Reds Thrust Deeper Into South China

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Saturday, May 14 — The Chinese Communists declared yesterday they had thrust into Fukien, the southeast province opposite Formosa.

The Communist radio broadcast came as Red forces drove toward Shanghai's last air and sea links with the world—Lungwha airport and the Woosung harbor entrance.

The Reds asserted they had "liberated" Chungan. This is the frontier town of northern Fukien province to which the Nationalists said they sent reinforcements several days ago.

(Chungan is 12 road miles inside Fukien. It is about 150 miles northwest of the important seaport of Foochow.)

Progress Appears Slow

The air was full of rumors concerning operations around Shanghai. One unconfirmed report said Communists in this area had been reinforced by 100,000 troops from Gen. Lin Piao's Red armies of Manchuria.

For all that, the progress toward Shanghai in the past 24 hours did not appear to be great.

Explosions could be heard throughout the day as Shanghai's more than 5,000,000 residents plodded about their business through a muggy rain.

The Chinese Nationalist garrison said the blasts were due to demolitions at the outskirts, where defenses were being erected.

Airline pilots said that from the air they could see small-arms fire a scant 15 miles from Lunghwa, which is 10 miles south of the center of Shanghai (and only four miles from the city's outskirts.)

Censorship Tightened

On the northwest the Reds closest approach appeared to be near the village of Tainsang. This is about 20 miles from Shanghai and somewhat less from Woosung, the fortified mouth of the Whangpoo river, 10 miles north of Shanghai. The Whangpoo, which pours into the Yangtze estuary, is Shanghai's only outlet to the sea. Nationalist Shanghai could not live if it were cut.

(Hampson's account, while detailed in some respects, contained fewer mileage references than usual. Tom Lambert, AP correspondent who flew from Shanghai to Hong Kong during the day, reported censorship by the Nationalist garrison was growing steadily tighter.)

Loss of Lunghwa airport would cut Shanghai's airlink. There are three other fields (one southeast and two north of Shanghai) but all are more exposed than Lunghwa.

U.S. May Lose Fight For Eisler's Return

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13—U. S. efforts to recapture Gerhardt Eisler tonight appeared likely to be thwarted by the captain of a Polish ship on which the Communist fugitive stowed away.

A radio report from the vessel quoted the captain, Jan Cwiklinski as saying: "I will hand him in Gdynia."

That is the Polish port where the Batory is headed after it puts into Southampton.

The Polish mariner gave that reply to CBS correspondent Richard Yaffee who is aboard the Batory. Yaffee reported to his New York office that he asked the captain what he would do "if the United States requests delivery of Eisler at Southampton?" He said the Pole answered:

Leaves Wife Behind

"The United States authorities must take that up with the Polish diplomatic service. I can do nothing without permission from my line and our own diplomatic authorities."

Leaving his wife behind, Eisler fled as a stowaway aboard the Polish liner Batory on May 6. The ship is due off Southampton, England, tomorrow enroute to Gdynia, Poland.

The Justice department announced that Mrs. Eisler, 37, a native of Poland, was re-arrested in New York this morning and held for deportation. She had been at liberty, without bond, on charges of being illegally in this country.

U. S. Views Challenged

One reason for her re-arrest is that the government wants to question her about her husband's flight.

The legal haggle over Eisler's return—or escape to his native Germany — revolves around these factors:

1. The FBI says it has asked Britain's famed Scotland Yard to meet the Batory and take Eisler into custody as a "stowaway."

Justice officials have asked the State department to seek quick extradition authority from the British government, and have ar-

Harris' Crusading Constable Plans To Seek Sheriff's Post

HOUSTON, May 13 (AP) — Constable Dale Richardson of La Porte's lone ranger, will run for sheriff of Harris county.

This was Richardson's reply tonight to a county grand jury investigation report which earlier today questioned the motives behind his gambling raids in Houston and other areas outside his La Porte precinct.

"I'm announcing right here and now that I'm going to run for sheriff—for one reason," Richardson said tonight.

Promises Cleanup

"That reason is to show the good people of Harris county their county can be cleaned up and to prove to them the raids I've been making are the beginning of that clean-up."

This morning the grand jury, in a special report to district Judge Frank Williford on its investigation of Richardson's activities, said the constable had been making only token raids accompanied by fanfare and publicity.

There were no indictments and Richardson immediately replied: "Put up or shut up."

"Indict me if I have done wrong," he said, "stop talking about me if you can't prove anything."

Report Is Scored

Tonight he said:

"That grand jury report was full of distortions of fact and was completely one-sided. I think I have the support of the good people of the county."

"It's early to announce for sheriff (the elections will be next summer) but I want to hear from the people and find out if they're behind me."

The Constable pointed out that he and his friends have

Plane Crashes Into Section Of Kansas City Ball Park

KANSAS CITY, May 13 (AP)—A plane crashed into the enclosure at the end of the grandstand at the Kansas City Blues stadium tonight, just as the Minneapolis-Blues game finished.

None of the crowd leaving the stadium was injured, according to first reports from the stadium. The size and type of the plane was not known immediately.

Damage Light In Twisters

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, May 13—Five tornadoes danced maliciously in the plains northeast of here today and dissolved after one destroyed a ranch house and another hit utility lines northwest of the town of Panhandle.

Heavy rain and hail—hard on the wheat crop—accompanied the first twister, said to be the biggest of the five.

It demolished the six-room house of Earl Williams on the Purvines ranch 25 miles northeast of here.

Residents Flee Panhandle

The second tornado knocked out all telephone circuits to Panhandle when it hit just northwest of the town of 378 population. Residents of the town saw the twister coming and headed in the opposite direction. But Mrs. C. F. Hood told The Pampa News the wind veered to the north and there was no property damage in town. Panhandle is about 28 miles northeast of here.

The Amarillo Globe-News said the other three tornadoes skipped about in the ranch and wheat country and broke up without doing any reported damage.

No injuries were reported from any of the five.

Rescued Wife, Daughter

Williams was at the home of his brother, Lewis, two miles away, when the first tornado tore down his house. He hopped into a jeep, raced home, rescued his wife and daughter, Kathryn Sue, 10, then drove away, watching the debris of his house whirl crazily in the air.

Although Panhandle proper escaped damage a few small houses on the edge of town suffered, and a farm two miles west of town was hit. The wind tore down a barn and damaged the farm house but did not destroy it. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ware and their two daughters dashed from the house into a storm cellar in time to escape injury.

The tornado which hit utility lines knocked out power to Claude, Conway, and Panhandle for two hours.

Wm. J. W. Waggoner of Claude, who made a trip after the storm to Panhandle, said he saw on his way back many autos with the fronts caved in—"They ran into the backs of other autos as they

Plane Lands In Plowed Field

LEVELLAND, May 13. (Special) Two Air Force pilots from Lowry field, Denver, made a successful emergency landing in a field near here at 9:15 o'clock tonight after their plane, an AT-6 ran low on gas in a severe rain storm.

The plane, piloted by Lieuts. H. M. Dunlap and William S. Hartley, both of Denver, suffered only minor damage as it overshot the air strip at the Levelland airport and landed in a plowed field a quarter-mile beyond. A small fire in the engine was quickly extinguished after landing.

Residents Aid Landing

The fliers were aided by Levelland residents who drove to the field and turned on their car lights when it became evident the pilots would attempt a landing. The plane had buzzed the town several times and blinked its lights.

The fliers were on a routine cross-country hop to a point north of Amarillo when they ran into bad weather and were forced off course. They are expected to attempt a take off sometime Saturday.

Youth Seriously Hurt In Bike-Car Mishap

Barry Buchanan, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Buchanan of 2406 Main, was seriously injured about 3:45 p.m. Friday when his bicycle was struck by a car at Twenty-fourth and Ave. Q, police reports showed.

The boy was rushed to Lubbock Memorial hospital by Paul Foster, driver for Bryant taxi, and attendants treated him for a fracture of the right leg below the knee and multiple bruises. Both bones in the leg were broken, it was reported.

The car, driven by Ollie Franklin Lawson, 46, of 2801 Thirty-fourth, was going north on Ave. Q when the accident occurred, and the bike was proceeding east on Twenty-fourth. The car, which skidded 63 feet before the impact, struck the bicycle on the right side, police reports indicated.

No charges will be filed in connection with the collision, the investigating police patrolman indicated.

Cut In Margin Requirements On Stock Purchases Announced

WASHINGTON, May 13 (INS)—The Federal Reserve board announced today that margin requirements for purchases of stocks under special subscription rights will be cut from 50 to 25 per cent effective Monday.

The board March 30 reduced down payment requirements on regular stock purchases from 75 to 50 per cent but made no change at that time on special options.

The new credit terms provide that subscription purchasers must pay another 25 per cent of the total cost in cash within nine months to be eligible for further purchases at 25 per cent down.

Today's action applies both to original holders and subsequent buyers of subscription rights.

Reds Claimed Not Living Up To Agreement Terms

Soviets Make New Demands At Four-Power Parley In Berlin

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

BERLIN, May 13—An East-West dispute on the second day of the blockade-lifting prompted a Berlin Four-Power conference tonight—the first since July 1 when the Russians quit the city-governing Kommandatura.

Larry Wilkinson, the U. S. representative said the meeting was called at Russia's request and added:

"The Russians want a lot which they never had on March 1, 1948, or anytime before.

"We are attempting to give the Soviets satisfaction without giving away our shirts."

Clay Appears Optimistic

The Four-Power agreement reached in New York was that all traffic restrictions by either side imposed since March 1, 1948, should be removed in Germany.

The Western Allies and West Berliners themselves are accusing the Russians of failing to abide by all terms of the agreement. This was apparent yesterday, the first day of the blockade removal.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, retiring U. S. military governor, sought earlier to calm rising tempers by telling newsmen that the four power agreement "is being carried out in good faith on both sides."

(At Washington, Clay reported to the State department by trans-Atlantic telephone today that Russia's removal of Berlin blockade resrictions is "wholesale and in good spirit."

Germans Disappointed

(Clay's telephonic message to Ambassador Robert Murphy was considerably calmer than dispatches from the German metropolis, which reported charges and counter-charges of bad faith between the Western Allies and Russia.)

But Gustav Klingelhoefer, German economic chief of the West Berlin city government, declared German officials are bitterly disappointed at the still-operative restrictions on free trade between Berlin and other zones.

Klingelhoefer condemned Western Allied acceptance of the March 1, 1948, date in the agreement, and said this enabled the Russians to retain all those controls which existed before.

Reds "Pulled Fast One"

Under the present set-up, he said, the Russians are requiring special permits for the movement of goods out of Western Berlin, and German firms are afraid their exports will be confiscated.

West German newspapers said "to put it mildly the Russians pulled a fast one on the Allies."

Wilkinson declined details of the Soviet demands, but they reportedly include a steep increase in deliveries of West German coal, steel, and finished products which West Germany needs for coveted dollar-earning exports.

The Western Allies, in seeking removal of Soviet control over West Berlin exports of electrical and other equipment, also want an increase in the number of trains allowed into Berlin.

The Western Allies claim that the limit of 16 daily is inadequate and say the Helmstedt-Berlin single line easily can handle a total of 30 daily.

The Allies in pre-blockade days sent 21 trains daily into Berlin, including five passenger trains.

The 16 pre-blockade trains carried a total of 12,000 tons of supplies daily; the Soviet limitation of freight trains means a total of only 5,800 tons.

The Four Power delegates will meet again tomorrow.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION STIFLES WEST BERLIN

BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—Substitute the word depression for blockade and you have Western Berlin's economic problem today. The blockade is lifted but Berlin is down.

The Russian siege of almost 11 months threw Berlin into a cycle of acute business depression. Now both money and supplies are short.

UAW OFFERS PEACE PLAN

Government Threatens To Step Into Ford Walkout

By ED TORONTO
INS Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, May 13—The UAW-CIO tonight offered its first "crystalized" proposal for settling the nine-day-old Ford strike, shortly after the government threatened to intervene if negotiations fail.

The union handed management negotiations a written, "down-to-earth" formula for ending the walkout of 62,000 Ford Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury employes which has idled 150,000 wage earners nationally.

Ford's labor relations director, John S. Bugas said significantly:

"This is the first crystalized written proposal from the union."

Declines To Comment

He declined to comment further on it, however.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther buoyed hopes of imminent peace with the statement that:

"The union has submitted a specific and detailed proposal for settlement of the dispute . . . upon receipt of this proposal the company raised certain questions which we answered."

The labor leader said the union's position represents a "down-to-earth approach" to the speedup issue.

Reuther said the company requested the recess to study the new proposals.

Ching "Concerned"

This significant development coincided with a warning from Washington that the federal government is preparing to step into the picture unless there is some progress in the bargaining within "a reasonable length of time."

Federal Meditation Chief Cyrus Ching expressed concern over the "grave consequences" growing out of the strike.

Ching said, however, he will not assign meditators to the case while bargaining continues.

Bugas told International News Service "this is the first I have heard about the government intending to intervene."

Seven More Fired

He added:

"I prefer not to comment until I know more about it."

Reuther affirmed that Ching presumably is "taking that posi-

Nebraskan Made Navy Secretary

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Francis Patrick Matthews, Nebraska lawyer and businessman, is President Truman's choice to succeed John L. Sullivan as secretary of the navy.

The nomination of the prominent 62-year-old Roman Catholic layman went to the Senate today. It came as military and congressional circles still buzzed with Sullivan's wrathful resignation.

The date of Sullivan's retirement has been left to him. He let fire two weeks ago over the treatment of the Navy department under the new secretary of defense, Louis Johnson. Writing Johnson, he contended Navy plans were restricted without consulting Navy officials, as he denounced Johnson's cancellation of a huge aircraft carrier, apple of the Navy's eye.

An airing of the situation has been promised in the House Armed Services committee.

At Omaha, Matthews told reporters that he recognized unification of the armed forces as the big problem. He believes, he said, that Navy prestige need not be impaired in the process. He promised to maintain naval traditions.

Heavy Fine Assessed On Liquor Violation

LITTLEFIELD, May 13 (Special)—A fine of $1,000 and a 60-day jail sentence were assessed here today against Jimmy Spencer, 24, of Plainview, by a county court jury which found him guilty of transporting liquor in a dry territory.

The trial, in the court of County Judge Otha F. Dent lasted throughout most of the day, and the jury returned the guilty verdict late this afternoon after deliberating for about an hour and a half.

Spencer was arrested by the Lamb county sheriff's department and members of the Texas Liquor Control board near Springlake on Feb. 4. He allegedly had in his possession two cases of gin, two of wine and seven of whiskey.

Grady Fox, of Amarillo, and Billy Hall, of Littlefield, attorneys for the defense, had not announced whether or not they would seek a new trial. County Attorney Bob Kirk prosecuted for the state.

Seminole Hit By Hailstorm

SEMINOLE, located in Gaines county southwest of Lubbock, was the latest victim of the South Plains' "unusual" weather pattern Friday night as a sharp hail and rainstorm pounded the town for almost an hour, damaging roofs, cars and windows.

Hailstones as large as "goose eggs" fell over most of the Seminole business section during the violent downpour, battering roofs, autos and shattering some glass windows.

David L. Watson, publisher of The Seminole Sentinel, said large stones knocked many holes in the roof of his office, and at one time the ground was covered nearly an inch deep with averaged sized hailstones.

Several Areas Hit

The hailstorm at Seminole apparently was the heaviest blow of numerous thunderstorms which flashed and rumbled over the South Plains Friday night.

Electrical disturbances created quite a show over Lubbock about 9 p. m., a thunderstorm hitting the city about an hour later. The thunderstorm dumped a measured .25 inch at the Lubbock Weather station at Municipal airport. A shower fell in downtown Lubbock at the same time. The weatherman said this brought total precipitation at the station Friday to .54 inch.

The total for the year at the station now stands at 13.85, a total of 6.12 of that falling since last Friday night.

More Rain Seen

The forecaster said partly cloudy skies and scattered thundershowers will continue today and Sunday, with slightly cooler temperatures expected Sunday.

Friday's scattered thunderstorms hit the South Plains shortly after five tornadoes were reported in the Amarillo area.

At Seminole Mayor D. H. Starling said that he had placed stones as large as eggs in his freezer unit folowing the heavy storm. He said that he was unable to estimate damage but said that due to the relatively scattered fall of the large hailstones damage probably would not run "very high."

Floyd D. Stark, weather observer at Seminole, reported that the storm moved in from the northeast shortly after 8 p. m. and that

$1,000 In Fines Assessed Here

Junior McKaskle, 25, of Lubbock, was fined $200 and county court costs Friday in each of five charges of liquor law violation to which he entered pleas of guilty.

The assessments however, were deferred by County Judge Walter Davies—deferments ranging from two months in one case to five months in each of the other four cases.

McKaskle also is under federal charge of having carried on the business of a retail liquor dealer without having paid the prescribed special tax.

Woman Placed On Probation

Moreover, officials said, his car has been seized for forfeiture to the alcohol tax unit of the federal government.

Kathleen Powell, 20, of Lubbock and Wichita Falls, Friday afternoon pleaded guilty of felony swindling by worthless check and was sentenced to five years. However, Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court placed her under probation for the period of the sentence.

Melvin Dean Barton, 24, of two miles northwest of Pep, pleaded guilty of forgery in two cases and was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary in each, the sentences to run concurrently.

No announcement had been made as to whether he will be tried in two or three other South Plains counties on similar charges. Restitution had been

Abilene Posts New Record For Safety

ABILENE, May 14 (Saturday) (AP)—Abilene at midnight set a new national safety record with 702 days without a city traffic death.

The record of 701 days, set by Schenectady, N. Y., was tied at Thursday midnight.

More than 4,000 persons crowded into Blue Sox stadium last night for a program climaxing a celebration of the achievement.

Col. Homer Garrison, head of the Texas Department of Public Safety, represented Gov. Beauford Jester.

"If all Texas had been as cautious as Abilene in traffic safety, 1,100 more of its citizens would be alive today," he told the crowd.

34 Overcome By Fumes In Tunnel

NEW YORK, May 13 (INS)—Thirty-four persons were overcome today when carbon disulphide drums on a truck exploded in the under-water Holland tunnel and turned the 90,000-foot tube into a poison gas chamber.

Twenty persons, most of them motorists caught in the Hudson river tunnel by the explosion and fire, received emergency treatment and were sent home.

Eight tunnel police and firemen were sent to the Jersey City medical center and six others were removed to New York hospitals.

The explosion, occurring during traffic rush, ignited the truck carrying the drums and touched off four other trucks.

One truck carried ammonia, and ammonia fumes also were fanned throughout the tunnel.

Tunnel Is Damaged

Altogether, 12 to 14 vehicles caught fire and burned fiercely in the dimly-lit tube. The dull boom of exploding drums could be heard at the Jersey end of the tunnel more than three hours after the accident.

Man Injured Near Sudan As Car Strikes Concrete Culvert

SUDAN, May 13. (Special)—Les Glasscock, 38, of Sudan, was injured shortly after noon today when his car smashed into a concrete culvert on the highway four miles southeast of here.

He was brought to South Plains Co-operative hospital here, where it was found that he had suffered a broken right ankle, a deep gash on the right leg and minor facerations and bruises.

Investigating highway patrolmen from Littlefield said Glasscock was traveling northwest from Amherst to Anton just prior to the mishap. The car, a 1936 Ford, was completely demolished, they said. No other vehicle was involved.

Red Attempts To Smuggle Spies Into U.S. As DP's Is Charged

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13—Red-haired Elizabeth Bentley, confessed ex-Communist spy queen, charged today that Russia is secretly trying to smuggle agents into the United States through the displaced persons program.

Miss Bentley, star witness in House spy hearings last summer, also told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee she believes the Soviet Union is "intensifying" its American espionage activities.

In a surprise appearance before the committee, which is investigating subversive activities by aliens in the U. S., Miss Bentley said that the "Russians were stepping up espionage when last I saw them." She added:

"In my opinion, they are intensifying it now because they know it is utterly vital to them to have this information."

Miss Bentley testified that in some instances the wives of war refugees are being held behind the "iron curtain" as "hostages."

She said that the backbone of Russia's spy network in America could be shattered if the U. S.

TOWN WON'T BE A 'WHISTLE STOP,' MAYOR WARNS

Streamliner Is Greeted By Shrieking Whistles, Band Music During 'Conditional' Stop At Electra

(By The Associated Press)

ELECTRA, May 13 — The streamlined Zephyr stopped a few minutes here today to the shriek of whistles and the music of bands.

It was "whistle stop memorial day" in this little North Texas town. When the train pulled in it found a square-dancing, celebrating crowd estimated at 3,000 persons or more.

Mrs. F. D. Brasfield, wife of the chamber of commerce president, led a group of women who put aboard the Fort Worth and Denver streamliner 40 or 50 cakes shaped like coaches.

Passengers were given flowers and they waved them as the train pulled out.

There wasn't much speechmaking while the train was stopped. There wasn't time. Mayor T. Leo Moore, who rode it from Dallas with 19 other passengers, had difficulty in pushing through the crowd. He reached the speakers platform just as the train pulled out, had time only to say before it left:

"We are going to win. We're not going to be a whistle stop."

Right behind the mayor as she stepped off waving his hat was Joe Steadham, state representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Moore told the crowd that Steadham would appear at a Dallas court hearing with an Electra delegation tomorrow.

The Zephyr's stop here—and at Chillicothe, some 40 miles up the line, were conditional stops, made because long-haul passengers for the two towns were aboard.

A crowd estimated by Mayor R. T. Ferguson of Chillicothe at "several hundred" was at the station there while the Zephyr stopped about three minutes.

The railroad had won its con-

Bits of the plane's wreckage recovered from Alabat island, 70 miles southeast of Manila, indicated the tail section of the craft had been torn by an explosion.

Police sought the identity of a man who placed a 45-pound box supposedly containing fish aboard the plane at its last stop, Daet.

State Department Says Franco Is Poor Moral, Financial Risk

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

General Franco's Spanish government is in serious trouble, needs a minimum of about $200,000,000 worth of machinery, 300,000 bales of cotton and 30,000,000 tons of wheat from the United States at the moment, and perhaps $750,000,000 for a long range economic program.

U. S. exporters would like to see credits set up so the sales could be made. U. S. military authorities, although not making much noise, would like to see Spain included in the Atlantic pact as an invaluable base in case of war.

The State department says Franco is neither a good moral nor financial risk. Other observers point out: That as a military ally he would be extremely expensive. That his transport and communications system would have to be completely modernized at great expense if Spain were to be of any great use in a war. That his 350,000-man army lacks modern arms and that the 1,500,000 men he claims he could mobilize in an emergency would have to be completely equipped from abroad. In a crisis he would be worth it. As preparedness for the off-chance it might not. And Franco's evasion of his debts to Italy and Germany is remembered.

Secretary Acheson says Franco is a relic of the Hitler-Mussolini era, that his people are deprived of the basic human rights which make the difference between free Europe and the iron curtain countries, and that there is therefore no basis at present for cooperation.

He leaves unsaid the prime thought that American cooperation with Spain now, although it might lay some groundwork for democracy, would actually strengthen Franco's hold on the nation for the present.

And there is a possibility that, without aid, something may happen to Franco.

Not that there is much chance for any popular uprising, or for the exiled monarchists and republicans who oppose him. But Franco could be losing out in his own official family which, like political families everywhere, tends to fall apart as the leader loses his ability to support them in the manner to which they have become accustomed.

Woman Is Charged In Fatal Beating Of 'Jealous' Infant Son

HAZLETON, Pa., May 13 (INS) — A college-trained woman psychologist and choir singer was charged today with beating to death her curly-haired 15-month-old son while trying to cure him of a "Freudian jealousy complex."

She is Mrs. Martha Woodson Kalwaic, 26, a socially-prominent Hazleton woman, expecting another child in two months. Luzerne county District Attorney Leon Schwartz said the charge against her "is murder."

Mother Admits Beating

Schwartz said Mrs. Kalwaic, wife of a dentist, admitted banging the head of her son, Henry Charles, against the floor and "thumping him" in the stomach to eliminate the "complex"—one common to children where one child is jealous of the affection shown another by a parent. He also quoted her as saying:

"I did love him very much—I did not mean to hurt him crucially."

Henry Charles died yesterday two hours after being admitted to a hospital. The body of the boy, according to Coroner L. S. Reese, "was in the worst condition I have experienced in my ten years as coroner."

Jealousy Complex Cited

Hazleton Police Chief Steve Havrilla said the woman indicated Henry Charles flew into crying tantrums because he had a "Freudian jealousy complex" about the mother's attentions toward his two-and-a-half-year-old sister, Karen.

Officials quoted the mother as explaining:

"I felt it was desperately important that he be broken of the habit of crying before I sent him to my sister."

She told Schwartz she intended to send the boy to the home of a sister during her expected confinement. The sister was unidentified.

Statements Blast Rumors New Hotel To Be Built In Lubbock

Persistent and recurring rumors that the Baker Hotel corporation of Dallas plans to build a hotel in Lubbock and has taken option to property apparently are untrue and the result of "wishful thinking," it appeared Friday.

For some time the rumors persisted that the corporation had taken option to property now owned by A. B. Brown of Lubbock on the southwest corner of Broadway and Ave. N.

Mr. Brown said Friday that he has given no option to the five lots he owns. The property is designated as lots 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, block 128, original town.

In Dallas, Fenton Baker, president of the Baker Hotel corporation, told The Morning Avalanche by long distance telephone that he has no plans for a hotel in Lubbock. He also said that his cousin, who operates the Baker in Mineral Wells and the Gunter in San Antonio, also has no plans for Lubbock at present.

Lubbock Company To Design Road Project In New Mexico

CLOVIS, N. M., May 13 (Special) —Mayor Bob Vineyard of Clovis and the city council have awarded a firm of Lubbock engineers the contract to design a paving project that may run as much as half a million dollars, City Manager Marvin Haas announced Friday.

Hasie and Green Engineering company of Lubbock was selected to design and supervise the work, Haas said. Partners in the firm are Coleman L. Hasie and George Green.

The project will see the paving of 200 blocks of Clovis streets. Concrete curb and gutter and hot-mix asphalt surface treatment are planned.

The job was the second major New Mexico project snared by the Lubbock company in as many weeks.

Last week the New Mexico State Highway commission awarded a $1,000,000 urban highway system at Las Vegas to Hasie and Green. The project involves six miles of four-lane highway in the city, said Burton Dwyer, state highway engineer.

Senator Assails Atomic Energy Group For Student Aid Grants To Known Communists

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13. —Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) threatened today to seek a change in the law if the Atomic Energy commission doesn't deny student aid funds to Communists and fellow travelers.

Hickenlooper told a reporter he sees "no excuse" for the commission's contributing about $3,600 yearly toward science studies by Hans Freistadt, admitted Communist doing graduate work in physics at the University of North Carolina.

Freistadt, described by Rep. Cole (R-NY) in the House yesterday as a friend of John Gates, Communist under indictment in New York, said in an interview he became a Communist after he was naturalized as a citizen several years ago. He is a native of Australia.

Work Not Secret

He was awarded an Atomic Energy commission (AEC) fellowship for study in the field of relativity, not involving work of a secret nature.

"Nothing was said in the application for the scholarship about political affiliation," Freistadt recalled. He also said:

"I consider myself a loyal citizen of the United States. I see no conflict between my loyalty to this country and my membership in the Communist party."

Hickenlooper said he will ask the Senate-House Atomic committee to look over copies of such applications at a hearing next week.

The Iowan said he has demanded several months ago that the AEC require security clearance of those chosen for fellowships.

"Even though none of these fellowships involves access to restricted atomic data, I don't feel that the government should be spending money to help educate people in this field who can't get security clearance if the Atomic Energy commission wants to take them on later," Hickenlooper said.

Commenting on Freistadt's case, he added:

"I Wouldn't do anything in the world to stop him from getting a higher education, if he gets it under his own steam, but I see no excuse for the commission's paying for the training of a Communist in this field."

Hickenlooper said he is "not satisfied" yet with the attitude of Prof. Henry D. Smyth of Princeton university, named to a vacancy on the Atomic Energy commission.

Probes Claimed Resented

The senator questioned Smyth closely on the issue in an appearance before the Senate-House atomic committee yesterday and said he would ask Gordon Dean, another commission nominee, for his views at a hearing early next week. Dean, a former law partner of Senator McMahon (D-Conn), is a University of Southern California professor.

Smyth told the committee that he hopes it won't be necessary for the commission to have an FBI investigation of every person who is granted student aid.

He said many of the best young scientists would "resent this," adding that while many of them have flighty ideas while they were under-graduates, they were likely to forget these as they matured.

The British steel industry recently reached the highest production rate in its history.

Downtown Church Property Is For Sale

"For sale: One slightly used church, complete with a quarter-block of downtown property."

The advertisement hasn't appeared in The Morning Avalanche but if it did, that's probably about what the Broadway Church of Christ would say.

The present building, construction of which was started in 1922, and the property with 135-foot frontage on Broadway, will be vacated by the church when its $800,000 new building at Broadway and Ave. T is completed.

No Offers Received

The church is reported to be asking $150,000 for the downtown property, building included. The building is approximately 80 feet wide by 100 feet long.

Spokesmen for the church said Friday that a number of different businesses have expressed interest in the property, but no definite offers have been received. They pointed out that the building could be used as a clinic or office building with relatively minor alterations.

A city-county library is probably the use for which the building could be adapted with the least possible expense, unofficial spokesmen say.

The City of Lubbock voted a $500,000 bond issue several years ago for a library.

Nearly a hundred groups of Girl Guides now are at work in the British Zone of Germany.

Loboes Drop Hubbers, 5-3

Haney Wins Tilt In Relief Role

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Hubbers found a new way to lose a ball game last night and lost no time in making the most of it, dropping a particularly unpleasant 5 to 3 game to the Lamesa Loboes at Rosenthal Field before 1,097 spectators.

Under the bright lights of the park, the Hubbers twice managed to have the bases loaded and not get a run across. Once there was only one out and the second time no one was out. A timely single, a hit that sometimes wins as many games as a home run, would have scored enough runs on each occasion to win the game, but the hits weren't there.

Disastrous Home Stand

Last night finished a disastrous home stand for the Hubbers, who dropped four of their five games after losing three out of four on a road trip. They go to Amarillo for a two-game series today and tomorrow.

Charles Willis didn't succeed in scaring the Loboes as he did in Lamesa last week and they reached him for six hits and four runs in one and a third innings. Chris Haskins came on and pitched a whale of a game, giving up only three hits and one run in the remaining time.

But Manager Jay Haney also was doing a better than fair job of holding the Hubbers in check. He came on in the fourth to relieve Glenn Selbo, who was thumbed by Umpire William Frank in something less than 30 seconds. Selbo said something that Frank didn't like and that was that.

Haney came in with one run in, the bases loaded and only one out. He fanned Haskins and Buddy McCallum to get past possible damage that inning. And in the fifth, after a walk, a single and a hit batsman had loaded the sacks with no one out, he got Chick Fowler to force Nelson Davis at the plate and Mike Dooley to hit into a double play.

Won In Second Frame

The Loboes won the game in the second inning, with Haney driving in the winning run. Walt Buckel beat out a high-bounding ball for a scratch single, Glenn Coats walked and Selbo sacrificed, both runners advancing. Dooley dropped a third strike foul tip and Wilfred Rheingans pounded the next pitch into left centerfield to score two runs.

Hank Mellilo fanned but Haney slammed a long ball into right centerfield for a double that easily scored Rhenigans.

The Hubbers could get only three hits off the soft hurling Haney showed them for the final five and two-thirds innings and they left seven runners stranded during this time.

BOB ELLIOTT
A Single For Winning Tally

Dukes Outlast Amarillo, 1-0

ALBUQUERQUE, May 13 (AP)—Cliff McClain's ninth inning single broke a scoreless deadlock between Albuquerque and Amarillo tonight and gave Albuquerque a 1 to 0 West Texas-New Mexico victory.

For nine and two thirds innings not a runner crossed home. Hits were few and far between. In the last of the ninth, with two men out, Dick Dawson, Albuquerque leftfielder, got a double on a short centerfield looper and McClain's single brought him home.

Earlier in the inning, Butler was thrown out at first and Attyd was caught short trying to steal second.

McClain's bit was a pinch play, with only one more out needed to send the game into extra innings.

From the beginning, the game went quickly into a pitcher's duel. Amarillo's Jim Reynolds allowed only five hits, two of them in the last frame. He retired 11 men in a row and issued his first walk in the ninth.

Righthander Virgil Butler for Albuquerque hung up his third victory. He allowed Amarillo batters only four hits for the distance. There was only one extra base smack in the tilt—Dawson's double.

Not an error was chalked up in the game.

Albuquerque collected its first hit in the second inning with Allen Maul singling. Frank Okrie singled again in the third and Fuhrman clipped a single in the fifth. Amarillo got its first hit in the fifth with Crawford Howard connecting.

Jerry Folkman, Amarillo shortstop, was the only batter to pass second base until the ninth. He was short trying to steal home.

A tight Albuquerque defense held Amarillo down. Four times during the game the Dukes pulled runners off bases with double plays.

CLOVIS, May 13. (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers ended a nine-game losing streak here tonight whipping the Borger Gassers 8-3 in the first game of a twin bill, but started another losing to the visitors 4-3 in the nightcap.

Jim Cain and Vallie Eaves combined to stop the Pioneers in the second limiting Clovis to five hits, one a mammoth homer by outfielder Pat Lorenzo with I. B. Palmer who had singled on in the seventh. The roundtripper came off Eaves who had come in to relieve Cain, the starter, in the fifth.

The Pioneers continued their threat after Lorenzo's clout, first baseman Bauer singling through second with one gone. Sandies Here Today

Team Seeks First 1-AA Playoff Win

The Westerners will be seeking their first District 1-AA baseball playoff victory today at Chapman field against Amarillo's Golden Sandstorms. The contest was originally scheduled Friday afternoon, but wet grounds caused the postponement until 3 p. m. today.

Second and third games of the series to determine the district winner will be played in Amarillo Monday afternoon if weather permits. Provided one team takes the first two games, the third game will be unnecessary.

Lubbock and Amarillo advanced to the league finals after winning their half of the district. Amarillo took the top half with five wins and one loss, and Lubbock had little trouble in winning six straight for the bottom bracket championship.

Team May Be Slow

Inactivity the past 10 days is expected to slow the Westerners a little, but both teams will go into the tilt evenly matched. The local team has not played a game since defeating Plainview, 8-7, in the final game of the lower bracket May 3, and bad weather has kept them idle several days.

Both teams will take good season records into the game. Amarillo has won 11 while dropping two contests, and Lubbock has a 15-2 record over the season.

Three .400 hitters power the Sandie batting attack, and the team as a whole is hitting at a .310 clip for the season. Leading the team is Joe Knight, right field, with .450. Following Knight are Darrell La Rue, first base, .414; James Le Neveu, center field, .405; Max Winberg, catcher, .371; Warren Spalding, third base, .313; Fred Hansard, left field, .262; Bob Braden, second base, .243; and E. G. Sanders, shortstop, .226.

Lubbock Has .237 Mark

Lubbock has a .237 team average for 17 games, but on the whole most of the boys are hitting better in the six district tilts. For the season Bob Brown, shortstop, is leading the Westerners with a .355 average. Morris Turner, catcher, has .347; Charles Galey, second base, .312; Jessie Fullerton, first base, .292; Powell Hinson, third base, .286; James Burgess, left field, .263; Garnet Reeves, center field, .243; and Jimmy Sexton, right field, .235.

Starting pitcher for the Westerners has not been decided, but either Jimmy Hamilton, Jimmy Richards, or Bennie Day will be ready to toe the mound for Lubbock. Walton Roberson is expected to start for Amarillo, having turned in the best performances of the year for the Sandies.

Admission to the game will be 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

District 5-B Baseball Meet Play Continues Here Today

Play in the District 5-B baseball tournament at Rosenthal field, cancelled last week because of rain and water, will continue today with games at 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.

Last week Idalou took a 22-2 decision over Robertson to advance to the quarter-finals against Lorenzo, 13-11 victor over the Frenship nine. In the bottom half of the bracket New Home won its game from Ropesville by forfeit, and Shallowater took a close 3-2 decision from Roosevelt school. Idalou and Lorenzo meet at 1 o'clock, and Shallowater and New Home play at 3 p. m.

Rosenthal field has been used for the district playoff for the past three years. The winner of District 5 will play the 6-B winner in bi-district. Conference B teams conclude their play in the bi-district game.

Admission to each session will be 25 and 50 cents. A coach may bring 15 players through the gate without charge.

Texas League Cuts Rosters

(By The Associated Press)

Texas league clubs cut and slashed at their rosters Friday to meet the active player limit of 19.

Houston did so much lopping it went below the limit. Only 18 Buffs were left after a shake-up that President Allen Russell intimated may be just a starter for the last place club.

Bob Eisminger and Octavio Rubert, pitchers, were obtained from Columbus and Rochester respectively but six players were shipped out. They included Jim Hercinger, outfielder, sold to Allentown; Ross Grimsley, pitcher, to Winston-Salem; Nelson Nocheck, pitcher, to Lynchburg. Lou Colombo, outfielder, returned to Houston awaiting disposition; Roy Vinblade, first baseman, and catcher Joe DiMartino, sent to Lynchburg. Bob Thomson, infielder, who had been optioned to Fresno, was sold to that club, and rookie pitcher Burt Gottesman, recently signed, was sold to Allentown. Jack Cusick, who has been favoring a back injury, was sent to Des Moines for treatment.

Shreveport returned catcher Ed Pullman to Anniston, called third baseman Allen Cross in for reassignment, put pitcher Dee Sanders and second baseman Al Mazur on the disabled list and traded pitcher Verne Williamson for pitcher Jack Kraus of Minneapolis. Some cash also went along with Williamson.

San Antonio sent outfielder John Novosel to Springfield and outfielder Ed Bob Okrie to Elmira.

Oklahoma City placed utility man Deck Woldt on the inactive list, sold pitcher Bob Chakales to Wilkes-Barre, returned pitcher Ray Girdley to Dayton and optioned outfielder Harry Mooradian to Anniston.

Beaumont sent Frank Verde, second baseman, to Binghampton and catcher Harold Danielson to Twin Falls.

Fort Worth optioned infielder Johnny Legros and outfielder Mike Sichko to Greenville of the South Atlantic league.

Tulsa placed pitcher Tommy Hughes and outfielder Frank Davis on the disabled list and placed outfielder Maurice Craft on the inactive list until he gets in condition.

Dallas farmed Ken Smith, outfielder, to Gladewater on a 24-hour recall basis and released pitcher Reuben Fischer outright.

Steers' Bob Watson Cops SWC Golf Title

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Bob Watson of Texas captured his second consecutive individual Southwest Conference golf title with a 10-under par 274 for the 72 holes here today.

Watson, who jumped to a five-stroke lead at the end of 54 holes this morning, shot the last 18 holes in an even par 71. His morning round of 65 gave him 203 at that stage.

Texas also swept the next three places.

Morris Williams, jr., added a 71 to his 208 for the second pace total of 279.

Marion Pfluger, who was back in eighth place at the end of 36 holes, shot a 70 and a 68 for 287 and third place. Bill Smith of Texas took fourth with 288.

Travis Bryan, jr., of Texas A. and M., who was tied with Watson and Williams with 138 at the end of yesterday's 36 holes, came in with cards of 78 and 73 to drop to fifth with 289.

Bob Malone of T.C.U., and Reece Alexander of Texas tied for sixth with 291.

Black Hubbers To Open On Sunday

Lubbock's Black Hubbers will make their first appearance of the season Sunday afternoon at 3, when the Santa Fe Blackjacks of Clovis, N. M., invade Rosenthal Field.

Charles Sedberry, business manager of the Black Hubbers, said that the Clovis team had a fine record and had beaten several good New Mexico nines. He declared that they would be stiff competition for the Black Hubbers, who will be making their first start of the season.

James Roy Lewis, former manager of the Black Hubbers, has turned the managerial reins over to Ace Sedberry, who will be on first base again this year. Lewis, despite giving up his job as manager, will be on the active playing list.

Slated to hurl Sunday for the Black Hubbers will be a pair of old Lubbock players, J. T. Hutcherson and Big Train Childress. Both Hutcherson and Childress saw active mound duty last year.

There will be seats for both white and colored people and tickets can be obtained at the ball park.

Drawings For Cotton Bowl Seats Slated On Tuesday

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—A drawing will be held here Tuesday to allocate seats in the Cotton Bowl to bond and option holders.

Champions Meet Crane Oilers Tonight

Sunbeamers Go After Fifth, Sixth Wins

Lubbock's Bluebonnet - Sunbeamer softball team will go after its fifth and sixth consecutive victories of the season here tonight when the strong Crane Oilers invade Jumbo Webster Field for a crucial Texas Softball league battle under the lights.

JAMES

G. W. Warden and Stringbean Pope will carry Lubbock hopes into the game against the Oilers, who will pitch Red Denham, one of the top softball hurlers in Texas, in one of the games. Denham will share mound duties with J. W. Teague, another fine hurler.

Last year Crane finished in fifth place, just a game out of second place. Denham won 10 games and lost eight with a team behind him that batted only at a clip of .115. Teague won six and lost eight.

Crane didn't have a batter hitting as high as .250, but still the team managed to win and lose 16. Denham was the chief cause of Crane's victories, the veteran fast baller pitching six shutout games. He fanned 229 batters over the course of the season and only walked nine.

The Sunbeamers and the Oilers have the same number of wins at this point, four each. Both teams won a pair of games from the Maurice Shop of San Angelo and another pair from the Fort Stockton entry.

James Is Back

Manager Blacky Hilliard, without the services of Catcher Willis James, one of the hardest hitters in the league, finally has his backstop in the lineup again. James missed the opening doubleheader here April 25, but was active in the team's double win last Saturday.

James led the league last year in home runs with five and also led the loop in extra base hits with 15, although he wound up the season with only a .291 batting average. That average, however, still placed him seventh in the entire league.

Both teams have made changes this season, but both have come up with potent nines. They rely strongly on pitching, but they have good hitting and good fielding teams.

Skyline Gun Club Plans Open Shoot Today And Sunday

There will be double, 16-yard and handicap events this afternoon. And there will be another shoot Sunday.

The club is located straight north on College avenue across the canyon on the west side of the road.

Durocher Gets New Contract

NEW YORK, May 13 (INS)—President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants announced tonight that Leo Durocher has signed a new two-year contract as manager of the club through 1951.

Durocher's present contract expires at the end of this season.

No salary terms were mentioned. Durocher's present contract is believed to call for around $60,000 per year.

Stoneham, announcing that the club's board of directors had voted to extend the contract immediately, said that to him, the matter is "More important than any deal we could make."

Sports writers who had been summoned to a special press conference for an announcement anticipated a big player trade.

Leo was at the conference, and beaming from ear to ear. The club's vote of confidence in him came on the heels of the smoothing over of his latest rumpus with baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

When a Brooklyn fan, Fred Boysen, accused Durocher of punching and kicking him after a game at the Polo Grounds, the New York club collected more than 100 affidavits from fans presenting sworn evidence to the contrary.

Stoneham, armed with these statements, accompanied Durocher to the hearing before Chandler in Cincinnati.

No action was taken against Durocher, although the Giants and other clubs were told to take steps to keep fans off the playing field after each game until the players had a chance to reach the clubhouse.

Boysen later withdrew a simple assault charge against Durocher.

Texas Aggies Bump Longhorns, 6 To 1

COLLEGE STATION, May 13. (AP)—The Texas A&M baseball team prolonged their chances to grab the 1949 Southwest Conference title here this afternoon by bumping the University of Texas Longhorns, 6 to 1, before some 4,000 onlookers.

Bobby Fretz, righthander Aggie pitching ace, gave up only five hits and kept them well scattered. He also pounded his second home run of the season.

Errors figured directly in lone Cadet tallies in the first and sixth but the Farmers staged a four-run rally in the seventh that brought in Frank Womack to relieve southpaw Charlie Gorin, the Texas' starter.

The two nines, now boasting three conference setbacks each, play here again Saturday afternoon in a game which will virtually cinch the championship.

Lamesa Cops 3-AA Crown

SAN ANGELO, May 13. (Special)—The San Angelo Bobcats (special) — The San Angelo Bobcats handed the District 3-AA baseball championship to Lamesa's Tornadoes here today by defeating the Abilene Eagles, 5-3, at Guinn field. An Abilene victory would have brought a tie between Abilene and Lamesa.

The Bobcats dedicated the game to Coach Speedy Moffett, former Texas Tech football star, who has resigned at the end of the current school year.

The Bobcats exploded with four runs in the sixth to assure victory. George Taylor, Bobby Clatterbuck, and Kenneth Martin followed with singles after Ed Hartman walked, and George Hartman topped off the rally with a hard hit to left field to send two runs across.

Clatterbuck allowed only four hits, and the Eagles made their first hit in the sixth.

Lamesa finished the season with eight wins and four losses.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!
RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR
RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.
INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.
LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action or chlorine and water. With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.
DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

Rain And Hail Hit Over Area

a heavy fall of hail battered the town for nearly half an hour. He said the precipitation measured .73 inch. Seminole is 83 miles southwest of Lubbock.

Other Sections Hit

Meanwhile, rain and hailstorms swept other towns over the area:

One of the communities hardest hit with rain was Muleshoe, where rainfall Thursday night and Friday was officially measured at 3.66 inches by City Secretary R. J. Klump. The downpour left lakes standing in lower parts of the town and covered the floors of some houses to a depth of two feet.

The fall at Muleshoe and elseelsewhere in Bailey county Thursday night and Friday brought total rainfall there for the month to 6.99 inches, and a total of 13.64 for thus far in 1949.

Klump reported last night that the rain-swollen lakes in Muleshoe had drained, and that, with the exception of very low spots, water was no longer standing. There had been only a few light showers there last night.

Damage Not Too Heavy

He said that property damage there probably would not exceed $1,500. A low section on the Muleshoe-Sudan highway, which was inundated by the heavy rains, received minor damage, it was reported. Crops which had been planted probably constituted the largest loss, since rain either buried seeds or washed them away, thereby necessitating replanting of most fields.

Bailey County Judge Cecil H. Tate, of Muleshoe, reported that he had heard of no heavy damage in the county. Like Klump, he reported that standing lakes of water were soon dissipated. However, some rural mail routes were temporarily discontinued Friday morning.

Shortly after the downpour, the Santa Fe railroad received reports that a section of its track between Muleshoe and Sudan was under water. Last night, however, it had drained. Earlier Friday the railroad said it had received reports of a five-inch fall in the near vicinity.

Heavy At Levelland

Allen Hodge, Littlefield publisher, reported a half inch of rain, accompanied by light hail, hit Littlefield shortly after 9 p.m. Friday. He said the shower brought the two-day rainfall total to 1.75 as the city was in the path of the thunderstorm that swamped the Muleshoe-Sudan district Thursday night and Friday morning.

Levelland received a light shower early last night to bring Friday's total to .55, Edgar Brash, observer there, said.

Morton also received a light shower during the afternoon, and precipitation there was estimated at half an inch by Mrs. Anne England, co-publisher of The Morton Tribune. Mrs. England said that farmers were anxious for warm, clear weather as planting was being delayed by the continuing rains.

Abernathy Has Good Fall

Brownfield, with a total of one inch from Thursday night, had a sharp thunderstorm but received no rain Friday night. Denver City reported a light shower with some hail. Seagraves had a light shower apparently from the same cloud that finally moved over Seminole.

Tahoka and Lamesa had considerable thunderstorm activity but received only light showers Friday afternoon or early night.

At Abernathy, light rains fell beginning about 9 p.m. Friday, and continued to fall for about an hour. It was reported that while the rain never was hard, it fell steadily during that time. It had quit entirely by 10:30 p.m. Abernathy received about one-half inch Thursday night and early Friday morning.

Light showers fell last night at Lockney, but rainfall was not believed enough to measure. Heavy clouds apparently had passed over the Lockney area by late Friday night. Light showers fell there Thursday night.

At Hale Center, no rain of any consequence had fallen last night, although scattered showers had dotted that immediate area. Clouds remained heavy late last night.

Showers and light drizzles were reported last night at Petersburg.

No rain had been reported early this morning at Crosbyton, Ralls, and Floydada. Skies were apparently somewhat clearer over all three communities than a few hours earlier, when sprinkles and showers had fallen.

Friday's storms came a little less than a week after a tornado ripped through Sundown, killing two and injuring four, and a deluge flooded Lubbock, where one person died of electrocution. Another person died during the storm at that time at Lockney.

Charlie Chaplin Accused Of 'Incident' Bordering On Treason

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Senator Cain (R-Wash) today accused screen actor Charlie Chaplin of creating an incident which he said "skirts perilously close to treason."

Cain renewed his demand that the British-born comedian be deported from the United States.

The "incident," as related by Cain:

In 1948, Chaplin sent a message to Pablo Picasso, noted French artist, asking him to protest American deportation proceedings against Hanns Eisler, Vienna-born former Hollywood composer and acknowledged former Communist.

The Washington Senator submitted a statement to a Senate Judiciary subcommittee listing nine specific instances of Chaplin's alleged "connections" with Communist fronts and Communist-dominated organizations.

He said the record shows that "Charlie Chaplin does not believe in our system of government."

NEWS BRIEFS

A temporary restraining order which earlier had been placed upon the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co., was, in effect, revoked Friday at a hearing before District Judge G. V. Pardue, when he granted the telephone company permission to build lines along public roads. The case was that of S. H. Bradford et al versus the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. Judge Pardue, in revoking the restraining order, refused to grant a temporary injunction against the company, holding that construction of a telephone line along a county public road is permissable so long as it does not encroach upon private property.

Dr. Agnes True, associate professor of education and psychology at Texas Tech, was guest speaker Thursday night at the regular meeting of the South Plains Optometric society. Electra Celebration tention before the Texas Railroad commission that short hauls are unprofitable and that the Zephyr can't make its schedule by making many stops. The railway also won a temporary restraining order preventing the city of Electra from stopping the train by a "four barreled" ordinance. A hearing on its suit for a temporary injunction is set in Dallas tomorrow.

There was no order against Chillicothe, which passed a similar ordinance. Ferguson said that although Chilliecthe didn't try to enforce its measure today the "train crew assured me it met the provisions of the ordinance."

Solution Seen

He said he talked to the road's general manager, W. O. Frame, who was on the train, and Frame said he thought "the matter would be ironed out."

"We'll get together with the railroad soon and work this matter out. . . I think we can work out some satisfactory arrangement for them to stop," the mayor said.

At Electra conductor E. Woodcock brought his train in precisely on time. After the passengers—most of them newspaper reporters and photographers—got off, and four outgoing ticketholders were loaded, Woodcock signaled for departure At 5:57 p.m.—six minutes after the Zephyr arrived, it was on its way again.

The celebration at Electra was the biggest turnout there since oil boom days. The Electra Star put out a "toot-toot" special edition—distributed aboard the train by staff members who boarded it at Wichita Falls.

Square Dance Held

Business houses closed at 5 p.m. and employes—those not already there, went to the station. Virtually every organization in the oil-field town of some 7,500 joined in.

The crowd began gathering at the station about 3 p.m. The Electra chuck wagon gang served free hot coffee and cold drinks. Square dancing was continuing and folks were still celebrating long after the train was gone.

Electra was a little nervous about all the stir it created. Photographers and writers from national magazines hobnobbed with reporters for Southwest newspapers.

Tornadoes Skip Over Panhandle rushed away from town," he said.

Five State Highway patrol cars were at Panhandle and one at Conway handling traffic.

The storms kicked up other disturbances over the Panhandle area.

Heavy rain and a brief hail lashed Pampa late Friday.

Heavy rains also washed Miami, Canadian and Higgins. The little city of Higgins was devastated by a tornado in April two years ago—at the same time a big tornado struck Woodward, Okla.

A report from Miami said a tornado was observed forming Friday but it broke up without hitting the earth.

Woman Is Injured

There was one severe injury as a result of the Panhandle exodus. Mrs. L. H. Rowe suffered three broken ribs, a sprained ankle, and hip, knee, and pelvic injuries.

She and Miss Charlotte Tompkins, Carson county home demonstration agent, jumped into a car and headed south on Highway 117 when they saw the storm. They were in a collision with a pickup truck. Miss Tompkins wasn't hurt.

Everybody who couldn't get in a storm cellar at Panhandle, rushed out of town.

"It's a miracle there is a Panhandle," said Harry Hoare of The Amarillo Globe-News. "A tornado moved southward at a point about two miles west of the town, crossed the highway, stripped trees and knocked over some box cars, then lifted in the air and boiled over the center of the town to strike on the north outskirts."

Radio Station KGNC, four miles from the Purvine ranch, barely escaped. The tornado dipped to earth between its radio transmitters and then tore up a ten-acre patch of experimental wheat. The station had insured the wheat only this morning, but the insurance does not go into effect until tomorrow.

Trees were uprooted at the Purvines ranch, a windmill was twisted off its base and two wheat combines and an automobile were destroyed. A chicken house was destroyed along with many of its fowls.

The State Highway patrol sent six units north and northeast of Amarillo to check on destruction and render help.

The weather bureau in Dallas said the first tornado formed at 4:55 p. m. ten miles northeast of Amarillo and started moving northeast. It touched the ground at 5:06 p. m. and blew out at 5:30.

The second tornado formed at 5:46, the Weather office said.

A report that a twister had struck Pampa was unfounded.

ranged for a plane to fly Eisler back at once.

2. But in London, several British officials challenged the American view that Eisler is a stowaway.

British authorities refused to say whether they will take Eisler off the ship when it reaches Southampton tomorrow morning.

Pays For Passage

Radio messages from the ship said the stowaway who identified himself as Eisler, alleged former No. 1 Red leader in the United States, had paid for a first-class passage to Poland after being discovered at sea.

A U. S. Justice department official insisted that Eisler's paying his fare does not alter his status. He said the fleeing Communist is still a stowaway and maritime law requires the ship captain to turn him over to local authorities at the first port of call.

But dispatches from London said the British attitude, as reflected by authorities at Southampton, is that a stowaway becomes a legitimate passenger as soon as he pays his fare. As such, the British said, he would be entitled to complete the journey for which he paid.

In that event, Eisler would be free to sail on to Communist-dominated Poland.

not been questioned by the grand jury.

The jury's report was a double-barreled blast against the burly constable and the general laxity of other city and county peace officers with regard to gambling. It was one of the roughest reports ever handed down by a Harris county grand jury.

Constable Blasts Report

Williford was advised, in effect, that Richardson could not have found bookie shops to raid in Houston if other officers had been policing the city properly.

"Local officers and the constabulary cannot escape the blame for permitting these places to operate," the report said.

Richardson, the grand jury reported, "is on extremely friendly terms with a certain group of gamblers in this city."

Williford two weeks ago ordered the grand jury to investigate Richardson's gambling raids outside his La Porte precinct.

No indictments were returned today but the jury advised Williford the investigation will continue and "if the facts warrant, indictments will be returned."

Richardson said the jury appears to have issued "a nasty report about me without even an indictment because the statements taken from some of the witnesses are plumb full of holes."

The constable was not questioned by the jury during its two week investigation.

Solons Agree On Terms Of Deficiency Appropriations Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) of the Senate Appropriations committee said tonight House and Senate conferees have agreed upon terms of the first deficiency appropriations bill.

Under the agreement, reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus and Regional Director Richard Boke in California remain in their present status, without pay.

Funds for repair of the White House also were held in abeyance.

McKellar, chairman of the Senate conferees, said the Straus-Boke matter and White House repair funds were carried over for further consideration when the second deficiency bill comes up.

The House has passed the second bill and it is now in Senate committee.

This means that if the House and Senate accept the report and President Truman signs the bill the money will be available immediately.

A record crowd is expected Saturday night, weather permitting, when the final show of this series is presented.

There are 56 contestants competing in the five events, bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, bulldogging, and bull riding. Special attractions, including trick riding and roping by Chet and Juanita Howell, of Phoenix, and a rodeo clown, are included in the show.

The parade, prior to Saturday night's show, will feature the Lubbock High school band as special guest, and numerous floats.

Three Men, Woman Held After Gas Station Holdup Near Terrell

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—Three men and a woman are held in East Texas jails after a filling station near Terrell was robbed last night and the robbers fired on two men chasing them across a moonlight field nearby.

Kaufman County Sheriff Fred Guthrie said two men and a woman held there were captured after the Jim Gordan filling station six miles north of Terrell on Highway 34 was robbed. The three jumped from a car and ran across a moonlit field with Gordan and a companion in pursuit.

The fourth man continued his flight in the car but the vehicle crashed into a tree late last night five miles west of Grand Saline in Van Zandt county. The fourth man—along with a man believed to be an innocent hitchhiker—was then jailed at Canton.

Labor Party Suffers Heavy Losses In British Elections

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—British voters handed the ruling Labor (Socialist) party another setback in returns today from city council elections. Winston Churchill's Conservatives scored big gains.

Incomplete and unofficial returns from 420 towns and boroughs which cast ballots for local governing councils Thursday gave Conservatives a gain of 785 seats while the Laborites lost 692, the British Press Association reported.

A total of 4,718 seats was at stake.

The press association said the Conservatives had won 1,591; Laborites 1,577, Independents 938, Liberals 107 and Communists 11.

The results continued a swing to the right evidenced in previous local elections. Opinions still differ, however, as to whether the results give a clue to how the nation will go in the general election of 1950.

Simple Explanation Found For 'Geniuses' In Fort Worth School

FORT WORTH, May 13 (AP)—Seventy-five "geniuses" among Arlington Heights High school students returned to their normal roles today.

It all began when the students were given an achievement test. A grade of 65 rated "brilliant," 74 or more "genius"—and 90 or more was supposed to be virtually impossible.

But 75 students received 99 or 100 on the tests. Under questioning 12 of the 75 "geniuses" made a confession. They entered the classroom Monday night, copied the answers, and passed them out to their friends.

Boys Club Leagues To Have 12 Teams

The final session of the coaching school a Boys club was held Friday afternoon, and the 12 teams in the two leagues played practice games.

Only boys ages 9-11 were eligible for the school, and approximately 389 boys registered during the course of the school. At first only one league was to be selected from the group, but it was decided to have two six-team leagues. The league composed of those 10-11 will be called the Pee Wee league, and the 9-year-old group composes the Pygmy league.

Director of the school was Joe Holmes, and assistaing him were H. D. Waller, Curtis Barrett, and John Wilson, director of Boys club. Sponsoring the training school were the American Legion, Boys club, City Recreation, and the various civic luncheon groups.

Teams in the two loops will have the same names, and coaches in one league will coach the team of the same name in the other division. The coaches have been working with the boys all week in the training school. Coaches and their teams are Pat Clepper, Red Sox; Jerry Starkey, White Sox; Keith Anderson, Dodgers; Ted Cummings, Yankees; Glen White, Indians; and James Sanders, Pirates.

The regular schedule of play begins Monday at Boys club. The games in the Pygmy league will be played at 4 p. m., and the Pee Wee games will come at 5:15 p. m.

Friday in both leagues 186 boys took part in the games. In an outstanding Pygmy game the Yankees defeated the Dodgers, 7-4, with the aid of a four-run homer by Dick Burnan. The Red Sox nosed the White Sox, 10-9, and the Indians and Pirates battled to an 8-8 draw.

In Pee Wee competition the Pirates defeated the Indians, 11-6. The White Sox had too much power as they defeated the Red Sox, 7-4, and the Dodgers tripped the Yankees, 8-4.

ing destruction of tiling on tube walls and ceiling—that the passageway might have to be closed for a month while repairs are made.

Police said the drum-carrying truck was operated by Edward Tydale, 40, of Weehawken, N. J., who suffered carbon disulphide poisoning.

They said the vehicle, owned by Boyce Motor Lines, Inc., carried 90 drums of the carbon disulphide. Carbon disulphide is used as a Hugo Rogers said the damage to the tunnel was so great—includ-solvent for rubber and in insecticides.

Motorists Desert Cars

The explosion touched off wild confusion in the dimly lit tube linking New York and Jersey City. Frightened motorists deserted their cars to run to safety as the tube's powerful ventilating blowers quickly spread the poisonous fumes.

The explosion occurred near the Jersey City entrance but the gas spread so swiftly that five persons were overcome near the New York end.

It was estimated that 40 trucks and 30 passenger cars and buses were in the tunnel at the time of the explosion.

Police emergency trucks and fire apparatus were rushed to the tunnel by both New York and Jersey City authorities.

News Delayed

Both east and west tubes were closed to traffic, backing up long lines of vehicles on both sides of the tunnel operated by the New York port authority.

The cause of the explosion was not known.

The fire in the tunnel burned out cable lines of the long lines division of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, holding up the transmission of the news on the explosion to the west.

Among the teletype lines affected were those of International News Service which were in and out of service for three hours.

Firemen wearing gas masks worked in relays to restore order in the fume-filled tunnel. Heavy smoke poured from the ventilator towers at both ends of the tube, regarded as one of America's greatest engineering feats.

The implacable Chen Yi, Communist tactician who can use a hammer or a rapier as the occasion requires, was apparently driving hard either to take Shanghai or close a siege fence around it.

Throughout the past two weeks it has been impossible to tell whether the Reds' slow pace was due to resistance by the Nationalists or to their own leisurely timetable.

Reports of the past 48 hours indicate the Nationalists are fighting back stubbornly but still do not indicate the Reds are throwing very large forces in this direction. At least, they are not large by comparison with the huge Red armies that are rolling south on a 250-mile-wide stretch of open country 200 and more miles southwest of Shanghai.

(Lambert, reporting on his arrival in Hong Kong, said the defense works at Shanghai's city limits, however, "could not withstand a determined troop of Boy Scouts.")

New Demands Made

yesterday, hopeful Germans began speculating on the possibility of a quick removal of rationing. German economic officials said this cannot be done and gave these reasons:

Rationing should be maintained until sufficient surpluses are established. This may not be achieved for some time. Until there is a free flow of goods, business cannot get the stimulation it needs to start the economic pendulum swinging toward prosperity.

Dispute Underway

Highway traffic still was not back in full stride. This is important, because the margin of difference in accumulating surpluses of consumer goods must be made up by truck travel unless there is an increase in rail transport.

For the moment there is no prospect that Western German truckers will close the breach.

Still to be definitely cleared up is the Russian claim that Western Berlin exports to the Western zones of Germany must carry either a Soviet stamp or a stamp of the Eastern Berlin government. The West demands international traffic freedom.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, retiring American military governor of Germany, says until this wrinkle is ironed out the airlift may have to carry out the city's exports. He told a news conference today, however, that he was entirely satisfied with the lifting of the Berlin blockade.

Sharp Decline In Shipments Of Valuable Ore From Reds Noted

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A sharp drop in March imports of manganese and chrome from Russia prompted government officials today to question whether the Soviet Union is shutting off shipments of these strategic materials.

Some officials suggested that the Russians may be putting on pressure for higher prices. The Soviets are already getting substantial premium prices for these minerals because of superior quality.

Smallest In Two Years

The Commerce department announced that March import of these vital steel-making alloys were valued at a scant $600,000, the smallest trickle in nearly two years.

The March imports contrasted with shipments valued at $1,300,000 in February, and $1,700,000 in March, 1948. In the first three months of 1949, imports of these materials from Russia were valued at $3,100,000. Shipments in the first three months of 1948 were valued at five million dollars.

In March, the Russians sent 2,346,000 pounds of manganese and 6,350 long tons of chrome to the U.S. In February, the figures were 21,448,000 pounds of manganese and 7,463 long tons of chrome. In March, 1948, they were 28,813,000 pounds of manganese and 14,035 long tons of chrome.

Needed In Russia

There have been numerous reports in recent months that Russia is either cutting off or threatening to stop exports of manganese and chrome to the U.S.

Officials said that, amidst a flurry of rumors, this appears to stand out:

Amtorg signed new contracts for shipment of manganese and chrome to U.S. buyers late last fall, and it appeared that business was going on as usual.

Later, the Russians protested that they could not make full deliveries of manganese and chrome under the contracts, since mounting domestic requirements demanded more and more of the output of Russian mines and there would be less available for export.

Nation Valuable Source

Washington officials said that, regardless of what the Russians have in mind, they are hardly in a position to win in any trade duel. They declared that the Russians need American goods more than the U.S. needs Russian manganese and chrome.

The U.S. gets at the present time 26 per cent of its manganese and 34.3 per cent of its chrome from Russia.

Officials observed that Russia as a manganese source is more valuable than these figures would indicate, since U.S. steel makers usually mix other manganese with the Russian product to get the product which they regard as best.

But they recalled that U.S. was shut off from Russian manganese for the most part during the war.

Advance Rodeo Sales Total $2,976

Progress of the advance sale of tickets for the Boys' Club Rodeo, to be held June 8-11, was announced at the American Business Club meeting Friday.

Although the general ticket sales will not be started until next Wednesday a total of $2,976 has been collected for box seats. Of this amount, Bob Gee was responsible for sales amounting to $1,800.

Money Is Needed

According to President George Dale the ABC hopes to be able to raise sufficient money on the rodeo this year to complete the $100,000 club house and swimming pool project at Twenty-fourth and Avenue K. To date more than $75,000 has been spent on the recreational facilities that cover a city block. Expansion of the club house and the construction of the pool made it necessary to raise additional funds.

The rodeo this year will feature a number of nationally famous acts. Included will be Roman riders, an 18-horse quadrille, bareback jumpers, clowns and "Beeswax" Moore and his comedy acts.

Parade Is Slated

The show will get off to a flying start on June 8 with a big parade that begins at 5 p. m. It will form at the fairgrounds and proceed up Broadway to Texas Tech where the rodeo will take place in the stadium.

The Boys' Club rodeo of 1947 and 1948 had Gene Autry as the major attraction. This year, ABC members say, they are not going to concentrate on a single star but instead will have a whole program of stars.

The advertising committee reported that there was still some remaining space to be sold in the printed show program.

Five Quakes Recorded At Tech Observatory In April

During April, the seismological observatory at Texas Technological college recorded five earthquakes across the world.

The first was April 5 at Vladivostok, USSR in Asia. Others were April 13, between Olympia and Tacoma, Washington; April 19, Kurile Islands, Japan; April 20, central Chile, South America, and April 30, southern coast of Mindanao, Philippine Islands.

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, professor of geology, is in charge of the observatory.

BOSS SOLD OUT

NORRIS, Tenn., (U.P.)—Business was a little too good for Erwin Ettenger, secretary of Norris Properties, Inc., which bought this entire town from the Tennessee Valley Authority and is selling the houses. Ettenger discovered one of his salesmen had sold Ettenger's own house. The salesman explained that "it was on my list, so I sold it."

Mustard Greens To 'Appear' In Court In Food Law Case Here

Defendants in a criminal action will be hailed into the Northern Texas division of Federal court next Monday without the benefit of counsel. Although this is contrary to the provisions of the sixth amendment to the United States Constitution there is little or nothing that Judge Joseph B. Dooley can do about it.

The defendants in the case will be 600 cans of "Fancy Mustard Greens." They weigh in at one pound two ounces each. They will hear, if they hear at all, charges brought against them with the full power of the government of the United States.

They are each and severally charged with harboring" aphids, larvae and filthy substance." They are further charged with rendering themselves "unfit for consumption as food."

Discovered At Slaton

The "mustard greens" came under the jurisdiction of the Federal court because they were shipped through interstate commerce. Originating somewhere in Arkansas they ran afoul of the law in Slaton.

When an outstanding Slaton grocer suspected the culprits he called on Assistant U. S. District Attorney Cavitt Binion. The defendants could not deny their guilt. The evidence was preponderantly against them. They couldn't dispose of the incriminating facts.

So the "mustard greens" were impounded and have since been listed on the criminal docket as Case Number 725. (There were actually 25 cases). No one has come forward to defend them. No one claims kinship to the mute defendants. They will receive their sentence in silence. Since no answer has been filed, 600 cans of undefended "mustard greens" and their miniature "aquariums" will be condemned and banished forever.

Tech Students Leave For Judging Contest

Four agriculture students at Texas Technological college left Friday for Kansas City, Mo., where they will represent the college in the first annual American Royal intercollegiate dairy cattle judging contest Monday.

The four, who are all juniors include: Tommy Hewlett, Ropesville; J. Paul Jones, Lubbock; William Krueger, Clifton, and George Piiler of Abilene.

The team will do practice judging at Meadow Lodge farms near Oklahoma City en route to Kansas City. At the contest they will judge all breeds of dairy cattle, Jersey, Brown Swiss, Ayshire, Guernsey and Holstein.

Koy Neeley, lecturer in the animal husbandry department, will accompany the team.

Receipts of cottonseed at mills during March totaled 93,651 tons, compared with 114,775 in February.

FISH JOINS PARTY

CLINTON, Tenn., (U.P.) — Leo Daugherty, R. L. Daugherty, Bob Asbury and Ray Jones vouch for this one. The four were fishing from a skiff when one hung his line on a tree stump. He smacked his line against the water to free it. There was a swirl and a five-pound bass leaped into the air, falling into the skiff. That was the only fish the quartet caught all day.

Artist Accepts Oil Land Lease In Trade For $1,000 Picture

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 13. (U.P.)—California artist Gray Bartlett may be the first man ever to hit oil—the kind they call black gold—with a paint brush.

Bartlett started off toward becoming an oil man without knowing it when he finished a painting called "Stage Coach" and put a $1,000 price tag on it.

Oklahoma City oilman Ace Gutowsky saw the painting on exhibition here and wanted it. But he didn't want to put that much cash into a picture.

So Gutowsky contacted Bartlett and asked: "Are you a gambler?" When Bartlett admitted some gambling instincts, Gutowsky suggested this deal:

Gutowsky would get Bartlett's painting in return for a lease on 40 acres of land next to 40 acres on which the Oklahoma City man is drilling a well in Tillman county, Oklahoma. Bartlett's lease might turn out to be worth much more than the price of the painting. Or it might be worthless.

The proposition struck the Californian as a good deal. The painting was transferred to Gutowsky. The oil lease was recorded in Bartlett's name.

Oil man Bartlett must wait out the three weeks art fancier Gutowsky estimates it will take to finish drilling his well.

If the well comes in, Bartlett will have painted himself right into a landscape dotted with oil wells. If it doesn't—well, the Californian can paint another $1,000 picture. It might look good on the back of a lease.

Dog Rouses Family In Time To Flee Burning Home In Perryton

PERRYTON, May 13 (AP) — Cricket was a hero today.

Al Tremble's wife and children had retired last night and Tremble was about to follow when Cricket, his Pomeranian dog, began barking frantically.

It was warning enough for Tremble to discover his house was on fire. He successfully evacuated his family and called the fire department in time to limit damage to the roof and rear of his recently remodeled home.

Morrow Is Expected To Announce Decision On Diplomatic Post Soon

By SARAH MCCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 13 — A decision regarding the future course of Wright Morrow, Houston, as to whether he will accept the diplomatic post offered him by the Truman administration or seek to continue as Texas Democratic national committeeman, is expected in a few days.

Mr. Morrow is expected to accept the diplomatic post.

After all, the very fact that it has been offered to him is a hint sufficient that he had better take it.

Morrow Is Undecided

Morrow is understood to have told Texas congressmen at Jefferson-Jackson Day barbecue at Lubbock recently that he was still undecided. He is reported to have asked the advice of some of them. Rep. Omar Burleson, Anson, told Morrow to "do what you want to do."

The presence of Morrow and Byron Skelton, Temple city attorney, who twice has been chosen by the state democratic executive committee as the logical choice to succeed Morrow, brought no repercussions on the program.

Rep. W. R. Poage of the 11th District, staunch supporter of Skelton, had said if Morow was to appear on the program, then Skelton must be given a spot, also. As it turned out, both Morrow and Skelton appeared and everything was very cordial.

Next move the Texas Democrats are watching is what will happen after Morrow is named an ambassador. Skelton supporters look for Morrow men to seek to stop Skelton's being named Morrow's successor. The national party headquarters referred Texans today to their state statutes on those next in line after resignations. The State committee may have to be called in to session again to decide the matter.

Treasury Head Praises Paper Carriers For 'Public Services'

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Newspaper carrier boys, scheduled for a major role in the May 16-June 30 savings Bonds "opportunity drive, drew praise from Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today.

"Newspaper carrier boys almost unfailingly make good citizens," Snyder told a rally near the Washington monument.

"Actually, I should say they are good citizens, for it is typical of such groups as this that they frequently undertake important public services while they're still very young men."

Snyder addressed some 7,000 Washington newspaper carriers, as representatives of 250,000 carriers for 300 daily newspapers who are to deliver Savings Bonds literature to 13,000,000 families over the nation.

First Deliveries Of Foreign Wheat Purchase Reach Mexico

MEXICO CITY, May 13. (U.P.)—The first deliveries of a $3,368,825 (U.S.) Mexican government wheat purchase have arrived in Mexico, it was learned today.

The grain, bought in the United States and Canada by the government's distributing and purchasing agency, will be used to make up the difference between domestic production and consumption.

The Nacional Distribudora agency said it bought 16,779 metric tons from the Kansas Grain company of the United States and 17,962 tons from the Continental Grain company of Canada.

Several rail shipments already have entered Mexico through Laredo, El Paso and Piedras Negras and three ship loads are expected at Gulf Coast ports within the next week.

City Commission Favors 'Nuisance' Law

Drastic Action Would Be Taken

A far-reaching "nuisance ordinance" was approved on first reading at a recessed meeting of the city commission Friday.

One of its more drastic provisions would forbid the flow of water and other waste from air conditioners, garages and auto washing establishments into streets, alleys and gutters.

Another would require owners to keep vacant property clear of weeds, trash and stagnating pools of water between June 1 and Oct. 1 of each year. If the owner did not attend to such work, the director of public health would be empowered to order it done and assess the cost against the property.

Other provisions of the lengthy ordinance would place the responsibility upon owners to prevent overflows and to control odors from sewers and cesspools; tighten regulations governing the keeping of poultry within the city limits, and regulate the movement and parking of livestock trucks within the city.

Violations would be punishable by a fine up to $100.

The ordinance was recommended by Gerald E. Jarvis, director of the city-county public health and welfare program.

It is scheduled for consideration on second and final reading by the commission at the semi-monthly meeting May 26. If approved then, it will go into effect about three weeks later following publication of its main provisions.

Among routine actions, the commission authorized City Manager Steve Matthews to attend the convention of the Texas City Managers' association in Sherman Monday through Wednesday. Matthews is vice president of the organization and will preside over the Tuesday morning session.

The commission also took under advisement a petition signed by about 50 business men on East Broadway and Avenue H urging tighter control of peddling on those streets. The city manager was asked to make an investigation and recommendations.

Sundown Gasoline Plant Opens Today

SUNDOWN, May 13 (Special)—Formal opening of the Slaughter gasoline plant, which is a major gas conservation project on the South Plains, will be observed with special ceremonies Saturday.

Approximately 1,500 invited guests, including employes and executives of oil companies operating in the Slaughter field, state officials, and civic leaders from over the area, will gather at the huge plant, located 4½ miles west of Sundown, to attend dedication ceremonies at the plant site.

State Official To Speak

Principal speaker at the opening ceremonies which will begin at 10 a. m., will be William J. Murray, jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad commission. Also expected to attend are Olin Culberson and Ernest O. Thompson, members of the commission.

The three state officials were to spend Friday night in Lubbock, and proceed on here this morning.

At today's ceremonies, H. D. Herndon, president of the Saltmont Oil company, one of the owners of the vast plant, will be master of ceremonies.

A barbecue will be served at noon Saturday, after which the plant will be opened for inspection of visitors.

Occupation To Continue 'For Some Time'

U. S. Army To Stay On Duty In Germany

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 13—Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared tonight U. S. troops will remain in West Germany "for some time to come" to help stabilize "a now friendly land" free of the Soviet version of Democracy.

This correspondent was the only newsman with the retiring military governor when he flew from Frankfurt to Berlin to bid farewell to other newsmen and Western Allied officials. He leaves for home Sunday.

Must Set Up System

This 52-year-old Georgian who has borne responsibility in four years in Germany was like a spent but happy marathon winner.

Clay gave me his own estimate of the immediate past, present, and future of Germany as he drank coffee from a paper cup in his special plane that flew in the unending stream of airlift supply planes.

The general expressed hope Russia at the May 23 Paris foreign ministers conference will ask that the Bonn constitution of West Germany be expanded to include millions of Germans under Soviet control, adding:

"But we have made it very plain that we will endorse a United Germany only if the expanded constitution includes all the rights and privileges we have incorporated in the western German constitution."

Could Win German Vote

The man who was the main opponent in resisting Soviet efforts to oust the western allies from Berlin through the now defeated blockade made these points today:

1. There is "no doubt at all" that truly Democratic elements would win any free German-wide elections:

2 Marshall plan aid would be extended to a land unified on Democratic principles;

3. There is no danger of a re-emergence of Nazism in the near future;

4. It is "reasonable" to anticipate Russian participation in control of the industrial Ruhr if a Paris settlement is reached. But that settlement must be a watertight one.

Rites Set Today For Infant Daughter Of Slaton Couple

SLATON, May 13. (Special) — Graveside rites for Paulette Thomas, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thomas of Slaton, who died at 4 p. m. today in Mercy hospital here, are to be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Englewood cemetery here.

Rev. Young, pastor of the Baptist church of Robinson has been named to officiate. Burial will be under direction of Rix Funeral home of Lubbock.

Survivors in addition to the parents include the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Simpson of Lubbock route 5; and Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thomas, sr., of Slaton.

Applications Taken For Positions At LAFB

Applications for civilian jobs at the reactivated Lubbock Air Force base will be received until further notice at the Texas Employment Commission office, 1114 Tenth stret, Lt. Col. N. F. Stradleigh, LAFB project officer, announced Friday.

He emphasized, however, that no one is being employed now and that no information can be supplied as to when and whether jobs will be available.

Colonel Stradleigh said he has been "swamped" with applicants since his announcement at a Chamber of Commerce "town meeting" Wednesday that he is receiving applications.

He said persons who already have applied to him should make new applications with the employment commission. His files will be referred to that agency. But a direct application will be additional insurance that eligible persons will not be overlooked, if and when job openings occur.

For the present, he said, names of applicants merely will be kept on file so applicants can be notified readily of any future development.

Three Proposals Okayed At Tech

Texas Tech students voted Thursday in a special election to make three important amendments to the student constitution by an overwhelming majority of almost seven to one.

Two of the amendments had to do with the selections of editors of two school publications, The Toreador, campus newspaper, and La Ventana, student year book, and the third granted students taking graduate work at the college the privilege of voting in the campus elections.

Appointment Plan Okayed

Section 704, which received 449 votes for and 70 against, states the method which will be used in selecting future editors of the Toreador. It says, "the editor of The Toreador will be chosen by vote of the following student and faculty members of the Publications committee: a student representative from each division; student chairman of the Publications committee; faculty sponsor of The Toreador; and the faculty chairman of the Publications committee is allowed a vote if necessary to obtain the necessary five vote majority."

It also provided that no less than two weeks before April 1 a formal notice must be made in The Toreador asking for written applications for the positions. The current editor of the paper will submit three names of potential candidates whom he considers best qualified. April 1 is set as the deadline for all applications and the editor will be chosen within 30 days after that time.

Graduate Vote Approved

Section 706, which reads the same as the amendment above with the exception that it is for the editor of La Ventana, received 441 votes for and 72 against.

The third amendment, section 101, was voted in by a vote of 449 for and 67 against. It states that the student association at the college shall consist of all undergraduates who are registered. Any graduate student who is enrolled for at least six hours of qualified graduate work shall be entitled to vote but may not hold office.

A total of 521 students voted in the election. Clint Formby, student council president, said the amendments had been approved by Pres. D. M. Wiggins and himself and that they would become effective with the beginning of the 1949-50 school year.

HST TO 'GO DOWN FIGHTING'

Truman Assures Rail Union Of All-Out Battle Over Labor Law

CLEVELAND, May 13. (AP)—President Truman declared today it is much better "to go down fighting" than to compromise on drawing up a new federal labor law.

"We are going to continue to fight," Mr. Truman said in a telegram to A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, "and we are going to win because we are right."

Whitney had wired President Truman, urging no retreat on repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. The President's reply, dated May 4, appeared in Trainmen News, official weekly publication of the brotherhood.

Would Not Compromise

Mr. Truman wrote:

"I've never believed in any compromise on the labor program other than the amended Wagner Act which I sent to the Congress and which was reported out by the labor committee of both the House and the Senate.

"I am in the same frame of mind you are, that it is much better to go down fighting for what is right than to compromise your principles.

"The compromisers got nowhere, as I was sure they wouldn't, and they never had any consideration whatever for me."

State Completes Case Against Doctor Charged In Iowa Slaying

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 13 (AP)—After five days of testimony during which 40 witnesses were presented, the state late today completed its case against Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 28.

The St. Louis pediatrician is being tried on a first degree murder charge as a result of the fatal stabbing of his wife's bachelor admirer, Byron C. Hattman.

Immediately after the state rested, defense counsel moved for a directed verdict of acquittal and presented motions to withdraw some of the evidence and some of the issues.

District Judge J. E. Heiserman, however, adjourned court until 9 a. m. (CST) Monday. He said he would rule on the motions then.

Bubonic Plague Organisms On Fleas Reported In New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., May 13. (INS) Fleas carrying bubonic plague organisms have been collected from two spotted ground squirrels south of Clayton in Union county.

Dr. James R. Scott, director of New Mexico's Department of Health, said presence of the plague organisms was confirmed in a report received from the plague suppressive laboratory in San Francisco.

Dr. Scott said a field crew also found fleas carrying bubonic plague organisms on grasshopper mice in the area south of Clayton.

He said investigations will continue in an effort to define the area covered by the plague carrying fleas.

Tech Student Named To Fraternity Post

Charles E. Wendt, jr., junior journalism major at Texas Technological college was chosen as national vice-president of Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary photography fraternity, during the annual International Collegiate Fifty Print exhibition show in Columbia, Mo., last week.

Wendt, who is from Lubbock, received notice of his election by telegram Friday. He is vice-president of the Eta chapter of K.A.M. at Tech.

Two Others Honored

Two other Tech students, Jane Skinner of Electra and Bob Roper of Dallas, each received honorable mention for prints which they had entered in the exhibition. Miss Skinner's "Adolphus" and Roper's "Wet But Still Loyal," were the only pictures receiving honors which were sent from Tech. Eleven were entered from the Eta chapter.

The Tech chapter, which is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Douglas Moore, instructor in journalism, was also chosen as runnerup for the most efficient chapter in the national organization.

Other officers elected were Alfred R. Bransdorfer, president, from the Nu chapter at Michigan State and George Morgan, executive secretary, from the Alpha chapter at the University of Missouri.

Membership in K.A.M. is limited to those students having a B average in photography courses. The local chapter gives a print show in the recreation hall at the college each year. Prizes are awarded to the winners of each class.

Investors Told New Hotel For Levelland Is Assured

LEVELLAND, May 13. (Special) The "New Hotel" is assured, investors were told today at a luncheon in the Baptist church.

The building will be completed by September 1950, Sam Billingsly, chamber of commerce manager, declared, after the $255,000 mark in sale of stock was passed.

The hotel, expected to cost $425,000, has been the object of an intensive drive by Levelland civic clubs, individuals, and the chamber of commerce, and has been financed through stock sales to local citizens.

Election of a board of directors is expected to take place within the next few days, and definite plans toward location and construction of the building will follow, H. H. Mann, executive committee chairman, and Joe R. Potts, sales manager, said.

TWO PERFECT HANDS

FARRAGUT, Ida., (U.P.)—In the course of one evening of bridge at the home of Dorothy Boyland here, two perfect hands were dealt. Miss Boyland received the first perfect hand, all spades. An hour later, one of her guests picked up a hand of 13 diamonds.

QUICK PAINT JOB DONE

MONTEREY, Cal., (U.P.) — Fifty AFL painters swarmed over the two-story Veterans of Foreign Wars building here, completely painting it in 50 minutes. The stunt dramatized a clean-up campaign.

BEE WHISKERED—E. D. Gilliam wears a beard of bees at the Dallas County Beekeepers Association picnic at Dallas, Texas. He thought that the bee caging contest was a little tame, so he decided to try a stunt he had read about in a bee-keepers' journal. Gilliam took a queen bee from a hive and placed it on his neck, then waited. In a few minutes bees were swarming over his cheeks and neck to stay with their queen. Gilliam said he didn't know what was going to happen and nothing did. When he removed the queen bee the others left him. (AP Photo.)

Garza Youth Seeks $37,709.50 Damages

Recovery of $37,709.50 in damages is being asked by the plaintiff in a damage suit filed Friday in 72nd District court of Judge Dan Blair.

The suit—entitled Travis Massengill, by next friend E. R. Massengill, against Dan Davis, doing business as Dan Davis Transport company, and William Glenn Clayton—grew out of a collision Dec. 29, 1948, of a car in which Travis Massengill was a passenger, and a galosine transport owned by the Dan Davis Transport company. The co-defendant, Clayton, was driver of the truck which was parked at the side of the street at the time of the accident.

The plaintiff is a resident of Garza county, Davis is from Terry county, and Clayton is from Amarillo, the petition alleges. The petition was filed by the law firm of Burks and McNeil, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Bob Hope Continues Raids On Bing Crosby's 'Talent'; Barry Fitzgerald Sought For Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 13—Isn't it enough that Bob Hope has snagged two of Big Crosby's leading ladies—Dorothy Lamour and Rhonda Fleming? Now Bob is out to grab Barry Fitzgerald, that cute old Irish fixture in Bing's movies.

Hope is hoping to get Barry for the part of Lucille Ball's father in "Fancy Pants," his next at Paramount. He's told his producer, Bob Welch, "settle for nobody else."

Barry would play a seedy old westerner who gets rich. Well, he should know how to act that part after working with Crosby and Hope who are definitely on the rich side.

Actor Is Replaced

I'm sorry, indeed, that Alan Marshall is being replaced as Claudette Colbert's husband in "Three Came Home." After three weeks of shooting, Alan simply could not lose enough weight to make him look realistic in the role of a man in Jap prison camp.

Truth is, Alan's doctor did not want him to lose a drastic amount of weight. He has been ill, as you know, and this would have been his first movie in several years.

But, as discouraging as this may seem to him, his health comes first. 20th Century-Fox is putting another good actor, Patric Knowles, in Alan's role.

European Trip Set

Sunday I am flying by TWA Constellation to Paris, Cannes and other European cities. I have been assigned by International News Service to cover the wedding of Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan, and to do some other special stories.

I talked to Rita several times and she is a breathless girl getting ready for the big event.

While I am in Europe, Dorothy Manners, a friend of this column and who you know well, will write the column and cover the news.

Harriet Parsons, who is also well known to you both as a screen producer and radio commentator, will do the news for my radio show.

So, au revoir and I'll be seeing you again around June 1.

Romance Renewed

Jack Carson and Lola Albright, who used to go together, have the habit again.

Clark Gable was the riot of Elsa Maxwell's party. When Clark was handed a bolt of material and asked to design a gown on a live model in a bathing suit, he wrapped up the poor gal so tightly and tied so many knots, they had to carry her out like a mummy.

Two girls who used to be child stars at the same time—Shirley Temple and Deanna Durbin, eyeing one another with interest, luncheing on the terrace at the Players.

Star's Services Requested

The Treasury department has asked Irene Dunne to do the excerpts dealing with saving money from "I Remember Mama" on its radio show launching the Savings Bond drive on May 16.

Farley Granger, home from New York, holding hands with Geraldine Brooks at the Brown Derby.

Ella Raines telephoned just before I left to say that the minute she finishes "Bail Bond Story" she's hurrying back to Major Robin Olds in Paris. Ella also wanted to know all about Woodbury, the pup parented by my spaniel, Jimmy, and her dog—and honestly compelled me to report he's as wild as ever. But I love him.

Birth Announced

Craig Rice is a proud grandma. Her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Atwill, welcomed a nine-pound boy at St. John hospital Thursday morning who has been named Christopher.

The first person Greer Garson called after the preview of "Forsyte Saga" was her cameraman, Joe Rutterberg. There's a smart girl. Joe has made 12 movies with the redhead and from the looks of her in technicolor, he'll probably make that many more.

The Lou Kings (he is directing "Mrs. Mike") celebrate their third wedding anniversary this weekend.

Now, I'm clutching in my hand coveted ducats to see "South Pacific" and "Death Of A Salesman" before boarding the plane Sunday. I want to lunch at "21" and dine at the Stork and a million other things in New York. So, I'll say goodbye for a while. See you soon.

TO OPEN FAMED HIGHWAY

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 13 (INS) — Famed Pikes Peak highway near Colorado Springs will be opened to tourists early Sunday morning. Don Lawrie, administrator of the city-operated road, said that snow drifts are piled high in places, but that the mountain highway will be in good shape.

SACRIFICE FUTILE

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — Mrs. Joan Bierdz, charged with disorderly conduct, told Judge Harry P. Beam that she slashed her arms in the belief that people would look at her instead of her husband, Chester, 26, whose face had been disfigured by cancer.

Hospital Given Air Conditioner

MARSHALL, May 13 (AP) — It was hot last summer, as only an East Texas summer can be, while W. C. Jones of Big Spring was in the Texas and Pacific hospital with an injured foot.

When he was ready to return home, where he is the T and P railroad's baggage service agent on the Fort Worth run, he told Dr. Carl McCurdy he was going to provide an air-conditioning plant for the hospital.

Next Monday, the West Texan will arrive with a 36 by 36 foot unit, capable of moving 3,500 cubic feet of air. He built it in his spare time with materials he purchased.

Bogota, Columbia, postponed opening its schools because of a critical water shortage.

5,000 Police Join In Hunt For Sicily's 'Jesse James'

PALERMO, Sicily, May 13. (AP)—About 5,000 police joined today in gunning for Salvatore Guiliano, the best of Sicily's big bad men.

The vast manhunt centered around Giuliano's Montelepre mountain stronghold six miles southwest of Palermo.

The orders were to get this Sicilian Jesse James dead or alive.

The slaying of three policemen from ambush yesterday gave bloody emphasis to the tension. The three were machinegunned about 15 miles southeast of Palermo.

Ironically, the authorities did not believe Giuliano was responsible for those killings. They attributed the ambush to a lesser bandit, named Mauro.

However, the swarthy, dark-eyed, Giuliano and his men are estimated to have killed about 70 policemen since he took to the hills in 1943.

"Command Decision" is a man's picture, a remarkable, stirring, strongly flavored authoritative tribute to men at war and aerial bombardment. It has an all-male cast—there's no love theme, not even the swish of a WAC's skirt. It's the study of a great man. It's filled with the kind of discussion put on the screen. It should be a command decision of every breadwinner in these parts that his family see this mighty film. We unconditionally recommend it for your "Must" list.

WOMEN! IF YOUR MAN MADE THIS MISTAKE . . . COULD YOU FORGIVE HIM? Dick Powell departs from his detective heroic here to portray with equal earnestness the unheroic role of a husband and father guilty of breach of trust and in consequence, a murder which the law condones but his conscience does not.

PROMOTING WASTE

A Weird Philosophy

THE HIGH tax philosophy expounded recently by several of the administration's congressional leaders is likely to become increasingly incredible to the thoughtful taxpayer who ponders its implications.

It is a philosophy which argues, in gist, that governmental extravagances never can be curbed without dangers of a depression.

This "warning" followed an announcement that the Veterans administration was preparing to trim 8,000 employes from its payroll because of reduced appropriations. Some of the immediate congressional criticisms did not pretend to consider whether these employes were needed. They argued, in substance, that government payrolls must be maintained, regardless of need, as a safeguard against a depression.

The sudden discharge of many federal workers obviously would aggravate any existing unemployment problem. The government properly should set the example in time of need of spreading available work as much as possible. It should avoid the risks of the panic—the worst of depression dangers—which sudden mass discharges might incite. Payroll reductions should be accomplished somewhat gradually even when this might involve additional expenses of temporary nature.

But administration wheelhorses have advanced the startling thesis that federal payrolls never can be trimmed without risk of a depression. They contend, in substance, that government employes should be retained regardless of the need for them. Possibly they are correct. But many thoughtful people may wonder whether money wasted on useless payrolls, or in any other manner, could not be applied more beneficially to the creation of jobs and opportunities outside the fields of government.

As A Man Driveth

AGREEMENT is likely to be pretty close to unanimous with Emily Post, the etiquette expert, that the conduct of a person behind the wheel of an automobile usually is a reliable indication of whether the individual possesses the quality popularly known as "good breeding."

As a matter of fact, Emily might have gone much further. Many of the characteristics of the individual, man or woman, usually can be judged with accuracy by observing his conduct as a driver.

Those who keep a horn constantly squawking invite the supposition that they are chronic complainers in the privacy of their homes or businesses. It is difficult to imagine that the driver who is thoughtless in his driving, or parking, could be thoughtful of those with whom he has frequent and intimate association. Those who "fly off the handle" behind a steering wheel are apt to be the same way at home and at work. Those who bull their way through traffic in disregard of the rights of others usually do no more than supply proof that they are bullies at heart, if not in fact. Those who deliberately try to cheat in their observance of traffic laws usually would bear watching in a poker game. Those who would try to fix a deserved traffic ticket invite the suspicion that they might not be above paying or accepting a bribe.

Emily, in short, probably would not have been too much in error if she had paraphrased one of the most profound of all Biblical verses to read: "By their driving ye shall know them."

Reports on recent district and county federation meetings were made yesterday afternoon when the Sorosis club met in the home of Mrs. Allen T. Stewart, 1901 Sixteenth street. A luncheon was planned for club members next Tuesday.

Mrs. R. L. McKnight made the delegates report on the seventh district federated club meeting held recently in Snyder and Mrs. Stewart made a report on the Lubbock County Federation meeting held in Slaton on May 4.

The "spice of the program" was given by Mrs. R. T. Campbell.

We're Not Superstitious, But—

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Four lonely women, one of whom may become the bride of Henry Gough Harding, eccentric master of the "New Eden" on Speare Island, find fear creeping into their lives for some unexplained reason. Four graves, explained as those of workmen killed by accident; mysterious symbolism of dead fish on the beach, and finally a storm which brings four shipwrecked people to the island. These newcomers include two women, Nona McGuire, Mollie Stark, Fred Sillwell and George Bascombe. Mollie is suffering from an injury to her leg.)

X

HARDING put in, "You were coming to Speare Island, Mr. Sillwell?"

"Speare Island? Isn't this Clarion Island?"

"No. Is that where you were heading?"

"Sure. To photograph the bird life."

"You missed it well over 500 miles."

Nona McGuire laughed.

"You and that other woman take bird pictures too?" Mabel Jones asked.

"Heavens no," Nona said sweetly. "Miss Stark and I are atmosphere and background. The motion picture industry requires such things you know."

"You're in the movies?" Lilly Warren asked.

"We were able to squeeze in time to make the trip when Mr. Sillwell insisted," Nona said.

Fred Sillwell groaned. "Fifteen thousand dollars worth of equipment gone. To say nothing of the yacht. The insurance won't half cover the loss."

"What happened?" Harding asked.

"We were going along, under a scrap of sail when all at once we were in breakers. I thought I saw an opening and tried to make it. Without the auxiliary we couldn't. We struck, lost the mast, and then were in calmer water. The Gullwing must have been cut wide open forward. She sailed right from under us, just as we made out a cliff against the sky. We're all good swimmers, but I don't know how we all made it ashore. By the way, I want to thank whoever it was who pulled me out those last few feet."

"Somebody gave me a hand too," George admitted.

"Somebody must have helped me," Nona shuddered. "I know the last thing I remembered was choking on sandy water, and then I was on the beach."

They looked at each other.

"Maybe," George said unwillingly, "Mollie was busy. Maybe that's how she got hurt."

Harding's face relaxed a trifle. "What happened then?"

GEORGE took it up. "We heard Mollie groaning. We found her and bandaged the cut the best we could. By the touch system. The water was getting higher. We were backed up almost to the base of the cliff. I thought—I thought the water was going to get us after all. We started looking for a break in the cliff." He shivered.

Agnes Firth cleared her throat loudly. She blushed when everyone looked at her. "I—I'm sorry," she murmured. "It must have been dreadful."

Nona McGuire said, "I couldn't believe it at first when I saw the light. But it was a break in the cliff, and there was a trail. Somehow we managed to grope our way along it until we could see this house."

Harding frowned suspiciously. "You saw a light from the beach? That's strange. You must have been on the Fisherman's Beach. It's the only possible place on the west side of the island where you might have struck and survived. You were fortunate indeed. But I don't understand the light."

"What difference does it make?" Sillwell asked. "Look, we've been told we can't smoke. How about another drink?"

"The supply is limited," Harding said stiffly. "We don't encourage booze fighting on Speare Island."

"Who's fighting it?" Sillwell asked amiably. "I welcome it with open arms." He took the bottle Lilly Warren handed him.

"We had luck," Bascombe put in. "What is this island, a resort? Many people here?"

"You've seen them all," Harding said. "It is my island."

THERE was a silence broken by a gurgle as George poured himself a drink. Harding glared at him, but the younger man was too nearsighted to notice. "Happy landings," Bascombe said.

"Are you in communication with the mainland?" Fred asked.

Harding hesitated, then spoke quickly. "Ordinarily. But the storm put the radio out of action. Otherwise I would have asked before if there was anyone you wanted notified."

George Bascombe laughed. "Nobody'll miss us for weeks. Nobody cares—" He stopped abruptly, bent down to rub the ankle Sillwell had kicked under the table.

"When the radio's working again," Fred said, "I'd like to get in touch with my attorney in Los Angeles. He'll send for us, unless you have a boat here?"

"No. I'll send the message as soon as possible. In the meantime I'll make you all as comfortable as possible."

"If I only had a pair of glasses," George mourned.

"In return," Harding went on, "while you are my guests, I'll ask you to be governed by Speare Island rules of conduct."

"Oh certainly," Sillwell promised.

"Private laws?" Bascombe chuckled. "What are they?"

Henry Harding did not smile. "Tonight you should rest. There's a cot for Miss McGuire in the room with Miss Cosgrove and Mrs. Warren, and cots for the two of you here in the main room. Tomorrow we'll see about other quarters and go into details."

Sillwell stood up. "Compared to where we might have been sleeping tonight, anything will be luxurious."

"I hope you'll remember that," Harding said, "if at any time in the future our ways do not meet with your approval."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ENTIRELY too many people die from heart trouble.

Every time I go to my syndicate office in New York I hear: "You knew Soandso, didn't you? Well, he dropped dead a couple of days ago. Too bad. Only fifty."

Imagine, more than a half million deaths in one year from what the statistics call "diseases of the heart."

BRANDEIS

Included in that are those caused by high blood pressure, nervous disorders, brain hemorrhages and the like.

A large percentage of these deaths could have been prevented, because so many of them are caused by emotional disturbances of one kind or another.

If you don't want to get heart disease or become a nervous wreck, prevent it.

To be very trite, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

The doctors tell you, "Don't worry. Take it easy."

But they don't tell you how not to worry yet make a living, and how to work yet take it easy at the same time.

I'll tell you.

It's as simple as A B C.

And I won't charge you a penny for my prescription.

BE YOURSELF!

That's all there is to it.

You know what happens to a motor if you keep on abusing it.

If you have a Chevrolet, don't make a Cadillac out of it.

Both are good cars. But one has much more power than the other.

So, first find out the capacity of your own motor.

Discover your manpower, your abilities, your talents.

Develop them to their fullest extent but don't overstrain them.

Work hard—but only as hard as your mind and your body permit.

Don't wreck yourself trying to be another Morgan, a Ford, a Rockefeller.

Remember, you are Jones.

Be the best possible Jones, not a poor imitation of someone else.

AFTER you have discovered your real self, learn to live with that self and like it.

Then you have the beginning of a happy life.

Money alone or fame alone has never yet made anyone happy. But the craze for money and fame has put millions of dollars into the pockets of doctors, druggists and undertakers.

CHINA ONLY DARK SPOT

Peace Outlook Good

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Dean Acheson was not talking merely for public or political consumption when he told members of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at their annual convention here that international conditions which threatened a World War III only a year ago had "improved."

TUCKER

The fact is, as he has informed Congressional committees behind closed doors, only one grave crisis clouds the foreign skies. That is the Communist conquest of all of North China, and the failure to settle the dispute between the Dutch government and the Indonesian rebels While those unsolved problems seem to present two difficulties, they are really one.

TIME: The question which the collapse of Chiang Kai-Shek's government and the Dutch difficulty present to the United States and its allies in the United Nations is whether the whole Far East will fall into Stalin's hands.

In fact, another black spot in the otherwise bright international picture haunts western statesmen. It is this:

Is Moscow going through the motions of making peace in Germany for the sole reason of gaining time and opportunity to gobble Asia?

That is a question, however, which may not be answered for many years, as Mr. Acheson admits.

ANALYSIS: Along the rest of the once dark international horizon, according to Mr. Acheson, the clouds are lifting. Here is his analysis of 1949 conditions as against the 1948 scene of a year ago, when Russia began her blockade of Berlin:

(1). Moscow has virtually agreed to end her blockade and to sit down around the table to discuss a final settlement of the German problem. We do not yet know whether she means business, but we are proceeding on that assumption.

Should the Council of Foreign Ministers reach an agreement it will mean the end of the occupation of the enemy country, save for supervision designed to prevent Germany from running amok ten or twenty years hence.

PALESTINE: (2). Although the Palestine problem seems minor in comparison with our "cold war" with Russia, it has been the source of major worry at Washington until a few weeks ago.

There was always the chance that, like the assassin's bullet at Sarajevo in 1914 and Hitler's invasion of Poland in 1939, it would precipitate a world conflict.

The Near East is a far more important and volcanic area than was Serbia in 1914 and Poland in 1939.

Now, however, it appears that one of our least known but ablest diplomats, Dr. Ralph Bunche, has persuaded the Jews and Arabs to talk it out instead of fighting it out.

The combined influence of the United States with the new leaders of Israel and England's power over King Abdullah of Transjordan point toward a final and peaceful settlement of this once dangerous situation.

Russia might have made great headway in this key area had it not been for Dr. Bunche's efforts, which were supported wholeheartedly by Washington and London.

As it is now, the young state of Israel, as well as her new leaders, feel grateful to the western powers, and have lined up with the United States and Great Britain, who alone can provide the capital and recovery resources that Palestine will require for many years.

ATHENS: (3). Although guerilla warriors still continue to gain minor successes against the American-armed and trained Greek forces in the northern mountains, Athens is gradually regaining control of this territory. A decline in expenditures for this war may enable the government to improve the bread-and-butter lot of the people, whose poverty and hardships have been the chief causes of unrest.

Marshal Tito's disagreement with Stalin has been a helpful factor. The anti-government faction is now receiving almost no arms and recruits from Yugoslavia, which once provided the bulk of men and materials for the Communist forces.

TEST: A forthcoming conference of Yugoslavian, Bulgarian and Albanian officials, called by President Herbert Evatt and Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations, will provide another test of Russia's sincerity for world peace.

Under a United Nations mandate, the "Commies" in those three countries will be asked to end their interference in Greece. If they do, and Albania and Bulgaria will take orders on this question from Moscow, the problem of this key country in the Mediterranean Basin will be on their way to settlement, according to Mr. Acheson.

KASHMIR: (4). Kashmir is only a ragged but Graustarkian province to most of the world. But the claims of India and Pakistan to this key area also provided a danger spot, besides giving Russia a possible wedge for interfering in the affairs of this vast continent.

However, it is expected that a United Nations mission headed by Admiral Chester Nimitz will organize and conduct a plebiscite that will settle this question in a peaceful manner. The Kashmir people will be allowed to decide for themselves whether they shall join with India or the separate government of Pakistan.

The basic fact is, according to Secretary Acheson's survey, that World War III explosives have been dampened down, at least for the moment.

"Hold-Up Man Extracts $300 from Dentist."—Headline. We hope the holdup man said, "Now this isn't going to hurt you a bit."

In many a case, "take home" pay is considerably less than "start home" pay.

The average auto costs from 40 to 55 cents a pound. But the trouble comes when the driver hasn't an ounce of brains.

American coal resources are estimated to be ample for 1,000 years. Or around 1,000 more strikes.

Fable: Once a woman saw another woman wearing an exact duplicate of her spring outfit, and she complimented her on her excellent taste.

Things could be worse. There was a time when a Democrat didn't have $100 to buy a plate at a Jackson Day dinner.

Cheer up. Some fellow at a future date will refer to these times as "the good old days."

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

BYRD INCIDENT RENEWS FEUD

HST Not Planning All-Out Purge

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—When the late President Roosevelt came out against Senator George of Georgia in a speech at Barnesville, Ga., in 1938 to start what came to be known as "the purge" directed at conservative members of his own party who fought his program, he sought to soften the blow by reaching for the senator's hand and saying:

"I love you, Walter—may we always be friends."

Harry Truman, who is not given to such political niceties—or hypocracies—is expected to utter no such apologies to Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for his own frank remark to an American Veterans committee delegation at the White House that "there are too many Byrds in Congress." Mr. Truman meant it, and is not the sort to offer excuses.

STOKES

Possible Purge Seen

Immediately this incident was seized upon as a possible forecast of an attempted "purge" of the Virginia Democratic senator, who is not up for re-election until 1952. It is doubtful that President Truman has anything of the sort in mind, that is, any direct action such as President Roosevelt attempted which failed except in a single case, that of one House member, Former Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York.

In fact, Senator Byrd and his clan in the South already have "purged" Harry Truman, as far as they are concerned. They fought his program in Congress, they tried to defeat him for renomination, they encouraged the campaign in the South to defeat him for re-election, and they are back fighting him daily in the present Congress. Likewise, President Truman has "purged" himself of them. He shook himself free when he defied them at the convention and paid not the slightest bit of attention to them in the campaign. He won without them. He owes them nothing, just as they owe him nothing.

A lot of crocodile tears are being shed over Senator Byrd. Overlooked in the current martyr rites is the senator's own performance in Virginia in the last campaign. He refused to endorse the President, the head of his party, and, as they put it in Virginia, he spent the campaign "picking his apples"—he grows them quite profitably around Winchester.

The facts, as revealed by this reporter from Virginia in the campaign, are worth recalling now briefly. Not only did the Byrd machine do nothing for the President, but it privately encouraged the States Rights forces in Virginia with the expectation that there would be enough defections among Democrats in Virginia to Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, States Rights presidential candidate, so that Governor Dewey would carry the state. Some of the Thurmond presidential electors were prominent figures identified with the Byrd machine.

The Byrd forces got their cue from G. Aloin Messenburg, state Democratic chairman and Byrd lieutenant, who announced about a month before the election that party headquarters would take no stand as between President Truman and Governor Thurmond since "good Democrats" were supporting both, but would devote itself to congressional contests. An independent Truman-Barkley committee had to be set up hastily to conduct a campaign for the President. It got a very late start, but held the state for Mr. Truman.

Byrd Opposition Cited

Before the campaign, it may be recalled, the Byrd machine in Virginia started a move in that state to keep the President's name off the ballot which, though frustrated there by the outraged outcry, nevertheless spread to other parts of the South.

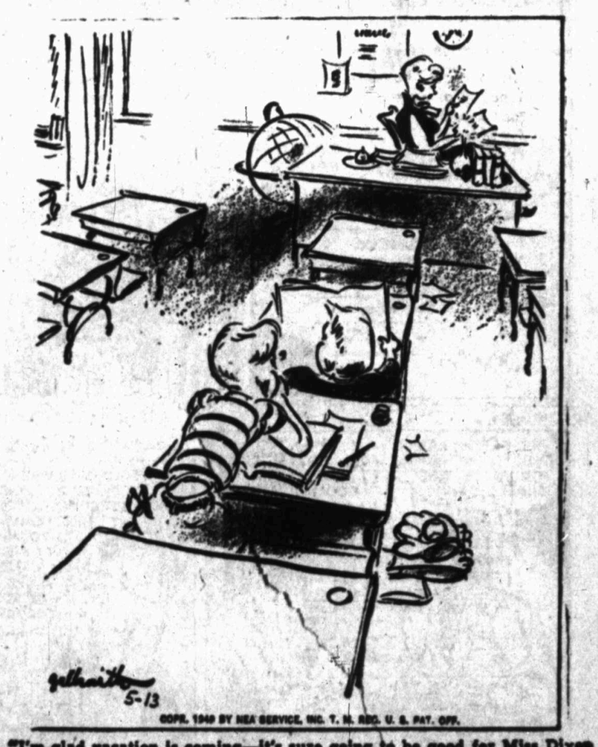

Senator Byrd is a smart politician, as well as an able man, and it is doubtful that he expects much from Harry Truman after all that.

But President Truman's objective goes far beyond Senator Byrd. He has picked out in Senator Byrd a handy symbol for the still-powerful forces in the South that fight progressive economic measures, just as President Roosevelt tried to create a similar symbol in Senator George. The Virginia senator is just another factor in the strategy the President has developed, manifest in other recent incidents, which is to isolate this element in his party and show, as occasion arises, how it ties itself up with Republicans to thwart his program, as it did with the Roosevelt program. It is an educational campaign that will be welcomed by progressives in the South, whose number is increasing, as well as elsewhere, for what this southern wing of the party does in Congress affects people all over the country.

Senator Byrd's Virginia machine is in a hot fight now over the governorship, for which the primary is in August. While President Truman's blunt remark may be useful to the anti-Byrd forces in this contest, it is unlikely that the President had this in mind. His purpose is much broader.

Prevention Of Sickness And Disease Is Goal Of Junior Welfare League's Well-Baby Clinic

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" applies to the Junior Welfare League Well-Baby clinic, which is in its 10th year of operation and which works with well babies rather than sick babies.

The purpose is to prevent babies from becoming sick by giving them inoculations and vaccinations and by helping the mothers in proper care and feeding of babies.

258 Patients Listed

The Well Baby clinic was organized in September, 1939, four years after the Junior Welfare league had been organized in Lubbock.

The clinic is held three times each month in different sections of Lubbock. A clinic session for Mexican babies is conducted the second Thursday of each month in the St. Joseph's Catholic church recreation hall; a clinic for white babies, the third Thursday in the Community Center, Sixth and Ave. B, and a clinic for negro babies, the fourth Thursday in the former negro USO building, now used as a recreation hall, at Twenty-first and Ave C.

A total of 258 babies is registered as active patients in the clinc. Of that total, 156 attended the three clinics last month.

Nurse Visits Homes

A part of the Junior Welfare league work is to encourage as many mothers as possible to take their babies to the clinic.

In addition to the clinic sessions, home visits are made frequently by Mrs. L. H. Martin, paid nurse of the clinic. Mrs. Martin's plan calls for a monthly visit to each patient, but sometimes three or four visits are made each month. She teachers mothers how to mix formulas and feed their babies properly.

Mrs. Martin administers inoculations and vaccinations, including those for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, small pox and measules. If babies are sick, she advises them to see a doctor.

Five Lubbock doctors donate time to help the clinic, each attending a clinic session once a month. They are Dr. Arthur Jenkins, Dr. M. H. Benson, Dr. Pauline Miller, Dr. C. B. Batson and Dr. J. D. Donaldson.

Cost $400 Monthly

Miss Athla Lynne Adams is secretary of the clinic.

Mrs. Cliff Widener, Well Baby clinic chairman, heads the extensive work of League members in clinic activities. Sixteen members of the league help in each clinic.

The costs of operating the clinic is, conservatively, approximately $400 a month, said Mrs. R. S. Prothro, Junior Welfare League president. The money is obtained through league projects and through contributions from individuals and business firms.

The project is one of several in which the Junior Welfare league takes part. The league also sponsors a nursery school at Veterans village. It helps in various civic drives and projects. During the summer, league members help in playground programs of the city parks.

MARKET PACED BY COPPER

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Stocks of copper had a bull market all their own today.

Issues of the big producers advanced an extreme of 1¾ points.

Overall business was slim. Turnover amounted to 780,000 shares, which compares with 790,000 Thursday.

Wall Street sources linked the recovery of the copper group—some such stocks have dropped to new 1949 lows during the past week or so—with a revival in demand for refined copper.

Kennecott, Major U. S. producer, advanced 1½ to 44⅜ and Phelps Dodge jumped 1¾ to 41½. Smaller gains were turned in by Anaconda at 28¼ and Cerro De Pasco at 18⅛.

Trade sources reported substantial sales of refined copper during the past two days after weeks of stagnant demand. The post-war high price for copper of 23½ banged down to 18 cents in an effort to stimulate sales.

Graham-Paige, most actively traded issue, rallied ⅛ to 1⅝ after yesterday's plunge to a new low for the year and a final loss of ½ point. The improvement coincided with news that stockholders will vote on June 2 on a proposed addition of 2,000,000 shares of $1-par common. The company now has outstanding a little more than 5,000,000 shares of an authorized 6,000,000.

Guantanamo Sugar moved up ⅛ to 6⅝, top price for the year, evidently in response to news of an increase in Cuba's sugar export quota.

Others higher included U. S. Steel, (old and new) Republic Steel, W. T. Grant, Studebaker, Western Union, Westinghouse Electric, Johns-Manville, Radio Corp., International Paper, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Pacific Western Oil, and Universal Pictures.

Pushed back a little were Bethelehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, J. C. Penney, Standard Oil (NJ), Richfield Oil, and United Air Lines.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .2 of one point to 63.5, top for the week.

U. S. governments varied 1/32 of a point either way in over-the-counter dealings.

In the curb plus signs appeared in front of Savoy Oil, Starrett Corp., Technicolor, Crosley Motors, Kaiser-Frazer, and International Hydro-Electric preferred.

Final Okay Seen On Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Administration leaders predicted today President Truman will win an impressive victory in the House with legislation setting out a far-flung long range housing program.

But Republicans promised a fight. The decisive vote is set for next week.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), senior banking committee Republican, told newsmen he believes the legislation is "a step toward socialization of housing" and that "there certainly will be a battle in the House." Wolcott led the forces that defeated similar legislation in the 80th Congress last year.

Passage Predicted

But Banking Chairman Spence (-Ky) predicted that "beyond any doubt" the housing bill will pass the House. The Senate on April 21 approved a similar measure, 57 to 13. The House banking committee gave House legislation a 14 to 7 approving vote yesterday.

Committee voting, behind closed doors, was reported to have found all voting Democrats supporting the administration bill and all Republicans opposing. Six members were absent. The Republican members immediately began a series of huddles to determine a line of action on the House floor.

The House bill authorizes a vast slum clearance program and construction of 1,050,000 low-rent public housing units during the next seven years, just as Mr. Truman requested, the Senate trimmed the number of these units to 810,000 in six years.

The measure also provides a $260,000,000-plus farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

Rep. Cole (R-Kan), a banking member, told newsmen the administration bill would cost about $19,000,000,000 over 40 years.

NEW SCURRY WELL IS PLANNED

Devonian Prospects Develop In Gaines County Deep Test

Devonian prospects have developed at Pacific Western Oil Corporation No 1 Oil Development company fee, deep wildcat between the Seminole and Russell fields in northwest Gaines county.

The venture cored from 11,535 feet to 11,443 feet and recovered chunks of lime showing fluorescence and porosity. Soft coring was reported, but no soft material was recovered. It was believed lost from the core. Total recovery was estimated at eight feet.

On last report, the wildcat was cutting another core below 11,553 feet in lime. No results of that procedure are available.

Unofficial sources say that if the core now being cut makes promising shows, pipe will be run for production tests.

New Drilling Planned

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Drilling will be started immediately at a one-location stepout from a recently completed Canyon-Pennsylvanian lime discovery in central Scurry county.

The new exploration is to be H. J. Shipley of Lubbock, et al, No. 1 Ida Maxwell. The drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 191, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it a diagonal southwest outpost to Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 H. G. Moore. That development, located in the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey, was finished for a flowing potential of 161 barrels of 41.2 gravity oil, plus 25 barrels of basic sediment and water, through a 5/32th inch choke. The production came from perforated section at 6,845-65 feet.

Shipley Plans 7,000 Feet

The Shipley, et al No. 1 Maxwell is slated to dig to 7,000 feet unless it finds and tests the Canyon before reaching that point. Rotary tools will be used.

H. J. Shipley, et al, No. 2 Ida Maxwell also has been staked. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 191, block 97, H&TC survey. That puts it one-quarter of a mile south of the same operators No. 1 Maxwell. It is also slated to go to 7,000 feet. Drilling on that project likely will not be started until after No. 1 Maxwell is completed.

Both explorations are to be on a lease secured by Shipley in a farmout from Magnolia Petroleum company.

Magnolia No. 1 Eicke, prospective Canyon lime discovery in central Scurry county, four miles west of Snyder, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, had flowed 28 barrels of new oil in six hours, and was still flowing at last report.

Production At 8,710

The production was coming from perforated section in the casing at 6,710-78 feet. That interval had been washed with 200 gallons of mud acid prior to the latest flow.

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cunningham-Shell, southwest Gaines county discovery for flowing oil from a Pennsylvanian lime, between 8,800 feet and 9,000 feet, had reached 9,506 feet in lime and chert, and was drilling ahead.

No recently indications of production have been reported from this exploration. It is on the west side of the Doss field, which produces from a Permian lime above 7,200 feet, and is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 4, block A-24, psl survey.

George P. Livermore, Inc., and Deep Rock Oil Corporation were drilling ahead toward the west-central Andrews county Ellenburger with their No. 1 A. L. Mayhew, et al, wildcat 30 miles west of the town of Andrews.

Below 3,000 Feet

Last report had it below 3,631 feet in lime and anhydrite. Unofficial top of the anhydrite was picked at 1,580 feet, on an elevation of 3,279 feet. The Yates sand was entered on an unofficial top of 3,020 feet. The Ellenburger is expected to come in above 12,000 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 20, block A-51, psl survey.

Celebration Honoring Texas Woman Doctor Is Cancelled

SAN ANTONIO, May 13. (AP)—Plans for a five-county celebration honoring Stockdale's "grand old lady of medicine," Dr. Ella Ware, have been cancelled.

Dr. Ware suffered a broken hip when she fell in the kitchen of her home in Stockdale Monday night. Wednesday she underwent an operation at a San Antonio hospital.

The celebration on her 79th birthday was to have been held today. The day also marked the doctor's 50th anniversary of her graduation from Texas University of Medicine in Galveston.

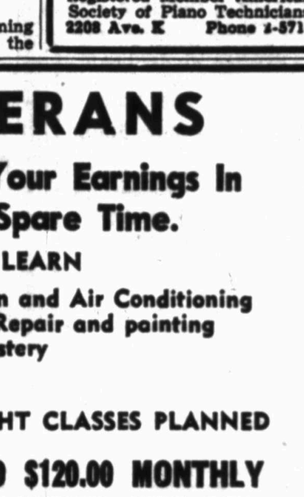

Italy is having a hard time expanding its sales in America because its prices are so high.

Texas Airline Is Promised Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics board said today that Trans-Texas airways will be given "full opportunity" to present its case for continued operations.

The board made the statement in announcing that it has denied a Trans-Texas petition that the CAB immediately rescind its public notice that it proposes to permit the airways' three-year certificate to expire on May 13, 1950.

The proposed action was announced by the board April 4 in connection with a series of steps which it is taking to revise the entire air route pattern of the nation. The board said at the time that the three-year certificates of Southwest airways of San Francisco and Pioneer airlines of Houston would be extended for another five years, and that some of the Trans-Texas routes would be transferred to Pioneer.

The board said that it is planning full hearings this fall at which Trans-Texas "will be able to submit traffic and financial results based on nearly two years of operating experience, and to demonstrate errors in the board's tentative conclusions."

The announcement noted that Trans-Texas, Pioneer, and Continental airlines are all applying for authority to serve Pecos, Texas, and said that no decision will be announced on service to Pecos until after the hearings on Trans-Texas' future operations.

Anton Grade-School Students Visit Here

A class of 25 third-grade students from Anton descended on Lubbock yesterday for an educational tour. Led by their teacher Miss Bettie Hart, the eight and nine-year-old youngsters left Anton at 9:30 by Santa Fe railroad for Littlefield.

At Littlefield they were met by a group of mothers who then convoyed the class to Lubbock. For most of them it was their first ride on a railroad.

Group Tours Bakery

After reaching Lubbock the pupils and mothers were taken through the Baldridge bakery where they saw bread and pastries being made. At almost every stage of the process they were treated to samples. The next stop on their tour was Texas Tech museum, and topping off the day, the children went through the Coca Cola bottling plant. Here again at noon the Anton group had a picnic lunch at Mackenzie state park.

The tour came to a climax when the class took over the stools and booths of a local drug store. Each of the 25 small boys and girls ordered their favorite treat and the mothers footed the bill. After that it was with some reluctance that the group piled into cars to return to Anton in time to catch the school bus for their homes.

Mothers who accompanied the students and provided transportation were, Mrs. Ed Hart, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Mrs. T. A. Glasscock, Mrs. Pope Swan, Mrs. Owen Williams, Mrs. Rudolph Shockley, and Mrs. Orville Bailey.

Revenue Bureau Officials Leave For Dallas After Visit Here

Kirby H. Jackson of Dallas, assistant collector of internal revenue of the Second Texas district of 144 counties, and David E. Conrad of Washington, a supervisor of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, left Lubbock Friday noon for Dallas after a one-day visit.

Before coming to Lubbock Thursday, they had visited Internal Revenue offices in Wichita Falls, Childress, Pampa and Amarillo. Jackson said their visit was a periodical one, to check the local and West Texas business and economic situation.

MEN NOT EXEMPT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Tennessee legislature exempted women from poll tax payments but could not exempt men because of the constitution, unchanged since 1870. The constitution reads only that "all male citizens . . . shall be liable to poll tax." However, the legislature got around that in part by accepting World War I or II service instead of cash for the tax.
