Drama Is Rampant In Shops

POTPOURRI OF LIFE IS UNVEILED AS RUSH NEARS CLOSE

BY SUTTON CHRISTIAN

The potpourri of life unveils its swirling flashes of humanity as shoppers crowd Lubbock stores today on Christmas Eve. No Belasco could put more drama into action, and no Cohan could put more comedy into reality. It is the voluntary response to the season's appeal.

The gracious philanthropist of Yuletide is leading his sleigh generously. Stores of the city, from the commonplace shop to the polished jewelry establishment, afford the setting for the multiplicity of action as the last minute rush takes place.

Toy shops reek with chatter as children forget their appeals to Santa and plead with parents for pre-season consideration. A mother makes a purchase, rushes the clerk through the final procedure, while the father diverts the children's attention from the maternal regard.

Two girls closely appraise a display of ties at a local department store, considering thoughtfully which would harmonize with "his gray suit."

A multi-figured cravat, with green background is chosen, and then selection of a shirt begins. "I don't know his size," said one. "But if it don't fit him we can give it to pa."

The clerk weighs the situation with seeming concern, and then asks the comparative size of the recipient-to-be. When told "he's

VALLS REFUSES TO RESIGN POST

ATTORNEY HAS WORDY REPLY TO DEMANDS

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT PLAYED FOR CAUSING DISTURBANCE

(By Associated Press)

LAREDO, Dec. 24.—Reiteration that Mexicans innocent of crime have nothing to fear from him and a firm declaration to resign to clear the atmosphere were voiced today by John A. Valls, district attorney of Webb and three adjoining counties in reply to a statement by Genaro Estrada, Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

"To the minister of foreign affairs I state that there are men high in the official circles of Mexico, in the cabinet and out of it, who are wanted for offenses committed in Webb county and the trail of the serpent is over them all," said Valls.

Closing of the Laredo consulate by Mexico followed immediately upon District Attorney Valls' efforts to have Gen. P. Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, arrested here recently when he passed through upon his return from Europe, traveling under the protection of diplomatic immunity.

"My friends have insisted that I reply to the telegram of the Mexican minister of foreign affairs," said Mr. Valls' statement. "The position of this man gives a certain importance to his words apart from their worth."

"The Mexican government insists as a basis for the removal of the reprisals imposed on Laredo that I resign or that I disclaim the charges against Calles and that I make

DAY OF 1,000-PASSENGER PLANES IS VISIONED BY GERMAN ROCKET MAKER

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The day of 1,000-passenger airplanes propelled by rockets at least 5,000 miles an hour was visioned today by Fritz Von Opel, German auto manufacturer and authority on rocket planes.

Von Opel, who flew a rocket propelled plane in Germany last October a distance of a mile in 78 seconds, said he expected to see the 5,000-mile an hour airplane in operation within the next generation and possibly within the next decade.

The 30-year-old inventor arrived from Germany yesterday on the liner Columbus accompanied by his bride of two months. She also is a pilot.

Von Opel is manager of the Adam Opel company, manufacturers of automobiles.

H. L. ROWLEY CITED IN FORGERY OF CHECK ON CITY

Arrested late yesterday on a complaint charging forgery by endorsement, H. L. Rowley, 1611 15th street, employee of the city of Lubbock, was still in the city jail today. No attempt had been made to make bond.

The prisoner probably will be transferred to county authorities today, police officials intimated this morning. The complaint was filed in the city corporation court yesterday, and was signed by Ralph Bedford, employee of the Citizens National bank. It alleges that Rowley forged the name of Martin R. Smith, city engineer, to check for $123.30.

This check and another for $61.30 were placed in a drawer in the city engineer's office last Friday. When it was discovered they were missing yesterday, one of the two already had been cashed.

Rowley had been employed by the city as timekeeper on the Avenue H underpass, now under construction.

BANDITS ARE RATHER BUSY IN HOUSTON

NUMEROUS HOLDUPS REPORTED; BULLETS WHIZZ AFTER THEM

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 24.—Bullets whizzed after fleeing bandits on two occasions last night in the course of a series of six holdups here.

As two unmasked white men escaped with $112 from Toyland, a shop, M. B. Dunn, manager, fired three shots after one bandit as he leaped into a car in which an accomplice was waiting.

Shots also followed the holdup of the Haddon Service Station after a lone bandit had forced Robert Parker, manager, to hand over $45 from the cash register.

Leaps Into Coupe

After wrapping the $45 in a handkerchief, the bandit leaped in a small coupe and left. Parker seized his pistol and fired several shots.

Sam Rettig of the Rettig Ice Cream company, reported to police he was slugged and robbed of $18 to $20.

A bandit held up C. N. Green and robbed him of $4.50.

L. W. Jinks, driver for the Pearl Laundry, reported two unmasked white men, one holding a pistol, robbed him of $2 and a $2.11 check after he had made a delivery.

While making a delivery in the 2300 block of Charter, A. Spivey, negro employee of the City Dye works, was held up by two white men and robbed of $3.

ATTEMPT MADE TO SHOOT YRIGOVEN

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 24 (P)—An attempt was made to assassinate President Yrigoyen of Argentina here today. Three shots were fired at him, but he was not hurt. One of his party was injured.

The man was immediately executed. The attempt occurred close to the president's own house.

CHRISTMAS DESCENDS ON WORLD TODAY

VARIOUS SECTIONS OF UNIVERSE OBSERVING YULETIDE CHEER

The glad spirit which comes each year with holly wreaths, sprigs of evergreen and bundle-laden, but cheerful, pedestrians today pervaded the nation as its residents entered heartily into their observance of Christmas.

The vast machinery of the government at Washington was at rest. In the White House and in millions of homes over the United States where humbler folks live, the day was given over to last-minute preparations for the happy celebration of the morrow.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT INVADERS NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (P)—The spirit of Christmas dominated the slippery sidewalks of New York today.

From under Fifth Avenue where rivered chauffeurs carried gaily wrapped bundles for smart shoppers to the tumbled tenements under Brooklyn bridge, the spell of the holiday season made itself manifest.

LIONS CLUB HEARS KLETT

CITY ATTORNEY TALKS TO GROUP TODAY OF CITY AFFAIRS

E. L. Klett, Kiwanian and city attorney, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Lions club today noon at Hotel Lubbock, urging the members of that organization to continue building up and promoting the finer spirit of service to others and to the community.

"Lubbock is better equipped now and enjoys a more strategic position in its trade territory at the close of this year," said Mr. Klett, "than at any other time in its history. There is great work ahead for every member of every civic club and unlimited opportunity for all such organizations."

President C. F. Drexler, presiding at the meeting, reviewed the city's achievements during the year and now closing and spoke optimistically of the coming year.

Allan H. Barwise was in charge of the program, which was impromptu, the members joining in the singing of a number of songs. A letter was read from District Governor of Lions International, A. C. Cater, of Houston, urging greater activity of the club for the coming year.

SKELETON OF HUGE ELEPHANT FOUND BY SCIENTIST IN CLARENDON AREA

(By Associated Press)

CLARENDON, Dec. 24.—The skeleton of an elephant weighing 4,300 pounds, excavated near here, has been shipped to the American Museum of Natural History, New York, by A. F. Johnson, field representative for the Museum. It was said to be the largest shipment to the museum made from any state.

Two pieces of the skeleton remain to be shipped at a later date.

JOHNSON, discoverer of dinosaur eggs with the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition in China, has returned to Montana for the winter.

Johnson said the caprock fringe near here showed many evidences of prehistoric animals and that Donley county is the best field for early elephants and horses yet discovered. The skeleton was not that of a mammoth, he said.

SHEET MUSIC IS RATHER HIGH

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (P)—For smoring, two fellows by the name of David Kaen and Walter Linquist were fined $5 each and costs.

There is no law against smoring, but Mr. and Mrs. Arthur May felt there should be. Night after night, said they, their slumbers were arrested by loud smoring. At last they had Kaen and Linquist called before Judge Max Luster.

Another thing, the Mays said, was that the men took so much time in the bathroom no one else got a chance.

"There is," said Kaen and Linquist, "no law against keeping clean; and there is no law against smoring."

"Your acquaintance with the statutes is excellent," said Judge Luster, "but there is law against disturbing the peace, and the price will be $5 and costs. Furthermore, I appoint each of you guardian for the other. When one hears the other smoring, he shall punch him in such a manner as to cause said smoring to come to sudden termination. And don't take so long to bathe, either."

collecting installments for them, and that, at their direction he went to the residence of plaintiff and demanded that she pay the past due installment or deliver to him the goods which had been sold to her by the defendant.

Broke Into Residence

It is stated that plaintiff said to the agent that she did not have the money at the time, but that she would get it within a short while. She declined to deliver the goods to him and, "that thereupon the defendant, Mitchell, acting in his capacity as agent of the defendant and under direction of such defendant, broke into the private residence of plaintiff by force and violently and brutally assaulted her, striking her with his fists and knocking her across the room."

Claim is made that the plaintiff is a woman in frail health and was wholly unable to defend herself against "such violent and brutal assault," and by reason of this assault she suffered injuries to her head and back, causing her great pain and suffering. She claims to have suffered great shame and humiliation and mental anguish, "by reason of the violent assault on her by Mitchell, who was an adult man," and that the injuries to her head and back are such that she will never fully recover therefrom, as her nervous system "is completely shattered and permanently wrecked."

The attack is alleged to have been without any justification and grossly malicious and it is further claimed that "after committed, the L. E. Price Mercantile company, acting through its officers and agents, ratified the unlawful act made upon her by Mitchell, and by reason of aforesaid facts, plaintiff is entitled to recover of and from defendant, the further sum of $25,000 as exemplary damages."

Marshall and Stewart and Lockhart, Garrard and Brown are named as attorneys for the plaintiff.

SANDRINGHAM, England, Dec. 24. The King and Queen had not spent Christmas with all their child-ed police came to Bethlehem. The trip was made by motor, a great change from the olden days when the Patriarch preceded his prelates on a charger. In Medieval days the Patriarch's retinue was an imposing affair with knights, pilgrims and religious and lay dignitaries. Tonight the Patriarch with his suite and congregation will proceed to the old Franciscan convent, north of the church of the nativity, for the midnight pontifical mass. The Anglicans will intone their Christmas hymns just opposite in the Greek convent adjoining the church on the southern side.

CUBA SUGAR CONTROVERSY CAUSES STIR

STATEMENTS FLY THICK AND FAST BETWEEN TWO PARTIES

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—A White House background was attributed from democratic sources today to the picture presented by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the national republican congressional committee, as an answer to statements concerning charges that President Hoover had taken a hand in the sugar tariff controversy.

Joseph Shouse, chairman of the democratic national executive committee, said in a statement that the assertions of Wood "must be taken as a correct exposition of the president's position, issued with the consent and authority of Mr. Hoover, himself."

"Someone Told" Wood, in replying to statements of Representative Garner of Texas, the democratic leader, through the national committee, said last night that there was nothing reprehensible in the discussion of public questions by the president with individual callers, and that no one could hold the president responsible for "what some third party says someone told him the president said to someone else."

Garner had demanded that President Hoover make a public explanation of testimony before the senate lobby committee by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company, that Edwin F. Shattuck, a New York attorney, had been employed by the company partially because of his friendship with the president to aid in a campaign for a low sugar duty. Shattuck testified that he did not discuss the tariff with the president, but that he had conferred with Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries, regarding it.

Had Hoover's Okeh Shouse said that Wood "would hardly have ventured to issue such a statement," without the authorization of the president. "If there is anything faulty about this hypothesis," he said, "the president can correct it by disclaiming the views uttered by the chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee."

By implication, at least, Mr. Wood arraigns Lawyer Shattuck, Mr. Hoover's personal attorney for perjury, for Mr. Shattuck testified under oath

Had Suffered for Seven Years

Brownwood, Texas, Farmer Declares Orgatone Has Helped Him More Than Any Other Medicine

"Ever since I took that course of Orgatone I have felt better and stronger than I have in many years and it has done for me more than anything else I have ever taken," said W. A. Sims, residing on Rural Route 3, Brownwood, Texas, who is the Camp-Bell Drug Store's latest day.

"For seven years," he continued, "I suffered from indigestion and kidney trouble which finally developed into rheumatism and although I tried different treatments and medicines at great expense I got only temporary relief. I just could not rest well at night and would get up in the morning feeling all tired and worn out. My back would hurt me which was due, of course, to the condition of my kidneys and my stomach became affected so that everything I would eat soured and bloated me up with gas tight as a drum. I was bilious too, had terrible rheumatic pains and suffered something awful."

"I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing helped me till a friend recommended this Orgatone. It has relieved me of gas and every sign of indigestion and my stomach is in better condition than it has been in for years. Orgatone has helped my kidneys wonderfully. It has calmed my nerves and rheumatic pains so I can get refreshing sleep at night and I am not troubled with that run-down condition anymore."

before the Caraway committee that he had never discussed sugar legislation with the president.

"As to the assertion that the calling attention to the unpleasant situation in which the president's friends have placed him was the product of the publicity branch of the Democratic National Executive committee," Shouse said, "that does small honor to Representative Garner, who is not in the habit of having anybody do his talking for him. The Democratic committee's part in the episode was to give publicity to a statement that it deemed appropriate and valid under the circumstances. Will Wood knows as well as any other of Congressman Garner's colleagues in the House that nobody would be permitted to put words in the latter's mouth."

TEXANS TO OPPOSE PLAN

OKLAHOMA MAN REVEALS OPPOSITION TO FREE BRIDGE PLAN

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 24.—Senator Elmer Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, has learned, he said, in a letter received by J. Berry King, attorney general of Oklahoma, today that members of the Texas congressional delegation may undertake to prevent enactment of legislation enabling Texas and Oklahoma jointly to erect bridges over Red River, paralleling toll bridges.

"It now appears as if some of our Texas friends are to undertake to block the legislation," said the letter. "Congressman Rayburn, who represents the district south of Durant and Hugo, is opposed to the bill."

Not Enthusiastic "It would appear also," that the senators are not enthusiastic for the legislation. My information is that most of the stockholders interested in these bridges reside in Texas. In discussing the matter a few days ago, with Senator Sheppard, he suggested that, inasmuch as some parties wanted to have hearings, he thought it only fair hearings should be ordered; which indicates that some of the Texas people are in touch with him."

Bills have been introduced with a view to constructing free bridges to carry the traffic now passing over the toll bridges extending between Durant, Oklahoma, and Denton, Texas; Gainesville, Texas and Marietta, Oklahoma and Terrell, Oklahoma and Ringgold, Texas.

"Uncle Billy" Has 300 To Credit Now

"I was afraid I would not reach my three hundred mark this year, but late Monday I performed a wedding ceremony for a couple of negroes, making the 300th ceremony performed in a little more than three years since I first took office," declared "Uncle Billy" Clark, justice of the peace, this morning.

The latest ceremony was of Claude D. Smith and Lillie Mae Neal. This makes the third wedding at which he has officiated during December, "Uncle Billy" said.

Featuring the evening's entertainment was the introduction of pledges and their escorts at 10:30 o'clock by Del Morgan, and the dresses worn by the girls, were of unusual interest. Adorning each frock was a corsage, a gift from the sorority.

Miss Mildred Price, who was escorted by Rob O'Hair, was lovely in a white satin gown with Princess lines and a corsage of red and cream colored roses.

A corsage of red roses was in perfect harmony with the red satin evening dress with uneven hem line worn by Miss Virginia Anderson, who was escorted by Edgar Neal.

Simplicity was the keynote of a dainty frock of beaded georgette worn by Miss Juanita Mills, with a pretty rhinestone necklace. Miss Mills was escorted by Homer Hall.

A youthful frock, fashioned of pink satin with a long, tight waist and a ruffled skirt, was worn by Miss Nancy Collier, who was escorted by Charles Adams.

Miss Louise Pearce wore a gorgeous evening gown of blue georgette trimmed with rhinestones and worn with a rhinestone necklace. The frock was designed with a long, uneven hem line and a close-fitting girdle. Miss Pearce was escorted by Harold Welch.

Rhinestone Buckle
Miss Wanda Butler, escorted by Johnnie Sears, wore a gay frock of red georgette with a high belt fastened with a rhinestone buckle. It had a long, uneven hem, and was worn with a rhinestone necklace and bracelet.

After the introductions, the president, Miss Rosemary Leaverton, and R. E. Hardberger led the group in a grand march. Music was furnished by the Collegians.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Is handwriting and arithmetic important in this day of typewriters and has the world any use for poets?

Following is the letter from the little girl who wants these momentous points cleared up:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am 14 and head of my class in spelling, English, history and geography, but I just can't learn arithmetic or pass the tests in penmanship. My aunt has a typewriter, and when I visit her she teaches me typing, and I can type 20 words a minute. But mother doesn't like me to type. She insists that I learn to write better by hand."

"And when I visit Auntie we play games together, and Auntie taught me how to write poetry, and mother doesn't like it. Mother says poets are a hair-brained lot who rarely amount to much, and that normal people can't abide them or live with them. "And Auntie says mother is right, but that it is something to be glad about, as Auntie enjoys living alone with her cat. And she says the more she sees of normal women the more respect she has for the cat."

"Auntie lives out of town, and she has a car and an orchard and chickens, and she says poets may be half-baked, but still get a kick out of life. Do you think I should go on studying poetry? PATEY"

There are times, Patey, when one is glad they write a good hand, and there are times when one needs a little arithmetic for the business of life which even a poet can't very well escape. Aside from that, people who write for a living, or even those who write a good many letters, nowadays, use typewriters, and their stuff is much easier to read than most even pretty good handwriting. So I think you can't go wrong in learning to type.

However, I'd try hard to shape your letters plainly, because it is nice, as I said, to be able to sign even your name, in a good round hand. Your writing is legible, anyway, and with a little attention to lines you will write very well. Now, as to the poets, we need "normal people," as your mother says, to carry on the work of the world. But, what would life be like without poets? Pretty drab, I think. What are the first words that come into your head when the day is so lovely you want to shout, or when life is more than usually brimming with joy? Is it prose? Isn't it always poetry? The more you know about poetry, the better you can appreciate good verse, and to learn to express yourself in correctly phrased poetry is a great art, so surely it is worth while. Learn all you can about it.

Yes, poets are usually hard to live with, and are often shiftless and careless, but we need them so much in a world that seems pretty hard and prosaic sometimes.

Cultivate yourself all around, dear, and you can't go wrong, and give my love to your aunt. I'd like to meet her.

RUSTY: Yes, indeed, dear, girls of 16 often fall in love, very seriously, too, but it seldom lasts very long. They fall out again. The boy must at least have noticed you, or he wouldn't take the trouble to correct your language. Talk to him whenever you get a chance, and show him that you think a good deal of what he says. College girls say, you know, that there are just six words needed to make you popular. They are: "Do go on. You're just wonderful!"

MARVA ANN: I am sure your answer was printed some time ago. You must have missed that issue of the paper.

I think it a great pity some one did not prevent your marrying such an old man, but now that you are married and your husband is good to you, I think you should be faithful to him.

Of what use would it be to correspond with the man you love, or think you do? He realizes, if you don't that it would not be right for him to make love to a married woman. Why not respect his attitude?

I think, feeling as you do, it would be much better to even refrain from sending him a Christmas card. Most certainly do not send your picture. I think he shows his sense in not writing.

When the situation is charged with electricity, as it is when a married and unmarried person love one another, better keep apart.

I don't mean to be unsympathetic but my advice, and I want to make it emphatic, is—have nothing to do with this man until you are free to express your love and he tells you he loves you.

School Pupils Are Guests For Affair

Mrs. Agnes Priddy, 1916 14th street, was hostess to members of the high fifth grade, room 206, recently.

A Christmas tree, laden with gifts, lent an atmosphere of Christmas which was emphasized in all the decorations.

After an enjoyable evening spent in games, refreshments of hot chocolate and nut sandwiches were passed to the following: Parrish Heath, Ferrilline Tucker, Ernestine Ickhardt, Macon Skiriver, Charles Lawrence, Loyd Logan, Sibyl Cole, Gerald Hoffman, Claudine Korie, Harold Lynn, Oscar Meeker, Gladis Hickman, Frank Scott, G. W. McCraw, Nell McCaskill, Cecil Sanders, Vaula Echols, Dorothy Nell Dunn, Wilard White, Mary Ruth Gibson, Marjorie Neil Cook, Doris Law, Vernie Gilliam, Corinne Ater and Marcus Priddy.

Mrs. Priddy was assisted in decorating and serving by Misses Ruby Lee Ater, Sallye Ruth Priddy and Augie Priddy.

The sixtieth anniversary of the opening of the Suez Canal was celebrated recently.

Confession Links Mysterious Deaths And Gay Lives Of Two Pretty Women; Murder Of Dot King Still Unsolved

Friends Who Offered Alibi May Reveal Truth of Death

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A grim sequel to the Dot King murder case has been written in blood on a yacht club landing in the national capital. And in this sequel may rest the solution of the sensational deaths—seven years apart—of two beautiful women.

Dying words of Mrs. Aurelia Fischer Dreyfus, wealthy and beautiful Manhattan divorcee, who plunged from the balcony of the Potomac Boat club in Washington last October and was fatally injured, now may let a shaft of light through the veil which shrouded one of the nation's most famous unsolved murders.

For Mrs. Dreyfus, on her deathbed, is alleged to have whispered, "I purloined myself in the Dot King murder," and the police of two cities are confronted with mystery placed upon mystery, which link these two women both in their gay lives and their tragic deaths.

Identity was checked. Mrs. Dreyfus now has been revealed as the then nameless "beautiful blonde" whose testimony brought to an impasse the prosecution's case against one Albert Guimaraes, a Porto Rican, who was held for a time in connection with the killing of Dot King. It was Mrs. Dreyfus, then unmarried, who swore that Guimaraes had been with her and Edmund O'Brien in another apartment on the night the Broadway show girl was slain—giving him an unbreakable alibi.

But now the mother, and a sister of Mrs. Dreyfus, in Washington, say that this testimony was false—that Mrs. Dreyfus confessed to them that she perjured herself. These statements are contained in an affidavit filed with the United States District Attorney.

So police in New York and Washington now are seeking to discover whether Mrs. Dreyfus' death, called "suicide," was in reality a grim backwash of the killing of Dot King, which once stirred the entire country as few murders ever have done—and which, incidentally, put the word "sugar daddy" into the national vocabulary.

The story of Dot King's dubious rise from an ironing board in a laundry to the career of a "Broadway butterfly" who lived like a princess, with jewels and furs, lavish suitors and sleek-haired gigolos, was the Cinderella legend modernized and Manhattanized.

Like the equally baffling and mysterious murder of Arnold Rothstein, the gambler and racketeer, it bared a cross section of New York life that is usually under cover. It burned the "upper crust" of Manhattan society. For weeks many a playboy and misadventurer was extremely nervous and jumpy, and some were suddenly inspired to take trips to Europe.

But no one ever was brought to trial for the murder. Guimaraes, who was reputed to have taken Dot's money and most of her jewels as fast as she received them from her wealthy suitors, who was alleged to have beaten her and even to have threatened blackmail, was arrested and charged with the killing but was released on the testimony of O'Brien and the "beautiful blonde."

Married Rich Brother.

Finally the excitement died down and the King case was catalogued with the Elwell case, the Taylor and the Dorothy Arnold cases, under "Mysteries Never Solved."

The "beautiful blonde" married a wealthy stock broker by the name of Herbert Dreyfus. So she broke off her affair with O'Brien. But the break did not last and neither did the marriage. She is said to have kept meeting her old sweetheart. The husband became suspicious, hired detectives, eventually obtained a divorce.

But she did not marry O'Brien, though they were alleged to have remained on terms of intimacy. Her mother and sister claim that she lived in great fear of him. Finally they went to Washington where her mother lives.

Last October Mrs. Dreyfus, escorted by O'Brien, went to a dance at the Potomac Boat club, a gay affair, where there was said to have been much drinking and early in the morning Mrs. Dreyfus was found on the landing below the club balcony. She died shortly afterward.

Fall Seemed Accidental.

McBrien's explanation was that she had been chilled to death during because she was intoxicated and that at about 2 a. m. he had found her outside on the club porch in the fresh air. When he took her "Home Sweet Home" she was dead.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

BY VIRGINIA LEE

Little girls in their teens ask me whether I believe in love at first sight. Also, they assure me that THEIR love is not to be classed as "puppy love." It is the Love of their Lives.

Well, occasionally two people meet, fall in love at sight, marry and live happily ever after.

Very occasionally, too, young girls and boys in their teens seriously love one another, and the love lasts all through life.

But mostly, dear children, those things turn out like this girl's romance. So do try, I beg of you, to take these early affairs a bit lightly, if you possibly can. Don't plan to marry at once, anyway. Wait awhile.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a girl of 20 and have been married four years. I knew my husband three weeks before we were married."

"Now, Virginia, there is a boy I went with before I married that I loved dearly, though a girl came between us and we broke up. This was all my fault, but I then met my husband and was fascinated with him, and when he asked me to marry him I said yes and it was over with so quickly I didn't realize what I was doing. I was only 16 years old."

"He knows about this other boy, but thinks I have forgotten him. I can hardly stand my husband around me. I think he understands that and does things to make me mad. Please give me some advice. I don't see this other boy, haven't spoken a word to him for two and one-half years."

Before he returned, the club attendant had found her crushed body on the landing below. At that time McBrien was questioned and released. Now, since the affidavits filed by her mother and sister, further investigations are being instituted by District Attorney Leo A. Rover.

years. Please tell me what to do. J. R. R."

I think you should try your level best to make a success of your marriage, dear. You realize you made a mistake, but you made solemn vows in marrying, and you should do your best to carry out the promises you made then.

If you show so plainly that you do not like your husband, no wonder he does things to make you mad. He may develop an inferiority complex under it. Maybe he is as sorry as you are that you wed so hastily. Why not try to like him and to make him happy? Maybe, it is just possible, you know, that you would be no happier with the boy you think you love. He may have changed a lot since you saw him two and one-half years ago, and maybe he would look very differently to your mature eyes than he did to your girlish ones. Do your best, dear, so there will be no regrets if you find you cannot get along together, but must come to the parting of the ways.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: When a girl is working in a private office, should she give her boss a Christmas gift? If so, please make some suggestions. Thanks to you."

BROWN EYES.

It is not at all necessary, Brown Eyes, and might prove embarrassing. Send him and his wife a card, or, if you want to do some little thing for him, get your father or brother to pick him out a good cigar and give it with your compliments.

JACQUELINE JOY: You are in a bad position, aren't you dear? You want to shield your friend, as you feel her father is in the wrong in forbidding her having company, and you don't want to lie.

There is only one way to get around it, that I can see. Tell her father you'll tell him where she is if he will promise not to scold her. Then tell him that she needs young friends, and that he is only encouraging her to slip out by his course. If you can't do this yourself, it is up to your parents to do it, as they forbid you to shield her by saying you don't know where she is going. Her father should be made to wake up, no matter who does it. He feels very responsible, I suppose, as her mother is dead, and he tries to side-step the issue by forbidding her to have young friends, and doesn't in the least see that he is making more trouble for himself and making a liar out of his daughter.

By all means write to the boy friend and tell him how sorry you are you wrote that nasty little note. And next time you are tempted to say mean things on paper—DON'T.

BROWN EYES: No, it wasn't fair of the boy to make you love him when he really loved another. Boys and girls are both too apt to go lightly into these affairs, not thinking how the other party is to be affected. On the other hand, they often do not know that they will make the other love them, so are not altogether to blame.

Steady, dear, don't let the boy and the world know that you feel so badly. He may be just teasing you, you know. And if the other girl really does not care for him he may turn to you. All your anguish may be for nothing.

LONESOME PAT: I think I would let the matter drop, Pat. I am afraid from the way the man treated you the first time that he isn't interested in the kind of a girl you are, and that only unhappiness would follow a close friendship with him. Sorry you are so attracted to him under the circumstances, but I really think you would not be if you knew him better.

JUST OLD-FASHIONED: If you intend to marry the boy with whom you have been corresponding, he is the one you should consider. The boy who has been so nice to you while your friend has been unable to visit you must know sooner or later about the other boy so best tell him now. Of course you can do as you say, tell him that an old friend is coming to spend Christmas week with you. If usually pays to be truthful with your boy friends. They respect you more, even if they get "mad" or feel hurt once in a while.

BOUT FOR WORLD'S HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION LOOMING FOR 1930

GRID CONTESTS HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN WEST

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Thoughts at random on past football season while in more or less reminiscent state of mind:

Picturesque scene of the Western pre-season training camp at the base of the escarpment in Garza county—Elmer Moore's "square" meals for the griders and how they surrounded that grub-sleeping quarters beneath old grove—improvised shower beneath cliff and scenes of wretched lack of scrubbing facilities to girls back home.

Return of the high school griders to Lubbock and the opening of Tech's training season—high hopes in Matador camp and enthusiasm among local fans—two weeks of hard training and splendid showing of club against Wayland—disastrous turning point of season in game with Daniel Baker in mud-subsequent bowl of Lubbock fandom—continued setbacks and louder howls and the closing of the most disappointing campaign in Texas Tech gridiron history.

The slow start of the Westerners against Class B competition—gradual increase in power as the Inter-scholastic schedule came around—Butler Field in Amarillo on Nov. 2 and a heart-breaking defeat before 9,000—remainder of games on right side of ledger—final Thanksgiving day triumph over Plainview and the anti-climax, a 25 to 13 victory over the Cleburne Yellow Jackets. A great season and a great team with a net-er-say-die fighting spirit.

Art Shires' latest bid for a few lines of publicity in the newspapers of the country is in the form of a declaration that he does not intend to hire out as cheap baseball talent next season. The Great One says he is going to surprise Owner Charles Comiskey with a demand for a $25,000 contract. This is one argument that the timid White Sox first baseman is practically sure to lose. Last season Shires was supposed to get a $8,000 contract, but he didn't get all of it. Fact is, his income dwindled so rapidly through his numerous fines that he was forced into the tight racket of sheer financial necessity.

Incidentally all this ballroom appearing in print about the unusual Shires is bringing the White Sox plenty of fame. They are sharing in the publicity and judging by the momentum already gained by the dynamic Texan, the club won't be forced to turn a wheel all winter to make sure his name is kept before the public eye. While the 1930 season opens, Shires will undoubtedly be one of the outstanding drawing cards in the majors.

In one of his very numerous interviews the other day, Shires admitted that the gentlemen of the press have given him the prestige that he has gained in his spectacular career.

"You newspaper fellows have made me," said Shires. "I'm just another inspiration for stories. The fact that I'm good at anything is circumstantial of course."

"I'm just an accident that saves you people in dull season. I came along just at the right time for you. During the past year three hasn't been much to write about—the inauguration of the president, the Graf Zeppelin, the stock market crash, a few catastrophes here and there—but there wasn't much doing at all until I showed up."

Shires plainly showed lack in training in his bout with George Trafton, former Notre Dame football star. It was later learned that he hasn't done any real work since he last went after Lena Blackburne. The secret of Trafton's victory has leaked out—the big fellow used the Rokin system. That explains everything. He couldn't lose.

After his ring bout with the grid star, the Great Shires is still a good first baseman. Shires sat down twice during the fight; maybe he wanted time out to think about his proposed fight with Hack Wilson, the Cubs' fighting outfielder. The management of the Chicago Club has put an end to this attraction but that doesn't worry Shires, his pugilistic career is just started. He has recently signed for five bouts in five cities of the east and mid-west with a guarantee of $20,000 for the whole program between now and the opening of spring baseball training.

How much would we do if it weren't for Shires?

P. K. Wrigley Is On Cub Directorate

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (P)—With one exception the governing body of the National League champion Chicago Cubs will be the same in 1930 as last year. P. K. Wrigley has been elected a member of the board of directors and the executive committee to replace Adolph Speilmann, who died last summer.

William L. Veck was re-elected president and secretary, and William M. Walker and John L. Seys were re-elected first and second vice president, respectively.

William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the club, again will head the board of directors and the executive committee.

JACK SHARKEY TO FIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

OPPONENT FOR GOB IS NOT SELECTED; BOUTS THIS WEEK AID

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (P)—Predictions that a new champion will be sitting in the vacant "slot" of the 1929 season will be made next September seem now to have been based on fact rather than fancy.

Plans for the crowning of a new title-holder have advanced to the stage where it is safe to venture a guess that the three big "shots" of the 1929 season will be held in Miami, Atlantic City and New York, and that active participants will be drawn from among Jack Sharkey and Tuffy Griffith of the United States, Max Schmeling of Germany, Phil Scott of England and Otto Von Porat of Norway. Several others, notably Primo Camera of Italy, Victoriano Campolo of the Argentine, Paulino Uzcudun of Spain and a few American-born fighters may edge into the picture, but the chances appear to be against them.

Sharkey Wants Someone
As the situation shapes up, Sharkey will meet either Von Porat or Griffith at Miami in Madison Square Garden's second "Battle of the Palms" on Feb. 27. Schmeling will face some outstanding contender, possibly Scott, at Atlantic City, March 29, with the survivors claiming for the title in New York in September.

Sharkey is a certainty to fight at Miami, but his opponent will not be named until after Griffith's battle with Johnny Russo here Friday night and Von Porat's clash with Paulino Uzcudun at the Garden Jan. 10. A sensational victory for either Von Porat or Griffith probably will result in selection of one of them to face Sharkey at Miami.

Schmeling, still under ban in New York state, has agreed to meet the "best available opponent" at Atlantic City in March. Reports that Sharkey would fill his contract with Madison Square Garden to fight at Miami and then sign with the Taylor-Gottlieb-Duffy promotional combine to meet Schmeling at Atlantic City appear far fetched. With the Miami fight on Feb. 27 and the Atlantic City show on March 29, Sharkey, to do this, would have to make two big appearances in a month, and the boys don't do that. The chances are Scott will get the call to face Schmeling at the seashore resort.

HACK CERTAIN OF BEING IN SERIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (P)—Lewis (Hack) Wilson, Chicago Cub center-fielder, apparently is certain the Cubs will win the National league championship next season.

Wilson, who received a Christmas greeting signed "The Great, Great Shires," has sent one to Charles Arthur (The Great), with the following message:

"While we failed to go through with plans to meet each other in the prize ring, and will have no other opportunity to compare our respective athletic abilities, why not battle it out in the 1930 World series next October. I'll be in it, so it's up to you and the White Sox."

JACKETS NOT TO ACCEPT OFFER

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 24 (P)—The curtain was reluctantly drawn to close on the 1929 high school football season in Texas.

Port Arthur school officials said they would reject an offer of the Breckenridge school to play another game and attempt to settle the indecisive situation resulting from the tie game at Waco.

The entire Port Arthur school board last night voted against a playoff, according to George M. Sims, superintendent of schools.

The board felt neither the school nor the team should be asked to make further sacrifices.

SIX ELEVENS WORKING FOR COMING TILTS

CALIFORNIA, STANFORD, ARMY, PITT AND EAST-WEST TO PLAY

(By Associated Press)
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Dec. 24—A campus lying dormant since the close of final examinations last week hummed with renewed activity today as three football teams went through intensive workouts in stadium and practice field.

Busiest of the three was the West Point Army eleven, which arrived here Sunday night for its contest with Stanford Saturday. The cadets granted the use of the Cardinal stadium for their practices went through a light setting up drill and posed for photographers before noon Monday, and then returned for a scrimmage session in the afternoon. Coach Lawrence "Biff" Jones announced that the team would hold two practices daily for the remainder of the week.

Same As Last Game
Jones indicated that his starting line up for Saturday's contest would be the same that started against Notre Dame. That eleven was composed of Carmark and Messenger, ends; Price and Perry, tackles; Hillinger and Humber, guards; Miller, center; Carver, quarterback; Hutchinson and Captain Cagle, halfbacks and Murrell, fullback.

A light setting up drill in the morning and a brisk scrimmage against a plebe eleven equipped with Stanford players were on tap for the Army team today as the cadets swept into final preparations.

Less intensive workouts were scheduled for Pop Warner's Cardinals and the Shrine all-star Eastern team, both of which were recovering from effects of a scrimmage yesterday that resulted in a knee injury to Tommy Dowler, Colgate fullback, Eastern mainstay.

Warner indicated his starting lineup for the Army contest would be the same as that which took the field against California, with the possible exception of Walt Heinke at center. The stocky Cardinal pivot man contracted a severe cold, and it is doubtful if he will see much action against the cadets. His place may be taken by Perry Taylor.

Several reports were that the liquor was distributed among the high school pupils in China containers fashioned as women of the Cincinnati days.

Around each doll's neck was a ribbon of Maroon and Gold, Port Arthur high school's colors, and attached was a card with the season's greetings on one side while on the other was the admonition: "Best 'em Jackets at Waco, December 21, 1929."

WARNER TRAINS MEN ON "B" FORMATION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24 (P)—Formation "B," that famous brain child of Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner, looms again as a threat to the university of Southern California Trojans must deal with when they clash with the Panthers of Pittsburgh in the tournament of Pines Game at Pasadena New Year's day.

Will Coach John Sutherland employ the system of two wing halfbacks in his offense against the men of Troy? Coach Howard Jones seems to think so; for he is priming his defense in anticipation of the formation.

Today he planned more detailed instruction to his players in the matter of frustrating the plot of the Golden Panthers to make consistent yardage by their power house tactics. Yesterday the U. S. C. varsity spent more than two hours on the basic principles of this attack.

ROOKIES HOGGED GLORY IN 1929 BASEBALL SEASON, IS RECALLED

BY CLAIRE BURCKY
NEA Service Sports Writer

Remember how the Braves rose from the cellar position on July 4 to a league and world championship in October of 1914? Can you forget the great White Sox aggregation that "dumped" a world championship into the lap of Cincinnati in 1919? Those were stirring events, but can you recall a season of more contentment than that of 1929 when thrill after thrill was packed into the major league campaigns from beginning to end?

It was a big year from the time Earl Averill, a raw rookie in a Cleveland uniform, smashed the first game for a home run, until balding Bing Miller's rousing drive scored Al Simmons with the winning run in the last game of the world series at Philadelphia.

Baseball fans should remember many events of the 1929 season. They saw Connie Mack climb back to the top rung of the ladder from which he tumbled 15 years ago.

They saw the Cubs cop the National League pennant and win a world series contest, something a National League team had been unable to accomplish in two previous seasons. They saw Lew Fonseca and Lefty O'Doul, cast-offs whose services had been barked and banded here and there, win batting championships of the circuits in thrilling races with such greater known stars as Simmons, Fox, Herman and Hornsby.

Yes, sir, wasn't it a great season? And didn't the rookies come through in glorious style? There were young Wes Ferrell, the pitcher; big Dale Alexander, the giant first baseman; Roy Johnson, Johnny Frederick, Evar Swanson and Averill, the outfielders, and Bill Dickey, the catcher; and each one was a star performer.

Since when has a kid of less than a year's experience possessed the gumption to blacken his manager's eye, not once but twice? Page Arthur (The Great) Shires. How long has it been since a mere beginner dared fool with the Rajah's home run record? Call for Mr. Chuck Klein.

Players alone didn't provide all the high spots of 1929. Owners and managers had a hand in it. Seven of the sixteen teams open the 1930 season with new pilots, while the Cincinnati Reds boast a new owner. The year was not without its tragedy. Miller Huggins, the mighty mite at the helms of the Yankees, succumbed to an illness and the game was robbed of one of its most lovable figures. The brilliant career of Walter Leland, young Phillies' catcher, was cut short by an automobile accident. Death of Frank Ulrich in spring training camp also took from Burt Shotton's team a dependable pitcher.

DISPENSING OF LIQUOR ABOARD TRAIN TO FOOTBALL GAME IS INVESTIGATED

(By Associated Press)
FORT ARTHUR, Dec. 24—Sheriff W. W. Covington announced today that his office and federal authorities had begun an investigation into reports that liquor was dispensed to high school students on board the special train en route from Port Arthur to Waco for the football game here last Saturday.

Several reports were that the liquor was distributed among the high school pupils in China containers fashioned as women of the Cincinnati days.

Around each doll's neck was a ribbon of Maroon and Gold, Port Arthur high school's colors, and attached was a card with the season's greetings on one side while on the other was the admonition: "Best 'em Jackets at Waco, December 21, 1929."

Sheriff Covington announced he would appear before the school board to confer with school officials in an effort to determine the extent of the liquor dispenser's activities. The sheriff reported several persons were under surveillance.

W. Hayter, a railway employee of Malden, England, has won 101 prizes at horticultural shows in the last year.

(By Associated Press)
BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 24.—The highway commissions of Louisiana and Texas, acting jointly, will shortly build a bridge over the Sabine river as a new link between the two states, according to notices sent out today by the Louisiana commission. The project will be advertised next week and bids will be opened simultaneously by the two state bodies on January 21. Whilst Shepherds Watch'd

Whilst shepherds watch'd their flocks by night,
All seated on the ground,
The Angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.
"Fear not," said he, for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind,
"Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.
"To you in David's town this day
Is born of David's line
A Saviour, which is Christ the Lord;
And this shall be the sign—
"The heavenly Babe you there shall find,
To human view display'd,
All meanly wrapped in swaddling bands,
And in a manger laid."
Thus spake the Seraph, and forthwith
Appeared a heavenly throng
Of Angels praising God, and thus Address'd their joyful song:
"All glory be to God on high
And to the earth be peace,
Good-will henceforth from Heav'n to men
Begin and never cease. Hallelujah."

STATE DEPARTMENT DOCUMENT TELLS OF HOW GENERAL BLANCO MET DEATH ON BORDER; CARVER NOT IMPLICATED

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 24.—General Lucio Blanco, for whose murder Constable Duke Carver of San Antonio, General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico and others were indicted, was killed on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande by Mexican troops, according to a certified copy of a state department document received here. The document was received by J. Franklin Spens, attorney for Carver, from the department of state river when shot by one of a Mexican troop patrol. The bodies of Blanco and his companions were found in the river handcuffed together and the indictment against Carver fixed the date of the killing as of June 7, 1922.

The report of Col. Lopez follows: "I have the honor to advise you that yesterday at 7:30 p. m., Senor Ramon Garcia informed me that he had information that that same night at a place known as Paso Del Indio, about five miles below Laredo, a band of ex-patriates would pass to national territory with revolutionary intent.
"I immediately arranged to have twenty mounted men of the Fortieth Regiment, accompanied by the comandante to the customs house, Jesus Anaya Teran, who had under him 25 customs guards, to intercept the party.

"On arrival at Paso Del Indio, I surprised various individuals at that moment disembarking from small skiffs. Affecting the capture of those who had landed, I ordered Commandante Teran to bind them together and bring them to Laredo.
"This work was scarcely completed before we were suddenly attacked from ambush by several persons who attempted to protect the passage of their companions. All of our party proceeded to repel the attack, leaving the care of the prisoners, taking advantage of the fact that they were securely bound, attempted to cross to the American side and escape.
"Garcia attempted to block the prisoners retreat and the fight resulted, during which Commandante Teran fired upon the prisoners, who fell into the water, struggling with Garcia. All disappeared without coming to the surface of the water again.

"Commandante Teran after the skirmish, informed me that he believed one of the three prisoners was an ex-general, Lucio Blanco, whom he had known for some time but due to the darkness he had been unable to identify him completely."

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Here is a simple, hearty handshake Prompted thru appreciation, sincere: To thank you and yours for the favor: Shown to us throughout the year:

Ever since that Evening Star gleamed o'er the manger of the Bethlehem Babe, prompting the Three Wise Men to give gifts of Myrrh and Frankincense as a token of their deep feeling, the Yuletide season has been a time of forgetting and forgiving,—of loyalty and love,—of the giving of material tokens,—therefore, we are now glad for this opportunity to fling wide the doors of our hearts to express our gratitude and appreciation to you who have contributed to our lives those essentials which nourish, beautify and give to life its sweetest happiness.

BATTLESHIPS FORM POLICY

U. S. TO CONTEND FOR RETENTION OF BIG SHIPS AS CORE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Retention of the battleship as the keystone of the American naval fleet will be a policy of the American delegation to the London naval conference next month.

Secretary Stimson said today that he was one of those who believed that capital ships were still the core of a fighting sea fleet, but that the United States would approve a reduction in capital ships in the event that was agreeable to the other sea powers, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy.

To Favor Japanese
Although Stimson did not go into details regarding the method to attain reduction in this category of vessels which the United States would support, it was the impression in official circles that the United States would favor the Japanese desire for a postponement of replacements until 1936.

Former Premier Rikido Kakutani, chief of the Japanese delegation to the conference, disclosed after leaving Washington where the Japanese delegates conferred with American officials this week that Japan would back a proposal at the conference for a complete holiday in replacements of capital ships, as provided in the Washington Arms treaty.

Another method for reduction in capital ships would be by an extension of their age limit from 20 to 25 years and a reduction in the tonnage limit, now 35,000 tons, as provided in the Washington treaty, to 25,000 tons. This method, however, would not have to be considered in the event that Japanese plan for a building holiday was adopted at the conference. In that case, no ships would have to be built before 1936, when another conference will meet to consider again the disarmament question.

Hoover To Get His Favorite For Dinner

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—President Hoover will eat his favorite fowl—wild turkey—on Christmas day.

Knowing Mr. Hoover's taste for this bird, Lawrence Richy, one of the president's secretaries, went into the Virginia woods over the week-end and shot two fine specimens.

One of the birds weighs twenty pounds, the other, nineteen. Both will be roasted in the White House kitchen and will grace the presidential dining table Wednesday evening.

DALLAS MAN DIES

DALLAS, Dec. 24.—Alonso M. Samuell, 66, retired business man, died Monday. Funeral services will be held today. Samuell retired from business twenty years ago and came to Dallas from New York in 1914.

DEPUTIES FREED IN RIOT CHARGES

BURNSVILLE, N. C., Dec. 24.—Eight McDowell county deputy sheriffs who fought a battle with a strike mob at the gates of a Marion cotton mill October 2, today stood free of all charges growing out of the death of six strikers.

The deputies—Webb Fender, Robert Ward, Charles Tate, Taylor Greene, William Twigg, James Owens, Brodus Robbins and Dave Jarrett—were acquitted of a second degree murder charge by a Yancey county jury which deliberated over the case slightly more than 22 hours.

The trial was brought here from McDowell county on a change of venue. The men were accused of firing into a milling mass of strikers and strike sympathizers who gathered at the gates of the Marion Manufacturing company mill the morning of October 2 in an effort to prevent employees from entering the mill.

Funeral Services For Child Are Held

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Carlisle church for Jackie Colene Smith, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith, of Levelland, who died Monday, after a brief illness.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, of Lubbock, is officiating, while arrangements are in charge of Rix-Sanders. Survivors are the parents.

Packed in sections, a church, a manse, and a shop have been sent by steamer from England to a place in Greenland, within the Arctic Circle. The church, when erected, will be the most northerly in the world.

Forty-nine years ago there were only two people engaged in the telephone business. Today there are 306,000 in the United States.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites worked hard and long. Said Santa, "My, you boys are strong. I do not know what I'd have done without your dandy gift. For days you've helped me with my task and that is all that I could ask. A Merry Christmas goes from you, with every little gift."

"Oh, we have had a wondrous time," said Scouty. "Way up in this it's fun to work on little toys and all the little girls and boys, who get our presents Christmas morn' have quite a treat in store."

And then old Santa shouted, "I must sail away in the sky. The night is slowly falling and I have a heap to do. Just think of all the chimney tops where I must surely make my stops. I want to leave these wondrous toys while they look nice and new."

The reindeer, hitched to Santa's sleigh, were anxious to be on their way. They stomped their feet and twitched around till Santa climbed aboard, and shouted loudly, "Ready now! We'll soar around the land somehow." And then the reindeer gave a jerk and into space they soared.

The Tinymites heard old Santa cry a very cheerful, loud "good-bye." "Oh, my," exclaimed wee Scouty. "Won't he have a lot of fun!" And as he disappeared from sight, up spoke another Tinymite: "A Merry Christmas, Santa Claus—to you and everyone."

(The Tinymites get a surprise in the next story.)

Framed in our hearts is the memory of the loyalty, patronage and favors you have extended us throughout the past year and desiring to keep the jewel of friendship bright with appreciation, we are grateful for the opportunity that the Yuletide period offers to express our gratitude and to extend to you and yours,—

A Great Big
Thank You

TO OUR FRIENDS

We've been thinking and thinking and thinking,

Nearly the whole week thru,
Just trying to find some new-fangled wish
This Christmas to send to you.

We've searched through the books of the poets,

We've read all the cards in the store;
Of rhymes and greetings and verses.

We've read not dozens, but scores.
But, at last, we reached a conclusion
Which may seem funny to you:

That wishing a real Merry Christmas,
There aren't any ways that are New.

And so we just say "Merry Christmas,"
May the day bring you pleasure and cheer.

May the end of December just help you remember—
That we wish you a Happy New Year

SANTA CLAUS, WORLD'S MOST LOVED CHARACTER IS SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS IN MANY LANDS; SAINT NICK'S HISTORY REVEALS HIM A COMPOSITE INDIVIDUAL

By BERYL MILLER
NEA Service Writer

Santa Claus—the jolly old gentleman with the ruddy cheeks and flowing beard who gladdens the hearts of children on Christmas Day—is the world's best known and most loved character.

To be sure, he travels under a lot of different names in foreign lands and he varies his methods to fit their customs and traditions. But regardless of all that his work is all to the same purpose and he is known and loved all over the world. Why? Because he personifies the Spirit of Christmas. Everywhere, he is bringing good cheer and happiness.

Traits From Many Lands
Santa Claus' family history shows that he is a composite individual, combining traits from many lands. He originated in Holland several hundred years ago as a very stern but charitable churchman in long black robes. The Germans adopted him and fitted the Christmas tree into his program. Then the English, calling him Father Christmas, took him over and made him into a fat, jolly old fellow who was the children's patron saint. The Norwegians next gave him his team of prancing reindeer and jingling sleigh, as one would expect in such a northern country.

And then, a hundred years ago, an American—Clement Moore—wrote a poem that combined all these features. That poem was "The Night Before Christmas" and it established Santa Claus as we know him today.

Rides a White Horse
In Belgium, as in Holland, Santa Claus still rides a white horse when he makes his rounds on Christmas Eve. Little Dutch boys and girls place their wooden shoes before the fireplace so that the gifts dropped down the chimney by Santa will fall into them.

Although Santa is still rather a stern disciplinarian in Holland, rewarding good children with toys and gifts and leaving switches in the wooden shoes of the naughty ones, he is more liberal in England. There children are children and old Father Christmas makes all of them happy, good and bad alike.

Devil, Angel Accompany Him
In Bohemia at Christmas time, good old Saint Mikulas goes through the villages with switches and toys, a devil and an angel accompanying him. The devil points out the naughty boys and urges Saint Mikulas to give them only switches, but the angel intercedes for the naughty ones and always wins his point when they promise to be good in the future.

Poland has a Christmas tradition that is truly beautiful. The children are told that at the hour of Christ's birth cows, horses and other dumb beasts are endowed with speech, as Christ was born in a manger. Children go to the barns and plead with the animals to talk with them—and when the beasts refuse to answer, the children know they have been naughty and must be better next year. No animals are worked on Christmas day, and even the cows are not milked, the milk being left for the Mother of God, should she pass that way and need it.

In old Hungary, Christmas is "Karacsony." Shoes are placed on the doorstep. Sugar is placed therein for the good children switches for the naughty.

In Greece, good Hagios Vasilios makes his rounds, delivering gifts to the children. His other name is Saint Basil.

In Spain the children put their shoes on the balcony before the family leaves for church on Christmas morn, leaving tufts of straw and hay therein for Santa Claus' horse. Returning the children find the shoes filled with presents.

In Italy the festival season begins on the day of good old Saint Nicolo, the giver of gifts. But the gifts are distributed by "the Befana," a witch-like old woman in long black robes.

In Sweden and Norway, white-haired and jolly Father Christmas brings his gifts on a jingling sleigh with prancing reindeer. All work is suspended for several days as happy family reunions and ski-jumping contests are held.

Gnomes Bring Gifts
In Denmark, little is heard of Santa Claus. The presents for the children are not brought by him but by gay little gnomes who are reputed to wear red hats and are invisible to childish eyes.

The French Christmas is "Noel," meaning "good news." And it was the French who originated the Yule log and the Christmas cake, now part and parcel of Santa's program in many lands.

In Germany Christmas is the happiest day in the year with feasting and family merry-making. The Germans originated the Christmas tree—even if the Norwegians did hit upon the idea of decorating it with colored lights, in honor of the aurora borealis.

And so, as Santa Claus makes his rounds at Christmas time, he takes on many different forms and travels under many different names in various lands. But regardless of whether he is the good Kris Kringle in Holland, the good Hagios Vasilios in Greece, the good Saint Nicolo in Italy, the good Father Christmas in England or the good Saint Mikulas in Bohemia, he is all the same. For he is the Spirit of Christmas.

We extend to you our heartiest wishes for a delightfully Merry Christmas and hope it will fulfill your highest expectations.

TO JOY AND JOLLITY

CENTURIES ago, Christmas grew from a strictly religious holiday to a day of combined spiritual and festive significance. The ancient Celts attended their ceremonies in robes fashioned from the skins of brindled cows. They wore their hair flowing and entwined with holly. Today we enjoy no end of merry-making. Against a background of red and green, we laugh and sing and dance and play. We shower each other with beautiful tokens. We kiss under the mistletoe. We fill ourselves with roast pig, turkey, pudding and pie. Let us give a thousand thanks, then, that such can be our Christmas in this abundant land. Let us first remember the Christ Child, and say:

*"Glory to God in the highest.
And on earth peace among men in whom
He is well pleased."*

STOCKS MOVE UPHER TODAY

STOCKS SHOVE UP-
AS SUPPORT
FWS ON OPENING

NEW YORK, Dec. 24 (AP)—Stocks moved irregularly higher at opening of today's market when support developed for the industrial leaders. General electric showed an initial gain of 2 3/4 points, U. S. Steel common advanced 1 1/2 and American Can and International Telephone 1 1/2 each. Anaconda Copper, which sank to a new low level for the year yesterday, opened with a block of 10,500 shares at 70 1/2, unchanged. May Department Stores and Warner Brothers Pictures dropped 1 1/2 and 1 3/4 points, respectively.

The market gathered strength as trading progressed, with short covering an important factor in the advance. A few soft spots cropped out here and there. Sears Roebuck, falling 3 points, presumably in response to the termination of the negotiations for a merger with the J. C. Penney Co. General Electric quickly extended its gain to 4 points and U. S. Steel common to 2 3/4. Foster Wheeler also sold 4 points higher and A. M. Byers, and Johns Manville were marked up 2 points. Public Utilities gave a fairly good demonstration of group strength.

Foreign exchanges opened easier, with sterling down 3-32 of a cent to $4.88 1/4.

Produce

CHICAGO POULTRY
CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—Poultry steady; unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—Argentine wheat acted as Santa Claus for the wheat trade today, with an official crop estimate which instantly added 5 1/4 bushels to wheat prices here. Opening 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 up, Chicago wheat afterward continued to hover around the initial top level. Corn, oats and proso millet were also strong, with corn 1 1/4 to 2c higher, and subsequently showing but little reaction.

MARRIAGES

Smith and Lilla Mae Neal, colored, Homer Hill and Miss Marcel Smith, Truett Cocanougher and Miss Billie Dee Duncan, Raymond McMillan and Miss Leona Huffman, O. H. Fowler and Miss Lela Belle Smith.

Two intentions to marry were declared this week by Clarence Page and Miss Mae Dee Smith, of Hamlin, and T. R. Collins and Miss Audie Terrell, of Littlefield.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 24 (AP)—Cables were slightly better than due, and cotton opened rather steady today. First trades showed a gain of 1 to 2 points, and after losing a point, rallied on shorts covering and buying reported by spot houses. Active positions advancing 8 to 10 points from the low. January traded at 17.05, March at 17.36, and May at 17.59.

Aside from the slightly steadier feeling, the market was largely a pre-bureau affair.

The market ruled quiet, but steady, all morning, being under pre-holiday influence. Active months made new highs in the latter part of the morning, a point or two above solemn promise not to molest Mexican citizens in the future.

LAREDO CASE

Answer Is This

"My answer is this: 'Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute.' The Mexican government is an impudent intruder and it will not be permitted to exercise any rights of sovereignty in my district. Mexican citizens will not be allowed greater privileges than are given to citizens of the United States and I will continue to prosecute all violators of the law regardless of their nationality."

"I turn neither to the past with regret nor to the future with apprehension. The present campaign against me was begotten by greed, inspired by malice and waged with venom. My conscience is a monitor that has never deceived; that monitor is the Saint Peter of my faith and on that rock I shall defend my position, and neither the power of the Mexican government nor the malice of its allies shall prevail against me."

Let It Ponder

"Let the Mexican government ponder long and well over this inexorable truth, that behind every fugitive from justice in the universe silent but relentless stands with uplifted blade the shadow of vengeance and the retribution of the law. The Bible has said it, the wages of sin is death."

"The only regrettable incident in this whole affair, and pardon the old American spirit that comes flaming in my soul, is the sad spectacle of American soldiers, wearing the proudest uniform in the sight of heaven, acting as a military escort to fugitives from justice.

Charges False

"The charges made by the minister of foreign affairs that Mexican citizens are unduly molested in Webb county is utterly and detestably false. I have tried in vain to induce Gen. Leopoldo Dorantes, a gallant officer of the Mexican army, to testify against Capt. Allen Walker. This is a case where I am seeking to punish an American official for a crime committed against the person of a splendid Mexican citizen, and, paradoxical as it may appear, the Mexican government has forbidden Gen. Dorantes to testify against Allen Walker in the courts of Texas. That government, so jealous of the rights and safety of its nationals, must have grave reasons of state to justify its peculiar procedure in this case."

"In the Mexican war department, a paradox was born, the corn was full of kernels and the colonels full of corn."

"Some of my nearest and dearest friends of Mexican extraction; whatever political preference I enjoy I owe in large measure to the voters in my district of Mexican blood, and may God forget me if I for one moment forget the welfare of the Mexican people."

District Attorney Valls' godfather was Porfirio Diaz, and throughout the growth of Mr. Valls to manhood and middle age he and the former Mexican dictator remained close.

LEA COUNTY OIL AREA HAS NEW PRODUCTION STRIKE IN ANNA MEYERS NO. ONE

POTPOURRI OF LIFE IS

NEARS CLOSE

One of the major developments in the Lea county N. M. oil fields during the past week is the off strike in the Anna Meyers No. 1 of the Continental Oil company in the southwest section, 17-21-36, which is reported to have encountered a lime break at 4,001 feet and started flowing by heads at the rate of 30 barrels per hour.

Estimates of production vary according to early information from the field. Previous to the oil break the well had encountered a heavy flow of gas.

Rank Wildcat
The Meyers No. 1 is a rank wildcat and may prove an important link in the northwest trend theory. It is located over four miles southeast from the Lea pool.

A number of wells in modern Eddy county are being closely watched, but so far have developed nothing unexpected. The Leonard and Leven State No. 1 well in the N. E. S. E. section 21-17-29, continues to look promising with prospects bright for developing a commercial well around 2,800 feet. A nice showing was made in this test last week around 2,650 to 2,635 feet. In the same township, the Parke No. 1 of the Lockhart company has apparently missed the Jackson sand and has shut down at 5,561 feet, awaiting orders. The test will likely be carried deeper.

Other Locations
Additional locations are Cranfill and Reynolds on State land known as State No. D. in section 2-21-33, Cranfill and Reynolds in the T. P. area being known as the State C-1 in the N. E. W. section, 16-21-36, Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil company for its No. 3 State well in the NE section 21-25-36.

LUBBOCK WISHES MERRY CHRISTMAS

MORE THAN 150,000 GREETING CARDS SENT OUT FROM CITY DURING PAST FEW DAYS

"Merry Christmas" will go out from Lubbock to 150,000 persons this season.

The volume of Christmas cards in the local postoffice has been so great that Postmaster John L. Vaughan has been confronted with a difficult task in having the incoming and outgoing mails separated during the last week.

Lubbock patrons have responded satisfactorily, however, to the "mail early" urge. Mr. Vaughan said. During the last five days approximately 39,000 cards have been mailed at the local postoffice daily.

"While it is impossible for me to estimate with any accuracy the volume of Christmas parcels, I can safely say that this season's business has exceeded any of former years."

said Mr. Vaughan. "We have been delayed with parcels since early December."

The sub-station, located at the Hemphill-Wells department store, served approximately 5,000 patrons.

The original manuscript of "Deutschland Uber Alles," the famous German national hymn, was recently sold for about $15. It was written in 1841.

VETS RECEIVE HOSPITAL AID

HOOVER SIGNS BILL
FOR $15,950,000
IMPROVEMENTS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Disabled World war veterans received welcome Christmas cheer Monday when President Hoover signed a bill to authorize construction of veterans' hospital facilities to cost $15,950,000.

Forecasting further projects for the care and treatment of veterans, the chief executive announced he had directed the medical council of the veterans' bureau to study the future hospitalization needs in view of prospective increases in incapacitated service men.

An increase of 4,491 beds is provided in the law enacted today. These will be distributed in 17 different building projects, four of which are to be neuro-psychiatric hospitals.

This measure brings the total expended and authorized for hospitals under the veterans' bureau to $104,435,942.

The American Legion sought the aid of President Hoover in an additional hospitalization program to cost $19,000,000. In that connection, the chief executive announced that he was glad to sign the bill but indicated that the study should be conducted by the medical council of the veterans' bureau to know the extent of the needs before taking up a broader construction program.

President Hoover also said that more coordination was needed among the different government agencies engaged in hospitalization. This is in line with his annual message to Congress, in which he proposed the consolidation of all government agencies dealing with war veterans. It also meets the approval of the House veterans' committee which favored the ultimate use of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers by the veterans' bureau in reporting the $15,950,000 bill.

Plot Discovered Against Belgians

BRUSSELS, Dec. 23. (AP)—The newspaper, Independence Belge tonight said that plot to assassinate members of the Belgian royal family and prevent the marriage of Princess Marie Jose to Crown Prince Humbert of Italy had been discovered by Belgian and Italian police.

The plot was said to have been aimed also at the Belgian and Italian ministers if plans for the marriage were carried out.

The newspaper said the plot here arrested, during the past week, a young Italian communist named Bierni, who was alleged to have confessed that he came to Belgium to murder the Italian minister of justice, Prof. Rocco.

REPUDIATION OF CONTRACTS IS HOPED FOR

AGREEMENT ON EXPORT OF GRAIN SHOULD BE CHANGED

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Hope that the Federal Farm Board will repudiate agreements for handling grain reported to have been reached at a recent conference between Alexander Legge, its chairman, and several grain operators, including Julius H. Barnes, head of President Hoover's business advisory council, was expressed today in a letter to Legge from Chairman Caraway of the senate lobby committee.

"I truly hope the board will repudiate your agreements and the place and time in which you saw fit to announce them," Caraway wrote. "Must do so, if it wishes to retain the confidence of, not only the farmers, but all those who earnestly sought by legislation some means of relieving the distressed

TRAIL OF GOVERNMENT WITNESSES IN MULLAN RING CONSPIRACY TRIAL ENDS

(By Associated Press.)

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Dec. 24.—The parade of government witnesses in the "Mullan ring conspiracy trial" ended Saturday, after testimony that blared forth accusations of licensed liquor, gaming and vice in the little mining town—all of it, they said, in the name of civic betterment.

Twenty-eight persons accused of participating in the alleged conspiracy to give official approval to law violations in order that the village treasury might be filled heard accusations of dry agents, former condition of agriculture.

Replying to a letter from the Farm Board chairman, Caraway offered him an opportunity to appear before the lobby committee to explain the conference. Legge had written Caraway an explanation of the Farm Board's policy in advancing money to cooperative farm organizations.

Explaining that it was not the policy of the lobby committee to include letters of explanation in the record unless they were offered in open hearings, Caraway added that Legge would be given opportunity to put his statement into the record in person at any time.

police, bar tenders and keepers of resorts that the city was "wide open." They will have a chance to reply this week.

Those testifying said officials authorized collection of fees from every rum joint and disorderly house in town, informing the licensee that this was legitimate, because the people desired "no prohibition," that city warrants were unpaid, and that Mullan needed the money.

Judges were loud in their praises of the beauty of Lubbock homes in the contest. The out-of-town people complimented Lubbock highly for the beautiful Christmas decorations not only in the residence district where so many homes were decorated, but also complimented the town highly for the colored light that are found at most every downtown street intersection and for the many attractive store windows.

Members of the Christmas decorations committee of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association are well pleased with the results of the first contest. Sam Lightfoot, chairman, stated last night, "We feel that this contest has played a prominent part in making home decorations the most extensive and the more attractive than any previous year."

"We hope to continue the contest from year to year and that it may develop into a bigger contest each Christmas season."

ILL FEELING BLAMED FOR THREE DEATHS

ARGUMENT TWO YEARS AGO CLIMAXED BY SHOOTING DUEL

(By Associated Press)

CAMERON, Dec. 24.—Ill feeling of two years' standing was believed by officers today to have been the cause of a shooting here yesterday that resulted in the death of three men and the wounding of a fourth.

Hubert Hefley, owner of an automobile agency, was slain as he attempted to disarm Anton Huebner, farmer, who had entered his building firing a rifle promiscuously. Officers were immediately notified, and in a gun fight in the show room of the agency Charles Sena, constable, was killed and Sheriff Blaylock grazed on the leg by a bullet.

Cafe Man Kills Him

After firing at the officers for several minutes from behind automobiles, Huebner walked calmly from the building. As he did so he came face to face with Gene Smith, cafe proprietor, and in an exchange of shots he was wounded fatally.

Two years ago, Huebner was struck over the head with a stick in a fight with a salesman of the motor company. The difficulty was said to have arisen over an adjustment on a $2 automobile. Gaining Hefley paid $2,000 and court costs to adjust the matter some time ago.

Returns Shooting

Huebner, about noon yesterday, parked his automobile across the street for the agency, went in and purchased some automobile parts. He then returned to his car. He almost immediately ran back with a rifle and box of cartridges, firing the weapon as he reentered.

Two bookkeepers at first thought the shooting was the result of a holiday firework. As they stepped up, however, they saw the seriousness of the situation and fled through the back door. Hefley just in time to escape the shot.

Hefley, after unsuccessfully trying to borrow a gun, hurried back into the garage. Friends pleaded with him to stay outside, but he pushed ahead, saying, "I've got to take care of my men." Two shots, one through the neck and the other through the head, ended his life.

Mrs. Hefley, across the street from the garage when the shooting began, tried to reach her husband, but was detained by friends. Hefley's death was the third fatality in the family within the past three months.

Hefley, 55, was prominent in this section. He was a brother of Frank Hefley, state representative from this district. Another brother, John Hefley, resided at Sterling City. Huebner was unmarried and lived seven miles west of here. He was 22 years old.

would surrender today or tomorrow. Hastings was reported to have gone to Tahlequah to confer with his uncle.

Geary went to the Hastings farm, the sheriff said, at the request of Mrs. Hastings, who had appeared at the Geary home to ask help in "doing something with" her husband, who, she said, was intoxicated. Geary walked into the Hastings home, according to the sheriff, sat down in a chair and was shot by Hastings as the latter entered from another room with a shot gun. No words had passed between them. Hastings is a Cherokee Indian.

about your weight and build," the salesman solves the problem.

As though fearing the dawn of a day which would destroy the faith her three children have in a generous Santa Claus, a languidly depressed mother, her head covered with a black shawl which is closed tightly against drawn cheeks, draws out the information that she has but $2 and asks, "what is the most I can get for it."

Clerks in the minor-gift stores, after weeks of service to Christmas buyers, appear in lackadaisical moods, meeting prospective customers with the abbreviated "What for you?" A few seem to be feigning customary courtesy through the ordeal of pressure.

A reticent young man, reflecting rural atmosphere, scans an assembly of rings in a jewelry store. "What kind of ring do you wish?" asks a charming woman clerk. He hesitates momentarily; then replies, "I don't see the kind I'm looking for."

"But surely we have any type of ring you might be interested in," responded the clerk. "Now, is it a wedding ring?" Embarrassed, he grins weakly and nods affirmatively.

Appetites gleam through saucer eyes at the candy counters as children look hopefully at purchases.

Men dressed in Santa Claus costumes who parade the streets daylong as advertisers for merchants have placed many children in confusion. Tiny minds are beginning to study the elementary principles of logic.

"Mama," asks a little girl, "why are there so many Santas in town. I thought there was just one."

Stockings may hold the gifts of the season, but love, generosity, devotion, friendship and kindness furnish the stimuli which fills youthful and aged hearts with joy.

who are making the Namuk their base, were reported to have taken off from the ship yesterday and to have returned without finding a trace of either Eielson or Borland or their plane.

With five men now missing, pilots here are facing the worst conditions of the year under which to carry on a search. Daylight lasts only a few hours. limited gasoline supplies curtail use of planes on long flights and work of radio stations which depend upon that fuel to generate power. Unfavorable weather also has handicapped rescue attempts.
