-to-coast television coverage."

Tank gun stabilizers—Applying them to make smoother rides for railroad passengers.

M. W. Smith, Westinghouse vice president in charge of engineering, commented that "from a science and engineering viewpoint the year just passed probably has been the most fruitful in the knowledge of man."

The year even brought forth an "electric thinker." A Westinghouse engineer invented a mechanical transient analyzer which solves mechanical stress problems and writes the answer with an electronic beam on a florescent screen. Problems which would have taken a man months to figure have been solved by the analyzer in as little as two days.

President Criticized For Hazardous Flight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (U.P.)—The Washington Star editorially criticized President Truman today for his plane trip to Missouri yesterday in weather which "made it too dangerous to fly."

"The President should not have attempted it and the Air Transport command should not have permitted it," the Star said, adding:

"The flight he made yesterday should be the last deliberate gamble of the sort. The example he set was a bad one, insofar as safe flying is concerned, and the life that was risked was the life of the President of the United States."

Rice Reverting To Peacetime Schedule

HOUSTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—In order to revert to the peacetime schedule at Rice institute, institute officials recently announced that Rice institute will go back on its pre-war nine months academic term effective in September, 1946.

Summer instruction will be discontinued July 1, 1946. President Edgar Odell Lovett pointed out that the institute has operated since July 1943, on a 12 months schedule to train students in naval ROTC and V-12 programs. From March until July, the regular 16 weeks term for the Navy will operate in order to close out the school. Classes for civilian students, however, will be "doubled up," and they may take only two courses. These classes will meet six times a week, and a full year's credit will be given for the courses.

One of the main reasons for this doubled program is for returning servicemen who need refresher work, Doctor Lovett said. A number of veterans have already enrolled for the special semester, but place is being held open for even more of the returned GI's who want to return to college in the fall, school officials stated.

Morton Man One Of Two Hurt In Crash

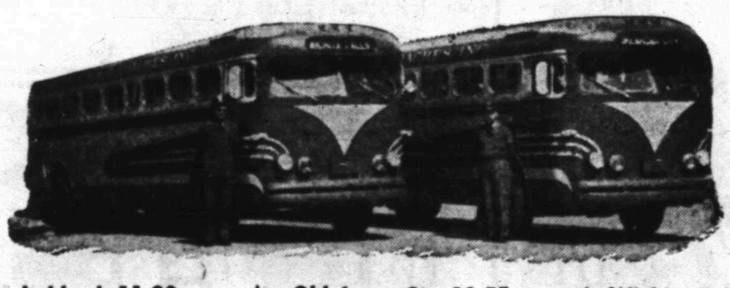

CHILDRESS, Dec. 26. (AP)—Dennis Walker of Wichita Falls and Ty Williamson of Morton were injured late yesterday in a plane crash at the Childress Municipal airport.

The accident occurred when the engine failed on the takeoff. Walker suffered a broken leg and face and arm lacerations. Williamson, the pilot, suffered a broken leg and possible internal injuries.

Both were moved to a hospital at Quanah today.

The deficit of science and technology students who, but for the war, would have received college degrees, is about 150,000, according to Dr. Vannevar Bush, director, U. S. Office of Scientific Research and Development.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

By GEM BOB CALLEY
(Pinch-hitting for Margaret Turner who is on Christmas vacation.)

JUST because the majority of Avalanche-Journal staff members hadn't seen each other in three days when they reported for duty, bright-eyed and extremely energetic, at 8 a. m. Wednesday—everybody paused long enough to mutter good morning. (We're a convivial group down here but just not too outspoken when it comes to inter-office greetings so early in the morning.)

However, by mid-morning most everybody has tested their vocal chords and decided it's high time to start speaking. Yesterday was no exception and by 10 a. m. everybody had begun circulating and an exchange of comments on Christmas celebrations was order of the day.

Seems everybody spent an enjoyable holiday—there unanimous agreements came to an abrupt halt.

NATURALLY, since Christmas means different things to nearly every person, a few of the staffers were more enthusiastic about their celebrations than others. Some of them talked of the good food they had, but didn't really enjoy it, and others spoke of how they indulged themselves with several hours of luxurious sleep on Christmas day.

We're one of the enthusiastic ones about Christmas and can't imagine sleeping late THAT morning (Much less going back to bed), nor can we see not consuming quantities of rich food. Come Christmas and we really dissipate (at least that's what some of the co-workers believed when we described our celebrations, laying stress on the food.)

THEY know we're of a large family, they also know we went home, Portales, N. M., for Christmas. About little things they were curious—for instance how that many people (14 including brothers-in-law, nephews, and nieces) did besides bump into each other, how we all spent the night under one roof, and mainly how DID one ever buy gifts for that many persons?

The gift angle was easily explained and very simple, just find out what everybody wants and then buy it. About the time spent—that flies by, beginning with Christmas eve dinner and then the ritual around the tree, everybody unwrapping gifts. After that everything takes care of itself—take your life in your own hands if you interupt a bridge or penny-ante game or step smack in the middle of train track operated by the only firm believers in the crowd—the children. All of this is punctuated with pauses—time to eat again.

Seems to us, of course, that biggest and best Christmas' are enjoyed by large families. Look at all the advantages—seeing more people, getting more gifts, participating in at least three conversations in progress in the same room, wondering what others are doing in the next room, anticipating the wonderful Christmas dinner, and thinking this is the very best Christmas you can remember.

WE believe those who know will agree when we say who aren't members of a large family and can't gather enmass to celebrate Christmas are missing a lot of fun. More the merrier you know—but we don't think one of the little nephews would agree.

He was eager about being on hand when Santa Claus came down the chimney, but he didn't appreciate the conversation when we spoke of his having to sleep on a nail we planned to drive over the mantle. "Twas a bit crowded!

Another thing we really get enthusiastic about is receiving Christmas cards from our "every December" friends. We love those little messages and the pleasant surprises they contain.

ONE of the cards, in form of a new arrival announcement, from Capt. and Mrs. W. G. Smith of Ocean City, N. J., who christened their daughter, Holly Smith. Another unusual card from one of the Avalanche-Journal staff members, R. C. Hankins, pictured his two daughters, Betty-Zon and John-Ann, playing with new toys under the Hankins' Christmas tree. The Barry Bishops of Dallas always have clever cards patterned like a newspaper. Barry is one of indespensibles on the Dallas News editorial staff.

Some of the surprise cards were from former Lubbockite Mary Lois Vanstory, who is now Mrs. Edward Lennox of Pawtucket, Rhode Island. It's a good thing she remembered to add her maiden name under the Mr. and Mrs. Second big surprise was a card from Miss Gita Bumpass, former photographer and reporter for the Abilene-Reporter News, now working for the Galveston News. That was the surprise—we thought Gita was an institution at the Reporter-News.

IT'S always nice to know "December friends" do remember although you do lose touch during the ensuing months. Time does change most everything, ways of acting, ways of living, ways of thinking—but to us the one thing remains the same is Christmas.

Veva Mae Sadler Weds B. M. Anderson

Miss Veva Mae Sadler, daughter of S. H. Sadler of near Littlefield, and Boice Martin Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Anderson of Littlefield, were married Sunday at 6 p. m. in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lester L. Couch of near Anton. Elder Oliver A. Burk of the Anton Church of Christ performed a double ring service.

The couple stood before a setting of greenery and baskets of pink and white gladioli. Candlelight was used.

The bride wore a white wedding gown designed with a fitted lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands and a full net skirt. Her floor length veil fell from a crown of white flowers and ended in a train. The bride wore pearls and carried an arm bouquet of lilies tied with white satin ribbons.

Reception Follows Service

At the reception that followed, cake and punch were served. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple, and placed on a reflector which was flanked with pink sweet peas. White tapers burned on either side of the arrangement.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Floyd Price, of Lubbock, Misses Florence and Wanda Sadler and Mrs. Mary Horton of Littlefield.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore a beige gold suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Anderson was graduated from Whitharral High school and is a former student at Texas Technological college. She has been teaching at Whitharral for three years.

The bridegroom recently received his discharge from the armed forces. He served three years and was overseas with the Third Army. His group received the Presidential citation and he received three battle stars.

The couple will be at home on a farm south of Littlefield.

GALA PINAFORE — "How will I look in it?"—the eternal feminine question begins at age three. France Buying Planes For Commercial Use

PARIS, Dec. 26. (AP)—France has bought 12 Constellation transport planes and an unspecified number of Douglasses in the United States in a program to rebuild her commercial air fleet, public works and Transportation Minister Jules Mocu said today.

France expects to have her Merchant Marine back at its 1939 level of 3,000,000 tons in 1951 with the aid of Liberty ship purchases, for which she now is negotiating in the United States, he added.

More Equipment For Railroads Planned

CHICAGO, Dec. 26. (AP)— The Pullman-Standard car manufacturing company announced today it expected to produce more transit equipment in 1946 than at any time in the last 15 years.

C. A. Liddle, president, reported the company, was gearing itself to produce passenger cars at the rate of seven a day, while freight cars would come off one every three and one-half minutes.

Lucas Proposes Plan To Speed Up Solons' Pearl Harbor Probe

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26—Senator Lucas (D-Ill) suggested today that members of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee "divide up" future witnesses among themselves as a means of expediting the hearings.

Under his plan, Admiral R. Stark, who is to be the witness when the committee resumes hearings Monday, would be questioned by only one or two members of the 10-man committee.

Admits Opposition

Other members would take turns in quizzing later witnesses.

Lucas conceded that his proposal, which he discussed with reporters, appears unlikely to get far. Republicans on the committee have been particularly insistent that no restrictions be placed on questioning.

The Illinois senator contended that a committee member assigned to certain witnesses could make better advance preparations for the examination and thus speed things up.

New Delay Feared

"The way we are going now I doubt that we can finish by Feb. 15," he said.

The committee, originally instructed to report Jan. 3, has obtained an extension until Feb. 15.

Tentative plans call for Stark to be followed to the stand by Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, Army and Navy commanders in Hawaii when the Japanese struck Dec. 7, 1941.

Short is in Walter Reed Army hospital with a respiratory ailment but was reported improved today.

President's Program To Get Top Spot When Congress Reconvenes

By DEAN W. DITTMER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26—Congressional leaders agreed today to press for action on President Truman's legislative program as soon as Congress returns Jan. 14 from its holiday recess.

At the top of the list they placed the President's request for additional unemployment compensation, universal military training, labor dispute fact-finding boards and merger of the armed forces.

War Appropriations

Prompt action also was expected on legislation to rescind some $51,800,000,000 in war appropriations. Congress passed such a bill before the recess but Mr. Truman vetoed it because of a rider to transfer U. S. Employment service offices to state control.

Congressional sources believed Mr. Truman would win this first veto challenge to Congress. They felt the House might override the President and again pass the vetoed recission bill but that the Senate would sustain him.

Sen. Scott W. Lucas, D., Ill., a leading proponent of early return of U. S. Employment services to the states, said he might drop his fight as result of the veto. He was doubtful if the Senate would override the President's action.

Engle Sees Scrap

Rep. Albert J. Engel, R., Mich., who favors prompt return of employment services, said the President's position may precipitate a fight over further extension of his war powers.

Engel said state employment offices originally were shifted to federal control under the second war powers act and would revert back upon expiration of the recent six-months extension of the President's war powers.

Japs Leave Camp On Return Trip Home

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 26. (AP)—About 360 Japanese aliens from the federal detention camp at Bismarck today were on the first leg of a long journey of repatriation—to a Japan some of them have never seen.

W. C. Robbins, acting officer in charge of the camp, said they left Bismarck Christmas day aboard six railroad cars bound for Portland, Ore. From there they will sail to Japan on a U. S. Army transport.

Most of them, Robbins said, are American-born Japanese who renounced their American citizenship, but a few are being deported because of illegal entry into this country.

Many of the group which left Bismarck yesterday, Robbins said, were classed as "troublemakers."

Identity Of Amnesia Victim Is Sought

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 26. (AP)—Brownwood police and welfare workers are still trying to establish the identity of a young woman here after three days of fruitless attempts.

Clad in dungarees, she was found in a railway station here Sunday night, apparently the victim of amnesia.

The young woman, described as a brunette with close - cropped hair, has twice written the name "Reba Haskell" and mumbled "Little Rock," welfare officials said.

Three Killed In Blast And Fire

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Dec. 26 (U.P.)—Three persons were killed and five seriously injured today when an explosion and fire, believed set off by butane gas in a truck, wrecked a bottling works and the 20 apartments on the second floor of the building.

Windows in buildings three blocks from the blast at the Pepsi Cola bottling works were shattered and the force of the explosion was reported felt 10 miles away. Special police were assigned to guard buildings whose windows were blown out.

Fire Blaze Two Hours

Firemen fought the fire following the blast for two hours. Several hours after the explosion at 5:30 a. m., officers said they believed all bodies had been removed from the debris.

The three dead occupied apartments above the bottling works. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, and Caroline Sue Stovall, 10, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Stovall, who was injured seriously.

Anthony Berta, hospitalized with bad burns, said the explosion occurred as he stepped on the starter of his truck, parked at the delivery entrance of the building. He declared that butane gas, used as fuel in the truck, blew up. Fire Chief C. L. Tenney held the same theory.

Those Hospitalized

Taken to Cottage hospital were Berta, Mrs. Stovall, wife of a Marine, Mrs Lena Hubbs, and Mr. and Mrs. George Cojocari.

Several others were injured in jumping from their apartment to the pavement, but they were not taken to the hospital, police reported.

The firemen were hampered by fumes of alcohol from the liquor stock in a liquor store in the building.

Jewish Group Charges Refugees Are Landed

JERUSALEM, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Jewish organization Haganah declared in leaflets distributed here that several hundred Jewish refugees from Europe had landed on the upper coast of Palestine today, despite British precoutions, and were guided to inland disposal points.

Boasting that the refugees had come ashore in good order from a 2200-ton motor schooner which flew the Hebrew flag, the leaflets said the immigrants "arrived despite stormy seas, and notwithstanding the most modern devices of the guardians of the white paper."

GIs Swamped During Party For Jap Kids

TOKYO, Dec. 26. (AP)—It began as a G. I. idea to entertain a few hundred kids—and nearly ended in a juvenile riot.

Officers and men of the U. S. eleventh corps planned a Christmas party yesterday for 600 children of Japanese laborers employed by the corps. Soldiers contributed gifts, candy and cookies. A special program was prepared.

Crowd Gets Big

But the Yanks had forgotten about Japan's birth rate. Guests began arriving long before party time. They came tumbling in droves from the adjacent streetcar station and clattered gleefully up the short hill on their wooden clogs.

Their G. I. hosts soon swore that the whole Tokyo-Yokohama area must have been denuded of young life. Six hundred? That was only a starter; there were 1,200, then 3,000—6,000—8,000 — and the estimate was 9,000.

Dig Up Additional Gifts

Local police and laborers were hustled to the scene to help maintain order. The children were sorted into shifts, and admitted 300 at a time, while frantic G. I. hosts delved into duffle bags for impromptu additional gifts.

The program was curtailed and speeded, and sweating Red Cross workers handed out doughnuts until their arm ached.

By nigthtfall, only 3,000 of the 9,000 had been entertained. The others still were waiting, hungrily and hopefully, outside in the sharp cold.

Their friends who had been lucky enough to get inside shared gifts and described the wondrous events in rapid-fire Japanese—then the thousands of wooden clogs pounded down the hill into the darkness.

U. S. To Recognize Romania, Bulgaria

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP)—The United States probably will extend formal recognition to Romania and Bulgaria once the Big Three powers have concluded peace treaties with those former Axis satellites, acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today.

Asked at his news conference if the fact that the Big Three foreign ministers in Moscow had laid down plans for concluding peace settlements with the two Balkan sttaes was a step toward formal diplomatic recognition, Acheson replied in the affirmative.

The U. S., Britain and Russia in the Moscow conference now have solved procedual problems with regard to peace treaties, Acheson sail.

This country and Britain thus far have refused to grant recognition to the two Balkan nations on grounds that their present provisional governments are not broadly representative of all democratic groups and have not given adequate guarantees of free and unfettered elections.

Chinese To Destroy Confiscated Opium

PEIPING, Dec. 26 (AP)—Eight hundred thousand ounces of opium confiscated by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters after the Japanese surrender in Peiping will be burned publicly in the great forecourt of the forbidden city on New Year's day.

The generalissimo ordered the public cere...ony, after a meeting of municipal government officials, civic leaders, Catholic priests and Protestant missionaries decided that 60,000 ounces would be sufficient to preserve for medical purposes. Some 860,000 ounces had been seized.

Hundreds of opium dens have been closed in the past four months, and the central government announced harsh penalties for violation of its anti-opium laws. Smokers can be put to death for a third offense. Sellers face execution upon conviction.

Last Man's Club At Brownwood Meets

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 26. (AP)—Twelve of the 13 surviving members of the Brownwood's Last Man's club attended the 14th annual dinner here last night.

Absent four years, four ex-service men rejoined their buddies. They were Lamar Turner of Corpus Christi, Sammie C. Lee of Brownwood, Lynn Ellis of Miles, and Smith Bell of Brownwood.

Others present were Charles King, Brownwood; Mark Williams, Alice; Henry Smith, Electra; Gerald Scott, Brownwood; Allen Davis, Ballinger; Richard Hill, Dallas; Gene Day, Dallas; and Robert Hall, Brownwood.

R. K. Carson, Corpus Christi, was the only absent member.

Known as the "14 club," it was organized by 14 young men who grew up together here. When all but one have died, the last of the 14 will open a bottle of old wine and drink a toast to those who have died.

Building Here Is Eighth In State

Lubbock's building permits for the month of October ranked eighth among cities in Texas, the Texas Business Review, publication of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas reveals.

Lubbock's permits for October totaled $408,465. In September they totaled $224,568 and ranked 13th in the state. In October, 1944, they totaled $88,521 and ranked seventh in Texas.

Cities Ranking Higher

Cities with higher permit totals than Lubbock during October were: Amarillo $482,752, Austin $687,640, Corpus Christi $437,176, Dallas $1,740,729, Fort Worth, 1-007,609, Houston $1,673,913 and San Antonio $1,377,514.

Lubbock ranked 13th in the state in postal receipts for the month with a total of $43,518, the review also revealed. This figure compared with $49,875 for October, 1944, and $34,959 for September, 1945.

The review showed that the South Plains area made a gain of 13 per cent in retail dollar sales over October, 1944 and 10.8 per cent for a year to date from the corresponding period last year.

Cumulative cash income for the area was $67,304,000 compared to $79,499,000 for the same period last year.

Panicky Nurse Is Blamed For Fire

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 26. (U.P.)—State Fire Marshall Edward J Hickey said today that a panicky nurse at the Miles Street hospital dropped a fire extinguisher in attempting to put out a blazing Christmas tree on Christmas eve and fled the building, leaving an outside door open. Hickey said flames were driven into the upper floors by the draft of air.

The nurse discovered the fire in the hospital office, he said, and took one of the four available fire extinguishers, all of which were in working order.

"She lost her head," Hickey said and dropped the container, turned and fled to summon help.

"When she went out the front door she left the outside door open and that draft of air from the outside just whipped the flames and smoke up the stairway and the people upstairs were suffocated before help could get to them."

Hickey's disclosure came as an official investigation into the fire, which caused the deaths of 17 aged men and women, was interrupted by a summons from Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin who said he had talked with Hickey and State Health Commissioner Stanley H. Osborn about "what steps we could take to organize a statewide survey and study of safety regulations and precautions."

Shots Fired At Indies' Leader

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 26 (AP)—Native Dutch troops fired a volley of bullets today at a car in which Sutan Sjahrir, premier of the unrecognized Indonesian republic, was a passenger, but Sjahrir was uninjured.

British authorities said it was established that the native troops —Eurasians and Surinamese — did not know the identity of the car's occupant, and had sought only to confiscate an Indonesian car.

Was Second Attempt

Another unidentified Indonesian passenger in Sjahrir's car also escaped injury.

Sjahrir, who returned yesterday from a tour of Java, said an automobile containing five young men in Dutch uniforms approached the car in which he was riding. One man opened fire. The bullets struck the radiator of Spahrir's car.

One of the Eurasians leaped from the attack car and aimed his pistol at Spahrir, the premier said. The weapon jammed.

Attackers Are Arrested

Sjahrir is a key figure in the negotiations to restore order in strife-torn Java, and such an attack could have thrown the delicate political situation into confusion.

Big Three Meeting

dure indicate considerable progress.

Big Three United Again

The three foreign ministers began work at 2:30 p. m. (5:30 a. m., EST) and still were in session more than three hours later, putting the finishing touches to their communique.

The aura of ill feeling which marked the breakdown of the London meeting of the foreign minister's council appears to have been eliminated and the Big Three are again united in the same spirit of collaboration they enjoyed during the war, informed observers believed.

Await French Reply

While the ministers were preparing for today's meeting they still were awaiting the French adherence on the agreement for peace conference procedure announced two days ago.

Under terms of the agreement reached on peace treaties, peace terms will be drawn up by nations which signed armistice agreements with Germany's European satellites. The communique provided that France would participate in drafting the treaty with Italy, and that treaties with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary would be drawn up by Russia, the United States and Britain.

French Seeks Vote

(A French foreign ministry source said the French government was preparing a reply with observations, which would be completed by the end of the week. This source said France, with vital interests in the Balkans, should be permitted to participate in drafting the treaties. President De Gaulle and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault conferred at length on the matter yesterday.)

Diplomatic quarters revealed today that Byrnes had tried unsuccessfully on Christmas Eve to reach French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

The French had indicated earlier that there would be no objections to the draft. It was stated, and their failure to answer came as somewhat of surprise. The general impression, according to informed quarters was that the Christmas holidays must have caused the delay.

French ambassador to the Soviet Union Gearges Catroux saw Mr. Bevin, it was learned, but the meeting was said to have had nothing to do with France's reply on the peace conference agreement.

Army Releases Over Four Million Men

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP)—The War department announced today that a total of 4,466,000 Army personnel had been returned to civilian life from May 12 through Dec. 21. Of this number, 3,874,000 were released from Sept. 2 through Dec. 21.

Since VE day, 18,493 doctors, 4,375 dentists and 27,528 nurses have reverted to civilian status.

GM Wage Parley

breakdown on the wage problem.

General Motors spokesmen said the wage issue was still open for discussion but added that the company would not make public until Thursday its decision whether to return to Washington Friday and appear before the fact-finding board.

The board, backed by President Truman, has shown some desire to look over GM's book to determine its ability to meet the 30 per cent increase but the company has not said definitely whether it will agree.

Urges Cooperation

"We do not say it is up to the government to settle this strike but we do say that the machinery has been set up and it is up to us to cooperate with it (the machinery)" Reuther said.

Reuther, commenting on today's session which was held as UAW pickets set up lines around many GM plants again, said, "No progress was made that would warrant postponing the Friday meeting in Washington."

He said only local issues were discussed and that there was no discussion of wage demands. GM on Dec. 10 cancelled its contract with the UAW—which was due to run until April, 1946—and at the same time terminated all local agreements between GM and the various UAW locals.

To Discuss Facts

Reuther said that no GM-UAW negotiating session was scheduled for Thursday and that he saw "very little prospects" of such a meeting because of GM's decision to withhold until 5 p. m. Thursday its decision on attending the fact-finding hearing.

"I asked GM if they were going to Washington because things would have a different aspect if they were going to cooperate with the fact-finding board," Reuther told newsmen.

Continuing, he said, "The union is not going to fact-finding committee sessions to discuss proceedure any more. We will only sit in at session at which fact are presented."

Wage Issue Raised Again

He said the fact-finding board's initial sessions were devoted to discussions of what kind of evidence should be studied in evaluating the strike and the UAW's wage demands.

"What we want to talk about is the company's ability to pay and other procedural matters," Reuther asserted.

The UAW officials said that GM representatives at today's session had mentioned possible transportation difficulties in getting to Washington for the Friday meeting.

Asked about rumors that the fact-finding committee has worked out a formula for settlement of the strike, Reuther answered that such reports "must be conjecture because the committee has had no time to work out such a formula."

The dispute which idled 175,000 production workers and many additional thousands of non-production workers entered its sixth week today. GM's top offer to date has been a 10 per cent wage rate increase but the UAW has stood firm on its 30 per cent demands.

imprisonment in a prison selected by the reviewing authority.

Appreciation for a "fair trial" was expressed after the verdict by Jiro Watanane, Japanese civilian of the defense counsel.

"As a Japanese, I feel very sorry for Tsuchiya," he said.

"I feel very sorry for Tsuchiya's family. But I believe the trial was conducted very fairly and justly.

"I feel very much gratified by the effort made by the American defense counsel. I feel gratified enough to have tears in my eyes. I wish to express my deepest thanks for the kindness of the United States defense counsel."

French Approve Loan, Bretton Woods Plan

PARIS, Thursday, Dec. 27. (AP)—The French constituent assembly early today unanimously approved the Bretton Woods monetary stabilization agreement and an American Export-Import Bank loan of $550,000,000.

Following the assembly's ratification of the Bretton Woods agreement and the loan, the assembly in effect approved the government's devaluation of the franc by voting, 506 to 44, to give the government authority to revalue the gold stock of the Bank of France on the basis of the new gold content of the paper franc.

Truman's Pilot Says No Undue Risk Taken

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26. (AP)—Lt. Col. Henry T. Myers, pilot of the presidential plane, "The Sacred Cow," declared tonight that President Truman took no undue risk in his flight from Washington to Kansas City yesterday.

Commenting on reports that weather conditions had made the trip hazardous, the veteran pilot, who has flown President Roosevelt and Trunan and high military officials, described the journey as "just another routine flight, entirely devoid of any risk, and one that I certainly would not have started had there been any element of danger.

"After all," he added, "I think as much of my neck as the President does of his."

The "Sacred Cow," a giant 4-engine plane, had more than 1,600 gallons of gasoline remaining in the fuel tanks when it landed here, Myers revealed, adding, "if it had been necessary, we could have flown on to California, or anywhere else in the country."

El Paso Youth Said Missing In Mountains

EL PASO, Dec. 26. (AP)—Empty gun shells reportedly from the rifle of Roger (Jeff) Fleming, 17, El Paso youth who disappeared Sunday while on a hunting trip in the rugged Franklin mountain range near El Paso, proved the only development Wednesday as military and civilian personnel continued the search afoot and by planes for the missing youth until darkness fell. The search will resume Thursday morning.

A member of the posse, Don Biggers, found nine empty shells at the base of the mountain, about 30 yards from where Fleming's car had been found Monday.

Girl Found In City, Apparently Beaten

A white girl, whose name had not been learned, but who apparently had been beaten, officers said, was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital about 12:45 a. m. today in a Plains ambulance, suffering from lacerations of the head and was in a semi-conscious condition.

City and county officers were investigating late last night, but had not made an announcement.

Farm Reform Program Planned For Japan

TOKYO, Thursday, Dec. 27 (AP)—The government is expected to inaugurate a new farm reform measure about Jan. 10, newspapers reported today as Communists failed to obtain a Socialist liaison for a common front of their respective farm union groups.

These developments coincided with the demand of a new political party that Japan's premier be elected by the people instead of being appointed by the throne.

The new organization, the independent Socialist party, led by two former officials of the defunct social mass group, also announced a platform advocating "preservation of the emperor system."

Woman Jumps From Low Flying Plane

HINSDALE, Ill., Dec. 26. (AP)—A coroner's jury reported today that Mrs. Louise Scott, 33, of Joliet, Ill., was killed last Saturday by "jumping from a moving airplane . . . while temporarily deranged."

Mrs. Scott's father, C. E. Austin of Joliet, testified that his daughter, wife of an oil company supervisor, had been depressed mentally. The husband did not testify.

St. Mary's Coaches Sign New Contracts

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., Dec. 26 (AP)—Coach Jimmy Phelan of St. Mary's today announced he and Assistant Football Coach Marty Kordick had signed new five-year contracts to coach the Gaels.

Phelan, whose Gaels meet Oklahoma A. & M. in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1, said his new contract also made him athletic director for the college, a new post there, and that the school would add track to its athletic program.

CAT FROZE TO LIMB

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 26. (AP)—Five husky firemen answered an alarm at the C. C. Plumb home, quickly raised a ladder to rescue a kitten from a tree. But they had to thaw out the spots where its paws and tail had frozen to the limb before bringing it to safety.

Before the war more cargo was carried by airplane in Canada than in any other nation except the United States.

News Briefs

Domingo Vasques was fined $100 and court costs in county court Wednesday on a charge of illegally carrying a pistol, and city police held a 24-year-old negro last night who faces a similar charge and a charge of disturbance.

City officers were investigating loss of a jacket and $150 with the possibility that theft charges may be filed in the case. H. L. Moore of 511 Ave. B told police he lost the jacket and money at Eighth and Ave G. late Wednesday. Witnesses reported they saw a man pick up the jacket.

Firemen made two runs Wednesday afternoon, one to a grass fire at 2113 Eighteenth and another to a truck fire at Ninth and Texas.

Junior Teams Play In Galveston Bowl

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26 (AP)—Neither Penn nor Temple's football elevens got bids to play in post-season bowl games New Year's day, but another Philadelphia team did.

The Tasker Bears, heavyweight champions of the Pop Warner Junior conference, will depart Friday night for Galveston, Tex. They'll meet an all-scholastic team in the Oleander Bowl game under the lights of Galveston's school park stadium Tuesday night.

During the regular season, the Bears won eight of 10 starts.

FRANCO REGIME ASSAILED

LONDON, Dec. 26 (AP)—The International Democratic Women's federation has appealed to the foreign ministers' conference in Moscow to bring about the liquidation of "Franco's Fascist dictatorship," the Moscow radio said tonight, quoting a message from Paris.

power discussions was the latest in a series of recent developments indicating this country is moving in the direction of a showdown with Franco.

Related events were:

1. Delay in the appointment of a new ambassador to Madrid to replace Norman Armour, who came home to retire last week.

2. Visits with Acheson of the State department by Juan Negrin, last premier of Republican Spain, and Fernando De Los Rios, foreign minister of the exiled Spanish government.

The U. S. and Britain have refused to date to recognize the provisional governments of Romania and Bulgaria. The American view is that the two regimes are not broadly representative of Democratic elements and that their plans for elections did not assure free voting.

"Plot" To Kill MacArthur Said Twist Of Japanese Philosophy

By CHRIS CUNNINGHAM
United Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 26. (U.P.) — The "plot" to assassinate Gen. MacArthur turned out to be a strange twist of Japanese philosophy today.

The so-called plot originated in the office of MacArthur's military aide Col. Horbert B. Wheeler last Saturday when Toichiro Akaki presented a petition with 86,000 signatures asking the Americans to spare the life of Gen. Yamashita or give him a chance to commit hari kiri.

Sentenced To Die

Yamashita was sentenced to death for his part in Philippine atrocities.

In presenting the petition, Araki said some of the signatories thought Yamashita was too good a man to be killed and that if he were killed MacArthur should be killed, also.

Counter-intelligence Corps Chief Brig. Gen. Elliott Thorpe, Westerly, R. I., told the United Press:

"That is the way some of these Japanese think, but as far as we are concerned the so-called threats do not mean a thing. "That 'plot' was originated by a newspaperman who just happened to be in Wheeler's office when the petition was presented. I was there, too. I could just see the gleam in this man's eyes when he heard 'killing' and 'MacArthur' in the same sentence."

Guards Not Increased

There was no noticeable increase in military police guards at MacArthur's headquarters. There is one M. P. at each of the buildings' four entrances. The usual crowd gathered in front of the building to watch MacArthur walk to his automobile enroute to lunch.

The two M. P.'s who stand guard outside MacArthur's private office said they had not been given any new special orders as a result of the so-called "plot," but that they always scrutinized closely anyone approaching the inner sanctum.

Thorpe admitted that out of 80,000,000 defeated people in Japan "there ought to be some hotheads who would like to bump off MacArthur."

"But you've got to have a cause in order to get an organized movement started," Thorpe continued. "As far as we know there is no such movement, nor is there even a cause. Naturally, however, we investigate actions and statements which bear even the slightest suspicion."

Bryan Man Accepts Position With City

The position of assistant city meat inspector, unfilled for several months, has been filled here with the appointment of Carl H. Scholle, a World war II veteran of Bryan, it was announced at City hall Wednesday.

Scholle will serve as assistant to W. A. Barr, chief meat inspector. The post formerly was held by Kenneth Bolton, who resigned to enter private veterinary practice in another Texas city.

Health department officials said Scholle's employment, coupled with the service of Barr, retired by the federal government after 35 years of meat inspection duty, would give the city a meat inspection department capable of rendering excellent service.

Scholle, they said, is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college, was once a federal meat inspector in Chicago and is a former employe of the meat inspection service of the City of Dallas. While in the Army, he served in the quartermaster corps.

He is expected to arrive in Lubbock in the next few days to begin a search for a house or apartment in which to live. He is married but has no children.

Barr has been chief inspector for several months, taking the place of his brother, I. E. Barr, who died after many years in the service of the city.

Army Plays Part, Boy Pleased With Laddie's Record

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 26. (U.P.)—Eight-year-old Ronnie Haskvitz was satisfied today that his shepherd dog, Laddie, had died in the service of his country. The Army said so, and Ronnie had no reason to doubt the Army's word.

What Ronnie didn't know was that the Army has a heart, and when Ft. Snelling officers heard the story of the youngster's dog, they helped to ease Ronnie's grief.

Laddie died three years ago, and Ronnie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Haskvitz didn't have the courage to tell their son so they said Laddie had enlisted in the K-9 corps, thinking the boy would soon forget.

But when Ronnie saw pictures of K-9 dogs being mustered out of service, he remembered Laddie. But Laddie didn't come home so Donnie wrote the War department:

"I would like to know where my dog is and how he is because I love him very much. Signed Ronald Haskvitz, his master."

Mrs. Haskvitz explained to the Ft. Snelling officer who called to say K-9 records showed no Laddie enlisted, and the Army answered Ronnie's letter.

"We received your letter, and after checking all the files here at this headquarters we regret to inform you that your dog died while in the service of his country. We know you will feel bad about it, but you should be glad he died while doing something for the war. We extend to you our heartfelt sympathy."

Today Ronnie made plans for Laddie II.

Promotion Policy For Army Changed

The U. S. Army has announced a new promotion policy for officers going on inactive status through the West Texas district recruiting headquarters, on the third floor of the Post Office building here.

Qualified officers are those who have served for long periods of time in the same grade, the announcement said. These men will be promoted on the first day of their terminal leave period, prior to inactive duty, giving them the right to wear the insignia of their higher rank while still in uniform.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Hardy, commanding officer of the district, said this would benefit many men who were unable to secure promotion because of lack of authorized position vacancies.

The ruling applies to second and first lieutenants who have served in one grade at least 18 months, to captains and majors in one grade for at least 24 months and for lieutenant-colonels in one grade a minimum of 30 months. In computing the necessary service 50 per cent credit is given for time served overseas in the one grade.

To qualify officers must have an efficiency index of 40 or higher. Superior rating has a numerical rating of 50, excellent is rated at 40 and very satisfctory at 30.

Col. Hardy said officers who were placed on an inactive status while first lieutenants, qualifying under the given specifications, would be recalled when and if needed as captains, in pointing out an example case. Their status is changed also in the officers reserve corps. He added, however, that these officers could not reenlist at the higher rank.

To remove grease from rugs, blot up as much as possible, then remove remaining stain by sponging the spot with a salt solution of one-half cup salt in one quart of cold water. Rinse in lukewarm water and dry with a clean cloth.

Penicillin Used For Treating Big Cactus

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 26.—Penicillin is being used to combat a deadly bacterial rot that is menacing one of Arizona's major natural resources — the giant Saguaro cactus.

This desert plant, which grows as high as a telephone pole and as big around, is one of the state's chief tourist attractions, says Dr. J. G. Brown, head of the department of plant pathology at the University of Arizona's College of Agriculture.

Effective Control Cited

For two years Brown has been experimenting with penicillin on plant diseases. He has found it effective, he says, in combating not only the germs which rot the Saguaro, but also those which cause cancer in other plants.

"We can kill the germ causing the rot, without harming the cactus, by direct application of penicillin," he says. "We can control the spread of the disease carried by a moth, by spraying or dusting the vast forests from a plane."

Brown believes the drug also has whipped the problem of cancer in plants.

"I wouldn't say we have proved we can kill cancer in every type of plant, because we haven't tried it on every type of plant," he says. "But every type we've tried it on in the last two years has responded to treatment.

"Crown gall, or cancer, is practically world wide. The gall is a tumor which breaks up the plant's water conducting system and brings on death.

"Don't put me out on a limb," the plant specialist added, "but there is a striking similarity of crown gall to cancer of man and animals. Treatment that stops the cancerous process in plants might also stop that process in man."

U. S. Soldiers To Pay For Operation For Blind Italian Youth

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (AP)—A blind Italian boy, befriended by members of the 88th "Blue Devil" division, arrived here yesterday aboard the storm-battered carrier Randolph, en route to John Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, for an operation to restore his sight.

The boy, 8-year-old Gianfranco Cabbia, clad in full GI uniform, arrived in the company of Pfc. Howard W. Gorgas of Montpelier, Ohio, who said the lad had been blinded when kicked in the face by a German horse in September, 1944, in his home town of Feltre.

Members of the division, Gorgas said, raised $3,400 to finance an operation at Johns Hopkins. He said the boy admitted to the United States on a temporary passport visa and would return to Italy after the operation.

News Briefs

Dennis Dempsey, of 2109 Main, went to Coleman Wednesday, after receiving word that his mother, Mrs. J. W. Byrd, 63, of that City, died yesterday morning. Another Lubbock son, Robert Dempsey, whose family lives at 2121 Twentieth, is with the armed forces in Germany.

Methodism's Shrine Damaged By Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26 (AP)—Old St. George's church, shrine of American Methodism and seven years older than the nation itself, was damaged by fire last night.

The historic building, dedicated in 1769, is the second oldest Methodist church in the world. England's Bristol chapel, built in 1739, antedates it.

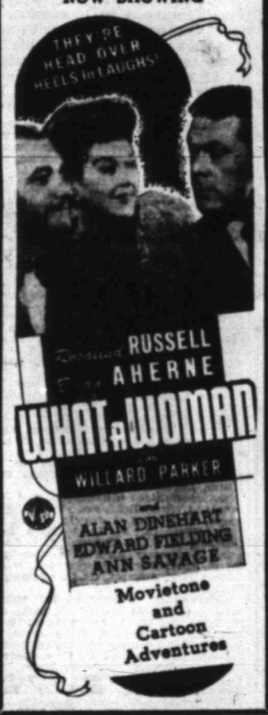

Sale of public lands in Wyoming has averaged about 10,000 acres annually since it became a state.

Easy Wins Feature Opening Of Oklahoma City Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 26 (AP) Oklahoma Aggies 69, Texas 34. It was just that easy (and the count could have been worse) for the Aggies to romp over the Texans in the first round of the All-College basketball game tonight.

The victory pits Coach Hank Iba's National Champions against ansas in one semifinal game tomorrow night while the University of Oklahoma and Baylor complete the round.

Oklahoma's scrappy bunch of sharp-shooters blasted Texas Christian 44-30 in the first round tonight while Kansas eased to a 42-34 victory over Rice and Baylor outhustled Pepperdine 40-36 in afternoon contests.

Big Crowd Turns Out

A capacity crowd of 5,300 witnessed the night games and 1,500 other fans were turned away.

The Oklahoma Aggie victory was a slaughter from the beginning with the Taxans no match for seven-foot Bob Kurland and Co. Kurland hit 24 points and helped set up shots all night. Al Madsen headed Texas scoring with 11 markers.

Much shorter and ragged, the Texans were no match for the Aggies who jumped into a 9-0 lead in the first four minutes. The National Champions rested at half time with a 38-14 margin.

It was more of the same in the second half with the Aggies leading 51-25 with seven minutes gone.

Courty Paces Sooners

Paul Courty, Sooner freshman, led the scoring in the OU-TCU contest, hitting six field goals and scoring 14 points. Don Buelon and Lloyd Krone each got nine points for the Sooners. Leroy Pasco led TCU with seven markers.

Although potting Pepperdine several inches per man, Baylor kept on the heels of the Pacific Coast team during the first half and were trailing 17-16 at refreshment time.

With 55 seconds to go in the initial stanza, Pepperdine led 17-12 but two quick buckets and a charity pulled the Bears within one point of a tie.

Finish Was Thriller

The score changed hands five times in a tempestuous second half as the Bears overcame Pepperdine's height with hustle. Pepperdine increased its lead to 22-16 with three minutes gone in the second half but free shots by Frankie Edwards and Mark Belew and goals by Jack Robinson and Bill Hailey in less than two minutes tied the count 22-all.

A beautiful long shot by Edwards put Baylor ahead for keeps and the score stood 32-30 with seven minutes to play.

Pepperdine pulled up 36-39 with two minutes to go but Baylor froze the ball. Nine fouls were called on Pepperdine in those last minutes as it fought to get the ball away from the stalling Bears. Baylor took the ball out of bonds in order to retain possession.

Nick Buzolich, Pepperdine's 6-7 center, took scoring honors with 21 points. Hailey and obinson each hit 11 for Baylor.

With Charlie Black and Otto Schnellbacher, two returned servicemen, heading Kansas' offensive, the Jays jumped into the lead at the start of the game and were never headed.

Black led the scoring with eight field goals and one free shot for 17 points.

Schnellbacher, doing a creditable job on the backboard hit 12 points.

C. E. Herbert, Rice six-foot three forward, was the only one who could penetrate Kansas' iron-wall defense as he hit the boards for 13 points.

Black opened the game with a setup and after Rice knotted the count 7-all, Kansas flew ahead to a 24-to-11 halftime edge.

Phog Allen's boys stopped Rice without a point for nine minutes during the last half of the period.

In the second half, Kansas took thing easy, but Rice still was unable to penetrate the Jays' defenses, hitting most of their shots from way out.

East-West Gridmen Get Good Workouts

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26 (AP) —Clear weather for a change today re-ted Eastern football players training at Santa Clara for the East-West charity game here New Year's day. Coach Andy Kerr and his associates Bernie Bierman and Bottie Feathers took advantage of the dry spell to order secret practice.

The Western squad, training at Menlo Junior college, went through stiff training under Coaches Homer Norton and Orin Hollingbery. Two University of Nevada linesmen, Max Dodge, end, and Bob McClure, tackle, were praised for their terrific charging and spirit.

The coaches also liked the performances of Alf Hemstad, Washington and Harold Jungmichael, Texas, both guards.

Detroit Fears Loss Of Frankie Sinkwich

DETROIT, Dec. 26 (AP) — The Detroit Lions of the National Football League said today they "would go into court" if the newly-formed All-American Conference attempted to sign the Lions' backfield ace, Frankie Sinkwich, to a 1946 contract.

The National pro leaguers said Sinkwich signed a two-year contract in 1944 and that one year of it remained to be fulfilled since their triple threat ace had spent the past season in the Army.

Detroit Tigers Top In Fielding

CHICAGO, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers had Hal Newhouser and Hank Greenberg as aces in the hole, but their 1945 title performance also was helped by the American League's best defensive line down the middle.

It's an old baseball axiom that the team with the best fielders on a line from the plate to centerfield is always a pennant contender.

The Tigers, according to official fielding statistics, had the junior circuit's strongest defensive catcher, pitcher, second baseman and centerfielder.

Future baseball generations may wonder about it, but the American League's most efficient outfielder in 1945 was 41-year-old (that much he admits) Roger (Doc) Cramer, Detroit centerfielder, who committed only three muffs in 324 chances for a .991 average.

The best second baseman was consistent Eddie Mayo of the Bengals with .980 as he fumbled only 15 times in 734 chances. Paul Richards, Detroit's string-bean receiver, topped the league catchers with .995 muffing only twice in 407 chances.

Newhouser, the season's best pitcher, led his mound colleagues in fielding as he handled 82 chances without mishap.

Rounding out the all-star infield on the basis of fielding statistics were Mickey Rocco of Cleveland at first base with .992 on 10 errors in 1,328 tries; Shortstop Vern Stephens of St. Louis, .961 on 28 errors in 723 chances, and Third Baseman George Kell of Philadelphia, .964 on 20 bobbles in 551 risks.

The team fielding title went to Cleveland with .977, three points higher than the 1944 winning average of .974 shared by the Indians and New York. The league fielding average of .973 also was better than last year's .971.

PROBABLE TRINITY COACHES

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 26 (AP)—Robert Coe, who coached the Hondo Army Air Field football team this season, is reported leading candidate for the head coaching job at Trinity university.

Others mentioned for the job are Barlow Irvin, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) High school coach, and Harry Stiteler, coach of Waco High school.

Willie Pep Tops In Year's Ring Rating

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (AP)—Winding up a fistic year featured by rich gates and poor talent, Ring Magazine today named Willie Pep, the Connecticut Clouter who own half the world's featerweight championship, as "boxer of the year" for 1945.

In addition to tabbing Wallopping Willie as head man, the magazine, in its copyrighted annual review and yearly ring ratings, also declared the "international" world lightweight championship vacant and dropped the two recognized titleholders—Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia (New York) and Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J. (NBA) —down to fourth and fifth on the list of 135 pounders for the year.

Wright Rated Tops

Surprisingly enough, the top lightweight spot went to former featerweight boss Chalk Wright. Stepping up among the bigger boys, the Mexican-born negro lost only one of eight starts, and reversed that setback. Behind him, the Ring placed the come-backing Allie Stolz, curly-haired Jerseyan, who batted 1.000 in eight starts.

Promotor Mike Jackobs' 42 Madison Square Garden productions, the magazine related, hit a $2,214,968 high for the year, thereby making the Rumson, N. J., petunia producer 1945's standout promoter.

Others Challenge Pep

Pep's chief challenge for "fighter of the year" honors came from Manuel Ortiz, the bantamweight champion from El Centro, Calif., who won his five 1945 starts; Jake LaMotta, the rock-jawed middleweight who lost only two of 11 punch - parties; Ray Robinson, stringbean New York negro and uncrowned king of the welterweights, who administered the only setbacks LaMotta suffered and whose only non-winning outing was a draw with Jose Basora; and Rocky Graziano, a middleweight "blockbuster" who flatten six straight rivals during the campaigning to rank as 1945's "best new fighter."

Pep drew the award, the magazine said, because he was the only champion to defend his crown during the year, whipping Phil Terranova in 15 rounds. He went through the year with seven victories and one draw; his lifetime record shows 90 victories in 92 starts, marred only by one defeat to former lightweight Boss Sammy Angott, an done draw.

Following are the Ring's copyright ratings by divisions for the year, with champions recognized by the magazine in parenthesis and those inactive because of the war unranked:

Heavyweights: (Champion, Joe Louis): 1—Tami Mauriello, New York (9 straight 1945 wins); 2—Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland, Ohio; 3—Lee Oma, Detroit; 4—Emer Ray, Tampa, Fla.; 5—Bruce Woodcock, England; 6—Fred Schnfl, Paterson, N. J.; 7—Arturo Godoy, Chile; 8—Jersey Joe Wolcott, Campden, N. J.; 9—Joey Maxim, Cleveland; 10—Mello Bettina, Bezcon, N. Y.; 11—Lee Savold, Paterson, N. J.

Light-heavyweight: (Champion, Gus Lesnevich); 1—Archie Moore, St. Louis (14 starts, 12 victories); 2—Lloyd Marshall, Sacramento, Calif.; 3—Phil Muscato, Buffalo, N. Y.; 4—Freddie Mills, England; 5—Joe Kahut, Portland, Ore.; 6 — Herb Narvo, Australia; 7—Billy Fox, Philadelphia; 8—Nate Bolden, Chicago.

Middleweights: (Champion, Tony Zale); 1—Jake LaMotta, New York (11 starts, 9 victories); 2—Holman Williams, Detroit; 3—Charley Burley, Pittsburgh; 4—Rocky Graziano, New York; 5—Marcel Cerdan, France; 6—Bee Bee Washington, Washington; 7—Steve Belloise, New York; 8 — Jock McAvoy, England; 9—Marcus Lockman, New York; 10 — Wildcat George Henry, Los Angeles.

Welterweights: (Champion, Red Cochrane); 1—Ray Robinson, New York, (8 starts, 7 victories, 1 draw); 2—Red Cochrane, Elizabeth, N. J.; 3—Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N. J.; 4—Jimmy Doyle, Los Angeles; 5—Sammy Angott, Washinston, D. C.; 6—Marty Servo, Schenectady, N. Y.; 7—Beau Jack, Augusta, Ga.; 8—Tommy Bell, Cleveland.

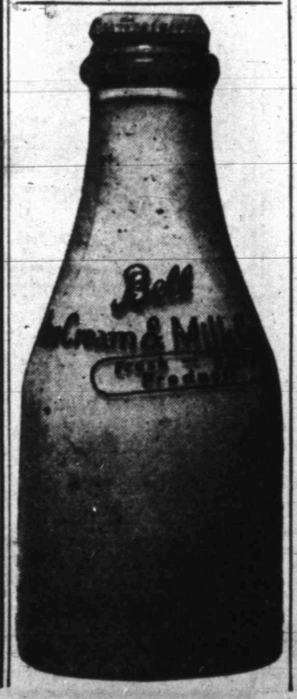

Lightweights: ("International title vacant"): 1—Chalky Wright (8 starts, 6 victories, 1 defeat, 1 no contest); 2—Allie Stolz, Newark, N. J.; 3—Willie Joyce, Garr, Ind.; 4—Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia; 5—Ike Williams, Trenton, N. J.; 6—Dave Castilloux, Montreal; 7—Ronnie James, Wales; 8—Enrique Bolamos, Mexico; 9—Freddie Dawson, Chicago; 10—Wesley Mouzon, Philadelphia.

Featherweights: (Champion, Willie Pep): 1—Willie Pep, Hartford, Conn. (8 starts, 7 victories, 1 draw); 2—Sal Bartolo, Boston (NBA-recognized champion); 3—Phil Terranova, New York; 4—Mel Tarleton, England; 5—Jackie Graves, Minneapolis; 6—Carlos Chavez, Georgia; 7—Al Phillips, England; 8—Freddy Russo, Rahway, N. J.; 9—Miguel Acevedo, Cuba; 10—Jickie Wilson, Pittsburgh.

Bantamweights: (Champion, Manuel Ortiz): 1—Manuel Ortiz, El Centro, Calif. (5 starts, 5 victories); 2—Benny Goldberg, Detroit; 3—Lus Castillo, Mexico; 4—Tony Olivera, San Francisco; 5—Cliff Anderson, British Guiana; 6—Simon Vergara, Panama.

Flyweights: (Champion, Jackie Paterson): 1—Jackie Paterson, Scotland; 2—Seaman Terry Allen, England; 3—Joe Curran, England; 4—Rinty Monaghan, Ireland; 5 — Bunty Doran, Ireland; 6—Dado Marino, Hawaii.

Oklahoma Ags Get After Holiday 'Fat'

BILOXI, Miss., Dec. 26 (AP) — Oklahoma A. and M.'s Coach Jim Lookabaugh kept the emphasis in practice on conditioning and defense as his Cowboys continued preparations for their New Year's day meeting with the St. Mary's Gaels in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

Reserving for later in the week the polishing-up of the Cowboy attack, Lookabaugh went after the holiday "fat" with plenty of running.

Then the gridders turned their attention to the wide-open St. Mary brand of football, with problem No. one the corraling of All-American Herman Wedemeyer.

Denver Pioneers Fly To Sun Bowl Battle

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 26 (AP)—Coach Clyde Hubbard and his Denver university Pioneers flew southward to El Paso, Tex., tonight hoping for warm weather to put a final edge on the Sun Bowl offense they're cooking up to use against New Mexico university.

"I hope it's downright hot in El Paso—we need it to get in some contact work," Hubbard observed in a brief stop here.

Half the Denver squad was with him, including husky Bob Wilson, tackle and team captain. Eight other Pioneer gridmen reached El Paso by an earlier plane, and a third contingent leaves Denver tonight.

Hubbard declined to predict a New Year's day victory for his team, and New Mexico Coaches Ted Shipkey and Willis Barnes were similarly cautious as their charges resumed practice today after holiday layoff.

The rival mentors reported both clubs free of injury and sickness, and the consensus of their remarks was: "We'll be lucky to win."

Some hard scrimmaging also was promised the Lobos, who will continue workouts here through Saturday. They go by bus next Sunday to Las Cruces, N. M., and will remain there until the day of the game.

Bible Names His Bowl Starters

AUSTIN, Dec. 26 (AP)—Poker-faced, cool-bidding Coach Dana X. Bible topped his hand today. Three aces were showing aaginst Missouri in the Cotton Bowl New Year's day:

1. A spirited Longhorn team determined to prove itself undisputedly worthy to be called Southwest champions.
2. Fair weather prospects for practice this week.
3. No reported flu casualties to date.

Bible personally greeted each player at this afternoon's workout which followed a five-day lay-off for Christmas.

"We've got to shake down that turkey and cranberry sauce today," he told them. "Today we'll just run." He thought he would switch over to a little contact tomorrow.

Bible plans to start Bechtol and Schwartzkopf at ends, Wetz and Plyer at tackle, Green and Callan at guard, Harris at center, Halfpenney quarterback, Ellsworth and Baungardner at half back, and Layne at fullback.

"The boys are sharp," he said. "We were ready to go last Friday when we knocked off for the holidays. Everybody thinks Missouri will be easy. They won't be. We've got to work hard this week to stay sharp."

The Longhorns will practice each day this week here at Memorial stadium, Sunday and Monday they will "loosen up a bit" at Dallas stadium in Dallas.

SHIN-SPLINTS HAMPER MISSOURI TIGER SQUAD

DALLAS, Dec. 26 (AP)—Coach Chauncey Simpson of the University of Missouri Tigers had a new concern today as he put his charges through their fourth workout in preparation for the New Year's day Cotton Bowl game with the University of Texas.

Simpson said he is beginning to worry over a sudden siege of shinsplints, a leg soreness that affects athletes when they do much running on hard ground. A number of Tigers were hubblin today and the trouble seemed to be spreading through the entire squad.

The bright sunny weather has been ideal for practice but Simpson said he wouldn't object to a shower that would soften the field He stated that if rain is not forthcoming he will ask that part of the gridiron be sprinkled artificially.

The Tigers worked out lightly today, throwing a lot of passes. Simpson said he thought his team was lacking smoothness and precision and announced he would schedule scrimmages for tomorrow and Friday. Practice sessions also will be held Saturday and Sunday but on Monday, the day before the game, there will be no workout.

Texas Longhorns To Use Nine Bowl Vets

AUSTIN, Dec. 26. (AP) — If bowl experience means anything, Texas has it all over Missouri in their approaching battle at Dallas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Longhorns boast nine bowl veterans, all of them having their post-season experience in the Dallas saucer. One of them goes back as far as Jan. 1, 1943, when the Texans met Georgia Tech.

Ed Heap was one of two freshmen selected to join the varsity after first-year men were made eligible in December, 1942. He appeared briefly in Texas' 14-7 victory. Heap, a substitute guard, recently was discharged from the Army Air Forces and is back with Texas.

In 1944 Texas went to the Cotton Bowl against Randolph Field and, in cold rain and on a slippery gridiron, soon found itself trailig the Ramblers 0-7. The Longhorns tied it up on a pass and the game ended 7-7. On the throwing end of that important 35-yard play was Ralph Ellsworth, starting Texas tailback then and now. The San Antonio speedster sandwiched a year at the U. S. Naval Academy between championship season at Texas.

Jim Plyer and Harlan Wetz, massive Texas tackles, have played together for three seasons. Plyer started against Randolph Field; Wetz was used as a substitute guard in the 1944 bowl game.

Four members of the Texas squad have had experience in the Sun Bowl—regular Wingback Joe Bill Baumgardner, Guard Tom Harrell and Backs H. K. Allen and Fred Brechtel, all of whom played in the El Paso grid classic with Southwestern.

The other Longhorn with previous Cotton Bowl experience is Ransom Jackson. But he was with another team. A Naval trainee, who started his schooling at Arkansas University, he moved to Texas Christian in time to help kick the Horned Frogs to the Southwest Conference title—and get kicked by Oklahoma A. and M. 34-0 in the 1945 Cotton Bowl.

Missouri doesn't have anyone on the squad who ever appeared in a bowl game, but Tackle Jim Kekeris was in the East-West game at San Francisco last year.

Tulsa Heads For Fifth Bowl Game

TULSA, Dec. 26 (AP)—Coach Henry Frnka and 39 of his Tulsa university football players boarded a train here today on the first leg of their trip to Houston, Tex., and the New Year's day game with Georgia university in the Oil Bowl.

Several additional players vacationing over Christmas were to join the team at Dallas where they were to spend the night, arriving in Houston tomorrow afternoon. A workout was scheduled upon arrival.

The first school ever to play in five consecutive post-season bowls, Tulsa was short only one man of its squad leaving here. Bob Thomas, No. 3 center, who injured a knee last week, decided against making the trip.

It was estimated here that between 2,000 and 3,000 Tulsa fans will go to Houston for the coming game.

Coach Frnka said that he and Assistant Coaches Buddy Brothers, Mike Milliga and Dell Taylor would "develop and polish off the offense and defense" in workouts tomorrow, Friday, Saturday and Monday.

WELCOME READY FOR ARRIVAL IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — The Tulsa university Hurricanes will ride fire trucks from the railway station to their hotel when they arrive here at 2:05 p. m. tomorrow for the New Year's day Oil Bowl game with the Georgia Bulldogs.

A similar welcome is planned for the Georgia team which will arrive Friday.

Tulsa will hold secret practices at the high school stadium, starting Thursday afternoon. They will work out daily there through Sunday. Monday afternoon they move to Oil Bowl field—Rice Stadium—for the final workout.

The Georgians will hold their daily sessions, also secret, at Rice field.

Entertainment of the teams opens Thursday night with a boxing show staged for the Tulsans. Friday night there wil lbe alumni parties for both schools, Saturday night there will be a big Oil Bowl gridiron party. Sunday the teams will be guests at Galveston.

The festivities will be ended with the official Oil Bowl party Tuesday night after the game.

TEXAN ON CARD

BOSTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Johnny Pretzie, young Boston heavyweight, and Jay L. Turner of Dallas, Tex., today were rematched for the feature 10-round bout on the Sharkey A.A.'s first 1946 boxing program at the arena on Jan. 11.

COW TRAILS AND TRANSMISSION LINES

Forerunners of agricultural and industrial development in the Southwest

Courageous men and women, the pioneers, blazed the trails and laid the pattern for our oldest industry—cattle raising. The Longhorns of history, song and story were followed by the Herefords, first introduced in 1876.

From that date improvement in the quality of cattle has made a record, contributing tremendously to the general development of the Southwest.

As the cow trails and ranches laid down the pattern for the cattle industry, so have electric lines opened up new opportunities of industrial development. Cities, towns and farming areas alike enjoy an abundant supply of dependable, low-cost electric service.

Your electric Company has been a vigorous champion of agricultural and industrial progress in this region. Today it has become an institution, prepared to meet tomorrow's lighting and power needs in an important and rapidly growing area of the Southwest.

Land Prices Zoom Up

Warning: Inflation Can Result!

THE expression "dirt cheap" is as out of date these days as Saturday night at the wagon yard. There was a time when you could get a piece of land for a song, but now you have to turn over a good part of Fort Knox and a pair of nylons, to boot. Land values on the South Plains and throughout the country have spiraled along with the cost of everything else.

Department of Agriculture economists are worried. They term the increase "dangerous," with the rise continuing at the rate of one per cent a month. They place the blame on heavy deposits in country banks, large bond holdings and low interest rates.

The demand, of course, is at the root of it all. There are the veterans who have been dreaming all these past war years of a farm of their own where they could be their own boss. The desire to be "on their own" must be strong among former service men. It serves as a welcome variation from the regimentation which has been their lot for so long. Also wanting farms are millions of ex-farmers who flocked to war plants when the war broke out. Now, many of them have a pile of money and want to sink it in a parcel of land. There are thousands of them in financial position to buy a farm for the first time in their lives.

According to the Alexander Hamilton Institute, which delves in agricultural research, farm real estate values are up 50 per cent above the 1939 level. Declaring that "we are approaching the brink of disaster," a high government official said farmers' cash and government bond holdings last Jan. 1 were about $15,500,000,000, nearly four times the amount of Jan. 1, 1940.

Many farmers are buying additional land with money which they ordinarily would have put into new farm equipment and late model automobiles. But no one should begrudge the farmer his fat bank account. History has shown that the farmer's lot is usually a hard one, and it is not many times that he enjoys the luxury of being prosperous. And no one can question his right to put his money where he pleases, whether it is to buy new land, or anything else.

Cash-flushed farmers are not the only group to blame for the inflationary pressure. Generous cash assets are in possession of many other people these days, and not a few of them are "anchoring" themselves with a spot of the good earth.

But the prices that innumerable purchasers are paying are all out of proportion to the productive capacity of the land, and they may find it long and hard going before they can begin to capitalize their investment. In addition, they may find themselves in possession of property in the next few years whose value has been sharply reduced.

The situation is reminiscent of the land crash which followed the first World war. That disaster should serve as ample warning.

Educating The Driver

AS Lubbock seeks ways of restraining its speed-minded motorists, it might do well to consider the speed-check method in use in some of the larger cities of the land. It is a modern twist on the old speed trap system which had the motorcycle copper skulking behind a billboard or tall bush, but has a softer approach.

By use of this method of enforcing speed laws, the American Municipal association reports, Kansas City, where it was developed, reduced traffic deaths more than half in a single year. Other cities have adopted it and have observed similar results.

The zones where the checks are made are plainly marked for benefit of the motorist so that he cannot beef that he has been ambushed. Bright bars are painted across the street to set off the zones, which are 110 to 176 feet apart on the heavier traffic arteries.

The checking is carried out by observation mirror boxes set up at each mark, where policemen with speed tables and stop watches calculate the speed of the cars between mirror flashes. When violation of the speed limit is indicated, a cop hops on his motor and pursues the offender.

Some drivers may still speed between the zones, but more likely most of them will keep a careful eye on the speedometer. As the driver drives down the street, the conspicious bars across the pavement reminds him constantly of the speed law. Thus is recognized a common fault among drivers—the tendency to lose themselves in some thought or the other and unconsciously permit a foot to press progressively harder on the accelerator.

Designed to warn motorists rather than collect speeding fines, this method has great promise as a means of educating the driver.

It's all a matter of comparison. An isolationist is so small he can't realize that this become a small world.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 33rd of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II).

LEYTE

IN April 1944 the defense of the Philippines, the Japanese Empire of conquest in the south and west, the Netherlands, Indies, Malaya, Thailand, Borneo, French Indio-China, the Moluccas and New Guinea, had been in charge of Field Marshal Count Hisaichi Terauchi. From his headquarters at Manila he controlled 17 Japanese armies totaling about 925,000 men. Terauchi was a typical Japanese jingoist. He had been Minister of War and commanded the armies which set out in 1937 to sack China. In the fall of 1943 he had assumed command of the southern armies with headquarters at Singapore. He moved his headquarters to Manila a half year later when the Philippines were added to his area. The 14th Area Army in the Philippines was then under command of Lt. Gen. Shigenori Kuroda. A month before the forces of General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz were at his throat, Terauchi's staff had prepared for him the following estimate of American intentions:

MARSHALL

"A two-pronged attack on Luzon is planned. MacArthur's Army, aided by naval cooperation Nimitz, will advance in the southern Philippine Islands. The other attack will be directed at the northern Philippines from the Pacific Ocean.

"Nimitz will provide MacArthur's forces with direct cooperation support with a part of his naval forces. His main forces will be prepared to engage our navy in the northern Philippines and Taiwan area and overcome any air resistance.

"The anti-axis Far East Army under Kenney will overcome any air resistance over the Philippines and together with the neemy air forces stationed in China will operate over the North China Sea to isolate the Philippines."

Jap Position Critical

In the six days of the great naval action the Japanese position in the Philippines had become extremely critical. Most of the serviceable elements of the Japanese Navy had been committed to the battle with disastrous results. The strike had miscarried, and General MacArthur's land wedge was firmly implanted in the vulnerable flang of the enemy. Terauchi no longer had an effective fleet to cover his forces in the Philippines or his communications to the empire of Malaysia so easily conquered two and one-half years before. There were 260,000 Japanese troop scattered over the Philippines but most of them might as well have been on the other side of the world so far as the enemy's ability to shift them to meet the American thrusts ws concerned If General MacArthur succeeded in establishing himself in the Visayas where he could stage, exploit, and spread under cover of overwhelming naval and air superiority, nothing could prevent him from overrunning the Philippines.

Terauchi decided that the battle must be fought in the difficult terrain of the Leyte mountains and rice paddies. He relieved Kuroda as commander of the 14th Arear Army and replaced him with General Tomoyoki Yamashita, who had conquered Singapore in 1942 and then moved to the Philippines to wind up the campaign after Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma had been unable to bulge the American forces holding out on Bataan. Yamashita was one of Japan's best known generals. For his victories in Singapore and Bataan he had been given the First Area Army in Manchuria, one of the two top field commands in the Kwantung Army.

To General Makina, commander of the 16th Division, then fighting a delaying action against the U. S. Sixth Army under General Krueger, Yamashita relayed this message:

"The Army has received the following order from his Majesty, the Emperor:

"'Enemy ground forces will be destroyed.'"

General MacArthur's advance continued. After securing the high ground overlooking Leyte Gulf, Maj. Gen. J. R. Hodge's XXIV Corps penetrated inland to secure Dagami and Burauen. The X Corps, under Maj. Gen. F. C. Sibert, swept across the San Juanico Strait to seize the south coast of Samar and landed troops in a short amphibious operation on the north coast of Leyte.

Storms Increase Difficulties

By 5 November the American forces had reached the vicinity of Limon at the northern end of the valley road leading to Ormoc, the principal Japanese installation on the island. Bitter fighting for Leyte was now in progress, rendered the more difficult by typhoons which inaugurated the rainy season.

During the naval battle and the weeks following, the Japanese were able to transport reinforcements to Leyte, but by mid-December General Kenney's land-based fighters and Admiral Halsey's carrier planes had strangled this stream of reinforcements. On 1 November United States air patrols located four large transports unloading, escorted by four destroyers and two destroyer escorts.

Army planes struck and sank one, possibly two transports. On 3 November, another three transports were seen unloading at Ormoc, but the Japanese maintained sufficient air patrol overhead and continued striking the United States field on the east coast so that their unloading operations could not completely be interrupted. On 7 November three large transports and four small transports unloaded, covered by seven destroyers and two destroyer escorts. On 9 November ten destroyers and two heavy cruisers brought in four more large troop transports. Kenney's planes attacked and sank two transports, one destroyer, and six freighters On 11 November another convoy started into Ormoc Bay. Carrier planes, now reinforced after the great naval battle attacked. Two transports were sunk. Four destroyers were also sent to the bottom and the fifth was badly damaged. One destroyer escort was sunk. On 7 December an entire convoy of six transports, four destroyers and three destroyer escorts were sunk in San Isidra Bay by United States planes. On 11 December three transports and three destroyers were sunk off Palompam, and the following day another destroyer was sunk and one destroyer escort and two transports were badly damaged.

House Groups Plan Trip Into Far East

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Two House groups plan to leave early in January for Japan and various Pacific islands.

A naval subcommittee will seek information regarding strength of naval bases, the redeployment of service forces and surplus naval goods.

An agriculture subcommittee will investigate the possibility of silk-worn and rubber cultivation in this country.

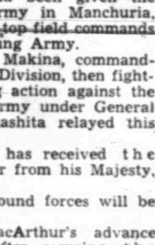

The agriculture subcommittee includes Rep. Poage (D-Tex).

"Buy A Victory Bond TODAY."

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

A SCHOOL teacher in Roswell, N. M., asked her class why December 7—Pearl Harbor Day—was important.

Little Doris Dwight held up her hand without a moment's hesitation and said:

BRANDEIS

"December 7th is important because it's my Daddy's payday."

A funny little story, isn't it?

And yet, what is there really so funny about it?

Aren't we all?

What does the Fourth of July mean to most of us?

Why not be truthful? It's picnics and a dayoff and fun for ourselves and crowded trains and roads and hotels — crowded with pleasure-seekers to whom this important day means nothing more than something just as personal as little Doris Dwight's father's payday.

Decoration Day—a solemn day, indeed, in American history, is the day on which the outdoor season begins; Easter Sunday — after church duties have been fulfilled— is the day on which each one of us shows off his (and certainly her) new finery; Labor Day is the day on which the vacation season is officially over—and so it goes, each day a day of personal meaning and self-interest.

Don't think for a moment, please, that I am criticising you or myself—and I am certainly as bad as anyone else—for making the great, capital "I" the focal point of everything that happens in this world.

A very young person—and, as you know, very young persons are much more courageous about expressing their opinions than we more mature ones are, explained the whole thing to me in very simple fashion:

"HISTORY," she said, "as far as I am concerned, began the day I was born, and will end the day I die. The only history I am interested in is the history I live. That is concrete history to me. Everything else is abstract and theoretical.

"You older folks always tell us youngsters that to understand life we must study history. What has history taught you people? Go back two thousand years and try to figure out how many people were killed in wars during that time.

"Well, in this last war—the only one which I have lived—more people were killed than in all the previous wars together. Is that learning anything from history?

"My history books tell me how we have conquered disease and how life has been prolonged by science. So now you go ahead and kill more people in automobile accidents than plagues and pestilences ever did.

"History tells us condescendingly about the days of pirates and buccaneers and about all their evil deeds. Yet only today I read in my paper that there never was as much crime as there is today.

"No thanks, don't tell me anything about hitsory. I'd rather help to make history than to study it."

So maybe little Doris Dwight wasn't so far wrong after all—to most of us the most important date in history is payday.

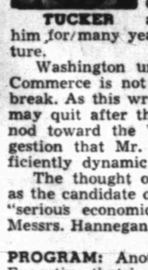

Demo Politicos Split

CIO Is Bone Of Contention

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE TRUMAN political team has split apart in its huddles over the sort of strategy they should pursue toward the Murray-Hillman mass of CIO voters, who have grown restless and rebellious regarding the administration's strike policy. Some of their leaders have become almost as defiant as John L. Lewis in recent days.

A cabinet faction headed by Postmaster General Bob Hannegan believes that the President will have scant chance of re-election unless he maintains the close, friendly working arrangement which FDR had with the more radical group. He has the support, strangely enough, of Fred M. Vinson, secretary of the Treasury.

TUCKER

Although entrusted with the management of financial policies, the veteran former congressman from Kentucky is a smart politician on the side.

Henry A. Wallace's attitude worries his cabinet colleagues. He has made no attempt to patch up the differences between his Presidential boss and his old chums in the CIO, although he has many friends within that organization. Lee Pressman, their counsel, and C. B. Baldwin, political organizer and publicity man, served under him for many years in the Department of Agriculture.

Washington understands that the Secretary of Commerce is not displeased by the prospects of a break. As this writer reported many weeks ago, he may quit after the first of the year with a polite nod toward the White House, but with the suggestion that Mr. Truman's liberalism is not sufficiently dynamic for him.

The thought of Wallace heading a third ticket as the candidate of labor, liberal, racial groups and "serious economic thinkers" gives the shivers to Messrs. Hannegan, Vinson et al.

PROGRAM: Another faction has told the Chief Executive that he will lose votes if he goes out of his way to court the CIO-ers. The leaders of this section are James F. Byrnes, who bears a personal grudge against the Hillmanites, and John W. Snyder, Reconversion director and one of Mr. Truman's top personal advisers in the capital.

In their opinion, the President should press for congressional action on the old Rooseveltian humanitarian program — for every man a good job, a good home, good education, inexpensive medical care, high wages, low prices etc. They argue that he will then hold the workers' vote, no matter how violently the labor executives denounce him in their press releases.

They have no fear of a third party revolt, and will wager that the CIO-ers do not dare to bolt. They point out that the Murray-Hillman organization would lose almost all its influence around the White House and Capitol Hill if it showed so much ingratitude to its Democratic benefactors

The inside explanation for Mr. Truman's troubles in this field is that he has no liaison with the labor people and politicians, as FDR had. His industrial experts — Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach and Special Adviser John R. Steelman — are authorities on economic questions, and are known as well-meaning liberals. But they don't think the thoughts or talk the language of the boys back in the shops.

SHOW: The Navy has hurt its chances for blocking the proposed merger of the armed forces by summoning Iko Hashimoto, Japanese submarine commander, to testify for the United States government in the court-martial of Capt. Charles B. McVay. Commander-in-Chief Harry Truman is understood to be deeply incensed at using the skipper of a "rattlesnake" vessel as a prosecution witness

Even members of Congress known to be big fleet men have privately condemned the move. They fear that the bad psychology shown may hurt their program for killing Army-Navy unification and for laying the keel for preservation of our present strength on the water. They cannot understand how the trial officers took such action without consulting the President or their good friends on Capitol Hill.

In view of Hashimoto's failure as a witness, the suggestion has been advanced that the behind-the-scenes arrangers wanted to be sure to provide a good show, and flying the Jap commander here appealed to them as an excellent publicity stunt. They had to compete with such rival attractions as the Pearl Harbor hearings and the Hurley explosion over our Chinese policy.

MISMANAGED: The Navy mismanaged things so badly that they did not even know the Jap's correct first name. The publicity office here gave it out in advance as "Ike." His interpreter explained on his arrival that it was "Iko."

Second, the defense cross-examination brought out that his submarine, the I-58, was not within 55 miles of the cruiser Indianapolis when that vessel was torpedoed. What naval officer in Japan, then, did not take the precaution of making certain that "Iko" would be a relevant witness? Even if he was, why did the Navy spend the time and money to fly him here when a deposition would have been sufficient?

Mr. Truman — and Congress — would like an answer to these questions!

Moreover, a defense witness who has sunk 28 vessels as a sub officer testified that zigzagging a vessel offers no protection from a skillful and determined commander of underwater craft.

EXAGGERATED: The Treasury department will soon furnish Congress a report of its secret investigation of charges that weathly foreign refugees had cleaned up about $800,000,000 in Wall Street and planned to return home without paying any taxes on their reported profits.

Capitol Hill's ungrounded suspicion that these nonresident aliens intended to cheat Uncle Sam has delayed Senate ratification of two important treaties for more than six months.

These agreement are designed to prevent double taxation of Americans operating in Britain, or vice versa, as well as evasion of income and estate taxes. They affect the vital interests of numerous domestic and British individuals and corporations

Secretary Vinson's quiet inquiry disclosed that the original rumors, which delayed Senate action on the two international pacts, were wildly exaggerated. He hopes that the truth will facilitate the speedy approval of the treaties by the upper chamber.

A final settlement of this problem — evasion of and double taxation — is a matter of great importance in these early postwar years.

REPORTS: Financial circles in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Chicago wallowed in reports that royal and industrial emigres from Germany and her satellite nations were making a good thing of their haven in the Western Hemisphere.

Several close friends of the Roosevelt ian White House, including Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and Princess Martha of Sweden, were supposed to have shown remarkable stock market clairvoyance and ingenuity.

The foreign porfiteers were charged with cashing in on the royal jewels and gilt-edge American stocks. With the profits from their transactions they were said to be living high at hotels and private estates in the suburbs of the cities mentioned above. They were alleged to be spending port of their gains to influence members of Congress and the cabinet to show postwar generosity to their various countries and peoples.

SCRUPULOUSLY: Treasury agents have discovered that the earlier reports on European refugees' profits, as well as their refusal to pay taxes, are at least 75 per cent unfounded. Even in instances where the foreign investors are not required by law to give tribute to Uncle sam, they have paid up save for an extermely small group.

We are undoubtedly financially the strongest nation in the world. No other nation could afford to owe so large a national debt as ours.

Americans Urged To Relieve Suffering

Millions Hungry, Cold In Europe

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—We Americans fought our way through the Christmas mobs in the stores this year, buying anything and everything. It was our annual spree, unmatched perhaps anywhere in the world.

STOKES

As usual we gorged ourselves in this holiday season, the first since the war was over, with food and candy and Christmas egg nog. We live in a land of plenty and it is hard for us to appreciate it.

What some of our families eat and waste in one day would be sufficient to keep a family in the devastated areas of Europe for several days. The bleak winter has begun over there. Cold and starvation are spreading suffering and death among the people who prepared the way, by their resistance and underground movements, against Fascist rule for the eventual triumph of our armies and the peace we now celebrate and enjoy.

Many Are Homeless

For millions in Europe who have some sort of habitation, this Christmas season was one of bare tables in cold rooms and literally rags for clothing. Millions of others are destitute nomads, wandering from place to place in a desolate land.

The American people are fortunate. They have been generous, too. Though it took some prodding—and a lot of it from the people—Congress finally appropriate the necessary funds to continue our share of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Ass'n., UNRRA. We all contribute to that, for it comes from our taxes.

MANY Americans have been generous with other contributions of all kinds, individually and through groups in churches, schools, civic bodies, labor unions and the like. This hristmas season in the midst of plenty known nowhere else in the world makes us stop and think.

How can we, as individuals, help?

Food and clothilng are the great needs and there are two ways we can help there.

The Victory Clothing Collection, ann UNRRA enterprise under direction of Henry J. Kaiser, is beginning another campaign to gather old and unneeded clothing to ship to Europe. The goal is 100 million garments. The first collection which began last April brought contributions of 100 million pounds of clothing.

Also Need Food

There is likely to be a collection organization in your community. The campaign already has a widespread base of local operations — 4,333 local chairmen in 9,817 communities throughout the country. More collection units daily are being organized. If there is none in your community you may organize one. Information about shipments is available at Victory Clothing Collection, 100 Maiden Lane, New York, 5, N. Y.

There is a simple and easy way to help with food, too.

That is through contributions of cans of food. This may be done through Victory Collection of Canned Foods, an enterprise also associated with UNRRA, with headquarters also at 100 Maiden Lane, New York City. This is growing rapidly. There are now 900 groups and organizations all over the country. In churches, women's organizations, labor unions, and the like. Twelve tons of canned food a day are arriving now in New York from 22 regional warehouses. Freight charges on clothing and food is paid by UNRRA.

THE Christmas spirit is exemplified in all sorts of contributions reported by UNRRA headquarters here, ranging from a cash gift of $1.78 by the pupils of Vacation Church school, Mount Bethel Methodist church, Lexington, Ala., to 150 Holstein heifers sent by the Church of The Brethren, a Dunkard church in Pennsylvania, to Poland.

Fifty - four cattle were contributed to Greece by the Falls Cities Co - Operative Producers Ass'n. at Louisville, Ky. The CIO and AFL joined in a contribution of $75,000 in medical supplies for labor rest camps in Czechoslovakia. A young woman government worker walked into UNRRA headquarters here the other day and gave her personal check for $100, with a request that five relatives be notified that she was giving $20 for each as a Christmas present.

And so the hear of America opens up.

More is needed.

McAllen Man Dies Of Christmas Shooting

McALLEN, Dec. 26. (AP)—Manuel Ruedas, 23, died in a hospital here today of a wound suffered in a Christmas eve shooting near Mission.

A murder charge was filed at Edinburgh against Cecilio Anzaldau of Mission, who, Deputy Sheriff Ray Brooks said, was being sought.

POLAND TO GET OIL

WARSAW, Dec. 26. (AP)—The Polish press agency said today Poland has signed an agreement with Romania to import 50,000 tons of Romanian crude oil and is negotiating for additional imports as well as seeking Romanian timber.

Gleason Plunges To Death From Hotel

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (UP)—The final curtain fell today for Army Sgt. Russell Gleason, 36-year-old actor son of Jimmy Gleason, the film actor. He plunged to his death last night from the fourth floor of a midtown hotel.

A minute before Gleason's body landed on a second floor extension, police at the East 51st Street station received a telephone call reporting a man standing on the rain-swept fourth floor ledge.

Police arrived to pick up the young actor's body, its back broken.

Young Gleason, like his famous, grinning father, had been a child actor, first appearing with his parents at the age of three months.

He had appeared in several motion pictures. He played the part of the dreamy, German schoolboy, Mueller, in "All Quiet on the Western Front."

He was married in 1938 to Cynthia Hobart, daughter of a Hollywood director, by the same minister who had read the vows for his parents 32 years before.

PRICES BID UP SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—Stock market customers returne today after a three-day Christmas layoff and bid up prices of a majority of leaders fractions to around 3 points.

Motors were heavily in demand after representatives of General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Automobile Workers resumed their talks in seeking an end to the five-week-old strike.

Volume was 1,410,000 shares against 940,000 last Friday—the preceding regular session.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite rose .3 of a point to 75.8. The biggest gain was in the industrial average.

Higher were General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Deere, Boeing, American Telephone, North American, American Water Works, Anaconda, American Smelting, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Santa Fe, Great Northern and Texas Co.

Rails led a steady bond list.

Miners Trapped

er near the mine. Officials roped off an area around the pit to protect rescue workers and calls were sent out to adjoining Harlan county for additional crews.

Miners from other shifts, familiar with the tunnel, said unless the trapped men were able to follow the fresh air course to its source their chances for rescue would be small.

May Seal Off Area

One other hope, these miners said, would be for the trapped men to brattice themselves with brattice cloth into a room inside the pit and seal off the foul air.

The first rescue crew to attempt to reach the men entered from an air shaft, about two miles from the mine mouth, but had to turn back when its path was barred by a slate fall.

The rescue squads were provided with gas masks for protection against gas formations.

Turks' Warning

Russia were friendly, "great wounds" could follow.

Karabekir's words and a statement by Foreign Minister Hussan Saka that Turkey wanted nothing and would give nothing, were repetitions of similar recent declarations that Turkey would fight before yielding either land or rights.

Russo-Turkish relations have been deteriorating gradually since the Soviet foreign office announced last March that the Soviet Union was denouncing a 20-year-old treaty of friendship and nonaggression and suggested that a new basis must be found on which to renew the pact.

Rites Are Set For Hal Nelson Today

Noted British Naval Hero Death Victim

LONDON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Admiral of the Fleet Lord Roger John Brownlow Keyes, distinguished British naval hero who emerged from retirement to serve his nation in the second World War, died in his sleep today after an illness of three weeks. He was 73.

Lord Keyes, who was given a large share of the credit for defeating the German U-boat menace in World war I, was famous as the hero of the spectacular Zeebrugge raid which sealed up the Bruges canal in 1918.

In 1940, after five years of retirement, Lord Keyes was made director of combined operations and was one of the sponsors of the daring British Commandos.

Truman's Talk

who said his weather-delayed, hazardous Christmas flight here yesterday from Washington was rough—that he had had rougher trips, but not many.

The President joked with reporters when one suggested a return by train to Washington after the President said he would leave by plane at 8:00 a. m. (CST) Friday aboard his plane, the Sacred Cow.

No Comment On Parley

The President withheld comment on the results of the Moscow conference of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes with the foreign ministers of Great Britain and Russia. He said he would have something to say on that after his return to Washington, but stressed that he and Byrnes were in complete accord.

At another point the President said that an economic report on China, recently submitted by Ed Locke, Presidential adviser, would be published soon. He said it had been referred to the War and Navy departments for routine check. He added it was a capable report and he thought it would be helpful.

Babson's Pre-View Of 1946

may continue at peak figures.

8. The great question mark of 1946 will be how, to whom and at what price the government will dispose of its billions of dollars worth of unneeded supplies.

FARM OUTLOOK

9. Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and more bales of cotton will be raised in 1946 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1946 should hold up fairly well.

10. There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The U. S. will have more to eat in 1946 than in 1945. The per capital consumption should be 10% above the prewar level of 1935-1939.

11. Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price. There will be a great surplus of eggs; but fats, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

12. Farmers will start in 1946 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a postwar collapse in farm prices.

TAXES

13. Taxes will not be increased during 1946; and there may be further reductions. Some nuisance taxes will be eliminated altogether.

14. The federal debt will continue to increase during 1946, but I expect no War bond drives.

15. Whatever is done about taxes, the cost of living will continue to rise ruring 1946 due largely to increased wages.

16. Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be the big political task of 1946. There will be jobs for all, but not at the wages desired.

RETAIL SALES

17. The volume of retail sales will be about the same as in 1945. Sales of ladies' apparel and general luxuries will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be purchased.

18. The total dollar retail sales should exceed 1945 with an increased demand for woolen and cotten textiles.

19. There will be a great demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts with honest standard length "tails."

20. Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock up unnecessary supplies.

FOREIGN TRADE

21. The United States will own over 50% of the world's shipping in 1946.

22. We will make England and some other countries loans provided they will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in the United States.

23. Both the British empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1946; but cartels and government monopolies will be frowned upon.

24. Russia, Germany and England may try to "gang up" against the United States but we will fearlessly oppose such actions if they occur.

LABOR

25. The Little Steel Formula will be forgotten during 1946. The year will be noted for strikes and labor troubles.

26. Industrial employment during 1946 will be off both in hours and in pay rolls, labor leaders' efforts notwithstanding.

27. Many industries, now operating on a forty-eight-hour week, will return to a forty or forty-five-hour week during 1946.

28. Hourly wage rates will increase, but "take-home" income will be less. Labor will demand better management and closer labor-management relations.

INFLATION

29. The inflation era which I have been forecasting for several years will be very evident in 1946. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

30. Both wage and price controls will gradually be removed during 1946 until the government throws up its hands and lets nature take its course.

31. Some time after 1946, production will catch up with consumption, people will have spent their money and then there will be a surplus of goods. By 1950 there may be much unemployment. Then may come the severest inflation by Congress attempting to check the decline by printing currency. But this is something we need not worry about for two or three years.

32. If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1946 and may be a factor in determining world prices as well as production. The markets may even witness a "communistic scare" during 1946; but they should recover soon thereafter.

STOCK MARKET

33. The rails will decline some time during 1946. Certain airplane manufacturing, shipbuilding and other war stocks may decline; but the Dow-Jones Industrial averages will reach higher figures some time during 1946 than at present.

34. The safest stocks to buy — considering value, income and safety — will continue to be the merchandising stocks, especially chain store stocks.

35. 1945 saw a large increase in the demand for inflation stocks with lesser demand for non-inflation stocks; but 1946 should witness both groups moving more or less together. Switching has been overdone in many cases.

36. Stock markets will continue to witness creeping general inflation, although the stock market as a whole may appear to have reached its peak before December 31, 1946.

BONDS

37. Although bank loaning rates should have an upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1946. The money supply is now 25% above normal and government financing demands continued low rates.

38. Inticipating the expected decline in federal taxes, 1946 should see a falling off in the price of most municipal and probably other tax-exempt bonds.

39. The high-grade corporation bonds may hold steady but sooner or later decline considerably. Whether this will start in 1946 I do not know. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggering maturities during 1946.

40. More public utilities will be taken over by Municipalities and "Authorities" during 1946. Wise investors will consider this possibility when selecting public utility bonds. Some stocks such as "Eastern Utilities Associates Convertible Shares," in which I am personally interested, should be helped by public ownership.

REAL ESTATE

41. Suburban real estate will be in much greater demand with higher prices during 1946.

42. City real estate should hold its own, excepting in the former congested war production areas where declines may set in.

43. Small productive farms will continue to increase in price; but large commercial farms may sell for less in 1946 than in 1945.

44. Building will show a considerable increase. Contracts will be up with advancing prices due to scarcity of lumber, cement, bricks and labor.

45. Office and residential rents during 1946 may be expected to increase.

46. 1946 may see the beginning of a real building boom. The pessimists will make little money in 1946.

POLITICS AND POSTWAR PEACE

47. President Truman may lose control of Congress, but he will try to take a middle-of-the-road position. I believe that all wise Republicans and Democrats should support his efforts.

48. Our foreign headaches will become worse and more frequent during 1946. What we are going through to reorganize Germany will be repeated in other countries.

49. The Latin American honeymoon has passed its peak. The attitude of Argentina will extend to other countries. Our South American trouble will increase during 1946.

5 . 1946 will see more religious interest, including more churchgoing, than did 1945. People gradually are realizing that without a spiritual awakening no peace or other plans will be much good. Nations cannot be depended upon to cooperate and stick to their agreements unless they recognize God as their real Ruler and Guide.

U. S. Public Favors Unification Of Armed Forces, Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—The proposal to merge the armed forces appeals to a majority of Americans who have followed the discussions about unification.

But the latest survey on the issue shows an increase in the number opposing the merger. In early November, the vote in opposition was 23 per cent. Today it stands at 34 per cent.

GALLUP

Virtually every one of any rank in the armed services has been called upon to express his opinion of unification. Last Wednesday, President Truman asked Congress to provide for unification of the forces under one defense department headed by a cabinet officer.

In measuring public sentiment on the issue, the Institute had field reporters ask:

"Will you tell me what your understanding is of the term 'unified command' for the armed forces of the United States?"

In November, 52 per cent of those questioned gave a satisfactorily correct reply. As a result of increased public interest stemming out of the Washington hearings (before the Truman message to Congress), 62 per cent were able to give a correct reply. These people were then asked a second question:

"Do you approve or disapprove of a unified command for the armed forces of this country?"

The replies, as compared with the November survey on this issue:

	Nov.	TODAY
Approve	64%	52%
Disapprove	23	34
No Opinion	13	14

The better educated and better informed throughout the country tend to be the most in favor of the idea of merger. However, a drop-off in the proportion of those favoring the proposal is to be found among the informed voters in all education groups.

Here is the vote today and the vote in the November survey:

Informed, Approving, By Education

	Nov.	TODAY
College	73%	67%
High School	64	55
Grade School or No School	57	43

Among World War II veterans included in the poll, the vote runs 53 per cent approval, 40 per cent disapproval, seven per cent no opinion.

Passengers' Joy Is Short Lived---They Got On Wrong Trains

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Two trains pulled out of the Union station during the holiday travel rush, each carrying about 200 passengers happy at finding places on the crowded cars.

Their joy was short-lived—they all were on the wrong train.

By error 200 passengers who thought they were boarding a through train for the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida had boarded a local; those who wanted the local were aboard the fast train.

Both trains halted at Fredericksburg, Va., and unloaded but those aboard the local missed the fast train and many of those on the fast train already had been carried past their stations.

The stranded groups, unable to squeeze onto following trains, finally were accommodated on extra cars the railroad rounded up for them.

Tiny Woman, Former U. S. Citizen, Aids Indonesian Rebels

MALANG, Java, Dec. 22 (Delayed) (AP)—A tiny, dark-haired woman revealed herself today as the possessor of the mysterious voice with the American background which daily has been violently attacking the British and Dutch over the Indonesian Nationalist radio in eastern Java.

She said her name a decade ago was Mrs. Vannen Manx; that she fled the United States for Bali in 1931, adopting the Hindu religion and the Balinese name of Ketoet-Tantri. Before the war she opened a hotel in Java which became famous as a Swiss-managed, Indonesian-operated mountain resort near Malang. It was destroyed during the Japanese occupation, and Mrs. Manx, suspected of being an American spy, was subjected to the cruelest of tortures, she said.

Change Stations Often

"I can't tell you where I work from but I change stations frequently and I work closely with the youth leader Soetomo," she said.

"I was in Soerabaja when the British bombed it. I saw hospitals crowded with innocent Indonesians. That was when I decided to go along with the Indonesians. I kept close watch on the Soerabaja front.

For some time she dwelt on her harrowing experiences as a prisoner of the Japanese, who she said regarded her as their principal enemy in Java and heaped cruelties upon her. Others who were interned with her have corroborated this part of her story, saying she received the most brutal treatment.

Tortures Described

She went on:

"They kept me locked in a room alone, often without clothes, for a year and a half. They made me walk the main street in Poerwokerto stark naked, with a sign, 'American spy,' and forced water down my throat until my stomach distended terribly.

"Four times they fastened my arms behind me and hung me by them—again naked—until I fainted. They broke all my toes and fingers by hammering them.

"Nothing could convince them I was not a spy."

Tokyo Paper Charges Food Being Hoarded

TOKYO, Dec. 26 (AP)—The new Tokyo daily, Mimpo, asserted today that large stocks of foodstuffs were being "hoarded" by the privileged class, while the government "is trying to give the impression that the only way to tide over the food crisis in this country lies in importing foreign rice."

The paper demanded distribution of the "hoarded" stocks.

Under terms of a directive issued by Allied headquarters today, 20,000,000 kilograms (44,080,000 pounds) of food and 3,130,000 pieces of clothing, taken from Japanese military stores, will be distributed among the people. The total represents approximately 30 per cent of all Japanese Army and Navy food, and all Navy clothing. Very little Army clothing was available.

Clothing Is Pledged For Returning Vets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (U.P.)—The Office of Price Administration has promised early action to make woolen clothing available to returning servicemen at a price they can afford, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney said today.

He disclosed that OPA General Counsel Richard H. Field had written him that OPA was now planning a conference with the industry advisory committee early next year to discuss the problem.

Field said it would be determined what effect OPA's "wool maximum average price order" was having on wool clothing production. O'Mahoney had asked that the order be "thoroughly investigated."

"I can assure you that we are now examining the problem with greatest care," Field wrote, "and will take, immediately, any further steps that appear necessary."

U. S. Referendum On British Loan Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Senator Johnson (D-Colo) suggested today that the proposed loan to Britain be financed by a special bond issue, which he said would serve as a popular referendum.

Under Johnson's plan, the bondholders rather than the U. S. Treasury would bear the loss if the British should default.

The bonds would be offered to the American public by the U. S. government and the interest rate would bt "exactly what Britain pays." the People who buy the bonds, Johnson told reporters, would "take whatever risk there is and accept whatever payment Britain makes."

If the American people approve the loan, Johnson said, they should prove willing to buy the bonds, and "if the American people don't want it, then the government ought not to underwrite it."

Johnson said he intends to push his plan as an amendment to legislation authorizing the British loan when it comes up at the next session of Congress, but he has not yet worked out all the details.

Devaluation Of Franc Seen As Aid To Trade

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—Devaluation of the French franc was labeled in foreign trade circles here today as a long step forward in bringing "made in France" articles back to the shelves of American stores.

Leading New York financial institutions reported no transactions in francs, however, in the first few hours of business since the new rates of 119.0669 francs to the United States dollar was promulgated.

Experts expect the move to stimulate imports of French wines and liquors, perfumes and cosmetics, laces and fine textiles. When more normal travel conditions are restored, it will make possible an expansion of tourist trade to France.

As a result of the devaluation, the United States dollar will purchase more than twice as much French goods as at prices prevailing prior to the financial step.

"But Mr. Johnson next door got a telephone!"

IF YOU ARE WAITING for a telephone but the telephone man stops at your neighbor's house, most likely your neighbor has been waiting longer than you have. If that's not the reason, it's probably because:

He has just moved from somewhere else in the city and had his telephone service moved, or . . .

There may be serious illness in the family and a telephone is necessary during the emergency, or . . .

Your neighbor may be a returned veteran needing a telephone to re-establish him in civilian life, or . . .

A telephone in his home may be necessary to the health and welfare of the community.

With these necessary exceptions, those waiting are served in the order in which we received the application. In some neighborhoods, of course, we shall be able to catch up more quickly than in others. But, as telephone plant is constructed, our aim is to see that everyone gets service in proper turn.

We're putting in telephones as fast as we can. And whether your turn for service comes in the near future, or not for several months, you can be sure we're looking forward to the day when the telephone man will knock at your door and say:

"I'm here to put in your telephone."

How Well Has General Electric Met These Objectives?

HIGHER WAGES

Here's how General Electric's increased production and efficiency have affected G-E workers. Average hourly earnings for men, not including overtime pay, have gone up as follows:

1935	$ .72
1936	.73
1937	.81
1938	.87
1939	.86
1940	.85
1941	.89
1942	.96
1943	1.05
1944	1.09
1945 (Sept.)	1.09

Overtime pay gave G-E workers more on top of this. G.E. has made jobs for nearly three times as many. 55,766 worked for G.E. ten years ago. 145,000 have jobs today, and at much higher pay.

LOWER PRICES

G.E. has an obligation to a second group of people—the public. The public wants improved products at fair prices.

"More goods for more people at less cost"—G.E.'s goal—is not a part-time assignment. It is a job for management and worker alike if G. E. is to keep growing, keep raising wages, keep making jobs for more workers.

A few figures show typical price decreases:

Refrigerator	1935	$199.00
	1941	129.95
Lamp	1935	.15
	1945	.10 (PLUS TAX)
Transformer	1935	76.32
	1941	69.30
Motor	1935	12.80
	1941	8.50
Radio	1935	47.50
	1941	27.95

FAIR PROFITS

G.E. during the war earned 4.7¢ on each dollar of sales. Of this, 4.1¢ was paid to its more than 200,000 stockholders, and the remaining six-tenths of a cent on each dollar was retained in the business to assist in carrying on and expanding its operations.

All money earned over this 4.7¢ was turned back to the U. S. Government. G-E cost-saving methods had made war goods for less money than the Government expected.

These dividends have been paid per share of common stock since 1935:

1935	$ .70
1936	1.50
1937	2.20
1938	.90
1939	1.40
1940	1.85
1941	1.75
1942	1.40
1943	1.40
1944	1.40
1945	1.60

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OBJECTIVE is to keep prices moving downward, keep wages going up, and to earn a fair profit. This calls for volume production, more efficient work and methods. With the help of every single employee, General Electric believes it can show our country, as it did in wartime, an example of American enterprise at its best.

More Goods for More People at Less Cost
