Petrolia Man Arrested By Clay County Sheriff In Forestburg Bank Robbery

Mud Quenches Fire In 1,500-Barrel Gusher After Two Lose Lives

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Feb. 26.—Two 4-inch streams of mud and water, poured into the smouldering hole as the intermittent oil flow subsided. at noon Thursday choked out the flames which Wednesday night claimed the lives of two men and heralded the arrival of another Young county freak well.

Jim H. Price, tool dresser, was instantly killed and Joe Rider, driller, was fatally burned about 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night in a gas explosion when the Nash and Windfohr No. 6, on the Hinson lease, came in unexpectedly at 2005 feet. The two men, expecting production at the 2200-foot level, were unable to cool brick fires in the furnace in time to avert the blast. Price died at once and Rider succumbed about 2 o'clock Thursday morning.

Injured Men Recover

Doyle Compton, gauger, and G. F. Girard, employe of the Texas Pipe Line company, burned in an effort to rescue Rider, were reported recovering Thursday night.

With the great torch of flame, spurting 250 feet in the air at intervals through the night and day at last conquered, oil men here Thursday afternoon took time to appraise the new phenomenon. Accurate estimation of the flow was impossible and guesses ranged from 500 to 5,000 barrels, but experts believed the well would flow between 1,000 and 1,500 barrels.

No other well in the area is producing at 2005 feet and the initial production of most is between 50 and 500 barrels. Old timers called it another inexplicable freak, comparable to the Nash and Windfohr No. 1 McCloud which several months ago came in a wild gusher and was out of control for several days.

Control Installed

Workmen handling the choked No. 6 said Thursday night they expected to let the well flow until it clears itself of the water and mud. With the fire extinguished a master gate was installed, shutting in the flow. Sufficient pressure is expected by Friday morning to blow the hole clear. As it stood Thursday night the well held a string of tools, 2000 feet of drilling string and 700 feet of open hole.

Before the disaster Wednesday, the well was making 75 barrels of water a day. Oil men said the water would eventually drown out the production. In the event, owners plan to fish out the tools, clean the hole, run in a string of casing and bring the well back.

Victim Honored

Thursday night a delegation of 25 Graham oil men started for Houston to attend funeral services for Rider. Brief rites were said at the First Christian church at 5:30 Thursday afternoon, with Rev. J. E. Montgomery officiating. The final ceremonies will be said in Houston Friday morning. Rider, who was 42 years old, is survived by a wife and daughter.

Murray Has Plan To Solve Problem For Oil Industry

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26. (UP)—Gov. W. H. Murray said late today he had devised a plan that he claimed would solve the present petroleum crisis.

He declined to disclose the plan until he meets with the governors of Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana in a conference at Fort Worth Saturday night.

"I have a plan that will solve the oil problem," Murray told the United Press.

"I shall lay it before the governors at Fort Worth for approval or rejection."

Posse Pursues Bandits After Tuskahoma Raid

M'ALESTER, Okla., Feb. 26. (AP)—Three unmasked men held up the Bank of Tuskahoma, 35 miles east of here, and escaped with an undetermined amount of cash about 3 o'clock this afternoon. A posse pursued as the bandits fled toward Antlers in the mountainous country of Southeastern Oklahoma.

Horton Mathis, cashier, W. A. Roberts and W. E. Haynes, customers, were the only persons in the bank at the time.

Two of the bandits walked in with leveled guns while the third remained in an automobile outside.

Mathis leaped from their small roadster when they attempted to kidnap him.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Feb. 26. (UP)—Five bandits today robbed the Security State bank of $8,000 in cash and liberty bonds.

Four of the robbers forced 13 bank employes and customers to stand against a wall with hands upraised while they looted money tills and the vault. The fifth man remained outside in the bandit automobile.

COURT RULES PULITZERS MAY SELL WORLDS

Publishers Refuse to Say Who Will Purchase Failing Papers

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (US)—Permission to sell the morning, evening and Sunday Worlds was granted to the heirs of the Pulitzer estate shortly before midnight tonight in a decision handed down by Surrogate Foley.

At the office of John G. Jackson, counsel for the Pulitzers, it was stated:

"No statement regarding the purchases will be made from this office. Such a statement is reserved for publication in the World."

In view of recent negotiations conducted by the trustees, Ralph, Herbert and Joseph Pulitzer Jr., it was regarded as likely that they would announce the sale of the papers to the Scripps-Howard papers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Spurred by offers of help from newspaper comrades all over the United States and in Europe, the men and women of the New York World strove desperately today to preserve the paper of Joseph Pulitzer.

The 2,867 employes of the morning, evening and Sunday World battled against time and surrogate's impending decision to get into shape a money offer for the paper which would avert its acquisition by the Scripps-Howard interests and its merging with the New York Evening Telegram.

They worked largely in the dark and without legal status. It was not certain whether Surrogate James A. Foley would construe the will of the late Mr. Pulitzer to permit the sale of the World newspapers. He was preparing his opinion today on the request of Herbert, Joseph Jr. and Ralph Pulitzer for permission to dispose of the papers, which they said had been losing money five years and could not be continued for more than three months.

Even if Surrogae Foley ruled the World could be sold, its employes would have no standing in court as opponents of its sale and merger with the Telegram until they themselves had made a specific offer to the Pulitzer sons for its purchase.

A major hope of the employes collapsed this morning when Paul Block, publisher of a chain of newspapers, withdrew his offer of yesterday to pay more for the World than the Scripps-Howard group had offered and to give the employes 45 days to acquire it from him at the price he paid.

But the employes' committee marshalled its resources, sought to substantiate and enlarge the $2,000,000 which it said it had in sight this morning, and was heartened by messages which poured in all day to James Barrett, its chairman, from men and women of the craft.

The staff of the Houston, Texas, Chronicle began pledging funds to buy stock in the cooperative company of New York World employes, and reported $350 promised as a starter.

FISH FACTORIES

IN THE preparation of fish and oil, shore stations have for years been maintained. These stations are located at intervals along the seacoasts while all catches were dragged bodily onto the flensing platform where the work was done. As the supply of whales has nearly become exhausted, floating factory vessels are gradually taking the place of the old method. This modern whaler is sent into the whaling regions. It has two working decks and is said to be able to dispose of six large blue whales a day; the average yielding about 75 barrels of oil. WOMAN'S TIP BRINGS ARREST OF SUSPECT

GIRL ACCUSES SWAIN

Loot Believed Cached On 'Gravel Road' Near Alvord

A 24-year-old Petrolia man, traced to his hiding place on a ranch five miles north of Henrietta, was arrested Thursday afternoon as the second suspect in the $3,000 Forestburk bank robbery last Friday.

The man, sought by Charlie Gant, special agent, on forgery charges which also involve a suspect now held in Montague in connection with the bank holdup, was traced to the field on a tip from a Clay county woman who said he had told her he participated in the robbery.

A car stolen in front of a North Fort Worth theater Wednesday night was found concealed behind the woman's farmhouse. She told officers the suspect had left it there with the statement that he expected to hide in the fields until dark to make his getaway.

Man Denies Charge

After the arrest, made by Gant, Sheriff J. M. Donnell of Clay county and John Firestone, Henrietta marshal, the young man admitted association with the suspect held in Montague and told of stealing the car in Fort Worth, Mr. Gant declared.

The suspect admitted also that he had told a girl in Wichita Falls and the Clay county woman that he committed the robbery, but declared his story to the women was not true, denying all knowledge of the crime.

A search of the prisoner's pockets revealed newspaper clippings telling of the holdup and a $65 receipt from a Burkburnett automobile company, issued since the holdup.

G. B. Wiley, cashier of the looted bank, viewed the suspect in Henrietta Thursday night and declared that his voice and general appearance resembled closely those of one of the bandit pair. Other bank officials and Montague county officers will go to Henrietta Friday in an effort to complete the identification.

A young Wichita Falls woman was questioned by District Attorney George Anderson here early Thursday night, and in her statement said that the man had told her that he had robbed the bank.

Wichita Girl Questioned

She told Mr. Anderson that early Saturday morning, the day following the bank robbery, the suspected youth appeared at her home here and invited her to give him a kiss, adding "it may be your last chance, I expect I'll be in jail before night. I robbed a bank at Forestburg yes-

Police Guard Man Held for Attack On Daughter, 15

TEXARKANA, Texas, Feb. 26. (U)—Police tonight prepared to spirit S. R. Bynum, 50-year-old farmer accused of criminally assaulting his daughter, Geneva, 15, out of Bowie county as feeling was reported running high against him.

The girl attempted to take her life by swallowing poison at her home near Dekalb, 30 miles west of here, after the arrest of her father, but the prompt arrival of a physician saved her.

She will become a mother in April. "I don't want to live," she was quoted as saying by officers investigating the case.

Bynum is the father of 15 children, six of them living. He is living with his second wife. District Attorney R. G. Waters said Bynum had confessed relations with his daughter.

100 Die as Hurricane Sweeps Fiji Island

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Feb. 26. (UP)—With the death list known to exceed 100, buildings, crops and one entire Fijian village were laid waste today by a tropical hurricane that swept the island of Fiji.

So devastating was the force of the storm that inland rivers were reported lifted from their banks and driven through new channels across the countryside.

State to Intervene In Yates Oil Suit

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (UP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today asked permission of the state supreme court to file an argument in a land suit pending there, by which Addie Miller claims title to 424 acres of the Yates oil pool estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

If Yates wins the suit in the supreme court as he did in the district court and court of civil appeals at El Paso, the state will continue to receive a sixteenth oil royalty.

If the land is held to be part of the Miller grant the state will lose the royalty as no mineral interest was retained in that grant.

Murray Holds Ax On Wentz

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26. (UP)—The house passed the Henderson bill late today giving Gov. W. H. Murray power to remove Lew Wentz, Ponca City oil millionaire, from the state highway commission.

The vote was 70 to 23.

The bill, introduced by Nat Henderson, Haskell county, allows the governor to remove highway commissioners at any time and would make the terms of the commissioners coincide with that of the governor.

Murray already has demoted Wentz, a Republican, from chairmanship of the commission.

Murray men adopted two amendments. One would allow the governor to name three Democrats to the commission instead of the present two Democrats and one Republican. Another amendment provided that terms of the commissioners expired with the death, resignation or removal of the governor.

Senate friends of Attorney Gen. J. Berry King amended the department appropriation bill to prevent the governor from reducing the number of King's assistants to five by use of the veto power.

The amended bill providing for eight assistants at salaries of $3,850, passed, 23 to 9. Representative Orley Hart, Dewey county, in a bill in the house providing $500,000 for construction of a dome on the state capitol. Similar bills have been offered spasmodically since the capitol was built 14 years ago.

RETAILERS TO MEET FRIDAY

Trade Development Sought In New Bureau

For the formation of a retail trade development bureau, retail merchants of Wichita Falls will meet Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the directors' room of the chamber of commerce, according to Jack Barnard, chairman of the organization committee, who stated Thursday that a splendid response to the plan is indicated by the interest of merchants here.

The purpose of the proposed bureau is to stimulate retail trade in this section, it was explained. Operations of the board will be controlled by merchants here and will be conducted through the chamber of commerce. The Better Business campaign committee which functioned in Wichita Falls for several months did considerable work toward trade development, which is to be continued by the bureau. J. C. Mytinger, chairman of the Better Business committee, will address the gathering of merchants Friday to explain and urge the importance of continuation of trade extension plans.

Organization of the bureau will be completed at the Friday meeting and a president, other officers and a board of directors will be selected, it was said.

Einstein Draws Line At Signing Check Book

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 26. (US)—Hero-worshippers have besought their idols to sign their names on baseballs, hats, airplane wings, vests, menu cards, stamps and whatnot.

Today when Professor Albert Einstein was working his way toward his car through a crowd at Pasadena Junior college, a woman enthusiast proffered something new.

Probably it was the only bit of paper she had, but what she held under the Einstein nose, fountain pen ready, was her check book.

Einstein smiled amiably—but didn't sign.

DEFEAT OF OIL EMBARGO RIPS G. O. P. FORCES

Oil States Republicans In Nasty Mood as Party Holds Caucus

LONGWORTH NAMED

Harmony Prevails in Closed Session Despite Loss Of Westerners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Despite the bolting of a number of independents and five Kansas regulars because of failure to enact oil legislation, complete harmony prevailed in the house Republican caucus tonight as the slate of nominees for the next congress was adopted.

Nicholas Longworth of Ohio was re-nominated as speaker and John Q. Tilson of Connecticut was renamed party floor leader.

A motion by Representative Swing of California to instruct the rules committee to submit at the first Republican conference in the 72nd congress recommendations for changes in the rules of procedure also was adopted.

Chairman Snell of the rules committee said he had no objection, indicating the rules would be revised.

Oil Restriction Urged

Although the meeting was behind closed door, it was announced that restriction of oil and anthracite coal imports had been urged as a party policy.

Prohibition also was injected by Representative Schafer of Wisconsin, but no action was taken, these matters being postponed until the first conference in the next congress.

The caucus also named the committee on committees which arranges the Republican seats on house committees. No member of that committee was selected from Kansas due to a bolt of some of that state's delegates over oil legislation. Representative Strong, of Kansas, the only member attending, announced his delegation was not prepared to announce its selection.

15 Members Absent

Including the Kansas absentees and the independents there were 15 who did not attend, exclusive of those ill or out of the city. The Kansans joined the bolt a few hours before the caucus.

They made known their decision after ways and means committee Republicans rejected again a proposal to restrict imports of foreign oil. Previously a number of independents from Northwestern states said they did not desire to be bound by decisions of the caucus and would not attend.

Legislation Doomed

Speaker Longworth, unopposed candidate for renomination, succeeded in reopening the oil proposals shelved by party members on the ways and means committee. Today's action ended prospects for such legislation this session.

Chairman Hawley, presiding officer of the caucus, announced after a meeting of his committee majority that "there will be no further consideration of the oil legislation at this session."

Shortly thereafter, the Republican Kansas delegation met and issued a statement over the signatures of Representatives Hoch, Guyer, Hope, Sparks, and Lambertson, setting forth their views.

Meanwhile, from Representative Garber, Oklahoma Republican, came a threat of coalition in the evenly divided new house between oil state Republicans and Democrats for revising the tariff.

"It is only a temporary victory and an ill-advised one for the west-

When awarded the prize in Stockholm, Lewis severely criticized American literature, business and institutions.

Highway Board Opens Bids Today On $7,856,000 in New Projects

AUSTIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—Construction estimated to cost $7,856,000 will be awarded at a meeting of the Texas highway commission, scheduled to open tomorrow and last through Tuesday. Forty projects have been included in the construction program.

In addition to the construction, maintenance contracts aggregating $575,000 will be awarded.

The program included 173 miles of concrete paving, 200 miles of grading and drainage structures and 94 miles of surface treatment for a total mileage of 467, irrespective of the several bridge projects.

The construction and maintenance contracts will be awarded tomorrow and Saturday with Monday and Tuesday set aside for hearing county delegations. About 30 delegations have registered.

The program is the most ambitious ever undertaken by the highway commission. A majority of the projects will be carried out with federal aid funds to utilize the $5,000,000 special appropriation advanced by congress to Texas as an employment aid during the business depression.

All contracts will specify the use of local labor as much as possible.

Highway department officials said they anticipated the heaviest bidding in several months, despite the fact bidding since early last year has been exceptionally heavy and close. It was believed likely the contracts would be awarded at

Hard Water Taking Heavy Toll In City's Health And Business

Marlow, Parnell and Gordon Give Facts and Figures on Wichita's Need for Improvements; Unemployed Express Confidence in Officials

"Wichita Falls needs these water improvements, and needs to pass this bond issue on March 14 by the biggest majority the city ever has given to any bond issue," declared Dr. L. D. Parnell, local physician and surgeon, before about 400 persons at the Memorial auditorium Thursday night in a meeting sponsored by the unemployed men of the city.

"Opposition to the completion of this project," the speaker continued, 'can be based on only one thing: selfishness. To any who may try to block this commendable movement merely because it is going to cost them 33, or even 39 cents more per month for water, I would quote from William Jennings Bryan's masterful oration, 'The Prince of Peace,' in which he said 'we must forget ourselves sometimes in devotion to things greater than we are'."

Near the conclusion of his plea for the proposed water improvements on the basis of sanitation and health, Dr. Parnell said:

"This is a day of unselfishness. I believe there never was in all the world so much of voluntary charity as there is today. Thirty years ago the person who gave freely to charity was known thereby not only in his community, but in his county and state. He achieved prominence. There is no such prominence available to any man now through the medium of charitable donations because so nearly everybody is giving of his means.

Tribute Paid to Those Working for Wichita

"Personally, I have given little to this city. I have built no buildings, have developed no industrial enterprises. But I can not drive out over this city, south and west of the auditorium in which we meet tonight, without realizing that other citizens have given much for which they expect no return. They are among those who are working as hard and sincerely for the completion of this water improvement project as they have worked in past years on many other needed community improvements.

"It seems to me," Dr. Parnell continued, "that some men have decided that, because there is one thing in the community which they don't like, everything else is suddenly deserving of their condemnation. I don't believe we have any set of men in this town, or in any other, who would render any more efficient and unselfish service than those who now grace our council table. Yet they are being maligned and their motives impugned, apparently because some of our citizens believe that $10,000 a year is too much to pay a city manager.

"This is the first time I have ever appeared in the role of a speaker for any political issue," said Dr. Parnell in beginning his talk, "and what I have to say will be rather as a chemist, purposed to show you our need for the proposed water improvements, than as a proponent of any political policy. However, incident to my investigation of this water situation from the standpoint of good health, I have become somewhat familiar recently with some of the inside problems of our noble little city and its government. Some of my best friends are fighting this bond issue with all their very souls. That is their privilege, just as it is mine to support it. I have ho quarrel with them, nor they with me. But before bringing you what information I can about the water, and its bearing upon health, I think there are some facts about our city government you should khow,

Here Are FACTS on City Government

"The figures which I shall give you are not gossip from the street, nor picked up at random, but are taken directly, with great care, directly from the sworn records of this city. They are given to you here because so much has been said about the folly of paying a city manager $10,000 annually for his services.

"Now, I confess rather shamefacedly, that I was one of the hard-boiled opponents of this city manager form of government when it was voted upon here. However, my eyes are open, and my mind can see facts as plainly as the following records reveal them.

"During the year ending March 31, 1927, the city's income was $1,019,208.60. At the end of that year, our overdraft at the bank was $139,932.51—we were 'in the red' that much. At the end of the next year, on March 31, 1928, our income had been $1,052,321.73, and we still had an overdraft of $124,489.81. In addition to that, the city had unpaid open accounts totalling $152,098.49—a total indebtedness of more than $276,000.

"Now it was at that time that our city manager took charge of the city's business. Eleven months later, March 31, 1929, the city's income had been $1,085,638.43, we had no overdraft, no outstanding accounts, but instead had a bank balance of $134,107.63. One year later, on March 31, 1930, at the end of Mr. Fairtrace's second year, our income had been $1,025,568.10, we had no debts, and had a bank balance of $124,182.31.

"To show that this remarkable and rapid improvement in the city's financial condition was not due to neglect or cessation of payments on bonded indebtedness, please notice that in the year ending March 31, 1927, bond redemptions had totalled $226,619.45; in 1928, $234,210.33; to March 31, 1929, $256,079.25; and from that date to March 31, 1930, $576,333.31.

"Now if that tremendous improvement in our business affairs is due to the city manager, any man who thinks will have to be for him. If he can save us money like that, I don't care if they pay him $10,000 a year, or twice that.

How Hard Water Effects Health

"You must have noticed that the banks are about the most regular of any business institutions in the country in showing a profit on their business. Now consider the fact that these banks like ours in Wichita Falls pay from $15,000 to $20,000 annually as salaries to their presidents. They want that eight per cent dividend to continue, and they don't hire a $3,000 man to get it for them. It doesn't take much thought to realize that running a city of 50,000 persons is a far bigger task than being president of a bank."

Discussing the improvements proposed by the Black & Veatch plan, and by the city council, Dr. Parnell declared that little if any salt water from oil wells is getting into Lake Wichita. Water which has kept a high degree of hardness in the city's supply has come largely from farms in the irrigated district, he said, because "many farmers have tried plowing their land with lots of water, instead of lots of work."

"Lake Kemp water right now shows a content of about 38 or 39 grains of salt per gallon," he said, "and that's where our hardness has

SENATE TO ACT THIS MORNING ON VETS' PAY

Representatives Show Unusual Speed in Deciding Issue

VIGOROUS MESSAGE

Hoover Calls Cash Plan Unwise From Every Standpoint

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (US)—After the house today overrode President Hoover's veto of the veterans loan bill, the senate decided to begin consideration of it at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Senator Johnson, Republican of California, obtained unanimous consent to take up the veto message at that time. It is generally conceded that the senate also will override the president and the measure then will become law, despite the executive's objection.

After listening without applause to the 2,000-word veto message, in which the president characterized the bill as "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of the welfare of all the people," the house voted 328 to 79 to pass the bill over the president's objections.

Democrats Solid

This was 58 votes more than the two thirds necessary to override the executive. Not a single Democrat voted to sustain the veto. Thirty-five Republicans, who voted for the bill originally switched to support of the veto.

As soon as the senate has taken a similar course tomorrow, which is confidently expected, the bill increasing the loan value of world war veterans' adjusted compensation certificates from the present 22½ per cent of their face value to 50 per cent will become law. The senate originally passed the measure, 72 to 12.

Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, made a last-minute move to save the day for the president. Tilson said that if the veto were sustained he would ask Speaker Longworth to recognize him to make a motion to amend the loan bill by providing that the increase in loans shall be given only to veterans unemployed and in needy circumstances.

Connery Applauded

Connery, Democrat of Massachusetts, said:

"It is hard for me to believe that the gentleman from Connecticut $5,000,000—Two million of it condi-

CANYON, Texas, Feb. 26. (AP)—Federal prohibition officers made two raids in and near Canyon this afternoon, seizing 100 gallons of bonded whisky, 33 gallons of alcohol and large quantities of red whisky, tequila and gin.

Complaints charging George W. Johnson and Mrs. L. C. Brown with unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor and with maintaining places of public nuisance were filed in the office of deputy U. S. commissioner in Amarillo.

The bond of Mrs. Brown was set at $500. Johnson has not been arrested, although his preliminary hearing has been set for Friday afternoon.

Legge Leaves Price Problems to Producers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (US)—The wheat and cotton problems have been placed in the hands of the jury of producers and it is up to them to decide whether they will get higher or lower prices, Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, declared today. He added:

"We have given them all the facts. If they go ahead and overproduce as they did last year, they can look for lower prices. If they stop, look and listen and reduce their acreage as we have urged they can expect a steady improvement.

"The market is in a position now where action by the farmers can have a very favorable effect."

VETO OF BONUS IS OVERRIDEN

House Quickly Re-Passes Veterans Bill

(Tilson) wants to make the American soldier, who served his country on the field of battle prove that he is a pauper before he gets his loan."

Wild applause greeted Connery's remarks and when the packed galleries joined in the applause, Longworth threatened to clear the galleries if there were any more demonstrations. The vote then came on the veto.

The administration had vigorously opposed the bill from the start. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of veterans affairs, having been prominent in the opposition.

Vigorous Message

President Hoover's message of disapproval was a vigorous and detailed one. It was written with assurances by congressional leaders that nothing he could say would swerve the legislative body in its determination to override his veto.

He said first that it would require an outlay of $1,000,000,000 from the treasury, which the treasury is in no condition to stand; that it would retard the country's recovery from the depression; that it would do the mass of veterans and their dependents no good; that it gives benefits to those who are in a position to provide for themselves and that it is economically unsound.

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of reserve fund securities, together with further issues, or we must impose further taxation," he continued.

Deception Implied

At the opening of his message the president implied that congress had deceived the public in enacting the original "bonus bill" with the understanding that the matter had been closed and that the veterans had been amply cared for. He said at that time it was tacitly agreed that there would be no further demands or calls upon the government.

Hawkins Death Case Weighed by Jury

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Feb. 26.—Twelve men weighed the fate of Joe Hawkins, Crosby county man charged with the death of S. M. Walker, his 76-year-old father-in-law, after a night session concluded arguments in district court here Thursday night.

Testimony was ended in the late afternoon after the state had produced 13 rebuttal witnesses in an attempt to show that the slain man was peaceful, law abiding, and of good reputation. The evidence was offered in refutation of the statement Wednesday of Walker's son, who described a life of trouble with his father.

Toney B. Maxey, Floyd county attorney, District Attorney Durwood Bradley of Lubbock, and A. J. Folley district attorney of Floydada argued the case for the state. Hawkins was defended by E. A. Watson, Crosbyton and L. G. Mathews.

The case was transferred to Floyd county after a 50-year sentence against Hawkins in an earlier trial had been reversed.

Senate Frowns on Loan Pronouncements From U. S

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (UP)—The senate tonight adopted a resolution calling upon the department of state to cease approving or disapproving foreign investment loans floated in this country.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Carter Glass, Democrat, Virginia, stated "it is the sense of the senate that the department of state should desist from the dangerous practice of involving the United States in any responsibility of any nature, by approval or disapproval, for foreign investment loans floated in this country."

Gypsy

Jilted!

Girls, what would you do if the man you loved, who once begged you to be his wife, threw you over in favor of another?

That's what happened to Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old New York typist. And so Gypsy married an utter stranger the day after she met him. He, too, knew the bewilderment and heartache of spurned love. The woman he had hoped to marry had chosen a millionaire.

The problems Gypsy and her husband encountered make one of the most fascinating serial novels ever written. It is called "Mad Marriage" and begins Wednesday March 4.

Fatal Bid Described In Trial

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 26. (AP)—Charles Hofman, a participant in the game, related at the murder trial of Mrs. Myrtle Bennett today how a contract bridge bid of four spades, doubled and lost, caused a quarrel which ended in the fatal shooting of John G. Bennett, in the couple's fashionable apartment here Sept. 29, 1929.

Hofman was the first witness called by Prosecutor James R. Page to offer testimony which Page told the jury would prove Mrs. Bennett deliberately shot her husband as he was leaving home angered by the card game controversy.

The witness, admittedly a friend of the dark clad, weeping defendant, told his version of Bennett's death, immediately after former Senator James A. Reed, defense attorney, declared to the jury that the shooting was wholly accidental.

Hofman's story began with the card game and led up to a description of how he rushed into Bennett's den at the sound of shots to discover the hysterical defendant kneeling beside her husband, who was dying from two bullet wounds.

The bridge game, interrupted by bickering between the Bennetts as they began to lose, ended when Bennett failed to make a four spade bid, Hofman testified. Hofman and his wife were the opponents.

Bennett aswered his wife's accusation that he was a "bum bridge player" by grasping her arm and slapping her several times, the witness said. He testified Mrs. Bennett was in the throes of hysteria after she was struck.

"Mrs. Bennett said nothing but a cur would strike his wife in the presence of company, then Bennett said he was going to leave. He was running back and forth gathering up his belonging," Hofman testified.

The witness said he and Mrs. Hofman attempted to patch up the quarrel but were rebuffed by Bennett. Hofman related he stepped into the bathroom and saw Mrs. Bennett with a gun in her hand.

"'My god Myrtle,' I said. 'What are you going to do?'"

"I don't recall what she said. She dashed me aside, and I heard two pistol shots. I was horrified."

DAREDEVIL FIGHTER TO BLAST WEWOKA WELL

WEWOKA, Okla., Feb. 26. (UP)—Daylight Friday was the time set tonight for M. M. Kinley, daredevil of the Southwest oil fields, to creep close to the base of a blazing gas well and attempt to snuff out the flames with a blast of nitroglycerine.

The well, No. 4 Douglas of the Deep Rock Oil company, was ignited early Tuesday night by an explosion. Since then, it has shot a pillar of flames 200 feet in the air and threatened to shower fire down on Wewoka's residential district.

Kinley continued his work tonight, dragging pieces of the steel well derrick away from the blaze. Although he worked without his customery asbestos suit, workmen played a constant stream of water on his body as he crept into the blaze to hook pulleys to the debris.

At sunup, he will carry a charge of liquid nitroglycerin into the inferno, place it on an improvised platform and run back to make an electrical contact to set off the explosive. If the plan works, the blast will snuff out the fire and allow the gas, flowing at the rate of 81,000,000 cubic feet daily, to rush up into space unmenaced by the fire.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD

Petrolia Youth Jailed In Forestburg Holdup

terday and have been up all night." She was told that the money, nearly $3,000, had been cached on a gravel road between Henrietta and Alvord. The girl told Mr. Anderson that she had not believed the youth's story and thought that he was joking with her.

The prisoner was brought to Wichita Falls by Sheriff Donnell while the girl here was questioned, but was returned immediately to Henrietta. The young woman said that she was not told who had been the second man participating in the robbing of the bank, and that she did not know the young man arrested here several days ago by city police and who is now being held by Montague county officers as a suspect in the bank robbery. She said that the Petrolia youth had been for some time attempting to force his attentions upon her.

The suspect was not questioned by Mr. Anderson while he was here.

Second Arrest

The Clay county officers were told by the young man that the automobile he had was stolen from in front of a theater in Fort Worth. It is hoped by the Clay county authorities that a confession will be obtained from the young man, identifying the second man in the robbery and naming the place where the money is hidden.

The First State bank of Forestburg was held up about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon by two young men who escaped with $2,966.44. It was believed that the automobile they drove bore a Wichita county license. A 21-year-old Wichita Falls man was arrested here Sunday night as a suspect by Frank Burns, chief of police, and several of his officers. The youth was held until the next day when he was tentatively, although not positively identified by G. D. Wiley, cashier of the Forestburg bank, and J. M. Dunn, a merchant who was in the bank when the robbery occurred. The youth was returned to Montague where charges of robbery with firearms were filed.

Sheriff Donnell said at 10 o'clock Thursday night that the suspect had told several conflicting stories to various persons about the robbery and the disposition of the money.

W. J. Glasgow, Clay county attorney, said Wednesday night that if charges were filed against the youth they would be preferred in Montague county by Montague county officers.

ern states," he said of the oil decision. "They will repent it in sack cloth and ashes.

"The next congress will be Republican by a majority of only two. There is a sufficient number of Republicans from western states to join the Democrats to open up the tariff and include oil.

"When we do, the duties are going to be levelled and apportioned on eastern manufacturers on the same basis with their arguments against an oil tariff."

McGugin Bolts

Meanwhile, Harold McGugin, Republican representative-elect for Kansas, announced at Topeka he would vote for Representative Garner of Texas, a Democrat, for speaker of the next house.

He said he would vote to "take control from the eastern Republicans and give it to southern Democrats who are our economic allies in oil and dairy."

John Q. Tilson of Connecticut is slated for renomination as Republican floor leader at the caucus.

JURY DISMISSED

ANADARKO, Okla., Feb. 26.—For the third time, a jury trying James Johnson for a triple slaying two years ago failed to agree late today and was dismissed. Prosecutors said Johnson would be re-tried.

Brighter Days!

You need not punish a sluggish system with purgatives that do violence. Just chew a pleasant Cascaret before bedtime. Next morning you'll be a new person. Candy Cascarets are made from cascara—which doctors say actually strengthens the bowel muscles. So their action is always beneficial. They clear up a stubborn, bilious, headachy and constipated condition every time. You awake with coating gone from tongue; with eyes brightened; breath sweetened; appetite on edge. For a bright morning, try a Cascaret tonight. Then you'll know why 20 million boxes are used every year.

Blaine Raps Hoover's Belated Appointment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Chairman Blaine of the senate judiciary subcommittee appointed to inquire into the qualifications of Gunnar H. Nordbye of Minneapolis to be a federal judge for Minnesota, criticized President Hoover today for sending the nomination to the senate with only a few days left to consider it.

Opening the first hearing on the nomination, Blaine said the action was "unjustifiable."

"The failure of the president to send in the nomination until the last few days of the session," he added, "is not going to deprive any citizens of Minnesota of an opportunity to be heard."

How Good Doctors Treat Bad Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—Adv.

A Good Appetite?

YES—then work seems like play!

THAT is the right way! Don't starve your system—those red-blood-cells, when lowered in number, may cause serious trouble. In fact, if the tendency of a lowered red-cell count is allowed to continue, ANEMIA may result.

Body weakness, lack of appetite, underweight, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils are symptoms of a low blood count. These may indicate that you need S.S.S.

S.S.S. restores the red-blood-cells to normal. Your appetite picks up, your whole body is strengthened, invigorated! You, too, may soon possess a wonderful power of new life and vitality. Get the large size bottle. At all drug stores.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DRY LEADERS END SESSIONS

Vigorous Resolutions Voted At Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (INS)—Leaders of 33 dry organizations who attended the national conference for enforcement of the 18th amendment were en route home today following the adoption of vigorous resolutions for dry warfare during the political activities of the next 18 months.

To carry out these resolutions the dry leaders ordered the creation of a board of strategy which is to function much as a general staff would in war. The board is to number about 15 and will be headed by Ernest H. Cherrington, president of the conference and director of the world league against alcohol.

Fireman Undergoes New Operation

Howard Tate, city fireman, was reported resting well at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital Thursday following an operation on his right arm in another attempt to heal an injury sustained over a year ago in the tragic Antlers hotel fire here in which three lives were lost.

In the crash of falling walls at the fire, which occurred Dec. 12, 1929, Geno Anderson and Smiley Turner, firemen, were killed, a hotel guest was burned to death, and Tate sustained a fracture above the right wrist. Owing to the nature of the fracture the wound did not heal properly and the bone has been re-broken and re-set in several operations since. Attending physicians said they hoped the most recent operation, performed Monday, would remedy the injury.

Tate, an active fireman before the hotel blaze, was unfitted for strenuous duty by the accident and was transferred to the alarm room at central station, according to Fire Chief J. L. McClure.

Chemical Firm Chartered Here

Charter for a new Wichita Falls industry, the Wichita Falls Chemical company, was granted by the secretary of state at Austin Thursday, according to an Associated Press dispatch to The Record News. Fred Reaser, William McKemie Jr., and Orville S. Carpenter were named as incorporators.

The company was organized about three months ago for the manufacture of Da-Ray, a skin and scalp germicidal. The plant is located at 2163 Avenue J, while offices of the company are at 901-902 Hamilton building. The new company has already met considerable success in the sale of its product, it was stated. The capital stock was given as $1,000.

College Spanish Club Holds Banquet at Forum

Members of the Junior college Spanish club and their friends were entertained at a banquet and get-together party at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday night. Following a brief singsong, toasts were made to the club, the officers, and to the club of the future by Mrs. Marie Gilbert, the faculty sponsor, Douglas Smyth, and S. C. Anthony.

Miss Jane McCulloch, instructor of Spanish in the high school, sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Allene Muller, and Ruth Bruce gave a clever talk on "Old Spanish Customs." Concluding the program proper, Horace Thornton sang several popular selections. He was accompanied by Miss Mildred Anderson at the piano.

Following the banquet and program, the group was entertained by various games. Miss Hazel Hobbs, president of the club, acted as toastmistress.

Retail Credit Grantors Install New Officers

Floyd Randel, president, and Cliff Deaton, vice president, new officers of the Retail Credit Grantors association elected by the board of directors Tuesday, were introduced to the membership at the regular weekly meeting at the Kemp hotel Thursday evening.

Mr. Randel, formerly vice president, was chosen president after A. T. Dixon, former president, had accepted a position in Big Spring.

Delinquent accounts beginning with the letter H were discussed at the meeting. Repossession of merchandise and returned checks and one forgery were also brought to the attention of those in attendance.

FIREMEN TO RESCUE

When a woman's automobile stuck in a mudhole at Elizabeth and Clark streets late Thursday afternoon, a passerby saw smoke coming from the car and turned in a fire alarm, according to officials of the fire department. When equipment arrived on the scene it was learned that the smoke came from the clutch. However, firemen rendered a service by pulling the woman's car from the mudhole.

Interesting Program Given At Garden Club Luncheon

One of the most delightful social events of the week was the lovely luncheon given by members of the Garden club at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday at 12 o'clock. The tables were attractively decorated with vases of spring flowers with plum blossoms, white hyacinth and violets predominating.

The business meeting which was conducted during the luncheon was presided over by Mrs. Bert Bean, president of the club, in which Mrs. James P. Bowen was instructed to make arrangements for the showing of slides in connection with the state park improvement project here in the near future. It was also voted for Mrs. Luther Wright, chairman of the plant exchange, to set her own date for the annual spring exchange.

The feature of the program was a talk by C. C. Bunnenberg, head of the city park department, on "Trees and Shrubs."

"In planting trees, the first thing to consider is the stability of the tree and whether or not it will grow in this country," Mr. Bunnenberg said.

"In past years the park department has tried the different kinds of trees and this year we are staying with the native trees, which include elm, hackberry, sycamore, cottonwood and the mulberry. In planting, be very careful that the condition of planting is as it should be and remember that there are certain sections of the city that must be dug deeper for tree planting than others. If this is not carefully watched the trees will sour at the root and die. In the case of sour root, the best remedy is plenty of good new, rich soil."

A round table discussion followed Mr. Bunnenberg's talk, in which a number of questions regarding fertilization and pruning were answered by the speaker.

Another interesting part of the program was a group of garden poems read by Mrs. J. Truman Stevens. At the request of Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Stevens read a new poem, "God Is," that she wrote yesterday and which won first prize at the meeting of the poetry club Thursday morning.

Mrs. Peyton Guinn discussed some of the aristocrats for the year of 1931, after which a round table discussion was held. The meeting was dismissed by Mrs. Wright, who had charge of the program.

Those registering included Mesdames Orville Bullington, Bert Bean, E. P. Bass, B. A. Stayton, Ivan Murchison, C. A. Spragins, Homer Lee, F. P. Timberlake, W. W. Silk, J. E. O'Brien, E. W. Rose Culture In February

The following advice on the care of roses in Texas during the month of February was given by Mrs. C. J. Barnard at the Garden club luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday at 12 o'clock.

"February, in Texas, is the time to get our roses ready for their big party, that first glorious burst of April bloom.

"The preparation of the bushes for such an event is just about the same as that of a person getting ready to 'celebrate.' They must be barbered and manicured, then a thorough bath with everything fresh and clean, and finally some nourishment to keep up their strength and vitality at a time when they must 'look their best.'

"We commonly term the barbering process, for a rose, pruning. In Texas, from the middle to the end of February is the proper time to prune the bush roses.

Sharp Shears

"First of all, be sure your pruning shears are sharp. A great deal of harm can be done by hacking a rose with dull shears. The next step is to walk around your bush and take a good look at it before you decide what particular type its cut should be. A 'boyish' or 'windblown' effect is not always becoming to a large and well-developed red radiance. Which leads us to suggest a rule of proportion in our pruning of all but newly set out bushes, which latter should be cut back to within six inches of the ground.

"The best proportion to use on established plants is one-half. That is, cut back one-half the new strong growth of a bush rose, leaving a four-foot plant two feet high and a three-foot plant 18 inches. All of the old, diseased, or weak wood should be cut away entirely. Try to create a well balanced and symmetrical appearance.

"Climbers should not be pruned in February, but directly after they finish blooming, at which time they should be fed also, liberally, to induce the new growth from which will come next year's crop of blossoms.

"After our bush roses have been properly pruned, they are ready for their bath, which takes the form of a liquid spray. One of the best for this purpose is lime-sulphur, used according to the directions on each can. This spray disinfects the plant, and is most important because only at this time, when the plant is dormant, can this disinfecting be done without probable injury to the foliage. Strip all old leaves from the plant, clear up any which may still be on the ground, then spray thoroughly, and you will be rewarded in the spring with the healthiest bushes you have ever had.

"A healthy person has an appetite, and so has a healthy rose. Nature does not allow a rose to walk about and look for its food. She has chained it to one spot by its roots, but to compensate, she has put within its reach all that it needs for sustenance, light, air water and the friendly earth from which to draw its three most essential foods, nitrogen, phosphorous and potash.

Use of Fertilizer

"Where a plant grows naturally, or 'wild' as we say, the soil is necessarily suitable and sufficient. But when we take up that plant and put it in our garden, we may be giving it a soil in which these necessary elements are not available, or are in a wrong proportion for it. So the least we can do, in all hospitality, is to import what it needs for its daily diet.

"This isn't as difficult as it may sound. Well rotted manure, so full of friendly bacteria, will release the necessary nitrogen. A cup full of bone-meal to each plant, in February, will insure its phosphorous for six months. And a light layer of wood-ashes will furnish a reasonable amount of potash.

"There are a few nice desserts that a rose is fond of, such as a half cup of plain sulphur scratched into the soil occasionally, and a teaspoon of iron-sulphate once a month to give the buds 'that school-girl complexion.'

"Above all, keep the top two inches of the ground loose by frequent hoeing or raking, not digging. Only when the top soil is pulverized is the proper air and moisture available to the plants. Try to make them comfortable and then you can invite with the assurance that their stay will be one of mutual pleasure and profit, such distinguished company as the new President Hoover, Wilhelm Kordes, Mrs. Pierre S. Du Pont and Marion Cran.

"Treat your roses with the honor and consideration due a guest, and the roses, being great believers in the Golden Rule, will surely 'come across'."

Iowa Park P.-T. A. Honors Founders In Celebration

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Feb. 26.—Iowa Park Parent-Teacher association observed Founders day at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon with an unusually varied and interesting program as follows:

The Singing Mothers double quartet, including Mesdames Fenton Dale, T. M. Black, Reaves Overbey, G. C. Richards, Curtis Sewell, Noel McKinney, Claude Reaves and Mrs. Ruby Monroe, made its first appearance in attractive blue and white costumes of Hoover aprons, Texas blue bonnet caps, and blue shoulder capes adorned with a single white star, singing "By the Mississippi" and "The Little Hammer." Third grade pupils, taught by Mrs. Alice Palm and Miss Leslie Mullins, presented an interesting birthday party playlet impersonating famous persons born in February, including Washington, Lincoln, Dickens, Longfellow, Lindbergh and others. These characters were dressed in costumes suitable to their age and period.

Founder Honored

Mrs. M. B. Cain, parliamentarian, paid beautiful tribute to Mrs. Alice McClelland Birney, founder; and to Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, who assisted in perfecting the national organization of parent-teachers. Mrs. Cain also gave a short sketch of early P.-T. A. development and by easy steps led to the organization of the local P.-T. A. unit. At this juncture little Misses Neva Joy Cain and Mary Jean Brubaker appeared with a large birthday cake trimmed with 34 candles commemorating the 34th anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The first candle was lighted in official remembrance of Mrs. Birney; the second for Mrs. Hearst. As each successive candle was lighted the following officers were named: Mrs. A. H. Means, national chairman of child welfare day; Mrs. Hugh Bradford, present national president; Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Texas P.-T. A. president; Mrs. Frank B. Turner and the present incumbent, Mrs. T. M. Clark, daughter of Mrs. Mamie Dale.

The remaining 10 candles were dedicated to present officers: Mrs. C. J. Thurber, first vice president; Mrs. Scott Ralston, second vice president; Mrs. T. M. Black, third vice president; Mrs. R. C. Hayes, hospitality chairman; Mrs. John B. Barbour, standing committee chairman.

The remaining five candles were to other officers and to the 70,000 members of the Texas Parent-Teacher associations as each one performs her part in carrying on the great work of the past 34 years.

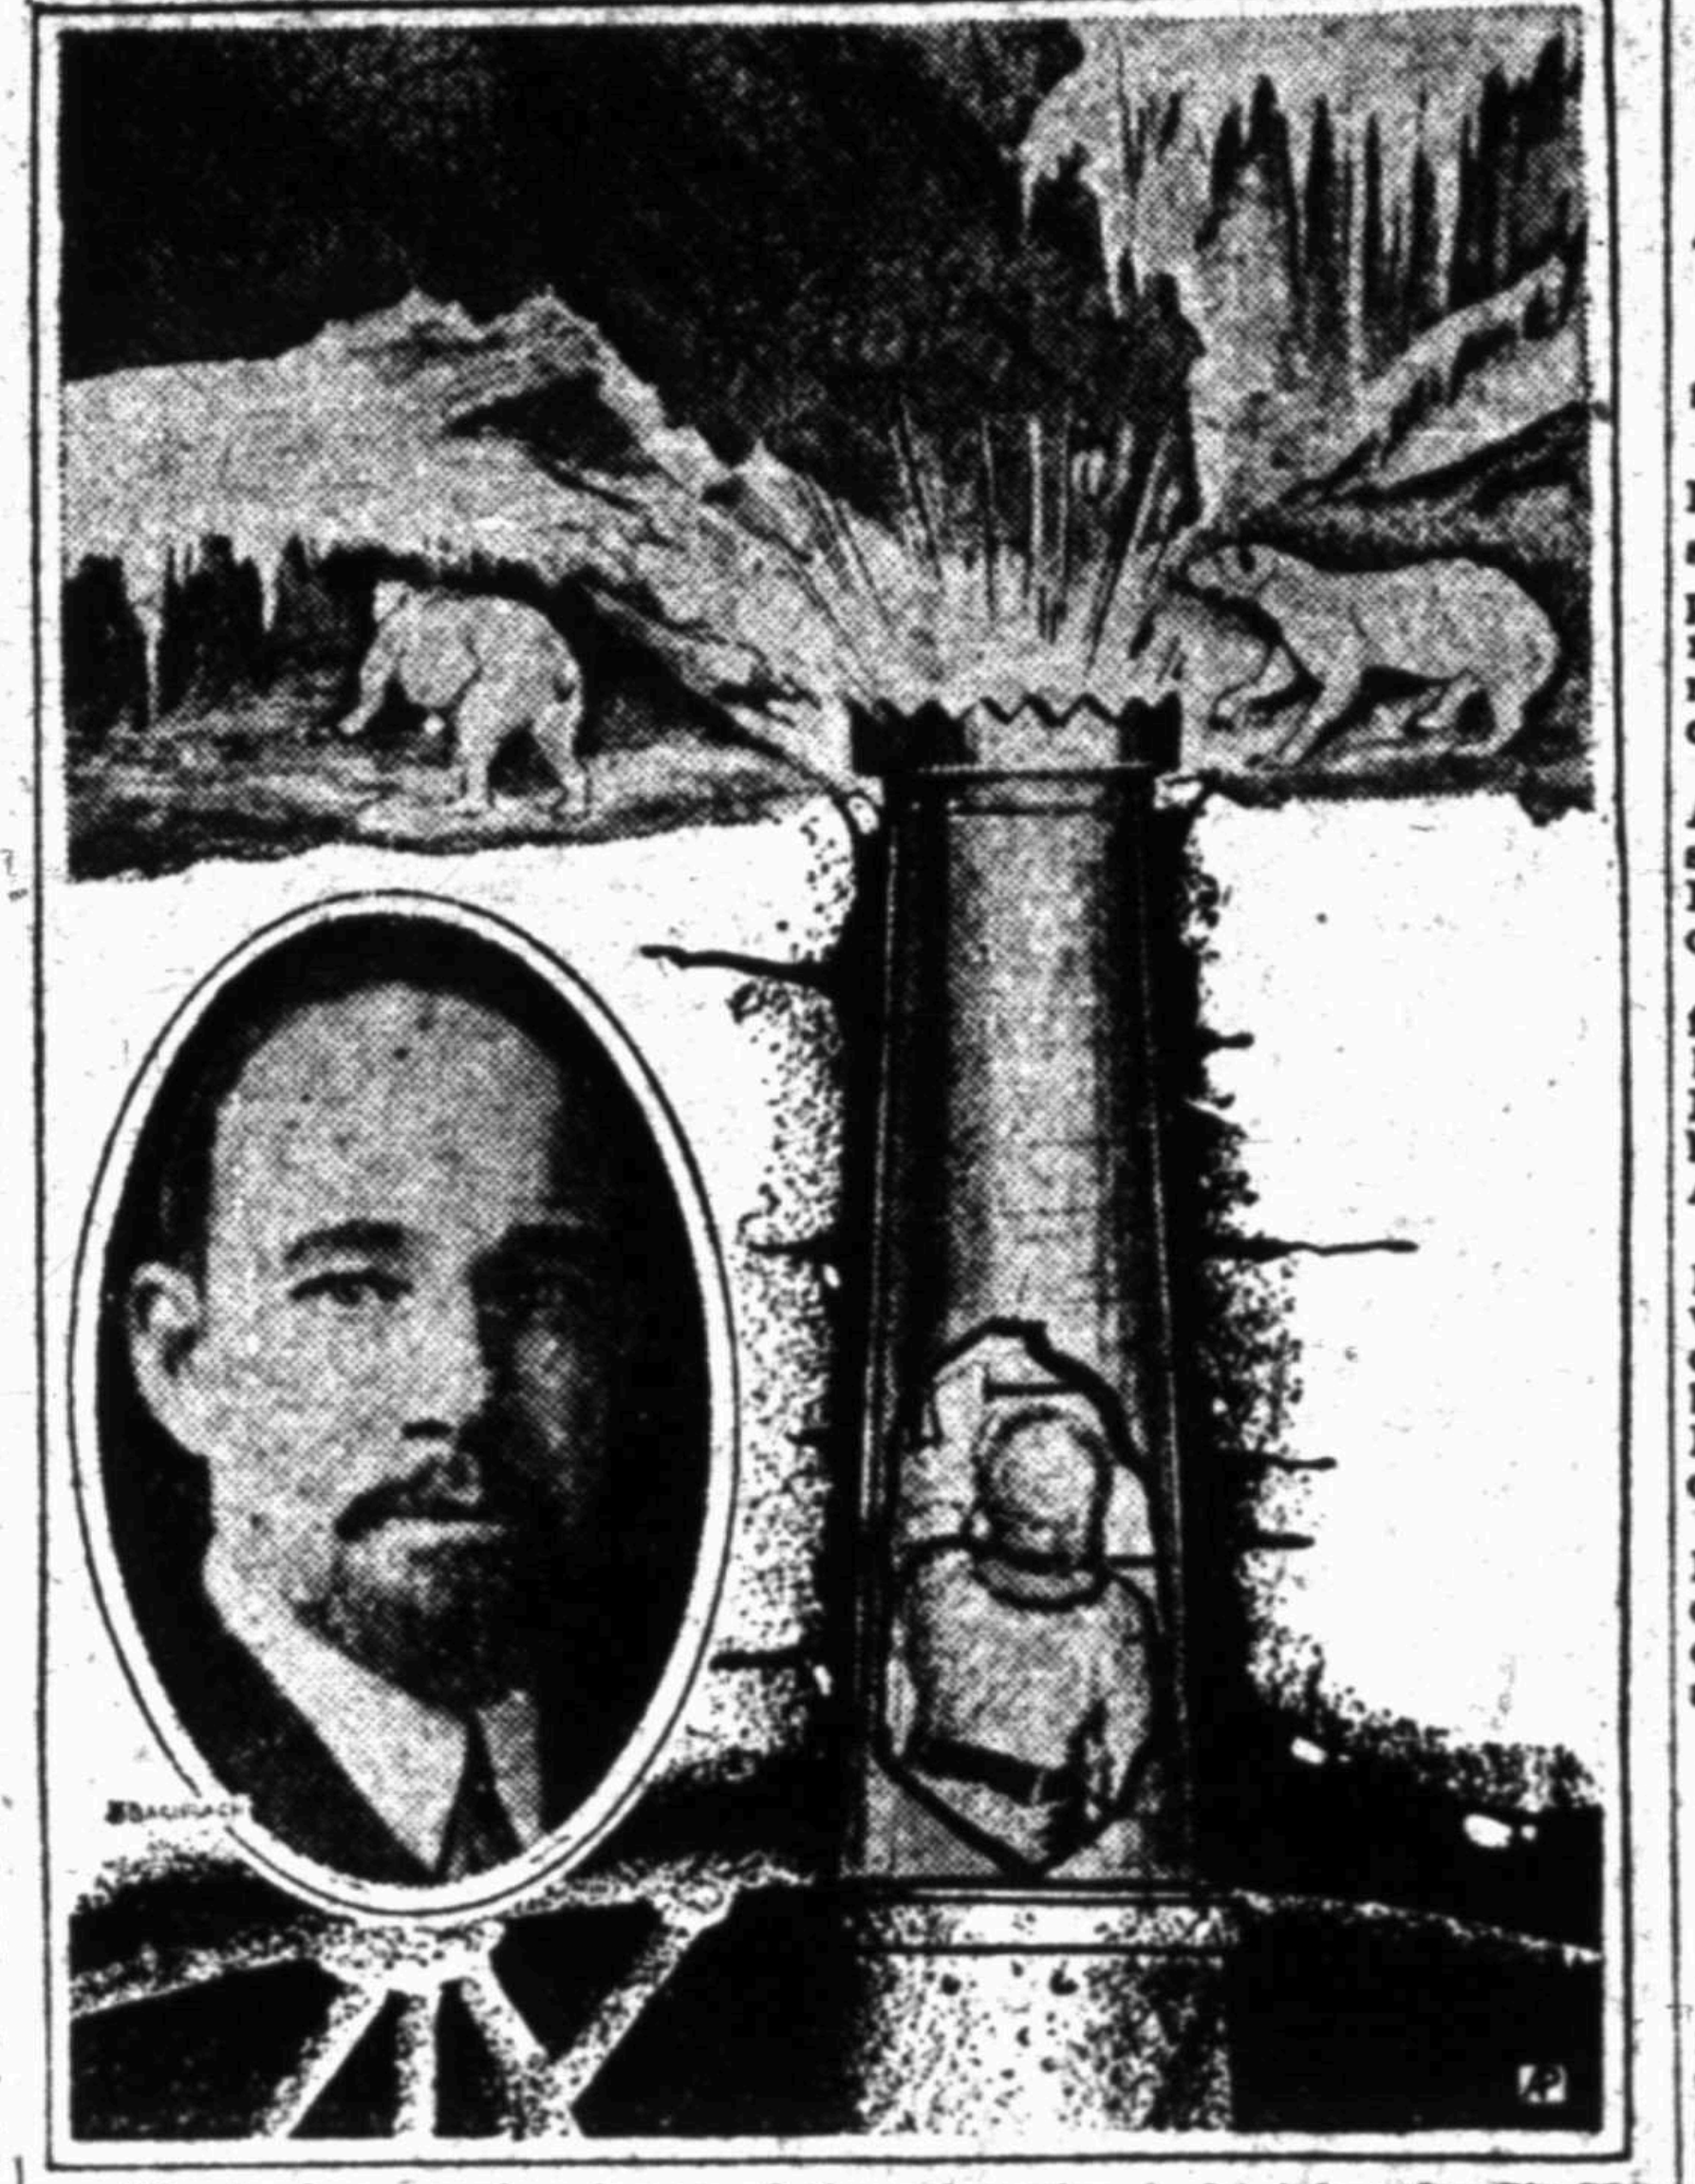
'Steel Fish' Armed for Sir Hubert Wilkins' Sub-Ice Polar Trip

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor



The boring conning tower of the submarine to be taken by Sir Hubert Wilkins (inset) on an arctic scientific expedition, can drill upward through 13 feet of ice (sketch). The voyage is slated to begin at Spitzbergen—then "under" the north pole to Alaska.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 26.—A ship that is perhaps the strangest-looking, most daring ship ever built by man was launched here on Washington's birthday.

She is the U. S. navy submarine O-12, rebuilt to sail under the ice of the north pole next summer carrying an 18-man scientific expedition led by Sir Hubert Wilkins.

She looks like a steel fish, humpbacked, round-bellied. Her snub nose is armed with a long horn. She has two queer fins over her back and one under her spike-like tail.

The back fins are a trolley for running under the ice and a jackknife periscope which folds back when she strikes floes. The tail fin is a framework guarding the propeller blades and rudder from ice.

Her back is a pair of steel runners, arching from nose to stern. Under their protection are housed her old conning tower, a new conning tower that can be thrust upward to bore through 13 feet of ice, a diver's chamber and a fixed deck light forward.

There also are two slender, vertical pipes aft, out of which two hollow, boring shafts can be extended upward through 100 feet of ice. They are air intake and exhaust. A trap door in her bottom gives divers a second exit.

Lieutenant Commander Sloan Danenhower, who is rebuilding her, will navigate the sub on the polar voyage. But first she will head for the Maine coast for a trial trip under the ice, probably near the mouth of the Kennebec river.

This location is chosen in hopes of finding layers of fresh water, resembling the liquid strata suspected of existing on the surface of the polar sea. Fresh water, a boon to any other crew of salt mariners, is a hazard to the men of a sub.

In completely fresh water, Commander Danenhower says, this submarine would be about 16 tons heavier (that is, less buoyant) than in wholly salt water.

In the little submarine Defender the commander already has learned in the Hudson river what it means to run from salt unexpectedly into fresh water. He went to the bottom when trying to dive.

Melting snow is the potential source of polar sea fresh water. Explorers have told Danenhower it exists, and that dead seals have been seen about 20 feet under the surface, lying on top of salt water, but at the bottom of a lighter weight stratum of fresh water.

If the Maine coast is too barren of ice, Nova Scotia or Newfoundland will be tried. No bergs are known in the polar sea, but some may be encountered on this trial trip to test the air-cushioned bumper bowsprit and the reinforced nose.

The trolley will be tested to learn whether it should terminate in a wheel or a runner.

The start from New York is fixed for April, with the route to Bermuda, the Azores, London and then Spitzbergen. There in Advent bay the main adventure is to begin July 1.

But first, somewhere in her preliminary career, a grandson of Jules Verne will christen the sub Nautilus, after the underwater ship of fiction.

Hard Water Takes Heavy Toll In Health, Property and Business

been coming from—through drainage from these irrigated farms. Some have been telling you that such a salt content won't hurt anyone—if you think that, go home, weigh out 39 grains of salt, put it in a gallon of water, and try it. It is very damaging to the composure of your stomach, and if continued in use, will prove even more damaging to the stomach itself, and the intestines.

"At present, our supply is soft. What we want to do is keep it that way. It shows less than four grains of salt per gallon now. Now this canal which is to be build around Lake Wichita will keep out that salty drain water, and conserve for us the softness which we have enjoyed for several months.

And How It Affects Metals

"As to whether or not the presence of such Lake Kemp water in our mains has been injurious and expensive," continued Dr. Parnell, "you have had experiences as vivid as my own. My new radiator for the car last year cost more than $50, installed; another $55 for a coil for the X-ray tank in my office; another bit of equipment is set out now awaiting about $50 worth of replacements; and a new heater last year at my home. What became of them? Just eaten out with salt water, the same as yours? And do you doubt that it has been doing the same thing to your stomachs?

"I charge you people now, any man who opposes this project to provide pure, soft water for ourselves and our children merely because it is going to cost him a few dollars more per year, is committing a crime against humanity.

"I have stood by the bedsides of scores of people here in recent years, many of them little children, and have watched their lives fade out before the onslaught of disease which had its origin unquestionably in the poor water which we provided them to drink. Regardless of your indifference as to what kind of water goes into your stomach, if you feel such an indifference, you owe it undeniably to these children who are helpless to change conditions, who have no choice, to provide them with the purest water which it is possible for us to obtain.

"The very least that we can do is to get every voter who can 'forget himself in devotion to things bigger than he is' to the polls on March 14, and give this water bond issue and overwhelming majority."

Voting of the water improvement bonds and completion of the project as planned will aid greatly in "pulling this old city out of a slump," J. B. Marlow declared.

"You have been told," he continued, "that there will be no labor for local men in this project if it goes through. Now it has been demonstrated that this conduit from the lake to the filtration plant can be built satisfactorily of brick, and at a cost of about $160,000. Plans for the entire project contemplate the use of $190,000 for that conveyor of water. With that $30,000 to be saved, a dam can be built at Holliday station which will impound from 12,000 to 15,000-acre feet of water—soft water, which can be turned into Lake Wichita whenever it is needed—just as an extra auxiliary supply.

"On the conduit, to be built of brick, it means that the brick will be made and bought here, which will mean the reopening of the brick plant, with employment for about 100 men there. On the construction job, other men will be hauling brick, wheeling brick, laying brick; at least 90 per cent of that $160,000 will go to laboring men right here."

Preceding Mr. Marlow, one of the unemployed men's committee, C. C. Gordon, said "We lost enough industries here in 1930 through insufficiency of good water to have provided year-round employment for 500 men."

"I have worked seven days a week, and many nights, since Jan. 16," said Mr. Gordon, "in an effort to alleviate every bit of suffering which can be alleviated in this city. I have worked with the better business campaign committee of the chamber of commerce constantly during that time; I have worked also with the members of the city council and with the mayor. They are gentlemen. They are human, just as you and I are. They are doing everything they can do, and are sympathetic with our needs. This is the only city of its size of which I know in which there has not been some kind of an uprising or demonstration because of the depression and resultant unemployment."

Confidence in the assurance of work for many local workmen in case the water bond election carries was expressed by P. P. Palmer, chairman of the meeting.

Confidence in Leaders

"In 1927," Mr. Palmer said, "I worked at Altus, Okla., on a 20-mile water line which was laid there. The foreman who was in charge of that work was brought to Wichita Falls to supervise a similar job here. There was not a man used on this job in Wichita Falls who did not live in this city. When the city council tells me that local labor will be used on this proposed work, what reason or right have I to deny its truth?"

Announcement was made of a mass meeting to be held next Tuesday night, March 3, at the Memorial auditorium by supporters of the bond issue in the coming election. It will be in charge of a committee headed by Judge R. E. Huff.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Woman Slain After Volunteering To Expose Police Vice Scandal

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Death—violent and sudden—today overtook a red haired woman of 32, who had volunteered to tell what she knew of a "frame-up" by New York police.

Miss Vivian Gordon, once a reformatory inmate, was found dead in Van Cortlandt park, one delicately manicured hand clutching a clothesline with which she had been strangled. Detectives believed she had struggled wildly to save herself.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney orderd that Patrolman Andrew G. McLoughlin, who arrested the woman eight years ago on a vice charge be questioned about the case. Mulrooney said McLoughlin had been the partner of a plain clothesman suspended as the result of a vice case now under investigation.

On Feb. 7 a letter had come to Isidor J. Kressel, former investigator of the magistrates' court, whose charges of wholesale "framing" of women by the vice squad had cast a pall of scandal over the courts and police.

"I have some information in connection with a frame-up by a police officer and others which I believe will be of great aid to you in your investigation," it read. "I would appreciate an interview at your earliest convenience."

It was signed Vivian Gordon.

She was asked to call last Friday, but failed to appear or to send any word.

The woman had been dead five or six hours when found. The clothesline had been drawn thrice about the throat and then was tied in a knot.

SPURIOUS COIN MAKERS HELD

Syndicate at Altus Halted By Federal Raid

ALTUS, Okla., Feb. 26.—Operators of a syndicate for the manufacture and distribution of counterfeit silver coins were halted here Thursday with the arrest of three men and a woman and the seizure of apparatus and phony money by federal and county officers. The suspects, one of whom is said to have confessed, are being held in the Jackson county jail pending the filing of federal charges.

In the home of one of the prisoners, a 58-year-old man, investigators found 50 and 25-cent counterfeit pieces, a skillet in which metal had been melted, and molds for shaping the coins. The kitchen floor of the home was littered with plaster paris and powdered plaster paris. The two molds bore the dates 1899 and 1926.

O. H. Sundby, an operative of the United States secret service, representing the treasury department, said Thursday that he had obtained a complete signed confession, in which activities of the group were described. In the statement the prisoner said he made coins to sell to others, who in turn distributed them. He sold 10 counterfeit 50-cent pieces for $2, he asserted, giving the name of the man to whom the coins were sold. The gang has been at work in Altus since Feb. 17, the suspect said.

Investigation is not yet complete and officials expect other arrests within a few days.

Women Lawyers Barred. But They Will Win Yet. Pillars of Prejudice. Primitive Women.

By EMILE GAUVREAU

In 1909 Agnes Milholland agitated for admission of woman lawyers to the bar association of the city of New York. Gentlemen of that association, after much pondering have just decided that it would be inadvisable to admit women to membership. The other day 22 lawyers argued for hours, for and against the proposal, and the vote finally was "No."

All the oratory of Arthur Garfield Hays, George W. Wickersham, James Byrne, Henry W. Taft, Samuel Seabury and Emory Buckner, who favored admission, did not succeed in breaking down the opposition.

Nothing but prejudice and tradition stand in the way of accepting women attorneys to membership. But prejudice and tradition are two of the strongest pillars of what we call "society." Women will finally become members of that bar association. But not if the agitation ceases. The inertia of the reactionary mind is notorious.

Mr. F. A. Mitchell-Hedges, British explorer visiting New York, advances a theory which will interest ladies and gentlemen who give a passing thought to what they do. The explorer concludes that civilized women are reverting to the habits of their primitive sisters. He knows something about women, civilized or otherwise, having studied them dressed and undressed in the jungles of Central America and in party gowns on Park avenue.

His researches in the past 17 years confirm him in the belief that the present vogue of women in cropping their hair at marriageable age, the use of gaudy necklaces and baubles, excessive painting of the face and nails, even to the toes, and the tendency to discard excessive clothing, is a sure sign of social atavism.

Some day we will learn that women are the advance standard-bearers of sophistication. They may still be primitive in their instincts but their methods of attack are usually the last word in coquetry. Most of them, in this day and age, seem to think that modesty has lost its lure or sanctity. Fortunately, there are some left who have different ideas on the subject.

Explorer Mitchell-Hedges may be right in a number of cases in concluding that physical attractiveness, the baiting of the male by sufficient exposure of female charms, is the highroad to marriage. A rolled stocking may sooner get a husband than a perfect rendering of Bach's Preludes. Admiration of a decollette shoulder under a warm but subdued light may lead sooner to the altar than the applause of virtue, but such marriages last no longer than the dew on the rose.

Women know that their sex is still their strongest card. If most of them are reverting to the habits of their primitive sisters they will do it with the restraint which has kept the world going since Eve stumbled across the snake with his box of apples.

Citizens who look upon New York as something more than a great musical comedy will regret the indictment of Isidor J. Kresel, who has done more to eliminate organized vice than any man in the past 20 years, and who now has surrendered to the district attorney's office under a state prison charge. Some will wonder if this would have all come about if Mr. Kresel had not been so active in exposing judicial corruption, which was undermining the very timbers of Tammany Hall.

The Danger of Waiting

LIFE can play foul jokes on people sometimes.

In a large middle-western city there was a grocer who worked very hard and saved his money religiously so that his old age would be provided for.

For 50 years he stuck to his grocery store. He worked and saved too hard to have very much fun, but he was looking forward to the day when he could retire. Then he would have his fun. He would have money and leisure, and he would make up for the years of hard work.

Well, he finally retired—money in the bank, an assured income, a nice home, everything he needed. "Now," he told his friends, "I am going to enjoy life."

And just 24 hours after he had retired he dropped dead.

If a novelist put that in a book we wouldn't believe it. We would say that things don't really happen that way, and we would accuse the novelist of straining too hard for an ironic effect.

But life takes queer twists that are not permitted to good fiction. It all happened, precisely as it is described here; and all we can do is admit that there are times when wisdom and prudence are horribly confounded.

As a matter of fact, this sort of thing happens fairly often—in a little different way. Not many people who have prepared for a carefree and leisurely old age die just as they begin to taste their reward, of course; but they get cheated out of their dues, just the same. They find that leisure, after a lifetime of hard work, is boredom. They find that they have forgotten how to play. They find that the empty hours are depressing because they do not know what to do with them. They find themselves feeling that they have been put upon the shelf, and they grow 10 years older in 12 months.

Perhaps we aren't meant to be too cautious. Deferring one's happiness to the end, when one will have time and the means to take it, is risky. For most of us that gilded tomorrow will never dawn. If we don't get our happiness along the way we shall never get it at all.

That is a lesson worth learning. The real joy of living is not something that can be banked and drawn on at some future date. It has to be taken from day to day. It is compounded, usually, of many little experiences. The haze of an autumn afternoon over a flaming woodland; the confiding smile of a child, nestling in one's arms for a fairy tale; the smell of a clear wind as one trudges along a beach by blue water; the sudden revelation of tenderness in the eyes of a loved one; the brief, vanishing strain of a bit of music—of such things is a satisfying life fabricated. You cannot postpone them, you cannot wait for them. You must get them as you go along, or you will miss them entirely.

In the Saddle or in the Collar?

IN THE arguments now being made by opponents of the proposed water bond issue before residents of the city a great deal is being said about the desire of certain citizens to impose a heavier burden of taxation upon other property owners.

In fact, those who advocate issuance of the bonds are being pictured almost as ghoulish fiends, intent upon clamping heavy yokes around the necks of victims already burdened and belabored. "The crowd" is represented as having, apparently, no other object in life than to throw more soap on the roadway of the average citizen.

But there seems to be a strange oversight in this wholesale indictment. The particular thorn against whose sharpness the opposition speakers are shouting protest is the alleged certainty of increased taxation, either directly or in the form of a higher water rate. Assuming that issuance of the water improvement bonds would prove such an unmitigated evil to members of the opposition, how could it be anything but a much greater evil to proponents of the issue? For they, "the gang," are admittedly owners of much property and users of much water. If leaders in the movement to provide bonded improvements in the water system are purposed to heap such reasonless burdens upon members of the opposition, they are certainly shouldering a much heavier load themselves.

As it has been pictured by opposition speakers recently, the situation is one in which the bond proponents would ride easily in a spring seat and swing a long lash upon the backs of those whose shoulders are in the collar. Perhaps a more accurate picture would reveal these same bond proponents squarely under the middle of the soft water tank, with members of the opposition assisting by corner hand-holds to balance and carry it into position.

Now in this one, folks, we have Rudy Vallee, a rare species, who snaps at you if you ask him what he considers silly queries. A girl reporter, frinstance, interviewed him the other day, and in response to one question he said: "I'm surprised at you, really. Those question are all answered in my book! You should have read it before interviewing me." To which the frightened lady replied that she never even knew he had written a book. Then she proceeded back to the editorial rooms to even matters via her typewriter. This Vallee cage reminds me that when he was in Miami recently he aroused the audiences to a frenzy by playing and singing "On Miami Shore." It is a stirring melody and the Myamuh natives loved him all the more for playing what they still believe is their local national anthem. When as a matter of fact, "On Miami Shore" is a collitch song written for a river in Ohio!

In this cage we have various species. Here, frinstance, is Charlie Journal of the Montmarte. Charlie has eaten a Welsh rarebit at 2:30 a. m. every morning for the past 15 years and never had the bhelleake. In this corner we have a man who swears he actually saw Arthur Brisbane's unusual motor car. It is a nice machine, but there is just about room for Mr. Brisbane, because the rest of the car is loaded with chauffeur, filing cabinets, distating machine and a secretary. And here is the dope who tried to figure out when a woman is old—never knowing that you could tell by looking at her neck. If it slopes she is getting on.

In cage No. 3 we have the Forman sisters, Hilda, Louise and Maxine, who just clicked in a new Broadway show. They warble harmoniously and impressed the initial audiences until one of the Sunday papers gave them a story. They are quoted as chirping that they dislike New York. Well, that's their opinion, and you can't get sore at anyone for being blunt. But they are supposed to have added that they would rather gather up eggs and drive the cows back home in Meadville (their home town) than be a success on Broadway. "Life at home," they would have you believe, "is real fun." Mebbe it is, but now you know why we have them in this here cage.

Over here in cage No. 4 is Cal York who reports that the story is pretty well authenticated in Los Angeles that the engagement between Clara Bow and Harry Richman was a clever press stunt on the part of Richman's producers. York says he is inclined to believe it, and that he gives them credit for a smart idea. Well, take it from one who just spent the week-end at Richman's Beechhurst mansion, the engagement was plenty on the up 'n' up. If it wasn't then Clara wasted a lotta time inscribing over 165 handsome photos of herself and Harry, all of which packed pashy sentiments such as: "To the only real man in the world"—"To my great lover—from Toots"—"To my man—Your baby, Clara"—"To the only man I ever really loved," etc.

In this cage we have a chap who calls himself Throckmorton, probably a gag tag. He is described as a cub reporter on an evening paper. He kept me in stitches (until we caged him) with his fantastic story the other day about A. Capone being in New York to arrange a truce among gangs. He also named other gang lords as being there, when most of us know the chieftains he named are and have been in Havana and other Southern points. For a moment I thought his story about Capone was aimed to belittle the contemporaries who had the Capone articles sewed up, but after reading his piece, realized he wasn't clowning. At any rate, we put him on oatmeal without cream to punish him. Chiefly because Capone hasn't left his Palm Island estate for four weeks, proving his story a hammyteurish fake.

And here is a cage you will adore. This is Helen Morgan's piano-player—and what a great pleasure it was to bag him! He is here because he is the type of guy who plays the piano—for a soft-voiced singer as La Morgan—and never takes his big foot off the loud pedal. It wasn't a cinch to catch him, either, believe you me, but here he is—and if they ever free him, I'll give up dramatic criticism, as Bob Garland always says.

This empty cage is begging for a tenant, and I trust it won't be empty long. I have a candidate for it, however. His name is Marc Lachman and he is the exploiter for "The New Yorkers" show and for Mr. Dillingham, Wesley Ruggles and other people who matter. He is a good press agent, all right, all right, but he sure can make you mad at times. Particularly when he slouches in a cozy chair and lets the phonograph run down while it is playing a record. It is most irksome, really. There you are trying to open a bottle of Scotch or mineral water in the hotel bathroom, and Lachman will simply sit and sit and sit instead of changing the record or the needle, or winding the damb thing up. His shoe laces always dangle, too.

In this cage is an Albany radio paragrapher, who, apparently fed up with being obscure, tried to get some afternoon off by making foolish cracks, such as "Winchell does not dare print that in his column. It may have been all right to broadcast it on the air, but we defy him to show us that he printed it!" At first the dope was dismissed with a shrug of the good shoulder, on the ground that it is always unfair to hit a chap who isn't your size. But Miss Cambridge, the best secretary a columnist ever had, happened to run across another of his blurbs in which he boasted that Winchell is "afraid" and without even telling her boss that she answered the challenge, she looked up the paragraph in question (in the files), tore out the column, ringed the article, and then sent it to him hoping he was properly crushed. There he is now, folks, biting his nails trying to think up an answer.

And this maniac is the Broadway fellow who lost his mind trying to believe in people. His last rational words were grand. He described two false friends in this manner: "They were so crooked that if one stood at the top of a circular stairway, and the other at the bottom, they could look each other straight in the eye!"

THE LOVELY LIAR : BY ROB EDEN

After dinner that evening, when they were scrubbing the floor, Ginger managed to get in a few words with her.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Deserted by Ted Allison on the eve of their elopement, Poppy Prior flees to New York. Her mother, who thinks she is married, inserts an announcement in the paper. Poppy is arrested for the theft of a bracelet, belonging to Celia Nixson, which she found on the train and considered of no value. Fearful that her mother may hear of her arrest, Poppy lies about her home town under the cross-questioning. Sympathetic Kevin Wallace, friend of Celia, believes Poppy innocent, though she refuses to disclose anything to him, and tells her to call on him if she needs help. Committed to a detention home, Poppy gets away and goes to Wallace for help. He sends her to Jane Rochester, an art student and friend of his. Poppy confides her story to Jane, who gets her a job as fashion model at Randolph's. For a while she lives in terror of being sent back to the Minnie Bascum Home for Girls. One day the assistant buyer sends her out to model for one of her best customers. To Poppy's dismay she finds Celia Nixson is the customer. Poppy pleads illness and starts home but is arrested at the employes' entrance taken back to the home for wayward girls. The detective who takes her back promises to call Kevin Wallace and tell him where she is.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXXIX

"Too bad," Ginger whispered as she and Poppy were busy the following morning in the laundry. But there was still that insolent smile on Ginger's lips, so Poppy couldn't really believe she meant the sympathy she expressed.

Poppy was tired. The morning had come so fast. The bell had rung just after she had finally fallen asleep. At first when she awakened she didn't know where she was. Looking around in the dawn-lit room for the things that were so familiar. Jane's chair, the easel, the sketch of Kevin . . . When she realized that she was back at the home, she was frantic. But the panic had been succeeded by hope that Kevin had received her message. That she would hear from him.

"I've another scheme," Ginger was muttering over the tubs. "It ought to succeed. I'm going to get away from this place. I can't stand it any longer. The thought of staying here another six months—"

Poppy knew how she felt and was sorry for her. Perhaps the sullen look, the curling smile were assumed. Only a pose to hide Ginger's real feelings.

"Ellen Webb was a brick after you had gone. Wouldn't tell where you were. Miss Rippe thought she knew. They questioned her for hours."

"She wouldn't let me tell her—" Poppy confided. Tears came to her eyes when she thought of Ellen. The first tears she had shed since she had come here yesterday. Some of them dropped in the soapy water.

"Be careful of Ruby," Ginger warned, again in a whisper, while she was rubbing an apron quickly over her board. "She tells everything to Miss Rippe."

Poppy nodded. She suspected that.

"They always put you in with somebody like that when you are brought back. They've got me in with somebody like that, too. I have to be very careful. Can't say anything. Sometimes I go crazy to talk over my plans—"

Somehow the day wore away. Every minute Poppy thought there might be a message from Kevin. Something.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon she got together nerve enough to go up to Miss Rippe.

"Has any message come for me?"

"No."

"Are you sure?"

"Of course. Were you expecting one?"

"Yes." Even if Kevin had said they shouldn't see each other any more, he wouldn't desert her like this. When she needed him so. One little comforting word. Only that he knew she was here. Perhaps Miss Rippe would let her call him.

"Could I use the telephone?"

Hope for a moment, that was quashed the next.

"We never allow the girls to telephone."

"This is important."

"You cannot use the telephone."

"May I write a letter?"

"You may not. You can't expect the same privileges now that you had before." With that Miss Rippe walked away, picking her steps carefully as usual, her back straight, her thin shoulders protruding from her black woolen dress like coat hangers.

After dinner that evening, when they were scrubbing the floor, Ginger managed to get a few words with her.

"I heard you ask Miss Rippe if you could write a letter. I'll be going in a few days, and I've pencil and paper in my room. I'll give them to you tomorrow in the laundry. Then you can give your letter to me, and I'll mail it when I leave."

They had to separate soon after, because Miss Rippe was coming down the hall. So Ginger was going! And in a few days.

Poppy wondered how she was going to manage her escape. It must be well planned because Ginger had failed before and had been brought back. She looked after the red headed girl in amazement. Before Ginger had shunned her, now she was friendly. Was it because they both had gone, and had come back?

Tomorrow seemed such a long time to wait for paper and pencil. Then the days until Ginger went. Still there was hope that Kevin might get the message from Mr. Campbell. She wasn't counting on that, though. She couldn't.

Ruby was inquisitive that night, but Poppy didn't satisfy her curiosity. Indeed, she couldn't have if she had wanted to. She was so tired that as soon as she pulled the covers over her, she was asleep, her arms aching from the unaccustomed laundry work, her head throbbing.

Wednesday morning she was still fatigued. Wednesday. Where had Tuesday gone? Slipped away . . . .

After breakfast, she went again to Miss Rippe and asked her if there had been some message. One might have come in the night. None.

Ginger gave her a pencil and a sheet of paper in the laundry while they were ironing. Poppy hid them in her shoes. The pencil was only a stubby little thing, and she felt it hardly at all.

"Have the letter by morning, for I'm going tomorrow. I won't tell you when, because I don't want anybody to know. I'll get an envelope when I get away, and buy a stamp."

"Have you money?"

"Enough—" Ginger spoke laconically, and went on with her ironing.

Poppy thought of the letters that were waiting for her at the apartment, letters from Grace. Grace would write and tell her what she thought of Ted. Poppy frowned. Ted, who was Kevin. Grace had liked the man she thought was Poppy's husband, Poppy could see that.

Two of them there would be now, because Grace wrote every day to tell her how her mother was. What would they think of her not writing? Mother waiting for letters. Waiting in vain. Worrying. Grace perhaps coming to New York to look for her, because she knew her address now. Yes, Grace would come . . . .

One reason why Kevin had to know where she was. So he could write to Grace and tell her everything was all right.

Wednesday, and she had been here since Monday afternoon. Sunday, Jane would come back to New York, and find the apartment empty.

Then the thought struck Poppy that surely Celia would tell Kevin about her if she saw him. Celia would gloat over it. And since there had been no message from Kevin, Celia could not have seen him.

What if Kevin had gone away for a long time? Abroad to stay away for months . . . . Poppy felt the hot iron burn into her flesh, and she jerked her hand away, but not quite soon enough. There was a red scar on her wrist that ached. She held it against the heat, but it continued to throb.

At 4 o'clock she tackled Miss Rippe once more about her expected message, and Miss Rippe was plainly annoyed. No, no messages had come. And she didn't want to be bothered continually about it.

Ginger had the few words she had written to Kevin. Poppy managed to write them while she was ironing, and Ginger had taken the paper. She said Poppy could have the pencil. She had no more need of it. The note was short. Poppy told where she was, that was all.

Kevin had forgotten her. He had gone away, leaving her alone. And these last two weeks she had seen him so much, heard from him every day. Those hours together on the Silver Bird . . . his flowers, gardenias, wilted now, and brown, still in the vase she had put them in at the apartment. Standing on the table. She had intended to press them, later.

His kiss that seemed like a dream. His arms around her. He was sorry, though. He had said so. Sorry he had kissed her. But his mouth had clung to hers in that minute of his kiss, pressing it fiercely. Why had she loved Kevin's kiss so, and revolted at Ted's? It made a difference who kissed you. Whether it was someone you loved or someone you didn't.

Even now, with all this trouble

Answers to Questions

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask our Information Bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How much do salmon weigh?—J. McD.

Q.—What color is jadeite?—L. G.

A.—Absolutely pure jadeite should be white without a tinge of color. In general the green color of jadeite is due to chronium, the coloring matter of the emerald, but jadeite is never transparent as is the emerald. Jadeite is one of the three minerals known as jade. The others are nephrite and chloromelanite. It is remarkable that men from the earliest times found small blocks of jade suitable for utilitarian purposes. Jade was treated with the greatest reverence by rulers of the East.

Q.—What form of government had the colonies while the revolutionary war was going on?—C. W.

A.—As Andrew McLaughlin, historian, says: "During the whole course of the revolutionary war, the central government was the second Continental congress. There was no written instrument defining the power of this body. It used such powers as it needed to use or was permitted to use by the people. . . . The central government, if government it may be called, was a congress composed of delegates annually appointed by the states and to this body was given considerable authority . . . . In this congress each state had one vote. . . No step could be taken without the consent of a majority of the states and for many important measures, the consent of nine of them was necessary. All states must agree to an amendment or alteration in the articles. The Confederate congress continued its formal existence until March 2, 1879. It then flickered and went out without any public notice."

Q.—Who is in charge of the loan exhibition connected with the bicentennial celebration of Georg Washington's birth in 1932?—W. C.

A.—Mrs. Rose Gouverneus Hoes is in charge of the Bicentennial commission's exhibition; address George Washington Bicentennial headquarters, Washington building, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Hoes, a great-granddaughter of Pesident Monroe, has long been identified with historic exhibitions, being particularly well known for her work in assembling the costume exhibition in the History building of the U. S. National museum in which are exhibited, on figures, dresses of every mistress of the White House from Mrs. Washington to and including Mrs. Coolidge.

Q.—Are bats blind?—M. E. H.

A.—Bats are not blind. All species have efficient eyes; in one, they are likely to be small bead-like and nearly hidden in the soft fur with which these animals are clothed.

Q.—How old are the Azalea Gardens at Middleton, South Carolina?—A. C.

A.—They are about 250 years old.

Q.—Is a newspaper editor obliged to print any material submitted to him, provided it is paid for at advertising rates?—R. W. S.

A.—Newspapers reserve the right to reject and decline to publish any copy for advertising or any other purposes submitted to them, if they do not find it acceptable for any reason. Complete control of the columns of a newspaper is at all times in the hands of the publisher or editor.

Q.—What percentage of the water a person drinks goes into the blood?—J. A. F.

A.—Physiologists vary somewhat in estimating how much is taken in; perhaps 25 to 40 per cent.

Q.—What is a person called who is half negro and half Mexican?—T. H.

A.—The word is mestizo.

Why does the spelling of English words change so much?—A. A.

A.—Changes in spelling have been continuous in the history of the English language. Conscious and deliberate efforts to simplify English spelling were made as early as 1554. The latest attempted spelling reform came in August, 1906.

Q.—Are there railroads in Hawaii?—H. S.

A.—Hawaii has 374 miles of steam railroads besides 625 miles on the sugar plantations.

The Record News Offers A New Booklet on Interior Decorating

Do you realize, in creating a color scheme for your decorating, that every object in a room has a color role to play? The background should be rather neutral. The rug should be of darker value and definitely keyed to the color of the walls. The furniture may be keyed to the woodwork or the walls. The room will look larger if it is keyed to the walls. The smaller the piece of furniture the more intense its color may be. For example, a bright orange lamp is attractive, whereas an orange davenport would be too garish. Draperies should be in lighter values than the furniture, for they are nearer to the top of the room, but they should not be of so intense a hue that the other furnishings are overlooked.

Such is the helpful, practical manner in which the decorating problems are discussed in the new booklet, Interior Decorating. Send for a copy today, using this coupon.

HIGHLIGHTS OF VETO MESSAGE

Pithy Extracts From Hoover Bonus Objections

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Here are some pithy extracts from President Hoover's message vetoing the veterans loan bill:

"When the bonus act was passed it was upon the explicit understanding of the congress that the matter was closed and the government would not be called upon to make subsequent enlargements."

"There is not a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow . . . or . . . impose further taxation."

"Inquiry . . . indicates the number of veterans in need of . . . relief is a minor percentage of the whole."

"The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

"I have many manifestations from veterans on whom the times are bearing hardly that they do not want to be represented to our people as a group substituting special privilege for the idealism and patriotism they have rejoiced in offering to their country through their service."

"Veterans in need are and should be a preferred class that a grateful country would be proud to honor with its support."

"We can not further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all the people, to loan to some of our people who are not in need of the money."

"The need of our people today is a decrease in the burden of taxes and unemployment, yet they . . . are being steadily forced toward higher tax levels and lessened employment by such acts as this."

ESTES GROCERY TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING HERE SATURDAY

MODERN STORE AWAITS TRADE

Burk Man to Move Here To Enter Business

The Estess grocery, the newest cash and carry grocery and market to be opened in Wichita Falls, has chosen for its location, a thickly populated residential district near the Wichita Mill and Elevator, the location being Holliday at Fifteenthe street.

The store is owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Estes, for a long time citizens of Burkburnett, but who will soon move here to make Wichita Falls their home. They have been engaged in the grocery business at Burkburnett for several years.

Ray Wilt has been chosen as manager, buyer and advertising writer for the new store. Mr. Wilt has been in Wichita Falls for six years and is thoroughly acquainted with the grocery business.

The store has installed modern equipment and is featuring vegetables and fruits. A display table or rack for fresh fruit has been installed that is of the latest type. A mist of cool water is continually playing over the vegetables, which keeps them fresh.

The market is in charge of Leonard Harris, who is assisted by Charles Weeth. Both are experienced market men and their stock is the very choicest that can be obtained, local or from the packing plants. The market also carries a splendid stock of cured and smoked meats, also various varieties of cheese.

The new grocery has a stock of standard brands of food products. The management is endeavoring to purchase all foods, fruits, vegetables, bakery and dairy products locally. As it is a home-owned store all encouragement possible is being given home grown or made products.

Gene Ragland is cashier of the Estes grocery. He is well known to the grocery trade of Wichita Falls.

"Our formal opening will be held Saturday and during the day souvenirs will be presented the customers and visitors," said Mr. Wilt. "We invite the public to visit our store, which occupies a building 40x100 feet, well lighted and ventilated. We want to sell the very best quality of groceries at the lowest possible price, endeavoring to make our success upon mass sales."

Terrace Exhibit Set for Tuesday In Jones County

ANSON, Texas, Feb. 26.—A county-wide demonstration of terrace building will be held on the E. W. Harrell farm two and one-half miles west of Anson on highway 83 on next Tuesday, March 3, following an illustrated lecture on this work by A. K. (Dad) Short of the Federal Land bank on Monday night at the courthouse.

Mr. Short is a well recognized authority on farm subjects, having been employed by Sears, Roebuck and later by a Chicago radio station for discussing farm problems, and is now employed by the Federal Farm Land bank of Houston. His program will begin at the courthouse about 7:30 Monday night.

Taking part in the demonstration work will be M. R. Bentley of the A. & M. extension work, and M. B. Oates, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, who has taken the initiative in getting this program put on in West Texas, sponsored by the Federad Land bank, the Burlington railroad system, and the A. & M. college.

Various terrace building machines will be on hand for demonstration.

The farmers, and all business men and others in all parts of the county who are interested in better farming are invited to be present.

The party will be at Haskell Monday and in Abilene Tuesday night and Wednesday.

RECIPES

Sausage With Bananas

Cook pure pork sausage until a golden brown. When cooked, remove from the skillet to finger lengths of toast on a hot platter. Then remove the skins from the required number of bananas, allowing one banana for each serving, and cut them in halves lengthwise. Squeeze a few drops of lemon juice on each half. Roll in flour and saute in the sausage drippings until a light brown in color. Serve on platter with sausages.

Pineapple Orange Cup

Cut three large oranges in halves and remove pulp. Cut edges into saw teeth. Peel and dice one large banana. Mix banana, orange pulp cut in pieces and one cup crushed pineapple. Heap in orange cups, chill and serve garnished with maraschino cherries.

Smothered Chicken

Two broilers.
Salt.
Pepper.
Flour.
One cupful heavy cream.
Four tablespoonfuls flour.
One and a half cupfuls chicken stock.
One-half pound saute'd mushrooms.
Salt and pepper.
Parsley.

Dress, clean and split broilers, season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Heat a Scotch kettle (an iron frying kettle with a rounded bottom), put in it heavy cream and chickens cut in halves. Cover and cook until chickens are tender, turning frequently and adding more cream as needed. Remove to a shallow pan or platter and put in a hot oven until gravy is made. For the gravy add to liquid in pan four tablespoonfuls flour mixed with one and one-half cups chicken stock made from the backbones and trimmings of the chicken, together with the mushroom stems and skins. Stir until sauce boils. Slice mushroom caps and saute in butter. Strain gravy onto mushrooms and add salt and pepper to taste. Arrange chicken on a serving dish, pour the gravy and mushrooms over the top and garnish with paper frills on ends of leg bones, and sprigs of parsley.

Stuffed Irish Potatoes

Peel Irish potatoes and hollow out with an apple corer. Stuff with the following mixture: One cup ground chicken, beef or pork, one-half cupful cracker crumbs, one well beaten egg, salt and pepper to taste, one tablespoonful melted butter, one tablespoonful chopped parsley. If the potatoes are small they may be rolled in cracker crumbs and egg and fried in deep fat; if they are rather large they should be baked with the roast or in a baking pan. If in the latter, add a little cooking fat to the dish and baste while baking with drippings.

Cranberry Delight

One quart cranberries.
One orange, large.
One cupful sugar.

Grind together cranberries and orange, including peeling, and to each cup of pulp add one cup of sugar. Stir well and let stand two or three days, or until the sugar has dissolved. Serve with meats in place of cranberry sauce.

Tomato Ice

Four cupfuls tomato juice.
One and one-half teaspoonfuls salt.
Two tablespoonfuls sugar.

Mix tomato juice with salt and sugar and freeze. Serve with meats.

Graham Biscuits

One-half cupful flour.
One teaspoonful salt.
Three teaspoonfuls baking powder.
One cupful graham flour.
Three tablespoonfuls molasses.
One-fourth cupful milk.
Two tablespoonfuls shortening.

Sift flour with salt and baking powders. Do not sift the graham flour as this would remove the bran which contains the mineral salts and vitamins so necessary to health. Cut shortening into flour, add graham flour, molasses and milk, using more if necessary to make a soft dough. (The molasses which make the biscuits slightly sweet and dark in color may be omitted). Roll one-half-inch thick with a covered rolling pin on a covered board. If you have no cover for your rolling pin a baby's fine white cotton stocking with the foot cut off pulled on over the pin makes an excellent substitute. Shape with a two-inch round cutter and bake in a hot oven or at 400 F. for from 12 to 15 minutes. (Cut biscuits as close together as possible to avoid leaving excess dough between them which must be worked over, requiring the addition of more flour). Brush the biscuits with milk before placing them in the oven if you want them to brown evenly. Serves four.

Layered Cheese and Apple Salad

One package lemon Jell-O.
One pint boiling water.
Two tablespoonfuls lemon juice.
One teaspoonful salt.
One red apple, cut in one-fourth-inch dice.
One teaspoonful sugar.
One package (three ounces) cream cheese.
One-half cup walnut meats, broken.

Dissolve Jell-O in boiling water, add one tablespoonful lemon juice and salt. Combine apples, sugar, dash of salt, and remaining tablespoonful lemon juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold apples into one-half of Jell-O mixture. Turn into a mold and chill until firm. Beat remaining Jell-O with a rotary egg beater until of consistency of whipped cream. Fold in cheese and nuts. Pour over firm first layer. Chill 1½ hours and serve cut in squares on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with Mayonnaise. Serves eight.

Floating Island Canyon Style

Put thick boiled custard in individual glasses. Place a macaroon, a small cookie, or half a small cup cake in the center. Make a border of whipped cream and a rose on top of the macaroon with a bit of cherry in the center.

Alligator Pear Cocktail

Alligator pear . . . avocado . . . calavo. By any name they are equally delicious. Peel then, cut into small cubes and chill thoroughly. Mix together one-half cup orange juice, one-quarter cup lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls syrup from chutney, about two tablespoonfuls sherry favor, and chill. Put the pears in the cocktail glass, pour juice over, and decorate with sprigs of fresh mint and small sections of orange and serve, well iced.

Asparagus Salad With Chantilly Dressing

Add one-half cupful whipped cream, one tablespoonful grated horseradish, and one teaspoonful grated onion to one cupful mayonnaise. Place tips of asparagus on crisp lettuce and garnish with the prepared dressing.

Chocolate Waffles

Three-fourths cupfuls sifted flour.
One teaspoonful baking powders.
One cupful sugar.
One teaspoonful vanilla.
One-half cup butter or shortening.
Three squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
Three eggs, well beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add butter to chocolate and blend. Combine sugar and eggs, add chocolate mixture, beating thoroughly; then add flour and vanilla. Pour batter into well-greased waffle irons, cover, turn flame very low, bake one and one-half minutes, turn iron and bake one and one-half minutes on the other side. Serve with butter and maple syrup or with creamy sauce. Makes four four-section waffles.

Hot Sandwiches

Once the accepted and entirely fitting definition of a sandwich was two pieces of bread with a bit of meat between. The purpose of this combination was to take the edge off the sharp pangs of hunger when time pressed. Now, almost any preparation of bread which contains a filler of some sort from the delicate titbit which is served with the cup of afternoon tea to the substantial hot buttered toast with all sorts of savory fillings between is classified as a sandwich.

Even the bread used in making the delicious modern sandwich is varied. Formerly only white or rye or possibly graham bread was used as the foundation but now whole wheat, bran, Boston brown bread, nut bread, orange bread, tiny hot biscuits, rolls and crackers have been added to the list.

It is not even necessary for us to adhere to the traditional "two" pieces of bread for many of the most popular sandwiches today are made from three or four and sometimes only one slice of bread.

The latest development is an appetizing hot sandwich which may have for its base hot rolls or biscuits, hot toast or hot saute'd bread. It is often served with an inviting sauce as the main dish for luncheons and always gives a warm relish to the repast. Hot sandwiches are also served at breakfasts and Sunday night suppers on crisp cool days.

If a sandwich is to be used as the main dish of a meal fairly fresh bread, cut a quarter of an inch thick should be used and spread generously with a hearty filling. These sandwiches must be served soon after they are prepared as they must be hot and crisp to be at their best.

Toasted Walnut Sandwiches

Two tablespoonfuls salad oil.
One tablespoonful vinegar.
One-eighth teaspoon paprika.
One loaf graham bread.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
One-half cupful cream or cottage cheese.
Six tablespoonfuls walnut meats.

Mix oil, vinegar, salt, paprika and then mix with cheese. Cut Graham bread in one-fourth inch slices, spread with cheese mixture and sprinkle with choped nut meats. Put together in pairs, remove the crusts, cut in finger-shaped pieces and toast.

Avocado and Bacon Sandwiches

Halve and remove the stone from a fully ripe avocado. Scrape out the pulp and mash it well; season with (lightly) salt, paprika and a teaspoonful of catsup. Spread on slices of hot buttered toast and arrange strips of very thin, crisply cooked bacon on each. Serve these sandwiches for breakfast, if you wish something quite out of the ordinary and very good. They may also be served for lunch or Sunday night supper.

Hot Chicken Sandwiches

Cut into very small pieces enough cold chicken to make one cupful and slice very fine one-half a cupful of canned button mushrooms. Saute' the latter in one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter; add one tablespoonful of flour and cook to a paste; pour in three-fourths of a cupful of milk and stir until thick. Add the chicken, one well-beaten egg and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and simmer for a few minutes. Serve between slices of bread lightly buttered and then browned on both sides in a pan. If this part of the operation is done on the table grill the sandwiches will be deliciously crisp and fresh. Serve with a glass of creamy milk or a cup of fragrant lemon-flavored tea, garnishing each sandwich with a few sprays of watercress, olives, and celery curls. These sandwiches are nice for supper when the Sunday dinner has had chicken for the piece de re'sistance.

Emergency Sandwiches

These sandwiches are quick but substantial. They may be made at the table if one has an electric grill. Slice white, whole wheat or graham bread one-fourth inch thick, place a slice on the grill and as it toasts spread the untoasted side with butter, arrange a slice of ham over this and cover with a slice of Swiss cheese brushed over with prepared mustard. Cover with a second slice of buttered bread; then turn the whole sandwich over until the outer surface of the second slice of bread is nicely browned. Garnish with pickles or radishes and serve with a cup of tea or coffee. One side of each slice of bread may be toasted before the filling is added if there is no hurry about the sandwich. It should be turned and combined as directed above. American cheese may be used instead of Swiss and Mayonnaise or Thousand Isle salad dressing instead of the mustard. After the sandwich is removed from the grill a leaf of lettuce or a slice of tomato or both may be slipped between the filling and the top slice of toast.

Mushroom Sandwiches

Two slices of tomato, four mushrooms, two strips of bacon, and two thin pieces of freshly made toast will be required for each sandwich. Saute' the mushrooms, chopped fine, in two tablespoonfuls of butter to a nice brown; spread over slices of toast; cover with a lettuce leaf spread with Mayonnaise and place the tomato slices on the lettuce; lay the bacon cooked until crisp over all; cover with the second piece of toast and cut across diagonally; serve at once, piping hot.

Chicago Sandwiches

Toast bread cut one-fourth inch thick, lightly on both sides. Meanwhile prepare a filling of one cupful of chopped tuna fish, a tablespoonful of Mayonnaise, a teaspoonful of minced onion and half a teaspoonful of minced chives. Butter the toast and trim neatly; then arrange the filling sandwich fashion between the slices. This is a one-dish meal. Serve with a cupful of tea or coffee.

Orange Cream Cheese Sandwiches

Cut bread one-fourth inch in thickness, trim and toast one side of each; spread the toasted side with orange marmalade that has been mixed with an equal quantity of cream cheese. Toast in a hot oven. Orange bread may be used instead of white or whole wheat. Thin slices of toast may also be spread with butter, and orange marmalade and sprinkled with chopped nuts and stacked sandwich fashion. This makes a delicious sandwich to serve with a cup of tea in place of a cooky or dessert.

'TEXAS EXES' INVITED HERE

March 2 Banquet Open To All Former Students

"Texas Exes" from other communities in this section will be cordially welcomed at the Wichita Falls reunion of former State university students next Monday, Dr. Q. B. Lee, local president, said Thursday.

Several inquiries from out of town points have been received, Dr. Lee stated.

"We expect quite a number of visitors from other places," said Dr. Lee, "the only stipulation we make is that they wear their oldest clothes, in keeping with the spirit of poverty which will dominate the occasion."

Who Drew That?

Somebody's scrawled a line up there just where we were going to write an ad about A & P. Come on now, who did it?

Oh . . . that's different. You say the line shows how fast the retail price of food has been going down? So it does. And it's taken quite a slide, hasn't it? Down to about 15% lower than it was in September, 1929, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Better not erase it then; because A & P had more to do with the drawing of that line than anybody else in the United States. For, as growers and producers have reduced their prices, A & P has reduced the price of food in its stores.

We'll just write the ad way down here in a little bit of space. A & P is the strongest influence in the country for keeping the price of food to the consumer low.

TILLMAN GETS ASSORTED AID

Food, Clothing and Funds Made Available

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 26.—J. L. Meeks of Frederick has been appointed district commander to assist the county commissioners and Red Cross officers in seeing that articles supplied by the state are not duplicated. He is working in connection with W. D. Scott, county judge. Col. L. W. Book of Oklahoma City is state commander of relief. There are several thousand dollars to the credit of this county from the $300,000 Chamberlin appropriation, which could be used to buy food, clothing and shelter, but since the Red Cross is now looking after this matter adequately, Dr. J. D. Osborne Jr., chairman of the Tillman county Red Cross chapter, and other officials, advised that the state funds be kept in reserve.

A carload of clothing arrived Tuesday from the Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis, Mo., contributed by residents of Forest City, Iowa, including shoes, overcoats, suits, dresses and other garments. The shoes are especially welcome. The shipment has been taken to the Good Fellows store room, in the Hotel Frederick, where the goods are being separated. The articles will be issued to those needing them providing they make proper application through their regular local Red Cross officers. Roland Baird hauled the clothing without charge.

Sixty crates of oranges and lemons were brought by a county truck from Hobart Wednesday, being Tillman county's part of a carload which were donated by Californians. The remainder of the carload was for the Kiowa county Red Cross chapter.

A carload of flour from Lodge Pole, northwest Nebraska, has been received for Kiowa and Tillman county chapters. Residents of Nebraska furnished the flour while the railroads deadheaded the shipment.

Dr. Osborne says little sickness is reported among those being given aid by the Red Cross.

Burk Employes Win Banquet for Work In Safety Program

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Feb. 26.—About 40 members of the Tidal-Western Oil company gathered at the American Legion hall Wednesday night and were served a banquet by the losing members of a first aid contest recently held by the company.

Supt. D. J. Carey acted as toastmaster and during the banquet he presented five employes with solid gold 10-year buttons. The employes receiving the buttons were W. L. Martin, James Hipce, J. W. Elliott, J. C. Reel, Louie Laritson, and D. J. Carey. The buttons were sent to the employes by the officials of the Tidal-Western at Tulsa, Okla. Brief acceptance speeches were made by the recipients of the buttons.

N. R. Allen rendered several musical selections, and a trio of musicians, Henry McKown, Elmer Russell and Eddie Simms furnished lively music that was well received.

The banquet climaxed a safety program that the employes of the Tidal-Western have been sponsoring for some time. Last Monday they passed their previous accident record of 208 days without a lost time accident. The year 1930 was the best year the company has ever experienced along the lines of accident prevention; there being only 13 accidents during the year. The employes expressed their desire to continue their record and to set a mark that will be hard to surpass.

Postmaster at Davidson Stumped When Safe Jams

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 26.—L. C. Dobbs, Davidson postmaster, had the disconcerting experience of having the stamps and other articles which he needed constantly locked in the safe, which refused to open. After exhausting his own efforts he obtained the services of Clarence Haynes of Frederick who has had considerable experience in this line of work but this job baffled Clarence.

Dobbs finally took the safe to his local blacksmith, B. F. Clark, and the latter drilled through four-inch steel plate with his acetylene torch after several hours of work. Dobbs gave the safe and $5 to Clark for his services and is now in the market for a new safe.

Earaches May Forerun Deafness

Many cases of deafness are undoubtedly due to the neglect of ear troubles which at the time may seem trivial or only of short duration. Earaches often forecast deafness. An earache is an indication of inflammation or infection in the middle ear. When the acute attack is over, it is often followed by a chronic low grade infection which may eventually produce deafness.

The middle ear communicates with the nose through the Eustachian tubes, and an earache is nearly always an indication that the infection has closed up the tube into the middle ear. This is one of the reasons why such diseases as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid are so often complicated with earache. Sore throats and tonsil infections may also spread along this tube. Sometimes a person will actually force the infection into the tube through violently blowing the nose or sneezing.

A middle ear infection is accompanied by a sharp aching feeling of fullness in the head, ringing in the ears, and often some fever. Pressure behind the ears generally increases the pain. Occasionally the ear drum will be ruptured and the pus discharged. In some cases the infection may spread from the middle ear back to the mastoid cells in the prominence just behind the ear. The condition then becomes much more serious.

In order to lessen the danger of earache it is a good plan to place the patient on an acid fruit fast, using any one kind of acid fruit during the day, preferably the sour fruits which do not contain much sugar. The patient should be encouraged to drink plenty of water and should take enemas and sweat baths; in fact, try to open up the channels of elimination all over the body. This will assist in lessening the inflammation in the mucous membrane which communicates to the ear so that a discharge of dammed up mucus is more apt to take place through the eustachian tubes and there will be less danger of it traveling to the mastoid cells. Hot packs placed over the ear and over several inches of the region around it will often be of service in lessening the amount of pain and bringing a greater supply of blood to carry away the toxins which are present.

The pain of acute earache can sometimes be lessened through blowing the vapor of chloroform into the external ear canal. If the fast is immediately started on the first indication of an earache and no other food is taken, the trouble will usually clear up before it becomes serious.

Children who have enlarged tonsils and adenoids are particularly susceptible to the attacks of earache. If the mother will see that these troubles are corrected, she may save the child the distressing symptoms and possible complications of earache.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Plastic Surgery

Question—M. P. asks: "Will you please give me the address of a good plastic surgeon?"

Answer—I would advise you to get in touch with the secretary of your local medical society, who can give you the names of the physicians in your community who are proficient in this branch of surgery.

Diet Lists

Question—H. J. S. writes: "Kindly name the principal alkaline-ash depositing foods, and also the predominant carbohydrates, sugars and starches. Do I understand you to say that one should emphasize the former and eliminate the latter to rid one's self of a bronchial mucus-raising cough?"

Answer—Your letter is typical of many I receive, and it is impossible to give a complete answer to such a question in this column, as it would take too much space. I have complete articles prepared on all these subjects, and will be glad to send diet lists to any of my readers if they will only give me their full names and addresses, asking for whatever articles they want. Please remember a two-cent stamp for each article requested.

Cataract

Question—X. Y. Z. writes: "Please give me your remedy for a cataract that is forming in the eyes."

Answer—A cataract which is formed enough to be discovered by an examination must eventually be operated upon, so you must depend upon advice and service of a good eye surgeon.

Watch His Smoke

The annual supply of sublime letters from members of the hoe-handle league promises to be as large as ever this season, Spudder officials report.

A letter received yesterday, addressed to Carl Williams, puts the Brazos Kid deep in the shade.

This fellow neglected the sod long enough to write:

"Dear Carl:

"I have read after you a lot and you must be a great baseball manager. I would like to try out for your club in 1931.

"I have never played professional baseball. Of course, I don't think I could take Levey's place right now, but I could in a few days."

Another Football Star

The Spudders seem determined to keep nationally known football stars on the roster. Last year it was Larry Bettencourt. This year it is Morris Badgro, whose football and baseball activities induced Baseball magazine to write of him in the latest issue as follows:

If Morris Badgro could hit the major league horsehide like he can whack a football line he would not have been released by the Browns to Wichita Falls. Badgro is one of the best football players in this country and for the past few years he has been performing on the gridiron for the New York Giants, the professional eleven which took over Notre Dame's all-stars in a charity game this last fall. Morris is a marvel at tackling, at skipping down the field under punts and snaring forward passes out of the air.

He received his preliminary football training while playing with the University of Southern California. He also played baseball there and was coached in the national game by Sam Crawford, "Wahoo" Sam, of Detroit outfield renown. At the termination of his college career Badgro joined the Tulsa club, of the Western league.

There in 1928 he worked in 92 games and engineered 124 bingles for a percentage of .334. He exploded 24 doubles, two triples and eight homers while his base-stealing activities mounted into double figures. Since 1928 he has been with the Browns. In 1929 he hit .284 and last year he slumped to .239. Possibly he drifted with the club and a change of scene will pep up his batting average. Surely no natural born athlete like Badgro who has been coached in the art of batting by Sam Crawford should stick around .239.

Badgro is 25 years old, weighs 190 pounds and is one inch shy of six feet. He bats left, but throws right.

The Morning Mail

"A better reader of yours" of Crowell writes this corner as follows:

Dear Rambler:

Well, don't take this as help, for as to you, well I don't think that you need it. As a reader of you and The Wichita Record News, you are O. K.

But here is the thing that I am driving at, this here talk that I hear around Crowell and also that piece that some guy wrote you the other day about that Crowell and Olney game.

Now here is the way that I feel "as a sport of Crowell" and have lived here for some 20 years. And boy I never miss a game and I also saw that game at Olney which was a thrilling game from start to finish. But anyway I think that if Crowell had had less men standing on the bottom floor of the gym we might have had a better game.

Another thing, I happen to know best of them Olney boys, and some of the fellows there in town and I think they are as near of being perfect as some of the Crowell sports. But I'll drop that, for boy I got too many friends here.

Now let me tell you something, Mr. Rambler. I myself would like to hear you Ramble a little about this Crowell basket ball team for they would like a little to hear something from you. And to me and those basket ball boys, kinda like Olney and would like to play them another game or two.

Another thing while we are talking about Olney if they would have won their district, which they should have, I figure that they "would have went a long ways at the state or maybe won the state I——f they could have won over Crowell for bi-district."

Now don't tell any body about this for this is all confidencial stuff.

I've already rambled a good deal about Crowell's team. It is a fine team. The thing that irks me is that I haven't seen the boys play. You fellows who can attend games are lucky. I have to stay in the shop and edit sports copy for you to read, and get reports of the games from my correspondents, drat their lucky hides.

To be quite frank, I'm selfish enough to hope that Nocona whips Crowell tonight, because then the deciding game would be played in Wichita Falls Saturday. And Saturday is my day off, and I'd get to see both the Wildcats and the Indians.

Ponies in Shape For Porker Series

DALLAS, Feb. 26. (AP)—Coach J. W. St. Clair said today his Southern Methodist university Mustangs were in excellent condition, mentally and physically, for their crucial two-game basket ball series with the Arkansas university Razorbacks here tomorrow and Saturday. Loss of even one game to Arkansas would virtually ruin the chances of the Ponies for a clear claim to the title. They are now in second place in the conference standing behind Texas Christian university

Wildcat Victory Would Cinch Laurels; Indians Smear on War Paint for Fray

Foard County Lads Admit Their Rivals Are Still In Running

By MACK BOSWELL
Record News Correspondent

CROWELL, Texas, Feb. 26.—If the Crowell Wildcats are confident of anything, it is not that they will win with ease, but that they will be fighting a team that is still very much a bi-district threat when they clash with the Nocona Indians here Friday night in the second game of the title series.

The Wildcats won from the Indians in the first game of the series at Nocona last Tuesday by the impressive score of 48 to 27, but Coach Grady Graves was wise enough in the ways of the game to see that the wide margin of victory was accounted for by the inaccuracy of the Indian's shots at the goal, a fault that can be overcome by a team with determination. And a determined bunch of Indians, seeking not only to even the series, but to represent this section of Texas at the state tournament next month, is exactly what the Wildcats expect to go up against Friday night.

In preparation for the game, therefore, Coach Graves this week kept his charges on the go in a brisk series of defensive drills.

The under-sized Wildcats—none of them over 5 feet 10—will, as usual, rely on their brilliant teamplay to bring the series to a close. A victory Friday would give Crowell the title, whereas should Nocona win, the third and deciding game would be played at Wichita Falls Saturday.

The defensive drills this week have been stiff ones, as the Crowell cagers will expect the same dogged interference from Zachary, fleet Nocona forward, and his teammates.

Tribe Scoffs at Alibis And Promises to Be 'Quite Different'

By C. W. GILES
Record News Correspondent

NOCONA, Texas, Feb. 25.—The Indians have no alibis, excuses, if this or if that, but according to latest dope in the way of prophesies, the Crowell aggregation will have something quite different to deal with when that second bi-district game is pulled off at Crowell Friday night.

Sure, it is admitted that if it was "tuff" for the home team to lose last Tuesday and no one will deny that they completely fell down and went co-splash, but lets reflect on the games at Wichita Falls and remember how Jacksboro had them going, going—and nearly gone, when they rallied with a complete "come back" if there ever was such a thing happen. Under the existing conditions, when Jacksboro had it completely sewed up, what team would have done anything else but thrown their hands high in the air and cried "calf rope" and give up the ghost. But no, not Zachary, Cunningham nor Evans and the rest. They fought to the last ditch and finally "went over the top."

When Coach Jenkins lines the boys up and give them the command to "do your duty" Friday night, the public may except some interesting developments. These consoling words that any team, man or set of men have their off days, will be gently whispered in the ears of the Indians and knowing what they can do, they will do it.

It's true, it will pay the Indians to watch Middleton and on the other hand the Wildcats had better keep their peepers on not only Zachary, but Cunningham and Evans.

To make a long story less tedious, fans may expect a scrap what am at Crowell Friday night.

Reagan and Zundelowitz to Open City Championship Series Thursday

The city championship basket ball tournament between Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior High schools, an event that annually stirs great interest in the two student bodies, will open Thursday, March 5, school officials announced Thursday.

The city championship will be decided on a best three out of five games basis, it was decided. All of the games will be held on the Zundelowitz school court with the exception of the fifth, should the fifth game be necessary. The latter, it is planned, will be played on the Junior college court.

After the first game Thursday night, the second will be played Friday night, with hostilities then being called off until Monday night. The fourth and fifth games, if necessary, will be played Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Preston Beck was chosen to referee all the games.

An admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students was agreed upon, and in addition it was decided tournament season tickets, granting admission to all games of the series, would be sold to students at 50 cents each. The season ticket offers a means of saving at least 25 cents, since three games are certain to be played.

With the only schools playing basket ball being those engaged in post-season games, neither Reagan nor Zundelowitz can book practice games before the tournament, so both squads are resorting to stiff practice drills daily in order to keep in trim for the championship series.

SHARKEY AND WALKER TO MIX

Mickey's Bout With Risko Was Financial Flop

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 26.—Mickey Walker, the grown up bull dog, having demonstrated his ability to mix in bigger company by twice whipping Johnny Risko, will fight Jack Sharkey somewhere this summer, preferably in New York or Jersey City, if present negotiations go through, Jack Kearns, Walker's manager declared today.

Mickey's convincing victory over Johnny last night, while more of an artistic than a financial success for all concerned, nevertheless gave impetus to the ballyhoo for the middleweight champion as a front rank contender for heavier honors.

"We'll fight anybody at any weight, so long as we can see the color of the dough," asserted Kearns, "but we prefer Sharkey. I have had offers for the match from several places, including Cleveland, Chicago and Detroit.

Kearns, who piloted Jack Dempsey to the world's championship, is seeking bigger game for Walker because of a dearth of middleweight material. Mickey, he insisted, still can make the 160-pound limit in defense of his title.

"Pa" Stribling, promoter of last night's fistic party, was assured he had furnished the best of all the battles under the Palms but his box office tabulators also advised him it had failed to show a profit.

"We kept our word and went through with the show, under handicaps, but we will be lucky to break even financially," the elder Stribling said.

Despite disappointing returns, preparations went forward for the second heavyweight show, scheduled March 5, with Primo Carnera and Jimmy Maloney booked for the main bout.

Gib Jackson of Amarillo and Del Morgan of Lubbock officiated in all three games.

Perkins and Kaufman Go to Finals in Dixie

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 26. (AP)—T. Philip Perkins, British amateur golfer, and Bob Kaufman, Canton, Ohio, dark horse, advanced to the finals of the Dixie amateur championships today by winning their semi-final matches by identical scores—one up.

Perkins defeated Lee Chase, Buffalo veteran and co-medalist. At the turn they were all square after Perkins was two up at the fourth. Perkins was one up on the 11th, lost his lead on the 14th, regained it on the 15th and held it to the end.

Kaufman won from Winfield Day Jr., Chicago school boy, on the 18th.

The finals tomorrow will be over the 36-hole route.

Presbyterians Win Second Half Title

The First Southern Presbyterian church basket ball team won the championship of the second half of the season Thursday night by defeating the Highland Heights Christians in decisive fashion, 20 to 10, in the last scheduled card of the City Church league on the Floral Heights Presbyterian court.

The championship of the entire season will be determined in a playoff between the First Southern and the First Presbyterians, winners of the first half title. The latter team has since been transferred to the Sunday school league.

In the other league match Thursday night the Grant street Methodists defeated the East Side Presbyterians, 36 to 22. The First Methodists and the First Christians, of the Sunday school league played a practice game which was the most thrilling bout of the night, the Methodists winning, 36 to 32.

Wolf Hunters Make Plans For Annual Meet

EVENT TO BE AT CLAIREMONT

Fanciers of This Area May Enter Dogs

Special to The Record News.

CLAIREMONT, Texas, Feb. 26.—The annual spring hunt of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association will be held near here May 4 and 7, with between 300 and 500 dogs from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico entered, according to arrangements completed by officials of the association and County Judge W. H. Davis.

Jess Carter of Fort Worth, president, and J. W. Elliott, secretary of the association, conferred with Judge Davis relative to camping grounds, horses, and other accommodations for hunters, and were assured citizens of this county would cooperate in every way to make the spring meet a success. Wolves are abundant in this locality and can already be heard howling at night.

Free Camping Grounds

A camping ground will be provided for the scores of entrants expected in the meet, and horses will be provided for those not bringing their own, but hunters are urged to bring their own saddles, blankets, and bridles if possible. For those who do not care to prepare their own meals a restaurant will be opened on the camp grounds, and there is plenty of good water in the vicinity.

The citizens of Clairemont and Kent county will be hosts to the hunters Wednesday, May 6, at a barbecue, it was announced.

Events on the association's program are open to all dogs, whether registered or unregistered. Registration and marking of the dogs will be dispensed with the first day, Monday, May 4, and the first cast, it was announced, will be made at daybreak Tuesday, May 5. Loving cups will be given the field trial winners. Bench show winners will be awarded similar prizes.

Big Hunt Expected

Frank W. Austin of Fort Worth will act as master of the hounds. Judges for the meet are to be selected later.

Mr. Carter said conditions appeared very favorable for the 1931 meet and that the association expected to have the most successful meet in years.

WICHITA AREA EXPECTED TO BE REPRESENTED

A large number of dogs from the Wichita Falls area are expected to be entered in the annual hunt of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters' association at Clairemont. Some of the best packs of wolf dogs in the state are owned in Wichita and nearby counties, including Archer, Jack and Baylor. The annual hunt of the association was held two years ago at Archer City, with one of the largest entry lists in the history of the association.

Clairemont, in Kent county, is west of Stamford, and hunters and dog owners of this section will probably find it most convenient to go from here to Stamford, and then to Clairemont. The distance is approximately 180 miles from Wichita Falls, according to the division office of the state highway department, with a paved road available from Wichita Falls to Stamford.

The resolution was offered by Senator J. Thomas Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, in connection with his contest of last fall's election. John H. Bankhead defeated Heflin in the Alabama election by a large majority.

Not Too Fat

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 26. (AP)—Charley Gelbert's tendency to suddenly put on weight worried Gabby Street of the Cardinals, when his shortstop reported Monday morning, but after seeing Charley in action, he no longer is alarmed.

"Charley sure looked like the side of a house to me," said Street. "I was afraid he was taking on too much weight to stay in the big leagues. But he's just grown into manhood, that's all. I gave him a workout and he is as fast as ever. I believe he'll be the shortstop star of the majors this season."

They were Bill Hunnefield, ex-White Sox shortstop, and Carl Lind, second string infielder. The Indians' crew of long and husky pitching recruits is drawing particular attention, especially Howard Graghead from Oakland of the Pacific Coast league and Orel Hildebrand from Indianapolis American association club.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 26. (AP)—A load was lifted from the shoulders of Manager Bill Killifer of the Browns today by the arrival of Pitcher Walter Stewart, who failed to report on time. Stewart, who drove down from Tennessee, looked tan and fit. His wife and little boy were with him.

AVALON, Calif., Feb. 26. (AP)—Bigger and better batting practice was the Chicago Cubs assignment for today and Manager Rogers Hornsby had two squads at it.

Tut and Petrolle To Fight Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—For the fifth time, Billy Petrolle and King Tut, a couple of the best matched small men in the fight game, will tangle tmorrow night, this time in a 10-round "rubber" go in Madison Square garden.

In four previous duels they have shared honors equally but their last meeting, in St. Paul, ruined all prospect of forecasting their actions from what had gone before. Petrolle, fresh from a decisive walloping of Jimmy McLarnin, marched into the rugged blond king's right hand and failed to last out the first half minute of fighting.

Petrolle won their first battle on a foul, the second by decision, dropped the verdict in the third and was briskly smitten in the fourth.

BOBBY JONES GIVEN MEDAL

Avery Brundage Pins On Sullivan Trophy

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Bobby Jones added to his premiership in golf tonight the gold medal of honor for championship amateurism. The James E. Sullivan medal formally was pinned on the shoulders that bear the four great titles of golf. The honor came on the eve of his plunge into a moving picture venture that caused him to retire from golf competition as he felt it would not be compatible with his simon pure status.

But the plaudits of admirers still dinned in his ears as 1,500 persons saw Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the National Amateur Athletic Union, award the trophy to the Italian at the Medinah Athletic club. From the laudations of his amateurism and of his stupendous prowess on the links, the inimitable Jones will plunge into a role of producing movies of how he won to the pinnace of golfdom, writing articles for newspapers and broadcasting to the world.

The movies, 12 reels of 11 minutes each, are to bring him a quarter of a million dollars, besides his other income from writing and radio, banking and service as attorney for a railroad and as director for various corporations. All this long before he is 30 years old, but not till he became a husband and the father of three children.

Jones found himself tonight in a maze of work and worry. "If the "paths of glory lead but to the grave," he said, "the grave must be reached through hard work." He had worked hard at golf, but it had seemed like play, especially with the thrills of victory at every turn. He had not found a sturdy girt an impediment on the links, but now that he was to flash on the screen before millions who did not know the East of golf dress (except for Johnny Farrell and Walter Hagen, perchance), he had felt bound to take a special course in reducing. His belt already is two inches shorter.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Cotton opened lower today in response to some overnight selling orders inspired by reactionary sentiment and relatively easy Liverpool cables, rallied on a renewal of trade buying and covering, but eased again later under further realizing and some southern selling. May contracts, after selling off to 11.37 at the start, rallied to 11.50 and closed at 11.38, or within a point of the lowest. The final tone of the market was barely steady at net declines of 2 to 8 points.

The influence of lower Liverpool cables was pretty well offset by continued favorable reports from the Manchester goods market, while there also were reports of a continued fair demand for cotton goods in the domestic markets, and offerings were light after the initial selling had run its course.

This rendered the market sensitive to a renewal of trade buying and covering. The demand from these sources was less active and aggressive than recently, but selling was restricted by the firmer tone of the stock market, but selling was restricted by the firmer tone of the stock market and active months worked about 6 to 10 points higher during the middle of the day. March sold up to 11.25 and October to 12.01, but met a little more cotton at these figures and there was a spurt of selling in the last half hour which sent prices back to about the low level of the morning. This was attributed to further realizing, while there was some selling supported to be for southern and New Orleans account. March closed at 11.17 and October at 11.89.

Additional March notices estimated at about 3,100 bales were reported this morning but they were without apparent effect on the market.

Futures closed barely steady, 2 to 8 points lower; spot, quiet; middling, 11.25.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26. (AP)—There was again a fair degree of activity in the cotton market here today and the price trend was generally upward, occasional reactions being small and of brief duration. Although the opening was 2 to 4 points down owing to covering by recent sellers, there also was fair trade buying and prices were helped upward by early firmness in stocks.

After gradually moving upward during the morning prices showed gains over the early lows by early afternoon of 15 to 16 points. This bulge attracted a little profit taking and values eased off 4 points from the highest.

In the late trading the market turned easier owing to a decline in the stock market and liquidation by recent buyers and practically all of the earlier gains were lost. The general market closed steady showing 1 point net gain to 1 point net loss.

Notices for 2,500 bales on March contracts were issued here.

Liverpool came in as due to 2 penny points better than due. Private cables from Liverpool said general liquidation uncovered top loss orders. Manchester cabled that an optimistic feeling prevailed in India and leading Manchester cloth shippers were heavily engaged. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 4 points due to the indifferent Liverpool cables but prices soon rallied on rebuying by recent sellers and by the end of the first hour July traded up to 11.47 and October to 11.96, up 7 to 12 points from the early lows.

Despite reactions the market continued to gain during the morning and early afternoon. May finally trading as high as 11.51 and October at 12.02, or 15 to 16 points above the lows and 11 to 12 points above the previous close. From these levels the market eased off 4 points on profit taking.

The market turned easier in the late trading owing to a break in stocks which induced liquidation by recent buyers. Practically all of the previous gain was lost and May closed at 11.40, or 1 point net up for the day. October closed at 11.91 or net unchanged from the previous close.

Port receipts 20,286, for week 77,945, for season 7,963,576; last season 7,791,095. Exports 13,525, for week 54,050. For season 4,787,262, last season 5,252,132; port stocks 4,164,347. Last year 2,264,559; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 110,117, last year 120,577. Spot sales at southern markets 23,906, last year 8,527.

Futures closed steady, net 1 point up to 1 down.

Stocks Open Very Strong and Then Partially Withstand Late Slump

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (US)—A highly erratic market, which opened powerfully strong and closed in a severe slump, was experienced on the stock exchange today. Yet, despite the late reaction which ran to sizeable proportions closing quotations on the average were higher for the day. The public utility group, in fact, established a new high.

There was evidence, however, of very substantial profit-taking and liquidation throughout the session. Especially was this the case during the market's most exciting phase, when numerous new highs were being established. The activity and strength afforded just such opportunities for realizing sales as large-scale speculators and some important investors had anticipated.

In the afternoon, the market began to reflect nervous selling in advance of the president's veto of the bonus bill, although neither his veto nor his remarks can be described as particularly new. The U. S. government bonds continued under pressure, while wheat was also sharply lower and cotton moderately down.

Expectation that Steel common would be brought to the fore as the market's leader was fully confirmed in its advance to the highest price of the present recovery. The entire list followed Steel into new high territory, but under cover of strength in the market leader heavy realizing sales were taking place in other parts of the list. The public utilities had enjoyed substantial advances which encouraged particularly heavy profit-taking. United Corporation retained two points advance to the close, seemingly absorbing tremendous profit-taking in very encouraging fashion.

American Water Works closed up four points, Standard Gas 2¼, but American and Foreign Power closed down a fraction. The latter stock is meeting strong resistance, and its action indicates termination of the powerful bull sponsorship which had as its objective a price of 50.

Consolidated Gas moved up over a point in further response to its 1930 report showed slightly over $5 a share net. The stock is selling approximately 20 times earnings, and some speculative buying developed on rumors that United Corporation contemplated making an offer to exchange its stock on a four-for-one basis for Consolidated Gas, but officials denied any such offer had been made.

Montgomery-Ward, the strong feature of the previous day, confirmed the statement here that its intense activity suggested a more speculative class of buying than had been the case up to several days ago. Huge blocks of the stock acquired late last year have been resold in the market, but any sizeable reaction in Montgomery probably will encourage renewed large-scale buying.

Sears-Roebuck reacted with Montgomery, although the old, old rumors of a merger of the two leading mail-order units persisted and were as persistently denied by officials.

The speculative issues were hardest hit during the last reaction in the market. Case Threshing broke over six points from its high, but since this issue is responding primarily to speculative factors the shorts are likely to find little comfort in the relatively slight reaction unless the entire market slides further.

Auburn, which is the particular bane of the bear party, closed up six points despite almost an eight-point reaction from the high which represented the best price of the year.

Hesitation in the market, regardless of external developments, was an entirely natural development, since it is universally recognized that maintenance of current price levels depends on concrete evidence of business improvement. The bull leaders, however, seemingly are favored by the momentum of the advance, an advantage which they are little likely to ignore. Thus, they probably will continue to move from stock to stock, or from group to group, in their attempt to maintain bullishness.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Wheat suffered a maximum break of 2⅝ cents a bushel today, largely as a result of definite announcement of the federal farm board's export policy. The announcement said 35,000,000 bushels held by the Grain Stabilization corporation, an auxiliary of the farm board, would be offered abroad, and was generally construed as bearish. Heavy selling of wheat future deliveries took place, plunging wheat down to the lowest level since Jan. 29, with corn dropping to a new bottom-price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous at a fractional rally, ⅛@2¼c off, corn showing ¼@⅜c setback, oats unchanged to ⅝c decline, and provisions unchanged to 20c higher.

Stop list selling of wheat futures both preceded and followed the Grain Stabilization corporation statement. Reports that the statement would be issued today were current long in advance, and many traders anticipated that for at least the time being the effect would prove bearish.

Contributing to price weakness were reports that Australia was dumping wheat on European markets at lower prices as a result of Australian government promises of a bonus on exports. European importers also were anticipating liberal arrivals of wheat hereafter from Argentina as well as Australia, notwithstanding that Argentine growers appeared to be unwilling sellers.

Corn and oats sympathized with the downward course of wheat. Corn traders gave attention also to unofficial estimates that the new Argentine corn crop would total 400,000,000 bushels, compared with a seven-year average of 252,000,000.

Provisions were responsive to upturns in hog values.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (US)—Corn trading was overshadowed today by the interest in wheat which developed on the stabilization corporation announcement regarding export policy.

The corn market after holding firm early, sold off as wheat reacted, but closed with a steady tone. The March again went to a new low on the crop, but the May held above its previous low.

Approach of the seasonal period for an advance in corn prices is creating a friendlier attitude toward the market. The cash situation already shows the effects of the customary seasonal developments on which the expected firmness is based.

Shipping demand was not as active today with sales of only 42,000 bushels of corn. Bookings from the country were 28,000 bushels, but there were smaller contracts with other terminals, the total being only 20,000 bushels. The basis ruled steady to ¼c higher, except on poor grades, where the spread widened about ¼c.

GREGG COUNTY GETS DRILLING

Five New Tests Planned Near Kilgore

LONGVIEW, Texas, Feb. 26.—The Foster-Fisher well cored three and a half inches of rich oil sand late today. The core test expected will be completed by Friday.

J. D. and John Wrather of the Amarillo Producers and Refiners association are making a survey here today preparatory to building a large refinery. They also plan to build a refinery at Overton.

Five new locations will be made soon in Gregg county. J. M. Ross and associates of Dallas will finance at least three and Taylor Finley of New York the other two. All wells will be within a mile of each other on the Thomas and Findley tract, Charles R. Alexander survey, at Camp's switch, six miles northwest of here. First location will be made next week.

J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league and three friends lost baggage valued at $1,000 here late last night. It was stolen from their automobile at Side hotel. Robbers broke open the door.

The W. L. Moody interests of Galveston have announced work will be started next week on a 75-room hotel at Kilgore.

RUSK COUNTY TEST

TEXAS COMPANY TEST

Texas company & McKanna have spudded in on No. A-6 Nora Finch test located in the southeast corner of northwest quarter of section 39, T. E. & L. survey, south of Orth, in Young county. No. A-5, completed last week, is rated at 150 barrels in the sand at 676 feet.

NORTHEAST OF NEWCASTLE

W. F. Brazelton and others No. 2 Belknap Coal company, located 450 feet south and 700 feet east of the northwest corner of section 21, T. E. & L. survey in Young county, is drilling at 550 feet.

NORTH ARCHER TEST

Kelly and others No. 1 A. E. Churchill, located in the southwest corner of north 40 of west 80 acres of Churchill land in block 145, Harris subdivision of Club ranch in Archer county, has spudded.

KMA TO HAVE NEW DEEP TEST

Consolidated to Try For 3800-Foot Production

The territory adjoining the Deep Oil Development company No. 1 Munger test in south Wichita county is to receive a further testing of its petroleum possibilities within a short period.

The Consolidated Oil company has staked out its No. 1 Munger estate test with a contract clause calling for a 4000-foot well. This test is located 1750 feet north and 1431 feet east of the southwest corner of section 31, Wichita Valley Farm lands, and approximately three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Deep Oil No. 1 Munger test.

The Consolidated company will begin at once the erection of its derrick and will move in machinery within the next few days or as rapidly as the material can be placed on the site.

That this section of the county is destined to become within a short time, or during the coming summer months, one of the hot spots in oil activities is evidenced in the blocking up of acreage by a number of concerns in the areas close to the deep tests and further south along the north Archer border.

To the east of the Consolidated location one of the important independent companies here has made a tentative location for a 4000-foot test but the exact site has not been announced at this time.

While a number of paying sands will be encountered in these tests at various depths, the eyes of the operators are focused on a productive pay encountered at 3800 feet in the Deep Oil Development well which will make at least 360 barrels per day.

ALLRED TILTS WITH REGENTS

Attorney General Opposes Special Counsel

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—Fighting Jimmie Allred carried on the tradition of his name Thursday afternoon when he fought to a standstill the proposal of the University of Texas board of regents that the board should nominate the attorney he would be required to appoint to handle university affairs, and should control his action.

"I regard this a slap at the attorney general," he said.

He was assured by Chairman R. L. Batts, Regents R. L. Holliday and Edward Crane no such intention existed.

"Mr. Holliday told me," he said, "that they'd get an attorney to handle a suit if the attorney general didn't handle it—" referring to the Landreth oil land recovery from the public school fund.

"We already have one," Holliday interposed.

"All right, but you won't file any suit unless I join it," Allred shot back.

Regents insisted on the need for a full time lawyer assisting the university, and finally agreed with Allred that he should have more assistants, one or more to be assigned the university, as a result, this one of the university regents series will be rewritten.

House members indicated the constitution forbids anybody but the attorney general controlling state litigation. No opposition developed to broadening powers of the university and its leasing board over oil leases, to increase block acreage and extend terms up to 10 years; and to allow the leasing board to make leases on either sealed bids or public auction.

The Lovely Liar

again, she was glad she hadn't married Ted. Kevin's kiss had finally settled that for her. Jane was right. You couldn't marry a man you didn't love. She must have known it instinctively herself, else she would have married Ted when she promised.

Four-thirty and she was in the kitchen again. She hadn't had to work so hard before. Now besides the laundry work, she had to help in the kitchen. Punishment for running away. Ginger and Mimi had to do the same.

She saw one of the girls come up to Miss Rippe, who was standing in her usual place, and tell the assistant superintendent something, but she didn't hear what it was. So she was surprised when Miss Rippe came up to her a moment later.

"Mrs. Moorhouse wants you in her office, Poppy," the disapproving eyes were searching the girl's face, and the thin nose, under the glasses, quivering.

"Me?" It was her message! The detective had remembered to deliver it. She put down the potato she was peeling, and dashed her hands under the water faucet. They were shaking, and the red burn had turned white, an ugly thing.

Kevin knew where she was! He had called! Her eyes were dancing when she hurried out of the kitchen and down the long corridor to Mrs. Moorhouse's office. Should she knock? A murmur of voices came to her.

The sound of her knock on the door startled her, then Mrs. Moorhouse's voice called "Come in."

She: Now you pride yourself on being able to judge a woman's character by her clothes. What would be your verdict on my sister over there?

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Cotton opened lower today in response to some overnight selling orders inspired by reactionary sentiment and relatively easy Liverpool cables, rallied on a renewal of trade buying and covering, but eased again later under further realizing and some southern selling. May contracts, after selling off to 11.37 at the start, rallied to 11.50 and closed at 11.38, or within a point of the lowest. The final tone of the market was barely steady at net declines of 2 to 8 points.

The influence of lower Liverpool cables was pretty well offset by continued favorable reports from the Manchester goods market, while there also were reports of a continued fair demand for cotton goods in the domestic markets, and offerings were light after the initial selling had run its course.

This rendered the market sensitive to a renewal of trade buying and covering. The demand from these sources was less active and aggressive than recently, but selling was restricted by the firmer tone of the stock market, but selling was restricted by the firmer tone of the stock market and active months worked about 6 to 10 points higher during the middle of the day. March sold up to 11.25 and October to 12.01, but met a little more cotton at these figures and there was a spurt of selling in the last half hour which sent prices back to about the low level of the morning. This was attributed to further realizing, while there was some selling supported to be for southern and New Orleans account. March closed at 11.17 and October at 11.89.

Additional March notices estimated at about 3,100 bales were reported this morning but they were without apparent effect on the market.

Futures closed barely steady, 2 to 8 points lower; spot, quiet; middling, 11.25.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26. (AP)—There was again a fair degree of activity in the cotton market here today and the price trend was generally upward, occasional reactions being small and of brief duration. Although the opening was 2 to 4 points down owing to covering by recent sellers, there also was fair trade buying and prices were helped upward by early firmness in stocks.

After gradually moving upward during the morning prices showed gains over the early lows by early afternoon of 15 to 16 points. This bulge attracted a little profit taking and values eased off 4 points from the highest.

In the late trading the market turned easier owing to a decline in the stock market and liquidation by recent buyers and practically all of the earlier gains were lost. The general market closed steady showing 1 point net gain to 1 point net loss.

Notices for 2,500 bales on March contracts were issued here.

Liverpool came in as due to 2 penny points better than due. Private cables from Liverpool said general liquidation uncovered top loss orders. Manchester cabled that an optimistic feeling prevailed in India and leading Manchester cloth shippers were heavily engaged. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 4 points due to the indifferent Liverpool cables but prices soon rallied on rebuying by recent sellers and by the end of the first hour July traded up to 11.47 and October to 11.96, up 7 to 12 points from the early lows.

Despite reactions the market continued to gain during the morning and early afternoon, May finally trading as high as 11.51 and October at 12.02, or 15 to 16 points above the lows and 11 to 12 points above the previous close. From these levels the market eased off 4 points on profit taking.

The market turned easier in the late trading owing to a break in stocks which induced liquidation by recent buyers. Practically all of the previous gain was lost and May closed at 11.40, or 1 point net up for the day. October closed at 11.91 or net unchanged from the previous close.

Port receipts 20,286, for week 77,945, for season 7,963,576; last season 7,791,095. Exports 13,525, for week 54,050. For season 4,787,262, last season 5,252,132; port stocks 4,164,347. Last year 2,264,559; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 110,117, last year 120,577. Spot sales at southern markets 23,906, last year 8,527.

Futures closed steady, net 1 point up to 1 down.

Stocks Open Very Strong and Then Partially Withstand Late Slump

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (US)—A highly erratic market, which opened powerfully strong and closed in a severe slump, was experienced on the stock exchange today. Yet, despite the late reaction which ran to sizeable proportions closing quotations on the average were higher for the day. The public utility group, in fact, established a new high.

There was evidence, however, of very substantial profit-taking and liquidation throughout the session. Especially was this the case during the market's most exciting phase, when numerous new highs were being established. The activity and strength afforded just such opportunities for realizing sales as large-scale speculators and some important investors had anticipated.

In the afternoon, the market began to reflect nervous selling in advance of the president's veto of the bonus bill, although neither his veto nor his remarks can be described as particularly new. The U. S. government bonds continued under pressure, while wheat was also sharply lower and cotton moderately down.

Expectation that Steel common would be brought to the fore as the market's leader was fully confirmed in its advance to the highest price of the present recovery. The entire list followed Steel into new high territory, but under cover of strength in the market leader heavy realizing sales were taking place in other parts of the list. The public utilities had enjoyed substantial advances which encouraged particularly heavy profit-taking. United Corporation retained two points advance to the close, seemingly absorbing tremendous profit-taking in very encouraging fashion.

American Water Works closed up four points, Standard Gas 2¼, but American and Foreign Power closed down a fraction. The latter stock is meeting strong resistance, and its action indicates termination of the powerful bull sponsorship which had as its objective a price of 50.

Consolidated Gas moved up over a point in further response to its 1930 report showed slightly over $5 a share net. The stock is selling approximately 20 times earnings, and some speculative buying developed on rumors that United Corporation contemplated making an offer to exchange its stock on a four-for-one basis for Consolidated Gas, but officials denied any such offer had been made.

Montgomery-Ward, the strong feature of the previous day, confirmed the statement here that its intense activity suggested a more speculative class of buying than had been the case up to several days ago. Huge blocks of the stock acquired late last year have been resold in the market, but any sizeable reaction in Montgomery probably will encourage renewed large-scale buying.

Sears-Roebuck reacted with Montgomery, although the old, old rumors of a merger of the two leading mail-order units persisted and were as persistently denied by officials.

The speculative issues were hardest hit during the last reaction in the market. Case Threshing broke over six points from its high, but since this issue is responding primarily to speculative factors the shorts are likely to find little comfort in the relatively slight reaction unless the entire market slides further.

Auburn, which is the particular bane of the bear party, closed up six points despite almost an eight-point reaction from the high which represented the best price of the year.

Hesitation in the market, regardless of external developments, was an entirely natural development, since it is universally recognized that maintenance of current price levels depends on concrete evidence of business improvement. The bull leaders, however, seemingly are favored by the momentum of the advance, an advantage which they are little likely to ignore. Thus, they probably will continue to move from stock to stock, or from group to group, in their attempt to maintain bullishness.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Wheat suffered a maximum break of 2⅜ cents a bushel today, largely as a result of definite announcement of the federal farm board's export policy. The announcement said 35,000,000 bushels held by the Grain Stabilization corporation, an auxiliary of the farm board, would be offered abroad, and was generally construed as bearish. Heavy selling of wheat future deliveries took place, plunging wheat down to the lowest level since Jan. 29, with corn dropping to a new bottom-price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous at a fractional rally, ⅛@2¼c off, corn showing ⅛@⅜c setback, oats unchanged to ⅝c decline, and provisions unchanged to 20c higher.

Stop list selling of wheat futures both preceded and followed the Grain Stabilization corporation statement. Reports that the statement would be issued today were current long in advance, and many traders anticipated that for at least the time being the effect would prove bearish.

Contributing to price weakness were reports that Australia was dumping wheat on European markets at lower prices as a result of Australian government promises of a bonus on exports. European importers also were anticipating liberal arrivals of wheat hereafter from Argentina as well as Australia, notwithstanding that Argentine growers appeared to be unwilling sellers.

Corn and oats sympathized with the downward course of wheat. Corn traders gave attention also to unofficial estimates that the new Argentine corn crop would total 400,000,000 bushels, compared with a seven-year average of 252,000,000.

Provisions were responsive to upturns in hog values.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (US)—Corn trading was overshadowed today by the interest in wheat which developed on the stabilization corporation announcement regarding export policy.

The corn market after holding firm early, sold off as wheat reacted, but closed with a steady tone. The March again went to a new low on the crop, but the May held above its previous low.

Approach of the seasonal period for an advance in corn prices is creating a friendlier attitude toward the market. The cash situation already shows the effects of the customary seasonal developments on which the expected firmness is based.

Shipping demand was not as active today with sales of only 42,000 bushels of corn. Bookings from the country were 28,000 bushels, but there were smaller contracts with other terminals, the total being only 20,000 bushels. The basis ruled steady to ¼c higher, except on poor grades, where the spread widened about ½c.

GREGG COUNTY GETS DRILLING

Five New Tests Planned Near Kilgore

LONGVIEW, Texas, Feb. 26.—The Foster-Fisher well cored three and a half inches of rich oil sand late today. The core test expected will be completed by Friday.

J. D. and John Wrather of the Amarillo Producers and Refiners association are making a survey here today preparatory to building a large refinery. They also plan to build a refinery at Overton.

Five new locations will be made soon in Gregg county. J. M. Ross and associates of Dallas will finance at least three and Taylor Finley of New York the other two. All wells will be within a mile of each other on the Thomas and Findley tract, Charles R. Alexander survey, at Camp's switch, six miles northwest of here. First location will be made next week.

J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league and three friends lost baggage valued at $1,000 here late last night. It was stolen from their automobile at Side hotel. Robbers broke open the door.

The W. L. Moody interests of Galveston have announced work will be started next week on a 75-room hotel at Kilgore.

Oil Men Hold Annual Banquet Saturday

The annual banquet of the North Texas Oil & Gas association will be held at the Wichita club at 7 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 28.

After the business meeting which includes the president's report, and election of directors for the ensuing year, a program of unusual entertainment will be provided. A number of talks will be made by speakers well versed on subjects of interest to the fraternity, among whom is W. R. Guiberson president of the Guiberson company of Dallas.

The affair is strictly prorated to the dimension of a stag gathering.

NORTH OF NEWCASTLE

W. E. Bernhart and others No. 1 Belknap Coal company, located in block 8, T. E. & L. survey, one-half mile north of Newcastle in Young county is drilling at 200 feet.

RUSK COUNTY TEST

TEXAS COMPANY TEST

Texas company & McKanna have spudded in on No. A-6 Nora Finch test located in the southeast corner of northwest quarter of section 39, T. E. & L. survey, south of Orth, in Young county. No. A-5, completed last week, is rated at 150 barrels in the sand at 676 feet.

KMA TO HAVE NEW DEEP TEST

Consolidated to Try For 3800-Foot Production

The territory adjoining the Deep Oil Development company No. 1 Munger test in south Wichita county is to receive a further testing of its petroleum possibilities within a short period.

The Consolidated Oil company has staked out its No. 1 Munger estate test with a contract clause calling for a 4000-foot well. This test is located 1750 feet north and 1431 feet east of the southwest corner of section 31, Wichita Valley Farm lands, and approximately three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Deep Oil No. 1 Munger test.

The Consolidated company will begin at once the erection of its derrick and will move in machinery within the next few days or as rapidly as the material can be placed on the site.

That this section of the county is destined to become within a short time, or during the coming summer months, one of the hot spots in oil activities is evidenced in the blocking up of acreage by a number of concerns in the areas close to the deep tests and further south along the north Archer border.

To the east of the Consolidated location one of the important independent companies here has made a tentative location for a 4000-foot test but the exact site has not been announced at this time.

While a number of paying sands will be encountered in these tests at various depths, the eyes of the operators are focused on a productive pay encountered at 3800 feet in the Deep Oil Development well which will make at least 360 barrels per day.

ALLRED TILTS WITH REGENTS

Attorney General Opposes Special Counsel

AUSTIN, Feb. 26.—Fighting Jimmie Allred carried on the tradition of his name Thursday afternoon when he fought to a standstill the proposal of the University of Texas board of regents that the board should nominate the attorney he would be required to appoint to handle university affairs, and should control his action.

"I regard this a slap at the attorney general," he said.

He was assured by Chairman R. L. Batts, Regents R. L. Holliday and Edward Crane no such intention existed.

"Mr. Holliday told me," he said, "that they'd get an attorney to handle a suit if the attorney general didn't handle it—" referring to the Landreth oil land recovery from the public school fund.

"We already have one," Holliday interposed.

"All right, but you won't file any suit unless I join it," Allred shot back.

Regents insisted on the need for a full time lawyer assisting the university, and finally agreed with Allred that he should have more assistants, one or more to be assigned the university, as a result, this one of the university regents series will be rewritten.

House members indicated the constitution forbids anybody but the attorney general controlling state litigation. No opposition developed to broadening powers of the university and its leasing board over oil leases, to increase block acreage and extend terms up to 10 years; and to allow the leasing board to make leases on either sealed bids or public auction.

again, she was glad she hadn't married Ted. Kevin's kiss had finally settled that for her. Jane was right. You couldn't marry a man you didn't love. She must have known it instinctively herself, else she would have married Ted when she promised.

Four-thirty and she was in the kitchen again. She hadn't had to work so hard before. Now besides the laundry work, she had to help in the kitchen. Punishment for running away. Ginger and Mimi had to do the same.

She saw one of the girls come up to Miss Rippe, who was standing in her usual place, and tell the assistant superintendent something, but she didn't hear what it was. So she was surprised when Miss Rippe came up to her a moment later.

"Mrs. Moorhouse wants you in her office, Poppy," the disapproving eyes were searching the girl's face, and the thin nose, under the glasses, quivering.

"Me?" It was her message! The detective had remembered to deliver it. She put down the potato she was peeling, and dashed her hands under the water faucet. They were shaking, and the red burn had turned white, an ugly thing.

Kevin knew where she was! He had called! Her eyes were dancing when she hurried out of the kitchen and down the long corridor to Mrs. Moorhouse's office. Should she knock? A murmur of voices came to her.

The sound of her knock on the door startled her, then Mrs. Moorhouse's voice called "Come in."

She: Now you pride yourself on being able to judge a woman's character by her clothes. What would be your verdict on my sister over there?

He (looking at her sister)s scant attire): Insufficient evidence.—Answers.

WICHITA 'ON TOP OF WORLD'

City Can Go Forward If It Will, Says Visitor

City development, and comparisons between the situation prevalent in Wichita Falls and that which faced Los Angeles a few years ago, were discussed by William L. Ware, domestic trade commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, before members of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

No Standing Still

"There is no standing still for any city, any more than there is for an individual," declared Mr. Ware. "We go forward, or we go backward. There is a critical time in the life of a city when its future depends on the aggressiveness of its citizens. I believe Wichita Falls stands in that position today. You must move forward, and to do so you must all take part in every movement that will stimulate the growth and development of your city."

Reviewing the history of this city, Mr. Ware stated that its citizens "did a wonderful job to carry a city through such a boom as took place here from 1918 to 1924 and come out without a loss." He had quoted census figures as showing a population in Wichita Falls in 1910 of 8,200, of 40,079 in 1920, a gain of 388.8 per cent, and of 43,690 in 1930 for a further gain of nine per cent.

Survival of a boom with those results, he said, shows that the citizens of the city can do anything for its future which they wish to do.

Stating that this is his first trip to Wichita Falls, and that he is visiting all parts of the state, Mr. Ware remarked the extent of Texas geographically, and the variety of its industries.

"Texas is so large, I have learned," he said, "that people in Brownsville call those in Dallas 'Yankees,' and those in El Paso charge residents of Texarkana with being snobs of the effete East."

While an oil boom is on in East Texas, the speaker said, a thriving chamber of commerce agricultural movement is under way, the Rio Grande valley is growing the greatest citrus fruit in the world, and general business is noticeably on the up-trend.

"We've been through a serious depression, but we have forgotten how much better our worst is than the best in other countries," he continued.

"Teamwork" Makes City

"During 1930, the year of terrible depression, there were 40,000,000 men and women working and being paid $4,500,000,000, hundreds of millions of which went into savings accounts. In that year there was made and sold a new automobile for each 10 families in the United States, at a total cost of $2,159,000,000, and it took 399,000,000 barrels of gasoline to run them. Merchandise shipments loaded 45,800,000 freight cars and 3,000,000 trucks. There were 315,000,000 pairs of shoes made and sold, and 4,500,000 yards of textiles. We're doing business in a big way in a big country, and now we can look ahead and say confidently that business is on the upward trend, not on a boom, but gaining steadily and surely."

From the standpoint of geographical location and natural resources, the visitor said, Wichita Falls is "sitting on top of the world." Speaking of Los Angeles, and its remarkable growth during the past decade, Mr. Ware said that its growth could be explained by the one word, "teamwork." The speaker was introduced by John Boswell, manager of the local chamber of commerce.

An inter-city meet of Rotarians here on Saturday, March 14, at 7 p. m., was announced by Herbert C. Voelcker, president. Thursday's program included musical numbers by the Blue Room trio of radio station KGKO, consisting of Miss Lorene Tucker, Cleo Grantham, and A. B. Rische.

Raid Alarm Apparatus Warns Moonshiners of Agents' Approach

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26. (AP)—Moonshiners down English Turn way utilize science and music to protect them from raiding dry agents.

This was demonstrated when two carloads of agents swooped down on a patch of woods about two miles from English Turn and found a 300 gallon still, 10,000 gallons of mash and 185 gallons of alcohol—but no person anywhere around the still.

But—

The agents did find that the still was protected from approach by a small copper wire stretched for more than a mile completely around the still about 10 inches above the ground and hidden from sight by weeds. Touching this wire, as had to be done by anyone approaching the place, flashed a signal lamp within the building and gave the operators time to flee.

Agents were convinced that a group of plowmen on a farm nearby had some connection with the flight of the still operators, for as the agents hove in sight the plowmen started singing "Old Black Joe" in loud and raucous voices.

A further investigation of the territory surrounding the still was being made.
