Cheaper Food Objective Of New Program

Senate Battle On Issue Looms; Top Leaders Divided

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The administration put in a bid today for housewife support of its new farm program, promising cheaper food.

But on Capitol Hill Rep. Pace (D-Ga), a top farm leader, declared the program gives no assurance that food prices will come down. Instead, he said, it might mean merely bigger profits for the middlemen who handle, process and sell the things people eat.

Look at wheat, Pace suggested; A big drop in the price paid the farmers hasn't lessened the price the housewife pays for bread.

Battle Shapes Up

A battle shaped up between backers of: (1) The present principle whereby the government takes over surpluses so farmers can get fair prices in the market places, and (2) the new proposal that would let many foods sell as low as the markets offer, with the government paying the difference between what the farmers sell for and what the government considers a fair price.

The support by government loans on surplus production is effective this year. Any new program will not take over until 1950.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan made the play for housewife backing of the new farm policy proposal in a speech before the economic action conference of the Cooperative League of the United States. He said:

To Be Buying Pork

1. He expects the government will be buying pork within 60 days to hold prices up, and he does not know where it can be stored

2. About $5,000,000 a week is being spent to take potatoes out of the market "so the price stays high," and it doesn't make sense to him—"the American people don't have to write their laws so that this kind of system is perpetuated."

3: It's becoming difficult to find a market in the armed services or in Europe for food stuffs bought under the present price support program.

"We will have spent $50,000,000 by the end of this year," he told the consumer group, "in maintaining a price (for eggs) of 35 cents a dozen to the farmer. If we don't

Czechs Arrest U. S. Citizen

PRAGUE, April 13 (U.P.) — An American woman has been arrested by Czech police for possible "political activities" and three other U. S. citizens have been expelled from the country on unspecified charges, embassy officials revealed today.

Miss Vlasta Adele Vraz of Berwyn, Ill., head of American relief for Czechoslovakia, was arrested in her office here at 1 p. m. last Saturday, officials said. An embassy representative who visited her in jail yesterday was told she was held for investigation of alleged political activities.

Others Are Identified

Officials identified the three ousted Americans as the Rev. Danile Feryance, a Baptist minister whose home address was unknown, his wife, and the Rev. J. J. Pavelda of Phoenix, Ariz., also a Baptist pastor.

The Feryances left March 15, informants said, after being given 60 days to get out of Czechoslovakia under laws authorizing the expulsion of foreigners who create economic instability or public disorder or endanger national security.

Pavelda's ouster was reported ordered in December.

Soldiers Arrested

Miss Vraz's home is at Berwyn, Ill. Embassy officials said American relief for Czechoslovakia is sponsered by the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign aid, New York City, and distributes food and clothing to Czech children.

Miss Vraz's arrest followed by less than three weeks the im-

Babich Lawyer To Probe Story

MILWAUKEE, April 13 (AP) — Counsel for Milton Babich, charged with first degree murder in the death of his bride's sister, planned to consult with the 19-year-old youth today about a story told police by a school chum of the slain Patricia Birmingham.

The story Carol Leszynski, 16, told police at Kenosha, Wis., yesterday caused attorney Arthur Richter to obtain a delay in a preliminary hearing for Babich. The state accuses Babich with shooting Patricia, 16, and throwing her weighted body in to the Milwaukee river last Feb. 10, five weeks before he eloped with her sister, Kathleen, then 17.

Babich has claimed the shooting was accidental—that he intended only to frighten Patricia so she would stop making remarks about Kathleen's pregnancy.

Girl Frightened

Lt. Max Kramer of the Kenosha police said Carol related that Patricia had told her, "Milton tried to get fresh with me" Carol did not elaborate on the nature of the incident, Kramer said. She appeared nervous and frightened, Kramer added.

Kramer said Carol told him: "I kind of blame myself for Pat's death. She told me Milton threatened her."

The girl then related Patricia had asked her advice on what to do about the incident, Kramer said, and Carol suggested she tell Kathleen. Carol was found at Kenosha yesterday, eight hours after she was reported missing from her home. She was taken back to Milwaukee and placed under the care of a physician.

32 Injured As Winds Explode Chain-Fashion

Property Damage High; Roofs Are Torn From Homes

(By The Associated Press)

MANCHESTER, Ga., April 13—Four persons were killed and 32 injured last night when powerful windstorms exploded chain-fashion across Georgia. Property damage was high.

Manchester, Zebulon and Griffin, in west central Georgia, were hit by tornadic winds. A pint-sized tornado cut through a rural area in Walker county in extreme northwest Georgia.

The Bethany community near McDonough, in central Georgia, was struck by strong winds a few hours later. Two negro children were killed and five other members of the same family injured when their house folded under the impact of the wind.

Man Is Crushed

The whirling winds first hit at Manchester at 6:30 p. m., (EST) then bouncejd northeastward and struck Zebulon and Griffin. Considerable property damage was reported at each storm area. No official estimate was available, but it was expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A negro was crushed to death at Manchester by a toppling freight car, and a companion was seriously injured. The Red Cross said 19 others were injured when the winds destroyed 12 negro homes and damaged 15 others.

Power lines were knocked down, trees snapped off and the walls of three main street business houses crumbled. City Manager William C. McLemore estimated Manchester damage at $100,000.

Canning Plant Destroyed

At Zebulon, a negro was killed and two persons injured. Several tenant houses were destroyed. A peach packing shed and a canning plant were demolished and the courthouse was damaged.

The storm then hopped 12 miles to Griffin, where five peresons were injured slightly and 20 to 25 homes damaged.

Factory Dismantling In West Germany Is Sharply Reduced

BOOK FATHER OF 'KIDNAPED' BOY—Joseph Goodman, who reported his five-year-old son, Joey had been kidnaped and released unharmed upon payment of $32,000 ransom, is booked in the police station in Beverly Hills, Calif., on suspicion of grand theft. Police Chief C. B. Anderson said Goodman's arrest in the theft of a $400 watch from Charlene Spatz, had no direct connection with the reported abduction. At right is Mrs. Mary Goodman, mother of the boy, who said she paid the ransom. See story on page 3, section 1.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13—The United States, Britain and France today announced a sharp cut in the number of factories to be removed from western Germany.

All or part of 159 plants are to be removed from the reparations list previously agreed upon .

A State department announcement said the amount of equipment formerly scheduled for removal but now to be left there varies among the 159 plants 'from a single piece of equipment in a plant to the entire equipment of an operating factory."

Output Ceiling Stays

"The equipment which will be retained in Germany is located in 32 plants in the steel industry, 88 metal working plants, 32 chemical plants and seven plants in the nonferrous metal industries," the announcement said.

Five of the steel industry plants, it was explained, produce crude steel and these will raise western Germany's steelmaking capacity by 165,000 tons a year. That will give western Germany a total capacity of about 13,465,000 tons annually.

The production ceiling of 11,100,000 tons a yea rremains.

Simultaneously with the State department announcement, the British and French foreign offices were due to release their own statements on the same agreement.

Three-Fold Objective

The announcements are the latest in a series of moves aimed at this three-fold objective:

1. To give Germany limited self-government.

2. To advance the conquered nation today economic self-sufficiency, and

3. To enable Germany to contribute more to the total recovery of Europe.

The cut in the German reparations list was made on the initiative of the United States as the result of a survey by a group of American industrialists.

The survey committee—set up by the Economic Cooeration administration — was headed by George M. Humphrey, president of the M. A. Hanna company of Cleveland.

This group originally selected 381 factories in Germany for detailed study and last January recommended that 167 of those plants be retained.

The recommendation was then negotiated by the State department with the British and French governments. A compromise agreement was finally confirmed here last week by Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schumann.

House Passes Bill On Vets Benefits

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — The House today overwhelmingly passed an emergency $595,890,000 bill to provide educational and unemployment benefits to veterans for the next three months. The measure now goes to the Senate.

President Truman asked for the extra money on Monday. He cited an increase in the number of jobless veterans since Janutry 1 and higher GI education and training costs due to bigger allowances voted by the last Congress.

DRIVER KILLED, TEXAN BURNED

Runaway Truck Hits 100 Miles An Hour

(By The United Press)

NEWHALL, Calif., April 13.—A runaway truck loaded with 4,000 gallons of gasoline roared five miles down one of California's main highways today, reaching a 100-mile-an-hour speed before it crashed and burned.

The driver, who stuck with the truck and tried desperately to stop it, was killed in the crash.

Another truck driver, Ralph Harris, 31, Houston, Texas, was burned and is not expected to live, and a highway patrolman was badly burned in rescuing him.

Brakes Burned Out

The brakes on the huge gasoline truck burned out at the top of a five-mile grade three miles north of Castaic, Calif., on the Ridge route, main highway between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Highway Patrolmen Ostes Largest and H. E. Dewitt said they passed the truck there and saw driver Nolie J. Glover, 43, Pomona, fighting the wheel and trying to run the truck into the bank.

"We stayed ahead of him and he kept gaining speed," Dewitt said. "When he hit 60 miles an hour we turned on the siren and cleared a path for him.

"We were going 90 miles an hour and the truck was gaining on us. It was doing over 100 miles an hour when it shot past us. That was about three-quarters of the way down the grade at a sharp curve.

Almost Made Turn

"Glover was still fighting to force the truck into the bank. He almost made the turn. But the truck shot up the bank, the trailer came off, turned over, broke open and spilled gasoline over the highway."

Glover was thrown 130 feet by the impact and killed instantly.

The patrolmen stopped trucks and cars ahead of the crash. As Harris, driver of one of the trucks stopped by officers, got out of his cab he was instantly enveloped by a flash of flame, which, Dewitt said, was 78 feet wide, 60 feet high and 520 feet long.

Largest was burned on the leg in rescuing Harris and smothering the flames with his own body.

Woman Claims Money Stolen

Burglary of the residence of Jackie Carroll, described on their reports as a negro woman, was complained of today to the police.

She said $3 was removed from her purse when she was asleep.

A negro man was questioned in connection with the case, but released without charge, detectives said.

Tools and other properties, valued at $35, were reported taken from N. N. Ligon of 1408 Ave. N.

Thief Sentenced

County officials said Raymond Salazar, 26, of Lubbock, pleaded guilty of the theft Nov. 1, 1948, of a $45 overcoat from Levine's and was sent to county jail for five days. A fine of $75 and court costs were assessed in a drunk driving action naming June Kimble Cannon, 42, of Lubbock.

Frank Smith Bennett, 19, of Lubbock was fined $100 and county court costs Tuesday when he pleaded guilty of carrying a pistol. Delmar Ford, an Amarillo negro, was fined $50 and costs and sent to county jail six months for theft by bailee, officials said.

A number of articles, including a flashlight, a pair of gloves, a windshield defroster and an altimeter, were taken from the parked car of M. C. Tims of 810 Ave. R Tuesday night while the vehicle was parked in 1500 block Texas avenue, police were told.

"Speech Should Go In Memory Books"

Mahon, "The Gentleman From Texas," Gets Praise Of GOP

By SARAH McCLENDON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 13. When Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City, completed his speech to the House Tuesday afternoon as the military appropriations bill was presented for consideration, two Republicans arose from the other side of the aisle and, in an amazing show of non-partisanship, praised Democrat Mahon for his work on the committee.

Rep. Dewey Short of Missouri, member of the House armed services committee and himself well versed in military problems, thanked Mahon "for his magnificent, comprehensive speech," which set forth the aims and purposes of the House appropriations sub-committee on the military establishment in reporting out the bill for national defense.

"I think this is a speech we should all put in our memery books," said Short. "I want to compliment the gentleman from Texas for the seriousness, the diligence which he applied to his work and for the thoroughness with which he has gone into the problem." Short was applauded by the whole House.

Mahon presented a $16,000,000,000 defense bill to the House with word that even this is too small "if war comes soon." He said it would take

Navy Backers Demanding A Larger Slice

$16 Billion Total Would Set Record During Peacetime

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13 — A fight over naval aviation swirled today in the House around a record peacetime $16,000,000,000 Army-Navy-Air Force bill.

Backers of a bigger naval aviation force want to add about $300,000,000 to the bill to give the Navy more wings.

They include such influential members as Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the armed services committee, and Reps. Sikes (D-Fla), Sheppard (D-Calif) and Short (R-Mo).

Support Is Claimed

In advance of a showdown vote late today, they claimed enough support to raise the Navy's share of the big bill to at least $5,318,873,600, or $300,000,000 more than the appropriations committee has approved.

The extra money, in the form of contract authorization, would permit the Navy to acquire 1,361 new planes during the next fiscal year beginning July 1 instead of the 843 provided by the committee, Vinson said.

While the appropriations committee made no cut in Budget Bureau estimates for naval aviation for the 12 months, Vinson told newsmen the effect of the committee action would be to have 5,053 Navy planes at the end of 1955 instead of 8,166 contemplated.

Cut Heart Of Navy

Rep. Short, top Republican member of the armed services committee, accused the appropriations group of having "cut the heart out of naval aviation."

There were no moves in sight to make other major alterations in the bill.

The bill came before the House with a statement from Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of a subcommittee that wrote it, that "if war comes soon" the $16,000,000,000 will be too little.

The appropriations committee said top military leaders believe that the year starting on July 1 will not see the United States at war.

The bill's actual total of $15,909, 116,800 includes $2,636,301,000 in contract authorization. The rest is cash.

Air Defense Sought

It is $52,980,100 in cash and $577,755,000 in contract authority more than President Truman requested, almost all the increase having been assigned to the Air Forces to build toward a 70-group air defense.

It provides for a military force of 4,753,100 officers and men, of whom 1,644,300 would be in regu-

Texas Claimed Facing Decline

DALLAS, April 13 (U.P.)—Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers warned today that Texas is "facing a definite economic decline."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Oak Cliff Lions club, the lieutenant governor suggested it was high time Texas change its practice of holding legislative sessions every two years.

No one, he said, can predict two years in advance.

"What I propose," he said, "is that our Texas government operate under the good business practice of appropriating funds only one year in advance instead of two years . . ."

Facing Decline

"I think," he added, "the legislature should appropriate funds now only for the fiscal year 1949-1950. Then next January, I think we should meet again in Austin and decide what funds will be needed for 1950-1951."

The state, he said, "is facing a definite economic decline, and I feel that we can better judge both the demands for appropriations and the need for additional taxes a year from now when we have learned the full import of this economic decline."

Automotive Industry Sets Out For All-Time Building Record

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, April 13.—In a little more than three months the auto industry has built 1,600,000 vehicles.

Production heads are talking about a six months total of 3,300,000.

1949 may hold some sales uncertainties but production facilities are being geared for record breaking volume. Most industry sources expect this year's total output to top the 1929 record of 5,358,420 vehicles.

The only thing that could prevent a new record mark this year, they say, would be a serious labor tieup in the plants of one of the "big three" producers. The industry is not discounting the possibility of labor troubles this year.

The "big three," General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, are leading in the production program as usual. Last week they accounted for 83,663 of the 97,201 passenger cars produced in the United States.

There appears little doubt anywhere in industry circles

Bald-Headed Britons Out Of Luck; Wig Shortage Develops

(By The United Press)

LONDON, April 13 — The wigmakers who spark the labor government's program to give bald men and women in Britain free toupees reported today that a major wig shortage had developed.

They said the populace has been rushing to them so fast to get a brace of toupees allowed under the national health scheme that the wigs are giving out.

"We just can't patch enough toupees together fast enough to meet the demand," one leading wigmaker said. "The younger generation just does not understand the fine artistic craftsmanship that goes into making a good toupee."

There are eight bald men to every bald woman in Britain. Under Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan's national health scheme, the eligible among the bald set are allowed two wigs — one to wear and a spare to send to the cleaners. Women are allowed a choice of five styles. Men select from two.

VA Setting Up Regional Groups To Handle Defaulted GI Loans

WASHINGTON, April 13 (U.P.)—The veterans administration announced today that it is setting up all its regional offices a "committee on waivers and compromises" to deal with defaulted G.I. loans.

It said the job of this committee will be to determine in each case whether the amount paid in settlement of a veteran's defaulted loan is to be waived, collected or otherwise adjusted.

Settlement of each defaulted loan will depend on the circumstances, VA said in a statement. It will consider "meritorious cases" and will not press for a quick settlement where such would result in undue hardship to the veteran or his family.

Under the G.I. bill of rights, where VA has to make good on its guarantee of a veteran's defaulted loan, the amount constitutes a debt owned by the veteran to the government. VA, however, has authority to waive or compromise all or part of such individual indebtedness if the facts warrant.

F. W. Kelsey, assistant VA administrator for finance, who announced the new regional setup, said a similar committee will be created in the Washington headquarters with original jurisdiction on bad debts of more than $2,500. Regional offices will handle defaults under that sum.

"Meritorious cases" were defined as those in which the veteran is found to be without fault, where recovery would be inequitable, or where enforced payment would result in undue hardship.

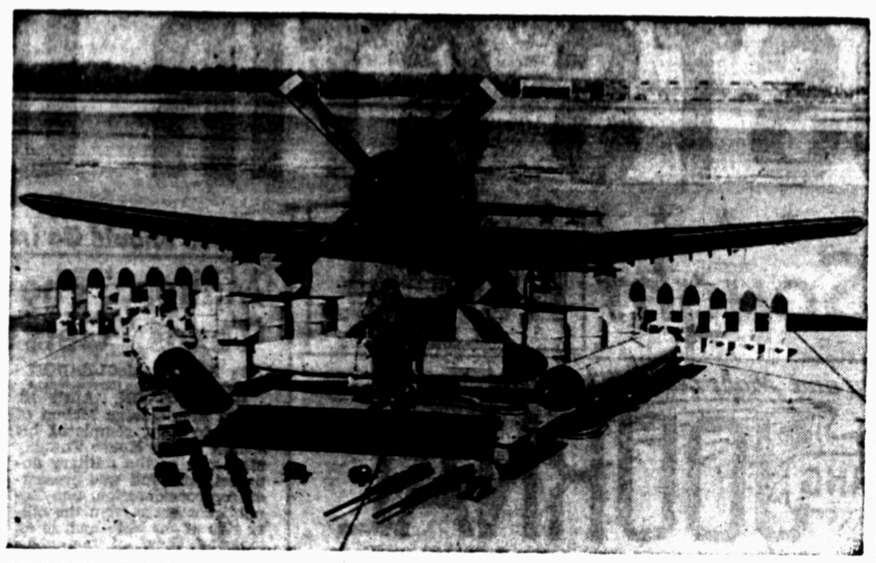

Authority Broad

Kelsey said the three-member committees in each regional office have been given "broad authority to determine the manner of repayment."

In other words, VA will not make deductions from other veterans' benefit payments—such as compensation, pension, subsistence allowances or insurance dividends—unless the committee investigating each case approves such action.

VA said that since the G I loan program started in 1944. it has paid claims against guaranteed loans totalling $10,000,000. The agency considers this a relatively small sum, in view of the fact that borrowing under the G.I. program has totaled $8,500,000,000.

U.S. Reds Taught To Foment Strife, FBI Witness Declares

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP)—Secret classes in which American Reds were taught to foment civil uprisings in event of a U. S.-Russian war have been described at the Communist conspiracy trial.

Herbert A. Philbrick, FBI informant within Communist ranks, testified yesterday that the party's advocacy of wartime insurrection was unfolded at meetings in Boston's historic Beacon Hill section.

He told the jury that the class, of which he was a member, consisted of teachers, doctors, lawyers and other professionals, who were "underground members" of the party.

Unit discussions in early 1948, he said, were led by a "Martha Fletcher," in whose home the group met.

Instruction Related

'She said war between the United States and Soviet Russia would be an unjust war," Philbrick testified, "and in such an instance it was the duty of the Communist party to fight against such an unjust war which she said would be an imperialistic war on the part of the United Statas.

'She said the imperialist war should be converted into civil war."

Her instructions were premised, the witness said, on a history of Bolshevism by Stalin, and came in the course of a study of Marxist-Leninist principles.

Philbrick, 33-year-old Melrose, Mass., advertising man, said the Bolshevist theory, as outlined for the class, called for "civil disobedience" and the "defeat of one's own government" in an "imperialist war."

Objections Overruled

The testimony came on a redirect examination by the government after the completion of cross examination.

Defense objected strenuously to the testimony, claiming the 11 defendants could not be held responsible for discussion held when they were not present.

The objections were overruled by federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who remarked:

"The government cannot prove all the links in the chain at once."

The defendants are accused of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

It was the fifth day on the stand for Philbrick, whose testimony drew a blast last night from the Progressive party in Massachusetts.

Party Leader Protests

Philbrick had testified that he had attended meetings of the Progressive party and the Civil Rights Congress in Boston to report to the FBI on activities of Communists in those organizations.

Walter A. O'Brien, Massachusetts Progressive party director, called Philbrick's role "espionage against private citizens."

"Philbrick would seem to be wasting the time and money of the court and the jury in stating that there were Communists in the Progressive party," he said. "It was probably the most well-known fact of the 1948 election campaign."

O'Brien added that "our party is not a Communist organization" but a "broad group" including those "from the left to the middle of the road."

"We . . . are glad," he said, "to accept help from any and all of them who will work for civil liberties and peace."

At the trial yesterday, Medina overruled a defense motion that all of Philbrick's testimony be thrown out on grounds that it was obtained "at the behest" of the FBI and by attending meetings in private homes by "misrepresentation" that he was a Communist. The defense called these 'police state" methods.

More than 25 out-of-town guests and a number of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce officials are expected to attend a national affairs conference at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel.

The program will feature discussion of legislation now before Congress by two Chamber of Commerce officials. The two speakers are Tom V. Police Say Kidnaping Of Boy Merely Hoax To Gain Sympathy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 13 (AP)—Police today branded as a father's hoax the kidnaping of a five-year-old boy and said the lad's mother is inclined to agree.

The child's father, Joe Goodman, sr., is in jail on charges of suspicion of grand theft as a result of investigation of the case. The theft charge is not connected with the kidnaping story.

Gambling Debt Reason

Police Chief C. H. Anderson flatly described Goodman's story of the kidnaping and $33,000 ransom payment as "an attempt to gain sympathy so he wouldn't be pressed to pay $15,000 in gambling debts which he admitted owing."

He quoted Mrs. Goodman as saying "It looks like a gambling debt payoff."

She told police she plans to take her son and a daughter to her home in Georgia, but added she isn't contemplating divorce.

Mrs. Goodman told officers her son was driven off Monday by bogus representatives of a military academy. Shortly afterwards, she said, she received a telephone call ordering her to bring $50,000 to a downtown building to ransom the boy.

Withdrew Money

Mrs. Goodman withdrew all she had—$33,000—from a safety deposit box, she said, met a man and gave him the money. He instructed her to wait at a phone booth, where she said she received a call and was instructed to pick up the child near the Ambassador hotel. This she did. The boy had an evelope with $1,000 in his hand.

The father was booked in connection with a $400 wrist watch robbery.

Origin Of Man Now Known, Doctor Says

AUSTIN, Tex., April 13 (AP) — Discoveries of five species of apemen in South Africa have "solved the problem of the origin of man," Dr. Robert Broom declared in a lecture here Tuesday.

The 82-year-old paleontologist discovered three of these five species during 60-odd years of exploration.

"Animal evolution has stopped, but man will develop and become better than we know him today," Dr. Broom said.

The wren is one of the few bird families in which the plumage of the male and female are alike.

Television's High Cost, Not Enough FM Sets Keep Broadcasting Bosses Worried

BY WAYNE OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, April 13 (AP) — Can I afford to get into television or can I afford to stay out?

That has been the dominant question among radio executives attending the 27th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters closing here today.

Radio broadcasters who have not yet made their decision on television put their dilemma this way: If they stick to radio alone they fear the effects of television on their investments, although hardly any expect video to replace sound broadcasting entirely.

Fear High Costs

But if they decide to go into television, they are apprehensive not only over the high cost to begin with, but also over red ink operations until television becomes a paying proposition.

To make the situation thornier, many of the broadcasters already have run into rough sailing because of general business conditions and stiffer competition resulting from the post-war flood of new stations.

Most of the convention has been devoted to the need for radio to roll up its sleeves and get to work selling — that the days of easy profits are over.

FM Special Problem

Frequency modulation broadcasters — about three-fourths of whom are standard radio station operators — have a special problem of their own. They are trying to stick it out until there are enough FM sets in the hands of the public to enable them to make a profit on FM although a very few have passed the break-even points.

The FM interests are exploring a number of possible new sources of revenue. Among them are broadcasts directed especially to FM-equipped trolleys and buses and to store shoppers, and also facsimile newspaper transmission. Despite their financial woes thus far, the FM boosters are aggressively optimistic.

"Radio Always"

The seriousness of the atmosphere of the convention was relieved momentarily yesterday when Attorney General Tom Clark departed from the prepared text of a luncheon address to say:

"Those who prophesy television will take the place of radio remind me of the pollsters in the last presidential election. There will always be radio."

Canadian Senators Given Age "Award"

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13 (U.P.)—An unusual award for long age awaits Canadian senators.

If they live to be 100, their colleagues have their pictures painted in oils and hung in the smoking room.

So far, only two have made it. Their paintings show gracefully bearded men, both grasping canes.

One was Sen. David Wark, native of Londonderry, Ireland, who was one of the original senators appointed in 1867. The New Brunswick senator died in 1905 approaching his 101st birthday.

The other was Sen. George C. Dessaules, for 25 years mayor of St. Hyacinthe, Que., who died in 1930. He was 102.

Judge Owen M. Lord set the trial date Tuesday and said a special venire of 175 men will be called.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

Gilmer-Aikin Fight Is To Be Resumed

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, April 13.—The stage was set today for the third round of the most familiar battle of the 51st legislature—a fight to abolish the post of State Supt. L. A. Woods.

The House floor was the arena and the legislative punching bag was a bill by Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens—one of three Senate-approved Gilmer-Aiken proposals to reorganize Texas' educational system.

However, the House at noon recessed until 2:15 p. m., when the education bill was to be laid out for consideration.

Substitute Is Ready

A continued battle was expected to be waged by opponents, one of whom readied a complete substitute bill.

Rep. Jimmy P. Horany of Archer City prepared a substitute calling for appointment of a nine-member state board of education at a year-round salary of $6,000.

The board would be named by another board composed of the governor, lieutenant governor and house speaker. The commissioner of education would be elected by the people.

The past two weekends, opponents of the Taylor bill won convincing victories by successfully moving for adjournment on both occasions.

Special Session Unlikely

It was indicated today that House opponents of the bill, the first on the Wednesday calendar, again would press for adjournment to Monday for the Easter holidays to block a direct vote.

Taylor's bill would establish a 21-man elective state board of education which would appoint a state superintendent.

The opposition constantly bombarded it with crippling amendments, and Gov. Beauford Jester was prevailed upon to call a special session immediately after the regular session adjourns a month from now to permit the House to study the sweeping program exclusive of other business.

But Jester held fast to his policy against special sessions and told legislators he had urged prompt action on the Gilmer-Aikin proposals.

Joint Session Set

Both houses were scheduled to essemble in joint session at 11 a. m. to hear an address by S. Perry Brown of Beaumont, national commander of the American Legion.

The House yesterday passed 58 bills, including one giving Attorney General Price Daniel complete authority to bring and defend suits involving Texas' title to its tidelands.

Rep. William S. Jameson of El Paso, sponsor of the tidelands proposal, said his bill would remove some doubt that the attorney general had iron-clad authority to act in tidelands suit.

Also approved by the House were bills appropriating $350,000 to cover contingent expenses of the 51st legislature and permitting leasing for oil and gas production of state parks where historic battles were fought.

Included in legislation acted on yesterday were 24 local measures and 34 uncontested bills.

Famous Art Set Goes On Sale In Houston

HOUSTON, April 13 (U.P.) — The famous art collection of the Encyclopedia Britannica was up for sale today. The asking price is $250,000.

The 128 paintings are a cross-section of American art of this century, and have been shown in the nation's museums since April, 1945. They will be exhibited here until May 1.

O'Brien explained the works will be sold because Britanica's original commitment to exhibit them over a five-year period will have been fulfilled in a few months.

HUSBAND GETS EVEN

CHARLESTON W. Va. (U.P.) — A husband got even when police raided a house and arrested seven women on gambling charges — including the man's wife. The women were pitching bottle caps for stakes that totaled $1.75. Officers said the husband complained to retaliate for an assault warrant sworn to by his wife.

Gene James Signed For Lubbock Bout

Gene James, Lubbock heavyweight, has been signed for a four-round appearance on the Jaycee-sponsored fight card at Chapman fieldhouse April 26.

James' opponent has not yet been named.

The Lubbock heavyweight, who made his professional debut last week with an impressive TKO victory over James Wortham of Amarillo, is the third fighter signed for the April 26 program. Earlier, Bill Henderson of Levelland and Jean Mougin of Paris, France, had been matched in the 10-round main event.

Mougin is the only professional fighter to defeat Henderson. The former French lightweight champion stopped the Texan last month at El Paso in the ninth round of an action-packed battle.

Jaycee officials reported brisk activity at the ticket office Tuesday as sale of ducats began. More than 500 of 2,540 available seats were sold the first day.

Tickets are on sale daily in the lobby of the Hilton hotel. Reservations may be made by phoning 6861. Prices are scaled at $4.80 for ringside, $3.60 for reserved seats, and $2.40 for general admission.

Pow-Wow May Lift Blockade, Reds Say

LONDON, April 13 (AP)—A diplomatic informant said today Russia has recently renewed her offer to lift the Berlin blockade if big four talks on Germany are resumed.

Such an offer, however, would not materially affect the Berlin situation, since the allies have insisted all along that the blockade must be lifted first before any big four talks on Germany. The Russians have insisted on calling the four-power conference first.

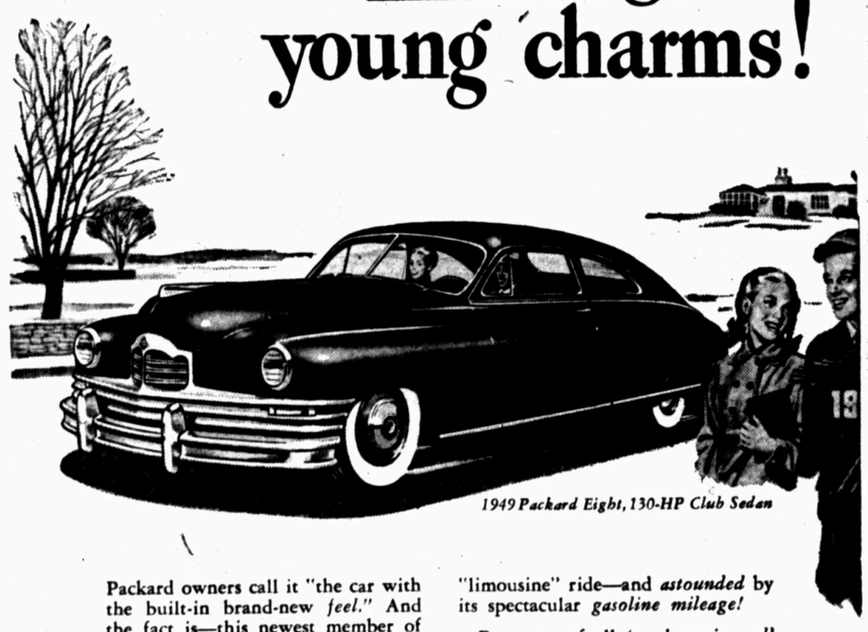

The informant, a specialist in German affairs, declined to be identified, even by nationality. He did not say where the newest approach was made, but presumably it was in Berlin. Asked whether the American, British and French authorities were approached jointly or individually, the informant replied: "This is a Washington story."

No details of the approach could be given, the informant said.

HEARING IS SET

1949 Packard Eight, 130-HP Club Sedan

Packard owners call it "the car with the built-in brand-new feel." And the fact is—this newest member of a long-lived line is the huskiest Packard ever built!

Proof: Penny-accurate service records, submitted by all Packard dealers, show that the service needs of the new Packard Eight are the lowest in Packard history!

That's another important reason why the demand for new Packards is at an all-time high.

Naturally . . . today's buyers are impressed by the styling and appointments of this luxurious motor car. They're delighted with its "limousine" ride—and astounded by its spectacular gasoline mileage!

But most of all (at the prices all cars are carrying today), they want a new car that's going to keep right on looking and acting new, for years to come.

Your nearby Packard dealer is the man to see. And the time is now!

Parties And Programs Conducted By Clubs

Program meetings, parties and an installation ceremony were Tuesday afternoon events for members of women's study clubs of Lubbock.

INSTALLATION TEA IS HELD

New officers of Junior Twentieth Century club were installed at a tea Tuesday at St. John's Methodist church.

Officers are Mrs. Harry Holcomb, president; Mrs. J. P. Newman, vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Osborn, recording secretary; Mrs. Sam Dunn, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Bacon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Raymond Shook, parliamentarian; and Mrs. George Gray, auditor.

The tea table was set with an arrangement of flowering peach. Mrs. Harry Holcomb poured and Mrs. Maxine Dickinson assisted.

Final meeting of the year will be a breakfast May 3. Meeting place will be announced later.

WOMEN, BUSINESS ARE DISCUSSED

Mrs. S. T. Hodges and Mrs. Jess Seale were featured speakers at a meeting of Athenaeum club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. F. Hankins, 2420 Twenty-eighth. The program was based on "Women's Importance to Big Business."

Discussing women and the fashion industry, Mrs. Hodges distinguished between the terms, "style" and "fashion," by saying the former related to a period in history and the latter term to current modes of dress. The speaker said that women today are more independent about what they choose to wear, and are less under the absolute rule of "fashion authorities" than they have been in the past, although the "authorities" are still important.

Mrs. Seale, discussing women and home making, said that because of the increased number of labor-saving devices now available to women, much of a woman's time is free in the home. For this reason, some women tend to minimize the importance of home making as a career, and she blamed this trend for the weakening of home ties as seen today. The speaker stated that home making is the biggest business in the nation today.

FILM IS SHOWN IN ADKINS HOME

Mrs. Frank L. Todd was hostess to members of Clement-Sorosis Study club, meeting in the home of Mrs. R. Fred Adkins, 1705 Thirty-fourth Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Adkins presented a film demonstrating how to utilize visual education. The film was on the program theme, "Freedom of Worship and Religion."

Members attending were Mesdames Lennis Baker, Herbert Bannister, L. L. Beck, Jerry Brooks, R. E. Gee, Jason Gordon, Sam Henry, jr., Don King, L. D. Marshall, Belverd Needles, Homer J. Roper, C. A. Spencer, Glenn Woody, R. H. Canaday, J. E. Harvey, T. Euel Liner and Dewey Malone. Guests were Mrs. Don Reeder and Mrs. S. M. Hunter.

MRS. S. BUSTER ADDRESSES GROUP

Lubbock Woman's forum met with Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, 2201 Twenty-ninth, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stewart Buster addressed the group on "New Trends in Textiles." Violin music was provided by Miss Frances Gibbs and Miss Carol Jean Sandlin, accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Dale Kennedy.

The table was laid with a white madiera cloth and centered with an arrangement of purple iris and pansies. Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, president, poured. Other hostesses were Mrs. C. J. Hollingsworth, Mrs. M. M. Ewing and Mrs. Alpha Hubbard.

STUDY CLUB IS HOST AT COFFEE

Progressive Child Study club held a coffee Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Jack Markham. Eighty club guests called.

The receiving line included Mrs. Markham, Mrs. Raymond Cone, Mrs. Jack Spratt and Mrs. Lester Johnson. Mrs. Gordon Sanders poured coffee and Mrs. Leo Healer served other refreshments. Mrs. Lloyd Swann and Mrs. E. C. Hatton registered guests.

Other members of the house-party were Mesdames Howard Garner, Johnny Goldwater, Jack McLaughlin and W. C. Rutledge.

The serving table held an arrangement of spoon cactus. Other flowers were used in decorations throughout the home.

CITY RECREATION DIRECTOR SPEAKS

Members and guests of the Twentieth Century club heard A. C. Hamilton, director of city recreation, outline plans for summer activities when they met Tuesday in Fellowship hall at the First Presbyterian church.

A question and answer period followed Mr. Hamilton's talk. Mrs. J. I. Kilpatrick, organization vice-president, was in charge of a business session. Miss Mae Murfee, club delegate to the Seventh district, Federated Women's club convention, presented a report.

If persimmons are available in your market they are delicious used for dessert. Wash, dry, cut in half and serve with a spoon. Or use them in a salad by combining with dried celery and French dressing.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Remarks Made By Workers In Office Are Troublesome To Young Woman Employee

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 22, happily married, and my husband and I both work. I am employed in the main office of a factory and during the course of the day it is usually necessary for me to go to different parts of the office and factory collecting information.

I am five feet, eight inches tall without heels and very conscious of my height, so I try to walk very straight at all times. I am quite cheerful and usually wear a smile on my face.

I am working with men usually and after I had been working about four months they laughed and joked with me in a friendly manner and I did the same. The fellows in the department where I work usually find something to tease me about—either my hairdo, or a new blouse or something. However, I good naturedly laugh it off.

IS HER FRIENDLY MANNER MISJUDGED?

NOT LONG ago I heard one of my bosses refer to me as "a hot number." That really hurt. It has bothered me ever since. I can't understand it. I never overdress. I am practically a "plain Jane." Is it because I am so friendly? What can I do to change this person's opinion of me?

The other day one of the fellows whistled at me. Why? What am I doing that isn't right? I love my husband and have no designs on other men. Please help me correct the misunderstanding. I shall be waiting to hear from you. Signed: H.B.

GIRL IS INVITING PERSONAL INTEREST

DEAR H. B.: When a man calls a girl a hot number he is saying in effect that she is physically alluring to men, and consciously so; and that she behaves with men in a way that lets them know she enjoys their sex-conscious notice of her charms.

Also he means that from a man's viewpoint the girl lacks dignity, reserve, the faculty of being impersonal; that she doesn't engender respect but rather the familiar approach, to which her own manner is keyed. And it is this "approach" to your job-situation and men associates, in office and factory, that is "wrong."

You say you are very conscious of your height, and try to walk very straight at all times, usually wearing a smile on your face. In short, you are putting on an act, trying to make a hit, when touring the plant to collect information. In a sense, you are doing a "Mae West," but without the formidable irony that is Mae West's trademark.

USES WRONG METHOD TO COURT APPROVAL

IT SEEMS to me you've been trying too hard to win general applause, as a great girl, in your work environment. And possibly early teen-age misgiving about your height started this trend of muscular effort to please.

If you were normally sold on yourself as a likeable person, if you were free of anxiety strivings to "make good" as a woman, you wouldn't be so spend-thrift of charmer-friendliness on the job—which often is a cover for laziness, too.

You would work quietly, efficiently, diligently, without "show;" you would keep office travel to a minimum; and you would deal pleasantly but neutrally with men associated, and conserve "fascinator' energies and skills for domestic and purely social use.

It's how you preen and parade yourself, inviting appreciation of how you "look" today, that evokes the whistle, jest and "hot number" appraisal. And the antidote to the rising tide of familiarity is to get your mind off yourself, apply it to the job, and plow a straight furrow during office hours—a performance guaranteed to win a more respectful estimate from the boss in time.

Ko Sharis Plan Trip

Fifty-four members and pledges of Ko Shari, women's social club at Texas Technological college, will leave Lubbock by chartered bus Thursday morning for a weekend of activities in Santa Fe, N.M., to be climaxed by traditional initiation services Sunday night. The group will return to Lubbock Monday.

Headquarters for the excursion will be La Fonda hotel.

Initiation ceremonies will be held Sunday night in 400-year-old Arrowhead Lodge, 18 miles east of Santa Fe. The historic kiva was excavated and restored under direction of Dr. W. C. Holden, professor of history and anthropology at Texas Tech, on a summer field trip in 1933.

Ko Shari members Friday will visit the Bandalier National monument at El Rito de Los Frijoles, scene of the book, "The Delight Makers," written by Adolf Bandalier.

A tour of Santa Fe is scheduled for Saturday morning, to include a visit to the United States Indian school, Laboratory of Anthropology, Governor's Palace and the Art Museum, and a visit to the studio of Freemont Ellis, landscape artist. Luncheon will be at Tony Real's Mexican restaurant.

A formal dinner and dance in the Santa Fe room of La Fonda hotel is scheduled Saturday night. Violin music will be furnished during the dinner by Billy Paulou, La Fonda orchestra leader. Mr. and Mrs. John Young-Hunter will be honor guests at the dinner. Pledges will present a program.

Traditional Easter breakfast will be held in the Santa Fe room after club members attend early mass at St. Francis cathedral. The group will then go to San Ildefonso, where they will view ceremonial Easter dances and visit Maria Martinez, the well-known "Potter of San Ildefonso."

Accompanying the group will be Mrs. Walter Posey, Mrs. Walter Howard, Mrs. Tom Welborn and Mrs. W. G. McMillan, patronesses, and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden, sponsors, Mrs. H. C. Woodruff and Tom Welborn.

Mrs. L. J. Hurst To Present Pupils

In a piano recital to be given tonight at 8 o'clock in the Tech Aggie Memorial auditorium, Mrs. L. J. Hurst will present the following pupils:

Nancy Green, Don Warren, Kay Woody, Bobby Daniels, Lynn Benton, Janiece Harris, Wilma Sue Waggoner, Carolyn Maas, Mary Sue Goeth, Sandra Henderson, Mary Ann Cope, Lutha Beck and Linda Beth Chappell.

From Lou To Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: Sylvia Whitacre, who will become Mrs. John Hampton Thursday, is well on her way to being a proficient housewife, especially from the culinary standpoint. A reliable source tells us her hot biscuits are excellent, and that she prepares all of the "regular" dishes well. Her specialty and Johnny's favorite dish is banana cream. Although sewing isn't among Sylvia's accomplishments, she is planning to learn.

The charming young woman's friends all know that green in its various tints and shades is Sylvia's favorite color, but a visit to her future home would convince anyone that the color is among Syl's likes. The three-room house has been built behind the W. H. Hampton home at 1907 Sixteenth, and the couple plan to live there until they both finish college at Tech in June of 1950.

"All green" describes the living room of the little house, and accents of dark green and chartruese are mixed in with a little gray to complete the room decoration. The kitchen is done in green and white, and the bath is decorated in green and yellow. Toast and yellow are combined in the bedroom colors.

Most of the decorating will have been completed when the Hamptons return from a wedding trip to New Mexico, but the new housewife will employ her commercial art talent and college training to do the finishing touches herself.

Since Johnny is a geology major, his college homework fills most of his "spare time," but the bride and bridegroom both like to entertain and are planning to take time out from studying to have lots of parties and dinners in their new home.

They share sports in general as a common main interest, and enjoy playing tennis and golf together, or going swimming or skiing, which is their favorite. It was because of this interest in sports that they first met. Syl and Barbara Jackson had gone to Lamesa to attend a Lubbock-High-Lamesa High football game in 1944, and Johnny had also made the trip. Through coincidence, the Hamptons-to-be were introduced that day, and have gone together every since, (which, incidentally, is four and a half years.)

So, happy wedding day to both of them tomorrow.

KELLER-FRASER WEDDING

Velma Keller, who will be Mrs. Malcolm B. Fraser after a double ring ceremony to be read Friday at 8 p. m. in the First Methodist church, likes both sentiment and tradition, and plans to carry out several interesting traditions in her wedding.

She will be married in the same wedding gown which her sister, Mrs. Merlin L. Cooper, 1622 Thirteenth, wore. Both of the girls' names, Velma and Evelyn, are embroidered in blue beneath the hem of the skirt, and will be "something blue."

The Bible the bride will be carrying is one which her grandmother brought over from England, and the tiny gold cross which will be inside, was worn by her sister and several friends at their weddings.

Velma's bridal colors are green and white, and she has selected her trousseau in different shades of sun copper, brown and navy. Since the long time resident of Lubbock has never been East, she is looking forward to going through St. Louis, Washington, D. C., and several Eastern states and finally New York, on their wedding trip. After April 25, the newly-wed Frasers will be at home in Philadelphia, where he is employed. Finding a place to live there is one of their present major problems.

Velma has been going with Mal, as she calls him, since their first dinner date about a year ago, and has had her ring since Oct. 24. Her engagement diamond is a platnum set one with two smaller stones on each side.

She is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Tech, where she majored in home economics. Since her graduation from college she has been working as a reservationist at Braniff Airways here in Lubbock. Malcolm received his degree in business administration from Notre Dame.

LOVE,
LOU.

Coffee-Shower Held In Clinton Home

Mrs. Roy Bass, teacher of First Baptist Evangel class, was honored by members of the class at a layette coffee Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Morris Clinton, 3509 Twenty-ninth.

Hostesses in addition to Mrs. Clinton were Mesdames J. W. Kinard, Jimmy Lumus, Trenton McCurry, Jack Liedecker, Weldon Gibbs, A. B. Mask, Loyd Stinson, D. N. Fitzgerald and Ted Long.

The serving table was laid with a white embroidered cloth and centered with pink tapers in crystal holders and arrangements of sweet peas.

Mrs. Kinard presided at the silver service. Mrs. Wayne Pharr played background music. Twenty-two guests attended, and the honoree received a hostess gift.

School Meals Are In Easter Motif

Easter motif is being featured this week in foods and decorations at Lubbock public school cafeterias.

As a climax to a week of serving jelly bean-filled nests of coconut nestling on puddings and muffins, the cafeterias will serve traditional Easter dinners Thursday. Menu items include baked ham, baked potatoes, apple, parsley and carrot biscuits, butter, milk and cake shaped like rabbits and chickens.

Opening Games Of 1949 Texas League Race Slated Tonight

Fort Worth Is Flag Favorite

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, April 13—The Texas league rolls its optimistic way tonight with games in all of the three states it encompasses.

First battles of the fifty-fourth campaign which the club owners think will draw 2,750,000 paid admissions for an all-time high will be played at Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Shreveport and San Antonio.

More than 30,000 fans are expected to be in the four parks but the big turn-out is due when the clubs shift stands Friday.

Schedule Is Given

Tonight Beaumont plays at Shreveport, where 10,500 are due to turn out; Dallas will be at Oklahoma City, with 7,000 forecast; Houston will be at San Antonio, where 8,500 are expected to crowd into the park and Fort Worth will be at Tulsa, where 5,000 are predicted.

Friday night Shreveport moves to Beaumont, Oklahoma City to Dallas, Tulsa to Fort Worth and San Antonio to Houston.

Those eight games will decide the president's attendance cup.

Dallas owner R. W. Burnett has predicted that 16,000 to 17,000 will be in the park at Dallas Friday night. The all-time opening game attendance record is 16,018 set at Fort Worth in 1930.

Burnett has some added attractions, including attendance of Governor Beauford Jester of Texas and other notables.

Hurlers Are Announced

League President J. Alvin Gardner will be at Shreveport tonight but will return to Dallas Friday night to attend the game here.

The champion Fort Worth Cats will be meeting a club that also is picked for the first division in the game at Tulsa tonight. Other first division selections are San Antonio and Dallas. Fort Worth is the choice of the Texas league writers to lead the straightaway race.

Opening pitchers and starting times of tonight's games are:

Beaumont at Shreveport, 8:15 p. m.—Gale Pringle (4-4) vs Al Cleary (18-9) or Dee Sanders (9-7); Dallas at Oklahoma City, 8:15 p. m.— Vernon Kennedy (9-12) vs George Zuverink (18-12; Fort Worth at Tulsa, 8 p. m.—Chris Van Cuyk (14-7) vs Bud Byerly (10-7); Houston at San Antonio, 8 p. m.—Glenn Gardner (2-4) vs Earl Reid (9-13). All pitchers are righthanders except Van Cuyk. Manager Francis Parker of Shreveport said he would not make his choice of starting pitcher until game time.

Blue Sox Drop Hubs

ADDED STARTER—Fred Sanford assures Casey Stengel that he has a grip on the situation in the photo above. The new manager of the Yankees certainly hopes so, since the New York club paid the Browns $100,000 for the big right-hander.

Squad To Hold Workout Here

The Hubbers were scheduled to arrive in Lubbock this morning from Abilene where last night they lost an exhibition basezall game, 6-7, at the hands of the Abilene Blue Sox. A brief workout was planned at Rosenthal field to acquaint the locals with their home diamond.

A crowd of 500 persons saw the Hubbers lost the game in the last of the ninth inning, after going ahead 6-5 in their half of the frame, when an Abilene batter was walked to force the winning run across the plate.

The Hubbers were slow in getting started, not advancing a man to second until the sixth inning when they scored four runs on three hits and one error. Three of the runs came on a misjudged fl ball to left field.

They scored one run in the eighth with two men out to tie the ball game and then won and lost the game in the fatal ninth frame.

Chick Fowler, pinch hitter for Don Hensiek, led off the last inning by striking out. Jackie Wilcox walked, stole second, and scored on Lloyd Pearson's single to center, Pearson going to second on the throw in from field.

Bob Skinner, Abilene center fielder, made a fine running catch of Al Duarte's short fly and doubled Pearson off second base to end the Hubber threat and retire the side.

Leading off the bottom of the ninth, Victor Hugo was hit by a pitched ball and was sacrificed to second by Skinner. George Lopez brought Hugo across the plate with a sharp drive that hit the left field fence on the line and bounced back toward the infield, Lopez beating the throw to third for a triple.

Joe Wessing and Leo Bohanen were given intentional walks to load the bases, and then Rolando Dominguez, 235-pound, six-foot, four-inch left fielder, one of seven Cubans dotting the Blue Sox lineup, walked on four straight pitches to score Lopez with the winning run.

The Hubbers return home Wednesday and will go through a light workout at Rosenthal field after arriving in the Hub city around noon. An exhibition game with Abilene is scheduled for Friday night at the Hubbers' home field.

Yankee Hurler Gets No-Hitter

FORT WORTH, April 13. (U.P.)—The New York Yankees turned today to the brilliant no-hit pitching of young Bob Porterfield to find consolation for the loss of Joe DiMaggio for the season's opening.

Porterfield, 25-year-old righthander, pitched a no-hit, no-run game yesterday against the Fort Worth Cats of the Texas league, 10 to 0. That came on the heels of a one-hitter he pitched against Cincinnati in his last time out, April 4.

With exceptional speed and remarkable control of his curve ball, the sophomore hurler kept Fort Worth helpless. The fact that yesterday's game was called after eight innings to allow the Yanks to catch a train didn't detract from his brilliance.

Yesterday's game was called after eight innings because the Yanks had to leave for Terre Haute, Ind., where today they play that city's team of the Three-Eye league. The cancellation of the ninth inning came as a disappointment to the crowd which anticipated a tension-packed inning.

After the game the Yanks optioned rookie Pitcher Paul Hinrichs to Kansas City.

CUBS BLANK CARDS

HOUSTON, April 13. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, usually a soft touch for Harry (the Cat) Brecheen, walloped him for 11 hits in seven innings yesterday to earn a 4-0 decision over the St. Louis Cards.

But Brecheen hasn't only had trouble against the Cubs this year. In 23 exhibition innings, he's allowed 11 runs and 28 hits and has won only one game.

BROWNS BEAT TWINS

GLADEWATER, April 13. (AP)—Dick Star was slated to pitch for the St. Louis Browns today against the Gladewater team of the Lone Star league.

Yesterday the Browns beat the Sherman-Denison Twins of the Big State league 4-2 at Sherman, Texas. Schools closed for the occasion.

NEW RECORD SOUGHT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 13. (AP)—With a 201,000 attendance for the grapefruit season already marked up, the Cleveland Indians are shooting for a new exhibition record before the spring season ends in New York Sunday.

The New York Yankees drew 225,000 in 1946 for an unofficial spring record. With five games remaining with the Giants—the last two to be played in New York this week-end—a total attendance of 250,000 might be reached by the Tribe.

PHILS BLAST REDS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 13. (AP)—Manager Eddie Sawyer eyed Del Ennis' big bat today and hoped that it would continue its red hot walloping for a long time to come.

Ennis clouted a single, a double and home run and drove in three of the Philadelphia Phillies four runs yesterday as Ken Heintzelman and Ken Trinkle collaborated on a three-hit shutout against the Cincinnati Reds.

Amarillo, Odessa Top Roster Of Entries

Preliminary Events In South Plains Relays Slated Friday

Preliminaries in the second annual South Plains relays will be held at 2 p. m. Friday, and the finals will begin at the same hour Saturday.

A total of 31 teams have entered the meet, and the competition should be stiff in all departments. Originated last year, the relays is fast becoming the top cinder spectacle of the season in this section of Texas.

Visiting coaches will be the guests at 7 o'clock Friday night for a stag supper at Tech gym sponsored by the Double T alumni, and all coaches are invited to attend the supper. Master of ceremonies will be Curley Wilkerson.

Some of the best high school cinder talent in this part of Texas will participate in the meet, and competition in every event should be very keen.

From Amarillo comes the team that won the West Texas Relays in Odessa last month, breaking three records in doing so. Charles Seiber extended the distance in the shot-put and discus.

Winner of the track and field meet in Big Spring April 2, and runner-up to Amarillo in its own meet, is Odessa, another potent team expected for the relays. Jimmy Patterson has been one of the best hurdlers in the area this year, setting two new records in the Odessa meet.

Lubbock High school will be well-represented, but the locals will have to hustle to win any of the events, although many thinclads should place in the meet.

At least 450 athletes should participate in the preliminaries, and the field will be narrowed sharply for the finals at 2 p. m. Saturday. Last year only one day was set aside for the relays but the record number of entries made two days this year more feasible.

Although the deadline for entries has passed, new entries will be accepted through Thursday, April 14, but they will not be listed on the programs which are already printed.

Team trophies and individual awards have been purchased and may be seen at the Baker company.

Admission to the relays will be 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

RULE BARS ATHLETES

AMARILLO, April 13. (AP)—An Interscholastic league ruling condemning the practice of colleges giving high school athletes food, transportation and lodging held seven athletes out of a district track and field meet at Panhandle, the Amarillo News-Globe says.

Lubbock Team Speeds Drills

With the South Plains Relays coming up Friday and Saturday, the Lubbock High track team is looking toward the meet and Tuesday went through practice against the Texas Tech freshman team at the Tech track.

Coach Fred Brown is pointing toward the South Plains Relays this week-end, and he ran his high school boys against some of the freshmen at Tech.

In the 100-yard dash, Donald Decker finished a close second to Earl Hutcherson, former Westerner, who had the winning time of 10.5.

Decker won the 220-yard dash in 22.6, finishing ahead of Hutcherson and Charlie Williams. All three boys hit the tape close together in a fast race.

Eddie Goetz continued to improve in the 440-yard dash, and he ran the distance in 53.5 at Tech, running a fast time. And the 880-yard relay team, composed of Goetz, Douglas Weinke, Henry McDougal, and Teddy Vaught, made the half-mile in 1.42 7 running only against time.

The 440-yard relay team, which is rounding into shape again after being slowed by injuries, ran the length of the oval in 45.9. On the sprint team were Wayne Stroud, Williams, Decker, and Alfred Adair

Westerner Regulars Drop Sub Nine, 4-2; Squad Leaves For Altus Friday Morning

In an intra-squad baseball Tuesday afternoon, the Westerner first team defeated the second team, 4-2, at Chapman field diamond in preparation for a road trip to Altus, Okla., Friday and Saturday for three games.

Coach Fred Taylor said yesterday that a chartered bus would take the team to Altus, leaving here at approximately 8 a. m. Friday. A game is scheduled for 8 o'clock Friday night, and Saturday a doubleheader will be played. The first tilt will be at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and the final game will be at 8 o'clock that night.

The Westerners will rely heavily on pitching by other members of the team, probably Jimmy Richards, Charles Galey, Jimmy Sexton, or Morris Turner. And if the team is hitting the Westerners might salvage one or two of the games.

Only two regular pitchers are now ready for duty, Jimmy Hamilton and Bennie Day. But Hamilton is suffering from a cold which may slow him up somewhat. He has shown lots of hustle and ability thus far this season.

Richards pitched the full six innings in the intra-squad game, giving up no hits and two runs on overthrows to third from the catcher after men had reached base on walks. Other members of the first team were Turner, catcher; Jessie Fullerton, first base; Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; Bobby Brown, shortstop; and Sexton, Garnet Reeves, and Hamilton, outfielders.

Opposing them on the second team were Bennie Day, pitcher; Norman Bantz, catcher; Berry Allen, first base; Carroll Blackburn, second base; Neil Sikes, third base; Dan Adkisson, shortstop; and Dean White, James Burgess, and Jerry Van Pelt, outfielders.

Leading hitting for the winning team was Sexton with two hits in three times at bat, and Richards, Hamilton, Turner, Galey, Brown, and Fullerton also hit safely.

Surgeons Will Check Joe DiMaggio's Heel

BALTIMORE, April 13. (AP)—Johns Hopkins hospital surgeons prepared to take another look today at Joe DiMaggio's heel—the heel which means so much to the New York Yankees' pennant chances.

The big slugger may be here for 10 days or more. He will be lost to his club for the season curtain-raiser next Tuesday—but Joe has no thoughts of retiring from the game.

When he checked in at the hospital, shortly before 2 a. m., he said he was "dead tired" after a flight from Texas and declined to answer any questions.

It was the $100,000-a-year centerfielder's fifth trip to Johns Hopkins in two years.

A total of 188,780 fans watched the 24 games played by the Notre Dame basketball team last season, a new school record.

GREENVILLE—Paul Hinrichs is over the top on his drive to make good with the New York Yankees. The smiling, modest hurler has literally swept the New York Bombers with his personality—and his fine pitching record in spring training. The Yankee writers are convinced that he is one of the finest prospcts ever to hit the big show and they are painting rosy pictures of the preaching Pitcher's future.

HINRICHS

All of which young Mr. Hinrichs takes in stride, wearing the same size hat and displaying a humility that rather puts awe into anyone coming into his presence.

All of which doesn't mean that he is going to stick with the Yanks this year. In fact, he probably will spend a season with the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, one of the two top Yankee farm clubs. Manager Casey Stengel, a veteran of major league wars, has nothing but admiration for Paul. "To look at him in street clothes, you'd never take a second look," Stengel declared. "But when he gets out there on the mound and starts throwing, everybody looks at him. He has a great future ahead of him, one of the greatest of any pitcher ever coming up.

At the same time, Stengel virtually admitted that Paul didn't fit into his plans this year, although it was going to be hard to turn him loose. "I'd rather have him pitching one day in every four," Casey stated, "than to sit on the Yankee bench for a month or more. That's what he'd do if he stayed. He probably would see no action, unless it were spot relief roles, for the first 30 to 60 days. Supposing we started him?" Casey demanded. "He's a bonus player. If he didn't come through with a creditable game, we'd look bad and it would hurt him. Everybody'd holler 'whatcha keep that lemon for?'". And then, to show the problem facing Stengel and the Yanks, the Bomber skipper said, reflectively, "of course, he hasn't let us down on any assignment we've given him yet."

• • •

When Paul was here Sunday, he had run his chain of runless innings to 14 against tough competition. He had allowed only six hits in that length of time. And if you want to count a five-inning intrasquad game, the record was 19 innings without allowing a run. Even for an experienced pitcher, that's good. For a rookie two years out of Class C ball, it's phenomenal. Dallas finally got to him for a run Monday night, but the record still is impressive.

• • •

Bill Dickey, the all-time great catcher of the Yankees, said that he couldn't recall seeing a young hurler with a greater future. Dickey was lavish in his praise. He also pointed to Paul's unimpressive appearance in street clothes, but to the great task he performed on the hill. Bill showed the same indecision that marked Stengel. They like the former Hubber pitcher so much that they don't want him hurt. They honestly believe that he has all the equipment it takes to be a winning hurler this year. But they also would rather wait a year and be positive.

• • •

As for Paul himself, he's so humble, so unsophisticated and so willing that a year in the minors again doesn't bother him. He says it's a wonderful feeling to be a Yankee and he wants to stick, but if the organization thinks another year down would be the best thing, he's willing to accept that. We sat with him and Gene Woodling while they ate breakfast Sunday, after both had been to church. The conversation was quiet, low and about everything except baseball. After breakfast, we went up to Paul's room.,

• • •

He started undressing, getting ready for the afternoon's game. It was almost reverence that he picked up the Yankee uniform and laid it out. While he was dressing, Ralph Houk, Yankee catcher, and Dick Kryhoski, first baseman, came in. The conversation was general, until we asked Houk what Paul's best pitch was. The backstop thought for a moment, then said without hesitation, "his change of pace ball." Houk went on to explain. "Poul throws it entirely different from any pitcher I ever saw. Some break in a curve, some seem to hang. Paul's comes up there looking bigger than Macy's basement, then slides."

• • •

"It's almost impossible to hit it," Houk continued. "It isn't fast, of course, but Paul makes the delivery look like any other pitch and the batter is completely fooled. The ball comes floating up to the plate, then suddenly slides off. It's the most effective pitch I ever saw." Talk turned to the minors and Houk said that he was back in the area where he had played. Paul started answering questions about the West Texas-New Mexico League. He winked at us, then told of how many homers he had hit in the big Albuquerque park. He finished his dressing, stretching out on the bed and relaxing.

ALEX KASABOSKI
Wrestles Here Tonight

★ ★ ★

Kasaboski To Meet Weaver

In the final wrestling event at Sled Allen's arena tonight, Alex Kasaboski is matched against Buck Weaver in what should be a round, fast, and exciting bout.

The Russian grappler, Kasaboski, lived up to his advance notices last week by turning in a rough and tumble performance in defeating Elmer Davis, and the fans were in sympathy with the smaller Davis as Kasaboski gave him a good going-over. And so tonight he moves into the final bout against Weaver, the cock of the roost in local wrestling circles.

Weaver Scientific

A more scientific wrestler, Weaver is nevertheless a hard man to beat regardless of the tactics used against him. He has demonstrated on more than one occasion that he can take rough punishment as well as give it out, and the match should offer him the opportunity to demonstrate this again.

About a year ago Pierre LaBell made a great showing here, and he is back to face Rod Fenton, popular Canadian wrestler, in the semi-final bout. LaBell has a habit of making a hit with the ladies everywhere he goes, and Fenton will be sure to try his best to mess up some of the Frenchman's better features out of pure jealousy.

Abbott, Blackley To Meet

The preliminary event, starting at 8:15 tonight, brings together Ace Abbott, crooning cowboy from Abilene, and Gene Blackley, Anson. The two boys will be fighting a match to decide which of the two Texas towns produces the best wrestlers.

Blackley will be trying to stage a comeback since he lost to Buck Weaver last week, and he is a rugged lad who has impressed the fans with his ability in the ring.

Tickets are on sale at Wylies Drug store until 5 p.m. today.

Wisnieski Is Top Outfield Prospect

(This is the third in a series of articles describing members of the Lubbock Hubbers. The information was gained while the Lubbock team was in spring training).

BY JOE KELLY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

GREENVILLE — People have no trouble telling Joseph Wisniewski and his twin brother apart.

First of all, they do not look alike; and secondly, Joe is the baseball playing member of the family. That happens to be a fortunate thing for the Lubbock Hubbers.

Wisniewski, who pronounces his name as though spelled Wiz-NEFF-ski, is the player Manager Jackie Sullivan is counting on heavily in the outfield. He hits hard, runs like a deer and has a throwing arm built along the lines of a large spring.

The Flint, Mich., native is 20 years old, stands six feet two inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. He keeps his hair in a crew haircut, wears a smile most of the time and would rather hit baseballs out of the park than eat.

He doesn't come from a baseball family, although his dad used to take him to see the Detroit Tigers play all the time. And for many years the Tigers were his idols. Now he maintains no idols; only hopes to get into the big time on his own ability.

Manager Sullivan calls him almost a double for Al Smith and there is a resemblence, facially. On the diamond, there is none whatsoever. Wisniewski stands head and shoulders over Smith in every department.

Junior League Graduate

He's another graduate of the American Legion's Junior league program and of high school baseball. The present season marks his third in organized ball. He throws and bats right.

Wisniewski was encouraged all along by his father, who is a rabid baseball fan. From the time he can remember, he always had baseballs, gloves and bats. He decided long ago that he was going into the game to try and make a living from it.

He was scouted after his performances in Legion and high school games, finally being signed by Eddie Krannick, a scout for the Philadelphia Phillies.

His first year, 1947, was spent with Appleton, Wisconsin, of the Wisconsin State league. He appeared in 120 games his first season, batting .287. Joe hit 15 home runs, 15 doubles, "a few" triples and drove in 72 runs.

When he went to spring training in 1948, he promptly fell under the second year jinx. He slid into second and the baseman fell on his legs, breaking a bone in one. He went home, wore a cast for a month and lost almost that much time at the start of the season. He was shipped to Bradford, Pa., of the Pony league and halfway through the season went to Carbondale of the North Atlantic league.

Hit In Head

But trouble stalked him. He was hit in the back of the head by a fast ball and was out of action for 12 days; and when he came back, he was still slowed down. But not enough to keep him from pounding out a .298 batting average.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, drafted him during the winter and he is proving to be one of the brightest spots in the Hubber camp. Schepps believes he will hit 40 home runs and maintain a .335 batting average. If he does, he will have made a home for himself in Lubbock.

You gals can relax, though. Wisniewski married the former Rosemary Goggins of Flint, Mich., in October. If he can locate a house or apartment, she'll be with him in Lubbock.

Appleton, incidentally, tried to make a pitcher out of Wisniewski. He hurled a couple of games and did all right, but he likes to hit and balked at getting a chance only once in four days.

Player Keeps Scrapbook

Speaking of his twin brother, Joe said that he, too, had had baseball ambitions. But he tried out with the Flint Arrows, the team that had so many Hubbers from the 1947 team, failed to make the grade and quit the game.

Wisniewski keeps a scrapbook on baseball — but not of his doings. He thought more of Hank Greenberg than he did of Babe Ruth. Played end on the football team and center on the basketball quintet. And, on his first visit to Texas, likes it.

His biggest thrill and the thing of which he is proudest is the trophy awarded him at Appleton for being the most popular player, voted to him by the fans.

You'll like him too, especially when his bat booms.

Lamesa High Nine Drops Big Spring

LAMESA, April 13 (Special) — Winning their third conference start after losing the first, Lamesa defeated Big Spring's Steers, 4-2, at Big Spring yesterday in a District 3-AA encounter.

In winning the last three games, the Tornadoes have limited the opposition to only four runs. Righthander Jerry Phillips struck out nine batters in the seven inning game, but he walked nine also. Good support from the field, including one double play, and good clutch pitching kept the Steers from increasing their score. Two singles by Delbert Dickerson, centerfielder for Lamesa, was the best batting effort of the day.

Pitching for Big Spring was Martin, and he gave up 11 hits while his teammates were committing four errors afield.

Lamesa was behind 1-0, until the fourth inning when they scored two runs, but Big Spring tied the game in the bottom of the sixth frame. A two run outburst in their half of the seventh iced the game for Lamesa.

The victory for the Golden Tornadoes put them in a tie for second place in the league standings. On April 15 the baseball nine goes to San Angelo for a game there.

Texas Defeats SMU Diamond Team, 11-1

Yesterday at Dallas the Steers whipped Southern Methodist university, 11-1, for their sixth straight conference victory.

Bowling Results

McFarland-Maisen keglers won the Major Bowling league championship Tuesday night in the league's final scheduled play by beating the challenging Hemphill-Wells quintet in a 3-1 match.

The big feature of the night, however, was a towering 289 single game authored by George Tate of the Hub Clothiers. Tate spared in the first frame of his third game and then loosed ten successive strikes, finally leaving the ten pin that tied the lague high individual game rolled by Ben Brown. Tate's game made the third week in succession that a 289 game has been scored, Ben Brown having accounted for the other two.

In other final matches of the season the cellar dwelling Hub Clothiers dumped Mission Orange for a 3-1 count, and Walton's Men's store toppled Westerner Cafe by the same margin.

McFarland-Maisen garnered all team honors for the night, toppling 1,043 pins in a single game and compiling 2,922 pins for the three game series. Hub Clothiers and Walton's turned in respectable single games of 1,004.

In addition to Tate's 289 which gave him a triple of 654, the high individual series of the night, Jack Welch and Glenn Hennington, McFarland-Maisen, scored respective 235-636 and 226-627; Jay O'Keefe, Hemphill-Wells, 215-618; and Jim Buckner, Walton's, 225-600.

The final standings: McFarland-Maisen, 75 points; Hemphill-Wells, 71 points; Walton's Men's store, 63 points; Westerner Cafe, 61 points; Mission Orange, 49 points; and Hub Clothiers, 41 points.

Hub Clothiers were the defending 1948 title holders.

Huge Entry Field Slated For Meet

A full schedule of teams and individuals will splinter the pins each weekend of the fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament, beginning April 16 at Lubbock Bowling club.

Over the three weekends set aside for the tourney, 77 teams and 390 individuals will compete in the tournament sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal.

The bowlers will take to the alleys April 23-24, April 30 and May 1, and May 7-8. All team bowling will be rolled on Saturday of the three weekends, and singles and doubles games will be scheduled for Sunday.

Three classes of bowlers will be matched, with the classification depending on the skill of the individual or team, according to averages in regular league play. In the Class A division are the better keglers, and anyone can enter in this class. Those with averages between 150-170 may enter Class B, and bowlers with averages less than 150 fall into Class C.

Each team will consist of five men, and nearly every bowler on a team will enter the singles and doubles. The total scores of each individual in the three games will give the all-events total.

In addition to the money prizes in each division, trophies for team, doubles, and singles will be awarded those persons with the best scores. Another trophy will be awarded the all-events winner. Approximately $100 will go to the winning team, but the exact amount will not be known until all entrance fees have been received and expenses determined.

Entrance fees are $5 per man in Class A, and $4 per individual in Classes B and C. The all-events entry is an additional $1.

SERVICES ARE STILL BRAWLING

Air Force Lashes Out At Unification

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Air Force joined the Army today in publicly blasting the existing national defense setup as inadequate and expensive.

Secretary of Air Symington, appearing at a closed-door session of the Senate armed services committee Thursday, declared the present unification law "has not worked satisfactorily." Chairman Tydings (D-Md) made the testimony public today.

Greater Power Needed

"We have tried out this half-measure organization and there is unanimous agreement that it is inadequate," Symington said.

He added that former Secretary of Defense Forrestal "has constantly been a referee of three brawls as he tried to operate his job."

Like Secretary of the Army Royall, who said much the same thing in an open session of the committee yesterday, Symington said the civilian defense chief never will be able to ride herd on the quarreling Army, Navy and Air Force unless he is given much greater power.

Such authority, he said, "could save billions annually."

Super Carrier Mentioned

Both officials went considerably beyond the measure intended to tighten up the unification of the three services which is now before the Senate committee.

The bill would make the chairmanship of the joint chiefs of staff—now held temporarily by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—a permanent job. The chairman would be top military adviser to the President and secretary of defense.

As now set up the joint chiefs must make decisions by unanimous vote.

Secretary of Defense Johnson, back from a meeting of the joint chiefs with Eisenhower at Key West, Fla., made it clear at a news conference that any disagreements among the military high command must not be aired publicly.

Johnson said the Navy's proposed 65,000 ton supercharger the United States "was mentioned" at the Key West meeting, but he flatly, bluntly and repeatedly refused to say more than that on the subject.

The giant ship is the current center of the old and bitter dispute between the Air Force and Navy over the bombing roles each would have in a war.

Man Discovered Dead With Slashed Throat

CLEBURNE, April 13. (UP)—R. C. (Bob) Cleveland, 70, retired farmer and member of a prominent Johnson county family, was found dead at his home here early today with a slashed throat.

A butcher knife was found beside his body which was discovered by his wife. Peace Justice R. L. Derryberry returned an inquest verdict of suicide. The aged man had been in poor health and was despondent, relatives said.

Farm Program

get rid of these frozen or dried eggs in two years, we will take a big loss.

Let Price Go Down

"Under the new program, we would let the price of eggs to consumers go down and use the $50,000,000 to pay the farmer to go on producing and keep that price of 35 cents a dozen.

"That's al lthere is to the recommendations we have made to Congress."

The new program, if adopted would support storage crops, such as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts, through the present loan program. This work on the principle of holding surpluses out of the market and keeping prices at a level deemed fair to farmers.

But perishable crops — such as eggs and potatoes—would be allowed to sell in the market at what price they will bring. Then the farmers would be paid by the government the difference between what the crops sold for and the price the government determines to be a fair income to the producers.

LIGGETT & MYERS BOOSTED

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — A handful of stocks swung out of a narrow price pattern in the market today.

The general run of issues closed with a thorough mixture of small gains and losses.

Liggett & Myers tobacco again accounted for more than its share of the day's business. The stock went ahead 2 points and more on the heels of a 4-point break yesterday, in a second-day reacton to news the company planned to offer stockholders some additional shares.

Montgomery Ward, the prosperous mail order concern without a single vice-president to its name, dropped around two points at one time.

Electric Power & Light hit a 1949 high on word that a federal court has confirmed a dissolution plan.

Also up a good part of the day were Firestone, Studebaker, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Natural Gas, Phelps Dodge, Dow Chemical, Dupont, Philip Morris, Radio Corp., American Woolen, Standard Oil (N.J.), and Warner Bros.

Backward were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler (at a low for the year, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, General Electric, J. C. Penney, and United Air lines.

Some of the buying was against export sales. New crop positions were lower on profit taking with little interest in those months.

Futures closed 90 cents a bale higher to 25 cents lower than the previous close.

that production this year will overtake demand in all price fields. That should mean more downward price revisions aimed at attracting more new car buyers.

Easier availability of new cars also should force a lot of over age vehicles into the scrap heap. The Automobile Manufacturers' association estimates that nearly 13,000,000 of the cars now in use in the United States are 10 years of age or over.

Before the war the number in that age bracket was less than 5,000,000.

Horton Takes Witness Stand

G. K. Horton farmed his land in Deaf Smith county according to an accepted practice calculated to prevent blowing of his soil, he said when he took the witness stand in his own defense this morning in Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court.

Horton said he, immediately after he was informed of a heavy sandstorm Jan. 29 of 1947, hired two men and went to his Deaf Smith county farm and began "chiseling" it.

Clods Brought Up

He said he attached a Graham Hoeme plow to one of his tractors, three chisels on a four-row lister to the other tractor. He explained that he chiseled his land—"deeply so that clods were brought up and deposited on the ground's surface"—from "southeast to northwest" until a great acreage had been conditioned against blowing, "then listed an additional 20 acres."

Horton, under direct examination of G. H. Nelson of defense council, thus gave testimony counter to much of that introduced earlier by Charlie Hoover, plaintiff in a $2,500 damages suit against Horton. Hoover owns a farm adjoining Horton's on the eastward, and alleges that blowing sand from Horton's farm, due to Horton's alleged failure to farm so that his land could be kept under control, shifted over on the Hoover farm and buried wheat on 35 acres to depths ranging to a foot, and damaged other wheat to a lesser extent.

"One-Wayed" His Land

Cross-examination of Hoover was completed this morning by Nelson. Horton expects to undergo cross-examination this afternoon, either by George Dupree of Lubbock or James Witherspoon of Hereford.

Horton admitted that he "one-wayed" his land at some stages of his farming practices, particularly in efforts to pull down sand dunes so that he could "get over the place with the Hoeme equipped with sweeps." He said the dunes were on the property when he took over control of the farm. He one-wayed with 21-inch disks, not 12-inch discs as pleaded in the plaintiff's petition, he testified.

Horton testified further that when he bought his farming equipment for the Deaf Smith farm in 1944 he couldn't buy anything except his John Deere one-way. Farm equipment was difficult to procure then, he told the jury, and other farmers were having similar trouble. He borrowed a Hoeme chisel in the fall of 1946, then bought it in the summer of 1946, he said. He added that his tractors were "adequate" for plowing deeply enough to constitute "good farming practice."

15-Acre Strip Blew

Only a 15-acre strip of his property blew in the heavy windstorm of January, 1947, Horton testified.

Deaf Smith "generally blew" that day, especially in his section of the county, Horton said, adding that the storm was of "unusual velocity."

By his cross-examination, the defendant inferred that the damage resulted from an act of God, not from any contributing agency of the defendant.

Cross-questioned by Nelson, Tuesday, Hoover admitted that land of Robert Draper, adjoining Horton's a mile away also had blown badly about that time and that dust from that farm could have been deposited on the plaintiff's property. Hoover would not admit, however, that Horton's farming section was in "bad shape" when Horton took it over "either in 1944 or 1945."

"I am shocked and disturbed," Mahon said, "when I consider the vast sums we are spending and preparing to spend for national defense."

The taxpayer, he said, must look for consolation in the thought that the expenditures are proposed "in the name of national security and the peace and happiness of the people of America and the world—in short, to prevent World War III."

Republicans Name Members Of Policy Group In Effort To Speed Organization For 1950

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass) named three House members today to serve on the Republican national policy committee. Capitol Hill Republicans have now reached agreement with GOP Chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr., on 1950 campaign tactics.

Martin, the party's leader in the House, picked Reps. Leonard Hall of New York, Francis Case of South Dakota and Donald L. Jackson of California for the policy group set up by the GOP national committee at its January meeting in Omaha.

Senate members will be Owen Brewster of Maine, Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., of Massachusetts and Hugh Butler of Nebraska.

Indicaaions are that Republican governors will pick Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey Carlson of Kansas and either Arthur B. Langlie if Washington or some other far westerner for their representatives on the group.

Visits Rayburn's Office

The moves to speed the GOP vote drive organization included an informal agreement between Scott and Congress leaders on the roles of the Senate, House and national committees. They came in the wake of generally favorable political reaction to President Truman's two informal visits to Capitol hill yesterday.

In one of these Mr. Truman lunched with senators of both parties. Then, in a chatty, 475-word speech to the Senate, he expressed hope that history will judge as "not in vain" his "level best" efforts to serve the American people.

Three hours later Mr. Truman went back to Capitol hill for a visit in the office of House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex). It was from Rayburn's office, almost to the hour four years earlier, that Mr. Truman was called to the White House to learn of the death of President Roosevelt.

Better Feelings Sought

The President's visit to his old friends of the Senate was arranged by Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, the Democraaic national chairman. It was an obvious part of the administration's new efforts to create better feeling between the White House and Congress.

In fact, when Senator Robera A. Taft of Ohio, Chairman of the GOP policy committee, chatted with the President at the luncheon table the talk was all about ahe repairs on the White House. Taft spent four summers there when his father was president.

Taft told a reporter that he thought it "a good thing" for the President to mix around with the senators. But he added that he doesn't think such social visits "change anybody's mind about legislation."

No Harm Done

The Ohioan has been critical of what he calls the Presidena's "socialization" program of legislation.

Brewster, who heads the GOP senatorial campaign committee, summed up another Republican reaction to the President's visits.

"Maybe it didn't do him any good, but it didn't do him and harm," Brewster said.

The President had a brief word for most of the senators who milled around a committee room off the Senate floor to shake his hand.

When Senator Richard Russell (D-Ga) got up to give the President his seat, Mr. Truman cracked: "Don't do that, I'm not that old a man."

"No, the Georgia leader of Southern Democrats agreed, "but you are president."

A good Samaritan saunted by and volunteered his aid. As the pushers strained, he hopped into the driver's seat and slipped the automobile into gear.

The engine started running smoothly, and the pleased owner watched the car chug down the street and turn a corner.

Twenty minutes later — with no sign yet of his car or the good Samaritan—Hodge notified police. They issued a "stolen car" alert.

Plan To Boost Peace Efforts Of Nation Is Advanced

Big Easter Egg Party On White House Lawn For World Leaders Is Proposed By Writer

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 13—To Harry S. Truman, Blair House, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I have a small free idea to help you win world peace.

You aren't planning to have the annual Easter egg rolling party for children on the White House lawn this year. But why not hold an international egg rolling contest there for world diplomats?

They'd love it. Great men love games as much as children, but their games often leave people crying at the end. Such as war, the ancient sport of kings. Why not give the great men a simple game they can play in pure fun.

Let People Watch

Alert the fly boys of your Air force. Send your new B-36 bombers east and west and north and south to all the lands of the earth. Have them bring back the leaders of those lands, large or little—the victors, the vanquished, the bystanders.

After they fall asleep, let the Secret service men hide the eggs around the White House lawn. Bright and early next morning rout them out of bed for the great egg hunt.

And let the people of America mass outside the gates and watch while the great men frolic like schoolboys about the lawn, searching for eggs.

When the game is over, pick the ten that have found the most eggs. Put each of the ten behind a huge ostrich egg labeled "peace." At a signal the ten can then start furiously rolling an egg toward the finish line fifty yards away. The first chieftain across the line with his ostrich egg intact—that's the winner.

"Prize" Is Proposed

Then you make your announcement. Suppose the man who won the ostrich egg derby was Joe Stalin.

"Joe," you could say. "You're the winner, and every winner ought to have a prize. I suggest—and I think everyone else here will agree with me—that it be the South pole. For one year it is yours to do with as you will. You can propagandize the penguins, you can collect all the taxes there.

"But the winner usually throws a party, too, Joe. Suppose we all get together at your house next year, and play a game in the Kremlin? Any peaceful game your people like—except Russian roulette. And the winner will get the right to rule the South pole for the following year, and teach the penguins anything he wants to.

"What do you say Joe? Let's make it an annual event!"

And what could Joe, or any other leader, say—but "yes"? That is what the peoples of all lands want—peace at the top. Wars rarely start at the bottom.

It might be rough on the penguins, Harry, but the rest of the world would love it. Let's roll those peace eggs.

Philippine Government Plans New Move Against Huk Forces

By RODOLFO NAZARENO
United Press Staff Writer

MANILA, April 13—The Huks are at it again.

After lying low for a few months, the Communist-led nondescript army known as the Hukbalhap has regrouped and resumed its fight against Philippine government troops It is the same sporadic, guerrilla-type warfare that has kept the central Luzon "rice bowl" in turmoil for almost three years.

Brig. Gen. Alberta Ramos, new chief of the Philippine constabulary, calls the new clashes the "second phase" of the government operation to eliminate the Huks as a fighting force. He said it may take a "long, long time" to liquidate the Filipino dissidents, pointing out that after the Americans won the Spanish-American War, it took them seven or eight years to pacify the Filipino insurgents.

Huk activity dwindled after a spirited drive by the constabulary and Philippine army during the latter part of 1948 It turned out that Huk casualties in the campaign totaled only about 200 killed and that most of the rebels dispersed to safer places

Back In Action

The outlaws returned to the battle in January when more than 300 of them sacked and burned the town of Orani in Bataan Province. There have been frequent raids and clashes since, principally in Nueva Ecija, Pampanga and Bulacan provinces to the north of Manila.

The constabulary has some 200 companies committed to the new anti-Huk drive. Ramos said there will be no let-up until peace and order is restored.

The Huks, who wear no uniforms and avoid frontal fights whenever possible, appear to have been heartened by the success of the Chinese Communists. They are believed to have contact with Chinese Reds although there is no evidence of Chinese fighting in the Philippines.

The Hukbalahap (literally, Army of the People Against Japan) is now called the "Red" army, according to Lt. Col. Macario Asistio, constabulary intelligence officer. He said that every Huk squadron now has a "political director" who is superior to the unit military commander.

Strength Around 4,000

The present total armed strength of the Huks is estimated by the constabulary at 4,000 to 5,000 men An officer said that they are not as well armed as formerly and that there is no evidence of arms shipments to them from outside the Philippines.

The Communist Luis Taruc, whose death has been rumored repeatedly, is believed by the constabulary still to be at the head of the Huks. The Manila Times received a letter ostensibly signed by Taruc and dated March 25, criticizing President Elpidio Quirino for proposing a Pacific security alliance similar to the Atlantic pact.

Philippine officials do not consider the Huks a threat to national security. Looting and plundering of undefended rural towns is the Huk method of self-preservation.

One officer said a Communist victory in China would place Filipino Reds in a better position. The constabulary arrested 23 Manila Chinese Communists late last year. Others are believed to be keeping their organization intact while waiting for a favorable opportunity to resume their work.

Barkley Warns Of Party Split

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 13 (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley warned Alabama Democrats last night that any permanent party split would have tragic results.

He did not mention by name the States' Rights movement which carried Alabama and three other Southern states last November. Nor did he speak directly of the civil rights proposals which led to the party split.

But he did assert that "minority parties," however sincere their members, "are unwittingly playing into the hands of those who would destroy us."

He also declared the "equal rights" clause in the party platform must "mean equal rights to enjoy the fruits of our nation."

"Otherwise, it is but a sham and a pretense," he said, "and will be used against us."

Senators Speak

Barkley spoke at a $15-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson day dinner, held to raise funds for the national Democratic treasury.

Barkley was introduced by Senator Lister Hill (D-Ala), speaking from Washington via loudspeaker. Senator John Sparkman (D-Ala), also spoke briefly, also from Washington. Both had announced they would attend the dinner, but said they were detained in Washington by important legislation.

Gov. James E. Folsom and others prominent in state politics also were here, but some of the top-ranking party members were absent by choice.

Those not on hand included Gessner T. McCorvey, state Democratic chairman, and Col. Marion T. Rushton, Democratic national committeeman from Alabama. Both were prominent in the States' Rights movement last year.

Chris Blackwell, who opposed communist methods in the Electrical Trades Union at Manchester, England, was ousted from the union and has appealed his case.

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, April 13. — The Panhandle-South Plains Dairy show moves into its third day today following the first Guernsey dairy cattle sale ever held on the High Plains Tuesday.

Twelve of the finest registered heifers were sold at auction during the afternoon following a period of spirited competition among exhibitors of the breed. There were 53 entrants in the Guernsey division.

WEEK'S EVENTS AT SHOW
Wednesday—Past President's breakfast, Hilton Hotel.
Senior Jersey Class Judging, A. & M. Round-Up.
Jersey Sale.
Jersey Breeders Banquet.
Thursday—Senior Milking Shorthorn Judging.
Shorthorn Breeders Annual Banquet.
Friday—Senior Holstein Judging, Shorthorn and Holstein sale, Holstein Breeders Annual Banquet.

Breed Shows Progress

The High Plains Guernsey Breeders Association was founded just a little more than a year ago in Plainview. The officers for the first year were K. K. Kent, Portales, N. M., president; P. B. Harbin, Whitharral, vice-president, and Clifford Throckmorton, Levelland, secretary-treasurer.

The organization worked hard during the past year to bring more attention to the Guernsey dairy cow which they say is especially well suited to the Plains and Panhandle area. Several hundred visitors and buyers present at the show and sale Tuesday indicated that interest in Guernseys as a milk producer had increased during recent years.

During the morning period the judges chose the grand champion, senior champion and junior champion female and bull. In the female class Tri-Gables Jalna, owned by J. T. Lively & Son, Dallas, won grand champion and senior champion. Owen's Angel, owned by the Jerry Oven Guernsey farm, Enid, Oklahoma was junior champion.

The grand champion bull also the junior champion, was Cooper's Majesty Dave, owned by Tom Cooper, Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Other winners with the registered name of their entrants are listed below:

THE QUESTION

What is your reaction to the President's statement that the United States will use the atomic bomb against an aggressor if American security is threatened?

THE ANSWERS

WILLIAM A. BAY, 2501 Twenty-ninth, salesman for Montgomery Ward & Co. farm store: "I'd think it would be used if it would come to that point. He said he hoped it wouldn't ever have to be used. I certainly hope that we don't have to use it or it won't be used against us."

W. W. STAFFORD, 2505 Twenty-second, real estate business: "I think it's just exactly right. That's what I would do, to get it over with as quickly as we can."

HARRY SHARP, 2209 Main, cotton buyer: "Since we used it on Japan, I see no reason why we would not use it in another like situation. All wars are defensive once the first shot is fired and it would be in our defense if we used it."

MRS. LEVI NOBLE, 2124 Fifth wife of owner of State Drug store: "I would think so, too. If our security is threatened, that is the only thing to do. It would stop a war in its making."

HAROLD CHAPMAN, 2704 Twenty-ninth, partner in J. W. Chapman & Sons: "I definitely think that we should. I believe that no mercy would be shown us. The quickest and best way to stop an aggressor would be the use of the atomic bomb."

W. O. BOOHER, Lubbock route 6, plumber for Day and Night Plumbing Co.: "I think that's completely right, in my estimation, if it comes to that point. It's cheaper to get it over with quickly than to make it a long drawn out affair."

Awards For Traffic Safety Announced

CHICAGO, April 13. (AP)—Massachusetts and Washington, D. C., today were named grand award winners in the National Safety council's 1948 national traffic safety contest.

Five other states and 18 other cities won individual honors in the annual nationwide competition in which all 48 states and 578 cities participated.

The top state awards was the second won by Massachusetts, which previously held first position in 1937. It also was the second victory for Washington as the city most deserving of the grand award. It first won the award in 1946.

The winning state and city were selected for doing, in the opinion of the judges, the most that could be done practicably for traffic safety.

REAL OVERPARKING

DETROIT. (U.P.)—Louis Wolfe wants to collect a $300 parking lot fee. A man left his car in Wolfe's parking lot and boarded an airplane for a trip. The man hasn't returned—and that was two years ago.

Quick Okay Of Housing Bill Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—Foes and backers of a multi-billion dollar long range housing program joined today in predicting it will pass the Senate easily.

"The real fight again this year will be in the house, as it has been for the last four years, and not in the Senate," said Senator Maybank (D-SC), floor manager of the bill.

Debate Is Slated

The Senate was due to start debate on the measure today if it completed action on a deficiency appropriation bill in time.

A Republican senator who fought a similar bill passed by the Senate last year told a reporter privately that he and others who are against this year's bill know they haven't a chance of blocking it.

Both the 1948 bill and another passed by the Senate in 1946 died in the House, mainly because of opposition there to public housing.

This year's bill provides for construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years. President Truman wants 1,050,000 built over the next seven years.

Under the Senate bill, the federal government would contribute up to $308,000,000 a year to help local housing authorities finance the project over a 40-year period.

The measure also would authorize a $1,500,000,000 slum clearance program, a research program aimed at spurring home construction by cutting costs and a $262,500,000 four-year farm home program.

Despite their conviction that the Senate will pass the bill, foes are ready with various amendments.

Kids In Cemetery Convince Landlord

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 13. (AP) — "Any Kids?" asked a landlord.

The query was put to a Westover Field soldier, desperately seeking an apartment.

"Yes," replied the soldier with a sad expression. "But they're in the cemetery."

The soldier's wife brushed away a tear.

They got the apartment by paying six months' rent in advance.

Then they drove to the cemetery, picked up their three children, who were in on the ruse, and marched into the apartment.

The landlord objected to the youngsters. The parents brushed him off by waving the rental receipt.

Eisenhower Takes Georgia Vacation

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is taking a rest at the August National Golf club.

He flew here Tuesday aboard the "Sacred Cow," the C-54 airplane formerly used by President Truman.

With him were Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff; Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, Chief of Naval Operations; and Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad, Air Force operations chief.

Eisenhower was met here by Mrs. Eisenhower, who came by train from New York City. They will spend several days at the Augusta national course.

Eisenhower has been at Key West, Fla., recuperating from a recent illness. He is expected to return to Columbia in about two weeks.

Three Programs Draw Large Attendance

Community Singing Conducted At Schools' Music Festival

An estimated 2,850 persons attended music festivals held Tuesday night in three Lubbock schools.

Simultaneous programs beginning at 7:30 p. m. were presented at Lubbock Senior High school, O. L. Slaton Junior high, and J. T. Hutchinson Junior high.

The programs at all three places were the same, and included many old favorite vocal selections so that community singing, with the audience participating, would be feasible.

Enthusiastic reception of the numbers presented by the school students was reported from each of the three festivals, as well as genuine enjoyment in taking part in the community singing.

Music teachers in charge of the program at Senior High school included Mrs. Elois Elliott, Miss Mary Hooten, Mrs. Carrie Reid, Miss Ethelyn Schmidt, Miss Mary Hooten, Mrs. Carrie Reid, Miss Ethelyn Schmidt, Miss Bernice Bay, Mrs. Mary O. Wilpitz, and Mrs. Mary Clepper.

Teachers in charge at J. T. Hutchinson Junior high included, Miss Dimple Watson, Miss Marjorie Byrd, Miss Nell Goodloe, and Mrs. Grace Belich.

Teachers in charge at O. L. Slaton Junior high included Miss Imogene Webster, Mrs. Laverne

Agreement On Plans Pushed

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)—House and Senate tried today for a quick compromise over the $200,000,000 difference in their foreign aid bills.

Chairman Kee (D-WVa) of the House foreign affairs committee figured the matter could be settled swiftly. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee said it might take two of three days.

Five members from each committee buckled down to the task. They got the job after the House okayed a $5,380,000,000 bill yesterday by a better than 7 to 1 margin—354 to 48. The Senate passed its own higher-priced bill last Friday by a 10 to 1 edge, 70 to 7.

Cash Comes Later

Both measures are pointed in the same direction—continuation of the European recovery program for another 15 months, until June 30, 1950. The cash will have to come along later in a separate appropriation bill.

The Economic Cooperation administration, which runs the recovery program, asked for a $5,580,000,000 bill, and that is what the Senate voted: $1,150,000,000 of it to tide ECA over until June 30, $4,280,000,000 for the next year, and contract authority up to $150,000,000.

The House kept the $4,280,000,000 for next year intact. But it deleted the contract authority, and it cut $50,000,000 from the fund for the remainder of this fiscal year.

However, the House tossed in an investment guarantee feature which might mean an extra $272,000,000 in private aid. Under it, the government would grant private business certain guarantees up to that figure for investing in European recovery projects. The government wouldn't guarantee anybody against ordinary business risks. An investor would have a guarantee that he could turn into dollars any profits made in foreign currency. And he would have a guarantee against losses caused by confiscation, riot, war or revolution.

Wouldn't Cut Nickel

The House voted for just what its foreign affairs committee recommended. It wouldn't cut a nickel below.

Three times various House members tried to hack away some of the funds. Three times the House said nothing doing. The voters weren't even close. And all other amendments were toppled like ten pins.

Yet there was some heavy arguing. Even some of those who wanted to keep ECA in business said it

JOHN RANKIN HAS TECHNIQUE

Nosing Through Fan Mail Of Congressman Very Revealing

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Nosing through a congressman's fan mail is a lot of fun. It also is very revealing.

You learn how old-timers like John Elliott Rankin of Mississippi manage to stick around on assignment from home for as long as 29 years.

By looking over hundreds of letters to and from constituents you get the answer.

The little white-haired Rankin has a hair-trigger temper which he displays by leaping out of his seat on the Democratic aisle in the House to cut down anyone who oppose him. But when he writes to the folks back in the first congressional district of Mississippi he makes a noise like a kitten.

It's "Dear Bill" and "Dear Maizy" to the people he knows. It's "My Dear Friend" to those he doesn't. He knows most of 'em.

Money For Lighting

Much of the mail going from room 358 in the old House office building to Ol' Miss concerns rural electrification. Brother John pulls out the saops on that one. He tells his voters how he talked Congress out of a half billion dollars for a program that eventually will put a light bulb instead of a lantern in every cow barn in the country.

He also mentions sometimes that Chicago wouldn't have been burned to a crisp in 1871 by Mrs. O'Leary's clumsy bossie if Mrs. O' L. could have flipped a switch instead of turning up a wick. Brother John mentions that in 1934, only 743,954 farms out of 6,812,350 had lights; that in 1948 that number had increased to 4,019,476.

Friends Get Folksy

The congressman takes the folks' problems to heart and very often does something about them. In the case of rural electrification, he builds a fire under the local plant manager for the light company.

His friends at home get folksy with him, too.

The other day he got a wire from a delighted new user of electricity which read "I'm lit up tonight." Meaning, of course that his lights were on.

The man, a Clyde Powell of Nettleton, Miss., followed this up by letter, saying thanks and mentioning that he planned to dig a fish pond on his place. Rankin answered that he was glad to serve and told Clyde that when he got the pond dug, he'd see to it that there would be some fish in it, adding, "what good's a fish pond without fish?"

One gentleman started his thank-you letter this way:

"Dear sir: Well, John, my pal, we finally got our lights and thank you. It's the greatest invention since the windmill."

Votes Get Action

To a woman named Zadie, the congressman wrote and thanked her for thanking him and P. S.'d that he could remember when he was "an orphan boy and lived right across the road from your place and toted water from the spring about 300 feet away — up that steep hill."

Another person, who signed himself "your friend" and followed it with his name wound up his letter, written on pastel green paper: "and John if I can ever do anything for You, just let me know."

Most of the letters are handwritten in pencil and on schoolroom note paper. They get action, but none of them quicker than one woman. She said she had had her house wired for three years and even had a meter, which "is no good without electricity."

"I'll have you know," she said, "that there are three voters in this house."

The congressman left a committee hearing to answer that one.

No More Gift Nags, Police Head Rules

NEW YORK, April 13. (U.P.)—Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien wants children to stop writing him for horses.

The commissioner explained that Michael Hewitt, 11, made a plea for a retired police horse on March 11. Michael received his horse and the word got out.

"Since then we've received 1,100 requests from all over the nation," O'Brien said. "But we don't have any more horses to give away."

Men Buried Under Ton Of Dirt Rescued, Expected To Recover

ELSA, April 13 (U.P.) — Two men were buried alive for an hour and a half yesterday, but physicians believed today they would recover without serious effect.

A cave-in trapped Pablo Escobar, Francisco Hernandez and Leonardo Galvan at the bottom of a sewer trench where they were working behind a ditching machine.

Galvan was able to dig himself out.

Onlookers In Way

Volunteer workmen and construction crewmen worked frantically to free the other two from the ton of soft earth, hampered by almost unbearable heat.

Hordes of curious onlookers crowded up to the edge of the trench, causing the rescue workers to fear another cave-in. Finally a large fan was hooked up to blow fresh air into the pit where the men were digging.

Escobar, 44, reportedly was unconscious and near death when he was removed from the entrenchment but improved rapidly after he was taken to a clinic.

Audiometer Tests Being Held At Overton Elementary School

Pure tone audiometer tests are being given to students of M. C. Overton Elementary school this week by Ernest H. Rolston, educational consultant of the Texas State Department of Health, School Service division. With the assistance of Mrs. Bennie Sanford, elementary school nurse, these "hearing" tests are being given as another step in the experiment in health examinations being conducted this semester at Overton school, Superintendent R. W. Matthews said.

According to Rolston, 50 per cent of adult deafness could be prevented if detected in childhood, and the method used in testing the Lubbock children is the most modern. The full program of conservation of hearing being conducted throughout the state of Texas has the endorsement of the Committee on Maternal and Child Health of the State Medical association of Texas, Rolston said. The audiometer tests were also endorsed by the Lubbock Public School committee on health.

Students Are Tester

Equipment brought to Lubbock by Rolston enabled him to test up to forty students at once, a method formerly impossible, since each student had to be tested individually. Previously group testing had been possible only in the area of hearing of speech, but the pure tone equipment makes possible testing throughout the human hearing range, Rolston demonstrated with receivers through which students hear some low pitched buzzing sounds and some high pitched whistling sounds. Charts were provided on which students could check whether or not they heard groups of sounds.

The pure-tone audiometer used by Rolston provided individual ear phones for each child in the room. Experience in Texas thus far is that from four to six children per hundred need immediate medical attention on account of their ears. This process is one of finding which children need attention, and has the educational advantage of giving better opportunity to those who do not hear. The machine test also detects loss of hearing sufficient to interfere with the learning process, and is completely non-diagnosis, Rolston said.

Equipment Is Installed

Many of the larger schools of Texas have installed pure tone audiometer testing since it makes it possible to test the hearing of all the children in a school system within a year, Rolston said.

Types of audiometers are being studied now in the Lubbock school, Superintendent Matthews said, with the hope that equipment might be added to the schools of Lubbock.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Texas Senator May Be "Poet Laureate"

AUSTIN, April 13 (U.P.) — Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano may campaign for poet laureate of the Texas legislature some day.

Ashley, author of a book of bucolic poems (about Texas, of course), put his thoughts about women serving on juries into verse yesterday during Senate debate on the bill.

The poem:

"Oh, where is the mother of yesterday
Who prayed to God in her own quiet way,
Who loved her home and for what it stood
And stayed at home like a mother should;
Who blessed each day with her saintly grace
And made a shrine of the old home place;
Who knew her duty in God's great plan
Was to raise her children and love her man.
Oh, praise to that mother so staunch and true,
The guiding light to me and you.
Her strength supports this capitol dome,
And I'm thankful to know that she's still at home."

C.C.N.Y. Students Picketing Over Racial Bias Breaking Up

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — Peace now reigns over the campus of the College of the City of New York, where student strikers staged a near-riot two days ago.

Easter and Passover vacations, starting tonight, will bring a five-day freedom from picketing.

Fifty pickets from ranks of night school students joined last night in the demonstration against two faculty members the strikers accuse of racial bias.

Absenteeism at classes last night ranged from ten to 33 per cent, college authorities said.

Gay Spirit Prevails

Students at C. C. N. Y. branches off the campus have not joined the strike.

Carnival spirit prevailed yesterday as 300 students picketed with a spring fever manner.

Coeds petted and fed policemen's horses. Strikers fraternized with the 80-man police patrol, whom some students had called "cossacks" on Monday. Many students basked in the sun, listening to a college band.

There were guitar players and folk dancers, in contrast to the fist swingers, catcallers and chanters of Monday. A student was given a court summons for violating a ban on loudspeaking equipment.

College spokesmen said about 1,500 of the 7,230 day students remained away from classes yesterday, but strike leaders claimed 65 per cent were absent. There are 5,833 night school students.

Anti-Semitism Charged

The strike—sponsored by the student council—is directed against Prof. William E. Knickerbocker, head of the romance languages department, whom the demonstrators accuse of anti-semitism; and William C. Davis, an economics instructor, accused of white-negro segregation in a dormitory.

The charges already have gone through official investigation, and the C. C. N. Y. president, Dr. Harry N. Wright, has not yielded to the strikers' demands for immediate open trials and removal of the two men.

A committee, appointed by Dr. Wright and the Associate alumni of the college, criticized the strike which started Monday, but announced last night it is continuing its inquiry into the bias charges.

The committee said that when the strike is over it plans to hold an open hearing at the college on these and other charges of discrimination.

Doughnuts Fly As Autos Ram Bakery

BALTIMORE, April 13 (AP) — Mrs. Florence Sonnenburg hopes it will be warm and sunny today.

A bus and a passenger car collided in front of her small bakery shop and home Tuesday. Both vehicles leaped the sidewalk with the bus ramming its big nose through the front display window of the shop and the car crashing through front and basement windows of her adjoining home.

Police said the bus did the most damage. It jumped the curb, sheared a gas lamp pole and charged into the bakery sending doughnuts, pies and pastries flying every which way. None was injured.

Photographer Claims Pole Flight Record

TUCSON, Ariz., April 13. (U.P.)—The Air Force Reserve training center here boasts it has an aerial photographer who claims the world's record for flights over the geographical North Pole.

He is Tech. Sgt. Glenn Y. Robinson, who made the trips over the polar region on photographic missions with the Air Force during World War II. During 800 hours logged in Arctic Flying, he made more than 20 flights over the pole.

Robinson was a crew member of the B-29 that crossed the North Pole Oct. 24, 1946, and determined the pole's position, for the first time in history, by sighting on stars.

Strong Boy Muscles In On Ohio Meters

COLUMBUS, O., April 13. (U.P.)—Detectives here believe that a husky farm boy held on charges of breaking into parking meters just doesn't know his own strength.

Officers admit it's no trouble to tear open the meters with burglar tools, but they claim Ervin F. Stewart did it with his bare hands.

He was picked up with 430 nickels in his pockets, police said.

Detective Stacy Hall, a former professional wrestler, tried to break off a meter with his hands and couldn't budge it.

Man Supporting Pair Of Wives Is Charged With Embezzlement

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13. (AP)—Curly-haired David Prager told police he embezzled thousands of dollars to support two wives and a pair of basketball teams.

Chief of Detectives M. A. Hinds said the dark, husky cashier of a Memphis coal company described his activities to police in a statement yesterday. Prager was arrested on an embezzlement warrant Monday as he stepped off a plane from Los Angeles.

The 29-year-old sports fan had his wives separated by almost the width of the continent, Hinds said—one in Los Angeles and the other in Memphis. Both basketball teams he sponsored were made up of Memphis amateurs.

Son By First Wife

Prager said he had taken $19,000 from the Hunt-Berlin Coal company before he left town late last month. A company audit, however, placed the figure at $27,762.

Hinds gave this account of the case:

Prager, who began working at the coal company in February, 1948, made a salary of $200 a month. He has been married to his Memphis wife two and a half years. They have a year-old son, Jerry.

Last January he married again, in Hernando, Miss., and took his wife, Mrs. Anita Coburn Prager, to Los Angeles to live.

Police Waiting

He adopted a plan of spending his week-ends in Los Angeles and the remainder of his time in Memphis. Meanwhile, he feted the two basketball teams in Memphis hotels, took them on road trips, and gave them presents when they won games.

Before he left home last month he told his Memphis wife, Mrs. Annie Prager, about his financial affairs and his other wife, and told her to notify his employer. Police were waiting for him when he returned.

In Los Angeles, Prager's west coast wife told reporters, "I still love him."

She said she planned to come to Memphis.

"I'll do all I can to help him," she declared, "but I don't know what I can do."

She said she could "hardly believe" the news that Prager had a wife in Memphis.

RITE TYKE—Dressed in the robes of a penitent, this little fellow is one of the many children taking part in a traditional ceremony marking the celebration of Holy Week in French Catholic churches. He holds a silver goblet containing a sponge with which he has just accomplished the rite of "washing the feet" of Christ in his hometown of Perpignan.

German Court Rules Death For Cannibal

BREMEN, Germany, April 13. (AP)—The death sentence was imposed Tuesday on a 39-year-old shep's steward, Bobo Fries, for the murder of two young boys. He was convicted by a German court after tesaifying he slew the youngsters in 1945 and 1947 while possessed with "the urge to kill someone."

Fries also told the court he cut up the body of one of his victims and served some of the flesh to his family, telling them it was pork.

The Roman emperors Trajan, Hadrian, Marcus Aurelius and Theodosius were Spaniards.

Last American Cavalry Outfit Reorganized As Infantry Unit

By RUTHERFORD POATS
United Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, April 13 — America's last cavalry division has passed into the record books marking the end of an era of mounted soldiers who made history in the conquest of the American western plains.

The old 1st Cavalry Division, currently on occupation duty in central Honshu, is being reorganized as an infantry division and has been renamed the "1st Cavalry Division (Infantry)."

The only horses remaining are those on the division's big yellow shoulder patch insignia.

Under the new organization, one regiment, the 12tht Cavalry, and two brigade headquarters, the 1st and 2nd Cavalry Brigades, were inactivated. Many smaller units were renamed.

Great Combat Unit

This cavalry division became one of the outstanding combat units in World War II. The 1st Cavalry Division captured the Admiralty Islands in early 1944 and then moved on to take part in the Leyte and Luzon Island section in the Pihilippines campaign. Since Sept. 2, 1945 ,the first day division troops landed near Yokohama, the unit has been on occupation duty in Japan. It garrisons 10 Japanese prefectures in the Tokyo-Yokohama vicinity, an area of approximately 23,600 square miles, which is populated with more than 12,000,000 persons.

The 12th Cavalry Regiment and its combat record of distinguished service faded into the past when the regiment was inactivated under the new organization. This regiment, which was organized on Feb. 2, 1901, took two tours of duty in the Philippines from 1903 to 1905, and from 1909 to 1911, and later returned from its overseas tour to the United States to guard the Mexican border during the Pancho Villa uprisings in 1914 and 1916.

In February, 1916, the regiment's first squadron was ordered to the Panama Canal Zone, where it stayed until 1921. The 12th Cavalry joined the 1st Cavalry Division in 1932, replacing the 1st Cavalry Regiment, which was reorganized into a mechanized unit.

Fought On Leyte

Fifty days of continuous combat against the Japanese in the rugged, mud-soaked mountains of Western Leyte, Philippines, was just one of its combat accomplishments in World War II. It was the 12th Cavalry that shoved on through to deliver the final blows to the stubborn Jap forces on Leyte. A unit of the 12th Cavalry fought from room to room in the successful battle for the Manila hotel in early 1945.

Both brigades in the division, the 1st and 2nd Cavalry Brigades, have been abolished in the new triangular 1st Cavalry Division. This brings to a close the existence of one of the oldest cavalry units in the American Army. Headquarters Troop of the 1st Cavalry Brigade celebrated its 115th anniversary on March 2, 1949. Organized in 1833, it was then known as Company H, the Regiment of Dragoons, first official United States Army cavalry unit.

Although relatively young—the 1st Cavalry Division was organized on Sept. 13, 1921—the division still has left three of the most famous regiments in the United States Army—the 5th, 7th and 8th Cavalrys. The 5th Cavalry was organized in 1855 under the command of Lieut. Col. Robert E. Lee. Both organized in 1866, the 7th and 8th Cavalrys rode over the western plains in grim pursuit of warring Indian tribes. Five troops of the 7th Cavalry died with George Armstrong Custer at the Little Big Horn in 1876.

Gulf Oil Engineer To Meet Students

Paul Evans, district engineer of the Gulf Oil company, from Hobbs, N. Mex., will be at Texas Tech next Tuesday to interview students who are interested in jobs with his company.

Mrs. Jean Jenkins, head of the Tech Placement service, said Evans would hold a general meeting in the Engineering auditorium Tuesday at 5 p.m. He will talk with students who have majored in chemical, mechanical and petroleum engineering. Mrs. Jenkins also said there was a possibility of some summer jobs for junior students.

Students who wish to make an appointment for an interview should stop by the Placement office on the second floor of the Administration building.

Von Stroheim Became Actor By Accident

"Man You Loved To Hate" Of Silent Screen Hits Actors

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 13—Erich Von Stroheim, the famed "man you loved to hate" of the silent screen, is back in Hollywood and as cantankerous as ever.

When asked what he thinks of actors, he replied:

"They are ungrateful, egotistical (censored)."

He explained his views on their lack of gratitude: "You can do everything in the world for them —and they won't even send you a penny postcard at Christmas. I know; as a director, I have made many of them famous overnight, and have never heard from them afterwards."

Egotism Necessary

About actors' egotism: "They have to be egotistical to be able to make faces in front of 50 machinists, electricians, cameramen, directors and assistant directors. They have to be able to say to themselves, 'I can do this better than other people.' Otherwise, they ar not actors."

When I saw the Austrian-born film veteran at his temporary home atop the Hollywood hills, he admitted to being an actor, but by accident. He said he was enlisted when studios were looking for "monstrosities" to portray German officers during the first world war. Also pressed to duty were Wallace Beery and Bull Montana.

He performed the same function in the last war. He played Rommel in "Five Graves to Cairo" and did what he called a "lousy little bit" as a Nazi officer in "North Star."

He is proud of his other functions besides acting. "They talk about these modern geniuses who write, direct and star in their pictures," he scoffed. "I did that in nearly all my pictures here from 1918 to 1929."

On Nazi Blacklist

Still a U. S. citizen, Von Stroheim has made his residence in France for the past 11 years. He was absent during the occupation, and a good thing, too; he later found out he was high on the Nazi liquidation list. Now here to portray a film director in "Sunset Boulevard," he said he would remain only long enough to store up some American dollars to spend in France.

He explained his preference for life in France—

"In Hollywood, you're only as good as your last picture. And if you don't have a last picture, you're no good at all. In France, they remember and honor you if you did a great picture 50 years ago."

Does he ever miss Hollywood?

"I lived here from 1914 to 1936. That's a lot of California.

He added that every time he comes to California he gets ill. "It's the subtropical climate or something," he said. "I can always tell I'm sick because I can't drink. This is a source of great pain to me. I'm a man who likes his whisky and port wine and so forth."

U. S. Tribunal Convicts Nine Former Nazis Of Plundering

NUERNBERG, April 13. (U.P.)—Nine of Adolf Hitler's policymakers or executives were convicted today of plundering the material resources and cultural treasures of countries overrun by the Nazis.

An American tribunal trying 21 Nazi diplomats or government officials neared the end of its 100-page verdict on eight charges of war criminality.

Eighteen Germans had been convicted in the last three days on one or more of the eight charges. Two were found innocent and freed.

Those convicted on the plundering charge, in addition to other convictions, were:

Lutz Von Schwerin Krosig, finance minister—guilty of plundering funds and equipment.

Paul Pleiger, chief of coal, iron and steel production — guilty of plundering industrial equipment from all the overrun countries.

Karl Rasche, chairman of the board of directors of the Dresdner bank—guilty of plundering funds and equipment from invaded countries.

Wilhelm Keppler, Hitler's economic adviser—guilty of aiding in the seizure of Jewish-owned property in eastern Europe.

Hans Lammer, chief of Hitler's Reichschancellery—guily of ruthless plundering in Russia and looting art treasures elsewhere in occupied Europe.

Argument Is Refuted

Wilhelm Stuckhart, state secretary in the interior ministry—guilty of looting livestock and agricultural products from invaded countries.

Paul Koerner, deputy to Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering—guilty of looting industrial equipment from Russia.

The court dismissed defense arguments that the present allied occupation of Germany and allied reparations program also violated the Hague convention.

It said there was a great difference between Germany's "belligerent" occupation of its neighbors and the allied post-war program for rehabilitating Germany and the countries it "devastated and despoiled."

HEAVY, HEAVY—GUESS AGAIN—Mary Toohill is not a lady weightlifted. What she's holding over her head is the world's lightest solid, weighing only eight pounds. It's a big chunk of the new plastic foam developed by Westinghouse scientists as an insulating material. It's made by baking a molasses-like resin until it expands to 100 times its original volume. Even lighter than some gases, the new material weighs from 10 to 20 times less than fluffy pie meringue.

Brazil Missionary Addresses Baptists

Presenting a graphic account of life in the Brazilian jungle, Mrs. Clem Hardy, Southern Baptist missionary to the Amazon valley of Brazil, spoke before the First Baptist Men's brotherhood Tuesday evening, Lattimore Ewing, educational director, reported.

Mrs. Hardy's work required that she live abroad a launch while traversing the Amazon, covering a territory three times the size of Texas.

Headquarters of the Mission was established at Manaos, Brazil, 1,000 miles inland on the Amazon river which is navigable over 2,000 miles, Mrs. Hardy said.

A school with 125 pupils, employing five teachers was maintained at Manaos, 2,300 miles from the nearest other Christian school, Mrs. Hardy related.

Mrs. Hardy is now on leave from the Brazilian post which she has held for the last 13 years.

She was introduced by Mrs. Bill Mead, associational W.M.U. Young People's leader.

Smallpox Scars? Use Sandpaper On Them

ATLANTA, April 13 (AP) — An Atlanta plastic surgeon today told how to get rid of smallpox scars—just sandpaper them away.

Dr. John R. Lewis explained that he used No. 5 sandpaper to rub off the outer layers of skin. The skin is allowed to heal between "sandings."

He said it heals so smoothly and with so little after effects that one man underwent the operation one-day, and was at the ball game the next.

ought to operate on a smaller scale.

Some foes of the program said it was "economic folly," that if such spending continues American housewives may need a bushel basket of bills before long to buy a bit of bread.

Backers said the ECA program is one of the best investments in history, that it works for peace.

The only change the House accepted went into the bill Monday. That was intended to assure small business a fair and reasonable share of ECA orders. The Senate has a somewhat different provision to take care of small business in its bill.

RUSH STOPS CARDS

HOUSTON, April 13. (AP)—Bob Rush fashioned the best pitching job of the Chicago Cubs exhibition tour last night by blanking the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 0 with a four-hitter.

Jester To Be Host At Houston Dinner

AUSTIN, April 13 (U.P.)—Gov. Beauford Jester will play host at an "opportunity drive" dinner scheduled April 19 in Houston.

The dinner will honor volunteer workers in the projected savings bond drive set May 16 to June 30.

Texas' share of the national quota was set at $36,950,000, Jester said.

Wreck Victim Unconscious

Dalton Dwayne Mimms, 27, a farmer residing south of Ralls in Owens community, remained in a critical condition today in Lubbock Memorial hospital after suffering serious injuries in a car-truck collision Tuesday afternoon on the outskirts of Ralls.

Mimms had not regained consciousness this morning, it was reported.

Hospital attendants said that extent of injuries had not been determined, since his critical condition would not permit immediate X-ray examination. Most serious injuries apparently were on the head and face, although he suffered bruises and possible internal injuries on the back and chest.

Had Started To Turn

The scene of the accident, which occurred at 2:55 p. m. Tuesday, was the intersection of the south edge of Ralls where Highway 62 turns north to Floydada, bisecting Highway 82, which runs east and west from Lubbock toward Crosbyton and Dickens. A farm highway continues south of the east-west highway.

Mimms, driving alone in a 1948 Ford sedan, was headed west on Highway 82. Just before reaching the intersection, he signalled for a left turn off the highway onto the southbound farm road, which led to his home several mlies south of Ralls. Mimms, however, rather than turning off the highway onto the farm road, was turning to cut across one corner of a service station lot, located on the southeast corner of the highway intersection, the official investigation showed.

Shoved Off Highway

A 1945 International truck and semi-trailer, loaded with cattle, and driven by Joe Edward Gipson, 41, of Roaring Springs, was headed east on Highway 82. Onlookers and highway patrol records indicated that Mimms was turning to his left in front of the heavy truck, which struck the passenger vehicle in the right center side.

Investigating highway patrolmen reported that the impact drove the front of the truck almost into the car and pushed it sideways approximately 100 feet east and slightly south of the intersection. The two vehicles finally came to rest in front of a small cafe east of the service station.

Mimms was thrown out of the car, and caught underneath and dragged almost the whole distance. His head, face, and eyes were seriously injured as a result.

He was brought to Lubbock by Marr Funeral home ambulance.

Mimms' car was heavily damaged by the impact, the engine of the heavy truck knifing about half-way through the two-door machine. The front seat was torn from the car by the impact.

Mimms, unmarried, lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Mimms, and was engaged in farming. He was in service for about three years during World War II. He had lived in the area most of his life.

The truck driven by Gipson was owned by C. E. Goodwin of Glenn, in northern Dickens county.

Highway patrolmen indicated tonight that no charge has been filed.

Mr. Busher Not To Run In Rich Derby

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—Mr. Busher has failed to regain his "racing edge" and so another big name is out of the Kentucky Derby.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, owner of the Main Chance farm, told an adviser yesterday that the hard-luck son of War Admiral definitely will not face the barrier in the Louisville classic May 7.

This is the second withdrawal of one of the leading derby contenders in the last ten days.

On April 5 Blue Peter, champion two-year-old of 1948 and winter book derby favorite at 3-1, was pulled out because of an internal ailment.

Dallas Ford Workers Threaten To Strike

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—CIO union workers at the Ford motor plant here favor quiting work unless they receive a new contract by July 15.

L. P. Morton, president of Ford Local 870, United Automobile Workers, said yesterday, "No contract, no work." He said the workers' resolution is part of a nation-wide move to forestall extension of their contract beyond the July 15 expiration date.

Hockley Soil Meeting Set

LEVELLAND, April 13. (Special)—A meeting of the educational committee of Hockley County Soil Conservation districts has been set for Thursday night, 8 o'clock, in the county courtroom. The announcement was made Monday by B. Forman of Anton, chairman of the SCD board of supervisors.

Arrangements for the educational group meeting were made by County Agent Artie B. Forehand, chairman of the committee.

Forehand has issued invitations to J. W. Evans and the Agricultural Concervation administration committeemen; Davis Pounds, coordinator, and Veterans vocational school instructors; Horace Gilmore of the Farmers Home administration; James A. Foy, assistant county agent; high school vocational agriculture teachers; Soil Conservation service men; chamber of commerce and service club agriculture chairman.

Plans Approved

Setting of the committee meeting was the highlight of the SCD supervisors' April meeting. All five of the supervisors—Forman, H. T. Harrell of Levelland. C. D. Bond of Ropesville, Leon Lawson of Pettie and P. C. Caddell of Sundown — attended. Marshall W. Howard, district conservationist with Soil Conservation service, came over from Lubbock to the supervisors' session.

Twelve farmer-district cooperative agreements and complete coordinated soil conservation plans for Hockley farms were approved by the board. The 12 farms take in a total of 4,887 acres.

Board approval was stamped on agreements and plans on the following farms: Maple Wilson (R. J. Comer, operator), a one-labor farm in the Sundown area, E. R. Williams and Owen Williams, whose farms take in an entire section southwest of Anton; Lee C. O'Neil's 1,280 acres southwest of Anton; the B. A. Warren 354 acres south of Levelland (Rex Warren, operator);

Delegate Named

John W. Christian, 708 acres north of Levelland with Ray D. Willis as operator of two of the four labors; A. R. Thomasson (R. B. Chesser, operator), 354 acres; Vernon Taylor, 177 acres; M. W. Jackson, 177 acres; Mrs. Nettie L. Courtney (Dee Courtney, operator), 121 acres; D. D. Mahon, 708 acres.

The Thomasson, Taylor, Jackson Courtney and Mahon farms are located in the southeast part of the Hockley Soil Conservation district.

Forman was named at the meeting as the Hockley Soil Conservation committee's delegate to the District Conservation convention in Plainview on May 5. At this meeting a man from the Texas Plains will be nominated for a place on the State Soil Conservation board.

Other members of the Hockley Soil Conservation committee as selected recently by County Judge LaVern I. McCann include Bond, Lawson and Candell.

A dozen interested farmers and businessmen attended the grass planting demonstration on the Lawson farm last week. The district was assisted by J. C. Ebersole of Abilene, agronomist with Soil Conservation service. Much interest is being shown in revegetation and a number of farmers are planning to plant a cover of sudan on land that will be planted to grass in the spring of 1950, the sunpervisors reported.

Several farmers who are cooperating with the district and have sufficient cover on their land to prevent wind erision have requested assistance for planting, grass this spring.

Harpooning Whales Rapped As Wasteful

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13 (U.P.)—Sufficient whale meat to feed Europe for more than three months on present rations is wasted every year in the Antarctic, a Scottish whaling authority said in a report published in the Canadian Geographical Journal.

Dr. Harry E. Little said the waste amounted to "hundreds of millions of dollars of red-blooded meat, as tender and flavorsome as prime beef," and could be eliminated if whalers forsook the explosive harpoon in favor of more humane electrocution.

Little said he was opposed to the present use of explosive harpoons for killing whales since harpoons were "the most cruel and wasteful weapons possible."

Johnny Will Like To Practice On New Piano-Radio-Recorder

By BILLIE WHEELOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 13 — Louis Luberoff says he's got the answer for mothers who despair of making their children practice the piano.

He's built a different kind of piano.

It looks like a spinet. But underneath three separate "lids" that open on top the piano you find, from right to left, a record player, a radio and a recorder.

The name of the three-in-one instrument is the "Trio-Art" piano and it went on sale today.

Makes Johnny Practice

How will it make Johnny practice his scales when he'd rather be out playing baseball?

Luberoff explains. Put on a recording of what Johnny is supposed to play and while the record spins, Johnny can play right along with the recording artist. For the motor of the turntable has changeable speeds so Johnny and artist can get together.

And just to make sure that Johnny knows how he sounds, he can turn another gadget on the radio and cut a record of his own playing.

The Trio-Art piano, says musician-engineer Luberoff, is the result of 20 years of experiments and work.

"It all began," says the 48-year-old inventor, "because I thought the tone of the spinet too anemic. I decided it needed a shot of hormones in the form of amplifying the harmonics that break up before they are heard by the human ear."

'The problem was to 'stretch' the harmonics produced by a 34-inch-string in a spinet to the tonal length of the strings of a grand piano."

The engineer turned to electronics to do the stretching by picking up the dying impulses of the piano string and amplifying them.

Luberoff, who designed the pipe organ for Philadelphia's convention hall and the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York, said his new piano has unlimited uses in the educational field and entertainment world.

Entertainers, with the aid of recordings, can literally become a one-man band, Luberoff said.

Just imagine playing a duet with Duchin or harmonizing with Horowitz.

With a three-in-one piano you can do it, says Luberoff.

T&P Freight Volume Sets Record In 1948

The railway's 77the annual report said that 1948 operating expenses totaled $77,990,776, and operating expenses amounted to $57,934,325.

Wichita Man Gets 99 Years

WICHITA FALLS, April 13 (AP)—It took a jury two hours and 42 minutes to consider approximately two days of testimony and convict Ben H. Langford, 39, of murdering his divorced wife. Langford, scion of an oil-wealthy Wichita Falls pioneer family, was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

The district court jury returned its verdict early last night. Langford's lawyers had two days to file motion for a new trial.

Langford was convicted of murder without malice. The jury found he shot Mrs. LaFon to death in her Wichita Falls home early Jan. 3. Her body was found, a bullet hole in the head, lying in a bed.

No Defense Witnesses

Ben Langford, jr., 13, son of the convicted man and the slain woman, was brought from Pittsburgh, Pa., to testify in the trial. He came to Texas only after District Attorney Clyde Fillmore fought a court battle in Pennsylvania for custody of the boy. Fillmore and the boy left Pittsburgh only minutes ahead of a higher court order which overruled the lower court permission for him to take Ben, jr.

Langford failed to take the stand during his trial. He was convicted without having a witness appear in his behalf.

The state called a number of witnesses, ranging from a gun expert to relatives of the family.

Divorce Obtained

Langford blinked at the verdict. But he showed no other emotion.

Langford pleaded innocent.

His attorneys contended the state failed to rule out the possibility of suicide.

Trial testimony disclosed Mrs. Langford, 34, had tried four times to divorce her husband. The final suit resulted in a divorce in March of 1947. It also was shown that Langford obtained a license to remarry Mrs. Langford last summer. County Clerk Dora Davis said there was no record of the license having been used.

St. Louis Newsman Slated For Meeting

Ernest Kirschten, editoral writer for The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, will be another of the 20 odd nationally known journalists and newspapermen who will appear at the Southwestern Journalism Congress which is to be held at Texas Technological college April 29-30.

Kirschten was formerly the editor of the editoral page of The St. Louis Star-Times and has had varied experience, as a reporter and correspondent, covering assignments in many parts of the United States and Europe.

Aided In "Smoke" Dive

He was a participant in The Post-Dispatch's fight to eliminate smoke in St. Louis. The famous editorial campaign which the paper sponsored won the Pulitzer prize for public service in 1941. The paper did a repeat when it won the same prize in 1948 for its coverage of the Centralia, Ill. mine disaster and the campaign it carried on for reforms in the mine safety laws.

Kirschten is a member of the National Conference of Editorial Writers' committee on ethical standards. He is an occasional contributor to magazines, especially "The Nation," and devotes much of his time to the study of European politics and the United Nations.

A special feature of the congress this year, which is being sponsored by the Texas Tech journalism department, will be a panel discussion in which student delegates may ask questions concerning the journalism profession.

Over 200 students are expected to attend. Delegates will be sent from member schools of the congress which are located in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Another Lean Year Voted For Britons

LONDON, April 13. (AP)—Another lean year stretched ahead for Britons today—a year of higher food prices and skimpy tax relief.

The House of Commons gave overwhelming approval yesterday to the Labor government's $15,304,000,000 budget for 1949-50. The vote was 302-3, with all Conservatives and a handful of Laborites abstaining. The three negative votes were cast by Independents.

The budget, drawn up by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, was defended by him as the only way out to avert "betraying the trust of the people."

Cripps said the Labor government is "on the right road" toward recovery.

The budget calls for higher prices for rationed meat, cheese, butter and oleomargarine.

DIES OF EXPOSURE

SANTA FE, April 13 (AP)—Oscar Anglin of Hereford, Texas, found yesterday the body of his grandfather, Sam Corbin. He had been missing since March 31. Remnants of a fire were found nearby. An inquest found Corbin died from exposure.

Triplet Boys Dropped In Auto By Stork During 30-Mile Race

SEDALIA, Mo., April 13 (AP)—Triplet boys, born in an automobile during a 30-mile race with the stork, were snuggled comfortably today in their incubator beds in a local hospital.

They were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Koch, formers of near Marshall, Mo.

Koch called Dr. Earl C. Macey, Marshall physician, yesterday to report that the stork was on its way. Then he rushed Mrs. Koch to the physician's home.

Boy Born In Taxi

Macey bundled them all in his car and started the trip to Sedalia. En route, the physician was forced to stop and turn the driving chore over to the prospective father.

The first baby was born only 11 miles from home. Twelve minutes later, his two brothers had arrived.

Koch, 40, and his 41-year-old wife were already parents of two boys and a girl. Two-year-old Chester, jr., was born in a taxicab. Five-year-old Linda Faye arrived before the doctor could get there.

Mrs. Koch and the triplets, as yet unnamed, were reported "doing nicely."

Tulsa Man Unwilling Bedfellow Of Python

TULSA, April 13 (AP)—Jim Phillips woke up screaming today. A 12-foot long snake was in bed with him.

His roommate, Bill Cadion, borrowed the tame python for an exhibition. It escaped from its box during the cold night and curled up with the warmest object handy—Jim.

"I'll bet I never get another good night's sleep again," Phillips moaned.

That Girl on Broadway says trouble is usually produced by those who turn out little else.

Senators often have to be wired for action, but never for sound.

★ ★ ★

DR. HERBERT BIDWELL called up the other day. He'd just been talking with a patient—a newcomer to the U. S. from Frankfurt, Germany.

According to Doctor Bidwell, the newcomer, a German war bride, is finding things a little lonesome, so we suggested that he ask his patient to drop by and see us.

She did. She is Mrs. T. R. Howard, of 1710 Twenty-sixth street, wife of an employe of Arch Lamb's dairy.

We found Mrs. Howard interesting, attractive and friendly and enjoyed a conversation with her. We told her, too, that we'd try to find other German war brides in and near Lubbock, all of whom doubtless would be glad to meet each other and get together from time to time.

Therefore, we make this request:

If German war brides living in and near Lubbock will send us their names and addresses, we shall print them here and the German girls can take it up from there, getting together when, where and how they see fit.

We have no idea how many German girls are living in or near Lubbock. There may be only two or three. There might be many more.

But let's hear from them—and from others who know of their whereabouts.

★ ★ ★

ALONG WITH most Americans, we have no sympathy for Mildred Gillars, the "Axis Sally" now appealing a sentence recently meted out to her for wartime treason against this country.

The aging neurotic was assessed a prison term of from 10 to 30 years, plus a $10,000 fine. She's 49 years old now, so it may be taken that she'll not be out from behind bars soon enough to do any more disservice to the U. S., and to mankind.

The punishment assessed "Sally" was stiff, in some respects, but certainly not too stiff. She's lucky she happened to be an American national, tried in American courts.

In most countries she would have been summarily executed months ago.

However, as we contemplate the acts and the punishment of Mildred Gillars, whose crime was broadcasting wartime propaganda from Germany and beamed to American troops, we cannot help but wonder what sort of punishment awaits those members of the Communist party in this country who openly boast they would support Russia in case of war between the U. S. and the U.S.S.R.

Since the "support" these despicable people promise Russia is likely to be much more direct than yammering over a radio, it will occur to many that we need a law (1) to put these people out of circulation now; and (2) to make immediate execution mandatory following any Fifth Columning on their part in the event of a shooting war.

★ ★ ★

AMERICAN LAWS governing treasonable acts in peacetime, as well as in war, are the most liberal known to man.

That probably is the reason we have so many people who dare to announce, from time to time, their studied disloyalty.

It doesn't take much imagination to conjure up a picture of what a trained and ready Fifth Column could do in a very few hours in this country. Nor does it require any imagination to guess that certain top-drawer Communists in this country already have blueprints and orders to follow out in case the Reds strike in a "Pearl Harbor" all their own.

In our book, it's time to get set for this sort of threat. It's time to show the world, as well as the borers-from-within in our country, that Fifth Columning in the U.S. is a very unpopular and dangerous pastime.

If the Congress and the President gave more time to setting up defenses of this sort and less to crackpot political schemes like wrangling over so-called civil rights and legislation aimed at controlling excesses of labor bosses we'd be better off than we are.

You can tell a capitalist nation. It's the one where capitalists not only furnish the capital for the government at home, but also for governments, armies, navies and air forces abroad!

LUBBOCK County commissioners are getting ready to make final decisions on the construction of a new courthouse and it is probable that contracts will be signed before another month slips away.

That is good news. Lubbock county has long needed bigger and better courthouse facilities.

But with all respect to the members of the commission, they should let the public know a great deal more than it knows now about the new courthouse and about why certain decisions concerning it have been made.

Since old Joe Taxpayer and his wife are going to have to foot the bill, they should know, for instance, why the commissioners insist upon putting the new courthouse on the West side of the Square, and saving the sagging, old eyesore of a present courthouse for posterity.

Putting the new courthouse on the West side of the Square will kill off half the downtown open space there is left—park space which will become progressively more valuable as Lubbock grows and its people are further walled in. The argument that "the old courthouse can't be torn down to make way for the new one because the county wouldn't have any place to do business during the interim" won't hold water. Temporary space can be found—would be found if, for instance, the old courthouse should burn, as have courthouses in Motley and Floyd counties during recent years.

There are a thousand and one details regarding the building of any courthouse which can blow up in the faces of officials in office at the time of construction—which have their repercussions later, at the polls.

Therefore, members of the commission would be wise to call in a citizens committee for advice and counsel prior to completing plans and letting contracts. Some members of such a committee might have some good ideas—even better than some of the commissioners. Others might be helpful in letting the commission know what public thinking is in the matter of where the courthouse should be put and how far the commission ought to go in fixing up libraries and lounging space for lawyers at public expense.

★ ★ ★

THERE are a lot of headaches attached to building a new courthouse and the county commission could especially gain from having on an advisory committee some citizens of the City of Lubbock, where most of the county tax money comes from.

Fairly, or unfairly, a great many Lubbock people criticize the commission for neglecting the City of Lubbock; for the policy that county officials have no responsibility to those voters who live inside Lubbock's corporate limits. Giving the people—urban as well as rural citizens—a voice in the new courthouse planning couldn't hurt anything and might help a lot.

After all, the new courthouse is going to be with us for a long time. The location it occupies will be irrevocable after it is decided upon. Everything about the problem should be carefully weighed before decided because, after decisions are made, they can't be changed for 40 years.

BY DREW PEARSON: LOUIS JOHNSON AND STEVE EARLY LONGTIME POLITICAL FRIENDS

Air Force, Navy Battle Waged In House Committee

WASHINGTON — One inside reason why dynamic Louis Johnson was anxious to have dynamic Steve Early as his undersecretary of national defense has now leaked out.

Real fact is that Early, FDR's former press relations expert, was not Johnson's first choice. He first tried to persuade Truman to appoint John M. Franklin, head of the United States Steamship lines; but the President turned thumbs down cold, because Franklin was a vigorous Dewey supporter.

PEARSON

Johnson also wanted Truman to take John J. McCloy, president of the world bank, and former assistant secretary of war. However, McCloy also is close to Dewey and the President wanted a Democrate whom he personally trusted.

Actually it was the President himself who suggested Steve Early. Truman happens to be one of the few men in Washington who knows just how much respect Johnson has for Early's judgment. In fact, if it hadn't been for Early, Johnson might never have been secretary of defense today.

In 1940, FDR not only trampled on Johnson's ambition to be vice president, in favor of Henry Wallace, but he bypassed Johnson and named Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war. Johnson, then assistant secretary of war, was bitterly disappointed and started west, boiling with anger. The White House heard about it, also heard that Johnson was en route to Colorado Springs to meet Wendell Willkie, then preparing his race as G. O. P. nominee for president.

Steve Early immediately had Johnson's plane grounded halfway across the country and got the indignant assistant secretary of war on the telephone. For an hour and ten minutes he pleaded with Johnson on the phone. Early had been one of Louie's best friends, had long tried to make him secretary of war instead of Harry Woodring. There is no question but that Johnson had been led to believe he was definitely to become secretary of war and that he had been given the political doublecross. Furthermore he had done a great job of rearming the United States despite isolationist opposition. In the end, however, Early persuaded him to proceed—not to Colorado Springs but to Los Angeles, still a loyal Democrat.

Now the man who guided the the assistant secretary of war will be at his right hand as undersecretary of national defense.

FDR, jr., is flying to Paris to meet Chaim Weizmann, president of Israel; will return with him to New York . . . Scott Lucas undoubtedly wanted to eliminate Republican opposition to his reelection when he appointed exlieutenant governor of Illinois Hugh Cross to the Interstate Commerce commission. Nevertheless, he picked a good man . . . With Cross out of the race, it looks as if ex-congressman Everett Dirksen of Illinois will run against Lucas—a big vote-getter . . .

Air Vs. Navy

A table - beating, word-slinging row that rattled the window panes of the House appropriations committee took place last week over squeezing money out of the Army and Navy Part of the row was over the old question of more naval vessels or more airplanes.

The uproar started when Chairman Clarence Cannon of Missouri upbraided his subcommittee for giving the armed services half a billion dollars more than President Truman asked for.

"This is the worst bill that has come from a subcommittee this session," thundered Chairman Cannon. "It's terrible and ought to be recommitted.

"At least $750,000,000 of this spending should be cut out of the bill. It's preposterous to give the Navy all that money so that admirals who still think they're fighting the Spanish-American war can build outdated warships at a time when air power is all-important."

This brought a hot retort from chunky subcommittee member Albert Engel, Republican of Michigan. "I resent the accusation," he stormed, beating the table. "I've always been a strong airpower man and this bill does not discriminate against the Air Force.

"You say the bill should be cut," continued the Michigan Republican. "Well, I won't take the responsibility for cutting the defense program at a time like this. Furthermore, I'm standing by my subcommittee. If I didn't think it was doing a good job I would resign."

• • •

YOUNG Bob Sikes of Florida, Democrat, chimed in:

"I have supported cuts, sometimes at the expense of safety, in an effort to achieve economy in this measure. I even proposed cuts that you yourself vetoed, Mr. Chairman But while I'm for an adequate Air Force, you cannot possibly transport all the men and tonnage we need in time of war by air alone. There isn't enough gasoline in the country, even if we had the planes. And the Air Force can't hold places that have been taken. That takes ground troops, fighting in the mud.

"Also, the Air Force cannot carry on effective anti-submarine warfare. That takes ships."

Cannon re-entered the argument with a charge that the subcommittee hadn't properly coordinated the spending of the three services to prevent overlapping expense.

"We supposedly unified the three services for greater efficiency and economy," he snapped sarcastically. "We were going to have the taxpayers' money. This bill doesn't look like we meant what we said. To read it, you'd never know there was a unification program."

"Just a minute—just a minute," shouted Democrat Harry Sheppard of California, "you're in a mighty poor position to be making these accusations. You sat with the subcommittee during the markup of the bill and voted on it. Why did you wait until now, when we are ready to report the bill, to start beefing? It seems mighty strange to me."

Cannon finally agreed to withhold his threatened motion to recommit the bill and called for a vote to report it.

"There's nothing else I can do at this stage," he explained, "but I still don't like the bill."

Note—privately many congressmen agree with Representative Cannon that a lot of water can be cut from the armed forces budget. For instance, cagey Speaker Sam Rayburn recently asked the Army to take over recreation facilities at Texoma Lake, a flood control project in his district now run by the Interior department. Reason: The Army can spend plenty of money on recreation while the Interior department's budget is pruned to the bone.

Bodyguard

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

TODAY, girls, let's rally to the cause of the Ohio housewife whose husband went to court seeking a restraining order to prevent her painting some of the rooms of the house.

The husband claimed he didn't like the paint smell and "besides she doesn't know how to paint." The wife explained the house looked so drab she just decided to "brighten things up."

MILLETT

The judge in the case asked the wife to lay aside her paint brush until a domestic relations bureau investigator could make a firsthand inspection. The fact that following investigation, the judge said she was doing a very good job and told her to keep on with it, is beside the point.

Someone should have explained to the husband about women—and their deep and passionate need about this time of year to "brighten things up" around a place.

Any housewife who has been stuck in a house through the long, winter months gets a yen about February or March to change the looks of her house It might look all right to the husband who spends only a few waking hours a day in it, but it is bound to look drab to the housewife who knows the exact size of the spot on the carpet or just how faded the slip covers have become, or how badly the walls or wood work are in need of a gleaming coat of paint.

• • •

LUCKY, IF NOT EXPENSIVE

FOR some husbands this seasonal yen of the wife to brighten things up is often an expensive indulgence. Decorators may be called in or the wife may start throwing out old furniture and replacing it with new. Or she may decide to carpet the whole house.

In extreme cases, the wife may decide that the house is not even worthy of being "brightened up" for another season, and start casting about for a more satisfactory—and probably much more expensive place to live.

So it's a lucky husband whose wife satisfies her longing to brighten things up by taking a can of paint and a paint brush in her own little hands and giving her house an inexpensive new look.

The house may be in a turmoil for a few days. Meals may be sketchy while the painting gets done. The paint smell may be hard to live with. The job when finished may not look exactly professional.

But all those are minor annoyances any husband ought to take in his stride. And he should thank his lucky stars he has an energetic wife who can work herself out of the winter doldrums without wrecking the family budget or even putting him to work.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Columnist Derides Doctors' New Allergy-Illness Theory

NEW YORK, April 13 — I just let loose a great big blast of a sneeze, and anybody who wasn't hep would say I was catching cold. Taint't so. I am just mad at having to work for a living. It fetches forth all my allergies, and in half-a-second I shall come down with a fine rash of bumps. Aaaaa-choo!

RUARK

Here is a man who has been sneezin' and scratchin' for about 30 years, give or take a decade, and never knew the reason why. The reason: Us kids get allergic when we are consumed with hostility we cannot express. We get sore, we can't slug papa, we bust out in a prickle. That's what two doctors named Hyman and Mildred Baruch say. They said it at the meeting of the Orthopsychiatric Assn.

They say that there are two kinds of children, allergic and non-allergic. The non-allergic brat takes an ax and argues with the old lady on a adult-to-adult basis. But the allergic chee-ild, all festered with frustration, just sits there and shivers and sneezes and whimpers and pimples out. I must stress the fact that I was of the latter persuasion.

• • •

Entire Grade Quarantined

Casting back, I remember when the doctor came. "Chicken-pox", he said. I know now that he was the kind who prescribed pink pills for appendicitis. He had no notion of my sensitive soul. I was just mad that day: I was mad at Miss Carrie Mae Knight, the seventh-grade teacher, who had refused to run away and marry me. I busted out in a rash, too, and the funny thing was, the whole seventh grade shared by righteous indignation. Had to quarantine the joint, and all the time it was only my own personal resentment at repression.

There was another time, earlier, when I acquired something the ignorant witch-doctor down there fobbed off as whooping cough. Wasn't no such thing. That was when I had been disciplined for smoking rabbit-tobacco behind the henhouse. If I could have released my resentment by burning down the house, I wouldn't have whooped once.

• • •

"Flunking" Is Recalled

THIS thing followed me all through my youth. Like the time I flunked algebra. We were old-fashioned, then. We used words like "flunk" and "fail", instead of "retention." If you didn't know, children don't "fail" anymore. They are "retained." That keeps 'em from brooding over their inadequacies.

Well, Miss Hetty Struthers, she didn't retain me any. She wrote down a big fat 51, for a mark, despite the fact that it hurts a youth's ego to be graded numerically when for all you know he is a genius who maybe just don't like algebra. I flunked, and the pimples sprouted so fast you could hear them popping like champagne corks. The sawbones said it was adolescence. It wasn't: It was frustration. What I wanted to do was buy a small shotgun and shoot Miss Hetty Struthers.

I would just hate to tell you how I have been dogged, even into adulthood, by this allergy business. Like, say, the war. For all I knew, civilization's fate rested on how I behaved. Enough to make a man fret a little.

• • •

Rash Shows Resentment

It was out there on that clammy old ocean, with the submarines and sea-serpents and things, that first I dewed out in a cold sweat and then later, here came the pimples again. I pimpled like a pickle. All the fellows said I was simply scared to death, but I know now it wasn't so. I wasn't scared, I was frustrated. I wanted to get away from there and go home. Nobody would let me, and I freckled forth in a rash to show by resentment. Seems to me I kept that rash for three years, and all the silly doctors ever called it was things like jungle-rot.

You wouldn't believe it, maybe, but I got a special allergy right now, on my right foot. Blisters. Always the same blisters. They sprout around the 15th of March, when income taxes fall. "Obscure tropical disease" — phooey. Nothing but plain allergy to the fact that I can't muster up the money to pay 'em.

So we are back to the sneezes, now. I keep sneezing all the time — when mama won't let me out to play with the other kids, when the copy-readers lose lines out of the copy, when the rent comes due —aaaachoo! The only thing to do with us frustrates is stand clear. The doctors may deny it, but I know the stuff is catching.

Today's Thought

Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.—Luke 8:11.

• • •

To God belongeth the east and the west; therefore, whithersoever ye turn yourselves to pray, there is the word of God; for God is omnipresent and omniscient.—

Today's Journal Editorial

Texans probably are few who have paid much attention to a bill pending in the Legislature providing for the creation of a State Citrus commission. Even most of the legislators appear somewhat in the dark as to provisions of the measure.

They, and the people, have been told that it is "strictly localized" in affect, and of concern only to citrus regions and growers. Most of the legislators, and people, appear to have accepted that explanation at face value.

But proceedings in a Senate committee hearing the other day may have put the bill in a less favorable light—both from the standpoint of legislators and the people as a whole. The charge has been made, with no denial, that the commission would be empowered to regulate prices. Supporters argued that this would do no harm because a large and representative membership would be a safeguard against monopolistic and price abuses.

Perhaps the argument is sound. On the other hand, the power of price regulation apparently would exisit. And it almost invariably happens that the real control of large groups usually simmers down to a very few—sometimes by one—members.

Perhaps the Legeislature is wise in the indicated determination to take another look at the bill before acting upon it.

U. S. Senate Spends Two Weeks On Aid Plan--House 17 Hours

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13—I'd be a pretty puzzled pigeon if I'd been sitting out in the middle of the United States the past two weeks, trying to figure out Congress.

The talkative Senate, with only 96 members, took two weeks to approve the Marshall plan for Europe for another year; but the House with 435 members took only about 17 hours.

For those two weeks the Senate spent almost every minute hagging over the Marshall plan; except for the 17 hours on the plan, the House used the two weeks to race through a lot of other things.

The reason: in the Senate there's no limit on debate; in the House there is.

Of course, if House debate weren't limited, its 435 members could use up a whole session debating one bill. So gabbiness has to be limited there.

Two Subjects Handled

The Senate, whose 96 dignified members bend over backwards being polite to one another, wants no gag on talking and feels it still can get its work done.

That's debatable. If the Senate keeps up its present slow rate, it's doubtful much of the program President Truman promised the voters last November can get through. But, then, it's doubtful much of it would be passed anyway.

Altogether now the Senate has been talking about six weeks. Except for a couple of days spent on passing new rent controls, the Senate has used those weeks on just two main subjects: civil rights and the Marshall plan. Everything else had to wait.

It used up between three weeks and a month in a filibuster on the civil rights program. That was shoved aside in the end and probably suffered a mortal blow for the rest of this session.

Then, after a brief pause to vote for 15 months more of rent controls, the Senate turned to the Marshall plan and talked till last week-end.

When it got into the plan there were long discourses that touched only remotely on it. And there were almost endless discourses on amendments, of which there were plenty.

So, besides talking for days on the Marshall plan itself, the Senate talked for days on the amendments.

It was different in the House. There amendments were offered, too, but on some of them each congressman who wanted to speak was limited to about 50 seconds.

But even after all the talk in both houses, the last word hasn't been said on the Marshall plan.

For all both houses did was approve letting the Marshall plan continue for another year. But—and this is important—it hasn't voted any money to keep it going.

It will get around to voting on the money in a few weeks. That will certainly mean more Senate debate and more proposals to cut down the money for it. The House, of course, will do a quicker job.

Texas' Federal Dole $14 Million For '48

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—Texans received $14,184,000 in federal old-age and survivors benefits during 1948, said Ernest L. Tutt, regional manager of the social security administration here.

Tutt said 66,300 people in Texas were receiving benefits as of Jan. 1, 1949.

California Plans Tour Of Own "Freedom Train" During Centennial Celebration

By RUTH L. SCAMMON
United Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The California Centennials Commission has compiled its own version of the Freedom Train which will tour the state during the next two years of the Golden State's three-year centennial celebration.

The historical caravan shows actual relics of the story of California—a chronicle that goes back four centuries to the "age of exploration" and spotlights the succeeding epochal events that shaped the state's destiny.

The caravan consists of a priceless collection of original documents and objects that highlight a series of 14 exhibit sections, each dealing with a specific period in California's history.

The historical items, ranging from a brass plate Sir Francis Drake affixed on California's shores in 1579 to the gold spike that linked the first transcontinental railroad, are being taken around the state in two specially constructed buses.

The white, blue and gold buses are so designed as to form a single display unit when being viewed by the public.

An around-the-clock detail of state police is assigned to responsibility of safeguarding the exhibit pieces.

The objects and documents were lent to the commission by more than 20 universities, museums, libraries, official archives and private individuals in various parts of the country.

Perhaps attracting the most attention is the original gold spike and silver hammer used at ceremonies marking completion of the first transcontinental railroad at Promontory, Utah, in 1869.

The famous spike is made of mother-lode gold. It represents the last spike to be driven, joining the rails of the Union Pacific from the east with those of the Central Pacific from the west.

A treasured relic which linked Europe and America over three and a half centuries ago is among the many original items displayed. It is the brass plate of Sir Francis Drake. Drake claimed the land within view in the name of Queen Elizabeth.

Another invaluable exhibit is the personal diary of Don Gaspar de Portola, chronicling his famed expedition from southern California up the Pacific Coast in 1769. The parchment pages of the manuscript are well preserved and though it was recorded almost two centuries ago, the words are clearly readable.

What gives Bermuda, where cars once were barred, its new look, are the hundreds of tiny, English-made automobiles scurrying about the island like busy ants, observers report.

ASTRONOMICAL HISTORY IS MADE

"Black Eclipse" Of Moon Is First Seen In Over Century

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—The moon made astronomical history last night.

It disappeared—for an hour.

Scientists said the "black eclipse" was the first one like it here in more than 100 years.

The event also chalked up another 20-century milestone—the advent of drawingroom sky-gazing.

The solar spectacle was piped into thousands of homes via television.

It appeared on screens in bars and taverns, too, and touched off gripes by those who preferred their customary boxing and wrestling programs.

Moon Blacked Out

"It ain't proper," said one Times Square bar patron. "If anybody wants to see the moon, he ought to go outdoors."

That's what many did.

The top of Empire State building was jammed as the moon slid into the shadow of the earth, and gradually became invisible.

Others stood in the streets and on doorsteps to watch the show.

The phenomenon could be seen on half the earth's surface—wherever it was night at the time it occurred.

Authorities at Hayden Planetarium said that, as viewed in New York, the moon was completely blacked out, whereas in a normal full eclipse it shines with a dull red glow.

The last time a "black eclipse" took place was in 1844, the Planetarium said. There have been several full eclipses of the moon since then, the last one in 1945, but none of them black.

Clouds Cut Light

In a normal eclipse, the earth is squarely between the moon and the sun. But while the moon is in a shadow, it retains a dull glow from sun rays that bounce from the earth's atmosphere, the Planetarium said.

In a "black eclipse," the Panetarium added, an unusual cloud blanket surrounding part of the earth's surface prevents the refracter rays from reaching the moon, thus obliterating it from view.

The sky in the New York area was clear as the earth's shadow touched the moon at 9:28 p. m. (EST), and darkened it at 10:28 p. m. (EST). The moon began to emerge at 11:54 p. m.

The National Broadcasting company's east coast television network carried pictures of the event from cameras set up on the roof of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

The television cameras were focused through powerful telescopes.

Television station WPIX in New York also carried the sky show, using telescopic equipment of the Hayden Planetarium.

For anybody living on the moon, the show would have been a spectacular one, with or without television sets. For them, the earth would have been a black ball, with a shimmering corona—caused by the sun's rays—around its periphery.

STAR-STUDDED SHOW VISIBLE IN LUBBOCK

Lubbock and South Plains residents along with millions of other persons from the East to the West coast and in parts of South America, last night were treated to a star-studded five-hour show—a total eclipse of the moon, clearly visible in this section of the country.

The eclipse got underway at 8:28 p. m. (CST) just as the schedule called for and slowly "blacked out" until by 9:28 there was little left other than a dull orange-red glow.

The "totar" eclipse contined until about 10:54 when the earth's shadow, which extended out into space some three-quarters of a million miles, began moving away and the moon started its "reappearing" act. By 12:50 a. m. today the moon was visible again.

Most of the state was given a view of the eclipse. However, clouds curtained off the performance in a large area of the nation, the International News Service said.

Old Hotel In Famed Tombstone To Open

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., April 13 (U.P.) — One of the oldest landmarks in Tombstone, "the town too tough to die," has changed hands.

Mrs. E. A. Guze, Round Lake, Ill., has announced she has bought the famed Cashman House and will re-open it soon as a modern hotel.

The adobe-filled structure, at the corner of Toughnut and Fifth streets, still bears the scars of gun battles that made Tombstone the liveliest town in the southwest in the 1880s.

Nicaragua got 99 per cent of its present motor cars from the United States.

Standards Are Set For Imported Teas

WASHINGTON, April 13 (U.P.)—After five days of sipping tea at a public demonstration in New York, U. S. tea experts have agreed on standards for all teas imported by this country after May 1.

The tea samplers downed enough to set fair, medium and fine ratings for the different kinds of tea they tasted. The minimum requirements they established went on record for tea exporters in all parts of the world.

The National Geographic Society said 91,000,000 pounds of tea were imported to this country in 1948. The society said that, although Americans traditionally are coffee-drinkers, tea drinking has made some headway here since the war. Britain, biggest tea consumer, gets more than half the world output of tea.

The liner St. Clair is shy one silver teaspoon, but the steward knows where it went, for he saw a seagull swoop down and gulp it off a tea tray that had been set down on the deck for a moment, at Aberdeen, Scotland.

Kathy Fiscus Funeral Today

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 13. (AP)—Little Kathy Fiscus will be buried today in the frilly white dress that she had hope to wear to church Easter Sunday.

In the small blue casket also lay the favorite doll of the three-year-old tot whose death in an old well became a world epic.

The Rev. Bertrand R. Crist will conduct the rites at the little stone church of a mortuary at nearby Alhambra. He is the minister at the San Marino Congregational church—Kathy's church.

Funds Growing

Interment will be in Glen Abby Memorial park at Chula Vista, near San Diego, Calif., in a family plot.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus named as pallbearers close family friends, including Donald T. Metz, a contractor who aided throughout the 52-hour attempted rescue operations.

At the family's request, instead of sending flowers to the services, sympathetic thousands are sending donations to the children's hospital in Los Angeles.

Funds also are growing to give financial recognition to the 50 to 60 heroes who struggled under dangerous conditions to reach the little girl.

Another Hole Found

The rescue funds are sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, operating under one general committee.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr, chief county autopsy surgeon, said Kathy died peacefully in a coma, a placid expression on her face. An autopsy report listed the cause of death as suffocation.

Kathy plunged 90 feet into the 14-inch casing of the forgotten well at 4:30 p. m. Friday. Her body was removed from the nearby rescue shaft at 9:47 p. m. Sunday.

Meantime, another abandoned well was found in Los Angeles on a vacant lot frequented by children. It was 18 inches in diameter and 125 feet deep. Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, ordered it filled and capped immediately.

Efforts are being made to locate all such wells so there will be no repetition of the tragedy which so gripped the world.

Doctors Consult On Blue Baby Operation

DALLAS, April 13 (AP)—A blue baby from Louisiana is in a Dallas hospital today for observation before physicians decide whether they can perform a delicate heart operation.

The child is Travis Shaw, 9-months-old. Readers of the Shreveport Times donated $1,000 to send the infant here for treatment.
