Moley Offers The Proposal To President

End To Feud Which Is Blocking World Economic Parley Is Sought; All Nations But U. S. Are Agreed

Reply Is Awaited

Belief Is Expressed Roosevelt Will Agree To Plan; Formula Does Not Embrace Stabilization Proposals

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 30.—A recommendation has been made to President Roosevelt by Raymond Moley, his assistant secretary of state, it was learned late tonight, that he approve a monetary formula providing for central bank efforts to counteract wide currency fluctuations and thus end the feud which is blocking the world economic conference.

No reply had been received from the president, vacationing in Canada, when the assistant secretary retired, but the belief was expressed that he would fall in line with the recommendation.

Assemble To Sign Truce

Previously statements of both gold and the non-gold powers represented at the parley had assembled at number 10 Downing street to sign a truce which would put an end to the monetary tangle.

Each time, however, Moley informed the participants that they must await word from the American chief executive.

American quarters emphasized that the formula in no way embraced stabilization, that it concerned only the central banks and not the governments, and that while it was a separate action from the economic conference negotiations it had a direct bearing on that parley inasmuch as it was believed the French, leaders of the gold bloc, who have threatened to leave the conference unless given reassurance, would thereby be satisfied.

Contact Not Established

The final gathering broke up at 11 p.m. (6 p.m. eastern standard time) as Moley telephoned, saying he had been unable to establish contact with his chief for final approval of the text of an agreement to which the delegations of the United States, Great Britain, France, Holland, Switzerland, Belgium, Italy and Poland had tentatively agreed.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, president of the conference, who had been struggling for two days to break the impasse resulting from fears of the gold bloc concerning wild gyrations of the dollar, informed Moley he would hold himself in readiness throughout the night to receive any message which he would immediately communicate to the other delegations.

Georges Bonnet, French finance minister and head of that country's delegation, stalked from the meeting, scowling, to take a train for Paris. He will face his cabinet in the morning, perhaps empty handed. This determined leader of the gold bloc had been particularly anxious for a reassuring development inasmuch as the French treasury wants to announce a new short-term loan Monday.

Charges Hurled As Meet Opens

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP)—Charges that capitalists sought to destroy educational facilities for the masses and "create a caste system of peasants" were made tonight as the vanguard of 8,000 school teachers gathered for the National Education association's annual convention.

The statement, expected by the teachers to be a central point of discussion at the seven-day convention beginning tomorrow, was made by Joy E. Morgan of Washington, D. C., director of publications for the association, at a meeting of the national council of education, organization of leading educators.

"Aberica is in the midst of a struggle between Democracy and a caste system fostered by the great financial czars, the gigantic mechanized industries and the privately owned utilities," Morgan said. "School men and women of the nation are aware that preservation of Democracy is dependent on preservation of our system of free schools."

...s Widow Found Death In Hotel

Mrs. 'Legs' Diamond Falls Before Fire Like Her Husband

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 30—The widow of the notorious Jack "Legs" Diamond was found shot to death in her Brooklyn apartment tonight, a year and a half after her gangster husband was slain in an Albany hotel.

The body of the 30-year-old woman, whose maiden name was Alice K. Schiffer, was discovered on the living room floor by Charles Hunter, superintendent of the building, to whom neighbors expressed the belief something was wrong.

Find Bullet Wound

The medical examiner found a bullet wound in her right temple, and determined she had been dead since early Wednesday.

Mrs. Diamond's back was torn up the back and chairs in the living room were overturned. On a table in the kitchenette were three coffee cups, leading police to express the belief two persons were with her at the time of the shooting.

Two or three bullet holes were found in the walls of the apartment. Questioning of other occupants of the building by police failed to bring out any information about the shots or a quarrel that officers said apparently preceded the shooting.

Out Playing Bridge

Neighbors said the last they had seen of Mrs. Diamond was Tuesday night, when she was out playing bridge with friends. She left the party, they said, a few minutes after midnight.

Her name seldom had been connected with her husband's gang activities. Diamond was more frequently accompanied in public by Marian "Kiki" Roberts, a showgirl.

Mysterious Prisoner Being Held; $1,650 Is Recovered

LAREDO, June 30. (AP)— Officers here were seeking tonight to identify a mysterious prisoner, arrested at a hotel here, and were investigating the possibility he may have been one of two men who killed a highway patrol sergeant and a sheriff at Columbia, Mo., recently, after a bank robbery at Mexico, Mo.

When the man was taken into custody, $1,650 in cash was found in his pockets. A pistol, wrapped in a cloth, lay on the table in his hotel room.

Veteran Kills Medical Chief

Veteran Of Two Wars States He Killed Man Because He Was Dropped From Rolls As Pension Recipient

(By The Associated Press)

DAYTON, O., June 30—A veteran of two wars confessed today, police said, that he killed Col. Vernon Roberts, 53, chief of the national military home medical staff here, because he was dropped from the federal pension rolls.

James B. Shadbolt, 55, former resident of the home, had planned originally to slay Congressman Byron B. Harlan, authorities quoted him as saying, but shot the physician after he failed to find his first intended victim.

Called From Home

Colonel Roberts was called from his home last night and shot four times by an assailant who then fired one wild bullet at Mrs. Roberts as she ran to her husband's aid. An hour and a half later, police found Shadbolt cowering in the home cemetery nearby.

As Shadbolt was held to the grand jury without bond on a charge of murder, investigators prepared to subject him to an examination on the theory he might be mentally unbalanced.

Shadbolt denied feeling any sense of remorse, but urged authorities to dispense with formalities and send him to the electric chair "as soon as possible."

Pension Rolls To Be Lighter On Government

New Fiscal Year Today Brings Expenses Down To A Total Of $581,988,000 For Year On Vet Benefits

Bonus Fund Cut

Benefit Payments To Between Four And Five Hundred Thousand Vets Who Served In Two Wars Are Stopped

BY DON J. KIRKLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30. — The pension rolls will be lightened by almost one-half tomorrow by the Roosevelt economy program.

The beginning of the new fiscal year brought veterans' expenditures down from 1933 appropriations that aggregated $927,949,000 to estimates totaling $581,988,000 for the new year, a reduction of $345,961,000.

Not All From Benefits

However, not all this amount came out of benefits previously paid former soldiers. Fifty million dollars of the reduction was accounted for by a decrease in the 1933 appropriation of $100,000,000 for the fund that is being set aside yearly to pay the bonus in 1945. The appropriation for the fiscal year 1934 was halved.

Benefit payments to between 400,000 and 500,000 men who served in the World and Spanish-American wars stopped tonight at midnight. Estimates of these savings aggregated $135,000,000. Compensation to thousands of other former service men will be less than last year.

The total of the estimated 1934 funds for the veterans administration is $602,838,000. This includes $20,850,000 for non-veteran activities, mainly civil service retirement pensions. The inclusion of a similar sum for 1933 brought the appropriation for that year to $948,799,000.

Disability Allowances Cut

Approximately 387,000 World war veterans who heretofore received disability allowances for ailments not directly connected with their service will be removed from the rolls. About 74,000 Spanish-American war veterans likewise come off. In addition, there are several thousand veterans in other classifications, such as the 6,014 emergency retired officers. Between one-half and two-thirds of these men go off the rolls.

An end to hospitalizing veterans whose troubles were not connected with service came also, but veterans administration officials said there would be adequate facilities for all former soldiers for disabilities or diseases resulting from their war service in spite of a reduction in the hospital and domiciliary care fund from $115,000,000 to $85,773,000.

Permanent and totally disabled veterans, even though in the non-service connected class, will continue to receive benefit payments. There are approximately 30,000 of these for which $10,142,760 is allot-

Paymaster Of Revolutionary Forces Enters This Country

EL PASO, June 30. (AP)—Salvador Ateca, paymaster of the Escobar revolutionary forces during the 1929 uprising in Mexico, entered the United States this morning for the first time since he left New York for Spain as an exile following the collapse of the revolution.

Ateca was paroled to the El Paso Chamber of Commerce pending an appeal to the U. S. department of labor from a ruling of immigration officials that he is not privileged to enter the United States because of lack of sufficient residence in Mexico. Officers here ruled that Ateca must remain in Mexico two years after returning from a foreign country before he can seek entrance privileges into the United States.

Mattern Rescue Expedition Lands At Akron On Friday

DAYTON, Ohio, June 30. (AP) — The "Jimmie Mattern rescue expedition," headed by William Alexander, landed at Wright field tonight after a two-hour flight from Akron.

The party will remain here overnight, while certain alterations are made to their plane. They also will consult with navigators at Wrigley field who helped Mattern, missing for several days on his "round the world" flight attempt, map his course.

They said they would leave here tomorrow, weather permitting, for Chicago. From there, their course to Alaska, will take them to Duluth, thence through Winnipeg and White Horse to Nome.

El Paso Sheriff Says Mexicans Are Afraid To Halt Raids Across Border

Says Officials Ride In Autos Smuggled From This State

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, June 30.—The El Paso Times says Sheriff Chris P. Fox of El Paso today wrote a letter to President Abelado Rodriguez of Mexico asserting little effort is made by Mexican officials to stop the transfer of stolen automobiles from El Paso to Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande, and the interior of Mexico.

Fox, in his complaint to the Mexican president, charged that some state and federal officials in Chihuahua are using automobiles stolen in the United States. He also charged that Mexican criminals have the protection of Mexican officials and that the lawless element in the Juarez valley, across the Rio Grande from El Paso county, are allowed to wear firearms.

General Replies

Gen. Ignacio Flores Farias, commander of the Juarez military garrison, said that "Americans should be sure their own skirts are clean before criticizing Mexicans."

Gen. Flores Farias said he believed 90 per cent of the automobiles reported stolen and in Mexico were sent across the border by the owners in order to collect insurance on the machines.

Drive Stolen Cars

"Officials in the state (Chihuahua) are still enjoying all the comforts of getting about the country by driving stolen American automobiles," the El Paso sheriff wrote President Rodriguez." "To this writer's way of thinking, it would be utterly impossible for a stolen automobile to be transported from El Paso to Chihuahua City and Torreon if the customs and military officials were half way on the alert."

Fox said that almost all the residents in the Mexican community across the Rio Grande from San Elizario, Tex., were armed and often came across the river to plunder the American community. He charged that the Mexican officials in that vicinity were afraid to do anything about the raids.

Beautiful Co-Ed Knows What To Do When Burglar Pays Visit At House

(By The Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill., June 30.—Virginia Michaud, 20-year-old Northwestern university co-ed, knows what to do when burglars call at her home.

One started climbing through a window of her bedroom today.

Clad in pajamas, Virginia leaped from bed, grabbed her brother's baseball bat, and galloped out the back door. She descended on the prowler, still busy at a catch on the window. He saw the waving bat and ran. So did Virginia.

For two blocks she chased him, through puddles of muddy rain water and across lawns. She might have caught him, too, if cinders and pebbles hadn't made her bare feet sore.

Regarded as one of the university's most beautiful co-eds, Miss Michaud is a friend of Virginia Dawes, daughter of former Vice President Charles G. Dawes.

"I'm studying archery," she said today. "If I only had had an arrow and my long bow when I saw that burglar."

Ex-Convict Is Jailed Friday For Kidnaping

Man Giving Name Of Lee Turner Captured In Chicago; Said To Be Wanted In Kidnaping Of Lindbergh Baby

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 30—A man giving the name of Lee Turner, 34, said by Chicago police to have been sought as a suspect in the kidnaping of the infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was arrested here today.

The man was seized as he walked from a restaurant. At first police said he gave the name of "Doc" Jennings.

He denied all knowledge of the kidnaping and subsequent slaying of the Lindbergh baby, abducted from the home of his parents in New Jersey in March, 1932.

Described As Ex-Convict

Detectives Roy Van Herik and James Brannahan made the arrest. They said Turner was an ex-convict who had served time in federal penitentiaries, and in a Missouri prison. He was taken to the central detective headquarters for questioning.

One of the arresting detectives who recently saw Turner's picture listed in a detective magazine as one of those sought in efforts to clear up America's greatest kidnaping case recognized Jennings "as bearing close resemblance to the picture."

Word of the arrest immediately was telegraphed to the department of justice in Washington.

Woman Dies After Bicycle Accident

After receiving critical injuries in a bicycle-automobile accident last Wednesday night, Miss Bernice Casey, 25, died at 1 o'clock this morning in a local sanitarium. Miss Casey suffered a fracture at the base of the skull, fracture and dislocation of the left wrist, and a compound, comminuted fracture of both bones of the left leg when she was struck by, or collided with, a car driven by Bill Slater in the 1900 block of Tenth street about 9:30 Wednesday evening.

She was in an unconscious condition when received at the sanitarium, but regained consciousness for a time yesterday. Last night she again lapsed in unconsciousness and her attending physician held little hope for her recovery.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Casey, 2007 Tenth street; three brothers, C. C., Assistant Fire Chief of the Lubbock Fire Department, Newman, of Bynum-Stahler Funeral home, and Ben Casey; two sisters, Oleta and Waneta; and a grandmother, Mrs. Dillie Spence, all of Lubbock.

Approval For Agreement Is Now Expected

Cotton Textile Industry Has Reached Agreement On Wage Scales And Hours; Salaries To Be Hiked

BY JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 30—Indications came tonight that the trade agreement devised by the cotton textile industry, with its newly heightened wage scales, would be given quick approval by Hugh S. Johnson, the national recovery administrator.

After a long session, the spokesmen of the manufacturers came forward late today with a plan to boost its proposed minimum wage to $12 in the South and $13 in the North. Originally the figures were $10 and $11.

Industry Congratulated

Johnson quickly congratulated the industry upon the "patriotic spirit" he said it had shown in leading the way under the industrial recovery act and inferentially gave his indorsement to the wage and hour figures. President Roosevelt is the final authority upon the codes and Johnson said the chief executive intended giving more than prefunctory examination to the agreement.

Asking corroboration by the recovery administration's chief economist, Dr. Alexander Sachs, Johnson said the minimum wages proposed would return the purchasing power of the workers to the predepression level, and allow for an increase in the cost of living.

100,000 To Be Employed

Although spokesmen for organized labor also had opposed the 40 hour maximum work week, contending it should be much lower, Sachs said any scaling down of this figure would be impracticable.

He calculated the spread of employment under a 40 hour week would give employment for 100,000 additional persons, and said shortened hours would mean a shortage of trained textile workers which might drive small mills from the field of operations.

Trail Leading Across Nation Revealed Here

W. E. (Bill) Doupe Arrested At International Falls In Minnesota; To Be Returned Here To Face Charges

Faces Indictments

Steps Taken To Extradite Man To Texas; Trail Led From California Into Canada And Back Into States

TRAILED across the continent and through parts of two nations, W. E. (Bill) Doupe, 35, was held last night in International Falls, Minn., for the slaying of Robert Tharp here October 15. He had been arrested by U. S. Immigration officers for illegal entry into the United States.

Doupe was the third and last man sought in the Tharp murder to fall in the net spread by Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock county. The first, Clyde Shaffer of Amarillo, is free in bail pending trial; Paul Mitchell, the second, is facing a death sentence.

Faces Three Indictments

World war veteran; automobile mechanic, and aviator, Doupe is under indictment for murder and for two robberies here. Young Tharp was fatally shot during holdup of an M System store here. Shortly before, another M System store had been robbed.

Steps were being taken last night to extradite Doupe to Lubbock to face trial, Sheriff Abel said. He will leave for International Falls as soon as extradition has been arranged.

Doupe was arrested June 24 by immigration officers for entering the United States from Canada without inspection, the Associated Press reported. Immigration officials, informed their prisoner was wanted in Texas, said they had not told him that they had this information, according to Paul B. Ramser, chief of the immigration bureau.

Picked Up After Release

The suspect was picked up in International Falls several hours after he had been released at Ranier, where he and his cousin, Wm. H. Doup, 22, of Stratton, Ont., had been arrested by immigration officials. The two had crossed the Rainy river from Stratton to a point about 30 miles west of International Falls. Doupe told Inspector Ramser, the Associated Press reported, that he had been at the home of an uncle in Stratton for the past months, going there from the Mexican border where he said he had been conducting an aviation school.

Inspector Ramser said when Doupe was taken from jail to be finger printed he became suspicious, and asked if he "was wanted for any shooting or robbing." Questioned whether he "was wanted for any shooting or robbing," Doupe refused to comment, the inspector said. He was not questioned further. Doupe said he was born at Estebon, Manitoba, and was married a year ago. His wife, he said, was living in Colorado.

Proceedings Started

The Associated Press said that deportation proceedings had been started against Doupe, as well as against his cousin, and criminal charges also had been lodged against them. Arraigned before a court commissioner on the latter count, the two were held to federal court and remained in jail in default of $1,000 bond each.

Doupe's trail was first picked up in New Mexico. He appeared in Petersburg, Fla., then in ... leans, where unconfirmed ...

New Political Body Proposed

Mrs. Ella A. Boole Assails President Roosevelt; Says Demos And Republicans Are Traitors To People

(By The Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, June 30 — Charging both the Democratic and Republican parties had betrayed their constituencies, Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Brooklyn, N. Y., national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, today opened the organization's fifty-ninth annual convention with a plea for a new political party.

"We need a new party of moral ideals, a party that stands for the policy of prohibition and its administration by its friends," Mrs. Boole declared.

Roosevelt Assailed

She assailed President Roosevelt and his administration for the legalization of beer and support of submission of a repeal amendment to state conventions.

The W. C. T. U. will fight repeal every step of the way, Mrs. Boole asserted amid applause by the delegates. The drys have a fighting chance to keep 20 states from ratifying repeal, she said, stressing the importance of waging an aggressive campaign to get out the entire dry vote in every state.

If you are boiling vegetables, such as beans, use heavy utensils with fitted lids. Enough water should be used to cover the vegetable, but the margin of water should not extend higher. Cook quickly. Don't let the vegetables simmer. A dash of salt and a dash of sugar, added during the cooking process, makes the flavor more appealing. If you are using a raw vegetable, such as cabbage, let it stand in a mixture of salad oil and acid before serving. Sauted vegetables, such as tomatoes, should be cooked in a frying agent that is unusually mild, to bring out the flavor of the vegetable. Oil is preferable.

Fast Field Of Golfers Enter Local Tourney

Over 60 Already Qualified And Today Is Official Qualifying Day; Match Play To Start Early Tomorrow Morning

The fairways are fast and the roughs are slow; the "props" are up and the gates are down — for the Lubbock Country club's first annual invitation tournament.

There is no defending champion, but a field which promises to pass the 175 mark is going gunning for the first championship. Today is deadline on entries, and the 18-hole qualifying round must be completed by tonight.

Approximately sixty golfers had qualified last night, the entries representing some of the golfing centers of West Texas. Of this number, there was a sufficient number in the "lows" to assure a fast championship flight. It appeared that an 80, and 82 at the outside, would be required of championship flighters. An 83 qualified for the West Texas Golf association tournament at Wichita Falls last month.

At the conclusion of today's qualifying round, golfers entered in the Lubbock Country club invitation tournament are invited to take part in a driving contest on the practice course. Levine Brothers of Lubbock offer as a prize to the longest driver half a dozen Burke "Forespot" golf balls, one of the most expensive balls on the market. The driving contest will be held as soon as the last of the qualifiers are in.

Qualifying scores will be announced tomorrow morning when all entries have played the warm-up round. Match play is to begin in the morning with first round matches in all flights. Thirty-two golfers will compose the championship flight, and there will be as many other flights of 32 as the entries provide.

Out-of-Town Golfers

Among the out-of-town "favorites" already assembled here, many of whom have finished the qualifying round are Frank Kimbrough of Plainview, winner of the Cisco invitation; John D. Munn of Amarillo, sensational youth who is shooting fine golf; Jack Wilson of Knox City, a former Texas Tech ace and winner of the Tri-Counties tournament at Seymour recently; Frank Rose of Lamesa, a top flighter in West Texas Golf association tournaments; Charles Qualls and C. E. Hundley of Post, Stanley Carter of Crosbyton and Roy Cooper of Ralls.

Local golfers who are almost certain of placing in the championship flight are Edgar Doherty, Jo Dick Slaughter, John Edmisson, Manson Allen, Joe Bihl, Cotton McAfee, T. H. Buckingham and various others.

Low Score Needed

Although qualifying scores will not be announced until after all the scores are in, yesterday's results showed that an unusually low score would probably be required for championship flight honors. It was freely predicted that an 80 at the outside would be required, since nearly two-thirds of a flight already have tabulated a score under 80.

Golfers will congregate at the Country club house tonight for the customary party and pairings, results of which will be announced early tomorrw. Match play will begin tmorrow with the two first rounds of 18-hole matches. Quarter-finals and semi-finals will be played Monday with finals in all flights scheduled for the 36-hole route on Tuesday.

Missions Defeat Exporters, 5 To 2

SAN ANTONIO, June 30. (AP) — After Ollie Bejma's double with Engle on first had tied the score at two and two, Purdy walked intentionally and Harlan Clift hit a home run with two on to give the Missions a 5-2 victory and a sweep of the two-game series with Beaumont here this afternoon.

The game was a pitching duel between Auker and Miller, each allowing but seven hits.

Abduction

wife. Netter said he had an opportunity to observe the driver of the car closely, as he rode a block and a half with him, passing under two street lights, in directing him to a place at which the trailer could be unloaded, Duty previously had testified he could not identify any of the hooded dozen should he see them again. There was a light also near the spot at which two of the white men assisted Duty in unloading and storing the household goods, Netter said. They had arrived at his place at 1:15 a. m., he added.

Meade F. Griffin, district attorney of Hale county, representing Elliott, asked that his client be released upon his own recognizance and said he would be "personally responsible" for Eliott's appearance as needed. County Attorney Wison concurred in the opinion that no bail was necessary.

Arrest of another suspect was anticipated, County Attorney Wilson said. Filing of the charge in justice court against Elliott and the man still sought followed the voluntary appearance Thursday at the office of Sheriff Tom Abel of 17 men of the Becton community. They sought to absolve themselves of all suspicion in the case. They were questioned from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

An identifying witness saw each of the 17 men and did not connect any of them with the abduction, the county attorney said.

Erwin hired Duty to help on the farm after failing to effect a trade for labor with several white men, authorities were told.

Terry Reduction Plans Completed

BROWNFIELD, June 30 (Special) —Cotton acreage reduction plans for Terry county were completed today under the supervision of R. C. Reed, emergency agent. The 21 school districts have organized, each selecting a committee of three men.

The committeemen will see that each farmer in their districts has an opportunity to sign a cotton-acreage-reduction contract. The 21 meetings conducted in arranging the plans in the county were attended by 1,500 farmers, Mr. Reed said.

Committeemen were called into conference at the courthouse Thursday night to receive complete instructions. Actual signing of contracts began this morning, the emergency agent said.

ted for 1934 as compared with $93,-025,064 appropriated in 1933 for 414,-941 veterans who received non-service connected disability allowances.

Disability compensation, which is the designaton of payments to former soldiers for injuries or diseases considered of service origin, will be cut varying amounts n individual cases. There are 338,100 soldiers in this classification. For them them the 1934 estimate is $118,272,240 as compared with the 1933 appropriation of $203,689,169.

The total compensation paid to dependents of veterans, including widows, children and parents, will be decreased but slightly by the economy law. The 1934 total is $36,-830,000, compared with a 1933 appropriation of $37,581,685.

The total allowed for 1934 for veterans of the Spanish-American war and Boxer rebellion is $61,791,644 as compared with $119,649,232 for 1933. Veterans administration officials were unable to estimate how many Spanish-American war veterans would go off the rolls but the Spanish-American War Veterans association estimated approximately 74,000 would be removed out of the 197,000 heretofore listed. The association said most of the 123,000 left on the rolls would receive pension of $15 a month.

Red Howell, who pitched fair baseball for Lubbock, singled to bring in the tying run.

No Apology Is Needed

CABLED dispatches from Europe indicate that the people overseas are beginning once more to shake their heads sadly over Uncle Sam's misguided and deluded refusal to save the world from disaster.

For a long time it was Uncle Sam's refusal to cancel the war debts that convicted him of selfishness, blindness and obstinacy.

Then it was his action in raising his tariff rates; more recently, it was his decision to go off the gold standard.

Now, it seems, he is wrecking civilization by his stand at the London conference. He won't stabilize his currency, he won't agree to a sudden horizontal tariff slash, he won't do this that and the other thing; and as a result he is once more target for the pitying scorn of the super-civilized altruists across the Atlantic.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

OUTLOOK: The government's confidential estimates are that Industrial Production this month was more than 80 per cent of normal—the averages between 1923 and 1925 being considered normal.

That is good news, but not as good as it sounds.

Purchasing power has not kept pace. Factory employment will be less than 65 per cent normal. Payrolls of 89 manufacturing groups will be about 45 per cent normal; department store sales around 70 per cent. Those figures represent splendid increases, but they also disclose the inner problem. We must boost the purchasing power.

That is the main objective behind everything your government now is doing here.

The monthly chart by which government officials plan their economic course shows we are fighting the slump with a strong hand. Substantial strengthening of our position is disclosed in May and June, as follows:

Month	Industrial Production	Factory Employment	Freight Car Loadings	Dept. Store Sales	Exports Value	Imports Value	Bldg. contracts (All Types)
Dec. 1931	74	69.4	69	81	46	48	38
Jan. 1932	72	68.1	64	78	39	42	31
July	58	58.3	51	67	32	27	27
Sept.	66	60.3	54	70	33	32	30
Nov.	65	61.2	57	65	32	32	27
Dec.	66	60.6	58	62	32	30	27
Jan. 1933	65	59.4	56	60	31	29	22
Feb.	64	59.4	54	60	29	26	18
March	60	56.6	50	57	28	26	14
April	67	57.7	53	67	29	25	14
May	76	60.6	56	68	32	33	17
June	82	63	59	70	—	—	17

WAGES: The big thing now is payrolls. For the same months carried in the chart the payroll adjusted index was: December (1931) 56.8; January (1932) 52.4; July 39.6; September 42.1; November 41.8 December 40.9; January (1933) 39.2; February 40.0; March 36.9; April 38.6; and May 42.0.

You can see that production jumped 16 points between March 1 and May 31; payrolls only 5 points.

The Industrial Control setup is trying to bring those two figures nearer a balance. You cannot maintain industrial production without a substantial increase in purchasing power.

Some people say a greater wage spread might not increase buying. That is plain hooey. The average factory wage is around $12 a week. You cannot do much hoarding on that. Nearly every dollar of it goes into buying.

PRODUCTION: The happy side of the situation is that our officials recognize the problem and are going after it. That is as much as you can hope for.

The sad side of it is that some manufacturers have stepped up production without looking for purchasing power. The textile industry has been running 106 per cent of the 1923-25 averages. The shoe industry has been going 109 per cent.

They are afraid of inflation and the processing taxes. They are running night and day to get in all the production they can before the government increases further the prices of raw materials. Also before the government can put on the tax.

This excess production is being stored. It may create a surplus production problem if it goes much further.

The selling end also is not keeping up with production generally. Retail sales increases have been shown recently in automobiles, cigarettes and refrigerators. That is about all.

COOPERATION: These figures make it as plain as the nose on any maufacturer's face that he must cooperate with the Industrial Control movement to boost and spread wages. It is a matter of self-preservation and not a patriotic appeal. It is a selfish business necessity and not theoretical altruism.

At the rate production is running we will soon have our heels over our head again, unless they cooperate.

They will.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

FINANCING: The Treasury has passed through a sort of Pilgrim's Progress on its financing.

The Slough of Despond was back in March—when there were real inside doubts whether government securities could be floated at all. A little later the New York banks were still able to sell Mr. Woodin the idea that conversion of the Liberty 4 1-4's was too risky.

But the Treasury has gotten cockier and closer to the fatted calf with each succeeding issue. Subscription to the 2 7-8 per cent notes on June 15th—without the gold clause—were much heavier than the most optimistic estimates. Authorities have reached the point where they don't give a hoot what the New York banks think.

Now there are strong inside reports of a huge 2 per cent conversion issue which the banks would have to take and like. They are moaning about how it would hit their earnings but there isn't anything they can do about it.

BANKS: The New York banks had the right dope when they predicted they would lose deposits because of the Glass bill.

They lost $347,000,000 in demand deposits last week — chiefly because they can no longer pay interest on them. Out-of-town banks withdrew $196,000,000. Excess reserves of local banks were cut down from $123,000,000 to $54,000,000.

SECURITIES: Wall Street is still all worked up about the Securities Bill. But they have decided the best thing to do is to sit still and let nature take its course.

They figure that industry itself will do plenty of squawking when it finds it can't raise money in the open market any more. That may be literally true. Plenty of investment houses are swearing by all that's holy that they won't touch a nickel's worth of new issues until the law is changed.

The grief will not be dramatized until the next session of Congress. There are no important maturities to be refunded this year that can't be taken care of some other way.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after four years, finds himself much attracted by 20-year year-old ELINOR STAFFORD. Barrett is 35, wealthy and has made a name for himself as an archeologist. Elinor's mother, LIDA STAFFORD, is beautiful and, because she wants attention for herself, has always forced her daughter to wear unbecoming clothes and keep in the background. Lida schemes constantly to keep in the good graces of her husband's wealthy aunt, MISS ELLA SEXTON, in order to inherit a share of the Sexton fortune.

Barrett's half-sister, MARCIA RADNOR, tells him she is terrified for fear her husband will learn of an unfortunate episode in her past. Years before Barrett shielded Marcia when a youthful flirtation ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barrett adopted. The boy is nine years old now and his tutor, HAROLD DEXTER, has threatened Marcia with blackmail. She declares that if her husband learns the truth he will never forgive her.

Barrett goes to visit nine-year-old GERALD, his ward. He decides to discharge the tutor and find a new home for the boy. When he reaches home he finds a note from Ella Sexton.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER V

Barrett took the note and read it. "Lord!" he muttered complainingly. Higgins looked his sympathy—head on one side, lips drooping—and the picture he made restored Barrett's good nature.

"Summons to Miss Sexton's for tea," he said, smiling. "No getting out of it, I suppose. You know what to lay out for me." He paused, then asked, "Is Miss Smythe still with Miss Ella?"

"Yes, Mr. Barrett."

When he was a boy, Barrett recalled, Miss Smith had been Miss Ella Sexton's secretary and he had always half-dreaded her. A cold bloodless creature. Of Miss Ella he was really fond. She was a snob but likeable in spite of it.

Half an hour later he was being ushered into the old - fashioned, high-ceiling parlor.

"How delightful!" Miss Ella exclaimed. "Come in, Barrett." And to the butler. "That will be all, Craven. Tea as usual—"

Barrett crossed the room to bend above Miss Ella's hand. She had acquired a cane since he left. And she had learned the art of greeting a guest without rising. Four years had changed her considerably.

"Dear Aunt Ella!" He used the name he had called her as a boy. The faded blue eyes brimmed and she turned a withered cheek. He stooped, kissed it.

"I am growing old, Barrett," Miss Ella said, her voice faintly unsteady, "and as one ages one fears slipping from the world. It is not things I have done that trouble me but those I ... t done!"

"My ... thought B... man after all ... ike things." "But—th... Barrett, I..."

saying it now. Your father—"

"My dear!" he murmured, touched.

"You're like him!" she confided and then turned to wipe her eyes. Almost immediately her mood changed. "After tea," she said crisply, "I have an affair of business to discuss with you, Barrett."

He wondered uncomfortably what this could be. The last thing he wanted was to have anyone think he wished to be "remembered" in the long-talked-of Sexton will. He was about to put a question when Craven entered with tht tea tray. Old Spode and silver. A pound cake. As a boy Barrett had always been delighted to take two pieces. Miss Ella had remembered his fondness, doubtless would expect him to have two pieces today. He writhed at the thought.

The butler brought his cup and saucer and was dismissed. Miss Ella asked about Barrett's travels and he made brief, polite answers. That done, she turned to her concern.

"As you know, Barrett," she began, "my fortune is quite a considerable one."

"Yes, Miss Ella." He would have given $20 for a cigaret but dared not risk it.

Qualifying Ends Today In Lubbock Country Club Invitation Tourney

Fast Field Of Golfers Enter Local Tourney

Over 60 Already Qualified And Today Is Official Qualifying Day; Match Play To Start Early Tomorrow Morning

The fairways are fast and the roughs are slow; the "props" are up and the gates are down — for the Lubbock Country club's first annual invitation tournament.

There is no defending champion, but a field which promises to pass the 175 mark is going gunning for the first championship. Today is deadline on entries, and the 18-hole qualifying round must be completed by tonight.

Approximately sixty golfers had qualified last night, the entries representing some of the golfing centers of West Texas. Of this number, there was a sufficient number in the "lows" to assure a fast championship flight. It appeared that an 80, and 82 at the outside, would be required of championship flighters. An 83 qualified for the West Texas Golf association tournament at Wichita Falls last month.

At the conclusion of today's qualifying round, golfers entered in the Lubbock Country club invitation tournament are invited to take part in a driving contest on the practice course. Levine Brothers of Lubbock offer as a prize to the longest driver half a dozen Burke "Forespot" golf balls, one of the most expensive balls on the market. The driving contest will be held as soon as the last of the qualifiers are in.

Qualifying scores will be announced tomorrow morning when all entries have played the warm-up round. Match play is to begin in the morning with first round matches in all flights. Thirty-two golfers will compose the championship flight, and there will be as many other flights of 32 as the entries provide.

Out-of-Town Golfers

Among the out-of-town "favorites" already assembled here, many of whom have finished the qualifying round are Frank Kimbrough of Plainview, winner of the Cisco invitation; John D. Munn of Amarillo, sensational youth who is shooting fine golf; Jack Wilson of Knox City, a former Texas Tech ace and winner of the Tri-Counties tournament at Seymour recently; Frank Rose of Lamesa, a top flighter in West Texas Golf association tournaments; Charles Quails and C. E. Hundley of Post, Stanley Carter of Crosbyton and Roy Cooper of Ralls.

Local golfers who are almost certain of placing in the championship flight are Edgar Doherty, Jo Dick Slaughter, John Edmisson, Manson Allen, Joe Bihl, Cotton McAfee, T. H. Buckingham and various others.

Low Score Needed

Although qualifying scores will not be announced until after all the scores are in, yesterday's results showed that an unusually low score would probably be required for championship flight honors. It was freely predicted that an 80 at the outside would be required, since nearly two-thirds of a flight already have tabulated a score under 80.

Golfers will congregate at the Country club house tonight for the customary party and pairings, results of which will be announced early tomorrw. Match play will begin tmorrow with the two first rounds of 18-hole matches. Quarter-finals and semi-finals will be played Monday with finals in all flights scheduled for the 36-hole route on Tuesday.

Missions Defeat Exporters, 5 To 2

SAN ANTONIO, June 30. (AP) — After Ollie Bejma's double with Engle on first had tied the score at two and two, Purdy walked intentionally and Harlan Clift hit a home run with two on to give the Missions a 5-2 victory and a sweep of the two-game series with Beaumont here this afternoon.

The game was a pitching duel between Auker and Miller, each allowing but seven hits.

Helen Wills Moody Advances To Wimbledon Quarter-Final

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 30. (AP) —Save for Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who easily advanced to the last eight of women's singles, American entrants in the Wimbledon tennis championships had heavy going today with Cliff Sutter eliminated and Lester Stoefen barely winning in fourth round matches.

Mrs. Moody, worried for a time by Mme. Sylvia Henrotin, second-ranking French woman player, won 6-3, 6-0, and Stoefen outstayed H. G. N. Lee, British third ranking player, 5-7, 2-6, 7-5, 7-5, 6-3. Sutter was overpowered by George Patrick Hughes, English Davis Cup player, in three surprising sets, 9-7, 7-5, 6-3.

The same fate almost befell Stoefen, but he finally began to charge the net after his cannon-ball service and swung the tide of battle his way.

ILLINOIS WOMEN WIN

CHICAGO, June 30. (AP) — Competing on its own home grounds, the Illinois Women's Athletic club of Chicago today ran away with the women's National A.A.U. track and field championship scoring 47 points.

Carnera May Not Defend Title This Year, But M. Baer May Fight Sharkey

Mourners, Joyous Talk It Over At Garden

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 30. — The mourners and the gleeful conquerors gathered around Madison Square Garden today to pick over the cold bones of Primo Carnera's rise to the heavyweight championship of the world by reason of a six-round knockout of Jack Sharkey last night.

When the wailing and chortling had ceased for the day the situation stood as follows:

Carnera, biggest champion in the history of the ring, probably will not fight again this year, preferring to bolster his bankrupt finances with a vaudeville and exhibition tour, and motion picture appearance.

Jack Sharkey wants another chance at the new champion but is willing to fight Max Baer in September to prove himself the outstanding challenger.

Dempsey On Inside

Madison Square wants to promote that bout, but Jack Dempsey, close friend of Baer and promoter of his knockout victory over Max Schmeling, seems to have the inside track on the match. Schmeling seems the logical alternate for a September match with either Baer or Sharkey if the latter pair fails to get together.

The fight drew less than any heavyweight title match in history of boxing here with only two exceptions, the Jess Willard--Frank Moran and the Jack Dempsey-Bill Brennan bouts, both held indoors in the old Madison Square Garden.

Returns today showed 35,000 customers paid a total of $198,189.60, with the receipts, less taxes, amounting to $163,798.61. The Willard-Moran fight drew $141,000 and the Brennan-Dempsey match $134,-094.

Sharkey's share, 42 1-2 per cent of the net receipts was $69,605 with Carnera receiving $16,379, or 10 per cent. Profit to the Garden was estimated at $25,000, less expenses, with Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's Free Milk Fund for Babies, inc., receiving 25 per cent of the final net profits.

Kilpatrick Gets Job

William F. Carey, president of the Garden since the death of Tex Rickard in 1929, confirmed reports that he had resigned effective with the completion of last night's match. His successor will be John Reed Kilpatrick, once a great end on Yale football teams.

That takes in the news developments of the day, but does not begin to touch the opinions, forecasts, "I told you so's," suspiciona, that echoed all day through the Garden halls.

With Sharkey back in Boston after driving most of the night and Carnera gleefully wandering about the town, thumping his huge chest like a gorilla and still chortling in gutterals—"Haw, haw, Primo he is shompeen. Haw, haw"—the managers did all the talking for the gladiators.

Where the attitude prevailed last night in the Carnera camp that Sharkey, who twice has fought Carnera, deserved another chance because of the willingness with which he gave the Italian his great opportunity, there was a shift in sentiment today.

"Let Sharkey fight Baer now," Bill Duffy, Carnera's American manager suggested. "Then Primo will take on the winner."

Moreland Wins Way To Finals With L. Little

Champion Gus Pushed To Win Tight Semi-Final Match As Omaha Star Offers Trouble; Little Beats Eaton

By HARRY J. FRAWLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 30. —Lawson Little, San Francisco's 20-year-old long distance driver, and Champion Gus Moreland of Dallas, shot-maker superb, battled their way to tomorrow's Trans-Mississippi golf finals with hard-earned semi-final triumphs here today.

Moreland was required to display championship form to defeat Ben Cowdery, young Omaha star, 4 and 3, and Little had an even more arduous task is disposing of Zell Eaton, slender Oklahoma City medal player extraordinary, one up, in a two extra hole struggle.

Little Draws Gallery

Although the champion had to exhibit flashes of his most choice brand of golf, the neck-and-neck conflict between the slender Oklahoma par shalsher and Little gained the gallery interest when Eaton cut Little's morning lead of three up to one at the thirtieth hole.

Eaton squared the match on the thirty-second as Little went over par and kept on even terms during the remainder of the regulation match.

On the first extra hole both overdrove the green with their seconds, but made brilliant recovery shots to sink their putts for par fours.

Both shot sub-par golf on the thirty-eighth hole, but Little bettered Eaton's birdie with an eagle three to win the hole and the match.

Shoots A 69

In defeat, the Oklahoman still ranked as the best medal player of the meet. He played the afternoon nine in 69, one under par, the only round better than perfect figures during the day. His 137 medal score for the qualifying rounds established a new Trans-Mississippi record.

Moreland was a slight favorite to nose out Little in tomorrow's titular affair.

The champion was five up on Cowdery at the end of the morning round after holding a slim one up advantage after the first nine.

Loses Two Holes

Moreland retained his morning advantage at the 27th, despite the loss of the first two holes of the afternoon.

He lost the 28th as he went one over par, and Cowery reduced the margin to three up as he took the thirty-first when Moreland also lost to par. The champion won the thirty-second to again go four up and halved the next hole with a five to win the match.

AMONG the AMATEURS

By ADAM DUBB

ONE of the fastest tournaments that the Lubbock Country Club golf course has ever seen is now in progress here. It looks as though the 79 qualifiers should be a little worried whether or not they will be in the championship flight. But that is only a prediction of some of the "hot-shots"—there might even be a play off among the 32 shooters to see who makes the championship flight.

There will be a full course at the club today—some qualifying and others getting in form for match play. The officials of the tournament would appreciate it if the women would play the Meadowbrook during the tournament. But don't let this keep you men who haven't qualified from playing today.

THOSE of you who shoot around a hundred shouldn't hesitate on entering this tournament—it is nothing to be ashamed of—look at Jay Harston—he qualified with a 104—and is proud of it. Come on you 90 and 100 shooters and get in the tournament—it is a developer in sportsmanship if nothing else. We all can use a little sportsmanship.

With the market going up—Paul Denson got the idea to put "pep" back up to 10c—it will increase the demand for water—but seriously—with the long haul for ice and keeping the soda pop cold—it is worth a dime.

A student of human nature, who is paid for it—that is the caddy—he knows more about the true natures of us than he is willing to quote. Johnnie Edmisson, chairman of the golf tournament, wants all available caddies to report at the Country Club this morning — for four days of golf—and laboratory research in human nature—and this tournament will afford that.

WITH seven straight pars, two over on the eighth hole, and a birdie on nine — Mrs. Sammie Edmisson came in with a 37 on the front nine at the Lubbock Country club yesterday evening. How does it feel, "Cotton," to be taken out by a woman? I wouldn't worry; anytime they shoot a 37 at you, you should be proud to have been "among those present."

Hubbers Drop To Lorenzo In Contest Here

Loose Fielding By Locals Results In Lost Game; Team Of Visitors Hits In Last Three Innings

A hustling ball club from Lorenzo played heads up ball yesterday to defeat a mediocre Lubbock Hubber team, 10 to 8, before a small crowd at College avenue park.

Loose fielding, apparent lack of enthusiasm and the resultant errors played a large part in the downfall of the Hubber crew.

In the absence of the Hubbers here Sunday, Hollis Post Ramblers will occupy the College Avenue park, meeting the home team in a return engagement. Post has hinted of its eagerness to enter the South Plains league.

played without the services of two regular outfielders and one infielder.

Lorenzo was off to a three-run lead in the second inning when Sam Gray's triple to center scored Hershel Galey and Galloway, who had walked and singled respectively. Gray scored on Chuck Webster's error at short.

Lubbock, scoreless for three innings under the fine pitching of Carl Weiver, found the hurler in the fourth for three runs to tie the score after two were out. Webster was safe on a questionable hit, Ray Waller singled and R. V. Galey brought them in with a resounding triple to center. Red Howell, who pitched fair baseball for Lubbock, singled to bring in the tying run.

The Losing Seventh

The game was tight until the seventh, when Holloway's single scored Horine, Moody and Boney Suratt, safe on an error and a scratch single. An error in center field let Galloway run four bases. The Hubbers scored once in each inning, Dirty Waller scoring on Satch Hill's single. Guy Surratt tripled in the ninth for the tenth run, scoring on a passed ball.

Although they played unusually raggedly in a few innings, the Hubbers showed talent in several to keep the hustling Lorenzo team down. They outhit the visitors, but couldn't bunch the bingles when they needed bunching. Sled Alexander shifted Ed Hambright to third base and put Dirty Waller on second in an experiment.

The Hubbers go to Amarillo tomorrow to meet the Ex-Sanders, Amarillo's fastest ball club. The game will be played at Metro park.

finds that for which one is looking."

"I did not make his forgery of my check by looking for it!" Miss Ella stated stiffly.

"No," Barrett admitted. He sat back. She hesitated a moment and he knew the crisis of her talk to be near.

"Which do you think to be the most deserving of my trust, Barrett?" Miss Ella asked.

"I don't know any of your relatives at all, Miss Ella. They're only acquaintances."

"Ah! That s exactly the point, Barrett. I want you to know them and tell me all you know!"

He was outraged; he flushed darkly. For a moment he could not speak. Then, remembering that she was old, he said carefully, "Miss Ella I cannot spy on them. I wouldn't do that—why, I couldn't do that if I were uncertain where to leave my own money!"

"I will explain. I merely want you to drop in; to meet them occasionally; to tell me how you like them—"

He laughed a little uneasily and leaned forward, arms on knees. He shook his head, smiling at her. "Too large a responsibility," he assured her.

Then he saw that she was angry. "I am not accustomed to having people refusing my orders, Barrett!"

"I know, dear," he admitted unhappily.

The "dear" melted her. "Ah, Barrett," she quavered. "I'm old, so old I sometimes fear they come to see me only because of what I have. I do not want my money, which might do so much good, to be lost in idle pleasure. Lida with her frocks—Bessie throwing away good food—Bentwell drinking! I am so distracted! I had thought of leaving Doctor Bold a tidy sum for his work among the poor but not now. Not now! I have found him to be unworthy, Barrett. He is using candles on the altar."

Barrett's lips were set. He wanted to laugh and yet it wasn't funny.

"Aunt Ella," said Barrett, "I'd like to help you but I really can't see how I can."

She was staring at her frail old hands which looked like parchment stretched on knobby ivory.

"Will you come when I ask you to tea?" she questioned. She would assemble them and Barrett's face would tell the truth for him. Had she not known from it long ago about Marcia's affair with the riding master? She had only to read Barrett's troubled eyes and say to Marcia, "I saw you riding in the park—" to be sure of the whole disgraceful story. And Barrett's father, who had been her young sultor dying at the very time in the house across the street; dying without knowing how matters lay and leaving his money as he would not have left it, had he known the facts. Life was a cruel maze and full of tricks. Miss Ella was determined that she would not be tricked. She would not be duped by those to whom she left her money as Barrett's father had been.

"Why, of course," Barrett replied to her question about coming to tea. "You know I'll come."

"That is all I ask, Barrett."

"Very well," he said, standing up. The audience had come to an end and he was dismissed.

"Then I shall welcome you to my home soon, Barrett."

"I hope so," he answered. His desire to please her—lonely, uncertain old soul—was sincere.

As Craven opened the street door for him Barrett saw a motor car stopping. Lida Stafford, Miss Ella's niece by marriage, was in the car. Barrett, seeing her, felt that she still deserved the fame for beauty that had been hers years before.

"Ah, Barrett Colvin! she called prettily. She came forward, stripping off a glove and held out her hand. Barrett took it, bowing.

She was arrestingly lovely in a sort pink-and-white way. A bit too calendar-picture for Barrett, yet easy to look upon. Her beauty was quite different from that of her daughter, Eleanor, yet it was of Eleanor he longed to ask.

Lida said quickly. "You've been to see Aunt Ella, haven't you? How sweet of you! How is she today?"

"She seemed very well to me."

"I'm so glad. I get so anxious about her," Lida went on, "I hope that some day you'll come to see—me? I don't suppose it sounds very alluring but I'm so interested in all you've been doing!"

"May I drop in some day when your daughter too is at home?" Barrett asked. "I met her the other day." He flushed a little and loathed himself for doing so.

Lida's expression did not change but her thoughts did. Barrett Colvin—interested in Elinor? She wasn't going to have that for a moment. No, indeed—and she knew how to put a stop to it!

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 24

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Early the next morning, were astir, moving through the in search of food. Tarzan, a custom, prosecuted his search direction of the cabin. Kala, enraged, had moved slowly east, w faintest shadow of a strange caught her to startled attention.

Down the leafy trail she saw the stealthily advancing figure of a strange and fearsome creature. It was Kulonga. Kala moved rapidly back along the trail, seeking rather to avoid than to escape. Close after her came Kulonga. Here was meat! He could kill and feast well! His spear poised for the throw.

The spear sped toward Kala. It but grazed her side! With a cry of rage and pain, the she-ape turned and charged. Instantly the trees crashed beneath her hurrying fellows—swinging rapidly to Kala's scream. Kulonga fitted a poisoned arrow, and drove it straight into the heart of the great anthropoid.

With a horrible scream, Kala plunged forward upon her face before the astonished members of her tribe. Roaring and shrieking, the apes dashed towards Kulonga, who fled down the trail. None had ever seen a man before other than Tarzan, so they wondered what strange creature had invaded their jungle.

Tarzan heard. He knew something was amiss. He found the entire tribe gathered jabbering about the dead body of his foster-mother. His grief and anger were unbounded. He roared out his hideous challenge, beat his breast, and then fell upon the body of Kala, sobbing out his lonely heart.

Lubbock Meetings Closed On Friday

Five hundred Lubbock county farmers Friday heard explained the government's proposed cotton acreage reduction plan and four community committees began the work of securing agreements to plow under many acres of cotton.

Lack of contracts is delaying the work of securing pledged acreages, County Agent O. G. Tumlinson pointed out. He expects a supply in today or Monday morning as he has wired Washington for additional contracts.

Yesterday morning about 100 farmers gathered at Canyon school house for the first meeting. W. B. Trotter was named chairman of the meeting and a cotton committee named.

In the afternoon McClung selected a committee on cotton contracts and late in the day Slaton did likewise.

Last night at Posey another group was formed.

These meetings marked the series of 28 for the county.

Practically every farmer in the county is believed to have heard the contracts explained.

Closed Banks To Cooperate

Conservators Of Institutions May Sign Cotton Contracts; Work Of Reduction Costing Little Additional

COLLEGE STATION, June 30. (AP) H. H. Williamson, in charge of the government cotton crop reduction campaign in Texas, said today that C. A. Cobb, cotton expert at Washington, had advised that conservators of closed banks in the cotton states may sign cotton offer contracts.

It was understood that the conservators would sign just as the bankers would, either as interested parties with the producers where the bank holds a mortgage on the crop, or a consent with written in reservation that the check would be issued jointly to the producers and the banks.

Commenting on the organization now in the field at work on the campaign, Williamson said that by reason of drafting of the extension service to handle the campaign through county farm demonstration agents, with the co-operation of vocational agricultural teachers, the department of agriculture was putting over the gigantic task with little additional expense, comparatively speaking. Neither the agents nor teachers receive salaries for their work.

Keeping ahead of the current situation, extension service officials are making tentative plans to assemble data concerning useful purposes to which the farmers in the state might put their land after the cotton was plowed under. Because of the size of the state and consequent varying factors of climate, no one plan will fit.

The extension service headquarters staff, including district agents will meet here tomorrow to discuss the progress of the campaign and different phases of the work.

How CARDUI Helped Weak, Nervous Woman

"I was nervous and weak and my back hurt," writes Mrs. Emma Nichols, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. "I could hardly rest. I had a nervous, weak trembling in the lower part of my body, and a bearing-down feeling. I had read of Cardui and decided to take it. After my first bottle, I felt better and kept taking it. It helped me. I took three bottles, and by then I was much improved and rid of the nervousness, so much so that I have recommended Cardui to my daughters and friends. I think it is a splendid medicine to build up the whole system."

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat — to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui. Sold at drug stores here.
