NARCOTICS RAID IN GALVESTON

GALVESTON (AP) — More than 80 city, county and state authorities arrested 37 persons in a massive narcotics raid Thursday night.

Sheriff J. B. Kline said the raids were designed to "put a lid on" heavy narcotics traffic.

The sheriff said the raids climaxed a three-month investigation by Texas Department of Public Safety undercover agents.

Kline said indictments were returned on 81 adults for the sale and possession of heroin and other hard narcotics.

He said the indictments included 114 charges of sale of heroin, 18 sale of marijuana and three sale of cocaine.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A young AWOL soldier seized a Pacific Southwest Airlines jetliner for $450,000 ransom, which he said would be given to groups "involved in the Mideast crisis," and ordered the plane 1,000 miles up and down California before surrendering early today to his hostage, a law officer, authorities said.

The air pirate, who gave up after the jetliner landed at Oakland International Airport, was identified by the FBI as Francis Goodell, 21, of Manassas, Va., AWOL two days from the Army. FBI agent-in-charge Robert Gebhardt said military cards were found on Goodell, including one from Ft. Riley, Kan. The entire $450,000 was recovered, the agent said.

NOTE TO PILOT

The hijacker gave a note to the pilot which said the ransom money, obtained from PSA along with one parachute, "would be given to two organizations involved in the Mideast crisis," a Federal Aviation Administration official said.

The note continued: "Recent actions by the Air Line Pilots Association and secretary of transportation have caused consternation in our organization and we are forced to take prompt action."

Some ALPA members last month took part in a one-day work stoppage to protest the recent wave of air piracy throughout the world and to demand better security measures. It was the second hijacking for PSA, an intrastate airline, in two days. On Wednesday FBI agents stormed aboard a PSA jetliner at San Francisco International Airport, killing two hijackers who had demanded $800,000 in ransom and escape to Siberia. A passenger was shot and killed by one of the hijackers, the FBI said, and two other passengers were wounded.

GAVE UP GUNS

The Oakland air pirate gave up his guns to California Highway Patrol Capt. Lloyd T.

Turner, whom he held as a hostage on the flight.

The hijacker had a pistol taken from the officer and a 7.65-caliber pistol of German make, the FBI said.

"He (the hijacker) started to act rather nervous and pursuant to suggestions, with the captain and the pilot talking to him together and individually — after 2½ hours — he finally surrendered his weapons and surrendered to the FBI," Gebhardt said.

Later newsmen asked Turner why he thought the hijacker gave up.

Turner said, "I think he felt sure in his own mind he would never get from the plane to the helicopter," which he had ordered and which was waiting on the runway.

FEARED BULLETS

"I think he thought he would be shot by the FBI if he exited the plane."

He didn't explain why he and Blakely left the plane in handcuffs.

A PARTING SALUTE — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, ending 54 days in the hospital after being shot at a Laurel, Md., political rally, gives a salute as he leaves Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Springs, Md., today, to return to Alabama before going to the Democratic political convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

5.4 Million Americans Hunting Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A renewed surge in livestock and meat prices led an over-all rise of five-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices of food and industrial products in June, the government said today. The unemployment rate dropped during the month.

It was the second straight substantial monthly price increase, following a three-fifths of one per cent hike in May for the largest two-month increase since last January and February.

The Labor Department also reported that the nation's unemployment rate dropped from 5.9 to 5.5 per cent of the work force last month for the lowest figure in more than a year and a half. The improvement was entirely due to seasonal factors.

But the actual total of jobless Americans climbed 1.1 million to 5.4 million in the annual summer flood of school youngsters seeking work.

Because the rise in the work force was not as large as expected, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics figured it as a decline in the jobless rate on a seasonal basis.

Livestock prices climbed 4.7 per cent, poultry rose 6.9 per cent and processed meats, poultry and fish rose 3.6 per cent, the report on wholesale prices said.

Industrial raw materials rose three-tenths of one per cent and consumer-finished goods—those ready for retail markets—increased five-tenths of one per cent.

The increases pushed the government's Wholesale Price Index up to 118.8 of its 1967 base, meaning that it cost wholesalers $118.80 in June for every $100 worth of goods five years ago. The index was 3.9 per cent above a year ago.

The report said wholesale prices had climbed at an annual rate of 5.3 per cent in the seven months so far of President Nixon's Phase 2 wage-price controls, a larger increase than the 5.2 per cent rate of increase in the eight months prior to the Phase 1 wage-price freeze imposed by Nixon last August.

Howard Hughes Hit With Slander Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billionaire industrialist Howard Hughes is accused in a $51 million damage suit of slandering Noah Dietrich, his 83-year-old biographer and former aide.

It was the second slander suit filed as the result of a televised news conference last January in which a voice identified as Hughes said of an associate: "He's a no-good, dishonest son-of-a-bitch and he stole me blind."

Dietrich's suit, filed Thursday in Superior Court, alleged that Hughes made the statement about another associate and likened Dietrich to that individual. In February, Robert A. Maheu, who was fired by Hughes as the $500,000-a-year head of Hughes' Nevada gambling and hotel empire, filed a $17.5 million libel and slander suit claiming the statement referred to him.

Also named as defendants were Hughes Tool Co., parent organization of the Hughes empire; the public relations firm of Carl Byoir & Associates; and Richard Hannah, a Byoir account executive.

Hannah said there would be no comment because he had not seen the suit.

The public relations firm arranged the February conference with seven newsmen in Los Angeles while Hughes was in the Bahamas.

Dietrich asked that the defendants pay $1 million in general damages and $50 million in punitive damages "or a greater amount according to the proof of his wealth."

Dietrich's suit said Hughes is a resident of Los Angeles County and "has been living in various parts of the Western Hemisphere for the past 15 years for the purpose of avoiding service of court process." Hughes Tool Co. officials say the billionaire is now living in a hotel suite in Vancouver, B.C.

FREED BY HIJACKER — Sue Shaw, 20, of Canoga Park, Calif., telephones her family after she and her daughter, Tanya, 14 months, were released with other passengers of hijacked Pacific Southwest Airlines jet Thursday night in San Diego. Mrs. Shaw said she pretended man at right was her husband when the hijacker announced "couples only" would be freed. He left with her, but declined to identify himself.

GRABBED BABY Cop Bullets Cut Down Viet Vet

HOUSTON (AP) — An angry Vietnam veteran fell dead from police bullets Thursday night after he threatened to kill his seven-month-old daughter with a butcher knife.

Police said Paul Escalante, 26, discharged from the Army about seven months ago, was standing in the middle of a street with a foot-long butcher knife held to the throat of his daughter, Paula.

"We tried everything we knew to talk him out of the knife or at least stall him," Patrolman T. O. Bresnahan said.

"We told him it was senseless to hurt his daughter if he was mad at his wife."

A sister, Gina Vasquez, 24, told police Escalante came home drunk and mad at his wife. "He grabbed the baby and a knife and yelled for us to get out," she said. "He said he wanted Esther (his wife) to come and get Paula." Mrs. Vasquez said "He told us he'd kill her when she came, and if she didn't come — he'd kill the baby and himself."

"When he advanced on me, the baby fell," said Patrolman L. W. Hoffmaster. "I had a clear shot and fired."

The two officers fired about five times — hitting Escalante in the chest.

While police tried to talk with Escalante, he dashed after an unidentified man walking down the street and barely missed slashing the man's throat.

Paula was listed in good condition at a hospital with facial lacerations. Mrs. Vasquez said Paula is the youngest of four Escalante children.

Water Facilities Given Approval

Big Spring's water facilities were found to be in good hands by the Texas State Department of Health, reported Bill Brown, superintendent of water and sewage.

Brown received a letter yesterday from Ned Brookes, representative of the health department. Brookes had been here earlier in the year to survey the water treatment facilities.

The survey, he wrote, showed Big Spring's water plant to be in satisfactory condition. He had two recommendations for Brown: 1) to construct a manproof fence about all water facilities and 2) to submit final plans and specifications of any major improvements and additions for review and approval.

Brown said that the construction of a fence is in the present fiscal budget. Construction will begin as soon as the monies are available. He added that submission of plans and specifications for improvements and additions is an understood factor in all instances.

Tick Nearly Kills Girl

MIAMI (AP) — Nine-year-old Cynthia Frame was back on her feet today thanks to her brother's sharp eyes and her mother's keen memory.

The red-haired girl was struck by a curious ailment Monday. She had difficulty walking, and a pediatrician and a neurologist couldn't determine why.

By Tuesday she couldn't walk at all, was having difficulty speaking and couldn't control the movement of her arms.

Her parents headed back to the doctor, and her father, David Frame, said the doctor "thought it was something with a name a mile long that doesn't often strike children Cynthia's age but can go away in 48 hours. He said we should just wait."

At that point, 6-year-old John Frame told his parents he had found "a funny bug" on the family dog.

"It clicked," said Mrs. Frame, explaining that she immediately recalled a newspaper story of nine years ago that told of a similar disease.

"We both said, 'Ticks,' and ran to Cynthia," the mother recounted.

They found a swollen wood tick embedded in the child's neck under her flowing red hair. A doctor removed the tick with tweezers, and within minutes Cynthia was well enough to walk down the street to visit a girl friend.

A spokesman for the Dale County Health Department said ticks produce an organic toxin that prevents nerves from transmitting impulses to muscles.

"It definitely can kill if it reaches the point where the muscles which control breathing become affected," he said, "but it is reversible right to the point of death by removing the tick."

Tax Boards Wind Up Conferences

Boards of equalization for Howard County, city of Big Spring and Big Spring Independent School District closed their sessions Thursday and have made their decisions on changes for 1973 property valuations.

Exact amount of the property valuation changes enacted by the boards are not yet known. Representatives of Womack Evaluations Service, employed by the three taxing agencies to evaluate all properties except oil and utilities for taxation, said that figures or new valuations were not likely to be available before Tuesday.

Valuation changes are reportedly centered on those set on mobile home properties, Industrial Park properties and similar commercial properties.

Whigs Nominate Fillmore

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Whigs have nominated Millard Fillmore as their 1972 presidential candidate. No. 2 spot on the ticket was won by Robert E. Lee Moxley, who happened to be passing by.

"The Constitution doesn't say the candidate has to be alive," Jeffrey Amdur said after 15 delegates acclaimed Fillmore the standardbearer of the Resurrected Whig Party at an outdoor convention in a park Thursday night.

The Resurrected Whigs are an offshoot of the Students' Committee for the Glorification of Millard Fillmore, a Whig who served in the White House from 1850 to 1853 after the death of President Zachary Taylor.

Amdur, co-chairman of the committee, says the selection of Fillmore was a long-overdue restoration to party favor for the man who was dumped by the Whigs in 1852.

Party leaders say they know little about Moxley, 70, the Baltimore man chosen for the No. 2 spot.

"He happened to be passing by and we asked him if he wanted to be vice president," said Amdur.

Moxley won out on the first ballot over P.T. Barnum, Chester A. Arthur, W.C. Fields and others.

What does the Resurrected Whig Party stand for?

"Motherhood, the flag, apple pie and Millard Fillmore," said James A. Seidel, a Frostburg

Bank Scheme Backfires

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A San Antonio man was held in lieu of $100,000 bond today on federal charges in what officers called a plot to rob a local bank by holding as hostage the wife of the president of the firm.

Jailed on conspiracy charges was James Orson Brown, 32, who was arraigned before a U.S. magistrate after he was arrested Wednesday night, of officials said. Police said Brown is originally from Navajo, Ariz.

Brown was arrested in connection with an alleged plot to rob San Antonio's Mercantile Bank & Trust Co. of at least $50,000, investigators said. According to a federal complaint, the victims of the plot were to be Roger P. Cloud, president of the Mercantile, and his wife, Nedah, who was to have been held hostage while Cloud was to be forced to go to his bank to obtain the money.

Police disclosed today that Brown was arrested Wednesday night by federal agents at a local bus station.

Whipping Post Abolished

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The cat-o'-nine tails has lashed a criminal's back for the last time in Delaware.

The whipping post, used since pre-Revolutionary days as punishment for a variety of crimes in the state, is no more. Delaware, "The First State," has become the last state to do away with the whip.

Gov. Russell W. Peterson today signed the Revised Criminal Code bill, which abolishes corporal punishment. It passed during the waning hours of the 126th General Assembly last Friday.

Local history claims the whipping post was nicknamed "Red Hannah" by blacks in Sussex County. And when a man's handcuffed arms encircled the post, it was said he was "hugging of Red Hannah," which served as punishment for crimes ranging from robbery and larceny to wife beating and embezzling, did not die easily. Although no person has "hugged of Red Hannah" since 1952, there still was considerable talk by candidates for office and incumbents that the whip should crack again in Delaware to enforce law and order.

'Kooky' Must Pay Or Serve Time

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television actor Edd "Kooky" Byrnes, 38, must pay $300 in Byrnes's wife, Asa Maynor, 29, back child support for his 6-year-old son Logan or serve two days in county jail.

The order was handed down by Superior Court Commissioner John L. Goddard.

A divorce suit filed by Byrnes, 38, must pay $300 in Byrnes's wife, Asa Maynor, 29, back child support for his 6-year-old son Logan or serve two days in county jail.

Sick Humor

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please write something in your column about the sick humor that has become so popular on television. I refer to the skits in which they make fun of old people.

This type of comedy mocks and ridicules the feeble walk, faltering speech and the failing sight and hearing of the aged, many of whom have no other entertainment than watching television.

The elderly have earned a place of dignity in this land which they have built with their labor and supported with their money during their productive years. Sign me

DEAR ABBY: I am 32 years old, have been married for seven years, and have three children. My problem arises from my night out.

I bowl with the boys on Monday nights. On Fridays I bowl with my wife. I belong to one civic organization which meets every other Wednesday night. I have a sales job, which means I sometimes have to make a call in the evening, maybe once a week, but when this happens, I am always home by midnight.

Abby, when I come home from any of these evenings my wife throws the book at me like I came home at 4 a.m. smelling of booze and women. My wife always knows where I am and who I'm with.

She treats me like a mother would treat a son. I am a good husband, and I don't appreciate being bawled out and yelled at. What do you think?

A GOOD BOY
DEAR BOY: If you refer to yourself as a good boy — that could be part of your problem. Starting thinking of yourself as a good MAN. Let your wife know that you will not be intimidated. Stand up to her.

MAN-style, and she may treat you like one.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to solve an embarrassing situation without losing some friends. They are a couple in their mid-sixties who visit in our home for a week at a time.

We are happy to have our friends visit us, but I am so embarrassed by the actions of the husband I fear I will lose my temper and tell him off.

He comes to the breakfast table in his undershorts for one thing. And for another, if the bathroom is occupied, he knocks loudly on the door until he gets the other party out.

I have asked my husband to speak to this man, but he says he doesn't want to insult a guest in our home. The wife is a lovely patient person, but she will not criticize her husband either.

Have you any suggestion? UPSET HOSTESS
DEAR HOSTESS: If anyone is going to criticize him, it appears that you are elected.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WONDERING: One who considers having a marriage without sex should also consider that it could lead to sex without marriage.

The trial will be held at a military base outside Tel Aviv near the airport where Okamoto and two fellow Japanese killed 26 persons and wounded more than 70 others May 30 during the attack.

Fire Calls Show Decrease In City

Twelve fires required services of Big Spring Fire Department in June — five less than May's 17 calls and five more than last June's seven. Total building fires for the year of '83 is far ahead of last year's 56 fires through June.

Total insured losses due to the dozen June fires were $1,430, a low figure compared to last year's $7,500 losses in June and this May's $12,191 losses. Total insured losses for the year reached $34,952.68, compared to last year's $44,851.71, through June.

Of seven fires investigated, one was determined of suspicious origin; the other six of accidental origin.

Brush and grass fires were down some from last year. Four calls were answered in June compared to six for June last year. The total for the year is high with 165 reported. Last year through June only 122 calls for brush and grass fires were answered.

Building Permits Gain In Value

June building permits filed with the city totaled 41, bringing $333 in fees and $161,185 in construction costs. Last June, the number of permits was greater at 48, but fees brought only $327 and construction costs reached only $49,175.

So far this year construction costs total $784,267, a nice increase over last year's $647,785 through June.

The largest contributor to the June construction was four residences totaling $86,400. Second was ten additions bringing $37,200.

Officers Hunt For Killers Of Six In Less Than Week

By The Associated Press

Police in three Texas cities today were searching for the killers of six persons shot or stabbed to death in the past six days.

Three of the victims were stabbed to death, two had their heads bashed in and one was shot to death.

Two of the cases were double murders.

In Fort Worth police were still searching for clues that would lead to the killer or killers of a teenage Oklahoma couple whose bodies were found in an isolated area near Greater International Southwest Airport.

The victims were Thomas Gholson, 17, of Midwest; and Jane Handy, 17, of Oklahoma City. Police say they are looking for the girl's car, a 1961 white four-door Ford.

The two teenagers were last seen alive at about 9:20 p.m. Friday, in Oklahoma City.

In another double murder, 58-year-old Lewis Stratton and 38-year-old Maurine Hall were found wrapped in drapes set afire in a night club in Dallas Thursday morning.

Police said the victims had been hit on the head. The woman reportedly died of the blows, but the man was still alive when the two were wrapped in drapes and set on fire.

In Wichita the body of a WAF from Sheppard Air Base, missing since Tuesday, was found stabbed to death in a secluded riverside area in Lucky Park.

The victim was identified as Sgt. Debra Jean Montgomery, 21, of Sacramento, Calif.

Police investigators said they counted 18 stab wounds across the woman's chest and the lower abdomen caused with an object resembling an ice pick.

They theorized that the woman had been slain elsewhere and taken to the park. She was gagged with a clothes pin on her nose.

Police said they took a Wichita Falls man, 20, into custody during the night and were questioning him closely today about the slaying of Sgt. Montgomery. Officers quoted him as saying he had met the young woman at a laundromat.

Meanwhile in Dallas an arrest warrant was issued for Jack D. Pickett, 47, in connection with the shooting death of his wife Mrs. Frances Louise Pickett, 58.

Mrs. Pickett was shot in front of 13 other people attending a meditating session at the "Infinite Way" center.

Witnesses said the killer barged into the session and went to Mrs. Pickett and started shooting.

"I'd like to see him first," he said after looking at a picture. "I'd like to see the body first, before I say."

Gholson refused at first to identify his son, Robert Thomas, as a victim.

"I'd like to see him first," he said after looking at a picture. "I'd like to see the body first, before I say."

"Why so long?" wondered Lt. Oliver Ball, a crack investigator. Fort Worth's chief of homicide and a veteran detective.

Their pictures and description went all over the country.

They only clues were a cigarette lighter with the inscription "Have a nice day." And a costume jewelry ring which she wore. It said only "sterling silver."

Death Of Patriarch Cuts Short Meeting

HOUSTON (AP)—Shocked and emotionally shaken by the death of Patriarch Athanasios I, representatives of the Greek Orthodox Church in America have cut short their national gathering and gone into mourning.

"We could not continue normal deliberations," explained Basil C. Foussianes, Detroit member of the church's Archdiocesan Council.

The abrupt end to the church's biennial Clergy-Lay Congress was decided Thursday night, about an hour after word of the Patriarch's death broke up an elaborately planned dinner.

"Oh, no!" and open weeping swept the hall after the head of the two million-member American church, Archbishop Iakovos, disclosed the news.

"I feel as you feel," he said, his voice breaking, "grieved, deprived, orphaned."

The candlelit dinner had barely begun with about 1,000 church people from across the country and notables from many denominations present, when a messenger brought the word to the archbishop on the dais.

His face ashen, he waited until the people finished eating, ignoring his own plate, and then moved stiffly to the microphone. He noted that many present had shared the Patriarch's friendship personally and added:

BACK HOME

"But not any more. He's back home. He's with God."

The grieving, tearful reaction was general, a reflection to a great extent of the 17 years that the Patriarch had spent in this country as spiritual leader of American Greek Orthodox and chief guide to its laity and clergy.

"He loved his fellow men as Jesus did," said Archbishop Iakovos, a longtime intimate associate and protégé of the Patriarch. "His spirit will be with us forever."

Afterward, amid a long silence, the delegates spontaneously and softly began signing a melancholy old hymn, its Greek refrain meaning "May his memory be eternal."

The dinner program, marking the church's golden jubilee, was abandoned. The crowd dispersed slowly from the Rice Hotel's grand ballroom, the clergy filling a nearby room set up as a chapel to pray.

SPECIAL SERVICE

Later, approaching midnight, church representatives were reassembled and Foussianes, a lawyer, announced the council's recommendation that that council forego its remaining two days of scheduled business meetings.

A special service of prayer was set today in Houston's Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

Tentative plans also were being made for some delegates to take specially chartered flights to Istanbul (Constantinople), where the Patriarch served as chief spiritual leader of the world's 250 million Eastern Orthodox Christians.

Said Archbishop Iakovos, "He will belong to the future as a father, to me as the man under whose shadow I grew up, to the world as a protagonist of reconciliation and love."

San Antonio's Associate City Manager Retains Job

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Cipriano Guerra Jr. remained on the job today as the highest ranking Mexican-American in local city management, cleared of conflict of interest charges raised by a congressman.

City Manager Loyd Hunt, who appointed Guerra a week ago as an associate city manager, said Thursday that an exhaustive probe had uncovered no conflict on Guerra's part.

Mayor John Gatti said officials of federal agencies involved in the matter found no evidence of any conflict "and we have found none so far as the city is concerned."

Rep. Henry Gonzalez, a San Antonio Democrat, raised the conflict of interest question primarily over Guerra's role as an official of the federally funded National Economic Development Association—NEDA—and his dealings with a local savings firm.

Details of the city's investigation into Guerra's background and reports from federal agencies were presented to the city council Thursday in a closed meeting, Gatti said.

Councilmen, polled afterward, were nearly unanimous in accepting the findings as final unless Gonzalez brings up more evidence.

Hunt said he will seek a meeting with Gonzalez to further explore the matter.

Guerra once again denied any conflict Thursday. He confirmed that he helped organize a local savings firm which received NEDA aid in obtaining a federal charter and which he serves as board chairman.

He said he had been "completely cleared" by high officials of the U.S. Department of Commerce, which supervises NEDA, an economic development organization for the Spanish speaking. He was a regional NEDA vice president at the time in question.

Guerra said NEDA officials were aware of his dealings with the savings firm and that he knew of no NEDA policy against such activities.

BIG IF — The Associated Press count of delegates shows Sen. McGovern with 1,454.65 first ballot votes for the Democratic presidential nomination—34.55 short of victory—but only if he keeps all California delegates.

Block McGovern Is Meany's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany headed for the Democratic National Convention today, reportedly determined to block the presidential nomination of Sen. George McGovern.

Driven by personal as well as political antipathy, the labor titan has launched a drive that commands the sympathies of most union presidents if not their wholehearted support.

Some have voiced misgivings that an unrelenting anti-McGovern campaign could destroy a tenuous party unity and encourage the re-election of President Nixon, like McGovern the target of numerous Meany barbs.

If McGovern wins the nomination despite Meany, labor leaders would be confronted with limited options, none palatable to them.

Meany and his chief political strategist, Al Barkan, were counting on union presidents to sway convention delegates away from McGovern, the front-runner on the verge of capturing the 1,500 delegates needed for nomination.

"Barkan gave me the spiel—labor people are going to try to stop McGovern on the first and second ballots," said Jerry Wurf, a McGovern supporter and president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Edward Carluh, president of the Sheet Metal Workers, said if such a move were successful "it would make the nomination totally worthless to anybody else."

Some union presidents have appealed to Meany to tone down the anti-McGovern drive. But, in a showdown, most union presidents still bow to Meany's wishes on major issues.

"I'm going along with Meany, whatever he does," said the chief of one large construction union, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Another source said, "If McGovern gets the nomination, it becomes a competition between McGovern and Nixon, and labor simply couldn't be neutral or for Nixon."

Others consider neutrality a real possibility.

The support of the 13.6-million-member federation of 129 unions and its money-raising Committee on Political Education is considered crucial to the chances of any Democratic nominee to defeat Nixon in November.

'Cool' July Sounds Great

(By The Associated Press)

Showers and occasionally heavy thunderstorms revisited parts of the Panhandle-Plains sector and West Texas today while pleasantly cool weather—for July—still held sway in most sections of the state.

There also were increasing thunderstorms moving toward the north from outside Corpus Christi eastward in the Gulf of Mexico.

Outside the shower belt skies were clear to only partly cloudy.

Early morning temperatures dipped to 62 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle while it was still 74 at Corpus Christi and 76 at Galveston on the coast.

Top marks Thursday afternoon, after record lows for the date at many points at the start of the day, went no higher than 93 at El Paso and McAllen. Amarillo was the coolest spot with a high of 79.

Forecasts held out prospects for a little warming over most of the state with a few scattered showers or thunderstorms recurring in West and extreme South Texas by evening.

Audrey Meadows: She's Flying High With Her Decorating Fantasies

By SHIRLEY GALLINA
Copy News Service

LOS ANGELES — "I love to shop. And, as I will never have a house big enough to hold everything I want to buy, I'm delighted to be able to shop for Continental Airlines," said Mrs. Robert F. Six, wife of the airlines' president.

Perhaps better known to millions as Audrey Meadows, the star of stage, screen and television, Mrs. Six is considered Continental's most active "unpaid employee." She has visited the airlines' stations all over the world with her husband, and has lent her expert help in the selection of designs for planes' decor and stewardesses' uniforms.

The occasion was a special ceremony marking the formal delivery to Continental Airlines of its first McDonnell Douglas DC-10 wide-bodied, trijet aircraft at the carrier's headquarters at the International Airport here.

Mrs. Six received the press aboard the new aircraft, pointing out many of its new features and colorful decor in which she had a hand.

"I love to dream up ideas," the pretty actress-businesswoman confided. "I had an idea of using Continental's logo in a rug pattern and took it to a manufacturer for development."

The first-class section of the new plane is different from the other sections, and the luxurious seats covered with an unusual graphic print fabric in beige, orange and black.

"I discovered two young New York designers who worked only in graphic prints," Mrs. Six said. "I was impressed and took samples, which I lugged all over the world, waiting for the right moment to show my husband."

"He loves colors and is very creative. When he told me about the new DC-10s, and wanted something completely different, I told him to sit still and I'd be right back."

"When I brought in the samples, he liked them, and we went on from there to develop the concept," Mrs. Six recalled. She also pointed out how they had redesigned the interior of the plane so that the lavatories are spaced at the back and center, rather than all at the back, plus those in the first-class sections.

DESIGNING WOMAN — Audrey Meadows, actress and wife of Continental Airlines president, Robert F. Six, gleefully surveys the interior she designed for the company's new McDonnell Douglas DC-10 trijet.

"We do everything for the passengers' comfort, and we want people to enjoy themselves," Mrs. Six explained.

The first-class section is called the California Room and seats 40 passengers. A striking piece of art is on the forward wall facing the passengers.

"It is a copy of one of Ciani Frassati's paintings we have in our home," Mrs. Six said.

The Hawaiian Room seats 56 coach passengers and it, too, has a distinctive decor, with a mural behind the bar and each seat upholstered with different colors and patterns. Among them are the multicolored plaids seen only in Thai silks.

For budget-minded travelers, there's the Micronesian Room that seats 102 passengers and reflects the vibrant colors found in the Central Pacific islands.

"You know, airplane ceilings are usually dull," Mrs. Six commented. "But see how we have taken the bands of soft prints and carried them up the walls, across the ceiling and down the other side?"

"But I can't take credit for this innovation," she added. "It was the idea of Charles Bucks (Continental's senior vice president-marketing) and I think it adds a lot," Mrs. Six said.

"Actually, no one person can take credit for the new design. It is a combination of efforts, and it has been a happy chemistry of people working together," she stressed.

Mrs. Six also has high praise for the Douglas design people. "They took everything we gave them, interpreted it, and brought it back for our approval," she added.

Mrs. Six explained that Continental has an art committee made up of her husband, Charles Bucks and herself, and they work for a "continuity of decor on the ground as well as in the plane."

Continental has ordered eight DC-10s with options for eight more. The new trijet transports are "good neighbor" airplanes which will enter and leave the airport with scarcely more than a polite hum and whoosh. They won't be trailing long plumes of dark smoke, either. Not even a wisp. Engineers eliminated the smoke by devising a method for more complete combustion of fuel.

The aircraft also is the first of its kind with galleys above deck, which gives Continental complete flexibility in tailoring its inflight service for its customers over long and regional flights lengths. The arrangement also allows substantially more room below deck for cargo.

No smoking areas are reserved for both first-class and coach and economy passengers.

For refreshments, Continental hostesses will use portable bar carts which the company had specially developed to speed inflight bar service.

The stewardesses have a wide variety of uniforms to choose from. All carry out the orange-red basic color set off with a beige print with the Continental logo worked in the red and black. The girls may wear one-piece short-short jump suits with button-on skirts, jumpers with silk print blouses, jacket or skirt ensembles.

"We don't throw out all the uniforms just to create a new style," Mrs. Six explained. "Instead, we keep adding new components and discarding others."

The gold chain belt also may be worn as a necklace, she pointed out.

MARGARET DANA'S

Consumer's Question-Box

Q. Have you any information on what will be the trend in meat prices the rest of the summer? Is there any difference between the trends for beef, lamb, veal and pork?

A. Beef prices rose strongly a few months back, but cattle supplies are up again and should stay large for the rest of summer. This will affect prices, so don't believe all you hear about the "terrible" prices beef will bring, since greater supply always brings prices down. Incidentally, beef roasts are always more reasonably priced in summer than in winter. Veal is also in better supply and lower priced in summer. Pork prices always get higher in midsummer and this year fewer hogs are being marketed. Lamb is usually a better buy in January and February and the Spring months than in summer.

Q. I am writing you with question on the rights of a consumer. I am a home economics major at college and both last semester and this I was asked to compare prices in grocery stores and drug stores for field work. In two supermarkets I was told I could not do this without the manager's approval. I think this is an infringement of my rights. Can retailers legally stop a consumer from doing this?

A. I cannot tell from your description just what you did in checking prices. The only prices you have a right to check of course are the ones on labels, or posted to show the store's basic prices in accord with the Price Commission's ruling. But certainly every consumer has the right to check and compare prices needing no permission. In fact it is the store's obligation.

Q. In my dual role as an avid home sewer and a fabric retailer I read your article on the new permanent care labeling with great interest. But I wonder how the rule can be applied to yard goods, which I understand come under the requirement to provide permanent labels. It seems to me almost impossible, unless care instructions are printed on the fabric selvages. Could this be a way to comply with the rule?

A. One of the new ideas for ways to comply with the regulation for providing care instructions with fabrics was invented by the Celanese Corporation and it is now being evaluated. Already J. C. Penney's is adopting its use for all retail yard goods. It consists of a roll of paper tape, printed every 18 inches with care instructions for the fabric, and rolled inside the bolt when the fabric is rolled. Each customer buying as little as 1/2 yard gets the instructions with it. It should not add to prices since the cost of using the tape including labor packaging, tennies, etc., comes to less than a penny a yard. Other methods are also being designed, and will overcome the problem of labeling yard goods.

Rainmaking Try By CIA Fizzles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency has tried rainmaking over the Ho Chi Minh trail of Southern Laos but with only indifferent results, military sources report.

The CIA declined comment on the reports, which indicated the experiments were conducted in past dry seasons along with other U.S. efforts to hinder supply truck movements from North Vietnam to communist troops in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

The sources hinted the CIA's operations, which presumably involved seeding clouds with silver-iodide crystals or other compounds, were carried out by the CIA's own aircraft and by Air Force planes assigned to work with the agency.

At his news conference Thursday, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said his department "is not and has not been engaged in any weather-modification programs or activities over North Vietnam."

Laird omitted any mention of Laos, Cambodia or South Vietnam. When asked about this, he told reporters: "I'm not going to discuss further operations... along that line."

From time to time, some members of Congress and of the scientific community have expressed uneasiness over reported ventures by the United States into weather warfare.

U.S. military scientists were researching in this field at least 10 years ago.

In early 1962, Vice Adm. William F. Raborn wrote in the U.S. Naval Institute proceedings that "we already have taken our first steps toward developing an environmental-warfare capability."

"Large-scale weather-control techniques might be used to cause extreme flooding in strategic areas or even to bring a new ice age upon the enemy," Raborn wrote.

Black American Envoy Assigned To South Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has made good on a promise and assigned James E. Baker to South Africa—the first black American diplomat assigned to the nation.

A State Department spokesman announced Thursday that Baker, a 37-year-old career foreign service officer, has been assigned to the U.S. Embassy in Pretoria, where he will be economic and commercial officer.

Other black American diplomats and diplomatic couriers have served on a temporary basis in South Africa, but spokesman Charles W. Bray said Baker will be the first on a permanent basis, probably spending two to three years in the country.

Top State Department officials have repeatedly told congressional committees the administration intended to appoint a black diplomat to the embassy in South Africa at an appropriate time.

Bray told the news conference Thursday that the department does not expect Baker to be subject to any restrictions in South Africa, where the government's official policy is separation of blacks and whites.

Lamesa Planning Second Clean-Up

LAMESA — A second community wide cleanup day has been set for Tuesday, according to Owen Taylor, Community Pride Committee Chairman.

"We're going to continue cleaning up around the town until everything is done," he said. An earlier cleanup day was a success, he said, with over 160 man-hours logged and a mountain of weeds, trash and junk hauled to the dump.

"But problem areas still exist," he said, "and we've just got to stay after it."

An appeal has been issued to local civic clubs for further participation in the campaign to rid Lamesa of some of its eyesores. The City, County and the National Guard will again participate, providing both men and equipment.

Open House Slated Sunday For Hospital At Stanton

STANTON — Completely refurbished, enlarged by bath rooms and storage, and outfitted with new equipment, the Martin County Memorial Hospital will observe open house Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

On hand to greet visitors will be members of the board, plus the administrator, staff members and some of the medical staff. Also two new registered nurses will be present.

The hospital was constructed in 1950, and this year contract was let for adding eight bath rooms to the 26-bed facility. The work included storage and record space, the addition of new central heating and cooling equipment, oxygen storage.

Among the equipment added are a heart motor, new incubator, operating room equipment, and other auxiliary items such as dish washer and deep freeze for the kitchen. All the floors, walls, ceilings have been refinished and repainted, and the entire plant given a face lifting.

On the board of the Martin County Hospital District are E. D. Holcomb, chairman; Delmer Long, vice chairman; John Rousche, secretary; A. D. Reid, Ackerly, Troy Pierce, Tarzan, and Wayne Stroud, Courtney. Mrs. Louis Mamie Roten a member of the staff since 1963, is administrator, a post she has held since 1969.

On the staff are Dr. Thomas C. Miller, surgeon and general practitioner; Dr. Allen and Sue Fisher, general practitioners (she also is anaesthetologist); all of Stanton and Dr. V. Mae and Norman Leopold, Odessa.

Arriving this weekend are two young natives of the Philippines, Regina Ceballos and Alameda Mendoza, registered nurses, who will be part of the staff.

The hospital has x-ray, surgical, obstetrics departments, and other auxiliary facilities. It was built originally with popular subscriptions and a Hill-Burton grant, and later taken over by the county hospital district.

Mahon's Ritual Slated Friday

The 53-year-old Mahon was appointed U.S. district attorney in 1968. He will replace retiring Judge Joe E. Estes.

Hog Quarantine Due In Mitchell

COLORADO CITY — A herd of hogs was destroyed Wednesday after one case of cholera in the herd was confirmed.

The herd was from the farm of Frank Rose, south of the Loraine city limits. The infected hog apparently came from Lamesa several weeks ago.

County Agent Bobby Lemons said some sort of quarantine will be placed on hogs, either area wide or county wide. The quarantine will probably last several months.

Not An Overriding Reason

Rep. DeWitt Hale, a veteran member of the Texas House of Representatives from Corpus Christi, has made several good suggestions for reform of the rules of the Texas House. His proposal for a seniority system for House committee members is one that needs tempering.

Arguing for his proposal, Hale said the seniority system would increase the independence of lawmakers. Under his plan, committee assignments would be based on length of service, a practice followed in Congress.

"This would do more to make members independent of the speaker than any other thing," Hale said.

Two other changes in the House rules would make the Texas House a much more democratic body and would effectively curb the awesome power of its speaker.

One would be the creation of a committee on committees. That committee would be charged with the selection of committee members, based on preference and on experience and qualifications, subject to approval of the House as a whole. This would abolish the speaker's power to make all committee assignments.

The other reform would be to take from the speaker the authority to appoint committee chairmen and vice chairmen. That right belongs to the individual committees who should be free to pick their own chairmen and vice chairmen.

These two reforms would break the stranglehold that the House speaker has on committee membership and chairmen. He is not granted that right by the constitution. He has achieved it over the years by encroaching on the authority of the House.

The House can and should be its own master. It can assert itself by a simple majority vote.

Seniority should be given some consideration because of the experience involved in tenure, but it should not be the overriding consideration even though that might be advantageous to this section.

Healthy Economic Sign

Bank statements often are used as a barometer of economic activity in an area, and by this standard we stack up well.

Deposits of $61,805,088 were up 8.8 per cent from a year ago, a gain that substantially outstrips any inflation factor. In dollars the gain was $5,007,891.

Consider that the call a year ago showed a gain of $7,260,514 over the comparable date in 1970, and you come up with a gain of $12,268,405. That means that since 1970 our deposits have come up 25 per cent. We submit that this is a pretty respectable gain in the short interval of two years.

Other figures are up correspondingly, except that loans and discounts have come up 17.8 per cent in the two-year period. That would indicate that the ratio of deposits over loans has widened perceptibly. Totals from saving and loan associations and from the credit union likely will show commensurate healthy gains. Hence, there's a good supply of money in the local economic circulatory system.

Around The Rim

I WENT TO SEE the movie "Hannie Caulder" the other night, and I must say it was a blood-curdling movie. At one time or another, almost every major character in the movie had his blood curdled.

In fact, there was only one major character who didn't get sliced up or blown up, and that was Christopher Lee, an actor who is best known for his sterling performances as Dracula. Apparently, Lee tried to separate himself from the blood identification with which his previous job had saddled him.

Any attempt for him to do so was futile, at least to me. He had grown a beard for his role, gotten a deep tan and even taken the blood out of his eyes. But the differences ended there.

His hair was combed straight back in the true Dracula tradition, and when he smiled, I'll swear his teeth were pointed. And he spoke with an accent. Even though it was Spanish instead of Transylvanian, it still added to his Prince of Darkness image.

ODDLY, LEE PLAYED the only truly good person in the entire show, save the innocent children and Jake Caulder. Jake was Hannie's husband who carried a tremendously difficult role. His lines were:

(1) "Can I help you," and (2) "You're welcome to water your horses and then get out of here!"

He was then cut in two by a double-barrel shotgun.

Actually, the most outstanding thing in the movie was Raquel Welch, who played Hannie, and her acting wasn't the most outstanding thing about her.

Here is the plot of the movie:

The opening scene shows the Clemmons brothers (the bad guys) robbing a small bank in a little Mexican town. When their plan is foiled by a loyal teller pulling an alarm, they are forced to retreat. Unfortunately, half the people in the town are shot in the getaway. The outlaws escape, miraculously, with only a superficial leg wound to one of the members of the gang.

THEIR ESCAPE ROUTE takes them across the desert until they stumble into the Caulder residence. They examine the Caulder horses and consider stealing them. This is when Jake has his big scene.

After disposing of him, the Clemmons brothers go into the house with the intent of looting it. When they see Hannie, they decide the looting can wait. They commit another crime.

They leave the next morning, stealing everything out of the house and burning it to the ground. Hannie, looking as if she has had a rough time of it all, staggers out of the flaming heap and silently swears revenge.

She sets out on foot and stops to spend the night at a well. Enter Thomas Price, a much-feared bounty hunter played by Robert Culp. Hannie and Tom knock each other down a couple of times, but when Hannie finds out he is a bounty hunter, she decides he can instruct her how to shoot a gun. She offers to pay for the lessons in advance, but Tom steadfastly refuses the offer on the pretense she will be killed by the Clemmons gang.

Hannie tags along behind him anyway and finally has a nightmare that tips Tom off that maybe she has a certain amount of justification for wanting revenge.

SO HE TAKES her to a gunsmith in Baja, Calif., (Christopher Lee) and has a gun made for her. And he teaches her to shoot.

Of course, they (Tom and Hannie) fall in love, but they don't slow it.

Of course, Tom is killed by a member of the Clemmons gang.

Of course, Hannie single-handedly wipes out the Clemmons gang.

And, of course, Hannie rides off with a tall, dark stranger in the final scene.

It could have been worse, but it would have taken some work.

Who Has Control?

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — While top brass in the Pentagon wish that it would dry up and blow away, the Lavelle affair is likely to make more headlines in the future than in the recent past. It could even become a campaign issue as one aspect of a war raging out of control.

THANKS TO a concerned Air Force sergeant in Thailand it became known that Gen. John D. Lavelle, commander of the 7th Air Force in Vietnam, ordered up to 147 sorties flown against North Vietnam contrary to top command orders specifying only "protective reaction" strikes. Reports of these sorties in Lavelle's private air war were falsified. And they coincided with the efforts last November of Henry A. Kissinger, the President's national security adviser, to get high-ranking North Vietnamese to the peace table.

Sen. Harold Hughes of Iowa is determined that this violation of civilian command not be glossed over. A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, he called on Chairman John Stennis to hold public hearings on Lavelle's nomination for permanent rank as lieutenant general and Stennis has agreed. Relieved of his command after disclosure of the unauthorized sorties, Lavelle was given a slap on the wrist by an order demoting him to major general on retirement.

THE CHARGES against Lavelle are tied in with the nomination of Gen. Creighton C. Abrams to be chief of staff of the Army. When Lavelle appeared before the House Armed Services Committee he indicated that Abrams, over-all commander of the unauthorized air strikes. Both Lavelle's promotion and Abrams' nomination to the Joint Chiefs of Staff must be confirmed by the Senate.

In two Senate speeches Hughes, who was a combat infantryman in World War II, compared the falsification of the records to the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964 when allegedly North Vietnamese torpedo boats attacked American naval vessels. That episode, challenged later as false, was the basis for a Congressional resolution adopted almost unanimously giving President Lyndon B. Johnson authority to use the armed forces at his discretion in Indochina.

"WHATEVER TACTICAL benefits these decisions have had," Hughes said of Lavelle's action, "they have also contributed to the erosion of presidential control over the military aspects of the war. This erosion of control led to the situation where one commander could send his pilots on unauthorized strikes at the very time that secret and delicate peace talks were under way."

THE GREAT embodiment of the freedoms we cherish, the Constitution of the United States, places the military under civilian control. Violation of that control is a cause for the gravest concern as the Lavelle affair now shows. This suggests a bit of history that led up to World War II.

IT'S AN ILL WIND—!

Little Guy Squeezed

John Cuniff

By LINDA RUBEY
(Substituting for John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Stock Market System, widely touted by securities industry leaders as a boon for the small investor, may instead help the phenomenal growth of institutional trading, some money managers say.

"I think whatever might provide an easier method of trading large blocks of stock will produce greater concentration of ownership in the hands of big pools of money like banks, mutual funds and insurance companies," says Elmer Lyle Nicholson, chairman of CNA Financial, a Chicago financial holding company.

"I'm not 100 per cent in favor of that," he says. "I don't want to see the little guy squeezed out."

According to the New York Stock Exchange, institutional trading in the first half of 1971 accounted for 59.7 per cent of public share volume and 68.2 per cent of public dollar volume.

The exchange says that by 1980, institutional trading at the NYSE will equal all the trading done there last year.

The central market system now being assembled should facilitate the trading of institutions' large blocks through a consolidated trade-reporting system giving price and volume information on listed securities in all markets. This should give all investors, large and small, a better idea of where to find the best deals.

Other recommendations of the Securities and Exchange Commission would permit institutions to hold exchange seats through brokerage subsidiaries, if the subsidiaries do most of their business with the public.

This would give the institutions a way to save on commission charges on their sometimes mammoth trades and also would give them a greater voice in the actual running of the exchanges.

"Looking down the road, there is also no reason why institutions couldn't act as a principal, making markets in stocks sort of like a glorified superspecialist," says Bob Hendrickson, vice president of investments at the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Exchange specialists are floor traders charged with making fair and orderly markets in stocks they handle. They frequently must do this by buying or selling against the market trend and some specialists find they lack the money to handle the increasing amounts of big trades.

Money managers point out that institutions would be natural for the job because they've got the money that a market maker needs to provide depth and liquidity in a stock—making sure the stock is available for buying or selling at a price not far from the last one paid.

Great Accomplishment

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — As the 200th anniversary of the founding of the United States approaches, the American people should take a look at what has been accomplished and where this country stands among the nations of the world.

FOR THE record is one that is unparalleled. There have been internal troubles and difficulties in moving forward, but the fact remains that in 1972 this country enjoys a standard of living not known elsewhere. It has a gross national product which exceeds that of any other nation. Our farms and ranches not only provide food and meats in abundance for our population but help feed the rest of the world. Our factories turn out manufactured goods in vast amounts — the luxuries of yesterday have become the necessities of today.

Statistics alone do not tell the whole story. The American people — approximately 209 million — have homes which are more spacious and equipped with conveniences not possessed by the residents of many countries. Water and sewage systems in the cities and towns, as well as accessibility to electric power and other utilities, are taken for granted by most citizens as they travel from one area to another. Telephone service has spread across the land in homes and offices. But there are lots of countries where these things are unknown or can be had only in a few places.

IN AMERICA, television sets are found in millions of homes, and there are more radios than people. Americans move by automobile on business errands or vacation trips over miles and miles of paved streets and highways. These things are accepted as nothing unusual. When one looks abroad, however, at some of the countries that do not have the advantages which are so common to American life, one realizes how lucky the citizens of the United States can count themselves to be.

Even more significant are the advances made in the fields of human welfare. Free education is provided to all Americans in the elementary and secondary schools, and more and more of our young people are going to college. Higher education is available to Americans to an extent not matched anywhere else in the world.

MEDICAL CARE is being expanded as progress is made in the building of hospitals and facilities for the treatment of disease. Research has ended the threat of many diseases which once plagued the nation and continues to seek for means to prevent or cure other ailments.

Unfortunately, the United States has been engaged in wars that have been costly both in lives and in resources. To some persons the purpose of our involvement has never been clear, but this is because foreign policy is not a simple affair and its ramifications extend not just over weeks or months of time but years. In the case of World War I the United States tried hard to keep out of the conflict. But when an imperialistic government in Germany declared unrestricted submarine warfare on all vessels, including unarmed merchant ships, this was a challenge that could not go unheeded.

IN WORLD WAR II, the United States found itself suddenly attacked at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. Just what the German dictatorship thought it was accomplishing — whether it believed the military power of the United States could be concentrated in the Pacific by a war with the Japanese so that the Atlantic would be free — is one of the mysteries of military history. But the United States was drawn into the war and, of course, gave its attention to the Atlantic and sent an army to Europe, which helped win the victory.

That's Your Money

Garth Jones

Texas taxpayers who visit the state capital sometimes leave with the sinking feeling that their tax money could be put to a better use.

The third special session of the 62nd Legislature didn't do anything to change that feeling.

THIS WAS particularly true if recent visitors happened to wander into the lush green-carpeted Senate chamber during a filibuster that tied up the so-called emergency deliberations of both houses for 42 hours and 33 minutes. The speaker was a lame duck senator who recent lost a race for Congress.

Or if the visitors had happened into the gold-carpeted House chamber during the marathon 16-hour session where more than 100 amendments were offered to the 1973 state spending bill, drafted after joint House-Senate hearings of more than two weeks. Every state representative or senator had been invited to make suggestions and recommendations to the joint study group in order to conserve time of the special session. A number of those offering amendments and speaking on them were among the 79 House members who will not be in the 1973 Legislature because they got defeated or failed to gain promotions to other jobs.

AND THEY might get that sick

feeling in the pit of the stomach if they happened along during the 20 minutes it took daily to call the roll in the 150-member house. "Please answer orally, don't just raise your hand," the clerk says over and over each day. The roll has to be called orally because, in the past, too many members were pushing buttons for absent members if the mechanical voting machine was used.

Or if the visitors happened to be there while 15 minutes or more of the emergency session time was taken in reading and passing a resolution that had the momentous effect of wishing a state representative "Happy Birthday" on his 39th anniversary; or appreciating the charms of Miss World U.S.A.; or naming the Confederate Air Force the official air force of the state; or commending a Lubbock school teacher upon her retirement; or praising of the Van Horn High School Eagle Band for winning a scholastic contest.

ACCORDING to legislative sources who should know, it costs about $33,000 to operate the Texas Legislature for each day of a special session. It costs about $20,000 alone for the Senate because senators have more employees than House members.

CHICAGO (AP) — If the research groups who scare American parents about three times a week by reporting the projected cost of a college education in the 1980s really wanted to be useful they'd look into nursery schools.

It probably serves some sadistic instinct to let parents know that by the time their 3-year-old is too big for Sesame Street it will cost $93,000 or some other absurd figure to put him through college.

But what about nursery schools with the bills that come every month, now?

One theory is that nursery schools were started by people who loved children and tolerated money. A second theory is that it works the other way.

Wives, of course, endorse nursery schools. Where else can they find daytime baby-sitters?

Husbands who pay for nursery schools don't have too much to say about it. They probably have been flatly informed that their precious darling will be introverted if she doesn't learn to play with other children at an early age.

So, for $25 to $50 a month, depending on how often the child goes and whether the "kiddie kar" picks up and delivers, the modern American daddy has the joy of knowing his child is enjoying life.

However, he never knows for certain because when he asks, "What did you do in nursery school?" the only response is, "I played."

"What did you play?"

"Can I have a cookie?"

"I never heard of that game."

"Daddy, you're silly."

Cost Of Nursery Schools

Billy Graham

The Bible says: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." What did you mean when you said we are saved by God's grace?

E. R.

We are saved both by God's grace and by our faith in Christ. They are not two ways of being saved but two aspects of the same thing. Grace means "unmerited favor." It means that we receive something we do not deserve. God saves us, not because of something we have done or can do, but rather because of something He has done for us. That is His grace.

But God does not force this salvation on us. He offers it to us and we either reject it or we receive it, by faith. Grace is God's giving, faith is man's receiving. The Bible says: "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast."

A Devotion For Today..

Samson called unto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me. (Judges 16:28)

PRAYER: O Lord, help us to remain firm and steadfast against the enticements of the devil. Help us to live this day in the knowledge and faith that Christ is the strength of our lives. We ask in His name. Amen.

Saigon Troopers Push Into Heart Of Quang Tri City?

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon command claimed today that elements of a South Vietnamese paratrooper task force spearheaded by tanks had forged into the heart of Quang Tri City, and seized control of two-thirds of the northern provincial capital.

But field reports and senior U.S. military source sharply disputed the announcement made in Saigon.

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neel reported from the front he had no information to indicate a thrust into the northern half of the city. A senior military source said there were no South Vietnamese units of any significant size in the city. He left open the possibility that reconnaissance teams might be operating there.

CLOSING IN

Field sources said South Vietnamese paratrooper and marine units were closing in on the city but were meeting tough resistance.

A huge American air and naval armada covered the advancing South Vietnamese.

South Vietnamese marines were closing in on the city from the east. One task force was reported to have advanced half a mile to the eastern outskirts and was a little more than a mile east of the Citadel, at the center of the city.

A second marine task force made a helicopter landing 2½ miles southeast of the city.

Lt. Col. Do Viet, a spokesman for the Saigon command, said that elements of a South Vietnamese paratrooper battalion backed by tanks had pushed into the northern part of Quang Tri a few hours before dawn.

NEXT TO CITADEL

"They are right next to the Citadel," he said.

Viet reported that resistance appeared to be light; although the forwardmost troops of the battalion were shelled by 107mm rockets and long-range 130mm guns.

"We control at least two-thirds of the city," Viet told newsmen.

Heavier fighting was reported on the southern and eastern fringes of the city. Viet reported 58 North Vietnamese killed and eight tanks destroyed on the outskirts.

Paratroopers on the southern side battled heavy counterattacks Thursday night from North Vietnamese forces making a stand in a line of old French villas.

Scores of U.S. Navy jets from 7th Fleet carriers off the coast scrambled into the night skies to attack the North Vietnamese.

ese, their tanks, artillery and automatic weapons.

STIFF RESISTANCE

It was the stiffest resistance the South Vietnamese paratroopers have encountered since they began tightening their grip on the southern edges of the city three days ago.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported that South Vietnamese tanks knocked out two Soviet-built PT76 light amphibious tanks used by the North Vietnamese and a paratrooper knocked out a third with a hand-fired anti-tank missile.

The other tanks fled into heavy thickets.

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neel reported that South Vietnamese paratroopers captured three prisoners, one of them seriously wounded, and overran a North Vietnamese field hospital stocked with medical supplies.

By midmorning, mortars were still exploding on the South Vietnamese front lines.

"Just keep pumping it in there, just keep coming into that area," Capt. Gail Furrow, 32, of Urbana, Ohio, shouted into his radio as he directed U.S. fighter-bombers to the North Vietnamese mortar positions. Furrow is an adviser with one of the South Vietnamese airborne battalions.

"We're still taking 82mm mortar from that location," Furrow radioed as he stood on the clapping wall of what was

I'M DONE FOR! KISS ME!

'They've Got Me, Lil!'

MONTREAL (AP) — "I'm week, Mr. and Mrs. Carter sold my husband saw the guns but I shot. They've got me, Lil. I'm all their possessions except for a few treasured belongings and flew to California."

These were the last words of Stanley Carter, 66, retired conductor with Canadian National Railways, to his wife. He was killed Wednesday in a gun battle between airplane hijackers and FBI agents in San Francisco.

"They decided to come down to San Diego for their dream home, for their Shangri-La, as they put it," Stanley Carter Jr., of three, We took the seats on his eldest son, said in a telephone interview with the Star from San Francisco.

Married in 1939, Carter retired in 1970 after 54 years in the railway business. This "As we got out of our seats, I'm shot."

New Accounts Must Have Social Security Info

Social Security numbers are now required to be placed on all new checking, savings and certificates of deposit accounts opened.

Law requiring that an account holder's Social Security number be part of his account identification became effective June 30.

Mrs. Shirley Froman, secretary to Larry Willard, cashier of First National Bank,

Big Spring, said that all customers opening new checking, savings or certificate of deposit accounts are being asked to supply their Social Security numbers.

Corporations, companies or groups opening such accounts with State National Bank are being asked to supply the bank with their corporate identification numbers issued by the federal government in place of an individual's Social Security number.

Mrs. Darlene Dabney, cashier at Security State Bank, said that this step was being taken in addition to asking individual customers for their numbers for new accounts.

In addition to requiring the Social Security numbers on savings and certificates of deposit accounts, persons purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds through State National Bank are asked to supply their Social Security numbers.

"It's not mandatory yet that they have their numbers on the savings bonds, but it will probably be made so. I have not received notification that the numbers must be on new checking accounts, but I do know that we have to have the individual's number on any account on which the bank pays interest," said Mrs. Jeannie Darden, secretary to bank president, Robert Currie.

Mrs. Darden added that she did not usually work with checking accounts, and that the bank's employees responsible for new checking accounts could have been notified of the new law without her receiving knowledge of the requirement.

Lovelady and Gordon had made plans to visit Washington on their trip to the convention but the floods in the east negated those plans.

Sees Catastrophe Unless Government Acts Quickly

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — An expert says South Africa's population is increasing faster than India's. He foresees catastrophe unless the government acts soon.

This view is expounded by Dr. Nico Van Rensburg, deputy superintendent of a Pretoria hospital, in a book called "The Population Explosion in South Africa."

If current growth continues unchecked, the country's population of 21½ million — May 1971 census total — will reach 100 million in less than 50 years. South Africa's 472,359 square miles make it almost three times the size of California.

STARVATION

"It is inconceivable that the majority of those living in such an overpopulated South Africa during the last decade or two of this half century will be able to do so at any level worthy of human existence," Van Rensburg says.

"There can be only three possible results of this huge and uncontrolled human proliferation — mass starvation, political chaos or population planning."

Go Ahead

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: As the result of a positive reaction to a tuberculin skin test, I have been advised to take a drug, isoniazid, for one year.

Although it is to be supplied to me without cost, I have heard some things about the drug that concern me. I would appreciate hearing from you. — T.G.W.

The positive tuberculin test signifies that you have been exposed to T.B. Now the goal is to make sure you don't develop an active case of the disease yourself.

Yes, side effects are possible with isoniazid. It is a powerful medication. But side effects are possible with virtually any medication you can name. (And a lot that you probably can't.)

The point is that the side effects occur primarily with large doses, so the thing to do is to observe the patient periodically to make sure that side effects don't start to develop.

The effectiveness of isoniazid as an anti-tuberculosis treatment has been well established. By all means go ahead with the treatment. Just take care to go in for checkups whenever you are told to.

Dear Doctor: If a person has a hiatal hernia, would they suffer chest pains and severe stomach spasms and cramps, bringing on retching and nausea?

Sleeping in an upright position helps, but what foods and liquids are allowed is the problem. Can you help me? — Mrs. V. P. B.

The symptoms are all possible. In general, a hiatal hernia often closely resembles an ulcer in symptoms. Diet — a bland, non-irritating diet, just as for ulcers — is usually advisable.

If you have a hiatal hernia, then you'll find my booklet useful. "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It." Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy.

But if you aren't sure whether you have hiatal hernia but are guessing from the symptoms, then by all means your first step is to have your doctor diagnose the situation.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would you do with a child, going on 3, who refuses to be toilet trained? He has complete bladder control, but the moment I put him on his potty chair he tenses up and will not go. As a result he is so constipated that he cannot go normally and a week passes without his bowels moving. We give him plenty of fruit juices, etc., but nothing helps. What would you suggest? — Mrs. G.

First, don't make a big issue of it in front of him.

Second, he may, in the past, have had some rectal discomfort from a hard movement, and this would presumably continue now with his constipation.

So you might try an infant glycerin suppository every second or third day. This should provoke a soft movement. Perhaps not every time, but at least some of the time.

If he gradually realizes that these movements are without discomfort, you may find the battle is won.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My niece, now 3, has been chewing gum since she was 2 years old. After she chews it a while, she swallows it. Could this be harmful? — B.A.F.

Swallowing it won't hurt her — but that is not to be interpreted as an endorsement of teaching kids to chew gum at the age of 2. The danger at this age is inhaling it into the windpipe.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

7-Eleven Stores Offer Documents On U.S. Heritage

Big Spring Woman Confab Delegate; Church Schools, Revival Planned

By LINDA CROSS

Mrs. Willie Graham, 3701 31st Quadrennial Session General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church held June 21 through July 2 in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium and Convention Center.

Mrs. Graham was a delegate from Baker's Chapel, A.M.E., Big Spring and was state alternate delegate to the convention.

In the absence of B. C. Brock, state delegate and presiding elder of the Wichita Falls District of A.M.E., Mrs. Graham served as general conference voting delegate on June 29.

The matter before the delegates that day was to decide whether to release or retain all A.M.E. bishops. If the vote had been to release all bishops from office, the delegates would have been required to elect a new slate.

Mrs. Graham reported that voting error by the delegates resulted in a second vote having to be held.

Voting delegates to the Dallas convention totaled 1,263. D. Ward Nichols, senior A.M.E. bishop, presided over the meetings, in which 19,000 persons reportedly participated.

Mrs. Graham is a member of Baker's Chapel where she is president of the Missionary Society, vice-president of the Stewardess Society, and assistant teacher in the adult Sunday School department and a junior attendant in the Heroines of Jericho.

Her civic offices include serving as reporter of the Ever-Ready Civic Art Club and as treasurer of the Stokes Parker District Federation Women's Clubs.

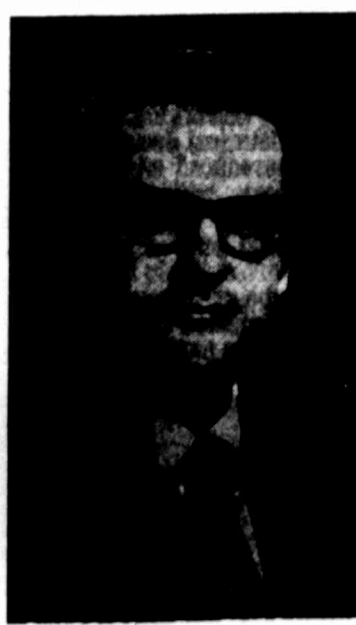

Saturday, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 1803 Wasson Road, are holding a "Meet the Mormons" open house at 7:30 p.m. Dinner will be served.

The public is invited to attend Saturday's activities to meet local members of the Mormon faith and to tour their house of worship. The open house will continue Sunday, and visitors are asked to come to the church from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m.

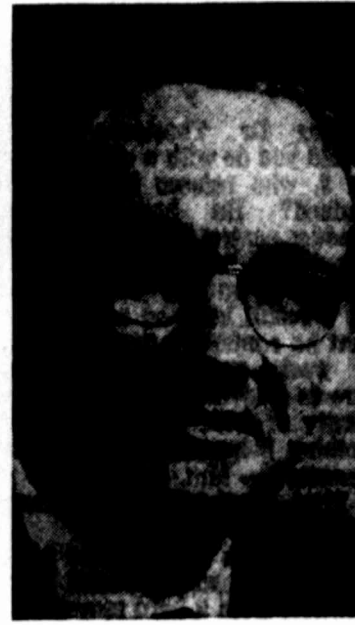

Displays will be on view to explain to visitors the history

Dr. C. Wade Freeman, Dallas, director of the division of evangelism of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the speaker for the semi-annual meeting of the Big Spring Baptist Association Monday in Coahoma.

First Baptist of Coahoma will be the host and will serve a meal at 5:45 p.m. receding the 6:30 p.m. session. The Rev. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of First Baptist Church, in Big Spring, will officiate, and music will be in the charge of Dan McClinton, associational music director.

Reports will be heard from the Rev. Don Bradley, Rev. Bryan Ross, Billy Smith and the Rev. David Norville.

Dr. Freeman has been director of evangelism for Texas Baptists since leaving his pulpit in Sulphur Springs in 1947. He directs a staff which aids or coordinates local church evangelism or cooperative evangelistic efforts.

He directed the Japan New Life Crusade in 1963, the Latin American Crusade in 1964, the Puerto Rico New Life Crusade in 1966. He has two sons in the ministry. C. Wade Freeman Jr. in Capitol Hill Metropolitan in Washington D.C., and Harold Freeman, Highland Baptist in Dallas.

Two area churches, the Mt. Joy Baptist Church of Knott and the Garden City Baptist Church, have scheduled revivals beginning Sunday and ending Sunday, July 16.

The Rev. Nick Michlinos, pastor of Austin Avenue Baptist Church, Pasadena, Tex., will be evangelist for the Mt. Joy Church revival. Musical director for the revival will be the Rev. Bob Lee, Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, Big Spring.

Mt. Joy revival services will be held at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. daily.

Evangelist for the Garden City Baptist Church revival is the Rev. Dave Craddock, Midland. The Garden City revival is planned as an area-wide revival, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Classes for all children aged

3-12 will be from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day.

Bus transportation will be provided by the church. The buses will begin picking up pupils at 7:45 a.m. each day of class. Further information on the bus service may be obtained by telephoning 267-2291.

During August and September members of the Missionary Societies of Baker's Chapel A.M.E., Big Spring, and of Greater St. Luke's Chapel A.M.E., Midland, will host programs for each other.

Continued service to the community has been set as the goal for members of the Baker's Chapel Missionary Society, according to Mrs. Willie Graham, president.

In the past, society members have presented speakers, discussions, carried out projects, and presented programs and entertainment at various local centers and hospitals.

Their efforts have included serving refreshments to patients in one wing of the Big Spring State Hospital, hosting birthday festivities in June for all patients at Big Spring Nursing Inn whose birthdays came in that month and presenting entertainment at Westside Community Center.

Card Plan Made

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Christian Church (Disciples) plans to start sending "Happy Birthday" cards to members approaching their 18th birthday, with information involving their vocation, voting and the draft.

Religious, Civic Leaders Plan To Avert Miami Violence

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Associated Press Religion Writer

Religion forces of the country, worried about the turbulence that has marked recent national political conventions, have set up an unprecedented operation in Miami, Fla., to help keep the peace and forestall all trouble at this summer's gatherings of Democrats and Republicans.

"Nothing comparable to this has been undertaken by religious leadership anytime before," says the Rev. Jack Cassidy, head of the staff of the specially formed agency, Religious and Community Leaders Concerned — RCLC.

It has headquarters on the third floor of a bank building at the corner of Washington

Degree Will Be Conferred

ABILENE — The Rev. W. E. (Bill) Thorn, a leading Kansas Baptist minister and alumnus of Hardin-Simmons University here, will receive an honorary doctor of divinity degree in August commencement exercises.

Thorn, who is pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church of Wichita, Kans., also will be commencement speaker. Approximately 125 graduates will receive degrees in 8 p.m. ceremonies in Behrens Chapel.

Thorn, a member of the H-SU Board of Development, received a bachelor of arts degree from H-SU in 1948 and the bachelor of divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, in 1951. He was pastor of Calvary Baptist in Lubbock for 10 years and has been pastor of the Wichita church since 1964, serving as president of the Kansas Convention of Southern Baptists.

Early Church Is Topic Of Book

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The early church was an "underground church," composed of people from all walks of life, facing the threat of persecution and death if discovered, the Rev. John H. Baumgaertner, of Milwaukee, says in a book issued here by the American Lutheran Church's Augsburg Publishing House.

Called "Friends in the Underground Church," it portrays the slaves, tradesmen, members of the ruling class, tentmakers and others that made up the underground movement in the early centuries of Christianity.

Avenue and Lincoln Road, a block from Convention Hall. An interdenominational crew of 350 volunteers are taking part in the operation.

"Our objective is to help maintain peace and stability, to provide a community atmosphere that will facilitate the democratic process and support well as dissenting groups, in the exercise of their first-amendment rights," Cassidy said in a telephone interview.

During the convention, he said observer teams of clergy and laymen, identifiable by RCLC insignia, will be stationed throughout the city, at campsites and in the convention hall, to keep tabs on the situations, help prevent confrontations, scotch rumors and encourage maintenance of law and decency in demonstrations.

"Observers will not intervene in crises, but hopefully help prevent them," he said. "We want to remain a neutral third-party force. Our executive staff also will be available to serve as liaison between groups and possibly for mediation at critical points."

Set upon a national basis, with the backing of the National Council of Churches, the U.S. Catholic Conference and the Synagogue Council of America, the operation was sparked by concern over the violence surrounding the 1968 Democratic Convention in Chicago.

"Farley, don't you think you've about had it as a jockey?"

Day At The Races

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

When I was in college, the spring semester found students battling for eight o'clock classes. Why did the students fight for eight o'clock classes in the spring, especially since these same students sneered at the suggestion of an eight o'clock class in the fall?

Racing season is during the spring semester. I went to college at Henderson State, a small college of about 3,200 enrollment at Arkadelphia, Ark. Arkadelphia is on Interstate 30, 51 miles south of Hot Springs. More important to the student body of Henderson, Arkadelphia is 31 miles south of Oaklawn Race Track.

During the racing season, which runs for 50 days between February and May, students from Henderson work as ticket sellers and cashiers at the track. Many more students attend the races as often as possible.

Like many other students, I occasionally went to the track. I enjoy watching the horses run and I also enjoy the atmosphere of the track. On several occasions, I took my camera to the tracks and took pictures.

Many times I went to the track and did not bet a single dime. Like I said, I enjoy watching the races and the people at the track. When I do bet, I try to play it as safe as is possible — two-dollar place-or-show bets.

Once in a while, I would get a hunch. Then I would bet a win ticket. Generally, my hunch was wrong; however, I never failed to put two dollars on some horse to win whenever I got a hunch.

One day during the past season, I had a hunch that I should bet on a certain horse. The jockey was known to bring in a lot of longshots and this horse definitely was a longshot. Anyway, I felt that maybe just once, I'd get a big payoff.

I waited until right before post-time and put five dollars to win on this horse.

When the race started, my horse bolted out of the starting gate like his tail was on fire. It seemed that he was halfway through the turn before the other horses even left the starting gate.

I looked at the tote board and saw that he was leaving at 75-1.

Then I thought, "He'll have a heart attack and die in the stretch." "He'll have a heart attack and die in the stretch."

But that horse just kept running faster and faster. His lead got longer and longer.

At the clubhouse turn, he was four lengths in front. At the backstretch, he was five lengths in front. In the stretch, he was six lengths in front and getting stronger.

Heading for the wire, he was seven lengths in front, and I was mentally figuring how much money I was going to win and how I would spend it. I was getting dizzy from all the dollar signs swirling around in my head.

Then it happened. Less than 20 yards from the wire and leading by seven lengths, the jockey fell off. The longshot was disqualified. My five dollars was lost. Nearly $400 vanished within reach of my greedy grasp.

I have not bet on a horse race since then.

ARLIN, KOOSMAN DUEL

Padres Clip Mets, 1-0

Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Arlin, San Diego's pitching dentist, must have given the New York Mets a dose of sleeping gas Thursday night. And when the Padres finally got around to operating on Arlin's baseball patients, it was anything but painless.

Arlin pitched 10 brilliant innings, allowing only one hit before turning the Mets over to reliever Gary Ross, who permitted just one more hit in four innings. Finally, the Padres pushed across a run on a bases-loaded walk in the 14th inning for a 1-0 victory.

Arlin, who holds a degree in dentistry from Ohio State University, matched zeroes with the Mets' Jerry Koosman for 10 innings before Ross and New York reliever Tug McGraw took over. By then, the Mets were mesmerized and they never did wake up.

In other National League games Thursday night, San Francisco topped Philadelphia 6-4 in 10 innings. Los Angeles walloped Montreal 11-3. Atlanta edged Chicago 4-3 and Pittsburgh beat Houston 7-3 in 17 innings. Cincinnati and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American League, it was New York 6, Oakland 2; Kansas City 7-0 over Detroit; Baltimore 2, Chicago 1; Cleveland sweeping a doubleheader from Texas 4-3 and 6-5 in 12 innings; and Milwaukee edging California 6-5. Minnesota and Boston had the night off.

SPEIER CAUGHT — Phillies infielder Terry Harmon crouches over second base as he readies to tag out Chris Speier (35) of the San Francisco Giants. Speier was caught trying to steal in the third inning of Thursday night's game in Philadelphia. Giants won, 6-4.

Tigers Halt Skein; Drop Kansas City Behind Coleman

By The Associated Press

"If you can't win 20 games with this club, you don't deserve to win," said Detroit's Joe Coleman, who then predicted he'd do just that—with a little help from his friends.

Coleman, the Tigers' ace right-hander who won 20 games a year ago, reached the half-way point toward that magic number Thursday night with a six-hit, six-strikeout performance, a 7-0 shutout over Kansas City that halted Detroit's four-game skid.

In other American League games, Baltimore nosed out the Chicago White Sox 2-1, the New York Yankees beat Oakland 6-2, Milwaukee clipped California 6-5 and, in a two-night doubleheader, Cleveland swept Texas 4-3 and 6-5 in 12 innings. Boston and Minnesota were not scheduled.

In the National League, Los Angeles bombed Montreal 11-3, Atlanta edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3, San Francisco topped Philadelphia 6-4 in 10 innings, San Diego slipped past the New York Mets 1-0 in 14, and Pittsburgh belted Houston 7-3 in a 17-inning affair. Cincinnati and St. Louis were idle.

The Tigers battered five Royals pitchers for 13 hits en route to the triumph that kept them within two games of the front-running Orioles in the East Division.

Aurelio Rodriguez, with two singles and a double, and Tony Taylor, with two singles and a triple, led the assault while Bill Freehan drove in three runs with a single and a double.

The Orioles won three of their midweek series, thanks to superlative pitching that held Chicago to a measly 13 hits in the 27 innings. The only runs scored by the Sox in that stretch came on a pair of solo homers by Dick Allen.

Thursday's victory extended Baltimore's winning string to five games—all of them complete games by Orioles' moundsmen. The latest was the five-hitter by Mike Cuellar, who also singled home the deciding run in the eighth inning Thursday night.

Cuellar, who has rebounded from a dismal early season to raise his record to 7-6 with victories in five of his last six decisions, outdueled Tom Bradley, who also had a five-hitter.

"Cuellar was great and so was Bradley," Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner said, stating the obvious. "The pitching on both sides was the best in any series I've seen this year."

Yankees Manager Ralph Houk did a little stating-of-the-obvious himself as he spoke of relief ace Sparky Lyle. "Maybe I use him too much," Houk said, "but when you have someone like him in the bullpen, you bring him in. He's a good relief pitcher 'cause he has good stuff and gets the ball over the plate."

Lyle did it well enough to pick up his 17th save of the season after the A's had knocked out starter Mike Kekich with four straight hits and two runs in the sixth inning.

Sparky squelched Oakland on just one hit in his 3 1-3 inning stint.

New York, meanwhile, got all the scoring it needed with a four-run fifth inning, two of them coming on Felipe Alou's double, to keep the A's from widening their five-game West Division lead over the White Sox.

Johnny Briggs clubbed his 10th home run of the year in the fifth inning to pull Milwaukee into a 5-5 tie with the Angels, then unloaded his 11th two innings later to catapult the Brewers to victory.

Gaylord Perry chalked up his 13th victory of the season to match Detroit's Mickey Lolich as the winningest pitcher in the majors in the Indians' twinnish opening-game victory. Then Alex Johnson singled and Graig Nettles sent him around the bases with a double for their 12-inning nightcap triumph that made it a sweep over the Rangers.

Bunky Henry Grabs First Round Lead

FORT ERIE, Ont. (AP) — Bunky Henry, who has had three years of deep, bitter frustration since his one day in the sun, shrugged off his six-under-par 65 that was good for the lead in the $150,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"The only time that leading is important is when you're leading after the 72nd hole," the 28-year-old former Georgia Tech football placekicker said after his opening round Thursday.

"That's the only time I led National Airlines," he recalled of his lone tour victory more than three years ago. He won $40,000 for one week's work in the Miami sun that time—and hasn't totalled that much since.

Henry held a one-stroke lead over long-shot Tommy Sanderson, alone at 66, after one round of this national championship being played on the 6,751-yard, par 71 Cherry Hill Club Course.

Sam Snead, the 60-year-old West Virginian who recently won the World Seniors Championship, headed a quartet at 67, four-under-par.

Snead, who first won the Canadian Open in 1938, was tied with former Masters champion

Gay Brewer, Lou Graham and rookie left-hander Sam Adams. "I've been working real hard on my game the last few days," defending champion Lee Trevino said after clipping two strokes off par with a 69.

Trevino was making his first start since leaving a hospital bed for a gallant but unsuccessful defense of his U.S. Open title against Jack Nicklaus. Nicklaus is not competing here. The Masters-American Open title-holder is in Scotland preparing for next week's British Open.

Arnold Palmer rallied with a birdie-birdie finish to match par 71 and was tied at that figure, six off the pace, with South African Gary Player.

NOT QUITE ENOUGH — Houston Astros' Cesar Cedeno slides in hard and gives it his best as he upsets Pittsburgh Pirates' Ronnie Stennett but can not stop the double play. Houston Astros' Lee May hit the ball into the double play in the 5th inning action during the July 6 game in Houston.

17-INNING MARATHON

Bucs Jolt Astros, 7-3

HOUSTON (AP) — Pittsburgh broke loose for four runs in the 17th inning Thursday night to defeat the Houston Astros 7-3.

The victory moved the Pirates 2 1/2 games ahead of New York in baseball's National League East. The Astros slipped 1 1/2 games back of idle Cincinnati in the West.

Relief pitcher Ramon Hernandez started the winning rally with a leadoff double in the 17th. After Ronnie Stennett struck out, Vic Davalillo doubled Hernandez home with the tie-breaking run.

A wild pitch and fielder's choice scored Davalillo and then a wild pitch, Al Oliver's single and a double by Manny Sanguillen produced two more runs.

The Pirates were trailing 3-1 and had managed only one hit in three innings against reliever Tom Griffin until the ninth. But Roberto Clemente opened with a single and Willie Stargell tied the game with his 16th home run of the season.

The Astros scored all of their runs in the fourth inning when Cesar Cedeno opened with a walk and Jimmy Wynn followed with a double. Cedeno scored on Lee May's grounder and after Bob Watson was intentionally walked, Doug Rader singled for the second Houston run.

Johnny Edwards drew the second intentional walk of the inning and Tommy Helms' grounder delivered Houston's third run.

RUIDOSO DOWNS

Orphan Song Heads Cast

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Orphan Song, a filly with a habit of getting off to a quick start, leads a field of seven sophomores to the post in Friday's featured Villa Inn Purse at Ruidoso Downs.

The 5½-furlong sprint, offering a purse of $1,900, tops a 12-race card which gets moving at 1:30 p.m. Turf action at the mountain track is also on tap Saturday and Sunday.

The week's top event unfolds on Sunday as New Mexico-bred sophomores meet in the annual renewal of the $4,000-added Rio Grande Stakes at 6½ furlongs.

Orphan Song, leased by Monty Brooks of Blanchard, Okla., turned in a strong effort last weekend when she got the jump in a 5½-furlong sprint, opened up a good lead down the backstretch, but came up short after the turn for home and finished fourth.

Earlier in the meeting, Orphan Song recorded a sharp effort while outlasting maidens by a nose, then came back to grab a good second as a 13-1 shot in a field of allowance speeders. Dave Morris has the rising assignment Friday in a moderate impost of 115 pounds.

Queen Kameha, slated to be directed by Jerry Nicodemus in another 115-pound load, figures to give Orphan Song her toughest competition. The roan filly, owned by Denzil Kuns of Guymon, Okla., was last seen in action on June 10 when she engaged a group of sophomore fillies and did little more than toy with the competition. Queen Kameha and scampered to an easy three-length victory as an odds-on betting choice.

In her only previous try at racing, Queen Kameha lost a razor-thin nose decision after holding the lead in the stretch.

Another key contender in Friday's topper is Little Leasme, who turned in an eye-catching come-from-behind attack last week and puffed to a 3¼-length victory. At the top

LL TOURNEY Hernandez Hurls Dodgers By Cards

Teams from the Texas and American Little League were all that remained after action in the City Championship playoffs was completed Thursday.

The Texas League Dodgers downed the National Little League Cardinals, 5-3, behind the strong pitching of Harvey Hernandez. He did not allow a run until the bottom of the sixth when Keven McLaughlin unloaded a three-run homer on him.

James Pinkard homered for the Dodgers.

In all, the Dodgers rapped out 15 hits including three each by Ricky and Lott.

The Dodgers will clash tonight with the Texas League champs, the Cubs, at the Texas League Park.

The Cubs downed the Starfighters of the International League, 9-0, Thursday.

The American League Colts jumped off to an 11-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning but had to scramble to take a 12-10 victory over the National League Lions in another City Championship game.

Tribe Takes Two From Rangers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Craig Nettles had a solid answer Thursday night for those critics who say he can't hit southpaw pitchers.

Nettles rapped a game-winning double against Texas southpaw Jim Shellenback in the 12th inning to give the Indians a doubleheader sweep.

The Tribe won the first game 4-3 behind the eight-hit pitching of Gaylor Perry — his 13th against seven defeats — and bounced back in the nightcap after trailing 5-3 to tie the game in the ninth and go on to win 6-5.

"Satisfying." That was the way Nettles described his timely hit in the second game. He said it was the "fifth or sixth big hit" he's had this season off lefthanders and "I think it's a bad rap that I'm not supposed to be able to hit lefties."

The big double brought Alex Johnson, who had singled, all the way home from first base. Johnson beat the throw to the plate when the relay from the outfield pulled the catcher off the bag.

Third base coach Bobby Hoffman said he took the chance sending Johnson home and thought it "was worth the gamble, especially the way we've been leaving men on bases."

Hoffman noted also that "it would have taken two perfect throws to get Alex. ... They only got one."

Jerry Moses, who had hit only one other home run this season, gave the Indians a big lift in the eighth with a two-run homer that kept the Tribe in the game after Texas went ahead 5-2 in the top of the eighth.

Moses hit his homer off Paul Lindblad, the second Texas hurler, scoring Nettles, who was on with a force-out, ahead of him.

The Indians tied it up two out in the ninth on Chris Chambliss' double off former Tribe hurler Mike Paul, scoring John Lowenstein, who had walked.

The first game ended with a disputed double play that umpire Larry McCoy called in favor of the Indians, raising the ire of Texas manager Ted Williams.

The Indians held a 4-1 lead going into the final inning, but Texas came up with two runs on successive hits by Dick Billings, Larry Bittner and Hal King. Then Perry tried unsuccessfully to turn pinch-hitter Ted Ford's grounder into a double-play ball, and all hands were safe.

That was when Frank Howard hit into the contested double play to end the game. Frank Duffy fielded Howard's grounder, but his throw to Jack Brohamer at second was off target, and it looked to some observers as though Brohamer was pulled off the bag.

Mann Grabs Two Wins

SNYDER — Tony Mann of Big Spring took home first-place honors in two classes in the Snyder Open tennis tournament.

Mann took first-place honors in the 12-year-old boys singles and the 14-year-old boys singles.

In the 12-year-old bracket, Mann defeated Rick Bowden of Snyder, 6-4 and 6-2. In the finals competition, in the semi-finals, Mann defeated Robert Potts of Snyder, 6-2 and 6-1.

In the 14-year-old bracket, Mann defeated Mark Leavell of Snyder, 6-2, 3-6 and 6-3, in the finals. Mann clipped Tommy Haislid of Stanton, 6-3 and 6-0, in the semi.

Judy Jordan of Big Spring won first place in the 16-year-old girls singles with a 6-0, 6-1 blitzing of Suzan Peek of Stanton. Miss Jordan teamed with Linda Watts of Big Spring to defeat Miss Peek and Debbie Fields of Snyder, 7-5 and 7-5, to take the 16-year-old girls doubles event.

In the 16-year-old boys singles, Richard Coon of Amarillo defeated Randy Mattingly of Big Spring, 7-5 and 7-5.

Terry Daniel of Amarillo took the 18-year-old boys singles crown with 6-1 and 6-1 wins over Mark Tereletsky of Big Spring.

Mattingly and Tommy Davenport of Stanton took the 16-year-old boys doubles title by downing the team of Bobby Christain and Steve Wittle of Snyder, 6-3, 3-6 and 6-2.

One 'Shane' Star Pinned In Wreck

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — As the stranger who helped his father rides off into the bleak frontier plain, the tousle-haired boy shouts after him, "Shane! Shane, come back!"

That scene at the end of the 1953 film classic "Shane" remains for many one of the most moving in Westerns, and it secured a lasting fame for its child star, Brandon de Wilde.

De Wilde, 30, died Thursday

ACTOR KILLED — Actor Brandon de Wilde, 30, was injured fatally Thursday in a traffic accident in Lakewood, Colo., a Denver suburb. He reportedly was alone in a van truck when it hit a guard rail along a freeway during a heavy rainstorm.

U.S. Envoy To India Will Quit

NEW DELHI (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Kenneth B. Keating announced Thursday that he will resign before the Republican National Convention next month to work for the re-election of President Nixon.

Keating's departure will end a three-year assignment during which Nixon's support of Pakistan in the December war plunged relations between Washington and New Delhi to their lowest point in the 25 years of Indian independence.

The ambassador issued a two-sentence statement acknowledging reports that he would return to politics. He was a U.S. senator from New York until Robert F. Kennedy defeated him in 1964.

"I expect to return to the United States about Aug. 1 and will resign as ambassador prior to the Republican National Convention," the statement said.

"After that, I expect to campaign actively for the re-election of President Richard Nixon."

School Book Depository Payments Lag

DALLAS (AP) — The Nashville, Tenn., businessman who bought the Texas School Book Depository is behind in his payments for the historical building, the former owner has revealed.

The Depository, said the Warren Commission, was the spot from which Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and critically wounded John Connally, then the governor of Texas.

D. Harold Byrd, the Dallas businessman from whom Aubrey Mayhew bought the building at auction in 1970 for $650,000, said Thursday that Dallas' Republic National Bank officials have informed him they are planning to begin foreclosure on Mayhew's 10-year mortgage.

Byrd said Mayhew is about six months behind in mortgage payments. He still owed $470,000.

The Dallas businessman said he does not know what he will do with the building if it comes back into his possession. "I don't want to glorify that building," he said.

Mayhew plans to convert the building into a museum and to build a Kennedy Memorial Center including a library and cultural center on property adjoining the depository.

Win Anderson, a Mayhew assistant in Dallas, said Mayhew has a fund drive under way.

That performance led to the role in "Shane," in which he played an impressionable youngster learning the meaning of violence on the plains of Wyoming during the American frontier.

Because he continued to look younger than his age, he often played a similar role in later motion pictures, notably "Hud" in 1963, in which he portrayed a teen-ager growing up in the shadow of a strong-willed uncle.

Other film credits included roles in "Blue Denim," "All Fall Down," "The Deserter," "In Harm's Way," and "Those Calloways." He starred in his own television series, "Jamie," in 1953 and 1954.

Although he was born into a show business family, De Wilde got his own start quite by accident. A friend of his parents, actor Frederic de Wilde and actress Eugenia Wilson, was looking for a young boy to play in "Member of the Wedding."

To Name Highway In His Memory

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The City Commission, which reversed its decision after naming part of a Montgomery street in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has decided to name an interstate highway in his memory.

The portion of Interstate 85 within the city limits was designated as the Martin Luther King Expressway — subject to approval by the state and federal governments.

Earlier, the commission had renamed several blocks of Jackson Street in honor of the slain civil rights leader who first gained fame as the leader of the Montgomery bus boycott in the mid-1950s. But that action was rescinded shortly afterward.

Reporter Will Wed In Balloon

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Victor L. Phillips, a 20-year old police reporter for the Anderson Bulletin, asked his fiancée what she thought of saying "I do" while riding in a balloon.

"Why not," replied 18-year old Kathy Hiday.

So come this Saturday Phillips and Miss Hiday will be married while soaring over central Indiana in a seven-story-tall hot air balloon. Phillips said he got the idea when he learned that a balloon will be one of the attractions at the annual Anderson Free Fair.

Turnpike Authority Available If Needed

HOUSTON (AP) — The provide relief in two Houston corridors, downtown to Galveston and downtown to Houston Intercontinental Airport.

Smith said the initiative would have to come from the Houston city council, the Harris County Commissioners Court, the Houston Chamber of Commerce and local business leaders.

Kelly said if local interest justified it, the authority could proceed with a feasibility study on specific corridors. He said a project could not start however without approval of the Texas Highway Commission.

The bidding:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠.
When North's opening one club bid was greeted with a two no trump response by partner, he knew that his side held ample assets for a small slam undertaking, inasmuch as he had 21 high card points himself and South's response shows 13-15.

With a slightly unbalanced holding North might have checked back on a suit contract by bidding three hearts. Had he done so, however, the partnership might have landed in six hearts and with the adverse division in that suit there is no way to prevent East from scoring two trump tricks.

We approve of North's decision to proceed directly to six no trump. He holds honor strength in both of his short suits and with the partnership assured of at least 34 high card points,
there should be a sound play
for 12 tricks in no trump.

West opened the ten of diamonds and dummy's king won the trick. A count of the top tricks revealed a total of 10—three each in clubs, diamonds, and spades and one in hearts. If clubs divide three-two, then South has 12. He tested clubs first by leading to his king and then back to North's ace.

When East discarded a diamond on the second round, declarer had a choice on how best to proceed.

He could lead the queen and another club to establish dummy's long card in that suit for his 11th trick, but now the contract would hinge on a successful heart finesse.
Similarly, South could abandon the clubs altogether and play the heart suit instead.
If hearts are divided three-two, then he can take three tricks there to bring his total back up to 12.

A problem will arise only if the hearts are four-one.
However there is a way to protect against such an adversity. East's shortness in clubs suggests that he is the more likely defender to hold length in hearts.

First, South cashed the ace of hearts to see if either opponent held a singleton honor. When only small cards appeared, he continued with the seven of hearts from dummy. East could not afford to put up the king or else he would establish both the queen and jack. He covered with the nine and South played the queen. West showed out, discarding a spade.

With his 11th trick safely in, declarer was now in position to revert to the club suit. He played the queen and another club putting West in with the jack.
Since the latter was out of hearts, he was obliged to surrender the lead on the return and North's eight of clubs scored the fulfilling trick.

In all, declarer took three spades, two hearts, three diamonds, and four clubs.

Border Incident Involves Woman

SAN YSIDRO, Calif. (AP) —
American and Mexican authorities say they are investigating reports that a United States border patrolman chased a woman driver into Mexico and returned her at gunpoint.

"The official walked across,
took the woman by the hair with a gun in his hand and brought her back to the United States," said M. G. Zamudio, a Mexican customs officer.

U.S. Border Patrol agent
James C. Heinecke said a woman was in custody and "we are thoroughly investigating the matter."

At the time, Heinecke said, two cars suspected of smuggling aliens into the country were being pursued. The woman arrested won't be prosecuted for smuggling at this time, he said, adding that the aliens were
"left on the other side of the border."

Heinecke declined to identify the patrolman but Luis Camacho, chief of the Mexican immigration office at Tijuana, said a 30-year-old woman, two men and a child were in the car.

The passengers said they were being transported illegally into California when a U.S. border patrolman chased them in a vehicle, Camacho said. They said their woman driver turned back and crashed through the wire fence.

Pedro Mireles, federal district attorney at Tijuana, said he was checking to see if Mexican sovereignty had been violated.

A total of 180 illegal aliens were taken into custody at the border crossing south of San Diego during an eight-hour period Tuesday, the July 4 holiday.

Jesse James Death House Up For Sale

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) —
For sale: The "house" wherein Jesse James was shot to death 90 years ago.

Perhaps America's most legendary criminal, Jesse W.
James was 34 and living under an assumed name with his family and a few friends in the green-shuttered house where Bob Ford, an old comrade, shot him from behind for $10,000 reward.

The simple one-story frame structure has been owned the past 20 years by Ray Miller, a St. Joseph land developer, who says failing health prompted him to put it on the market.
The asking price is $365,000 but Miller concedes he'll "do well to get $200,000 out of the place."

Miller's only stated stipulation is that the house, which James was renting for $14 a month, not be moved from St. Joseph.

Ever since the day Ford shot
James and news of the murder electrified the country, tourists have been flocking to the house.
Miller figures that in a good week he collects $400 in admittance charges, at $1 a person.

A visitor enters through a screenless door into the very room in which James was murdered.

"Now, folks," says the guide,
"this is where the man was standing in the chair when he was shot, and this is where the bullet went in."

He points to a glass-covered hole in the wall directly above the chair.

"You can see where the bullet busted the lath. People've been picking souvenirs till it looks more like a hammer hole than one made by a bullet."

Indeed, the hole in the wall looks as though a .37-millimeter cannon shell pierced it.
