Perry Cox, 21, son of Carl Cox of this city, received his wings and commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army Air Corps at the Advanced Flying School, Luke Field, Phoenix, Ariz., according to a telegram received by the Courier from his uncle, Audrey Cox, who with Mrs. Cox, were in Phoenix to attend the commissioning.

Perry is a graduate of Lamesa High School and a former student at Texas A. & M. College. He received his primary training at the Primary Training Detachment at Visalia, California, and his basic training at the Air Corps Basic Training School, Lemoore, Calif.

Cox was then sent to the Advanced School at Luke Field to complete his training for his wings and commission.

Dodgers To Meet Clovis In Crucial Series; Feeling Tense Due To Fight At Clovis

The Lamesa Dodgers of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League returned home Wednesday night from a four game road trip to take the Big Spring Bombers into camp by a score of 7 to 3.

Features of the Dodger attack were the home runs by Eddie Stevens and Gene Costello. These combined with the 7-hit, 14 strikeout pitching of Costello were obstacles unmountable by the Dodgers.

Following the second game with Big Spring Thursday night, the Dodgers will go to Amarillo Friday night for two games with the Gold Sox, to return to the home park Sunday for two games with the Clovis Pioneers.

Sunday will be the first appearance of the Pioneers in Lamesa this year, and if past performances are any indication of what will happen, the two games here should be full of excitement.

The Dodgers lost two games to the Clovis team the first of this week, the first one 14 to 2 and the second 13 to 12.

A near riot took place following the second game in Clovis Tuesday night, when a Clovis player scoring from the third with the winning run in the 9th inning, tangled with Lamesa's catcher Otto Robertson. Before police officers could interfere, most of the players on both teams were reported to be in action, and were only quelled after the officers took over.

Several of the Lamesa boys claim that although they lost the ball game, they came out ahead in the scuffle. He is not saying who won, but we know that fans can expect some slam-bang baseball during the two games here Sunday and Monday.

National Scrap Steel And Iron Week May 25-30

The week of May 25-30 has been designated as National Scrap Steel and Iron Week by O. P. A. officials. Heading the drive in this county will be C. M. Burton, chairman, W. B. Collins and Ross Boardman.

These men are urging that every citizen of the county bring in all the scrap steel and iron they can find during this week, assuring them that local metal buyers and junk yards will pay the top prices for all that they bring in.

This is the second National Scrap Steel and Iron Week to be held since the first of the year, and it is hoped that this drive will bring in every ounce of such metal remaining in the county.

Stamp Program To Be Stopped On May 30th

The Cotton Stamp program will be discontinued on May 30, 1942, the Department of Public Welfare has been advised by the Agricultural Marketing Administration. Executive Director J. S. Murchison explained that this action was made necessary because the government finds it imperative to release all manufacturing facilities of the cotton industry.

Cotton stamps were exchangeable for cotton goods and were issued to public assistance recipients in seven counties of Texas. These included Tarrant, Dallas, Hill, McLennan, Travis, Harris, and El Paso.

State Aid Worker For County III

County officials have been notified that O. W. Gano, who has been handling Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to Needy Blind in this county is ill and has asked for a leave of absence from his job until he recovers his health.

A request to the state office for a replacement worker reveals that it will be thirty days or more before such replacement is possible. Those having problems of this nature are asked to bear this absence in mind, and that as soon as possible another worker will be sent out to this area.

Methodist Church School Workers Are Named

A partial list of the workers for the Methodist Vacation Church School beginning Monday is as follows: G. M. Roberts, Mrs. Ray Culp, Miss Jerry Smart, Mrs. James Marshall, Mrs. E. D. Landreth, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Mrs. M. H. Crawford, Mrs. Harry D. Pace, Mrs. S. L. Forrest, Mrs. W. T. Webb, Miss Betty Pace, Mrs. O. E. Dunlop, Mrs. Walter Perkins, Miss Billy Jean Meyers, Mrs. Rufus Pruitt, Miss Mary Horton, Miss Patsy Jo Rountree. Other workers will be added during this week.

The sessions will run from 9:00 to 11:00 each morning and will include inspirational singing, classes in worship, handicraft, and play. Boys and girls from four to fourteen will be enrolled. Certificates will be awarded at the close of the one week school.

Dawson County's First Casualty Of Present War

JOHN SAMUEL STRINGER
Dawson County's first known casualty in World War II is John Samuel Stringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stringer of the McCarty community.

Young Stringer joined the Navy on July 25, 1935, and was Machinist First Class aboard the mine layer U. S. S. Bittern, which was lost in Manila Bay off Corregidor. The Navy Department notified his parents, May 9 that their son was missing in action.

Stringer was born in Dahlenega, Georgia, in February 1912, and attended the Hartley school in the same state. He enlisted in the Navy at Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Stringer have two other sons who are also in the armed forces of the United States.

County Facing Possible Shortage Of Teachers

County Superintendent J. Henry Norris, this week released the information that this county was facing a serious shortage of teachers for the coming term of school.

As an example, he cited the fact that the Woody school needed 3 teachers. Mr. Olive had need of two, and O. K. had need of one. This composes the entire staffs of the Woody and Mt. Olive schools.

A number of the larger schools, such as Ackerly, Klondike, Sparber, and others also have a number of vacancies. All of the positions now open in the county require teachers with degrees, and as yet only a very limited number of applications have been received.

Karl Cayton Asks For Re-Election

Karl Cayton has this week authorized the Courier to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Attorney of Dawson County, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Cayton has served the county well and efficiently in the past and is making the race for re-election solely upon the record he has made while holding this important position. He will make his formal announcement at a later date.

Tire Conservation Program May Begin Over Entire Nation July 1 Says WPB

The War Production Board has directed the Office of Defense Transportation to map plans for nationwide gasoline rationing, possibly starting July 1, as a tire conservation measure, it was learned Tuesday.

This word followed only by minutes an indication by President Roosevelt that gasoline rationing might be extended to other parts of the country outside the East and Pacific Northwest.

The nationwide program would be drafted by ODT in consultation with Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes and Price Administrator Leon Henderson and would be returned to WPB for a final decision as to whether such a drastic measure was necessary to cope with the rubber shortage.

The proposal was discussed in full-dress session of the WPB last week, it was learned, and there was no substantial dissent from any member as to the apparent necessity for such control.

First Students Due At Glider School June 1st

Good Rain Falls Over Territory Last Monday

Lamesa and Dawson County was visited by one of their best rains in several weeks Monday afternoon and evening when from a quarter to one inch of rain fell over practically the entire county.

It was also reported that some hail fell in parts of the county, but the consensus of opinion seemed to be that the rain more than offset any possible damage caused by the hail.

Farmers over the entire South Plains area have been extremely busy the past several weeks getting their various crops planted, and most of them have practically finished. The rain Monday was declared to be just what was needed in order to get most of them out of the ground.

Most farmers now claim that one more good rain, followed by some good hot weather, would practically assure a crop in this area.

Rubber Planting At Tech

Texas Tech at Lubbock has started its own rubber experiment. Dr. A. W. Young (with spade) and Student Welborn Miller (right) supervised the planting of more than 7,000 guayule twigs at the school. Usually, it takes these tiny plants four years to reach a maximum rubber producing stage.

Plains-Panhandle Singers To Meet At Lubbock

The annual convention of the Plains-Panhandle Singing Convention Association which was organized in Lubbock County several years ago will meet again at Lubbock the first Sunday in June and Saturday afternoon and night before. The dates are June 6th and 7th.

This convention is composed of all the Texas Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico. The place is Central Baptist Church in Lubbock. Rev. Jeff Welch, the pastor of the church is cooperating very nicely in helping to make the convention a success.

We are expecting a large number of quartettes, trios, and duets from all parts of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, as well as plenty of song leaders.

Any and all song book publishers are welcome with their books and any company representative wishing to bring some of his company's books to the convention for the singers to use is welcome. We want everyone to feel that he is a part of the convention. We are expecting representatives from the Stamps-Baxter Music Company of Dallas and the Vaughn Music Company of Tennessee, and probably others that we do not know of at present. All are cordially invited.

It is one of the largest conventions that meets in this part of the Panhandle and there will be some of the best talent available at the convention. Earl Raper, of Plainview, Texas, is Secretary, Tracy Campbell of Lamesa, Texas, is Vice-President, and Lee Thompson, of Farwell, Texas, is President.

The principal of using powder to propel shot was known in the fourteenth century.

Livestock Disease Control Meeting To Be Held May 27

Everyone interested in poultry and livestock production is invited to attend a meeting Wednesday, May 27, at the Recreation Building, Lamesa, which will begin at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be of special interest to raisers of poultry and swine. Preserved diseased tissues from animals and poultry will be exhibited, and related educational slides will be shown. Details are being completed by the sponsors, Farm Security Administration and Lamesa dealers. All teachers of Vocational Agriculture in this section, members of their classes, and families of the students are making plans to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Dr. Frank D. Porter, Bureau of Animal Industry, Field Inspection Division, and C. P. McHaffey, Fort Worth, will be the featured speakers. Dr. Porter will discuss diseases of swine and will place special emphasis on Hog Cholera. In a letter received today, Mr. McHaffey, well-known poultry authority, states that he will "cover sanitation and disease control on through to layers and broods."

Similar meetings held elsewhere during the past year have been of inestimable value to attending stockmen and poultry raisers, according to reports received here. Key producers of livestock and poultry in this vicinity are being urged to attend the Lamesa meeting.

Every animal and bird lost at this time is a loss to our war effort. Any movement to fight livestock and poultry diseases deserves your support. Attend this Lamesa meeting, Wednesday, May 27, 10 o'clock.

Chief Of Police West Resigns

Mayor Charnell Jobe announced Thursday morning that Chief of Police Lawrence West had tendered his resignation to the City Commission, and that same had been accepted effective as of June 1.

Mr. West, who has been a member of the Police Force of Lamesa for about three years, and was appointed Chief only last April when the new city officials took office, when he replaced Jack Phinizy.

The Mayor made no statement as to who would succeed Mr. West.

County Praised In Raising Quota For Navy Relief

J. H. Harp, chairman of the Dawson County Navy Relief Drive, received the following telegram Wednesday from Gerald C. Mann, chairman of the state committee:

"Heartly congratulations to you and your workers in filling the Navy Relief Society quota for Dawson County. I wish to commend the people of your county for their generous response to this appeal. Each one who has contributed in anyway to the success of your drive has the Navy's deepest thanks as well as my personal appreciation for a job well done. Best Regards, Gerald C. Mann, Chairman, Texas Citizens Committee, Navy Relief Society."

Mr. Harp reports that although this county's quota was only $480, that contributions totaling $550 have been received, and that others are still coming in.

Sam Morris To Speak Here Next Wednesday

Sam Morris, widely known Texas evangelist, of San Angelo, will speak at the Bryan Street Baptist Church next Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. Morris is one of the best known preachers in this state, and has spoken in Lamesa on several occasions. Many will remember that he spoke here last year during his campaign for the United States Senate as a successor to the late Morris Sheppard. He is a forceful and interesting speaker, and will have a message that will benefit all who attend.

Every person in the entire territory has a cordial invitation to come out and hear Rev. Morris.

Welch Road To Be Completed

Assurance was received this week that work will soon start on the unfinished sections of the Lamesa to Brownfield highway in the very near future. The unfinished portions of this road are from Punkin Center to Welch and from Welch to the Terry County line.

Work on this highway was stopped in February when all non-defense highway work was frozen, but through the efforts of Dawson County officials, assurances have been given that the road will be released for completion.

Nearly every bomb shelter in Malta is equipped with electric lights and radio.

Large Crew Is Rapidly Clearing Brush From Site

Col. Meyers, Col. Andrews, Col. White and Lt. Pritchard of Randolph Field were in Lamesa Thursday morning to inspect the Glider School site.

Information was also released Thursday that some of the students of the school will arrive in Lamesa by June 1, and that the instructors and ground crews have already left their homes for Lamesa.

With the arrival of the contractors, Younger Engineering Co. of San Antonio, expected at any time, a crew of between 75 and 100 grubbers are rapidly clearing the site of the Lamesa Glider Pilot Training School, located on the G. G. Wright property about six miles northeast of Lamesa.

John Wilson of La Porte, Ill. who will operate the school, as well as a number of engineers and army officials, are already in Lamesa, making plans to open the school at the earliest possible moment.

Officers who will serve as instructors, as well as the ground crews who will serve here, are expected to start arriving as soon as accommodations can be provided for them. It was reported that the first group of student pilots will start their training about June 1.

It has also been reported that until the permanent structures can be built, temporary facilities will be put into use in order not to delay the start of the training program any longer than necessary.

Wilson has been an air pilot for many years, receiving his license in 1922. After working for various airlines and manufacturers for several years, he began to teach flying. About three years ago he took up gliding, and after three hops made his solo flight and obtained a commercial license in two weeks. He has since that time been operating an air school at La Porte.

While no definite figures have been given as to the final cost of the Lamesa school, it has been variously estimated to be between $250,000 and $500,000. This includes cost of barracks, mess hall, recreation building, hangars, work shops, and other necessary buildings.

It is also reported that the Lamesa school will serve only as a primary base, and that after the student pilots complete their preliminary training here, they will be sent to other schools for the completion of their studies.

It is expected that the school will be in full operation within the next 90 to 100 days.

ATTENDING ASSEMBLY IN MILWAUKEE

Rev. David Murray, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Lamesa, is in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, attending Presbyterian General Assembly as a commissioner representing the Abilene Presbytery. Rev. Murray left for Milwaukee last Sunday and will return on May 29th.

No church services will be held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday, but Sunday School will be had as usual.

Classified Ad Rents House

Mrs. Maude Fambrough recently ran a Classified Ad advertising the fact that she had a room for rent. The ad came out in Thursday's issue of the paper and on Saturday morning she rented her room.

Thus for a very small cost, possibly no more than 25c, Mrs. Fambrough got results that will bring her several extra dollars per month.

And once again the Courier Classifieds have proven their value in getting a message before the people of this territory.

If you have something to sell or trade, have a house or apartment for rent, have lost something, or maybe you want to buy or rent, Courier Classified Ads have proven results to show that for the money spent, they are the wisest investment you can make.

Ceiling Price Is Explained By Lamesa Firms

Several persons have asked the Courier this week to endeavor to explain to their readers the meaning of the price ceilings on practically all merchandise which became effective the 18th of this month. They said that many people seemed to think that this ceiling set a certain price on each item and that it nothing else.

But this is not the case. The price ceiling merely prohibits the item from being sold at a price higher than the highest price received for it during March 1942, by the particular merchant selling it. In other words, one merchant might have gotten 25c for an item during the month of March, and another received 27c for the same item. Thus one merchant's ceiling is 25c on the item while the other merchant's ceiling is 27c.

Neither does it mean that the individual merchants must get these same prices for the same item now. They can go as low as they want to on the price of their goods, but they cannot go above the ceiling prices, which in these cases were the 25c and 27c highs for March.

Ceiling prices simply mean that merchants can't sell above the price received for their various items of stock during March, but it doesn't prevent them from selling as cheaply as they desire.

Subscribers Are Asked To Check Expiration Dates

Courier readers are asked to watch their expiration dates on their subscriptions in order that they not miss a single issue of their home town newspaper.

In other words, if the numbers following your name on your paper reads 6-42, that means that your subscription will expire on June 1, 1942, and that unless you renew your subscription will be stopped at that time.

The subscription price of the Courier is now $2.00 per year in Dawson, Martin, Galves, Borden and Lynn counties, and $3.00 per year elsewhere.

Why The Government May Draft You For The Battle Of War Production

By JOHN GROVER
Wide World Features Writer

WASHINGTON—Do you work in a factory? On a farm producing vital food items? In a job necessary to wartime functioning of civilian life? If the answer is "No," manpower mobilization means YOU and YOU means every adult American physically able to work. President Roosevelt's recent order setting up the War Manpower Commission, headed by Paul V. McNutt, spotlights the necessity of maintaining an adequate labor supply to manufacture fighting equipment. It earmarked a new, brass-tacks policy in dealing with the supply of labor for war work. The talking war is over, and every American must justify his present job or face assignment to tasks the government considers more vital to victory.

Legislation In Prospect
This is not possible under existing law, but McNutt was specifically directed "to formulate legislation" bearing on the labor supply for submission to Congress. Such legislation could have only one purpose—to bring the whole labor force under federal control for war work. Indicative of the closer control of the labor force is the authorization for a new draft classification, the 3-B deferment for occupational reasons, and also Senate committee acceptance of the measure providing financial aid to dependents of men in service, which would mean wiping out deferment for dependency. McNutt has made haste slowly. In many ways his task is the most complex and colossal of any in the "war cabinet." It's equal to Production Boss Donald Nelson's job, with the added difficulty that it deals with human beings instead of materials. Here's The Picture:

Here are some of the main outlines of his problem:
1—There are about 8,500,000 workers in war production now, and the number must be stepped up to 17,500,000 by 1943.
2—The normal reservoirs of labor are drying up; there are only about 3,000,000 unemployed, mostly unskilled; the military will have 4,000,000 men ordinarily available for production in uniform by year's end.
3—Civilian life must be maintained as close to normal as possible, because home front morale is vital.
4—The emergency labor force—housewives without children, students, non-essential workers—is almost entirely unskilled. They must be trained or production techniques, must be devised to utilize semi-skilled workers.
5—Priorities for labor must be evolved, and are quite as important as materials priorities. The competition between industries and between industry and the military in the field of manpower, even the contest between the army and navy for "cream of the crop" recruits, must be settled.
6—Placement of plants where labor is available, and transport of labor is critically short, also may come to pass. Ten Million Required
Officials point out that war industries must have 10,000,000 new workers, by 1943 to keep municipalities rolling on schedule. There are 8,500,000 persons in war industries now. They'll need 17,500,000 by January, plus farm help in certain areas. Where are they coming from?
They've got to come from the labor reserves in non-essential endeavors or from non-working groups. There are 32,400,000 non-defense workers employed now. Add to that 6,500 housewives eligible for full-time work, 500,000 students, 3,000,000 unemployed, 600,000 aged and handicapped and 5,600,000 able to do part-time work. It totals 48,700,000, from which must be drawn 10,000,000 new war workers. Only 40 Million Eligible
However, not all of the 48,700,000 can do war work. Women might fill an estimated 1,500,000 of the 10,000,000 war jobs. The students are largely ticketed for the armed forces. Part-time workers can't be used in continuous production processes—too many shift changes. Actually, the 10,000,000 must come from less than 40,000,000 eligibles. The natural flow of labor to jobs will take up part of the slack. First to go into war industry will be industrial workers from priority-closed non-essential factories. The natural drift of workers in clerical, sales and service lines to higher-paid war production will find more jobs. They'll be usable after training. Housewives can take possibly half the 1,500,000 jobs open to women, with girl workers from non-essential lines taking the rest. May Not Require Law
After that, the pinch comes. Consensus of estimates is that between 2,500,000 and 3,500,000 workers will be needed from the rest of the labor reserve. The Manpower Commission hopes that further voluntary transfer of workers from non-essential to vital production will fill those jobs adequately, without need for legal conscription. If legislation comes, it's expected to follow lines similar to military selective service. Those in non-essential lines chosen for industrial service will go into training schools or training programs within industry to learn war trades. Their places in vacated non-essential sales, service and clerical lines will be filled by part-time workers and housewives. Training Is Problem
The training program is one of the most important features of manpower mobilization. The bulk of the labor reserve is unskilled. A white-collar worker can't go on a production line. There are two solutions: (1) expansion of the training program, already under way; (2) devising production techniques to utilize semi-skilled workers after short training periods. The War Manpower Commission also will have final authority over drafting men from farms and industry for military service. McNutt has indicated that deferment by industry is not unlikely, to prevent dislocation of such critical production as shipbuilding. Nothing will be allowed to interfere with war production. Those 10,000,000 jobs will be filled, even if it means industrial conscription. If you're an average U. S. male, not now in war production, you're a one-in-four bet to be working in a war industry by 1943. Women without dependents face the same odds.

Radiomen Are Needed By U. S. Army Air Corps

LUBBOCK, May 9.—Trained radio men who are interested in the Army's Airways Communication System are being sought for possible enlistment in the Air Corps. Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, commanding officer of the Lubbock Army Flying School here, announced today. With the Air Corps undergoing the most rapid expansion in its history, trained men able to work its important radio control system are needed badly, Col. Gilbert said. Applications for enlistment are now being accepted from men who have had considerable experience in radio theory and maintenance and in code operation, he said. Knowledge of radio telephone procedure is also desirable. If accepted by the War Department, candidates will be able to enlist in the Air Corps specifically for assignment to its Communication System. Anyone interested in applying for enlistment of this sort should report at the entrance gate of the Lubbock field as soon as possible, he said. He will be directed to the proper authority on the field.

Helpful Hints In Bulletin For Farm Families

To help farm men and women act as their own safety engineers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Federal Interdepartmental Safety Council has published a bulletin called "Watch Your Step . . . Farm Safety for National Defense." Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Extension Service specialist in home improvement, points out that every year hundreds of thousands of accidents, big and little, take a tremendous toll of the farm family's time and money. With families already short of labor and faced with the need of producing more food for Freedom, neither the farm family nor the nation can afford accidents, she says. The new pamphlet on practical ways to prevent some of the more common farm accidents is available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Fightin' Words For Texans

In the capsule in Governor Coke R. Stevenson's hand is Col. William B. Travis' "Victory or death" message from the besieged Alamo. Capsule was inserted in the staff of the Texas Flag presented to Texas' own 36th Division by the Governor at an unidentified southern camp. On the capsule is inscribed: "A message to Texans—to be opened and read if capture seems imminent." That's Cpl. Kelton H. Spillar of the adjutant General's Division helping the Governor hold the staff.

The Marines . . .

(By Sgt. Clarence Ham), 1st Guard Co., Marine Barracks, N. A. S., Corpus Christi, Texas.

You can have your Army khaki; You can have your navy blues. But here is another fighter I'll introduce to you. The uniform is different. The best you ever seen. The Japs call him a "Devil Dog" But his real name is MARINE. He is trained at San Diego. The land that God forgot. Where sand is fourteen inches deep. And the sun is scalding hot. He set many a table. And many a dish he's dried. He's also learned a bed to make. A broom he sure can guide. He has peeled a million onions. And twice as many spuds. And spends his leisure hours washing out his duds. Now take a tip from me girls, I'm handing it to you. So get yourself a good Marine For there is nothing he can't do. And when he gets to Heaven To Saint Peter he will tell "Another Marine reporting, Sir. I've spent my time in HELL." To better understand the life of a Marine see the picture "On the Shores of Tripoli."

The Navy is full of heroes The Army knows its beans The Air Force is a rare force But it will take the bronzed Marines

There is a swager to their carriage And they're easy on the eye And my heart does dizzy tail spins As they go proudly marching by. Oh, when they've smeared the Axis And the country is serene Gee I hope that I am landed By some marvelous Marine.

Crumpled Bit Of Paper Is Noble Advise To Son

A crumpled bit of paper was sent speeding to a lonely boy determined youth in one of Uncle Sam's Naval Training stations today, and officers who read the hurried scrawl the scrap of paper bore, believe an American classic was penned in the parting moments of a father and son.

As noble as the advice Hamlet received from his father and as American as the flag was the crumpled letter which the boy lost in the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office at Wichita Falls.

The letter was from Jim H. Canon, Paducah, Texas, to his 19-year-old son, Jimmie Henry Canon Jr., and written to the boy before he left Wichita Falls to come to Dallas for his final examination and to be sworn into service.

Brief and poignant was the letter of an American dad to an American son:

"Dear Son:
I am sending you the papers which give my consent for you to join the Navy. I wish you the best of luck, and I want you to write

Club Boys Are Increasing Egg Production

About 8,000 4-H Club boys in 77 Texas counties are carrying on poultry work of some kind this year, according to a survey by L. L. Johnson, Extension Service state boys' agent. This represents an increase of 1,033 demonstrators over last year and involves 42,949 laying hens. On the basis of past performance these hens should lay about 644,235 dozen of eggs during 1942.

If the expected price of 23 cents a dozen prevails, these eggs would have a total value of 148,184, Johnson says. In addition, the boys have 577,961 chicks in their flocks, 80 per cent of which should survive with good feeding, management and sanitation practices.

"Assuming that the chicks divide about equally in sex, the cockerels sold as fryers at 20 cents a pound would be worth $94,500, and the pullets worth $1 each at maturity would have a total value of $236,000," Johnson says. "Taking the total value of eggs produced, pullets raised to maturity, and fryers disposed of the club boys have a business amounting to a grand total of $478,674."

Although individual club members may not have a big business, Johnson points out that the joint output of all poultry demonstrators runs into a sizeable income. Many 4-H Club boys are producing eggs and poultry only for home consumption, he adds, but the government is as interested in having people on the farm eat proper diets as it is in having industrial workers and men in the armed forces receive the right foods.

you and several million like you to do the job.

Jimmie was transferred to a Naval Training Station on April 4, his letter turned up at Wichita Falls today. How it got there, no one knows. But the letter is going on to Jimmie... it should be a big help in trying times to come.

"That letter," declared Lt. L. H. Hidout, Jr., officer in charge of the Dallas Recruiting Station, "is the type of encouragement boys need from home. America is just as strong as the number of dads and sons it has, like Jimmie senior and Jimmie Jr."

Jimmie and his father call Delvin, Texas, their home town and it is there the family reunion will be held when "Jimmie comes marchin' home."

Walkie-Talkie

Far in advance of the main body of troops, or off on a crest to the flank, is the observer and his "walkie-talkie" operator. Although separated by distance, he is in constant communication with his commander, reporting activities from his vantage point. Separated battalions and companies are coordinated by the same means. Although the field artilleryman's guns may be thousands of yards to the rear, the forward observer with the walkie-talkie radio can climb a tree near the front and direct fire accurately on the enemy. Better than the sniper is the radio operator who can hide in a hollow tree and bring a barrage of high-explosive shells to any target he can see.

KLONDIKE WOMEN TO TEST PRESSURE COOKER GAUGES

The Home Demonstration Club women will test pressure cooker gauges at the Klondike school building on Monday, May 25, from 10 o'clock until 4 o'clock. This service is for any pressure cooker owner who is interested, regardless of whether you belong in the immediate Klondike community or not. The Department of Agriculture reports that there have been no deaths caused by eating commercially canned foods for the last eleven years, so all of the casualties you read of are caused from home canned products. Most of these are canned in pressure cookers. It is an evident fact that the gauges do go wrong after a certain period of use and become unreliable. Therefore they should all be tested this year of all times, when everyone is striving to produce all the wholesome food possible in order to do their bit to win the war. So come, bring your cooker and a covered dish if you wish to come near the noon hour.

Revised AAA Payments Reflect War Needs

Wiser use of land, labor and equipment in producing wartime food is the aim of recently announced parity and conservation payments to be made Texas farmers cooperating under this year's AAA program.

Payments also act as levers to assist farmers in continuing soil conservation practices and in converting from production of crops with big reserves to crops the country needs to increase quickly, Geo. Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, announces.

A parity payment of 135 cents per bushel will be made to cooperating wheat growers, but no parity payments will be made to cotton and rice farmers because their 1941 return, including conservation payments, is at or above the parity level.

New conservation rates of payment, which are paid producers for seeing special crops according to AAA regulations, also have been announced and replace rates originally designated. New cotton rate is $1.20 per 100 pounds instead of $1.25, per while the wheat conservation rate of 105 cents per bushel has been reduced to 99 cents.

The payment rate on commercial peanuts, which does not include peanuts for oil under the Food for Freedom program, has been reduced from $1.45 per ton to $1.25 per ton, and the rate on Irish potatoes has been changed from 2 cents per bushel to 1.8 cents per bushel. The 1942 rice payment will be 3.88 cents per barrel instead of 4.86 cents.

New payment schedules do not include changes in the soil-building allowance rates or soil-building practice payment rates under the 1942 conservation program, the AAA chairman said. Necessary changes in these rates will be made later when more adequate information becomes available concerning the extent of participation in this phase of the program.

NATIVES TRAP, SAVE SHELLS FOR JAP

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Returning from a tour of 54 native schools in all sections of the territory, George A. Dale, Associate supervisor of education for the Office of Indian Affairs, reports the natives are reviving their ancient fishing and hunting arts in order to conserve ammunition.

Wherever possible, he said, natives are taking game without the use of ammunition, and he quoted one old Eskimo as explaining "every time a seal is taken in a sinew net, that saves one 30-30 cartridge for Mr. Jap."

posts two or three times longer than red oak.

The cost of carrying the posts from seed to maturity, including transplanting, taxes, cultivation and one or two years in the nursery, amount to about $15 an acre, Simmons estimates. The net profit from producing 4,000 posts over a 15-year period is approximately $385.

Seed, produced in the catalpa bean possibly can be obtained in neighborhoods where trees grow.

Gen. DeWitt Is Busiest Man On West Coast

By SAM JACKSON
Wide World Features Writer
SAN FRANCISCO — Lieut. Gen. John Lesne DeWitt comes very near being all things to all men. He's the authority who called off the Kose Bowl game as far as California was concerned and closed up its big racing plants.

He's the man who's transplanting the Japanese from the coast inland.

He's the power whom thousands of civilian defense workers are trying to please and who makes public officials step lively.

In short, he's the commanding general of the Western Defense Command. This is the Army's entire organization in the part of the country that directly faces the Japanese danger. It comprises the eight westernmost states and Alaska, with a civil population of 12,000,000.

Though he is personally reticent and very very busy with strictly army affairs he cannot help being a public figure — probably the most conspicuous one in the entire west. His name is in the western press more often than Douglas MacArthur's.

This is partly because of the ceaseless flow of orders that go out, many of them vitally affecting civilian life, and all signed, "J. L. DeWitt, commanding."

DeWitt is 62 years old and has been in the Army 44 years. He started not by the West Point route, but by taking an examination for a second lieutenant while he was a student at Princeton during the Spanish-American war.

Yet his background is Army through and through. He is the son of a general and the brother of a general, and his one son is a major. Born at Fort Sidney, Nebraska, he lived at western army posts long enough ago to remember when there was Indian fighting.

Soon after he was commissioned he saw action in the Philippines, and has served four separate tours of duty there. In the first World War he was overseas as an officer of the supply service, and was awarded the distinguished service medal and elected an officer of the Legion of Honor. His various peacetime assignments included a four-year stretch as quartermaster general.

In his San Francisco headquarters, DeWitt works seven days a week and has an Army cot in his office. He used to be quite a horseman but has little time for riding now, and says his reading has been cut to strictly military subjects.

Mild, mannered, but with a firm ringing voice born of long command of men, DeWitt is a pleasant and smiling talker when he has time to unbend. He professes that he has spent an uneventful life, fails to recall any especially memorable incidents in his career.

From the beginning of his administration, people in all walks of life have learned that they're living under a general who means business.

He has restored the military salute in public, limited the hours his soldiers may be sold liquor, and made them slow down their gleeful speed in their jeeps. He's cracked down on San Francisco for its ineffective blackout and on Reno, for its vice, and went to bat in Washington about the leakage of military news out of Alaska. Land and other public installations have been re-

400 Iron And Steel Articles Get Axe Of War Board

The recently issued War Production Board order outlawing the use of iron and steel in more than 400 civilian articles and products after a brief tapering-off period, applies to used iron and steel as well as to new material, according to WPB priorities field service officials.

Although the order is drastic, by virtually stopping the manufacture of most of the articles listed, its effect "is not nearly so drastic as the need for iron and steel in the manufacture of fighting equipment for the Army and Navy," officials said.

Listed articles for which iron and steel are forbidden after August 3 include a wide variety, from attic fans to weather stripping, and such things as bath tubs, bird and chick feeders, building ornaments and ornamental hardware, corn cribs, grain storage bins except for strapping and reinforcing materials, culverts, feed troughs, fence posts and ornamental and chain link fencing, gutters, spouting, conductor pipe, and fittings for single-family dwellings, novelties and souvenirs of all kinds, parking meters, sign posts, manicure scissors, tweezers, etc.

Where listed articles are considered essential—such as culverts, corn cribs, or feed troughs—those articles should be made out of wood or non-metallic materials hereafter, the WPB officials said.

Catalpa Posts Are Long Lived
Catalpa fence posts averaging four inches middle diameter inside the bark, with good proportions of heartwood in suitable soil and climatic conditions, have an average life of 15 to 20 years or longer in the ground, says C. W. Simmons, Extension Service farm forester.

Simmons cites the experience of J. A. Leger of the China Community, Jefferson County, who recently cut 2,000 posts from a half acre. He has 1500 trees growing on one acre, which will furnish an average of four posts each, the larger part of them being five to six inches in diameter at the base. He planted the trees 15 years ago, spacing them six feet and cultivating them once. Mr. Leger says they were two years old at time of planting, and it is his opinion that they will serve as

Still his most discussed order is his prohibition of crowds of large size, which struck the sporting world like a bolt from the blue just before the famous Rose Bowl football game. General DeWitt is grimly playing the game of war.

The chambrays that bloom in the spring, tra la, will be seen in the lighter hues this season, the National Cotton Council and Cotton Textile Institute report. The fitted bodice has a square neckline. A sash belt encircles the waist.

Supplying You with Electric Service is a Never-Ending Job!

Any woman knows what a job it is to keep house. You're never quite through with the job. If it isn't planning the next meal, there is cleaning, mending, dusting and the many other things that must be done each day.

So it is with your electric service friends whose job it is to supply dependable electric service to you and to rapidly expanding war industries. Every day there are many little, but important, jobs to be done.

In these days when electric service is a vital factor in our war production program, these daily tasks of the electric company workers are doubly important. They are making it their No. 1 job to see that power is available for all war needs.

Reno Has A Marriage Boom

Wide World Features
RENO, Nev. — Should soldiers, sailors and marines marry?
"Sure," says Reno's county clerk, Elwood H. Beemer, 64.
"If they have wives, they've got something to fight for and they'll get the war over sooner so they can return to their little women."
"Not only that," Beemer declares, "but our service men are entitled to know the happiness of married life before going overseas where they may be killed or maimed."
Apparently the doughboys, blue-jackets and leathernecks agree because a steady stream of service men flows into the county clerk's office for marriage licenses.
Routund, good-natured "Boss" Beemer goes out of his way to put into practice what he preaches. He works overtime.
For those who can't be at the office during regular weekday hours, Beemer has added Sunday holiday and night office hours.
At least two judges cooperate. They perform the simple civil ceremony without charge for men in uniform.
Service men and civilians have seen an increase of about 33 per cent in the number of licenses issued here since Pearl Harbor.
Thousands of boys in the armed services are stationed in California but their home towns are in all parts of the United States. Girls from the east, midwest and far west often have Reno marriage rendezvous with home town sweethearts stationed at west coast bases.
California has a three day wait and health examination law which makes it impossible for spur of the moment weddings.
Result: The boys and their brides-to-be come to Nevada where they can be married in a matter of minutes.
60,000 Forecast
Last year 45,876 persons were married in this Green which has a permanent population of only 22,000. If the present trend is any indication, about 60,000 persons will be married in Reno this year.
Florists, jewelers, nightclubs and hotels are vigorous supporters of Nevada's liberal marriage laws which

War Chokes Off U. S. Spice Supply

WASHINGTON — American history began with the search for wonder—spice is nice, but is it necessary?
Christopher Columbus accidentally discovered this country while seeking a western route to the spice land.
Now the United States must embark on explorations, both geographic and scientific, to maintain the flavoring of its food. Enemy armies and submarines have added spices to the rubber, tea and countless other products no longer available.
At present there is no shortage of spices, nor is one likely soon. But the United States did import an average of 118 million pounds of spices a year, and these have been practically cut off.
Household hoarding won't help. Spices disintegrate into dust when left around for a long time, especially on warm pantry shelves.
Mrs. Average Jones doesn't go in for a great variety of spices, nor does she "spike" her preparations heavily. Her favorite seasonings are pepper, of which she uses most by far, mustard, cinnamon, vanilla, cloves, nutmeg and ginger.
Except for mustard, none of Mrs. Jones' spices can be grown in this country. Pepper comes almost exclusively from India, now in the shadow of the rising sun.
Ceylon is the home of true cinnamon. What Mrs. Jones calls cinnamon is really cassia, which grows in the East Indies and in China.
From our own hemisphere come vanilla beans from Mexico, all-spice and ginger from Jamaica, mustard from California and Montana.
attracts California couples — and money.
While the marriage boom means more money for the town's merchants, it means more work for Boss Beemer.
He receives no additional pay for the extra time he puts in, but he says he likes to serve the young people. Besides, the county gets two bucks every time a license is issued.

TRUSTY AUTOMATIC—Still one of the Army's most effective weapons is the Browning automatic rifle. Like the old Springfield it is the infantryman's standby. This rifle embodies features which no improvements have been made.

EQUIPPED FOR A RAID—Reconnaissance missions call for alert minds and sharp eyes. Hundreds of infantrymen are receiving special instruction in this type of work to attain self-reliance and confidence. They carry side-arms instead of rifles.

New CCC Camps At Military Posts

New CCC Camps have been established at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, and Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, where boys will be assigned to work on military reservations. Only five of the camps, which previous announcements indicated would be closed, have been closed thus far. These were at Coleman, Denton, Memphis, Newton, and Waxahachie. Closing orders are expected in June for eleven additional camps. These camps include three for white boys, located at Wolfe City, Morton, and Humble. Eight are for colored boys, located at Bogota, Mt. Pleasant, Winnsboro, Nacogdoches, Yoakum, Seguin, Huntsville, and Austwell. If all expected closing orders are received the state will then have ten CCC Camps. Seven of these will be for white boys and will be located at Breckenridge, Temple, Gatesville, Brownwood, Mineral Wells, San Antonio, and Alto. There will be three for colored boys, located at Waco, San Augustine, and Zavala.

Boys now being selected for CCC services will be sent for induction to the camp nearest their home on May 20. All boys enrolling must be willing, however, to leave the state.

Texas Raises Half Of USO Quota In First Week

Texas is half-way down the road to its USO quota. State Chairman Harry C. Wiess announced today as he totaled up contributions from the first reports made on the war fund drive.

With a goal of $1,110,000 as its share of the nation's contribution to provide for the comfort of the men in service, Texas gave just under 50 per cent of that amount in the first week.

The drive was scheduled to continue through July 4, but Chairman Wiess predicted the quota would be reached within three or four weeks and would pass the $1,110,000 mark before July 4.

Ten Texas counties were quick to make their quotas. First was Gillespie county, home of Admiral Chester Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, and Midland, Farmer, Pecos, Andrews, Nolan, Stephens, Sterling, Edwards, and Live Oak were quick to follow. Most of these will go far above their original goals, their chairmen informed Mr. Wiess.

"The response during the first few days of the drive is heartening," Mr. Wiess declared. "It shows that Texans are awake to the importance of providing those recreational facilities for the fighting men of America who are sacrificing on democracy's battle lines that we may continue the way of life we all want."

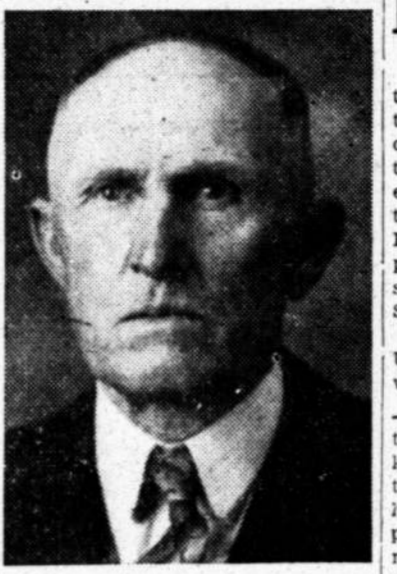

To a host of volunteer workers who have pushed the USO campaign past the half-way mark, Chairman Wiess expressed his appreciation.

"You are fighting the battle at home for the fighting men away from home," he said, "showing them we are determined to give them home-like comforts as well as the materials of war."

Social Security Board To Obtain Proof Of Deaths

J. E. HARDESTY

In submitting my name for a second time for the office of Justice of the Peace, I want to express my gratitude to all of you who so heartily supported me in my first race two years ago. I have always believed that a man's fitness for public office should be based on his ability and willingness to see every citizen, high or low, on a level in the performance of duty regardless of his political, social, or financial rating. My official acts, if elected, will be governed by such a policy. Therefore, I do not have, nor have I sought, the support of any pressure groups backing in my campaign. I am not running against any one. I'm asking you for a job, a job with one promise—I will do my full duty as I see it if elected.

I believe a man who seeks elec-

Arrangements are being made by the Social Security Board to obtain proper proof of death for individuals who died when serving in the armed forces, today announced Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Big Spring field office of the Board. This plan is to enable prompt settlement of the claims of survivors under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program.

"When such deaths occur in the United States, the usual proofs provided by statements of undertak-tion to this office should not only keep the records that are entrusted to him correctly but should, after hearing all angles of any issue presented, be capable of deciding right from wrong, then have the courage to do what he decides is right. Having held no public office I cannot refer you to my "official record", however, most of you know my record as a citizen and that of my family covering a period of many years in this county. On that record I shall trust my fate in this election.

The splendid vote I received in my first effort two years ago when I lost the election by only 18 votes, together with the encouraging requests of many friends to make the race again with the assurance of their loyal and sincere help, has intensified my desire to serve as your Justice of the Peace.

ers, physicians, or registrars of vital statistics are preferred." Adams said. "If death occurs outside the United States, proof may be established by letters of condolence sent by heads of the respective military departments to the next kin or by official reports of death which the War and Navy Department and the Marine Corps have agreed to furnish to the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance."

Adams pointed out that the Board will no longer request Federal departments engaged in war work to provide information from their records in regard to proof of birth for claimants. This is because of the increasing pressure of war work on the Army, Navy, State, and other Governmental departments. In addition some of these departments have been or may be moved from Washington to other cities.
