Howard Vote Steady, Texans Swamp Polls

Fiery Spray Pains 'Boys For Barry'

HOUSTON (AP) — Seven men were arrested Monday night after four youths said they were shoved to the ground and three of them said they were burned with a liquid while awaiting the arrival of President Johnson at Sam Houston High School.

The boys said the liquid, sprayed on them from a plastic squeeze bottle, did not actually burn them, but caused a burning sensation.

A police chemist analyzed a container of the liquid taken from one of the men and determined the fluid to be oils of mustard. He said the liquid could be painful but was not harmful.

SEVEN CHARGED

Six men were charged with aggravated assault on a minor and one with disturbing the peace.

The aggravated assault charges were filed against Felix L. Baldree, 45, who is unemployed (three counts); his brother, Claude Baldree, 39, from Liberty, Tex., (two counts); William C. Norman, 44, suburban Galena Park, (four counts); Robert Cornelius Baker, 32, (one count); Tommy Ray Conn, of Humble, Tex., (two counts); and Arthur Thomas Stanford, 41, (two counts).

The charges were filed in the court of Peace Justice W. C. Ragan. He set their bond at $1,000 each.

BOND SET

In addition, a charge of disturbing the peace was filed against Forrest Powell Jr., 25, whose bond was set at $25.

Two of the complainants, Wayne Warren, 17, and Richard Boyette, 18, said they were distributing literature in behalf of Sen. Barry Goldwater among the crowd estimated at 7,000.

Boyette quoted one of the men as saying, "If the GOP wants to send representatives out here, tell them to send men, not boys."

The other complainants were Ricky Echols, 16, and Bobby Caskey, also 16.

Scare Letter Claimed Sent To Exempted

HARLINGEN (AP)—A crossfire of charges started Monday with the assertion by Democrats that a "false and threatening letter" has been sent to holders of federal voting exemption slips.

Jack Skaggs, Cameron County Democratic chairman, asserted the letters, printed in Spanish and English, were apparently mailed to the 2,000 persons in the county who hold such exemptions.

He said the letters warned that persons holding the exemptions would not be allowed to vote today and that they might be arrested if they tried.

The federal exemption holders may vote in federal races only. To vote in state races too, a poll tax receipt must have been obtained.

Tad Smith, state Goldwater campaign coordinator, denied that the GOP had anything to do with it. He said the Democrats were making "11th hour smears without any evidence whatever to back up their charges."

Skaggs said the letters were stamped to imply that they came from PASO (Political Association of Spanish - Speaking Organizations).

Fake Handbill Case Leading To FBI Probe

HOUSTON (AP)—An FBI investigation was expected today into phony handbills which warned Houston Negroes that police would be posted at polling places to arrest voters who have failed to pay traffic tickets.

"This sounds like it might be a conspiracy to intimidate voters and keep them from the polls," said U.S. Dist. Atty. Woodrow Seals. "If it is, it's a violation of federal law."

The yellow handbills, which began showing up in Negro areas Monday, were lambasted by Bill Kilgarlin, county Democratic chairman, as part of "an all-out campaign to scare people and keep them from voting."

Kilgarlin accused Republican supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater of putting out the handbills.

Charles Haden, the Republican county chairman, hotly denied the GOP was responsible.

"I would think this is the work of some irresponsible person outside the structure of either party," Haden said.

Unity Likely Objective Of World Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin's new leaders are going ahead with Nikita Khrushchev's plan for an international Communist meeting next month, but instead of setting the stage for a showdown with Red China the emphasis apparently will be on unity.

There have been hints Red China might send representatives to try to find out if there have been any Soviet policy changes since Khrushchev's ouster. Peking had said it would boycott the meeting Khrushchev had called to lay the groundwork for a conference of the world's 90 Communist parties.

DANISH REDS

A Danish Communist leader who returned home from Moscow Monday told newsmen in Copenhagen Soviet leaders intend to stand firm toward Peking but would try to get back on "speaking terms" with the Chinese.

The Kremlin decision to hold the December meeting was disclosed in a communique after talks with Austrian Communist leaders. It said the discussion "emphasized the necessity of attaining solidarity of the ranks of the international Communist movement and continuing preparations for a new conference of Communist and workers parties and the meeting of the Editorial Commission."

Khrushchev had called for a meeting Dec. 15 of Editorial Commission members — representatives of 26 parties who framed the 1960 Moscow blueprint for world Communist strategy.

DELAY POSSIBLE

There had been predictions the December meeting might be postponed until the Soviet-Chinese dispute had a chance to simmer down.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda came out Saturday with a declaration supporting Khrushchev's position in the feud with Peking. For the first time since his ouster, the paper denounced "chauvinism" and "petty Bourgeois adventurism . . . opportunism and dogmatic or revisionist distortion of theory." All were charges made against Peking at the height of the dispute.

Voting Matches Pace Of 1960

Big Spring voters were going to the polls today at about the same pace they followed in November, 1960, and the total vote at noon was just about the same as it was at the same hour in the preceding presidential election.

Total votes polled in the seven Big Spring boxes checked between 10:45 and 11:45 a.m. showed 2,056. The 1960 presidential election, check of the same boxes at the same hour showed 2,102.

If the total absentee votes are counted in checking votes, the 1964 total is ahead of the 1960 figure. Potentially, there are 788 absentee votes being counted today; in 1960, the total absentee vote was 519.

Election officials commented on the steady flow of voters at the polls. No events or incidents had developed. Voters were solemnly showing up to ask for their ballots and seriously concentrating on their decision as they voted.

Most precinct officials said that the counters were staying "fairly" even with the inflow of votes. All seemed agreed that the grand rush, which probably will build up at 5 p.m., will put the tabulators far in the arrears.

The judges are doubtful of an early count and only hope that their counters can finish within a reasonable hour.

The polls opened at 8 a.m. and at most of the Big Spring boxes, voters were waiting when the judges and clerks showed up for duty.

George Elliott, judge for the special canvass vote (absentees), had set up quarters in the Howard County courtroom. He had nine tabulators on the job. He said the count was moving slowly and that it would be well along in the evening before the results would be available.

No reports from the nine rural boxes were available, but it was assumed the voting interest in these was on a parity with the boxes in town.

At noon, it appeared that the interest and tempo would have to be accelerated considerably if the estimate of 9,000 votes could be reached. In 1960, the total was 8,248.

The vote cast in the Big Spring boxes at noon, with the 1960 totals in parenthesis:

Precinct 1, Northside Fire Station, 147, (187); Precinct 2, Washington Place School, 380 (359); Precinct 3, 18th and Main Fire Station, 391 (302); Precinct 4, City Hall Fire Station, 426 (460); Precinct 8 Cedar Crest School, 230 (253); Precinct 15, Runnels Junior High, 181 (228); Precinct 16, Park Hill School, 301 (313).

Jam Starts After Lines Form Early

DALLAS (AP) — Voters jammed polling places today in numbers sometimes tripling the 1960 turnout as an expected 2.5 million Texans cast ballots to decide who will capture the state's electoral votes for president.

Lines formed at the polls long before the 7 a.m. Big Spring time opening.

In Austin, a precinct official said votes were "lined up like they're waiting for a circus."

TRIPLES 1960

A Dallas official said his precinct had three times as many early voters as in 1960.

They also were choosing a U.S. senator, deciding 23 U.S. House races and picking from a full slate of statewide candidates.

Chief interest naturally centered on the presidency, with the state for the first time in history being able to vote for one of its native sons, Lyndon Johnson, for the top office.

UPHILL FIGHT

But the Republicans, with Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater heading their ticket, were conceding nothing in Texas.

Goldwater said Texas is one of the states he must capture to move into the White House.

But he faced an uphill battle after Johnson unified the split factions of the state's Democratic party for the first time in many years. Even Sen. Ralph Yarborough, once a bitter foe of Johnson, campaigned for the President.

Both vice presidential candidates campaigned in the Lone Star State, and all in all, Texas received more attention from the presidential tickets than ever before in history.

BITTER BATTLE

While this was going on, Sen. Yarborough and Republican George Bush carried on one of the bitterest fights in recent history for the U.S. Senate job.

Bush, Houston off-shore drilling executive, and the senator pegged their campaign along expected conservative - liberal lines and dipped into personal attacks. In advance of the vote count, observers believed it would be a very close race.

Polls showed Gov. John Connally, a Democrat seeking his second term, leading his GOP challenger, Jack Crichton.

Two of the 22 U.S. House district races turned into well-fought contests.

One of the best organized House campaigns on both sides was in Dallas' 5th District, where Republican Rep. Bruce Alger sought his sixth term on his continuing appeal to conservatism.

Alger was opposed by Earle Cabell, former Dallas mayor, who charged that Alger had been an ineffective congressman and harmed Dallas' chances of obtaining and retaining federal projects and payrolls.

Another major House race was in the 16th District, where Republican Rep. Ed Foreman and Democrat Richard White carried on a campaign almost identical to that in the 5th District.

The Texas Election Bureau, the unofficial vote counting organization, added new facilities this year which promised a very fast vote count.

Polls opened at varying times and close at 7 p.m. Big Spring time in most places.

Record U.S. Vote Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)— Americans got out early and in big numbers today to register their choice between Lyndon B. Johnson and Barry Goldwater for president.

A morning spot check by Associated Press member newspapers and bureaus across the nation brought reports of moderately heavy voting. The weather generally was favorable and it appeared probable that the advance forecast of a record 71 million ballots would be reached, if not surpassed.

68.8 MILLION

In 1960, when there were fewer voters, the national total was 68.8 million ballots cast.

Since there are more registered Democrats than registered Republicans, backers of Johnson believed a heavy turnout was favorable to their candidate, the overwhelming favorite in all the polls.

On the other hand, Goldwater's supporters have argued that in past elections many conservative-minded voters have stayed at home, believing there was no great choice between the candidates. Their hope was that a big turnout meant many past stay-at-homes were taking the opportunity to vote for a conservative candidate.

BLANCO COUNTY

Johnson was the first voter to cast his ballot in his precinct—No. 4 in Blanco County, Texas. Mrs. Johnson was second. They voted the straight Democratic ticket.

While they're picking a president, American voters will also be electing 25 governors, 35 senators, 435 House members and a host of state and local officials.

Johnson, 267; Goldwater, 213

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Unofficial returns from eight precincts in two Kansas counties gave for President:

Johnson 267; Goldwater 213.

Four precincts were from Leavenworth, four from Parsons.

SANTA'S VISIT SET DEC. 3RD

Santa Claus will visit Big Spring Thursday, Dec. 3.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee were in contact with Santa's headquarters at the North Pole today, and got a firm acceptance of the date.

Santa's visit will mark the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Big Spring.

All details are yet to be completed, but Santa will appear in a parade, will be available to meet the very youngest citizens—and later those of early school age—at a downtown point. He will greet them all, and have free candy for them.

The C-C group, in addition to arranging for St. Nick's first call, also discussed plans for street decorations and other Christmas promotions.

Big Day Arrives For Rep. Martin

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass. (AP) — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. expects to celebrate two events today — his 80th birthday and election to his 21st consecutive term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

United Fund Campaign Slows To Snail's Pace

The Howard County United Fund had slowed to a snail's pace on the report made Monday, and campaign volunteers were being urged to crank up their efforts by making contacts and report them to the office.

The drive has now accumulated $78,958 for 72.1 per cent of the $109,366 goal. This was an increase of some $2,700 since last Thursday.

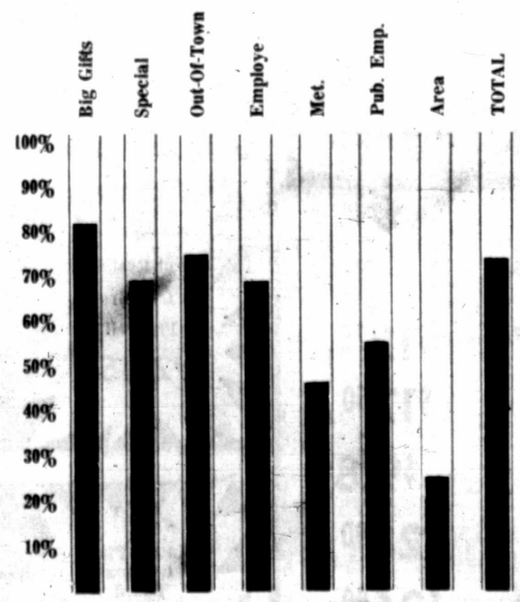

The Big Gifts Division hangs onto its lead in the effort with 84 per cent of its goal in hand—$33,535. The Out-of-Town Division has 75 per cent ($5,651), and the Special Gifts Division has 70 per cent ($6,998).

The Employes Division has built its total to 69 per cent ($18,563); the Metropolitan Division has 46 per cent ($2,288); and the Area Division has 23 per cent ($458).

The Public Employes Division has 52 per cent with $11,473. Of this total, the Webb AFB Section has $8,967 and the balance comes from other public employes operations here.

Residents were reminded today that the United Fund campaign supports the financial needs of 14 local welfare and youth guidance organizations, including the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Air Force Aid Society, Salvation Army, Howard County Rehabilitation Center, YMCA, Lakeview YMCA, Summer Recreation Program, Westside Youth Center, Texas United Fund, Texas Rehabilitation Center, Red Cross, Halfway House, and Milk and Ice Fund.

UF PROGRESS CHART

Gregg Viaduct Closed Down

All vehicular traffic has been banned from crossing the Gregg Street viaduct while the contractor is engaged in pouring 168 feet of roadbed on the north end of the crossing.

Pedestrians will be permitted to continue crossing the viaduct but the close down to all cars and trucks will be in effect for at least two or three days. The barriers were ready at 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Hanson Clark, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, explained that traffic had to be closed on the two side lanes while the concrete base was being laid because any vibration would damage the texture of the flooring.

He said that when the concrete has set and a test has been run that shows it is properly oriented, the barriers will be lifted and the flow of cars and trucks over the viaduct will be resumed.

Later, probably in about three weeks, another close down of vehicular traffic will be put in effect while the 412 additional feet of the midsection base is poured.

Traffic will be routed east on Second to the East Viaduct, then north and back west to rejoin US 87 at a point north of the viaduct.

The viaduct will probably be completed by Dec. 1.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♠

The United States gained a substantial swing over the United Arab Republic when the above hand was dealt in the Women's division of the World Bridge Olympiad recently completed in New York City. At the table where the U. A. R. team held the North-South cards they were content to settle for a modest contract of two clubs which was fulfilled with two overtricks for a score of 130 points [80 plus 50 for the part score].

When Agnes Gordon and Helen Portugal were seated North-South for the United States of America, the bidding proceeded as indicated in the diagram. East opened with one spade and Mrs. Portugal, South, passed for, tho she had 13 high card points, there was no safe course of action available. West passed and Mrs. Gordon reopened the bidding with two clubs. South made a game try of two no trump and North accepted the invitation. Inasmuch as she had passed originally, she reasoned that her 11 points was as much as partner could be expecting.

West opened the six of spades, East played the king, ace and then a third round to clear the suit. Mrs. Portugal led a small club to the dummy in order to take the heart finesse. When the queen held, she had eight tricks—five clubs, two hearts and one spade. A potential ninth trick was available in diamonds; however, declarer was reluctant to make a diamond play immediately for fear that East would get in to cash the setting tricks.

South decided to run the clubs first. East observed that she would be obliged to make two discards and, in order to protect her holding in the red suits, she elected to give up both of her established spades. Keeping one spade and parting with the small diamond is tantamount to surrender, and to discard a heart is equally fatal.

A diamond was led from dummy and East played the five, subjecting declarer to a guess in the suit. Observe that if South finesses the jack West will win with the queen and by returning the ten of hearts the latter can establish partner's king for the setting trick, while East still retains the ace of diamonds.

Mrs. Portugal, however, decided to play the opening bidder for the diamond ace and, when East followed with the five, declarer put up the king to score her ninth trick. The vulnerable game was worth 600 points and a net swing to the Americans of 470 points on the deal.

Election Trend 'Experts' On Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Armchair analysts who want to find out which way the political wind is blowing will have plenty of signposts when election returns start rolling in tonight.

These clues are, to some extent, the same ones used by professional politicians — and more recently electronic computers — in doping out trends.

One guide for the amateur analyst are the so-called weathervane counties. There are six of them which have voted for every presidential winner since 1900, and some further back than that. They are Coos and Strafford in New Hampshire, Palo Alto in Iowa, Laramie in Wyoming, Teton in Montana and Crook in Oregon.

STATES, TOO

There are weathervane states, too, such as Nevada and New Mexico, which have been with every winner since 1912. Maryland has missed only once since 1900.

But weathervanes can point the wrong way too. Arizona lost its perfect record when it voted for Republican Richard M. Nixon four years ago, the same fate that befell three previously perfect counties.

The experts will be watching for several indicators tonight, among them possible white backlash votes which could hurt the Democrats and Republican defections from Sen. Barry Goldwater's candidacy.

One place to watch for backlash is Lake County, Ind., the Hoosier State's biggest Democratic bailiwick. It cast a majority of its votes for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama in a Democratic presidential primary this spring.

SLIM HOPES?

If President Johnson fails to get the 63 per cent Democratic vote the late John F. Kennedy got in Lake County in 1960, his hopes of turning Indiana Democratic for the first time since 1936 could be slim.

In New York Nixon carried six upstate counties by a 3-1 margin and still lost the state. If Goldwater fails to match that, and the 5-4 GOP margin in populous Nassau County dwindles, observers say it could be a Johnson landslide for the state's 43 electoral votes.

Air Crashes Kill Three

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two airplane crashes involving craft from Corpus Christi Naval Air Station Monday killed three men and injured two.

Killed when their TS2A tracker plane crashed and burned were Lt. Donald A. Jones, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Jones of Waverly, Kan.; Naval Aviation Cadet Gary C. Wertz, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wertz of Pottsville, Pa.; and Ensign Thomas J. Ellis, son of Mrs. Grace Ellis of Alden, Pa.

Jones' wife and son live in Corpus Christi. Wertz and Ellis, single men, resided at the base.

Another TS2A tracker plane crashed in the Gulf of Mexico about 30 miles east of Corpus Christi while practicing landings on a carrier.

Injured in the latter crash were Lt. Daniel J. Malone, 26, and Lt. James W. Horning, 27. Neither was seriously hurt.

Congress Up To Ballots

ROBERT KENNEDY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The people do more than elect a president today — they elect a Congress that can make or break his legislative program.

And, while electing a Congress, they put the political spotlight on men who may figure dramatically and powerfully in presidential elections to come.

Robert F. Kennedy, should he defeat incumbent Kenneth B. Keating for a New York Senate seat, might become a force on which all Democrats would have to reckon in future national conventions.

TAFT NOTABLE

In the Republican party, Robert Taft Jr. might reach the same heights of influence and power should he defeat incumbent Stephen A. Young for an Ohio Senate seat.

All mathematical odds foreshadow a Democratic - controlled Congress after today's vote. That, of course, would mean legislative trouble for Republican Barry Goldwater if he were elected president — as it would for any president if Congress were controlled by the opposition party.

But a Democratic Congress would not necessarily mean all roses for a triumphant President Johnson. Democratic Congresses, in recent years, have refused to accept more than a part of the program tendered by Democratic presidents.

MODEST GAINS

Both sides predict modest gains in the election of 35 of the Senate's 100 seats. Barring a violent upheaval by the electorate, the Senate should maintain much the same character it had in the last Congress. The breakdown then was 66 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

At adjournment, the lineup of the House was 257 Democrats to 178 Republicans, including five vacancies. With all 435 seats at stake this year, both sides are predicting gains of at least 15 seats.

If the Democrats are right, the gain might be enough to ease much of a Democratic president's legislation through Congress.

But, if the Republicans are right, the Democratic losses might be enough to ensure that a conservative coalition in the House could hold a veto over all legislation.

Key Points On Election

By The Associated Press

Here are some key facts on today's general elections:

At stake: The presidency, governorships of 25 states, 35 Senate seats, all 435 House seats.

Turnout: About 71 million expected to vote.

Hours: First polls opened one minute after midnight in some rural New England areas, voting extends to 2 a.m. EST Wednesday in western Alaska.

Weather: Generally fair and mild predicted for most of the nation.

Pre-election polls: Most polls indicate victory for President Johnson.

Peace Corps Need Cited By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson Monday marked a Peace Corps anniversary and said that applications are needed from about 10 per cent of the graduating classes of our colleges and universities for the next stage of the Peace Corps.

In a White House statement, the President noted that it was just four years ago today that the late President John F. Kennedy proposed the Peace Corps which now has 10,000 volunteers serving in 46 countries.

In the next four years, the President said, the Peace Corps must double in size because nearly every country where volunteers are now serving has asked for more.

Johnson said more applications are needed, not only from the colleges, but from skilled workers in our factories and on our farms. The Peace Corps, he said, also needs experienced teachers, more doctors, more nurses, and more senior citizens.

Strike Over At Arlington

ARLINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers voted Monday to end the month-long strike at the General Motors assembly plant here.

Union spokesmen said maintenance men will resume work immediately to prepare for the return of almost 3,000 members of UAW Local 276 who walked off their jobs Sept. 25.

Leaders said that 89 per cent of the estimated 2,000 men who voted chose to return.

V. G. Moore, local president, said that 65 of 137 issues were settled and $10,000 in back grievances was returned. About 1,000 of the 1,500 individual grievances were settled in the accepted package plan.

The main issues settled, Moore explained in a press conference, were a promotional pattern "in writing" and a seniority program to eliminate the "red apple boy" allegedly preferred by management.

Cubans Ask U. S. Entry

OTTAWA (AP) — Forty-four Cubans are seeking admission to the United States after walking off a Cubana airliner at Gander, Nfld.

Arrangements are being made to fly the defectors to Canadian immigration detention quarters at Halifax, where they will wait until the United States admits them.

MADE STOP

The Immigration Service said the Cubans defected after their plane, bound for Czechoslovakia, made an overnight stop at Gander Sunday.

Two Cubans asked for political asylum in the United States Sunday and the other 42 announced their decision Monday. Their plane left for Prague with 36 other passengers aboard.

LEFT PLANE

Among the defectors were Mr. and Mrs. Miguel J. Rosa Galvez, who left the plane with their 2-year-old grandson, Julian de la Rosa. The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose de la Rosa, defected in September from a Czech airliner at Gander and are still in immigration custody at Halifax.

More than 200 Cubans have defected via Gander, where airliners flying between Havana and Eastern Europe customarily stop. The Canadian government grants the defectors temporary asylum in Canada while they make arrangements to join the thousands of Cuban refugees in the United States.

Barry Waiting Quietly In Hilltop Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Far from the crowd and the tumult that have been his daily fare, Sen. Barry Goldwater awaited in the guarded privacy of his hilltop home today the nation's judgment on his bid for the White House.

The Arizonan and his wife planned one daytime outing in public to cast their own ballots at a school near their sprawling home.

WILL APPEAR

Tonight, when the voters have made their verdict, Goldwater is expected to come to a desert resort about a mile from his house to appear before television cameras and more than 100 newsmen waiting for his reaction to the balloting.

The day was set aside for Goldwater's home and family. Sons Barry Jr. and Michael, and the senator's younger daughter, Mrs. Richard Holt, were there.

His other daughter, Joanne Ross, with her husband Thomas and four children, was due later today. The Rosses were in Torrance, Calif., where they will vote.

Goldwater climaxed his campaign in a hamlet on the Arizona-Utah border.

AT SUNSET

"I can't think of a better way to wind up the campaign than at sunset in this beautiful place," Goldwater said Monday night in the final speech in his race against President Johnson.

He flew to Fredonia, Ariz., late Monday from San Francisco and the biggest crowd of his campaign, a surging mass of people who swarmed through the streets of the business district to see his motorcade inch past.

"That was the most amazing thing that's happened in the whole campaign," Goldwater said later.

Goldwater's security chief, Hugh C. McDonald, estimated the throng at 200,000.

The turnout in Fredonia — actually in Kanab, Utah, a stone's throw from the Arizona line — was a tiny fraction of that figure, but only 500 people live there, and the crowd was far bigger than the population figure for Goldwater's good luck town, where he has wound up each of his Senate campaigns.

JUST TALK

His campaign finale was more a conversation than a speech.

"To come back here where so much of me lives is a wonderful, wonderful experience," Goldwater said.

DEAR ABBY

Guests For The Husband

DEAR ABBY: We are new in town. Last evening my husband's foreman and his wife dropped in on us unexpectedly. We were not prepared for company. When I served some soft drinks, the man hinted that he wanted something "stronger." We didn't have anything in the house, so my husband took him to the corner bar and left me with the wife. She talked bad about everyone at the plant. I didn't even know half the people she gossiped about. She told me I ought to "do something" with my hair, which hurt my feelings because my hair is very thin and there's not much I can do with it. Then she asked me when I waxed my floors last and I told her I had waxed them that morning. She said, "They look terrible. You should try my brand."

The men were gone three hours. When they came back this couple stayed until 1:30 a.m., although I said several times my husband had to get up at 6:00 a.m. for work. Do you think it was right of my husband to have left me there all evening with that women? What if they drop in again? I don't care to associate with her. My head still aches from last night.

HEADACHE

DEAR HEADACHE: Tell your husband that if he likes the man, fine, but you don't want a foursome-type friendship with them. If they drop in again, you go lie down and let your husband answer the door and tell them that you are "resting." And if he wishes to entertain the pair of them, tell him he is welcome to.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl and I was wondering if you think it is fair for a girl's mother to judge a boy by the way he dresses. My mother doesn't like a certain boy for that reason and I don't think it's fair.

JR. HIGH GIRL

DEAR GIRL: A boy's dress is an indication of his home environment, his character, personal hygiene and self-esteem. Listen to your mother, Honey, and you won't go wrong.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would write something about bossy women who rule the roost and ruin their children. My sister is the mother of three boys. If her husband tells them to do something, she tells them to do the opposite. Many times I have heard her say, "I don't care WHAT your father said, you'll do as I say!" And they do, too. No wonder those children are confused and nervous. Is there any way I can help?

SISTER MARY

DEAR SISTER: Perhaps, but this is NOT your problem, so be careful. I would tell both your sister and her husband what you have observed and how you see the effects of their (probably unintentional) conflict. Having done that, say no more and hope for the best.

Texans Vote On Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas voters pick most of the 1965 Legislature from among 246 Democratic and Republican candidates Tuesday.

The contests involve six of 15 Senate races and 75 of 150 House races. Although House members are elected every two years, the 31 senators are elected for staggered four-year terms.

The field of Republican candidates is slightly smaller than in 1962, when seven were sent to Austin to give the minority party the largest number of legislative seats since Reconstruction. The number was increased to 10 in subsequent special elections.

Republican leaders, and some Democrats, look for the GOP to increase their number in the House, possibly adding East Texas to the sites of modern GOP breakthroughs.

Democrats are favored to retain unanimous control of the upper house, where no Republican has served since 1927.

Lawmakers elected Tuesday will face one of the largest bunch of knotty problems ever faced by a Texas legislature.

One must item is congressional redistricting, which a federal court has ordered completed by August, 1965. That task will be complicated by pressure on legislators to reapportion their own districts.

A total of 109 incumbents are seeking re-election to the House, and only two senators will not return—Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe and Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso.

The presiding officers, Lt Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock and House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler, are expected to return for second terms.

Cotton Harvesting Nearly Half Over

AUSTIN (AP)—Sorghum combining and small grain planting continued during the week in Texas and cotton harvest moved slowly on the High Plains, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday.

The cotton crop is 40 per cent harvested, compared to 47 per cent at this time last year. Sorghum combining is 89 per cent completed, compared with 92 per cent at this time last year. Peanut harvest is 42 per cent complete, compared to 60 per cent at this time in 1963.

Wheat planting is 92 per cent complete, 4 per cent ahead of last year. Oat planting is 87 per cent complete, 20 per cent ahead of 1963.

Range feed has improved since September rains but remains short over much of the state.

Election Day Hikes Security Precaution

WASHINGTON (AP) — With today's election will come an innovation in security precautions — protection of the vice president-elect and his family whether they want it or not.

Thus, under a 1962 law, sometime tonight Secret Service agents will begin guarding either Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and his family at Minneapolis or Rep. William E. Miller and his family at Olcott, N.Y.

Win or lose, a guard will be kept on President Johnson. If Sen. Barry Goldwater wins the presidency, the guard that has been on him during the campaign will be maintained. If he loses, that guard will be dropped.

New Judge, New Ballots Provided For Pct. 1

Voting Precinct No. 1, operating in today's election, is using brand new ballots and is presided over by a judge whose official capacity was only recognized Monday.

Mrs. Eck McClure, veteran worker and assistant judge at Precinct 1, is the judge. She was elevated by the resignation of Rufus Davidson, presiding judge, who is ill.

This elevation was automatic as provided by Texas election laws. However, the law was not noted and when Davidson stepped aside, Rufus Stallings, commissioner in whose district Precinct 1 (the Northside Fire Station) is located, asked Wesley Yater to serve as judge. Yater agreed and set about selecting his workers.

Monday, Yater took the voting box in charge and, in order to be all set for the rush Tuesday, spent a busy interval signing all of the ballots as the judge of a precinct is required to do.

Mrs. McClure, knowing the law in the case, protested, and as a result, Yater was replaced by Mrs. McClure.

Then, the matter of the signed ballots arose. The solution was to have 1,000 new ballots printed, which was done.

No one seemed clear on just how the mixup had gone as far as it had before it was noted.

Another assistant judge, Andrew C. Tucker, will also be unable to serve. He is in the hospital recuperating from burns. His wife, Mrs. McClure said, will be on duty in Tucker's place.

Texas Rains Below Normal

By The Associated Press

Both temperatures and rainfall were below normal in Texas during October, the weather Bureau revealed in its monthly report.

Spotty showers hit the state on Oct. 18, and that was the first rain since a very wet September.

Amounts of rain generally were of no consequence except along the middle Rio Grande Valley.

Shower activity, however, spread southeastward from the High Plains from Oct. 24 to Oct. 26 with generous rains falling on Central Texas.

Cool polar air engulfed the whole state Oct. 20, dropping temperatures as low as 37 degrees at Port Arthur and 38 degrees at Victoria.

Spotted light frost was reported as far south as Orange and Nederland in Southeast Texas and in the Hill Country west of San Antonio.

A Devotional For The Day

If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day. (Isaiah 58:10)

PRAYER: Loving Father, cleanse away any thoughts I have of being useless. Fill me over and over with love and compassion until streams of love flow out to others. May I not despise the small ways in which I can show love, nor forget the many little loving prayers I can keep sending to Thee for others. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Be Slow But Thorough

During the final week of the campaign, a blanket charge was made that there were hundreds, perhaps thousands, of irregular or fraudulent listings for voters.

This is a charge which should not be made lightly, and one that should not be passed over. Rigged voting certificates have been issued in the past, and there is always a possibility of this to some degree in the future. Thus, the sanctity of the voter rolls should be scrutinized.

However blanket charges couched in generalities do not answer the question or serve a useful purpose. In one instance, a check of alleged irregular listings turned out to be typographical errors, and the voters to whom the receipts had been issued were alive and ready to vote.

Nor is the charge that a poll tax was issued in the name of a dead person a valid one unless it is shown that the receipt was issued after a person's death. In Texas, payment of a poll tax may precede the date of a general election by 12 months, so it is not unusual for a registrant to die between the time he qualifies to vote and the time of the election.

The point is simply this: Every effort ought to be made not only to spot potential irregularities, but then to ascertain by every reasonable means if this is actually an irregularity or a matter of human error or human morality. What residue remains should then be followed to the end of the trail to learn if there is fraud and if so, to punish it.

More Discipline

Too much permissiveness in parental dealings with children has come in for a heavy beating in recent years, and rightly. A corollary charge often made is that parents have turned over too much of their responsibility to the schools. There is a great deal in our society that supports these conclusions.

A persuasive recent expression of this view comes from Dr. Alonzo G. Grace, former dean of the University of Illinois College of Education. Speaking before the New York State School Boards Association at Syracuse, he said that parents should "again assume complete responsibility for discipline" of their children. This may be a bit too strong; certainly the schools must exercise and teach discipline. But just as surely, the groundwork should be laid in the h[illegible].

One thing that works against sound discipline, Dr. Grace noted, is that many parents "try to advance their children socially too early." He elaborated as follows: "This junior prom, corsage and all the accompanying social activity at the seventh grade level is stupid. Freedom without restriction at the adolescent stage—that is, no restriction and understanding on the hours out on the town, the use of the car, or the days at the shore—spells trouble."

That's not the whole of it; the discipline must start much earlier. But this is some advice worth parental thought.

A Smelly Fight Upcoming

WASHINGTON — Americans' capacity to absorb punishment passes all understanding; no sooner do we reach the end of the Johnson-Goldwater campaign than our sensibilities are affronted anew by the Liston-Clay rematch.

Both bouts have a great deal in common. Both are plainly lopsided mismatches and both are enough to bore sane folks to the edge of the grave.

LISTON AND CLAY are scheduled to meet in Boston on Nov. 16, and the vision of a fortnight filled with Clay's shrill maundering and Liston's surly, semi-literate growls is enough to set the teeth on edge. Clay, who now bills himself as Muhammed Ali, is no pugilist. Liston, an old lag with a record of mysterious links with the grubbiest hoodlums ever to infest boxing, is not much better, save only that he can hit like a stack of first-of-the-month bills.

The last mismatch between these two precious rogues was a farce that contained the unmistakable bouquet of fine old Gorgonzola.

WHAT HAPPENS when the clown and the Neanderthal old cop fighter clash in Beantown is of no consequence to any but the squirming clutch of reprobates who control boxing. The realist will not be surprised if Clay reaches the ring in a terrified trance and is polished off in quick order by Liston. This, of course, would be in sharp contrast to what happened in their first fandango in Miami Beach, and the skeptic would be justified in drawing all manner of uncharitable conclusions.

THE TRUTH is simply that the rowdy old sport of prize fighting has passed the stage when any prodigies of press agentry and bribery can resurrect it. It is a shameful throwback to a time when the nation was raw and uncivilized; it has no place in the cultural constellation of a nation implacably dedicated to good works and the uplift of the heathen of the world. It maims and murders the poor wretches who toil at it, and no power on earth has ever succeeded in removing the stain of hoodlum suzerainty over the squalid racket.

THE DEAD (of which there have been two dozen in the last two years) alone are too high a price to pay for the dubious benefits to be found in the dismal butchery that sentimentalists and crooks join in calling the manly art of self-defense. But even worse is the pitiable human rubbish to be seen outside every seedy arena in the land on fight night. They are often blind, and customarily imbecile as a result of beatings they have taken for the profit of such worthies as Paul John Carbo, Frank "Blinky" Palermo and others.

Boxing will continue to corrupt and brutalize for as long as it is suffered to endure. No safeguards are available that will prevent further needless deaths in the ring; indeed, college boxers have been killed while wearing elaborate safety devices that would be jeered out of the professional ring.

BOXING ALONE among so-called sports has as its objective the disabling of one of the participants by the other. A knockout blow is to the prize ring what the home run is to baseball—the ultimate demonstration of professional skills.

The only certain means of ending the shameful abuses that are strangling prize fighting is to abolish fighting.

Birds Use Steel

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—City Hall pigeons have become steel-conscious.

Workmen at the Allentown City Hall project discovered a vacated birds' nest—built entirely of wire. The birds had carefully carried, piece by piece, lengths of steel wire discarded by construction crews and built their own "steel-framed house."

The 100-year-old steel industry, constantly exploring new markets as it enters its Century Twos, hopes people will follow the birds and build durable homes of steel.

Billy Graham

My daughter and I read the Bible together but we often get a different meaning out of the same verses. Shouldn't there be just one clear meaning to each verse?

Mrs. H. L.

I do not believe that it is because the same verse actually has double meaning, but rather because we seldom get the full meaning from any given text. When two people get just part of the meaning of a verse, they would naturally seem to be different, but in reality they compliment each other. The very fact that this is experienced by so many should caution us to prayerfully observe all that God's Word has to say to us and not be content with morsels of truth. The best way to be reasonably sure of the meaning of any Scripture is to compare it with other Scriptures. Nothing can throw so much light on the Scriptures as the Scriptures themselves. Once we understand fully the teaching of the Bible, we find it to be in complete agreement and consistency.

The Holy Spirit inspired men long ago to write this book—He must guide in its interpretation.

Haunting Question Left Hanging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now, with the talking done and the candidates home after logging enough miles to reach three-quarters of the way to the moon, a familiar, haunting question remains, more vivid than ever.

Some of the candidates themselves raised it as the 1964 race dragged toward a close: Is the brutal length of the American presidential campaign necessary?

There seems no intelligent reason for the length of it. But, as in the past, almost certainly nothing will be done to shorten it. Yet, a much shorter campaign would be physical blessing to the candidates and a kindness to the voters.

The British election campaign lasts three weeks. The American spreads over months. Surely all the candidates have to say could be said in a month or less. That was particularly true this year.

THE VIEWS and positions of President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater were so well known before the campaign began that all their speechmaking added nothing basically new.

More than ever in these days of television a candidate doesn't have to dart into every nook and cranny of America to "meet the folks." He can state his case close up on the television screen in practically every living room.

It doesn't make sense but the best explanation why nothing will be done is that the stretched-out campaign has become an American tradition which every four years now requires bands, boos, cheers, processions, speeches in coliseums and on street corners, and assorted brands of corn.

Yet, the presidential campaign as we know it is new in this century, getting its start in a mild way with Presidents Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson and working up to jets, autos, whistle-stops and amplifiers.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, for instance, not only didn't campaign for the presidency in 1860 or for re-election in 1864, he thought it improper to vote for himself. He had to be persuaded to vote at least for his fellow Republicans.

Between them Johnson and his vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in this year's campaign traveled about 90,000 miles and made about 250 speeches.

Goldwater and his vice-presidential partner, Rep. William E. Miller, had a mileage over 100,000 with around 350 speeches. All four endlessly repeated themselves.

Monday, Humphrey spoke of the brutality of the campaign—in its physical effect on the candidates — and wondered whether it couldn't be shortened.

Last week Goldwater thought out loud it might be a good idea if "we could change this crazy system in this country whereby we have to campaign for months and months."

Expert In Other Fields

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Randall, whose comic talents won him film stardom, is something of an authority in three fields — opera, Italian renaissance painting, and the art of losing jobs.

In the last-named field Tony feels he is probably unique.

"So far as I know," he said, "I'm the only performer who has been fired in every medium — twice in radio, once in television, once in the theater, and once in films."

Tony never let the dismissals break his spirit.

"It's an awful thing to go through," he remarked, "but I thought the other fellow was wrong in each case.

"You have to feel that way, I suppose, but there is a possibility I was right. Anyway, none of the shows I was fired from was a success. Disaster followed every time, and I hope the moral is clear: Don't fire Tony Randall."

Right now there aren't many people standing in line trying to get Tony off the payroll. Instead they're bidding for his services.

The slender, dark-haired comedian recently completed a satire on suburbia in which for the third time he costarred with Rock Hudson and Doris Day. Two earlier films by the triumvirate were hits.

Tony, who comes from Tulsa, Okla., spent a year at Northwestern University before coming to Broadway. He appeared with such notable performers as Ethel Barrymore, Katherine Cornell and Paul Muni before going on to television and then the films.

But he feels his most educational experience in show business was the time he spent in Catskill summer resorts.

"I got $10 a week and room and board," he said. "I slept in a bunk under a water tower, and the tower didn't stop leaking all summer.

"But for variety there was nothing like it. Every night in the week we'd put on a new show — everything from musicals to Shakespeare. It taught you self-confidence if nothing else.

"I did so well that at the end of the summer the manager invited me back for next year — at a $5 cut in salary.

Tony is amiable and dry-witted, but he believes people should hold strong opinions and have the courage to express them.

Asked to express his own dislikes, he smiled and said:

"I despise rock 'n' roll music. "I hate all baseball — including Little League baseball."

'Negative'—'Non-Reactive' The Same

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister says that when a person has had syphilis, even after being cured, the disease will still show in a blood test and that a marriage license will not be granted. I say she is wrong.

I got a health card to be a waitress and under the word "results" it stated "negative." Recently I got a new card that says "non-reactive."

Does that mean I had the germ? If so, I didn't know it. —B. H.

Your sister is mistaken.

In most cases after treatment the blood test will be negative, meaning that no sign of the disease remains.

In perhaps five cases out of 100, a positive test may result from causes other than syphilis. In such instances, further tests and medical examination will be necessary to arrive at the true answer.

And in a few others, but not very often, the more common blood tests will still show positive even though the patient has been treated successfully and is, in fact, cured and no longer can transmit the disease. Here again further tests are necessary.

In any of these instances, the cured patient CAN get a marriage license.

The terms negative and non-reactive state the same thing. Non-reactive is a newer one and, from the scientific standpoint, a shade more precise.

Negative means that the disease is not present. Non-reactive means that a test does not produce a reaction which would occur if the disease were present.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: My 68-year-old husband has cirrhosis of the liver. He has a lot of fluid in his stomach. He weighs 240 pounds.

He is a heavy drinker— a fifth of whiskey a day. The doctor told him not to drink and gave him pills to get rid of the fluid. He is headstrong and won't do anything but eat and drink.

What is going to become of him?—MRS. M. S.

Please don't ask me what is going to become of him. You know and I know that such a quantity of whisky will destroy anybody — and when there already is serious liver disease, the end will be that much sooner. Facts are facts. Even unpleasant ones. I am sorry.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read a book stating that the wearing of glasses is not necessary if you are willing to do a few simple eye exercises every day. The book did, however, exclude those whose poor sight is due to disease or infection. Please give me your opinion.—C. A.

I think that the statement is 99 per cent nonsense, and hope that nobody will struggle along with faulty vision because of following it.

It is true that in a small proportion of cases, faulty muscle balance can be corrected by eye exercises. But this is an intricate problem and requires expert diagnosis and advice in learning the right exereises.

Where infection is present, glasses can't cure any more than exercises.

The commonest reasons for needing glasses — near-sightedness, astigmatism, and far-sightedness as we grow older— are readily corrected with glasses but do not respond to exercises.

Anyone old enough to have difficulty reading the fine print in a phone book will testify to this. You can exercise indefinitely, but still can't hold the book far enough away for the eyes to focus on the print.

Ghosts Are Still Flying

Thirty-seven years ago I sent my girl a cryptic telegram which was perfectly clear to her but bewildering to some of her friends who read it.

I wired:

"Ghost did not walk today."

THE DATE was Halloween. It was most important to me and to my girl that the ghost walk on that date. I saw to it that his spookiness made his journey the following day, however.

Halloween and the scheduled payday for my newspaper fell on the same day. Halloween was right on time; my pay check wasn't.

ON THE DAY before Halloween I had talked for several hours with a couple of newspaper publishers in the same town where my telegram was sent. We had agreed that I would leave the job I had and go to work for their paper.

On Nov. 1, I sat down at a desk in the city room of that newspaper. That day marked the beginning of a tenure of service that continued unbrokenly for 28 years. It terminated on Nov. 1, 1955—the 28th anniversary of the day I had joined the staff.

EACH NOV. 1, naturally, these two events in my career are recalled to me. And they bring up a long array of stirring memories of men and matters.

This morning, a letter came from Tulsa. It seems that a feature story I wrote for the Herald a few weeks ago, has been reprinted by a government agency and distributed to offices of that agency.

THE REPRINT reached the desk of a district manager for one of these offices. He was not a district manager when I knew him a good many years ago, and we had lost track of one another. He didn't know that I had left my old job on Nov. 1, 1955; I did not know he was still in the government service.

"I just read a reprint of your story 'It's those Smiths we gotta watch' which appeared in the Sept. 13 issue of an unnamed Big Spring paper," he wrote.

"I AM SURE from the breezy style that I recall from your column in your old newspaper that you have to be the same Sam Blackburn. No one else has that same touch. I suppose I should have recognized your Social Security number, but my memory isn't that good . . . It was good to read one of your stories again."

Gee, thanks, pal! I don't know about the "touch" you mention, but thanks just the same.

IT IS A LITTLE frightening sometimes when you earn your bread and oleo by writing as I do. One never knows how far afield your efforts will go. I remember a clipping once from a British newspaper in which a column I had written was reprinted. I have been sent copies of the Congressional Record in which was quoted something I had said.

However, when you have been beating away at a typewriter as many years as I have, you should realize that there's no telling where your efforts may have roamed.

ANYWAY, AT THIS season of the year, I always am reminded of other years and other occurrences in my life. And of that telegram I sent on that long-ago Halloween.

The Die Was Cast Long Ago

WASHINGTON—The tumult and the shouting die and if there's one common emotion in the country it is a vast sense of relief that it's nearly over.

The analysts and the historians will be studying the campaign now ending for years to come and not only because it has been the dirtiest, the most vicious and the emptiest in a very long time. One question they will worry over is whether campaigns really have any appreciable influence on the voters.

DESPITE THE heedless expenditure of lung power, man power and money power—$200,000,000 is one guess at the cost—in the last 10 weeks the most careful polling shows that voter sentiment remained pretty much the same through August, September and October. What had happened before the campaign ever began set the public image and all the cries of scandal, havoc and doom seem to have changed it scarcely at all.

This is the conclusion of John Bucci, whose polling operation out of Philadelphia has been used by leading Republicans in Ohio, Pennsylvania and other states and by the Kennedys before the 1960 campaign.

BETWEEN JULY 9, just before the Republican National Convention opened in San Francisco, and July 17, as it closed, Sen. Barry Goldwater made three or four moves that seem in hindsight to have confirmed the impression the public already held of him. He gave a sensational interview to the German magazine, Der Spiegel. In it he praised brinksmanship and told the Germans their soldiers were superior and they might have won the two World Wars if it had not been for their political leaders.

HE CHOSE William E. Miller, an upstate New York congressman and chairman of the Republican National Committee, as his vice presidential candidate. The consensus is that Miller, by his wild charges and his unfortunate appearance and manner, has harmed the ticket.

In his acceptance speech Goldwater by underlining a sentence defending extremism made this the focus of attention. He then proceeded to read out of the party moderates and liberals and with them went most of the experienced professionals who had served the party over the years.

IN CONTRAST from the evening of November 22 just after he had moved into the White House, President Johnson has worked tirelessly at the job and at winning every last voter. He has taken the utmost pains to conciliate every group and to offend none.

The President has talked largely in generalities—peace, prosperity, an end of poverty. He has said repeatedly that he would go anywhere and talk to anyone if it would further the cause of peace. He has not said what he would be willing to talk about or how he would advance the cause of peace or what initiatives might be taken if he is elected.

HERE AGAIN the analogy with the FDR campaign of 1936, as noted earlier, is significant. Roosevelt talked in hopeful generalities, never once mentioning the Supreme Court and the majority that had knocked down his New Deal measures. Returned with the greatest landslide up to that time, he proposed to "reform" the court by adding new justices. Both in Congress and public opinion he lost the battle and never regained his momentum in domestic policy.

One of the big question marks is whether the situation today would be radically different if the GOP had nominated a William Scranton or a Henry Cabot Lodge. Pollster Bucci asked a cross section whether they would have voted for Lodge instead of Johnson. This kind of iffy poll is always tricky and inconclusive but he came up with 57.43 for the President. So, if all this sampling is correct, the die was cast long before the oratory began.

Tasks For A New President

WASHINGTON — Sometimes, as now at this typewriter before the votes are counted, a writer must work blindfolded — like the goddess of Justice — and it's a good thing once in a while. He can write, without political or personal reference, about some unpleasant duties which face whatever man sits next year in the White House.

NO PRESIDENT can any longer ignore the sad fact that Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI is past the retirement age and, having served six Presidents with distinction, ought not to embark upon duties that will take him into another presidential term. He deserves every honor when he returns to private life.

Branch Rickey, the baseball magnate, used to toss away sentiment and sell his star players at the very first sign of a slowed-up step or an erratic pitching arm. Mr. Hoover's step faltered at the Dallas assassination. The report he turned in on Walter Jenkins, after sending flowers to the sickbed, was a sore-armed pitch by a star who used to throw thunderbolts.

WE ARE IN danger—and have been in danger for some years now—of finding ourselves with a Bureau of Investigation, not Federal in nature, but political; no longer above criticism, but increasingly losing public confidence and all the more subject to the power plants on Capitol Hill and Pennsylvania Avenue.

The FBI did not look good in the Dallas assassination, or in the probe of kickbacks on the D. C. Stadium, or ingetting newsmen out of bed during the coverage of the steel price figm. The FBI was useful — too useful—to President Truman when it failed to find evidence of a Kansas City vote fraud in the 40's. It was useful—too useful—to President Kennedy in the steel fight, and to President Johnson in these more recent affairs. That kind of usefulness should cease.

NO PRESIDENT can any longer permit the District of Columbia to cater to the criminal classes. David Acheson, the Federal Attorney here, has recently instructed Police Chief Murray not to question suspects anywhere but at the scene of the crime and on the journey to the police station. This directive, said to be the result of inhibiting Supreme Court decisions, follows closely upon the new practice of not demanding bail before turning arrested persons loose on the streets. It follows another practice of not asking the death sentence in capital crimes. Police officials say that street crime, already on a steadily mounting curve for 28 straight months, is sure to go unpunished more often under these new arrangements, and probably will rise to new records.

NO PRESIDENT can much longer permit the Soviet military base in Cuba. It is time to scratch off the Bay of Pigs as a matter for lament and political blame-giving. What matters is that this enemy thrust into the Western Hemisphere has not been blunted or removed. Whether by negotiation, by a power - play, by on-site inspection, by a no - nonsense blockade, or by an action such as we had in the Gulf of Tonkin, the President of '65 must remove this menace from the American shoreline.

Oil Tax Picture Given To Desk, Derrick Club

Ray Ebling, ad valorem tax manager of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, was introduced by Miss Helen Hurt to members of the Desk and Derrick Club Monday when the group met for a dinner session at the Spanish Inn. His topic was "Taxation on Oil Properties."

He dealt with the various types of taxes, stressing the ad valorem tax which is a levy on value. He noted that taxation on oil in Texas is the backbone of the state tax revenue, a total yearly sum of $223 million. This represents 23.9 per cent of all taxes in the state. Oil and gas taxes involve equipment, reserves, refineries and all oil properties and production.

Ebling said that before an estimate of cost and profit on oil can be made, 26 cents taxes per barrel of oil must be deducted. He paralleled the various taxes outside the oil industry and discussed school and home tax in detail.

The group will donate $2 per member to the Christmas Cheer Fund. The nominating committee presented an officer slate for election at a later meeting.

'ROUND TOWN

Halloween came a little late at our house this year. We got through Saturday night without a bit of trickery but Monday right out in broad daylight some little goblins found some paint brushes left in softener and swabbed away at the walls in our carport. They also took a brush to the neighbors storeroom. One thing about it—they don't paint any better than I do.

How it looks depends upon the way it serves you. It might look like this new Panel phone that's built into the wall. Or perhaps your needs call for:

40,000 SAND HILL CRANES IN THIS COUNTY
Typical flight of birds from far north shown in photograph

Sand Hill Cranes Arrive 40,000 Strong This Year

There are more than 40,000 sand hill cranes spending the fall and winter in Howard County this year, Royis Tucker, game warden, said Monday.

He said that game and fish department officials made a careful check of the throng of cranes which roost on the Wilkinson Ranch lake beds Friday and that there were at least 40,000 on hand.

Hunters had their first chance to shoot the long legged birds Saturday, and Tucker said that most of the shooters had good luck. The law limits the hunter to two cranes per day in the season from Oct. 31 through Nov. 29.

The hunting, Tucker pointed out, is restricted to that area of West Texas formed by US 277 from Del Rio to San Angelo and along US 87 to its junction with US 287 and northward to the Oklahoma border. A hunter cannot shoot cranes on the east side of US 87 in the county.

Hunting is restricted to the hours between sunrise and sunset each day of the one-month season.

The sand hill cranes arrive at this season each year in the western half of the county. They come to Howard County from Siberia and northwestern Canada. They stay until late spring before flying back to the north.

The Wilkinson Ranch lake bed is their annual winter vacation sleeping ground. They range over a vast area of this part of West Texas in search of food.

Charges Fly At Drive End

By The Associated Press

President Johnson returned home to Texas and the hard-fought race for the U. S. Senate went down to the wire as political office seekers folded up their tents all over the state Monday night.

YARBOROUGH

The President flew from Washington to Houston and then to Austin for a night rally in front of the granite Texas Capitol.

He was joined by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, whose second-term bid has received a stern challenge from Houston oilman George Bush, a Republican.

Both Yarborough and Bush put on election - eve telecasts in a final bid for votes.

LAUDS YARBOROUGH

Johnson said Yarborough "has been an unwavering supporter and dedicated fighter for the President's program, from top to bottom."

Bush said in his telecast that Yarborough has been ineffective as a senator.

"Effectiveness is the key issue in this campaign," Bush said.

At the Austin Rally, Yarborough shook hands with Gov. and Mrs. John Connally on the speakers stand as thousands jammed Congress Avenue four blocks deep.

Yarborough, a Democrat, rode with the President in motorcades in Houston and Austin.

CHARGES FLY

Charges were aired on the final day of campaigning that minority groups and others in Texas were being misled into thinking that they might be arrested should they attempt to vote.

Cameron County Democratic Chairman Jack Skaggs said some persons have received letters suggesting they stay away from the polls if they hold federal voting exemption slips. He said the letters were printed in Spanish and English.

"The threat that they are going to be arrested is the rawest thing I've ever heard in politics," Skaggs said. He added that the U. S. attorney's office in Brownsville had been alerted and he said the mailing of the letters was "a clear intimidation of voters, and there is a federal statute against intimidation of voters."

Skaggs said the letters said that persons who tried to vote who hadn't obtained poll tax tax receipts would be arrested.

The federal exemptions specify that persons may vote in federal elections without the poll tax.

The FBI was expected to investigate phony handbills in Harris County which warned that Houston Negroes who have failed to pay traffic tickets would be arrested if they tried to vote.

"This sounds like it might be a conspiracy to intimidate voters and keep them from the polls," said U. S. Atty. Woodrow Seals. He said he was asking the FBI to investigate.

Other last - minute action came in telecasts by U. S. Rep. Bruce Alger and his Democratic opponent, former Dallas Mayor Earle Cabell, in a tough battle for the 5th District.

WORKER SLAPPED

Cabell said on WFAA-TV that one of his campaign workers was slapped in the face Monday as she handed out match books supporting his candidacy in downtown Dallas. He did not elaborate.

Dallas oilman Jack Crichton, a Republican seeking the governorship, charged that Connally's "close alliance" with the President "endangers the welfare of Texas."

And Bill Hayes, the GOP nominee for congressman-at-large, said a telephone poll showed him ahead in the Panhandle and also winning in East and South Texas.

Early Birds For Johnson

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Virginia's early bird voting precinct — Wash Woods at the southern tip of Virginia Beach on the Outer Banks — went solidly today for President Johnson, Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Rep. Thomas N. Downing, all Democrats.

Election judge John J. Waterfield reported all of Wash Woods' voting list had cast ballots within a half hour after the polls opened at 6 a.m. and the books were closed. There was no ticket splitting. The vote: Johnson 13, Byrd 13, Downing 13.

County Road Out Of Coahoma On 1965 List

Texas Highway Department has earmarked $191,000 to be spent on FM 820 out of Coahoma in 1965, it has been announced by J. C. Roberts, district highway department engineer.

The projects slated are described by Roberts as being a paving widening program on .7 mile of FM 820 from IS 20 north to the city limits of Coahoma at a cost of $57,000 and 7.4 miles of FM 820 from north Coahoma city limit to connect with SH 350—reconstruction of grading, structures and surfacing, $134,000.

These two projects are part of the state's 1965 plan to spend $18,090,200 for improvement of its 37,000 mile network of farm and ranch roads.

Pays $1,540 For Signatures

LONDON (AP) — Oxford book dealer B. H. Blackwell, Ltd., paid $1,540 at a London auction Monday for a collection of early American presidents' signatures from George Washington to John F. Kennedy.

The signatures were auctioned off by Sotheby & Co., along with a number of other documents of particular American interest.

Many of the presidents' signatures are on letters they wrote. Washington's is on a letter in his handwriting to a Brigadier Glover and dated Feb. 25, 1779.

Thomas Jefferson's autograph appears on an American ship captain's passport dated April 19, 1808. Kennedy's is on a letter to Daniel Pelton dated Feb. 6, 1953.

Russia's Who's Who List For Fete Posted

MOSCOW (AP) — The traditional Who's Who in Soviet leadership, portraits of leaders in public places for the Nov. 7 Revolution Day celebrations, was posted Monday.

Lenin occupied the center place of honor in the first group of portraits seen in downtown Moscow.

To his right were Leonid I. Brezhnev, successor to Nikita Khrushchev as Communist party first secretary, and party Presidium members Mikhail Suslov, Nikolai Podgorny, Nikolai Shvernik and Frol Kozlov.

To the left of Lenin were portraits of new premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Anastas I. Mikoyan and Presidium members Dmitry Polyansky, Gennady Voronov and Andrei Kirilenko.

Since he was ousted Oct. 14, Khrushchev's picture has not been seen in public.

'Terrorism' At Mock Election

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negro leaders said the total vote was limited by "terrorism" but that President Johnson won a big victory in their mock election in Mississippi.

The Freedom Democratic party said about 57,000 ballots were cast in the 59 counties included in the four-day effort — 25,000 less than the total reported in a previous mock election.

Suspense High In 3 Of 25 Governor Race Showdowns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five governors will be elected today, with the races in Illinois, Michigan and Arkansas getting most of the national attention.

In Illinois, Republican Charles H. Percy, 45, is trying to turn back the second-term bid of Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner, 56.

ARKANSAS WATCHED

National interest in Arkansas stems from the fact that a Republican, Winthrop Rockefeller, 52, is given an outside chance to turn aside the bid of Democratic Gov. Orval Faubus, 54, for a sixth two-year term.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney, 56, one of the new faces who scored Republican victories in 1962, is after a second term in the State House. Romney has not endorsed Goldwater.

Neil Staebler, 51, long a prominent figure in Democratic politics in the state, is Romney's opponent. Currently the state's congressman-at-large, Staebler has been trying hard to tie Romney to Goldwater.

Of the 25 governorships at stake today, 18 are held by Democrats, 7 by Republicans.

Including holdovers, the national lineup now is 34 Democrats and 16 Republicans.

TEXAS RACE

In Texas, Gov. John B. Connally, one of President Johnson's closest personal and political associates, is seeking a second term, and political observers give him a clear edge.

Opposing Connally, 47, who was wounded in Dallas last Nov. 22 when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, is Republican Jack Crichton, 48, a Dallas oil man.

In Arizona, Richard Kleindienst, 41, a Goldwater field director before the San Francisco convention, seeks to succeed another close friend of Goldwater, Paul Fannin. Fannin is running for Goldwater's Senate seat.

Kleindienst's Democratic opponent is Sam Goddard, 45, Harvard-educated Tucson attorney.

Cocktail Party Anxiety Noted

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — Do cocktail parties make you anxious?

Don't worry — it's all part of a recognized psychological process known as unstructuring, says a Boston University psychiatric expert on group therapy.

The purpose of cocktail parties, says Dr. James Mann, is getting people to know each other. But Mann says they are afraid to get to know each other because they fear rejection.

This makes them anxious at cocktail parties when they ought to be enjoying themselves, he told a session at Georgia's first psychiatric institute on group behavior and group leadership. The institute concluded Sunday.

Refurbishing Two Buildings Here On Board's Agenda

A major renovation project for two structures at the Big Spring State Hospital may receive a decision from the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools in Austin Monday.

Contract bids and the allocation of funds for the project, involving buildings 505 and 506 at the hospital, are expected to be considered in the meeting, Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the hospital here, said this week.

The two buildings were built in 1939 and are two-story brick structures located north and south of the newly-completed Weaver Building. Building 505 is a men's ward and 506 is a women's ward.

The board may reach a decision concerning the contract Monday, Dr. Harrison said, with consideration also expected to be given allocation of some $15,000 in additional funds over the estimated cost.

Dr. Harrison said the contract bids were over the estimated cost by that amount and that expectations were that the board would provide additional funds to cover the cost, so that the project can move under way.

The plans include removing the partitions in the buildings and turning the structures into modern treatment facilities, he related.

Electrical work and plumbing is to be replaced, with a new central heating system planned and air conditioning ducts to be installed. At a later time, Dr. Harrison said other funds of the hospital would be utilized to provide the actual air conditioning equipment.

The Committee for Business and Property Management is scheduled to report on the proposed renovation of the two buildings.

The project will make the structures well-lighted dormitory facilities, Dr. Harrison said. Little work has been done to the buildings since their original construction, he pointed out.

One other item included on the agenda for the board concerns the lawsuit by the City of Big Spring against the board concerning water rates. In a recent decision of the 53rd District Court in Austin, the contract between the hospital and the city, signed in 1937 and setting a cost of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons, was upheld by the court. The city had asked a revision of the rates upward.

Austin Rally Near Record

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson was home today at "the little place" of his birth to vote and await returns.

He returned to Texas Monday night to one of the largest street rallies ever staged here.

"I came home to this city tonight," He told people crowded onto Congress Ave." It is the city I love, and I wanted to be with the people I love on the night before."

He began his political career here 27 years ago as a congressman.

He talked of old friends and of himself as "a barefoot boy around my daddy's desk" at the time his father was a state legislator. He said he saw "a good many people that came out to my house one Sunday and asked me to run for Congress."

He shook hands at every opportunity.

Roof sections for the concrete pavilion at Moss Creek Lake will be placed in position Wednesday, with preparations for foundation work for a second pavilion under way today at the lake.

The first pavilion will include 28 feet by 32 feet of space, with the roof composed of curved concrete arcs, 2 ft. 10 in. wide by 28 feet in length.

Plans also include 10 concrete tables, supported on metal frames, for the pavilion, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

Lillard said additional pavilions may be planned for city park facilities, depending on the costs of the structures.

Sewer Line Work Begins

The preliminary clearing of right-of-way for the new Beals Branch sewer line began today, with the contractor for the project preparing to move in pipe prior to actual construction.

The contractor, Great Plains Construction Co., Lubbock, began using a bulldozer to clear right - of - way on a portion of the five - mile - length of the line, which was designed both to relieve present facilities and provide for future expansion.

The signing of the contract has not been fully completed, with a work order to be issued by Forrest and Cotten, Dallas consulting engineers, afterward, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today. The contractor has been alloted 300 calendar days to complete the project, after the issuance of the work order.

Great Plains was the low bidder on the project, with a bid of $345,507 for the line construction. The line will extend from the plant along portions of Rutgers, Tulane, Fourth, Birdwell Lane, Second, the Texas and Pacific Railway tracks, Young and San Antonio streets.

Bond Sales Fall Off

Sales of United States savings bonds fell off to about half the monthly goal in Howard County, and this helped keep district totals down.

Total sales in District 5, said Larson Lloyd, chairman, amounted to $69,013 in September, making $742,644 for the first nine months of the year. With three-quarters of the time gone, the district has achieved only 49.5 per cent of its goal. During the same period, state sales have amounted to $112,141,294, or 74.7 per cent of the 1964 goal.

In this district, the record by counties on September sales (the year's cumulative totals in parenthesis) and percentage of goal for the year follows:

Andrews $9,693 ($26,652) 53.3; Dawson $3,861 ($68,619) 76.2; Gaines $4,162 ($53,359) 49.5; Howard $28,481 ($357,440) 54.9; Martin $805 ($18,791) 62.6; Mitchell $3,750 ($95,745) 41.6; Scurry $18,261 ($122,035) 38.1; total $69,013 ($742,644) 49.5.

Clarifies Flag Flying Custom

Why do some flags fly at half staff and others not during the official period of mourning for a president or ex-president?

This question has been raised by a few local residents, and the key to it is whether the flag is flown over a government building or installation. For all of these the flag flies at half staff during the 30-day period of mourning following the death of a president or ex-president.

Flags on private property fly at half staff from the time of death of the president or ex-president, until burial of the body. Then they return to flying the flag full staff. In event the governor of a state proclaims a period of mourning, flags on private property then usually fly at half staff also.

Webb Employe Hurt In Wreck

A Webb AFB employe, Bobby Joe Stuart, 31, was taken to Medical Arts Hospital today after he was injured when his compact car overturned on US 87, 9.3 miles south of Big Spring shortly after 7 a.m.

Stuart of San Angelo, was reported in good condition this morning at the hospital, with minor injuries.

Highway patrolmen said Stuart was on his way to work when his car went onto a shoulder of the highway and he lost control. The car overturned and skidded a considerable distance, according to officers.

Auxiliary Prepares For Poppy Day

Thirty members of the American Legion Auxiliary committee for Poppy Day met in a work session Monday night at the Legion Home. Preparations for the observance included unpacking the hundreds of paper Poppies, replicas of the traditional Flanders Field flowers and attaching pins. Purchase of the poppies is a tribute to the nation's war dead.

Mrs. Zelda Rea, past president, has been named by Auxiliary President, Mrs. Dave Cothran, to head this year's observance of Poppy Day. Members, assisted by the Junior Auxiliary, have set a goal of "a poppy to every person who will wear one."

"A contribution will be accepted, as the program is aimed at honoring the war dead by helping the disabled, but the poppies are free whether or not a contribution is made," Mrs. Rea said.

Poppy Day has been observed in Big Spring each year since the end of World War II, and is traditionally proclaimed by the mayor. An honorary tribute is usually given some outstanding citizen by presenting the first poppy to him.

"Big Spring, with a Veterans Administration Hospital, has first hand information of the benefits of the Poppy Day program to the disabled veterans, and the local program has always merited full support," Mrs. Rea said. "The American Legion Auxiliary urges everyone to wear a poppy Saturday."

Grand Jury Has 25 Case Docket

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, will empanel a grand jury at 10 a.m. Wednesday and the jurors will immediately begin investigation of 25 felony complaints which have accumulated since the last grand jury met.

Included in the cases to be aired will be that of Higinio Soto, young Puerto Rican, who is accused of holding up the Security State Bank last week. Soto was arrested a few minutes after $4,960 was taken from Mrs. Ray Dabney, a teller at the bank.

Also on the list of cases to be tried will be an armed robbery charge against Ralph Draper and James W. LeMay. These men are accused of holding up Julio Hernandez, a service station attendant on Oct. 23.

Two assault with intent to murder cases are on the list to be investigated by the jury. One is against Clarence Yanez Jr. He is charged with shooting Richard Marquez Oct. 18. It is estimated it will take at least two days for the grand jury to complete its work.

Bobby's Race Key Question

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Every reliable indicator pointed to a landslide for President Johnson in New York State today with the big suspense in whether Robert F. Kennedy would share in the Democratic victory.

The contest between Kennedy, 38, former U.S. attorney general and brother of the late president, and incumbent Kenneth B. Keating, 64, for a U.S. Senate seat has overshadowed the presidential race in the Empire State.

Each side claimed victory as the long and often bitter battle ended. Although some polls gave the edge to Kennedy, the race remained tight.

Most prominent Republicans long since privately have conceded Johnson will win the state's bloc of 43 electoral votes, largest in the nation, in his fight with Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other top Republicans did relatively little to advance the Goldwater cause in the state.

In predicting victory for Keating, his camp indirectly conceded the state to Johnson in the presidential balloting.

Nothing Missed After Break-In

Someone apparently used a sledgehammer to knock a hole in a tile wall at the Don Bohannon Distributing Co., 1107 E. 2nd, Monday night, although the firm reported today nothing is missing.

An inventory had not been completed this morning, but the firm had made a night deposit of cash. An inside door to the office had also been forced open. Police discovered the break-in about 10:45 p.m. Monday night and checked the building and area.

A door was also forced open at the Mobil Oil Co., 1405 E. 2nd, Monday night but nothing had been reported missing this morning, police saiid.

Several other thefts were also reported to police Monday and today. Allen Brothers Garage, 1800 W. 3rd, reported four tires were taken. Mrs. Richard Thompson, 3219 Eleventh Place, told police some medicine was taken from her car while it was parked in the 300 block of Main Street Monday. Three hubcaps valued at some $60 were reported taken from a car owned by Herman Best, Ellis Homes, Monday.

Hospital Patients Balloting Too

It's election day across the country and at the Big Spring State Hospital, too.

Patients prepared mimeographed sample ballots and set up registration and voting booths in the auditorium of the Allred Building. Marked ballots were being deposited in ballot boxes and were to be counted at the end of the day. By 10 a.m. over 150 had voted.

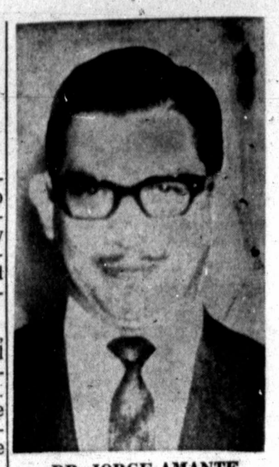

Advisory Meet

There will be a meeting of the district advisory committee for manpower development and training here Thursday afternoon. W. H. Townsend, San Angelo, district director for the Texas Employment Commission, will preside at the session set for 2 o'clock at Texas Electric Service Company's conference room. Several project proposals have been received for committee consideration.

County Workers Get Voting Time

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday authorized workers on the county road and bridge department to take a half day off to vote Tuesday. The workers will be released from their jobs at noon.

No other office in the courthouse will observe a layoff for election. All other deputies and officials are on the job as usual.

DR. JORGE AMANTE

Joins State Hospital Staff

A new physician, Dr. Jorge Amante, has joined the staff of the Big Spring State Hospital. A native of Mexico City, he received training in psychiatry during the past two years at the Jean-Talon Hospital of Montreal, Canada.

For four years previous he was in the United States under the exchange program and was assigned for about six months to the Austin State Hospital as a surgeon.

Dr. Amante also completed an internship in a private hospital at Shreveport, La., and was a surgeon for about two years at the Matty Hersee Hospital of Meridian, Miss.

He received a medical degree from the University of Mexico City and was in private practice there for some years prior to coming to the United States.

Dr. Amante's wife and family are presently in Montreal but will join him here at a later date.

Contest Vital In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California was the last of the big states to mark its ballots today with 40 vital electoral votes to award and a spirited senatorial race to decide.

Public opinion polls this year point to a 1.3-million vote victory for President Johnson.

Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, however, predicts he will carry California, one of the four states he lists as necessary for a GOP triumph.

The senatorial contest matches Pierre Salinger, former presidential press aide and recently appointed to fill the U.S. Senate vacancy created by the death of Democrat Clair Engle, and George Murphy, a one-time movie and stage musical star, long active in the California Republican party.

Late polls tag the race a toss-up.

Five Defendants Plead Guilty

Five pleas of guilty, all the defendants being individuals whose cases have been tentatively slated for court trial this month, were heard in Howard County Court Monday afternoon.

Wayne Burns, county attorney, said that the defendants who pleaded guilty are:

J. R. Steinhauser, DWI, $100 fine and three days in the county jail; Andrew Jackson Hance, worthless check, $75 fine and costs; Ralph C. McGowen, non-support, 30 days in county jail and costs; Leon Walker, non-support, 60 days in county jail and costs; J. P. Anderson, transporting, $100 fine and costs.

Minor Accidents

Two minor traffic mishaps were reported to police Monday. A car driven by James C. Carruthers, 1809 Runnels, struck a parked car, owned by E. L. Davis, Big Spring Courts, at 1300 W. 3rd, and a vehicle driven by Curtis Lee Saddler, 814 NW 5th, hit a stop sign at the north service road to US 80, near the east city limits.

An Appetite For Action

Phillip Payne (62), far left, shown here with his Stanton teammates during a recent game, won Lineman of the Week honors at his school for his performance against Wink last Friday. Payne insisted on remaining in action although he was injured early in the contest. Others pictured include Burt Decker (54), Ray Louder (57) and Larry White (18).

Two Coahoma Q'backs Are On Honor Roll

A Stanton lineman who was injured early in the game but who refused to quit in last Friday's game with Wink is among the Players of the Week honored by The Daily Herald this week. Each of the players will receive a certificate and all become eligible for the Player of the Year awards to be handed out by the newspaper at the end of the season. The winners:

BIG SPRING

LINEMAN—Dub McMeans played practically all 48 minutes of the game against Midland High and distinguished himself both on offense and defense for the Steers. He played right guard on defense and quick guard when the Longhorns were running th ball. His ability to put pressure on enemy backs enabled the Bovines to keep out front in the exciting 27-13 struggle.

BACK—Two boys share the honor this week. One is quarterback Benny Kirkland, who played perhaps his finest game against the Bulldogs. The other was Rey Navarette, fullback. Kirkland was the leading ground gainer of the contest, passed for one touchdown and ran for another and had a leading hand in all four Big Spring scores. Navarette counted one touchdown for the Longhorns and his key blocking was a major factor in the engagement. The choices for both the lineman and backs were difficult to make because it was a team effort, with so many boys playing major roles in the victory.

STANTON

LINEMAN—The honor this week has to go to Phillip Payne, a 150-pound sophomore, who got his lip laid open early in the game but who stood both on defense and offense against the Wink Wildcats. His blocking was crisp and he was a tiger on defense.

BACK — The honor goes to Johnny Swanson, 140-pound senior halfback, who turned in one of his best efforts in a losing cause. He was Stanton's leading ground gainer and his defensive play was outstanding.

COAHOMA

LINEMAN — Guard Teddy Merrick, a 155-pound junior, played the entire game for Coahoma in the rout of Rotan and was particularly effective on defense, throwing back Rotan ball carriers time and again. Teddy is one of the major reasons Coahoma remains unbeaten and untied to this point.

BACK —Quarterback Dwayne Allen faked well against Rotan, passing two of three passes and set up one touchdown with a 45-yard run. He also played a whale of a game on defense for the Bulldogs. He shares the honor with Marshall Williams, second string quarterback, who incercepted two passes and who ran 100 yards for one Coahoma score. He set up a score with one of his interceptions.

GARDEN CITY

LINEMAN — Sparkling linebacking and sharp blocking up front won the honor for Michael Hoch, 155 - pounder. Hoch played offensive guard and defensive linebacker for the Bearkats in their impressive 11-man win over the Coahoma B squad. He came up fast from his linebacker's spot to make five tackles for the Kats.

BACK — Dennis Seidenberger, 160-pound senior who has carried much of the load on offense for Garden City all season, proved to be poisonous against Coahoma's reserves last week. He was outstanding in every phase of the game. In six carries, he gained 54 yards. He racked up two touchdowns and extra point. He also got five tackles as a corner linebacker for the Bearkats.

SANDS

LINEMAN — Good blocking and ability to put the pressure on the opposing quarterback won the laurel for Alton Richter, 165-pound right guard, this week. Alton has played a major role in the Mustangs' sweep to the top in District 3-B standings this season.

BACK—The honor this week goes to Larry Oaks, 160-pound sophomore halfback who did a stellar job on offense and was used on defense by coach Eddie Gill. Larry played a major role in Sands' come-from-behind victory over Loop.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

JOHN BRIDGERS, Baylor coach:

"I've been to four all-star football games, where there were several backs and ends who were All-Americans. I haven't seen anybody close to our Lawrence Elkins at running patterns or catching the football. I don't believe anyone can run consistently good patterns or is any more of a threat after he catches the ball than Elkins. He can run with the ball after he catches it. And he can block. If he's not an All-American, there never was one."

DINAH SHORE

HAYDEN FRY, SMU mentor:

"No, I haven't given any thought about giving up the two-platoon system. We've only got two seniors, Knee and Oyler, that are on our defensive unit playing regulars where most people think we have stacked all our studs. We have a total of six seniors on the whole club. We have a real young club. We're going to stick by the sophomores and juniors on offense."

LOU MAYSEL, Austin scribe:

"Who would have thought that when they rolled out that telegram from Texas well-wishers before the Rice game that it would be a full 60 yards longer than the Texas offensive gain during the contest?"

PAT CULPEPPER, former Texas All-American, now an assistant coach of the Longhorns:

"Playing in Houston is like lighting a stick of dynamite in a cave and running in the wrong direction."

Singer DINAH SHORE:

"It's sad what happened to boxing. I used to be a fan even though lately I don't believe the fights any more than I believe in wrestling matches."

JOE PEPITONE, shortly after he hit that bases loaded home run for the New York Yankees in that last World Series:

"Before I swung, I looked down to Mickey Mantle, who was on third base, and he gave me that clenched fist and that little smile as though he were saying, 'come on, hit it out.' He's the greatest man I ever played with. With him playing, it gives you inspiration."

NORM VAN BROCKLIN, Minnesota Viking coach, after defensive end Jim Marshall had run 60 yards the wrong way after recovering a fumble against San Francisco:

"I'd just better hope to live until I'm 50 and forget about that 65 business and the pension."

HARRY GRAYSON, syndicated scribe:

"College football wolves are howling on the Oklahoma plains. There were only yelps in the distant canyons when Southern California passed the Sooners dizzy. It took a seventh consecutive shellacking by Texas to turn the faint cries into a cacophony of throaty baying. . . . Multiplying (coach Gomer) Jones' difficulties is the fact that he was engaged over the objections of the men who hired him—the Board of Regents. After 17 years as an assistant, Jones was Bud Wilkinson's choice, but the board favored a younger coach with a name launching an entirely new regime . . . The remainder of the Big Eight probably had caught up with the wily Wilkinson and Oklahoma. Bud's own products as coaches in the Big Eight conference, and in the person of brilliant Darrell Royal of Texas, compounded Oklahoma headaches. . . . It could be that plodding Gomer Jones ascended to the leadership just in time to be blamed for the start of its downfall."

SEC May Seek To Oust Tulane From Circuit

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Southeastern Conference probably will ask Tulane University of New Orleans to resign or disassociate itself from the league when it meets in Atlanta in January, the Birmingham Post-Herald said in today's editions.

In a story by sports editor Bill Lumpkin, the newspaper said the action probably will be taken because Tulane does not meet the requirement of a minimum of six SEC games on its 1965 football schedule.

Tulane meets the specification for 1965.

Article 10 of the SEC by-laws says "Each member instutition must schedule a minimum of six conference football games each year."

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said he would have no comment.

Tulane Athletic Director Rix Yard said of the Post-Herald story: "I know of no official word from SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore or President Ralph B. Draughon of Auburn.

Coaches Show Much Respect For Opponents

By The Associated Press

College football scouts don't seem to be able to find anything wrong with the opposition, especially before a game.

They were ecstatic in telling Southwest Conference teams about the great opponents they would be meeting Saturday.

Rice plays Arkansas at Fayetteville and while the Owls haven't won a game in two weeks, coach Bill Pace of Arkansas said Rice had a tough defense and intimated he just couldn't figure how a touchdown could be scored against it.

The last four foes haven't gotten a touchdown, he pointed out, but didn't mention the fact that Rice hasn't been able to keep the opposition far enough away that it can't kick field goals. Rice lost to Texas and was tied by Texas Tech through field goals.

At the other end of the line Coach Nick Lanza was telling the Rice team what a great outfit Arkansas was.

Anyway, the teams are due to be in good shape and Rice even expects to have its injured quarterback Walter McReynolds and fullback Gene Walker ready for action again. Arkansas welcomed end Jerry Lamb and defensive end Jim Finch back to the fold.

The most lavish report of a scout was that of Coach Berl Huffman of Texas Tech, who frightened the Red Raiders with a statement that West Texas State, the opponent Saturday night, had three backs faster than the fabulous Pete Pedro, who beat Tech a couple of years ago.

And he added that Russ Mundy, the West Texas fullback, could be compared to Jim Brown, the great pro player. In fact, Huffman said, the only difference is that Mundy is faster.

Good thing the game with West Texas isn't a conference affair.

Tech also has three players on the injury list—kicker Ken Gill, end Jerry Shipley and guard James Cecil.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas was worrying about offense—his and Baylor's. Our offense is going to have to be more productive than it has been to beat them," moaned Royal. "The question now is how? I don't know."

Royal said Baylor sure could move the ball, especially with its explosive passing.

Texas has been able to score only 13 points in its last two games and trailed its opponents in offense. It did, however, win both games.

Royal blamed the lack of offense on key player being out with injuries but said the situation might be better Saturday when Texas plays Baylor at Waco.

Baylor's injury situation also showed improvement and the Bears emphasized defense when they went to the practice field. But they hadn't read Royal's assessment of his team's offense at the time.

Southern Methodist and Texas A&M play at Dallas Saturday and both teams should be in fighting trim. Neither got any injuries in their losing efforts last week.

They were pretty carefree at Texas Christian where all the boys did was run some sprints. But the Frogs don't play anybody this week.

Notre Dame Leads AP Football Poll

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame, assured of its first winning season since 1958, stormed to the top of The Associated Press major college football poll today, gaining a narrow margin over Ohio State, leader for the previous two weeks.

The revitalized Irish, unbeaten in six games, drew 29 of 48 first-place votes and 460 points in the weekly poll of sportswriters and sportscasters. The Buckeyes, also 6-0, received 11 votes for the top spot and 424 points over-all.

Notre Dame moved to the front with a surprisingly easy 40-0 triumph over Navy last Saturday. At the same time, Ohio State had trouble outlasting Iowa 21-19.

The next four teams in last week's rankings held their positions—Alabama third, Arkansas fourth, Nebraska fifth and Texas as sixth. Oregon, No. 7 last week, dropped from the Top Ten as a result of its 10-8 loss to Stanford.

Georgia Tech climbed from eighth to seventh, Louisiana State ninth to eighth and Florida 10th to ninth. Purdue took over the No. 10 spot.

The Irish have four games to go in their bid for their first unbeaten season since 1953 and their first unbeaten, untied year since 1949 when they last won the national championship.

Coming dramatically to life under Coach Ara Parseghian after an extended period of mediocrity, Notre Dame has won six games for the first time since 1958 when its final record was 6-4. The Irish will try and make Pitt their seventh victim this Saturday at Pittsburgh. Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California follow on the schedule.

The Irish have moved to the head of the nation's major college teams behind the record-breaking passing combination of quarterback John Huarte and end Jack Snow, neither of whom did anything outstanding last season.

"The ability was there, of course," said Parseghian, "but they never were able to distinguish themselves."

Top Ten teams with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8 basis:

1. Notre Dame (29)	460
2. Ohio State (11)	424
3. Alabama (7)	385
4. Arkansas (1)	310
5. Nebraska	259
6. Texas	175
7. Georgia Tech	174
8. La. State	116
9. Florida	90
10. Purdue	85

TOP ENTRY IN TALL CITY OPEN

Midland Tourney Opens Thursday

MIDLAND — The field has been completed for the first annual Tall City Open Invitational Golf tournament, which gets under way Thursday at the Hogan Park course here and continues through Sunday.

The 15 leading money winners in women's professional golf will play here, along with other outstanding professional and amateur linksters.

The registration includes:

Mickey Wright, Ruth Jessen, Betsy Rawls, Kathy Whitworth, Clifford Ann Creed, Marlene Hagge, Shirley Englehorn, Sandra Haynie, Marilynn Smith, Mary Mills, Carol Mann, Kathy Cornelius, Judy Torluemke, Jo Ann Prentice and Judy Kimble.

One of the top names entered here is that of Miss Whitworth, who has been a professional five seasons.

In her first three years on the circuit, Kathy played only mediocre golf, never winning as much as $7,000 in any single year. She was declared the most improved professional on the circuit in 1960, however, at which time she earned $4,901.85.

She gained national prominence in 1962, when she won two tournaments, finished second eight times and collected $17,044.50 officially. Her earnings enabled her to finish second in LPGA winnings and in Vare Trophy standings and she again was named recipient of the most improved professional award.

Last year, Miss Whitworth starred even more spectacularly. Competing in all 32 tournaments and finishing in the money in each, she won eight meets, finished second five times, tied for second and was third once and tied for third on three other occasions.

She collected $26,858 officially to go over the old LPGA money-winning record and was second in Vare Trophy standings with a 93.90 average in 106 official rounds.

Kathy's home town is Jal, N. M. The tall hazel - eyed brownette attended Jal public schools and Odessa College.

Prize money in the Tall City Open will be $10,000.

PANTHER PLOT TO BE GIVEN

A scouting report on Big Spring's next football opponent, Odessa Permian, will be given at tonight's meeting of the Quarterback Club, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the High School Cafeteria.

Action films of last week's thriller with Midland High will also be shown, at which time the narration will be offered by head coach Don Robbins.

Buffalo Queens And Ira Clash

FORSAN — Forsan's Buffalo Queens will play host to Ira in two basketball games here this evening, with the first contest due to ger under way at 6:30 p.m.

Forsan is 3-0 for the season. Ira recently split a series with Garden City, considered one of the powerhouses in West Texas.

Probable starters for Forsan's A squad will be Jody Dodd, Karen Lawson and Mary Simpson, forwards; and Patsy Gooch, Susan Elrod and Valyncia Conway, guards.

Elrod is the only senior in the group. Dodd, Lawson and Gooch are juniors and Simpson and Conway sophomores.

Mollie Condron, Sherry Walraven and Nancy Anderson will see a lot of action for the Queens.

League Plans April Ballot On Issues

AUSTIN (AP)—The University Interscholastic League will vote in April on six proposals by the athletic subcommittee, the League said Monday.

The proposals were approved Sunday by the League's legislative council for the April referendum. The council also selected Harlan Andrews, Bellair High School principal, as chairman and Kyle Superintendent W. M. Johnson vice-chairman.

The referendum includes an item to set the opening of fall football practice in Class AAAA no earlier than the third Monday prior to the second Friday in September, and to rule out contact workouts for the first four days of practice.

The referendum also includes items to set the AAAA and AAA state baseball tournament for the first week in June, to prevent organized football workouts prior to the opening of practice in all conferences, and to set the first date for playing football games in AAA, AA and A as the second Friday in September.

Another proposal calls for a ban on organized basketball practice in class AAAA and AAA prior to Oct. 15, 1965, or after the last date for certifying district champions, and on interschool scrimmages or games prior to Nov. 15, 1965 or after the last date for certifying district champions.

The legislative council approved a recommendation from the High School Coaches Association that a track and field committee composed of the council and members of the association be set up to study track and field events for boys, that a plan for extending girls' volleyball to a state championship level be considered at the 1965 council meeting and that girls' track and field, swimming and cross country be referred to a committee for further study.

Spier Is Named Award Winner

Dickie Spier, former Big Spring High School fullback, was cited for his offensive efforts in last Saturday's game between McMurry and Tarleton State.

Spier and the McMurry won their first game of the season at the expense of Tarleton, 12-6.

Spier was one of two boys on the squad awarded "Headhunter of the Week" honors by the McMurry coaching staff. Dickie plays tailback for the McMurry team.

Rights Issue In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Segregation and states rights was expected to give Louisiana's 10 electoral votes to Republican Barry Goldwater today.

President Johnson picked up fresh support lately.

Civil rights was the key issue throughout the campaign in Louisiana, as it has been in every other campaign for over a decade. Goldwater voted against the civil rights act.

Johnson touched on the preoccupation with the civil rights issue when he campaigned in New Orleans Oct. 9, drawing a rousing reception.

In many areas of the Deep South, the only thing people hear during election time is "Negro, Negro, Negro," he told a fund raising dinner.

Wade Martin, secretary of state, predicted a record total vote of 850,000 to 860,000 if the weather was decent. Martin, a Democrat, campaigned for Goldwater.

Gov. John McKeithen, a Democrat, stayed neutral in the presidential race.

Close Race For Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — An estimated 4.5 million voters decide today whether Republican Charles H. Percy or Democrat Otto Kerner, the incumbent, will be governor of Illinois for the next four years.

Some rain was forecast for portions of Illinois. Polls opened throughout the state at 6 a.m. and will close at 6 p.m.

The Kerner-Percy race was expected to be the closest fight. But Illinois, with its 26 electoral votes, is considered a pivotal state for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in his attempt to defeat President Johnson.

Illinois voters also struggled with the cumbersome orange ballot to elect 177 members of the state House of Representatives.

Kerner, 56, was elected governor in 1960 by 524,000 over incumbent William G. Stratton, a Republican. Kerner has based his campaign on state solvency, increased mental health facilities, new industry and reduced unemployment rolls.

Something To Suit Every Taste On Tap

There will be something to suit the taste of almost everyone Wednesday evening when Mantovani brings his celebrated orchestra back to Big Spring.

It is the first of the season's offerings by the Big Spring Concert Association, and admittance is by season membership only. Curtain time at the City Auditorium is 8:15.

The program, which is subject to alteration, includes in the first part: "Big Country (Theme);" "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now;" "Under Paris Skies;" Introduction and Friska from Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2; Saint-Saens' "Le Cygne (The Swan);" Can Can from "La Boutique Fantasque;" "Maria" from West Side Story; and an accordian solo to be selected. Mantovani's "Dance of the Eighth Veil," along with "Three Coins in the Fountain" and Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours" will round out this portion.

George M. Cohan's catchy "Give My Regards to Broadway" will open the second half, followed by another Mantovani creation, "Manhantan Lullaby." Other selection will include "Irma La Douce," "Exodus," "Hava Nagila," "Gold and Silver Waltz," "Granada," "What Kind of Fool Am I," and "Kismet."

To Follow Dad's Steps?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Robert A. Taft Jr. tries today to follow the footsteps of his famous father into the U.S. Senate. He is expected to make it unless President Johnson carries Ohio in a landslide.

Democrats concede that Taft's opponent, Sen. Stephen M. Young, is in trouble, but many predict Johnson will capture the 26 electoral votes of this traditionally Republican state by 200,000 votes. This plurality, they say, will be enough to help Young win a second term.

With its "swing state" reputation as the place where either party has a fighting chance, Ohio will be closely watched across the nation. Four years ago, it gave Richard M. Nixon 2,217,611 votes to 1,944,248 for eventual winner John F. Kennedy.

An unusual amount of interest focuses on the scrap for Ohio's junior U.S. Senate seat.

Briton's Opinion Of U.S. Elections

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — British humorist Malcolm Muggeridge says elections in the United States and Britain have evolved into personality contests between identical candidates.

Muggeridge, former editor of Punch, told a news conference Monday there is a lack of issues because of mass communications.

Postal Receipts Continue Falling

Postal receipts continue to fall short of their 1963 monthly counterparts at the Big Spring Post Office.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that October receipts were $5,100 less than for the same month last year. The figure for this past month was $33,914.70 as compared with $39,014.96 for October, 1963.

For the first 10 months of the current year, the total receipts are now $42,067 behind the total for the same 10 months in 1963. The total receipts this year are $367,315.56 For the 10 month interval last year, the receipts were $409,483.

South Korea Firm On U.N. Formula

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park said today South Korea will "accept nothing but the United Nations-proposed formula" for unification with Communist-governed North Korea.

Queen Elizabeth Opens Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told Parliament today that Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor government will renationalize Britain's steel industry, restore rent controls and open the way for the abolition of capital punishment.

The queen formally opened the Parliament elected Oct. 15 with the first speech from the throne written for her by Wilson and his Cabinet. The speech outlined the government's legislative program.

In international affairs the queen promised the government's support of the United Nations and the North Atlantic alliance and other collective defense organizations to which Britain belongs. She said the government would attempt to reduce East-West tensions and "to encourage further progress toward disarmament."

FROM THRONE

The queen delivered her speech from the throne in the House of Lords after driving through London in a coach accompanied by a glittering cavalry escort.

Members of the House of Commons, summoned with great ceremony, stood around the edges of the chamber as the queen spoke.

In a key passage she said: "My government will initiate early action to re-establish the necessary public ownership of the iron and steel industry."

This policy is expected to touch off a major parliamentary battle.

Wilson's government has only a five-vote majority in Commons. Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives and the small Liberal party oppose nationalization of the steel industry.

Clement Attlee's Labor government took the steel industry under state control in 1951 after nationalizing the coal, gas and electric power industries, the railways, the airlines and the Bank of England.

IN FORCE

Other nationalization measures of the Attlee regime continue in force, but the steel industry went back into private hands after the Conservative party won the 1951 election.

The queen said the Wilson government will "restore control of rents" and added, "They will establish as rapidly as possible a crown lands commission with wide powers to acquire land for the community."

This measure, Labor ministers have said, is designed to check land speculation and to put land to the best use. A parliamentary fight is expected on that also.

Vincent Club Names Officers

The Vincent 4-H Club met Monday evening in the Vincent education building to re-elect the present officer slate for the coming year.

"Officers are Robbie Haney, president; Buzz Mann, vice president; Charlotte Mann, secretary; and Mark Barr, reporter. Charlotte Mann and Robbie Haney were named to serve as delegates to the County 4-H Council. Adult leaders elected were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mann and Mr. and Mrs. James Coates.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Coates.

General Joining Space Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Brig. Gen. David M. Jones, a participant in the famous World War II Doolittle raid on Japan, has been selected to help iron out problems in the Gemini and Apollo space programs and to work on plans for advanced manned missions in space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Jones would take office Dec. 15 as a deputy associate administrator for manned space flight. He is now deputy chief of staff for systems, of the Air Force Systems Command at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

CRMWD Board Meets Monday

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here at 10 a.m. Monday.

Progress reports will be heard, and the board will consider a new resolution conveying a quarter-block tract near downtown Big Spring for use as a rehabilitation and health center. Previously, the board had said it would sell the land, acquired originally as a potential headquarters building site, for the center. The Dora Roberts Foundation, which has made a grant for the center, recently advertised for bids on the project.

E. V. Spence, general manager, said that other general business would be considered at the brief board meeting.

Variance Okayed

The zoning board of adjustment approved a variance request concerning the planned health and rehabilitation center, on property at 203-209 Lancaster, in a session at city hall Monday. The variance will allow the building to come within 10 feet of the front property line and was requested by the Dora Roberts Foundation.

Blast Fired At Cambodia By 2 Thais

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Two top Thai officials sharply criticized Cambodia today for its close ties with Communist China, saying they viewed the relationship as a threat to the free nations of Southeast Asia.

Interior Minister en. Praphas Charusathien warned that the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, might be "feeding a tiger."

Praphas said growing Chinese Communist influence in Southeast Asia would be dangerous to Thailand, a firm ally of the United States and a country that has had no diplomatic relations with neighboring Cambodia in the past three years.

Deputy Defense Minister Dawee Chulasap said Cambodia's siding with the Communist Chinese presented "a threat to the free countries in this part of the world."

Docket Swells 14 During October

There were 14 more civil and criminal cases on the dockets of the 118th District Court Nov. 1 than there were Sept. 30, Fern Cox, district court clerk, said today.

The month ended with 1,197 cases of all kinds on file, compared with 1,183 at the opening of October.

When October began, there were 261 divorce suits pending. Thirty-four new cases were filed, but the court disposed of 14 and ordered dismissal of four others. This left the month with an overall increase of 16 divorce suits and total of 277.

There was an overall increase of 16 divorce suits during the month, despite the granting of 14 decrees and the dismissal of four petitions.

Annulment suits on file started the month with 10 and wound up with 10—there were no new annulment petitions filed and no disposition made of those pending. Tax suits, which totalled 376 when the month began, wound up with 375 on file. One was dismissed in October.

All other civil suits wound up 11 ahead of the opening figure. Twenty-seven new suits were filed in October to supplement the 475 on hand when the month began. Four civil suits were disposed of by jury, five by the court, and seven diismissed. This left a balance on hand of 486 as the month ended.

Eleven criminal cases were handled by the court and one by a jury during the month. There were 61 indictments in the criminal file when the month opened and 49 when November began.

Arraignment For Beauty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leona Gage, who tried to end her troubled life with drugs, appeared in a hospital gown and pajama bottoms to pay the price of her recovery: Arraignment on a narcotics charge.

A judge ordered her returned Monday to General Hospital for a psychiatric examination.

She was found near death Thursday in a motel. Police said attendants pulled off her stylish boots at a receiving hospital and found a quarter - ounce of marijuana in one of them.

She was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana. She recovered from the drugs.

Police said a note they found read:

"I feel in my heart that to make my exit at this point in my life was the wisest thing to do."

She was Miss USA at the 1957 Miss Universe pageant at Long Beach, Calif., for one day. Her crown was reclaimed and awarded to the first runner-up when it was discovered Miss Gage, a Texan, was a Mrs. She has now had four unsuccessful marriages and has three sons and a daughter.

Johnson Casts Straight Vote In Hill Country

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson planned to vote the straight Democratic ticket — "from the courthouse to the White House" — at his Hill Country polling place today.

The President and Mrs. Johnson were to cast their ballots at the brick headquarters of the Pedernales Electric Cooperative, a rural electrification system the chief executive helped establish nearly 30 years ago.

Tonight they will fly by helicopter to Austin, the state capital and Johnson's longtime political base, to await the election returns in a suite at the 100-year-old Driskill Hotel. Later, at a moment he deems appropriate, Johnson will go to the Municipal Auditorium to make a statement either in victory or defeat.

EXPECTS VICTORY

The chief executive fully expects to make a victory statement.

Johnson and Lady Bird spent the night at their ranch home, 15 miles west of here, after winding up their campaign — a family enterprise all the way — with a roaring street rally in Austin.

To the tens of thousands massed before him in the shadow of the floodlit Capitol, Johnson said there was "a stillness on the earth" as millions awaited the decision of an estimated 71 million American voters.

"On that decision," he said, "rests our future . . . and the future of our children." He declared that the same could be said for people in other lands.

HOUSTON TALKS

Earlier, Johnson had made three after-dark speeches in Houston, pledging "my total commitment to preserve peace while protecting freedom."

Before flying to Texas to draw the curtain on his 44-state campaign, Johnson filmed at the White House a paid political message heard and seen by television viewers coast to coast Monday night.

The talk featured a special appeal that Republicans who want to preserve the GOP voice at the polls "overwhelming repudiation of the small minority which has seized your party and intends to keep it."

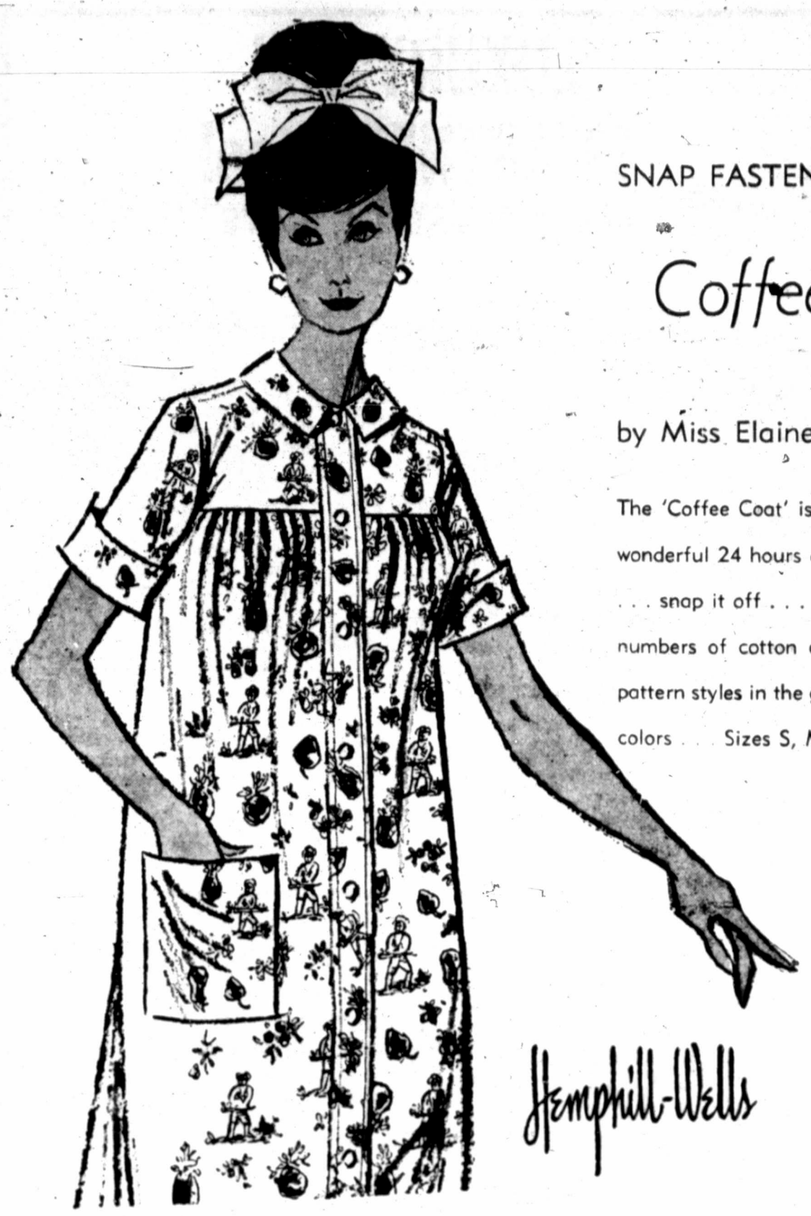

A REFERENCE

Johnson did not mention Sen. Barry Goldwater, his Republican rival, but he obviously was referring to Goldwater and his associates.

After his Austin speech, Johnson went to the Driskill Hotel to mix with old friends and Texas politicians at a private party.

Waiting outside the hotel was the red-uniformed band of Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, the President's alma mater. He listened appreciatively while the musicians gave a sedate rendition of the college anthem, then swung into a rousing fight song.

The Johnsons flew by helicopter to their ranch, 65 miles west of Austin, after midnight.

Weather Mostly Good For Voting

By The Associated Press

Generally clear weather and mild or seasonable temperatures were indicated for most of the nation today, Election Day, but voters in some areas may get wet.

A minor storm centered off the southeast Atlantic Coast and skies were cloudy along the immediate coastal areas. Clouds also covered parts of the Great Lakes region, the upper Mississippi Valley and the Rockies.

RAIN LIGHT

Precipitation in the Midwest was generally light but fairly heavy showers fell in the upper Great Lakes. Areas in Illinois Monday got the heaviest rainfall, up to two inches in Rockford, in several weeks.

Showers were in prospect in scattered sections across the eastern plains and the upper Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes region. Rain was forecast along Carolina coastal areas and in the Pacific Northwest.

Record high temperatures for Nov. 2 were set in sections of the Plains states, including 81 in Kansas City, 82 in Topeka, Kan., and 80 in Omaha.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 20 in Old Town, Maine, to the low 73s in the southern Texas and southern Florida.

Soviet Debt Truce Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman denied Monday that the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to negotiations over the Soviet Union's refusal to pay United Nations peacekeeping assessments.

But press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the United States is willing to listen to any suggestions the Soviets may have on the matter.

U.S. officials are preparing for a fight in the United Nations over whether the Soviet Union should be denied its vote in the General Assembly under a provision in the U.N. Charter which says countries more than two years behind in paying obligations should lose their assembly votes.

Air Safety Pact Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has signed an agreement for increased cooperation in air safety efforts with the six-nation European Organization for the Safety of Air Navigation — EUROCONTROL.

EUROCONTROL has headquarters at Brussels, and consists of representatives from the United Kingdom, France, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Porter Dockets All Pending Cases

Judge Lee Porter, county judge, docketed all of the pending criminal cases in his court and all of the pending appeals from subordinate courts to go to trial the two weeks starting Nov. 10.

The sounding of the lengthy docket Monday afternoon brought out there would be a considerable number of guilty pleas during the two weeks the docket in is being pursued.

A number of cases will probably be dismissed, but an equally impressive number are being set down for trial.

A jury panel will be on hand Nov. 10 at 1:30 p.m. Judge Porter has tentatively docketed the case of Cecil E. Spears, charged with DWI, as the No. 1 case he will call before the bench.
