Blow, Sand, Blow— 'ILL WIND' KEPT DOWN BY TREES

You know the old saying, "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." The U. S. Forestry Service has taken this saying literally in Hall County, and now have more than two hundred miles of shelterbelts planted on farms.

If you happen to be skeptical about the value of the belts, it might be well to take an inspection tour and see just how much the belts are helping.

About the most outstanding example of the belts can be found on the S. H. Boone place, where trees have been planted on two sides, with another belt through the center of the farm.

Easter Close by As Hen Lays Egg Three Inches Long

When bigger eggs are produced, Hall County hens will lay them.

At least it seems that way, judging from the size of several eggs brought in this week by Mrs. T. J. Brock, who lives on Memphis Route 1 near Plaska.

Longest of the eggs, all laid by a Rhode Island Red hen, measured slightly more than three inches, with a diameter of almost two inches.

One of the eggs which had not been broken weighed one-fourth of a pound.

All of which reminds us that Easter (with all its vari-colored eggs) is only 17 days away.

The family moved to Hall County in 1914, where they lived for three years before moving to Collinsworth County. They had been making their home with their son in Memphis for the past four years.

Mrs. Childress was converted while a child, and later became a member of the Second Advent Christian Church.

Former Countians Leave for Alaska

Two former Memphians, Sidney Mayfield and Jake Webster, and Jackie Johnson of Giles left Sunday night from Lowry Field in Denver, Colo., for Anchorage, Alaska. Both are volunteers in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

The squadron went to Seattle by train, and will be taken by transport ship to Alaska, where they are scheduled to remain for two years. The squadron may, however, be sent on to Shanghai, China, it was reported.

Former Resident To Speak Here on Foreign Situation

Joe J. Mickle to Make
First Appearance Since
Returning From Japan

Hall Countians who have been waiting to hear someone speak with authority on the foreign situation will have that opportunity when a former resident of Memphis talks here Monday night, April 7.

The speaker will be Joe J. Mickle, son of J. J. Mickle, pioneer merchant in Memphis.

He will make his address at the Memphis High School auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock, Carroll Smyers, manager of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, said this week. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the address.

Mickle, who has been in Japan for the past twenty years, will devote most of his talk on the current situation in Japan and China.

It will be his first public appearance since his return to America. He arrived in Amarillo from Japan last week-end.

"We are extremely fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Mr. Mickle," Otis Jones, chamber of commerce president, said this week. Since he is also a former resident, it is believed that a great amount of interest will be taken in the address.

Mr. Mickle has been an instructor in political science and world affairs in Japan during his years of residence there. Before returning to America, he made a tour of the nation and conferred with a number of governmental leaders in regard to the political situation.

Thousands will be killed. Thousands of others will be injured. Homes will be destroyed. Business houses will no longer be able to carry on.

Parents will be lost from their children, children from their parents. Happiness will be a thing of the past.

The damage will be great, the fighting will be fierce, the outcome will be disastrous.

In the nation of Turkey things do look bad.

Cars Have Wrecks, But Week's Been Lucky—No Injuries

In a sense, this has been a lucky week.

An automobile carrying several Memphians overturned Wednesday near Turkey—no one was seriously injured.

Another carrying several Memphians overturned Tuesday as the group was en route to Amarillo—no one was seriously injured.

A Memphis man's automobile struck a cow near Quanah as he was returning from a visit—he was not injured.

Probably other minor wrecks have happened in this vicinity too, but no one has been badly injured.

It has been a lucky week, as far as injuries are concerned.

Charter for Soil District Received By Supervisors

Election for Other Three Supervisors to Be Held Within Period of 30 Days

Organization of the soil conservation district in Hall County took another step forward this week when the charter for the district was received by Ed Leary and John Sharp, the two supervisors who were recently appointed by the members of the Land-Use Planning Committee.

The election will be held sometime within 30 days after the issuance of the charter for the other three members of the five-man supervisory group, it was explained.

Since the election on the soil district in Hall County was held, Childress County and a portion of Cottle County have voted to join this organization in the district.

The five-man group of supervisors, County Agent W. B. Hooser explained, will be chosen from Hall, Childress, and that portion of Cottle County which will be included in the district.

The residence of the three elected will have no bearing on their qualifications, it was explained. The other three could also be residents of Hall County or of Childress or Cottle County, or they could be divided.

MEMPHIS GETS MORE THAN INCH

Heavier Rainfall Reported
In Other Parts of County
Low Degree Mark Is 31

Hall County's business men and farmers alike were pleased smiles this week as slow, soaking rains brought from one to two inches of moisture to all portions of the county.

The rains, which fell last Saturday and Tuesday, brought a total of 1.08 inches in Memphis—.54 of an inch last Saturday and the same amount Tuesday and Tuesday night.

Heavier rainfall was reported as falling at Lakeview Saturday. Salisbury and Newlin also reported heavier rainfall on the second day of moisture, Tuesday.

The rain apparently was heavier north of Memphis, since a total of .99 of an inch was reported as falling at Clarendon Tuesday. Amarillo reported about an inch of rainfall last Saturday, and about the same amount Tuesday.

Some light flurries of snow were also reported at Amarillo Tuesday, as well as in other parts of the Panhandle.

The temperatures in Memphis, however, despite the damp weather, fell below the freezing mark only once during the past week, when the thermometer dropped to 31 degrees Wednesday night.

Some frost was visible this morning, although it is not believed the temperature dropped low enough to damage seriously fruit trees which have already either budded or bloomed.

The highest thermometer mark for the week was 62 degrees, recorded (Continued on page 12)

Later on in the spring, the director said, the band will give a concert at night, so that more citizens of the town will be able to be present.

The band will play at Amarillo April 5, and has been placed in the group of Class B bands, the second-highest group in the contests, according to a classification in Tuesday's Amarillo News.

Pieces to be played in the concert here next week, as well as in Amarillo, will include "Horizon," overture by Buys; "Sound Off," a march by Holmes; and "Eroica," an overture by Skormacka.

Forty-six members of the band are planning to make the trip to Amarillo. Besides the regular band playing in the contests, four soloists and one brass sextet are planning to play.

The proposed concert in Clarendon by the Memphis band has again been postponed to allow the Memphians more time to prepare for the Amarillo festival. The concert will be given later, however, it was announced.

PLEASE,
PLEASE,
PLEASE!

Despite repeated requests, club reporters continue to wait until the last moment to turn in stories of their organization's meetings, thereby working a hardship on members of The Democrat staff, as well as making more mistakes possible due to the rush necessary in preparing the material for publication.

In order to expedite the handling of the society articles, the following schedule of reporting club stories (and other society stories) is suggested:

Last of week and week-end happenings should be brought to the office Monday; Monday meetings should be reported either Monday afternoon or by noon Tuesday; Tuesday meetings Tuesday afternoon or by Wednesday noon; Wednesday meetings by 6 o'clock that afternoon.

The schedule as given above will be considered the deadline for society stories at the discretion of The Democrat.

Pete Reiser, although not strictly a rookie, plays an important part in Larry MacPhail's ambitious plans to make the Brooklyn Dodgers a pennant winner. Reiser has been a regular outfielder since last August, when he was called up from Elmira while running away with the Eastern League batting crown with an average of .378. Then there is Alexis Kampouris, the slugging Greek who batted a home run in every International League park and was the big gun for Newark in the Little World Series.

ANOTHER Newark product is Heeney Majeski, third baseman called by Boston. He made the all-star team in every minor league in which he ever played, has a facility for clouting time-ly home runs.

The world's champion Cincinnati Reds have Mike Dejan, Southern Association batting champ, coming up. Dejan started as a southpaw pitcher, but was always drafted to play in the outfield because of his grade A slugging.

Alf Anderson, Pittsburgh newcomer, is a fine defensive short-stop, may make it possible to shift Arkie Vaughan. Anderson is a University of Georgia product by way of Savannah and Atlanta. ... Bright New York Giant prospects include Ace Adams, Southern Association strikeout king last year, and Buster Maynard, Piedmont League batting king.

The Phillies have Frank Rufus Melton, American Association strikeout artist, and Nick Etten, International League slugger who may break in at first base or the outfield.

SPRING IS HERE

With the first days of spring, get your car in condition for spring and summer driving. Bring it to us for a check-up, oil change, new tires, radiator flush and other spring necessities. Remember, protect your grill and radiator with a Firestone grill-screen.

FIRESTONE TUBES

Check up on your tubes. Don't run risks of a blow-out when you can get those good Firestone Tubes at our station. Come in today and let us take care of this important factor of safe motoring. You'll be pleasantly surprised at the nominal cost of such high quality merchandise.

Three Reasons Why Firestone TIRES are BETTER!

1. ECONOMICAL

Firestone Tires actually cost very little. Their long wearing ability makes them economical and you can save money on those extra thousands of miles you get when you ride on Firestones. Save today the Firestone way, and put the extra money away toward a pleasant motor vacation on Firestones this summer!

"Hoot Mon, I dinna ken th' cost so wee much!"

2. STURDY IN BUILD

Firestones are built to "take it!" Only the finest materials, latest and scientifically proved methods and best skilled workmanship go into their construction. Look at the sturdy side walls, deep-cut tread!—They're built safe and strong!

"Boy, oh Boy—Just Look at that TREAD!"

3. HANDSOME APPEARANCE

"Pretty is as pretty does" goes for tires too—but Firestone designers had an eye for beauty when they constructed these fine tires. They look absolutely swell on your car, dress it up and make it look smart. When you get under the wheel you can feel those Firestones humming along smooth and sweet as a kitten, taking you over the hard places in an easy glide—but they can take the old rough and tumble treatment you deal out to them and look good and give lasting performance.

"B'Golly, I'll just go down to Ed Cudd's and get me some Firestones!"

GOING UP?

There is something inspiring about a ladder. It always points up—or it isn't a ladder! There is a sermon, an essay, in the ladder. But I just want to make a little "vest pocket" suggestion for you out of it.

First, the ladder always begins at the bottom. And there is always "room at the top." The ladder you most desire, you yourself may choose. You select one with a dozen or a thousand rungs. The longer the ladder, of course, the higher you are sure to be when you reach the top.

Lincoln decided that he wanted a ladder with many rungs. Think of it—from that little Kentucky log hut to the Presidency of the greatest free nation in history! And Napoleon—he didn't even give a glance at any of the little stubby ladders that were lying around by the million. No, he wanted one that would take him over the Alps!

As you climb do not forget that the strength accumulated at the lower rungs increases with every higher rung. Remember, too, that it is round by round, always. The over-ambitious who, thinking to play a trick on fortune, seek to skip a round or so, nearly always slip or fall—compelled to begin all over again.

Pick a big, long ladder—then climb it slowly, honestly and well. Never mind the crowd below. Keep your eyes on the round at the top.

Editor's Note: A timely article on "Why I like to Live in Texas" has been written by Lee Ella Wood, member of the sixth grade class at Brice. The material possibly could have been expressed in a better manner, but the ideas expressed give a good view of one phase of the work being taught in the public schools of Hall County.

I like to live in Texas because it is a free country.

It has good schools and colleges where the children can learn. It has good churches, and there are places where both young and old can enjoy themselves. In Texas I get free school books. They have good teachers.

They have places for criminals, blind people, insane, and those who are not normal. I can have a comfortable home without being afraid I might get killed with a bomb. Texas has fire chiefs, who with the members of the fire departments, put out fires and save homes.

There are some real good citizens in Texas. They have comfortable ways of traveling by means of which you can go fast. They have good doctors who can cure me when I am sick.

We have newspapers and radios where we can get news and enjoyable and interesting things. In Texas I have the right to speak what I think. I may travel over good highways to visit historic places or the many natural beauties of nature.

You can stay in good hotels, eat in clean cafes, or camp in modern tourist camps. You may hunt or fish, see sports or play sports, live on the plains or in forest, work in cotton, wheat, corn, rice, or sugar cane fields.

Also we have a sea coast, shipping, railroads, airplanes, oil fields, mines, varied climate, big cities, small towns, or open prairies.

Texas is rich in history and folklore, rich in songs and traditions, rich in many things that help to make life in it worth living and defending.

Those are some of the reasons why I like to live in Texas.

Local People Win
Prize in Contest

Announcement was received in Memphis this week that a skit presented last December by the local office of the West Texas Utilities Company at a district safety meeting held in Childress, had won first place in a contest over the entire company area. The skit was prepared and presented by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. May assisted by Billy Rule, Bob May, Ernest Watson and Mack Wilson, Jr., and was built around safety rules in driving.

E. M. Wilson, local manager, presented the characters in the skit a prize with the compliments of the company. Judging in each of the nine districts was done by a committee from the company's office in Abilene.

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs. Toward that end we started rolling months ago, with these results:

1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.

2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.

3 Army reconnaissance cars—military vehicles of an entirely new type—are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.

4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

5 Several months ago work was started, on our own initiative, on an entirely new 1500 horsepower airplane engine especially designed for mass production. This engine is now in the test stage and plans are being developed for producing it in large quantities when and if needed.

6 A Ford aircraft apprentice school has been established, to train 2000 students at a time.

That is a report of progress to date.

The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

Frank H. Royal of Collingsworth Dies

Frank H. Royal, pioneer Collingsworth County land owner and merchant, died early Wednesday afternoon at his home. He was stricken suddenly as he was preparing to go to town.

Mr. Royal, 72, moved to Collingsworth County 52 years ago, and lived on a section of land southwest of Wellington. In 1911 he helped to establish the Pioneer Hardware Company, which he operated until two years ago.

He was well-known in Hall County, and attended each year the Old Settlers Reunion here.

Survivors include his widow and six children, Ralph, Harris, Tom, and Bess Royal, and Mrs. Carl Spinx and Mrs. Alton Abbot.

During 1940 Texas salted away 11.5 per cent more money in savings bonds than in 1939.

Shamrock Youth,
Former Memphian
Killed in AccidentFinis Roden, Grandson of Memphians, Fatally Injured
When Vehicle Overtakes

The St. Patrick's Day celebration was marred with the tragic death of Finis Roden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roden of Shamrock and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Richardson of Memphis, who was killed in an automobile accident near Shamrock Tuesday of last week.

The car, driven by L. M. Daniels, overturned when an attempt was made to pass another car. The wheels skidded on the soft dirt at the side of the road, and Daniels lost control of the vehicle. Roden suffered head wounds and severe lacerations. He was rushed to a hospital, and died Tuesday morning, March 18, at 4 o'clock.

Funeral services were held at the Missionary Baptist Church with Rev. Luther Crawford conducting the rites. School was dismissed at 2:30 o'clock to allow his friends and schoolmates to attend the services.

Roden was born July 9, 1921, in Memphis, and moved with his parents to Shamrock when he was one year old.

Survivors include his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Ingram and Martha Ellen; one brother, Billy Joe, and his grandparents.

'Ill Wind'—

which slants upward toward the inside of the belt, thus not only checking the wind but lifting it upward and protecting the soil in the fields from being blown out or dried out.

Right now, Greene points out, is the time when shelterbelt owners should begin cultivating the trees. The larger ones, such as the five-year-olds on the Erwin place, are now past the stage of cultivation and will require no further care except, perhaps, an occasional cleaning out of the tumble weeds which blow in.

The younger trees, however, have to be well-kept and cultivated for the best results. Cultivation is the farmer's part of the bargain, since he agrees, when the Forestry crew gives him the trees and sets them out free, to keep them from dying out if possible.

That cultivation is necessary may be easily seen on a number of the belts. Two belts which were pointed out were on the Finch estate. Both are now in bad condition since they have not been cultivated as often as needed.

M. J. Draper, on his place southwest of Memphis, has a belt about 3-4 of a mile in length on the north boundary. The belt is now in excellent shape, and when it "becomes of age," will provide his fields with much protection.

Another belt which has not done well due to poor cultivation may be found on the Chas. Webster place, which is now being farmed by Arthur Scott. Scott is a new tenant, however, and has indicated that he will cultivate the trees, most of which had to be re-set this year. The land is extremely sandy, and the trees will do much toward preventing blowing when they become larger in size.

To see a young belt which is in almost perfect condition, the row of trees on the Earl Mitchell farm near Lesley is suggested. The belt is only two years old, but is progressing rapidly. It is about one-half mile in length and may be seen from the highway.

On the H. C. Fowler farm on the other side of Lesley, a new belt has been set out on sub-irrigated land which has been terraced, with the trees located on the terraces. On the same farm another belt which was becoming eroded from water pouring off a hill has been reworked by the Forestry crew. Hand-made terraces have been constructed across the belt, both to keep the gullies from forming and to hold the water and aid the growth of the trees.

Damage to some of the younger trees is often caused by rabbits gnawing on the bark, Greene said. To stop this, small mounds are placed around in the belts, as well as any other place on the farm where the owner desires. In the top of the mounds are placed small grains of poisoned feed to kill the rabbits.

In August of 1939, the last time a detailed report was made, Hall County was second in the state in the number of miles of shelterbelt. At that time, Hall County, with 192.75 miles, was surpassed only by Wheeler County, which had 303.25 miles of trees. This county now, however, has more than two hundred miles of the belts, Greene said.

About six or seven species of trees are planted in the belts in this locality, trees such as desert willow, cedar, mulberry, Chinese elm, cottonwood, honey locust, black locust, and apricot.

The heel-in yard is located just out of Memphis on the Lakeview highway on land owned and donated for the purpose by L. G. Rasco. The small trees are raised in the nursery at Plainview, and transported to Memphis by truck. About thirty men are now working on the belts in Hall County, Greene said. Four of the men are foremen, and the remainder are laborers taken from the WPA rolls.

No One Seriously Injured in Wreck

No one was seriously injured when a car, carrying three Memphians and two citizens of Monahans, overturned about two miles on the other side of Turkey Wednesday afternoon.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cook and Georgia Cook of Memphis, and Mrs. Al Cook and Dorothy Bicknell of Monahans.

Mrs. Sam Cook suffered a fractured bone in her arm, but the others received only bruises. All were given first aid in Turkey, and then brought on to a Memphis hospital for further treatment. Mrs. Sam Cook was the only one who had not been released from the hospital this morning.

Students Present
Rotary Program

Three high school students, Muffett Merrell, Rayburn Jones, and Thomas Pyle, entertained members of the Rotary Club with musical numbers at the regular luncheon Tuesday.

Pyle gave two numbers on his cornet, and was accompanied by Miss Merrell. Jones played the piano solo which he gave in his broadcast over station WBAF last Friday.

Lion Auto Store Enjoys Successful Budget Plan Deal
On Tires and License Plates

A successful campaign will be closed this week by the Lion Auto Store of Memphis in their budget buying of automobile tires and tubes and motor overhauls in connection with the purchase of 1941 auto license plates.

This campaign has been carried on through the use of Democrat advertising, the last of a series of five ads appearing in this issue. The public's response has been excellent, it is stated, and many Hall Countians have availed themselves of the opportunity to purchase tires, tubes, and motor overhauls in connection with their license plates on the budget payment.

According to Hank Hankins, manager of the store, the plan provides that the purchaser may buy two tires and two tubes and his 1941 plates and make repayment in six monthly payments.
Motor overhaul on the budget plan, it was explained, includes all parts and the labor by the mechanic of the purchaser's choice. The only carrying charge on either deal is a small percentage incorporated into the monthly payments.

As the campaign closes, Mr.
Hankins expressed his pleasure of the outcome and The Democrat's advertising facilities.

Training Course To Start April 1

The ground school course for the non-college civil pilot training program in Childress will begin Tuesday, April 1. Approximately fifty students have taken the physical examination, and there are others who have not taken the examination but have indicated their intention of taking the course.

Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m., probably at the Childress high school. Textbooks and other necessary matterial are already available for the beginning of the course. A salvaged airplane is being brought to Childress this week for class room study.

There are still a few vacancies in the ground school course, and any one desiring to take the course should get in touch with the Childress Chamber of Commerce at an early date. It will not be necessary for the students to take the physical examination before the ground school starts; however, arrangements will be made for those admission some time soon after the ground school gets underway.

Students have enrolled from Childress, Quanah, Acme, Loco,
Memphis, Lakeview, Paducah, Cee
Vee, and Clarendon. Students from Memphis who have made application to take the course are D. J. Compton and William Greene.

injured in an automobile last week, was reported to be improving this week. He suffered a broken leg, fractured pelvis bone

a hospital at Wichita Falls, and, if further complications do not arise, his condition will probably continue to improve, it was explained.

influenza last week-end.

Mrs. Jim Corneliuss, who has been ill for a number of days, is he is making in recovering.

Mrs. Flavil Hodge, who underwent an appendectomy recently in a local hospital, was reported to be improving this week. She is still in the hospital, although she will probably be removed to her as satisfactory, Mr. Bragg said.

No more calls have been re-have now slowed up, it is believed that this county will not

SUNDAY—
10 a. m., Sunday School.
7:30 p. m., Training Union.
We will go to Eli Sunday. We missed our regular Sunday at Eli the second Sunday because of the home-going of our mother. We would like to express our appreciation for all you did for us in our time of sorrow. Especially for your presence with us.

It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting. Ecc. 7:2.
Then we should say in the words of the Bible, "Oh give thanks unto the Lord for He is good."

About Folks You Know . . .

MEMPHIS PERSONALITIES . . . BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES OF THE PEOPLE WHO MAKE MEMPHIS PROGRESS

Ottie F. Jones

Many standards of values are used when men count their possessions—some count them in dollars and cents, some in acres of land, some in stocks and bonds; but one of Memphis' outstanding personalities and most beloved citizens counts his possessions in friends. Ottie F. Jones, manager of the Waples-Platter Wholesale Grocery Company and president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, probably is the richest man in west Texas by this standard of values, since he enjoys the friendship, shares in the joys and sorrows, of thousands of people he and his company serve in this territory.

Ottie Franklin Jones was born on a farm two miles west of Memphis on October 22, 1894. He has lived in this community all his life, with the exception of the years when he served his country overseas in 1917-19.

Mr. Jones started to school in the local system, with Miss Maggie Broyles as his first teacher. He attended the local school through the tenth grade, and then went to the Goodnight Baptist College and finished his scholastic work. A. L. Thornton, brother of Lee Thornton of this city, was president of the college at Goodnight when Mr. Jones attended there.

In 1916 Mr. Jones went to Dallas and attended the Metropolitan Business college and on completion of his course there returned to Memphis and went into the employ of Conly Ward in the grocery business.

July 4, 1917 he resigned his position with Mr. Ward and, with the country at war, enlisted in the United States Army. He volunteered at Dallas and August 10 he was sent to San Antonio where he was stationed at the San Antonio arsenal. September 6 he was transferred to Camp Travis and there received, help train and equip the first draftees of World War I.

Shortly thereafter he was transferred to Governor's Island, New Jersey, and on October 18, 1917 he sailed from Hoboken, N. J., for France. He was with the 166th Infantry attached to the famous Rainbow Division. He and his company landed at Nazaire, France, and was assigned to detached service in Paris from November 22, 1917 to February 18, 1918.

He was then transferred to Tours on December 3, 1918 and on May 19, 1919 sailed from Bordeaux for home. During his stay in France, Mr. Jones had been given the rank of sergeant. He was returned to Camp Merit, N. J. and later to Camp Bowie where he received his discharge June 1, 1919.

OTTIE F. JONES

During June and July of 1919 Mr. Jones with John Deaver and Allen Grundy, worked in the harvest fields at White Deer. Mr. Jones recalls that Mr. Deaver was chief cook for the outfit.

August 1, 1919 Mr. Jones went to work for the Waples-Platter Grocery Company in Memphis as a shipping clerk. In 1921 he was made local manager, and has held that job since. During the years that he has worked for this company, Mr. Jones has served them in every capacity, including janitor, clerk, truck driver, book-keeper, salesman and manager.

On May 20, 1920 Mr. Jones was married to Miss Gussie Ayers of Kosse, who was living in Memphis with her sister, Mrs. F. V. Clark. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist Church by Rev. A. L. Moore. Mr. Jones recalls the first time he saw his wife. She was walking down the street and he and another Waples-Platter salesman met her. He turned to his companion and said "Tres le vous mademoiselle avec rouge chapeau?" (Who is the nice looking lady with the red hat?) He lost no time in getting and introduction and then things, by his own admission, were well under control. He says they still are.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have four children, L. F. (Chuck) 20, who is a student in Howard Payne; Mary 18, who is living at home; Hubert, 16, who is a junior in the local high school; and Ruth, 13, who is a freshman in the high school.

Mr. Jones is president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce; a member of the Baptist Church, a deacon, one of the churches' three trustees, a teacher in the Sunday School and a director of the budget. He is a member of the Park Board and served as chairman of that body last year. He is a member of the American Legion post, and a post commander of that organization. He has been recently appointed as a member of the advisory board of the National Youth's Administration. He has been a rodeo and rennie committee member during each of the celebrations and was in charge of the parade during the first year of the rodeo. He is a member of the Masonic orders, and is chairman of the Hall County Food Industry Committee in the Food Stamp Plan activities.

Mr. Jones is president of the Durham-Jones Pharmacy, he owns his home here in Memphis and has ranch property in Hutchins County.

Mr. Jones' outstanding business achievement has come through his activities with the Waples-Platter Company. When he took charge of the city sales for this company the sales on White Swan Coffee was very low. Today Memphis sales lead all houses in the north-west part of the state. It was largely because of Mr. Jones' efforts that the Waples-Platter Company have a fine brick home for their business here with railroad facilities. The greatest thrill Mr. Jones ever got out of his business transactions was when he sold a straight car-load of canned tomatoes, some 24,000 cans, to one grocer.

Mr. Jones' outstanding civic achievement has come through his work with the Park Board. The American Legion, in seeking something through which their organization could give lasting benefit to the community, hit on the idea of a park. Mr. Jones was selected through the cooperation of the City Council and the Commissioners Court, the park is being built and promises to be one of the outstanding show places of west Texas.

Mr. Jones recalls his most embarrassing moment when he was a boy playing blackman with a group of children. One of the girls in the game grabbed at him and caught him by the trousers. They gave way and he was to walk three miles to school with certain parts of his anatomy visible through the torn place.

Mr. Jones looks forward to the future of Hall County with a great deal of pleasure. He looks forward to the time when Memphis will have a big factory and a payroll, which is part of his program for the Chamber of Commerce this year. Although his 47 years of residence in this county has taken him through some trying times, Mr. Jones is as enthusiastic about his work as he is, believing that hard work and diligent effort will make this county prosper. "Of course, rainfall helps too," Mr. Jones observes.

Nine Local Scouts Go to Celebration

Half-Inch Rain Here

With several days of cloudy, misty weather last week, moisture began falling here Friday night and continued throughout the day Saturday and part of Saturday night. The precipitation amounted to about one-half inch.

Church Activity

Rev. L. J. Crawford held services at the local Baptist Church Sunday morning and night. Sunday school attendance at both churches has been below normal for the past few weeks, due to sickness and bad weather. Bible study will be held this week at the Baptist church with the sixth chapter of Acts for discussion. Several members of the Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church attended a conference for the Christian Board of Education, held last Tuesday at King Memorial at Childress.

P-T. A. Meets

The Newlin P-T. A. met Thursday night for the regular monthly meeting, and selected delegates to attend the district congress to be held April 17, 18 in Dumas. Superintendent Cheves and five members of the local organization plan to attend. Nine children from this school will also attend the meeting and sing with a group of other children over the county. The singing will be directed by Miss Mary Foreman, county music supervisor. Mrs. Roy Guthrie made an address for the program Thursday night. Several songs were sung by the children.

Marvin Wasson in Hospital

If artificial lighting of poultry houses has been started it must be continued until early April. Sudden stoppage of lights before that time would seriously lessen egg production.

It's all in fun . . . so far . . . as Russian children cavort through the snow with a war tank as a toy. Contrast the American style of fun, an older boy teaching youngsters the fine art of becoming a champion at marbles. Which would you prefer for your children?

Texas Farmers Spend Little For Cotton in Year

Findings of Survey Revealed
In Mattress Making Centers;
Fifty Percent in Triple A

Texas farm families with a gross income of less than $5.00 per year spend only $23.53 for cotton goods in 12 months, despite the fact that most of them get the major part of their incomes from raising cotton.

This figure is based on a survey made this winter in 20 Texas counties. An average of 21 families in each of the counties responded to a questionnaire which was circulated in community mattress centers. Tabulations made in the Washington Office of the Triple-A and relayed to Mrs. Dora R.
Barnes, clothing specialist for the
A. and M. College Extension Service, showed that the average cash income during 1940 for these families of 5 persons was $253.26.

Fifty-five percent of the reporting families take part in the Triple-A program, and the average AAA payment per family is $79.71. This represents about 30 percent of these families' income.

Mrs. Barnes says the new supplementary AAA provision, which provides that cotton farmers may be compensated with stamps for further reduction in their cotton acreage in 1941, will tend to increase materially the per family consumption of cotton goods this year.

Vegetable Laxative With Proved Feature

The punctual, satisfying relief from constipation and its headaches, biliousness, bad breath, so often experienced by users of this laxative, is mainly due to its combination of purely vegetable ingredients.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S principal ingredient has high medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative"; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

A little of this spicy, aromatic product by simple directions at and thoroughly next morning.

Measure Proposes Redistricting of Senate Divisions

Would Place Hall County
In District 28 With 15
Other Counties of Area

A measure proposing state senatorial redistricting has been introduced by Senator Kelley of Edinburgh, and would place Hall County in District 28, with 15 other counties of this area.

Hall is now in the 31st district with 25 other Panhandle counties, with one senator, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo. Under the proposal, the Panhandle would be divided into two districts, with several south plains counties in the southern district.

The new district would include Hall, Childress, Cottle, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, and Randall.

The 31st district would then include Wheeler, Gray, Carson, Potter, Oldham, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, Dallam, and Deaf Smith.

The present districts were established in 1921. Although the state might have been redistricted after the release of the 1930 census, no action was taken by the Legislature.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

No. 25 of a Series

EVERY
AND
BUSINESS HAS ONE OR TWO

In a school full of bright, self-respecting students, there are very likely to be one or two completely lacking in good common sense. And that goes for business, too...particularly the beer retailing business.

Out of thousands of beer retailers who conduct respectable, law-abiding businesses, there may be a few "dunce" retailers who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

These few unwanted retailers are a menace to the future of the beer industry...and also of the benefits beer has made possible. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

It is the brewers' responsibility to make good beer—the retailers' responsibility to sell beer in wholesome surroundings—and the legally constituted authorities' responsibility to enforce the laws. All of these, working together with the public, are needed to protect the future of beer.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only reputable places where beer is sold; (2) and reporting any violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation

IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY

Phillips 66

STARTS

cold motors faster

You Don't Have To Be a College Graduate to understand why Phillips 66 Poly Gas starts cold motors faster. It's as simple as ABC.

- It is a scientific fact that quick starting in cold weather depends directly on the high test (volatility) of the gasoline.
- It is a scientific fact (revealed by our latest available full-year study of gaso-lines; June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) that:
The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels.
- See for yourself, if Phillips 66 isn't the greatest self-demonstrating cold-weather gasoline you have ever used.
You ought to get at least one trial tankful at regular-price because you simply cannot get such high test in any other gasoline at any price.

This extra high test costs you not a single penny extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.
Drive in and get that trial tankful at the first Orange and Black 66 Shield.

THE REASON WHY

WHEN YOU get down to facts in this present world war, you are likely to decide that perhaps we, as a nation, are not helping Britain to save democracy for the world.

That was the war cry during the war in 1917, when the United States entered. That is also the cry now, but is it true?

Great Britain, of course, is a democracy, with a representative form of government. The prime minister has about the same power as our president, possibly more at the present time. The king is, in a way, left out of the picture when the correct form of government is pictured.

Britain, however, has an ally in Greece, and Greece an ally, at present to say the least, in Turkey. Yet Greece and Turkey are both dictatorships.

In other words, when Roosevelt speaks of the war between democracies and dictatorships, he is speaking in a somewhat general manner, considering Greece and Turkey as democracies, and not as the dictatorships which they really are.

The United States, then, in helping Britain and Greece and Turkey, is not doing it for the sake of democracy, despite what we may say to ourselves or to each other.

We, as a nation, are helping the allies to help ourselves. We are doing it for the safety of our nation.

It is not a selfish move on our part, particularly. Not any more selfish than the British are in protecting themselves against the greedy German nation. The Britishers love their country, they love their families, just as we in the United States love our country and our families.

Great Britain, in asking for aid, probably realizes that we are helping to protect the democratic way of life of citizens of the United States.

The British did not come into the fight for democracy with clean hands. That nation has arisen on the basis of imperialism, although it is now a democratic country to a large extent.

So when you think deep down in your heart for our reasons for helping Britain and Greece, you will also probably discover that your motives are not for helping someone else, but for helping yourself.

Self-preservation, after all, is about the strongest instinct found in the human race.

TURKEY SCORES AGAIN

THE CITIZENS of Turkey are to be complimented on their foresight and aggressiveness in conceiving and carrying out the blackout which will be held there next Saturday night.

Naturally, a number of people may consider the idea absurd, since this country is not actually at war, and at the present at least, is not in danger of air raids from foreign nations.

Texas, however, is so situated that air raids might become a common thing should an invasion of the United States ever be attempted. This state is close enough to the South American shores for that—it is also close enough to Mexico should some foreign power overcome that country.

The blackout will also be helpful in getting other cities to have blackout drills, and the practices may become common things. At any rate, Turkey is due to be extended a hand of congratulations.

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

That's Good Business

The McLean News: Most anyone is willing to tell you what is wrong with your business, but you have to take your hat off to the man who will tell you what is wrong and make you willing to pay for it.

Sings a Song of Ships

The Quanah Tribune-Chief: In American shipyards a popular song is: "A ship a Day Keeps Hitler Away."

Church Workers

The Foard County News: The worst critics of any church are the members who are doing nothing for it either in a financial way or through a contribution of their services. The men who work for a church don't go about criticizing it. Like the mule they can't kick while they are pulling.

The Modern Way

The Donley County News: You know, we are a funny people. We took this country away from a people who scalped us, and turned it over to politicians who skin us.

One Way to Do It

The Menard News: A friend of ours wanted to make a trip last week, but he didn't have a spare tire. And he didn't have enough money to buy a spare tire. So he went down and bought a new car which had a spare attached.

Weekly Pun

The Floyd County Hesperian: Did you hear of the man who rode out of the raging flood to safety on a bass fiddle? His wife accompanied him on the piano.

Life

"Cracks" in the Chillicothe Valley News: Man lives, marries, dies; wife moans awhile and then catches another.

Loss of Mind

The Plainsman in the Lubbock Morning-Avalanche: That Girl on Broadway says in many cases, the person who is worrying for fear he will lose his mind wouldn't miss it if he did!

Nazis in Norway

The Dalhart Texan: "The Nazi party in Norway is still meeting with tribulations in its attempts to drum up membership," according to News of Norway, a periodical issued by the Norwegian government press representative in Washington.

The periodical continues: "During their campaign in one rural district, the would-be naziflers got a particularly hostile reception."

"Such audiences as could be assembled consistently failed to show proper respect for 'New Order' ideology.

"Then came the last straw. One evening, after trying to spread enlightenment among a group of peasants, the Nazi lecturers came out to their automobile to find that some farmers had hitched a manure cart behind it. On the auto was a sign: 'We want you to have at least ONE follower!'"

Volunteers

The Wichita Daily Times: Texas, ranking sixth in population, now ranks first in number of volunteers for military service; that is, in volunteers for three-year regular army enlistments, apart from voluntary inductions for the draft. It is measurably ahead of both New York and Pennsylvania, much more populous states. It has a higher ratio of enlistments to populations than almost any other state.

As the Houston Press remarks, there is no occasion to brag, but one may salute.

Trails of Scientists

The Happy Herald: Men of small erudition dismiss as unscientific all that they cannot explain, and regulate it to the realm of superstition, but not great scientists. They realize that there is much that we do not understand in this world, and much that science cannot explain, and instead of being arrogant, they stand in humble awe in the presence of a universe they cannot hope to comprehend. Their attitude should prove exemplary to these lesser intellectual lights who think they know the answers to all questions that we have ever been asked or will be asked.

Making It Equal

The Amarillo Times: Constant pounding of interior cities is going to effect the civilian morale, and wars are won—not by strength of arms alone—but by the morale of the civilian population.

This psychological factor makes American aid to Britain more important. More of our big planes, flying boats and flying fortresses, going to Britain will enable the R. A. F. to extend its bombings.

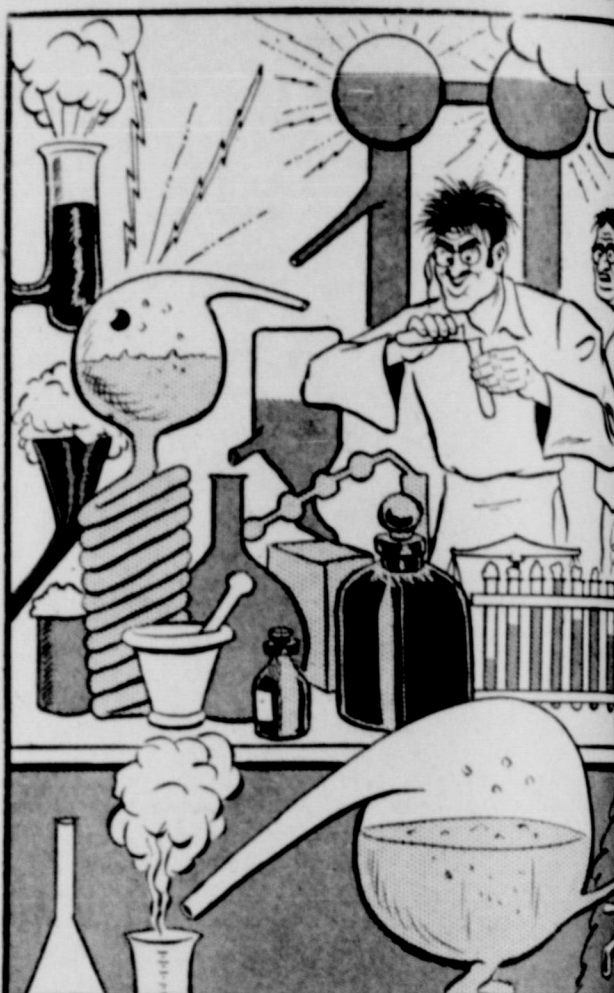

And when every ordinary German citizen gets a taste of what the British have had, the conflict is going to be equalized and then turned.

The Future

The Scurry County Times: After the war clouds floating over from Europe have passed away—and they will some day—people will have to turn back, after all, to the farm and ranch for their livelihood. We will have to depend on the soil again to produce the essentials to carry on life, business, and commerce. That our farmers and ranchers are reported to be facing a better day is in itself good news of vital importance.

"Don't look now, but I think there's a faker in our midst."

"I'll bet a dollar to a doughnut that's the wrong chili sauce!"

"Drat these spring thaws! Promise you'll say about this affair. . . . We want . . . it a military Bible!"

"I FIGURE A FELLA CAN'T BE TOO CLEAN -- I TAKE A EVERY SPRING, WHETHER I NEED IT OR NOT."

That Reminds Me

By RALPH HERBERT

JIMMY, the new office boy, never saw type lice. He was curious to know what they looked like. So one of the printers fixed up a galley, with two blocks of type on either end. In between the blocks of type was a puddle of inky water.

When Jimmy's face was bent over close to the galley, so that he could get a good look at the type lice, the printer quickly pressed the two blocks of type together, squirting the mess into poor Jimmy's face. It's been years since that gag was first pulled, but it's just as effective today as it ever was.

JIMMY'S discomfiture reminded us of tricks like that pulled over and over again, on countless apprentices and office boys. Perhaps the most famous is the one in which an apprentice is sent scurrying all over the plant in search of a left-handed monkey wrench. There are a dozen versions of the left-handed gag—left-handed tea cups, left-handed oars, left-handed canoe paddles.

The boys who are now starting army camp life will be sent chasing around the camp in search of a bucket of salutes. Countless others have searched high and low for buckets of steam, or for buckets of striped paint.

In photography shops, it's customary to send new employees in search of negative stretchers, or hypo snakes. Grocers' clerks have been trapped by innocent requests for vanilla-flavored apple butter. Apprentice meat cutters have spent hours in search of meat-augers, with which to cut holes in a side of beef so it can be hung up on a meat-hook.

WHEN a new usher starts to work in a theater, the older boys always send him about to find a curtain-key. They tell him the show can't go on until the curtain is opened, and the key has somehow been lost. Greatly excited, the new boy will spend an hour in search of the key.

Every trade has its own little gags. It's all in fun. The little tricks serve as ice-breakers, and the newcomer who takes it good-naturedly is a favorite with the rest of the force from the day of his initiation until the day he helps to initiate others.
