New Bangs Disease Campaign Starts In Lynn County

During the past few months 369 farmers have co-operated in the Lynn county Bangs testing program, during which 2,197 cows have been tested. It was announced this week by County Agricultural Agent Robt. L. Stone. Every farmer is encouraged to participate in this program. Testing is also being done for people living in town.

Anyone interested in having their cows tested who has not received a letter from the county agent in this regard, may secure information concerning Bangs disease tests by calling the county agent's office or by dropping him a penny postcard requesting such information.

Undulant fever may be transmitted to people drinking milk from Bangs infected cattle. A person might drink milk from a Bangs infected cow indefinitely and not necessarily contract undulant fever, but the person is being continually exposed and is likely to contract the disease at any time that person is in a susceptible physical condition, and once a person has the disease it may be incurable for years.

An infected cow through her mucous discharges can transmit the disease to other cows. Bulls do not transmit the disease to cows but may miss getting calves if infected. All breeding stock six months of age or over should be tested. Testing some and not others which run with the non-tested is useless as the disease is contagious and to have a clean herd one must know about each animal. Yearlings are not tested as it is not necessary.

The program is being conducted on a cooperative basis in Lynn county in order that the services of a licensed veterinarian may be secured at a substantially reduced rate, enabling this work to be done for about one-third of what the cost would be if it were done on an individual basis.

Annual Red Cross Drive Opens Soon

Lynn county's quota is $7,500.00 in the National Red Cross War Fund campaign for 1945, which is to begin March 1, according to Rollin McCord, who has been named chairman of the drive. Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell has been named vice-chairman.

Citizens from all parts of the county are urgently requested to attend this meeting. As more and more of our boys are being sent to the front lines and as more and more being wounded or captured, the work of the Red Cross becomes more vital. Nearly every boy at the front attests to the value of the Red Cross, and its a very small job that the folks at home are asked to do in this drive. Mr. McCord asks that volunteers come out to this meeting Saturday.

'Shorty' Baker Is Killed In Car-Train Crash, Boy Injured

W. O. (Shorty) Baker, 30, was killed and Leslie McNeely, 15, was seriously injured Saturday morning at about 10:30 when the 1941 Ford pick-up driven by McNeely was struck by the south-bound Santa Fe train on highway-railroad crossing in East Tahoka.

Baker died a short time after the crash. His skull was crushed and a number of bones broken. McNeely, driver of the pick-up belonging to his dad, Bill McNeely, was on the side away from the train engine, and escaped with two broken ribs, an injured kidney, and bruises and sprains. He received treatment at Tahoka Clinic and later was taken to a Lubbock hospital for further examination, but was brought back home Sunday. It is believed his injuries will not prove critical.

Mr. Baker, who has been working for W. H. Fulkerson oil company, had just taken his truck to the Fisher wrecking yard east of the railroad, and McNeely was bringing him back to town. Witnesses said the occupants of the pick-up evidently did not see the approaching train.

Mr. Baker had been a resident of Tahoka about seven years, and was well and favorably known to most citizens of the town.

Born Nov. 26, 1914 in Nacogdoches county, he came to Spur with his parents in 1928, and moved to Tahoka in 1937. He was married in Jayton in 1938 to Miss Anni Grace Boyd. Three children, Billy Wayne, 9, Jo Dell, 7, and Ella Dee, 5, survive. He is also survived by W. R. Baker, father, Tahoka; one brother, A. E. Baker, Tahoka; and four sisters, Mrs. Debs Nails and Mrs. Alfred Rogers, both of Peacock, and Mrs. J. C. Dunlap and Mrs. B. J. Boykin, both of Tahoka.

Funeral services for Mr. Baker were held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Geo. A. Dale of Lubbock, assisted by Rev. Levi W. Price, pastor and Rev. A. C. Hardin, this city, a state evangelist of the Baptist Church. He had been a member of the local Baptist Church the past several years.

Young McNeely is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McNeely and a student in Tahoka High School.

Jim Weatherford Leaves Tahoka

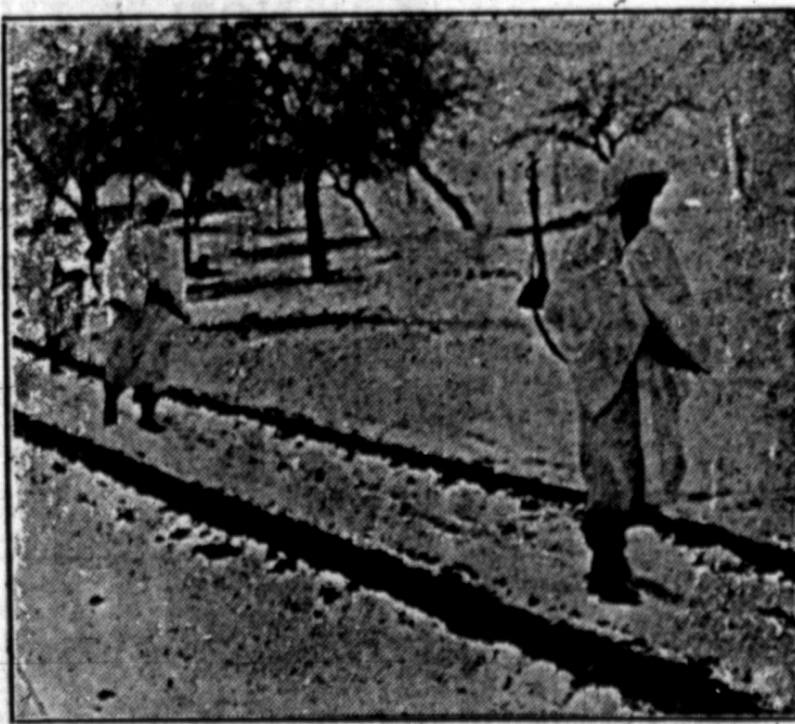

To the regret of many friends, Jim Weatherford, pioneer West Texan and one of Lynn county's earliest citizens, left Tahoka for Sierra Blanca Thursday morning to spend the remainder of his days possibly in that colorful trans-Pecos town.

As a boy, Jim Weatherford came to Colorado City in the eighties and began working on a ranch. Later he moved on up to Borden county and the then thriving town of Gail, a typical town of the Old West, became his hang-out. In the due course of time, he climbed the caprock and found himself a citizen of the Plains. He was here when Lynn county was organized, and has been here most of the time since. During his residence in the West, he not only has done long and valiant service as a cowboy, but has also served in official capacity in the court house. He was tax assessor of Lynn county for several years and secretary of the Tahoka school board for several other years.

He knew nearly all the old-timers of the Old West, and not a colorful or thrilling event has happened anywhere in this section during the past sixty years that he is not familiar with.

He has scores of friends here who regretted to see him leave and who hope that he may come back for a visit occasionally. He goes to Sierra Blanca to live with his daughter, Mrs. Webb Williams, and her husband.

Mrs. Louise Lee was here last week and from Wichita Falls visiting the E. M. Lee family. Her husband, Sgt. "Shorty" Lee is in Belgium with the Army.

THE GROWL

Edited by Students of The Tahoka High School

QUITE A COUPLE!

Have you seen that charming couple who roam the halls of T. H. S.? If you have been in the halls you couldn't have missed them. They are seen together frequently and you will usually see her on third floor while he is usually on first but always see them together during noon, unless on Thursday, when he attends the Rotary Club. His favorite are his boys of school and the little blonde who calls him "Daddy." He is of stocky build, has seal black curly hair and sparkling green eyes, and she has brown hair with beautiful brown eyes, and both have personality plus! You can keep them quarreling in front of students—but just for fun. If you don't know, it's none other than Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jackson.

PERSONALITY—

If you take a sweet disposition along with a cute figure, pretty eyes and curly hair, find a girl that likes parties because she likes large crowds (but, let me warn you, never get her started on her opinion of a flit, for she can really discuss one), a girl with lots of friends—and all these things make up her personality—that is why we couldn't resist selecting Maxine Hardin as personality this week.

Cpl. Bobbie C. Leake wrote from New Guinea Jan. 27 that he came to the hospital yesterday. Nothing serious. My first rest since I landed here April 1st. It is really a relief that we have a Red Cross and entertainment of games, etc. And, believe it or not, there are really girls up here; the nurses and Red Cross girls are both real nice. Although it seems funny to have a lady take your temperature after three years. We had a stage show last night, and refreshments of cake and ice cream were served after the show. And now, I am drinking a coke and listening to the radio. So, you can see, I am not very bad off and really enjoying myself. I am still not getting much mail.

Sgt. Chester A. Spurlock (Judy Oats' husband) wrote last Monday that he is now in the Marianas.

Cpl. Wm. N. Oats wrote that he had just heard from Lt. James R. (Skinny) King, who had been moved about a lot.

Sgt. Robt. Fulton (Shorty) Fletcher wrote his mother that he is now in the Philippines.

Thursday afternoon, Mmes. R. E. King of Plainview, her sister-in-law and Mrs. Ivah White of Lubbock were visitors. Mmes. White and King are long-time local residents.

Mrs. Gladys Williams is enjoying an excellent business since opening her beauty shop here.

Wednesday evening, Rev. E. C. Armstrong taught his second Bible lesson on the book of Acts. Mrs. Walter Kellum's Sunday School class of young married folks are Wives of men in the service were given special recognition at the prayer meeting Wednesday night.

THREE DEACONS WILL BE ORDAINED AT WILSON

Three new deacons are to be ordained at the Baptist Church in Wilson on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, according to Rev. Lloyd Gentry, pastor of the church. The three are B. W. Baker, Andrew Cooper, and H. H. Hewlett. Rev. Levi W. Price, Baptist pastor here, is to preach the ordination sermon. Everyone is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bosworth of Corpus Christi arrived Tuesday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Deen Nowlin and family, and his brother, R. A. Bosworth and family.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday will be Laymen's Day throughout the church. This day has been observed for many years, and has brought great results to the church. Dr. Doyle Jackson, professor in Lubbock Tech, will deliver the lay sermon. All members and friends of the church should be present to hear Dr. Jackson.

Tuesday night will be the regular monthly meeting of the Stewards. It is necessary that all of the 21 Stewards be present. Some vital issues are to be discussed pertaining to the program of the church.

Several class socials have been held in the basement of the church recently. The new kitchen has been used to prepare appetizing food for them. Good wholesome programs have been rendered and each one felt like renewing his and her interest in the Sunday School. The increase of Sunday School enrollment is one of the five goals in the Crusade for Christ the next four years.

A special program will be given on the first Sunday in March. The flags will be used. That will be Compassion Day, or the climax of the Relief and Reconstruction of World Methodism by making an offering for immediate relief of suffering humanity in 20 of our war-torn mission fields.

PETTY 4-H CLUB GIRLS

The Petty 4-H Club girls met Monday February nineteenth. All members were present except one. There were three visitors present.

All of the seven club members enrolled in the Orchard school of the Air and three others enrolled. Five girls prepared twenty-two fruit dishes. One girl set out a fruit tree. The club set up goals for February on yard work. The meeting ended with a study of shrubbery.

WHOSE UNIVERSITY IS IT?

The News is bombarded every week with one to a half dozen propaganda articles advocating the reinstatement of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president of the University of Texas. Most of these articles are so rabid in spirit and in criticism of the board of regents that one inevitably suspects that the propagandists have some axe to grind. Nor does one have to look far to find the axe.

Nearly every one of the complaints sent to The News harks back to the dismissal two or three years ago of three Economics professors who left their duties at Austin to attend a mass meeting in Dallas for the purpose of demanding a place on the program and defending the C. I. O. and other labor organizations that had been promoting or encouraging strikes and allegedly hindering the war effort.

Their antics and their rabid statements on that occasion brought much unfavorable newspaper comment and convinced the board of regents that they were not proper men to have on the faculty of a great university, and the board dismissed them.

It has developed since that Dr. Rainey himself was much displeased with this action of the board, and a few months ago there was an open rupture between him and the board. He himself brought the matter to the attention of the public by going into the newspapers with charges against the board, his indictment containing fourteen counts in which he alleged that they had unduly interfered with him in the performance of his duties and hampered the "academic freedom" of the University. This brought on more talk, and finally he was fired.

He has ever since been harping on "academic freedom." He seems to think that he alone should have the right to hire and fire teachers, and that the board should not even have the veto power in such matters. It seems to be his idea that it is the business of the people to furnish the money, the business of the board of regents to rubber-stamp everything that he does, and his business alone to run the University. A teacher in that institution should be allowed to teach anything he pleases—or at least anything the president pleases—and it should be no concern of the board of regents. That is what we understand Dr. Rainey means by "academic freedom."

Under such a system, a president of the people's university might hire a bunch of atheists, a bunch of communists, or a bunch of "race-equality" fanatics, who should proceed to teach atheism, or communism; or the desirability of intermarriage of whites and blacks, and there would be nothing that the board of regents could do about it.

You say this is an extreme hypothesis? But in some universities in the United States they are teaching atheism. In some they are teaching communism. In some they are teaching social equality and justifying intermarriage of whites and negroes.

In Texas, we must keep hold of the lines, and give the board of regents power to put a stop to all such foolishness in our great institution of learning, the University of Texas.

Bills are pending in the legislature to amend that provision of the gasoline tax law which provides for the return to farmers of the tax on gasoline used on their farms and directing that it be used for the improvement of rural roads. Petitions have been circulated among the farmers in this and other counties in favor of the amendment and it is said that they are being signed by many farmers. It seems to us that this would be a wise and effective way to procure funds for the improvement of our farm-to-market roads, a thing which is much needed throughout Texas. Here in Lynn county we have hundreds of miles of such roads and not a mile of them hard-surfaced. These roads in rainy seasons often become impassable in many places. Farmers would profit more than any other class from the improvement of these roads and a gasoline tax affords an easy method of raising and of paying the taxes necessary for this purpose. If you favor the amendment, write your representative or senator at Austin.

For two or three years now the housing problem in Tahoka has been acute, and this condition is growing more serious practically every week. People come to The News office almost every day inquiring for rooms, apartments, or houses in which to live, but they are rarely able to find any. They are compelled to turn away and go to some other town, and some residents of the town have actually moved away because of their inability to find a place to lay their heads when the rented residence in which they live is sold and the purchaser demands possession. A similar situation exists in many other towns, but there is at least one progressive town in this area where the chamber of commerce has secured from the OPA permits for the building of a specified number of houses. We believe that the business men of this town should take the matter up with the proper authorities to have the housing situation here relieved.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY RULING IS EXPLAINED

Mr. Sam Liefeste, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Board, today explained the effect of the Board's announcement that upon request it will recalculate the amount of old-age and survivors insurance benefits available to once-retired workers to include credit for wages received since the benefits were first claimed.

"This action," Mr. Liefeste said, "is intended to take into account the fact that many workers past the age of 65, who have retired and drawn benefits, have gone back to work since the country started its preparation for war. Originally, these workers by filing a claim set their benefits so that they could be moved up or down. But they returned to work unexpectedly, and generally have received higher wages than before. The Board has therefore announced that, in order to meet the intent of the law, their benefits may be recomputed in order to credit towards retirement benefits the wages they received after they had once filed a claim."

To prevent misunderstanding, Mr. Liefeste issued the following cautions:

1. Increased benefits will be available only to workers 65 or older, who have claimed benefits and who subsequently have worked in jobs covered by the Social Security Act and, generally at higher pay than their former average monthly wage. The benefit amounts of widows, orphans or aged persons whose benefits were based on wages up to the time an insured worker's death cannot be changed.
2. Benefits will be recalculated upon request of beneficiary.
3. The law still provides that benefits must be suspended for any month in which the beneficiary makes more than $14.99 on a covered job.
4. There is no need for anybody who has been working in covered employment after he filed a claim to ask for a re-computation of his benefits as long as his average monthly pay stays as high as his average monthly wage between Jan. 1, 1937, and the date he filed his claim. On the other hand, if his average monthly wage starts going down the worker who is 65 should consult the Social Security Board office at once.

For two or three years now the housing problem in Tahoka has been acute, and this condition is growing more serious practically every week. People come to The News office almost every day inquiring for rooms, apartments, or houses in which to live, but they are rarely able to find any. They are compelled to turn away and go to some other town, and some residents of the town have actually moved away because of their inability to find a place to lay their heads when the rented residence in which they live is sold and the purchaser demands possession. How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic cramps.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

SOUTHWESTERN MAKES ITS ANNUAL REPORT

A record investment in savings on the part of Texans is indicated in the 42nd annual report to policy owners of Southwestern Life Insurance Company released here today by C. F. O'Donnell, president, showing the greatest business gains in the company's history since 1928.

Insurance in force at the close of 1944 gained $31,709,407 for a total of $481,718,273. Assets now total $108,940,511, a gain of $10,781,769 over assets reported at the close of 1943.

Mr. O'Donnell announced that the company had invested more than $50,000,000 in United States government securities since Pearl Harbor. This was pursuant to the policy of investing all new premium money in such bonds adopted by Southwestern at the start of war.

Mr. O'Donnell's report noted an expanding interest in pension plans in Texas, through which both large and small business enterprises are providing retirement income for their permanent employees. In this connection he said that since entering this field, the company has underwritten pension business on more than 60 of the 104 plans adopted in Texas.

While military deaths were high, overall statistics compared favorably with the company's five-year record, due to lower civilian mortality. Death claims paid during the year under policies on persons in the armed forces of the nation amounted to $474,858 and the company has $65,500 insurance in force on persons reported missing in action, and $25,500 on persons reported as prisoners of war.

Mr. O'Donnell expressed satisfaction with the 1944 production of the local agency, and said that more than 140 members of the company's agency organization and home office personnel are in the armed service of the United States. Of the original number entering the armed service, three have been reported missing in action, and two have lost their lives while training. "The company," he said "is conscious of the great sacrifice they are making, and is deeply proud of them."

Representing the company locally is Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes.

J. W. GOODELL FAMILY MOVES TO DENTON

J. W. Goodell and family, residents of Tahoka for about three years, have moved to Denton, where Mr. Goodell will serve as engineer for the Soil Conservation set-up, as he has served here.

Mr. Goodell and family left early last week but he came back after a few days and is here this week winding up his official business here. He has rented a residence in Denton but could not get immediate possession and in the meantime they are occupying an apartment in a tourist park.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodell have been very active here in church work, he having been choir leader and B. T. U. director at the Baptist Church and Mrs. Goodell having been president of the W. M. U.

Mr. Goodell is informed that no engineer for the Soil Conservation Service will be sent here immediately as his successor, though one may be transferred here later. The work here will be carried on, however, by the local office force and an engineer in some near-by county will be used when needed.

Mr. Goodell has been serving as engineer for Lynn, Terry, and Yockum counties.

Winter Returns To Plains Area

After weeks of comparatively mild weather, a cold gale swept down from the north early Wednesday morning that drove the mercury that night down to 21, the lowest mark registered for several weeks.

The lowest temperature registered this winter was on the first day dropped down to 16. Twice since it had reached a low of 18.

The gale which came Wednesday morning was soon followed by clouds which overcast the skies and began to spit snow. For a time in the afternoon the fine flakes came thick and fast, but the moisture content was negligible.

For two or three days preceding there had been a fine mist, which brought .09 of moisture, but Tuesday night the skies cleared.

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week, the weather was unseasonably warm, the mercury running up to 80 degrees on Wednesday and to 85 on Thursday.

Catholic Priest Is Rotary Speaker

Father Wm. F. Bakeslee, priest of the St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Lubbock, was the speaker at Thursday's Rotary Club luncheon. Using George Washington, this being the great American's birthday, as his theme, the priest brought a talk that was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

In introducing the speaker, Roy Adams, program chairman, pointed out that the local club had heard many ministers of Protestant faiths, at least one Jewish rabbi, but that this was the first time a representative of the Catholic faith had been before the club.

President Fred McGinty read a letter addressed to the local club from the Rotary Club of Blackburn, Lancashire, England, commemorating the 40th anniversary of Rotary. The letter told something of that town. The local club will answer the good-will message.

PATSY CREWS HONORED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Patsy Crews was honored Monday night February nineteenth with a birthday party at her home. There were nineteen present. The group was entertained by stunts, games and a song by Peggy. Then the guest was served with cake and ice cream.

Those present were: Bill Max and Jimmie Cromer, Eugene and Jimmy Kleth, Thurman Crossan, Orville Ray and Barbara Phifer, Betty Jo and Barbara Jean Brown, Catherine and Nancy Martin, Jean and Gloria Nell Sealy, Billy Watkins, Darline Lowe, Peggy Hemmeline, Dennis Crews and honoree.

MAKES LIQUOR HAUL

A Brownfield citizen paid a fine of $100.00 and costs assessed him in court here for possession of liquor. Arrest was made by the Sheriff's department at a dance hall near here Saturday night. The man had six quarts and another bottle about two-thirds full of liquor in his car when arrested.

NEGRO PLEADS GUILTY

"Rock" Williams, Negro, pled guilty Wednesday and was assessed fine of $100.00 and costs in county court for aggravated assault. He is said to have shot a Negro woman in the leg at a party in O'Donnell Tuesday night.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank those who cared for my grandmother, "Granny" Bailey, during her last illness, and all her friends for every kindness shown me following her death. I appreciate every word of comfort and sympathy spoken and every kindly deed done. Mrs. Roy Curry.

Find Answer to Nazi Bomb Peril

Electronic Brain Is Found Efficient in Records Made in Britain.

WASHINGTON. — One answer to the robot buzz bomb threat to civilization's future is the electronic brain.

This brain is the direction finder used by American artillery to aim and fire guns. The record of the one used by American batteries on England's south coast—three out of every four robots shot down by ground guns—is reported in the Bell Laboratories record, of the Bell Telephone laboratories which built the brain in cooperation with the Western Electric company.

The performance here reported makes it even reasonably possible that electronic brains may be developed faster than terror weapons and that the brains will be a good guarantee against success of any surprise war.

The Bell Telephone brain is known as the M-9 director. It was demonstrated to newspapermen about a year ago, but its internal working is a secret. All American and British anti-aircraft batteries on the English coast had these directors for use against the buzz bombs.

On Normandy Beach. What happened is told by Clarence A. Lovell and Richard R. Hough, of the laboratories, who went to England and Normandy at invasion time. They said that on the English coast the M-9 directors regularly were bringing down 76 per cent of all the buzz bombs which passed through their area.

"When you consider," Dr. Lovell explained, "that the target is traveling at 350 to 450 miles per hour and is only 17 feet wide, and that the range on the average was as far as from the Battery to the Empire State building, that is really some shooting."

Dr. Lovell said that almost immediately after a buzz bomb left its launching place in France, its position was plotted on a big chart.

In a few seconds its course was evident and batteries in its path were alerted. The robot director telescopes would be trained on the path of the buzz bomb and the director would start the shooting as soon as the robot missile was in range—literally one robot fighting another.

The robot bombs had one great disadvantage. They could not dodge, they flew unvarying, straight courses.

Evasive action cuts down the number of hits on conventional planes. A piloted plane has several seconds in which to change course after the firing of a shell which otherwise would hit the plane on the nose.

Even so, the Bell laboratories' robots were getting 25 per cent of the piloted planes they shot at during the time when Lovell and Hough were in Europe. This record was made in Normandy from D-day to the end of June, Dr. Lovell said, and was repeated in July.

The Bell men saw captured German mechanical directors for aiming guns. They said these directors impressed them as of competent design and workmanship. They were told it gave excellent results under certain circumstances, but lacked the flexibility of the M-9 director.

War department press releases show the existence of two types of the Bell laboratories' directors, M-9 and M-10. The M-9 is used on 90 millimeter anti-aircraft guns, the M-10 on the 120 millimeter, or 4.7 inch, anti-aircraft gun which will shoot to 60,000 feet. The director coordinates are different for each type of gun.

The 90 millimeter is a dual purpose gun, used both for planes and for tanks and other ground targets. For ground objects the crew merely turns the telescope on the target and shoots in the shell. The director does the rest.

This gun travels, on its own chassis, 35 miles an hour, can be set up for action in four minutes after stopping, and can fire 20 shots a minute.

SAFETY FIRST
for you and your car!

WARNING! The traffic toll in winter regularly climbs to a peak fifty per cent higher than the summer accident rate.

And this winter, because tires and cars are older, both cars and lives will be wrecked at a rate far faster than ever, unless YOU do something about it!

So take every possible precaution . . . Drive slowly and alertly, because it requires from four to eleven times the usual braking distance to stop a car, without chains, on wet snow or ice . . . Don't close-in on the car ahead . . . Slow down well before reaching crossings . . . And watch out for pedestrians picking their way in hazy twilight or darkness.

At any other time in our nation's history, there would have been something sacrilegious in discussing the saving of cars in the same breath with the saving of human life. To day, however, the country's war effort and depend on an ever-dwindling supply of essential transportation. Lives are important, and so are irreplaceable automobiles.

Do your humane and patriotic part to save lives. Let your Phillips 66 Service Man do his patriotic part to help you save your car.

He has many engineered Tire-Saving and Car-Saving services. Some are free; some carry a small charge for materials and labor. All are a real aid in making your car and your tires last longer and go further.

Drive in at the Orange and Black 66 Shield, the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil. But for safety's sake, drive it-a-w-l-y!

Terry Thompson's Father Dies Suddenly

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Thompson were greatly shocked and grieved when informed by telephone last Friday morning that his father, Erie Thompson of Lubbock, 67, had just died from an attack of heart trouble at his home on 16th street. Death came at 10:35.

They hurried to Lubbock as soon as they could conveniently leave here and also attended the funeral services conducted at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church there with Dr. H. I. Robinson, the pastor, officiating. Burial followed in the Lubbock cemetery.

Mr. Thompson was in his yard when stricken and died within a very brief time. His wife and daughter were also in the yard at the time and they rushed to his assistance, but he was dead almost by the time they reached him. His death came as a great surprise, for he was thought to be in excellent health.

Survivors include the widow, three sons, Terry of Tahoka, Erie Jr. of Hale Center, and La. Tom J. Thompson of the Marines, serving in the Pacific; one daughter, Miss Lola Thompson of the home; one brother, Terry Thompson of Amarillo, and one half-sister, Mrs. W. D. Wilson of Lubbock.

Born in Ellis county, Mr. Thompson came with his parents to the Panhandle while a mere lad. For many years he engaged in ranching on the North Plains and Panhandle and came to Lubbock in 1926. He had acquired considerable farming property on the South Plains and in recent years had given his attention to farming interests rather than to ranching. He was well known throughout the Plains country, and had many friends, who are grieved at his sudden and unexpected passing.

Mrs. Alice Fortenberry returned early Wednesday from El Centro, Calif., where she had gone with her son J. W. late in January. They also visited her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Lawrence at Ogden, Utah, enroute to California. Utah, enroute to California.

NEPHEW IS RELEASED

Friends of A. M. Cade are rejoicing with him over the news that his nephew, Lt. C. J. Russell Jr., was aboard the Gripsholm when it docked at Staten Island Wednesday.

Lt. Russell, who was in the Air Corps, was shot down during a bombing raid over St. Nazaire, in May, 1943, five months later the family was informed that he was a German prisoner. He was one of the fortunate ones in the recent prisoner exchange between the U.S. and Germany.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

Citizens Should Care For Ration Books

Chairman D. W. Gagnat of the Lynn County War Price and Rationing Board today cautioned that ration books are property of the United States government and should not be mutilated. Owners should take the utmost care to see that their ration books are kept in good condition.

Owners should paste back in the book with tape or paste on a piece of plain paper any stamps that might come loose, he advised.

Merchants should not send customers with mutilated books to the local board to ask for a replacement, Mr. Gagnat said, pointing out that this would only cause unnecessary workload on board clerks.

Sgt. Deck Dunagan was here Wednesday of last week visiting his wife, a teacher in the local schools, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dunagan. Sgt. Dunagan was en route east, and this week wrote back that it looked as though he was headed for France. Deck spent many months up on the Alcan Highway in Canada as an Army truck driver.

Sgt. Lloyd T. Boren of Hamilton Field, Calif., recently spent a 15-day furlough visiting relatives here and at Post. He is the son of G. M. Boren of Post and a brother of Mrs. Wheatley of Post, but made his home for about ten years with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carpenter of Tahoka, he being Mrs. Carpenter's brother.

fine Corps Air Facility near here. The young Marine, son of William D. Taylor, Rt. 3, Tahoka, holds the Presidential Unit Citation for the Fourth Marine Air Wing.

He served in the paymaster's office with the air wing for some time prior to returning to the United States for shore duty under the rotation plan for men who have served two years or more overseas.

Taylor reports that he never saw combat, but that he had a mighty long siege of overseas duty in one section. While in Hawaii, he had the unique experience of feasting with a native family several times.

One of the most popular foods of the natives is raw fish. Taylor tried his hand at the delicacy, but promptly shied off, the dish not appealing to his Anglo-Saxon tastes.

Taylor is a graduate of O'Donnell High School, and prior to enlisting January 1, 1942, worked for a hotel.

About Wigs

Encyclopedia Britannica gives us many interesting facts about the use of wigs. Wigs were found on Egyptian mummies. Theatrical wigs were common in ancient Greece, while Hannibal used them as means of disguise. The Romans imported golden hair from German tribes to make wigs for fashionable ladies. Messalina, for instance, put on a yellow wig to visit a house of ill fame. Louis XVIII started something when he put on a wig to hide his premature baldness. All men and women of fashion followed suit but the fad was carried still further. A statue in the Louvre was constructed with a removable wig so it could always be kept in fashion.

New Hormone

A newly-isolated pituitary hormone that regulates the production of antibodies with which the human body fights diseases was recently isolated in pure form. In new studies with it, it was found that this hormone has a highly important role in body resistance against infectious bacteria and poisonous substances. Injection of the hormone markedly increases the rate of production and release of the serum proteins of the blood that normally contain the antibodies which build up resistance against disease.

Powerful X-Rays

X-ray pictures can now be taken through pieces of steel a foot thick, using a new 2,000,000-volt mobile x-ray unit. This doubles the voltage of x-rays available to industry for examination of metal sections to find defects. Up to now the most powerful x-ray unit in general use has been the million-volt apparatus and more than 50 of these are actively serving the war effort in the United States and abroad.

Speaks On China ...

on the Southwest Pacific.

Born in Melbourne, Australia, he became a well-known athlete on that continent, being a football, track, boxing and wrestling, and boomerang star. He has also been a painter of landscapes, an actor, and a writer. For many years, he travelled Australia, New Zealand, Dutch East Indies, and Pacific Islands, Europe, and United Kingdom, and is thoroughly acquainted with many of the lands where American boys are stationed.

He lectured three months at the famous Panama-Pacific Hall, London, England, and also before the National Geographic Society at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Fitch, a native of Michigan but for many years a resident of China, her husband and sons still being in that country, was the first of four speakers appearing here in the International Institute of Understanding sponsored by the Tahoka Rotary Club, assisted by O'Donnell and Post clubs.

She had already spoken in the afternoon to the students of the high school, and expressed her appreciation of the fact that the entire High School Student Council had met her at the bus and entertained her while here.

Mrs. Fitch left no doubt in the minds of her auditors that she is a true friend of the Chinese. During her long residence in China she had had opportunity to study all classes of Chinese people from the highest to the lowest and had come to admire them greatly.

She gave a hasty review of the history of Modern China, and pointed out some of the grave injustices that had been done her by the militarily stronger nations of the world, nations that had obtained "spheres of influence" in China merely to exploit her.

The United States, however, had won the confidence and friendship of China by her just and fair dealing with that country, especially at the close of the Boxer Rebellion when she extended a generous hand and proved her desire to help that unfortunate country by extending educational opportunities to many of her people. Both our business men and our missionaries have contributed to the fund of good will that China has for the American people.

She indicated, however, that China has been somewhat disappointed by us in that we furnished war material to Japan untidily after Japan had begun her war of conquest against China and in that we have not helped China as we should have done since our own entry into the war.

She pointed out that we have sent 80 percent of our lend-lease funds to England, 17 percent to Russia, and one-half of one percent to China. That country has made no better showing in her resistance of the Japs than she has made for the reason that she has not had the arms and the munitions with which to fight. In her armies there is only one gun to every eight men, she declared.

But she believes that China is to play an important role in Asia and the Pacific in the years to come, and that she is destined to become one of the great nations of the world.

Bangs Disease ...

ease and the constant threat this disease imposes on our lives makes its eradication highly desirable. Not only may man contract undulant fever by drinking milk from Bangs infected cows, but any person handling such cows or products derived from them is always in much danger of becoming infected. Thus, the disease in the cow is as important from a public health standpoint as from an animal industry standpoint. It is always a serious disease in man; so much so that public health authorities cannot tolerate the sale of milk from diseased cows without grossly neglecting their duty as guardians of public health.

Cpl. Jack Boren In Italian Hospital

Cpl. Jack Boren, one of the first boys to leave Tahoka for service in the Army in this war, is in a hospital somewhere in Italy but hopes to be released soon, according to news received by his sister, Mrs. Dan L. Carpenter of eight miles north of Tahoka.

Cpl. Boren has been overseas for three years and has seen plenty of action, having been through several invasions and having spent several months on the Anzio beachhead in Italy.

Jack was one of those boys who was inducted into the Army "for a one-year training period," only it didn't work out that way.

He is the son of G. M. Boren of near Post.

Pvt. and Mrs. James B. Rackler have returned to Mineral Wells, where he is stationed at Camp Wolters, after spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. J. P. Rackler of the Gordon community, on a furlough granted him that he might help his mother finish gathering their cotton crop.

Miss Pauline Payne and Mickey Grubbs of Willow Springs, Mo., spent the past two weeks with the latter's parents at Petersburg and sister, Mrs. Clem Mensch, and family of Draw.
