BLAYLOCK LEADS IN DALLAS RACE

Associated Press Dispatch

DALLAS, April 3.—Early returns from the city election today indicated that all candidates on the democratic ticket had been elected and that all charter amendments and bond propositions had carried. The Citizens' association, presenting a rival ticket, had asserted that the democratic ticket was in reality the ku klux klan ticket.

The democratic candidate, unofficial returns from 12 out of 46 percincts showed, were leading on an average of two to one. They are:

Louis Blaylock for mayor; John C. Harris, Gus Wylie, Harry Gowins and Louis Turley for commissioners.

KLAN WINS ONE AND LOSES TWO

International News Dispatch

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., April 3. The election of one and the defeat of the other two of the three candidates for commissioners in today's municipal election, who are said to have been endorsed by the ku klux klan, was indicated tonight by unofficial returns tabulated from 42 out of the 61 precincts of the city.

Ralph Cook, one of the alleged klan-indorsed candidates, was leading the list of eight candidates for commissioner, on the fact of the returns.

Rev. William R. Evans and August M. Eggmann, who were declared to have completed the alleged klan "slate" were running seventh and eighth, respectively, several thousand votes behind Cook.

The same number of returns gave M. M. Stephens, incumbent candidate for mayor, a slight lead over William J. Vesch, his opponent.

YETT WINS

AUSTIN, April 3.—Mayor Yett was re-elected over Lansdowne here yesterday. Commissioners Nolen, Avery, Searight and Haynes were also winners.

Oil Suit Seeks Recovery of Four Millions for Crude

SHREVEPORT, La., April 3.—Dissolution of the receivership of the Gilliland Oil company expected to have been accomplished during the week, or next week, probably will be delayed indefinitely by a suit to be filed in the federal court as soon as Judge Jack issues the necessary authority.

The action, seeking to recover $4,000,000 will be filed by Huey P. Long, representing the Consolidated Progressive Oil company, and seeks confirmation of title to 60 acres of leases in section 25-21-8 of the Homer oil field in Claiborne parish and recovering of the value of the oil taken from the land by the Gilliland company, a quantity estimated at approximately 2,000,000 barrels.

Beating With Fists— Or Brains?

THE Record News in two election extras Tuesday night badly distanced its competitor.

In a first extra, Fitts, police commissioner, conceded his defeat.

In a second extra giving complete returns, a special interview with the elected police commissioner, Young, told of Young's intention to make a clean sweep of the police force, from the chief down.

About 15 minutes after The Record News final extra, The Times issued an extra.

But gangs of boys, headed by a permanent employe of a competitor, spent the hour preceding the coming out of the competitor's extra, in assaulting Record News newsboys, destroying their papers, and in attempting to intimidate them from selling The Record News.

Gang warfare and assaults by gangs upon ten-year-old newsboys does not require brains, but merely fists.

But to give the news first and best requires brains.

The Record News believes the public votes for brains and not for fists.

Neff Vetoes Pope Act Which Killed Text-Book Contract Now It Is Back in Force

Insurance and Bank Separation Measure Also Killed When Governor Wields Pen

Associated Press Dispatch

AUSTIN, April 3.—Governor Neff late today vetoed the Pope bill seeking to nullify awards of the state text book commission and the bills separating the insurance and banking departments, and creating new departments. Ten other measures were vetoed by the governor and 14 remained on his desk to be acted upon before midnight.

The governor's veto on the Pope bill gave an extensive discussion of his reasons for disapproving the measure. Briefly stated, the reasons follow:

Unconstitutional.

The bill is in violation of the state and federal constitutions prohibiting legislation to impair contracts.

It seeks to absolve state from obligations of contract made in good faith and expressed in constitutional form.

It is wrong in morals as well as law to cancel contracts when neither fraud, collusion, nor improper influence are alleged.

It endeavors to break contract without giving contract-holders right to bring suits to establish validity of contracts.

Up to Courts.

The courts are proper forces to determine legality of contracts, not the legislature.

In absence of fraud, corruption of mistakes, the legislature has no right in equity or good conscience to regard contract as "scrap of paper."

The bill extends contracts without considering merits of old books, the price and without requiring bond of publishing companies holding them.

Merits Not Considered.

The bill, if it became a law, would leave the state without a number of text books in 1925, since commission cannot under state law change more than 10 per cent of books any one year.

The governor said he was unwilling to sacrifice the integrity and good name of members of text book commission when no fraud or corruption has been shown.

The governor further stated that in vetoeing the bill he was not considering the merits of the contracts let by the commission. In vetoing the insurance and banking bills, the governor said he did not deem it for the "best interests of the state at this time" for the measures to become laws at this time. He stated that if separation of the two departments is considered wise after investigation he would submit the matter to the special session.

Providing additional manner in which notice may be given by party to a proceeding before state boards; prohibiting any school trustee or teacher from being interested in any school depository; relating to amendments to city charters.

The governor has until midnight to act on the remaining bills before him, as today ends the 20-day period provided by the constitution in which he may act on measures.

CLARK MAY GO TO GAINESVILLE

Receives Offer of School Superintendency In Cooke County

Lee Clark, superintendent of schools here, will probably accept the position of school superintendent at Gainesville, it was announced Tuesday night following his return from a conference with the Gainesville school board. Mr. Clark's term as superintendent here expires this summer.

"I have received a very flattering offer from the Gainesville officials," Mr. Clark stated last night, "and although it is not definitely settled, I shall probably accept the position."

Has Several Offers

It is known that Mr. Clark has had a number of attractive offers from various educational institutions in the state since it was ascertained that he would not remain as superintendent of the local schools. He has hesitated in accepting a post definitely, however, until he has had time to consider them all.

The fact that Gainesville has sought his services is recognized as signal recognition of his ability, inasmuch as Gainesville is just launching a school expansion program which includes the construction of an elaborate new high school plant.

Unkissed Girl Still Sought After 1,000 Married Women Say They Were Caressed By Others

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3. — The prevalence of spooning is shown in replies received by the bureau of social hygiene, founded by John D. Rockefeller Jr., to a frank questionnaire circulated in what is termed the first exhaustive scientific investigation that has been made of the life of the normal educated woman.

21 Didn't Go Far

A report prepared by Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, general secretary of the bureau on replies received from 1,000 married women in various parts of the country, shows that 375 admitted having spooned prior to marriage with other than fiances; 208 spooned with fiances only and 389 never spooned prior to marriage. The question was left unanswered by 28.

Eleven of the 375 failed to specify the extent of their spoonings; 21 wrote "not far;" 50 "kissing only;" 104 "hugging and kissing;" 45 "hugging, kissing and fondling;" and 144 admitted more unrestrained spooning. One did not specify.

Of the 1,000 married women, 872 proclaimed themselves happy. Of the happy group 41 per cent did not spoon, 37 per cent did, and 22 per cent spooned only with their fiances. Of the middle group, 38 per cent admitted the extreme.

Practice Birth Control

Included in the 1,000 married women with which Dr. Davis' report deals, 691 were college graduates, 47 college under-graduates, 41 high and normal school graduates, and 12 private school graduates.

Of the 691 college graduates, 74 per cent admitted practicing birth control, and health and economic grounds were the reasons chiefly given.

Burleson was taken from a car near Jonah Sunday evening, flogged, and later thrown from a truck on the streets of Taylor, according to information given by the police.

MEN DESCRIBE STREET BATTLE

Long-Bladed Knives Are Produced As Evidence In Trial

Associated Press Dispatch

AUSTIN, Texas, April 3.—Testimony of eye-witnesses to the street battle in Sealy last Sept. 5, when three persons were killed, a fourth mortally wounded, and another man badly slashed, was given today in criminal district court in the trial of Foster Bell, charged with assault to murder in connection with the stabbing of Ernest Schaffner during the sensational street battle. Trial of Bell and John Miller under joint indictment of murder in two cases and assault to murder on another, will be held separately under a severance granted by District Judge Hamilton.

Tells of Fight.

Ernest Creak in a dramatic manner, related that he stood across the street and saw the entire fight and saw bodies of three lifeless men lying within a few feet of each other when the shooting stopped, while Robert Schaffner stood with his clothes aflame from a shot fired at close range.

The trouble arose over an argument several months previous, it was stated, which started at a political speaking held at Cat Springs out of discussion between Schaffner and a woman companion of Bell over use of the German language in speeches.

Marks Knife Wounds.

George Hackbarth of Sealy testified concerning alleged threats following the picnic argument. Louis Rooster, another eye-witness, marked on District Attorney Dan Moody's back the points where he saw knife wounds inflicted on the body of F. C. Schaffner, who was killed in the fight.

Sheriff A. J. Remmert, of Austin county, produced two long bladed knives, one picked up on the street where the battle occurred and the other taken from the body of one of the persons in the fray. Sheriff Remmert testified that Foster Bell had asked him "if he could return" Bell's knife. He said Bell did not point out either of the two knives. Justice of the Peace T. E. Castrop, who conducted the coroner's inquest following the shooting, testified to having taken a knife from Luther Bell's pocket.

Testimony will be resumed at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Cook stated that he was in Smackover when he heard of the result of the federal probe in the oil promotion business and that he hurried to Fort Worth to surrender and make bond.

Warrants have been sworn out by United States District Attorney Henry Zweifel for the arrest of oil men, all being charged with similar offense. Six arrests remain to be made.

MRS. WHITE IS FOUND INSANE

Woman Holds Property In Wichita Falls And Guardian Named

Special Dispatch to Record News

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 3.—Mrs. Goldie White, who shot and killed C. F. Myers on a street here last Wednesday, was adjudged to be of unsound mind by six jurors in county court here today and N. A. Dodge, a Fort Worth attorney, was appointed guardian of her estate. She is reported to have property valued at $4,500 in Wichita Falls.

No Murder Charge

The findings of the jury will prevent the filing of a murder charge, it is said, and the woman will be placed in an asylum for the insane. Control of her Wichita Falls holdings will be administered by Mr. Dodge, who was named by Judge Emmett Moor to look after the woman's affairs.

Filed By Sister

The lunacy complaint was filed by Mrs. Bertha Wise of Tulsa, Okla., a sister of Mrs. White. The latter vigorously opposed the contention that she was not sane and at one point in the trial asked a doctor if he did not think it strange that her sister should come here, remain one day, sign the insanity papers and then leave without offering to assist her in other matters.

It was brought out that Myers, before he died, stated that he did not know the woman. Mrs. White admitted that she did not know Myers' name, but that he had "annoyed" her by "sneering" at her.

Present Police Force From Chief Down to Jailer to Go---Young

New Commissioner Has Not Determined Who He will Pick to Head Department, He Says

A "thorough house-cleaning at the city hall" was promised Tuesday night by J. T. Young when it was assured that he had been elected police commissioner.

In a statement to The Record News, Mr. Young declared it his intention to "wipe the slate clean from the chief of police down to the jailer," and he said that "the night I am sworn in you can come down and watch the old bunch roll out."

No Personal Animosity.

He made it clear that he had no personal animosities, but that he believed a thorough change in the police department would be a good thing for the city. On the matter of a chief of police, Mr. Young declared that thus far he had no idea as to who the man would be.

"I concluded that there would be plenty of time to appoint a new chief after I was elected," Mr. Young said, "and I really haven't given the matter serious consideration as yet.

"One thing I will say, though, and that is that I am going to employ the best man I can find and let him be a chief. I shall make no effort to attend to all the details of the department work, but shall expect the man whom I appoint to deliver the goods and give the city the kind of police service it is entitled to."

Mr. Young took occasion to express his thanks to his friends and supporters and requested The Record News to thank those who supported him.

"I do not consider it a personal victory, but rather one of the people," he declared.

Mr. Patton, when asked for a statement on his election, stated that he was profoundly grateful to his friends for the manner in which they had supported him and promised that he would give the best and most efficient service that it was in his power to give.

"I don't know what to say," Mr. Patton declared, "except that I thank my friends from the bottom of my heart and pledge the best that is in me to them."

Fitts' Statement.

J. B. Fitts, defeated candidate for police commissioner, had nothing to add to his early statement conceding his defeat. At that time he predicted a victory for Mr. Young and pledged his support to the new administration.

"I have enforced the law and carried out my campaign promises to the best of my ability," Mr. Fitts said, and then continuing, "I have no apologies to make and am willing to accept the will of the majority."

Moore, tax collector and assessor, were re-elected by similar majorities.

NON-PARTISANS WIN

AMARILLO, Texas, April 3.—The non-partisan ticket has won a sweeping victory in the city municipal elections here today, first returns indicate. Of the first 1,500 votes tabulated, Jeff Capehart, non-partisan candidate for mayor, had a majority of 165 votes over his two opponents.

Ex-Texas Cowboy Too Busy To Get Bravery Award

Associated Press Dispatch

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3.—Mayor Frank Cromwell was there, and Police Commissioner Oppenstein, Chief of Police Vassar and a few others to bestow upon George B. McConkey, grocer and former Texas cowboy, a gold medal "awarded by the Metropolitan police department, Kansas City, Mo., for meritorious service" in the killing of two bandits. But the object of the bestowal was missing.

E. L. Wynn, police board secretary, called on the telephone for McConkey.

"I havent' time to come to police headquarters," the grocer answered.

"But it is a gold medal, and the mayor and the chief and the commissioner wish to meet you," Wynn reasoned.

"Can't help that; I can't shut up the store."

A motocycle patrolman carried the medal to McConkey.

YOUNG GOES IN BY LANDSLIDE OVER J. B. FITTS

Close Election Expected But All Dope Is Radically Upset

HEAVY VOTE IS CAST

Patton Wins By 138 Majority Over Next Man

Running with more strength than even his friends had predicted, J. T. Young vaulted into the office of police and fire commissioner of Wichita Falls with a majority of 820 votes over J. B. Fitts, incumbent commissioner, who was asking for a second term. Young received 2,253 votes to 1,433 for Fitts.

In the other contest of the day, J. H. Patton showed surprising strength and was elected to the position of park and sanitary commissioner with a total vote of 820. Max Shumate ran second in the field of eight candidates, polling 682 votes or 138 less than the victor.

Record Heavy Vote

R. E. Shepherd, with no opponent for the position of finance commissioner, went back to the post automatically.

The election brought out the heaviest vote ever cast in a municipal election in Wichita Falls, according to city officials. A total of 3,786 votes were cast, 2,786 at the courthouse and 889 at city hall. This exceeded by several hundred the maximum predictions made prior to Tuesday. It was anticipated that 3,500 votes would cover the balloting.

Two to One at City Hall.

An analysis of the voting showed that Mr. Young carried the city hall by approximately a two to one vote. His margin was cut down considerably at the court house, he having a majority of 504 votes at that box.

O. B. Kelly, the third man in the police commissioner race, polled a combined total of 56 votes, 36 at the court house and 20 at the city hall.

It was generally expected that the race between Mr. Young and Mr. Fitts would be close and the miniature landslide for the former came as a complete surprise. A few veteran politicians conceded Mr. Young the victory prior to the election, but even these were not prepared for the decisive manner in which the election was settled. That Mr. Young would be returned winner seemed to be apparent early in the

PRIEST PUT TO DEATH BY FIRING SQUAD, A. P. DISPATCH SAYS; ANOTHER REPORT DENIES IT

Associated Press Dispatch

LONDON, April 3.—A dispatch to The Times from Riga dated Tuesday, says "The soviet government denies that Vicar General Butchkavitch has been shot. It says the execution has been suspended."

MOSCOW, April 3. — Monsignor Butchkavitch, vicar general of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, condemned to death for wilfully opposing the soviet government, has been executed by a firing squad.

Vicar General Butchkavitch was found guilty and executed as a violator of article 62 of the criminal code, which provides the death penalty or imprisonment for "participation in any organization which is acting with the purpose of exciting the population to mass agitation, nonpayment of taxes, unfulfillment of its duties, or by any other means clearly detrimental to the dictatorship of the working class and the proletarian revolution, although an armed rising or an armed invasion is not the enter aim of that organization."

Only two papers, the official Izvestia and Pravda, carried the laconic announcement of the execution, that printed in the Pravda reading: "On March 31 was brought into effect the death sentence on the priest, Butchkavitch, condemned in the case of the Catholic counter revolutionists."

The paragraph in Izvestia read: "The sentence of the supreme court of the republic with regard to Butchkavitch, who was condemned to be shot and whose reprieve, which had been requested, was disregarded by the central executive committee has been carried out."

Texhoma Well in Archer in Field Extension, Swabs 135 Barrels

250 BARRELS DAILY EXPECTED

Fears of Water Are Dispelled In New Oil Test

Texhoma Refining company's G No. 1, which was drilled in offsetting Cetti No. 1, Ferguson, in Archer county, last week, was put under test yesterday showing better than 135 barrels in 12 hours, a test which insures a production of at least 250 barrels daily, from reports of the well.

Although it was feared that water might be encountered in the new well, as in Cetti No. 1, which came in half oil and half water, none has been met with, and the well has proved a producer that should extend the active field three-quarters of a mile southeast.

He's Backed Many Wells, But Sees First Come In

E. M. Fouch, who is associated with C. A. Parker, of this city, in oil operations, and whose name is attached to a large bit of property and leases, saw his first oil well yesterday when the E. M. Fouch well No. 5, drilled by Fouch and Parker, was brought in on section 12, Grace Jennings lease, Electra pool.

Mr. Fouch is a manufacturer of Portland, Oregon, and has invested heavily here, through local companies.

No. 5 was brought in at 818 feet and passed through the sand at 828. It is bailing better than 20 barrels daily, and shows up well. The well is 14 feet north of No. 4, which was lost two weeks ago when a bailer was dropped in the hole. The rig is being skidded 40 feet south where No. 6 will be drilled.

YOUNG GOES—

evening, however, this being attested to by the fact that at 7:35 o'clock Mr. Fitts issued a statement conceding his defeat.

Patton Shows Strength.

In the park commissioners race, few advance predictions were made and this turned out to be a wise policy. It was expected that Mr. Patton would be in the forefront and his success was not unexpected. Max Shumake, second high man, polled a total of 682 votes, 238 less than Mr. Patton. R. L. Yates ran third, finishing close on the heels of Mr. Shumake with 670 votes to his credit. Julian Montgomery finished fourth, 637 votes being cast for him, and E. S. Whitelaw was next in line with 544.

F. P. Bransford with 116 and J. R. E. Richardson with 113, brought up the rear. J. C. Kuehn, whose name did not appear on the ballot, but who asked his friends to write him in, was given 47 votes.

Voting started with a rush when the polls opened at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and from that hour until the doors were closed at 7 in the evening, a solid line of voters formed outside the booths. A number of protests were made against the provision of only two boxes.

Four units of high pressure stills will be installed, for working fuel oil and gasoline. The new plant will have a capacity of more than 2,000 barrels daily and will make the Texhoma refinery the largest producer of high grade gasoline in Wichita Falls. The plant is being built with license under Dubbs patents, of the Universal Products company of Chicago. Construction is being pushed, with excavation already under way, and it is planned to have the plant working full blast by August 1.

McCormick to Resign At Next Meeting Of Council; Thanks His Friends Here

Announcement that he would tender his resignation to the city council at its next meeting, was made Tuesday night by Chief of Police J. W. McCormick, when it became apparent that J. B. Fitts, police commissioner, was certain to be defeated.

"It is only to be expected that Mr. Young would appoint a man of his own choosing," the chief declared, "and I leave the office with no feelings of animosity and with best wishes for the success of the new officers. I have enforced the laws of the state to the best of my ability and am not ashamed of my record while serving as chief of police."

Thanks His Friends.

Chief McCormick then requested that The Record News thank his friends who had stood by him during his tenure of office and declared that he had worked in perfect harmony throughout his term, not only with his own men, but with the public in general. The chief also spoke warmly of "his boys" and expressed intense gratification at the loyalty they had shown while under his direction.

"Just say," he concluded, "that I thank the people of Wichita Falls for the courtesies they have shown me and that I am glad of the opportunity I have had to be of service."

Was Popular Officer.

McCormick has been one of the most popular police department executives the city has ever had and his resignation will be marked with real regret by those who have been associated with him. Chief McCormick assumed direction of the police department several months after Mr. Fitts took the reins of office and prior to that time was connected with the state ranger force.

He has not announced his plans for the future.

HONOR BADGES TO BE GIVEN

General Scout Meeting Will Be Held Friday Night

A general meeting of all Boy Scout troops of the city will be held at the First Presbyterian church Friday evening at 8 o'clock when the court of honor will award all badges earned by the scouts in different phases of scout work, according to Chester Powell, scout executive.

Scouts who are entitled to badges are urged to be present. It will be determined at the meeting how many of the scouts desire to join the Scout band and the bugle and drum corps now being organized.

Troop No. 2 of the First Baptist church will be organized Friday night and the scout executive requests former members of this troop and boys wishing to join to meet in the basement of the church, Ninth and Burnett at 7 p. m. in order that preliminaries may be arranged in time to attend the general meeting at 8 o'clock.

Troop No. 10 of the Central Presbyterian church will also be reorganized, according to Mr. Powell. He requests the former members of this troop and all boys desiring to join said troop to meet at the Central Presbyterian church promptly at 7 p. m.

When the band was organized last year certain members of the organization signed agreements to use certain instruments in the band and that same would be returned upon proper notice. Mr. Powell said the executive committee has requested the return of all instruments belonging to the scout band and that they will be re-issued when the band is properly organized.

Excitement at South Bend As Gusher Is Hit

Special Dispatch to Record News

SOUTH BEND, April 3.—Excitement reigned here today when the Travers Lewis well on South Main street, which has been a small producer for several months, broke into a gusher, throwing a stream of oil over the top of the derrick. The run lasted eight minutes, the wind carrying the oil some distance from the well. The well stands at 2,154 feet, and is a continual producer.

Boys Defeat Girls In Debate Here

Joe Bashara and Donald Hallman, high school boys' debating team, defeated Misses Marjorie Woolsey and Stella Winters, high school girls' debating team, last night in a practice debate in the high school auditorium, one that will be used at the state. The question debated on is the same meet and the teams drew for sides a few minutes preceding the debate. The question, "Resolved, That an amendment to the Texas state constitution should be adopted providing for a three-mill tax for the support of the state higher educational institutions; and all supplementary appropriations by the legislature should be abolished." The girls gave the boys a strong debate and the final decision of the judges was only 2 to 1 in favor of the boys.

Miss Juanita Kinsey, supervisor of the teams, plans to give the debaters as much practice as possible, and arrangements are now pending for a three-man debate with Enid, Okla.

WATER DEAL IS ENDORSED

Technical Club Puts O. K. tract

Endorsement of the irrigation contract now drafted between water improvements 1 and 2 was given by the Wichita Falls Technical club Tuesday night following a discussion of the document as presented by C. H. Clark, president of district 2. The contract, which was published practically in its entirety in Sunday's edition of The Record News, is that under which district 1 is to furnish water rights to district 2 for purposes of irrigation.

Mr. Clark brought the matter up and led the discussion of the various points. He stated at the opening of the meeting that he would welcome constructive criticism of the document and said that he wished to find what public sentiment on the matter was.

It was pointed out that circumstances here made it extremely difficult to draft a contract that would be absolutely fair and equitable to both districts. The size of the two districts and various technical features made the drafting of such a contract a delicate affair, it was said, but the president and the club as a whole agree that the contract as now drafted was very fair to both districts.

The club, after a lengthy consideration, went on record as endorsing the contract and commended Mr. Clark highly for the work he had put in in the matter.

A paper on land survey systems of Texas, which was to have been presented by John A. Donald, was deferred until next meeting because of lack of time. A number of delightful piano solos by Miss Mary Summers opened the program.

Miss Kathleen Blair Former Wichita Falls Girl Weds in Dallas

A wedding of interest to Wichita Falls' friends of Miss Kathleen Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Blair, formerly of this city, now living in Dallas, was her marriage Monday evening to Joseph Roman Pelich of Fort Worth. The ceremony was read at the home of the bride's parents on Ross Avenue by the Right Rev. Harry T. Moore, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Dallas, at 8:30 p. m.

The groomsmen, including Wiley Blair, Jr. and James Grant Blair, Arthur Simpson and Lee Radcliff of Ford Worth, Marion Knight and Edwin Foster Blair, entered first. They were followed by the bride's attendants, Miss Alice Pelich of Cleveland, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Lucile Hughes, Mrs. Alfred Booth of Chicago, Miss Adele Volk, Mrs. Burton Stayton of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Wiley Blair Jr., Mrs. Thomas A. Knight and Miss Anne Coke. Mrs. Josephine Blair Hughes, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a gown of orchid chiffon beaded with rose crystals and cut steel beads, with flowing sleeves, uneven skirt length and beaded sash girdle. She carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses and sweet peas.

Little Miss Herbert Mildred Hughes was flower girl. Master Wiley Blair III, wearing a white satin suit, carried the ring in the heart of a lily. The bridegroom was attended by Kenneth Reid of Fort Worth as best man, and the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Wiley Blair, wore a handsome white satin gown embroidered with tiny pearls in designs of roses and lilies of the valley. It was made in bouffant fashion with long white satin train falling from the shoulders, which was edged with pearl embroidery and embroidered near the end heavily in the rose and lily design. Her veil of tulle fell from a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelich left after the ceremony for a wedding trip to California. They will be at home after May 1 at 139 Belle avenue, Fort Worth.

A large number of friends of the bridegrom from Fort Worth attended the wedding and among other out-of-town guests were Mrs. M. E. Blair, grandmother of the bride, from Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Lysaght and son, Edward, of Fort Worth; Mrs. Frank Bailey of Paris and Mrs. Burton Stayton, Mrs. Irene Foster and J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Alfred Booth of Chicago.

Mrs. Pelich, who spent her childhood in this city, and has many intimate friends here, was the house guest of Mrs. Burton Stayton and other friends about a month ago, and was tre recipient of many social courtesies while here.

ALBERTO SALVI TO APPEAR HERE MONDAY.

What promises to be a real treat in local musical circles will be the concert here on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Palace theater, when Alberto Salvi, the world's greatest harpist, appears in concert under the auspices of the Musicians and University clubs.

Mr. Salvi is a young virtuoso, not yet in his thirties, but his record of achievements is astounding, according to advance press notices. His phenomenal harp-playing has been the sensation in musical circles of two continents. When a mere child he played for the Italian court, and since then has amazed the concert audiences of both Europe and of America.

Perhaps never has an artist proven a greater revelation to his audiences than has Alberto Salvi. He has revolutionized harp-playing, and produces effects and accomplishes a power and brilliancy hitherto considered absolutely impossible. So astounding have been these revelations that he has come by the name "The Wizard of the Harp."

Mrs. F. R. Collard is general chairman for the arrangements for the concert, and she is assisted by Mrs. John W. King, vice chairman, and Mrs. Jerry Schaefer, chairman of tickets sales. School children will be given a special rate for this concert, according to Mrs. Collard.

Nerve Shocks Cause Gas

Any form of excitement that shocks the delicate nerves of the stomach will disturb the function of that organ and produce gas. Anger, fright, grief and worry, all have an evil effect upon the digestive system, hence, for want of a better term, doctors call this condition "nervous dyspepsia."

Baalmann's Gas Tablets are made especially for the relief of gas and stomach distress. They act in a safe, natural way upon the weak stomach nerves and glands, gradually helping to restore their normal strength and activity. When this is done you will no longer suffer from gas pains around the heart, palpitation, smothering spells, rumbling noises, bloating, burning, sour taste or drowsiness after eating.

What Today Means To You

If today is your birthday your interests will be largely in the direction of science. You have both curiosity and the patience of the true scientist, who delves into the unknown and the unseen. Your enthusiasm for studying, analyzing all problems, is as flexible as it is thorough, and it makes no difference what the subject is, just so long as you can treat is as a serious question which demands weighty thought.

You are of such a nature, however, that you will be inclined to overdo or to undertake more than is practical.

A child born today will be quick in temper, and difficult to manage.

You are naturally of a religious turn of mind and you have the rare qualities of moral idealism, on broad humanitarian lines. You are interested in the ethical problems of modern society and given to explaining them when the chance offers. You always have a liberal spirit of charity and kindness. There is no bigotry in your nature.

You are fated to have many affairs of the heart and they will be just as serious as they are numerous, between the ages of 25 and 29, you should have a beautiful romance. Relationships of the heart are more successful for you with people born under the sign of Libra, Sept. 22 to Oct. 22. This sign is one of the best for you, together with your own, Aries, March 21 to April 20.

Your mind is vigorous and imaginative and of a philosophic cast. There is almost nothing which escapes your notice. There is neither thing nor thought that you fear to contempla te and there is no question of abstract ethics that you cannot solve.

You are gifted with a certain artistic ability which you will probably never develop beyond the mere stage of technical perfection unless you exert the gift of emotional expression.

E. H. Gipson Talks To Civic League Members On School Question at Kemp

About 200 women attended the annual luncheon given by the Civic league at the Kemp hotel Tuesday, when the feature of the affair was a talk by E. H. Gipson, representative from Wichita county to the state legislature.

In an interesting talk, Mr. Gipson told the women that they will have to solve the school question on the educational survey bill passed by the Thirty-eighth legislature, of which he was a member. He said in part: "The men are not going to bother with this school business, they'll pay, but you women will have to work it out. It is you women who are most interested in this school matter. When I went down to the Thirty-eighth legislature, I had already made up my mind to oppose the educational survey, for a number of reasons, but the women of the committee which presented the bill and put it through, convinced me. It wasn't the men. The men didn't worry about it, so you can see where the average man stands on the question." Mr. Gipson's talk was both instructive and entertaining and was received with hearty applause.

Brief reports were given by chairmen of the various departments. Mrs. H. S. Crawford gave the report of the open air market; Mrs. J. E. Sharpe gave a report of the work of the public affairs department and an outline of the proposed work; Mrs. T. B. Smock, chairman of the extension department, told of the extension service of the league and the good work being done by the branch leagues. Mrs. J. M. Isbell reported on the work being done by the sanitary department and Mrs. Bert Bean told of the plans of the City Beautiful department. Mrs. Fred Barron, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave an interesting talk on the purposes of the department, explaining that it is established not only for the benefit of the Central league, but for the assistance of the branch leagues in getting up programs and entertainments. Mrs. T. R. Branson, chairman of the Citizenship department, concluded the reports with an outline of the Citizenship Study class and what it is offering the women of the city and neighboring cities.

During the luncheon, the Women's Choral club entertained with a beautiful number directed by Mrs. Louella B. Thompson, and Miss Vivian Railey gave a violin solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. S. Goodner.

Rain Needed

Although rain threatened to fall all day Tuesday, only a small shower fell about noon and this was very light, not being enough to lay the dust. Farmers all over this section of the country report that a heavy rain is needed by the wheat as very little rain has fallen in several weeks. Clouds continued to hang over the city throughout the day and late evening with prospects of a general rain in the next 24 hours.

SCHOOLS INSPECTED

Mrs. Ella Little of the state department of education, rural school divisions, arrived in Wichita Falls Tuesday afternoon to inspect a number of rural schools in this county which have applied for state aid.

REAPERS IN EVIDENCE.

Radicalism, as it is understood in the United States, is becoming all-powerful in England. There is a labor political bloc over there which is drawing to its standards what is known as the middle class, small tradespeople, the white-collar contingency—in fact, all the little peoples who work for a wage. This is the grievance, as stated by Phillip Snowden, one of the leaders of the labor party in the house of commons: Eighty per cent of England's wealth is owned by two and one-half per cent of the population, and five out of every six men in England die penniless. These are the demands of the British labor party: land nationalization, a tax on capital, and nationalization of mines and railroads. Lloyd George sowed the seeds in the long ago. Now the reapers are coming in.

SOUNDING THE TOCSIN.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama sailed away the other day for a tour of the countries of Europe and a visit of the leading capitals of the continent. Senator Underwood is an avowed candidate for the democratic presidential nomination in 1924.

He was an avowed candidate in 1912, but did not make a strenuous effort to win the prize. He is the favorite son of Alabama, and just before adjournment, the legislature of that state endorsed him as the choice of Alabama democrats for president of the United States.

Joseph Weldon Bailey of Texas served in the senate with the gentleman from Alabama. In 1012 Mr. Bailey advised the democrats of Texas to support Champ Clark of Missouri or Oscar W. Underwood in the democratic primaries of that year. Clark had no organization in Texas; Underwood had no organization.

Woodrow Wilson had a superb organization, and the state machine was behind his candidacy. Clark did not get a look-in; Underwood and his cause did not create a ripple on the political surface. Wilson captured the delegation to the Baltimore convention, and that convention made the New Jersey governor the standard-bearer of the democratic party.

Fourteen years have come and gone, and the republicans are in power. There is a war debt of twenty-three billion dollars. Woodrow Wilson is a broken casualty of that war. Now the question of taxation is the burning issue uppermost, and will be for years to come.

Joseph Weldon Bailey is on the firing line again. He is still a young man. He is not a candidate for any office. He says he reserves the right to speak his mind freely when it comes to party issues and party leaders.

He was one of the speakers invited to address the annual convention of the Southern Pine association in the city of New Orleans. Regardless of what men may say of Joseph Weldon Bailey, he never evades, and he never sidesteps. This is what he said to the Southern lumbermen:

"Taxation is rapidly approaching confiscation in the United States. If I had one million dollars and died tonight, the taxes would eat up about nine hundred thousand dollars, and my family would get the residue. This acts as a discouragement to thrift and ambition. Every nation which has excessively taxed its industry has been the sufferer in the long run. I know it has been the policy of businessmen not to tackle government until the government tackled them, but I believe in this instance they should assert themselves. I believe that if the republicans nominate Harding again, and the democrats choose Oscar W. Underwood as their standard-bearer, business and industry of this country need not worry that they will be burdened by any additional taxes."

Joseph Weldon Bailey deplores what he terms "excessive taxation." How will it be possible to pay a war debt of twenty-three billion dollars without resorting to "excessive taxation?"

John D. Rockefellow Jr. has invested one million five hundred thousand in tapestries. There is money in oil.

UNCOMMON SENSE

TALKING POINTS.

Sit about the office of a sales-manager, and you will hear a great deal about talking points.

These are the verbal weapons with which the salesman is armed when he goes forth to battle with his competitors.

Some of them are highly effective. Some are mere duds. Upon the number and quality of them depends very largely the success of the salesman. And on the success of the salesman, of course, depends the success of the concern for which he works.

You will learn, if you listen to one of these instructive conversations, that the talking point is always based on the quality and the usefulness of the goods to be sold. The better the goods, the more and the stronger the talking points.

The concern which is perfectly sure that it makes the best possible article in its particular line has no trouble in loading up the salesman with all the points he can possibly use.

The firm which is not quite so sure of this also supplies talking points, but they are not the persuasive kind.

If an individual will regard himself as a sort of combination firm and salesman, he will be in a position to use talking points, and to learn how to make them effective.

Even the streetsweeper needs a talking point to get himself a job. Sometimes it is a convincing insistence on his industry. Oftener, unfortunately, it is some sort of proof of his political pull. But invariably he has to do a little talking to get him placed, and the better the talk, the surer the place.

A man or woman who is looking for something in which a little more progress is possible must also have talking points.

The more important the position desired, the more effective must these be.

And the way to make them effective is for the talker to believe absolutely and thoroughly in himself, not because conceit makes him think he can do something he has never tried to do, but experience has convinced him he can do something he has succeeded in doing.

All good talking points, as we have said, are founded on the value of the goods. If you know that your goods are first-class, you can talk about them in a way to inspire confidence. If you have any doubts, be assured that those doubts will be contagious!

Know what you have to sell before you try to sell it. Then, if you are sure that its purchase will benefit the purchaser, talk as much and as fast as you like. That kind of words represents value, and they will never be regarded as idle.

WILBARGER PAVING

It is not so much a question of the cost of paved roads, but the matter of quality is always a serious problem. Many counties in the state have spent large sums on paved roads which went to pieces within a short time on account of inferior quality.

NEW HOTEL FOR DENISON

It has been a long, hard pull, but a real and substantial start has been made toward securing for Denison a new hotel that will meet its immediate and pressing necessities. When the contract between Messrs. AND THEN HIS EARLY HOME SURROUNDINGS WERE NEVER WHAT ONE MIGHT CALL HELPFUL

AS A RESULT HE HAS DEVELOPED A RATHER TIMID DISPOSITION

Jerry marries Phil and Joy returns to Boston where she calls up Jim.

With Jim, Joy felt an embracing peace, the peace of decision in which he always enveloped her. "Jim," she said suddenly, "what have I ever done—or been, except a foolish girl—that you should be so good to me? At the very first, you did—more than I can ever repay—and then you went on—always helping me, in ways that really were help—and understanding so well—sometimes better than I understand myself?"

Jim loked at her across the table, and the keen friendliness dropped from his eyes, all at once, leaving them naked. His voice was quiet, with a new current bearing it along.

"I think you ought to know, Joy—that I love you more than anyone else in this world. You—you mean life to me."

There was no wild heart-beat trembling in her being as she heard his words, nothing but peace and a great content. "Oh, Jim!" she said in a little voice, then waited for his eyes to meet hers * * * It had not come within the halo of dreams nor in the area of the disturbing thrills of youth—it came in a golden calm.

Jim was the Perfect Knight with spotless shield and shining armor.

The shield was his spotless life, making him more than worthy of her; the ormor was the white strength of his soul and his body with which he had defended her at all times, since the very first.

Then weirdly, unaccountably across the even rhapsody of her meditation came a voice from the chapels of memory:

"Remember always, little one, we who sing are not content with hearth-fires."

"Jim—I'm so sorry——" she cried.

"Please don't let anything I've said worry you, Joy. And—we still are friends—aren't we?"

"Oh, yes, Jim!" she cried, and then fell silent, ashamed.

"This world would indeed be an empty place for me—if anything should happen to that friendship."

"Oh, dear! What if it should rain? Can you imagine anything worse than organdy in the rain? And yet if it doesn't rain, can you imagine anything worse than to have on dark silk, at Harvard Class day, with everyone else in organdy?"

Thus Felicia, flattening her imperial nose against the window pane, a scowl menacing her untrodden brow, as the few clouds in the skies were menacing the calm of the June day.

Joy had been living with Felicie and her aunt throughout the spring.

"If everyone usually wears organdy, why not chance it? They'll all be in the same boat if it rains."

This from Joy, as she combed her hair preparatory to donning organdy herself. Hal Jennings, the Harvard-ite who was taking Felicie to class day, had given her two tickets for the stadium exercises and his club spread, and Joy had accepted Felicie's invitation to share the tickets.

So they were duly arrayed in filmy pink and blue, and rode in a taxi as nearby as they could get to the stadium.

The little clouds that had threatened like a bab's playful fist in the sapphire laughter of the sky, were now striking blows of grey menace into the blue.

"Didn't I know it would rain!" Felicie wailed. "Just look at that sky. Why do they have the stadium exercises out-doors?"

Later they met Hal Jennings at his hall, and joined his family board outdoors around a long table sandwiched in with many others beneath an awning.

When Joy was able to beat a retreat politely, Felicie and Hal came to the gate with her, and stood waving after her as she drove away in a cab. Never had Felicie's loveliness been so breath-taking.

Little dark rings of hair clung around her face, the damp air curling them into tendrils no permanent wave could duplicate; her lips were parted in the smile with which she could dazzle without bringing a wrinkle or cross line into the pink and white perfection of her skin.

It seemed almost incredible that such wonder of nature could have so squandered itself on one girl. * * *

Wearied by the events of the day, Joy went early to bed after giving Madame Durant a sketch of the main events of the rain. Sleep came reluctantly. The call of the telephone bell, a long shriek in the black space of the night, awakened her. Still half dazed, she stumbled to the door and into the hall.

"Oh, Miss Nelson—this is Hal Jennings speaking. I'm at the River Hill hospital—we've had a—bad accident."

"Felicie—what of Felicie!" she cried into the mouthpiece.

Nelson. We—we just brought her here.

"She—she's horribly hurt, Miss Nelson. We—we just brought her here. I ordered a taxi sent down for you—it'll be there any time now."

She put down the receiver, dashed back to her room, and hurled herself into her clothes.

She mustn't lose her head—no matter what happened. She mustn't wake Madame Durant—when she saw the doctors, she would know what to tell her, how best to soften the shock. She must notify Greg, and sent the message: "Felicie injured in accident, is at River Hill hospital. Come at once. Joy Nelson." She glanced at her watch. Three o'clock in the morning, and the taxi was waiting outside!

It was a ghostly place, a hospital at that hour of the morning. A nurse dozed at the switchboard in the hall. The lights were subdued. Silence was terrible.

"Why—we left the dance." Hal told his story. "Felicie was bored, and I'd had enough of it—if we only had stayed! We started back about 12:30. Coming back, we were both full of pep, and I put on every bit of speed there was, and we came along as fast as the car could go. All at once the steering gear broke—and the car went into the ditch head foremost—and the glass was all smashed."

"Glass!" cried Joy, "was in her face—"

A step in the halls, and a young man in white linen came to the door.

"Dr. Dexter!" said Hal. "Felicie—is she—how is she?"

"Felicie's all right,' he said, and smiled meaninglessly at them. "Not a bone broken, although she is bruised and shaken and pretty badly cut. We've been taking some stitches—beautiful work—"

"But her—her face," cried Joy, "was her face cut? Tell us—"

"Her face—yes. It was cut rather badly. But it's been sewed up now, and with some novacain she will have an easy night."

"But will she—will the cuts heal? Cuts do heal, don't they?" Joy implored.

"Oh certainly cuts heal. Of course, there'll be a nasty scar pretty much over the whole of her face—"

She blinked her eyes at the white-coated doctor who could say such unthinkable things with brisk, unchanged readiness. "Felicie's face was scarred. She was—she was the loveliest thing you ever saw. The loveliest thing you ever saw."

"I would suggest," said the doctor, "that you both go home and get a little sleep. Everything will be better in the morning. Perhaps you can even see her then."

"See her!" Hal Jennings echoed.

Joy looked at his face. Pity, of course—but strongest, the recoil of horror.

Later, she could not force her troubled brain to sleep. Felicie of the unforgettable loveliness—with her face puckered into scars—how would a love that had been sorely tried already receive this hideousness?

She poured a concise account of the accident into Madame Durant's earns, minimizing it to such an extent that the aunt demanded why they hadn't brought Felicie straight home.

"Her cuts are too many," Joy explained, "but the important thing is there are no bones broken, no serious injuries."

In the afternoon they let Joy see the patient.

A long, white bed, with a long, white figure, the white coverlet lapping itself around the gracious lines—a mass of bandages, from which Felicie's perfect lips escaped, unharmed. Felicie's brown velvet eyes peering oddly from recesses in the bandaging. "Joy"—said the lops, and her voice carried high lights and scarcely dimmed by pain—"you are a darling."

As the nurse vanished, "Joy—you'll tell me, won't you? My face—what's going to come of it? It's so cut—and no one will tell me—how it's going to look."

"How can anyone know so soon?" said Joy, with taut lips.

"Joy—I know. My face—Oh, I can feel there isn't even much of it left. I might just as well be dead. No man could stand a face all gashed and sewed—"

"You don't know it's going to be all—"

"Oh, yes—I do . . . And I passed Greg up—and now it's too late."

It was at that awful moment while Joy racked her bursting brain for what to say that a knock came at the door.

"Don't let them in. It's another nurse, or something."

But the knock was repeated, and the door flung open. It was Greg.

"They told me—Felicie!" and he crossed to the bed, his eyes traveling over Joy as if she were the little rug on the floor. "Felicie, my darling—thank God, you're here!"

"Greg!" the perfect tips articulated. "Greg—how did you come here?—Go away!"

"Go away! When I've done nothing else but aim for your side since I've heard . . . How are you feeling, dear? They told me downstairs that you would be quite all right in a short time—"

"You don't understand, Greg—my face is cut to pieces. I shall never be beautiful again. I can say I was, now, because I'm—not—any more. I'll be ugly—horrible—do you hear? Now go away! I never—never want to see you again!"

For one minute of heart's horror Greg stood silent above the bed. Over by the door Joy watched, breath caught in midair, as the boy suddenly went on his knees beside the bed and fell to stroking her prodigal hair.

"Why—sweetheart!" he said, in a crooning voice—almost like that of a mother soothing a Bogey-terrified child—"what do you think a few little cuts on the face amount to? You couldn't be anything but beautiful if you—tried! Your hair—it's the most wonderful hair in the world! Your form—that in itself would make a beauty out of most girls! Your eyes, Felicie—and your—lips!"

And his head bowed, he kissed the lips.

And so Joy made her discovery. A man does not love a girl for what is in her. He loves her for and with what is in him. What could be greater honor than to have the love of a man such as he?

At home, as it neared the time for her lesson, Joy gathered up her music from the little upright, with loving hands. All passes; Art alone endures.

Then suddenly Joy cried: "No—No!" in such a rending voice that some faint echo penetrated even to Madame Durant, who made her way into the livingroom in time to see Joy throw her music violently from her. It scattered over the room, in a chaos of sheets, a wilderness of notes.

Another installment tomorrow.

More Truth Than Poetry

TRANSITORY HAPPINESS

The wolf that tarried at my door
And smiled a hopeful smile
Will not disturb me any more—
At least for quite a while.
With this anxiety allayed
I'm happy and serene,
For now my income tax is paid
Till June fifteen.

What now to me are April showers
Or April's lowering sky
I'm dreaming of the lovely flowers
I'll gather by and by;
The balmy breeze of kindly May
Will whisper at my door:
For me existence will be gay
For three months more.

I'll play the golf that I require
To keep my muscles fit—
About the cost of caddy hire
I shall not fret a whit.
The gladdest, happiest of men
Till June I'll go may ways,
The wolf will not be back again
For fifteen days.

And then alas! he'll reappear
Those next two weeks will be
A season dark, and grim, and drear,
And fraught with woe for me.
Upon the porch he'll perch again,
His hungry eyes aglow,
And how to face or dodge him then
I do not know.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Questions of Mrs. J. K. S., Burkburnett

Your letter is so written that it is hard to put it in the form of one or two questions so we will just answer it in a general way.

We cannot advise you where to buy land under the project. There are many factors which enter into the purchase of an irrigated farm. The fact that you intend to invest your life savings should make you very careful. Look around thoroughly before you buy and then remember that you must have money enough left after making the first payment on your place, to put buildings on it and to get it into cultivation.

As to whether the canals will have water in them the year around, it is impossible to say; it would be a matter that will have to be determined by the board of directors then in charge of the project.

It is hard to say whether the water in the canals will be fit to drink at all times. Probably for the first year or so the water will be pure enough for drinking purposes, but after the land is settled up the water may become poluted.

The writer of these articles lives in Wichita Falls and you can find him any time through The Record News office. He is not in any way connected with the irrigation project and never has been.

Does Water, When It Is Changed Into Steam, Weigh Anything?

Steam has weight. Steam is water vapor, and so are the clouds and fogs.

The clouds are masses of steam or water vapor that do not weigh as much as the air at the surface of the earth. A fog is a mass of steam or water vapor that weighs more than the air at the surface of the earth.

Spudders Play Sioux City at Duncan Today

SALM'S CHARGES WILL MATCH STRENGTH AGAINST ANOTHER ENTRY FROM WESTERN LEAGUE

Spudders Appear to Have the Drop On Rivals —Most of the Squad to Make Trip.

By "DINK" ADDINGTON

Manager Walter Salm and his crew of Wichita apple knockers will board the rattler this morning for Duncan, Okla., where they will open a two-day stand this afternoon with the Sioux City club of the Western league. The Spudders will return Thursday night or Friday morning to prepare for the invasion of the Chicago Cubs who open here Saturday.

The Soos will be the third Western league club which the locals have met this spring and to date Salm's men hold the edge over the rival circuit. They broke even with Omaha, winning one, losing one and tying another. The Tulsa Oilers fell victim, winning but one of a series of three.

"Doped" to Win.

From available "dope" the Spudders should down the Soos. The club did not fare so well against Ardmore in a set of exhibition games against Red Snapp's class C leaguers and the Packers are not figured to possess any great strength in the Western league.

The club was more or less of an uncertain proposition because of the fact that there has been a move afoot for more than a year to transfer the franchise out of Sioux City. No suitable location was found for it this year and it remains. Tom Fairweather, Des Moines president, took charge of the club affairs for the league which bought the franchise and he has placed Hippo Metz, former Texas leaguer, in the managerial role.

Manager Salm will not take his entire squad on the trip. Al White, who is suffering with a cold in his shoulder, will not go and it is probable that Rabbit Darrough, who is nursing a sore arm, will remain behind. Pitchers Hoots and Mokan and Catcher Frank Kitchens will also be left to take care of the old homestead and Bob Bescher is still out of the running.

POWERS-HAYNES TURNED UP AS WINNERS

Defeat Crites And Hallman

Haynes and Powers, local high school tennis players and runners-up in the state meet at Austin last year in the school elimination match yesterday, defeated Crites and Hallman in two straight matches, 6-4, 6-1 on the Thirteenth street court. Although the losers put up a plucky fight, they were clearly outclassed by the winners and by the playing of Powers and Haynes yesterday. They seemed destined to go high in the state meet this year, provided they get by the district meet, and that should be easy going for them from all indications.

The winners of yesterday's match will play Daniels and Caskey today in the finals and although the former are picked to win by big odds, some surprise stuff may be pulled and the school and district winners for the past two years may have to put forth a grand battle.

To play the lowly Soos;
Wouldn't it be an outrage?
If they should chance to lose?

Salm will undoubtedly be favored with a chance to see how his hurling staff looks against left-hand hitters. The Soos' home park is nothing short of a cigar box and with an exceedingly short right fence, their lineup is usually overloaded with leftside hitters.

CHAMPION LEWIS WINS FROM ITALIAN

Loser Takes First Fall Easy

CHICAGO, April 3.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champion, won the third fall and his match with Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight champion, here tonight, after three minutes and 20 seconds of wrestling. He applied five headlocks in succession and then pinned Gardini to the mat with a flying headlock.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight wrestling champion, won the first fall in his two-fall match with "Strangler" Ed Lewis, world's heavyweight champion, with a flying headlock after 20 minutes and 32 seconds of wrestling. Gardini, who paid Lewis $10,000 for the privilege of meeting him, apparently caught the champion unawares and threw him to the mat so heavily that Lewis was breathless for several seconds.

Family Shared.

Gardini, in throwing Lewis, allowed his family a share in the feat for his wife had charge of his training and his father-in-law, Andrew Di Pietro of Boston, put up the $10,000 necessary to get a match with the Strangler.

More than 9,000 people, probably the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a wrestling match in Chicago, were in the coliseum when Lewis went down for the first time tonight.

Lewis won the second fall after using his famous headlock 12 times in succession. He threw Gardini after one hour and 12 minutes of wrestling.

Charlie Robertson Comes To Terms With White Sox

SHERMAN, Texas, April 3.—Charles Robertson, young pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, who last season hurled the third "perfect" game in baseball history, against Detroit, reached an agreement in his salary difference with Manager Gleason and left for Fort Worth to join the Sox as they start Northward.

Robertson has been in training with the Austin college club and says he is in good condition to begin playing.

Walla Walla Wins

CHICAGO, April 3.—Walla Walla high school, champions of the state of Washington, won the initial game, 36 to 20, from Gloversville, N. Y., Adirondacks champions, of the national invitation interscholastic basketball tournament at the university of Chicago today.

Daviscourt Defeated

DES MOINES, April 3.—Jake Briesler, Linden, Iowa, heavyweight wrestler defeated Dick Daviscourt of San Antonio, Texas, in two straight falls here last night. The first fall came in one hour and seven minutes with a body chancery and crotch hold. The second took 17 minutes and was the result of a wrist lock and reverse Nelson.

COYOTE TRACK MEN PUT UNDER INTENSIVE TRAINING FOR MEET

Will Attempt to Bag Honors at Iowa Park District Meet

BY BASCOM NELSON.

Hard practice with but little rest for the men who are to represent Wichita Falls at the district meet to be held in Iowa Park, April 13 and 14, is the plan of Coach Jones, who has the problem of getting the men in fine trim in less than two weeks. Weather conditions have prevented continuous field practice this season, but with two good weeks of spring the local men should round out into condition and be ready for the meet. A meet had been arranged by the coach with Iowa Park for Tuesday afternoon, but at the last moment Iowa Park called the meet off. Wichita Falls recently defeated Iowa Park at that place by over 20 points.

Need Dash Men.

Looking over the prospects for a track team for the local high school, one may see some good prospects and also a few disappointments. From present indications Wichita Falls' main weakness seems to lie in the dashes. Unless some of the local boys cut the time down in the 100 and 220-yard dashes there seems little prospects of placing in the district meet. This does not allow for a local dark horse who has been late getting into form. Guy Taylor, who should pace off the 100 yards in fine style, has been crippled most of the season with an injured foot and he might hold some surprises for local adherents.

Although Steve West will have the handicap of running against a state man in the 440-yard dash at Iowa Park, if he continues to cut his time down on this event, he should run the Mr. Lawton Thomas, of Electra, a hard race. Steve has been making the course in 56 and 57 and is in the pink of condition.

Neal should bring in at least five points to this city by taking first place in the mile. He has kept himself in fine condition since football season and is cutting his time down rapidly every day and if he continues to do this he should be pacing the distance off in about five minutes by April 13.

Baldwin, unless a dark horse appears at the district meet, should walk away with first place in vaulting, and the high jump. He also should stand out in the 220 and the hurdles. As Electra is banking on Thomas to bring a title to that place, so on Baldwin rests the responsibility of bringing at least several points to Wichita Falls, among them two or three first places. Calvert is showing up well in the half-mile and should be able to take a place at the meet if he continues to set the pace that he is now doing.

Approximately 20 men will be carried to Iowa Park by the coach, and although odds are pointing to Electra grabbing the meet, with fair breaks the local boys should give some one a hard battle before the victory is conceded.

Iowa Park is planning for a great meet, as counties from all over the district will be represented. Many of the visiting boys will be assigned to homes in Iowa Park.

SET WORLD RECORD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 3.—Another world's record score was established today in the American Bowling Congress tournament when W. Knox of Philadelphia took the lead in the all-events with a grand total of 2,019, topping the former mark of C. Daw of Milwaukee by five pins.

TO CALL GAMES AT 3 O'CLOCK

All remaining exhibition games on the Spudder calendar will start at 3 o'clock instead of 4 as has been the custom. At this time of the year the late afternoons are often touched with a chill that doesn't mix well with baseball and it is believed that the change in time will work out to a better advantage for both the clubs and the fans.

PLAN COURSING RACES HERE FRIDAY

Elimination Event For 20 Dogs .

The second of a series of coursing events which have been planned for Wichita Falls, will be held at the ball park at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Twenty dogs will be entered in the event which will be conducted on the elimination system.

I. D. Purtle, who is promoting the races, said yesterday that the races have been meeting with approval throughout the district, and a demand for events on a larger scale was being created.

Added Purse.

An added purse in addition to the $1 entrance fee required for all dogs, will be offered as the stake of the race. All applications must be filed with Purtle by 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon and must be accompanied by the entrance fee. Should too many applicants appear, the first 20 to enter will form the field and the balance of the fees will be returned.

Drives for the rabbits will be conducted Wednesday and Thursday by Mr. Johnson, of Henrietta and a lively supply of the quarry will be shipped into Wichita Falls Friday morning.

LEFTY GRIMM, THE SECOND, IS HERE

Folks and fans, we are about to be entertained by another Lefty Grimm, comedian, pepperbox and what not of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The personage is Pitcher Feigert, who joined the Spudders Monday, coming from the Pirate camp where he was in association with the noted Grimm.

He began his capers yesterday during the Spudder practice and proved to be a splitting image of Lefty, himself. With cap awry, he did his "nut" stuff over the diamond and seemed to be enjoying it as much as the onlookers.

He's a lefthander which accounts for almost anything so don't be surprised if you should happen to see Feigert pull something along the lines of Nick Altrock.

T.C.U. Trims Baylor

Associated Press Dispatch

WACO, Texas, April 3.—Baylor university was defeated in its first Southwestern conference baseball game here today by Texas Christian university by the score of 2 to 1. Two home runs by Lovvorn and the superb pitching of Scott of the Horned Frogs, did the trick. Lyons pitched for Baylor. The teams meet here again Wednesday.

Enthusiasm Running Aloft as Twilight Leaguers Organize

Officers Elected and Outlook for Prosperous Season Looms Up

Plans were practically completed for the organization of the City Twilight league at a meeting which was held last night at the Collier & Landon store, and which was attended by a large delegation brimming over with enthusiasm toward the coming season.

L. O. Landon was elected president of the league; Frank Collier, vice president; T. C. Raley, secretary-treasurer, and C. B. Woods, E. G. Hill and C. J. Pate were named as the executive committee.

All Clubs In

Eight clubs were admitted to membership and the season will be played in halves, the first duff to open April 17 and close June 1. The second half opens June 5 and the season winds up July 20, after which the saw-off for the championship will be played in the event that the halves are won by different teams.

The clubs which will form the league are the Texas company, Pond's laundry, Floral Heights Methodist church, Mill and Elevators, Utilities, South Methodist church, American Legion, North Methodist church.

Diamond Obtained

All games will be played on the diamond back of the ball park, which will be taken over from the Texas company, which built it last year, and retained for the exclusive use of the league. Games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week and will be called at 5:30 o'clock.

Seven innings will constitute a game unless otherwise agreed by both managers and any team which does not have nine uniformed players on the field at game time will be subject to a forfeiture. Protests which arise over interpretations of the rules must be filed in writing to the president, who will refer the matter to the executive committee. No protests based upon the decisions of the umpires in calling plays other than misinterpretations will be considered.

Umpire Rules

The umpire, who is appointed by the president, will have complete jurisdiction over the game and will have the same authority as umpires in the Texas league, except for the fact that he may levy no fines upon the player, but he may eject them from the game.

All games which are postponed shall be played off at a date set by the president. Each team must furnish two new balls at the start of each game. The league voted to adopt the Spaulding as its official ball. The player limit of each club is 16, and each player must register and have his contract filed with the league before the opening of the season.

Each club entering will be required to post a sum of $25 as a guarantee of good faith in living up to the constitution and by-laws of the organization, which were presented and adopted at the meeting last night.

With but a comparatively few days remaining before the opening of the season, many of the managers expressed themselves as all set to go and within a few days practically all of the clubs will be lined out and holding practice sessions whenever possible.

EX-SPUDDER DAY SET FOR MONDAY

Honor Keene, Adams and Weiss

Monday, April 9, has been set as the day on which Spudderdom will honor three of its former idols, Vic Keene, Shorty Adams and Art Weiss, who will appear here on that date with the Chicago Cubs. The celebration had been originally planned for Sunday, but it was learned that Adams may not be here until Monday and the date was shifted.

All three ex-Spudders will be the recipients of testimonials in the form of remembrances from the local management. Presentations, accompanied by the usual ceremonies and pomp attendant upon such occasions will be upon the program which the management is preparing. It is to be a red letter day on the Spudders' exhibition calendar.

STOCKS FLOP ON LIQUIDATION

Lackawanna Drops To New Low Figure For The Year

NEW YORK, March 3.—Further liquidation by frightened investors imparted a reactionary tone to the opening prices in today's stock market. Lackawanna Railroad dropped 1 1-2 points to a new low record for the year and Phillips Petroleum yielded 1. Initial sales of Cruelble, Kelly-Springfield, Pere Marquette, Rock Island and Trans-continental Oil were made at fractional concessions. Short covering operations caused slight improvement in Studebaker, Union Pacific, New York Central, Sinclair and Chandler.

Buying support made its appearance in some sections of the list during the first half hour and gave the market a steadier tone. Chandler, Austin, Nichols, American Can, Chino Copper and American Agricultural Chemical preferred extended their early gains to between 1 and 1 1-4 points. Northern Pacific, Baldwin and Allied Chemical gained large fractions. Motor accessories were heavy, Stewart Warner dropping 1 1-2 and Stromberg Carburetor one. American Smelting, American Tobacco B, Virginia Iron, Punta Alegre Sugar and Great Northern Ore all lost ground.

Pressure relaxed coincident with the raising of the call money rate to five per cent. Some of the speculative favorites rebounded a point or more, but scattered in other quarters, United States Rubber, International Harvester, Beechnut Packing, United Fruit and Remington Typewriter declined 1 1-2 to 2 1-2 points.

The closing was firm. Sales approximated 1,250,000 shares.

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3.—There was a very sharp advance in cotton today. An opening gain was followed by moderate reactions, but offerings became very light during the middle of the day, and the appearance of May buying orders was the signal for a strong upward movement. May advanced to 29.17 or 87 points above the previous close, and 97 points above yesterday's low level. That position closed at 29.07, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 29 to 80 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 9 to 27 points, with near months relatively firm in response to the higher Liverpool cables.

Prices sagged off several points in consequence of profit taking by recent buyers, with old crop months losing all but a few points of the advance, while the new crop sold about 4 to 6 points net lower, with July touching 27.65 and October 25.18. The market firmed up early on covering by near months shorts, accompanied by bullish spot advices from the South, reports that Secretary Hover had made another optimistic statement as to the state of general trade throughout the country. July sold up to 28.40 in the late trading, or 78 points net higher, while new crop months showed net advances of 38 to 39 points, with October selling at 25.60. The close was a few points off from the best under selling. Exports today were 6,000 bales, making 4,031,581 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,870. United States port stocks 603,489.

SUGAR MARKET

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3. — Raw sugar was steady and unchanged at 5½ cents for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 7.28 for centrifugal, with a better inquiry reported. There were sales of 3,000 bags of Cubas afloat, 8,500 for prompt shipment, and 20,000 bags now loading and 51,000 bags of Philippine Islands for second half of April shipment.

Raw futures showed declines of 2 to 3 points under scattered local selling, but prices rallied on covering and trade buying. Final prices were unchanged to 3 points higher. Closing, May 5.58; July 5.78, September 5.93, December 5.78.

Refined continued quiet and prices were unchanged at 8.60 to 9.00 cents for fine granulated.

Refined futures nominal.

COTTONSEED OIL

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3. — Cottonseed oil advanced 17 to 30 points early on the better showing in lard and cotton, with refiners and shorts best buyers. The subsequent reaction in lard gave encouragement to local bears and a set back took place near the close. Final bids were 14 to 21 points net higher; sales 20,700 barrels. Prime crude 10.25 sales; prime summer yellow spot 11.50; May 11.60; July 11.64; September 11.80, all bid.

COFFEE MARKET

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3.—There was a sharp decline in the market for coffee futures here today under liquidation and scattered selling inspired by lower prices in Brazil and easier Rio exchange. Closing prices were about the lowest, showing net losses of 31 to 44 points. Sales were estimated at about 71,00 bags. Closing quotations: April 10.35; May 10.25; July 9.48; September 8.70; December 8.40; March 8.30.

WHEAT PRICES FAIL TO DROP

Rain Needed But Market Does Not Develop Reaction

Associated Press Dispatch

CHICAGO, April 3.—With rains failing to appear where most needed in western parts of the winter crop belt, the wheat market today averaged higher in price. Closing quotations were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to half cent up. May 1.20⅝@1.20⅝ and July 1.17⅞@1.17½. Corn gained ¼c to ⅜c, and oats a shade to ⅝c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 7 cents advance.

Corn and oats were given a little independent strength as result of some improvement in shipping call for corn.

Provisions owed their firmness to an advance in hog values.

Broadway Beauty Operated Her Own Brokerage House

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 3.—A "Broadway Butterfly" and an artists' model, Dorothy King Keenan, chloroform murder victim, had another role—that of senior member of the stock brokerage firm "King and Scott"—it was learned tonight. The disclosure was made by Assitant District Attorney Geraty, who investigated the firm last summer, to Assistant District Attorney Pecora.

Albert E. Gelmares, admirer of the model and to whom she was said to have made many gifts, also was interested in the brokerage house, Geraty said.

Miss Keenan, who was known on Broadway as Dorothy "King," backed the company with large sums of money, Geraty said he was told by Gelmares.

Police declare that a new angle into Miss Keenan's mysterious murder might develop from an investigation into her activities as stock broker.

In "Nothing But the Truth," the play to be presented at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, by the Community Theatre Players, a local organiztion, E. M. Ralston, a stock broker, makes the assertion that a business cannot be conducted successfully without slight variations from the truth.

A representative from The Record News has called on the merchants whose advertisements appear on this page. Without exception they agree 'the truth will out', and that the public finds out for themselves and demand the truth in merchandising as well as advertising.

Anyway it's a good argument, and the Community Theatre Players promise when you see it, you'll say it's a good play too. Read these advertisements, there is a lot of truth in them.

ELECTRA SEES KLAN PARADE

1,800 Witness Affair; 400 Robed Men Reported In Lines

Special Dispatch to Record News

ELECTRA, April 3.—While 1,800 persons lined the sidewalks for blocks here last night, more than 400 members of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan paraded through Cleveland avenue. All were dressed in full regalia, and the flaming cross, the symbol of the order, was carried above the heads of the white-robed marchers. The parade passed silently through the street; from the west side, where it began at the baseball park, to the east, where the figures disappeared. No disturbances marked the affair.

Preceding the parade, a fire truck drove through the streets, forcing the enormous crowd of onlookers to the walks, where officers were stationed. The parade was led by a squad of five mounted and robed men, one carrying the United States flag. Then the flaming cross, also with a guard of honor; the cross followed by walking klansmen, marching in double file. The procession was three blocks long, while the watching crowd was lined deeply for more than 12 blocks.

The parade was the largest ever staged here, and klansmen from Wichita Falls, Vernon, Frederick and Burkburnett participated, it is said. Following the parade the klansmen were banqueted by the local klan, in a local hall.

SATURDAY TRADES DAY ADVERTISED

ELECTRA, April 3. — Saturday, April 7, will be Electra's twelfth trades day. "Dollar day" bargains are being featured by the merchants and a number of interesting bargains are being featured by the various stores. Every dealer from the lumber yards to the drug stores, is preparing for the monthly trading fest and anticipating big crowds are making some really remarkable inducements to secure the patronage.

The chamber of commerce and the local newspapers are giving the event much publicity, both through the mail and through the advertising columns. The trades day and the bond election day to decide on the $190,000 issue to erect a new high school, both occuring on the same day, will throng the streets, merchants believe.

IOWA PARK STUDENTS GIVE PLAY

ELECTRA, April 3.—Members of the Iowa Park high school gave a play at the auditorium of the Waggoner high school here last night. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the Presbyterian church and the Interscholastic league.

"Bashful Mr. Boggs," a three-act comedy, met with an enthusiastic reception from the rather small crowd which turned out to see the performance. Supt. W. R. Bradford of the Iowa Park schools, made a short talk preceding the play, regarding the coming county interscholastic meet, which will be held at Iowa Park Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

Associated Press Dispatch

John S. McCampbell, lawyers, was opposing Mayor Lovenskold as a representative of the recently-formed Good Government league, under the championship of Artemas Roberts, formerly of Waco, and founder and president at one time of the Amicable Life Insurance company.

The citizens party candidates for commissioners were W. W. Chapman Dr. D. A. Segrit, William Shelly, and Harry N. Carter. Opposing them, the Good Government league candidates were as follows: J. B. Pondrom, John Grant, S. W. Dunham and Miss Mildred Seaton.

Weather Man Frowns As Golfers Assemble

Associated Press Dispatch

GALVESTON, Texas, April 3.—With an overcast sky tonight and the weather forecast calling for partly cloudy and unsettled weather tomorrow, there is promised not the best of golf weather for the start tomorrow of the seventeenth annual tournament of the Texas Golf association, which is significant of the amateur championship of the state.

Last minute entries today brought the total number up to 103, with nearly every member club being represented by one or more entries. With more than 20 players, Houston's entry list is the longest of any city other than Galveston. The late decision of Tommy Cochran of Wichita Falls to enter the tourney, makes the list of prominent amateurs complete and there scarcely is a golfer in Texas conceded a chance to win the title who will not tee off in the qualifying round tomorrow morning. Charles L. Dexter, Jr., of Dallas, who has held the amateur crown for the past two years, will face a classy field in his efforts to retain the championship.

Carlton Shoots 69.

In Galveston golfing quarters, Jack Tarrant of San Antonio and Ossie Carlton of Houston are considered the most likely to topple the crown from the head of the veteran Dallasite. Carlton this afternoon sounded a warning to all those ambitious of the title when he broke the course record by turning in a 69, two strokes below par.

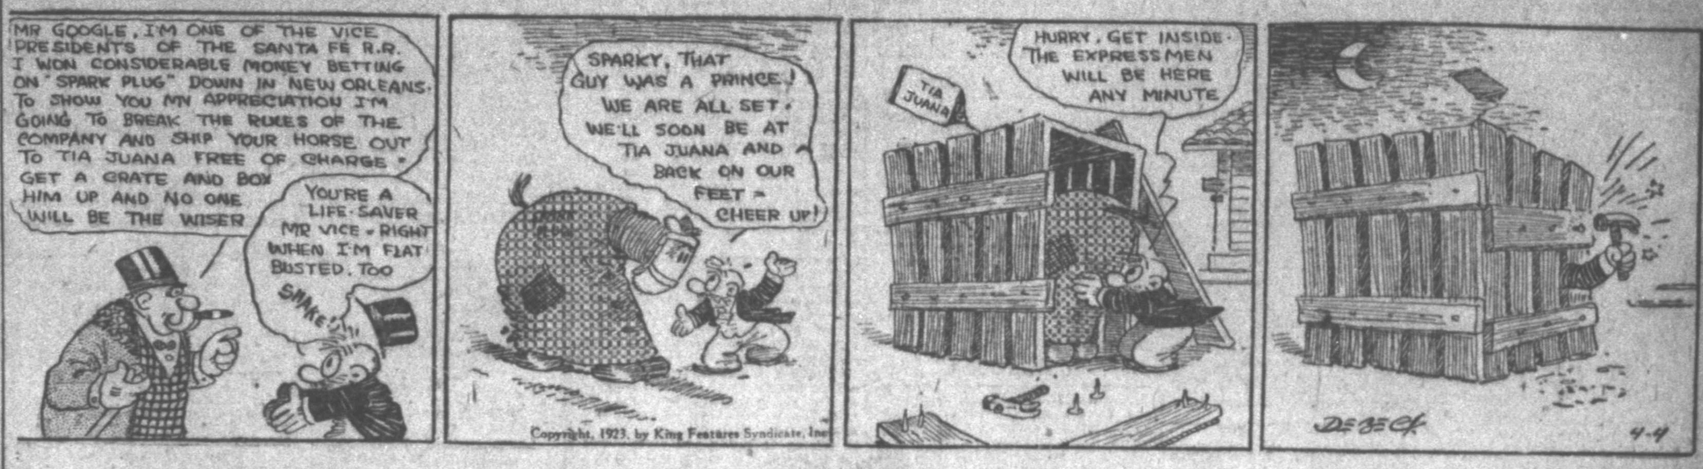

Official Starter Willie McGuire of Houston will send the first pair from the No. 1 tee at 8 o'clock tomorrow and every five minutes thereafter until 12:20, another pair will follow. The qualifying round is the only event scheduled for the opening day.

BAPTISTS WILL GIVE CANTATA

Special Song Service Will Be Held at Church Sunday

Instead of rendering the Easter music on Easter Sunday, the First Baptist church choir will sing an Easter cantata next Sunday evening, April 8. The number to be given this year is "Eastertide," by Daniel Prothroe, whose works are used by the best church choirs of the country. Unlike many cantatas, which are based on the resurrection only, this number pictures in a vivid way the trial of Jesus before Pilate, the crucifixion and the resurrection. The reading of the scriptural text will precede the singing of the cantata.

Vaughn Ray, director First Baptist church choir, announces that with Mrs. F. R. Collard at the organ, the cantata will be sung by the leading musical talent of the church and city.

Property Owners Get Paving Notice

Notices to 220 property owners were mailed out from the city clerk's office Tuesday that an open hearing would be held April 18 on proposed new paving projects aggregating $100,000 in value. The hearing involves those stretches already scheduled for paving, including the courts house square, Avenue F and Lucille street.

Should all those affected by the notice appear at the council meeting to argue the matter it would probably be a lengthy session.

PAVING TALKED AT LUNCHEON

Julian Bobo and L. E. Whitham Discuss Paving Material

A debate concerning the merits and demerits of Wichita Falls paving furnished most of the entertainment at the University club luncheon in the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria Tuesday noon. L. E. Whitham, president of the Whitham Construction company, and Julian Bobo provided the principal arguments of the day, although Mr. Whitham was made the target of a barrage of questions concerning street paving matters in the city.

Open condemnation of some of the paving jobs put down here in the past few years, was voiced by the club members, but was tempered with the admissions that during the boom days construction work of that type proceeded under great handicaps. Mr. Whitham explained that in 1920, all the skilled workmen of town were employed on the new buildings, drawing $20 per day, and that the street paving gangs were, out of necessity, made up of common laborers. Materials, also, were practically unobtainable, he said.

It was brought out that paving now being laid in the city was of much higher grade than that of the boom days and that the county highways were the equal of any in the United States.

M'CAIN GIVEN YEAR AND HALF

Minimum Sentence Imposed On Local Bank Teller

A sentence of 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., was assessed against J. F. McCain by Federal Judge Atwell Tuesday morning when the young man pleaded guilty to embezzling $14,700 from the City National bank. The sentence was the minimum allowed by law.

McCain stood charged by indictment on six counts, the maximum penalty of each, if combined, which would have amounted to 30 years. In passing sentence, however, Judge Atwell told McCain that he believed in giving a man a chance and that the past record of the defendant was such as to warrant his receiving a lenient sentence.

The man accepted the sentence without comment.

McCain was formerly a teller of The City National bank and disappeared late last year. The shortage of his books at the bank was revealed later. He was arrested in February of this year as he stepped from a train returning to the city, perfected bond and was indicted by the federal grand jury which convened the first of last week.

Margaret Anglin Here On Monday

It will be with unreserved pleasure that theatre-goers of Wichita Falls will greet the announcement that Margaret Anglin, who has not appeared here in several years will return Monday at the Palace theatre in "The Woman of Bronze," in which she has enjoed such a widespread success in the past few years. With a whole year at the Frazee theatre, New York, to its credit, six months in Chicago and another half year in a coast to coast trip of the largest cities, "The Woman of Bronze" has proven a splendid acting vehicle for this most charming of all stars.

"The Woman of Bronze," which brings Miss Anglin back to Wichita Falls, has been adapted by Paul Kester from a French play by Henri Kistenmacher. Paul Kester, who wrote "Beverley's Balance" for Miss Anglin, is now at work on a new play for her, which will undoubtedly follow "The Woman of Bronze," and in which she will be seen in her next southern tour.

Four Divorces Granted in 89th

Four divorces were granted Tuesday by Judge P. A. Martin of the Eighty-ninth court, the hearing of these taking up the court's attention throughout the morning.

The suit of W. H. Reid vs. Mary Reid, asking for a divorce on grounds of cruelty, was first allowed. A similar case came up with the suit of Cora Thompson vs. W. A. Thompson, cruelty being alleged here.

Abandonment was charged in the other two divorce suits, one of which was filed by J. L. Hill vs. Cora Lee Hill, and the other by A. C. Reynolds vs. Alice Reynolds.

Seats On Sale Thursday for Nothing But Truth

Can you imagine yourself in the predicament of making a bet that you will answer every question asked you for 24 hours, truthfully, with a binding clause that you will tell no one about the bet, and have your best friend ask you what you thought of your best girl's voice and have to answer, in her presence, that you thought it was terrible?

This is the situation Bob Bennett in "Nothing But the Truth," the William Collier comedy to be presented at the Palace Thursday and Friday by the Community Theatre Players, finds himself in. He bets his friends he can tell the truth for a whole day, and he does, but, oh, the nerve-racking experiences he goes through, the many incidents when the awful truth is awful.

T. L. MacMahon, who plays the part of Bennett, says he never realized how nearly nice a white lie could be until he started rehearsals on "Nothing But the Truth," and saw for himself how a slight variation from the truth can sometimes cover a multitude of explanations.

The play is filled with just such situations, with clever comedy lines and action that move faster than an automobile race. The parts are capably handled by a cast of talented local people, including T. L. MacMahon, Frank Patton, Jerry Moffett, Sellers Rogers, Paul Barnett, Lurline Turner, Sadie Adicks, Dorothy Ellis, Leslie Davis, Sheliah Kavanaugh and Miss McPaul. Rehearsals are said to be coming on nicely and every member of the cast is enthusiastic in giving a finished production when the curtain rises Thursday night.

Reserved seats go on sale Thursday morning at the Palace theatre, and from advance sales a packed house will be on hand to greet the performers in what promises to be the funniest play of the year.

Man May Live After Auto Wreck

Reports from the local hospital at a late hour last night said that Andrew McWilliam, who was injured in an auto accident Sunday night on the Electra pike, was resting well and there were strong hopes for recovery. It was at first feared that the young man was suffering from internal injuries, but as his condition improves these fears are becoming dispelled.

McWilliam was pinned under a Ford car in which he and a party was driving when the car turned over when the radius rod broke. He was brought to the General hospital Sunday and an examination was made Monday night. He is the son of Mrs. Pearl Rogers, of Electra.

William-Mary Planting Shade Garden on Walk

Four large hackberry trees are being re-planted in front of the William-Mary hotel and as soon as this work is completed four more will be replanted at the side of the hotel.

When the replanting is completed concrete will be placed around the trees in the front of the hotel on Tenth street and a garden effect will be created.

The trees were taken from the banks of the Wichita river and are the largest in this part of the country.

Jazz Artists Will Broadcast Program Tonight

Louis B. Race, director of the Hotel Ansley orchestra of Atlanta, Ga., and members of the orchestra, better known as the "Georgia Jazz Hi-Jackers," arrived in Wichita Falls Tuesday.

The orchestra furnished the music at the Shrine dance last night at the Kemp hotel.

Tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock, the orchestra will supply music for the WKAF radio broadcasting station. Immediately following this program, they will supply the music for the Cypher club dance at the Kemp hotel, and this will also be broadcast, the first time that a dance has ever been broadcast from this city.

The members of the orchestra are as follows: Carl La Fell, pianist; Al Jennings, trombone; Jimmy Van Asdell, trumpet; Joe Donnigan, banjo; Joe Robkin, drummer; Louis Race, saxaphone and director.

SCHOOL CENSUS MISSED SOME

More Names Sought To Get $13 Per Capita For Students

Several children of scholastic age in Wichita Falls are believed to have been missed in the scholastic census just completed by the school board. Repeated visits have been made to several homes, but thus far it has been impossible to obtain an accounting of the inmates.

W. W. Brown, secretary of the board of education, is anxious that every eligible scholastic in the city be enumerated as it means about $13 more of state appropriations.

It is requested that any one who is certain that they have not been counted to phone school authorities at either 5803 or 6302. If this notification is given, a representative will be sent to take the census.
