Mitchell schools would gain in proposed funding

The Texas House of Representatives passed a bill on Monday that will equalize 95 percent of the school districts and would mean increased funding for Mitchell County school districts, said State Rep. Robert Junell.

Junell said the bill will increase state funding by $450 million for the 1990-91 school year and add $5.5 billion over the next five years in state aid to the public schools.

"Mitchell county school districts managed to come through the battle with no loss for the next five years," said Junell.

Colorado ISD fared the best with a gain of an additional $195,194 for fiscal year 1991. Loraine ISD will receive $933,684 for the same time period. However, Westbrook ISD will not receive any additional state money in 1991, but will take in some, but very little, new monies in the following years.

According to the House bill, the school districts in Mitchell County will be funded as follows for fiscal year 1992-95:

• Colorado ISD will receive an increase of $355,999 in '92, $510,849 in '93, $654,001 in '94 and $795,256 in '95;

• Loraine ISD will receive an increase of $160,469 in '92, $222,642 in '93; $283,024 in '94 and $343,316 in '95.

• Westbrook ISD will receive an increase of $214 in '92; $428 in '93; $2251 in '94 and 0 gain in '95.

Neither Westbrook nor Loraine received a check this time.

Loraine's payments to date are $2,093, down 1.01 percent from last year's payments to date of $2,115.

Westbrook's payments to date are $2,776, 166.73 percent ahead of the 1989 payments to date of $1,041.

Area cities and the amounts they received this time include Big Spring, $79,470, up 14.04 percent; Snyder, $46,761, up 11.75 percent; and Sweetwater, $40,977, down 2.82 percent.

The only area county that collects the optional sales tax is Scurry County and it received $28,660, up 7.82 percent.

"While the House measure meets the governor's limit of $450 million in state aid, the bill still faces a conference committee where appointed members from the House and Senate will work to produce a compromise bill somewhere between the House's proposal and the Senate's," said Junell.

The Senate proposal carries a price tag of $1.2 billion for fiscal year 1991.

The legislature has until May 1 to pass a bill that will meet the court's mandate to equalize public school funding.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Colorado City has some impressive facilities for its citizens. The Ruddick Park swimming pool, for instance. City Hall is an old building, but attractive and with recent renovations, very functional. The cities' waterworks is adequate, but if Colorado City grows, or the demand for water continues, major improvements will have to be made in the system.

Of course all of the facilities are possible because of tax dollars. Serving the community is the function of city government, which brings us to the point of the first ever expenditure of tax dollars in Colorado City.

Return with us to those thrilling days of 1882. Little Colorado, the cattle town we've all heard about, was bustling with activity. Each time another Texas and Pacific train chugged into town, a variety of passengers would disembark at the depot, helping to swell the town's exploding population.

The town council was quick to recognize a pressing problem; the need for a public outhouse. Thus, the first recorded expenditure for a public works project in Colorado, was for a privy. (Some words are disappearing from our language and "privy" is one we don't often see or hear. Therefore, for future generations who may read this in the 21st or 22nd century; "Privy: a small outside shed containing one or two holes, or seats.")

The first monument erected in Colorado City was located just south of the train depot. And, the city council awarded the job to a local contractor, P. L. Krause, who was paid $15 for his craftsmanship. We can assume the edifice was a course of civic pride.

Actually, privies presented a plethora of problems for city officials in the early days of Colorado. Our town's very first ordinance regulated privies. The outhouses had to be at least four feet deep and residents were required to have their privies cleaned out at least once a month. Persons found in violation of the ordinance were subject to a fine ranging from one dollar to twenty dollars per day.

Naturally, folks being the way they were, and still are, the ordinance was largely ignored. So, the city council decided to crack down. Town Marshal W. T. Griffin was ordered to visit each house in town with a privy and tell the owners to have it cleaned out.

The new assignment didn't set well with Marshal Griffin. He checked his job description and said to the council the equivalent of "Aw come on you guys. I'm paid to catch badmen and arrest drunks."

The council wasn't impressed. Griffin was told he had five days to enforce the ordinance, or else. He didn't. On May 18, 1883, the fearless lawman was fined 4% by the city for "neglect of duty." (But Griffin made history. He was the first town official fined).

Eventually a city scavenger was hired to clean out privies. And the city council did what council's do best; assessed a service fee of one dollar per month as a cleaning charge. (Another first, the fee).

Later that same year the council declared the public privy near the train depot a nuisance and Marshal Griffin was ordered to "pull it down at once." He did. So much for capital improvements.

A secret from the history of early day Colorado. And now you're privy to it.

POUND PUPPY - Daisy, an eight-week-old female part Cocker Spaniel, and her sister are available for adoption from the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Clinic, Highway 208 South. For more information about them or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

Project Celebration

TO THE EDITOR: In 1987, the Colorado High School seniors took a challenge and began Project Celebration, an all-night drug and alcohol-free party after graduation. That night was a great success. Since then, there have been two other parties that have been absolutely tremendous. Parents, friends and the rest of the community have put in great amounts of time and money into this occasion.

This year, the senior class of 1990 would like to share the responsibility in creating a night never to be forgotten. We realize the enormous amount of work it takes to achieve such a goal, and would like to prove our willingness and enthusiasm to the community.

On April 21, we plan to kick off the donation drive with "Senior Day" at Sonic, in which seniors will work as car hops and receive all tips for Project Celebration. However, we cannot possibly raise enough funds for this occasion alone. Therefore, we are forced to turn to our community for support.

Each senior will be receiving three donation cards. We are responsible for contacting each past donor to Project Celebration and collecting the new donation. In the meantime, donations may be sent to Melinda Hoover, 1325 Walnut, Colorado City, Texas 79512.

Without the generosity of this community and its concern for the youth, projects such as this could never be possible. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Project Celebration

Hazardous questions

TO THE EDITOR: I don't normally write letters like this, but here goes.

I know there are a lot of questions on hazardous waste disposal. And, we all want answers.

Here are a few that I may be able to help with:

Thousands of trucks, not to mention the number of trains, go through Mitchell County hauling toxic as well as hazardous material every year.

In case of a truck wreck, the fire departments (at least Colorado City of which I am a member) have been trained what to do. Currently I am in the process of training Westbrook and Loraine on part of this.

In some cases, the tank battery fires that we go to where the toxic oil that is spilled on the ground won't be buried like we have seen so often in the past.

When we as firefighters get a call to a fire, we don't ask if the persons are paid up on their taxes.

Westbrook, as well as Loraine, needs to encourage and support its firefighters to go to school to get basic certification anyway. This is for two reasons - 1. a well trained person saves himself and others time and lives; 2. a fire department with a certain number of certified firefighters lowers home and business insurance cost.

As far as evacuation from an area of a wreck, that will be determined by several things. What is involved chemical-wise? This can be determined from the manifest if it can be found. If not, then by calling Chemtrec, we can obtain the name of the material being hauled, what to do if there is a spill, what to do if there is a fire, what to put the fire out with and if the wind is blowing, whether or not an area be evacuated.

They in turn call EPA and if toxic material is a problem, they handle clean up. All hazardous waste is bagged and put in barrels.

We talk about hazardous waste like we don't have any around here. Wise up, people. Our wives use hazardous material all the time. Look at the labels on the fingernail polish remover (the same stuff used in drugs labs to make illegal drugs which we as taxpayers of Mitchell County had to pay between $5,000-$10,000 to have hauled away and incinerated a few months ago).

How about the hair spray that tells the user in fine print to use in a well ventilated area. How many bathrooms are well vented?

I am not overly excited of the fact of having a dump here. But I would rather have it here than pay to have it hauled to El Paso.

You see, I don't have a dump on my property like some farmers or ranchers where I can dump my trash or my chemical barrels. What about the rancher's dips he has to run his cattle and sheep through? Do you think these are not toxic?

I ask the people to hear both sides and see what is here.

I think if we work together and put down guidelines, both sides can and should work together.

In closing, I have one thing to say. I worked as an ambulance driver here for several years. I also work sometimes as a relief driver at our fire station.

People don't know the frustration of taking a call when someone calls and says "My house is on fire or my husband is having a heart attack" and then hang up. And you have to sit and wait until someone calls back. Then they are mad asking why someone has got there yet. Then you have to calm them down to where you can get a name and address and phone number. All this time, the fire doubles in size every minute. Of you lose valuable time on a heart patient.

Please hurry, enhanced 911. The next life or home might be yours.

Robert Lewis Ramage
Colorado City

P.S. I have lived here for all but two of my 40 years. How about Texans Against Pollution getting something going about the old refinery? If you want to hear horrid stories, ask some of the people that used to work there. What is still on the ground out there could be cleaned up by an incinerator.

Thank You!!

I wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who voted for me during the recent elections. Because I feel I got the "cream of the crop" votes, I do not consider myself a loser. I appreciate all the support and help you gave to me unselfishly during the last few months. I look forward to seeing you in the future.

Thanks again,
Joan Merket

ALARMING FACTS ABOUT THE HOST AGREEMENT

Section 1: The Site

Promoters said: The facility was to be 2100 acres.
Host Agreement says: The facility can be as large as 6250 acres (9.8 sections)! Other satellite or non-contiguous sites can be established with the consent of our Commissioners.

Section 2: The Facility

Promoters said: There was to be one regional landfill and one hazardous waste incinerator.
Host Agreement says: Facility will include:
- One or MORE regional landfills.
- One or MORE hazardous waste incinerators.
- One or MORE hazardous waste landfills (EPA has outlawed creation of new hazardous waste landfills since 1984).
County gives up the right to place any limits on volume or source of waste processed! The Federal Government WILL TELL US WHAT AND HOW MUCH will be burned. (Ask the citizens of El Dorado, Arkansas about the EPA)

Section 3: Nature of the waste; Exclusion of Radioactive Waste

Promoters said: No Radioactive waste to be processed.
Host Agreement says: No nuclear or radioactive waste to be processed or received UNLESS THE COMMISSIONERS SAY IT'S OK! (Will they hold more public meetings, take an informal vote of citizens, and then tell us the next day that the citizens overwhelmingly support radioactive waste disposal?)

Section 4: Insurance

Promoters said: "We will get the required insurance."
Host Agreement says: They will get insurance to the extent that such insurance is AVAILABLE (not much coverage is available since the incident at Bhopal!) and only at rates THEY determine to be reasonable.

Section 13: Free Waste Disposal

Promoters said: They would take ALL our garbage for free.
Host Agreement says: They will take only 12,000 tons per year.

Section 16: County Support

Promoters said: We are just signing a host agreement to help them obtain a permit.
Host Agreement says: In the future the County GIVES UP THE RIGHT TO PASS ANY ORDINANCE TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM THE COMPANY no matter what they do!

FACTS ABOUT INCINERATORS YOU SHOULD BE AWARE OF

- Aside from short-term work in building the installation, incinerators don't employ many workers in their operation.
- Mercury, Lead, Cadmium and other toxic metals CANNOT BE DESTROYED by incineration, ending up in the unburned bottom ash or released into the air.
- The ash from incinerators is toxic. Every 3 tons of trash burned produces 1 ton of ash, of which 10% is fly ash and 90% is bottom ash. (A report by EPA's review board written by David Tanner estimates Dioxin levels in Philadelphia ash as high and perhaps higher than the contaminated soil at Times Beach, Mo. which caused the federal government to evacuate hundreds of families in 1983 -- This report is dated October 5, 1988, and refers to a modern "state of the art" incinerator).
- In 1985-86 SWEDEN AND DENMARK HALTED BUILDING NEW INCINERATORS because they produced dioxin in mothers' milk. Instead of reducing this carcinogen, incineration actually increases it.
- SINCE 1986 AT LEAST 50 COMMUNITIES IN THE U.S. HAVE RECONSIDERED THEIR PROJECTS TO BUILD INCINERATORS IN FAVOR OF COMPREHENSIVE RECYCLING PROGRAMS. Los Angeles dropped plans for 3 proposed plants and Philadelphia shut down 2 incinerators amid public health concerns.

Tennis teams compete in Abilene

The Colorado High School tennis team traveled to Abilene on Friday, April 6. This meet was different in the sense that, all senior participants from Colorado City had to play Class AAAA and AAAAA schools, while the other Wolf contestants matched up against Class AAA schools.

In girls singles, Sheila

Cawthron has been playing very well all season, and this meet was no exception in which Cawthron was seeded number four in the C division, AAA schools. In the first match, Cawthron won handily over a Wylie contestant. Cawthron also won her second and third matches. She then lost her final match to place fourth.

Cody Calaway and Sandy Lamb were the only girls doubles team to participate in the class B tournament for the Lady Wolves. In their first match, the duo won, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2; to a couple of young ladies from Weatherford, but the Lady Wolves lost the second match to worthy opponents from Odessa. Also playing doubles for the Lady Wolves, but in the class C bracket, were Krishna Lamb and Michelle Molina. Although the Wolves played their best; the two were defeated in the first round. Blaine Lemons to appear with Dykes at event

Head football coach Spike Dykes will join with other Red Raider celebrities on April 23 (Monday) for Texas Tech Day in San Angelo.

Blaine Lemons of Colorado City will attend the function as the Masked Rider. Lemons was chosen as the new Masked Rider and he will ride at all the home football games next season.

Dykes, who earned Southwest Conference Coach of the Year honors for guiding Tech to a 9-3 record and an All American Bowl victory over Duke last season, will join with the school's primary mascot (the Masked Rider and the horse, Midnight Raider) in an autograph and photo session which is open to the public from 5-6 p.m. behind the River Club, 800 West Ave. D in San Angelo. Those wishing photos must bring their own camera and film.

"We are looking forward to bringing the Tech spirit to the San Angelo area," said Dykes. "Not everybody can get to Lubbock so we wanted to come to them."

Scarlet and black pom-poms will be given away at the affair. Ticket personnel also will be available to answer questions or to assist in reserving seats for the 1990 season.

Home games are Sept. 29 vs. Baylor, Oct. 27 vs. Miami, FL, Nov. 3 vs. Texas, Nov. 17 vs. SMU and Nov. 24 vs. Houston.

CMS tennis team wins at district

On Friday, April 6, the Colorado Middle School tennis team won four out of six events in the district 7-AAA tennis meet.

In the seventh grade girls singles division, Kami Lamb won all of her matches to take first place for the Wolves. Unfortunately, the Lady Wolves did not have any doubles teams to enter, nor did the Wolves enter a seventh grade boys division in either event, but that did not stop the eighth grade Wolves from capturing first places in the girls singles, girls doubles, and boys doubles.

Kayla Lamb was the eighth grade girls champion while teammate Melva Mendoza finished second. In the girls doubles, Holly Turner and Kim Cates were crowned the champs, and teammates, Cole Latimer and Amy Molina finished sixth. In the eighth grade boys, Patrick Stewart and Greg Gaona won the boys doubles. Justin Goebel and Dillan Moore finished strong placing fourth. In the boys singles, Cody Loving just missed the top spot with a second place finish, yet Chris Beatty and Kyle Chambers finished third and fourth place respectively.

Oil & Gas Report

Charles B. Gillespie Jr., independent operator from Midland, has revealed plans to drill a trio of 3,300-ft. developmental wells in Mitchell County's East Howard-Iatan Field.

The wells will be known as the Nos. 12, 13 and 14 Mitchell "C" fee. They are located in Section 9 Block 29 of the T&PRR Survey A-595.

Two pumping oilers have been completed in Mitchell County's Turner-Grady Field by Hrubetz Operating Co. of Dallas.

The wells are designated as the No. 6 Gregory "A" and the No. 3 Gospel Trumpet.

Both are about six miles northwest of Westbrook.

The No. 6 well pumped 16 BOPD along with 75 barrels of salt water daily. It will produce from Clearfork Formation perforations, 2,648 to 2,793 feet into the hole.

The No. 3 well showed it can pump 15 BOPD along with about 100 barrels of water per day. It will produce from four sets of perforations ranging from 2,598 to 2,885 feet into the wellbore.

HE IS RISEN

Jesus was taken to Calvary and crucified on Friday afternoon and there were many witnesses to that event. The Jewish leaders and Roman Rulers made sure there were many witnesses to the event so they could prove their loyalty to Rome.

The Jewish Religious leaders and Government officials would not allow for a Jesus who was not dead to be taken from the Cross. Soldiers made sure he was dead after Jesus had said, "Into thy hands I commend my spirit" and breathed His last.

Taken from the cross, dead and buried in a borrowed tomb, a cave hewn out of solid rock. A great stone placed in front to cover the opening. They made sure that the Disciples would not steal the body and claim a resurrection.

As the women approached the grave on Sunday morning to finish the process of preparing the body for complete burial, they noticed the stone rolled away and the doorway to the tomb open.

The Angel said: "He is not here, He has risen, Go tell His Disciples." What a surprise for them. To us it is an old story of the Resurrection for it happened nearly 2,000 years ago.

Even while we think about this the Christ awaits to be born in hearts of many and desires to live in the hearts of all men. Have you opened your heart to Him? If so, Christ becomes a reality of resurrection in your life and if not you may still be looking for the Resurrection. Look no farther, He arose.
