

Sue's Views

By Sue Cannon

Only a short time ago the editor of a paper in Indiana grew tired of being called a liar and announced that he would begin telling the truth in the future. The next issue of the paper carried the following items:

1. "John Coyle, local grocerman, is doing a poor business for a good reason. His prices are high, his store is dirty, and his clerks are insolent. How can he expect much?"

2. "The Rev. Bob Jones preached Sunday night of 'Charity'. He'll need all the charity he can get from his congregation because his sermon was so poor."

3. "Dave Conkey died at his home here Tuesday night. The doctor called it heart failure, but those who know say whiskey killed him."

4. "Married-Miss Sylva Rhodes and James T. Colvin, last Sunday at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary town girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jackrabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He has been living of the 'old man' at home all his life and is not worth having. A dim future for the couple is predicted."

5. "Died-Aged 56 years, six months and 13 days. Deceased was a mild-mannered pirate who came here in the night with another man's wife and joined the church at the first chance. He owed us several dollars for his paper, was indebted to most everyone else in town, but you could hear him praying six blocks away. He died singing 'Jesus Paid it All' and we think he is right, because the deceased never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos casket and his friends threw palm leaf fans in his grave because he'll probably need them."

After this issue containing the above items, the Indiana editor was beseeched by his readers to start lying again.

Japanese Awed By Texas

A world of new experiences have been faithfully recorded in the daily diaries of six young Japanese visitors to Olton, participants in the Lions Clubs International Youth Exchange Program. The young visitors will use those diaries when they share their experiences with the Lions Clubs who sponsored them in this memorable six weeks visit to Texas.

Thirty young Japanese made the trip together to Lubbock with others from their homeland choosing other states to visit. From Lubbock, the youths are scattered in the towns of Lions District 272.

The three young men were soon given "American sounding" nicknames, derivatives of their own names. Teruhiko Tobikawa, guest in the Leon Noack home, is Terry; Masami Kinoshita, now answering to Sam, is staying with the Wayne Coles; and Kenji Nakamura, whose name has been shortened to Ken, is dividing his stay in Olton with two families, the Don Spains and the Willie Greens.

Yasuyo Nozaki is the Hoyt Taylors' guest; Yukiko Hannya, a visitor in the John Thompson home and Hiroko Nagashima, the Japanese "daughter" of the Wandie Hutsons.

Hiroko and Yukiko call their respective host parents, "Mother and Father." Terry adopted the more informal "Mom and Dad."

An only child, Yukiko captured the hearts of the young Thompsons even before her arrival when she answered their get-acquainted letter with "Now I have three sisters, all at one time."

The youths were awed to find they could see the horizon and found Texas sunsets impressive, beauties taken for granted by Plainsmen.

Size of Texas farms almost overwhelmed the youths who associate "farms" as small plots such as those in their homeland. Sprinkler systems have also stirred amazement and have led to some difficulty in being described since the youths have limited understanding of the English language.

Japanese farms, they say, are irrigated from small springs, by water wheels, pedaled for power or not at all.

Accompanying the Thompsons to a farm garden was a memorable experience for Yukiko who got her first taste of squash and black-eyed peas.

"She likes everything she's tried," says her Texas mother. "She loves Cheerios and plans to take several boxes home with her. She loves iced tea, even for breakfast."

Mexican food was a new food for all the youths. Fresh plums were also a special treat although they are grown in Japan. Terry, explaining the difference, says the fruit is not eaten raw in his homeland but is preserved by pickling.

Some of the youth brought their host parents chop sticks which are found in numerous design and finish. Sometimes, they explain, a knife and fork is used by the Japanese diner but in most instances chop sticks are still used for everything, including soup.

Hiroko has also been an easy guest at meal time, liking everything new she's tried. Corn meal is something she had never seen before. Avocados and squash were also new.

Mrs. Hutson says her young guest loves Kool-aid, something she had never tasted before her visit. "She also loves grocery stores."

The young Japanese explain there is less variety in their country's food stores. All are amazed at the number of cereals available for shoppers. Terry says, "We have maybe three or four different ones, you have many kinds."

Canned biscuits were a fascination to Hiroko. Helping prepare supper one evening, she was puzzled at the container. Jumping in surprise when her host father whacked the can open, she also watched in wonder through the window of the oven as the biscuits baked.

Delighting in peach ice cream at the Thompson home, Hiroko says "We never eat peach skins."

One of the more confusing communication challenges the Texas host families encountered was to explain our meaning of "joke." With that new bit of knowledge, Yukiko came to the conclusion her host family had been making a joke when they wrote, "It almost never rains here." Ironically, the young people arrived just prior to Olton's recent "rainy spell."

Faultlessly polite, the Japanese youth are quick to express gratitude and to ask pardon.

"Hiroko says 'thank you' and 'I'm sorry' a hundred times a day," Mrs. Hutson says. The Japanese Miss proved that quality when she said "Thank you" to the Enterprise photographer who snapped their picture for this story.

Although many of the small appliances found in American homes bear the inscription "Made in Japan," the young women seem completely unfamiliar with the everyday gadgets of housekeepers such as mixers and blenders, and more especially, dishwashers. The electric toothbrush has also been an unfamiliar item.

Trips to Palo Duro Canyon to see "Texas" and visits to Six Flags have been treats which the youth describe as "very interesting."

"But how do you explain the six flags of Texas?" queries Mrs. Hutson, to young people with a communication barrier who have known only government of a ruling Emperor.

The youths enjoyed a supper party recently at the John Jeffries home and were taught Indian wrestling by the young Jeffries boys. "All of them love little kids" says one host parent. "And they all like blonds," she adds with a laugh.

At the Jeffries home, the young people enjoyed listening to tapes of Country and Western music and unanimously approved the selections of Tom T. Hall.

Musically inclined themselves but modestly profess ing their own ability as "a little," Terry says that learning to play musical instruments is popular with all Japanese youth.

Terry's prize remembrance of his Texas visit is a six-string steel guitar which "would have cost much more in Japan."

"He's good," answers Hiriko when Terry modestly hesitated to answer the question, "Can you play it?"

Replying to the teasing question, "Do you know Elvis Presley?" Sam hops up from his seat to pantomime with authenticity that Japanese youth are familiar with the rock and roll artist.

Mrs. Hutson tells of overhearing her daughter from the Orient singing a beautiful and lilting refrain which she recognized only when the appropriate actions proved it to be the Japanese version of "London Bridge Is Falling Down."

None of the youths have traveled beyond their homeland until this trip. Ken and Sam share the same home city, Toyama, and are sponsored by the same Lion's Club.

Ken's father is a representative-director of a company which sells tent products and sails. He has a younger sister.

Sam has a younger brother. His father is in construction.

Terry, who also has just one brother, is the son of a steel merchant.

Hiroko's father is a doctor. She has one sister and two brothers. Yasuyo's father works in "a factory." She has one sister.

Yukiko called her father, the vice president of a shipping company, one afternoon. Speaking at 4 p.m. Texas time, she talked with her father at 6 a.m. Japanese time.

The youths have found numerous new things and have countless "firsts" to tell about when they return home. But the visitors have also found a number of familiar things - Coca Cola, Dr. Pepper, Seven-Up, McDonald's hamburgers and the "finger lickin' good eating of the Colonel."

Souvenirs of their Texas visit will include new Levi jeans, popular apparel with Japanese young people. Available in Japanese stores, the well-liked garb is "much cheaper here," the visitors say.

Letter To The Editor

A Drug Problem - Here

Thanks to authorization by House Speaker Bill Clayton, one of the most important discussions in the history of this state occurred in the office of Congressman George Mahon on Friday, July 11, 1975.

After studying my notes and thinking several days on this meeting, I feel the best way I can convey the thrust is to write a simple summation which is basically fact, with an insertion of some of the strong opinions expressed by those present.

There is a drug problem in Texas today. Opinions vary as to the severity, but this we do know: drug arrests in Texas are increasing each year. In 1965 there were 1,094 arrests; 1970, 12,001 arrests; 1971, 12,309 arrests; 1972, 16,077 arrests; 1973, 24,403 arrests; and 1974, 31,521 arrests. These arrests were largely the victims.

The drug scene in Texas includes marihuana, amphetamines, barbiturates, heroin, glue, gasoline sniffing, paint and other hard drugs. The medical profession still offers a wide variance in opinion as to the effects of most drugs, but there is building evidence that hard drugs are closely related to the crime wave throughout the Nation, as well as in Texas.

Dr. Judianne Densen-Gerber, lawyer, doctor, and an authority in the field of drug abuse with much experience in the area concerning drug victims, states without reservation that she has reliable information which indicates the target market for heroin right now is all states along the Mexican border. It is the plan of the drug distributors to create as many addicts in Texas as they have done in New York and other eastern cities, with concentration on the urban areas, and accent in colleges, high schools, junior high schools and even in elementary schools.

Dr. Densen-Gerber said Texas is on the threshold of an epidemic and unless immediate and drastic steps are taken, 10% of our school children will be exposed to heroin this year. What it will cost this state in crime and violence will be literally millions upon millions of dollars, and the drug traffic will realize equal millions in profit as they are now doing in the eastern cities.

There is little awareness among Texans concerning the enormity of the drug problem. As Chairman Mahon said, "We have great pride in our section of the country and hesitate to admit the presence of this problem until it hits us personally through a member of the family or a close friend." An evidence of our lack of awareness is the fact that Texas ranks 53rd among the fifty states and three territories in state funds to fight drug abuse. During the fiscal year, Texas appropriated $103,000.00 for drug abuse treatment programs; local funds have increased from no funds in 1971 to $1,041,964.00 in 1975; and federal funds have increased from no funds in 1971 to $6,148,716.00 in 1975.

As an elected official, I believe we need to get into the meat of this program immediately. If Dr. Densen-Gerber is right, then the public must be aroused, and the problem attacked quickly with all resources available. R.B. (Mac) McAlister

Editorially Speaking

Our Apology

We have an apology to make to the city council.

We stated in our editorial last week that they okayed a sum of $1900 to be spent for promotion of the city, which was incorrect.

We should have said they DISCUSSED the use of one percent of the total general fund for promotion of the city, which totals about $1900.

They agreed to listen (next council meeting) to ideas for promotion of the city....so we stand corrected and offer our apologies to the council for saying they spent money for something when they didn't....and giving them "thunder" for it. We'd still like to see some paving and some streets cleaned.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

Want to make the headlines? The really big headlines? You don't do it by playing Babe Ruth baseball in the Hub City--not in the AJ.

There's a bit of exaggeration there, the Lubbock guys did get the largest size head possible for a two column story.

Yogi Berra lost his job and got a six column headline and story.

Jack Nicholas received top billing and got an eight column banner proclaiming he was "tops" in the PGA field.

But the hometown boys who won the sectional title in 16-18 Babe Ruth Baseball and the privilege of competing in the "Tournament of Campions" (the "World Series of 16-18 Babe Ruth) managed only a two column story on the sports section's front page.

As far as I know, Lubbock isn't HOME for Yogi, his successor nor any of the pro-golfers competing in the PGA championship.

Wouldn't it be marvelous if those South Plains baseballers became the World Champions? It's a first for our little corner of the world to be represented in a baseball world series and we can also feel pride in the Lubbock team.

MRS. CRAIG SMITH

Cook Of The Week

Living on a farm has been a new experience for our Cook of the Week, Mrs. Craig Smith. Born and reared in Olton, Denise began the new experience of farm living when the young Smiths moved a year ago to the farm northwest of town.

Denise says she's learned to like "country living" but found it "awfully quiet" at first. She has not learned to be a mud driver, she says, and during recent rains didn't venture from home unless Craig was available to drive.

The young Smiths have a little son, Scott, 13 months old.

An avid sports fan, Denise played basketball in high school and was a Mustang Band twirler. She likes biking but doesn't get to ride much since her bicycle isn't equipped with a seat for young Scott.

Denise likes to sew. Since her marriage, she has also become interested in plants and has enjoyed making a garden this year.

NOTICE

BUDGET HEARING

of Olton Independent School District
Will Meet

August 11, 8 PM

in the Board Room

Located in the High School Building.

$938 IS WAITING FOR YOU ...

AND THERE'S $938 FOR YOUR SPOUSE AND $938 FOR EACH OF YOUR CHILDREN

That's right. If you qualify, you and members of your family each can receive up to $938 a year to help pay the cost of education or vocational training at the Regional Occupational Center—Plainview. The money is yours. You don't pay it back because it's a grant under the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant program.

This unique new program is designed to help offset the cost of education while you are enrolled in any of the programs or courses being offered by the Regional Occupational Center. Because we have an open door admissions policy, nearly everyone can be a college student — not just the high school graduate. More adults are getting post-high school education today than ever before.

What's important too, is that you no longer have to be a full time student to qualify for a Basic Educational Opportunity Grant. The program now applies to half time students too.

WHAT YOU CAN RECEIVE

FULL TIME STUDENT (12 OR MORE SEMESTER HOURS A SEMESTER) $938 A YEAR
THREE-QUARTER TIME STUDENT (9-11 SEMESTER HOURS A SEMESTER) $704 A YEAR
HALF TIME STUDENT (6-8 SEMESTER HOURS A SEMESTER) $469 A YEAR

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

You are if you can show financial need, have never attended college PRIOR to April 1, 1973, and are a U.S. citizen. And with current changes in family income limits, more and more middle-income family now qualify for these grant.

This may sound like a big give away. But it's not if you really look closely. You see, if you get more education or increase your vocational skills, you'll probably get a better paying job. And the more money you earn, the more taxes you'll pay. That's one way you indirectly repay your grant.

The only cost involved in applying for the BEOG is a postage stamp. For help in filling out the form or for more information, please call or come by the:

Protein potency is one of the terms being used to describe the positive aspects of beef promoters arguments supporting the favorable factors of beef protein versus plant protein. The beef backer with one of the most impressive data accumulations to support the meat producers position is Dr. Bruce Taylor, an animal nutritionist at Arizona University. Dr. Taylor says one of the most important aspects of judging protein is an evaluation of the amount of protein actually utilized by the body compared to the amount of intake. Using a scale with egg protein rated at 100, Dr. Taylor says beef would rate at 80 and corn and milo at 56. Citing statistics based on feeding out a 650 pound steer with a ton of grain, Dr. Taylor says the human body would actually utilize exactly the same weight of protein whether consuming the 160 pounds of protein in the feed or the 112 pounds in the finished steer. His final conclusion ... a choice between corn and milo or beef.
