

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

A LOT OF people went out to Chesley Field last evening to see the Lobo "B" team play Comanche "B" team. But they didn't see a game, for the Comanche team didn't show up.

If you remember, last year when two teams were supposed to play the officials didn't show up.

It all worked out pretty good, for most of the football fans became basketball fans and went over to the gym to see the CJC girls beat the Howard Payne girls.

HOW MANY TV sets are there in Cisco. Take a guess before you read any further. We guess 500.

There are 235. A couple of local fellows counted the antennas yesterday. They went all over town and out the highways to count all of them in the Cisco vicinity. And they couldn't find more than 235 antennas.

The number is growing constantly as programs and reception improve. Abilene programs come in good virtually all of the time, and when Fort Worth's new station equipment is installed the reception should be much better from there.

IF YOU'RE NOT planning to attend the annual banquet of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce this Saturday night, you might want to drive in to Fort Worth for the Shrine Circus. They're having Eastland County Night and Miss Patsy Pogue will be introduced as Miss Cisco.

Local Shriners report that if you don't have tickets and buy them at the box office, you should say "I'm from Eastland County." And they'll give you seats with all other local folks. Proceeds from the Shrine circus benefit the Masonic hospitals for crippled children.

IF YOU WANT to see an attractive fall garden, drive by Mr. Roy Camfield's house down on Avenue E. His garden never looked any better in the spring than it does right now. Roy's pecan trees are yielding a good crop, too. He has 15 or 20 trees around his house and they're dandy producers.

MR. A. B. BYRD, who has sold mistletoe from this country to folks back east for many years, reports that there won't be very much for sale this year. Last year's dry weather has held down the crop. Next year's crop will be bountiful as the result of plenty of fall rain this year, he believes.

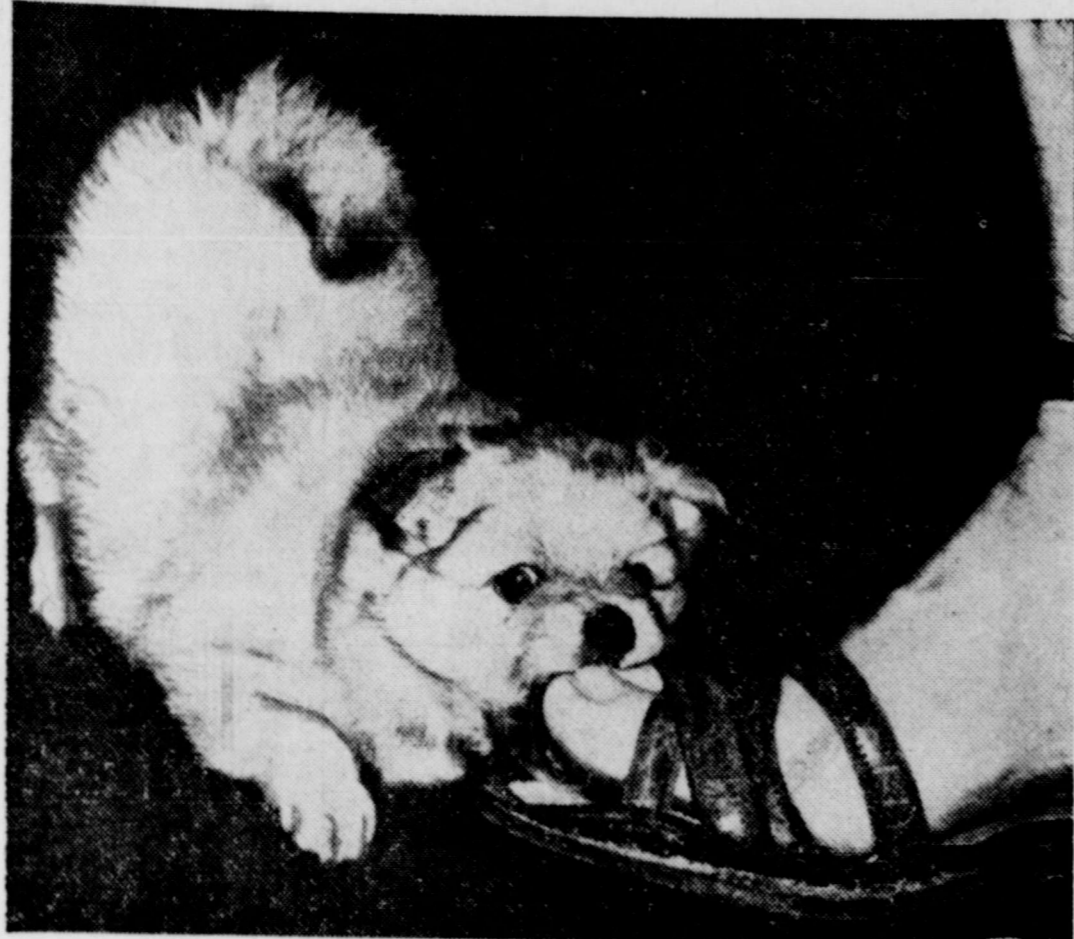

AS FAR AS we can find out, Mr. Johnson of 809 West 3rd St. was the first Ciscoan to bring home a deer this season. He brought in a handsome buck early Tuesday, the boys at the Cisco Locker Plant report. Shot the buck up near Strawn.

And Mr. Paul Brashear brought in Buck No. 2. His deer dressed 100 pounds and was shot down south in the San Saba country where the Brashears use to live. Paul brought his buck in to the locker plant Tuesday afternoon.

THERE ARE QUITE a number of Cisco folks with severe colds and allied troubles these days. The mail men delivered a lot of long envelopes with blank income tax forms in them yesterday. If you didn't get yours, don't worry for you'll probably receive one in the next day or two. The G. C. Rosenthal got off yesterday for their Mississippi vacation. Mr. John Dunn business visited up in Fort Worth and Dallas yesterday.

CISCO'S LOBO Band made a splendid showing up at Denton last Saturday. The band went to the homecoming party at NTSC. A lot of other bands went, too. And Cisco folks were very proud at the reception and applause given the Lobo Band when it marched during the football halftime. Band members thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Killingsworth and family of Ozona were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carrell Smith and family over the weekend.

Hunters Asked To Send Deer Hides To TB Hospitals

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.—A quiet audience of more than 2,000 persons was listening for distant gunfire when Texas deer hunters took to the stands Monday, November 16. The hunters won't see them. They are patients in the state tuberculosis hospitals located at San Angelo, Tyler, San Antonio and Legion.

Last year Texas hunters sent 24 deer hides to the patients in McKnight Sanatorium, near San Angelo. It cost them nothing. Tanning and even shipping costs were donated.

"Could I make a pair of baby shoes?" was the first question asked of Mrs. Alice Coombs, director of occupational therapy for the state hospital system, when she went to McKnight to instruct the patients in making articles of the leather.

That query came from a young father who had never seen his four-months-old son. Needless to say there will be a pair of soft, baby moccasins on that Christmas tree this year.

"If the hunters in Texas would only send these patients one tenth of the hides from the deer they will kill this season, the good they can do is almost beyond belief," Mrs. Coombs said.

Last year's kill was reported to the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission as 36,423.

The hides may simply be tied, tagged and sent express collect to the Austin Taxidermist Studio, Austin, which is donating the shipping and tanning costs, Mrs. Coombs said.

CHOIR TO MEET Members of the community choir will hold a rehearsal Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church. Work will be done on the Christmas program to be presented in December. The group is working on Handel's Messiah. Anyone who has not attended a meeting and who desires to participate in the program was invited to be at the meeting Thursday night.

COUNTRY CLUB STOCKHOLDERS MEET; NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

J. A. Robinson, an official with the Humble Pipe Line Company here, was elected president of the Cisco Country Club by the new board of directors following the annual meeting of stockholders Tuesday night at the club. He succeeds Bill Mitcham, local rancher.

W. J. Foxworth was named vice-president, and W. C. McDaniels was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

New directors named by the stockholders are: J. A. Robinson, Dr. Chief Brown, Ralph Glenn, W. C. McDaniels, Hold-Woods and I. J. Henson. Hold-overs directors are: Bill Mitcham, W. F. Foxworth, Jack Anderson, Charles Graham and Albert Hansen.

LOBOES MAKING PLANS TO END FOOTBALL YEAR AT COMANCHE

The Cisco High School Loboos were working this week for the final game of the season in Comanche Friday night when they meet Hicks and Lee and the other Indians who have a firm grip on the District 2-A9 championship for the year.

Comanche can lose to the Loboos Friday night and still possess the district crown. Weatherford, their only threat, was eliminated Friday night when they lost to Stephenville 13-7.

The Loboos will meet two of the highest scoring backs in the area in Hicks and Lee of the Indians. Hicks has scored some 130 points this season to hold top spot in the area, and Lee is close behind. Hicks is a senior and Lee a junior.

The Indians have an impressive

Reservations should be made by Friday by telephoning No. 788 or 194, the announcement said. Admission charges will be $1.25 for adults and 75c for children. A menu of turkey with all the trimmings will be served.

March Of Dimes Selects Poster Boy For Campaign

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Debby Dains, a diminutive 4-year-old Gooding, Idaho boy, who spent his first Thanksgiving in an iron lung, has been named 1954 March of Dimes poster boy, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Debby, who has big blue eyes and a party personality, symbolizes the 88,000 victims of polio cared for with March of Dimes funds in 1953. His picture will be seen throughout the nation during January on billboards, posters, contribution cards and coin collectors.

Accompanied by his mother and a nurse, Debby will make personal appearances in various parts of the country during the drive which begins on Jan. 2 and continues for the entire month.

Stricken by polio when only four months old, Debby (christened Delbert) Dains has spent most of his life in Idaho hospitals learning to walk on crutches and braces and to sit up with a full body brace. The boy has spent less than eighth of his entire life in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Dains.

Debby is the eighth in a succession of polio-stricken children annually selected to represent the March of Dimes during the organization's fund-raising appeal. Most have recovered, but the tiny Idahoan—Debby is only 37 inches high and weighs a mere 27 pounds—may be in braces all his life.

Since coming down with the disease Debby has received more than $15,000 in March of Dimes aid. He was originally hospitalized at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise but has spent most of his life since then at the Idaho Elks Convalescent Home there. On rare weekends he visits his family in the farm community of Gooding.

Debby is a quiet, but sparkling little fellow with a shy and winsome smile. At the Elks Home his physicians and nurses have dubbed him "Mr. Personality." Bright and quick-minded, the lad has displayed a courage and determination that have endeared him to professional medical people and March of Dimes volunteers alike.

It was his winning personality in last year's Idaho March of Dimes campaign that led to his selection as national poster child in the coming polio drive.

2000 Students To Be Selected For Naval Training

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 18.—Approximately 2000 students will be selected for entry into the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps program for the 1954 Fall term of college.

Applications for the examination are available to male U. S. citizens who are high school seniors or graduates between the ages of 17 and 21. Applications may be obtained at any high school, college, or Navy Recruiting Station. Completed applications must reach the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J., by November 21, 1953.

Plans Complete For Treasure Hunt To Open Shopping Season

ONLY THE BEGINNING—As work began in Chicago on a 41-story skyscraper, workmen are shown guiding a 10-ton disc of steel into place. Setting base plates is the first step in erecting the steel skeleton. About 31,000 tons of structural steel will be used in the building which should be finished in 1955.

CJC GIRLS CAGE TEAM DEFEATS HOWARD PAYNE, TEAM 42 TO 24

The Cisco Junior College Wranglerettes, exhibiting fine team play, won over the Howard Payne Jackettes at the community gym Tuesday night by a score of 42-24.

The fine play of the Cisco guards kept the Brownwood girls away from the goal most of the night while the Wranglerette forwards were steadily plugging away at the goal.

In the initial two games played by the Cisco team, they served notice on other members of the Southeastern A.A.U. District that they would have to be reckoned with in deciding the district winner.

Jim Birch took high point honors when she hit the hoops with nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points. Lorette Riddle of the Wranglerettes and Mary Jackson of the Jackettes tied for second place with nine each. Cookie Barron was in third place with eight points.

The Cisco team jumped into an early lead and the outcome of the game was never in doubt. The Jackettes played a good floor game, but their forwards were never able to get close enough to the goal to try sufficient shots to head the Wranglerettes.

Coaches Bill Pringle and Edd Farmer used every player they had in a uniform.

The Wranglerettes will play several more exhibition games before they enter tournament play after the first of the year. Games are planned with other Brownwood teams and with some of the junior colleges in the conference.

A good crowd was on hand Tuesday night to help the Cisco Junior College team open its home season.

Grid Game Reset Thursday Night

The Lobo "B"—Comanche "B" team game scheduled for Tuesday night at Chesley Field has been postponed until Thursday night, school officials announced today.

The postponement was due to a mix up in the schedule. The Cisco team and a large number of fans were at Chesley Field last night for the game. When Comanche failed to arrive by 7:30 o'clock, a call was placed to see what was the delay. The Comanche coach was mixed up on the schedule and thought the game was for Thursday night. At his request the date was changed.

Game time Thursday has been set at 7 p. m.

Merchants Begin Planning Program

The annual Cisco Treasure Hunt will be held Monday night, Nov. 30, to formally open the 1953 Christmas shopping season here, according to an announcement today. The street lights and other Christmas decorations will be ready for the event.

In the Treasure Hunt, local merchants provide gift items that will be on display in their show windows. Tickets will be given out free at The Press office beginning Monday, Nov. 23. To win, you must match the number on your ticket with a store window gift item.

Cisco merchants began listing their gift items today. The first gift item was offered by Leverage Jewelry Company — a 17-jewel Elgin wrist watch for man or woman.

The next gift item entered was that of the Jones Mattress Company — a $49.95 innerspring mattress manufactured by the local firm's factory.

Another gift item already pledged is a $25 saving bond by the First National Bank.

Other gift items of Cisco business firms will be listed in the Press from day to day.

The Treasure Hunt has been held in Cisco to open the Christmas Shopping Season for the past five years. Each year's program has been more successful than the past year's. Approximately 10,000 tickets were issued for last year's Treasure Hunt.

Cisco business firms have made plans for an extensive Christmas season. In addition to the Treasure Hunt, old Santa Claus will make two appearances. Some 50 turkeys will be given away on special Wednesday afternoon events during December.

Plans have been completed for the Christmas decorations. Work will begin next week to install overhead light streamers and other decorations.

During October there were 664 producers delivering milk to eleven handlers regulated under Federal Order No. 82. This is an increase of nine producers over September 1952.

Members of the Cisco Country Club were reminded today of the regular family night program to be held at the club house at 7 p. m. Friday. ## How Much Water Is Enough?

How much water is enough? Throughout man's agricultural history he has watched the skies anxiously, hoping for more rain or hoping the rain would stop. In desperation he set up irrigation systems and they helped, but even then the question went unanswered.

How much water is enough? Science is finding the answer. More and more research is being directed along the lines of learning how much water produces efficient plant growth.

At Texas A. and M. College a tool is being developed which authorities in the field believe will be a big step forward because it will enable researchers to learn exactly how much water is in the soil.

Earlier methods of determining water content ranged from comparing weights of wet with those of oven-dried soils, to a system of electrical conductance of water in soils. Some methods were efficient but impractical, while others were inaccurate.

Electrical conductance, for example, works well where there is no salt in the sample, but since most of the soil's minerals are in salt form, readings were affected because salt added to the water's conductivity.

M. E. Bloodworth, agricultural engineer at the Weslaco substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, is developing a method which works accurately regardless of salt content.

Using "thermistors", which are extremely accurate devices whose electrical resistance varies with temperature, he insulates the current-carrying circuit from contact with water, then measures the heat-storage capacity of the water.

Thermistors are embedded in cells of porous material such as dental stone, plaster of paris or fired clay, depending on the soil make-up which he wishes to test.

These cells then are buried at varying depths in the soil and allowed to absorb moisture until they contain the same amount as the soil around them. As current is applied and the temperature in the thermistor cell rises, resistance falls. Measurement of this resistance drop gives a precise measurement — accurate to approximately one-one-thousandth of a degree, centigrade — of the stored heat, which in turn is an index to water content.

Bloodworth, who is on study leave from the Weslaco station, is studying under direction of Dr. John Page of the Soil Physics division of the college's Department of Agronomy.

In his regular work at the Weslaco station, Bloodworth is concerned with irrigation and drainage, which is closely allied with his research problem.

Considering the immense strides taken by agricultural researchers in recent years and the widespread use of new methods, Bloodworth says, "I believe there'll be the biggest irrigation increase in Texas during the next 25 years that anyone has ever seen."

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the Texas Medical Association

"A window into the body" — that's how an x-ray of the chest, which may be part of an annual routine medical examination, has been described.

What can a doctor learn from such a study? A great many things. First, something in the way the film looks may cause him to diagnose or at least suspect disease, malformation, or improper functioning of an organ. Not only are the heart and lungs visible; other structures — the ribs and thyroid gland, for instance — may be seen. The x-ray is gone over inch by inch before the radiologist (x-ray specialist) reports that the film is negative for evidence of disease. However, even if he sees nothing wrong, he files the film away, perhaps to use it as a base line for comparison with other x-rays taken later.

Suppose he spots something suspicious in the chest x-ray. He may not be able to tell exactly what the disease is in every instance but may narrow it down to two or three possibilities, for instance, cancer or tuberculosis of the lung. Then more x-rays may be made, perhaps using materials that throw a solid shadow on the film to outline the air passages. As a consultant, the x-ray specialist sometimes suggests other diagnostic tests which he thinks most likely would provide the answer as to which disease is the culprit.

One of the values of periodic chest x-rays is clear from the results of mass surveys made in connection with anti-tuberculosis campaigns. Tuberculosis, which was the number 1 killer in 1900, was reduced to seventh place by 1950. No doubt a large factor in this remarkable record has been the cooperation of the public in mass x-ray surveys. Not only has the combined effort turned up an estimated 1 of every 100 persons with the disease; heart disease and other conditions which might have remained unrecognized otherwise have been brought to light. Mass filming like this is only a "screening" device, that is, all it does is to separate those with normal findings from those whose findings are suspicious of disease. Larger x-rays may have to be made or further diagnostic tests run to determine for sure what is wrong.

Game Protection Work Of Ranchers Praised By State

AUSTIN, Nov. 16. — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission reported a "growing tendency" among land owners to protect wildlife species hard hit by the drought.

"One of the natural benefits from the traditional land ownership-game management cooperation," he said, "is the authority retained by ranchers and others to control harvest of game from their areas."

"This frankly has many times approached the advantages that would accrue if Texas had sufficient public land holdings for the state to directly the wildlife harvest."

"This fall there is an increasing trend toward limiting the take of species that are below normal for one reason or another. From the reports from our field men and from the land owners direct, the endeavor may reach maximum effect this fall."

"Indications are that one major objective of many ranchers and farmers will be protecting quail which have suffered from the drought and from that recurring slump which wildlife biologists term 'the cycle.'"

"Thus it is heartening to anticipate that the precious seed stock of the quail population will be preserved. Our biologists agree that the consideration for the quail at this time can easily set up a rapid recovery from the present quail depletion."

The Executive Secretary pointed out that the General Law on quail, as on deer and other species, is controlled exclusively by the Legislature. He added that, while the harvest under such laws cannot exceed the legal limitations, there is no restriction on curbing the harvest.

Howard Payne To Hold Homecoming Program Soon

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 18.—One of the largest crowds in the history of Howard Payne College is expected to be on the campus here Nov. 25-26 for the college's annual homecoming exercises.

McAdoo Keaton, one of HPC's all-time great coaches, has been invited to return to the campus to speak at the rally. Mr. Keaton is now coaching at Southern Methodist University.

The pep rally will be followed at 8 p. m. by a musical variety show featuring campus talent. During the show Homecoming Queen candidates will be introduced.

Vet Questions And Answers

Q — The VA has just awarded me disability compensation for an ailment I incurred in service. Can I count on receiving compensation checks, for the same amount, each month for the rest of my life?

A — Not necessarily. Your compensation payments may be subject to change, depending on your physical condition. If medical evidence shows your disability is improved, payments may be reduced or even stopped; or, if it shows the disability is worse, payments may be increased.

Q — In computing my income for VA pension purposes, am I supposed to include the gross salary that I receive on my job, or only my net take-home pay? Part of my pay is withheld for income tax and retirement.

A — You must include your gross salary — your take-home pay plus what is withheld for taxes, retirement or other reasons.

Q — When I reentered military service, I surrendered my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy for cash, and thereby became covered by the free indemnity. Will the beneficiaries I named in my NSLI policy carry over for the indemnity coverage?

A — No. You must make new designations of beneficiaries or the indemnity. They may include only persons in the following classes: wife, children, parents, brothers or sisters.

Q — I am a disabled World War II veteran, and I want to take vocational training under Public Law 16. Is it still possible to enroll for a four-year course?

A — No. Under the law, you may only take a course that can be completed by the end of the Public Law 16 program, on or before Nov. 25, 1956.
