STATE TRACK MEET

Wellington High School's girls 800 meter relay team finished seventh in the state at the 2A UIL finals in Memorial Stadium in Austin on Saturday. At left, Ann Outley takes off on the first leg. Center, Ver-nita Shrubs hands off to Mary Sue Thompson. Right, Jackie Lewis runs the fourth leg.

TAC Gives Final Airport Approval

Wellington City Council and its engineer, O.V. Johnson of Ober J. Engineering, Inc., have been notified that the plans and specifications for Marian Airport improvement have been approved by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

The runway on the newly acquired airport land has been staked, and the last required information on the land titles have been sent to TAC. Beginning work is only days away, according to City Manager Glen Taylor.

Before actual airport construction can begin, city employees must finish two Little League baseball diamonds near the VFW Arena northeast Wellington, and complete the joint Chamber of Commerce, City of Wellington Clean-Up Campaign, May 11 through 15.

The Wellington State Bank, the only bidder, was named the City depository. The bank will pay the city 8 percent interest on certificates of deposit, except money market certificates, which will draw the current rate. At the time of the bid was 14.292 percent.

On loans, the bank will charge 4 percent under the Wellington State prime rate, when the bid was made, with a maximum rate of 15 percent and minimum of 10 percent.

Bill Beall, president, made the bid presentation.

Ray Cozad, who is working with the Little League, Inc., presented the City Council with a check for $1,000 to cover the cost of installing lights on the Senior League baseball diamond, enabling boys in this age group to play night games.

The entire amount was raised on Monday, by donations from Wellington business people. Location of the lights will be staked in accordance with senior league requirements.

Since Senior League and Little League will play on separate diamonds, Little League players are still without lights for their playing ground, some of the mothers have pointed out. Senior League, Little League and Tee Ball are all parts of the official Little

Chamber Slates June Membership Campaign

Chamber of Commerce directors have approved a membership drive, which will kick off following the June 8 meeting. This will be aimed at adding members from the business community but it will also concentrate on new individual members from throughout the county.

Heading the drive will be Johnny Nash. He will select chairmen and workers to serve. Among these will be the board members as well as others outside the board who are active in the organization.

Members voted to retain the present dues structure. Businesses dues are $100 per year, which may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly.

Individual dues are $25, paid annually. Individual membership is open to any person living in the county who is interested in working for its progress and well-being.

A nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Chet Long, chairman, Bill Hatch and Guy Owens. Three regular members and one member to fill an unexpired term will be elected to take office at the July meeting.

Margaret Vines, secretary, reported that the joint Chamber of Commerce-City of Wellington clean-up drive is already bringing results, with townwide cooperation in clearing the city of dead trees and other large junk items that will require special handling.

Tommy Hudson, fair chairman, reported on its progress and Dorothy McGill reported on the Rodeo Dance plans.

Don Reeves reported commitments have been secured for the fair machinery show, and Hudson said that Sgt. Vernon Day will work to secure National Guard equipment for display and to appear in the fair parade.

Present for the meeting were Virginia Robey, president, and Bill Hatch, Don Reeves, Dorothy McGill, Tommy Hudson, Chet Long, Tommy Thomas, Johnny Nash, and Mrs. Vines.

Norwood Land Team Wins 7th in Nation

Samnorwood's FFA land, pasture and range judging team won seventh in the nation at the national finals May 6 and 7 in Oklahoma City.

The Norwood team competed against 80 teams from 30 states in the annual contest which is in its 30th year.

Teams judged surface texture, permeability of soil, depth of soil, slope and erosion on 4 sites.

Norwood's team score was 735. The winning team from Beggs, Oklahoma scored 763 points.

Norwood's individual scorers were Lynn Tate 245, J.D. Ray 226, Dwayne Myers 247 and Russell Schaub 242. The high scoring individual in the contest was a girl, Merrill Jamison from Beggs, Okla., with a perfect score of 280.

Lamesa, Texas took second place and Stanton, Texas took eighth place.

The team went to Oklahoma City on Monday and judged practice sites on Tuesday and Wednesday before the contest on Thursday.

Attending the finals along with the team and FFA advisor Jimmy Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaub and Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Tate.

In other FFA events, Lynn Tate was elected Area Secretary at the Area 1 FFA convention last week end in Amarillo.

Lynn Tate and Dwayne Myers both have applied for Lone Star Farmer degrees and both passed the Area checks and their applications have gone on to state.

In proficiency awards, Stan Tate's soil and water conservation project and Lynn Tate's beef production project both passed area and now go on to state judging.

One of the final events of the year's FFA activities was a Camp Out at the Rudie Tate's Friday, May 1. The chapter awarded two honorary chapter farmer degrees to J.H. Oldham and Doug Coleman at the Camp Out. The awards go to people in the community who have been outstanding in contributing to the community and the chapter.

Ambulance Service Gets Property Title

Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service has obtained complete title to its system, including all property, after a three-year battle spearheaded by County Judge Bob Watson. Ambulance services, in various Panhandle counties joined the effort.

Title to this property, and that of other volunteer ambulances services set up with federal funding, was held by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, but transfer of title to the individual services was stymied by a ruling of the department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Watson, a member and past vice president of Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System making up PEMSS, and representatives of PRPC on Thursday, May 12, when final arrangements for the transfer of titles was agreed to.

Watson reviewed the ownership problem.

At the time these volunteer ambulance systems were organized with purchase of equipment by federal grants, title was held by PRPC. The original contract signed by Watson as Collingsworth ambulance service president, stated that at the end of the grant period, title would be signed by PRPC to the various ambulance entities.

When the grant period ran out, however, HEW refused to permit PRPC to make transfer title, according to Watson.

At about this point, Panhandle Emergency Health Services System was organized and HEW said title should be transferred to that agency.

"Some of the volunteer ambulance services in the Panhandle are having to buy new ambulances and other equipment, and the former arrangement meant that if an ambulance is traded for a new one, title for the new vehicle would remain with PEMSS, even though the local volunteer ambulance service and its supporters paid for it," Watson explained.

Neither PRPC nor PEMSS wanted the ambulances and felt they should be turned over to the people who operate and run the volunteer systems.

Watson said that the possibility of a class action suit against HEW was to be discussed at the Thursday meeting if the property transfer problem was not worked out. The 29 entities concerned include principally ambulances, but some are counties and cities.

Collingsworth Ambulance Service members reacted enthusiastically to the news of the title transfer approval. In addition to the ambulance and equipment secured with the help of federal funding, Collingsworth County, City of Wellington, and various organizations have added life-saving items that make this one of the best equipped ambulances in the Panhandle.

Valerie Van Pelt, left, won second place and Maria Langford took sixth place in state 2A UIL shorthand contests last week in Austin.

Van Pelt, Langford 2nd, 6th at State

Wellington High School junior Valerie Van Pelt won second place in state UIL 2A shorthand contest in Austin last week. WHS senior Maria Langford placed sixth in the contest.

The contest involves taking dictation at 100 words per minute for five minutes and then transcribing the dictation on a typewriter.

Van Pelt had a score of 99.20 (four errors) and Langford had a 96.80 (16 errors.)

The first place winner in division 2A had a score of 99.40, only one error less than Van Pelt.

In shorthand state finals all five divisions from 1A through 5A compete in the same room at the same time, although girls are judged only in their class division.

Shorthand coach Rubye Hodges said that of all sixty entries (12 from each of the five divisions), only three girls had better scores than Van Pelt: the winner in 2A and the winners in 5A and 4A.

"If Valerie had had one fewer error she would have won the contest because she finished in the fastest time, 34 minutes," Mrs. Hodges said.

"The girls did an outstanding job—people do not realize how heavy the pressure is at state contest," Mrs. Hodges said. "To win second and sixth in the state of Texas is a fine accomplishment."

voted approval of Maxwell's purchase.

One car from the Sheriff's Department fleet, a Chrysler which did not work out well in the purpose for which it was intended, will be sold and should bring enough money to purchase the other car, City Manager Glen Taylor said. This will be a test as to how the specially equipped DPS cars work out in the city-county program.

The city buys every fourth car in the city-county law enforcement program, the county buys the others. The city bought its last car in 1976, it was brought out.

Taylor read a letter from HUD commending the city on its efficient use of the $51,000 rehabilitation grant to repair and weather proof houses of low income families.

The council also approved the mayor and council's attending the Problem Clinic for Mayor and Council Members in Lubbock, May 30, and for Taylor to attend the Texas City Managers Association meeting McAllen June 16.

Present for the council meeting were Mayor Ralph Owens, Councilmen Gary Brewer, Rainey and Gragson, City Secretary Nell McKinney, City Manager Taylor, Beall, Cozad and Maxwell.

8th Grade Visits Museum

Wellington 8th grade students had as their end of school outing a visit to Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, Canyon, and Palo Duro Canyon.

"This was a good learning situation, for they didn't realize what the museum was," said Junior High Principal Bob Allen. They were more fascinated by prehistoric relics--bones, artifacts and others, also old cars and horse buggies. They were impressed by the art collection including the Chinese vases and brass bells."

The students had lunch in Palo Duro Canyon, then rode the Sad Monkey Train that runs deep into the canyon. They made full use of the Devil's Slide, with some damage to clothes.

The 8th grade class paid for the gasoline used in the two yellow school buses, Allen pointed out.

Hospital Week Calls Attention to New Equipment 3 in Stat

Collingsworth General Hospital will join others throughout the state in observing this week as Texas Hospital Week, according to Sut Braselton, hospital administrator.

Governor William P. Clements designated Texas Hospital Week as May 10 to 16.

Those wishing to tour the public portion of the hospital may stop at the business desk and ask for him or Charles Harvey, laboratory and x-ray director.

Additionally, Hospital Week honors the dedicated health professionals responsible for the delivery of care as well as hospital governing boards, auxiliaries and volunteers who contribute thousands of hours in the service of their local citizenry.

"Texas is Looking Well into the Future," the theme for Hospital Week, reflects the commitment of hospitals throughout the state to improve the future health and well-being of their communities.

Burglars Active During Weekend

Two burglaries and an attempted burglary of Wellington business houses during the weekend were reported to the Sheriff's Department.

Six HBO boxes were taken from Cablecom General in the second burglary this business has had in recent months.

Two of these were new and the others had been used, said Dorothy McGill, manager.

Entry was gained through a back door, which opens on the alley between the south side of the square and 10th street. The door is immediately across this alley from a street light.

After the first burglary, the screen door was nailed shut, but the burglars jerked this door open, pulling out the nails and breaking the wood frame. A glass pane in the back door was then broken so the burglar could reach inside and open it.

An estimated $28 in money was taken from a petty cash drawer, Mrs. McGill said.

A car stereo unit was taken from Duncan Chevrolet some time Saturday night or early Sunday, Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell said. Entry into the building was gained by breaking glass panes in a window at the back of the building.

In so far as could be determined, nothing else was missing, according to the sheriff.

Jerry Duncan is owner of the business.

Braselton reported 3,472 patient days for the hospital during this fiscal year, which began October 1, 1980. There have been 565 admissions.

The hospital currently has an occupancy rate of 58%. "Most hospitals of this size have under 50% occupancy," said the administrator.

Braselton, who became administrator of the hospital on December 1, reminded people of the area that equipment valued at approximately $90,000 has been purchased and within the last year was delivered recently.

The x-ray machine, valued at $72,000, has been installed. Much of the cost was raised by the people of the county, along with a number of former residents. Trade-in of the old unit and table cut the cost to $58,800, Braselton said.

A portable x-ray machine was bought and put into use before the regular x-ray arrived.

Installation is almost completed on the heart monitor, bought at a cost of $19,700.

Four hospital rooms have been wired so that patients can be monitored. There are two floating units, giving a capability of monitoring six patients at one time.

The monitor is located at the nurse's station.

"Hopefully this will take care of the major purchases we will have for several years," said Braselton.

In addition to these, three pieces of equipment have been acquired on a lease or other similar basis.

The Holtter EKG recorder monitors a patient's heart-beat for 24 hours, while the patient is up and going about his day to day living.

Braselton explained that the recorder, hardly larger than a transistor radio, is worn outside the patient's clothing, while five electrodes are slipped inside a shirt or blouse. The 24-hour recording is sent to Telemed for interpretation.

The hospital leases this for $150 per month plus the cost of interpretations.

A new chemistry machine in the laboratory enables Harvey or his assistant, Paul Bishop, to run 40 different blood chemistries in the hospital. Prior to this, the chemistries were sent to Amarillo, requiring several days of lost time.

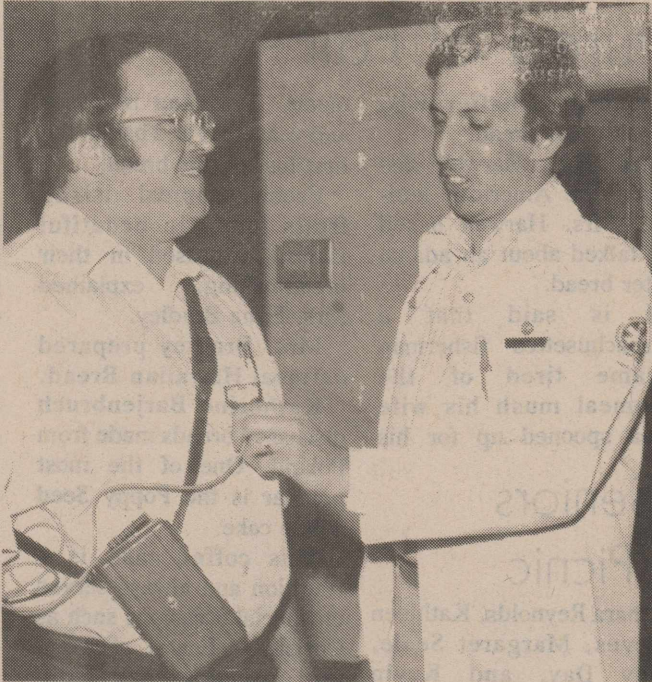

"We buy the reagent used in running the blood chemistries, and the machine is furnished, Braselton said, adding that if the hospital had to buy the machine, the cost would be around $9,000.

The third new machine installed is a Clinicaid Analyzer, which analyzes chlorides and carbon dioxide in the patient's blood.

Maddox officiating. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park. Grandsons were pall bearers.

Surviving are the ten children: J. Roy Wells of Lubbock, Ray C. Wells of Canyon, Arthur Wells of Shamrock, Oscar Wells of Bethany, Oklahoma, Jack Wells of San Bernardino, California, Hall Wells of Waco and Edd Wallace Wells of Ponca, City, Oklahoma, Mrs. Dora Johnson and Mrs. Bertha Mae Derr of Lubbock, and Dr. Louise McCormack of Lewisville; a brother, Monroe Wells of Stephenville; a sister, Mrs. Naomi Smith of Roswell, New Mexico; sixteen grandchildren; twenty-six great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Wells was the grandfather of Dr. Shannon Wells Lucid, one of the first group of women to train as astronauts in the U.S. Space Program.

MOBILE EKG RECORDER

Charles Harvey, director of Collingsworth General Hospital laboratory, prepares to apply an electrode to the chest of hospital administrator Sut Braselton to demonstrate the operation of a new mobile EKG recorder. It enables a patient to go about his routine affairs and is one of the pieces of new equipment added recently by the hospital.

All-Star Cast

Three performers in Wellington's UIL one act play, "Livin' de Life," received all-star cast honors although the play itself did not place in the top three in state competition.

Verita Simon was named to the All-Star Cast and received a state medal.

Paul Estes and Lisa Hartman also received all-star cast honorable mention and were awarded medals.

"It was a really great experience for us," said Gay McAlister, play director. "It was exciting to be down there with students in the casts of all the top schools of the state.

Breads From Around the World Featured at Fair

It may sound strange but its a unique way to teach large groups of people breadmaking with just a few kitchen utensils and very little clean up.

Developed by the Wheat Institute this technique was taught during the Bread Fair at the Farm Bureau Building.

The Bread Fair Committee consisted of Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Tom Schaffer, Edna Bradley, Mrs. E.H. Harwell, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch and Mrs. Randy Motesenbocker under the direction of Jean Chandler, County Extension Agent.

The part of the Bread Fair consisted of breads from around the world. The Bread Fair committee members baked breads from around the world and gave a brief history of the bread and country it was from.

The audience was privileged to sample each bread. Mrs. Ruth Phipps began the program by giving a brief introduction on a bread, a part of one's heritage.

The Egyptians are credited with making bread as we know it today, she said.

Mrs. Cecil Masten talked about Jewish bread; Challah and Bagels. Challah in the early days had a special significance for the opening of the weekly sabbath.

Bagels are unique hard crusted rolls. They are traditionally served with cream cheese and lox (Smoked salmon).

Paulene Bias added that in Swedish the "limpa" means a loaf of bread. To Swedish Americans limpa means a special type of rye bread with grated orange peel in it.

Mrs. Bias discussed Swedish Limpa Bread for Mrs. Tom Schaffer who prepared the bread.

Mrs. E.H. Harwell discussed the American heritage. Mrs. Harwell baked and talked about an adama batter bread.

It is said that a Massachusetts fisherman became tired of the cornmeal mush his wife Anna spooned up for his meals. He added molasses and yeast to it and baked the first loaf of this bread.

Fresh tropical island fruits found in beautiful Hawaii are used in their breadmaking, explained Mrs. Edna Bradley.

Mrs. Bradley prepared oatmeal Hawaiian Bread. Katherine Barjenbruch discussed breads made from Poland. One of the most popular is the Poppy Seed coffee cake.

This coffee cake is a tradition and always served on special occasions such as Christmas, Easter, christenings, weddings and birthdays.

From Germany comes the zwieback added Mrs. Randy Motesenbocker. Zwieback came to this country with the German immigrants around 1874. It is commonly baked on Saturday and eaten all day Sunday.

The second part of the Bread Fair was that of making bread in plastic bags. The audience mixed, kneaded and shaped a loaf of Honey Whole Wheat Bread which they took home to bake.

Those attending the Bread Fair were Mrs. Masten, Annie Caison, Roxie Hill, Mrs. Phipps, Allene Reynolds, Wilma-gene Swift, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Bias, Mrs. Harwell, Burnie Crowover, Mamie Terry, Helen Gribble, Lucile Motesenbocker, Trudie Peters, Lorene Hill, Frankie Duncan, Mrs. Barjenbruch, Glenda Scott, Kathy Forehand, Linda Martin and Mrs. Motesenbocker.

Future Homemakers Among 7,000 at State Convention

Wellington Junior and Senior Chapters of Future Homemakers of America attended the 1981 state meeting of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America, along with over 7,000 members and advisors from across the state.

"Putting It All Together" was the theme of the 1981 State Meeting which was held at the Convention Center, San Antonio, April 30 - May 1.

Attending were Toni Trammel, Sandie Cobb, Stacy Weatherly and LaDonna Murock.

Dr. Robert Lindberg, University of Texas at San Antonio, was keynote speaker at the conference at the Friday morning session. He focused on the family as one basic means of "Putting It All Together."

Brian Hall, an inspiring young man who was a student on the Texas Tech football team, inspired the group and sent them home with a new outlook on the future as he spoke at the Friday night session.

Workshops on topics of concern to young people such as careers, crisis, self-image, dating, birth defects, elderly, peer pressure, and communication was held.

The business of the Texas Association was conducted at the House of Delegates session Thursday evening, followed by a talent show featuring representatives from Areas VI-X. The theme of the show was "FHA/HERO Round-Up."

Future Homemakers who have achieved unusual accomplishments by completing all levels of Encounter, a special growth and development program, were honored at the Friday morning session and a special Friday luncheon.

A state choir, composed of 130 Future Homemakers, was featured. Peggy Bain, choir director, Lockney High School, Lockney directed the group. Toni Trammel was a member of the State Choir.

Installation of the 1981-82 state officers climaxed the Friday evening session. At this time, 11 officers elected through chapter participation throughout the state were placed in office. A newly elected president received the gavel from Donna Alley, Leander, outgoing president.

Garden Club Hears of "Trees of the Bible"

Mrs. Charles Cason, Sr., presented the program, "Trees of the Bible" when the Garden Club met Wednesday, May 6, in the home of Mrs. Charles Michael.

More than forty trees are mentioned in the Bible, she said. The fig tree is the first one mentioned and the cedars of Lebanon were more than 1000 years old. She said the almond tree looks like a peach tree and grows twelve to thirty feet tall, and it is used for cosmetics and medicine. Almond means awaken and watch and is the symbol of God's awareness, she explained.

The president, Mrs. H.L. Jenkins, directed the business meeting. Mrs. Michael gave the devotional and Mrs. Susie Crawford read the collect.

Members answered roll call with each relating what she had accomplished in her yard and garden. The list of members displaying iris arrangements in the windows of businesses downtown was read.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Bill Harbin, Mrs. Woody Wood, Mrs. Cason, Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett, Mrs. Grace Thompson, Mrs. Annie Caison, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Ann Fires, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Mamie Terry and the hostess Gracie Michael and her daughter Kathy.

The group exchanged plants before adjourning.

Parents Honor Seniors At Pioneer Park Picnic

County Government Discussed for Belles Lettres Members

County Judge Bob Watson was the program speaker, discussing county government in Texas, when Belles Lettres Club members met in the Heritage Room Tuesday, May 12.

Mrs. Henry Vaughan was hostess and Mrs. Charles Cason, Sr., presided at the business meeting.

Watson showed a film, "County Government in Texas." He reminded members that county government works to meet the needs of each individual. "There are 254 Texas counties which elect county officials and the county government is the closest government to the individual, and it is controlled by the voters."

The county judge explained that he presides over the county criminal and civil courts, juvenile court, the court which handle alcoholics, probate court and the court dealing with mental cases and commitments to state hospitals. All of these are active in the county, he said.

A major problem coming up is redistricting which must take place in each county. Under the present state law, there must be approximately equal number of minorities in each precinct, Watson said, adding that it will be a costly procedure for the county.

The next club meeting will be on Tuesday, May 26 and will be the last of the current club year. Members may bring guests.

Attending the May 12 meeting were Mrs. J.A. Graham, Mrs. F.A. Hatch, Mrs. A.B. Clark, Mrs. Bill Harbin, Mrs. Joe Thomson, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. Cason, Mrs. Bob Hightower, and the hostess, Mrs. Vaughan.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

AUSTIN — Budget time has come to Austin again.
Every two years, the Legislature makes out the budget for the entire state, and it is really a task.

Every state Agency—about 200 of them—comes to Austin with its hand out.
This year, the money is especially tight. About $2.5 billion in federal funds we are used to getting will not be there. Add the effect of inflation compared to last session, and there is not much left.

Of course, the fact that there is less does not mean that everyone does not want more. Teachers and state employees both want a pay raise, while most state Agencies want to expand their services or at least stay the same. Counties want to keep more of the money they collect and traditionally turn over to the state.

We expect the General Appropriations Bill to run about $26 billion this time.
This is about 18 percent higher than the 1979 budget. Considering the factors mentioned above, it is really no increase at all.
The choices are difficult and most agencies had to sustain budget cuts. West Texas State University and the Panhandle in general sustained a few budget cuts, but when compared to all agencies and institutions in the state, they did fine. We will not have big additions, but we will keep up with the state.

Despite this tight budget, we know there are some things we have to increase.
Teachers' salaries are one example. Education is too important to neglect. The need to hire and retain good teachers must be addressed or our young people could have real problems as we move into the 21st Century.
State employees also have a problem. Texas is having a harder and harder time recruiting and keeping competent employees. While we need to keep a lid on the number of people the state hires, we need to keep our turnover rate low, too.
Turnovers cost money.

We need your guidance as we prepare to spend your money. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P.O.
Box 12068, Austin, Texas

FROM HIS WORD...

"Love is patient, love is kind, and is not jealous; love does not brag and is not arrogant, does not act unbecomingly; it does not seek its own, is not provoked, does not take into account a wrong suffered, does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with truth; bears all things, believes all things hopes all things, endures all things." (1 Cor. 13:4-7)

Do you think that God asks too much of us? Do you think God wants us to give more than we can or should to Him or one another?

Then why would God send Jesus to die for us?
Why would God continue to put up with our selfish, arrogant, and unrighteous lives? REO

LETTERS from the People

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank all the members of the business community for the support they have given to the Wellington Little League program. As the president of the Wellington Little League this year and last many people have contributed their time and resources to aid in the successful program that children have benefited from during this period. I would like to thank everyone who has been so very helpful to me and the Little League program.
Due to personal health and expanding duties in my work it is impossible to give the time and devotion necessary to continue to serve effectively as president of the Wellington Little League. Therefore effective May 12, 1981 I tender my resignation.

I will continue to support and work for the growth of the Little League program in Wellington.

Again I would like to thank the many people and business people who have done so much to make this a successful program. Thank you for allowing me to serve this community and your children.

Sincerely,

Bob Odle

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Both the House and the Senate may have set new appropriations bill records last week—but in different directions.

The House took only three days of floor debate to give final approval to the proposed state budget. Last session the House budget debate lasted well into two weeks.

At the same time, the Senate Finance Committee reported out a proposed budget that is $170 million higher than the constitutional limit. The Senate panel's unorthodox move came after Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, concerned about foot-dragging, appeared before the committee and told it to "get this bill finished."

The Texas Constitution forbids deficit spending, or expenditures in excess of available revenues.

Additional cuts to the Senate version will be made on the Senate floor. The House budget bill is $47.2 million below the expected state income.

The final budget will be shaped later this session in a joint House-Senate conference committee.

House Version

The House added more than $100 million to the bill originally prepared by the Appropriations Committee for a proposed total budget of $26.55 billion.

House members overrode the committee bill to give pay raises to teachers and state employees.

In House debate, teacher pay raises were kicked up from 26.6 percent already in the bill to 27.7 percent over the next two years, an added $24 million. The Senate bill provides for a 26 percent raise.

House members approved an amendment by Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale which added $19.5 million to a pay raise for state employees. If given final approval, it ensures that low level state employees receive a 9.2 percent raise this year.

Also added was $10 million for faculty salaries in state colleges and $2 million for exceptionally intelligent students in public schools.

Also included was a 35 percent pay raise for statewide elected officials, from $51,000 now to $65,700 in 1982 and $69,000 in 1983.

The proposed bill also includes an additional $3.4 million for higher salaries to Department of Public Safety officers and narcotics officers.

House speaker Bill Clayton has been adamant in hurrying the appropriations bill to a finish before the Legislature begins voting on the redistricting bill.

Debate on redistricting will probably begin the third week of May.

New Bills Signed

At the end of last week
Gov. Bill Clements signed into law a bill raising the state's minimum drinking age to 19. The new law goes into effect on Sept. 1.

"Where are all the 18-year-olds?" Clements quipped at the signing ceremonies.

"They're all out drinking while they still can," responded Rep. Henry Allee, a House sponsor.

Clements also signed a bill requiring competency testing and certification of public school teachers. The new law will require college graduates to meet standards set by the Texas Education Agency before they can receive teacher certificates.
Currently certified teachers are exempt from the testing program.

Scalping Bill

A bill outlawing ticket scalping for school sports events was approved in the House.

Sponsored by Dallas Rep.
John Bryant, the bill prohibits buying or selling tickets for more than face value to any athletic event for high schools or colleges.
Bryant sidestepped attempts to include professional sports, explaining he did not want to pick up overwhelming opposition.

A similar bill was approved earlier in the Senate.

Primary Election Changes

The Democratic state steering committee endorsed a bill moving primary elections from May back to July, a schedule used in Texas until 1959 when the law was changed to help Lyndon B.
Johnson's presidential hopes.

Party chairman Bob Slagle won kudos for pushing the endorsement of a bill sponsored by his hometown buddy Rep. Bob Bush, D-Sherman.

If passed, the bill will considerably shorten the political campaign season. Primaries will be held the third week of July, primary run-offs will be held in late August, and general elections will remain at the front end of November.

Proponents argued the current long season is too much for both voters and candidates. A shorter campaign season makes for a higher voter participation and less expensive campaigns.

Slagle won praise for his pragmatic approach to this and other issues, which some believe is healing the rift between the liberal and conservative factions of the Democratic Party.

On May 6, the House approved a $26.55 billion budget after a three-day debate that caused a lot of sparks to fly. A Dallas representative and I teamed up to knock a requested $2 million off the bill for a solid waste disposal pit for the City of Irving. We suggested the City of Irving do as the other cities of the State have done -- pay their own way using the $3 million they collected in the one cent city sales tax in 1980.
When we finished, the Irving Representative pulled his Amendment down. I also discovered the religious colleges of the State had given out (over the last two years) $1.3 million in grants to out-of-state students. I successfully placed a rider on the bill prohibiting this. I followed with an Amendment to cut their $36 million budget by 5 percent over the next two years. This failed by an overwhelming vote. I am convinced this matter should be taken to the Courts and totally prohibited. Many of the Representatives of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas (ICUT) strongly oppose furnishing text books to parochial schools on the basis of separation of church and state. This program started in 1972 with less than $1 million of state tax money approved.
They requested $45 million for the next 2 years. The House held it to $36 million.
I will bet my life the Senate version will have $45 million in it for this. The compromise between the House and Senate version will result in a figure higher than 36 million. The Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee is from Abilene where several of the religious institutions are located. At least we have stopped them from pumping $1,300,000 to out-of-state students. $26 million of our tax dollars went to these religious colleges over the last two years. The sad thing is we sent $1,300,000 to out-of-state students. This is one of the reasons I am for Initiative and Referendum.

This would be thrown out at the ballot box. The heads of ICUT have to sign a statement "We do not adhere to any particular religious belief in our hiring practices."

Wayne Peveto has come out with a 110-page, band-aid bill for his S.B. 621 that was passed in the 1979 session in hopes of patching up this big mistake. We have had a few calls asking us not to support H.B. 602 by Lynn Nabers. This would repeal the Peveto bill that has caused chaos in the local ad valorem taxes of the State. But, right, now, our phone is ringing off the hook saying get rid of the Peveto bill. Just about every rural legislator voted against this Peveto bill in 1979. It was the big city legislators with Governor Clements' endorsement who got its narrow approval in 1979. The House approved it by two votes and the Senate by one. Now it is the city legislators (who voted for the bill in 1979) who are shaking in their boots. The people, connected with the taxing entities from the big cities (who lobbied the Peveto bill through in 1979) testified before our Constitutional Amendments Committee on several bills to give relief.
All 4 legislators carrying legislation voted for the Peveto bill in 1979. The smaller counties have not had as much trouble as the larger ones. The sad thing is that much of the work that some counties have done with one common appraisal district could have been done before the Peveto bill was passed. The fact is, a number of taxing entities were already in the process of using the date from an another entity appraisal.

The City of Pampa has provided the basic apprais-als for both the county and the Pampa Independent School District for years in a most satisfactory manner.

U.S. Congressmen and Senators have to stand for their decision with reference to taxing and spending matters.

Legislators of Texas also have to stand for their decision in spending and tax matters.

But, the supporters of the Peveto bill make no bones about telling you we have insulated the appointed boards that set your taxes on the local level.

This is counter to the philosophy of a democracy. I believe it is counter to the philosophy of most of the tax paying citizens in my district. It is also counter to my philosophy.

your filter can get dirty, clogged, waste energy...

but a clean filter
saves energy, money.

The purpose of a filter on your air conditioning or heating air blower is to help catch dust and dirt before it can enter your unit. In time, the filter will accumulate dust and dirt... if it gets clogged, it can't do the cleaning job it's supposed to and uses more electricity. To avoid damage to your unit and to save energy and money, be sure filters are clean. Permanent types can be cleaned according to the manufacturer's instruction. Non-permanent types should be replaced. It is wise to check filters every 30 days.

Little League Begins Sale Of Spices

Little League baseball players have begun their money raising drive to help provide lighting and fencing for the Little League fields at the rodeo arena, according to Bob Odle, retiring president.

Approximately 75 youngsters are participating. They are trying to raise in the neighborhood of $7,000, for it will take that to bring the field up to the standard of Little League, Inc., he emphasized.

Each child can work for a prize, and its value will be determined by the number of bottles or boxes of spices he sells. And that in turn will depend on the players' motivation. "This is not a donation," Odle stressed. "It is an excellent product with practical use," he added.

County Gets $178 Mixed Drink Tax

Collingsworth County received $178.16 as its 15% remittance on the state's mixed drinks sales tax during the first quarter of 1981, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday, May 4.

The total mixed drink tax revenue for the county during this period was $1,187.72.

Of the total $28.5 million collected in taxes on the sale of mixed drinks during the first three months this year, the counties and cities received $8.2 million or 10 % of the total, as their share. The remaining 20.2 million of the tax money goes to the state's general revenue fund.
