LEGAL LIQUOR COMING TO OKLAHOMA—With his "chief raider" looking on in approval, Oklahoma Governor J. Howard Edmondson signs into law a new liquor control bill ending 51 years of prohibition in the state. Standing is Joe Cannon, who as public safety commissioner headed a drive to dry up the state before repeal was adopted April 7. Cannon now is legal assistant to Edmondson. (AP Wirephoto)

Steelworkers Facing Choice

NEW YORK (AP)—Steelworkers union leaders meet today with an unhappy choice: an unwanted strike next week or an agreement to continue working for employers dead set against any eventual wage increase.

The strike choice seemed inevitable. But meetings of the union's executive board and wage-policy committee will chart the course. They were called into session by Union President David J. McDonald.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U. S. Steel Corp. and top industry spokesman, made two things clear Wednesday.

One was that steel firms are agreed they won't boost present labor costs. The other was that they are willing to negotiate indefinitely. Meanwhile, bargaining talks are stymied with nothing scheduled pending the outcome of the union sessions.

The steel companies called for a continuing delay of any July 1 strike. They proposed extending present contracts from their Tuesday midnight scheduled expiration until such time as either side gives a 10-day advance expiration notice.

McDonald declined to say what course he will recommend to fellow union leaders. He made clear a feeling that the industry has boxed him in.

But he noted there was no guarantee under the industry contract extension proposal, that any gains that might be negotiated would date back to Tuesday's expiration.

McDonald said the union has given the steel industry a specific contract settlement proposal. He said it was noninflationary but he refused to provide any details. Cooper said it was nothing the industry could consider as reasonable.

The workers now average $3.10 an hour and $127.10 a week.

The situation seemed to spell a steel strike next week in large capital letters.

It was clear the workers, plagued by unemployment and short work weeks with diminished pay checks in 1958, have little stomach for a strike.

Battle Rages Between Press And Lawmakers

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Realistic reporting and stinging editorial comment in Texas newspapers on legislative costs this week touched off the hottest war of words in recent history between lawmakers and the press.

There are revived mutterings of reprisal.

These were first heard in January after some lawmakers returned here unhappy because many newspapers fought and helped defeat the annual session-annual pay proposal in November.

There is talk that the dormant threat of banishing reporters from the floor of the House and Senate to the spectators gallery may be revived.

One resolution pending in House committee would oust newsmen from their present convenient but crowded quarters near the legislative halls to "more suitable and spacious" offices somewhere else.

This resolution, by Rep. Bill Stroman of San Angelo, provides for a committee to look into the possibility of charging newspapers and news gathering agencies rent for the space they have occupied at no cost for many years.

The cost-free space presumably has been provided on the theory that the reporting of public affairs in the Capitol is a public service comparable at least to that rendered by the legislators themselves, who pay no rent.

The same theory for years has given the postoffice rent-free space in a first floor southeast corner of the Capitol. This makes it more convenient for the legislators to send and receive mail and keep in touch with the public.

Official and unofficial searchers have been unable to find in the archives legislative authorization for use of the space now provided for the working newsmen in the Capitol. Press quarters have variously been located from the basement to the fourth floor for 50 years. Apparently some casual and probably unwritten agreement long ago gave newsmen a place to do their work here.

Press room No. 1 is actually three rooms on the second floor, adjacent to the House. No. 2 is on the second floor next to the library. No. 1 is shown in the original Capitol plans as a legislative committee space and as such has always been considered under legislative control.

Therefore if the House ever gets mad enough at the press to throw out the newsmen, their typewriters, splintery desks and wabbly chairs, it could do so.

Both the House and Senate also have absolute control over who has the privilege of the floor. They could banish reporters to the balcony if they wished.

Newsmen like to work at the press table on the floor. They can hear and see better. It gives them quick access to records and to members they want to interview and it is generally convenient.

Legislators have complained that newsmen contribute to the general confusion. The House chamber especially is usually a noisy jumble of members, clerks, secretaries and pages. Anything approaching order is usually achieved only by a heavy gavel and warning from the chair.

Speakers this week have ripped into the press for what they have variously called inaccuracy, overemphasis, distortion, slanting and just plain lying in recent news stories about time wasting and costs.

Most stories at issue were based on Gov. Price Daniel's estimate that every day of delay in passing a revenue measure added $200,000 to the ultimate tax bill. This was used widely, and repeated. The statement was challenged in speeches for its accuracy. One senator noted that a good many people had gotten the idea that the figure used was the actual cost of legislating per day. It did not relate to the daily expenses of the session but to the effective date of the ultimate tax bill.

Another story that aroused legislative ire, but which was not challenged, was an Associated Press story summarizing costs of the sessions of the Legislature to date.

Sales Tax Vs. Gas Tax Fight Put Off

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—A House Tax Committee showdown on sales tax vs gas tax legislation was delayed again today.

Witnesses waiting to testify are insisting they want to tell their tax woes.

Two important general tax measures have been before the committee for three straight days. The 21 committee members have held long afternoon and night sessions in an effort to complete hearing testimony before choosing one, or maybe both, of the measures for House debate, probably Monday.

"We're still trying to get through this morning, but it looks like now a vote on the bills can't be taken before this afternoon," said Rep. V. L. Ramsey of Beckville, chairman.

At 10 a.m. 15 more witnesses remained to be heard.

Responsibility shifted to the committee last night when a special 16-man compromise group directed by Speaker Waggoner Carr broke up without agreement.

"I look for the tax committee to vote out a bill Thursday," Carr said later. "That means we could have the bill printed and on members' desks by Friday. It would be ready for debate without any suspension of rules on Monday."

Two general tax bills are under study. One is by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola and the other by Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio.

Failure of Carr's compromise committee left the tax committee with the choice of voting out one or both of the bills for floor debate.

The tax committee recessed last night after Ramsey took Gov. Price Daniel to task for the governor's statement earlier yesterday. Daniel said he was not criticizing the entire House for weekend the first week of this session, just the House tax committee.

"That statement, in substance, amounts to chastising me and you as members for dereliction of duty over the weekend," Ramsey told his committee.

Ramsey charged that Daniel refused to recognize "the practical fact that is was not necessary to call this special session until yesterday (Tuesday).

"There would have been no legislative cost during that weekend and this session would be beginning the first instead of the sixth day of this legislative term," Ramsey said.

Numerous representatives from Texas corporations and businesses put up "don't tax me" pleas before the committee yesterday and last night.

"Why don't you tax the consumer directly?" said S. R. Stephens of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., of Longview.

F. H. Foster of Amarillo, representing Phillips Petroleum Co., said only 45.6 per cent of Texas' natural gas production is exported, not 53 per cent as claimed by the administration.

Carr Blames Failure On Gov. Daniel

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Waggoner Carr blamed Gov. Price Daniel today for failure of the greatest compromise tax effort so far in the 56th Legislature's three sessions.

"It is unfortunate for the people of Texas that the governor's liberal forces as well as all other forces were not able to compromise their differences and get this problem solved quickly," Carr said.

Carr and Daniel have each blamed the other for causing a second special session in the deadlock over taxes and spending.

Late last night Carr's handpicked 16-member "compromise committee—representing all factions in the House—scattered in disagreement. No further sessions are scheduled.

"Any time they're ready to negotiate some more, I'm ready," Carr said. "We were so close at some times."

The speaker said a combination of causes, rather than one main reason, brought last night's breakup. He listed the principal differences as "luxury sales taxes, franchise taxes, and severance beneficiary taxes.

"There were areas of agreement," he said. "For instance a severance beneficiary tax was accepted by both sides, it was just the amount still being argued. At one time only one-half of a percentage point separated them."

Carr said the next move was up to the House taxation committee which has pending two general bills—one strong in sales taxes and one strong in gas taxes.

"As soon as a bill is ready I'll lay it out and they can have at it on the floor," he said. Carr added that he still hoped debate on a general tax bill could begin Monday.

Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen, head of the compromise group, said his group had "reached a stalemate and have agreed to stand by temporarily to see if the revenue and taxation committee can agree on a compromise bill."

Quads' Parents Are Facing Eviction

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex and Bessie Kajouras, parents of newborn quadruplets, face eviction next Wednesday from their five-room Brooklyn apartment.

Kajouras, 30, said philosophically: "We can't worry about that now. We've got the kids to think of. Something will work out."

The eviction notice reporedly stemmed from quarrels with the landlord over repairs.

The quads, three boys and a girl, born Wednesday, were reported in fine condition. The quads were the first children for the 26-year-old mother.

Revolution Appears Nearer In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina seemed near the brink of revolution today, with President Arturo Frondizi beset by continuing rebelliousness in military circles and the threat of mass protests by Communist and Peronist labor unions.

Government officials continued to claim that the threat to the government had been averted by Frondizi's reshuffle of his cabinet and particularly by the appointment of a leading advocate of free enterprise, Alvaro Alsogaray, to head the economic and labor ministries.

Other sources said certain high military leaders were far from satisfied and sentiment in favor of ousting Frondizi was still strong in the armed forces.

War Secretary Hector Solanas Pacheco admitted that a number of army officers for whom arrest warrants had been issued were still at large. Many were believed in the military barracks at Cordoba, the center of current agitation against Frondizi and the starting point of the 1955 revolution which overthrew Dictator Juan Peron.

Vice Adm. Isaac Rojas, a leader of the anti-Peron revolt, predicted Wednesday that Frondizi would face a revolution "within a few days or a few weeks" if he did not resign immediately.

The 62 labor unions known for their Peronist sympathies issued a communique accusing Frondizi of failing to keep his campaign promises and blaming him for "errors which have brought the country to the verge of chaos."

Alsogaray's appointment as the country's economic and labor czar was certain to increase the unions' opposition to Frondizi.

Although Alsogaray was reported planning the ouster of a number of Peronists still in the government, it was feared the disgruntled officers would not be pacified.

Starkweather Electrocuted

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather, calm and self-controlled to the end, paid with his life today for a brutal blood letting 17 months ago.

One ironic hitch marked the electric chair execution. The prison physician who was to have pronounced Starkweather dead, suffered a heart attack and died.

Dr. B. A. Finkel, 75, was stricken just a half hour before the midnight execution. Alternates carried on.

The finale to the story of the ne'er-do-well ex-garbage hauler blamed for 11 knife and gun killings came at 12:05 a.m. (CST) in white painted basement execution chamber at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

The 20-year-old killer had no last words.

At 12:01 a.m. he walked unassisted into the chamber, glanced at some 35 assembled witnesses, managed a kind of smile and ambled up to the bulky, wooden execution chair.

His head was shaven of its red hair and a trouser leg had been cut off to accomodate the electrical contacts.

A curtain was drawn in front of the witnesses as Starkweather was strapped in the chair.

The curtain opened. A half mask covered the killer's face.

"Is there anything you would like to say?" asked Deputy Warden John Greenholtz.

Starkweather shook his head negatively.

Extension Bill May Finance Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simple tax extension bill mushroomed today into a possible vehicle for financing interstate highways, wiping out a passenger travel tax and revising other levies.

The need for meeting a July 1 deadline complicated the Senate's problem as it headed into a marathon session to consider proposed amendments to the revenue measure.

The bill as passed by the House June 8 would extend for another year the present rates on various excise and corporate income taxes. Unless it becomes law by July 1, these would drop to pre-Korean war levels and government revenues would decline an estimated three billion dollars a year.

The proposal to divert other revenues into the highway trust fund to assure continued road building, was a last-minute addition to the list of amendments to be considered.

It was put forth by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) as President Eisenhower cautioned that unless Congress acts, new lack of funds will force an almost complete halt in new interstate road building projects within the next two years.

To keep the program going, Eisenhower has been urging a 1½-cents-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, now three cents. He said Wednesday that other alternatives being considered "would be unacceptable to me."

Gore nevertheless proposed to divert to the special highway trust fund 968 million dollars a year of highway user taxes on automobiles, trucks, buses, auto and truck parts and lubricating oil.

These funds now go into the treasury's general fund. Eisenhower contends they are needed there to help met other government costs.

But the President would find it difficult to veto the tax extension bill if the diversion amendment were included, because of the loss of other taxes.

Renewing his plea for the gasoline tax boost Eisenhower said that without additional money in the highway fund, 10 states will have to stop letting new contracts by the end of the summer. Fifteen others will be affected by the end of the year, and 11 others will suspend new work by July 1960.

The tax extension bill was approved only Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. To the House bill, it added provisions to end this year a 10 per cent tax on passenger tickets, and to wipe out next year a similar levy on telephone and telegraph messages.

Panel Backs Road In Stonewall, Knox

Roads were the main items of discussion yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce highway and safety committee.

The committee discussed a proposed road in Stonewall and Knox Counties, the future widening of east Thirty-seventh Street, and a possible road on the south side of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Three commissioners from Stonewall County met with the committee seeking backing from Scurry County on a new highway they are proposing from Aspermont to Knox City, which would also mean shorter route between Snyder and Wichita Falls.

The three Stonewall men, T. E. Bell, Cecil Norris and Evin Gholston, said the Stonewall commissioners court has requested a hearing before the State Highway Commission and has discussed the proposed road with Jake Roberts, district highway engineer.

If the state hearing is granted, the Stonewall court will ask commissioners courts from Knox, Scurry and Howard Counties to participate and give their backing to the proposal.

The three commissioners said a bridge which will meet state highway specifications has already been built across the Salt Fork of the Brazos River on the proposed highway route, where there is now an unimproved road.

The chamber committee went on record recommending that the Scurry County commissioners court meet with the highway commission with the Stonewall court when the hearing is held.

The possibility that the highway, if built, may eventually lead to the widening of the farm-to-market road between Snyder and Rotan was discussed.

J. Ray Martin, county judge, told the committee of progress of Scurry County on the proposed widening of Thirty-seventh Street from the Big Spring highway to the East Highway. Martin said there are only a very few property owners who have not deeded right-of-way to the county for the street which is to be widened by the state.

A possible road along south side of Lake Thomas was discussed, but no action was taken by the committee.

Members of the committee are Clyde Hall, chairman, J. R. Huckabee, S. S. Steinberg, Ford Kenner, Joe Williamson, Paul Keaton, Earl Abercrombie, Doyle Henricks, George Killam, Kenneth Knollenberg, Bill Wilson and Martin.

Uncontrolled Truck Kills 3 Persons

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A semi-trailer grain truck speeding out of control down a hill without brakes hit a car and smashed into two homes Wednesday night. Three persons died and four others were injured.

The impact sent the truck's heavy load of grain through the wall of the first house and into another, around the corner.

Killed were Ralph Redlin, 50, Ellendale, N.D., the truck driver, and his wife, Ruby, 33, and Martin Cich, 26, Superior, Wis., whose car was struck by the truck.

Seriously injured were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Widell, occupants of the second house hit by the truck. They were in their living room watching television when the truck smashed into the front of their home.

Also injured were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hayes, who live around the corner from the Widell home. Mrs. Hayes was struck in the back by an oil drum carried with the plummeting grain through their house. Hayes suffered an arm injury.

"It sounded like an explosion," said Mrs. Robert Anderson, whose home was the first hit.

"I ran into the bedroom for the baby and ran out the back door. I didn't even look into the living room I was so scared. I went to a neighbor's house and just sat with the baby until I quit shaking."

Armstrong Is In Coma

By STAN CARTER

SPOLETO, Italy (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, who trumpeted his way to the top ranks of jazz, lay gravely ill in a coma here tonight.

Italian doctors said the leather-lunged musician had suffered heart disturbances which seriously complicated an attack of pneumonia. He fell ill with pneumonia.

But Satchmo's American physician, Dr. Alexander Schiff, who accompanied him to this little central Italian town for a musical festival insisted, almost tearfully:

"He never had any kind of heart attack. He just blew himself out, that's all. Any musician who blows on a wind instrument for years suffers some weakening of the heart. That's inevitable."

And Satchmo — the satchel-mouthed music man from New Orleans — has been making magic on his sweet-toned horn since the birth of jazz.

In dramatic evidence of his rise from the old tin pan days of New Orleans music, Armstrong lay ill in a town dedicated to Italian classic opera.

He was invited here to play for the "Two Worlds Festival" of European and American music in the Spoleto Theater, dedicated to promoting Italian opera.

7½-Inch Rain Floods Devine

By The Associated Press

A near-cloudburst of 7½ inches of rain caused several families to leave their homes at Devine, 33 miles southwest of San Antonio early Thursday.

Electric and telephone service were disrupted at the Medina County town.

The rains started at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and continued intermittently throughout the night.

Gauges at Devine measured from 6.9 to 7.6 inches. The Weather Bureau total was 5.80. An underpass on U.S. Highway 81 was flooded.

Several families on one street at Devine left their homes as a precautionary step, but actually no home was flooded.

Kerrville registered an overnight fall of 2.20 inches.

The thunderstorms moved into South Texas during the night after plaguing the northern half of the state for two days.

Flour Bluff, near Corpus Christi, reported 5.50 inches.

The rains were general over most of South and Southwest Texas.

Two La Salle County towns had torrential downpours: Los Angeles recorded 6.50 inches and Fowlerton 6 inches. They are in Southwest Texas.

Houston's airport weather station reported an inch of rain fell in a 70-minute period ending at 7:10 a.m. to make it the wettest June in Houston in 12 years. The month total at Houston was 4.60 inches.

The Corpus Christi Naval Station reported 3.27 inches for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Junction, in the Hill Country, had 1.43 inches.

Reports from Austin said Buchanan Lake was up a foot and that Travis Lake was expected to rise gradually from recent rains in the upper watershed of the Colorado River.

Showers also continued in North and Central Texas. During the morning the weather bureau reported a line of showers 10 miles wide from 10 miles south of Paris to 15 miles south of Whitesboro and other showers in the Hillsboro, Waco and Temple areas.

The Weather Bureau reported a light rain shower area 15 miles southeast of Dallas at 4:45 a.m. And 10 minutes later rain peppered down on Dallas streets. In another 10 minutes downtown Dallas received a moderately heavy shower.

Thursday morning's rains followed 6 inches of precipitation Wednesday in the Hill Country around Llano in West Central Texas. Moist air off the Gulf of Mexico brought scattered showers to wide areas of the state.

Quick runoffs sent the Llano River on a 6-foot rise, but no flood damage was feared.

At Uvalde, in one of the driest areas of the state southwest of San Antonio, a hard shower dumped 1¼ inches of rain in 45 minutes Wednesday. The same area had received up to 4½ inches Tuesday night.

Cranfill Gap, in Bosque County, had a 2 inch rain Wednesday after getting 1½ inches Tuesday. Other rainfall measurements included 2.45 at Bergstrom Air Force Base, just east of Austin; 3.69 at Junction; 1.05 at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, .87 at Del Rio, .47 at Waco, .51 at Sherman, .52 at Lufkin, .39 at Houston, and .35 at Galveston. Lesser amounts fell Wednesday at Austin, Beeville, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Mineral Wells, Dallas, Beaumont and a number of other points.

Wednesday temperatures ranged from 79 at Abilene to 106 at Presidio. Little change in temperatures was indicated in late forecasts.

The forecasts also called for continued scattered showers and thundershowers in east and central areas of the state and widely scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms in West Texas.

Rivers and streams continued to rise with the additional rain but nowhere was flood damage of any great extent feared or imminent.

Flood Fears Are Mounting At Canton

By ROY ESSOYAN

HONG KONG (AP)—The South China metropolis of Canton was described today as a city of terror, its 1½ million people facing what may be its most catastrophic flood in a century. But the city's main dikes were reported still holding at midday.

Communist and anti-Communist sources both painted a picture of possible disaster in populous Kwantung province, across the border from Hong Kong.

The independent newspaper Sing Tao Jih Pao said Canton is "a city of terror under the threat of the most disastrous flood in its history. More than one million people are living in constant dread of being drowned or starving to death if the dikes on the Peh or North river cave in."

Torrential rains have swollen the Peh and Si or West rivers that converge with the Tung or East River above Canton and flow to the South China Sea through the Pearl River estuary. The rains reportedly continued in the Peh watershed Wednesday, but the Tung was said to have begun dropping.

Details on the situation were scarce and reports contradictory. But they show China is still vulnerable to age-old natural calamities.

$308,000 Is Paid For Diamond Tiara

LONDON (AP) — New York gem dealer Harry Winston today paid $308,000 for a diamond tiara often worn by British royalty.

It was a second record for the auction of the late Duke of Westminster's estate — the highest price for a piece of jewelry.

Wednesday a London art dealer paid the record auction price for a painting — $770,000 for Rubens' altarpiece "The Adoration of the Magi." The dealer said he bought it for a private British collector whose identity he would not disclose.

John Barrymore Is Fined $500 For DWI

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — John Barrymore Jr. was fined $500 Wednesday for misdemeanor drunk driving and hit and run driving. He also was placed on three years probation.

The 27-year-old actor, arrested March 6 after a two-car collision in Beverly Hills, had pleaded guilty to the charges.

A judge ordered him to abstain from alcohol, use his car in the next 90 days only to go to work or visit his agent, and continue psychiatric assistance which his attorney said he is seeking.

Texas Skin Divers Probe Colorado Lake

BLACK HAWK, Colo. (AP) — Three Texas skin divers are trying to find the bottom of Missouri Lake, linked with the legends about this town since its mining boom a century ago.

Equipped to dive 50 feet, they've not touched bottom — which legend says doesn't exist in Missouri Lake.

However, they found the remains of a horse-and-ore wagon that plunged into the lake 80 years ago. They've also picked up part of a makeshift submarine that sank as it was launched on the lake in 1898.

The trio, all from Dallas, are Pat O'Donnell, 27; Rick Seals, 30, and Jack Wayne, 21.

Allen New Manager At Perry's Store

Van E. Allen, former manager of the Perry Brother's Variety Store in Stephenville, has been named new manager of the Snyder Perry Brother's Store.

He succeeds Carl Whitfield, who is planning to open a new variety store here soon.

Allen was manager of the Stephenville store for the past six years, and has been with the chain for 10 years.

He was a member of the Stephenville city council and had to resign to come to Snyder. He was also senior warden of the Stephenville Masonic Lodge, and treasurer of the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the Baptist Church.

A native of Gordon, Tex., he is married and the couple have three children: Sherry Jan, 18, who will enter John Tarleton State College next fall; Scotty Dan, 15, and Brad, 7, both of whom will be in school here next year.

The family has not moved to Snyder, but plans to do so as soon as possible.

Nelson Is Paroled To Tom Green

AUSTIN (AP) — A witness who testified that Harry Washburn had admitted to him the car bomb slaying of Mrs. Harry Weaver has won a parole from his life sentence.

The Pardons Board granted a parole yesterday for Andrew Nelson, key state witness who was co-indicted for the slaying of Mrs. Weaver in January 1955 at San Angelo. She was Washburn's former mother-in-law.

He had been given a life sentence as an habitual criminal after being convicted several times for robbery, theft and burglary.

Nelson testified Washburn had admitted he had rigged the explosion but had intended it to kill Weaver instead. The state contended Washburn felt Weaver stood in his way to obtaining money by extortion.

Nelson testified that he bought dynamite with Washburn and showed him how to rig an automobile bomb. Washburn is serving a life term.

Nelson was paroled to Tom Green County. He had been convicted on various charges in Lubbock, Dickens, Stephens, Terry and Floyd Counties.

Long Sure Of Mental State

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane, and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 70 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves:

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremillion's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew — Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. "The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

The governor called his wife "one of the most jealous women God ever let live." He said the state was in "good hands" under Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar.

Long asked, in the recording, that the people of Louisiana pray for him because "I've gone through quite a bit in the last three or four weeks."

"I'm glad to tell you good people that as far as mentally I never was any better off in my life than I am today."

But, he added, "after they got through chucking me from one auto to another, fighting me on one street corner after another and put me on stretchers and tying me and shooting me with hypodermics, then I can't tell you that physically I'm as well off as I was."

He added: "When I get to be governor again, everything I do will be done deliberately with the advice of friends and people well informed."

NEW EARRINGS DROP A HINT

Relaxed facial contours and prominent jawlines have made women forego the glamour of drop earrings, but the newest, long, slim beauties remedy these facial problems. Because the new earrings drop well below the jawline itself, they not only minimize contour irregularities, but glamorize the neckline, making it appear slimmer and more graceful.

MIX THEM OR MATCH THEM

In a season where color in ready-to-wear runs riot, jewelry carries the added responsibility of creating bold yet tasteful costume accent. Don't shy away from color in jewelry, but try your hand at mixing and matching. Bright hued suits and dresses can be accessorized with jewel tones that match. Lice tone-on-tone color interest, or frankly mix exciting color combinations for eye interest.

SEE THE PYRAMIDS

Fashion, wise as the Sphinx, takes a new tack with this seasons small classic pins to achieve a bold, jewelled look. Three small, similar but unmatching pins may be used to give a striking costume accent when arranged in a triangular pyramid shape on a suit shoulder, lapel, or neckline.

British and Danish scientists have proved that sea anemone and other life exist seven miles beneath the surface of the ocean.

Kabob Sandwiches

For patio platters, what could be tastier than a toasted sandwich? Why, a whole string of 'em cooked on a skewer over the coals. For each kabob sandwich, butter 3 slices of enriched bread. Spread one slice with deviled ham and another with smoke-flavored cheese spread. Assemble into a 3-deck sandwich, trim crusts, and cut into 4 equal-sized squares. Thread sandwiches on a long skewer, alternating them with dill pickle slices and stuffed olives. Toast over hot coals, turning frequently so all sides will brown.

Girl Made Promises To One Of Six Accused Of Rape

NEW YORK (AP) — A 14-year-old white girl has testified that she promised intimacies to one of six Negro boys accused of raping her.

The girl, whose name has not been made public by authorities, took the witness stand Wednesday in Queens Adolescent Court to tell what happened last Thursday night outside a Corona, Queens, school after a recreation program.

Under questioning by defense counsel, she said that three nights before one of the defendants, Jacob Bethea, 16, had "kissed, hugged and squeezed" her at junior high school 16 where she is a student.

She described Bethea as a former student at the school and said that the kisses took place while she was showing him around during an evening recreation program.

Magistrate Milton Solomon asked, "did you kiss him back?"

"I must have," answered the girl, a round-faced, heavy-set youngster with short, cropped brown hair.

"Was there something you were going to do for him?" asked Defense Attorney Bernard Fintz.

"No," she replied.

"What was your conversation about?" asked Fintz.

The girl hesitated, then answered: "He wanted to take down my pants. I said no."

Said Fintz: "You said you'd let him do it later?"

Again the girl hesitated, but replied: "Oh, yes."

"When did you say he could do it?"

"Tuesday or Wednesday," was the answer, adding: "I just said that—I wasn't going to do nothing."

After the Monday experience, the girl said: "I was scared to see him again."

But as she left a back door of the school Thursday night, she said, she saw Bethea with two other Negro boys. One called to her, she said, and she went over. She quoted Bethea as saying: "I want to talk to you."

With that, she continued, he took a bag out of his pocket, removed a gun from it and put it against her jaw. "If you don't listen to me, I'm going to hit you with this," she said he told her.

He grabbed her by the arm and dragged her up the back stairs. She slapped him and yelled, "leave me alone, you stupid jerk, I didn't do nothing to you."

Bethea slapped her face and blackened her eye and suddenly "a whole bunch of boys came charging up the steps of a rear landing. Some of them held her arms and feet," she said, while Bethea raped her.

Bethea subjected her to other indignities after the others were through with her, she testified, adding:

"Somebody said 'a teacher's coming' and they all ran."

She said a man came across the school yard to help her and called a teacher. "I kept falling. I couldn't stand up," the girl said.

She testified the boys beat her on the arms and legs. She said another of the six boys, John Rich, 16, also raped her and that two others fondled her. She identified these two by pointing at them in the courtroom. They were Edward Jacobs, 17, and Henry Stokes, 16.

Magistrate Solomon adjourned the case until Friday.

The two youngest boys involved, 14 and 15 years old, were not involved in Wednesday's proceedings. Because of their age, they can be charged only with juvenile delinquency. They appeared Tuesday in children's court where psychiatric examinations were ordered for them. Their names were not disclosed because of their age.

Tennis Courts To Be Built By Parks

A Snyder firm will do construction work on new tennis courts to be built on the campus of the Travis Junior High School.

Parks Construction was successful bidder this week on the tennis courts with a low bid of $8,150. Other bidders on the project included Alston Construction Co. of Sweetwater with $9,500, Kelly Construction Co. of San Angelo with $10,560, A. P. Kasch & Sons of Big Spring with $11,124, and T. E. Shelburne & Son of Snyder with $1[illegible].

The concrete double court will be enclosed by a chain link fence. The enclosure and courts will be 102 by 120 feet. The concrete slab will be four inches thick.

The courts will be located just off Twenty-sixth Street and just west of the school building.

The school board also opened bids this week on sale of three temporary frame buildings which have been in use by the school system.

One of the buildings, a two-classroom building on the West Elementary School campus, was sold to the only bidder, Brownfield School District, for $1,751.

Two other buildings, one on the high school football practice field and one at the north end of the junior high field, were sold for $500 to the only bidder, H. H. Etland.

A bid was submitted to the board for $175 by the Morningside Baptist Church for a 24 by 28 foot building now on the West Elementary School campus, but the board rejected the bid because the school system had not offered the smaller frame buildings for sale. An offer has been made by the board to the Boy Scouts to let them use the buildings, but discussion is pending on that proposal between the board and Boy Scout officials.

Doug Flynn, school business manager, was instructed to return the bid to the church and to explain that the church will be notified if the district does decide to sell the smaller buildings.

Bids were opened by the board on paving of the 4300 and 4400 blocks of Avenue U, newly-opened blocks of the street running on the east side of the new Stanfield Elementary School. Action was deferred on awarding a contract, however. The proposals were $2,530.12 by the T-9-Riley firm, $2,680.60 by Bud Chastain, and $3,680.60 by Lubbock Paving.

The board approved a proposal made by T. E. McCollum, superintendent, that a tennis court be built on the extreme northeast corner of the Lincoln School property. It was previously believed there would not be sufficient room on that campus, and plans had called for building a court in the nearby Winston Park. The court on the campus will be more convenient to students.

Approval as given to expenditure of no more than $450 to repair floors in a room of the science department of the Travis Junior High, which is being remodeled. Two rooms are being made into one as a part of the remodeling, and when a wall partition was removed between the rooms it was discovered that the floor in one had sagged and that the floors were not on the same level, according to W. A. Turner, building program representative here for Fred Buford & Associates of Dallas, architects for the schools.

Trans-Texas Route Aired Before CAB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conflicting views on whether Trans-Texas Airways should continue to serve four Texas and Arkansas cities were placed before the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday.

An airline attorney opposed a recommendation by CAB examiner Thomas Wrenn that the carrier's authority to serve Marshall and Pecos, in Texas, and Magnolia and Camden, in Arkansas, be renewed.

Attorney Joe Crawford of Houston said:

"Regarding service to Marshall, the emplaning passengers there in the past six years have never met the minimum criteria set by the board to justify continued service.

"They have had a heavy increase recently, but this is artificial traffic. They are 26-mile rides given Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and the like as awards in civic contests. The tickets are one way to either Shreveport or Longview, and cost $4.86."

Harrison County Judge Ernest Smith of Marshall replied:

"I want to tell this young man that our Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are live and real and not a bit more artificial than he is."

Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) said Marshall needs air service to meet the demands of a defense rocket propellant manufacturing plant.

Longshoremen Idle During Union Meeting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An "educational" meeting of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union left 28 cargo vessels idle for 11 hours Wednesday.

Officials of Local 13 refused to state the purpose of the session, but it was reported the meeting was called to bring 3,500 members up to date on San Francisco negotiations on a new contract with the Pacific Maritime Assn., representing West Coast employers.

A PMA spokesman said the meeting was called for educational purposes, as permitted under the union contract.

Siamese Cat Has Two-Faced Kitten

DALLAS (AP) — A Siamese cat gave birth to a kitten with two faces yesterday. Its owner, Clarence B. Yeargan Jr., said the kitten had two complete faces on its head, which is about one and a half times normal size. He says when the kitten cries both mouths open and both sets of eyes twitch.

McBirnie Marriage Revealed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Rev. W. S. McBirnie, former pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, and Mrs. Wilma Jean Durham were married in Alamogordo, N.M., June 8, the day after the minister resigned his pulpit here in an unscheduled meeting with the church's board of deacons.

The marriage came one week after McBirnie divorced his wife, Jane, in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Mrs. Durham's two children, Exa, 12, and Tommy, 15, were with the couple for the ceremony, performed in the courthouse by Justice of Peace Howard Beacham.

Witnesses were "a couple of girls here at the courthouse," Mrs. Ruth Roberts, deputy county clerk, said. They were Tessie Hansen and Mrs. Richard [illegible].

Mrs. Roberts said the couple had requested the marriage not be announced.

The couple indicated they would go to California.

Mrs. Roberts said she and others who met them knew who the couple was. "He seemed like such a nice man," she said.

The minister's career here came to an abrupt end after 10 years of outstanding success when he confessed to his church that he had become improperly involved with a woman member of the church. He never publicly disclosed the name of the woman but her identity had been common knowledge.

Even after the admission, there was strong sentiment in McBirnie's favor. He appealed to the church to replace him, saying he did not intend to resign.

His divorce followed but that action was kept secret for about a week. Later he did resign.

Mrs. Durham was divorced from Carl Durham, business college operator, in April.

Four Die In Collision

AUSTIN (AP) — A two-car head-on collision killed four persons near here yesterday. Three were from one family.

The Department of Public Safety said three others were injured critically in the accident about 2 miles west of Oak Hill, a community outside of Austin on State 71.

The Department said the dead were John Wiley Johnson, 26; his wife, Elizabeth Lucille, 20; and their 3-year-old daughter (name unknown). They lived in Lovington, N.M.

The fourth victim was in the other auto. She was Mrs. L. M. Ricketson of Anahuac, wife of a deputy sheriff there.

Injured were these children riding with Mrs. Ricketson: Hal Ray Wall, 10, lacerations and other injuries, and his sister, Sherry, 13, head injuries, both of Baytown; and their cousin, Janie Bertling, head and other injuries, of Marble Falls.

Held For Big Checks

HOUSTON (AP) — Police held a woman, 39, today and sought a man, 36, for what they called a bad-check cashing spree at Houston supermarkets last week. Officers said a man and a woman cashed $10,049.97 in forged checks last Saturday.

Patterson Strong 4-1 Favorite To Whip Ingo

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, grimly determined to win the public's [illegible] acclaim, and Ingemar Johansson, just as eager to become Sweden's first world boxing champion, clash tonight — weather permitting—in their long-awaited title fight.

The 24-year-old New Yorker, making his fifth defense of the crown, was a strong 4-1 favorite today to beat back the challenge of the undefeated 26-year-old European champion in the 15-rounder before 35,000 at Yankee Stadium. Starting time is 9:30 p.m. EST.

With the heat outdoors, the weather was the main concern of the principals as they headed for the weigh-in ceremony at a midtown hotel. The forecast was for increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers in the afternoon and evening. If a postponement is necessary the fight will be held Friday night.

"It will take a helluva downpour for me to put it off," said promoter Bill Rosensohn. "I've been waiting for nine months to put this on and I want to get it over with."

"We went over the $500,000 mark (his break-even point)," he said. "And I'm confident we'll go over $800,000."

With the closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, coast-to-coast radio (ABC) and the movies thrown in, Patterson figures to make between $400,000 and $500,000 and Johansson from $150,000 to $200,000.

The financial reports gladdened Johansson, a solid businessman with varied interests, but he was more concerned with his ring business with Patterson.

The lopsided odds, the picks of most of the experts for Patterson and criticism of his unique training methods—he didn't unleash his "thunderbolt" right once—apparently haven't dismayed Ingemar.

"If I hit him with my right—and I am confident I will—he will go down and out," said the optimistic Swede. Johansson speaks of his right hand as if it was not part of him but a gun instead.

"I haven't been as eager for any fight since I knocked out Archie Moore (in five rounds, 1956) to win the title," said Patterson. "He is the No. 1 contender and I want to beat the best."

The champion has been vicious and sensational in his workouts as Johansson has been tame and dull. Floyd has left no doubt that he hopes to win quickly. For the first time he has shown signs of being irked by criticism of the calibre of his title opponents. And for the first time he has become his trainer, Dan Florio.

Johansson has been idle since he flattened Californian Eddie Machen in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14. That made his record 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

Even if he has that great right, Ingemar may have trouble landing it squarely against the elusive, fast moving, bobbing and weaving champion.

Johansson, a strong, 198-pounder, is accustomed to fighting the standup, classic style fighters of the British-European school. They don't go in much for body punching.

Patterson's style is vastly different. He holds his gloves in front of his face, peek-a-boo style, and his forearms protect his body. From that position he strikes out with flashing fists, aiming searing combinations to the body and head.

This observer believes Patterson will cut down his rival with these punishing body blows in one round. They will be using the thin, six-ounce gloves, instead of the eight-ouncers Patterson used against London.

Johansson would have to nail Patterson square and quick. But he doesn't have the speed and finesse to match the champ.

Although heavyweight fight fever gripped the city little betting action was reported on the Broadway bourse. What wagering was done was mostly on knockouts. It was 3-1 that the fight wouldn't go the route, 2-1 that Patterson would win by a kayo, and 6-1 against Johansson stopping Patterson.

Scoring of the fight will be by the rounds system. A supplementary point system also is used to break draws. The winner of each round gets from 1 to 4 points, the loser none.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

TEXAS A&M HAS TAKEN an early lead in landing the most boys who have been selected to play in the schoolboy All-Star game at the coaching school at Fort Worth in August. Six of the all-stars are Aggieland bound.

Baylor is close behind with five.

This is only a preliminary count since some of the boys may yet change their minds on their college choice before next fall rolls around and then there are several who haven't even indicated what school they will attend.

But, according to the Coaching School Press Brochure, 32 of the 36 boys slated to play in the all-star game have revealed their college choice.

At least two have already changed their minds since the brochure went to press. The brochure lists Sweetwater's James Parker as going to TCU but the Mustang bruiser has since switched his intentions to Oklahoma though Parker had gone so far as signing a TCU "Letter of Intent" before changing his mind.

Goodwin Changes Mind, Too

The brochure also states that Odessa's Ronnie Goodwin is undecided between University of Houston and Texas A&M. But Goodwin isn't going to either school. The Bronco halfback signed Monday to attend Baylor.

Ronnie Brice, Andrews' all-state quarterback, was listed in the brochure as lingering between Rice and Texas A&M. It is now official that Brice will be an Aggie. He signed an A&M letter soon after the end of track season.

Although there may still be others who have changed their minds since the brochure went to press, these are the only ones that we know about.

The other five all-stars going to A&M in addition to Brice are end Don Sanders of Fort Worth Paschal and guard Mike Gieb of Garland, both of the North squad, and back Benny Powers of Valley Mills, guard Jerry Hopkins of Mart, and tackles Alan Huggins of Houston Milby and Benjamin Krenek of El Campo.

The five all-stars planning to further their grid careers at Baylor are back Stan Cozby of Abilene, end Jefferey Bearden of White Deer, back Stuart McBernie of San Antonio Jefferson, center Max Cox of Brady and Odessa's Goodwin.

Rice, TCU High In Recruiting

Rice and TCU follow A&M and Baylor in recruiting the all-stars with four each. Headed for TCU are back Jerry Davis of White Oak, guard Jerry Hoskins of Wink, back Donny Smith of Taylor and tackle Hal Stanislaw of Rockdale.

Rice bound are back Danny Davison of Royse City, center John Cole of Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth), and backs Wayne McClellan of Orange and Fred Hansen of Cuero.

Texas Tech is the choice of three all-stars with McMurry, Houston and Oklahoma next with two apiece. The future Raiders among the all-stars are end Jerry Garrison of Levelland, guard Charles Huddleston of Breckenridge and tackle Jimmy Little of Rankin.

McMurry is getting two backs, Donald Davis of Stamford and Pat Keller of Mason. Houston is getting two backs also, Wayne Fields of Big Spring and Mike Carew of Corpus Christi Miller.

Joining Parker at OU is back Paul Lea of Terrell.

SMU, Texas and Tulane are getting one each. Back Donald Campbell of Bonham is headed for SMU, center Bobby Woolley of Temple is bound for Texas and back Randy Curson of Tulane expects to enroll at Tulane.

One thing nice about the college choices of the 32 all-stars who have committed themselves already is that 29 of 'em are staying in the Lone Star State, including 24 for the Southwest Conference.

As we said before, this is only a preliminary count and there could still be a lot of changes between now and September.

Coliseum Friendly Place For Dodgers

By ED WILKS

It begins to look as if the Dodgers finally have forgotten cozy Ebbets Field and have accepted the Coliseum, their freakish ballyard, as a home.

Ebbets was no model of what a major league ball park should be, of course, but the Brooklyn handbox fit the Dodgers like a Bardot sweater. It was there that they put away their best string of pennants, winning four in five years from 1952 through 1956.

Last year they shifted to Los Angeles and barely played .500 ball while finishing seventh, missing the first division for the first time in 14 years.

That was last year. At the moment they're 22-16 at the Coliseum for a .579 percentage that ranks second only to Milwaukee's .636 (21-12), and the Braves are leading the National League any way you look at it anyway.

The Dodgers swept their third straight from Philadelphia Wednesday night, 9-6. That tightened their grip on third, just a game behind San Francisco and only three short of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves retained their two-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-0, in a game ended in the seventh inning by rain, after San Francisco had defeated Pittsburgh 4-3. Cincinnati whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

A two-run homer by Wally Moon, extending his hitting streak to 17 games, broke a 6-6 tie in the sixth inning for the Dodgers, who had blown a 6-1 lead. Don Demeter drove in three runs for Los Angeles with a double, triple and his 15th homer. Roger Craig, now 2-0 since his recall from the minors last week, was the winner, but needed Clem Labine's four-hit shutout relief.

Wally Post and Valmy Thomas homered for the last place Phils. Don Cardwell (1-5) was the loser in relief.

Joey Jay, Milwaukee's young right-hander, gave up eight hits and three walks, but gained his first victory since May 19 after Hank Aaron belted his 20th homer, with two on, in a four-run first. Jay, now 3-5, had lost four in a row. Rookie Dick Ricketts (0-3) lost it as the Cards dropped back to seventh place.

Right-hander Jim Brosnan (3-3) blanked the Cubs on four hits for his second shutout in the majors. His other shutout came back in 1956 when he was pitching for the Cubs.

The Reds backed him with a four-run first against loser Dick Drott (1-2) after two were out. Ed Bailey's two-run homer capped it.

The Dodgers end their home season in the Los Angeles Coliseum on Sept. 17 with a night game against Cincinnati. Nine days later the Los Angeles Rams open the National League football season against the New York Giants.

1 Texan Left In Running

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Disaster struck the Southwest and Houston's proud National Collegiate team champions yesterday. Only one of the region's 6 qualifiers survived for the quarter-finals of the NCAA golf tournament today.

He is Dick Crawford of Houston, who won two matches yesterday. Now he finds himself faced with John Konsek of Purdue who went to the finals of the tournament last year.

Four other Houston players went down to defeat. And this a day after Houston won the team title and cut nine strokes from the record in doing it in this tournament which the Southwest has dominated in recent years.

Bob Pratt, one of two Houston players who tied the record for dropped out in the first round of matches, bowing to Dick Siderowf of Duke on the 9th hole.

Siderowf himself fell before Delmar Beman of Maryland in the second round 1 up. Beman is the brother of Dean Beman, who recently won the British Amateur Championship.

Joel Goldstrand of Houston fell before Jack Lucetti of San Jose State in the second round 4 and 2. Jack Cupit of Houston, who shared medalist honors with Pratt, went out in the second round. The luck of the draw threw him against teammate Crawford, who won 4 and 2.

Still another Houston player also fell in the second round, Tony Marimon, who yielded to Konsek 5 and 4.

Orioles Cut Tribe Lead To ½ Game

By ED WILKS

There's something about a Baltimore bunt that makes Cleveland's Tribe a bunch of dead Injuns.

Remember when the Orioles gained a share of the American League lead two weeks ago? They did it when the Indians goofed twice on a bunt that scored three runs.

Wednesday night, the Orioles were at it again, jumping into second place, a half-game behind the front-stumbling Indians, when an error on a bunt gave them three ninth-inning runs for a 7-4 victory at Cleveland.

It was the fifth defeat in seven games for the Indians while Baltimore, scoring its first four runs on solo homers by Gus Triandos, Walt Dropo, Billy Gardner and Bob Nieman, leap-frogged the Chicago White Sox with its sixth victory in eight games.

The White Sox skidded to third with a 4-2 defeat by Washington, their sixth loss in eight games. Kansas City barred New York's chance for a third place tie by beating the Yankees 4-3. Boston held Detroit in fifth, handing the cooled-off Tigers their fourth straight defeat, 4-2.

The Orioles opened their winning ninth with singles by Gardner and pinch-hitter Gene Woodling that chased southpaw Herb Score. Both scored when reliever Dick Brodowski threw wild after fielding a bunt by Bob Boyd, hitting for winner Hec Brown (3-2). Boyd went to third on the error and scored on Jim Finigan's sacrifice fly.

Brown, now 4-0 against the Indians since 1956, gave up only five hits, two of them homers by Tito Francona and Minnie Minoso. Billy Loes saved it with a perfect mop-up in the ninth.

The Oriole home runs came off Score (7-5), who has allowed 17 this season, 12 in his last 32 innings.

The A's, who had lost seven of nine to the Yankees, stopped that nonsense behind the seven-hit pitching of southpaw Bud Daley (7-5). Dick Williams figured in all the Kansas City runs, hitting a two-run homer in the fifth against loser Jim Bronstad and singling along with Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris for the clincher in the seventh against reliever Jim Coates.

The last-place Senators beat the usually sure-fielding White Sox with three unearned runs in the ninth. Singles by Jim Lemon, Roy Sievers and Ken Aspromonte, plus errors by Luis Aparicio and Earl Torgeson, tagged Dick Donovan (4-5) with the defeat. Tex Clevenger (4-1) was the winner.

Don Buddin and Pete Runnels each had three hits for Boston and had RBI singles in a winning two-run seventh against loser Don Mossi (5-3). Mike Fornieles' perfect 2 2-3 relief innings saved it for Jack Harshman (2-6). Ted Williams was hitless, but drove in a run with a sacrifice fly for the Red Sox.

4 Texas Golfers Gain National JC Berths

WACO (AP)—Jerry Dixon of Andrews, Norman Taylor of Garland, Ronnie Rhome of Athens and Don Lackey of Borger held spots today in the National Jaycees Junior Golf Tournament.

The four won berths in the Portsmouth, Va., tournament yesterday.

Dixon shot a 3-over-par 73 for a 143 and the championship of the Texas tournament. Taylor took second over the Ridgewood Country Club course with 144. Rhome and Lackey tied at 145 for 36 holes and Lackey won a sudden death playoff for third place.

More than 50 competed.

The Camden Handicap victory for Vertex marked the ninth stakes win for the 5-year-old horse with Sam Boulmetis riding. Vertex was retired after the race due to a broken bone in his left foreleg.

Star San Antonio Player Returns

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Billy Williams, who bolted the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League Coast week, is expected back today or tomorrow.

General Manager Marvin Milkes said Williams, 21, went to his Whistler, Ala., home because he wasn't feeling well. Milkes said yesterday Williams feels all right now.

Williams, out of action since June 16, led the Texas League in runs batted in with 53. He led the Missions in home runs with nine.

Honest About It

THE DENISON HERALD

Addressing an AFL-CIO conference on collective bargaining in Philadelphia, Senator Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.), who is also chairman of the Republican National Committee, came out flatly against right-to-work laws adopted by some 18 or 19 states.

He was quite frank about his reason for opposing these state laws: they constitute a political hazard for office-seekers who espouse them. Support of them last year by some Republican candidates was a factor in their defeat, he said, especially in Ohio. (He might have mentioned California too, where Senator Knowland bit the dust as a gubernatorial candidate. Or he could have pointed out that in Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater was re-elected in spite of his advocacy of state right to work laws.)

One has to grant Senator Morton an "F" for frankness, or perhaps a "C" for candor. A national chairman's first concern is to gather votes for his candidates, and in making a bid for AFL-CIO support by speaking out against the right to work laws which labor bosses oppose bitterly, the GOP chairman was putting party above principle.

One can only speculate on how the assembled labor chieftains took the senator's unblushing bid for votes. There must have been some exchange of glances interspersed with cynical smiles here and there about the room.

Washington Having Its Ceiling Worries

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Low ceilings are plaguing Washington again. The secretary of the Treasury keeps bumping his head on the federal debt ceiling, and now he's bumping it on the bond interest ceiling.

Congress keeps raising the debt limit temporarily or permanently or in combination so the Treasury can pay the bills that Congress has okayed.

Now Congress is in a quandary over what to do with the interest rate—let the secretary squirm under it, or just jack it up a bit, or remove it altogether.

In financial circles there's a growing belief that ceilings aren't realistic anyway. It's argued that they cramp the secretary of the Treasury without deterring any of the things they're supposed to.

But a lot of congressmen won't buy this.

They say that putting a limit on how high the federal debt should go is a moral victory even if frequently it isn't an actual one.

And they say that interest rates should be kept low to aid home builders, small businessmen, instalment plan buyers and farmers.

These congressmen look for other ways of doing this than just letting the nation's monetary and financial structure work itself out in a free market dominated by the supply of and demand for borrowed money and credit.

Some congressmen are urging the nation's money managers to increase the supply of money and credit.

This would hold down the interest rates, although in boom times the easier money gets usually the more the demand for credit grows, especially for speculative adventures. And usually as money gets cheaper, the higher the price of other things rises.

Money is tighter now than last year because more people want to borrow for business or personal or government reasons, and because the money managers fear that easy credit would encourage a speculative boom and trigger a new inflationary spree.

Some congressmen who don't want the interest charges on long-term federal debt to rise argue that the Treasury should get the new cash it needs by borrowing in the short-term market. There's no ceiling on the interest it pays on securities that mature in five years or less.

But in financial circles it's argued that such short-term Treasury borrowing often leads to expansion of bank credit and thus an increase in inflationary pressures.

Police Hunt Doctor For Murder Rap

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A dispatch from Tijuana said today police are hunting a doctor who posed as a woman for over five years to escape arrest in connection with a murder case.

It said Dr. Antonio Pina Reyes left Mexicali in 1953 when police wanted to question him about a death and showed up later in several Baja California towns, with long hair and makeup, as a woman doctor, Graciela Nava Pina.

A year ago, the dispatch said, he moved to Rosarito Beach, 26 miles from Tijuana, and set up an office in a trailer.

He joined a women's club and soon had a good practice. At times he even entertained police officials. But it was because he had some fashionable women patients that his masquerade was made known.

A nurse with whom he was friendly became jealous and tipped off the police, said the Tijuana account. But the doctor fled before they could catch him.

Berlin Crisis Can't Be Shoved Aside For Very Long Time

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time, like an old lady with a broom, has swept the Berlin crisis under the rug. But it's still there and pretty soon it will have to be faced again.

Strangely, although everybody knows how the crisis started, nobody seems to know why even though it's been examined and talked about for almost seven months.

It was last Nov. 27 that Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin although they've had them there since World War II days.

Since then most Western thinking has been occupied with wondering whether Khrushchev was determined to force a showdown with the West or whether he could be negotiated out of it.

But the why of what he did remains a mystery. So does his yearning for a summit conference, which began about the same time.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who told the nation Tuesday night about his troubles with the Soviets, negotiated six weeks with them at Geneva to reach some understanding about Berlin.

Then the West and the Soviet Union decided to take a breather. They recessed until July 13 when they'll meet again in Geneva. At the rate they've been going, the summer may be over before they reach an agreement or break off altogether.

So the crisis, out of sight at least until mid-July, must be faced again.

The Soviets, who have striven hard to keep their satellite world tight and intact, must consider the Western troops in West Berlin, and even the city itself with its inhabitants linked to the West, as a cancerous condition.

The city, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is an island of two million free people right in the heart of the Communist world. And their interests and allegiances are turned westward.

Khrushchev could have had several reasons for precipitating this crisis with his Nov. 27 warning:

1. He may have felt that the Soviet Union—for whom the West Berlin situation has long been a sore spot—is now sufficiently powerful to force a showdown with the West, in the hope the latter would let the city go.

2. He may have felt this was as good a time as any to test or try to shake the solidarity of the United States and West European alliance. Would some of the West Europeans, or even the United States, be willing to face the war over Berlin?

That's a question which must have been in the Soviet mind a long time. Khrushchev may have decided it was time to look for an answer. One thing is certain:

If the West backs down on Berlin, reaching an agreement which would leave the city and its people open to Communist absorption, the whole Western alliance is weakened and may be ruined.

That would be a wonderful bargain for Khrushchev at very little expense. The only expense would be the time and the wind he used up in making the threat.

These are exactly what they appear to be: Guesses, even though they look like obvious ones. But no one can pretend he has the positive answers. And because the West doesn't have the answer it is to that degree involved in a guessing game.

That alone puts it at a disadvantage in trying to negotiate a settlement with Khrushchev. In the end the only way open to the West to overcome this disadvantage may be to end negotiations and tell Khrushchev:

"You made the threat, now make good."

If the West reaches that point the crisis will be here in earnest.

Delaware was settled by Swedes, Finns and Dutch. Henry Hudson explored the area in 1609.

Son's First Dance Wears Out Parents

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — My son, nearing 14, had his first date the other night. His parents are still trying to recover.

The occasion was a dance for the junior high school graduating class. They didn't have such things back in Tecumseh, Okla., when father was a boy, but never mind. Times change.

To start with, Master Brenn Turner Stilley didn't hanker to attend the dance at all. It wasn't because he didn't know how to dance. He does. They teach it in schools here nowadays.

For days mother scurried about. New shoes, new shirt, new tie. Letting out the coat sleeves of his one good suit to cover his gangly arms. Getting the suit cleaned and pressed.

The great night finally arrived. Mother gave son an endless review of previous instructions in the social graces.

Father did likewise, taking the lad aside to slip him a five-spot for running expenses. The budding Lothario also was urged not to make a nitwit of himself by abandoning his date at the dance to gather and gab with the other yaps.

Father tied son's tie, combed his hair and loaded him into the family car with another boy to pick up their dates and transport them. The dates, who happened to be twins, were escorted out of their dwelling and what did the boys do?

Climbed into the back seat and left the girls standing. Dad had to hustle out, open the door in embarrassment and put them in the front seat.

Sonny boy had said not to wait up. Said he could walk his girl home and make it back to the old homestead without any help. Nevertheless mother, as mothers do, waited up.

About midnight the young swain ambled in. His mother simply couldn't resist. "How did the dance turn out?" was the way she put it.

"My feet hurt," was all the reply she got.

Chiefs Of State Join To Open Seaway

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, who shuns the U. S. presidential yacht, will board Queen Elizabeth's plush Britannia Friday and cruise with the Queen along 31 miles of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two chiefs of state will meet here to formally open the seaway, the joint U. S.-Canadian project that can bring three-fourths of the world's ships to the heartland of America.

A cruise aboard the six million dollar yacht Britannia will take them to Beauharnois, Que., from the seaway entrance at St. Lambert. They will go through the first two in a series of locks, the liquid stairways which lift shipping 224 feet from the St. Lawrence River into Lake Ontario.

Seaway authorities are still ironing out kinks. But two months of operation have proved the system works. More than 1,500 ships have used the waterway since it opened April 25.

Friday, in less than 12 hours, the President will fly, walk, motor and sail about 1,000 miles.

Flying from Washington, Eisenhower will land in his plane Columbine III at the St. Hubert Air Base. This jet fighter center eight miles east of Montreal is a unit in the North America Air Defense network that maintains contact 24 hours a day with NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. About 17,000 persons, some of them Americans, work at St. Hubert.

Elizabeth will meet the President there.

Even during the royal greetings a group of pilots will be in the ready room, set to take off in CF-100 jet interceptors if northern radar stations signal an attack.

"We've got radar watching out for the enemy and also keeping an eye on the weather," a Canadian Air Force officer said. "We're prepared for both. We'll do the welcoming inside a hangar if it rains."

There will be a 21-gun salute for the President. While the Queen watches, Eisenhower is to inspect a 100-man honor guard.

Then Elizabeth and the President, along with Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, will drive to the Queen's yacht anchored at St. Lambert, across the St. Lawrence from Montreal.

A crowd of thousands will be on hand to greet the Queen and the President on a 30-acre flat area bordering the seaway channel.

The royal procession will drive along a roadway lined with flags of 108 shipping lines to a grass-banked plaza, flanked by a mammoth grandstand. They will mount a modernistic dais set in the center of five giant wooden archways.

After receiving books in silver cases listing every worker who has helped since 1945 to build the seaway, the Queen and the President are to deliver speeches and then board the Britannia, moored 3,500 feet away at a special dock made of three floating barges.

A 21-gun salute by a Canadian warship docked nearby will send the yacht on her way up the seaway canal.

The Britannia is to pass through symbolic gates in the canal to formally start the seaway on its career.

The party will dine aboard the yacht, watching out portholes. They are to sail within shouting distances of the backyards of homes on an Indian reservation at Caughnawaga, Que., about eight miles west of Montreal, and pass Canadian and American warships in line in Lake St. Louis.

At the Beauharnois Locks, 31 miles up the 185-mile-long seaway channel to Lake Ontario, the President is to take leave of the Queen to return to Washington.

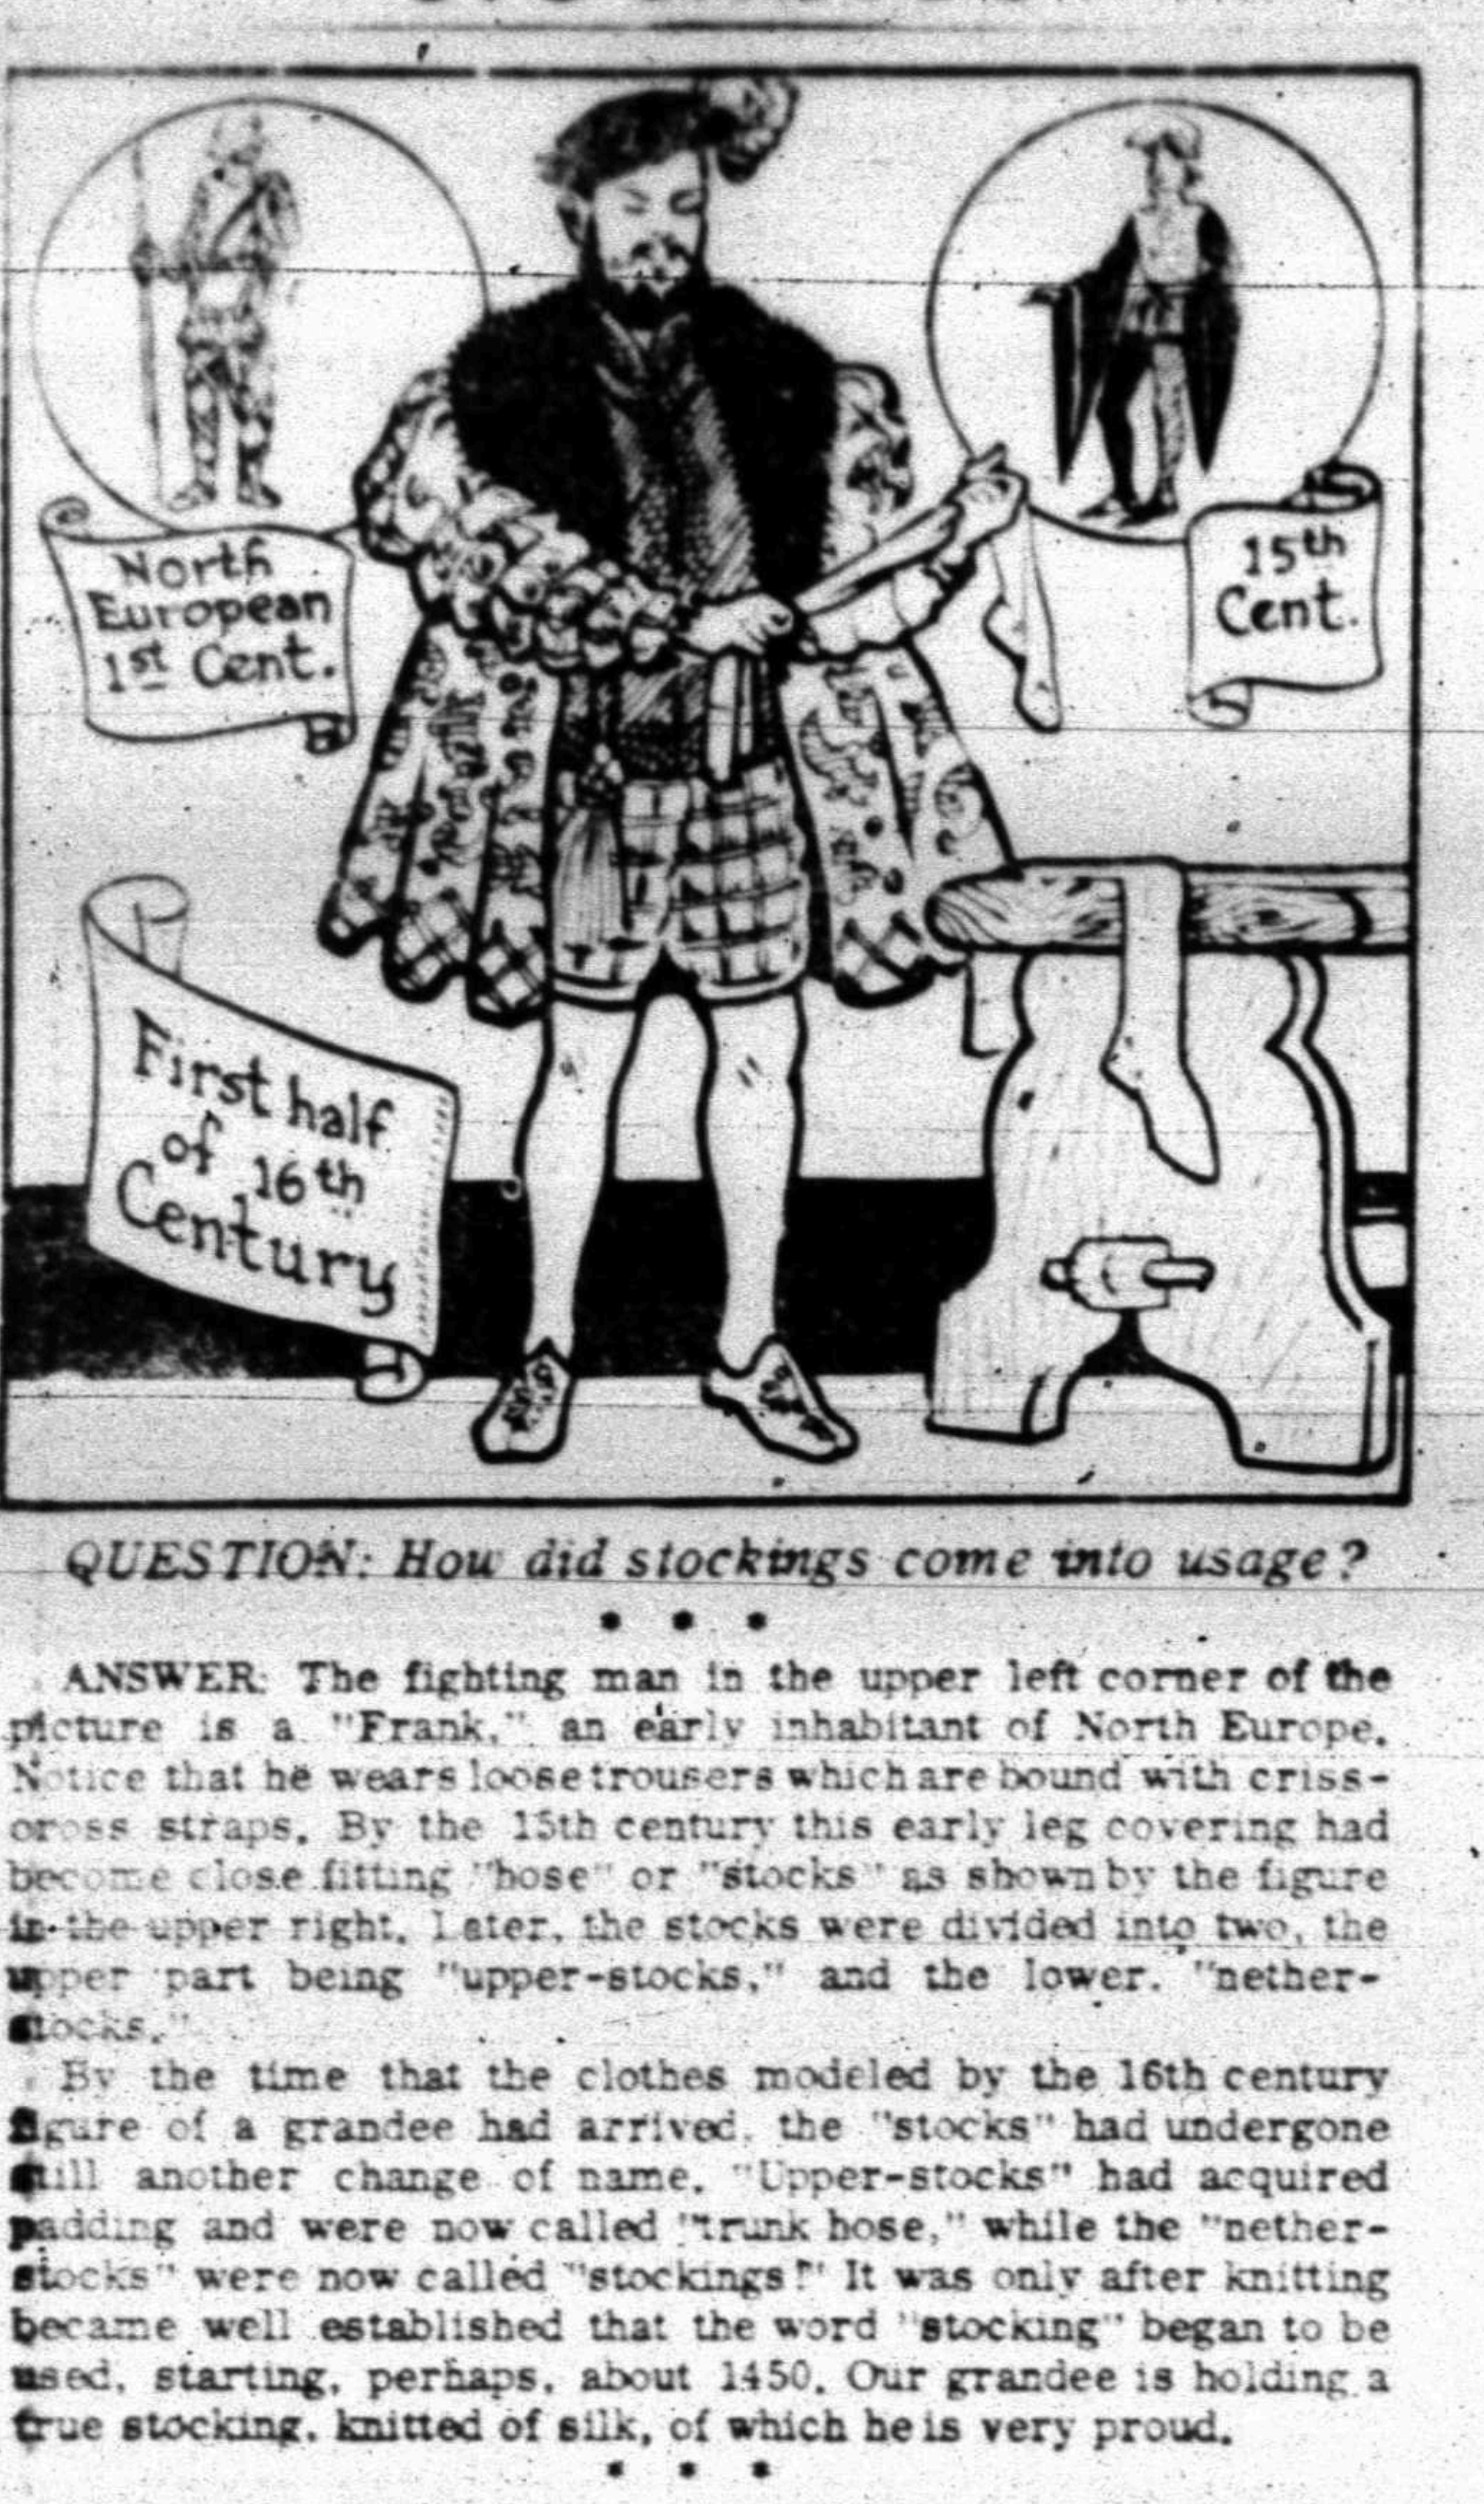
Eisenhower will spend five hours board the Britannia. Whether the trip changes his mind about the use of yachts remains to be seen. He ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of commission in 1953, calling it a symbol of needless luxury.

The 412-foot Britannia is certainly luxurious. Her state dining room will seat 50 in blue leather chairs. The royal apartments are lavish. The steam turbine vessel is completely air conditioned. A white upper structure sets off the blue hull. She has traveled 100,000 miles since she was built six years ago, and was sailed across the Atlantic. The Queen herself flew for the royal tour across Canada, highlighted by the St. Lawrence ceremonies.

The Queen Friday will be repaying Eisenhower for the hospitality he showed her and Prince Philip when they visited Washington in 1957. This time she is visiting only one city in the United States, Chicago.

This is Eisenhower's second visit in a year to the St. Lawrence Valley. Last July at Massena, N. Y., he inspected an array of dams and generators which make the seaway project an important producer of electric power for Ontario and New York state.

Junior Editors Quiz on STOCKINGS



North European 1st Cent.
15th Cent.
First half of 16th Century

QUESTION: How did stockings come into usage?

ANSWER: The fighting man in the upper left corner of the picture is a "Frank," an early inhabitant of North Europe. Notice that he wears loose trousers which are bound with criss-cross straps. By the 15th century this early leg covering had become close fitting "hose" or "stocks" as shown by the figure in the upper right. Later, the stocks were divided into two, the upper part being "upper-stocks," and the lower, "nether-stocks."

By the time that the clothes modeled by the 16th century figure of a grandee had arrived, the "stocks" had undergone still another change of name. "Upper-stocks" had acquired padding and were now called "trunk hose," while the "nether-stocks" were now called "stockings!" It was only after knitting became well established that the word "stocking" began to be used, starting, perhaps, about 1450. Our grandee is holding a true stocking, knitted of silk, of which he is very proud.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: This would be a fine picture for you to cut out and color. The background could be a light yellow. Using blues, purples and browns on figures and table would make them stand out.

Reservists Get Perfect Camp Record

AUSTIN (AP)—Maj. Gen. Earl Rudder, commander of the streamlined 90th Infantry Division, reported yesterday that the Texas Army Reserve unit completed its annual active duty training without a single unsatisfactory rating from an Army evaluation team.

Col. Kirk P. Brock, professor of military science and tactics at Arlington State College, headed a 10-member evaluation group which made 6,562 inspections of 90th units during two weeks training at Fort Polk, La.

The division received 1,752 superior ratings, 3,796 excellent, 781 very satisfactory and 233 satisfactory in unofficial scoring, Gen. Rudder reported.

The 90th, Texas' own Army Reserve division, was the first Army division—regular or reserve—to put the "new infantry division" concept into field operation. Less than three months ago, the "Tough 'Ombres" were reorganized along pentomic lines. Training under the "new look" ranged from 3-day bivouacs in the field by battle groups to lectures on the SS-10 guided missile for assault weapons platoons.

"Never have I seen Reservists respond so quickly and effectively to training in a new situation," Gen. Rudder said of the new 5-sided operational format. "We have a head start if we were to be activated."

More than 7,500 Texans from 60-plus cities in the state participated in annual unit training at Fort Polk. The T-0 Patchers received $706,300 in pay at the end of camp.

Killed By Truck

DALLAS (AP)—A panel truck struck and killed Peter Van Arsdall, 13, as he alighted from a bus yesterday. Police held the truck driver blameless in the death of the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Van Arsdall Jr.

RIOT EVIDENCE — This littered corridor in a cell unit shows damage done by rioting inmates at the U. S. Medical Center in Springfield, Mo. Guards finally stormed the barricaded wing to subdue the rioters and free five hostages. (AP Wirephoto)

One Prisoner At Medical Center Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—One of the 53 prisoners injured when guards broke up an inmate rebellion at the U. S. Medical Center Tuesday is dead.

Warden Russell O. Settle disclosed the number of injured Wednesday night when he announced the death of Richard Smith. The 24-year-old Salt Lake City man suffered a skull fracture when guards stormed the hospital wing held by prisoners.

One of the five guards held hostage for 16 hours, Robert B. Rosendahl, is hospitalized with severe cuts. His condition is fair. Seven inmates still are being treated.

Settle said the prisoners caused about $10,000 damage.

Smith was sentenced from Salt Lake City in February 1953 for violating federal motor vehicle theft laws and making threats to kill or harm the President.

Depot Agent Watches Woman In Suicide

PIGGOT, Ark. (AP) — Depot Agent Norman Harris saw Mrs. Homer Hanks, 57, walk toward the railroad crossing Wednesday as a train approached and frantically waved at her.

She smiled as if acknowledging a greeting. Then she was struck by the cotton belt freight train and killed.

Harris said Mrs. Hanks was partly deaf. She was carrying an umbrella that shielded her view.

Highway Funds To Be In Contracts By '60

Ice Skater's Mate On Ice Too Much

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An ice skater says her marriage to her rink partner cooled because he spent 12 to 14 hours daily on the ice without her.

"I became very lonely," Anne Holt, 29, testified Wednesday as she divorced Austin Holt, 33.

The Holts hold seventh ranking as world figure-skating pairs, she said. She is also an actress, whom TV fans have seen in "Dragnet" and Alfred Hitchcock thrillers.

The court ordered Holt to pay $300 monthly support for the couple's two children.

Payment To Railroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation directing the payment of $38,726 to the Galveston, Houston & Henderson Railroad Co. for expenses incurred in the alteration of the bridge over Brays Bayou in Houston, Tex., was signed yesterday by President Eisenhower.

Two Missing Buses Found In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two of three missing American buses have been found in Mexico. The U.S. Embassy said yesterday the other is expected to be located soon.

One bus was recovered in Ciudad Miguel Aleman, in the state of Veracruz, the embassy said. The exact location of the other is being withheld to facilitate its recovery.

"We are certain to recover the third bus shortly," an embassy spokesman said.

Hamish Turner, president of Carolina Scenic Trailways of Spartanburg, S.C., sent the three buses to Laredo, Tex., for sale to Mexican interests.

The potential buyer made a down payment of $4,200, promising to pay another $91,990 after testing the air conditioning. The buses were driven to Mexico May 24 and that was the last Turner heard of them.

Dist. Atty. Bismark Pope said in Laredo the Webb County grand jury is investigating. Pope said grand jurors, presently in recess, will convene tomorrow.

Robbed State Office To Get Publicity

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Clytus told Judge Gerald Levin he robbed the state unemployment office of $1,500 not for the money but to get publicity for his literary efforts.

The judge let him off with a six-month jail term and five years probation, but warned: "This is not the best way to get publicity for your magnum opus."

Clytus, 29, was arrested several days after the holdup in April when he complained to police that "some dirty crook" broke into the Greyhound locker and stole the $1,500 he had hidden there.

He told Judge Levin he had intended to hold onto the money until he had sent a manuscript to a publisher.

Heart Massage Fails To Save Boy's Life

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—Twelve year old James Arnold's heart stopped Tuesday while a physician was sewing up his foot, cut in a lawn mower accident.

Dr. T. E. Wade opened the boy's chest and massaged the heart for 90 minutes until its action was restored. It failed to save James' life, however. He died Wednesday afternoon.

The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Arnold who live near Tyrone, Okla. Dr. Wade said a heart ailment caused the boy's collapse while he was being treated.
