Cong Forces Scatter After Bloody Battle

SAIGON (AP) — A crack battalion of some 500 hard-core Communist guerrillas faded away into the jungles today after a running two-day battle in which it badly bloodied a South Vietnamese ranger battalion and evaded a searching force of more than 2,500 allied troops.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the battle area that U.S. officers believe the Viet Cong unit scattered after more than 21 hours of heavy fighting over the two previous days.

Unofficial reports from the field said 163 South Vietnamese troops were missing, 9 were known dead and 119 had been wounded.

The running battle 40 miles northeast of Saigon matched the pattern of hit-and-run engagements that have sent U.S. casualties up sharply in recent days. The weekly casualty report released today said 274 Americans were killed and 1,258 were wounded last week. The death toll was almost double that of the week before.

The American dead were also more than double the South Vietnamese figure of 119 for the week. Enemy casualties totaled 1,905 dead, the U.S. Command said, compared with 1,801 the week before.

Information on the battle northeast of Saigon was sketchy. Esper reported that South Vietnamese casualties were heavy but no figures were available.

The worst losses appeared to have been inflicted on a ranger battalion shortly after it closed on the Viet Cong unit.

Several helicopters were possibly downed in the ranger landing but details were lacking.

The sweeping force still in pursuit of the Viet Cong unit includes men from the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, the U.S. 9th Infantry Division and several batalions of South Vietnamese trops.

The operation was touched off Tuesday when the rangers pushed into the jungle on a tip from a defector who claimed to be the bodyguard of the Communist battalion commander.

The rangers and the Viet Cong were locked in close jungle fighting for 10 hours that day. After a lull that night, the battle resumed for another 11 hours Wednesday, sometimes hand to hand and with the Reds spewing rocket grenades from close quarters at U.S. armored vehicles which had reached the scene.

Planes and artillery raked the Red positions repeatedly, and Wednesday night American high-altitude B52s made a saturation raid of 180,000 pounds of bombs on possible jungle escape routes.

Living Costs Still Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports the cost of living is still climbing with no indications the spiral is near its peak.

In addtion, real spendable income as of May was $77.38 a week for a family of four, the lowest it has been in three years. This is the money left after taxes and after adjustment for changes in prices since the base period of 1957-59.

The Labor Department said Wednesday the cost of living jumped three-tenths of one per cent in May, putting it 2.7 per cent higher than a year before. The rise is two-tenths of one per cent more than the government predicted for the entir year.

The May figures put the consumer price index at 115.6, which means it costs $11.56 to buy items worth $10 in 1957-59.

Federal And State Water Boards Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — The Federal Water Pollution Control Advisory Board met today to hear comments on the problems of keeping Texas' water clean.

The board, headed by its commissioner, James M. Quigley, heard reports from a number of state officials and from oil, gas, electric, forestry, cattle, and fishing spokesmen.

Information from the hearing will be submitted in a report to Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall.

The Texas Water Pollution Control Board met in conjunction with the advisory board. It will attempt to establish water quality standards for all major lakes and streams in the state.

The federal board toured the Houston-Galveston area Wednesday.

Quigley called the Houston ship channel one of the worst polluted bodies of water in the nation.

"In fact," he said, "on almost any day the channel may be the most badly polluted body in the entire world. Most days it would top the list."

Quigley said the state of Texas is doing something about water pollution but he said it is not enough.

"Texas needs a drainage basin authority to develop an effective approach to its water pollution problems," he said. "The federal government could help if there was that authority. It could back up the state with money to do the job."

Big Increase In Texas Draft Quota

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' draft quota for August was set today at 1,421 men, a big increase.

Col. Morris Schwartz, state selective service director, said July's quota was 974 and June's 975.

Schwartz said state draft boards are to forward 6,220 men for pre-induction examinations in August, compared to 5,016 in July.

Twisters Stalk Panhandle Plains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Writhing tornado funnels and stout thunderstorms assailed the Texas Panhandle-Plains sector Wednesday evening, and a southbound cool front threatened more turbulence today.

Although the Weather Bureau reported winds gusting up to 78 miles per hour, there was only limited damage.

Up to 2 inches of rain fell in some places as the cooler air thrust deeper into the state, reaching a line from Wichit Falls to the area south of Lubbock and into Eastern New Mexico by dawn.

At least five twisters were spotted in the Panhandle, with one appearing close to Amarillo's Airport Weather Bureau and another touching down in the Rolling Hills residential district on the northwest side of the city.

A mighty gust of wind rolled a trailer house into an Amarillo street, halting traffic until it could be moved. Lightning apparently knocked out electrical power at the Amarillo post office.

The worst tornado damage was to barns and other buildings on a farm five miles from Spearman, north of Amarillo. A twister also hit 10 miles south of Adrian and still another spun near Vega, both west of Amarillo.

Briefly torrential downpours and the violent winds inflicted crop damage in a number of areas.

Plainview recorded winds up to 78 m.p.h., the Weather Bureau said, and Dalhart had gusts reaching 59 m.p.h.

Channing measured 2 inches of rain, Adrian 1.5, Plainview .97, Miami .95, Amarillo .55, Dalhart and Lubbock .25 and Childress .18.

Temperatures sagged behind the front, dipping to 59 degrees at Dalhart, 60 at Plainview and 61 at Amarillo before daylight. Marks ahead of the front at the same hour held in the 80s at some points.

These readings compared with top marks Wednesday ranging up to 105 degrees at Presidio in far West Texas. Wichita Falls recorded 103, Cotulla, Laredo and San Antonio 102, Abilene, Del Rio and Mineral Wells 101 and Alice and Dallas 100.

Continuing showers or thunderstorms were forecast over Northwest Texas and the unruly weather was expected to spread eastward across the north half of the state by late Friday. A few showers were predicted in Southwest Texas.

Many Wounded In Buffalo Rioting

By AUSTIN SCOTT

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The count of wounded in racial rioting mounted here today, although an uneasy calm had settled over the city after the second straight night of violence.

More than 1,000 Negroes, most of them youths, rampaged through the lower East Side Wednesday night, firing guns, setting fires, looting stores and shattering windows, in an outburst blamed by some upon a lack of jobs and recreation facilities.

At least 14 persons were injured, none seriously, by shotgun blasts, and 4 policemen were treated for other injuries, such as bruises and cuts.

Disorder also broke out in neighboring Niagara Falls, but 50 helmeted policemen dispersed the 200 protestors within an hour and after only a few windows had been broken in the resort city's northeastern chiefly Negro section.

Although Buffalo police preferred to call the outbreak a disturbance, reporters on the the scene said it was a riot—the first major demonstration of racial unrest in Upstate New York since the Rochester riots of 1964.

The Buffalo streets quieted during the predawn hours apparently because — in part— many young persons were so tired from the all-night rampage Tuesday that they went home to bed.

Crowds of several hundred rock- and bottle-tossing youths, ranging from pre-teens to their early 20s kept 400 police busy firing dozens of volleys of tear gas shells along four strife-torn blocks of Sycamore Street.

Many of the youngsters vanished after dark, leaving the streets to looters and arsonists.

Israel Pressured To Withdraw Troops

By CHARLES STORER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pressure mounted on Israel today at the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to reverse its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Fifteen nonaligned nations submitted a resolution to the Assembly Wednesday calling on the Israeli government to withdraw its troops from all the territory seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the six-day war that began June 5.

Introducing the resolution, Ambassador Danilo Lekic of Yugoslavia said the Old City was threatened with full integration into Israel and called for the 122-nation Assembly to adopt his resolution by Friday.

But meanwhile the Israeli integration with a proclamation enlarging the city limits of "Israeli Jerusalem" to include the Old City and some adjacent territory seized from Jordan.

Another resolution was reported in preparation expressing concern over steps the Israelis have taken regarding the Old City, declaring these invalid, and calling on Israel to do nothing further to prejudice the future status of the Old City. Jordan, Pakistan, Turkey, Spain and Peru were among the nations preparing the resolution.

Under the original U.N. partition plan for Palestine, Jerusalem was to be an international city, but Israel took the new part of the city during the 1948-49 Palestine war and Jordan seized the Old City. The Israelis drove the Jordanian army from the Old City I which contains the bulk of the Christian, Jewish and Moslem holy places — at the start of the June 5-11 war.

In a statement issued here Wednesday night, Jordan's King Hussein said his government viewed "with utmost concern the arbitrary measures taken by the Israeli authorities to effect the annexation of the Jordanian part of Jerusalem."

He called these steps "unacceptable and intolerable" and said "the whole world should stand firm" against them.

The U.S. State Department in a statement also warned Israel that its "hasty administrative action cannot be regarded as determining the future of the Holy places or the status of Jerusalem in relation to them."

The nonaligned resolution submitted by Yugoslavia was intended as a compromise to supplant a Soviet proposal to condemn Israel for aggression and demand withdrawal of its forces and reparations for Arab property destroyed in the fighting.

The new resolution dropped the provisions for condemnation and reparations and asked the Security Council to consider, after the withdrawal of Israeli troops, 'questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

The United States said it would oppose the resolution despite Washington's warning to Israel on Jerusalem. A source in the U.S. mission said the resolution was "totally wrong" in calling for withdrawal without making any approach to a solution of the basic causes of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Israeli Move Palls Talks

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials report privately the Israeli annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem soured the atmosphere of President Johnson's first conference with King Hussein of Jordan since that Arab nation lost its war with Israel.

Officials also said they believed the annexation of the Jordanian sector was timed to coincide with the meeting Wednesday. Whether deliberately timed or not, it reportedly cast a pall over the Johnson- Hussein talks despite two U.S. warnings during the day against the annexation.

About the only public report of the meeting came from George Christian, White House press secretary, who said the two leaders reached "no identity of views" at their working luncheon.

Officials also said they expect neither warning to have much effect on Israeli leaders. The annexation, they added, proves that hawks dominate Israeli political life.

The first warning, issued by the White House, urged Israel to avoid any quick annexation of the Old City, which it occupied during the Arab-Israeli war earlier this month.

Shortly after the annexation, the State Department denounced the merger as a "hasty administrative action" and served notice the United States would not recognize it.

Both statements referred to Johnson's June 19 speech on the Middle East which counseled "adequate recognition of the special interests of the three great religions in the holy places of Jerusalem."

This view, officials said, has been made clear to the Israeli government on various occasions.

Hussein, who leaves Friday for Jordan, returned to New York late Wednesday where a statement he issued was read at the United Nations by Jordanian Foreign Minister Ahmed Toukan.

Urging the world to stand firm against the annexation, the statement added, "We do not accept any attempt which would secure any fruits of Israel's aggression.

Actress Dies In Louisiana Auto Crash

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Beautiful Jayne Mansfield and two men were killed early today when their car rammed the rear of a truck slowed by a cloud of mosquito fog across the highway.

It happened on a U.S. 90 curve near the Rigolets, the waterway connection between Lake Pontchartrain and the Gulf of Mexico, in New Orleans. It was about 2:25 a.m.

Killed with the voluptuous 34-year-old Hollywood actress were Samuel S. Brody, who was her lawyer and companion, and the 20-year-old chauffeur, Ronnie Harrison of Mississippi City.

Police said three of Miss Mansfield's children, asleep in the back seat of the big gray car, were injured. Physicians said they were in fair condition. They are Marie, 3, Mickey Jr., 8, and Zoltan, 6, her children by muscleman Mickey Hargitay.

Two of Miss Mansfield's four Chihuahua dogs also died in the shredded auto, which jammed up under the back of the truck trailer.

"It was the most dreadful thing I've ever seen," said George Carmichael, head of the New Orleans mosquito control unit, who was called to the scene by the driver of the insecticide fogging truck.

Miss Mansfield had left Biloxi, Miss., about midnight and was en route to New Orleans where she was scheduled to appear on a television program at noon.

Police said the actress was decapitated.

Thief Takes Guns Belonging To LBJ

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A thief somewhere may have to answer to the President.

An employe of President Johnso's LBJ Ranch 60 miles north of here reported Wednesday that someone stole two .22-caliber rifles belonging to the President.

Dale Malechek told police he parked Johnson's 1967 pickup truck on a northside shopping center lot Wednesday and when he returned the rifles were missing. He valued the weapons at $103.

Expanded Parade Planned For 4th

An expanded parade route for July 4th in Towle Memorial Park was mapped this morning as Chairman Bob Watlington met with key commitee members at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The parade this year will move from the National Guard Armory eastward past the park lake and to the park road fork near the prairie dog town before it bends back by the swimming pool, tennis courts and point of dispersion at the west end of the park. Riders will be asked to keep their horses out of the picnic areas for sanitation and safety precautions.

Previously, the Independence Day parade has simply circled the park lake following its assembly in the armory region.

Bicyclists and horsemen will be asked to come to the park via Houston Street, using the entrance just west of the Farm League baseball diamond. Bicycle riders will be presented their flags at this entrance only, said Parade Marshal Frank D. Stephenson.

The bicycle riders have been asked to decorate their bicycles and ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place cycles in two age divisions, 9-12 and 6-9.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. immediately following the special program in the armory area of the park. The program at 9 a.m. will feature an Independence Day address by Don Wooten, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and a memorial service to be led by the Rev. William N. Parkey, pastor of First Christian Church.

Concessions in the park will open when the parade begins. It was announced this morning that concession spaces which have been assigned will be available at 2:30 p.m. July 3 for operating organizations to begin setting up their facilities.

Navy Won't Speculate On Israeli Attack On Vessel

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy court of inquiry has refused to speculate on whether Israeli jets and PT boats knew they were attacking a U.S. vessel when they rocketed, machine-gunned and torpedoed the communications ship Liberty during the Middle East war.

A summary of the court's proceedings, released by the Pentagon late Wednesday, also made no mention of reports the ship was engaged in electronic spying on Israeli and Egyptian communications when she was hit June 8 some 15 miles north of the Sinai Peninsula.

The summary, prepared from a secret report, said witnesses before the Navy court testified to "significant surveillance of the Liberty on three occasions" from the air hours before the midafternon atack.

But the document added that because it was not an international investigation, there was no evidence on whether the planes identified the Liberty.

The Navy court affirmed the vessel's right to be where it was, in international waters and produced evidence the Israeli armed forces "had ample opportunity to identify Liberty correctly," the summary said.

"The court had insufficient information before it to make a judgment on the reasons for the decision by Israeli aircraft and motor torpedo boats to attack," the Pentagon report said.

"It was not the responsibility of the court to rule on the culpability of the attackers, and no evidence was heard from the attacking nation."

The summary said the Navy court, which met in closed session in London and aboard the shattered vessel in Malta, found that the Liberty was in international waters, "properly marked as to her identity and nationality, and in calm, clear weather when she suffered an unprovoked attack."

A total of 33 U.S. Navy men and a civilian technician for the supersecret National Security Agency were killed in the attack. Seventy-five others were injured.

The Israeli government apologized and offered to make amends. Israeli military authorities have announced their own inquiry into the attack, which occurred three days after the outbreak of the Arab-Israeli war.

The Defense Department has said from the qutset that the Liberty, a converted World War II merchant ship, was sent to the area "to assure communications between the U.S. government posts in the Middle East and to assist in relaying information concerning the evacuation of American dependents and other American citizens."

There have been published reports that the Libarty actually was functioning as a spy ship eavesdropping on Egyptian and Israeli communications, and that it was operated by the Navy for the National Security Agency.

Solons Submit First Bill On Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson its first education bill of the session, a $910 million measure setting up a broad new teacher training program and expanding state control over the Teacher Corps.

The major provision in the bill gives broad new authority to the U.S. Office of Education to aid in training teachers and other educational personnel to meet shortages expected to exist for years.

The measure allots $775 million, or 85 per cent of the money it authorizes, from this program.

The other $135 million in the bill is for a three-year extension of the Teacher Corps in an effort to put that embattled organization on a sound financial footing for the first time.

The Senate completed legislative action on the measure Wednesday, approving it after a three-hour debate. The House passed the measure Tuesday.

Although House sponsors of the bill said it would turn the Teacher Corps over to local management, it appears to leave the Office of Education firmly in control of the program since that agency will decide which projects are funded and what guidelines they must meet. Washington pays up to 90 per cent of the cost of corps teams.

Miss Wool Pageant Is Sellout

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)— A sellout live audience for the televised Miss Wool of America Pageant here Friday night was assured when the ticket office opened today with less than 400 scattered tickets available sponsors said.

It could be the first sell-out for the more-than-6,000 capacity coliseum since the first Miss Wool pageant 10 years ago.

Meanwhile, all the stars and principals had arrived. Donald O'Connor drove from Dallas; Jane Morgan arrived by commercial airliner; and the judges —Harvey Berin, Jo Copeland, and Eileen O'Connell—arrived by private plane.

The 20 Miss Wool contestants, representing every part of the country, rehearsed with O'Connor Wednesday.

The girls got their first look at the San Angelo Coliseum, where they will spend many, many hours until the show is over, Wednesday evening. Their one break comes with the beautiful river parade at 9:15 p.m. tonight. Each girl will glide down the Concho River in her own sailboat in a brilliantly-lighted parade of boats and gaily-decorated floats.

More than 90 television stations in the United States will carry Friday night's live color cast. The top 20 wool fashions will be modeled by the contestants. The fashions have been endorsed by the American Board of Newspaper Fashion Editors and have been adjudged by each editor as a "major look for fall, 1967."

The climax of the pageant will be when Miss Wool of America, 1966, Barbara Petsel surrenders her crown to her successor.

DEAR ABBY: I started going with a gal I'll call Vi. I liked her a lot, but she seemed to have a lot of crummy friends. One day Vi called me at work and told me she had been beaten up and robbed, so would I stop off to see her and bring her some money to pay her bills.

When I saw her, she sure was a mess. She said some men she had neve. seen before used a pass key to get into her flat, beat her up, and took all her savings which was about $300.

I took Vi to the emergency hospital, and they fixed her up. She told them she fell down some stairs. I wanted to report it to the police but Vi wouldn't let me. I gave her $200 to pay her bills.

Now I am wondering why she wouldn't report a robbery to the police. This doesn't make sense to me. Does it to you?

VI'S GUY

DEAR GUY: Probably the reason Vi didn't want to report the robbery was because there wasn't any. If you're smart, you'll stay away from the likes of Vi, Buddy.

DEAR ABBY: I married Tex when I was 16. I bore him four sons. When the youngest was eight months old, Tex took off for California and left me to raise the boys alone. I did, and believe me, it wasn't easy.

I divorced Tex, and he didn't fight it. In the meantime he married another woman, and the boys grew up and had families of their own.

It has been 40 years now. Tex's wife died, and he has returned. He expects me to take him back and feel the same toward him as I did in the early days. I have no feeling for him. I don't hate him. He is like a stranger to me, except that he is the father of my sons. The boys tell me that their father and I "belong" together. Am I wrong to say I want no part of him?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Not in my book, you aren't.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I guess you get all kinds of letters, but this will be a new one:

My husband went to work for a certain garage downtown. He's a mechanic. Well, Pete worked there for only a few days when I stopped by to pick him up from work, and I met his boss. The boss told me personally that he liked my husband's work and he hoped Pete would become a permanent fixture around there.

Well, after Pete got his week's pay he was fired. Hold on to your chair while I tell you the reason:

His boss said Pete was "too energetic and ambitious — and that the old timers around there looked awfully pokey compared to him, and it made them nervous."

Abby, what is this country coming to when a man can't put in an honest day's work for the wages he's paid? I've heard of men being fired for laying down on the job. But never because they were too energetic and ambitious.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If Pete could get a signed statement from his boss stating that he was let out for the reasons he mentioned, it would be a great help in getting a job in another garage. I'm sorry to report it, but apparently Pete's experience is not uncommon in shops where the seniors "set the pace" and woe to the junior who ignores it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the kid who wouldn't do one or two little errands without asking, "What's there in it for me?" sure got my Irish up.

If any of my kids ever gave me an answer like that when I asked them to go empty the trash, the next morning when they came down for breakfast there would be a menu staring them in the face, with the price of everything on it.

And there would be a little charge of 50 cents a night for room, too.

That would be the end of the question, "What's there in it for me?"

A King's Art Treasurers On Tour

By DEL MILLER
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO — For 1,000 years Chinese beauties admired themselves in mirrors such as the 10 on display here from the art collection of the King of Sweden, but today's museum-goers cannot do the same. The mirrors have their faces to the wall.

The reason is simple. A mirror is a mirror, but these have intricately decorated backs which are their chief interest to viewers.

The oldest dates from the Chou era — possibly as early as 1025 B. C.

The most modern was made during the T'ang era in the 10th Century A. D. It is of white bronze, with a knob in the shape of a bear surrounded by grapes, birds, bees and lions.

The most intricate, made during the reign of Wang Mang 9 to 23 A.D., carries an inscription which translates:

"The Shang-fang has made this mirror. It is greatly without blemish. Hsin (the new dynasty) has good copper. It comes from Tan-yang; he has refined it and worked it with silver and tin; it is pure and bright.

"A skilled artisan has engraved it and made the decoration; to the left the dragon and on the right the tiger iliminate what is unlucky; the red bird and he black warrior conform to the forces of Yin and Yang.

"May your sons and grandsons be complete in number and be in the center; may you long preserve both parents; may your happiness and good fortune prosper; may your longevity be like hat of metal and stone; may you be like princes and kings."

The mirrors are among 150 of the choicest pieces from the 2,000 specimens in the Chinese art collection of King Gustav VI Adolf of Sweden.

Now on its first tour, the exhibit began May 2 in its only showing in the American Far West. It next goes to Kansas City.

J. Lowell Groves, a director of the Society for Asian Art, which is sponsoring the San Francisco show, designed the displays in a gallery of the Avery Brudage Oriental Art Wing of the M. H. De Young Museum in Golden Gate Park.

It is contained in heat-proof glass cases. These were ordered for the 5,000-piece Brundage collection after some previous cases cracked.

Brundage, retired Chicago contractor and financier, is an old friend of the King and is honorary patron of the king's exhibit.

Viewers are given the opportunity to compare it with similar examples in the Chinese section of the Brundage collection, which swarms through the adjoining galleries. However, the over-all effect of the two exhibits is quite different.

The King of Sweden's display has an air of delicacy. Most pieces are only inches in size. The Brundage collection has small objects, too, but it mingles huge lifelike statues with the miniature — porcelain camels as big as ponies, scrolls that fill half a wall. Buddhas of temple size, and funeral urns big enough to hold the dead.

Both collections have 7-inch-tall potery figurines of young women from the 5th century A. D. They are from the Northern Wei Dynasty, which ruled North China for 200 years.

Each also has delicately carved wine cups of purple rhinoceros horn, once believed to be an aphrodisiac. In each the cup represents the Han poet-statesman Chang Ch'ien, floating down the Huang Ho River in his hollow tree. This was a favorite subject of the Ming craftsmen who carved rhino horn.

HEAVEN AND HELL — Lester Groves is director of the Society of Asian Art and designer of the San Francisco exhibition of "Chinese Art from the Collection of His Majesty the King of Sweden." Here Groves shows the symbolic Chinese symbols for Heaven and Hell. The jade pi-ring-seven inches in circumference, dates from the Stone Age and symbolizes Heaven. The 8 7/8 inch-tall jade earth Hell, overleafed in brown, green and yellow and shot with rose, nephrite and brown, is a little later. It dates from the Chou Dynasty, 1027 to 256 B.C.

Diversion Levee Repairs Pushed

Rpairs are being pushed to the south flank of the Bull Crek diversion levee where a wak occurred Tuesday, but offseting this disappointment is 2000 acre feet of new water suply in Lake J. B. Thomas.

he lake caught just a little srt of four additional feet of wter from rains early this wek. This morning the elevatn was 2245.97, and the rate increase had slowed to less an .01 of a foot per hour. The vel might reach 2246.00 before alting, said O. H. Ivie, general anager of the Colorado River unicipal Water District.

Continued flow through the gap in the levee deepened it somewhat, said Ivie. About 8,000 cubic yards will be needed to close the gap which is about 15 feet at its deepest point.

Initially, a dike will be thrown up around the break to guard against losing any new flood waters should there be additional rain. Ivie estimated that the levee could be restored to its original condition within a week.

There is still no indication what caused the separation, because here was very little head on the water on the face of the levee at the point wher it ventually gave way. Fortunately, this was still several feet above the diversion channel grade, so that most of the Bull Creek runoff went into Lake Thomas.

During June the level has been raised more than nine feet net. The volume of water is over 43,000 acre feet, nearly a year's supply. The level now is at the highest point in 2½ years.

Republicans See Reagan At Top

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Republicans are banking money and political credit in California in hopeful anticipation of the day when Gov. Ronald Reagan will be propelled directly into the race for the 1968 prsidential nomination.

Reagan is looming ever larger in the wings, although he has no visible organization and continues to insist that "I am not a candidate for anything except to be a favorite son here in our own state."

Nevertheless, signs are mounting steadily that the same Republicans who eaglerly supported his resounding capture of the governorship last November are convinced Reagan can lead the party back into the White House.

And Reagan has indicated he wouldn't reject a draft.

"If all the party should come knocking at my door, I guess I wouldn't say, 'Go away fellows'," he said this week in an interview.

It's no secret that California Republicans are yearning for Reagan's nomination. Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction and one of the state's best vote getters, complained tha he came away empty handed when he tried to line up contributors to finance a primary race against Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel. Wealthy Republicans, said Rafferty, "make no bones about the fact that they are planning and hoping" for deadlock at the 1968 convention that will hand the nomination to Reagan.

That convention appears more and more to be shaping up as an uninhibited scramble.

Many signs point to a drift away from the two top contenders, Michigan's Gov. George Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Party conservatives are moving toward Reagan; moderates are talking about another governor who insists that he isn't a candidate, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The shifts showed up at the recent Young Republican convention in Omaha, Neb., and again at the Conference of Western Governors in West Yellowstone, Mont.

Oregon's Gov. Tom McCall—"I've been a Rockefeller man all along"—told Republican liberals and moderates at West Yellowstone Reagan was "about the hottest piece of political property" in the nation.

"He has more going for him than any political figure in the United States today," said McCall.

But, he added, Reagan shouldn't run.

"We are going on straight charisma and lovability, and all these things beg the question of whether you know what you are doing when you get to the White House," he added.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado said he saw no major shift toward Reagan in the Republican maneuvering.

"I sure don't see any band wagon when the guy says he is not running," said Love.

Nuns Like Switch To Nurses' Garb

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (APz — Nursing nuns at Georgetown University Hospital are the first in the nation to try a switch to white nurses' uniforms in place of the traditional white religious habit.

And they are finding that "with no long skirts dragging behind, or sleeves dangling at her side, a nursing sister can move about more easily, especially through narrow space," said Sister M. Francesca Lump of the order of Sisters of St. Joseph. She is assistant administrator of nursing services at the hospital.

Eight of the 13 nursing nuns at the hospital are participating in the voluntary experiment, expected to last several months.

Each nun selects the style of uniform that suits her own taste. All of them, however, wear a white, shoulder-length veil as a head-covering.

Permission to wear the experimental dress was based on a decree of Vatican Council II which states, in part, that religious habits "should meet the requirements of health and be suited to the circumstances of time and place, as well as to the services required by those who wear them."

Sister Francesca, summing up the nuns' experiences since the experiment began June 5, said the sisters have found the nursing uniforms more practical than the traditional habit.

Not only do they allow freer movement, she said, but they also are cooler and more comfortable.

"More important, however," she said, "is the fact that, for certain people, the change has removed a barrier — one that occasionally inhibited people from approaching sisters because they did not know what to say or how to act."

Garrison Says Oswald Was Decoy

NEW YORK (AP) — New Orleans Dist. Aty. Jim Garrison contends the real assassins of President John F. Kennedy set Lee Harvey Oswald up as a decoy, hoping he would be shot down by Dallas police.

Garrison explained his theory Tuesday night during an interview with Mike Wallace in the third of a series of telecasts on the Warren Report by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The district attorney has charged previously that five anti-Castro Cuban guerrillas killed the president. In the interview he said the conspirators plotted the death of Patrolman J.D. Tippit "to get rid of the decoy in the case, Lee Oswald."

Garrison said the conspirators "had what I think is a rather clever plan", to get rid of Oswald "so that he would not later describe the people involved in this."

"It's well known that police officers react violently to the murder of a police officer," he said. "All they did was arrange for an officer to be sent out to Tenth Street, and when Officer Tippit arrived there he was murdered, with no other reason than that."

"After he was murdered," Garrison continued, "Oswald was pointed to, siting in the back of the Texas Theater where he'd been told to wait, obviously." He said the apparent plan was that the police would come and avenge the death of a fellow officer.

"But the Dallas police, apparently, at least the arresting officers, had more humanity in them than the planners had in mind. And this is the first point at which the plan did not work completely," Garrison said.

"So Oswald was not killed there. He was arrested. This caused a problem, because if Lee Oswald stayed alive long enough obviously he would name names and talk about this thing that he'd been drawn into. It was necessary to kill him."

"That's where Jack Ruby comes into the picture?" Wallace asked, referring to the night club operator who subsequently shot Oswald as he was about to be transferred from the Dallas city jail.

"That's right. It was necessary for one of the people involved to kill him," said Garrison.

CBS said its own investigation had concluded that Oswald shot Tippit and that there was no evidence to indicate the two men knew each other or were involved in a conspiracy together.

New Rail Spur To Serve Sulphur Plant

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP) —Construction of a nine-mile spur to serve the new $5 million Duvall Corp. sulphur plant northeast of Fort Stockton has been announced by the Santa Fe Railway.

John S. Reed, president of the Santa Fe who made the announcement Wednesday in Chicago, said the rail extension from Fort Stockton would be completed in time to handle materials for the construction of the Duvall plant.

Reed said the rail extension also would be available to handle the production of other sulphur plants that might locate in the area.

The Duvall plant will have a daily production of 500 tons of sulphur.

Survivor Recalls Attack On Ship

EDITORS NOTE — AP military writer Bob Horton was aboard the USS America on June 11 and there interviewed a survivor of the Israeli attack on the American ship Liberty three days before. Here, in counterpoint to a Pentagon account of the attack published Wednesday, is the way one survivor remembers it.

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's account of the Israeli attack on the USS Liberty presents a picture of almost mercifully quick deaths among the crew. One survivor remembers it differently and tells how at least one man was sealed in flooding hatches.

In a condensation of the Navy court of inquiry's findings on the attack, which killed 34 men, the Pentagon reported 25 died instantly from an Israeli torpedo blast.

"Those few not killed outright escaped from the compartments," the Pentagon said Wednesday.

"The court," the Pentagon said, "heard testimony from witnesses including a salvage expert, who stated that beyond a shadow of a doubt those who died there were killed instantly by the blast.

"None could have survived, trapped in the compartment, to die of suffocation or drowning."

But one of the Liberty's wounded crewmen told newsmen aboard the carrier USS America on June 11, three days after the attack, of a young Marine who bravely tried to rescue companions from flooded areas of the ship.

Seaman Kenneth Ecker of Watseka, Ill., said the Marine helped some crewmen from water-swept hatches and returned below deck to assist others. The implication was that others were alive.

"He never came back" Ecker said. "Water was pouring in the torpedo hole so fast they had to close the hatch."

Only 9 bodies of the 34 dead were recovered the first two days after the attack.

Ecker said the Marine was a corporal who boarded the Liberty only one week before when the communications ship stopped at Rota, Spain, for fuel and supplies en route to the Mediterranean.

The Pentagon's list of the dead names two Marines, one Cpl. Edward E. Rehmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Rehmeyer Jr., of Railroad, Pa. The other Marine was a sergeant.

It could not be determined Wednesday night whether Ecker was called to testify before the court.

Ecker, an 18-year-old radioman, was lucky.

He put on his steel helmet when Israeli planes bore down on the ship. At least eight chunks of shrapnel or pieces of bullets struck his helmet, one penetrating and bouncing off his head. One hole in the helmet was nearly an inch in diameter.

Ecker, knocked from his feet, suffered a one-inch scalp cut and a headache, but wasn't seriously hurt.

The captain of the Liberty, Cmdr. William L. McGonagle, was among the 75 wounded. He was hit by shrapnel in the leg, but continued directing the ship.

The report gave high praise to McGonagle, as well as to the entire crew, and said he has been recommended for an individual award.

Miss Kitty To Remarry

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Amanda Blake, who plays Kitty on television's "Gunsmoke," has taken out a marriage license less than half an hour after being granted an uncontested divorce from her third husband.

Miss Blake, 38, a resident of nearby Scottsdale, appeared Wednesday for the brief divorce proceeding.

She accused her third husband, Arizona rancher Jason Day, of mental cruelty. She said there was no community property and no request for a financial settlement.

The couple was married in Los Angeles Aug. 15, 1964. They had no children, although Day, 41, has two by his first marriage.

Miss Blake and Frank Gilbert, 54, owner of Phoenix pump and equipment company, took out a marriage license in the court clerk's office less than half an hour after the hearing.

Woman Leaves Estate To Black Mutt

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) — A 9-year-old black mutt who was adopted from the Missouri Humane Society two years ago, has been willed $51,553 in an estate left by June Kieselhorst of Greendale, Mo.

The terms of the will be filed in Probate Court in Clayton provide that the money goes to the Humane Society when the dog, Last Minute II, dies.

Miss Kieselhorst, 45, was the daughter of St. Louis businessman Henry Kieselhorst.

HOUSE CONFUSED

Redistrict Bill Revision Asked

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON AP) — Confessing confusion, the House has decided it doesn't like a congressional redistricting bill worked out by a House-Senate conference.

It sent the bill back to the conference committee Wednesday in hopes the panel can come up with something closer to the bill the House originally passed.

That would have fixed a maximum variation of 30 per cent between the population of each state's largest and smallest districts for the 1968 and 1970 elections, and lowered the limit to 10 per cent in 1972.

The Senate passed a measure that would have permitted no larger than a 10 per cent variation by 1968, but the conferees appointed by the House and Senate to work out the differences came up with something of their own.

Their bill would have provided that no state need redistrict at all until after the 1970 census, which means until the 1972 election

The conference version approved late Monday was scheduled for a vote Wednesday, but members raised so many questions which the House conferees couldn't answer in private meetings that it was decided not to bring it up at all.

The leadership slipped a motion to return the measure to conference through the House without debate or a vote, and with most members unaware what was going on.

No meeting of conferees will take place until the House returns from a 10-day July 4 holiday recess that starts at the close of business today.

A major argument made against the bill was that it could lead to members having to run in statewide elections rather than from districts, a distasteful prospect for most. That would be the likely result, they were told, in states under court order to comply with the Supreme Court's one man-one vote ruling.

The bill's foes warned that if the courts were prevented by the proposed measure from fixing districts until after the census, they probably would require the members to run at large.

"You can take away the court's capacity to redistrict," said Rep. James C. Corman, D-Calif., "but you can't take away its capacity to enforce the Constitution."

Both the House and Senate bills had included a provision barring at-large elections but the conferees dropped it, apparently by oversight.

State Judge Bars Casita Picketing

By PEGGY SIMPSON

RIO GRANDE CITY (AP) — A state judge Wednesday barred farm union members from all picketing at Starr County's largest farm, a ruling La Casita Farms had asked so "people can feel secure in life and property."

The union said it would appeal Dist. Judge Woodrow Laughlin's order, which was delivered orally immediatelly after arguments ended in a two-day hearing.

The order was regarded as a setback for the 13-month-old United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, which had made La Casita the principal target of its goal to organize Rio Grande Valley farm workers.

Eugene Nelson, who began the union campaign in June, 1966, after participating in a DeLano, Calif., grape workers strike said, "The ruling is just one more bit of evidence that there is no justice in Starr County.

"I think, however, this will backfire on the growers and the local farmers because the U.S. Senators are here."

He referred to the opening today of a senate subcommittee on migratory labor hearings in Rio Grande City, during which senators say they hope to get ideas on the possible extension of the National Labor Relations Act to cover farm workers.

Many of the farm workers who had sat in the Starr County Courthouse Tuesday and Wednesday showed up at the McAllen airport Wednsday night to greet Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Harrison Williams, D-N.J. They waved signs bearing such messages as "Collective Bargaining, Si, Texas Rangers, No."

La Casita counsel maintained throughout the courtroom hearing that the farm workers union had created an atmosphere of violence in the county. Lawyer Lawrence Atlas of McAllen said this "is going to get worse and something bad is going to happen if the picketing is not stopped now."

Atlas credited Texas Rangers and other law enforcement officers for preventing any violence thus far.

Ranger Capt. A. Y. Allee testified earlier Wednesday that he knocked down the door of a house and hit one of two union members, ex-convict Magdalena Dimas, on the head with a rifle while arresting Dimas.

Allee denied, however, that he hit Dimas more than once or shoved either of the union members as those men testified previously.

Dimas required six days of hospitalization after the arrest for what a physician described as a brain concussion, the court was told.

DPS Estimates 55 Texans Will Die

AUSTIN (AP)—Fifty-five persons will die in traffic accidents on Texas streets and highways over the four-day Fourth of July holiday, the Department of Public Safety estimates.

Last year, with a 72-hour holiday period, 43 were killed.

The department will maintain its "Operation Motorcide" death count, designed to focus attention on the dangers of holiday travel, from 6 p.m. Friday through 11:59 p.m. July 4.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, said additional men from other uniformed services will augment the regular highway patrol.

Two Killed In Texas City Mishap

TEXAS CITY (AP) — The collision of an automobile and a truck carrying propane gas Wednesday afternoon killed James Raymond Tomlinson; 61, of Channelview and Larry Glenn Tomlinson, 16, of Baytown.

Both the dead were in the automobile.

The truck driver, Mitchel Madin, 31, was hospitalized.

Investigators said the automobile was crushed when the truck rolled over it. The intersection happened just off the Gulf Freeway at an intersection.

U Thant Probably Regrets Remaining At Helm Of UN

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTO (AP)—U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, is a mild Burmese who likes bacon and eggs and can get in a jam by saying too much or saying to little.

Five years ago what he said wasn't much but it turned out to be too much. He was trying to reunify the Congo at the time and got angry at the leaders of the secessionist Katanga government. He called them a "bunch of clowns."

He was criticized for that. This year, and he still stings from it, he was criticized for saying too little, or nothing at all, instead of consulting the U.N. General Assembly or the Security Council when Egypt told him to pull his U.N. peacekeeping troops out of Egypt immediately.

He did so promptly. And from that point relations between Israel and the Arabs headed straight for the short war which started this month and lasted less than a week, with the Arabs winding up on the short end.

Protests piled up on him. The climax came last week in the United Nations when Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said Thant had acted "disastrously swift" in yielding to the demands of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

This really irritated Thant who quickly issued a statement that explained he had no choice, that Nasser had voluntarily allowed the U.N. force to stand on the Egyptian side of the border with Israel and could therefore order them out when he wished.

In the course of this Thant implied Israel was in a poor position to complain that the U.N. troops had been pulled out of Egypt since Israel never permitted them inside Israel at all.

The Eban attack must have been a sore harpoon for this week Thant fired back again in his own defense, this time with such a detailed and lengthy statement that it took up almost three full newspaper pages.

He didn't need all that room. But his explanation—which in part was a repetition of his answer to Eban—squarely put the finger on Egypt as the one who precipitated the war.

Now almost a month after the war the biggest unanswered question—and Thant didn't answer it, either—is still: who fired the first shot? But from Thant's explanation it was Egypt which lit the fire.

He said in mid-May the Egyptians told him to remove U.N. troops immediately from El Sabha in the northeast corner of the Sinai Peninsula, right on the border with Israel, and from Sharm el Sheik, in the southeast corner of Sinai, a point which can control shipping into the Gulf of Aqaba.

When Thant didn't act fast enough, Egyptian soldiers took over in both places and it wasn't long before Nasser decided to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba. This became the sorest point of all in Israeli-Arab relations.

In his statement Thant said the long, simmering hostility between Israel and Egypt—he called it a "direct confrontation"—was made to bubble and boil by Egypt's decision "to move its forces up to the line."

But Israel didn't look good in Thant's explanation, either.

Thant pointed out that when Israel's delegate to the United Nations went to him to protest the U. N. withdrawal, on Nasser's demand, the complaint was that Nasser alone should not be permitted to demand and get the withdrawal.

But since Israel didn't want the U.N. force removed from Egypt, but Egypt did, Thant said he asked the Israeli delegate if Israel would permit the U.N. troops to move over and take up their peace-keeping role on the Israeli side of the border.

Thant said the Israeli delegate said such an idea was "entirely unacceptable to his government."

Last year, when his first full term as secretary-general was expiring, Thant, who had been an educator and a newspaperman, said he had had enough and wanted to retire.

Ike Doesn't Claim To Have Style

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It was just a small cozy literary luncheon at the Waldorf, but the hero of the occasion turned out to be far more modest than most authors.

But, of course, Dwight D. Eisenhower, throughout his career, has been notable for modesty.

"I don't claim to have a style," he said, with a bright smile that lit up the room. "I suppose I'm a hack, in that respect.

"All my life in the military, in preparing staff reports, I was trained to be logical, factual and accurate. That doesn't usually result in a very distinctive literary style."

In his earlier memoirs, "Crusade in Europe", and "The White House Years," Eisenhower set down formally for the historical record his activities as World War II commanding general and U.S. president.

In his latest book, "At Ease, Stories I Tell My Friends," the warm-hearted, boyish Ike of yore breaks through the frigidity of the command level. He tells a very human story of his life from Abilene to the White House. One critic has described it as the best autobiography ever written by an American president.

Eisenhower said he felt there were two more books he'd like to write, one a volume on the problems of achieving Allied battlefield unity in World War II and another on the personalities he had met.

"I'd like to give an estimate of them, if not as men then an estimate of the methods they employed."

At 76, the former president is still upright of figure, keen witted, and zestful in spirit, but steps a little more slowly and wryly admitted he lately had been getting in only nine holes of golf a day.

Ike's personal charm is always seen best when he's talking informally to a small group. At the luncheon anecdotes flowed from him as freely as dandelions sprout on a spring lawn. Now and then a vagrant wistfulness shone through his words, as when he spoke of his dead mentor, the late Gen. George C. Marshall.

"He is the only man I ever met I would rank with Winston Churchill," he said, paying him the highest tribute in his power.

Never one to dwell on rivalries or carry grudges, Eisenhower, even when speaking lightly, always is careful to point out the virtues as well as foibles of anyone under discussion.

Speaking of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, he said, "Well, he always thought he could walk on water, but I was his good man Friday for nine years, and he was fine to work for. . . .

"We did disagree on some things. He thought it was bad for a headquarters to admit making a mistake because he felt it was bad for morale.

"I had a different theory of leadership. I've always thought that the best thing for a leader to do who has never made a mistake is—to make a mistake, and then promptly admit it."

Over the years Eisenhower has been a student of success and failure in men's lives

Junior Editors Quiz on EYES

QUESTION: What does nature do to protect our eyes?

* * *

ANSWER: Eyesight is the most important of our senses. It tells us more about the outside world than the others do. To use the sense of touch, you must be close enough to actually touch something. But our eyes see the light of stars which are enormously far away. To accomplish this, the eye is a marvelous and delicate instrument, with a tiny lens which focuses a minute color-image on the back of the eyeball. It is the bony eye socket which mainly protects this delicate, fragile eyeball. In front, as our lower picture suggests, the bone projects above and below, at brow and cheekbone. This is why, if someone hits you in the eye, the eyeball rarely is damaged. The eyelids serve as flexible cases protecting much of the eyeball, and all of it when we are asleep. Eyebrows and eyelashes help by screening out dirt and other matter. Not least of nature's methods of caring for our eyes is the use of tear fluid, distributed over the eyeball every time we blink. This keeps our eyes clean and moist and able to rotate freely.

Bowden will be one of 600 students in the class of 1971, selected from among over 3500 applicants. He is a 1967 graduate of Snyder High School.

Standing 5-11, weighing 178-pounds, Bowden a linebacker, was selected as All-Area first team defensive linebacker and All-District first team linebacker. President of the Student Body and The Fellowship of Christian Athletes he plans a career in medicine.

"I am very happy that Murry met the strict academic requirements at Dartmouth. I feel that he will play a significant role in our athletic future," commented coach Blackman.

Blackman now ranks in the top three nationally among major college football coaches with a .737 winning percentage. ## Carnera Dies While In Week Coma

SEQUALS, Italy (AP)—Primo Carnera, the towering Italian known as "The Ambling Alp" when he won the world heavyweight boxing championship in 1933, died today in this mountain town where he was born. He was 60.

His huge body wasted from cirrhosis of the liver. Carnera left the United States last month and came home to die.

He was in a coma for almost a week before death came.

Carnera was champion less than a year. He won the heavyweight title on June 29, 1933, when he knocked out Jack Sharkey in the sixth round in New York. Max Baer took the title from him on June 14, 1934, with an 11th round knockout in New York.

In between Carnera defeated two challengers, Paulino Uzcudun, in 15 rounds in Rome, and Tommy Loughran in 15 rounds in Miami.

Carnera remained a big name to the end. His was a life story of success, shadows and sorrow in the ring, a private war against the Nazis in Italy in World War II, his comeback in the United States as a wrestler, fatal illness and now finish to it all.

Carnera had been in failing health for about three years after concluding a career in wrestling.

When he and his wife, Pina, left their home in Glendale, Calif., last May 10 for a visit to his Italian homeland, Primo vowed he would return to the land where he and his family became citizens.

But for the few who knew the truth of his condition, the boxer's departure from Los Angeles was a tearful farewell.

Carnera and his wife, who were married March 13, 1939, in a little village near the Yugoslav Italian border, left in the United States their two children, Jean Marie Alderson, 24, wife of an engineer, and Umberto, a 27-year-old medical student.

The boxing champion received an emotional welcome in Italy. But the sight of his drawn face and the fact that he had to lean heavily on a cane deeply shocked his many fans here.

When Carnera finally reached Sequals, he had lost 40 of his 260 pounds distributed over a well-proportioned 6-foot-6 frame.

National League All-Stars Will Be Without Willie

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays will be among the missing when the National League All-Stars take the field to oppose the American League July 11 at Anaheim, because the players, managers and coaches failed to name him to the starting lineupm

Mays, a super performer who had been a starter for 13 straight years since he came out of the Army in 1954, undoubtedly will be on the team. Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers will pick the pitchers and the rest of the 25-man squad.

The 36-year-old outfielder who is second to Babe Ruth in career home runs finished fourth among the outfielders in the voting. Under a change in the rules, effected last year by Commissioner William Eckert, the first three outfielders are the starters, regardless of their positions.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh polled 248 votes, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves got 216 and Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals drew 116. Mays' total was 77. Both Clemente and Aaron normally are right fielders and Brock is a left fielder so Alston probably will shift Aaron to center.

Gene Alley, Pittsburgh shortstop, drew the most votes with 250, tops in both leagues. A total of 285 votes were cast but Pittsburgh had 27. As players were not permitted to vote for their own teammates, Alley thus received 250 of a possible 258.

Pittsburgh put three men on the starting eight, pitchers excluded. Bill Mazeroski, Alley's double play partner at second base, received 218 votes and was an easy winner along with Alley and Clemente.

Orlando Cepeda, the St. Louis Cardinals first baseman who is having a fine year, outdistanced the opposition with 219 votes, joining outfielder Brock as Card representatives.

Joe Torre, the Atlanta catcher who has been out with injuries, won by a comfortable margin with 187 votes to runnerup Tim McCarver of St. Louis with 62. That gave Atlanta double representation with Aaron and Torre.

The closest fight was for third base where Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies was the winner with 148 votes over Tony Perez of Cincinnati who had 75.

Alston will announce his pitchers Friday and the rest of the squad July 6. There must be at least one from each club on the team. Starters, except pitchers, must play at least the first three innings. Pitchers can not go more than three, except in extra innings.

No less than 15 outfielders got votes. Following Mays' fourth-place total of 77, came Pete Rose of Cincinnati 66, Jimmy Wynn of Houston 55, Rusty Staub of Houston, 27, Billy Williams of Chicago 19, Curt Flood of St. Louis 14, Adolfo Phillips of Chicago 4, Tommy Davis of New York 3, Matty Alou of Pittsburgh 3, John Callison of Philadelphia 2 and Vada Pinson of Cincinnati 2.

Brock was the only left-handed batter in the starting line-up. He and Alley were the only newcomers who had never started. The three repeaters were Aaron, Clemente and Torre. Of the 1966 crops, first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco, second baseman Joe Morgan of Houston, third baseman Ron Santo of Chicago, shortstop Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati, who is injured, and Mays did not repeat.

Carol Mann Stands Tall In Two Ways

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — In women's golf, Carol Mann, stands tall for a couple of reasons. First, she's 6-foot-3. And, lately, her game has been head and shoulders above that of many of her professional compatriots.

But Miss Mann's head was only near the clouds, not in them, today as the U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament began at the Cascades Course. Lots of people looked up to her as the golfer to beat. Miss Mann demurred: "I don't pick me."

"After four players—maybe me," said the 26-year-old, talkative blonde who only last week cut nine strokes off par in winning the Buckeye Savings Tournament at Cincinnati. "My game suits this course pretty well—but so do theirs."

She was talking about Kathy Whitworth, No. 1 money winner on the Ladies' PGA tour; Sandra Haynie, No. 3—behind Miss Mann; long-hitting Mickey Wright, and oldtimer Louise Suggs, who plays in only a handful of tournaments nowadays, at 44.

Why these four?

"Because they hit the high approach shots that will hold on these slick greens, and after they're there, they can put the ball in the hole. That's what counts in this one. Hitting the ball won't help you much. You have to read the greens to score, and these are written in sanskrit to most of us."

PALMER AFTER FIFTIETH WIN!

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer set out after his 50th professional golf triumph today in the tournament that launched him to an unrivaled history of success while the cloud of a possible future players strike loomed over the Canadian Open.

Palmer, who has won more money than any other player in the game, concentrated on his golf and skipped a late meeting of the touring pros that could trigger another episode in their long-standing and complex feud with the Professional Golfers Association.

Doug Ford, a member of the player's committee, emerged from a two- hour closed door session Wednesday with the curt announcement, "It's a very serious situation."

The players, seeking more voice in the control of the tour, declined to discuss their meeting, but an announcement calling the gathering said it would concern a critical veto power by the PGA Executive Committee.

This was supposed to have all been thrashed out in a meeting at Cleveland last week. But nothing was committed to paper and some questions have arisen.

"We're just trying to solve a little misunderstanding," Ford said. "We won't have any statement until the PGA Executive Committee hears from us."

He declined to answer further questions, but the prospect of a player boycott of the PGA Championship in Denver, Colo., next month appeared a distinct possibility.

Regardless of their actions, it was very unlikely that the current Canadian Open would be affected.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the two giants of the game, were the co-favorites with Palmer needing a victory to bolster his sagging prestige. He put it well himself.

"I'm probably playing as well now as I ever did. I'm just finishing second instead of first."

He hasn't won a major title—the U.S. or British Open, Masters or PGA—since the Masters of 1964. Since then Nicklaus, 10 years younger than the 37-year-old Palmer, has won two Masters, a British Open and a U.S. Open, the record smashing triumph of two weeks ago.

Palmer's throne is in jeopardy. And he knows it. He doesn't want to be No. 2 and works harder.

"I'd rather beat Jack than any person in the world," he said after a practice round over the par 71, 6,800-yard Montreal Municipal course.

Palmer and Nicklaus played the round together and answered questions together afterwards, Palmer smiling and joking, and Nicklaus quiet and subdued.

They said they hadn't kept score—though other sources said Palmer had a 68 and Nicklaus 72—and were polite as possible about the course, which has been branded as inferior by a number of the premier pros gathered for this $200,000 event.

Applications Received

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said Wednesday postmastership applications were received from Conley Bradshaw and Vernon Fields II of Silsbee, Tex.

Death Attributed To Spinal Meningitis

EVADALE, TEX. (AP) — Health officials said an autopsy showed Wednesday that the death of Ted Williams, 13, in this Jasper County town resulted from spinal meningitis.

He was taken to a hospital Friday and died there Monday.

Young Williams played in a Tall Timber Babe Ruth League baseball game at Buna the day before he entered the hospital.

Business Games, Gimmicks Believed Here To Stay

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The men who dream up the games people play at supermarkets and gas stations for $100 million a year in cash and prizes say they are here to stay. But many of the sponsoring merchants see them as a necessary nightmare.

"Almost every oil company wishes it didn't have to get involved in these games," says a Mobil Oil Corp. spokesman, whose company sponsors "Safety Pays." "But once the competition gets one started, then you've got to get in to keep your share of the market."

The men who invest the games disagree.

Jerry Poncher, board chairman of J&H International Corp. of Chicago, one of the companies that think up the games, says: "These contests are not only here to stay, they will accelerate rapidly in popularity in 1967 and the years ahead."

One of the latest games on the sales promotion scene is called "Double Sweepstakes Bingo." It's aimed at catching the American housewife at both her supermarket and gas station.

Service station and supermarket chains previously had, and many still do, run their promotions separately. But now National Food Stores and American Oil Co. have teamed up to run the identical contest simultaneously.

Those who patronize the more than 1,200 outlets of the two chains in the Chicago area will get bingo cards and numbers to paste on them. Numbers picked up at the supermarket are good on the bingo cards passed out at the service station and vice versa. Winners can get either merchandise or cash prizes ranging from $1 to $1,000.

Although slightly more sophisticated, "Double Sweepstakes Bingo" is a close relative of other game or sweepstake promotions staged periodically on either the local or national level or both.

Esso Standard Oil Co. has "Tigerino", for example. Shell Oil Co. has "The Americana Game", Sinclair Oil Corp. has "Dino Dollars", Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. has "Bonus Bingo", and Tidewater Oil Co. has "Flying Aces."

Most of the games basically involve either a variation on conventional bingo, the matching of halves of cards or scenes, or the completion of a word.

The cash prizes range from $1 to $2,500, with $1,000 the average top prize.

Supermarkets alone spent $216 million on the promotional games in 1966, estimates Henry Reichman Sales Builders Inc., which developed some of them.

Poncher says: "More than 600 national sweepstakes were held in 1966 in retail outlets, an increase of approximately 67 per cent over 1960. Expectations are that in 1967 the number will reach 700. The premium industry, which supplies the merchandise prizes for the consumer motivation contests, recorded about a 30 per cent increase in volume last year — topping the $3 billion level."

"Consumer surveys," he adds, "show an increasing desire of shoppers to vie 'painlessly' for cash, automobiles, trips, electrical appliances, housewares and the other prizes offered by these conte sts."

This consumer desire to "vie painlessly", however, is causing pain to some of the supermarket and service station chains.

A spokesman for the supermarket industry said that since last fall's boycotts of some markets by consumers angry over prices, the industry had been trying to get away from games and 'going for discount pricing" as a sales stimulus.

He said a study showed the cost of the games ranged from a half to four-fifths of one per cent of a chain's sales and added that a supermarket chain in New Jersey recently dropped a game on the ground it "made no improvement in sales."

Spokesmen for the service station chains feel much the same way.

"As far as we can tell, the games don't really improve your sales," the Mobil spokesman says. "The volume of gasoline sold is pretty much inflexible. There are so many cars and they use so much gas. So, if your gas sales improve during one of these promotions, it doesn't mean more gas is being sold; it means one of your competitors is losing a bit of his sales."
