L. A. McClanahan, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Housing Committee, has been corresponding with officials of M. W. Kellogg Co., the firm that is building the American Magnesium Co. plant here.

His prime interest in the project is the outlook for housing demands during the period of construction, and some information is developing. In a letter to McClanahan, Q. C. Eyberg, manager of technical services for Kellogg, advised that the peak demand for construction workers on the plant likely will be reached next December. Work at the outset will be concerned mostly with foundation work and installation of underground pipe.

The builders expect to have about 55 workers at the plant site by July. This figure is expected to increase to about 65 in August, 115 in September, 180 in October, 200 in November and 260 in December. It is expected to begin a gradual decrease in March of 1969 as the project moves closer to completion.

McClanahan checked statistics in another town where the same firm has a project going and came up with some interesting projections. This town estimated that of the construction workers who moved there during the project, 65 per cent sought furnished apartments and 20 per cent sought furnished rooms.

The Chamber of Commerce received an inquiry the other day seeking the present address of a former Scurry County resident, John Lewis Myers. The first address the insurance company had for Myers was Route A, Box 4, Foch, Tex.

Foch was the name of the post office at Hermleigh for a few years, beginning during World War I when residents of the community decided that the name Hermleigh was "too German." Marshal Foch, the French Military leader, was commander of Allied Forces in the war. So, the post office name was changed to Foch. Later, it was changed back to Hermleigh. But it originated as Wheat and was located some two miles north of the present town of Hermleigh. Hermleigh took its name from R. C. Herm, a farmer, and Wheat was moved there early in the century.

Chamber Manager Gene Merrifield was successful in locating a current address in Corpus Christi for Myers.

It is not often that inquiries are received about Foch. —WACIL McNAIR.

NEW FIGHTING NEAR DMZ

Marines Rout N. Viets

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines overran a rocket-firing band of North Vietnamese regulars Monday and reported killing 67 of the enemy in new fighting below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

This brought enemy casualties around the U.S. Marine base at Dong Ha to more than 900 since March 1. Twelve Marines were killed and 24 were wounded in the clash Monday four miles north of the big Marine supply base.

About 150 Marines were maneuvering to attack the enemy position when they were flailed by about 40 rounds of 140mm rocket fire. Allied artillery, helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers hammered the enemy lines for an hour, and then the Leathernecks attacked.

The heavy fighting ended quickly, as the enemy fled. The Marines captured three prisoners.

Dong Ha, headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division and supply depot for all allied outposts along the eastern half of the DMZ, has been under pressure from troops of North Vietnam's 324B Division that slipped through the buffer zone and past allied outposts earlier this year. South Vietnamese forces have reported killing more than 700 of the enemy in the area this month while the Marines say they have killed more than 150.

Below the western end of the DMZ, North Vietnamese gunners hurled 125 rocket, mortar and artillery shells into the much-scarred Marine combat base at Khe Sanh Monday. A U.S. military spokesman said casualties as usual were light among the base's 7,000 defenders.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their daily raids on the North Vietnamese troops encircling Khe Sanh.

The big bombers flying four missions Monday afternoon and this morning also hit enemy troop positions 16 miles north of Ban Me Thuot, in the Central Highlands.

The allied commands reported two other ground actions Monday in which 56 of the enemy were killed. Troops of the U.S. 11th Light Infantry Brigade killed 11 guerrillas along the coast 310 miles northeast of Saigon while suffering no casualties. South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 45 enemy soldiers in a battle 35 miles southwest of Saigon and said their own casualties were light.

In Operation Quyet Thang, the biggest allied offensive of the war, government troops sweeping five miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base, found a cache containing 80 122mm rockets, 1,200 mortar rounds, 138 warheads for bazooka-type rockets, 30 recoilless rifle shells and half a ton of TNT.

No major ground action was reported in the eight-day-old operation. The U.S. Command reported 821 enemy soldiers and 33 Americans have been killed, while a government spokesman said South Vietnamese losses have been light.

U.S. headquarters reported an Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet and two helicopters were shot down Monday.

The Super Sabre, 811th U.S. combat plane officially reported lost over North Vietnam, was downed in the panhandle 30 miles southwest of Dong Hoi. One crewman was rescued, the other was missing.

One crewman was wounded in a helicopter crash 115 miles west of Saigon, while two crewmen were wounded when their chopper was shot down 110 miles southwest of the capital.

U.S. planes flew 71 missions over North Vietnam Monday. Among their targets were the Kien An airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, a power plant 27 miles northeast of the port city, and a highway ferry 18 miles south of Hanoi.

Oil Allowable Cut For April

HOUSTON AP) — Heeding pleas by top executives for 20 of the nation's largest oil companies, the Texas oil and gas regulatory agency ordered today that the state's April crude oil production allowable be slashed by 160,508 barrels a day.

The Railroad Commission set an April production factor of 46.7 per cent, compared to March's 49.6 per cent.

The new order sets a maximum April allowable of 3,591,896 barrels a day, compared to 3,752,404 for March. Actual April production is expected to approximate 3,126,842 barrels a day, compared to the current average of 3,214,567.

Lagging imports and an unprecedented winter demand for heating oils has prompted the commission to increase the February and March production factors but major purchasers warned repeatedly today that inventories could creep to dangerous levels unless output of crude is curtailed the next few months.

The warnings were made as major company executives testified at the commission's "state of the industry" hearing that is held each March for a top level review of supply and demand trends.

Similar testimony earlier had prompted the Louisiana Conservation Commission to reduce that state's April production allowable by 40,000 barrels a day.

Novotny's Son Barred From Leaving

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The son of President Antonin Novotny was barred today from leaving the country for fear he would flee to the West in the wake of the scandal over Gen. Jan Sejna, his longtime friend who has defected to the United States.

An authoritative source said Antonin Novotny Jr., who heads the Artia Foreign Trade Corp., was denied an exit visa to West Germany and Yugoslavia where he was supposed to travel next week.

"We do not want to have another defection," said one informant.

The news came as Czechoslovakia learned of several arrests in the case of Sejna.

Novotny, however, was still free and showed up at his office this noon.

The report came after a Prague newspaper said several persons have been arrested in connection with the Sejna case. Zemedelske Noviny referred to "several dozen people," but it gave no details on the arrests or charges involved.

Crown Prince Is Engaged

OSLO (AP) — King Olav V today announced the engagement of Crown Prince Harald to a commoner, Sonja Haraldsen. The prince is 31 and she is 30.

Harald will be the second future European monarch to marry a commoner since World War II. Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands was married two years ago to a West German, Claus Van Amberg.

The prince and Miss Haraldsen met in school, and rumors of their romance aroused some opposition because she is a commoner. But leaders of all but one tiny antimonarchist party issued statements approving the match today, apparently ruling out a political controversy.

The wedding will take place in August or early in September.

Official Scoffs At Story Of Defectors

SAIGON (AP) — Six North Vietnamese defectors said today that Hanoi's intelligence sources provide as much as 24 hours advance notice and the approximate location of U.S. B52 bombing raids in South Vietnam.

"Preposterous," said a senior U.S. officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff.

"The thing that disproves this statement is that many of the missions aren't even planned 24 hours in advance," the officer said.

Copper Confab Hits New Snags

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations between 26 striking unions and 3 big copper firms have hit new snags in White House-sponsored talks while a fourth firm awaited the outcome of union ratification meetings on a contract agreement.

Strikers in Arizona and Texas were voting on a 40-month contract with Phelps Dodge Corp. that would provide $1.13 per hour in increased wages and fringe benefits. Several endorsements by locals—and no rejections—were reported by early today.

Workers at Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp. in Yonkers, N.Y., have already approved a separate contract providing a package of 75 cents per hour over 36 months.

Wages in the industry averaged $3.28 per hour before 50,000 workers in 22 states went on strike more than eight months ago. About 6,500 of the strikers are Phelps Dodge employes.

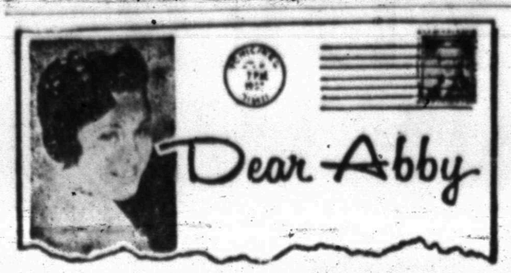

Talks with the other three major firms—Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda Co. and American Smelting & Refining Co.—bogged down anew when both sides took tough new bargaining stances.

However, Kennecott did announce it had reached agreements with four small locals in Nevada and New Mexico.

Sources said the three firms were resisting accepting the Phelps Dodge settlement as an industry pattern.

A spokesman for the firms said the unions had renewed their "apparently illegal company-wide demands" for simultaneous contract expiration dates and similar economic gains for all workers of each firm.

The unions abandoned those demands in settling with Phelps Dodge, but the industry statement said, "It is not clear whether there will be concession on these conditions in all the bargaining areas of the other three companies."

DEAR ABBY: We have an old maid neighbor who thinks she is smart. She named her cocker spaniel "Lester" knowing perfectly well that was my husband's name.

In the evening when she calls her dog, my husband goes to the window and barks just to confuse her.

There have been times when I have called my husband when he's down the road somewhere and that dog would come running.

Isn't there something we can do about this? There surely must be laws to protect respectable people against being humiliated publicly by people like her. I'd take her to court if I thought I could win.

DEAR WIFE: If you have a bone to pick with your neighbor over her dog, better do it out of court. A grown man who would "bark" to confuse a neighbor who's calling her dog is in no position to find fault with a practical joker.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We are two young childless women married to brothers. Our problem is that our husbands only very casually mentioned to us that there was a third brother who has lived in an institution as long as they could remember. That is all they have ever told us about him. They have never visited him, and they never refer to him. It is as if he were dead. We aren't even sure if this brother is mentally ill, was a brain-damaged baby, retarded, or insane.

Once I asked my husband to tell me something about this brother he never saw, thinking it could be a genetic defect and possibly hereditary, so perhaps we should consider adoption. He said he knew nothing more than he had told me, and he didn't want to ask his parents as it "upsets" them to discuss it.

Abby, should we inquire at the institution and ask them to keep our inquiries confidential& Or should we go directly to our in-laws and ask them& Or should we ignore the whole thing?

PUZZLED PAIR

DEAR PUZZLED: Ask your husbands. They should realize that your reasons for wanting to know all about this institutionalized brother are valid. And they should provide you with the answers. If they fail to satisfy you, get in touch with the institution.

DEAR ABBY: A little 10-year-old girl named "Brettschneider" wrote to tell you that even tho she had a "funny" name that most people found hard to spell and pronounce, she was proud of it and she didn't feel it was a handicap. Good for her!

I also had a "funny" name. "Grzeskowiak"! I married a girl who hated it so much she nagged me until I finally went to court and had it legally changed to something very short and ordinary.

Well, to make a long story short, after three years our marriage fell apart and we were divorced. I went to court again and got my old name back, and now I am married to a wonderful girl who could hardly wait to change her name from "Jones" to Grzeskowiak. Sincerely yours.

G. G.

Hendricks jumped from his car and shot twice into the pickup, missing both occupants. Mr Hendricks fled as Hendricks fired and missed again. Doe grabbed a rifle from under the seat in his truck, fired and hit Hendricks in the top of the head, killing him.

Youth Is Convicted

A jury which heard a case in District Court yesterday deliberated 45 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty against Willis Dean Sanders.

The Scurry County youth was charged with willful destruction of the property of another, and the jury sentenced him to a 3-year prison term. However, the sentence was suspended for three years, and Sanders was placed on probation.

District Attorney Wayland Holt argued that Sanders deliberately rammed his car into a Cadillac parked beside the road east of town on Oct. 15, 1967. Owner of the vehicle, Gregory Moore of Houston, had reported his car — a late model Cadillac — as having been stolen. Attorney for the defense was Dan Cotton.

Sanders did not testify. The suspended sentence was decided upon after the jury determined that the youth had never been convicted of a felony previously.

J. D. James was foreman of the jury, which included 11 men and one woman.

National League Expansion—Later?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The National League's expansion committee meets here Wednesday. But NL President Warren Giles says no recommendation will be forthcoming on whether to expand to 12 teams next year along with the American League.

Giles called the scheduled meeting "more or less exploratory" and said it was called for the purpose of working out ground rules for future expansion—presentation of franchise applications, allocation of players, etc.

Giles said the NL expansion committee might discuss the possibility of earlier expansion but any announcement would have to wait until a future meeting of all 10 clubowners. Unanimous approval is required for expansion.

Hold 2 For 'Joyriding'

Police Patrolmen Ruben Gonzales and Kirt Reed apprehended two Snyder youths for "joyriding" about 11 o'clock last night some three hours after they allegedly took the car of an owner without permission.

Charges were pending against the suspects, 17 and 19, this morning. Officers said the two took a white and blue 1955 Model Chevrolet from "Robert's Place," 3412 Avenue M, about 8 o'clock last night. Farm Union Takes Appeal To Capital

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The National Farmer's Union annual convention sent a representative today to plead for congressional approval of the key portion of the Johnson administration's controversial farm program.

By a unimous vote, delegates dispatched one of their leaders to Washington to appear before a House agricultural committee hearing today. The union wants passage this year of supply control programs for wheat, feed grains and cotton.

The programs have been putting more than $2.5 billion a year into growers' pockets for limiting production.

President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey told the convention Monday that the continuation of current programs is necessary to keep "catastrophe and ruin" away from agriculture.

But this latter claim was disputed Monday night by House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan. Addressing the convention, Ford accused the President of a "blatant attempt to mislead Congress and the public."

The GOP leader said that expiration of the controlled program would still leave growers protected by prior farm laws still on the law books.

Two Pleas Are Entered

Two pleas were entered in County Court yesterday.

Della Mae Johnson, charged March 17 with possession of beer for sale in a dry area, pleaded innocent, and bond was set at $500.

Willie Lee Griffin of Portales, N. M., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and received a $50 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term. The fine and jail term were probated for six months. The offense occurred March 15. Griffin originally had pleaded innocent, but he changed his pleas after conferring with a court - appointed attorney.

Both of the accused were apprehended by Sheriff's Authorities.

Johnson Proves He's Campaigner

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Just one final word," said Lyndon B. Johnson, and then proceeded to utter more than 1,000 words—words designed not only to defend his policies in Vietnam but to help insure his political survival.

If anyone ever needed proof the President is a campaign-seasoned fighter, here was vocal evidence that for him the slogan in 1968 hasn't changed from 1964. It's "LBJ all the way."

And, from a look at the weekend headlines, one might even gain the impression that, when political survival is at stake, Johnson is a rugged infighter.

Before the LBJ counter-attack, the headlines reflected a solid week of bad news, from his standpoint: The "moral victory" over Johnson by Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in New Hampshire's Democratic primary; the challenge to Johnson's presidency by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.; and finally a gold-dollar crisis of dimensions unrivaled in more than 30 years.

One might suspect Johnson would have been dismayed, if not bowed, by all this. Assuredly, he felt the onrush of events. But he came back fighting hard.

Indeed, Johnson's step seemed to become springier and his platform oratory more pointed as the challenge grew.

The headlines really tell the story of the Johnson counter-attack against the forces arrayed against him.

On Saturday, Kennedy was accorded free television-radio time to announce his candidacy for the presidency. Initially, most observers thought he had the headlines wrapped up for Sunday morning newspapers.

But these seers reckoned without Johnson. Unannounced, he went before an audience of top-drawer businessmen and voiced a rather determined defense of his embattled Vietnam policy.

And that was only the beginning.

Simultaneously, "reliable sources" disclosed that Vietnam troop reinforcements would be moderate compared with the reported request for 206,000 additional men by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam.

What's more, the same sources disclosed that Johnson was secretly collaborating with leaders of Congress to make significant cuts in the federal budget—as the price for the higher taxes the President seeks.

Result: Johnson and the anonymous sources, wrapped into a single news account, captured headlines from Kennedy in many newspapers around the country.

Johnson, when pressed, is adept at using the power of his office to put down any challenge. So was John F. Kennedy. Barry Goldwater once complained that every time he had the potential of making headlines at a Republican meeting in the capital, the late President found a way to top him.

Anise Cookies

2½ cups unsifted regular flour (stir to aerate before measuring)
2 tablespoons baking powder
Small pinch of salt
¼ cup butter
3 tablespoons peanut oil
½ cup sugar
3 large eggs
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon anise extract

On wax paper stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. In a large mixing bowl beat together the butter and oil; add sugar and beat thoroughly; beat in eggs, one at a time, lemon rind and anise extract. Add flour mixture, mixing well. Chill if necessary to handle easily. On a prepared pastry cloth with your palms, roll level tablespoons of the dough until each is as thick as a pencil; tie each into a knot with ends outstretched. Place, a few inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until only lightly browned — about 12 minutes. Makes about 40 cookies.

Scissors work beautifully for cutting warm coffee cakes. They help to preserve the delicate texture of freshly baked breads.

Kleibrink Speaks To Altrurians

The theme of the program for the Altrurian Club on Friday was the conservation of natural resources. As a welcome change from man - made problems, the discussion centered on ways and means for conserving the rich soil with which West Texas is blessed.

Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin, as director of the program, secured the services of Mr. Horace Kleibrink, who is with the local Soil Conservation office.

Mr. Kleibrink traced briefly the State Agriculture Department which was authorized in its present form in 1941. He said Scurry County had participated in the program since 1956. He showed a film on the Great Plains Conservation Program, explaining the practices of conservation as they were pictured. Wind erosion being combated by various types of terracing; water being conserved by spreader dams; mesquite eradication by aerial spraying and bull dozing; cross fencing and cover crops to hold the soil; different kinds of crop rotation and spacing of planting rows.

The film showed land of Scurry and Borden Counties as well as in other places, in the Big Spring area where remarkable progress had been made in production of crops.

In the business session, plans were made to attend the Mesquite District of Federated Clubs meeting in Abilene March 21, when Mrs. Roland Irving will be the Altrurian Club delegate.

Mrs. McLaughlin served refreshments to the guest speaker and members.

Let's Pause And Count Our Marbles

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Considering the way the world has been going lately, it is a wise policy for everyone to pause now and then and count his marbles, to see if they are all still there.

In an abnormal time, of course, it is difficult to be sure what is normal and what isn't. The range of variation is pretty wide.

But there are certain standards by which to gauge how well you fit the pattern of an acceptable norm.

Here, for example, is an easy do-it-yourself quiz that will help you figure out your "NQ"—normalcy quotient. Ask yourself these questions:

Can you keep your head when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on you?

When the bus driver pleads, "Awright folks, please move to the back of the bus," do you immediately move back of the bus?

How about those PTA meetings at your kid's school? Do you faithfully attend every one of them?

Are you consistently kind to old people, in the vague hope that sooner or later one of them will mention you favorably in his will?

Do you think your television repairman is giving you a square deal?

When your teen-ager comes to you with a problem in algebra, are you able to study the book for a few minutes and then come up with the right answer?

Is your check book always in perfect balance?

Do you regularly make your home mortage payments a week before they are due, just to be on the safe side?

Can you honestly say that you always do your fair share of pushing when you go through a revolving door?

If your wife puts two pieces of toast on the breakfast plate, and one is burnt and one is unburnt, do you chivalrously insist on taking the burnt piece? Really?

Should your college start a fund drive and suggest that you contribute $200, would you forthwith write them a check for that exact amount?

While bending down and touching the flgor 25 times during your daily calisthentics, do you conscientiously keep your knees straight? Every time?

When your best friend in the office gets an unexpected big raise, does it fill your heart with true gladness because it makes you happy to see real merit rewarded?

Do you always remember your wife's wedding anniversary and your secretary's birthday with an appropriate gift?

When an enemy injures you, do you forgive him because, after all, nobody's perfect?

Is it your firm opinion that day by day, in every way, the world is getting better and better?

Can you laugh at another fellow's joke without wanting to try to top it?

Well, that's the quiz. Now let's check your score.

Did you write a firm "yes" to every question? You did?

Buddy, you're in deep, deep trouble and had better run—not walk—to the nearest psychiatrist. No normal person is that big a liar.

Some In Washington Believe Negotiated Peace Likely

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the surge in Vietnam fighting, one school of thought in Washington still sees the war as likely to end in a negotiated settlement.

According to this thinking, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will find that whatever their other successes they cannot push the U.S. armed forces out of South Vietnam by military attacks—and thus the enemy will try to oust the Americans via the political route.

Washington has long avowed its desire to go to the conference table in the name of peace. Not emphasized, but nonetheless real, is a fear in some U.S. quarters of the tremendous cost in American men and money should the war go on several more years.

Thus both sides are pictured as headed sooner or later for a formal peacemaking—as distinguished from the other school of Washington opinion which figures the fighting will fade away with gradual triumph over the insurgents.

Just when real peace talks may come seems to depend on the moment when each side thinks it can gain more from a political deal than from more use of force.

The United States is reported to have been ready with fairly specific settlement terms in December 1966—only to find Hanoi was not interested enough in talks then to get into serious discussions.

On other occasions North Vietnamese feelers have been turned down by U.S. strategists on grounds that Hanoi's approaches were not sincere.

The enemy is expected to avoid serious discussions at least until after they see what happens in the U.S. presidential election.

If and when the diplomatic sparring leads them to the conference table, the antagonists are likely to run into political problems rivaling in sharpness their clashes on the battlefield.

The U.S. leadership may well face the politically embarrassing task of preparing the American people for acceptance of a solution short of the popular notion of victory—that is, of keeping Communists out of South Vietnam—since the Communists will probably insist on a governmental role in the South.

Also requiring persuasion would be the Thieu-Ky government, which opposes coalition with the Viet Cong and wants to fight on until the Saigon regime's control is solidified over the whole country.

The Viet Cong would probably have to accept a solution providing less than their earlier demands for the settlement "in accordance with the program" of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

They also are likely to face U.S. insistence on a system of safeguarding the settlement that is stronger than the loose guarantees contained in the 1954 Geneva Agreements for Indochina's peace and neutrality.

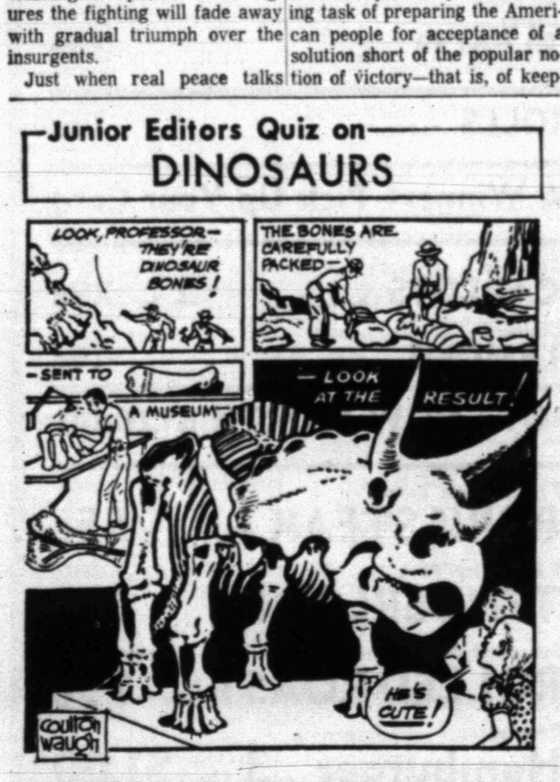

Both sides would have to decide who is to sit in on a peace conference. Some of the original Geneva powers, such as France and Red China, have not been directly involved in the current hostilities.

Other difficulties would arise with efforts for a cease-fire. With each side deeply suspicious of the other, how could a cease-fire in the widely-scattered guerrilla war be arranged and enforced to everyone's satisfaction?

The current guessing in Washington is that both sides would probably prefer a fight-and-talk situation until a settlement is worked out.

The first president to throw out the first ball to open the baseball season was President William H. Taft, who made his pitch on April 14, 1910.

Junior Editors Quiz on DINOSAURS

QUESTION: Men were not living in dinosaur days, so how do they know what they looked like?

* * * *

ANSWER: Dinosaurs were large reptiles — many of them huge in size — which lived on earth in the Triassic, Jurassic and Cretaceous periods, from about 200 million to 60 million years ago. Scientists know about them because they have found their great footprints in ancient rocks. And they have found many bones which, when put together by experts, give complete skeletons, showing what the creatures looked like and how they lived. Our picture shows how experts go about assembling such skeletons. First, upper left, they are searching for bones in a place where they may be expected to be found. Here, the foot bones of a dinosaur project from a cliff side. The bones are carefully dug out and protected by wrapping in burlap with plaster poured over this to make a light but strong shell. Then they are shipped to a natural history museum. Here, experts in bone structure take off the plaster and piece the bones together, often using steel rods. The result will be a savage-looking brute such as Triceratops, shown in the main picture.

Pistons Slip Past Seattle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jimmy Walker unlocked the Eastern Division tie for the final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association with some key points, but the battle still rages.

Walker, rookie backcourt ace from Providence, fired in eight points in the final quarter Monday night as the Detroit Pistons squeaked past Seattle 88-82. The victory on the West Coast sent the Pistons one-half game ahead of idle Cincinnati in the battle for fourth place.

In other NBA action Monday, Philadelphia, with Wilt Chamberlain pouring in 53 points, clobbered Los Angeles 158-128 at home and New York tripped the Warriors at San Francisco 123-118.

In the American Basketball Association, New Jersey trimmed Houston 113-103, Pittsburgh slammed Anaheim 135-118 and Denver topped New Orleans 108-101.

Dave Bing also contributed 10 of his 16 points in the Pistons' low-scoring victory, marred by turnovers and highlighted by great defensive play. Walker finished with 21 points while Walt Hazzard topped the Super-Sonics with 22.

Detroit has only one game remaining—Wednesday night at Boston—while Cincinnati plays at Philadelphia tonight and in New York Wednesday. If the two clubs are tied after the season ends, a playoff for the remaining spot would be played Friday in Detroit.

Chamberlain, with one his finest games this season, added 32 rebounds and handed out 14 assists. The 7-foot-1 center connected on 24 os 29 shots from the field as the Eastern Division champs, warming up for the coming playoffs, shot a sizzling 57.1 per cent.

Hal Greer added 32 points for the 76ers. Mel Counts topped Los Angeles with 26 points.

A three-point play by Bill Bradley put the Knicks on top to stay at 34-31 in the second quarter and Cazzie Russell's 13 points in the same quarter pushed New York's lead to 68-59 at halftime.

San Francisco, which ended its season, did get within four points of New York with a minute left but never had the ball again.

San Francisco meets Western Division champion St. Louis in the first round of the playoffs Friday in St. Louis.

Willis Reed topped New York with 29 points and Russell followed with 26. Rudy La Russo was high for the Warriors with 29.

Wilt, 76ers Rap LA, 158 To 128

By KEN RAPPOPORT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain's thoughts were 90 miles away. But he still had one of his finest hours in pro basketball — 53 points, 32 rebounds and 14 assists.

After the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain led the Philadelphia 76ers to stunning 158-128 National Basketball Association victory over Los Angeles Monday night, all he could say was: "I'm just happy that Kansas beat Villanova."

Chamberlain went to school at the University of Kansas, so it was natural that he should be concerned about his alma mater, playing in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

When a voice said over the loudspeaker that Kansas had beaten Villanova, 55-49, time was called and Chamberlain did a brief strut in the third quarter. It was a real crowd-pleaser.

"I just felt good," said Chamberlain, "very happy."

Chamberlain's theatrics during the time out, however, wasn't even a poor second to his remarkable show on the court in a game that cracked four records and tied another:

—Most field goals in a game by both teams, 126 (broke the record of 125 set by Syracuse and San Francisco on March 10, 1963).

—Most field goals by two teams in a half, 73 (broke the mark of 70 set by Boston and Minneapolis Feb. 27, 1959).

NBA Playoffs Set

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association playoffs begin Friday with Philadelphia playing New York in the Eastern Division and St. Louis meeting San Francisco in the West.

The league announced Monday that if an extra game is needed to decide the fourth playoff spot between Detroit and Cincinnati in the East, the game will be played Friday in Detroit.

The playoff series between the second and fourth place teams starts Sunday. Los Angeles meets Chicago in the West and Boston against either Detroit or Cincinnati in the East.

Americans Face Colonels Tonight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The line-up for the American Basketball Association playoffs will be complete if the New Jersey Americans can beat the Kentucky Colonels tonight at Louisville.

The Americans put themselves in that position with a come-from-behind 113-103 victory over Houston Monday night. That put them 1½ games ahead of Kentucky in the race for the fourth and final playoff berth in the Eastern Division. They have two games left to Kenucky's three.

The battle for first place in the West got tighter when third-place Denver tripped division-leading New Orleans 108-101.

The Buccaneers, who have three games remaining, lead Dallas by one game and Denver by two. But they have a three-game bulge over Denver in the loss column and the best the Broncos can do is tie for the lead.

Pittsburgh, which has locked up the Eastern title, walloped Anaheim 135-118 at Steubenville, Ohio.

In the National Basketball Association, Philadelphia crushed Los Angeles 158-128, New York defeated San Francisco 123-118 and Detroit beat Seattle 88-82.

New Jersey outscored Houston 30-16 in the third period to cement its triumph over the Mavericks. Bob Lloyd paced the Americans with a season high 29 points. Willie Somerset topped Houston with 20.

Lonnie Wright and Willie Murrell combined for 20 points in the fourth period to lead Denver past New Orleans. Murrell scored 27 points and Wright 24 but both trailed Wayne Hightower, who had 28. New Orleans' James Jones took game honors with 31.

The Pittsburgh-Anaheim contest drew a crowd of 2,398 to Steubenville. The Pipers said they may play three games in the Ohio city next season.

Pittsburgh rolled to a 35-22 lead after one period and the Amigos never threatened.

Connie Hawkins scored 33 points for the Pipers and Bob Bell had 28 for Anaheim.

Songbirds Drop One More Tilt

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

If a bad spring means a good season, the Baltimore Orioles have the American League pennant wrapped up.

The Orioles haven't exactly been tearing the Grapefruit League apart in the opening phases of the baseball exhibition season, but at least they haven't been afraid to get up in the morning. Until today.

Monday, the club made a routine flight from Miami Fla., to Sarasota, Fla., for a game with the Chicago White Sox. At least it was as routine as a flight can be after the pilot announces that an engine has been shut off.

Conversation was at an understandable minimum until the plane landed and, of course, the Orioles proceeded to get beaten by the White Sox 5-1. Their record now is 3-5.

In other games, Pittsburgh beat Detroit 7-2, Cincinnati took the New York Mets 5-2, Houston beat Oakland 6-4 in 11 innings. St. Louis overcame Philadelphia 8-7 and the New York Yankees lost 5-3 to the Mexico City Reds in Mexico.

The Orioles had barely left Miami when the pilot of their chartered DC7 noticed a runaway propellor on an engine and shut if off as a precautionary measure.

The game at Sarasota had barely begun when Pete Ward hit a three-run homer for the White Sox and Francisco Carlos shut out the Orioles for five innings as a precautionary measure. Which is the kind of a day the Birds had.

Matty Alou drove in three runs with singles for the Pirates, raising his spring training batting average to .400 and his RBI total to 11. Bob Veale worked five innings of three-hit ball for th Bucs.

Hal MaRae had a two-run homer for the Reds in their victorys over the Mets, but second baseman Tommy Helms, spiked by Ron Swoboda in the fourth inning, may be lost for a week. The Mets now have lost six in a row.

Doug Rader's double with two out in the 11th drove in Houston's winning runs. The Astros collected 15 hits off four Oakland pitchers while th: Athletics had seven hits, three for extra bases.

Philadelphia took a seven-run lead over St. Louis, but the Cards scored twice in the eighth and six unearned runs in the ninth to win.

The Yanks got a pair of homers—from Andy Kosco and Frank Fernandez—and seven innings of eight-hit pitching from Jim Bouton, but errors and timely Mexico City hitting proved to be their downfall. The Yankees have three more games south of the border.

WITH OLYMPIC PLANS

MEXICANS ARE BUSY

By STRATFORD JONES

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If the Summer Olympic Games were cancelled tomorrow, the Mexicans figure they would be out around $26 million.

But officials of the Organizing Committee here are not thinking in terms of cancellation and they're going ahead with building plans which figure to reach $84 million before the end of the Games scheduled Oct. 12-27.

The threatened boycott of some 40-plus nations protesting the admission of South Africa has thrown a cloud over the country's organization efforts but hasn't throttled them.

"There are no plans for cancelling the Games," insists Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, chairman of the Mexican Organizing Committee. "We are sure that all will be resolved and that the games will be a success.

"Work continues at the same pace as before."

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has called a meeting of the nine-man Executive Council in Lausanne, Switzerland, April 20-21 to reconsider the IOC decision last month restoring segregationist South Africa to the Olympic movement.

Thirty-two African nations, performing as a bloc, and close to a dozen other countries have announced they won't compete at Mexico City if South Africa is permitted entry.

The Soviet Union and its satellites have issued mild threats, but taken no definite action.

Mexico estimates that its outlay for the Games will be government around $84 million with $40 million for construction and $44 million for organization.

Ramirez reports that 80 per cent of the construction money and 60 per cent of that for organization already has been spent.

The construction money, however, is being used for permanent facilities.

Alvarez de Castillo, in charge of the committee finances, says estimates are that Mexico will recover between $32 million and $40 million when the games are completed.

This money would come to Mexico through sale of concessions, television rights, tickets and lodging for tourists, all of which are being handled by the

MAKES CATCH — Steve Moffett, Snyder secondbaseman, catches a "blooper" fly in short right field during the recent doubleheader with Big Spring here. The Tigers were hot and cold that day, turning in some spectacular defensive plays, yet committing costly errors. Big Spring won 5-1 and 3-2. The Tigers host Abilene Cooper in Towle Park at 4 p.m. today.

St. Peter's Runs Duke Ragged In NIT Playoff

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Win. Run, baby, run."

Don Kennedy's simple formula was written in chalk on a small blackboard in the St. Peter's dressing room.

Before Monday night's quarter-finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament were over, it was imprinted in the tired legs of the Duke Blue Devils, the minds of an awed record crowd of 19,500 and certainly in the thoughts of the Kansas Jayhawks.

Kennedy's Peacocks followed his writings to the letter, exploding in all directions at the opening tipoff and stampeding the 10th-ranked Blue Devils 100-71 with sharp-shooting, deft ball-handling and speed, speed, speed.

The display, one of the most devastating in NIT history, was witnessed by Kansas, whose slow deliberate style caught Villanova in a deep freeze 55-49 in the first game. Thus the Jayhawks got some idea of what they must stop when St. Peter's fuels up for them in the semifinals Thursday night.

The other semifinalists will be determined tonight when powerful Dayton takes on underdog Fordham and Long Island U. and Notre Dame clash.

St. Peter's, now 24-2, which upset Marshall in the first round, wasted little time making believers of big, slow, huffing and puffing Duke, the top-seeded team. The Peacocks burst out of the starting blocks and in almost the time it took to play the National Anthem, they had a 15-3 lead.

It was all downhill from there as the tiny New Jersey school stepped boldly into the national spotlight.

"Last week they made fun of us," said Elanrdo Webster, the 6-foot-5 tallest starter who hit 51 points against Marshall and 29 against Duke, including 21 in the first half that ended with the Peacocks ahead 50-29.

"No one knew where St. Peter's was—now they know."

Mikita Leads Ice Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Stan Mikita went scoreless in two games last week but still clung to his National Hockey League scoring lead, the league office announced today.

While Mikita's total remained at 38 goals and 41 assists for 79 points, New York's Jean Ratelle could manage only one goal in three games and Boston's Phil Esposito a goal and an assist in three contests.

That left them tied at 76 points, one ahead of Chicago's Bobby Hull and New York's Rod Gilbert, who are tied for fourth. Another point back is Detroit's Gordie Howe, two weeks shy of his 40th birthday.

Hull banged home two goals last week, giving him 44 for the season. He has six games left in which to reach the 50-goal mark for the fourth time. His league record of 54 seems out of reach.

Valdez Withdraws

DALLAS (AP) — An eye cut has forced Jesse Valdez of Houston to withdraw from defense of his national light middleweight Golden Gloves title.

Joe Cokes of Dallas, who lost to Valdez in the semifinals of the recent state Golden Gloves at Fort Worth, was named to replace him in the national meet starting Thursday at Salt Lake City. The eye was injured in the bout with Cokes.

Cokes is a brother of world welterweight champion Curtis Cokes.

FOR TIGER NINE

Cooper Provides Opposition Today

Snyder's Tigers get a chance to improve on a 3-7 non-district record today when Abilene Cooper's Cougars invade Towle Park for a 4 p.m. baseball clash.

Cooper, like virtually all of Snyder's non - district foes, is a Class AAAA team and should provide plenty of competition. The Cougars are 3-3 for the season.

Coach Speedy Moffett of Snyder listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows: Richie Thompson 3b, Ronnie Lewis rf, Mickey Almond ss, David McGinnis 1b, Max Moreland c, Randy Levens lf, Merce Hernandez cf, Steve Moffett 2b, and Jim Patrick p.

The Tigers have improved considerably. They're hitting the ball well and looking better on defense, although a couple of costly errors allowed Big Spring to win the second game of a doubleheader here Saturday. Defensive play in the outfield, especially, appears to be better than earlier in the campaign.

Patrick is a big sophomore right - hander who has the potential to develop into a top - notch hurler with more experience.

Ronnie Lewis, another underclassman, has been impressive in pinch hit roles of late, and has been promoted to the starting alignment for today's tilt.

The Tigers will be in a tournament at Andrews this weekend.

Pro Gridders Seek More Gravy

CHICAGO (AP) — A minimum salary, pay for exhibition games and a sizeable contribution to the pension fund will be sought by the National Football League's Player Association Tuesday.

John Gordy, president of the NFLPA, will meet with representatives of the National Football League headed by Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and NFL president.

Joining Modell will be Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, Rankin Smith of the Atlanta Falcons and Vince Lombardi of Green Bay.

Modell said he expects player representatives of all 16 clubs to attend the meeting in the federal building. "I have no idea of what is going to happen," said Modell. "We are just playing it by ear."

However, the office of Dan Shulman, NFLPA attorney, said contract proposals will be presented in the form of a collective bargaining agreement.

Player demands are expected to include a $15,000 minimum salary, $500 a game for exhibitions and an annual $5 million contribution to the player pension fund.

To Sign With 'Horns?

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas said Monday that Joe Lenox of Clear Creek, brother of assistant Longhorns coach Bennie Lenox, will sign a basketball scholarship April 2, the first day of signings in the Southwest Conference.

The 6-foot-2 Lenox averaged 24 points a game during the past season when Clear Creel won 35 consecutive games before losing to Conroe in a Class AAA regional tournament.

Bennie Lenox was an all-conference basketball player at Texas A&M in 1963 and 1964.

Texas also announced that 6-6 Sammy Hyde of Class AAAA Texas City would sign with the Longhorns. Hyde averaged 27 points and 13 rebounds this past season.

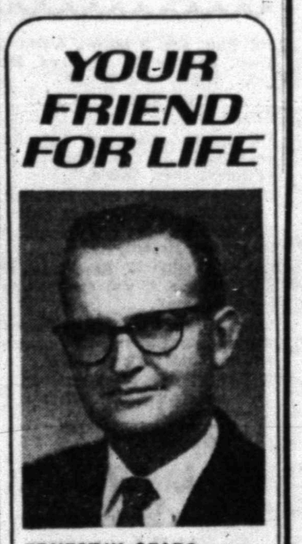

Travis 8th Loses

Lamesa's Green Hornets defeated the Travis Blue Devils' 8th grade volleyball team 15-9 and 15-9 here Monday afternoon.

High point girl for Travis was Shirley Bruns with six points. Denise Voss contributed five.

Travis hosts Lamar at 4 p.m. next Tuesday.

Corporation-Type Farms Opposed

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposals to discourage, mainly through Federal tax laws, the development of huge factory-type farms is getting attention among farm leaders in out of Congress.

Legislation has been introduced which would prevent non-farmers from claiming financial losses from farming as write-offs against their taxes on income from other sources.

Sponsors say they fear that in time big corporation-type farms might grow out of such tax concessions, to compete against the smaller family-type fulltime farmer will be a major item before this year's convention of the National Farmers' Union opening March 17 at Minneapolis.

The delegates to this annual meeting of the militant farm organization are expected to adopt a strong resolution urging early congressional action to keep big production units off the land. The Farmers' Union president, Tony T. Dechant, has been putting the matter high on his list of goals for his organization.

Dechant, who is serving his first term, has become one of the most aggresive farm leaders in behalf of proposals to strengthen assistance the federal government provides farmers. And he is one of the most vocal spokesmen in behalf of the familytype farm as opposed to the larger corporate-type unit which is enlarging its role in agriculture.

While a strong supporter of Johnson administration farm policies, Dechant frequently has been out in front of the administration on measures to encourage farmers to organize to raise farm prices. Not infrequently he has been a critic of the administration when he has considered to be moving too slowly.

Dechant and other backers of legislation to head off factory-type farming argue that agriculture dominated by larger corporations could hurt not only smaller farmers but consumers as well.

They contend that a corporation-dominated agriculture would be in better position than present farmers to control production and thus to force farm and food prices to much higher levels than now prevail.

Legislation to bar farm losses as tax write-offs for non-farmers has been introduced in the Senate by Wisconsin's Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Montana Sen. Lee Metcalf, both Democrats.

This being a presidential year, Dechant has invited leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties to speak before the Minneapolis Convention to outline their respective provisions with regard to government farm policies.

The Democrats will be represented by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, and the Republicans by their House leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

The convention is expected to adopt resolutions giving strong endorsement to Johnson administration farm programs, including crop controls price supports, farm payments, extension of the expiring Food-for-Freedom program and the establishment of an emergency reserve of grains and soybeans.

The convention is expected also, to endorse proposals which would give farmers much greater power than they now possess in bargaining for fair prices. This endorsement undoubtely would cover a bill introduced in the Senate by Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn.

Hordes of visitors proved Thomas Jefferson's undoing. The steward at Monticello, his estate near Charlottesville, Virginia, groaned: "I have often sent a wagon-load of hay up to the stable and the next morning there would not be enough to make a bird's nest. I have killed a fine beef and it would all be eaten in a day or two." After Jefferson's death, his daughter had to sell Monticello to pay his debts.

4-YEAR-OLD SAN ANTONIO GIRL

Kidnaped Child Found Safe

By PAUL RECER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — FBI agents safely returned dark-eyed, curly-haired Dana Lynn Kelfer, 4, to her parents late Monday night, about 10 hours after she was abducted at gunpoint by a man who demanded $30,000 ransom.

The FBI said an agent found the young girl—who works occasionally as a model—bound and gagged in an isolated barn. She had apparently spent hours alone and in pitch dark.

A 56-year-old television repairman led agents to the barn about 30 miles north of San Antonio. The man was arrested after five times driving past a point where authorities, acting on telephoned instructions, had placed the $30,000 ransom.

Bexar County authorities took custody of the man. He was jailed after giving a statement.

Dana Lynn, granddaughter of the president of a savings and loan company here, clutched her parents silently and dry-eyed when they were reunited at the Castle Hills police station.

She appeared stunned by photographers' lights and was carried into the station by her mother. The girl wore a short-sleeved blue plaid dress and tan houseshoes. Officers said she was unhurt.

The child's father, well-to-do attorney Marvin G. Kelfer, 37, told newsmen: "If I ever had a doubt about the existance of God I don't have it now because all my prayers were answered."

Mrs. Lupe Garcia, a maid at the Kelfer's fashionable home in suburban Castle Hills, said a man drove up in a white panel truck and posed as a repairman to gain acess to the home about 1 p.m. The maid was alone in the house with Dana Lynn and another Kelfer child, seven-month-old Tracy.

Mrs. Garcia told police the man pulled a stocking over his face and flashed a gun after entering the house. He bound her with tape, she said, got some blankets and left with Dana Lynn.

The maid worked free and alerted neighbors, who called police.

A penciled ransom note left in the kitchen warned against calling authorities, demanded $30,000 in small bills and promised to telephone instructions at 7 p.m.

The call came at 7:40 p.m. FBI agents left the home carrying an airline flight bag. it was left beside a rural road northwest of San Antonio, about three miles from the Kelfer home.

A district attorney investigator said the television repairman was arrested after he five times drove past the cache. He said the man then directed FBI agents to the barn, described as "five to 10 miles' from Bulverde, a small Comal County town near the Bexar County line.

The arrested man, a bespectacled, gray-headed figure wearing a wrinkled tan jacket and black slacks, covered his face as officers led him from a car into the Castle Hills police station. He twice stumbled in his attempt to avoid news cameras.

County authorities took a statement from the man in a front room of the city hall. He sat talking calmly, his legs crossed.

Kelfer said the abduction was apparently the result of a "personal grudge" concerning a foreclosure, presumably by the savings and loan company operated by the victim's maternal grandfather, Louis Michaels.

Kelfer praised newsmen for supressing reports of the abduction until the child was safe.

"Your cooperation really saved her life," he told newsmen.

The child's mother, Roxana, a pretty 27-year-old brunette, makes frequent television appearances here in commercials for her father's firm. Dana Lynn has also made television appearances here.

Change Of Venue For Mass Trial

DEL RIO, Tex. AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge D. W. Suttle granted a defense plea for change of venue Monday and ordered the transfer to El Paso of a case in which 17 persons are accused of conspiring to burglarize banks or engage in prostitution.

The jurist had directed some newsmen to stay out of the court room earlier, and he deplored what he described as "undue pretrial publicity."

This was the sixth postponement of the mass trial, in which lawyers have submitted more than 300 motions. In addition to contending the defendants could not obtain a fair trial in Del Rio, counsel asked individual trials and advanced various other proposals.

Judge Suttle told lawyers he would hear pretrial motions April 4 on the case in El Paso, where the judge makes his home.

He ordered the transfer to that city, more than 400 miles from Del Rio in far West Texas, after counsel had questioned many of the 130 prospective jurors summoned Monday.

A reporter for the Del Rio News-Herald, Sonny Jones, said a bailiff escorted him from the courtroom during the day after asserting, "We don't want any newspapermen around here."

Editor Brice Armstrong of the same newspaper said he was ordered last week to stay outside the courtroom.

As Judge Suttle started hearing some of the legal motions nearly five weeks ago, he directed Jones and another newsman, Nat Henderson of the Austin American-Statesman, to sit at the rear of the chamber instead of using the customary press table.

Subsequently Jones was subpoenaed as a witness on the defense move for a change of venue. Although defense lawyers offered to excuse Jones from a rule barring prospective witnesses, he was ordered to stay outside.

Twenty persons are named in the original indictment charging they conspired to operate a ring which burglarized 18 banks in three states—Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Six of the defendants are women accused of obtaining money from prostitution to finance the burglaries.

Indictments against two men since have been dismissed and a third, lawyer Jerry LeMonde, 39, of Austin, has been excused from trial because of illness.

More than 200 witnesses have been summoned for the trial. Court observers estimate it might last as long as six weeks.

Group Seeks To Eliminate Death Penalty

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Civil Liberties Union announced Monday it will take "all necessary action" to eliminate the death penalty in Texas.

The Rev. William A. DeWolfe, San Antonio Unitarian minister and newly elected TCLU president, issued a statement saying Texans' civil liberties "are threatened by the continued existence of the death penalty in our state."

Cases are on appeal from other states alleging the death penalty violates the constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment.

A news release was issued about the TCLU board of directors meeting in Dallas last week.

The board offered "direct legal representation, where possible" to Texans indicted for actions against the draft in cases similar to those of Dr. Benjamin Spock and the Rev. William Sloan Coffin.

"The Civil Liberties Union stressed that this action did not indicate approval or disapproval of the draft system or of the war in Vietnam. Rather, the organization's concern was expressed because of the threats, implied in Dr. Spock's indictment, to the freedoms of speech and assembly," the TCLU statement said.

In other action, the TCLU decided to test the validity of a new Texas Tech regulation requiring all students, with a few hardship exceptions, to live in university dormitories.

Tech student leaders asked for the legal assistance, the TCLU said.

"TCLU considers its entry into the Texas Tech controversy to be a challenge of the denial of equal protection (of the law) flowing from that school's policies," the organization said.

Award To Paul Baker

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The seventh annual Margo Jones Award was presented Monday Paul Baker, managing director of the Dallas Theater Center.

The award, given each year to the theater or group who does the most in the nation for new plays, was presented by Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson at a ceremony before the city council.

The judging committee included playwrights William Inge, Tennessee Williams, Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee. Also on the committee were chairman Henry Hewes of the Saturday Review, Richard L. Coe of the Washington Post and J.B. Tab Adoue II.

Baker launched his 30th premiere play at the center Monday night with Paddy Chayefski's "The Latent Heterosexual."

TIPRO Votes Against Lease Plan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The import policy committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Association (TIPRO) voted overwhelmingly Monday against pressing to include independents in a set-aside share of federal offshore oil and gas lease offerings.

A select TIPRO panel had proposed that small operators be allowed to bid upon 10 per cent of the individual leases in the big federal sales.

The 10 per cent-bid plan had been produced by a subcommittee of TIPRO's conservation committee last December at the request of the Interior Department.

Vernon Frost of Houston argued that the plan would hurt the independents, and Bob Cargill of Longview called it "preferential treatment."

Michel T. Halbouty of Houston, vice president of TIPRO's District 3, told the imports committeemen that a campaign by the association for a statutory limit on oil imports would do irreparable harm to domestic production.

Halbouty said that writing the present 12.2 per cent imports ceiling into law would eliminate needed flexibility within the industry and that, "The fight should be concentrated on reducing federal controls instead of increasing them."

He repeated his earlier suggestion that the federal government set up a petroleum import controls board to advise the executive branch on import policy.

The TIPRO panel heard an analysis of the quota-bidding procedure it long has supported, a plan originally turned down by the government.

TIPRO president Nelum A. Steed and executive vice president W. Earl Turner said the plan is being considered again in Washington because of what they viewed as the "imminent breakdown" of the present import controls system.

Teddy's Book Is Policy Challenge

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., challenges America's containment policies towards China, U.S. military tactics in Vietnam and the rationale for a massive American military presence in Asia in his first book published today.

"If we look at what China has done, rather than what she has said, the portrait of a force hell-bent for trouble fades," Kennedy said in "Decisions for a Decade," published by Doubleday & Co. Inc.

"The kind of war we are fighting in Vietnam will not gain the long range objectives we have there," he said. "The widespread destruction we are creating will only make a workable political future for that country more difficult."

Military support for certain regimes in Laos, Korea and South Vietnam "has at times harmed, rather than promoted, our national interests," Kennedy said.

"We paid and trained their armies, and taught their police to put down demonstrations, apparently on the theory that it was more important for these governments to control the population than to serve it," he said.

To make our China policies more realistic, Kennedy said, we should "attempt a relaxation on our total trade embargo," bring China into arms limitation talks, increase cultural contacts, and work for her admission to the United Nations on equal footing with Formosa.

An alternative to search-and-destroy tactics in Vietnam, he suggested, is a military posture "designed to protect and hold areas of heavy population in order to maximize the safety and security of the Vietnamese people rather than to search out and destroy the enemy."

Kennedy reiterates his charges of "corruption and indifference among the rulers of Saigon."

"We should do all that is necessary to help the Saigon government prepare to take over its responsibilities, but if they are unwilling to do so, they should know that the American people, with great justification, could well consider our responsibilities fulfilled," he said.

"A review of Asia today shows no justification for American military intervention once the war in Vietnam is over," Kennedy said.

"If we expect our military presence to insure stability in Asia, we are deluding ourselves," he said.

"It is pure foolishness to think that disorder, a natural process of change, can be somehow stopped in Asia. It is equally foolish to confuse all such disorder with outside aggression or political subversion."

Asian nations, Kennedy said, "should be treated as self-sufficient equals, not as wards we must preserve from danger. As for the insurgencies which may come, they stem from causes far too deeply rooted for us to erase.

"It is, to put it bluntly, not our business to suppress these movements, especially if, when we do so, we simply secure these nations for the mandarins and the landlords," he said.

"Nor should the United States assume that its national interest is threatened because an insurgent movement adopts the 'communist' or 'revolutionary' rubric."

Zero Mostel's Dallas Play Criticized

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "The Latent Heterosexual' has some bright spots but the laughs after act one are mostly latent, wrote John Neville of the Dallas Morning News after the play's world premier Monday night.

Paddy Chayefsky wrote the piece, which was stated at the Dallas Theater Center. Burgess Meredith directed the Zero Mostel played the lead.

Mostel plays the part of John Morley, a writer who decides he has to do something about his sex and tax ways.

"Mostel is one of the funniest men on the American stage," Neville said, "But the play needs more than just a star to make it come off. Perhaps the trouble is that this is a one-joke blackout. After the joke is established, where do you go?"

Although the work is in two acts, Neville says it is "a very funny one-act play."

The story line has Morley being advised to leave his fey way and get married. He does, but to a high-priced call girl whose tax problems equal his sex difficulties.

"Thus we have the beginnings of a totally corporate man," Neville says. "He weds, divorces and eventually dies at the advice of his tax attorney."

Neville wrote: "The trouble is that Mostel and the comedy all happen in act one. The rest is simply tacked on."

Automatic Drilling Rig

BOWIE, Tex. (AP) — A new automatic oil rig is drilling its first well near here.

The rig, designed and built at a cost of several million dollars, is owned by Automatic Rig Co. of Dallas.

It is drilling in Montague County's Eanes Caddo Field, eight miles southwest of Bowie.

The rig will cut manpower from five to two. Everything is controlled electronically from a centrally heated-air conditioned truck trailer next to the rig. The operator can do every job by pushing a button.

Closed circuit television lets him watch as collars are connected at joints going into the hole.

One man is on the rig in a supervisory capacity.

Yarborough Sees LBJ Reelected

PRINCETON, N. J., (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. says he supports President Johnson despite the administration's policy on Vietnam.

Yarborough told some 100 Princeton University students Monday night that he felt Johnson would win reelection because the Vietnam issue was not big enough to fragment the party and that the President's domestic programs would win voters to his side.

Yarborough said he supported Johnson because of these domestic policies and added that it was well known that he opposed Johnson on Vietnam.

However, he added that Johnson might change his mind about escalation in Vietnam if people who favored de-escalation there backed some of Johnson's domestic policies.

"It's certain he won't change if they oppose him," Yarborough said.

The Texas Democrat added that he would not criticize Sen. Robert Kennedy or Sen. Eugene McCarthy for seeking the Democratic nomination for president.

"I don't think this will cause division among Democrats because they are working within the party. There is nothing harder on a party than a dull convention and this one sure won't be dull," Yarborough added.

IN GUBERNATORIAL RACE

Texas Issues Taking Shape

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While five Democratic candidates for governor were giving themselves titles Monday, two others, Dolph Briscoe and Don Yarborough, were taking a stand on some form of issue.

Briscoe said in Austin he was opposed to a state income tax and added the present tax base can meet the needs of the state.

In El Paso, Yarborough proposed the creation of a human resources development program.

Under his proposal a person could take tests to determine if he "has a skill or talent which could be better utilized or retrained or redirected."

Meanwhile, John Hill, Waggoner Carr, Edward Whittenburg, Preston Smith and Eugene Locke all bestowed titles of sorts upon themselves in speeches.

Hill, who Monday received the endorsement of the Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen for governor, said he would be the most "balanced governor" next year.

Carr declared he was the "only logical candidate for governor" and Whittenburg said he would be "a governor who knows how to promote all of the state."

Locke described himself as moving up in the race while Smith, now lieutenant governor, said he would be a governor to "see that every young person has opportunity for education beyond high school."

Speaking in Paris, Locke said that six weeks ago his name would not have been recognized by the average voter.

"Now it is clear that I have forged ahead into the group of front runners," he said, "because I have been advocating a definite program for the state, and not avoiding the issues like some others in the race."

Carr opposed in a Waco speech plans of the University of Texas to "spend $750,000 of taxpayers' money to build a private club with well-stocked bars for the faculty of the university."

He said this proposal has "now resulted in a demand of the students that beer be served them in their student union building."

Carr said that state colleges were built to educate, "not to waste taxpayers' funds ... or teach youngsters to drink."

Education was also the theme of Smith's remarks at Freeport. He called for an increase in the state's junior college system and for greater development of graduate schools.

In Houston, at a meeting of the Harris County Democratic Executive Committee, Monday night, Smith's name was pulled first in a drawing for ballot positions in the May 4 party primary election in the state's most populous county.

Whittenberg told Marfa supporters that the energies and talents of country people built the big cities o Texas.

On the national political scene, former Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater of Arizona said in Dallas that President Johnson will be renominated by the Democrats and that former Vice President Richard Nixon will be the choice of the GOP.

Gov. John Connally, also speaking in Dallas, said there was no real reason for Kennedy to run and added that the Johnson Administration's Vietnam policy was just the senator's excuse.

"He should understand our Vietnam policy," Connally said. "While his brother was President and he was a member of the cabinet, he said we should stay there and win."

Hearings On Liquor Laws Concluded

AUSTIN (AP) — A special House subcommittee has concluded its hearings on proposed Texas liquor law revisions. It promised to have its own recommendations ready by this year's special session.

Only if a large number of requests to testify are received will the committee conduct further hearings, chairman R. H. Cory, Victoria, said Monday.

The committee will make its report to the House State Affairs Committee from whose membership it was appointed. Cory also heads that committee.

"We will have our work complete by the date of the special session, but I don't know the date of the special session," Cory said.

Tom Thomas, Austin, attorney for the Associated Clubs of Texas, Inc., said the pool and locker systems for private clubs should be eliminated if liquor by the drink becomes law. He said private clubs would continue to thrive.

Thomas also said private clubs should be allowed to operate in dry areas, disputing a recommendation of Gov. John Connally that bottle clubs be outlawed where the people have voted an area "dry."

A new liquor control board ruling that prohibits so-called threshold guest cards has caused "quite a number" of private clubs in hotels to shut down, Thomas said.

Thomas suggested that new liquor laws require persons whose age is in question to sign affidavits they are 21 or over if they want to buy a drink.

"This would be evidence of the operator's good faith in intending to stay within the rules," he said.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — What form do I use to report a profit on the sale of my home?

A — Profits on the sale of a home should be reported on Schedule D, "Gains and Losses From Sales or Exchanges of Property." Taxpayers who filed this schedule with their return last year should find it included with the 1040 tax package they received in the mail.

Copies of Schedule D are available at many banks and post offices as well as local offices of the IRS.

Q — I owe a couple hundred dollars on my 1967 tax. Can I pay half of this when I file and the rest later?

A — No. The tax due must be paid in full when the return is filed.

Q — I drive to work every day and have several regular riders. Am I taxed on the money they give me to cover driving expenses?

A — Payments such as your describe do not have to be reported as income unless they exceed expenses.

Q — I am expecting a refund this year. Do I use the envelope that came in the 1040 package?

A — Yes. All returns calling for a refund should be sent to the IRS Service Center. Taxpayers expecting refunds but who do not have an envelope addressed to the Service Center should check page 10 of the 1040 instructions.

Q — I read in the 1040 instructions that unemployment benefits paid by a company are taxable. Does that include state unemployment benefits too?

A — No. State unemployment benefits are not taxable and do not have to be reported.

Q — Can you claim someone as a dependent if he does not live with you?

A — A person does not have to be a member of your household to be eligible as a dependent as long as he or she is a close relative.

Q — Where can I hire someone to help me prepare my tax return?

A — Call your local accounting, legal or tax practitioner association. They should be able to make a recommendation.

Q — I changed jobs last year and when I left my old job I collected what had been built up in my profit - sharing account. Is that taxable?

A — Yes. However, if you received the funds all in one year because you left the company, then the excess over your contribution could be taxed as a capital gain. Otherwise, report it as ordinary income.

Q — My company provides me with an expense account to cover costs while I am on business trips. Do I have to report this on my return?

A — This should be noted by checking the box at the bottom of Page 2 of Form 1040. If you account to your employer for these expenses and your reimbursement matches these expenses, then there is nothing further to report.

However, if your reimbursement exceeds your expenses, then the excess should be reported as income. If your expenses were greater than your reimbursement then you report the reimbursemnt and deduct the expenses. Details on expense accounts can be found on Page 7 of the 1040 instructions.

Q — Are lump sum Social Security payments taxable?

A — No. All Social Security benefits are tax exempt.

Q — Withholding covered my 1967 income tax. Do I still have to file a return?

A — Whether you owe additional taxes is not the determing factor. If your income was $600 or more, or $1,200 if you are 65 or older, you must file. If you have net earnings from self - employment of $400 or more you must file a return and pay self - employment tax.

House Panel Probes Role Of Protesters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities is probing an organization of federal employes who oppose the U.S. role in Vietnam.

The employe group, "Federal Employes Against the War," has circulated a petition protesting the war. A spokesman said Monday more than 900 workers have signed the petition and added the signatures are collected during off-work hours.

"If such a thing is going on within the government itself, the country should be advised of the facts," said Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., of the Committee on Un-American Activities.

Willis also said he is sponsoring a bill to give the President authority in time of war or armed conflict to suspend, and after a hearing, dismiss, certain government employes whose activities are judged to have increased the burdens or endangered the lives of U.S. fighting men.

Other war-related developments:

—Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., told newsmen in Los Angeles he thinks President Johnson might ask Congress for a declaration of war against North Vietnam.

"This would put the onus on the Congress to make a decision," Brooke said.

—The State Department said arrangements are being made to return 3 of 17 North Vietnamese sailors who have been held as prisoners of war since 1965. No reason was given for return of the three at this time.
