The 36th Division Association, which is currently headed by a former Snyderite, will hold its 46th annual reunion next Sept. 2-4 at Houston.

Meanwhile, some chapter reunions will be held during the summer. Battery C, 132nd Field Artillery, will hold its third nation-wide reunion June 25-27 at Arlington. Company B, 142nd, will get together Aug. 13-15 at Nashville, Tenn., and Company B, 143rd, will have its reunion July 1-3 at Mexia.

The association of "T Patchers" now has over 1,500 paid up members.

Lance P. Mullins, former Snyder resident who now lives in Dallas, is the president of the 36th Division Association. He is the third former enlisted man to be elected to that office.

Gov. Preston Smith is going to lead the Fort Griffin Fandangle Parade on June 24. The Fandangle, the original musical historical drama written and produced entirely by the people of Albany, will have its opening performance this year on the night of June 17. The other performances will be on June 18-19-24-25-26.

A "sampler" of this production was presented several weeks ago in the Scurry County Coliseum in connection with the Cowboy Hall of Fame Art Show, and it drew enthusiastic applause.

The Scurry County United Fund improved its per capita standing in last fall's campaign, according to the records compiled by Texas United Community Services.

The national average gift per capita in campaigns which raised between $25,000 and $49,999 was $2.09. The per capita figure here was $2.23. This apparently was about par for this area, with Lamesa giving $2.32 per capita and Sweetwater $2.22 per capita. Perryton had the highest record in the state in this bracket, giving at the rate of $4.15 per capita to its United Fund.

Just 2½ weeks remain before the Coaches All-America Football Game at Lubbock, which is the first football game of the season each year. The Lions Club here is participating in ticket sales for the game and started off with a block of 300 for Snyder fans. At the first of this week, a little over 100 tickets were still available here. They are being distributed for the Lions Club by Cecil Boren at the Snyder National Bank.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, June 9, the 160th day of 1971. There are 205 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1940, Norway's army surrendered to the Nazis in World War II.

On this date:

In 1815, the Congress of Vienna ended after dealing with problems resulting from the Napoleonic wars.

In 1893, Ford's Theater in Washington, which had been remodeled into government offices, collapsed, killing 21 persons.

In 1915, after the sinking of the British liner Lusitania, the United States demanded that Germany pledge to guarantee freedom of the seas.

In 1943, Congress, after several years of debate, passed a bill establishing the withholding tax.

In 1953, the worst tornado ever to hit New England killed nearly 100 persons in Worcester, Mass., and neighboring towns.

Ten years ago— The U.N. Security Council called on Portugal to end repression in the West African territory of Angola.

Five years ago— Western Union announced a new two-year work contract ending a strike that had shut down company service across the country.

One year ago— In Jordan, there was an attempt on the life of King Hussein as he was being driven to his palace in Amman.

3 Hurt In Oilfield Explosion

Three men were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital following an oil field explosion and fire on the J. C. Dorward lease near Justiceburg in Garza County about 11:30 a.m. today. They were taken to the hospital by private vehicle.

Admitted at Cogdell Memorial Hospital were Sylvester Norris, 32, Sweetwater; Zack White, 43, Wichita Falls; and, Lavoy McRea, 30, Sweetwater. Norris sustained a possible fractured foot. White had minor burns on an arm. McRea was being held for observation.

It was reported that a hose broke on some equipment, resulting in an explosion an fire while servicing equipment was being used while treating the Humble Oil Co. well. The well was being serviced by a B&J Inc., crew.

The fire destroyed several vehicles and equipment, including an oil transport truck, and it was still burning at noon.

Panels Are Created To Study NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has set up a commission to study the efficiency of the state government and to examine the question of the city's becoming the 51st state. At the same time, the state legislature has passed a bill creating a commission to probe the city's operation.

Creation of both commissions Tuesday night climaxed weeks of accrimony between the city and state governments over the city's request for new revenues and appeared to support a growing campaign among some city leaders for statehood.

Lindsay said the announcement of a commission "to inquire into the effectiveness and efficiency of the state government" came "after nearly two months of preliminary preparations."

In Albany the Republican leadership surprised the legislators by suddenly taking up the bill providing for a state investigation of the city.

School Board Receives Air Conditioning Survey

It will require about 1,700 tons of air conditioning costing in the neighborhood of $1,825,000 to cool Snyder's school buildings.

That was the meat of the report on an air conditioning survey received last night by the board of trustees.

J. D. Hinton, local architect, and Norris Fanning, engineer, submitted the formal report which they had been working on for several months. The survey was launched following receipt of two petitions with several hundred names last fall.

Fanning went over high points of the report and each board member was given a copy of study. The report was accepted without comment, except for commending Hinton and Fanning for the apparent thoroughness of their work.

The estimated tonnage which would be required to air condition all school buildings included the following: Senior High School, 331.4 tons (about 70 tons already are in use there); Lamar Junior High, 243 toons; Travis Junior High, 160 tons; Stanfield Elementary, 117.4; West Elementary, 194.2; East Elementary, 138.2; North Elementary, 117.3; Northeast Elementary, 133.4; Central Elementary, 185.2; Child Development Center, 76.6.

The estimated cost figure includes all anticipated modification some buildings might require to accept the air conditioning equipment. This type of work would be a relatively small factor, however. Fanning said that all of the buildings in the system were in generally good condition and fully "worthy of air conditioning." Some of the older buildings will present more problems than others but Fanning saw no major problems if an air conditioning project should be undertaken.

Several options are possible in the air conditioning plans for each building. The total estimate is based on air conditioning of all facilities. Some areas, such as gymnasiums, could be omitted from air conditioning plans with proportionate reduction in costs.

The formal survey report and supporting data will be studied in detail by the board and administration.

In other business, the school board authorized the administration to work out a lease agreement with Western Texas College for some space in the Child Development Center, approved $800 for the girls summer recreation program, approved materials needed to convert an existing language lab program into a Level I Engelmann reading program at Stanfield Elementary School, authorized Supt. Bill J. Hood to determine whether and to what extent the schools could benefit in participating in a Western Texas College — work-study program, discussed, but took no action on the high school tennis coach's salary.

Showdown Set On Boundary

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The final showdown in a centuries-old border dispute between Texas and Louisiana opens today, with rich oil land and even part of the city of Port Arthur, Tex., hanging in the balance.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Robert Van Pelt of Nebraska, appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court to hear both sides, set today's hearing as the last chance for the two states to present their case before the high court rules in the matter.

The disputed territory is a 200-mile stretch of border following the meandering Sabine River and its lakes. Louisiana claims the whole river. Texas says the boundary is in midriver.

Rich oil deposits lie beneath the river bed and Pleasure Island, a recreational area now incorporated in Port Arthur, is also involved.

Both sides have assigned the state attorney general and a former governor to argue the case: for Louisiana, Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, former Gov. Sam Jones and attorney Oliver Stockwell of Lake Charles; for Texas, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and former Gov. Price Daniel.

The Sabine River has long been the scene of conflict. In 1806 Louisiana Gov. William C. C. Claiborne called out the militia to force invading Spaniards to retreat to the western bank.

War was averted only when both sides agreed to allow their governments to decide the boundary.

Texas has gone through three national governments since then, and many treaties and documents have been signed. However, the matter remains unsettled. The Supreme Court will decide it based on the state's arguments and Van Pelt's recommendation.

Louisiana bases its claim on treaties signed by the American government with the Spanish in 1819, with Mexico in 1828 and with the Republic of Texas in 1838. All three treaties set the western shore of the river as the boundary.

Texas holds to the midriver border stipulated in the Louisiana statehood act of 1812 and legislation approved by Congress in 1848 extending Texas' eastern boundary to the middle of the Sabine.

Louisiana argues that the purpose of the 1848 act was merely to enable Texas to extend criminal jurisdiction and was not intended as a boundary change.

Cosmonauts Perform In Orbit For TV Audience

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet cosmonaut tumbled like an acrobat today in the big cabin of the orbiting space laboratory Salute to demonstrate weightlessness for Russian television viewers.

The mission commander, Lt. Col. Georgy Dobrovolsky, ran through the acrobatic routine in a television communications session with ground controllers. He was wearing a new spacesuit designed to overcome the effects of weightlessness on the body, Tass news agency said.

Later, Dobrovolsky turned on the booster rockets and sent the Salute into a higher orbit for the second straight day to allow the space laboratory to remain in orbit longer.

Tass said the new orbit ranged from 160.9 miles to 175.2 miles above the earth. The cosmonauts raised the Salute orbit an average of 12.4 miles Tuesday to 148.5 miles to 164.8 miles.

At the end of their third working day, the cosmonauts had made 37 revolutions of the earth aboard the Salute, which is about the size of an average living room. They connected the spaceship Soyuz 11 to the Salute Monday.

Tass reported the cosmonauts conducted a number of medical and biological experiments but gave no details.

Dobrovolsky's tumbling act was from a film excerpt that was televised. The film first snowed civilian flight engineer Vladimir Volkov working at the control panel. He turned around and asked ground controllers: "Do you see what he's doing?"

Then Dobrovolsky emerged from a narrow corridor between the space station's work compartments. He was floating on his back and pumping his legs as if he was riding a bicycle.

"Is the space suit comfortable?" the ground controller asked.

"Yes, I'd like to say I'm very comfortable in this space suit," Dobrovolsky replied. "Much better than without it. It's a very successful design and please the designers we're very happy with it."

The television commentator then noted that the cosmonauts were using a new type of space suit "which is necessary for keeping the muscular system in a normal state."

Crops Are Damaged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vicious winds, battering hail and occasionally flooding rains aimed destructive blows at several areas in the Panhandle-Plains sector during the night and early today.

There were reports also of more than a dozen tornado funnels writhing over or close to a number of places, but none of these appeared to have caused appreciable damage.

Outside the storm belt it stayed hot and dry everywhere else in the state. Temperatures ran as high as 101 degrees the nation's high—at Cotulla and in the 90s at many points Tuesday.

Hail which drifted into mounds 12 inches high in places dealt probably the most severe crop losses to farmers around Hart, in Castro County southwest of Tulia. Two growers said their cotton and onion fields were riddled by hailstones the size of golf balls.

One Hart resident, Willis Watkins, told of driving nine miles through hail.

There was heavy damage also to wheat and vegetable crops near Hart and close to Dimmitt, Olton, Springlake and Floydada in the same general area. Hail destroyed crops in this vicinity three years ago.

Smaller hail fell in parts of Amarillo and around Burkburnett.

At Claytonville, 15 miles northeast of Plainview, the violent winds overturned several mobile homes, dealt heavy damage to a grain elevator and snapped power lines.

Kress, 10 miles north of Plainview, suffered similar damage as a grain elevator was knocked down, both ends were ripped off a co-op elevator warehouse, the brick trim was torn off a restaurant and several inches of slow-draining runoff covered a number of roads.

Flying debris injured Gib Lawler at Kress as he tried to reach a storm cellar at the home of a relative, L. G. Clay, and the wind smashed in one side of the house.

Considerable road flooding occurred also around Tulia.

Farther north the wind whipped a car off U.S. 87 near Etter, between Borger and Amarillo, and hurled it against a power pole but no one was hurt.

Wind gusts up to 60 miles per hour were clocked at Dalhart as dust filled the air and rain then fell. There was blowing dust also at Lubbock for a time.

Police and sheriff's officers told of seeing tornado funnels boiling on the ground in open country between Memphis and Estelline and in a field south of Tulia. No damage was reported from either.

Word of still other twisters writhing through the air came from near Dalhart and Hereford, north and south of Amarillo, east of Vega, north of Wheeler, south of Plainview, south of Tulia, near the southwest edge of Childress, on a farm southwest of Silverton and 10 miles west of Wellington.

By this morning the violent weather had moved eastward into Oklahoma and there were only thundershowers in the southeast part of the Texas Panhandle. Skies were clear to partly cloudy in most other sections of the state.

While drought still gripped broad areas, some farmers and ranchers said enough moisture for appreciable relief has been received in recent days.

One such area was the east side of the Texas Panhandle, which has been critically dry.

Senate Reduces Draftee Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to reduce slightly, from 300,000 to 270,000, a proposed ceiling on draftees over the next two years. It specified the President must get congressional approval to go beyond it.

By a vote of 51 to 27, the Senate Tuesday reversed an earlier endorsement of the Nixon administration's $1-billion pay boost and approved an amendment by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., adding another $1.7 billion.

The Senate acted two weeks after rejecting a proposal containing about the same amount of money but dividing it as the House had, between extra pay and allowances.

A recruit would get $301.50 in basic monthly pay under the Senate bill, compared with $268.50 in the House version, $201.90 under the administration plan and $134.40 under the existing pay scale.

The Senate bill raises the minimum pay for the lowest ranking officer from the current $450.60 a month to $612.30.

The Allott amendment uses pay scales drawn up by the Gates Commission, which was and came out in favor of an all-volunteer force. The administration says it hopes to switch such a force by mid-1973 but Armed Service Committee chairman Sen. John C. Stennis says he doubts that will be possible.

Several hours before passing the pay raise, the Senate agreed to vote next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for U.S. operations in Indochina Dec. 31, and to vote June 23 on a move to limit debate on the rest of the draft bill.

The two moves increased chances the draft-extension bill will be approved before the current draft law expires June 30.

Following approval of the Allott amendment, the Senate rejected 63 to 15 a proposal by Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, to keep the statute of limitations for prosecuting draft evaders at five years from the youth's 18th birthday.

Hearing Set On Car Insurance

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board today set a June 30 hearing on whether the car insurance rates that took effect Jan. 1 should be changed.

Auto insurance companies—who claimed the Jan. 1 rates were too low-are expected to ask for another increase.

The board raised private passenger car insurance rates Jan. 1 by a statewide average of 14 per cent, compared with the 27.7 per cent asked by the companies.

New rates probably will take effect Sept. 1, said the board's order calling the June 30 hearing.

In adjusting rates during the summer, the board returns to a former policy, which had not been followed the past couple of years because of time requirements.

Last year the board delayed its hearing while its staff made a long study of insurance companies' profits from investments.

In 1969, board action was delayed for several months while a special committee appointed by Gov. Preston Smith made an in-depth investigation of the rate-setting process.

Several unsuccessfull attempts at radical revision of Texas' car insurance system were made during the 1971 legislative session.

Shop For Good 'Store' Jobs

(2nd of 3 parts)

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

How much can you expect to earn in "store" jobs in the food retail industry? A nationwide chain gives these averaged low-high weekly salary figures for the following jobs. Note – these salaries will not apply in every locality, depending on union contracts, and are offered only as averages to give a general idea: cashier-checker, $125-160; stockroom clerk, $140-160; meat-wrapper, $115-150; produce manager, $150-175; assistant store manager, $160-190.

COLLEGE GRADS can, in most parts of the country, expect a starting salary of $7,500 to $8,500/year; after 5 years, a minimum of $9,000, and perhaps as much as $12,000. After 10 years, salary should range from $15,000 to $25,000. There are advantages and disadvantages to working for chains and independents...

CHAINS: More job openings in a chain organization; you may have to travel some distance to work; you can expect transfers as you move up; chains are unionized, as a rule; you may get a slightly higher hourly rate; fringe benefits are usually excellent and may include profit sharing; chains often have formal training programs to help you become a store manager; steady employment.

INDEPENDENTS. Some independents are not unionized, but these pay almost the same. Fringe benefits of larger stores are competitive. Often, more paid overtime is available; at chains, you may work only 37½ to 40 hours weekly, but at an independent you may be able to add 10-20 hours of overtime each week, and Sundays too at some stores. If you're good, you may advance faster at a small store because competition is less (sheer numbers) and less attention is paid to seniority. However, single-store independents are usually managed by their owners; you likely would have to change jobs to become a store manager.

SUPERMARKET JOBS. Most employees fit into 1 of 3 broad categories, although he (or she) may have to wear more than 1 hat when the need arises. Jobs may be further subdivided or arranged, according to the employer. The 3 general categories are: cashier-checker, supermarket stockman, and supermarket utility man (performs functions of several jobs as needed).

WAYS TO START include: apply directly to any store manager, or personnel offices of food chains; answer newspaper want ads; visit state employment service offices or private employment agencies; consult instructors in school distributive education courses (high school, 2-year colleges, evening classes) who may know of openings; start through membership in high school DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) chapters. DECA is a youth program, which sponsors awards and scholarships, and may lead to a good job.

YOU CAN ENTER food retailing after 2 years of high school, and if you work at it, go well. However, most employers prefer at least a high school diploma. College programs are available, and some employers give scholarships to promising employees. Some part-time employees are in work-study programs. Considering today's astronomical college costs, food retailing has special appeal in the earn-while-you-earn department.

Also, for those already employed in food retailing (even part-time or summer), a food industry-approved home study curriculum is offered through Cornell University (Home Study, 250 Waren Hall, Cornell U., Ithaca, N.Y. 14850. After completing required home study coursework, students are eligible to apply for 1-year, residential $1500 scholarship).

National Spelling Bee Starts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty three girls and 24 boys will begin their quest today for the $1,000 first prize in the 44th National Spelling Bee.

The 77, all under 16 years of age, come from as far as Guam, Alaska and Hawaii. They were chosen from more than seven and a half million children in local contests sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 15 cities and 59 other daily and Sunday papers.

Of the 46 former champions, 27 have been girls and 19 boys. On three occasions, co-champions have been named.

The youngsters will spell this morning and afternoon and again tomorrow, their ranks thinning round by round until only one is left to claim the first prize of $1,000 in cash, a trip to New York City and a gold metal with an inset ruby.

Even the losers don't go away emptyhanded. All contestants will receive $50. The second prize is $500, the third $250. There are five fourth prizes of $100 each and 10 fifth prizes of $75 each.

The youngest contestant in the 1971 contest is Barrie Kay Trinkle an 11-year-old fifth grader from Fort Worth, Tex., and the oldest is Brenda Hockaday, a 15-year old eighth grader from St. Joseph, Mo.

Tower, Bentsen Nix Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., voted against an amendment Tuesday to raise military pay by about $2.7 billion a year.

The amendment passed 51 to 24 on a roll call vote.

Development Center for the fall semester. The college is particularly interested in the biology laboratory facilities and the cafeteria for temporary use. Only the portion of that center required in the occupational training program will be used by the public schools for the 1971-72 school year. The kindergarten program, which will be launched this year in various elementary schools, will replace the Head Start program.

New personnel approved included the following: Dale Foy Lavender, special education; Mrs. Dorothy Lavender, special education; Mrs. Kathleen Hale, librarian at Northeast; Jim W. Bartlett, teacher-coach at senior high; Tommy R. Wright, industrial arts at senior high; Anthony Dale Dunn, athletic trainer-social studies teacher at senior high; Mrs. Florence Lewis, first grade at Central; Mrs. Jo Ann Williams, CV-AE homemaking at Travis Junior High; Mrs. Maria Martinez, unassigned; Mrs. Mary L. Gulf was awarded the contract to furnish a year's supply of gasoline and lubricants for the school transportation and maintenance department. The Gulf bid of 17.92 cents per gallon for regular gasoline, $373.80 for a year's supply of oil, $26.25 for a year's supply of grease and $62 for a year's supply of chassis lubricant was the lowest of four proposals received.

The contract of Baldridge Bakery to furnish bread and buns for cafeterias was renewed. Baldridge and two other bidders submitted identical quotations. Bids on termite control work at North Elementary School were tabled for further study.

Lost Boy Put In Hospital

PERU, Ind. (AP) — Two policemen found little Bobby Brown wandering around the city's west side. They discovered he had a high fever and took him to a hospital.

About three hours later the one and one-half-year old's father reported his son missing.

He wasn't too surprised to hear Bobby was in the hospital. He said the three other Brown children at home had measles, too.

Drought Conditions Worsen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas drought grew worse during the week ended June 5 and prospects of its ending by July are poor, the federal government's chief climatologist for Texas says.

Robert Orton, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's climatologist, rated five areas as being under extreme drought, two under severe drought and three under moderate drought.

The "extreme" drought areas include the Low Plains, North Central and South Central Texas, the Edwards Plateau and South Texas.

The "severe" drought group includes East Texas and the area along the upper coast, while there is a "moderate" drought in the High Plains, Trans-Pecos area and Lower Valley.

Statistically, the prospects for an end to the drought by July 1 are not good, he said. The National Weather Service outlook for June predicts below normal precipitation for Central and East Texas.

Liquor Case Filed Here

Anderson Davis, Jr. was charged in county court yesterday with illegal transportation of intoxicating beverages. He was released on $500 bond.

Police officers Ronald Brown and Gary Sutton arrested Davis early Tuesday morning in the 1100 block of Thirtieth Street. He allegedly had 46 cases of beer, two cases of wine and 70 half-pints of whiskey in a pickup.

In other action, George Perales Romero pleaded guilty in county court yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term. The jail term was probated for six months.

Traffic Mishap Logged Here

City Police investigated one minor motor vehicle mishap at 6:27 a.m. Tuesday in the 800 block of Twenty-fifth Street.

Involved were the 1967 Model Ford of Etta Dunn Chapman, 808 Twenty-fifth Street, and the 1960 Model Plymouth of James Lawson Sullenger, 2305 Avenue H. Officer Melvin Sanders investigated the collision.

Diphtheria Warnings Issued

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Warnings of a second diphtheria epidemic were underscored here by the death of a small boy stricken by the contagious throat infection.

Johnny L. Ga[illegible] a hospital Tuesday as health officials urged the public to respond to a free diptheria immunization drive now in progress.

It was the first death from the disease since Nov. 8.

Diphtheria killed three persons here last year. About 200 cases, including those confirmed by doctors but not proved in the laboratory, were recorded.

Health officials warned that a second epidemic is possible and cited statistics showing that the 20 cases since January compare to the number on the eve of last year's outbreak.

Four suspected cases were under observation Tuesday.

Dr. Marthalyn Green, a health officer, said response to the current "booster week" immunization campaign has been minimal.

Another health officer, Dr. Sidney Brockman, said a second epidemic was "very possible" because many pre-school children as well as adults need shots.

Dr. Green said 250,000 persons should take advantage of this week's shot drive.

"If we give 100,000 shots, I'd be very happy," she said. "We may be lucky to give 25,000."

Through Monday, she said, only 5,054 persons had responded to the drive, which offers free diphtheria, polio, whooping cough and tetanus shots. It began Saturday.

St. Louis was known as the Mound City for some 150 Indian temple and burial grounds in its vicinity between the 9th and 16th centuries.

Haymes Is Broke

LONDON (AP) — Singer Dick Haymes, who earned and spent a million dollars before going bankrupt in 1960, says he's so broke now he can't afford to go to bankruptcy court for a hearing on new debts.

Haymes, 52, was due in court at Kingston in Surrey Tuesday [illegible] payment of a 1966 loan of $3,600. An assistant official receiver told the court, however, that Haymes said he was doing a three-week engagement in Madrid and could not afford the $178.78 fare for a one-day return flight from Sprin.

"He is treating this very lightly," the judge said, adding that he was "tempted to order the singer's arrest." Another hearing was scheduled for July 13.

Haymes gave the court a statement listing $37,504 in liabilities and $480 in assets.

Much of the money he earned and spent in the late 1940s and the 1950s went for alimony. He is currently married to his sixth wife. Past wives include film stars Rita Hayworth and Joanne Dru.

Girl lives with boyfriend; her parents ashamed

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: What can you say to a 25-year-old daughter who has decided to live with her boy friend?

We brought Maria up as a moral Catholic. Her boy friend is of the same faith. He and his wife are legally separated. They have three children.

I have tried to tell Maria that if her friend really loved her he would get a divorce and marry her. We have other children, but Maria is the oldest and the apple of her father's eye. This affair is just about killing us. Until this happened Maria never gave us any trouble. We were so proud of her. She graduated from college with honors. Now she teaches retarded children.

We are so ashamed to face family and friends, we refuse all social events. I know Maria reads your column. Maybe there is something you can say to her. I've tried everything I know. Thank you. MARIA'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I have nothing to say to Maria because she didn't ask me for any advice, but I have something to say to you, Mother: You reared your daughter to the best of your ability, and from your letter I would say you did a commendable job. Maria is an adult now, and you are not responsible for her decisions. Those who know you and love you will not think less of you because of your daughter's actions. Hold your head high, and if anyone attempts to needle you, say: "She is our daughter and we love her, even tho we disagree on many things."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have six daughters. Never had any boys, but all the girls are nice. My wife gets along fine with everybody. She has never said a mean word about anybody, and she won't listen to gossip. I have a pretty good job, and our home is paid for. So what's my problem? Our eldest daughter got married and she had a baby boy. When our son in law called and told us we had a GRANDSON I had to help my wife sit down.

The baby can't even sit up yet and my wife has bought him shirts with "I love grandma" on the front. She also went to the jewelry store and had them put her grandson's picture on some earrings and a pin. [Have you ever seen earrings and a pin with a fat boy's picture on them?] This may seem petty to you, but I wonder if she hasn't lost her mind? GRANDPA

DEAR GRANDPA: After six girls, I don't blame her.

DEAR ABBY: I have seen several letters in your column lately about an operation called the "vasectomy" which is done on a man in order to prevent him from getting a woman pregnant.

As a male, I object! If a woman doesn't want to get pregnant, let HER have an operation.

We men sacrifice enough, fighting wars and supporting kids and females, without submitting to castration. Very truly yours, ALL MAN [FOREVER]

DEAR ALL MAN: It takes more of a "man" to submit to surgery than to ask his wife to do it.

This group will also spend one week-end sight-seeing in Mexico City. Deborah will fly from San Antonio June 11th and should be able to give a very interesting program for the Jaycees when she returns home.

There's Romance In Yard Lights

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Let the neighborhood swimming set have their fancy water wings, you can provide romance in your backyard with pretty lighting effects. And you can do it yourself.

An electrician might do the bits that are too technical for your amateur capacity. You can go on from there laying cable and installing conduits and, maybe, even cementing lamp poles into the ground.

One man had an electrician install weatherproof outlets outside of his house, a project he, an amateur, was leary of coping with. After that installation, he merely ran the cable underground with conduits and outlet boxes at various points where lighting was needed. But, unless a man has done other electrical wiring—and knows a neutral wire from a red and black one—he shouldn't fiddle with such a project.

Before any wiring is done, one must check local wiring codes. It will determine whether the project can be done by a do-it-yourselfer, and what type of equipment should be used.

Outdoor cable must be laid at least 15 inches deep (to prevent a hatchet treatment by neighborhood moppets,) and it should be carefully laid in the lawn area.

You'll need a tool that makes a nice slim gash in the sod. After the cable is laid, tamp the soil into the opening, and smooth the grass over the slashed spot.

The local power company might be of some help in furthering your plans. After all, you'll be paying a bigger electric bill when your project lights up, and think of the investment in flood and reflector bulbs in the days to come. Some power companies will finance such projects. They will pay an electrician if you need one, and they will add the installment payments to your monthly bill.

In outdoor lighting you should capture a mood. Be sure you want lights where you put them. After you've put a lamp post in concrete or laid your cables and conduits, you would not want to move a light. One family flooded their yard, forgetting to darken garbage disposal and trash burning areas. Four lights had to be removed.

An electrician may make beautiful wire splices but you can't expect him to be an expert at landscape lighting.

It is a good idea to map out a plan before an electrician arrives or the do-it-yourselfer rips up the whole yard. Will a floodlight shine into your neighbor's bedroom window? Will lighting the driveway illuminate ruts and potholes?

You may need a few light fixtures for steps and some down lights along the driveway, but you can also improvise. You can place bulbs in bushes, trees, flower beds, and place bulbs in flower pots or green-painted cans or even in a strawberry crock (put a wire through the bottom of the crock and a big floodlight inside). This provides unusual effects from the little openings.

Sawed-off tree trunks were an eyesore until one man decided to make them focal points. He axed the tree centers, and split the sides of each one, carrying the wire up to the center where he placed bulbs. Over the bulbs, he put wire, stapling it to the trunk. He left enough of an opening so the bulb could be replaced.

There are many interesting fixtures available—mushroom, bell, leaf and even lily pads—to light garden paths and backyards.

Dora Carrington's Life

CARRINGTON. Letters and Extracts from her Diaries. Chosen with an introduction by David Garnett. Holt, Rinehart & Winston. $12.50.

Of all the lives and loves of practitioners of the arts, certainly one of the oddest must have been the mutual devotion of Lytton Strachey, the most influential popular biographer of his time and a confirmed homosexual, and Dora Carrington, a much younger second-rate artist, at best. Her later sexual instincts, in the words of Strachey's own most authoritative biographer, "grew more acutely lesbian."

In such a situation, one might have ventured an even gloomier prognosis than for Abelard and Heloise. Yet Strachey's infinite tenderness and generosity to the doomed young woman, whom he tried for the briefest interval to make his mistress with predictable unsuccess, was reciprocated with love that became idolatry. Less than two months after he died of cancer in 1931 she committed suicide.

Both, especially Strachey, were members of the famous Bloomsbury group of London writers and artists of the 1920s. David Garnett, the last major spokesman for them, has described in his series of memoirs the mystic attraction of Carrington, as she called herself. Now he has brought out a collection of some of her most intimate letters and diary entries. In them she had few inhibitions.

Carrington lacked the group's education and sophistication and was rather awed by them. There is no hint of lesbianism in the early letters and entries. A number of sensitive men found her enchanting, and she had passionate love affairs with several. Aldous Huxley, only a transient lover, included her as a character in one of his best known novels, "Chrome Yellow."

But Carrington, moody and idealistic, was constantly disenchanted by the failure of love as unending ecstasy. And there was always Lytton to shield her. In the atmosphere about her, she turned her gaze toward women, not always with success.

At the end of the road, with Strachey dying, she failed in an attempt to finish herself off by asphyxiation. Later she did the job with a borrowed gun.

Named For Pearl

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — Pearl Bailey may be the top cave buff in show business, says Lester B. Dill of the Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here.

Dill dedicated a room to Miss Bailey who said:

"You really have a racket. You do great business all the time and never have to worry about changing the scenery."

ABWA Meets

The American Business Women Association met at Carlos for their monthly meeting. Irene Brooks, owner of Merle Norman Studio, presented the program "Beauty In The Making." She said that every woman wants to look beautiful because it makes her more confident, happier and because she has a discrimenating audience to please whether it's business clients, a boss, a boyfriend or husband and children.

Joan Cantrell gave the vocational talk.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Allred for a salad supper.

Milhaud Leaves Mills College

Milhaud, who was 78 last September, joined the Mills College faculty as professor of music in 1940. Since 1962 he has been professor emeritus and composer in residence. At the end of this academic year, Milhaud and his wife will reside permanently in Paris, where their son and two grandchildren live.

Companies Trying To Reach Youth With Music

By RONALD C. HOOD
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some corporations are serenading youth with music in order to establish better rapport with them.

Others are trying to relate through opera and dance.

Company spokesmen say the idea is to show youngsters—who are often critical of industry in areas involving pollution, safety, discrimination and profits—some of the positive aspects of living today.

"We got to thinking, 'What are young people interested in positively?'" says a spokesman for Johns-Manville, which has just announced it will take a musical combo into 24 cities where it has plants. "We realized that the main common interest is popular music, especially jazz, and we decided to send some of the best—free."

"We take the concerts to places where we have company plants for good reason," he continues. "After the program to tell the young people: 'We know some of you are having a hard time these days finding work. If you are, come around to our plant' and we'll see if we can help you. We don't guarantee it, but we'll try'."

For several seasons the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. and Chemical Bank have sponsored "pied-piper" parades through New York streets for concerts by Jazzmobile, a group of Harlem musicians. The concerts are held at city schools.

New York's experience with Jazzmobile has inspired similar programs in Washington, Boston, Wilmington, Del., and Newark, N.J.

For the past five summers a Mobil Oil Corp. program, called "Sound Search," has sought out amateur musical groups in disadvantaged neighborhoods. The groups play competively before judges and winners compete in a semifinal show.

Mobil estimates that over the years it has brought to public attention some 400 neighborhood groups, or a total of 2,000 young musicians. Since representatives of the music business are present at the competitions, new careers are opened to the participants.

One such group, now called the Mobil Steel Band, has made numerous appearances in both New York and elsewhere. A film it made, called "Manhattan Street Band," was shown at Expo '70 in Osaka, Japan.

Problems Are Global

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, says today's problems are not national but global, and solutions "must be sought on a global basis."

It is understandable. He said in the graduation address at Duke University Monday, that most persons give their first allegiance to their country. But he added that all persons should have a "second allegiance" to the "human community. Only then will we be able to solve our problems on a global scale."

Junior Editors Quiz on STATUE OF LIBERTY

QUESTION: What is the Statue of Liberty made of?

ANSWER: The Statue of Liberty is made of steel and copper. The framework which consists of lattice work in steel resembles that of an oil derrick. It was made by Gustave Eiffel who designed the Eiffel Tower in Paris. Thin sheets of copper were hammered over the steel frame or mold. The copper weighed 100 tons. The statue was designed by Frederic Auguste Bartholdi. It is the largest statue every made, stands 151 feet high and weighs 450,000 pounds. It is the most celebrated example of repousse work, which is the process of shaping metal by hammering it over a mold. Given to the United States by France in 1884 as a symbol of friendship between the two nations, the Statue of Liberty stands on Liberty Island (formerly Bedloe's Island) in the New York harbor, had always impressed visitors to the United States and has been a welcome sight to immigrants seeking freedom in the new world.

Aside from its position as a symbol of liberty, it serves as a lighthouse for ships and a beacon for airplanes at night.

Conclusion Jumping With Hal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Sailboat owners make better husbands than motor boat owners because their ability to deal with the caprices of the wind also equips them to handle the whims of a woman's mind.

Society would be better off if every teen-ager was taught a course in human courtesty instead of Latin or algebra.

Every generation creates new goals and lets others die. For example, how long has it been since you met a lad whose chief ambition was to learn how to roll a cigarette with one hand?

People who knock ballet overlook two of its chief advantages: it keeps you out of the rain and there is no surer cure for insomnia.

It's time to make a major change in your life if you keep bumping into the same people at every cocktail party you go to.

If I had my life to live over again I think I would choose to become a consulting plumber, one who kept regular office hours and refused to make home calls. A good plumber today is just as respected as a physicist and makes much better money.

Among the most boring conversationalists of our time are guys who insist on giving you in great detail the reasons why they started wearing a toupee or why they quit wearing one.

A philosopher is a man who never breaks his shoestring when he's in a hurry because he never lets himself get into a situation where he has to do anything in a hurry.

Many people find fault with our present civilization but it has its virtues. In what previous civilization of man's sordid past was he able to send away a boxtop and get something back?

It is not by ability alone that men win top posts in management. They must also learn and cater to the prejudices and idiosyncrasies of the big boss, no matter how idiotic they may seem. Even wearing a bow tie or the wrong color socks has cost many an able man promotion because they offended the esthetic sense of the head of the firm. Usually he never finds out why he missed out.

There has been long argument about what is the essential difference between talent and genius. But it is easy to point out. It takes talent to make money, genius to inherit it.

Psychologist Is Realistic On Pills

DALLAS (AP) — For parents to hand their daughter birth control pills is a good idea, says one Fort Worth psychologist.

It is the contention of Dr. Austin Foster of the Edna Gladney Maternity Home that daughters ought to be given information about birth control from the age of 2 years on.

"We've had a sexual revolution, but the kids know they can't talk to the old folks about it," he said.

And he doesn't think that dispensing birth control information to one's daughter is being permissive. In his view, it's just being realistic.

"Ninety-nine per cent of our teen-agers are engaged in some sort of sexual activity between the age of puberty and marriage," he told the National Conference on Social Welfare here recently.

"Groups of girls have told me that 80 per cent of 16-year-olds who have been going steady for six months are having sexual relations," he said.

"The odds are such that if parents do not cooperate in making birth control available, a lot of girls will get pregnant. We've got to get parents over their own inability to accept what's going on or they can't help their children. They won't let their kids tell them the truth," he said.

Foster said three-fourths of one group of about 40 girls told him they could not discuss birth control with their parents. "I am not a believer in encouraging young children to be promiscuous, but if you take the forbidding view, you're shut out, and you won't know what's happening."

Though coming to grips with the idea that daughters are engaging in sex may be a bitter reality to face, Foster says facing an unwanted pregnancy is even more disastrous.

"They are basically good, fine girls from good homes. Most of them ignored their pregnancy for the first six months. A girl must be in a degree of panic before she comes through the agency's door," he said.

By discussing birth control with daughter, Foster feels parents may be setting the pace for more relaxed, honest dialogue with their children

Daniel Joining Law Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aubrey Daniel III, the Army prosecutor at the trial in which Lt. William L. Calley Jr. was convicted of murdering South Vietnamese civilians, is joining the Washington law firm of trial lawyer Edward Bennett Williams.

The firm of Williams, Connolly and Califano said Monday that Daniel will become a member Aug. 1. The 29-year-old former captain was released from the service April 28 and is now on vacation.

Aaron, Atlanta Clip Cards, 8-7

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Atlanta Braves are up to their old hanky panky with Hank Aaron supplying the spank and Chief Noc-a-homa the spark.

Hot Hand Hank drilled his 18th home run and a single for his eighth straight hit and Atlanta's No. 1 cheerleader sent up his usual smoke signals during Tuesday night's 8-7, 10-inning triumph over St. Louis.

"I knew I had been hitting well, but I don't keep up with records ... you don't have time to remember things like that on a club this exciting," said Aaron, whose eight safeties in three games were two shy of the National League mark.

Aaron moved over the .300 level for the first time this season with a four-hit night Monday and padded his mark to .313 with Tuesday night's work.

Not bad, considering Hammerin' Hank is playing on one leg. The right knee has fluid in it and is painful, says Aaron.

In the other National League games, Chicago nipped Pittsburgh 1-0 in 12 innings; Los Angeles stopped Philadelphia 4-2; Montreal whacked San Francisco 10-3; New York turned back San Diego 6-4 and Houston whipped Cincinnati 2-0.

American League: Cleveland 5, Chicago 3; Baltimore 8, Minnesota 2; Kansas City 4, Washington 2; Detroit 8, Milwaukee 3; Boston 5, Oakland 1 and New York 3, California 0.

Aaron's hitting string included a single and home run on Sunday and two doubles and two singles Monday prior to his two-run homer in the first inning and third-inning single in Tuesday night's affair.

Aaron's hitting helped Atlanta build a 7-3 lead as slugmate Orlando Cepeda delivered a three-run homer, his 14th. But the Braves wasted the advantage by giving the Cardinals four runs in the eighth, three on two infield errors.

After St. Louis scored on Ted Simmons' single, Joe Torre bounced a single off the third base bag that eventually led to three runs. Third baseman Earl Williams fielded the ball as Matty Alou headed toward third, but elected to throw to first and threw wildly; allowing Alou to score. Simmons and Torre kept running and each scord as Cepeda's throw went into the Cardinal dugout.

Pinch-hitter Darrell Evans delivered the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 10th.

Joe Pepitone belted his seventh home run in the 12th inning to give Ken Holtzman and Chicago a 1-0 triumph over Pittsburgh. Pepitone's two-out shot came on an offering from Jim "Mudcat" Grant, who entered the contest in the eighth inning in relief of Jim Nelson.

Holtzman, in his first start since pitching a no-hitter last Thursday against Cincinnati, struck out 12 and spaced nine hits in going the distance.

Jim Lefebvre cracked a two-run homer in the sixth inning to help Los Angeles beat Philadelphia. Lefebvre's fifth circuit shot gave the Dodgers a 3-0 lead before Willie Montanez unloaded a two-run homer for the Phillies in their half of the inning.

Bullet Bill Singer had the Phillies blanked on five hits until the sixth. Jim Brewer pitched the last two innings to preserve Singer's fourth victory in 13 decisions this year.

Montreal raked San Francisco ace Juan Marichal for five runs in the first four innings and rode Bill Stoneman's 13-strikeout pitching to a triumpt over the spinning Giants, who lost their sixth of seven games.

After Stoneman struck out the side in the first, the Expos pounced on Marichal for three runs in their half of the inning. Mack Jones, who singled in the opening-inning burst, also hit a home run in the second. John Bateman delivered a four-bagger in the fourth as the Montreal's 13-hit offense.

Art Shamsky hit a homer and Jerry Grote broke out of an o-for-14 slump with three hits and a run batted in as New York topped San Diego.

Starter Gary Gentry drove in the decisive fifth run in the New York fifth, but needed late-inning relief help from Danny Frisella to notch his fifth victory.

Don Wilson pitched a five-hitter to outduel Gary Nolan in Houston's triumph over Cincinnati, Wilson struck out eight and walked one in gaining his fifth victory in eight decisions. Nolan surrendered only six hits in seven innings.

Cesar Cedeno knocked in a fourth-inning run for Houston with a force-out roller and the Astros added another tally in the fifth on Doug Rader's run-scoring triple.

Jets Fall To Big Spring 3-2

Big Spring nipped the Snyder Jets 3-2 in a senior teenage league contest and the Rebels shaded the Braves 7-6 in a junior teenage league tilt in Towle Park last night.

The Big Spring team scored one run in the 1st and two runs in the 4th. The Jets got one run in the 5th and one run in the 7th.

David Newman was the winning pitcher, but he gave way in relief to Jeff Mourduff. Marvin McClanahan and Jackie Murray worked on the hill for the Jets.

The Jets got only one base hit--a single by McClanahan in the 5th. The Big Springers collected seven hits--all singles. David Carter and Thomas Brewer smashed two each, and Grant Jeter, Orlando Oloque and Tommy Tune each hit one.

Credit the Rebels' Tim Jones with giving a timely assist in his own cause. With the score tied 6-6 going into the 5th frame, Jones singled in Widgeon Emerson for the winning run. Widgeon had doubled to get on base. Widgeon also had another double and a single for the night. Danny Brumley doubled for the Rebs, and Gary Coffee, and Norman Autry each hit singles.

For the Bullets, Charles McCartney hit three singles while V. T. Robertson, Randy Potts and Clay Hill each stroked one.

Wissler's Homer Lifts Travelers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Wissler of Arkansas turned in one of the baseball's Benedict Arnold jobs on Charlotte Tuesday night in the Dixie Association.

Wissler, who was with Charlotte last season, clubbed a three-run homer in the 11th inning to lift the Travelers to an 8-3 victory. It was the red-hot Wissler's 15th homer of the season. He hit it off Charlotte relief Pitcher Vic Albury.

Amarillo and Dallas-Fort Worth split a doubleheader as Amarillo took the opener 4-3 and dropped the nightcap 6-3. In other games, Asheville downed Birmingham 6-3, Columbus shaved Montgomery 4-3, San Antonio downed Albuquerque 6-5, and Jacksonville at Memphis was rained out.

Quiroga's Pitches To Come High

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Roger Quiroga, the Galveston Ball High School pitcher selected in the first round of the major league baseball draft by Washington Tuesday, said, "It will take an awful lot of money for me to forego an education."

Dr. Alvarez May Recover

Although Dr. Alvarez faces at the least a long, difficult recovery period, his physician Tuesday, said "there is every hope now he will make it."

He is, however, still listed in critical condition.

Alvarez was standing on a special photographer's trailer at the end of the pits on May 29 when the red convertible Dodge pace car failed to stop and slammed into the trailer.

Alvarez, who had been shooting pictures for a Latin American magazine, was flown by helicopter to Methodist Hospital, suffering grave head and other injuries, including a basal skull fracture.

Sox, Giants Win LL Tilts

The White Sox scalped the Indians 11-6 and the Giants clipped the Braves 10-6 in two exciting Little League games held here last night.

Giant pitcher Glenn Davis pitched a two-hitter, giving up a double to Shawn Ragland and a single to Mike McClure.

The Giants collected seven hits. Keith Early knocked a home run. Kinney Crow, Davis and Clay Peterson each smashed two singles.

The Braves rallied with five runs in the last inning, but the rally fell short.

The White Sox collected 11 hits, including a home run and two singles by Robert Riggins. Ricky Rameriz hit two singles, and Danny Chaidez, Dennis Pitts, David Thompson, Gary Welch, Alvin Ollison and Larry Lee each came through with one single.

For the Tribe, Darrell Lester homered, Brad Browning and Lucious Jeffery doubled, and Bob Waller and Anthony Lewis singled. Danny Chaidez was the winning pitcher.

Tribe, Giants Win FL Tilts

The Indians nudged the White Sox 10-7 and the Giants nipped the Braves 12-11 in two thrilling Farm League tilts held in Towle Park Tuesday night.

Kip Riley was the winning pitcher for the Giants. D. Bennett knocked a home run to spark the Giants' attack. They scored two runs in the last inning to pull out the victory.

J. Lopez was the winning pitcher for the Tribe. The Injuns garnered nine hits, including a single, double and triple by R. Essery. J. Romero hit a single and a double, and L. Treet hit a double. Lopez cracked two singles, and P. Gafford had one.

For the White Sox, R. Schulze sliced three singles, B. Farquhar hit two, and Jack Fulford cracked one.

Cardinals Clip Metros, 10-8

The Cards beat the Mets 10-8 in a thrilling Minor League contest held in Towle Park last night.

Donald Bennett was the winning pitcher. Each side got seven hits. For the Cards, G. G. Miller and S. Nall tripled while Donald Bennett, S. Dickenson and G. Early doubled. G. Eckert cracked two singles.

For the Mets, Kyle Short tripled and J. Donaldson doubled. Toby Neves hit two singles while Randy Chambers, James Allen and Mark Preston each hit one.

Summer Tennis Program Begins

Forty-six youngsters have signed up to participate in the summer recreation tennis program being conducted here by Coach Bill Boles.

They range in age from 7 through 15.

Drills with training devices already have been launched. In forehand drills, Sherry Fleming hit 29 consecutive shots, and in backhand drills Mitchell Brumblow hit 26 from the tee.

Cindy Howell and Bill Spears each returned six consecutive [illegible] Brumblow and Cindy Howell each returned five of six in backhand drills.

Water Safari Is Underway

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Texas Water Safari contestants, battling low water from drouth conditions along the San Marcos River, took aim at Victoria today with a Michigan team leading the way.

Jerry Kellogg of Detroit and Jack Kolka of Twin Lakes held a scant two minutes lead over Lkuc A. Robillard of Quebec and Dennis Theberge of Loretteville, Canada today.

It took the Kellogg-Kolka duo only two hours and 35 minutes Tuesday to travel the 33 miles from San Marcos City Park to the Staples, Tex., checkpoint.

Drills Being Held At Boys' Club

Physical fitness drills are being conducted from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Scurry County Boy's Club this summer under the supervision of Bill Boles.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, the boys compete in circuit drills, with one minute spent on each of 10 states, with two-minute breaks between each pair of stations. In the 70-70 lb. group Monday, David Hill did 26 sit-ups in a minute; Tarrell Taylor did 41 barbell curls; Thomas Selmon and Tarrell Taylor each made 19 trips up and down four bleeachers in a minute; Selmon did 40 barbell presses and 40 squat thrusts; Richard Van Sickle did 48 barbell squats; Tony Cobb made 39 flat-footed jumps over the 18-inch bench; and 163 rope skips in a minute; Terry Washington did 22 push-ups and Van Sickle led in the 20 yard shuttle run with 11.

In the 91-115 lb. group. James Wells led in the "up oars" drill with 45; Ray Brandon did 72 barbell curls and 19 bleacher trips; James Wells did 69 barbell presses; Larry Isbell and Ray Brandon each did 27 squat thrusts; James Wells did 50 barbell squats; Ray Brandon 60 bench jumps and 180 rope skips; Anthony Lewis and Ray Brandon each did 40 push ups and Lewis led in the shuttle run with 14 trips.

NY Employees Return To Work

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking municipal employes returned to work today after city and union leaders agreed to a proposal for ending the two-day walkout that throttled traffic Monday and spread to sewage treatment plants, incinerators, parks, beaches and even school lunch deliveries Tuesday.

Key to the four-point proposal by the city's office of collective bargaining was that the union's controversial pension plan would be resubmitted to the state legislature next year. Failure of the 1971 Legislature to act on the plan triggered the walkout.

The agreement announced Tuesday night also provided that if the 1972 Legislature, which will have the same political composition as this year's, fails to approve the plan, the issue will be renegotiated by the city and the union.

With the pact, District Council 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes immediately ordered its 7,000 strikers back to work. Teamsters Local 237 had ordered 318 striking bridgetenders back to work earlier.

At a City Hall news conference, Mayor John V. Lindsay said, "In my judgment, it's a sensible, rational, orderly procedure for the next couple of years." He said the city would push for acceptance of the plan "next year when time has cooled temperatures."

Lindsay also said that three investigations were under way into possible sabotage at several of the 25 drawbridges that were locked in an open position when the surprise strike began at the start of the Monday morning rush hour.

All 25 of the bridges had been closed by city supervisory employes working with technical advisers from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and were reopened to traffic when the settlement came.

Victor Gotbaum, executive director of District Council 37, said he viewed the settlement as a union victory.

The strike end came after Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Harold Baer granted a preliminary injunction ordering the workers back to their jobs.

The action would have permitted the city to seek penalties under the state's Taylor law which prohibits strikes by public employes and could have cost strikers two day's pay for each day off the job.

Loot Is Recovered

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Nearly [illegible] the loot has been recovered and a sixth man has been arrested in connection with a $27,154 robbery of a bank at Brooks Air Force Base, the FBI reported.

Richard C. Dukes, 27, was jailed Tuesday in lieu of $75,000 bond after arraignment on charges of receiving part of the stolen money.

Five other men, arrested separately over the past four days, also are held in lieu of $75,000 bond.

Three men robbed the air base facility of the Brooks Field National Bank June 1.

The FBI declined to disclose details, but agents said nearly two-thirds of the money has been recovered with aid of the U.S. marshal's office.

Town Of Fink Is Shrinking

FINK, Tex. (AP) — Poor Fink. It has just lost 80 per cent of its population. And with the big National Fink Day celebration only two weeks away!

"It's liable to be a rather sad celebration," commented the mayor, Mrs. Pat Albright.

Then she had second thoughts, brightened and declared, "But it will take only two families moving into the two vacated houses to create boom conditions."

The population disaster came when 12 people in two families moved recently with the closing of nearby Perrin Air Force Base.

That leaves Fink with a population of three-Mr. and Mrs. Willard Albright and an employe of their store, the only business in the crossroads village.

The celebration is official for June 24, although really people start dropping by the Albright General Store and Service Station a month ahead of time to get the affair rolling.

So it's hard to say how many persons celebrate. Mrs. Albright estimates "several hundred" attended last year.

Already she's in a dither, with the telephone jammed with calls from Finks saying they will attend.

When National Fink Day was announced in 1965 by the store's previous owner, it appeared that all the Finks in the world leaped to applaud this new status affair—something to polish the term of "fink" which means stool pigeon in slang.

Also joining in affair have been Fincks, Finkes, Finques, Phinques, Funks, and, last year, a Zink.

Previously, National Fink Day was celebrated with free cake and soda pop. This year it's free barbecue and pop.

Unfortunately, the poet laureate of Fink, Judge Oscar Fink, 88, is indisposed and can't return to read his verses nor play his homemade fiddles this year. He is a former justice of the peace and resides in Denison, 10 miles away.

Mrs. Albright is importing a substitute for the judge from Pottsboro, four miles from here. He is Dick Barrett, a top western band fiddler until he retired.

"I think the red hot hoedown fiddling might be just what we need to cheer us up," Mrs. Albright said.

The residents applied for a post office many years ago and picked the name of "Georgetown." There already was a Texas town of that name.

The petition was signed by a gentleman named Finke. So the post office named it Fink, dropping the "e."

There is no post office now. And the honorary title of mayor goes to anyone who owns the store. Albright didn't want the honor and appointed his wife to the post.

The store makes its money from fishermen on Lake Texoma, a mile and a half away on the Oklahoma border.

Mayor Albright isn't about to let the population problem hurt Fink. Three years ago she began selling printed Fink honorary citizenships for a dime.

So the true population of Fink, honorary and actual, is somewhere around 5,000, she estimates.

Woman Charged In Murder

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — A woman found wandering nearly nude through a wooded area Sunday five hours after her husband died in a fire at their home was charged with murder Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Cox, 27, was accused in the death of her husband, Kenneth Cox, 39. Cox was found inside their blazing Lake Texoma home.

Witnesses said they heard what sounded like an explosion and gunfire shortly before the fire was discovered.

Justice of the Peace A. L. McGuire did not set bond at once for Mrs. Cox.

Big Spring Chief Asked To Resign

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—Five of the eight members of the City Commission asked Chief of Police Jay Banks to resign Tuesday. He refused.

The commissioners did not give a reason for their request.

Banks, 60, a former Texas Ranger captain, has been Big Spring police chief for 11 years.

Banks gained public attention during investigation of gang wars in the Fort Worth area in the 1940s and 1950s.

RADIANT HEAT — A new heating system has been installed in Don Sealy's house on West Thirty-seventh Street. Here, the cables are partially covered with a base of Radex. A second coat of the finish material covers the remainder of the cables. Radiant heat uses electrical wires or cables to cool objects in the house rather than cooling the air.

Radiant Cable Heat Is Latest

Radiant cable heat may, in time, replace conventional heating systems in this part of the country.

The first house in Snyder using the new radiant cable heat is Don Sealy's house, located on West Thirty-seventh Street. The finishing stages of construction are underway.

The new radiant cable heat operates from a series of wires stitched to the ceiling of the house. It operates like an electric blanket, converting electricity directly to heat.

You do not have to install chimneys, tanks, pipes, ducts, motors, fans, pumps, boilers, valves, filters, etc. with radiant heat. The temperature of each room is thermostatically controlled. You can add more heat capability without having to allow for additional capacity in the original home design. Moreover, fuel storage problems are eliminated with radiant heat.

The wires heat the floors and objects in the room—not the air. Therefore, there are no drafts. There is no warm air to rise, since the air is not heated. The air is not in motion with radiant heat, therefore, it is dust free. There are no toxic gases or other hazards of combustion with clean radiant heat. Humidity problems are not created by radiant heat. Because the air is not heated it is not dried out and the oxygen is not consumed.

The wires are covered with a putty-like substance called Radex. The base coat is applied the first day. A second base coat and a finish coat is applied the second day. The base coats may be troweled or sprayed. The finish coat must be sprayed.

Don Waddell, service representative for Midwest Electric Co-Op in Roby, had his house equipped with radiant heat about four years ago. He and Gerald Pullig of Texas Electric Service Company visited Sealy's house this week to see the new heating system installed. Both were impressed with the advantages of the new system.

"You don't have to replace any motors or belts," Pullig declared.

"Most companies give at least a 5-year guarantee on the wires," Waddell said, "but most of them probably will last as long as the house itself."

With thermostat control, you can heat any room in the house without having to heat them all.

Most distributors recommend wallboards of at least half an inch thickness. All surfaces must be sound, clean, dry and free of grease, dust and foreign matter. The cable should be installed with rustproof staples. Adequate ventilation of the house is essential for drying in any season.

Several types of finish can be obtained, including smooth sand finish, swirled texture and fine texture. An aggregate texture is the most commonly used.

The methods if installation of the cables vary with the type of ceiling.

After the plaster is dry, the cables are energized by setting the thermostats at 2 degrees Farenheit above the outside temperature. They are kept at this setting for 24 hours, then advanced to normal room temperature by increasing the thermostat not over 5 degrees Farenheit per day. The electricity is kept on during the initial warm-up period.

Drought Stricken Farmers Can Delay FHA Loan Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin disclosed Tuesday he has instructed the Farmers Home Administration to go easier on drought-stricken farmers who are late in repaying loans.

Hardin said at a news conference he has instructed the FHA to allow, more and, in individual cases, for farmers and ranchers to make loan interest and principal payments when they require it.

Such delays will not be charged as delinquencies and will not be held against a borrower when he seeks another loan, Hardin said.

Government aid has been centered in the driest areas of the Southwest, with Texas and Oklahoma receiving the most. Aid also has been offered in other states in that area, and in Florida.

Asked by a reporter about criticism in Texas and Oklahoma about the Agriculture Department not doing all it could to help Hardin said he thought all was being done that federal laws permit.

"At this stage I don't know of anything else we can do that's within our statuatory authority," Hardin said.

He ruled out presidential action calling for the area to be a "major disaster" and thus eligible for more massive assistance.

Hardin said he had been told that many farmers in the Southwest felt the department was doing a good job. He said the root of the problem is farm income and that "nothing will take the [illegible]

In separate announcements Tuesday, the Agriculture Department said drought aid has been extended to the following areas:

Texas—Government-owned feed grain at reduced prices and hay transportation assistance will be made available in eight additional counties, Armstrong, Callahan, Hood, Parker, Potter, Randall, Tarrant and Williamson. [illegible] raised to 155 the number of Texas counties now eligible for the emergency feed program.

Emergency conservation assistance was offered in three additional counties in Texas to help repair damage to land by drought and wind. They are Crosby, Dallam and Jack.

They will share in allocations totaling $5,450,000 made earlier to help control drought damage and erosion. Earlier 69 counties had been made eligible.

Haying and grazing privileges on land taken from production [illegible] land adjustment program were offered in Dallam and Guadalupe counties. They raised to 157 the Texas counties now eligible for that program.

New Mexico-Emergency conservation assistance to help repair damage to land by drought was extended to Union County. Earlier 26 counties were made eligible to share in $260,000 for providing emergency water supplies to livestock and to repair other damage.

Houston Bank Is Robbed

HOUSTON (AP) — A bandit robbed the Bank of Almeda of $4,800 Tuesday by threatening a drive-in teller with a fake bomb.

The teller, Mrs. Johanna Smith, 25, said the man drove up to her window and placed an envelope in the drawer.

She said she opened it and found what appeared to be two sticks of dynamite with a watch wired to them and a note.

The note said, "I have the detonator in my hand. Give me the money. Hurry."

Mrs. Smith said the man showed her what appeared to be a detonator and she placed the money in the drawer. The robber got out of his car, picked it up, and drove away.

Wildlife Plague Is Spreading

LAKE APOPKA, Fla. (AP) — A mysterious wildlife plague is spreading through some of central Florida's fresh waters, killing thousands of fish and dozens of birds. Sixteen alligators also have died.

For the first time Tuesday, game wardens reported finding the bodies of egrets, crows and seagulls as well as extensive shad and catfish kills.

Officials said the path of wildlife destruction which began a month ago was edging northward from Lake Apopka through about seven miles of algae-choked canals to Lake Dora.

Game and Fresh Water Fish Commissioner Dr. Earle Frye said he is sending a team of biologists to Lake Apopka—which straddles the Lake-Orange County line—for intensive emergency studies.

"We're concerned the die-off has now extended to other species of wildlife," said Frye.

"We've considered closing the lake to fishing and are prepared to do so if your monitoring system reveals any danger to human welfare."

At first biologists thought this die-off was attributable to alligators eating dead and rotting fish. Then a DDT theory was pursued but scientists found more pesticide in live and apparently healthy gators than in the dead ones.

A commission study revealed a DDT count in live gators of 10 times the safety level recommended by the Food and Drug Administration.

A tolerable level of DDT was found in dead fish and gator samples.

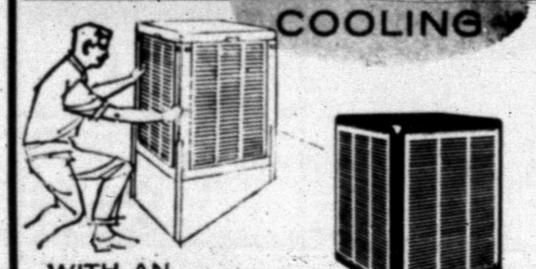

At the Palace of Weddings in Leningrad, marriages are performed 10 hours a day, seven days a week. The charge is $1.65 for the eight-minute ceremony.
