Texans Push Plans For Grain Storage

Heavy Loss To Wheat Growers Feared; Solons To Confer In Washington Today

By SARAH MCCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1—Texas congressmen moved swiftly today in an effort to provide grain storage needed to avert losses of the $20,000,000 wheat crop.

Rep. W. R. Poage, chairman of the Texas de ation, called a meeting of that 21-member body for Thursday afternoon with Ralph Twigg, director of the Production and Marketing administration, and other Agriculture department officials.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce sent a telegram to Texas senators and congressmen asking that Army tents be released from surplus stocks immediately to provide temporary storage, Sen. Tom Connally disclosed. The telegram was signed by John D. Mitchell, president, J. M. Wilson, vice president, and D. A. Bandeen, manager.

Seek To Move Grain

Immediately, Reps. George Mahon, Lubbock and Colorado City, Clark Fisher, San Angelo, Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, Eugene Worley, Shamrock, and Omar Burleson, Anson, wired in reply that they would give every co-operation and informed West Texans of the congressional delegation's meeting with Agriculture department officials.

At the same time, Senator Connally made public a letter from the Commodity Credit corporation in which it said it was making every effort to move government stocks of grain now housed in country warehouses and market terminals in the Southwest to make room for the oncoming bumper wheat crop.

This grain came into government ownership on May 1 with default on government loans on April 30. Agriculture officials said the wheat is being shipped out as fast as ship bottoms are available.

Problem Pointed Out

A serious problem which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce pointed out involves great financial losses to farmers who wish to get government loans on their wheat, all stemming from the lack of grain storage.

Inability on the part of farmers to store this grain is keeping the farmers from getting the benefit of the price support system. They cannot qualify for government loans at $1.87 a bushel because of no storage space so the farmers have to sell their wheat at approximately 30 cents less. When they sell, the wheat is bought by persons who later may be able to resell it at much higher prices if they find storage to keep the wheat until a better market price is forthcoming.

Grain Storage Situation Hit

(By The Associated Press)

President J. Walter Hammond of the Texas Farm Bureau charged Wednesday the storage situation is forcing down the price of wheat in this state. He appealed to President Truman for help.

Elevator operators in Fort Worth stoutly denied his assertion that grain elevators are refusing to store grain for farmers but have sufficient space for wheat bought at below-support prices. The operators said their storage facilities are crowded and they cannot store grain if space is not available.

Hammond, in an interview at Waco, had declared:

"A large number of Texas grain elevators which have space for storage of wheat are refusing to store the grain for Texas farmers, but the elevators have storage for all the wheat they can buy at a below-support price."

Low Prices Reported

He added that he has a report that wheat has sold as low as $1.55 per bushel in the Wichita Falls area, about 32 cents below the government support price.

Wheat farmers can obtain the government price of $1.87 per bushel for wheat if it is placed in an approved storage space, he

Chinese Reds Claim Chiang's Headquarters Have Been Taken

TOKYO, June 2 (Thursday) (INS)—The Chinese Communist radio at Peiping claimed today that Communist troops captured Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters at Hsikow in east Chekiang but the generalissimo had fled to Formosa.

The same broadcast said foreign and domestic mails have begun moving in Shanghai for the first time since its capture by the Communists.

The broadcast added that the first commercial vessel also has been permitted to unload its cargo at Shanghai.

WELCOMES POSTMAN—Indicative of the interest with which new mail service was greeted, Sarilda Raper, not quite two, stood on her little chair beside her parents' mail box Wednesday morning. She is pictured handing some letters, for mailing, to Postman Harvey Lee Howell. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Raper of 608 Thirty-eighth, who had to go two blocks to their mailbox on the rural route on the highway before and who now have a box directly across the street from their house. Mounted service went into effect Wednesday in eight suburban areas of Lubbock, with two postmen delivering mail and picking up letters residents wanted mailed. Area's Wheat Crop Ready

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

HARVEST of an estimated one million acres of wheat on the South Plains, scheduled to begin in earnest within the next few weeks, has brought farmers of the area face to face with a problem that in former years has been of varying importance, but which probably has never before been as important, or as serious.

That problem is storage.

Some harvesting already is underway at scattered points on and near the South Plains and the problem of storage is one of the farmers' chief worries.

Federal and staff agriculture men in the area see only one solution to the problem after the relatively small amounts of storage space in elevators and grain warehouses are filled early in the harvest season. They unanimously agree that farm storage of wheat will be necessary.

Major Shortage Seen

Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Agricultural Adjustment agency, said last night that "available storage in this area for wheat will be just a drop in the bucket" to the total amount of grain harvested.

"Farmers are going to be forced to provide farm storage," he said, since "storage space will really be hard to get after wheat harvest has begun."

Wells sees the biggest disadvantage of farm storage of the grain—aside from the fact that so little time remains in which to prepare storage on the farm—as that of having to wait for the wheat to dry out sufficiently before it can be stored.

1948 Crop Carried Over

Like Lubbock County Agent Dave Sherrill and W. N. Williamson, district agent of the Extension service, Wells believes that emergency storage facilities placed at disposal of wheat growers during the harvest season and after, while extremely helpful, will be insufficient in taking care of the large amounts of wheat to be stored.

Williamson, whose jurisdiction includes 18 counties in this area, said last night that great amounts of wheat and grain sorghums are still in storage from last year in

Names Of Vets In D-Day Are Sought

Five years ago next Monday, the first Allied forces swarmed ashore at Normandy. D-Day and the invasion of Europe was on.

Today, The Avalanche-Journal is seeking to learn the names of veterans of Lubbock and the immediate area who were among those participating in the initial invasion of June 6, 1944.

If you took part in this operation, or know of anyone who did, please call The Avalanche-Journal, dial 4343 and leave the veteran's name, address and phone number.

Foreign Ministers Split Over Veto Issue

Four-Power Rule Of Berlin 'Approved'

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, June 1.—The foreign ministers council agreed in principle today on revival of the Allied Kommandatura to govern Berlin.

But they split on a western proposal to limit the veto in the four-power body, and so their first attempt to reach an understanding on ending East-West strife in the city was blocked.

Bluntly, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the Western Powers had won the right to be in Berlin by force of arms and were going to stay there.

Insists On Unanimous Vote

The veto, he said, should apply only to major issues; other questions should be settled by a majority vote, while yet others could be settled outside by the Germans themselves.

A "routine municipal operation" of cleaning streets, collecting garbage and furnishing water supply should not be allowed to become an international issue, he said.

Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, at one point seemed to indicate willingness to place some matters outside the control of the Kommandatura. But later he insisted that a unanimous vote on all decisions was "the only way to govern."

Point Important

The point was important in any agreement on Berlin beacuse the Russians have used the veto in the past to block actions by the city government. They prevented Ernst Reuter from taking office as lord mayor after he was elected. When they finally walked out of the Kommandatura and the city was split, Reuter was elected again by the western sectors.

Acheson declared that "all four powers are there (in Berlin) by the force of their armies and the resolution of their peoples," and not merely because of any international agreements such as Potsdam.

He urged the council to recognize that all four nations were there "to stay" and that they had to get along together.

Britain, France Back U.S.

He proposed: That the council discuss Vishinsky's proposal of last week that the Kommandatura be re-established; that a unified city government be set up by free citywide elections under four-power control, and that a city constitution be written.

Acheson's legal argument caused British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to say he felt like an orphan because he was the only non-lawyer in the council.

However, he supported Acheson and said an agreement would be possible if only the ministers could define the issues which would require unanimous decisions and those which could be settled by a majority vote.

Solon Demands Change In Pact

WASHINGTON, June 1. (INS) Sen Watkins (R-Utah) demanded today that the Senate write into the North Atlantic defense pact a provision affirming Congress' right to declare war at its own discretion.

Watkins said in a Senate speech that article five of the treaty, which stipulates that an attack on one signatory is an attack on all and should be met by force, is "tricky and deceptive" and that it "robbed Congress of its war-making powers."

The senator interpreted the article, which authorizes military action, to mean that the President could call out American troops and that Congress could not refuse to declare war formally.

Debate Declared

As Watkins made his plea, the White House said there is no conflict between President Truman, the State department and Senate leaders on the time table for Senate action on the pact.

Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) has reported a Democratic agreement to give labor legislation priority over the treaty on the Senate calendar.

It was believed that the decision was motivated by the fear that full-fledged debate at the

Rules Committee Blocks Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—President Truman's big housing bill was blocked for the time being today by House economyites.

The rules committee refused to clear it for House action until the Budget bureau says just how much it will cost.

Critics of the legislation say it will involve an outlay of over $16,000,000,000 in federal funds in 40 years. It provides, among other things, for slum clearance, public housing units, subsidies for low rent homes, etc.

The committee set a new showdown for Friday.

Suspect Is Sought In Shooting Of Three Persons Near Kaufman

KAUFMAN, June 1 (AP)—Three persons were shot tonight, none seriously, in the Combine community, near here.

They were R. W. Walker, J. N. Ballentine and L. D. Gragsone.

At a local hospital, where all were treated and released, it was reported that they had been struck by shotgun pellets at about 100 feet. The shooting occurred at a tenant house on his farm, C. L. Wilson reported. All the men lived at Combine.

The state highway patrol reported units of that organization and sheriff's and local officers were seeking a suspect.

ODESSA CHIEF FIRED

ODESSA, June 1 (AP)—S. O. Hamm today was relieved of his duties as Police Chief and C. W. Cessler appointed to the post. The city council replaced the former Texas Ranger because of "unsatisfactory police department management."

NEW DISTRICT ASKED FOR TEXAS

Allred, Houston Man May Be Named To Federal Judge Posts

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, June 1.—The Houston Chronicle predicted today President Truman will be asked to nominate former Governor James V. Allred and Houston Attorney Ben Connally as federal judges for the southern district of Texas.

U. S. Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson were said to have agreed upon the recommendations and that Otto Reichert, Brownsville, will be suggested as the nominee for U. S. marshal for the district.

Ben Connally is a son of Senator Connally, while Allred formerly served as a federal judge in the district.

The Chronicle said Senator Connally originally opposed submitting his son's name for nomination by the President.

It was said Senator Connally will recommend Allred's nomination, with Johnson submitting Ben Connally's name.

Allred would fill a new judgeship for the district as called for in an omnibus bill approved yesterday in Washington by the House Judiciary committee.

Ben Connally would be named to a temporary post but become

Two 'Bad Risk' Officials Claimed On AEC Rolls

Chambers On Stand In Trial

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Whittaker Chambers came into federal court today for another dramatic, face-to-face showdown with Alger Hiss, the man he branded as a State department tool of a prewar Soviet spy ring.

The scene was reminiscent of that when Chambers first made charges against Hiss before the House Un-American Activities committee last year.

Chambers, self-styled former courier for the Russian ring, stepped to the stand as the star government witness in Hiss' perjury trial.

Chambers was neatly dressed. His face was pale but composed.

A few feet away sat Hiss, his wife by his side.

Hiss has denied ever knowing Chambers, except possibly casually and under another name.

Secrets Still 'Hot'

The former State department official also has denied ever passing top-drawer State department secrets to Chambers, as Chambers and the government have claimed.

These denials led a federal grand jury to indict Hiss.

Before Chambers was called to the stand, the crowded court room was set abuzz over an old typewriter which Hiss is alleged to have used to copy secrets for the Russians.

Some of the secrets, the government said, still are so hot after 11 years that they cannot be disclosed to the jury of 10 men and two women.

Typewriter Reported

The government said Hiss copied them on the typewriter and turned them over "in wholesale fashion" to Chambers.

Government counsel said 25 to 30 FBI agents scoured Washington in vain trying to find the typewriter.

Then Hiss' attorney announced the defense had the typewriter. Under certain conditions, he added, the FBI can look at the machine "all they want."

Chambers' first court appearance was brief. He spent the period before the overnight trial recess detailing his background before and after he became a Communist.

Defense Attorney Lloyd Paul Stryker tried to limit the recital, claiming Chambers "has sufficiently identified himself as a Commu-

HST Locks Files To Senate Group

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 1—A Senate committee, studying ways to tighten immigration laws against subversives, was denied access today to secret government files at the direction of President Truman.

Attorney General Tom Clark informed a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that to unlock the files of some 164 officials of foreign governments was "not in the public interest" and might have embarrassing international results.

Clark and Assistant Secretary of State John E. Peurifoy were subpoenaed before the committee to produce files on the 164 persons—some of them ambassadors to other nations, a foreign minister, and one a former assistant secretary general of the United Nations. The subjects were not otherwise identified.

Clark Handed Questions

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said he did not wish to disclose confidential sources of information or violate security.

"But I am determined," he added, "that the extent of the problem be clearly revealed to the people. It can be done only when government agencies make a revelation of basic facts."

He said he would not ask for

Air Search Slated Today For Missing Plane With Two Aboard

DALLAS, June 1 (AP)—About 20 planes will take to the air tomorrow in search for a missing Stephenville plane which left Hot Springs, Ark., Sunday with two men aboard.

The men are T. C. Elkins, 48, owner of the Elko Products company of Stephenville, and his nephew, Ben E. Ferguson, a pilot who also was employed by the Stephenville firm.

About 15 planes will be Civil Air patrol craft. The rest will be Air Force rescue planes from Biggs Air Force base, El Paso.

Elkins and Ferguson left Hot Springs at 6:15 a. m. with a full gas tank but during stormy weather. Shortly after they took off all planes at Hot Springs were grounded.

Hot Weather Continues Grip On Area; Tornadoes Hit Midwest

THE South Plains apparently moved into a more normal weather pattern with the arrival of June with hot and windy weather again forecast for the area today.

Meanwhile, tornadoes nipped the corners of four states in the Midwest late Wednesday causing minor damage and some injuries.

Dry winds which reached 22 to 23 miles an hour in Lubbock Wednesday will pick up speed today, the Lubbock weather station predicted, and reach velocities ranging from 25 to 30 miles an hour.

One new record was believed set here Wednesday, the Weather station reported when relative humidity slumped to seven percent. A check of records failed to reveal any previous mark lower than 10 percent.

Temperature yesterday reached 96 degrees, and readings from 90 to 95 degrees are expected to prevail today and tomorrow. Winds, however, probably will diminish from today's high velocities, the forecaster said. The low relative humidity helped keep

PAYMENTS SET AT $72 PER MONTH

House Okays Pension Plan For Veterans At Age Of 65

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1—The House voted overwhelmingly today to give veterans of both World Wars $72-a-month pensions when they reach the age of 65.

Only major qualification for the pension payments would be an annual income of less than $1,200 for single men and $2,500 for veterans with dependents.

The bill, approved by a 365 to 27 vote, would increase costs of veterans benefits an estimated $65 billion over the next 50 years.

Proof Requirement Killed

Killed before the House voted was a provision that would have required proof by veterans that they are unemployable before pensions could be received.

Such proof is now required before the Veterans administration will okay benefits. Otherwise the measure approved today generally enacts into law the existing VA benefit program for aged and needy ex-servicemen.

If the Senate passes the bill, and it is signed by President Truman these benefits cannot be changed except by a later act of Congress.

Costs Would Increase

Elimination of the unemployability provision came by a vote of 172 to 57 over the objections of Rep. Teague (D-Tex). Teague led the fight that defeated the original pension bill introduced by Rep. Rankin (D-Ga), chairman of the House Veterans' committee, early in the present session.

Rankin objected to the provision when it first was written into the bill but his committee overrode him, only to be defeated on the floor of the House.

The Veterans administration estimated that defeat of the unemployability clause would increase benefit costs $65 billion in 50 years.

Disability Benefits Retained

The pension bill also eliminates another VA limitation—that requiring veterans of 65 and older to prove 10 percent disability.

Retained are benefits of $60 a month for veterans under 55 with combined disability of 70 percent or single disability of 60 percent; between 55 and 60 with disabilities totaling 60 percent, and from 60 to 65 with 50 percent disability.

Increased from $72 to $100 a month are benefits for veterans requiring an attendant.

Believe It Or Not Feature Continues For Lubbock Fans

Bob Ripley's famed "Believe It Or Not" cartoon, which appears daily on the editorial pages of The Morning Avalanche, will continue.

Ward Greene, general manager of King Features Syndicate, which released the cartoon, Wednesday made the following announcement to papers carrying the feature:

"Since the sudden death of Robert L. Ripley, hundreds of readers have inquired about arrangements for the continuation of his feature 'Believe It Or Not!'"

Had Material On Hand

"Col. Robert Hyland, executor of the Ripley estate, has authorized King Features Syndicate to continue 'Believe It Or Not' until Mr. Ripley's will is filed for probate, when more permanent arrangements will be made for continuation of the feature. It was Mr. Ripley's desire, said Col. Hyland, that 'Believe It Or Not' should go on under the direction of the 'BION' corporation and the staff he had so successfully trained to produce the feature."

Ripley had prepared his daily and Sunday drawings for many weeks ahead and had in his files a great quantity of additional interesting material.

$10 Million Soil Conservation Proposal Approved By Senate

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 1—Filibuster and debate today brought 22-3 approval from the Senate of a $10,000,000 Soil Conservation bill—twice the amount approved by the House.

The Senate version, however, requires payment of a rental fee for use of the equipment the state will buy. The House measure required none.

Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth filibustered for two hours to get the rental feature written into the House measure.

"I'm not opposed to soil conservation," he hammered repeatedly. "I'm going to vote for it. But I think this amendment ought to be on it."

Permanent Plan Urged

Kelly said his amendment would provide a "permanent system of soil conservation."

"Unless a source is provided for replacing this machinery when it wears out, they'll have to come back up here again for a bigger bite (appropriation) and there won't be any money for them," he said.

The amendment, as finally adopted, called for the charging

Testimony In Probe Begins

By RODGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The great atomic investigation opened today with testimony that two scientists were kept on Atomic Energy commission payrolls despite a security officer's finding that they were "bad risks."

In addition, Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said he heard reports that guards in the Argonne atomic plant at Chicago were instructed not to report violations of security rules by high officials.

David E. Lilienthal, whose work as Atomic Energy commission chairman is under inquiry, told Knowland he would find out whether the reports are true.

Turnover Record Cited

Knowland said he had also heard reports that "green stickers" were given to officials at the Chicago plant, permitting them to enter and leave without having their automobiles searched by guards.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), whose charges of "incredible mismanagement" by Lilienthal touched off the investigation, produced figures which showed, he said, that there had been an 87 per cent turnover in atomic energy personnel in 1947 and 1948.

This showed bad management, he contended. Lilienthal replied that it was the familiar story of the government's difficulty in finding and keeping good men.

Hickenlooper demanded that for the purposes of the investigation, the AEC produce 12 groups of documents covering many phases of atomic development.

Documents Promised

Late today the joint Congressional Atomic Energy committee voted to make a formal request to the AEC to turn over six of the 12 groups. The AEC quickly announced that the six categories of documents requested will be submitted as soon as possible.

The list includes all correspondence with the FBI in regard to "lost or misplaced" atomic material, whether recovered or still missing.

Also covered are reports on the investigation of all atomic fellowship awards—a subject linked with disclosures that at least one admitted Communist was awarded a $1,600-a-year fellowship—

Man Posts Bond Here For Appeal

Arthur Lee Ivey, 50, of Lubbock route 7, who was sentenced Tuesday to five years in the penitentiary for murder without malice of Leonard Bailey, posted $5,000 appeal bond Wednesday after a new trial motion had been overruled by 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

Andy A. Tipton, 39, was fined $50, county court costs and sentenced to 50 days in county jail after he pleaded guilty before County Judge Walter Davies of a charge of aggravated assault.

The charge was reduced from rape after a 72nd district grand jury had failed to indict Tipton on a charge that he ravished a 14-year-old girl on Feb. 6.

$115 Reported Missing

The man, who according to FBI records in the sheriff's department was convicted three times of the felony offenses of bigamy and forgery, was credited by Judge Davies with jail time already spent. He had served 59 days in county jail, the sheriff's office said.

He was represented by George S. McCarty of Amarillo at Wednesday's hearing.

Mock Air Battle Between B-36s, Navy Jet Fighters Is Cancelled

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The public mock air battle between the Air Force's B-36 and Navy jet fighters was called off today as the House prepared for an investigation of the superbomber and its procurement.

The joint chiefs of staff in a letter to Defense Secretary Johnson rejected the proposed test on grounds that it might jeopardize national security and results would be "entirely inconclusive."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), of the House Armed Services committee, who urged that the planes meet in simulated combat to test claims for the B-36, said the group would abide by the decision.

The chiefs said that eventually the B-36 six-engine bomber will be subjected to "real and simulated" high altitude tests, but they should be conducted secretly.

The cancellation announcement came as Vinson dropped a resolution in the House hopper calling for a sweeping investigation into the effectiveness of the B-36 and alleged irregularities in its procurement.

Vinson asked the House administration committee to authorize $50,000 to finance the probe and requested that the House grant his committee power to subpoena witnesses.

Vinson said he expected the inquiry would begin in about two weeks. His committee must select a counsel and an investigation staff before hearings get underway.

The resolution was sent to the Rules committee where a favorable report is expected. House approval is considered certain.

Meanwhile, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), who brought charges of irregularities in B-36 procurement, said he will turn over his evidence to the committee as soon as it is organized.

Van Zandt has urged that the House probe "ugly, disturbing reports" regarding the connection of Johnson, Air Force Secretary Symington and Floyd Odlum, Wall Street financier, with B-36 purchases.

Johnson is a former director of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., which manufactures the Superbomber. Odlum, a Democratic campaign contributor, controls the corporation.

The joint chiefs' letter, signed by Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of Naval operations, said the air battle would "serve no useful purpose" and would be "subject to serious misinterpretation on the part of the public."

In addition, it explained that the tests "would be entirely inconclusive in terms of providing reliable evaluation of the results to be obtained from strategic bombing."

Los Angeles Mayor And Defeated Opponent Work In Same Building

LOS ANGELES, June 1 (INS)—Mayor Fletcher Bowron settled down to his desk in city hall today after his re-election in one of the hottest mayoralty races in recent Los Angeles history.

A few floors away in the same building, City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich, defeated yesterday by Bowron by some 30,060 votes, also was back on his job.

Semi-official returns of the city's 3562 precincts gave Bowron 238,190, and Aldrich 207,211.

Bowron first became mayor of the West Coast metropolis in 1938 following the recall of Mayor Frank L. Shaw. He had been re-elected twice prior to yesterday's bitter race.

Bowron and Aldrich, who waged a no-holds-barred campaign, have been at political and personal loggerheads for many years.

Federal Health, Education, Social Security Funds Total $127,648,115 in Five-State Area

DALLAS, June 1 (U.P.) — Five southwestern states received a total of $127,648,118 in federal payments for health, education, and social security during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948.

The figures were made public today by J. H. Bond, regional director of the Federal Security agency.

Bond said the grants were in addition to funds supplied by each state in cooperation with the FSA for programs and services in these fields.

Texas Leads In Receipts

Texas received a total of $55,098,307; Oklahoma $39,528,031; Louisiana $16,958,251; Arkansas, $11,304,446; New Mexico $4,759,083.

"This report tells of progress made during the fiscal year 1948 in conserving and developing the human resources of the nation," Bond said. "It deals with efforts to build up the social and economic strength of our working population, promote the health of individuals and communities, and foster education. But this report also points out serious shortcomings and gaps in our present social security, health and education programs and recommends improvements."

The record of federal payments follow:

Texas—Public health service, including venereal disease, tuberculosis, cancer control, mental health, industrial hygiene, hospital survey and planning, $1,879,578; social security, $50,850,033; federal old-age and survivors insurance payments, $12,987,000; office of education grants, $1,530,386; rehabilitation of disabled men and women, $832,897; equipment for education of the blind, $5,413.

Oklahoma—Public health service grants for control of venereal disease, tuberculosis, cancer, rapid treatment facilities, mental health, hospital survey planning, hospital construction and general health, $742,762; office of education grants for promotion of higher education and vocational training, $648,777; program for the blind, $2,527; social security grants, $37,773,498; federal old-age and survivors insurance payments, $4,342,000.

Louisiana—Public health service grants, $900,164; office of education grants, 622,251; program for the blind, $2,371; social security, 15,030,244; federal old-age and survivors insurance payments, $4,390,000.

Defense Secretary Johnson May Visit Texas Guard Camp

AUSTIN, June 1. (AP)—State Adjutant General K. L. Berry said today that there was a possibility U.S. Defense Secretary Louis A. Johnson would visit the Texas National Guard summer training camp at North Camp Hood near Gatesville.

The 36th Infantry Division, the 5th mechanized cavalry and other attached units will train at North Camp Hood June 5 to June 19. The 49th Armored division and its attached units take over the camp June 19 to July 3.

Oldest Federal Judge Finally Steps Down

SALT LAKE CITY, June 1. (U.P.) U.S. District Judge Tillman D. Johnson, who was the oldest federal judge in history, retired so quietly that people were just beginning to learn about it today.

Johnson, who is 91, always promised he'd retire without much fuss or fanfare whenever he decided to do so.

He had been judge of the Utah district for 33 years and saved the government more than $200,000 by not retiring on full pay in 1928 when he became eligible to do so.

He said he wanted to set a record for longevity on the federal bench. When he had done that, he'd retire but would do it quietly.

Last week he left for a visit to his native Tennessee and to Oklahoma. When he left Saturday, he mailed notes to Utah congressmen.

"I thought you'd like to know I'm retiring effective May 28," the note said.

By staying in office several months beyond his 91st birthday anniversary, Jan. 8, Johnson broke the longevity record set by U.S. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who stepped down from the bench promptly when he turned 91.

Dead Snake And Boastful Mate Too Much For Californian

LOS ANGELES, June 1. (INS)—Mrs. Marie Louise Wallensiek de Trujillo, the Pomona, Calif., heiress who almost became the first lady of Ecuador, won a divorce today through the help of a snake.

She testified that her husband, Dr. Jose Vicente Trujillo, Ecuador diplomat, brought home a dead snake and pretended it was alive just to frighten her.

She also charged that he boasted of his love affairs with other women, refused to let her come back to the United States to have proper medical care for her expected baby, and was "cold and domineering."

BIGHORN RARITY SHOWN

SAN DIEGO, (U.P.) — The first Nelson bighorn ram to be born in captivity has been put on exhibit at the San Diego zoo. Zoo officials said the extremely rare Nelson bighorn sheep were brought to the zoo here in 1947 by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service. The parents have been named Elmer and Irma, but as yet no name has been given the youngster.

HUMAN RIGHTS CLAIMED DENIED

U.S., Britain Prepare To Act Against Three Red Satellites

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The U. S. and Britain moved today to put three Russian "iron curtain" satellites on trial before the world for denying their people the human rights guaranteed by World War 11 peace treaties.

An angry interchange of notes with Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary— all vanquished in the global conflict—bore on rigged elections and persecution of political and religious leaders, and brought the Soviets directly into the situation.

Conference Planned

At the same time, the U. S. and British governments announced they will meet with France within 60 days to discuss Romanian violations of the human rights clause of its peace treaty.

Acting Secretary of State James E. Webb and the British foreign office instructed their ambassadors into consultation over the claimed treaty violations.

This is in accordance with peace treaty procedure for handling such a dispute.

If these conferences fail to achieve results the United States and Britain—still operating under treaty provisions—will demand appointment of commissions to "consider the issues and render decisions."

UN May Get Issue

Presumably, the matter will eventually wind up before the United Nations General Assembly for full dress debate and action.

Webb rejected replies to American notes from the three countries as entirely unsatisfactory and consisting largely of "familiar propaganda statements and false accusations against the United States." He told a news conference:

"We shall not be distracted from the main issue by such tactics. We intend to proceed according to treaty procedures."

The State department has leveled a continuing barrage against Bulgaria, Hungary, and Romania for months, protesting single-slate, Communist - controlled elections and the persecution, imprisonment, and execution of anti-Communist leaders.

Satellites Deny Charges

All three Russian satellites took the aggressive in denying the charges. Bulgaria said:

"The Bulgarian government will repel every attempt of interference in the domestic affairs of Bulgaria and will consider as an unfriendly act any attempt to force it to accept treatment as a state whose internal acts would be subject to judgement by foreign powers."

Hungary accused the U. S. of "illegitimate interference in the domestic affairs of the sovereign Hungarian state and supporting reactionary and fascist forces opposed to the government of Hungary."

Romania accused the U. S. of "encouraging the activities and the organization of fascist fugitives, of squanderers of public funds, of traitors from Romania who are in the United States or on territory under America's control by granting asylum, by placing at their disposal official radio channels."

Fort Stockton Water Carnival To Feature Historical Pageant

FORT STOCKTON, June 1 (Special) — Everybody in Fort Stockton is busy these days in preparation for the big community show—the 1949 Water Carnival.

This year's big show will feature a colorful historical pageant woven about the history of beautiful Comanche Springs free swimming pool—from the days when the Mendoza Expedition brought the first white man to the site to disturb the enjoyment of the traditional modern touch, the annual All-Southwest Bathing Revue, with entrants coming from towns of this entire section of the Southwest.

Geller Productions of Hollywood has contracted with Fort Stockton Lions club under a $2,500 contract which provides for colorful costumes, stage scenery and lighting, and professional direction of a cast of local talent 150 strong. Robert Campbell, director for Geller Productions, is in the midst of rehearsals for the colorful "Cavalcade of Comanche Springs."

Water ballets, scenes from the famous court of Judge Roy Bean, "Law West of the Pecos," and glamorous beauties, both of the past and modern vintage, will feature a thrill-packed show on the nights of June 10 and 11.

Young women from all parts of West Texas will compete for the title of Miss Southwest, won last year by lovely Ann Mims, Sul Ross college entrant from Alpine. A free trip to Hollywood, with entertainment arranged through the Geller organization, is the coveted prize.

The Water Carnival starts on Thursday afternoon, June 9, with a big street parade in Fort Stockton, followed that evening by Fort Stockton's own bathing revue and a special prevue of the big stage spectacle, "The Cavalcade of Comanche Springs." Winner of the senior division of the Fort Stockton contest will be crowned Queen of the Water Carnival on Friday night, June 10.

Many communities of the area have held, or plan to hold their own elimination contests to choose community sponsors for the All-Southwest Revue.

A new feature for the Water Carnival this year is a Saturday afternoon matched calf roping between two of the most promising younger ropers of the Southwest, Clay Cade of Alpine and Bill Teague of Crane, together with a jackpot calf roping and bronc busting exhibition. The new Sheriff's Posse Arena in Rooney Park will be the scene of the event starting June 11 at 2 p. m.

Dances on the nights of Friday and Saturday night at Gibbs Field sponsored by the Fort Stockton Fire Department, will round out the entertainment.

Dred Wood, president of the Fort Stockton Lions club is general chairman of the Water Carnival committee. Headquarters is at the Pecos County Chamber of Commerce building.

$5,000 Bond Will Be Divided By Claimants

Claimants against the bankrupt Armstrong Warehouse and Transfer company will divide a $5,000 bond among themselves with the approval of Federal court. This action came Tuesday when Judge Joseph B. Dooley allowed the claim of Standard Brands, Inc., and some 15 or more other claimants. The bond was issued by the Employers Liability Assurance Corp.

The damage suit originally sought a total of $100,000 for damage to food and merchandise stored in the Lubbock firm's warehouse in December 1946. A hard freeze at that time caused the automatic sprinkler system to burst and flood the goods in storage.

Standard Brands, the principal claimant, tried to recover the loss of $20,000 worth of various kinds of cheeses. Other damaged merchandise included furniture, salt, feed and several thousand dollars worth of beans.

After the firm took bankruptcy the assets were sold and the proceeds distributed among the claimants. The division of the bond yesterday makes a total of about nine per cent paid on the full claims. E. L. Klett was attorney for Standard Brands.

The action in no way affects the present Armstrong Warehouse and Transfer Inc., which was bought by the present owners, Horace Humphries and Gene Alderson, in 1946 at a bankruptcy court.

NEWS BRIEFS

John Henry Sweeney, a negro, was fined $25 and county court costs Wednesday when a jury adjudged him guilty of an April 25 aggravated assault upon a negro woman. The defendant elected to defend himself.

Attendance at the Broadway Church of Christ Vacation Bible school was 395 Tuesday and 355 Wednesday, it was reported. The school with classes from 10 a.m. until noon daily for children ages four through 12, will close Friday. A singing period also is conducted each day. An all-church picnic has been scheduled for 5 p. m. Friday in Mackenzie State park.

Charles H. Sumner and wife Ellin brought suit Wednesday against Charles Stark and others for damages allegedly growing out of a Feb. 27 mishap at Ave. G and Twenty-third. The action was filed in 99th district court by attorney Grady West and asked actual damages totaling $15,000 exemplary damages totaling $30,000. The petition set out that Mrs. Sumner was injured when a car in which she was riding as a guest of Charles Stark, the driver, struck a concrete post and wire cable. The car, it was alleged, is owned by Frank Stark. The plaintiffs live in Lubbock, the defendants at Sudan.

Rank of esquire was conferred on two candidates, Joe C. Collins and J. T. Morgan, at a Knights of Pythias lodge meeting Tuesday night, it was announced. Thomas O. Moore, master of works, and Bob Porter, chancellor commander, presided at the ceremony. Next week the organization will confer rank of knight on four candidates.

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club Wednesday voted to purchase shirts for all active club members. The shirts, each of which will bear the club name, will be worn at future Exchange-sponsored events such as the Soap Box Derby. The vote was taken at the weekly Exchange luncheon in Hotel Lubbock. Charles Cathey presided, with invocation by Joe Manicapelli. Two out-of-town guests, Frank Dorman of Dallas and Hugh T. Lorimer of Waco, were introduced.

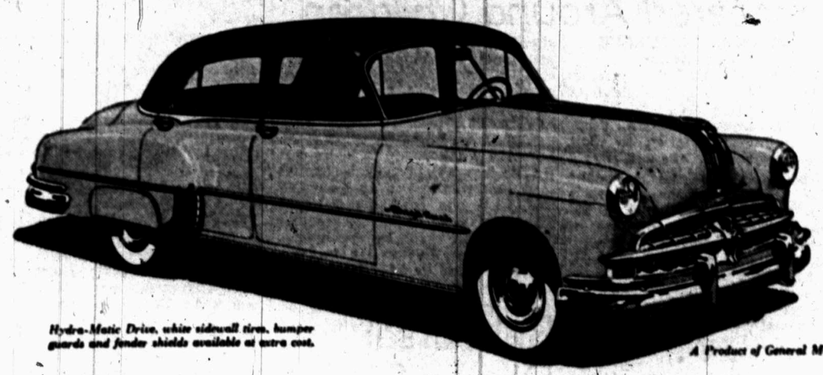

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Prater of San Diego, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Prince Scott and small daughter, Cathy, of Vernon, are visiting relatives and friends in Lubbock and Tahoka. Prater is a brother of Mrs. Scott's. The Prater family will leave for their California home today.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Triggs, of 2105 Tenth, and their children Gloria and Richard, left Wednesday for a two-week vacation in Louisiana, Tennessee and Mississippi.

Dr. Reginald Rushing, head of the departmen and professor of accounting and finance at Texas Tech, is to attend the 34th annual convention of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants in Houston June 5-7. Dr. Rushing is chairman of the society's Lubbock chapter. While in Houston, he also will attend a meeting of the Texas Association of University Instructors of Accounting.

Mrs. N. O. Vincent, of 2612 Twenty-sixth, has returned to her residence after undergoing surgery in Lubbock Memorial hospital last week. She is reported in satisfactory condition.

America's Lowest-Priced Straight Eight!

Until they see the actual figures, few people realize that the big, beautiful Pontiac eight is America's lowest-priced straight eight. Not only does it undersell all other straight eights by a substantial margin, but it actually costs less than many six-cylinder cars!

The fact that the Pontiac eight gives so much for so little is the basic reason for the great and growing popularity it enjoys.

Pontiac has distinguished appearance, and distinctive Silver Streak styling. Its spacious Body by Fisher is handsomely upholstered and appointed.

And finally, it is powered by the world's sweetest engine—a great straight eight which is supremely smooth and quiet, instantly responsive to the accelerator, packed with power—an eight which gives peak performance and economy.

We honestly believe that no other car carries such definite assurance of really enjoyable performance at so low a cost. We invite you to come in and take the wheel yourself. We're sure you'll be very pleasantly surprised.

The Woman's Angle

Life In Vienna Home Is Centered Around Children

By MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

TODAY we'd like for you to meet Mrs. Marie Reichhold and her children, Tim and Karen, of 10 Lerchenfelderstrasse, Vienna. We found our visit to their home a memorable one.

Mrs. Reichhold lived across the street from the Robert Smileys when they were stationed in Vienna and she did a number of favors for the Lubbock woman, who was lonely and at first somewhat nervous to be far from home in an occupied country. They became friends and we decided to pay a call in April and see how life went for them. We found out.

The Reichhold apartment was located on the second floor and was clean and rather well, if sparsely, furnished. The sun shone across a china closet that was a collector's item, one of the few pieces of nice furniture that Mrs. Reichhold saved during the last winter of the war when it was impossible to get coal.

Pieces of furniture and floor boards were piled in the stove and her husband's large library was burned book by book, with the exception of a Webster's and a German dictionary, which the ambitious mother saved to help her son Tim in his lessons.

Of those war memories Mrs. Reichhold passes over quickly. It is today's problems that vex her.

ONE cannot get very far on 800 shillings a month the Viennese woman reminds you and her family has had a lot of luck during the last year—all of it bad.

The luck started a year ago in February when the mother had blood poisoning and almost lost a finger. She said cases of blood poisoning were common in adults who had been on an inadequate diet for years and years.

In March her grandmother died. Or as her granddaughter put it, "she laid down on Thursday."

Later in the month 7-year-old Karen came home from school with pains that suggested an attack of appendicitis. The doctor said he would not take the responsibility of not operating until he was informed there was no money; then he thought Karen might get all right. She did, but three months later suffered another attack and had the operation. Before she was at home from the hospital Tim had measles and scarlet fever.

In October Mrs. Reichhold's mother's plumbing equipment store was robbed and a month later she spilled a pot of hot water in her fur lined shoes and four months later was still laid up, the injury still festering and causing great pain.

MRS. Reichhold lived in America when she was a young girl and she is one Austrian who had the true conception of the life we say we want everyone in the world to lead. She says she had bought and traded on the Black Market to provide food for her children. She is able to buy a pint of milk daily for Karen and Tim, who by the way is 10, and they have scant servings of eggs and meat. A CARE package that has come to her home each month, thanks to a grateful American family, has kept her children from contracting the tuberculosis that is so prevalent in Vienna, she says.

Tim, a handsome blond child, was shy and silent during the visit. He clicked his heels and bowed from the waist on being introduced and he was proud of a pair of American overalls. Karen is such a good student that she awakens crying for fear that her dream of a better student in the class is true, her mother tells you.

WHAT does the future hold for this family? We wish we knew. Mrs. Reichhold is the mother of a daughter by a previous marriage and it was through this daughter she had thought she and her younger children could get to America. But Edith married soon after she went to live with an aunt in Colorado and now is busy with her own affairs and her former home in Vienna seems far away to her. Moreover it takes money.

Because she had lived and worked in America, the Viennese mother would ask nothing better than that her children be given a similar opportunity. To that end she is encouraging Tim to study hard and she wants him to be an all around person. Because his mother loves America so much she finds it no hardship to talk about it. She wishes she had not gone back to Vienna after a several years' residence here, but homesickness was more persuasive than the privileges of living in America.

WHEN we stood up to leave, our hostess showed us a bar of soap that was locked up hard and fast, in a box from the Smileys. The first soap since before the war had just made an appearance in the stores, but so far was too expensive for most Viennese to pay attention to it.

Rehearsal Dinner Set

The rehearsal dinner for Miss Joan Golding and Leon Maples and their wedding party will be given tonight at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Golding, 2421 Twenty-ninth. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fentress will assist the Goldings as hosts.

Miss Golding and Mr. Maples are to be married Friday at high noon at Westminster Presbyterian church.

Among the 25 guests will be the following from out of town: Mrs. T. B. Gallaher of Dallas, Mrs. E. T. Runcie of Chicago, Mrs. R. E. Cooley of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Gallaher, jr., of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Maples of Borger.

The honored couple will present gifts to their attendants at the dinner.

Church Classes

Truth Seekers' class of the First Baptist church will honor their associate teacher, Mrs. Edna Weber, on her birthday tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Mexican Inn.

Approximately 30 guests are expected to attend.

First Baptist TEL class had a 1 o'clock luncheon in the annex Wednesday with 19 members and the following guests, Mrs. George Brock of Paducah, Mrs. M. L. Ivey of Littlefield and Mrs. C. H. Quimby, attending. Mrs. W. R. Campbell and her group were hostesses.

Mrs. A. C. Bowden sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. John H. Robertson, and Mrs. Jessie Riek brought a devotion from Matthew 14. The program was arranged by Mrs. E. R. Vaughn and the business session was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Walker. The teacher, Mrs. R. D. Bumpass, led the invocation.

In the home of Mrs. Adeline Rogers, 2319 Tenth, Wednesday, First Baptist Alathean class met for a business and social meeting. Mrs. Mark Day presided and Mrs. E. L. Tarkenton presented a devotion.

Mrs. Rogers' group was in charge of entertainment. Fourteen persons were present.

Pla-Mor 42 Club Meets For Party

Eleven members and two guests, Mrs. Jeff Wells and Mrs. J. D. Nelson, of Pla-Mor Forty-Two club met at Talley Tea room, 1510-B Ave. M, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. B. Morrisset was hostess.

The club is to meet June 15 at 3 p. m. with Mrs. N. N. Mullins, 2216 Seventeenth.

QUESTION UNANSWERED

SALT LAKE CITY, (U.P.)—Supervisor F. C. Koziol of Wasatch National Forest says the forest service's season of silly questions has reached its peak for 1949. A serious-sounding woman telephoned his office and asked what kind of wood is the best kind to knock on to stay lucky.

E. Prater Is Bride

Miss Evelyn M. Prater became the bride of Hubert E. Wolffarth, jr., in a double ring ceremony read Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at First Christian church by Dr. Travis A. White. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Prater of 1519 Thirty-third and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. J. Perry Brown of 2314 Twenty-eighth.

The candlelight ceremony was read before an altar decorated with a fan shape arrangement of orchid gladioli. Palms were placed on either side. Mrs. Ernest Wilpitz, organist, played a prelude of wedding music and offered traditional wedding marches. She accompanied Miss Sue Tyson as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gabardine dressmaker suit with blue and white spectator shoes. She carried an orchid on a white Bible and wore Vanda orchids in her hair. The pearls she wore were a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Doris Prater, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a light blue gabardine dressmaker suit with a white carnation corsage. Miss Nancy Abbot was candelighter.

Gordon Hastings was best man and Jack Boyd and Jack Parks were ushers.

A reception was given at the church following the ceremony. Parents of the bride and bridegroom assisted with hospitalities. A yellow organdy cloth covered the bride's table which was decorated with a single ring wedding cake, a large white satin bow and three tapers. Mrs. C. P. Lunson served the punch and Miss Doris Prater cut the cake. Miss Evelyn Wolffarth registered guests and Misses Jody Turpin and Doris Stanley were others in the house-party.

Ensemble Program To Be Presented By Mozart Club

Aly, jr.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Party

Miss Jaxie Clark, who is to marry Jack Norwood Friday, was complimented at a party given Monday in the home of Mrs. J. D. Peters, 1212 Fourteenth.

Hostesses were Mesdames J. H. York, Bonnie Norwood, C. W. Norwood, jr., Burrell Taylor, Bert Hattan, O. C. Higgins, Misses Joyce Davis Smith and Moneta Ruth Hattan.

Garden flowers decked the rooms. The lace-laid refreshment table was centered with larkspur.

Town Talk

MR. AND MRS. EARL HILDRETH are here from Chicago visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Malone, 2435 Twenty-first, and his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Hildreth, 1502 Twenty-seventh.

The couple will leave Sunday for Illinois, where he has another year of optometry school. Young Mrs. Hildreth, the former Gene Malone, has been employed as a chemist at Northwestern University Medical school.

Mrs. Paul Newman, 2007 Seventeenth, and Mrs. G. W. Cochran, 2825 Twenty-second, were hostesses at tea Tuesday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock in the ballroom of the Lubbock Country club.

An arrangement of pink delphinium and roses centered the tea table, which was laid with a yellow cloth, and pink satin streamers completed the table decorations. Bouquets of pink delphinium arranged in urns were used at other points in the ballroom.

Dr. C. D. Eaves, 2221 Fourteenth, left Wednesday morning for California, where he will do research work in several university libraries on the Orient and on Japan particularly.

In Palo Alto he will study at Stanford university before going on to Berkeley, where he will continue his work at the University of California. After completing his research work in Los Angeles at the University of Southern California and at UCLA, Dr. Eaves will return to Lubbock about the middle of July.

He is a professor of history at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Rex Webster, who is leaving for New York on vacation in a few days, was honored with a surprise layette brunch Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the home of Mrs. Dale Robbins, 2609 Ave. L.

A china stork surrounded by green carnations and white larkspur centered the table, which was laid with an imported lace cloth over a green undercloth. Green and white garden flowers were used as decorations throughout the house.

Mesdames Wylie Thomas and C. A. Powell, jr., assisted Mrs. Robbins as hostesses, and Mr. Alfred Crosby presided at the coffee service.

Attending were Mesdames J. L. Crosthwait, M. E. West, Q. B. Taylor, Clifton Haynie, Denman Morgan, Sled Allen, Preston Baumgardner and Bill Freeman. Mesdames David Casey and J. L. Taggart sent gifts.

Mrs. Sterling Crumpler, 2302 Twenty-eighth, has as a guest in her home her niece, Miss Kay Kerbow of Lamesa.

The visitor will be here about ten days, and a series of informal entertainments has been planned for her.

As a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Martha LaRoe, Mrs. Parker F. Prouty and daughter, Joan, were hostesses for a coke party in their home, 3019 Twenty-first, Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

A yellow and green theme was carried out in decorations, and a hostess gift was presented to the honoree.

Guests attending were Misses Elizabeth Howard, Xen Harris, Betty Jenkins, Polly Gossett, Marion Benson, Velma Lou Dunn, Patricia Hogan and Ludonna Berry, and Mesdames Fred Brown, John McLarty, C. M. Trout, jr., Al O'Brien, Bob Pirtle, Joe Bowman and Bert LaRoe.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Thomas Taggart and children, Virginia, Tommy, jr., and Johnny, arrived in Lubbock Wednesday night to be guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Karper, Plainview highway.

The Taggart family, along with Mrs. H. L. Kent of Austin, who has also been visiting in the Karper home, will drive on to Cloudcroft, N. M., where Mrs. Taggart, the children and Mrs. Kent will spend the summer. Lt. Col. Taggart will return to Barksdale Field, where he is stationed.

Mrs. Kent and Mrs. Karper are sisters, and the Austin resident formerly lived in Lubbock.

Lunch Given As Courtesy

In the home of Mrs. DeAlva Roberts, 2201 Twenty-eighth, Wednesday, a luncheon was given for Miss Peggy Weiss who will marry Charles B. Fraser Saturday. A pink and white color scheme was used in decorations and a gift of silver marked the honoree's place.

On the list were Mesdames H. S. Weiss, Len Orr, James Samson, T. W. Waddill, George L. Adcock, A. W. Young, David Zacharias, F. L. McRee, C. C. Galbraith, Elizabeth Young, T. R. Prideaux, J. M. Hall, George Dupree, George Young, O. A. Goodart, S. L. Miller, E. F. Greve, Murray Fendress, and Miss Billye Weiss.

Wedding Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Colvard of 2508 Maple announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Roberta Adrienne Colvard, and A. L. (Bill) Burnette, jr., which took place at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson reading a double ring ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lofton Burnette of 1916 Ave. N.

The bride wore an off white suit with brown and white accessories. For something borrowed she carried a white Bible, topped with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Ray Reynolds, matron of honor, wore a brown linen dress with brown and white accessories and wore a white corsage.

Ray Reynolds was best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reynolds, 3309 Twenty-seventh. A wedding cake, baked in the shape of an open Bible, was served with coffee from a table laid with a pale pink imported linen cloth and lighted with pink candles.

After a trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will be at home in Lubbock where Mr. Burnette was graduated from high school and attended Texas Tech college. He is station agent for Braniff International airways.

The bride is a graduate of San Jacinto, Calif., High school.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Burnette and son of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cosgrave of Houston were out-of-town guests.

A-ENERGY GROUP PIGEON-HOLES SOVIET PLAN

Russian UN Move To Bring Atomic Activity Under International Setup Meets Firm Western Refusal

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, June 1 — A Russian move to compel the United States to ban the atom bomb immediately, and submit all atomic activity to early international control met with firm western refusal today in the United Nations.

The working committee of the Atomic Energy commission pigeonholed consideration of the Soviet demand for simultaneous conventions on atomic energy control and a ban on atomic weapons. The committee ruled that the proposals offered nothing new.

Proposals Discarded

The original Soviet proposal named June 1 as the day on which the two draft conventions should be offered to the Security Council. There is no prospect that such action will be carried out, although the Soviet Union refuses to withdraw its demand.

Western delegates led by the United States pointed out that the re-opening of discussion on the Russian recommendations was a waste of time, since the substance of the recommendations had been discarded earlier by the General Assembly.

U. S. Delegate Frederick Osborn said he found nothing new in the Soviet scheme to warrant a detailed study of the plan submitted last February to the commission.

Soviet delegate S. K. Tsarapkin insisted that the working committee act immediately on the proposed conventions. He declared the group had been "marking time" and that it was necessary to "proceed with something concrete."

French Delegate Francois De Rose said the only new thing he saw in the Soviet proposals was that they asked simultaneous application of the two conventions. He reminded Tsarapkin that the Soviet schemes for atomic controls had been thrashed out fully by the UN and found unacceptable.

The working committee dealt the Soviets another blow when it approved by a nine to two vote the working papers and comparative indexes of the Atomic Energy commission's deliberations, showing the rate of progress in the commission and the viewpoints of its members.

Both the Soviet Union and the Ukraine attacked the papers, which were drawn up at Canada's recommendation by the UN secretariat, as being irrelevant to the commission's work.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

AT LESTER'S JEWELERS

Lodge At Ceremony

Annual installation of officers was conducted by Lubbock chapter No. 79, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday night at the Masonic temple.

Presiding were: Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Burks, worthy patron and worthy matron; Mrs. Ola Bertram, associate matron; Mrs. Quincy, conductress; Mrs. M. M. Page, associate conductress. Mrs. Anne Potts introduced the installing officers who were: Mrs. Rafe Nabors, installing officer; Mrs. Ben V. Smith, installing marshall; Mrs. John Spikes, installing chaplain; Mrs. L. D. Thomas, installing secretary; Mrs. D. E. Sellers, installing organist; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, installing treasurer.

Installed were: Mrs. M. B. Cranford, worthy matron; Carlos Reynolds, worthy patron; Mrs. Kirby Nutt, associate matron; Tom Everheart, associate patron; Mesdames Lucille Carlton, secretary; C. B. Harris, treasurer; John Cocanougher, conductress; Cliff Elliott, associate conductress; Ed Lawson, chaplain; C. H. Moore, marshall; Carlos Reynolds, organist; Lee Adkison, Adah; Ruth Rhodes, Ruth; Vernon E. Peters, Esther; Christine Johnson, Martha; Young, Electa; V. T. McMullen, warder and Mr. James Armstrong, sentinel.

After the installation, the following program was given:

Solo, "My Task," Dudley Powell; greetings, Mrs. Cranford; solo, Inus Edwards of Crosbyton chapter; greetings, Mr. Reynolds; solo, Foy Hudson; Dedication March, "Kindly Echoes," Mrs. Reynolds; presentation of gift, officers and drill team; presentation of past matron's pin, Mrs. Sellers, presentation of past patron's pin, Mrs. Smith; invocation, Mrs. B. C. Welch.

Mrs. Smith recognized Mrs. Reynolds, who composed the march and dedicated it to Mrs. Cranford.

The hall was decorated with six baskets of red roses and three archways covered with greenery. Each station was decorated with a nosegay of red roses tied with yellow ribbon. Similar nosegays decorated the refreshment table which was laid with a Madeira cloth and centered with a three tiered cake. Miniature nosegays were plate favors. Mrs. L. V. Risinger was in charge of the social hour and Mrs. Burton S. Burks and Mrs. Kirby Nutt presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Inus Edwards of Crosbyton and Foy Hudson of Idalou sang songs dedicated to the new worthy matron and patron.

Ring Service Is Performed

The marriage of Miss Mary Jo Fletcher of 2321 Fourteenth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fletcher of Aspermont, and Jimmy F. Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davenport of 4411 Thirty-fifth, took place Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Davenport home. Rev. Abe Hester, jr., read the double ring service before an improvised altar banked with salmon pink gladioli and candelabra.

Mrs. Hester played wedding music and accompanied Robert Ramsey who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale blue Irish linen dress with a white hat. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. For something old, she wore a cameo pin.

Dresses Are Aqua, Yellow

Mrs. S. M. Davenport, jr., of Wichita Falls, matron of honor, wore an aqua pique dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Miss Earline Ryan, maid of honor, wore yellow pique with white carnations.

S. M. Davenport, jr., served as best man and Jack Hoag of Old Glory, cousin of the bride, was usher. Candlelighters were Georgia Nan Norris and Charlotte Davenport, nieces of the bride and bridegroom.

At the reception which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Cecil Norris, sister of the bride, served a tiered wedding cake and Mrs. John McNutty, another sister, presided at the punch bowl. Out-of-town guests were from Corpus Christi and Aspermont.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a pale green suit with navy blue accessories. After June 5, the couple will be at home at 2321 Fourteenth. Mrs. Davenport is a graduate of Aspermont High school and Orval School of Beauty at Wichita Falls. Mr. Davenport is a plumber.

Vows Read In Home

Rev. J. A. Welch officiated at the single ring ceremony that united in marriage Miss Lola Beth Shires and James M. Rogers. The wedding was read in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Shires, 2808 Ruby, Tuesday night at 7:35 o'clock. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond R. Rogers of Anson.

A color scheme of blue and yellow was carried out, with yellow roses predominating.

Mrs. N. F. Shires played the wedding music. As Miss Billie Beadles lighted the candles, "Until" was played and the wedding solo, "At Dawning," was sung by Foster Thomas. "Indian Love Call" was played during the ceremony.

Carries White Bible

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length, white linen and eyelet organdy suit with white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with red rosebuds. For something old she wore the gold bracelet the bridegroom's mother had worn at her wedding.

Miss Mattie Lee Shires of Midland attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore blue dotted voile trimmed with white organdy and lace and accessories of navy and white. Her corsage was peach gladioli.

Jack Rogers of Anson served his brother as best man.

A reception followed with Miss Clara Mae Griffin of Sacramento, Calif., presiding at the punch bowl and Miss Mattie Lee Shires serving the wedding cake.

The couple left for a short trip and after Sunday will be at home at 2119 Tenth. For travel the bride wore a pink eyelet pique dress with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are senior students at Texas Technological college.

Dukes Drop Hubbers

Eight-Run Eighth Sinks Locals

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 2 (AP)—Alubuquerque unleashed a savage 13-hit attack tonight—eight of them for extra bases—to win over Lubbock in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Spotting Lubbock five runs, the Dukes pounded in three in the first and added eight in an unholy third to take the win.

Three Lubbock pitchers paraded to the mound, but were unable to stem the hitting tide.

It was Albuquerque's seventh win in eight starts.

Lubbock Scores Five Runs

Lubbock started the scoring spree with five unearned runs off Don Ferrarese in the first inning. Ferrarese took over the pitching chore unexpectedly and without warming up after Marv Christiansen developed a sore arm.

The first two Lubbock men to bat were struck out, but on the second Catcher Mulcahy dropped the ball and Nelson Davis went to first. Bo Dempsey then hit a grounder to Maul who threw to Okrie to force Nelson out and Okrie dropped the ball.

Jim Prince doubled, scoring two. Ferrarese walked the next three men, forcing in one man.

Dukes Rally for Three

In Albuquerque's first inning, Dawson hit an inside the park home run, McClain tripled, and Maul hit a homer over the fence—it went more than 400 feet.

In the third the Dukes collected eight. The first man struck out. McClain homered and Maul doubled. John Myers went out of the game. Cotton Russell then walked Martin, Mulcahy singled, and Breisinger struck out. The next three men walked—forcing in two runs. Dawson went on base on an error and loaded the sacks. McClain tripled.

Lubbock scored three in the seventh on two walks, a single and, a three base hit by Charley Willis. The Dukes ended the scoring in the eighth with two walks and Frank Okrie's single.

Red Sox Beat Tribe And Feller, 3 To 1

CLEVELAND, June 1. (AP)—Mickey Harris of the Boston Red Sox pitched himself in and out of trouble tonight and finally beat the Cleveland Indians and Bob Feller, 3 to 1.

Boston scored two of its runs on a couple of infield bounders, a walk and an error in the second inning. It was Feller's first start in two weeks and his fourth defeat against one victory for the season.

Loboes Lose To Gold Sox Again

AMARILLO, June 1 (AP)—The Amarillo Gold Sox outlasted Lamesa here tonight, taking a 12-10 decision that gave them a clean sweep of the three-game series.

Jimmy Reynolds, fourth Amarillo pitcher of the night, was inserted during a seventh inning emergency and pulled the game out of the fire for Amarillo with a sterling relief job.

Reynolds took over with the Sox leading 10-9, forced in the tying run, then slammed the door with 2 and 1-3 hitless innings. It was his fourth mound win.

Highlights of Amarillo's 16-hit batting assault were two homers by Manager Jess Landrum, his sixth and seventh of the year, and a perfect four-hit night by Jerry Folkman, Gold Sox shortstop. Folkman slammed two singles, a double and a homer.

He drove over the winning run in the Amarillo seventh, a single scoring Morris Cowser who had singled and was bunted to second by Reynolds. Amarillo added one in the eighth for good measure.

The line score:

LAMESA	210 120 400—10 12 3
AMARILLO	150 004 11x—12 15 2

Hayes, Locke and Haney, Finley; Dobbs, Hamilton, Faust, Reynolds and Cowser.

Blue Sox Bats Blast Victory Over Gassers

BORGER, June 1 (AP)—Had George Sturdivant been just two inches shorter the score might have been a different matter for the Gassers here tonight. The Blue Sox nosed out the Gassers by a 9-8 count.

In the bottom of the ninth, with the bags loaded with Borgans, the tall first sacker leaped high in the air and stopped Ken Sears' liner that would have gone for extra bases.

Two triples by the Gassers were the longest hits of the night. Seven doubles were socked off Borger hurler Hugh King.

Abilene started their scoring in the second, and spaced them out throughout the game to take over the lead twice before finally edging past the Gassers for their second win of the three game series.

Abilene used four Sox hurlers before taking the top side of the close score.

The Sox touched King for two runs in the second and third innings, but went scoreless until the seventh and eighth, when two more runs came across in each. The final and winning run came in the ninth.

Manager Stubby Greer while making a beautiful catch of Billy Wynn's fly ball, twisted his trick knee and had to leave the game. The fighting little shortstop may be out of action for several days.

Pringle Hurls One-Hit Game

BEAUMONT, June 1 (AP)—Gale Pringle missed no-hit fame by a scratch single here tonight as he pitched the Beaumont Exporters a 2 to 1 victory over the San Antonio Missions in the opener of a two game series.

Pitcher Earl Reid, Pringle's rival pitcher, beat out a bunt planned for a sacrifice hit in the fifth inning for the only hit made off the Shipper right hander. San Antonio's run in the sixth inning was made on a walk, passed ball, and two infield outs.

Pringle walked seven and struck out seven in winning his sixth game of the season against three defeats.

Beaumont scored one run in the fourth on Jerry Snyder's home run and added another in the fifth on Wayne Tucker's double and Vince Castino's single.

Wilkinson Plans Trip To Big 10

CHICAGO, June 1. (AP)—Bud Wilkinson, head coach of Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champions, who rejected an offer to skipper Wisconsin, will return to Big Ten territory after all, if only briefly.

The blonde, 33-year-old giant will pilot the collegiate squad which meets the Philadelphia Eagles, National Football league champions, in the annual All-Star game in Soldier Field Aug. 12.

He will be the youngest mentor ever honored by the All-Star directorship.

Pirates Smash White Sox In Boys Club

Pirate baseball teams won a pair of games in Boys club play yesterday afternoon, the Pygmy league Pirates beating the Red Sox 8 to 5 and the Pee Wee Pirates beating the Red Sox 19 to 16.

Wesley Light, with two singles in two trips, and Bill Boyd with a home run paced the victors. Lanney Shofner had a triple and single in three trips to lead the losers.

Paul Sikes had five for five for the Pirates in their Pee Wee game, including a home run, double and three singles. Don Wells sparked the losers with a pair of home runs, each with the bases loaded.

This afternoon the White Sox will play the Yankees in both leagues, with the first game starting at 2 p. m. and the second game at 4 p. m.

The ABC team will meet the Methodist Men at 6 p. m. in the first scheduled game of the American Legion Junior League play.

GOLF TOURNEY HELD

South Plains Women Golfers Hold Successful Meeting

The second meeting of the South Plains Golf association was a success, judging by the enthusiasm shown by the 50 golfers who went through the tournament at Meadowbrook Publinx yesterday.

The first nine holes of the 18-hole tournament were played in the morning, and following a luncheon and business meeting in the Yaqui Room of Hilton hotel, the remaining round was played and prizes were awarded.

Prizes Given

Prizes were golf balls, and Mrs. John Markham, Lubbock Country club, won two by shooting the low gross for the entire field and having low gross for representatives from her club.

Miss Marian Wingerd, Brownfield, also was awarded two balls for having low gross from Brownfield and shooting low net over the first nine holes.

Other prizes awarded included Mrs. T. L. Sampson, Lubbock Country club, second low gross; Mrs. Gene Mitchell, low gross from Plainview; Mrs. Louise Hall, low gross from Levelland; and Mrs. Henry Simms, low gross from Meadowbrook.

High gross for nine holes was won by Mrs. Ellen Benhoff, Meadowbrook; Mrs. Bill Bell, Meadowbrook had second low net the first nine holes, and Mrs. C. G. Moore, Meadowbrook, had third low net the first round.

At Plainview Next

On the luncheon committee for the meeting were Mrs. Oscar Taylor, Mrs. Henry Simms, and Mrs. Max Davis. The tournament committee was composed of Mrs. C. M. Hitchcock, Mrs. E. B. Herriage, and Mrs. Bill Bell.

Littlefield and Lamesa were not present at the meeting but will join in the near future. The next meeting will be the first Wednesday in July at Plainview Country club. Clubs attending Wednesday were Plainview, Levelland, Brownfield, Lubbock, and Meadowbrook.

Estes Loses To Cummings

Bob Cummings won the main event of the wrestling card at Sled Allen's arena last night, defeating Balk Estes in two out of three falls.

The crowd was very dissatisfied with the outcome of the match and booed the winner and the referee, Jack Papenheim, at the conclusion of the third fall.

Cummings took the first fall in 17 minutes with a combination of rope rebounds and body slams, and finished it with a shoulder pin after getting in some short jabs to the arm and midsection of Estes.

Estes Takes Second Fall

In the second fall Estes pushed the action most of the way after getting a scissors on Cummings at the opening bell. After taking punishment from Cummings, he applied an alligator clutch to win the fall in eight minutes.

Estes was well on the way to winning the final fall, and he had Cummings cornered and ready for the decision when Papenheim attempted to break an illegal hold. Cummings took the opportunity to immobilize Estes with a jab to the stomach and head and took the fall and the match with a shoulder pin in two minutes.

Dusette Beats Bruckman

In the semi-final match, one that was very clean and featured scientific wrestling, George Dusette, the strongman from Boston, won the first two falls from George Bruckman to take the match.

Bruckman dealt the Bostonian plenty of punishment before bowing out in the first fall after 17 minutes and the second in 11 minutes via the full-nelson route.

George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss., wrestler used a drop kick and smother to take the preliminary event from Danno McDonald in 13 minutes. The two grapplers were clean, young, and aggressive and put on a good match.

Top Golfers At Hobbs Tourney

Williams Favored Over Big Field

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

HOBBS, N. M., June 1—A host of golfers featuring some of the top competitors of West Texas and southeastern New Mexico will fire qualifying rounds Thursday as the annual $1,000 Hobbs Country Club Invitational tournament gets underway.

Approximately 150 contestants are expected for the four-day match play affair, in which E. C. Nix, jr., of Seminole, is defending champion. Prizes for a 32-man championship flight and eight other 16-man flights are being offered.

Williams Top Favorite

Jack Williams, the Plainview youngster who won the recent San Angelo Invitational, rates as a top pre-tourney favorite. Williams won the Hobbs event in 1947, beating Abilene's Billy Maxwell in a torrid final that went the full 36 holes with both competitors shooting under par.

Maxwell, incidentally, is expected to be back this week, so there is the possibility of a return meeting between the two young rivals.

Also expected on this year's entry list are Tommy Roberts, the teen-age Roswell thumper who last year was runner-up to Nix here, and Red Roden, veteran Odessa star.

Prizes Are Attractive

All matches will be played over the well-groomed, nine-hole Hobbs Country club layout. After Thursday's qualifying play, matches are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The tourney champion is to receive a radio, with winners in other flights getting valuable wrist watches. Other merchandise, such as clothing, luggage and fishing equipment, is to be given runners-up and consolation winners in all flights.

Full Social Program

An added attraction will be the new $100,000 clubhouse at the Hobbs course, which will be the site of numerous festivities planned in connection with the tournament. A Calcutta-barbecue program is scheduled Thursday night, a cocktail party Friday night, and a dance Saturday night.

Dode Forrester, the host pro, said late today that all is in readiness for the tourney opening.

"As usual, we hope to make our tournament one of the region's best," Forrester said. He indicated that the Hobbs course is in excellent condition for the four days of competition.

LUBBOCK GOLFERS HEAD FOR ATTRACTIVE MEET

A number of Lubbock and South Plains representatives will be in Hobbs today for the opening of the annual Hobbs Country Club Invitational golf tournament.

At least 11 members of Lubbock Country club have signified their intention to compete in the Hobbs event. In addition, several non-affiliated golfers from the Lubbock area are expected to enter.

Plainview also will have a small contingent at Hobbs, spearheaded by Jack Williams, one of West Texas' top amateur shotmakers.

The Lubbock Country club delegation will include Don Mitchell, Fenner Tubbs, Roy Cooper, Roy Howard, T. E. Patterson, Ross Mitchell, George Canon, Hugh Anderson, Kirk Dean, Bill Tatum and possibly Raymond Marshall, L. G. Raney, Eldon Rawlings, Lindsey Telford.

Meadowbrooks Publinx club members planning to enter the Hobbs tournament include A. B. Holton, Kenneth Holton, Dave Lawson, Jack Trammell, Huston Trammell, Truman Hutson, Weldon Counts, Bob Ewerz and Manse Allen.

KENNEDY CHANGES MIND

DALLAS, June 1 (INS)—Former big league pitcher Vern Kennedy changed his mind today about quitting baseball and Dallas of the Texas league promptly traded him to Minneapolis of the American Association for Hurler Al LaMaachia.

Cards Rally For Four Runs In Ninth To Lick Bums, 6-3

BROOKLYN, June 1. (AP)—Stan Musial crashed two home runs to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-3 victory over Brooklyn today.

Musial's second home run, his eighth of the esason, ignited a four-run rally in the ninth to enable the Redbirds to overcome a 3-2 deficit. His first round tripper came in the first inning.

Musial's second bleacher blast tied the score at 3-3 and sent Brooklyn starter Preacher Roe to the showers. Erv Palica took over and walked three men in succession before he was replaced by Southpaw Moorie Martin.

Nippy Jones put the Cards ahead with a run-scoring fly. Catcher Bill Baker's long double to left-center tallied two more.

The Dodgers threatened in their half of the ninth, loading the bases on three walks with none out. Fireman Ted Wilks relieved Jim Hearn and retired the next three batters.

GIANTS CLUB CUBS 11-5 TO TIE BROOKLYN AGAIN

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—The New York Giants exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning today on a homer, triple, three doubles, two singles and a walk to crush the Chicago Cubs, 11-5. Rookie Righthander Sam Webb came up with a brilliant relief job, checking the Cubs on two hits for seven and one-third innings.

BOSTON BRAVES MOVE INTO FIRST PLACE ON 6-5 WIN

BOSTON, June 1. (AP)—Boston's Braves took over first place in the National League tonight by once again coming from behind and beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-5 in a lengthy battle in which each club used four pitchers.

The Boston victory put the Tribe a full game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, who now are tied for second place in the tight National League race.

Westerners In Lengthy Drill

Coach Fred Taylor sent his Westerner nine through a hot, long workout at Chapman field diamond yesterday in the first regularly scheduled practice session following the bi-district victory over Wichita Falls last Saturday at Rosenthal field.

The sun, which stayed hidden during the last weeks of the regular season, had a depressing effect on the players, and they could not muster the enthusiasm which took them through the district, bi-district, and into the first schoolboy championship baseball tournament in Austin June 6-7-8.

But the more immediate future holds a game with Lamesa, scheduled for Chapman field at 3:30 p.m. Friday, and stiff competition is expected from the Lamesa nine. Most of the boys were on the team that won the District 3-AA title, including pitchers Royce King, Bill Hart, and Jerry Phillips.

Hart had the best record over the season with four wins and no losses, and King and Phillips each won two and lost two games. King is a lefthander and the other two moundsmen are righthanded hurlers.

All three Lubbock pitchers will be used in the nine-inning contest, and each will pitch three innings each. The three hurlers are Jimmy Hamilton, Jimmy Richards, and Benny Day, but the starter has not been decided.

Price of admission to the game Friday will be 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults. Proceeds of the game will be used to defray expenses of sending the baseball team to the state tournament in Austin.

In the game the first day of the tournament Lubbock will play a strong Austin team. Composing the team are seven seniors and eight starters back from last summer's national semi-finalist American Legion team. Some persons have conceded the state championship to Coach Tony Burger's team, but it takes more than talk to win a game. And Austin must get by Lubbock, a task that should prove to be a hard one.

Police Chief Has Fine Slapped On

DALLAS, June 1 (AP)—Fiery J. Walter Morris, known as the "finingest league president in baseball," stepped outside the game today to plaster one on a chief of police.

The chubby president of the Big State and East Texas Leagues said he would make it stick, too—that if the officer, Chief of Police W. M. McDonnold of Temple, didn't pay it, the Temple ball club would have to.

Morris assessed $10 against McDonnold for "pushing an umpire." The incident occurred Saturday night after a Big State League game at Temple between the Eagles and Austin. Austin won the game.

Morris also fined Homer Peel, vice-president and general manager of the Temple club, $5 for being present at the alleged shoving of Umpire Nels Pearson.

McDonnold roared today he wouldn't pay it. "I helped save that umpire from a mob of angry fans," he said. "He may not know it, but I gave him a push to save his life."

Morris, in a letter to the Temple club, said today that he was fining the two for conduct detrimental to baseball. He directed that the money be in his hands on or before June 6—which is next Monday.

McDonnold said it wasn't the way Morris told it. He declared: "Austin had beaten Temple Friday night because of some raw umpire's decisions and the same thing happened Saturday night. I don't have any connection with the Temple club at all—I just like baseball games—and blind as I am I could see how wrong those umpires were Saturday. The minute the game was over, those fans swarmed out on the field, mad as hornets, ready to get those umpires.

"The umpires headed for the shower room, with me and my policemen and Peel following them, and right behind us came all those fans with blood in their eye. Well, just at the door of the shower room, Pearson and Peel have a discussion. Turner, the other umpire, went on into the shower room, but Pearson just stood there arguing. So finally—just to save him from the fans—I gave him a little push to get him through the door."

TITLE BOUT IN PHILADELPHIA

Sugar Ray Robinson Will Meet Kid Gavilan For Welter Crown

PHILADELPHIA, June 1. (AP)—The much sought after welterweight title fight between Champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Cuba's Kid Gavilan today was signed for Philadelphia's Municipal stadium on July 11.

The 15-round fight, a natural since Robinson nosed out the hard-hitting Cuban last summer in a non-title affair in New York, will be under the promotion of the Philadelphia Arena, Inc.

Terms of the document call for Robinson to receive 40 percent of the net gate and Gavilan 18½ percent.

The income from television and radio will be split on the same basis.

It was the question of television receipts that prevented the fight from being held at New York's Polo Grounds this month under the sponsorship of Madison Square Garden.

Harry Markson, boxing director of the new Garden corporation, refused to call off plans for the fight to be held in New York.

"We still have an exclusive contract on Robinson's services," Markson said in New York.

CROPS FACE DAMAGE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 1. (INS)—Bernalillo county crops are threatened with destruction. James O'Neal, state extension entomologist, said today he had surveyed the county and found "millions of grasshoppers" feeding in the fields. "Unless these grasshoppers are controlled, you can say goodbye to Bernalillo county's crops," O'Neal said.

Woodcock, Mills Fight Tonight In London For Heavyweight Crown

LONDON, June 1. (INS)—Bruce Woodcock and Freddie Mills will meet tomorrow night at White City stadium in a 15-rounder. The winner will fight Lee Savold.

The British board of boxing control will recognize the ultimate survivor as the world title-holder, despite a scheduled match at Chicago between Ezzard Charles and Joe Walcott also billed for Joe Louis' vacated crown.

A crowd of 46,000 is expected to watch Woodcock, the British Empire and European heavyweight champion, against Mills, the holder of the world light heavyweight crown.

Sandy Saddler of New York, former world featherweight champion, also will appear on the card against Jim Keery of Ireland.

Probe Of AEC Gets Underway

and security files on a secret list of persons engaged in the atomic program.

The commission decided that for the time being it will not press Hickenlooper's demand for voluminous other records, including all data concerning the custody of atomic weapons ,copies of all AEC minutes, and documents dealing with international atomic relations.

Scientists Not Named

It was AEC General Manager Carroll L. Wilson who testified that he kept two scientists on the payroll despite objections that they were bad risks.

Wilson did not name the two scientists.

He said his action was entirely separate, however, from the five-man commission's decision to clear two other scientists for secret work after the AEC's own security officer had turned thumbs down on them.

The other two were Dr. Edward U. Condon, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, and Senator Frank Graham (D-NC), former president of the University of North Carolina and one time head of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Lilienthal told congressional investigators last week about the Condon-Graham cases.

Sensations Lacking

Wilson's testimony temporarily diverted the spotlight from the face-to-face showdown between Lilienthal and his accuser, Senator Hickenlooper, before the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee.

Hickenlooper has demanded that President Truman fire Lilienthal. The latter, stung to a point which he described as being "pretty damn mad," has replied that Hickenlooper was resorting to "un-American smear" tactics.

The heralded dramatic confrontation of the two protagonists got off to a slow start in an atmosphere of icy politeness.

While spectators who had come in the expectation of sensations twiddled their thumbs, Hickenlooper probed into the rapid turnover of AEC personnel and demanded that the AEC turn over to him a huge volume of records, reports, and correspondence dealing with the atomic program.

Names Not Revealed

The Iowa senator insisted that Lilienthal produce all correspondence regarding the custody of atomic weapons and letters exchanged between the AEC and the FBI on lost or misplaced atomic source material.

He called for FBI and security reports on an apparently long but undisclosed list of persons. Hickenlooper brought their names in a sealed envelope.

Further, he requested memoranda of Roosevelt-Churchill talks on atomic matters during the 1943 Quebec conference.

At the outset, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) announced sternly that there must be "no persecution and no whitewash" in investigating the charges against Lilienthal.

"The issue is one which goes to the heart of our national defense," McMahon said.

Entire Group "Responsible"

Twice during the opening session, Lilienthal indicated that if any blame is to be fixed, it should fall upon the five-man commission as a whole.

This was brought out when Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) asked Lilienthal whether the commission acts as a unit or whether it is "compartmented."

Lilienthal replied that each commissioner accepts "total responsibility" for the management of the program.

At another uoint, Rep. Price (D-Ill) questioned Hickenlooper:

"Are your charges directed against Lilienthal or the five-man commission?"

"My criticism goes to Lilienthal as chairman of the commission," Hickenlooper replied.

Rites Slated Friday For Accident Victim

LAMESA, June 1 (Special) — Last rites for Mrs. Edith Galloway, 42, of near Welch community, who was killed in a car-truck collision Tuesday evening near Welch, will be read at 2 p.m. Friday at the Lamesa Methodist church, Rev. Sam Thomas, pastor, and Rev. J. A. Martin of Welch, officiating.

A daughter, Bessie Jean Galloway, 12, who was critically injured in the same accident, was reported as improved and in "satisfactory" condition at Lamesa General hospital.

She had suffered a fractured thigh, fractured ankle, a head injury and multiple bruises and lacerations.

Mrs. Galloway, a widow, lived on her farm three miles west of Welch, and had been employed for the past year in the Dawson school cafeteria at Welch.

Immediate survivors of Mrs. Galloway include two daughters, Bessie Jean and Golda Ruth Galloway; a son, Willard Galloway, about 20; the mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Laney Grice, of Welch; and two brothers, Arthur Grice of Columbus, S. C., and Elbert Grice of Houston.

Several relatives of Mrs. Galloway live in Lubbock. They include an uncle, Rev. J. A. Laney, of 2208 Ninth; and four cousins, Mrs. W. A. Miller of 2803 Thirtieth, Mrs. George F. Box of 2712 Thirtieth, and J. B. Laney and J. A. Laney, jr., both of 2208 Ninth.

New Officers Named By 20-30 Club Here

Members of the Lubbock 20-30 club, who met last night for a business session in Hotel Lubbock, elected officers to serve for a six-months term beginning July 1.

A. L. (Chuck) Hawkins was named president. Others elected included Gene Blackburn, vice president; and Charles Nelson, sergeant at arms.

Hawkins named James Bavousett to fill the appointive post of secretary-treasurer.

Members of the board of directors named last night were Joe Gaylor, T. L. Fanning, Jack Blankenship, Garland Hoover and Tommy Adams.

Change In Pact

present time might lessen American prestige in Paris where Secretary of State Acheson is attending the council of foreign ministers meeting.

Acting Secretary of State Webb, meanwhile, reiterated the State department's desire for speedy action on the $1,450,000,000 European arms plan.

Arms Program Urged

He said the program is "one of the most urgent proposals of the President." Leaders believe, however, that there is little chance for action on it during the present session.

Watkins, one of the few avowed opponents of the treaty, plans to introduce his reservations when the pact comes up for ratification.

One provision would require that the U. S. "assumes no obligation" to join in the military sanctions of the treaty unless Congress alone can declare war.

Another stipulates that in event of an attack on any other signatory Congress shall decide in each case whether to declare war.

His proposals are expected to be vigorously opposed by Senate foreign policy leaders who feel that such restrictions would weaken the moral effectiveness of the pact and that congressional prerogatives have been fully preserved in the treaty.

Watkins, however, said that ratification would mean the President and two-thirds of the Senate had "declared war in advance on any nation or nations which shall in the future make war on any one or more of our allies."

Several Lubbock Rotary Club Members Cited For Attendance

The Lubbock Rotary club Wednesday honored six members for their many years of perfect attendance. They were given carnations in recognition.

The men and their years of perfect attendance were J. W. Talbert, 35; J. A. Raley, jr., 24; W. W. Rix, 23; Lige Robinson, 22; Dr. F. B. Malone, 21; and R. H. Lowrey, 13.

Program chairman Neil Wright, sr., introduced the two speakers, City Manager Steve Matthews, who was given the responsibility of improving attendance and Truman Chumley, chairman of the vocational service committee.

Chumley outlined the purpose and duties of the individual Rotarian with "Service is the key to maintaining our fair profit system," There is nothing wrong with the capitalistic system. It is just that many business men have failed in their responsibilities."

R. C. Taylor, Bill Stone, Dewey Nesmith and Ray Loving were inducted into the club as new members.

Visiting Rotarians included Jack Hancock, Fort Worth; Paul Castleberry and Earl Rogers, Borger; Bill Walding, Tatum, N. Mex.; Leland Alton, Plainview, and Mike Wicks, and Jimmy Rankin both of Ralls.

Southern Presbyterian Group 'Accepts' Racial Equality Report

MONTREAT, N. C., June 1 (AP) — The legislative body of Southern Presbyterians today "accepted" a report contending that good Christians should protect the "basic rights" of all men, white and negro.

Shortly thereafter the 89th General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U.S. shut up shop and went home.

Kingston, Jamaica, will try to develop a year-round tourist trade.

Fisherman Catches Jet-Propelled 'Sea Monster' In River

(By International News Service)

FAIR LAWN, N. J., June 1 —Robert Durrenberger told a fish story today and he had the fish to back it up—a jet-propelled miniature "sea monster" caught in New Jersey's Saddle river.

The what-it-is was about 16 inches long with a set of seven "portholes" on each side of its ell-like body. John brought the thing home yesterday and set it to swimming in the sink but it died during the night.

The "fish" has a hole on top of its head out of which it spouted water. It propelled itself by forcing water out of the holes on its side. All available books on marine life turned up nothing resembling the creature.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walsh of 3101 Twenty-first on birth of a daughter weighing 9 pounds 10 ounces at 2:36 p. m. Wednesday in St. Mary's hospital. The father is a cattle buyer.

Schaefer Re-Elected Head Of K-C Group

At a meeting of the Lubbock council of the Knights of Columbus, held last night in Blakeslee hall, officers for next year were elected.

Paul G. Schaefer was re-elected grand knight. Other officers named were:

Joe Botik, deputy grand knight; John A. Remley, chancellor; Robert Quinlivan, warden; A. J. Shimek, treasurer; James Qualia, advocate; Raymond J. Neary, recording secretary; Royce Hill, inside guard; Bert Andries, outside guard; and C. A. Begey, trustee.

An annual report was given by the grand knight. Delegates to the recent state convention of Knights of Columbus at Laredo also made a report. Delegates from Lubbock were J. J. Moore, Tony Borho and Paul G. Schaefer.

Hot Weather

the Wednesday's high reading from being as uncomfortable as it might have been.

The dry, hot weather further aided farmers in rushing work on late planting of cotton and making preparations for the grain harvest in those areas where wheat is up. Fields for the most part have dried out under the past several day's warm weather and farmers have been working long hours getting their crops in.

Storms in the Midwest, the station reported, will be responsible for the South Plain's high winds.

The Midwest tornadoes brought a revival of such storms to the area after a few day's lapse.

The twisters swept through southwest Iowa, northwest Missouri, northwest Kansas and southwest Nebraska, the Associated Press reported.

A farmer, his wife and their baby were hospitalized after a tornado destroyed their home near Essex, Ia. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stoldorf and child. Their home was one of five destroyed in the Iowa and nearby Nebraska area.

Other Iowa towns in the twisters' path were Percival, Tabor and Malvern but witnesses said the whirlwinds stayed mostly in the air.

Buildings on two farms were leveled in the Nebraska City area and residents reported seeing three distinct funnel shaped clouds.

Tornadoes also hit St. Benedict, Kans., and Tarkio, Mo. Some property losses were reported at St. Benedict's.

Meanwhile, Texas continued to swelter as temperatures at some points boiled past the 100 degree mark.

It got as warm as 106 degrees at Presidio and 102 at Laredo, the Associated Press reported. Big Spring had a reading of 99 degrees, the Weather bureau reported.

The coolest minimum in Texas was 82 at Guadalupe Pass. More of the same was in prospect for most of the state today with the possibility of scattered thundershowers for parts of East Texas.

Services Scheduled Here Today For Edgar Bowden Varner, 64

Funeral services for Edgar Bowden Varner, 64, of 2706 Ave. P, will be held at 4 p.m. today in First Baptist church. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, will officiate.

Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial park under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Varner died Wednesday in a local hospital. He had lived in Lubbock for the last 26 years, and was in the wholesale drug business during that time.

Pallbearers will be C. H. Tisdale, Russell Hardin, Neal Smiley, Hub Lee, Acel Cope, and E. R. Gideon.

Survivors include the wife; a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Christine Gore; and a son, Marvin J. Meadow; all of Lubbock.

Workmen Spruce Up Hotel In Little Rock For Truman Sojourn

By JAMES M. FLINCHUM
United Press Staff Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 1— A small army of carpenters, plasterers and decorators today swarmed over the interior of the 41-year-old Marion hotel here which for 24 hours June 10-11 will be the headquarters of the President of the United States.

Although President Truman's visit still is ten days off, the task of tidying up the Marion in anticipation of the chief executive's stay already is two weeks old.

Scores of workers from the hotel's complement of 400 employes are busy night and day ripping out carpeting, re-upholstering furniture, hanging new drapes and pictures, re-papering walls, and waxing floors.

Job 'Carefully Planned'

It'll be the first time since anyone can remember that a Little Rock hotel has played host to a president. The man on whom the responsibility for all this falls is Ben R. Shelley, the Marion's manager, and a veteran of 32 years in the hotel business.

Shelley has been a member of hotel staffs which lodged such notables as Charles A. Lindberg and Queen Marie of Romania in 1927, but this is the first time he's housed a president. He admits it's quite a job.

"To show you how carefully this thing has been planned," Shelley says, "I got Arch Pickens, our caterer, and went up to Kansas City to talk with people who run the Hotel Muehlbach, where Mr. Truman stays when he comes to visit in Kansas City and Independence."

Air Conditioning Turned Off

Shelley and Pickens learned a lot of things a hotel manager should know about providing for the ease and comfort of Mr. Truman.

"One thing we learned," he said, "was that Mr. Truman doesn't like air-conditioning. So we're turning off the air-conditioning in the suite that has been set aside for him."

The President's suite is located in the southwest corner of the second floor. It includes a small foyer, a corner living room (with piano), bedroom with twin beds, small dressing room and a bath and a small kitchen-bar which adjoins the living room. Next door is a large room which is being converted into a dining-reception room for the President's use.

The color scheme generally is pastel green although the wallpaper in the bedroom is candy-striped red and white on the north wall at the head of the bed, and the bedroom also has candy-striped curtains.

the files, although Clark and Peurifoy had been subpoenaed to produce them.

"We want to know the basic facts which the files show. You can do it without physically producing a single file or revealing any sources of information."

McCarran gave Clark a list of 11 questions to which he said he wanted answers by next Monday.

Both Clark and Peurifoy agreed to co-operate with the committee and give "all the information possible within the limits of national security."

What he wanted, McCarran declared, was information to show how many Communists or Communist agents have entered the United States in the last five years, and whether any are known to have engaged in espionage or related activities.

Clark said President Truman had studied the committee's request for the files, and agreed they should not be disclosed.

Rankin's original pension bill, calling for a blanket pension of $90 a month for all veterans at age 65 regardless of need, was defeated in the House 208 to 207 after a violent debate. Its cost was estimated at $125 billion in the next 50 years.

Testimony To Be Resumed In District Court Damages Action

Testimony, presented by the plaintiff Wednesday, will be resumed this morning in the 72nd district court damages action of I. D. McClish against R. C. Young Feed and Seed company.

The case probably will be completed today, Judge Dan Blair has been informed by counsel. A jury was selected at Wednesday's morning session.

McClish, 54, seeks damages totaling $20,000 as the outgrowth of injuries he alleged he suffered in 1947 when employed by the defendant. He said stacks of feed, in sacks, fell on him. He charged that the mishap resulted from negligence of his employers.

The law firm of Boling, Smith and Allen represents the plaintiff, and the grain company is represented by the firm of Carr and Carr and that of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam.

The jury is composed of Russell E. Wimberley, Guy Smith, Charles Morris, jr., J. S. Avent, J. R. Jackson, Hugo Hildebrand, R. L. Jeffcoat, T. A. Smith, L. B. Gillit, T. C. Williams, V. E. Railsback, and John E. McClendon.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bundrant, jr., of Amarillo are parents of a 7½-pound son born Monday in Amarillo. Bundrant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bundrant of 415 Ave. E in Lubbock, is employed by a wholesale news agency in Amarillo. He attended school here. His wife is the former Oline Brunson of Morton.

71-Year-Old Twins Observe Birthday

Seventy-one-year-old twin brothers, W. H. and J. B. Lindsey, celebrated their birthday together Wednesday night at a gathering of family and friends at the W. H. Lindsey home at 1811 14th street.

Although W. H., funeral director of Rix Funeral home, and J. B., Waco dairy farmer, visit each other frequently, last night's meeting marked their first joint birthday party since 1899.

J. B. Lindsey plans to return to his farm today.

Soil Plan Okayed

of a rental fee for use of the equipment that would never be less than the cost of labor, maintenance, depreciation and replacement of the equipment.

On motion of Senator Hill Hudson of Pecos, the Senate then increased the appropriation to $10,000,000 by a 21-4 vote. The measure as originally introduced in the Senate by W. A. Shofner of Temple and in the House by Rep. J. A. Luddemann of Brenham had called for the higher amount but a House committee had trimmed the figure by half.

College Plan Hit

Hudson sniped at the Senate's earlier passage of a bill to appropriate $1,000,000 to raise Lamar Junior college at Beaumont to a full four-year technological college:

"If we can afford to make state colleges out of junior colleges then let's help the farmers of this state conserve the soil they're going to have to dig into to provide for what we've already spent," he said.

The machinery provided for in the bill would be under the administration of soil conservation districts throughout the state. The money would be made available to the districts to cover whatever needs peculiar to the individual district. Purchases amounting to more than $1,000,000 would be made through the state board of control under a Senate amendment.

The bill must return to the House for approval or rejection of the Senate changes.

Grain Storage

pointed out.

"But some elevators are denying the farmers this space, forcing the farmers to sell their wheat at a low price. If this situation is not changed, I estimate Texas farmers will lose from $30,000,000 to $40,000 000 this year. I predict the price will sink down to $1.25 per bushel."

In a telegram to President Truman, Hammond said: "The gravity of the situation and urgency for action would justify unusual procedure."

Old Crop Takes Space

Three Fort Worth elevator men agreed wheat probably is selling below the $1.87 support price, as charged by Hammond. They said this is a natural result of last year's bumper crop and the heavy new crop now being harvested.

As to available space, one operator explained that milling interests have for years leased space in public elevators and those leases are still good, Other operators stated that elevators are still heavily loaded with the old crop bought by the Commodity Credit corporation and the government has been slow in ordering the outward movement of the crop.

One operator said he knew of three or four elevator concerns which are now seeking government approval of such potential storage facilities as hangars and similar structures. Thus far, these facilities have not received government approval, although privately purchased wheat has been placed in such space.

Meanwhile a golden tide of new crop wheat flowed into Fort Worth by truck and rail. Wheat was being stored in the open in some northwest Texas wheat towns. Bulging elevators at Fort Worth were loaded almost to capacity.

G. E. Blewett, secretary of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers association, said wheat in storage at Fort Worth now totals 3,454,000 bushels, compared with 2,601,000 bushels a year ago.

While wheat has been moving into Fort Worth by rail, there has been no movement out of the city, Blewett stated.

Blewett and others were worried by the fact that government-loan grain sorghums are taking a great deal of space in Fort Worth elevators. He said 5,315,000 bushels of grain sorghums were now in the city's elevators, as compared with 227,000 a year ago.

"Government bungling has brought about the situation," Blewett remarked. He said Fort Worth's grain storage capacity is about 20,000,000 bushel. Grain men predicted that at the present rate of movement, all this will be in use in a short time.

Court Withholds 12 Documents Found In Accused Spy's Purse

WASHINGTON, June 1 (INS)— Twelve documents found in Judith Coplon's purse when she was arrested March 4 in New York were ordered withheld as evidence today on grounds of national security.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves ruled that defense counsel Archibald Palmer could question FBI agent T. Scott Miller on the number of papers introduced in court, but could go no further.

Miller said that 34 FBI "data slips" containing notes on secret espionage reports were found in Miss Coplon's handbag when she was seized with Valentin A. Gubitchev, Soviet engineer at the United Nations.

Grain Shipments Set Record At Galveston

GALVESTON, June 1 (AP)— Grain is moving out through the port of Galveston at a quicker pace than ever before in history.

A new loading record was set during May, E. H. Thornton, sr., general manager of Galveston wharves, announced today.

The pick-up in wheat movement comes at a time when elevators throughout the U. S. wheat belt are crowded with the 1948 wheat crop—with the bumper 1949 crop being harvested.

In May, elevator B at the big Galveston docks moved 14,010,176 bushels of grain into ships for foreign countries, breaking a previous record of 9,260,647 bushels set only last March.

New Record Set

Thornton said this set a new record for port elevators throughout the United States.

The next export grain loading record established by elevator B and Sunset elevator of Continental Grain corporation was 18,030,456 bushels in May.

This was a new high for the port of Galveston. The previous high record—established by four elevators in 1920—was 17,281,226 bushels.

In May the Sunset elevator loaded 4,020,280 bushels to help establish the new export record. Before May 31 the nearest approach to the 1920 port grain loading high had been last March when 13,100,580 bushels were handled by the two elevators.

Texans Push Efforts

ers has been recurring annually for years.

Army Tents Asked

"With a feeling that the price may tumble below $1, the only hope for farmers seems to be in storage on the farm or in suitable public location," said the WTCC. "A plea for establishment of farm storage is therefore made."

The West Texans urged an immediate loan or grant of not less than 100,000 8 by 10 or 16 by 16 army pyramidal tents for distribution throughout the 90 wheat producing counties of West Texas. They understand these tents with proper bases will qualify for storage under the government loan program.

Connally's office immediately urged complying action through the Commodity Credit corporation and the War Assets administration, which reportedly has the tents.

Congressman Poage said Texas A. & M. college had already agreed that storage facilities at Bluebonnet ordnance works, McGregor, could be used for storage and it is understood here that Texas Technological college, Lubbock, desires that Pantex ordnance plant be used. Whether persons have come forward to operate these storage bases is not known here. This is one of the matters on which Agriculture department officials will be questioned Thursday.

MAHON ACTS SWIFTLY ON WTCC WHEAT REQUEST

WASHINGTON, June 1 (Special)—West Texans can thank Rep. George Mahon, Lubbock and Colorado City, for the call of a Texas congressional delegation meeting for Thursday afternoon to discuss the wheat storage crisis with Department of Agriculture officials.

When Mahon received the West Texas Chamber of Commerce telegram today, he immediately called Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, chairman of the delegation, to seek the meeting. Mahon, Poage, Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, Rep. Omar Burleson, Anson, and other congressmen had already been working hard to solve the wheat problem but all felt that little progress was being made with Agriculture department officials.

Another stumbling block is the bill to provide federal loans for building granaries. This bill was rejected by the Senate last week after Senators Byrd of Virginia and Williams of Delaware opposed a provision giving the secretary of agriculture the right to name members of the Commodity Credit corporation's board without Senate approval. The bill has now been returned to conference between House and Senate members with instructions that the Senate insists on its rights to pass on board members. Whether the bill will ever be returned to the two houses from the conference or allowed to die is now the question.

Berlin Rule Studied

Schuman also supported Acheson.

Finally, the western ministers urged Vishinsky to drop any further discussion on the veto until it had been decided just what would be the functions and powers of a new Kommandatura.

Vishinsky's reply to this at first was not clear, but after the meeting a Soviet spokesman said Vishinsky had agreed to discuss the functions of the four-power body.

In opening the meeting Vishinsky again attacked the West German Bonn constitution as "undemocratic and unacceptable."

American sources said Acheson had proposed to Vishinsky that the council sessions be put on a restricted basis. That would mean official observers would not brief newspapermen on what went on at the council sessions as at present. The Soviet foreign minister said he would have to get instructions from Moscow.

Meantime, the deputy foreign ministers concerned with writing a treaty for Austria reported failure today in their efforts to draft a joint report.

The three western deputies will submit one report to the foreign ministers council tomorrow. Soviet Deputy Georgi Zarubin will submit another.

The deputies were unable to agree on a definition of German assets in Austria to which Russia is entitled for reparations, it was reported. Austria is the fourth and last item on the foreign ministers agenda.

Chambers On Stand

nist."

Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman said he was inclined to agree.

"We are not concerned with espionage but with perjury," the court said. He withheld a ruling until later, however.

Hiss, 44, former high-ranking State department official, went on trial Tuesday on two counts of perjury because he denied before a federal grand jury last December that he ever turned over department documents to Chambers.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy charged in his opening address to the jury that Hiss, with his wife, was responsible for making 65 typewritten sheets of 47 department documents, all dated in the first three months of 1938.

Characters Compared

He said the government would develop its case in this way: FBI experts will prove that .64 of the 65 typewritten documents were made with a Woodstock, pica type machine. Then the government wil prove its case if it can show that Chambers got the typewritten papers from Hiss and that the documents came from the State department.

Defense Attorney Lloyd Stryker, on the other hand, based his opening remarks to the jury before Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman largely on a comparison of the characters of Hiss and Chambers.

He characterized Hiss as a man of "trust and confidence" and Chambers as a "moral leper."

Stryker said the case boiled down to whether Hiss testified truthfully when he said he had not given restricted documents to Chambers.

Chambers Is Key

"The whole story rests on Chambers," he declared. "If you do not believe Chambers, the government has no case." Even before Chambers joined the Communist party (from which he resigned several years ago) he was "a furtive, secretive, deceptive man," Stryker said.

He traced Hiss' career, saying he was highly trusted in the State department and handled "more important secrets" as secretary general of the United Nations planning conference at San Francisco. He also likened Hiss in character to the late Elihu Root and Nicholas Murray Butler, his predecessors as head of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

(Hiss recently withdrew at his own request from that $20,000-a-year-post.)

Allred May Be Named

a permanent judge in the district as soon as a vacancy among the proposed three judge district occurs.

Allred Backed HST

The temporary post was proposed, the Chronicle said, after Federal Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman asked that a second judge be assigned to the eastern district.

The southern district now has two judges, T. M. Kennerly and Allan B. Hannay, both of Houston. Only one judge is assigned to the eastern district.

Allred resigned from the federal bench in 1942 to run for United States senator against W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel. He was judge for the northern district of Texas and had been appointed by President Roosevelt.

After Allred's defeat by O'Daniel, Roosevelt nominated him for a federal judgeship in Louisiana, but the U. S. Senate revolted on the matter of confirming a Texan for the Louisiana post. Finally, the nomination was withdrawn.

Allred was a strong supporter of Truman in the recent presidential campaign.

ABC Rodeo News Is Carried South

ABC Loosters Wednesday covered the area southeast and south of Lubbock, lauding the impending Boys' Club rodeo.

News of the rodeo, opening in Jones stadium June 8, was spread by 12 auto loads of ABC members and ABC Dames (auxiliary), led by C. E. Hardin and Bob Rose. They took the word directly to the people with such tactics as knocking on doors, talking to passersby, and distributing handbills, placards, and toy whistles.

Two sound trucks accompanied the expedition which made a loop to include all points to Midland and back through Colorado City.

Spur Trip Slated Today

Delegations of local citizens met the boosters in many of the towns and acted as escorts.

The first of the booster trips was made Tuesday to Hobbs by a group led by Larry Kennedy.

This morning will see the departure of another group, led by Fred Hinson, which will visit all towns from Lubbock to Spur. Friday a group under the leadership of Frank McElroy will leave for Clovis.

Indications are that the rodeo this year will draw a record attendance. Boosters who have made the trips report great interest in the towns visited.

grain elevators and warehouses throughout the area, and that "we don't see what the answer is, unless the farmer provides farm storage."

"What we'd like to see farmers do is build farm storage. That's the only answer that I can see," he said.

Farmers Could Help

"It's late now," he added, "but they've still got time to provide some space at least."

He said that his office has advocated farm storage for several years but that majority of farmers in this area have not felt they could take time to construct home storage facilities. He said that farmers in counties in the north part of the South Plains and in the Panhandle have provided more farm storage space.

Wheat in Hale and Floyd counties totals about 250,000 acres each, it has been estimated, while Crosby and Bailey counties have about 100,000 acres of wheatland each. Terry county has some 50,000 acres. Lubbock has some 10,000 acres, and Lynn, Hockley and Lamb counties also have "pretty big wheat crops," it was said.

Wells said he had heard that Burrus elevators in Lubbock are approximately 85 percent full, while smaller grain elevators and warehouses are proportionately full. It was not known how much space Harvest Queen elevators would have available.

Observers have said that storage space at the Producer's Grain Corp., which currently is under construction, will fill up quickly after the space becomes available on or about the first of July. That organization's storage capacity is two million bushels.

Some Harvesting Underway

Harvesting of wheat was underway in several sections on and near the South Plains.

A report from Quitaque in Briscoe county Wednesday night said that the first loads of wheat had been brought in there late Wednesday afternoon. Chas. Gowin of about 11 miles north of Quitaque brought in the first load. The grain tested .63 with 11.45 moisture content. J. T. Bradley, also of north of Quitaque brought in the second load. He expected to cut about 25 bushels to the acre.

Harvesting also was underway south of Quitaque with E. W. Tibbets and J. T. Persons expected to bring in loads late last night or today.

What was believed to be the first wheat brought in on the South Plains was sold at Brownfield Monday by Paul Cobb, farmer of west of Brownfield.

Police Hold Witness In Probe Of Philippine Airliner Crash

MANILA, June 1. (INS)—Philippine authorities were reported today to have in protective custody a mystery woman said to be a key witness in the investigation of the Philippine airliner crash that killed 13 people a month ago.

Manila newspapers said that murder charges are to be filed soon against several persons, including the wife of a businessman who was killed in the crash.

An investigation disclosed that a time bomb was placed in a package shipped on the plane, causing an explosion shortly after the plane left Daet for Manila.

SEEN AS OFFENSIVE PARASITE

French Existentialist Branded Among Worst Of Free Thinkers

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 1—The most suffocating brand of jerk this reporter has encountered in years of experimentation in that field is the young French existentialist—if that ain't redundant.

On the average he is a Godless young bum, assuming he is a he, who has borrowed aspects of an old easy-come-easy-go philosophy and moved it the remainder of the way to the crackpot stage. He is a butt-sniping, wine cadging, offensive parasite who makes even the most sordid cellar of Montparnasse seem dirtier than ever.

He is no thoughtful, poetry phrasing bum, trying to squeeze a reluctant muse out of a jug of red, but a soiled young tramp who can and does jitterbug by the hour, his sweat filled hair walloping his chin in the more animated stages of that obsenity. His moll is just as daffy, just as bereft of all sense of decency, just as adept at parading as a member of a philosophical movement—when what amounts to the bulls or the truant officers make a checkup.

Make Hepcats Look Tame

They make our seamiest heptomcats and bobby-soxers look like something out of Godey's Ladies Book by comparison.

The crumpled stocking, cigaret ash-laden Bohemian of a generation ago at least seemed to have some advanced goal in life, however immediate, and preferred to stay out of the way. These young stiffs believe that the way to live is to burn it all up in one day and a night, and they are hammier than a pig slaughterhouse.

The other night a few of us, including Errol Flynn, went to one of the dives where the members of the society were holding a soiree. At the first flash of a camera's lightbulb a good half the congregation bowled over tables and chairs in the hope of getting in the picture with Flynn. Eighteen and nineteen year olds, bearded and wearing clothes apparently cast-off by Nature Boy the last time the authorities dunked him in a sheep dip, clawed all over the fellow.

He is a very patient man, this Flynn. He endured treatment which would have caused Caspar Milquetoast to lay aside his pincenez, strike an old Jem Mace pose and come out fighting and biting.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey went over fine in Paris. The people considered him a very friendly man and his wife tres chic. It must inevitably have occurred to the Governor, however, what a tumultous scene his visit here would have made if those now haunting 29,000 votes (properly placed) had fallen in the proper G.O.P. boxes and swung the November 2 election his way.

Dewey made a genuine hit with the correspondents in Germany, by the way. The day he arrived in Frankfurt they crowded around him expectantly but before one could ask a question he said, "if it's all right with you, I'll do the questioning. I don't know a darned thing about this country, and you do. I'm here to learn."

First bit of political brass to come this way who ever said that.

Louella Parsons was given a luncheon by seven leading French columnists the other day at the ancient Cafe Vefour, which has been serving since it was part of the Palais Royale when there was king in residence.

It was all very nice and discreet, except perhaps for one photographer who spent most of the luncheon getting close-ups of Louella's mouth and tonsils—from a distance of three or four inches.

Finally it came time to ask the great moving picture authority a few questions. There was a long pause while each French columnist seemed to be putting the burden of the first question on the next. Finally one swallowed and said, "Please tell me something risque about the Hollywood people."

Louella took a long breath (photographed) and told them a story about the attendance of her Hollywood friends at church on Sundays, their membership in parent-teachers associations, their charitable work, their goodness to their children, their pride in their small gardens, their sobriety, their difficult working hours and early self-imposed curfews.

The French faces fell lower and lower as she spoke. The man who had asked the question sighed and glanced covertly at his watch.

Officers Kill Gunman After Banker Slain

HARRISON, Ark., June 1. (U.P.) A 62-year-old banker died today of wounds inflicted by a berserk gunman who staged a reign of terror in the small north Arkansas town of Jasper last night.

The banker, Wilbur Moore, 62, died in a Harrison hospital. The gunman, identified as 34-year-old Albert Mayer, formerly of Chicago, was shot to death in an exchange of gunfire with sheriff's officers and citizens. He had barricaded himself in the county courthouse at Jasper after shooting Moore.

State police said Moore was talking to two men outside the courthouse late yesterday afternoon. They said Mayer walked up, asked, "What's going on here?" and then shot Moore in the right side with a .32 calibre pistol.

Sheriff Russell Burdine said he heard the shot while he was sitting in his office in the courthouse. When he ran outside to investigate, Mayer fired a shot at him.

Two deputies and a constable arrived at the scene after Burdine ran back into the building to get his gun. All four men then began a gun battle with Mayer, who concealed himself inside the courthouse.

Burdine, handed a shotgun by one of his deputies, poked the weapon around a corner inside the building. It was shot out of his hands by Mayer. A few seconds later a shot from a high-powered rifle aimed by one of the deputies cut Mayer down as he stood in a courthouse corridor.

Officers said more than eight pounds of ammunition was found on Mayer's body. Capt. Frank McGibboney of the Arkansas state police said Mayer had seven pounds of .32 calibre ammunition in a cloth sack and another pound of bullets in his pockets.

Britain, France Among Nations Backing Recognition Of Red China

NANKING, June 1. (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today most countries—including Britain, France, Russia and India—favor recognition of the Chinese Communists when their new national government is set up.

American officials here, these sources said, are urging that recognition be used for bargaining with the Communists for better treatment of non-Soviet interests. The United States has less immediate need for formal relations than Britain, France and India.

This is the picture outlined by Nanking diplomatic quarters:

Indochina French Concern

The western powers are in contact on recognition of the Red Chinese regime and probably will work together. But France and Britain are likely to act sooner if the U.S. delays too long after the Reds establish an eligible government.

France's prime concern in Indochina.

Chinese Red armies soon will reach the Indochina border. The French need a Chinese government to protest to if either troops or war material begin crossing this border to aid Communist-led Viet-Namese nationalists. The Viet-Namese have been fighting the French since World War II ended.

Britain is eager to do business with the Chinese Communists.

British Well Ahead

The British crown colony of Hong Kong depends upon trade with the Chinese mainland. Hong Kong shipping already is calling on North China ports. British businessmen are well ahead in the scramble for trade.

Commercial interests could be served through de facto recognition of consulates—something the western powers obviously desire.

The question of de jure, or full, recognition must await formation of a new Chinese national government, which probably will not come until autumn. By that time the Nationalists refugee government at Canton probably will have disappeared or gone into exile on Formosa.

Russia has broad contacts with the Chinese Reds in Manchuria and members of the Soviet bloc are expected to be the first to recognize the new regime.

India May Be First

India is expected to be the first outside the Russian orbit—in keeping with its role as leader in Asia. Observers predict Indian recognition will come about three months after the Red government is set up.

Smaller nations outside the Soviet sphere are generally expected to follow the lead of Britain and the U.S.

Recognition negotiations are expected to be drawn out in some countries—particularly where renegotiation of existing treaties is involved.

The Communists say they intend to repudiate many treaties, including the commercial agreement between China and the U.S.

Chiefs of practically all diplomatic missions to Nationalist China—except the Russian—are still in Nanking. Before the Reds set up their government most ambassadors will follow the lead of America's Dr. J. Leighton Stuart and go home for consultation.

Fort Worth Youths Ordered To U.S. Correctional Institution

FORT WORTH, June 1. (U.P.)—Two Fort Worth teen-agers, accused of being members of a youthful gang which attempted 17 burglaries while traveling over North Central Texas in a stolen car, today prepared to begin serving federal sentences.

Bobby Joe Boyd, 16, and Monty West, 17, were ordered confined in a federal correctional institution until they are 21, after they pleaded guilty before U.S. District Judge James C. Wilson to delinquency charges. They were subject to federal jurisdiction because the car crossed a state line into Oklahoma.

The four-member gang was smashed last month after one youth was left behind when the others, surprised during a burglary attempt in Cleburne, raced away.

Reds Grant American Ship Permission To Enter Shanghai

SHANGHAI, June 1. (AP)—Permission for the first American ship to enter Communist-held Shanghai has been issued to the China Victory of the Pacific Far East lines.

The vessel is due about June 7 from San Francisco by way of Tientsin and Hong Kong.

Last School Reform Bill Goes To Governor

Lamar College Plan Approved

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 1. — The last bill in a series of three giving Texas a brand new public school setup went to Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk today.

The Senate squeezed to final passage by a 16-12 margin the controversial House-passed bill to raise Lamar Junior college at Beaumont to a full four-year technological college, approved three constitutional amendments and approved 22-3 the outlay of $10,000,000 for soil conservation for the next two years. It was twice the amount the House approved.

The House voted 110 to 25 to accept a final rewrite of Senate bill 116, the minimum foundation measure, one day after the Senate accepted the conference committee report.

Opponents fought a furious but futile final action. It was the last gasp of protest in a running battle that started Jan. 15, the day the three Gilmer-Aikin school reform measures were introduced in the Senate. They were based on findings of the Gilmer-Aikin education committee authorized to study the school system by the 50th Legislature.

138-Day Fight Ends

The 138-day fight was one of the longest in Texas legislative history. Already before the governor for the certain signature that will make them law are Senate bills 115 and 117 — the first reorganization measure and the second a bill providing mechanics of financing the new school setup.

The minimum foundation measure will go into effect immediately upon signature by the governor, as will S.B. 117. The most controversial of the three—Senate bill 118 abolishing the elective office of state school superintendent—did not have enough votes to go into effect immediately. Its terms become operative 90 days after final adjournment of the 51st session.

Under a rider loudly protested by opponents, state auditor C. H. Cavness will act as administrator until the new elective board of education can qualify and name a commissioner of education to run the schools from the state level.

Driver Bill Advances

Gov. Beauford Jester signed Senate bill 115 into law today. Senate bill 117 has not reached the governor's office yet.

Other major legislative action:

Passage on second reading in the House of a bill to make automobile drivers financially responsible in accidents. The vote was 69 to 61, not enough to bring it up on final passage. This bill already has passed the Senate.

Approval of the House-passed anti-lynching bill on second read-

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Thursday, June 2, 1949

Plans Made For Conference Here

At a meeting of members of the program and executive committees of the Texas Staff Teachers association District IV English workshop-conference, held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Miss Glenys Honey, 1911 Fifteenth, date of the 1949 English workshop-conference was set for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22. The conference will be held in Lubbock.

The forthcoming conference, similar to the one held in Lubbock last October, will have as its general topic, "The Teaching of Reading," and will cover the teaching of reading comprehension, increasing the quantity and improving the quality of reading, and the critical evaluation of various types of reading material, such as imaginative literature, magazines, and newspapers.

Chairmen Are Named

At yesterday's meeting, chairmen of the three sessions of the workshop conference this fall were named, including Kline Nall, of the English faculty at Texas Tech; Miss Anne Louise Jones, of Odessa Senior High school; and Mrs. Nils Akeson, of Plainview Senior High school.

Members of the program committee attending Wednesday's meeting included Miss Honey, Mrs. Akeson, Mrs. J. L. Teal of Lubbock, and Nall.

From the executive committee were Miss Irene Arms of Lubbock Senior High school; Mrs. J. B. Caldwell of Slaton High school; Mrs. V. B. Hall of Howard County Junior college, Big Spring; Alan M. F. Gunn, of Texas Tech; Miss Quanah Lewis of Texas Tech; and Mrs. A. F. Rasor of Frenship Rural High school.

Mrs. Rasor was appointed chairman of the membership committee for 1949. Others who are to serve, on this committee are Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. J. W. Blomshield of Big Spring, Mrs. Suttle Purcell of Lamesa, and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Tahoka.

Some 40 schools were enrolled in the 1948 workshop-conference program and were represented at the meeting held in Lubbock last October by more than 125 teachers of English. A special effort is being made this year to enroll all junior high school English departments and all rural high school departments, conference officials have announced.

Venture Is Scheduled To Go 6,500 Feet

Drilling Slated Soon On Lubbock Wildcat

Drilling is to start before June 15 on a wildcat slated to go to around 6,500 feet in north-central Lubbock county, to test into the lower Permian lime.

The venture will be C. W. Chancellor of Midland, Slick Oil Company, et al, No. 1 Floyd Cloud. It is located 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block D, L&SV survey.

That makes it three-quarters of a mile southwest of the Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Lula Mae Cravens, small pump discovery from the lower Permian, completed more than two years ago. The No. 1 Cravens is reported to be currently pumping about 28 barrels of oil per day.

Owned By Midlanders

The wildcat is 10 miles north and two miles west of Lubbock. It is on a block of approximately 2,250 acres. A one-half interest in the block, and in the well-site is owned by a group of Midland operators which includes J. C. Williamson, Alvin L. Attaway, George R. Kribbs and R. R. Herrell.

Contract to drill the project with rotary tools has been awarded to Kirk-Green-Way, Inc., Lubbock drilling contractors.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, one location east outpost to the discovery well of the Flanagan-Ellenburger field in south-central Gaines county, has shown for some sort of production from the Devonian, and is to now drill ahead and investigate the Ellenburger.

Oil, Gas Are Shown

The Magnolia prospector, located 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey, showed its oil and gas in a drillstem test at 10,350—405 feet. The tool was open for three hours and 25 minutes.

A 1,000-foot water blanket was used. Oil started flowing out at the top of the drillpipe in one hour and four minutes. It was flowed to pits for 28 minutes to clean, and was then turned to tanks.

The well flowed 27 barrels of oil with no water in one hour. Gravity of petroleum was 33 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 40-1. Skaktoul was four-tenths of one percent drilling mud.

Operator drilled down to 10,430 feet and took a one hour and 17 minute drillstem test with the packer at 10,405 feet. A 1,000 foot water blanket was used.

Recovery was the blanket, and 7,530 feet of oil and gas cut salt water, estimated to have been ten percent oil. The venture has now resumed drilling.

The Magnolia venture is said to be 50 feet low on the top of the oil stained zone in the Devonian, the same marker in the Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, opener of the Flanagan field.

Delivery Of Baby Is Televised In Color

PHILADELPHIA, June 1. (U.P.)—The squall of a new-born baby girl delivered under a natural-color television camera, heralded a new era in the teaching of surgery today.

The television equipment was given its premier public demonstration at University of Pennsylvania hospital yesterday when 100 doctors and newsmen watched the delivery of the baby by caesarean section, and a thyroidectomy on natural-color screens.

Reception Is Clear

The baby was delivered by Dr. George Hoffman, 37-year-old surgeon at the university hospital and, the scene transmitted over a closed wire circuit to three color-television sets in a nearby auditorium.

The receiving sets contained three red, blue and green discs revolving rapidly and synchronized with three similar discs in the transmitting camera. The reception was clear and came through in natural colors without distortion.

Engineers emphasized, however, that the equipment was made expressly for medical instruction and that it could not be used in its present form for usual broadcasting methods. They pointed out that it was constructed for wired reception and could not receive radio waves through the air.

During the delivery, Hoffman kept up a running commentary of instruction through a tiny microphone placed inside his surgical mask.

Jews To Mark Holy Day Here

Shovuos, one of the most colorful holy days on the Jewish religious calendar, will open at sundown today and will be observed in services at 8 o'clock tonight at Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q.

At 8 p.m. Friday, a confirmation service will be conducted and the following pupils of the religious school will be confirmed: Al Alschuler, Morris Berger, Charles R. Fireman and Julian Potash Kornfeld of Lubbock and Geraldine and Reva Steinberg of Plainview.

Program Is Given

The sermon topic will be "Are You Grown Up?" Rabbi Julius Kerman will deliver the sermon.

Mrs. Sam Portnoff will sing a solo and Mrs. Joe Moise will be the accompanist.

Mrs. Alvin Goldstucker, newly elected president of the women's auxiliary, will present each confirmant with a Bible on behalf of the auxiliary.

Louis Wilk, president of the congregation, will present the confirmation certificates. A reception will follow.

Observance Ends Friday

Shovuos, or the Feast of Weeks, will close for Jews in Israel and for Liberal Jews at sundown Friday. Orthodox and Conservative Jews will observe an additional day Saturday.

According to tradition, Moses received the Ten Commandments from God at this season and established for all ages the covenant between God and Israel. In its origin, the festival celebrated the harvest season.

Confirmation services are conducted in temples and synagogues to observe Shovuos. The rabbi charges confirmants to prove worthy of their heritage by living in such a way as to be pleasing in the sight of God and man.

Rita, Prince Aly Remain In Seclusion At Home In Paris

PARIS, June 1 (INS)—Honeymooning Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan remained in seclusion in Paris today after their arrival last night from the prince's chateau near Cannes.

Servants at the prince's Paris home declined information on their whereabouts or their plans except to say Aly was "very busy."

Rita's cream-colored Cadillac and Alfa-Romeo, gifts of the prince, were parked in front of the home. Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan were reported planning tonight to travel to England Friday as house guests of Aly's friend, Peter Beatty, brother of the late Earl Beatty.

Chile will build farm machinery.

TO VISIT BIBLICAL PLACES

Dr. And Mrs. M. Norvel Young Plan Summer Tour Of Europe

Pennies saved and plans in the making over a long period of time are about to be put to use by Dr. and Mrs. M. Norvel Young, who are leaving for a three-months tour of Europe.

The minister of Broadway Church of Christ and his wife Wednesday were saying goodbyes in preparation for their departure on a trip which will give them an opportunity to see missionary work the church is doing and to visit the Holy Land and other Biblical places.

Mrs. Young and their two children, Emily, 4, and Matt Norvel, III, 2, leave today for Searcy, Ark., where she will leave the children with her brother, Dr. F. W. Mattox, dean of men at Harding college.

Dr. Young will join her soon at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. N. Young, sr., at Nashville, Tenn.

The Youngs, the elder Mrs. Young, Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Baxter, and Mrs. A. M. Burton of Nashville will then go to New York, whence they will leave by plane for London. Dr. Baxter is head of the speech department at David Lipscomb college in Nashville. Mrs. Burton will visit her son, a missionary in Germany, his wife and their two children.

Their tour of Europe will be a thorough one. It includes, among other points, visits to Stratford-on-Avon, Manchester, Wiggan, Cambridge, The Hague, Amsterdam, Brussels, Paris, Lyons, Marseille, Nice, Geneva, Berne, Zurich, Frankfurt, Vienna, Venice, Milan, Florence, Rome, Naples, Athens, Lydda, Palestine, Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

Dr. Young will preach at a week's meeting at the University of Frankfurt. The church has a mission there. The party will also visit Frascati, Italy, where the church has estab-

Spur Rodeo Opens Today

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, June 1 — The third annual Spur Cowboy Jubilee rodeo will get underway here Thursday with a parade through the downtown section at 1 p.m., to be followed by the initial rodeo performance in Jones stadium at Spur at 2:30 p.m.

Other rodeo performances are planned for 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, officials of the show said today.

Old Timers To Rope

The Spur Cowboy Jubilee is sponsored each year by business men of Spur and ranch and cattlemen of Dickens county and surrounding area. The rodeo performances will feature bronc riding, calf roping, a cowgirl sponsor contest, double mugging, bare back bronc riding and steer riding.

In addition, a special feature will be an old timers' roping contest. Participants must be at least 55 years of age and be qualified in order to enter.

Stock for the shows is being furnished by Goat Mayo of Petrolia, who furnishes stock for shows in numbers of West Texas towns.

136 File Entries

Admission to each show is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Old timers and their wives will be special guests at the rodeo performances and will be given free admission.

Prizes totaling some $2,500 are to be distributed to participants in the rodeo events. Championship winners will be announced at the final show on Saturday night, at which time championship prizes are to be awarded.

Show officials said that approximately 136 persons had entered the rodeo contests by late this afternoon. Others are expected to enter Thursday morning.

J. E. Swenson, president of the Spur Cowboy Jubilee, is director of the show. Ab Smith is arena director.

Other officers of the Jubilee are R. L. Westerman, vice president; W. R. Weaver, secretary; and W. T. Andrews, treasurer.

Directors are Andrews, Carl Murray, Johnnie Koonsman, Tom Johnston, John Matthews, Weaver, Bynum Britton, Swenson and M. L. Rickels.

Allied-Japanese Peace Meet Predicted For Near Future

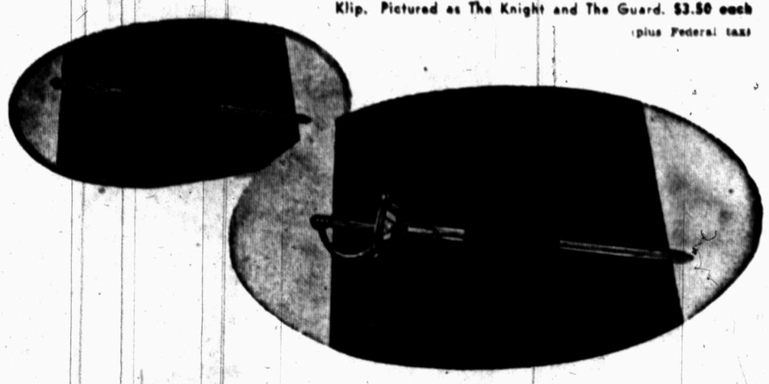

TOKYO, June 1 (INS)—Premier Shigeru Yoshida predicted today an Allied-Japanese peace conference will open in the near future.

The prime minister told newsmen that he based his forecast on reports that the attitudes of the United States, Australia and New Zealand toward Japan are "gradually improving."

Yoshida reiterated his view that Japan "should and could" trade with Communist China, but that formal opening of trade must wait stabilization of conditions in China.

ARCHBISHOP SOUNDS WARNING

Government To Control Naming Of New Czech Catholic Priests

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 1 — The Czechoslovak government announced today it intends to control the appointment of new priests and Catholic church personnel.

The order ran head-on into a new letter to the clergy from Archbishop Josef Beran, head of Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Catholics, again threatening automatic excommunication for "collaborators" with the Communist-dominated government.

The ministry of education decreed that no appointment of a priest, or other church administrative and personnel changes, would be valid unless printed in the government's "official Gazette for Catholic Clergymen."

Private Letter Used

The archbishop has instructed his priests to ignore the Gazette. The church's own publication has been banned by the government, so the archbishop resorted to a private letter to the clergy.

In it, he issued his strongest warning yet in Czechoslovakia's growing religious fight.

He charged the government had slammed the door on further peace talks with the church on the question of education.

Three newspapers were specifically forbidden in or near Catholic churches. These were Kidova Demokracie the People's party newspaper; Lidova Obroda in Slovakia, and the Christian Women of Brno. The People's party formerly was a Catholic party, but is now led by a minister in the government. Further, priests were directed not to accept or recommend any publication or holy picture not approved by the church.

The archbishop declared acceptance of membership in a government-fostered Catholic Action which he said the People's party was trying to organize, would be followed by "church punishment." He called this organization "non-Catholic action."

He forbade the sending of letters and articles to the government's church Gazette and other newspapers which support restrictions on the church.

He said all Catholic newspapers have been stopped; all church schools nationalized, pilgrimages forbidden, processions disallowed, Catholic books confiscated in all publishing houses and priest-farmers removed from their land on the ground they are "bad farmers." All complaints, protests and requests have gone unanswered, he declared.

Film Star's Mother Decides To End Marriage To Bandleader

HOLLYWOOD, June 1. (U.P.)—Mrs. Gladys Sylvio said today that her daughter, film star Margaret O'Brien, had nothing to do with her decision to end her three-month marriage to bandleader Don Sylvio.

She announced yesterday that she would seek an annulment.

The 12-year-old star was a tearful guest at their wedding last February in Palm Beach, Fla., after objecting bitterly before the marriage.

"It just hasn't worked out," Mrs. Sylvio said. "You might say Don and I have been separated ever since the wedding.

"Margaret is very happy about my decision."

Nation's Crude Oil Output Shows Decline During Week

TULSA, Okla., June 1. (AP)—The United States' daily average crude oil production during the week ended May 28 dropped 12,375 barrells under the previous week's figure to a total average of 4,906,125 barrels, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

Greatest declines were in Michigan, down 3,000 barrels to 42,300 barrels; Kansas, off 10,450 barrels to 285,950; Mississippi, 1,900 to 106,600, and Wyoming, 1,800 to 121,300.

States with the best gains were Illinois, up 1,600 barrels to 177,000 Oklahoma, up 1,400 to 430,150; Louisiana, 1,200 to 302,250, and California, 1,000 to 939,200.

Arkansas climbed 250 barrels to 80,250, and Colorado gained 200 to 66,100.

Production was unchanged in Alabama, 1,200 barrels; Texas, 1,884,800; New Mexico, 129,825, and Montana, 26,700.

Denton Mystery Still Unsolved After Year

DENTON, June 1. (AP)—Denton's most baffling mystery—the disappearance of Virginia Carpenter—was still unsolved today, a year to the day after the 21-year-old Texarkana girl vanished.

Virginia disappeared shortly after arriving here to enroll for the summer session at Texas State College for Women.

Virginia's mother, Mrs. Hazel Carpenter, is convinced that her daughter is dead. And she is also convinced her daughter's body is "around Denton someplace."

Mother Seeks Evidence

"I'm determined to break the case," Mrs. Carpenter said in a telephone call to The Record-Chronicle from Dallas, where she has been living for several months. She moved to Dallas in December to be nearer Denton and to keep in closer touch with officers who are working on the case.

"I know it's bound to be foul play, and I'm convinced Virginia's body is around Denton someplace," Mrs. Carpenter said. "I've studied the case from every angle and I've talked with so many officers in cities where crime is more evident. They have told me of many cases where bodies are not found over long periods of time after persons disappear."

The missing girl was last seen by a Denton taxi driver who delivered her from a railroad depot to a TSCW dormitory the night of June 1, 1948. The driver told officers he left her talking to two boys standing near a yellow convertible. Dormitory officials said she did not register there.

Police were notified and a statewide alarm sounded. Reports of seeing a girl fitting Miss Carpenter's description came from several states but investigations proved fruitless.

The missing girl was five feet, three inches tall and weighed 120 pounds. She had brown hair and eyes. When last seen she was wearing a brown, green and white striped chambray dress, white hat, red platform shoes and was carrying a red bag.

Mexico Oil Workers Reduce Demands For Increase In Wages

MEXICO CITY, June 1. (U.P.)—Oil workers, threatening a nationwide strike June 10, today cut their demands in half, and Labor Minister Manuel Ramirez Vazquez immediately announced that "I am 99.9 percent sure that the strike will not be called."

Workers had been demanding a 30 percent over-all wage increase, a hike of nearly $9 million (U.S.), but a union spokesman said today that "we'll gladly settle for $4,500,000 if they'll give us that much."

Vazquez said "this is not just an optimistic statement, but I sincerely believe that a work stoppage will be averted."

Meantime, the ministry of economy vigorously denied that Petroleos Mexicanos, the government-owned oil company, was "completely broke." The ministry claimed that Pemex is solvent for $22 million "disproving stories printed in the press." This same figure was echoed by Antonio J. Bermudez, the monopoly's director.

At the same time the Mexico City newspaper El Universal reported negotiations for a U.S. loan to rebuild Mexico's faltering internal oil distribution system "have completely collapsed." The paper pointed out that the Export-Import bank in Washington, reportedly handling a $100 million loan for Mexico, will not discuss a loan to a company with internal labor strife.

Approximately 95 percent of the population of the United States suffers from tooth decay.

Harris County's Crusading Constable Faces Damage Suit

HOUSTON, June 1. (U.P.)—Constable Dale Richardson of La Porte, the anti-gambling crusader and nemesis of Harris county gaming establishments, was named defendant today in a $35,600 damage suit.

The suit was filed in district court by two La Porte residents whose children were struck by a car Dec. 14, 1948, after leaving a school bus driven by Richardson.

The La Porte officer drove a bus for his hometown independent school district for a year before starting his roving clean-up campaign.

Carl M. Brown and Olly Garcia filed the petition, and also named as defandants were M. C. McKinney, driver of an automobile involved in the accident, and Lawyers Surety corporation, which provided Richardson's bond.

The petition specifically charged that Richardson was negligent in failing to warn the children that a car was approaching when they alighted from the bus.

Eisler Seeks To Sue U.S. For Lost Bail

PRAGUE, June 1. (AP)—Gerhart Eisler said today he is going to try to get back his $23,500 bail from the United States.

The German Communist said if he collects he will use the money to pay back a group in the United States who put up the bail he caused to be forfeited when he stole out of the United States on the Polish liner Batory.

"I have instructed my British solicitors to see what grounds they can sue for," he said.

He told the Communist newspaper Rudo Pravo that if he can't collect the money he will "start to pay the sum from my income as soon as I can work for a democratic, unified and peaceful Germany."

Eisler arrived here by plane from London yesterday, en route to Soviet-occupied Germany and a professorship at Leipzig university.

Officials Doubt Gromyko Report Changed Red Policy Toward U.S.

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

A report that Russia has shifted policy due to a form of "mediation" by Andrei Gromyko between the United States and Stalin has been received with considerable skepticism.

The report was published in the June issue of United Nations World, a non-official magazine devoted to international affairs.

"Report" Is Outlined

The magazine said it got its information from directives sent by Moscow to the chancelleries of eastern European satellites.

It said Gromyko reported to Stalin last Christmas, after a series of confidential exchanges with some 25 American industrialists and financiers, that:

Russo-American rapprochement is feasible; that the United Nations is the place to achieve it; that the American people do not want war; that Truman is genuinely determined to preserve peace; that the small group of American "jingoists" is losing ground; that U. S. economic aid to Russia and eastern Europe would be available once the political atmosphere cleared; that the U. S. would never allow the rebuilding of a Nazi Germany; that the U. S. distrusts Russian motives and only a genuine demonstration of good will can convince Americans that Russia sincerely wants peace.

This is said to have been the subject of long debate in the Politburo, ending in adoption of a new policy of working for normalcy in relations with the United States, the lifting of the Berlin blockade and renewal of four-power negotiations in Paris.

First reaction to the report was that you can hear anything in the chancelleries of the smaller European countries and that it is frequently not well founded; that the reported report to Stalin contained nothing he didn't know anyway, along with everybody else in the world; that if 25 American business men thought they had contributed to conciliation, 24 of them would have sought to obtain public credit long before now; and that there is no real new Russian policy anyway.

Dr. and Mrs. Young have planned the trip "ever since we were married," Mrs. Young explains. They have been saving money for the purpose during that time.

In July another Lubbock man, Paul Sherrod, will fly direct to Frankfurt, where he will spend a month at the mission seeing for himself the work that is being done. The mission now has 385 members and is conducting a school for evangelists.

The Youngs plan to return from Lisbon Sept. 5.

In the absence of Dr. Young, vice president of Abilene Christian college at Abilene, will preach at the Broadway Church of Christ for three Sundays. J. D. Thomas, former Lubbock resident now minister of Northwest Church at Chicago, will be here for six weeks, and Carl Spain of Lubbock will complete the summer.

MARKET MAKES RALLY

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Stability returned to the stock market today following the worst setback of the year on Tuesday.

Final prices showed a majority of losses, mostly fractional, but the price line was curving upward at the closing bell.

The market started downward at a fairly fast clip when trading started. After losses of fractions to around a point, enough demand developed to stop the decline dead in its tracks.

The volume of business topped 1,000,000 shares for the second day running. Turnover of 1,140,000 shares compared with 1,240,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .01 of one point to 60.7, a low since 60.5 was scored on March 16, 1948.

Of the 1,048 individual issues, 497 declined and 319 advanced.

Brokerage firms reported that short covering purchases helped to steady the market.

There was considerable questioning in Wall Street, however, on whether today's performance was a definite turn in a declining trend or merely a temporary interruption.

Almost all steel stocks, as well as a wide variety of other issues, hit new lows for the year or longer before rallying.

U. S. Steel old common finished unchanged at 64⅝ after dropping nearly a point at one time. Bethlehem added ¼ at 25⅝. Republic Steel ⅝ at 19⅞, and Youngstown Sheet ½ at 39½.

Closing higher were Studebaker, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Kennecott Copper, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, Radio Corp., International Paper, Santa Fe and Sinclair Oil.

Still lower at the finish were General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont (old), Standard Oil of California, and Standard Oil (NJ).

Corporate bonds were marked down slightly, with railway income obligations under most pressure. Several U. S. government issues moved narrowly in over-the-counter dealings.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP) — Corn came up with a firm trend on the board of trade today, giving some support to other grains. But wheat, after a mixed trend early, tended lower in the closing hour. Soybeans sank around a cent.

Wheat firmed at one time on an advance in cash prices at Kansas City, but backed down on word new crop Texas wheat had been offered for immediate shipment.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to 1¼ higher, July $1.89⅛-$1.89, corn was 2 to 2¾ higher, July $1.39⅛-⅜, oats were ½-¾ higher, July 57, rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, July $1.32-$1.31⅝, soybeans were ½ lower to 1¼ higher, July $2.17⅛-¾, and lard was unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.27.

nolia No. 1 Flanagan, was picked by some geologists to be at 10,295 feet. Top of the staining was at 10,365 feet. Elevation is 3,351 feet.

Shell No. 1 Hawkins showed a thicker Devonian pay zone than has been found in the Magnolia development. The Shell project showed for a heavy flowing production from that zone.

It was drilled on to the Ellenburger and found commercial production in that horizon. It was completed there.

No Production

The Devonian pay and the Clear Fork of the Permian, which also showed for production, are currently cased off and not being produced.

Magnolia No. 1 Flanagan has also showed for flowing production from the Clear Fork.

Deepening after recovering free oil and unloading some fluid on a drillstem test was in process at Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Sterling Williams, deep wildcat in northwest Borden county, about 11 miles northwest of Gail.

It was under 9,991 feet, penetrating lime. The test was at 9,878-9,928 feet for three hours, recovering 7,300 feet of clean oil kicked out while pulling drillpipe.

Information has been released on a drillstem test prior to the above show. The tool was open three hours at 9,830-78 feet. Recovery was 6,350 feet of clean oil and 250 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mul.

No Water Reported

The current lime formation, thought to be Pennsylvania, has yielded no water as yet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

The Fusselman section of the Silurian was rumored to have headed some oil during swabbing at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 18-B Cowden, dual pay opener two miles southeast of the Dollarhide field in southwest Andrews county.

Through perforations at 11,000-26 feet, operator acidized with 1,000 gallons and re-acidized with 3,000 gallons. After the second injection, the well was unofficially reported to have flowed oil.

No Information Released

No information was available as to whether the fluid was partly new oil or all load material.

The zone has been re-treated with 6,000 gallons of acid and swabbing was continuing, recovering load oil. Total depth is 11,244 feet.

The prospector also has shown production from a lower section in the Fusselman and from the Devonian.

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey.

ing in the Senate, 19 to 8. This was short of the majority needed for final passage.

Death in the Senate by a 13-14 count for a bill giving the state the right to try submerged land suits in Travis county as well as in counties where the land is located.

The Senate voted to hold an afternoon session. The House quit until tomorrow morning.

Claimed Not Legal

The last-ditch action against the Gilmer-Aikin bills centered on a conference committee - adopted rider to Senator Ottis Lock's minimum foundation measure making the state auditor interim school administrator.

Foes said it wasn't legal. Backers of the bill said it was essential to get the program under way immediately.

The Lock bill's stated purpose is to guarantee a minimum education for all school age children in Texas. It sets up a new system of financing designed to equalize the costs between various districts and the state, with the state furnishing additional help to districts found under application of an economic index.

The Lock bill provides $2,400 minimum annual salaries for teachers compared with the present $2,000 and minutely regulates such matters as teachers loads in classrooms.

The reorganization bill, by Senator Jim Taylor of Kerens (S.B. 115) abolishes the elective office of state superintendent, provides for an elective 21-member board of education instead of the present appointive board. It brings all phases of school activity under one head. The board would appoint such head — the commissioner of education.

S.B. 117, by Senator A. M. Aikin, jr., of Paris, sets up the mechanical operations of the minimum foundation school fund. It says where the money comes from.

Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers named the Senate's conference committees on three major appropriation bills — higher education, departmental and judiciary — to set the stage for possible early adjournment. Senator James Taylor, the Senate's finance chief, said the committees would go to work "probably tomorrow."

The Lamar college bill called for an appropriation of $1,000,000. It goes now to the governor. The bill had advanced in the Senate by a hard, slow struggle and had previously lost numerous attempts to bring it up for final passage.

Constitutional amendments approved by the Senate and returned to the House with amendments would authorize the legislature to set up civil service systems for counties over ... when so authorized by a vote of the people and to set up a statewide retirement system for appointive county officers. Sent to the governor was a proposed amendment to authorize creation of hospital districts supported by local taxes when authorized by popular vote. All must be voted on at the polls Sept. 24.

STRIKERS CONTINUE TO TIE UP RAIL TRAFFIC

Anglo-American Airlift Carries 250,000 Tons Of Supplies Into Berlin During May For New Mark

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 1.—Allied officials announced tonight that the Anglo-American airlift set a new monthly record in May when 250,000 tons of food and supplies were flown to Berlin. This was an average of 8,000 tons daily.

The airlift has taken a death toll of 58 fliers since it was established nearly a year ago.

Berlin surface traffic still is paralyzed due to the non-Communist workers' strike against the Soviet-controlled city transit directorate and Russian refusal to allow trains from the western occupation zones to enter the city.

Workers Vote Today

The striking workers of the West Berlin UGO union will vote tomorrow on the Communist-controlled rail directorate's offer to pay them 60 percent of their wages in western marks.

Complete rejection is expected after last night's informal refusal to accept the terms. The anti-Communist strikers want full payment in the more valuable western marks, recognition of their union, and reinstatement of workers fired for political reasons.

The rail directorate announced yesterday it had "settled" the strike by negotiating with the Soviet-controlled FDGB.

That union is not involved in the strike, hence the announcement had little meaning except for propaganda purposes.

The rail directorate also had ordered traffic to be resumed at 5 a. m. by FDGB workers, but the Russians apparently could not muster enough strike-breakers and nothing occurred.

To Increase Arms

The British-licensed newspaper Sozialdemokrat reported that the Russian military government has ordered an increase of East zone police to 650,000 in the next three months.

It quoted Kurt Fischer, chief of the East zone police, as saying these men would combat the "seriousness of the present situation."

Sozialdemokrat also quoted Rudolf Gyptner, deputy chief of the eastern police, as saying the men would be issued "double quantities of ammunition" and used to break the strike.

The British-licensed German news agency DPD said however that the Soviet military government has forbidden further physical force in the strike for fear it might involve Allied troops and entail "a series of political consequences."

Thirteen thousand members of the West Berlin BVG transport union meanwhile overwhelmingly rejected a Communist bid for domination of their group.

This union made up of street car, subway and bus operators—distinct from the rail workers—elected 236 non-Communists to its executive council compared to only 13 Communists or their sympathizers.

Boys Scouts' Camp At Post Gets Off To Impressive Start

With 115 Boy Scouts from nine troops on hand for the opening week-long session, Camp Post—summer camp of South Plains Scouts—this week got off to an auspicious start.

W. R. Postma, Council executive, said Wednesday that the new swimming pool at Camp Post has proved especially popular with campers during the first week. The improved rifle and archery ranges also are top attractions this year, he added.

Postma said plans have been made to permit Cub Scouts and their fathers to visit the camp for the next three week-ends. The Cubs will arrive in time for supper Saturday, and remain through lunch Sunday. Some 450 Cubs and their fathers are expected to take advantage of these arrangements, he said.

Camp Post probably will have a total Boy Scouts attendance of 450 boys this summer before it closes July 9.

Additional registrations still are being accepted at the Council office, 2109, Ave. X, Postma said. The week-long camp fee Scouts attending as troops with their own adult leaders is $11. Individual Scouts may attend the provisional camp July 3-9 for a fee of $12.50 each.

$2,697 Damages Asked As Result Of Car-Truck Crash

Damages totaling $2,697.25 were asked in a suit filed Wednesday in 72nd district court of Dan Blair, the action growing out of a Dec. 29 car-truck collision on Ave. H between Third and Fourth streets.

The suit was filed by Charles E. Rucker of Lubbock against Dan Davis, of Terry county, doing business as Dan Davis Transport company, and William Glenn Clayton of Potter county.

Rucker's car struck a parked truck operated by Clayton within scope of employment by Davis and the transport company, the petition alleged. Clifford W. Brown, attorney associated with the firm of Burks and McNeil, filed the case for Rucker.

House Group Drops 'Battle Of Planes'

WASHINGTON, June 1. (U.P.)—The House Armed Services committee today abandoned efforts to get a test of the Air Force's B-36 six-engine bomber against the Navy's best jet fighter.

Chairman Carl Vinson, (D-Ga) said the committee "for security reasons" will abide by a decision of the joint chiefs of staff that such tests would prove nothing and might be misinterpreted.

The committee had asked for the tests to be made after Navy sources challenged Air Force claims that the high flying bomber is "almost invulnerable" to attack.

The Navy said its McDonnell Phantom twin-jet carrier fighter can climb to the 40,000 foot operating altitude of the B-36 and knock it out of the sky.

Soldier Carried On Official 'Dead List' Is Back In Army

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Anthony Martino, listed officially as dead or missing for five years and center of a two-family martial mixup, was back in the Army today.

The Army, after he had reported for a checkup of his nebulous status, announced he returned to its ranks "technically" May 6 when he first informed military authorities he was alive.

Martino, 40, who had been given up for dead in action in France in 1944 said he had no desire to see his legal wife, Mrs. Mary Martino, 37, of Waterbury, Conn.

In Waterbury, Mrs. Martino, who learned that her husband had a wartime mate and one child on Staten Island, announced she would seek a legal separation.

Col. John S. Roosma, First Army provost marshal, said "as of now we're bringing him back into the Army like any other soldier who surrenders himself after being absent from his unit.

Martino appeared at the Army recruiting station, where he called a few weeks ago to get his Army records straight. He said he didn't know how he got home from Europe. He was identified through fingerprints as the man carried on Army lists of dead.

WHY OF ALLERGIES

CHICAGO, (U.P.)—Allergies are caused by the same body defense mechanism which battles microbes, Dr. Frank A. Simon, Louisnille, Ky., writes in the Journal of the American Medical Association. But some persons' defenses become mis-directed against usually harmless substances, such as food or pollen, he said.

Pre-School Registration Will Continue; Certificates Needed

Registration for pre-school youngsters will continue today at 15 Lubbock elementary schools.

Some 450 six-year-olds, with surnames beginning with the letters "A" through "M," enrolled Wednesday.

Today's registration will be for children whose surnames begin with the letters "N" through "Z."

Mrs. Ivy Savage, pre-school principal, Wednesday reminded parents that it is essential that each child registering have a smallpox vaccination certificate and a birth certificate. In addition, the local school system recommends that each child have had diphtheria, typhoid and whooping cough shots.

Change In Classes Made

Students registering at Central Ward school, which is now being remodeled, are being sent to Room 106, K. Carter school, to attend classes, Mrs. Savage said. Miss Hattie Herm is teacher of this group, which will hold its first regular meeting at 8 a.m. Friday.

Enrollment figures for 21 enrichment courses started Wednesday will not be available until later this week, school officials said.

Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, reminded parents of children of junior high level that special individual training is available at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High for students who are weak in the subjects reading, spelling and penmanship.

Also, leisure time courses in Spanish, chorus and dramatics are offered at J. T. Hutchinson, Miss Lomax said. It is hoped that there will be sufficient enrollment in chorus and dramatics to make possible presentation of an operetta this summer.

J. T. Huthinson also has an art class open to both students and adults.

Another service being offered this summer by Lubbock Public schools is special assistance in agricultural matters. Supt. R. W. Matthews announced that persons with problems relating to livestock, landscaping, gardening or other such agricultural matters may contact N. J. Robnett, agriculture teacher, at Lubbock Senior High school between the hours 7:30 a. m. and noon on Tuesdays or Thursday. Robnett also is supervising the summer program of school agriculture students.

First U.S. Market In Rice Futures Opens In New York

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP) — The first U.S. market in rice futures opened today, but there were no sales.

Initial operations in rice futures on the floor of the New York Mercantile exchange consisted of jockeying for a price position on which to base future sales.

The closing range per hundred pounds for January long grain was $8 bid and $10 asked. The opening offer to sell January long grain was $12.90, with bidders offering $11.50.

Newspaper 'Fillers' Provide Treasury Of Facts For Readers

You learn such interesting things from your newspaper. Particularly if you read the fillers.

A filler, you know, is a brief news item of one to six lines of type. It is used, as the name implies, to fill out a column when the stories in the column fall short of the mark.

A recent survey of several dozen Morning Avalanche fillers indicates that these little gems of wisdom are something no self-respecting radio quiz program addict would be without. They are true treasures of figure and fact, bits of knowledge that one never could discover elsewhere—not even in the bulkiest almanacs.

Might Come In Handy

So, if you aspire to some day "Break the Bank," or to drag down the "double" on "Double or Nothing," you'll do well to follow the fillers. Those thin shavings of information might come in handy.

A meandering survey of the field shows that the writers of fillers know no bounds in their eager search for material for those last few lines of type. They cover the globe, both on land and sea.

Let's look at a few examples.

We find, among other things, that "Prices still soar in Turkey." Well, there goes that summer vacation in Istanbul, shot to thunder. Who would want to visit a land where prices still soar?

Keep Your Eye Peeled

Also, "The sea has washed up 70 $4 notes lost in a drain at Auckland, New Zealand." Next time you're down at the beach, be sure to keep an eye peeled for currency that's run aground. And let this serve as a reminder that a drain is a poor place to store your extra $4 notes.

Then there's the startler, "It is said that an electric refrigerator has 1,397 parts." Any husband who's ever tried to repair one would readily testify that there must be at least twice that number. And "Mexico has new money troubles." Yeah, Mexico—and a few million American husbands who have just bought the little woman a new spring outfit.

"In Copenhagen, Denmark, a stolen railway locomotive was sold as scrap.' There you are, Buster. Now you know how to dispose of that train engine you've been hiding in the cellar.

A Housing Problem

Next, "A family living in a cave near Sydney, Australia, pays $5 a week rent." And we Lubbockites think we have a housing problem.

In case you're thinking of whipping up a Mexican dinner, "Argentina has 1,500 tons of pink garlic to export by August 1."

And if you've been pitying the war-ravaged Greeks, you'll be stunned to learn that "Greek bank employes now get overtime after a 36-hour week."

If you need a job, "East Africa lacks stenographers."

And, animal lovers, "A goat at Chelmsford, England, had quadruplets."

The Same Old Line

Another filler states that "The richest lead deposit in Southern Rhodesia has been found near Umtali." So if you need any sinkers for your fishing tackle, drop by Umtali on your way to the lake next Sunday.

"Yugoslavia reports that its first fountain pens, now being manufactured are 'cheap, simple and of good quality'." Sounds like the same old line the ball-point pen salesmen use.

And, to bring the list to a close, there was that one-line sparkler, "Israel had a brewery strike." You may write your own punch line (no pun intended) for that one.

IN TEXAS THEY'RE BIGGER, NATURALLY—Harry Johnson, airline foreman in Dallas, looks over the battered nose of a DC-6 which was pounded by a freak "Texas-size" hailstorm over the western part of the state. The Los Angeles-bound plane returned to Dallas where passengers boarded another flight.

U.S. Pilot Found Dead In Plane Wreckage In Sea Near Panama

PANAMA, June 1 (AP) — The body of R. Wayne Ingram, 29, U.S. pilot from Waco, today was found in the wreckage of his plane in the sea off Puerto Armuelles in Chiriqui province.

Searchers reported that the body was trapped in the plane's cabin. Divers are expected to raise the craft today. The plane, en route to Armuelles to pick up passengers, fell into the sea after losing its tail and part of its fuselage in a midair collision with another aircraft yesterday.

Georgia Teacher, Victim Of Cancer, Wins Fight For Refund Of Retirement Payments

By CHARLES BARRETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, June 1. —Dr. Willie Melmouth Bomar won back her 208.70 from the state of Georgia today after a 53-hour sitdown strike with little food or sleep in a barn-like state office building.

"I won," said the matronly 34-year-old doctor of philosophy as she clutched her check and walked out sedately. She had to quit her job as a teacher to collect.

"I got my money. It was worth it."

Director J. L. Yaden of the Georgia Teacher Retirement system also decided with a sigh, "I won."

"I followed the law," he insisted.

Teacher Demands Refund

Dr. Bomar entered his office Monday morning and demanded a refund of her contributions to the Teacher Retirement system. She had been teaching home economics this year in Glenwood, Ga.

"They took it out of my puny little salary without consulting me," declared the dark-haired, unmarried woman, author of four books and holder of three degrees.

"Now they want me to wait until I'm dead with old age to collect it.

"Well, I've got cancer. I need the money for treatment—and cancer won't wait."

The state declined the refund on her terms. Dr. Bomar settled in a straight backed chair in the retirement system office and vowed, "I'm going to sit here until I get my money."

After three days and two nights of harried negotiations with the determined woman, the crisis was solved.

The state insisted all along that it couldn't legally refund the money until Dr. Bomar resigned as a teacher. So she agreed today—"under coercion" she said—to wire her resignation to her superintendent in Wheeler county.

From 10:30 a.m., Monday until 3:30 p.m., today when she ended her vigil, Dr. Bomar did without food except for a "sandwich and a half last night and a candy bar this afternoon."

She said she didn't mind the lack of food. "A little reducing won't hurt," she said.

Dr. Bomar left promptly for the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., for her cancer treatment. After that, she said, she would look for writing or editing work in New York or Washington and possibly return to Georgia, her native state, later.

"I might even start teaching again," she said.

She received $193.50 a month as a teacher this year. Yaden said all teachers by law come under the system.

WELL LOADED

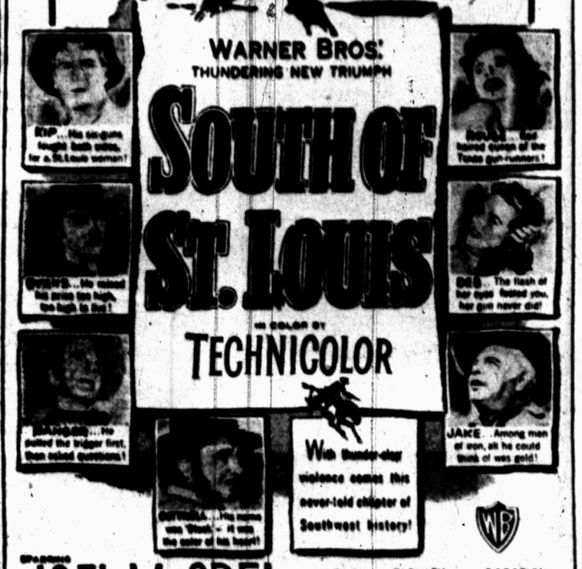

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — In one overcoat pocket of a one-armed vagrant, police found 84 pencil stubs, 46 match books, 24 cigar butts, 12 envelopes, 12 handkerchiefs, 10 marbles, six cigarettes, six buttons, six combs, four powder puffs, three tooth brushes, three packages of tobacco, two hats, two mirrors, a belt, a cue chalk, a roll of twine, a religious medal, a spoon, a snuff box, a pipe stem, a cigarette holder, an empty wallet, a necktie, several scraps of paper and several razor blades.

GERMAN UNITY HOPES REBUFFED

Reds Believed To Have Achieved Aims In Blockade Negotiations

By WALTER G. RUNDLE
United Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, June 1 — High-level U.S. and British sources in Germany said today that Russia probably achieved all her immediate objectives in the recent New York Berlin blockade negotiations.

As a result, these sources said, the Soviet went into the council of foreign ministers meeting in Paris "merely to shake the plum tree, hopeful that something will drop in her lap."

General Gives Analysis

A majority of well-informed observers here and in Berlin agree substantially with the following analysis of Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, U.S. Berlin commandant:

1. The Berlin blockade was a bankrupt Russian policy and its continuation merely emphasized its failure.

2. The Russians urgently needed the lifting of the counter-blockade, which was crippling the economy of the Soviet zone of Germany.

3. The Russians wanted to put an end to the airlift, which had become a symbol of western power—particularly to Berliners and residents of the Soviet zone.

4. The Russians hoped the Western Powers would jump at a chance to end the cold war in Berlin and Germany and agree to a united Germany on Soviet terms.

Extra Dividend Missed

All but the last of these objectives were implicitly achieved in the agreement for lifting the Berlin blockade. The latter was a gamble in behalf of a possible extra dividend, western sources said.

A British source put it this way:

"In asking for the council of foreign ministers meeting the Russians were hoping for a plum in the form of German unification on Soviet terms, abandonment of the West German state or a renewed voice in control of the Ruhr. At minimum, the Paris meeting offered a world sounding board for the Russian propaganda line of peace, unity and early withdrawal of occupation troops from Germany."

Since the "plum tree" yielded no fruit, the source said, it came as no surprise when Russia turned to a propaganda barrage designed to blame the West for failure of the confernce.

707th Bomb Squadron Reserve To Hold Meet At LAFB Tonight

The 707th Bomb Squadron (VH Res) will hold its regular twice monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 in building 62, Lubbock Air Force base.

The business part of the meeting will be devoted to military lectures and pictures, according to Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, assistant operations officer of the squadron. Many of the members of the squadron will go on active duty tours this summer and they are especially urged to attend.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will also meet at the same time in the Officers' club.

J. Bowman of Dallas; and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Contracts Awarded On Hobbs Projects

HOBBS, N. M., June 1 (Special)—The mayor and city council of Hobbs today awarded a contract for a $610,000 street paving and storm sewer project.

A Lubbock firm of engineers, Hasie and Green Engineering company, designed the project. Coleman L. Hasie, partner, came to Hobbs for the bid opening.

The contract was awarded to Allison and Haney of Albuquerque on a bid of $610,728.87. The bid was in the amount of $301,435.86 for paving and $309,293.01 for storm sewers.

Second low bidder was Lee Mexico Construction company of Dallas, whose bids totaled $663,611.72. Third bidder was Armstrong and Armstrong of Roswell, who submitted a bid of $671,907.18.

Two Persons Are Fined After Borger Girl Accidentally Shot

BORGER, June 1. (AP)—Two persons pleaded guilty today to charges of aggravated assault in connection with an incident Monday in which a 10-year-old girl was accidentally shot.

Persons pleading guilty were Mrs. Hazel Bates and C. A. Johnson, her nephew. They were fined $20 each, plus court costs by Carson county Judge O. R. Beddingfield.

Mrs. Bates pleaded guilty to the accidental shooting of a 10-year-old bystander, Patricia Ann Gibson, during a scuffle over a .22 calibre pistol. The child is recovering from a serious wound in the abdomen.

Johnson pleaded guilty to aggravated assault on Mrs. Bates. Sheriff Clarence Williams said Mrs. Bates was struck on the head.

Levens Again Named To Head Bus Group

Jess C. Levens, vice president and general manager of Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, was re-elected president of the Texas Motor Bus association in annual meeting of directors of the association at the Hilton hotel here Wednesday.

It will be Levens' fourth term as president.

C. D. Thomas, vice president, Continental Southern Lines, Nacogdoches, was re-elected vice president and J. Manley Head, Austin, secretary-manager.

The association's directors voted to join hands with the Texas Safety association in promoting safety on Texas highways and discussed at length a proposed contract buying plan for association members. Other association matters were disposed of and the directors voted to hold a general membership convention this fall.

The meeting, which opened at 10 a. m., closed with a luncheon in the Chimayo room.

Runnels County Rancher Wins Reversal Of 99-Year Sentence

AUSTIN, June 1. (AP)—A 99-year sentence for murder, assessed against a Runnels county ranch foreman in connection with the death of his wife, was reversed today by the court of criminal appeals.

The high court reversed and remanded for new trial the case of T. Clifton Clary.

Clary's wife was found dead after their ranch home, 15 miles northwest of Ballinger, was destroyed by fire on Jan. 31, 1948. An original verdict of accidental death was returned.

However, on Feb. 17, Mrs. Clary's body was exhumed.

Clary was indicted and tried for murder.

The court, in remanding the case for new trial, said a change of venue should have been granted.

The case received wide attention.

MENTAL ILLNESS

It Needs Attention

MUCH progress has been made within relatively recent years in awakening the realization that men often are victims of mental illnesses more difficult to detect and more serious than physical ailments.

One noteworthy example of progress in this field was supplied during World War II. Those inducted into the armed forces had to pass mental as well as physical tests. The psychiatric examinations were not thorough. But they barred from the services many thousands of individuals who, in the opinion of the psychiatrists, lacked mental stability.

The consensus of the voluminous psychiatric reports was that, in the vast majority of cases, the conditions from which most of the rejectees suffered could be corrected by treatment. It was the further opinion that failure to obtain treatment would, in many instances, result in eventual insanity.

It should be of widespread interest, therefore, that the Assembly of World Health Organization, which is to meet in Rome this month, is to devote more attention than in any previous meeting to subjects relating to the mental health of humankind. Specifically, the National Mental Health foundation, has announced it will urge an appropriation of $1,000,000 for educational and research activities of this nature.

We do not pretend to know whether the foundation's suggested approach to the problem is the best one, or whether the proposed expenditure would be desirable. The world assembly, in which more than 50 nations are represented, will have to decide that. But it is encouraging that increasing attention is being given to the problems of mental health, and that those who specialize in this field are attacking it in a systematic way which is pretty sure to get beneficial results.

Crazy Arithmetic

THE MOST illogical tax "economy" bill proposed in Congress in a long time is the so-called "accelerated collection" measure introduced by Rep. Wilbur D. Mill, of Arkansas. Its fallacies are apparent to anyone with a knowledge of simple arithmetic.

Representative Mill sought to devise a bill which, he said, would provide the $4,000,000,000 increase in taxation demanded by President Truman without adding to the taxpayers' burden.

So he came up with a proposal to compel corporations to pay next year's taxes during the first six months. This, he argued, would bring in about $5,000,000,000 extra during the six month's period.

Such a scheme unquestionably would provide a great deal more than Mr. Truman has asked for the first half of the year. The President wants $2,000,000,000 more for that period. Representative Mill would give him $5,000,000,000. That would be dandy—for the first six months.

But what about the second six months? Mr. Mill is somewhat vague as to that, treating it as a bridge to be crossed when reached. The only possible bridge would be more taxation upon someone to carry the government through the second half of the year. No matter who paid it, John Q. Taxpayer would wind up by footing the bill.

To require the corporations to pay a year's taxes in six months would be nothing more or less than a doubling of a form of taxation which invariably is passed right along to the consumer. He not only would have to absorb this additional expense, but also would face a newly set precedent under which the administration might be encouraged to demand a similar acceleration of individual income tax payments—meaning a thinly disguised method of doubling such levies.

The average American boy can take a lot of punishment. He doesn't mind sitting through a double-feature for the second time.

A Wisconsin preacher is planning a floating church. A sinner will then really be between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Truman finds it hard to slip away from his wife. That's one presidential problem the average man can understand.

When It Comes To Germ Warfare—

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Bea Cosgrove has learned that Fred Sillwell, like herself, is not satisfied that Lilly Warren's death on Speare Island was suicide. Sillwell, whose yacht was wrecked off the island, knew Lilly before she came to the island as a prospective bride of Henry Gough Harding, owner of the island. He offers to pay Bea if she will find out things and tell them to him exclusively. As Bea leaves Sillwell she meets Mollie Stark, one of Sillwell's party with whom Harding is infatuated. She eavesdrops and learns that Sillwell wants Mollie to "play up" to Harding, but that Mollie doesn't like Harding because he's "no fun.")

XXIII

THE night was inky black with a high overcast hiding any stars. Bea Cosgrove skirted the house, guided by fingertips running along the rough stone. Once inside the entrance to the storerooms she lit the single forbidden match.

The feeble glow let her move directly to the place where she had hidden a flashlight when she was in charge of supplies. She began a systematic search of the openings on the high-hand side of the corridor.

The third room she visited was empty. Near the center, an irregular, darker patch showed in the light of her flash. She bent over, rubbed her fingers along its edge. The stone was still damp. She put her hand to her face. There was no stain and no odor except a vague scent which might have been soap.

She had no warning.

A huge bare arm snaked around her from the left, crossed her body and gripped her right arm. At the same instant a hand, which covered her jaw from ear to ear, clamped across her mouth. The flashlight fell from her hand to stone but did not go out.

"Relax," Captain Oak said. "I do not mean to hurt you."

It was hard, one of the most difficult things she had ever done. She achieved a limpness at last. She staggered to a wall, leaned against it for support, gasping.

"I did not want to startle you," Oak said. "But I was afraid you would scream. Not that anyone would have heard, but when a person starts screaming it is sometimes difficult to stop."

MISS COSGROVE shuddered. Her heart thumped, made her ears ring. She tried to control her breathing.

He picked up the flash, handed it to her. "It was fortunate meeting you here. I wanted to see you again before I left."

"You—you're leaving?"

"For a few days, a few hours. There are certain things I must do before a storm comes and holds me on this island. But I'll be back. Now. What are you doing down here?"

"I should ask that," Bea said irritably. "And I might ask how you come and go as you please?"

He shrugged. "Are you ready to leave? Would you like to leave Speare Island now?"

"It's a tempting thought," she admitted. "But no. And I'll tell you what I was doing here. I was looking for a trace of blood, or and empty cartridge case."

"A good enough reason, perhaps. But it would mean you did not believe what I told you. It would mean you believe Mrs. Warren killed herself or was killed, up here and sent down in one of the cars."

"And why are you here?"

"A man must eat," Oak said.

"All right," she retorted. You don't believe my story and I don't believe yours. As for eating, have you finished off the whole sheep already? Or did you just come up for a few canned vegetables to go with it?"

"THE sheep? Oh yes. The blood and the wool on the cases of whiskey." He reached out and tilted her head until the light shone on her face.

"I know. You thought I killed Lilly Warren."

"There was the automatic," he reminded. "I must go now. We will meet again. If—"

"If I'm still alive?"

"That was in my thoughts," he admitted. "But I will leave my gun with you since you have lost yours."

"I've no place to hide it. Especially one that size." She pointed the light to the gun in his holster.

"I'll hide it in the cave near the gold."

"The gold?"

Oak chuckled. "There is something you have not yet found out? Very well then. I will bury the gun in the sand of the cave near the entrance."

"Swell." Bea said. "If I should need a gun, do you think I'd have time to say pardon me while I run down and dig for an hour or two in the sand?"

"I'll think of something else. And if I'm fortunate I'll be back before the storm hits."

"You're no fisherman," she said suddenly.

He took her hand again and directed the light downward toward his bare feet, splayed to grip a pitching deck. "Fisherman's feet. I am the son of a fisherman. But a fisherman must have many sons. And nowadays fishing is big business, so one son must be educated. I was chosen and now I am a lawyer. But still a fisherman at heart and in body certainly."

"You spoke," Bea said curiously, "as if you too had been afraid. What do you fear?"

"What do I fear? I am afraid of giving permanent injury to my family through some mistake of my own."

The pressure on her hand tightened for a moment, was relaxed. She stood, straining her ears, heard only the soft rattle of a single pebble to tell her she was alone. She took hesitant steps forward, came out from under the overhanging of the veranda.

She skirted the wall, made the turn, hurried up the veranda steps.

Henry Harding sat alone at the head of the huge table. He turned, faced her. She watched a gradual awareness of his surroundings come over his face.

"Ah, Miss Cosgrove," he said. "I thought you had retired."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

DO YOU ever feel like a goshdarn fool and happy as can be about it?

That's just the way I feel this morning and, do you know, it is a grand and glorious feeling.

Try it some time, it's a wonderful tonic.

When I woke up this morning it was raining cats and dogs. Just the kind of weather that should make you feel blue and grouchy.

Not me, I started to sing in the bathroom, and my wife reminded me that singing before breakfast is bad luck.

BRANDEIS

I laughed. This is not the kind of day that could possibly bring me bad luck.

So I sat down at the breakfast table, enjoyed my ham and eggs, got up from my chair and heard a rip.

A nail sticking out of the chair had torn a big triangular piece out of the bottom of my pants.

"See what I told you?" said the wife.

"That's what you get for singing before breakfast."

"That's what I get for being too lazy to take a hammer and drive that nail back into the chair," I replied. "Bad luck has nothing to do with it."

My wife, being the one to mend my pants, didn't join in the happy occasion, but as I left the kitchen I heard her mumble something that sounded very much like "gosh darn fool."

I went upstairs with my morning papers, and my eye fell on an article entitled "Little Furs," written by a lady named "Epsie Kinard."

Feeling, as I told you, very happy this morning I chuckled.

I have seen and heard all kinds of names, but "Epsie" struck me funny.

What does it mean? Why was this lady named "Epsie?" What could an "Epsie" look like?

To judge by the name she should be awfully cute. I shall try to meet her some time. Don't think I am making fun of the name or of the lady who bears it.

But it's odd, and as did Bob "Believe it or Not" Ripley, I like oddities.

THEN I got another laugh.

A fellow sued another fellow for damages because of injuries he suffered in a fight.

A learned doctor with whiskers took the stand and described the injuries.

"He has bilateral perorbital hematoma and left subjunctival hemorrhage" he testified.

"Just what does that mean in plain English?" asked the judge.

"Two lovely black eyes," interpreted the plaintiff's lawyer.

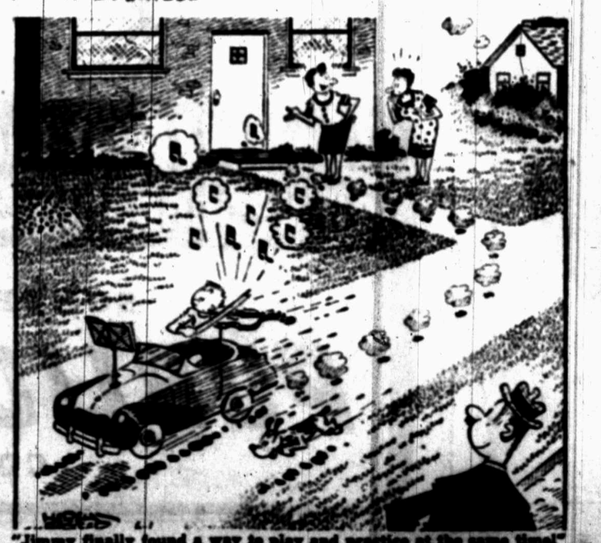

I just read over what I've just written.

Stupid, isn't it?

But I am sure you'll forgive me. And I hope, you, too, will make a monkey of yourself every now and then.

It's a wonderful tonic for happiness.

Some Demos 'Revolt'

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The most serious and constructive criticism of the Forrestal suicide revolves around the architecture of the Bethesda Naval Hospital, where he plunged to his death from the thirteenth floor.

The original architect's drawings of the structure, which stands only a mile from the writer's home, were for a two-story building sprawled across Maryland's rolling acres.

There was plenty of land available for such a layout, and it is generally conceded by physicians and medical experts that hospitals, schools and similar institutions should be built in accord with this design if acquisition of sufficient ground does not prove too costly.

[redacted] TUCKER

But when the plans were shown to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, he protested, and drew a rough sketch of the present skyscraper hospital. As finally developed and constructed, Bethesda Naval Hospital is one of the most beautiful buildings of its kind in the country. Aviators approaching the Capital guide their flights by it.

TOWER: Specific criticism resulting from the the Forrestal tragedy centers on the practice of placing patients known to have suicidal tendencies high up in the tower.

Navy spokesmen explain that it is the custom to place "High hats" and "the brass" in this section of the hospital, whence they have an excellent view of the lovely countryside.

It is here that dignitaries like Cordell Hull, Harold L. Ickes and members of Congress are generally assigned. But the medicos' logical answer is that "brass" should not count when it is a matter of a man's life or death.

Were ground floor suites available for men like Mr. Forrestal, and had other elementary precautions been taken, he would probably be alive today. In fact, it is understood that this tragic incident may lead to a rearrangement of the institution's facilities from top to bottom.

SNUBBED: Representative Francis E. (Thad) Walter of Pennsylvania can hardly be blamed for his alleged attempt to get Roy E. James, who ran against Mr. Walter in the Congressional elections last fall, fired from his $8,500 post as a War Department programmer.

Rarely have loyal Administration men been so snubbed by the White House as Keystone Democrats have been under Harry S. Truman.

Mr. Walter, for instance, is chairman of the Democratic caucus in the House, and liaison man on patronage between that body and 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Besides serving as Democratic whip in the Senate, Senator Francis J. Myers headed the platform committee at Philadelphia and worked valiantly to produce a mild Civil Rights plank that would not antagonize the so-called "Dixiecrats." His efforts were balked on the convention floor by the "liberal" faction led by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota.

REPLACEMENT: Messrs. Walter and Myers have not complained openly about their neglect at the hands of President Truman, but they have grumbled in the cloakrooms. But the avowed partisan attack on the James appointment by Mr. Walter was, presumably, his way of letting the White House know how he and his friends felt about this cold-shouldering.

When Mr. Truman looked around for a conservative replacement for Marriner S. Eccles as head of the Federal Reserve Board, he picked Thomas B. McCabe of Chester, Pa., a Union League Republican.

Although it is difficult to criticize this appointment, Messrs. Myers and Walter feel that there were plenty of able Democratic bankers and financiers in Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and points between for this influential position.

UNGRACIOUS: The naming of John Carson to a Republican vacancy on the Federal Trade Commission was an even more ungracious treatment of the Pennsylvania politicos.

As an extreme "liberal," the former secretary of Senator James Couzens and admirer of the "Old Bob" La Follette-Borah-Norris philosophy, Mr. Carson's attitude on this agency will not advantage Pennsylvania business and industry.

He will undoubtedly vote with the FTC group whose original action led to the Supreme Court decision wiping out the basing-point system that has enabled Pennsylvania and many other northeastern industries to compete on equal terms with competitors in other sections of the country.

He will also go along with Mr. Truman's demand, even though changing conditions have made it obsolete, that the government finance steel expansion if the private companies do not increase their facilities.

OBJECTION: At the urging of Mayor Dave Lawrence of Pittsburgh, President Truman appointed Thomas Buchanan to the Federal Power Commission last year. But there has been violent objection in committee to his confirmation, and he is not yet sure of his job.

Mayor Lawrence and Senator Myers begged President Truman several months ago to use his influence to obtain a Buchanan confirmation, but so far the President has not responded.

Pennsylvania Democrats are not alone in their suffering from presidential neglect. Administration supporters in such politically important states as Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Ohio are also complaining. They begin to suspect that a man has to be "from Missouri" to get anywhere under this Administration.

PROTECTION FOR OFFICIALS URGED

Probe Of German Policy Needed

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Accumulating evidence reveals how arbitrarily American military government officials in Germany acted in firing two members of AMG's decartelization staff who were ousted because of their criticism that the program to break up German cartels had not been carried out in accordance with policy established by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

Developments emphasize the need of an open hearing here in Washington, for an airing of these two cases will show to the public and to Congress just how high military government officials frustrated our war aim to break up the military potential of Germany inherent in the great cartels and to curb the power of Nazi industrial leaders who worked with Adolph Hitler.

The two men are Alexander Sacks, a member of the decartelization staff whose case first was disclosed several weeks ago, and Charles H. Collison, deputy chief of the decartelization element, whose dismissal came to light recently. Mr. Collison practiced law in New York for 13 years before he went to Germany, and Mr. Sacks formerly was with the New York office of the Justice department's anti-trust division.

Report Is Banned

Both were summoned as witnesses before the special commission headed by Garland S. Ferguson, member of the Federal Trade commission, which was sent to Germany last December by then Secretary of Army, Kenneth C. Royall, to investigate the cartel program. In its report a few weeks ago, the Ferguson commission backed up the testimony of the two men that high officials had failed to carry out the directed policy.

Mr. Sacks has suffered quite an on-again-off-again experience. First suspended last February, he then was reinstated when his treatment was protested. Recently he again was summarily dismissed by order of General Lucius D. Clay just before the former U.S. military governor in Germany gave up his post to return home, though simultaneously here in Washington Acting Secretary of War Gordon Gray had written his counsel, Wendell Berge, former head of the Justice department's anti-trust division, that Mr. Sacks' case was closed.

His case now is the subject of a grievance hearing, as it is called, in Frankfort. Acting Secretary Gray has informed Mr. Berge that if Mr. Sacks is not satisfied with his hearing there he can ask for a hearing de novo, before the Secretary of War here. It is assumed Mr. Collison will be given the same opportunity.

More light is shed on Mr. Collison's case in a letter he wrote, dated May 21, to John C. Stedman, chief of the legislative and clearance section of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, who was on the staff of the Ferguson commission. He said:

"In January, 1949, shortly after your committee had departed from Germany, Mr. Richardson Bronson, chief of the U.S. decartelization element, demanded that I resign from my position as deputy chief of the decartelization element because after reading my testimony before your committee Mr. Bronson stated that I had been disloyal to him personally. I refused to resign.

Resignation Was Demanded

"On 17 May 1949 Mr. Bronson again demanded that I resign because of my testimony before your committee. I refused again and Mr. Bronson told me I was fired then and there because of my testimony. I requested this statement in writing and Mr. Bronson promised to give it to me. Later the same day Mr. Bronson wrote me a letter but it merely stated that I had been declared surplus."

Mr. Collison said he was declared "surplus," despite the fact that on May 6 Mr. Bronson had announced that the official policy of the military government was that the decartelization personnel would not be cut but probably increased. The Ferguson committee recommended strengthening of the staff.

The ousted deputy urged that something be done to protect government employes that are called to testify before investigating committees.

"It would seem," he wrote, "that if investigating committees are to get the benefit of honest comments from government employes in the future something must be done to protect those government employes from reprisals of the type now being used against me. Particularly should the employe be protected when his statements are statements of fact."

This year's sugar crop on the Island of Mauritius was so big that bags ran out.

. . . the story of the sign that was hidden on a quiet street . . .

When a "For Sale" sign is posted on a piece of property, the market possibilities are limited by the number of passersby. The quiet street that makes a residence attractive is not apt to attract lots of traffic or a very large number of prospective buyers.

. . . But a well worded want ad placed in The Avalanche-Journal Want Ad Section will reach thousands of people who are eager to buy a home . . . for Avalanche-Journal Want Ads are the largest market place for Real Estate in this territory. Lila Leeds Makes Courtroom Appearance On Driving Charge

HOLLYWOOD, June 1. (INS)—Starlet Lila Leeds made another court appearance today, this time to hear herself given a suspended 45-day jail sentence and a fine of $100 for speeding and driving a car without a license.

The charges against Miss Leeds, whose troubles with the law began when she was convicted with Actor Robert Mitchum in a marijuana case, grew out of a Sunset Strip automobile accident last April 14.
