Floydada Men Are Denied Bond In Student Slaying

Habeas Corpus Hearing To Be Held For Pair

Examining Trials Are Held At Floydada Saturday; Hearing For Release On Bond To Be Held On Thursday

State Offers Four Witnesses While Defense Has None For Opening Action; Youth Tells Of Fatal Events

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

FLOYDADA, April 8.—Habeas corpus proceedings to effect release of J. R. Readhimer, 56-year-old Daugherty farmer, and his son, V. A. Readhimer, 26, were begun here today after Justice of the Peace J. S. Solomon denied bond to the accused slayers of Stokes Campbell, 19.

The habeas corpus hearings will be before Judge Kenneth Bain of 110th district court here Thursday mornng at 10 o'clock, District Attorney A. J. Folley said tonight.

Examining Trials Held

Solomon's action in denying the accused killers bond came after examining trials this morning. The state offered four witnesses; the defendants none.

The story told by the four state witnesses was that the younger Readhimer held Campbell, a high school student, while J. R. Readhimer fired two shots into Campbell's back. Then, after Campbell had fallen face downward in Main street, the elder Readhimer fired two shots into the back of Campbell's head.

Youth Testifies

John Eudy, 15-year-old companion of Campbell, testified that the elder Readhimer, after driving up to where Fudy and Campbell were about to enter a car, called to the latter, "Come here a minute, Stokes." Both father and son got out of the car and the younger Readhimer caught Campbell by the arm, Eudy said. The witness testified the victim called out "Help" seven or eight times.

Other witnesses were Dale Strickland, filling station operator; F. C. Harmon, undertaker, and E. S. Randerson, sheriff, to whom the Readhimers surrendered.

George Bernard Shaw Says American Is Funny Animal

HAVANA, April 8. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, who stopped off here today in the course of a world cruise which will take him to New York, denied once again that he had ever said in the presence of Helen Keller that all Americans are deaf, dumb and blind.

"The American is a funny animal," Mr. Shaw said. "Tell him he has a nose on his face and two eyes, and immediately he is insulted. The Italians and the Russians are not so dumb, so deaf, so blind, because they are tackling their problems in a new way."

Governor Murray To Sign New Proration Bill Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8. (AP),—By the time Governor Murray signs the new proration bill, probably around noon Monday, it was expected tonight that the corporation commission will have its appointees selected for umpire, assistant umpire and attorney.

Although many observers consider these posts as "patronage plums", the consensus among oil men appears to be to the contrary. Thus the naming of men to fill the three posts becomes a complicated problem.

Further Limitations Upon Jews In Germany Revealed

BERLIN, April 8 (AP)—The principle that Germany shall be governed and administered only by Aryans, and the definition that any person having one Jewish grandparent is a Jew, were formally established in German law today.

This was revealed in publication of the Hitler cabinet's civil service law, which spells the degradation of the Jew to second class citizenship.

Thousands of officials held over from the previous regime will be ousted and in future all Jews will be barred from public office. Certain Jews now serving will be spared.

ACTION DELAYED

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 8 (AP)—Absence of a dozen senators today resulted in postponement by the senate until Monday night of consideration of the bill to legalize sale of 3.2 per cent beer in Oklahoma.

Winners In Contests At Music Festival Honored At Closing On Saturday

Garner Favors Beer In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 8. — Maury Hughes, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, announced today Vice President John N. Garner had given "implied endorsement" to a bill to legalize manufacture and sale of 3.2 beer in Texas.

The "implied endorsement," said Hughes, was in response to a communication sent Mr. Garner.

"As you know, I am in thorough sympathy with the platform demands, as well as the promises made by President Roosevelt," Vice President Garner replied. "I wish you luck."

Program By Massed Orchestra Staged As Final Event

AN annual Tri-State Music festival was closed here Saturday night with a program at Lubbock High school by a massed orchestra directed by John Victor of Abilene.

Yesterday was filled with contests, in which scores of Lubbock, Panhandle-South Plains, Oklahoma, and New Mexico music students took part. Miss Mary Dunn, president of the Tri-State Music Teachers' association, which sponsored the festival, announced results of Saturday's events last night.

To Select Officers

Clovis and Canyon are said to have invited the 1034 festival to meet with them. Place of the next meeting will be determined at a business session this fall, when officers also will be elected.

The high school auditorium was well-filled last night for the orchestra program. There were more than 40 instruments in the combned orchestra. The players took part in contests here.

America Takes New Leadership In World Affairs; Eleven Nations Are Invited Here For Conference

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The American government, rising to new leadership in world affairs, today completed its first step in the campaign to break down world trade barriers through sending out to the last of eleven nations bids to dispatch their leading statesmen to confer with President Roosevelt.

This job done, Secretary Hull in an emphatic declaration to newspapermen reasserted the break being made with this government's policy of the past dozen years. He blamed past administrations for leading the world into policies of economic nationalism, charging to them much of the responsibility for present paralysis of commerce around the globe.

Meet Responsibility

It is high time, he said, for the United States to meet its responsibility by checking the course of economic isolation. When he spoke invitations had just been dispatched to the neighbor nations of Mexico and Canada to have their chief statesmen come to Washington to join in finding a way to get real results out of the coming London economic conference.

The bids transmitted varbally by Undersecretary William Phillips, completed the list of nations which will be invited to send special representatives and brought the total to eleven. With the nations not specially invited the Roosevelt administration will carry on any exchanges of views through regular ambassadorial representatives.

In a busy day of international activity, word was received in a high official quarter that the world monetary and economic conference at London will be held probably

Three Adults And Child Are Found Murdered In Home In River Bottoms; Slayer Is Believed Known

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, April 8. — Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hastings and their 3-months old son and Mrs. Laura Franklin were found murdered today in their home about 18 miles north of Liberty, in the Trinity river bottoms.

Bob Martin, chief deputy sheriff of Liberty county, said tonight the four had been killed with a .22 rifle and that the identity of the slayer was believed known. The suspect's trail tonight led officers toward Beaumont, believed to be his destination.

Suspect Described

Hastings had died from a bullet wound through his heart and other body wounds. He was about 30. Mrs. Hastings 16, was shot through the head as was the infant son, while Mrs. Franklin, 45, died of body wounds.

The suspect was described as being about 57, 6 feet tall, and weighing about 160 pounds. When last seen he was carrying a rifle and a suitcase.

Thirty Armed And Masked Men Blast Levee After Guards Are Overpowered

(By The Associated Press)

TIPPO, Miss., April 8.—Thirty armed men, some masked, overpowered guards at Mathew's bayou, two miles west of here tonight and dynamited the levee.

"We want relief and we mean business," the guards said the men told them. "If this crevasse is fixed, we will dynamite it again."

No immediate estimate of the area that might be flooded was available.

An emergency crew started plugging the hole with bags of earth.

When they left, the dynamiters invited the guards to join them in a trip to Chute bridge, a strategic point in the flood fight situated between the partly submerged towns of Webb and Swan Lake. If the levee went out at Chute bridge it would flood thousands of acres of the most fertile land in the Mississippi delta. Guards there, however, were armed with machine guns.

Tippo is about 10 miles west of Charleston, Miss.

Senate GOP's To Substitute On Farm Bill

Effort To Rip Apart Powers Sought For Wallace Planned But Demos Are Confident Of Repulsing Threat

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A powerful effort to rip apart the broad powers sought for Secretary Wallace in the administration farm bill was planned tonight by senate Republican stalwarts, but Democratic leaders were confident of repulsing the threat.

A substitute plan was drafted by a special Republican committee under Senator Carey (R., Wyo.) and will be offered on the floor when the senate resumes the farm debate next week.

Leasing Is Proposed

Instead of handing Wallace ample authority to use any of several plans for restoring the 1909-1914 farm price level, the Republican substitute proposes leasing cotton and grain lands to cut production. Former Secretary Hyde outlined this method just before leaving office.

As the senate minority was working on its proposition to lease a maximum of 50,000,000 acres for two years, the special committee on agricultural policy of the chamber of commerce of the United States made public a 10-point long-time farm program for presentation to the chamber's annual meeting in May.

Wood Is Chairman

Robert F. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, was chairman of this committee. Secretary Wallace resigned from it upon entering the cabinet. The 10-point plan, in brief was:

Cooperation of federal state and local governments to retire submarginal lands; closing public domain to homestead entry; refusing, with rare exceptions, appropriations for new irrigation and drainage works; reciprocal tariff agreements to expand the export market; repeal of farm board sta-

Davis Confers With Hitler; Will To Peace Reiterated

BERLIN, April 8. (AP)—Norman H. Davis, America's traveling ambassador who has completed consultations with statesmen in London and Paris conferred today with Chancellor Adolf Hitler and found him to be "a man of great dynamic force."

Mr. Davis did not reveal anything about the talk he had with the chancellor, but seemed encouraged over prospects for a disarmament accord. Apparently the chancellor reiterated to the American representative the German "will to peace" which he has expressed on several occasions.

Princess And Maid Of Honor To Plainview Show Selected

Miss Edith Merrell of Hardy will be princess and Miss Guyrene Horton of Hurlwood will be maid of honor representing Lubbock at Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview opening Monday.

Arrangements are being made for a large Lubbock county delegation. The county having the most persons at the show will have the honor of naming the queen of the exposition.

Cash Harvest Is Plentiful As Suds Flow

Millions Of Dollars Washed Into Government Coffers By Golden Flow Of Beer While Demand Rises Higher

Business Improves

Thousands Of Men Employed In Many Cities; Acceleration In Business Is Credited To Nation's Beer Boom

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 8.—The golden flow of beer swept on tonight, washing millions of dollars into government coffers, creating thousands of jobs for the unemployed, and leaving many a brewery vat empty.

A survey of taxing offices in the 20 states and the District of Columbia in which the new 3.2 brew was being sold indicated already more than $10,000,000 has been collected by municipal, state and federal taxing bodies.

Tax Harvest Heavy

The editor of Brewery Age estimated 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 barrels of beer had been sold throughout the nation so far, with the federal government reaping close to $7,500,000 during the two days.

From all sides came reports of a demand that exceeded either the supply or the ability of brewers to get containers to convey the new beverage to distributors and consumers.

There was scarcely a brewery in the country keeping up with its orders. Some of them were so deep in the problem of balancing supply and demand that telephones went unanswered and customers bombarded them by telegraph pleading for delivery.

Shifts Are Enlarged

Double and triple shifts were put to work. Some plants decided to keep the wheels of their industry moving for 24 hours Sunday.

"More barrels; more bottles, commanded the brewers.

Cooperages and glass works called in more men and went on double shifts.

In many a city the beer boom was credited with accelerating business in general.

Beer advertising in newspapers continued to swell the size of papers.

College Football Severely Flayed

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—Criticism of college football and of state payment of college athletic coaches was voiced by Representative O. F. Chastain of Eastland in an address today at the concluding session of the state taxpayers association meeting here.

"I'm against horse racing, against putting the state on record as favoring gambling, but horse racing is a gentleman's sport compared to this football gambling," Chastain said. He said the payment of athletic coaches by the state was an "outrage."

The association made a number of recommendations to the legislature. Reorganization of the state's judiciary system was advocated, the lawmakers were warned against too drastic reductions in appropriations for farm agencies. Passage of a bill to require the student, particularly the out-of-state student, to pay a larger proportion of the expenses of higher education was urged and enactment of mortgage moratorium legislation was recommended.

Injunction Is Modified To Allow A Test In East Texas

SHERMAN, April 8 (AP)—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant late today modified his injunction of March 29 which had restrained the Texas railroad commission from carrying out its plans for an open flow test of the 10,000 or more wells in the East Texas oil field and gave the commission leave to go ahead with the test.

He previously had modified the injunction last Saturday in order to permit the commission to close down all wells in the field, and the commission made the closing order effective at 7 a. m. last Wednesday.

Flaming Crosses Burn In Alabama As Negro Trial Closes; Jury Takes Case

Severances For Six Other Defendants In Case Granted; Race And Color Ignored

(By The Associated Press)

DECATUR, Ala., April 8.—While a jury deliberated the case of Heywood Patterson, first of nine negroes to be retried on charges of attacking two girls near Scottsboro, Ala., two years ago, Judge James E. Horton late today granted severances for six others, and Charlie Weems was arranged for the next trial.

The judge had charged the jury to ignore race and coor and state lines in its deliberation of evidence against Patterson, accused of assaulting a white girl hobo.

And while the jurors deliberated the case of Patterson, Judge Horton granted severances to the other defendants. Charlie Weems' case was set for April 17, and counsel entered a plea of not guilty for him.

The courtroom was startled when a defense attorney told Judge Horton flaming crosses burned on Alabama hills last night.

Joseph R. Brodsky, New York, who helped defend Patterson, said the crosses were burned in Huntsville and Scottsboro.

He said he had received threats against his life since Solicitor Wade Wright of Decatur "made his speech in this courtroom against my race."

Wright said yesterday defense testimony was "bought with Jew money."

Samuel Leibowitz, New York, chief of defense counsel who volunteered his services, hailed Brodsky in a statement he had been told "only intervention of the national guard prevented a mob of 200 from enter-

Program To Free Millions In Frozen Deposits Taking Form As State Bank Aid Is Sought

Most Of State Institutions Would Be Restored Under A Plan Now Being Considered By Treasury Head

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A program to free millions of dollars of frozen deposits in thousands of unopened state banks assumed definite propositions tonight following closely upon Secretary Woodin's announcement of the appointment of Walter J. Cummings of Chicago as his executive assistant to have direct charge of this work.

The treasury chieftain disclosed he already had worked out a concrete plan, subject to local variations. He was confident it would restore to solvency the majority of the state institutions, but said premature announcement of its details would serve no useful purpose. It is this plan that Cummings will administer.

No Figures Available

Fulfillment of Woodin's prophecy would mean that many thousands of state institutions again would be in a position to participate in America's business functions. No definite figures are obtainable at the treasury as to the exact number, nor the amount of deposits involved. However, at the end of March, 5,387 national and state member banks of the federal reserve system had reopened their doors, restoring a deposit line of about twenty-six billion dollars. In addition 7,330 non-member state institutions had likewise reopened on a 10c-percent basis, but the amount of deposits was not given.

The latest statement of conditions for all banks in this country indicated a total of slightly more than 18,000 institutions of all classes with deposits of approximately forty billion dollars.

In the absence of details, it is

Fourth Annual Show Is Ended

Largest Attendance In History Of Affair Is Registered At Abernathy Dairy Show Which Closed Saturday

(By Staff Correspondent)

ABERNATHY, April 8.—Marked by the largest attendance at a dairy show, the largest number of registered cattle and by good weather, the fourth annual Abernathy Dairy show closed here this afternoon.

A side issue of the show was the formation of a dairy association for Abernathy's trade territory. Nine breeders met at the school house this afternoon, at the suggestion of V. S. Payne, vocational teacher in the high school and Vic Lamb, editor of the Abernathy Review, and organized. L. M. Rankin, pioneer breeder, was named president; W. A. Waters, vice-president and T. M. Williams, secretary.

Meet Every Two Weeks

It was planned to meet every two weeks. Programs will be arranged and more members secured for the group. The show will be sponsored by the association, assisted by the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce.

Five teams were entered in the vocational agriculture dairy judging contest. The local team did not compete for prizes, Mr. Payne announced. A Lubbock county 4-H club under the direction of R. N. McClain, club leader, competed with a team from Crosbyton, coached by W. C. Taylor, Hale Center, coached by R.

Two Suspects Are Arrested And Liquor Seized In City

Two suspects, in liquor violation cases were arrested Saturday night by police and slightly more than a half gallon of whisky was confiscated.

A 40-year-old Lubbock man was arrested in the 800-block of Eighth street with a half gallon of liquor. His car was confiscated.

The other suspect, a 54-year-old man, was arrested at a residence in the 1100-block of Seventh street. Police said he poured out all except about a pint of a half gallon of whisky.

First Recruits In Employment Army Assemble In Camps Throughout East

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8—First recruits in the Roosevelt reforestation-employment program assembled today in army camps throughout the east while a group of state relief officials convened here to speed plans for selecting another contingent.

Twenty-five thousand unemployed men between 18 and 25 have been picked from 17 large cities. After two weeks conditioning in army camps they will be taken into forests to work for the government at one dollar a day and subsistence.

When the next allotment will be chosen has not been decided. Representatives of welfare agencies in 10 states were in session here today, however, to receive detailed information on the selection of the men so that no time will be lost when the order goes out.

Persons designated by state officials are to choose the men. Those present at today's conference will cooperate in every way

Army, Navy To Feel Brunt Of New Reduction

Reduction Well Above Pledge Of 25 Per Cent Is Involved In Plan; War Department To Be Hard Pressed

All Branches Hit

Each Cabinet Officer Given A Figure At Which To Aim In Making Cuts; Postoffice To Reduce Personnel

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8—A horizontal cut of at least one billion dollars in government expenses—including a reduction of $200,000,000 for the army and navy—is the goal of the Roosevelt administration and Capitol Hill is expecting shortly an announcement that it has been attained.

Since fixed charges, such as interest on the public debt, can not be cut, the whittling process involves a reduction well above President Roosevelt's campaign-pledged 25 per cent cut for departments and bureaus.

Each Given A Goal

Each cabinet officer has been given a figure by Lewis W. Douglas, director of the budget, at which to aim and each disclosure of these totals reveals the intent to cut more than 25 cents off each dollar now appropriated.

The last congress set aside $658,000,000 for the army and navy in 1934 and it is understood the $200,000,000 reduction for the armed services is to come out of that. Most of the cuts, it was learned, were to be directed at civilian employes and activities, with enlisted personnel probably doing much of the work now done by civilian workers.

Navy To Be Cut

The navy department's appropriation for next fiscal year was $308,000,000 and Secretary Swanson is understood to have been directed to reduce it by $56,000,000. The army's

Repeated Warnings Fail To Bring Needed School Funds

Despite repeated warnings of the school board that local public schools must close April 15 if delinquent taxes are not paid, collections of last week were barely sufficient to meet current expenses. Teachers' salaries have been unpaid for weeks.

Deadline on exemption of penalty and interest for payment of delinquent taxes falls Saturday night.

School officials urged Lubbock property owners to make their payments as soon as possible to aid the board to determine how the situation must be met.

Self-Liquidating Loan And Public Works Bureau Announced By W.T.C.C.

Eligibility Of Projects Will Be Determined

Group Will Help Put Through Loan Applications And Will Promote Surveys Of Public Works Construction

STAMFORD, April 8.—Establishment of the Self-liquidating Loan and Public Works bureau, to provide its territory the double service of promoting surveys of public works construction possibilities under the federal relief act, and of putting through applications for loans under the self-liquidating section of the act, has been announced from the general offices here of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Purpose of the bureau, it was said by President Wilbur C. Hawk of the regional chamber, will be to assist the West Texas affiliated towns to secure participation in the funds made available to the Reconstruction Finance corporation to assist political sub-divisions in financing self-liquidating projects. The bureau will undertake, Hawk said, to determine the eligibility of projects, to assist in preparation of applications and to secure approval in Washington of all applications routed through the bureau.

Zug To Be In Charge

Charles W. Zug of Stamford has been employed as secretary-manager of the unit. Formerly city manager of Stamford, Zug is well acquainted with municipal finances and operations.

Affiliated with the bureau will be an engineer's advisory board, to serve West Texas towns in preparation of necessary engineering data and specifications. Although personnel of this group is incomplete, it will include the following: W. E. Robertson, El Paso; Paul Belvins, Del Rio; Harry N. Roberts, Lubbock; H. J. Bradshaw, Abilene; Montgomery and Ward, Wichita Falls; S. W. Freese, Fort Worth; Col. Oscar A. Steward, jr., Amarillo; Alex Clarke, Eastland; Sterling Evans, director state extension service, College Station; Wm. C. Zelle, San Angelo, and James H. Murdough, head of civil engineering, Texas Tech, Lubbock.

No Charges Made

The bureau has announced that no charge will be made by the engineers for preparation of plans unless the loan application is approved, and then the engineer will have supervision of the project for the usual fee.

Maintenance of a legal department of the bureau also will be provided, to assist applicants as to legal requirements. Members of this department have not yet been announced.

The bureau will be under direction of D. A. Bandeen, Stamford, and Harry Tom King, Abilene, members for West Texas of the state relief commission; and chairman of the board of engineers is E. N. Noyes, Dallas, RFC Texas representative.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials have requested that each member town organize a local committee to serve in perfecting and filing applications for that town.

Information Forwarded

To institute the area program, the bureau has forwarded to all member towns preliminary information, pointing out self-liquidating loans will be available providing: the city's taxes are not increased; a public body negotiates for the loan; the loan is fully secured; and the money be for new construction of the required type.

Initial questionnaires concerning the self-liquidating loan and public works program suggests possible projects to be sought: bridges and tunnels; sewerage and sewage disposal; water works; flood protection; drainage and irrigation; highways; streets and paving; institutional building, such as prisons, hospitals and asylums; schools and libraries; miscellaneous, municipal work, such as markets, parks, swimming pools, incinerators and airports; publicly-owned electric light, power and gas utilities.

Projects Listed

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce office announced today that in response to the initial survey, needed public works projects have been listed with the bureau and forwarded to the RFC aggregating $15,387,275.00, with reports coming from 67 communities.

Preliminary applications filed include these projects: a swimming pool in Borger; municipal waterworks in Olton; swimming pool in Munday; city and fire hall in Sonora, and a swimming pool in Eastland.

"These applications are being passed on to Mr. Noyes as to the eligibility of the project and if approved as eligible, the bureau will be placed at the disposal of the applicants in the preparation of the final application," the bureau announced.

The policy will be followed for each municipality submitting projects.

MARKET REPORTS

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 8. (AP) — Cotton tended toward slightly higher levels in moderate trading today after fluctuating in a narrow range and the close was steady at net advances of four points.

The opening was a shade up with Liverpool cables about as due. First trades here were 2 points up and July gained an additional points after the start but prices soon eased off on continued May liquidation. Before the offerings were absorbed that month traded down to 6.41, July to 6.57 and October to 6.79, down 5 to 6 points from the early highs and 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

The market was steadier in the second hour. May liquidation appeared to be well absorbed and stocks had a good rally which caused shorts to cover. Prices advanced to 6.48 for May, 6.65 for July and 6.86 for October or 7 to 8 points up from the earlier lows and 3 to 5 points above the previous close. Prices eased a point from the top at the end on a little realizing and July closed at 6.64 up 4 points net. January also sold at the end at 7.06, up 4 points.

Port receipts 6,272, for season 7,597,058, last season 9,330,003. Exports 16,042, for season 6,201,992, last season 6,967,338. Port stock 4,357,337, last year 4,298,446. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 78,247, last year 150,426. Spot sales at southern markets 12,991 last year 5,728.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—Slightly early declines in cotton under realizing or liquidation were followed by rallies on a continuation of trade buying and a moderate commission house demand today.

July contracts after selling off to 6.60 to 3 points net lower, advanced to 6.66 or 3 points net higher and closed at that price, with the general market closing steady, net unchanged to 3 points higher.

Rallies in the later trading were encouraged by the action of the stock and grain markets. May contracts which had cased off to 6.44 under the early pressure rallied to 6.50 and closed at 6.49. October advanced from 6.83@6.88 and closed at 6.87.

Favorable weather was reported in the south for farm work but there was a continued absence of pressure from that source and some of the spot merchants here reported a little better demand for staple cotton in the south for export.

Liverpool cables made a fairly steady showing. Some Bombay hedge selling there was said to have been absorbed by local and Egyptian buying.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, April 8. (AP)—Cattle trade during the week under review was marked by another price decline on fed steers and yearlings. A few points late in the week reported a reaction on light weight steers and yearlings with most of the early losses recovered. Demand for weighty steers was narrow and big weights, scaling above 1,500 lbs. were especially difficult to move. Current quotations on fed steers and yearlings are unevenly steady to 25 lower as compared with a week ago. Slaughter cows were in seasonally light supply and showed no material change. The dressed beef trade this week had a better tone but demand was only fair. Country demand for stockers and feeders for the week slowed down and the in-between grades of stockers, which previously have been selling at relatively high price, took a decline of 25 or more. There was a fairly dependable outlet for high quality light weight stockers and stock calves. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets totaled around 142,000 against 139,808 last week and 149,081 the corresponding period a year ago.

Increased hog receipts resulted in a general price decline of 10 to 35. Chicago and St. Louis had a closing top of 3.80. Total arrivals were around 412,400, an increase of 57,000 over last week and 34,000 more than a year ago.

Fat lambs and yearlings are unevenly steady to 35 lower for the week, most markets showing losses of 25 or more. There was a sizable of Arizona spring lambs at Kansas City and late arrivals sold 90 under Monday's shipments. Some weakness also developed on slaughter ewes. The week's supply approximated 361,500 as compared with 302,591 last week and 355,567 a year ago.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 8. (AP)—Demand at the week-end was good for all the light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Estimated receipts included: Wheat 17 cars; oats 2; corn 5, and sorghums 16.

Prices today ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard 65@66; barley No. 2 nominally 37@38; No. 3 nominally 36@37. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds according to color 76@80c. No. 3, 70@75. No. 2 kaffir per 100 pounds 66@67, No. 3 kaffir 63@65.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 51@52, No. 2 white 52 1-2@53 1-2, No. 2 yellow 51 1-2@52 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 30@30 1-2, No. 3 red 29@29 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—Reports that President Roosevelt opposed currency inflation went parallel with an abrupt decrease of speculative demand for grains today and with tumbles in prices.

Indications of general rains over the United States winter wheat belt gave some impetus to sellers. Only transient rallies followed word of damaging new dust-storms in Kansas and unfavorable crop advices from Indiana.

Wheat closed weak, 3-8 to 3-4 under yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 7-8 down, oats 1-4 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—Stocks ended the week with a pleasant flurry upward today as trade news tended to strengthen Wall street's current mood of restrained cheerfulness.

A larger than seasonal gain in freight traffic, stronger scrap steel prices, the "beer boom," intimations that the government frowned on cheapening the currency and favored public works expansion, seemed to impress the markets. Most of the rise occurred in the last half hour. Short covering probably contributed a liberal proportion of the buying, but there was a fair run up for all groups.

Steel and railroad shares were prominent in the spurt.

Car loadings for the week ended April 1 rose 18,738 over the preceding period; most of the pickup was in loadings of miscellaneous freight. It was the third successive weekly rise and the deficiency compared with a year ago was cut to 9.2 per cent.

Previous evidence that the motor car manufacturers had increased activity since the banking holiday was strengthened by the March production estimate of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Output for the last month was set at 81,370 units, about 8,000 fewer than in February, but the chamber said production in the latter part of March had been larger than anticipated. First quarter figures were 13 per cent under a year ago.

Powell-Martin Store Is Sold

W. O. Stevens company of Plainview has purchased the Powell-Martin Drygoods company at 1106 Broadway here, it was announced yesterday.

H. C. Powell will continue as manager of the store, and Mrs. Maude Martin also will remain in the business. The name of the firm will be changed to W. O. Stevens company.

W. O. Stevens, former Lubbock bank official, recently re-entered the merchandising field by purchasing a Carter-Houston store at Plainview, which he changed to the W. O. Stevens company.

The combined world crops of corn, oats and barley in 1932 exceeded 1931 production by about 13 per cent.

Thousands Of Rodents Dead

Poison Is Used On 52,000 Acres In 34 Counties Of Northwest Texas During Past Three Months

Thousands of prairie dogs were killed and an estimated saving of over $50,000 made to farmers and ranchers of 34 Northwest Texas counties during January, February and March by the U. S. Biological Survey. This was the report of J. M. Hill, jr., junior biologist, for the first quarter of 1933.

In the district 28,348 pounds of poisoned grain was distributed through 252 farmers and ranchers. The poison was used on 52,000 acres and the cost was $1,950 for grain and labor. Mr. Hill was assisted by J. E. Boog Scott, jr., Coleman, and by county agents and others.

Counties Listed

Prairie dog work was done in: Bailey, Baylor, Briscoe, Childress, Dallam, Dawson, Dickens, Donley, Foard, Floyd, Fisher, Gray, Hardeman, Haskell, Hansford, Hartley, Hockley, Jones, Kent, Knox, Lamb, Lubbock, Lipscomb, Oldham, Ochiltree, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Scurry, Shackelford, Swisher, Stonewall, Terry, Wheeler and Yoakum.

Four hundred pounds of poison bait for jackrabbits was put out in Parmer county, on 2,800 acres. There were 10 cooperating farmers and the cost was $34. It was estimated $3,000 or more was saved to the farmers.

Rats Poisoned

In Swisher county 400 pounds of rat bait was put out, with 200 farmers cooperating. The cost was $83.75 for bait. Saving was estimated at $3,000.

In Childress county 7,856 pounds of poison bait was put out in a prairie dog killing drive with V. E. Hafner, county agent, cooperating. Some 20,525 acres of land was covered at a cost of $613. The county paid half and the farmers half, with R.F.C. funds being used to take care of labor costs.

"We received many reports of an average kill of 90 per cent of the dogs," Mr. Hill added.

Tahoka Mail Carrier Retiring After 29 Years In Service Of Uncle Sam; Has Traveled Far

TAHOKA, April 8. (Special) J. K. Woosley, who recently retired here as U. S. rural mail carrier, during the 29 years he served Uncle Sam, traveled a distance more than ten times around the earth. He is now to receive a pension from the government, having completed his service.

"When I entered the service at Emory, in Rains county, back in 1904," said Mr. Woosley, "there were three mail boxes on my route. I carried the mail in my pocket and during the 15 years I was there, used a horse and buggy most of the time.

Paid $40 A Month

"There were no parcels to deliver at first, only first class mail, letters and newspapers. My pay at first was but $40 a month."

During the 15 years Mr. Woosley was at Emory, he estimates he traveled 104,760 miles. Then going to Brady, he traveled 33,756 miles in four years; 42,195 miles at Snyder in the next four years and 87,300 miles here in the past five years.

The past few years the number of pieces of mail handled per year has averaged 100,000, Mr. Woosley estimated. He has handled over a million pieces in his 29 years of service. The first route was 24 miles long; the second 29 miles, the third the same and the local route is now 60 miles long. An average of 291 days per year has been devoted to the government work the retiring carrier estimates.

Andrew A. Suits, a carrier at Lockney for the past 10 or 12 years succeeds Mr. Woosley.

HAS GOOD RETURN

WILSON, April 8.—L. A. Bryant, a well known farmer on rural route No. 1 here, reports unusually good returns on his cotton.

Just recently, he reports, he sold 58 bales of cotton from his 1932 crop for six cents a pounds. The bales were well above 500 pounds in weight.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Another attempt to put over professional wrestling here will be made come the evening of April 18.

FROM the stables of Cal Farley, well-known welter-weight wrestler and former contender for the world's title, will appear four seasoned wrestlers, who will stage an exhibition or maybe a performance, at the Uptown Dance palace a week from Tuesday night.

Farley himself is promoting the match. There is a two-fold purpose: (1) to determine the popularity of first class professional wrestling in Lubbock, and (2) to satisfy the yen of Farley and a prospective local promoter, the pair to arrange a tie-up for future matches if this one is successful.

Dutch Mantell Coming

We direct your attention to another space on this page on which appears the likeness of the unhandsome visage of one of West Texas' most renowned mat gagsters, the one and only Dutch Mantell. Fifty-three years old, the "Flying Dutchman" still is active as a cat in the ring, as quick with teeth and fists as with his twisting and slamming muscles. He plays the part of a semi-finalist here next week. Two youngers and perhaps stronger but none the less the entertaining matmen have the main event.

The District Meet

The high school track and field season is about to run its course. Texas Interscholastic League Athletic Director Of District Two John O'Dell (I Know Hornsby) Richbourg Morgan, who also coaches football, boxing, basketball, wrestling, physical education and playground ball at Texas Tech, has announced the official dates for the district meet as April 14 and 15. A hurried glance at almost any 1933 calendar shows these dates to be Friday and Saturday of this week.

THE district meet is the last of the local high school track and field activities. Teams which fare well in it go on to the state meet at Austin, where they are given a chance to star in big company, and get an invitation to attend the University of Texas, which sponsors high school athletics in the state.

Dempsey The Promoter

As a heavyweight boxer, William Harrison Dempsey was a shining example of what a good man could under the guidance and tutelage of a smart manager and promoter, in this case, Tex Rickard. But Dempsey learned more than the principles of fighting, now to take it and give it, in his association with Rickard. He, too, learned how to promote. Right now he's engaged in promoting a bout between Max Baer and Max Schmeling, and he's going about it in a manner that Rickard would admire. Although the fight has no direct effect on the world's championship, Jack is succeeding in getting it played up in the press to a point far above that of the forthcoming title bout between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera. He has whim-whammed the dickens out of Madison Square Garden in regard to the date for his fight. It precedes by a few weeks the title affair to be held in the same city, New York.

The human side of Dempsey's life is better portrayed by Eddie Neil, A. P. scribe who knows the former champ personally and who is doing a lot to help put the fracas over. In seeking, and getting publicity for the fight, Dempsey is making friends with the laying off that high and mighty stuff which usually characterizes champions, or ex-champs. Jack is still the champ to the masses, regardless of Jack Sharkey's assumptions.

They Didn't See Sharkey

Sharkey was in the corner of one of the fighters he owns with his manager, Johnny Buckley, the other night in the Garden. He was in the ring, under the spotlight, and nobody saw him. Dempsey was hidden back in the fourth or fifth row of the ringside. Every one saw him. And they yelled and would not be satisfied until he had climbed out of his seat to be introduced.

MEANWHILE, Sharkey, heavyweight champion of the world today, stood aside and heard the roars that rocked the Garden. There was a sickly grin on his face. No one noticed him. No one bothered even to call attention to his presence.

Not Natural With Babe

The personalities of Dempsey and Babe Ruth have often been compared, flatteringly to both, and they have come to be bracketed together. Actually, notes Eddie Neil, there is no comparison.

RUTH, at 39, is forcing himself to be congenial. A big, rough fellow with absolutely no inhibitions, a genius for rolor in speech and action, Ruth is the perfect example of what experts press agenting and a sympathetic press can do for an athlete who can come through in the crises.

But all this boys' club stuff, this love of the kiddies and great human heart business, is wearing pretty thin with the Babe. It's still good business to autograph everything in sight, to be pictured playing Santa Claus with the yougsters. But we'd hate to be delegated to produce this Babe for one of those spontaneous exhibitions when they no longer mean anything to him financially.

Dempsey, on the other hand, has improved with the years. His is the humanness that never wears thin. He never had to be trained. He enjoys people, is never happy without them around him. He never forgets a favor, never tires of repaying them. He doesn't know what selfishness means.

Panthers Are Picked To Win Texas Pennant

Associated Press Scribes Do Not Wait For 154-Game Card But Tell Fans How Outfits Will Finish Now

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't matter to Texas League sports writers that the 1933 pennant race will not open until Tuesday.

They absolutely refused to be fazed by the future playing of 154 games that will extend through 4 months and 24 days of daily competition.

They pass up with a sly wink the impressive fact that eight teams will compete for one championship.

The fact that thousands of fans (the moguls hope) will pass through the turnstiles to determine for themselves which is the superior team, doesn't bother the boys in the press boxes with the small black score books.

And Santone Fourth

The idea they want to get over to Mr. and Mrs. John Baseball Public is their consensus that the clawing Cats of Fort Worth, under the management of Walter Holke, will win the 1933 pennant, that Houston will finish second, Dallas third and San Antonio fourth.

The Associated Press' composite poll of who will be who in this year's pennant marathon saw Fort Worth finish under the wire a winner after a heated race from Houston and Dallas. Of course Manager Holke's next worry is to prevent the sports writers from appearing very foolish by piloting his Cats to the championship under the Shaughnessy system which calls for a championship playoff between the first four division teams at the conclusion of the regular campaign.

It was apparent the writers favored the strong Fort Worth pitching staff to carry the Cats through. They liked Houston's well balanced team but fought shy of picking the Buffaloes for first place because of no visible hitting strength and not too much consistent pitching. Dallas was favored as boasting one of the best all-round infields in the league, and outfield with fair hitting punch but a mediocre hurling staff.

A Surprise Here

The writers probably surprised by selecting San Antonio for fourth place because the Alamo City Tribe is composed of untried Texas League talent, but the boys who write the Texas League stories expect to write one soon that San Antonio has been bolstered by ample help from the St. Louis Browns and the Milwaukee Brewers. The Browns own San Antonio and Milwaukee.

1. Fort Worth Cats.
2. Houston Buffaloes.
3. Dallas Steers.
4. San Antonio Missions.
5. Tulsa Oilers.
6. Beaumont Exporters.
7. Oklahoma City Indians.
8. Galveston Buccaneers.

The Beaumont Exporters are in just about the same spot they were last year—the second division, but the Exporters turned things topsyturvy by winning the first half, losing the second half and then defeating Dallas three straight games in the championship playoff.

The Tulsa Oilers, with their mixture of youngsters and veterans, will make their bow into Texas League company as favorites for fifth place, one notch in front of Beaumont.

Indians Best Bucks

Jack Holland's young Oklahoma City Indians did not poll a vote for higher than fifth place but polled enough to beat Galveston out for seventh place. Galveston managed to get in a vote for fourth place but led the cellar brigade by several votes.

If the league race doesn't end as listed above, the fans can blame these writers for they were the ones to beat the umpires to the draw of "play ball" by naming where the clubs will finish:

Gal Wood, Tulsa Tribune; B. A. Bridgewater, Tulsa World; Bus Ham, Daily Oklahoman; Leroy Menzing and Flem Hall, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Kern Tips, Houston Chronicle; Lloyd Gregory, Houston Post; Jack O'Brien, San Antonio Evening News; Ward Burris, San Antonio Express; Al Scherwitz, San Antonio Light; Jere Hayes, Dallas Times-Herald; George White, Dallas Morning News; Vjn Burke, Beaumont Enterprise; Bill Scurlock, Beaumont Journal; Bill Van Fleet, Galveston News; DeWight Leveritt, Galveston Tribune, and Bill Parker, Associated Press.

Professional Grapplers To Perform Here April 18 In Varied Wrestling Program

Cal Farley Brings Four Wrestlers To Lubbock

The names of Dutch Mantell, the Amarillo Ape-man; Pat Garrison, the Arkansas Razorback; Ted Travis and Eddie Brock will come in for a lot of attention and street-corner gossip during the next several days and later if efforts of local and visiting promotors meet with success.

Professional wrestling, for which the city of Lubbock and surrounding territory never did "go" in large and gratifying numbers, mainly because no big effort at promotion was made, will attempt a "comeback" on the South Plains next week with the advent of a troop of grunt-and-groan artists from the Panhandle, Pacific Coast and peanut country of Arkansas.

Cal Farley, Amarillo business man and fight promotor, formerly a contender for the world's welterweight wrestling championship, is staging the affair for Lubbock. He maintains a stable of seasoned and active wrestlers at Amarillo, and delights in displaying their wares in surrounding cities.

Held In Dance Palace

The matches will be held in the Uptown Dance palace here, April 18.

Ted Travis, known in and about the wrestling world as "Terrible Ted," will tangle with Eddie Brock, Amarillo boxing instructor and wrestler, in the main event. Travis hails from Los Angeles, and only recently has lined up with Farley's fighters. He is known on the West coast as one of the most powerful grapplers in the light-weight division, and holds the fine record of 116 consecutive mat victories. He was pinned by George Ligosky, ferocious, bewhiskered Russian from Moscow, recently at Amarillo. He holds victories over Otis Kingman, Joe Kopecky, Less Crimes, the Australian champion, and Tommy Heinz, the San Diego Earthquake.

Brock As Instructor

Brock practices his wrestling on a high plane, clean but hard. He uses his mits if his opponents won't behave. He's well liked in the Panhandle for his clean tactics in the ring. He's flashy, powerful built and unafraid.

Dutch Mantell, the 53-year-old cosmopolitan grappler, still is the favorite wherever he works. Low, crouching, most unhandsome in ring appearance, powerful and rough, he resorts to every known means of gaining his victories, even to chewing his opponents ears and punching with a swift fist when the going gets tough. He will meet Pat Garrison, 24-year-old athlete from Arkansas.

The Ape-Man

Local sport fans may see the above-pictured individual perform in his favorite role here a week from Tuesday night in the first professional match staged here in a long time. He is Dutch Mantell, world-travelled grunt-and-groan artist who does things besides rassle when he gets into the ring. But it's all thrilling for the fight fan.

Moneyed Fans Back Yanks, Cubs

New York Betting Commissioner Announced Yanks Favored At 2-5 Odds; Cubs Rate Higher Stakes Than Pittsburgh

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP) — Those baseball fans who back their opinions with money have made the New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs favorites to win the pennants in the American and National leagues again, with the Yankees at 2-5 the shortest priced choice in years.

Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, who announced the odds of the 1933 campaign which opens Wednesday, said it had been more than 20 years to his knowledge since any team had been such an overwhelming favorite to win.

The odds on the Yankees reflect the general opinion of fan and expert alike, but in making the Cubs 7-5 favorite to repeat those who "lay their money on the line" differ with the experts who voted in the Associated Press poll that the Pittsburgh Pirates would win the National circuit.

Pirates Are 8-5

The Pirates are only 8-5, just a step behind the Cubs in Doyle's book, while Washington and Philadelphia, join second choices in the American League, are no better than 3-1 to upset the Yankees.

The Boston Red Sox, despite their new ownership, are the longest priced team, 500-to-1 being offered against their chances to head the American League parade. Cincinnati is the last choice in the National at 200-to-1.

Baseball League For South Plains May Be Organized; Meeting May Be Called Soon For Clubs' Managers

Local Bowlers Beaten At Clovis In Friday Match

The Lubbock Bowling club team was defeated at Clovis Friday night, in a return match there, by a margin of 164 pins. Leo Bell led the locals with an average score of 195, retaining his place at the head of the Lubbock club team.

The total scores were: Clovis 2,712; Lubbock 2,548.

Clovis will meet the Lubbock bowlers here next Friday night, according to a tentative arrangement.

Longhorn Track Team Defeats Abilene Christian Collegians

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—The University of Texas defeated Abilene Christian College in a track meet here today. Texas scored 77 1-2 points to 44 1-2 for Abilene.

The University of Texas frosh squad defeated Schreiner Institute 74 1-3 to 52 2-3.

PLENTY OF DIVOT ROOM

Golf courses in the United States occupy between 400,000 and 500,000 acres of land. Their value is said to be in excess of $850,000,000.

A meeting of all South Plains and Lubbock county baseball club managers or representatives may be called next Sunday. At that time an independent league, embracing six or eight South Plains towns, may be formed. A Lubbock county league also is being considered.

Ed Hambright and Jay Harston of Lubbock are pushing the movement for an independent league. Invitations have been issued through the press and by personal letter to all prospective baseball clubs on the South Plains. The league, if organized, will start operation about May 1, or earlier.

The plan is to organize a self-sustaining league comprised of six or eight strong town teams to operate something on the order of the old South Plains league, which was suspended last season. The promoters, however, state that the organization will be stronger and rules more rigidly enforced than heretofore.

Lubbock probably will enter a team in the league, although the city is without a playing field at present.

Managers of teams are requested to write Hambright this week relative to interest in the proposed circuit, and indicate a willingness to attend the meeting when it is called.

Rotan Youth Wins High Jump To Win San Angelo Contests

SAN ANGELO, April 8. (AP)—Porter of Rotan nailed first place pointage in the high jump, the last event of the San Angelo high school invitation track and field meet Saturday. The leap, six feet even, gave Rotan the tournament championship by a margin of two points over San Angelo. Rotan totaled 27 1-2 to San Angelo's 25 1-2.

Santa Anna with Wheeler scoring 13 points in the field events, came third with 22.

Mixed Foursome Tournament On At Country Club Today; Ladder Play Continues At Meadowbrook Club Today

A mixed foursome tournament at the Lubbock country club and continuation of hectic matches in the ladder tournament at Meadowbrook will occupy local golfers, male and female, today.

The country club affair will consist of a 9-hole tournament, based on handicapts. It is to begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon. All club members are eligible to compete and are urged to take part.

Caddy Tourney Starts

Beginning tomorrow, the annual Meadowbrook caddy tournament will occupy the next four days. Some of the hottest golf played in these precincts last year was provided by caddies, and Meadowbrook caddies especially played a big part in the season's affairs. More than once were the standings of veteran, adult golfers threatened by caddies.

The caddy tournament will run through Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Meanwhile both clubs continue their ladder tournament, which runs through the summer.

More than thirty golfers are interested in winning gold and silver golf balls at the Meadowbrook. Clinton Bussey maintains his top position on the ladder, with Billy Holmes, former Tech champion, running a close second. One of the best matches of the season is expected when these two meet in a play-off.

Other Trophies Offered

In addition to gold, silver and bronze golf ball trophies offered the low eighteen Country club players, prizes will be awarded winners and runners up in the first and second flights of the ladder tournament.

The second ends at the Country club one September 24, at which time golfers holding prizes will retain them as permanent trophies. Meantime, they are subject to transfer from one player to another. Winner of the first flight will receive a full-grain leather golf bag at the end of the season, and the runner-up in that division will receive a carry-all leather handbag, and for No. 10 position in the first flight a golf sweater will be given. No. 18 will receive a pair of golf shoes. The same prizes will be awarded holders of these places in the second flight.

Plainview Is Second

Match play in the South Plains Golf league will be resumed April 16 when Lubbock Country club plays at Slaton, Plainview invades Meadowbrook and Brownfield goes to Littlefield.

Lubbock Country club defeated the Meadowbrook, 15 to 9, last Sunday, while Slaton was taking a 9 to 2 decision over Littlefield and Plainview was beating Brownfield, 10 to 4.

In arranging standings, league officials are counting each individual match a victory, and the club ratings are dependent upon the number of individual wins.

Standings after last Sunday's matches follow:

CLUB	WON	LOST	PCT.
Slaton	9	2	.818
Plainview	10	4	.714
Lubbock C. C.	15	9	.625
Meadowbrook	9	15	.375
Brownfield	4	10	.286
Littlefield	2	9	.182

Bears Take 11-5 Win Over Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, April 8. (AP) Baylor university hit freely and took advantage of Aggie misplays to defeat the A. and M. college baseball team, 11-5, in a ragged game here today. The contest will not count in conference standing, however, because of schedule arrangements.

Baylor started the fireworks in the fourth, making five runs off five hits and one error. Although the Aggies tied the count in the sixth, Baylor went ahead and scored six runs in the last three innings.

"Red" Clem and Arch Kroney hit homers for Baylor, each scoring one runner ahead of him.

Rice Noses Out Aggies In Dual Track And Field Meet

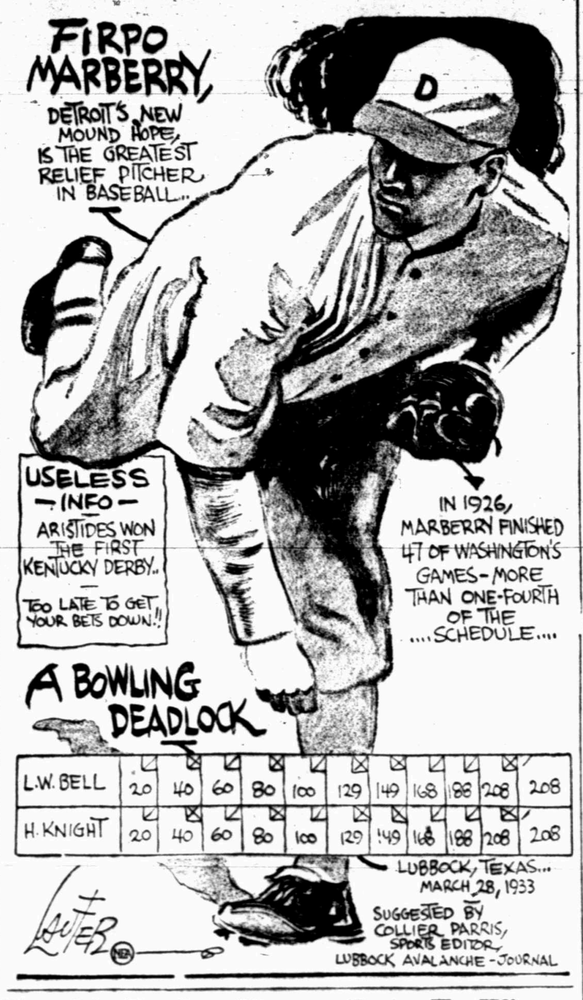

HOUSTON, April 8. (AP)—Rice Institute nosed out the Texas Aggies in a closely contested track meet here today by winning the final event on the day's program, the mile relay. The score was 63 5-6 to 58 1-6.

Ed Holloway, of Rice, was high point man with 12 1-2 points, winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and running on the winning 440-yard and mile relay teams.

Two conference records were bettered, Petty, Rice sophomore, tossed the discus 155 feet, 8 1-4 inches to better the 153 foot, 4 inch mark made by Leo Baldwin of Texas in 1929.

Irwin of the Aggies put the shot 49 feet, 5 3-4 inches to better Percy Burk's (Rice) mark of 48 feet, 1-4 inch, made in 1931.

That's Relief! . . . And Bowling!

Frankie Parker Upsets Dope To Win Over Sutter In Houston Semi-Finals

Schools And Colleges Get Control Of Cage Rules At Conference In New York

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP) — The basketball rules committee, for the past ten years dominated by the amateur Athletic union and the Y. M. C. A., today passed into control of the colleges and high schools when representatives of six interested groups agreed on reorganization of the body.

Patterned after the plan proposed by the National Collegiate Athletic association, when it withdrew from the committee last February, the new rules forming organization will be much smaller. The balance of power will be decidedly in favor of the colleges and high schools as represented by the N. C. A. A. and the National Federation of high schools.

The old committee had 36 members—ten from the A. A. U., ten from the Y. M. C. A., ten from the N. C. A. A., and two each from the high schools, the officials' association and Canada.

The new alignment, with 19 members, will give the N. C. A. A. eight representatives, the National Federation of high schools four, the A. A. U. and Y. M. C. A. two each and Canada one.

HOUSTON, April 8. (AP)—Frankie Parker, brilliant youngster from New Orleans, upset his older opponent, Clifford Sutter, also of New Orleans, former intercollegiate champion, here today to enter the finals of the fourth annual Houston invitation tennis tournament. Parker, 18 years old, won the semi-finals match with Sutter, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0, 9-11, 8-6. He plays George Lott of Chicago tomorrow for the invitation championship.

The Parker-Sutter battle was the greatest match of the tournament. Sutter held his own admirably against the withering and deadly fire of Parker, but over all, it appeared Parker was the steadier. Sutter showed flashes of great form, but lapsed occasionally and Parker was on him like a flash.

The 20-game fourth set was a master-piece, won by Sutter only after he had suddenly come to life. Cliff went to the net in great shape in this set and passed Parker neatly. But Parker otherwise had the situation well in hand, and with his killer type of play, he trounced Sutter to a fare-thee-well.

Miss Bonnie Miller, California, won the girls' singles championship earlier in the day by defeating Miss Genie Sampson of Chicago, 6-1, 6-3, in a well played finals game.

Bulldog Relay Quartet Nears School Record

Amarillo Places Second, But Sandies Beaten In Relay By Plainview; Blagg Wins Jump With 21 Feet, 3 Inches

PAMPA, April 8 (Special)—With a burst of speed that left Amarillo's fourth man 25 yards behind, the Plainview High school mile relay team approached the Texas Interscholastic league record in winning that event in 3minutes, 27.5 seconds here today in a four-sided meet.

Pampa's Harvesters took first place in the Class A football District 1 track and field meet with a total of 65 2-3 points, and Amarillo ran second with 58 1-3 points. The Lubbock Westerners failed to make a big showing, taking 14 2-3 points for third place. Plainview, in spite of its fine relay performance, was fourth with 13 points.

Blagg Jumps Far

Dalton Blagg of Lubbock found his old-time stride today to win the broad jump event with a leap of 21 feet, 3 inches for Lubbock's only first place. It was a new local record. Blagg also placed in the high jump, tying with Gibson of Amarillo for fourth place.

Possum Blackwell of Lubbock placed third in the high hurdles, with Kelly and Fulling'm of Pampa winning first and second places respectively. The time for the winner was 17.4 seconds.

Big George Janes won second place in the shot put for Lubbock, Kirby of Amarillo tossing the lead 42 feet, 3 inches to take the event. Robert Hale won fourth place. Artie Hicks of Lubbock tied for first place in the pole vault with Woodward of Pampa and Sigmond of Amarillo. The height was 10 feet, 6 inches, a new high mark for H'cks.

Captain Wayne Kelly of Pampa took three first places to win high point honors. Emmitt Lane was second with 13 points. In all, Pampa carried away seven first places. Amarillo took four, Lubbock one, Plainview one and Pampa, Lubbock and Amarillo tied for the other.

Boyington, Pampa miler, circled the track in the distance event to beat Stanfill of Lubbock by feet. Boyington's time was 4 minutes, 52.3 seconds.

Cats Beat Steers In Dallas Exhibit

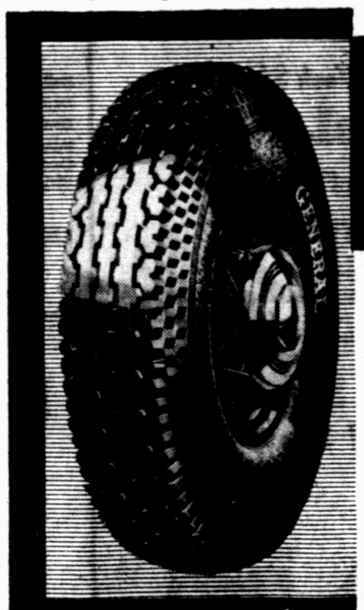

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—Hammering Erickson and Tietje for 8 timely hits, the Fort Worth Cats defeated the Dallas Steers in an exhibition game today, 6-5. Miller and Butzberger tamed the thundering herd with 6 hits, one a home run over the left center fence by Tom Jenkins with a runner on. George Washington, right fielder, clouted a home run for the Cats.

Gardner Sees Hot Race In Texas Loop; West Texas League Plans Stop

All Clubs Set For Big Start Next Tuesday

League President Sets Great Store By New Organization Which Includes Two Sooner Clubs; Hopes Are High

By ALVIN GARDNER
President of The Texas League
(Written for the Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 8.—The 1933 Texas League pennant race is only a few hours away. As time draws near for my staff of umpires to call "play ball" I can write in all sincerity that I believe we are due for one of the most interesting seasons of play the Texas and Oklahoma baseball public has witnessed in years.

It is a "new deal" for baseball the same as any other business and from this "new deal" comes a new, keen interest in our national pastime.

With the reorganization of the Texas League, we are starting with eight real baseball cities supporting clubs owned and managed by some of the best informed men in the minor leagues.

The addition of Oklahoma City and Tulsa and the ownership change at San Antonio and Fort Worth has benefitted the league both in playing strength and managerial ability.

Won't Name Winners

Naturally, I would not attempt to name the pennant winner or the four teams likely to finish in the first division, but I am safe in writing that the inauguration of the "Shaughnessay playoff plan," which provides that the four clubs of the first division at the season's end shall play three series among themselves to determine which team shall represent the league in the Dixie series will keep interest alive until the final game.

Due to my efforts in helping organize the Dixie League, I have not seen all the clubs in their spring training camps but since I know most of the players personally or professionally I feel sure most every club has strengthened since last season, as near as the human element can be gauged in baseball, and the play will be faster and the race more evenly matched.

Coleman Boss

Beaumont, last year pennant winner, has changed from Del Baker to Bob Coleman as manager. Coleman is one of the smartest men in the minor leagues and although his club is young he is familiar with each player's ability and is sure to have his Exporters in the thick of the fight.

Dallas, after finishing second last year in a play-off with Beaumont, has practically the same club back including manager Happ Morse. The popular Morse is a great hustler and fine judge of baseball skill and with his supervision goes the assurance of a most interesting club for Dallas.

Morris A Fighter

Norman Perry, Indianapolis owner, has purchased half interest in the Fort Worth team and has employed J. Walter Morris as his general manager. Walter is one of the few baseball men who has held every position from player to club owner and league president. To mention Walter with any club means that team will be a fighting, hustling aggregation. He has always been a credit to baseball and one of the smartest of minor league pilots.

Galveston has a new manager in Billy Webb. He has collected a fine bunch of players and should place Galveston in the first division race. Webb is not under-estimating the Texas League and his club will bear watching.

President Fred Ankenman at Houston made a master stroke when he engaged the hustling, fighting Carey Selph as playing manager. There is no need to comment on Selph's ability as a player for he is one of the best of minor league second sackers.

The league is glad to welcome Jack Holland's Oklahoma City Indians under the managerial ability of Fred Luderus, and the Tulsa Oilers under the leadership of Art Griggs. I am confident Luderus and Griggs will start the race next Tuesday with strong teams capable of making the race interesting. Griggs started his career in the Texas League and knows the strength of our circuit. Holland formerly had a club in our league and knows it is one of the best leagues in the country.

Browns Buy Santone

Last winter the St. Louis Browns purchased the San Antonio franchise and have appointed Henry Severeid, last year Wichita Falls and Longview manager, as their 1933 pilot. The San Antonio teams will be known as the Missions this year. Critics claim the Missions have not been impressive in spring training because of young talent. There is nothing to worry about as the Browns and Milwaukee have plenty of players and Henry Severeid will undoubtedly lead a fine, representative ball club even if players must be secured from these two teams.

I see nothing but a clear future for Texas League baseball with 1933 promising one of the hardest fought pennant races since the league's inauguration many, many years ago.

Rasslers May Get Rest In Illinois

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—The professional "rasslers" may go on a long vacation so far as further competition in Illinois is concerned.

That appeared certain tonight as Joseph Triner, aggressive chairman of the Illinois Athletic commission began to assemble the bewildering facts surrounding the victory "jumping Joe" Savoldi scored over Jim Londos in their match advertised as for the world's heavyweight championship at the Chicago Stadium last night.

If there is any proof of wrong doing, or any suspicion of it, punishment will follow with the possible suspension of the wrestling in the state, Chairman Triner indicated tonight. Triner will make his findings known on Monday, when he and other members of the commission, Packey McFarland and George Getz, finish their investigation.

There also will be a ruling Monday whether Savoldi's victory entitled him to whatever claim he had on the championship, so far as Illinois is concerned. The match was advertised as a championship affair, but on whether the Illinois commission recognized Londos as the titleholder depends upon the decision of the athletic board.

Ed White, manager of Londos, insists the match was not a championship affair, because Londos was not recognized as the titleholder in Illinois, and therefore no title was at stake. General John V. Clinnin, former chairman of the Illinois commission ruled several months ago that because Londos had refused to meet Ed "Stranglers" Lewis, Illinois would no longer recognize him as titleholder. Then Lewis was granted recognition, but later the commission withheld recognition from any wrestler as champion, ruling the bouts were merely exhibitions and not contests.

TO COME ACROSS

A combined Oxford - Cambridge track and field team will leave England sometime this summer for competition in the United States and Canada, it has been announced.

BUFFS TROUBLED BUT WIN

HOUSTON, April 8. (AP) — The Houston Buffs had difficulty hitting 19 year old Bobby Runnels today but errors gave them a 6-2 victory over the Three Brothers Transfer nine, local amateur champions. Joe Simms hurled six scoreless innings for the Buffs.

Manager Carey Selph announced Mike Schroeder, right handed pitcher, had been turned over to Springfield, Missouri.

BROWNS OUTRUN CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS, Auril 8. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns outhit the St. Louis Cardinals today and won the first game of their two-game city series, 7-3. The Browns touched Carleton and Walker for a total of 12 hits, six of which were for two bases.

Home-Made Auto Registered Here

A home - made automobile weighing only 300 pounds—a little Austin weighs 1,200—was registered at the county tax collector's office Saturday by the builder and owner, G. V. Rice of Slaton. The tiny car was recorded as a rebuilt model, not used in 1932, and was given license number 758072.

In an affidavit, sworn to before J. H. Brewer, notary public, Mr. Rice said the automobile was made from four bicycle wheels with pneumatic tires, a one-sylinder Shaw washing-machine motor he purchased from Mr. Monroe at Plainview, and other parts from a mail-order house of Dallas. The car, which the builder described as a "1932 Shaw roadster," has no lights and will not be driven at night, according to the affidavit.

Mrs. Daisy D. Mathis Will Be Buried In City Monday

Mrs. Daisy D. Mathis, 49, who died in a San Antonio hospital early Saturday, will be buried in Memorial Park cemetery here Monday afternoon following funeral services conducted by the Rev. O. W. Carter and the Rev. J. O. Haymes at 3 o'clock here.

Mrs. Mathis, whose husband, John A. Mathis recently brought members of the family to live here, had been ill for about 18 months. The home here is at 1317 Tenth street. Bynum-Stahler funeral home will be in charge of arrangements.

Besides the widower, survivors are the children, John A. jr., Mary Joe and Vardell, all of Lubbock, and Chandler Mathis of Gilmer.

Engineers At Tech To Hold Annual Affair

All Arrangements Are Complete For Engineering Show To Be Held Friday and Saturday; Conner In Charge

All arrangements had been completed yesterday for an annual engineering show at Texas Technological college. The exposition, conducted during the district Interscholastic League meet, will be held Friday and Saturday.

In addition to public school students from many South Plains communities, hundreds of adults are expected to view the displays of student work and engineering equipment and products at the school.

Conner Is Manager

J. Preston Conner is general manager. Other staff members are James F. Potts, assistant manager; Don Weilenman, publicity; Carl McAdams, architectuhal engineering; Arch L. King, civil engineering; B. L. Manire, chemical engineering; M. M. Burkett, engineering drawing; A. C. Waghorne, electrical engineering; Alton Miller, mechanical engineering; John Jacobson, shops; Ford Benham, textile engineering; J. O. Sanders, geological engineering.

The freshman engineer who is credited with doing the most work for the show will receive an award which has been made in the engineering shops. There also will be a number of prizes for persons attending the show, it was said.

Exhibits Planned

Chemical engineering students will show Pharoah serpents and large crystals of copper sulphate and chrome alum. There also will be a device for testing the breaths of visitors who permit for alcohol. A talking dragon, which breathes fire, will be shown.

In addition to a model of the Hoover dam, the civil engineers will display models of a deck girder railroad bridge, a concrete highway bridge, a model grade crossing, and a suspension bridge.

Electrical engineers will display a power meter, which is one of the first meters made. The article, loaned by a Lubbock resident, has been sought by the Smithsonian Institute, it is said. An oscillagraph, registering the sound waves of the voice, and a talking beam of light and the Tesla coil will be shown.

Film To Be Shown

A three-reel motion picture film, showing the story of an oil well, will be displayed by geological engineers. They also will show a miniature oil well and a group of fossils.

Mechanical engineers have built a two cylinder stationary gasoline engine. Weighing only about seven pounds, it will develop one horse power and will attain a speed of 4,400 r. p. m.

Textile engineers will show a full fashioned hosiery exhibit sent here by a Texas milling company. Wool and cotton produced at Tech will be shown woven into cloth. All textile machinery will be in operation.

Blue printing will be demonstrated by engineering drawing students, in addition to drawings made by students.

Architectural engineers have arranged a large exhibition of pictures obtained from the Carnegie foundation.

The show will be opened at 2 p. m. Friday.

Failure Of Lubbock To Place Team On Field Causes Wilbur Hawk To Abandon Loop Plans

Lubbock's Flop Causes Coast League Teams To Cut Farm Connections With Amarillo And El Paso Clubs

AMARILLO, April 8.—Efforts to organize the West Texas-New Mexico Class D baseball league were abandoned today by Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, president of the circuit.

Hawk pointed out that although there was still a chance to get Roswell, N. M., into the loop along with Albuquerque, N. M., El Paso and Amarillo, plans would have to be started all over again, since Amarillo and El Paso had broken their farm connections with Pacific Coast League clubs.

Many of the players who were to have been sent to the new loop by San Francisco and Los Angeles clubs have been released since Lubbock dropped out of the original organization.

George Martin of Amarillo, who was attempting to get the Roswell franchise, said he would continue an attempt to get a loop started that will include Roswell and be more compact than the West Texas-New Mexico circuit.

Make a habit of going to the Church of your choice every Sunday----

ELLWOOD FARM LANDS

Attend the Church of Your Choice Today!

Through scriptures, songs and sermons, church people of the city are commemorating anew Passion week during the next seven days. This period directly preceding Easter Sunday is one of the most important times in Christendom.

Easter time brings the most reverent of all days in churches throughout the world. Traditional observance of the time when Christ gave up His life on the cross so that His teachings might be known throughout the world marks the period.

There is an irresistible contagion in the season. Its fresh beauty is reflected in a general desire for observance of its days in some fashion. And what is more compelling than the impulse to go to church and hear of the things that created the season.

There's comfort in a church where old songs are sung and the truths of the Bible are told. Cares of the present day world are forgotten and we live anew the gospel of the old.

Delegation To Affair Sought

Efforts Are Being Made Here To Get 300 Persons To Attend Hale County Show On Next Tuesday

Efforts are being made to send a delegation of three hundred people to Plainview Tuesday morning to the Panhandle Plains Dairy Show Dr. I. E. Barr, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday.

In this delegation will be Miss Edith Merrill of the Hardy community who will represent Lubbock County as princess at a pageant Tuesday evening. Miss Guyren Horton of the Hurlwood community will be maid of honor.

The county having the largest delegation will have their princess crowned queen of the Dairy Show and Lubbock wants to win this honor, Dr. Barr said.

Reports from Amarillo indicate that as many as 250 will ride a special train out of Amarillo Tuesday morning to the show and large crowds are likewise coming from Swisher, Floyd, Lamb and other counties.

The delegation will leave from the City Hall Tuesday promptly at 8 a. m. One of the motor cycle police of Lubbock will lead the delegation, and Mayor Jerry L. Clement will be in one of the lead cars.

The Lubbock High School Band under the direction of H. A. Anderson, will be in the party and will lead a parade that will be staged upon arrival at Plainview.

The band will remain over for the pageant in the evening at which time they will furnish music.

All delegates must register at the Dairy Show by three or four o'clock Tuesday afternoon to be counted in the delegation.

Everyone who can go to Plainview Tuesday is urged to call the chamber of commerce office tomorrow Dr. Barr said.

Texans Still Lead In Cavern Visitor

CARLSBAD, N. M., April 8. (Spcl.) Twenty-one per cent of the 1,45 persons who visited Carlsbad Caverns National park here during March, were Texans, the monthly report of the superintendent, Col. Thomas Boles, shows. The number of visitors fell off 34 per cent from the 1932 number and was the smallest since March, 1927.

Thirty-five states, the District of Columbia, Territory of Hawaii and nine foreign nations, were included in the list of visitors.

New Mexico Second

New Mexico followed Texas in numbers, there being 245 people from the Sunshine state going through to 315 from Texas. California maintained its third place with 165 and Colorado fourth with 11 No other state had as many as 10 citizens here.

By states, the visitors were: Arkansas, seven; Alabama, five; Arizona, 26; California, 165; Colorado, 11 Georgia, three; Idaho, three; Illinois, 75; Indiana, nine; Iowa, 3 Kansas, 47; Louisiana, five; Maine 10; Massachusetts, 13; Michigan 19; Minnesota, 29; Michigan, one Missouri, 31; Nebraska, 13; New Jersey, 21; New Mexico, 245; New York, 67; North Carolina, seven North Dakota, 12; Ohio, 31; Oklahoma, 51; Oregon, 12; Pennsylvania 11; Rhode Island, two; Tennessee 7; TEXAS, 315; Utah, four; Virginia, four; Washington, 11; Wisconsin, 32; Australia, two; Canada nine; Costa Rica, two; District of Columbia, 13; England, two; Germany, two; Hawaii, three; Italy two; Mexico, 10; Netherlands, one and Scotland, two.

In the nine previous years since the caverns were opened as a national park, the visitors in April have numbered: 1924, 60; 1925, 16 1926, 158; 1927, 860; 1928, 1,559; 1929 1,920; 1930, 4,077; 1931, 3,105; 1932 2,288.

In obedience to a Warrant of Seizure me directed, in the above-entitled cause I have seized and taken into my possession the following-described property, to wit: Sixteen and one-sixth cases of Canned Cherries for the causes set forth the libel now pending in the U. S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas at Lubbock, Texas. I hereby give notice to all persons claiming the said described Sixteen and one-sixth cases of Canned Cherries, or knowing or having anything to say why the same should not be condemned and forfeited, and the proceeds thereof distributed according to the prayer of the libel, that they be and appear before the said Court, to be held in and for the Northern District of Texas, at the United States Court Room, in the City of Lubbock, Texas, on the 15th day of May, 1933, at 10 o'clock on the forenoon of that day, if the same shall be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise on the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to interpose a claim for the same, and to make their allegations in that behalf.
S. L. GROSS,
U. S. Marshal Northern Dist. of Texas.

NOTICE OF BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE
In The District Court of the United States For the Northern District of Texas
The Matter of Elzy Alexander Gilbert, Bankrupt. No. 210 in Bankruptcy.
Office of Referee, Lubbock, Texas, April 7, 1933. Notice is hereby given that Elzy Alexander Gilbert, of the County of Hale and district aforesaid, did, on the 5th day of April, 1933, file in the Clerk's office of said Court, at Lubbock, a petition setting up that he has been heretofore duly adjudged a bankrupt under the act of Congress approved July 1, 1898; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the Court touching his bankruptcy, and praying for a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate in bankruptcy, save such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.
On considering the above mentioned petition, it is ordered that any creditor who has proved his claim, and other parties in interest, if they desire to oppose the discharge prayed for in said petition shall, on or before the 8th day of May, 1933, file with the Referee for the Lubbock Division of said district, a notice in writing of their opposition to a discharge in the above entitled cause.
W. D. GIRARD,
Referee In Bankruptcy.

District Meet To Draw Many School Studes

Dr. Arthur W. Evans Is Head Of Affair Which Is Carded At Tech This Week; Scores Expected To Attend

Scores of public school students and teachers will attend an eighth annual district No. 2 Interscholastic League meet at Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday. Dr. Arthur W. Evans is director general.

Counties in the district are Andrews, Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Terry, and Yoakum.

Contest directors will be: Dr. W. A. Jackson, debate; Prof. J. T. Shaver, senior declamation; Prof. W. P. Clement, junior declamation; Prof. R. A. Mills, essay writing; Del Morgan, athletics; Miss Ruth Pirtle, extemporaneous speaking; Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, one-act play; Prof. W. R. Waghorne, music memory; Miss Mamie Wolffarth, typewriting; and Prof F. A. Kleinschmidt, art.

The one-act play contests were held here last month, with Slaton high school's cast winning first, Whitharral second, and Lamesa third.

About the usual number of entries are anticipated, Doctor Evans has announced.

possible. The states represented were Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Arkansas, Missouri, Michigan, Massachusetts, Texas and South Dakota.

After the meeting, the delegates told newspapermen it would not be necessary to call for applications from men wishing to go into the forests. Welfare agencies in each large city, it was said, have many more names of the needy on file than can be provided for under the program.

The next contingent is to be taken from Western states. Present plans contemplate putting 25,000 to work by July 1.

Preference is being given to those willing to send a substantial part of their salary to dependents. Raymond Clapp, director of the Ohio relief commission, estimated that from $2.50 to $5.00 a month is all the men will need, since the government furnishes everything except tobacco, candy and such incidentals.

Negro Trial

ing Decatur the other night."

The attorney's dramatic announcement about the fiery crosses came a few hours after the judge instructed the jury that color, creed and race must not be considered in its deliberations.

Judge Horton—his soft southern voice stern as he gave instructions—told the jury "it (the case) has come to you as jurors and you are going to face it like men."

The jury retired to its work at 12:45 p. m. central standard time.

The charge was broad, but simple. The case came to this county on a change of venue and the judge said:

"Decatur did not want it, Morgan county did not want it.

"It has come to you as jurors and you are going to face it like men."

The courtroom was still. Judge Horton spoke deliberately so all could hear—the negro defendant, the eight other negroes charged with a similar crime, the mixed crowd in the courtroom, the attorneys and the accuser.

"We are not trying whether the defendant is black or white," said the judge. "We are not trying lawyers. We are not trying state lines. The great thing the court desires to see done is justice."

Dairy Show

H. Maxwell, and McLean, coached by A. A. Tempke.

Results Announced

Results were announced as follows: first, Crosbyton, 1,146 points; second, Lubbock 4-H club, 1,135 points; third, McLean, 1,105 points.

Herschel Stockton, Crosbyton, was high point man with 395 points and Robert Blackwood, also Crosbyton, second with 360.

Team members were: Stockton, Blackwood and William Cox, with Wilbur Edwards, alternate; Lubbock 4-H club, J. L. Irish, Adrian James, Sherman Nelson and L. Nelson, alternate; McLean, Bert Carpenter, W. C. Carpenter, Christal Christian and Cecil Jones, alternate; Abernathy, Olin Reed, Delbert Nunn and Earl Crow; Hale Center, Wayne Brownd, Cecil Nicholson, Fred Smith and B. Summers, alternate.

Abernathy Is High

It was announced that the Abernathy team scored 1,149 points, or three higher than the winning team and that Olin Reed scored 415 points, or 20 higher than the highest individual man.

Several Lubbock men were here for the show, including W. O. Daniels, manager of the West Texas Gas company office and representing the board of city development, and Garnet O. Reeves, of the chamber of commerce. R. N. McClain also was with his team.

South Plains Area Council Now Has 36 Eagle Scouts, Jennings Announces

NEWS BRIEFS

A negro was arrested by the sheriff's department Saturday morning here in possession of a lawnmower said to have been stolen on Fourteenth street.

Mrs. T. P. Bradberry, 53, living four miles west of McAdoo, about 15 miles from Crosbyton, underwent amputation of her left hand at Lubbock sanitarium Saturday afternoon, after a charge from a shotgun accidentally fired nearly tore off the hand. She had loaded the gun to shoot a raven, she said. The gun was discharged at her home as she tried to unlatch a door. Mrs. Bradberry was received at the sanitarium about 2:30 p. m. in an automobile.

Wayne Robinson and Ed True, both 22-year-old transients, who confessed burglary of a Rodeo, N. M., store after being arrested by railway officers here, were taken into custody at county jail Saturday morning by the sheriff from Lordsburg, N. M.

Paul Mantz and Marvin Harper pleaded guilty of carrying a pistol and carrying iron knuckles, respectively, in county court Saturday morning, and Judge E. L. Pitts sentenced each to 30 days in county jail and to pay court costs. Harper, 17, was arrested late Friday by police. Mantz was arrested Thursday by railway officers here.

Alleging breach of a dairy contract, John L. Sears yesterday filed suit in 72nd district court against E. L. and J. P. Williams. Sears asked $11,340 damages.

A petition filed yesterday in district court here set out an agreement had been reached in the suit of Helen Ogwin and Opal Ogwin, minors, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ogwin, against Lamar McKenzie and the Trinity Universal Insurance company. A settlement of $150 will be made to Helen and $50 to Opal, as a result of an accident near here December 31, 1932, in which the Ogwins' car and a truck driven by McKenzie figured.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Powell and family who live about seven miles east of Lubbock were here yesterday.

M. S. Weed has pleaded guilty of keeping two cows on the same premises and has paid a $5 fine assessed in corporation court. A similar case against G. H. Garrett will be dismissed. D. F. Wulfman, city bacteriologist, signed the complaint, in connection with alleged violation of a sanitary ordinance.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Caskey and son, Clayton Lee, of Sweetwater, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Webb, 1306 Twenty-third street.

Coincident with announcement of a Boy Scout court of honor to be conducted Tuesday night in Brownfield, D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, said the council now has 36 Eagle scouts. Twenty-one of them have advanced and earned palms for additional work.

Although "it's a tough job to be an Eagle scout," as a natonal writer of scouting commented recently, about 120 boys in this area have become Eagles since the council was organized in 1925, Executive Jennings estimated.

Would Trouble Elders

A boy, to acquire the coveted Eagle badge, the highest rank in the scout movement, "has to meet a set of specifications that would tease most of his elders, few of whom probably could meet them all," the headquarters writer explained.

"That these requirements are fair is evidenced by the fact that last year some 8,976 boys earned the Eagle badge. This figure incidentally is again proof positive that young America isn't growing soft, for those 8,976 winners of the Eagle badge have to be pretty much of the stuff of which pioneers are made. Take the camping merit badge—to earn it a boy must camp out 50 days and nights, must be able out of 'native materials to make himself a shelter and a camp bed,' and be able to 'make a fire by rubbing sticks' and to 'make fire with flint and steel,' to name just a few. To meet other Eagle requirements he must be a fine swimmer and a diver and be able to make rescues in the water and resuscitate persons suffering from immersion." He must demonstrate more than ordinary ability in a wide variety of other tests.

Field Meets Planned

Troops here and elsewhere in the area have begun practice in preparation for annual district field meets. The Lubbock district meet here will be May 6. Dates of the Slaton meet and a preceding campfire program have been changed to May 29 and 30, Executive Jennings said.

The Brownfield court of honor is the only one scheduled in the area this week. Members of troop 45 of Brownfield, of which A. B. Sanders is scoutmaster, are to receive recognition. They are:

First class—Bill Savage, Chester Stewart, James Parker Davis.

Second class—Clifton Jones, Bill McGowan, Ralph Jeter, Bill Hardin, Wayne Mullins.

Federal Cuts

fund was $349,840,000 and Secretary Dern was understood in reliable sources to have been asked to trim it $144,000,000.

Another of Uncle Sam's big spenders—the postoffice department—also is to be hit hard by the economy push under present plans. The program in Postmaster General Farley's department embraces a dual purpose, cutting expenses and wiping out the department's customary deficit.

To Drop Personnel

Sharp cuts also have been ordered for the agriculture department, involving abolition of much of its experimental work and the greenhouses in the capital which supply roses to the White House.

To Remake Department

The commerce department is to be virtually re-made under present tentative plans, with most of the work of its foreign and domestic commerce bureau going to the attaches abroad of the state department; most of the domestic offices eliminated except in federal reserve districts; the bureau of mines transferred to the interior department, and commodity divisions which study individual commodities abandoned or consolidated.

These savings, added to the $450,000,000 which it is intended to save on veterans' costs, will approximate the billion dollar goal, the administration calculates.

Under the setup, it is planned that railroads shall contribute more largely to their own regulation to take the burden from the government; that water shipping shall pay a tonnage tax to pay for waterways and their maintenance, and that banking shall help pay for its regulation.

Bank Deposits

believed here many of the distressed state banks will be opened on a full-time basis through aid furnished by the Reconstruction Finance corporation under the provisions of the emergency banking act. This aid has taken the form of having the corporation match dollar for dollar in private subscriptions for new and perferred capital stock.

"We feel that there must be some relief from the tension caused by the failure of many state institutions to reopen," Woodin said today, adding that in some communities there were no banking facilities within a radius of 75 miles. "Bank reopenings have been going on in a surprisingly rapid way," he said, "and our plan will simply augment the honest efforts being made in the communities where banking conditions have been impaired."

Others all In Line

From over the world came indications that other countries are falling in line with the purpose of President Roosevelt in laying a firm groundwork for the London conclave on which American officials believe depend the hopes of all nations for a revived economic life.

The state department had not yet been informed definitely of his coming, but former Premier Edouard Herriot of France already was arranging to sail shortly. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain will leave for the United States a week from today.

Also preparing to be represented, are the other countries invited—Germany and Italy, completing the European big four; Japan and China, representing Asia; South America's "ABC" powers—Argentina, Brazil and Chile; and the next door neighbors, Mexico and Canada.

cheese, refrigerators, pretzels, rye bread and kindred lines reported improving business, while owners of cafes, hotels, restaurants and clubs watched the beer kegs roll in with broad smiles.

Among the estimates of new jobs created were these: Chicago, 40,000; New York, 70,000; Los Angeles, 10,000; San Francisco, 7,000; Albany, Boston, Minneapolis and St. Paul, 1,000 each.

bilization operations; tax relief through lower government costs; tariff protection for fats and fibres; studying non-food uses of farm surpluses; creation of a national economic planning committee and consolidation of federal agricultural loaning agencies.

Appropriation Sought

The senate Republican substitute would require an appropriation of $150,000,000 to put the plan into operation. This fund would be repaid to the treasury through a proposed sales tax of two per cent on articles made from cotton and cereal grains.

The substitute incorporates the so-called Smith cotton option pool section of the administration bill and the farm mortgage refinancing proposal submitted by President Roosevelt and now a part of the federal Democratic farm program.

Artificial Regulation Of Sex In The Reproduction Of Animal Life Achieved

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON

MOSCOW, April 8. (AP)—Artificial regulation of sex in the reproduction of certain animal life is claimed to have been accomplished by Professor Nicolai Konstantinovitch Koltzoff, founder and head of the Moscow Institute of Animal Breeding.

The discovery, which the professor hopes later to apply to all domestic mammals, consists of separating by electrical treatment the male and female elements of the spermatozoa and then impregnating females by injecting a solution containing the opposite of whichever isolation of the sexes in the spermatozoa provided the chief problem of the experiments, which were begun a year ago with rabbits.

React Differently

Having ascertained male and female elements in spermatozoa react differently to electric current, Professor Koltzoff employed what is termed the "michaelis apparatus" consisting of a horseshoe-shaped tube divided into three sections.

Natural spermatozoa were deposited in the curbed end and the tube was filled with a special "paysiological solution," one of the chief elements in the discovery, to which a slight electric current was applied for two hours.

This causes the male elements to be drawn to the anodes, or the side where the current enters the tube, and the females to the cathodes, where the current leaves. After this process some of the original spermatozoa, containing a mixture of both sexes, was left.

Three Solutions Used

Three female rabbits then were artificially impregnated with the resultant solutions—the first with the male or anodic spermatozoa, the second with the female or cathodic, and the third with the original residue.

The first bore six females, the second four males and one female, and the third two males and two females. The fact the second bore one female was ascribed by Professor Koltzoff to the difficulty of obtaining complete isolation with the experimental apparatus.

The professor is so certain of absolute success in his experiments that he declared they now are being conducted on a large scale, added the spermatozoa of horses also have been successfully segregated sexually but impregnation has not yet been attempted. Similar experiments are planned with cattle, sheep and other animals.

Future Farmers Of District To Organize Council Monday At Dairy Show In Plainview

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, April 8—Organization of a South Plains council of the Future Farmers of America, composed of representatives of the several chapters in this region, is to be perfected here Monday, April 10, during the sixth annual Panahdle-Plains Dairy show.

V. S. Payne, Abernathy, vocational teacher in the high school, was named counsellor for the group. He invited teachers to send two or three picked students here, aside from team members, to attend the organization meeting.

John W. Hulsey, Olton, is president of the association and R. H. Maxwell, Hale Center, secretary. Other teachers in the district are: A. R. Bateman, Plainview, who will be host; R. A. Box, Littlefield, J. H. Taylor, Ralls; W. C. Taylor, Crosbyton; C. B. Middleton, Spur; C. J. Van Zandt, Post; R. H. Wells, Seagraves; O. T. Williams, Floydada; Dewey Davis, Seminole; R. H. Mathis, O'Donnell, and B. R. Taylor, Farwell Texico.

Officers are to be named at this meeting. Also a committee to be in charge of the contests for public speaking and debate, at Texas Tech May 6, will be named.

Mrs. W. M. Haddock Dies At Home Of Daughter Saturday

Mrs. W. M. Haddock, 76, who had lived near Monroe 32 years, died in the home of a daughter two miles east of Monroe at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Mrs. Haddock, whose late husband had been a well-known sheep rancher, had been ill of a heart ailment since December.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday by Elder Liff Sanders, and burial by Sanders Funeral home will be in Lubbock cemetery. Other details had not been arranged late yesterday.

Mr. Haddock died about three and a half years ago. Mrs. Will Pearce, at whose home Mrs. Haddock died, and Mrs. Myrtle Clark of Marshall, daughters, and a son, Billy Haddock of Lovington, N. M., are survivors.

Fate Of Airship Building Rests In Congress Hands

WASHINGTON, April 8—America's $20,000,000 experiment with airships is to be studied next week by a joint congressional committee including members of both house and senate and their verdict likely will decide whether the United States builds any more dirigibles like the Akron.

This agreement was reached today, house Democratic leaders said, thus ending before it got well started an investigation proposed by the house naval committee centered entirely upon the Akron tragedy.

About the same time, President Roosevelt let it be known that he will attend memorial services for the Akron dead at Arlington national cemetery on May 30. There will be many other memorial services before then, such as that at the huge Washington cathedral which house naval committee members will attend tomorrow, but the belief at the White House was that as many bodies as could be found should be recovered first.

Body Of Co-Ed Bride Sent To Indiana For Services

AMARILLO, April 8. (AP)—The body of Mrs. Wanda Louise Biraud, 21, co-ed bride of two days of Francis Biraud, faculty member of the University of Indiana, who was killed in an automobile crash north of here Friday night, was sent to Indianapolis, Indiana, tonight.

Her husband, of Portiers, France, 23-year-old instructor in French at the Bloomington, Indiana, institution for the past year and a half, is confined to a local hospital where he is suffering a scalp laceration and minor injuries. His condition is not serious.

Three Persons Are Injured As Car Overturns At Alpine

ALPINE, April 8. (AP)—Three persons were injured when the automobile in which they rode overturned here tonight.

Bob Colvin of El Paso was brought to a hospital here in a serious condition. His wife was severely bruised and suffered a broken arm. Gene Cartledge of Galveston, driver of the car, was cut about the neck and back. Cartledge's condition was not serious.

Cartledge lost control of the car in the Mexican section of town trying to dodge a child in the street.

BEGIN LAMESA CHURCH

LAMESA, April 8. (Special)—Construction work on the new First Christian church building addition here has been started. The church is without a pastor since the resignation of the last one and are going ahead with betterments before calling a new man. Beauty Parlor Operators Of Three States Invited Here For Spring School

Second Annual Show And School Is To Be April 24-26

A thousand beauty parlor operators are expected here April 24, 25, and 26 for the second annual Wes-Tex-New Mex Spring Beauty School and Equipment show at the Hilton hotel.

Both shop owners and operators from all parts of West Texas, Eastern New Mexico, and Western Oklahoma are being invited by Russell Morrison company of Lubbock, sponsors of the show.

To Give Demonstrations

Approximately fifty equipment salesmen and demonstrators, among them several artists who held the spot light in the big shows held annually in New York, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles will be here to demonstrate the latest in beautitian's art.

A dance honoring the visiting beauticians will be held each evening with special vaudeville entertainment.

Style Show Scheduled

A style show will climax the show with models exhibiting every popular style of hair dressing, dyeing and eye brow and eye lash style.

Wedding anniversary, of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bruning of Dallas, representatives of E. Frederics, New York, who were married here during the first show last year, will be celebrated at the show this year. Mrs. Brunning before marriage was Miss Frieda Kogel, representing the same company.

Scheme To "Dupe" Car Owners Bared

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 8. (AP) Federal agents have been called upon to aid in investigating what police said was a widespread scheme to "dupe" automobile owners in many states, following the arrest of the national president of an automobile "association" and two of his agents here Thursday and Friday.

Police were checking with Dallas, Tex., officers in the belief the headquarters of the concern, known as the "United States Automobile Association, Inc." were located there before they were moved to Arkansas recently. Harrel Harper, prosecuting attorney, said hundreds of car owners had been victimized by the concern's offer of fabulous national services for motorists in return for a $12.50 "membership" fee.

Harper declared at least 15 of the agents in this state escaped over the line into Oklahoma following arrest of Jacques Lemoyne, president; F. F. Arnold and L. B. McDonald, agents.

Dalhart Preparing For 18th District Legion Convention

DALHART, April 8. (Special) Preparations are being made to entertain at least one thousand delegates at the Eighteenth District American Legion and Auxiliary convention in Dalhart April 29-30, according to Elmer D. Elliott, chairman of the steering committee.

A big barbecue will be one of the outstanding features for the two-day event, Mr. Elliott said. In addition there will be all kinds of entertainment for every hour of the day and well into the night, declared Mr. Elliott. "We aren't going to allow our visitors a dull moment."

State and national officials will be present and posts from adjoining towns in other states will be honor guests. Formal invitations will be sent soon, the chairman announced.

LOANS BEING APPROVED

LITTLEFIELD, April 8 (Special) — Reconstruction Finance corporation general purpose loans for agriculture are being approved and checks are expected soon, J. C. Hilburn, member of the local committee, reports. Seventy five applications from this section were approved. Some 300 loans have been sought.

Midland Man Out For Lions Post

MIDLAND, April 8. (Special) — Lubbock Lions and other Lions club members in South Plains cities will find that Marion F. Peters, above, candidate for governor of District Two-T will advance Lionism in the district just as he has done in his own city, when elected governor at the annual convention in Amarillo, April 17 and 18, his friends declare.

Peters' leadership as president of the Midland Lions club has brought an average attendance increase of over 100 per cent. He has already done some district work through his inter-city chautauqua idea. The Midland man is rated as an outstanding citizen of West Texas, and his fellow townsmen say he will reflect credit on Lionism when elected district governor.

A large delegation of Midland Lions will attend the Amarillo convention to boost Peters' candidacy. Many clubs have already indicated their votes will go to the Midland man.

Kill 57 Snakes

First Hunt Of The Season Held

SNYDER, April 18.—(Special)—Fifty seven rattlers were killed by four men in the first rattle snake hunt of the season here. It was held on the Hood ranch, near Camp Springs.

Will Nichols, Ben and Marion Hamilton and Gurley Carney did the shooting, using shot guns. Snakes are coming out of their dens to bask in the warm sunshine.

Post Receives $6.163 From R. F. C. Funds During March

POST, April 8. (Special)—Funds received by the Post Chamber of Commerce for the local R. F. C. committee, up to March 25, amounted to $6,163.48, Hubert L. Jones, retiring chairman, reported. Mr. Jones resigned from the post after serving since last fall, because of pressure of personal business.

In a report to D. A. Bandeen, manager of the W. T. C. C. Mr. Jones said the five checks received up to March 25 amounted to $6,-163.48. Disbursements were $6,073.10 leaving a balance of $90.38. Two days after the close Mr. Jones received a check for $437.50 which he turned over to his successor. No office or clerical expenses or supplies were charged against the fund, the entire amount disbursed going directly into relief work, Mr. Jones pointed out.

Of Course You Wouldn't Choose Your Easter Frock Just Because Of "A Pretty Ad," But When You Have Inspected These Unusual Garments---Then It's A Different Matter

Picturing Spring garments with glowing adjectives will be the order of the day as Easter approaches. "Beautiful Ads" will present themselves from every angle as they vie with one another to excite your interest. We ourselves will try to make our ads attractive but at the same time we realize that the garments themselves are the final answer.

We believe we are equipped to offer you the most authentically style right garments that are to be found in Lubbock. Many years of careful study—years and years of experience in the markets—the assistance of highly trained resident representatives in the style centers—all are factors in making this a reality. But after all, all this, is a part of a "Pretty Ad". The garment itself is the important thing that will either make or mar your pleasure as you join the Easter parade. That's why we ask only, that you inspect the most unusual showing that we offer this year for this all important event. When you have judged for yourself after this inspection we have no doubt of the decision.

Choose a Soft, Flexible Straw For Your Easter Hat

Hats for Easter may be either large and "floppy" or small and close fitting—both are here for your inspection—

Don't overlook the possibilities of white for your Easter hat regardless of your dress color—It is an important style factor—

Children, too, will appreciate the clever styles so airy and typical of Easter. Prices range

$2.98 $3.45 $4.85 $6.45

GLOVES, PURSES, HOSIERY ACCESSORIES THAT MEAN SO MUCH WHEN "JUST RIGHT"

It's the little things that count—accessories are not greatly expensive things in themselves. Their choosing is not a severe strain on the "budget" yet what a prominent place they take in the final appearance of your Easter ensemble.

GLOVES

From the finest French Kid "long" glove to the very popular novelty fabric glove our assortment now offers the unusual—novelty styles in fine kid or pigskin—unusual combinations in color and fabric in novelty cloth gloves—you'll like them all—

PURSES

Real Calf Leathers—Pacapig, Patents—these three materials offer wonderful possibilities in the choosing of smart bags for Easter. Shapes are new and unusual—clasps are different—fittings are decidedly different—

HOSIERY

Sheer chiffon hose in exactly the correct shade—a very important detail for Easter. In a price range that includes every preference are all the accepted shades for spring in complete size assortments—

BRACELETS

Bracelets are important jewelry touches for Summer and Easter—Shorter sleeves with all the dress attention to the "upper arm" leave bracelets to complete the dressy effect—

59c $1.00

GARMENTS WITH ALL THE "CHIC" SO DEAR TO EVERY WOMAN'S HEART!

"Style" is something intangible—something that defies description in terms of details. It is an illusive thing that embodies both newness with a touch of the old, the practical with many times a pinch of the impractical, the appropriate with the inappropriate. It is the balancing of these many contradictory factors in just the proper proportion at just the proper time that achieves the smartness you so much desire and that we strive so hard to give you. It is the thing that stands out so definately in our Easter showing, that thing called "Style".

THE DRESS YOU WEAR FOR EASTER

Fine silk fabrics in sheer summer weights with light airy touch of organdy or contrasting colored silks as trimmings — airy printed silks in fluffy styles so typical of Easter—all in lighter colorings and in the seasons newer designs—They offer you the correct Easter Mode at prices unusual—

$10.85 $15.75 $18.45 $29.85

COTTONS ARE NEW

Organdy Net and Embroideried frocks are just made for Easter and we are showing a wonderful new array — Bright pastel shades in lovely "drapy" styles—priced

$6.45 $9.85 $10.85

A LIGHT WEIGHT COAT AT EASTER TIME

The light weight Easter frock requires a light wrap in the usual Easter weather. No garment has quite the diversity of uses that comes with a spring coat. Shown in new ideal weights — tans, greys, blues and the ever present blacks —both in trimmed and untrimmed models—featured at prices more than unusual—

$10.85 $18.45 $29.85

CONSIDER SUITS ALSO

Many a smartly dressed woman will appear for Easter in an mannishly tailored suit—one made from mannish materials —severely tailored. It will be worn with a smart pastel or sheer cotton blouse and she will be the envy of many—the prices are—

$10.85 $18.45

UNDER GARMENTS ALSO ARE IMPORTANT EASTER ITEMS

Unseen, yet planned most carefully, the undergarments "My Lady" will wear will have a lot to do with the appearance of her garment—

PANTIES

Close fitting outer garments demand a lack of fullness in those garments that "go underneath"—short close fitting panties—from fine silk and bimburg materials—Vanity Fair Van Raalte and other outstanding makes—priced

50c 75c $1.00

SLIPS

Slips that "cling" closely to the body where the outer garments fit so closely are required—Varied styles for all type dresses—all liberal in length—in white and tearose—with fine imported lace trimmings—every slip unusual in design—many with panels—priced

$1.19 $1.69 $1.98

BRASSIERE

Foundation garments that mould the figure—combinations corselette and brassieres—the well groomed appearance depends on them. Gossard new garments—the sensational new lines offered in Maiden Form Brassieres—all are important factors in the appearance of your Easter garment—

P-TA Speakers Announced For District Meet

Programs To Be Available To P.-T. A. People This Week; Theme, General Plans Are Announced

ALTHOUGH programs for the fourteenth district meeting of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will not be available until some time this week, tentative plans have been announced by Mrs. J. R. Strayhorn of Rotan, publicity director.

The meeting is to be in the high school building at Brownfield on April 21 and 22. The theme of the session will be "Safeguarding Childhood Through This Crisis."

Several speakers have been announced for the meeting. In addition to these addresses there will be exhibits of year and record books, posters, pamphlets and instruction on all phases of parent-teacher work, Mrs. Strayhorn states.

Many To Attend

Each association is entitled to one delegate for every ten members. There are 24 counties in the district and a large number of voting delegates are expected to be in attendance.

Among the speakers are several from Lubbock. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, is to be one of the principal speakers. Among the others from here who will appear on the program are Miss Bonnie K. Dysart, a member of the faculty at Texas Technological college and Miss Mae Murfee, Lubbock County superintendent of schools.

Other speakers who have already been announced are Dr. E. W. Protho, director of the Nolan County health unit; Mrs. J. M. Crain of Claude, state publicity director; Miss Helen Hardy, division of child welfare with the Texas congress; Mrs. A. C. Surman of Post, state chairman of mental attitudes and a past president of the fourteenth district, and Mrs. James B. Day of Rotan, president of the district.

The people of Brownfield, assisted by the Terry county P.-T. A. council, are preparing to give lodging and breakfast to the delegates. There will be a complimentary tea and luncheons for those who attend.

Is Active

MRS. N. L. PETERS

As president of the City Parent-Teacher council, Mrs. N. L. Peters is actively associated with a number of spring activities. The council is fostering an annual mother-daughter banquet Monday evening at the Hilton hotel. In addition to local affairs, the council members are anticipating the fourteenth district convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which is scheduled for April 21 and 22 in Brownfield.

Mesdames Floyd Williams and C. E. Roberts arranged the entertainment for a ladies' night program attended by members of the American Business club and their wives Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Games of auction and contract bridge and forty-two were diversion, following a dinner served at 7:30 o'clock. The club insignia was used on tallies.

Mrs. J. Ray Dickey and Jimmy Kennedy made high scores in contract. Mrs. W. L. Pearson and Ellis Carter scored high in auction, and Mrs. Bill Drum and Joe McIlhaney were high in forty-two.

There were 38 guests present.

Small Musician Who Played Here Receives Recognition

High praise has been given the musical ability of seven-year-old Jane Lokey, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Ernest F. Lokey of Farwell, former residents of this city, according to word received here. Jane was one of those chosen to represent the Amarillo district at the Tri-State Music festival here this week-end. She recently appeared in recital in Farwell, assisted by a chorus of 15 children.

Friendship Class Has Party Friday In R. C. Harvey Home

Mesdames R. C. Harvey and Charles C. Galbraith entertained for the First Presbyterian Friendship class Friday afternoon in the Harvey residence, 2628 Twenty-First street.

After a series of games, Mrs. W. L. Hester and Mrs. Ray Mowery read, and Mrs. E. L. Robertson and Miss Buena Sowell read original poems.

Others attending were Mesdames F. A. Kleinschmidt, Harry E. Blocker, J. A. Hardy, T. R. Prideaux, A. J. Delahnuty, F. W. Newell and Clarence Smyes.

District Clubs Meet Soon In Annual Session

Hereford Women Plan To Be In Readiness For Seventh District Club Convention For April 19 To 21

CANYON, April 8.— (Special) — Clubs over the half hundred counties that compose the seventh district have chosen their delegates to the district convention at Hereford which opens at noon, Wednesday, April 19, and continues until noon, April 21. All members of the district board are urged to be in Hereford in time for the last official meeting at one-thirty, April 19. There will be no board luncheon this year, it being the desire of the administration to have all special features honor the club delegates. However, a luncheon will be served at noon, April 19, for all visitors who are in Hereford at that time. Plates will cost thirty-five cents. Every woman who will be in Hereford for lunch Wednesday is requested to mail a card to Mrs. O. G. Hill, of Hereford, homes chairman, so that preparations can be made for the luncheon. This luncheon, like all the others, will be at the Baptist church.

The district convention will be running over with special features, according to Mrs. Bob Wilson, local arrangements chairman. Hereford will be "Tulip Town," for thousands of bulbs were planted last fall to give a festive air to the convention.

The county library, said by the state librarian, Miss Edwin Sue Goree, to be one of the best in the state, will hold open house April 20 with the Junior Bayview club as hostess.

Everybody in Deaf Smith county is going to be happy to have the convention in Hereford, the city and its surroundings living up to a reputation for pulling together. Mrs. Wilson writes, "Everybody, men and women alike, is working to make the convention a happy and successful one. I have never seen such splendid cooperation."

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce, not willing to let the women extend all the courtesies to the visitors, is giving a tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Black, with an especially attractive program.

Among the guests who are always welcomed by the club women, who will be present at Hereford, will be Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs and Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agents; Miss Edwin Sue Goree, state librarian; Mrs. J. W. Fincher, state president, T.F.W.C.; Mrs. Violet Greenhill of the child welfare division of the state health

Church Delegates Are Back; Women To Plan Program

Methodist women who attended sessions of the Nothwest Texas Methodist Women's Missionary society in Vernon last week have returned to the city.

The next conference will be in Lubbock some time next spring, they report. Invitation for the conference was extended by Mrs. George R. Bean, president of the First Methodist Women's Missionary society, and Mrs. Pascal Peek, president of the First Methodist Mary Helm auxiliary.

Several Lubbock women were placed on the program committee for next year. This committee has a chairman Mrs. J. G. Merritt of Colorado City, and is composed of Mesdames C. A. Bickley, G. C. Wolffarth, Bean and Peek, all of this city.

Local women who attended the conference were Mesdames Bickley, J. Frank Potts, R. A. Metcalfe, W. J. Spain, Bean, Peek and Miss Regina Rhea.

Capes Guarantee Easter Chic; Smart Innovation

Black smoothstone silk and chartreuse silk crepe make this cape costume. The surplice vest of chartreuse has matching flowers and a sash, tying on the hip.

Buoyant Mood Seen In Fashions For This Season

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 8.—On with the new this Easter! There's new hope in the country—let your clothes prove that you are in the same buoyant mood!

Capes are distinctly new this spring. They have a leisure-class-something that women love. Combine them with new prints and you have a knockout costume. Their very swing gives you dash and youth and the best part about many of them is that they can be worn over various costumes and prove very, very useful for that reason.

If you want real dash to your cape costume, have a contrast of some kind in its color scheme. This is where prints come in at a premium.

Checks, dots, stripes and plaids are the pepper to your wardrobe concoction. The right bit of printed yoke, scarf, blouse or upper to a dress can simply make you a new woman.

Capes In Wide Variety

There is tremendous variety in cape costumes this Easter. You can have a wool suit with a cape instead of a jacket. You can have it just waistlength, so that your blouse sleeves show beneath. You can have a three-quarters swagger cape with your suit. You can have a dress and a little shoulder cape that comes off, you can have a plain skirt and shoulder cape with a surplice blouse

This cape-suit is of gray rabbits' hair wool, the cape buttoning to the skirt. The blouse is of mustard-yellow, eggplant and white plaid taffeta.

Polka dots in green and white dot the gray silk that makes the top of the gray wool dress of this costume, and the yoke and ties of the shoulder cape.

Many Expected To Attend; To Be Tomorrow

Second Annual Banquet Will Bring Mothers, Daughters Of Town Together; Short Program Arranged

THE program that will be presented Monday evening at the annual mother-daughter banquet to be fostered by the City Parent-Teacher council is to be short and will not include any speeches, according to announcements made by Mrs. E. B. Wheelock, program chairman.

The banquet, which is the second one here, will be at 7:30 p. m. at the Hilton hotel. Since there were more than 200 at the affair last year, arrangements are being made to care for a larger number tomorrow evening.

Although the P.-T. A. council members are arranging for the banquet, any mother and daughter in the city may attend, it was stated. Women without daughters to take are being asked to "adopt" a daughter for the evening in order that school girls may attend who might not otherwise have a way, Mrs. R. V. Kimmel has a list of these girls.

Small Girls Perform

One feature of the program is to be a short spring pageant, to be presented by 6-year-old girls. Those in the pageant and the parts they play are the following: Springtime, Wanda Jo Ribble; pages, Annie Lee Kelley, Cecelia Farmer, Ruby Jo Smith, Dorothy Cantrell, Betty Jo Dick, Mary Bell, Joy McSpadden, Ruth George, Arlene Wood, Mary Evelyn Williamson, Rosa Marie Entie, Polly Wolfe; artist, Dorothy Daniel; solo dancer and singer, Muriel Jean Hudson. Mrs. T. A. Rhodes is director.

Other program numbers will include accordion selections, to be played by Miss Catherine Royalty and Mrs. Roy Herod of Brownfield; a reading by Myrtle Golden; slight of hand tricks, Dr. O. C. Boone.

Tickets for the banquet have been on sale for several days at all schools and will continue on sale Monday. They are priced at 30 cents a plate.

Sans Souci Is At Card Party

Two Members Of Club Have Bridge Party Saturday At Friends For Other Members And Four Guests

Four special guests played bridge at the party given for the Sans Souci club Saturday afternoon in the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway. They were Misses Catherine Holgate, Martha Gholson, Mary Warren and Alma Brown.

Misses Christine Bundy and Fay Brown were hostesses for the occasion.

Club members attending were Misses John Anna Boyd, Wanda Butler, Evelyn Price, Mary Lee Bardwell, Frances Snyder, Rosemary Leaverton, Roberta Myrick, Catherine Jameson, Virginia Bacon, Dorothy Rushing, Coleta Baker, Dorothy Dobbins, Mary Wilbanks, Effie Smith, Ann Lou Bennett, Melba Watson, Sue De Lafosse, Eleanor Halbert, Ruth Heard, Polly Shultz, Lois Pitts, Lois Watson, Audrey Farris, Mary Geniece Hardberger, Lena Grace Sanderson, Nancy Ruth Leaverton, Helen Barstow, and Mrs. D'Aun Hunter.

Work is already being done on the Girl Scout park that is located at Sixteenth street and Avenue Y and more planting will be done next week, according to Miss Alma Girand, city director. Last week, shrubs, trees and grass were planted. This week, Troops One, Two and Four of the Scouts will start flower gardens in the park. These gardens will be entered in a contest and the winning plot will be chosen in the fall.

The Girl Scout park in the Mexican settlement is not yet started, Miss Girand stated.

Pre-Med Club Fosters Dance

Weird Decorations Are Used For College Society Event Friday Evening; Details Are In Black, White

Weird decorations were used in appointments for the annual Tech Pre-Med club dance that was given Friday evening in the Uptown Dance palace. The club colors of black and white were carried out in details. The skull and cross bones insignia was in the background of the orchestra stage. Lighting effects were in place blue.

The Varsity Rythm Kings furnished music for dancing. Orchestra members were dressed as surgeons in white caps and gowns.

Forty-five members were hosts for this dance. Officers are: President, Warren Poole; vice-president, Felix Ballenger; secretary-treasurer, Hughes Gilliam.

Hobby Collection Display Is To Be Opened To Public By Forum; Silver Tea Is To Be Given This Afternoon

What college professors do with their out-of-class time is to be indicated in the hobby collection display this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock at Seaman hall under the sponsorship of The Forum, campus women's organization.

In connection with the display there will be a silver tea, given by The Forum, and proceeds will be used in sending a delegate to the national convention of the Association of Women's clubs at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y. Miss Kathleen Jennings, president-elect of the A.W.S., is to be the delegate.

In addition to the hobby collections, there will be displays of books and other articles to show the accomplishments of some of the professors.

Some Exhibits

There will be publications in the form of books, magazine articles and bulletins by Dr. A. W. Evans, Dr. R. E. Garlin, Mrs. William Dingus, Miss Bonnie K. Dysart, Dr. R. G. Sidwell, Jesse Q. Sealey, Harold R. Nissley, Dr. A. W. Jackson, Dr. Leroy T. Patton and Dr. C. B. Qualia.

Dr. M. A. Stainbrook, professor of geology, will contribute three trays of rare fossils.

In the woodwork collection there are contributions by T. C. Root and Dr. A. B. Cunningham. Mr. Root made a collection of various types of wood when he was a boy and this includes a specimen of the lightest as well as of the heaviest known wood. The collection is in a wooden case made by Mr. Root. Dr. Cunningham is displaying several pieces of furniture of his own making.

In Miss Frances Whatley's travels abroad, she assembled a genuine gypsy costume, which will be on display. Mrs. W. B. Gates will show a Spanish book bearing the publication date of 1654.

Out-Of-Town Speakers Are Scheduled For Baptist Conference

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

IF you have a child who is to enter school for the first time next fall, take him down to the clinic that the City Parent-Teacher association is having as an introduction in the Summer Round-Up campaign. The clinic is to be on Wednesday, April 19, at 1207 Broadway.

* * *

This clinic is for every pre-school child who enters school next fall, regardless of who he is. It is not a charitable enterprise in any sense.

The purpose of this clinic is for parents to discover physical defects that their children may have in time to have them remedied before the children enter school next fall. A physically fit child, it has been found, does much better work in school than one who is handicapped by defects.

Lubbock doctors and dentists will examine the children who are brought to them and fill out health cards that are provided by the P.-T. A. From these the parents may know how their children rate physically and learn what needs to be done to prepare them for entering school in September. By having the clinic in the spring, there are several months in which the remedies may be effected.

Many children have some eye or ear defect of which their parents are not aware. There are children who need glasses of whose tonsils are diseased. Often these troubles are so slight that they go unnoticed in a five or six year old child. If the remedies are affected now it often means good health for years to come. If they are allowed to grow worse, aggravated by the year in school, there are often serious complications. These are the some of the reasons why the parent-teacher associations make the clinics possible and attempt to have every child entering school free of physical handicaps.

Naturally, the remedy is up to the parents. No doctor is chosen for them, regardless of who conducts the examination. The medical men simply give their services in conducting the examination because they desire to co-operate with the parent-teacher associations in promoting good health. Parents are expected to take their children to their family physicians or to doctors of their own choice.

Summer Round-Up work—that is discovering physical defects in children before they enter school and bringing about such remedies as are possible—is not a new thing. It follows a plan that has been includes in the parent-teacher program for several years. The program is not new in Lubbock, even, since it has been followed here for several years.

Because it has been successful, the plan is to be followed again. Every child has not entered school in perfect physical condition because of the campaign, but many children have been saved suffering and have been able to progress more rapidly and easily in school simply because they have had physical handicaps removed in their pre-school days.

Perhaps you think your child has none of these remedial defects. Then, you have the satisfaction of watching the doctor mark down a perfect score for him. Or, you may find that there is something that you can do this summer to give your child a better start in school next September. In any event, take him down to the clinic on April 19.

TAKE A DAUGHTER

DON'T FORGET that mother-daughter banquet Monday evening. You don't have to have a daughter in school in order to attend, because it is for everyone.

And, if you can go, adopt a daughter for the evening. Some little girl without a mother or one whose mother cannot attend the banquet may be forever grateful to you if you take charge of her for an evening and make her your guest for the banquet. This is a great opportunity for women who wish they had a daughter or who wish to reach out a friendly hand to a future mother in the community.

Two Days Will Be Devoted To Union Meeting

Home Mission Board Member Is Scheduled To Appear On Program For District Baptist Gathering

Several out of town speakers have been secured for talks to be made at a two-day convention of district nine, Baptist Women's Missionary union, to be at First Baptist church April 17 and 18.

These speakers include Mrs. J. E. Leigh of Dallas, state secretary of the Women's Missionary union; Miss Emma Leachman of Richmond, Va., a member of the board of home missions; Dr. J. C. Hardy of Baylor college at Belton, and Dr. G. W. McDonald of Wayland college at Plainview.

District officers who reside in Lubbock are Mrs. O. J. Hull, young people's leader; Mrs. J. A. Mullins, associational secretary; Mrs. Tom Campbell, chairman of missions; Mrs. Frazier McCrummen, publicity director.

The district is made up of missionary societies in seven associations. Mrs. Lon V. Smith of Floydada is president.

District officers are to attend a dinner at the church on Monday evening.

department, Austin; Mrs. L. A. Wells, Amarillo, state chairman of Texas writers division; Mrs. I. D. Cole, Amarillo, state chairman of community music division; Mrs. W. C. Martin, Dallas, farm relief chairman; Mrs. Volney Taylor, Brownsville, candidate for the state presidency, and Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, president of the eighth district P.-T. A.

Decorations for the convention will be maroon and white, these having been suggested by the white faced cattle which are always associated with Hereford.

A dinner, especially honoring the club delegates, will be another special feature of the convention.

The business session will have a diverting and interesting hour when the junior clubs have charge of an hour, under the leadership of Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, the junior chairman. Hereford's Junior Bayview club is the local "young" civic and study group.

Les Temps club of Amarillo has had a full year of valuable work and fun. National folklore, Greek myths in literature and art, interior decoration, with a dash of travelogue and fiction, have furnished variety to regular meetings, while helping in Red Cross and Community Chest drives, contributions to the Potter County library fund, the headquarters permanent fund, the Girl Scout building fund, and the Panhandle-Plains Historical society have been evidences of civic spirit. Furnishing sandwiches to undernourished children in one of Amarillo's schools has kept the individual club members close to present day economic problems, and assisting 4-H club girls has given them a vision of the future. Mrs. J. B. Martin is president of this club which was organized in 1922.

Every club in the seventh district should have the names of its delegates alternates and visitors at the Hereford convention in the hands of Mrs. O. G. Hill, Hereford, by April 16 and earlier if convenient. Mrs. Hill is homes chairman. Rooms and breakfast will be furnished every woman attending the convention. Luncheons will cost thirty-five cents and the dinner Thursday, April 20, will be fifty cents. Most of those who attend the convention will be able to reach their homes by Friday night, the sessions closing at noon Friday, April 21.

The women's club of Plainview assisted in the clean-up campaign conducted by that city the past week. Under the direction of city authorities working with Mrs. Jo W. Wayland, representative of the women's organizations, the city was divided into districts and hauling facilities provided for the removal of trash placed in alleys. The clean-up campaign is but one feature in the progressive civic program outlined by the Plainview federation for 1933.

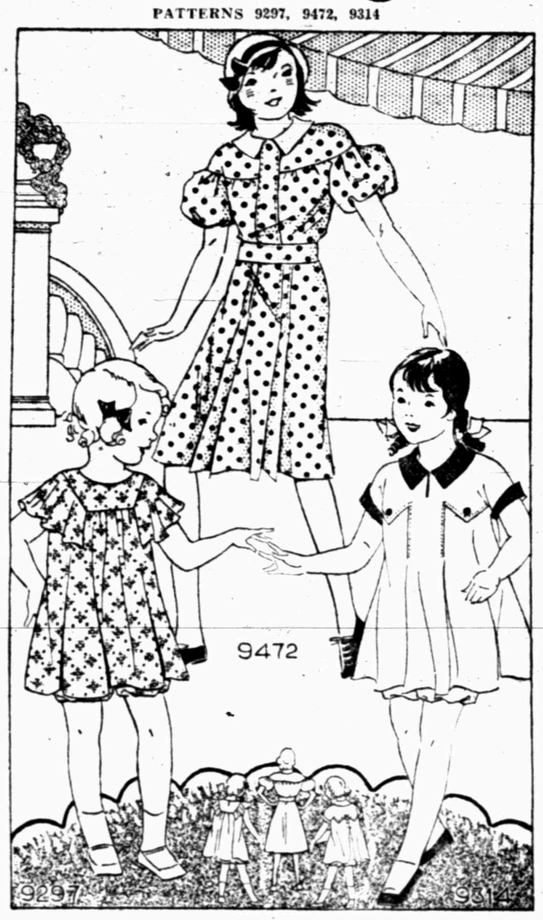

Club women of the seventh district who have felt a glow of pride in the erection of the permanent headquarters building at Austin are relieved to know that the financial difficulties which have worried the state organization have been adjusted and that there is now no immediate danger of the beautiful state club house going into the hands of some other organization. At a meeting of the state board, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, held at Austin March 24, which was attended by the seventh district president, the new charter which was voted upon at the Corpus Christi convention was recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and the federation will be governed by its provisions from this time on. This charter is closely connected with the legal phases of the building program.

The management of the state headquarters building fund is now in the hands of Mrs. J. W. Fincher, of Houston, president; Mrs. C. W. Welder of Victoria, Mrs. Sam Smith of Dallas, and the seven retiring district presidents.

The Woman's club of Friona will have a special guests next Tuesday the district president, Mrs. J. A. Hill, and the secretary, Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick. This club is outstanding among the working organizations of the seventh district.

Marian Martin Pattern

Of course, we musn't forget the fashionable younger set, now that we have the fever for planning warm weather wardrobes. They, too, are very "style wise" and demand the gayest, most dashing and exciting rigs . . . such as the three irresistible frocks sketched today. The first tiny one is for the dainty printed sheers, to enhance its soft flattering details; the second, a bit older, is trim and perky with loads of chic to captivate every youthful heart, and the puffed sleeves may be omitted; the third, delightful of crisp cottons or linens, introduces contrasting collar and cuffs and a smart note of topstitching. What a bevy to choose from!

Pattern 9297 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 3-8 yards 36 inch fabric and 3-8 yard contrasting.

Pattern 9472 may be ordered only in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 8 requires 2 3-8 yards 36 inch and 1-4 yard contrasting.

Pattern 9314 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 3-8 yards 35 inch fabric and 3-8 yard contrasting.

To get a pattern of this model, send Fifteen Cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred.) Please write very plainly your Name, Address, Style Number and Size of each pattern ordered.

Order your copy of the Marian Martin Pattern Book. This big book is full of fascinating fashion ideas. New fabrics and accessories are illustrated along with a complete collection of stunning styles designed to help you achieve a well-planned wardrobe. Slenderizing models are here, and gay, chic styles for youngsters—all simple and inexpensive to make. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Arrangements For Clinic To Be Completed

Committees Are Meeting To Make Final Plans; Clinic Is To Be For Pre-School Children In City

Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, general chairman, is calling a meeting of the committees arranging for the annual Summer Round-Up sometime this week. At this time final plans will be laid for the free clinic to be held in this city Wednesday, April 19, at 1207 Broadway.

It is hoped that the examinations may be made alphabetically as much as possible in order to avert a crowd, Mrs. Maedgen stated. Transportation will be provided for those who do not have a way to attend the clinic.

These examinations are for all children of the city who will enter school for the first time in September. Doctors from the Lubbock Medical society are to conduct the clinic, which is sponsored by the City Parent-Teacher council.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Quicksall are leaving today for a visit with relatives in Shiner and San Antonio. They will be with Mrs. Quicksall's sister, who has recently come to the states from her home in Brazil.

Mrs. E. L. Banks has as her guests Mrs. Carl McAdams and Mrs. Bob Shelton of Lockney. Mrs. McAdams has a son, Carl, Jr., who is a student at Texas Technological college.

Miss Myrtle Murray, district home demonstration agent of College Station, was in Lubbock Saturday.

Mrs. R. W. Amick, 2124 Twenty-Fourth street, is leaving this weekend for Chanute, Kas., after receiving word that her father is very ill.

Mrs. Allie M. Dyer left last night for Dallas to purchase new stock for The Vogue.

ELIZABETH ALLAN

By NEA Service

HOLLYWOOD, April 8.—Capes have a lady-something about them Hollywood makes Hollywood girls love them.

Elizabeth Allan wears a short dark gray cape, with slits for her arms, to top a light gray skirt of the same mottled wool, and tops it with a felt sailor of the skirt's gray. Her lacy blouse is of the skirt's light gray and the skirt rises to a high-waistline over the blouse, fastening with a snappy metal button clasp at the side-front. Her shoes and gloves are the cape's gray.

Wynne Gibson, dashing into a dentist's office, wore a dark blue wool crepe suit with cape sleeves to the jacket. Her blouse was a krinkly plaid taffeta, tying at the neck with a loose bow.

Bebe Daniels, entering the Skeets Gallagher home, for a tea, given in Bebe's honor, wore an ankle length dress of black crepe with short, puffed sleeves and a fluffy, wired cape collar of white embroidered organdy.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, lunching in her dressing room at the studio, wore a pink crepe negligee, with an entire cape collar of yards of uncurled ostrich, shaded from pink to rose. Jack Oakie, Dick Arlen and Maurice Chevalier also were present.

Wera Engles, sitting at a table in the Cocoanut Grove with Colin Clive and Brian Aherne, wore a vivid blue satin, form-fitting evening gown and a diminutive evening cape of silver brocade, embroidered with thousands of little jewels in a Chinese design.

The Maharajah of Nawanagar has presented the London zoo with a tigon, an animal which had a tigon, an animal which had a lioness for a mother and a tiger for a father.

Old Doctor Escapes Gall Bladder Suffering

An old German physician, Dr. H. E. Hildebrand, many years ago suffered from what appeared to be a Gall Bladder Disorder. He was frequently subject to colic attacks, gas pains, indigestion, pain in sides, back and around the Liver. Knowing that Gall-stones are often produced by a stagnant, abnormal bile, he decided to treat his own case and find a way of improving the bile and stimulating its flow. So successful was he in his efforts, he prescribed the treatment he found for himself to other sufferers. The amazing results they reported is convincing evidence of the merits of this preparation. Sufferers everywhere from Gall-stones, Gall Bladder, Liver and Stomach Distress due thereto, may obtain a test of this splendid treatment Free by merely sending their name and address to the Dr. Hildebrand's Lab., Dept. 1195, 155 N. Union Ave., Chicago, Ill. Send today.—Adv.

Even Most Promising Of Picture Discoveries Must Be Trained

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Even the most promising discoveries have to be trained for pictures now-a-days, and it is seldom that little unknowns step from obscurity and go places all at once.

DOROTHY WILSON

Dorothy Wilson did. Yes, but even so she isn't missing training.

And the best training, as Hollywood knows it, can be found in the western. After her first flash in "The Age of Consent," Dorothy, erstwhile studio stenographer, was introduced to the disciplinary as well as educational benefits of playing in rugged outdoor melodrama.

She has supported Bill Boyd and been leading lady to Tom Keene in one of his westerns, both roles calculated to test a starlet's determination and ability to troupe.

Not The Only One

SHE isn't alone in the ordeal. One of Gail Patrick's first assignments is a part in Zane Grey's "The Mysterious Rider," and Florence Britton, who used to work for Samuel Goldwyn but never attained prominence, takes a fresh start as Tim McCoy's leading lady in "The Brand Inspector."

GAIL PATRICK

Just why training in westerns produces troupers and actresses — and Joan Crawford is only one of today's stars who look back upon schooling in the horse opera — is evident from a glance at the schedule Dorothy Wilson has followed for the past five weeks, on two successive films.

Squeezed For $150

IN Hollywood, you can hire a man to be squeezed by a python—not quite to death—for $150.

LIONEL ATWILL

The stunt man who risked his life for this niggardly sum was encased in a steel jacket, which couldn't be seen, of course, because he was wearing the clothes of Lionel Atwill, for whom he was doubling.

The double had arranged to give the python's four keepers a signal when he felt he had had enough squeezing. The cameras begin turning.

In less time than it takes to read this sentence, the python, 30 feet long and weighing 350 pounds, had coiled itself four times around the virtually defenseless stunt man.

One coil caught the victim around his neck, choking him. His face was contorted with pain, but the handlers were waiting for him to cry out the signal. When the stunt man's face turned redder still, the keepers rushed in to uncoil the reptile.

The stunt man recovered from his brush with death in two or three days.

On Pronouncing "R"

A long, involved scene was being played by Miriam Hopkins and William Gargan, who were supposed to be using the accent common to Mississippians.

MIRIAM HOPKINS

Miriam naturally softens her "r's" being from Savannah, Ga. But Gargan, who's from New York, doesn't. He got through his speeches pretty well until he had to say "subpoena."

Three "takes" were ruined because Gargan said "subpoener." After several rehearsals, Gargan reported success.

"Clubhouse" At Slaton City's Most Popular Meeting Place

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, April 8.—Busiest building for its size in Slaton is the county community building, located on Santa Fe park. Popularly known as the "club house," the building is in use day and night nearly every day in the year.

Ed Smith is the caretaker. He has a book in which all engagements are scheduled and accordinig to A. J. Payne, secretary of the chamber of commerce, the schedules are booked 30 days ahead.

Each Friday noon the Rotary club meets there for its luncheon. All of the rural women's clubs in this section of the county hold their regular and called meetings there. Boy scouts and other civic groups meet there as do school groups.

Many women's clubs meet in the club rooms regularly. The building is provided with a kitchen and all modern conveniences.

"She Done Him Wrong" Will Start Three-Day Run Here Today

Mae West Has Leading Role In Film Here

"A Lady's Profession," "The Mind Reader" And "Smoke Lightning" Also Are To Be Screened This Week

MAE WEST, spectacular figure in the current Broadway theatrical world, makes her debut as a screen star in "She Done Him Wrong," lusty melodrama which she wrote herself, and which starts a three-day run at the Lindsey today. It is a story of the New York bowery, with its collection of wide-open saloons, wise guys and frivolous dames. It centers around "Lady Lou," a singer, who has a way with men and who accepts their attentions in return for diamonds.

Noah Beery appears as a saloonkeeper and Cary Grant is seen as the head of a nearby mission, who turns out to be as susceptible to her charms as any of the others.

"A Lady's Profession"

How a pair of penniless titled Britons attempt to recoup their fortunes by opening a speakeasy in New York is the story of "A Lady's Profession," which will be screened at the Lindsey Wednesday and Thursday. Alison Skipworth plays the leading role, with Roland Young and Sari Maritza sharing featured honors.

The methods by which the Britons put over their speakeasy, despite their compete ignorance of financial affairs and in spite of a powerful liquor syndicate, furnish the high spots of the picture. A romantic theme runs through the story.

"The Mind Reader"

The shrewd manner in which the modern fortune-teller employs the latest scientific inventions to convince his awed victims of his supernatural" power is vividly shown in "The Mind Reader," scheduled at the Lindsey Friday and Saturday. Warren William appears in the starring role and Constance Cummings is seen opposite him.

A fake "seer" hires a charming girl who believes in his powers to help him with his rapidly increasing business. They fall in love, but it is not until after they are married that she learns he is a fraud. When the racket leads to a woman's suicide, she demands that he give it up. He tries but unfortunate circumstances force him back, making a setting for a dramatic climax.

"Smoke Lightning"

George O'Brien demonstrates that a cowboy's life in the modern west can be a thrilling one in "Smoke Lightning", which starts a three-day run at the Palace today. Bristling with gunfire, the picture promises plenty of action. Taken from Zane Grey's "Canyon Walls," the story deals with the experiences of a roving cowboy and his pal who decide to appoint themselves guardians of a little girl after the death of her father. The appointment does not meet with the approval of the sheriff, who covets the girl's ranch.

"The Secret of Madame Blanche," with Irenne Dunne heading the cast, will be offered at the Palace Wednesday and Thursday. Lionel Atwill, Philipps Holmes and Una Merkel head the supporting cast. The story, which covers a period of 30 years, concerns a show girl who marries a titled young Englishman, who subsequently suicides, leaving her with a baby son. Her father-in-law takes the child from her. Years later she unexpectedly finds him in a brawl in which a man is killed. To shield her son, she shoulders the blame without revealing her identity.

Ken Maynard, his horse, Tarzan, and a full troop of Boy Scouts will be seen in "Drum Taps," which will be screened at the Palace Friday and Saturday. Dorothy Dix appears in the only feminine role. Junior Coghlan has an important part.

Will Rogers in "Down To Earth" will be the attraction at the Lyric today, Monday and Tuesday. It is a continuation of "They Had to See Paris." Irene Rich, Dorothy Jordan and Matty Kemp appear in the supporting cast. The story concerns an Oklahoma millionaire who returns from Paris to find the stock market shot to pieces. His wife has an insatiable desire for social honors and his son aids her in extravagant spending. After failure of a bank, the father is unable to obtain a loan. How he gets his family back to earth again forms the basis for the picture.

"Six Hours to Live," an unusual drama starring Warner Baxter, will be screened at the Lyric Wednesday and Thursday. Miriam Jordan and John Boles head the supporting cast. The fantastic story concerns a brilliant statesman from a small nation. He dies but is brought back to life for six eventful hours so that he might complete his task.

A western thriller, "Hidden Valley," starring Bob Steele, will be offered at the Lyric Friday and Saturday.

At the THEATERS

Noah Berry, Cary Grant and Mae West are pictured above as they appear in "She Done Him Wrong," which starts today at the Lindsey.

Alison Skipworth and Roland Young are shown here in a scene from "A Lady's Profession," which opens at the Lindsey Wednesday.

Constance Cummings and Warren Williams, above, appear in the leading roles of "The Mind Reader," which starts at the Lindsey Friday.

Cochran County Chapter Of Holiday Association Planned

MORTON, April 8 (Special)—The Cochran County chapter of the National Farmers Holiday association is to be organized here Saturday, April 15, with the election of permanent officers.

Bob La Follette, of Albuquerque, N. M., is to be the principal speaker at the meeting, to be held in the district court room here.

Fifty farmers here organized the chapter. Fifteen additional members were received recently.

PLAN STREET PAVING

SEAGRAVES, April 8. (Special)—Two blocks of Main street from the simpson Hotel to the Santa Fe depot will be paved with caliche, it is said here. A 12 inch caliche base will be spread, rolled down and oiled.

T. F. Doak, county commissioner, has agreed to furnish county machinery for the grading. Seven trucks have been secured for a five day work program. Local men are to buy gas and oil for the trucks.

Federal R.F.C. funds will be used to pay for the labor. The caliche will be oiled following the spreading of the caliche.

Marionette Show Will Be Presented Here April 27

Tech Department Of Speech To Sponsor Hollywood Show

The Monro Hollywood marionettes will be presented in Lubbock High school auditorium at 4 and 8 p. m., April 27, under auspices of the speech department of Texas Technological college, Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department, has announced.

"A marionette show offers possibilities of amusement undreamed of by those not familiar with this type of entertainment," the producers say. "The mechanical and technical skill involved in the productions, and the illusions of life that these little figures are able to give when handled by expert puppeteers is most intriguing. By many, this type of show is thought of as being for children only, but those adults who have been venturesome enough to experiment are even more enthusiastic about it than the children."

Portrait marionettes of motion picture stars are featured by the Monro company. The marionettes, with sculptured portrait heads, are the work of the director, Miss Monro Augur, who is a sculptor and portrait painter. Among the stars represented by portrait marionettes are Will Rogers, Ann Harding, Joe E. Brown, Clark Gable, Janet Gaynor, Marie Dressler, William Powell, and Edward Everett Horton.

The popular fairy story of Cinderella will be presented for the children at the matinee. A forty-niner period story, "The Lost Adams' Diggin's" a romance of a gold mine, will be presented in the evening. Specialty acts will be added at each performance. A child's admittance will cost 15 cents; an adults 25 cents.

Lubbock Is Asked to Enter Speaker In WTCC Contest

Lubbock High school has been asked to enter a student speaker in the annual My Home Town contest at the fifteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Big Spring, May 11, 12, 13.

The entry blank and rules of the contest were received this week by Superintendent M. H. Duncan from C. M. Caldwell, chairman of the contest.

Contestants must be high school students and each town may select its contestant in any way it desires. The speech must be original and about the home town of the student. The rules provide it shall not contain poetry, and shall not be over five minutes long.

A new loving cup is to be offered to the winner this year at Big Spring—the Thos. Etheridge cup having been won three times by Joe Witherspoon Jr., of Wichita Falls, who becomes its permanent owner. Witherspoon will not be a contestant this year according to Chairman Caldwell. In addition to a loving cup, the high three contestants will each receive a substantial cash prize and the winner will be given a choice of a number of college scholarships.

The Home Town contest has been a feature of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce conventions for the past ten years, and the final contest is held before the entire convention on the last morning.

Three-Day Merchants' School To Be Held At Lamesa In May

LAMESA, April 18. (Special) — Henry W. Stanley, manager of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants association, connected with the chamber of commerce, will conduct a three-day merchant's institute here May 17-19.

C. Baldwin, chairman of the merchant's committee of the local chamber of commerce, announced the meeting.

Mother's Footsteps

Following in the footsteps of her famous mother, Frances Rich, daughter of Irene Rich, who won fame in the movies, is pictured as she studied her part in a forthcoming Hollywood production. Miss Rich plays the role of an inmate of a house of refuge. She bears a remarkable resemblance to her celebrated mother.

First Slaton Community Club House To Be Used By Legion

(By Staff Correspondent)

SLATON, April 8.—The old frame building, the first community club house for the county here, is being remodeled into an American Legion home for the local post. R. F. C. funds were used in paying labor costs for the improvement.

The building was used as a caretaker's home for a number of years after the brick building was finished.

Recently the commissioner's court leased the structure to the local Legion post. A large room for meetings, with a smaller room for a committee room, a woman's room and a rest room are being built.

The first building in the United States designed primarily as a theater was erected in 1716 at Williamsburg, Va.

Brunk's Comedians Will Show In Lubbock During Next Week

Fred G. Brunk's Comedians will open a week's engagement in Lubbock tomorrow. The program will include varied comedies and melodramas. It will be the first appearance of the show here in four years.

The big tent theater will be comfortably heated. An orchestra will present a concert before each performance, and vaudeville acts will be offered between acts.

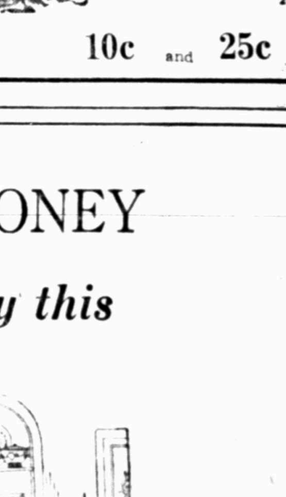

One woman will be admitted free with each paid adult ticket on opening night. The company comes here from a two-year stock engagement in Tucson, Ariz.

MODERN GAS RANGE

★ Why be tied down by an antiquated cook stove when you can have entire afternoons free with a Modern Gas Range? For baking or roasting, you simply set the Oven Control Dial and stroll off to a matinee or a bridge party. When you return, the dinner is completely cooked and ready for serving.

A Modern Range even dispenses with matches or a pilot button. It lights automatically when you turn on the gas. There is also a smokeless broiler, a step-saving utensil drawer and an insulated oven to save money in fuel and food bills. A small down payment installs this time-and labor-saving range in your home. The balance can be paid out of your monthly budget—virtually bought with your "pin" money. Subsidies To Force Employment And National Sales Promotion Are Now Needed For Recovery, Babson Says

Revival Of Public's Purchasing Power Needed He Says

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright for Avalanche-Journal

BABSON PARK, Florida, April 8. President Roosevelt should be commended for the drastic steps he has taken to clean up the banking situation, scale down debts, and to force government economy. These measures were vital to reestablish confidence. Now, however, that confidence in the banks and in the dollar is restored the next step is to put these banks and dollars back to work. Whether we call it "inflation," "reflation," or "circulation," we must boost public purchasing power in order to revive business. Furthermore, we don't need to ruin our currency to do it. We don't need more dollars but faster dollars!

Roger Babson

How Business Would Be Helped

Business would be helped if the government would spend some of the money it is now spending for debt relief, unemployment doles, etc. for direct aid to business for two purposes: (1) to force reemployment, on a quota basis, of idle workers in private industry, guaranteeing employers for the risks involved, and (2) to promote a national campaign of sales promotion and advertising, inducing people to buy who can buy, thus increasing circulation of money and goods. It would have been impossible to do this two years ago, because the necessary readjustments were not far enough completed. Now, however, such a plan would work.

Public confidence is rapidly being restored; and if purchasing power were put into hands of consumers, business would move up almost over night. Total payrolls — not wage rates—mean purchasing power, and until we raise the total employment of the masses, business recovery must be painfully slow.

Can Be Solved

President Roosevelt in his inaugural address said: "Our greatest primary task is to put people back to work. This is no unsolvable problem if we face it wisely and courageously. It can be accomplished in part by direct recruiting by the government itself, treating the task as we would treat the emergency of war." He has made a good start by the legislation enabling him to put 260,000 men at work in the forests. However, this is but a drop in the bucket when we consider there are over 12,000,000 men unemployed. I doubt that it would be either possible or feasible to try to reemploy any large proportion of the unemployed on public works.

This forest work legislation is an emergency relief measure rather than an employment measure. The only solution of unemployment can come through getting men back to work in private industry and private construction. All that is needed is initial government help, either through subsidies or through rebate of taxes or temporary loans to private employers on the provision that they will set a given number to work at once.

Overproduction Is A Fable

This country is suffering from general underconsumption — not general overproduction. To say there is general overproduction today is absolutely untrue. There may be overproduction of wheat, corn, cotton, hogs, copper, and a few other things, but there is no overproduction of small houses, warm clothing, and all the necessities and comforts of life. Not until everyone has enough of these things should one talk about limiting production and cutting the number of working days. I also question the wisdom of so much talk about economy.

The government economy bill was necessary and constructive, but to continue talking economy is rather dangerous. The time to preach economy was during the boom from 1926 to 1929 rather than today. Today we need to emphasize (1) the importance of putting people back to work, and (2) the necessity of speeding up the circulation of money.

Industrial Output Lower

The industrial output of the United States per capita is lower than at any time since 1900. Any one who says the United States should be content to stabilize on this new low standard of living is preaching both a foolish and dangerous doctrine. Our basic wealth and resources are great, our industrial genius is unequalled. The thing that is holding business back is the temporary, though drastic, reduction in public purchasing power, which is today 54 per cent below what it was in 1929 even allowing for the drop in the cost of living.

Living costs have decreased 26 per cent, salaries have fallen 22 per cent, wages have dropped about 16 per cent, but employment has declined 35 per cent. Total earnings of factory workers are down 62 per cent. With one-quarter of our working population idle, it is no wonder we have underconsumption — not overproduction.

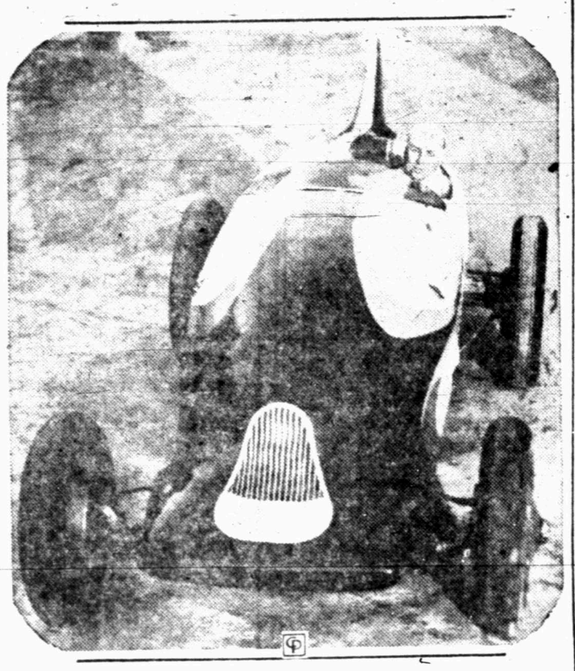

Emphasize Employment And Sales

Thus far all the government measures (except the farm bill and the forest work measure) have been directed toward completing the deflation, restoring confidence, and cleaning up the debris. In view of the new spiritual attitude of the American people, in view if their hopefulness and confidence, this is the psychological time to inaugurate direct action for restoring employment and increasing sales. Whether it be by the quota plan of drafting men back into industry, or the Rorty plan for government subsidy to private construction, or the Kent plan for government help for many lines of private business to enable them to reemploy workers, or whether it be a combination of to raise employment and buying these or similar plans, direct action power is needed. We must have some lift to get business off dead center and start the wheels turning.

Business, as registered by the Babsonchart, now stands at 11 per cent below a year ago.

Journalism Meet Here Postponed

The annual Southwestern Journalism conference, scheduled to be held this spring at Texas Technological college, has been postponed, Cecil Horne, head of the department of journalism at Tech and president of the conference, announces.

"A survey of members of the executive committee and others indicates a desire to postpone the conference for a year, due to present financial conditions," Mr. Horne explained. "It probably will be held at Tech next year. The distance out here and the expense, with conditions as they are, led to a decision to change."

Professor Horne is president. Prof. T. H. Osborne, of Louisiana State, Baton Rouge, is vice-president and Joseph B. Cowan, associate professor at T. C. U., Fort Worth, is secretary-treasurer. The three, with Prof. Paul Thompson of the University of Texas and Miss Helen Z. Wortman, Baylor college for Women, comprise the executive committee.

Twelve schools hold membership in the conference: Baylor College for Women, Belton; Baylor University, Waco; C. I. A., Denton; University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla.; Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La.; University of Texas, Austin; Trinity University, Waxahachie; Texas A. and M., College Station; Southern Methodist University, Dallas; Texas Christian University, Fort Worth and Texas Technological college.

Events Of Prime Interest In The Westerner World

Forty-Eight In District Meet

All Students To Represent Lubbock High Are Selected With Exception Of Debate Teams; Enter 7 Contests

Forty-eight students entering seven contests will represent Lubbock High school in the District One Interscholastic League Contest to be held here next Friday and Saturday, according to high school authorities.

Typing, track, declamation, essay, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and tennis events will be entered.

Seven On Typing Team

There are seven on the typing team. They are Lois Adair, Myra Moore, Mary Thomas, Ruth Wagner, Roleta Izard, Elizabeth Lowrey, and Pauline Phillips. Zona Kunkel and Fannie B. Bratcher are alternates.

Declaimers Selected

Lillian Baker will be the senior girl declaimer, while Opal McGaw will represent senior boys. Billy Hughes and Nona Pevehouse are junior entrants.

The essay of Avey Leath Smith is entered.

Entrants of debate have not been announced.

C. C. Cox reports that Donald Henry and Raymond Billingsly will be the high school extemporaneous speakers.

Frances Burns and Albert Symes will play in the single tennis events. Regina James and Ralph Brock are alternates. Ruth Allen and Marian Hurmence are to play in girls doubles while Ralph Brock and Charles Truett will enter boys' doubles.

GENS TOGATA MEETING

"Roman Sculpture and Architecture" was the theme of the Gens Togata when it met in the music room Monday.

After a regular business procedure, a program consisting of "Atlanta's Race," given by Sid Stout, "Roman Sculpture," by Mary Ellen Boyd, "Dido Builds Carthage," by Avey Leeth Smith, "Ode to a Grecian Urn," by Mary Ratcliff, and a piano selection by Dona Huff was given.

PROGRAM SET FOR APRIL

The Home Economic assembly program which was planned for March 9 will be given on April 13. The program will consist of two short plays and a fashion review.

Winners Picked In Song Contest

The preliminary home room song contest was held Tuesday morning from 8:50 to 9:10 in order to determine first place winners in the various sections competing on the first, second, and third floors.

First floor contestants were divided into two divisions, the east and west sides. Mrs. R. P. Johnson's room and Mrs. J. O. Morgan's room were east and west side winners, respectively.

First Places Selected

W. B. Chapman's room, Burl Huffman's room, and Miss Nell Parmley's study hall, were given first place in the three sections held on the second floor.

Two divisions competed on the third floor. The rooms of Delene Reed and of Miss Mary Wilbanks and Carolyn Dixon, practice teachers in the Home Economics department, won first place in these two contests.

Four Songs Used

The winning songs were "Santa Lucia," "Sailing," "Juanita," and "Old Black Joe."

The three chairmen were Miss Gertrude Watson, G. N. Atkinson, and John R. Freeman. Judges were taken from the high school teaching staff.

If the schools are not closed by that time these winners on the three floors will compete April 17 for the floor championship. The final contest, which determines the school winner, will be held the following Thursday, April 20, in Assembly.

The rooms who entered have been practicing these songs for about two months.

Owen Lattimore Heads Hi-Y Club

Owen Lattimore was elected president of the boys Hi-Y club, which met Tuesday at the regular hour in the boys study hall.

Raymond Billingsly, vice president and active chairman, had charge of the resignation of Neil Wright, former president, and acted as chairman during the election of the new officer.

The program, after the election, consisted of a round table discussion led by Dan W. Powers, one of the sponsors of the club.

Senior Girls Of Mary Emma Club To Give Tea On May 8

The senior girls belonging to the Mary Emma club will be hostesses at a tea given on May 8. Voncile Shelby is chairman of the committee for the tea, which is an annual affair.

The girls with the most points for work in the club will be given a club pin. Other senior girls with a high number of points will be on the Mary Emma honor roll.

Mesdames Mary Green and Emma Burns, for whom the club is named, will be special guests.

Commercial Students Present Program In School Assembly

Under the direction of Miss Ethel Lawson and Roy Stone, the commercial department of Lubbock high school presented an unusual program in assembly Wednesday afternoon.

The typewriting team, composed of Ruth Wagner, Lois Adair, Pauline Phillips, Myra Moore, Elizabeth Lowrey, Roleta Izard, Mary Thomas, Zona Kunkel, and Fannie B. Bratcher, entertained the first five minutes by taking a speed test. The purpose of this test, according to Mis Lawson, was to teach the members of the team to concentrate.

Two talks, "The Personal Value of Commercial Subjects", given by Ralph Bumpass, and "The Practical Value of Business Training," presented by Luella Benson, preceded a play, "The Perfect Secretary", by Edith McLaughlin.

Ben Thompson gave a prologue to the play, and the following characters were announced: I. C. Little, the harrassed employer, played by Edwin Butler; Ima Nagent, presented by Beatrice Mills; Dora Addetop, a very nervous young lady, Nylah Tom; Mae Work, Julia Blackwell; and Shirley Makegood, the perfect stenographer, Wildring B. Sherrod.

Boxing Is Replacing Volley Ball In Home Room Contests

Boxing is replacing home room volley ball in furnishing entertainment for high school students during the noon hour.

Under the direction of Coach Swede McMurry, boxing is being enthusiastically taken up by the students, and programs consisting of several bouts are being presented during the week.

The main event of last week took place on Friday when there were four different bouts. The feature of the program was the contest between Morgan and George Duval, 277 and 232 pounds, respectively. Other engagements of the day were Starky Whitehorn and Woodrow Barnes, Woodrow Allan and Lowell Armstrong, and Earnest Aultman and Ross Jones.

"Careers", New Book Placed In Library Proves Popular

"Careers," a book published by the Institute for Research at Chicago on how to select occupations has been added to the library of Lubbock High school. This is kept at the librarian's desk and can be checked out only during the library period. As this is the first book of its kind for the school's library, it is checked out continuously.

Given qualifications, advantages and disadvantages, preparation and training, opportunities, earnings, future trends, specializations, teaching, research, promotion information and several other things, this book tends to be a help to students although the vocation chosen may not come under any of the fifty-two given in here.

Latin Students Go To Amarillo

Competing with towns of the South and North Plains, the three Lubbock High school Latin teams participating in the annual district Latin tournament which was held yesterday at Amarillo Senior High school under the direction of Miss Anne May Klapproth.

A program for the day had been arranged by the Latin department. Registration was held early in the morning after which followed a meeting of the teachers. There was an exhibit of the work of Amarillo pupils and of any visiting school who cared to display material. Through the courtesy of the Latin department of the Amarillo schools, the visitors were served lunch at the Patricia Ann Tea Room, after which the tests were given which were completed within three and one-half hours. Then the contestants were again guests of the Latin department on a ride over the city. The concluding feature was a banquet at the Herring hotel, at which time prizes were awarded to the district winners.

The rewards were loving cups for each winning team and gold pins for the individual test and essay winners.

The Lubbock High school entries in the tournament were: Ferrelline Tucker and Frances Keeter, First year students; Arthur Dale Jackson and Pauline Edgett, second year students; and Mary and Martha Mathis, third year students.

Final Tilt In Intramural Cage Tournament Is To Be Tuesday

Two teams, the Faculty Terrors and the Ramblers, who were tied for first place in the intramural basketball league at the conclusion of the regular schedule, which was completed Wednesday, will meet in the final game of the series next Tuesday. These teams lost one out of seven games played.

C. A. Rodgers was high point man of the entire tournament with a total of 82 point; Earnest Altman was second with 68 points; and Franklin Mast with 40 points was third. Rogers and Altman are members of the Ramblers, while Mast is on the Antelope team. The final game, to determine the champion, will be played next Tuesday after school. The Faculty's only defeat was a forfeiture, while the Ramblers were beaten by the Faculty.

Nine Per Cent Dividend From Closed Ralls Bank To Be Paid

RALLS, April 8. (Special)—A nine per cent dividend, the third to be paid, has been authorized by the comptroller of the currency, L. B. Withers, receiver of the closed First National bank, announces.

Previously 32½ per cent had been paid in two payments. A loan from the R.F.C. to make the last previous payment, has been returned to the government.

Five Tech Students Practice Teaching In Home Economics

Five student teachers from the Texas Technological college are practice teaching in the Home Economics department of the Lubbock Senior High school.

Delene Reid and Emma Chapman are teaching the Home Economics 1-A class. This class is studying intensively the preparations of luncheons and suppers.

Carolyn Dixon, Affie Smith, and Mary Wilbanks are conducting the Home Economics 1-B class. The girls of this sewing class are making cotton wash dresses.

These two classes of the Home Economics department were the winners of the first tryout in the song contest held last Tuesday. In the second tryout, the classes of these practice teachers will compete against each other.

The five student teachers are 1933 Seniors at Tech, graduating from teacher training major in Home Economics.

Lubbock High Tennis Teams Winners From Shallowater

In a series of matches with the tennis teams of Littlefield and Shallowater, played on Saturday and Monday of last week, representatives of the Lubbock High school tennis club won 15 out of 18 sets.

In Saturday's matches with Littlefield, Lubbock was represented by Charles Truett and Ralph Brock, in boys doubles; Albert Symes, in the boys singles; Marian Hurmance and Ruth Allen, in girls doubles; and Frances Burns, in girls singles.

In the matches with Shallowater on Monday the same students participated.

Floyd County Celebration Is Planned; May Be On May 29

FLOYDADA, April 8. (Special)—Celebration of the 43rd birthday anniversary of Floyd county may be held here May 29, instead of on Sunday, May 28, the actual anniversary. Glad Snodgrass, president of the Old Settlers association, announces.

Pioneers have been asked to approve the suggestion of the president for the date following the anniversary proper.

Cabinet Minister

Arrest, in Berlin, of Dr. Guenther Gerecke, Reichs commissioner for unemployment, on charges of embezzlement, has thrown Germany into fresh fever as Chancellor Hitler's new dictatorial regime began. Dr. Gerecke was President Paul von Hindenburg's campaign manager in the presidential election in which Hitler was defeated in 1932.

LIGHTS DISCUSSED

The Mary Emma club discussed lights of bygone days in regular meeting Monday. The origin of the "Betty-lamp," the emblem of the Home Economics club, was brought out. James B. Collie gave a talk on the different kinds of lights, and Maxine Burrus read several selections from Whittier's "Snow Bound" and other poems showing the beauty and contentment of an evening by a fireside.

BAND HOLDS PICNIC

Members of the band and their guests were entertained at the annual Band picnic Wednesday at Johnston's ranch. H. A. Anderson, band director accompanied the group of 43 that attended.

IMPROVING BAILEY FARM

MULESHOE, April 8. (Special)—J. B. Countryman, who recently purchased a large tract of land in the south central part of the county, is having a set of improvements built. He will have the place ready by planting time.

Lubbock District Of Co-Op Handles Cotton For 31 Cents A Bale During Past Season; 80,652 Bales Delivered

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

HANDLING charges for the Lubbock district office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association were 31 cents per bale for the 1932 crop, N. H. Payne, district manager, said in announcing an audit to March 1 showed 80,652 bales were handled this year. Last year the district had costs of 79 cents a bale on a 102,000-bale basis.

This price, according to Mr. Payne, has set a record for the state, as far as word from other districts is concerned. So far no other district has reported anywhere near as low costs.

Valued Over $2,000,000

"Our delivery of 80,652 bales, represents a value in excess of $2,000,000," Mr. Payne said. "Our total is about 30 per cent of the state total of 250,000.

In fact, only two state cooperative associations, the Louisiana and the Mid-South Cooperative associations, exceeded the Lubbock district in total."

The audit was for the season up to March 1. It disclosed a savings in operating costs of the district of $33,620 from the 1931-32 season expenses.

23,340 Bales Handled Here

During the year there were 17 branch offices operated in the district outside the city of Lubbock. The Lubbock branch, with W. M. Ryan as manager, handled 23,340 bales of cotton. The local branch handled its cotton at a cost of 6.5 cents a bale.

The Lubbock district comprises 42 counties of which 33 are classed as cotton producing counties. Some of the branch offices were closed early when it was seen operating costs were too high.

Following is a summary of the operations of the district with the name of the manager of each office and the bales received:

Branch Mgr	Bales
Lubbock, W. M. Ryan	23,340
Plainview, P. J. Leverett	8,175
Littlefield, A. B. Cole	6,510
Levelland, George Loveless	4,209
Wellington, Baker Hoskins, John Fowler	5,503
Lamesa, Frank Bass	5,495
Ralls, O. E. Reynolds	4,779
Tahoka, Jim Magee	3,268
Brownfield, K. B. McWilliams	3,158
Memphis, C. N. Hoffman	2,188
Chillicothe, Earl Morris	2,094
Paducah, E. Y. Smith	2,081
Childress, Charles Dorsey	1,920
Shamrock, C. P. Mitchell	1,886
Vernon, J. P. P'Pool	1,803
Post, V. L. Hemphill, Frank Winn	1,290
O'Donnell, W. H. Clark	701
Matador, E. H. Whitaker	200
Total	80,652

Includes All Costs

"Actual expenses of 31 cents a bale," said H. L. Gantz, organization director of the local district, "include the administrative costs of the district manager, the educational and organization work, clerical hire, classing service maintained in the branch offices, commissions to receiving agents, rent, utility bills, postage, stationary, telephone and telegraph bills and traveling expenses. In fact, all expenses incident to carrying on the business of the association.

"From the very beginning of the season, a record system for the district office at Lubbock was worked out by J. H. Brock, chief clerk, and so arranged and planned to meet every contingency that would arise in the proper conduct of the association's business in the district."

Mr. Gantz, as director of organization, reported contacting some 7,00 people in the district in some for mof group meeting. In Lubbock county 3,500 people attended community meetings in which 350 people took part.

STUDENTS SERVE LUNCHEON

After a unit on studying luncheons, the students of the First Foods Class served a luncheon in the dining room of the home economic department at noon Friday. Mrs. W. F. Raybon was a special guest for the luncheon. The girls were assisted and directed by Miss Delene Reed, who has been practice teaching in that class the past week.

SOPHS GO ON PICNIC

Having a program of miscellaneous games, the Sophomores attended their annual picnic Friday afternoon at Shannon park.

All Sophomore sponsors and the Freshmen and unclassified students attended the picnic. Tickets were sold for 15 cents each.

For Comfort—your car has to be big enough so you can be comfortable in it

Pontiac—the Economy Straight Eight—has a wheelbase of 115 inches.

For Performance—you have to have a big, powerful engine

Pontiac's engine is a big 77-horsepower Straight Eight that gives you 78 real miles per hour—with all the inherent smoothness that only a Straight Eight can have or give.

For Economy—you have to have engine efficiency

Letters from people who have taken Pontiac's Economy Demonstration say that it gives 15 miles or more to the gallon of gasoline. That, plus the natural durability of a Straight Eight engine, gives you real operating economy. Come in for an Economy Demonstration.

For Appearance—well, just look at it and you'll see what Pontiac is

Pontiac shows the effects of a new finesse in styling that is making it one of the most talked about cars of the year.

For Safety—you have to have scientifically designed and ruggedly built bodies and chassis

Pontiac's 4-door Sedan weighs 3265 pounds at the curb, and all closed cars have bodies by Fisher—and you know that means extra strength and safety. Fisher No Draft Ventilation is a special feature in all closed models.

IMPORTANT

It may be cheaper for you to buy a new car now, than to continue running the old one.

Only if you have Pontiac's size and weight and engine in your car, can you expect to really get their benefits out of the car

It's All Up To France

AMERICAN public opinion undoubtedly will support the intimation by Secretary Hull to France that the United States is not prepared to treat with the French government, in the matter of war debts, on the same basis as with Great Britain.

This attitude is due to the fact that France defaulted on its installment of $19,000,000 due last December while Britain paid the $95,000,000 due from her at the same time. The fact that the latter was off the gold standard and her finances were in bad shape did not prevent her from making settlement. France was in a much better condition to pay her installment. She had on hand a huge stock of gold.

If France and the other nations which defaulted when they could have paid are to be treated on a par with Great Britain, it is up to them to correct their delinquencies by paying the installments overdue, or at least making a sincere effort to do this.

The United States has begun preliminary discussions with England looking to a settlement of the debts problem as affecting that country. That a satisfactory settlement will be reached there seems no reason to doubt, although the negotiations may be long and complicated.

World conditions demand that the entire question of war debts be disposed of as quickly as possible. Great Britain and the United States recognize this. France and the other defaulters can assist the process by doing their parts.

DANGER IN COLDS

How unfortunate it is that scientists who have been searching for the cause and cure of the common cold did not succeed before spring brought another open season for colds. More colds are contracted in the spring than in any other time of the year and it is popularly believed the late-spring variety of cold is the most difficult to cure.

Spring rains, sudden changes in temperature and balmy days that cause one to discard winter's raimant with reckless abandon will keep half the population sneezing and blowing until warm weather decides to put in the summer here.

Science and mothers have evolved many preparations and methods of treatment that afford some relief for a "mean cold" and sometimes stop them on the way, but they have been slow to find an infallible preventive. Some panaceas succeed with one patient and fail with the next.

One promising discovery was made through experiments conducted during the winter. It was found that among persons given baths twice a week in the ultra-violet rays of a mercury vapor lamp there is 50 per cent greater freedom from colds. The rays, it is believed, increase the resistance of the blood to the germs that cause colds and strengthen the delicate tissues through which bacteria enters the body.

A preventive and sure-cure for the cold must be found to reduce the misery of humanity, for a person with a cold is miserable, and to save thousands of lives. Neglected colds result in countless deaths every year.

FOLK SONGS

For comparatively young a nation, the United States has a wealth of folk songs, as many private collections have revealed. Many of the best are the products of isolation, as in the mountains of Kentucky. The Negro cabins in the South and the lumber camps of the North have made their contributions. Our own open cattle ranges of the West, where the cowboys once roamed freely, produced many songs.

But such isolation is largely of the past. Moreover, music of all varieties, from classics to jazz, now penetrates to the remotest communities through the radio and other instruments. But it is a penalty of such progress that the folk songs are in danger of being lost. For this reason, the Library of Congress has undertaken the commendable task of making a national collection of American folk songs. As this is a public enterprise, it should find active support in all sections of the country.

We are a peace-loving nation. It is true the words of the national anthem are warlike but 91 per cent of the population can not recall them.

It is estimated that if all surplus products were placed end to end they might reach the people who haven't any.

The man who is trying to put something over should be willing to put up with some rebuffs.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but transgressors shall be taken in their own naughtiness.—Proverbs 11:6.

Public Works Is Chief Hope

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 8.—An indefinitely prolonged if not a permanent low level of living for the vast majority of Americans is the gravest fear of the government and labor leaders who are now doing their utmost to give a powerful send-off to the administration's scheme of working class rehabilitation, following their recent conference in Washington.

Chas. P. Stewart

Economists and sociologists are fairly confident of a readjustment, more or less automatic in character, that presently will begin to effect some improvement in present conditions of unemployment and semi-starvation.

That is, it is foreseen that wages finally will sink to such a level that hand work again will be able to compete with machinery; also, as foreclosed land gradually begins to be released in small patches, for next to nothing, that an increasing number of families will take to a primitive sort of farming, as a means of eking out a bare existence directly from the soil.

Slow Process

This is on the assumption that matters are allowed to drift.

Out of such a situation something better might or it might not ultimately evolve itself, but, at best, it would be a slow process. It generally is agreed that folk of today would not see the end of it.

The administration's thought is that fundamental changes, for which no allowance was made while they were progressing, caused the crash—as an undermind bluff, seemingly solid one minute, the next minute suddenly slumps from beneath whomsoever may chance to be standing on it.

The suggestion is that this cave-in might have occurred a dozen or 15 years ago, but that industrial mechanization, stimulated by the war, served to underpin the cavity's roof until it decayed, at last.

Administration economists are prepared to believe that, in a country naturally so rich as the United States, the catastrophe's victims probably will laboriously and painfully toil their way to the surface and prosperity in time, even if left to their own devices, but they also believe that, with proper management, this result can be attained with far less delay and hardship.

Mechanization, it is pointed out, did temporarily avert one collapse.

The problem now is to hit upon a plan to underpin once more, but in this instance to do it so securely as to guard against the possibility of another disaster.

Public Works

The administration's idea is that it can be accomplish by the program of public works President Roosevelt is launching.

It is a program which is intended, to be sure, somewhat as a stop-gap, but not a MERE stop-gap. In other words, the president is not an advocate of what the socialists call "made work"—work simply for the sake of employment. His aim is to create only what is needed, but to make this task of creation synchronize with the maximum demand for jobs.

What worries conservatives is the reflection that the contemplated understanding will increase the public debt, as expressed in terms of dollars. It is a reflection that does not worry the president's economists in the least. Their argument is that the national wealth, as distinguished from the counters known as money, will be enormouly added to. What the effect of this increase in wealth may be upon divers columns of figures in treasury ledgers they consider relatively unimportant.

Texas—In All The Color Of Its Romantic History, In The Vast Variety Of Its Basic Industries And Activities, In All Splendor And Potentialities To Be Shown At Chicago

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AUSTIN, April 8—Texas—in all the color of its romantic history in the vast variety of its basic industries and activities, in the magnitude of its physical extent and resources, in the charm of its natural beauty, in the wide latitude of its potentialities—will be presented to the world, through the medium of the millions of visitors attending the Century of Progress World's Fair at Chicago this year. The plans for the Texas exhibit which have been in process of formulation for months, have been announced by L. E. Snavely of Harlingen, recently named state chairman of the committee on arrangement for this state's representation.

The plan for the Texas exhibit, which is to be housed in the States Exhibit Building in Chicago, was submitted by Ivan H. Riley and Walter T. Rolfe, associated architects for the design and execution of the exhibit. Riley is the head of an architecture firm at Harlingen, while Rolfe is professor of architecture at the University of Texas.

Raising Funds

A state committee, headed by Mr. Snavely, is now engaged in raising funds to finance this project. It has been determined that no state tax money will be used, the entire enterprise being privately financed by citizens of the state who are interested in having the story of Texas, its past, present, and future, told again to the world.

The architects patterned their conception of the Texas exhibit upon the general idea of the Century of Progress. The 1893 Fair was one of retrospection. It is proposed that this exposition be one of imagination and vision of the future.

Valley Has Garden

The shape of the space assigned to Texas was fixed by the general conditions of the States Building. The area lies exactly between the court of honor of the States Building and the boat landing from the municipal pier. This makes the site strategically important from the viewpoint of position. Facing the boat landing will be the garden of Texas—a garden of the Rio Grande Valley, enclosed by a white plaster wall with hand hewn timbers reminiscent of early Texas structures. Within the enclosure is the garden, showing the rich warmth of Texas life in the native shrubbery, its pools, its pottery, and its simple architectural background.

The Century of Progress is making use of the fact that the public will walk down stairs to see things but not up, and hence the promenade on the second story level is important. In fact, the architects of the Texas exhibit have so created their design that the public may enter the exhibit at the second floor and pass through it entirely without going out of the space.

New Illumination Used

The space assigned to Texas inside the States Building is divided into one large circular salon, four smaller circular ones, and two rectangular ones. There are no windows save one, which is introduced only for a vista from the grand salon to the garden. The climax of the grand salon is achieved by a huge circular ceiling mosaic of very colorful glass over forty feet in diameter, and clearly representing the map of Texas. It is illuminated by a new type of fixture on the floor. The lighting is always changing in order to call attention to various centers of interest, one at a time rather than all at once at the risk of none being seen.

On the first floor level and under the balcony around the upper floor level of the grand salon are six dioramas—another invention of recent creation. They represent in living form the basic activities of Texas life, such as ranching, petroleum, cotton, manufacturing, and so forth. It is pointed out in the architects' prospectus that these scenes are accurate depictors of life, because a diorama is non-professionally known as a stage set of very high technical design in which all the elements are done in full color and in their natural relations with each part. In this way the hourly aspect of a scene can be portrayed in a few seconds and in a matter of a third of a minute the entire panoram of the 24 hours can be reviewed. As these dioramas on the first floor gradually ebb and flow in light interest, the relative areas on the ceiling map in which the particular activity is located will be coordinated. In this fashion, the spectator will be able to associate in his mind the activity with the locality in which it takes place.

History Carefully Portrayed

Around the second story balcony is a running mural in which the history of Texas will be colorfully portrayed. This frieze is approximately 180 feet long and is over six feet in height. It is to be so executed that it will be of equal interest to the spectator from the first floor or from the second floor balcony. In this pictorial portrayed will live the characters and events that have made Texas.

The exhibit has been so designed that its growth upward from the first floor is chronologically correct. On the first floor are the basic industries and activities of Texas life. In the main salon are the dioramas of cotton, commerce ranching, manufacturing, petroleum, and comparative geography. In the small salons on the first floor are the minerals display and the agricultural and livestock displays. In the center first floor salon will be housed the fruit and vegetable dioramas or displays. All of these are fundamentally the support of the state.

Finished Products Shown

The second floor carries the fruits of these basic activities into the finished products and their kindred activities. Hence on this floor are found in the small circular salons, commerce and transportation on the one side and finished manufactured products on the other. The central second floor rectangular salon is for the result of all of these and the leisure time which accompanies them—the fine arts. Thus according to the plan, the fine arts and the frieze of Texas civilization are at the very height of Texas life and point the way toward the future development of the state through education, ever mindful that these fruits always rest upon the basic activities of the people.

The architects of the Texas exhibit have made a special effort to provide such an exhibit for the State of Texas that anyone who gets as much as a glimpse of it will resolve to return to see it in full. To aid this idea, a pair of monumental stairs have been provided at each side of the large salon so that vast crowds may move from the second floor to the first and vice versa. In this way, many arriving at the boat landing will go through the open Texas garden into the exhibit and thence by stair to the upper level or into the first level of the Court of Honor of the States Building. Realizing the constant strain upon the visitor at the Century of Progress, the designers have introduced a limited amount of seating space in various parts of the exhibit.

Immediately opposite the only window of the Texas exhibit is a replica of the San Jose window from the San Antonio mission of that name. This window is placed in the wall around the garden and furnishes a vista from the inside of the exhibit across the garden toward Lake Michigan. From the boat landing the vista is toward the interior of the garden and through the window toward the large salon. In this manner the entire design is knit together to make a more nearly perfect unity of theme and idea. Growing out of the early architecture of the state, as portrayed in the murals and alluded to in the garden walls and treatment, comes the modernity of the structure that houses the exhibit and the Texas exhibit itself. This is what the designers have taken to show the idea of continuity and natural growth of the State of Texas.

THE NEW BOOKS

Another Biography On Woodrow Wilson Appears; "True North" Is Like Breath Of Fresh Air; Mystery Yarns Published

A CENTURY from now, in all probability, biographers will still be puzzling over the career of Woodrow Wilson. No American since Lincoln has left them so rich a field to work. Grand, tragic, mysterious, a titanic mixture of greatness and pettiness—was there ever a life like it?

"Woodrow Wilson," (Vanguard), by John K. Winkler, is the newest biography of the war president. It is a straightaway, workmanlike job, readable but sperficial, outlining the main points of the man's career but leaving the numerous valleys unilluminated.

Returns To Them

Yet Mr. Winkler has not been unconscious of the existence of these dark valleys. Indeed, they seem to fascinate him. Over and over he returns to them.

Wilson, he remarks, gave everything but himself. He stirred men's hearts as few men in history have stirred them—but remained aloof, lonely, misunderstanding and misunderstood. He made himself the symbol for the hopes of mankind—and was unable to retain ordinary personal friendships. His weakness was interwoven with his strength in a manner almost beyond human understanding.

Those dark places, those tragic mysteries, must await another Carlyle—and we can hardly blame Mr. Winkler for not being Carlyle. Meanwhile, the outline is presented here in competent journalistic fashion. Here is the record, briefer than we might like but essentially complete. We can do our own speculating.

Sings Same Song

ELLIOTT MERRICK was graduated from Yale just like any other future go-getter, and he started out on a business career in New York much as any other young man might. But after he had been at it for a few years he decided that the business world was flat, stale and uninspiring; so he dropped everything and went to Labrador as a teacher for the Grenfell Mission.

In Labrador he married Kay, a Grenfell nurse; and the two of them accompanied a trapper far back into the interior, in the dead of winter, and discovered that by flying from civilization they had found their own souls.

Resembles Thoreau

Merrick tells about it all in "True North," a book which comes to a depression-weary society like a breath of clean air from the northern barrens. It is a book in the tradition of Thoreau's "Walden"—and, really, to mention it in the same breath with that book isn't stretching things as much as you might imagine.

For Merrick sings the same song that Thoreau sang; that men have got up a blind alley by getting over-civilized, and, that the true realities can be found only in solitude close to earth's breast.

He and his wife braved cold, hunger, utter desolation and unimaginable weariness — and found life good. They camped in the snow when the temperature was 40 below zero, they lived for days on weak tea and soggy bread, they exposed themselves to the worst the north could offer; and from it they drew a new sense of the richness and beauty of human life.

"True North", is published by Scribners and sells for $3.

For Mystery Lovers

THE big news of the month for mystery story fans is the publication of "Celebrated Cases of Charlie Chan," by Earl Derr Biggers, in which five of the famous Charlie Chan detective stories are gathered together under one roof, so to speak.

These novels are "The House Without a Key," "The Chinese Parrot," "Behind That Curtain," "The Black Camel" and "Charlie Chan Carries On." They are all grade-A stories and Charlie Chan is just about the most ingratiating fictional detective in existence—so, mystery fan, here's your chance. The five-in-one volume, published by Bobbs-Merrill, costs $2.50.

"Hide And Go Seek"

An entertaining new mystery is "Hide and Go Seek," by Colver Harris (Minton Balch: $2). In this one a young lady checks in at a quiet residential hotel in New York just in time to get all involved in the murder of a fair roomer; and the hotel owner, his dignified mother, the hotel manager and the manager's wife all seemed to be involved in the affair. The plot is cleverly constructed, the book is neatly written and the end is a nice surprise. Could you ask for more?

"Velvet Claws"

Still another good one is "The Case of the Velvet Claws," by Erle Stanley Gardner (Morrow: $2). A hard-boiled and cynical lawyer is called by a client to fix a case of blackmail and immediately gets tangled up in the murder of the lady's husband—gets so tangled up that he almost goes to the chair for it. The story moves at something better than a mile-a-minute clip, and this very tough lawyer is, if not a thing of beauty, at least a joy forever.

"Lose With A Smile"

"LOSE WITH A SMILE" brings Ring Lardner back to the baseball park again, back to the "You Know Me, Al" sort of thing in which he made his first great success; and if the highbrows don't mind, your reviewer would like to remark that Mr. Lardner does this sort of thing better than he does anything else.

We have here a bush-league outfielder trying to break into the big leagues via a job with the Brooklyn Robins. We meet him at the training camp, where he writes letters to his girl back in Centralia, Ill.; and through these letters we follow him up to Brooklyn and around the National League circuit.

Naturally, he lad is a colossal dumb-bell, and he becomes the center of a comedy of errors that is amusing and instructive beyond belief. One day he knocks one out of the park and becomes a hero; the next he is caught napping off first base, or slides into second when second is already occupied and draws down the wrath of the gods on his luckless skull; and through it all he keeps writing to the girl back home, complaining, bragging, telling artlessly of his dates with a big city siren and committing some of the weirdest spelling that was ever seen on land or sea.

In the end he is gravitating toward a job in Jersey City shipped there by a despairing Brooklyn management. You'll find his adventures infinitely worth following, and you'll get from them many a chesty laugh.

Published by Scribner's, the book sells for $1.50.

Chicago Perks Up

Announcement by the Marshall Field estate in Chicago that it will proceed with construction of the 43-story Field building, to be Chicago's largest office building, is expected to help the morale of the Windy City. This is how the new building will look. One unit already has been completed and occupied.

Sixth Annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Opens Monday At Plainview

Exposition Termed Greatest Educational Show Ever Held In West Texas; Runs 4 Days

Approximately $2,000 Offered In Premiums; Schedule Of Events For Show Includes Talks By Prominent Men

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, April 8—Termed the greatest educational dairy show ever held in West Texas, the sixth annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy association's show will open at its grounds here Monday, April 10. Advance reports indicate the largest number of animals to be entered in the annual contest, will be here.

Premiums this year were cut approximately 20 per cent. Nearly $2,000 will be distributed this year in the classes of dairy cattle, the production contest, county herd, dairy show and vocational agriculture and 4-H club judging contests. In addition handsome premiums will be given in the dairy products department, which will be larger than ever, covering more scope and a greater educational value.

Innovations Are Given

Several new innovations are on the program this year. First, exhibitors will be given free space for camping and cooking their own meals as well as free gas. This is expected to bring out a larger number of farmers who have only a few registered or high grade calves and who have not been heretofore much interested as exhibitors.

President W. L. Stangel, of Texas Tech, arranged an educational program for three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with three well known speakers making short addresses. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, speaks Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock; Dr. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M. Wednesday morning at the noon hour and H. W. Wilson, with the U. S. department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. on Thursday. Tait Butler, editor of Progressive Farmer, also will speak.

Largest Delegation Gets Queen

A change in the method of selecting a queen for the annual pageant Tuesday night, is announced. To the town having the largest delegation that day on the grounds, will be awarded the honor of having its queen named as queen.

Professor Frank Phillips, Canyon, head of the department of agriculture at W.T.S.T.C., will be superintendent of the educational department. He has arranged exhibits of dairy work and both Texas Tech and Texas A. and M. are participating. These exhibits will show the farmer practical ideas on dairy affairs.

Cheese To Be Displayed

Mrs. Julia Kelley, county home demonstration agent and superintendent of the dairy products department, has arranged for her exhibits in the north wing of the building this year. There will be demonstrations of American and cottage cheese making Tuesday and Wednesday and displays of home made cheese by South Plains farm women.

H. W. Wilson, Washington, D. C., cheese expert for Uncle Sam, will lecture on home manufacture of cheese. Kenneth M. Renner, Texas Tech dairy products department head and J. Lynn Thomas, extension service expert are cooperating in this work.

Program Schedule Given

Day by day, the program is announced as follows:

Sunday-Preliminary test in the production contest.

Monday— Opening day with all exhibits open; official tests in the production contest; 4-H club dairy cattle judging contest; vocational agriculture dairy cattle judging contest; organization of South Plains F.F.A. council in charge of J. S. Payne, Abernathy teacher, and counsellor; 7:30 p. m., annual Texas A. and M. ex-student banquet.

Guernsey Judging Tuesday

Tuesday—Guernsey cattle judging in livestock pavilion, 8:30 a. m.; dairy calf show judging, 10 a. m.; announcement of production winners; 11 a. m. addresses by Dr. Bradford Knapp, Lubbock, on educational program; 1 p. m. Jersey cattle judging by Joe W. Rideway, Fort Worth; 8:15 p. m.; dairy pageant, city auditorium; official dean's ball.

Wednesday — Holstein-Friesian cattle judging a livestock pavilion, 9:30 a. m.; educational program and address by Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M.; Jersey cattle judging 1 p. m.; 7 p. m. annual banquet of association for exhibitors; annual meeting of Panhandle-Plains dairy association, Hilton hotel, Dairy show dance.

To Stage Parade

Thursday— Parade of livestock winners through business district, 9 a. m.; 11 a. m. educational program with address by H. W. Wilson, cheese expert and Dr. Tait Butler, editor of Progressive Farmer; annual sale of dairy cattle in the pavilion.

A carnival has been engaged for the entire week, the first time this has been done.

Premiums Announced

Prizes in the dairy show were announced by Mr. Shipp for the following classes:

Jersey department, with O. G. Hollinson, Lubbock, superintendent.

Six prizes in each class, $10 for first; $7.50, second; $5, third; $2.50, fourth; $1 fifth and sixth; for females, four years and over; three and four years; two and under three; 12 months and under two years; 12 to 18 months; six to 12 months; under six months.

Herd Prizes Offered

Five herd prizes in graded, yearling and calf herds, of $12.50; $10; $7.50; $5; $2.50; the same for get of sire and produce of dam.

Holstein-Friesian, W. H. Upchurch, Canyon, superintendent.

Three prizes of $7.50; $5 and $2.50 for seven classes of males, over four, three to four, two to three, 18 months to two years, 12 to 18 months; six to 12 months and under six months.

Same prizes for females in this group as in males, with eight age classifications the same as in the Jersey class.

Herd prizes, $7.50 for first; $5 for second and $2.50 for third, for graded, yearling and calf; get of sire and produce of dam same as for herd prizes.

Guernseys have the same for senior and junior heifer, with $10, $5 and $2.50 for county groups.

Vocational agriculture students judging contest, R. C. Mowery, Lubbock, superintendent. High team in all breeds, $10, $7.50; $2.50 and $1; high individual of all breeds $5, $4, $2 and $1; high team in three groups, $5, $3 and $2; high man in three groups, 5, $3, $2 and $1.

Judges Offered Prizes

Four-H club judging contest, Mr. Mowery, superintendent; high team all breeds $10, $7.50 and $2.50; high individual of all breeds $7, $4 and $2; high team in three breeds, $5, $3 and $2; high individual in three breeds, $3, $2 and $1.

Officers are: W. L. Stangel, Lubbock, president; J. E. Rigler, Plainview, vice-president; D. F. Eaton, Albany; O. L. Stansell, Floydada; S. J. Payne, Tulia, and P. C. Bennett, Amarillo, honorary vice-presidents and Grady Shipp, Plainview, secretary-treasurer. There are 28 directors from 23 West Texas towns and one New Mexico town, divided among business men and breeders and county agents.

Show President

Activities of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy association are under the direction of W. L. Stangel, above, head of the department of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college. Mr. Stangel is president of the association and has been busily engaged in preparations for the show during the past several weeks.

With Breeders And Feeders

FOR THE first time in many years comparatively few cattle will be moved from the South Plains to the "Flint Hills" of Kansas, south of Cottonwood Falls and on down into the Osage hills near Pawhuska, Okla. Most of the calves sold last fall went into feed lots here on the Plains or in other sections and were fed out.

So far as has been ascertained, only two South Plains cattlemen will ship cattle to the Flint Hills area, Jim Devitt, old time cattleman and Tom Good, of Big Spring. Good is said to be planning a shipment of cattle from Lamesa, presumably from his feeding pens between there and Big Spring.

H. W. Stanton, Lubbock feeder, is adding a number of head to his pens to replace those shipped out recently. Mr. Stanton was out over the territory last week making purchases and contracts. In the Stanton pens this year it is expected around 6,000 head will have been fed. At present there are 2,800 head on feed.

Several cars of cattle were shipped by the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill to California for sale on the Los Angeles market.

W. G. Murray, best known South Plains sheep feeder, has about 6,000 head of lambs being finished in the Stanton pens north of town. He is reported planning to begin shipping this week to the markets.

Petersburg feeders the first of the week shipped out several cars of cattle over the Denver for California. The cars were brought to Lubbock and transferred to the Santa Fe.

• • •

F. C. Irwin, Floydada, sold 42 Jersey calves on the Kansas City market Tuesday for $2.75 a hundred. They averaged 360 pounds. Irwin also sold 21 dogie stockers, averaging 550 pounds, for $3 per hundred.

Mullins and Peters, Lubbock shippers, sold ten 885 pound steers at Fort Worth last week. The animals brought $4.35 per hundred.

For the week ending March 30, Washburn & Condon, Los Angeles, report sales of Texas fed steers as follows: Lubbock Cotton Oil mill, 129 head; L. T. Lewis, 113 head; W. R. Hearst, 117 head; Jess Elrod, 85 head; Quanah Cotton Oil mill, 45 head; R. K. Wooten, 23 head; Headrick and Hughes, 25 head; John Guitar, 55 head, including 12 Jersey bulls; R. M. Simmons, 25 head. There were 617 head from Texas sold that week. R. M. "Bob" Johnson, of Lubbock is the West Texas field representative of this firm, headquartering here.

Tom Good, according to reports, recently sold 2,600 head of steer yearlings. The animals came from his ranches in Borden and Dawson counties but prices were not announced.

L. K. Blanchett, Slaton, Monday sold 37 heifers and 43 steers on the Kansas City market. The heifers, averaging 470 pounds, brought $4.25 per hundred while the steers, 490 pound average, brought $5.25.

R. Jones Goods, living eight miles north of Lorenzo, recently shipped five cars of Hereford yearlings, to Indiana feed lots. A Mr. Sovers will finish the animals on yellow corn before selling them.

Jim Farley, of Groom, who won senior champion in the recent Quality Meat show, sold his 1,010 pound steer for 17 cents at the Los Angeles stock yards. The animal brought $171.70. "Washita Blanchard, as the animal was known, was bred by R. T. Alexander, of Canadian and put on feed April 2, 1932. Jim had a junior calf that sold for 7 cents to Washburn-Condon of Los Angeles. The animal weighed 885 pounds. Jim's calves cost $45; his feed and nurse cow costs were $68.85, leaving a net profit of $135.-41. The animals won over $60 in prize money.

W. W. Brunson, Midland cattleman, recently bought 700 head of cows from Edgar Norton, ranching west of Amarillo. The cattle were shipped south, 200 head going to the Goldsmith place near Lamesa and 500 to the L-7 ranch near Odessa. Brunson is receiving the remainder of a 3,000-calf purchase from the Green Cattle company, Cannea, Sonora, Mexico. He received 1,200 in February and sold part at Hereford. He will get 1,800 more at an Arizona point.

Pitchfork Ranch's Calf Crop Expected To Run 90 Per Cent

SPUR, April 8. (Special)—This year's calf crop is expected to run better than 90 per cent on the Pitchfork ranch, according to Virgil Parr, manager, who reports a large percentage of calves so far this spring.

"We ought to get nearly 95 per cent," he said. "Range conditions are splendd, the grass is good, there is plenty of water and in all it looks like a good year. Conditions are very encouraging on the Pitchfork ranch."

Last year Mr. Parr reported a calf crop of 3,150 calves from 3,-350 mother cows.

Industrialized Methods Bring $20,000 Profit On Abandoned Land For Farmer In Wisconsin; Used Modern Machines

BY MARTIN FRANCIS
Central Press Correspondent

HAMMOND, Wis., April 8—There is one farmer in the United States who has no need of farm relief!

He is J. E. Murphy, owner of an 1,800-acre farm in St. Croix county near here. Murphy realized a profit of $20,000 in 1932 from abandoned farm land, over and above all expenses incurred on the farm, and this despite low prices, poor markets and foreclosures on farms all around him!

The secret of his success is industrialized farming, Murphy declares. It is the solution of the farm problem, he believes.

The land Murphy has worked with the past year had been idle eight to ten years prior to his acquiring it, four years ago. The land had been abandoned because owners had failed to make a living from their holdings. After four years of hard work, Murphy has turned this farm into a profit-maker.

$25 Per Acre

When bankers who held mortgages on the 1,800 acres begged Murphy to take some of it off their hands, he offered them $25 an acre. He also had an eye toward the future and leased other land with the option of buying it.

The condition of the land was bad, according to Murphy. A great deal of it was choked with quackgrass. Murphy was laughed at for his purchase. Although before the war the land had brought $200 an acre, there were few farmers who would agree it was worth even $10 an acre now. They predicted failure for Murphy.

Murphy purchased four modern tractors, equipped with disks, plows and cultivators. He planted 1,000 acres of corn and was able to cultivate 50 acres a day with the tractors. Soon the quack grass was exterminated.

The following year the land was sowed into small grains and seeded down with alfalfa. This year from 400 acres of alfalfa, he obtained 600 tons. The second crop on the same land yielded over 400 tons, or more than 1,000 tons in all. Sweet clover yielded 240 tons acres.

Modern Implements

The problem of handling and marketing such a large crop was facilitated by using trucks with sweep rakes which brought the hay to the stack, where a mechanical stacker placed it on the stack so fast that nine men were kept busy at this point.

Murphy staged a haying exhibition for his neighbors, in which 40 tons of alfalfa were stacked in one hour and 40 minutes. The rake, Murphy says, can be attached to truck, tractor or wagon. Trucks can speed 25 to 40 miles an hour taking the hay from the windrow.

And now for the facts and figures. Here's Murphy's ledger for 1932:

30,000 bushels barley at 63 cents per bushel	$18,900
1,000 tons alfalfa at $16 per ton	16,000
Total	$34,900
Expenses:
Seed	$ 780
Labor	6,500
Fertilizer	500
Gas and oil	3,500
Repairs, depreciation, taxes, insurance, miscellaneous	3,620
Total	$14,900
Profit	$20,000

Industrialize

By industrialized farming Murphy maintains the farm problem can be solved. Good fertilizer, motorized machinery, efficient management, following expert agricultural advice and proper crop handling will bring success to the average farmer, he believes, if a farmer will co-operate with his neighbors. If this is done, one set of machinery will suffice for hundreds of acres.

Farming will only become successful when industrialized, says Murphy. "The day of the small individual farm appears past, but the new era will leave the farmer his independence—of which he is so proud—if only he will cooperate with his neighbors on the industrial plan," Murphy concludes.

Ten Turkeys Canned By Lamb County Women Bring Larger Amount Than 31 Sold On Foot

AMHERST, April 8. (Special) — Ten turkeys belonging to the flock of Mrs. A. Clark, of the Ruby Home Demonstration club, brought more money when sold in cans than 31 turkeys did on foot.

Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Clark sold 31 No. 1 birds for $31.02. The No. 2 birds were kept. Mrs. Clark decided to standardize her product and killed and prepared these birds. She had her canning work approved as standard and then sold the cans.

A total of 139 cans of ground turkey, worth $27.80; 13 cans of cubed turkey worth $23.90; brought a total of $31.70.

While in a Littlefield drug store to get a box for packing cans for shipment, Mrs. Clark was told by the druggist, "these are just as good as cash for anything we have in the store."

Four turkeys that Mrs. Clark killed and dressed, weighed 68 pounds. At the price then of five cents, the birds were worth $3.50. Mrs. Clark sold 10 No. 1 cans of cubed and 42 No. 1 cans of ground meat for $11.40. Deducting $1.30 for cans, 28 cents for labels and 70 cents for labor, the net was $9.12.

Total Of 292 Dawson County Farmers Receive Crop Loans

LAMESA, April 8. (Special) — Crop and livestock loans numbering 292 have been made by Dawson county farmers, V. P. Baker, manager of the local office, reports.

Forty-seven farmers, according to the county clerk's records, have received first installment checks. Two more checks are due, it is said, on each application.

Dr. C. W. Warburton, above, will have charge of crop loans to farmers under the new credit administration set up by Agriculture Secretary Wallace.

Cheese Factory For Lockney Is Being Considered

LOCKNEY, April 8. (Special)—Outside interests, learning of a proposal by Jack Suits, editor of the Lockney Beacon, to start a cheese factory here, have written him asking information on the number of dairy cows in the trade territory.

If the plan is successful, 60 per cent of the capital will come from outside the city. The remainder will be subscribed locally and by farmers.

Whatley Ranch Is Leased By Bass Arnett And Son, Arnold

S. B. "Bass" Arnett and his son Arnold, of Lubbock, well known ranchers and cattle men, have leased the 20-section ranch of Sam Whatley, of Lamesa, in Dawson and Borden counties, east of Lamesa. Possession has been taken and the ranch is now operated by Mr. Arnett.

Six hundred cows were bought from Mr. Whatley. The ranch adjoins one belonging to Mr. R. H. Loomis of Colorado.

Mr. Arnett, who has been ranching near Lubbock for 30 years, has some cows on an adjoining ranch. He reports better than a 40 per cent calf crop on the ground and is of the opinion the crop will run from 85 to 90 per cent for the season. Last year Mr. Arnett raised a 65 per cent calf crop.

Lubbock Churches Will Commemorate Passion Week For Seven Days

Union Revival Planned Here Is Called Off

Special Songs And Sermons Announced For Week Before Easter; Tech Students To Join In Observance

BY MARGARET TURNER
Church Editor

THROUGH scriptures, songs and sermons, church people of the city are commemorating anew Passion Week during the next seven days. This period directly preceding Easter Sunday is one of the most important times in Christendom.

A union revival that had been planned for the time by the pastors' association was called off because of other services already under way.

Sermon Series Announced

Beginning with this morning and continuing through the evening service next Sunday, the Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, is to preach a series of sermons on the theme of "Christ's Seven Last Words on the Cross." The choir will render on these evenings the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois.

The themes are as follows: Monday, "Redenption;" Tuesday "Bereavement"; Wednesday, "Loneliness"; Thursday, "Thirst" (A candlelight communion service); Friday, "Committal"; Sunday, "At Dawn" and "It Is Finished".

Members of the First Christian church will meet at that institution Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p. m. and then visit the homes of prospective members. This is a follow-up of the recent city-wide religious census.

Revival Under Way

The Rev. Boyd P. Milburn is to conduct revival services at the West End Baptist church of which he is is pastor. Services are to be continued twice daily at the First Baptist church and Broadway Church of Christ.

A service will be conducted at Saint Paul's Episcopal church Thursday. This will commemorate the institution of the Lord's Supper. Meditation services will be conducted Good Friday from 12 noon until 3 o'clock at the church. The theme for the worship will be on the seven last word of Christ.

Sunrise communion will be observed at the church on Easter Sunday. The Rev. Lyle S. Barnett, pastor, is to preside for these special services.

Sunrise Services

Traditional sunrise Easter services have been planned for Tech college students under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A's., next Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock. The program is to be dedicated to the memory of Dr. Paul W. Horn, late college president, who initiated the custom of having the services in the cloisters of the administration building.

Call to worship will be made by music played from the towers by the Matador band.

Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the speech department at the college, is to read "The Lingering Look," a brief article written by Dr. Horn just prior to his death. Hymns and choruses directed by Miss Myrtle Dunn will be other features. A free will offering will go to the local unemployed.

J. Preston Conner and Miss May Tom Howell are arranging the program.

The Y's are also planning a communion service at Seaman hall for Good Friday at 7 p. m. Miss Ruth Reed is in charge. A tableau, readings and songs based on the subject, "World Fellowship of the Cross", will be heard. This program is open to the public.

Rev. Mr. Barnett is to administer the sacrament.

Ralls Plans Dairy Show For April 22

RALLS, April 8. — (Special) — Plans are under way for a one day Dairy Show to be held in Ralls on Saturday, April 22. The show will be sponsored by the Ralls Chamber of Commerce and will be under the direction of J. H. Taylor, director of vocational agriculture in the Ralls schools.

Much interest is being shown among the dairy farmers in the Ralls trade territory. April 22 is the date for changing the bulls of the Ralls bull circle number one and these bulls, together with a number of their off-spring will be shown that day.

The Ralls bull circle was started four years ago. And plans are to have some of the original stock shown along with their offspring to show the advantages of good breeding. It is expected that this will be an annual affair.

Roby Man Seeks Aid Of Paper In Lamesa In Finding Brother

LAMESA, April 8.— (Special) — F. H. Spicer of Roby, has written the Lamesa Reporter here asking its help in locating his brother Stanley Spicer, now about 27 or 28 years old, last heard of in this section.

The last time Stanley Spicer was heard from, his brother wrote, he was in Dawson county. The elder brother made several trips here but was unable to locate him, so he decided to try the newspaper.

or tunic that makes a rather formal costume and a very attractive one.

With most of these you can create an illusion of several costumes by changing things about a bit. Nothing is more adaptable than the cape. Wear your cape suit with a different skirt, a lighter toned one and it is another costume altogether.

Wear a wool cape over a print dress and nobody will realize it is only the top of your suit that you are wearing. And add a plaid taffeta blouse to a silk suit that originally had a white satin one or a white pique. You have one more possibility of great change.

Exquisitely simple but possessing real dignity and beauty is a black smooth tone silk suit combined with chartreuse crepe. The suit will stand you in good stead for the whole summer.

There is a straight line skirt, with kick pleats, and a little waistlength silk jacket. Then, for formal wear, the top of the skirt is of the same black, with long sleeves, and a chartreuse crepe surplice vestee that ties in a sash over one hip, with chartreuse flowers down the front.

Later on you can lift off this black top altogether, if you want, don a crisp white organdy, puffed sleeved blouse, and there you are, all made over into a summer outfit.

Snappiness In Gray

The hat that goes with the suit for Easter is a stunning little high-backed model, with chartreuse grosgrain ribbon lining the halo top.

For a spring suit, a gray rabbit's-hair wool combines with plaid taffeta in mustard yellow, eggplant and white, in a harmonious, snappy costume. The skirt is made with a high fitted waistline. The cape fastens down the front with metal buttons and the bottom two hitch it to the skirt.

The long-sleeved plaid taffeta blouse has its own scarf collar that ties in a bow in front, fluffing out over the neckline of the cape. Of course you can wear any blouse you want with this. But this plaid one, with its use of two new colors, eggplant and mustard yellow, makes an original looking outfit for Easter morn.

Polka Dots Smart

Polka dotted silk, in a new color combination of green and white dots against gray, combines with gray Lezur, an imported wool, to make a very springlike costume. The top of the dress is of the polka dotted silk. So is the shoulder part of the little cape and the tie ends of the cape. These can be worn Ascot, or in a bow, as you wish.

The dress is short-sleeved and the cape hits at about elbow length, rounding up in front to show the printed top of the dress.

A petition 30 foot long and carrying 806 students names has been presented to the Presbyterian synod of South Carolina asking a Jew church at Clemson college.
