Paws and Taws To Burn Mortgage

The Paws and Taws Square Dance Club is having a big free dance and mortgage-burning celebration at their clubhouse on Fulton Beach Road Saturday, Feb. 24 at 8 p.m. A group of area callers will call for this dance.

This will be a red letter day for all the members of the club who have worked so hard to make this day possible. The charter members of the club started taking lessons from caller 'Blackie" Hardy of Corpus Christi in January of 1964 in the VFW building.

"Blackie" graduated the class in May, and the Paws and Taws Square Dance Club was organized. During the summer months the VFW hall became a little too hot for square dancing and the Club moved their activities to one end of the large hangar at the Airport.

Concrete floors don't make the best dancing surface, and not being able to find an adequate wood floor in the area, the members decided to build their own club house.

Burl and Juanita Wagley, of Wagley Lumber Co., members of the club, offered a lease on some of their property on Fulton Beach, at a very low price, and the first piling for the foundation was drived on Nov. 14, 1964.

Members of the Club represented practically all of the Tiny Flounders Make Their Way Into Texas Bays

Small flounder a half-inch or less in length, are making their way into the bays of Texas, according to B. D. King, marine biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The little flat fish, now almost helpless and so transparent they are difficult to see, were spawned in the Gulf and must find a shallow, grassy nursery ground in the bays to continue their growth.

King, project leader of Cedar Bayou movement study, believes that their appearance this early in the season, in the numbers he encountered, indicates an exceptionally good spawn.

The flounder is one of many species of fish that make the retention of shallow, boggy, grass-covered "nursery areas" so vital to the sportsmen and commercial fishermen of Texas, King said.

The so called "useless marsh" plays a vital part in the production of many fish and the flounder, redfish and trout are included.

The study conducted by King consists of monitoring the movement of newly hatched fish and shellfish through Cedar Bayou, a pass connecting Mesquite Bay, near Rockport, with the Gulf of Mexico. A series of traps have been set up in the pass, and a portion of the migrating populations are sampled. Juvenile shrimp moving back out to the Gulf are also monitored in this Federal Aid project.

Other State biologists working in the bays and Gulf maintain a close check on marine species in the spawning grounds and nursery areas. King's work is directed at determining size and quantity of the small travelers as well as factors which cause them to make such movements.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

COULD A VIKING SPIN?

They've found a spinning ball in what are believed to be Viking ruins in Newfoundland and it is probable that women from Greenland were there a thousand years ago.

Come to think of it, Leif Ericson and the heroes of the sagas related to North America always seemed to be bachelors engaged in voyages in which weak women could have no part. The people who have been digging at L'Anse aux Meadows in Newfoundland say that the soapstone spinning ball, with the appearance of a doughnut and made to spin on a round shaft, can be taken as proof women were with the Vikings.

The thought of seagoing warrior spinning is so demeaning that women will be welcome in these Viking ships in future stories. Only that would explain effeminate tools left in the ruins of North America. The male Viking image of swords and mead must be preserved.—Ottawa Journal.

RIVETER ROSIE'S RETURN

Rosie the Riveter, the legendary industrial worker who manned the nation's production lines when the men went off to World War II, is going back to work after a lapse of some two decades.

Rosie is being pressed back into service in some of the nation's heavy industries, where an increasingly acute shortage of labor, resulting from a booming economy and the war in Vietnam, exists.

Besides hiring women, many industrial plants also are relaxing age, educational and physical requirements for employes.

Rosie's return is but another sign of the times. —New Orleans States Item.

New York City lets its citizens use all the water they want at a flat rate, without metering it. Naturally, this causes untold waste and resulting strain on the big city's water supply.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

Question and Answer Column

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—My son held down a full-time job before going into the Army last fall. I just got his W-2 statement. Does he have to file a return?

A—Yes, you son has to file a return if he meets the filing requirements. However, if he is stationed overseas, he has additional time to do it.

Taxpayers overseas have an automatic extension from April 15 to June 15 to file 1967 returns. If your son is in Vietnam, his return isn't due until 180 days after he leaves there.

Q—I understand there is a new rule on dependent children of divorced parents. What is it?

A—A new provision added to the tax laws last year provides that the parent who has custody of the children for the greater part of the year will usually be able to claim their dependency exemption. However, if the other parent contributes at least $600 during the year to the support of the child he or she, under certain circumstances, may be entitled to the exemption. There is also a special rule for a parent who does not have custody and furnishes more than $1,200 during the year.

The new rules only apply if the divorced or separted parents together provide more than half of the child's support and have custody for more than half the year.

Q—The tax form I got in the mail only shows my name on the label. Since I'm filing jointly with my wife this year should I use the label or not?

A—Use the label on the form you file but add your wife's first name and social security number to it. Write this in ink at the bottom of the label.

Q—I'm in business and have a retirement plan for myself and my key workers. Is it true I can deduct more of my contributions to this plan now?

A—For 1968, the amount that may be deducted for contributions to a qualified self-employed retirement plan has been increased. A self-employed person can set aside up to 10 per cent of his earned income with a miximum of $2,500 and deduct this amount on his tax return.

If you had a plan last year and are taking this deduction on your 1967 return, then the previous limits on this deduction must be used. One-half of the allowable contribution to such a plan with a maximum deduction of $1,250 is allowable on 1967 returns.

Q—Do I have to put my wife's social security number on our joint return? Practically all of our income comes from my salary.

A—Her number is required if any of the following conditions are met:

1. She had wages subject to withholding.
2. She had income subject to self-employment tax.
3. She had separate income from dividends or interest of $10 or more.

If any of these conditions apply, a joint return without her social security number will hold up processing. You will then be contacted to obtain the missing information. This naturally delays processing and the issuance of any refund you have coming.

Q—What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A—State and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property, and real estate taxes are deductible.

Deductions are not allowed for: Federal taxes, drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. Also, the cost of Texas auto tags is not deductible because it is based on the weight of your car and not on its value.

You will find further details on what is and is not deductible in the Form 1040 instruction booklet.

Q—Is an assessment for sewer or sidewalk construction deductible?

A—The law generally does not permit deductions for assessments for local benefits that tend to increase the value of the property. Capitalize the amount of assessment, however, and add it to the basis of your property.

Patton to Head Easter Seal Sale

Henry Patton will serve as Easter Seal Representative and Treasurer for the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal in Aransas County, it was announced by Robert W. Milam, M.D. of McAllen, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Residents of Aransas County will receive the annual Seal Appeal letters in the mail beginning March 1. The Easter Seal Appeal, conducted yearly to provide disabled persons and their families treatment and service adapted to specify community needs, will be conducted until Easter Sunday, April 14.

Patton is one of 169 men and women throughout Texas who are serving in this capacity.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen or his family in Aransas County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Any disabled person can contact Patton at First State Bank, Aransas Pass, who will refer the request for services to the Easter Seal Society.

Dr. Milam stated that funds received as a result of the annual Easter Seal Appeal now aid 17,622 disabled Texans but there are many more not currently being aided. These disabled citizens and especially those in Aransas County who contact Patton can now be guided to the Proper sources of assistance.

Dr. Milam added that the Texas Easter Seal Society annually spends more money on direct services to patients than it raises in the Easter Seal Appeal.

Income Tax Information

Changes in the handling of medical expenses are about the only difference taxpayers will notice in the filing requirements for 1967 Federal income tax returns.

Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of Internal Revenue for Corpus Christi, said there are two major changes in the medical expense area.

"First," he explained, "The medical expenses of those 65 and over are now subject to the same limitations that apply to taxpayers under 65. All taxpayers must now reduce the cost of drugs and medicine by 1 percent of their adjusted gross income. The balance, if any, is added to other medical expense and the total reduced by 3 percent of adjusted gross income. The excess is the amount deductible."

"Second," he continued, "one half of the premium paid for medical insurance up to a maximum of $150.00 may now be deducted by each taxpayer as a medical expense without regard to the 3 percent limitation. In a community property state, such as Texas, a husband and wife filing separate returns can deduct up to the $150.00 on each return. For example, if a husband and wife paid $600.00 for medical insurance during the year and file a joint return, they are entitled to deduct only $150.00. However, if they file separate returns, they are entitled to deduct $150.00 on each return. The balance of the premium cost for medical insurance should be added to other medical costs subject to the 3 percent limitation."

He said further that life insurance and accident and health insurance covering the loss of earnings are not medical expenses and the premiums paid are not deductible.

Jim Beam ordered to appear in quart

Quart calls for Jim Beam Bourbon are on the increase.

The Jim Beam quart, which has long been a favorite in taverns, is found more and more often in private homes.

"There always seems to be just a little more in the bottle for that unexpected guest," said one consumer.

"It's simply more convenient," said another. "I don't have to stock up as often."

The Jim Beam quart bottle is square and it carries the white label, just like the fifth. The only difference: the customer gets exactly 6⅔ ounces more.

That 6⅔ ounces is the equivalent of about four drinks.

That alone is four extra reasons for ordering Jim Beam to appear in quart.

TAXPAYERS ARE URGED TO USE PROCESSED FORM 1040A

Taxpayers who received a 1967 pre-addressed card Form 1040A are urged to file that form if it fits their needs and they are eligible to use it. Most taxpayers who use Form 1040A are able to prepare their returns themselves by closely following the instructions.

Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of Internal Revenue for Corpus Christi, said today that substantial savings will be realized if the form provided is used because fewer key-punch operators are necessary to process the return. "It also helps us utilize the full capacities for which the Automatic Data Processing system was designed," he said.

If your name or address has changed make the necessary corrections by striking lightly through the preprinted information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address.

Taxpayers should also verify that their correct Social Security number is entered on the return they file.

Hunter Fined $500 For Shooting Crane

An Arlington man was fined $500 Wednesday after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of killing a whooping crane, a federal offense.

John Harold Hamilton, 42, entered the plea before Federal Judge Woodrow Seals at Houston.

The whooping crane was shot Jan. 4 near the Aransas Wildlife Refuge. It was rushed to a veterinarian at San Antonio, but was dead on arrival there.

Hamilton said he and friends shot the whooping crane accidentally while hunting snow geese in the Gulf Coast area near the refuge.

Whooping cranes winter at the refuge and 44 were believed to have been there in the 1966-67 winter season.

Simplified Method For Claiming Medicare Benefits

By H. M. Cleveland
District Manager

When medicare first started on July 1, 1966, there were two ways for older people to get their doctor bills paid under the program. Under one method, the doctor agreed to claim the 80 per cent payment direct from medicare, by filling out a simple one-page application form. The other required that the beneficiary first pay the bill and then apply for the medicare payment.

During the first year and a half of medicare, about half of the claims for doctor bills were filed directly by the doctors. In the rest of the cases, the beneficiaries had to apply for reimbursement, after paying the bill.

Although the system worked well enough, it caused some hardship for those older people who had to borrow the money to pay the bill, or had to deprive themselves of necessities while waiting for the medicare payment to come in.

Congress has now eliminated the requirement that the bill be paid first, in cases where the doctor decides not to make the claim himself. Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, all the beneficiary needs is an itemized bill; it need not be a receipted bill as in the past. This applies also to bills for services before 1968 for which no claim has yet been filed.

The assignment-to-the-doctor method is still the simplest method for all concerned. It requires the use of only a single one-sheet claims form (Form SSA-1490, Request for Payment). No attachments or enclosures that might become separated from the claims form and delay a payment are required. Under this method, the doctor agrees to accept the "reasonable charge" determined by the carrier, as his full charge, and the basis of the 80 per cent payment made to him. The patient is responsible for the other 20 per cent, plus any part of the $50 annual deductible that might be remaining.

But even if the doctor declines to accept an assignment it is better to use the Form 1490 instead of his standard receipted bill in the case of medicare beneficiaries. Experience has shown that payments can be processed much faster when the form is used. All the doctor's office needs to do is complete Part II of the Form 1490. That will serve as the itemized bill which the patient can send in, to claim his payment. As before, medicare pays $4 out of every $5, after the first $50 medical bills in a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Allen and family of Sour Lake spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Blackwell and family.

Troop 431 and Troop 11

Troop 431 visited the United Savings Association building Monday afternoon. They were met at the door by Mr. Hiller and Mrs. Griftin. The friendly smiles that Mr. Hiller and Mrs. Griftin had for the girls made them welcome.

Mrs. Griftin told the girls how to fill out their school savings book. Then she told them how their money got back to the savings building, and what they did with the money, after it was open.

Mr. Hiller took the girls back to his office, and told them that it was there that he loaned money to people to build homes. That was how they get their interest on money saved.

Then Mr. Hiller showed where they let people hold meetings in the big back room. This is where Mrs. Griftin served the girls refreshments. There was Kool-Aid and two kinds of cookies. Mr. Hiller gave all the girls piggy banks and balloons. The girls wrote thank you notes to thank Mr. Hiller.

Troop 11 were to finish their aprons Wednesday. The winner will be in next week's paper.

I want to thank Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Ogle for helping us out with the trip for Troop 431.

PAWS AND TAWS—

building trades, and for the next eight months the members spent virtually all of their spare time working on the building which was formally opened July 10, 1965 with a big dance that attracted square dancers from all over South Texas from Houston to San Antonio to the Rio Grande and even a few hardy dancers from the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Paid attendance for this dance was 340.

For about a year and a half, members of the club operated a filling station across from the hall to help pay for the building. Other sources of revenue were rummage sales, Christmas cake and candy sales, fish fries, a variety show, and special dances with nationally known callers.

To give credit to all who helped make the building and the club a success would be almost impossible, but special credit must be given caller "Blackie" Hardy and his wife Athalia.

They have both worked hard and long in every activity of the club from helping run the station to driving nails in the construction of the building, and every other way possible.

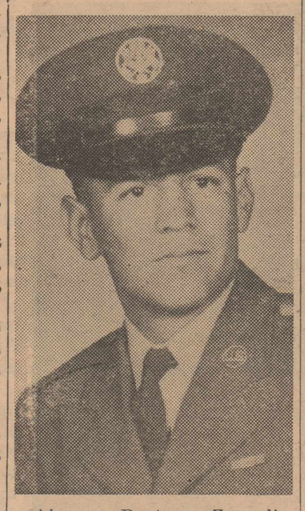

They liked our area and people so well that for the past two or three years they have been home-owning members of our community although still working in Corpus Christi.

Some of the members of the club who advanced funds to help get the building started are still going to have to be paid back, so the club is still not clear of debt, and other fund-raising activities will be necessary, but the big load is off, and the club feels it has a right to celebrate.

The regular Friday night dance with "Blackie" Hardy calling will be held this week, Feb. 23.

Wingspread of the Wistling Swan may reach 82 inches.

SHRIMP LANDINGS—

from 200-400 pounds per night. January white shrimp catches in adjacent waters were the poorest since 1963 with sporadic, spotted catches supplemented only by a short run of small whites off Sabine Pass.

Oyster landings amounted to about 33,000 barrels—9,000 barrels below landings in January 1967 and 14,000 barrels below January 1966. The Galveston Bay system accounted for 83 per cent of the total landings with the remainder from Coastal Bend bays. Fishermen received from $7 to $8 per Texas barrel for clean, picked oysters. Wholesalers received $8 to $9 per gallon at dockside for shucked meats.

Blue crab landings amounted to about 25,000 pounds in January compared with 68,000 pounds in January 1867. Finfish landings were likewise down due to weather conditions.

New trawl vessels entered the shrimp fishery at all major ports in the state during January. Most vessels were large steel hulls equipped for towing two 55 to 70-foot trawls and have conventional long range capabilities. The number of new vessels entering the fishery and pending completion by shipyards on the Gulf coast will equal or surpass the phenominal number of late 1965.

January 1968 was a somewhat disasterous month for trawl vessels and gear. Three vessels were detained by Mexican authorities for violation of the territorial water treaty. However, only one was fined, according to information reaching the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. Four vessels were lost at sea by various mishaps, and a tremendous amount of gear was lost or damaged working deep water off Texas and Louisiana.

You say you fell out of a tree and it'll be eight weeks before you're back in school?

Cheer up. Even Tarzan mis-times a leap now and then.

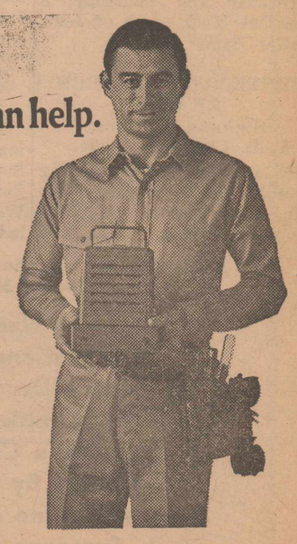

And don't give up on your school work. We've made it possible for many shut-in students to attend classes even though they're confined to bed. Our school-to-home service is the answer. It's a two-way communications system that lets the student speak and listen to anyone in the classroom.

It's helped many a bright youngster through some pretty gloomy confinements.

After all, we've had years and years of practice in developing phone arrangements for special problems. We offer phones for hard-of-hearing people, blind people, people who can't use their hands—phones so kids in bed can be in school.

We'll be glad to tackle your problem, too. Just call the telephone business office.

Maybe we can help.

JOHN KINSEY

Ever stop to think how fortunate the Rockport-Fulton-Lamar area is to have so many fine young people?

As I've mentioned before in this column, there just aren't any youths here who go round burning draft cards or protesting this, that and the other by means of picketing or sit-ins.

Nor do you see unwashed hippies wearing weird outfits, tossing flowers about and chanting "love" messages to the world. In fact, you seldom see a boy with hair so long he could be mistaken for a girl.

I don't mean to imply that all our young people are angels, but I do think that the great majority of them are fine boys and girls and young men and women.

To me, this means that parents, schools and churches are doing an outstanding job in raising the youths and guiding them along the right paths. The police, also, conduct programs of value to students.

All local churches have active youth programs which, in my opinion, contribute greatly to the proper development of young people.

Since my wife and I are members of First Presbyterian Church, we had the privilege Feb. 18 of attending the Assembly's Youth Sunday. Miss Jeannette Snyder was the leader; Miss Lynn Lang, the organist; and John P. Jackson was the speaker, whose subject was "Guideposts for Living." The choir featured young people and was directed by Mark Lang.

The entire service was outstanding. In fact, one hardly thought of the event as a youth service because of the maturity of the participants.

Jackson based his sermon on the Ten Commandments and he did an excellent job of applying them to everyday living.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENROLL FOR MEDICARE

Some people over age 65 did not sign up for the doctor-bill part of social security health insurance under medicare. According to H. M. Cleveland, district manager of the Social Security Administration in Corpus Christi, they now have another chance to enroll which they must do by April 1 for coverage to be effective July 1.

The monthly premium of $4 which is paid by the insured pays half the cost; the other half is paid by the government. Nation-wide nearly 18 million older people have collected nearly $1.3 billion towards their doctor bills under this health insurance system.

Information about medicare can be secured by anyone from the Social Security office, 1802 South Staples Street, Corpus Christi.

Draft Boards To Call Large Quota

State draft boards are being called upon in March to furnish the largest monthly quota of men for the armed forces in nearly two years, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Thursday.

Local board quotas for March, already mailed by state Selective Service headquarters, are designed to provide 1,948 men.

This is the largest monthly quota for the state since November, 1966, when the call was for 2,012 men. During the period of 17 months between these quotas, the low point was a call for 674 in February, 1967.

Local boards were called upon earlier to provide 1,165 men in February and 1,659 in January of this year.

Draft boards are also being called upon in March to send 4,200 men for the armed forces pre-induction physical and mental examinations to fill future calls.

This compares with 4,590 men being forwarded for this purpose in February. The quota for these examinations in January was 5,455.

The March induction quota of 1,948 for Texas is the state's share of a national call for 39,000 men, all for the Army.
