Joan Bratcher New Miss Big Spring

Carrying herself with the regal bearing of a queen, Joan Bratcher walked away with the Miss Big Spring of 1961 title at the City Auditorium Thursday evening. A crowd of 900 to 1,000 people witnessed the event.

Lana LaRue Fulbright was named Junior Miss Big Spring of 1961 over 21 other contestants.

The very poised and lovely Miss Bratcher won the title over a field of six other contestants in the senior division of the Miss Big Spring Beauty Pageant. By winning the Miss Big Spring title, she became the third local girl to be eligible for competition in the Miss Texas pageant in Beaumont in early August.

In addition to gaining the trip to Beaumont, Miss Bratcher received a $100 gift certificate, a bouquet of red roses and a glittering tiara from last year's Miss Big Spring, Malinda Crocker. She was crowned by Bill Mancill, chairman of the pageant sponsored by the Jaycees and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.

PLAYS ORGAN
Judged on talent as well as beauty and poise, Miss Bratcher displayed her versatility on the organ by playing two selections, a prelude and fugue by Bach, and a popular number, "Brazil."

Miss Fulbright, 17, a brown-haired, brown-eyed high school senior, also received a bouquet of roses and was crowned by Sandra Baker, Junior Miss Big Spring of 1960. Mancill presented her with the Jaycee-ette trophy, given annually to the junior winner. Miss Fulbright was judged only on appearance in swimsuit and evening dress.

Sandra Baker also was named second place winner in the senior division. She is the daughter of Mrs. Denia Baker, Route 1, Phyllis Anderson, Coahoma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Anderson, was third place winner in the senior division.

Winning second place in the junior contest was Suzanne Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Compton. Miss Compton also placed second in the junior division last year. Third place went to Virginia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris.

Runners up in both divisions received gift certificates.

RESPONSIVE AUDIENCE
A responsive audience completely filled the main floor of the auditorium except for the rows of seats roped off around the 40-foot ramp extending from the stage. In spite of the excessive heat during the three-hour show, the majority of the crowd remained until the crowning of Miss Big Spring. Members of the Jaycees believed that the crowd was the largest to view the pageant in the past three years.

Talent demonstrated by all the contestants in the senior division was commendable. First runner up, Sandra Baker, recited three poems of her own composition, "To An Old Man," "Selfishness," and another with no name which she stated was "inspired by my grandparents."

Miss Anderson, with subdued emotion, gave a reading about the Unknown Soldier entitled, "The Stranger Who Is My Brother."

MORE TALENT
Other talent entries included Dennis Nicholson in a humorous interpretation of "The Waltz," Patricia Prosser pantomiming "Snatch and Grab It" and "You Ain't Got It Anymore." Kay Leatherwood singing "You Came A Long Way From St. Louis," accompanied by the Fabulous Furries and with Jack Hendrix at the piano, Miss Leatherwood also played "Green Cathedral" on the piano. Singing an interpretation of "Fever" was Judy Banks.

She was accompanied by John McAdon on the bongos. Sharon Lee Homberg, also signed for the senior contest, was absent.

Talent counted 50 per cent of the final decision, while swimsuit and evening dress competition (See BEAUTY Pg. 6-A, Col. 4)

Winner Top In Beauty As Well As In Scholastics

Joan Bratcher, 19, is the daughter of Mrs. H. T. Bratcher, 1505 Aylford, Valdeictorian of the 1960 graduating class at Big Spring High School, she was a contestant in the pageant last year and was named runner-up to Malinda Crocker.

Miss Bratcher has been attending Graceland College in Lanion, Iowa, for the past year, where she is a member of the Student Governing Body. She also holds the office of secretary in Alpha Theta Chi, a social club at the college, and maintained a 4.0 (straight A) average for the past year.

She studied piano for nine years, and has taken organ for four years. Among activities she participated in during high school were Tri-Hi-Y, Rainbow Girls,

Grasshoppers Added To Woes Of Great Plains

By The Associated Press
Massive grasshopper invasions today posed an added threat to the northern Great Plains, already in the grip of a devastating drought which has brought scores of counties under federal disaster programs.

The new menace came as temperatures again in the 90s continued to sear vast acreages in five states and three Canadian provinces.

Unseasonable summer fires on the usually verdant prairie and in wooded country at its northern fringes still were casting heavy smoke pall.

INFESTED
From Helena, Mont., came federal and state reports that grasshoppers have infested an estimated million acres in eastern Montana, plus other large Wyoming areas.

At Williston in northwestern North Dakota, firefighters said a "dark wall" of large hoppers skinned ahead of a prairie blaze which roared across 5,000 acres Thursday before burning itself out at the banks of the Little Missouri River.

Firemen from five towns, aided by 1,000 volunteer farmers and oil workers kept the fire from invading inhabited territory.

BLAZE
The blaze raged as the final two of North Dakota's 53 counties were declared disaster country. "This is very serious because it's the Great Plains breadbasket that's going," said Norris Ellertson, regional director for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

After a personal survey and reports from field men, Ellertson said Thursday night at Bismarck, N. D., that he was recommending addition of 30 more counties in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota to the disaster category.

These included Montana's 20 easternmost counties, 12 in western South Dakota and 6 in northwestern Wyoming. If approved in Washington, these would bring to 111 the counties eligible for emergency aid in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

CONFERENCE
Ellertson said he called a conference for Monday in Bismarck of ASC leaders from the five states to consider such conservation plans as plowing under burned-out oats for fertilizer. He added that he also had ordered stock of Commodity Credit Corp. feed grains in the area "frozen" to prevent possible speculation.

In Ottawa, the Canadian government mapped an emergency measure to save dairy and breeding stock in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where up to 75 per cent of grain land was reported in jeopardy.

PIPE
The proposals included federal aid to buy miles of pipe for replenishing dry wells and waterholes, setting of a price floor for cattle to forestall a market collapse which would be brought on by forced selling, and credit for farmers to buy feed.

In Manitoba, more soldiers and a helicopter were thrown into the battle against a raging fire that has been sweeping the Whiteshell Reserve for more than a week.

Agreement Could Help Halt Strike

'Beer Can' Fails To Reach Orbit

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Rocket failure apparently cut off today an effort to make the best study yet of the space dust that constitutes a possible lethal threat to spacemen.

A Scout rocket lifted off a sea-side launching pad here at 12:06 p.m. On its nose rode an instrument package designed to learn more about the tiny space bullets that might erode or even puncture a space vehicle as they strike it at speeds up to 45 miles a second.

But at 12:19 p.m. the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the fourth stage of the booster failed to ignite.

A spokesman said "it looks bad."

All four stages of the rocket were to have been fired in about eight minutes after the launching.

The 72-foot, 36,600-pound rocket was intended to put the 125-pound micrometeoroid satellite into an orbit ranging from 240 to 620 miles up.

SHAPE
Less formally, technicians dubbed the space traveler "beer can" after the shape of its impact recording devices.

The intent is to learn more about the space dust — perhaps ultimate debris of exploded planets — that might erode or even puncture a space vehicle as the particles strike it at speeds up to 45 miles a second.

Scientists thought they might find big ones — even up to a tenth of an inch radius — with the equipment sent up today. Those recorded so far have been "real flyspecks" as one scientist worded it, on the order of four ten-thousandths of an inch. Even those, however, are rated a possible menace.

DENSITY
The density of the particles in the outer reaches is indicated by estimates that thousands of tons filter through the atmosphere and settle on the earth daily.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration estimated it would take nearly two hours to determine whether the dust hunter achieved orbit.

Light Turnout As Equalization Board Ends Job

Tax officials of the county, the school district and the city were pleased with the results achieved at the two day tax equalization meetings terminated Thursday.

Novis Womack, valuator for the county schools and junior college, pointed out there were only 70 taxpayers who attended the combined equalization board sessions.

Approximately 25 changes were made. None of these, he said, were of great importance. In a few instances reductions of as much as 5 per cent were made. In others, errors in records had to be corrected.

Womack said that in 1959, there were 175 taxpayers who appeared before the boards to question phases of their tax situation. In 1960, there were 158 taxpayers. This year, he pointed out, the total dropped to 70.

Senate Approves

WASHINGTON (AP)—Over solid Republican opposition the Senate has approved President Kennedy's plan to reorganize the Federal Trade Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Both plans previously had been upheld in the House. Thus Kennedy has a tally of two victories and two defeats in his efforts to, as he put it, streamline various regulatory agencies.

Union, 2 Firms Come To Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—A "conditional" agreement between the National Maritime Union and two shipping groups was announced today. It could pave the way for an end of the two-week-old nationwide maritime strike.

The agreement called for a four-year contract with an immediate 4 per cent wage increase and increases of 2 1/2 per cent in the second, third and fourth years. Present scales are not known.

Under the agreement the controversial question of unionizing the foreign flag vessels owned by American owners would be referred to a fact-finding committee.

COLE
David L. Cole, chairman of President Kennedy's fact-finding board, announced the conditional agreement between the National Maritime Union and the American Merchant Marine Institute and the Tanker Labor Committee.

The agreement would go into effect, he said, if a similar agreement was reached with the Masters, Mates and Pilots and the American Shipowners Association.

Announcement of the agreement came soon after the fact-finding board had concluded its public hearings into the strike.

At the last session, Cole asked all parties in the dispute to hold themselves available until Sunday night for further efforts to end the tieup.

NO EXTENSION
Cole said the board's report will be filed with President Kennedy at 9 a.m. Monday. He noted that no extension of time to file the report had been granted but emphasized that mediation still can be pressed if no agreement has been reached by then.

Such a report is part of the Taft-Hartley law process under which the government can ask a court injunction for an 80-day cooling off period in which the strike would be halted.

Negotiations had been speeded up today on the most hopeful note since the strike started two weeks ago. The fact-finding board reported "very good progress" in talks with shipping company representatives and the National Maritime Union, largest of five striking unions.

AT HOME
Then Max Harrison, ship company representative, asserted after a parley with the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union.

"I think we'll have a Fourth of July at home."

The fact-finding board was obligated only to investigate the situation and report to President Kennedy whether it believed national interests were affected.

Cole also had reflected optimism in an earlier statement.

Wrecked Truck Becomes Funeral Pyre For Pair

GARDEN CITY—Two Midland youths, aged 17 and 18, burned to death in the flaming wreckage of their 1954 pickup truck at 5 p.m. Thursday on SH 138 eleven miles east of here.

Their deaths were the first traffic fatalities in Glasscock County since 1959.

Dead in the tragedy are Melvin Randolph Freeman Jr., 17 and Kenneth Melson, 18, both of Midland and both employed by the M. System Food Stores in that city.

Their bodies, charred beyond recognition, were removed from the wreckage of the truck after the fire had burned itself out.

Sheriff Buster Cox said that the accident occurred as the two boys in the truck were traveling west toward Garden City. It is believed they had been swimming or fishing. Both wore bathing suits and there was fishing equipment in the truck. Also in the truck was a gasoline can which was believed to have contributed to the fire.

Cox said that Royce Pruitt, his deputy sheriff, and Arvil Henry, highway patrol officer from Big Spring, investigated the crash. He was told that the pickup left the road, jumped 47 feet through the air and skidded 59 feet further before coming to a stop in the pasture of the S. C. Curry Ranch.

In its journey, the truck cleared a 12-foot deep gully.

Henry said that it appeared the gasoline can exploded when the truck came to a stop and that in turn, ignited the gasoline tank on the truck. Pruitt, who was on patrol and happened to be near the scene when the accident was reported, was one of the first to reach the scene.

As far as can be ascertained no eye witnesses saw the actual crash.

The truck was blazing all over

Kuwait Armor Moves To Face Iraq Troops

KUWAIT (AP)—Armored reinforcements moved up to Kuwait's ill-defined northern border with Iraq today to face Iraqi armor reported here at two brigades.

British-built armored cars with Kuwaiti crews rolled through the capital 30 miles from the border during the pre-dawn hours.

The border so far has been reported quiet, but officials said Iraqi forces had been strengthened along the frontier since Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem last week laid claim to the oil-rich sheikdom on the Persian Gulf after Britain gave it independence.

CITY QUIET
The city of Kuwait itself was quiet. Authorities have called a mass demonstration Saturday to show defiance to the Iraqi challenge.

(State Department sources in Washington said the department had warned Britain and other nations involved that sources which "could not be ignored" had reported possibility of an Iraqi attack on Kuwait this weekend.)

Kuwait has an army of only 2,600 men and the Iraqi army, at last report, numbered about 70,000.

TO HELP
Saudi Arabia, Kuwait — and Iraq's — neighbor to the south, also has promised to help defend Kuwait if the little sheikdom is attacked.

The other members of the 10-nation Arab League have confined themselves mainly to cautious expressions of hope that nothing will happen to disturb the Arab unity. But the trend of sentiment among Arab officials outside Iraq was overwhelmingly behind Kuwait and its ruler, Sheik Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah.

ROT C Barbecue Dates Are Fixed
Plans have been announced for the annual swimming party and barbecue for the cadets in summer training at Webb AFB.

It is scheduled for July 10 at the Coaden Country Club. The swimming party will begin at 6 p.m. followed by the barbecue east at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Base-Community division of the Chamber of Commerce drafted plans for the program during a special meeting Thursday. Each took a supply of tickets and sales were to begin today.

Ticket prices are set at $5, which will admit a sponsor and three cadets to the evening's program.

SECRET MEETING HELD

Rusk Predicts East-West Discussions Over Berlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk says there is no doubt there will be discussions between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union over Berlin.

Appearing Thursday night on a television interview program, Rusk would not predict what form negotiations for a settlement might take. That will be determined in the course of the discussions, he indicated.

Rusk stressed that the United States intends "to explore every possibility of working out a tolerable peace that is consistent with the vital interests of our country."

DEAD END
He said it is important to avoid running into a "dead end" in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin dispute, apparently meaning that the crisis should be handled in such a way as to keep open the possibility of a diplomatic settlement.

One thing which is necessary in the developing crisis, Rusk said, is to try to avoid any "miscalculation" — by the Soviet Union — of what the Western allies will do if and when their vital interests are threatened.

President Kennedy met with the National Security Council for two hours and 40 minutes late Thursday to discuss the steps the United States may take on Berlin.

SECRET
The White House kept the discussions secret, and the new secretary, Pierre Salinger, declined even to say which officials attended.

It was not disclosed when final decisions on Berlin may be made and actions initiated.

It is known, however, that top officials believe some redeployment of U.S. military forces may be necessary because of the threat posed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the position of the Western Powers in West Berlin.

INCREASE
The United States is understood to have been urging its NATO allies to increase their own military strength in Europe so that if a showdown with the Soviet Union develops and a conflict threatens it may be dealt with, at least at the very outset, by nonnuclear means.

Kennedy administration officials were cheered by the recent decision of French President Charles de Gaulle to shift a division of French troops from Algeria back to France.

The United States itself has five divisions in Europe out of a total of 14 now in active service. Altogether, U.S. troop strength in Europe totals 250,000 men, but this includes a large number of service and supply troops.

Rusk stressed in his discussion of the Berlin situation Thursday night that the United States intends "to explore every possibility of working out a tolerable peace that is consistent with the vital interests of our country." He said it is important to avoid running into a "dead end" in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin dispute.

Khrushchev has proposed to make West Berlin what he calls a "free city" with the withdrawal of U.S., British and French forces and the establishment of some kind of international guarantee. The Western powers have rejected this proposal repeatedly on the ground it would lead to domination of West Berlin by Communist East Germany.

THREATS
In recent weeks Khrushchev has threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. He claims this would wipe out the rights of the Western powers with respect to Berlin, including access to the city across East German territory.

Rusk said the Western powers are in Berlin "by right, not by sufferance."

"We have obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said in a transcript of his discussion (CBS—At The Source). "and we do not accept the notion that those rights can be terminated or that the security of the people of that city can be endangered by the unilateral action taken by someone else."

WHITTLE
As to how the crisis will develop, Rusk thought that Khrushchev might try to whittle down the rights of the Western Powers in slow stages instead of presenting them with an open challenge or dramatic as a forcible interruption of their land or air traffic between West Germany and Berlin.

Such harassment, officials said, could take the form of imposing restrictions on traffic movement and trying to compel the Western military authorities to deal with East German officials. The Western Powers do not recognize East Germany.

Rusk said the Allies will have to deal with the situation as it develops. He thought Khrushchev might not wait until the end of the year to begin to put his plans into operation. He also suggested that the Western Powers would not wait until the end of the year "to address themselves" to the problem.

West Texas TV Facilities Sold

Sale of broadcast facilities operated by W. D. (Dub) Rogers in West Texas was announced today in Lubbock.

Owners of KSYD-TV in Wichita Falls are the purchasers, in a transaction said to represent more than $4,000,000.

Properties involved include KDUB-TV and Radio in Lubbock, the operation of KEDY-TV in Big Spring, and the physical assets of KPAR-TV, Sweetwater - Abilene, which is operated under a lease arrangement by Texas Key Broadcasters.

KEDY-TV has been operated by Rogers for the past 4 1/2 years through a lease arrangement with Big Spring Television, Inc., founding corporation of the local facility.

Television stations in all three towns have functioned as the West Texas Television Network.

The purchase agreement between Texas Telecasting, Inc., (the KDUB-TV licensee) and KSYD Television Co., is subject to approval of the Federal Communications Commission.

Sidney A. Grayson, president of the Wichita Falls company, heads the group of buyers.

Rogers, who pioneered television broadcasting in West Texas and who has been prominent nationally in the industry's activities, said there will be no change in programming or sales policies, and that present personnel will be unaffected. He is to remain for a limited period as general manager of the stations involved, and said he then will announce future plans.

FBI Trainees Must Walk Hogan's Alley

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Every new agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation takes a walk down Hogan's Alley.

It's pretty much like many streets, with a drug store, barber shop, cafe, garage, rooming house and other business places.

But danger lurks on Hogan's Alley for trainees at the National FBI Academy.

Here the trainee comes face to face with what Special Agent Henry L. Sloan, academy director, described as "the hardest part of the gun battle—the split second when he becomes the judge, jury and the executioner."

Within a fraction of a second, the trainee must decide whether to shoot or hold his fire in a given situation.

Among Hogan's Alley inhabitants are four of the most desperate criminals of yesteryear—John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson, Al Brady and Pretty Boy Floyd.

Their paste-up, life-sized images appear suddenly in doorways

Texas Slips Into Second Place in Soap Sculpturing

Texas entered in a National Arts Club Soap Sculpture contest captured enough awards to give Texas second place in the national standings.

Ohio won first place for the first time in 34 years, taking one first prize and 16 honorable mentions. Texas, last year's winner with 17 awards, placed second place and 10 honorable mention entries.

Texas winners included 10 students from Amarillo. They are Sonya Wilson, Mark Morrow, Alice Duncan, Douglas Campbell, Cheryl Sills, Suzanne Hardy, Alice Williams, Pamela Latham, Marilyn McKinney and Richard Hardin. Others are Luis Venegas, El Paso, and Betty Van Cleave, Texas City.

All contestants were students in fourth through twelfth grades. The program was sponsored by the Procter and Gamble Company.

or windows as the trainee walks down the make-believe block. But so do figures representing innocent bystanders, fellow agents or youngsters.

Before venturing into Hogan's Alley, trainees are shown facial photographs of the four "wanted" criminals. But they don't see the pop-up targets in advance and are not told what to expect.

At one point, Brady and Floyd appear simultaneously at two hotel windows. Both are armed, Brady with a shotgun and Floyd with a revolver.

In a split-second, the trainee must identify both men, then fire first at Brady, since his is the most dangerous short-range weapon. His second shot must reach Floyd before Floyd squeezes the trigger.

Further on, a man appears in a doorway with a submachine gun in his hands. This is one of the favorite weapons of the gangster, but the trainee must quickly notice a badge on the man's lapel indicating he is a fellow FBI agent.

Encountered also is a man emerging from a hardware store with a shotgun. He happens to be a hunter. The trainee reacts properly: He draws and covers the man, orders him to drop the shotgun and identify himself.

A change of pace meets the agent when a child appears at one doorway, a gun in hand. It was one of the wanted criminal's weapons, and the boy happened to pick it up out of curiosity. After a quick assessment, the trainee removes the child from the danger zone.

Eleven emergencies confront the trainee in his one-block walk down Hogan's Alley. He is given two seconds, at the most, to reach a decision and take action on each.

No one knows just how Hogan's Alley got its unofficial name. Officially, it is known as the surprise target course and was a result of studies of hundreds of police gun battles over the years.

It is one of seven ranges which must be mastered by academy trainees and on which the FBI's 5,900 agents undergo periodic training.

THE FACT REMAINS

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1283.

The outpouring of the Holy Spirit on Cornelius (Acts 10), was considered last evening in our open-air revival on West 6th Street. In this case, there are certain things that stand out, and one of them is that there are only two cases in the Bible of Holy Spirit baptism (this, and the apostles on Pentecost, Acts 2 and 10). In the Scriptures we read much about the Spirit, but very little about Spirit baptism.

And regardless of what some have tried to prove by the case of Cornelius, this fact remains: Some twenty years after Cornelius, the apostle Paul said, "There is... one baptism..." (Eph. 4:4-6). He said this just the same way that he said, "There is one God." We know there was a time when there were two baptisms (Spirit baptism and water baptism). But after the writing of Eph. 4:4-6, there has been one. All but one has served its purpose and been taken away. People will have to give up one or the other; they cannot teach that both water baptism and Spirit baptism are for today.

Regardless of which one it is, the fact remains that there is one baptism today. When will men quit trying to avoid this fact?

When this fact is accepted, then it will be easy to show that the one baptism of the Bible is water baptism.

OPEN-AIR REVIVAL

"HOW THE JAILER OF ACTS 16 WAS SAVED BY FAITH" and "HOW SOME MISSED BEING SAVED, OR CONVERTED", will be the sermons tonight and Saturday at 8 o'clock in the open-air revival at West 6th and San Antonio. T. H. Tarbet is the preacher, and the Church of Christ, West Highway 80 invites everyone to come. You may either sit on the benches or listen from your car. The revival closes Sunday night; no delay no longer. Come tonight. —ADV.

Letter Going South? Better Get It In The Mail Today

If you plan to send an air mail letter to South America or to the Caribbean countries, send it today.

Tomorrow — July 1 — it will cost you more to send such letters.

Air mail rates are to be hiked effective Saturday for letters to South American countries from 10 to 15 cents and from 10 cents to 13 cents on letters sent air mail to the Caribbean.

Price of stamped air mail letters will be increased from 10 cents to 11 cents.

A change in fees for money orders is also effective on July 1. The new schedule sets fees for domestic money orders from one cent to 10 at 20 cents; for international transmission 40 cents. Other denominations and the rates for local and international transmission: $10.01 to $50 — 30 cents and 60 cents; $50.01 to $100 — 35 cents and 70 cents.

Old rates were one cent to $5 — 15 cents and 30 cents; $5.01 to $10 — 20 cents and 40 cents; $10.01 to $100 — 30 cents and 60 cents.

Ship Loan

LONDON (AP)—Parliament approved a government loan of $50.4 million Thursday to the Cunard Steamship Co., toward building a new transatlantic liner. The liner will cost $84 million and eventually will replace the Queen Mary.

Club Milks Dairy Month For Drinks And Dessert

Big Spring Kiwanians drank copiously of milk and were conquered by oversized portions of fresh peach ice cream (compliments of Gandy's) on Thursday as they took note of National Dairy Month.

The Kiwanis observation barely got in under the wire. Speaker for the day was T. W. Colby a professor of agriculture at Abilene Christian College and a prominent leader in the Central and West Texas Dairy Producers Association. Up to Thursday morning, Colby told the club, he had been a dairy producer. On Thursday, before leaving Abilene for Big Spring, he sold out his dairy farm.

In a humorous speech, he emphasized the contribution that milk makes to the economy and food supply of the nation. He illuminated this talk with such statements: a cow spends half her time standing and half lying down; in a 24 hour period she gets up and lies down 14 times; she chews hay, when it is abundant, with a rhythmic 78-times-per-minute chopping of her jaws.

He did point out in closing that the 432 dairymen affiliated with the Central West Texas Dairy Producers Association have an annual payroll of $10 million a year which definitely puts them in the "big business" category.

He said Texas has the biggest dairy farm in the nation. There are 5,000 registered Jersey cows on this farm and 3,000 head are being milked daily.

Bob Bradberry was program chairman for the day.

Father Pays His Taxes Early

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A father of six children paid his city and school taxes early, on the theory that he could not afford to pay taxes in December and provide Christmas for his family at the same time.

Alton Rodgers, 32, tendered a check for $197.25. City officials say most citizens wait until the Dec. 31 deadline to pay.

Rogers, a meat inspector for the city, said today he had accumulated some overtime pay and decided to use it to pay his taxes.

Ends Workshop

Ross Turner, Big Spring, has been attending the two-week workshop on economic education at Arizona State University. The conference, which ends today, was designed to acquaint teachers with economic principles. Participants hear 11 nationally known speakers, including Dr. Edwin C. Nurse, economic advisor to former President Truman.

Governors To Work Together

HONOLULU (AP)—Republican governors have agreed to work together in an informal organization that could have a heavy impact on the course of their party.

Confirming this today, Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii said the idea for continuing consultation among the 16 GOP governors grew out of a series of meetings at the 53rd annual Governors' Conference which ended Wednesday.

"It was the general feeling that it would be helpful to the country and to our party if we could consult regularly about matters of policy and perhaps meet together from time to time," Quinn said in an interview.

Quinn said the Republicans may get together next fall, when a two-day conference of governors on mental health tentatively has been scheduled.

Angola Becomes Desolate Battlefield

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—African rebels and Portuguese troops are turning a great swath of northern Angola into a desolate battlefield on which the future of Portugal's West African colony is being fought.

Refugees by the thousands have fled across the Congolese frontier, leaving thousands of square miles almost uninhabited except for the sick and the dead.

Scores of villages have been evacuated and many razed. Farm and huge plantations have been burned.

U.N. officials in Leopoldville estimate that 100,000 men, women and children have reached the Congo from Angola.

About 40,000 of them are eking out a grim existence in half a dozen mud-hut villages in the lower Congo along a narrow finger of territory stretching to the Atlantic Ocean.

Most of the refugees are penniless. They live on a daily handful of rice and dry fish. To meet the threat of famine the United Nations now is shipping 200 tons of food a week to the region.

The refugees bring graphic accounts of the bitter war against the Portuguese colonial authorities and tell of ruthless Portuguese reprisals.

There are indiscriminate shootings and frequently the village is bombed by Portuguese planes, the refugees say.

Andre Mateus, 26, is lying terribly disfigured by burns in a mission hospital at Kimpese run by British and American doctors. It took friends 25 days to carry him to safety across the border from his village of Bembe, near San Salvador.

Mateus told how his village had been bombed, probably by Napoleon — "fire sprayed out all around."

Also at Kimpese is 9-month-old Edouard Antonio from the Angolan village of Kipaku. A bomb wrecked his home and killed his mother. His father was shot in the leg by "bullets from the air."

Edouard's aunt brought him to the Congo after a five-day trek through the dense scrub and elephant grass along the border. She fed him on powdered milk and water out of a dirty leaf. His father estimated that 32 people were killed by Portuguese bombing at Kipaku. "Only three houses were left standing," he said.

Another refugee, Lando Polo, reached the Congo with his wife and three children, the youngest 18 months.

"I have seen attacks by soldiers and fire bombs," he told reporters. "People were burned in their homes" in his home village of Kimpangu. Polo said, only seven old people remained.

Helishots Join Tree Fire Teams

RAMONA, Calif. (AP)—Men in padded clothing are ready to jump from helicopters without parachutes to fight brush and timber fires during the driest Southern California year of record.

The "helishots," as the jumpers are called, jump from a maximum height of 12 feet as the helicopter hovers over the spot where they are needed.

They are the latest addition to the air war against fires, in which parachutists called "smoke jumpers" are also employed.

Borden Seeks Two Highways

GAIL — County Judge C. C. Nunnally and Borden County Commissioners Dee Burris, Carl McKee, Borden Gary and T. M. Hughes are in Austin this week pressing for the construction of two important FM highways for Borden County.

The roads being sought are 10 miles from FM 612 west to FM 669; and 18 miles from US 180 west of here to FM 1584 just north of Vealmoor in Howard County.

The first road would begin at the present point where FM 612 turns south and would go due west to FM 669. The other road Borden County officials say would be of great importance in serving the oil fields and ranching area in the southwest party of the county.

South Africa To Stay In

GENEVA (AP) — The International Labor Organization Thursday called on South Africa to withdraw from the 100-nation organization because its racial segregation laws (apartheid) violate the ILO constitution.

South Africa's delegate, Daniel Johannes Geyser, gave notice that South Africa has no intention of leaving. The ILO constitution contains no provision for expelling members.

A Devotional for Today

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Revelation 3:6.)
PRAYER: Eternal Father, help us to cherish the good news of salvation by grace alone. Manifest to us new horizons so that we may increasingly express our faith and love. Let Thy spirit command our hearts and minds this day: For Jesus' sake. Amen.
(From The Upper Room)

Now What About That Gap?

Whatever gap there is in the missile race is rapidly being erased or widened, depending on which angle you view it from.
The United States has hurled three satellites into orbit with one rocket, and one of these was an object with an atomic battery device.
That we can blast three satellites into orbit with one Thor-Able-Star complex is evidence that the Russians' one claim of advantage—that of greater thrust (and thus payload)—is rapidly being melted away.
That we are able to combine three rockets into one, then to separate three satellites for individual orbits is proof of the advantage we hold in versatility of our missiles. This is augmented by the presence of the atomic battery, the first device which offers the hope of unlimited or perpetual power for apparatus in space. By using the sun's rays, the atomic battery converts cosmic energy into electrical energy.

In less than four years, the U. S. has now flung 43 objects into orbit. Each had a specific purpose, else the number could have been far greater. In comparison, the Russian total is fractional.
With solid propellants in clusters coming up, we are on the verge of almost limitless power for rocketry. Coupled with improvements on the atomic battery, our spy-in-the-sky mechanisms can become a reality sooner than believed possible.

Governor For A Day

Nearly a score of Big Spring people are in Austin today to pay their respects to David Ratliff, state senator representing this district.
Sen. Ratliff, by reason of his selection as president pro tempore of the Senate, is in line to be governor for the day since Gov. Price Daniel is in Hawaii and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey is out-of-state.
Of course, this chain of events is customary to permit the president pro tem of the Senate to have the honor of being governor, even for a short interval. It is a courtesy extended in recognition of meritorious service.

Because of appreciation for the record of service Sen. Ratliff has given this district, and the representation he has provided this country, it is heartening that a number of people took time to personally congratulate him and thank him.

Marquis Childs General Taylor Takes Vital Role

WASHINGTON — In appointing Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be his military assistant President Kennedy has taken a step that can have a very large bearing on the future course of the Administration. It is, above all, Taylor's experience and background that the President will call upon not only for the trials just ahead but in shaping future policy for the long pull.
The immediate need is on Berlin. As the first U. S. Commander, Berlin, from 1949 to '51 he did an outstanding job. Without bluster or brag he set the firm line for American and Allied rights in the zones of occupation. Taylor showed more understanding than most professional soldiers of the West Berliners and their difficult position on an island in the Communist sea.

short of "massive retaliation." The argument had grown acute in the "bigger bang for a buck" phase of the Eisenhower Administration, with conventional forces cut back and scattered widely at various parts of the globe where under the Eisenhower-Dulles policy far-flung commitments had been made.
"The Uncertain Trumpet" greatly impressed the then Senator Kennedy. So did an article which Taylor wrote in the spring of 1956 for Foreign Affairs magazine in which he advocated a flexible program of deterrence that would include limited-war capability as well as hydrogen bombs delivered by bombers and missiles. The Defense Department ordered the article drastically revised if it were to be published, and Taylor withdrew it, including it after his retirement as an appendix to his book.

Taylor argues in his book the need to recognize the limitations on atomic retaliatory forces. This naturally won him the hostility of the Air Force. It is incredible to ourselves, to our Allies, and to our enemies, he writes, that we would use such forces for any purpose other than to assure our national survival.
"When would our survival be at stake? Two clear cases would be an atomic attack on the continental United States or the discovery of indisputable evidence that such an attack was about to take place. A third possible case would be a major attack upon Western Europe, since the loss of that area to communism would ultimately endanger our national survival. These seem the only situations imaginable in which our atomic retaliatory forces might be deliberately used. Hence they are the only situations in which their deterrence applies."

Saber-rattling was never part of Taylor's equipment in his rise to four-star rank and Chief of Staff of the Army. When the overwhelming opinion in the Administration in late February, including that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk, was for intervention in Laos with SEATO forces including those of the United States, Taylor was asked for his view. He is said to have advised against such intervention, pointing out that Laos has a thousand-mile-long border with Communist China and North Viet Nam across which unlimited manpower could be poured. This coincided with the warnings of others and the President decided against that undertaking.
Taylor argued in his years as Chief of Staff the urgent need for what he called certain "quick fixes," headed by the need for improved planning and training for limited war. His recommendations were successfully resisted then. Perhaps now, belatedly, they will be carried out.

Big Coal Pier

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad is redesigning a pier to make it the largest and fastest coal-loading pier in the world. It will be geared to load colliers taking 45,000 or more tons, replenish their fuel, water and supplies and finish the job in 8½ hours.

Jawing Back And Forth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those who pushed out of Berlin. But he spoke very vaguely on just how the Allies were going to avoid being pushed.
Kennedy was just as vague on this point at his news conference Wednesday. In fairness to both men they may feel it much too soon to get down to specifics for fear of sounding belligerent.
But Rusk did reveal the kind of thinking which has become an international way of life in situations which may be extremely serious but are not in actual crisis.
It's this Let's talk. This explains the fantastic number of international conferences by foreign ministers and representatives since World War II on subjects ranging from Berlin to nuclear tests and disarmament.
Rusk suggested that the Allies would discuss the Berlin problem among themselves—just as they did in 1959, after Premier Khrushchev first raised it—and then would discuss it with the Russians, just as they did in 1959.

BERLIN was a long drawn-out business before and promises to be again unless this time the Russians are determined on less talk and more action.
Since it's been 2½ years that Khrushchev first upset the Western calm on Berlin, Rusk was asked if in the intervening time American planners had figured where to draw the line on the Russians.
Rusk wouldn't even go into that. He said Kennedy had dwelt on that Wednesday. But Kennedy gave the impression that this country's ideas are still far from fully formed on what action or actions it should take.
In the days and weeks ahead, Kennedy said, he will be considering a "whole variety of measures which might be taken."
But Thursday an Associated Press reporter at the Pentagon wrote that—so far as the Defense Department is concerned—there are several plans constantly being updated, for dealing with any Berlin showdown.
But now, as in 1959 under President Eisenhower's administration, Kennedy and Rusk are avoiding sabre-rattling, preferring to get together with the Russians for a confab.
In 1959 the storm Khrushchev raised over Berlin—setting then as now a six-month deadline for a settlement—didn't get any closer to a crisis than a conference between the Russian and Western foreign ministers.
And six days before that one petered out—it ended July 13—Khrushchev proposed a meeting with Eisenhower. Then he forgot about his own deadline and met with Eisenhower, a meeting which didn't solve Berlin at all.
Khrushchev talked tough in 1959, just as he's talking tough now. But what makes dealing with the unpredictable Khrushchev painful to the Western Powers is knowing from one time to the next whether he means it.
But before Khrushchev this time reaches the point of blowing up or calming down there will probably be, as Rusk indicated, no end of jawing back and forth between East and West.

Keeping Foot Out Of Mouth

NEW YORK (AP)—So you're going abroad this summer, and you want to make friends. Well, you can—that is, if you manage to keep your foot out of your mouth. It's all in knowing what to say.
People overseas are basically like the people who live next door to you. They'd rather listen to you praise them than brag about yourself.
Here is a sample glossary of the kind of remarks that will get you red carpet treatment abroad.
IN GREAT BRITAIN
"That was a dirty trick George Washington played on Lord Cornwallis—attacking just at tea-time. It really wasn't cricket at all."
"Ever since we quit being your colony, we've had nothing but trouble, trouble, trouble."
"What wonderful summer weather! Here, let me lend you my umbrella."
"We did our best to be of some help to you in the Second World War, but, my, we were awfully late getting into it, weren't we?"
"If our trained diplomats had as much training as your trained diplomats, the world wouldn't be in such a mess."
IN FRANCE
"You mean we're having snails in garlic butter sauce again tonight? Goody, goody, goody."
"The service has been so wonderful, a 15 per cent tip doesn't seem enough. Please let me make it 25 per cent."
IN RUSSIA
"Da comrade Khrushchev, it is a marvelous new steel plant. I wish we had a few like that back home."
"Here's a present: A brand new shovel—so you can bury us faster."
IN GERMANY
"Why, of course, I realize a swell fellow like you never could have been a Nazi."
"It's a mystery to me why the other countries envy your progress. After all you work hard—and have discipline."
which we hold a book or newspaper, but more than "distant vision" which can be anything from 10 feet to the horizon.
For such individuals, a good solution is available—trifocals, with segments of the glasses ground to give sharp vision at three ranges.
Another solution is one: Having two pairs of glasses, one for reading, one for far vision. This seems like a lot of bother, keeping track of two pairs, but regardless of my opinion, I know that some people prefer it that way.
Of course a great many people don't need glasses for far vision, but only for close work, like reading the telephone book. For them, reading glasses alone are adequate. Besides being ugly, this condition is painful.—Mrs. R. B.
Remedies aren't likely to be the answer unless you start with the basic step—which is adequate but careful manicuring. The cuticle tends to grow up with the nail. Soften the skin by soaking fingers and gently push cuticle back with a Clean Orange wood stick.
NOTE TO D. E. N.: As long as you are in good health, by all means give blood. Being a donor does not harm you; it does, however, mean that you should allow enough time for your body to replenish the amount given.
Attention all women! For my pamphlet, "The Pre-Menstrual Blues," write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling. This pamphlet may help you!
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his columns whenever possible.

To Your Good Health

The Art Of Getting Along With Bifocals

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Please write concerning bifocals. I'm on my third pair now, and wonder if others have the trouble I do.—Miss W. B."
Some people have trouble with bifocals just because they resent 'em—just as they resent wrinkles, silver streaks in the hair, and other signs that they've grown up.
Incidentally, if you don't want to give away your age, learn how to handle bifocals. Personally I don't care a rap. I'm how old I am, and proud of it. But one sure way of showing that you wear bifocals is to keep bobbing your head every time you switch from looking through the top part of the glasses, or looking through the bottom part to read fine print.
The trick, if it deserves so dignified a term, is to move the eyes, not the head. Or if it's still necessary to move the head, do it naturally, not jerkily.
There's no give-away in looking down to read something, and so doing, looking through the lower part of the glasses.
There is, to be sure, a little difficulty at first in getting used to curbs and stairways, but once you are accustomed to that, there's no great problem in any other use of bifocals.
Some people, because of their jobs, need sharp vision at a point between near and far—a range less than the 12 or 18 inches at

Around The Rim

There Was Time For The Clay Slick

I kind of liked the boss' story Sunday about "Fathers Then and Fathers Now." Sort of agree with him—even though he is older than I—because much of it sounded like the days when I wore short pants. Only thing we knew about Father's Day was that it came first of the month. After reading it I got to mulling over some things the kids used to do around our community to while away any play time hours that came our way. It sort of added up to the old story that used to run in the daily papers about Judge's Partner, slippery slick, dog, and all.
Ours wasn't too much play though, because the farm then was a place where they had hoe handles and plow handles to fit the hands of all sizes of boys. There were cows to milk, cotton to chop, corn to thin, potatoes to dig, or gardens to hoe and weed.

WHEN SCHOOL started—all six and a half months of it—we came home in the afternoon and started cutting wood, shucking corn, slopping hogs, milking cows—about forty-seven of them—and then feeding horses and mules as they came in from the fields. Maybe we'd think about devilment once in a while, but there wasn't much time for it. Getting the work done always seemed a little easier than making connections with a harness strap if we didn't get it done. We did the chores, ate supper, got our horse water, and then went to bed. There was no arguing.
We didn't have any such thing as an alarm clock, but roosters served very well. It was my job to get a fire started in the kitchen stove for Mom, and then coffee had to be ground in an old handmill before I picked up the milk buckets. My three brothers also had their jobs laid out for them, like looking after the hogs, getting up work animals, feeding, etc. In the winter one of them built a fire in the heater to warm up the house for breakfast. Dad always had the teams harnessed by the time breakfast was ready.

HOG-KILLING TIME, when the first cold snap came, often meant a day out of school while three or four porkers got worked up into sausage, hams, bacon and lard. They'd be killed, scalded, dressed, and hung up for the night. There was always fresh liver for supper. Next morning the rest of the work began.
Play? That depended upon the day of the week when neighbor kids could get together, since all of us had about the same program. There was the first Saturday after cotton was chopped and corn thinned. If there was water in the creek for swimming we'd meet there. One side had a 40-foot clay bank, steep. By toting water to wet it down we made a long clay slide into the water. Boy, was that and hung up for the night. There was always fresh liver for supper. Next morning the rest of the work began.

Circle Adds Member

Mrs. James Renfro was welcomed as a new member of the Douglas Circle, Baptist Temple, when the group met in the home of Mrs. Ernest Barbee Thursday evening.

Elected prayer chairman was Mrs. Barbee; community stations chairman, Mrs. Ray Crooks, and missions study chairman, Mrs. Renfro.

The picnic planned for members of the WMS and their families is set for Tuesday at the Reef Field cabin, it was announced.

Members will meet at the Big Spring State Hospital, July 6, for a community missions program.

Nine members were present, with a guest, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

Farewell Party Is Given Mrs. Bean

Mrs. Luther Bean was honored at a farewell party given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Nix.

Guests were members of the choir of First Christian Church, and the party was given after choir practice; about 20 were present.

Mrs. Bean will move to Fort Worth soon to make her home.

Stuffed Fish Is Impressive Dish

Stuffed fish always looks impressive and tastes delicious.

BAKED FISH
2 whole fish (about 2 lbs. each)
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup hot water
1 tsp. instant toasted or fine-grated fresh onion
1 1/2 cups herb-seasoned dry bread stuffing
Paprika
Have backbone of each cleaned fish removed. Melt butter in the water with the onion over low heat; add stuffing and mix well. Spoon into fish cavities; skewer each fish in a couple of places.
Place on buttered foil in a shallow roasting pan; dot with extra butter; sprinkle with paprika. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven, basting a few times, for 25 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Girl Scouts To Have Third Camping Session

Session III at Girl Scout Camp Boothe Oaks begins Sunday and continues until July 13th. Campers from over the 13 county area of the West Texas Council will be enjoying the camp which they built from proceeds derived from their annual cookie sale.

The following girls from Big Spring will attend session III at Boothe Oaks: Jane C. Anderson, Barbara Burklow, Ann Heath, Judy Houston, Nancy Jo McEvers, Ann Pope, Andrea Prindahl, Patsy Sweeney.

Thirty-two Senior Scouts from the West Texas Council will attend an inter-council patrol encampment from Aug. 11-20 at Camp Sol Mayer near Menard. This encampment is part of a preparatory program for the National Senior Roundup being held in Button Bay, Vt. in July, 1962.

Stays Busy

Jody Fair used the trial and error method of dieting until she found a satisfying way to reduce; that's to keep her mind off the matter of a diet.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Has Learned Secret Of Easier Dieting

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "The most important thing about dieting," Jody Fair declared, "is to be so busy you don't get a food fixation. They say that forbidden fruit is the sweetest, and that's exactly what can happen to me the moment I know I am limiting my calories."

"Name a diet and I have tried it. I went the banana-milk routine, then the boiled eggs and tomato diet. With a crash - liquid diet I woke up in the middle of the night so hungry I couldn't sleep. I've had a sweet tooth ever since I can remember," she went on. She pointed to a candy machine on "The Americans" set near where we were talking. "I wish it weren't there. I don't like to be tempted. But everything fattening tempts me."

"Now when I gain weight, I'm no longer frustrated because I have finally found a satisfying diet. I really am not hungry on it, providing I keep busy. But I have to be active or I feel like a martyr."

"It's mostly high protein. The diet is well balanced and easy to follow. I have lamb chops and tomato juice for breakfast and of course black coffee. I have cottage cheese and fresh melon or fruit in season for lunch. Dinner consists of a lean steak and one green vegetable or salad and coffee."

As for sweets, I am allowed one piece of hard candy a day. When I feel like having a sweet, I suck this for a little while and wrap what is left in wax paper for a sweet taste later on. In a few days I am back to my normal weight."

HIGH PROTEIN DIET
Here is a diet, when followed exactly, which will allow you to lose on the average of one pound a day while still maintaining normal energy. ## Mrs. Armstrong Is Coffee Guest

COAHOMA (SC) — A coffee was given for Mrs. Sam Armstrong Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. M. M. Edwards. Other hostesses were Mrs. Ralph White, Mrs. F. W. Burkholder, Mrs. D. S. Phillips, Mrs. Ray Swan and Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel.

The Armstrongs are moving to Colorado City where he will be employed with the R. J. Wallis Company. They have lived in Coahoma for the past 22 years and Armstrong was employed with the Carl Echols Co.

Mrs. Armstrong was active in the local home demonstration club, held several local offices and was a member of the 1941 Study Club. Thirty guests attended. An orange cloth covered the table, and candles and artificial fruit served as decorations.

How Stenos Fare In Russia Without Any Coffee Break

By LYDIA BUSEK
Written For The Associated Press

Stenographers and secretaries in Russia must first learn how to repair their typewriters before they can get a job.

But so far as I could discover, talking with school experts from this and other countries who have made a study of Soviet education, there isn't a typewriter repair course available.

It is an example of a sort of do-it yourself theory that applies to many things in Russia. Being an American secretary, I decided to try to find out about girls who do the type of work I do.

When I first tried to make arrangements to visit a secretarial school, Intourist guides and information people - generally friendly and willing to lend a hand - met my pleas with stony stares. They didn't know of any such school.

SHE FINDS SCHOOL
But because I could speak and read a little Russian, a newly-found friend in one of the embassies provided an address at 14 Stolesnikov Street as that of a stenography-secretarial school.

When I arrived I could understand why the Intourist people were discouraging. It is in the basement of a rundown building. By jumping mud puddles in an alley, I got to No. 14. The outside door didn't fit the jamb. In fact, it couldn't have looked less like a school.

I walked down dark steps to a tiny hallway and spoke to three girls comparing notes, although I was alone.

A newsy card comes from the PRAGERS (A. J. JANICE and BILLY) who with her parents, MR. and MRS. MAX JACOBS of Dallas, have been visiting the colonial displays at Williamsburg, Va. "We visited the capitols at Little Rock and Nashville. Here we're living in the colonial days all over again," they wrote. They planned to visit in Washington, D. C., and then go on to New York.

COL. LEONARD EINSTEIN left this week for New York to join his wife, MARGO, and their two children, who had gone a week before to visit her mother. They plan to do a lot of touring the Northeast before returning.

A happy homecoming is in prospect for the HARDYS this evening. Due for a visit here are MR. and MRS. JAMES M. (BOBO) HARDY and their three children, HEATHER, PAT and MIKE, and, of course, they'll be at the home of their parents, DR. and MRS. W. B. HARDY, Bobo Hardy is program director for the Minneapolis, Minn. YMCA, having accepted that post in February after heading the Big Spring YMCA. His friends here are apt to tell him that he timed his visit just right for the final push on the building debt retirement campaign.

Music Study Club Plans Projects
Members of the Big Spring Music Study Club met Wednesday for a called meeting to vote for new members and discuss projects for the coming year. The meeting was with Mrs. Douglas Wiehe, president.

Two projects will be sponsored during the year. One will be a young artists' concert and the other will be inviting the churches' junior choirs to participate in the club's Christmas program.

I wondered how they could compare one shorthand outline from another, it was that dark.

I asked for the teacher, and one of the girls quickly ran to tell her an Americanskaya was here.

WHAT SCHOOL TEACHES
The schoolmistress, Mrs. Demshikov invited me in and seemed delighted and proud of her school. Certainly she wasn't embarrassed by the unattractive surroundings. Sixteen girls and women were typing on very old machines.

I learned that the shorthand, typing and business practice courses take two years. Classes can be tailored to personal needs, full day, half-day or evening. Secretarial schools offer, in addition to typing and shorthand, refresher classes in Russian language, Russian history, cataloging and general office practice.

Mrs. Demshikov said a stenographer's starting salary is 45 rubles a month ($49.50) and the maximum for secretaries, unless they become experienced in specialized fields, is 70 rubles a month ($77). A ruble is worth $1.10.

At the U. S. embassy, which requires top grade, bilingual secretaries and typists, the pay can run from 80 to 120 rubles a month. For all this, a secretary can buy some interesting contrasts.

Rent is very low, as low as $5 a month. A dozen eggs, depending on size and season, can cost from $1.25 to $2.50 a dozen. A gas bill can be as low as 55 cents for a four-room apartment, plus kitchen, bath and entrance hall. But a single orange can cost 70 cents.

Electricity is more expensive than gas, but not too costly by American standards. It costs about $4.50 a month for electricity in the same apartment, including limited lighting, a sewing machine, small refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, toaster, radio and television. Potatoes are 6 cents a pound, but carrots are 40. Chickens are 60 cents a pound, apples $1.20.

NO COFFEE BREAKS
Clothing is expensive, too; shoes $19 to $31, capron hose (a synthetic, I could find no nylon) $2.30; wool suits $82.50; wool blouses $27.50; lightweight suits $33; winter coat with Persian lamb trim $99; summer silk print dress $33; hats starting at $5.50.

And secretaries in Russia get no coffee breaks. But they get vacations of two to four weeks, qualify for a pension, get free medical care, maternity leave, nursery attention for babies and - if they're ill for an extended period - may even qualify for rest in a sanatorium in the Crimea or another vacation and health area. But I'll still take my job, and my boss is still going to have to keep up his service contract to keep my typewriter in good working order.

Sign Of Good Times Seen In Tiny Waist

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK — Can you measure the nation's prosperity by the size of a woman's waistline?
A look at the ins and outs of the average womanly figure for the past 50 years indicate that there are always two more inches of girth during depression days.

At present one out of three women in the United States has the average 26 inch measurement, which means that the nation's prosperity is in pretty good shape.

Manufacturer David Meher uses the lady's belt, which came into use with the suffragettes as an economic measuring stick. Contrary to political bromides, the American female loosens her belt when money, jobs and food are scarce, he says, and tightens it in years of plenty.

He points out that in hard times more people must survive on a diet of budget stretchers like macaroni, beans and potatoes which bank the calories around the middle.

"During these times even the few ladies with plenty of income favor ladies with a well-fed look as a sort of status symbol," he says. "This harks back to the Roman days."

"The gaunt, bony figure can only become fashionable when there is plenty to eat, because thinness has to be obviously an intended thing to be tolerated."

Then what does the economic curve—the feminine curve — predict for the coming year?
Belts which have already gone to dress manufacturers for fall and even spring fashions are at least as small as this season's. In fact, very soon the stretch fabric waist cincher is expected to make a style comeback, nipping in the middle even more, Meher says.

In other words women will have at least a few more dietary years in which they can financially afford to look half-starved.

Knott Club Has Program By 4-H'ers

Members of the 4-H Club gave a program for the Knott Home Demonstration Club when it met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bill Williams, with Mrs. Billy Gaskins as hostess.

Gladys Williams, who brought the devotion, demonstrated the correct way to make a bed; Sandra Gaskins showed how to wash dishes and iron a shirt. Other 4-H girls who were present included Kelly and Kala Gaskins, Brenda Finn, Sandra and Linda Williams.

Composing the nominating committee are Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, Mrs. M. A. Cockrell and Mrs. W. A. Burchell. Roll call was answered by 10 members.

Plans were made for a family picnic to be given at the home of Mrs. Cockrell, July 28, at 7 p.m. The group will hold its next regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Gene Long, Sept. 12, at 2 p.m., it was announced.

Puzzled Police Seeking Clues

CISCO, Tex. (AP)—Puzzled police looked deeper today into the mysterious stabbing death of a pleasant and respected church secretary.

While officers pushed their search to determine "who," hundreds of residents of this quiet little West Texas city wondered "why."

Why, many of the 4,499 citizens asked, would anyone want to harm Mrs. Florence Hussey, for four years secretary of the First Baptist Church and apparently without an enemy?

BEATEN
Mrs. Hussey, 52, a divorcee, was found brutally beaten and stabbed to death Thursday in the living room of her modest home near the downtown section of Cisco.

She had been beaten about the head with what police believe was a flower pot and then stabbed unmercifully with what apparently was a knife.

The Rev. Jesse Castle, pastor of the church, found the body sprawled face down in blood, sand, flowers, and bloody bare footprints surrounded the body, clad only in a sheer nightgown.

The Rev. Mr. Castle had dropped in to see why Mrs. Hussey, "a devoted church secretary and worker," had failed to come to work.

TV SET
A television set blared, a floor lamp burned and a Bible lay several feet from the body. A sewing basket lay open near a divan.

"Robbery definitely wasn't the motive," said Police Chief S. E. Parkinson.

Two rings of value remained on her fingers and $50 was found in her purse.

"Tests were inconclusive," said Dr. Charles Rallev, who performed an autopsy, "as to whether she had been sexually molested." Apparently not, he indicated.

"To my knowledge, she had no enemies," said the Rev. Mr. Castle.

LIVED ALONE
Mrs. Hussey lived alone. Her activities, said her pastor, set her virtually entirely in the church. Her former husband and a son, 21, living in West Covina, Calif., were reported en route here.

"It must have been someone who hated her an awful lot—or a maniac—to do something like this," Parkinson said.

"I knew things happened like this in big cities," he said, "but not here. Nothing like this has ever happened before."

Constable J. J. Honea, a typical

West Texas police officer, drawled:

"I've seen a lot of things, but never anything like this—why you couldn't even recognize her," he said. "It looks like someone beat her head off with a flower pot."

NOT RECOVERED
Neither the flower pot nor the death weapon was recovered.

The fatal blow was believed to be a deep gash across the throat. She had been stabbed 14 times.

Two men were questioned and released.

Dist. Atty. Earl Conner Jr., said the men were picked up as part of a routine investigation, adding, "frankly, we're grasping at straws."

Several officers said the assailant may have been a woman. Sheriff Lee Horn of Eastland County said a footprint found at the side entrance of the house, where the attacker is believed to have entered and left, indicated a woman may have been involved.

This aspect, officers said early today, has not been confirmed either way.

"It's just a hunch," Justice of Peace Ross Griffith said earlier, "but I believe a woman did this. . . . I don't know."

Carl Smith Honored By Downtown Lions For Convention Job

Carl Smith, who served as general chairman of the recent district 2-A-1 Lions convention here, was honored Wednesday by the Downtown Lions Club. He was presented with a life membership in the Lions League of Texas Crippled Children's Camp.

Louis Carothers, president the last time during his tenure as president, presented Jim Thompson, therapist, with a check for $100 to go to the local center for crippled children.

A Chinese auction was held for a bunch of white elephant items, and club members paid in $39.80 during the sale to benefit the club's charity fund.

OIL NEWS

Seven locations were staked in the area, five being old well workovers in the Lanat - East Howard field in Mitchell County.

Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc. set Nos. 59, 60, 61, 62 and 63 Mary Foster for 3,000 feet. The sites are five miles southwest of Lanat in the lanat-East Howard field in Mitchell County.

In Howard County, Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc. filed the No. 3 B Owen Chalk, an old well to be plugged back to 2,200 feet. It is in the Howard-Glasscock field.

from the audience. The second number featured Capt. and Mrs. Jack Wickard doing an acrobatic juggling routine.

SHOW FORMAT
The format of a style show was followed by the Jaycees in creating the setting for the pageant. Scene set on the stage represented a poolside in a garden. Seated around a garden table, as if watching a parade of fashions, were Mrs. Toni Choate, Mrs. Martha Jones and Mrs. Donna Spence. Emcee for the evening was John Taylor, member of the Jaycees.

Daryle Hohertz, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, gave a short welcome address.

"It is our hope," he said, "that one day a Big Spring girl will win the Miss Texas title and perhaps go on to win Miss America. That is the purpose of this pageant."

He also thanked local businessmen who sponsored the individual contestants. Special thanks was given to Cizon's jewelry for the loaning of a bracelet and necklace valued to $10,000 which were donated by Miss Bratcher when she received the Miss Big Spring title.

Judges for the contest were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Snelson, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nealeigh, Abilene; and Mrs. Marilyn Wheeler, Stanton. Vote tallying was done by Don Reynolds, CPA.

Parents Night Set Today At YMCA

The Parent's Night program at the YMCA today at 7:30 p.m. will feature exhibits and demonstrations by youths in several classes at the Y, according to Joe Leach, acting general secretary.

Among events scheduled are trampoline, ballet and tap dancing, wrestling and tumbling, table tennis, baton twirling, gymnastics, riflery, archery and arts and crafts.

Mrs. Ora Burson, instructor of the ballet and tap dancing class, will be mistress of ceremonies. "These youngsters have been training hard to put on a good demonstration for their parents," Leach said.

Social Security Bill Termed More Effective

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today signed "with great pleasure" legislation increasing Social Security benefits for about 4.2 million Americans and permitting men to draw their benefits at the age of 62.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said the new amendments will make the Social Security System "a more effective instrument for the well-being of our people."

Only seven members of Congress, members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, showed up for the ceremony.

"You must be the only members of Congress left in Washington," Kennedy remarked, alluding to the Fourth of July holiday that has all but shut the Capitol down.

The increased benefits will begin showing up in checks received about Sept. 3, the Social Security Administration said.

Under the law, the increases are to start in the month beginning 30 days after signing. So the higher rates go into effect in August and are reflected in the checks mailed around Sept. 1.

Since this is the last day of June, a one-day delay by Kennedy in signing the bill, would have resulted in a one-month delay in effectiveness of the new benefits.

The bill cleared both the House and Senate Thursday with little debate after Senate-House conferees had resolved differences in the various bills passed earlier by both chambers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 4.2 million Americans would draw larger Social Security benefits. Men would be permitted to draw them at 62, instead of waiting until they reach 65. Women already may do so.

Women have been permitted for some time to retire at age 62 and draw benefits.

If a man chooses to retire at 62 he'll receive for the rest of his life 80 percent of the benefits he would get if he waited until 65. If he retires sometime between 62 and 65 he will receive a pension proportionately larger than 80 percent.

The new program is expected to cost $23 million in its first year. This is to be met by an increase in the payroll tax. Both employer and employee will have to pay one-eighth of 1 percent more on the first $4,000 of the employee's annual income. The self-employed will have to increase their Social Security tax by one-fifth of 1 percent.

Those Chug-Holes Are Getting Bigger

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Salesman Frank J. Watson, 60, was injured through downtown Seattle when a crater opened in the street ahead and his car dropped 10 feet to the bottom.

He suffered only a rip in his pants. Two policemen hauled him out.

"I just hung onto the wheel and hoped the car wouldn't turn over," Watson said. "I was waiting for the worst."

President Signs New Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today a new housing bill which administration officials said could make three million moderate income families eligible to buy their own homes.

The $5,646,000,000 measure also may help other millions find better housing in moderate rental apartments, officials of the Housing and Home Finance Agency reported.

Kennedy himself called the bill the most important and far-reaching legislation in the field of housing since the Housing Act of 1949.

He signed the legislation in a White House ceremony attended by members of the House and Senate, and Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia, representing the country's mayors.

In his March housing message to Congress, Kennedy said, in effect, that the housing needs of upper bracket families had been met in the post World War II boom—mostly in new suburban developments.

Government housing officials have emphasized the legislation will be administered with this aim strongly in mind.

The chief provision which will make more families eligible to buy homes is the extension of the mortgage term from 30 years to a maximum of 40 years under the moderate income family section.

FHA figures this will cut the monthly payment on a $15,000 house—the most expensive the agency will insure under the new program—from $82.95 to $74.85.

The stretch-out also would increase the total interest the home buyer would pay.

It is this reduction in monthly payments which brought the rough estimates of eligibility under FHA income rules for 3 million more families.

The bill would give the moderate income family a 35-year mortgage as a matter of right. The term could be lengthened to 40 years if the FHA commissioner felt the buyer's income was inadequate to make the payments under a 35-year loan.

The down payment on a $15,000 house would be $450. Closing costs could be included in the loan.

Sponsors of the legislation believe that the new terms will fall well short of making eligible for homes all of the 11 million families in the $4,000-$6,000 annual income bracket.

GEN. CURTIS LEMAY

LeMay Takes White's Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Command of the Air Force passes today from Gen. Thomas D. White to Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

The Air Force arranged a formal farewell for White, veteran of 40 years service, in a ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

LeMay takes over as chief of staff when he is sworn in at the White House this afternoon by President Kennedy.

Top command in the Navy changes Aug. 1 when Vice Adm. George W. Anderson Jr. succeeds Adm. Arleigh A. Burke.

About 1,000 airmen and officers from Andrews and nearby Bolling Air Force Base were to troop in farewell review before White.

Invited to the reviewing stand was Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, LeMay and three non-commissioned officers who have served with White for many years.

LeMay, 54, is a pilot credited with building the powerful U.S. nuclear bomber force. In the late 1940s, as head of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, he organized operations for the famed Berlin airlift.

He was picked by Kennedy to succeed White last May 22.

Senator Ratliff Takes Helm Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. David Ratliff, Stamford, was sworn in today as governor of Texas for a four-year term.

Members of Ratliff's family gathered around him in the governor's reception room at the Capitol as Chief Justice Robert Calvert of the State Supreme Court presided.

A number of Big Springers were to be on hand this evening for the banquet honoring Sen. Ratliff.

Flying down shortly before noon were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Orme, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Rinalder, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardesty. They were aboard the Cooden plane.

Clyde McMahon was to take his plane to Austin this afternoon and with him were to be City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, City Commissioner George Zachariah, and City Attorney John Burgess.

Two Didn't Separate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today two of the three satellites fired aloft in a single rocket Wednesday night apparently have not separated and thus are working at reduced efficiency.

The third—the Navy's experimental navigational satellite Transit 4A—has separated and is "working perfectly," the announcement said.

"Signals received from Injun and GREB satellites indicate that they have not separated from one another, although Transit 4A has separated from the other two," the Navy said.

The 45-pound sphere called GREB was designed to measure X-ray radiation from the sun. The Injun, a 40-pound drum-shaped vehicle, was sent up to measure radiation in what are called the Van Allen belts around the earth.

Takes A Look At Heritage

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the season for examining the American heritage. And all sorts of people are doing it.

As the nation prepares to celebrate its Independence Day next Tuesday, churchmen, scholars, pundits and politicians are pondering how it all began. And where it is going.

DREAM
"If the American dream is for Americans only, it will remain our dream and never be our destiny," says Dr. Rene de Visme Williamson, chairman of Louisiana State University's department of government.

But what is the dream? What is the objective? Recent months have seen searching discussions about "national purpose."
"Clearly, the religious view and its moral implications were at the root of the founding fathers' innermost convictions," says Dr. Emile Caillet, professor of philosophy emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary.

FROM RELIGION
"Whatever political principles they laid down were directly derived from the religious view and its moral implications—in that order."
As the Declaration of Independence put the matter, it was self-evident that "All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights" to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

That was the foundation of it: That each man bears a stamp of worth and dignity, endowed by a power beyond any man-made law or government.
"If we will not be governed by God," said American revolutionary leader William Penn, "then we will be governed by tyrants."

QUESTIONED
But it is questioned today whether the basic idea still thrives. Says Dr. Albert Hyma,

University of Michigan professor of history:

"The United States in the past 50 years has been dominated to a large extent by persons who do not understand the spiritual heritage bequeathed by their ancestors."
"Unless a marked change takes place in the United States of America, it is doomed, just as surely as was ancient Babylon."

His comments, along with those of other historians and scholars, were supplied for a forum on the subject in "Christianity Today," a national nondenominational weekly.

America's image has been "badly defaced" by the caricatures of Communist deceit, said Dr. V. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton, Ill., College, but it "must be restored. And it can be."

DESTINY
Said Dr. Williamson: "Our national destiny has been and is threatened by secularism, but there are signs of a return to Biblical evangelical Christianity which is the fountainhead of democracy and without which democracy is distorted."
Dr. Robert M. Sutton, history professor at the University of Illinois, said: "Only if we see the American dream clearly in the light of God's love, his power and his judgment do we have a right to hope, with Lincoln, that this nation under God may yet experience a new birth of freedom."

Added Dr. Kenneth S. Latourrette, of Yale University Graduate School: "The dream is still with us... even though its Christian rootage is not always recognized or acknowledged, it is probably as potent as it has ever been. We who are indebted to it and cherish it must endeavor to see that it helps to shape every aspect of our local and national policies and programs."

FBI Is Checking Leaks At Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI is investigating the leaking of secrets at the Pentagon, the White House says.

News Secretary Pierre Salinger announced the investigation on Thursday night but declined to discuss its nature or what set it off. He said only: "There is an FBI investigation today of leaking of secrets at the Pentagon."

But the Chicago Sun-Times in a dispatch from Washington said President Kennedy ordered the FBI and military intelligence agencies to find out how a national publication got secret information on military plans for Berlin.

The Sun-Times story by Thomas B. Ross said: "Mr. Kennedy was appalled at reading about the Joint Chiefs of Staff's contingency plan for the Berlin crisis in a national publication before it reached him in the White House."
"He immediately directed the FBI and the military intelligence agencies to find out how the highly classified information had leaked to the press."

The Sun-Times added: "The published report on the joint chiefs' contingency plan contained enough accuracy to persuade Mr. Kennedy that it was willfully disclosed by a high official in the Pentagon."

The Sun-Times dispatch did not identify the national publication but it apparently was a reference to a Newsweek magazine edition which went on sale Monday.

Newsweek said the Joint Chiefs of Staff would present to Kennedy this week a plan for action in the Berlin situation, calling for a "show of strength" in an attempt to convince the Soviet Union that the United States does not intend to retreat from Berlin.

Newsweek reported the United States is prepared to back its commitments to West Berlin "even at the risk of nuclear war."

Texas Publisher Takes Aim At BBC Film On Segregation

LONDON (AP)—Texas newspaper publisher E. M. Dealey today attacked the British Broadcasting Corp. for showing what he called a one-sided, inflammatory film dealing with segregation in Birmingham, Ala.

The documentary film was made by the Columbia Broadcasting System, which televised it in the United States.

"I saw this TV film here two nights ago," said Dealey, "and it does not reflect a true picture of the situation in Birmingham. I was doubly shocked when I learned this was an American-made film and I am ashamed of CBS."

Dealey is board chairman of the Dallas Morning News. "I'm afraid the British don't like Americans any too much as it is," he continued, "and this sort of one-sided version of an explosive situation will make them dislike us all the more."

"The film was downright inflammatory, scandalous and a highly prejudiced account of racial relations in Birmingham, and I know Birmingham very well."

He said he telephoned Clarence B. Hanson Jr., president of the Birmingham Post-Herald News. "I was hopping mad at what I'd seen," Dealey continued, "and after I talked to Hanson about it he felt the same way."

Dealey said he would be in London some time on a combined business and pleasure trip, "and there's a very good chance I may ask the BBC for time" to reply to the CBS documentary. The film was titled "Who Speaks for the Deep South?" and was narrated by Howard K. Smith.

A spokesman for the BBC said: "The American networks offer us the choice of their major documentaries. We select the ones that we think are good and interesting. We felt the Birmingham documentary was one of these."

Asked if they would give Dealey time on the BBC, the spokesman replied: "We would certainly give any request from him very serious consideration, but up to now, we know of no request from him."

It was the second time a CBS documentary carried by BBC stirred controversy. Earlier this year Edward R.

Murrow, U.S. Information Agency chief, tried in vain to persuade BBC not to run "Harvest of Shame," a film depicting the hardships of migrant workers that he had narrated before he became head of USIA.

His overture to BBC raised a storm of criticism. Murrow later said that his request probably was "foolish and futile."

$195 MILLION Stockholders Gather To Approve New Merger

DALLAS (AP)—Stockholders of Chance Vought Corp. and Ling-Temco Electronics met separately today to approve a merger into a $195 million diversified aerospace concern.

Directors of both companies agreed to the merger March 31. The merger climaxed efforts of James Ling, who is building a Texas industrial empire, to acquire Chance Vought through stock purchases.

The new company would be called Ling-Temco Vought, Inc. Gifford Johnson, president of Chance Vought, will be president of the merged company. F. O. Detweiler, Vought chairman who bitterly opposed Ling's drive to take over his company, said he would resign if the merger is approved.

Robert McCulloch of Ling-Temco will be board chairman of the combine. Ling will be chairman of the executive committee.

Stockholders voted on a plan to combine through the sale of Vought assets and properties, paid for with debentures and stock purchase warrants.

Ling-Temco, its officers and directors holds 39 per cent of the 1,250,000 or so shares of outstanding Vought stock.

The new company would employ more than 20,000 persons. Ling-Temco makes aircraft components, missiles and heavy electronic equipment. Vought builds Navy fighter planes, mobile houses, prefabricated houses and industrial buildings, and missiles.

The combined order backlog for the two companies Jan. 1 was $305 million. Combined assets then were $194,461,130. A statement showed combined earnings last year of $5,872,229 on sales of $362,332,243.

Ling, at 38, has built an electronics complex in 14 years from a $3,000 stake. He was a master electrician when he started his mushrooming industries, mainly related to electronics.

His companies spread from coast to coast.

Mayor Takes Unusual Stroll

MATHIS, Tex. (AP)—Mayor Milton Boatwright, armed with a heavy handgun and a load of dynamite, walked a mile across the bottom of Lake Mathis Thursday.

The mayor, one of the owners of the Lagarto Ferry & Towing Co., emerged and said everything was ready for the start of ferry service across the lake next week.

Boatwright, in his walk along the lake bottom, wore skin-diving garb. He checked the course the ferry will follow and made certain it is free of underwater obstruction. Several half-submerged trees along what had been the river bank had been blasted out of the water in recent months. Mathis is in South Texas near Corpus Christi.

Youngster Has Many Grandmothers

FAIRFIELD, Vt. (AP)—Relatives got to figuring after hearing of the birth of Jeanette Francisovich in Canton, Ill., June 23.

They figured Jeanette has: two grandmothers, two great-grandmothers and three great-great-grandmothers.

And for good-fairy grandmother measure, Jeanette has one step-great-grandmother and one step-great-great-grandmother.

Grammie-rich Jeanette is the daughter of the former Diane Shelton of Fairfield, now Mrs. Bancil Francisovich.

Rats Blamed For Taking Drug

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The disappearance of 50 grams of marijuana, blamed on rats, is being investigated by the Ministry of Health. About 60 pounds of the drug was seized near Reynosa as it was being smuggled into McAllen, Tex., about two years ago, officials said.

The marijuana was turned over to Reynosa officials for safekeeping.

DEAR ABBY

It Might Be An Honest Living

DEAR ABBY: Ever since our daughter was five years old we sent her for ballet, tap and acrobatic dancing lessons. She became quite good, and danced in many amateur shows around town. She never cared to go to college. She is 23 and has been working in the city for over a year. She says she is dancing, but she doesn't say where. My husband thinks it is some kind of girly show. She is supporting herself, and sending a little money home. If she is in a girly show, should we let her stay? We raised her to be a virtuous, church-going girl.

BUBBLES' MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter is 23. Many girls in "girly shows" are "virtuous and church-going." If she is grinding (and bumping) out an honest living, leave her alone.

DEAR ABBY: I know you get lots of requests, but I don't know where else to go for this information. I have tried every cook book I could get my hands on, and I can't find a recipe for caviar. There are recipes which INCLUDE caviar, but how do you make caviar?

WOULD LIKE TO MAKE IT DEAR WOULD: All right. This sounds like a fishy request, but I'll bite. Caviar is prepared and salted roe of the sturgeon and other large fish. It's more commonly known as "fish eggs." Fish produce it, and people buy it.

DEAR ABBY: When I married George I knew he had been married three times before, but now complications have arisen. I keep getting bills, mail and telephone calls for two of his ex-wives, because they go by the name of Mrs. George Smith. One of his ex-wives married again, but she divorced her second husband, and went back to using my husband's name. Another ex-wife never gave up his name. Am I the only one who has the legal right to use my husband's name? What should his ex-wives be calling themselves? Should I straighten them out, or should I ask my husband to do it? It is all very confusing.

THE ONLY MRS. GEORGE DEAR ONLY YOU: You are the only person who has the right to call herself Mrs. George Smith. His divorced wives should drop the "Mrs." and use their first names, maiden names and then his last name. Stay out of it. Let George do it.

A House Divided

A shower curtain hanging from a piece of rope marks the boundary line on the front porch of this home in Atlanta, Ga., after two elderly sisters stopped speaking to each other. Mrs. Mary Walser, 70, right, said the argument began when her sister, Mrs. Lana H. Matthews, 66, got married last October. Mrs. Walser said her sister was trying to take the house and give it to her husband, a Baptist preacher. The newlyweds are on the left side of the divided house. (AP Wirephoto).

Cat Lovers Let Out New Howl

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—Cats around here are leading a dog's life at the insistence of the area's bird, fish and tree lovers.

This puts City Manager F. A. Stewart in the doghouse, with cat lovers, that is.

It started when the bird, fish, and tree lovers said there were too many cats and Contra Costa County made traps available with which to catch them.

Enter the cat lovers, who yelled "foul," in reference to the fish used in the traps as bait. They said all cats like fish and that more household pets were caught than strays.

All of which puts Stewart sort of up a tree, protecting the birds, as it were, after catching fish with which to trap the cats.

Heat Now Holds Few Terrors, Thanks To Air Conditioning

By SAM BLACKBURN
June 30, 1967 was a Sunday. Heat weary Big Springers had spent an uncomfortable and sweaty night June 29 and wistfully were hoping Sunday would bring a break in the heat wave which had been battering the parched countryside for most of the month. On Saturday, the temperature had hit 113 degrees and Friday it had been 112.

There had been hardly any rain all during the month. The total precipitation had been 36 inch. On June 3, the temperature hit 103 which opened a hot spell which held steadily through June 12. The hottest day of that interval was June 11 when it was 111 degrees. Big Springers—there were only a few thousand of them then—thanked the windows of their bedrooms as high as they could, some jugged bedding out in the yard and slept under the skies.

SUPER-HEAT
Sunday dawned bright and clear. The sun burned down relentlessly. The parched earth reflected the searing heat back at the suffering citizens.

By midafternoon the official thermometer touched 117 degrees,—the hottest day Big Spring has ever endured the 61 years the records have been kept.

This is the 54th anniversary of that memorable date.

There is little chance that the temperature will come anywhere near hitting the high mark that it did in 1907. And even if it should—Big Springers of today are prepared to cope with it.

In 1907, there were no artificial methods of cooling homes or places of business. Even the electric fan which was the first step in the direction of mechanical cooling was little used if at all. It is doubtful there were half a dozen electric fans in the county at that time.

Widespread and growing use of air conditioning, both the refrigerated air type and the standard evaporative cooler type are of great significance to electric service companies, Beale said.

In 1960, he pointed out, residential demand for electric current for June, July and August jumped 50 per cent over the demand for the preceding three months. This year the same surge has been indicated.

COOL TOWN
And Big Spring, in all probability, is one of the "coolest" towns in the state.

Jimmy Beale, Texas Electric Service Co. manager, estimates that 90 per cent of the homes in this city have air-conditioning of some type. Because of the prevailing dryness this area, residents make admirable use of evaporative coolers and these are the most popular.

Beale said that he believes that there are more homes in this community with air conditioning than in any other comparable town.

"They're everywhere," he said, "in mansions and in shanties. Big Springers, rich and poor, demand some mechanical method of breaking the back of the summer heat."

The evaporative coolers are less expensive to buy and to operate than the refrigerated air type. However, Beale said there are many homes using the latter and the number of such homes is increasing.

BUT IT'S COOL
Refrigerated air conditioning coolers do not produce what they call "true air conditioning," and in making their estimate on the number of homes which they term air conditioned they omit those with evaporative coolers.

Beale said that business establishments and offices generally install refrigerated air conditioning equipment. Today's customers are prone to demand that the places they patronize be comfortably cool in the summer.

New Coahoma Bank To Open Saturday

COAHOMA — Coahoma's newest enterprise, the Coahoma State Bank, will open for business at 9 a. m. Saturday, with a full staff ready to serve its customers.

Bill Read, president, will receive the charter from a bank examiner in front of the building at 9 a. m. and then the doors will be open to the public for business.

The new building, located just south of the T&P railroad on Pacific Ave. and First Street, is of stucco finish, with brick and glassed-in front above the waing-coating, and is 23 x 78 feet. The

Houston Girl Reports Rape

HOUSTON (AP) — Police searched today for a Negro who raped and beat a white girl, 14, in her home Wednesday night.

Mrs. Wiley Elder of the police juvenile division said the girl told her she had been to a church youth meeting and was home alone when the Negro stepped out of a bedroom and asked for money.

Cushing May Employ Timer

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, who must make many speeches, says he is thinking of bringing along someone with a bell or buzzer—to tell him when to cut the talk short.

"I will get the gong when I hit the 15-minute limit," the cardinal writes in this week's edition of the archdiocesan newspaper, The Pilot.

The Catholic prelate, who delivered the invocation at President Kennedy's inaugural, wrote: "Someone has told me that you are fine for about 15 minutes, but when I get to the half-hour mark, you are more interested in physical survival than in spiritual sustenance. From then on, you just live in hope."

Cotton Workers Out On Strike

MATAMOROS, Mexico (AP)—More than 5,000 cotton industry workers struck today, paralyzing 102 gins, 2 compressors, 5 cotton oil plants and 5 insecticide manufacturing plants.

The workers turned down a last-minute effort by Gov. Norberto Trevino Zapata to head off the strike.

Involved in the dispute were wages, vacations and sick pay.

lobby takes in approximately one-third of the building and will be set off by dark oak furniture, green drapes, wall clock, customers' chairs, and mural.

Read's office will be in the lobby and readily available to customers. An enclosed office takes up the northeast corner of

But Did He Leave A Tip?

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Quentin Stiles prepared her husband's dinner Thursday night, placed it on the table and stepped over to chat with a neighbor while waiting for him to return from work.

When Stiles, an insurance agent, arrived some 30 minutes later, the dishes were empty. A dollar bill was left on the table.

Stiles said he had no idea who could have eaten his meal. "Just a hungry—but honest—passerby, I guess," he said.

New Growth Revitalizes Eastern City

COAHOMA—Opening of a new bank is but one of the evidences of a revitalized Coahoma.

Within the past few years Coahoma has been on the increase in population, construction and general activity. Coahoma now has over 1,200 people.

Part of this stems from oil development in the eastern end of the county, but a lot of it results from more dynamic leadership within the community. When oil activity dropped off, Coahoma kept going and is still growing.

WATER SUPPLY
One of the things which helped to stimulate a new era of growth was securing a water supply from Big Spring about a decade ago. Through the Howard County Water Control Improvement District, Coahoma joined with Sand Springs to lay a pipeline to Big Spring where treated water is available. Only this week, Coahoma representatives met with Big Spring officials to get assurances of a greater supply so that new and larger lines can be laid to accommodate growth.

Contrary to some predictions when IS 20 was constructed through Coahoma, the community did not falter. A half million dollar addition to school facilities has been completed and Coahoma now has an adequate high school and classrooms as well as junior high and elementary plants.

This city also has dial telephone service that serves the area. There is prospect that soon extended area service (toll free) will be provided between local phones and those on the Big Spring exchange.

NEW SERVICES
In the spring Coahoma received its new fire truck, a $10,000 plus piece of equipment which is equipped not only to handle fires in town but those in the surrounding areas. Many new plugs have been installed to facilitate fire protection, and the volunteer fire department is revitalizing its program.

Howard County has provided some additional paved streets which also serve as part of the lateral road system.

One of the prime movers in the new surge at Coahoma has been the Lions Club, which serves as a sort of Chamber of Commerce as well as a service club. When some civic project comes up, the club usually takes hold. Similarly, the city council also is wrestling with numerous problems to see that the city's growth opportunity is not penalized. One of the steps taken last year was the installation of a new sanitary sewage system.

Mentally Deficient
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Eight of every 100 children in Mexico are mentally deficient, says Health Minister Jaime Torres Bodet. He said in Mexico City alone there are over 50,000 such children.

New Area Stock Expert Named

COLLEGE STATION—Byron J. Greiman on Saturday will become area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with headquarters at Lubbock. The area includes all of Extension Districts 1 and 2 and parts of 3, 6 and 7.

In making the announcement, Extension Director John E. Hutcherson said Greiman's primary responsibility would be the training of county agents but that he would also work with livestock feeders, organizations and producers.

The new specialist is a native of Garner, Iowa. He grew up on a 200 acre Iowa stock farm; was an outstanding 4-H member for eight years and FFA for five years, with livestock his major interest. He holds a B. S. degree from Iowa State University in animal husbandry; an M. S. from the University of Kentucky in animal production and only recently was awarded a Ph. D. from the University of Missouri with a major in animal breeding.

Cattle Rustling Ring Broken Up

WACO (AP) — Texas Rangers said today they had broken a cattle rustling ring in which thefts of animals worth $30,000 to $50,000 were involved.

Ranger Capt. Clint Peoples of Waco returned to Robertson County a man, 25, who was arrested in Laredo Wednesday. Another arrest was made in Sulphur Springs about a week ago. Previous arrests were made earlier this month, Peoples said.

Realizing A Dream For Bank Has Required Most Of A Year

COAHOMA—The staff is ready to open Coahoma's new bank Saturday morning. Bill Read, president, said Thursday they were all busy getting equipment, furniture and materials in place, cleaned, and ready for use. Weldon Estes is the cashier, and bookkeepers and tellers are Mrs. A. D. Greenfield and Mrs. Grover J. Bright. Directors are J. O. Nixon, R. D. Garrett, Mrs. Viola O'Daniel, R. A. Foster, Briggs Todd, Ed Carpenter, Ed Martin, Carl Bates, and Bill Read. Work on organizing the new bank was started in July of 1960, Read said, and pledges were taken from enough potential stockholders to apply for a charter. "It has taken a long time to get things in readiness after the charter was approved," he said.

"When we open Saturday we can boast of capital stock, undivided profits, and surplus, amounting to $100,000, all of which was pledged in a very short time. The thing we need now is depositors." The bank was finally authorized by the State Banking Commissioner March 2, 1961. As soon as the authorization came through, Read came to Coahoma from Moran to find a place to live. In the meantime sponsors of the bank signed a contract for a brick building, which included a remodeling job and installation of the vault. Subscribers who had signed pledges to buy stock were contacted and asked to send in their checks. When the $100,000 was received the money was deposited in a Dallas bank pending the printing of certificates, and the opening of the bank. Sponsors of the new bank had their ups and downs while the application was going through the hands of the State Banking Board. The application, first heard along with another on December 8, 1960, was held up until the Feb. 2 meeting because members of the board wanted to scan the application of the Hitchcock bank. A premature notice of approval came through following the February hearing, and Coahoma prepared for a big celebration. It was short-lived, however, when the notice was branded as premature. But a celebration was held when the official notice of authorization came through, and the culmination of almost a year's work will come with the formal opening of the new bank Saturday at 9 a.m.

By J. Gray, Albert Iguder, Arthur Graves, D. E. Gray and T. Wells.

The congregation is planning on building a new educational plant which will increase the capacity for Sunday school purposes to around 600. Currently the church is running about 300 on Sunday and last week had 408 in Sunday School.

The new unit will include a fellowship hall, library and auxiliary rooms on the first floor and the intermediate and young people departments on the second floor.

Since the war the church has been building steadily, adding its new sanctuary about 15 years ago and within the past few years a Sunday School annex. The latter will be remodeled when the new unit is constructed. Three lots immediately to the west of the church have been purchased and will be used for parking and recreation space pending the time when a new sanctuary will be considered.

Adam's Rib Source Of Trouble, Sect Believed

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt — An ancient Egyptian religious sect believed that if the rib had stayed inside Adam's chest, mankind would have been spared a lot of misery.

This sect believed that so long as the woman was inside Adam's chest, there was no death and the world was a paradise. But separation of woman from man was one of the "mistakes" in a bad job of creation that brought no end of trouble to the world.

The primitive people who held these ideas were known as the "Gnostics" and were considered heretics by other early Christians. Scholars have discovered the writing about Adam's rib in Gnostic "gospels" found 13 years ago in a monastery near Nag Hammadi in upper Egypt but only now being fully studied.

These writings are in the Coptic (Old Egyptian) language and scholars consider them among the most important historical finds in many years.

Dr. Pahor Labib, director of the Coptic Museum, says publication of the original writings will comprise 10 volumes and will include 50 documents. The first volume already has been published.

The documents include a series of gospels—the "Gospel of Truth" the "Gospel of Philip," the "Gospel of Thomas." There also are three versions of the "Apocrypha of John."

All these documents are filled with secret words, codes, key words, which only the initiates could fully understand. Gnostics believed that only through possession of this secret knowledge could men find salvation.

In Philip's Gospel, the holy of holies in the temple is called the "bedchamber" and there are references to giving birth and conceiving by kissing.

THE PLACE ASSIGNED TO MARY IN EARLY CHURCH RECORDS

Scripture—Matthew 1:18-25; 12:46-50; Luke 1:26-38; John 1:10; 19:25-27; Acts 1:14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN THE Third Quarter of this year's Sunday School lessons we shall study some of the personalities of the New Testament.

The first of these is Mary, the mother of Christ. She is not necessarily, however, the most important.

As Wilbur Smith points out (in "Peloubet's Select Notes"), "there cannot be discovered in any single line of the Gospel records justification for the worship now accorded by (some) to Mary." She was the mother of Christ, yes; but she herself was not divine, and the Scriptures almost go out of their way to emphasize that fact.

Never does the Bible give her divine names or indicate in any way that she should be worshipped.

For example, in the scene where the disciples are assembled in the upper room praying (Acts 1:14), Mary is mentioned simply as one of the women.

On the other hand, as the mortal chosen by God to be Nunc Dimittis of Simeon (2:29-35)—all famous in church music, the titles being taken from the first word of the Latin text in each case.

An interesting sidelight is the history and meaning of Bethlehem, where Jesus was born. The city first appears as early as Genesis 25:19-21, with the birth of Rachel's son, Benjamin, and her death—already a place of birth and motherhood. The name means "House of Bread"—significant in the light of the Communion Bread—Christ.

Mary's offering of a "sacrifice according to . . . the law" (Luke 2:24) for Christ refers to the fact that every firstborn male belonged by right to God and therefore "had to be redeemed from service in the sanctuary by a payment . . ." (Alfred Plummer in "Peloubet's Select Notes").

It was Christ's second visit to the temple, at age 12, that caused Mary alarm (Luke 2:40-52). How typically human is Mary's distress and rebuke when, after a frantic three-day

GOLDEN TEXT

"My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For He hath regarded the low estate of His handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed."—Luke 1:46-48.

Christ's mother, Mary is certainly worthy of study.

Chronologically in our lesson the Annunciation (Luke 1:26-38) comes first as a revelation of Mary's character. It is significant that God chose for His Son's mother not a wealthy woman, but one quite poor, and living in a town (Nazareth) known for its corruption. Even in such surroundings, the moral is suggested, one can walk in Godlike ways.

The angel tells Mary that she shall call her son Jesus, which is Greek for the Hebrew name, Joshua, meaning "Jehovah saves."

Next in chronological order comes the announcement made by the angel to Joseph about the divine birth, fulfilling the prophecy of Isaiah 7:14.

Luke continues to relate the Beatitude of Elizabeth (1:41-45), the Magnificat of Mary (1:46-56), the Benedictus of Zacharias (1:68-79) and the Hail Mary (1:79).

A CHRISTIAN HOME

For Adam and Eve, Paradise was home and for the good people of their race, "Home is paradise." Home, however, is what you make it; as one good man said, "Without hearts there is no home." Henry Drummond declared, "The home is the supreme conductor of Christianity;" and Hans Christian Andersen rightfully said, "Eighty per cent of our criminals come from unsympathetic homes."

The modern blow-up, explosion and sabotage of home life is due to ignorance and baseness, the like of which has not been seen and the end of which the world has not yet begun to feel. Dr. Christlieb of Germany once said, "What Christianity most needs is her antagonism with every form of unbelief is holy living."

A Christian home comes by taking heed to it by God's word, Psa. 119:9: "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way, by taking heed thereto according to thy word." Let us pointedly ask, how it would be possible for children to accomplish this without cooperation from their parents in the same kind of living? Psa. 14:11-12: "Rid me and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity and whose right hand is the right hand of falsehood: that our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth and that our daughters may be as corner stones polished after the similitude of a palace." Here is a wonderful contrast between strength and beauty of character from the base and vile. How will this beauty of character be possible without parents leading the way? Are children supposed to accomplish it all alone? Prov. 22:6: "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart therefrom." The process of training of gentleness combined with firmness, or watchfulness on the part of parents never ceasing. How many are willing and able to match this duty? Parents, what in the world are you doing to your child? Your habits, speech, your manners, honesty, or hypocrisy?

Ours is the seed time, God alone Beholds the end of what is sown Beyond our vision weak and dim The harvest time is hid with him.

Elbert R. Garretson, Minister

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

Along the Little Missouri River . . . close to the South Dakota border . . . about 200 miles from Montana and Wyoming . . .

It's fun to look at the whole world, and then put your finger on the place where you live. It makes you realize how important you are!

In the free nations of this world everybody is important. People can own land and houses and tractors. They can read the truth. They can think for themselves, and say what they think. They can assemble together to celebrate, or plan—or protest.

And they can worship God . . . in the church they choose . . . and bring their children . . . and support their church . . . and volunteer their talents in its work.

Nobody can padlock God's House—or turn it into a museum!

Here's where we live, THANK GOD! We thank Him best by using ALL our freedoms . . .

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rocket Firings Commemorate First International Shoots

By IRWIN FRANK McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — The burning end of a cigarette ignited the first of dozens of mail carrying rockets that blasted across the Rio Grande this morning. The rocket flights commemorated the first international mail carrying rocket shoot 25 years ago.

rocks along the bank a bare two inches from the water. Six rockets were then fired from the Mexican to the U.S. side of the river. Rockets carried between 150 and 200 stamped covers bearing stamps of Mexico, the United States, the United Nations and the American Legion.

Drought Broken For City Pokey

The city jail had some new customers Friday morning, following a day and night vacancy. Police made several arrests for drunkenness.

One accident, juvenile trouble, and a window peeper, were investigated by police from noon Thursday to Friday morning.

The accident involved a hit and run driver. A parked car in the 300 block of E. Third, owned by Herman Bouchard, 409 E. 2nd, was struck by another which left the scene.

A request came to the police for patrol of an area on Lynn Ave. where fast cars and boys who were shooting, were reported.

Another call came requesting aid in returning a runaway juvenile. A window peeper was reported on Maic and a description of his dress given.

FIRED FIRST

Adair, 72, fired the first rocket 25 years ago. He is curator emeritus of the Texas Memorial Museum and executive director of the Texas Heritage Foundation.

FIRED SIX

On July 2, 1936 the legion post fired six rockets carrying about 2,000 letters across the river. During that shoot some of the rockets fell into the river, one hit a saloon in Reynosa, Mexico, and one was blamed for setting a corn field on fire.

Monolith Found

PUEBLA, Mexico (AP)—An ancient Aztec monolith was discovered here by workmen excavating ground for a new bank in the outskirts. It is similar to those found in the Yucatan Peninsula.

so rockets were expected to be fired. The first 12 rockets were in honor of the 25th anniversary of the first event and the others were fired in order to fill all the demands for stamped covers fired across the border.

The American Legion group here posted a $1,000 fire insurance bond.

The man who built the first rockets, Keith Rumbel, was also here. Rumbel, a Boy Scout when he built the rockets, now is engaged in government research on rockets.

U. S. Triple Play In Space

Drawing of these satellites in separate orbits nearly 600 miles above the earth illustrates the sky-high triple play scored by the United States. The three satellites were hurled into orbit by one rocket launched from Cape Canaveral.

Fla. The first atomic battery in space is attached to the Transit 4-A satellite. Drawing was released in Washington by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Brantley Service Set For Saturday

Funeral rites for J. L. (Red) Brantley, 33, Stanton Chevrolet dealer, fatally injured in a car accident near here last Sunday night, will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Stanton First Baptist Church.

A second service will be at the First Christian Church in Woodson, former home town of Mr. Brantley, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in the Woodson Cemetery. Arrington Funeral Home is in charge of all arrangements.

Mr. Brantley, who was born Oct. 25, 1928, died at 11 a.m. Thursday in the Howard County Hospital. He had been injured at 9 p.m. Sunday when his car and a pickup truck collided at the intersection of the Gail road on the Snyder Highway, one mile north of Big Spring.

His death was the third to result from the collision. Teresa Marie Foster, 13, and Sidney Ervin Foster, 5, passengers in Brantley's car, were killed in the wreck.

Mr. Brantley and his brother, Carlos Brantley, operated the Chevrolet agency at Stanton. He came to Stanton from Odessa and prior to that time lived in Woodson.

Survivors include his wife, Iva Jean, who is a patient in the Howard County Foundation Hospital; his young son, Mike; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brantley, Woodson; three brothers, Carlos Brantley, Stanton; Harold Brantley, Odessa, and Henry Brantley, Wickitt. He has one sister, Miss Lucille Brantley, Woodson.

Mrs. Brantley is making excellent progress toward recovery at the hospital here, it was reported Friday. It was not certain but it is possible she may be able to go to the Woodson rites for her husband on Sunday.

In the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, two other injury victims of the fatal crash continued to make good progress. They are Mrs. Nancy Lou Harvey, 25, Ranger, and Mrs. Sidney Ervin Foster, 31, mother of the two children killed in the wreck. Mrs. Foster attended funeral rites for her children on Thursday. She made the trip in an ambulance and then was readmitted to the hospital.

Mrs. Harvey, who was more seriously injured than any other of the victims with the exception of Brantley, was believed out of danger. Her husband, Jerry Kenneth Harvey, 28, Mrs. Foster's daughter, Patricia Ann, 11, and Sidney Ervin Foster, 34, have been released from the hospital.

Lamesan Takes Seminole Post

LAMESA (SC)—Doyle Hankins, vice president and cashier of the Lamesa National Bank, has been elected president and director of the Seminole State Bank, it was announced Thursday.

Hankins will assume his new duties in Seminole on July 3. The bank official came to Lamesa in 1951 from Artesia, N. M., and has been an active civic worker. He has served a president of the Dawson Community Chest and the Lamesa Country Club.

A director of the Chamber of Commerce, he has also been treasurer of the American Red Cross chapter, a director of the Rotary Club, and, for four years, was advisor of the local DeMolay chapter.

The Hankins family will continue to reside in Lamesa until suitable housing can be found in Seminole. Mr. and Mrs. Hankins have two sons, Larry, 16, and Tim, 12, at home. A third son, Bob, will be a senior at the University of Texas this fall while a fourth son, Fred, is presently associated with the El Paso National Bank.

Attends Course

Ken Wiggins, used car manager at Shasta Ford Sales, Inc., Big Spring, attended a course in used car and truck merchandising at the Ford Motor Company Marketing Institute in Dallas this week. The four-day program is designed to help dealer personnel recondition, appraise and display cars that are taken on trade at the dealership.

See America's SOUTHWEST First

The stark, looming mesa and the wild grandeur of the desert... the fascinating relics of yesterday's frontier... the age-old customs of other cultures... these things we in the Southwest take for granted. Yet each year thousands of tourists flock to our own corner of the West to marvel... Why not use the family car to discover the beauties, the wonders, of some of these nearby sights you may have missed? Chevron road maps will show you that many of them are just a short drive away... And wherever you go, Chevron Dealers can make your trip safer and more comfortable with helpful service and quality products.

NUMBERS SHOW LOCATIONS OF PICTURED ATTRACTIONS IN NORTH-WEST TEXAS

PALO DURO CANYON near Canyon, Texas, is a breath-taking gorge carved into the living rock by a fork of the famous Red River. The waters have eroded the stone into odd and colorful formations. Follow State Highway 217 for 12 miles from Canyon. Nearby, see Amarillo, metropolis of the Panhandle—and further north, pueblo ruins and Boys' Ranch.

GIANT GRAIN ELEVATORS leaping from the limitless plains high into the wide Texas sky, are just one of the startling sights that make a motor trip through Northwest Texas a unique travel experience.

PRAIRIE DOG TOWN in Mackenzie State Park near Lubbock preserves one of the West's most picturesque animals, now nearly extinct elsewhere. Here thousands of prairie dogs live and play in their extensive burrows.

BRANDING LIVESTOCK is an exciting, never-to-be-forgotten ranch scene. As you follow the Chevron Trail through the vast Texas Panhandle you'll see some of the state's finest beef cattle and grazing land.

Marilyn Monroe Has Gall Bladder Removed Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—Glamorous Marilyn Monroe had her gall bladder removed Thursday night in a two-hour emergency operation at Polyclinic Hospital.

Early today, the blonde beauty, 34, was reported in good condition.

Seven doctors were in attendance during surgery, including Marilyn's personal physician who had flown in from California.

Under sedation, the movie queen was wheeled into her private room where her ex-husband, former baseball great Joe DiMaggio waited.

A hospital spokesman said, "The entire gall bladder was removed" during the operation, adding: "There were no complications and she is resting well."

Marilyn had been stricken on Wednesday with a gall stone attack and, accompanied by DiMaggio, was taken by ambulance to Polyclinic. It was her fourth hospital confinement in the last five months.

Originally it was announced she was being operated on for gall-stones. However, after the operation got under way, the infected bladder was removed.

The gallstone surgery had been described in advance as a "major operation but not one of great peril."

A hospital spokesman said the normal convalescence period from gall bladder surgery is 10 to 12 days.

DiMaggio, who had been standing by at the hospital ever since Marilyn was admitted, has been seen with her a great deal ever since her divorce last winter from playwright Arthur Miller, her third husband.

Last February Miss Monroe signed herself into the Payne Whitney Clinic of New York Hospital, a psychiatric institution. Later she transferred to Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center for treatment of what was described as "emotional and physical exhaustion."

Last May she underwent minor gynecological surgery at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Hollywood.

Claims He Just Arranged Transportation

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Adolf Eichmann said today he was the man called in when the Nazis needed transportation to ship Jews out of Holland and Denmark to the death camps. But the former SS officer refused once more to accept any further responsibility for the mass slaughter.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius explored the Dutch and Danish ordeal under Nazi occupation with Eichmann on the stand for the ninth straight day and elicited a flood of explanations adding up to only one thing: Eichmann never conceived an order but only carried out his superiors' bidding.

Illustrative of this was Eichmann's repudiation of a document naming him as the man who "ordered" evacuation of a mental hospital in Holland so it could be turned over to SS military units.

"This could not be accurate at all," said the defendant, claiming that Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Nazi governor of Holland, had full "legislative authority" and did not need to come to Eichmann's bureau in Berlin for such action.

"It was quite obvious they only needed a train," said Eichmann. "And that is how it was referred to my section."

The mentally ill Jews and even the staff of the hospital were shipped out to destruction.

Eichmann deprecated documents labeling a special mission to Denmark to transport Jews out in ships as the "Eichmann Sonderkommando."

He said there was a tendency to term any unit connected with his department IV-B-4—Jewish affairs—a "sonderkommando." Sonderkommando, or special unit, was the name given by the Nazis to the battalions sent to the East in 1941 and 1942 to liquidate two million Jews by gunfire and in mobile gas vans.

The Danish venture failed to materialize, mostly because the Danes by an almost unanimous resistance made Denmark the one giant failure of the Third Reich's effort to liquidate the Jews.

Eichmann admitted he went to Copenhagen on orders of his immediate superior, Gen. Heinrich Mueller, but contended the plan already had been "implemented" by an SS colonel on the scene by the time he got there.

Best Programs Are Those You Have Already Seen

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There comes a season in the television year—and this is it, viewers—when the best program you can see is usually one you have seen before. But there is also some fresh material available, if you look hard.

"Person to Person," on CBS tonight (10:30-11 EDT), is new. Host Charles Collingwood will go a-calling on comedienne Carol Burnett and her teen-age sister. Highlight of Saturday has to be ABC's "Fight of the Week"—just about everything else on the schedule is a repeat. National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson will move into the heavyweight division for a 10-round bout with Eddie Machen in Atlantic City.

Decides To Take Things Slower

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Who says people should retire at 65? When Dr. Clare A. Garber, 88, who moved her office from a downtown building to her home was asked whether she plans to retire, Dr. Garber said, "only reason I moved my office here is to take things a little slower."

Dr. Garber has been practicing medicine for 59 years. She is a graduate of the old Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, class of 1902.

Pill Crackdown

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An office of the U.S. Pure Food and Drug Administration will be established here soon to deal with barbiturates and "pep pills" imported from Mexican border towns.

June Bows Out Fair

By The Associated Press

June bowed out Friday with a rash of fair, warm and muggy weather over Texas. The first day of July Saturday will be about the same.

Skies were fair all over the state at dawn with temperatures in the 60s and 70s.

Forecasts said fair and warm weather would rule through Saturday in all of Texas except the southeast quarter and extreme southwest. Those sections were due for widely scattered thunder-showers, usually during day hours, and some cloudiness.

Thunderheads billowed up in South Texas Thursday, with a lot of bark and little bite. Laredo and Alpine got .03 of an inch of rain and Victoria .01. The rest of the state was dry except for showers, like one in Houston, that was too light to measure.

Thunderheads were high near San Antonio, College Station, Victoria, Houston, Corpus Christi and Wink.

Whirlwinds that Texans call dust devils spun in the Panhandle.
