Beef Cattle Production Meeting Set Nov. 15

A look at beef cattle production for 1977-78 will be taken in a meeting Tuesday, Nov. 15, sponsored by the Extension Service. The session will be in the Farm Bureau Building, at 7:30 p.m.

Speakers will be Dr. John McNeil, area beef cattle specialist, and Dr. Gene Cope, area veterinarian, both with the Extension Service.

The speakers will discuss with beef cattle producers factors as they have been affected by the changing farm and livestock conditions, according to Don Reeves, extension agent.

Dr. McNeil will talk on nutrition requirements and suggested rations for wintering cattle in this part of the Panhandle. The dropping price of cottonseed has caused increased interest in feeding cottonseed as protein for cattle, and he will go into this thoroughly.

Dr. Cope will discuss animal health problems, primarily concerning stocker cattle.

Between them, there will be other discussions on breeding programs, and probably explanations of pasture rotation methods.

"We have more stocker cattle than we do mother cows in the county, especially at this time of year," Mr. Reeves pointed out, "and the interest right now is coming up with a nutrition program that is the cheapest we can get by with."

The discussion will also cover a discussion of protein requirements of cows wintering on dry grass.

The meeting is open to the public and to cattle producers in adjoining counties as well as in Collingsworth, it was pointed out.

Changing conditions in the cattle productions industry have been so drastic during the past year that owners now face a different set of problems than those that worried them 12 months ago.

Suit Filed Here Seeks to Void Quail School Bond Election

A group of 31 Quail School District taxpayers filed suit Friday, Nov. 4 in 100th Judicial District Court asking that the recent Quail schoolhouse bond election be declared void.

The suit alleges that proper notice was not given of the school board meeting at which the election was called.

The suit further alleges (1) that there are 9 trustees of Quail School, rather than the 7 provided for in the Texas Education Code, and that it is impossible to know which 7 are the valid trustees;

(2) that proper public notice was not given of the election itself;

(3) that issuance of the approved bonds would raise the school district indebtedness above the limits allowed by law;

(4) that taxpayers who resided outside the district should have been allowed to vote;

(5) that some of the voters were not qualified to vote;

(6) that none of the voters signed an affadavit that they owned property in the district;

(7) that a writ of election was not delivered to the presiding judge 15 days before the election;

(8) that there was not adequate time for absentee voting;

(9) that public notice of the election was not given in Donley County.

The suit lists all members of the Quail School Board, Donald Langley, Carl Wischkaemper, Guy Brandvik, Dan Guthrie, Delbert White, Jim Kennedy, John Farris, P.P. Fielding and Lonnie Needham, as contestees, in addition to Wilford Arthur, Quail School superintendent, R.L. Templeton, Collingsworth County Attorney, and John Knorpp, Donley County Attorney.

The petitioners listed are Louis Allred, Marvin Blevins, Jimmy R. Coleman, W.R. Ward, E.B. Seale, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. Johnson, Aubrey Baggett, Allard Patterson, Dudley Phipps, J.I. Morgan, Clarence Blevins, Mrs. Jean Deaver, Mrs. Oneta Fike, Jamesy Keller, Mrs. George Patterson, Clee Parr, P.C. Cummings, Palo F. Cummings, E.F. Bartlett, Harold C. Scott, Mrs. Robert Lacy, Bill Lindsey, Cecil Masten, P.M. Bouchelle, D.C. Thomason, Laurol Thomason, Lawson Holton and Allen Hanens.

Jerome W. Kirby of Kirby, Ratliff, Sansom & Manning of Littlefield is attorney for the petitioners. The next legal action in the case will come when the district replies to the allegations in 10 or 20 days.

County Favors Simpson, Phillips, Approves Three of 7 Amendments

State Representative Bob Simpson of Amarillo and former Congressman Bob Price of Pampa appear to be in a runoff for state senator from the 31st District early Wednesday, Nov. 9, with voting in Potter and Gray counties not complete. Collingsworth figures shown here are complete unofficial returns.

Collingsworth followed the Panhandle trend and gave Simpson top place, with 173 votes. The Panhandle incomplete vote was 5,583.

Collingsworth placed Mel Phillips, Jr., in second place with 121 votes, and Bob Price was third with 114. Over the district, Price was second with 5,036, and Phillips was fourth. Running third in the district was Jim Brandon of Amarillo. Like Price, he is a republican. He trailed in Collingsworth with 40 votes. Whittenburg received 76 votes for fourth place in local voting, but Panhandle-wide, he was last.

Voting was light in all counties.

Under Texas Election law, the date of the run-off election must be set by the governor.

Simpson campaigned in Collingsworth on several occasions, as did Phillips and Whittenburg. In so far as is known, even to Republicans, neither Price nor Brandon brought their campaigns here.

In the Amendment election, Propositions 5 and 6 failed to

Martinez Returned From San Antonio

Paul Martinez, 24, who escaped from Collingsworth County jail by climbing through a vent, on Oct. 20, is again in custody here, Sheriff John Rainey announced Thursday morning, Nov. 3.

He was arrested in San Antonio and was picked up by local officers at Quanah.

The second escapee, William McClendon, is still at large.

Sheriff Rainey said Martinez and a San Antonio man were arrested Wednesday night, Oct. 26, as they slept in the car Martinez had stolen in Quanah. A check on the license showed it to be the missing vehicle.

According to San Antonio officers, they notified Hardeman County Sheriff, Chester L. Ingram, by teletype. Ingram says he did not receive the message, and on Sunday, San Antonio officers phoned. Texas Ranger Leo Hickman and a Hardeman Deputy sheriff left immediately to pick up both men and the car.

Hickman then notified Rainey they were holding a man under another name he thought might be Martinez.

At Quanah jail, Rainey reported that he took one look and said, "Hello Paul."

"I didn't know that was your name," said a deputy.

"I just can't get away from you, can I, John," replied Martinez, who lived at Quail several years ago.

Martinez is being held here on jail escape and car theft charges, awaiting action by the grand jury. He and McClendon allegedly took a car belonging to Kendrick Oldsmobile Co., parked less than a block from the jail. It was found abandoned in Quanah near where another car was taken.

Martinez escaped from the Oklahoma prison facility at Granite, where he was serving

Southwestern Rail Names Officer In Charge of Sales

Appointment of a vice president in charge of sales for Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., was announced this week by Wayne Smith, president.

The new official is Paul McClendon, who will begin work by December 1. He comes here from Venita, Oklahoma.

Mr. McClendon has been with Tamper Corp, the world's largest manufacturer of railroad track maintenance machinery. He was regional manager when he resigned to accept the Southwestern Rail post.

At the same time, Mr. Smith announced that installation of the second spike machine is under way at Southwestern Rail, and as soon as it is in operation, installation will begin on the third machine.

Only two spike machines were included in the plans at the time Southwestern's move from Burns Flat, Oklahoma, to Wellington was announced. Later plans were expanded to include three or more spike machines until the plant has as many as are needed.

Mr. McClendon began work for the Frisco as a laborer in May 1953. He ran all types of equipment, such as dozers, draglines, tractors, scrapers, and similar machines. He was traveling mechanic when he left the company in December 1963 to begin work for Tamper. His work has been principally in sales, and he is

B&PW Protests Health Guidelines

Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club is protesting the proposed HEW guideline which threaten the health care given the people of this county, and all other counties.

They are urging other groups and individuals to do the same.

Leaflets are being distributed by B&PW urging a letter writing campaign among county people.

"The department of Health Education and Welfare has issued proposed guidlines for health care that if approved would limit our hospital size to 4 beds per 1,000 population, a total of 10. Year around occupancy amounting to 80 per cent would be required.

Under another proposal of the guidelines, hospitals would have to deliver 500 babies per year to keep its OB service. Collingsworth General delivered 42 babies during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1977. It is believed Amarillo would be the only town in the Panhandle whose hospitals could qualify.

These are only two of the proposals that limit health care.

B&PW emphasises that these proposals can be protested by writing HDW, but this must be done by Tuesday, November 22.

Letters should be addressed to :

The Office of Planning, Evaluation and Legislation

Health Resources Administration.

Center Building, Room 10-22.

3700 East-West Highway

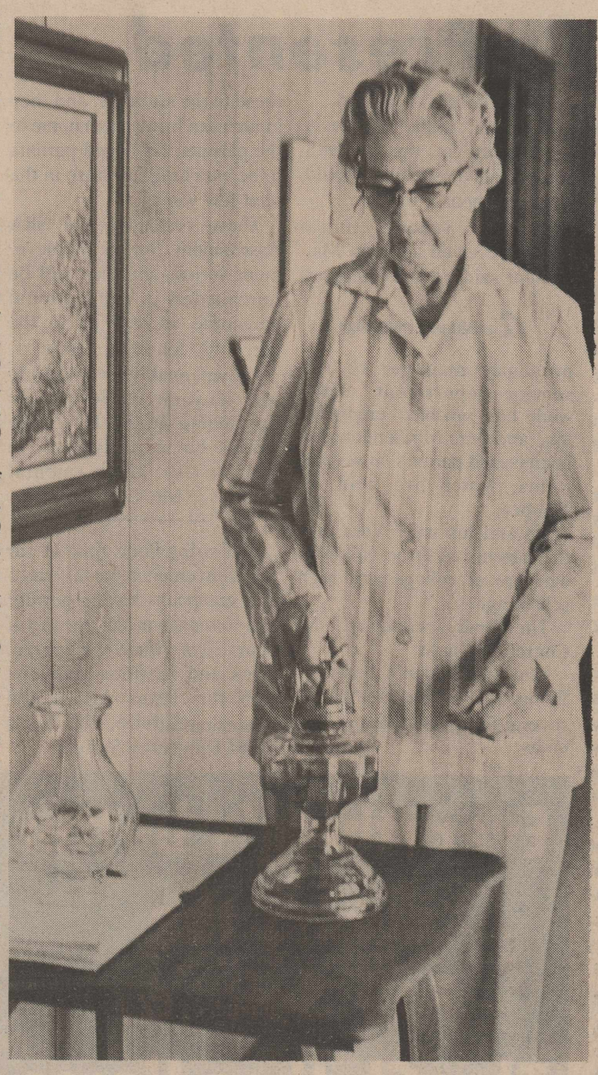

Hyattsville, Md. 20782.

HEW now plans to ask for legislation implementing these guidelines next spring, according to information received here.

Residents are urged to write their congressmen and senators:

Congressman Hightower has already come out as wanting to do anything he can for health care of his constitutients, but B&PW points out he needs support.

The club members also note that persons owning property in other congressional districts and paying taxes there should write those congressmen also.

JAN GLENN

Jan Glen Co-Hosts Show on Houston's Channel Thirteen

HOUSTON (Special) The ew co-host (with Don Nelson) of Houston's Channel 13 Good Morning Houston show is Jan Glenn, who has worked until recently with the Spring Branch School, where she was production coordinator and hostess in the Television closed circuit department of the school district.

This show features the channel's Dialing for Dollars.

It's a giant leap for the pretty schoolmarm, the blond and blue-eyed girl from Wellington.

Spring Branch school district exposure, plus two previous years as weatherperson at Lubbock's ABC-TV affiliate, and a score of local commercials for banks, supermarkets and oil companies, did the trick.

"We've had feelers out since June and we auditioned at least 60 applicants via tapes and resumes," says Channel 13 program manager Jim Masucci. "When I saw Jan's tape, I knew "Dialing" had the person."

For Jan, it was the end of a long campaign to crack local TV barriers. She began sending resumes to Channell 13 news director Walt Hawver six years ago and when she was an art instructor for the Houston Independent School District.

Three years ago she switched to Spring Branch and sent another batch. But Jan never got to first base until recently. That time, she sent a tape with the resume, and fate and the Neilsen numbers were on her side.

"We know changes were in order," Masucci admites, "because our Dialing ratings haven't grown in a couple of years, ever since competition became so tough from the network shows.

"Dialing used to get a 6 or 7 rating, and ran either No. 1 or tied for first in its time slot.

"Now, all the networks are beefing up morning lineups, and the local show is the one to suffer. "With Sanford and Son on NBC and Here's Lucy and the Price is Right on CBS, we're running third with a rating of 4. That never happened before."

Rather then abandon one of the few remaining TV efforts worth saving, Channell 13 has chosen to meet the Challenge, with Jan Glenn!

The show is seen from 9:00 to 10:00 a.m. on station KTRK-TV in Houston. Channell 13 is the ABC outlet.

Jan's show includes fashion shows, home tours of Houstonians such as John Connelly, Gene Tierney, George Bush. Also she has done celebrity interviews. She has interviewed Arlene Dahl, Debbie Reynolds, Alex Karras, Kay Ballard, George Hamilton, and Phyllis Diller.

It also includes cooking, sewing, exercising with Dick Mims and art and symphony.

Jan's shows coming in November include Walt Cunningham, astronaut; Arnold Schwarzenegger, who is Mr. Europe, Mr. America and Mr. Universe; Debbie Boone, Pat Boone's daughter; George Hamilton again; Roy Clark and Dr. Joyce Brothers.

Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Glenn and a graduate of Wellington High School and Texas Tech University. She was Miss Lubbock and a Miss Texas runner-up.

Results of Achievement Tests to Be Presented

Achievement tests were given to children of grades two, three, four and 5 in Elementary School on Tuesday, Oct. 8, and the results of these tests have been received, Louis Graham, school counselor, announced.

Parents who are interested in going over the tests with Mr. Graham should contact him to find out what the child's strengths and weaknesses are and how they can use the strengths to overcome the weaknesses.

An individual skills profile will be given each parents coming to him, and if they will keep these until after the next tests are given, they can be compared to the preceeding year's achievements.

Many parents contacted Mr. Graham following the tests last year, and he said if they will bring these skills profiles when they consult with him this year, they can see what progress has been made.

"We just felt we were not getting in touch with enough of the parents for interpretations, and we want to urge you to contact us if you child has received the test," he said.

In junior high, the tests were given in the seventh grade, and the results should arrive in about a week.

In high school, ninth graders received the test. Mr. Graham said he will interpret

These tests are the SRA Assessment Survey Achievement series, and they will be interpreted in the national percentile as well as in the percentile for small towns.

City Notes Army SurplusEquipment

Wellington City Council held a short meeting Monday, Nov. 7, in which they rejected a bid on the curb and gutter for the new Owens addition to Wellington, and will seek another contractor at what they consider a more reasonable price.

Robert Owens, owner of the addition, is a member of the council, and he concurred with the other members that the price was too high.

Under its present policy, the owner of a new residential development pays the cost of installing the utilities, curb and gutter, and he is reimbursed for it when the addition is 75 percent built up.

City Manager Tiny Taylor listed for the council the Army surplus equipment the city has acquired during the last approximately six months. Taylor pointed out that surplus acquisitions had become a problem in some other Panhandle towns, and he wanted the council to know what it got for the $3,371.34 it spent in this category.

The surplus items include:

1967 Dodge crew cab ¾ ton pickup.

1969 Chevrolet ¾ ton pickup.

Two 1967 1-¼ ton jeeps.

1952 GMC 2½ton truck, which was put under the tar distributor.

1952 GMC 2½ ton dump truck.

1967 Dodge truck.

1954 International 5-ton truck-tractor.

1954 semi trailer 20-ton.

M-5 Moline tractor.

9- ton pneumatic roller.

3 inch Marlow pump.

1967 1¼ ton mini-pumper truck.

Essick Packer

TD 20 Ind. Dozer.

30-ton Backhoe jack.

Air hoist.

18 cases of glass.

4 6-cycle Dodge Engines.

One multifuel engine.

3 picnic tables.

3 electric typewriters.

A truck-load of assorted parts.

The city will have to keep this equipment at least two years before it can dispose of any of it.

In one other piece of business, the council voted to hold the annual Christmas party for employees with the date to be set.

Fabrics that are microwave absorbent--to prevent objects from appearing on radar screens--are now being used for military purposes, reports Beverly Rhoades,

Rockets Smash Mustangs, 34-6

It was late in the 3rd quarter when Ricky Jones dashed 50 yards to put the Rockets on the Claude 25 yard line and put himself over the 1,000 yard season rushing mark.

It was typical of the Wellington ground game that crushed Claude 34-6 at Powell Field in the final game of the season.

The Rocket defense, playing wide and deep, kept Claude's passing attack from becoming a threat and managed to stop the Mustangs' on the ground at the same time.

The win left the Skyrockets 8-2 for the season, 3-1 in district play. But Skyrockets hearts were beating at Clarendon Friday where the Memphis Cyclone drubbed the Bronchos 21-0 to win the district 2-A championship.

The Skyrockets put their first score on the board with only 2 minutes gone. George Darton took the ball in from the 14 and Baldo Nevarez kicked the extra point.

The Skyrockets scored again on the first down of their next possession. This time Ricky Jones followed George Darton's picture-perfect downfield block for 68 yards and the score. Nevarez kick was good again and the Rockets lead 14-0.

A Carl Taylor pass to Arnie Ingram keyed a rocket scoring drive early in the second quarter. Then with first and goal on the 9 Ingram found himself all alone around right end for the score. Nevarez kick made it 21-0 at halftime.

Robert Powell stopped one Claude drive with an interception in the second period, and Jon Sessions intercepted another Claude pass and raced for a touchdown. (That score was nullified by a clipping penalty, however.)

David Baumgardner picked up the third Rocket interception of the night late in the fourth quarter.

A field goal attempt by Baldo Nevarez fell wide of the mark in the third stanza when the Rockets tried their only field goal of the season.

Claude put together a 17-play scoring drive at the opening of the second quarter that ended with Gary Smith plunging over from the 1 yard line for Claude's only score of the night. Brad Dye's extra-point kick was blocked by Ricky Jones.

A good effort by George Darton set up the Rockets next score. Arnie Ingram took the pitchout at the 40 yard line and ran for the goal line. Nevarez kick made the score 28-6.

Robert Powell set up the final Rocket score with another interception.

A 31-yard razzle-dazzle pass from Carl Taylor to Robert Powell with a pitchback to Richard Garcia moved the Rockets to the Claude 12. With 23 seconds remaining, George Darton scored from the 1 yard line. Nevarez kick failed, and the game ended 34-6.

WTU Community Audit Tells Of Wellington Facilities

West Texas Utilities Company late week issued its 1977 Wellington Community Audit.

This gives pertinent information about the city, just as it does for all other towns for which audits are made.

Copies of the audit are available from the Chamber of Commerce, and they are prepared by the WTU area Development Department Abilene, according to Dennis Lasiter, local WTU manager.

Located 102 miles east of Amarillo, Wellington is on Highways US 83 and State 203, and its elevation is 2,000. The Current estimated population is 3,000 for Wellington and 5,000 for the entire county.

Wellington has an effective tax rate of $2.23 per $100 valuation, an increase of 5.36 per cent in the last 5 years.

This includes state tax of 10 cents per $100 assessed value, 956 county rate, $1.30 city tax. $219 school tax, 70 cents hospital tax and 30 cents road and bridge tax. The assessment ratio to current value is 30 percent for state, county, hospital and R&B taxes; 40 percent city tax and $50 percent school tax.

In addition, the city has a one percent sales tax.

The audit gives pertinent information on the city government,its fire department and the combined law enforcement program. The audit notes that the total operating budget of the city is $532,646. It explains the services available by West Texas Utilities Company and Lone Star Gas Company, as well General Telephone Company and the city-owned water department, which draws water from three 6-inch wells with a maximum system capacity of 2.2 million gallons daily. The maximum daily use is 1.5 million gallons.

Assets, deposits, loans and capital and surplus of the two banks and one savings and loan company are given.

Industries are noted, and in addition to Southwestern Rail Products Inc., these include West Texas Engine Co., established here in 1966; Hiett and Hiett Construction, 1973; Childress Mattress Co., 1919; and The Wellington Leader, 1909. Southwestern Rail will employ approximately 60 persons, the others combined will employ about 16-18.

A recent chamber of Commerce labor survey shows a total labor force of 2,206 and 58 unemployed.

From the economic standpoint, here is Wellington's profile: the average buying income per household is $10,107, while retail sales per household amount to 4,977. The per capita income is $3,996.

The percentage of households by cash income groups includes:0-$3,000 - 14.4 per cent; $3,000 to $5,000 - 17 per cent; $5,000 to $8,000 - 22.6 percent; $8,000 to $10,000 - 9.2 percent; $10,000 to $15,000 - 16.4 percent and those with incomes over $15,000 per year - 20.4 percent.

The total income for the county totals approximately $17 million.

There are a total of 40 employed by the Texas Highway Department and federal government who bring in a total payroll of $269,696 per year.

The county's transportation services include Marian Airpark, with a runway of 2,500 feet,; three motor freight lines, Curry, Mistletoe and United Parcel; one railroad, the Ft. Worth and Denver, with one train per week, and no city bus or taxi service.

With 800 students enrolled, Wellington's school system has 38 teachers, and the operating budget for 1976-77 was $1,322,093.

Total county, state and federal aid received during that period amounted to $526,311, and taxes accounted for $258,680. The bonded indebtedness amounts to $1,377,362.

Of the 44 graduates this spring, it is estimated that 40 are attending school.

The audit notes that five institutions of higher learning lie within 100 miles of Wellington: Clarendon Junior College, Altus Junior College, Amarillo College, West Texas State University and Texas State Technical Institute.

Extension courses are offered by AC and TSTI.

The city finds its recreation in two parks, with a rodeo arena, baseball field, two gymnaisum, community building, volleyball courts and a motocross race track.

Nearby lakes and hunting facilities include Lakes McClellan, Lugert, Greenbelt, Baylor and Childress; the Salt Fork of Red River. "All types of game birds and deer are plentiful in the area," the audit notes.

The annual average temperature is 60.5 degrees, with the average daily maxmum 73.8 and the minimum 47.2. There are an average of 93 days per year when the temperature is over 90 degrees, and 10 days when it is under below freezing.

The annual rainfall listed by the audit is 21.01 inches. (The Texas Almanac lists an inch more.) January is the dryest months with the moisture averaging .52 inch, and May is wettest, with 3.85 rainfall average.

There is an average of 212 days between killing frosts.

The town's medical facilities include the 28-bed Collingsworth General Hospital; There is one newspaper; TV viewers are served by cable service; and there is one library with 6,000 volumes (The number has increased to approximately 8,000). There are 11 churches and one rest home with 82 patient capacity.

As to the industrial development program, Wellington Industrial Board has funds available to assist qualified industries. There is a 16-acre site already served by utilities available to be developed as an industrial park, and a 50 x 125 masonry building available for lease or lease purchase.

Avian Botulism Killing Ducks

LUBBOCK--Several thousand waterfowl in the southwestern Texas Panhandle are sick or dying from a disease known as type "C" avian botulism.

Texas Parks and wildlife Department field biologists have been working in Parmer County since the outbreak was first discovered September 20. Since then, according to P&WD biologist Max Traweek, some 3,000 ducks have died and many more are sick.

Traweek said outbreaks of avian botulism, which is harmless to humans, occur nearly every year on shallow playa lakes in the Panhandle.

The botulism bacteria form spores which can remain dormant for years in the soil. When they multiply the bacteria produce a powerful toxin which causes paralysis in the respiratory systems of birds.

Ducks contact the bacteria while feeding on the bottom of the playa lakes and along the exposed mud flats.

Most of the ducks involved are blue and green-winged teal, mallards and gadwall.

There is no cure for the disease. Heavy rains to cover the mudflats or cold weather to make the bacteria dormant are the only controls.

P&WD biologists assisted by federal refuge personnel are gathering the dead waterfowl and burning them, to reduce the possibility of further spread of the disease.

Shamrock Soldiers Complete Training

Ft. Benning, Ga. (AHTNC) --Private Douglas O. Rives, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rives, and Johnny L. Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio M. Garcia, of Shamrock, completed seven weeks of advanced individual training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, and mine warefare, field communications and combat operations. This qualified him as a light weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

He was taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Some cured hams say "water added," says Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Federal regulations say hams must weigh the same during curing as before. Ham that absorbs water in processing must read "water added," the specialist says.

Our funeral home has been inspected and approved by the City Health Officer, Dr. Charles B. Jones; Fire Marshall, Deputy Sheriff Richard Keller; and a representative of the State Board of Morticians. As of November 8th we can now accept your calls and serve your needs.

Crane Hunters Must Have Permit

LUBBOCK--Only hunters possessing a 1977 sandhill crane permit issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be allowed to hunt cranes during the upcoming season which starts Nov. 1 in Zone A and Dec. 5 in Zone B.

The permit will allow the hunter to participate in the hunt in accordance with the provisions of both state and federal regulations.

Following the close of the season on Jan. 31, 1978, the permittee will be contacted by mail and asked to report the number of times hunted, number of cranes bagged and number downed but not retrieved. This information will help the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the P&WD determine crane harvests in Texas.

Applicants may obtain permits for more than one individual if each name, address and county of residence is supplied by letter to John Roberson, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744 or by calling 512-475-4871.

Quail Makes Good Showing in Games at Mobeetie and Arnett

Quail basketball teams have met Mobeetie and Arnett in their first two outings, and they made good showings, in view of their having no practice court and must depend for progress on what they can do in scheduled games.

Mobeetie boys won the opener 54-51, with Harvey Oatman as high point man, scoring 21. Russ Mangum, Ralph Fielding and Ray Villion had two each; Ricky Needham 9; Ronald Alston one and David Torrez four.

Quail hit 30 percent of its tries from the field and made 3 of 14 at the free throw line. Greg Estes scored 12 points for Mobeetie.

Quail girls were outdistanced 53-37. Melissa Guthrie had 16 points, Donna Langley 15, Lee Ann Marcum four and Kay Guthrie two.

The girls hit 33 percent of their goals from the field and five out of 20 at the free throw line, according to Coach Tommy Thornhill.

Zana Corse had 21 points for Mobeetie.

Arnett, Okla., boys outscored Quail 65-39 in their second game. Oatman had 10 points; Villion 9; Mangum 8, Needham 6, and Guthrie, Alston and Torrez two each. They attempted five free throws and hit three.

Willie White was high point man for Arnett with 24, and that team made 9 of 19 free shots attempted.

The girls game saw Arnett come out ahead 36-21. Donna Langley had 9 points; Marcum three and Katy Guthrie two. Carol Bagle and Kim Butler each scored 16 points for Arnett. That team also scored 10 of 18 free shots and Quail made 3 of 15. Quail hit 31 percent of its shots from the floor, Arnett 42 percent.

Trading Moderate On Cotton at Memphis Market

Trading was moderately active this week with the volume of cotton available for sale increasing. Prices for most lots rose to an average of 300-350 points over government loan rates early in the week but by Friday averaged 200-250 points over the loan, about the same level as the previous Friday. At present, very little premuim is being paid for grades higher than 32 or staples longer than 32. Growers received an average of $62 per ton for cottonseed.

About 11,700 samples were classed at Memphis for the week ending Friday, November 4, bringing the season's total to 16,900. The Memphis office had not yet opened as of this date last year.

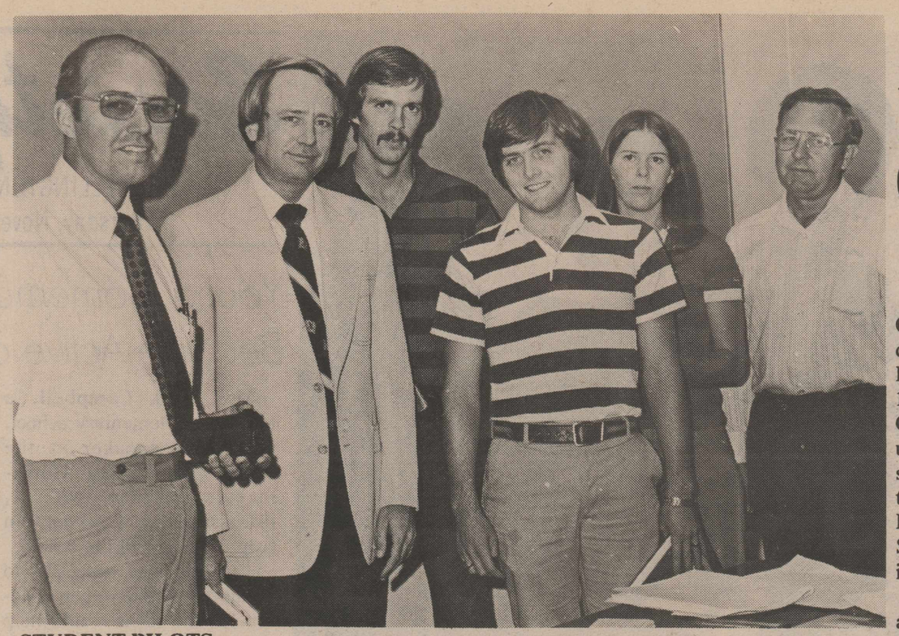

White grades accounted for 40 percent of the week's classing, while light spotted grades made up 58 percent. The predominant grades were 32 with 39 percent and 31 with 26 percent. Major staple lengths were 32 with 46 percent and 31 with 30 percent. Micronaire readings were in the desirable range on 82 percent of the samples tested. Ten percent miked 5.0-5.2 and six percent miked 5.3 and above. Average pressley for the week was 87 pounds per square inch.

New Coal-Fired Plant for WTU

A permit has been granted by the state Water Rights Commission for West Texas Utilities Co. to use water from Lake Kemp and Lake Diversion to operate a proposed coal-fired power plant.

Walter Meller, WTU generation engineer who attended a hearing before the commission this past week in Austin, said there was no opposition to the permit.

"This is just another step in the process of planning and eventually building what will be our company's largest generating plant," Meller said.

STUDENT PILOTS

Altus College Offers Pilot School

ALTUS - The Western Oklahoma State College Tuesday evening aviation classes, Private Pilot Ground School 1313 and Commercial Pilot Ground School 1323, are made up of a very unique group of 42 students according to instructor Henry Hartsell. Rodney Bailey, Wellington High School instructor, is enrolled in the course.

Hartwell said that there is almost always a good enrollment in these classes as far as numbers go, but the uniqueness of this class is in the diversity of the students.

"Seventeen per cent of the group are women in Private Pilot ground School, and one of them, Tamara Myers, is still in high school." said Hartsell.

Hartsell went on to say that included in the group are an attorney, an opthamologist, a veterinarian, some teachers, farmers and housewives.

"Also," continued Harsell, "there are students from all five counties of our college service area as well as a couple who drive from as far away as Wellington, Texas."

The ground school courses are three credit hour classes, or they may be audited. They prepare students for the Federal Aviation Administration written examinations.

Young Homemakers Urged to Become Active on Area Level

Mrs. Jack Campbell, a teacher in elementary school, was guest speaker at the Wellington Young Homemakers Tuesday, Nov. 1, discussing how a mother can help a young child in school.

This appealed especially to members with younger children, as the ideas would help them develop their children into better students from the beginning of their school years.

Mrs. Campbell spoke of five basic areas of academic ability.

The first, auditory discrimination, is the child's ability to listen carefully and respond and to discriminate between similar words and sounds.

Verbal meaning, on the other hand, is the child's ability to understand and respond to oral instruction and conversation.

Perceptual speed is the child's ability to see differences in similar forms, Mrs. Cambell pointed out. These are needed to see differences in letters and numbers.

Number facility covers the child's ability to count objects, and his concept of quantity and placement, and reasoning.

Final, spacial relations are the child's ability to picture fitting forms together.

Three guests, area officers of state from Childress, discussed Young Homemaker work and urged the Wellington women to be more active on the area level. They were Sandra Christy, state reporter-historian; Pam Harpole, past area officer, and Peggy Teague, Area I treasurer. Other guests were Mrs. Ted Wheeler, an immediate past area officer who moved from Childress to Wellington recently, and Mrs. Dan McCoy, who came here from Hamlin, where she was chapter president; Other guests were Mrs. Herbie Duncan and Mrs. John Blevins and Mrs. Campbell.

Members present were Mrs. Dennis Cudd, president, Mrs. Ronnie Hill, Mrs. Larry Henard, advisor, Mrs. Jerry Lewis, Mrs. Tommy Powell, Mrs. Bill Spillman, Mrs. Dan Henard, Mrs. Redgie Souder, Mrs. Danny Watts, Mrs. Gary Lemons, Mrs. Joe Wood, Mrs. Rick Motsenbocker, Mrs. Joe Harris, Mrs. Reed Souder, Mrs. Nicky Watts, Mrs. Leamon Bawcom, Mrs. Gary Killian, Mrs. Dallas Holland, Mrs. Doug Seal, Mrs. Mike Barjenbruch, Mrs. Don Hendrix, and Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

Mrs. Terry Hosts Club

The Midway Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, November 2 in the Heritage Room with Mrs. Joe Terry serving as hostess.

Mrs. Cecil Masten opened with prayer and Mrs. Terry gave the devotional. Mrs. Charles Cason read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

Each member answered roll call by telling what they were thankful for this year.

During the business meeting the group decided to change their next meeting from Nov. 16 to Nov. 21 to attend the Christmas decoration program presented by the West Texas Utilities Home Economist.

Mrs. David Peters gave a crock pot demonstration. The December 7th Christmas party will be in her home and gifts will be exchanged.

Present were Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. Master, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Cason Mrs. James Masten, Mrs. Van Brandes, Mrs. Donald Curry, Mrs. Peters, a guest, Mrs. Jimmie Kelso and the hostess Mrs. Terry.

Spend Less for Better Health-- The Guidelines are Simple

'Try spending less for better health,'' suggests Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Last year the country spent $120 billion--$550 per person--on personal health care, the specialist says. Here are some tips that could help cut down on medical bills.

1. Strive for and maintain a sound, healthy body. This includes a good diet, exercise, adequate rest, daily flossing and brushing of teeth, and good personal hygiene.

2. Have regular dental and medical (including vision and hearing) check-ups. How often these checkups need to be scheduled will depend upon an individual's health and the advice of the medical professionals.

3. When there is a health problem, see a doctor as soon as possible. A delay in treatment can result in more serious problems.

4. Learn the basics about treating minor illnesses at home and first aid practices.

5. Follow the doctor's orders. Many people will pay for an office visit with the doctor but not follow through with the prescribed treatment.

6. Be prepared with adequate health insurance. Compare the insurance plans and determine what coverage would be best for you and your family. Keep the insurance updated.

7. Keep the whole family fully immunized against communicable diseases.

8. Keep medical records of all health-related experiences. This will help you at tax time and will provide information on your medical history for the doctor.

9. Prevent accidents in the car and at home by following safety rules and periodic checks of the car and the home for any potential accident situations. Make sure that the whole family knows what to do and how to escape the house in case of fire.

10. Take advantage of free or low-cost health services that may be in your community. These often include well-baby clinics, immunizations, and screening tests offered periodically by health organizations.

The bitter orange was the only kind known in Europe until after 1500 A.D. It was used as a seasoning, not as a fruit.

There are goats in Tennessee and Mississippi that actually fall into a dead faint at any loud sound-a thunderclap, an engine starting up, even the clatter of a feed bucket. The cause is not cowardice, but an inherited nerve disorder.

Know Where Money Goes

To know where your money goes, devise a Personal Spending Plan, suggests Dr. Carolyn McKinney, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Make decisions about what you need, what you dream of, and exactly where you want your personal spending plan to lead, the specialist says.

Ask yourself these questions:

1. What are you goals? The first step in making a spending plan is to set goals. These must reflect your family's needs and be realistic in relation to present and future estimated income. Decide which goals are most important.

2. What is your income for the planning period? This money may come from a job(include only take-home pay), life insurance benefits, pension payments, etc. If your income is irregular, consider making two estimmates. Plan first on the basis of the low income figure and then consider how you would use additional income.

3. What are your ''fixed expenses? ''Fixed'' expenses include basic necessities and any regular monthly payments for which you are legally obligated. You will probably include items such as rent or mortgage payments, installment contract payments, basic expenditures for food and utilities and insurance prememuims.

4. What amount remains for discretionary spending? Money left after step 3 can be used for additional expenditures for basic items, for other needs and for wants or for savings.

5. How does your spending compare with your Plan? This comparison helps you locate imbalances and make revisions.

Your financial record book could be a loose-ieaf notebook or a record book from the variety store. If this is your first budget and expenditure record, you may want to set up a 3-month trial plan.

When you see how your plan works, you can revise it to cover a longer period.

CHRISTMAS IDEAS

Beautiful Wreath

Herbs are "in" these days, not only to give your cooking a livelier flavor, but also to give a fresh, clean aroma to your surroundings, whether used in the latest cologne—or in the form of dried arrangement hanging on your wall as a holiday decoration.

A wreath made from such traditional scents as frankincense and myrrh will make you think of Christmases of long ago, when these spices from the East were worth their weight in gold. Add eucalyptus, nutmeg, lavender and thyme and it's quite a heady mixture. Holiday creations with herbs, such as the wreath pictured and aromatic wicker hanging wall and table baskets, centerpiece, herb and spice cup, decorator basket, corsages and an herb and spice arrangement in a natural terra cotta pot, are all the exclusive designs of Gilbertie's of Westport.

HERB-SCENTED holiday wreath can spice up a home.

Miss Wells Hostess as Excelsior Club has Study of Paul Cezanne

Miss Hattie D. Wells was hostess and program leader as Excelsior Club met for a study of the artist, Paul Cezanne, Thursday evening, Nov. 3.

Miss Dorothy Robertson presided at the business meeting.

"Paul Cezanne, who achieved little fame in his lifetime is now recognized as perhaps the greatest painter of the nineteenth century," said Miss Wells of the artist, whose life spanned the years 1839-1909.

"Henri Matisse spoke for the modern painters when he called Cezanne "the father of us all."

"This year the "national exhibit" is the Cezanne show at the New York Museum of Modern Art. On January 3, it moves to Houston. This exhibit traces the change in Cezanne's work which made art what it is today. This development is shown by means of two slide shows, a scholarly catalog, a room of photos and comparisons. There are rich galeries of paintings and water colors, that are described as a phlanx march of color.

"A critic has written that there has seldom been a painter whose mature style differed so from his early.

"Cezanne's evolved in four stages: his early emotional style, the impressionistic period, what has been called his constructive and fourth, a period of synthesis blending all four.

'During the early years, he yearned for fame, but when it came in the last decade of his life, he seemed hardly to notice it. Living quietly in Aix, he continued to turn all his energies to painting.

"I have caught a glimpse of the Promised Land," he wrote his dealer in 1903. "Am I to be like the great leader of the Jews or am I to be allowed to enter it?"

"Among later generations there was no doubt that Cezanne, like a latter-day Moses, had indeed led the way to a whole new world in a art."

A dessert plate was served to Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Rama Camp, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Rose Shadid and the hostess, Miss Wells.

A LOG FOR THE TABLE

Crisp, chilly autumn winds often blow the entire family indoors for awhile and Chocolate Cookie Log, made with Dream Whip whipped topping mix, is truly luscious. Surrounded by fanciful decorations created by the youngsters, this dessert can turn a housebound evening into a family party. By keeping a supply of whipped topping mix and chocolate wafers on your pantry shelf, you'll always be prepared for a party.

CHOCOLATE COOKIE LOG

3/4 cup cold milk
1 envelope whipped topping mix
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract (optional)
Few drops red food coloring (optional)
1 package chocolate wafers (about 36)

Blend milk, whipped topping mix, sugar, extract and food coloring in deep narrow-bottom bowl. Whip with hand beater or at high speed of electric beater until topping peaks. Then whip 2 minutes longer until topping is light and fluffy. Spread about 1 tablespoon whipped topping on each cookie and stack in groups of 6 to 8. Place cookie stacks on tray to form a log. Frost top and sides with remaining whipped topping. Chill at least 4 hours. Garnish with crushed peppermint candies, if desired, and cut into diagonal slices. Refrigerate any leftover dessert. Makes 8 servings.

Autumn's Haze is Different

A philosopher once said that nothing is permanent except change, so I suppose I shouldn't be surprised that even autumns change with the passing years.

It was late afternoon last week that, as I watched an echelon of geese winging southward in the gold-flecked western horizon, I noticed the autumn haze was different.

The autumn haze different?

Yes, it might seem to be the usual haze to most young 'uns, but to me it isn't the same haze at all, but a haze which, if analyzed by the science types, would be revealed to contain fine particles of dust along with exhaust effluvia from automobiles and nothing more.

In it would be none of that sweet smoke from burning wood that once perfumed the autumn mists, and in it would be none of that pungent smoke from dozens of cotton gins that, when I was a boy, pervaded the fall atmosphere from late September to Christmas.

And therein lies the melancholy for this one-time cotton picker.

So, autumns have changed, and especially the haze of autumn has changed. We still have the reds and golds and orange in the fall foliage, but without that old-time rush of cotton season, the smoke pall settled around the horizon, and the smarting noses, it simply isn't what an autumn should be.

When I was a boy across the Raging Red in Altus, Oklahoma a dozen cotton gins operated each fall. On week days, then long lines of wagons, piled high with snowy cotton, the fruit of the autumn fields, waited patiently outside each gin....So that kids could help in the harvest, schools then started in August and turned out for the rush season that lasted up until Christmas.

Glenn Shelton in the Wichita Falls Times

Saying It Simply

We spent a couple of days last week in Lubbock attending the semi-annual meeting of the advisory committee of Texas Tech's Mass Communication Department. The advisory committee consists of men from over the state who are active in newspapers, radio stations, television stations and in advertising. It is an informative type of meeting and serves to keep the Tech journalism people in closer touch with those who are out in the real world working for a living in this field.

One of the journalism professors, Dr. Harmon Morgan, has been for several years giving a qualifying test to journalism majors in the basics of grammar, spelling and typing. He told us this week that for the past five years the average test scores have been slipping and this year was no exception. Using 100 as a perfect score, the Morgan test revealed that the 60 Tech sophomores who took the grammar test averaged 60.8 percent. Only two students made more than 80 on it. Thirteen made less than 50. Dr. Morgan showed us the test and we had to admit that we might have to brush up on our grammar before tackling it. But to a question that inquired if this were not too hard for a college sophomore, Dr. Morgan replied that it is a grammar test given to eighth graders a generation ago.

Dr. Morgan lays this deficiency upon a lack of toughness and discipline in the lower grades of school and that we do get poor students when we try to make things easy for them and move them along without demanding much of them. Dr. Harmon Morgan is rather tough himself. He is the professor who brought down the wrath of all red blooded Tech football students and alumni last year when he flunked Tech quarterback Tommy Dunniven, stating rather simply that Dunniven could not be given a grade because he had not come to class enough to qualify, and had not turned in enough work to be graded. The heat was hot but Dr. Morgan stood firm, and we admire him for it.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—High level state officials are continuing to express their objections in strongest terms to President Carter's energy program.

While Gov. Dolph Briscoe was lobbying with a House-Senate conference committee in Washington, D.C., for additional production incentives, the Texas Energy Advisory Council unanimously urged the conferees to ditch key presidential proposals.

Briscoe, indignant at White House cancellation of a conference with governors on production matters, charged there is no way the Carter program can meet its goals.

The state council, made up of major Texas officials, meanwhile, advised killing a crude oil equalization tax as a burden on Texas consumers, the economy and state governmental ability to levy the taxes necessary to finance services.

Other features of the resolution included recommendations to reject the House proposal to tax business and utility users of oil and natural gas, adopt the Senate version of natural gas pricing and assign priority in natural gas supply and pricing preferences to gas used for irrigation pumping and crop drying.

The council further went on record for a White House conference to discuss with the president how to achieve his coal production goals consistent with national environmental objectives. And members urged research into agricultural products as possible alternative sources of energy.

Appointments

Gov. Briscoe made two major appointments back-to-back October 28.

He named Steven C. Oaks, 39, Houston attorney, as secretary of state succeeding Mark White who resigned to run for attorney general.

Immediately afterward, he announced the selection of former State Rep. John Poerner of Hondo to succeed Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon who resigned effective December 31. Poerner will take over January 1 and serve until the next general election.

Another major appointment announced recently was that of Harvey D. Davis of Temple as executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

Bob Bain, Fort Worth Star-Telegram capitol bureau chief for the last seven years, joined Briscoe's staff November 4 as press secretary. Charles D. "Chick" Morris, who has held the position since April 1976, became director of public information for the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

Hearings Set

Texas Air Control Board held 24 hearings this month to determine what citizens want to do about new requirements in the Federal Clean Air Act.

New amendments will "affect the daily lives of every Texan because of the sweeping changes required in the state's air pollution control program," TACB Executive Director Bill Stewart said.

Hearings were conducted in Waco, Wichita Falls, Bryan, Abilene, Beaumont, Lake Jackson, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Harlingen, Austin, Houston, Tyler, Odessa, Corpus Christi, Longview, Laredo, Texas City, Fort Worth and Victoria during the first week of November.

Other hearings were set for Denison and Texarkana November 10, Lubbock November 14 and Amarillo November 15.

Courts Speak

Negligence of a pathologist who ordered radiation treatment for a man mistakenly diagnosed as lung cancer victim cannot be the basis of a suit against a hospital when the doctor was not an officer or employee there, the Supreme Court held.

In other action, the high court affirmed rulings awarding $80,000 and a $586 a month pension to heirs of a telephone company executive, T. O. Gravitt, who committed suicide.

The Supreme Court also turned down the suit of a suspended Potter County attorney seeking reinstatement following allegations he had taken county property and misapplied funds.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the attempted murder conviction of a Shelby County man based on a faulty indictment.

Attorney General Opinions

A newspaper used for legal notices must meet the requirements of Article 28a of civil statutes, including entry as second class postal matter in the county of publication, Atty. Gen. John L. Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Legislation permitting incorporation of an area with at least 8,000 residents located within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of another municipality is not unconstitutional as a local or special law.

A bill which abolishes the civil, criminal, juvenile and probate jurisdiction of the Reeves County Court is constitutional.

Short Snorts

The State Board of Education will approve the final list of textbooks for adoption at its Saturday (November 12) meeting following a public hearing by the board's committee of the whole Thursday.

The tenth job matching fair to help the unemployed find jobs is scheduled November 19 in Cisco.

Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Jim Wells, Maverick, Starr, Webb, Willacy and Val Verde counties were designated disaster areas due to economic injury from peso devaluation.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said his auditors collected an additional $81 million in taxes owed the state during fiscal 1977.

The Railroad Commission has suspended a 57 per cent increase in rates for natural gas service in unincorporated areas of Limestone and Freestone counties and ordered a hearing on the Brown Oil and Gas Company proposal for December 20.

U.S. Marshal Clint Peoples received the governor's tourist development award for helping establish the Fort Fisher Park complex in Waco.

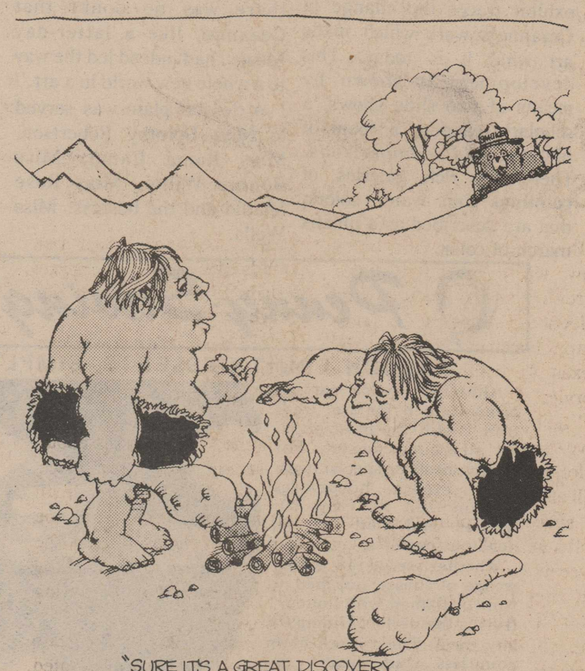

Alonzo King of San Antonio received the Texas Hospitality award, and Ila Loetscher of South Padre Island received a special citation for saving endangered species of sea turtles. Presentations were made at the 12th annual Texas Conference on Tourist Development here.

BOWLING FACTS and FANCIES!

Though Rip Van Winkle probably never thought of it when he played his game of tenpins in New York's Catskill Mountains, the search for an automatic pinspotter goes back a long way. Happily, this year celebrates the 25th anniversary of the first bowling center to install one.

The first major step in the development of the automatic pinspotter came in 1936 when Fred J. Schmidt began building the first full-size model in a turkey house in the rear of his home in Pearl River, N.Y. But it wasn't until 1952 that the automatic pinspotters were introduced to American bowlers by AMF.

Revival Opens at 1st Baptist Sunday

First Baptist Church, Wellington will be involved in revival services, beginning Sunday, Nov. 13, and continuing through the following Sunday, Nov. 20. The services will be led by the Rev. Charles Shipman of Tupelo, Miss., and Sonny Rios, evangelist singer from Dallas.

Services on the two Sundays will be at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.; Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Saturday 7:30 p.m. only.

Rev. Shipman is a native of Mississippi and graduated from Tupelo, Miss., high school, Itarvamna Junior College and William Carey College. He also attended Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Mo.

He has served several churches as pastor, including the First Baptist Church in Sayre, Alabama. He has been in full-time evangelistic ministry for 10 of the past 12 years.

Music for the revival will be under the direction of Sonny Rios, full-time music evangelist from Dallas. Rios is a Cherokee Indian, and possesses a concert tenor voice. He is a graduate of North Texas State University, Denton, with a degree in music.

"Because of the quality of his voice, Mr. Rios receives invitations from many directions to use his talents. He has sung in Mexico, Puerto Rico, Spain, France, England and across the U.S.A.

This will be the first trip to Wellington for both Charles and Sonny. Therefore, we encourage the people of Wellington to come out in great numbers to hear these men and make them feel welcome in our wonderful city."

Now is Time to Plant Spring Flowering Bulbs

Buy spring flowering bulbs now while nurseries and garden centers have a wide selection, suggests a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Selecting bulbs early will give you a wider choice of colors and flower types and will also improve your chances of successful plantings since bulbs will still be fresh," says Everett Janne. "Bulbs will dry out after a while and won't do as well. Also, planting them late will not give them time to develop a good root system before cold weather arrives."

The horticulturist suggests planting daffodils and crocus as soon as they become available.

However, for best results tulips and hyacinths should be chilled in a refrigerator from now until mid-December before planting.

"Pre-cooled bulbs are frequently advertised, but unless the bulbs are kept in cold storage, the normal temperature in most garden stores can negate the effect of the pre-cooled period," notes Janne. "Also, if tulips and hyacinth bulbs are planted before mid-December, warm soil temperaures can nullify the treatment. Without the chilling effect the performance and flower quality will be poor and the stems will be extremely short, often not coming above the soil."

For best results the horticulturist suggests locating the bulb bed in full sun in well-drained soil or in a raised bed. To prepare the bed for planting, till the soil a week or so before planting time and incorporate plenty of organic matter. Also add about two pounds of a complete fertilizer high in phosphorous per 100 square feet of bed.

"The most effective flower display can be obtained by massing a group of bulbs of one variety and color," points out Janne. "Plant bulbs about four inches apart and place the base of the bulb at a depth that is about three times the diameter of the bulb. Soak the bed thoroughly after planting and then wait for the spring magic."

In many areas of the state bulb beds can be over-planted with pansies for winter color until the bulbs begin to bloom. The flower stalks of the bulbs will push on up above the pansies; then as the bulbs die back the pansies can take over the show until spring arrives.

Daffodils will reflower year after year, but tulips and hyacinths should be considered as annuals in the South and replanted each fall, adds Janne.

Deer Season Opens Nov. 19

WHS American History Class to Honor Veterans of Four Wars

The Wellington High School American History class will honor veterans of four wars Friday, Nov. 11, in the auditoruim. Starting time is 10:00 a.m.

Class members will present the high points of the last 60 years of history. Songs and skits will represent each of the 6 decades. "Johnny Goes to War," a play, pays tribute to World War I veterans. A song by freshmen girls will depict the mood of the roaring twenties. A short selection from "Sounder" wil give a reminder of depression days.

The forties was the time of the World War II, and Hogan's Heroes will represent this period, said Mrs. Ruth Norman, teacher.

Happier times came in the fifties. Racquel Neeley, a first-grade student, will sing selections from this period. The time of the Korean War will be represented by a skit, "In Lovely South Korea."

The Sixties were a time of unrest, highlighted by the Vietnam War. A short war scene will be presented.

Patriotic songs will pay tribute to the seventies.

Veterans of the four wars and those serving in the armed forces are urged to attend, said Mrs. Norman.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

By BILLY MOSELEY
President
CITY STATE BANK

Almost two years ago the Commission on Federal Paperwork asked bankers, among others, how the government could abate the blizzard of forms, reports, questionnaires. The commission, created by President Ford in 1974, made its final report Oct. 5, 1977. Banks submitted 147 forms that regularly must be completed and filed with various regulatory agencies. Also, the tendency toward proliferation of federal paperwork was emphasized by calling attention to pending regulations proposed by federal agencies to require that banks collect data on race and sex of applicants for certain types of loans. Aside from wasted time of both bank and customer, such questions could lead the public to believe — mistakenly — that banks use the information in credit determinations. We don't! It would be illegal discrimination. We hope bank testimony to the commission results in checking the increasing number of forms required by law when you do business with us . . . you can BANK on it!

Gen. Telephone Offers Customers Dual Listings

General Telephone customers may now order dual name listing in the telephone directory, according to J.H. Davis, division manager.

This new service allows residential customers to list two first names or sets of initials with a single last name, if both persons reside at the same address and share the same phone number. Nicknames may be included also.

Here are some examples of dual listings available:

Smith, Samuel & Sarah

Jones, E.A. (Buddy), & Mary

Each customer decides which name will appear first in the listing.

If each person wishes his/her name to appear first, customers still have the option of purchasing an extra listing at a small monthly charge.

Existing customers who select to order the dual name listings will pay a one-time charge, but if other service is requested at the same time, such as a second telephone, no charge will be made.

Norwood, Briscoe Split Opening Duo

Samnorwood Eagles won their season opener 49-38 from Briscoe on their home court Tuesday, Nov. 1, and in the other half of the double header, the Eaglettes dropped their game by only two points, 55-53.

Norwood girls were nervous during the first part of their game and trailed 12-4 at the end of the first period and 30-15 at halftime.

Coming back in the third period, they scored 16 points and held Briscoe to 11. Then in the final quarter, they upped their shots to 22, and again held Briscoe under control, allowing only 14 points. Time ran out a little too soon, however, DiAnna Schaub led the scoring with 31 points, while Tonya Kincannon had 20 and Sally Kincannon two. Guards were Kim Peeples, Margaret Sanderson, Donnie Knoll, Leitha Martindale and Ravena Graves.

T. Tipps scored 39 points for Briscoe.

Samnorwood boys also had a slow start, scoring only 8 points in the opening period to 15 for Briscoe. The Eagles brought their game under control during the second and made 13 points while Briscoe scored 8.

The Eagles pushed ahead in the third period, 35-38, and they widened the margin to a final 49-38.

Lowry Schaub led the Eagle scoring with 18 points; Randy Breeding had 12; Richard Lee, 6; Ricky Bentley, 5; Russell Schaub, four; Michael Bentley and J.D. Ray, two each. The other player was Jody Knoll.

Keith Horn had 15 points for Briscoe.

Stock Questionnaire to Farmers-Ranchers Soon

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determing the final acreage, yield and production of crops and the end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the State of Texas and for each county.

Reliable information on what is produced, how much, and where is important to farmers, ranchers, and others in making production and marketing decisions and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. It is also the basis for determining allotment and payment levels to producers by USDA under the various commodity programs.

Cooperation by producers is the key to all crop and livestock estimates. Farmers and ranchers have recognized the need for accurate and timely statistics by participation in the program since its start over a century ago. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate. This is a cooperative effort of the USDA'S Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

County statistics for 1976 and January 1, 1977, are available on Livestock, Poultry, Dairy, Field Crops, Small Grains, Cotton, Vegetables, Fruits and Pecans, and Cash Receipts from the Sale of Texas Farm Commodities. Bulletins can be obtained from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Tx 78767, or by writing Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.
