Supermarket plans announced

Plans for the 22,000-plus square foot grocery store to be located in Aransas County's new Harbor Oaks Shopping Village will be unveiled Wednesday, Nov. 3, when O. B. Stanley, president of Stanley Stores, is honored at a reception at the Sandollar Restaurant.

Aransas County business and community leaders have been invited to the affair at 10:45 a.m. when Stanley is expected to announce the signing of a lease between his company and the Candy Stick Corporation, developers of Harbor Oaks Shopping Village.

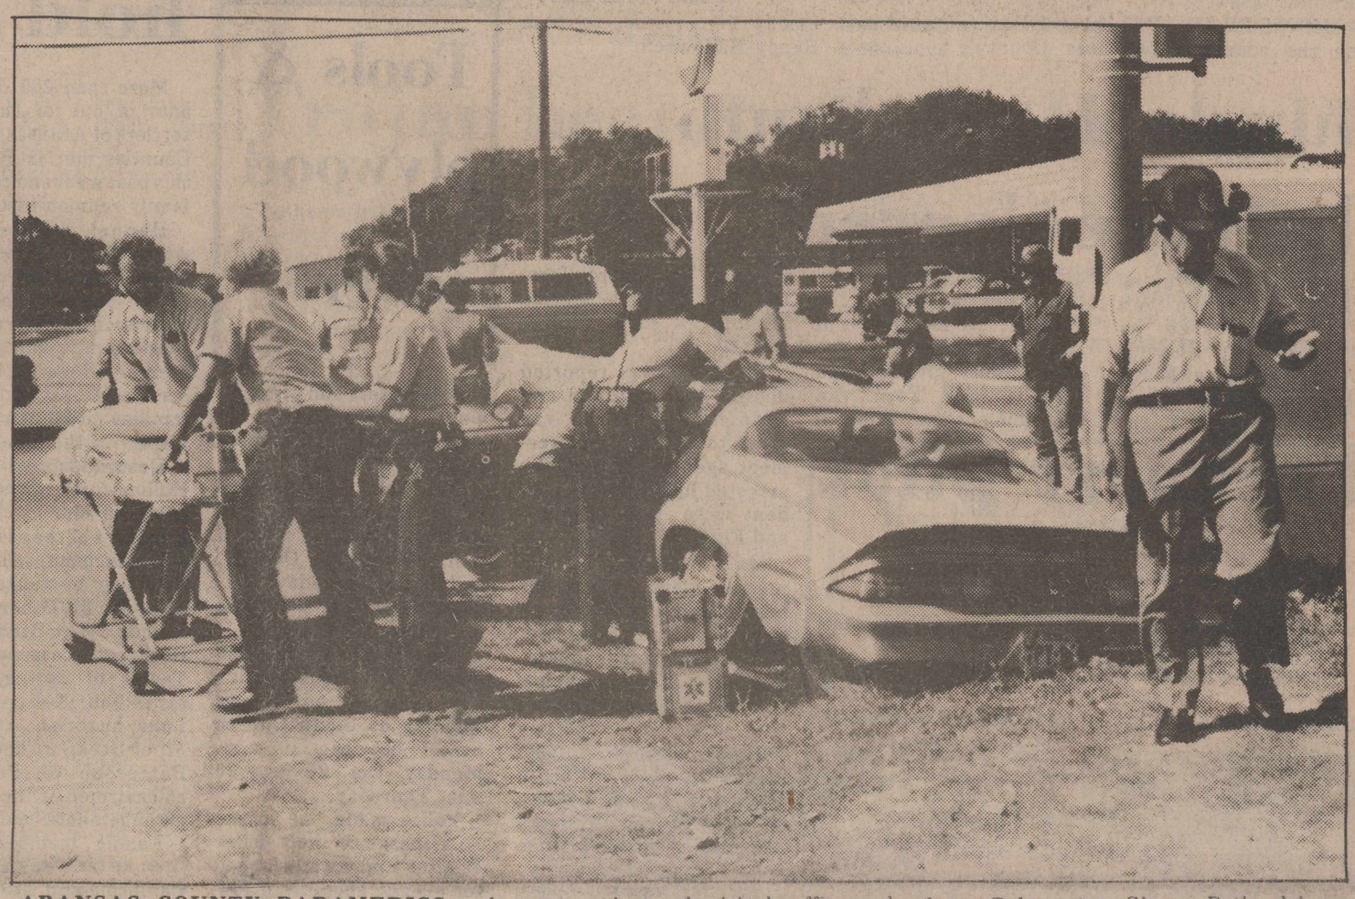

Bob Bernardy, whose Live Oak Real Estate is hosting the reception, said the supermarket will be the anchor tenant of the $5 million shopping development on Hwy. 35 North. "We expect to break ground (For the shopping center) by the end of the year," he added.

Also at Wednesday's reception will be Roger Seaman, president of Candy Stick Corporation, and Bill Holland of Total Design IV, architects for the project.

The new shopping center will include a mini-mall patterned after the Galleria in Houston, although on a smaller scale. The mall will consist of two stories with a balcony arrangement with small retail businesses on the lower level and professional services on the upper, Bernardy has said.

Plans for the project were formally unveiled by Seaman on March 17. Seaman told those at that announcement that the strip center and mini-mall are expected to include more than 25 different types of

Unemployment rate at 8.7 percent

Aransas County's unemployment rate, which hit a high in August, actually dropped slightly in September but will probably show an increase again for October, according to an official with the Texas Employment Commission in Corpus Christi.

"Indications are that unemployment rates will probably rise everywhere" on the October report, said Jim Westley, manager of the Corpus Christi TEC office. Final figures for October were not yet in when Westley was interviewed last Friday, Oct. 29, but, he said, employment insurance claims — on which the jobless figures are based — "have picked up considerably."

Westley added that the rates for Aransas County — and the rest of Texas — will still probably not be as high as the rest of the nation.

In September, unemployment rates for Texas overall showed an 8 percent jobless rate, two percent below the national rate. Aransas County's unemployment figure for September was 8.7 percent, a percentage-point down from August when the county's unemployment rate reached its high mark for the year so far — 8.8 percent.

Westley said figures were not available for September, 1981, but that his records do go back to January of this year when the county's unemployment rate was 5.1 percent.

In February, the unemployment rate for Aransas County jumped to 7.7 percent, Westley said, then fell in March to 5.7.

In April, unemployment went back up to 7 percent then to 7.6 percent in May, 6.6 in

Reflecting August sales

October sales tax revenue drops

Rockport's city sales tax revenues in October were down by about $3,000 from revenues received in October, 1981 — but year-to-date revenues continued to run ahead of last year's, according to a report from State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

In Fulton, which revealed no sales tax check for September of last year, this month's sales tax rebate check amounted to $2,614.47.

Bullock said the October sales tax payments reflect taxable sales made last August and reported to the state by the end of September.

Rockport's October tax revenue check was for $12,188.24. In 1981, the October check amounted to $15,618.28. Year-to-date revenues for Rockport for 1982 total $248,103.40, a gain of 6.58 percent over last year's sales tax receipts of $232,791.16.

Fulton's year-to-date tax receipts came to $33,250.76 — a jump of 27.22 percent over the same period for 1981.

In some other area cities, sales tax revenues for October, 1982, were running about the same or just ahead of October, 1981, returns. In Aransas Pass, October revenues of $17,947.92 were about $600 higher than last year's and year-to-date revenues totalled $324,234.25, 19.62 percent ahead of '81 tax receipts.

Ingleside's October tax returns more than doubled over last year's, $7,307.38 compared to $3,347.19, although the year-to-date revenues of $97,936.46 were only 3.07 percent ahead of tax collections for 1981.

Port Aransas showed a drop in October tax revenues, $12,481.19 compared to $13,076.07 for October last year, but the year-to-date tax collections of $165,203.75 were a 37.69 percent increase over those for 1981.

Bullock said the 967 Texas cities that collect the one percent city sales tax received revenue checks totalling $35.6 million in October. Statewide, the year-to-date sales tax revenues for 1982 are up 11 percent over those the same period last year.

Budget provisions adopted

By PAT BLAIR
Staff writer

A two-year capital improvement program to be submitted each year with the annual budget will be required under provisions adopted Monday night, Nov. 1, by Rockport's city charter commission.

The program is part of proposed Charter Article VII which was adopted in its entirety Monday during the commission's weekly meeting at City Hall.

Also set out under this article are the city's budgeting procedures, including a provision for fiscal operation of the city in event the city council should fail to act on the budget in time for the coming fiscal year.

The charter commission skipped discussion of a proposed charter Article VIII, dealing with city tax administration, and approved proposed Article IX, boards and commissions.

Eddie Ratliff, chairman of the subcommittee charged with drafting the tax administration article, told the commission those provisions would not be ready for at least the next one or two weeks.

Charter commission member T. E. Griffith observed that this article will be strongly influenced by recent changes in state law, to which Commission Chairman Ed Armstrong added, "We'll have to be more careful with this one (article) than probably any other on our agenda."

No major changes from the city's current budgetary procedures are proposed by Article VII, Municipal Finance, and the

Burglaries and auto theft are cleared

A burglary, attempted burglary and vehicle theft have been cleared by Aransas County Sheriff's deputies recently, although authorities are still looking for one suspect in the attempted burglary of the Boondocks last week.

Lt. Arturo Hernandez of Aransas Pass arrested two adults and a juvenile who stole a 1969 Ford van containing some $500 in welding equipment from the Key Allegro Marina parking lot early Friday, Oct. 29.

The truck was reported missing about 1:02 a.m. and a description of the van given to local law enforcement agencies. The adults arrested following the incident were Alfonso Flores and Fidel Hernandez.

Mark Mullinax, 18, and a juvenile were arrested for burglary of a residence on Copano Ridge Road between 7 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. Oct. 20. The residence belongs to Sandy Johnson who reported a shotgun valued at $400, pistol valued at $150, $20 in one-dollar bills and a bottle containing an unknown amount of loose change were taken.

In the Oct. 26 Boondocks burglary, one man — Glen Lee Leach — was arrested on the spot of the 2:46 a.m. incident and deputies are still seeking a second man who fled the scene after deputies arrived in response to an alarm at the bar on Hwy. 35 South.

Deputies recovered loose change, a pool stick and 18 packages of cigarettes the burglars were allegedly attempting to steal.

The $1.7 million H.E.B. store and two new residences boosted construction totals in Rockport to more than $1.8 million for October, according to records on file at City Hall.

Total new construction values for the month amounted to $1,868,420 with the largest single permit being for the new H.E.B. store now under construction just north of the existing store. That permit was issued Oct. 27.

Also adding to the permit totals were two new residences. Permit for a proposed $101,420 brick veneer structure was issued on Oct. 20. Earlier, a permit was issued for construction of a brick veneer house during the veneer house valued at an estimated $57,000.

House numbers to be installed

FULTON — Beginning this weekend, Nov. 6-7, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company community service workers will begin putting up house numbers on residences within the Fulton city limits, according to spokesman Dutch Koppenhaver.

The workers are part of Service Community Action Teams (SCAT), which help communities with service projects. It is hoped that house numbers will speed emergency aid as well as facilitate telephone service calls, by making addresses easier to locate.

The teams are working in conjuction with the town of Fulton, which is providing a plat of the city. Southwestern Bell will provide the house numbers, or residents may purchase their own if they wish.

Tools & plywood taken

Bolt cutters and plywood were reported taken in separate thefts in Rockport this past week.

The bolt cutters were taken in a burglary of Prophets Inc. between 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 27, and 8 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 28. Value of the tools was estimated at $35 each.

Six pieces of plywood were taken from outside the Council on Aging Building on South Church Street between 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 25, and 10 a.m. Thursday.

Police made one arrest on a charge of theft under $5 after a man was stopped for alleged shoplifting Friday and two people were arrested for public intoxication and one for driving while intoxicated during the weekend.

Hollinsworth hold reunion

More than 200 descendants of one of the early settlers of Aransas and Bee Counties met in Rockport this past weekend to form a family reunion association.

Hannah Hollinsworth, who was married three times before her death in 1901, was the ancestral matriarch of the Brundrett, Bludworth, Court, Gaston, Mercer, Roberts, Thompson and several other families prominent in the history of the area.

Descendants of Hannah Hollinsworth elected Lucille Gardner of Houston president of the association at a luncheon held at the Sandollar Restaurant Sunday, Oct. 31. Other officers include Jerry Brundrett of Rockport, treasurer; Trish Taylor of Spring, secretary; Bill Kell of Eagle Lake, historian; Alma Ratliff of Rockport and Naomi Patterson of Portland, co-chairmen of the reunion arrangements committee.

Family members came from as far away as Idaho, California and New Jersey to attend the first social held in the Woman's Club Friday evening, Oct. 29. Many members went to Lamar for a cruise on the Whooping Crane Saturday, Oct. 30, while others visited in the Rockport area.

The second reunion is being planned as a two-day affair next year, said Gardner. A newsletter will be published before the end of the year. Information regarding membership in the association will be made available at that time.

Salvation fund drive begins

A kickoff meeting for the Rockport-Fulton Salvation Army Service Unit fund drive has been set for 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 13, at Allied Live Oak Center, according to Bob Hewes, service unit committee chairman.

Blas Ramirez and Jack Forrest are co-chairmen for the fund-raising campaign which will continue through Dec. 1 in an effort to raise $4,000 for the Salvation Army's services in Aransas County.

The service unit committee, composed of business and civic leaders, conducts a year 'round program of aid to local residents in times of emergency. Acting on behalf of the Salvation Army, the committee arranged for food, lodging, utilities and other basic necessities of a family or individual in a crisis situation.

The service unit committee also serves as liaison with the Salvation Army's statewide programs such as the summer Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas, aid for paroled prisoners and emergency relief for communities hit by natural disaster.

The Salvation Army is a non-profit volunteer organization and Forrest emphasized that, in addition to funds, the local service unit is in need of volunteer workers. He urged anyone interested in volunteering their services to the Salvation Army to attend the Nov. 13 kickoff coffee.

Other members of the service unit committee in Aransas County are Tony Harden, treasurer, and the Rev. Charles Fake and the Rev. John Bradshaw.

Course offerings will be expanded as new courses are requested by the community and qualified instructors can be located.

Continuing education is a phase of adult-community education geared to the needs of the community. A program of this type will utilize educational facilities and resources in the community. The Aransas County program will start with a limited offering of courses scheduled to begin on Nov. 16 and end by Dec. 9. If community response is encouraging, a list of twenty courses are projected to be offered by Jan. 17.

Gayle Atchley and George McCague, committee members representing the community, will be working with the program. Joel Mixon, secondary instructional director for the school district, will serve as program coordinator. R-F Pirates let one get away

If the Rockport-Fulton Pirates could have found a genie in a bottle Friday night, the first two or three wishes would have been to replay a few plays in their narrow 7-0 loss to Beeville in Beeville.

With the exception of being able to block the bigger Trojans, the Pirates gave a good account of themselves Friday night. The Pirate offense was held in check because the blocking broke down, keeping the Pirate runners subdued except for one 30-yard run by Dwayne Walls. Walls, who is building his running back to where it was before his injury, had to get over the trauma of wearing half of the Beeville defensive team whenever he got the ball. Two or three times Walls had to completely reverse his field to use his dangerous speed to pick up any plus yardage. The one time the Pirates threatened to score, following Walls' 30-yard scamper down to the Beeville 18-yard line, a shove by a Pirate at a late hitting Trojan drew a 15-yard penalty, moving the ball back to the 33-yard line, and the situation went from first and 10 to first and 25. The Pirates never overcame the big yardage.

The Pirates and the Trojans battled to a scoreless first half, with the Pirate defense coming up with some outstanding plays, including an interception in the end zone by Bobby Dingenary to stop a Trojan march in the first half.

Rockport opened the game with a seven play series before Walls was stripped of the ball, and Beeville came up with the loose ball.

The Pirates got another offensive surge going again on their next possession, but they had to give up the ball after keeping the football for 10 plays. One of the few breaks to go the Pirates' way in the game came on the punt on the final play of that series when Robert Barefield, a sophomore with "wings" on his feet brought the Charlie Ochoa punt back deep into Pirate territory, but a penalty sent the ball back to the Trojan 20-yard line.

Beeville began going straight at the Pirate defense, and successfully moved the ball 65 yards before they tried a pass play from the 12-yard line, and Dingenary alertly stepped in front of the ball to stop the Trojans cold.

After that threat the two teams played a punting game. With time running out in the first half, the Trojans tried to set up a long pass play, but Tom Weaver sacked the quarterback halting that effort.

The Pirates' defense held tough on the opening drive by the Trojans, and when the Trojans tried to lure the Pirates offsides with a shift, the Pirate defense got themselves into position and the play cost the Trojans five yards on a delay of game. The punter for Beeville got the benefit of a great roll, and the punt covered 53 yards, pinning the Pirates at their own 8-yard line.

The Pirates tried to punch the ball out, and despite the efforts of both Dwayne and Trinelle Walls, they had to punt the ball away.

Beeville had made an adjustment by moving Barefield to the tailback position in place of their top runner Guy Garbe. The move proved to be the straw that broke the camel's back for the Pirates. On their second play following the punt, Barefield ran to his right and straight into five Pirate tacklers who did not try to get a shoulder into the runner. Barefield then broke the line of scrimmage and turned on the afterburner to stomp his way down the sideline for a 53-yard scamper and six points. Garbe added the extra point for what would become the only score of the game.

The Pirates came right back, taking the ball after the kickoff and the Walls boys moved the team down the field. Then Dwayne broke loose for his 30-yard run which was followed by the 15-yard penalty on an eager Pirate, and that drive died. However, when the Pirates did turn the ball over on a punt, Weaver hustled downfield to cover the ball at the Beeville 1-yard line. The Pirate defense held tough and forced a Beeville punt. An excellent punt put the ball near midfield.

With good field position, the Pirates were within striking distance, but a fumble was to end all that.

The Pirates were to have two more chances to make good before the game was over, but the pressure provd too much. When the Pirates got a tremendous break on a punt where they had to give up the ball, Beeville was whistled for 12 men on the field. That gave the Pirates new life. They then turned around and drew a 15-yard penalty of their own to end that threat.

Late in the game, quarterback Mark Cory was intercepted by Barefield to kill all Pirate hopes of scoring.

The Pirates had a defense on the field Friday night which did an outstanding job, led by Demetrius Lewis, recently brought up from the JV. Ramon Romero, playing still on a hobbled knee, made eight individual tackles to lead the Pirates in that department. Joe Cantu was the team leader in assists with 10 credited to his account.

Dwayne Walls was held in check for most of the night, but he did not roll up over 100 yards.

Looking back over the game, and thinking what the genie could have done: eliminating a player named Robert Barefield would have done wonders for the Pirates. The loss leaves the Pirates at 3-5 with a pair of games remaining.

24-6

Beeville pounds Pirate frosh

Beeville racked up over 300 yards against the Pirate Freshmen on their way to a 24-6 win over Rockport-Fulton in Rockport Thursday.

From the opening drive of the game, Beeville's high powered offense ran the ball right at the Pirates, and their fine tailback gave the Pirates a lesson in running the ball with determination. The Trojans put together a 78-yard drive in 11 plays to put the first points on the board in the contest. When the Trojans went for the kick after the TD, Ross Potter stepped through the defense and knocked the ball down, keeping the score at 6-0 in favor of the Trojans.

The Pirates employed some new tactics in the game, moving Brent Boone to quarterback and changing Mark Garcia to running back. After the Pirates got a few series under their belts, the changes began to show well as Garcia ran hard and Boone began connecting on passes.

The Pirates were constantly having to face Beeville's running corps. Only when the defense stood tough and forced turnovers did the Trojans not move the football. Early in the first quarter a good hit on a Trojan runner by Adam Pina caused the ball to shake free, and Boone recovered for the Pirates.

In the first half the Pirates could not convert on third and fourth downs, and Beeville took advantage.

Garcia stopped a Trojan drive in the first half by intercepting a pass to give the Pirates good field position at the 21-yard line. Just four plays later, Boone arched a ball for the end zone and Benny Arispe ran under the ball for the Pirate TD. The Pirates could not add to the total, but the score stood at 6-6.

Beeville got a breakaway score from their top runner to go back in front midway in the second period. Boone made a saving tip on a pass for two points to halt the Trojan effort.

Right before the half, with Beeville threatening, Chad Kesler picked off a pass to keep Beeville out of the end zone at that point.

The Pirates struck early in the second half, when Boone faked a punt on fourth down and hit Garcia with a pass good for a first down. The Pirates got the worst possible break when a whistle by an official stopped a play after Garcia had long since broke away for long yardage downfield. The play was called back, and it just might have been the turning point of the game. The drive continued, and even an offensive recovery by John Solis kept the ball for the Pirates, but they never reached the end zone.

The cruncher came for the Pirates when Beeville broke a 73-yard run for a TD early in the fourth period. That made the score 18-6, despite Terry Palmer's diving on the ball on the ground to stop the point-after attempt. Palmer, a few minutes later, would recover a fumble to give the Pirates another chance, but nothing came of it. Dennis Jenkins did the same late in the game, stopping a Trojan drive.

The Pirates have been hard-hit by injuries in their offensive unit, and things just did not go well.

Beeville wrapped things up with a six-yard TD in the final minute with the first unit still in to pour-it-on.

The Pirates spent a lot of time on defense in the game. Palmer led all tacklers with 14 defensive hits. Boone followed with 10 strikes.

This week the Pirates will host Sinton at Pirate Stadium.

Trojan beat Rockport Pirate JV

Just as the Beeville Freshmen had done to the Pirate Freshmen, Beeville used a power offense to roll up big yards on their way to a 20-0 victory which was much closer than the score indicated as the Trojans beat the Rockport-Fulton JV in Rockport Thursday night.

The Trojans scored on their opening series to serve notice what kind of night was ahead for the Pirates. Featuring a fine running tailback, the Trojans racked up 269 yards on the ground, making the best of the opportunities the Pirates offered them.

Trailing only 7-0 after the half, Beeville added insult to injury by starting the second half with an onsides kick which the Pirate linemen watched be recovered. The Trojans quickly took advantage of the mistake by the Pirates, and punched the ball in for another touchdown to grab a 14 point lead.

Rockport got a good break in the final minute of the third quarter when Armando Martinez recovered a fumble at Beeville's 26-yard line. The Pirates got to the 20-yard line, but then went backwards on three successive plays to loose any chance to score.

After stopping the Pirates, Beeville cranked up and marched the ball 69 yards for their third TD of the night.

The Pirate defense was on the field for most of the game, and individually there were some fine efforts. Charlie Solis, for instance, saved three touchdown runs by fighting off blockers and tackling a runner in the open field.

A number of Pirates had over 10 defensive hits for the night because Beeville held the ball for such a long time. Tim Smyrson collected 16 hits on defense, followed by Doyle Parr with 14, Rudy Soliz with 13, and Brian King hit the opponent 10 times.

The Pirate offense was held to below 100 yards for the game, but a bright spot emerged as Rey Castro hauled in a pair of passes on tough catches for 19 yards.

The Pirates play Sinton in Rockport this week.

'A funny thing' to open at ccsu

CORPUS CHRISTI — The University Theatre at Corpus Christi State University will present eight performances of the Stephen Sondheim musical, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," on Nov. 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. and Nov. 14 and 21 at 2 p.m. The production will be presented in the Center for the Arts Warren Theatre.

Based on the Roman comedy, "Pseudolus" by Plautus, the musical is a hilarious farce of great wit and bawdiness. Pseudolus is a slave who is willing to do anything to win his freedom and in his attempts gets involved in uproarious comic situations and character complications.

The production is directed by Sue Finley, with David Garcia and Joan Allison serving as musical directors.

The cast includes Carl Yowell as Pseudolus, Ric Smith as Senex, Gary Crary as Hero, Tom Smith as Hysterium, Danny Reyes as Lycus, Ed Cheatham as Erronius, Charles Redd at Miles, Patty Scogin Holland as Domina and Debbie Smith as Philia.

The Proteans include Robert Berry, Dennis Flinn and Jose Luis Martinez. Playing the courtesans are Jody Dobbs as Tintinabula, Laura Vargas as Panacea, Judith Furham and Jami Maki as Geminae, Janice Holland as Gmnasia and Becky Marez as Vibrata.

General admission is $4. Advance tickets may be purchased in the Center for the Arts office on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 8 a.m to 5 p.m.; on Tuesdays from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; and on Fridays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Phone reservations will be accepted on the day of the performance only or on Fridays for weekend performances.

For more information, call 991-6931.

Five weekend accidents reported

Traffic accidents kept Rockport police busy this weekend as five collisions were reported between Friday afternoon and early Monday. None of the five involved injuries.

A Fulton woman was ticketed following a collision about 7:30 a.m. Monday, Nov. 1, at the intersection of Mimosa and North Live Oak.

Police said Barbara Kay Fohn of Fulton was eastbound on Mimosa when her car was in a collision with a vehicle northbound on Live Oak driven by Benito H. Montemayor of Rockport. Fohn was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way.

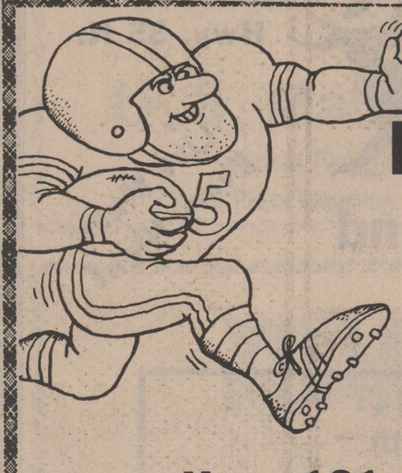

Leroy Sprague of Rockport was ticketed for making an improper right turn following an accident about 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 30, at the intersection of 5th and Bronte. Sprague was reportedly attempting a turn from 5th onto Bronte when his pickup collided with a car driven by Janet Lee Brown of Rockport.

Mark Adolph Lippert of Rockport was ticketed for following too closely and no liability following a collision between his car and a pickup driven by Suzanne Eller Sorenson of Rockport Fridy afternoon, Oct. 29.

Police said Sorenson was attempting a turn from Liberty onto Live Oak when the accident occurred about 12:52 p.m.

In a Friday night accident, Hiep Van Triev of Rockport was ticketed for failure to control speed to avoid an accident after his car struck a tree while Triev was backing out of a driveway on Young Street. That incident occurred about 10:55 p.m.

An accident Friday morning drew a ticket for driving with license suspended for Harvey Lee Moore of Rockport after his pickup was in collision with a car driven by Joan Mathisen Truelove of West Terrace. Police said that accident occurred about 11:04 a.m.

Actor Max Gail to perform at CCSU

CORPUS CHRISTI — Actor, poet and musician Max Gail will be on stage at Corpus Christi State University's Center for the Arts Studio Theatre at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 5. Admission is free.

During Gail's appearance he will perform some of his own compositions on the piano and will talk informally with the audiance. Accompanying Gail during the musical portion of the session will be CCSU Jazz Band members Rich Flores on the drums and Noe Cruz on the base.

Gail's acting career includes work on the stage, in TV series and movies and in Hollywood films. He is perhaps best known for his role as Sgt. Wojehowicz on the long-running TV series "Barney Miller."

Gail, who lives in Malibu, Calif., is executive director of Full Circle Productions, a company which produces documentary tapes on current issues. Much of the company's past work has focused on the American Indian civil rights movement.

Prior to Friday's performance, Gail will work with film and broadcast students at the University.

His visit is co-sponsored by the Special Events and Programs Committee of the College of Arts and Humanities and by the CCSU Media Club.

Parish studies osteopathy

FORT WORTH — Mary L. Parish, daughter of Kenneth and Mary Leigh of 1899 Bayshore, Rockport, is among the 100 students entering their first year of study this fall at Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine in Fort Worth.

Parish earned her B.A. degree at the University of Houston and did further pre-med work at Sul Ross State University. She has worked as a licensed vocational nurse in Alpine and as a counselor in Fort Davis for the past four years.

She was named recipient of a State Rural Medical Education Board loan earlier this year.

She is married to Michael Duncan Parish of Fort Davis. They have two sons, James, 16, and Mark, 14.

TCOM, founded in 1970, is the only osteopathic medical school in Texas and one of only 15 in the nation. Under control of the North Texas State University Board of Regents since 1975, the school now has an enrollment of 363 in its four-year curriculum and has graduated 496 osteopathic physicians (D.O.s).

Pet talks

Dr. Hap Lutz

Naming your pet is a process much like naming your children. Some owners believe it is important that the name be simple enough for your pet to understand.

Others believe a name that is sensible is not enough. Some express dismay at people with so little imagination thay they name their pets Whitey, Blackie or Kitty.

Some pet clients believe the name you give affects the personality your pet will have. A pet will grow to personify the name bestowed upon him, because the owner will tend to treat the pet to suit the name. For example, a pet named Dopey will probably be treated differently than one named Beauty. Some people believe the pet's name is only a reflection of the personality and a reflection of the owner's, as well.

Creative people choose exotic names such and Shandu, Madeeba or Ankaris. People with a sense of humor are apt to call their pets Bonkers, Brandy or Tequila.

Inventive names are pulled from the Bible — Salome, Jesabelle or Nicodemus.

Obese pet owners seem to connect their pets with sweet treats, and mouthwatering names; such as, Lollipop, Bon Bon and Butterscotch.

I have had some patients named on the seamier side; such as, Shady Lady and Casanova. I've always felt pity for the pets named Nit-wit, Dummy or Ding-a-Ling. Despite how they sound, though, I've a feeling they are spoken with a lot of love. I could really appreciate the inventiveness of one client who acquired four kittens, naming them Eenie, Meenie, Minee and Mo!

Signed: From your pet's best friend, the one with a warm heart for cold noses.

Dr. Lutz is a former instructor of diseases of dogs and cats in the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University.

VITAL STATISTICS

The child population of the 112 developing countries assisted by UNICEF is 1.3 billion. The great majority of these children live in slums and rural villages without basic health, educational or social services. Developing these basic services is at the heart of UNICEF's strategy for improving children's lives. In one year alone, UNICEF assisted water and sanitation program benefiting 20 million people in 94 countries; equipped over 73,000 schools and vocational centers; helped to expand nutrition programs in 137,000 villages and funded basic service training programs for 34,200 community workers.

AARP news

The winners of game afternoon on Thursday, Oct. 28, were Verna Menzner and Jamie Estes. The finale was won by LeeOna Kellum.

Hostesses for this party were Hazel Dailey and Grace Hays. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

The next game afternoon will be at 1 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 4, at the Paws and Taws building on Fulton Beach Road.

The AARP-sponsored dances have been very successful. During November there will be three dances — Nov. 4, 11 and 18. The dance on Nov. 25 will not be held as it is Thanksgiving Day.

There will be an AARP meeting at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 10 at the Paws and Taws building. This is a very important meeting as officers will be elected. All members are asked to make a special effort to attend.

The program will be a slide presentation entitled, "All You Ever Wanted to Know About the Alaska Highway."

After the meeting and program, a buffet-style turkey dinner will be served. The chapter will furnish the turkey, dressing and gravy. Members are asked to bring a covered dish, either vegetable, salad or dessert. There will be coffee and tea, also furnished by the chapter.

The business meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 27 was attended by old members, new members and visitors.

We wish to thank Ralph Winkelman and Ed Armstrong for their very interesting remarks on a charter form of government.

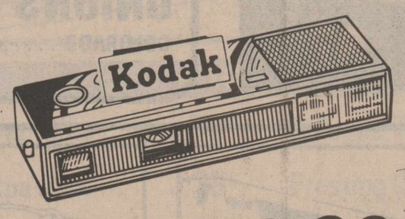

Inflation is what makes chicken feed out of your nest egg.

Mixed drink tax adds $8,000 to Aransas County coffers

The tax on mixed drink sales in Aransas County during July, August and September of this year added $8,192.15 to the county's treasury, State Comptroller Bob Bullock has reported.

That figure represents the county's 15 percent share of the tax collected on sale of mixed drinks within Aransas County.

Also receiving revenue on the mixed drink sales are Rockport, which received a $1,755.96 rebate from the state, and Fulton, $2,985.82. Aransas Pass received $1,723.78 on sales of mixed drinks in that part of the city in Aransas County and $2,557.16 from mixed drink sales in its San Patricio County portion.

Taxes on mixed drink sales are collected by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission and the 15 percent tax rebates to cities and counties are sent quarterly by Bullock's office.

Total taxes collected on mixed drink sales by the state, Bullock said, were $54,614.32 for Aransas County; $11,706.38 in Rockport; $19,905.48 in Fulton; $11,491.86 in Aransas Pass-Aransas County and $17,047.73 from Aransas Pass-San Patricio County.

San Patricio County received a total of $4,134.20 in tax rebates, its share of a total $27,562.32 collected.

Taxes collected in Ingleside amounted to $4,763.41 of which that city received $714.51.

Some 217 counties and 408 cities receive a percentage of the gross receipts tax on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries. Bullock reported their 15 percent share of the tax amounted to $10 million for the third quarter ending on Sept. 30.

A total of $34.6 million in mixed drink taxes was received by the state during the third quarter of this year. The remaining $24.6 million will go into the state's general revenue fund.

Mixed drink taxes collected from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, Bullock said, total $105.1 million.

Boat and motor stolen from dock

A 14-foot flatbottom boat and 20-hp motor, totalling an estimated $450 in value, were reported taken from the Phillips Docks sometime last week.

The theft was reported by Danny Smith, owner of the craft, who told deputies it apparently was taken between Saturday, Oct. 23, and 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 26.

A bicycle valued at $120 was reported taken from the front yard of Fultonite Wayne Oakman, owner of the bike.

Two gas cans were taken from a boat in the yard of Coy Willis sometime Oct. 22 or 23. Estimated value of the cans, which were reported full of gas, was $70.

A television set, 16 guage shotgun, AM/FM radio and fan were among items taken when the residence of Robert L. Fisher was burglarized sometime prior to Oct. 15. Jewelry box and jewelry were also taken in the burglary. Fisher estimated value of the stolen items at $348.

A 5-by-8 piece of carpet was reported cut from a bedroom carpet in a Key Allegro residence prior to Oct. 17. The theft was reported by Curtis Goodman.

In another Key Allegro burglary on Oct. 16, a 19-inch color television set, a 15-inch color TV and a cable TV converter box were taken. Total value of the items, owned by Alex Laubhan, was estimated at $750.

A jar of change and a box of dolls were reported missing when a North Doughty residence was burglarized between Oct. 1 and 3. A door of the residence was also vandalized with spray paint.

John C. Jenkins of Peninsula Oaks reported someone broke out the rear window of his car with rocks while the vehicle was parked in the lot of The Bull Monday, Oct. 25. Damage was estimated at $150.

Speeding leads to chase

Charges for driving while intoxicated and fleeing a peace officer were filed this week following a chase that ended on Traylor Avenue Sunday night, Oct. 31.

Officials with the Aransas County sheriff's office said Texas Highway Patrol units originally spotted a car speeding and when they attempted to stop the vehicle, the driver fled.

The chase ended in a brushy area on Traylor Street where the driver and two passengers in the car attempted to hide from the officers.

Arrested were Bobby Jack, charged with DWI and fleeing a police officer; William Cory, charged with public intoxication; and a juvenile.

James Bryn Jr. was charged with felony DWI after he was stopped by an Aransas County deputy sheriff on FM 881 near Redfish Camp about 9 p.m. Monday, Oct. 25.

Another man was arrested for misdemeanor DWI Sunday, Oct. 24, on FM 3036 at its intersection with Hwy. 35 South.

Now is time to prepare garden

By Ted Brice
The Garden Editor

Though the first freeze of winter may be only a few days off or several weeks off it is time to get ready for it. We have already had temperatures that have set many records in this area this year.

You can learn a lot from old Mother Nature about weather conditions. In observing the squirrels you will note that they are extremely busy gathering their winter feed supply. This is quite natural but this is the first year in a long time that the squirrels have not been chattering among themselves as they gathered their food. They are busy working very quietly and fast. Does this tell us that we are going to have an early winter or a hard winter?

I have already seen flocks of geese going over this Southwestern area. Another factor to consider is that the trees in the Ozarks have already changed colors about three weeks ahead of schedule this year. I feel sure that we will have an early winter or a hard winter if not both.

Plant material freezes at different temperatures. Some plants freeze at 38 degrees while other plants freeze at 28 degrees or lower. Still there are tropical plants that cannot take temperatures below 60 degrees.

For plants in your yard, a good application (two inches deep or better) of mulch should protect their root system against a freeze. Stop all fertilizing now. This will prevent new growth that could be nipped by a freeze.

When a freeze is predicted, you should water your plants heavily the night before. This will help to protect them if it does freeze as predicted. However, some plants will need additional protection. A simple framework can be constructed to cover the particular plant that need this additional protection. You can stretch either cloth or plastic over this framework.

Remember that hanging baskets freeze very easily and are also very easy to protect from possible free damage. After thoroughly watering your hanging baskets pull a plastic leaf bag up over the basket and tie it at the top of the hanging wire. Leave your basket protected this way until it warms up. This should give you ample protection from the freeze.

If you have a greenhouse at home you may want to take your plants in for the winter. You also can move large patio or tropical plants inside the greenhouse for protection. If you do not have a home greenhouse you can move your large patio or tropical plants inside your house or into your garage. When you move plants inside try to give them the same amount of light that they had been getting outdoors. If you plan to keep your plants in all winter try to give them the same amount of light that they had been getting outside, and be sure and keep them out of drafts. Don't put them around windows and doors. They can get too much light or heat coming through the heat coming through the window glass can be very harmful to your plants. Use Grow-lux types of lights to simulate outside conditions.

If you have to do any pruning or removing of any damage limbs at this time of the year, it is extremely important that you seal over the open wound area with a pruining paint. It is advisable not to do any pruning or limb removal now unless absolutely necessary.

For your lawn, stop fertilizing now in order to prevent new young top growth. Cut your grass short and let the clippings of your next cutting fall back onto the lawn. Do not catch them or rake them and if your lawnmower has a mulch attachment use it. This last cut grass should decay enough by the time it freezes to form a mulch for the root system of your lawn. Keep your grass cut low on a regular schedule which may mean mowing once a week until it freezes. When it is predicted to freeze, water your lawn heavily the night before. This will give you added protection against the freeze. Remmber now is the time to get ready for winter not the day that it is does freeze. So long for now and good gardening till next week from your garden editor, Ted Brice.

If taxes continue to soar, you're going to have to work like a dog to live like one.

How to dress for success

COLLEGE STATION — Does a woman's appearance really determine how successful she will be in her career? According to many "dress for success" authorities it does, reports Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A recent study funded by a major beauty products corporation photographed potential employees "before" and "after" makeovers.

According to the study, the recommended changes in hairstyles, makeup and clothing definitely improved the woman's possibility of being hired. Their salary estimates were also higher.

In response to the question, "what should a female manager or executive look like," the employers answered "confident, organized, in charge, serious, intellectual and career-oriented."

Eye contact and a direct smile were also considered very important by those who answered the questionnaire.

Hairstyles noticeably influenced employers, Saunders says. Shoulder-length or shorter styles were favored. In addition to being easy to care for, shorter hair also draws attention to the eyes and creates a more approachable and friendlier image. Women who were chosen tended to have natural hair color and makeup, and selected conservative jewelry and clothing.

State seminar planned

Rockport - Fulton High School sophomores are being given the opportunity to participate in the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation State Leadership Seminar. All sophomores are eligible and will be judged on their leadership ability, sensitivity to others and desire to learn and share this knowledge with others. The emphasis will be on leadership potential.

One student from Rockport-Fulton High School will be selected from the applications submitted by a school committee. He or she will attend a state conference this spring, at which time two state participants will be chosen to be representatives at the International Leadership Seminar at the EPCOT Center in DisneyWorld, Orlando, Fla.

All sophomores interested in this program should come to the counselor's office and pick up an application. Applications must be completed and returned to the counselor by Dec. 1.

Scholarships offered to seniors

Those seniors planning to attend college who have not taken the ACT or SAT entrance exams need to do so soon. Many deadlines for applying to colleges for the 1983-84 school term are approaching. The next ACT will be given Dec. 11, and the deadline for applying is Nov. 12. The SAT application deadline for the Jan. 22 test is Dec. 17. Students should come by the counselor's office for test information and applications.

The time is approaching for seniors to apply for 1983-84 college scholarships. Many organizations have placed applications in the counselor's office. Some of the scholarships now available include the Voice of Democracy scholarships worth $1,450, which require the student to tape a speech by Nov. 15.

The Sons of the Republic of Texas are offering an essay contest with scholarships totaling $2,000. The deadline for application is Feb. 15.

The Rockport Chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club is offering a scholarship of $1,000 to an outstanding senior. The application deadline is Feb. 18.

The University of Texas at Austin chemistry department is looking for freshmen interested in majoring in chemistry. Scholarships are being offered up to $1,000.

Houston Baptist University is offering academic achievement scholarships to qualified students. These scholarships cover the cost of tuition for four years while maintaining a 3.5 scholastic average.

As the year continues more scholarships will become available to seniors. The guidance office asks that students check the bulletin boards and read the monthly newsletter for more information.

First 1982-83 NHS blood drive nets 57 donors

By Norman Smith
Contributing writer

The Rockport-Fulton High School blood donor club sponsored its first blood drive for the 1982-83 school year on Tuesday, Oct. 26. The 57 persons who donated blood received a button, a sticker and a poster for their help. They will receive a card by mail which certifies that they gave blood and guarantees that their family members will receive free blood if the need ever arises.

Senior members of the National Honor Society worked in groups to help organize the drive. They were responsible for getting each student out of class and over to the bloodmobile where nurses took over. Students were screened by the nurses before giving blood, in order to prevent any student from giving blood which was contaminated in any way. Those people who had colds or who had taken medication were screened from the donation process.

The next blood drive is scheduled for the coming spring, and is expected to net even more donors. Chuck Ayers, RFHS National Honor Society president predicts, "The spring turnout will be much larger because more people will be 17 and the athletes will be able to donate also."

Anyone from the community who is 17 years of age or older can donate blood.

First National Bank offers time and temperature by phone

A brand new dimension has been added to the most popular telephone number in town. Thanks to First National Bank, area residents may now obtain the current weather forecast along with the time and temperature by dialing just one number, 729-3131.

"Having first brought our community the time and temperature service in 1979, we have witnessed the continuing popularity of a quick call to get the current time and temperature with calls averaging over 22,000 per month," said James H. Sorenson Jr., president of First National Bank.

"Because of the tremendous success of the service and since weather is an important factor affecting every citizen, we are quite pleased to offer the addition of a weather forecast to our community, all in one simple phone call," added Sorenson.

Located directly on First National Bank's premises, the new digitally operated time-weather-temperature (TWT) system provides the correct time, current temperature and the Rockport-Fulton area weather forecast.

Weather information is obtained from the National Weather Service and updated twice daily by a staff of meteorologists at the Audichron Company in Atlanta, Ga., manufacturers of the new system. Weather information is put into the system via a series of codes developed by the weather service and Audichron and is then transferred over telephone lines.

In the case of severe weather, the service will be updated as often as necessary and callers will be asked to turn to their local weather channels for more information.

"The degree of accuracy of the service is remarkable," said Sorenson. "Time is announced to the nearest minute, but in fact, the equipment is operating to a tolerance of one second per month," Sorenson added.

Up-to-the-minute temperatures are possible because a cable links an electronic thermometer on First National Bank's building with the recording apparatus. The thermometer sends a signal into the machine, which trips the temperature device putting the recording on the line.

Jane Barbe is the voice on First National Bank's new TWT service. Barbe is one of the three primary professional voices heard by millions throughout the world. She has the honor of having talked to the equivalent of every human being on earth approximately 20 times since she began recording for the Audichron Company nearly 17 years ago. Barbe is known for her singing and acting and, most recently, her appearance on the television show "Real People" as the Time & Temperature Lady.

Sorenson dials new 729-3131 number

Pioneers and inventors of telephone time announcement systems, Audichron also manufactures the system used by the U. S. National Bureau of Standards and the Canadian Dominion Observatory, which broadcast standard time signals and provide the primary audible time reference for the Western Hemisphere.

With more than three years of experience in providing time and temperature, Sorenson believes the addition of weather should prove to be a very valuable community service. "Giving the time, weather and temperature is just one more way of showing we are proud to be of service to our friends in the Rockport-Fulton area," Sorenson said.

Hypertension a major health concern

COLLEGE STATION — Hypertension, or abnormally high blood pressure, is one of the most prevalent health problems in the United States and is also one of the major contributors to heart attacks and strokes, reports Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Although progress has been made to increase public awareness of hypertension and to develop effective ways of treating it, the problem still remains a major health concern.

"High blood pressure often has no clear signs or symptoms and a person can have it and not know it. That's why it's so important to get your blood pressure checked regularly and, if it is high, to follow the treatment your doctor prescribes," Shirer says.

Leaders of an industry-funded symposium on nutrition and blood pressure control recently gave these guidelines concerning hypertension. They recommended that people:

1. Define their risk status, including diabetes, obesity and family history of the disease.

2. Check blood pressure regularly, whether or not they are in a high-risk group.

3. If pressure is normal, continue present lifestyle.

4. If pressure is slightly high, begin a program of moderte exercise; lose weight, if needed; and reduce salt intake as necessary.

5. Stop smoking and cut down alcohol intake.

6. If over 40, get a doctor's advice on exercise and take a stress test.

7. Do not drastically alter your diet by cutting out all fats or all salt-containing foods, or by following only a high fiber diet. If you cut out dairy products because they contain salt, you will also lose calcium, which is essential to blood pressure regulation.

8. If sodium-sensitive, follow a prescribed medical diet. Persons with normal blood pressure need not restrict their salt intake, but prudent use is advised.

9. If your doctor decides that you don't need medication, don't insist on it. It's better to regulate blood pressure through diet and exercise than with chemicals.

4-H'ers give hints for attractive rooms

You can create the illusion of spaciousness as well as turh wasted space into creative space in your home.

Here are some helpful hints from youth in the national 4-H home environment program, says Kathy Farrow, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, which conducts the program.

• Choose furniture that serves more than one purpose. Cluster items such as TV, stero, bookshelves and storage cabinets in a wall unit.

• Use compartmentalized storage to maximize usable capacity of storage areas or closets. Use baskets or similar containers to store magazines or sewing supplies.

• If bedroom space is limited, omit use of head and foot boards. Instead use bolsters or cover flat slabs of foam and hang by straps from a decorative, wall-mounted curtain rod.

• Use wall-mounted lamps or fixtures suspended from a ceiling to free table space for other items.

• Group compatible houseplants in one area of a room. Put some on stands to free floor space for other items.

Color also plays a part in changing the appearance of rooms and furnishings. With creative decorating, you can blend unsightly objects so they almost disappear and make a focal point of interest for furniture groupings.

Here are some pointers to remember:

• Contrasting colors emphasize. Make the most of a handsom piece of wall furniture by placing it against a contrasting wall.

• Closely blended colors conceal. To hide or de-emphasize an object, place it against an almost matching color that blends well.

• Pale colors recede. Use pale tones to open up a small room or make a ceiling higher.

• Bold colors advance. Brilliant hues seem to come toward you. Use bold colors to make an overly-large room cozy or a high ceiling seem lower.

In the home environment program, supported by the S & H Foundation Inc., 4-H'ers study these color, texture and design techniques to make the home more attractive and comfortable. They also make efficient use of energy as related to housing, furnishings and equipment.

In addition, boys and girls in this program explore job and career options in housing, furnishings and equipment, and develop an appreciation of and skills in the care and preservation of old and new housing, furnishings and accessories.

Through the National 4-H Council, a non-profit organization that uses private resources to support the 4-H program, S & H provides awards and incentives to 4-H'ers who excel in the program. Medals are given to the top four members in each county; one 4-H'er from each state earns a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago; and during the National 4-H Congress, six national winners are recognized and presented $1,000 scholarships.

Contact the county extension office for more information on these and other 4-H programs.

Low-cal foods are good snacks

Low-calories cheeses, along with raw fruits and vegetables, pack a lot of nutrition. They are delicious as light, sparkling "anytime snacks."

Low-calorie dairy products include cottage, ricotta and neufchatel cheeses and low-fat yogurt.

Dairy products are our leading source of calcium which is needed for bones and teeth.

They also offer high-quality protein, riboflavin and many other nutrients.

Fruits are valuable chiefly because of the vitamins and minerals they contain.

Winter fruits include all citrus favorites and the ever faithful banana. Apples are plentiful and high quality this time of year. And don't forget the myriad of canned fruits — peaches, pineapple, apricots and mixed fruits.

And, of course, don't overlook grapes, now available almost year round.

Board waits word on water system offer

HOLIDAY BEACH — The water control and improvement district seeking to serve residents of Holiday Beach is waiting word on an offer by the district to buy the private water company that presently serves Holiday Beach.

M. Joan Nish, president of the Aransas County Water Control & Improvement District No. 1, told board members in a meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, Nov. 1, that she has been in contact by letter and telephone with the owner of Baumgart Water Supply Co. but that as of Monday, she has received no response from him.

Board members voted to invite Baumgart to the district's next meeting, on Feb. 7, to discuss the possibility of such a purchase.

Discussion of the water system proposal followed the swearing in of the newest district director, Dick Downing, elected to the water board last August. Monday's meeting was the first session for the board — which meets every three months — since the August elections.

Also present at Monday's meeting was board member Wilson Burns. Directors Jane Kemmerer and Freddie Lingner were absent.

Nish told those present that a report of the new directors had been sent to the Texas Department of Water Resources and in a treasury report, said the district as of Nov. 1 has $14.35 in funds.

The WCID has been considering purchase of the Baumgart Water Supply system since last spring when the district's engineers, Kyle, Johnson & Associates, proposed such a measure as the simplest way for the district to fulfill its purpose of providing good, potable water to Holiday Beach residents.

In May, Dr. Nish sent a letter to Baumgart asking for replies to a series of requests including whether the water company is "incumbered by any mortgages," the real value of the company and the present amounts of water being produced and being sold.

Nish said Baumgart did not reply and she has subsequently talked to him by phone and sent a second copy of the May 22 letter. "Primarily," Dr. Nish said, the purpose of the questions are to find out if Baumgart "is interested in selling his water company."

Burns made the motion, seconded by Downing, that Baumgart be invited to the Feb. 7 board meeting.

The WCID was confirmed by a vote of Holiday Beach residents in August, 1979, for the purpose of finding a means to provide water to residents of the community. The board was given a five-year limit in which to accomplish that goal.

NEWEST MEMBER to the Aransas County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 board of directors, Dick Downing signs his oath of office before Notary Public Louise Wilken. Downing took the oath during Monday's meeting of the board which is seeking ways to provide potable water to residents of Holiday Beach.

The center will provide 550 parking spaces for shoppers.

Bernardy said earlier this year, "We've had a remarkable response from local merchants wanting to locate in the center" as well as large numbers of inquiries from Corpus Christi businesses interested in opening an Aransas County branch.

He added that Wednesday's reception "is the culmination of many years of planning to bring another supermarket to our area, and we (referring to Live Oak Real Estate) are especially pleased to be a part of it."

June and 7.2 percent in July before taking the jump, in August, to 8.8.

Contributing to the August unemployment rate was the Aug. 17 layoff, by Rockport Yacht & Supply, of 100 of its employees in the Rockport shipyard. Personnel director Robert Konvicka said at that time the layoff was not due to any financial problems within the company but was the result of a lack of work.

Konvicka this past week said the company's situation has not changed.

TEC figures for Corpus Christi show the unemployment rate there at 8.3 percent for September. According to the latest available figures, some 611,000 Texans are out of work statewide.

Cancer Society needs drivers

The American Cancer Society, which has a unit in Aransas County, needs transportation drivers.

A transporation training session, sponsored by the District Six Transportation Program of the ACS, is set for Saturday, Nov. 6, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the community room, Kleberg First National Bank in Kingsville.

Budget deadlines set

city's fiscal year will run from Oct. 1 through Sept. 30 as it does at present.

The proposed article will require that the city manager present a proposed budget for the coming fiscal year to the council "on or before" Aug. 5 of each year (the budget is currently presented by the city administrator) and provides that, if the council fails to adopt the budget by Sept. 27, amounts appropriated for operation during the city's current fiscal year will be "deemed adopted" for the new fiscal year on a month-to-month basis until a new budget is adopted.

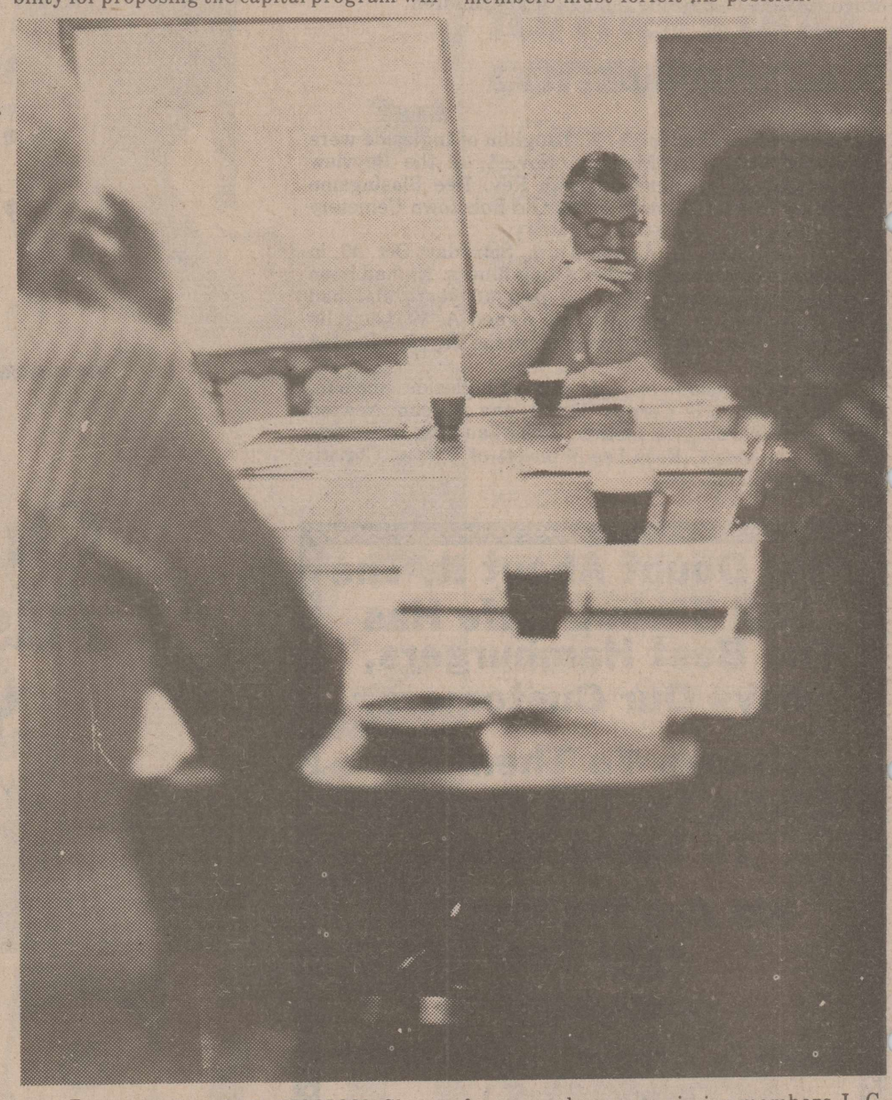

The capital program which will be required each year must, under provisions of Article VII, list all capital improvements proposed for the next two years, "with appropriate supporting information as to the necessity for such improvements" plus cost estimates and proposals for financing the improvements.

Under the charter provisions, responsibility for proposing the capital program will rest with the city planning commission whose members will be named by the city council and which will correspond to the present planning and zoning commission.

Other provisions of proposed Article VII set down the procedures through which the city may borrow money through issue of bonds or tax anticipation notes.

Article IX, also approved as proposed by the charter commission Monday, gives the city council the authority to create boards, commissions or committees as needed and requires all such boards, commissions and committees to submit a written report of their proceedings to the council "no more than two weeks following each meeting."

No city officer or person holding a compensated appointive post within the city may be appointed except as advisor to any board, commission or committee and any member of such a body who misses three consecutive meetings without an explanation acceptable to other board members must forfeit his position.

Ants are common problem in Texas

Among the most common household pests in Texas are ants. They get into trash cans, open food, dog food and other sources of sugar or protein and can be quite a real nuisance around the house.

Probably the most common household ants are the tiny, yellow-to-light-reddish Pharoaoh ants. These ants have, through time, become well adjusted to living with man and are quite clever in avoiding attempts to exterminate them. They do not form a stationary nest and when anything disturbs them, they simply move to a new location some distance from the disturbance.

The problem with trying to poison these little pests is that it normally disturbs those which are not killed and they move away from the poison. They are then able to rebuild their populations and, in a matter of days, are back causing the same headaches as before.

The solution, then, is to poison them without their realizing they are being poisoned (or without disturbing them). Here is one suggested method:

Mix one teaspoon of boric acid crystals in one or two ounces of hot water. Heat and stir until the boric acid dissolves, then mix the solution with one cup of corn syrup.

Put this bait out in small amounts at many bait stations. Plastic pill or metal bottle caps will work well to hold the bait. Place baits in and around those areas of the house where ants have been seen. Be sure to keep baits moist by replacing them or adding a drop or two of water every three or four days.

Boric acid crystals can be bought at most drug stores and many supermarkets.

This method of controlling Pharaoh ants is simple and inexpensive, but it does take time. You should not expect complete control for a period of several weeks.

VA upholds Privacy Act

HOUSTON — "Veterans Administration offices often are asked by a third party to supply information about an individual — when the federal Privacy Act doesn't allow such release," said T.W. Myatt, director, Houston VA Regional Office.

"Usually, such a request is very innocent," he said, "such as a husband asking his wife to call the VA for him while he is at work. But regardless of the reason, the VA in most cases is limited by law in the amount of information that can be given. This is also the reason why a veteran, when calling the VA, is asked for information verifying his identity."

The same federal legislation prevents release of requested file information on specific veterans to the news media.

However, Myatt stressed, the VA can honor a request by a third party for information out of a person's file — if that person has given specific, prior, written consent.

"There also are instances," Myatt added, "when the VA can release information from a claimant's file without prior consent. This is usually to another agency that has a need for the information in order to process something concerning that person."

Those rules generally hold true to most government agencies that have files on individuals, he added.

ASSUMABLE MORTGAGES ATTRACTIVE

High mortgage interest rates make low-rate, assumable mortgages extremely attractive to homebuyers.

Indeed, such a mortgage may command a significant price premium. But assuming one of these loans may not be a bargain for the buyer (any price premium must be paid as part of the cash down payment — since the principal of the existing loan is fixed).

The premium could be so high as to require many years of lower monthly payments to recover the extra money spent for the large down payment. The buyer could have invested this additional cash, and the income from that investment could partially compensate for the savings from lower monthly payments.

In addition, a high interest rate loan may be refinanced should interest rates come down. Ask your broker to calculate whether a loan assumption is really to your economic advantage.

IDEAS ON TITLE POLICIES

Lending institutions generally require borrowers to purchase title insurance before issuing a loan for the purchase of real estate. Here's some information on title policies that might save you some money.

This type of insurance is called mortgagee's title insurance or a mortgagee's title policy. It protects only the lender. Borrowers who want title protection must purchase separate insurance known as a mortgagor's — or owner's — title policy.

Coverage under the lender's policy lasts until the loan is paid off. The borrower's title insurance lasts for so long as he or she owns the land and continues in force for 25 years after the sale.

If your lender requires you to purchase a title policy, you may get a cost reduction by purchasing the mortgagee or mortgagor policies at the same time.

UNDERSTAND HOMEOWNERS' ASSOCIATION BY-LAWS

Before you buy a condominium unit, you should read and understand the deed and the by-laws of the homeowners' association.

All condominiums are legally arranged so each owner has title to an individual unit. In addition, the owner has an "undivided interest" in the common area outside the boundaries of the individual units.

This means the owner shares responsibility for the upkeep, taxes and liabilities of the common area, and the owner must abide by the collective decisions of all owners as to the use and development of this common area.

These decisions are made by a homeowners' association, membership to which is included in the deed to the condominium unit. You may or may not feel comfortable with such collective decision-making.

DTPA PROTECTS BUYERS

Recently there has been a legal trend in the market place toward buyer protection. The trend covers all commercial transactions even the sale and purchase of homes.

No longer must the buyer of a home assume the full risk of ascertaining all defects in a home prior to its purchase. Laws such as the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act obligate the seller of a home not to withhold any known information concerning the property which, if withheld, is intended to induce the buyer into a transaction he or she would not have otherwise entered.

This trend allows a prospective homebuyer to feel more confident about being more fully informed before purchasing a home. A knowledgeable attorney can give you more information about how consumer laws apply to real estate transactions.

INVESTMENT MOTIVATES BUYERS

Why did you buy a house? If you are like most homeowners in this country, you were motivated by the investment value of a home, as well as by a desire for security and privacy.

In a survey appearing in a recent "Professional Builder" magazine, almost two-thirds of the respondents felt that there is no better place to invest money than in a house. And more than three-quarters of the respondents listed security and privacy as their primary emotional motivations for buying a home.

These motivational factors held true for all age groups, while other factors, such as lifestyle and family considerations, varied in importance with the age of the homeowners.

Despite rising costs and increasingly complex financial arrangements, people still view home ownership as a means of achieving both monetary and emotional security.

EXAMINE SCHOOLS WHEN HOME BUYING

If you are in the market for a home and have school-age children, the quality of the schools they will attend is important.

How do you size up a school system? Your real estate agent can give you some general impressions, and here are some questions to ask.

Does the district attract and retain good teachers? What percentage of local graduates go on to college? What is the rating of students in the local system on national achievement tests?

What is the level of education of local citizenry? What is the response of the local citizenry to school tax levies?

How much is spent per child, compared to other systems? Is there a well-developed local vocational education system?

Remember, an attractive school system can provide you and your family with a significant contribution toward a pleasant living environment.

BUY DOWNS GAIN POPULARITY

To overcome the effects of high interest rates, people trying to sell a home have developed a number of creative financing methods. One of the latest is the seller-provided buy down.

The seller pays the lending institution a sum of cash sufficient to reduce the buyer's monthly loan payments from their present level — at interest rates of 16-17 percent annually — to a more acceptable amount, for example what they would be at 13 percent.

The cash generally is enough to effect such a reduction for the first three years. A buy down costs the seller less than would an overall price decrease. This is because a price reduction would be spread over the entire mortgage term rather than just the first few years.

DETERMINING PROPERTY TAXES

Property taxes are a prime revenue source for counties, cities and school districts. If you own property within several of these jurisdictions, you may receive a bill from each.

Each bill is based on an estimate of the fair market value of your property. At the beginning of each year, you have the opportunity to provide a sworn statement of your property's estimated value. The assessor may adjust this estimate or, in the absense of a rendering, make a separate estimate.

From this assessed value, homestead exemptions and exemptions for elderly and disabled property owners may be deducted. Finally, the tax rate is applied to determine the amount of tax due.

If you have specific questions about how your property value has been estimated, contact your county's chief appraiser.

DEED OF TRUST MOST COMMON

A deed of trust is the most common means of conveying ownership of real estate in Texas.

It differs from a mortgage by including a trustee as a third party to the loan agreement. On the lender's behalf, the trustee holds the title to the property as security for the loan.

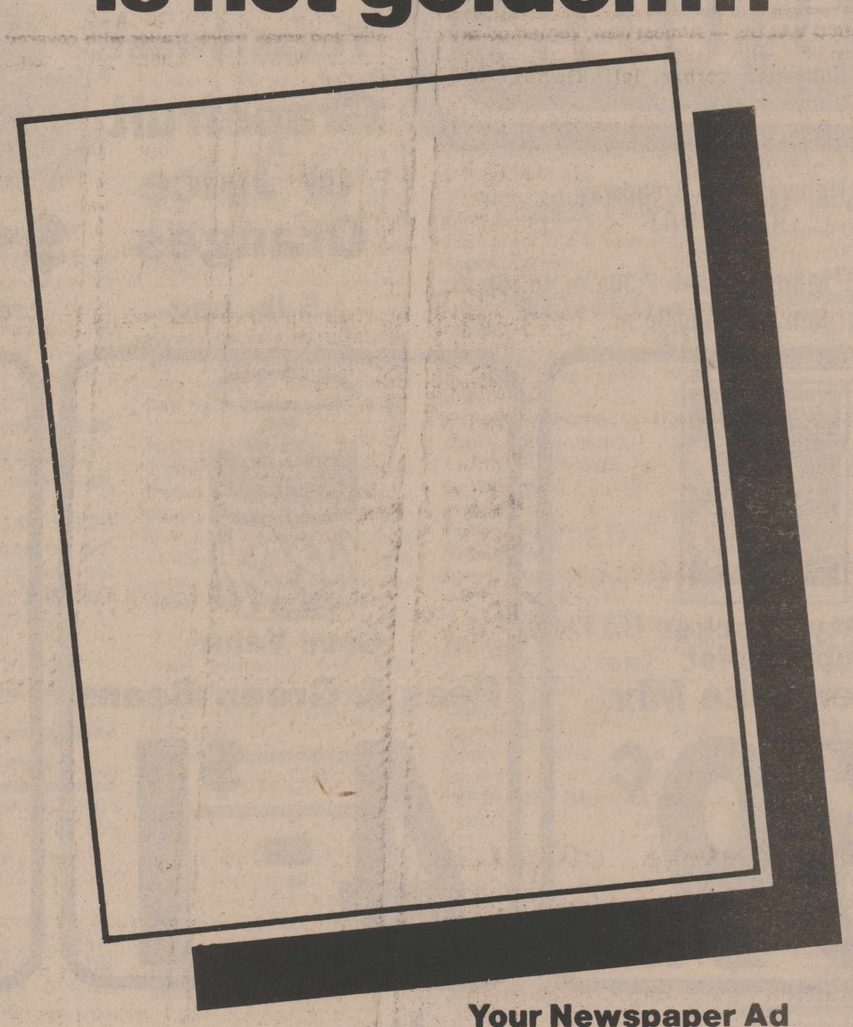

In Texas, if the buyer defaults in violation of the repayment agreement, the trustee may sell the home. The proceeds of the sale will help repay the lender.

Deeds of trust have reduced lenders' risks and lowered their collection costs in contrast to mortgage secured lending, since trust deeds do not require lengthy foreclosure proceedings in the case of default.

All these factors have the welcome effect of reducing the buyer's cost of obtaining a home loan. Your broker and lawyer can give you more information about deeds of trust in Texas.
