TEN AMERICAN LIVES LOST WHEN BRITISH STEAMER ARMENIAN SUNK

By Associated Press:

Washington, June 30.—Twenty-nine lives were lost and ten Americans were among missing when a German submarine on June 28th, torpedoed and sank the Dominion liner, Armenian, near Cornwall, England. The American consul at Bristol, England, reported the facts this afternoon.

The Armenian was a British steamer which left Newport News, Va., for Avonmouth, England, June 7th.

BUYING OF FUTURES INSTEAD OF STORING

LOCAL GRAIN MAN SUGGESTS A PLAN FOR FARMERS WHO HAVE NO STORAGE ROOM

WHY CAN'T STORE WHEAT

In Case of Embargo Demurrage
Would Cause Grain Dealers Disastrous Losses

Although it has been deemed inadvisable to store wheat for farmers in this city, the Wichita Mill and Elevator company has advanced a plan whereby the farmer, instead of holding wheat, paying storage, insurance, depreciation, shrinkage and interest on the money, may sell now and yet take advantage of any advance in price. The rule of course would work both ways, and should the price go below present figures, the farmer would have to stand the loss, but he would meet this loss anyhow if he stored his wheat.

The plan is explained by Mr. Priddy of the Wichita mill, is for a farmer to sell his crop at the present market price of 90 cents, bringing him $900. Using only $100 of this money, the farmer could buy through the mill, September wheat, on a ten cent margin. September wheat is today quoted at $1.06 5/8; next September if the price is above that figure, the farmer gets the advantage of any advance, just the same as if he held his wheat until then, and he will have saved, according to Mr. Priddy, the cost of storage and insurance, and the loss from shrinkage and depreciation in weight and test, as well as the interest on his money.

Explaining why the mills are not disposed to store wheat for farmers, Mr. Priddy cited the experience of last year when the embargo on Galveston exports was declared. The local mill had bought many cars of wheat for shipment to Galveston, the terms being f o b shipping point. Unable to get this wheat into Galveston and having no elevator room in which to store it, there was nothing to do but pay demurrage charges. This year, with no wheat accepted for storage, a similar situation could be met by shipping the wheat to elevators here and in other cities until the embargo was removed.

Mr. Priddy considers that the advantage of his plan for buying futures, as above outlined, is that whether the market advances or declines, the farmer will be better off by selling now than he would by storing. If the price advances the farmer will make more money than by storing. Mr. Priddy contends, and if the price declines, the farmer's loss will be smaller. In the typical case, above outlined, only one-ninth of the money paid the farmer for his wheat would be used for buying futures, and he would save interest on the remainder.

INCOME FROM STATE LAND SALES AND LEASES

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 30.—Land sales and leases for June as reported today by the state treasury department amounted to $146,696 of which $125,947 went to the credit of the various available funds and $20,749 to the credit of the permanent fund. Of the available fund $125,112 is public school open account and goes to the credit of the available school fund and of the permanent fund $17,015 is to the credit of the permanent school fund.

RUSSIANS RETREATING SOUTHEAST OF LUBLIN

German Official Statement Reports
Slaves Fleeing Back From Vistula River Front

By Associated Press.
Berlin, June 30.—The Russians have begun a retreat from the Vistula river and the district of Zamosc southeast of Lublin in Russian Poland, according to the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff. The statement also says that a Russian aeroplane was forced to land and was captured by the Germans.

In France an attack on German positions near the "Labrynth" was repulsed and four French attacks were driven back with heavy losses in the Meuse.

Reports Received at Laredo Tell of Heavy Losses of Life in Fighting Near Monterrey

By Associated Press.
Laredo, Tex., June 30.—Alleged Huerta troops were concealed in the mountains of Chihuahua, Mexico, last Thursday and for some time before that, according to a letter reaching here from Madera in the state of Chihuahua. This letter dated June 17th, says: "The mountains are full of Huerta troops, and they are paying for everything in Mexican gold and in national bank notes."

The letter says that a sack of flour at Madera costs $250 in Mexican money. Today's report by incoming railroad passengers of the fighting between Carranza and Villa forces near Monterrey said that shooting was almost incessant and losses of life were reported heavy.

By Associated Press.
London, June 30.—Premier Asquith today made reply in the House of Commons to the questions asked yesterday whether the government would state the terms on which it would accept peace by saying "it would not be in the public interest to add anything to what I have already stated publicly on this subject."

EVELYN WILL TESTIFY AGAINST HARRY THAW

By Associated Press.
New York, June 30.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has accepted subpoena service and will testify for state at Thaw's sanity trial. Dr. Charles Mills, insanity expert, today testified Thaw believes Evelyn wants him remain at Mattwau so he cannot change his will and cut her off from inheritance.

THREE MORE MEXICANS ARRESTED AT EL PASO

By Associated Press.
El Paso, June 30.—General Marcelo Cravero, Ike Alderete and Frank Alderete were arrested by federal officials today in connection with the alleged Huerta plot to launch a new revolution in Mexico. They were arraigned before George Oliver, U. S. commissioner.

Federal authorities are searching for Felix Diaz who arrived here last night. The reasons for his visit are unknown here and Huerta denied he had anything to do with him.

Jose Robles who is here on a compromise peace mission said that he believed that by the middle of July the various factions would agree to plans he has in mind. He refused to disclose these plans.

OFFENSE A MISDEMEANOR

Judge in Charge to Grand Jurors Declares People of Atlanta Have Been Sorely Tried

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., June 26.—The Fulton county grand jury today returned indictments charging riots against the twenty-six men arrested by the militia last Saturday in the vicinity of former Governor Slaton's home. The offense charged was a misdemeanor under the Georgia law, punishable by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than $100 or by both.

JUDGE HILL CHARGES ATLANTA GRAND JURY

Investigation of Demonstrations
Against Governor Slaton Now Being Made

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., June 30.—In charging the Fulton county grand jury to investigate the cases of the twenty-six men arrested last week by the militia in the vicinity of former Governor Slaton's suburban home, Judge Benjamin Hill of the superior court today declared "that mob violence sounds the threat of free government and constitutional rights." He said that it was a sad day for the history of Georgia if mob law existed.

Judge Hill charged the grand jury to present indictments of riot if they found that two or more had assembled to commit an unlawful act against the governor or his property. If it was found that two or more went on the governor's premises that act would be treason. "The people of this county have had much to bear in the last two years," said Judge Hill.

LESS INCOME, ALSO LESS OPERATING EXPENSES

Texas Railroads Apparently Practicing
Rigid Economy to Make Business Pay

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 30.—The railroad commission made public today a comparative statement of the operating revenue and operating expenses and income of Texas railroads for the ten months ending April 30, last, as compared with the previous ten months. The statement shows a total operating revenue to be $85,764,998 which is a decrease of $3,444,778 or 3.9 per cent; total operating expenses, $71,070,568, a decrease of $4,828,864 or 6.36 per cent; income from operation $18,694,429, an increase of $1,184,086 or 6.76 per cent.

TENOR OF GERMAN NOTE AS YET UNDETERMINED

Berlin, via London, June 30.—Official circles in Berlin are authority for the statement that no intimation respecting the actual contents of the forthcoming German note in reply to the American note bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania has reached Washington for the reason that those engaged in drafting the document have themselves not determined its tenor as yet.

The admiralty professes ignorance of its probable contents and nothing has been issued from that quarter. The foreign office is understood to be working on four different drafts and trying to select one that will reconcile the viewpoint of Germany and the United States.

The possibility that a satisfactory solution to the Lusitania problem might be reached was hinted at by an official of the foreign office, who recently declared:

"President Wilson's note showed that the matter could be adjusted. It was in the nature of a bridge across the trouble; our reply probably will be another girder strengthening that bridge."

TEUTONS MAINTAIN DRIVING POWER

PUSHING GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS ARMIES WELL BACK INTO
RUSSIAN POLAND

A WAR MUNITION'S BOARD

Russia Given Board Full Power Over
All Private Plants—Law Already in Effect

By Associated Press.
London, June 30.—No loss in the driving power of the Teutonic armies before which the Russians are retreating eastward is indicated by the latest official reports from the front. All along the line from eastern Galicia northward well into Russian Poland the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas are being pushed back, although fighting stubbornly as they retreat and inflicting heavy losses on the pursuing Teutons.

Russians reply to the brilliant series of Austro-German successes is a law setting up a board of munitions empowered to spend unlimited money and given virtually unrestricted power over all private industries in the whole of the country. It is reported from Petrograd that the creation of the board became a law with a certainty that was absolutely astounding, which is taken to indicate that the country fully realized that the recent disasters to the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas largely were due to lack of munitions and equipment.

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.
In the west the French are hammering away at the German positions in the Arras region and making some progress. They report meanwhile the frustrating of German attempts to gain new ground in the Vosges east of Metz. The Germans report regains of attempts by the French to regain territory lost in the Meuse hills.

The Austrians, although well occupied in the Galician campaign, are not neglecting to keep a sharp watch on the Italian front, reports from the Tyrol and Trentino districts of a stance menacing notable activity of the Austrian artillery. Italy's forces are making slow headway on the Isonzo, unfavorable atmospheric conditions being mentioned as interfering with operations there.

BALKAN BUILDUP.
Mytilene advises record an exploit of a Turkish gunboat which bombarded a Turkish port of Chios, Lydia and Agila destroying petroleum depots and several small vessels.

The diplomatic situation with regard to the Balkan states is widely under discussion. The recent conference under the German chancellor and the German and Austrian foreign ministers is followed by assertions in German quarters that the hope of a quadruple entente powers for military assistance from the Balkan states have been materially, in connection with this claim the occupation of Scutari, Albania by the Montenegrins is an interesting development. Special dispatches from the Balkan states have been received in Constantinople.

It is clear however, that Bulgaria is not dissatisfied with the Balkan states. That Turkey has not lost hope of conciliating her dangerous neighbor is shown by the news that Bulgar-Turkish negotiations looking to the delimitation of the frontiers of their respective countries will be resumed in Constantinople. Rumors of break in the diplomatic relations between Italy and Turkey again are rife.

$71,000,000 BOND ISSUE SEVERAL TIMES OVERSUBSCRIBED

New York, June 30.—Unusual interest attached to the sale by the city of $71,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent bonds, not only because of the magnitude of the offering, the largest in the city's history, but more particularly because of its bearing upon the general investment situation at this time. Considering the enormous cash resources available at this time, the city is expected to attract a rate into account, attracting interest rate to be much below expectations. It was freely predicted in the financial district a few days ago that the average bid for the year issue, which comprises $45,000,000 of the whole, would be at around 103, while the serial issue would average at least 102. Only a few of the small bids opened today came within range of the estimates, one of the most important of these "all or none" bids made by a leading banking syndicate falling far short of these figures.

To a large extent the distributed financial conditions in Europe were responsible for the low bids. The new British war loan, which offers the same interest return and has caused further British selling of American securities, was a factor militating against any bids from London.

All told, bids were more than four times in excess of the total issue.

TURK TROOPS BEFORE FRENCH ARE EXHAUSTED

By Associated Press.
Paris, June 30.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Athens says the exhaustion of the Turks facing the French forces on the Gallipoli peninsula is evident and leads to the belief that the Turkish position at Krizia will soon be taken by assault. In a recent advance made by the French, it is added, 6,000 Turks were found dead in the trenches on the front taken.

BUY-IT-MADE-IN- TEXAS ENDORSED

WICHITA FALLS WILL ELECT DI-RECTOR IN ORGANIZATION
AT MASS MEETING

ITS PROMOTERS VISIT CITY

Opposition From Some Quarters Due to Misunderstanding—The Move
Steadily Gaining Support

Indorsement of the "Buy-It-Made-In-Texas" movement was given Tuesday afternoon by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, when J. F. Shelton, J. E. Cunningham and J. Benjamin McBrey, the former directors and the latter acting secretary, presented the matter to them. Election of a Wichita Falls man to service as director was deferred until next Tuesday.

Messrs. Shelton and Cunningham spoke, explaining the purposes of the movement and giving their side of the controversy which was read to those present. Their constitution was read to those present. Mr. Shelton spoke upon the merits of the movement, saying that men who spent their money in Texas were sure to get some part of it back sooner or later, and he pointed out that the sending of money to other states prevents any part of it ever returning.

Upon motion of Mr. Kemp the movement was indorsed, but it was decided to postpone electing a director until a larger meeting could be held.

J. B. Mabry Acting Secretary.
J. B. Mabry, who is acting secretary of the movement, formerly worked as a newspaperman in this city. Mr. Mabry declared that the report of an alleged split had been much exaggerated and that as the opponents of the move were learning more about it they were joining it.

"It is exceedingly regrettable that there has been any misunderstanding in this matter," said Mr. Mabry. "There was no split in the convention and a few left and they when only the first preliminary report of the constitution and by-laws and organization committees had been made."

The constitution finally passed was decidedly different from the first one submitted. In the first place, the name "Texas Association of Commerce" was voted down, after which the name "Texas Manufacturers Association" was offered.

Edward Cunningham, president of the Texas Federation of Labor explained that this would not be acceptable to organized labor on account of a national association with a similar name, was identical to organized labor and finally the name "Buy-It-Made-In-Texas" as originally suggested by Labor Commissioner Woodman was selected.

"It also is to be regretted that there has been published misleading statements relative to the constitution and by-laws and that these are acceptable as evidenced by the action of the directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce yesterday in endorsing the movement and agreeing to elect a director for this city at its meeting next Tuesday."

"When I went to Austin to handle the publicity in the preliminary campaign, one of the first men I thought of in soliciting an opinion of the movement was Frank Kell of Wichita Falls and he heartily endorsed the movement and when I saw him at the depot when we came in this afternoon he still expressed his belief that the movement was in the right direction and also that he was sorry that an important business engagement outside the city was taking him away so that he could not attend the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce."

"It is a manufacturers organization—that is, the manufacturers will derive the first and immediate benefits and for that reason they were made the active members and bear the brunt of the expenses, though the constitution is so liberal that absolutely no citizen of Texas is barred from associate membership and associate members have a voice and vote in all meetings of the association."

"It was—and is—the desire and intention of the promoters of the movement to bring more work and more money and more general prosperity to every individual in the state."

"Another thing, the discord at Dallas or on the part of the Dallas delegates has been greatly magnified and at the meeting in this city Monday every man who spoke favored the movement, but did not like to have a small number speak for all and for that purpose a special meeting is to be called at Dallas in a day or two."

Edward Cunningham of Bridgeport, president of the State Federation of Labor, who is one of the six directors elected regarding the reported "split of organized labor," said:

"It cannot be truthfully said that any such thing occurred. It is a fact that organized labor did not like the name 'Texas Manufacturers Association' and some of them left before the change was made. If they had remained for the rest of the convention, I feel confident that there would have been no such misunderstanding. The Fort Worth Trades Council has indorsed the movement. This movement means a great deal for organized labor and I feel that when all is understood they will support it as a unit."

The committee left Wichita Falls this morning for Austin where a meeting will be held tonight. After that they will go to San Antonio and Houston. Later they expect to visit cities sufficient to obtain a full directorate of fifteen as provided by the constitution, each one from a different city.

WORLD CONVENTION OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

First World Meeting Since 1905 Will
Be Held in Chicago—15,000
Are Expected

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 30.—A review of the work of Christian Endeavor in every land, plans for its further extension, and the discussion of virtually every phase of religious activity, will come before the World Convention of the society of Christian Endeavor, which meets in the Coliseum at Chicago, July 7th to 12th.

It is expected that 15,000 delegates, representing one hundred thousand evangelical churches throughout the world, will be in attendance. The convention is the first world's meeting since 1905, when it was held in Australia, necessitated by the cancellation of the meeting arranged to be held at Sydney, N. S. W., in 1913. When originally planned, more than a year ago, it was expected that the Chicago convention would be the largest in the history of the organization. The war, however, will materially affect the European representation, and it is possible that there will be no delegates from either Germany or Austria. Representatives from England, France, Spain, Italy, Persia, India, Siam, China, Japan, Australia, Africa and Latin America already have reached the United States or are on their way.

On July 6th, the day preceding the opening of the convention, the 600th anniversary of the martyrdom of John Huss, the Bohemian religious leader who was burned at the stake, will be observed. Another break in the chain of convention meetings will be the Athletic Field Day, planned for July 10th, on the field of the University of Chicago. The sports will be under the direction of A. A. Slag, chairman of the athletic department of the university.

The convention as a body will discuss the world-wide topics of Temperance, Missions, and Peace. Reports from the field, including many from the various countries involved in the war, will be presented on the closing day.

Among the other topics that will be taken up are: "The Advantage of Christian Unity as Expressed in Cooperative Movements, in Home Missions, in Evangelism, in Foreign Missions and in International Relations." "The Sunday School," "The Prayer Meeting," "Social Service." In discussing church activities, especial consideration will be given to business administration, the country church, the city church, the needs of the layman, and the unchurched. The social service department will hear addresses on "Religion in Politics," "Cleaning up a City," and the "Saloon Problem." Bible reading in the public school and the question of Sabbath observance also will be taken up.

The Rev. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, will, it is feared, be unable to attend the convention on account of illness, but a representative list of leaders from a dozen different countries will be present.

The list of speakers includes men from many walks of life. Among them are Ira Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., until recently president of Ward Bell College; Rev. George H. Coombs pastor of the Christian Church, Kansas City, Mo.; Rev. W. W. Board, Cleveland, Ohio; J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Layman's Missionary Society; Dr. Royal J. Dye, a missionary in the Congo for many years; Rev. William Patterson of Toronto; Bishop W. M. Wesley, of the United Brethren Church of the Midwest; Western States; Rev. J. C. Caldwell, general secretary of the African Methodist Episcopal Church; John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College and formerly secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society; Clinton N. Howard, a well-known prohibition leader of Rochester, N. Y., and William J. Bryan, President Wilson and Vice President Marshall have also been invited to attend.

WICHITA FALLS DISTRICT NORTH TEXAS CONFERENCE

Committee Decides to Bring Presiding
Elder's Headquarters Here and Change Name

The headquarters of the presiding elder for the Bowie district are to be transferred to Wichita Falls and the name of the district will be changed to the Wichita Falls district. The committee appointed some time ago by the North Texas Conference of the M. E. Church, South, at a conference here yesterday reached this decision. The change will be made about December 1st, after the meeting of the conference.

The members of this committee are W. E. Forgy, Archer City; W. T. Manning, Bowie and Ed Grogan of Byers. The house used as the presiding elder's residence at Bowie is to be sold and the proceeds are to be used in helping buy a residence at Bowie. Citizens of Wichita Falls will provide 25 per cent of the cost of the residence here.

J. M. Bland of this city was appointed chairman of a committee for the selection of a residence here. The committee has had the change under advisement for some time. Wichita Falls is more centrally located and has better railroad facilities for reaching all parts of the district than Bowie.

WEDDING GUESTS OVERFLOW TOWN

WRECK CAUSED EXCITEMENT

Mrs. Clark Unknown to Others Organizes Auto Relief Party and Drives to Rescue

By Associated Press.
Bowling Green, Mo., June 30.—On the morning of the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the national House of Representatives, jumped out of bed at the news of the derailment of a train bearing guests to the wedding, and without her husband or any member of the news of the derailment of a relief automobile party and fled to the scene of the accident. Bennett Clark, her son, and parliamentarian of the House of Representatives, was the only member of the Clark family to awaken during the excitement. He with his mother and a dozen newspaper correspondents and society editors went to Bowling Green to report the wedding, composed the relief party.

Four cars of Chicago & Alton passenger train No. 10 en route from Kansas City to Chicago left the rails at Curryville, six miles west of Bowling Green. Among the guests to the Clark-Thompson wedding on the train were two brothers of Mrs. Clark, George and Joel Bennett and the latter's wife. None of the passengers were injured though all were badly shaken up. The accident occurred about midnight and a hour later a railroad man rushed into the Clark home and announces that the train had been wrecked. A train of automobiles, headed by one carrying Bennett and Mrs. Clark, rushed to Curryville and brought to Bowling Green some of the stalled wedding guests.

Miss Genevieve Clark is to be married late today to James McIlhenny Thompson, publisher of the New Orleans Item. Mr. Thompson and a majority of the bridal party reached Bowling Green on the train. The wedding ceremony preceding the one which was derailed. Hundreds of guests from other states, many of them prominent in political and social life of the nation, came to Bowling Green to attend the wedding and thousands came from Missouri. To the people of this State, Speaker Clark issued a blanket invitation and so great was the throng that took him at his word that Bowling Green could scarcely hold them. To provide headquarters for the hundreds the townspeople could not entertain sleeping cars were sidetracked in local yards. Many people came in special traps. The wedding was to take place on the lawn of "Honey-shuck," the Clark home if the weather was fair when the hour arrived. In the event of rain the ceremony was to take place in the Presbyterian church. The Reverend Robert F. Boyd of Louisville, Ky., will officiate.

For weeks wedding presents from far and near have poured into the Clark home. President Wilson sent two silver caskets. The Missouri congressional delegation sent a silver flower basket, three feet high. The town of Bowling Green was decorated gaily for the wedding. Flags were flying today from every window. The business district of the town was decorated and the streets were spick and span for the mayor had issued a proclamation calling on the townspeople to clean up for the wedding guests.

FARMERS ALREADY PLOWING FOR NEXT YEAR'S CROP

The condition of wheat straw is delaying threshing in some parts of this section, according to District Agent Campbell, who says that a good rain, followed by several days of hot, dry weather is needed. In its present state, the straw is not brittle and does not yield readily to the separator, with the result that considerable wheat is to be found in the straw after threshing is finished. Weather conditions of the past few weeks caused this condition he says.

A number of farmers are already plowing for the next crop, some of them not waiting to finish their threshing. This early plowing will result in much better prospects for next season, Mr. Campbell says.

Farmers who have used the gasoline tractors to pull their binders are well pleased with the performance. It is said, many of them being able to cut wheat at night when it would have been out of the question to keep the horses going that long.

Market Reports

Local Grain Market.

The price of wheat remained at 50 cents here today, considerable being offered. Oats were quoted at 34 and 35 cents.

Chicago Grain Futures.

By Associated Press. Chicago, June 30.—Bullish estimates on the domestic winter wheat crop turned the market upward today after an early decline. Opening prices which ranged 1-8 to 3-8 lower were followed by a slight additional sag and then an advance. Oats reflected the damage of other cereals. Reports of rain damage in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri developed further strength in wheat. Wheat closed firm; corn nervous. Wheat—July $1.05 5-8; Sept. $1.02 1-2; Dec. $1.05 5-8. Corn—July 73-2c; Sept. 72-3-8c; Dec. 63-7-8c. Oats—July 44-3-8c; Sept. 37-1-8c; Dec. 39-1-8c.

New York Cotton Futures.

By Associated Press. New York, June 30.—Cables again were practically steady and after opening at an advance, active months sold at about 8 points net higher on repeated covering, which was promoted by private crop reports indicating rather a lower condition than last month. Another private crop report issued during the middle of the morning made the condition 81 per cent and prices ranged 4 to 5 points net higher. The market strove, sheep receipts 120, the market strong. Lambs, $8.00.

Fort Worth Livestock.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, June 30.—Cattle receipts 6,800 head; the market brisk. Receipts, $6.50 1-2; 3-4. Hog receipts 1,000, the market ten cents higher. Light 77-5-8c; 7-8c. Sheep receipts 120, the market strong. Lambs, $8.00.

KATY TO BALLAST IN WICHITA FALLS DISTRICT

Ballasting of the roadbed of the Katy, Northwestern and Southern is to begin shortly according to H. P. Anderson of Dallas, superintendent of the Katy, who is here today with a party of Katy officials. Gravel is to be used on the Katy between this city and Whitesboro, while on the Southern, shale from the coal mines is already being used. Gravel ballasting is already under way in Oklahoma and will start on the Katy itself as soon as connection is established with a gravel pit near Gainesville.

The Katy party is here and will visit the Northwestern, on the periodical inspection tour. Special attention will be paid on this trip to the damage done by the recent floods, with a view to taking steps for permanent remedy. In the party are Superintendent H. P. Anderson, Superintendent of Motive Power W. L. Kellogg, Maintenance Superintendent A. A. Matthews; Douglas Neathery, Mr. Anderson's secretary and W. S. Cahill, local superintendent.

SAINT QUENTIN CONCENTRATION POINT DAMAGED GUNS

Paris.—Saint Quentin, supposed to be the general headquarters of German armies operating in France and Belgium, is the concentration point for damaged guns and rolling stock. The Krupps have installed in a motor car works there a plant for the repair of cannon, machine guns, auto-motiles, gun carriages, etc. German workmen were reported from Essen to equip the plant. Barbed wire is also prepared for use and distribution from there.

The Saint-Quentin works turns out an iron picket in the form of a cork-screw to replace the wooden pickets; they are thus able to stretch their barbed wire defenses without revealing their work to the enemy by the noise of driving pickets into the ground. The Germans have also installed a chemical works at Saint-Quentin.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, Will Help Other Women.

"Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I was tired, sleepy, feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches constantly."

"Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

"If you are a victim of any of the numerous ailments so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer."

"For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the woman's constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength."

JUDGE SWAYNE PASSES SENTENCE ON MYERS

Latter Calls Judy "Mutt Heads" and Declares He Has Been Railroaded to Gallows.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 30.—Before the sentence of death was passed upon him by Judge Swayne of the Seventeenth district court Tuesday, C. A. Myers made a statement in which he claimed justification for the shooting of A. W. Montague, characterized the jury as a "lot of mutt heads" and declared that he had been "railroaded" to the gallows. Thursday, August 12 is the day set for his execution.

Clint Williams, negro, convicted of the murder of Oscar Scroggins, messenger boy, was sentenced to be hanged August 6. He was sentenced shortly after 10 o'clock and Myers received his sentence at 11 o'clock.

On account of the weakened condition of the county jail and to thwart any effort at self injury, a special guard had been placed around Myers during his confinement, and when he was led from the jail he was escorted by the sheriff and four deputies. The handcuffs were removed from his wrists when they entered the court room.

After a brief recounting of the proceedings in the case, in which Myers was charged with the murder of A. W. Montague, superintendent of terminals for the Texas & Pacific railroad, Judge Swayne asked Myers if he had any statement to make before the sentence was passed.

Myers Makes Statement. "I will state I do not think I have had a fair trial," Myers said. "I have been railroaded but I will have to give you credit for the counsel you have appointed for me. They have made a hard fight, but the odds were against them. It was a case of capital versus poverty."

"Now I think that I was more justified in killing Montague than the State of Texas is in hanging me. I did not think I was right in doing it, I should not have killed him. I think that will be all at present."

He turned to the judge and continued:

"But I will say, you had the jury keyed up so the way you posted the Hayes jury they did not see any other way except to bring in a verdict exacting the full extent of the law for fear you would give them a roast. If they had not been a lot of mutt heads they would not have done it. That is all."

Judge Swayne replied to the prisoner that he felt that he had done his duty and that his conscience was clear.

He then proceeded in a trembling voice to deliver the death sentence, condemning the prisoner "to be hanged by the neck until dead, dead and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

When the sentence was concluded, Myers casually inquired: "What date was that, judge?"

He showed very little emotion during the entire ordeal.

Williams also received his sentence very calmly. When asked to make a statement, he requested that he be given an opportunity to be baptized in a church before being hung. The court granted the request. Williams said that his mother had made all necessary arrangements. He had nothing to say about the murder for which he was convicted.

Both Prisoners Under Guard.

Myers is now occupying the same cell he has had since the confirmation of his sentence by the court of criminal appeals. The cell occupied by Williams is on the same floor, but a few feet away. Extra precautions have been taken to insure the safety of the prisoners.

With reference to the instructions of Myers, Judge Swayne said that during the trial he had given Myers every advantage. This, he said, was also the opinion of the higher court in passing on the case. He said that he (Swayne) went to Dallas where Myers was held for safekeeping, and brought him back here to consult with lawyers so that they would have plenty of time to prepare their case before the trial began. Judge Swayne declared that he did not believe that any one who was familiar with Myers would agree with Myers' statement that he had been "railroaded" and did not receive a fair trial.

BANKS WARNED ABOUT PATENT RIGHT NOTES

Austin, Texas, June 30.—Commissioner of Insurance and Banking Department sent out letters to the cashiers of the various state banks calling their attention to the act of the last Legislature relative to notes given for patent right consideration or patent right territory.

"In our opinion," said the commissioner, "the law intended to render this character of notes non-negotiable and practically non-reinforceable, as it leaves them subject to all defenses the maker thereof might urge against the original owner. Certainly these could not under any circumstances be classed as desirable paper."

"In this connection we recommend that banks discontinue discounting notes taken by transient parties, such as those given in payment of life insurance premiums, phonos, stocks of promoted concerns, where large fees go to the promoters, etc., as they are extending no accommodation to their customers in discounting such notes, and it has been the observation of this department that considerable loss yearly develops in this class of paper."

"This department will not lock with favor upon notes of this character found in the assets of your bank. Too frequently officers of banks enter into secret contracts with agents, taking this class of paper, obligating themselves to take it into the bank and receiving compensation in the transaction. This will not be tolerated by this department."

TRUCK DESIGNED FOR ROAD WORK BEING MADE

Motor Company Turning Out Truck for Sebastian County, Arkansas, Has Hoisting Device.

A new type of motor truck is being manufactured at the truck factory in this city, being one especially adapted for public road work. The truck is being built for Sebastian county, Arkansas and in addition to its carrying capacity, will have a hoisting contrivance, operated by the power from the engine. The truck will be ready for delivery within a few days.

Trucks, presumably for war purposes, are now being shipped by the factory, to England and to Russia. They enter the latter country by the port of Archangel on the northern coast of Russia. In addition to the war orders from England, a consignment for commercial purposes has also been ordered.

ALL CLASSES GETTING TO WORK IN ENGLAND

London.—It was a strange spectacle that the old hands at the Woolwich arsenal looked on when the Volunteer Munitions Brigade lined up there for its first twelve hours shift. One young man in old cricket flannels stepped out of a motorcar. Some came bringing their lunches in leather attache cases which lawyers and stock brokers carry private papers in. Notwithstanding the old clothes dug up from the bottoms of their wardrobes, the air of the city, which in the local phrase means the financial district, stuck to the volunteers.

The brigade is composed of all sorts and conditions of men from lawyers, engineering men, clerks and others of humble position. The men were greeted by H. F. Donaldson, chief superintendent of the royal ordnance factories, as they went to work on a Sunday morning on their twelve hour trial shift.

At present the volunteers are making cartridges for service rifles. A skilled worker acted as instructor. The absolute novices were given minutes of work, such as is usually performed by boys.

JESSE L. LASKY PRESENTS

RITA JOLIVET

In a Picturization of Eleanor M. Ingram's Romance

"THE UNAFRAID"

With HOUSE PETERS

"The Unafraid," in which Rita Jolivet makes her screen debut, is beyond all question one of the most romantic and absorbing photo-dramas ever presented. The situations are as unusual as the setting in which most of the events take place—the castles among the hills of Montenegro.

The adventures of an American girl who becomes a captive bride in the mountains of this lovely country—beautiful settings, unique story, unexcelled cast all combined go to make this one of the very best pictures that the Lasky company have produced (and that is saying a great deal).

GERMANS USING BURNING FLUIDS TO CUT WIRES
Warsaw.—The use of burning fluids by the Germans on this front is apparently restricted to the purpose of melting down barb wire entanglements for which this method is efficacious.

The equipment consists of a metal cylinder filled with a mixture of benzene and kerosene at a pressure of 75 pounds to the inch. A turn of the handle liberates a jet of burning fluid fifteen feet in length, which fuses a path through the entanglements cutting down all wire obstructions like a scythe.

A Berry with Three Different Flavors

In Jamaica grows a berry that tastes like cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. When the natives of that island discovered this berry, being unable to decide on which spice it tasted most like, they compromised the matter by calling it "all-spice." That is where allspice got its name.

Allspice is grown in other places, but the island where it was first discovered and which named it, still produces the best allspice—for that reason all White Swan Allspice is Jamaica Allspice.

Now inasmuch as it is a certain oil in the berry which gives it its flavor, or rather its three flavors, the drying and grinding and packing of the berry must be very, very carefully handled so as not to let that oil be lost by evaporation. In the matter of White Swan Allspice the greatest care is taken to retain every drop of oiliness—the grinding is done by our own process which preserves all the original rich flavor. Finally it is packed in air-tight tins which keep all the good in. Your grocer sells White Swan Allspice ask for it.

the low market price, as it came from the thrasher. The Times also mentioned, incidentally, that there was a time when the farmers who did not wish to sell their grain at prices offered could haul it to the elevators and have it stored at a nominal charge, but that could not be done now.

The managers of the J. C. Hunt and The Wichita Mill and Elevator Company called The Times' up yesterday by phone to explain why it was that they were not now storing farmers' wheat, and both gave the same reason: They simply had too much of their own stuff to take care of. Mr. Hunt, however, as will be noticed in an article in yesterday's Times, says he began to make arrangements more than a week ago, or long before he had noticed that The Times had taken the matter up, to provide facilities for the storage of farmers' wheat, and completed those arrangements yesterday.

Mr. Priddy, for the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company, says that while his company is unable to provide storage facilities, it will buy the farmers' wheat at the market price, and if the owner of the wheat purchased desires will purchase for him December options and hold for four months. This manner of holding the farmers' wheat will not cost the farmer as much as if he stored his wheat and paid the insurance and storage charges. Should wheat advance in price he can sell it at any time during the four months, and take the profits. This method, it occurs to The Times, is fair. The elevators are the property of the companies owning them. The Times has no criticism to make of how they handle their business. It is up to them to make a success of their business, and if in their judgment they think it best for them to only handle wheat purchased outright by them, The Times is not going to criticize them for pursuing such methods.

However, Mr. Priddy, manager for the sales department of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company, can explain the attitude of his company in this respect better than The Times, and for that purpose we print his letter below.

Wichita Falls, Tex., June 29, 1915.
Editor Wichita Daily Times,

Dear Sir:—In compliance with your request, we beg to advise that as we see it, our wheat market this year is going to be strictly on an export basis. Choice grades of wheat will of course bring a premium over the export market, but this premium will be about the same throughout the year.

We have been having some applications for storage room, and it is with regret that we find we will not be able to accommodate our friends in this respect, for in order to do so, we would be forced to do one of two things.

First. We would have to store the wheat and then take the liberty of selling this wheat at our own risk, we, of course, becoming responsible to the owners, for the market value when they desired to sell the grain, or—

Second. We would have to tie up valuable work space with dead storage.

While we have increased our elevator facilities, we have been doing an unusually large export business. This business is worked on a very small margin, and in order to handle it at a profit, we have to ship in to our elevators, all classes and grades of wheat, including as much low grade wheat as possible, clean up these grades, and blend the various grades together, getting a uniform grade for export.

Then too, at the time of the heaviest movement of wheat last year, we ran into an embargo against shipments of wheat to Galveston. We had under contract at that time, a great deal of wheat, and on account of not having room to unload this wheat into our elevators during such an emergency, we ran up a demurrage bill amounting to many thousands of dollars. The railroad yards in Wichita Falls were completely blocked, and at one time the railroads threatened to place an embargo on all grain shipments to Wichita Falls due to the fact that neither of the grain companies here had any room available for handling this distressed wheat which was subject to a demurrage charge of $1.00 per day.

The outlook for boats with which to move the wheat from Galveston during the coming season, is indeed gloomy, therefore, we feel under a necessity to save sufficient space to take care of any distressed wheat we may have bought, and to reserve for our working bins, sufficient space to unload the various grades of wheat and handle them to advantage.

In order that our farmer friends who desire to store their wheat, may still be protected, we urge those who feel that they would like to carry their wheat, hoping for higher values, to sell their cash wheat, and buy a like quantity of the Chicago September or December wheat. This will save them storage, insurance, interest, taxes, shrinkage in weights and grades and any other expense, and will probably show them one cent per bushel per month more profit than if they stored the actual wheat.

Every time a wheat grower sells his cash wheat and buys the option in exchange, the transaction is a balanced one, and the effect on the future market is in favor of the seller. If the grain growers would learn to utilize the great terminal markets in this way, they would doubtless profit a good deal.

We shall be very glad to assist any of our friends who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity to handle their grain in this way. Under no conditions do we advise "gambling in futures" but under all conditions it is a part of good judgment where the prices are not satisfactory, to use the central markets as "hedging markets" and as long as we are working on an export market, these hedges can be considered safe and more satisfactory than carrying the actual cash grain, for it gives the grain grower an opportunity to use his money, and yet profit by any advance there may be in the general grain market in the coming fall and winter.

Very truly yours,
THE WICHITA MILL & ELEVATOR COMPANY,
By W. M. PRIDDY.

FERGUSON LOST HIS CANDY.

(From the Christian Commonwealth.)
The governor's plea for the late Gibson bill which sought to amend our insurance laws reminds us of the little girl who was pleading for candy to eat.

"Grandma, don't you want some candy?"
"Yes, my darling, I'll take a little, if you please."

"Well, grandma, if you'll send out and buy me some, I'll give you half of it."

The self-outlawed insurance companies of the East and Middle States were saying in effect, "If Texas will permit us to take ten or fifteen million dollars a year out of the State we'll lend part of it back to Texas people at a reasonable rate of interest—if we want to."

At present, practically all the profits of Texas insurance business is loaned or invested in Texas.

MR. BAILEY AND TEXAS.

The Texarkana Courier makes the suggestion that "If Mr. Bailey is so desirous of reforming the University and has been so desirous, his efforts should have been made many years ago when his children were being sent to Virginia to get their education."

It is every man's privilege to educate his children where he pleases. But Mr. Bailey has seen fit to excuse himself for patronizing the Virginia school by citing the fact, as he alleges, that socialism is being taught in the University of Texas.

It would seem, as our Texarkana contemporary suggests, that his protest is a little late arriving. Why wait until his own children are out of school to bring this indictment against our leading educational institution?

Another thing; it does not seem to occur to Mr. Bailey's friends that he is to all intents and purposes lost to the State. On a recent visit—and a visit it was—he received a telegram from his law firm in Washington, far from Texas, summoning him home. It seems to us, and we say this in all kindness, that a Texan is one who lives in Texas—one who takes pot lucker luck with the rest of us.

Living up there in Washington, how can Mr. Bailey know anything about what's taking place down here in Texas as a matter of hearsay?—Waco Times-Herald.

After all it may be discovered that Victoriana and Pascual were merely preparing to stage a "friendly hold-up."—Austin American.

GERMANY PREPARING FOR WINTER CAMPAIGN

Amsterdam.—A considerable part of Germany's efforts are now being concentrated upon preparations for the campaign next winter. Women in large numbers are being employed in sewing new furs for the army, while those used last winter, which were carefully collected, are being renovated and repaired at the supply depots.

EVELYN SAYS THAW IS A LUNATIC STILL

Actress Fears for Life When Husband
Is Freed and Given Opportunity to go Back to Booze.

Malone, N. Y., June 30.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is still unreconciled to her husband, Harry Thaw, who is now fighting for his liberty in sanity proceedings in New York City. But unreconciled, she is unwilling to testify against him. Sought by subpoena servers for the state, she consented to see an interviewer.

"That's all I hear, that's all I hear, he has been punished enough, that he is being persecuted. But when the state of New York frees Harry K. Thaw it will have turned its back on common decency. The man is as mad today as he was the night of the murder."

Whisky Will Make Him Kill.
"All he needs to inflame him to murder again is as much whisky as he had that night. And free, he will return to it. Sooner or later if they free him they will have the whole tragedy repeated."

High on one of the loftiest Adirondacks, in a bungalow that overlooked a beautiful mountain lake, Evelyn Thaw replied thus when asked whether she was going to New York, a voluntary witness for the state:

"I shall not go on the stand voluntarily," she said. "I don't want to go. I don't want to appear as prosecutor or persecutor. It is not for me to urge the supreme court to send Harry back to Matthewan."

"As a matter of fact, he shouldn't be in Matthewan. His money has opened official gates. It has corrupted the mightiest legal brains in New York. It has wrought wonders that can only be surmised. He should be in a private sanitarium, supporting himself with his own money. But private or public he should be confined where he cannot get liquor, where a stronger will than his is dominant, where he will be under the strongest restraint."

"Oh, I know he has all the cunning of the lunatic. Left to himself and permitted to tell his story in his own way he can convince men that he is sane. But I know Harry Thaw. I know him better than his mother does—I, his wife. A wife knows a man as his mother never can."

"I know how the world sees me and how it sees him. They are lionizing him. I was just a girl—a plaything in the grand explosion I was hurled aside. He has become the hero of a madman's multitude. I am just an incident, but I tell you I know him."

Fears for Her Life.
"Three years ago he stopped providing for me. He left me, hoping that I'd slip into the gutter and float on to oblivion. But because I fought, because I refused to be cast aside and pushed below, because I fought upward and supported myself, Harry Thaw became infuriated."

"Tell this to the court—if the state of New York will not protect me against Harry K. Thaw I shall prepare to protect myself."

"Am I afraid of him? No; I am not afraid. I'm not a coward. I do not think Harry is now planning to do me physical harm. But free, he'll return to Broadway. And on Broadway he is going to drink. With liquor inflaming his brain he is bound to do harm. When I hear Harry Thaw is free I am going to dread the moment he takes his first drink."

"I expect from him a broadside of vilification and scandal. Well, let him start. I'm ready. Is Thaw money so powerful that it can blind eyes and stifle justice? I do not blame his mother. She loves him just as I love this boy here."

Mrs. Thaw drew her 5-year-old son Russell, to her side and kissed his dark brown hair.

PRISONERS OF GERMANS REPORTED GROWING FAT

Berlin.—Prisoners of war in Germany are treated so well that they are getting fat. Dr. Burne Wolff, chief military surgeon of the prisoners' camp at Nuremberg, has had a squad of 63 prisoners weighed twice a week at fixed hours from the time they entered the prison two months ago. Forty-one showed changes in weight of a pound or more in that time. Only five lost weight. The increases in some cases were as much as ten or eleven pounds.

SEASON A DISASTROUS ONE FOR THRESHERMEN

Wet Weather and Poor Yield From Heavy Straw Make Profits
Almost Impossible.

The light showers that are falling every few days now are causing heavy losses to the threshermen and the season so far has been a disastrous one for them. Wheat in most sections is turning out poorly, although the straw is very heavy. Few machines have been able to thresh more than 600 or 800 bushels a day and to do this they have made strawstacks that ordinarily would mean twice as much wheat. The rains also make the straw tough and difficult to get through the machines, to say nothing of the loss in wages and board that the threshermen are being compelled to pay out while the straw dries so that it can be handled at all.

In many cases the price of threshing has been advanced from 12 to 15 cents a bushel and even at the latter high figure, threshermen say they are unable to make any money. Ordinary labor is being paid $1.50 and $2 per day, with board furnished. Some crews that have struck for $2 have been unable to find threshermen who would pay that amount and have gone back to work for other threshermen at the $1.50 wage. In some instances the threshermen are refusing to thresh at any specified price per bushel before they start on a farmer's crop and contract to thresh only on an agreement that the farmer pay them a small profit over the cost of threshing his crop.

JEWISH CHAPLAIN PROVIDED IN THE BRITISH ARMY.

London.—Between 7,000 and 8,000 Jews serving with the British colors have registered their names at the Jewish chaplains' department in London, and perhaps as many more have enlisted who have failed to register. The Jewish roll of honor from the list of British slain is published weekly in the Jewish Chronicle, and a Jewish recruiting committee brings in from fifty to sixty fresh enlistments a week. Even the Jewish ministry has also been organized for the war, contributing about a dozen chaplains to attend to Jewish volunteers. The senior chaplain, the Rev. Michael Adler, is now in France, but the machine he created is running smoothly. His assistant, S. Lipson is now in charge. The United Kingdom, he says, has been mapped into areas, which have been placed under nine Jewish assistant chaplains appointed by the war office. The function of these chaplains is to get into touch with their co-religionists in the ranks, arranging services for them and look after their welfare generally. They also visit the Jewish wounded in the hospitals.

The young Jews are enthusiastic soldiers according to Chaplain Lipson who tells of one who quit his job in Brazil and traveled to London to enlist.

THE RELIGIOUS PHENOMENON OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

(Joseph H. Odell in Atlantic Monthly.)
There are multitudes of men and women with esthetic tastes and a high degree of personal spiritual culture who approve, attend, and even advocate this modern revivalism (Billy Sunday), although it makes no direct contribution to their own religious development. They take the ground that it is a form of human conservation, a renaissance of civic virtue, a dynamic of political morality.

There are many level headed and calculating business men who are willing to back it because the saloons and the dives and the gang leaders are so desperately antagonistic to it. How far it will spread or how long it will persist, no one can tell. Already there are scores of little Billy Sundays setting up their tabernacles, duplicating his organization, borrowing his methods, and plagiarizing his speech, but it is impossible to estimate the sum of their influence.

The historic revivals have rarely lasted more than a generation and have been associated invariably with one distinct personality. Billy Sunday appears to be the religious phenomenon of the opening of the Twentieth Century. There will be no unanimity as to his value; such a verdict history has never known and will never reach. Many philosophers, most dramatists, and some saints have called this age spiritually dead and less responsive to religious appeal than any other through the centuries; to such, and to those who have accepted their characterization as true, Billy Sunday and his work are certainly worth studying.

GERMAN PRISONER CONCEALED HIMSELF IN GARBAGE

London.—An attempt by a German prisoner to escape by concealing himself in a can of garbage was discovered at the camp at Leigh this week. A farmer who buys the food refuse of the camp was carting away a number of cans. The unusual weight of one of them roused his suspicions. He removed a quantity of cabbage leaves and found a German soldier beneath.

YAQUI INDIANS FIGHT FOR THEIR HOMES

PRESENT UPRISING CAUSED BY SEIZURE OF LANDS DURING THE DIAZ REIGN.

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDERS

Americans Purchased Lands From Mexican Owners to Whom It Had Been Given by Diaz.

By Associated Press.
Nogales, Ariz., June 30.—Although the Yaqui Indians of Sonora are said to have declared war on the United States—at least so far as American settlers in their region are concerned—and United States warships have been despatched to cope with the situation—information as to the process by which this declaration of war was made is still lacking. It is known that the tribe retains a political organization. What appears to be an almost mythical supreme chief reigns in the hills above their valley and is said to direct the actions of the minor chiefs, who have taken groups of the tribe into the Mexican warfare.

The Associated Press correspondent during a recent trip to the west coast with Carranza, learned this and a number of other interesting things concerning the Yaquis, about whom little true material has hitherto been published.

Although they have been in almost constant warfare since their organization of the Mexican nation, the Yaquis never have been fully conquered or won over to European civilization. But their struggle against the advance of civilization did not assume threatening proportions until the recent revolutionary activities of the Carranza modern war munitions and military training. Previously this most warlike Mexican Indian had confined himself to guerrilla fighting. The arming of the Yaquis to take part in Mexico's domestic quarrel made possible their more extensive activities. Carranza, threatening not only the American colonists in the Yaqui valley about Guaymas, but the sovereignty of the Mexican race along that rich portion of the west coast.

The Yaqui region lies a few miles inland from the California Gulf port city of Guaymas. The Indians years ago lost most of their rich agricultural lands in the valley. Their strongholds are in the hill country, from which strong positions they make frequent raids on the Mexican settlers in the valley below. It has been only recently that their assaults were directed against the American settlers in the valley, who had given the Indians profitable employment as laborers.

Broken Promises.

The Yaqui was not considered an especially dangerous neighbor until the advent of the Constitutionalist revolution. With the separation of the Carranza and Villa factions a struggle began between those two parties in Sonora state. The Indians already had been armed and enlisted as troops in the Constitutionalist army, doing the bulk of the desperate fighting in the contests for the towns along the Arizona-Sonora border. These Indians were considered "pacifists" or peaceful Yaquis. But on opportune occasions they demanded the return of their tribal lands, and only would remain in the revolution service after securing promises from the factional leaders. For more than a year, however, it has become evident that the supposedly friendly Yaqui was working in conjunction with his wilder brother who had remained in the hills. Arms and ammunition in large quantities given to the Indians enlisted in the Constitutionalist army were smuggled on the backs of Yaqui runners into the mountain passes and there were hidden. The enlisted Indians would return after an insignificant skirmish and demand more ammunition. Their Mexican officers did not dare refuse it.

The situation became more serious when Jose Maria Maytorena, the Villa governor of the State, brought the Yaqui troops into northern Sonora. Previously they had been used only against Huerta's federal troops about Guaymas. Maytorena's Yaquis took part in the attacks on the Carranza garrisons at Nogales, Naco and Cananea. In former years under the Diaz administration these Indians had been driven into Southern Sonora by continued fighting along the Arizona border in which they met the federal "rurales" Mexico's rural police which was considered the most efficient fighting arm of the former dictator. The forceful exfiltration into Southern Mexico of large numbers of Yaqui men had failed to break the warlike spirit of the race.

Join "Broncho" Brothers.

Rumors asserted that the Yaqui leaders were controlling the Maytorena government. These were denied officially until the more recent developments showed that the so-called "pacifist" Yaquis were working in conjunction with their "broncho" or wild brothers in their life-long attempt to regain the valley farming lands now developed to a high degree by the American farmers. The American colonists had bought the land from the Mexican owners, who in turn had secured it through government or private concessions in about the same manner as the American Indian's territory in the United States was colonized and developed. The government found itself powerless to prevent the raids by the "broncho" Indians on the American settlements since the large proportion of Indian troops would not permit warfare against their hill tribesmen. This led to the sending down the west coast of American marines with orders to land if necessary to save the lives of the American settlers who though in grave danger would not leave their farms in fear of losing their crops and property.

The Yaquis' rival, but first cousin, is the Mayo Indian whose lands closely adjoin the Yaqui valley. The Mayo is a more peaceful and frequently victorious over the Yaqui tribe, is of a more peaceful inclination and has retained by diplomatic means some valuable farming land. The Mayo also entered the revolutionary struggle. Large numbers of the Mayo have joined the Carranza ranks and have been assisting materially in the Obregon victories over the Villa army in Central Mexico. This left the Yaqui in undisputed control in Sonora. The plan, formerly suggested, of playing the Mayo against the Yaqui could not be employed since the bulk of the Mayo fighting men had been removed.

Much Like Apaches.

The racial characteristics of the Yaqui of Mexico are similar to those of the Apache, who caused continued trouble in the early development of the Southwestern United States. The Yaqui is credited with direct relationship to the Apache. Like his northern cousin the Yaqui has been guilty of all manner of brutality directed against his prisoners, and is known to have employed modes of torture as skillful as those of the ancient Chinese. This has caused a fear of the Yaqui which was not due entirely to his military ability. The Yaqui was the first Mexican tribe to become fully armed with rifles, and become so skillful in their use. Other tribes along the west coast still employ the bow and arrow for hunting and in some cases in fighting any alien invaders.

While retaining his tribal tongue and savage customs, the Yaqui became skilled in military methods. He kept his skillful manner of guerrilla warfare, but adopted to a large extent some European methods. In the attacks on the Sonora-Arizona border towns the Yaqui troops made desperate assaults on the Carranza trenches, charging the positions much in the manner of the European soldier. It had been difficult to make the Mexican troops do this.

The Yaqui in his natural stage of military development had used small drums on which he gave simple marching orders. These drums took the place of the voice or trumpet, and had the advantage by their peculiar noise making it difficult for the enemy to locate the source of the sound. In military service with his Mexican neighbors the Yaqui developed a more extensive system of drum signals, which his officers could command large numbers of men to make all manner of movements. The Yaqui unlike other Indians always had marched in military formation until deployed for action. Many battles were won merely by the noise of their Yaqui drums which seemed to terrify the enemy when the sounds of the beats appeared to come from all directions. In some cases a few Yaqui drummers crawl to the enemy's flanks and by

Germany And U. S. Misunderstand Each Other Says Gerhard

Berlin, June 30.—Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, sent from the United States to Berlin by the German ambassador to express the American views on the sinking of the Lusitania, presented an article in Der Tag in which he says his experiences convinced him that both countries misunderstood each other.

"It is true," says Dr. Meyer-Gerhard in his article, "that the American press, with some laudable exceptions especially the German-American papers, have not succeeded in remaining neutral, but the influence of the press upon public opinion is sometimes greatly overestimated."

"One excellent effect of the war is upon German-Americans, who, without sacrifice of their loyalty to their adopted country, have shown strong remembrance of their descent and their culture. Beside them, on the other side of the ocean, there are wide circles who sympathize with Germany."

The Ammunition Question.

Alluding to the ammunition question, Dr. Meyer-Gerhard says: "Germans often mistake large ammunition orders for filled orders. To a large extent such orders are changing big factories into ammunition works. This is regrettable, but the writer is convinced that large parts of the American people disapprove of it. A popular vote would show a considerable majority against the practice."

"Equally there are Americans who condemn violation of Belgium's neutrality and the sinking of the Lusitania, and are unable to understand the German idea of the real conditions, while Germans are unable to understand how Americans could travel on an ammunition ship."

"Both peoples are laboring under entirely different opinions. Both have lived hitherto in peace and friendship and should continue so to live. There is no real reason for antagonism existing between them."

In the article Dr. Meyer-Gerhard spoke of the causes he said had weakened Germany's former friendly feeling toward America, citing them to be the latter's inclination toward England and munition sales. Germany, on the other hand, he said, was reproached with violating Belgian neutrality and devoting itself to militarism to conquer the whole world. The deaths of Americans on the Lusitania had unfavorably affected American sentiment toward Germany.

Regarding Belgium neutrality and militarism he said the Germans cannot understand the feeling in America as they know that Belgium surrendered her own neutrality and that militarism is only the German nation in arms for its own defense. The American viewpoint was different, however, and each nation feels itself wrongly treated by the other.

"STAR—The Pocket-Pat of All Good Fellows"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

NO men more fully enjoy the jolly companionship of good chewing tobacco than the foresters who conserve America's standing timber.

These big, brave, brawny men, as ready to fight a forest fire to a stand-still as they are to take a twenty-mile "bike" in the dead of night, are STAR pluggers as well as STAR chewers. They find STAR mighty pleasant company when they're alone—and when they meet a traveler they're glad to pass their plug to him. They know that STAR is good for one and better for two.

Each STAR plug is thick with a thickness of long lasting, mellow chewing leaf that just suits to a "T" the taste of Americans. Each STAR plug weighs a full 16 ounce pound, every time. Each plug is made clean and kept so; a STAR plug won't dry out like a thin plug—and the taste lasts. It will just take you but a few seconds to cut off a chew of STAR and get it into your mouth—to understand why STAR is the leading brand of the world.

beating out some signal make it appear that the position was being surrounded.

No reliable information is available as to the Yaqui's actual numerical strength so varying are the reports of the Mexican military authorities and American settlers. But it is known that several thousand rifles, mostly of the military model, are in the hands of the Indians, and that large amounts of ammunition have been obtained by the hill tribesmen. The Yaqui's manner of warfare, and familiarity with the country would make most difficult, it is believed by the valley settlers, his complete defeat and disarmament.

Charlan and Charlan, dancers and Rolfe and Kennedy, Roman ring artists will close their three days' engagement here tonight. The gymnast act is a most superior one and a more enjoyable one of this sort has seldom been seen locally. Tonight's picture program includes a two part Universal Special drama, "A Lesson From the Far East", and a Powers, "The Law of the Open."

The Majestic.
Today sees the tenth installment of "The Black Box" featured at the Majestic. In this episode the mysterious hands get in some more of their evil work but are foiled in an attempt to poison Quest by a happy accident. Also on today's program is a George Ade Fable, "The Gallant Pilgrim who Kept on Gallivanting," and a Selig animal drama, "The Tyrant of the Veldt."

The Empress.
Today's feature is a pictorialization of Eleanor M. Ingram's novel, "The Unafraid" with House Peters, Rita Jolivet and Page Peters in the leading roles.

"The Unafraid," in which Rita Jolivet makes her screen debut, is beyond all question one of the most romantic and absorbing photo-dramas ever presented. The situations are as unusual as the setting in which most of the events take place—the castles among the hills of Montenegro.

Delight Warren, the heroine of the story, is an American girl who has been fascinated by a dashing Montenegrin nobleman and who daringly goes alone to Montenegro to marry him. She has no sooner arrived in that strange country, however, than she is captured by the brother of her fiancé. This brother, Count Stefan, impersonated by House Peters, takes Delight to his castle and forces her to marry him. He treats her with the greatest respect, but insists upon the performance of the ceremony so that it shall not be possible for her to wed his brother. The reason is that the brother is a traitor to his country and Count Stefan wants to prevent Delight's wealth from coming into his hands and being used to the injury of the Fatherland.

The succeeding events show the manner in which Delight finally becomes convinced that Count Stefan is right, and the love which finally makes a real marriage of the union between Stefan Baisic and his American captive.

The Gem.
Earle Williams, Julia Swayne Gordon and Anita Stewart with a long cast of other notable Vitaphone players are featured in the Broadway Star success "The Juggernaut" at the Gem today. The story is one of surpassing interest and gives these stars full opportunity to display their wonderful ability along the lines of the silent art.

STRAIN TOO GREAT.

Hundreds of Wichita Falls Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men, The hard work and stooping of workmen, The woman's household cares, Often weaken the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, Kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently follow.

A Wichita Falls citizen tells you what to do. R. H. Clark, 1107 Indiana Ave., Wichita Falls, says: "I strained my back and kidneys by heavy lifting. After that, my back ached badly by spells and it pained me to even stoop. My kidneys also acted irregularly. I used about three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved the pain in my back and regulated the kidney action. I have had scarcely any trouble since." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Clark had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GERMANY GETTING FOODSTUFFS THROUGH SWITZERLAND

London.—Enormous quantities of foodstuffs are pouring into Germany through Switzerland, according to M. Jacques Dhur, a French expert in international law.

It seems that a convention ratified between France and Switzerland on July 26, 1914, provides that in case of war, France shall supply the Federal Government of Switzerland with 300,000 tons of cereals a year. According to M. Dhur, 100 trucks loaded with between twelve and fifteen tons of cereals, cross the French frontier every day for the Cornavin station at Geneva, while in ordinary times the monthly exports did not exceed 4,000 or 5,000 tons. At the same time enormous quantities of potatoes, beans, oil, and other vegetable products are passing into Switzerland via Pontarlier.

To prevent commerce in contraband, all merchandise is forwarded to a particular department of province of the Swiss Confederation. M. Dhur, in his investigations of this distribution, found that a considerable proportion of the supplies went to Augst, close to the frontier point where the German and Swiss railway systems are lined up.

After a discussion of various alleged methods of smuggling supplies through to Germany, M. Dhur adds that Germany has also been able to revictual herself plentifully through Italy. Merchandise was sent from an Italian port to Switzerland, and on its way to Chiasso, between the Swiss and the Italian Customs, the word "Transit" was added to its label. In this way hundreds of trains of rice and other products have reached Germany. The Gothard line, by its charter, is bound to give favored treatment to goods passing between Germany and Italy, and these foods were conveyed in concealed trucks. The line became so congested that the Federal Railways had to make use of the Simplon system.

Wheat farmers who contemplate holding their grain for a higher market price will find it to their advantage to figure with the Star Street Metal Works, 809 Scott avenue on grain bins. These bins can be put in on short notice.

NECESSITY OF PURPOSE

IN LIFE EMPHASIZED

Rev. Friar Points to Example of Daniel—The Unpardonable Sin, Thought Theme.

Rev. Friar preceded his remarks of last evening with a slight personal reference. He said that a follower of John Barleycorn had interrupted his talk on the streets yesterday afternoon and intimated that he was prevaricating. Mr. Friar said that the friends of said J. B. follower had better come down and look after him.

Last night's subject was "Daniel," the text being, "And Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat nor with the wine which he drank." "Daniel," the evangelist said, "was one of the greatest characters in the Bible, was of royal lineage from the tribe of Judah and had a bright future offered him. He was led captive to Babylon but didn't give up in despair and say, 'What's the use?' Daniel found favor of the king's court and everything was placed at his feet. He met temptation in every form but Daniel had a God formed purpose in his heart."

Speaking of the necessity of some purpose in life Mr. Friar continued: "No man can succeed in God's work unless he has a purpose for he will be like a ship at sea in the midst of a storm with a broken rudder. Jesus Christ in the life is proof against all sin and temptation." "Daniel," the speaker said, "was in line for promotion and when the old ship of state was at stake and the king needed a man, one on whom he could depend, he made Daniel his first ruler over the largest province." Daniel's success in this station, his encounter with enemies and the decree which was passed by the king under the influence of those unfriendly Daniel was touched upon in the sermon, Mr. Friar drawing this conclusion, "nothing in the world can keep men from serving God if they truly love Him. When Daniel learned about the king's decree he went into his chamber to pray, he had conviction in his heart above all powers."

In conclusion the evangelist said, "Do not pray for big opportunities but pray that you may be made big enough for the task. If you will stand firm in the hour of trial, God will stand by you in the grim hour of death."

Tonight Mr. Friar will speak on "The Unpardonable Sin."

TONIGHT MARKS OPENING

MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

Four Counties Contesting for W. O. W. Honors—Substantial Prizes are Being Offered.

Tonight will mark the opening of the campaign for new members to be waged by the W. O. W. Camps in Clay, Archer and Wichita, Wichita Falls Camp No. 3001 to meet tonight to open the membership contest. Over $700 in prizes will be given away in this contest for members securing the largest number of applications, for the best degree teams and also special officers prizes. These prizes will be given by Sovereign Camp, the local deputies and the business men of the three counties.

The list is not yet complete but the following prizes have been offered by local concerns: Farmers Supply Company, $25 in groceries; Brin & Dolman, $25 rug; Singer Sewing Machine Company, $60 sewing machine; W. B. McClurken Company, $25 suit of clothes; Morris Drug Company, $10 pipe; Avis Hardware Company, $10 cut glass set; Harrison & Everton, $10 musical instrument.

The contest offers to be a close one between the members and the degree teams, Archer county leading so far in the number of applications. The Burkhardt and Archer degree teams are hard at work for the final contest and are being rapidly whipped into shape. Camp 3001 will initiate the following candidates tonight: A. H. Britain, Marvin Smith, W. M. Best, J. Wilkie Talbert and M. E. Stevens. Captain J. H. Moore and Col. Bob Roark will be in charge of the initiation. The ladies will meet in joint session with the camp after the business session and the semi-annual pass word will be given out. A full attendance of members is desired.

GOOD WHEAT CROP IN PROSPECT IN FRANCE.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris.—Service at the front seems to indispose men for work in the fields. The military authorities gave a great many leaves to reservists to permit them to do the work of seedling; they were obliged later to ask the local authorities to send back to the front all men who neglected the work for which they were sent home.

An employment bureau organized to recruit farm help to replace the men at the front succeeded in placing only 3,600 refugees, from Belgium and Northern France. Spaniards, Kabyles from Algeria and Moors were tried unsuccessfully, yet, thanks to the women, the total wheat acreage is 11,446,256 acres against last year's 12,986,660, of which 696,204 acres were in invaded territory.

Reports from the eleven regions into which France is divided for purposes of statistics give the wheat crop prospect as averaging 72 which is considered quite satisfactory.

The average is about the same as that of last year. Eight departments show up better than last year and eight not so well.

The departments that were invaded are still partially occupied show the astonishingly high percentage of 76.

The cash wheat market in France is paralyzed by the government's requirement that no wheat may be shipped from one department into another unless there is shipped back in return an equivalent quantity of flour.

Barley, oats and nearly all other crops promise as well as wheat.

EVERYDAY THE WAR CONTINUES

Two industries are absolutely benefitted. There has never been a time in the history of the country when farming and stock raising was so profitable as it is today and it will be for years to come. High price food stuff makes high price farm lands. High priced cattle makes high price ranch lands. High priced living is driving the people from the cities and towns. There is no safer and profitable business, and lands are bound to enhance in value rapidly. Wichita is the banner county of this state for wheat or stock raising.

RECLAMATION ENGINEER

WILL VISIT THE CITY

W. A. Stiles Will Come Here Early In July to Study Overflow Problem For City

W. A. Stiles, head of the state reclamation department, will be in Wichita Falls early in July to study the problem arising from the recent overflow of the Wichita River. The state reclamation department does not remedy such situations itself, but makes recommendations to city and county officials, and determines what is needed to prevent future overflows.

It is believed that a levee or retaining wall will be required to prevent further encroachments of the river upon its south bank. Mr. Stiles has been called to various places in Texas during the past few weeks and will not be able to reach this city for several days yet.

TYROLESE SHARPSHOOTERS ON THE ITALIAN FRONT

Vienna.—The war with Italy has brought out, ready for action, a body of men that are perhaps unique in the world over—the Tyrolese Sharpshooters. Thousands of these men, ranging from 17 up to old age, the members of the 406 royal and imperial "shooting stands" constitute one of the most efficient organizations of their kind in Europe.

The shooting stands are volunteer organizations elsewhere, but in Austria are controlled by and are a part of the state. When called out the "stands" go as units and are assigned to special duty. The members wear the national Tyrolese costume, with arm bands to identify them.

There is no age limit for the sharpshooters and for generations it has been a matter of personal pride to keep fit and in good condition. It has been close to a disgrace to be relieved of membership on a physician's recommendation.

Hamburg.—As an auxiliary food supply of which little advantage is taken, mushrooms are being urged up on German epicures and especially up on Catholics as substituted for meat on fast days.

Dr. von Langemann, a Dresden physician, estimates that there are over 200 kinds of mushrooms in Germany. At least one quarter of these are not only edible but nourishing and tasty, while only seven can be classed as poisonous toadstools.

The annual crop, if it all were harvested, would run into the millions of marks in value, he believes, and would supply hundreds of tons of food. Already the inhabitants of villages in the vicinity of forests have learned to supply themselves with a valuable food that costs nothing but the gathering.

An Explanation.

The name "Fixon" is derived from the ingredients of this popular candied laxative tablet—Figs and Senna, with Cascara. To you it will mean "fixin'" for its action is prompt and certain, thorough and gentle. Buy one of the ten cent tin boxes and keep it handy at your home. Miller Drug Store.

Johnson's Powdered Wax

Will immediately put any floor in perfect condition for dancing—it is absolutely free from dust and will not soil the finest fabrics. Johnson's Powdered Wax is very easy to use—it comes in shaken top cans—simply sprinkle it lightly over the floors just before the dance—the feet of the dancers will spread the Wax, polishing the floor and immediately producing a perfect dancing surface. May be used with good success on gallery floors, dining room floors, or any place that you wish to dance. It will not injure the floor, but rather will make it smooth and glossy and easy to clean. Price 50c
