Yank Return From Europe Speeding Up

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — The War department announced tonight that 42 of the 68 divisions which fought in Europe and the Mediterranean will be back home or on the way by the end of the year.

Three full infantry divisions—the 86th, 97 and 95th—already have arrived and most of a fourth division—the 104th infantry—is back.

Advance detachments of seven other divisions, the 2nd, 4th, 5th, 8th, 44th and 87th infantry and the 13th Armored, have reached this country and the remainder of the units will arrive shortly.

Setup At Present

Under present plans, which may be changed later, 31 divisions will embark for home from August to January; eight will remain in Europe as occupation forces and 18 divisions will remain in Europe at least until the end of this year.

The shifting of the 42 divisions will involve the movement of more than 500,000 men.

The War department said that although security considerations were involved in releasing the information on the movement of the divisions, it was believed that instead of bringing aid and comfort to the Japanese, the information will demonstrate "conclusively" that the Army intends to throw against Nippon the largest force possible.

Ticketed For Pacific

The 11 divisions which have returned or are now arriving have been ticketed for the Pacific front. In addition, complete headquarters of the 1st Army has returned en route to the Pacific.

The War department emphasized that the men who will fight with those divisions against the Japanese will not necessarily be the same ones who fought with the units against the Germans.

In practically all cases, the department said, the personnel of units returning to the U. S. for deployment to the Pacific are men who do not have sufficient point scores for discharge.

Here is the schedule for embarkation of the divisions for the five months beginning in August. For reasons of military security, the department said, no information is being given as to whether these units will be redeployed to the Pacific, assigned to the reserve in the United States, or discharged.

Return By Months

August: 85th, 28th, and 30th infantry divisions and the 20th armored division.

September: 14th, 5th, 6th and 7th armored divisions; the 17th airborne division; 88th, 91st, 35th, 45th and 103d infantry divisions.

October: 9th armored division and the 92d, 26th, 79th and 99th infantry divisions.

November: 10th armored division; 10th mountain division; 13th airborne; 83d, 63d, and 106th infantry divisions.

December: 2d and 11th armored divisions; and the 34th, 90th, 80th and 76th infantry divisions.

The Second Armored division, booked to sail in December, recently entered Berlin.

Occupation Divisions

The eight divisions which currently are designated as occupation forces in the European and Mediterranean theaters are the 1st and 4th armored divisions; and the 1st, 3d, 9th, 29th and 36th infantry divisions and the 82d airborne division.

The 18 divisions scheduled to remain in the European theater for the remainder of 1945, presumably as a result of the tight shipping situation, are the 3d, 8th, 12th and 16th armored divisions; the 101st airborne division; and the 42d, 65th, 66th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 75th, 78th, 84th, 94th, 100th and 102d infantry divisions.

The War department renewed its request that relatives and friends of soldiers scheduled to return to this country not telephone or otherwise contact points of embarkation for further information. The returning soldiers will get furloughs at home and, the department said, the transportation corps is making "every effort" to speed the homeward journey.

Army Units Arrive In U. S. Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

The following Army units arrived in the United States from Europe Saturday:

At New York—14th Chemical company; 187th Signal Repair company; 634th M. P. Escort Guard company, and Headquarters and Headquarters company of the 8th Tank Destroyer group.

Newport News, Va. — 3135th Quartermaster Service company; 3175th Signal Service company; 28th Infantry regiment; 28th Field Artillery battalion, and the 8th Medical battalion.

Lubbock Soldier Views Savage Rites In India's Dark Jungle

* * *

ONE of the strangest adventure stories to come back from the war fronts was recently told by M/Sgt. Jack D. Glasco in letters to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Glasco, 2308 Ninth, and his wife, the former Miss Lucille Neely of Brownfield.

Sgt. Glasco, former employe of Sears Roebuck & Co. here, is an Army photographer and until recently was stationed at a base somewhere in Assam province of India. He is now chief trouble-shooter and helper-outer (as he calls it) for all photographic laboratories in China, Burma and India and travels by plane from one base to the other. He has a small son, Quentin Alan.

GLASCO

He is now stationed in Calcutta, India, but a recent letter from him bore the post-mark of Myitkyima, Burma.

But let's get on to Sgt. Glasco's letter and let him tell you the story of his strange trip in Assam province where he witnessed the New Year's celebration in honor of the Goddess of Destruction, Kaliee:

"I have just returned from the greatest adventure of my life," Sgt. Glasco wrote in his letter, dated April 13, 1945. "It's late and I'm tired but I want to tell you this story while I remember the details.

"The sun was out but a few scattered clouds kept its blistering rays from us now and then. About 11 o'clock Monty came rushing in and said he and I had been invited to a New Year's celebration. I thought he must be fooling, but he wasn't. He explained that today is New Year's Eve for the Hindus and they were having a celebration in honor of their Goddess of Destruction. The ceremony is one that few white men have seen.

Trek Into Jungle

"At 2:30 we loaded into a truck, 15 of us GI's and Capt. Johnson, special service officer of our base. We drove about 20 miles to a British tea plantation where we picked up two Englishmen to direct us the remainder of the way. About 10 miles farther down the road came to an end and we left the truck and took a foot path through the jungle.

"We walked for several minutes through the bamboo, elephant ears, huge wild tulips and a hundred other tropical plants, then across the dykes between the rice paddies. In the distance we could hear the boom-boom of the jungle drum occasionally drowned out by a lusty yell followed by a cheer from what sounded like a thousand voices.

"ON the other side of the rice paddies we could see, nestled among the huge teak trees, a village of bamboo and grass huts.

"The chief of the village came out to meet us and led the way to his house. Inside we were seated around two long tables with china and copper dishes loaded with tropical fruits and native foods. Tea came first, then we began eating, served by natives who insist on putting the cream and sugar into our tea and stirring it. I have always wanted to eat some Indian food, but in Calcutta it looked so dirty I didn't have the nerve to try it, but now I had to eat it or they would be offended and think we didn't appreciate their hospitality. So I ate.

Most Food Palatable

"Most of it I could go, but some of the goats' milk coconut balls I couldn't. With rice flour they make what we call a deep-fat fried 'pop-over' that was tasty and I ate four of them. Also there were potato-balls made of Indian sweet potatoes and crushed green coconut meat—that I could eat some of too.

"Then the drum beats and the cheering became louder as the crowd moved toward the chief's hut. Soon they were outside the front door, so we left the table to see the dance.

"About eight or 10 males of varying ages, from eight years to about 30, were dancing in a circle while a pair of drums and a water buffalo horn supplied the 'music.' Each dancer had a dif-

Lightening Of Truck Priorities Set Soon

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — It soon will be possible to buy a truck without Washington saying it is all right.

Beginning August 1, ODT district managers throughout the country will have authority to issue rationing certificates for new light and medium trucks.

AIR SQUADRON BACK

WASHINGTON, July 7 (U.P.) — Composite Air Squadron 94, described by the Navy today as "specialists" in combating Japanese suicide fliers, has returned to the United States after five months of stenuous fighting in the western Pacific.

Teeth Of Stainless Steel Puzzle Yanks

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—Col. Harry C. Laster, Newark, N. J., Army officer who returned today from Europe aboard the transport Eleazer Wheelock, is pondering Russian enterprise as revealed in the smile of a Soviet officer.

"The damndest thing I saw in Europe," Laster said, "was a Russian captain with a complete set of stainless steel teeth."

EVACUATION SET

OLSO, July 7. (AP)—Allied authorities said today that evacuation of the 400,000 German troops from Norway to Germany would begin about July 15. They are expected to depart at the rate of 25,000 a week.

Italian POW Yanked Out Of Pullmans

OMAHA, July 7 (AP)—A detachment of Italian prisoners of war who arrived in Omaha today riding in tourist pullman cars was taken off the train and made to continue its trip by coach, Seventh Service command headquarters announced.

The Italians were en route from the Monticello, Ark., prison camp to work at the Sioux ordnance depot, Sidney, Neb., the Army said. How many were involved was not disclosed.

At the same time, C. J. Collins, Union Pacific passenger traffic manager, said that on learning of the Italians' arrival in the sleepers, the railroad refused to let them continue their trip.

Seventh Service command officials said any investigation of the incident probably would originate in the service command from which the detachment was shipped.

FREIGHT IS SNARLED

MEXICO CITY, July 7 (AP) — So much freight is piled up in Monterrey, Torreon, Vera Cruz, Tampico and other industrial towns that Mexican National railways officials are sending traffic executives to the main points to unsnarl jams.

102 Soldiers Executed In Current War

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 7 — The Army disclosed today that 102 soldiers have been executed during this war—all except one for murder or rape.

The exception was a man twice convicted of deserting under fire in Europe—the first soldier to be put to death for a purely military offense since the Civil war.

Of the others, 47 were condemned for murder, 43 for rape and 11 for both murder and rape.

In addition, more than 200 death sentences have been imposed by general courts martial but have been commuted to life imprisonment or lesser terms.

Deserter Not Identified

The Army declined to identify the man executed for desertion.

The Navy, without going into details, reported that no Navy, Marine corps or Coast Guard man has been executed by court martial order during this war. As of mid-April 22,009 members of those services were in confinement.

In the last year, 18,000 soldiers were sentenced by courts martial for offenses, comparable to felonies in civilian courts, which carry penalties of at least six months imprisonment.

At present, 33,519 soldiers convicted and sentenced by general courts martial are in confinement in the U. S. or overseas. Virtually all were sentenced since the Selective Service act was passed in 1940.

Lighter Terms Not Included

These figures, which do not include soldiers given lighter punishment by special and summary courts martial, were issued by Undersecretary of War Patterson at a news conference discussion of the operation of military justice.

Emphasizing that the 33,519 in confinement represent the total number from the 10,000,000 who have entered the Army since the adoption of Selective Service, Patterson said:

"The manner in which the soldiers have conducted themselves has reflected the highest credit on the American Army."

"Severe" sentences are imposed by courts martial but not any stiffer than the circumstances call for, Patterson said.

To facilitate the restoration to duty of as many men as possible, the Army two years ago set up rehabilitation centers to retrain convicted soldiers and get them back into service.

The centers have handled 23,674 men and the measure of their success is reflected in the record. More than half, or 12,206, have been restored to duty.

About 90 per cent of those restored to duty have "acquitted themselves well," Patterson reported. He gave the present population of the rehabilitation centers as 7,457.

Two Youths Held In Constable's Slaying

LAREDO, July 7 (AP)—Deputy Constable John Novoa of Laredo was shot three times and mortally wounded here early today.

Police Chief Dave Gallagher said that Novoa was shot as he attempted to arrest two men he found near a filling station here about 2 a. m. Novoa died later in Mercy hospital.

The two men, one of them wounded slightly by shots from Novoa's gun fired after the officer was wounded, separated and fled but were captured later, Gallagher said.

Charges of murder in connection with the death were filed against George Anthony Baker, 17, and Thomas J. Larkin, 18, identified by Gallagher as seamen from the Kingsville, Tex., naval auxiliary air base.

Gallagher said that Baker and Larkin made signed statements in which they told of being away from the Kingsville base since July 5, of hitchhiking to San Antonio, obtaining a car there, abandoning it south of San Antonio, and hitchhiking into Laredo, arriving Friday morning.

Jap Demise Not Far Off, Churchill Says

LONDON, July 7 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill predicted today "the day is not far distant" when the Japanese will be driven from all Chinese territory.

This message to Chiang Kai-Shek was made public soon after Churchill departed for Hendaye, France, where his office said "he hopes to have a days' rest before attending the Berlin conference."

Churchill pledged Britain would concentrate all its efforts in cooperation with the Allies to win a final victory in the Pacific. His message marked the eighth anniversary of the war between China and Japan.

Jap Shipping Said Almost Wiped Out

CHUNGKING, July 7 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Liu Wei-Chiang, vice minister of military operations, appraised Japan's total shipping today at not more than 800,000 tons, or one-eighth of pre-war Japanese tonnage.

Liu said American bombing had reduced Japanese plane production from 2,500 to 1,000 planes a month.

Soviets Determined On German Control

By EDDIE GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, July 7—The Russians as they approach the "victory" conference of the Big Three are determined to reach agreements with their Allies that will snuff out German imperialism forever and ensure that a Hitler never again will rise to power.

The Soviets do not want just a stopgap measure this time. In this connection, they believe that their Allies are making a serious mistake in handling the German people.

First of all, the Russians believe it is imperative that a better Germany must swell from the German people and not develop from repressive measures imposed upon them.

Bad Judgement Claimed

They feel that the Allies are guilty of bad judgment when they outlaw all political parties and do not allow mass gatherings of Germans for political discussions. The Red Army occupying forces have legalized all anti-Fascist parties in their zones. They have recognized trade unions and they allow meetings.

It goes without saying that the Soviets are keeping an eye on every organization which calls itself anti-Fascist and on every meeting dedicated to German democracy.

The Russians also are concerned with the international cartel situation and unquestionably will bring this up. They will wish proof and definite reassurances that German industrialists have not gone underground and found other places of work, possibly in other countries.

No Rearmament Loans

The USSR also probably will require assurances, especially from the United States, that there will be no more loans to Germany whereby she might be able to rearm.

The Soviets also are keenly interest in the trial of war criminals. They believe that the Allies have been very slow in handling this question.

Reparations, of course, also are of paramount interest to the USSR as the major sufferer at the hands of the German invaders.

Foreign diplomatic circles report the Russians are ready to discuss with their Allies the status and relation of such former enemy European states as Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Austria.

The Polish question should take little time at this meeting.

A Brownwood flood left one person dead and 750 homeless, another city was isolated by high water and a stubborn drouth in the Big Spring area was broken as heavy rains concentrated in West Texas yesterday.

The body of 69-year-old A. O. Brannan, who was drowned when his small boat sank at Brownwood, was recovered several hours later near the Brown county courthouse.

Flood waters, which had entered or damaged 500 Brownwood homes after a 5.10-inch downpour, were receding tonight. Highways to the city, all which had been closed, were reopened to traffic.

Square Mile Inundated

A square mile of the city was inundated when waters from Adams branch, on the north, and Willis creek, on the south, went over their banks and swept into low sections.

A five-inch rain yesterday ended what Big Spring called its worst drouth since 1917. One of the city's lakes rose 22 feet and traffic was stalled for several hours east of the town. The U. S. weather bureau's gauge recorded 3.24 inches in 12 hours and the U. S. experiment farm, a mile north of the city, registered 4.22 inches.

Garden City, seat of Glasscock county, 30 miles southeast of Big Spring was isolated when an estimated eight inches of rain pushed nearby streams out of banks.

Tiny L-5s Fly From Luzon To Okinawa

OKINAWA, July 5 (Delayed) (AP)—In close formation, unarmed and skirting Japanese-held islands, 24 little Army liaison planes flew today from northern Luzon to Yontan airfield on Owinawa, 748 miles.

The Stinson-designed fabric winged planes looked like flocks of birds as they whirled in to land while fighter and bomber pilots shook their heads in amazement at the flight.

It was the longest overwater hop ever made by the L-5 planes, which are only slightly modified from the two-place civilian sport ships of the "Cub" classification, which are used for evacuation of wounded, movement of personnel and artillery spotting or messenger work.

Taking off at dawn from the Laog airstrip of northwestern coastal Luzon, at the edge of the China sea, they completed the trip in approximately seven and one half hours.

Air Resistance Is Negligible

By CLYDE BARTEL
Associated Press War Editor

HARD-HITTING, far-ranging Army, Navy and Marine aircraft pounced on Japanese ships and ground installations from the southern Ryukyus to Honshu itself, latest communiques today reported. Fires ringed historic Fujiyama near Tokyo after a slash 600-plane B-29 assault before dawn Saturday on five homeland cities.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported Okinawa-based aircraft under his command on Friday and Saturday damaged nine more enemy ships off China and Japan, and Gen. MacArthur's Okinawa-based Fifth Air force struck Kyushu targets for the third consecutive day Thursday.

Five Cities Battered

The B-29s in their fourth attack in six days dumped 4,000 tons of bombs on five aluminum, oil, rail and war-industry centers.

Returning crewmen described how flames from Japan's largest aluminum factory at Shimuzu were reflected on the snowy slopes of Nippon's sacred Mt. Fuji. Other targets in the Tokyo area, besides Shimuzu, were Kofu and Chiba. Also left burning were Akashi, on the inland sea, and the big Maruzen oil refinery at Shimotzu, in the vicinity of Osaka.

All the Superforts returned safely, meeting no air opposition and only meager antiaircraft fire. Tokyo radio, reporting the fires were brought under control by dawn, made no claim of planes downed. The five-city raid was the fourth B-29 attack on Nippon in six days.

Big Area Burned Out

U. S. 21st Bomber command headquarters at Guam said more than 126 square miles have been burned out in 25 Japanese cities hit by Superforts. The figure took no account of more recent raids, which have brought to 30 the total of enemy homeland industrial centers scouraged by bombs.

Australian invaders of southeastern Borneo pushed inland from Penadjam point, across the bay from captured Balikpapan oil port. Other units of the Aussie Seventh division drove six miles northeast of the city in pursuit of the main Nipponese force withdrawing toward the Sambodja and Samarinda oil fields.

Allied planes covered the Australian ground fighters and destroyed two Japanese freighters off Bandjermasin, on the south coast of Borneo, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said.

Fifth Air Force Strikes

Thirty Mustang fighter-bombers of the Fifth Air force, newly moved to Okinawa from the Philippines, shot down four enemy planes and probably two more in sweeps over Sasebo, Japanese naval base, and Omura, on Kyushu island in the Nipponese homeland.

The Yank fliers, in their third straight day of flights over Japan, also hit Koshiki island off Kyushu.

Philippine-based bombers and fighters dropped 88 tons of explosives on warehouses and airfields on Formosa, and U. S. Seventh Fleet planes hit enemy shipping off Amoy, China.

Today's fleet communique from Guam reported rocket hits by Marine aircraft on four enemy ships south of Honshu Friday and damage to five more ships at Anchor in the Yellow sea off the China coast the next day. Enemy air bases in the Ryukyus north and south of Okinawa were pounded Friday and Saturday, with seven planes damaged on the ground.

Jap Plane Losses Heavy

The score on Japanese aircraft destroyed by American planes on all fronts in the first six months of the year was at least 6,739, based on American headquarters' reports. An additional 859 were listed as probably destroyed.

Tokyo radio said a British force of 16 warships, including two aircraft carriers, conducted minesweeping operations Friday southeast of Car Nicobar island, 300 miles north of Sumatra. The area covers sea lanes to the Malay peninsula, where the Japanese have been expecting an Allied invasion to recover Singapore naval base at the peninsula's southern tip.

While China heard praises and fair forecasts yesterday on the eighth anniversary of its war with Japan, the Chinese central news agncy reported Japanese troop landings June 30 on the coast of

Flier Dies In Crash, Two Are Unreported

SAN ANGELO, July 7 (AP) — The pilot officer of an Army plane which the Goodfellow field public relations officer said was from Alexandria, La., was killed in a crash near Sterling City today. The body was brought here. The Army withheld identification pending notification of next of kin.

A second plane from the same field landed near Albany and the pilot was reported safe.

The public relations officer also said two other planes in a flight of seven which cleared from Biggs Field, El Paso, for their home base were unreported late tonight.

Cops Protest, But Daredevil To Ride Niagara In Barrel

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 7 (AP) — Niagara Parks commission police said today they have received instructions to stop William (Red) Hill, below, from attempting to ride the Niagara river rapids and whirlpool in a barrel tomorrow unless he obtains a permit. But Hill said he plans to go ahead, anyway.

However, it was learned from authoritative sources there is little likelihood of any attempt to stop him from making the seven mile trip in the steel barrel in which his late father made one of his three journeys through the rapids.

Hill announced this morning he will start his trip at 2 p. m. Sunday. He expects it will take about three hours.

It is expected that upwards of 200,000 spectators will watch Hill make the trip in fulfillment of a deathbed pact with his father.

Reds Keep Tight Control On All Military Government Of Berlin

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 7—Soviet authorities maintained a tight grip on the entire military government of Berlin today while high officials of three powers tried to solve two complicated problems—food and boundaries.

No district yet had been taken over from the Russians by either American or British military government detachments, although United States military forces supposedly formally occupied their Berlin zone on July 4, and the British held a flag-raising ceremony yesterday.

Soviet commanders in all the Berlin boroughs obeyed Soviet instructions to stay on the job and supervise the German city administration.

The United States' plan was to take governmental control of its zone at midnight Wednesday. The British had hoped to get their Berlin government operating by tomorrow.

Barter Deal Pending

The Soviet representatives, it was learned, had declined to make food reserves in the Soviet zone available to any district controlled by the other allies pending conclusion of a barter deal on the highest levels under which the Russians would be paid "in kind" for such food.

Although this was the third day of the governmental muddle as far as the Americans were concerned, their first direct relations with Russian officers in the various boroughs continued to be marked by warm cordiality.

But the Americans were visibly puzzled, if not chagrined, that the Anglo-American sharing of Berlin with the Soviet Union should have been so haphazardly arranged in advance.

Yanks, British On Patrol

The only operation now being carried out in Berlin by American and British forces is a security patrol of the areas where their troops are billeted. The patrols have been ordered not to interfere in any way with the Russian troops. They have been forbidden to ask the Russians to show their identification papers, and are not to intervene if the Germans complain that supplies in retail stores and wholesale warehouses are being removed by Soviet truck crews.

French embarrassment has been even more keen than that of the other two western powers. There was no positive indication as to when French troops would reach Berlin.

Change Expected Tuesday

Lt. Col. John J. Maginnis, the American officer ordered to take over the Schoeneberg district of Berlin, says that contradicting orders from U. S. and Soviet "higher levels" are delaying American occupation of the assigned district.

"My Soviet opposite number told me he had been ordered not to withdraw from Schoeneberg," Col. Maginnis said yesterday. "I told him I had been ordered to come in. We have established most friendly relations between us while waiting for higher levels to clear up the matter."

Sgt. James D. Arp Is Released From Army

Sgt. James D. Arp, who spent four years and four months overseas with the Army, has been discharged under the point system with a total of 115 points. He is the son of Mrs. Jean Arp, 2701 Ruby.

ARP

Sgt. Arp was in the invasions of Saipan, the Marshall islands, and Guam and spent a year in the Canton islands. He is entitled to wear the Asiatic - Pacific ribbon with two stars and the American Defense ribbon with one star for Pearl Harbor. He was with the 1521 Engineers construction group.

Since his return to civilian life, the discharged veteran has been employed at Dalby Motor Freight Lines.

Castro Civic Leader Buys Business Here

E. F. Harmon, longtime civic leader of Dimmitt and Castro county and since 1925 engaged in the farm machinery and grain business there, has purchased the 16-apartment Camp Carson, 202 Avenue H, and, with his family will reside in Lubbock. Mr. Harmon will begin operating his new property, purchased from Mrs. Cora E. Head, tomorrow.

Mr. Harmon said he had chosen Lubbock for the permanent home of his wife, his son and himself especially because the son, J. E. Harmon, 17, will be ready to enter Tech in the Fall.

He plans to remodel and recondition Camp Carson in the immediate future.

Farmers Get Priority To Replace Tools

WASHINGTON, July 7. (U.P.)—Farmers will be granted priority assistance to replace and repair farm machinery damaged by floods, windstorms or lightning in 1944 and in 1945, the War Production board said today.

Farmers may obtain permits for priorities from local WPB offices and file the permits with their country agricultural adjustment agency.

Priorities will not be granted, however, to farmers to repair farm machinery for other reasons.

Washington Is Silent On De Gaulle Visit

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — A French announcement that Gen. Charles de Gaulle has accepted an invitation to visit President Truman here was met with silence in official Washington today.

Neither the White House nor the State department would comment on the announcement that came out of France yesterday — an unusual reception to an exchange of greetings between two government heads.

The French, through an official announcement, said the general has received an invitation to visit President Truman in August, and has accepted.

The announcement produced only a crisp and puzzling "no comment" from the White House, which normally might be expected to confirm promptly such an invitation and acceptance.

Later in the day, Henri Bonnet, the French ambassador, visited Mr. Truman and afterward told reporters the De Gaulle visit has been arranged in every respect except a date. He said he had not discussed the trip with the President because it had been settled previously. He said an official invitation had been tendered.

Again the White House and the State department remained silent. There were off-the-record indications to reporters that the French announcement was unexpected, to say the least.

Wage Ceilings Not To Be Recommended

COLLEGE STATION, July 7 (AP) — The Texas U. S. Department of Agriculture wage board said today it had declined to recommend establishment of wage ceilings for cotton picking and pulling in eight coastal bend and Rio Grande valley counties.

E. R. Alexander, board chairman, said that when petitions were tabulated it was found that only 14 per cent of the producers in the area had expressed opinions, and that requirements were that 51 per cent of the producers request the board to recommend such a program.

Counties affected are Starr, Hidalgo, Willacy, Cameron, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Nueces, and San Patricio.

Dr. Griggs received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Texas Tech and his doctor of education degree from the University of Texas. After leaving Lubbock he served three years as deputy state superintendent at Wichita Falls and the next two years in a similar capacity at College Station. For the past several years he has been director of high schools and curriculum for the State Department of Education at Austin.

Army Spending Is Assailed

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP)—Representative Engel (R., Mich.), unofficial appropriations committee "watch-dog" of Army spending, asserted today the War department was "throwing hard-earned tax dollars down a rat hole."

Engel, a member of the appropriations sub-committee handling war funds, in a statement in the Congressional Record said that billions of dollars have been spent on projects which the War department has not justified before any congressional committee.

He emphasized that his criticism of Army spending was not directed at "anyone in the theaters of operations" but was aimed at "some of these swivel-chair gentlemen who get on a plane and in a few weeks come back with more ribbons on their chests than Eisenhower, Bradley, Clark or MacArthur ever received."

Spending Tops Property Values

By the middle of 1946, Engel estimated, total Army appropriations since 1941 will exceed by $64,000,000,000 the assessed valuation of "every piece of property, real and personal, in the 48 states as it was assessed in 1941."

As a result of many first-hand investigations, Engel said, he has complained often of "the outrageous waste of the taxpayers' money" on various Army projects.

"I wonder what would happen if the public got a complete resume of the dollars wasted by this and other departments of government, as I hope they will some day," he said.

Lubbock May Lose Direct Pullman To Dallas, Fort Worth

Possibility that Lubbock would lose its direct Pullman connections with Fort Worth and Dallas emerged as one of the likelihoods to follow the Office of Defense Transportation order Friday restricting use of Pullmans between cities 450 miles apart or less.

The Pullman order will go into effect on July 15.

Officials of the Santa Fe railroad here said Saturday afternoon they had not received any instructions from the general offices at Amarillo and therefore could not give out any information regarding the order.

The Pullman serving Lubbock is made up here and is also cut off here on the return trip from Dallas.

One factor might prevent elimination of the service altogether, it was pointed out. The sleeping car is used regularly by officers at the two Army air Forces installations here and therefore might be retained for that purpose with civilians being allowed to use whatever space is not occupied by military personnel.

Fort Worth and Denver railroad operates no sleeping car service into or out of Lubbock but C. E. Kuykendall, division freight and passenger agent, said the company's sleeping car service from Amarillo to Denver, which is used frequently by South Plains travelers, might come up for elimination under the order.

Terrific Winds Over Japan Forces Changes In Air Bombardment Plan

By REUEL S. MOORE
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Very high winds over Japan forced changes in plans for bombardment of the enemy's home islands, Lt. Col. Patrick B. McCarthy disclosed today.

McCarthy, who flew the first scouting flights over Japan from the Marianas, said winds blowing sometimes at more than 230 miles an hour were discovered during those first reconnaissance flights.

While they changed bombing plans, however, they did not affect the new result, McCarthy said.

Back For Reassignment

The flier, whose home is in Defiance, O., is back in this country for leave and reassignment to new duties.

He said the winds were found at altitudes of 25,000 to 30,000 feet. Generally blowing from west to east. The highest velocities—170 to over 230 miles an hour—were discovered from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1, he said. In summer the winds blew at around 80 miles an hour.

These winds continue over Canada and the United States. In winter they would be capable of blowing a Japanese balloon bomb to this country in two days. McCarthy said that by using the winds a B-29 could easily fly from Guam to Washington.

Early Reconnaissance

Photo reconnaissance B-29s flew 17 missions over Japan from the Marianas before the first bombing raid on Honshu Nov. 22, McCarthy revealed. Those early reconnaissance flights provided weather information as well as maps and photos.

Now weather reconnaissance planes also make regular flights over Japan. All planes including the bombers report back weather information. Between photo and weather reconnaissance planes and bombers there is hardly an hour now without weather reports being available from directly over Japan.

Brings His Plane Back

McCarthy bought his plane "Yokohama Yo-Yo" the second B-29 to fly over Tokyo, back to this country 'war weary" after eight months of regular flying including 30 missions over Japan. During that time it has photographed 207,100 square miles of enemy territory, more than the total land area of Japan itself.

McCarthy said Japanese anti-aircraft fire has improved 100 per cent in three months. He ascribed this to the recent use and improvement of radio fire control. Bombing of airplane plants, fields and maintenance facilities has cut down the effectiveness of the enemy air force so the Japanese cannot get more than 20 per cent of their maximum strength off the ground at any one time, he estimated.

Lightning Plays Hob With Mexia Residence

MEXIA, July 7. (AP) — When Mrs. Wallace Welch turned on the radio a wall lamp in the bedroom came on, when she flipped the switch controlling the bedroom lights it turned on a floor lamp in the living room although the latter is not connected with any switch.

These were among unusual occurrences in the home of Welch, advertising manager of the Mexia News, when lightning struck near the place yesterday and turned on every light in the house.

An electrician finally turned them off, although he could find no reason for the mix-up.

He was further puzzled when he found one circuit wouldn't burn with a fuse in but does burn when the fuse is removed.

This Windfall Would Be Doubly Welcomed

HOUSTON, July 7. (U.P.)—John Cross found at his back gate a gunny sack containing 30 pounds of a war-scarce commodity most Americans are hungrily dreaming about these days.

Cross said today he heard someone running behind his house last night and, suspecting a prowler, investigated. The mysterious footfalls were receding in the darkness when Cross stumbled over the gunny sack.

He found 30 pounds of bacon inside.

News Briefs

Final examinations for the first term of summer school at Texas Tech will be held Monday and Tuesday and registration for the second term will be held Wednesday, as listed in the college calendar. Classes for the second term will begin at 8 a.m. Thursday.

An extension course in Plane Geometry will be offered at Texas Tech for the second term of summer school which beginns Thursday if sufficient enrollment is obtained, according to Homer Millikin, director of extension. The course, which is open for credit, will have daily class meetings and continue through the six-weeks session. Millikin said a course in Algebra 2 would probably be offered this semester.

Mrs. A. G. Wilson, 68, Dallas, sister of Mrs. R. A. Goad, Ed Branch, both of Lubbock, and Sam Branch of Meadow, died at her home July 1, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Goad, who had been with Mrs. Wilson some time, attended funeral services held July 2 at the First Baptist church of Dallas.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Spade for Elmer L. Dennis, 39, of 2706 Locust, who died Thursday of a heart attack. Burial will be in the Littlefield cemetery, Plains Funeral home announced.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultz of 2206 Thirtieth are the parents of a son, weighing 8 pounds 6 ounces born Tuesday morning in St. Mary's hospital. The baby has been named Fred Michael.

A fifth-Sunday singing convention will be held at the Asbury Methodist church here on July 28 and 29 sponsored by the Lubbock county singing convention, Henry W. Shipp, president, announced. Saturday night, July 28, singing will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The Sunday singing will begin at 1 p.m. Outstanding quartets are to be present from any surrounding towns, Shipp said, and urged that all persons in the area attend if possible.

The Community Center, Sixth and Ave. B, will be open at the regular hours today, 2-6 p.m., but will be closed next Sunday for an all-day church meeting, Mrs. Cecil Sharbutt announced.

Certificates Of Discharge Available

WASHINGTON, July 7 (U.P.) — Enlisted personnel released from the Navy on or after Dec. 7, 1941, "under honorable conditions" or "under satisfactory conditions" are now entitled to receive honorable discharge certificates, the Navy has announced.

Applications must be made to the Navy for the new certificates.

The new ruling provides that the honorable discharge certificates may be issued to personnel released for convenience of the government, individuals' own convenience, dependency existing prior to enlistment, dependency arising since enlistment, minors enlisted without consent and all other cases where the man had not been convicted by a general court martial or more than once by a summary court martial.

Cpl. Doyle Howell Is Home From Pacific

Cpl. Doyle Howell, home on 45-day furlough after 28 months in the Pacific, where he was in the invasions of New Guinea, the Admiralties and Philippines, is visiting his wife and son Dion at their home, 921 Thirty-second.

In an amphibian engineers unit with the Sixth Army, Cpl. Howell was with the shorecoming party, usually with the fifth or sixth wave, and as machine-gunner, covered the work of the construction engineers in roadbuilding. Roads had to be repaired so that trucks and other heavy equipment could be unloaded, and it was Cpl. Howell's job to protect the engineers.

With two stars for the two invasions in the Asiatic-Pacific and two more for Leyte and Luzon, the corporal came home without getting a scratch in combat. His unit went into all four battles within 30 minutes after H-hour of D-day, but the only time he "nearly got it" was when a personnel bomb hit the tires of a 20-ton trailer he and another man were under and blew both tires off of it. He and the other soldier weren't even touched.

Cpl. Howell will report back to El Paso August 13, and will be returned to his old unit in the Pacific. He has been in the Army since July, 1942, and overseas since February, 1943. He is the son of Mrs. M. L. Wilkinson, 1303 Arnett, Lubbock, and Charlie Howell of Tahoka.

Truman, Byrnes To Use Separate Planes

WASHINGTON, July 7 (U.P.) — The White House disclosed today that President Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will use separate planes if any air travel is involved in their trips to and from the impending big three conference near Berlin.

Byrnes is the legal successor to Mr. Truman in the presidency. If anything should happen to both of them, Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., would become President.

Morgenthau's resignation does not become effective until after Mr. Truman's return.

Farbenindustrie Head Held For Questioning

HOESCHT, Germany, July 7. (AP) —The man who headed the espionage activities of the great I. G. Farbenindustrie was in military custody today as the army completed seizure of the management, assets and plants of the organization in the American zone of occupied Germany.

Records of the United States group control council listed him as Dr. Max Ilgner, 47, an ardent Nazi.

Ilgner and Dr. Herman Schmitz, principal director of Farben-industrie, were held in Frankfort for questioning about the intrigate affairs of the industry whose war-making powers the American group has branded as a "major threat to the peace and the security of the postwar world."

Civil Service Employes Here Will Get $361,560 More Under Raises

By JEANNE ENGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

An annual increase of approximately $361,560 will be paid to graded civil service employes working in government offices located in the Lubbock area as a result of two pay-raise bills passed recently affecting most federal and postal employes.

Under the new setup, postal employes will receive their first permanent pay raises since 1925. The postal bill is intended to replace the $300 bonus voted postal employes in 1943 which expired June 30. It provides for a 20-per-cent increase over present base pay, but not to exceed $400 a year or to be less than $300.

Postal Employes Get $12,160

On the above basis, Amos H. Howard, Lubbock postmaster, estimated Saturday that the raise would mean an annual increase of $12,160 in the Lubbock office. The estimate was figured on the basis of last year's payroll of $188,400. The bill also provides for time and a half for work over eight hours per day, he pointed out.

The other pay-raise bill, signed into law by the President June 30 and to become effective this month, provides an increase of 20 per cent on salaries up to $1,200; 10 per cent on salaries between $1,200 and $4,600 and 5 per cent for everything over $4,600. Employes affected under this plan will be all graded or classified civil service workers.

Begin 44-Hour Week

All government agencies, except army installations and the post office, have begun the new 44-hour work week and will be closed at 12.30 p. m. every Saturday. Government officials pointed out that under the new 44-hour week, the pay boost will not be as great as the first glance might indicate. "The decrease in overtime pay about offsets the increase in pay," one director said.

Information division of the Lubbock District OPA announced that the pay boost would mean an increase of about $32,300 per year for the 140 employes in the district office, local War Price and Rationing board and rent area office.

Other Agencies Affected

John J. Van Pelt, ODT director, estimated his office would receive only about a 5 per cent increase or about $8,400 more per year.

Public relations office at South Plains Army Air field expects the new pay rate to mean about $100,000 more per year, providing the present number of workers remains at the present level.

A check with other government agencies in the city revealed that approximately 29 of their employes will receive an annual total increase of about $8,700.

The pay boost for all graded employes of Lubbock Army Air field will average about 15 per cent in each case. The actual boost will vary with each individual's salary and tax status.

The scale as it affects various grades and salaries was explained in detail by Capt. Richard H. Purrington, civilian personnel officer, at a meeting of civilian employes at the West base Saturday.

The wage boost at the field will mean an addition of $200,000 per year to employes, provided the number of workers remains the same.

In explaining the graduating wage scale, Capt. Purrington, gave this example: A person earning $1,900 a year will receive a 20 per cent increase on $1,200 of that total or a $240 boost on his base rate. Then the employe will receive an additional 10 per cent increase on the $700 above $1,200, or an additional $70, making his total pay increase of $310.

Overtime Rate Changes

Two other important phases of the pay change are the different manner in paying for overtime—which increases overtime pay to 30 per cent from approximately 22 per cent—and the reduction in the waiting period for in-grade promotions from 18 to 12 months.

First pay day under the new plan will be Friday, July 20, with payment due on each succeeding second Friday or every two weeks. Civilian employes previously have been paid twice each month.

Overtime Formerly Prorated

In order to draw overtime pay workers must actually work on the day, usually Saturday, immediately preceding their day off, which in the majority of cases is Sunday. Absence on the "overtime day" will result in loss of pay but will not be charged against either annual or sick leave. Formerly overtime pay has been prorated over the six work days each week.

Ungraded employes on the field, many of whom received administrative increases May 1, will be paid on an hourly basis in keeping with the prevailing wage scales of this area.

"Here is a chance for civilian employes to increase their War Bond allotments and turn their raises into an assist for the war effort; at the same time they can put away a nice sum for that proverbial rainy day," Capt. Purrington said.

Idalou Canning Center To Be Opened Monday

Opening Monday, July 9, for some 20 weeks the Idalou canning center will operate in the high school homemaking department and in the Becton school cafeteria on Tuesday and Thursdays of each week.

Work will be done on these days, only when there are enough appointments to justify opening of the center.

Mrs. L. E. Countess will supervise the canning and G. D. Taylor, vocational agriculture teacher in the school, will supervise the program. Persons interested in working are requested to contact one of these officials for appointments.

NEW YORK, July 7. (AP)—The principal securities exchanges in the country were closed today, the first of summer Saturday holidays which will be in effect until Sept. 8.

All Motor Vehicles Require Licenses

Motor bikes and motor scooters were cause of a Saturday warning of police.

"It is required that drivers of any motor-driven vehicle license such vehicle—further that they have a driver's license," said J. Solon Lea, city recorder.

"Parents are subject to be filed on, just as are the youngsters, for permitting operation of unlicensed vehicles and such operation without a driver's license."

Moreover, the traffic department of Capt. Lewis Kittrell pointed out, a note of caution should be infused in regard to reckless operation of motor bikes and scooters.

"Too many didoes are being cut by the young riders," it was said. "Too many of them turn where they please, and have been observed lined up and taking most of the street. Somebody will get hurt if the practice continues."

Production Of B-29s Is Ahead Of Schedule

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Production of Japan-bombing B-29 Superfortresses ran four per cent ahead of schedule in June, the War Production board reported today.

Chairman J. A. Krug announced that despite this achievement, total aircraft output during the last month fell short of the objective by 288 planes. This ended a three-month record of schedule attainment.

The total of aircraft accepted during June was 5,794, against an objective that called for 6,022 planes.

Krug, while stating that the overall June showing was a "disappointment" reported that B-29 production was on schedule in all plants, with two companies "exceeding their quota to such an extent" as to account for the four per cent increase over the number of superbombers scheduled.

Twelve 8th Air Force Groups Redeployed

LONDON, July 7. (U.P.)—Twelve bomb groups of the U. S. Eighth Air force have been redeployed out of the European theater, headquarters records showed today.

Each bomb group has about 2,700 men ad 72 planes. The redeployment of bomb groups is in two phases—air movement and water movement. Air movement usually means 72 planes ply home with 1,440 men aboard, most of them air crewmen. Water movement usually follows a few weeks later.

Air and water movements have been completed on the following bomb groups: 44th, 91st, 341st, 389th, 392nd, 398th, 401st, 445th, 453rd, 457th, 482nd and 489th.

Air movement has been completed and water movement not begun for the 34th, 95th, 303rd, 379th, 385th, 388th, 390th, 446th, 447th, 452nd, 458th, 466th, 467th and 491st.

Neither water nor air movement has yet begun for the 94th, 96th, 100th, 305th, 306th, 384th, 487th, 490th, 492nd, and 493rd.

Bungling Blamed In Food Problem

AUSTIN, July 7. (U.P.)—For 1,500,000 Texans who depend daily on public eating places and owners of the businesses, there are gloomier days ahead because of the bungling on the part of federal agencies.

That is the opinion today of Executive Vice President Pat Moreland of the State Restaurant association.

Moreland was referring to the Office of Price administration and the War Food administration. Because of their "lop-sided policies" he said additional eating places are closing daily for they can't get cooking oils and desirable foods.

Dozens of boarding houses are closing daily because they can't get supplies, explained Moreland, who has just completed a state survey of conditions. That load shifts to cafes and restaurants. In addition, more and more war veterans are returning and with their families are depending on public eating places.

In December, 1942, the OPA allowed restaurants the value of one red point to feed a customer. Now that has been cut to .37 per cent of one point. Out of that the owner must not only buy his meats, but also his cooking oils or lard to use for cooking and baking.

By its bungling the WFA told farmers to reduce their quota of hogs five per cent. Skeptical farmers, because of this, lopped off their pig crops 30 per cent, Moreland said.

"Right there went your cooking oils and lard as well as pork," he said.

"As for beef, poultry, sugar, butter and seafoods," he continued, "everyone knows they're as hard to get as gold nuggets.

"Some restaurants are closing one or two and sometimes three days a week so they can stretch their supplies. They have to get out and hunt high and low for food.

"We feel that if public eating places close now, with the outlook for food so gloomy, they won't ever reopen. The public must be fed but with supplies so hard to get and distribution broken down the future doesn't look bright at all."

Restaurant owners' business increased from $10,000,000 in 1940 to $190,000,000 last year in the state, Moreland said. But "they really earned every dime of the extra money," he added.

Hopkins Resigns From Two Other Agencies

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, former presidential adviser, has served his connections with two other federal agencies, thus completing his withdrawal from the government.

The White House said today that Hopkins, who resigned earlier this week as special assistant to the President, has resigned as chairman of the munitions assignment board and as a member of the War Production board. The President has accepted the resignations.

Dissolution Of Combined Allied Command, SHAEF Is To Take Place

PARIS, July 7. (U.P.)—Supreme Headquarters today announced the termination of the combined command of the Allied expeditionary force and the dissolution of SHAEF, effective on or about July 13.

With the break up of SHAEF, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will relinquish command of all elements of the Allied expeditionary force, including supreme headquarters and attached or assigned units. He is U. S. representative on the Allied Control commission in Germany and military governor of the American-occupied zone.

Exact Date Delayed

Announcement of the exact date and time of the SHAEF dissolution will be delayed "in order to permit the readjustment of certain troops" and until the return of General Eisenhower, who desires an opportunity of saying farewell to the principal commanders and members of his staff.

Upon the termination of the combined command, the following changes will become effective:

Operational control of the 12th and Sixth army groups, the Ninth Air force, communications zone, and U. S. elements of the Allied Naval command of the expeditionary force, and supreme headquarters missions to France, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Norway will pass from Eisenhower as supreme commander to Eisenhower as commanding general of United States forces in the European theater.

21st To France

The 21st army group and British elements of supreme headquarters missions to France, the Netherlands and Norway will revert to British war office control.

British army elements of supreme headquarters missions to Belgium and Denmark will pass to the command of the 21st Army group.

Command of the Second Tactical Air force, British forces in Norway, and all Royal Air force elements of supreme headquarters missions will be assumed by the British air ministry.

The command of Allied land forces in Norway will pass to the war office, with the British chief of staff acting as agent to the combined chiefs of staff.

Command To Remain Same

The Norwegian naval and air forces will continue under the present command until, at some date to be announced later, they will revert to control of the Norwegian government.

Command of British elements of the Allied Naval command of the expeditionary force, and of British naval forces in Norway and British naval elements of all supreme headquarters missions will be assumed by the admiralty.

Liquidating Agency To Begin

The French high command will assume command of the French First army and of the army detachment of the Alps.

"It has been supposed," the SHAEF announcement said, "that certain residual matters of a combined nature which cannot be transferred to appropriate United States or British agencies will be handled by the combined Allied liquidating agency of supreme headquarters, which will be responsible to the British chief of staff and commanding general of United States forces in the European theater, and that this liquidating agency will begin its functions upon the dissolution of supreme headquarters."

Sgt. Bishop Mitchell Missing Over Japan

T/Sgt. Bishop K. Mitchell, 25, radio-gunner on a B-29 Superfortress, has been reported by the War department as missing in action over Japan since May 24.

MITCHELL

A former Lubbock resident, Sgt. Mitchell, nephew of Mrs. D. E. Meridith of 605 Ave. O, was graduated from Lubbock High school and entered the AAF in January, 1941. Having served with the Air forces in Puerto Rico for two years, Sgt. Mitchell returned to the states before being reassigned to the Pacific theater in January of this year.

The flier is the son of Mrs. Dovie Griffin of Fort Worth. A brother, M. G. Mitchell, aviation machinist mate, second class, USNR, is serving in the South Pacific.

NORWAY DECLARES WAR

WASHINGTON, July 7. (U.P.)—Norway has declared war on Japan, the Norwegian embassy here said today. The declaration was made by a unanimous vote last night of the Norwegian Parliament, the embassy said, following loss of numerous Norwegian ships in the Pacific. Norway severed diplomatic relations with Japan on Dec. 8, 1941.

Soil Conservation Meet Set Monday For Slaton Area

Laying plans for cooperation with the Lubbock County Soil Conservation district, farmers of the Slaton vicinity will meet at the Club House there on Monday night, July 9, at 8:30 o'clock.

George E. Eklund, district supervisor; Jason Gordon, Lubbock County Agent; and H. E. Mather, work unit conservationists for the soil conservation service will meet with the group.

Eklund will explain the district program, Gordon will discuss the necessity of group action in a conservation program, and Mather will explain assistance rendered district programs by the conservation service. A. C. Strickland, vocational agriculture teacher at Slaton, will be in charge of the program.

The Lubbock district was organized by vote of the landowners, and is a legal sub-division of the state, with its primary purpose to assist individual farmers and groups of farmers in a long-time program to prevent wind and water erosion and maintaining soil fertility. Two hundred farmers have been assisted in the last two years in such work as laying out irrigation systems, terracing, establishing alfalfa and tame grass pastures, and other conservation work.

Slaton farmers have received little aid through the district program and the meeting is aimed at discovering how much assistance will be needed there in the next year as several applications have come into the local offices.

The district supervisors will meet in Lubbock on Friday, July 13, and at that time will set up areas for work during the coming year. Eklund is anxious to learn the time that will be alloted by the local district's work to the Slaton vicinity.

News Briefs

Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county agent, announced Saturday that potato growers of this area have been advised by the Office of Price administration and the War Food Administration that the price on Irish potatoes, by the hundred pounds, has been raised from $2.80 to $3.05. Gordon said this was limited to the period until July 21.

R. L. Chappelle and O. T. Ryan will leave their offices at Texas Tech early next week for Abilene and a staff meeting of the state vocational agriculture officials, district heads, teacher trainers and one superintendent and vocational agriculture teacher from each area of the state, to be held Wednesday through Friday. Administrative problems and routine business will be discussed. Chappelle is head of the department of agriculture aducation and Ryan, an assistant professor in thata department and a teacher trainer, is supervisor of vocational agriculture in Area 1.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Goodart and two children, Bob, and Nancy, of Los Angeles, are visiting Mr. Goodart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Goodart, 2518 Twenty-third, and Mrs. Goodart's father, J. A. Raney, 2422 Texas. They are former residents of Lubbock.

Pfc. J. J. Suiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Suiter of 2520 Twenty-fourth, is home on 60-day leave after 28 months in Africa and Italy as electrician with the 32nd Station hospital. He returned to the States May 24, but has been at William Beaumont General hospital, El Paso, for treatment of a leg injury received in a truck accident in Italy, since that date. Pfc. Suited was one of the first Lubbock men to go into military service in January, 1940, and this is his first furlough in three years. He will report back to El Paso for more hospital treatment at the end of his leave.

Farmers Reminded Of Johnson Grass Fight

A reminder to farmers that present dry weather is ideal for killing johnson grass was issued Saturday by Dr. A. W. Young, professor and head of the Department of Plant industry at Texas Tech college.

Dr. Young said that farmers who have not planted should keep the grass cut off by solid sweeps through the field each week or ten days. This, he said, would probably eliminate from 80 to 90 per cent of the weed.

During the summer the grass will dry out, if the roots are pulled loose and to the top.

At the college Hoeme plows are being used behind heavy tractors with cultivators on the light equipment. Sweeps are set to cut "everything," Young said. The college is cultivating with the ridges and then crossing them to be sure none are left.

Young said he thought "every farmer should seize each opportunity possible to make use of the weather" in killing the grass.

A sharp knife is safer than a dull one which is hard to guide, often slips and causes cuts.

SMITH RITES SET

O'DONNELL, July 7. (Special)—Funeral services for E. R. Smith, sr., 67, who died Thursday at his home, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church. Burial will be in the Tahoka cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home of Lubbock.

Murder Charges Filed After Constable Shot

LAREDO, July 7. (AP) — Deputy constable John Novoa was shot fatally today as he attempted to arrest two men who were near a filling station here about 2 a.m.

Police chief Dave Gallagher said that one man, resisting arrest, fired shots at Nova at close range, that both men fled, and were later caught. He identified the two as seamen and said that in signed statements they told of being AWOL from the Kingsville, Naval Auxiliary Air station since July 5.

District Attorney E. James Kzazen filed charges of murder in connection with the case against George Anthony Baker, 17, of Jefferson county, Missouri, and Thomas J. Larkin, 18. An examining trial was set before justice of the peace Leo Villegas.

Veteran Fifth Army To Be Broken Up, Some To Be Sent To Pacific

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CASERTA, Italy, July 7. — The veteran Fifth Army which battled up the Italian boot from the Salerno shinbone to the Tyrolean kneecap is about to be broken up.

By next February of its seven divisions and both its regimental combat teams will have been sent back to America.

The 85th (Custer) division will lead the movement back home starting in August. This division, which underwent 14 months combat duty in Italy, will be the first all-selective service division in the U. S. Army to be deactivated, Fifth Army headquarters announced.

Lineup Of Disposition

Headquarters gave this lineup of the disposition of the Fifth:

34th division, with more combat time against the enemy than any other outfit, to be redeployed to the United States and placed in tactical reserve for possible Pacific service.

85th division to be deactivated after return home.

88th division, now guarding 300,000 German prisoners in Italy, to be deactivated after return home.

91st division, which entered combat here last July, to be redeployed to the Pacific by way of the United States.

92nd division to be returned to U. S.

Moved To Germany

First Armored division, veterans of African and Italian campaigns, already moved to Germany as part of the occupation force.

Tenth Mountain division, serving as occupation force in Trieste area for time being.

473rd regiment to be returned home and placed in tactical reserve.

The 88th and 91st divisions and the 473rd regiment are scheduled to leave for the U. S. in September. The 92nd division will leave in October, the 34th in December and the 442nd regiment in February.

Officers said while the divisions being redeployed will retain their identifcation the troops comprising them will be radically changed in some instances.

The 34th already has dispatched most of its men with at least 85 service points to the 85th or 88th divisions. In exchange the 34th now has received thousands of men with less than 85 points from those two divisions.

When the trip home starts the 34th probably will be made up entirely of troops who have less than 85 points or are classified as essential.

MEDICS GET BONUS

WASHINGTON, July 7 (U.P.) — President Truman today signed legislation giving non-combatant Army medical corps personnel serving in the front lines the same $10 a month bonus paid to combat infantrymen.

Cpl. Frank R. Harris Now Reported Killed

Cpl. Frank R. Harris, 23, nephew and adopted son of Mrs. M. L. Chambless, 2205-B Eighteenth, was killed June 16 over New Guinea, the War department informed Mrs. Chambless yesterday. He had previously been reported missing in action.

HARRIS

Cpl. Harris, radio - gunner was with the 339th Fighter squadron of the 13th Air force and had been overseas 28 months. He was stationed somewhere in the Philippines at the time he was missing and had been in at least six major battles.

He entered the Air corps in 1943 after his graduation from Lubbock High school in 1941 and graduated with high honors from the flexible gunnery school at Truax field, Madison, Wis. His group had two Unit citations, one for their work at Cape Glouchester, New Britain, and one for Leyte.

Frank H. Harris, Cpl. Harris' father, is seriously ill in Waco.

Names Of Two Crash Victims Announced

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 7 (U.P.)— The names of two naval aviators killed in a two-plane crash near San Antonio Thursday night were released by the Navy here today.

They were Ensign Ernest Vaughn Wallace, 22, whose wife and mother live in Mound City, Kans. and Ensign Charles Jackson Loomis, 19, son of Mrs. Charlotte B. Loomis of Washington, D. C.

Amarillo Girl Is Author Of Book For 'Bobby Soxers'

Evelyn Jean McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarty of Amarillo, has authored a book, "Get Hep," for the bobby sox set which is likely to clear up some of the mysteries of the 'teen age group and prove a liberal education for bewildered parents.

A bobby soxer herself, Miss McCarty has translated the amazing new language that has sprung up in America, Bobby Sox Lingo, into English and sprinkled the book with pen sketches, puns and jingles. She explains that parents are curfew keepers, a chaperon is a fire extinguisher, that slick chicks can be called whistle bait, quaint dainties, bundle bunnies—and many other things.

First week sales of "Get Hep" (Naylor Publishing Co. of San Antonio) indicate the book will go over big with teen-agers. The book sells for 50 cents and is aimed primarily for book stores and drug stores where youngsters hang out.

Miss McCarty plans to use the money from sales of "Get Hep" in furthering her work as a writer. She will enroll in Pulitzer Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia university, New York, this fall.

She is the niece of Bill Mcarty of Lubbock. Her father is associate publisher of the Amarillo Globe News.

News Briefs

Mrs. Lynwood Pirtle has returned from San Diego where she spent several months with her husband, S 1/c Pirtle, who was awaiting new orders after his return from the Pacific. She and their daughter, Lynnita, will make their home with her mother, Mrs. Ruby Collett, 2314 Ninth.

Lt. and Mrs. Milton G. Scarbrough are visiting here with Mrs. Scarbrough's mother, Mrs. Ruby Leary of 2205 Thirteenth.

TOBACCO CEILING RAISED

WASHINGTON, July 7 (U.P.)— The ceiling purchase price for the 1945 crop of tobacco used in cigarets will be one cent a pound higher than last year but the price of cigarets won't be raised, the Office of Price administration said today.

The couple recently returned from a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

A Trailers club dance will be held beginning at 9 o'clock Tuesday night at the Meadowbrook club house, it was announced Saturday.

South Plains Oil Development Activities . . .

Discovery Of New Southwest Cochran Field Highlight Of Past Week; 10,000-Foot Test Scheduled In Garza

HIGHLIGHT of the past week in the South Plains oil development program was definitely proving the discovery of a new oil field in southwest Cochran county by a wildcat test.

Other features of the period included staking of a petroleum prospector in northeast Lynn county; making of location for a one mile and one-half northeast extension effort for the Welch-Nelson pool in northwest Dawson county; completion of an extender to the Alexander field in northwest Terry county, and showing of good production from an outpost to the Russell field in northwest Gaines.

To Go 10,000 Feet

Definite announcement of intention to drill a northwest Garza county exploration to at least 10,000 feet to try to locate oil in the Ellenburger was made by Honolulu Oil corporation with reference to No. 1 Altman, now rigging up a larger derrick on a total depth of 5,651 feet in lower Permian lime.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Edwards, southwest Cochran county San Andres-Permian discovery, in section 13, block L, psl survey, ten miles west of the Slaughter field, was perparing to re-treat with 6,500 gallons of acid, in pay section between 5,025 feet and plugged-back total depth of 5,080 feet, after that horizon had flowed 131 barrels of fluid in 12 hours after the load of residue from a 2,500-gallon acid treatment had been recovered. All of the recovery was oil except 14 barrels of basic sediment. There was no formation water.

Following the 12-hour test the well was shutin over night and when re-opened the next day made 86 barrels of fluid—of which 80 barrels was oil and four barrels of basic sediment.

More Oil Expected

On last flowing test, before the well was shutin to await building of more storage before treating with the 6,500 gallons of acid, casing pressure had built up to 80 pounds, and casing pressure was 50 pounds.

It is expected that the second shot of acid will increase the oil yield considerable from the production shown following the 2,500-gallon injection. Apparently the plug-back to 5,080 feet—31 feet above original total depth to which the test was drilled, has eliminated bottom hole water trouble.

Continental Oil company No. 1 W. H. May is to be a 6,700-foot wildcat to test the lower Permian at about center of northeast quarter of Lynn county.

The location is about six miles northeast of Tahoka and is 2,310 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 10, black 7, EL survey. It is near center of a spread of about 3,800 acres Conoco has in that region.

New Dawson Test Staked

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 F. A. Youngblood, to be 660 feet from south and west lines of northwest quarter of section 29, black M, EL survey, is the new Dawson county exploration.

It will be about one and one-half miles northeast of Richmond Drilling company No. 1 Nelson, a small pumper completed during 1944, in the Welch-Nelson area, of northeast Dawson.

Magnolia's No. 1 Lizzie Cole, in southwest quarter of section 49, block M, EL survey, and on west side of the Welch-Nelson district is being put on the pump after swabbing 101 barrels of oil in 14 hours, after treating with 2,000 gallons of acid in pay section above total depth at 4,893 feet, in lime.

Shell Oil Co., Inc., No. 1 Cox, in northeast quarter of section 452, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey, and outside proven area in the Russell field, in northwest Gaines county, was making new hole past 7,502 feet, in lower Permian lime.

Flows 490 Barrels

After treating with 1,500 gallons of acid, when total depth was at 7,430 feet, the well flowed 490 barrels of oil in 18½ hours after acid load had been recovered.

Sinclair Prairie Oil company No. 1 Northup, southeast of the Russell field, about three-quarters of a mile, had progressed under 8,004 feet in lime, and was still boring.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1-A Jones, in section 3, block A-6, psl survey, in extreme northwest Gaines county, had penetrated under 10,613 feet in lime and chert, and was continuing.

Dunigan Bros. and Brahaney No. 1 Watson, west-central Yoakum county wildcat in section 422, block D, John H. Gibson survey, about one mile north of discovery well for the Brahaney field, had reached 4,655 feet, in lime and was drilling ahead. The project was digging in the San Andres-Permian, and was said to be running higher than No. 1 Hodges, initial producer in the region. No definite point on the formation had been released by the owners.

Test Running Higher

Hunt Oil company No. 1 Graham, exploration in section 328, block D, Gibson survey, in northeast Yoakum, had reached 4,766 feet, in lime. Top of anhydrite was at 2,440 feet; top of Yates at 3,210 feet, and top San Andres was at 4,590 feet. Elevation is 3,633 feet.

The San Andres top puts the No. 1 Graham about 85 feet higher than it was in Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Forkell, a dry hole about one and one-quarter miles to the southeast.

The Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 1 Nannie Mae Williams, in southwest corner of section 13, block K, psl survey, a due north outpost to initial producer in the Alexander area in northwest Terry county, has been officially completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 95.07 barrels of 30.9 gravity oil, after pay section at 5,120-45 feet, had been treated with 2,000 gallons and 5,000 gallons of oil. In addition to the oil, the well made 19.47 barrels of basic sediment and water. This is the first official completion from the Alexander area.

Terry Test Is Plugged

Fikes & Murchison No. 1 Alexander, one location south of the new TeePee producer discovery the area and tested from aroung 100 barrels of oil per day pumping, but it has never reported official potential gauge to the Railroad Commission.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 Lockett, northwest Terry county exploration in section 22, block E, EL survey, has been plugged and abandoned as dry on total depth of 7,520 feet in lower Permian lime. It ran low and reported no shows of oil in any zone.

Texas Gulf Producing company No. 1 Slaughter, south-central Cochran county wildcat, in league 113, Potter county school land survey, had reached 4,164 feet in lime and was going ahead.

Top of anhydrite was at 2,320 feet; top of Yates at 2,920 feet, top of brown lime and 3,830 feet. Elevation is 3,791 feet. Those marks put the exploration slightly high to nearest producer to the east in the Dean section of the west side of the Slaughter field.

Hockley Project Testing

The Texas company No. 1 Butler, in labor 9, league 70, Val Verde county school land survey, three-quarters of a mile north of closest production in the Levelland field, in west-central Hockley county, was still testing.

In latest test reported the well swabbed eight hours and produced 55 barrels of fluid of which 12 percent was basic sediment and water. Total depth of the hole is at 4,830 feet.

Texaco No. 1-B Coble, in northwest quarter of west half of labor 19, league 67, Hardeman county school land survey, and about one and one-quarter miles west of closest completed oil well was cleaning out to plugged-back total depth at 4,865 feet, after shooting the section at 4,785-4,840 feet with 240 quarts of nitro. The formation had shown some free oil natural.

Lamb County Projects

Hunt Oil company No. 1 Foust, wildcat in east Lamb county 11 miles east of Littlefield, and in section 43, block B-1, R. M. Thompson survey, had progressed below 6,125 feet in dolomite, and was not showing in free oil.

Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 Bagwell, in labor 25, league 673, State Capital lands survey, three and one-half miles southwest of Littlefield, had penetrated below 7,199 feet in dolomite. No shows of oil have been reported of any consequence.

Humble No. 1 Leftwich, in west half of section 32, block 1, R. M. Thompson survey, and an outpost to the two-well Anton field, had reached 5,457 feet in dolomite and was going ahead. A slight show of oil was logged at 5,442-46 feet.

Humble No. 1-B Leftwich, another extender to the Anton field, had progressed below 4,348 feet in dolomite.

Idalou Test Down 3,210

George P. Livermore, Inc., and Honolulu No. 1 DeBusk & Eastman, northeast Lubbock county wildcat near Idalou and in section 38, block D-7, C&M survey, had made hole past 3,210 feet and was going ahead.

Livermore No. 1 Wiese, northwest Crosby county prospector to 10,000 feet, in section 64, block C, D&W survey, had run in a batch of cal-seal in a cavity above total depth at 6,366 feet, in lime, and was testing to see if that application had stopped the holes so drilling could be resumed without losing the drilling mud.

Livermore No. 1 Alexander, Floyd county exploration in J. C. Cooper survey No. 345, had made hole past 4,306 feet in lime, and was still going ahead.

Two Pumpers Completed

Livermore No. 1 Bird, northwest Dickens county wildcat in section 288, block 1, H&GN survey, had drilled below 3,718 feet in lime.

Two new pumping wells have been completed and added to the PHD field, in northwest Garza county.

Honolulu and Devonian Oil company No. 1 Richardson, 440 feet from south and west lines of section 1282, BS&F survey, pumped 83 barrels of 37.2 gravity oil, plus .935 barrel of basic sediment in 24 hours from pay section at 3,511-25 feet in Permian lime, after pay section had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Honolulu and Devonian No. 1 Dunn, et al, 440-feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 1420, block 1, EL survey, and one location south of the PHD field discovery will pump 77 barrels of 37.1 gravity oil, plus 29.66 barrels of basic sediment and water, from pay at 3,554-58 feet. Total depth of the hole was 3,564 feet, but it had been plugged-back six feet to try to eliminate formation water. It was also acidized.

Sohio Petroleum company No. 1 Mays, west Kent county exploration in section 44, block 4, H&GN survey, was making hole below 7,498 feet in lime and chert, which was probably Mississippian.

At 6,814-50 feet a drillstem test was taken, with a recovery of salty drilling mud and sulphur water—and no shows of oil or gas.

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 1 Canning, southeast Borden county wildcat, in section 103, block 25, H&TC survey, had drilled below 4,097 feet in dolomite, and was drilling ahead.

Continental Oil company No. 1 Douglas, northeast Martin county exploration in section 33, block 34, TP survey, T-3-N, had reached 1,365 feet, and was going ahead in anhydrite.

W. T. Black No. 1 Flenniken, south-central Dawson county prospector in section 11, block 36, TP survey, T-4-N, had penetrated below 5,410 feet, in lime, and was going ahead.

Reduction In Point Value Of Butter Due

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — The government will make about 12 per cent more butter available for civilians in August — which will permit a slight reduction in the ration point value, effective July 29.

This was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Price Administrator Bowles.

The new point value, to be announced later, is expected to be 20 points a pound compared with 24 at present.

The civilian supply for August will be 90,000,000 pounds compared with about 80,000,000 pounds in each of the past few months. This increase results, Anderson said, from a revision in war requirements.

Dockets To Be Called Monday In 99th Court

Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court will call all dockets Monday, after impaneling a grand jury at commencement of his July term of court, and will set the week of July 30 for civil jury hearings, if lawyers wish it.

The court will leave Aug. 13 for a three-weeks vacation. The week of July 23 has been set for criminal trials. Two murder cases are slated for trial the week of Aug. 6.

Gen. Patch Given Post In Texas

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, Jr., who led the Seventh army through southern France and into Germany, was assigned today to command the Fourth army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The War department said that Patch, in his new post, will have charge of training thousands of troops for duty in the Pacific where he himself saw action against the Japanese on Guadalcanal.

The Fourth army served during the European war as a training organization and presumably will continue in that capacity.

Replaces General Lucas

Patch, 55, replaces Maj. Gen. John P. Lucas who has served as deputy commander or commander of the Fourth since March, 1944. General Lucas's next assignment was not immediately announced.

Patch has returned to the United States, having relinquished command of the Seventh army to Lt. Gen. Wade Haislip.

Clayton Is Named To UNRRA Council

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — Designation of assistant secretary of state William L. Clayton as the United States member of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration council was announced today by the State department.

Clayton was chosen by President Truman to replace assistant secretary of state Dean G. Acheson on the UNRRA council. In a letter to UNRRA director general Herbert H. Lehman, the President said Acheson had asked to be relieved "because of the pressure of other duties in his present capacity as the department of state's liaison with the Congress."

Mr. Truman told Lehman that Clayton, as assistant secretary of state in charge of economic affairs, "will be in a position most effectively to lend the support of this government."

Clayton will attend the third meeting of the UNRRA council in London beginning August, "and will be prepared to participate in deliberations prior to that meeting," the President said.

Increase In Undulant, Typhus Fevers Noted

AUSTIN, July 7 (AP) — Marked increases in the incidence of both undulant and typhus fevers, with typhus at a new high peak for the year, were announced by the state department of health today.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said that if local health officers deem it advisable to vaccinate their people against typhus, they should inform the state department.

New typhus cases for the week ending June 30 totaled 63, compared with the seven year median of 25, and incidence of undulent fever was 36 compared with the median of 11 cases for the week.

CHURCHILL IN FRANCE

LONDON, July 7. (AP) — The British government announced that Prime Minister Churchill, accompanied by Mrs. Churchill, departed today for southern France "where he hopes to have a few days rest before attending the Berlin conference."

Russian-Named Berlin Mayor Sees U. S. As Real Food 'Santa Claus'

By JACK FLEISCHER
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 7.—The German people would just love to get American corned beef and cocoa among other foodstuffs from the United States, Dr. Arthur Werner, the Russian-appointed mayor of Berlin, said today.

Werner floored two other correspondents and myself when he said calmly as though it was a matter of course that he expected America to help feed Germany.

Such A Rich Country

"America is such a rich country," he said. "And eventually, too, America certainly will be interested in reestablishing trade with Germany."

The mayor recalled the "wonderful American corned beef Americans used to eat. That would be excellent for us now because it also would provide lots of fats." He also grew enthusiastic about Germans getting "chocolate, cocoa and other good foodstuffs, which we haven't had for so long."

We explained to Werner that there was food rationing in America and that the United States had a big enough job to send food to the liberated countries. He was not convinced.

Much Candy Already

"Why, although only a few American soldiers have appeared in Berlin so far, they've already given much candy to German children," he said.

While a Russian lieutenant colonel sat at his elbow listening attentively, Werner said Berliners were thankful for "the large amounts of food stuffs received from the Red Army."

However, he was strangely vague about the amount of food the Russians had given the citizens of the German capital. He had no statistics, and couldn't even make a rough estimate.

Move From U. S. Zone

Furthermore, the German food department, which might have supplied the statistics, was in the process of moving from the Fehrbelliner platz to Stadthaus, near Alexander platz. The move took the food department from the new American occupation zone to the Russian-controlled area. Werner said the move was simply to centralize the agency.

Werner said the Russians had provided flour, rice, white beans, starch products like noodles, and some meat, but that "our greatest food difficulty presently is fats. The Red Army cannot give us butter fats because they don't have much themselves."

German sources previously had told me that most of the food reaching Berlin came from Brandenburg province, but Werner said positively the food from the Red Army came "from Russia."

Rain Damage Heavy

and one half hours late but that the train was moving now and the washout was not serious.

Other Areas Drenched

Rains fell at Abilene, Athens and Sherman.

County Red Cross Chairman J. J. Timmins said 500 negro residents had been evacuated and would be fed by the Red Cross. Four hundred would require emergency housing, he said. He estimated that several hundred white residents also had been evacuated by Army assault boats from Camp Bowie.

The Red Cross set up canteens in the city auditorium, the city hall and the Santa Fe railway station.

Highways Inundated

All highways, except a military road, were inundated and Santa Fe tracks from Brownwood to Sweetwater were reported under water. Crops were damaged only slightly by the rainstorm which was accompanied by strong winds and a great deal of lightning.

Crops were helped by slow showers in the Sherman area and in East Texas' Athens area. Abilene reported .55 inches yesterday.

Down in the Rio Grande valley local showers were reported during the week and two rises were reported in the low Rio Grande river.

Jap Spies Fail To Locate MacArthur

MANILA, July 7 (AP) — The Japanese sent spies into Manila after the capital's liberation with instructions to determine the location of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, and a dozen of them were caught and hanged in June, military authorities disclosed today.

One officer said the spies insisted they were given no instructions for any action against the American commander but only to find where he was living.

One Filipino also was hanged. All were caught in civilian clothes. Some had hand grenades and written instructions. They were arrested by the counter intelligence corps as they entered Manila and were condemned by military court on pleas of guilty.

One officer said none of the spies was believed to have returned to the Japanese with any information. Usually they did not even reach Manila.

Race Trouble Flares After Girl Attacked

EUFAULA, Ala., July 7. (AP) — Fighting between whites and negroes flared here tonight in what Police Chief H. L. McCullochs said was an aftermath of a negro's arrest earlier in the week on charges of raping and drowning an 18-year-old white girl.

Three negroes were attacked by white bands during the brief episode, and one of them was "cut up pretty badly," the chief reported.

He said a curfew was clamped upon the city at 10:30 p. m. and that no arrests have been made.

POLISH RULE RECOGNIZED

OTTAWA, July 7 (U.P.)—Canada, following the lead of Great Britain and the United States, has recognized the Polish Warsaw government of national unity, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced last night.

News Briefs

William H. Branum, son of J. M. Branum, ginner for a Lubbock concern has been discharged from the Army after serving six years, including a stretch of 29 months of overseas duty in the present war, the father said here last night. Young Branum, who entered service at age 19, plans to stay at Paris for a time to complete Army hospital treatment, then expects to join his wife here, the father said.

Marvin L. Sprayberry, 15- month-old son of Mrs. Julia Sprayberry of Ralls route 1, died at 6 o'clock Saturday morning in Lubbock General hospital. Graveside services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Old Emma cemetery near Ralls with H. Hall of the Ralls Church of Christ officiating. Other survivors are two sisters, Betty Jean and Roselyn; a brother, Wilbur, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Steel of Ralls route 1. Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home is in charge of burial arrangements.

The sheriff's office said Alton W. Morrison, 40, of Lubbock, paid a fine of $50 and costs Saturday after he was named in a complaint charging drunk driving. His driver's license was automatically suspended for six months. Police arrested Morrison Friday night.

J. A. Carter, of Levelland, told police Saturday of the theft of his billfold containing $29 at a local machine shop. S & S Sales company, 607 Broadway, reported theft of a gun.

Negro Peace Maker Here Fatally Stabbed

Fred Williams, 15-year-old negro, was stabbed to death about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night when he attempted to intervene in an affray between a negro man and his wife at Twenty-fifth and Ave. E.

Jessie Mae Stimpson, young negro woman, was arrested in connection with the slaying.

Her husband, L. C. Stimpson, received treatment in the Chatman hospital for negroes for a knife wound in the chest. The wound was not believed serious.

Officers said a large pocket knife was used. The suspect was arrested about 11:15 o'clock on Ave. A between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Williams received a deep wound just inside the collar bone. His jugular vein apparently was severed, officers said.

At midnight officials were taking statements from the woman and several negro witnesses.

Car Smashes Into Abutment, Two Hurt

Two men were injured when their automobile smashed into the north end of the center abutment of the Ave. H underpass about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night.

John Pounds, about 48, of 1621 Eighth, a passenger in the car, received deep cuts about the face and possibly other injuries, attendants at Lubbock General hospital said at midnight. C. J. Follis, 50, of 1936 Texas Ave., the driver, received head and arm injuries which were not believed serious.

Pounds was bleeding profusely when brought to the hospital. His face was cut by fragments from the broken windshield.

Follis told Capt. Bill Bell of the police that he had offered Pounds a ride several hundred yards north of the underpass.

The injured were brought to Lubbock General hospital by Plains and Rix ambulances.

Fruits, Vegetables Transported By Air

CLEVELAND, July 7. (AP)—Not bombs, but 18,500 pounds of freshly picked fruit and vegetables from California filled the bomb bays of a Liberator bomber which arrived at Cleveland airport Friday.

Fresh produce carried by the converted plane was loaded Wednesday noon at Salinas, Calif., and probably will be on the city's dinner tables by tonight.

The experimental flight inaugurated a special three-month trial schedule by the American Airlines, Inc., to determine the feasibility of flying perishable and out-of-season fruits and vegetables from one region to another.

Eighth Air Force Equipment Moving

EIGHTH AIR FORCE HQ, July 7. (U.P.)—The Eighth Air force revealed today that 1,912 heavy bombers of the Eighth Air force have been flown back to the United States, 80 per cent of the total force employed at the peak of strategic bombardment of Europe.

About 50 per cent of the Eighth's personnel have been returned home, 41,000 by plane and 32,000 by surface.

So far 10 bases have been completely evacuated and turned over to the RAF. Seven more will be returned July 10 and five more July 15.

Soldier AWOL Lives In Caves Two Years

FORT SILL, Okla., July 7 (U.P.) —Fort Sill authorities prepared today to prosecute a Missouri soldier who lived in caves and ate herbs for two and a half years while AWOL from the Fort Sill replacement training center.

Clifford Hart, the 29-year-old soldier, is recovering in a Poplar Bluff, Mo., hospital from buckshot wounds inflicted by an FBI agent before his capture near there last Sunday.

Several Heroism Awards To Be Given At LAAF Saturday

Several awards for heroism in combat—at least two of them posthumous—will be presented to the next of kin of South Plains soldiers at an all post review and parade at Lubbock Army Air Field Saturday afternoon, July 14.

One of the awards will be the Silver Star, awarded to a field artillery officer who gave his life in action while braving enemy fire to help his own men.

Those To Be Honored

The following awards, with possibly others will be presented:

Mrs. Gertrude H. Dickson of Spur, will receive the Silver Star, fifth highest decoration for valor in the nation, awarded to 2nd Lt. Ray E. Dickson, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dickson of Spur, who was killed while serving as an artillery observer to an infantry battalion on Nov. 8, 1944.

Lt. Dickson was on duty with the 80th Infantry Division at the time. The citation which will accompany the medal tells how Lt. Dickson braved enemy sniper fire to advance through an area heavily infested with the enemy and how he directed artillery fire against the enemy with marked success until killed with a sniper's bullet.

DFC For Sgt. Scott

Also to receive an award is William R. Scott of Lubbock and Aspermont, an employe at LAAF. Scott will receive the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters awarded posthumously to his son, Tech Sgt. Elbert D. Scott for exceptionally achievement while serving as a radio operator of a B-17 against the enemy during the big Allied push against the Nazis from June 6 (Invasion Day) until Aug. 8, 1944 and for other flights against enemy occupied Europe.

Mrs. Dorothy Zoe Ramsey of Floydada Route 4, has been invited to the field to receive an award for her husband. Mrs. Ramsey will receive the Air Medal, awarded to her husband, 2nd. Lt. Ray E. Ramsey who is missing in action after a B-29 mission against the Jap homeland. The award is "for meritorious achievement while participating in historical missions from bases in the Pacific islands against the homeland of Japan from 9 March 1945 and 19 March 1945." Four Jap cities were hit in the all out attacks at that time at low altitude and heavy devastation was caused as a result.

Bomb Damage Set At 126 Square Miles

GUAM, July 7 (AP)—The pattern of ruin designed by Superfortress fire raids has been spread over more than 126 square miles of 25 Japanese cities.

Reconnaissance photos disclosed about five square miles of new damage today to five more cities, almost complete ruin of the Hitachi engineering works near Sukegawa and light damage to the Nippon oil refinery near Kudamatsu, on southern Honshu's inland seacoast.

The five cities are Himeji, Kure, Kumamoto and Ube on Honshu and Kochi on the south central island of Shikoku. Said damage in five other cities remains to be assessed.

Here are the burned out areas of each of the 25 cities, all industrial centers for the enemy's war machine:

Tokyo, 56.30 square miles; Nagoya 12.33, Yokohama 8.94, Osaka 16.93, Kawasaki 3.37, Kobe 6.80, Hamamatsu 1.81, Kagoshima 2.085, Shizuoka 2.28, Yokkaichi 1.23, Toyohashi 1.70, Amagasaki .71, Fukuoka 1.30, Omuta .11, Moji .32, Shimonoseki .51, Sasebo .41, Nobeoka .515, Tokushima 1.70, Okayama 2.10, Himeji 1.38, Kure 1.50, Ube .42, Kumahoto .80 and Kochi .92.

Yanks Deny Belgian King Held Prisoner

BRUSSELS, July 7. (AP)—The supreme Allied headquarters mission in Brussels today denied a charge printed by the pro-Leopold newspaper La Libre Belgium that King Leopold III was being held a prisoner in Austria by U. S. troops.

The mission acknowledged that an order for the Belgian monarch's detention may have been issued by some American subordinate, but said that, if so, it was unauthorized and in error.

Meanwhile Premier Achille Van Acker flew to St. Wolfgang, Austria, with a group of government officials for his fourth series of conferences with Leopold. He was believed to have gone to renew pressure for the king's abdication.

VETS BACK IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, July 7. (AP) — A special train of 15 cars brought 450 Texas members of the 104th div. (Timber Wolves) from Camp Kilmer, N. J., Saturday to receive 30-day furloughs at Dodd Field before being redeployed to the Pacific front.

Illustrated above are half a dozen major stumbling blocks in Japan's path to success—some self made, some imposed by our military superiority. (1) In land operations, enemy suffers from faulty leadership, bad planning, poor tactics, inferior fire power. (2) Aerial bombing and mining of sea lanes blockades Japan, pinches home front. (3) Jap air force is impotent to defend the homeland and our bombers roam Japan at will. (4) Cabinets fall in quick succession; moderates and industry seek to end war, but military clique holds the reins. (5) Constant bombing wrecks war industry. (6) At sea, Japs have been consistently beaten, their navy driven to hiding.

Government Asks For All Linters

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Government plans to take over the entire cotton linters crop were disclosed today.

War Production board officials told a House agriculture subcommittee the fiber is needed for military purposes.

Linters are the fuzz and fibers remaining on cotton seeds after ginning. They are used in munitions, tire cord, bedding and furniture upholstery.

The government took 80 per cent of the crop in the first six months of 1945, but WPB officials said estimated production has dropped, while demands have remained the same.

Order Appealed

The WPB plan to take over all the crop is contained in an order prepared by the agency's chemicals division. It was to have taken effect July 4, but has been appealed and a WPB appeal board is to make a final decision July 14.

Linters industry representatives protested against the order, contending it is unfair to cotton producers and manufacturers.

"Why, it would put us out of business," Arthur Mosby of Memphis, Tenn., secretary of the American Cotton Linters association, told the committee.

Boost For Rayon Industry

Rep. Poage (D-Texas) declared "it not only will do that, but meanwhile it is building up the rayon industry at government expense."

Edgar Pearson, WPB chemicals division official, told the subcommittee that although Army ordnance had dropped its requirements for linters by 17,000 tons this had been offset by an increase in the need for high tenacity rayon in the same amount.

Priority Assistance Promised Farmers

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — Priority assistance to replace or repair weather-damaged farm machinery was extended to farmers by the WPB today.

The agency said that farmers who have suffered losses from floods, wind storms, or lightning should apply for material preference ratings on form WPB-541. This, when filed with the county committee of the Agricultural Adjustment agency, will be forwarded to the nearest WPB field office for action.

PROLIFIC MELON

ROCKPORT, Tex., July 7. (AP) An untended watermelon vine in the yard of the J. H. Howell home here produced nine melons at one time. Howell said their total weight was 372 pounds. The largest melon weighed 50 pounds, the smallest, 26.

Japs Forced Man To Execute His Wife And Daughter

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 7 (U.P.) —His thin face showed intense hatred for the Japanese as Charles W. Smith, 45, told of being forced to execute his wife and daughter while they were prisoners in the Philippines.

Smith, who enlisted in the Navy 28 years ago told an American Legion audience that he was taken prisoner shortly after Pearl Harbor. He had hoped, he said, that his wife and daughter escaped to the hills.

"We have a present for you," a Jap officer told Smith one morning. The present was his wife and daughter.

The Japanese mayor "invited" Smith to become the twelfth member of a firing squad that was to execute his wife and daughter. Smith was handed a machinegun and told that it was the only one loaded. Then at the point of a bayonet he was forced to fire the gun.

The mayor told Smith that he would be held responsible for the death of his family. Then, he handed him a shovel and told him to bury his wife and daughter.

Smith spoke bitterly of the Japanese. A long, ugly scar was noticed across his face. It was the result of a saber wound by a Japanese officer. Smith said he was tied to a tree and beaten with a baseball bat by Japanese officers trying to gain information.

Traffic Fatalities Decrease In Texas

AUSTIN, July 7 (AP)—Traffic fatalities for the year to date show a decrease of three per cent over the same period last year, although for the current month of May the decrease was but two per cent under May 1944.

Number of persons killed in traffic accidents for the first five months of this year was 471; last year 483. Number injured 2073; last year 1989.

Southerner Offers FEPC Compromise

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — Southern foes of the Fair Employment Practice committee considered today a suggested compromise to keep it alive as a temporary agency so as to block a move to make it permanent.

The compromise was advanced informally by a southern House leader in an effort to break the month-old FEPC deadlock that has tied up funds of sixteen home front war agencies in a $752,000,000 supply bill for the fiscal year already a week old.

It provides for granting the FEPC as now constituted — a temporary agency created by executive order and lacking legal power to enforce its orders — a "token" fund of perhaps as much as $200,000 to continue to operate.

The agency's budget estimates for the fiscal year are $599,000

By allowing FEPC to continue without giving it legal backing, the agency's foes believe they might slow down a drive to give it permanent and legal status.

Rioting Flares After Child Fatally Hurt

BEYROUTH, July 7 (AP)—Rioting broke out between French soldiers and civilians at Lattaquie on Thursday after a child was run over and killed by a French military vehicle, it was announced last night. A British account said 10 persons were killed and 45 wounded, while a French statement reported 23 were killed.

British patrols took over the seacoast town at night and were still patrolling yesterday.

SERVICE FAMILY AID

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — Civilian dependents of overseas servicemen could join them in any part of the world except in cases incompatible with military requirements under a bill introduced today by Rep. Fulton (R-Pa).

Fukien, province.

The report said Chinese troops engaged the new invaders in "severe fighting" in the landing area, near Changpu, coastal highway center 35 miles southeast of the Japanese-held port of Amoy.

It was believed that the landings were made to protect the depleted Japanese garrison at Amoy from Chinese attack, or to determine what, if any, preparations may have been made for an Allied landing on the Fukien coast, approximately 450 miles northwest of the Philippines.

The Chinese high command said fighting continued six miles east of Kanhsien in Kiangsi province, but there was no change in the war positions around the city, which the U. S. air force abandoned to a Nipponese drive last fall.

Pressing forward after the recapture of Pingsiang, Chinese troops have advanced 11 miles to Chennankwan, south guard pass on the French Indo-China frontier. The advance extended the Chinese-held gap in the Japanese north-south China corridor from Indo-China 250 miles northeastward beyond Liuchow.

Message From Chiang

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in a message to his countrymen on the Sino-Japanese war anniversary said the "war has reached its final decisive stage." He predicted that the coming year "will yield us great results," but he made no forecast as to when the fighting would end.

British forces in southeast Burma have cleaned up Japanese positions which had been established across the British communication lines on the Sittang river, 25 miles north of Pegu.

Southeast Asia command headquarters said Allied planes continued attacks on Japanese positions in the area around Moulmein, port city at the mouth of the Salween river, which the British must cross should they attempt a land drive from Burma down the Malay peninsula.

Texan Given Life In Shooting At London

LONDON, July 7. (AP) — Pvt. Ben Herbert Sutherland, 23, of Houston, convicted of shooting a London policeman in the foot and committing a series of other offenses, was sentenced today to life imprisonment.

Sutherland was accused of deserting just before D-day, escaping from a military escort after being captured, stealing an automobile, threatening various persons with a pistol and being in possession of $100 worth of stolen jewelry.

He enlisted at Oklahoma City, in 1942. While the court martial was considering its verdict he sat comforting a weeping London girl he planned to marry tomorrow.

Japs Urge Students To Prepare To Die

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7 (AP)—Japan called on students of high school age today to prepare to "sacrifice themselves" if necessary in defense of Nippon's home islands.

Domei news agency, in a broadcast picked up by the FCC, said that Okinawa high school students who "died gloriously" fighting American troops would be honored, and that they should be emulated by Nippon's school children.

PILOT SURVIVES CRASH

DALLAS, July 7. (AP)—An Air Transport command pilot, from the Fourth Ferrying group, Memphis, Tenn., crashed in a single-engined fighter near Mansfield, Tarrant county, today. His injuries were reported to be slight, and a car was dispatched from Love Field to bring him to Dallas.

Bishop Selecman And Mrs. Mason Marry

PASADENA, Calif., July 7 (AP) —Dr. Charles Claude Selecman, 70, president of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Pierre D. Mason, 61, of Hollywood, were married here today.

The ceremony was read at high noon by Dr. Albert Edward Day, minister of the First Methodist church here. Dr. Selecman is bishop of the Dallas area and the couple will make their home there.

Bishop Selecman and Mrs. Mason, the former Miss Mabel J. White of Harrisonville, Mo., were unattended. They left after the ceremony for Santa Barbara, where they plan to remain until Aug. 1.

Both have been previously married and widowed. They were associated in the Trinity Methodist church of Los Angeles of which Bishop Selecman was pastor 1913-20. He was president of Southern Methodist university at Dallas from 1923 until 1938 when he was elevated to the bishopric.

His first years as a bishop were spent supervising conferences in Oklahoma and Arkansas. He was assigned to Dallas last year.

Two Transports Bring 765 Men From Europe

NEW YORK, July 7. (AP)—The transports Benjamin Huntington and Eleazer Wheelock brought 765 army men back from Europe today.

Among 383 aboard the Benjamin Huntington were the 14th Chemical company, the 187th Signal Repair company and 53 liberated prisoners of war.

The Eleazer Wheelock carried 382 men, including the 634th M. P. Escort Guard company, headquarters and headquarters company of the 8th Tank Destroyer group, and some reassignment men.

All the troops went to Camp Shanks, N. Y., for processing before receiving furloughs.

Wheat Poisoning Costly To Cowmen

COLLEGE STATION, July 7 (AP) —"Wheat poisoning" resulted in the loss of 8,000 cattle valued at $607,300 during the last wheat grazing season in 30 Texas counties, a survey by a committee working with the Texas A. and M. Extension service has disclosed.

Greatest losses were reported in Hansford county, with 1,500, and Potter county, with 1,000, A. P. Bralley, Amarillo, secretary of the committee, reported. Other counties reporting losses were Ochiltree, Sherman and Floyd.

Privateers Destroy Gasoline Dump, Ships

OKINAWA, July 7 (AP)—Teaming up for a strike at the strategic, big island of Saishuto, south of Korea, two Privateer planes of Fleet Air Wing One destroyed a gasoline dump and sank two ships totalling 3,000 tons.

Flames shot so high from the gasoline explosion that they broke two windows of one plane.

Participating in the strike was Lt. T. F. Pierce, Taylor, Tex.

EPILEPSY

Case History No. 542. A young barely 18 years old who had been advised that his condition of epilepsy was incurable. Epileptic fits had grown in frequency since he was nine years old, and all efforts had failed to restore normal health. He visited a Chiropractor as a last resort and on April 7th the first spinal adjustments were begun. He has not had a single epileptic seizure since and has improved remarkably in health and outlook.

CHOREA

Case History No. 388. A nine year old boy with a lengthly record of sickness. At the age of six he was sufefring from rheumatismal edema and rheumatic fever. At seven he developed chorea, or St. Vitus Dance, which continued fo ra year and forced his removal from school. His mother was persuaded to take the boy to a Chiropractor. A spinal analysis revealed severe nerve pressure, apparently the result of an instrumental birth, and adjustments were commenced. Afte rsevral adjustmnts the boy was able to return to school with an appreciable gain in weight, and has been well ever since.

What Is CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is the spine that the nerves can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy is cut off. Chiropractors locate this interference and adjust it thus releasing the pinched nerves and letting the brain energy flow to the affected parts.

Lubbock's Sgt. Jack Glasco Views Weird Hindu Rites In Jungle Deep In India

". . . As the tempo increased they fell, face down with arms extended toward the goddess, exhausted."

Kaliee, Goddess of Destruction, to whom the Hindus performed their strange ceremony.

". . . With one quick push the sharp end of the steel rod went through the skin and flesh about four inches."

ferent colored cloth wrapped around him and different paint on his face and body. The tempo of the dance increased and they all worked themselves into a frenzy. Then the oldest of the group produced a huge knife, sharp and keen.

"After whirling it above his head a few times, he placed it, edge down on his tongue and, balancing it there, continued his weird dance. A few seconds later two men took the big knife and turned the edge up and one man held it at each end. Then the old man made a leap into the air and landed squarely on the upturned edge of the knife with his bare feet. He stood there while I took his picture.

Edge "Sharp As Razor"

"After he stepped down we examined the knife and found the edge as sharp as a razor. We looked at the old man's feet and found not a trace of a cut.

"Now the dancers moved toward the river a short distance away and walked down some old stone steps into the muddy water and bathed themselves. This was to 'purify their bodies so that the sacrifice to come would be free from the dirt of the earth.'

"The bath over, they ascended the steps again and stopped at the top where they were met by a man holding a bundle of long slender steel rods. One end of each rod was as sharp as a needle. I examined one of them. The other end had a wild jungle flower tied to it.

* * *

"As the men that had bathed lined up on the stone slab, the man with the steel rods walked up to one at the head of the line. The man in line stuck out his tongue and the other man grabbed it between his fingers and ran the sharp rod all the way through. About six inches of the point protruded on the other side of his tongue. To each of the other men in line he did the same thing. There was no sign of pain or blood.

"They began the strange dance again, holding the flowered end of the rod in their left hand. After going 'round and 'round for half an hour, they lined up once again on the old stone step while the man removed the steel rods with one swift jerk. Even then there was no blood and apparently no pain.

Statue Of Goddess Seen

"Across the clearing was a bamboo hut in which a large statue of their goddess. It was in that direction that we moved now.

"Arriving in front of the hut, the dancers continued while they tossed flowers and fruit toward the base of the idol. When the dancers had finished throwing the gifts they stopped in a circle and again the man with the steel rods appeared. This time he carried a bundle of longer and heavier rods with one end sharp and the other end in a three-pronged effect like King Neptune's pitchfork.

"As he walked up to each man in the circle, his helper pinched up a roll of skin and flesh that covers the ribs just under the arm. With one quick push the sharp end of the steel rod went through the skin and flesh about four inches.

"With the pitchfork end forward, the man held that end in his hand while the other side was pierced. After all the men in the circle had been thus 'decorated' they crossed the forked ends of the spears in front of them and began to dance again. This time 'round the hut with the statue in it.

"After four or five times around the hut they stopped and the same man removed the spears—without pain or blood.

Dancers Fall Exhausted

"Once more the dancers resumed the hop, skip and jump dance and as the tempo increased they fell, face down with arms extended toward the goddess, exhausted. Again the man appeared but without spears this time. Instead he had his hands full of large steel hooks, tied together in pairs by a short piece of rope. The points on the hooks were flattened out but were sharp and keen. Bending over the man lying nearest him, he made a few quick measurements with his fingers along the man's spine and ribs. After determining the right spot, another man pinched up a roll of flesh and skin between his fingers. Through this roll of loose flesh that covers the back of the ribs, the man pushed the sharp point of the large hook—all the way through.

* * *

"The man on the ground didn't move or cry out. There was no blood. Then as his helper pulled up another roll on the other side of his back, the man pushed the other hook through—still no sign of pain or blood.

"After all the men on the ground had the pair of hooks put in their backs they arose and walked 100 yards or so to an open rice paddy where a 40-foot pole had been set in the ground. On top of the tall pole there were two timbers crossed with a bolt through a hole where the timbers crossed into the top of the pole, so that they would turn like a merry-go-round. From the end of each of these crossed timbers a long rope dangled almost to the ground.

"About eight or 10 males of varying ages, from eight to about 30 years, were dancing in a circle while a pair of drums and a water buffalo horn supplied the music."

This little fellow is only eight years old. Note steel rods which pierce skin on each side of his body.

"The men with the hooks in their backs marched up to the pole and each stood under one of the ropes. A bamboo stool was brought for each man to stand on while another tied the end of the hanging rope to the short rope connecting the two hooks. After all the ropes had been tied, a man brought up a cage of live birds and presented one to each of the men on the stools.

"Then the most amazing spectacle I have ever seen in my life began. The stools were removed and the men left hanging from the ends of the long ropes by the hooks in their backs. Now some other men started the merry-go-round turning by pushing on some timbers tied to the crossed ones on top of the pole. Faster and faster it went 'round until the men at the ends of the ropes were almost straight out. The hooks in their flesh were supporting all the weight of their bodies plus the power of centrifugal force.

"At the height of their swing they killed the birds and dropped them to the ground. This 'satisfied the goddess of her will of destruction' and symbolized the dying of the old year.

"No Blood Or Pain"

"The swinging stopped after about 10 minutes and the stools were returned for the men to stand on while they were untied. Stepping down off the stools the hooks were removed and once again the miracle of no blood and no pain was exhibited.

"With that the ceremony was ended and we thanked our host, the chief, and started the walk back through the jungle to our truck. No one had anything to say. We were all too amazed to talk, so we silently trudged up the trail as the rain continued to soak our already wet clothing. I forgot to mention that the rain started about the time the ceremony did and we had to stand in it to see this amazing performance.

"Needless to say without a bright sun my pictures will not be of the best quality, but I did the best I could while it rained."

And thus Sgt. Glasco ended his description of his amazing experience.

"Through this roll of loose flesh that covers the back of the ribs, the man pushed the sharp point of the large hook—all the way through."

Detroit Defeats Yankees 3-2 On Cramer's Triple In Tenth

Newhouser Gets Thirteenth Win

DETROIT, July 7. (AP) — Roger Cramer's 10th inning triple into the left field corner with nobody out scored Rudy York, who had singled, and enabled the Detroit Tigers to beat the New York Yankees 3 to 2 today for lefthander Hal Newhouser's 13th victory.

Cramer's game-winning blow was his fourth of the game in five times at bat and pinned the defeat on righthander Bill Zuber, who went all the way for the Yanks and allowed 13 hits.

Gives Nine Hits

Newhouser giving nine hits, thus became the winner of his third extra-inning duel this season — the only ones Detroit has played. The narrow triumph was the Tigers' 17th one-run decision of the season against eight such defeats.

Newhouser walked three men and fanned six to bring his strikeout total to 107 for the season. He now has won 13 games and lost five.

Crosetti hit himself on the left ankle with the bat while swinging in the ninth and Mike Milosevich played the 10th inning at shortstop.

Muddy Race Tracks May Be Eliminated

MIAMI, Fla., July 7 (AP) — Hialeah race course officials are investigating a new chemical with the possibility that it may eliminate such a thing as a muddy track.

The chemical is now being used by the Army and Navy.

The manufacturer of the waterproofing substance has been asked to analyze soil from the Florida racing strip with the view of providing Hialeah with a "fast" track at all times.

Dodgers Keep Top Position With 10-7 Win Over Cards

BREAKS HITTING RECORD —Tommy Holmes, Boston Braves right fielder, hits a double in first inning of a game with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Boston Friday to tie Rogers Hornsby's 1922 National league record of hitting in 33 consecutive games. Tommy later hit safely in the second game of the day, setting a new mark of 34 games.

BROOKLYN, July 7. (AP)—Faced with the possible loss of their National league lead, the Dodgers turned on the St. Louis Cardinals today and whipped the defending champions, 10 to 7.

The victory kept the Brooks on top by 11 percentage points over the Chicago Cubs who blanked the Phillies.

Smothered 15-3 in last night's game, the Brooks got off to an early lead today with four runs in the first two innings and by the end of the seventh had piled up a 10-3 margin, sufficient to stave off the Card's late bid.

LEAGUES TO BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—The major league all-star game, dropped this year as a travel conservation measure, will be replaced Monday and Tuesday of next week by seven games pitting National league nines against American loop teams with war relief getting the receipts.

Wesleyan College for women in Macon, Ga., is the oldest chartered college in the world.

Holmes Leads League For Batting Honers

NEW YORK, July 7 (UP)—Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves moved into a virtual monopoly of major league batting honors during the week, leading in batting percentage, hits, runs batted in, runs, and doubles.

Through Friday's games, the 27-year-old Brooklyn-born right fielder was hitting .407 on 122 hits in 300 times at bat in 71 games. He scored 73 runs, batted in 67 runs and made 24-two base hits. His 13 home runs were second only to Ernie Lombardi's 14. He had hit safely in 34 straight games—a new National league record—through Friday.

Was In Lead

He was 40 percentage points ahead of second-place Phil Cavarretta of the Chicago Cubs and 71 points ahead of the American league batting leader, George Case of Washington. He had 27 more hits than Goody Rosen of Brooklyn, his nearest competitor in that department, and had scored 14 more runs that Augie Galan of Brooklyn, who was second in that division.

The surprising weakness of American league hitting—which since the days of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig down through the reign of Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams has overshadowed the National—was shown by the fact that only the first four hitters in the loop were over .300. Nick Etten of New York was in fifth place with .296.

In return, the junior loop was taking the National's place as the "league of pitchers." Dave Ferris of Boston has won 13 and lost two. Morton Cooper of St. Louis and Boston leads the Nationals with a seven-and-one mark.

Hospital Releases Coach Homer Norton

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 7 (UP) Homer H. Norton, athletic director and head football coach at Texas A. and M. college, was released today from St. Mary's hospital. He said he would continue his convalescence for a week or 10 days at a Rochester hotel.

The Texas Aggie coach had been confined to his hospital room for 35 days. His new schedule calls for daily walks about the city.

Nelson Is Favorite In PGA Tournament

DAYTON, O., July 7 (AP)—Although it's a tournament that has caused him more trouble than any other, Byron Nelson, the big umbrella man from Toledo, today carried the label of "the man to beat" in the 1945 National Professional Golf tournament, opening here Monday at the Moraine Country club.

Nelson, his pockets bulging with war bonds collected in one of the most amazing string of successes in golf's history, will put the final touches—if any are needed—to his game tomorrow in a special 18-hole stroke play tournament.

At the last count, Byron had picked up something like $26,000 in war bonds this year and he'll be shooting for another $5,000 as he swings into action Monday.

But the PGA tournament, the winner of which is unofficially designated as the nation's No. 1 pro, has been Nelson's jinx. He won the crown in 1940 but he's done no better than come close in other PGA events.

Last year he went to the final match before losing to unheralded Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind. Hamilton now is in the Army but received a furlough and arrived here yesterday to defend his crown.

Nelson's path may have been eased somewhat, however, when Sam Snead, the 1942 PGA champion, said he would not be able to play. Snead suffered a fractured arm in a softball game.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Sam Byrd, the one time New York Yankee baseball player, seemed probably the top threats to Nelson.

Junior Leagues End First Half

With mounting improvement in playing, Lubbock's two junior baseball leagues move into the home stretch of the first half this week.

Three close games in the American league last week showed decided improvement in the pitching and fielding among the younger boys.

The American Business club, which until Friday night clearly lead the American, was edged out twice in well played games last week. The first defeat came Monday night at the hands of a Kiwanis nine that won a 3-2 victory in the last half of the seventh frame when Hulin Fowler romped home on an error by Duane Peters. Again Friday night the ABC's went down, losing to the Optimists in a 1-0 contest despite Lester York's two-hit pitching. This loss tied them with Kiwanis for the league lead.

Kiwanis Wins Second

Between the two ABC losses, Kiwanis took its second close win in a row by defeating the Rotary nine 2-1 in the season's only extra-inning contest.

A play-off between the ABC's and the Kiwanis for the first half pennant looms ahead. Both teams are scheduled to play in this week's three day schedule, but both are favored to win by comfortable margins. The Business club meets the Rotary team Tuesday with the Kiwanis and Lions playing Wednesday.

The other game scheduled for this week, between the Optimists and the JCC, will be played Monday night.

One Game Played

In the National league, only one game was played last week. Dickinson Motor company won from Purina Mills 6-4 in a game called in the first of the fifth on darkness. Purina was ahead one run in that inning, but the score reverted to the fourth.

The older boys finish the first half with Tuesday's game. Shallowater will play Purina on Monday night, and Dickinson and Hunt will meet Tuesday night. Dickinson, yet undefeated, leads the league by two games. Hunt and Shallowater are tied for fourth.

Outstanding Service Teams Enter Tourney

TEMPLE, July 7 (AP)—Approximately 20 service teams are expected to participate in the Temple all-service softball tournament here today.

Twelve teams have entered and at least four more entries are expected to file bfore deadline this afternoon.

Barksdale field, Randolph field, McCloskey hospital and Blackland Army Air field are pre-tournament favorites.

The meet is sponsored by the Temple Junior Chamber of Commerce and the city recreation department. Trophies will be presented to the champion and runner-up in the two-day meet, and an engraved waterproof wrist watch will be presented to the outstanding player.

Besides the favorites, these entries have been reported:

Houston Coast Guard, Bergstrom Army Air field, Camp Wolters, Kelly field War department, Fort Sam Houston Personnel center, Hell Cats from the tank destroyer center at Camp Hood, service team at Camp Wolters, the 430th Field artillery, Camp Hood, and Camp Hood tank destroyers.

Swank English Race Won By 'Yank' Horse

ASCOT, England, July 7 (AP)—Battle Hymn, three-year old owned by New York's Col. J. H. Whitney, and Lord Rosebery's Ocean Swell won the two halves of the Royal Ascot race program today.

The event, England's Easter parade in pre-war days, was run off on its home course for the first time since 1939 and was attended by a wartime crowd whose lone top hat was worn by an American soldier.

He was T/Sgt. J. D. Harrison of Clara, Miss., who was garbed otherwise in khaki and who was smoking a Churchill-sized cigar.

Where he got the top hat, he said, was a military secret.

"I just hope my dad doesn't hear that I was at a horse race," he added.

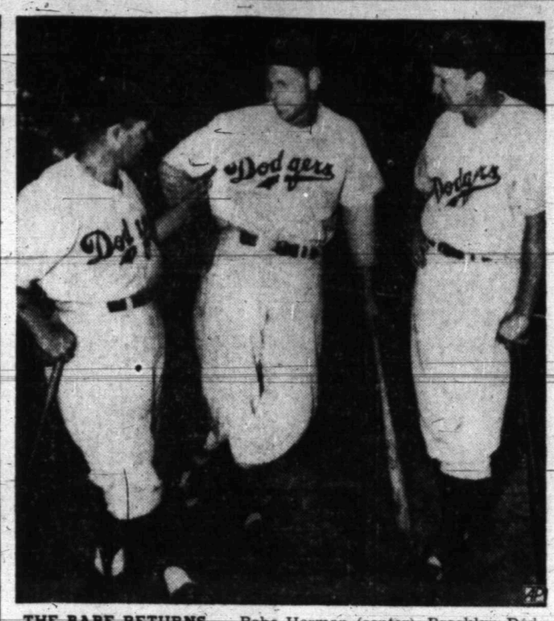

Erfurth And Samuels Head For Rice, Army

SAN ANTONIO, July 7 (AP) — August Erfurth and Perry Samuels, San Antonio's great schoolboy track men, are headed for Rice Institute and the Army respectively.

Erfurth, Brackenridge High's star hurler, will enter Rice tomorrow. He is classified 4-F in the draft.

Samuels, Thomas Jefferson High's mighty sprinter, will enter the Army July 18.

Erfurth and Samuels won championships in the National AAU junior division last weekend and each was second in the senior class.

Do You Like Long Shots?

Surprising Senators Might Win Pennant

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 7 (U.P.)—For those baseball fans who like "long shots," the Washington Senators today are a good psychological bet to win the American league pennant.

They are the ultimate in long shots because they finished last in the 1944 American league campaign. And they weren't expected to do great things this year.

Senators Sweep Four

But the Senators are shrugging off the past and giggling at the present as they travel through the west on their latest tour. Which included four games at Boston. On this trip they have won 13 of 17 games since leaving home on June 22. And they are working on a string of six straight victories. They are in second place in the American circuit standing, just three games behind the leading Detroit Tigers.

This second swing through the west was supposed to be tough for the Senators, who stacked up against the supposedly powerful western clubs—the leading Tigers, the champion Browns, and the hard-to-beat Chicago White Sox.

Upset Favored Nines

The Senators, with nothing expected of them and working under no pressure, went into the west and won two of three at Detroit, three of four at Cleveland, four straight at Chicago, and climaxed these triumphs with two victories over the Browns last night.

What has happened to the Senators? First, they have suddenly developed punch to power their well-balanced pitching staff. Since leaving Griffith Stadium, they have hit nine home runs. Second, Harland Clift, the Senator third baseman who was considered on the skids, has gone to town as a power hitter. Since the team left home he has added nearly 50 points to his batting average, although he still has a mark of about .229. Third, the Senators have been playing in smaller parks and have not been subjected to an every-night diet of night baseball, as in their home games.

Senators' Pitching Good

With all of the Senators' knuckle-ball flingers and other mound artists pitching effectively, they have the best pitching depth in the American league. Three of them have won nine games each: Dutch Leonard, Roger Wolff and Rookie Marino Pieretti; meanwhile Mickey Haefner has won six and grandpa John Niggeling — after a disappointing start—has taken two in a row.

Bluege, on the fire with Washington fans because of the disappointing showing of his team last year, is ace high now. All they expect is a first-division finish; but with a few good breaks the Senators might come through for the long-shot players and win the pennant.

Young Welterweight Defeated By Lamotta

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP) — Tommy Bell, the Youngstown welterweight who has been burning up the hinterland, got licked in his first Madison Square Garden fight last night, but he made a good showing that promoter such a good showing that promoter Mike Jacobs undoubtedly will find another Garden spot for him soon.

Sturdy Jake Lamotta of the Bronx, sporting a 12-pound weight advantage at 161 to 149, was the man who spoiled Bell's New York debut. Whamming away at Bell's body with his usual hard stomach blows. Jake won an unanimous 10-round decision.

Sgt. Joe Louis Back From Lengthy Tour

CAMP SHANKS, N. Y., July 6 (AP) — T Sgt. Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion, returned today from a 21,000-mile trip during which the Army said he visited military installations and Army and Navy hospitals in the United States, Canada and Alaska.

Louis said he gave boxing exhibitions and instructions to soldiers as far away as Attu in the Aleutians. Camp authorities said Louis would resume his physical conditioning duties here.

Junior Nines Start Playoff On Thursday

The district playoff of the American Legion junior baseball nines will be held here at Chapman Field Thursday and Friday nights, July 12 and 13, it has been announced.

Play gets underway with Morton meeting Hedley Thursday night, and the Lubbock squad plays both nines on Friday night.

The winner of this series will play the winners of district 2 and 3 for the right to go to the state meet. Teams in the other districts are Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Ballenger and Lamesa.

McGonegal Peps Up Littlefield Veteran

TEMPLE, July 7. (AP)—A veteran of World war I who lost both his hands in action is showing veterans of World war II at McCloskey General hospital that it's not such a bad fix to be in.

"They may amputate their limbs but they'll never amputate their spirits," says Charlie McGonegal, who had his hands blown off by a hand grenade in the Seicheprey Toul sector in 1918.

Among patients taking hope from McGonegal's experience is Pfc. William J. Collier of Littlefield, Tex., who had his hands blown off by a hand grenade in Luxembourg last February.

War Jeep Streaks To Easy Victory In Skokie Handicap

CHICAGO, July 7 (AP) — War Jeep, small but mighty son of War Admiral, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham of New York City, streaked to an easy length and a half victory in the $20,000 Skokie Handicap at Washington park today.

Breaking from the outside and perfectly ridden by Jockey Johnny Adams, War Jeep overhauled the pace setting Fighting Don as the field of eleven swept into the stretch, bounded into the lead and drew away to the cheers of 22,500.

Pot O' Luck Second

Pot O' Luck, runner up to Hoop Jr., in the Kentucky Derby provided the closest challenge. Pot O' Luck came with a rush through the stretch, but second was the best he could do, a half length ahead of Fighting Step, which was a head in front of the tiring Fighting Don.

War Jeep returned $14.20, $7.20 and $4.80 while Pot O' Luck paid $6.40 and $4, and Fighting Step was $5.60 to show. Time for the seven furlongs over a fast track was 1:25.

War Jeep's victory was worth $15,050 to Mrs. Graham.

Bric A Bac Cops $50,000 Purse

ARCADIA, Calif., July 7. (AP)—Bric A Bac won the $50,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap, closing day feature race at Santa Anita park today, followed by the ten-year-old Wing and Wing and Best Effort. The time was 2.30 4/5.

Gay Dalton, hero of Mexico and the overnight favorite, finished fifth.

Bric A Bac, the Freeman and Church entry, carried 122 pounds in defeating nine opponents in the mile and a half run. Jockey Conn McCreary, who flew here from New York for the purpose, was aboard.

The winner; a more or less inconsistent horse, paid $9.30 to win, $5 to place, $4.60 to show. Wing and Wing returned $12.90 and $6.70; Best Effort, $6.60.

The mutuel pool was $648,853.

That Quick Brown Fox Turns Tail As Lazy Hound Growls

COLUMBUS, O., July 7. (U.P.)—Here's a tip for beginning typists: That stuff about the quick brown fox jumping over the lazy dog's back is a lot of nonsense.

Take it from Superintendent Earl Davis of the Columbus zoo.

Yesterday Davis introduced "Butch," the laziest dog in town, to "Elmer," usually a quick fox. Then he stood by to watch the quick brown fox jump over the lazy dog's back.

But it didn't work that way. Butch came to life with a deep growl and the fox turned his back and whimpered in a corner.

Davis hurried to a typing authority at a Columbus business college and threw the lie in his teeth.

"Nuts," said the instructor. "No one said it was supposed to happen. We just use that sentence because it has all the letters of the alphabet. And anyhow, we have a more modern sentence now—'a quick movement of the enemy would jeopardize sixteen gunboats'."

Sports Not Hurt By Travel Restrictions

NEW YORK, July 7. (AP) — New ODT regulations denying the use of sleeping car space to civilians traveling 450 miles or less will work little hardship on athletic teams, sports leaders told the Associated Press today.

Harold Parrott, road secretary of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said most major league teams had been riding day coaches on the shorter jumps for more than a year.

Roy Mack, vice-president of the Philadelphia Athletics, declared his team had refrained from buying pullman space within the new ODT boundaries this season and that on the longer trips 'we split the squad if necessary."

College football teams, specially those having naval trainees on their rosters, may be the hardest hit. The trainees are allowed from their campuses for only 48 hours at a time and usually spend Friday night traveling to the site of Saturday's games.

The Association of American Railroads in Washington today, however, predicted the pullman shortage might be over in from three to five months. The football season still is three months away.

Enid AAF Baseball Team Plays Wolves

WACO, July 7 (AP)—The Enid, Okla., Air field baseball team will visit Katy Park tomorrow for an afternoon and night double-header with the high-riding Waco Army Air field Wolves.

The Wolves defeated the Enid nine in the Oklahoma City recently with Red Bartleson and Bill Scott taming them in both ends of a twin-bill.

Enid has been wanting another crack at the Wolves since that double defeat, and are bringing along their strongest team, featuring the hurling of Dick Midkiff, former University of Texas star; Lou Kretlow; and Tony Andrews, property of the Jersey City International league Giants. Midkiff also has played double A ball.

The Wolves, who have added strength for the games, will pitch Fred Schmidt, former St. Louis Cardinal hurler; and Hoot Gibson.

Enid was finalist in the 1944 national semi-pro tournament.

'Red' Wade Accepts High School Position

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 7 (U.P.)—Maurice "Red" Wade, member of Missouri's 1941 high scoring touchdown trio of Bob Steuber and Harry "Slippery" Ice, has accepted a position as head football and track coach at Central High here.

Wade, a member of the Tulsa Hurricanes the past two seasons, attained his greatest gridiron success while a member of Don Faurot's 1941 Sugar Bowl eleven.

Widely Known 'Ump' Dies In California

DALLAS, July 7 (AP)—Ollie Anderson, veteran baseball umpire who died in his sleep in his Los Angeles hotel room today, was praised by J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league, in which Anderson once worked, as "one of the grandest characters of baseball."

Anderson umpired in the Texas league before Gardner's time but the league prexy knew him well.

"He did a lot for the game," said Gardner today. "He was a clean liver, taught it to ball players and other umpires and often went over the country helping the kids lay out their diamonds and organize their leagues. He once wrote a book on baseball."

Anderson was an umpire for more than 30 years. In addition to the Texas league he once worked in the West Texas league.

Grid Stars Report For Texas U. Squad

AUSTIN, July 7 (UP)—Stars during their schoolboy days blossomed at the opening of five days of summer football training at the University of Texas yesterday.

Among prospects for the 1945 Longhorn team were Sam Callan, San Angelo; James Barnes, Beaumont; Desmond Kidd, Austin; Byron Gillory, Marshall; Arthur Sweet, San Antonio Brackenridge; George Deutsch, Dallas Highland Park, and Robert Musselwhite, Lufkin.

Outstanding among the Navy trainees reporting to Coach D. X. Bible was Fred Brechtel, up from Rice Institute and Southwestern university last year. He will add material to Bible's passing needs. Also in the Navy group was T. O. Harrell, 195-pound guard from Dalhart.

Sixteen former Longhorns also answered the call.

Majors Field To Be Inactivated July 15

MAJORS FIELD, Tex., July 7. (UP) — The War department has notified Col. Fred Gray, commanding officer of Majors field, that the field will be inactivated about July 15.

Fighter pilots taking P-47 Thunderbolt training already have been transferred to other Second Air force stations.

A small contingent of personnel was expected to remain at the field after inactivation pending definite word of the field's future status, Colonel Gray said.

Activated in 1942, Majors field turned out 5,600 aviation cadets under its original commanding officer, Col. Herbert M. Newstrom, before it was transferred to the Second Air force last December.

Texans Among Yanks Honored By France

PARIS, July 7. (AP)—Six American brigadier generals and a long list of other air force officers were decorated today by the French government.

Croix De Guerre with Vermillion Star: Lt. Col. John L. Locke of San Antonio; Lt. Col. William P. McBride of Tealitos, Tex. (not in Postal Guide); Maj. John W. Buckner of Cleburne.

Texans Urged To Buy Vehicle Use Stamps

AUSTIN, July 7. (U.P.)—The first district internal revenue collector, Frank Scofield, today urged Texans "to be patriotic" and buy the federal $5 motor vehicle use stamps by July 10.

He said Washington instructions were to enforce the requirement regidly. Deputy collectors now are checking vehicles to see that stamps have been placed on them. Owners who have not posted the stamps by July 10 will be penalized, Scofield said.

GALVESTON AAF LOSES

HOUSTON, July 7 (U.P.)—Galveston Army Air field bowed 4 to 2 to the Houston Rapid Blue Printers in a south coast Victory league game in Buff Stadium here last night.

MEXICO CITY WINS

MEXICO CITY, July 7 (AP)—A four-run rally in the sixth inning on two hit, two walks and two errors gave Mexico City a 5-2 win over Nuevo Laredo today.

ARCHER VOTES DRY

ARCHER CITY, July 7. (AP) — By a majority of more than two to one, Archer county residents voted to remain dry in an election held Saturday to legalize the sale of all alcoholic beverages. The vote was 869 against legalization and 412 for Pierre Renoir, famous French painter, first painted on porcelain.

Pauline Betz, Doris Hunt Keep Net Crown

CHICAGO, July 7 (AP) — For Pauline Betz, winning tennis championships is nothing novel, but she was elated tonight when she and her partner, Doris Hunt of Miami, Fla., squeezed through to successfully defend the national clay courts women's doubles championship.

The Los Angeles queen of the courts, national champion, and Miss Hunt defeated Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke and Miss Mary Arnold of Los Angeles in the first of five championship matches in the week-long tournament at the River Forest Country club, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7.

Four more championship matches are scheduled for Sunday, the most important the men's singles battle between defending champion Francisco (Pancho) Segura, the transplanted Ecuadorian now of Miami university, and Bill Talbert of Wilmington, Del., who, he defeated in last year's final. Talbert today turned back the semi-final challenge of Lt. Hal Surface, jr., of Berry Field, Tenn., 6-3, 6-3, 6-1, to get a chance to revenge his last year's defeat.

Paradoxically, while foes in the singles, Talbert and Segura will be teamed tomorrow to defend their doubles title. They left Elwood Cooke of Los Angeles and Lt. Surface.

In addition, the mixed doubles crown will be at stake between teams to be determined yet tonight.

Elwood Cooke, Los Angeles, and Lt. Hal Surface, jr., Berry Field, Nashville, Tenn., defeated Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, Tex., and Brendon Macken, Montreal, Canada, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.

Capt. Vernon Turner Relates Experiences As Prisoner Of Germans; Escape Successful

Capt. Vernon Turner, back in the states after a harrowing experience as a war prisoner, will swear on his Silver Star, his Air Medal with 16 clusters, his Purple Heart and other decorations that his arrest after seven days and nights of freedom from a German prison detail was about as ironic as any of the war.

The 25-year-old P-47 Thunderbolt fighter pilot son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Turner of Levelland was recaptured by "a couple of posts."

His second try was successful, however, and he hopes, at conclusion of his 60 days of temporary duty at home, that he may be reassigned to a fighter group in the Pacific.

TURNER

Capt. Turner and a Lt. Routan, B-24 pilot of Paris, Tenn., were at Nurnburg April 4 and had been since Feb. 5. The American columns were driving hard in that direction. German guards ordered evacuation within the hour. Prisoners were lined up and marched southeastward toward Moosburg. After 28 kilometers, a halt was called and prisoners were allowed to sit.

Concocted Hodge-Podge

It was the moment Capt. Turner and Lt. Routan had waited for. They had saved some of the crackers, sugar, chocolate, powdered milk and margarine from a scant supply of Red Cross packages sent to them at the camp. They had cooked them into a hodge-podge strong in iron content and secreted the food with their two blankets, and other personal belongings. They estimated the food would do them three weeks—in a pinch, four.

By prearrangement, two prisoners approached the nearest German guards and offered them a cigaret. They held matches for the guards. Absorbed, the Germans did not see Capt. Turner and Lt. Routan ease off the path and down a slope into a narrow canal. The airmen slipped into the water, leaving barely more than their noses sticking out, and camouflaged even that evidence of their presence behind bushes.

Began Difficult Flight

Soon the column was in motion. The Germans did not notice the missing men immediately. The airmen began a difficult hazardous hide-and-seek flight, sleeping by day when they could, traveling by night. Only the north star was their guide, and for two straight nights there was a chilling rain and cloudy skies. Often they'd meet rural dwelling Germans, but they had planned well what to do in such moments. They kept their uniforms on, rather than stealing civilian attire. They didn't want to chance execution.

Lt. Routan was a good actor. He played the part of Capt. Turner's "crazy brother" and talked a patter of "pig-latin." Capt. Turner, twisting and turning so that the insignia of his uniform could not be too easily read, would let loose a stream of "Ja, ja," to any German civilian questions and keep walking, dragging his apparently recalcitrant erratic brother with him.

That worked numerous times, and the Germans would laugh and let them pass.

Ran Into Sentries

Then the bad night. It was 3 o'clock in the morning and the airmen were walking on a road, keeping sharp lookout. Capt. Turner said, "Well, I'm about ready to concede that it looks like we're going to make it. One more night of walking should put us across the autobahn, and the Seventh Army should find us there if we hide out awhile."

They saw something ahead and halted. There was an immovable object on each side of the road. About 100 yards away. They they felt relief. "Fence posts," one of them decided. They walked on.

"Halt!"

The voice belonged to one of the "fence posts."

They had blundered into two sentries! Into a camouflaged German airdrome!

Germans Gave Them Food

That ended that try, but the German captors were impressed with the desire of the Americans to return to service the Germans were having too much of. One of their guards stole a loaf of good bread and some more food and gave it to them. They rated salutes, good treatment, sufficient food.

The Americans were taken in a wagon with six guards to Roth and questioned, and then on toward Moosburg internment camp. Having no food left for another escape, the airmen decided to be quiescent and give no trouble. They knew the Americans would overrun Moosburg soon. But the Germans bore east and south of Moosburg, and Capt. Turner and Lt. Routan decided the line of march was pointed to the Alps.

Planned Another Escape

They immediately laid plans for another escape.

On April 29, after they had been marching 18 days, their captors put up at a German farmhouse. The captives stole a chicken and cooked it and when their captors marched away with other prisoners Capt. Turner and Lt. Routan hid out under the barn. There were five French prisoners of war who were not under guard, assigned to work for the German farmer. One of them was a professor who had taught in the University of Paris. The French gave them warnings of approaching Germans, smuggled food to them, finally told them a nearby village had been swept up by American tankmen.

Capt. Turner sent a scout out to report more specifically, then approached the German farmer and had him drive him in a wagon to Moosburg, where the officer underwent surgery of a foot infected by poorly fitting shoes.

Only Part of His Story

That is part of the story of Capt. Turner, who was shot out of the war just before the St. Lo breakthrough, on July 24, 1944.

He was a flight commander and operations officer. He was leading his flight, seven months after arriving overseas. The target was Gestapo headquarters, at Ceresey. Roaring down for skip-bombing, "so I could try to put a bomb right in the front door," a 20-mm. shell exploded in his left wing, and he curled off and sought altitude. The battered wing dragged, and he could make barely more than 150 miles an hour, which is almost the stalling speed of a Thunderbolt. Another 20-mm shell hit his right wing. Gaseous vapors and smoke streamed into his cockpit, and Capt. Turner pushed back the hood, unbuckled his safety belt and, expecting fire, prepared to bail out. About that moment, at 1,500 feet, another shell struck in the engine. The ship burst into fire, and Capt. Turner was catapulted out. His chute opened quickly and he landed in a narrow hedge-bordered farm plot. He ducked into a deep trench, hid his parachute and attempted to crawl away. He saw two German soldiers and ducked back. Then a rifle was presented from the rear. There was a 15-year-old German soldier. Capt. Turner surrendered to him.

125 Miles in Deep Snow

Successively, he was taken to St. Lo, past Vire, to Chartres, where he spent five days in the cathedral, to Paris, to Frankfort and solitary confinement, to Weslau redistribution center where the officers and enlisted men were separated, then to Sagon, where he arrived Aug. 16. There he stayed until Jan. 28, 1945, when the Russians were threatening and orders came to evacuate camp in an hour. One hundred twenty-five miles in deep snow, sometimes waist deep, was the lot of the half-starved prisoners.

"We had been treated well, except that our food and fuel were insufficient," Capt. Turner said. "We got two pieces of bread a day, a thin wormy small bowl of soup. Fuel was sufficient for only two days a week. We solved that problem by staying in our bunks all day except for a brief time in the evenings. That way we could conserve our poor energies and still have regular get-togethers. Elaborate tunneling had gone on there before I arrived, and some was in progress when I was there. Some escapes were effected. Some of those recaptured were shot.

Rolled Into Nurnburg

"We ended up by rolling into Nurnburg April 5, on an old French 40 and 8 railroad car. Then the march that caused the escape attempt of Lt. Routin and mine."

Running from the Germans was not the chief distinction of Capt. Turner, however.

He knocked down two German fighters in the air and shot up two on the ground. On March 25, 1944, he and his flight were escorting B-26 medium bombers. He was flying at 22,000 feet, and he told the flight the would peel of and check on some "bogies." When he dropped out of formation, four German planes below him also dived. Capt. Turner's plane was dived from 22,000 feet to "treetop" level, where he caught an FW-190 with a burst of 20 rounds out of each gun. The Focke-Wulf crashed and burned, right in the backyard of a French farmer. His wing man estimated Capt. Turner's plane was "making 700 miles an hour when it shot past me."

Nearly Got His

His next kill almost wiped him out. It was on April 12. He and his filght were escorting B-24s. The day was bad. Forty-eight fighters were to have rendezvoused to protect the Liberators, but only eight got through. Reaching the gasoline safety limit, the fighters radioed the Liberators they'd have to turn back. Soon the "Big Friends" radioed back. They were being attacked by "bandits." More than 30 Nazi fighters were buzzing all around the bombers. The P-47s bore into the fight.

The bombers were flying at 17,000 feet. There was an overcast at 22,000, an undercast at 12,000 feet. Capt. Turner saw one of the Nazis, an Me-109 slow-roll as it went in for the attack, and he settled on it for his target. But the Nazi was a crack pilot and could outclimb the Thunderbolt. The Nazi made a split-S turn and roared in to meet Capt. Turner's attack. Three strikes were scored by the Nazi's 50 caliber bullets in the side of the Thunderbolt in that exchange, and his film later showed that Capt. Turner missed.

Knocked Nazi Plane Apart

The Nazi pulled into a chandelle and streamed for the undercast. Capt. Turner saw his path and went through the clouds after the German, guns going. His film later showed parts of the German plane knocked loose as he went below the cloud. The German pulled into a loop, stalled out. He bailed out and his ship went into a spin.

Capt. Turner, freshman student of government in Texas Tech in 1938-39, is married to the former Cora Jean Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Watson of 3003 Nineteenth. He enlisted in the Army Medical corps in the summer of 1939, was appointed to West Point in 1940, was commissioned a pilot in the Army Air forces in June of 1943.

Praises The Red Cross

There was "only one thing I'd really like to say—the rest of my story is routine with boys who were imprisoned by the Germans: The Red Cross saved my life with its food parcels—and the lives of thousands of others. There is not too much credit can be said of the Red Cross."

He will undergo physical examinations here and commence flying again on AT-6s—the ship he learned on years ago. He will report Sept. 4 to Miami Beach for reassignment.

The Roman city of Pompeii was wiped out by a volcano in 79 A.D. and its ruins were not rediscovered until the 18th century.

Six Persons Complete First Aid Course

Six members of the Red Cross junior first aid course have completed standard requirements of 18 class hours and received their certificates, according to H. J. Kendrick, volunteer instructor.

Juniors, between the ages of 12 and 16, who were certified are Bernard Cane, Billy Everheart, Marlin Smith, jr., Rossi Ann Stiles, Ruth Tarver and Malcolm Young.

FOOT ITCH
ATHLETE'S FOOT

RELIEF GUARANTEED OR MONEY BACK

At least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible because it is both contagious and infectious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Why Take Chances?

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to destroy the germ, whereas, upon contact, laboratory tests show that H. F. will kill the germ Tinea Trichophyton within 15 seconds.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. H. F. gently peels the skin, which enables it to get to parasites existing under the outer cuticle.

Itching Often Relieved Quickly

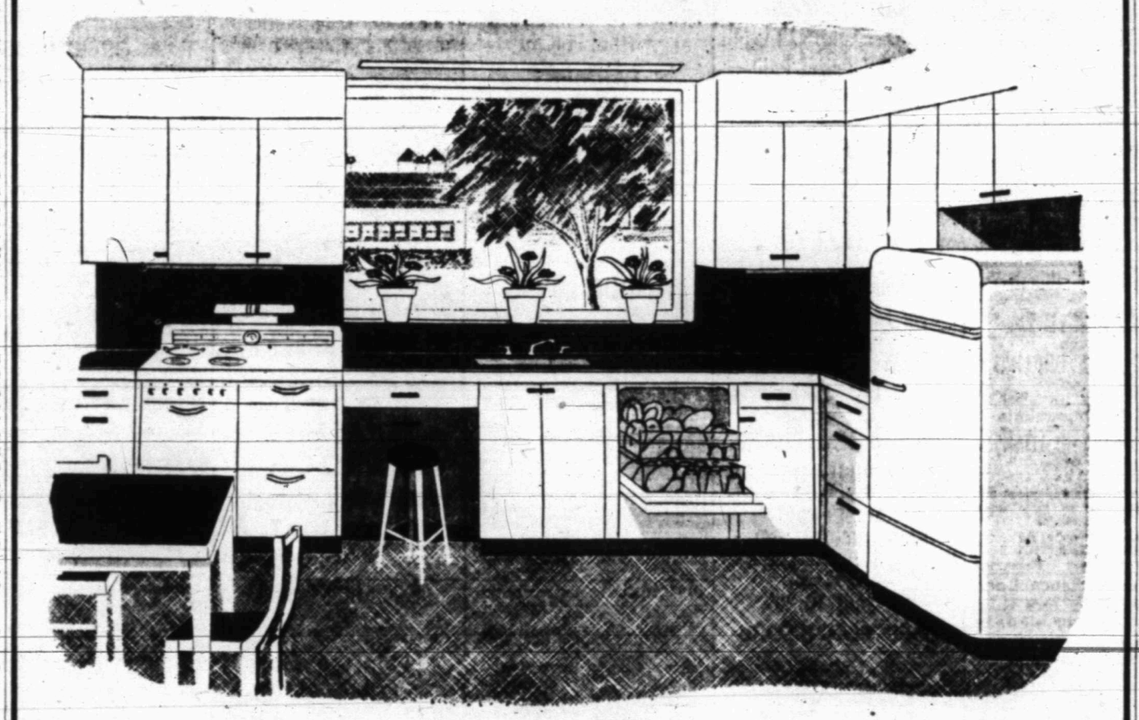

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are better. Usually this takes from three to ten days.

H. F. should leave the skin soft and smooth. You may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief.

Don't wait for Athlete's Foot to become serious. Get H. F. today.

Probe Opens In New 'Swindle'

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP) — A House group today began an investigation of charges that "shrewd manipulators" in Wall street had worked out a "trick corporation plan" which would swindle taxpayers.

Chairman Boren (D-Okla) of a House commerce subcommittee yesterday announced the investigation of activities which he termed "Swindle, Inc."

In a House speech he said some Wall street bankers and corporations had found "legal loopholes" in holding company legislation which is offering them a "bonanza that dwarfs the swag of Teapot Dome."

May Tighten Laws

Chairman Lea (D-Calif) told a reporter he had named Boren and Reps. Murphy (D-Pa) and Reece (R-Tenn) to make the investigations—with a view to recommendations for tightening up the holding company act of 1935, under which private utility companies function.

Describing the "trick corporation plan," Boren said:

"It's a simple scheme: Wall street bankers would convert the $18,000,000,000 private utility industry to a form of tax free but fake public ownership by the formation of 'non-profit' corporations. These corporations then issue bonds against the revenue of the property. But the bankers in estimating annual revenue to determine the amount of bonds that can be issued include as revenue the amount of money formerly collected from customers and paid to the federal government. The former tax revenue would not be passed on to the public in reduced electric rates, but diverted to their own pockets in the form of interest on these revenue bonds.

Scheme Worked In Omaha

"This scheme already has worked in Omaha where the $32,000,000 Nebraska Power company has been sold to a fake 'non-profit corporation' of four men for the swindle price of $45,000,000. It will sweep the country unless stopped.

Boren named two men as "the chief instigators of Swindle, Inc." He listed the "first and most important" as Guy C. Myers, whom he identified as a Wall street financial agent formerly of Montana. The other, he said, was Howard L. Aller, president of American Power and Light company of New York City.

At his Lakeville, Conn., home, Aller said he did not know "of any tricks" and had no comment on Boren's "ridiculous statements."

No Revenue Bonds

Later, Bernard Stone, president of the Omaha electric committee, the non-profit corporation which purchased Nebraska Power company common stock, declared the committee has issued no revenue bonds and that federal taxes are being paid on the property.

Omaha's non-profit group is a temporary expedient whose existence will end when Nebraska Power company properties become the property of a public power district, Stone said.

AWARD FOR BUCKNER

PEARL HARBOR, July 7 (U.P.)—Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, jr., who died at the head of his American 10th army in the battle of Okinawa, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross posthumously. Presentation of the medal will be made to his family in the United States.

SELECTIVE RECOVERIES STAGED

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—The stock market ended a generally declining short week Friday with demand for utilities inspiring selective recoveries in virtually all other departments.

Today was the first of the Saturday closings for the nation's principal securities exchanges which will extend through July and August with the six-session routine being resumed after labor day.

Prominent on the revival was American Telephone which touched a high mark since 1937 at 177¼.

The Associated Press 60-stock average finished the week at 65.9 for a net loss of .4 of a point.

Rural Women From 20 Counties To Attend Educational Short Course

Approximately 295 rural women, representing 20 counties, are expected to attend a three-day educational short course, "Adequate Rural Home," to begin at 1:30 p. m., Monday and continue through Wednesday on the Texas Tech campus.

First time to be offered at Tech, this course will be given under the auspices of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M., in cooperation with the divisions of home economics and agriculture at Tech. Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent of the extension service, will act as general chairman and Dean Margaret W. Weeks, head of the division of home economics at Tech, will be co-chairman.

Registration Period

Formal registration will be held from 1:30 to 4:15 p. m. tomorrow in women's dormitory No. 1, followed by a general meeting to be held at 4:30 p. m. on the lawn east of the agriculture building. Dean Weeks will preside and Dean A. H. Leidigh, head of the division of agriculture, will discuss "Post-War Agriculture."

Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p. m., in women's dormitory No. 1 and a general meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on the green south of the administration building. Miss Hill will preside and L. E. Ellwood, cotton work specialist of the extension service, will discuss "Importance of Cotton on South Plains." W. N. Williamson, district agent of the extension service, will discuss "Place of the Home in the World Today."

Classes Begin Tuesday

Classes, composed of women in groups of 25 to 50, will begin Tuesday morning at 8:30. The course, limited to 295 women, will include special instructions on landscaping the rural home, clothing for the family, color schemes, textiles, furnishings, house plans and furniture, food for health and handicrafts.

Four other representatives from the extension service, Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, specialist in clothing; Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation; C. R. Heaton, emergency horticulture assistant; and Sam Moore, poultry husbandman, are scheduled to appear on programs beginning at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, when Mrs. Barnes will discuss "Clothing for the Family." Other instructors will be members of the Tech faculty and Lubbock Public schools.

Students, who will occupy women's dormitory No. 1 for the three days, will be charged a fee of $10 which covers entire expenses of the course, including registration, enrollment, room and board. Area involved is extension district No. 2, comprised of Bailey, Briscoe, Borden, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Dawson, Garza, Gaines, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Lamb, Lynn, Parmer, Scurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoacum counties.

LEADS COURSE — Miss Kate Adele Hill, district Extension Service agent, will be chairman of the three-day educational short course for rural women at Texas Tech this week.

Alleged Beating To Be Examined Further

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — A House Military Affairs subcommittee will make further investigation of the alleged beating of a Pennsylvania air cadet at the Lincoln (Neb.) Army Air field.

Chairman Durham (D-NC) said the subcommittee would meet late today and would probably make a report to the full Military Affairs committee next week.

Pfc. Alfred L. Winkle of Sherman, Tex., a guard at the field, has been acquitted in a courtmartial there on charges of abusing Pvt. Warren C. Miller of Erie, Pa., according to Col. Herbert W. Anderson, commanding officer.

Rep. Gavin (R-Pa) told a reporter this was the case he had cited before the House in a recent speech.

Gavin said Miller was formerly from Warren, Pa.

Little Guy And His Great Appetite Are Puzzle For Medics

ATLANTA, July 7 (AP)—Doctors don't know what's the matter with poor Pfc. Chester J. Salvatori.

Pfc. Salvatori has a big appetite, a gargantuan appetite, an appetite that would appall even an elephant.

A breakfast of 40 eggs, 20 peices of toast, several quarts of milk, eight pieces of bacon, a quart of coffee and a box—a big box—of cereal is nothing unusual for the soldier from Southbridge, Mass.

And Pfc. Salvatori isn't a big guy. Just 140 pounds. Slightly less than average in height.

He tells friends he once ate an 18-pound turkey at one meal—without any help. His favorite meat is pork chops and he says he's eaten as many as 36 at a meal.

He's been in the Army four years and four months.

In civilian life he likes to work in a grocery store or a bakery. Once, he said, he worked for an optical company and nearly starved to death.

Physicians who have the little guy with the big appetite under observation at Ft. McPherson station hospital say his stomach is a little larger than average — but not much.

They say also it may be that his craving for food is psychological, but they are not definite or unanimous in the matter.

Being Neighbors Of Celebrities Vexing To Truman Friends

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 7. (U.P.)—Folks here kind of feel sorry for the President's wife and daughter. If a neighbor wants to slip through the back yard, knock at the kitchen door, and borrow a cup of sugar as is the custom in this kindly and neighborly old town, the visitor is due for a shock. Secret Service men are on the alert and visitors must show their credentials.

One of the Truman relatives recently was stopped by a polite gentleman while entering the back yard. She stammered about just wanting to run in for a minute when the cook, Vietta, poked her head out of the window and shouted, "That's all right, mister, she's one of our family."

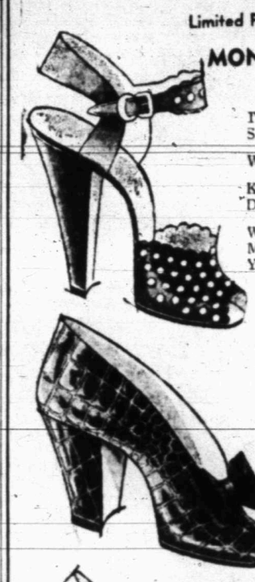

She got the sugar.

The PIE DUCKLING
....he saves the juice

As every hostess knows, pies, when baking, have a tendency to spill precious juices all over the oven. This is caused by the effort of trapped steam to escape. Now the PIE DUCKLING solves the problem—permits the steam to escape, thereby keeping the juices IN THE PIE. Just stand the PIE DUCKLING underneath top crust, and he does the rest. TODAY'S GAG

A woman approached the clerk at a fruit stand and picking up a bunch of grapes said, "My husband is very fond of these, do you know if these have been sprayed with poison?"

"Listen lady," said the clerk, eyeing her suspiciously, "We just sell fruit here. You'll have to get your poison at the drug store."

SCATTERINGS

FIRST NOVEL—"A Lion Is In The Streets," a first novel by Adria Locke Langley, has been purchased for a quarter of a million dollars by the James Cagney Film Corp. The book is said to be dynamic, beautifully written, and a definite portrayal of Hank Martin and the story of his rise from a swamp peddler to the governor of Louisiana . . . Theme for Parent-Teacher association study programs next season is "The Family Builds For the Future" . . . One of the greatest needs for downtown Lubbock (as we see it) is an airmail letter box . . . We like the slogan of a certain company that has not curtailed quality of its goods for quantity during the war: "It is, it always was and it always will be."

WITH salad dressing on the verge of staging a disappearing act you might be interested in this tip for conserving salad dressing: Dress old fashioned cole slaw with a blend of mustard, salt, sugar and vinegar, tasting as you go. Hollywood has hired bigwig psychologists to investigate the dreams of soldiers, sailors and male civilians to find the "Ideal Woman" of 1945. From an enormous collection of male dreams, the psychologists will tabulate a composite of all the features of this dream girl . . . American officers and soldiers have sent home to wives and mothers dozens of pieces of silver, linens and household effects formerly used by Hitler and high ranking Nazi leaders. We suppose they scooped up the personal silverware when they raided the Berchtesgaden retreat . . . Eighty per cent of the total pack of canned fish will be set aside for government use and we suppose that means the civilian who gets hungry for fish will either catch it himself or buy it fresh or frozen.

CLIPPER TO RIO — If the concept of overseas airline trips comes true after the war, it means that travel will be within the reach of the bulk of Americans. The present rate from New York to Rio is $524, but officials say postwar rates will be about one-third that. In support, one company has filed with CAB a proposed rate of $175, one way. Thus a budget of $500, put aside over a period of several months of buying war bonds, will give us two weeks in Rio . . . The fellow who has heard "at ease" for the last time and is at home for keeps will be more interested if the feminine element brushes up on its conversation. Aunt Susie's gossip will leave him limp. He won't be interested that Mrs. J. has migraine headaches, a philandering husband or a new dress from the bargain basement. He's just won a war and petty things like small words will annoy him.

INFLATION — What economic misery inflation has dealt the consumer's pocketbook in lands where there is no price control is graphically depicted in a chart being distributed by the OPA which shows, in some cases, meat for $100 a pound, a loaf of bread for $260 and shoes for $60 a pair.

In China, a short lunch can cost as much as $101, the chart shows. A ham sandwich is priced at $96 with lemonade at $2. And if you want dessert the ice cream cone comes at $3. You have to eat it all on the spot — because a used refrigerator is priced as high as $32,500.

AAUW Officers Are Chosen At Meeting

Delegates to the "non-travel" convention of the American Association of University Women, voting by mail, elected national officers and gave endorsement to a legislative program broad in scope and looking to the next two years as a crucial period in international cooperation and home-front readjustment. Results of the ballot have been recently released through the Association's headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Among the officers elected is Dr. Anna Powell, professor of history, North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, who will serve as regional vice president, representing the Southwest Central Region. Dr. Helen C. White, professor of English at the University of Wisconsin was re-elected to the presidency of the association. Chosen as first vice-president was Dr. Margaret M. Justin, dean of the Home Economics division of Kansas State college at Manhattan, who since 1937 has been AAUW vice president for the Southwest Central region. Dr. Justin has made a number of visits to Lubbock during that time.

Dr. Marion E. Park, president emeritus of Bryn Mawr college, Plymouth, Mass., was elected second vice-president, and Mrs. Frederick G. Atkinson of Minneapolis, Minn., former chairman of the National AAUW Fellowship committee, was chosen as treasurer.

1-Year-Old Honored At Party By Parents

The first birthday of Margaret Joyce Bynum was celebrated with a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bynum, 1611 Twenty-first, Friday.

A lace cloth over red taffeta covered the table which was centered with a birthday cake. Roses, gladioli and verbenas decorated the dining and living rooms.

Guests were John Clarence Curry, Vicky and Genette Knox, Susan and Don Hill, Bobby Terrell, Ronnie Gruben, Nita and Phil Marlow, Voncelia and Clydene Rutledge and Sandra Bynum. Mothers attending were Mesdames Royce Hill, Betty Gruben, C. C. Curry, Terrell, C. P. Medford, R. R. Cobb and W. C. Rutledge.

Club Reservations To Be Made By July 11

Couple To Live In California

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Louise Hindman of the Arnett-Benson addition, and Pfc. James M. Bryant of the U. S. Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bryant of 604 Thirtieth, which was read Tuesday at the Church of the Nazarene before the family and close friends. The couple will go to Oceanside, Calif., where Mr. Bryant is to be an instructor at the Marine base. He recently returned from Iwo Jima and had taken part in three major battles in the Pacific theater.

Miss Vida Lindsey and Cadet Wiley Jones were attendants to the couple.

ON CITIZENSHIP

A "Christian Citizenship" program to be directed by Mrs. W. M. Slagle will be given for St. John's Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

J. Conant To Be Honored At Supper

JULY social news is concerned with weddings and plans for weddings to be read within the next few days.

As a courtesy to Miss June Conant, bride-elect of Capt. F. L. Rae, USMC, Mrs. John T. Howell, jr., will entertain with a buffet supper Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in her home at 2217 Twenty-second.

The serving table will be centered with an arrangement of white shasta daisies in a bell-shaped turquoise vase on a silver reflector. Daisies and white tapers, tied with turquoise ribbon, will decorate the mantel.

Guests will be Mrs. E. T. Conant, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Eugene Conant, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, and Mesdames Ida Harkleroad, Felix O. Kelly, Carter Reynolds, Herschel Maxey, Henry Peterson, and Misses Helen Lerner, Merle Forrest and Sue Tyson.

Miss Conant taught in Manila for several years and was interned by the Japanese. She is a graduate of Los Angeles High school and Mills college in Oakland, Calif. Capt. Rae, who recently returned from overseas, attended Redlands university in California.

The wedding will take place July 14.

LaJuanah Ince To Wed Elton Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Ince, 1923 Twenty-ninth, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, La Juanah Ince, to Elton Ray Taylor, seaman 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor, 2425 Thirtieth. The wedding will take place today in Gulfport, Miss. Miss Ince and the bridegroom-elect's mother left Friday afternoon for the coastal city.

A crystal shower was given for the bride-elect Tuesday by Mrs. Dick V. Lindley, 1004 Avenue X and Mrs. H. C. O'Neal gave a miscellaneous shower.

Davis-Cox Wedding Is Solemnized In Tulia

Miss Jean Cox, daughter of Mrs. C. L. Cox of Tulia, and Lt. Donald M. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis of Nederland, Colo., were married last Saturday night at the First Presbyterian church with Rev. James A. Aiken, pastor of the Hereford First Presbyterian church, reading the double ring ceremony.

Miss Jane Evans of Levelland sang, accompanied by Miss Betty McMurtry.

Miss Nell Rose LaRoe was maid of honor, Lt. David C. Childers of Carlsbad Army Air field was best man and Misses Betsy Dudley and Marian McGlaun were bridesmaids.

The couple has gone to Carlsbad, where Lt. Davis is stationed as a pilot at the Army Air field. He is a former student at Texas A. and M. college. Mrs. Davis is a former student at Texas Technological college where she was a member of Las Vivarachas social club and Sock and Buskin dramatic society.

Miss Spence Is Bride Of Lt. O. J. Schmitt

Miss Betty Spence and Lt. O. J. Schmitt were married at 5:30 p. m. June 16 in the home of the officiating Baptist minister, Dr. C. E. Hereford. Baskets of gladioli and fern banked the fireplace where the couple stood for their vows.

The bride wore a light blue pebble crepe dress with white accessories and she carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and stephanotis. For something borrowed, the bride wore a necklace that had been sent from Northern Ireland by her sister's husband.

Mrs. Jerry L. Crosthwait served her sister as matron of honor and Lt. B. Smith was best man.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the Crosthwait home, 2613 Ave. L.

Mrs. Schmitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Spence of Floydada, has made her home in Lubbock for the past year. Lt. Schmitt is a pilot, stationed at Hobbs Army Air field, where the couple is at home.

Pre-Med Students On Honeymoon At Ranch

Following their recent marriage read in Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Batts, II, are spending a honeymoon at the San Agnacio ranch near Omega, N. M.

The bride, the former Jeanne Hines, completed her pre-med course at Texas Technological college this year. Mr. Batts, son of Mrs. Bonnie Batts and the late Dr. E. L. Batts of San Angelo, is to complete his pre-med course next semester. The couple attended the University of Texas last year.

Business Circle Will Have Picnic At Park

To begin a new church year, First Christian Business and Professional Women's circle will attend a picnic at Carlisle park Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. New officers in the circle are: Mrs. J. G. Wilhite, chairman; Mrs. B. M. Moore, secretary and Mrs. F. C. Rector, treasurer.

MID-SUMMER VISITORS—Col. and Mrs. Howell M. Estes, 2515 Twenty-fifth, have as their guests Mrs. Estes' mother, MRS. GUIDO S. VERBECK, pictured above standing by Mrs. Estes; her sister, MRS. CHARLES P. WOOD, and the latter's daughter, SALLY, in the lawn chair. The visitors are making their home in San Antonio for the duration. Col. Estes is commanding officer of Lubbock Army Air field.

Service Read At Residence

The wedding of Miss Bettye Jane Ewing and Lt. B. C. McMinn was read in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Ewing, at 2804 Twenty-fourth, Friday night. Rev. Doug Appleby of Wolfforth, a friend of the couple at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, read the single ring ceremony. Lt. McMinn is the son of Mrs. B. H. Shelton of Texarkana.

Pink and white gladioli were arranged in the living room.

The bride wore a white linen dress with British tan accessories and an orchid corsage.

After spending a week here, the couple will go to Corpus Christi where Lt. McMinn is to report.

The bride is a senior student at S.M.U. and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and Delta Psi Kappa honorary sorority. She attended Texas Technological college one semester. The bridegroom, who has just returned from Okinawa, attended S.M.U. before entering the service two years ago.

Guest Leads Devotion At Loyalty Club Meet

At a meeting of Loyalty club in the home of Mrs. W. J. Slover, 1307 Twenty-fourth, Friday afternoon, a devotional was given by Mrs. Elva Agnew, a guest. Mrs. I. E. Banks presided.

Other numbers on program included special music by Mesdames Slover and Agnew, a prayer by Mrs. Ed Greer and a song by the club.

The club will meet July 20 with Mrs. Roy Privitt at 615 Twenty-eighth.

Miss Freida Lemon Is To Marry T-Sgt. Poff

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Lemon of Wilson are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Frieda, to T/Sgt. Doyle T. Poff, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Poff of Wilson. The marriage will take place Sept. 2 in Pueblo, Colo. After a trip to points in Colorado, the couple will make their home in Great Bend, Kas., where T/Sgt. Poff is now stationed.

Miss Lemon is a 1943 graduate of Wilson high school and for the past two years had been employed as assistant cashier at the Wilson State bank.

T/Sgt. Poff is a former student at Texas Technological college and was in the National Guard for a short time before transferring to the Army Air corps. He returned last September from nine months' overseas duty in the Mediterranean theater.

VISITS CLASSMATE—MARY RUTHERFORD of Pampa, right, guest of LAJUANDA McLEOD, is being honored at a party series here. The girls were classmates at Hockaday School for Girls, Dallas, last year. The picture was taken in the yard of the O. W. McLeod home, 1901 Thirty-third.

Farmerette Club Has Election At Acuff

When the Farmerette club of Acuff met with Mrs. Roy Forkner recently, the following officers were elected:

Others present were Mesdames R. E. Gunn, C. H. Brown, J. G. Whorton, T. A. Baber, Hugh Scott, Charles Lutrick and Merle Roberts. Mrs. Cecil Trammell was a guest.

The society will meet July 18 at the chapel.

Lilah Mae Primm And Mr. McFarland Wed

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Primm are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Lilah Mae, to Clyde McFarland, son of Mrs. J. R. McFarland. The couple was married July 1 at 11:30 a. m. in Clovis, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Froust of Crosbyton accompanied the couple. Mrs. Froust is Mr. McFarland's sister.

The couple is at home at 1613 Ave. K.

Reception Is To Be Honor To Carters

PARTIES for visitors, new residents and picnics are in week end society.

Open house will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist church parlor to honor the church's new executive assistant and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service, with Mrs. L. L. Kelso in charge, will sponsor the entertainment. The church membership is invited to call.

Joan Nislar gave a luncheon Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nislar, 2319 Seventeenth, as a courtesy to Mary Rutherford of Pampa, who is the guest of LaJuanda McLeod. Her guests were Willa Marie Whyburn, Rena Simmonds, Xen Harris, Alice Howell and Elizabeth Howard.

For Methodist Class

Approximately 90 persons attended the wiener roast given Friday night at Mackenzie State park for the First Methodist 50-50 class members and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Glover were captains of the group in charge. They were assisted by Messrs. and Mesdames G. G. Aycock, C. H. Hamilton, Sam McMillan, J. E. Winder, R. B. Luker, Curtis Black, Carl Willingham and Wilbur Cooper.

Charles Poore of Sayre, Okla., played accordion numbers. Mr. McMillan gave a skit and singing was led by Messrs. McMillan, Black and Walter Clark.

First Lt. Douglas Hardy and Mrs. Hardy, the former Zelma Priddy, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hardy, 1911 Main. Lt. Hardy has returned from the European theater where he spent 14 months and completed 34 missions as a navigator on a reconnaissance plane. He wears the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf clusters and six campaign stars. The airman will spend a month's leave before reporting for reassignment.

Several families will leave today on vacations which will be spent in the home of relatives and at pleasure spots. Others have returned to their homes and have guests here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cathey are spending their summer vacation in Denver, Colo.

After working in Washington, D. C., for one and a half years, Miss Sara Jones will come to Lubbock this week-end for a six week visit with her mother, Mrs. E. Murray Jones, 1915 Sixteenth.

this year, are charging two years rent in advance. In a typical case a tenant paid $400,000 for 1945 and 1946 for two small rooms, a tiny kitchen and no bathroom.

The OPA chart shows, among other things, fish for $50 a pound and automobile tires for $10,000 in Manila, P. I., but that was before MacArthur returned. Price controls have been established there now to bring down the cost of living.

Maule Adams introduced Rostand to the American stage, and took the title role in "L'Aiglon" in 1901.

Howly:

Here's news for brides to be. I found Mary Ellis unpacking a new pattern of Franciscan china on my weekly round to the Decorator's Studio, 1302 Ave. N. It is called Shasta and is a peasant design in vivid colors of yellow, green, blue, and brick red on cream background. This has just arrived in a complete service with odd pieces. Also, a service of 12 in International silver in the Enchantress pattern is now available.

It looks as if the Studio has had a complete turn over. Fredda had clients in from out of town who were so elated to find a place so well stocked that they practically had everything shipped to that city just north of here.

Speaking of out of town customers, George Benson's sister and her husband were in from Detroit and were very complementary of the Studio. They said that they never missed a visit to the Studio each time they came to Lubbock. Also the same day were customers in from Big Spring, Dallas and Amarillo. It seems that people far and wide are hearing of our home town girls who can compete with any city place. Also, there is that personal interest taken, when the girls are decorating a house that makes you feel when it is complete that every little whim peculiar to your family mode of living has been taken care of. You get a better job if you let the girls plan with you from the floor on up. Yes, they are getting carpets right along as well as furniture, fabrics and lamps. I counted at least a dozen new lamps that I had not seen before. There are still some few of their lamps on sale that are worth your investigating.

Alma and Kays left Thursday afternoon for Amarillo. The straw boss is spending the week-end with Uncle John and Dady Pa or maybe I should say Captain Bob Spikes' dad. As for Alma's destination, it is hard to believe it was Amarillo as she left riding in a truck and slacks and blue jeans were setting the mode of dress. She tried to convince us that a freight boy dresses like that as she is delivering some merchandise too delicate to deliver by rail while she is there.

Josie Lee is back from her vacation in Louisana and Dallas feeling rested, so if you have a hard job to do, give it to Josie.

See you next week.

Carolyn Allen And T. E. Bandy Marry

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen of Manchester, Ga., are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Allen, to Thomas Edd Bandy, son of Thomas Bandy of Happy, which took place June 28 at the Little Chapel of Warm Springs foundation. Rev. J. W. Segars of Monroe, Ga., read the ceremony.

Organ music was presented by Miss Jean Carlisle of Manchester and Miss Elizabeth Middlebrooks of Dalton, Ga., sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in ivory duchess satin designed with a deep yoke of marquisette, edged with seed pearls. The gown had a basque bodice and a full beuffant skirt extending into a long train. Her veil of illusion was fastened to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis.

Miss Jane Cook of Manchester, who was maid of honor, wore a pale blue net gown with a tight bodice, off the shoulder neckline and a full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pastel flowers. Colleen Kelley, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress like that of the maid of honor.

Capt. R. L. Coleman and Lt. H. C. Jackson were ushers. Hoke B. Kelley of Atlanta, Ga., uncle of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Allen entertained with a reception in their home. Mrs. Allen wore a frock of rose crepe and a gardenia corsage.

After a wedding trip the couple will live in Happy.

State Auxiliary Will Choose 100 Girls For Therapy Scholarships

The American Legion auxiliary has the privilege of selecting one hundred young women who will participate in the scholarships offered by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Qualifications are:

Graduate of an approved school of physical education; or graduate of an approved school of nursing; or completion of at least two years of college work, which includes satisfactory courses in biology and other sciences.

For those who can qualify, scholarships will be made available in sufficient amount to meet tuition in an approved school, necessary travel and reasonable allowance for driving expenses.

Mrs. Howard Hudgins, Texas department president; Mrs. Paul W. Bowman, child welfare chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Breaux, rehabilitation chairman, will determine who will receive the scholarships. Interested Lubbock women may get in touch with Mrs. J. H. Fariss.

The need for physical therapists has become acute with the problem of rehabilitation of returned servicemen and of the children who need the same care through paralysis, which strikes down so many each year.

TO HONOR NURSES

The radio show, "Report to the Nation," over CBS tonight at 5:30 o'clock, will be a tribute to the thousands of nurses all over the world. Monday night between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, the "Vox Pop" program will be devoted entirely to "The Army Nurse in War."

There is an accidental death in the United States every five and a half minutes, and an injury every three seconds.

Bank Deposits Of $48,536,024.83 Set New All-Time High For City

In spite of the drouth and nearly $5,000,000 in bond purchases during the Seventh War Loan drive, Lubbock banks had an all-time high in deposits at the close of business on June 30, statements of financial conditions revealed Saturday.

Deposits totaled $48,536,024.83 compared to $48,319,579.97 at the start of this year. Deposits on June 30, 1944, totaled only $36,782,228.20, slightly less than two-thirds of the present total.

Savings Are Increased

In addition to the deposits in the three banks, First Federal Savings and Loan association had a total of $1,841,593.54 in savings and investment accounts, making a grand total of $50,377,618.27 in savings and deposits in the city's four financial institutions.

Loans and discounts at the three banks totaled $7,128,462.29, an increase of slightly more than three million dollars over the Dec. 31 figure of $4,412,357.84 and three and one-quarter million over the June 30, 1944, total of $3,955,723.75.

The four institutions hold a total of $15,546,819.38 in U. S. government bonds including war bonds.

TRY THIS AMAZING BARCEL RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears —how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barcel home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results.

LOSE UGLY FAT WITH BARCEL

Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barcel way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barcel doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded.

At The USO

The letters written by the Aerodonnas club to two lonely sailors on a minesweeper have been answered by Larry L. Laws, PM. Larry, who requested some pen pals, said the letters were a welcome diversion. He also stated that a few days before the ship's crew had had a shore leave, the first in months. The sailor discussed several interesting parts of the Pacific and described a native Hawaiian feast which he attended some time ago. . . . Former SPAAF soldiers who are stationed at Big Spring and who visited the USO recently are Jim Polly, Charles Sims and Franklin Dibble. . . . M/Sgt. Manual Diaz from Buffalo, N. Y., will soon be discharged on the point system. He may return to Lubbock as a civilian.

Dorothy Pool, former member of the Serviceaires group, received a real welcome when she returned to the USO this week. She has been missed from her favorite place back of the snack bar. . . . Another volunteer who will be missed will be Mrs. George Hull, whose Seabee husband is back in the states after three years. Mrs. Hull has gone to Albuquerque to meet him. After a vacation, they will return to Lubbock.

Because of his interest in helicopters, Pvt. Carl Bannerian, a recent visitor, hopes to attend a helicopter school. He helped build the first helicopter turned out by the Nash Kelvinator company. His home is in Detroit, Mich. . . . Reagan Howell has been a USO visitor while home on furlough. Wherever he goes his talk soon turns to airplanes — he formerly worked for Lockheed Aircraft in Los Angeles. He worked in the research laboratory during the time the company produced its record breaking plane, "The Constellation."

Cpl. Harold W. Morris, USMC, who dropped in the USO the other day has served with the Marines for four years—two years at sea and two years in California. He says he is as much at home in Hollywood as he used to be in Lamesa, his home town. Rumor has it that he knows some of the movie stars pretty well. . . . Returned Lubbock boys who are stationed at SPAAF include T/Sgt. Marvin L. Dickson who made 35 missions as a gunner with the Eighth Air force from England—he was much surprised to find his own ship at SPAAF; T/Sgt. Woodrow G. Dulin, a radio operator gunner with the Eighth Air force; S/Sgt. Eddie Goodgion who has made 30 missions; and T/Sgt. Marcus E. Eastwood, who made missions from England as a gunner.

The First Presbyterian church is furnishing cookies for the USO cookie jar for the month of July. Because of the sugar shortage, Mrs. Charles H. Read, chairman of the project, is having a rather difficult time getting enough cookies. . . . Members of Junior Culture club from Post were in charge of the snack bar S turday night. Pappy Birnbaum and his orchestra played for the formal dance. . . . This afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock the regular Sunday afternoon USO party will be held.

Individual's Position Depends Largely On Sex And Age

Fraternizing Between GIs, German Girls Opposed By Women, Gallup Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—How a person feels about the question of letting American soldiers in Germany fraternize with German girls depends largely on that person's sex and age.

Men under 30 interviewed in a survey were more likely than not to feel that it is all right for GI Joes in Germany to make dates with German girls. But women of all ages were dead set against the idea.

GALLUP

Rarely has the Institute in its 10 years of surveying public sentiment ever found such a sharp split of opinion between the sexes as on this issue of fraternization with the girls of defeated Germany.

GIs in the occupation forces have been complaining bitterly about the present army ban, which sets a fine of $65 on any soldier making friends with the Germans. But in their efforts to get the ban lifted the GI's will apparently have to contend not only with top Army officials who originated the rule, but with the women-folk back home who thoroughly approve of the ban on fraternization.

The explanation is probably that American girls don't like the idea of having a boy friend "fall" for a girl in a foreign land, and older women fear that their sons might "get into trouble" if they date German girls.

The issue of fraternization has stirred up a great deal of interest and discussion throughout the country. Interviewers who worked on the survey report that the question aroused more interest among men and women interviewed than any one of a dozen other public issues on which opinion was polled at the same time.

"Do you think American soldiers in Germany should be allowed to have dates with German girls?"

Vote of Women

Vote of women	Yes	No	Undec.
under 30	22%	70%	8%
30-49	25	66	9
50 and over	19	67	14
All women	22	67	11

Vote of Men

Vote of men	Yes	No	Undec.
under 30	45%	40%	15%
30-49	43	45	12
50 and over	37	53	10
All men	41	48	11

The over-all vote for the country as a whole is 30 per cent in favor, 59 per cent opposed, and 11 per cent undecided.

Families with a member in the armed forces in Germany are more opposed to fraternization than those with no member of the family in the occupying forces.

One hundred and fourteen Liberty ships have been named after women.

Rare Sight In Prospect On South Plains

Total Eclipse Of Sun To Be Visible In U. S. On Monday

By RANDALL ABERNETHY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

The earth, the moon and the sun will combine at sunrise Monday to put on a rare and spectacular show—a total eclipse of the sun.

It won't look total to U. S. observers unless they are in the narrow region covered by the path of totality, starting, roughly, at a potato hill near Boise, Idaho, and passing across a buffalo wallow close to Butte, Mont. But even so it should be quite a sight to inhabitants of the South Plains, where at maximum eclipse 70 per cent of the sun will be obscured by the moon. It will last in all phases from sunrise to 7:48 o'clock.

"A major scientific event of unusual interest," says Albert W. Recht, director of Chamberlain observatory at the University of Denver.

First Since 1932

It will be the first total eclipse of the sun visible in this country since 1932, a year, you remember, when several other things seemed to be in eclipse. The next will be in 1954.

It comes about as the earth and moon move into a direct line with the sun. A total eclipse can properly be called a local phenomenon—an eclipse that may be total in Mozambique may only be partial in Texas, and to an even less degree, or perhaps invisible all together, in Blagoveschensk.

Do not attempt to view the wonder with unprotected eyes, advised Dr. Ralph S. Underwood, Texas Tech professor and planet pundit. "The sun is far too dazzling, even at 99 per cent of eclipse, to be observed with the naked eye," he said. A smoked glass or dark film should be used. A piece of glass smoked with a candle is good but expect the black to get on your face and fingers.

Eclipse Total in Narrow Strip

The eclipse will be total for a strip 30 miles wide through Idaho and Montana. There the face of the sur will be completely covered for about a half minute shortly after sunrise, according to Recht. It can be witnessed in all stages in all sections of the country except southern California.

"For the extreme western part of the country, the sun will rise partially eclipsed with the moon already uncovering the sun," the Denver astronomer said. In San Francisco, at maximum eclipse, only 16 per cent of the sun will be covered, but 84 per cent will be covered in Denver, 74 per cent in Chicago, 57 per cent in New York and 49 per cent in New Orleans.

Several thousand miles long, the moon's total shadow will race eastward through Canada, Greenland, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia at an average speed of a mile a second.

Scientists, packing telescopic camera apparatus and super-instruments, have gathered in Sweden, Finland and Russia to observe and collect new data on the phenomenon. In these countries observation is unhampered by low-lying atmospheric disturbances.

The maximum of totality will be 76 seconds in Greenland.

They have been recorded from the earliest times, their calculation being a very precise matter. For example, astronomers have determined that an eclipse took place at Ur at 11 a. m., March 15, 2283 B. C.

An eclipse of the moon is due Dec. 18, and will be seen in North and South America. Three eclipses already have occurred: Jan. 14, sun (invisible); June 25-26, moon (invisible); May 8, (Hitler (invisible).

Doctors concerned with the correction of faulty speech have reported an increse of patients. They attribute this increase mainly to war nerves aggravating normal conditions and not to any real physical oral disability.

Vinson Outlines Tax Principles

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 7, — Personal income tax payers — including the little fellows—can expect little from Fred. M. Vinson who has been chosen to become secretary of freasury next month.

Vinson believes excess profits taxes on business should be repealed immediately after Japan is whipped." He would write postwar tax bills to encourage capital to take job-making risks. But he believes the personal income tax base should be broad—that is, the exemptions should be low.

Congress Writes Tax Laws

The White House announced yesterday that President Truman would nominate Vinson for the treasury job on returning from the big three conference near Berlin. Vinson will succeed Henry Morgenthau, jr., whose resignation has been accepted as of next month.

Vinson's ideas on postwar taxes and spending were revealed a week ago in his report as war mobilization director to the President and to Congress.

Vinson Endorses Bill

"It is reasonable to expect," he said, "that the government will be spending, on the average, about $25,000,000,000 a year, about three times the prewar budget."

Vinson endorsed the pending full employment bill. It is a plan to make estimates of business and employment conditions under circumstances which would permit the government to expand or contract its own spending to keep everyone employed. The bill has been mightily applauded and equally condemned. Its opponents contend that the margin of error in such proposed estimates would be disastrously great and costly.

Tax Plans Stated

The treasury secretary - designate will be as firm an opponent of sales and excise taxes as was Morgenthau who took his tax philosophy directly from the late President Roosevelt. Vinson's general tax principles were stated in his report, as follows:

"1. Taxes should be levied in such a way that they have the least harmful effect on the maintenance of mass markets and mass purchasing power.

"3. Tax policy should be integrated with a fiscal policy designed to prevent inflation and deflation."

Price, both of Lubbock, enjoy a refreshing drink while they talk over their school days in Lubbock on the lawn of the officer's club in Calcutta, India. They both graduated from Lubbock High school in 1933 and later attended Texas Tech together. Both are now in Army Air force headquarters, India-Burma theater. Maj. Blue, whose wife, the former Ruby Ellison, lives at 3509 Twenty-first, has been in the Air Forces six years and overseas 15 months. His mother, Mrs. M. D. Blue, lives at 2103 Twenty-second. Lt. Price has had a little over three years service with the Air forces and has been overseas two years. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Price, live at 2119 Main, and his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Price, lives in Fort Worth.

SENTENCE COMMUTED

AUSTIN, July 7. (U.P.)—Louis Albert Klander, 24, convicted of raping a 12-year-old girl at Houston, was saved from the electric chair today when Gov. Coke R. Stevenson commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment.

The greatest wave of German immigration to America occurred in the 18th century with the first permanent settlement by Germans at Germantown.

Stevens Is To 'Stick By' Wife

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 7 (AP) — Twenty months to the day after he and Imogene Dumas Funderburg were married at Alliance, Neb., paratroop Major G. Ralsey Stevens, 3d, promised to "stick by" his wife as she prepared to face superior court charges of manslaughter in the slaying of a young sailor on June 23 at New Canaan.

The major and his wife were reunited last night at the Fairfield county jail where she is being held in lieu of $50,000 bonds for the slaying of Albert Kovacs, 19, of south Norwalk.

"I intend to stick by my wife," said the blonde, boyish-looking Stevens at a short interview in the office of high sheriff Edward A. Platt at the jail. As he spoke, he held his wife in tight embrace.

Reluctant At First

Mrs. Stevens faced reporters and photographers with apparent reluctance. Her back was turned when the interview started but she soon turned and faced the gathering, her husband's arms around her. Soon she was chatting and smiling with him.

"It was 20 months ago today that we were married, wasn't it?" she asked her husband.

Stevens, who arrived at the jail unaccompanied, refused to comment on the case or on plans for raising the necessary money to accomplish his wife's release from the jail.

"I have no statement on that," he said in response to questions fired at him by newsmen.

Bound Over To Court

Mrs. Stevens was bound over to the next criminal term of the Fairfield county superior court one week ago today after being held criminally responsible by Coroner Theodore A. Steiber for the death of Kovacs, a veteran of submarine warfare in the Pacific, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton, her next-door neighbors.

Stevens returned to this country from his European base on Thursday in response to a "come home at once" cable sent by Mrs. Stevens shortly after charges were lodged against her.

DAUGHTER RETURNS TO AMARILLO WITH FATHER

AMARILLO, July 7 (AP)—Paula Kathaleen Funderburg, young daughter of Imogene Stevens and Sgt. Carl Funderburg, returned to Amarillo Friday with her father and his wife.

The girl was brought back to Texas Tuesday from Connecticut, where Mrs. Stevens is being held in jail in default of a $50,000 bond on a charge of manslaughter, by Mrs. Stevens' father, J. O. Dumas.

Funderburg, who was granted custody of the child when he divorced Mrs. Stevens, said he went to Pampa to get his daughter after Dumas telephoned him.

Accidents, the fifth most frequent cause of deaths in the United States, cost an average of $141 per family per year.

Grain Shipments To Europe Are Resumed

HOUSTON, July 7 (AP) — A boom in grain shipments from port Houston to Europe, after a lapse of five years, was reported today by the Houston merchants exchange.

A record total of 5,129,856 bushels of bulk grains exclusive of an undetermined amount of sacked grain, was shipped between March 24 and June 30, according to a report issued by Roy T. James, managing secretary of the exchange.

Grain sorghums led in amount of the bulk shipments with a total of 2,292,578.32 bushels, with wheat taking a close second place with 2,626,400 bushels. Included in the overall figures were 130,666.40 bushels of soybeans and 80,252.44 of barley.

Six capacity shipments of 317,333 bushels each were sent to Europe on Liberty ships. The entire exports were handled on 21 ships.

This was the first shipment of grain handled in export trade from Houston since July, 1940, when the American Press sailed with 1,000 bushels of wheat for the Dominican Republic.

News From The Men Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

ABOARD THE USS McNAIR IN THE PACIFIC. — James W. Baker, seaman, second class of Brownfield, Tex., is serving aboard this hardy destroyer which has taken a crack at the Japs in every kind of Naval warfare during her first year of Pacific operations. The McNair specializes in blasting enemy shore emplacements to bits, but she is equally capable on convoy runs, hunting Jap submarines, rescuing downed American fliers, shooting down Jap planes, exploding mines and carrying mail. In performing all these jobs, she has steamed a distance equal to three times around the world. At Saipan the McNair dropped anchor close off shore to exchange point-blank firing with Jap batteries. Machine gun slugs peppered her hull but the destroyer's marksmen wiped out the opposition before an accurate enemy salvo could be fired.

David West, radioman, third class, US Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady West of 2518 Twenty-fourth, recently spent a 14-day leave here in the home of his parents. He was just back from nine months sea duty aboard the patrol frigate, USS Covington, in the Atlantic. The frigate ran air-sea rescue, weather patrol, and anti-sub warfare until the subs gave out. Its score was two submarines and two more possibles. During the nine months, the Covington touched Newfoundland, Iceland, Casablanca, England, Azores, Martinique and Trinidad. West wears ribbons designating the American theater of operations, sharpshooter medal, Navy and Marine corps ribbon for saving the lives of two girls who fell off a pier in New Orleans, and the Navy Commendation medal for the intensive duty of the ship and crew in anti-submarine warfare. Before going into the Coast Guard, West was graduated from Lubbock High school and worked at Montgomery Ward company here for a year. He took his boot training at St. Augustine, Fla., after which he attended a pharmacist mate school at Columbia university, N. Y., a few weeks until the school was closed. He then was transferred into radio school at Atlantic City, N. J.

Pvt. J. R. Sloan, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sloan, sr., of Wilson, has notified his wife and parents that he is now "somewhere in the Philippines." He was inducted into the Army in October, 1944, and received his basic training and three months of schooling as a signal corps mechanic at Camp Crowder, Mo., before being sent overseas. His wife is residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carter at Blair, Okla. Before going into the service, Pvt. Sloan was a farmer at Wilson.

SLOAN

AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND BASE, India—2nd Lt. Henry H. Kight, pilot, of 2009 Eighteenth, Lubbock, Tex., has been awarded an Oak Leaf cluster to his Air Medal, it was announced by his commanding general. The award was made upon completion of 450 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes. The air trail over the Hump, famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya mountains, blazed by the ATC, is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest. The award was made for the period of service from Oct. 7, 1944 to Feb. 28, 1945.

Pfc. King A. Barrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barrier of 2502 Twentieth, is now in Crimmitschau, Germany, awaiting redeployment to the Pacific theater of operations, he has written his parents. He has been overseas since Dec. 7, 1944. After going into the Army in October of 1943 and training at Fort Bend, Ore., he took a radio course at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. While in combat in Europe, he was with the 301st Engineers with the 76th Division of the Third army, but has been transferred to another army. Pfc. Barrier writes that after the surrender of the German forces his division was sent to a summer camp on the border of Czechoslovakia where they played ball, roller skated, skied, swam, and in general, had a wonderful time at one of Europe's swankiest resorts. He is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas Tech for one year before going into the Army.

BARRIER

Cpl. Ernst R. Wallace of 2516 Elm was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant at Esler field, Alexandria, La., where he is a member of the 409th Fighter squadron, a unit of the 372nd Fighter group.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, ITALY—Pfc. David S. Enger, 1303 Twenty-seventh, Lubbock, Tex., has been cited by the 351st "Spearhead" regiment of the Fifth army's 88th "Blue Devil" division and awarded the Combat Infantryman badge for actual participation in combat against the enemy in Italy. Standards for the badge are high, and the decoration is awarded to the infantry soldier who has proved his fighting ability in combat.

ENGER

WINS DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS—Capt. John W. Hall of Lubbock, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action during the Battle of the Bulge, receives heartiest congratulations from Maj. Gen. John W. Leonard, commanding general of the Ninth Armored division. A company commander with the 60th Armored Infantry battalion, he performed extraordinary heroism against the Germans Dec. 18 in Luxembourg. Capt. Hall singlehandedly assaulted a rocket position and killed the gunner after being knocked from atop his tank by the concussion of the rocket. Then he directed assault gun fire which destroyed one of two Nazi machine guns, and led a charge upon the other, eliminating the entire gun crew. His heroism cleared an area for passage of a large armored force. Capt. Hall is a son of A. M. Hall and a brother of M. I. Hall and Lucille Hall, 1419 Seventeenth.

WITH THE 26TH MEDICAL SUPPLY, Italy—Cpl. Paul C. Alderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alderson of Shallowater, Tex., is a member of the 26th Medical Supply platoon of the Adriatic base command which supplies the famed 15th Air force in Italy. Cpl. Alderson is in charge of shipping and receiving in his unit. The platoon, which went from Georgia via Australia, India and the Suez to Egypt, functioned there until February, 1944, when it moved to Italy. At Bari, Italy, the platoon set up and operated a Medical depot later designated as the Adriatic base command, through which flowed all the vital medicinal supplies, surgical instruments and equipment for the entire 15th Air force and the many hospitals in the surrounding area. On many occasions, special medical kits were prepared and dropped by parachutes to isolated units or to fliers who had been forced down in enemy territory. Frequently members of the unit would be routed from their beds in the middle of the night to prepare a shipment of pencillin, plasma or other refrigerated cargo for air transport to the front lines. In addition, the platoon also furnished supplies for the Yugoslav National Army of Liberation and assisted in supplying the medical needs for the assault of the Free French forces on the beaches of Southern France.

ALDERSON

FORT SUMNER ARMY AIR FIELD, N. M.—2nd Lt. Rector C. Dacus, son of Mrs. Allean Dacus of 1411 Eighteenth, Lubbock, is completing his training at Fort Sumner, as a fighter pilot and will soon head into combat. During his training here, he has flown both night and day in all types of weather conditions and over all different terrains that might be encountered in foreign theaters. Practicing of tactics and studying of the latest methods of combat and gunnery was done under supervision of officers and men who have recently returned to the United States after many combat missions over enemy territory.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — Maj. Jack R. Brown, 26, of Lubbock, was recently promoted to his present rank from captain. He is now flying the Army Air forces newest type of aircraft, the jet-propelled P-59 Airacomet and is operations officer of the 445th Fighter squadron, 412 Fighter group, based at Bakersfield. Maj. Brown has been in the Army Air forces nearly four years, having entered as an aviation cadet Sept. 27, 1941. He flew as a fighter pilot and flight leader in the Mediterranean and European theaters and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal. He attended Texas Tech and later was employed as a salesman before entering the service.

J. BROWN

ADVANCE SUBMARINE BASE, Pacific. — Victor L. Ives, 24, chief pharmacist's mate, USN, has been awarded the Navy Bronze medal for his devotion to duty while carrying out successful patrols against the enemy. He is the son of Mrs. W. E. Ives of 302 Ave. Q, and is a former Linden High school athlete.

Gilbert C. Ward, jr., aviation radioman, first class, USNR, returned home recently on leave after a six-months tour of anti-submarine duty aboard one of the Navy's hard-hitting support carriers in the Pacific. Attached to Composite Squadron 42, Ward served as radioman - gunner of an Avenger torpedo plane. He and his squadron mates carried out long day and night searches, in all kinds of weather, on the look-out for enemy U-boats and other threats to our surface forces. The 22-year-old bluejacket is the son of Mrs. Gilbert C. Ward, sr., who resides at 3210 Ave. J.

WARD

TALTON PAUL

Mrs. Olive Bush of 1621 Twenty-second has three sons in the armed forces. They are Pfc. Talton Bush, 24, who is now on Okinawa, T/Sgt. Norman Bush, 22, who is now in a hospital in Utah recuperating from wounds received in Germany March 17 and Seaman 2/c Paul Bush, 26, who recently was home on a five-day leave following completion of boot training. Talton has been overseas six months and in the service about eight months. He was graduated from Lubbock High school and worked in the navy yards in Seattle, Wash., prior to entering service. Norman was in the European theater in an anti-aircraft outfit for almost two years. He returned to the States June 9. Paul, who is now in San Diego, was graduated from high school here and owned an electric shop before going into service. His wife, Mae Bush, and their year and half old daughter live at 3109 Ave. N.

NORMAN

Among recent graduates at Aloe Army Air field, Victoria, Tex., was 2nd Lt. Leonard Glenn Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Anderson of Abernathy. While at Aloe field, he spent scores of hours in learning formation, instrument, high altitude and night flying in the AT-6 Texan. Graduates who are destined for AAF fighter groups will return to the field for transition training in the P-40 Warhawk and a comprehensive course in fixed aerial gunnery.

Pvt. Thomas E. McGuffey, son of Mrs. Bob Dillon of 417 Ave. G; Pvt. Thomas M. Pharr, husband of Mrs. Lydia Frances Pharr of Route 2, Lubbock; Pvt. Carl R. Caperton, husband of Mrs. Carl Caperton, 408 Ave. S; Pvt. Sam Davidson, whose wife, Angie Delma Davidson, lives at Soper, Okla.; and Pvt. Virgil P. Carter, husband of Mrs. Velma Carter of Tahoka, are all at the Infantry Replacement Training center at Camp Maxey, Tex., where they will graduate as rifle or heavy weapons experts. They will be taught combat tactics by soldier instructors who have returned from fighting overseas.

Pvt. Edward P. Barbee, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Barbee of 2015 Ave. M, formerly of Ropesville, is now serving in the Philippines. He went overseas in November, 1943, where he served with the service company of the 186th Infantry as truck driver. He won the Combat Infantryman badge and citation for meritorious conduct during the New Guinea, Biak campaign. Before being sent to the Philippines last January, he was transferred into the mail service as clerk, but is now back to his truck-driving. Pvt. Barbee is a graduate of Ropesville High school and was working in a shipyard at San Diego before going into the Army in April, 1943.

First Lt. Harold E. Gillespie, former Texas Tech student, recently arrived at the Mountain Home, Ida., Army Air field for duty assignment. He is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Gillespie of El Paso.

FORT LEWIS, Wash. — Capt. Johnathan D. Morgan, 2104 Seventh, Lubbock, Tex., arrived recently at the Army Service forces training center here for duty.

15TH AAF IN ITALY. Pfc. John Clements, son of Mrs. Corena Clements of 1916 Twenty-second, Lubbock, Tex., has been promoted to corporal. Formerly employed by the Lubbock Printing company, the 20-year-old airplane mechanic with a 15th Airforce Flying Fortress group enlisted in the Army July 14, 1942 and was graduated from the airplane mechanic school at Sheppard Field, Texas, and the electrical specialist school at Chanute Field, Ill. For the past 11 months, Cpl. Clements has been serving overseas with the 97th Bomb group which has been awarded the Distinguished Unit citation with Oak Leaf cluster. The corporal has been awarded the Good Conduct medal and has earned the European-African-Middle East theater ribbon with five battle participation stars.

S/Sgt. James Bearden, husband of Mrs. Leila Faye Bearden of 2309 Fourteenth, was graduated recently from the Army Air forces Central Instructors school at Laredo AAF and is now fully qualified to become an instructor at one of the nation's seven aerial gunnery schools. He was prepared for his instructing duties by completing a comprehensive six weeks course in the most modern methods of instruction on aerial gunnery.

Pfc. James L. Blagg of 1314 Ave. F, has arrived at Brooke Convalescent hospital, Fort Sam Houston, from Harmon General hospital. After processing in the receiving company of the hospital, patients are assigned to various companies depending upon their injuries, and company medical officers supervise their return to full health. Pfc. Blagg is the son of Mrs. Mattie Blagg of the Ave. F address. He recently visited here.

AN AIR BASE IN BURMA — After 20 months in the India Burma theater of operations, Sgt. Richard N. Leslie, son of Mrs. Nannie B. Leslie of 1420 Eighth, Lubbock, Tex., is being returned to the United States under the War department's readjustment of military personnel plan. Sgt. Leslie was a member of an air service group, one of the many India Burma Air Service command units, backing up the tactical air forces in this neck of the war.

SELMAN FIELD, Monroe, La. —C. M. Elmore, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Elmore of route 1, Lubbock, Tex., recently received his commission as a second lieutenant and his aerial navigators wings in the latest graduating class.

Capt. George G. Seagler, whose wife, Mrs. Nola Seagler, lives at 1012 Ave. R, is at present commanding officer of an ordnance automotive maintenance company in the Central Pacific area. Entering the service with the first group of selective service personnel to leave Lubbock county in November, 1940, Capt. Seagler received basic training at Fort Bliss and later served that post as personnel sergeant - major. He received his commission in the ordnance department Jan. 1, 1943, from the ordnance officers training school at Aberdeen, Md., and was assigned to a heavy tank maintenance company as executive officer. He served in that capacity with the same organization, going overseas with them in January, 1944, until approximately six months ago. Recently, the organization which he commands was awarded a unit citation for meritorious service by the commanding general of the Central Pacific Base command. Capt. Seagler's mother, Mrs. C. C. Seagler, lives at Enochs.

SEAGLER

ABOARD THE USS GANSEVOORT, WESTERN PACIFIC — Robert A. Kinslow, 23, torpedoman's mate, third class, USN, son of D. E. Kinslow of Route 2, Lubbock, Tex., has been helping blast Japanese planes out of the skies, rescue downed American airmen and bombard Jap-held islands since coming aboard this destroyer. The ship is presently engaged in patrol duty in the western Pacific. After her commission in November, 1942, Gansevoort escorted transport vessels operating off Guadalcanal, then shifted to the North Pacific for bombardment on Attu and Kiska when the Japs were still in that area. Later in the Tarawa theater, her guns aided in knocking down Jap planes and in bombarding enemy shore installations. She then did rescue work near Truk, and was on duty near the Jap garrisons on Mille, Wotje and Jaluit atolls last year. The Gansevoort was at Leyte Gulf and during late December in 1944, her guns knocked five Jap planes from the skies and aided in sending more than a dozen others into the water. After repairs of minor battle damage suffered during that period, she returned to action and today continues to prowl the waters of the Western Pacific.

KINSLOW

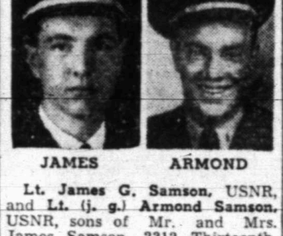

Melton J. Gideon, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Gideon of Route 2, Lubbock, has been given an honorable discharge from the U. S. Army, with which he held the rank of sergeant and was section chief of Battery A, 531 Field Artillery. Gideon served in the South Pacific for 34 months after sailing with his unit in June, 1942. He holds the Philippine Liberation medal, Good Conduct medal and the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three battle participation stars.

They are aboard a Coast-Guard manned troop transport in the Atlantic and are members of a troop carrier group which will fly combat veterans home from Europe. (Official Coast Guard photo).

JAMES ARMOND

Lt. James G. Samson, USNR, and Lt. (j. g.) Armond Samson, USNR, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Samson, 2312 Thirteenth, are both back in the States after overseas duty. Armond, who has been on duty in the Pacific with the Naval Air Transport, stationed in Honolulu, will report to Plane Commander school in Olathe, Kas., July 15 after a leave at home. He has been carrying supplies, mail and personnel from the Hawaiian islands to the Marshalls, Solomons, Marianas and Philippines while overseas. He was a mechanical engineering student at Texas Tech before entering the Navy and after receiving his training at Corpus Christi Naval Training station, was an instructor in primary flight training at Norman, Okla., for 16 months. James will have a 20-day leave before reporting to Norfolk, Va., for special training. He has been radar officer on a destroyer in the Atlantic and Caribbean areas for the past 19 months, and received his promotion to lieutenant in May. Before going into the Navy, he was graduated from Texas Tech with a degree in electrical engineering and was engineer for the Southwestern Public Service company in Plainview before taking a position as civilian engineer with the Army Signal corps in Washington, D. C.

CHALGROVE, OXFORDSHIRE, England. — Importance of work done by the Seventh Photographic Reconnaissance group of the Eighth Air force, of which M/Sgt. Roy H. Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Chapman of Ralls, is a photo laboratory chief, is revealed in heretofore unpublished records of the group. Since March 28, 1943 when Col. James Hall of Fort Worth, then commanding the group, flew over Paris on the first American photo mission over German occupied Europe, the group's pilots, flying Spitfires and Lightnings, have made approximately 1,000,000 reconnaissance photographs covering nearly 3,000,000 square miles of enemy territory in Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia. The job required more than 360 miles of film nine inches in width. Photographing the enemy's vital war factories to provide information on which heavy bomber operations were based, and again after attack to provide a record of the results the Seventh Photo group was the mighty Eighth AAF's principal source of intelligence. The group has flown 5,693 operational sorties, involving 17,570 operational hours. Sgt. Chapman, who entered the Army May 19, 1941, has been in the European theater of operations since November, 1943.

CHAPMAN

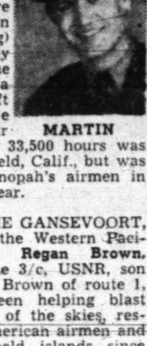

S/Sgt. Orlie J. Baker, grandson of Mrs. R. T. Jones of 1649 Eighth, has returned from three and a half years overseas service as gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber with the Fifteenth Air force in Italy. He spent several days with his grandmother, with whom he has made his home. While in Italy he flew 20 missions and was awarded the Air Medal with Oak Leaf cluster. He was slightly injured when he had to bail out of his plane on a combat mission and landed in a tree. Following his 30-day leave, he will report to El Paso for reassignment.

BAKER

TENTH AIR FORCE HQS., India-Burma — T/Sgt. Sanford L. Jinkins, 29, son of E. J. Jinkins of Levelland, who has completed more than 250 hours of combat flight over enemy territory in Burma, has been awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal. Sgt. Jinkins, radio operator on a B-24 with the Seventh Bomb group of the Tenth AAF, has served eight months in this theater, having entered the service 41 months ago. He attended Levelland High school.

TONAPAH, Nev.—Capt. Jack T. Martin of Lubbock is assigned to the supply and maintenance department at Tonopah Army Air field, only 4th Air force B-24 combat crew training station in Nevada. More than 55,000 flying hours (more than 10 million miles of flying) were recently completed at the field without a fatal aircraft accident. The former 4th Air force record of 33,500 hours was set at March Field, Calif., but was eclipsed by Tonopah's airmen in April of this year.

MARTIN

ABOARD THE GANSEVOORT, Somewhere in the Western Pacific — William Regan Brown, machinist's mate 3/c, USNR, son of Floyd Alvin Brown of route 1, Wilson, has been helping blast Jap planes out of the skies, rescue downed American airmen and bombard Jap-held islands since coming aboard this destroyer. The ship is presently engaged in patrol duty in the western Pacific.

1st. Lt. Claude B. Boren, son of Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Boren, 1922 Twenty-fourth, is now stationed at Susice, Czechoslovakia, with the Third Army. He was with the First U. S. Army from D-day in Normandy across France, Belgium, Germany and into Czechoslovakia. He was at Pilsen on V-E day, where his brigade passed from the First to the Third Army. Lt. Boren wears the Bronze Star Medal, the American Defense, and European Theater of Operations ribbons, with five bronze battle stars. A graduate of Lubbock High school, he had attended Texas Tech two years before going into service when the National Guard was mobilized back on Nov. 25, 1940. He received his commission as a second lieutenant at Fort Sill in October, 1942.

BOREN

HEADQUARTERS, 10TH AIR FORCE, INDIA-BURMA—Award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to 2nd Lt. Joseph J. Bonner, whose wife resides at 1710 Eighteenth, Lubbock, Tex., has been announced by the commanding general of the 10th Air force. A pilot for a troop carrier squadron, operating in the India - Burma theater against the Japs, Lt. Bonner also holds the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf cluster. He has to his credit 75 combat missions. Lt. Bonner has been in the armed forces three years and has served for the past seven months in this theater of operations.

BONNER

DEMING ARMY AIR FIELD, N. M.—Cpl. Hershell H. Ford, son of Mrs. Fannie Ford of Route 3, stationed at this field, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

WITH THE SECOND ENGINEER SPECIAL BRIGADE, SOUTHERN LUZON.—After 27 months of active service overseas, Cpl. Doyle H. Howell is on his way home for a 45-day furlough. His wife and young son live at 931 Thirty-second, Lubbock, Tex. A machine gunner in a shore company of the crack Second Engineer Special brigade, Howell has seen much of the world since he joined the Army in July 1942. His campaign stars earned since coming into the combat zone from Australia in October, 1943, include those of New Guinea, the Bismarck Archipelago, the Southern Philippines, and Luzon. Of all his experience he remembers most vividly an incident at Leyte when a bomb from a low flying Zero exploded on the trailer under which he had taken refuge; he emerged shaken up and rather pale but otherwise unharmed.

Big Three Unity Is Parley Goal

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The forthcoming meeting of the Big Three—America, Russia and Britain — in Berlin is likely to be the most crucial of the series, of which it is the third.

To put it another way, it's the most difficult diplomatic hurdle we have taken. If we clear it (or let's be optimistic and say "when" we clear it) we shall have a much more open run ahead of us. In short it may well be decisive in determining the future relations of this powerful trio which is playing Atlas to a world in search of lasting peace.

Previous meetings of the big three—at Teheran and Yalta—have an unbreakable bond to hold the mtogether. That was the war against Hitler the Hun. Good horse-sense kept the political differences—which were numerous and at times difficult—within the bounds demanded by an air-tight military alliance.

Vital Questions Remain

But vital questions of post-war adjustment remained to be settled. We may assume, I believe, that at least some of these will come up at the Berlin meeting. Upon their solution, of course, depends the continued unity of the big three, and upon that unity in turn depends the future of peace. President Truman has put it this way:

"The all-important thing which confronts us is that the unity, mutual confidence and respect which resulted in the military victory should be continued to make secure a just and durable peace."

It would be mighty interesting if we could lift the roof off the conference house in Berlin and see Messrs. Truman, Stalin and Churchill in action. For the first time the big three will be facing one another without the restraint imposed by military necessity. It will be a grand time to get off their chests anything that has been bothering them, and it will be remarkable if there isn't a lot of plain talk. That may increase mutual respect.

Indications are that the three powers are approaching the Berlin meeting with a firm determination to make it a success. And after all, that determination is the essential to success.

Concentration On Black Markets Due

WASHINGTON, July 7. (AP) — Attorney General Tom Clark announced today the Justice department will concentrate for the present on black markets, anti-trust violations, war fraud and tax evasions.

Asserting he has "intense feelings" on the subject of black markets, Clark, who took office June 30, declared that over-price dealings in everyday necessities such as gasoline, meat and clothing will receive first attention.

He disclosed in an address prepared for broadcast that he has directed all U. S. attorneys "to double their efforts to put black marketeers in the penitentiary."

Clark promised to work closely with the internal revenue and treasury departments to see "that all tax evaders are punished," adding that one evil of black markets is concentration of large sums of money which are not reported for taxation.

J. N. Landreth Is New Acting Superintendent Of Slaton Division

LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 7. (U.P.) —J. N. Landreth of Las Vegas today was the new acting superintendent of the Slaton division of the Santa Fe railroad.

His appointment was revealed by the general manager of the Santa Fe railroad, G. C. Jefferis in Amarillo, Tex., who said Landreth will succeed L. M. Olson, temporarily assigned to the staff of the operating vice president.

Another appointment in effect today was that of J. H. Rapier, former general transportation inspector with the railroad's headquarters in Amarillo, who will fill the vacancy left by Landreth. Landreth was formerly trainmaster of the New Mexico division with headquarters here.

Court Martial Orders Dismissal Of Colonel

TAMPA, Fla., July 7. (AP)—A court martial board has ordered that Col. George H. MacIntyre, 39, be dismissed from the service, the Army announced yesterday.

Col. MacIntyre, for 13 years an Army pilot, was commander of DeRidder Army Air base at DeRidder, La., before he went overseas early this year.

The Army statement said he was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and irregularities in filing certain pay claims. No other details were given.

MAY REOPEN ARLINGTON

DALLAS, July 7. (U.P.) — Arlington Downs, one-time elaborate $5,000,000 racing plant may soon resound to thoroughbred hoofs. E. Paul Waggoner, son of Arlington Downs founder, said today that plans were in the making for putting the plant in shape to be used to house and train thoroughbreds, and to provide show barns for registered Herefords. The plant was closed to horse racing in 1938.

A soldier needs 306 pounds of meat in a year, but the average civilian needs only 172 pounds.

Railroad Labor Is Acute; Employes To Be Sought In City

Two Slaton representatives of the Santa Fe Railroad company, Trainmaster J. B. Raymond and Master Mechanic H. E. Anderson, and R. E. L. Phillips of Amarillo, branch manager of the Railroad Retirement board, will be at the U. S. Employment Service office, at 1207 Thirteenth, Monday and Tuesday to interview applicants for "all kinds of railway work."

"There is a critical situation among the railroads in regard to needs for workers caused by heavy movement westward of war equipment," Phillips said.

"The situation has become so acute that the Army has furloughed 4,000 former railroad workers to assist in relieving it; however, this number is not sufficient to cope with increased business and it is vitally necessary that more men be obtained to keep up equipment and insure moving of supplies."

Main Is Indicted In El Paso Slaying

EL PASO, July 7. (U.P.) — A murder indictment was on file today against William F. Main, 25, Philadelphia, for the decapitation slaying of 80-year-old Edward Baker, an El Paso county poor farm inmate.

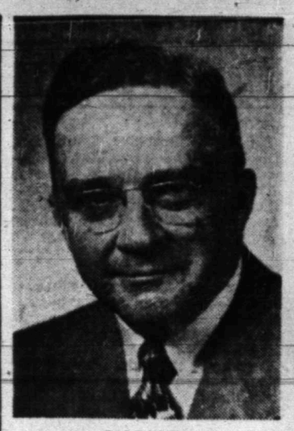

The indictment was returned late yesterday by a grand jury, which accused Main of killing Baker and burying the body in a shallow grave near a railroad right-of-way.

ATTORNEY RESIGNS

AUSTIN, July 7. (U.P.) — Resignation of Fred C. Chandler as an assistant attorney general as of July 15 was announced today. He will go to Levelland to enter private law practice with Alvin Allison, former member of the Texas House.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the program.

Crowd Gathers Early To Rent Apartment

DALLAS, July 7. (U.P.)—A milling crowd started gathering at dawn around a trim little duplex on Velsaco street. An apartment for rent had been advertised at that address.

House hunters have learned to be patient, but there seemed to be a limit to that as lunchtime came and no one showed up to show the would-be renters the place.

But, not one left the premises despite the grumbling until the landlady drove up at 2:15 and rented to the man standing at the head of the line.

BOLIO SITUATION IMPROVES

HOUSTON, July 7. (U.P.)—Houston's polio situation took a favorable turn this week, city health department records revealed today. Only two cases were reported in the city this week, as compared with 10 cases last week. The two-case figure was the lowest since late May.

Drinking, on the part of either the driver or the pedestrian, is involved in one out of every five fatal traffic accidents.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

By BOB THMOAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 7. — Roz Russell and I agree on one thing—we're in favor of women. Only from slightly different viewpoints.

RUSSELL

It all started when I remarked that Rosalind seems to be the personification of the active, successful woman. In previous pictures she has been an advertising executive, a talent agent and a judge. Presently she is playing a psychiatrist in "Some Call It Love" and next she will be a nurse in "Sister Kenny."

"I enjoy playing that kind of role," she said. "I am pro-women-in-business. I think there are many things which women can do just as well as men. In fact, women can do some things that men can't."

"You mean like having babies?" I suggested.

"Well—yes. But there are other things, too—like social service work and certain personnel lines. I think women are better in those fields because they are naturally more sympathetic and understanding. They can handle human problems with more success."

Credit Due Women

Roz thinks that more and more women will be achieving high positions in business and professional fields.

As a matter of fact, I am pro-women-in-general. I think they have done a wonderful job in the war. Just think what a war wife has done.

"She follows her husband all over the country or maybe stays home and takes care of three or four or five children. Besides, she might be holding down a job at the war factory.

"She sees that the kids get to nursery school or Dolly does her homework or Junior gets to his dancing lesson or they all go to church on Sunday. Yes, sir, you've got to give the little gal a lot of credit."

Roz thinks women will be assuming more influence in world affairs, too.

"Look," she said pointedly, "we've let the men handle things for a long time now — and see what has happened. Things are in an awful mess. It's about time the women were beginning to show them how to do it. After all, it's the women who suffer most in war anyway."

Lookout, Congress

"Do you think there will be a larger percentage of women in Congress?"

"Surely, although I don't think they will be taking over the place. And it's a good thing to have women in Congress. So what if they do cause a commotion over a new hair-do or a crazy hat? At least they will be getting the woman's viewpoint across."

As we ended the discussion, Roz added with a sly wink: "But don't get me wrong—I like the boys, too."

DeFore Is Paid To Kiss Betty

HOLLYWOOD, July 7. (U.P.) — Kissing Betty Hutton is a rather pleasant way to make a living. You can ask tall, boyish-looking Don DeFore, a new Hollywood romantic threat, like we did. He's been busy in that line of work lately.

Everybody we talked to on the set of B. G. DeSylva's "Stork Club" at Paramount agrees the boy has made good. Even the kissee, the indefatigable Betty, reports that the young man from Iowa knows his business.

Actually, he's comparatively new at movie bussing, but he's learned fast. His current role as the Blonde Bombshell's boy friend gives him plenty of opportunity to perfect his technique. He started the picture by giving Betty a resounding smack on the lips — just the kind of an operation a Marine home from the wars would execute in greeting the girl he left behind.

"Imagine Being Paid"

"That's all I had to do the first day of the picture," he declared. "Imagine getting paid good money for this kind of work," he added as Director Hal Walker gave the cease-fire order. "I ought to pay the studio for letting me work like this."

On that basis Don would owe Paramount a sizable sum. Like a true leatherneck he doesn't abandon his objective until the final clinch.

"I understand why they call her the incendiary blonde," he sighed. "She puts fire in everything she does, singing a song or kissing a guy."

Don got his real start at kissing movie queens when he played opposite Joan Fontaine in "The Affairs of Susan." Up to then he had not been considered the type to raise the blood pressure of beautiful heroines.

Fan Letters Pour In

He passed his first big-time romantic test with honors, judging by the fan letters which poured in from appreciative feminine customers after the picture was released.

Naturally when he appeared with Lizbeth Scott in "You Came Along," he brought to his role the confidence of a man who has proved his mettle in the chosen field of endeavor. And a well-chosen field, he thinks.

"Kissing scenes," he said, "are nice work—if you can get it."

Davies Assesses Total Of $22,703 In Fines In First Six Months

Almost $23,000 in fines was assessed by County Judge Walter Davies up to July 1, marking Davies' first six months in that office, his first semi-annual report, completed Saturday, showed.

Fines assessed totaled $22,703, exclusive of court costs. Two hundred fifty-two criminal cases were disposed of, 234 of them through pleas of guilty. Eight cases were tried by juries, two by the court, eight dismissed. Jail sentences totaled two years three months two days.

The report also showed that 35 civil cases had been disposed of. There were 12 default judgments, 16 dismissals, four agreed judgments, one jury trial and two trials before the court.

Total orders signed on the probate docket were 305, total lunacy cases 13. Eighteer estates were closed. Inheritance taxes collected totaled $13.43. Total birth certificates approved were 216

Juvenile hearings totaled 46. Six juveniles were committed to state institutions—three of them for the first time, the other three decommitments. Thirty-seven juveniles were paroled; none was dismissed; none was adjudged innocent, and three were transferred to other jurisdictions.

There were 28 applications for persons suffering tuberculosis, for treatment in a state hospital. Twenty-three of those were accepted, five rejected.

U. S. Plans Call For Overwhelming Power To Subdue Japan Quickly

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press War Analyst

The air war designed to bring Japan to her knees is swinging into stride with all the speed, and more, that American military leaders promised.

The strikes by fleets of upwards of 500 B-29 Superfortresses against the enemy's stricken industrial areas are being supplemented by swarms of lesser bombers, long range fighters and fighter-bombers, seeking every variety of target.

The object is to paralyze Japan's war production, level her defenses, and in general soften up the islands for invasion so that victory can be accomplished in the shortest time with the least possible American losses.

Speed, Power Featured

Speed and power is the essence of the whole program, not only in the air, but as to ground and naval operations. American top strategists have made it clear that they are not relying on air power alone, nor on a strangling sea and air blockade, to knock Japan outby a slow process of attrition.

Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, stated the policy for the conduct of the Pacific war in statement two weeks ago before a closed hearing of the House appropriations committee.

He explained that the War department plans "to use not merely enough power to defeat Japan in the end, but to throw in everything to bring the war to a quick conclusion." He added:

"Economy in lives and materiel, as well as the psychology of the American people, demand that we mount a swift, powerful offensive, forcing a victory at the earliest possible moment."

To Double German Bombings

The Army has promised that Japan will get twice what Germany did from the air, and in a shorter time. The program calls for an average of 5,000 tons of bombs a day against Japan in the year which has just started. Already the B-29's have dropped up to 4,000 tons in a single attack.

The War department has listed Japan's six largest industrial cities as having been so smashed that they are no longer primary targets. The cities are Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe, Nagoya, Osaka and Kawasaki. The bombers are now going after the secondary cities, numbering 40 or more. Japan has 34 cities over 100,000 in population, of which 26 have been hit so far.

Announcement of the new Army air command set-up, just made in Washington, indicates the thoroughness with which the problem will be carried on. The country's top air generals have been placed in active charge.

Spaatz in Command

Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, who directed the strategic destruction of German industry, will be in overall command of the Pacific strategic air forces. He will be responsible directly to Gen. H. H. Arnold, head of all the Army air forces, and executive agent of the joint chiefs of staff in this operation.

Under Spaatz will be Lt. Gen. James A. Doolittle and Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay. LeMay will have charge of the 20th Air force, which comprises all the B-29 commands. Doolittle, first to bomb Tokyo, will lead against Japan his famous Eighth Air force, which battered Germany so successfully.

The team of Spaatz, Doolittle and LeMay is bad news for Japan.

Schedule For Story Telling Announced

The schedule follows: Monday, 10 a. m., Pioneer park; 4 p. m. Rollie C. Burns; Tuesday, 3:30 p. m., Carlisle; Thursday, 4 p. m., wading pool.

Story telling contests will be conducted Aug. 13-18 in each park and winners will enter a contest Aug. 31 Considerable interest has been shown in story telling, the recreation department announced. Twenty-nine entries have been made for contests.

Children from Booker T. Washington park are to visit the Texas Tech dairy Wednesday afternoon.

Boys and girls over 8 years old from Carlisle and Wagner parks who have tennis racquets and balls are to meet at Dupre tennis courts at 6 o'clock Friday night. Miss Frances Peters and Mrs. Gladys Sims will be there to instruct them in tennis.

Approximately four centuries B.C., the territory later called the Low Countries was inhabited principally by three peoples: the Belgae, supposedly of Celtic origin; the Batavii and the Fristi, ancestors of the Dutch.

New "Trick Law" Strikes Deep At Texas Tech; Patent Post For Ooms?

It's Good In Principle

But Something Else In Practice

ALTHOUGH they will resent the sneaky way it was put across in secret committee, most Texans, we think, will agree with over-all aims of the new law which makes illegal the simultaneous employment of husbands and wives by the State of Texas. It is easy to understand how abuses of patronage powers can result in too much "pie" being served to too few families.

But like many other high-principled actions, the law has not been found to be as sound in practice as it undoubtedly is in principle. This is especially true of state positions requiring especially trained and experienced personnel, as contrasted with plain political jobs in various departments and bureaus of the state government.

To bring discussion of the situation "close to taw"—in other words, right here at home—let's see what the law may result in at Texas Technological college, where at least nine changes in faculty personnel will come from the Legislature's action.

Perhaps it is not generally known, but state appropriations for Texas Tech do not permit the college here to maintain as high an over-all salary schedule for faculty members as is maintained by the more generally dealt-with University of Texas and Texas A&M. Thus an especially trained and successful professor, no matter how much he might prefer to teach at Tech, is likely to go to Austin or College Station rather than come here—unless his own salary can be augmented by the services of his wife, who has talents of her own. The new law which says state colleges cannot employ both husband and wife—regardless of how able both may be—thus militates against Tech's bidding power in the matter of personnel.

• • •

IT may be argued, of course, that the law militates against the interests of the university and A&M to the same extent it does against Tech. But that is faulty argument, because Texas A&M does not employ feminine instructors and the university, for several years, has had a policy prohibiting simultaneous employment of husband and wife. Here is an example of the way Tech can be hurt by the "sneak rider": suppose an outstanding mathematics professor, for instance, has an offer from both the university and Texas Tech, with the former able, due to its greater appropriation, to offer $500 per year more than Texas Tech. But suppose the professor has a wife proficient in the teaching of chemistry and there is an opening in the chemistry department at Tech. There could be none at the university. The professor and his wife can make, together, $1,000 or $1,200 more per year here than he can make by his own efforts in Austin. Ergo, he comes to Texas Tech.

But under the new law becoming effective next September 1, what will this professor do? Well, professorial salaries being what they are, the chances are 10-to-1 he will go to Austin, even though he is well aware of the better climate and greater opportunities to be known and appreciated here.

It happens, too, that some Tech faculty members have husbands or wives who possess talents needed at the college outside the teaching field; in the business office, for instance. Especially under current conditions are able stenographers, secretaries, bookkeepers, clerks, etc., difficult to secure here. Yet despite these difficulties, after September 1 the college is going to have to replace several such able, efficient persons with the best it can get for what it can pay. Frankly, the prospects are none too promising.

HAD the legislators been thinking of dollars and cents when the rider prohibiting simultaneous state employment of husbands and wives was voted upon, the result might have been different. Already it is apparent here that a majority of the posts to be vacated at Tech under the new law will have to be filled (1) at greater cost in salary; or, (2) by less able persons who are not able to command a higher-paid post elsewhere. It is a basic economic law that a man and wife, working together, can be secured for a less outlay of cash than two unconnected persons and, especially, than two heads of families.

Our guess is that the legislators passed the rider because some of them wanted to spread their patronage over a larger field than has been possible under the present system. We sympathize with them there; believe their action would have been entirely appropriate had they limited the ban to jobs in state bureaus and departments and had not included college employment, which shouldn't be—and mostly isn't—based upon political favor.

Certainly, the legislators would have been both wiser and more just if, in passing the rider, they had set out that those husbands and wives already employed by institutions of learning be undisturbed, and had applied the ban only to future college employment. But the solons didn't do that, sad to say.

Of course, Tech is too big and too strong to be wrecked by the law: Despite its financial handicap, the college always has been able to attract and keep a strong faculty and many of its top-notchers have chosen to remain here, even in the face of flattering offers from larger institutions and at higher salaries.

Therefore, we feel there is reason to hope that the new law will not rob Tech of more faculty strength than its provisions insist upon; that it will not rob Lubbock of any of the families involved; that all affected will stay here among us, continuing, as far as possible, their good work at the college and as citizens of Lubbock.

Never-the-less, we feel that the law, while good in principle has weak points in practice—and that it is unfair in that its power is retroactive, rather than all in the future.

WE pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Democrats And Republicans Alike Approve New Chief Executive

Midwest Likes Quiet Efficiency Of Harry Truman

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

MACKINAC ISLAND.—President Truman is enjoying, at least for the time being, the cordial favor and good will of the Republican Midwest, according to reflection of sentiment by governors of that section who attended the annual Governors conference here.

It is an interesting psychological phenomenon. It seems to have little to do with Mr. Truman's policies. Instead it stems largely from the quiet, business-like personality of the man, himself a product of the Midwest and therefore understandable to the people.

STOKES

Primary, perhaps, is the fact that he isn't Franklin Roosevelt. The Midwest, in its regional character, is generally skeptical of miracle men, preferring a more prosaic pattern. The former President was popular generally in the Midwest in early New Deal days among many classes, including farmers, due in considerable degree to the recuperative measures to dispel depression.

To the end, he held the loyalty of people in the large industrial areas, the rank and file, which provided the margin of victory in such states as Michigan and Illinois last year. But he had lost out with a majority of the farmers and smalltown people who still set the design of the Midwest as a region.

• • •

They Don't Like Glamor Boys

People in this last category understand a man such as Harry Truman. They like him instinctively. He gives them a feeling of comfort and they turn to him with a sort of relief and go about their business satisfied that they won't be disturbed by a sudden, dramatic shift in policy.

"A large part of the friendliness for President Truman," one Midwestern governor said, "is due to the fact that he is from the Midwest. He has that short, decisive way of doing business that people out this way understand and like."

Other factors cited by the governors are President Truman's consideration for Congress and the way he has invited Republicans to advise him, giving a co-operative complexion to his administration. This is a political technique familiar to them.

A FEELING was reflected among Republican governors, whether valid or not, that President Truman was going to check what one governor called "the top-heavy labor domination of the Roosevelt regime."

A persistent impression from talking with Midwest governors was their hope that President Truman would swing conservative. This seems to be an influential factor at this stage in their thinking about him and his administration.

Growing perhaps partly from this is an interesting paradox in Midwest reaction to the new President. This is the fact that his endorsement of the Roosevelt policies, with which so many have disagreed so heartily, does not seem, for the moment, to disturb the Midwest or its kindly feeling toward him. This may reflect a belief that he will not press too vigorously for measures he inherited from his predecessor, or that Congress will block him, or both.

Roosevelt Bitterness Gone

One thing that does seem certain, however, is that no matter how hard President Truman might press for the Roosevelt objectives, he would not arouse the bitterness that President Roosevelt stirred up. That went beyond the measures and centered on Mr. Roosevelt, himself.

There was an interesting reflection of this difference in attitude toward President Truman and his predecessor at the Governors conference here. Among the governors, for instance, there is an almost general resistance to President Truman's proposal for a compromise federal-state unemployment benefit system to replace the present state system for which the governors have fought and for which they will stand firm. Yet there was no personal feeling exhibited against the President on this account. You would not have known that he had a different view.

• • •

NOR was there any personality bias aroused over President Truman's indication that many war controls will extend into the postwar period, although many governors here felt that they should be shut off as soon as the war ends.

The Midwestern kindness toward President Truman cannot be translated, of course, at this early stage, into terms of votes in 1948. Many people who like Mr. Truman now, and may still like him then, will nevertheless go right ahead and vote the Republican ticket—because they are Republicans.

But it all helps.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

DR. MILTON J. FERGUSON, chief librarian of the Brooklyn Public library, has discovered a new species of human being.

He calls it the "O-Filler."

The O-Filler comes to the library, gets himself a book, sits quietly in the reading room, apparently engaged in deep study and making many notes, but what do you think he is really doing?

BRANDEIS

He fills in all the O's in pencil, crayon and ink until they become a solid black. Some of them don't do that but put eyes, ears and mouth on the O's so that each O looks like a little face that's either frowning or smiling at you.

There is another type that irks Dr. Ferguson very much.

He is the "Mis-Guide."

This fellow writes on Page 10 of a book "Look on Page 20" and on Page 20 "Look on Page 61". That goes on through the book to the climax, perhaps on Page 314 which reads "Ha! Ha! The joke's on you."

These so-called hobbies not only cause the librarians a whole lot of unnecessary erasing but also make them understand the origin of Shakespeare's saying, "Lord, what fools these mortals be."

• • •

And often I have wondered why so many people have so many silly antics for hobbies.

I know the doctors tell us that we should all have a hobby to take us away from our daily routine.

So I went out to get me a hobby.

I looked around to see what my friends were doing in the line of hobbies.

Well, there's that popular hobby of knocking a little ball around and calling it golf. A dandy hobby, indeed, but I lost too many balls. So I gave it up.

One of my friends collects match boxes from every restaurant and every hotel and every place in the world. He has thousands of them now.

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—A secret session on the highly important question of patents took place last week, attended by Secretary of Commerce Wallace, retiring Attorney General Biddle, new Attorney General Tom Clark and economic Stabilizer Will Davis, who is an adviser to Wallace on patents.

Biddle talked at length about the importance of promoting business competition through free use of patents, also about the qualifications required of a new Patents commissioner. Davis also expressed his views at length. Clark said nothing.

PEARSON

Meanwhile an interesting array of names is before Secretary Wallace for appointment to the key job of Patents commissioner. They include Houston Kenyon, close to the patent attorneys of Standard Oil of N. J.; Conder C. Henry, now assistant Patent commissioner, who has been 30 years in government service; Maj. Roy C. Hackley of the Justice department; and Hugh Cox, also of the justice department.

Most interesting candidate, however, is a name sent to Wallace by President Truman—Casper Ooms of Chicago. Casper Ooms is a young patent lawyer, a leader of Chicago's liberal bar, and his name was submitted to Truman by U. S. Judge Sherman Minton, who is very close to the White House these days.

It may well be that Ooms will get this important job.

CAPITAL CHAFF

SAID Florida's Senator Pepper to Montana's Senator Wheeler: "You are the only man in the Senate with the brains and the ability to stop the United Nations charter. But if you do, you will be just as hated in this country as Henry Cabot Lodge." Wheeler made no comment at the time, but he is not going to oppose the charter . . . Senator Taft of Ohio, ardent Republican, has been continually fighting with ardent Republican Senator Tobey of New Hampshire inside the Banking and Currency committee. Once they nearly got into a fistfight. Their trouble is over Bretton Woods. Tobey believes it is sacrilegious to oppose the Bretton Woods agreement, while Taft is vigorously opposed. . . . U. S. War Crimes officials are worried about the selection of a military court to try German generals. They are afraid U. S. generals will be soft-hearted toward German generals. . . . Field Marshal Montgomery recently remarked that the German General Staff ought to be exiled. U. S. War Crimes commissioners don't agree with Monty. They believe that exiling the leaders of the German military caste is far too easy on them. U. S. officials are in conference with the British on this point. . . . Some of FDR's warmest supporters in Hollywood are cooling on the Truman-Missouri administration. Warner Brothers have been extremely cautious about relationships with the White House . . . Walter Wanger is preparing to film the life of Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

EXIT FRANCIS BIDDLE

NEW and interesting details behind the exit of Francis Biddle as Attorney General of the United States have just come to light. Whether you agreed with him or not, they add to his stature as one of the great Attorney Generals of recent times.

One man who swore that Biddle must get the axe after Truman became President was Averell Harriman, head of the Union Pacific railroad and U. S. ambassador to Moscow. Biddle had just brought the biggest anti-trust case in history against the railroads. Even the Pennsylvania railroad, which for years hired Biddle to handle their law work in Philadelphia, would hardly speak to him after this anti-trust suit.

Another group determined to get Biddle's scalp was the movie moguls, because of Biddle's determination to prosecute the anti-trust suit against Hollywood which previous Attorney Generals had compromised. (Boss Ed Flynn of the Bronx happens to be attorney for some of the movie moguls.)

Finally, the oil men, especially those who had contributed heavily to the Democratic party through Oil Man Ed Pauley, were vengeful over Biddle's insistence on testing federal ownership of submerged oil lands.

Probably these groups would not have been so irate if it hadn't been for the fact that Francis Biddle nearly always won his cases. Out of 20 arguments for the United States before the Supreme court, he won 19. In the closing days of his career and almost obscured by the news of his resignation, Biddle won some of his most important victories.

Probably most people remember him today for the cartoons in the unpopular Montgomery Ward case, showing Biddle carrying out Montgomery Ward's Sewell Avery. That was a case which Biddle didn't particularly want to bring. But the War Labor board had told President Roosevelt very frankly that it could not go on unless Montgomery Ward was brought to terms.

From a legal point of view, it was one of the toughest jobs Biddle ever tackled. He was beaten in the lower court. But just a few days before the announcement of his resignation, the Supreme court came through with a decision upholding him

HOLMES' SECRETARIES

BIDDLE'S legal training began under one of the greatest figures of American jurisprudence — Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Holmes trained a lot of young secretaries who later distinguished themselves—Irving S. Olds, now president of the U. S. Steel corporation was Holmes sixth secretary; Biddle was his seventh; George Harrison, now head of the New York Life Insurance company, was the eighth; and the 24th was Alger Hiss, secretary general of the San Francisco Conference.

Like Holmes, Biddle could have gone up to the Supreme court when Jimmy Byrnes stepped down. But he decided that in wartime he could better serve by being, as he expressed it, "Roosevelt's Philadelphia Lawyer." And he was unblushingly frank in finding ways to help Roosevelt put across his war measures.

Many of his victories were not only historic; they were what other lawyers called impossible. When he was Solicitor General (before he became Attorney General) he tested the constitutionality of the Wage and Hour act with its anti-child-labor provisions. This legislation flew directly in the face of a famous Supreme court decision in which Justice Holmes had delivered an equally famous dissent. But Biddle won.

"I dedicated that one to the old man," said Biddle referring to the justice whom he once served as secretary.

• • •

PHILADELPHIA LAWYER

LATER came the anti-trust suit against the insurance companies. Biddle was determined that something had to be done for better and cheaper insurance. But straight across his legal path stood a precedent of 100 years, the famous case of Paul vs. Virginia, which ruled that insurance regulation was solely the concern of the states. Lawyers said Biddle's case was impossible. But he argued it personally against all the insurance lawyers in the country.

And he won.

Finally the Associated Press battle. Roosevelt wanted more competition between newspapers; so Biddle brought an anti-trust suit against the AP, and on the last day of court, against the most brilliant lawyers in the country, he won.

Biddle has never been popular in Washington. He knew all along that nobody could be popular and really get a job done. But no Philadelphia lawyer ever did a better job for his client than Francis Biddle did for Franklin Roosevelt.

And as he stepped out of office last week, he remarked to a friend: "I'm far more concerned over what FDR and Holmes think of me in heaven, than what Pauley and Ed Flynn think of me in hell."

"The Townsman" Story Of Unadventurous

John Sedges Writes Of Less Prosaic Side Of The West

"THE TOWNSMAN," by John Sedges: (John Day).

THE STAY-AT-HOME is the subject of this long, earnest novel. Sedges writes about the adventures of the unadventurous. His story has to do not only with a family of immigrants from England but also with the Kansas town which one of their number helped to develop from a cluster of sod houses into a worthy American community.

The story opens just after our Civil War when the head of the Goodliffe family, the vital, restless and impractical Clyde, decides to plant stakes on a new continent. He wants room, he says, and gets it, from Kansas to the Rockies.

Wife Opposes Trip

His wife opposes the trip, but dutifully takes her children and traipses along. Jonathan replaces his improvident father as the family mainstay. He is a 50 per cent pioneer, willing that is, to make one move but not two. The town to which they go is the one in which he stays, though his father drags the reluctant mother still farther west.

Having picked the place to which he will stick, Jonathan sets out to improve it. He is the first teacher there; he works for sidewalks to lift the people out of the deep, sticky Kansas mud, and for church and courthouse. He takes part, and of course always a noble part, in the solution of the social problems which were then forming.

Loses More Glamorous Girl

He marries a local girl who is definitely more wifely than mistress-like, after making some ineffectual passes at a more glamorous creature and losing her to his best friend, who bears the typical fiction-villain name of Evan Bayne.

This is the side of our West which novelists, perhaps wisely, often shun for the less prosaic, more thrilling incidents experienced by those who fought shy of towns and advanced on the heels of the Redskin.

This is, in fact, ungracious stuff out of which to construct a novel. Sedges' particular merit lies in managing to give any interest at all to his story. The book may well be popular; it takes the right side on important issues and is liberally patriotic; it has its moments of honest sentiment.

"The Violent Friends"

IT is an exceptional man who does not find a woman to love him. Jonathan Swift was no Byron and even less a Casanova as Winston Clowes tells his story in a novel, "The Violent Friends" (Appleton-Century), but the two women in Swift's life loved him to distraction. Stella gave Swift all the understanding and comfort of mind a wife is supposed to give a husband. Vanessa attracted him deeply. Yet the strange part of Swift's story is that he was furiously against marriage and love. Swift held himself above marriage and would not yield to the pull of love, and his wrong-headed notions had the most disastrous results for him as well as Stella and Vanessa. Stella sublimated her love for Swift into a friendship which was beautiful until Vanessa tried to force her love on Swift. Vanessa suffered a cruel rebuff from which she never recovered, and was so humbled that she even wrote to Stella, her great rival.

"I was proud once," she wrote, "but what is the use? I have no pride left, nor shame, but only misery, and that is why I write to you—a woman's heart may be touched by it, if a man's is not. If he is nothing to you, it costs you nothing to tell me so; if the contrary, then as he is now yours, you can afford to be kind, and put an end to my uncertainty. I have worn out my days in sighing, and my nights in watching, for so long now, that I sometimes wonder my senses have not left me long ago."

The paradox of the whole situation was that Stella got what Vanessa wanted, and it more or less destroyed her love for Swift. Swift proposed to Stella and married her, but Stella knew what had led him into the proposal, and knew too, that, despite all his talk about beautiful friendships, Swift was susceptible to love—love for Vanessa.

"The Violent Friends" is an engrossing novel about this searing love story, and is also a rousing chronicle of Swift's tumultuous years in Ireland when he waged a tremendous campaign for the Irish people cheated by the British crown. A brilliant portrait of a blustering yet kind, and great man, and his affairs of heart and mind, and a picture of robust times, when men and women spoke and acted with resounding forthrightness, "The Violent Friends" is about all one can ask in a novel of this sort. It is not a historical pageant or panoplied romance, but an absorbing delineation of a great literary man in his own period. You could hardly find a

ANOTHER CHORE FOR MILLIONS OF FARM BOYS

This official U. S. Navy photograph of American boys landing under enemy fire on a Pacific island is typical of the hard, bloody jobs our troops are doing—and will have to continue to do for many weary months to come—for you and for all Americans.

Give them a hand—

Buy twice as many Bonds as you ever did before!

The time is ripe.

It's now—now when America can't afford to falter . . . NOW is the time for you to back up our fighting men by buying twice as many War Bonds as you ever did before!

Does that seem like too much of a chore? Would you rather wait until crops are in and you have more cash?

In the Pacific we still haven't gone all-out against Japan. We must build new, deadlier, more costly planes . . . harder-hitting tanks . . . new warships . . . and more of everything than ever before, if we are not to let our boys down just when they need our help the most.

And we, all of us, have a new responsibility . . . to the thousands of our wounded. We must see to it that they get the best of care, the best of medicines, the best of everything through the long, pain-filled months of recovery.

All this takes money. That is why your country is again asking you to lend your dollars by buying twice as many Bonds as you ever did before!

War Bonds pay off in these 7 ways...

1. The same Government security backs your War Bonds as backs the actual dollars you put into them.
2. You get $100 at maturity for every $75 loaned now.
3. You can get your money back, 60 days after issue date, any time you need it . . . in the meantime you get safety and steady growth.
4. You have a backlog to renew farm buildings and equipment after the war.
5. Bonds will insure your children's schooling, or provide for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. Bonds go into a national nest egg that will help to assure post-war prosperity.
7. Bonds transform your love of home and country into action . . . you join personally in the biggest, most urgent War Loan of all—the Seventh!

Silly hobby, I think.

A woman friend of ours prides herself on having the largest collection of glass bottles in the United States. All empty.

A doctor I know who specializes in surgery has kept every appendix he ever took out and carefully keeps the whole collection, properly labeled with name and date and place in a special room.

MAYBE hobbies are a very laudable way of getting away from yourself.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

Marine Chief Says Big Invasion Against Japs Possible Any Time

PEARL HARBOR, July 7. (AP)—Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, the Marines' new commanding general in Pacific ocean areas, said confidently today a big invasion against the Japanese can be staged any time the United States wants to mass the forces to do it—and "with no trouble at all."

"It's only a question now of wading in and finishing this war," he said at a press conference.

Successor to the post of Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith, General Geiger expressed the opinion it would be necessary to invade Japan proper to finish the war.

Defends Okinawa Strategy

Reviewing the Okinawa campaign, where he served as commander of the Third Amphibious corps, he defended the strategy employed in the closing phase.

Asked his opinion of criticism in the United States because no subsidiary landing was attempted behind the enemy lines, General Geiger said he had proposed such a landing; the proposal was studied by the highest officers; the decision was that the disposition of troops and the shipping available made such a landing impractical.

Japs Fought Japs

As the campaign closed, the Japanese were fighting among themselves on Okinawa, Geiger said, pointing out that the surrender of 7,500 combat troops and 1,400 labor troops showed the "weakening Japanese morale."

"At the beginning of the war, we thought they were 'super men'," Geiger continued, "but at heart they are cowards and they have an inferiority complex. They haven't near the stamina we have and haven't the brains we have got."

STILWELL SAYS BATTLE IN JAPAN IS NECESSARY

OKINAWA, July 7. (AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commanding the U. S. Tenth army and American forces on Okinawa, told a press conference today that in his opinion "we must meet the Jap in his homeland and kill him," because air assault alone would not win the war.

"Vinegar Joe" then laughed and added that he had been wrong on so many predictions that another mistake would not affect his batting average one bit.

"We talked about Japs," Stilwell said meaningfully.

A great part of Japanese industry has been devastated and "we are working on second-rate cities now," he declared.

"But no matter what the air people say, it is my opinion that air war alone won't whip the Japs."

He said there was not sufficient room on the Pacific islands the Americans now hold for all the airfields we would like to have but added that "we'd probably feel that way about it regardless of how much room we had."

Civilians To Get More Canned Tomatoes

(By The Associated Press)

More canned tomatoes for civilians and a boost for the big East Texas tomato crop will result from an increase in the tomato subsidy announced jointly by the Office of Price administration and the Department of agriculture.

The increase, six cents a dozen on the basis or No. 2 cans, will bring the price to canners to 18 cents a dozen, Latham White, acting regional director of the Commodity Credit office of supply, said.

Grower or consumer prices will not be affected by the increase, White said, but it will compensate canners for higher operating costs and encourage them to shift from production of tomato products to canned tomatoes.

Tons of ripe tomatoes were reported going to waste in East Texas, heart of the state's tomato production, because of heavy rains and the inability of canning concerns to handle the crop.

German Kids Show Respect For U. S. In Disconcerting Way

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

OCCUPIED GERMANY.—Everybody around this American occupation camp is trying to interpret a little incident that Sgt. Eric Hogberg stumbled across the other day. But it is hard to figure out just what it means, if anything.

Eric, who was born in Sweden and went to the United States at an early age, is prouder of being a citizen of Laramie, Wyo., and Walden, Colo., than the fact that he came of Scandinavian nobility. He is also acutely intent on watching the spread of democratic principles in Europe. He thinks it is important.

Children Playing War

Having a little time off from his Army signal work, he was wandering through a wood where some German children were playing. Catching phrases of their conversation from a distance, he realized their game involved Americans.

That was good, thought Eric, and he walked closer—only to find at they were playing war. Oh! Oh! That's bad, thought Eric. But as he watched, an argument arose over who would represent American planes which were to strafe German boats in a brook. Suddenly Eric realized that all the kids wanted to be Americans. Well, at least it was that much to the good, he thought, and wandered away.

But when he looked back he saw how they had settled the argument. The biggest boy had pushed the smaller ones into the creek, thus winning by strength the right to play the American role.

The domestic reindeer was introduced into North America from Siberia, via Alaska, in 1911.

Four Officials Allowed For Special Election

AUSTIN, July 7. (AP) — Laws governing the number of judges and clerks to be employed for the special election on Aug. 25, were defined today by Attorney General Grover Sellers, for the benefit of the county commissioners' court of each county and all election officials.

Sellers said the statutes are mandatory that not more than two judges and two clerks may be employed for pay in each voting precinct. If more are appointed the county is not authorized to pay them.
