Rites Tuesday Pay Tribute to Mrs. J. A. Patterson

Mrs. J. A. Patterson of Dodson, affectionately known to many throughout this section as "Aunt Fannie" Patterson, died unexpectedly at her home Sunday, January 17, about 1:00 p. m. She had not been ill, although a broken hip which she received a few months ago restricted her activities.

A member of one of the prominent farm families of the Kelley and Dodson area, Mrs. Patterson had lived in the county for more than 30 years. Since the death of her husband in 1940, she had lived in Dodson.

Mrs. Patterson was before her marriage Fannie Elizabeth Brewer, the daughter of Jim and Sarah Jane Brewer. She was born in Cave City, Arkansas, March 4, 1871, and grew up in that state. She was married to Mr. Patterson at Evening Shade, Arkansas in 1896.

During the years after she came to Collingsworth County, Mrs. Patterson was active in community affairs and the work of the Methodist Church of which she had been a member since an early age. Known for her neighborliness and her good deeds, Mrs. Patterson had drawn about her a large circle of loyal friends from every walk of life.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Nazarene in Dodson Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. Officiating was the Rev. J. M. Fitzgerald, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. John Douglas of the Nazarene Church.

Pall bearers were George Brewer, Jack Brewer, George Lewis, Claude Lewis, Elmer Hightower and Tom Laman of Mobeetie. Flower bearers were Mrs. Bynum Hightower, Mrs. Roy Tisdale, Mrs. Herbert Bearden, Mrs. Robert Hightower, Mrs. Carthel Lewis, Mrs. Fred Covey, Miss Doris Lewis and Miss Donna Sue Lewis.

Burial was in the Dodson Cemetery under the direction of the Kelo Funeral Home.

Mrs. Patterson is survived by one foster son, B. L. Kennedy of Muskogee, Oklahoma; three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Mary Lewis of Wellington, Mrs. Frank McGee of Cave City, Ark.; Mrs. L. E. Wilks of Evening Shade, Ark.; J. R. Brewer and W. S. Brewer of Wellington and O. J. Brewer of Sidney, Arkansas.

Immunization Program for County Students Announced

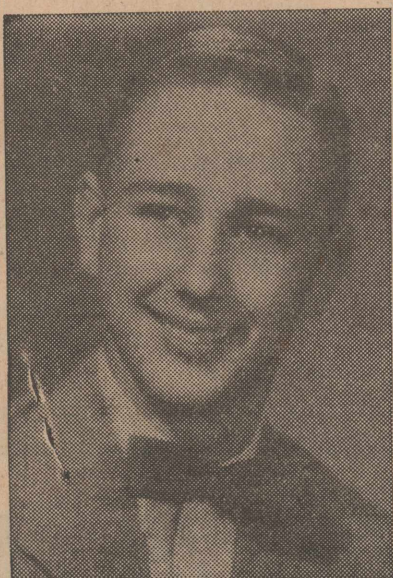

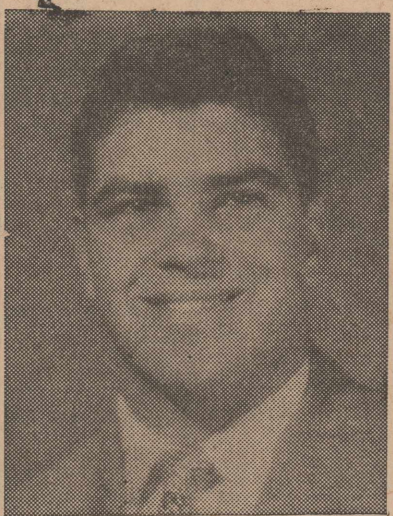

Immunization against three major diseases is being made available to all school children of the county under a program worked out by the county and city health officers, the schools, the city sanitarian and the State Department of Health.

This program makes the immunization shots, as well as booster shots, available to all children who want them, and is the third year it has been offered here. W. R. Ritter, city sanitarian, reported. These will include diphtheria, typhoid and smallpox immunization, and diphtheria and typhoid booster shots.

The shots will be given in all schools March 1 to 5.

Parental authorization slips will be given all children in the Wellington system Monday, January 25, and the parents of all children wishing the shots are asked to sign these and return them. Bennett Goodloe, high school principal, announced.

The return of these slips at once is necessary. Mr. Goodloe pointed out, since it will determine

C. L. Keith, 63 Phillips Foreman, Buried Here

Funeral services for C. L. Keith 63, of Phillips, a resident here more than 40 years ago, were held at the First Methodist Church in Wellington Friday, January 15, at 3:00 p. m., and burial was in the cemetery here.

Mr. Keith was a foreman in the production department of the Phillips Petroleum Company at Phillips.

He died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday evening, January 13, shortly after returning home from his work.

Funeral services were held at the Phillips Methodist Church, with the Rev. John English officiating. The Rev. Mr. English also officiated at the services here, assisted by the Rev. J. F. Michael. Serving as pall bearers, in addition to Phillips friends, were two long-time friends here, Farris Cornelius and Winfield White.

Local arrangements were directed by the Kelo Funeral Home.

Charles L. Keith was born in Cleveland, Tennessee, September 26, 1890. He was married to Miss Mollie Vaughn on October 21, 1911, and for about a year following their marriage, they made their home here. During that time, Mr. Keith worked for his brother-in-law, Tom Somerville, in the dairy business and also served as a law enforcement officer. They then moved to Denison, where he worked in the railroad shops.

In 1920, Mr. Keith went to

Biggest Contribution

HALF-BLOCK OF DIMES, A HUNDRED DOLLARS WORTH, TO CAMPAIGN

One hundred dollars in dimes half a block of them laid down side by side on the Wellington sidewalks Saturday, January 16—have made up the largest single contribution to the March of Dimes Campaign so far, Jim Leach, chairman, has announced.

The Block of Dimes we conducted by the 1924 Study Club as its part in the month-long campaign to raise money that will go to combat infantile paralysis or help with the treatment of victims, both locally and nationally.

The 1924 Study Club, of which Mrs. Clark Anderson is president, took this work for its health project of the year.

An interesting sidelight to this particular event, which members participating noted, was the number of people who brushed up on their mathematics, figuring how many dimes to a yard, or how many would be needed for a full block.

When the Study Club members closed their Block of Dimes at 5:00 p. m. Saturday, they not only had a gummed strip half a block long filled with dimes, they also had six and a quarter pounds of them, if you want to figure it that way.

Mrs. Cal Sugg, school nurse for Samnorwood, Quail and Dodson, said the parental authorization slips will be given out in those schools also, and she, too, urged that they be signed and returned at once.

In explaining the operation of the program, it was pointed out that a nurse or members of the First of these is at Samnorwood Monday night, January 25 and the other at Dodson Wednesday night, January 30. Wellington merchants are co-operating in these events. Home Demonstration Clubs will have refreshment booths at these parties.

One of the big events of the drive will be the Mothers March, conducted by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Hiram Cudd.

S. Taylor Dies At Mangum

Funeral services for S. Taylor, who formerly lived here, were held at the First Methodist Church in Mangum, Oklahoma, Wednesday, January 13, when a large crowd of friends gathered to pay final tribute to the pioneer settler Greer County.

Mr. Taylor, 73, died the preceding Sunday, several days after he had suffered a heart attack. He was born in Lebanon, but early came to the United States. More than 50 years ago, he settled on a farm about 10 miles north of Mangum, which he still owns, and farmed for a number of years.

Show Date April 3

Superintendents of 1954 Youth Project Show Elected Monday

In a Youth Project Show planning committee meeting Monday night, January 18, co-superintendents of that event were named, and the date for the 1954 Show was set for Saturday, April 3.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, in a meeting at the same time, voted to sponsor the show again this year.

W. Thomas heads the committee to secure show judges and Lee Christy, vocational ag teacher at Samnorwood, was named grounds chairman.

Meeting Called on Area Milk Program January 29

A program for the development of a milk and dairy industry in Collingsworth County, with a milk processing plant as the ultimate goal, will be put before dairy cow owners and all other interested persons in a meeting Friday night, January 29. The meeting is sponsored by the newly named Dairy Development Committee of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Herman Crowley, Bobo Castleberry and Judge R. L. Templeton.

The meeting will be held in the county court room beginning at 7:30 p. m.

"It's a program that anybody with one cow and a milk bucket can take part in," Judge Templeton declared.

Outlining plans briefly, Judge Templeton said that the first step is to find a sale for all milk that can be produced here. The manager of a milk processing plant (that is a plant that produces cheese and butter as well as grade A milk, has indicated to the committee that he will buy all the grade C milk that is obtainable. At the meeting here, arrangements will be made for a central assembly point in Wellington, to which all producers will deliver their milk. It will then be hauled each day to the plant buying it.

It has been pointed out to the committee that there is an ample supply of milk produced by grade A dairies, the type on which most emphasis has been placed in recent years.

There is a shortage of grade C Milk which goes into cheese, etc. This will enable the family with one or two cows who have more milk than they need for their own use to sell the surplus.

The committee members believe it will result in a large number of dairy cattle coming into the county within a short time.

"We have decided to go slow on this. First we want to find a sale for all the milk that can be produced, but it will not be processed here. Eventually, however, we hope that a milk processing plant can be established. That is our goal," Judge Templeton declared.

The Chamber of Commerce, in setting up its dairy program, is attempting to develop an additional source of income for Collingsworth County.

"We talk about wanting an industrial payroll for the county. Milk checks paid twice a month, are just as much as payroll as an industry would provide, and it probably will affect a good many more people," Judge Templeton said.

Allen Harp For District Attorney

Allen Harp this week authorized the Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for reelection to the office of District Attorney, 100th Judicial District of Texas.

Harp says he is sincerely grateful to the people of Collingsworth County and the district for their confidence in him in the past and solicits their vote and influence in the coming election.

"I shall continue to give my best efforts to serving the people of the district as your District Attorney if you re-elect me to the job," Harp said.

The little boy, affectionately known as "Bo-Baby" to members of the family and friends, was playing dress-up with a sister when he went too near the stove and his clothing caught fire. An older sister hurriedly wrapped the child in a quilt, then took him outside and rolled him on the ground to put out the flames, but by that time, he was badly burned.

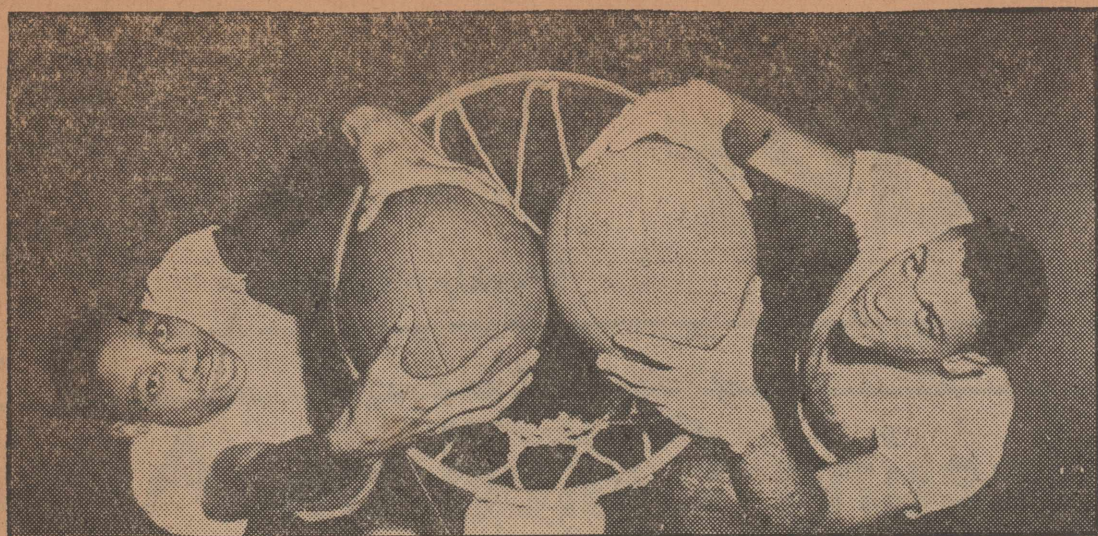

At the time of the accident, Mrs. Morris had gone to Canadian to work at the hospital in the place of a friend that day, and Mr.

January Set As Hand Signal Month for Safety

Governor Allan Shivers again has designated January as Hand Signal month in Texas and he urges motorists to co-operate in the campaign to promote "more courtesy and greater safety on the thoroughfares of this state." Theme of the traffic safety project is "Right turn — hand turn up. Left turn — hand out. Slow or stop — hand down."

This is the third consecutive January that Governor Shivers has called for the hand signal campaign which is a part of his continuing state-wide program of traffic safety education. It is sponsored annually by the Texas Safety Association, Inc., and is patterned from the hand signal campaign conducted jointly each year in Dallas by the Citizens Traffic Commission and the Dallas Civitan Club.

"The highways of Texas," said Shivers, "are constantly improving, except in one vital respect — too many accidents continue to occur on them, resulting in needless loss of life and destruction of property."

"As modern engineering perfects our highways, the need for the individual driver to be alert, careful and courteous, increases. A few seconds of thoughtfulness on the part of a driver sometimes can avert not only an accident, but a lifetime of grief. A minute is never worth the risk of a life. Courtesy and safety are not optional, but imperative, and they are bound closely together in the psychology of driving."

The Governor's memorandum pointed out that the "use of proper and timely hand signals is one aspect of pleasant and sensible driving practices that is especially rewarding to everyone on the streets and roads of our State."

"The river who observes the ordinary rules of etiquette and lets others know what he intends to do," said the Governor, "constitutes not a hazard, but a safety factor, for such practices are contagious. The more careful drivers we have, the fewer accidents will occur."

"So many vehicles now are equipped with directional signal lights that some drivers feel justified in discontinuing the use of hand signals. Safety experts emphasize that, particularly in the bright daylight hours, hand signals should be given to insure that a driver's intentions are understood."

The hand signal campaign is to be prompted by the press, radio and television throughout the state. It is directed by J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, and Earl Braly of Governor Shivers' executive staff, both of Austin, and Bruce Cunningham of Dallas, representing the Dallas Civitan Club and the Citizens Traffic Commission of Dallas.

Social Security Man — Here January 27

A teen-age boy walked into a social security office and said to the receptionist: "I want to take out some social security."

She explained to him that you don't "take out social security." If your employment or self-employment is the kind that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance, you have social security and are building protection for the years ahead.

What this youngster really wanted was a social security account card. He was going to work during his Christmas vacation period.

"This boy's misconception about old-age and survivors insurance is still shared with many adults," J. R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo social security office, declares. "This is especially true of people who work for themselves," he says. "Many of them do not realize that they must report their net earnings and pay the social security tax once every year when they make out their income tax return."

Sanderson says that misunderstanding is greatest among those self-employed in small trade and business enterprises. Some of them do not have to pay an income tax and do not realize that they must report and pay the social security tax if their net earnings are at least $400 in a year. Dependent's deductions are not made in arriving at this "net earnings" figure. Actually, many business people will pay self-employment social

Income Tax Help Available At Amarillo Office

Early filing of your 1953 income tax return will be a big help to Uncle Sam and will put behind you a detail that becomes a bigger headache the longer you put it off. That's the word from Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Campbell, who would be very happy to see a steady flow of letters bearing checks and money orders — no cash, please — reminded taxpayers today that payments should be made to the order of the District of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas.

"The vast bulk of Dallas District taxpayers will find no difficulty in making out their own returns, especially if they use Form 1040A," Mr. Campbell said.

But for those who have a problem or two, our office stands ready to give assistance or advice. If you can present the facts on your problem over the phone, call us at 2-1203-4. If you need personal aid, visit our office at 7th and Taylor Street, Amarillo, Texas.

"To obtain help and avoid the rush and pressure of last minute crowds, call or come in now, while our personnel are better able to assist you."

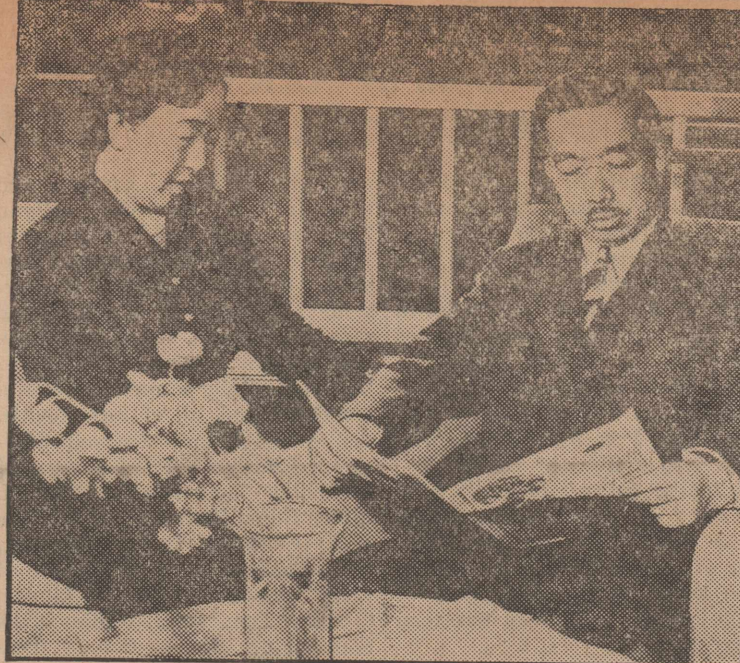

"It's true that the filing deadline is March 15, but little or nothing is gained by waiting until the last minute to pay up. Taking care of your payments now will help your government to carry on its important defense and construction programs and many other activities, and will let you plan your budget for the rest of the year with assurance."

The district director stressed that careful reading of the instructions, accompanying the forms recently mailed out, will enable most taxpayers to prepare their own returns, often in less than an hour.

An Investigation Of Dependency Allowances Due

Austin, Texas January 13—An investigation of dependency allowances is currently being conducted in Texas draft boards, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, said Wednesday.

security tax when they file their 1953 income tax return although they have no income tax to pay. A representative from the Amarillo Office will be in Wellington on Wednesday, January 27, at 9:00 a. m. at the County Court Room.

RELAXING RULERS—Like many an American businessman, Emperor Hirohito of Japan relaxes after work by chatting with his wife, Empress Nagako, and reading a paper. The royal pair are shown above at Hayama Imperial Villa in Tokyo.

The investigation involves cases of all draftees claiming secondary dependents, such as parents, step-parents, and parents by adoption. The program is designed to screen out unworthy applications and to uncover and discontinue allowances now in effect for persons ineligible under the law to receive them.

Test programs of this kind indicate that substantial savings to the government will result, the Texas state director of Selective Service said.

The investigation is being made by members of the armed forces having authorization, together with civil employees of the armed services.

General Wakefield said authority to open files in the draft boards to the investigators came from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director.

Quail Team Downs Bloomer Girls

The Quail Independent Women's Basketball team clashed with the Wellington Bloomer Girls in the Quail Gym Thursday night, January 14, and came out victor 19 to 11.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was tied 6-6. During the second quarter both teams showed fast action, and that period ended 13-8 in the Quail's favor.

The third quarter still showed Quail in the lead with a score of 15 to 10. The spectacular guarding of Jo Phillips and Ginger Hargues kept the Wellington girls from scoring as they did at Dodson. The game ended with Quail out in front 19 to 11.

High point player of the game was Eva Gosnell, who racked up 10 of Quail 19 points. Next was Golda Jones with 9 for Well-ton. Quail players included: Gosnell, Hargues, Graham, Avarilla White, and LoRhae Morgan, as forwards and Jo Phillips, Ginger Hargues and Sona DeBord as guards.

Playing for the Bloomer girls were Jones, Ruth Crawley, Joy Martindale, Fern Niles, forwards, and Bernice Woods, Ruth Aaron, Dale Allen and Mrs. Merrifield, guards.

Every feather in your pillows, each bit of stuffing in a toy becomes as soft and springy as when new in a gas dryer. Furry toys and blankets are smooth and fluffy, not matted and stiff.

Shag rugs, chenille, work and play clothes are lots easier to keep clean and new-looking. All these heavy, water-retaining items used to take many hours, if not days, to line-dry. Now they're as easily done as nylons.

And, of course, you're not at all dependent on the weather when you have a gas dryer. See the new automatic gas dryers now at Lone Star Gas or your favorite dealer's store!

DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

With the cotton acreage cut farmers are looking for an additional cash income such as milk cows, hogs, poultry etc. Those interested in milking cows are invited to a meeting in the county court house on Friday, January 29 at 7:30 p. m. The purpose of the meeting will be to establish a regular market for all milk produced in this county. A man interested in purchasing an unlimited amount of milk will be present. The Chamber of Commerce points that arrangements will be made to pick up, transport and sell all the class C milk (no milk barn required) that the county can produce. They point out that all you need to participate in this program is a cow and a milk bucket.

Everybody in Wellington seems to be making trips to Roaring Springs to visit a man who calls himself a mystic. It seems that he tells you about yourself for only $1.00, but if you ask him as to whether or not you can get irrigation well on your farm the fee is $6.00. Thus far everybody who has come back has plenty of water. Temple Slay was told that he could drill a well six feet from his back porch and find enough water to supply the entire city of Wellington. Calvin Hurst and I plan to make a trip to Roaring Springs just as soon as the weather gets warmer.

Philip Bentley of Dozier says the government experts say that the ground is infested with insects. Grasshoppers are not any worse than they have been in many years, but the increase in other pests in alarming according to Mr. Bentley. Oh well, I have been here for 51 years and I can't remember a single year in which the farmer did not have a lot of REAL trouble with which to contend.

Farming has always been a hazardous business both financially and physically. (There are more farm accidents each year and more people killed on farms than in the coal mines or in any other major industry.) But now a farmer has to be something of a scientist and naturalist as well as an expert farmer in the old sense if he has any chance of succeeding.

At first I was like a lot of the farmers in Collingsworth County about the flexible farm program. I was just plain against it. But I have been reading more and listening more on the radio. Right now I want to know more about it. It may be the long range solution of the farm problem. At least I am keeping an open mind as to the proposal until I learn more about it.

Here is some more from Duard Scott:
Dear Mr. Ike:

I see where your special 18-man commission has come through with a recommendation that congressmen ought to vote themselves an 83 per cent raise in pay, up to $27,500 a year, so they can commence to enjoy freedom from all of their personal financial worries and have more time to labor at bringing about economy in government.

Even down here on my income level, where that much money would seem like gross opulence, we realize that the life of a congressman is rough. But I expect that $27,500 would smooth it out enough to make competition for these jobs blossom out all over the place. Before voting for this extra potato in their soup, maybe the incumbents ought to think about how hard it is going to be for some of them to stand up in front of a crowd of taxpaying voters and look like $27,500 worth.

I might even consider running for congress myself at this nice figure. It would be a pretty fair gamble at the least, because it wouldn't take much more electoral stupidity to elect me than has been on display at times in the past.

Pressley Ashton Buyer

DEED LISTING 56 SELLERS TO 106

ACRE FARM RECORDED LAST WEEK

A deed unusual for the large number of persons involved in the sale, was filed in the office of David Robinson, county clerk, during the last week.

Selling the 106.94-acre tract in the Lillie community were 56 heirs to the W. U. Sherrell estate, living in Alabama, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas and California. The buyer was Pressley Ashton, who at that time lived at Cactus.

Actually, the sale began in 1950 and part of the 33 acknowledgements were taken in the latter part of that year; the remainder were taken in the early part of 1951, but the deed was not then recorded.

The consideration listed in the deed was $1,992.86. The grantors reserved one half the royalty interest of all the oil, gas and other minerals that might be produced from the land.

While a check of the records has not been made, Mr. Robinson believes this to be one of the longest, if not the longest, list of grantors of any deed on record.

The deed is listed as follows:
Francis Sherrell Robson and husband, Paul Robson of Decatur, Alabama; Virginia Sherrell Harbin and husband, Joe Hardin, of Hillsboro, Alabama; Perry Sherrell and wife of Long Beach, California; Rufus Sherrell Maddox and wife of Concord, California; T. L. Thomason and wife, Ross Thomason and wife, J. J. Thomason and wife, C. M. Bealand and wife all of Duke, Oklahoma; G. D. Thomason and wife of Olustee, Oklahoma; Lois Patrick and husband, Floyd Patrick of Eldorado, Oklahoma; Susie Bealand, Connie Graves and husband Denzil Graves of Hollis, Oklahoma; Nolan Thomason and wife, Ray Thomas

Methodist Men

Hold Meeting

January 12th the monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Organization was held in the Methodist Church. One of the largest crowds ever reported was there. The business meeting, presided over by Robert Lewis, president, concerned the project of the Organization — that project being to build a home for a retired Methodist minister here in Wellington. So far $158.61 has been raised toward this, and a standing vote of thanks was given for the anonymous contribution of $50.00 for this project.

Two interesting films were shown about Palestine by Lawrence Warrick during the program. Refreshments of pie and ice cream and coffee were served, and dominoes and "42" were played for the remainder of the evening. There were several visitors and new members present.

Those attending were Henry Sullivan, Mack Said, Jr., Gene Martin, Elvis Crawley, John Holton, Dr. Tom Hunter, Walter Franks, R. F. Curry, Robert Lewis, J. B. King, Luther Geiger, John Forbis, Heber Brantley, Dan Hendard, J. W. Wells, Lawrence Warrick, J. F. Michael.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Strike Proves There's No Substitute for Newspaper Ads

Overwhelming importance of newspaper advertising to retail stores, and the inability of other media to serve as a substitute, was clearly demonstrated during the pre-Christmas engravers' strike which forced New York's newspapers to suspend publication for eleven days.

Women's Wear Daily, "bible" of the trade, reported that the strike "proved two things conclusively . . .

"The best way to bring traffic downtown is through newspaper advertising, and

"The best medium for item selling is the newspaper."

The conclusions were based on a survey among retailers conducted the week after the strike.

Stores reported sales dropped from 5 to 10 percent, mail orders fell off badly and business done by suburban branches zoomed.

One retailer, summarizing the reaction of others who had resorted to radio and television in an effort to bridge the gap, said he learned that newspaper advertising outpulls the air by 10 to 1 when it comes to selling items.

Power of newspaper advertising was even more dramatically demonstrated when, after publication was resumed, business soared to as much as 20 percent gains for the remainder of the Gifts shopping season.

Newspapers — Silent Salesmen

Not so long ago the local newspaper was the only place where merchants could advertise their wares. In recent times, other important media have come into existence—notably radio and television. But despite the inroads these have made on retailers advertising budgets, the newspaper is still dominant factor in the fields by a wide margin.

The fact is substantiated by a recent survey of retailers in all parts of the country. The survey disclosed that the typical store allocated 80 per cent of the advertising dollar to newspapers, nine per cent to television, four per cent to radio, three per cent to direct mail, and two per cent to other media.

The local newspaper, offers the surest means of reaching the masses of the people—whether with a news story, an editorial opinion or an advertising message. And that is why the merchants place it first when dividing up their advertising appropriations.

Incidentally, one wonders if there are still people who regard advertising as a waste which adds unnecessarily to the cost of goods. Actually advertising acts as a possible factor in holding down prices by creating the widest possible demands for merchandise and thus making mass production and mass distribution possible. —Edmond (Wash.) Tribune-Rivier.

Reflections of Community Cooperation

The success of the Greenwood Playground project calls for a real hand for those responsible. These good people have made it possible for Bedford to have a public playground located where it will do the most good. It took a lot of faith and plain hard work to put the fund-raising campaign over, especially at this time when the pinch of our somewhat depressed farm economy is flat by many in the town as well as in the country. Altogether it was an unusual example of cooperation among many church and civic groups, determined that our children should not be deprived of the means of wholesome and health building recreation. One thing that makes Bedford such a desirable place to call home is the very low rate of misbehavior among its young people. And that can be attributed to the community awareness of the need for providing proper outlets for youthful energies and spirit. The Greenwood Playground has been and — thanks to many good people — will continue to be a valuable asset in this work. —Bedford (Va.) Democrat.

Driver Hints Concerning Children

School children and traffic simply do not mix.

Whenever children are sighted walking to and from school, riding bicycles or even standing by the side of the road waiting for the school bus or transportation, it's always wise to slow down and be more cautious.

Children waiting for their bus to arrive create an especial hazard. In their juvenile moods, happy spirits, and youthful energy they jump about, cut up and oftentimes forget and dash out into the road without looking.

Parents and teachers should impress upon the children the danger involved in playing at the bus stop, and if at all possible, some older child should be put in charge of the younger children.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek has a novel idea this week, but he won't get anywhere with it. There's a bug under the chip.

Dear editor: There is a matter which has been bothering me lately.

I've been notice in lots of newspapers which turn up out here, I've started off the new year with a backlog of an average of four newspapers a day, who said times were gonna get tighter, that people have developed a habit of wirin the White House when somebody makes an important address affectin the whole country.

For example, say Sen. Joe McCarthy makes a speech, or President Eisenhower reports on the state of the union and outlines his plans for new legislation, people immediately start wirin the White House their reactions.

Now this puts a big load on the President, in fact, not long ago at one time he was 3,000 telegrams behind in his counting and with the world in the delicate shape it is and domestic problems too crowdin in on him the President just doesn't have time to contin telegrams.

Therefore I have a plan to relieve him of this burden. Instead of wirin the White House followin one of these speeches, why can't the public notify me?

Of course, you understood I don't have any telegraphic equipment out here on my Johnson grass farm, don't even have a telephone, and frankly there wouldn't be any point in havin Western Union messenger boys running back and forth out here, trampin down the grass and worryin with opening and closing the wire gap.

Also, letters wouldn't be satisfactory either, I've got other things to do the same as the President, people's handwriting is terrible, the mail carrier already has enough stuff to carry, and my mail box is leanin at such an angle now a Sunday copy of most newspapers would topple it to the ground and I have no plans for doin anything about it.

So, I have hit on a plan to give instantaneous reports on the people's reactions to speeches. If President Eisenhower is willing to have me relieve him of this burden, I will arrange with the bank in town to open up two accounts for me, one called the Yea account, the other the Nay account. Then when some major address is made on a national hook up, everybody in favor of the speech, wire one dollar to the yea account; everybody opposed, wire a dollar to the nay account.

Then to find out how public sentiment is runnin, all I'll have to do is check with the bank and see what the balances are in two accounts. All banks now have electric addin machines and it won't be much trouble for them to keep the totals right up to the minute, and all this double and worry over how the public is reacting will be eliminated.

If you think this program has any merit, I will appreciate your gettin hold of our Congressman and havin him call by the White House and relieve the President of this burdensome job.

Also, if you know of any controversial matters which would attract nation-wide reaction, I hope you will bring them to the fore and line up somebody to speak on them. I will remain entirely neutral in the matter.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Law Divides Separate, Community Estates Differently

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estates. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property — cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate — is different. Here the surviving spouse get full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or there descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire descendant's real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents or brothers and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

Crossroads Report

Dear Mr. Ike:

I see where the State Department reports that the Red Chinese are busy copying off in their own language a couple of Russian books on how to make communists out of children under three years old.

I don't particularly object to seeing these people squander their time on an unnecessary project like this, but it does occur to me that children are naturally born with enough communistic learnings to make useless to start training them to be Reds before signs of maturity commence to appear.

Until the little squirts have been around long enough to run into some of the educational haymakers that generate respect for the rights of other people, they normally have the communistic attitude toward these rights anyhow. And, I expect that if they were just big enough to handle adults who are always thwarting their desires, they hold me as disturbing to tranquility as the commies who are likewise restrained only by their physical shortcomings.

New Oldsmobile Go on Display "One Full Year in Advance"

Oldsmobile for 1954 goes on display Wednesday, January 20, one full year ahead of schedule.

The new 1954 Oldsmobile models originally were planned for release in 1955," according to J. F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and vice president of General Motors. "But original plans were scrapped early in 1953 when it was found possible to move the 1955 model up to 1954. The result of this skip-a-year program is the most completely new, completely changed, completely advanced Oldsmobile in many years."

The new models, "88," Super "88" and "98," are a full three inches lower than their predecessors without sacrificing ground clearance. They feature such sweeping changes as an all new body by Fisher, a new wide, wraparound, panoramic windshield, new sweep-cut fender and door design and many other styling innovations.

The new "Rocket" engine is bigger — up in horsepower from 165 to 185 in the Super "88" and "98" models, (170 in the "88" models) and up in compression ratio from 8 to 1 to 8.25 to 1. Engine displacement is increased from 303 to 324 cu. in., and the entire car is engineered so that the increased power is useable power — power that the driver can put to use in the medium and low speed ranges — in ordinary, every day driving situations.

Many of the new styling features were inspiring by the General Motors experimental dream cars, particularly the Oldsmobile Starfire. All models in the "88" and Super "88" series are not only three inches lower, but are two inches longer, and this, of course, gives the cars the new long, low-level silhouette. The panoramic windshield and sweep-cut door and fender treatment are outstanding styling features, and contribute much to Oldsmobile's new "Sports car" look, even in the conventional two-door and four-door models. Fenders, front and rear, are higher — almost level with the hood in front and with the rear deck in back.

Among the other significant advancements is a new cowl ventilator, which extends the width of the hood and makes possible a compact, more efficient heater and defroster unit. A handsome new Oldsmobile world emblem is located front and rear. New chrome treatment on the side, new bullet-shaped parking lights and an increase in total glass area are other prominent design and functional features.

Inside, too, the 1954 Oldsmobiles are all new. New fabric, new colors, new combinations of leather and cloth highlight the most luxurious interiors in Oldsmobile history. Even the instrument panel is redesigned to harmonize with the sweep of the new windshield. The front door has been recessed to accommodate the wrap-around windshield, making for easy entrance or exit. Interior head room, leg room and seat room have not been sacrificed despite the new lower overall design.

In order to achieve the lower chassis, the Oldsmobile frame has been redesigned, the Hydra-Matic transmission has been rotated 22 degrees counter-clockwise for clearance and the rear suspension has been altered. The semi-elliptic leaf springs, formerly mounted diagonally, are now parallel and have been moved closer to the wheels for easier, softer riding.

The engine displacement has been increased by increasing the bore from 3 3/4 inches to 3 7/8 inches. The greater displacement, together with an increase in compression ratio, results in high torque, particularly at low speeds, making possible the use of lower axle ratios for better gasoline economy. Two additional gallons of gasoline can be carried in the larger 20-gallon fuel tank.

In recent series of tests at the Indianapolis Speedway and at Monarch Pass in the Colorado Rockies, the new "Rocket" engine lived up to engineering expectations by proving its greater performance and increased economy. In a 10,000-mile economy run at a constant highway speed at Indianapolis, the new "Rocket" engine used 10 per cent less gasoline than the 1953 Oldsmobile engine. Over an uphill run at Monarch Pass, the '54 "Rocket" engine test car easily outdistanced a stock 1953 Olds "88". Both engines were mounted in 1953 Oldsmobile four-door sedans.

To make Oldsmobile's line-up of power features complete, the 1954 models will offer four-way power seats as an optional feature. New Pedal-Ease power brakes, also optional, have been improved by providing an extra reserve for several power stops even when the engine is not running. Safety power steering, Oldsmobile air conditioning and the automatic headlight dimmer, Autronic-Eye, have all been improved for the 1954 Oldsmobile models.

Oldsmobile will present eleven models in three series for 1954. The sensational new Super "88" models will include a two-door and four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible. The popular "88" series will feature a new model this year — the Holiday hard top coupe — along with the two-door and four-door sedan. In the luxurious "98" series, which will be available in early February, are the four-door sedan, the DeLuxe Holiday coupe, the Holiday coupe, and Starfire, a special and ultra-glamorous convertible coupe.

Veterans Information

Q — I'm a World War II veteran, and I've just finished a course in television repair under the original GI Bill. I have some entitlement left, and I'd like to enroll in a business course. Would this be possible?

A — No. Under the World War II GI Bill, once a veteran completes or discontinues a course, he's not permitted to begin another one.

Q — I'm on active duty, and I have a National Service Life Insurance term policy that's under waiver. What happens if my policy it's under waiver. Is there any-thing I'm supposed to do to renew it?

A — If your GI term policy comes to the end of its term while premiums are being waived, it will be renewed automatically for another five-year period, and the renewed policy also will be under waiver. Since renewal is automatic, there's nothing you need do about it.

Q — Does the law require me to make a down payment, if I buy a house with GI loan?

A — The law does not require a down payment. However, your lender has the right to ask for one, if he chooses to do so.

Q — May I take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill in a plant that was approved by my state for World War II veterans.

A — World War II GI Bill approval is not enough. The training course must be State-approved under the Korean GI Bill, before you may enroll, under the law.

1960 — You'll use about three times the electric service you used in 1940. And we already are investing millions of dollars to have it ready for you.

This means that the West Texas Utilities Company and the other electric light and power companies of America are planning and building well ahead for the nation's growing electric future. Their $10 billion expansion program is the largest in all industrial history. America's 800 business-managed electric companies prove daily that they can meet the country's electric needs. In view of this, you have the right to ask whether any federal government electric power projects—paid for with your tax money—are really necessary.

District Opener

Girls Teams Take Easy Victories From Quanah

By DON SCOTT

Wellington's High School girls basketball team opened their district play for this season last Thursday night with Quanah and won easily by a 38-15 score. Twice in the first quarter the score was tied but from there on the Wellington girls had everything their way. At the end of the first period the score was 13-7 in favor of the Rockettes. The second quarter wound up 19-8. The third ended at 33-11, and the final score was 38-15.

Quanah scored first but the Wellington team quickly came back and tied it up at 4-4. A jump shot by Crawford put the Rockettes ahead by 4-6, but a free shot and a field-goal by Thornton from Quanah left them in the led. Two free shots and a hook shot by McAlister and a field-goal plus a free shot by Pritchard brought an end to the first quarter and left the count at 13-7.

In the second period the Quanah team sank only one point which came on a free shot from Thornton. Pritchard, Crawford, and McAlister together made 6 points in a relatively low-scoring quarter.

The third quarter was faster and the Wellington girls, headed by McAlister and Pritchard, scored 15 points to the Quanah team's three. McAlister racked up 8 and Pritchard put 7 points through the basket, ending the period with a 33-11 score.

In the last quarter the Quanah team could only manage 4 points, which were scored by Bryant, but a tighter Quanah defense also held the Rockettes to a mere 5 points, with McAlister making 2 and Pritchard 3.

Final count was 38-15.

B Team

The Wellington High school girls B-team basketballers played Quanah here last Thursday night in their first district game of the season. The B-Rockettes were in the lead all the way and the game ended 24-7 in favor of Wellington.

The B-Rockettes started the first quarter sharp by scoring 6 points to the Quanah team's none. Birch, Carter, and Cartwright scored. Birch was high with 3 points.

The second quarter was much the same and the Wellington girls chalked up 5 while Quanah made 1. Murphy and Cartwright were the only scorers for the Wellington team with Murphy scoring 2 and Cartwright racking up 3.

The third quarter was more prosperous for the Quanah team as they put 4 points on the board, but the Wellington girls remained ahead in points by scoring 5. Phillips did all the scoring for the Cartwright scored for the B-Rockettes.

The last quarter saw the Wellington girls score 8 points, with Coburn high point girl when she racked up two straight field-goals. Cartwright and Murphy were the other scorers for Wellington, with a field-goal apiece. Watson and Johnson were the scorers for Quanah in this period, when they racked up 2 points to end the game at 24-7.

County most of my life, ever since I was a kid, and the only time I have been gone very long was during the two years I was in the Marines in World War II. I have a wife and three children, two of them in school.

I like law enforcement work, and have had some experience along this line, having been a military Policeman after I came home from overseas.

This is the first time I have ever asked for an office and want you to know that if you elect me Sheriff, I intend to conduct the office in an efficient and workman-like manner, without favorites, and ready for call 24 hours a day.

Since I own and operate my own farm, and have to make a living for my family, it may be Spring before I get around to see you, but I want to see each and everyone of you before the election. Any help or assistance you can give me in my campaign for Sheriff will be appreciated.

fications in future work. By cooperation our needs will be better met and in the future money will go farther. I have co-operated with the State Highway Department 100 per cent at every opportunity.

(4) Regarding better dirt roads —During 1953 the court put 7 cents of the road tax amounting to more than $5,000.00 in the general fund. I opposed this. I believe we must have better school bus routes and community service roads if Collingsworth County is to progress and be a desirable county for good farm homes. Our budget allows us less than $80.00 per mile per year to maintain and improve our dirt roads including the bridges and culverts. It takes money to build roads so I pledge to vote always for all the road money for roads.

(5) Pertaining to change in precinct lines—I will oppose any changes in any way of Precinct 3 boundaries.

To the voters who decide I am on the right side of these issues, I would appreciate your vote and influence in the Democratic Primary in my race for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct Three.
