IN 5 YEARS Billy Graham Predicts End Of World

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham predicted the end of the world in a sermon Sunday night, declaring, "Everybody knows it! Everybody feels it! It's in the air!"

He quoted philosopher Bertrand Russell as saying this development could be expected five years from now and said the Bible mentions a second coming of Christ.

Expands On Theme

Expanding on this theme, Dr. Graham said 26 different civilizations have risen and fallen in history and asserted, "There's no reason to believe ours will last forever. This world as we know it will come to an end. This cosmos is going to come to an end by a gigantic convulsion."

The Baptist evangelist's sermon concluded a four-day HemisFair Crusade, taking its name from the San Antonio world fair now in progress.

Aides estimated a record 28,000 persons crowded into Alamod Stadium, where the normal capacity is considered 22,406. Its previous high was 26,208 for a schoolboy football game in 1949 between San Antonio Jefferson and San Antonio Tech.

96,500 Attending

Police placed the number of persons attending the four days of services at 96,500. Workers with the evangelist said about 4,000 "rededicated their lives to Christianity."

Dr. Graham, appealing for repentance, said God already has ordained the minute, hour and second man shall die.

He referred to the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles and said, "Someone came to thrust a crucifix or rosary into his hand, and that was the only thing that counted at that time. That was Sen. Kennedy's moment with God."

Then he told his listeners, "You are going to die—are you ready?"

Norman Thomas Critical

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Norman Thomas, 83, the six-time Socialist party candidate for president, was put on the critical list today at Huntington Hospital following surgery, the hospital announced.

Thomas was admitted to the hospital Sunday for what his son, Evan, described as "a liver ailment." He underwent surgery the same day, a hospital spokesman said.

The spokesman did not specify the nature of the operation.

Thomas was transferred to the hospital from a nursing home in this Long Island community. He was admitted there last November after suffering a slight stroke.

Most Support Plan Guaranteeing Work

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Most Americans don't like the idea of a guaranteed annual income for nonworkers but overwhelmingly support a plan that would guarantee everyone enough work to earn at least $60 a week, the Gallup Poll says.

The poll reported Sunday that a recent survey of 1,570 adults found that the lower a person's income the more likely he was to support a guaranteed minimum income.

But the survey added that a significant fact reported was that an overwhelming majority of persons in all income levels and of all races supported a plan guaranteeing work rather than money.

The guaranteed work plan was favored by 78 per cent of those questioned, and opposed by 18 per cent. The four per cent balance voiced no opinion.

By comparison, the guaranteed minimum income plan was opposed by 58 per cent of those surveyed and supported by 36 per cent. The remaining six per cent had no opinion.

The guaranteed income plan proposed by some would provide a four member family with a minimum $3,200 per year whether or not family members are working.

Blood Test For Drivers

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas could have lost $24 million in federal highway funds last year by not having an implied consent blood test law for drunk drivers, a highway official said today.

Marcus Yancey, state Highway Department administrative engineer, said in actual practice, however, the government has penalized no states.

He testified at a hearing on Austin Rep. Don Caviness' bill that would require anyone suspected of drunk driving to submit blood or breath test or else lose his drivers license.

The U. S. Highway Safety Act of 1966 requires states to have such a law or else stand the risk of losing 10 per cent of their federal highway aid.

Six Killed In Explosion On Missouri Farm

DONIPHAN, Mo. (AP) — Six persons were killed early Sunday when a gas explosion demolished a farm house near Doniphan in extreme southeast Missouri.

Sheriff Lewis Dawes said the owner and one of the victims, Carl Friend, 51, of St. Louis, knew there was a leak in a gas line from a butane tank at least three months ago.

Dawes said Friend apparently never did anything about the leak and the gas accumulated until it was sparked, probably by a pilot light.

Killed in the blast and fire were Friend; his wife Dorothy, 48; Darrell Robertson, about 30; his wife, Leona Kaye, 28; and their two small children, of Cahokia, Ill.

The two families were spending the weekend on the farm.

Debate On Booze Begins

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas House members took up for debate today Gov. John Connally's proposal to legalize sale of liquor by the drink in miniature bottles.

The measure, combined with a long, complex liquor law revision package, was laid out at 10:24 a.m., and a stack of more than 20 amendments piled up at once on the speaker's desk.

Before a vote was ever taken, more than 50 amendments had been filed and representatives were preparing still others.

MAJOR BILL

"This is a major liquor reform measure, the first one presented in many years," said Rep. Cletus Davis of Houston, one of the three authors of the measure, in opening a long detailed explanation of the bill.

"This is a step in the right direction that will make Texas a better place to live," Davis said.

Davis said the proposition of legalizing sale of liquor in 2-ounce bottles instead of a regular open bottle was chosen for three reasons—a mini-bottle bill complied more with the state Constitution, state taxes could be collected easier, and "the consumer is protected because he can see the quality and quantity he is getting."

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, head of a special committee that studied state liquor laws after a sensational investigation of the Texas Liquor Control Board, spoke for the bill.

"It was very apparent from our study of the law that serving drinks from an open bottle would be unconstitutional," Cory said. "To change the Constitution it would take two-thirds of both houses to present it to the people and we know we can't pass that kind of bill."

ONLY PART

Cory explained that although the measure was called the miniature bottle bill, only $5.3 million of the $14.5 million it is estimated to raise would come from the little bottles. Application of present liquor taxes to the small bottles would produce $5.8 million while another $2.5 million would come from special licenses for places that

Funnel Reports Keep West Texans On Edge

Storm Ushers In Rain, Wind, Dust

By The Associated Press

Raging thunderstorms assaulted broad expanses of Texas with blinding dust, brief torrents of rain, hail and nerve-tightening tornadoes late Sunday. Lightning killed one person and injured several others.

Most of the vicious weather surged from western areas into the state's midsection, but there also were thundershowers and electrical storms across North and East Texas and along the coast.

Clouds of dust, churned by winds approaching hurricane force in places, preceded lines of thundershowers thrusting toward the south from the Panhandle-Plains sector.

SIGHTED

While there was wind damage in many places, tornado funnels sighted repeatedly around Odessa, Midland and Big Spring in West Texas and farther east in the Fort Worth-Dallas area all apparently stayed aloft and inflicted no loss.

Winds hitting 69 miles per hour at Plainview felled trees in Plainview and Lubbock, to the south, clocked gusts up to 70 m.p.h. compared to minimum hurricane force of 75 m.p.h. Choking dust lowered visibility to zero for a time as the squall lines swept past.

At Tulsa, 25 miles north of Plainview, utility poles were toppled and a cotton trailer overturned as 150 inches of rain fell in an hour.

In the Panhandle around Shamrock, as much as 250 inches of rain poured down in 90 minutes. Paducah, farther south, measured 150 inches in the same length of time as hail the size of baseballs battered the area.

Later in the evening, as the Lubbock area storms progressed southward with dust and winds hitting up to 65 m.p.h., the Weather Bureau relayed word of tornadoes spotted in the sky 23 miles north of Midland, eight miles northwest of Odessa, over 8th Street in Odessa, 10 miles west of Big Spring and five miles southwest of Big Spring.

UNCONFIRMED

There were unconfirmed reports of still other twisters spinning through the sky west, north and northwest of Big Spring and not far from Webb Air Force Base.

Some downtown plate glass windows were smashed in Big Spring, police said, and lightning set fire to a house south of town. Window damage also occurred in Midland, where dust again cut visibility to zero.

Weather Bureau radar tracked severe thunderstorms over most of the South Plains and farther south in West Texas during the night, and in scattered sections of North, East and South Texas.

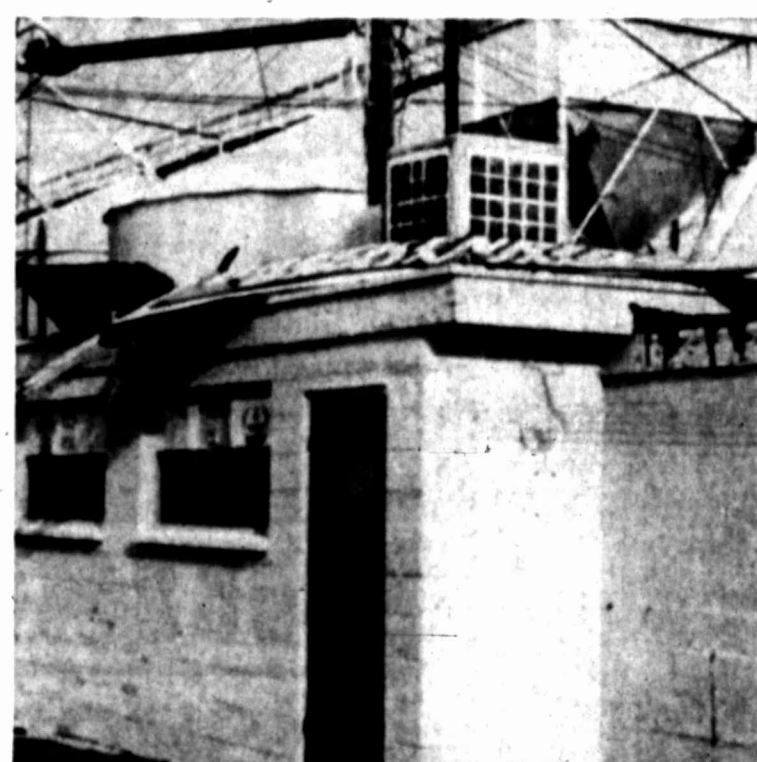

Heavy thundershowers continued into the morning along with frequent electrical storms in west central areas of the state, parts of the Gulf Coast and into the southeast corner.

NO LETUP

Forecasts called for no letup in summery heat, and that promised the kind of warming almost certain to set off new thunderstorms by evening across the north half of Texas and scattered thundershowers elsewhere.

Roaring Winds Leave Heavy Damage Here

Winds, which roared at velocities up to 60 miles an hour, swept Howard County Sunday night, accompanied by rains which ranged from half an inch to as much as 1.40 inches.

Trees in parts of town were toppled. The gale shattered windows in some business establishments and the roof of the FFA stock barn on the northwest edge of the city was blown off.

TORNADOIC WINDS

There were reports of tornadoic clouds in the area, but none touched ground as far as could be determined. The storm moved in about 10 p.m. after a hot, sunny Sunday. It raged for over an hour.

Leaves were blown from trees. Fruit trees in the community were stripped of their ripening fruit.

As usual, the volume of rain varied sharply. At the U.S. Experiment Station 69 inch was reported. South of town, Forsan had 14.

Saturday a deluge which swept parts of the county and all of Big Spring, dumped anywhere from 64 inch of rain (as measured at the station) to more than four inches south of town.

Three towering Arizona cypress on the east side of the City Hall were uprooted Sunday and were being cleaned away today.

Windows were broken out at the Bud Green Grocery, McCrory's, and the Reeves Beauty School. A big gate was nearly torn from its hinges at the Cal, co Lumber Co. Signboards were jolted.

Police kept watch during the night over the places where winds had been crashed.

POWER FAILURE

Street lights were dark for a time and traffic signals were out of commission. Texas Electric Service Co. reported power failures in sections of town and crews were making surveys today to determine full extent of the damage, which the wind may have caused.

At the FFA barn, some observers believed a small twister may have been responsible for the de-roofing of the structure.

A stock show calf, which Bill Jenkins was keeping in the barn, was loosed when the fence was blown out. The calf was not hurt. Two other stock show steers were in the place, but were not let out of the corral. No damage to the interior was done to the barn.

At Ackerly and Knott, heavy rains fell. A tree was uprooted at Knott.

North of Knott, on the Cecil Alfred farm, which had been treated to a near "black dust" Saturday, the rain, turned the dust into mud which half buried tender cotton which was just getting a good growth. Some of the cotton was so deeply buried in mud that it will probably have to be replanted.

HIGH WINDS

North of town on the old Gail road, only a little rain fell but the winds were extremely high. Forsan, which did not get much heavy flooding Saturday afternoon, picked up nearly an inch and a half Sunday night.

Coahoma had 5 inch and wind Vincent got only .35 inch.

Rural lines to the west were out of order early today and no reports were available on rain or wind damage in these areas.

No injuries were reported from the storm. Some reports told of light hail with the wind and rain, but this was not a general condition.

The rains of Sunday night brought the total for June at the U.S. Experiment Station to 17.7 inches, continuing the unprecedented moisture record which began in January of this year.

NONE AT LAKE

The rains apparently provided no benefit to the water supply in Lake J. B. Thomas. Rainfall in the area seems to have been around 4 inch.

Students Evicted From Trash-Strewn Sorbonne

PARIS (AP) — The Sorbonne, symbol of France's student revolt, fell to the gendarmes Sunday after a month's occupation, and today a student organization said it would halt street fighting, recognizing "that the students alone cannot continue the battle without support."

Angry students had battled the police again in the Latin Quarter Sunday night after the authorities had forced out the last 150 occupiers, hauled down the red and black flags of revolution and anarchy, and run up the French blue, white and red tricolor.

BREAK

A break was also apparently at hand among striking auto-workers, die-hard holdouts of last month's national strike. About 65,000 workers at the state-run Renault plants were reported voting in favor of return to work on the basis of a 10 per cent salary increase by Oct.

1 and reduction of their work week.

The National Students Union — UNEF — made its declaration of peaceful intentions, barring further "provocation," while police hygiene squads began cleaning up what they said was an "indescribable mess" in the Sorbonne. Classes are expected to resume in a week.

The lecture halls were strewn with stale bits of bread, rotten apples, empty bottles and other trash. The library was a shambles.

In a radio interview, Premier Georges Pompidou put in a new plug for a massive government majority in legislative elections beginning next Sunday. Only with such a majority, Pompidou said, can necessary reforms be made in universities and other sectors of French society.

The fighting Sunday night involved hit-and-run skirmishes by bands of young people. But the police did not let the students establish any fixed positions during three hours of battle and chased them off the main boulevards. Faced with an uneven match, student leaders dispersed their followers.

SINCE MAY 13

The Sorbonne had been occupied by the students since May 13, at the start of the revolt. Last week the occupying committee ordered its followers out of all but five lecture halls to clear away accumulated filth. After the cleanup, only a token force remained in the building.

The end of the occupation of the Sorbonne seemed to indicate the collapse of the student revolt. A number of other university buildings in Paris and provincial towns still are held by students. But the Sorbonne was the focal point and the others are expected to capitulate whenever the government decides to move.

Ike Reported As 'Stable'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported today to have remained "alert and in good spirits" since his heart attack on Saturday night. His heart rate and respiration have remained stable.

"There has been no recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15th," a medical bulletin from the hospital said. "No signs of heart failure have appeared."

The new seizure was Eisenhower's second within two months.

Doctors did not minimize the danger although stable usually means the patient's treatment and condition are satisfactory.

Maj. George Foster, public affairs officer at the hospital, said in answer to a question doctors said they considered this "a mafor" attack.

The attack came Saturday night at Walter Reed, where the 77-year-old five-star general was recuperating from a mild heart seizure which struck him April 29 at Palm Desert, Calif., where he keeps a winter home.

In the Sunday announcement disclosing the latest attack, the hospital said, "The general spent a comfortable night and his present condition is stable."

The hospital Sunday said there was no change in this report.

Mrs. Eisenhower was with him at the hospital.

No details were given in Sunday's announcement, but several factors indicated no extreme danger for the general, who now has suffered five heart attacks since 1955, when he was incapacitated for seven weeks.

One indication that the attack was not considered grave came in the announcement by the hospital that Eisenhower's original plans to return June 24 to his Gettysburg, Pa., home will be delayed, seemingly implying that doctors expect the move to be made later on.

Also, when the former president was considered in more dangerous condition the medical bulletins were issued at much more frequent intervals than the 24 hours between the first announcement and the second report, scheduled at 10:30 a.m. today.

Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by Air Force Plane May 14 after his doctors indicated he had recovered enough from his April 29 attack, described as a myocardial infarction, or blockage of an artery in the heart, to be moved.

He had been reported improving and received a visit last Tuesday from President Johnson. Eisenhower talked to his visitor while sitting on a sofa.

The Sunday announcement was short. "Authorities at Walter Reed General Hospital announced this morning (Sunday) that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered another coronary heart attack last evening at approximately 9 p.m."

"The general spent a comfortable night and his present condition is stable."

"Mrs. Eisenhower continues with him at the hospital."

"In view of this development the previous tentative plan for Gen. Eisenhower to return to his home about June 24 must be delayed."

Three Texans Hurt On Cable Ride Mishap

RATON, N. M. (AP) — Three Texas residents were injured when a chair-lift cable snarled near here on the New Mexico-Colorado border killing one person Saturday.

Killed was Robert C. Guillette, 41, of Edmond, Okla.

Most seriously injured was Joseph Shelton, 32, of Houston. An attending physician said Shelton received a fractured pelvis and arm, bruises and scratches and probably would remain in the hospital for several days.

Richard Tobias, 35, and his 7-year-old son David, both of Andrews, Tex., also were hospitalized. Doctors said they may be released today.

Several other persons were treated for minor injuries following the accident.

Police and firemen used ropes and ladders to help stranded riders out of the two-seat basket cars.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Stranded

Two of the girls stranded Saturday during the cable chair-lift mishap at Raton Pass wait for rescuers to get to them. One man was killed and several persons were injured, while others were left dangling in their basket chairs, when the cable snarled and snapped some chairs loose.

Claims Sirhan Shouted Dislike

NEW YORK (AP)—Sirhan B. Sirhan shouted his dislike of Sen. Robert Kennedy shortly before Kennedy was slain, Life magazine says.

The magazine said two witnesses told of Sirhan's activities before the shooting of which Sirhan is accused.

The magazine named one of the witnesses as Enrique Rabago, 35, a mechanic. It said the other was a "still unnamed friend."

On the evening before Kennedy was shot, Life said, Sirhan "had just been thrown out of a victory party being held by backers of Max Rafferty who had won the GOP senatorial nomination."

Because he was coatless and without a tie, the story says, an Ambassador Hotel waitress refused to serve Sirhan a drink. "He put up a fuss," Life said, "and contemptuously tipped her $20 'for nothing.' A security guard eased him out."

On the other side of the lobby, the magazine said, Rabago nodded in the direction of the Embassy Room and said, "Robert Kennedy might help the poor."

At that, Sirhan was quoted as shouting, "Kennedy — Kennedy — he should never be president. Kennedy helps himself. He's just using the poor. Can't you see that?"

Foreign Aid Cut Pressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Houston Foreign Affairs Committee is pressing for a 30 per cent cut in the administration's foreign aid request in what he calls an effort to prevent even worse cuts.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., said today Republican leaders have indicated they want a $1 billion cut off the administration's $2.9 billion request and his proposal would cut it by $600 to $700 million.

"The basis of my proposal," he said, "is really to try to keep the foreign aid program afloat until the new administration can make some hard decisions."

He said the decision on foreign aid's future should be made by the president elected in November, "not by Congress in the heat of a debate over wholesale spending cuts."

Gallagher is pressing in the foreign affairs committee for a 10 per cent cut below last year's authorization of $2.2 billion.

He said the proposal would cut new foreign aid authorizations to less than $2 billion. In addition to the $600 to $700 million cut outright, he said, another $300 million of unobligated funds could be deobligated.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable,

South you hold:

♠A106 ♠AQ104 ♣QJ105 ♠A6

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Two hearts. That's enough.

This appears to be a strong hand,

but you must not lose sight of the fact that you forced partner to bid and he may have nothing

A raise to three hearts would be improper because, as far as you know, it would not be safe.

If partner has any definite values, he will bid again after your single raise. If he does,

you may then contract for game.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable,

South you hold:

♠AK73 ♠K3 ♠AQ107 ♠A84

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Two spades. Despite the fact that you may have more than a minimum no other rebid is available. The hand is not strong enough to rebid at the level of three. Such a call requires considerable excess values.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable,

you hold:

♠AKJ10 ♠AQJ754 ♣2 ♠A5

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♠

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—A mere bid of three hearts is the proper call. There is no need for any more violent action than this if you are to assume that your partner knows his way about town. Your cue bid of two clubs was an absolute demand

ment you will engage in considerable bidding pyrotechnics, including perhaps a Blackwood

call.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as

South you hold:

♠AQ104 ♠A1072 ♠53 ♠K73

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass 1 ♠ Dble.

4 ♠ 5 ♠

What do you bid now?

A—You have a split hand

which is unsuited for play at five spades. Yet your defensive values are sound. You should be able to take two tricks in defense and partner certainly one.

Double to warn him that you have mixings about fulfilling an 11-trick contract.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable,

you hold:

♠Q93 75 ♣QJ2 ♠QJ933

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Dble. Pass 2 ♠

Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—With this holding play for game must not be abandoned.

We recommend that you try once more by bidding four clubs. Remember that partner has doubled and raised your bid when you might have had nothing at all but four small clubs. You have,

in fact, three queens, two jacks,

and a fairly good suit.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as

South you hold:

♠AQ54 ♠5 ♠982 ♠QJ986

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♠ 1 ♠

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—This hand is slightly short of the values which would justify an immediate cue bid of three hearts. If partner should respond

Drownings, Crashes Push Texas Violence Total To 35

By The Associated Press

Drownings and plane crashes toll from violence to 35 deaths across Texas during the week-end.

Automobile accidents claimed 19 lives. Six persons drowned, four died in a pair of light plane crashes and one was killed by lightning. Homicides accounted for most of the other victims.

The deaths were recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Three youngsters in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Nicodemus Garza from Temple drowned Sunday when they apparently stumbled into deep water while wading in Lake Belton. They were Frances, 9, and Jacinto and Jesse, both 8. Nicodemus Garza Jr., about 12, clung to a tree and was rescued.

James E. Pruitt, 36, of Dallas and his wife Rosalee, about 35, were killed late Sunday when their car ran off US 175 and hit a bridge about two miles north of Seagoville in Southeast Dallas County.

Lightning struck and killed a young woman Sunday evening while he was fishing Sunday at a small lake near Quitaque in the Texas Panhandle.

Stewart J. Williams Jr., 23, and Melvin Matthews, 32, both of Fort Worth, were killed Sunday as a light plane crashed near Haslett in the north part of Tarrant County.

Paul Gaston, 22, of Bedford was killed Sunday while swimming in a small pond at Euless.

A two-car crash three miles north of Rhame and US 81 during a rain storm Sunday evening killed a young woman believed to be from Waco and injured another motorist. Their names were not learned at once.

Jamie Fisher, 22, drowned Sunday when he fell off a fishing barge into Lake Tawakoni near Greenville.

Frederick F. Fulton, 79, of the Alamo community near Hamilton was killed early Sunday as two cars collided head-on about three miles south of Hamilton on FM 932.

Clemmie T. Robinson, 28, was shot and killed at a Fort Worth intersection early Sunday. Police sought a woman for questioning.

Dennie Montoya, 20, of Austin was killed Sunday when his car ran off a US 81 bridge and careened down a 30-foot embankment near San Antonio.

A runaway car cracked up in Dallas early Sunday and Florida Cassatt, 25, of Dallas died in the accident.

Youngsters Drown On Family Outing

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — A family outing for Nicodemus Garza and his family from Temple, Tex., ended in tragedy Sunday. Three of Garza's five children drowned in Lake Belton.

Witnesses said four of the youngsters apparently slipped into water over their heads while wading on a warm summer day.

Nicodemus Jr., about 12, was rescued while clinging to a tree.

Bodies of his sister Frances, 9, and brothers Jacinto and Jesse Garza, both 8, were recovered later.

The fifth Garza child did not go wading with the others.

Three Astronauts 'Leave' On Trip Into Space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A spacecraft test model called informally "the proud bird with the heavy tail" was to enter simulated space early today while its three crewmen slept.

The test model, called the 2TV-1, was manned Sunday by astronauts Joseph Kerwin, Vance Brand and Joe Engle for a seven and one-half day stay. The craft is bolted inside space simulation chamber which is capable of creating a near-vacuum.

Technicians began the 19-hour process of pumping out the air from the space chamber in mid-afternoon Sunday. The astronauts were to go into a rest period at midnight. Their spacecraft model is expected to be surrounded by an atmosphere void similar to space by the time they were scheduled to awaken.

The astronauts will live on the test model just as they would in space, using the electrical power, oxygen, food and water systems that actual space test, and his crew unofficially dubbed the test craft "the proud bird with the heavy tail."

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., June 17, 1968 3-A simulated maneuvers, rocket firings and other tasks aboard the test model.

The 2TV-1 is a sister to the Apollo 101 command and service module which will carry astronauts into orbit later this year.

Officials said the 177-hour test is the final design verification of the spacecraft before it flies.

Main purpose of the test is to verify that the spacecraft systems and structure design can withstand the extreme heat and cold of deep space. Super cold panels and heat lamps will produce temperatures ranging from minus 150 to plus 150 on the surface of the spacecraft model while the astronauts are protected and at a comfortable temperature inside.

Kerwin, command pilot of the test, and his crew unofficially dubbed the test craft "the proud bird with the heavy tail."

MRS. KENNISTON F. BLACKINGTON

Wedding Solemnized In Church Sanctuary

Miss Linda Jean Whisenhunt and Kenniston F. Blackington were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

The Rev. Dan Sanford officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar graced by a sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums flanked by candles holding cathedral tapers forming an archway accented with greenery and adorned with wedding bells.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Whisenhunt, 1606 Bluebird, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenniston F. Blackington of Camden, Maine.

Mrs. Ruby Fowler, organist, accompanied Mrs. Wayne Salmon as she sang "The Song of Ruth" and "Together."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a formal gown of white bonded crepe designed with a chapel train of Alencon lace accented with seed pearls. The Empire bodice was trimmed in seed pearls and was fashioned with bell sleeves, a scalloped neckline and a small bow. Her tiered bouffant veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Peruvian lilies and feathered chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Salmon was matron of honor and Miss Pat Winterhalter of Dallas was maid of honor. They wore identical formal gowns of yellow chiffon over satin designed with Empire bodices accented with satin bows and streamers. They were matching circlets of yellow satin with brief veils of tulle and carried long-stemmed yellow roses with matching streamers.

Larry Lee was best man, and Bill DeLong was groomsmen. Gary Wells and James Cadow were ushers.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., and for traveling, the bride chose a yellow A-line nubby textured linen dress with white accessories. The couple will be at home at 306 W. 17th.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College and Hardin - Simmons University. She is a graduate of Hendrick Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Abilene. The bridegroom is a graduate of Camden High School, Camden, Maine, and has served four years in the United States Air Force. He is a graduate of the Southwest Law Enforcement Academy and is employed as a patrolman by the Big Spring Police Department.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride couple was joined by her parents, his mother and the feminine attendants in greeting guests.

The refreshment table was laid with a yellow net over yellow taffeta cloth and centered with the bridal bouquet flanked by twin candles in silver holders. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride couple, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Lewis Moss presided at the guest register. House party members were Miss Sharon Baulov, Miss Susan Temple, Mrs. Jesse Moon, Mrs. Gordon Williamson and Mrs. James Norman.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Rogers of Grand Prairie, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Henderson, Crane, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cox and family of DeCos, Mrs. Ruth Scarborough and Miss Barbara Hudson, all of Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Murry and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Adams of Levita.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Crabtree, district commander and district president of Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Schartz of Lubbock. Mrs. Schartz is past president of the Lubbock auxiliary.

Party Fetes New Bride Saturday

Mrs. Arthur Glenn Banks, the former Miss Virginia Ann Isaacks, was complimented with a gift party Saturday in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. A. B. West, Mrs. W. E. Singleton, Mrs. V. L. Perkins, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, Mrs. R. C. Anderson and Mrs. C. W. Parks.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. L. E. Rush, her sister, Mrs. Art Jones of Dallas, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence McNew. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. B. G. Banks of Snyder, was unable to attend.

Corsages of white asters tied with green ribbon were presented to those in the receiving line, and the hostesses wore miniature wedding bell corsages.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with a white epergne filled with summer flowers. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

The hostess' gift was an electric percolator. Approximately 40 attended. The bridegroom will graduate this month from Texas Technological College in Lubbock, and the bride will graduate in August.

Project Completed By Lees HD Club

The Lees Home Demonstration Club met for its final meeting of the season Tuesday and made plans to deliver project calendars. The group met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Overton, who gave both the devotion and the program on health and safety.

Plans were announced for an ice cream supper June 28 at 8 p.m. in the Lees Community Park. Families and guests will be invited.

The next meeting will be Sept. 10 in the home of Mrs. Bennie Blassard.

Miss Vicki Lynn Hull Honored At Shower

Miss Vicki Lynn Hull, bride-elect of Lester Ward Booth, was complimented with a gift party Thursday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. Edward Burchell, Mrs. Weiland Brown, Mrs. Charles Engle, Mrs. Buddy Owens, Mrs. C. J. Engle, Mrs. Bobby Newton, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Ernest Rainey, Mrs. W. A. Steagald, Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. E. G. Rainey, Mrs. Paula Hildreth, and Miss Dorothy Atchison.

The honoree was attired in a coral Swiss dotted voile dress designed with ruffled front and matching accessories. She was presented a corsage of white carnations, as was her mother, Mrs. Buford Hull, and her grandmothers, Mrs. R. B. Hall Sr. of Odessa and Mrs. Floyd Hull. Also, the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. E. Booth and his grandmothers, Mrs. Leo Ward of Fort Worth and Mrs. Viola Booth, received carnation corsages and joined the bride-elect in greeting guests.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over peach satin and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and peach pompon chrysanthemums. A large white cake highlighted the table and was inscribed with "Vicki and Ward" entwined in hearts. Silver and crystal appointments completed the setting.

Miss Atchison and Mrs. Owens attended the refreshment table, and Mrs. Hildreth presided at the guest register. The vanity table was decorated with peach spider chrysanthemums. The hostess' gift was a set of pillows and a bedspread. Approximately 100 were included on the guest list.

The couple plans a July wedding at College Baptist Church. The prospective bridegroom is expected to return soon from a year in Vietnam.

ABWA 'Losers' Host Dinner Party

The Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held a garden party Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Jess Thornton, 1004 Wood.

The event climaxed an attendance contest held during the year. The winning team was led by Mrs. Leroy Dolan, and the losing team was directed by Mrs. David Duke. The losing team provided the food for the party.

Slides of the HemisFair were shown by Mrs. T. D. Price. Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. Shadd Hobbs, attended.

The couple will marry June 22 in the First Baptist Church sanctuary, with the Rev. Robert F. Polk officiating.

A LOVELIER YOU

Make A Selection, All Soaps Clean

By MARY SUE MILLER

All soaps have one quality in common—cleansing power. And keeping the skin clean is the first step to its loveliness. Soaps also offer additional beauty benefits, owing to the development of specialized formulas. The principal types are listed below which among them would best pamper your skin?

BEAUTY BARS: Introduced within recent years, this genre combines mild detergent or soap with emollients. Bars lather freely in hard water, and use leaves the skin feeling soft and moist.

Superfatted Soap: Contains extra dollops of oil—such as cold cream, cocoa butter, coconut oil, lanolin or cholesterol—the better to care for dry skin.

Medicated: Antibacterial agents help to prevent the spread of infection and to clear the skin. Some kinds, with tar or sulphur, treat excessive oiliness.

TRANSPARENT: Made with glycerine, the action is neutral and kind to sensitive skin.

Hard-Water: These contain sodium carbonate or related alkaline that softens water. Suds become plentiful, but can be drying.

In addition there are deodorant soaps, mild castles and luxurious, long-lasting French-milled soaps. Obviously a lovely could miss much of the cosmetic value that soap offers, if she chose it solely for its fragrance or to match the color of her bathroom.

YOUR GROOMING

Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for "Your Grooming—A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Sewing Club Will Fill Ditty Bags

The Sew and Chatter Club made plans to fill ditty bags for the servicemen in Vietnam under the auspices of the American Red Cross at Thursday's meeting in the home of Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1707 Benton. Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales presided, and the refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a mixed arrangement of summer flowers. Seven attended. The next meeting will be June 27 in the home of Mrs. Ruby Martin, 1503 Vines.

WRITER CRITICAL OF ORGANIZATION, CALLS IT 'GUN LOBBY'

Mail Deluge Expected From Rifle Group Members

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association, its amazing record of blocking strict federal gun controls in jeopardy, has begun its counter-attack.

And if the gun lobby lives up to its past successes, hundreds of thousands of letters opposing gun controls will rain down on Congress by mid-week—just before a House committee considers restrictions on gun sales.

The deluge of mail will be in response to a weekend plea by the NRA for its 900,000 members to "express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen."

The letter-writing campaign, a favorite gun lobby tactic, is the NRA's answer to the demands for tougher gun controls flowing from the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with a $30.95 pistol.

In the past—even after President John F. Kennedy was murdered with a mail order rifle—the NRA and its allies have successfully smothered proposals to regulate gun sales or require registration of guns.

This comes in the face of overwhelming public support of such legislation. This spring, for example, pollster Louis Harris reported 71 per cent of Americans favored stricter gun control laws.

What is the NRA? How does it operate? Why does it pack so much power?

Founded in 1871 by a group of National Guard officers interested in improving their marksmanship, the NRA has grown over the years to an organization with 900,000 members and a net worth of nearly $12 million.

It operates from an eight-story glass-and-marble headquarters building in downtown Washington. Emblazoned in gold letters above the main entrance is the basic NRA credo: "The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

(This is from the second article of the Bill of Rights: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.")

Inside the building, NRA President Harold W. Glasen puffs on his pipe and proclaims: "Make no mistake about it—there is a step-by-step move afoot to accomplish the ultimate deprivation of the American right to keep and bear arms."

Glasen, a Lansing, Mich., lawyer, gets very annoyed by references to the NRA as a gun lobby.

"All this talk about the gun lobby is baloney," he said in an interview. "We don't tell anyone to write to their congressmen."

Last Saturday, a two-page letter signed by Glasen went to all NRA members. "Unless the sportsmen of America clearly express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen," it said, "individuals will be prohibited from acquiring long guns (rifles and shotguns) in interstate commerce and general firearms registration will become a reality."

The NRA's ability to generate mail is a major ingredient to its successful fight against tough gun control laws. NRA officials have boasted in the past that they can depend on their members to flood Capitol Hill with up to 500,000 letters within 72 hours.

Veterans of earlier battles over gun control legislation don't doubt NRA's claims. "The first surge of mail after an assassination is always overwhelming in support of strict gun laws," says one congressional aide. "But about a week later the NRA mail takes over and continues for weeks."

Much of the new mail will be aimed at members of the House Judiciary Committee which by a tie vote last week rejected administration-supported legislation outlawing mail order sale of rifles and shotguns, over-the-counter sales of these guns to out-of-state residents and sales to anyone under 18. The committee meets Thursday to consider its rejection of the bill.

The NRA's monthly magazine, the American Rifleman, and various special bulletins keep members abreast of the battle against stiff restrictions.

Members are supplied with point-by-point interpretations of proposed legislation—interpretations that are often quoted word-for-word in subsequent letters to congressmen.

After President Kennedy's assassination in November 1963, scores of gun control bills were introduced in Congress. None passed.

In 1964, 189 gun control bills were proposed in state legislatures and city councils. In its 1964 annual report, the NRA noted that "members reacted promptly, firmly and in force. No serious restrictive proposals were enacted."

But the present drive for gun controls appears to have a better chance of succeeding. President Johnson, governors, and mayors have joined in the call for strong legislation, and some key members of Congress are shifting their positions.

NRA chief Glasen appears worried in his letter Saturday. He said "the right of sportsmen in the United States to obtain, own and use firearms for proper lawful purposes is in the greatest jeopardy in the history of our country."

Interviews with a number of congressmen indicated NRA officials are seldom in direct contact with members of the House and Senate.

"We have yet to spend one single dollar on lobbying," Glasen said. "We have never hired a lobbyist."

Neither the NRA nor any of its national officers is registered with Congress as a lobbyist. But rate

NRA is not alone in its fight against gun control laws. Among its allies are thousands of gun and sportsmen's clubs and conservation groups across the nation, as well as the gun and ammunition industry and some of its offshoots—the National Shooting Sports Foundation, the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute and the National Reloading Manufacturers Association.

But some chinks are appearing in the previously solid coalition. On Saturday, three gun manufacturers—Remington, Savage and Winchester Western—issued a joint statement supporting a ban on mail order sales. The companies suggested, however, that states be allowed to exempt themselves from the ban.

To charges that it opposes all gun control legislation, NRA spokesmen reply that the association supported Sen. Roman Hruska's, R-Nebr., amendments to prohibit shipment of firearms into states which have laws against such gun sales and to bar all interstate sales to persons under 18.

But the NRA strongly opposes any registration system or restrictions on rifles and shotguns.

Retired military officers abound in NRA hierarchy.

Franklin I. Orth, NRA executive vice president, is a former deputy assistant secretary of the Army. Of the six NRA field representatives, four are retired Army colonels and one is a Marine Corps Reserve major.

Surveys show half of all households in America have one or more firearms and NRA members Casey says millions of persons use weapons "very peacefully and pleasantly."

NRA member Casey, "I don't see why they should be punished because of a bunch of deadbeats and no goods."

FBI statistics show that nearly 60 per cent of the murders in this country are committed with guns. In 1966, the last year for which figures are available, 5,660 persons were murdered with guns. In 1965, there were 5,015 gun murders.

Glasen argues that if murderers had no guns they would use some other weapon. "A man bent on homicide will commit homicide," he says. "The availability of a gun has nothing to do with the overall homicide rate."

In a recent House speech, Rep. Richard D. McCarthy said "The NRA does not have to hire lobbyists in the technical sense. It has active members right in this chamber."

Glasen said he didn't know how many congressmen belonged to NRA, but estimated about 40. Among the more active backers of the NRA view are Reps. Bob Casey, D-Tex.; John D. Dingell, D-Mich.; Cecil R. King, D-Calif.; and Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., all NRA members.

Neither the NRA nor any of its national officers is registered with Congress as a lobbyist. But rate

McCarthy Calls For Caution In Drafting New Gun Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure for tougher gun control laws continues to build across the nation, but one presidential candidate has called for caution in framing the bills and the National Rifle Association has started a campaign against stiffer legislation.

President Johnson over the weekend ordered a top-priority campaign to get Congress to pass an administration-proposed bill restricting the sale of rifles and other long guns.

Presidential aide Joseph A. Califano Jr., told newsmen at the Texas White House Saturday that "there will be no stone unturned in trying to get this passed. There will be total involvement, not only of the attorney general and the Justice Department but also of the President himself."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, running for the Democratic presidential nomination, while calling for new laws, warned against legislation passed "under panic conditions."

The Minnesota senator said

Sunday he is for a federal program of registration of "side-arms and on what would be considered heavy guns." States also should pass stronger laws or enforce those now on the books, McCarthy said.

In addition to the President's bill, which is up for reconsideration in the House Judiciary Committee Thursday after being blocked by a tie vote last week, even tougher legislation is before Congress.

One bill, sponsored by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., and nine other senators, picked up an influential backer when Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield added his support Saturday.

The Tydings bill provides for federal registration and a permit for all firearms, unless states pass their own registration laws.

President Johnson's bill is far less stringent in calling for a ban on mail-order sale of handguns, now contained in the omnibus crime bill, to be extended to "long guns."

draft card to the government, said he got the idea for a gun turn-in when a Navy Reserve lieutenant commander handed in his shotgun during a memorial Mass for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Richard Hale of Battle Creek walked to the altar last Monday night and gave Father Huhn a 12-gauge shotgun which he said he won in a sales contest.

Hale, general manager of a lumber company, said he had a strong belief that the use of guns is no way to settle anything.

The priest, who intends to destroy the shotgun, issued a plea for other parishioners to follow Hale's example and to bring their guns to the altar during the offertory of the two Masses Sunday. He also asked children to bring in toy guns. But no one did.

Rev. Abernathy Cancels Speech

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, canceled a speech Sunday at a Poor People's Campaign rally in the city's predominantly Negro Hill district.

The Rev. Andrew Young, SCLC vice president who appeared instead, said Abernathy stayed in Washington because the SCLC staff decided not to send two of its leaders to the same place at the same time.

Abernathy and Young were originally scheduled to speak.

The FBI said in Pittsburgh Saturday that it had learned that threats had been made against Abernathy's life.

No Response To Priest's Plea To Turn In Guns

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — A plea by a Roman Catholic priest that his parishioners turn in their guns to him so they could be destroyed went unheeded Sunday.

The Rev. John Huhn, assistant pastor of St. Joseph Church, asked some 1,000 parishioners to "turn over their weapons of violence" at two Masses Sunday. But no one complied.

Father Huhn said he was disappointed, but added: "Perhaps it was just a general reluctance or fear of wanting to be involved or to stand up publicly and do something."

"My desire in issuing the call was to make a point. If they respond even in the internal recesses of their hearts, it certainly will not be wasted."

The 30-year-old priest, who last December protested the Vietnam war by mailing his draft card to the government, said he got the idea for a gun turn-in when a Navy Reserve lieutenant commander handed in his shotgun during a memorial Mass for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Richard Hale of Battle Creek walked to the altar last Monday night and gave Father Huhn a 12-gauge shotgun which he said he won in a sales contest.

Hale, general manager of a lumber company, said he had a strong belief that the use of guns is no way to settle anything.

The priest, who intends to destroy the shotgun, issued a plea for other parishioners to follow Hale's example and to bring their guns to the altar during the offertory of the two Masses Sunday. He also asked children to bring in toy guns. But no one did.

Disarmament Of Civilians Urged

DALLAS (AP) — A Philadelphia sociologist addressing the National Institute on Crime and Delinquency favors gun registration as a step toward total civilian disarmament.

Dr. Marvin Wolfgang said all levels of government should "enact effective laws against the absurd sale of firearms."

"I would prefer all guns in private hands be turned in to public authorities," he said Sunday night in delivering the keynote speech for the convention of more than 1,200 members of the citizen-supported crime-fighting organization.

"If the white middle class arm their homes as a fortress of defense" in response to riots, he said, "they are contributing more to the climate of challenge and fear than to the dissolution of violence."

After the address, Wolfgang, chairman of the sociology department at the University of Pennsylvania, said he opposes tax exemptions for the National Rifle Association because it lobbies for firearms merchandising.

Wolfgang said he favors restricting tax exemptions to charitable institutions.

"I see nothing charitable about the NRA," he said. "Here is an organization whose life is at stake—if there are no more guns in private possession, it goes out of existence."

Wolfgang's address also called for destruction of a "subculture of violence where physically aggressive responses are either expected or required by all members sharing not only the tenement's plumbing, but also its system of values."

He said his way of wiping out the subculture would be "to disperse the members who share in the subculture—subsidized relocation and redistribution of the population."

"Renewal programs that simply shift the location of the subculture from one part of the city to another do not destroy the subculture," he said.

The 15th annual institute continues through Wednesday. Its members include criminologists, judges, lawyers, sociologists, prison and parole authorities and others interested in the criminal justice system.

It is sponsored by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, the five regional correctional associations, the National Association of Training Schools and Juvenile Agencies and the Southern Probation and Parole Conference.

The Texas Probation and Parole Association is meeting at the same hotel, the Adolphus.

Nixon Confident Of 'Enough' Votes

CHICAGO (AP)—Former Vice President Richard Nixon has "more than enough delegates" to win the Republican nomination and he plans to ignore the belated efforts to his only announced rival, his campaign manager says.

John Mitchell told newsmen Sunday, "There is a great deal of optimism from all sections of the country" for Nixon, but he added overconfidence will never become a problem.

The latest count compiled by The Associated Press shows that 354 delegates committed to Nixon. He needs 667.

Dear Abby

Hubby Has Jogging Pal

DEAR ABBY: This woman my husband jogs with is beginning to worry me. She isn't even a neighbor. She drives five miles every morning (and at 7 o'clock!) just to jog with my husband.

Don't tell me to jog with them. I'm no jogger. Do you think I have anything to worry about?

JOGGER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not as long as they keep jogging.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 13 years, and our problem is his brother who lives in another state. Every summer this brother (single) comes to "visit" us for a whole month. We do not invite him, and he doesn't ask if it's okay for him to come. He has his own way and tell us when to expect him.

My husband and I would like to put an end to his visits because we don't enjoy his company that much. In fact, he is a real pain in the neck. We're afraid if we don't do it right his mother and the rest of the family will think we are inhospitable.

One year when we were expecting our oldest daughter and her new-born baby, we wrote and told him we couldn't have him at that time, but he came anyway and just sat around to be cooked for and waited on.

Can you help us?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO: YES! Write and tell him that it is not convenient for you to have him THIS SUMMER. It may seem cold and inhospitable, but feeling as you do, it's better than having a "guest" of his description sitting around for a month.

DEAR ABBY: I just read something in your column that hit me close to home. You said, "If parents want to be noble and stay together because of the kids, they should be a little noble and not let the kids know it. It makes them feel guilty."

Abby, parents who stay together because of the kids can't hide it. The kids know something is wrong. You see, our parents had this crazy idea that they owed it to us to put up a front. I guess you would call it, and stay together until we were grown. We knew they did not really love each other.

Well, four years ago they got the divorce they should have gotten long before. Since then we have all been much happier. We spend time with both our parents.

Dad is remarried and is very happy. Mom is going with someone and it looks serious. If they had waited until we were all grown it might have been too late for them to build another life for themselves.

I am 18 and a freshman in college, and the two younger ones are in high and junior high. I can't speak for all kids, but I know this way is better for us. Parents shouldn't feel that they have to sacrifice their own happiness for their kids.

Wallace Opposes Tighter Controls

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A Boston news conference Sunday, Wallace once again took a stand against tighter gun control laws. He said they would do nothing more than "keep guns out of the hands of law-abiding citizens. The criminals will get them like they always have."

Wallace said the only real deterrent to crime "is to enforce the criminal laws and reverse some of the decisions of the federal courts which make it almost impossible to uphold the laws."

"Seeing a murderer punished," he added, "is more effective than any gun control legislation."

Wallace said the assassinations of Sen. Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King were tragic and senseless, but that "it is just as tragic that a working man's wife can't go to the supermarket in the big cities for fear of her life."

On other issues, Wallace said: "Poor Negroes 'are being used' by the Poor People's Campaign in Washington."

"Most congressmen who advocate school integration refuse to send their children to public schools in the nation's capital."

Wallace has met ballot requirements in 25 states and expects to qualify in 10 more within a month.

SMUGGLED IN ON SAMPANS

Red Rockets Kept In Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Viet Cong rockets bombarding Saigon were brought into South Vietnam from Cambodian storage areas in sampans moving at night along jungle-shrouded waterways; according to U.S. intelligence sources.

When the sampans, each carrying four or five of the weapons, arrive at a designated point in South Vietnam, they are sunk—with the rockets encased in waterproof containers—until the Viet Cong are ready to use them.

From prisoner interrogation and other sources of information, American intelligence specialists have pieced together a pattern indicating how the North Vietnamese are able to send the weapons deep into South Vietnam, to the point where they can be hurled against that country's capital and its population.

The rockets, mostly 122 millimeter, come down from North Vietnam by truck, passing through the Laotian panhandle, U.S. officials say, and on into Cambodia where they are stored near the South Vietnamese border.

They are then carried across the border along any of the more than 1,300 square miles of waterways reaching from Cambodia into the Saigon region.

Hundreds of sampans are said to operate along these streams, mostly at night, the boats being used as a supply and of the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia. Movement of the sampans is being used as a supply and of the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia. Movement of the sampans is being used as a supply and of the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia.

The Cambodian government has repeatedly denied that its soil deep now, experts said, because the boats are being used as a supply and of the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia.

At the appointed time, the Viet Cong raise the sunken boats, take the rockets from their containers and then move them into firing position.

Weapons experts of the Army Materiel Command estimate that it takes less than five minutes to set up a rocket, fire it and then be gone.

The rocket is described as "an area weapon," that is, there is no way to aim it against pinpoint targets. Rather, it is pointed generally at a large target, such as a city or town, and fired.

The 122 millimeter rocket assembly comes in three parts and weighs a total of about 214 pounds.

In a special program, one West German television company linked the events of that a crew of three men can handle and fire the rocket, but that as many as five may be involved in a fire team.

The 122 millimeter rocket has a range of about 6.8 miles according to U.S. calculations. One intelligence report reaching here said the 107 millimeter rocket, also being fired by the West in 1961, and in Soviet sup. VI, has a range of 26.7 miles. Other specifics on this rocket were not immediately available.

West Germans Are Seeking Ways To Combat Squeeze

BONN (AP) — The West German Cabinet searched today for ways to combat the new Communist squeeze on West Berlin as the isolated city and the western half of Germany marked the anniversary of the 1953 uprising in East Germany.

Officials said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger might fly to Washington to talk to President Johnson about the situation. The government announced Friday that Kiesinger would write of telephone the president, but officials now are talking about a personal visit to dramatize West Germany's concern.

Kiesinger called his Cabinet together to discuss what to do but he did not suggest what else the allies could do.

Many observers feel the economic viability of West Berlin is at stake. The passport and visa debate the situation later in the requirement also is a psychological blow to the Germans since it treats them as foreigners while traveling inside Germany.

The United States, Britain and France have protested the East German regulations, which include passports by July 15 for all West Germans and West Berliners traveling by surface routes, visas and increased taxes and travel costs on German goods shipped overland.

Kiesinger announced that his government would pay the increased costs, which are estimated at $18.3 million a year.

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said Saturday that protests by the Western allies would not be sufficient to meet the situation.

A Devotional For The Day

A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me. (Acts 3:22)

PRAYER: Our Father, how precious is Thy name. We praise Thee for Jesus, who showed us what Thou art like. Help us to live, as He did, in unbroken communion with Thee, and in loving harmony with one another. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Commendable But Not Miraculous

A law passed by Congress last session, designed to give a better break to workers age 40-65, has gone into effect. The intent of the law is good, but its administration will be difficult and the effectiveness of its enforcement doubtful.

The law prohibits discrimination — in hiring, firing, wage rates and other working conditions — against older workers by employers, unions and employment agencies relating to companies with 25 or more employees or affecting interstate commerce. That covers most jobs.

However, reasonable exceptions are allowed respecting bona fide seniority and pension systems and where age is a genuine occupational qualification recognized by the Labor Department. One of the most difficult problems will relate to pension plans, now widespread in business and industry and more costly where older workers are initially hired. Ultimately it may be necessary, in this regard, to require that workers changing jobs, or laid off and seeking new work, can carry their full pension benefits with them, as is not now usually the case.

The main weakness in the new law that its enforcement is left to civil suits by individuals who believe they have been discriminated against for reason of age, even though where willful discrimination is proved they can collect double back pay, attorney's fees and court costs. Many individuals, especially among the poor and uneducated, will be reluctant or unable to take the cost risks of such suits, or even think to go to court.

However, the law is a humane beginning toward solution of a serious and spreading socio-economic problem in this country. Perhaps it can at least help reduce unjustified prejudice against hiring older workers and call public attention to needless waste in human resources to the national economy that accompanies the personal hardship of undue difficulty in finding a job over 40. The law's purpose thus is commendable, but the older job-seekers should not expect any overnight miracles in employment opportunities.

Missing Key

Over the past few years the Fair Campaign Practices Committee headed by Charles P. Taft has had considerable influence in improving the moral tone of our electoral procedures. The code it asks candidates to sign undoubtedly exercises restraint in such things as misrepresentation of campaign material, appeals to racial or religious prejudice, personal vilification and so forth.

The group's new proposal for arbitrating charges of unfair campaign practices appears to be a further sensible step toward improving the political climate. Operation of the pilot program, sponsored jointly with the American Arbitration Association, will be watched with interest.

Unfortunately, the proposal fails to deal with one of the most serious problems afflicting U.S. politics — that of campaign financing. This was emphasized when Taft was asked whether charges of excessive spending in the present Democratic presidential nomination campaign could be brought to arbitration. Taft had to reply that the Fair Campaign Practices Committee's code does not cover campaign spending. Yet the matter of financing holds greater potential danger for the democratic process than anything else covered in the code.

A New Aid For Police

WASHINGTON — The chance of another assassination at a public gathering has been considerably reduced by the right of the police, now affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States, to "stop and frisk" individuals when a "reasonably prudent man in the circumstances would be warranted in the belief that his safety or that of others was in danger."

Thus, an officer does not have to have "probable cause to arrest" in order to make such an on-the-spot check to determine whether a person is carrying a gun or other lethal weapon which could be used to destroy life.

THE MAJORITY opinion of the Court, written by Chief Justice Earl Warren, says that "each case will, of course, have to be decided on its own facts." Constitutional technicalities have nevertheless been brushed aside to the extent that police officers can investigate "unusual conduct" in a crowd, for instance, as a means of protecting human life against impulsive or planned action on the part of an individual.

THERE is a suggestion in the opinion of Justice William O. Douglas — the lone dissenter — that the Court was responding to "powerful hydraulic pressures . . . to water down constitutional guarantees and give the police the upper hand." The fact is, however, that the tragedy that befell Robert F. Kennedy might have been averted had there been a closer watch on the persons in the crowd and a more explicit authorization to "stop and frisk" any individual acting suspiciously around him.

ALL THIS IS seen by many people as a lot of trouble and an invasion of privacy that will be abused by the police. But the end result can be the saving of life. In view of recent events, public opinion is certainly anxious that there shall be an even more extensive application of the "stop and frisk" powers of the police.

IT IS SURPRISING, on the other hand, how many people oppose legislation regulating the sale of firearms. No one is objecting to the acquisition of guns for sporting purposes, such as hunting or target shooting, or for protection in one's home or in a business establishment in dangerous neighborhoods. The latter involve self-defense. But there is no reason why licenses cannot be required before guns of any kind can be bought, and authorities could sanction such purchases only after determining that a rational and law-abiding individual wanted to possess the gun.

There are matters of administration that can well be taken care of by local authorities without disturbing the availability of guns to those who want them for sporting purposes or to defend their person or property.

STATES HAVE long been imposing restrictions on licenses of various kinds for the protection of the public. Thus, when an automobile is licensed, it may be required that the part of the owner for damage that might be caused by the vehicle. Similarly, qualifications of mental and physical capacity must be met before issuance of a license to operate a car.

In spite of this argument, Congress is reluctant to pass adequate legislation, though it is showing signs of moving in that direction. The pressure from those who have a lawful reason for using guns is so great that members have lost sight of the ease with which the interest of society can be protected along with the private interest of the individual.

The lack of control over lethal weapons has long been a shortcoming in the American system of law-enforcement.

Brokerage Methods Outmoded

NEW YORK (AP) — As Wall Street sinks under a sea of paperwork its walls have a plaintive, hurt tone, a quality you might expect from an innocent child or a dog that was unexpectedly and unjustly punished.

This punishment by paper was not without warning, however. True, not all could have foreseen the causes of the paper glut — the growth of stockholders, the performance cult, the speculation. But there were warnings.

TO SAY that paperwork is the culprit is to say that nobody is to blame. But a lot of people believe that mismanagement is one of the real reasons Wall Street is so dangerously snafued in bookkeeping that it must curtail its hours.

For years the exchanges promoted the concept of every American a stockholder, and now there are 24 million of them, a 250 per cent jump in one decade. They encouraged institutions — funds, insurance companies, banks — to use their facilities.

AT THE same time, brokers emphasized sales rather than service. Front offices were polished. Backrooms, aptly called cages, seemed like stage settings, with green eyeshades, sleeve garters, spittoons and metal-shaded light bulbs.

With the arrival of the volume business it had hustled to attract, the financial community found its systems and methods outdated. How could 1800 methods record the business of mutual funds, whose assets had risen from less than $1 billion to more than $40 billion in 20 years? How could they handle government forms?

A FEW brokers still think that this growth might have been handled by old methods except for another factor. This was "performance," and it multiplied many times the impact of this stockholder growth.

Performance means a portfolio always must show the best record. Funds and trusts once bought stock and left it idle in vaults, confident that some year it would begin to grow. Now such stocks might be sold in a few months if they don't performance. THIS SOARING business — more than 21 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange in one day — leaves many brokers almost hopelessly outdated, and some are in serious danger of losing bookkeeping control.

Mailbag Flashes

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

No wonder our highways seem crowded. For the first time in our history American motor vehicles this year will travel more than a trillion miles — a distance equal to more than 5,400 round trips to the sun.

Despite the variety of foods available in this country, studies made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that only about half the families eat what nutrition experts describe as a "good" diet.

Ah, Kerchoo! Particles expelled by a violent sneeze travel at a muzzle velocity of 132 feet a second. Don't forget your hanky, friends.

SOME GIRLS TRY to attract attention by wearing large earrings. In Brazil, this is a masculine ploy. Male members of the Krahô Indian tribe believe that the bigger the metal discs they wear in their ears the more desirable they are to the ladies. Some sport discs the size of teacups.

Americans are trying to drink their way to slenderness. Five years ago only 13 per cent drank low calorie soft drinks regularly. Now 67 per cent do. Incidentally, did you know that men usually gain weight around the waist but women gain below the waist?

GOOD IDEAS often have to incubate a long time before winning popular favor. An example: Contact lenses. The possibility of this type of lens was first conceived way back in 1508 by that universal genius, Leonardo da Vinci. However, eye specialists didn't get around to testing his theory until the latter part of the 19th century.

Is the small farmer, traditional exemplar of American independence, dying out? No, but his numbers are steadily diminishing. The number of U.S. farms dropped from 4.1 million in 1959 to 3.25 million in 1966. However, experts believe that one-man or two-man farms, if fully mechanized, can still compete successfully with the larger operators.

Doctors now believe in starting infants on solid foods earlier than was customary a generation ago. One reason: It has been found that too much milk in a baby's diet can cause it to develop an iron deficiency anemia.

Worth remembering: "The last word in an argument is what a wife has. Anything a husband says after that is only the beginning of another argument."

HISTORY LESSON: Can you identify the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Sharp Knife," "Illinois Baboon," "American Caesar," and "Napoleon of Protection"? They were, in order, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, U.S. Grant and William McKinley.

How Dangerous Are Sleeping Pills?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about sleeping pills and how dangerous they are. Can they be taken every night (one a night) if you cannot sleep otherwise and if you are under a doctor's care? — Mrs. G. B.

The precise answer I can give you is that sleeping pills are not dangerous — if you follow instructions and have good sense. It is important to get enough sleep. Some folks, one way and another, become so keyed up that a sleeping pill is the only way to assure them of proper sleep. Some elderly people are very much helped by a suitable sleeping pill.

Granted, it's better if you can sleep without the pills, but that is a truism for any medication — use it if needed, but never take any you don't need. One danger with sleeping pills is that some patients, very often neurotic ones, keep insisting that they "can't sleep" and begin increasing the dosage the doctor set. That's the time to look out! Or some get into trouble by taking other medications which have a similar effect. Antihistamines, tranquilizers, and some cough medicines have a sedative action, so the total effect is much like increasing the dosage of sleeping pills.

Another, and probably more serious, risk is the use of alcohol. It is a depressant. Adding its effect to that of sleeping pills is like increasing the dosage and can be dangerous to the point of death.

There is reason to believe that some people get themselves so doped, whether from sleeping pills, alcohol, other medication, or some combination of them, that they don't know how many pills they are taking. Conscious and more or less awake, but not alert, they take another pill — and another — and too many.

Therefore, I consider it a good rule never to leave a bottle at the bedside. If you normally take one pill (or two if your doctor permits it) put the pill or two and a glass of water where you can reach them. But keep the rest of the pills at a safe distance, so you can't sleepily reach for an extra one. Those are the principal dangers of sleeping medications. Use them strictly according to instructions, and you need have no fear of them.

Dear Dr. Molner: Many elderly people are troubled with brown "age spots" on the skin, and an article by you would be of interest. — I. P.

These age spots are very common, and also perfectly harmless, so while they may be a cosmetic problem, they are not a health problem.

Medically speaking, I don't know any way to prevent them, and I don't know of any certain way to remove them. I have been told that some of the cosmetics on the market work very well for some people.

My suggestion is to try one of these cosmetic preparations. If it works for you, that's fine. If it doesn't, then forget about the age spots. They won't hurt you.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

A Bright Light Flickers Out

The Fellow who makes the Big Decisions flagged down my Dad recently and told him it was time to go. Dad never argued.

He had used up his allotted three score and ten and then some, and no one ever got more out of the stroll through life.

THE SIRE never built any great bridges or wrote a concerto. He never inspired a change in history, but the people who knew him swore by him. In my books, that counted.

He had a certain class about him that cannot be taught or willed. Maybe he should have been born a millionaire. He didn't especially want to live like one, but he believed the most natural characteristic in a human being was to extend a helping hand, and not infrequently that hand would have a five-dollar bill folded away in the palm.

HE FIRMLY believed a man's word was his bond.

His most endearing faculty to me, perhaps, was in seeing good in all people and championing the cause of those unfortunates who had been maligned by society in general. Perhaps he secretly identified with them in conceding that no one is all black or all white but rather a little grey. He had a remarkable ability to instantly put a person at ease with the correct approach. It rarely failed him.

HIS BODY was racked with constant pain in his sunset years but his sense of humor never abandoned him. He long ago concluded there was entirely too much misery and unhappiness in the world and conspired to combat the gloom in his every waking hour with his own special elixir.

HE WAS occasionally plunged into the depths of despair when he felt that some people misinterpreted his airy approach and would not warm to him. I never saw a man who worked harder at wanting to be liked. To me, anyway, he could light up a room simply by walking into it.

He felt he was needed most in time of travail and invariably he was there to offer comfort and company to the infirm, succor and gentle words to the families of those friends who had departed this vale of tears.

HE MARKED back to former times with genuine fondness and warmth, as if he had never missed a day in his life. If he had had the chance to do it all over again, I don't think he would have changed a thing.

The old men know when an old man dies, they say. In his December years, when his own infirmities restricted his visitations, the obituary section of the family newspaper held a fascination for him — as if he were indexing a list of those who had passed on, as if he were making plans to look them up after his own trip through the Gates of Valhalla.

IT WAS a great tragedy to see him grow old and bent, for he remained young in heart to the very end.

He didn't mind the sting of death, only the thought of departing the company of people he so enjoyed.

Off The Beaten Trail

A Father's Message

By ED SYERS

Since this column must be released a week ahead, it is necessarily written on the day of last rites for Robert Francis Kennedy, father of 10. I believe you will read no politics here; none are intended.

I sense rather that Robert Kennedy left us an apparently unfinished Father's Day message.

You have heard his last audible words as often as I: a challenge for end to violence and mistrust, for recitation of faith in our country and each other, a reawakening to America the Beautiful: a true land and good, as envisioned by our own fathers.

TO DEMONSTRATE such creed and to rise to his own challenge, this father, I believe, deliberately gambled on the character of all his neighbors. His closest intimates knew that he was well aware, in this violent time, that he might never live to see fulfilled what he sought for America's children. He knew death could be—as it was—a step away.

To credit him with less than such knowledge is to close your mind. He knew his risk.

Three years ago here, we considered William Barrett Travis, the final days of Alamo. His last message—as he knew it—was—dwell lesson himself and his men that on the future of his son, seven-year-old Charles, still safely east in Texas.

"TAKE CARE of my little boy," Travis wrote in final appeal. "If the country should be saved, I may make him a splendid fortune; but if . . . I should perish, he will have . . . the proud recollection that he is the son of a man who died for his country."

So you must ask yourself, what is the legacy that a father — acutely aware he may die—would leave for the young to follow him. "Take care of my little boy." What does he ask of us in those six words? What would a good father ask?

Though you may phrase them differently, I suggest six standards from all of us:

HE WOULD ASK dedication. This is the determination and stamina to settle for nothing but your best. To keep on a comin' with that best. And this dedication, not alone for an Alamo's battleground, but to what you give your life each day.

He would ask courage. Not just courage to face death from arrow, bullet or bomb . . . but courage to do the right, whatever cost . . . and speak the truth, as God gives you its grasp. Courage, not to go along . . . in order to get along.

He would ask loyalty . . . respect . . . for home, family, for justly constituted authority. For the right to freedom for your fellow man. Yet for the necessity of responsibility with such freedom, for the harmony or order, not the chaos of anarchy.

He would ask character: moral cleanliness . . . moral straightness . . . moral justice. Not what you say nor where you seem to stand for now—days word of "image"; but the integrity of what you do and where you stand when you know nobody watches.

He would ask concern. For neighbor as for self. Not meddling, meddling nor presumptuous interference, but sensitive readiness to help when needed.

HE WOULD ASK faith. In country—this land we did not create but came upon, by fortune. Faith that builds on heritage . . . does not reject nor seek to obliterate.

Finally, faith in God and His purpose for a people, good as He ultimately will make; and through this, faith in self . . . given.

This last, of course, stands first. Upon its rock is foundation for every hope and dream for our sons and daughters, long yet to come. This faith which cleanses mortal weakness and springs souls alive to strength. This faith, without which, no man nor nation nor civilization can long endure.

THESE THINGS must be for our sons and daughters, that they live to-morrow as neighbors.

And this is the challenge, I believe, from the man who would have spoken from the Ambassador Hotel kitchen floor: hope for his children and all our children—that they might one day go, with open trust, among neighbors given to truth and good.

This is the message, to me, from Robert Kennedy, the man I did not know, not candidate, but father.

Unfinished? Only in that we yet have work to do.

For tomorrow, could you hope for less?

An Objective View Of RFK

WASHINGTON — Only the Returning Traveler, who'd been away from it all, was not soul-sick and brain-fagged like the rest of us.

If you had a heart in your chest, you were devastated. The Kennedys made many opponents, but they did not make enemies — you had to create your own malice if you insisted upon being a Kennedy-hater. If you had an ounce of admiration for courage, which is the base for every other human virtue, you had a ton of approval for the sons of Old Joe, the founding father.

IF YOU FEARED for your country, and saw Bob Kennedy's name join the long list of victims of crazy violence, you knew that the bullet in his brain was also lodged deep in the vitals of the nation. You had opposed him, but you wanted him back. You wanted him fairly beaten, by honorable foes in the front. His murder made you a sick citizen in the Sick Society, not fit for diagnosing your own soul or the nation's.

But the Returning Traveler, having been at a distance, was the only man around with any objectivity. "As public persons," the Traveler ventured, "it may be that John and Bob Kennedy had come to blank walls in their careers. There just isn't any way to prove that JFK had made a good President. And the staunchest newspaper supporters of RFK have had to admit that he wasn't going to take the Democratic nomination away from Hubert Humphrey."

THE TRAVELER spoke heartlessly. Not many of us have had as much to stay alive for as John and Bob Kennedy had. They were surrounded by troops of friends. They had loving wives and beautiful children. They possessed great wealth and great capacity for spending it well and enjoying it much.

"LAID TO REST," the Traveler noted, "in Arlington National Cemetery, under the hill that upholds the Robert E. Lee mansion, in geometric line with the Lincoln Memorial and the Capitol Dome. It's well known by the Kennedys' own words, many times repeated, that they don't regard personal death as final to their cause and dynasty."

Nobody could have watched those two funerals of JFK and RFK, the Traveler was reminded, without sharing the deep grief of family and friends.

"ROBERT KENNEDY'S funeral spoke for itself," said the Traveler. "It was public in that it was held for national observation. That in itself has told the country that the Kennedys are different from us. They are public persons, and deathless personalities."

THE TRAVELER, with all his objectivity, had breached every canon of amenity, but he wasn't finished.

"In all respect," he added, "I think historians will find that Sen. Ted Kennedy's eulogy in the Cathedral contained a Kennedy keynote address. Ted said of Bob: 'He saw wrong and tried to right it, saw suffering and tried to heal it, saw war and tried to stop it.'"

Trevino Completes His Rags-To-Riches Story

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — He's a joker, a quipster, a wise-cracking comedian, but there could be the stamp of golfing greatness on laughing Lee Trevino.

He came up the hard way, from caddy and boot black, he's victory-hungry and tough-minded as the marine he once was.

And, at 28 the brand new U.S. Open golf champion is going to be around a long time.

He proved in a single year he could play with the world's best professionals. And now he's shown that he can beat the best — and beat them in record-shattering fashion.

Sunday's triumph was his first professional tournament victory. But you can bet the rent money it won't be his last.

KEEP ON

"I'm going to keep on playing as well as I can, and as long as I can," he said. "Sure, I'm going to play some bad rounds. I've played bad rounds before. But I'll keep playing. I'll be playing this game when I'm 100 years old."

His 275 winning total matched the lowest score ever shot in the open, set last year by Jack Nicklaus. And his four sub-par rounds on the 6,962-yard Oak Hill Country Club course set a record in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

He had rounds of 69, 68, 69, 69—four consecutive under par, and never matched by all the greats who have played the Open. No one before had ever done it.

But still Trevino wasn't satisfied.

"I came up 18 looking for a birdie," he said. "I wanted all the records. A birdie would have broken Nicklaus' scoring mark."

MISSED IT

He didn't get it. In fact, he had to scramble to salvage par. He started the day one stroke back of Bert Yancey, his playing partner, and both had bogeys on the first hole. But Yancey faded back with putting troubles, and then Nicklaus challenged, moving within three strokes.

That threat was repulsed.

He's Most Happy Fella

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Lee Trevino is golf's most happy fella, a wise-cracking, fast-talking bundle of brassiness who could double as a carnival pitch-man.

He heeled off story after story Sunday following his victory in the U.S. Open, admitted he was "a little choked up, a little nervous," but refused to take himself seriously.

"Now I've won the U.S. Open I'm eligible for the World Series of Golf. But they'll probably cancel it," he joked. "That's like a guy owns a pumpkin farm and they do away with Halloween."

But he had his serious moments, too.

"Show me a guy who won the U.S. Open and isn't happy."

But the Mexican-American, a native of Dallas but now living in the border town of El Paso, Tex., said he had other plans for the $30,000 first prize money.

"I'm going to buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico."

Had he called his wife?

"Now, she saw me on TV. She knows how I feel. Besides, she's probably crying."

His wife, Trevino explained, gets all his prize winnings and controls the family purse strings.

How much will she let him keep?

"Three hundred, maybe."

Then the questioning turned to his family.

"I have a little girl, three," he said. "And I have a boy, six, by my first wife. I've been married twice."

"After the British Open?" Well, I just want to keep on playing golf as well as I can and as long as I can. I'll have some bad rounds, but I've had bad rounds before."

He was a $30 a week assistant pro at Horizon Hills Country Club a year ago. Now he owns one third of the club.

He won two Texas State Open championships, but was one of the most unknown players in the field when he made his pro debut in the 1967 Open.

"I finished fifth and won $6,000. That started it. I went home for about a month and didn't expect to play on the tour until '68. But my wife convinced me to give it a try."

"She and the baby came with me for a couple of tournaments and I was winning like $200. I wasn't practicing enough. I felt guilty about them being cooped up in a motel."

"So finally, I said, 'Why don't you go home and let me get some practice?' So she did."

"The next tournament I won about $4,000. Then I won $6,000. Then I won $5,100."

He has won about $120,000 in the year since the 1967 Open.

All His

Lee Trevino, the new U.S. Open golf champion, holds aloft cup emblematic of the title after winning the event Sunday at the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester. His four sub-par rounds of 69-68-69-69 tied the U.S. Open record of 275.

When Trevino rolled in 35 and 20-foot birdie putts on the 11th and 12th holes.

"Man, I just wanted to get so far out in front I could bogey in," Trevino said.

Nicklaus finished with a 67 for 279 and second place. Yancey, the leader at the end of play each of the first three days, fell back to a 76 for a 281 and third.

Bobby Nichols was fourth with a 69 for 282, followed by Don Bies and Steve Spray, at 284. Spray closed with a 65, matching the test closing round ever shot in the Open, and tying the record for nine holes, 30 coming home.

OLD SAM OFF PACE

Arnold Palmer closed with a 75 for 301 and 56-year-old Sam Snead had a two-under-par 68 for 286.

Trevino made his debut on the pro tour in the 1967 Open, finishing fifth. The $6,000 he won there — he was a $30 a week assistant pro before that — launched him on the tour.

He's won about $120,000 since then and now owns one-third of the club where he once worked, Horizon Hills in El Paso, Tex.

And what about the $30,000 first-prize money from the Open, the Mexican-American was asked.

"I'm gonna buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico," he quipped.

Tigers Divide Double Bill At Lovington, N.M.

After bombing the Lovington, N.M., Eagles 14-2 in the opener, the Big Spring Tigers were still in the explosive mood Sunday in Lovington. In the second game, however, they blew themselves, dropping it 6-5.

In the first game Hank Pope gave the Eagles only two hits for two runs. The game was called after five innings on the 10-run rule. Al Mendoza had three hits for the Tigers, as did Jim Fierro. Mendoza homered.

The Tigers built up a 4-1 lead in the nightcap, but in the bottom of the second Bob Griffin issued four bases on balls, gave up a hit as his mates erred.

Gurney Triumphs

MOSPORT, Ont. (AP) — Dan Gurney, driving a Ford-powered Eagle, beat Mario Andretti by 35 seconds at an average speed of 107.1 m.p.h. in the 200-mile auto race for Indianapolis-type cars Saturday over the 2.45-mile Mosport road circuit.

Local Tracksters Win Three Firsts

Big Spring tracksters, participating in their first summer meet after only a few days workout, fared well in the Brownfield tourney Saturday, capturing three first places. They won 14 other places.

Garland Braun, who is working with the boys on a voluntary program, is looking for them to make a good showing this Saturday in Fort Stockton.

He's wants more youngsters to take part in the program.

Anyone over eight is urged to report at the practice sessions from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday or Friday at Memorial Stadium.

The 440-yard senior relay team composed of John Rutherford, Kyle Rosene, Herman Evans and Charles Huff captured a first with 45.2 at Brownfield. Herman Evans won the broad jump with a leap of 20-14. Leonard Evans took a first in the open broad jump with 22-1, while Ralph Kearns took first in the mile run with 5:12.

Others who placed were: Intermediates — Danny Wright, third, and Jeff Talmadge, fourth, in the 220; Bob Priebe, fifth, in 880 with 2:25.8; Seniors — Herman Evans, 10.0, third and Charles Huff, 10.5, in 100-yard; Kyle Rosene, 24.5, fourth in 220; Larry North, 56.0, second in 440; John Turner, 5:18.1, third in mile; H. Evans, Rutherford, Rosene and North, 3:43.5, second in mile relay; Open — Leonard Evans, 10.1, third, and Sam Evans, 10.5, fifth, 100-yard; Leonard Evans, second in 220; Sam Evans, second in broad jump.

Others who took part were Mike Marcus, Rusty Braun, Gary Evans, Bob Priebe, David Stanley, Bill Colman.

Majors' Trades Are Lackluster

By The Associated Press

Major league teams, failing to come up with any major deals, moved around a number of second-line players before the trading deadline.

The last trade was made only minutes before last Saturday's midnight deadline and sent Houston's regular center fielder, Ron Davis to the St. Louis Cardinals for reserve outfielder Dick Simpson and rookie reliever Hal Gilson.

Cinderella Team Takes College Title

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — "This USC team has never been excited in desire and willingness to pay the price," said Rod Dedeaux, wily 53-year-old coach of Southern California's NCAA baseball champions.

"I've never seen anything like it the way they kept coming back," Dedeaux said. "Two out and two strikes in the last of the ninth here, the same thing in the district championship game, and three other teams had us down here, but these guys won 'em all."

USC specialized in winning cliff-hangers, it's true, and the 4-3 victory over Southern Illinois Saturday night was the most dramatic. It was USC's fifth College World Series crown.

Pat Kuehner, a senior outfielder drafted by Washington, was the hero of the title game. He ripped a 375-foot, two-run pinch triple off the fence in right center with two out and two strikes on him, after going hitless in 14 previous Series trips.

Brent Strom, sophomore lefty, came in with SIU ahead 3-2, the bases loaded, two out and three balls on the batter in the eighth. He got the out and gained his second Series victory in relief.

Martinez' Clout Wins

Tony Martinez homered to propel the Big Spring Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the Odessa Dorados here Sunday.

Junior Mendoza held the visitors in check with a sparkling two-hitter. He, too, gave up a homer with one on in the first, but after that he set them down in order except for one inning when an Odessaan got aboard on an error. The Cards managed but three hits off Pat Spencer and Pete Mata. Next Sunday the Cards (8-2) go to San Angelo to play the Maurice Shop Cardinals. Sunday's box score:

Lefty Wins Net Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — Lefthanded Steve Avoyer of the University of Southern California triumphed in two sets Sunday to win the men's singles in the 44th Texas Open Tennis Championship.

Avoyer, 20, third seeded in the tournament, defeated another southpaw, Pancho Walthall, 18, of San Antonio, 9-7, 6-3 in a match that was delayed two hours by rain.

Second-seeded Mary Lowdon of Fort Worth took the women's title with a 6-4, 1-6, 6-4 victory over third-seeded Becky Vest of Jackson, Miss.

Jim Parker of Austin and John Mozila of Houston won the men's doubles by default.

The women's doubles also were won by default to Emille Burr of San Antonio and Miss Lowdon.

Allison Bros. Sweep Race

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Allison boys drove side-by-side through North Carolina Motor Speedway's tricky turns with only laps to go Sunday and gave each other the "A-OK" sign.

Donnie Allison went on to win the Carolina 500-mile stock car race in a factory-backed Ford, his first Grand National victory ever. Older brother Bobby Allison, driving an independently financed Chevelle, finished second, although about two miles behind at the finish. He averaged 99.377 miles per hour.

The brothers, who live about a mile apart in Hueytown, Ala., took home $25,325 of the race's $78,230 purse. Donnie won $15,673, which he'll have to split with his car owner and crew. Bobby will bank all of his winnings because he's his own car owner.

High Hat By A Nose

By The Associated Press

High Hat proved to be the hit of the picture at Belmont Park, but Fiddle Isle turned out to be the villain in a movie made at Hollywood Park.

High Hat and Irish Rebellion hit the finish of the 14-mile Bowling Green Handicap Saturday almost as one, but the photo showed High Hat's nose in front.

Fiddle Isle finished first by a half-length in the 1 1/2-mile Cinema Handicap. But Bill Harman, aboard American Tiger, who finished third in a dead heat with Distinctly, claimed Fiddle Isle and jockey Larry Gilligan bothered his mount in the stretch.

After viewing the patrol film, the stewards disqualified Fiddle Isle and placed him fourth.

However, Howard Keck, owner of Fiddle Isle, still got the $32,400 winner's share of the $54,900 purse because he also owns Pinjarra, who was placed first in the turf race.

Willie Davis Gets Top Pro Football Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Davis, All-Pro defensive end of the Green Bay Packers, was named Sunday winner of the National Football League's top award for contributions to his team, league and community.

Davis, who last week received a master's degree from the University of Chicago, received the Justice Byron Raymond "Whizzer" White Award at the NFL's second annual awards night dinner, a $100-a-plate affair.

The award is named for the U.S. Supreme Court justice who was a former All-American and professional football player.

Funds from the dinner, attended by 1,800 football players, business leaders and fans, went to the Better Boys Foundation of Chicago. Top defensive awards went to Ray Nitschke of the Packers and Dave Jones of the Los Angeles Rams. Nitschke was picked by his colleagues as the best defensive player in the NFL. Jones was named the best defensive lineman in the league.

Forrest Gregg of Green Bay running back and receiver. Lem was named the top offensive lineman.

Wahoo Crawford In Last Strikeout

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Sam "Wahoo" Crawford, who set major league batting records in the days when pitchers doctored baseballs with emery boards, bottle caps and soap, is dead at the age of 88.

Despite the handwork of pitchers on a ball already much deader than today's baseball, Crawford compiled a lifetime record which still stands of 312 homers and at the time of his death, his career base hit mark of 2,964 was the ninth best in baseball history.

Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame July 22, 1957, Crawford had been the oldest living member of those enshrined at Cooperstown, N.Y.

During his 19 years in the majors, ending in 1917, he rolled up a career batting average of .309.

Ball Bounces Just Right For Mets To Split With Atlanta

By The Associated Press

Herman Franks thought he'd put one over on Gil Hodges and Atlanta was afraid Joe Torre had bounced one over on the Chicago Cubs.

Franks had his lefty righty strategy cross up in the second game as Hodges' New York Mets nipped the San Francisco Giants 3-1 for a split of their Sunday doubleheader. Ray Sadecki's five-hitter had given the Giants a 4-1 first game victory.

Torre's long double scored Hank Aaron from first base with the only run of Atlanta's 1-0 11-inning victory over Chicago but only after it came dangerously close to bouncing over the wall for a ground rule two-bagger that would have left Aaron at third.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-1 and 11-2. St. Louis trimmed Cincinnati 4-2 and Los Angeles spotted Bob Skinner's managerial debut by tripping Philadelphia 2-1.

Torre, who suffered a broken jaw when hit by a pitch by Chuck Hartenstein early in the season, paid the Chicago reliever back a bit with his game-winning double.

Aaron had walked and was running when Torre hit Hartenstein's pitch to right center. "I was afraid the ball was going to bounce over the fence and Aaron would have to stop at third," said Manager Luman Harris.

It stayed in play and Aaron scored easily, making a winner of reliever Jim Britton, who had taken over for Phil Niekro in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente drove in one run with a triple and set up another with a single in the first game and Pittsburgh extended its winning streak to five games by walloping the Astros in the nightcap.

John Edwards drove in a pair of runs with a fifth inning single and the Cardinals dropped Cincinnati. Edwards' hit climaxed a three-run comeback for the Cards, who spotted the Reds a 2-0 ledge on Leo Cardenas' bases-loaded single.

Bob Bailey scored Los Angeles' winning run on a fourth inning passed ball and the Dodgers beat the Phillies in Skinner's first game as Philadelphia manager.

The Dodgers were leading 1-0 when Bailey and Zoilo Versalles singled starting the fourth against loser Rick Wise. Then catcher Mike Ryan led a pitch get away and Bailey scored.

Wise homered for the Phillies' only run.

Pirates Slam Astros Twice

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates kept a couple of streaks intact Sunday when they won a doubleheader from the Houston Astros.

That made five straight triumphs for the Pirates and five consecutive losses for Houston. Jose Pagan and Maury Wills hit successive fourth inning doubles for a 3-1 Pittsburgh victory in the opener.

The Pirates exploded for four runs in the fifth inning, sparked by Manny Jimenez' two-run single, for a 11-2 rout in the nightcap.

Lefty Wins Net Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — Lefthanded Steve Avoyer of the University of Southern California triumphed in two sets Sunday to win the men's singles in the 44th Texas Open Tennis Championship.

Allison Bros. Sweep Race

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Allison boys drove side-by-side through North Carolina Motor Speedway's tricky turns with only laps to go Sunday and gave each other the "A-OK" sign.

High Hat By A Nose

By The Associated Press

High Hat proved to be the hit of the picture at Belmont Park, but Fiddle Isle turned out to be the villain in a movie made at Hollywood Park.

Willie Davis Gets Top Pro Football Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Davis, All-Pro defensive end of the Green Bay Packers, was named Sunday winner of the National Football League's top award for contributions to his team, league and community.

Wahoo Crawford In Last Strikeout

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Sam "Wahoo" Crawford, who set major league batting records in the days when pitchers doctored baseballs with emery boards, bottle caps and soap, is dead at the age of 88.

had bounced one over on the Chicago Cubs.

Franks had his lefty righty strategy cross up in the second game as Hodges' New York Mets nipped the San Francisco Giants 3-1 for a split of their Sunday doubleheader. Ray Sadecki's five-hitter had given the Giants a 4-1 first game victory.

Torre's long double scored Hank Aaron from first base with the only run of Atlanta's 1-0 11-inning victory over Chicago but only after it came dangerously close to bouncing over the wall for a ground rule two-bagger that would have left Aaron at third.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-1 and 11-2. St. Louis trimmed Cincinnati 4-2 and Los Angeles spotted Bob Skinner's managerial debut by tripping Philadelphia 2-1.

Torre, who suffered a broken jaw when hit by a pitch by Chuck Hartenstein early in the season, paid the Chicago reliever back a bit with his game-winning double.

Aaron had walked and was running when Torre hit Hartenstein's pitch to right center. "I was afraid the ball was going to bounce over the fence and Aaron would have to stop at third," said Manager Luman Harris.

It stayed in play and Aaron scored easily, making a winner of reliever Jim Britton, who had taken over for Phil Niekro in the 10th.

Roberto Clemente drove in one run with a triple and set up another with a single in the first game and Pittsburgh extended its winning streak to five games by walloping the Astros in the nightcap.

John Edwards drove in a pair of runs with a fifth inning single and the Cardinals dropped Cincinnati. Edwards' hit climaxed a three-run comeback for the Cards, who spotted the Reds a 2-0 ledge on Leo Cardenas' bases-loaded single.

Bob Bailey scored Los Angeles' winning run on a fourth inning passed ball and the Dodgers beat the Phillies in Skinner's first game as Philadelphia manager.

The Dodgers were leading 1-0 when Bailey and Zoilo Versalles singled starting the fourth against loser Rick Wise. Then catcher Mike Ryan led a pitch get away and Bailey scored.

Wise homered for the Phillies' only run.

It's Clark Kent To Rescue Again

By The Associated Press

Horace Clarke staggered Rick Clark to get the New York Yankees off the ropes, but it took a super stroke by Clark Kent to get them off the hook.

California's Clark Kent had the Yankees down 1-0 Sunday until Clarke ripped a two-run eighth inning homer and Mickey Mantle unloaded another two-run blast off reliever Clyde Wright.

The Angels, however, rallied for two runs in the ninth before Andy Kosco, the bespectacled outfielder who is fast becoming New York's answer to the Superman cartoon legend, flashed to the rescue despite a false start and saved the Yankees' 4-3 victory.

With two out, one run in and two Angels on the bases, Kosco lost Bobby Knopp's fly to right in the sun. It fell for a double, scoring Rick Reichardt and sending Bubba Morton racing toward home from first base with the tying run.

But Kosco, whose broad shoulders, good looks and clutch hitting have earned him the "Clark Kent" tag around New York clubhouse, fired a strike to the plate, easily nailing Morton for the final out.

The Yankees' third straight victory left them in seventh place in the American League — one game behind Oakland — as a doubleheader from second place Baltimore 4-2 and 6-4. The Orioles slipped 7 1/2 games behind Detroit's league leaders, who split a twin bill with Chicago, winning the nightcap 6-1 after a 3-2 first game loss.

Boston downed Cleveland 5-3 and Minnesota defeated Washington 4-2 in other single games.

Airman Hurt In Accident

A Webb AFB airman is in the Base hospital today with extensive injuries suffered in a one-car crash early Sunday at Tulsa and US 80 east.

Airman Philip S. Tander, whose exact condition has not been determined, has a skull fracture and severe head lacerations, according to Webb officials. It was not known then if morning whether he would be air-evacuated to Wilford Hall, Lackland AFB Hospital.

Stander was a passenger in a car driven by Airman 1C Thomas Aaron Moore, who was not injured. Moore was charged with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle and released to Webb authorities.

Stander was first taken to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital by an ambulance and later transferred to the base hospital. The incident occurred at 2:28 a.m. Police are continuing their investigation.

In other accidents, cars driven by Bobby Harris, 2712 Carol, and William Witzig, 1515-B Sycamore, collided at Kenny and Tucson; in the 300 block of Northwest Fourth, Ramon Conne, 907 NW 7th, and Joseph Lopez Jr., 801 N. Goliad, were involved in a mishap; at Third and Brown, Harley Andrew Cul-

Novelist's Son Dies In Viet

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Relatives received word Sunday that Marine 2nd Lt. Michael Lee Dewlen, 25, son of novelist Al Dewlen, was killed June 11 while fighting near Quang Tri in Vietnam.

His parents live in Amarillo. Also surviving is his wife, the former Lynn Nowlin of Vernon, Tex.

Lt. Dewlen had been in Vietnam since May 3. He played football at Baylor University, starting as a guard his junior and senior years, before he was graduated in 1967 and entered the Marine Corps.

Previously he was senior class president, captain of the football team and most valuable player his senior year at Amarillo High School.

The elder Dewlen also played football at Baylor before World War II service as a Marine. He is the author of several novels, including "Night of the Tiger," which was the basis for a movie.

Pennsylvania Governor Endorses Rockefeller

By The Associated Press
New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has won a big-state endorsement for Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for his GOP presidential bid—but acknowledges a drive for such backing could give new delegates to rival Richard M. Nixon.

Shafer announced the endorsement at the end of the Republican Governors Association Conference at Tulsa, Okla., over the weekend and estimated 45 to 50 of Pennsylvania's 64 Republican delegates would join him in backing Rockefeller.

Said Rockefeller: "In the last week, my campaign has really taken off." But he said further endorsements from governors who are now favorite sons could also release delegates to join Nixon's already substantial block of nominating votes.

"There is a delicate balance," he said.

Nixon's campaign manager, John Mitchell, said meanwhile the former vice president already has "more than enough delegates" to win the GOP presidential nomination and "will not engage in an exchange of charge and countercharge with Rockefeller."

Newsweek magazine said Sunday its tabulation shows Nixon only 29 votes short of the 667 needed for nomination, with 573 delegates favoring Nixon, 252 Rockefeller and 146 California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy indicated he plans to step up his presidential bid against Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey by pressing questions on Vietnam and other issues he has raised.

But former White House press secretary Bill Moyer predicted Humphrey will soon begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies.

including military escalation in Vietnam.

Moyer's made the prediction in an interview broadcast on WNEW radio in New York.

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace returned his third party presidential campaign to the South—Richmond, Va.—today after saying in Washington he would emphasize law enforcement, rather than gun laws, as president.

"If I get to be president," Wallace said, "I'm going to stand with the police and we're going to have an orderly society."

He was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

As the candidates campaigned, New Yorkers prepared to decide the last of the major presidential primaries Tuesday—with 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegate seats at stake.

Democratic State Chairman John J. Burns said New York delegates states formerly pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will remain supporters of his principles. McCarthy backers predicted they would win 40 to 60 delegates and Humphrey slates were entered in 25 of the 41 congressional districts.

Rockefeller is challenged by Nixon delegate candidates for only 11 of the 82 GOP seats at stake.

Delegates were selected by party conventions over the weekend in Idaho and Montana. A poll of 25 Idaho Democratic delegates indicated 17 would vote for Humphrey and 5 for McCarthy with 3 uncommitted. The 14 GOP delegates reportedly favored Nixon but could pivot to Reagan.

Humphrey got 24 of Montana's 28 Democratic delegate votes and McCarthy 2.

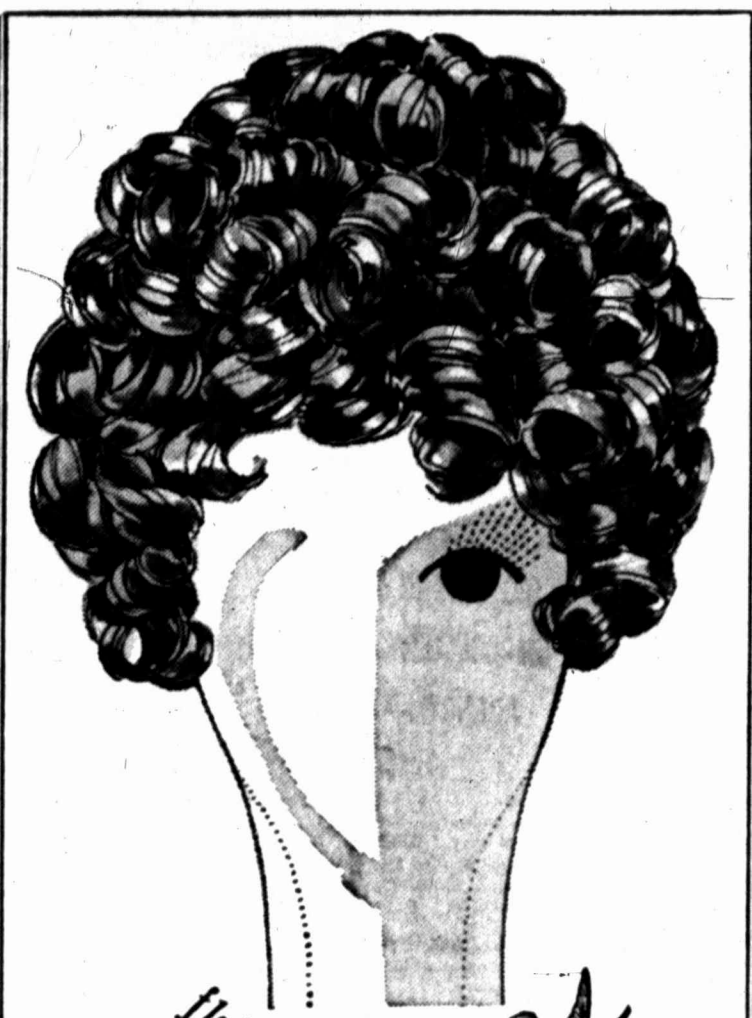

In other political developments: —Rockefeller reportedly suggested to fellow Republican governors at Tulsa that Reagan be given a leading role at the national convention in televised presentation of the party platform, taking advantage of the California's skill in television presentations.

—Host Gov. Robert McNair of South Carolina said he expects a resolution for tighter gun control laws to be introduced at the Southern Governors Conference in Charleston, S.C. Business sessions began today.

—Mississippi Gov. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, said his party needs an acceptable dark-horse presidential candidate if Southern states are to be kept from going to Wallace.

OUSTED CONGRESSMAN

Powell Overwhelming Favorite In Primary

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who was ousted from Congress and then won re-election but failed to claim his seat, goes before the voters of Harlem again Tuesday. And he's an overwhelming favorite to win renomination.

His opponent in the Democratic primary is John Young, 52, a former member of Powell's staff.

Whether the flamboyant Powell, who is 59, actually returns to Washington is still subject to question, even though few in Harlem doubt he will win renomination and re-election.

Congress may again refuse to seat him. Or, as he did after the last election, he may not claim his seat. Or he may get caught up in complications stemming from a drawn-out state court action involving a libel suit he lost.

Powell has ruled the 18th Congressional District for over two decades of late from self-exile on Bimini, the preacher-politician's own sunny Elba in the Bahamas.

Many Harlem voters feel Powell got a "raw deal" in 1967, when Congress expelled him, overriding a select committee that had recommended censure and a fine.

Powell had held his House seat for 22 years before expulsion on charges of misusing public funds and flouting New York state courts in the libel judgment case.

After the expulsion, Harlem sent Powell back to Washington—he won re-election overwhelmingly in a special election year. However, he didn't try to reclaim his seat. He said he wouldn't go back as a freshman and demanded restoration of the seniority that had made him chairman of the Education and Labor Committee.

Powell didn't appear in Harlem during that campaign. He once said that his followers would elect him "until I die, and even after I'm dead, I think some of you will write my name in."

Until recently, no one seriously challenged him on that. No one could match the personality of the pastor of the 10,000-member Abyssinian Baptist Church.

Last March, Powell came back to Harlem, after being

Golf Tournament Tops In Weekend Billing

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The hit television show of the weekend was the windup of the U.S. Open Golf Tournament at Rochester, N.Y. It had everything—live action, drama and the birth of a star.

ABC's cameras and commentators skillfully showed the play for about 90 minutes Saturday. Golf is hard to cover because the action is spread all over the place and when the network switched to a tape of the Memorial Day Indianapolis 500, it was like the end of an episode in an old cliff-hanger serial.

Two young players, Bert Yancey and Lee Trevino, were battling it out for the lead and the big name stars were trailing.

On Sunday, for the windup, there was more drama, with Jack Nicklaus coming on strong, Yancey dropping back and Trevino, a 28-year-old Mexican-American from El Paso, holding on to his lead and winning.

There were times on both days when the camera seemed to jump around, but sometimes it was because two critical plays were in progress at the same moment. The problem was usually solved by showing a crucial putt live and then returning to a tough shot out of a trap in slow motion.

NBC's "Animal Kingdom" premiere Sunday night was a report on the great annual migration of animals at the beginning of the African rainy season. It was par for a nature documentary, with routine photography and a commentary that had a travel-talk flavor.

"The Art Game" on NBC Friday night was a disappointment, primarily because too much was crammed into a one-hour special.

The result was that what should have been a very visual documentary turned out to be almost entirely a series of interviews with experts talking about the joys and pitfalls of buying and selling paintings and sculpture.

SAIGON (AP) — A dynamic South Vietnamese general regarded as too honest by many of his colleagues has been dumped from another top job, reliable sources reported today.

The ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang was regarded here as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's purge of senior military men allied with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Thang, who is 37, was once the American-supported boss of the pacification program. For the past four months he has commanded the 4th Corps Area, which includes the Mekong Delta.

Thang, a native of North Vietnam, has removed eight province chiefs of corruption and revitalized the military effort in the delta.

Reliable sources said Thang's closeness to Ky was the main reason that he was replaced today by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Le, former inspector general of the armed forces. Thang is for the time being on "indefinite sick
