Nixon Reports Talks Off To A Good Start

Agenda Proposed For Consideration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today the Paris peace talks on Vietnam "are off to a good start" under his new administration.

He said that is the U.S. view, but added: "Now, of course, what is involved is what happens on the other side."

AGENDA OFFERED

Nixon told his first White House news conference the United States has offered an agenda, "a laundry list," of possible agreements on specific points.

"Where we go from here depends on what the other side offers in turn," Nixon said.

The White House East Room was the setting for Nixon's first question-and-answer session as President.

The initial question: His plans for a legislative program?

"I shall have a major legislative program to present to the Congress this year," Nixon said.

Asked to list problems requiring his most urgent attention, Nixon said that during his first week they have concerned foreign policy.

He said the National Security Council has had two meetings and he has spent hours at night reading foreign policy papers.

But he said beyond that, the problems of the cities and economic problems require urgent attention and both have been discussed with the appropriate officials.

Nixon said he has noted expressions of interest on the possibility of admitting Communist China to the United Nations.

He said his administration would continue to oppose admission.

In the jammed news conference, broadcast live from the White House, Nixon said he favors the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and said the only question is the timing of the ratification of the pact.

He said that question would be discussed in a National Security Council meeting this week and with congressional leaders.

Then, Nixon said, he will make a decision on when the treaty should be approved.

Nixon added he also favors talks with the Soviet Union on reduction of strategic arms, but said the question again was another matter of timing.

Arms reduction itself would not achieve peace, he said, adding talks are needed when they will permit solution of "outstanding" political problems at the same time. He cited the Middle East as an example.

FOUR-POWER TALKS

Nixon said there have been suggestions for four-power talks on the Mideast, that the United Nations should be the principal peace-seeking forum, that the United States and the Soviet Union should hold bilateral talks or that the parties concerned should solve it.

He said the whole question will be discussed all day Saturday, but in any case there is a need for new initiatives by the United States.

The Mideast situation could lead to "a confrontation between the nuclear powers," he said, so a solution must urgently be sought. He said he is open to any suggestions.

The news conference came almost exactly one week after Nixon took office as 37th President of the United States.

Nixon said he had examined the budget left for him by his predecessor, President Johnson, but could not say yet where and how the spending schedule could be trimmed.

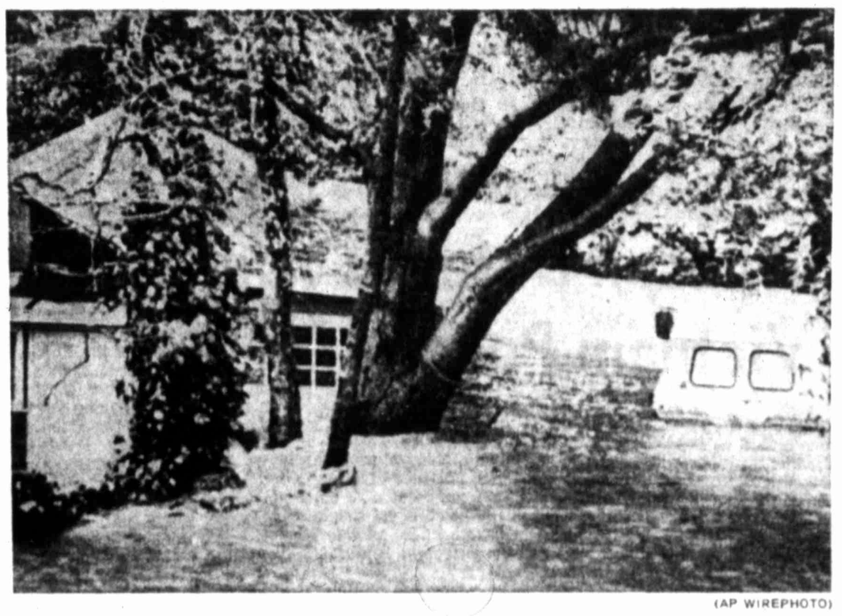

FRESH LOOK

But he said, "We are taking a fresh look" at the budget and would try to make cuts to leave room for new programs advocated in his campaign.

Nixon said his concern with halting inflation so far has been in setting up the machinery to deal with the problem.

He rejected the notion that inflation can be controlled by wage and price guidelines, a favored policy of the Johnson administration.

"We will have some new approaches in this area," he added.

Wall Of Water Engulfs House

This house owned by Bob Varnum in the Malibu area of Topanga Canyon is engulfed by a wall of water from the swollen Topanga Creek Sunday. The nine-day series of storms caused millions of dollars in damage and was blamed for 36 deaths but was subsiding Sunday.

California Storm Over, 86 Killed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With the worst of a nine-day storm apparently over, about 9,000 Californians began returning today to whatever was left of their mud-caked homes.

Most of them had been evacuated from foothill areas where homes were destroyed, damaged or threatened by flooding or mudslides from the several mountain ranges paralleling the California coastline.

86 DIED

Eighty-six persons died in the state's worst flooding in 31 years. Some were swept away in torrential rivers. Many were killed in traffic accidents. Eleven were buried in the cascading slime. Four children died in their burning home when their parents couldn't reach firemen because telephone lines were knocked out.

The storm, which dumped 34 inches of rain in some portions of the state, left $35 million damage, by Gov. Ronald Reagan's estimate, and some major health problems.

President Nixon and Reagan declared the state a disaster area, making federal and state funds available to help pay for the mammoth task of cleaning up and to provide low interest loans to businessmen and homeowners for rebuilding their property.

"I am saddened by the loss of life and the suffering in the stricken areas," Nixon said upon making $3 million in emergency funds available to his home state.

The storm knocked out telephone communications, halted railroads, and washed out roads including the Pacific Coast Highway, a major north-south route.

Although the sun appeared in parts of the state Sunday, rain continued in isolated areas and more residents were evacuated by helicopter.

In Santa Barbara County, where 200 National Guardsmen have been assisting, about 50 persons were airlifted from their homes near the rising waters of the Santa Ynez River.

Threatening mud slides forced the evacuation of about 1,000 persons in Cucamonga east of Los Angeles. In nearby San Bernardino, the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railraods reported high waters and mud put their main lines out of commission.

LOOTING

There were scattered reports of looting throughout the state, and most law enforcement agencies had their entire forces working overtime.

Fire companies and rescue units were so pressed for a time that they would come to the aid of only those people in immediate danger of their lives.

HOTEL FIRE

Firemen Search For Bodies Amid Rubble

DUNNVILLE, Ont. (AP) — Firemen began searching the ice-covered rubble of the Victoria Hotel today for bodies of guests who remain unaccounted for after a 12-hour fire Sunday. Police estimates of the number of dead ranged from eight to 16.

Forty-one persons were registered at the hotel, but the register was destroyed, and it was not known how many of the permanent residents were out of town for the weekend.

"We pobably won't know how many died until the end of the week," said Police Chief R. G. Rowe. "We'll have to pull the building down stone by stone."

Two bodies were found in the rubble of the three-story, 50-year-old structure. Four persons were injured, a man who jumped from a second story window was in serious condition.

Constable Jake Termorshuizen said he looked down the street after the fire was reported by Norman Greer, 20, of Dunnville.

"Everything seemed fine," the constable said. "Then there was an explosion, and the whole roof went straight up into the air. You could hear debris falling all over the place. And then there was what sounded like a blast furnace roar and a chimney of fire went 60 feet into the air."

Airlift Nets $470

Ten airplanes were kept busy most of Sunday afternoon giving rides to men, women and children who wanted to get in on a bargain flight over the area and also a chance to help the annual March of Dimes campaign.

The private pilots of the community donated their time and planes to the cause. Bill McLaughlin, who was leader in the project, said the rides brought in $470.

The planes began hauling the sightseers at 1:30 p.m. and the last flights were made just before dark. The day was ideal for the project, and sponsors said the Howard County Airport was thronged with spectators and passengers.

Fog Closes Airport

Fog which reduced visibility to one-sixteenth of a mile at San Antonio early this morning forced the closing of that city's airport to air traffic.

Warm moist air spread some low cloudiness, fog and drizzle in portions of East Texas at the same time, but for the most part the state was clear and warm.

Texans were due to enjoy more unseasonably mild weather today. Early temperatures ranged from the 30s and 40s over the Panhandle, to the 60s along the coastal plains and portions of Southeast Texas. Brownsville recorded a warm 70 degrees.

Shot By Youths

SEATTLE (AP) — Edwin T. Pratt, executive director of the Seattle Urban League, was shot fatally Sunday night when he opened the door of his North Seattle home.

Sheriff's officers said he was hit in the forehead by a bullet fired from about 20 feet away.

Benjamin Weeks, immediate past president of the Urban League Board of Directors, said Pratt, 38, had told him of receiving threats but had shrugged off the incidents and did not go into detail.

Pratt's widow, Betty, said she went to a window as her husband answered the door and saw two youths with a rifle. A neighbor, Don Anderson, said he heard the shot and saw two youths, 18 or 19, run from Pratt's home. One carried a rifle. He said they climbed into a car which sped away.

Silent Protest Of Crosses Being Staged

ELGIN, Okla. (AP)—Crosses are springing up in lawns across northwest Comanche County — "a sort of silent protest" which backers hope will be heard everywhere.

GOAL

An estimated 100 crosses adorn the lawns of homes here and in the nearby town of Fletcher. Backers said the crosses protest legal decisions banning crosses from public property. The goal is a half million crosses by Easter.

The Fletcher Herald said editorially, "It is time that Christian people stood up and let the world know they are sick and tired of a small minority of radical people going to courts and getting legal decisions that chip away at the very foundation of our great nation."

The project started two weeks ago when Harry Leonard, president of the bank of Elgin and a teacher in the United Methodist Church, made the suggestion to his Sunday School class.

The idea caught on and crosses now are being made in garages and distributed free to the ill and elderly. Churches of several denominations are participating.

TAKE DOWN

By Easter, they believe their point should be made, and they will take them down.

A suit was filed in Oklahoma City recently to ban a concrete cross located on Oklahoma State fairgrounds.

The latest protestors contend that if things continue, it soon will be illegal to erect a cross on a grave.

Eastland Named Chamber Manager

Board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce in a meeting at noon today voted the employment of Tom Eastland as new manager of the organization. Eastland, due here in mid-February to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Carroll Davidson, has had experience in Chamber of Commerce work, in newspaper and television activity and has a broad background in community relations management for major industrial concerns.

He most recently has been on the public relations staff of Hunt Oil Company, Dallas, and is making his home in Richardson.

WEST TEXANS

It will be in the nature of a return "home" for Eastland and his wife, Sue. His family lives in Kermit, hers in Monahans. Eastland, in fact, was in school in Big Spring in the fifth grade. His father at the time worked for the T&P Railway Company and the family resided here for about 10 months.

Prior to his connection with Hunt Oil, Eastland was community relations manager for Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation at East Alton, Ill. He directed a five-person staff in a complete public-employe relations, communications and community participation program.

AT CORPUS CHRISTI

For some five years before joining Olin Mathieson, he was community relations manager for PPG Industries at Corpus Christi, and was very active in major community affairs in that city.

He started in public work as public relations manager for the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, assisting in membership, special events planning and news media relations.

Eastland is 38, and was born in Haskell. He attended public schools at Monahans and was graduated from high school there. He received his BA degree, with a major in journalism, at North Texas State College, and has had special and post-graduate work at NTSC, University of Texas at Arlington, University of Texas at El Paso, Odessa College, West Texas State College, and Texas Technological College.

NEWSPAPERS

He worked on the Denton newspaper staff while in college there, later was with the Odessa American and the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal; and also was news and sports director for KVKM-TV-AM.

TOM EASTLAND

Prior to college, he spent four years in the Air Force, three of them in Germany, and for one year he also taught English and history at New Deal (while also working on the Lubbock paper at night).

TEACHER

Mrs. Eastland is a science teacher at Bowman Junior High in the Plano Independent School District, and they have three children, a girl, 12, and two boys, 8 and 10.

Mrs. Eastland and the children plan to remain in Richardson until the end of the school term, so that she may conclude her teaching contract.

Eastland has attended several special conferences and seminars: "Community Relations and Employe Communications Institute" at Cornell; "Public Relations Institute" at the University of Texas; "Personnel Interviewing Institute," University of Houston; "Communications Workshop" held in New York by the American Association of Industrial Editors.

ACTIVE IN SPORTS

The Eastlands are members of the Church of Christ. He played football in high school and has maintained an active interest in sports. When his duties permit, he has served as a referee of football and basketball games.

Eastland's appointment came on recommendation of a selection committee headed by Dr. Carl Marcum. The committee considered about a score of applications, and conducted personal interviews with seven men before casting a unanimous vote for Eastland.

Conditions Of Cease-Fire

SAIGON (AP) — Foreign Minister Tran Chanh Thanh said today the Saigon regime "cannot accept any cease-fire when the enemy still occupies part of our national territory or controls sections of our people."

"There cannot be any cease-fire permitting Communist North Vietnam and the so-called National Liberation Front to make territorial claims or to hoist their flags in a move to show their presence here," Thanh said.

STOP FIGHTING

"Nor do we agree to stop fighting when the enemy continues bringing more troops into the South taking advantage to replenish their forces and prepare for new attacks."

Thanh's remarks at a breakfast meeting with Vietnamese newsmen were the strongest statement by a major South Vietnamese official against any truce now.

Iraqis Called Spies, Hanged At Dawn

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Fifteen Iraqis convicted of spying for Israel were hanged in the main squares of Baghdad and Basra at dawn today, Baghdad Radio announced. Nine were Jews.

Baghdad Radio said 200,000 people, shouting "Death to all traitors" took to the streets in Baghdad as soon as the executions were announced and converged on Liberation Square. Eleven of the bodies were hanging there, each wrapped with a poster bearing the text of his death sentence.

Four others were hanged in Basra, the southern port city.

They were convicted nearly two weeks ago by a four-man court. Their death sentences were approved Sunday night by President Ahmed Hassan El Bakr.

The broadcast said another defendant was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor, two soldiers were given three-year jail terms, two Iraqi Jews were sentenced to six months imprisonment and 10 other defendants, including four Jews, were acquitted.

The sentences were handed down by a four-man court Jan. 14-15 after a two-week secret trial, Baghdad Radio said.

Israeli Papers Are Outraged

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli newspapers were outraged today by the execution of nine Jews in Iraq for spying for Israel.

There was no immediate official comment, but Premier Levi Eshkol was reported preparing to condemn the action in a statement to the Knesset, Israel's parliament.

Knesset member David Petel, chairman of the Society of Iraqi Jews in Israel, said: "There are no words to describe this crime."

MURDER

The newspaper Maariv said in an editorial: "The nine were not entirely without guilt . . . for their one crime was heavier than they could bear. They were Jews, and to be a Jew is a serious crime in the eyes of the Baghdad regime . . . For this legalized murder, the Iraqis will pay the full price."

Yediot Aharonot wrote: "The enlightened world is as low as (the Iraqis) are. It went out of its mind when a few planes in Beirut were hit, but now it is nowhere to be seen or heard . . ."

Army Troops Called In To Halt Pakistani Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Army troops were called into Karachi and Lahore today to quell day-long antigovernment rioting in West Pakistan's two largest cities.

Twenty-four-hour curfews were clamped on Lahore amd wide sections of Karachi in an effort to combat a deteriorating civil situation following a wave of arson, looting and brick throwing.

In Dacca, where riots broke out over the weekend, officials reported life was returning to normal, but a 24-hour curfew was extended until Wednesday.

Three persons were killed and 10 others were injured in a crackdown on curfew violators in Dacca Sunday.

Crowds in Karachi fought for three hours with police who used steel-tipped canes to subdue persons setting fires, looting and throwing bricks.

By midafternoon more than 500,000 residents—about 15 per cent of the population—were placed under around-the-clock curfew. Another 100,000 in the downtown area had been under a curfew imposed Friday and renewed each day since.

It was the third day of new outbursts against the government of President Mohammed Ayub Khan. The unrest began last fall when students demonstrated for government and education reforms. It was heightened when Ayub arrested several political leaders Nov. 13 on charges of inciting violence.

Admiral To Testify Behind Shut Doors

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A court of inquiry has called into closed session an admiral who inspected the USS Pueblo before it steamed for North Korea with what the skipper called inadequate guns.

Before Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson's testimony today, however, Capt. Forrest A. Pease, his chief of staff during the Pueblo's capture, was summoned to testify behind closed doors.

QUESTIONS

The Navy court begins its second week of testimony into the capture of the Pueblo and imprisonment of its crew.

Secret testimony is necessary, the Navy says, about information classified in the interest of national defense.

Johnson is commandant of the 13th Naval District in Seattle, Wash. Pease remained in Japan as chief of staff for the commander of U.S. naval forces there.

In unclassified portions of closed-door testimony Saturday, the Navy said the top intelligence officer at Johnson's headquarters in Japan testified he was not aware the North Koreans threatened "determined countermeasures" against U.S. intelligence ships before the Pueblo sailed.

The intelligence officer, Capt. Thomas L. Dwyer, said also he didn't know of any effective way to destroy secret material such as the Pueblo carried, then or now, the Navy said.

The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, testified in open sessions last week that Johnson inspected the Pueblo two days before it left his headquarters at Yokosuka, Japan.

"He inspected it very informally," Bucher said. "Nevertheless I thought his questions were penetrating and his inspection of the ship, I thought was much more thorough than the normal informal inspection I might have expected to receive."

GUNS HASSLE

"With respect to what Adm. Johnson told you as to use of the guns, did he tell you what they were to be used for?"

"He said they were to be used in the event that all other, all else, failed in extracting ourselves from a harassment situation such as had not been experienced before," Bucher said. He was quite sure that they would never be needed and I was under the definite impression that everyone was not in concurrence at Commander Naval Forces, Japan, that the guns should even be located on the ship.

"I received this impression from many officers up there. They did not think that they (the guns) belonged on the ship and . . . they felt uneasy about putting the guns on there, that we might in fact, by having the guns, draw the type of reaction from potential enemy forces that we did not want, which was an attack on the ship."

Bucher later testified he was "hopelessly outgunned" when North Koreans opened fire on his vessel. He said he had asked the Navy for two 20mm weapons, but received two .50-caliber machine guns—smaller and lighter.

Improved Devices Installed In Sister Ships Of Pueblo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says that improved destruction equipment was installed in the sister ships of the USS Pueblo after the intelligence vessel was captured by North Korea just over a year ago.

The acknowledgement came after Pueblo Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher told a Navy court of inquiry in California last week that he had been denied such equipment on two ocassions "because of money and time."

CONTROVERSY

The court of inquiry, which has been taking testimony in the Pueblo case, has generated heated controversy over Bucher's statements that superiors twice rejected his requests for a system for swift destruction of secret intelligence equipment and documents.

Asked why the Pueblo was not provided with this equipment, the Navy said the subject is being covered by the court of inquiry.

However, the Navy did say that "improved destruct equipment has been installed in all ships of the Pueblo class," and that this was accomplished after the Pueblo was seized Jan. 23, 1968.

Bucher told the five-admiral court last week that his ship had only fireaxes and sledgehammers to break up equipment and an incinerator for burning papers.

Some critics have contended that former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara implied that the Pueblo's crew was able to accomplish extensive destruction of sensitive equipment and materials before being overwhelmed by the North Koreans.

Testimony given to a House subcommittee last February about Bucher shows that McNamara said:

"I cannot tell you exactly how much destruction he accomplished, but as you go through the message traffic, it is very clear that he accomplished a great deal. Whether he started early enough, again I cannot say. I am not entirely sure of exactly when he started, how much effort he applied to it, and so on."

Asked whether destruct devices on the Pueblo were adequate, McNamara told Rep. Robert L.F. Sikes, "I cannot answer that question fully." He added:

"I have asked the technical authorities to examine it. They say they believe so. It is possible that with further technical developments we can design more sophisticated destruct devices."

Former Mental Patient Added To Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Billy Len Schales, a tattooed former mental patient charged with assault to murder a Houston, Tex., housewife, went on the FBI's list of "10 most wanted fugitives" today.

Schales, 28, has been sought since May, 1967, when he allegedly stabbed the woman after luring her to an apartment he said he wanted to rent.

The FBI said Schales, alias Bill Miller, has a long history of sex offenses and spent time in a Michigan mental institution for molesting a young girl.

A native of Detroit and a former air force enlisted man, he works as a mechanic and service station attendant, the FBI said. He has wings and "USAF" tattooed on his right upper arm.

The FBI warned Schales should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

He is about 5-foot-7 inches, weighs 140 pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes and a medium complexion.

Burglary Almost Joke To Weary Diner Owner

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Burglary has become almost a joke to Charley Launie.

In the past three years burglars have ransacked Launie's diner 161 times. You name it, they've stolen it: milk, ice cream, butter, a bag of pork chops, pickles, knives, bottle stoppers, kettles, baking pans, paper towels and brass knobs from the water faucets.

"They'll take anything that isn't fastened down," said Launie. "They even swiped my phone that was nailed to the wall with four-inch bolts."

Every window in the building has been smashed at one time or another, he said.

"They've jimmied the door, crawled through the smoke vent in the roof and pounded the side of the diner with a sledge hammer," he continued. "I'm waiting for them to start tunneling under the floor like moles."

After 30 burglaries, Launie said he offered a $100 reward.

"One fellow was caught. He got one to one and a half years in the workhouse," he said.

AGENDA FOR FUTURE

Johnson Defends Vietnam Policies

CHICAGO (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson says he hopes the Nixon administration will expand his domestic programs to make the "quality of life" for all Americans "match the quantity of our weath."

In his first published comments since relinquishing the presidency to Richard M. Nixon one week ago, Johnson says he had no "acceptable option" to escalating the Vietnam war—a war he called "the most frustrating."

The former president clearly identifies himself with social legislation and reveals his regret that international developments prevented him from concentrating solely on domestic improvements.

AGONY

In the article which is both a hope for the future and a defense of his five years in the White House — Johnson writes that "the agony and the cruelty of the American presidency is that . . . the world will not permit the occupant of the office—nor the American people themselves—to attend the needs of this society without diversion."

Johnson wrote the 30,000-word commentary on his White House years for the Encyclopedia Britannica Book of the Year to be published March 1.

Entitled, "Agenda for the Future: Presidential Perspective," it was released today.

On Vietnam, Johnson says he dreaded the prospect of being "a wartime president . . . but history determined that I should face the awful choice of intervention or retreat in Southeast Asia.

"I could not escape or delay it. Vietnam has been the most frustrating of all the crises I have faced."

POVERTY

Although containing several other foreign policy observations, the summary stresses Johnson's concern with the improvement the lot of the poor and, without mentioning it by name, says the new administration should not curtail programs initiated through the Office of Economic Opportunity to alleviate poverty.

"We can turn our backs, if we wish," Johnson writes, "and future generations will say of us: At the very moment when they had more wealth than any civilization in history, they allowed poverty to become a permanent part of the American way of life."

However, he adds, "By the time we enter our third century (in 1976), or very soon thereafter, we can, if we will, make the commitments of the 1960s a reality for all our people."

Crack Egg Case—Find Gun Omelet

A Filipino investigator, who found more than eggs in one basket, wields a contraband pistol as Mrs. Celestina Ramos, 39, covers her face at a Manila police station. Police said she was heading for market last week with the arms concealed beneath a layer of eggs in her market basket, right. On the theory that no one ever carries all their guns in one basket they searched a friend and found two more revolvers in a paper sack. Both were charged with illegal possession of firearms by police who found the eggs a paltry cover-up.

Twenty-Five Persons Die Violently During Period

By The Associated Press

A fire and explosion in Bexar County got the Associated Press weekend violent death toll off to a tragic start when it claimed the lives of a South Texas mother and her five children.

The tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday. Twenty-five persons died violently during the period. Eight were killed in fires, seven died of gunshot wounds, nine were killed in traffic accidents and one person was beaten to death.

INFERNO

Mrs. Helen Ruth Patterson, 35, and her children died early Saturday morning when an explosion, apparently caused by a leaking butane stove, turned their home into a blazing inferno.

The husband, 42-year-old Will Eugene Patterson, apparently was blown outside the house by the blast. He was listed in critical condition at a hospital.

The children killed in the blaze were Eugene Jr., 18; Nancy, 16; Margaret, 13; John Robert 12; and Betty Arlene, 4.

Nathan Thant, about 60, of Fort Worth, died Friday in a fire at his Southside residence.

William Leonard McNeal, 52, of Dallas was killed Friday when the car he was driving collided with a truck on a Dallas expressway.

Robert Wade of Lamesa died in a head-on collision Friday night on Texas 137 about 15 miles south of Brownfield.

A shooting Friday night on the Northeast side of Houston resulted in the death of Todd Williams, 30, of Houston.

A two-car collision Friday night at the intersection of Farm Road 1725 and 3081 caused the death of Mrs. Alvin Martin, 67, of Cleveland.

BEATEN TO DEATH

Clifford Lamar Southerland, 36, of Waxahachie was found dead of gunshot wounds in a second-floor room of his home Saturday night. A justice of the peace said the shooting appeared to have been accidental.

Mrs. Alma Carter, 57, of Wichita Falls was found beaten to death Saturday afternoon at a self-service gas station in Wichita Falls. Police said she had been killed with a brick.

Two San Antonio residents perished in a three-car accident Friday night 1.4 miles north of San Geronimo on Texas 16. The victims were identified as Carrie Sepulveda, 49, and Barbara Mazeruk, both of San Antonio.

An argument at a Fort Worth night club Saturday night ended in the shooting death of Joaquin Castillo, 28, of Fort Worth.

Elijah Suell, 50, of Fort Worth died Saturday night in a Fort Worth hospital of injuries suffered in a shooting incident.

A Longview woman, Patsy White, 21, died in a four-car smashup on a Longview city street Saturday night.

Carl Weston Weaver, 42, of Houston burned to death in an apartment house fire in southeast Houston early Sunday.

Rudy Rodriguez, 35, was fatally shot early Sunday at the rear of a bar in Houston following an argument. Police are holding a 39-year-old man in the slaying.

WOMAN JAILED

Dewey Malcolm Osborne, 46, of Dallas, was killed late Saturday night when he was struck by a car as he walked across a highway near the Hopkins County community of Cumby, near Sulphur Springs.

A Dallas truck driver, J. B. McPherson, 57, died of smoke inhalation Sunday morning when fire broke out in his motel room at Pecos in West Texas. Walter Williams of Irving was in an adjoining room and pulled the body from the burning room.

Victor Galloway, 25, of Houston was killed Saturday night when his car left the road and overturned five miles north of Onalaska in Polk County.

A Dallas man, George Peshak, was killed in a one-car crash Saturday night in Northwest Dallas. He was 18.

Gilberto Reyes, 23, of Robstown was dead on arrival at a Robstown hospital Sunday night after being shot at a local bar. Police held a 40-year-old woman for questioning.

Negotiators Consider Effect Of Red Attacks

PARIS (AP) — American and South Vietnamese negotiators studied reports today on the upsurge of Viet Cong attacks, considering their effect on the Vietnam peace talks.

The attacks, apparently timed to coincide with the opening of the four party conference, intensified over the weekend along the Cambodian border and in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon.

NEW WAVE

South Vietnamese sources said the Saigon government probably would instruct its delegate, Pham Dang Lam, to warn the next meeting of the conference Thursday that any new wave of violence could obstruct the way to peace.

American officials said the attacks "are not likely to improve the atmosphere" at the conference. But they added that the U.S. Government has always expected the fighting to continue, at least through the initial stages of the new series of talks.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front have never concealed their intention to "fight and talk," to continue the war unabated until the United States has agreed to withdraw its forces from South Vietnam.

Their delegates made this clear again in their statements to the opening plenary session Saturday.

"As long as the United States continues its aggression, the 31 million Vietnamese, united as one man, will go on fighting until total victory," said Hanoi's delegate Xuan Thuy.

SAME WORDS

Tran Buu Kiem, "foreign minister" of the NLF central committee, used almost the same words to warn that the fighting would not subside just because the conference has started.

Although the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam last November to get the Paris talks going, it intensified its bombing of North Vietnamese troops and supplies moving south through Laos. And U.S. and South Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam have intensified their operations seeking to root out the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and destroy them.

Cowboy Cops Cash After Fast Escort

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dean Oliver needed a police escort to reach the Stock Show Rodeo Sunday night, but a fast squad car just might have helped him win several thousand dollars.

Oliver, a seven-time world champion roper and three-time all around cowboy, arrived at Will Rogers Coliseum in time to toss and tie a speeding calf in 10.7 seconds, a score which gives him the first go-round lead of that event.

The Boise, Ida., cowboy had a police escort because he was involved earlier in a fight with a state livestock inspector.

The fight occurred at the east entrance to the stock show grounds on Crestline Road, according to police.

Simple assault charges were filed on Oliver, who was booked at city jail where he posted a $25 bond and was released in time to take the calf roping lead.

Harold Huddleston, a security guard at the gate, said Oliver hit the inspector after the latter grabbed the reins of the horse the cowboy was riding. Huddleston said there was an argument over possession of a health certificate.

Earlier in the show, young Larry Mahan of Brooks, Ore., the current all around champion, rode to a 74-point score in bareback bronc to go ahead of the leader, Jim Shoulders of Henrietta, Okla.

Mahan, who has been all around champ for the past three years, also came out Sunday night on the bulls and posted a high 67 score but that mark still lagged behind the event leader, Doug Brown of Silverton, Ore., who has a 73-point ride.

Shoulders, a legend in rodeo circles with five all around cowboy titles scattered among his 16 world championship belts, no longer competes regularly.

Dear Abby

Problem Of Pornography

DEAR ABBY: Today I received a third class letter addressed to my "husband" and myself. (My husband has been dead for 12 years.) There was no return address on the envelope, but it was post-marked "Los Angeles."

Upon opening it I found an invitation to send for a book on sex relations for $10. There were also drawings of "things to use" — about 10 items ranging from $10 to $75 each.

From whom did these sellers of pornography get my name? I thought there was a law against sending this kind of stuff through the mails.

I know I can just throw junk like this in the waste paper basket, but people who peddle such stuff should be put out of business.

What do you advise?

TWIN CITIAN

DEAR ABBY: Our 16-year-old son recently received in the mails a catalog listing some "stag films" at $35 each. Some of the titles were, "Hubby Returns from out of Town Unexpectedly," "A Wedding Night Through the Keyhold," "Love Making Techniques in 30 Different Countries," and "Boys with Boys and Girls with Girls." Do I have to say anything further?

Abby, our son is a decent, clean-minded young man, who is active in the youth group at our church. He brought this catalog to his father saying he had no idea why it was sent to him.

Now, YOU tell ME. What are parents supposed to do about a situation like this?

UPSET IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about objectionable material received in the mail? I refer to advertisements for books, magazines, pornographic pictures and even "contraptions" to make "sex in marriage more fun."

I was told to take this stuff to the post office and give it to my postmaster. So that's what I did. He told me all he could do is return it to the sender and request that my name be taken off their mailing list. Why should I be put to the trouble of going to the post office with this trash?

DISGUSTED IN DAYTON, OHIO

DEAR UPSET, IRRITATED, & DISGUSTED: I am informed that unsolicited advertisements or material in the mails which the recipient regards as "erotically arousing or sexually provocative," should be returned to HIS (the recipient's) postmaster with instructions to be removed from that mailing list. If there are children under 19 living at home, their names may be listed to prevent them from receiving such mail or material.

If the request is not respected, and a second mailing is made, the senders are in violation of the law and may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

No one is responsible for the return of mail or material sent to him unsolicited. Nor should he be inconvenienced by GOING personally to the post office. He may put all the unwanted mail into a large envelope, seal and mark the envelope: "ATTENTION POSTMASTER," and drop it (without postage) into any mail box.

Returning it "POSTAGE DUE" accomplishes nothing as the recipient may refuse to accept it if he so chooses.

For more detailed information on this subject write to U.S. Post Office Department, Washington, D.C. 20260.

Nixon Administration Off To Good Beginning In Paris

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the Nixon administration is off to "a good beginning" in taking over the U.S. role at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Mansfield said proposals made by Nixon's representative in Paris, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, seemed aimed at establishing "the strongest possible positions" for the United States.

Mansfield was joined in his assessment by Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, who said the talks under Lodge were off to "a very good start."

Both senators, however, cautioned that the discussions are not likely to move to a quick settlement.

Neither Mansfield nor Aiken said they saw much difference in the Paris policies of the Nixon delegation from those followed by the U.S. negotiators sent by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The chief U.S. negotiator under Johnson, W. Averell Harriman, said Sunday he could not predict but hopes for a de-escalation in the fighting and the withdrawal of some American troops from Vietnam by the end of this year.

"I would hope very much that a mutual agreement could be reached in de-escalation of the fighting, and it would be possible for a mutual agreement on the withdrawal of foreign forces, including those of Vietnam, and we could see some of our men come home this year with very much reduced fighting."

Harriman was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press" radio-TV program.

Hope for a quick settlement also came from Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and a strong critic of the war policies pursued by Johnson.

Nixon "didn't get us into this unfortunate situation and I think he ought to settle it and I believe he will because I think he has the sense of the significance of this past election . . ."

The American people will support Nixon "If he settles this war on any kind of reasonable basis," Fulbright said.

DWI Increase

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Almost 5,000 motorists in New York State were arrested by state police in 1968 for drunken driving, twice the number arrested on that charge the year before.

State Police Supt. William E. Kirwan attributed the increase to the use of 24 breath-testing machines, 12 times the number state police had in 1967.

Commissioners OK County Road Jobs

Howard County commissioners voted Monday to spend $35,167.50 to sealcoat 52.1 miles of county roads in 1969.

J. D. Nixon, foreman of the road department, presented the program to the commissioners' court at a cost of $675 per mile for materials.

Nixon's plan called for sealcoating of 10.5 miles in Precinct 1, 15.8 miles in Precinct 2, 12.8 miles in Precinct 3, and 13 miles in Precinct 4.

Sealcoating in Precinct 1 would include three miles of the Moore Road, 3.2 miles of the West Knott Road and 4.3 miles on the Allred Road.

Precinct 2 sealcoating would be made on five miles of the Stanolind Road, 2.4 miles on the Sinclair Road, and 4.8 miles on the Forsan Road. Also, there would be .4 mile each on the Hooser Road and Rocko Road, plus .8 mile on the Carbon Black Road and two miles on the Midway Road.

Work in Precinct 3 calls for three miles of sealcoating on old US 87, 7.3 miles on Wasson Road, and 2.5 miles on the Lomax Road.

Precinct 4 sealcoating would be done on 2 miles each on the Fairview, Ingram, Gay Hill and Old Colorado roads, plus four miles on the Center Point Road and one mile on North Birdwell Lane.

Last week the commissioners court reviewed new paving projects this year, and listed some 12 miles of paving across the county which could be done with funds allocated in the budget.

In other business the court accepted a low bid of $1,075 from Motorola Corp. for a two-way radio to be installed in a new car purchased for the sheriff's department. General Electric Corp. submitted a bid of $1,105.

The court also ordered the advertisement for bids to be opened Feb. 17 on two trucks for the road department.

Retail Sales In Texas Up 10 Per Cent

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' December retail sales maintained the high level of activity on which the state economy operated throughout the year, University of Texas economists reported Saturday.

Total retail sales in Texas during 1968 increased 10 per cent over 1967, said Dennis W. Cooper, research associate with the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

This increase is significantly larger than the comparable 7 and 3 per cent growth rates recorded in 1966 and 1967, he said.

Sales of durable goods provided the bulk of the increase by registering a 17 per cent increase over the 1967 sales total. Sales of nondurable recorded a 6 per cent rise from 1967, Cooper said.

The Texas total retail sales figure of $1,972,000,000 for December represents an 18 per cent increase over the November total and a 7 per cent increase over December 1967.

Unadjusted statewide sales figures for nondurable during December show a majority of increases — a result of heavy Christmas shopping.

Texas' eight largest cities all reported increases in retail sales. Austin reported a 24 per cent increase from November 1968 to December 1968 and a 9 per cent increase from the same period a year ago. Dallas reported a 16 per cent monthly increase from November to December and an 11 per cent increase from December 1967 to December 1968. El Paso reported a 9 per cent increase from November to December and an 11 per cent increase over a year ago.

Fort Worth retail sales went up 13 per cent from November to December 1968 and 2 per cent from December 1967 to December 1968. Houston reported sales went up 34 per cent in the November-December monthly period and were up 6 per cent from a year ago. San Antonio reported increases of 11 per cent and 4 per cent respectively for sales from November to December and from a year ago.

The bureau said an analysis of factors which will affect retail sales during early 1969 produces an uncertain picture. Higher Social Security taxes, continuing inflationary pressures and payment of the retroactive portion of the federal tax surcharge will put a squeeze on many consumer pocketbooks during the first quarter of 1969, the bureau said.

Arrived Early For Her Wedding

LONDON (AP) — Pop singer Cilla Black got married Saturday—and was so excited she arrived breathless and early for the wedding.

"Can I come in? Am I late?" the 25-year-old entertainer called out as she ran up the steps of the Marylebone Register Office.

She was two minutes early, but the bridegroom, her personal manager Bobby Willis, 27, was there waiting.

Miss Black, one of Britain's highest paid girl singers, wore a mini burgundy - colored velvet dress which she bought two years ago for $19.20.

Feds Checking Blasts That Blackened Blocks

LAUREL, Miss (AP) — A series of explosions that blackened 10 square blocks, injured 39 persons and destroyed or damaged homes and industries is under federal investigation.

The explosion early Saturday involved 16 tank cars of butane gas on a Southern Railway train.

More than 700 persons who were evacuated when further explosions occurred were allowed to return home Sunday. Many found their homes burned to the ground. Others began repairing blackened walls and boarding up windows.

The economic impact was yet to be felt. The blasts leveled factories or businesses employing hundreds of workers.

F.M. Wells Jr., a Southern switchman, was credited with having prevented a worse disaster. Although not on duty, he went to the area and began uncoupling the burning cars—exploding one at a time—from the rest of the 26-car shipment so they could be pulled from the rest of the train.

Mayor Fern Buckalew, who said only a miracle prevented the loss of a single life, said, "I know it might have been a much worse disaster if he had not gone in and uncoupled those cars."

Blonde Flagpole Sitter Casts Vote

LONDON (AP) — A 22-year-old girl student climbed up the outside of five-story Rhodesia House to cast a symbolic vote for British-control over Prime Minister Ian Smith's rebellious government.

Anne Warren, a blonde student of architecture and a mountain climber, shinnied up the back side of the building housing Rhodesia's diplomatic mission in Britain, then attacked the flagpole 100 feet above street level.

She pulled down the Rhodesian flag and hoisted the Union Jack. Crowds in the teeming Strand stopped to watch, and firemen were called.

Student friends handed out leaflets in which Miss Warren said:

"As an ordinary British citizen with no political affiliation, I am making a personal protest at the presence of the Smith regime in Rhodesia House and the flying of their illegal flag over London. I have hoisted the Union Jack to symbolize my belief that the British government is neglecting its duty in allowing these people to remain."

Junior Colleges Money Bill Sent To Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas legislators passed their first bill today, sending Gov. Preston Smith a $905,815 appropriations bill to shore up sagging junior college and welfare finances.

Smith's signature is expected quickly.

The measure also contains extra money for the governor's office and the legislature, including a $305,000 reappropriation to the House of operating funds left over from the last legislative session.

It took the House seven minutes and the Senate five minutes to run the bill through. Senators passed the bill, 31-0.

The House vote on final passage of the appropriations measure was 141-4.

Speaker Gus Mutscher sent the bill through the House Temporary Appropriations Committee for quick action after endorsing it during his weekly news conference.

In addition to the $905,815 in new spending provided in the money bill, there also is a $350,000 public welfare fund transfer to the aid to families of dependent children program. A legislative aide said this would delay until June 1 a $28 per month cut in the maximum checks.

FUND TRANSFERS

Gov. Preston Smith said Friday the entire bill involved fund transfers. He said he would have provided the money by executive order but thought it best to leave the matter to the legislature. However, new appropriation cannot be made by executive order.

The bill contains $335,815 to help junior colleges meet enrollment increases: $115,000 for House expenses; $325,000 for senate expenses; and $130,000 for expenses of the governor's office.

Mutscher said there was "no emergency" in the House requirement for added money, which would be used, he said, for payment of secretaries, contingent expenses and interim activities.

The speaker also said he wanted to meet with Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Rules Committee chairmen of both houses to talk about joint rules, including the conference committee limit.

There has been "no change of position," he said, from his previous statement he is still studying the conference restrictions, which Barnes is known to favor.

Mutscher said he will address the House Wednesday and outline his views on conference committees.

PITFALLS

"I'm not saying I will come out with a definite position, but I will go into some of the things that would prohibit immediately endorsing it (the conference rule)," he said.

Mutscher suggested that those who want the powerful 10-man conference groups restricted might try to do this through a constitutional change.

"If the pitfalls are so strong, let's call it to the voters' attention," he said.

The speaker said he would name house committees Thursday, opening the door to introduction of bills. Barnes also is expected to make Senate committee assignments this week.

Mutscher said Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth will head the House Administration Committee.

Official Word Lists Available

An ample supply of the official word lists to be used in the Howard County Seventh Annual Spelling Bee is on hand at The Herald office.

If schools obtain the lists and distribute them the price of each of the lists is 15 cents. Persons who buy a copy of the list at The Herald office will pay 15 cents, plus one cent tax, for a total of 16 cents per copy.

The new sales tax, added since last year's spelling bee, accounts for the increase in cost.

The list, entitled "Words of the Champions," is used at all levels of the spelling bee from classroom competition to the national bee held in Washington, D.C.

Many youngsters who intend to try for a chance to compete in the county bee will be acquiring the lists early in order to begin studying.

The winner of the Howard County Spelling Bee — tentatively set for April 19 — gets a chance to compete in the regional bee which will be held in Lubbock. The regional winners get an all-expense trip to Washington and a chance at the national title.

The usual plan is for each classroom to conduct its own elimination and select a champion. When all of the classrooms in a school have named their champions, a school bee is held to determine the school champion.

Each school champion is entitled to vie in the county spelling bee for a chance at the regional title.

Record Vault

Pole vaulter Bob Seagren comes up to the bar on his way to a world's indoor record vault of 17 feet, 5¾ inches at the Albuquerque Invitational indoor track meet Saturday night. Seagren's vault topped his own world's record of 17 feet, 4¼ inches.

Seagren Celebrates With New Record

By The Associated Press

Bob Seagren celebrated the anniversary of his world pole vault mark Saturday by shattering it—while a pair of awesome Aussies did some record-breaking of their own as the indoor track season bloomed on six fronts last weekend.

Seagren, the U.S. Olympic champion, soared to his indoor mark of 17-5¾ in the Albuquerque Invitational and Australian Ralph Doubell, another Olympic Gold Medal winner, broke the 880-yard standard in the same meet. The other Aussie, Ron Clarke, smashed the three-mile run record at the Athens Invitational in Oakland Friday night.

And at Houston's Astrodome, six world's best marks were eclipsed at the Federation National Championships.

The Astrodome records, run on a five laps to the mile track, however, are not recognized as records by the Amateur Athletic Union. The AAU requires that a track be at least eight laps around.

The Federation marks were set by Lenox Miller, Southern Cal, 9.4 in the 100-yard dash; Olympic Gold medalist Willie Davenport in the 120-hurdles, 13.5; Hardee McAlhaney, the 600 in 1:08.1; Texas University in the mile-relay at 3:08.4; and Kansas State in the two-mile relay, 7:23.7, and medley relay, 3:17.9.

Seagren of Southern California, broke his own mark of 17-4½, which he set at the Wanamaker-Millrose Games in New York exactly one year ago, Jan. 25, 1968.

"It was a matter of pride," Seagren said Saturday. He was upset at himself for performing poorly in the Astrodome the night before where he had finished third at 16 feet behind UCLA's Dick Railback.

Doubell, another Gold Medal winner at the Mexico City Olympics, lowered the 880 time to 1:47.9, breaking Dave Patrick's 1:48.9. Doubell was pushed by Tom Von Ruden, who fiished in 1:50.4, but was on the Australian's heels most of the way.

The amazing 31-year-old Clarke, who predicted before the Athens meet, "I'll win, I expect to get the record," did just that, winning in 13:12.6, cracking Tracy Smith's standard of 13:15.2, set last year. Smith finished fourth in 13:52.8.

McAlhaney Likes Running In Astrodome, Sets Record

HOUSTON (AP) — Hardee McAlhaney, who set a world record for the 600-yard run this past weekend, says he'll return for the Second Federation National Relay Championships in the Astrodome.

"This was the first time I've ever run a race indoors and not been touched throughout the entire race," McAlhaney said Sunday. "In my opinion this track is just like running outdoors. It's great."

McAlhaney, who attends Tennessee, won the Invitational 600 Saturday night in 1:08.1 to exceed the 1:09.0 recorded in 1966 by Martin McGrady in Louisvilley, Ky.

"You don't have to fight for position and the curves are so wide you don't have anybody crowding in on you like you do everywhere else," said McAlhaney, Southeast Conference 440-yard dash champion.

"I'll put my stamp of approval on the track and I'll be back next year to run on it," he said.

In all, six world indoor records were set in the two-night meet, which made its debut with a new one-fifth mile track and field facilities that cost the promoters $80,000.

Friday night records—Kansas State, with Ken Swenson anchoring, posted a 3:17.9 in the sprint medley relay; Lennox Miller of Southern California took the 100 on 9.4; Olympic Gold Medalist Willie Davenport of Southern California flew over the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.5, and Rice University sprinted to a 3:09.6 in the mile relay preliminaries.

Other Saturday night records-Texas upset Rice in the mile relay as Dave Morton posted a 45.8 anchor time and the Longhorns won with a 3:08.4.

Six Area Gridders On Academic Honor Squad

Six area players have been named to All-West Texas Academic football team by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Selected to the mythical squad, which combines ability on the gridiron with brain in the classroom, are Dale Boyd, Lamesa High School lineman; Randy Parker, Colorado City cornerback; Dan Steakley, Colorado City defensive halfback; Johnny McGregor, Sands High School lineman; Lance Hopper, Sands linebacker; and Merlin Medlin, Forsan defensive back.

Nominations to the team were made from the more than 400 high schools in the 132-county area served by the WTCC, and selection to team membership was made by a special committee named by Beverly King, Graham, WTCC president.

Defensive and offensive teams were named in all classifications from AAAA to Class B. To qualify for nomination to these teams the students had to be classified as seniors, maintain much better than average grades, and he must have been selected to represent his school on an all-district team.

Dale Boyd represented Lamesa as an offensive lineman on the AAA team, and holds a 93.16 grade average. The Colorado City pair of Randy Parker and Dan Steakley is also on the AAA squad, with Parker posting an 89.3 mark and Steakley a 95.2 average.

Johnny McGregor and Lance Hopper, both of Sands, are on the Class B unit, and McGregor has a 91.2 average while Hopper posts a 90.0 mark. Also on the Class B defensive unit is Merlin Medlin, Forsan, with a 92.2 average.

DOESN'T PLAN TO PLAY FOOTBALL 10 YEARS

O. J. Wants $600,000 From Buffalo Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — The pickings will be easy for the Buffalo Bills at the outset of Tuesday's pro football draft. After that, O.J. Simpson's apparent employers-to-be could run into double trouble:

—Getting O.J.'s signature on a Buffalo contract.

—And finding a top flight quarterback to complement the brilliant ball carrier from Southern California.

With the American and National football leagues' third combined draft session less than 24 hours away, it's a foregone conclusion that the Bills will make Simpson the No. 1 selection.

Then they'll have to meet the Heisman Trophy winner's price —more than $600,000, according to his business manager. And even with O.J. in the backfield they still won't go places in the AFL without a skilled quarterback, according to Joe Namath.

Chuck Barnes, president of Sports Headliners, Inc., said last weekend he and Simpson have a figure in mind in excess of the $600,000 bonus-salary package given Donny Anderson by the Green Bay Packers in 1964.

"We're not talking about anything as long term as 10 years," Barnes said. "I don't think O.J. wants to play football that long. He is interested in going into social work after football.

"If the Bills were unwilling to meet our price, we would be willing to negotiate. Our No. 1 responsibility will be to work out the best arrangement we can for O.J.

"We know how much we're thinking about, but we don't want to end up doing our negotiating in the papers."

Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, paused between planes on a trip to the Far East and said he expects the only trouble Simpson will have with the Bills will be "figuring out how to spend his money."

Quarterbacks might be at a premium in the two-day draft session, during which 442 college players will be selected over 17 rounds by the 16 NFL and 10 AFL clubs.

The Los Angeles Rams will have three first round selections as a result of earlier trades. The San Francisco 49ers and San Diego Chargers will get two No. 1 picks apiece.

By the time Buffalo, given the top pick because its 1-12-1 record last season was the poorest in either league, gets a second shot, the quarterbacks rated highest by pro scouts—Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty, Kansas' Bob Douglass, Cincinnati's Greg Cook—figure to be long gone.

Hunt Favors Two Leagues

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Lamar Hunt, the founder of the American Football League, is open to the floor for suggestions on this realignment business with the National Football League.

"I don't have any real strong feelings one way or the other, but I feel it is very important for pro football in the final product to have two entities in the mind of the public battling toward a championship game," said Hunt, a member of a six-man committee studying realignment.

He said "I think it would be a mistake to go to one single league and call it the United Football League or something with an Eastern versus Western Division playoff.

"But I want to hear all the ideas before I make up my mind. I know that Miami (AFL) would like to get some big name attractions in the Orange Bowl. It only averaged 31,000 per game last year and would like to bring Baltimore and other teams down.

"For Kansas City, this doesn't matter. We had an average of 99 per cent attendance last year only playing rinky dink AFL teams. But I can see where (quarterback) Joe Namath of the Jets would be a tremendous draw in an AFL town such as Pittsburgh which is having its problems."

Hunt said the Jets' 16-7 victory over Baltimore in the Super Bowl helped those arguing against realignment.

"The public likes to see a horse race and there definitely wasn't one the first two years of the Super Bowl," Hunt said. "All athletics is built on competition and when the AFL, the underdog, won it provided a tremendous boost to pro football.

"That game doesn't necessarily mean we have reached parity with the NFL. In fact, I think equality from top to bottom was shown when we won 13 of the 23 exhibition games from the NFL. But the Jet victory will certainly stand as the turning point—when the AFL grew up."

Hunt said many things needed to be considered before hasty realignment action is taken such as stadium capacity, conflicts with baseball, weather, and television.

"The number of the teams in each league is the most obvious problem," Hunt said. "One league (NFL) has 16 and the other has 10. It would be much better if we had an even number of teams—maybe in a 10 or 15 year expansion program.

"To me this would be a healthy thing. But you have to be careful. You wouldn't want to add cities that would have a hard time supporting pro football. There has been such a rapid change in this country that you can't consider 26 teams a magic number. A city like Seattle, for example, is a lot bigger than Kansas City or New Orleans."

Bankers Seeking Perfect Record

First National Bank will try to hold onto first place and keep its slate clean when the first round play in the YMCA Adult Basketball League ends tonight.

The Bankers will clash with First Federal Savings at 8 p.m. in a game that will decide the first round title. First Federal stands 3-1 for the season, and a win over First National, now 4-0, would throw the two teams into a tie for the leadership.

Action will open at 6 p.m. with Big Spring New Car Dealers, 2-2, facing Furr's, 0-4. The Civitans, 2-1, will contest Tompkins Oil Co., 1-3, at 7 p.m.

Douglass Has One Stroke Lead At Pebble Beach

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — An event that for a time had seemed as unlikely as the reappearance of the sun over the state of California takes place today: the fourth and final round of the 1969 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The rains and high winds that have put much of the state under water for the last week and a half were for the most part absent Sunday as steady Dale Douglass took a precarious one-stroke lead into today's final.

Douglass shot a two-under-par 70 over the rugged Pebble Beach course—scene of all the action today as the golfers making the cut converge from two other courses—to go six-under-par for the rain-delayed tournament with a 210 total score.

Following Douglass, a 32-year-old pro from Denver, were one golfer for every score up to par: Howie Johnson at 211, George Archer at 212, John Lotz at 213, Jerry McGee at 214 and Grier Jones at 215.

Douglass, "hitting the ball better than I ever have," shot par of 16 holes on the 6,777-yard Pebble Beach course and birdied the other two. It was a far cry from the final day of the 1963 Crosby when he took 19 strokes to finish the 10th hole.

Detroit Tigers Are Named AP's Team Of The Year

DETROIT (AP) — It's been said that all good things come to those who wait. The Detroit Tigers waited 23 years for a pennant and World Series championship and now the good things won't stop coming.

Latest honor bestowed on the world champions came Sunday when Detroit was named The Associated Press 1968 Team of the Year.

Although everyone associated with the team probably had little doubt which was the Team of the Year, sports writers and broadcasters made it official by giving Detroit 553 points, including 10 first-place votes in nationwide, year-end balloting.

"It is quite an honor to be picked the best team," said Manager Mayo Smith without any visible surprise. "But the players don't think about such honors when they're playing."

Before 1968 the last time Detroit won an American League pennant was in 1945, but it was not the season's performance that influenced the voters for the year's No. 1 team, Smith said.

"I think probably the reason we were picked was because of coming back after being down 3-1 in the World Series," he said, "I'm sure that's what influenced the voting."

A LOVELIER YOU

Reduce Fat Ankles By Daily Routines

By MARY SU MILLER

Today ankles play no small part in a prize-winning figure. Their shapeliness conditions the grace of the legs.

If you would care to write off heavy problems, you can do it — literally. Like so:

Place a large sheet of wrapping paper on the floor, about 12 inches from a straight chair. Next sit on the edge of the chair and insert a pencil between the big and second toes of the right foot.

Now touch pencil to paper, very lightly, arch the ankle and write, "Blue Ribbon Be Mine," repeating each letter twice before going on to the next. Then perform with left foot. Throughout, work for maximum stretch and movement in the ankles. Also, try to form the letters with precision. The neater your "footmanship," the neater your ankles.

And there's still another dividend. The routine increases the mobile grace of your feet and legs, an asset now much in demand. You just must have a swinging gait to keep pace with spring's fluid fashions.

Reducing Extra: Be sure to keep the heel tips of your shoes straightened. Also, check your shoes for slip; they must snug your foot without flip or flop. When shoes are out of balance, the ankle muscles develop fatty pads as compensation.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

Birthday Dance Held Saturday

Miss Evette Fisher was complimented with a dinner dance on the occasion of her 16th birthday Saturday evening in the Patio Room at Holiday Inn. Hosting the affair were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Bernard Fisher, 1902 Morrison Drive. Miss Fisher is the eldest granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fisher, pioneer residents of Big Spring.

The honoree was attired in a white formal gown designed with lace Empire bodice and silk chiffon skirt. She was presented a corsage of brown orchids. Her mother chose a red silk chiffon cage dress accented at the neck and wrists with red sequins, and she wore a corsage of white orchids.

The refreshment table was accented with floral arrangements of chrysanthemums, spider chrysanthemums, carnations and gladioli in a pink and white motif. Additional pink nosegays were placed on the tables. Miss Wilmajean Fisher, sister of the honoree, served refreshments.

Music was provided by the Soul Skaters, and Terrence Colyer served as soloist. Miss Darla Reid presided at the guest register, and approximately 60 guests attended.

Miss Fisher will receive a bound album of photographs from her parents to commemorate the occasion.

A Devotional For The Day

He sent from above, he took me; he drew me out of many waters. (II Samuel 22:17)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, open our eyes that we may see Your outstretched hand. Take hold of our lives and draw us close to Your saving presence; through Jesus Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.

Watson's Postal Valedictory

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson's swan song is an interesting document. Elimination of the 10-cent air mail charge and raising regular mail to seven cents from six cents is one of its most notable features.

A less imaginative man would have adopted the expedient of the past: Just raise the first-class rate to seven cents, continue the 10-cent air mail rate, and let people holler until they are tired.

But the fact is that most first-class mail is carried by air anyway. Sneaky first-class mail users, aware of this, haven't bothered to use the 10 cent stamp when the six-cent stamp gets approximately the same service.

Watson also recommended that Congress convert the Post Office Department into a non-profit government corporation to minimize political and congressional control or interference. He also asked for a network of mechanized "mail factories" to cost about $1 billion.

Watson said his proposals represent "the only solution possible for the postal service has become lost in a paper jungle, gradually being overwhelmed by both the mail and the archaic method of handling it."

Congress will probably have to accept at least half of Watson's major proposals. Public demand will force members to mechanize mail handling in order to keep up with the rising tide of mail. The other half, that part about a non-profit government corporation, may have to await a more enlightened Congress than the present one. But it, too, should come in time. The biggest obstacle to this — as with many innovations — is the postal lobby itself.

Panelists Push For School Reform

Cosponsors for the bills to implement recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education were well chosen. They are Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

Both are veteran legislators, experienced in the intricacies of major bill-handling and, when necessary, parliamentary infighting. Undoubtedly some compromises will have to be made in achieving passage of a school-improvement program of such magnitude and with some certain points of sharp controversy. But we believe, and hope, that these managers of the bills can and will keep any weakening compromises to the minimum.

"Babe" Schwartz, labeled a liberal, has been a hard-fighting, strong-minded leader of a small minority in the Texas Senate in past years. But the complexion of the Senate is now sufficiently changed that his views are more likely to coincide with the majority's.

Rep. Hale was a successful cosponsor of the Hale-Aikin public school reform bill of 1959, that updated the Gilmer-Aikin Act of 1949, which established the present structure of the Texas school system. He has regularly been a member of the House Education Committee, specialized in school legislation, and has exceptional support of Texas school teachers statewide.

Sen. Schwartz and Rep. Hale will have their greatest trouble over the proposals for compulsory consolidation of small school districts and for requiring more local tax support from school districts not now providing their fair share to match state aid. But these reforms on some practical basis, are fundamental to the success of the broad program toward equalizing the quality of education in Texas.

Realistically, they face tough sledding, but some beginning needs to be made.

Pros And Cons In Texas

Efforts To Hire Negro Policemen Failing

By SHELBY HAGER
Associated Press Writer

Police officials in large Texas cities as well as across the nation are asking themselves why efforts to recruit Negro policemen apparently are failing.

Officers in departments in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth and the Texas Department of Public Safety acknowledge that young Negroes are not filing application for police work, a survey by the Associated Press shows.

A NEGRO recruiter assigned in Dallas to the job of talking Negroes into joining the force has some views, based on experience.

He is Emmett Hill, who said the greatest drawback is that young Negroes are suspicious of him and the police department.

And, said Hill, hostility toward policemen among Negroes is increasing.

What is needed, said the officer, is a crash program to improve the image of policemen in minority neighborhoods.

And, said Hill, "white officers must learn to approach Negroes without using provocative terms like 'boy.' They need to practice more respect in working with the Negro in general."

Hill also urged, in an interview, the placing of Negro policemen in predominantly Negro sections.

"I KNOW THIS SOUNDS like reverse discrimination," he said, "But the Negro youngsters need to see Negroes in uniform."

The Dallas policeman spoke candidly in an interview along with Lt. C. S. Bridges, a white officer. The two men said they were good friends and felt free to discuss racial problems openly.

Lt. Bridges said the Dallas department will hire as many Negroes "as we can fine who qualify."

Hill attested to his department's sincerity in seeking Negro applicants. But he said the screening process failed to account for problems Negroes face almost exclusively.

"The Negro is penalized on the written test," Hill said. "The test focuses on data the Negro has not been exposed to in great measure educationally or culturally."

HILL SAID THE NEGRO applicant's years of schooling and general intelligence can be equal to the white prospect and still fail to qualify him in terms of the test. Dallas presently is examining other qualifying tests.

The Negro policeman also contended that interview boards should have the freedom to restrict their consideration to the applicant personally and overlook criminal records of relatives.

"How many young Negroes do not have some close relative who has been to the penitentiary?" Hill asked.

Lt. Bridges disagreed on both points.

He said the same percentage of Negroes passes the written test as whites. The test — the Army Alpha Test — eliminates about 50 per cent of the prospects.

"AND I CAN'T AGREE on the consideration of family police records," the officer said. "A policeman must be free of any possibliity of having to compromise between family and duty."

Dallas has 24 Negro policemen. They are assigned to general beats in integrated squads. Several work in community service centers in predominantly Negro areas.

A Houston spokesman said his department faces the same problems as Dallas. But the officer said Houston minority groups seemed to understand the department's efforts. Houston has between 50 and 60 Negro officers, including a half a dozen women.

Billy Graham

Jesus said, "You can't serve God and mammon." Now, as I understand it, mammon is money. Does this mean that we are to have nothing to do with money? How can this be in a materialistic society? S.F.

Mammon was a pagan god and was supported by prostitution. This word "mammon" in Christ's day had come to symbolize apostasy and immorality, hence Jesus said, "You can't serve God and mammon."

But what meaning does this have for us today? Scriptures have a unique way of adapting themselves to the times, and this one is no exception. Christianity is still being adulterated, and many choose the easy, comfortable, modern version of Christianity rather than the Way of the Cross. Our generation is filled with sex and immorality. It oozes from the TV screen, it is spashed over the pages of our magazines, and thousands are trapped by mankind's oldest and most devastating sin. But in the midst of all this we hear Christ say, "You can't serve God and mammon."

I believe "mammon" also connotes the things we substitute for a real faith in God. While we Americans have no graven images to worship, in many instances we worship prestige, luxury, fine things, fancy food, and leisure. These are the lures of a materialistic society. I know many church members who, when a choice comes between a day of water skiing, and an hour in God's house, the water skiing wins precedence. This, of course, and many similar things where God is pushed aside for some other consuming interest, is "serving mammon", in the real sense. So, people have changed little. There is always the call of the childish instinct within us which heeds pleasure rather than duty. But, the words of our Lord ring loud and clear down through the centuries, "You cannot serve God and mammon."

Spending Money Yet Making Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty nine years ago Tom O'Hara of Detroit and several friends formed a club whose members would invest about $20 each a month in growth stocks. Since then the club has grown and prospered.

Two years ago O'Hara broke a 27-year tradition of not withdrawing a penny in profits. All these years he had reinvested what he earned, hoping thereby to pay for his retirement. But the education of his sons came first.

O'Hara decided to withdraw funds. For the past two years he has taken $5,000 a year out of his club in order to keep two youngsters in a private high school.

"I FELT PRETTY badly," O'Hara said. "When I began to make withdrawals I thought the whole thing could go downhill."

His fears weren't justified. For each $5,000 he took out, the increase in value of the rest of his stocks added $10,000. He was spending money yet making money.

Although this came as a pleasant surprise, O'Hara and his friends have become used to success. As an original member of the club he has deposited about $6,300, but his account is now worth $94,000.

The situation isn't typical, for this club was formed before the stock market achieved its present popularity. But somewhat similar examples aren't hard to find. The clubs are growing not only in numbers but in assets.

NOW CHAIRMAN of the National Association of Investment Clubs, O'Hara estimates there are about 60,000 clubs in the country and that their total value is about $1 billion.

The Association, whose rapidly growing membership now exceeds 11,000, finds that on average its members are earning more than 16 per cent a year, or doubling their investments every five years.

Most clubs, usually of 10 or 15 members, invest $20 or less each month, which means they give their broker about $250 or $275. Multiplied out, this comes to $15 million of stock purchases by the total of all clubs.

However, studies show that for every $1 invested in a club, members invest $3 in stocks on their own. The total investments of all club members therefore, comes to perhaps $45 million a month.

THE GROWTH in the number of clubs has been especially fast for example, gained more than during the past year. The NAIC, 2,000 members, and undoubtedly hundreds of other clubs were formed but didn't apply for membership.

This growth, O'Hara believes, is the result of a rising market. The drop of 1962 hurt the development of the club concept, but from 1965 on the market has—broadly speaking—been on an upgrade. Such success soon leads to more clubs.

Worth Remembering

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You have to be fast on your feet to survive in today's world, but as a matter of fact by the time you are 65 you will have spent 12 years of your life seated—and then you retire to a rocking chair.

Does your pet pooch have a doghouse of his very own? You can buy one now at prices ranging from $264 to $750. Wall-to-wall carpeting costs extra.

Humorist Jean Shepherd predicts that soon we'll be wearing suits of armor at night to protect us against muggers. But how would a fellow defend himself against a robber armed with a can opener?

THE MOTHER of Winston Churchill, the American-born Lady Randolph Churchill, gave more to immortality than her son. She is credited with inventing the Manhattan cocktail in 1874. Winston himself preferred brandy.

Disposable hospital rooms are being developed to protect patients against infection. They'll consist of a sanitary synthetic material which can be inflated inside the regular room and then discarded when the patient is discharged.

Speaking of germs, some scientists are worried that earth may be contaminated by new forms of life brought back by outer space vehicles. William S. Benninghoff, University of Michigan botanist, proposes that such vehicles be landed in a special area of Antarctica where any such micro-organisms could be isolated and destroyed.

STREET CRIMES at night are nothing new to cities. They were so common in ancient Rome that one citizen remarked, "You will be a fool to go out without making a will."

All of us have trouble making both ends meet, but at least we are better off than the sloth. This creature eats so slowly that by the time it finishes one meal it's time for the next.

Household hint: To lengthen the life of a new cord clothesline, boil it in soapy water for a few minutes before putting it up.

NOW THAT U.S. presidents have a six-figure annual income, few in the future should die broke. Those in the past who did include Thomas Jefferson, whose daughter had to sell his Monticello estate to pay his $40,000 debts, William Henry Harrison who left no estate, and U. S. Grant. However Grant's memoirs, written during his dying days, later earned $500,000 for his family.

Worth remembering: "Strangely, spare the rod and you get a beat generation."

It was Samuel Butler who observed, "I hate them which hate God, but I don't find God sufficiently hating them which hate me."

She Wants To Eat And Lose Weight

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
(First in a series of three articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am trying to lose weight and have read articles on "eat yourself to weight-loss" programs.

The authors say that by eating certain foods you burn up more calories digesting the food than you normally would. One article said a hard-boiled egg has 80 calories but that your body burned up 92 calories digesting it. It said that apples, oranges, and grain cereals do the same. It sounds too good to be true.

I also find that about a week before my menstrual periods I become very tired and depressed and my appetite is uncontrollable, so I eat more than ever but never feel satisfied.

I gain anywhere from 3 to 7 pounds and then lose it. Is this uncontrollable hunger all in my head, as my mother says, or is there a logical reason for it? — M.B.

There are at least three important weight problems in this one young woman's letter, and I can predict right now that I'll remain on this general topic for the next two or three days.

Losing weight is not a simple problem. Reduced to simplest denominators, if you use up more calories than you absorb in the form of food, you lose weight. If you eat more than you use up, you gain.

But actually doing it is not that easy. There are at least a dozen ways that a reducing diet can go wrong.

There are also pitfalls like trying to find some easy way to reduce without effort or thinking. This appealing nonsense about foods that "burn up calories" is one of them.

Suppose you ate nothing but eggs, apples, oranges, and grain cereals for a few days — all you wanted of them. You could keep yourself nourished without difficulty, and even gain weight.

Yet, according to the burning-up-calories theory, you should be losing weight!

One way to reduce successfully is to stay away from these gimmick diets. Some of them are pretty tricky, and some of them work — temporarily — but they do so only as long as they distract your attention from what you are really doing.

There's the much-touted diet involving grapefruit at every meal. That's a gimmick, too, very much similar to the technique a magician uses on the stage. You are so intent on the grapefruit that it never occurs to you that the rest of the diet sharply limits what you can eat.

These trick diets come and go. They come because they sound good; they go because there are inescapable flaws in them.

Tomorrow we'll talk about other problems that Miss M.B. is having in her attempt to reduce.

Around The Rim

Are We Destroying Ourselves?

One thing and another:

The blue whale may disappear from the earth this year.

Man may not be long in following. So say some of the leading biologists.

The human biped may last as long as 50 years but probably is doomed to more immediate extinction, according to the scientists.

THE DANGER isn't that he'll blow himself up with the H-bomb. He's more apt to destroy his species through the use of chemical wastes and residues.

Authorities say man remains his own worst enemy, more of a threat to his kind than any bacterium or insect pest could probably be.

He is destroying his life environment by making his water unfit to drink, tho air unfit to breathe and by clearing away living plants and plastering the earth with concrete and asphalt.

Apparently the countdown has already started.

LEND THIS your thought: Do husbands or wives start more of the quarrels between them?

No one who admits he is an authority on the subject will commit himself. However, it is an established fact that in the animal kingdom males almost never start spats with the female species.

The really smart male, one of my ancestors always told me, was one to let the woman have the last word.

I'VE NEVER seen Pat Paulsen do or say anything that strikes me as funny. Neither have I ever been able to appreciate the humor in the expression "Here comes da judge!"

But, for some reason, I always laugh if someone says:

"Find out if Sonny Tufts is doing anything."

THE STORY about the general and the computer also breaks me up.

"Will there be war or peace," the computer was asked by the general.

The computer flashed, buzzed, blinked and replied, "Yes."

"Yes, what?" snapped the general.

"Yes, SIR!" was the timid report.

HOW MANY PEOPLE do you know who can weather major tragedies but come unglued by petty annoyances?

* * *

A MAN OF profundity said not long ago that people who refuse to become involved in community problems are like the two men adrift at sea in a lifeboat. From the end of their boat they watched as those at the other end bailed furiously to keep the craft afloat.

One of the men turned to the other to say:

"Thank goodness the hole isn't at our end."

I think it should be the responsibility of every able-bodied, sane man in America, at least once on his life, to (1) serve on a responsible public commission (2) coach a football team, (3) teach a class of students at least one week and (4) umpire a baseball game. — TOMMY HART

Is LBJ Really Gone For Good?

WASHINGTON — For prima donnas like Lyndon Johnson every farewell appearance is "final" — until the next one is announced.

If you were a ticket holder for LBJ's last address to Congress, Jan. 14, 1969, hang onto the rain check. He'll be a Democratic aspirant in 1972 — or some of the Texans who know him well are talking through their Stetsons.

ONE OF THEM told a reporter: "No sooner was Hubert Humphrey nominated in Chicago than I began pulling for Nixon to win. I never met Spiro Agnew, but I'm grateful to him. Because if Nixon had made John Tower (R., Tex.) his vice presidential candidate, there might have been a bigger national Texan than Lyndon is."

This LBJ Democrat for '72 went on to ad lib the scenario: "Where does Nixon think he's going with this 91st Congress? Dick Russell (D., Ga.) is chairman of Senate Appropriations. George Mahon (D., Texas) is chairman of House of Appropriations. If Humphrey had been elected President last year, Johnson couldn't have opposed him next time. But President Nixon can't do anything except try to carry on the Johnson programs, and so what's wrong with Johnson for President in '72?"

THIS CONVERSATION, admittedly sanitized and rephrased to protect its source, is given for what it's worth — and it's worth a warning to President Nixon that he hasn't heard the last from LBJ.

The ex-President's wrap-up address this month can be read as a keynote speech rather than a valedictory. The lugubrious goodbyes to Captiol Hill places and persons did not blot out the bold signature that LBJ attached to the last pages of the splotchy record of the Great Society. His branding iron sizzled as it hit the cringing flesh of the nation and stamped there his copyright on the three civil rights bills, the omnibus aids to education, the manifesto for safe streets, the wars against poverty and pollution and the new playgrounds in expanded National Parks.

THE COUNTRY wouldn't call this a proud record, but Lyndon Johnson did — and there were almost enough bits-and-pieces of ragtag voter-appeal to put over Hubert Humphrey last November. Johnson gave very skimpy mention to the treadmill Paris conference or to the sorry stalemate in Vietnam. These wretched exhibits of his statecraft — of his bad luck and his bad judgment — drove him from office and defeated his deputy-candidate — but Mr. Nixon can't expect to be that fortunate again.

NEITHER CAN the country. Everytime some Democratic President gets us into war — Wilson, Roosevelt, Truman, Johnson — the Republicans win a national election. But the cost is too great for rejoicing. One of these times we're going to lose a war. Unless we're different from all other countries which have suffered major defeats, we're then going to be driven into changing our internal form of government, and the cost of unloading Democratic Presidents will be higher still. We need Mr. Nixon for a two-term executive, and in order to be one he must liquidate both the Vietnam War and the Great Society.

AS TO THE WAR, there is every sign that President Nixon is too much of an innate anti-Communist to surrender territory and population to the enemy. If he makes this very clear on the battlefield as well as in conference, we can still hope for the overdue victory. But how to raze the Great Society — rather than continue its construction as a monument to LBJ — is something else. If the new President skids into a dime-store liberalism to support Johnson's ongoing programs, he's making LBJ a logical Democratic candidate for '72.

Lyndon Again In 1972?

WASHINGTON — Lyndon B. Johnson made an impressive "exit" from government last week, and some speculation has been raised that maybe in the back of his mind he is planning another "entrance" in 1972.

Every detail of Mr. Johnson's series of farewell gatherings was apparently well planned. On each occasion he received a measure of applause which must have made him feel he might some day like to return to the presidency.

SINCE JOHNSON is recognized in the national capital as perhaps one of the most skillful politicians of this century, it was not unexpected that he attracted so much attention in the closing days of his administration.

The idea that Lyndon Johnson may run again for the presidency has been discussed from time to time. First of all, it is agreed that he knew the cards were stacked against him in the election of November, 1968, and his decision the previous March not to run again was undoubtedly due to his own political foresight. For he realized that the opposition to the Vietnam war and discontent over the riots and crime within this country had rolled up a vote of protest which would be hard to overcome.

BUT FOUR YEARS from now the story could be different. If there is a recession and the national economy is slowed down so that unemployment becomes substantial, the political effects could be felt in the 1970 congressional election and two years later. If the Vietnam war is settled, the supporters of Johnson will claim much of the credit for what was done prior to inauguration day to start the peace talks in Paris.

IT WILL BE SAID, of course, that in 1972 Mr. Johnson will have reached the age of 64 and that this is too old for anyone to seek the presidency. Yet William Henry Harrison was 68 years old when he was inaugurated. James Buchanan was 65 years old when he ran, and Zachary Taylor reached the age of 64 shortly after his election. Andrew Jackson was 65 years old when he sought a second term. More recently, Harry Truman was 64 years and a half when elected in 1948, and Dwight Eisenhower was 66 when he started his second term.

SO IT CAN hardly be said that an age of 64 years would present an insuperable obstacle. Much would depend on whether Mr. Johnson had recovered popularity. The polls show that in the last few weeks of his administration, Mr. Johnson got up to the 49 per cent mark. As compared to 35 per cent only a few months earlier.

It would not be unnatural to find Mr. Johnson — a veteran politician with many years in public service — yearning to get back in the White House. He knows that his administration was severely criticized, and nothing would please him more than to be vindicated by being given another term.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY is in a state of disarray today. It has a good deal of internal discord which isn't based on fundamental principles as much as on the ambitions of individual candidates. The theory that the youth of the country will demand more voice in politics in the future has been advanced. The actual proportion, however, of young persons active in politics is relatively low. The fact remains that the final results on the day after election in November showed that 41,000,000 voters had cast their ballots against the administration, compared with 31,000,000 who supported the Democratic candidate.

Under such circumstances, the Democratic party has a long way to go to regain the confidence of the people, and it will need tested leadership if it is to take over in 1972. So there may be a search for men of broad experience, and Lyndon Johnson cannot be ruled out completely as a possible candidate four years hence.

3 Dimensions Of Insurance

There are three dimensions to any insurance you purchase, whether the policy is for auto, home, business or any other type of insurance.

Jeff Brown, agent and owner of Permian Insurance Agency, says that three dimensions of insurance exist in the form of savings, service and security.

A purchaser of insurance should be concerned about each of these dimensions of insurance, says Brown. With inflationary spiral of business and living costs, certainly the first dimension of insurance — savings — should be given careful consideration.

Brown comments that the purchase of the cheapest insurance policy is not always a savings because the buyer also expects to save time and expenses if he has a claim to settle. The Permian Insurance Agency represents not just one company, but many, and their rates and cost of insurance are competitive. He personally guarantees his customers every saving of money he can offer.

The savings of time and headaches leads to the second dimension of insurance — service. The Permian Insurance Agency believes that service is the thing you should buy the most of when you purchase an insurance policy. A policy is just another document tucked away in a drawer somewhere until a claim arises, then the policy holder finds out just how much service he has purchased.

Service in the field of insurance is many things. Service is getting speedy attention to a claim when it arises, and is getting an equitable settlement. At Permian Insurance your claims are not only paid promptly, but the policy holder is assured of being paid exactly what he is entitled to under his policy. Service is being properly counseled on the type of insurance the buyer needs and can afford. Brown personally guarantees service to each of his customers.

The third dimension of insurance — security — means the fidelity and dependence of the company with whom you are insured. A policy holder must have the assurance that the company with whom he is insured will not go into a state of bankruptcy and will be able properly to pay claims filed.

BIG SPRING FURNITURE

Big Stock Of New, Used Furniture

A large selection of new furniture for the entire home, as well as a big stock of used pieces, are always on hand at Big Spring Furniture, 110 Main.

Frank Gibson, manager, says that Big Spring furniture is interested in trading for used furniture and occasionally buying some in order that they may have an adequate stock for their bargain basement. Terms can be arranged when purchasing furniture, whether new, used or a combination of both.

For people buying their first furniture, Big Spring Furniture has several groups of furniture from small apartments or small houses.

Many suites or pieces are available at Big Spring Furniture, and among them are the Spanish living room set by Fox and the Spanish bedroom suite by Bassett.

The Fox living room suite features reversible "Scotchgard" cushions, and material of solid pecan construction. The solid wood construction makes the furniture almost indestructible, and pecan woods blend with others should you wish to mix the woods in your living room.

Should new bedroom furniture be your desire, a Spanish design by Bassett will offer quality and durability, and can be purchased as a suite or by the piece. The Spanish design, constructed of oak with a walnut finish, comes in a double or triple dresser and with three, four or five drawer chests.

Regardless of the choice of bed — bunk, trundle, double, king-size or single — Bassett makes it in a popular Spanish model. Bassett Spanish design bedroom furniture is ideal for teenagers since the tops are finished with high pressure plastic that is ring-proof and carries the "Good Housekeeping" seal of approval.

The address at 110 Main for Big Spring Furniture houses new furniture, bargain basement and a warehouse for your convenience. The bargain basement is a good place to "browse around" even though you don't really need any furniture at the time.

Winter will soon be gone. Now is the time to dress up your home for spring with furniture from Big Spring Furniture.

After you have finished shopping, complement your rooms with accessories, lamps, pictures and wall medallions from Big Spring Furniture.

Champion Charolais - Angus Calf

This yearling Charolais-Angus crossbred calf, fed and shown by Dealy E. Blackshear, won first place in the junior show for senior Charolais calves at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. The 1,125-pound calf bred by Mike Rutherford of Buda was first in a class of 24. He earned his exhibitor $55 in prize money, plus what he will get in the sale Friday. Dealy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Blackshear, IS 20 east, and he is a pupil of Truett Vines, Big Spring High School vocational agriculture instructor, as is Coy McCann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight McCann, and who had the eighth-place calf in the junior Charolais calf class and the fourth steer in the senior Brahma class. Dealy had a third place calf from the Rutherford ranch at Houston last year.

RMN's 'Clarifications' To Arab Governments

By The Associated Press

President Nixon's administration has made "clarifications" to Arab governments modifying former President Lyndon B. Johnson's reply to the Soviet peace initiative on the Middle East, the semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

The paper said Nixon's position is that Johnson's reply of Jan. 15, which the Arabs claimed was "pro-Israeli," "should not be viewed as a detailed statement of America's policy."

Al Ahram said this was conveyed to Arab ambassadors and representatives in Washington and also to the Egyptian government.

Al Ahram reported earlier this month the Soviet Union had proposed that the major powers pressure Israel to give up territories it occupied in the June, 1967, war in return for an Arab declaration ending their state of belligerency. Al Ahram said Johnson instead advocated a U.N. peacemaking effort to encourage direct Arab-Israeli talks.

The Soviet Union has since thrown its support behind France's proposal for a Big Four meeting at the United Nations to push for an Arab-Israeli settlement. In New York, U.N. sources said the United States seems inclined to turn down France's proposal because it believes more can be accomplished by talking with various countries individually.

The sources said the thinking of the Nixon administration is running along these lines:

—The United Nations, the Security Council's resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, and the peace mission of special U.N. representative Gunnar V. Jarring are the best instruments to promote a Middle East settlement.

—There would be no utility in creating new machinery for that purpose.

—A Big Four conference might look like an attempt to impose a solution, and an imposed solution would not work.

But other diplomats said they still expect a Big Four meeting to be held at the United Nations by the third week in February. Jarring was due in New York today for talks with Secretary-General U Thant and they tended to regard his visit as a prelude.

Al Ahram also quoted "foreign diplomatic sources", in Cairo as saying that Israeli authorities have ceased reporting "except in the narrowest confines" Arab guerrilla activities in the occupied territories.

The newspaper said inhabitants of Israeli settlements have been instructed to "endure in silence" Arab sabotage raids so that less publicity and support be given the Arab commando movement.

BY SUPREME COURT

Far-Reaching Church Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A unanimous Supreme Court today prohibited courts throughout the land from deciding matters of church doctrine.

The far-reaching ruling said the Constitution forbids civil courts from reaching to "the very core of a religion" and determining if a church is adhering to its doctrines.

The immediate effect is to bar courts from settling property disputes that hinge on controversies over religious doctrine and practice.

It is likely to forestall breakways by dissident local churches whose congregations disagree with the philosophy and policies of the parent church bodies.

The ruling directly involved the million-member Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern) and its dispute with two local churches in Savannah, Ga.

In 1966 the membership of the local churches, Hull Memorial and Eastern Heights, voted to withdraw from the general church and reconstitute themselves as an autonomous Presbyterian organization. The congregations objected to various stands taken by the parent church, including support for civil disobedience as a last-ditch means of achieving civil rights.

LBJ's Memoirs May Net Million

NEW YORK (AP) — The first volume of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's memoirs will be published sometime next year, with the undisclosed proceeds—estimated by some at around $1.5 million—going to the Lyndon B. Johnson Public Affairs Foundation at the University of Texas.

The publishing firm will be Holt, Rinehart and Winston Inc., a wholly owned subsidary of the Columbia Broadcasting Corp.

The president of the publishing firm, Ross Sackett, said the $1.5 million figure "certainly could be an eventuality," but said it was "subject to contingencies."

The first volume will cover highlights of the presidency and is expected in about 18 months. At least two more books, covering "the active years of President Johnson in politics", are expected to follow at 12-month intervals.

Three To Attend Austin Luncheon

At least three members of the Big Spring Life Underwriters Association will be present for the legislative luncheon of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters in Austin Tuesday noon.

Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes will be present as will most members of the Texas legislature. This is a get-acquainted affair as well as one for underwriters to be briefed on legislative matters affecting them and their industry.

Planning on going from this association are Joe Williamson, Snyder, John Bennett and Ray Weir.

The next session of the Big Spring Life Underwriters is scheduled for noon, Feb. 4, at the Downtown Tea Room.

Consumer Credit Course Called

A consumer credit course, sponsored by the Credit Bureau of Greater Big Spring, will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday in the Holiday Inn.

Registration for the course is $10 per person, which may be paid at the door from 6:30 to 7 p.m. Bankers, retailers, credit officer personnel and other persons in the area interested in credit business are invited to attend the course.

The session will be conducted by Sterling S. Speake, lecturer for the International Consumer Credit Association.

Arctic Training

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (AP) — About 800 Minnesota National Guardsmen arrived at Camp Ripley Sunday night in eight below zero weather to begin 14 days of Arctic training.

The troops arrived 24 hours late because a snowstorm last week blocked many highways in the southwestern part of the state.

Blacklisting Charges Against Insurance Firm

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Newton I. Steers Jr., the state insurance commissioner, has announced charges of blacklisting against one of the largest automobile insurers in the nation.

Steers said Sunday that the Allstate Insurance Company is accused of refusing to sell collision coverage to persons living in downtown Baltimore.

Blacklisting is prohibited by state law.

Steers added that his department's complaint and investigation division "has furnished me with sufficient information to justify a hearing into the matter," as far as Allstate is concerned.

He declined comment on whether he would proceed against other companies.

The Allstate hearing has been set for Feb. 24 at the state insurance division offices in Baltimore.

State law allows an insurance company to refuse to sell in certain areas, if it lists the boundaries of such areas with the insurance commissioner. Steers said Allstate has not filed such a statement with his department.

If the allegations of several complaining witnesses are proven, Steers has the authority to suspend or revoke Allstate's license to do business in Maryland. He would also fine the company not les than $1,000 or more than $25,000.

'WE'VE BEEN SHOOTING THEM UP AS FAST AS WE FIND THEM'

Reds Building Bunkers In DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported 180 more indications of North Vietnamese activity inside the demilitarized zone during a five-day period last week.

"We still have a lot of sightings of enemy troops in the DMZ," said a U.S. source, "but it doesn't appear anything major has moved across. There have been no large unit sightings reported and we doubt that there are any regimental or division headquarters in the area."

PEACE SEARCH

Another source said that North Vietnamese troops were building bunkers in both halves of the DMZ, but "we've been shooting them up as fast as we find them."

The report came two days after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the first substantive session of the four-party Vietnam peace talks in Paris that "the search for peace can begin in the DMZ."

"We believe that the demilitarized status of the zone between North and South Vietnam should be restored immediately," Lodge said in his opening statement.

Only one of the 180 indications from last Monday through Friday was considered significant by the U.S. Command—enemy gunners shooting off a tire of a light American reconnaissance plane flying over the DMZ. Five enemy gun emplacements were destroyed by U.S. artillery after that attack, spokesmen said.

PREDICTIONS

During the same five-day period, U.S. headquarters said American bombers, warships and artillery fired five times into the DMZ after enemy activity was sighted.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops launched a dozen attacks on allied bases and other installations over the weekend, bearing out the predictions of U.S. military analysts that the Communist command would increase its operations to boost its negotiating position in Paris while the new administration is still settling down in Washington.

In three battles northwest and south of Saigon, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 127 enemy. U.S. losses were nine men killed and 22 wounded and South Vitnamese casualties were one dead and four wounded.

City's Fiscal Year Proposal

City commissioners will be asked to give formal approval to changing the start of the city's fiscal year from April 1 to Oct. 1 at their 7 p.m. meeting Tuesday, according to City Manager Larry Crow.

In other action expected to come before the commissioners, three city employes have requested that their retirement age be extended past the age of 65.

Two ordinances will be acted upon. One, a zoning change requested by Vance Kimball, is up for third and final reading. The other is a request by Gilbert Martinez for a permit to sell beer at 300 N. Benton for on premise consumption and is to be read for the second time.

Police Battle Young Czechs Trying To Memorialize Jan

PRAGUE (AP) — Some three dozen persons were arrested Sunday as police battled young Czechs trying to memorialize Jan Palach in Wenceslas Square, the Czechoslovak Interior Ministry announced today.

The announcement said 13 were arrested during the afternoon and "several dozen" were detained Sunday night.

As one of the youths was clubbed, the crowd surged around the police, shouting, "Russian stooges!" and "Gestapo!"

"We are just following orders," one young policeman explained.

TEAR GAS

"Your duty is to be humane," a student countered.

The students were protesting removal by the police of candles, flowers and signs placed against the statue of St. Wenceslas in tribute to Palach, the 21-year-old student who burned himself to death to protest the Soviet occupation. He was buried Saturday.

Earlier Sunday, about 100 police used tear gas to break up a crowd of 2,000 that had gathered near the statue in Prague's main square.

One student who produced a portrait of Palach from under his coat was grabbed and escorted away. Other students tried to divert police attention while their companions dashed up to place candles on the statue.

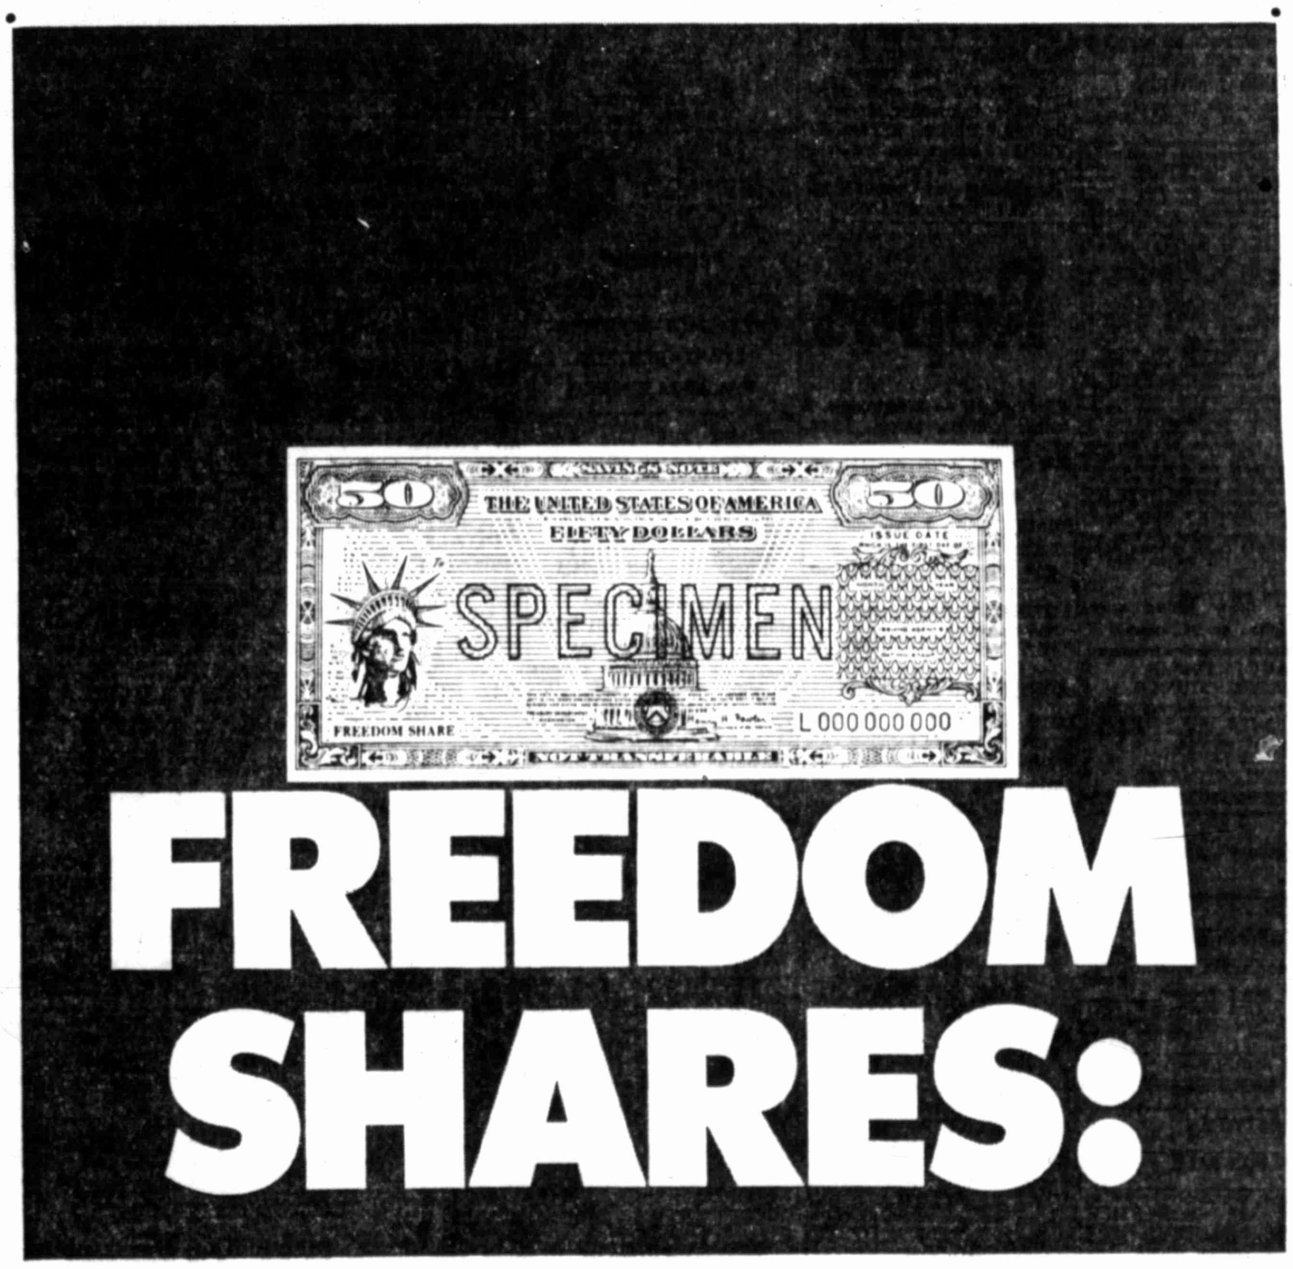

TRAGIC EPISODE

In Italy, where there have been three days of anti-Soviet demonstrations to express support for Czechoslovakia and to honor Palach, Pope Paul VI spoke of the self-immolation.

"We cannot approve of the tragic form of this testimony, but we can treasure its value," the pontiff said at his weekly appearance in St. Peter's Square. He said the burnings were "tragic episodes . . . which carry to a supreme degree self sacrifice and love for others."

Vatican police tried to prevent students from displaying pro-Czechoslovak signs, and one student was cut on the forehead in a scuffle.

One sign read: "Pope Paul VI, please pray for the Czech martyrs and for Czech liberty." Another said: "Christ is being crucified in Prague."

Sinclair Oil Workers Back

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—President A.F. Grospiron of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union says about 8,600 oil workers are to return to their jobs today after ratifying contracts with Sinclair and Gulf Oil companies.

Most of the workers, 5,700, work in Sinclair refineries, the only firm with a company-wide contract. At Port Arthur, Tex., 2,900 OCAW members approved a contract offered by Gulf.

Contracts approved by the Denver-based OCAW have been averaging between 64 to 70 cents an hour increase over the next two years. Before the Jan. 4 strike, oil workers were averaging $3.80 an hour.

Grospiron estimates that less than half of the 60,000 union members who struck are still on the picket lines.

He said there still have been no settlements with Texaco, Shell, Standard of California and Ohio, Skelly, Conoco and several smaller companies.

Katz And Rats

During the week, the Rev. Mr. Ratz gives lessons to the part-time organist at the Rev. Mr. Katz' church. And when the Rev. Mr. Katz, who lives in Bangor, comes down to the island on weekends, he brings his colleague's mail to him.

Ten Players Strip Naked At University

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Six actors and four actresses were arrested Sunday at the University of Michigan after performing in a play in which they stripped naked.

They were ordered to appear in District Court in Ann Arbor today on indecent exposure charges which carry a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $500 fine. Police did not release the names of those arrested.

The members of the New York company, the Performance Group, removed their clothes for 15 minutes a third of the way through the 3½-hour play, "Dionysus in '69," and for 20 minutes at the end.

Advance billing that the actors would "kiss and fondle each other from head to toe" created a furor among state legislators.

State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, Ann Arbor Republican, said Sunday night "some of my colleagues will no doubt be shocked" when he reports to the state Senate this week.

However, University President Robben Fleming, who did not attend, defended the play in a statement Saturday, in which he said nudity was difficult to describe as obscene, and at question was "the context within which nudity occurred."

Academic and professional people regarded the play, a contemporary version of Euripides' "Bacchae," as worthy of serious consideration, Fleming said.

'Red, White, And Maddox'

Jay Garner, star of "Red, White and Maddox," which opened on Broadway last night, applies makeup just before the performance.

Sharp-Edged Satire Testing Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — "Red, White and Maddox," a funny, sharp-edged satire about the segregationist governor of Georgia, opened on Broadway Sunday night—moved intact from Atlanta.

In that city, after Theater Atlanta opened it Oct. 3, the contents were controversial. In New York, it'll be a conversation piece. Here, satiric theater on living political figures, like off-Broadway's "MacBird," is taken largely as something to say at cocktail parties.

"Red, White and Maddox" tells the story of the governor from a poultry beginning (owner of a fried chicken restaurant) as a Mrs. Malaprop of the first backwater ("White's white and black's black and if you got two ears to hear with you can see that") to the roomy governor's mansion where he got lost. Act two forsees a future in which Maddox is President, federal troops are gunning down the citizens of Muncie and the President, quoting God, talks Congress into declaring war on Russia.

It moves snappily throughout but Act Two in Don Tucker's and Jay Broad's play doesn't seem as inventive or as humorously incredible as Act One's "long steep dusty trail of deep water" that Maddox says he climbed.

'JUBILEE JOE'

Jay Garner plays Maddox with loosely shaking head and tongue slackly out, but a quick snap-to of vigor whenever desired.

Most of the funniest lines came out of the mouth of Garner as Maddox and some of them originated with the real Maddox.

Songs are very effective, especially "Jubilee Joe," which deserves to become popularly known, hummed and whistled.

Producer Edward Padula believes "Red, White and Maddox" is the first production from a regional theater transferred in toto into a Broadway show.

Nixon Adds Sunday School Services In White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has added something new to the White House scene—Sunday church services in the executive mansion's East Room.

The presidential family invited cabinet members, other ranking officials and members of the White House staff and their families to services Sunday in the first of what is expected to be a fairly regular event.

WISDOM

Evangelist Billy Graham, an old friend of Nixon, conducted the services for the more than 225 persons attending and asked God to grant the President and his advisors "a wisdom that is beyond their own" in dealing with the crisis" of our time.

Nixon, a Quaker, plans on inviting pastors of different religions to officiate at the services. White House staff members on all levels will be invited on a rotating basis. Graham is a Baptist.

Although religious ceremonies have been held infrequently in the White House, Nixon said that as far as he knows not until Sunday was a service conducted in the East Room.

That room, with its great crystal chandelier and portraits of the nation's first First Family, Gen. and Mrs. George Washington, has been used for many and varied functions—hanging laundry, concerts, news conference—but until now not for worship.

PAID BACK?

Only one Sunday church feature was missing—the collection plate. Graham noted this and said that the last time he and the President attended church together the collection plate was there but Nixon had forgotten his money.

"I loaned him the biggest bill I had," Graham said, without telling the amount.

In his sermon Graham recalled part of Nixon's inaugural speech lsst week in which the new President said "to a crisis of the spirit, we need an answer of the spirit."

This view pinpoints the answer to the problems of today, Graham told the congregation. It's not the material things of life that solve the ills of the world, the evangelist said, but rather what is found in the spirit.

After the guests had left, the President, his wife and their elder daughter Tricia took a drive around Washington, touring some of the areas he lived in since first coming to Washington after World War II.

PRIESTS ARRESTED

Ferment Rocking Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Reports of a postponed consistory, the arrest of two American priests and a proposal for a schism in Holland over the weekend underlined the continuing ferment in the Roman Catholic Church.

The Vatican's official spokesman called it "stupid," but reports persisted Sunday that Pope Paul VI postponed a winter consistory after two or three bishops turned down a cardinal's red hat because they differed with his policies dividing the Church.

The reports, carried in some French and Italian newspapers, said the issue most likely to cause any churchman to reject elevation to the cardinalte would be birth control. A wave of dissent has rocked the Church since Pope Paul published his encyclical last July reaffirming the church's ban on mechanical and chemical contraceptive devices.

"There is no truth to this," said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fausto Vallainc, the Vatican's official spokesman.

But a Vatican source said a consistory to fill vacancies in the College of Cardinals, which now is down to 102 members, definitely was in the making in December and had been expected to be called this month. It now is expected between Easter and June, the source said.

One account said Pope Paul changed his mind after 40 well-known theologians published a request for changes in the conservative Vatican Curia, the central administration of the church.

In Cleveland, Ohio, two priests were arrested Sunday and suspended from clerical duties after they led a procession up an aisle of St. John's Roman Catholic Cathedral and tried to conduct an unauthorized Mass. The priests, who were charged with trespassing, were the Rev. Robert T. Begin, 30, the nephew of Bishop Floyd Begin of Oakland, Calif., and the Rev. Bernard L. Meyer, 31. Father Meyer was carried out of the church by police.

The two priests, both assistants at Cleveland area parishes, were suspended by Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann of Cleveland.

A new group called Christians Who Care said the unauthorized Mass was a protest against the Church because it "coexists self-righteously and apathetically with immoral and inhuman wars, intolerable and divisive racism and extreme and dire poverty."

In Amsterdam, four Jesuit priests assigned to work among students asked their 1,200 parishioners Sunday if they are prepared to break with the Vatican over the requirement for celibacy among priests. The four set a March deadline for the Dutch students to decide whether to set up a dissident organization if the celibacy rule is not relaxed.

One of the four priests is the Rev. Jos Vrijburg, who announced his decision to marry last year, although he has never publicly named the girl or set a date. Ninety per cent of the Amsterdam student parish have voted to maintain him as pastor after his marriage, conceding that he would only preach and not celebrate Mass.

Former Inmates Earn Big Money

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Nine former inmates who finished courses in computer operation at the South Carolina State Penitentiary have completed their sentences and are earning between $6,500 and $10,000 a year the state superintendent of education said Sunday.

Supt. Cyril Busbee spoke to the second class of 32 men and women prisoners who were graduated from courses in the prison's "Operation Pushbutton."

"Education can show the way to true freedom and independence," he said. Of the new graduates, 12 were women in key punch operating courses.

The two-year program financed by state and federal funds, ends July 1.

Bored To Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 131st Engineers of the Vermont National Guard want to come home from Vietnam—but not for the usual reasons.

"They are bored to death, with nothing to do," according to Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt.

Aiken said he had received a letter signed by 130 men telling him that the outfit had been assigned no important tasks and was only "sitting around."

"They said they wished somebody would give them some work to do or else send them home," Aiken said.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠8 6 3 ♢A 6 2 ♣A K Q J 9 8 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Prospects for a slam are excellent despite the fact that your partner originally passed. If partner shows the ace of hearts now, you will have to sign off but, if he is able to bid five diamonds, you should contract for a slam in clubs.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as dealer, you have an 80 part score and hold:
♠6 2 ♡A J 10 9 8 7 4 3 2 ♢J 3
What do you bid?

A.—Four hearts. On hands of this type there is virtually no chance of ever buying the contract any cheaper. So to start the bidding at a lower level only makes it easier for the opposition to enter the bidding and find their best fit.

Q. 3—As South, neither vulnerable, you hold:
♠9 6 5 4 ♡K Q 9 3 ♢A J 10 8 ♣Q
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♢
Pass	Pass	Dbl.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. This is rather unusual strategy at the one level with only four diamonds, but you do have the required three trump tricks plus a trick on the side, and partner's original pass makes game prospects for your side exceedingly dim.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠6 3 ♡A Q 8 5 2 ♢Q 9 5 4 ♣6 4
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♢	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. We are usually disinclined to let the opponents buy a contract so cheaply, but in this instance the chances are strong that they have a much better spot in one of the black suits. This will surely be the case if partner was laying a mild trap. If he wasn't, then the other side surely has enough strength to outbid us in any event.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠7 ♡A Q 9 8 7 ♢10 5 ♣K J 5 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. This is not technically acceptable on such an unbalanced holding, but partner's blood is obviously near the boiling point and a bid of four clubs by you may stir him up beyond all control. A discouraging bid is of a paramount importance at this stage in the proceedings.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J 4 ♡A Q ♢A Q J 10 9 7 3 ♣A Q
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♢	4 ♣	4 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five clubs. Slam is a strong likelihood with this hand facing a partner who was able to bid freely at the four level. Still, he may have been acting somewhat under the pressure of the preempt, so that any final commitment to slam by you would be overly aggressive. If, after your cue bid, he merely rebids five hearts, discretion would dictate a pass.

Q. 7—The opponents are vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠3 ♡10 9 7 6 4 3 ♢J 3 ♣Q 8 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Dbl.
4 ♡	4 ♠	Dbl.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five hearts. Your hand is not only worthless defensively but, in a sense, it deteriorates your partner's holding. If it turns out that your judgment has been faulty and that the four spade contract could have been set, your loss should be very slight.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠10 6 3 ♡8 5 ♢K Q J 9 7 5 4 ♣9
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
3 NT	Pass	6 ♢	Pass
6 NT	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have already bid the full extent of your hand. From the appearance of your holding, it seems likely that partner has tenace positions that should be protected from the opening lead.
