Location Picked for New 75-Acre Golf Course, Club

The site for a new city-owned golf course has been selected and an agreement reached with the landowner to acquire it. The agreement was reached in a meeting of the city council Monday afternoon, August 1. It comes as a result of the closing of Hay Camp Country Club.

Under the agreement, the City will acquire from Hubert Brooks 75 acres on the north side of his farm, a mile and a half east of Wellington on Highway 203. Mr. Brooks will acquire 40 acres which adjoins the old Green Acres Golf Course on Marian Airpark, which the city bought a number of years ago in view of enlarging the golf course.

He will also acquire approximately 6 acres with a house, 7 acres which the city owns on the west side of his place, which was the old city water farm, and which the city still owns. In addition, the City Council agreed to give Mr. Brooks the lease on the 120-acre sanitary landfill farm for grazing purposes, for a 10-year period.

These arrangements are contingent on the Golf Association's being able to raise money to improve the golf course and pay for any other facilities that are placed on the site, such as a swimming pool, tennis courts, or club house.

Mr. Brooks told the council he will grant water rights from the city water farm so that the golf course can be irrigated. The Golf Association will maintain the wells.

In short, the land for the new golf course will belong to the city, which will lease it to the golf association.

Golf Association members and the council agreed that selecting a new site for a golf course is preferable to trying to improve the old Green Acres Course, which is too flat for interesting play. The FAA has in the past objected to the golf course on the airport.

Two Acres of Marijuana Destroyed Here Saturday

Collingsworth County Sheriff's Department located and harvested approximately two acres of marijuana Saturday, July 30.

It netted them 620 pounds, and Sheriff John Rainey and his deputies estimate the street value could have run as high as $75,000.

This was only a few miles from where the sheriff and his deputies destroyed another crop of marijuana a year ago.

Taking part in the work with Sheriff Rainey were his deputies Richard Keller, J.R. Nelson, Steve Vines, and Julian Torrez.

The marijuana was located along a small creek which runs into Buck Creek, about 9 miles west of Wellington.

These were good, healthy stalks, Sheriff Rainey said. One which the deputies measured was 11 feet tall. They ranged from that size down to about a foot high, the sheriff said. He believes these were planted last year or two years ago and came up this spring from the seed.

On a small part of the stalks, the tops had been harvested and the usable leaves stripped off. Most of the plot had not been touched.

The marijuana plants were destroyed Saturday afternoon in the jail yard by dousing

Wellington Reunion Plans Announced, Additions Made

Plans are nearing completion for the 1977 Wellington Ex-Students Reunion, scheduled for Saturday, August 13, according to Patsy Harper Mitchell, president.

Several additions have been made, she said.

Events begin Friday night, with several class reunions.

The Class of 1927 will observe its 50th anniversary with a get-together Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Heritage Room. This class will return to the Heritage Room Saturday at 10:00 a.m. for a brunch.

The class of 1952 will meet for a dinner at 7:00 p.m. Friday in Cherokee Inn Restaurant. Class members planning to attend should contact Mrs. Jerry Nix, whose phone is 447-2664, for reservations. Dr. Donald Schoff of Westminster, Calif. is overall coordinator of plans.

The Class of 1967 will hold its cook-out at Pioneer Park Friday evening.

Other class reunions will include:

Class of 1928-29 will hold its annual luncheon at Carrolls.

The Class of 1937 will have all-day visitation in the community building, where the general reunion will be held.

Registration at the community building will begin at 10:00 a.m., under the direction of Dora E. McCla-skey Smith, and will continue through the day.

There will be no program in order to give more time for reminiscing and visiting, Mrs. Mitchell said.

The Ex-Students dinner will be held at Ellison Park, served by Kentucky Fried Chicken of Childress. This is owned by a former Wellington man, J.C. Ward. If the weather is bad, the dinner will be in the community center.

A new band will play for the alumni dance, which starts at 9:00 p.m. This is Kirby Stevens Western Band from Canadian.

Bunting will decorate Wellington for the reunion, put up by Boy Scouts of Troop 232.

Letters have been mailed to all ex-students whose addresses are available, and this work was done by senior citizens at the RSVP Center, Mrs. Mitchell said.

Pre-registration will get under way Monday, directed by Jackie Barton Wilkerson and Vickie Parker.

Nita Hughey White and Cheryl Wilson Anders are in charge of door prizes and Dr. Bill Estes heads the refreshment committee.

Jake Leach has taken the job of cleaning up after the reunion is over, and he needs more men to help with this.

Mrs. Smith announced registration workers:

10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon: Vikki Saunders, Dorothy Baird McGill and Maudie Coffee; 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m., Mrs. Smith;

1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Angela Mitchell, Susan Sullivan Hicks and Patricia Smith Bowden; 3:00 to 5:00: Renee Mitchell Hanna, Evelyn Ball King and Exa Yarbrough Cudd.

5:00 to 6:30: Judy Smith Hall, Ann Wilson Yates, and Larlu Hays; 6:30 to 8:00 at Ellison Park: Ladonna Jones, Pam Vines and Mrs. Smith.

Meeting Called to Discuss New Club

A meeting will be held Thursday, August 4, for everyone who is interested in having a private club for Wellington, according to Wayne Martin, one of those making arrangements.

It will be in the Club Room of the Community Building at 8:30 p.m.

This meeting is for those interested in facilities that will include golf, swimming, tennis, and picnicking, Martin said.

Loco-Arlie Reunion to Be Held Here Sunday, Aug. 7

Residents and former residents of the Loco and Arlie Communities will gather Sunday, August 7, for their annual reunion. It will be held throughout the day in Bura Handly Community Center.

There will be some present who have not missed a reunion. Others who have never attended have sent word they will be here Sunday.

Approximately 125 are expected.

There will be no program, but a king and queen from each of the communities will be elected. Nominated from Loco community are Mrs. Lee Gibson Bishop of Quail and Laverne Chaudoin of Canton.

Arlie nominees are Mrs. Ura Scott and T. Wyrick and Mrs. Leta Wyrick and Sammy Motsenbocker. Other nominations will be made from the floor.

Gifts will be presented to the kings and queens, also to the person traveling farthest to attend and to the oldest person present.

The reunion visitors will begin gathering about 10:00 a.m. for coffee and to visit.

The basket dinner will be served at noon, bread and drinks will be furnished. Each family attending will bring food.

If there is business to be taken care of, a business meeting will convene some time during the afternoon.

Those having momentos or pictures of earlier years in these communities are invited to bring them.

Both these communities had settlers by the early 1890s, and each developed into a sizeable community center. Both had post offices until fairly recent years.

According to the History of Collingsworth County, published in 1924, the first school at what was to become Loco was organized in 1901 as Buck Creek, and kept this name until it was moved in 1910.

The first post office in this community was located two miles north of the bridge on Red River, with a Mr. Hill as postmaster. The first post office at Arlie was established prior to 1892, with Miss Billy Tinsley as postmaster.

Both post offices moved several times, and were finally consolidated at Loco at a time when a change of name to Huey was considered in 1920. The name, Loco, remained however.

Attending the reunion will be a few who lived in one or the other of the communities in the yearly years of the century, but those who came later, or who grew up at a later period will predominate.

It is pointed out, however, that every person who ever lived at either Loco or Arlie is welcome.

Mrs. W.I. Smith Long-time Area Woman, Dies

Mrs. Willie Smith, who came to Collingsworth County 67 years ago, died at the family home, 1309 Dalhart Street, at 6:35 Tuesday, July 26. She had been in failing health several months. She was 78.

Mrs. Smith was active in the First Baptist Church and its Fidelis Sunday School Class, and a long-time member of the Good Neighbor Club.

She was also active in the Houselog Community where she lived for many years, and then was associated with her husband in the operation of Smith Rest Home from 1958 to 1962. At that time, they retired.

After her children were grown, Mrs. Smith began to study art and ceramics, and for a number of years she won many awards at County Fairs and art shows.

Porter of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Porter, Jr., of Arlington, the Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Porter of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Porter of Albuquerque, N.M.

Others going from Wellington were Mrs. Kenneth Porter, Janna and Carol. Mr. Porter, who is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, joined them.

During the morning, members visited, took pictures and looked at pictures of previous reunions. Ronald Porter of Sweetwater, president, was in charge of the meeting and members voted to return to the Colorado City civic center for the 1978 reunion, the fourth Sunday in July.

Afterwards Bessie Saunders of Roswell, N.M. gave a eulogy to the late Knox Porter; Melissa Keys of Roscoe led the group in the Lord's Prayer.

Group singing followed lunch with special vocal and guitar numbers by Deloris Porter.

Trophies will be awarded the top three teams. An All-Star team and outstanding players will be picked and these will receive individual trophies.

"Our tournaments have been so successful in the past that out of town teams want to come here," said Ed Hale. "We have a more relaxed type of tournament and both players and fans like it."

Play will begin at 6:00 p.m. Friday and quitting time will depend on the number of teams playing.

Games will start again at 8:00 a.m. Saturday. A Sunday

Some Citizens Can Qualify for Help in Paying Utility Bills

Certification is now in progress for elderly, low-income citizens who can qualify for limited assistance in paying their utility bills.

Such payment may be possible under the Special Crisis Intervention Program for which Governor Dolph Briscoe has applied for the Texas allocation of $4,080,000.

In Collingsworth County, application is made to the Community Action Center in Wellington, and the deadline for making application is Monday, August 15, said Mrs. Tessie Burba, director.

"Persons receiving SSI payments have been mailed a card notifying them to come in and sign up. If you got a letter, you should come in," she emphasized.

Mrs. Burba said that the emergency payments are limited to $250 per household and may be made to pay past unpaid utility bills, or to pay future utility bills. It includes

It was located in an isolated area where it was unlikely to be found. Sheriff Rainey did not identify the source of information that led him and his deputies to the field.

There was no insect damage, and Sheriff Rainey told the Wellington Leader that insects do not damage marijuana plants, neither do cattle or horses, or other animals eat it.

Another hearing, on the use of revenue sharing funds, was called for the same time and location.

Students who have not received the required immunizations (DPT and Tetanus) must begin this course by the time school starts, as this is required by Texas law, he added.

A realistic look at the money situation reveals that the rate of inflation will most likely increase until the end of next year. Economists predict accelerated price increases in the next 18 months, so that by the end of this year the rate of inflation will be 6½% or more. If their predictions hold true, in 1978 it will be 7-7½%. Then the rate will drop. A harsh winter caused the price index to advance 10% or more. Weather-damaged crops drove prices up, and frigid temperatures caused fuel shortages. Energy costs are certain to increase, and Agricultural Department economists are forecasting food price increases despite lower farm prices. The faster prices go up, the more attractive it is to borrow. More inflation argues for you to make necessary major purchases now instead of next year when prices will most probably be higher.

Langfords Take Championship In Tourney

Langford's Conoco team won the Wellington League Benefit Tournament in a 9-7 win over Martin Seed Sunday afternoon, July 31.

The two evenly matched teams gave a near-professional performance and either one could have been the champion until the last play of the game.

After the champion and second place winner, third place went to Davis Thriftway of Memphis; fourth, Mote's Garage; fifth, Arnett; sixth, Owens Farm Supply.

Proceeds amounting to approximately $200 and from the concession stand, will go to the Satellite Center for Human Development.

Eddie Hale was tournament director.

The sportsmanship trophy went to Mike Browning of Memphis; while 15-year-old Teenie Powell, was picked as outstanding defensive player; John Barton outstanding offensive player; and Donald Wilfong, outstanding player.

The six winning teams were awarded trophies. Individual trophies went to members of the championship team, Langfords, to the all tournament team and the outstanding players.

The championship game was one of the best played all year, declared Hale. It ended with a perfectly timed double play. John Barton came to bat for Langfords and singled out to the second baseman. Ronnie Glenn came up next and grounded to the short stop, who picked the ball up and threw to second. This left Glenn at first. Danny West, next at bat for Langfords, grounded to short stop Richard Sims, who tossed the ball to second baseman Alton Belew who in turn pivoted and fired to first baseman Robert Powell for the third and final out of the game.

"It was the prettiest play all year. It looked professional," Hale declared.

In the first round of the tournament, Langfords drew a bye and Davis Thriftway of Memphis defeated Martin Seed 21-5 in the first game. Since this was a double elimination tournament, Martins still had another chance at the title and did not lose again until the championship game Sunday afternoon.

Mote's Garage then defeated the National Guard 24-9, and in the third game, Caswell Cole Ford (Arnett) won 41-22 over Owens Farm Supply.

In the second go-round Davis Thriftway defeated Motes 19-14. Langfords then played their first game and defeated Arnett 10-4. Martin Seed won over National Guard 11-10, and this put the guard out of the tournament.

Mote's defeated Arnett 20-3, still in the second round, to give Arnett fifth place in the tournament and let Mote's advance.

In the semi-finals, Langfords won over Davis Thriftway 11-8, in Saturday night action. Langfords went to the finals.

The final Saturday night game saw Martin Seed defeat Owens Farm Supply 31-4. This gave Owens sixth place in the tournament and let Martin Seed advance.

The game to determine fourth place opened Sunday play and saw Martin Seed defeat Davis Thriftway 11-1. This put Martin in the finals and Davis received third place.

MR. AND MRS. JOE TERRY

Mr., Mrs. Joe Terry Honored on Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage Saturday, July 30, when they were honored with a reception.

The hosts were their two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Claude Terry of Kermit and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Joe Terry of Amarillo. Their four grandchildren assisted.

Visiting was relaxed and informal throughout the reception.

Guests were served at a table covered with a white lace cloth over pale blue, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of pale blue and white carnations and pom pom daisies and foliage, surrounding five white tapers in a gold container.

Gold appointments were used.

Mrs. Kenneth Terry of Amarillo served the tiered wedding cake and Miss Karen Terry, also of Amarillo, poured. Mrs. Carolyn Harrell of Kermit registered the guests.

In addition to the two sons and daughters-in-law, the four grandchildren were here to help them celebrate: Kenneth Dale Terry, and Miss Karen Terry of Amarillo, Mrs. Carolyn Harrell and Mark Terry of Kermit. Present also was their only great grandson, David C. Harrell of Kermit.

Other relatives were a part of the celebration: Mr. Terry's sister, Mrs. J.H. Wigham of Amarillo; his uncle, Leon Hassell of Childress, and cousin, Irby Scott of Childress, along with Mrs. Terry's brother, R.L. King of Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry are now retired, but his career as a banker has seldom been matched in Panhandle financial history--52 years of service, that began in 1923 and ended in 1974. For the first 29 years, he was at the Wellington State Bank; the remainder of the time at the City State Bank. There was a brief period when he was with the First State Bank at Groves.

Joe Terry has held his share of community service posts, and it is to be noted that every one of these has carried with it heavy responsibilities.

A long-time member of First United Methodist Church, he was treasurer about 12 years. He served on the school board from 1934 until 1948, part of the time as secretary. He was, in fact, a member of the board when all the classroom teachers except one went on strike for higher pay. The strike lasted just one day--then the teachers were back at their desks.

He is past president of Wellington Kiwanis Club and from 1957 until 1971, he was a commissioner of the Wellington Housing Authority.

When Mr. Terry entered the banking field, there were just four employees at the Wellington State Bank. He was hired as a temporary employee--and temporary in his case was 30 years. The bank's vice president did the posting, and the general ledger was hand-written.

His tenure continued through the depression and World War II, two of the major events of the 20th century. Mrs. Terry calls herself a housewife, but her major contribution has been the support she has given her husband.

She has been active in the county fair, in First United Methodist Church, and especially in school affairs while their two sons were growing up. She has held membership in several clubs.

Mrs. Terry is the former

Sarah Mamie King, daughter of the late Franklin and Allie Roberts King. She was born at Bellevue, but almost her entire life has been at Wellington. She attended school here.

Mr. Terry was born in Collingsworth County, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry, among the county's earliest pioneers.

He attended Bean Hill Elementary School, then graduated from Wellington High School in 1921. He next studied at Springfield, Mo., Business College.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry were married at the Nazarene Church in Wellington, August 3, 1927.

Out of town reception guests, in addition to their children and families, included: Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Wigham of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. R.L. King of Vernon; Mrs. Janet Wilson, Lisa Wilson and Diana Wilson of Amarillo; Mrs. Irby Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hassell of Childress; Dr. and Mrs. M.V. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Brookshire, Mrs. Jess Deger and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schoffner of Shamrock; and Mrs. Osa Black of Hollis.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Geissler, Kyle and Carry of Harrah, Okla. visited Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tramel, Tim and Toni over the weekend.

Mrs. Robert Lacy and Renee returned last week from a two month visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Simcoe and family in Glen Brook, New Jersey.

Street Sweeper

Wellington City Council added a street sweeper to the proposed capital improvements in the city budget for the coming year. And none too soon.

Our existing paved city streets are disappearing under accumulated layers of dust, sand and now vegetation faster than our dirt streets are being paved.

Dirt now covers several feet of pavement at the edge of many streets. And many curbs have simply vanished. Dirt has been allowed to accumulate until it has risen to the level of the top of the curb, and it has remained long enough so that grass, in some spots, runs in a smooth line from the lawn to the street.

Cleaning the streets is not an extravagance. It is a fundamental service that the city should provide its residents. The general impression that our town makes on visitors is much influenced by the appearance of our streets. And filthy streets have a subtle effect on the way each of us, young or old, feels about our town. We are less likely to want to improve what is not up to par, and less likely to take care of what we have that is good.

An efficient street sweeper is a step in the right direction.

Avoiding World Famine

Almost all forecasts on the subject indicate that hunger among people of poor nations will be a serious world problem by the end of this century unless great efforts are made to head it off. And most planners of world food distribution place the U.S. in the role of food supplier to those nations because, they say, we have that responsibility.

Such a conclusion is reached by dreamers and politicians. Now a more realistic conclusion has been reached by a panel of the National Academy of Sciences. It finds that world famine can be avoided if the people of those nations which would suffer most from hunger will play the major role of avoiding famine.

To do so, they must double food production by the end of the century and reduce birthrates. Further, they must also learn to make better use of available food and more productive use of land.

The order is a big one, but it can be achieved. We in the U.S. came a long way from poverty, poor farming methods and low levels of nutrition in the years between the 1930s and the 1950s, when agricultural technology had reached a high point.

The panel recommends that the U.S. take the lead in performing agricultural research that could be applied abroad and make more funds available for food and nutrition research.

"We are not taking the attitude that the United States can feed the world," says Dr. Harrison E. Brown of the California Institute of Technology, the panel chairman. "We are saying that the world can feed itself with help."

With that self-help kind of approach instead of the share-the-food plans of the dreamers, the world just might avoid the problem of famine.

What Indeed

Twenty years ago, the public was horrified at the prospect of a four-day work week. Some thought it was a joke, but we see by the papers that they're trying it out.

That shadow peeking around the corner IS the four-day week. What will we do with that extra day?

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Nine mayors from Texas coastal towns made a trip to Washington to try and revive Seadock, the proposed $700 million Texas offshore terminal facility.

But major oil companies, part of the consortium which planned the facility 26 miles off Freeport to unload foreign oil, said there is little hope.

The companies claimed the federal government attached too stringent terms to licensing and made their sizable investment unsound. Gulf, Mobil and Exxon, which pledged 52 per cent of Seadock's financing, pulled out.

Advocates of the superport believe it can save $1 a barrel on imported oil costs, permitting transportation of the oil in supertankers which are too large for most existing ports.

Meanwhile, Gov. Dolph Briscoe has signed into law legislation which would permit the state to finance an offshore terminal if Seadock folds as expected.

The bill provides for issue of revenue bonds through a deepwater port authority to build the facility. Revenue would come from users of the terminal, and the state's credit would not be obligated.

The legislation also insures that federal licensing requirements must impose no financial liability (such as for oil spills) on the state.

Tax Expanding

Revenue from 10 state occupation taxes has grown 133 per cent in the last five years—to a total of nearly $1 billion last year.

Bullock said oil and gas production taxes led the big increase, leaping from $305.2 million in 1972 to $793.7 million last year.

Oil and gas production taxes account for 80 per cent of all occupation tax revenue in Texas. Gas production taxes jumped 219 per cent and oil taxes 125 per cent during the five year period.

Bullock's monthly report for July showed May state revenues totalled $803.8 million, bringing total receipts for the first nine months of fiscal 1977 to $5.2 billion, a 12 per cent increase.

Sales tax collections, at $391.9 million, were 15 per cent ahead of 1976 levels.

State spending during May totalled $587.8 million. Total expenditures for fiscal 1977 are $5.06 billion, a three per cent increase. A cash balance of $1.5 billion was on hand at the end of May.

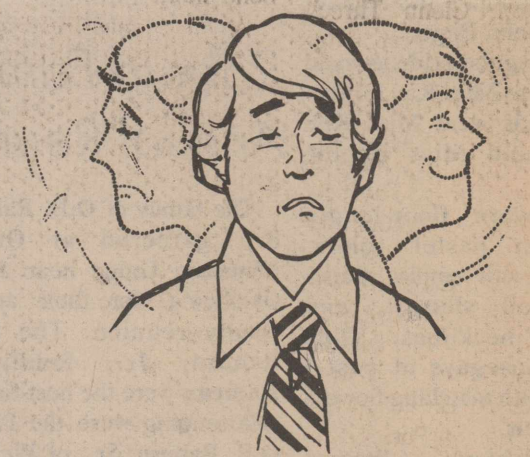

Appointments Announced

Gov. Briscoe named Judge Carlos C. Cadena of San Antonio chief justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, succeeding Charles Barrow who took the oath of office last week as a Briscoe appointee to the State Supreme Court.

Jack Dies was named special assistant to Atty. Gen. John Hill and Ronald E. Luna chief of Hill's labor division.

Margaret Amsler of McGregor, James DeAnda of McAllen, Sloan B. Blair of Fort Worth and Warlich Carr of Lubbock are new members of the State Board of Law Examiners.

Immunizations Required for All Entering School The First Time

With the opening of school less than a month away, parents are reminded that children who have not received the required immunizations are urged to have the first series before Monday, August 29, when classes begin.

This applies both to children who are starting to school in kindergarten and to those in all other grades who are enrolling here for the first time.

The announcement was made by Supt. E.W. Clement and High School Principal Melvin Cardwell.

Required immunization is the DPT (diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus) and the oral polio shot.

A child may receive the vaccines from the family's private physician, or it may be administered at the Free Health Department Immunization Clinic at the Community Action Center.

The clinic this month will be Monday, August 8, according to Mrs. Tessie Burba, CAC director.

A copy of the immunization records of children in Wellington Schools is on file at the Community Action. These will show which shots a child needs. Mrs. Burba emphasizes there is no charge for the shots given at the clinic. Private physicians will charge their regular fees.

This year, for the first time, children who had the measles vaccine before their first birthdays are being urged to have booster shots.

"Many children who had measles vaccine before their first birthdays have contracted the disease this year," said Mrs. Burba. "Measles is a dangerous disease which can have many complications.

Unimmunized children should receive their shots. A booster is necessary for those receiving the shot prior to one year.

A mumps vaccine is available and the Texas Department of Health Resources is urging that children have this if they have not already had the disease.

Under Texas law, all children starting to school for the first time must have the immunizations.

QUAIL SCHOOL EXCAVATION

Raymond Neeley, right, is using heavy equipment to remove foundations of the Quail School, demolished in the May 15 tornado. He and Alvin Byrd, left, stand beside the foundation which marked the northwest corner of the gymnasium, and which extended approximately three feet into the ground.

Quail School Foundations Were Run Deep and Thick 41 Years Ago

Z.J. Neeley, a young Quail farmer, hauled all the sand that went into the foundations of the building of the newly consolidated Quail Rural High School made up of several small rural school districts.

It was 1936, and Mr. Neeley, bought a new Ford truck to haul the hundred or so loads from Henry Davidson's Gravel Pit on US 83 north of Salt Fork.

Neeley's oldest son, Raymond, was 8 years old and probably started to the new school as a second grader, the family recalls.

Last week, Raymond Neeley, using heavy equipment, dug out the Quail School foundations, as the district prepares for the new building to replace the one destroyed in the May 15 tornado.

They are massive by building standards in this area, extending three feet into the ground with 12-inch footings. Steel rods reinforce the foundations.

"You don't see foundations like that any more," commented Delbert White, another graduate, after looking at them.

Z.J. Neeley wasn't on the school board then, but he believes the foundations were built to support a second story if it should be needed. Only a few years after consolidation, there were 600 students.

Mr. Neeley, recalls that for every load of sand and gravel he hauled, he shoveled it in by hand at the pit and shoveled it out again at the schoolyard. He's forgotten what he paid for that new truck. "But it was a lot less than one costs now," he remarked.

Earl Tompkins did much of the brick work.

"Large concrete panels extended above the front

doorways of the school as part of the outside wall. Their thickness was not apparent until the building fell. They were massive. One slab that is not even complete is estimated by Raymond Neeley to weigh 35,000 pounds.

A well-house topped by a tall wooden storage tank furnished water for the school. The tank was removed when a new water system was put in.

The native-rock well-house still stands among this rubble-undamaged.

Carl Chaudoin was the first superintendent after consolidation.

Noah Cunningham came the fall school opened, 1936, as coach. Two years later, his boys team won the State Class B Basketball Championship. Another team went to state.

Not long after he came, he built by hand the first scoreboard for the gymnasium. It has been in storage many years, since a modern scoreboard was installed. It came through the tornado undamaged. Wednesday morning it was presented to Mr. Cunningham. Then he and Mr. Neeley drove over much of the Quail community.

Mr. Cunningham became superintendent of Quail School and in 1950 he went to a large school just outside Corpus Christi. After leaving the teaching profession, he entered the real estate business. Now retired, he and Mrs. Cunningham live at Rockport.

Mr. Neeley credits Jess Thompson, Quail principal with much of the effective work leading up to consolidation. He did not remain with the system in the new building.

"He did more to get that consolidation started than any in the community," said Mr. Neeley.

Mr. Neeley served on the school board many years. "Quail School was good to me," he says. I had 9 children to attend school there and 9 to graduate." They are Mrs. Ted (Alpha) Brock of Portales, N.M.; Mrs. Leon Handley (Johnny B.) of Tarzan; Raymond Neeley, Mrs. Ronald Kersten (Joyce), Jack Neeley of Wellington; Mrs. James Cunningham (Faye) of Spearman; Mrs. Kenneth Jett (Fern of Wild Horse, Colorado; Z.J. Neeley, Jr., of Roswell; and Walter Neeley of Stratford.

This is the Quail record!

Tuesday Deadline For Tennis Entries

Tuesday, August 9, is the deadline for entering the Wellington Open Tennis Tournament, according to Richard Sims, one of those helping with plans.

Considerable interest is being shown in view of this being the first open tournament held on the Ellison Park Courts.

Inquiries have come from Childress, Lakeview, and Borger, along with Wellington. Sims said early this week, and by the deadline all brackets are expected to be filled.

There has been some interest from Wellington ex-students, who will be here for their annual reunion.

The tournament will run three days, Thursday, August 11 through Saturday, August 13, with a Sunday afternoon session if it is needed. The Chamber of Commerce is local sponsor.

Junior high players, eighth grade and under will compete Thursday and include boys singles and doubles and girls singles and doubles.

Friday will feature high school competition, and again classes will be boys singles and doubles and girls singles and doubles.

The open division begins Saturday morning, to include men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Play will begin at 9:00 a.m. each day. If there is a session Sunday, August 14, it will begin at 1:00 p.m.

The entry fee is $3.50 per person per event; $7.00 for a doubles team.

Trophies will be presented to the winner and runner up in each event, Sims said.

Dodson Council Raises Water Reconnect Fee

The Dodson City Council in a meeting Monday, July 25, voted to raise the water reconnect charge to $10.00, Mayor Lonnie Roberson announced.

This charge is on meter cut off for lack of payment of water bills, he explained. The reconnect charge has been $2.00 for many years.

The council also made plans for two public hearings relating to the use of revenue sharing funds. These are required by law. Date will be set later.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lacy and children, Lana, Clay Don, Lori and Linda, have returned from a vacation that took them to the Gulf Coast. Their first stop was at College Station for Clay Don to visit the Texas A&M University campus. He will be WHS senior this year.

They next visited the Astroworld in Houston, then went on to Galveston for fun on the beaches. Next, they visited Dallas-Ft. Worth and Six Flags for two days.

I Saw... by Virginia Robey

Joe Coleman of Odessa was in town not long ago with his brother-in-law, Freeman Moore of Inglewood, Calif., who also formerly lived here.

Joe recalled that right away, he and his wife, Grace, will celebrate their 41st wedding anniversary. He came to Wellington in the fall of 1935 to begin his coaching career, and the following summer, he and Grace married.

They'll definitely be back in Wellington for the Ex-Students Reunion, he said.

Moore wished he'd known about the reunion so he could have arranged his vacation for that time.

There's something special about the girls who have worked for The Wellington Leader and who come home to visit. Two of them were here together recently, Edith Lindsey Young (Mrs. Tiffin, Jr.) of Corpus Christi and her sister-in-law, Treva Young Fike (Mrs. Howard) of Amarillo. They came for the golden wedding celebration of the Tiffin Youngs Sr.

Debbie Fletcher Service was a summer employee while she was in College and came to see her grandfather, Pat O'Hair honored at the Enterprise road dedication. Debbie, journalism major, is handling news for Wayland College, Plainview.

The one I see most often, of those who live away, is Betty Richards Winslett, who was on the Shamrock Texan Staff a number of years before she left to keep books for her husband, Jack, manager of White House Lumber Co. She had her first newspaper experience on The Wellington Leader.

It is a pleasure to see everyone of these--and all the others too.

Raymond Neeley made this suggestion that should be carried out.

Cut into each square of the sidewalks at the Quail School was the name of the persons or business paying for it. That's how the money was raised. Many of these are still intact, but in the course of constructing the new building, they are certain to be ruined.

Raymond would like to see them taken up, then placed together somewhere on the campus when the new building is finished. They could, in fact, be the basis of a landscaped area.

They have been there 41 years, and carry the names of the people who were school and community leaders. Some have been away almost that long. Many are dead.

Watson Receives $200 College Scholarship

Audie Watson, 18, carrier for the Amarillo News since July 1973, has received a $200 scholarship from that newspaper, according to Weldon Baskin, circulation manager.

Fifteen GN carriers were selected from over the Panhandle on the basis of their work as carrier, citizenship and grades at school.

Watson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watson, graduated from Wellington High School this spring and will attend Texas State Technical Institute, where he will study electronics.

Besides his work with the Amarillo News, Watson worked for The Wellington Leader from 1973 until a few months ago. Both his parents formerly worked for The Wellington Leader also.

Robb Hughey of Houston is here to stay with his grandfather Lee Hughey, who is convalescing from major surgery, and is now at home. Robb is the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughey and for several years has visited part of each summer with his grandfather.

Dodson Center Plans Revival

The Christian Center of Dodson will have a weekend revival beginning Saturday, August 6, at 8:00 p.m.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Jerry Rylee of LaGrange, Georgia, where he is pastor of the Church of the Living Word.

Assisting him will be Rev. Conrad DeFrieze, evangelist from Cleveland, Tennessee.

Harold Binkley of Oklahoma City will be in charge of special singing. Mr. Binkley was reared at Dodson.

The meeting will continue through Sunday night. The morning worship service will be at 10:00 a.m. and the Sunday evening service will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend, said Mrs. Clinton Norman, who is helping with arrangements.

Mrs. Wulfman Dies at Austin

Mrs. Texanna Wulfman, 70, Amarillo civic leader who grew up in Wellington, died Tuesday, July 26, in Austin. She was the wife of B.A. Wulfman. They lived at Lake Tanglewood.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kesler, she was born in Wellington and graduate of high school here. She received her degree from West Texas State University and taught at Dodson, Friona and Dumas.

She lived in Dumas 13 years before moving to Amarillo 27 years ago. She was president of Dumas PTA and held offices at the state level.

Mrs. Wulfman was president of the Amarillo A&M Mothers Club and as a state officer. She served on the United Fund board and a number of times president of YWCA.

She was a member of the Dumas Business and Professional Women's Club, the PEO Chapter and Co-Workers Sunday School Class of Polk Street Methodist Church. She had been active in the Lake Tanglewood Committee at the Church.

Survivors are her widower; a son, Gus of Austin; and four sisters, Mrs. Floy Rapp of Amarillo, Mrs. Dorothy Doshier of Hobbs, N.M. Mrs. Fannie Willis of College Station and Mrs. Alta Grimes of Talent Oregon.
