Fire Department Adds New Pumper To Arsenal

The Cisco Volunteer Fire Department recently bolstered its firefighting arsenal with the completion of work on a water tanker. The four-wheel drive pumper will allow firefighters to get a vehicle off the road to rural fires. The new tanker temporarily replaces the first-out city truck, which is undergoing needed repairs.

Fire department members built the 550-gallon tank and rigged out the pumper unit. Besides doing the work on the truck themselves, the firefighters successfully sought aid to stretch their support dollars even further. Through the Rural Community Fire Protection (RCFP) program of the Texas Forest Service, the department was able to obtain an almost new truck for only $4,000. The truck, along with several others, had been purchased by the state forestry agency, which, in turn, made the trucks available at cost to the state's VFDs.

Other VFDs can take advantage of the Service's RCFP cost-sharing program. Qualified VFDs can receive cost-sharing aid of 50 percent - to $4,000 - toward truck purchases and up to $3,000 toward foamproducing Water Expansion Pump System (WEPS) units.

RCFP funds have assisted with the placement of over 1,500 trucks, WEPS units and other fire apparatus since 1973. In addition, several firefighter associations have obtained $5,000 in financial aid - plus designing, licensing and purchasing assistance - toward basic county-wide, high band radio communications systems. Rural firefighters have received training in wildland fire suppression and have taken advantage of discounts of around 30 percent on bunker gear purchased through the TFS RCFP Fire-Safe Fund.

For additional information about assistance available to rural firefighters, contact the Texas Forest Service, Fire Control Department, P.O. Box 310, Lufkin, Texas 75901, phone (409) 639-8100.

Thanks to one such contact, Cisco firefighters gained assistance toward the purchase of a truck for their water tanker unit. Since most of the VFD's financial support comes from voluntary contributions, the truck purchasing assistance was much appreciated by the firefighters.

A recent report of the President's Commission on pornography has shown direct correlation between the use of pornography and cases of sexual crimes committed against women and children.

YARD OF THE WEEK-- The Cisco Garden Club have chosen the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Toland, 1400 Leggett as the final yard of the week for 1988. The Tolands give a big gorgeous flower bouquet picked from their yard to two churches every year. (Staff Photo)

Final Yard Of The Week Is Chosen By Garden Club

The Cisco Garden Club would like to say "thank you" to all who participated in the Yard of the Week. Those whose homes were in

The Cisco Press and the many others who were nominated.

We just ran out of room and time to include all of you.

However, we do appreciate all that the folks in Cisco did to make our city a very pretty place-- it was especially hard with the water situation as it has been and it makes us even more appreciative of Our Town.

Hope to get the rest of you next year. Thanks Again!

Flag Day Ceremony Held Wednesday At CHS

The colored guard from Dyess Air Force Base raised the American flag to begin the ceremony of the third annual Flag Day, held at Cisco High School last Wednesday. The High School band played the Star Spangled Banner. Guest and students who attended the ceremony then moved into the auditorium to listen to three distinguished speakers.

The program climaxed when the Cisco High School band played an outstanding salute to the United States military with "A Date Which Will Live In Infamy". The band played pieces that depicted the evening before and the day of December 7, 1941. The actual recording of President Franklin D. Roosevelt declaring war on Japan after the Pearl Harbor attack was also played during the piece.

Lt. Col. Bill Richardson of Eastland introduced the first speaker, Brig. Gen. John Russell of Abilene. Russell said Douglas MacArthur once said "Old soldiers never die, they just fade away." Russell said he can talk about America. He always gets a surge of pride when the Star Spangled Banner is played. There is nothing wrong with patriotism. He said, "It is up to us to make sure freedom continues."

He told the students whatever has happened in the world has been indirectly responsible from the two super powers, Russia and America. He said Russia's power is military. They put up walls and trade barriers.

He said America is open to other lands and their trade. In Thailand, Russell was told America is the only country where more was taken in than what was taken out.

Russell warned students Russia's constitution says that war is necessary to preserve their rights. Talks mean nothing, he said. He added, "We must keep America in the forefront. Education is the heart of the control of a free world. We need to support education at the top level at all cost."

Russell said it appears to be true that in the lifetime of the students there will be a colony on the moon or Mars. America needs to keep a high priority on space technology. It will depend on this technology as to what language will be spoken there, English, Russian or Japanese.

He ended with "America is the most promising nation in the world. It is the greatest nation God ever permitted to be on earth."

Walter Criswell, of Graham, was introduced by his daughter, Ann Criswell, a teacher at CHS. She said her dad has been through some hard times in his life, but he always had an uplifting attitude.

Mr. Criswell said everyone has the ability to do everything they want to if they have an "I Can" attitude. He told the students that Edison failed 999 times. (Continued On Next Page)

City Employees To Keep Blue Cross Insurance

The water study the City of Cisco has applied for is progressing well, according to city manager Mike Moore at the regular city council meeting held last Tuesday at City Hall. Moore told council members Sweetwater and Hamlin are going to go through with the water study also. He said the application will go in the first of next week and everything is on schedule. Final reports of the study will be given to the city by October 1, 1989.

Moore discussed the Blue Cross Insurance rate increase for the city employees during the city managers report. He said with the rate increase the cost of the insurance will be $7,000 over the budgeted amount.

Council members approved a motion to keep the Blue Cross insurance for the city employees. Moore said he checked with two other insurance companies and Blue Cross is the best insurance company for the city.

In other matters council members approved the bid opening date of Tuesday, December 13, for the sale of surplus property. The city will sell a pick-up truck, a truck chassis, a fire truck and a travel trailer. There will also be several cars to be sold for parts only. A notice will run in the local paper.

Moore told council members he received a letter from TCI cable television about a rate hike. Moore said the hike is within the bounds of the franchise they have with the city of Cisco.

He said the cable company can only raise the rate 15 percent in a time of three years.

Moore told council members the dog control unit is responding to more calls than before and will continue to work in controlling the dog problem. Moore said he has sent out letters to owners of junk vehicles. He said they sent out the first of eight letters and the goal of the city is to get rid of the junk cars in town. He said after the first of the year, everyone will be able to see improvement in the city of Cisco.

Two boys scouts, Larry Wende and Jason Harris, attended the meeting to earn a merit badge.

Marvin Cole, administrator at E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital, addressed the council members and asked them to attend the town meeting to be held on December 6. He said a questionnaire was sent out to all tax payers asking them what can be done to help the hospital. He said a hospital is necessary to bring industry into Cisco and the city will have to fight to keep the hospital here.

Council members attending the meeting were Bural Chambers, John Muller, Arlie Whitley and Allen Masters, Beth Prickett filling for the city secretary and Mike Moore, city manager.

Homemaking Hints

Storing Garments in Plastic Bags

The plastic bag the drycleaner uses is mainly for the purpose of keeping the garments clean while being transported from the drycleaning plant to the consumer's home.

However, occasionally consumers will store the garments while still in the bag. In some cases, the garments may be stored in the plastic bag for an extended period of time, possibly weeks, months, or seasons.

Occasionally, we hear complaints that the ink from the lettering on the bag has stained the garments inside the bag or possibly the garments that were stored next to the bag. This has been seen mostly on leathers, suedes, vinyls, and synthetic materials, but could happen to a variety of fabrics.

Considerable research has been done by various individuals in the industry to find inks that would not cause this problem. Unfortunately it has not been possible to find an ink that would be suitable for the specific purpose of the bag and yet not cause dye transfer on some materials.

For this reason, consumers should not store garments in the plastic bags. Also, air needs to circulate around the garments and the plastic bag restricts air flow.

Some bag manufacturers are putting a warning regarding storage on the bag. Consumers should heed these warnings to prevent any dye transfer problems.

Tips for Parents - Helping Children Learn

Parents need to read with children rather than read to them. Research tells us that parent-child reading is most successful when it involves give-and-take and identifying words and ideas in a pleasurable situation.

Regular patterns of reading with children eight to ten minutes a day for four to seven days a week are associated with both high reading achievement and positive attitudes toward reading in children.

The more that children and parents are actively engaged in "thinking" about the story as contrasted to "listening" to the story, the more successful reading with children becomes in enhancing children's reading achievement.

Sending letters and postcards to grandparents or friends is a way to involve children in the writing process, as well as encouraging them to understand and be thoughtful of others. At first, children can draw a picture and dictate a short message. Later they can write their own names and gradually add other words and short statements. In this manner, children are encouraged to use writing as a form of communications.

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry L. Wilson

The following information was furnished by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

ILLEGAL SHOCKING DEVICES HURTING FLATHEAD CATFISH

AUSTIN-The increasing use of electronic shocking devices by poachers is causing headaches for state game wardens and threatening flathead catfish populations in Texas rivers.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said the compact electronic devices are cheap to construct and easy to conceal. "We're finding increasing evidence that shocking devices are being used, and we are stepping up our efforts to stop the activity," said Maj. David Palmer, director of field operations for the TPWD's Law Enforcement Division.

Palmer said electroshocking is especially effective in flathead (yellow or Opelousas) catfish that are often found in shallow, slow-moving rivers.

An example of the problem occurred recently on the Sabine River in East Texas. Game warden William B. Decker was on routine patrol in Panola County when he saw two partially-concealed vehicles with boat trailers near the river. Decker waiting, and soon four men returned in two flatbottom boats.

The investigation revealed three electronic shocking devices and 98 catfish. A total of 93 of the fish were flatheads, Decker said, with the remainder being blues and channels.

The four suspects entered guilty pleas before a justice of the peace for taking fish with illegal means. Each man was assessed a fine of $500 plus court costs of $30.50 on each charge, for a total of $10,610 plus possible further civil restitution fees. The two suspects in a West Texas case were arrested after being caught on the Colorado River with 26 flathead catfish which was 16 fish over the possession limit for that species.

The pair were assessed fines total $3,743 on charges of exceeding the daily bag limit on flathead catfish, and one of the men also had no fishing license.

The difficulty of detecting the use of shocking devices makes it even more important for fishermen and others on the water to report suspected shocking activity. Such incidents can be reported to the department's toll-free Operation Game Thief number, 1-800-792-GAME, 24 hours a day. If the information provided leads to arrest and conviction of a game or fish law violator, the caller becomes eligible for a cash reward. Callers may remain anonymous.

4-H Youth Leadership Conference Is Success

The 1988 4-H Youth Leadership Conference was a big success with participants from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and Rising Star taking part in the sessions.

Around 30 people attended trainings on Family Communications, Dealing with stress and peer pressure, update of the drug scene, and others. The highlight of the evening was a panel of reformed substance abusers answering questions about their involvement with drug abuse. They took questions from the audience and were very candid and open with their discussions.

Participants came away from the conference with new ideas and means of communicating with family members, how to effectively deal with stress and pressures and an awareness of what drug use can do to your life.

This program was developed by the 4-H and Youth Program Development Committee, a part of the Eastland County Extension Service. Sponsors for the evening included Eastland National Bank, First State Bank, Eastland; Eastland Production Credit Association; First National Bank, Cisco; and Moylan Construction.

CHS Student Advances In Contest

Kari Schuyler has proven that speaking up and saying what she thinks poses no problems for her. Kari, a junior at Cisco High placed second at the District contest and advanced to place sixth in the Area IV contest in Extemporaneous Speaking. Extemporaneous Speaking is a public speech over one of three Agricultural topics. The contestants are given 30 minutes to prepare a four to six minute speech from various sources. After the speech is delivered there is a five minute period for the judges to ask questions about the speech. Kari said there was a lot of competition at the area contest. "Next year my goal is going to Nationals because it will be my last year and I want to leave a legend in this school and something for future Extemporaneous Speakers to look forward to," said Kari.

Fruit Fundraiser

Well, it's that time again. Time for the holidays, food, and lots of fruit. What better way to buy fruit than buying it from your local FFA members.

This is one of two fund raisers that the Cisco FFA members conduct during the year to raise money for the members to attend and participate in judging, and other FFA activities and events.

The fruit will be sold until December 1. If anyone is interested in buying a box or boxes of fruit, they may contact any FFA member or Mr. Jimmie Cearley or Mr. Jim Bob Webb.

The assorted boxes of fruit consist of apples, oranges, grapefruits, or a combination of the three. Prices range from $8 to $13.

Enjoy the holidays with some delicious fruit, and at the same time, support your local FFA Chapter and help them to raise money for their activities to represent Cisco in FFA contests.

DONATIONS FOR JUNIOR HIGH CHRISTMAS PARTY NEEDED

On Saturday, Nov. 19, from 9 a.m. until noon the 7th and 8th grade classes sponsored a "Bakeless" bake sale at Thrift Mart. A booth was set up to collect contribution for the Junior High Christmas party which will be held at the Cisco Country Club on Friday, Dec. 16.

Those unable to attend the sale may still contribute by calling Louanne Gerhardt at 442-3042 or Mr. Puryear at the Junior High School.

JUNIOR HIGH PARENTS URGED TO ATTEND PTO MEETINGS

The current PTO by-laws state one of the purposes of the Parent-Teacher Organization is: To bring about better understanding between parents and teachers by inspiring interests in the activities of the Elementary and Junior High Schools in Cisco (Article II Section 2).

Many junior high parents think of PTO as being involved in the Elementary School only so they do not take part in the activities of the PTO. They do not realize as PTO members they are allowed to participate and vote in all of the general meetings. This does include voting on how the funds are spent. The 7th and 8th grade classes need more parents to represent them in these meetings so please make plans to attend as many as possible. Our support does make a difference!

Thanksgiving Blessings

The pilgrims were the first people to start a great tradition known as Thanksgiving. In 1621, a "Day of Giving Thanks" was predicted for the Massachusetts Bay Colony by Governor Bradford. The settlers and Indians had a rich and elaborate meal of maize, deer meat, and wild turkey. They were the first to celebrate the first Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving is also a special day for giving thanks for what we have. Many people may celebrate Thanksgiving differently from others; they have their own special traditions. People also share common blessings but in many different ways.

Thanksgiving is more meaningful than any other holiday. A few of the important blessing people are thankful for are family, clothing, shelter, food and many others. The tradition of Thanksgiving has carried on for many years and will continue to help us reflect on our blessings and to enjoy them each and every day for the rest of the year.

Grayford Tournament

According to Coach Summers and Coach Parnell, they are both pleased with their basketball teams. In the Grayford Tournament, both Lobos and Lady Lobos lost their games with Grayford and Ranger, but won their games with Gordon.

According to the coaches, the Lobos knew they were going to have a tough time with the two teams which beat them. Coach Parnell said that they just didn't have enough time to get ready for these matches; however, both coaches agree that the season looks bright for the Lobos.

Teacher Feature

This week's featured teacher is Coach Charles Parnell. Coach Parnell is a graduate of Stephenville High School where he participated in band, basketball and baseball. He then attended Tarleton State University where he majored in Physical Education. He has been teaching for 16 years and his classes this year include Health. Coach Parnell is a new addition to the faculty this year, and when asked what his impression of CHS was he replied, "The young people are enthusiastic, respectful, and co-operative. It's a friendly place to be." In his spare time he enjoys fishing and tinkering with cars.

Indians Selling Blankets To Raise Money

The Indians at Tuscarora Indian Tribe are appealing to the general public for assistance. The Tribe at Drowning Creek Reservation are in dire straits, with little money for food, clothing and other necessities. Chief Wise Owl who heads the Tribe and double as their Medicine Man is making an urgent request for help.

The Drowning Creek Reservation residents get no public assistance, either state or federal. To eke out a bare existence, the Indians make authentic design blankets. Each is 72x90" and comes in a choice of blue or brown. Similar blankets sell for $150 but to raise much needed funds, the Tribe is selling the blankets for $39 postpaid.

Many persons are sending for blankets because they truly appreciate the loyalty of the American Indian, who have always worked hard against tremendous odds. Blankets may be ordered directly from Chief Wise Owl, Tuscarora Indian Tribe, Drowning Creek Reservation, Route 2, Box 108, Maxton, NC 28364. Each blanket will be blessed in the Indian tradition. However, if there is a special prayer that you would like Chief Wise Owl to recite over the blanket, the request will gladly be met.

HOW TO GET A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

By Angel M. Echevarria

Sleep restores energy to the body, particularly to the brain and nervous system, scientists say. Without enough sleep, a person can become irritable, clumsy, even hallucinate. Here are a few hints to help you get the sleep you need:

1. Don't worry. Often, just thinking about how much you're NOT sleeping is a major part of the cause. Try to relax for a while. It may make all the difference.
2. Cool it. A too-warm room may put the damper on your dreaming. Keep the temperature a little lower than you do for daytime.
3. What color are your walls? A bedroom decorated in a restful hue such as blue may be more sleep-inducing than one done in an exciting shade of red.
4. The modern mattress. A survey of the American mattress market reveals one out of six beds sold in the U.S.

Getting a good night's sleep needn't be just a dream.

today are water mattresses. According to scientists, ordinary innerspring bedding can have pressure points that contribute to sleeplessness. These hard spots can cause a sleeper to toss and turn as much as 80 times a night. Many people prefer hybrid water mattresses such as Sonoma. These contain water-filled vinyl cylinders placed side-by-side in a foam shell under a two-inch insulated quilted mattress top for even support. Available at local bedding stores, they use standard fitted sheets, are waveless and need neither heaters nor special support. 5. Nix that nightcap. Too much alcohol before bedtime can actually interfere with sleep. So can too much coffee, tea, chocolate or even sugar. Try a glass of warm milk if you must imbibe something before bedtime. Heeding these hints may help you sleep like a dream. • Mr. Echevarria is chief executive officer, founder and president of the Sonoma Mattress Company.

CLIFFORD BURAL

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT OUR "NO-PAYMENT" PRE-PLAN PROGRAM?

Did you know you can pre-plan funeral services at no charge? You can. It will cost you nothing at all to make your wishes known as to your choice of service, casket, music, specific readings from Scripture - even arrange for your favorite flowers and your clergyman. And these arrangements-in-advance can be made without cost or obligation.

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT: First, come in and complete our Pre-Planning Form with our help. The form covers all the above-mentioned choices and many others. Second, you will receive copies of the form for safekeeping with your lawyer, accountant, designated estate administrator or family member. Third, a copy remains with us which you may review from time-to-time and update as you require.

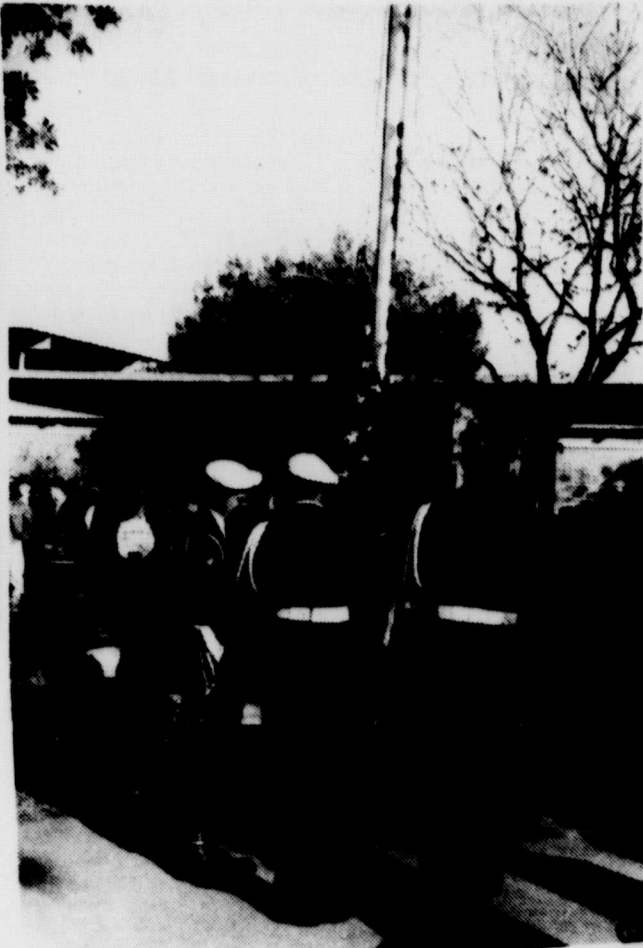

PRE-PAYMENT OPTIONS:

Several pre-payment plans are available, too, if you choose to pay in advance. But pre-planning does not necessarily mean pre-payment. Stop by for full details.

Thank You To Community From Hilton Board Of Directors

The Conrad N. Hilton Memorial Park and Community Center Board of Directors wants to thank area arts and crafts people who took part in helping make the Christmas Market a success, and to those community members who attended to enjoy and support the event.

Board members have been very pleased to have heard many enthusiastic and favorable comments about the Market and will be considering sponsoring the event annually.

Those people helpful in making the event happen, and run smoothly, include the Cisco Chamber of Commerce staff, First National Bank, Dr. Cermin's office staff, The Cisco Press staff, Evelyn Valek of the Abilene Reporter News, Louise Cooper, and Lisa Moore of Cisco; and Dollie Miller and Dorothy Tollefson of Moran.

All monies earned by the event will be used to help maintain and operate the Community Center.

Third Annual Flag Day Termed Success At CHS

but he kept trying and finally came up with the electric light bulb.

Criswell was a Japanese prisoner of war during World War II. He said he had 8 ribs cracked and broken the day before Christmas while in prison, while laying in the prison hospital he felt something crawling on his right side and then a little bit later he felt crawling on his left. It was body lice, trying to find a warm body.

He said, "At that time I discovered that when you need help from others, that you need to help yourself first."

He saw a fellow prisoner who had given up on life. He slapped the other man twice real hard and it made the man mad enough to fight and gave him a will to live.

When they were rescued the prisoners made a flag and when it was raised they sang America. It was a very touching moment. Especially since when the Japanese captured them, the American flag was burned. Criswell said he cried at that moment.

John Clinton gave the opening prayer, Bruce Stovall welcomed everyone to the ceremony. Claude Jessup led the group in the pledge of allegiance.

The sixth grade choir sang songs and their choir teacher, Cindi Barr Jobe, sang "God Bless the USA".

Jack Martin, high school principal, introduced the speakers.

Cisco High School band students who played solos during the program were Stephanie Kimbrough, Lela Beckett, Kammie Jessup, Shilo Denison, Kari Hull and Tracy Deadman on the trumpet. Cheryl Dowdy and Curtis Lacy on the trombone and Steve Summers on the snare drum.

Ronnie Shackelford gave the closing prayer.

Christmas Carol At Majestic

Texas Tech University Theatre will tour Scrooge, the musical version of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," to the cities of Anson (Nov. 28), Eastland (Nov. 29), Sweetwater (Dec. 1), and Colorado City (Dec. 2 and 3) for the holiday season. This tour will mark the first time the University Theatre has taken its annual Christmas show on the road.

Scrooge, based upon the novel "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, tells the classic tale of the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge and the Christmas Ghosts who force him to examine his life and mend his ways.

The show will be directed by Dr. Mary Anne Mitchell. Tech professors Sally Askins and Frederick B. Christoffel will design costumes and sets for the production. The 18 member company is composed of Theatre Arts graduate and undergraduate students.

Tech Theatre Department Chairman Richard Weaver feels the tour benefits the communities in West Texas.

Child Pornography

child abuse. Certainly child molestation cannot be considered just something that happens somewhere else when we consider that Eastland County had over forty cases investigated last year.

The board thanks those businesses who responded to their letter and survey and would like to commend those businesses that do NOT allow pornography to be a part of their livelihood. In order that these businesses be recognized, the Eastland County Child Services Board is sending "Anti-Porn" signs to these businesses for display in their windows. If your business would like to receive one of these signs, one will be sent to you by contacting Dale Squires at Eastland Drug (629-1791).

Finally, in light of the tragedies that have occurred in area communities (Stamford and Merkel), the Child Protective Service Board would again like to make one final plea to those businesses that responded that they would not remove their pornographic material. For kids sake...we hope you make the right decision.

Annual County Pecan Show To Be Held At Courthouse Nov. 29 & 30

The Eastland Chamber of Commerce and the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association invites everyone to the 36th Annual County Pecan Show, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 29th and 30th. Visitors will see some of the best pecans in the state, as well as, pecan baked goods on Tuesday. The show is sponsored by both organizations to educate growers and consumers and to promote one of the counties important crops.

Pecan entries are due to be entered by 4:00 p.m. Monday, November 28th, in the County Extension Office, Chamber of Commerce members and growers will weigh and shell samples from each entry on Tuesday morning. The pecans will be judged Tuesday afternoon and will be on display until 3:00 p.m. Wednesday. Pecan entries not winning first place will be sold following the show. Shelled kernels will also be sold says, County Extension Agent, DeMarquis Gordon.

The pecan show will include a bake show featuring delicious pecan pies, cakes, candy, nutbread and cookies on Tuesday. There will also be a pecan centerpiece division. Plaques will be given for the three champion entries and rosettes to the reserve champion entries. Ribbons will be awarded to the first three place entries of each variety. In addition, ribbons will be given for the largest pecans and for the smallest pecans. Entries are to be brought to the County Extension Agent's office in the basement of the courthouse. Information on the sack should include name, address, and variety of pecan entry.

Charles Walker, president of the Pecan Growers Association says, the pecan crop is better than last years. Pecan size may be smaller due to the drought, but quality should be good.

The first place entries in each pecan class will go to the regional pecan show next week for competition.

Gordon says, one change in this year's pecan show will be in method of judging. The judges will grade and judge pecans as if they were "for sale". Kernel color will be recorded and damaged kernels will not be weighed in the sample.

Natalie Stevens introduces the guest speakers at the Celebrate Texas Youth Forum held Saturday, November 19th at Camp Inspiration in Eastland.

The Next Best Thing -

.....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

The Family of John Webb

Thank you dear friends who offered your cars and your time while our car was being repaired. It's been a long wait but it is so wonderful to know that you have so many who are willing to help. A special thanks to Adele Whitten, Mary Rogers, Margaret DeFord, Even Mitchell, Vee Gee Insoor, Shirley Thompson, Lucille Sims and Ruth Smith, for taking us where we needed to go. We could not have made it without the help of Mike Perry. God bless you Mike and Sally. We were really in good hands. You both went beyond the call of duty to take care of our needs. Last but not least, thanks to David Coxsey for making our car look as good as new. God bless you all.

Six Flags Holiday In the Park Gets New Shows And More Rides

An all new show lineup and additional rides will be featured in Six Flags Over Texas' traditional Christmas spectacular, "Holiday In The Park," when it begins its fourth season the day after Thanksgiving.

The event's ice show, which was introduced last year, will be bigger and more elaborate than the initial production. The 1987 show was designed for a theater seating less than 1,500 guests. The 1988 version is tailored to fit the 10,000 seat Music Mill Amphitheater.

A new full scale musical production filled with holiday songs and dance will also debut in the Southern Palace Music Hall. A totally new show will also be presented in the Crazy Horse Saloon, and a laser show with a holiday theme is slated for the Cinema 180 Theater.

Bugs Bunny, Sylvester, Daffy Duck, Foghorn Leghorn and other Warner Bros. cartoon stars will appear in a nightly parade through the park and in a special Christmas show for children in the Good Time Theatre.

Though most of the theme park's rides are silent during Holiday In The Park, two are being added to this season's lineup. The park's recently restored antique carousel will carry holiday funseekers and the Spelunkers Cave ride will be specially decorated for the holidays.

Rides and activities for small children will be found in Looney Tunes Land.

Other rides which will be open include the Six Flags Railroad with its antique steam engines, the Avalanche Bobsled and a sledding hill with a thick blanket of man-made snow.

For an extra fee, visitors may ride in open carriages pulled by prancing horses in jingling harness.

More than a half-million twinkling lights will be used in lavish holiday decorations including the traditional 200 foot tall Christmas tree created by 7,500 brilliant red lights strung from the top of the park's parachute ride. Carolers and strolling bands will entertain in the streets outside shops featuring foods of the season and gift selections.

Holiday In The Park will begin the evening after Thanksgiving and will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights until midnight operation begins December 16. With the expectations of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, the event will be staged from 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. each evening through December 31. On the final night a special New Year's Eve fireworks spectacular will light the skies at 10 p.m.

Admission is $6.95, plus tax. Six Flags season passes will be honored. Children age two and under are admitted free. Parking is also free.

November Is National Diabetes Month

In 1987, some 2,127 of the more than 400,000 Texans known to have diabetes died from the disease or its complications. Another 400,000 Texans may have diabetes and not yet know it. To help prevent death and illness from diabetes this year, the Texas Department of Health has urged the public to become more aware of the importance of proper health care for diabetics.

The President has proclaimed November National Diabetes Month. Nationally there are nearly 6 million persons diagnosed as having diabetes and an estimated 5 million more may unknowingly have the disease, according to TDH.

Diabetes is a group of disorders characterized by unusually high levels of sugar in the blood, caused by the body's inability to make or use the hormone insulin. Some people with Type I, or insulin dependent, diabetes require daily insulin injections to control their blood sugar levels. Most people with diabetes however, have non-insulin dependent, or Type II, diabetes which often can be controlled by a combination of dietary therapy and regular exercise. Type II patients may also take oral medications to stimulate their insulin production.

In either type of diabetes, dietary management is crucial to controlling blood sugar levels. Diabetes therapy is intended to strike a balance between the effects (on blood sugar levels) of food intake, physical activity, and medication. Each person with diabetes should have a prescribed nutrition plan, designed to meet that individual's specific needs.

In most cases, by following the doctor's treatment plan the patient can lead an otherwise active, "normal" life. Failure to do so can lead to kidney failure, blindness, heart disease, amputations—even death.

People with a family history of diabetes who also are 40 or older, and who may be overweight, are especially at risk of having diabetes. Also, for reasons not fully understood, American Indians and Mexican-Americans are more likely than others in the U.S. to develop diabetes.

Studies in Starr County, Laredo and San Antonio indicate the occurrence of diabetes among Mexican-Americans 35 and older may be more than five times as likely as among the general population. Blacks also have higher rates of diabetes than whites and the general population.

Mortality rates from diabetes in all ethnic groups increase dramatically among those 45 and older. But diabetes is by no means a disease restricted to adults. Diabetes is second only to cancer among leading chronic illnesses of children under 16.

Cigarette Smoking Costs Texans More than $3 Billion Yearly

The updated figures are in. It's one of those stories nobody wants to talk about over the breakfast table. It's about death and dying; what smoking costs us Texans in a year's time.

Smoking costs Texas — its citizens and taxpayers — an estimated $3.3 billion per year, says Ron Todd, coordinator of the Office of Smoking and Health at the Texas Health Department.

That's $1,036 for every smoker age 18 or over.

It's $198 per year for every man, woman and child in the Lone Star State. For every pack of cigarettes sold, Texas taxpayers pay a $1.79 bounty in health care costs and lost productivity due to illnesses caused by cigarette smoking.

And this is only cigarettes. It does not include medical costs related to cigars, pipes, or smokeless tobacco," said Todd, who recently completed a statistical analysis, "Annual Cost of Cigarette Smoking in Texas" funded by the Texas Cancer Council.

Cigarette smoking kills Texans at the rate of 16,697 per year, according to the report. That's something equivalent to eradicating the population of four towns about the size of Bastrop.

One of the four federally required warnings on the side of your favorite brand of cigarettes states that "smoking causes lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema, and may complicate pregnancy." What it does not tell you is that it causes 30 percent of all deaths from heart disease, the leading killer in both the state and the nation.

Cancer, "the big C" as John Wayne called it, and smoking are not strangers. One-third of all cancer deaths in the nation are caused by cigarette smoking, including 85 percent of all lung cancer deaths, the leading cancer killer of both men and women.

A traditional argument is that while smoking may be a bad habit, it produces tax revenue. But it doesn't bring in enough. The costs associated for medical treatment and lost time is more than six times greater than the revenue generated by cigarette sales.

The Texas costs attributable to deaths, lost productivity, and medical treatment were analyzed in three broad categories, explained Todd.

"Direct health care costs" include $1,618,085,731 spent per year for prevention, diagnosis and treatment of smoking-related diseases and medical conditions.

"Indirect mortality costs" now add up to $1,079,162,215 yearly. This is an estimate of how much income and productivity is lost when individuals die prematurely from smoking-related illnesses.

"Indirect morbidity costs" include $616,978,157 in lost income and productivity when individuals are disabled by smoking-disease or injury.

The three categories total $3,314,226,103 per year in costs attributable to cigarette smoking in Texas, Todd said.

Copies of the report — or other information on smoking cessation programs, smoking ordinances, worksite programs, current research, smoking and pregnancy are available by calling a toll-free number 1-800-345-8647.

Overcrowded Prisons

State and federal prison populations are now growing at a rate that requires the addition of 900 new beds each week. A report just issued by the Bureau of Justice Statistics reveals that as of June 30, the federal system had 49,158 inmates and the states a record 555,666. In 1980, there were 139 prisoners serving sentences of more than a year for every 100,000 Americans. Now there are 237. Prison overcrowding has reached a crisis level and is a major

Holiday Fires Belong In The Fireplace --

Displays in department store windows are the first sure sign that the holiday season is approaching. Soon, Christmas trees and decorations will be appearing in homes, and houses will be strung with colorful lights. While you are decorating your home, remember that festive decorations can be hazardous. Texas Safety Association warns that more residential fires occur during the holiday season than at any other time of the year. The following safety tips can help keep your holidays safer, healthier, and happier.

- If you buy a real Christmas tree, look for a fresh one with a strong pine scent and flexible branches. A tree can be a real fire hazard, especially if it has been allowed to dry out. Bounce the tree on the ground two or three times--if more than a few needles fall, it is too dry.
- Before you set up your tree, cut about two inches from the end of the trunk, place the tree in water, and stand it in a cool place. When you are ready to set it up, choose a location away from heat sources (fireplaces, heaters), and out of the normal foot traffic areas. Use a strong, water holding tree stand and check the water supply each day.
- Try to place your tree near an electrical outlet--avoid us-problem, not only for the criminal justice system but for all of society. It is not only extremely expensive, but probably politically impossible to build prisons fast enough to accommodate the overload. Alternatives must be found, and a variety of them are being explored in pilot projects around the country. The objective is to develop community-based corrections that will be cost-effective, protect the community and still be ing extension cords if possible. Use lights and electric cords that have the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) mark. Inspect them for bare wires, loose connections, broken sockets, and dead bulbs.

- When decorating, use a sturdy stepladder. Don't hang breakable ornaments on lower branches where children or pets might pull them off.
- Always unplug your lights before going to bed or leaving the house.
- Keep decorative seasonal candles away from flammable materials, and out of reach of children. Don't place Christmas greenery on mantels over working fireplaces, and avoid hanging stockings too close to a fire.
- Avoid burning wrapping paper in your fireplace--some gift wraps contain materials that are toxic when burned.
- Keep a fire extinguisher in an easily reached place.
- Make sure that you have smoke alarms, and that they are in good working order.
- Keep plants such as poinsettia, mistletoe, holly, Jerusalem cherry, and amaryllis away from children. These plants are poisonous if eaten. If you think your child has eaten one, call your local poison control center immediately and follow the instructions.

understood as punishment. In the federal system, the Bureau of Prisons, the Probation System, and the parole Commission have cooperated in testing a number of programs that are either alternatives to prison or supplements to reduced periods of incarceration. Here are some that have proved effective:

Reparative Work Projects: Inmates have their parole dates advanced by up to 60 days if they volunteer to work 400 hours for public or non-profit agencies such as the Salvation Army or Goodwill Industries.

Special Curfew Parole: Inmates are released early not to halfway houses that $30 a day, but their own homes under condition that they observe a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew costing far less to supervise.

Electronic Monitoring: Parolees agree to wear or carry devices that enable parole authorities to monitor their whereabouts during certain hours. This costs only about $5 a day.

Intensive Supervision: High-risk parolees are monitored by a team of specialists providing many more personal contacts and home visits. Caseloads are greatly reduced.

All the programs listed above are useful even for men and women who do go to prison. But in selected cases they can be used as alternatives to penal institutions. It will cost money to hire and train enough probation and parole officers to make these programs work, but not nearly as much as it would cost not to try.

Bringing The World's Children Together

The kids at the home for boys in La Paz, Bolivia, think their new kitchen is just great. They've got enough dishes for everybody and there's even a new stove.

Work and play seem to go a lot better at the home now. And it's mainly because the boys are getting regular, nutritious meals for the first time in their lives.

The boys thanked the carpenter who rebuilt the kitchen. They thanked the delivery people who brought the stove. Then they sat down and composed a note of thanks to the people who made all the changes possible. A group of kids in the United States who belong to an association of children helping children called "HCA."

Lending a hand is nothing new to HCA members. Founded as the Holy Childhood Association, this organization of "Young Catholics in Mission" has been bringing the world's children together for almost 150 years.

Through HCA, children in elementary schools and religious education classes are learning about children who live in countries all over the world. They raise funds for children's projects all over the world, too. In the past year, children in Bolivia and more than one hundred other countries received assistance from their world neighbors—kids who call themselves "HCA."

The children of HCA are making this world a better place in which to live. If you would like to know more about this extraordinary group of children helping children, write to Father Francis W. Wright, C.S.S., HCA Young Catholics in Mission, 1720 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20036.

Your youngsters are likely to love this luscious pie—even though it's packed with protein.

If the word dessert conjures up "visions of sugarplums" and other not-so-good-for-you sugary treats, then it's time to develop a new image of the role dessert can play in your family's diet.

Desserts can—and should—be nutritious as well as delicious. One that definitely scores high on both counts is Pumpkin Cheesecake Pie. This dessert is made with cream cheese, pumpkin, eggs and milk—all good sources of nutrition. The confection is especially nutritious when it's made with PET evaporated milk, which has Vitamin D added and only 170 calories per 12 oz. can.

According to a recent test at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Vitamin C lessens cold symptoms. Participants took 2,000 mg. daily.

Some hospitals now offer "disposable" phones for patients to cut down on infections from hospital germs. Phones are cheap and sanitized; patients can take them home or toss 'em.

Wrinkles disappeared with the use of Alpha Hydroxy Acid (AHA) solution, designed for severely dry skin, according to a report from Temple University School of Medicine. Research also found that AHA does not make the skin more sensitive to sun.

At Kaiser Permanente Medical Center in Los Angeles, researchers are taking photographs — called cervigrams — of the cervix; they find it more accurate than the Pap smear for early detection of pre-cancerous changes.

RANGER
The 47 and 1920 Club will sponsor the third Christmas Musical program presented by the Ranger Junior College Choir, under the direction of Bob Johnson. This will be Monday, Dec. 5 at 7 p.m. in the Gholson Lobby. The public is invited to come out for an evening of inspiring music.

Dee Hogan, Sheriff-elect of Eastland County, spoke to the 47 Club recently in Ranger. President Clara Mathews opened the meeting by welcoming and introducing Hogan. He then presented the major goals he would strive to achieve as new Sheriff. These included a dedication to responding to needs and calls of the public, with a goal of 20 min. response time anywhere in the county. The Sheriff-elect also listed plans for new policies and procedures for the jail, including possible plans for a female supervisor. He said he wanted a good organizational atmosphere for the Sheriff's Department, and good communication with the public. Special plans are being made to combat crime and deter criminal activity.

A number of Ranger people are the happy winners of 10 free Thanksgiving turkeys. Bob's K&M, located on Highway 80, held a drawing for the turkeys on Saturday, Nov. 19. The winners were Francis Henson/Betty Criswell, Mary Blakney, Johnnie Jackson, Tino Tirajero, Amy Walker, Marie Perrin, G.A. Townsend, Carolyn Harvey, Charlene Casey and Willie Joyner. The turkeys were picked up at Adam's Grocery.

The Ranger Band will soon have new uniforms to replace the seven-year-old ones band members have been wearing. The Band Director will bring in bids for new uniforms to the next school board meeting. The Band Boosters have agreed to pay $5,000 toward the new ones.

EASTLAND
Tickets for the Treasure Hunt are now available in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce office on the east side of the Square. Please ask for only one ticket for each member of your family. After the Christmas lighting at the Courthouse on Thursday, Dec. 8 at 7 p.m., participating merchants will post cards in their windows (or inside their stores if they are open) saying "Treasure Hunt Gift", and there will be a number. If one of the numbers matches your ticket, you win the gift in that store. Some of the businesses will stay open until nine that night, but you may also check the numbers and claim a gift on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9-10. The merchants have many beautiful gifts, and the public is invited to join this fun.

Eastland has a new Dentist - Cone C. Rice, D.D.S. He has opened his family, cosmetic and general dentistry office in the Shady Oaks Shopping Center, 963 East Main. A native of Tyler, Dr. Rice graduated from Texas Tech U. and the Baylor College of Dentistry in Dallas. On Oct. 1 he married a fellow student, Mary Ann, a dental hygienist, who will also work with him in his office. The idea of being a Dentist had long appealed to 28-year-old Dr. Rice, who also wanted to live in a smaller town. So, liking the climate and location, he chose Eastland.

Joe Herring, FIC Field Representative of Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, has been cited for outstanding life insurance service. As a Fraternal Insurance Counselor, Herring was required to complete an extensive basic and advanced training course, pass three examinations, and meet established production requirements. He has been a representative in this area since 1985.

Cisco High School Exes are sponsoring a Lobo Mascot for the High School. Sculptor Dale Stewart has been commissioned to create a life-size bronze of the Lobo, which will represent the football team, all students and all organizations. The placement committee will choose a permanent site for the sculpture. It was suggested that a feasible place on the campus, not the football field, be selected. Officers of the Exes group are Gene Kinser, President; Danny Schaefer, Vice President; Audye Wagley, Secretary; Lela Latch Lloyd, Publicity; and Wanda Hallmark, Reporter. At a meeting of the group, Sculptor Stewart explained his plans for the work, the finish, the time needed, and the cost. The bronze Lobo will be mounted on a wide stone base and unveiled at the all-out Cisco High School Reunion in 1990.

The Board of Directors of the Cisco Hospital District has announced a town meeting to discuss the future of E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 6 at Cisco High School Auditorium. The meeting is designed to address the problems of the hospital and hopefully develop a plan for the hospital's future. While the hospital is tax supported, this does not guarantee that it can remain open. The Cisco Hospital Tax District lost nearly seven percent of its tax base last year, due to devaluation of property. The hospital is rapidly depleting its reserves, and desires to inform the Cisco hospital tax payers of the options available.

R.H. "Tex" Williams, Director of the World Bible School, will be the featured speaker for the special four-day series of meetings at the Cisco Church of Christ. These will begin Sunday, Nov. 27, and conclude Wednesday, Nov. 30. Sunday's service will be at 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Williams will also speak at the 9:30 Bible Class hour Sunday. On Monday through Wednesday, half-hour sessions will be held at 7 a.m., with evening meetings at 7 p.m. During the morning lessons Williams will tell of the work of the World Bible School, and the evening services will be on the general theme of world evangelism. Elders of the Cisco Church of Christ invite all interested persons of the area to attend this outstanding series.

The Cisco Baptist Association will have their Monthly Rally on Monday, Nov. 28 at the First Baptist Church in Gorman. Supper will be served by the host church at 6:30 p.m., and the rally will start at 7:15 p.m. The program will be on church Training, with the theme message by Ron Carroll of Gorman. "Back to Basics" is the theme for the Rally. The public is invited to come and hear Ron Carroll's ideas on how to get "Back to Basics."

Tax payers have received a questionnaire from Marvin Cole, administrator from E.L. Graham hospital, asking everyone to fill the form out and bring it to the Town Hall meeting to be held December 6, in the high school auditorium.

The Cisco hospital could possibly shut down due to lack of money the same way other small town hospitals have done.

There was a recent meeting held to see if the Eastland, Ranger and Cisco hospital could work together to stay afloat, but problems could not be worked out. So it's going to be up to the citizens of Cisco to fight to keep the hospital here.

Mr. Cole said a hospital is necessary to bring industry in. So everyone is going to have to help support the hospital. He said he wants to know what the true feelings of the people here to find out why the hospital is not used. Be sure and attend the meeting and let's help keep our hospital.

Lloyd Swindle brought his 16-month old grandson by The Press Friday morning to show him off. His name is Carson and he is a fine looking youngster. Mr. Swindle said he spoils his grandson, but Carson was a very well behaved little boy.

This Sunday will be college day at the First United Methodist Church. College students from the church will assist in leading worship. A special offering will be taken up for scholarships for United Methodist Students.

We received a call last week wanting to know if we could draw a name for the winner of a mini-car that Speegle Service Station was giving away, since we were not affiliated with the business. And of course, we said yes.

When I drew the name out, it was Robert Douglas, uncle of the owner, Bruce Speegle. There were plenty of other names in the box and I reached down deep to get the name out. But, Mr. Speegle said it might look a little suspicious and he was a little nervous about it.

I think it's kind of funny. But, in a town the size of Cisco, it seems as though everyone is related to everyone else in one way or another. Congratulations goes to Mr. Douglas who won the car very honestly.

The top winners in the 100% School Attendance contest held in October for Cisco High School were announced recently. Their names and prizes are as follows:

Harvey Perkins, $100.00 winner.
Michael Gosnell, $50.00 winner.

Wranglers Top Angelo State JV's; Play At Home Wednesday

The Cisco Junior College Wrangler Men hit on 61 percent of their field goal attempts and 92 percent from the free throw line enroute to an easy 97-43 win over Angelo State's Junior Varsity in San Angelo Tuesday night. It was their second win in as many nights, after defeating Howard College at home on Monday.

The Wranglers continued their balanced scoring attack against the Rams, with five players scoring in double figures. Eric Brown and Mark Chambers led the attack with 19 each, while Ronald Ateman, Lewis Hicks, and Tyrone Williams added 18, 17, and 15 respectively. Chambers was once again the rebounding leader with ten, while Adrian Hill, a 5-7 freshman guard from Richmond, Va., led in assists with five.

Cisco jumped out to an early lead, and went in at intermission leading 45-32. They had trouble with turnovers during the second half, and were unable to increase their margin. However, all squad members saw lots of action during the second half, and each one got into the scoring column.
