Need an official Texas highway map? You will have an opportunity to get one when you register your car this year. The Texas Highway Department in cooperation with the county tax-assessor-collector is again offering a free official highway map to each registrant through a postcard plan started last year. When you register your car you will be offered a return addressed post card. If you so desire, you may affix a two-cent stamp to the card along with your name and address and mail it to the Highway Department.

The map not only shows the 40,000 miles of state highways, but encourages everyone to "See Texas First" by presenting stories and pictures of Texas scenic and historical highlights.

Big news on Capitol Hill last week was the President's budget. In a nutshell, the budget request is for $85.4 billion in the next fiscal year beginning next July-by far the greatest outlay of any year since the Second World War.

Over three-fourths of this amount - $65.1 billion - has been earmarked for our armed forces, foreign economic and military aid, atomic energy and other items related to defense. The balance of $20.3 billion has been set aside in the budget proposal for running the Government, paying interest on the public debt and carrying out normal projects not directly connected with preparedness. In the latter category the figure is $1 billion below the amount being spent during this current year.

Of the amount proposed for the military, the Air Force will be provided with a 143-wing organization, but at a later date than General Vandenberg originally sought; The Army will be built up from 18 to 21 divisions; The Navy will get additional air power and perhaps more ships.

As against this proposed spending of $85 billion there is an estimated income from taxes of $71 billion - indicating a deficit of

T. S. & G. R. A. Directors Vote To Keep Trying For Good Bracero Law

The board of directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, meeting in special session at the Sonora Elementary School Tuesday morning, voted to continue their efforts to obtain a workable and acceptable solution to the Mexican import labor problem.

Over 100 members of the association gathered to hear a report from William B. Wilson and Ernest Williams, secretary, on their recent efforts to work out a solution in Washington. Wilson is chairman of the association's labor committee.

Members present went on record as opposing two sections of the latest version of the Walter Bill, the portion of the Senate immigration omnibus bill affecting the ranchers directly.

A long-distance call to Rep. O. C. Fisher in Washington following the meeting, however, disclosed that the present version of the Senate bill, under study now in the Senate Judiciary Committee, would be acceptable to President Truman.

In the latest version of the Senate bill the group objected specifically to the second and fourth sections.

The former would make it a misdemeanor to transport, "harbor or conceal," or encourage or induce the harboring or concealment of an alien in this country illegally. Anyone who did so "knowingly" or did so with "reasonable cause to believe" the alien was in the country illegally would be liable to fine and imprisonment under this section.

The group voted that the wording of this "harboring and concealing section" was too vague to be clearly interpreted.

They also opposed the fourth section which provided that a law enforcement officer "with reasonable cause to believe" that an illegal alien was being harbored or concealed in a specific place could swear out his own warrant to search any property other than a dwelling.

Penrose Metcalfe, San Angelo, assailed the provisions of this section as "repealing the Constitution by statute."

Members proposed that the so-called "Pickett Amendment," offered by Rep. Tom Pickett (D-Tex) be substituted for the objectionable section. This amendment would provide for a judiciary issuance of a search warrant rather than an executive issuance, and would require more than just "reasonable cause to believe."

In his attack on the objectionable features of the law Metcalfe drew applause with his declaration, "We're willing to go far enough that we'll oppose any contract or any agreement."

He was referring to the U. S. Mexico labor agreement which, in its present form, excludes ranchmen from contracting for Mexican national laborers. This agreement expires Feb. 11.

A special farm labor advisory committee to the Farm Placement Service met recently to discuss a new and more acceptable agreement. Wilson pointed out, however, that the two Texans on the special committee are both representing farm rather than ranch groups.

The association voted to shelve a proposed organization of ranchmen for the purpose of setting up a central ranch labor processing center in Eagle Pass. The organization as proposed would allow members to have their representative in Eagle Pass secure laborers by name.

Several objected on grounds that such an organization within the association would weaken it. Its proponents argued that the proposed organization could be entirely independent of the TS & GR A.

In their discussion of the labor agreements and the proposed congressional bills the members present made it plain that they were only seeking the same treatment more than $14 billion.

This is alarming. There will and should be some cuts made by Congress, now of all times - when the preponderant cost is becoming so burdensome, non-essential spending should be cut to the bone. At the same time the defense spending will be closely scrutinized with the view of trimming the waste and extravagance that keeps cropping up.

The big job at this session will be to use the pruning knife freely where it can be done without damage to our preparedness program. Many of us believe several billions can be cut by reducing personnel, duplications, waste and other nonessentials.

that other agriculture groups received.

They also reiterated a stand that they were not seeking any benefits for themselves that would be detrimental to the nation as a whole.

Wilson had explained that the immigration bills were aimed at illegal aliens in eastern and mid western states, many of them of a different nationality. The Texas "wetback" problem was actually a rather incidental outgrowth of the overall aim, he said.

The present immigration law, enacted in 1917, has been interpreted by the Supreme Court to lack any provision against the harboring and concealing of an illegal alien. Like the proposed law, however, it does prohibit the smuggling of aliens into the country.

Wilson called Sen Eastland of Mississippi, brother of Hi Eastland of Sonora, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, the association's "ace in the hole." In a telephone conversation with Eastland prior to Monday's meeting, Fred Earwood, Sonora warehouseman, said the senator had asked the association to send another representative to Washington to argue for specific points in the proposed bill.

John T. Williams, TS & GRA president, said he would send the representative if a check with Sen. Eastland proved one is needed.

Wilson had previously explained that the ranchmen were an extreme minority group in their fight. He estimated that even 80 percent of the members of the special farm advisory committee were against the proposals of the ranchmen.

He said that the ranchmen's problem of contracting individually for individual laborers was entirely foreign to everyone in Washington.

Williams was empowered at the meeting to make a survey of prevailing wage scales among ranch worker employees of members of the association. The present labor agreement sets a minimum wage at the prevailing wage level. The Mexican government has maintained that the level is $100 per month plus board. Members hoped to prove through the survey that the level was somewhere nearer $60.

Results of the survey will be used in the continued arguments over the labor problem.

What's going on in Sonora

Curbing on the Veteran's Memorial Park, mentioned in last week's News, started Monday morning. Construction work is being done by the R. and R. Construction Company of San Angelo. According to R. M. Garner, owner, the company came here to do only 1,000 feet of curbing, and has completed over 5,000 feet and has 500 more feet contracted for . . . Doc Scott at the Locker Plant has a new gadget he's very proud of. It's an electronic gimmick called a "Freshaire" which pervades the atmosphere in the meat room with ultraviolet rays, although no bulbs are used. The rays keep mould from forming on the meat . . . Speaking of improvements, the Telephone Company recently installed a 12-channel carrier, which, to you and to me, means we get two more long distance toll lines, thereby greatly aiding long distance service . . . L. P. Bloodworth has recently been elected secretary and treasurer of the American Cutting Horse Association, a national organization. Bloodworth is planning on getting into the newspaper business, since one of his duties is to edit the association's monthly newspaper. . . . Pat Lyles flew to Dallas for the day Wednesday . . . Several business deals are brewing in town and will be released next week . . . The rotary rig is about ready to move in on the Nasworthy 8,500-foot test on the T. W. Sandherr ranch . . . Work continues on the well on the Mack Cuthorn ranch. Chances for gas well are good after the well is acidized . . . Among our young friends in town this week were Carlene Peoples, Ethel and Darrell Alley, Zane Gardner, Bud Halbert Bobby Allen, Charlie Cusenbary, Jane, Neill Frank Bond, Max Murray and Wayne Ogden.

Mrs. W. A. Compton of Italy was here last week visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chenoweth.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - I intend to apply for an increase in my pension to $120 a month, since I'm so severely disabled that I need the regular aid and attendance of another person in order to get about. If the increase is granted, will it be retroactive to the date that I first got on BA's pension rolls?

A - No. If VA awards you the increase, it will become effective as of the date you filed your application.

Q - I'm a Korean veteran, hospitalized for a service-connected disability, and I'm now awaiting my final discharge. May I apply for vocational training available to Korean veterans?

A - Members of the armed forces hospitalized while awaiting final discharge may qualify for the training provided they meet all requirements. They may not receive subsistence payments, however, prior to actual discharge or separation.

Soil Conservation District News

News of Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District Prepared by Local SCS Personnel

Joe M. Vander Staucken, of the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District and Clay Holland, of the Upper Llanos Soil Conservation District accompanied Tom Darrow to Fredericksburg last Monday to attend the quarterly meeting of the Association of Hills County Soil Conservation Districts.

Paul Walser, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service and Louis David, State PMA Committeeman were the principal speakers on the program. The needs and the administration of permanent type Soil Conservation practices were discussed.

Lester Shroyer, cooperating with the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District was assisted by the Soil Conservation Service in making a topographic map of his irrigated land.

Shroyer is using a portion of his ACP payment for cedar eradication and the remainder for land leveling and reorganization of his irrigation system. The topographic map will be used to assist Shroyer in putting his borders on the level and constructing irrigation ditches. With this type of system, Shroyer will be able to make more efficient use of available water.

A conservation needs meeting will be held at 9:00 A. M. February 13, 1952 in the Court House. The purpose of the meeting will be to determine types and amounts of conservation practices needed in Sutton County. Everyone is invited to attend.

Sand dropseed is a perennial, warm season grass native to the Edwards Plateau area. The individual plant grows 1 1/2 to 3 feet tall, erect with a finely open seed head mostly covered by a sheath.

The grass produces a relatively large amount of forage; however, it doesn't produce as luxuriant a growth as does sideots grama, little bluestem, and other better grasses. While green, the grass is taken readily by livestock but only sparingly after it reaches maturity.

In the low rainfall areas of West Texas, this grass is truly a pioneer grass. It quickly encroaches upon overgrazed, and denuded areas particularly on sandy and "blow out" soils. The coarse, tough, fibrous root system accounts for its adaptability to the various soil conditions.

Texas Drouth Approaching 20th Month; Worst Since 1917-18

That Texas is suffering its worst drouth since the crop disaster years of 1917-1918, is the opinion of Louis P. Merrill, southwestern director of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. According to Merrill, the driest part of the state is around Dallas. The drouth is now in its 19th month.

Driest of all is North Central Texas from the Red River through Dallas and Fort Worth to Brownwood. "It's a spotted situation," explained Merrill. "Here and there are spots that get enough moisture, but for most of Texas the drouth's 19-month run is two months older than the disastrous dry spell that started in 1917."

"It is beginning to move, too, toward the length of the oft-talked-about drouth of 1886 lasted 23 months."

The soil chief described soil conditions in such Texas counties as Erath, Hood, Brown, and Comanche as being very critical. Just south of Dallas, large parts of Ellis County are bone dry, Merrill said.

The northwestern portion of Ellis County had only 16 inches of moisture in 16 months. The drouth story in Dallas County is the same except for local wet spots here and there. Merrill noted certain parts of South Texas have suffered from flood waters and said the Texas Panhandle is in the best shape of any area in the state. "The Gulf Coast area got some rain in September," he added, "but not enough."

On the High Plains, farmers are changing from wheat to cotton on thousands of acres and were planting large acreages of safflower and castor beans. The Panhandle's wheat acreage figures are changing radically as landowners battle the drouth.

"During February and March, 1951, you could drive from Texarkana to El Paso - all the way across Texas - without seeing any green grain fields. That meant no pasture for livestock."

"As a result stockmen built up a tremendous demand in Texas for hay, buying it at $45 a ton - plus transportation - from Oklahoma growers who in 1950 were glad to get $30 a ton."

What is the outlook for next year?

"There's no outlook at all until we get some rain," said the Soil

Services For Mrs. Stanley Held Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Stella Stanley, 72, pioneer Sutton County citizen, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist Church. The Rev. W. H. Marshall officiated. Interment was in Sonora Cemetery.

Mrs. Stanley died at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Hudspeth Memorial Hospital following an extended illness.

College Trained Farmers, Ranchers Have Larger Incomes, Report Says

Ever since there has been an agricultural college, people have been asking these two questions: 1. "Why go to college to learn to farm or ranch?"

2. "Why do agricultural graduates not go back to the farm?" For the first time an attempt has been made to find a reasonably accurate answer. That answer is contained in a bulletin of Texas A. and M. College entitled "A Study of the Agricultural Graduates of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas." Its author is Dean Charles N. Sheardson of the A. and M. School of Agriculture.

To ferret out the fact and figures, Dean Sheardson mailed a questionnaire in April, 1950, to the 4,702 A. and M. agricultural graduates whose current addresses were available. By Sept. 1 replies had been received from 1,927 graduates—about 41 per cent of those to whom the questionnaire was mailed.

The replies seem to constitute the best answers available to the age-old question. The answers are:

1. It is profitable to go to college to learn to farm. A. & M. graduates now engaged in full-time farming reported an average annual income of $8,450 as compared to the $2,800 average for all Texas farmers.

2. The majority do go back to the farm or ranch as owners or operators as soon as they can accumulate sufficient capital to make this possible. Of the group answering the questionnaire, 44.1 percent are farm owners or operators. The percentage is lower in the group of recent graduates and increases to 68.2 percent in the group who graduated before 1920. Not taken into consideration in the figures, but possibly having some significance thereto, is the fact that several of the courses offered in the School of Agriculture are not designed primarily to prepare young men for farming.

This is apparent from the list of courses offered: Agricultural administration, agricultural education, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, poultry husbandry, entomology, floriculture and landscape architecture, horticulture, range and forestry and wildlife management.

However, 78.5 percent of those included in the study are engaged in some phase of agricultural work or related business. Of this group 18.6 percent are engaged in full-time farming, 28.1 percent in full or part-time farming.

Forty-seven percent are engaged in professional agriculture, 12.9 in business related to agriculture and 21.5 in fields of endeavor unrelated to agriculture, including those serving in the armed forces.

Some 56.3 percent of the graduates included in the study still anticipate farm ownership or operation at some future time, while only 15.6 percent do not intend ever to farm.

More graduates have become farmers, or still intend to, than planned to do so at time of graduation.

Of the group which still anticipates farming 80.5 percent gave lack of capital as their reason for delay. Other reasons included military service and lack of experience.

The interval since graduation and the economic conditions at time of graduation appeared to have an influence in whether a man is now engaged in farming or related business, or in professional work. In general the longer the interval since graduation the larger the percentage now engaged in farming. The depression groups of 1920-24 and 1930-34 show somewhat lower percentages of farmers than those graduating in more prosperous years.

Those graduates who now are farming appear to be farming better than those in other occupations. While the average income of all agricultural graduates is approximately $6,000 per year, the average for the full-time farmers is $8,450.

The compares with an average income of $2,800 for all Texas farmers; $7,650 for those graduates who are land owners, including part-time farmers; $6,750 for those in non-related business; $5,900 for those in business related to agriculture, and $4,800 for those in professional agricultural work.

The graduates report their greatest hinderances to progress as being lack of capital, lack of experience and inadequate training and vocational indecision, in that order.

The greatest benefits received from their college training were listed as technical foundation, ability to find information, practical training and development of self-confidence.

A large percentage of the agricultural graduates of A. and M. College continue in some phase of agricultural, with more than two-thirds of them ultimately becoming farm or ranch owners or operators.

Ford's completely new 101-h.p. high-compression, low-friction Six, with free-turning overhead valves, is the most modern Six in the industry. And Ford's high-compression V-8, now 110 h.p., is the most powerful engine in the low-price field. Both are available with performance-proved Fordomatic Drive.

Out-rides them all!

The '52 Ford gives you riding comfort such as you have never before experienced in a car in the low-price field. With front springs tailored to the weight of each model, longer rear springs and diagonally mounted shock absorbers, Ford's Automatic Ride Control gives you the smoothest, easiest ride of them all—a level ride on straightaways, an even keel on curves.

Out-sizes them all!

The '52 Ford has longer wheelbase, wider front tread and greater length. It's big outside and big inside, with spacious seating for six and the largest luggage locker of them all.

Full-Circle Visibility!

With narrower corner pillars, picture windows all around and a rear window that's 48% larger you have "all-direction" vision that adds to your enjoyment and your safety.

You can pay more but you can't buy newer or better!

Exclusive Power Pilot Economy!

Both the new Ford Mileage Maker Six and the Strato-Stor V-8 have the exclusive Ford Automatic Power Pilot. This completely integrated carburetion-ignition-combustion system gives you high-compression "go" on "regular" gas.

New Coachcraft Bodies!

Ford's new Coachcraft Bodies are longer, stronger... distinctive in their modern beauty. They offer new hull-light construction which seals out dust, weather and noise. And Ford has more color and upholstery combinations than any other car in its field!

Out-values them all!

With such modern design and engineering features as new Flight-Style Control Panel, new Power-Pivot Clutch and Brake Pedals, new Center-Fill Fueling, and new counterbalanced hood and deck lid, Ford adds up to more dollars and cents value than any car in its price class!

Quick Cherry Shortcake

You can serve shortcake any day in the week, using these quick and economical Milk Toasted Bread Rounds. Fill and top with a colorful cherry sauce for cherry shortcake dessert.

That loaf of enriched bread you buy at your baker's can provide you with many delicious desserts, as well as toast and sandwiches. At a penny a slice, enriched bread is a most economical dessert ingredient. One dessert that is festive for February holidays, as well as for everyday eating, is Quick Cherry Shortcake. To make it, butter rounds of bread or bread squares, with crusts removed. Then dip rounds or squares into sweetened, vanilla-flavored milk and toast in the oven or under broiler. Thicken fruit sauce, and dessert is ready! Cherry Shortcake provides an ideal dinner dessert for a menu which includes beef stew, hot rolls and a green salad. Both bread rounds and rolls add important amounts of B-vitamins, protein and food iron for good health.

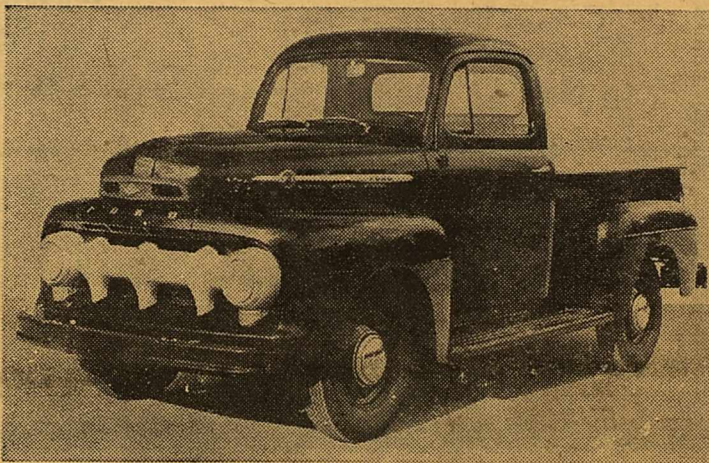

In addition to shortcake, use bakery enriched bread for bread pudding, custard bread pudding, fruit betty, and similar thrifty desserts.

QUICK CHERRY SHORTCAKE

12 slices enriched bread
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup milk
Fruit or fruit sauce

With large biscuit cutter cut rounds of bread from each slice of bread. Spread both sides of bread rounds with softened butter or margarine. Add sugar and vanilla to milk, mixing well. Dip each bread round into milk mixture. Place rounds on greased baking sheet and toast them, either in oven or under broiler. To serve, put two toasted bread rounds together, with sweetened fruit or fruit sauce between bread rounds and over top. Serve at once, while biscuits are warm. (If desired, the juice of canned fruits may be slightly thickened. Add 1 tablespoon cornstarch for each cup of fruit juice and cook until clear, stirring constantly.)

Makes 6 servings.

Ford Series F-1 pickup truck for 1952, with 5-Star Extra cab, is available with the 106-horsepower Ford V-8 engine or the completely new 101-horsepower Cost Clipper Six which is a high-compression, low-friction overhead valve power plant.

Ford Putting New Models On Display Today

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company today announced three completely new lines of Ford passenger cars for 1952. Featuring Coachcraft bodies and more powerful engines, the new models are scheduled to go on display at the Sonora Motor Company today.

There are a total of 18 models in the three new lines-eight in the Mainline series, seven in the Customline series, and three in the Crestline series.

Ford Mainline cars are for buyers chiefly interested in low-cost, dependable transportation," explained L. D. Crusoe, vice-president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of Ford Division. "The Customline models incorporate many special refinements and conveniences, and the Crestline series features three luxurious body styles.

"We are fortunate that our facilities, design and tooling programs were far advanced before the Korean crisis developed, and that we could bring these new models to completion without interference with the defense program. In the meantime, we have eagerly sought defense contracts and have taken on all the work the government has requested."

Ford's styling identity is preserved in the low-wide lines of the hood and front-end of the new cars, centering around a triple-spinner, air-scoop grille arrangement. The new cars have curved one-piece windshields and rear windows, and their body lines sweep backward from extended headlights along the hood and higher fender line to the jet-tube taillight sections.

Among the 1952 models are three completely new utility passenger vehicles, one for each of the three lines of cars. The Ranch Wagon in the Mainline series is a two-door, six passenger unit, with all-steel body. In the Customline, there is the Country Sedan, a four-door, eight passenger vehicle with all-steel body. In the Crestline is the Country Squire, another four-door, eight-passenger model, with wood trim over the steel side panels.

All three of the utility units are quickly convertible for light hauling tasks. The rear seat of the Ranch Wagon folds into the floor, and in the two four door models, the center seat folds into the floor and the rearmost seat is removable.

"Only Ford in the high-volume class offers both six-cylinder and V-8 engines, three transmissions, foam rubber padding on all passenger car seats, center fill gasoline fueling, suspended-type power pivot clutch and brake pedals and a dash-mounted master brake cylinder," L. W. Smead sales manager, said.

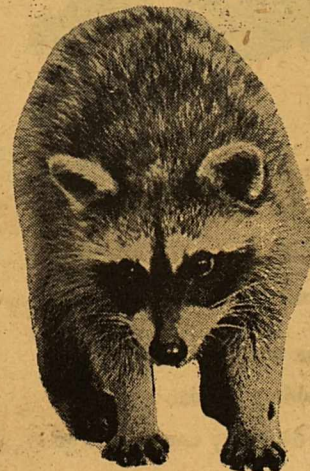

"A greatly increased use of safety glass makes our cars much safer to drive, and all four-door models have rear-door safety locks as standard equipment."

Smead said the Fords are more maneuverable and have a more comfortable ride because of new "tailored-to-model" springs, a

PRETTY EXPENSIVE !

Seems like a high price to pay for a pound or of porcelain, doesn't it? Yet that's just what it cost one co-op recently to replace an insulator broken by a very thoughtless fellow with a rifle and nothing else to shoot at. It took over 75 man-hours and 180 miles of line inspection to locate and repair the insulator.

The man who fired the shot just couldn't realize that he would cause all that trouble and expense. More important, he probably couldn't realize that the outrage his stupidity caused would work a real hardship on many consumers on that line.

And "hardship" doesn't just mean that those folks wouldn't have any lights. In the present emergency, farmers and ranchmen are depending more and more on electricity to help them do the job of producing the food and fiber that is needed.

Our job is to keep the farmers and ranchmen supplied with that electricity, and to extend service to farms not yet electrified. Please don't make us take time from that job to repair equipment that wouldn't be damaged except for thoughtless shooting.

We would like to ask every member of this community to do one thing: When you use a gun, use your head. Don't sabotage vital electric equipment.

YOUR HEALTH

More than 90 percent of all school age children in this country are fugitives from a dentist's chair, an official memorandum from the Governor's office points out.

In an effort to call attention to the fact that children's teeth are decaying six times faster than are being filled, Governor Allan Shivers has designated February 4, as Children's Dental Health Day in Texas. Texas' observance is part of a national program of children's dental health.

"Dental decay afflicts an estimated 90 percent of school-age children," the Governor wrote into the memorandum. "Dental health of our children should be a major concern of our community."

This will make the fourth year that state health authorities and private dental practitioners have teamed together to combat widespread dental deterioration of children's teeth. The Texas State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance.

One of the biggest hurdles to be overcome, program sponsors say, is the attitude that baby teeth are insignificant.

"They aren't," Dr. Geo. W. Cox crums as top layer. Bake at 350 Deg. F. until crumbs are well browned (30 to 45 minutes). Baking dish may be covered first 15 minutes. Serve with cream.

said. "Our dental scientists tell us that first teeth have a vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth."

The Governor's memorandum read: "The thought, attention, and efforts of those in the dental profession are concerned with preventive measures for children that they may be assured a substantial measure of lifelong dental health."

"The establishment of such preventive measures as fluoridation of public water supplies is encouraged by public health leaders as one of the dental profession's most powerful allies in improving the nation's dental health."

He appealed to "agencies, organizations, and individuals to mark the occasion" by calling public attention to the plight of youngsters' teeth.

"Out of thin air" comes the HIGHEST HORSEPOWER in Buick history

NOTE FROM YOUR BUICK DEALER:

Presented here is the story of a great new engine development, as told by the men who did the job. We reprint the story here in its entirety—as we couldn't beat it if we tried.

No, we didn't have to build a new engine. We took Buick's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which makes the most of high compression. We drew on 12 patient years of Buick carburetion research.

And we came up with more might, more miles, from gas—right out of thin air, in more ways than one.

When you talk about "miles per gallon" you think of fuel, because that's what you buy. But air's free—and for every gallon of gasoline, a busy engine can gulp more than 8,000 gallons of air.

The problem is to deliver air in the right proportions, throughout the full range of speeds at which you drive.

A carburetor—big enough to supply the air needed at full throttle—can be wasteful in stop-and-go driving. A carburetor sized for thrift in city traffic literally smothers your engine when you really give it the gun.

So Buick engineers developed the Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—and here's how it works.

Loading along, two barrels are working, two stay closed. And you get a low-speed thrill and smoothness that's out of this world. As you pick up speed, the "stand-bys" come into play—feeding not just more gas, but more air too—so you keep getting maximum power from each drop of fuel.

You have 170 effortless horsepower when you need it—a tremendous reserve ready to go into instant action at the nudge of your toe.

You have the satisfaction of knowing that you get this power with a frugal use of gas. At 40 you use less gas than you formerly used at 30.

That's the story of Airpower carburetion in facts and figures straight from the factory. But statistics can't tell you the breath-taking joy of heading for new horizons in a great-powered new ROADMASTER.

When can you do that? Better come in soon. Lots of other folks are flocking into our showroom these days to see the greatest array of new Buicks we've had in years.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Do you have
U. S. Series E Defense
Bonds maturing
this year?

Good news! A new law says now those bonds can keep on earning you interest up to 10 years longer —without your lifting a finger!

ARE you one of those wise and patriotic people who bought Series E Defense Bonds back in '41 and have held them the full ten years? Congratulate yourself! Because the new Bond Law, just passed by Congress, now makes them pay off even better than you had expected!

Now, without having to do a thing, you can let those bonds go on earning extra interest for ten years more.

Yes, now the bond which cost you $18.75 will pay you not $25.00 but $33.33! Your $37.50 bond will pay not $50, but $66.66. Your $75 bond will pay $133.33.
And so on.

To get this extra money, there's absolutely nothing you have to do. Just hold your bonds and let them go on earning interest for you.

If you wish, you may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for 60 days. But you'll be better off to hold your bonds, just as you're better off to hold savings in any form.

Cash in the pocket melts away fast—often with little or nothing to show for it. But cash in bond savings is always there—growing steadily toward the big sum which can buy something really worth while.

So if you have bonds coming due, why not take the wise course? Just sit back and let them go on making money.
And meanwhile keep adding to your cash savings by buying more U. S. Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-
A-Month Plan where you bank.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income
The new law also allows you to exchange your Series E
Bonds, in blocks of $500 or more, for Special Series G Bonds which pay interest semiannually at the rate of 2½% per year. For full details, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank.

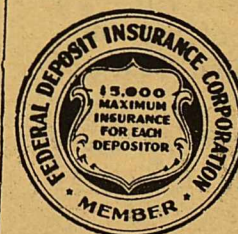

Look how your maturing bonds go on earning under the new law!
(This table shows $25, $50, and $100 bonds as examples of how ALL Series E Bonds grow.)
