Winds Up To 97 mph

Blizzards Cripple Midwest

By The Associated Press

A record blizzard shut down parts of the Midwest with up to 18 inches of snow and drifts 9 feet deep in places today as freezing rain glazed highways in the East and Colorado winds gusted to 97 mph.

Avalanches trapped thousands of people in Utah and the Pacific Northwest, a tornado hit Arkansas, and roads flooded in Illinois.

The snow cover across Minnesota this morning ranged from 20 to 40 inches, with 12 to 18 inches falling during the night, and the wind chill factor in Iowa was as much as 70 degrees below zero.

Blizzard warnings were up in Minnesota, northern Iowa, northwestern Wisconsin and in the eastern Dakotas, where the weather service said travel was virtually impossible.

Snow and freezing rain fell over the middle Atlantic Coast into New England, where up to 10 inches of snow was expected.

Pennsylvania state police said an ice storm knocked down power lines in Erie and Crawford counties and all of the interstate highways were covered with snow or ice.

"Everything is solid ice," said trooper Frank Gressley in Erie. "People are sliding into the median strips on the interstates."

In Michigan, the winter storm stranded hundreds of travelers and icy roads made driving dangerous for the thousands of visitors pouring into the Detroit area for Sunday's Super Bowl football game. The airport at Detroit was closed for about an hour this morning because of icy runways.

A high wind warning was posted over the mountains and foothills of Colorado. During the night, winds gusted to 97 mph at Wondervu, west of Denver.

The National Weather Service said this winter has set yet another record by dumping so much snow that three-quarters of the surface of North America was covered with a white layer on Friday. That was more than ever before reported in the month of January.

And an official of the Federal Insurance Administration in Washington, D.C., warned that the deep snowpack could lead to serious spring floods.

One of nine avalanches in Utah's ski country Friday brushed a two-story employee-housing building, but caused no injuries or damages.

A tornado blasted a discount store in Hot Springs, Ark., Friday afternoon.

Associate Director At Diamond M Appointed

Janet R. Parker has been named associate director of the Diamond M Museum of Fine Arts, Dr. Don Newbury, president of Western Texas College, has announced.

Through agreement with the Diamond M Foundation, the college administers the Diamond M Museum. Sharon Sutton serves as director of the Scurry County Museum, located on the college campus, and of the Diamond M.

Mrs. Parker has been curator-registrar of the Presidential Museum in Odessa since October of 1980. There, she assisted the executive director with exhibit planning, membership, and plans for expansion into a larger facility in the summer of 1981 and also had various other duties.

JANET PARKER

She received the bachelor of arts degree from the University of New Mexico in 1974 and the master of fine arts degree from the University of Utah in June of 1980. She served as a gallery assistant at the University of New Mexico from 1974-1977. She later served as registrar for the Bureau of Conferences and Institutes of the university's division of continuing education.

Before moving to Odessa, Mrs. Parker had served as program assistant for the Utah Arts Council Visual Arts Program and Visual Arts Coordinator for the Salt Lake Council of the Arts.

"My position as visual arts coordinator for the Salt Lake City Council for the Arts provided what I feel is the most valuable programming experience of my career," Mrs. Parker said. "I came to the council when they had recently acquired a building which included three galleries and a basement studio area. My major responsibility was the development of an exhibit program. We put together a program with the intention of providing exhibits

College Enrolls 1,050 Students

Enrollment for the spring semester at Western Texas College had reached 1,050 at the end of the week, Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, reported.

Registration will continue through Jan. 29. Hood said more students are expected to enroll on the campus here and also at extension centers before registration closes.

Exchange Student Glad She Didn't Turn Back

By Shirley A. Gorman

Six months ago Monica Couto of Ribeirao, Preto, Sau Paulo, Brazil packed her bags, bid her family good bye, and boarded a jet for the United States. Since then she has been living in Snyder with Dorothy Wolfe and her daughter, Penny. Monica's stay here as an foreign exchange student was arranged through the local American Field Service chapter, a program Snyder has participated in for many years.

Monica is a senior at Snyder High School. Her American sister, Penny, is a junior. Even though the girls have different interests--Penny is into sports while Monica loves music, especially playing the piano--they have gotten along quite well, Mrs. Wolfe said.

Monica said she first became interested in becoming a foreign exchange student when she read an announcement on a bulletin board in her high school in Brazil.

"My mother always said she thought it would be a good thing for me to do," Monica said. "But my father never said one way or the other. I think he thought I would not be chosen."

But Monica was chosen. Even though she did not go to a European country as that was her first choice, she said she has really been enjoying living here.

Not being afraid to try new things and visit new places seems to be a strong trait in the Couto family as Monica's sister, who is a year younger, has just returned to Brazil after living a year in Japan. Her visit was arranged through a Rotary Club program.

English has been one of the major stumbling blocks Monica has had to overcome since coming to Snyder. In Brazil it is mandatory for students to learn a foreign language. She chose English, but found upon arriving here that communicating was not always easy.

"Everyone has been so kind though that I really haven't had that much trouble adjusting," Monica said.

Mrs. Wolfe also agreed that her Brazilian daughter has done a great job of adjusting.

Monica did admit though that when her family was taking her to the airport she had doubts about going through with the program. "I almost said it would be easier for everyone if I just stayed home, but I never said anything and I am glad I did not."

During the past few months, Monica has had a chance to learn about American life, particularly life in West Texas. She has noted similarities as well as differences. One similarity was the recent Christmas holiday which she said was like celebrations in Brazil. A difference is the high school program.

In Brazil students must study a wide variety of subjects and they do not

Suspect Arrested In Cheerleader Slayings

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A man was arrested early today in connection with the brutal stabbing death of a former high school cheerleader that police believe may be linked to sexual attacks on at least two other young women.

The suspect was arrested about 4:30 a.m. for investigation of murder, said Fort Worth police officer R.M. Sharp. "The man did give a statement," he added.

At least two other cheerleaders at Castleberry High School, in the suburb of River Oaks, have been threatened, police said.

The partially nude body of Retha Lee Stratton, 18, who graduated from the high school last year after spending three years as a cheerleader, was found Thursday in her bedroom closet.

She had been stabbed 38 times in the upper torso with a kitchen knife, according to an autopsy report. Tests to determine whether she was sexually assaulted have not been completed.

Miss Stratton's roommate, Amy King, told police she found blood on the wall and on a living room lamp when she returned to the duplex just before 6 p.m. Thursday. She said she ran next door to get her sister Jennifer and the two found Miss Stratton's body.

Police said they found no evidence of a struggle and no valuables were taken from the home.

Miss Stratton, who had worked as a computer terminal operator at Ralston Purina Co. since her graduation, may have known her killer, police said. But officers said they had no suspects.

Family friends said Miss Stratton was cautious because of recent threats and attacks on former Castleberry cheerleaders.

In early December, another former cheerleader and the sister of a former cheerleader were raped on consecutive nights in their parents' homes, police said.

In both cases, the rapist wore a ski mask and entered through an unlocked door between 10:30 and 11 p.m., said River Oaks Police Chief Walter Schertz. No fingerprints were found, he added.

Schertz said that while police had no suspects in either case, he had a "gut feeling it was someone who had been inside those homes at one time."

A 19-year-old Saginaw woman who recently graduated from Boswell High School was raped in early November in her parents' home by a man whose description matched that of the rapist, said Saginaw Police Chief Gene Springer.

He said the Saginaw assailant was described as being white, muscular, and 5-foot-9 or 5-foot-10. He also wore a ski mask.

All the rapist's victims, Springer said, have been "blond-headed and real shapely" and recent high school graduates.

Taxpayers Facing Deadline In Week

Taxpayers have only one more week to pay their property taxes without penalty and interest being added to the payment.

Eloise Morgan, Scurry County Tax Collector, said tax payments have been coming in steadily, but there always are some who wait until the last minute.

These should be aware that penalty and interest totalling seven percent will be added beginning Feb. 1, and if a taxpayer waits a whole year before paying, the penalty and interest zooms to 24 percent.

Some taxpayers have paid their taxes to agencies which allow discounts for early payments, but have elected to wait to pay the remainder. These should be aware that the taxes due other agencies must be paid this month to void the penalty and interest.

Scurry County, the Scurry County Junior College District and the public school districts of Hermleigh and Ira allow discounts for early payment of taxes. The City of Snyder and the Snyder School District do not allow discounts. Some owners of property in the city and-or the Snyder School District, paid the county and college district taxes early to get the discount, but elected to pay their city and Snyder School taxes later. The city and school taxes will be subject to the penalty and interest if they are not paid this month, Mrs. Morgan reminded.

Taxes for all agencies in Scurry County are now collected at the county tax office on the first floor of the courthouse.

Crash Cause Unknown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although all of the victims and most of the wreckage have been recovered, federal investigators say it will be some time before they can determine why an Air Florida jetliner crashed into the Potomac River, killing 78 people.

Military divers early today recovered the last body from the river, that of an infant believed to be 2-month-old Jason Tirado. The child's father was killed in the crash but his mother, Priscilla, was one of five survivors. On Friday, divers found the aircraft's second engine on the river bottom.

Francis McAdams, who is overseeing the investigation, said Friday that the National Transportation Safety Board has "a great deal of factual information" about the crash. But he said investigators still have to analyze what they have.

No Wallet Searches

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Police say they do not plan to begin searching wallets of drivers stopped for routine traffic offenses in San Antonio, despite a court ruling legalizing such searches.

In a 6-3 ruling earlier this week, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals said wallet searches of traffic violators are legal because they are "incident to a lawful arrest." However, one of the judges wrote a dissenting opinion contending such a search is unconstitutional.

Deputy Police Chief Frank Hoyack, in charge of administration, said it had never been the department's policy to conduct wallet searches and there would be no new attempt to do so despite the court ruling.

Bomb Charges Filed

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Felony charges will be filed against at least one of six Texas Christian University students suspected of planting a bomb at a campus fraternity house, police say.

Second-degree felony charges for possessing, transporting and placing a prohibited weapon will be filed next week against some or all six of the students, arson squad Capt. W.E. Dunkin said Friday.

Fire department investigator H.B. Owens said the prime suspect was a student who had been expelled from the fraternity earlier this school year.

If convicted, the students could receive maximum penalties of 20 years in prison and $10,000 fines.

A grapevine report out of Houston is that the big hassle over the football coach at Texas A&M may become a significant factor in this year's political campaign.

The word is that the powerful Houston Aggie Club, which openly opposed the firing of Tom Wilson as football coach, has some members who have threatened to withdraw their support of Gov. Bill Clements, not only in campaigning but in financing as well. These are well-heeled individuals, the report goes, who chipped in with considerable generosity in the governor's previous campaign.

It seems that they felt that Clements could have called off H. R. "Bum" Bright, the board chairman who engineered the football deal, and some of them even contacted the governor and urged him to step in, but to no avail.

Anyway, they say Houston Aggies are maddest of all about the treatment of Tom Wilson.

Word that Scurry County is going to get a portion of the big cheese giveaway came as a surprise to most folks around here.

With 10,000 pounds of cheese reported to be on the way for four counties, you only have to stop briefly by the refrigerated foods section in the grocery store to get an idea of how valuable this is on today's market.

The mystery is, how come there is so much "surplus" cheese in storage when prices for it are so high in the stores? The answer, of course, involves artificial price levels provided by subsidies.

There's been a trend for some time, of course, to get as much from Uncle Sam as possible. But we read the other day that scientsts now have concluded that this is really against nature. They proved it the same way they determine which foods are likely to cause various diseases—they used white rats.

Working with laboratory rodents, the scientists offered them the alternative of free food in a dish, or food obtained by pressing a lever.

The rats were so enthusiastic about "earning" their food that they learned to push the dishes of free food aside so that they could reach the lever.

However, the researchers learned that you can overdo it. When the scientists increased to 10 the number of times they had to press a lever to get a portion of food, the rats decided it was too much and went to the free food dish.

IN MUSEUM EXHIBIT—This painting, "Red Vase and Yellow Tulips," will be seen in the Works by Women exhibit in the Scurry County Museum in February. The artist, Janet Fish, is well known for her large-scale studies of light reflections on glass. A native Bostonian, Ms. Fish is an alumnus of the Yale School of Art, Smith College, and Skowhegan Art School.

Works By Women Art Exhibit To Show In Scurry Museum

Art portraying the feminine attitude and showing the strength of women artists in America was selected for the Works by Women collection to be seen in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College from Feb. 2-28.

The collection is on loan from the Gihon Foundation of Dallas, and consists of 15 artworks by 13 artists who present a wide range of media and subject matter through which they express their breadth of perception and depth of feeling.

Included are works by such established artists as Georgia O'Keefe, Helen Frankenthaler and Nancy Graves as well as works by emerging artists from the southwestern region, such as Nancy Chambers and Gael Stack.

"Georgia O'Keefe is the best known woman artist in the United States," said Sharon Sutton, museum director. Born in Sun Prairie, Wis., in 1887, the artist now lives in Taos, N. M. She was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Letters in 1962.

Helen Frankenthaler, born in New York in 1928, is now recognized as one of the most important painters in America. One of her paintings was shown in the Scurry County Museum in the abstract expressionist exhibit from the Sarah Campbell Blaffer Foundation.

It is interesting to note the number of women from the Southwest whose paintings are included in the Works by Women collection. These include Nancy Chambers, born in Midland in 1952; Dorothy Wood, born in Bryan in 1919; and Mary McCleary, born in Houston in 1951. Gael Stack's pastels and paintings are exhibited in the Meredith Long Gallery in Houston.

The Gihon Foundation is one of two private, non-profit foundations established by Bette C. Graham, the inventor of Liquid Paper correction fluid. It is named for the Gihon River mentioned in Genesis 2:10-14, which has been said to symbolize the rights of women acknowledged.

The Gihon Foundation was established in 1978 to develop programs to benefit women, and is currently focusing on women in the arts. The Works by Women collection will be sent to 15 museums in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana on its current tour.

Past Gihon Foundation programs have focused on innovative approaches to helping homemakers have a higher sense of worth, to improving child care in Dallas, and to assisting the upward mobility of women in management.

A preview showing of the new exhibit for members of the Scurry County Museum Association is scheduled Feb. 1. Membership in the association is open the year around and memberships can be paid at amy time. Persons interested in becoming members are invited to call the museum office at 573-6107.

Officers Go Via Window

NEW YORK (AP) — Five police officers crawled through a second-floor window in the fancy former home of the late entertainer Al Jolson and arrested 14 people for gambling, police say.

The entrances to the house, which had become a mob-connected casino, were padlocked or guarded, forcing the window entry early Wednesday, police said.

"They were shocked when we came in. They never expected anyone to come in that way," Lt. Howard Kornbrekke said of the raid.

Officers seized an estimated $6,700 and gaming tables from the casino, which had a $100,000 weekly take, officials said. They said the casino area was in a large living room with a portrait of Jolson, who died in 1950, hanging over the mantle.

Publisher Is Honored

DALLAS (AP) — Most folks know what the news is before they read a newspaper, says veteran Texas publisher Afton Richards.

They read the paper because "they just want to see if you got it right," he said.

Richards, publisher of four West Texas weekly newspapers, was honored Friday by the Texas Press Association for 50 years of service to Texas newspapers.

Richards publishes the Ralls Banner, Jayton Chronicle, Lorenzo Leader and Aspermont News and previously ran papers in Meadow, Ropesville and Anton.

Richards started his career with the Anton News, then owned by his father. He is known for his strong editorial stands which sometimes go against the grain in the community.

"One of my pet peeves goes back to what we called an old English law," he says. "This is the idea that 'they who rule, should do so with clean hands.'

Prison Cells Must Be Booked

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Garfield County Sheriff Jack McNeill says there's little space in jails on Colorado's booming Western Slope, and the cells are booked up before the outlaws can be booked.

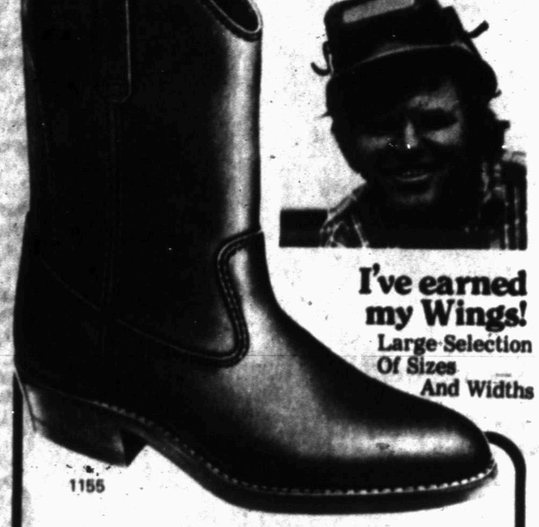

"It's like a motel," said McNeil. "You have to have a reservation."

On a Friday night a couple months ago, he says, he "called every jail in the state before I finally found one with space."

The average wait from the time a person is sentenced until space is available is six weeks, he said. Sheriff's officers in Garfield County towns, which are growing because of the oil shale boom, routinely take inmates to jails in Aspen, Leadville, Salida, Grand Junction and even Denver.

On Dec. 31 in response to a class-action suit, U.S. District Judge Richard Matsch in Denver gave the county 30 days to reduce the number of inmates and improve conditions at the jail, or face federal investigation.

On Snyder High Stage...

'My Fair Lady' Opens Here Thursday Night

"My Fair Lady," the hit Broadway and screen musical, will open a three-night run Thursday evening on the Snyder High School stage.

Produced by the school's Fine Arts Department, the show is under the direction of Drama Director Jerry Worsham and Choral Music Director Bill Lyon.

In addition to Thursday's performance, the show will play Saturday, Jan. 30, and Monday, Feb. 1. Curtain time for all performances is 7:30 p. m. Both reserved seat and general admission tickets are available.

Cast in the title role of Higgins will be veteran senior performer Jack O'Banion who was last year's outstanding actor at the state drama meet. Playing opposite him in the female lead will be Ramona Murphy, a junior choir and drama student. Other leading roles will be taken by Jennifer Cole, Kim Lunsford, Robert Loveless, Clint Potts and Robyn Harlin, seniors. Juniors cast in leading roles include Calvin Wimmer as Dr. Doolittle and Mark Lyon as Freddy.

The show is based on George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" and was a big hit on Broadway and in the movies. Set in London around 1915, the show concerns itself with a flower girl who is transformed into a "duchess" by the improvement of her speech and her manners.

She falls in love with her "teacher" and therein lies one of the subtle plot lines in the show. The contrast between British upper and lower classes and the emphasis which the English have always put on "being proper" is played up big in one of the smashing production numbers in the show.

The show is a "costume piece" calling for literally hundreds of costumes...including those of the Cockney lower class, the ball gowns of the upper class, and the outlandish frocks and gowns which appear at the Ascot Race Track scene.

Such memorable songs as "I Could Have Danced all Night," "I'm Getting Married in the Morning," and "On the Street Where You Live" are part of the musical score created for the show by the writing team of Lerner and Doewe.

Some scenic pieces for the show will be coming from the Peter Wolfe Concepts Studios in Dallas. However, since theatrical scenery prices have literally gone "out of sight," according to Stage Director Worsham, more of this year's show will be designed and created at the workshop of Snyder High School's Drama Department than in previous musicals.

Martha Fagin has served as reshearsal pianist for the show, assisted by Jacquelyn Pylant. Both of them will be part of the pit orchestra which will accompany the show. Members of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra will provide the string section for the local orchestra.

Janet Wesson, SHS counselor, will be the box office manager for the show. Tickets may be reserved by calling the high school at 573-6301, or the counselors' office at 573-0132. Reserved seats are priced at $5 each and general admission tickets are $2.50 each.

Sr. Citizens To See Play Scenes

Scenes from the Snyder High School production of "My Fair Lady" will be presented at the Senior Center on Wednesday.

The preview will begin at 11:30 a. m. in the dining room as senior citizens gather for lunch. The students will be directed by Jerry Worsham.

On Tuesday, Snyder High School Band Director Sam Robertson will show filmed highlights of the marching season at 11:30 a. m.

The Senior Center invites all county residents 60 years of age and older to participate in its activities. The center is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. each weekday and has a special activities program each Thursday night. A covered dish supper precedes the games on the first Thursday of each month.

Senior citizens bowl at Snyder Lanes at 9:15 on Wednesday mornings and meet for square dancing on Monday nights. The Sunshine Choir holds rehearsals at 1 p. m. on Fridays and the Kitchen Band practices at 9 a. m. on Mondays. New members are invited to join either group.

Fatally Ill Are Avoided By Doctors

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A quarter of the doctors in Texas try to avoid all contact with the fatally ill, says a survey by three University of Texas professors.

The survey's findings, published in this month's edition of Texas Medicine magazine, also says about half of the state's doctors try to avoid telling patients they are dying.

"Although 78 percent of the respondents agreed that it is esential that a dying patient be told of his progress, 47 percent stated that they try to avoid telling a patient directly that he is dying, and 27 percent admitted that they avoid a person who is dying," said the survey, to which about a third of the 9,000-member Texas Medical Association responded.

Fake Mine Scheme Bilks Investors

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors in a bogus coal-mine operation were bilked of more than $8 million, and six people have been arrested in the scheme, officials say.

District Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau of Manhattan and officials in Kentucky and Alabama say up to 400 people may have been brought into the mine-investment scheme. Each may have been seeking the legal quadruple tax deduction for investing in an energy venture.

The six arrested Wednesday were charged with fraud, conspiracy and grand larceny.

West Texas State Promotes 4

The year 1981 was considered a good one, stockholders of West Texas State Bank were told at their annual meeting.

Martin Brooks, president of the bank, reported that deposits reached an all-time high the past year, exceeding $55 million for the first time in the bank's history.

Although high rates of interest the bank had to pay for money kept it from setting any earning records, Brooks said it still was considered a good earning year.

All directors were re-elected, and in the directors meeting, all officers were re-elected and four promotions were approved.

Shirley Miller was promoted from assistant cashier to assistant vice president. She is in charge of the note department and has been associated with the bank 23 years.

Three assistant cashiers were named. They are Rosemary Kohl, who has been with the bank 20 years, serving as collateral clerk and note teller; Betty Atkinson, a 15-year employee, serving as a note teller in the loan department; and Betty Lou Fleming, assistant head bookkeeper, who has been with the bank five years.

Termites Eat Cathedral Ceiling

MONREALE, Sicily (AP) — Scientists are battling termites which have eaten away almost the entire ceiling of the magnificent 12th-century Norman cathedral of Monreale.

But their task is complicated because they cannot use insecticides for fear of discoloring frescoes in the church, considered an architectural wonder of the Middle Ages.

And there are signs that termites are also attacking other historical treasures in Sicily, including Palermo's Palatine Chapel, known for its rich Arab-Norman decoration and honeycomb-like wooden ceiling, and the cathedral in Cefalu east of Palermo.

"There's no scientific explanation why the whole roof didn't collapse years ago," said Professor Giovanni Lotta, an insect specialist at the University of Palermo who is directing the restoration work at Monreale.

He said only hollow and rotten wooden beams were supporting tons of brick tiles on the roof when the damage was discovered in 1977.

Lotta said termites fear light and as a result, there was no damage in any exposed wood. "Nobody suspected a termite attack until parts of the roof over the main apse sank about 8 inches, because the insects ate only the interior, just like leaving cans after emptying their content," Lotta said.

Openinue in various places to bring in light and reduce the humidity to a level that would prevent them from breeding.

"The job would have been relatively easy if we used insecticides — chemical solvents or sprays — but to do so would have discolored the frescoes and damaged other works of art," Lotta said in an interview.

The cathedral's inside and outside walls are limestone and marble. The termites travelled to the wooden ceiling, restored after a fire in 1ug on barley and wheat straws used to mix the plaster to attach the; 'lotta said.

"By conventional wisdom, all the mosaics should have disintegrated into pieces," he said.

The cathedral, located just outside of Palermo, is famous for its vast 12th century mosaics representing the complete cycle of the Old and New Testaments and a gigantic.ng.

Soon after the damage was discovered, new support beams were inserted and transparent nylon safety nets were hung below the ceiling. But the ant;'ite operation and restoration did not begin until late 1979 when Lotta finished the study on the termites.

All the beams and panels over the side naves also have been replaced, and a network of ventilation ducts has been installed.

The work, which took nearly two years, cost more than $350,000. To finish the work in the central nave will require an additional $1.2 million, but the regional parliament has not appropriated the money and the work has stopped.

Lotta was confident the new measures would repulse any further termite attack, but he said a city sewage pipe that skirts the cathedral must be rerouted "to prevent another type of termite from approaching the cathedral."

Insurance FACTS

by Tom Deffebach

While there is no escaping the fact that insurance seems to be a major expense, it is, of course, an investment with a measurable return in the event of a catastrophe. However, the cost can sometimes be reduced. Many people assume that there is little difference between one company's rate and another's. This is a costly misconception as studies have proven time and time again. Your insurance professional will shop around and compare premiums and coverage packages. There may be some differences that will surprise you. Determine which coverages are included in each insurance package and what the relative cost of each will be before making your insurance decisions.

Part of our business is to find the best insurance coverage, at the least cost, for each of our clients. The next time you want insurance come in, tell us your needs, and our professionals at THE DEFFEBACH AGENCY, College Heights Shopping Center, 3201 College Avenue, 573-5611 will take care of the rest. ## Truck Hit On Highway

Snyder police officers investigated one minor hit and run traffic mishap around 10:30 p.m. Friday.

A 1979 Peterbuilt tractor-trailer rig driven by Fred King of Rt. 2, Snyder was struck by another vehicle while both were travelling north on U. S. 84 near the College Avenue intersection.

The vehicle which struck King's truck was last seen travelling toward Post on U. S. 84. Only minor damages were reported to the King vehicle.

Local officers responded to a disturbance call in the 2000 block of Avenue K around 3 a.m. Saturday. When they arrived at the scene, they arrested three male subjects on charges of public intoxication.

In other routine action, police made nine arrests for public intoxication and two for DWI Friday evening.

Club Owner Files Suit

Pat Smith, owner of the Club 250 in Snyder, has filed suit in 132nd District Court against Don Light, owner of Jaxon's.

According to information in Smith' petition, Light, a former owner of the Club 250, has violated provisions of the sales contract he signed when he sold the 250 to Smith in October of 1978.

According to Smith's charges, Light agreed not to enter into the private club business in Snyder after he sold the Club 250. Light's involvement with Jaxon's, a new club in the 200 block of 25th St., constitutes a violation of their previous agreement according to Smith.

Smith is seeking a permanent injunction to prevent Light from operating the new club. District Judge Wayland Holt has scheduled a hearing on Smith's motion for a temporary injunction for 10 a.m. Jan. 27.

attend the same class schedule every day. Students usually attend classes from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. with the rest of the afternoon to be spent as they wish. Teachers are available at school in the afternoon for students who wish to return.

"I like to go back in the afternoon because I like to discuss with the teachers the things we studied in the morning," Monica explained. But sometimes she would do things with her mother, like attend a movie.

Monica also explained that electives such as drivers education, homemaking, typing etc. are not taught as the regular school curriculum but rather must be studied outside of regular classes.

Some teachers in Brazil are also very strict and will not allow students to come tardy to class.

In Brazil, Monica said, her whole family--mom, dad, sister, brother--would gather daily for the noon meal. Dinner is served late in the evening--between 8-9 p.m.--and the rest of the evening is spent relaxing.

There are also basic differences in television programming in Brazil. For about three hours every evening serials are shown which reflect the lives and politics of the people of that country. Similar to the "Dallas" craze, everyone in Brazil keeps up with the serials, Monica said.

Monica has not noted that many differences as far as food is concerned but she did eat her first baked potato here. The one difference though is that while Brazillians eat many of the same foods we do they also add rice and beans to every meal.

While it wasn't easy for Monica to decide to live in another country for a year, she said one of the greatest benefits is that "I am getting to know how other people live." Once in a while Monica does feel a bit homesick and she said she does miss her family, friends and even some places she had known in Brazil. That fact has surprised her somewhat since she did not expect to miss places.

Monica lives in a mountainous area in Brazil, but since they are not very high up she had never experienced snow before coming to Snyder. First over the holidays the Wolfe family travelled to Ruidoso and then the first snow of the new year fell in Snyder the second week in January.

Monica will return to Brazil in July. She plans to attend college but is not sure of her major. She said she is interested in people, communication, and social sciences.

"It is fun having Monica here," Mrs. Wolfe said. "Once we had a girl from Mexico City lived with us for a while and we have travelled in other countries. We enjoy learning about other customs."

Mrs. Wolfe, who was widowed five years ago, said she does regret that Monica won't be able to see what it is like to live with a family that has a father.

Mrs. Wolfe said that if anything "bugs" Monica about living here it would have to be the rush, rush, rush attitude which she (Mrs. Wolfe) has.

"Monica is a more relaxed person. But she adjusts very well. She just sets her alarm earlier so that she has time to get ready at her own pace."

for the galleries at minimal cost to the council while providing space for artists to have one or two-man shows and space for other visual arts activities. Studio space, for instance, was used for special projects and for open life drawing sessions.

"The building was also available for use by small performing arts organizations and a poetry group. I was actively involved in the development of policies and procedures for this use and in scheduling of the many events that were held, including a series of summer mini-festivals in the adjoining city park."

Mrs. Parker is a member of the Permian Basin Museum Institute, the Texas Association of Museums, the New Mexico Association of Museums, the Western Association of Art Museums, and the American Association of Museums.

She will assume her duties at the Diamond M Museum on Feb. 15, but will be in Snyder to become better acquainted with the Diamond M Museum and its programs at various times before that date.

Auditions For 'Fiddler' Set

Open auditions for the April production of "Fiddler of the Roof" at Western Texas College will be held at 7 0'clock Monday night in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Actors, singers and dancers are needed, Jim Rambo, director said. An accompanist will be provided for vocalists.

Rehearsals for the musical will begin March 8, with production dates set for April 22-27.

Persons desiring additional information about "Fiddler on the Roof" are invited to contact Rambo or call his office at 573-8511, extension 233.

Neighbor Convicted Of Sicking Dog On Child

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A bitter, "absolutely absurd" neighborhood feud has led to the conviction of a high-school vice principal for sicking his 40-pound dog on his neighbors' 6-year-old daughter.

Charles Moxon, 49, was found guilty Friday in Alameda County Superior Court of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm to Michelle Chrisman.

He could receive a prison term of four years when he is sentenced March 10.

Trial testimony included accounts of how the Chrisman children hurled rocks at the Moxon dogs and how one of Moxon's sons, Eric, threw tomatoes at the Chrisman ponies when they strayed on the Moxon property.

"I'm very happy with the verdict," said Pam Chrisman, Michelle's mother. "I certainly hope things will calm down now. I can't remember the last time I talked" to Moxon.

Breaking into sobs on the telephone, Moxon said: "We're shocked by the verdict. I just don't understand it....I didn't do it."

Mrs. Chrisman said Michelle, now 7, still has physical scars and emotional problems from the attack by Tramp, Moxon's dog, in October 1980.

A civil suit against Moxon in the dog attack is still pending, Mrs. Chrisman said.

The unneighborly saga began with a dispute over a road leading to the Moxon and Chrisman residences in Pleasanton, a city in the rolling hills about 30 miles east of San Francisco.

Mrs. Chrisman testified that Moxon hollered, "Attack, attack, sic 'em," when he unleashed Tramp as Michelle approached her pony which had strayed on Moxon's property. Michelle said Moxon laughed as the dog chewed into her face, neck and legs, which required 16 stitches.

Moxon contended that the dog pulled loose from its leash. He also said the two Chrisman boys had tormented the dog in the past. He denied laughing.

Mrs. Chrisman also testified that one of her ducks was nearly strangled when she tried to grab it back from Eric Moxon, 17.

The three Chrisman children sometimes shouted, "Moxon, Moxon, you're a dachshund," according to other testimony.

"It is absolutely absurd for adult families to behave this way," said Judge Dawn Girard after listening to testimony and acid comments members of the families made when out of earshot of the jury.

In 1976, the families went to court to decide how to divide the cost of spreading gravel on a common access road. When Moxon put a locked gate on the road, he allegedly refused to give the Chrismans a key. They retaliated, Moxon said, by unhinging the gate "40 to 50 times."

Tourists May Be Dismayed

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Those tourists who have walked through the one-story home in Franklin that is touted as Daniel Webster's birthplace may be dismayed by a historian who says the building probably wasn't erected until Webster was 12 years old.

In fact, James Garvin says, it's likely the house Webster was born in had been torn down by the time he died and the building that tourists see was once a kitchen to a home not connected with Webster at all.

Today is the 200th birthday of New Hampshire's most famous native son.

Webster was educated in New Hampshire and taught school in the state. Eventually he became a lawyer, New Hampshire congressman, Massachusetts senator and secretary of state to three presidents.

The building described as Webster's birthplace probably was a kitchen, rebuilt in 1913 and based on a romanticized-but-inaccurate drawing published in 1851, said Garvin, curator of the New Hampshire Historical Society.

Hearing Is Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The opening hearing of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee considering the Voting Rights Act is being postponed because the Reagan administration has not decided its position on extending key provisions of the law.

Continued Decline Of Inflation Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barring unforeseen disasters, the nation's inflation rate, at its lowest level since 1977, should continue declining this year, economists say.

The amount of decline, by many accounts, depends in large part on wage negotiations already under way or set to begin soon. If contracts negotiated this year contain only modest wage increases, it appears that inflation could be lower for several years to come, analysts say.

Negotiations this year are unusually important in their effects on future labor costs because several contracts covering or influencing big industries are up for renewals that will last several years.

Economists said unforseen disasters, such as a huge crop failure or a major interruption in oil imports, also could result in higher inflation.

The Labor Department reported Friday that its Consumer Price Index rose 8.9 percent last year, the lowest rate since 1977.

By historical standards, last year's rate was still high — in fact, the fifth highest since the late 1940s. But it was significantly down from the 12.4 percent of 1980.

Inflation had risen 9 percent in 1978 and 13.3 percent in 1979 before starting to ease in 1980.

Nearly everything the government measures cost more in 1981, but none of the major categories except medical care went up as much as in 1980, the new report said. Medical care costs climbed 12.5 percent, the highest since 1947, compared with the 10 percent rise in 1980.

The main reasons for the decline in inflation were the recession, big U.S. food harvests, and "a steady supply of oil imports coupled with conservation at home, the department said.

"It wasn't just luck on oil and food; it was very much the result of the stagnant economy that brought the prices down," said Allen Sinai, a vice president with the private Massachusetts firm, Data Resources Inc.

Like many other economists, Sinai sees reason to expect even lower inflation this year, especially if workers refrain from big new wage demands and thereby hold down the labor portion of the cost of many goods.

Last year, according to the new CPI report:

—Food prices rose 4.3 percent, less than half the 10.1 percent gain of 1980.

—Housing costs, pushed upward by high home mortgage rates but held down by stable house prices and smaller increases in heating costs, rose 10.2 percent, down from 13.7 percent the year before.

—Transportation costs, helped by much smaller fuel price increases, rose 11 percent, down from 14.7 percent.

—Entertainment prices increased 7.2 percent, down from 9.6 percent, and clothing costs rose just 3.6 percent, down from 6.8 percent.

The new report said overall consumer prices rose 0.4 percent in December — an annual rate of 5.2 percent.

The monthly figure was adjusted for normal seasonal variations in pricing. The yearly figures were measured from December 1980 to December 1981.

Three Charged With Smuggling

MIAMI (AP) — Three men have been charged with trying to smuggle six Haitian refugees into the United States after a 24-foot pleasure boat landed near the Bay Vista campus of Florida International University.

The boat left Bimini for Florida late Wednesday and the Haitians were required to pay $400 to $450 apiece for the trip, according to Gary Hatmaker, a criminal investigator for the Border Patrol.

The Haitians were taken to a detention center for processing after being picked up Thursday.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago, a 19-year-old college boy, signed "Never Been Kissed," was embarrassed because of his lack of experience with the opposite sex. He was a virgin and getting close to a sexual relationship with his girlfriend and didn't know how to handle it. You advised him to act as though he knew what he was doing, follow his natural instincts and bluff his way through.

Would you give the same advice to a man more than twice his age with the same problem? I am 40, normal and healthy in all respects, reasonably attractive and I am still a virgin. How do you suggest I handle a social situation with a woman in my age bracket who is sexually experienced and probably assumes that I am too?

This is no joke, Abby. Believe me, I wish it were.

NEVER BEEN KISSED OR ANYTHING ELSE

DEAR NEVER: I wouldn't advise a 40-year-old male virgin to bluff his way with a sexually sophisticated woman.

If you are "healthy, normal and reasonably attractive" and desirous of a sexual relationship, I am wondering why you are still totally inexperienced. If you don't know either, you should see a competent sex therapist.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since reading the letter from "Longtime Pastor" regarding his refusal to allow an "obviously pregnant bride" to have "I'm Having His Baby" sung at her wedding, I have been on a slow simmer. He states, "I think it makes a mockery of the sacred vows when people say 'I do' after they have already done it."

I would like to ask the "Longtime Pastor" why he allowed an "obviously pregnant bride" to have anything but a very private, family-only wedding ceremony, sans soloist, fanfare, etc. I believe that anything else makes a mockery of the scared vows and that it is the responsibility of not-so-open-minded pastors to maintain sacred standards for the sacred ceremonies they perform in their churches.

Thanks, Abby, I feel better. Sign me,

LUTHERAN MOTHER OF FOUR DAUGHTERS

DEAR MOTHER: A pregnant bride is also entitled to a church wedding with a "soloist, fanfare, etc.," if that's what she wants. It is not the pastor's function to judge her. That's the Lord's job.

DEAR ABBY: When my nephew graduated from high school last June, I sent him a check for $100. Not too shabby for an uncle on a fixed and somewhat limited income. I have yet to receive an acknowledgment of my gift. The lad is now away at college.

I saw the father of this nephew recently, and I asked if his son ever received my graduation gift. The father said, "Yes, didn't you hear from him?" I told him I had not, whereupon he just shrugged his shoulders and replied, "Well, you know how kids are!"

Abby, I'm not sure I know "how kids are." Maybe you can tell me.

UNENLIGHTENED UNCLE

DEAR UNCLE: Some kids are well-mannered, appreciative and prompt with their thank-yous. Other are ill-mannered, unappreciative, lazy and procrastinating. Your nephew obviously belongs to the latter group.

Ector Wins, 89-61...

Fleet Eagles Stun Tigers

ODESSA -- Ricky Pierce, Charles Ricks and Tony Gamble showed Snyder why the Ector Eagles were preseason favorites to win the District 2-AAAA crown here Friday night.

The trio combined for 72 points as Ector topped the Tigers 89-61.

The loss drops Snyder to 0-1 in round-two district play. Ector is 1-0.

"They out-rebounded us. We had 29 turnovers. Their press killed us. And they had an excellent shooting night outside," panned Coach Larry Scott. "We didn't play that bad offensively, but they were about 10 times quicker than we were. It (Ector) looked like two different teams," he said, referring to the first time the two played in Snyder.

"They shot 23 percent the first half and about 35 percent for the game at Snyder," he said. "And they probably shot at least 50 percent here. They got to running and gunning and that's what we couldn't let them do. They were getting a lot of their points off of their press and they were beating us back down the court on offense," he added.

"I'm sure we were down after getting beat by Andrews (on Tuesday) but now it's going to be even tougher going to Lamesa (Jan. 26). We're still in it (the district race). Andrews has to play Ector at Ector and us in Snyder," he noted.

Snyder kept up with the fleet Eagle squadron 16-16 through the first eight minutes, but Ector began to get its offense going in the second quarter. Ricks, Pierce and Gamble led the way offensively as Ector put up 26 points in the period to take a 42-30 halftime lead.

The Eagles outscored Snyder 17-9 in the third quarter, then sacked up the victory with a 30-21 fourth period effort.

Pierce led all scorers with 30 points, while Ricks had 25 and Gamble scored 17. The victory brought the slow-starting Eagles to 12-11 for the season. Ector was 6-2 in first round play.

Snyder was paced by 18 points from James Caldwell and D.W. Lofton. Riley Kitchens scored 6, while Brad Robertson, David Rios, John Wilson and Curtis Gafford pitched in 4 apiece.

In other action here Friday, Ector junior varsity nipped Snyder's Cats 67-63.

Snyder held a 19-12 first-quarter led, but it was trimmed to 34-31 by halftime and Ector won the third and fourth by a combined score of 36-29.

Don Johnson, Whit Parks and David Miller landed in double-digits for the Cats with 19, 18 and 14 points respectively.

Felines Rip Eaglettes In Only Three Periods

Coach Ken Housden's varsity Felines came to play Friday night. Ector didn't.

Snyder ripped out a 29-7 first-quarter lead here and kept it, well, almost all the way, enroute to a 59-24 conference victory over the Eaglettes. The game was halted with about two minutes still remaining in the third period because Ector only had three girls remaining on the floor. One of those was slightly injured.

"Ector wasn't ready to play and we were," said Housden. "It was a combination of those two things."

Snyder, 9-11, will take on Lamesa in Snyder Gym at 8 p.m. Tuesday. A JV game will be held at 6:15.

Michelle Townsel and Pam Perceval led the way offensively as Snyder's 29-7 lead grew to a 47-14 halftime advantage. The Felines then plugged Ector 12-10 over the next six minutes until the Eaglettes had only three girls on the court.

Four of the visitors fouled out of the game. One Feline, Tonya Mitchell, was whistled to the bench also.

Townsel sacked up 22 points, while Perceval notched 16 and had 12 rebounds. LaDonna Halford contributed 6 points, while Tammy Merritt had 5 and Mitchell and Carmen Rios had 4 apiece.

Melody Carter was the only Eaglette player to land in double figures. She had 19 for the game.

The victory puts Snyder at 2-1 in District 2-AAAA girls play. Ector falls to 1-1.

In other action played here Friday, Snyder junior varsity won 43-32 over the Eaglettes.

Carie Housden and Penny Wolfe put up 10 points apiece for the hosts, while Becky Gray added 8.

Snyder fell behind 10-6 in the first eight minutes, but retaliated for a 14-13 halftime lead. The Cats then outscored Ector 11-6 in the third period and 18-13 in the fourth for the victory.

Snyder JV is now 6-7.

Sherrill Compiling Top Coaching Staff At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - If success breeds success, the Texas Aggies ought to be contending for a Top 20 finish in college football next year.

New A&M coach Jackie Sherrill announced the names of eight of his assistant coaches Friday, and six of them are from colleges that finished in the final Top 20 football poll.

"The only position still open is that of offensive line coach," said Sherrill, who left the University of Pittsburgh on Tuesday to become Aggie football coach and athletic director. In five years with the Panthers, Sherrill's teams won 50 games, lost nine and tied one.

Sherrill said Curley Hallman will come to A&M from national champion Clemson to coach the defensive secondary.

Two assistants from Sherrill's Pittsburgh staff will join him at A&M, he said - tight end coach George Pugh and defensive line coach Bob Matey. The Panthers finished No. 6 in the final Top 20.

Sherrill hired Jim Helms to coach the running backs. Helms was at No. 5 Southern Methodist.

In addition, Sherrill said, Jerry Pettibone will leave No. 11 Nebraska to coach the Aggie receivers and R.C. Slocum is departing No. 14 Southern Cal to be Sherrill's defensive coordinator and linebacker coach.

Others joining Sherrill's staff will be defensive end coach Bobby Roper from Oregon State and quarterback coach Greg Davis, a holdover from the A&M staff.

Sherill also said Aggie assistants Paul Register and Dan LaGrasta will remain at A&M through recruiting before a final decision is made.

Idaho Vandals Whip Montana State, 49-38

by The Associated Press

Whether speeding it up or slowing it down, the Idaho Vandals are a tough team to keep up with this year.

Friday night was slowdown time.

"I'm sure there was not as much offense as people would like, but on the road it was a good win," said Idaho Coach Don Monson after a relatively low-scoring 49-38 victory over Montana State. "You don't win 16 games by playing racehorse every time or by playing patient every game."

Commenting on the low-key victory, Monson said, "We just wanted to take some time off the clock." He also said the delay had the effect of "letting MSU know the Vandals were controlling the game."

The victory, incidentally, improved the eighth-ranked Vandals' record to a nifty 16-0. Along with Missouri and Texas, they are one of only three Division I college basketball teams left undefeated in the country.

Although he wasn't the high scorer, Phil Hopson keyed the Idaho drive in the second half with nine of his 13 points and scored the go-ahead basket with 16:57 to play - putting Idaho up 25-24. He also figured in Idaho's burst midway through the second half that allowed the Vandals to move to a 37-30 lead that was never threatened.

Kelvin Smith, one of the bright new additions on what many consider the best Idaho team in history, led the Vandals with 14 points. John Maclin had 15 points for Montana State in the Big Sky game.

In other action involving the nation's ranked teams Friday night, 11th-ranked San Francisco defeated Gonzaga 80-65 and No. 12 Oregon State stopped Washington State 64-48.

The Top Twenty

Quintin Dailey scored 18 points and Ken McAlister 17 to pace San Francisco over Gonzaga. The Dons led 36-28 at the half and never were threatened by Gonzaga thereafter.

Charlie Sitton's 15 points led Oregon State past Washington State. The Beavers jumped to a 24-14 halftime lead and held off the Cougars in the second half.

Oregon State Coach Ralph Miller said the second half was tighter than he would have liked.

"We'd make a mistake or two and they would score," Miller said of the second half. "We won by 16 but that 10 points at halftime was the difference."

Others

Elsewhere, Nevada-Reno's Billy Allen scored 27 points, including two from the foul line with no time remaining, as UNR beat Weber State 67-66; Mike Hackett had 27 points and 12 rebounds to lead Jacksonville to a 95-91 overtime victory over South Alabama; Tim Daaleman scored 22 points and Yale scored a school-record 37 points from the foul line, including 31 consecutive shots, to defeat Fairfield 71-62; Clarence Dickerson hit two free throws in the closing minute as Hawaii beat Colorado State 56-53 and Kenny Fields scored 18 points to lead UCLA to a 42-34 victory over Stanford.

Nelson Leading Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Larry Nelson retained the lead but Tom Purtzer said he had the advantage going into Saturday's rain-delayed second round of the $300,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

"It was a disadvantage for Larry not to be able to play today," Purtzer said Friday after he'd completed a 5-under-par 66 with a birdie-birdie finish on the rain-soaked Phoenix Country Club course.

"Larry had a fantastic round. He had it going.

"Then, all of a sudden, he had to stop for a day, almost two days. It's hard to get the momentum back after a break like that."

Nelson, the current PGA champion, finished his 8-under-par 63 Thursday before a heavy rain storm swept over the flat layout, flooded the course and stranded half the field, 72 players. They were forced to mark their positions on the course, wait for the water to subside and then complete play Friday.

Purtzer was in that group, and used his birdie-birdie windup to move to within three shots of the idle leader.

"Three shots is nothing after the first round," said Purtzer, a hometown boy who graduated from Arizona State and is a long-time resident of Phoenix. "Larry has to come back and keep on playing good. There's still a long way to go."

The rain delay made it longer than usual. With two days required to complete one round, the tournament now is a full day behind schedule. The second round was set for Saturday, with the tournament slated to end on Monday.

Lanny Wadkins, who also completed play before the rain delay, was alone in second at 65. Purtzer and Eastwood, another Thursday finisher, followed at 66.

The group at 67 included U.S. Open title-holder David Graham, Morris Hatalsky, Jim Simons and ChiChi Rodriguez.

Coaches Figure 'Super' Victor Will Need Four Touchdowns

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) - On the eve of Super Bowl XVI, coaches Bill Walsh of the San Francisco 49ers and Forrest Gregg of the Cincinnati Bengals have found at least one thing on which they can agree.

Both figure it will take four touchdowns to win Sunday's big game.

"I don't think 21 points will be enough to win," Gregg said. "I think it will take 28 or more points."

Walsh wasn't quarreling with that assessment. He had predicted that four TDs would be required to win the National Football Conference championship game against Dallas, and the final score was 28-27. He sees the same kind of wide-open contest for the Super Bowl.

"I expect one or the other to score four touchdowns," Walsh said. "It won't be a bitter defensive struggle with Ken Anderson and Joe Montana on the field."

Cincinnati's Anderson and San Francisco's Montana, who led their conferences in passing during the regular season, will oppose each other in the Pro Bowl next week.

"I suspect both of us will be going for the big play," Walsh continued. "We will go with our usual style and I think the Bengals will do the same. As long as the issue is in doubt, I expect a wide-open game."

Walsh got some good news at the 49er workout Friday when wide receiver Freddie Solomon was able to practice. Solomon had left the field with a sprained left knee Thursday after colliding with cornerback Ronnie Lott during a passing drill.

"Freddie was running a Cincinnati pass pattern against our defense," Walsh said. "They collided and both went down. Freddie didn't get up. He twisted his knee as he fell. It was a routine play, something that's done nonchalantly."

After he was hurt, Solomon had been designated as "questionable" for the game. In the NFL injury lexicon, a player listed as "questionable" has only a 50-50 chance of playing.

Dr. Fred Behling examined Solomon's knee before the workout and said it was sore but that there was no evidence of any swelling. After he practiced, the 49ers upgraded the receiver's status to "probable," which means his availability for Sunday is 75-25.

Solomon's injury has not changed Cincinnati's preparations for the 49ers.

"Solomon didn't play against us the first time and they beat us 21-3," said Gregg. "He's a good football player, but I don't know how much of a difference his absence would make if he doesn't play. During the regular season, when a player is listed as questionable, he usually plays 90 percent of the time."

And that was before the 49ers upgraded Solomon's status to probable.

Meanwhile, visitors continued pouring into the Detroit metropolitan area for the first Super Bowl ever held in a northern city. Hotel space was at a premium and the party atmosphere so prevalent it was apparent Super Bowl XVI was taking hold.

The NFL's annual pregame bash for 3,000 friends of football was held Friday night with the theme of "America on Wheels," saluting the auto industry.

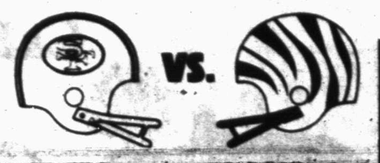

Eight tennis courts at the posh Fairlane Club were transformed into a replica of an automoile assembly plant and entertainment was provided by the Up With People ensemble, who will perform at halftime of the game, as well as Lionel Hampton, Bob Crosby, Peter Duchin, Carmen Cavallero and their respective orchestras.

Both teams were avoiding the party atmosphere, preferring to concentrate on the business of winning the football game. Each tapered off with brief workouts at the Silverdome today.

"I think a big (one-sided) win is unlikely," Walsh said. "Neither team will come apart after the other makes a big play. We are very well matched."

Gregg becomes the first man to both play in and coach in the Super Bowl. A Hall of Fame offensive lineman, he was in Super Bowls I and II with Green Bay and Super Bowl VI with Dallas.

Winning - Not Reaching Super Bowl - Is Crucial

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) - Reaching the Super Bowl is the goal of every National Football League coach. But Forrest Gregg wants more.

The Cincinnati Bengals coach said Friday that he won't be satisfied with anything less than a victory over the San Francisco 49ers in Super Bowl XVI Sunday.

"When you get this far, your team deserves to be here because you worked hard to get here, you sacrificed a lot to get into this football game," Gregg said. "If you lose the football game, all the plaudits go to the winner.

"That is the nature of the business. I'm sorry it's that way, but it is that way. I'm not going to be able to say, 'Well, even though we didn't win the football game, we can go away with a good feeling.' We will not go away with a good feeling if we lose the football game."

Gregg said the American Conference champions will be in top physical shape to play in the Pontiac, Mich., Silverdome. The Bengals' only seriously injured player, kick returner David Verser, has not had a problem catching the ball in practice this week, Gregg said. Verser injured his thumb in the AFC championship game two weeks ago.

Gregg said it took the Bengals time to adjust to the temperature-controlled Silverdome after playing and practicing in the frigid weather in Cincinnati.

"We went into practice this week in the Silverdome and our wide receivers and tight ends took their gloves off and couldn't hardly catch the football," Gregg said Friday. "The rest of them have adjusted to it, however."

Gregg said his club will loosen up at the Silverdome today after practicing there for the last four days.

The Hall of Fame offensive lineman said coaching the Bengals this week has given him the same feeling as playing in three Super Bowls with the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys.

"I've been asked a lot of times this week: 'How did it compare (coaching and playing in the Super Bowl)?' I think it's very comparable," Gregg said.

"I feel the same elation, the same type of emotion that I did as a player. The only difference is that as a player I was only responsible for one guy. As a coach, I'm responsible for the play and the conduct of 45."

Roosevelt Home Damaged In Fire

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Fire erupted today in the house where Franklin Delano Roosevelt was born, extensively damaging the nursery and attic, officials said. Large portions of the historic building suffered water damage.

About 250 firefighters from nearby communities fought to contain the fire as National Park Service employees and volunteers rushed to save furniture, paintings and other artifacts.

"They were helping us carry things out and deflecting water from certain things," said curator Emily Wright. "We even had people coming in to help us out who I don't think any of us knew, or hardly anybody.

"We salvaged an incredible amount," Ms. Wright said.

Fire officials said the blaze broke out about midnight, probably in the third floor, which contains the attic and nursery.

The fire extensively damaged the third floor and caused water damage to large parts of the first and second floors, Hyde Park Fire Chief Edward Ferris said.

Ferris said the fire may have started in electrical wiring.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb,M.D.

Responsible action

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — After reading your column on the Heimlich maneuver I wanted to tell you about my experience. I am a nurse. One night I walked into a restaurant and saw a man lying on the floor. Since he was already on the floor I had no inkling what had happened.

I had a slim skirt on but I managed to straddle him after positioning him face down. I did the Heimlich maneuver in case he was choking and did mouth to mouth respirations and chest compression for his heart. The ambulance came and took him away.

I think you should have explained further what to do if you are in a dinner dress and the person is already on the floor.

The emergency room said I did all a person could do under the circumstances. An autopsy showed that he died from aortic stenosis. I presume the large meal closed off the aorta.

DEAR READER — Tight dresses were not designed for freedom of action. Obviously, all you can do is push up your skirt and go to it as you probably did. Congratulations on not shirking your responsibilities in trying circumstances. In many such instances a person's life can be saved if someone will do as you did.

In this instance there was probably not much anyone could have done. Aortic stenosis means closure of the large artery that carries the blood away from the heart or the aortic valve in that artery. These people are prone to a sudden loss of consciousness or fainting because of the inability of the heart to pump blood through the obstruction.

Whenever fainting spells from aortic stenosis occur it usually means the obstruction is very severe and the outlook is poor. Most such patients do not live long if the obstruction is not corrected. And thanks to modern open heart surgery it can often be corrected.

No, the food the man ate didn't have anything to do with the obstruction. The evening's events, including dining out, may have increased the work of his heart, which in turn precipitated the attack.

I would like everyone to be able to respond to such emergencies. Readers should check with their Heart Association, fire department and Red Cross for information on courses. Those who want The Health Letter number 7-4, Save a Life: Heart and Lung Arrest, which explains the procedure can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Can a woman have sex after she has had a rectocele repaired by surgery?

DEAR READER — Yes, she can. For the benefit of other readers, a rectocele is a hernia. The rectum ruptures through the back wall of the vagina producing a bulging blockage of the vagina. The rectum is particularly likely to rupture through the wall during a bowel movement. In between times it assumes its normal position.

Surgical repair simply corrects the weakened or torn back wall of the vaginal vault. The size, shape and character of the vagina is not altered. If anything, such repairs of stretched and torn structures improve sexual relations for both partners. At the same time a rectocele is repaired other stretched and torn muscles may also be repaired.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am concerned about my son's fever. He had a cold three weeks ago and seemed to recover. He is eight years old and rather active. In the morning his temperature may even be a little below normal at 98, but by evening it is always high, about 99.4 degrees. He doesn't seem ill otherwise. His cough is gone and he doesn't complain. I just can't understand why his temperature doesn't return to normal. I wondered if I were doing something wrong but if so the temperature should be high in the morning, too.

DEAR READER — Perhaps there is nothing wrong. People seem to think your body temperature should be 98.6 F all the time. It is not. A normal person's body temperature may vary three degrees in 24 hours. The low point is usually in the early morning hours before awakening and the high point is in the late afternoon. One study of normal people shows a range in the same subjects from 96.6 to 100.0 F.

In the afternoon, when your son has been active during the day, you can expect his temperature to exceed 98.6. The same reading in the early morning hours should alert you to a medical problem. Vigorous physical exercise as in athletes has been shown to increase the rectal temperature to 104 F. Rectal temperatures are about one degree higher than temperatures taken from the mouth.

Hot baths can increase the body temperature suddenly, more than two degrees in five or six minutes.

During illnesses the body's thermostat may be reset so that the body temperature is higher. When a real fever exists, the body's energy requirements are increased a great deal more than most people realize. There is often a destruction of protein from muscles because the body may use 300 to 400 grams of protein a day rather than the usual modest amount. So adequate calorie intake and increased protein in the diet is often important during illnesses that cause a fever.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-6, Body Temperature and Fever. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

WIN $1,000

GOEBEL, MANUFACTURER OF POPULAR "M.I. HUMMEL" FIGURINES
JOINS WITH VIRDIE'S
TO OFFER LUCKY BOY AND GIRL $1,000 PRIZE EACH
IN ANNUAL "LOOK-ALIKE" CONTEST

It's fun! It's a family endeavor for parents, children, the young and the young at heart! And it offers cash prizes too.

What can it be? "It's" the 1982 "M.I. Hummel" Figurine Look-Alike contest, one of the most unusual and rewarding contests conducted in the country; wherein one lucky boy and girl winner each receives a Grand Prize of $1,000.

1982 will be the sixteenth year of this contest which is sponsored by Goebel, noted West German Manufacturer of "M.I. Hummel" collectibles, fine porcelains and giftware. This year the contest contest will be held in conjunction with VIRDIE'S

The 16th Annual "M.I. Hummel" Figurine Look-Alike Contest follows a format similar to previous years. | Parents (or any creative person) are invited to dress and pose a child or children to resemble any of the well-known "M.I. Hummel" figurines made by Goebel, take a color photograph and submit it for judging.

A cash prize of $1,000 , and a specially mounted "M.I. Hummel" figurine with an engraved plaque, will be awarded to both the boy and girl Grand Prize winners. Second and third place winners (one each) will receive $500 and $300 respectively and an "M.I. Hummel" figurine. In addition, 25 lucky runners-up will receive an "M.I. Hummel" figurine. Finally, the top four winners' photographs will be on display for visitors' enjoyment at the Goebel "Look-Alike Hall of Fame", housed in the Goebel Collectors Club in Tarrytown, N.Y.

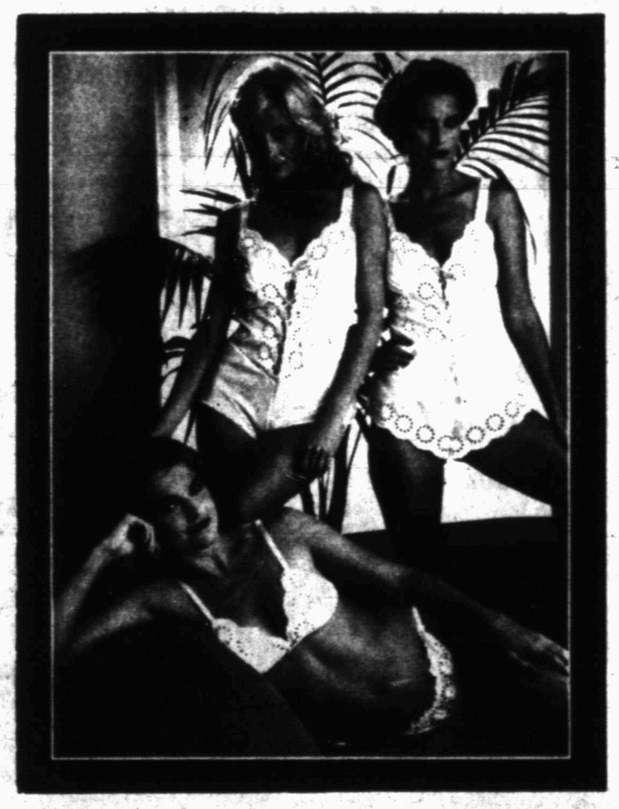

Lois Eades of VIRDIE'S notes that contest entries must be submitted between January 1st and April 30, 1982. "But we advise people to start planning their entries as quickly as possible. Duplicating a "Hummel" figurine pose is quite a challenge when you must get a youngster aged two to ten to capture such details as facial expression, a tilt of the head, a gesture of the hand as well as accuracy in costuming and props, etc."

No purchase is necessary to enter and contest entry forms are available at

In 1954, the United States exploded a hydrogen bomb at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific. The blast was so powerful that 23 Japanese fishermen about 110 kilometers away were blistered by the radioactive ash. One later died in a hospital. A witness said the explosion rivaled the sun itself in brightness.

Local Beauticians Attend Seminar

RedKen Laboratories Inc. recently presented the 17th Annual International Seminar at New Orleans, LA. featuring world hair and fashion designers.

The international extravaganza was presented Sunday afternoon by artist from the United States, Canada, Japan, and Europe and the 1982 Spring Fashions from Harpers Bazaar was previewed.

New haircuts, new methods of rolling permanents and new hair styles were demonstrated in the Conception Hair Design by RedKen. Lots of hair styles were done with longer hair. The Nicholas French design team provided the industry with design releases as far as two years in advance.

Hair coloring was interesting, accenting light shades as in reds, blondes and browns and a new method of frosting was demonstrated.

Also presented by RedKen Cosmetics were new methods of balance, conturing, and shade selections.

One of the most outstanding features was the 43 designs by Lady Diana's fashion designer, Stephen Way.

Those attending from Nancy's Art Style were Nancy Grimmett, Lawanna Vincent, Sara Goebel, and Jonnie Taylor.

The sporting life

Cold weather need not prevent you from enjoying your favorite sport this winter if you dress right for it. When you're running, skiing, skating or walking, your body is generating a lot of heat. All your clothes need do is maintain that warmth. Layering clothing — tights, kneesocks, shorts, sweatpants, for example — is a great way to hold onto the heat your body produces. A light-weight ski jacket or down coat also retains body heat without restricting movements.

A rose is a rose

Rosewater is an excellent facial toner and the mildest astringent around. You can easily make your own: Add four cups of fresh rose petals to half a cup of water. Simmer in a saucepan for about 15 minutes. Then add a tablespoon of witch hazel as a preservative. When you're ready to use it, dilute it with a cup of distilled water for each tablespoon of concentrate.

Hair today

Every day you may normally lose up to 60 strands of hair. If you think your hair loss is greater than normal, it may be due to the way you treat your hair. Blow dryers, electric rollers and curling irons should always be set at a moderate temperature. Don't brush your hair too vigorously — 100 strokes is unnecessary for healthy hair. Also, don't absent-mindedly pull or twist your hair.

Vocational Nursing Classes To Begin

Western Texas College will begin a new Vocational Nursing class Mar. 1 and applications for enrollment are now being accepted.

Applicants must be high school graduates or hold a GED, must be between 18 and 52 years of age, and in good physical and mental health. They must take a pre-entrance examination and can make arrangements for this test by calling the WTC counseling center at 573-8511, extension 313. They must also have a pre-entrance interview with an instructor, either Winnie Poyner or Diane Beard. Persons wishing further information about Vocational Nursing are invited to contact Ms. Poyner or Mrs. Beard by calling their office.

The Vocational Nursing program at WTC is approved by the Texas Education Agency and the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners.

WTC had considered cutting its Vocational Nursing program to one class per year, but due to the critical shortage of nurses it was decided to continue offering two classes per year, Ms. Poyner said. The new class will be limited to 15 students, so persons interested in enrolling are advised to make applications as quickly as possible.

South was unhappy when he saw dummy. It looked as if every missing high card would be held by East. Furthermore, West's six of spades might well have been a singleton.

The first fear was dispelled when East took his ace of spades and continued the suit, but West had to follow.

South had to play three rounds of trumps in order to prevent a ruff of the lead of a third spade. Then he cashed his last spade and played dummy's ace and jack of clubs.

East was on lead with the queen and saw that he was faced with the need to either give South a ruff and discard or to lead a diamond. The diamond lead could not hurt him if West held the jack, but finally East decided that South had been dealt four diamonds and two clubs and that one ruff and discard couldn't do South any good. He led his last club. South could take his ruff and discard, but was still left with two diamond losers.

As a matter of information, this hand was played in a high level game. West held a blank hand, but he had a chance to play two clubs. He carefully dropped the 10 on the first club lead and the deuce on the second to show that he held an even number of clubs including the 10 and nine.

An almost unbelievable example of the misuse of the Social Security system was the case of Charles Patterson of California who killed his mother and sister five years ago.

He has been held since then by the California Youth Authority. Recently, Patterson was released, free on parole to face the cold, cruel world.

However, it won't be too cold and too cruel, because Charles Patterson, upon release, received $21,500 in Social Security survivor's benefits.

The Patterson case does not stand alone. There are many others. It is estimated that 300 of the Youth Authority's 6,000 wards are held for murder, some for slaying family members.

The collection of Social Security funds is possible because of a quirk in the law. Juvenile killers are not officially considered felons. They have received payments ranging from $200 to $580 a month because they qualify as "survivors" and because they also qualify for student benefits.

The Social Security funds are placed in trust for the killers until they are released. Then they receive the money from a system their victims supported during their working days.

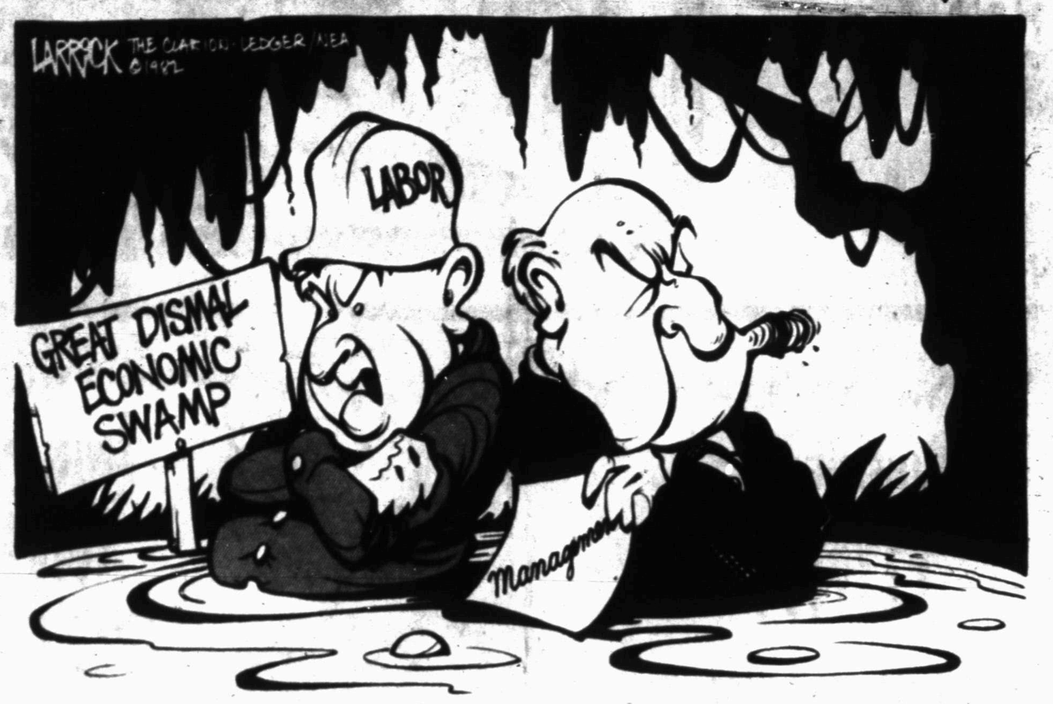

"People probably are horrified to find out a person gets benefits as a result of killing a person," said an official of the California Youth Authority. "The Youth Authority has no way of stopping it. If they didn't get Social Security, they probably would go on welfare."

Many Americans are horrified, all right. They think such expenditure of Social Security money should be stopped. When it was learned that David Berkowitz, the "Son of Sam" killer who took the lives of seven persons in New York, was receiving Social Security money, that portion of the law was changed.

Berkowitz was getting $300 a month because he was unable to hold a job. The main reason he was unable to hold a job was the fact that he was serving a 315-year prison sentence. Similar payments to other felons were costing Social Security $60 million a year.

Also, we are told that many aliens who now live outside the country but once worked in the U. S. are drawing Social Security checks totalling hundreds of millions of dollars.

Some of these inequities are getting attention now, and we think it is time to change the rules.

"Just because we're on common ground doesn't mean we have to speak to each other."

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Going for broke is the only way to travel these days."

Just how addicted are we to the television set? The tube is the focal point of most family rooms, and debates have raged for a number of years concerning the ill effects of too much TV on our society--especially our children.

A parent-teacher group in a wealthy New York suburb decided to do a study on the issue, and the results were astounding.

The experiment involved 142 fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, all who agreed not to watch TV for the first week in December.

The project was supported almost unanimously by the students. But according to reports, school officials who were accustomed for years to parents railing about the perils of TV for youthful viewers, were stunned to find that many parents balked at being without TV.

Some parents supported the experiment, but found that they were as hooked on the tube as their children.

Most of the complaints involved the disruption of family life. One fifth grader told her parents they could either have her presence or the TV at the evening meal. The family chose the TV.

School officials got plenty of angry calls. One mother said it was a horrid idea. She said her son kept asking her questions, and it interfered with her life style.

Some students even reported efforts by parents to sabotage the project. One boy reported that his father turned up the volume on the TV set, forcing the boy to leave the house to avoid hearing it. Another fifth grader resorted to stuffing tissue paper in her ears.

Not all the reaction was negative. Some families did participate together, and some family members found some positive results.

A consultant who helped with the experiment said she was not surprised with the results. She explains that parents who graduated from high school in 1965 or later were themselves reared on TV.

There are few expections to the statistic that daily television viewing is more than six hours. Of those families who participated in the school project, none were without a TV, several families with four and five sets, and two families with seven sets.

It's the American way.

commentary

donald f. graff

Much has been made of President Reagan's reneging on candidate Reagan's opposition to draft registration.

Too much. This is certainly not the first time that opinions and promises uttered in the crossfire of a campaign have been revised or reversed following the election. The responsibilities of power, being more demanding than its pursuit, have a way of changing presidential perceptions of the nation's needs.

That's called growing in the Oval Office, and can be a very good thing. We could use more of it in most administrations.

What should be of more concern is the timing and political circumstances of the decision to continue registering 18-year-olds.

But first, some background.

In principle, military service in time of national need is an inherent duty of citizenship. As the Selective Service Act of 1948 put it, "in a free society, the obligations and privileges of serving in the armed forces... should be shared generally, in accordance with a system of selection which is fair and just."

That principle, however, was one of the casualties of Vietnam. Americans did not share the "obligations and privileges" fairly in that ordeal. The system of selection raised an army that was unrepresentative of the nation racially and economically.

Further, opposition to the war itself led multitudes of potential draftees to opt out of their duties as citizens. The legal aspects of that disturbing manifestation of mass dissent were eventually more or less resolved with an amnesty that did nothing, however, to rehablitate the principle. To the contrary, according to amnesty opponents, it had been further weakened by semi-legitimizing refusal to serve.

Once the conflict ended, it was politically and militarily advantageous to drop the draft. The curtailed services were unable to absorb all the manpower it generated and the question of who must serve and who was to be excused was difficult to impossible to answer fairly, as Vietnam had shown.

The case was also made that conscript armies were obsolete in the nuclear era. A major war would likely be over in hours and smaller professional forces were more effective in brush-fire operations.

The draft was a backburner issue until Jimmy Carter reinstituted registration in 1980, presenting it as a precautionary measure to lessen delay in mobilization in the event of a national emergency, a rationale that was rejected at the time among others one Ronald Reagan.

What should be noted is that Carter resumed registration as part of his response to Soviet intervention in Afghanistan. Reagan now seconds his predecessor during the furor over Poland, clearly to avoid appearing to take a step back in American preparedness in the midst of a building confrontation with the Soviets.

That position can be justified. but even so, it means that Reagan, like Carter, is using the draft essentially as a political tool, not dealing with this highly sensitive and potentially explosive issue on its own merits. the problems that raises could more than offset those registration is intended to answer.

The wounds of Vietnam may have largely healed, but scars remain. The principle of citizen service is still on the casualty list. A million or more eligible 18-year-olds, it is estimated, have not registered in the last two years.

Selective Service is now offering them a grace period of up to 60 days, and authorities say they will prosecute those who fail to respond. Sould they proceed to do so, the complications could be immense. Identifying and locating the non-signers would be the first problem, and court action of the scope that would follow would be costly, time-consuming and certain to raise a domestic political storm, reopening the divisions of Vietnam.

Those are the realities not the politics, of the draft issue as they should be perceived by the occupant of the Oval Office.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

I haven't read it yet, but I just heard there's a new book coming out, "401 Ways to Get Your Kids to Work at Home," by Bonnie McCullough and Susan Monson.

Offhand, I can only think of two. Perpetual cruelty and their own Swiss bank account.

Most mothers entering the labor market outside the home are naive. They stagger home each evening, holding the mail in their teeth, the cleaning over their arm, a lamb chop defrosting under each armpit, balancing two gallons of frozen milk between their knees, and expect one of the kids to get the door.

Grow up, mothers! Kids don't breathe in and out unless they're paid scale. Their contention is, "Who asked you to work?" It's not our fault you're not fulfilled shrinking jeans and fighting stubborn stains."

You're not going to believe this, but I originally went to work in 1956, to buy a Barbie doll a wardrobe to go to the Ohio State football game with Ken in a cardboard car. A year later I couldn't have a doll languishing in dust balls under the bed dressed better than I, so I worked a few more years to buy a few things for myself. The rest is history.

As you can imagine, I tried every trick in the book to get the children to pitch in with household chores. From shouting, I got varicose veins of the neck. Nothing more. I progressed to "Dirty Looks" and "Martyrdom," which also got me nothing.

I thought I was onto something one day when I discovered the TV dial was loose and I could carry it around in my pocket like the distributor of a car. When they performed, they got TV; when they didn't they got withdrawal chills. Then they got smart and went to a neighbor's home.

I tried the reward system. Its failure only served to remind me that I couldn't make enough money in one week to pay someone to do what I'd been doing free for 20 years.

The family was telling me something, but I wasn't listening. I eventually learned to live with their priorities and discovered that beds made by running a clothes hanger over them slept just as well as those made so taut you could bounce a dime off them. Children used less toilet tissue when it wasn't on a spindle. Slice-and-bake cookie mothers also got cards on Mother's Day. The crumb my little rug in front of the bathroom sink that rolled up in a ball every time you opened the door was shortening my life.

Moral: If the home is everyone's castle...let everyone clean it!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Today you could do more talking about what you intend to do than you'll actually roll up your sleeves and do. Save your speech until the task is completed.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You could be a trifle more curious than usual today, and ask impertinent questions that you really shouldn't. Don't poke your nose in where it's not wanted.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Unfortunately, you may not be able to put too much stock in promises made by others today. Take what they have to say with a grain of salt.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A task you deem to be easy shouldn't be taken for granted or left until the last minute today. It could prove to be a lot harder than it first appears.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Try not to cater to your extravagant whims. Also, be wary of hoping to get something for nothing. Free rides are even less likely than usual today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your judgment is likely to be a bit better than that of your peers today, but you might fail to heed your own insights. Don't discount your thoughts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're a very frank and open person and this is splendid, but today you might discuss something best kept secret. Think before you speak.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Take care today not to let friends put you into an embarrassing position where you have to ante up for something for which you're not totally responsible.

SPD MEETING

The annual South Plains Development Meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 28, in Lubbock. This year's program has been called "Risk Management," "Profitable Decision Making," "How to Survive in Farming," and possibly others.

The main point is that the speakers on this program will be providing information for producers to make some decisions on the coming year.

Some of the topics include "1981 Farm Bill Implication," "Production and Financial Decisions," "Marketing Alternatives" and "Commodity Sessions on Cotton, Corn, Grain Sorghum."

The speakers will be Extension Specialists Drs. Ron Knutson, Carl Anderson, Roland Smith and Wayne Hayenga.

The meeting will be held in the KoKo Palace, 50th St. and Ave. Q in Lubbock. It will last from 9:30 a. m. to about 4 p. m. If you are in the farming business, this meeting will be of benefit to you.

WINDBREAKS CONSERVE ENERGY

Rising energy costs have made windbreak plantings real assets to suburban homeowners as well as rural farm families.

Fringe benefits from windbreaks can be protection for cattle and a refuge for birds and other wildlife.

A well-designed windbreak will reduce wind speed, prevent drifting snow and lower heating bills. Even a small windbreak can make outdoor living and working conditions more enjoyable during the winter. Plant screens also help reduce noise pollution from busy thoroughfares.

The location of the windbreaks is the key to their effectiveness. Evergreen windbarriers on the north and west sides of the house can cut 10 to 40 percent off winter fuel bills. Junipers and pines provide the most protection.

Windbreaks should be planted four to six times the height of the plants away from the house. Recommendations are to grow species that will mature in about one to one and a half times the height of the house. Large trees should be located 100 to 150 feet from the north or west side of the house and roads to prevent snow drifts.

For maximum protection, three to six rows of trees are needed on farmsteads and one to two rows in suburban areas. Six to eight-foot spacings are appropriate for most evergreen plants used for windbreaks.

Trees for windbreaks are available from the Texas Forest service and should be planted in late winter or early spring.

For information on ordering seedlings and on transplanting and fertilizing woody plants, contact the county extension office.

Causes Given For Accidents

YORK, Neb. (AP) — If Sgt. Joe Friday asked you for "just the facts" in 30 words or less after your auto accident, what would you say?

The York Police Department listed some examples, which were taken from an insurance company publication, of actual explanations of citizens' vehicular vexations:

— "An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my vehicle, and vanished."

— "The indirect cause of the accident was a little guy in a small car with a big mouth."

— "The pedestrian had no idea which direction to go, so I ran over him."

— "I saw the slow-moving, sad-faced old gentleman as he bounced off the hood of my car."

— "I was on my way to the doctor with rear end trouble when my universal joint gave way, causing me to have an accident."
