Carl Estes Confers With Governor, Then Wolters

AUSTIN, Aug. 24. (UP).—Carl Estes, leader in the East Texas fight against oil prorations, asked the governor today to modify the military shut down as soon as the railroad commission issues its first order under the new conservation law.

Estes left for Kilgore for a conference with General Wolters, commanding the troops. He planned another conference with the governor tomorrow.

Julian Capers Jr., advance man for a series of East Texas martial law protest meetings, left for Palestine to arrange a meeting there Wednesday or Thursday night, despite orders from General Wolters. First meeting will be in Austin tonight.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF LOCAL LIONS GET OFFICIAL PRAISE

Achievements of the Midland Lions club during the past year received high commendation in the report of the secretary-general to the convention of Lions Internationale, a letter from him to M. M. Seymour, president of the local club, said.

Melvin Jones, founder and secretary-general, said in his letter that he was proud of the accomplishments of the Midland club in a year when service clubs are operating under great difficulty.

The record of service of the Midland club, as taken directly from Mr. Jones' report to the fifteenth annual convention at Toronto last month was as follows: Midland—Built wading pool. Sent lady representatives to A. & M. College short course. Erected Lions club and direction signs on local highways. Arranged court house dedication program. Secured appointment of county nurse for Midland county. Sponsored Business Confidence week. Entertained as honorary club members for six-week periods, the boy and girl students with highest scholastic standing for preceding six-week period. Entertained all school teachers of Midland. Held Father and Son banquet. Established a depot for old magazines to be distributed among rural schools. Christmas cheer. Staged Easter egg hunt for 600 children. Met with another service club. Ten membership reports received.

Odessa Man Joins "Broadway" Staff

Grady Bell, secretary of the Odessa chamber of commerce has been "farmed out" to the Broadway of America Highway association for the next few months, according to F. O. Mackey, president. Mr. Bell will do personal contact work as field representative between El Paso and Dallas.

Mr. Bell is well known throughout West Texas and was one of the leaders in the organization of the association. The need for his services was explained to the Odessa chamber of commerce directors and they granted him a leave of absence until he could make the desired contacts for the Broadway.

The Broadway association is making strenuous efforts to have the stretch of highway between Lordsburg and Rodeo, N. M., improved within the next year, thus completing the improvement of the highway from New York City to San Diego. The Broadway is now 93 per cent paved or hard-surfaced and with the completion of this stretch will be 100 per cent hard surfaced the entire distance.

Western Crane to Get Wildcat Test

Rig and tools for a new wildcat oil test in western Crane county were expected to be moved to the location immediately, it was reported here today. The Penn Oil company and the Southwest Oil Production company, a subsidiary of Crandall Bros. Oil company, will drill their No. 1 J. B. Tubb, 330 feet north and east from the southwest corner of the south 80 acres of the northwest quarter of section 3, block B-27, public school lands.

The wildcat is about a mile northwest of Crandall Bros. and Gulf No. 1 Tubb in section 8, block B-27, public school land, which was completed several months ago following a shot with 100 quarts from 4,279 to 4,319 feet. The discovery well is now producing approximately 2,300 barrels monthly.

Crandall Bros. and Gulf No. 1 Tubb encountered a lime horizon last October at 4,301 feet, below two sulphur water horizons, that produced 1315 barrels of 39.3 gravity oil in 38 hours, but production virtually ceased when gas increased at 4,352 feet.

Acceptance of a challenge by the Co-Workers, a class of women, was voted, to begin next Sunday and to continue through the third Sunday of September. The contest is based on total membership, the men having granted a handicap of 50 members to the women. Reports for the day, however, showed that the women's class had 144 present.

Texas newspapers were being called upon today by Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana to put before the people an appeal for action toward prohibiting the planting of cotton for 1932.

"Texas means the success or failure of the plan," Long said at the close of a lengthy telegram to The Reporter-Telegram. At the same time a similar message was received by the newspaper from James M. Thompson, publisher of the New Orleans Item and Morning Tribune, who said that his publications have subordinated all campaigns to support of Governor Long in his plan for cotton control.

The Louisiana governor's message was as follows:

I make this appeal to the people and government of Texas. The world is waiting on Texas for its own salvation and for the salvation of the South. Had we rather have twenty cents for this year's cotton crop and have no cotton crop next year, or instead do we want five cents for this year's cotton crop and less than that for the next year's? Do the people of the cotton growing states want eight hundred million dollars or less for the combined cotton crops of 1931 and 1932, or had we rather have nearly two billion dollars for the cotton crop of 1931 alone, and forget about the cotton crop for next year? That is the question confronting the people and public officials of the cotton growing states at this time.

If the cotton states will heed the call of the New Orleans cotton conference of last Friday, we will have twenty-cent cotton and prosperity in less than three weeks; but if the cotton states do not act, we will have five cent cotton and bankruptcy for ever farmer and business man engaged in that industry.

As the chairman of the New Orleans conference, composed of governors, United States senators, congressmen, commissioners of agriculture and other representatives of the cotton growing states of America, and which conference unanimously went on record calling for legislation to prohibit the planting of any cotton in the year 1932 so as to provide a fair market for the cotton crop grown this year, I call upon the farmers, merchants, bankers and public officials to exert every influence at their command to bring about legislation in their respective states to prohibit the planting of cotton in 1932.

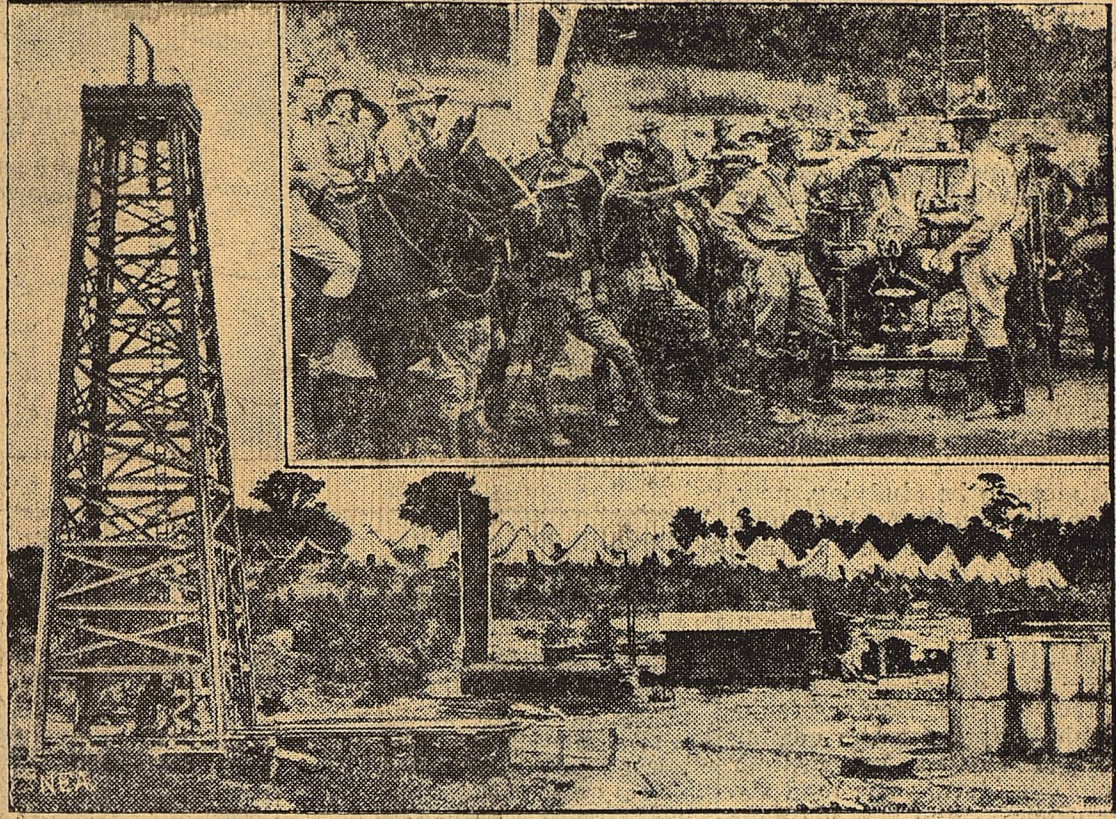

I call upon the people to meet at once so as to place their representatives in line only immediate and drastic action will save the day. Any modification at all will do no good. We must have 100 per cent prohibition against raising cotton for 1932. Nothing else will be effective or constitutional.

This year's cotton crop amounts to 15,600,000 bales. We have on hand, carried over from last year, 9,000,000 bales more, being a total of 24,600,000 bales of American cotton now on hand. The world only consumes 11,000,000 bales of American cotton per year. Therefore, this years cotton crop is enough for the demand of this year and next year, and then some. If we raise a cotton crop in 1932, when we already have more cotton on hand than we can use for the two years, we may see cotton sell for two cents or three cents per pound next year, and it might have no market at all.

There is no danger of any particular increase in foreign cotton, and further we propose to negotiate trade agreements, as was done in the sugar case, to restrict production abroad as well as at home. But even should we fail, increased production abroad could not be significant. I urge the people to meet immediately in mass to call upon the governors and representatives to take every action possible to bring about their own salvation immediately. Immediate drastic action and none other will save the cotton states and give prosperity where we are now faced with bankruptcy.

In the meantime I urge that the farmers for the next few days leave their cotton in the seed and pay no attention to any slight advance in cotton price that his work may bring about. We want the farmer to have the benefit of whatever result is accomplished. The plan proposed is constitutional, the courts have uniformly upheld similar legislation. Every lawyer who has studied the question finds it constitutional to prevent the spreading of the boll weevil and other pests if for no other reason. "Texas means the success or failure of the plan."

Market Weaker as Receipts Are Heavy

FT. WORTH, Aug. 24.—Heavy receipts on today's market made the market on slaughter steers very slow, ending weak to lower. Butcher cows and low cutters were from weak to 25 cents lower.

Other classes of cattle showed a market about steady. Slaughter calves were fairly active, with good competition on order account. Trade was fully steady.

Morning sales of slaughter steers were around $4.00 to $4.25. Noon clearance was incomplete. A part load of fat cows brought $4.00, some low cutters were $1.60 and one load of well finished yearlings brought $8.00.

Bulk sales of slaughter calves were from $5.00 to $5.50, with a few good heavies up to $5.85 and $6.00. Cull sorts were bringing around $2.00 to $3.00.

Appoint National Government to Take Reins

LONDON, Aug. 24. (UP).—Following the fall of Britain's labor government, officials today announced formation of a national government to ride out the present economic and financial crisis.

Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald capitulated this morning after a futile battle to make up the $6,000,000 budget deficit to pacify elements opposing the reduction of unemployment benefit and keep cabinet members in line.

The national government is expected to last five or six weeks until the budget is balanced.

Prominent Dallas Educator Is Dead

ROSOCOE, Aug. 24. (P).—James E. Parks, 38, superintendent of schools at the Buckner Orphan home, Dallas, dropped dead Saturday at Las Vegas, New Mexico. He was a son of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. He was en route home after receiving his master of arts degree Friday from the University of Colorado, Boulder, and had stopped at a filling station in Las Vegas to buy gasoline when he fell dead. The body is being sent to Dallas.

Mr. Parks graduated from Simmons university at Abilene in 1912, and was superintendent of Winters schools in 1913-14. His wife, who survives, is a daughter of Mayor H. O. Jones of Winters. A son, James E. Parks, is in Dallas. George Parks, newspaperman of Sweetwater, is a nephew.

WELLS AND TANK FARMS PATROLLED

Two Suspects Jailed After Anonymous Threats

KILGORE, Aug. 24. (UP).—First shots in the East Texas military occupation were fired today when troopers attempted to halt a stolen car driven into headquarters camp here. One soldier broke his rifle hitting the car and another opened fire. Three occupants escaped.

KILGORE, Aug. 24. (UP).—State troops patrolled the streets here this morning after a series of incendiary fires, believed the work of reds, has destroyed two churches and damaged four buildings.

Special guards patrolled the jail after the police chief received an anonymous call saying the building would be burned. Two suspects were put under arrest.

Brigadier General Jacob P. Wolters, commanding troops occupying East Texas fields, promised a full investigation. He sent special patrols to watch wells, tank farms and other properties.

CHURCHES BURNED

KILGORE, Aug. 24.—An outburst of incendiary fires and threats of others aroused authorities in Kilgore, headquarters for military occupation in the East Texas oil fields.

Kilgore's two churches burned to the ground under mysterious circumstances during the two-hour period beginning shortly before noon Sunday. In the afternoon, gasoline soaked rags started fires at a seed house and gin and under the structure housing a wholesale grocery concern on the main street. They were quickly controlled.

Jail Guarded County officers were advised anonymously by telephone they "had better watch" their jail here, a building of flimsy frame construction. It is subordinate to the main county jail at Longview, the county seat. A special guard was thrown about the jail immediately, as a number of prisoners were lodged in it.

Brig. Gen. Jacob P. Wolters, in general command of the oil field area under a martial law proclamation which shut down 1,600 wells in the East Texas field, first announced after the churches had burned that he would leave the investigation to civil officials. Later he personally joined in the inquiry after fires in the seed house and grocery establishment were discovered.

"I have directed my men to cooperate fully with civil authorities," said General Wolters. "Joint investigations by my men and civil officials show conclusively that the fires were incendiary. Gasoline-soaked rags of the same sort were found in the seed house and at the grocery. Probably they started the church fires, too, but that could not be said with finality because these buildings burned to the ground and any evidence in them would have been consumed."

Local Foursome to Shoot High Golf

Midland's famous foursome composed of Addison Wadley, D. H. Roettger, Ralph M. Barron and Harry Tolbert, playing golf together since the first golf course was constructed near the old college grounds, will leave early Tuesday for two days of golf and recreation at Cloudercroft. They expect to return here some time Thursday. Cloudercroft is said to have the "highest golf course in the United States", the altitude there being well over 9,000 feet.

Large Crowds at Lovington Rodeo

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nance, S. R. Preston, George Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beyer were among the Midland people who attended the Lovington rodeo during the past week end.

Good crowds were there from all over this section, it was reported. Calf roping, bronc riding and other rodeo events were hotly contested. Bill Lusk of Lovington was leading in the calf roping as the rodeo neared a finish.

Harold Crosby of Keema, N. M., was about even with Bill Lusk in calf roping when some of the Midland men left, it was reported later today. Both ropers were using the well known Henry Barrow dun roping horse from Odessa.

THE TAX THAT WON'T STAND

Last week the tax upon cigarettes went into effect. Unpopular from the beginning, it is improbable that this import will remain upon the statute books a minute beyond the first opportunity given the legislature to revoke it. And in such an eventuality, it is well to consider what a money-hungry, distraught legislature is apt to do.

Special taxes levied against oil, sulphur, gas and cement production afford fairly reliable evidence that it is Texas policy to assess much of the expense of government against interests that exploit Texas natural resources. Unfortunately, however, Texas has gained a reputation for levying "punitive" rather than revenue taxes. The reputation has been built because the disposition has been to pyramid levies against certain resource industries, rather than to spread the burden equitably amongst all resource industries.

Texas' lumber production, taxed at Louisiana rates, would produce nearly three-quarter million dollars of revenue; taxed at Arkansas rates the income would be almost four hundred thousand dollars. Mercury, gypsum, coal, salt, gold, silver, marble, stone, Fuller's earth and clay are, among others, natural resources whose exploitation has escaped the form of special taxation imposed on sulphur, oil, gas and cement.

It might be well for legislators to be studying, now, the revenue possibilities of these untaxed natural resource industries. To pyramid further the taxes levied against the four industries already taxed is both impracticable and unfair. Yet a revenue deficit stares us in the face.

NOBLE POSSIBILITY

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of England is determined to balance the British budget for the coming year. To do it, he proposes to reduce expenditures rather than to increase taxes—which, considering the load the British taxpayer bears, is fair enough—and it is his hope that no less than $500,000,000 can be lopped from the proposed expenditures.

A half-billion-dollar reduction is a big one; and how any government is to accomplish it is a puzzling question. Obviously, the easiest way to do it is to cut military expenses; and since other nations besides Britain are looking for ways of reducing expenses, the pending armament limitation conference ought to start with an excellent chance of success.

TRANS-OCEANIC FLYING

Transatlantic flying seems to be regaining all of the ground it lost in the series of disasters that followed the Lindbergh and Chamberlin flights of four years ago. An excess of enthusiasm in those days sent into the air a number of trail-blazers who had scant chance of success; when they failed, as many of them were bound to fail, the public's faith in ocean flights suffered a severe setback.

Now, however, airmen are proving that the stunt is perfectly feasible if handled properly. The Atlantic has been conquered and reconquered. Proposals for regular, trans-oceanic airmail lines do not seem as fantastic as they did a short time ago. Aviation is demonstrating that it is just about ready to provide that kind of service.

FALL HAS RECEIVED FAIRNESS

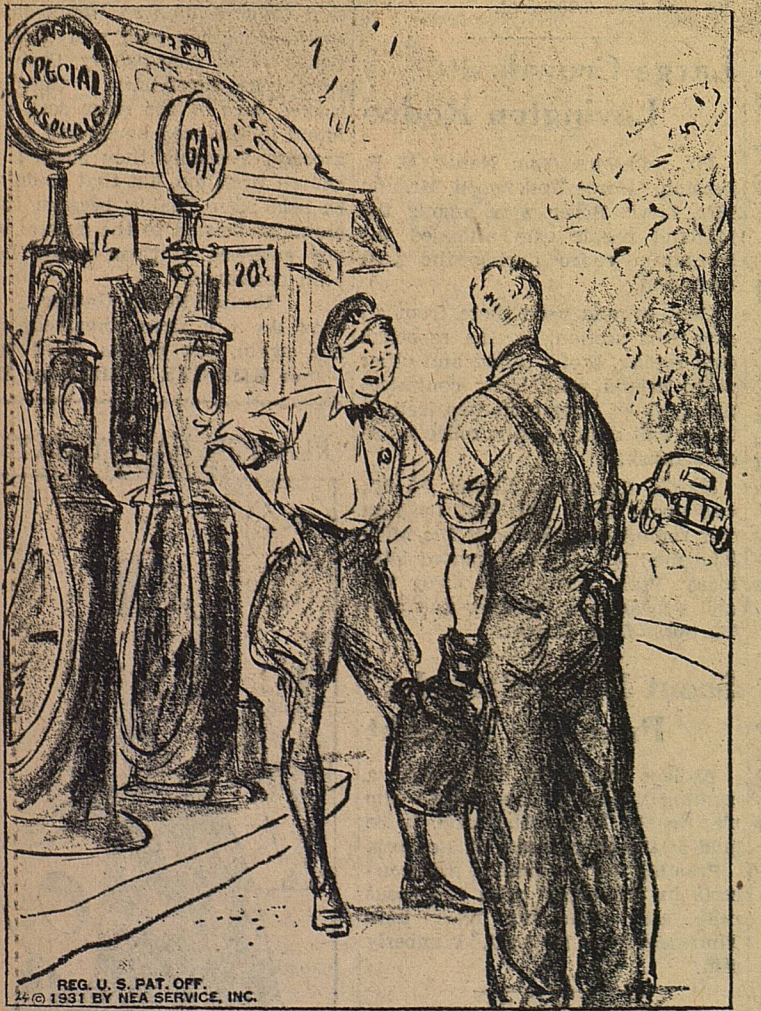

The failure of Albert B. Fall to gain executive clemency is hardly a matter that will grieve the mass of his fellow citizens deeply.

The judge who tried him and the two prosecutors who conducted the case refused to recommend clemency; and their refusal undoubtedly coincides with the feelings of the ordinary American.

Getting Fall convicted, sentenced and sent to prison was an outrageously slow and laborious process. Far from being treated with undue severity, the man had the benefit of every opening that the law allows to an accused person. He was represented by skilled attorneys, Justice has seldom moved much more slowly than it did in his case.

Now he is in prison, and no pardon is to be forthcoming. It is hard to find fault with this decision.

Country's Crack Pilots Aim at Speed Records

By ISREAL KLEIN
NEA Service Writer

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Several speed records will be made and broken, and breath-taking stunts will thrill the hundreds of thousands of visitors expected at the National Air Races to be held here from Aug. 29 to Sept. 7.

Speeding and stunting in safety will be the unusual combination of aerial fare to be offered the guests. Speeding across continent and over a set closed course around the airport here. Stunting by crack pilots, among the leaders being a shy, blue-eyed girl of 19.

Even before the air races have started, a group of some 50 men and women pilots have taken off for Santa Monica, Calif., in a transcontinental derby to Cleveland. They are to make 14 stops on their way to Cleveland, where they will come in almost in one spectacular bunch to collect prizes totaling $25,000.

Among the more well-known flyers to participate in this event is Eddie Schneider, the 19-year-old pilot of Jersey City, N. J., who holds the American junior transcontinental record for flying both ways between Los Angeles and New York in 57 hours, as well as the west to east record of 27 hours and 19 minutes.

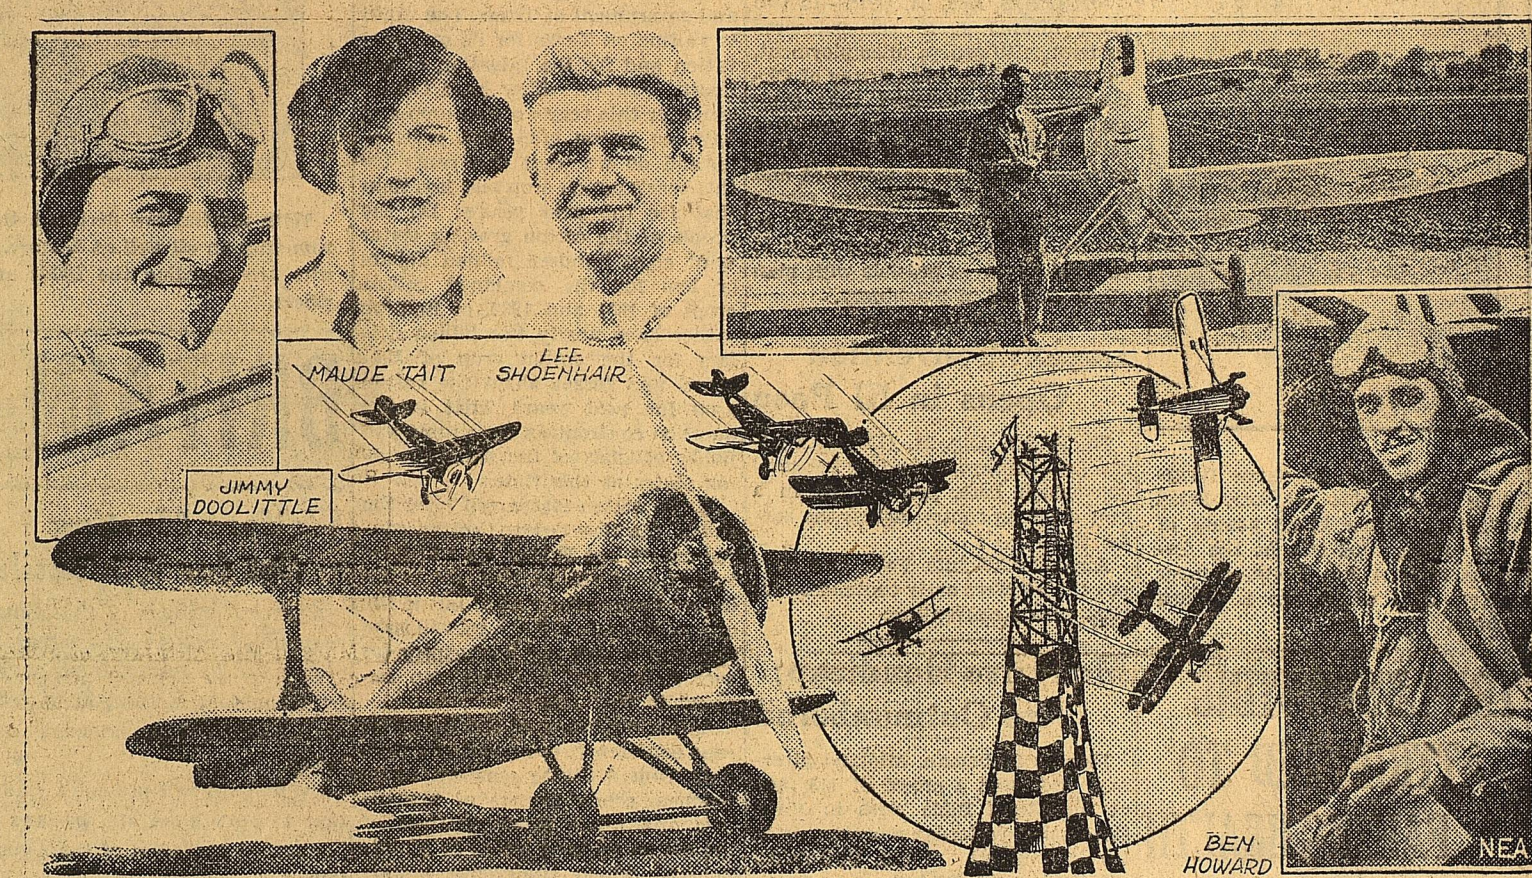

Several famous women pilots are also out for prizes in this derby. These are Mrs. Phoebe Omble of Memphis, first woman transport pilot who won the 1929 National Air Race Derby for light planes and again came in ahead in the women's Dixie Air Derby last year. With her are Gladys O'Donnell, winner of last year's Transcontinental Derby; Winifred Spooner, one of England's crack women pilots; Bobbie Trout, Maude Tait, Jean LaRene and other famous aviatrixes.

Most thrilling of all events, however, will be the $15,000 Bendix Trophy race and the Thompson Trophy race, in both of which some of the best flyers in America will try to break existing speed records across country and over a 100-mile course.

In the Bendix Trophy race, flyers like the famous Jimmie Doolittle, Walter J. Hunter, Lou Reichers, and James Hall will try to beat Frank Hawks' transcontinental flight record of 12 hours and 25 minutes from Los Angeles to New York, if they find their time from the west coast city to Cleveland warrants their continuing eastward in this effort. If the Hawks record is broken, there's an additional $15,000 award posted by Vincent Bendix, noted automobile and aeronautic manufacturer and backer of this event.

Just as exciting will be the 100-mile race of fast planes, around a 100-mile course, for a $15,000 prize and trophy which have been put up by Edwin G. Thompson, Cleveland aeronautic leader. Here America's best pilots, like Jimmie Doolittle, Ben O. Howard, Walter Hunter, Lou Reichers, Lowell Bayles and others, some of them also participants in the Bendix event, will try to break the existing land plane speed record of 277 miles an hour, held by the French flyer Bonnet, or at least to beat the American record of 266 held by Alford J. Williams, former navy lieutenant.

For this race, Doolittle is having a Laird "Solution", similar to the fast ship the late Speed Holman flew in the National Air Races in Chicago last year, fitted for even faster flying. It will have a geared Wasp junior motor with a super-charger that will raise its available power to 530 horsepower, and will carry its speed close to 300 miles an hour.

Equal to this will be Bayles' Gee Bee, low wing, sportster, equipped with the same type of motor and super-charger, so that the race at least between these two is expected to be close and thrilling.

More spectacular perhaps, than these two may be the flying of Bennie Howard, the air mail pilot who last year surprised everyone by winning five events and coming in third in the Thompson Trophy race with a small fleet 90-horsepower plane of his own construction.

Besides these major speed events, pilots will have a chance to set up for the first time speed records in straightaway air dashes, for future flyers to shoot at. In these dashes, the pilots will have to fly specified distances in a level line, both with and against the wind, in order to average their speeds. These speeds will be set up along lines similar to the short dashes in running races.

The most spectacular stunting of all is expected to be that of young Dorothy Hester, of Portland, Ore., who has no less than 42 tricks in her bag. Miss Hester will try to break her own previous record for women flyers of 62 outside loops in one time up, and the record among both men and women flyers of 56 inverted barrel rolls.

GOLDEN SILENCE

DENVER.—Silence is golden, especially when you're in front of Police Judge Alvin H. Pickens. A. G. Grissom believes. Grissom was fined for parking his car in restricted territory. He disagreed with the judge and started an argument. The more he talked the more the judge boosted the fine. When it got to $120, Grissom stopped, and Judge Pickens sent him to the "cooler" to think it over. The next day the judge suspended the $120 fine and soaked Grissom only $2 court costs.

morning and he handed it to me. Here are the details:

Dear Quack:

HOW STYLES ARE SOMETIMES CHANGED.

Out at the Country Club yesterday evening, after all the tournament players had teed off, the antique foursome; perhaps better known as the Super-Dept. store-Plumbing shop Special appeared at No. 1 tee all chimed for action. A rugged member of the group withdrew a battered club from his bag, stropped upon the tee to drive. A bystander espied a strange looking article lodged in the throat of the bag, his curiosity aroused he motioned to a friend and pointed out to him this funny looking thing which was as much out of place in a golf bag as a two karat diamond ring would be, gracing the hideous finger of an Orangoutan.

But before the find could be brought to attention of members of the foursome this Plumber-golfer, conscience burdened and ill-at-ease, of his ardent conduct reluctantly withdrew from its partly concealed abode, a ladies powder puff . . . next fashion announcement — "Ladies' adopt model golf bag for carrying beauty accessories". Or "Plumbing establishment announces its formal opening of Ladies Beauty Shop."

14-YEAR GRUDGE

PITTSBURGH.—Fourteen years ago, when Harry Nemas was 14, he did an odd job for a man and was told to wait until he was given fifty cents. Harry never saw the man again until recently, when he saw him on the street here. Harry jumped out of the car he was riding in and attacked the man whom he believed to be the one who owed him the money. Police couldn't see his side of the argument, however, and he was arrested, only to be freed on the plea of the man he attacked.

is a better orator. In his youth he was clerk of a congressional committee here. The Bankhead boys were raised in an atmosphere of politics and William B. was almost a child when he served in the Alabama legislature. Later he was city attorney at Huntsville. He was elected to Congress in 1914 and once presided over the House on the same day his father held the gavel in the Senate.

The father of the Bankhead boys was serving in the Alabama legislature as early as 1865 and was elected to Congress in 1887. In 1906 he was defeated by Captain Hobson and the next year was elected to the Senate here by the Alabama legislature to fill a vacancy. There he sponsored a federal aid bill for highways and the "Bankhead Highway", running from Washington to San Diego, was named after him.

Heflin was elected to fill the unexpired term at the death of the elder Bankhead. Now the elder Bankhead's successors in both House and Senate have been succeeded by his two sons. Alabama Democrats last year booted Heflin out of the party and nominated the present John.

Heflin is fighting tooth and nail to keep Bankhead out of the Senate. Various things have been discovered about the election since the Senate started investigating Heflin's charges, but the Bankhead family, pointing to John's majority of 50,000 protest not to be worrying.

GOD OF THE DESERT
By Mrs. Vera Lively

If you've ever seen the desert
With its stars low-hung and bright;
If you've ridden through the sage brush
In the middle of the night.
If you've ever heard the coyote
Calling from the western hill.
Pouring out his loneliness
To the night, so deathly still.
If you've ever seen the sun rise
Over yellow desert sand,
With its violet, rose and yellow,
Then you have seen God's hand.

Pumpkin Pie
One cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 2 cups rich milk.

Mix and sift flour, spices and salt and add to sugar. Mix and stir into pumpkin. Add molasses and egg, slightly beaten with milk. Turn into a deep pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake one hour. The oven should be hot for the first ten minutes to set the crust. Reduce the heat and bake at 350 degrees F. for 50 minutes. The rule will fill an 8-inch pie pan.

Fluffy Pumpkin Pie
Three-fourths cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin, milk and cream and mix thoroughly. Beat the whites of eggs until stiff and fold into first mixture. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry and bake as in other recipe.

If a highly spiced pie is liked, more spices can be added to either rule.

Squash often is substituted for pumpkin and while it makes an excellent pie, the flavor is not the same.

Helpful Health Suggestions

By Martha Bredemeier

Outdoors

The baby should have an abundance of fresh air day and night. He should be kept out of doors as much as possible except when the thermometer drops below 22 degrees F.

Sleep

The child's body develops faster during the first year of his life than at any other period. During sleep the body tissues are recreated and the materials and energies needed for the activity of the waking hours are stored up. For this reason, baby needs a correspondingly large allowance of sleep with the best sleeping accommodations, so that the hours of sleep may be of the greatest value to him. The baby should sleep 18 to 20 hours out of the 24 and he should have 16 up to the age of one year. Day time naps should be continued up to his sixth year.

Teething

Teething is a normal process and should not make the baby ill; therefore, if he is sick while cutting teeth, there must be something else wrong with him—probably a wrong diet. Take him to your doctor and find out the cause.

Crying

Crying is the baby's prerogative. He has the right to cry strenuously, waving his arms and legs in the air for at least 15 minutes but not longer than one hour every day. He needs this exercise to make him grow strong. Learn to distinguish between cries of hunger, temper and illness.

Feeding

Mother's milk is nature's food for the baby. It will help to make the baby strong and healthy.

Breast fed babies seldom have bowel trouble which is so fatal to a bottle fed baby—especially during hot weather.

COLORADO AND TEXON TIE FOR SAND BELT ASSOCIATION HONORS

Local Net Stars Take Big End of Singles Matches at Lamesa Pleasant View and Firemen Take Games From Visitors Sunday

MIDLAND TAKES A FOURTH PLACE IN LOOP

Six clubs of the Sand Belt Golf association tried hard to end the season Sunday, four of them playing in Midland and two at Big Spring, but Colorado and Texon went into a percentage tie and will have to play it off, probably Sunday, at San Angelo.

In Midland, Texon beat Snyder, 36-8, and Midland beat Lamesa, 24-20.

At Big Spring, Colorado won from Big Spring, 32-12.

Following rounds of the afternoon, members of the six clubs met in the ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer at a lunch, following which announcements relative to presentation of trophies were made, and election of officers for 1932 carried out.

Bob Scott of Colorado was named as the high individual scorer of the loop, Satterwhite of Texon second. Both won the limit in points Sunday, four and a half, but Satterwhite was down a low ball match somewhere back during the season.

Hagan of Snyder was named president, succeeding J. Ellis Cowden of Midland; and Bob Scott was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Odessa and Sweetwater, here with a delegation, asked that their country clubs be invited to enter the circuit next year, and this was voted. This would make a total of eight clubs, and would stretch the season up to September.

Midland's win over Lamesa caused the club to supplant Big Spring for fourth place. Standings were announced as:

FERGUSON WINS 4 WITH NO LOSS TO RECORD

Midland net stars carried off the long end of a two-town tennis tournament Sunday, winning eight of 14 matches with Lamesa and dropping only four. Lamesa came out with six won and ten lost.

Theo Ferguson of Midland won four, without a loss, playing 100 games. Frank Stubbeman was a close second, winning three and dropping one, with 99 games played. Bryant of Lamesa played stellar tennis, winning three and losing one.

No Doubles Played

Big Spring, scheduled to furnish the other corner of a triangle match, failed to arrive, evidently having day and needing players for their matches with Abilene or Sweetwater. Midland and Lamesa waited until afternoon for the arrival of Big Spring men, hence time did not permit the playing of doubles.

A round-robin followed in which each Midland man played all of the Lamesa men, or four matches. Theo Ferguson, Frank Stubbeman and W. D. Godbey were the local representatives. Lamesa players included Bryant, Hatch, Thruston, Key, Allen and Bennett. Standings at the close of the tournament were as follows:

Player	Won	Lost
Ferguson	4	0
Stubbeman	3	1
Bryant	3	1
Godbey	1	3
Hatch	1	3
Thruston	1	2
Key	1	2
Allen	0	1
Bennett	0	1

WILD LIFE FEASTS ON WHEAT

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—Wild life in Pennsylvania is profiting by the decline in the price of wheat. Many farmers throughout the state are permitting corners or sparsely grown patches of wheat to stand, rather than incur the expense of cutting it with little expectation of a profit for their work, the Game Commission reports.

OILERS, STANTON FALL BEFORE ONSLAUGHTS

Local ball clubs were playing "heads up" Sunday afternoon on the home parks, the Pleasant View team taking a 16 to 10 game from the Big Spring Cosden Oilers at Bizzell park and the local Firemen beating Stanton's fast team 8 to 7.

Due to failure of the box score to reach The Reporter-Telegram sports desk in time, details of the game were not available today. Good crowds witnessed both games, reports said.

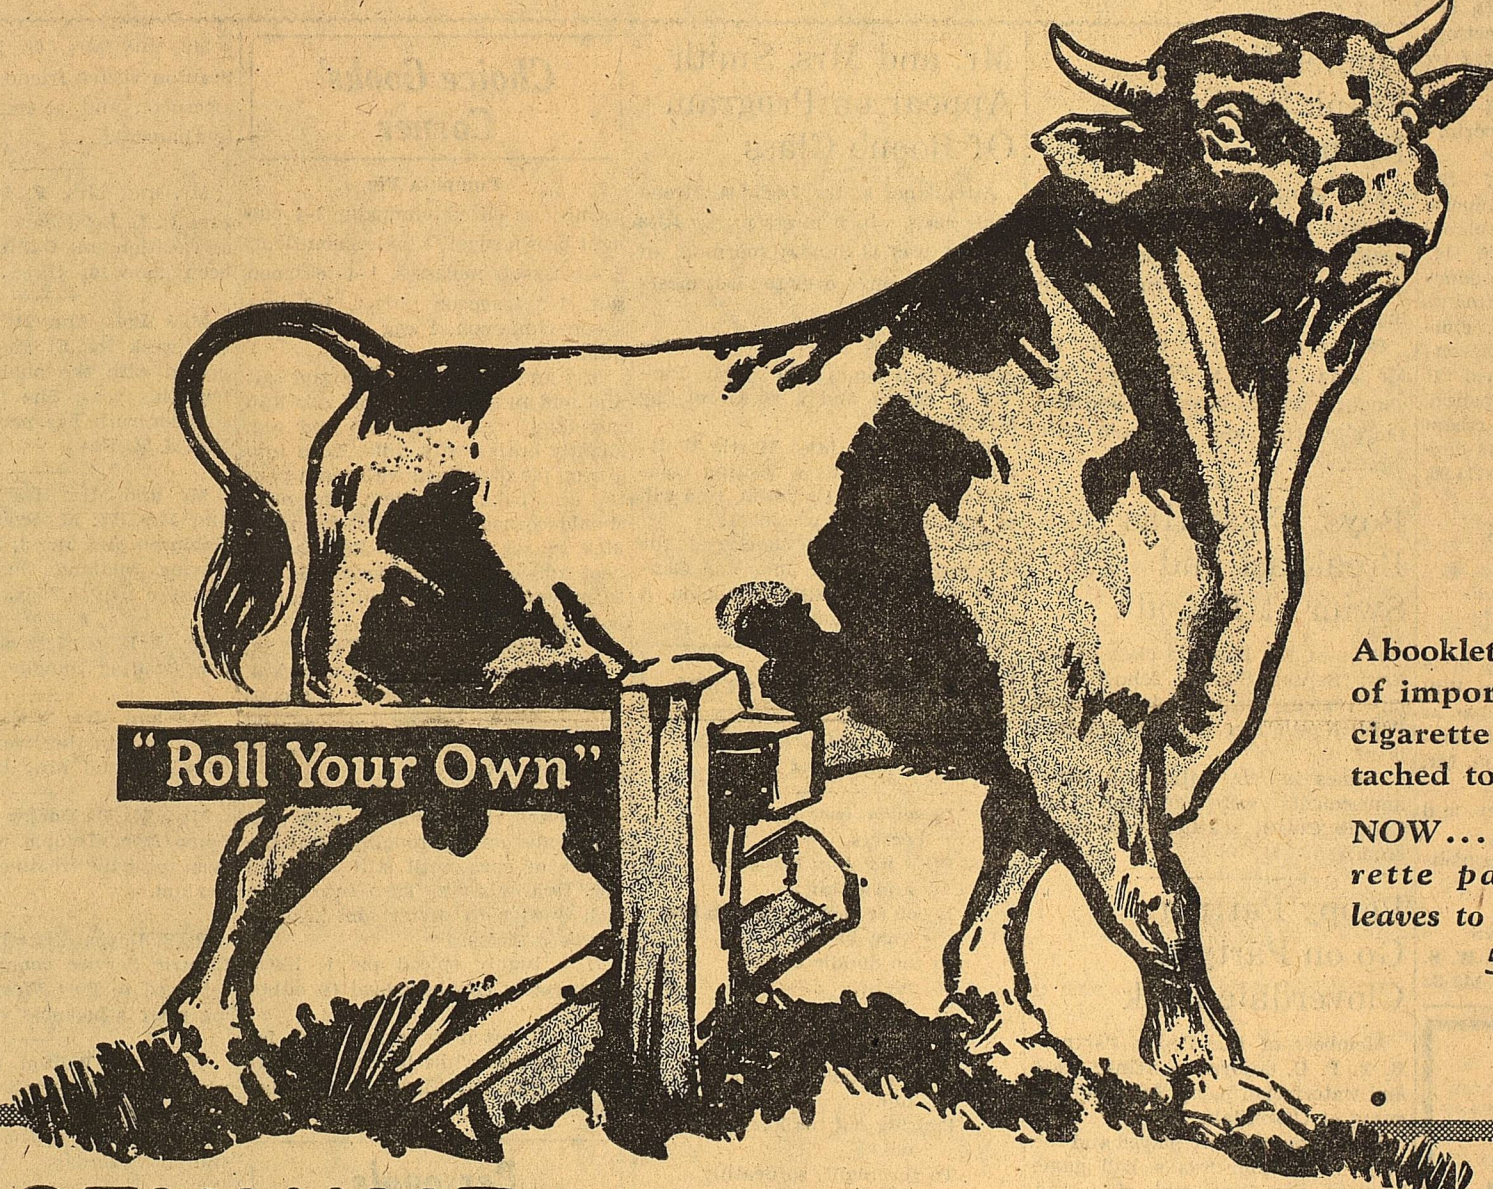

Stanton forced the Midland firemen into ten innings of heated and spectacular baseball Sunday afternoon, only to go the 20 miles homeward with the losing end of an 8-7 score. Fred Girdley's fly ball to left field in the tenth, with Johnson and Warren on base and the score tied, won for the Firemen, Johnson scoring.

Notre Dame Coaches Undergo Acid Test

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Aug. 24. (UP)—With-out the guiding hand of Knute Rock-ne, Notre Dame's 1931 football team faces a strenuous task in carrying on the undefeated march of the un-defeated, national championship eleven of 1929 and 1930.

When Rockne met his death in an airplane crash last March, he left behind a record of 19 consecutive victories amassed by two of the greatest football teams ever develop-ed in gridiron history.

Three men have been selected to carry on Rockne's work. Jesse Har-per, who coached the Notre Dame team Rockne captained, was named athletic director. Haertly (Hunk) Anderson, star guard in 1921, 1922, and 1923, assistant coach in 1925 and 1926 and line coach last year, was named senior football coach, and Jack Chevigny, former halfback, has been named junior coach.

Notre Dame's handicaps increas-ed when Anderson was stricken with meningitis and appendicitis during the summer and lay dangerously ill for weeks in Mayo Brothers Hospi-tal at Rochester, Minn. Anderson's health has improved considerably, but he may not be able to exert himself in football practice as he did last year.

As usual Notre Dame has a wealth of material and a hard schedule. Many of last year's stars are gone, but Rockne developed a number of understudies during 1930 who should be able to replace most of the miss-ing men, except perhaps Frank Car-deo, all-American quarter-back, and Frank Savoldi, the Three Oaks, Mich., Italian who interrupted his career by matrimony.

MRS. JOHNSON BACK
Mrs. Kenneth Johnson has return-ed to Midland from a visit of sever-al days with relatives in Denton, where she formerly made her home.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

Kilgore Fires--

excited townspeople and city and county officials maintained a care-ful watch over the entire town, lest other fires break out. Most of the buildings are of frame construction, hastily erected during the sudden in-crease of business resulting from the oil discovery. The fire depart-ment had apparatus at the scene of the seed house and grocery fires be-fore they gained headway.

County authorities were forced to keep their prisoners in the menaced county jail because the police chief declared the city jail was "piled to the top."

General headquarters of the militia men is at a camp a mile and a half from town. The soldiers have been generally confined to camp except when out in the oil fields on patrol duty. General Wolters, when he ar-rived here to put the martial law proclamation into effect, said the functions of civil authorities would be in no way abridged or suspended.

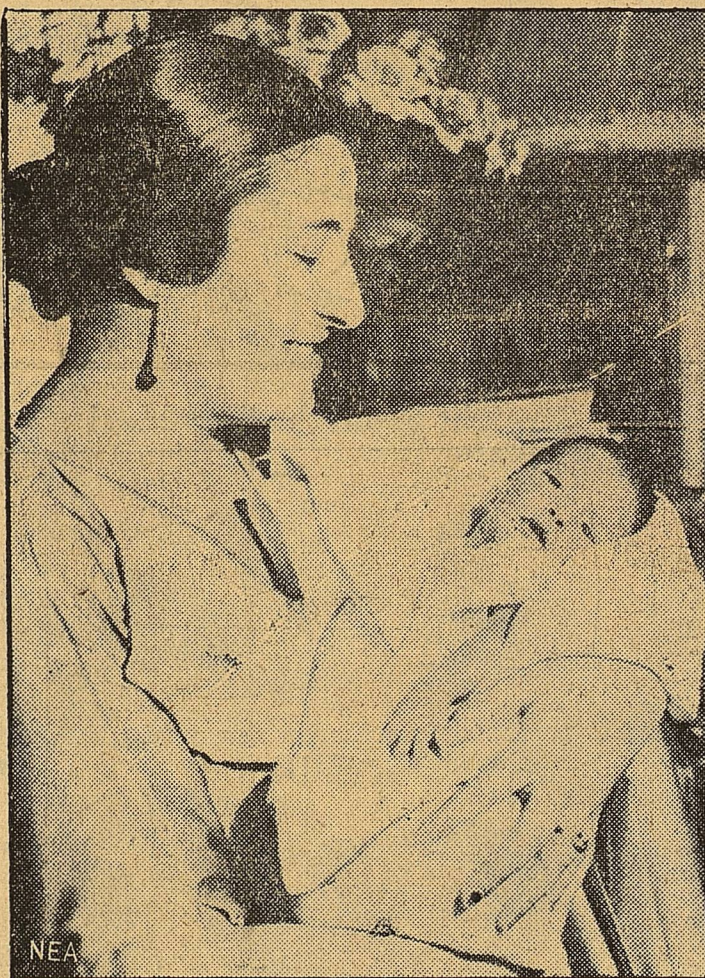

Tyler Champs Get 13 Letter Men Back

TYLER, Aug. 24. (UP)—Thirteen of the 22 lettermen who last year composed the football eleven which swept high school gridirons of the state to win the title, return here Sept. 7 to don football duds. Seven lettermen on the first string of the 1930 team will be back this fall.

ROCK CRUSHING STARTS

RANGER. (UP)—Rock crushers of the Thurber Earthen Products company resumed operation last week giving employment to over 35 men. The plant, one of the largest of its kind in Texas, has been idle for several months.

"NIGHT NURSE" GETS OVATION IN SHOWING HERE

"Night Nurse," which details the romantic adventures of a young girl who enters a great city hospital as a student nurse, and leaves it to a woman who knows life from its depth to its heights—was received with every evidence of approval by last night's large crowd at the Ritz theatre.

The picture is based on the sen-sational best-selling novel by Dora Macy who also wrote "Ex-Mis-tress." The human and dramatic phases of hospital life are portrayed as never before. Beside the un-usual story "Night Nurse" has been given the superb direction of John Francis Dillon who did "The Pub-lic Enemy" and "Wings."

It should be stressed that while the sequences of "Night Nurse" are largely in a hospital, the gruesome is never in evidence—rather the hu-manness of the throngs that fre-quent it, from the surgeon in com-mand to the humblest orderly. It is the night nurse herself, who steals the picture and holds the imagina-tion and sympathy of the beholder from first to last.

Lora Hart is her name, and she has the great luck to be interpreted by Barbara Stanwyck, remembered for her recent performance in "Il-llicit."

Miss Stanwyck has beauty and talent but it is an indefinable quality which makes her dominate any scene—and her portrayal of Lora, torn between temptations, fears, loves, ambitions and loyalties—is unforgettable.

Love finds Lora after many a long day—in the person of a like-able young roger who comes to her for the treatment of a gunshot in the arm—Ben Lyon makes much of the role. Joan Blondell is Lora's jazzy pal, also a nurse. Many other screen favorites play notably—among them being Clark Gable, Charles Winninger, Charlotte Mer-riam, Edward Nugent, Allan Lane, Blanche Friderici, Vera Lewis, Ralf Harolde, Walter McGrail, Betty May and two quite astonishing sev-en-year-olds, Marcia Mae Jones and Betty Jane Graham.

Comedy, romance, drama, tragedy, all play their parts in "Night Nurse"—and Barbara Stanwyck fixes her-self more firmly than ever in the affections. "Night Nurse" is one of the pictures you simply can't af-ford to miss.

DEMONSTRATION STILL ON

Demonstration of a new steamed oil permanent wave machine will continue this week at Mrs. Hughes' Home Beauty parlor, 447 North Col-orado, announced Mrs. Hughes who expects to install a similar machine soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Preslar, agents for the machine, are house guests of his sister, Mrs. C. E. Gann.

WAS HE SURPRISED!

EL PASO.—The phone rang in the office of Manuel Velasquez, police officer of Juarez. "You are the father of a son," a voice said over the phone. Ten minutes later the phone rang again. "You're the father of another son and he's very fat," the voice said. Ten minutes later the phone buzzed for the third time. "You're the father of another son, and he also is very fat," he was in-formed. Manuel rushed out of the police station to his wife and trip-lets.

BRUNSON TO EL PASO

Stanton Brunson, who late Friday suffered injury to both eyes when a quantity of lime was blown in his face, was taken early today to El Paso, friends said. His condition at the time was not known to those advising the Reporter-Telegram.

Brunson was placed a sack of lime on a high shelf, the lime blow-ing out through a small hole as the sack was let down. His eyesight would not be impaired, it was re-ported Saturday, although he was suffering much pain.

SHAVES ARE "OFF"

EL PASO. (UP).—So many men were going to negro barber shops and other non-union barber shops to get a 25-cent shave, that El Paso, union barber shops were forced to reduce their price for a shave from 35 to 25 cents.

"Some of the leading men of El Paso were going to a negro barber shop," Jack Graham, a barber, said. "Several of us have tried for a long time to get the reduction, for we can make money at 25 cents. El Paso and Chicago, I believe, are about the only two cities with 35-cent shaves."

HONORS IN SHOOTING RATTLER GO TO SNAKE

HARLINGEN, Aug. 24. (UP) Dave Ferguson, constable of Harlingen, believes it's no test of marksmanship to clip off the head of a rattlesnake with a pistol bullet. In fact, if there is any honor in such target shooting, it should go to the snake. And Constable Ferguson will tell you why.

"All you have to do is point the pistol at a coiled rattler, pull the trigger and his head flies off. The reason is that a snake on guard points its head directly at any menacing ob-ject. No aim is needed."
