'LAME DUCK' CONGRESS UNDER WAY

Jail Ends Spree Of Youthful Riflemen

Echoes of the "wild and woolly" West with bandits shooting at unsuspecting travelers from ambush in rock-walled canyons reverberated in Lubbock Saturday night with the arrest of three local youths. Testing their marksmanship by shooting at moving targets, the youths were in the midst of an interesting and amusing contest when they were rudely interrupted. The moving targets were passing automobiles loaded with people and the rude interruption was furnished by Constable J. C. Roberts.

The boys were three local youths between the ages of fourteen and sixteen. They were still in the county jail this morning while arrangements were being made for their trial. One man received a slight bullet wound in his foot and a not-so-slight dent in the side of his car as one of the youths took a pot shot at him. Thinking that he had been attacked by bandits, the man rushed back to town and reported the shooting to officers. When Constable Roberts arrived at the canyon, immediate arrest of the youths were still engaged in their "amusing" pastime.

FASHION HAS MODIFIED LINES

PARIS

The invisible and mysterious work that effects the changes in fashion is in truth a form of art that is today arousing the keen interest of all intelligent people. Whereas, a few years back, only the style publications concerned themselves regarding this important phase of woman's life, the important literary publications are now conducting fashion departments.

At all the smart European resorts the lines of the dresses and coats have been modified by almost imperceptible degrees. Thus we arrive at the beginning of winter convinced rightly that a new fashion has been created.

By means of an enveloping line, a gathering of the fabric of the frock over the hips, instead of drapery, a waistline is indicated that is not as low as it was last season, nor again at the place that nature gave it. In this new line, the feminine form will be subtly and gracefully suggested rather than deliberately displayed. This makes it possible to add more ornamentation, particularly on the crepe satins and artificial silks that will dominate the fashion field this winter.

After the series of shapeless frocks which were merely covered with pearls and embroidery, it was inevitable that a more subtle line should make its appearance. The brevity of skirt will no longer be quite so marked. It will be more carefully studied to harmonize with the values of the silhouette, and not give the unfortunate effect of a petticoat stopping short above the knee when a woman sits down.

Nothing that makes a sharp break, a line, be it that of the waist, of the legs, or of the neck, can be becoming, and it is precisely with this object that I have striven, apart from the sports costume, to reintroduce the flowing of draperies, both on frocks and on coats. In addition, I lay great stress upon the effects produced by fan-like pieces of the same material as the frock, tulle or muslin, as depicted in the sketch of the white tulle dress I have named "Boule de Neige."

In view of the fact that the modern woman has a pronounced taste for sports of all kinds, we must suggest for her some new designs that are the very antithesis of the sports clothes which have hitherto had such a fatal attraction for her, to the detriment of grace and elegance. This is what I have tried to create in my "Cinq Heures" frock, with its drooping side panels, drawn to the back and tied at the hips. In it I have sought for something that is quite different from the forced austerity of the early morning sports costume. This model is particularly smart in black.

Living and Loving

LOVE NEEDS DOESN'T CHANGE
THOUGH HUMAN BEINGS MAY

"Oh, 'tis love, 'tis love, that makes the world go round." And love doesn't change with the apparent changes in humans. For instance, the cry flies round the world that women are no longer what they used to be, sweet, docile creatures yearning solely for some big, strong man to love and protect them from a cruel world. And yet, in the news the other day a girl who belonged to the supposedly jazziest of circles—a professional dancer—threw over her contract and sped across the country to join her husband because he wanted her. Not an iota of difference between the modern flapper and the heroine of olden times when it comes to the call of love, you see.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: Room for me, too? But I guess there is no cure for my case. I love a man. Nothing new about that. And I believe he loves me. We went together for a long time, though he never asked me to marry him. I understood, because he is a sick man. (Why do those things have to be?) I will never love another. We just quit going together for no good reason at all. I can't go with any other fellow and get a kick out of it. I have tried to forget him, but can't, and I can't have him, either. So, what's a fellow to do?"

"JUST LONESOME." Fill your life with other interests, dear, and keep the lonely feeling at bay as much as possible, and I hope, oh, so much, that something will happen that will take away that loneliness and make you very happy. Keep hoping and working.

Brown-eyed Brownie: If there are no inherited diseases on either side of the family, I believe it is not considered dangerous for first cousins to marry. You would have to consult a reliable doctor about it. In some states it is prohibited by law, however.

Broken-hearted Brown Eyes: If the boy is mad at you and won't tell you the reason, I'd not bother with him. If your parents don't disapprove, you are not too young to go with boys occasionally—good Christian boys, as you say.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: For several nights two or three boys have been coming up in their car and have asked me to go for a ride. My mother and sister have forbidden me to do this, so, of course, I must always refuse. Perhaps you can understand how I hate to do this; but I'm afraid they will think that I'm a 'prude.' I generally manage to put them off with a joke. Mother is very considerate about other matters. She always lets me go to any entertainment with a boy friend, but she strictly forbids me to go riding. Dear Mrs. Lee, you have answered many other girls' questions, and I hope you can help me. This is the only little thing that bothers my young life.

"JOY." You are very fortunate in having only this little thing to worry you, dear. Your mother has heard of the sad things that sometimes happen when young people go out riding, and she is afraid; therefore, her refusal to let you go. I think you should do exactly as she says, and show her you are absolutely to be trusted. After all, it is a little thing to do for such a good mother. Explain to the boys that she does not let you go, and they won't think you're a "prude." I know how you feel about it.

(By Associated Press)
U. S. S. MARYLAND ENROUTE TO CALLAO, Peru, Dec. 3—Herbert Hoover today left Ecuador for Peru where he plans to land Wednesday at Callao.

The president-elect was accompanied on the seventy-mile ride on the cruiser Cleveland, from Guayaquil by President Ayora who through newspaper men sent greetings to the American people. He said he was pleased because of Mr. Hoover's visit, declaring it would improve relations between the United States and South America.

Ayora who traveled to Guayaquil to formally welcome Hoover yesterday, talked with the president-elect on the Cleveland for more than two hours, discussing financial and economic affairs of Ecuador and the manner in which the United States might assist the republic.

Finances Stabilized
Ayora seems proud of the fact that Ecuador's finances had been restored to a gold basis, with a Central Bank system fashioned somewhat along the lines of the United States federal reserve bank. There is also a farm bank in Ecuador. Ayora said his government had established a board of social welfare to improve conditions of labor and to enact laws for the welfare of women and children.

Hoover was especially interested in the operation of these laws as they dealt with subjects on which he put emphasis in his campaign for the presidency.

Besides Ayora, Hoover was accompanied to the Maryland by Peruvian Minister La Fronie, Finance Minister Tejada and the American minister, Gerhard A. Bading.

Mr. Hoover was informed that the Maryland would be accompanied to Callao by the flagship of the Peruvian navy. From Callao the president-elect plans to go to Lima by motor.

It is probable that Hoover will call at Antofagasta, Chile, instead of Mo'cho, Peru, to receive Bolivian officials. Under arrangements, now pending, the call at Antofagasta would be made Saturday.

ARRAIGN TWO FOR MURDERS

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE INTO YORK, PA. SLAYINGS
(By Associated Press)
Two youths, Wilbert Hess, 18, and John Curry, 14, will be arraigned Wednesday charged with the murder of Nelson D. Rehmeyer, county authorities announced today.
Rehmeyer, a reclusive farmer, was killed Tuesday night, according to statements made by the defendants, when they attempted to cut a lock of hair from his head. The hair was to be buried deep in the ground as a charm to break a spell alleged to have been cast over the Hess home.
While the aged farmer was being buried yesterday, it was said Rehmeyer himself was a pow-wow practitioner and a firm believer in the practice of Witchcraft, hexing and other forms of mysticism carried on in some rural districts.
Rehmeyer said the lock of hair had not been obtained because Hess's hair was bloody and he was afraid to take the lock, as it might do more evil than good. Police also quoted him as saying the motive for the slaying had been partly to obtain a handbook on witchcraft which the reclusive was suspected to possess.

Find More Accounts Thought Due Graft

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3 (AP)—Three more accounts in the Union Bank and Trust company, raising the total deposited there under fictitious names to nearly $10,000,000, have been discovered by District Attorney Monaghan who is directing the grand jury investigation into bootlegging and police corruption.
Owners of the three new accounts, which aggregated $1,500,000, have been identified, the district attorney said. He said the accounts interweave closely with the 15 others which have been found but whose owners have not been discovered.
The district attorney said his investigation this week would be directed along the trail of this money, which he believes to be the profits from bootlegging and gambling activities.

Secrecy Surrounds Naval Plan Answer

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The result of the conversations between Sir Eme Howard, British Ambassador at Washington, and Secretary of State Kellogg, regarding Premier Bakewell's reply to Representative Duffin's naval proposal has been received in London.
It was still under consideration at the foreign office today and no information was available as to what may be the next step in the situation.
Reports arriving here that Mr. Kellogg refused to accept the premier's letter replying to Mr. Britten to Sir Eme were not substantiated at the foreign office.

GRASS FIRES BOTHER HERE

CHIEF WARNS AGAINST CARELESSNESS ABOUT BLAZE HAZARDS
Two grass fires broke out in Lubbock over the week end, although neither resulted in material damage. Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said that the large number of grass fires recently would have been eliminated if the public had taken heed of his warning several weeks ago.
"Although little and apparently harmless these grass fires would probably have caught nearby buildings and resulted in considerable damage if the fire department had not prevented it," he said.
One other fire call was placed yesterday although it was never completed. The firemen were all ready to make the run, and three men were listening over different phones for the call. Firemen report that the women who placed the call report fire hung up before telling the address of the fire.
According to Chief Twitty, there have been 97 fires in Lubbock since the first of this year. Few of this number have caused any great damage.

Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things

THE new Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. It is a better car today. Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things. Ceaselessly, untiringly, our engineers are working for the improvement of the car. Every new idea that seems to promise advancement is studied and tested in every conceivable way.

Not only in the laboratory, but out on the road in actual running. As soon as we are sure of its value we put it into the car.

The result is an automobile that is always new. There is no such thing as saying improvements for a yearly model designed to speed up sales or capture a passing fancy.

No matter when you buy a new Ford—in January, May, August or December—you know that it embodies every latest development that has proved sound and good.

You know more than this. You know that in design, materials and workmanship it is the best car that can possibly be made at a low price. The deciding thought behind every move is not sales or profits—but "What will give the most service to the public?"

Our whole effort is toward simplicity—to give you complete, well-rounded performance with the least amount of machinery and without sacrificing quality anywhere along the line. You cannot make a complicated car at a low price without cutting corners somewhere.

The new Ford is a truly great car because it brings you a proved, sensible balance of every essential feature of an automobile. No one part has been over-developed at the expense of another.

You get remarkable acceleration and smoothness at all speeds. You get speed of 55 to 65 miles an hour. You get uncommon power and hill-climbing ease. You get reliability and economy of operation that will save you many dollars in the up-keep of your car.

You get more than this . . . a fully enclosed, silent six-brake system—four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers—Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield—the full and immediate advantage of many improvements developed exclusively by the Ford Motor Company.

Arrange now to see the new Ford and know the thrill of driving it. Judge it not only on acceleration, power and speed, but also on safety, comfort, ease of control, reliability, economy—on its long life and the security of its trade-in value.

You will know then that today, more truly than ever before, there is nothing quite like the new Ford in design, quality and price.

THE TINYMITES
 BY HAL COCHRAN

"A bont on wheels, with a deer in front! My goodness, what a funny stunt," said Clowdy to the hunter.

"Now don't be too impatient," said the hunter. "You'll soon be glad that I have fixed your old boat up. But first, I have a bunch that all you Tinymites would like to take an appetizing hike, and then come back to my small home and have a little lunch."

The hunter then began to run and shouted, "Come on, everyone. I'll show you where some chestnuts are, and you can pick a few."

Each Tiny gathered up his share and then the hunter shouted, "There! We have enough, so now let's go back home where we can eat."

"But, when they sat down for a meal, poor Clowdy said, 'How full I feel. We've eaten chestnuts till we've spoiled a wondrous lunch-noon treat.'"

As soon as they had finished lunch, the hunter called the happy bunch and said, "Now I will tell you why I fixed your boat up fine. All jump aboard, just as you are. My little deer will pull you far. I'm sure you'll like this trip. It's to a 'favorite place of mine.'"

The Tinymites have a bump in the next story.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING
 NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Trading was quiet in the cotton market today with business confined mainly to evening up in advance of the government's final crop report Saturday.

NEW YORK TRADING
 NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 11 points with active months showing net losses of 8 to 13 points. Under liquidation with some southern selling. Initial offerings were absorbed at the decline to 26.18 for January, and the market recovered to about Saturday's closing, after which trading was quiet and irregular. At the end of the first half hour, prices were about 2 to 10 points net lower with December relatively easy under liquidation.

Fluctuations were irregular later. Budgets met increased restocking or liquidating probably prompted by uncertainty as to the showing of the approaching government crop and ginning reports, but the declines brought in some trade buying and covering. Prices sold back about to or a shade below the earlier low levels during the middle of the morning.

January which had sold off to 20.17 was selling around 20.25 with the active months generally showing net losses of 4 to 10 points.

STOCKS AND MONEY
 WALL STREET PRICES
 NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Reactionary price tendencies predominated at the opening of today's stock market. Initial losses of a point or two were recorded by Anaconda Copper, Radio-Kath-Albee, Allied Chemical, Briggs Manufacturing and American International. International Nickel opened a point higher.
 High money rates, and the prospect of another huge increase in stock exchange member loans brought about further liquidation of stocks in the early part of today's market.
 Selling pressure was particularly effective against some of the high priced specialties. Radio quickly dropped 4 1/2 points, Wright Aeronautical 2, and American International, Westinghouse Electric, Chile Copper, International Combustion, Vandalium Steel and Kansas City Southern yielded 2 points or more.
 There were several blocks of 5,000 to 10,000 shares changing hands in the early trading. Columbia Graphophone opened with a block of 21,000 shares at 80, off 2 1/2; Standard Oil of New Jersey with block of 6,000 shares at 56 1/8, off 15-8; 6,000 Mexican Seaboard at 69 1/2, up 1; 5,700 Consolidated Gas at 106, off 17-8; and 5,000 Baltimore and Ohio, at 121 1/2, up 1 1/2. International Nickel extended its opening gain to 2 points and Kroger Stores moved up 1 1/2 on expectations of the early acquisition of a New England chain of stores. Chesapeake and Ohio, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and General Railway Signal also pointed upward at the start.
 Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables down 1-3/4 of a cent to $4.85 3/4-32.

GRAIN MARKET
 CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Scarcity of wheat offerings, December delivery in particular, led to early higher prices today despite the fact that the Liverpool wheat market had proved relatively unresponsive to Saturday's upturn on this side of the Atlantic.
 Opening at 1-3 cent off to 3-8 cent. Chicago wheat later showed general gains. Corn and Oats were easy, with corn starting unchanged to 3-8c down, and subsequently holding near to the initial figures. Provisions went lower.

RARE VIOLINS
 Five Of Famous Make Found In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 3 (AP)—Antonio Stradivari and his co-workers have done a good business in Texarkana—or at least Texarkanians think he has, for five of them have produced old violins bearing the cherished "Stradivari" label inside.

A reporter found an old fiddle with the famous Latin ticket and trade mark, and before he had written his story he found two more just like it. Then today, E. E. Philyau, champion "old fiddler" of the two-state American Legion convention here, and W. C. Green, both of Fouke, displayed treasured violins with the same labels.

Stradivari's violins, of which he made several hundreds before his death in 1737, have never been equalled in tone, fiddlers claim.

KING

out the night after it was learned that King George had been given oxygen and this his long illness menaced his heart, were somewhat allayed by the doctor's report issued this morning. The report said the king's condition was slightly improved.

There remained in the public mind, however, a conviction that the king was fighting for his life with the issues still very much in doubt. This was intensified by the knowledge that oxygen was being used in his case, although Buckingham palace authorities, minimized the importance of this and explained it was customary to administer oxygen for its tonic effect in such cases.

Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, the king's physicians, issued this medical bulletin at 10:30 a. m.:

"The king has had three hours of quiet sleep since the issuing of the bulletin. The report issued this morning. The report said the king's condition was slightly improved.

No mention was made of how the king's heart was functioning with the exception of the inference regarding it contained in the statement that his general condition was slightly improved.

As indicating the serious condition of his majesty, it was announced this morning that the visit which the Duke and Duchess of York planned to make to Buckingham tomorrow and the date was to the same city on Thursday have been cancelled.

By the time the medical bulletin was posted, the crowd outside Buckingham palace had swollen to big proportions. There was a rush forward to read the report.

As the crowd read the bulletin, there were signs of relief as it seemed that new hope was given. Many who had waited for hours in the line walked off with their hearts least temporarily lightened.

A special force of mounted and foot police had a difficult task dealing with the crowd but every effort was made to exercise tact and forbearance. The police insisted, however, that a passage be left near the entrance for the hundreds of motor cars constantly arriving should not remain longer than necessary.

Premier Baldwin called at Buckingham palace at 12:30 p. m. and had a half hour conversation with Lord Dawson, but did not see the king.

TWO SONS SPEED BACK TO LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Two sons of King George who had been on a hunting tour in Africa, were speeding homeward today, to the bedside of their father.

The Prince of Wales sailed from Dar-Es-Salaam on the cruiser Enterprise. He is expected to arrive in London about the 12th or 13th of December. Throughout the trip he will in constant touch with Queen Mary and the royal family by radio.

The Duke of Gloucester, who was hunting near the border of north Rhodesia, was making a dash for the coast in a special coach today. He reached Broken Hill this morning and will continue to Capetown where it is understood he will take a mail steamer for England.

Prince George, youngest son of the king, is now stationed at Hambleton, Bermuda, with the British training ship Durban. It was not known whether he had been recalled, but it was assumed his father's condition was likely to result in his return.

POULTRY SHOW AT SLATON TO BE THIS WEEK

RECORD ENTRY LIST IS ALREADY ON HAND FOR EXPOSITION

SLATON, Dec. 3.—Slaton's third annual poultry show opens Thursday morning, continuing through Friday and Saturday. Two brick buildings, amply accommodating 800 to 1,000 birds, will house the exhibits, according to E. L. Hicks, Slaton Poultry Association president.

Interest locally and over West Texas generally has been high for several weeks prior to this year's show, says W. P. Spilawn, show secretary. He and A. A. DeVore, show superintendent, and other show officers believe 800 or more birds may be shown. There is no limit to territory where poultrymen are eligible to compete for the cash premiums of hundreds of dollars, show leaders have announced.

Boys' and girls' 4-H clubs in nine counties, Lubbock, Lynn, Garza, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Hockley and Terry, have been invited to show their stock, assisted by county agents and home demonstration agents.

Besides large displays of chickens in all varieties, a large turkey display is anticipated, officers announced. Many visitors are expected to visit the show this year.

CONGRESS

appropriation bills. It had during the last session shunted to the senate such problems as the Boulder dam, Colorado river development bill, the naval construction measures and others. Muscle Shoals, however, an annual problem, still remained to be solved.

In the senate the Boulder dam bill, in the hands of Senator Johnson of California, has preferred status. It faced a stormy passage unless radically changed but had a fighting group behind it.

Oddly enough the Kellogg treaty to outlaw war and the bill to construct fifteen new cruisers were being awaiting a place on the senate program.

Bitterness in Background
Extent of the bitterness engendered by the election and the campaign is still to be shown.

On both sides of the senate there are members who fought their party's presidential candidate wholeheartedly, notably Senator Simmons of North Carolina, Heflin of Alabama, Blaine of Wisconsin, and Norris of Nebraska. So far at least on the surface, there has been no organized effort to discipline them.

Today's opening session, the "game duck" session, as it is called, because many of its members already have been defeated at the polls, was merely to get things under way.

Tomorrow the congress will receive President Coolidge's annual message.

habitable. The deaths at Talca were estimated at 108 with 300 injured. Relief trains were speeding into the stricken area, regular railway schedules having been cancelled.

Firemen and various organizations of young men aided the mounted police in caring for sufferers and acting as guards. Aid offered by the Red Cross was also accepted.

Guard Against Looting
Soldiers were ordered to shoot any marauders. Troops took over most of the food supply to prevent looting and they were rationing them out.

Refugees arriving from Talca estimated that the large town would amount to 100,000,000 pesos (about $12,000,000). Biggest Christmas Rush Forecast By Postmaster

"The biggest Christmas rush in the history of Lubbock county" is the prediction of Postmaster John L. Vaughan this morning in issuing a request for early Christmas mailing.

"If the public falls this year to mail Christmas packages and cards early the local post office will suffer the worst 'jam' it has ever experienced," he believes.

Mr. Vaughan bases his prediction of a big Christmas upon the large crowds which have thronged the city lately, especially on Saturday. "One can tell the public's attitude by watching crowds in stores on Saturday afternoons. If the people are milling around and looking it doesn't mean much, but this year they are buying."

Clark M. Mullican, A. E. Arnfield of Lamesa, and W. G. McMillan have been selected as the nominating committee of the council. This committee will make all nominations and recommendations of officers and members of the council.

The program and resolutions of committee consists of John Hood of Slaton, Rev. L. G. Williams, and R. E. Dickson of Spur.

Officers of the council report that this year has been one of the most successful in the history of the Boy Scout organization of the South Plains. "It is planned to launch an even greater program for 1929."

Woman, 50, Is Wed To Man, Twenty-One

BOSTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A 50-year-old bride, formerly assistant pastor of First Christian church in Lynn, and her 21-year-old husband and former Sunday school pupil, were on a honeymoon today. Leonard Clarke Wade of Swampscott and Mrs. Theresa Eliza Dean Wade made no comment on criticism of their marriage.

In Swampscott, Wade's parents were endeavoring to find some grounds for annulment, but without much success since both principals had complied with legal formalities.

The marriage was performed last Saturday night at West Newbury by the Rev. Glenn Morse, who occasioned momentary confusion by failing to identify Wade as the bridegroom and by addressing his opening remarks to the comparatively best man, Samuel D. Twombly of Salem. Mr. Twombly's wife attended the bride.

Mrs. Wade is a widow, with two adult children.
