City Council Candidates Speak Out On Issues

THE FIVE CANDIDATES seeking election to the Colorado City Council were offered the opportunity to express their views and opinions to the public in the Record. Their statements are listed below in alphabetical order.

Nina K. Crout

I am running for the City Council for three main reasons.

First, I am the third generation of my family to live in this town. My grandparents were the John Vaughan's and my parents are the Floyd Quinney's. It is home to me and I am sincerely interested in its welfare.

Second, I am not the type of person who can do nothing and be happy. I feel that serving on the council is a very worthwhile project.

Third, I have full time to devote to this position. See CROUT Page 9

Nina K. Crout

J.O. Dockrey, Jr.

I was born in Colorado City, I've lived here all my life and have no intention of ever moving. This was my father's home and it's my home. I've invested all my life's work in our town and I care a great deal about the future of Colorado City.

I'll work as hard as I can to help you and our community and I'll take whatever time it takes to do the job right. I'll be sure that I get all the information and all the facts to arrive at the best decision for your welfare. See DOCKREY Page 9

J.O. Dockrey, Jr.

Mac McKinnon

The reason I am seeking election to the City Council of Colorado City is that, as a member of this community, I feel an obligation to be of service. Because of my business experience and my knowledge of government and municipal finances, I feel that I can make a position contribution to the operation of our city.

For almost nine years, I have reported on the activities at our city hall, the achievements and efforts of our city as well as the problems. See MCKINNON Page 9

Mac McKinnon

J.M. Munoz, Jr.

I am J.M. (Jesse) Munoz, Jr. candidate for reelection to Colorado City Council.

I have enjoyed these 2 past years on the council and would like to represent the council and would like to represent you, the citizens, again. I have learned a lot about the way a city is run and would like an opportunity to apply this knowledge.

I believe that the main purpose of this position should be to work with fellow councilmembers in solving the city's various problems. Second- See MUNOZ Page 9

Otis Wise

I appreciate very much this opportunity furnished me by the Colorado Record to express my views on the government of our City.

I have seen before it would be a great honor to be selected to our City as Councilman, and if I am given the chance, I will serve to the best of my ability.

We all know that our city must have a source of revenue, and we are all aware of the many great things this revenue furnishes us. Police protection, our water, garbage disposal, etc., See WISE Page 9

Absentee Voting Ends On Tuesday

Local political races brought only a very few absentee voters to the polls as of Friday afternoon.

In the race for Colorado City Council, City Secretary Brenda Tarter reported only 12 absentee votes had been cast.

Five candidates are contenders for the three councilmen's positions which will come available.

Incumbent J.M. (Jesse) Munoz will seek reelection. Councilman Loyd Ledbetter and Mayor Marion Bassham have both declined to seek reelection. Other candidates in that race are Nina K. Crout, J.O. Dockrey, Jr., Mac McKinnon and Otis Wise.

Colorado Independent School District has currently received 13 absentee votes for the candidates in that race.

Three seats will be up for election this year. Incumbents Eddie Piland and Edward B.

Roach have both elected to run for reelection. Fleta Lewis has chosen not to run for reelection. Other candidates in that race are Mac Perkin, Coleen Palmer and Dr. Pat Thomas.

The Mitchell County Hospital District has reported. See VOTE Page 2

Plumbers Meet At City Hall

A group of master licensed plumbers and lumberyard managers met with City Manager Ray Mason Thursday to discuss a city ordinance which requires all major plumbing work done within the city to be accomplished by master plumbers.

The ordinance stated that each person making alterations, new installation or replacement. See CITY Page 3

County Entomologist Bill Jany is seeking a standard late planting date from Mitchell County farmers as a means of helping control boll weevils.

Jany, during a pest management meeting Tuesday night, showed by using graphs that late planting helps starve our weevils.

It is hoped that all Mitchell County cotton producers will get together on this matter and reach an agreement that will help limit the number of weevils here.

Jany's plan makes sense. It is unfortunate that more people didn't attend Tuesday night's meeting. There were some 120 people in attendance including cotton farmers and their wives.

The information he presented made a great deal of sense. The late planting idea is being and has been used in other counties and it has worked so it is not a new or radical idea.

Interest rates have reached unheard of heights because of government action. One of the main reasons for this is that the government is having to pay high interest for money and it pushes up the rest of the rates as it goes.

As a result, more money is now going into government treasury bills and into certificate of deposits. In order to pay these interest rates, lending institutions must charge higher rates on loans.

President Carter has gone to great lengths to limit credit. The high interest rates should just about do it. See COLUMN Page 3

Bank Is To Hold Contest

City National Bank of Colorado City is sponsoring a contest that urges everyone to stand up and be counted in the current census.

The contest involves guessing the population of Mitchell County as revealed by the census which will be announced later this year. The contest will continue until the census count is announced.

The prizes for the winners will be a $100 savings bond with initial interest. See BANK Page 3

Late Planting Date Suggested

The first annual Mitchell County Pest Management Bar-B-Q was held Tuesday with more than 120 producers attending.

County Entomologist Bill Jany presented a program on the boll weevil in Mitchell County.

"Because of the potentially high boll weevil population in Mitchell County, cotton producers are being asked to plant their cotton after May 19," Jany stated.

"By planting cotton after that date, they will be able to starve the pests to death," he noted.

As many as 95 percent of the boll weevils emerging from overwintering quarters appear at that time. The weevils will See LATE Page 2

Thespians To Hold "Picnic" Auditions

Auditions for the next Colorado City Playhouse production "Picnic" will be held Monday and Tuesday.

Tryouts will be held at the Playhouse, 337 Walnut Street at 7 p.m. Any interested person is encouraged to participate.

"It is not necessary to be a member of the playhouse to audition," Secretary Carl Beery Moore said.

"Picnic" is an action drama. It takes place in the joint backyards of two small town women.

The story revolves around a young man with "animal magnetism" who has neither polish nor promise but manages to upset the group of women who live in these houses. One woman has an invalid mother and the other has two maturing daughters and a boarder who is a spinster school teacher. The cast includes See PLAY Page 2

Census Workers Are Still Needed

April 1 is Census Day for the United States of America. From the eastern-most tip of Maine to Hawaii's most westerly island; from Alaska to Key West, Florida, it is the day for all Americans to be counted.

Personnel are needed to help out with the census.

About 15 persons are needed for a three to six week period. This is for full and parttime work. Those persons employed will be paid $1 an hour and will receive 18 1/2 cents per mile.

Everyone interested is asked to go to the Mitchell County Courthouse county courtroom on the second floor at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 1.

This is the day every household should fill out their census questionnaire, and in this area they should mail it back in the brown, postage-paid envelope provided.

Everybody must be counted. You are your own census taker. Fill out your census form, mail it, and count yourself into America's grand population total.

Two Tornadoes Strike County

Two tornadoes, which ripped through open pasture land on the Spade Ranch south of Colorado City, brought the civil defense programs currently being considered by local officials into real focus Thursday.

"Our main area of concern is in communications," School Superintendent Charlie L. Uselton said.

Assistant Police Chief Jerry Cowin reported news of the approaching bad weather had come in over the teletype service about 11 a.m. Thursday.

He immediately contacted City Manager Ray Mason's office to inform him of the impending bad weather.

Mason's office contacted Uselton.

Uselton contacted each of the four schools' principals with the information. Police units were stationed on the outskirts of town to watch the cloud See CLOUD Page 9

Cotton Harvest Nets About $24,000,000

Cotton Gins in Mitchell County have finally ground to a halt with a total of 92,988 bales of cotton having been processed in the longest and largest harvest ever witnessed in the county.

The total Mitchell County harvest figure is estimated to be 86,688 bales however, with only 65 percent of actual yields reported to date, this figure could vary slightly.

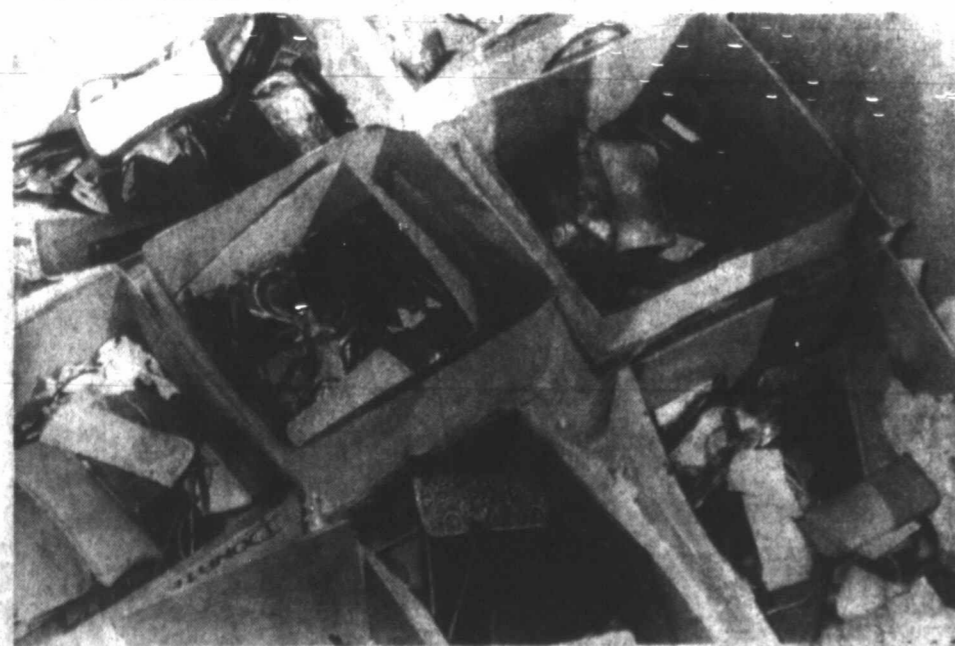

The cotton market price began this season at about 53 cents a pound. It fluctuated on and off over the past five month periods. It peaked at 70 cents and is reported at 50 cents presently.

An average selling price for Mitchell County cotton has been estimated to be about 53 cents. Using this figure, an average bale of cotton is selling for $280. This indicates $24,000,000 induced into the county's economy.

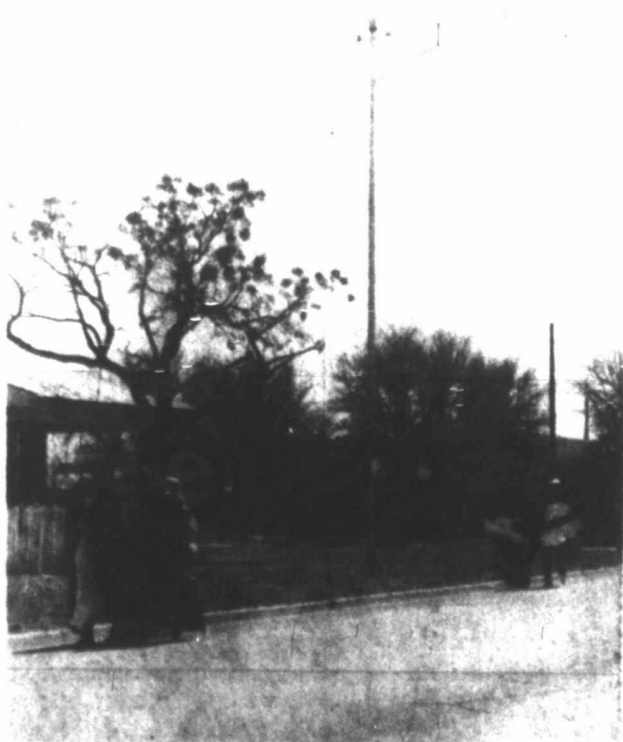

"The economy in Mitchell County is very healthy as compared to other areas in the state. This is directly attributable to the cotton harvest," Bobby Lemons, vice-president of the City National Bank, reported.

The following final bale count figures were reported by area gins:

- Buford Co-Op, 12,853 bales.
- China Grove Co-Op, 12,600 bales (6,300 of these bales were estimated to have been produced in Mitchell County).
- Colorado Gin, 4,951 bales.
- Farmer's Gin, 7,243 bales.
- Co-Op Gin of Loraine, 19,000 bales.
- Mitchell County Gin, 12,059 bales.
- Westbrook Gin, 10,057 bales.
- Producers Co-Op Gin, 14,225 bales.

GLASSES AND MORE GLASSES have been collected from Mitchell County residents by the Colorado City Noon Lions Club to be distributed to needy people in foreign countries. This is one of the projects of Lions International.

Incumbents Bob Reily and T.C. Moore have chosen to run again. Murrell Blasingame resigned from the board to run for the office of County Commissioner. Other candidates for the three seats in that race are Bobbie Steakley, Frances Deregrubus and Carroll (Bud) Hull. Loraine City Hall reports no absentee votes have been cast for the two seats to be vacated by incumbents Roy Holland and Doris Henderson, who have chosen not to seek reelection to the City Council.

Candidates for those slots are Claud Woods and Eddie Galvan.

Loraine School system reports no absentee votes have been cast for the two positions which will be available on that board.

Incumbent James D. Clifton will seek reelection. Incumbent Hubert Meadows had declined to run again.

Other candidates in that election are Stanley Moore and Eddie Galvan.

Westbrook School system reports two absentee ballots have been cast for the candidates in that election.

Four seats on the board will be listed on the ballot. All four incumbent members of that board have chosen to ask for reelection.

Candidates as they will appear on the ballot are incumbent E.A. Oden, incumbent W.D. Conaway, Jr., incumbent Don Burnett, incumbent Cleburne Rich, Bill Sweek and Donnie Hale.

Westbrook City has no candidates for the city council and reports no absentee votes have been cast.

Write-in candidates will be elected.

PLAY. From Page 1 parts for four men and seven women and will be directed by Gwen Wistrand of Roscoe.

Men's roles include: Hal Carter, the young vagabond in his twenties; Bomber, a teen-aged paper boy; Alan Seymore, a suitor in his twenties and Howard Bevins, a friend who is middle-aged.

Women's parts include: Madge Owens, a beautiful girl about twenty; Millie Owens, who is sixteen; Flo Owens, the girls' mother about forty; Rosemary Sidney, a spinster about forty; Helen Potts, a neighbor, middle-aged; Irma Kronkite, a middle-aged school teacher and Christine Schoen-walker, another middle-aged school teacher.

"Age is not important in trying out for these parts. Makeup and acting ability can compensate for any difference," Mrs. Wistrand said.

The production is tentatively scheduled for performances during the first two weeks in June.

LATE. From Page 1 starve and not be able to lay any eggs because susceptible cotton squares (one-third grown) will not be present when the peak number of boll weevils emerge.

Boll weevils begin emerging in small numbers in late April and early May. The peak number of weevils emerge during late May or early June, Jany noted.

Since the average cotton plant takes about 35 days to produce susceptible squares in which weevils lay eggs, Jany said, cotton planted after May 19 will not produce these squares until June 15, well after the peak boll weevil emergence.

Many other counties in the Rolling Plains have used a late planting date with much success, Jany noted.

They include Fisher, Jones, Scurry and Runnels Counties.

"As many producers as possible must participate in planting their cotton after May 19 in order for the program to work," Jany said.

Jany indicated the most important problem producers will have to consider when deciding to plant after May 19, is their soil moisture. If they have the moisture level early in May, they will be hard pressed not to plant.

However, he said, if a producer will consider the amount of economic damage a high boll weevil population could cause, they might reconsider planting in early May.

"I would like to see the producers make an effort to manage the weevil this season because it is at a point where it can be managed easily by planting late. It could produce a severe damaging population for the following year if no effort is made," Jany stated.

A general discussion of late planting took place after Jany's talk.

Also during the dinner, a plaque was presented to D.M. Smith for his contributions to the pest management program.

Jany also discussed the anticipated grasshopper and flea hopper situation in Mitchell County.

THE KINGLY MESSIAH
Rev. David Feathers,
Pastor
Payne Chapel C.M.E. Church
(Matt. 21:1-11... I Sam. 8:10-22)
When our King made his triumphant entry into Jerusalem riding on a colt across scattered palm branches on the first Palm Sunday, the crowd went before and after Him shouting "Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest."
When we sing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," we are saluting the Kingly Messiah. Yet, what a strange king He is. Most kings are born among the rich and the powerful, but the Kingly Messiah, the King of Kings, was born among the poor. He crept up the back staircase of Bethlehem into time and entered humbly through the servants' entrance into history. He was baptized by a rustic character called "John, the Baptist" in the desert in Judea. Misunderstood by His family, betrayed by a friend, arrested by Roman soldiers, beaten by an angry mob, smitten in His side, He was violently put to death by crucifixion on Calvary. He died in severe agony and was buried in a borrowed tomb. What kind of king was this? He was the "Kingly Messiah."
He was surrounded by the poor and the common people who travelled with Him from Galilee to Judea. These people were not high class aristocrats, the proud or the mighty. They were the weak, the oppressed, and the low class peasants. Their chief joy came from being in the company of Jesus. They formed an entourage to accompany Jesus to the Holy City. As they came near the site and stood on the Mount of Olives overlooking Jerusalem in its domed splendor, they suddenly proclaimed Jesus as their King. It mattered little to them that Jesus had none of the traditional and customary vestiges of royalty, or that Jesus said, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath nowhere to lay his head." These people were not hung up on material appearances for they had discerned a spiritual presence.
They lifted up their King and placed Him on a donkey. Some took their garments and laid them on the ground in homage to their King. Others cut down palm branches and laid them in the pathway to catch the footsteps of the King's donkey as he brought His Majesty into the vicinity of the many splendors of Jerusalem. They stowed His path with nature's living brilliance, and so laid a fresh green carpet of new hope and abounding love and joy. To those who were in the higher echelones of society, it was a contemptuous and pitiful sight to see these half-dressed humble folk rallying around a lowly Nazarene as He made His triumphant entry into Jerusalem. Although the high and the mighty viewed it with contempt, it was really a glorious occasion. These faithful followers of Christ fully believed that the power of the world was not in the hands of Caesar, but in the hands of the Man from Galilee, who took them with Him in His stride toward destiny.
Oh! That is why God loves those who are not too high and mighty to shout and lift up the name of the Lord and are never ashamed to own Jesus anywhere. They cry out aloud in honor of their King of Kings. I am proud to be numbered among them.
Present day followers of Christ, who have the same kind of faith that prevailed when the multitude accompanied Jesus on His triumphant entry into Jerusalem, are telling us that "we, who have been touched by His power, lifted by His love, and saved by His grace, ought to lift up His name with such enthusiasm that someone will be compelled to ask, 'Who is this?'" "I believe that we are sometimes too cool, quiet and timid in our Christian witness of the "Kingly Messiah." I am not ashamed to own the Lord, to defend His cause, and maintain the honor of His word and the glory of His cross forever and ever.

 school policy of having been "an individual or firm in business with a downtown office for five years."
 Pete McKinney, representing the Godsey Insurance Agency, told the board that the Godsey agency represented a firm that had been in business with a downtown office for more than 40 years as it was G.D. Foster Insurance before it was purchased by Godsey almost three years ago.

 The board agreed that Godsey Insurance met the school's policy.
 The board also heard from Agents Charles Godwin of Elliott-Godwin and Bob Ratliff of Ratliff Insurance as they contended that insurance matters should continue to be handled as they have in the past.

The board is now seeking bids from eligible agents.
 For many years, the school has let all of the eligible agents who wanted to participate to develop an insurance program and then they split the business.

This is very important for each agency, Godwin pointed out, and he and Ratliff noted that the agents have strived to give the best of service and coverage at the lowest possible prices.

When asked by Board Vice President S.L. (Mac) Morris if putting the insurance up for bids would result in lower costs for the school, Godwin said he didn't believe it would.

The board voted earlier this month to ask for bids with the agent having the lowest bid getting the school's business.

Board President Tom Rees pointed out to the insurance agents that a survey of other school districts showed that about 50 percent ask for bids for their insurance and since it now involves so much money the board thought they might be able to save money by taking bids.

The bids are to be opened at the board's regular April meeting, April 14.

 ment or existing services is required to have a permit from the city and an inspection must be made by the state licensed inspector (Buzz Rich, city water superintendent).

All work must be done, supervised by or under the immediate control of a master plumber.

Mason noted there had been several violations of the ordinance recently and charges have been filed by the city in one instance.

Violation of the ordinance is a Class C misdemeanor punishable by a fine of from $5 to $200 under state law.

The ordinance was established in 1975 and provided for a jail term but the state has changed the classification of the violation since that time.

Mason noted the ordinance would be brought before the city council during the next regular meeting to be updated.

Mason also noted the plumbers and lumberyard managers will meet again with a representative from the state examiner's board for plumbers and electricians in the future to clarify several questions about the state law and southwestern building code.

"This law is established for the protection and health of citizens. Citizen's hiring the work done are responsible for checking to see if these individuals have a license. The city will also be checking all work, electrical or plumbing, to see if a proper permit has been issued," Mason said.

Commissioners To Hear Report

County Commissioners are scheduled to meet with Frank Deregis Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the County Courthouse.

During the meeting, Deregis will report on the results of his conversations with General Motors Corporation in regard to three dump trucks purchased by the county from Frank Motor Company.

All three trucks are not currently being used to haul loads due to what commissioners believe to be faulty spring systems.

One of the three trucks is inoperable due to transmission problems. It was taken to Snyder for repairs where it set for several weeks and was not repaired.

The truck was transferred to a GMC Dealership in Abilene last week in an effort to have the necessary work done sooner.

But, it seems this will do a lot more to hurt than it will to help.

In the first place, government spending as well as borrowing is one of the main catalysts for the fire of inflation. Now, because of high interest rates people can earn with their money, it will be more lucrative for them to put it into treasury bills and certificates of deposit than it would be for them to put it into the stock market, or business or industry.

Because of this, people will no longer use their money to start or expand businesses or industry as they can get a higher return on what money they have by putting it in treasury bills or certificates of deposits and without risks.

People in business and industry could borrow the money, but at the current high interest rates, it places the costs of doing business on borrowed money at almost prohibitive levels.

So now the government has made things even more difficult for people in the middle class. With food stamps and welfare, the government has taken away the incentive to work and with high interest rates, they have taken away the incentive to invest in business and industry.

 To escape all the troubles of the present, it seems like people are turning back the clock to enjoy pleasures of past years.

It seems the 1940s are the vogue now as women's fashions are somewhat like the forties with the split skirt, the padded shoulders in jackets and many hair styles.

Also, the big band sound that was so popular in the forties is back. On top of that, a number of singing groups are giving renditions in the grand style of the forties.

I guess you could say those were the good old days.

Chamber Comments

By Starr Greenblatt, Chamber Manager

"Enthusiasm is the greatest asset in the world. It beats money and power and influence."—Henry Chester.

Personally, I don't know who Mr. Chester was, or is, but what he says makes a great deal of sense. Enthusiasm can make things brighter on a cloudy day, bring a smile to an unhappy face, and make getting up in the morning worth the effort. It can also keep people going when nothing seems to show it's worth the trouble.

Without enthusiasm you can spend an entire day waiting for the phone to ring—instead of doing the calling; waiting for the door to open—instead of making a visit; and being miserable about what isn't happening—instead of doing something positive. Nothing can do more to make a Chamber Manager's day than calling a volunteer worker and hearing enthusiastic talk about a current project; excitement about a meeting that has just ended; or interest over a proposal to be made. The members of the Colorado City Area Chamber and the people of the community have enthusiasm in abundance—and you can be proud of it.

One of the biggest problems faced by other Chambers and communities, both large and small, is apathy. Directors that don't attend meetings, committees with only 2 active members, and a community attitude that says generally, "I'm not interested, and I don't care." This is one battle Colorado Citizens don't have to fight. Other communities, located near large metropolitan areas, don't really have to put forth an effort in order to grow—it will just come naturally. What you have accomplished in Colorado City can be attributed to the hard work, enthusiasm, and caring of your community leaders and the concerned citizens in your community.

You have a community you can be proud of because you made it so; you have progressive effective leaders because you have shown the interest and taken the time to make them leaders; you have a past to be proud of and a future that is bright because you, and the people before you, are, and were, willing to work to make Colorado City what it was, is, and will be. Enthusiasm and success go hand and hand. Hats off to the people of Colorado City! The best is yet to come.

Appraisal Meeting Is Set

A meeting of the Mitchell County Appraisal District will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Curriculum Center Room of the Colorado Independent School District.

The couple will be united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. on June 21 in the United Methodist Church in East Bernard.

The bride elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. N.S. Cerniglia and the late Mr. Cerniglia of Greenville, Miss. and the late Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Brewer of Avon, Miss. She is a graduate of Mary-Hardin-Baylor College in Belton and a member of Historical Phila Society. She holds a B.S. Texas Industrial Week

MARCH 30 - APRIL 5

Activities and events highlighting the involvement of business and industry in community affairs are planned throughout the state.

Year after year there are more and more industrial facilities expanding. These very industries have taken a positive attitude towards Texas, allowing all Texans to continue to enjoy a high standard of living with one of the lowest unemployment rates in the country.

A Salute To Industry

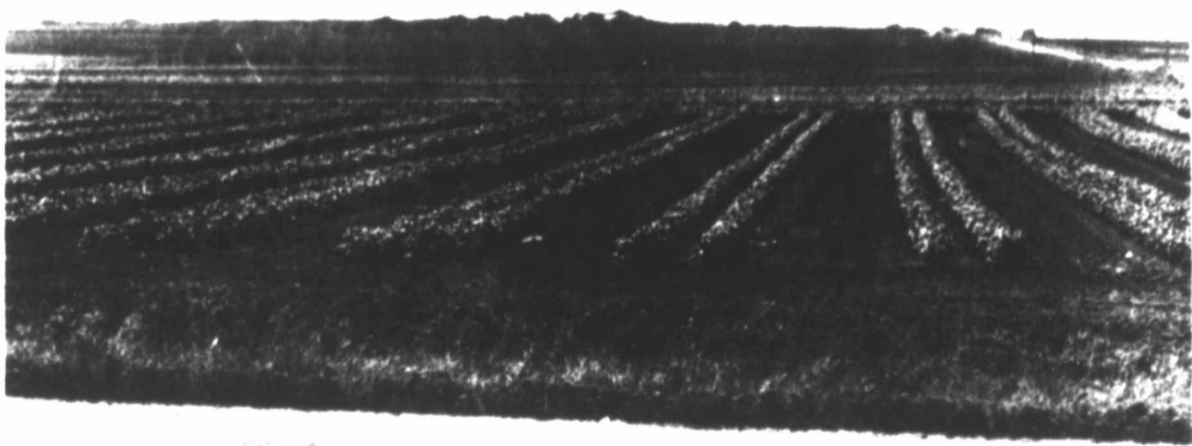

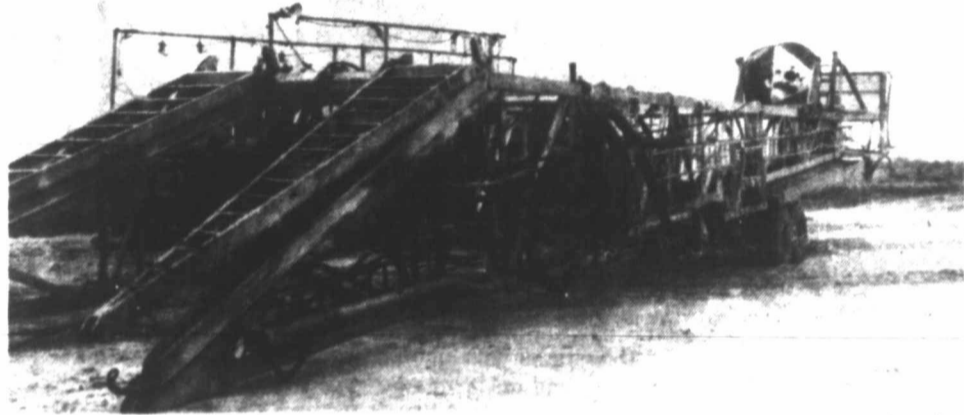

Communities throughout the state will honor Texas business and industry the week of March 30 - April 5.

This is the 29th annual salute to Texas business and industry, providing an opportunity to recognize the contributions that business and industry make to state and local economies.

Texas Industrial Week was established in 1951 by a concurrent resolution of the Texas Legislature.

Industry is the backbone of the economy and a diversified industrial base has made Texas less susceptible to problems caused by the recession and shortages.

Texas Industrial Week is the perfect opportunity to honor one of the state's most important resources -- industry.

A Lake Champion resident telephoned Mason's office to report a tornado on the ground at the lake.

Cowin dispatched a unit to the Sterling City Highway and he personally went to Highway 208 to watch for the approaching storm.

As residents of the lake fled from the storm, Cowin was assured there was a tornado on the ground and immediately contacted the police dispatcher with instructions to contact Uselton and inform him of the tornado.

Uselton then contacted the principals at each of the four schools with that information.

"When the actual tornado was sighted, it was at the worst possible time," Uselton said.

He explained the young children at Kelley Elementary School were being dismissed and had begun to board the busses to be taken home.

One bus had already left the school and was enroute with a load of children, he noted.

The children were removed from the remaining busses and taken back into the buildings.

"Each school has its own civil defense plan, whereby children are moved into the most secure parts of the building, usually a hallway away from glass and windows," Uselton said.

The radio station was contacted by the school system and parents were informed the Kelley students were being held until the immediate danger had passed.

"By that time the storm had passed, the telephone lines were completely tied up and then went out of order. Calls could come into the office but we could not call out," Uselton said.

He drove to the schools to inform the principals the danger had passed.

Uselton noted he is currently working on a civil defense plan which includes unlisted telephone numbers or two way radios to help alleviate the problems which arose during the storm.

"Parents should be made aware that the school buildings are one of the most secure places the children could be in the event of a tornado," Uselton commented.

He noted the children are trained and drilled in what to do, how to react and where to go if a tornado is eminent.

"The best thing parents can do at that time is to stay off of the streets and off of the telephones," Uselton said.

"They can turn on their radios and we will keep the station informed," he said.

After the storm has passed, children will return to their classrooms unless a tornado has hit the immediate area. If they are dismissed the information will be given to the public through the radio.

Young children at Kelley Elementary

School will be held at the school until parents come for them if they are not normally bussed.

If a tornado hits one of the schools, the first thing the superintendent's office will do is to go to that area to help the injured. Trained school nurses and staff members will be on hand to help.

Uselton will take part in the Tornado Seminar scheduled for Monday at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center.

I think that the majority of the taxpayers money should be spent on projects that benefit the biggest portion of our citizens.

Such projects as streets, water, sewer and sanitation should have priority over our airport and lake because they are used daily by almost everyone.

However, when funds are available these secondary projects should be considered. For the first time since I've been on the council, we have allocated some funds for improvement to Ruddick Park.

I would like to see this facility brought to its fullest potential, with the gas situation, I think we need to improve our local recreation areas, such as the park and Lake Champion.

When I first came on this council, we were in a deficit, which we have come out of now.

I will work to keep us in the black and hopefully be able to come up with a budget that won't require an increase in service rates and taxes every year.

I will appreciate your support on April 5 but regardless of your choice, come out and use your vote.

I have endeavored to work closely with our city's leaders during that time in finding and implementing solutions for problems as well as reaching goals that our citizens have wanted.

As editor and publisher of the Colorado City Record, I come in contact with and talk with many city residents. I hear what you have to say and what you want for our city.

I have a reputation for being conservative financially, and I believe that outlook is needed in view of the problems faced by our city. With inflation, these are very trying times and financial problems must be dealt with firmly. The city must get as much as possible for every dollar spent.

I also have a reputation for being outspoken. It is my belief that problems must be attacked. They won't disappear while we're looking the other way, nor will these problems be any easier at some later date.

Your vote and support for Mac McKinnon for the City Council of Colorado City will be appreciated.

I would like to take this opportunity to urge everyone to vote in the city council election as well as all the other elections this year.

Like you, I'm a taxpayer also, and I don't want higher taxes any more than you. I'm against unnecessary expenses. A budget that has unnecessary expenses in it, calls for higher taxes and higher charges for water and sanitation to support it. I believe in cutting expenses to the bare essentials only, so that our taxes and water bills will be no higher than absolutely necessary.

I'm in favor of getting more for our money, that's the best way to fight inflation.

As your councilman, I'll want to represent you. I invite you to tell me your opinions, your ideas or your recommendations, for that's the way I'll learn what you need.

If you have problems, I'll help you with those problems. You can call me at 728-2542 or 728-2610 or write me at Box 236. Let me know how I can help you. Vote for J.O. Dockrey Jr., at City Hall, Saturday, April 5th, and I'll be your voice on the city council.

but I do believe when we start looking for ways to obtain our cities money, we should take a long look before we place a greater burden on our senior citizens than they already have.

If I am elected to serve on the Council, I will work hard in trying to lighten their burden.

The next Council will need to give our streets a lot of concern. If we had received what we had paid for in the last few years our streets would be as smooth as velvet.

Everyone who has ridden or driven on our streets know the pot hole conditions they are in.

I worked a good many years for the State Highway Maintenance Department, and I feel I have a good working knowledge in what our streets need, and how it should be applied.

If you elect me I will do my very best to see you will not be disappointed.

I feel that I am the type of person who should run for a civic office.

I have to no axe to grind and I think that is good. So many times, a person who does, has their mind made up before hearing the facts and understanding the whole picture.

So many people have called and asked me how I stand on a certain issue. How can I answer until I have studied all the information pro and con, on the matter?

If you elect me as one of the Council Members, I do promise to voice my opinion, and stand up and be counted when it is time to vote.

I will also try to be available for any discussion on any issue that you feel is of importance to you.

I ask for your support and vote on April 5th.

Noon Lions Club To Begin Search For Local Talent

Four twenty-five dollar cash prizes will be awarded at the First Annual Mitchell County Talent Show to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 10 at the Colorado High School Auditorium.

The talent show is being sponsored and produced by the Colorado City Noon Lions Club. Lion Carl Moore will direct the talent show; assisted by Cecile Hubbard, wife of Lion Chris Hubbard. He will be the technical director.

Auditions for the event will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 7 and 8 in the C.C. Thompson Room of the City National Bank Annex. The auditions will be held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. each night.

There will be four divisions in the contest:

Division I is for six to eight year olds (children under six may enter in this category), Division II is for nine to twelve year olds, Division III is for thirteen to sixteen year olds and Division IV is for persons seventeen and older (there is no age maximum in this division). Individuals must be within their age group on May 10.

The top five entries in each division will be selected from the auditions to perform in the talent show. One alternate in each division will be selected also.

Divisions I and II will audition from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. each night and Division III and IV will audition from 8 p.m.-10 p.m. each night.

There is no limit to the number of performers in an act, however the performers must perform in the specific talent in which they audition. The audition piece does not have to be the same piece used in the performance; only the type of talent must remain the same.

Each act must supply their own accompaniment for both the audition and the show. The producers will provide a piano, a record player, a cassette player an eight-track tape player and a reel-to-reel tape player. The contestants must supply the pianist or recording.

Entrants must be amateurs (never have been a professional entertainer or a professional instructor of a talent) and must be a resident of Mitchell County.

The Lions Club urges all talented amateurs to come to the auditions and join the fun; and take a chance at winning twenty-five dollars!

Kathy Anderson Wins First Place In Soil Conservation Essay Contest

The following is the essay that won Kathy Anderson first place in the Essay Contest by the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation Service.

For forty years, the Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Texas have worked hard to preserve our land and our water. They have encouraged local people to think seriously about their environment. The Indians left us a heritage of natural resources, and with the help of the Soil and Water Conservation District we can still maintain these natural resources. However, we must try and cooperate if we are to succeed.

The Soil and Water Conservation Districts have made much progress during the years. They have helped our land to be prosperous and our water to be purer and more efficient. These developments have helped not only our lives, but have also helped the population of fish, fowl and deer to prosper. Our crops are more productive and our livestock are of better quality.

Without conservation, our soil and water will be ruined with neglect.

Conservation concerns are erosion, contour farming, flood prevention, and watershed protection. Land preservation can be accomplished by crop rotation. Many new methods have evolved and the Soil and Water Conservation Districts have come a long way with them.

The conservation of soil and water are very important, for these elements are our foundation of our future and without them we cannot prosper. As the Bible states, "We reap what we sow," and if we do not take care of our resources, we will not have anything to reap.

The soil and water on this earth are the only soil and water we will ever have. We cannot obtain these precious elements from any other source.

This is why the Soil and Water Conservation Districts of Texas have worked so hard for so long to make our today a better tomorrow.

Many troops are reding up on Suzy Safety in their Worlds to Explore Handbooks on how to be safe in the out of doors. They are practicing their eight basic skills so that they will perform perfectly in the Tajar Wide game.

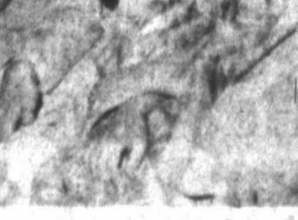

To be elected president, Cowan said a candidate should have worked on the academy's various committees. He started in 1965 on the Membership and Credentials Committee, monitoring members' hours of study and encouraging them to maintain the required number.

He also has served as chairman of the Future Planning Committee and as a member of the Finance Committee and was vice president before being elected president.

VAN MILLS observes blank rows mulched with cotton burrs on Wayne Oliver's farm east of Colorado City. Wayne is a strong believer in improving his soil through the use of high residues. The blank rows were planted to peas and guar, but due to the dry summer very little growth was made. When burrs became available Wayne mulched the blanks with burrs.

Soil Conservation Is Essential Work

A good soil conservation program involves conservation practices that increase or maintain soil organic matter. Residues and organic matter are considered "Life of the Soil."

Organic matter binds the individual soil particles into aggregates, thus increasing water infiltration rate by making soil more porous. This makes the soil plow better and makes for a better seedbed. Soils low in organic matter tend to crack and bake. Soils high in organic matter are considered in good physical condition.

Often the terms residue, organic matter and humus are used interchangeably. Actually these terms have different meanings. Residue refers to the recognizable remains of plants—such as stems, stalks, leaves and roots. Organic matter is the non-recognizable remains of plants and other living organisms that have been returned to the soil.

Organic matter supplies valuable nutrients when it is decomposed. A ton of cotton burrs contains 14 to 21 pounds of nitrogen, 8 to 10 pounds of phosphorus and 53 to 101 pounds of potash.

Humus is the relatively stable and product of decomposed plant and animal residues. Organic matter eventually becomes humus when conditions are favorable. In laboratory analysis humus and organic matter are reported as organic matter.

As the present price of fertilizer, it would cost ten to twenty dollars to purchase this amount of fertilizer. A five year study at the USDA Field Station in Big Spring showed that cotton mulched with burrs averaged 101 pounds more lint per acre than cotton where no burrs were applied.

There are many reasons why organic matter is considered life of the soil. Organic matter provides food for the soil organisms that are responsible for converting many of the natural mineral nutrients into available forms.

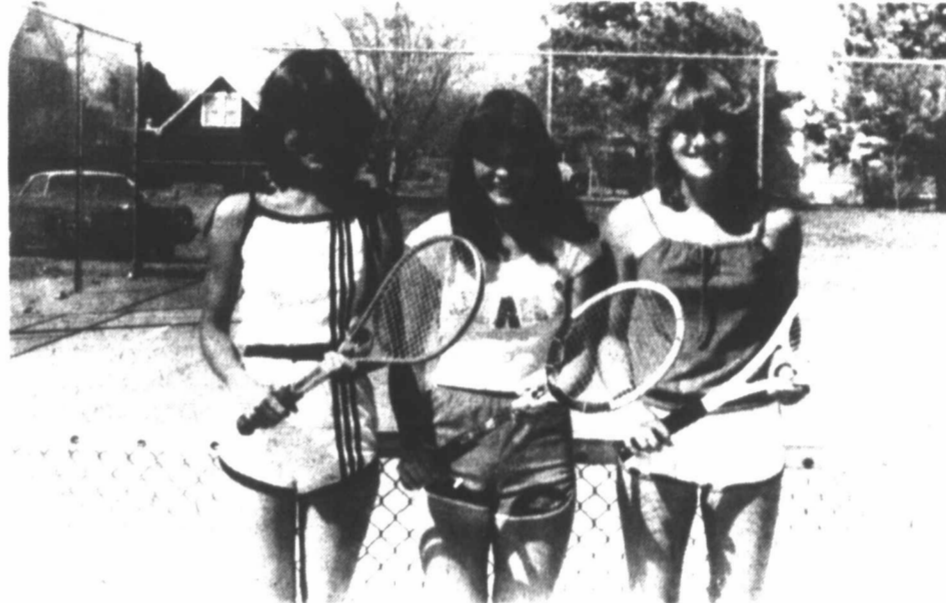

Organic matter can be added to the soil by rotating cotton with high residue crops, cotton burrs mulching and by planting blank rows to cow pears, guar and other high residue crops.

SPORTS ACTION

Earlier, mention was made of personal property coverage. What Is It?

This is variously referred to as "personal property," "unscheduled property," "household goods," or simply "contents." It means the possessions in your home, with every specific coverage limits on furs, jewelry, etc. These personal items are insured both in your home and when you travel, with limitations. Your home can be burglarized or your suitcase can be stolen at the airport. In either case, a homeowner or tenants policy protects you and your family.

To determine the true value of personal property and to expedite payments of claims, you should make a complete inventory of personal property, including each item's cost and date of purchase. Color slides or photographs of the rooms and contents will also be helpful. Keep this inventory in a safe place along with other valuable documents. It will help validate your claim.
