Ice Damage Soars In State; Many Towns Without Power

Winter Flood Hits Midwest

(By International News Service)

MIDWINTER floods harassed six midwestern states Wednesday and new snowstorms battered the Great Plains and Rocky Mountain regions, virtually paralyzed by snow and frostbite temperatures since Jan. 2.

Rivers swollen by rains and melting ice and snow overflowed their banks and forced thousands to flee to higher ground in southern Illinois and southwestern Indiana.

Flood threats also arose in Ohio, Missouri and Kansas. A "major flood" was predicted for eastern Kansas.

More snow and sub-zero temperatures heightened the already desperate situation in the western states, where Air Force and National Guard planes stepped up their "haylift" operations to save an estimated two million starving, snowbound cattle and sheep.

Emergency Measures Ordered

Nebraska Gov. Val Peterson issued a proclamation calling for emergency measures in more than 20 counties of the state, where snow ranges up to a depth of 40 inches on the level. He asked the state unicameral for a half-million dollars for relief work and a like sum from the federal government.

Temperatures in the Dakotas and northeastern Nevada averaged 20 to 25 below zero. Carlin, Nev., turned in an unofficial reading of 57 below. Temperatures of 40 below were common in Montana.

Snow, rain and sleet fell over an extensive belt of the nation—from New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma up through Detroit and lower Michigan. The storm reached into Pennsylvania, sheathing many roads with ice.

Snow Blankets New England

Snow was falling over most of New England, and was expected to leave a blanket six inches deep.

Southern California shivered in the wake of a storm that lashed desert and mountain areas. A low of 21 was recorded at East Fresno. The "deep freeze' that has given California its bitterest winter in decades added further threat to fruit and vegetable crops.

Only the south escaped the rage of winter elements. The weather bureau reported that temperatures were generally 10 degrees above the seasons' nor-

New Secretary Backs HST's, Marshall's Policies

Acheson Says U.S. Must Mass Forces To Meet Red Threat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared today the United States must marshal new reserves of military and economic might in the world struggle for freedom against what he called "reactionary" Communism.

Acheson, in his first news conference as chief of U. S. foreign policy under President Truman, discussed two main lines of action:

1. He said that a "very great' reservoir of private capital is available to finance President Truman's new program to raise the standard of living in backward areas of the world. But he served notice that countries desiring such help must create conditions "attractive" to private investment.

Policies Endorsed

2. On the military front of the cold war, Acheson endorsed the plans worked out by former Secretary of State Marshall and retiring Undersecretary Lovett for a military alliance with western Europe.

Virtually quoting from President Truman's inauguration speech, Acheson declared that "we are convinced that we can best contribute to the "maintenance of peace by joining with other nations in making it absolutely clear in advance that any armed attack affecting our national security would be met with overwhelming force."

He further indicated for the first time officially that the North Atlantic defense agreement, in negotiation for many months among the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, is about completed. He said that he hoped "to be able very soon" to talk about it in specific terms.

Private Capital Stressed

In the main, Acheson, who took office only last Friday, went down the line with the policies already well laid out by his predecessors in office and by his chief, President Truman. Most of what he said which was new was concerned with his heavy stress on private capital rather than any great new outpouring of public funds to carry through Mr. Truman's program for raising living standards in backward areas.

And it was important that Acheson was the one to say this, because he announced that President Truman had called on the State department to blueprint the program—or as he put it, to compile suggestions in co-operation with other government departments and submit them to the President. He said there is no blueprint yet.

On established foreign policy principles, Acheson spoke out briefly for co-operation with Republican leaders in Congress and out, such as Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) and John Foster Dulles; he promised to carry out the "good neighbor" policy toward Latin America; he maintained the hands off attitude toward China by declining to go beyond statements already made by the President, General Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett; and in general he indicated his intention of going forward with Marshall's plans on controlled revival of the German economy.

He laughingly side-stepped any kind of potential argument with General Douglas MacArthur with whom he once had a run-in in the early days of the Japanese occupation when Acheson was undersecretary of state.

A reporter asked whether Acheson agreed with MacArthur's views that the recent Japanese elections constituted a victory for "the conservative philosophy of government." Acheson replied that he had not thought about the matter. Then as reporters who recalled the old differences between the two men laughed, Acheson said

North Texas Area Stricken

(By The Associated Press)

NORTH TEXAS still bowed under its coat of ice Wednesday night and more freezing rain and sleet was expected during the night.

Temperatures were a few degrees warmer but brought little relief. The weather bureau forecast "slowly rising temperatures" for the state Friday.

Freezing rain, sleet or snow had stretched icy fingers from the Panhandle and South Plains across North Texas and down into Central Texas almost to Austin.

The worst ice load was in north, north central Texas, where 18 towns were isolated.

Denison Hard Hit

Denison, city of 20,000, was without power during the day as lines snapped under their load all over the city. Last night very few residents had electric lights and most of the telephone service was out. Schools were closed. A strong wind added more misery.

Schools were closed also at Sherman, most heavy industries were shut down and the ice knocked out most of the city's power lines and telephone circuits.

Bonham in the same area, was unable to reach the outside world through telephone or telegraph. Thousands of trees broke under the ice load and power lines in the rural area and parts of the city snapped. It was still sleeting there at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Electric power had been restored to the business section and hospitals. The ice coating was two or three inches deep. Since Saturday at 2 p.m. 7.06 inches of rain had fallen in Bonham.

Town Without Power

North of Greenville the community of Leonard, with 500 persons, was without electric service or water. Nearby Celeste has been without electric service and water since 10:30 Monday night. Water was being hauled in from Greenville by truck. Both towns' waterwells were pumped electrically.

Dallas cracked under one of its worst ice loads in history. Tree limbs broke under their frozen weight and crashed against wires and across streets.

Fort Worth had difficulty with electric power and telephone failures during the day because of ice

Haylift Eases Hunger Threat

(By The Associated Press)

AIDED by good flying weather, the Nevada haylift for snow-stranded range livestock appeared to be winning the battle against starvation Wednesday.

However, January storms lashed some other sections of the country and conditions were growing more critical in ice-locked northern Nebraska.

Despite the success of airmen in getting feed to starving range livestock in Nevada, ranchers fear that the arctic cold and snow—worst in 60 years—will take a large toll.

Fear Heavy Loss

The hay run, being operated by "flying boxcars" of the Fourth Air Force, continued in temperatures near 30 degrees below zero. Four C-82's made flights to the northeastern Nevada ranges at 40 minute intervals. The planes dropped 148,000 pounds of fodder to hungry sheep and cattle Tuesday.

Full extent of losses will not be known until roads are opened and a detailed check can be made. Stock tend to weaken under severe cold almost as quickly as from hunger.

President Truman, meanwhile, made another $200,000 available to help relieve suffering in snow-bound western states. Another $100,000 was allocated Monday for aid to Indians and stockmen in the blizzard affected areas.

Governor Asks U. S. Aid

Earlier Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska appealed personally to President Truman for Army help in reaching snow-bound humans and cattle in 22 northern counties. The governor also asked the federal government to match $500,000 the Nebraska legislature has moved to appropriate for blizzard relief.

Rep. Case (R-SD) said he will

School Plan Boosts Poll Tax Campaigns

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

POLL TAX payment drives in Lubbock and South Plains counties were given added impetus Wednesday by the announced introduction in the Texas Senate of the first of several measures to activate the Gilmer-Aikin plan of reorganizing public schools of the state.

Poll tax receipts were urged as a necessity to the right to vote if a special election should be called this year on the Gilmer-Aikin or any other proposals. Monday is the deadline for poll tax payments. Poll tax payments in the county late Wednesday afternoon stood at only 4,829, J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector announced. A total of 687 poll tax exemptions thus far have been issued, he said.

SCHEDULE IS GIVEN

Where to pay your poll taxes: Courthouse, Lubbock, 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. today through Saturday; 8:30 a. m. until midnight Monday. Collector's branch, Slaton, same hours as Lubbock courthouse. Junior Chamber of Commerce booths, Lubbock: Piggly Wiggly No. 15 on North College avenue; Mark Halsey No. 5, Nineteenth and Ave. Q., and Wylie's drug, 1106 Texas; all open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. through Monday.

(Note—Any veteran of a foreign war who has 40 per cent or more disability is entitled to an exemption certificate under a special act.)

Water Program Looms

Among the many other special election possibilities of vital concern to the South Plains could be an amendment affecting underground and surface water rights. An organized drive to try to persuade the Legislature to submit such an amendment has been in progress for months, according to information from Austin.

However, the introduction of the first of the Gilmer-Aikin activation bills gave the latest emphasis to the importance of paying poll taxes and thus being in position to vote—just in case.

Southern Demos In New Threat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — The threat of a southern filibuster did not shake Republicans today in their determination to back a change in the Senate debate rules to end the filibuster.

The Republican Senate policy committee re-affirmed its stand that such a change of rules should be the first order of business in the senate.

It did so in the face of a strong hint from Senator Russell Long (D-La.) that this entire session of Congress might be tied up by a filibuster. Long is a son of the late Senator Huey (Kingfish) Long. At 30, he has just begun his first term in the Senate.

Taft Favors Prompt Action

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican policy group, said the GOP leaders believe the filibuster question should be "disposed of promptly."

He added, however, that it is the responsibility of the Democratic majority leadership to bring the issue before the Senate.

Long and some 16 other southern senators are determined to prevent any change in the rules which would prevent their use of the filibuster, which is simply unlimited talk designed to prevent Senate action.

Their obvious weapon, if an ef-

Navy Seaplane To Transport 150 Passengers In West Coast Hop

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26 (INS) — The Navy announced today that 150 men will board the flying boat Marshall Mars tomorrow at Alameda Naval air station on San Francisco bay.

This was said to be the greatest number of passengers ever to embark in a seaplane.

The Mars will fly the passengers, a Navy air group, to a new duty station at San Diego.

Peace Prospects In China Fading

By HAROLD K. MILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, Jan. 26. — The Chinese government and the Communists accused each other of bad faith today. As peace prospects dimmed, the Nationalists hastily tried to establish a new defense line south of the Yangtze.

The Communist radio reported that Acting President Li Tsung-Jen was trying to get a breathing spell while organizing further resistance. It called upon him to show his good faith by immediately detaining leading war criminals.

(As heard and translated in Shanghai, the broadcast called on Li to "detain" Chiang Kai-Shek and other "war criminals.")

Reds Accused Of Delay

It was reported on high authority that Chiang Kai-Shek would return to power should the peace talks fizzle. This report came from sources so high they can be considered unimpeachable.

A government spokesman accused the Communists of stalling. He called on the Reds to name peace delegates now and select a place for a conference.

Almost as in answer to this—although there was no direct connection between the two statements — the Red radio said the Nationalists were plotting to distort peace talks into "a false peace."

The Nationalists were accused of seeking "to preserve the strength of the Chiang Kai-Shek reactionary bloc through fake negotiations."

A highly-placed source, who talked to acting President Li today, said Li was trying to halt the Brazilian President Accepts HST Invitation To Visit U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — President Truman announced today that President Dutra of Brazil has accepted an invitation to visit the United States May 18.

The Brazilian president's departure from his country must receive the approval of the Brazilian legislature.

Mr. Truman visited Rio De Janeiro in 1947, and has asked the Brazilian chief executive to Washington for a return visit.

Bevin Wins In Vote On Palestine Policy

LONDON, Jan. 26. (INS)—Britain's House of Commons defended Foreign Secretary Bevin's Palestine policy by a 283-to-193 vote tonight after he indicated de facto recognition may be given Israel "in the next few days."

Prime Minister Attlee said the idea of recognition had been accepted in principle a long time ago. He explained "the question of the time of doing it is now a matter of consultation" with representatives of commonwealth and western union governments meeting in London tomorrow.

Attlee made the vote, a technical one on an adjournment motion, one of confidence after he attacked opposition leader Winston Churchill for accusing the Laborite government of an "astounding mishandling" of the Palestine problem.

Air Force Joins Search For 15 Missing After Arizona Storms

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Jan. 26 (AP) — Air Force planes were dispatched from two directions late today to search for 15 persons reported missing in the snowbound wilds of northern Arizona.

They were sent out at the request of the Navajo Indian agency headquarters here, which said several days' storm had blanketed the western Navajo reservation in 70 inches of snow. Snow flurries were reported there today.

Search planes took off at the request of James M. Stewart, Navajo agency superintendent.

Kirtland Air Force base at Albuquerque, sent a C-47 and two C-45 transports and a B-25 light bomber. Kirtland officers said all would go to Winslow, Ariz., and the search presumably would be directed from there starting tomorrow. Another C-47 was en route from the Air Rescue service at March Air Force base, Riverside, Calif.

1949 PLANTING PLAN IS URGED

House Farm Leaders Push Stop-Gap Cotton Measure

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—House agricultural leaders moved tonight to put through stop-gap cotton legislation so farmers can make plans promptly for their 1949 crop.

An agriculture subcommittee, which is studying a long-range cotton program, recessed its public hearing temporarily so it can consider a resolution dealing only with the current year's plantings.

Chairman Pace (D-Ga) said the resoultion would provide that acreage devoted to cotton during 1949 should not be used in fixing production quotas for future years.

Study Slated Today

The resolution is in line with a recommendation made earlier by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. Pace said it will be taken up at a closed session of the committee tomorrow.

Production controls, lifted during the war, are expected to be re-established on the 1950 crop because of steadily increasing supplies.

Many growers in western states, have wanted 1949 and immediate past years used in the base-year period for making future acreage allotments.

Broad Base Favored

Producers in the older cotton sections of the south have urged that the base cover several years past, and in some instances include prewar production where unusual conditions prevail.

The more complex problem of arriving at a base year period, and of determining how allocations shall be made among counties as well as among states, will be taken up at subsequent hearings, Pace said.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex), another committee member, said the resolution would enable farmers to plant their 1949 cotton on whatever scale they considered most profitable, and with the knowledge that it would not influence their future production quotas.

He urged prompt adoption of the resolution because farmers in the Rio Grande valley of Texas

Family Discovers Another Room After 43 Years In House

(By International News Service)

WAUPACA, Wis., Jan. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holly of Waupaca lived in their home for 43 years without knowing the house had another room.

The family decided that a vacuum might be the cause of the draftiness.

They went to work and ripped out plaster and two-by-fours. The opening disclosed a room six by 11 feet which had been plastered and finished like other rooms of the house.

The Hollys will use the newly-discovered room for a clothes closet.

Prosecution For Evictions Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (INS)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods threatened court prosecution of property owners tonight in a move to quell an incipient "landlords' revolt" and prevent mass evictions.

Reversing an earlier offhand opinion that evictions could not be stopped, Woods declared that the "good faith" clause of the rent control law provides enough authority to stop the revolt.

Mass evictions such as are demanded by the 'American Property Owners' association" in Tulsa, and 20 other cities cannot be held in "good faith," Woods said.

The housing expediter added in a radio broadcast that he has been advised that courts have upheld this interpretation, and that injunctions will be sought against mass evicters.

Woods acted as the CIO demanded steps to stop imminent eviction of 500 to 1,000 tenants in Tulsa, and as a property owners' group compared the revolt to the Boston tea party.

The rent control office held that in any case evicters would be left out on a limb, since property once withdrawn from the rental market could not be rented again until the law expires.

Price-Fixing Powers For State Barber Board Proposed In Bill

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 26—Barber shops crowded the public schools for legislative attention today.

Introduction of a bill giving the state board of barber examiners power to say what the lowest price could be for shaves, haircuts and shampoos drew tart comment from one senator.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester, as expected, asked the 51st session to put on speed in considering bills to reorganize the school system.

His special message giving the school bills emergency status reached the senate, but house members had already quit until 10 a. m. tomorrow when a runner from the governor's office got to the door. Copies of the message were left on house desks.

Senator Gus Strauss of Hallettsville introduced the barber bill. This led Senator Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas to comment that it looked like another fair trades bill to him. The Dallas senator—implacable foe of price-fixing bills—added:

"If they want to bring up these measures one at a time, we can

More Freezing Rain Forecast

The sunshine-hungry South Plains shivered through its third straight day of sub-freezing temperatures Wednesday as occasional freezing rain and sleet flurries continued to build up a blanket of ice and snow over the entire area and extending over most of the northern half of Texas.

Early this morning light freezing rain continued to fall, coating highways, phone and power lines with a sheath of ice. Observers feared heavy damage to power lines and trees if the freezing moisture continued through the night.

Life began to return to near normal as traffic movement in Lubbock and the main highway arteries increased. Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Motor coaches resumed bus schedules to Fort Worth and Eastland after a two-day suspension. Highway crews cleared most of the sleet from heavily traveled roads, and ground heat late yesterday melted a large part of the ice from some highways.

Streets in Lubbock however became increasingly hazardous as cars pounded the loose sleet and snow into a hard crust of ice. Traffic was slow to start and dif-

DEFENSE CHIEFS FEAR 'SPARK'

U. S. Military Leaders Discount War Probability In Near Future

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 — The nation's top military leaders told the House Armed Services committee today they foresee no war in the near future, although the danger of another world conflict still exists.

This was the size-up of the world picture presented members of the committee during a conference with Defense Secretary Forrestal and the military high command.

The secret, "cold war" conference was held in the Pentagon headquarters of the national defense establishment across the Potomac river.

Although the meeting was held behind locked doors, it was learned that the defense chiefs said that the chief danger of war lay in a "sudden spark" in one of the world's diplomatic powder kegs.

The military chiefs said that such an unexpected outbreak might sweep the world into another "holocaust" despite the efforts of the American government to prevent it.

Present at the conference besides Forrestal were Army Secre-

Attorneys Continue Attacks On Jury System In Trial Of Reds

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—Attorneys for 11 top Communists on trial for conspiracy paraded 18 witnesses to the stand today in an effort to demonstrate that the federal jury system in New York is unconstitutional.

Presiding Federal Judge Harold R. Medina interrupted the long-drawn-out procedure to declare that "the whole administration of justice would be paralyzed" if the defense is permitted to continue this tactic indefinitely.

Jurors Are Questioned

Judge Medina indicated he may rule tomorrow on the number of witnesses the defense may summon in this "trial within a trial."

Thirteen of the 23 grand jurors who indicated the Communist national board members on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government were questioned today in the resumption of the trial following an adjournment since last Friday.

Five prospective trial jury members also were questioned.

Informed that the defense may call the entire panel of 525 prospective jurors, Judge Medina said:

"I don't see any legal precedent that would show this to be a proper procedure. If you continue to call all of this panel, there would have to be a new panel called up, and I suppose you would want to call them. This could go on and on."

Defense Claims Refuted

The lawyers insisted they will prove the jury system is a "rich man's club" which systematically excludes the poor, negroes, laborers and members of minority political parties.

All the witnesses testified they were not asked questions about their race, religion, financial, social or political standing at the time they qualified for jury duty.

The defense renewed its demand that Judge Medina, Chief Judge John C. Knox and the eleven other district judges step out of the case because they are "prejudiced."

Medina reserved decision on the motion until two defense lawyers who were not present today appear in court tomorrow.

The jurist indicated, however, he will not reverse his previous decisions in which he denied the motions.

The defense started the day's session by requesting a 24-hour adjournment because Abraham J. Isserman, attorney for defendants Gilbert Green and John Williamson, was absent.

Medina, denying the motion said:

"I must say a study of the record indicates to me and puts into my mind that there is a series of concerted, deliberate moves to delay the case . . . and this is a deliberate maneuver."

Defense attorneys denied that they are trying to delay the case, insisting they are "anxious to get down to business."

Oklahoman Gets 75-Year Prison Term For Aiding Armed Robbery

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (AP)—A. E. Greer, dapper and learned Oklahoman, listened without apparent emotion yesterday as he was sentenced to 75 years in prison after a district court jury found him guilty of robbery by firearms.

Greer's attorneys offered no defense but gave notice of appeal after the verdict was announced.

Greer and two other men were charged in connection with the robbery-kidnapping of Sam Hardee, Harris county grocer, last Aug. 27. Hardee, first state witness, testified the three hijacked him at pistol-point, robbed him of $7,559 and a $1,500 diamond ring, then left him in the woods, bound with adhesive tape.

87-Year-Old Woman Perishes When Flames Destroy House

WACO, Jan. 26. (AP) — Mrs. Annie Eddins Morris, 87, died in flames which destroyed her home at Robinson, seven miles south of Waco, early today.

Fire Chief Lee Harrington of Waco said the blaze apparently started from a leaky coal stove in the front bedroom.

The body was recovered from the smoking ruins near the back of the house.

Mrs. Charles Wright, 60, who resided with Mrs. Morris, was awakened when flames enveloped the home. She escaped but was suffering from shock and was unable to relate details. She told neighbors however that she screamed to attract Mrs. Morris' attention but received no answer.

Survivors include five sons; R. C. and N. C. Morris of Waco; D. E. Morris of San Antonio; Roy L. Morris of Denver and E. P. Morris of Signal Mountain, Tenn.; and one daughter, Mrs. T. H. Hudson of Waco.

Prehistoric man in northern Europe enjoyed oysters, as attested by mounds of oyster shells found there.

FEET FROZEN

Man Is Trapped In Box Car Six Days

ROCKY FORD, Colo., Jan. 26 (INS) — A Denver man, locked in a railroad box car at Rocky Ford for six days, froze his feet so severely that it may be necessary to amputate them.

Sidney C. Lasky was taken to Physician's hospital in Rocky Ford today, after employes of the American Crystal Sugar company found him in the car when they prepared to load it.

Doctors said both feet and Lasky's legs were frozen, to six inches above the ankle. His feet were packed in ice in hopes of restoring circulation.

Lasky said he got into the car at La Junta, Colo., on Jan. 15, planning to go to Denver. The car arrived at Rocky Ford that night, and was switched to the factory grounds.

New Mexico Governor Calls For Drastic Cuts In Budget

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 26. (INS) —Gov. T. J. Mabry today called for drastic cuts as he submitted a budgetary request to the New Mexico legislature which reached an all-time high.

He said that some of the demands are "unsound."

Requests coming from state offices and institutions total $65,067,473 for the next fiscal year beginning June 30 and $60,926,499 for the succeeding year, according to his report. The present year's actual expenses will be $52,649,678.

The senate today voted unanimously to ratify the Upper Colorado river basin compact. The bill will now go to the house.

The senate also tossed back to the house the janitor bill which has been shuttled from one place to another for two weeks. The house originally asked for 10 sweepers, five for each branch of the legislature. The senate cut the number to three for the house and two for the senate. The house rejected this proposal, so today the senate agreed to retain only two clean-up men for itself and allowed the house five. The bill to pay for legislative cleanliness now appears sure of final passage.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit — back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate, has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Truman Plan Appears To Bypass UN As Co-Operating Organization

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

General comment on the Truman world development program, outside the United Nations organization itself, has very pointedly ignored the suggestion that the work be done through the UN "whenever practicable."

The assumption seems to be that the United States and perhaps some of the other western nations will have to work directly with the underdeveloped countries.

UN Generally Ruled Out

Although paying his respects, the President himself virtually ruled out UN administration of the program by definitely classifying it as another weapon to be used against Communism.

The UN, having just come through the storm of the Berlin blockade question after many misgivings, is in no condition to be caught in the middle again on any part of the cold war.

And the United States is in no position to spend any effort without obtaining all the credit and all the friendship it will buy. We didn't get much return in that form on our investment in the UN relief and rehabilitation program.

The heavy dependance of the world development idea on private capital immeasurably complicates any idea of UN administration. Federal loans may prime the pump, but the plan will not be what it was intended to be unless private interests carry it along.

The United States might conceivably start subsidizing the economic and social council and the UN department of economic affairs, which have begun some long range inquiries as to development needs. But what would that mean to the American business man with some money and engineering technique to invest? Can the UN insure him that his interests will be protected, that he will not be subjected to expropriation, that he can get out a profit in dollars if he can earn it?

If there is to be any development in war-threatened areas at all it will have to come under the insurance against bombs which can be provided only by the Allied armies, navies and air forces.

In a world like that you can't do everything in the way you might like. The United States would be glad to give the UN a real, concrete program with which it might build up its prestige. But under present conditions the UN may be able to play only an advisory role, through the investigative work on economic conditions which it already is doing.

Power Shortage Keeps Electric Clocks In Oregon Running Slow

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 26. (INS)—Clock watchers allowed tonight that the northwest power shortage is getting downright serious.

Electric clocks are six and a half minutes slow, and they soon will be 10 minutes behind time.

To keep up service in the face of the shortage, power distributors have reduced frequency in peak hours from the normal 60 cycles a second to 59 and a fraction for three days in a row. This means electric clocks lose time.

Rites Slated Today For Lubbock Veteran

Reburial rites for Cpl. Robert (Bob) Edward Brewer, former Lubbock High and Texas Tech student who was killed in action in Europe during World War II, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today in the First Methodist church.

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor, is to officiate.

The American Legion will conduct a military graveside service in Lubbock Memorial park. Burial is to be directed by Rix Funeral home.

Brewer, former football star both in high school and at Tech, was killed Oct. 14, 1944, when the B-24 bomber in which he was tail gunner was hit by anti-aircraft fire while flying over Germany.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brewer of Lubbock, and two brothers, George, jr., and Charles.

Woman Who Killed Baby Stripped Of Motherhood Rights

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26. (AP)—An expectant mother who killed one of her three previous children stands stripped today of the rights of motherhood under an unprecedented sterilization-adoption court order.

She agreed to it. In fact, Mrs. Georgette Brucks, 21, and her attorney, Walter Anderson, voluntarily proposed to Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose that she be sterilized after the expected baby's birth in April and that this child and another be given for adoption.

Judge Ambrose said he put the suggestion in the form of a court order yesterday although he had never heard of such an order in the nation's legal history. California law does not cover such a case.

Past History Cited

Mrs. Bruck's tragedy of recurrent motherhood as a 'teen age girl reads like this:

She married Edmond Brucks, a sailor, in San Francisco and they separated in December, 1945. She had a son, Edmond jr., four, now with Brucks in Wickliffe, Ohio. They were never divorced. Brucks, now an unemployed truck driver, declined comment last night.

She has been living here as the common-law wife of Donald Redmond, a hotel employe. He fathered her son, Howard, who was seven months old when he was slain last October, and another son, Donald, 20 months, and the expected child.

Mrs. Brucks pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Howard. She told police she beat the child with her fists because "I couldn't stand his crying." First she was charged with murder. Then it was determined that the baby died of bronchial pneumonia, with the beating, including a skull fracture, as contributing cause and the charge was changed to manslaughter.

Sentence Suspended

In the pre-sentencing investigation by the probation department, Anderson had two psychiatrists and a psychologist examine Mrs. Brucks. The proposal to the court was the result.

"She never had a chance in life," Anderson said. "I thought it would be best for the girl. She agreed. I think there is a good chance to rehabilitate Georgette when she gets out of jail."

Judge Ambrose not only ordered sterilization and adoption of Donald and the unborn child, but gave Mrs. Brucks a suspended sentence of one to 10 years and placed her on probation for six years, the first six months to be spent in county jail here.

There she told reporters that after the jail term she plans to divorce Brucks and marry Redman.

"It will be better all the way around to have them (the children) adopted," she said. "I hope they will never know their background and have a chance to be raised in proper homes.

"I'm looking forward to marriage, and to picking up the pieces of my life."

A. L. Atkinson Becomes Partner In Lubbock Architectural Firm

Aimar L. Atkinson, 1936 graduate of Texas Technological college, has returned to Lubbock to become a partner in the architectural firm of James Atcheson in the Sanford building, it was announced Wednesday.

ATKINSON

Atkinson is a native of Anton. His parents still live there. He and his wife, the former Audrey Overstreet of Lubbock, and their two children have built a home at 3201 Twenty-ninth street.

Atkinson joined the staff of Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth architect, in 1937. He went to Hedrick's Houston office in 1938 and remained there until 1943.

He served from 1943 to 1945 as an instructor in a Naval air navigation school, returning to Hedrick's Houston office until now.

Driverless Car Leaves Path Of Destruction In Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—Luckily, Houston streets were almost vacant early today when a driverless car swerved crazily on Main street.

A collision threw Alvin Guggenheim, 25, from the auto. And before police could corral it, wooden barricades set up by street workers had been smashed, an awning support of a nearby building was torn away, a plate glass window shattered, and a lamp was almost bent double.

RELIEF AT LAST For Your COUGH

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Grand Jury To Probe Galveston Jail Break

GALVESTON, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—Sheriff Frank L. Biaggne revealed today that the spectacular escape of a negro convicted of murder, including his cab ride to Houston, would be investigated by a grand jury.

Herman Lee Ross, small and easily identified because of his hump-back and an advanced case of tuberculosis, sawed his way out of a third-floor jail cell here early Monday. Then, he lowered himself to the ground with a hurriedly improvised blanket chain.

A negro cab driver, J. D. Lewis told police later Monday that Ross forced him, at gun-point, to drive to Houston. The negro was not apprehended until yesterday, when crewmen on a train became suspicious when Ross boarded it near Luling. A nightwatchman arrested him and he was put in jail at Lockhart.

Sheriff Biaggne said the investigation would be necessary because of statements made by Ross since his capture.

"Ross claims he did not hold a gun on the cab driver who took him to Houston, and that he did not pay the driver," Biaggne stated.

Hacksaw Blades Found

Two hacksaw blades were found in the soles of Ross' shoes when he was arrested yesterday. He said he managed to get the blades at Huntsville, and successfully hid them when he was admitted to jail here last Thursday, pending his trial.

Ross allegedly shot two Galveston men to death last June 1 in an attempted liquor store robbery Store operator Guido Nesti died almost instantly, and detective Henry Riefel was shot to death in a wild chase that followed.

DENTAL POLL — Americans, who will answer any type of questionnaire, although they lose faith in them at times, recently have told all concerning care of the teeth.

Of 7,000 Americans in a survey, it was learned 95 out of 100 own a toothbrush, but less than half that number use their toothbrush at least twice a day.

Of those who use the brush, 60 per cent said they brush their teeth before going to bed and the others said they had the brush before breakfast habit.

TIPS ON TOURING

IS it safe for a woman to travel alone? The answer is yes, according to Carol Lane, who is employed by an oil company to go cross-country to learn all about planning an auto trip.

Women who run into trouble when they are traveling alone ask for it, either consciously or unconsciously, according to Miss Lane.

Here are her rules: 1. Dress and act like a lady. Flashy clothes, too-brief shorts or heavy makeup are an invitation from strangers to show unwanted interest. A wrap-around skirt to whisk on when propriety demands it is excellent if you like to drive in shorts.

2. Do not pick up hitch hikers. Occasionally you may be approached by ride seekers in a small town. If you feel charitable, ask for identification and check with the service station attendant or the town policeman before you offer a lift.

3. When traveling at night, stay on the main highways and stop only at well lighted and obviously respectable places. A lone woman traveler stopping at a dimly lit, off-the-beaten-track roadside inn is asking for possible trouble.

ANNOYING INCIDENT

WITH the dail system, it is impossible to trace anonymous calls. Two of our friends lately have complained of calls late at night, obviously from drunks who had taken a telephone directory and gone down the list until they found the name of a woman.

This indoor sport, although it may provide amusement for the one making the call, is frowned upon by young women who live alone and who do not relish a telephone call late at night from a person in his cups. A drink or two seems to cause an affliction called "telephonitis," but the one who suffers is she who does not have the disease.

SWEATING WALLS

IN answer to the complaint about "sweating walls," two readers called in their remedies. One woman said her walls were the "worst in Lubbock" before she got rid of her open stoves and installed a floor furnace.

A man called to suggest that the woman with the wall problem have her home insulated. That does away with the sweating problem, he said.

Mrs. Dennis Dempsey Honored At Shower

Honoring Mrs. Dennis Dempsey members of U-Needa-Sew-Mor and Mend 'n' Mind clubs gave a layette party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. H. Bird, 3311 Twenty-fourth. Twenty-five guests called between 3:30 and 5 o'clock.

The guests were greeted by Mesdames Bird and A. J. Holtkort and were registered by Mrs. K. O. Peterson.

Mesdames R. B. Hunt, H. A. Wyatt and W. T. Holder alternated at the refreshment table which was covered with a madeira cloth and appointed in pink and blue.

Mesdames Bill Ed Watson and Woodrow Cates displayed the gifts.

Afternoon Meeting Of P-TA Cancelled

East Broadway Parent-Teacher association has called off its meeting, scheduled for this afternoon, because of the snow. The group will not meet again until in February.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—"Concertina" skirts, as crisply pleated as the bellows of a music box, strike a gay fashion note for spring.

Circular-cut skirts for both dresses and suits of Adele Simpson's design are slim when static, full-flared when mobile. They owe this elasticity to pleats, stitched for control—a control which will see these dresses and suits safely through dry-cleaning.

Typical of the distinctive fabrics used for these fashions are the silks shown in julep-green shantung and brown coffee-bean print. The silk print (right) makes a suit with a pleated skirt topped by a trim button-up jacket with three-quarter sleeves, a rolling collar and flapped hip pockets.

The dress of silk shantung (left) has cuffed pockets set into its "concertina" skirt and a short-sleeved tailored bodice which is cinched in at the waistline with a matching belt.

Members of Las Cresas and their mothers met Sunday afternoon to organize a Cresas Mothers' club with Mrs. C. C. Mansell as president.

First meeting of the adult group was on Monday afternoon in the president's home, when Mrs. Cye Tankersley was elected vice-president. The club was divided into committees which will work with Las Cresas members, and the girls have requested that one mother and one sponsor attend each of their business meetings.

The presentation committee of the adult group is working with members of the active club on their annual presentation which is scheduled for Feb. 4, in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel. The mothers are also helping in the selection of new sponsors for the young women's social group.

Each year coffees will be given in the spring and at Christmas time welcoming mothers of new Las Cresas members into the Mothers' club. These entertainments will be scheduled after pledges take their formal membership oaths.

Mothers of Las Cresas members organized the club on the request of the social club to assist it in its activities.

Exchange Club Hears Discussion On Polio

The "March of Dimes" is making possible research which may some day solve the mystery now surrounding infantile paralysis, Dr. Martin H. Benson, physician at West Texas hospital, told members of the Exchange club at their weekly luncheon in Hotel Lubbock Wednesday.

At present, the exact cause of the disease is unknown, Dr. Benson said, but research into possible causes and means of prevention of polio is constantly underway, financed largely by "March of Dimes" contributions.

Typical Case Cited

Dr. Benson, commending the club on its sponsorship of the current Dimes campaign, cited a typical polio "case history," outlining the symptoms as the disease gradually seizes a victim. He also spoke briefly on methods of treating afflicted persons, pointing out the heavy expense usually involved.

"These cases do not last weeks—but usually months, and often years," he said in remarking on the inability of an average-income family to afford the necessary treatment.

Speaker Introduced

Dr. Benson was introduced by an Exchange club member, Dr. Lee Hale.

Sale of tickets for the three Lubbock President's Balls to be held Monday night was briefly discussed, and arrangements for handling crowds at the dances made.

Charles Cathey presided at the luncheon, at which two guests, Marvin McLarty and Clark Kimmel, were introduced.

EL PASO ENGINE FOREMAN AWARDED MEDAL

Two Men, Youth Who Gave Lives In Efforts To Save Others Among 13 Honored By Hero Board

By WILLIAM FLANNERY
INS Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Two men and a youth who sacrificed their lives in valiant efforts to save others were among 13 persons honored tonight with awards of bronze medals by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

The awards were announced at the 45th annual meeting of the commission in Pittsburgh.

The recipients won praise for various acts of heroism. Several of those honored succeeded in rescuing persons drowning or burning to death.

One heroically snatched a three-year-old girl from the path of an onrushing railroad engine.

Two Given Pensions

An infant boy was pulled by another from in front of an automobile.

The heroes who live in nine states and Nova Scotia, range in age from 16 to 70.

Pensions totaling $1,440 annually were granted beneficiaries of two of the dead heroes, and disablement benefits amounting to $400 were awarded in two cases.

The commission announced, however, that payments will not be made until plans for use of the awards by the beneficiaries have been approved by the commission.

An 18-year-old school boy, Eugene H. P. Frey, of Fort Wayne, Ind., died attempting to save a companion, Ruth G. Schmidtke, 17, from drowning in Lake James, Ind., last July 5. The girl was revived but the boy's body was not recovered until the next day. His father received the bronze medal awarded his son.

The mother of Arthur Lee Wright, 34-year-old carpenter of Perdido, Ala., received a bronze medal and a $40 monthly pension. Wright gave his life trying to save a fellow worker who fell into 15 feet of water from a railroad trestle on which the men were working.

A bronze medal went to Lonnie C. Shiver, 28-year-old carpenter, also of Perdido, for his efforts to save Wright. He was rescued after being carried a mile-and-a-half toward the Mississippi sound by a strong current.

Another hero who sacrificed his life was Walter R. Fuchs, of Dayton, O., a 30-year-old welder who died attempting to pull an unidentified girl from Lake Huffman, O. The girl survived. Fuchs' widow was given an $80 monthly pension.

In Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, Mrs. Mary Pearl McSween, 27-year-old housewife, although in an advanced stage of pregnancy, leaped into an icy river and rescued a three-year-old child. She was awarded a bronze medal.

John A. Buck, jr., 16-year-old school boy, of Grass Valley, Calif., was credited with pulling a 17-months-old infant from in front of an automobile. He received a bronze medal.

An engine foreman, Wilbur D. Calhoun, 49, of El Paso, Texas, was given a bronze medal for snatching a three-year-old girl from the path of a moving railroad engine.

The oldest hero was a 70-year-old farmer, Carl A. Sporven, of Bellevue, Neb., who pulled two Army fliers from the wreckage of their flaming plane at St. Columbus, Neb. He received a bronze medal.

Other recipients of bronze medals are:

William F. Joy, 23, of Crescent City, Calif., who saved a fellow worker from drowning; George E. Parmentier, 42-year-old painter, of East Stanwood, Wash., who made a futile attempt to rescue a woman from drowning before she died of a heart attack.

Lincoln O. Harrington, 30, a machinist of Port Huron, Mich., who saved two 11-year-old children from drowning last January in the ice-choked Black River; James F. Collins, jr., 23, a mechanic, of Long Beach, Calif., who pulled two companions from a flaming automobile after an accident; John Ralph Kelly, 33-year-old railroad worker, of Laurel, Mont., for re-entering a blazing building to rescue a two-year-old child from her crib.

Police Rescue Dallas Woman 'Frozen' Inside Her Home

DALLAS, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—A distraught woman in Dallas' Vickery addition called police headquarters and said she was "frozen" inside her house.

The surprised desk sergeant asked her if she had no heat.

"No—you don't understand," the woman said, "what I'm trying to tell you is that all the doors to my house are frozen, and I can't get out," she finished breathlessly

"Why don't you crawl out a window?" asked the sergeant.

"I can't," said the distraught woman. "We have outside shutters and they are frozen too."

The overworked sergeant scratched his head. "Did you try pouring hot water around the door jams?"

"—and ruin my carpets?" the voice asked.

The sergeant gave up, and radioed orders to a squad car to dig the woman out.

Three minutes later they did.

TO HOLD MEN

Charm Hints On Television Talked

MIAMI, Jan. 26. (INS)— A lady "charm expert" who thinks America's rising divorce rate is the fault of charmless women wants the government to subsidize a television program to edueate women on how to hold their men.

Mrs. Veronica Dengel, widely-known writer and lecturer on charm, disclosed in Miami today that she wants to produce a "coast to coast television program, giving women lessons in how to develop their looks, personalities and teach them about marriage."

Calls Idea Practical

The idea, Mrs. Dengel said, is practical. She thinks the government should be concerned with the growing disintegration of the American home.

She added:

"I haven't spoken to anyone about this because I don't know who to contact. I'm not much of an organizer."

The proposed television show would originate from Mrs. Dengel's New York home and "go into the homes of millions of American women." She would teach them "that women were created to be wives and mothers."

Mrs. Dengel has just finished a booklet telling Navy Waves how to be charming. She wrote the handbook for Waves at the request of the Navy.

Actor To Wed Linda Christian Today

Time Difference May Delay Tyrone Power's Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 (INS) — Hollywood speculated today as to whether the time difference between Rome and Hollywood will play havoc with film adonis Tyrone Power's wedding plans.

His much publicized romance with actress Linda Christian was to be climaxed with a wedding ceremony in Rome at 10 a.m. (Rome time) tomorrow.

Power's divorce from wife No. 1, French star Annabella, is not final until Thursday.

The fiery French actress divorced the screen hero a year ago on cruelty charges.

In order to marry Linda on schedule in Rome tomorrow, Tyrone will have to get his final decree in Los Angeles at midnight (PST).

Los Angeles county offices are closed during the night and the earliest that the final decree could be recorded in Los Angeles would be 9 a.m. tomorrow.

If Power's representative is on deck bright and early tomorrow and flashes the go-ahead signal to the actor, then the earliest that the Power - Christian nuptials could get under way would be 6 p.m. (Rome time).

It's their headache, Hollywood says.

Three Gonzales County Men Get Two To Five Years For Rustling

GONZALES, Tex., Jan. 26. (AP)—Three men pleaded guilty to charges of cattle theft here today and each was sentenced to from two to five years in prison.

Judge Lester Holt of 25th District court assessed the sentences after the men waived jury trials.

The defendants were John Richter, 22; Jon... Newt Harris, 28, all of Waelder, in Gonzales county. They were indicted Jan. 14, after the theft of cattle from a feed lot owned by Sam Kelley at Waelder.

A fourth man, Clarence Smith, negro, is charged in the case with receiving and concealing stolen cattle. He will be tried later.

GENERAL HONORED AT NEW YORK GATHERING

MacArthur Declares Japan Will Not Yield To Communism Despite Success Of Reds In China

By MILTON KAPLAN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur pledged his "complete assurance" tonight that Japan "will not yield" to Communism despite Communist successes in China.

The Supreme Allied commander in the Pacific made the assertion in a message radioed to the Hotel Astor in New York where prominent Americans paid homage to MacArthur on his 69th birthday.

MacArthur was honored for a "lifetime of service to his country as both soldier and statesman" by a committee which included men who had fought with him in the Pacific battles of World War II.

To Be Sent Scroll

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright flew from Texas to accept on Gen. MacArthur's behalf a scroll presented by the committee.

MacArthur's attack on Communism and his pledge that Japan will remain an Asiatic bulwark of Democracy were coupled with a warning that the American cause is "imperilled by enemies both at home and abroad."

Of the current "tinder box" situation in Asia, Gen. MacArthur said he is "unable to estimate the military potentialities because of the many yet undetermined and imponderable factors beyond my assessment or control."

Then he offered his resolute pledge about the future of Japan.

Will Not Yield To Reds

MacArthur said:

"I can and do give complete assurance that with the firm spiritual support of the American people, this frontier outpost of Democratic freedom, regardless of the tide of conflict upon the adjacent mainland, will not yield before the political or social pressure of Communism or any other concept of enslavement.

"For the Japanese people," he said, "are now blessed with a way of life patterned after our own concepts of freedom and justice, which provides them with normal values which Communism can neither offer nor supply.

"They will not fail to cherish and do all in their power to preserve it."

That determination by the Japanese themselves, MacArthur continued, is "well known to the local sponsors of the Communist doctrine who, despite complete freedom to propagate their cause under those very concepts they seek to destroy, have failed to gain converts among Japan's responsible citizenry." Gen. MacArthur added:

"It is even better known to their mentors in Moscow who, in an increasing sense of frustration at being unable to gain an ideological foothold, are coming to see 'goblins' in every nook and cranny of this well-ordered and peaceful land."

U. S. Unity Emphasized

But MacArthur stressed the great necessity of American unity and support in the battle against Communism at home and abroad. He said he was profoundly moved by the gathering of fellow Americans on his birthday. He called it a "welcome manifestation of the strength of their friendship, the invincibility of their trust and the enduring quality of their support."

He accepted it, he said, "in humble gratitude not only as mark of frendship but more particularly as a reconsecration of tried and true Americans resolutely to advance the American cause." He added:

"For that cause is imperilled by enemies both at home an abroad who, by misrepresentation and deceit sow the seeds of distrust, contention and discord, as the means to undermine the public confidence in the integrity of American effort, American efficiency and American personnel.

"In the resulting confusion they hope to destroy the traditional unity of the American people.

"If our cause in the preservation and advance of human liberty is to prevail, complete unity of purpose is essential, with the maximum support of which Americans are capable— a deep spiritual support such as prompted Stephen Decatur so eloquently to pledge himself to 'my country — right or wrong— my country.'"

MacArthur summed up his personal need for support with the statement:

"Standing on this outpost far from America's shores, with the vast continent of Asia aflame before the Communist sweep to engulf civilization's gains in the liberty and dignity of man, and charged to preserve here an impentrable western frontier for the forces of human freedom, the trust and support of my fellow Americans is, indeed, the source of my greatest strength."

MacArthur Marks 69th Birthday With 'Business As Usual'

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Jan. 26—Gen. Douglas MacArthur went as usual to his downtown Tokyo office on his 69th birthday today carrying his most cherished gift — a pair of home-made bookends inscribed "to papa."

They were made for the supreme allied commander in the Far East by his 11-year-old son, Arthur. The general declared:

"I'm proud as punch of that gift. He made it all alone at home. He and his mother are the main joy of my life."

At his office, where the carefully varnished bookends with five red stars symbolizing MacArthur's rank stood on his desk, MacArthur held open house.

Intends To Stay

He told International News service he "intends to stick it out" in Japan until the peace treaty is signed.

The supreme commander—appearing in excellent health and fine spirits — said he felt "exactly as I did three years ago." He added:

"I intend to stick it out until this job is through if the government wants me to. And by 'through' I mean until the peace treaty is signed and these people are once again admitted to the family of nations."

MacArthur's quiet birthday celebration included luncheon with his wife where they were joined by son Arthur during the traditional cake cutting.

Reviews Honor Guard

Before leaving for his office where hundreds of birthday greetings by mail and cable piled up, MacArthur reviewed his honor guard at his residence, the former American embassy.

A host of friends and well-wishers appeared throughout the day to wish him greetings and a long life. There were more visits in the evening. They included top ranking generals on his own staff, and officers of the British occupation in Japan.

The Japanese observed the supreme commander's birthday quietly and with little fanfare.

Butane Truck Blaze Claims Second Victim At Goldthwaite

GOLDTHWAITE, Jan. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Millard Teague, 22, of Brady died early today of burns suffered in a butane gas truck fire here yesterday in which her 3-year-old daughter, Sue Ann, was burned to death.

Mrs. Teague died at a Brownwood hospital at 6 a.m.

She was pulled from the burning cab of the truck by her husband, driver of the truck. Their small daughter was trapped in the cab and perished.

Four West Coast Companies Cut Heavy Fuel Oil Purchase Price

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26. (AP)—Four major oil companies operating on the West coast have reduced the price they are paying for heavy fuel oil, cutting it 25 cents a barrel.

Standard, Shell, Richfield and Union are offering $2 a barrel for heavy fuel oil—the type used by railroads, steamships and utility plants. Medium and light grades were reduced 15 cents a barrel.

The companies said increased crude oil production was the reason for the price cuts.

Posture Study Paints Unromantic Picture Of American Male

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 26—The doctors finally have discovered what wives and Army sergeants knew all the time, namely that the average American male is no Adonis.

The posture committee of the American Academy of Orthopedic surgeons has been looking over the American male—30,000 of them to be exact—and today the distinguished doctors sighed and turned in their report.

The American male, the docs found, is a sad mess. He is flat chested, his head droops forward, he has a protruding rear and his back is rounded.

All this may infuriate and drive drill sergeants to distraction, but the doctors took it all philosophically.

Healthy Specimens Studied

The committee reported that the 30,000 men it studied—all healthy Army veterans—are not to be classed as something the cat dragged in.

Far from it, the committee said, the round back, dropping head and the rest apparently are man's natural shape.

So why, asked the committee's report, contort him into uncomfortable shapes by heckling the poor wretch and insisting on a straight back, elevated chest and square shoulders?

A body structure, the committee continued, with a rap on the wrist for corset makers, is largely inherited. A corset on a fat man will not reshape his body permanently—just make him uncomfortable.

Photograph Technique Used

The committee arrived at the average American male posture through making tracings of photographs and superimposing them on each other.

Purpose of the study was to serve as a base for orthopedic surgeons who work with posture problems.

In any random group of men, the study showed, about 11 will be the "pure muscular" or "Oh, you kid," type—characterized by hard sturdiness, narrow hips and broad shoulders.

Another 11 will be the "true fat" type—soft, round and wide.

All others fall between these two groups, with about 26 characterized as average.

The committee adds one, final comforting note:

In his revolutionary process, man is becoming more round-headed and more curved in the spine.

Primitive Baptist Program To Feature Visiting Speakers

A fifth Sunday meeting at the Primitive Baptist church, Twentieth and Ave. K, will feature Elder Z. C. Hull of San Antonio and Mrs. Annie Garner, superintendent of the home for old folks at Brady, M. L. Welch, pastor, announced Wednesday.

Tech Will Face Cowboys Friday

Raiders To Invade Arizona Next; Tech Frosh Schedule Two Tussles

These are anxious days for Coach Polk Robison and his Texas Tech basketball squad.

Not only do they face a rapidly improving Hardin-Simmons quintet here Friday night, but they follow that game with a three-day invasion of Arizona. That is always the toughest trip of the year and Coach Robison fears it.

On that swing the Raiders meet Flagstaff, Tempe and Arizona on successive night and there isn't one soft touch in the group. On their home courts the teams are stronger and much of the title chances of the Raiders depend on that trip.

Cowboys Seek Revenge

But before the Raiders even can think much about that journey, they face a Cowboy quintet that will be pointing toward this game Friday night. Coach Jack Martin, who last year captained the Cowboys, would like nothing better than to avenge the defeats hung on him as a player so many times. If he can pilot the Cowboys to victory, he will.

The Raiders, of course, have the advantage on their own court, even though they may be crippled by semester examinations. Coach Robison hasn't been able to work with his entire team for several days and whether the lay off has hurt the machinery or not is a big question.

Tech's hoop busters were rolling along nicely before exam period hit. They won 12 of their first 16 games and lost no prestige in three of their defeats, all away from home against first-class opposition. It's entirely possible, of course, that the machine will be rusty and will not click with the precision that took it to six victories and one defeat in Border Conference play before exams.

Public Invited

At any rate, the public will be given a chance to see the Raiders in action. The game is being thrown open to the public since it comes during semesters, a period that usually finds most of the students home.

The varsity game is due to begin at 8:15 p.m., with a freshman game between Tech and Hardin-Simmons scheduled to open the night's court activity. Tickets will be sold at $1 each and will be good for both games. There will be no reserved seats.

TWO TILTS SLATED FOR RED RAIDER FRESHMEN

The freshmen at Texas Tech have not been forgotten. In addition to their outing Friday night against Hardin-Simmons first year men, Tech's Fish also will meet Wayland Saturday night.

The Wayland game will be played as an exhibition at Abernathy starting at 8 p.m. and the public is invited to watch the future Raiders in action.

Coach Polk Robison has turned freshman tutelage over to his assistants, but they will use the same style of play that the varsity uses. This will include the fast break, mixed with set plays, man-to-man defense and occasional control of ball tactics.

Alderson Paces Fish

Sparking the initial year freshmen are three high school stars, Jack Alderson of Lubbock, Jimmy Eddins of Sudan and Monte Roy of Hobbs, N. M. These three players have shown speed on the court, finesse and a dead eye for the basket.

They get plenty of assistance from Irl Brown of Katonah, N. Y., a six-foot, six-inch center, Ted O'Neal of Wellington and Jim Sharp of Amarillo. In addition, they can call on Don Bagwell of Claude, all-region guard last year; Glen Lucas of Whiteface; Doral Sandlin of Lubbock, Charles Campbell of Monument, N. M.; Carter Page of Ralls; and Archie Champbell of Garland.

The Fish squad has been cut to 12 players from the original size of over 100 and has shown strength in scrimmage sessions. They have played one game so far, beating Odessa Junior college 51-39.

Dinner Honors Idalou Gridders

IDALOU, Jan. 26. (Special) — Miniature silver footballs were given to 24 lettermen and the manager of the Idalou High school football team here tonight at a dinner honoring the 1948 gridiron squad.

The Idalou eleven went through a regular schedule without losing a game, then annexed the Bi-District championship. Happy High school's football team defeated them in the regional title game played at Hale Center.

Coach W. L. Johnson, who never played football and who was coaching football for the first time, made the presentations.

Johnson and his wife, in return, were presented with gifts by Leon Jarrett, co-captain, on behalf of the football squad. Mrs. Johnson received two bottles of perfume, while the coach was given an electric razor.

Virgil Ison, representing the Lions club, business men and others, then presented the coach with a check for $45.

Robert Quinlivain served as toastmaster and introduced Wilson Kirtle, high school principal; G. O. Smith, grade school principal; Roy Hudson, Idalou mayor; Mrs. W. C. Davis, pep squad leader and teacher; school board members; and Merle Walker, superintendent of schools, who introduced members of the faculty.

Invocation was given by Rev. Joe Motsenbocker, pastor of the First Baptist church, and benediction was given by Rev. Charles R. Gates, pastor of the Idalou Methodist church.

Joe Kelly, sports editor of The Avalanche-Journal in Lubbock, gave the main speech.

Heitschmidt Joins New York Giants

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (INS) — Eighteen-year-old Ted Heitschmidt, whose father played for the Washington Senators nearly two decades ago, said today he has received a $22,000 bonus for signing with the New York Giants.

The 200-pound, six-foot-three righthanded pitcher will join the Giants at their Phoenix, Ariz., spring training headquarters March 1. A Chicagoan, Heitschmidt completed a year of study at the University of Michigan before deciding to give up college in favor of a baseball career.

Sudan Hornets Roll Up 35-32 Triumph Over Levelland Lobos

LEVELLAND, Jan. 26 (Special) —Sudan's smooth-working Hornets roared to a 35-32 north District 4-A basketball triumph over the Levelland Lobos here tonight, as Harlan Pickett hit the loop for 14 points, Billy Rainey paced Levelland with 12 points.

The Levelland "B" drubbed the Sudan reserves, 32-22, in a preliminary setto. Glen Clarkson chalked up 12 points for Levelland, while Cletus Whitmire scored six for Sudan.

ANOTHER GOLDEN GLOVES GROUP OF HOPEFULS—These eight fighters all have titles in the regional Golden Gloves tournament here as their goal. Some will be after novice titles, entering that division to get experience enough to fight in the open class next year. The others will be working for titles in the open division so that they can go to Ft. Worth to compete in the state finals. All of them are training hard at Foster's Gym, 2417 Main street, official headquarters. Shown left to right, front row, are Jerry Martin, Eddie Goetze, Robert Ferguson and Leroy Malouf. In the back row, same order, are Dan Williams, James Utley, Sonnie Utley and Don Williams. (Staff Photo.)

Gloves Field Is 'Wide Open'

Four Dominated In '48 Regional

No favorites have been picked in this year's regional Golden Gloves, which will be held at least Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the Texas Tech gym.

Last year four men predominated in their weight classes, scaring out a lot of capable scrappers and cutting the list of entries down below normal. This year, although there are a lot of good fighters, some with excellent possibilities, no one weight division is dominated.

Gene James in the heavyweight, J. D. Kirkpatrick in the light heavyweight, Lonnie Balch in the middleweight and Bill Henderson in the featherweight classes almost wrecked the 1948 Golden Gloves here. James had no opposition at all, nor did Kirkpatrick, while only one fighter showed up to oppose Balch and only one to oppose Henderson.

The 1948 Record

This year Henderson and Kirkpatrick are in the pro ranks, Balch suffered an injury that eliminated him and James has not yet entered. There were no entries in either the flyweight or bantamweight divisions.

This year the picture is different, with several entries in each of the eight weight divisions. And as stated above, while there are a lot of good fighters, there are no boys classed as highly as the four men last year were.

That means that the bouts this year should be better than ever, with more action in the ring each night and probably better matched fighters. If the regional tournament suffers even a 20 per cent loss, considered normal for any tourney, there still will be over 100 fighters. That assures a full card.

Let's look at last year's open division. No entries in the flyweight or bantamweight classes. Bill Henderson easily licked Charley Neff in the featherweight division. In the lightweight class, three entries showed up. Billy Brackeen of Slaton, who entered as a bantam, couldn't make the weight and had to fight lightweight. Dwayne Vaughan of Tahoka and Hollis Black of Petersburg were the other entries. Brackeen beat Black and Vaughan beat Brackeen.

There were seven entries in the welterweight division, Bill Mills of Brownfield, defending champion, Frank Telles of Lubbock, Pete Jenkins of Muleshoe, Clarence Byrd of Petersburg, Jack Wilborn of Lubbock, Dolphe McConnell of Lubbock and Earl Pollard of Lubbock.

And in the middleweight class, there was only Balch and Ralph White of Petersburg. No light heavy for Kirkpatrick, no heavy for James.

Lubbock Teams Win At Anton

Tinkers Nose Out Littrell In Meet

ANTON, Jan. 26. (Special)—Four first-round games in the Anton American Legion independent basketball tournament were unreeled here tonight, with the Thomas Tinkers of Lubbock nosing out Littrell service, 56-47, in a feature clash.

Minchew paced the Tinkers with 20 points, while Virgil Johnson tallied 22 for Littrell.

Sanders Motor of Lubbock drubbed Furr Food, also of Lubbock, 62-29, as Bob Pierce hit the loop for 14 points. Crawford Electric of Lubbock trounced the Anton Roughnecks, 59-22, with Davis tallying 14 points. Belcher collected 16 for Anton.

In the other setto, Levelland's Refiners dropped Texas Lumber Bin of Lubbock, 55-43. Pearcy paced Levelland with 11 points and Criswell notched 14 for the Lumber Bin.

Three games will be played Thursday night, with the Anton American Legion meeting Hoyt of Lubbock at 6 o'clock, Littlefield battles Shallowater at 7 and Primm drug of Brownfield meets Blue Flame of Idalou at 8.

Coach Says Better Quarterbacks Must Be Developed Soon

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (AP) — Clyde Lee, coach of the University of Houston, says better football quarterbacks will have to be developed because under new rules the coaches can no longer direct the game from the bench.

Lee was referring to the change that eliminates single substitutions while time is in and allows unlimited substitutions when the ball changes hands or when time is out. Taking away the single substitution plan will curb quarterbacking from the bench.

"The quarterback usually does a better job anyway if his coach doesn't interfere," the Houston mentor said.

Minnesota Leads Western Loop With .336 'Batting Average'

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (INS) — A .336 "batting average" may be the reason undefeated Minnesota is leading the Western Conference basketball chase.

In sweeping their first five Conference contests, the Gophers have hit on 94 of their 280 field goal attempts, for a .336 connection mark that tops the league. Ohio State is the only other ".300 hitter" in the circuit with a .315 figure.

Abernathy Quintet Scores 34-28 Victory Over Crosbyton Chiefs

CROSBYTON, Jan. 26. (Special) — Abernathy's sharp-shooting quint scored six points in the final 90 seconds of the game to edge by the Crosbyton five, 34-28, in a District 3-A tilt here tonight.

Blackmon topped Abernathy with 16 points and Simmons tallied 12 for Crosbyton.

Karl Gray Wins Grapple Honors

Karl Gray of Milwaukee survived the double hazard of a "wrestle royal" and a main event battle with Bill Parks of North Bay, Ontario, to win top honors of the regular Wednesday night mat card at Sled Allen's arena.

Gray took the first fall in the main event by pinning Parks with a toe hold in 16 minutes, then Parks bounced back to cop the second fall in just eight minutes with a "cat toe hold." Gray took the decisive third fall in five minutes with another toe hold.

George Bruckman of Washington, D. C., won two of three falls from Vick Weber of Plainview in the semi-final encounter. Weber took the first fall in 12 minutes with a rocking chair crade, then Bruckman evened the count in eight minutes with a combination hold. Bruckman gained the third fall in seven minutes with a rebound and body pin.

Two of the top fighters in the original "wrestle royal," Milt Olsen and Mota LaDue, were eliminated in the royal and did not appear on the card.

The attendance at the mat feature was cut by bad weather, with the March of Dimes netting only $45.

Oklahoma City Chiefs Down Trinity's Tigers, 55 To 33

SAN ANTONIO, Jan 26. (AP)—Out-shot, out-hustled, but especially out-defended, the Trinity Tigers went down to a 55-33 defeat here Wednesday night at the hands of the Oklahoma City university Chiefs.

Trinity was never in the game as the Chiefs simply refused to let Coach Jim (Swede) Engstrom's boys fire from the open. Each shot was hustled—and generally erratic.

The Chiefs led at halftime, 26-16. Towering six-eight Don Slocum was high pointer for the winners with 11 points, and Pete Murphy, dimunitive Tiger guard, socked in nine to lead his team.

Top 1-AA Quints Meet This Week

Golden Sandies Will Battle Pampa Harvesters In Friday Night Tilt

Leadership of the District 1-AA basketball title race will be at stake this weekend when the three top quintets in the loop standings, Pampa, Lubbock and Amarillo, clash in important tilts Friday and Saturday night.

One of the feature games of the entire district schedule is set Friday night at Amarillo, where the potent Golden Sandies battle the smooth-working Pampa Harvesters. The Pampans are leading the championship race with an undefeated record, but the Sandies have lost only one game and could tie for the lead with a victory over the Harvesters. The Pampa quint, coached by wily Clifton McNeely, will be favored in the contest, but the Sandies will have the very important home court advantage.

Feature Game Saturday

Another spotlight setto will be unreeled Saturday night at Lubbock High's Chapman field gymnasium, where the Westerners play host to the Sandstorm. Every athletic contest featuring Westerner and Sandie teams is a major attraction in West Texas, and Saturday night's game will be no exception. The winner of the Lubbock-Amarillo tilt will have a "clear title" for the runner-up spot in the district, since the teams are virtually tied at the present time for the spot. Lubbock has won one more game than the Sandies, but both have lost only one tussle.

Borger's Bulldogs will attempt to keep their slender title hopes alive with a victory over Brownfield's Cubs Friday night at Brownfield, then Saturday night Brownfield journeys to Plainview.

Lubbock High school officials are making special preparations for the Sandies' invasion here Saturday night, it was reported Wednesday. Additional temporary bleacher seats are being installed in the Chapman field gym to bring the seating capacity to approximately 2,200, and, since the Amarillo encounter will be one of the two top cage games of the year here this season, officials expect every seat to be sold.

New Seating Setup

Seating arrangements for the game have been revamped, officials said, and the reserved seat section will be the permanent type bleachers on the south side of the gymnasium. Students will be seated on the north side of the gym on the temporary bleachers.

Admission prices for the Sandie game will be 75 cents for adults, including tax, and the student ducats will be sold for 30 cents.

Coach Roy Morris sent the Westerners through a lengthy drill session Wednesday afternoon in preparation for the weekend district battles, with the Lubbock cagers holding a scrimmage with the Smyer quintet. The coaches completed the arrangements for the informal practice early Wednesday afternoon, in an effort to give both squads a workout against outside opponents.

Although the Westerners outscored the Smyer cagers by an estimated two-to-one margin, Coach Morris was not completely satisfied with the drill. The Westerner passing was ragged, and the Lubbock boys were missing some of their close shots.

Regular Forward Jimmy Sexton, who was out of action all last week with influenza, played a few minutes in the scrimmage and will probably be back in the lineup this weekend.

OUR THANKS to you and the thousands of others whose willingness to "share the line" has made it possible for so many of your friends and neighbors to enjoy the protection and convenience of a telephone.

Three of every four home telephones today are party lines.

Yes, party lines have "stretched" hard-to-get telephone equipment in a time of shortages and a big demand for service.

Our goal, of course, is service for everyone—the kind he wants, when and where he wants it. For the time being, though, in many neighborhoods we must continue to say:

"We can offer only party-line service to new customers. It's the fair way for everybody while we're still working to get telephones to hundreds of people who are waiting."

Mel Ott May Be Honored

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — The baseball hall of fame poll is on again and it is almost certain that in a couple of weeks two new names—Mel Ott and Hank Greenberg—will be added to the 55 already immortalized in the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Veteran scribes of the Baseball Writer Association of America—those who have been members for 10 or more years—have been asked to name 10 men for election. A candidate must receive at least 75 per cent of the total vote cast.

If the first vote fails to produce a choice, the rules provide for a second poll.

Ott and Greenberg, ought to make it on the first ballot. Both were champion sluggers in their day, both made contributions to the game, and both were known as "nice guys."

This is the first year in which Ott and Greenberg have been eligible, under the voting rules limiting the list to men whose playing days are over. Ott's inactivity as a player in 1948 makes him eligible.

Greenberg ended his playing career with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1947.

Feller Contests Salary Cutback

CLEVELAND, Jan. 26 (INS) — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians and his famous fireballing righthander, Bob Feller, locked horns today over the question of Feller's 1949 salary—and got nowhere.

Feller had said he expects a cut of about $10,000 and Veeck had hinted that the pay slash would be a greater one—and that's apparently where the difference lay.

Feller said "disagreement over an attendance bonus clause" prevented settlement.

The two will resume their talks on about the ninth or tenth of February, they said.

Feller earned $82,000 last year.

Game Commission Plans New Project

AUSTIN, Jan. 26 (AP) — State Game Commission engineers are working on detailed plans of a game project to be set up on Camp Swift property if Bastrop county land owners agree.

Members of the commission met yesterday with a Bastrop county delegation in another attempt to settle a controversy over the project.

The Commission wants "at least 10,000 acres" of the abandoned camp for a quail breeding farm and game management research.

Former land owners oppose the project because they claim government agents assured them top priority on repurchase of the 52,000 acres.

Tyler Junior College Will Meet Los Angeles In Fall

TYLER, Jan. 26 (AP) — Intersectional football rivalry will return to the annual Rose Festival for the first time since the war here Oct. 1, Tyler Junior college officials announced today.

Tyler will play Los Angeles, Calif., city college. It will be the opening of a two-game home and home series.

Tyler, member of the Southwestern Junior College Conference, previously announced a home-and-home agreement with Compton, Calif., junior college. Tyler will go to Compton next November.

Injury Of Bill Johnson Hurts Baylor's Chances In SWC Race

WACO, Jan. 26 (AP) — Baylor's hopes of repeating as champions in the Southwest Conference basketball race took a severe setback yesterday with the injury of Bill Johnson.

Johnson, a four-year regular on the team, was injured in an automobile accident near Waco. He received three fractured vertebrae and will be out for the season according to team physician, Dr. Horace Trippett.

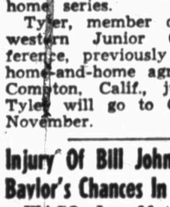

The accident occurred when the car in which Johnson was riding skidded on an ice-coated bridge and collided with another car.

JOE WANTS HALF MILLION BUCKS

Opinions Vary Over Who Louis Will Meet In Next Title Fight

Sports Study

By Earl Sandday

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. — There seems to be a slight difference of opinion at the moment in the fight racket. This, you may have observed, is not an unusual state of affairs.

The current difference of opinion arises over Joe Louis' next title fight.

Chicago reports insist Joe will fight the winner of the Ezzard Charles-Joey Maxim bout scheduled for Feb. 28. Joe, it is said, would fight in Soldiers Field, with the political blessing of the Democratic party in Chicago.

We shall skip lightly over the thought that this has all the earmarks of a bit of ballyhoo planted by that wily old maestro, Jack Kearns, to build up his fighter, Joey Maxim.

We shall also skip discussion of the fact that Maxim is known to the trade as a spoiler. And the further fact that he and Louis wouldn't draw flies since flies are notoriously attracted by sweet dishes. A Louis-Ezzard bout wouldn't be much to rave about; a Louis-Maxim bout would be absolutely ridiculous.

Jacobs Has Contract

Instead, we shall point out the fact that Mike Jacobs has an ironclad contract with Louis which runs deep into 1950 and even a Chicago politico couldn't get around that one.

We were further intrigued by the reported Chicago offer to Louis which said that Joe had agreed to take a $400,000 guarantee or 50 per cent of the gate, plus 50 per cent of the radio and movie rights and exclusive rights to television.

Those are very interesting figures and they lead one to suspect that the Louis camp might be starting a little campaign to put the pressure on Mike Jacobs when and if it comes time to sign for his next fight in New York.

We don't know anything about Joe's exact financial status at the moment and we doubt that anybody else knows except himself and his lawyers. We hope Joe is well heeled financially because he deserves all he has earned.

Half A Million Bucks!

But what intrigues us is the amount of money mentioned. A $400,000 guarantee plus radio and television rights would bring him at least $500,000.

Half a million bucks! A fellow earning $5,000 a year would have to work 100 years to get that much.

It sounds like a terrific amount of money. And it is. It also would be wonderful if Joe could get and keep it.

But if he got it, he wouldn't be able to keep very much of it because a gent called Uncle Sam would take most of it. And here's how.

Suppose Joe made nothing for the year except that half million. On all sums over $200,000 Uncle Sam takes in taxes $156,620 plus 91 per cent of excess over $200,000.

That means Joe would have to pay taxes of $156,620 plus 91 per cent of the $300,000 excess over $200,000 or $273,000.

Thus his total tax would be $429,620, leaving him only $70,380.

You may say $70,380 ain't hay. True. But it also ain't half a million.

ORANGE BOWL PROFIT

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 26. (AP)—The Orange Bowl football game and its companion activities netted the federal government and the city of Miami $104,865, a report showed today.

Open letter to Joe Louis: Although the Lubbock Westerners have won only one District 1-AA basketball championship during the last five years, Hub city fans have had the pleasure of seeing some of the top schoolboy cagers in the state competing with the Black and Gold squad. In the past the Westerners have boasted such scoring specialists as Hubert Bechtol and Bob Brewer in 1942-43, Phil Ragland and Bill Cope a year or two later and more recently, Verdell Turner, Virgil Johnson and Jack Alderson. This year the Westerners again have two top candidates for all-district honors—Forward Charles Galey and Center Jim Wilson—and if the Lubbock boys could get into the playoffs, Galey would be a strong contender for all-state honors.

Of course, the success of the Westerners depends on ever member of the squad. The best player in the state can't win unless he receives plenty of support from his teammates. But, when the competition is completed and the votes are counted, Galey and Wilson will be the two Lubbock boys in line for all-star honors. And, as a result of his experience and natural ability, Galey will be the Westerners' best hope for even greater awards. The sharp-shooting forward is a fine ball-handler, holds one of the top schoolboy scoring marks in the state and is the Westerners "field general" out on the floor.

Galey's scoring record this season is very good, especially in view of the fact that the stalwart was hampered for several weeks early in the season by a foot injury, missing one complete game and playing only a few minutes in several other tussles. Then, too, the Westerners have played such strong quintets as Pampa, Amarillo, Midland, Lamesa, Abilene, Stratford and Burkett.

Galey, in the 19 games he has competed in this season, has scored a total of 234 points on 98 field goals and 38 extra points. That total gives him an average of 12.3 points per game. Galey chalked up 53 of his points in four District 1-AA games, which also averages out at approximately 13 points per game. And three of the district tilts were with top-ranking teams—Amarillo, Pampa and Borger.

Both Galey and Wilson have been recognized as stellar performers in every tournament that the Westerners have competed in. Galey and Wilson made the all-tournament teams at Borger and Brownwood, and Galey was rated as the most outstanding individual of the big Howard Payne meet at Brownwood. The coaches of nearly all of the opposing teams this year have praised Galey's all-around play, including defense. It is probable that the speedy forward, who is also a fine baseball player, will be the most sought after Westerner cager in recent years when the colleges get around to lining up their freshman teams for 1949.

Then, too, there are several other Westerner cagers who need only another year of experince to climb into the spotlight. Wilson, smooth-working Jimmy Sexton and Morris Turner all have another year of high school eligibility and should make a strong bid for honors in the 1950 season. And two boys from the "B" team, Garnet Reeves and Walter Norton, are capable of moving into the starting lineup next year.

So Lubbock fans can relax! It looks as if we may have a good ball club for several years to come.

Riley Moves Up In Tourney

MIAMI, Jan. 26. (INS) — Betty Rowland of Lexington, Ky., provided the upset of the first day of match play in the Helen Lee Doherty Women's Golf Tournament in Miami today, defeating Dot Kielty, of Los Angeles, 4 and 3.

Miss Kielty, the California women's champion, was a favorite, after scoring a 77, one above par, in yesterday's qualifying rounds.

Peggy Kirk, of Findlay, Ohio, who led the qualifying round with a three under par, defeated Mrs. Arthur Flash of Scarsdale, N. Y., 7 and 6.

Another favorite, Polly Riley, of Fort Worth, Tex., defeated Dee McWane, of Birmingham, 3 and 1.

Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, runner up last year to winner Louise Suggs, won over Emma Lou Prince of Gainesville, Fla., 8 and 7.

Betty Mims White, of Dallas, Tex., who shot a 75 in yesterday's qualifying rounds, was eliminated by Betty Bush, of Detroit, 4 and 3.

Mary Sargeant, of Pebblebeach, Calif., who barely qualified with an 84, defeated Mrs. Georgie Miller of Miami, 1 up.

MUSIAL TO BE HONORED

Lafayette Alumni Groups Charge Bad Faith To Coach Williamson

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (INS) — Bad faith was imputed to football coach Ivy Williamson and possibly the University of Wisconsin today by Lafayette alumni groups in connection with what was described as Williamson's "abrupt" departure for the greener pastures of Madison, Wis.

They hinted darkly, in fact, of dirty work at the double-cross roads somewhere along the line, while being just a little vague about minor details such as where, when—and by whom.

All they seemed to know was this, —as of Saturday night last, Williamson was still their 1949 football coach and, allegedly, had indicated he would so remain.

By Monday, he was Wisconsin's.

As a result, Lafayette college was supposed to be picking itself dazedly off the pavement, dusting off the bosom of its Sunday pants and looking around for another football coach. Perhaps several, in fact.

They say now it's more than possible that Williamson's staff of assistants may follow him to Madison.

In other words, innuendo and hearsay were strident—officially expressed sentiment also inaudible; out of deference, it seemed, to Lafayette President Ralph Hutchinson, who was absent from the campus.

Besides, as athletic director William Anderson explained from his Easton, Pa., headquarters:

"I didn't oppose Williamson's move, so I can't very well criticize him for making it. Naturally, I didn't want him to go.

"But I knew that no good would result from an attempt to make him stay."

Williamson, star end and later assistant coach at Michigan under Harry Kipke before joining the Yale staff, had entered the final phase of a three-year contract at Lafayette when the Wisconsin post became available. But, say indignant Lafayette spokesmen, Williamson wasn't available—at least, not legally.

His contract, they said, specifically provided that "under no circumstances was Williamson to ask for his release" during its tenure.

Texas Open Set Feb. 9

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 26 (AP) — The Texas Open, oldest golf tournament along the PGA tour, may not have the top figure in the game—Ben Hogan.

The tournament is scheduled Feb. 9-13 at Brackenridge Park and Fort Sam Houston courses here.

George Schneiter, tournament chairman of the PGA, has written Texas Open director Rube Albaugh that Hogan does not plan to play here.

The Open also may not have Lloyd Mangrum, second top money-winner, who has announced he will pass up the Texas and Houston opens in favor of a vacation in the Rio Grande valley prior to participating in the Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen Feb. 24-27.

The Texas Open is the first of three $10,000 events in this state this winter. A field of 300 or better is expected with half the field playing at the Fort Sam Houston course and the other half at Brackenridge.

A field hockey stick has a flat face on its left side.

Damage Is Heavy From Ice Storm

coatings. Police were kept busy answering reports of live wires on streets. The temperature there was 29 at 7:50 p.m. and was expected to remain fairly steady through the night.

Temple reported ice on the trees and a freezing drizzle forecast.

Travel Conditions Dangerous

In far West Texas El Paso Wednesday went through rain, fog, snow pellets, hail and light snow. Temperatures were 32 to 38 with more rain and snow expected today.

Fog and freezing drizzle was forecast for the South Plains last night. Drizzle was freezing on the windshields in Lubbock. The Weather bureau said no relief was expected there before Saturday.

Abilene was expecting a high of 35 degrees today after more occasional light freezing drizzle.

Both Abilene and Lubbock reported the heaviest moisture for January in 25 years or more.

Down along the coast Beaumont had a high temperature of 73 degrees with fog but no rain.

Damage Enormous

The Texas Highway department Wednesday afternoon reported the most dangerous traveling conditions were in the Arlington-Dallas area and in the Abilene district.

At Sherman, Denison and Dallas, tree damage was enormous. Streets were blocked by falling branches and in some instances whole trees were uprooted.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company listed 18 towns isolated from telephone service. These were Gainevsille, McKinney, Italy, Celina, Frisco, Forreston, Wolfe City, Ladonia, Prosper and Honey Grove—all served by Southwestern Bell. In addition, Whitesboro, Bonham, South Maid, Savoy, Sanger, Valley View, Dodge City and Ben Franklin—served by other companies—were without telephone communication.

The telephone company said the worst ice damage to their lines was in a north, north central area of the state, roughly from Denison down to Hillsboro and from Gainesville east to Paris. In Dallas, 3,500 telephones were out of order. The telephone company reported 870 circuits out over the state and 1,800 wire breaks. Of the 870 lines out, 170 were broken in the previous ice storm Jan. 10 and had not been repaired. In north and northeast Texas 725 telephone poles and 300 cross arms were reported broken. Seventeen gangs of telephone crews with five or six men each were out repairing lines and 10 more gangs were moving into the ice area today.

Two Persons Dead

North Texas was a glittering fairyland, but already the damage had run into uncountable thousands of dollars. Dallas city officials said the damage and disruption was the worst in the city's history. Trees iced by successive showers and freezing temperatures crashed across trolley, electric light and telephone wires.

At least two deaths were attributed to the weather. Both were in West Texas. Mrs. Josephine C. Luethner, 66, was killed late Tuesday, seven miles west of Monahans, when her car skidded on icy highway 80 and overturned. Her husband, F. J. Luethner, president of the Peoria, Illinois, Loan Homestead association, was slightly injured. The couple were on their way to Arizona for a vacation.

Leslie D. Burton, 21, of Breckenridge, was killed during a sleet-storm Tuesday night near Roscoe, when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a truck. Merle Edward Evanson, 30, of Seattle, Wash., also a passenger in the car, was gravely injured.

Ice coated trees and lines at Denton. Schools were open but attendance was low.

Amarillo Area Hit

A report from Amarillo said: "Highways are dangerous. Rain freezes as fast as it hits the windshield of a car. Roads are open, bus lines running. Temperatures are warming and if rain continues could have an ice paralysis." The afternoon temperature at Amarillo was 26 degrees.

Wichita Falls said: "There is no thaw in prospect for three inches of sleet and snow on the ground. Highways and streets are heavily coated but not impassable. Buses are moving but not on schedule. Runs to Oklahoma City, Abilene, and Brownwood have been halted."

Acheson Statement

he thought he would pass that one.

In discussing the President's program for improving world living conditions, the new secretary emphasized the program's aim is to attain freedom and dignity and fullness of life for peoples in underdeveloped lands.

Areas Are Listed

By contrast, he said, Communism views man as simply a cog in the machine of the state. He said that is not a modern idea but a "reactionary view—an attempt to crawl back into the cocoon of history."

When pressed for details about how the program would work, Acheson declared the United States is willing to work with other nations directly or through the United Nations. He made clear that includes both the countries which have resources of capital and technical skills to export and those which need assistance in their development.

Acheson said he did not want to impose any limitations on the program and he would not state whether it might include or exclude Franco Spain. As for regional areas where great industrial progress might be promoted, Acheson said they included the Far East, Southeast Asia, Africa, and large parts of South America. Asked what countries might be suitable for development, Acheson said that India, for example, obviously would.

Mass Evictions Hit

National Apartment Owners association, said:

"While I cannot condone the mass eviction of tenants, this action once again emphasizes the plight of property owners under restrictive rent control.

"This drastic action is reminiscent of the Boston tea party, as it represents a revolt against oppressive class legislation which is detrimental to tenant and property owner alike."

CIO Hits Plans

The American Property Owners association, sponsoring the so-called revolt, is not affiliated with Owen's group.

The CIO National Housing committee said Housing Expediter Woods should "take immediate steps to protect thousands of tenants." The committee added:

"The law requires the expediter to seek injunctive relief from the courts to prevent violation of the law.

"The announced plans of the Tulsa Property Owners association on their face is a conspiracy to violate the rent control laws."

MASS EVICTION CAMPAIGN THREATENS TO SPREAD

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (INS)—A mass eviction campaign to protect rent controls threatened tonight to spread to several of the nation's large cities.

The movement already is underway in Tulsa, where it was initiated by a unit of the Property Owners Association of America.

Aroused landlords threatened to fall in line in Chicago, Milwaukee, Denver, St. Louis, and Kansas City.

Denver Group Makes Threat

Organized Milwaukee property owners reported they were voting whether to send out more than 3,000 eviction notices.

The Denver group which controls more than 5,000 housing units, said it would withdraw from business and evict all its tenants if federal rent controls are extended beyond March 31.

However, landlord groups in numerous cities, expressed doubt that their members would join the eviction movement. Keeping a passive attitude were groups in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio.

In Chicago, where 100,000 tenants would face the eviction threat, E. B. Tickner, treasurer of the property owners' group, said a vote would be taken.

Campaign Called "Shocking"

However, S. W. Lewandowski of Chicago, a national director of the association, said he doubted whether such action would be taken.

Legal observers in Chicago pointed out that the courts would have to approve any attempted evictions, while in Oklahoma landlords may serve eviction notices without resorting to the courts.

Tenants who already have received the 60-day eviction notices in Tulsa took them calmly. They said they thought the landlords were "bluffing" and added they were planning their own meetings to fight the movement.

Jester Urges Action

chop them down one at a time."

House Bogged Down

The house was still bogged down in getting organized. Speaker Durwood Manford indicated it might be Monday before he would be ready to name committees. He suggested that members planning to go home this week-end see him before they left.

It appeared another long week-end recess was in prospect. The senate had passed a resolution calling for adjournment from today until Monday, but the house had already quit when it came across the capitol. House and senate must agree on such matters.

It was likely both House and Senate would meet briefly tomorrow, then take another Thursday-to-Monday lay-off.

Two big appropriation bills reached the senate.

Junior College Aid Asked

One, by Harris, would provide $3,600,000 for establishment in Dallas of a southwestern medical college of the University of Texas. San Antonio is also seeking establishment of a branch of the university medical college.

The other, by Senator A. M. Aikin, jr., of Paris, would set aside $4,954,000 for maintenance and support of junior colleges for the next two years. The appropriation for the current two-year fiscal period is $1,850,000. Aikin noted that his bill includes many junior colleges newly established.

Jester in his message making the public school bills emergency matters, did not comment directly on them. He praised the work of the Gilmer-Aikin education committee, from which they grew, as the most comprehensive study of public schools that has ever been made in Texas.

Haylift Underway

introduce a bill calling for a $1,000,000 increase in funds available to meet the weather crisis. A $500,000 disaster fund was voted the President last year.

Wind Accompanies Snow

Wind gusts 60 to 70 miles an hour accompanied new snow in the California mountains. The new snow added to the threat of starvation to thousands of California-Nevada range cattle. The lowlands citrus orchards again were beset by freezing temperatures.

Activities in the southeastern Oklahoma city of Durant, population 13,000, were frozen to a standstill. A heavy blanket of ice knocked out electric power in the city's hospitals, leaving them without heat. Water service went off when a main broke under the weight of ice. Two power lines carrying electricity to the town snapped in hundreds of places. Only one long distance telephone line was in service. Buses quit running.

China's Peace Prospects Fade

transfer of the government to Canton.

The foreign office announced early today that all government functions would cease in Nanking Feb. 3 and the new capital of government-held China would be set up at Canton, effective Feb. 5.

This source said Foreign Minister Wu Teh-Chen was behind the removal to Canton. Li was pictured as insisting the government should stay in Nanking as long as the Reds are willing to negotiate.

(Since the removal to Canton already has been announced Li seems to have no control over the cabinet, despite his position as "acting president." Chiang's friends in the cabinet already have blocked some of Li's proposed measures.)

Embassies Await Orders

Some diplomatic observers said both the government and Red charges of stalling were probably true. They believe both sides hope to improve their position with delays.

The government would like to have the diplomatic corps follow it to Canton. Some embassies are preparing to move. Others, including the U. S. embassy, await instructions from their capitals.

Highly-placed sources said if the "Red price for peace is too high," the government would give up both Nanking and the great financial center of Shanghai, and continue the fight further south.

The first broadside in the government-Communist battle of words came from the government side.

Chiang's "Detention" Asked

An unnamed government spokesman issued a statement saying the Communists were using "delaying tactics." He declared the Reds had not even troubled to name their peace delegates.

The spokesman called on the Reds to "suggest a place where the talks can proceed" instead of saying Peiping would be the site when it was "completely liberated."

(The Communist broadcast heard in Shanghai pointed to foreign press reports of last Sunday that up to 200,000 Nationalist troops were moving to new defense lines south of the Yangtze.

(The Reds then called on acting President Li to "detain" Chiang and other leaders as proof of his sincerity. They said Li also was on their "war criminal" list but would be pardoned if he did his duty.)

New Line Prepared

A strong defense line south of the Yangtze already has been prepared just in case the peace talks blow up.

For several days large numbers of the troops still remaining to the government have been moving south. The flow of materials and supplies to the new defense area has been unceasing.

Th defense ministry itself is moving by Friday, leaving only garrison headquarters in Nanking.

Confidential Chinese sources say the new line will be anchored on the east coast at Hangchow, which is 100 miles southwest of Shanghai and about 150 miles southeast of Nanking.

From there the line will extend nearly 300 miles southwestward across mountainous terrain to Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province.

From Nanchang it would stretch 155 miles northwestward to Wuchang, on the south bank of the Yangtze opposite the central Chinese fortress city of Hankow.

In the rear of this line is the island province of Formosa, openly styled "Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's private fortress" in Nanking.

Meanwhile, reports from Peiping said a quiet attempt to settle China's civil war is being made in that Communist-controlled city.

Among those working in the background at Peiping to lay the basis for a national settlement—patterned after the localized peace there—is Liu Chung-Hua, special representative of acting President Li Tsung-Jen.

The idea is to lay the groundwork behind the scenes. Thus, the main points of an overall agreement will already have been decided.

Work Behind Scene

Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, government north China commander, is supposed to have told Liu that he would like to be a bridge toward national peace. Amid face-saving gestures on both sides, Fu yielded this ancient capital to the Reds last Saturday after a 40-day siege.

The Communists are controlling the city behind the scenes, while Fu's troops disarm and leave. A joint committee of Nationalists, including Fu, and Communists was designated to administer Peiping.

Cotton Plan Pushed

plant their cotton far earlier than they do in other parts of the state and the rest of the south.

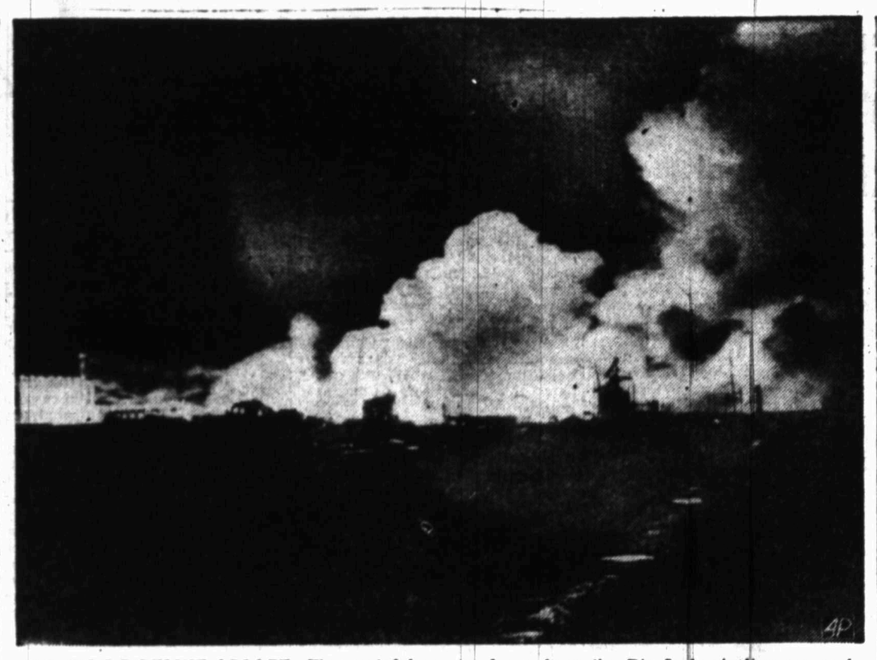

John Dean and E. D. Bell, of the Agriculture department's cotton division, recommended that the national 1950 crop acreage quota be based on the four-year period of 1945 to 1948, inclusive. The acreage allotments to individual farmers should be based on their 1947 and 1948 production records, they testified.

Criticism that the county committeemen were being given too much authority under proposals of the Agriculture department were voiced by Poage and other members of the congressional committee.

Pace said his group may meet in open session late tomorrow, but that the next scheduled open hearings will be Friday morning.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, Jan. 26. (AP)—A fairly severe earthquake was felt here at 5:34 p. m. (CST) tonight. No damage was reported from nearby points.

BIG INCH PIPELINE ABLAZE—Flames fed by natural gas from the Big Inch pipeline one and one-half miles east of Batesville, Ind., leap high into the air. The fire broke out during a power failure at a pumping station which services the Big and Little lines and spread to the 24-inch Big Inch line, but did not reach the 20-inch Little Inch line. South Plains Shivers ficult to stop as lights changed in the downtown section, but only a few minor accidents of the "fender bending" variety were reported.

The Texas Highway Patrol continued to advise motorists to use caution while travelling as ice film covered many sections of highway. The patrol had no reports late last night of any serious mishaps in this area.

Despite moisture benefits the ice storms brought to the South Plains, residents were beginning to look forward to more pleasant, especially sunshiny, weather. The weatherman offered little hope that any sharp change in conditions in this area was around the corner.

Higher Temperatures Seen

More freezing rain was forecast for the South Plains early today, and possibly this afternoon despite slightly warmer temperatures for the day. The weather station north of the city said a low of 23, one degree above Wednesday's minimum, was likely this morning.

The one bright spot was the weather station's forecast that the mercury would clear the freezing mark by one degree this afternoon, a five degree hike over yesterday's high of 28 degrees. The rise in temperatures above the freezing mark coupled with ground heat was expected to begin a thaw of the accumulated ice mass.

Slightly warmer readings Friday, also were predicted. The mercury is expected to climb from the low 20's to a high of near 40 in the afternoon. Unless readings happen to reach higher than forecast little hope for complete melting of the ice and snow by Saturday is held.

Higher temperatures with an end to freezing rain and sleet was the most the weatherman could offer. Little evidence was seen at the weather station that the sun might break through either today or tomorrow. The forecast for both days said "cloudy."

fort is made in the Senate to bring up such an amendment to the rules, is the filibuster itself.

The southerners want to keep the right to filibuster, if necessary, to defeat President Truman's "civil rights" program which involves federal prohibitions against racial discrimination.

Long, a Louisiana Democrat, raised the threat of a super-filibuster in addressing Senator Lodge (R-Mass), a member of the Rules committee.

He asked him:

"If you thought the whole first session of the 81st Congress would be tied up by a filibuster—would you still want a proposal to change the rules brought up?"

Rules Change Wanted

Lodge said he couldn't assume that 15 or 16 senators would "filibuster 'till hell freezes over," adding that "I'm an optimist."

Senator Ives (R-NY) cut in, however, to declare:

"Even if this ties up everything, I'm in favor of trying to get a rules change. This issue transcends everything. As it is now, we can't even control the actions of the Senate."

Administration Democrats, principally from the north, are getting strong Republican assistance in the anti-filibuster drive. Senators Knowland (R-Calif) and Ferguson (R-Mich) said they, too, want to push ahead with the change in rules.

Long said that if there is to be a filibuster "the time to do it is before the gag is in your mouth."

The late Huey Long, father of the present Senator Long, staged one of the most widely publicized filibusters in Senate history. Among other things, he regaled his listeners with instructions for preparing and eating "pot likker."

Underwood In Visit With President; Trip Here Recalled

(Special To The Avalanche)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 — Arch Underwood of Lubbock was invited in to sit down and have a friendly visit with President Truman at the White House today.

It all came about when Underwood went to the White House to have a talk with Matt Connelly, secretary to the President. The latter told the President of the visit and Mr. Truman asked the Lubbock citizen to come in and renew the acquaintanceship they started some years ago when the then Senator Truman spoke in Lubbock.

Underwood described the visit later as "just a nice friendly chat." The President, he said, was "fat and saucy." It was just like being out in Lubbock again, Underwood thought. The President joked about the time out in the West when no one paid him much mind and few stopped to talk with him whereas now they seek him out. Underwood enjoyed immensely renewing the friendship with the man whose liking for people and the simple things has not changed at all with his big job.

Chapel Presbyterian Groups Conduct Mid-Week Meetings

Mid-week meetings held Wednesday night at Chapel Presbyterian church, Adams Ave. and North Second, included an organizational meeting of the Men of the Church and a weekly Presbyterian Youth Fellowship session.

At the men's meeting, C. P. Strain was elected president of the group. Other officers are E. K. Hester, vice president; and W. B. Ditmore, secretary-treasurer.

The group made plans for a dinner and program to be held at the church the night of Thursday, Feb. 24. Thirteen men attended the meeting.

At the weekly Youth Fellowship gathering, a business session, worship service, and recreation hour were conducted. Approximately 25 young people of the church were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beck were named new sponsors of the group. President T. W. Moss presided at the business session.

Rev. Roy L. McCown, jr., is the new pastor of the church.

Wichita Falls Man Shoots Self On Way To Theft Trial

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 26. (AP)—W. T. "Slim" Dwyer, under indictment for theft of oil field pipe, collapsed with a gunshot wound in his chest as he walked up the courthouse steps today for the afternoon session of his trial.

Sheriff Hammett Vance said that Dwyer, with a critical wound, walked 100 feet from his car in front of the courthouse before collapsing.

Deputy Sheriff Marty Boyle went to Dwyer's car and found an eight-shot revolver on the floor, with one empty cartridge.

Vance said Dwyer told him at the hospital that he shot himself. He was reported in critical condition with a wound just under his heart.

20-30 Club Features Bridge, 'Sing-Song' At Ladies' Night

A number of guests attended the Ladies night program of the Lubbock 20-30 club which was held last night in Hotel Lubbock.

Conrad Ward, president, was in the chair. Charles Nelson reported on the club's mid-winter convention which was held this past weekend in Amarillo.

A sing-song was conducted, with piano accompaniment by Miss Mary Lou Jobson. The group later played bridge.

DRAFT OFFICIALS TO MEET

Representatives of the local Selective service board will meet with state selective service headquarters officials here March 3, the Associated Press reported from Austin last night. The meeting here will be one of a series of 13 state selective service conferences to be held Jan. 27-March 4, according to announcement by Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, state director.

New Zealand has ended meat rationing.

War Chance Remote

tary Royall, Navy Secretary Sullivan, Air Secretary Symington and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Complete Report Given

Eisenhower, former Army chief of staff and Germany's World War II conqueror from the west, came as a consultant to Forrestal.

Also present were Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Navy Chief of Operations Adm. Louis Denfeld, and Air Force Commander Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg.

The House committee, led by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), made a special trip from Capitol Hill to the Pentagon for the top secret discussions which lasted three and one-half hours.

They received from the high command a complete report on the general world situation, including a breakdown on the armed forces of Russia.

It was learned that the Army and Air Force leaders described in detail the situation in Germany, the Far East, China and the Middle East.

Particular attention reportedly was paid to China, crumbling under the Communist assaults, with the Nationalist government leaving Nanking.

The military implications of a Communist China, with its teeming hundreds of millions dominated by the hammer and sickle, reportedly were stressed before the committeemen.

The State department was represented by George F. Kennan, director of the policy planning staff, who presented the views of American diplomacy.

Reliable quarters reported the Army, Navy and Air Force leaders told the committee the "cold war" might continue for some years.

The Pentagon meeting set the stage for committee hearings, which begin tomorrow, on legislation defining the composition of the Army and Air Force. Royall will be the first committee witness.

Legislator Plans Bill To Regulate Phone Companies

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (AP) — Rep. Jack Bryan of Buffalo said today he will introduce a bill regulating telephone companies' service in Texas to prevent discrimination as to service or rates.

"I have received numerous complaints from people in my district about the service given by the Three State Telephone company," Bryan said.

His bill would prohibit a company from charging one customer more than another customer for the same service. It would also forbid rendering a different service to some customers from that which is rendered to others.

Neither could a telephone company or operator in Texas require subscribers to pay for telephone service not rendered, under Bryan's bill.

No Compromise Reached In GOP Chairmanship Dispute

OMAHA, Jan. 26 (AP) — A committee of seven failed to reach any agreement tonight on compromising the fight over the Republican national chairmanship.

Members said after a closed meeting that the battle to unseat Chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr., probably will go before the full committee at a meeting tomorrow morning.

The compromise committee, headed by Werner Schroeder of Illinois, had sought to find a peaceable way out of the controversy spawned by an attack of enemies of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on Scott as chairman.

Scott was named to the post last June at Dewey's insistence, after the New York governor was nominated for president.

Hookey Playing Boys Nearly Wreck Three Dallas Buildings

DALLAS, Jan. 26 (INS)—Three business buildings were virtually demolished recently by seven Dallas boys who used the buildings as rendezvous while playing hookey from school.

Police listed the following damages to the three buildings: All thermostats torn out; sheetrock torn from some walls; 10 pairs of window drapes destroyed; 35 walls damaged; wall light fixtures yanked out; 25 neon light tubes broken; six fire extinguishers destroyed; gas connections ripped away; wiring pulled out; and ceilings badly damaged in three large rooms.

The boys were in custody of juvenile authorities.

Snowshoe Equipped Helicopter To Aid In Measuring Snow

By RICHARD MONTAGUE
United Press Staff Writer

TACOMA, Wash.—An air-age idea and a new invention will be coupled soon so engineers can determine how much power and flood water to expect from the Cascade mountains this year.

The U. S. Geological Survey office here formerly sent mountaineer-engineer crews into the range to make careful records of the winter snow pack. This year snow measurements will be made by a single man in a snowshoe-equipped helicopter.

Fred M. Veatch, district geological engineer, said it will be the first time a helicopter has been used for extensive surveys. The 'copter snowshoes are something new, too, just invented.

To Record Depth

A pilot will whir to the Upper Skagit snow course, drop a long metal tube into the snow until it hits the ground, weigh the snow core and make a recording of its depth.

After several readings have been taken from the course, which was marked out last summer, they will be put through a calculator. The resultant figure will be the potential amount of water that will flow off the area, Veatch explained.

When they know how much water to expect from the snow engineers can predict how full the Columbia basin rivers will be the rest of the year. And from that they will know how much electrical power to expect—or if there's a chance of floods.

Veatch said this snow measuring idea has been used extensively for about 10 years. The old method was to send hardy mountaineers along the Cascades, hauling all their equipment on their backs, and sometimes taking days to get to a marked course. It takes the helicopter a few minutes to get to the same course from a mountain base camp.

Sending a crew into the mountains in mid-winter is hard on the men and "extremely hazardous," Veatch said. Several have been seriously injured or cut off from shelter for several days.

Another advantage of the helicopter is economy; keeping several men going in the mountains for weeks is expensive.

San Antonian Has 108-Year-Old Piano In Good Playing Condition

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 26 (INS)—An excellently-preserved concert grand piano, believed to have been made sometime before 1840, is still in good playing condition in the San Antonio home of Albert Herff-Beze.

One hundred and eight years ago, Jean Batiste Lacosta, Herff-Beze's great-grandfather, ordered the nine-foot ebony Pleyer from Paris.

The piano was shipped to Indianola, Texas. From there, it was moved to San Antonio by oxcarts. Its present owner explains that it was made during the period when Chopin and Liszt were demonstrating pianos for Pleyel and Wolff company of Paris.

However, Herff-Beze adds, "There is no way of knowing whether either of these men ever played my piano."

Herff-Beze acquired the concert grand two years ago. He said at the time that "its keys wouldn't strike, the strings were rusted, and the bronze inlay was scaling off."

The instrument was completely reconditioned in February, 1947. Later in the same year, Henry Bauer, well-known concert pianist, pronounced it authentic and amazingly well preserved.

Impatient Listener Finds Way To Identify Radio Stations

HINTON, W. Va., Jan. 26 (U.P.)—A resourceful radio shop operator has perfected just the thing for listeners who can't wait for a station identification to find out to what part of the country they're tuned.

It is a new type of radio dial imprinted with the map of the United States that pin-points any city as soon as it is picked up. The location is flashed by a tiny light.

The inventor is Jimmy Coste and his product represents years of work.

"I'd always been bothered," he explained, "about having to wait for the announcer to tell me what station I was listening to."

Common Cleaning Fluid Labeled 'Menace' By Health Officials

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2[6] (U.P.) — An ordinary cleansing agent, carbon tetrachloride, can be an insidious killer if not handled properly, health authorities here warn.

State Health Commissioner Dr. Bruce Underwood said most people don't even take the simple precaution of opening windows to dilute vapors when using carbon tetrachloride for cleaning grease spots from clothing, furniture or household articles.

Unless its use is safeguarded the solvent—when dissipated into the air—may damage health and can cause death, he said: Effects on the body are concentrated in the liver and kidneys.

RAILROAD BATTLES JOLTS

CLINTON, Ill. —(U.P.)— The Illinois Central railroad is trying to take the jolt out of its freight cars. The railroad has been running a laboratory train on a 67-mile stretch of its track in tests. Experts estimate that the nation's railroads lost $115,000,000 in 1947 because of jolts and bumps.

Bermuda now has 1,093 private automobiles and 2,327 motorcycles.

Police Report Little Activity

Police and other law enforcement agencies in Lubbock reported one of the quietest days on record Wednesday.

Only five arrests, four of them for drunkenness, had been made by police up to 10 p.m. last night.

The other, a 20-year-old man, walked into police headquarters about 4:40 p.m. and informed Sidney Smallwood, acting desk sergeant, that he had "passed several bad checks in Levelland" and wished to give himself up.

Hockley Takes Custody

Sheriff Charlie Bullock of Hockley county, informed of the arrest, arrived in Lubbock about 8 o'clock last night to accept custody. He said that the man, named on his warrant as Eugene Fredrick Genest, was charged with passing a $10 check to a Levelland department store. Genest had admitted passing several other checks, Bullock said, but could not remember the names of the establishments which accepted them.

Local police said they had investigated a dozen or more minor wrecks within the city in the 24-hour period ending at midnight, but no one was injured in any of them. The icy condition of streets was listed as the major factor in most of the mishaps, police said, but the same condition probably averted personal injuries since most motorists were handling their vehicles at very slow speeds.

Poll Tax Drive

man, was among those who urged poll tax payments as "precautionary insurance."

"I cannot say now whether I would favor or oppose this plan, or something similar, if it should be submitted to a vote of the people," Tatum commented. "I would have to see and study exactly what was submitted before deciding my attitude toward it.

"From what I know of the Gilmer-Aiken plan, all I can say is that there are some parts I like and some that I don't.

"If the plan should be submitted to an election at this time, and on the basis of my present knowledge of it, I would vote against it.

Urges Tax Payment

"I think that every Texan—and, particularly, every West Texan—should be in position to cast his or her ballot on the proposition if it should be submitted. I do not suggest how they should vote. But many may regret it if they are forced to remain on the sidelines through failure to pay poll taxes."

Studied with particular interest—and skepticism — was one reported provision in the Gilmer-Aikin activation bill introduced this week.

It reported that an "economic index" would be applied by a board in Austin to determine how much in taxes would be levied throughout the state for the operation of public schools.

Opinion in Lubbock—and apparently in Austin—was vague as to what this meant.

But the presumption is that some board in Austin would decide how much money would be required for the operation of all public schools in the state. The board then would decide how much money each community would have to pour into one big pot at Austin. After that, the board would decide how much of the money each locality — such as Lubbock — could have back for its schools.

Political "Pull" Feared

Under any such scheme, according to the consensus here, practically every locality on the South Plains invariably would pay into the fund a grea deal more than it ever would get back.

There also was the unquestioned suspicion that the factors determing the division of the money often would be political rather than merit.

Or, in other words, that the districts with the most political influence usually would get the most money.

In such case, as long-time observers here pointed out, the South Plains and West Texas usually would come out on the very short end. These areas don't have the legislative representation to guarantee fair play.

However, the possibility was acknowledged here that any Gilmer-Aikin bills introduced may be revised in such a way, if passed by the Legislature, to make them acceptable to all parts of the state.

In such case, West Texans might want to vote for any plan submitted at a special election.

But, as officials emphasized, a poll tax receipt is the first requisite to voting on either side of any election by any Texan not entitled to or possessed of an exemption certificate.

Mapai Labor Party Builds Lead In Israeli Election Returns

TEL AVIV, Jan. 26. (INS)—Premier David Ben-Gurion's moderate Mapai labor party tonight led with 34.4 per cent of the votes in Israeli elections for a 120-member constituent assembly.

This was on the basis of 60 per cent of the total expected tallies of nearly a half million voters in yesterday's elections.

The Arab minority of nearly 40,000 was believed to have elected at least four Arabs to the assembly on the basis of the proportional representation scheme.

MAN PLEADS INNOCENT

EUNICE, N. M., Jan. 26. (AP)—Glen Skinner, 26, pleaded innocent today to a charge of first degree murder in the street shooting here Jan. 10 of Homer Lee Daugherty, 31. Both men were oil field workers from Electra, Tex. After a preliminary hearing, Justice of the Peace Faugh Bowden ordered Skinner held without bond for the next term of district court.

Output Of New Cochran County Extension Hits Over 100 Barrels

An extension to the Landon-San Andres pool of extreme south-central Cochran county was completed by Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company.

That concern pumped 24 hours on its No. 1 Edwards, 392 feet from west and 1,939 feet from north lines of the Edwards lease in section 13, block L, psl survey, to make an initial production of 101.95 barrels of oil per day.

Andrews Site Staked

Gravity of the petroleum was 31.8 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 115-1. There was no water.

The San Andres, upper Permian, pay was at 5,009-5,034 feet. That zone had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

Phillips Petroleum company staked a drillsite for its No. 18-M Texas University as a 11,100-foot, rotary tool exploration in the Fullerton-Ellenburger field of northwest Andrews county.

It will be 663 feet from south and 1,782 feet from east lines of section 31, block 13, University survey. That puts it approximately 12 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

Operations are scheduled to begin at once.

Lynn Test Negative

Recent drillstem testing at McAlester Fuel company No. 1 Edwards, west Lynn county wildcat, 16 miles east of the town of Brownfield, has resulted in no shows.

An examination was attempted at 10,491-546 feet, but the packer failed and there was no recovery.

Another test was run at 10,376-546 feet. The tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

This prospector, 440 feet from south and west lines of section 58, GRR survey, is now shutdown on 10,546 feet for a fishing job.

Borden Well Completed

Borden County's first commercial oil well has been officially completed at the H. L. Hunt No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, wildcat six miles south of Gail, in the south-central sector of the county.

This discovery, located 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 24, block 31, TE survey, T-4-N, was finished for an official 24-hour pumping potential of 129 barrels of oil, plus two barrels of water, from pay at 6,490-6,520 feet in a lower Permian lime.

The production is through casing perforations. The pay has been treated with 4,000 gallons of acid.

The development drilled to a total depth of 8,015 feet in dry Pennsylvanian lime. It plugged back to 6,598 feet and cemented 5½-inch casing at that point and completed from the only zone drilled through which showed any indication of petroleum.

Four Persons Hurt When Small Package Explodes In Mail Room

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Jan. 26. (U.P.)—Four men were injured, one critically, when a small package exploded in the mail room of the post office here today with such force that it blew out windows.

Post office inspector A. B. Cleveland said the package, no larger than a woman's compast, exploded in the hands of one of the employes.

William Harry Osborne, 29, a substitute mail clerk who was holding the package, lost both hands and both eyes. He was taken to a local hospital, where attendants said he was not expected to live.

The package was addressed to Ulyses Jones, 14 W Laurel Ave. Both the name and address are fictitious.

A mail room employe, Oscar Isbell, said the smoke from the explosion smelled like TNT. Cleveland would make no comment.

The package was mailed from Newark, N. J.

What set off the explosion has not been determined.

Traffic Death Hike Alarms Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—Support of a plan to halt an alarming increase in Fort Worth traffic deaths was pledged today by civic organizations and businessmen after some scorching charges by Police Chief R. E. Dysart.

He called 95 per cent of the public "cheaters who will run stop signs and traffic lights if no police officers are around."

Of the motorists on Fort Worth streets today, not one-half of one per cent are qualified, Dysart told his audience of civic leaders and businessmen at a mass meeting here yesterday.

Fort Worth traffic deaths for the first 26 days of the new year stand at nine, while there are five more for Tarrant county, giving it a total of 14. Fort Worth city deaths last year for a comparable period stood at one, while in the county there were five.

Marx Brothers To Break Up Partnership To Go It Alone; Jane Wyman Plans British Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28. — The Marx brothers are breaking a 31-year partnership and from now on will go it alone. No trouble; just a belief that they can do better in individual performances. "Love Happy" is the last picture they make together.

Chico has signed with Lester Cowan to co-star with Dick Haymes in a western, "Dusty Trail." He plays, for one of the few times in his life, a straight character. Chico has left for an engagement in London and "Dusty Trail" won't be made until he returns.

Groucho is already making a picture with Frank Sinatra.

Dick, who has been eager to make another movie so that he could remain in Hollywood, signed before he left for the east.

Jane Wyman will not be finished with "The Octopus" in time to receive The London Express award for her performance in "Johnny Belinda." So who do you think is going to accept the check for her? Ronald Reagan, who will still be there making "The Hasty Heart!"

Jane leaves for London for "Man Running," the Alfred Hitchcock picture, as soon as she finishes with Mike Curtiz. She is taking the two children with her, and will probably spend the summer in London.

Speaking of Mike, "Your Dream Is Mine" is a honey of a picture. I caught it at a preview and it is really a swell musical.

New Musical Planned

My old friend, Charles Coburn, may well become in Donald O'Connor's movie life, what Barry Fitzgerald is in Bing Crosby's. At least they are so hepped up at Universal-International on how the team clicks in "Yes Sir, That's My Baby" that Bill Goetz has lined up another big technicolor opus.

As I get it—this will be a satire on the Robin Hood legend operating under the temporary title of "Son Of Robin Hood." Leonard Goldstein will produce.

If ever there was a time when Donald was unhappy about his assignments not being big enough, that belongs to the past. The musical comedy kid is getting the breaks these days.

Darryl Hickman, who is 16 years old on the nose, goes into "Any Number Can Play," as Clark's nearly-grown son. An interesting thing about Darryl's career—he has never seemed to hit the awkward age when most youngsters have to take time off.

Marie Allison, former Hollywood actress, and once the light in George Raft's eyes, is now finding the company of Ned Schuyler, owner of the beachcomber in Miami Beach, pleasant.

Rival Resigns; Defeated Texas Solon Regains Seat In House

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—W. E. Heatly of Deleon, a member of the legislature in 1947 who was defeated for re-election, was seated today by the house of representatives until a successor is elected and sworn in.

By a 116-1 margin, the house voted to seat Heatly to serve in the 51st legislature until a successor is named by a special election in Comanche and Mills counties on Feb. 10 and takes the oath of office.

Heatly, 64, was defeated by J. R. Eanes of Comanche, but Eanes resigned before becoming "qualified" to serve as a representative by taking the oath of office.

Heatly was administered the oath today by Speaker Durwood Manford. Rep. T. M. Collie of Eastland authored the resolution calling for Heatly to be seated.

The final hurdle to Heatly's seating was eliminated this morning, when the speaker received official notice from the secretary of state of Eanes' resignation, due to illness.

An opinion by Attorney General Price Daniel was read to the House yesterday, holding that Heatly could be seated until a successor "qualifies" for the office.

Heatly represented the 104th district in the 50th legislature, his first term in the House.

District Official To Speak At Lions Clubs

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, deputy district governor of the Lions club, will speak at four Lions club meetings in this area in the next month.

He will speak at a ladies' night meeting of Floydada Lions club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Floydada. His subject will be "Democracy in Education."

Stresses Spirit Of Clubs

He will speak on "The Spirit of Lionism" at a zone meeting in Plains at 6:30 p. m. Feb. 3. The meeting will be followed by a dinner.

On Feb. 17, he will speak at the charter night program of the new Lions club at O'Donnell. On Feb. 18, he will speak at the ladies' night and 10th anniversary meeting of Morton Lions club.

Dr. Jackson is professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college.

Judge, County Attorney Stay Overnight In Jail—As Guests

SHERMAN, Jan. 26. (AP)—A judge and county attorney slept in jail here last night—thanks to the weather.

The men were unable to reach their homes because of an ice storm. In one cell, Dist. Judge W. C. Dowdy of 59th District court slumbered and in another cell was Hal Rawlins of Denison, county attorney of Grayson county.

Court Orders New Trial For Negro Sentenced For Murder

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—A life sentence for alleged murder was reversed and remanded for new trial today by the court of criminal appeals on the ground that the purported confession was not admissable.

The case involved S. T. Hubbard, Bowie county negro, who was tried in connection with the fatal shooting of R. F. Talley. Three other negroes were indicted in connection with the case.

Hubbard appealed his conviction on the grounds that his confession was not voluntary.

The trial court erred, the appeals court said, in admitting the purported confession in evidence.

Hubbard was tried in connection with the slaying Nov. 8, 1947. Of the four original defendants, Andrew Hill was tried, found guilty of murder and sentenced to death. His conviction was sustained on appeal. Charges against a second defendant, Joe Johnson, were dismissed. The judgment against a third defendant, Charlie Lee, was reversed and remanded for a new trial last November.

Woman Observes 111th Birthday, Hopes To See World Free Of War

WAPWALLOPEN, Pa., Jan. 26. (U.P.)—Mrs. Mary O'Neill observed her 111th birthday today and expressed the hope that she would live long enough to see a world free of war.

In her tidy bungalow on Stone Crusher hill, Mrs. O'Neill said she couldn't understand why men were fighting all over the world. She listens to a battery-operated radio.

"It's just murder. That's what it is," she murmured.

Her birthday wasn't much different from those of recent years. Pennsylvania's oldest woman arose at 7 a. m., her customary time, and without benefit of an alarm clock.

On her birthday last year, the Pennsylvania Medical society, observing its 100th anniversary, presented Mrs. O'Neill with a certificate. She only left her home once since that January day.

THREE GROUPS ENTERED

Texas Tech Judging Teams To Compete At Fort Worth Named

Two judging teams from Texas Technological college to participate in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show opening Friday in Fort Worth were announced Wednesday in addition to the livestock team announced Sunday.

The three teams will be in collegiate competition with representatives from most of the leading colleges in the South and Midwest, and will enter the meats and dairy cattle judging contests. Dairy cattle judging will be done on Monday and judging of meats will take place Tuesday. Livestock judging is scheduled Saturday.

To Leave Saturday

On the dairy cattle team are Charles Butler of Lubbock, Mat Dillingham of McCamey, J. R. Jones of Lubbock and George Pliler of Abilene. They will leave Saturday, accompanied by Koy Neeley, instructor in animal husbandry, who is their coach. First stop will be for practice judging at Abilene Christian college, and then to Cleburne where they will spend the night and visit the Oakdale Jersey farms Sunday. Laurence Shipman, a Tech graduate is manager of the farms.

The meats team, composed of Glenn Quattlebaum of Amarillo, Willard D. Hill of Smithson Valley, Frank Young of Thompson, Ohio, and Frank Ebner of Wichita Falls, will be accompanied and coached by Stanley Anderson, graduate assistant from Villisca, Iowa. Anderson estimated that eight teams would be entered in the contest, to be held at a Fort Worth packing company. Teams will judge two classes of beef carcasses, two of fat lamb carcasses, one of pork, two classes of wholesale beef cuts, two of wholesale pork cuts, and will be given 20 beef carcasses to grade and classify.

The livestock team, composed of W. C. Davis of Sterling City, John Dwyer of McLean, W. J. Krueger of Clifton, Carl James of Talpa, Doyle Lane of O'Donnell and Walter Maloney of Roscoe, will leave Friday for judging on Saturday. The team is coached by Ray C. Mowery, assistant head of animal husbandry.

Officials Agree On Amendments

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26. — A controversy over a proposed new water laws code for Texas reached a verbal hatchet-burying tonight in a long distance telephone conference between General Manager D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and General Manager J. E. Sturrock of the Texas Water Conservation association.

A Star-Telegram reporter was included in the three way conference call.

Lists Objections

Bandeen, "weathered-in" by the ice storm at his hotel room in Fort Worth and unable to get to Austin to attend a conference of West Texas legislators arranged for tonight, expressed to Sturrock in Austin the three principal points of objection to the code drafted by Sturrock and the TWCA water laws committee:

1—That section 13 of the TWCA draft be amended to eliminate the "storage" provision from its language: "A natural channel may be utilized, in the exercise of a water right, for the storage of water or for the conveyance of either stored water or natural flow . . . The utilization of such channel and the reclaiming of waters turned into it must not diminish the waters already flowing herein, to which others have acquired rights . . ."

2—The bill should restore the present "recapture" statue, granting cities the right to appropriate stream flow without condemnation or compensation to prior appropiators applying the water to a use inferior to the domestic and municipal priority.

3—That the code's section 22, granting cities the right to appropriate and store water for future use, should be eliminated as being discriminatory to other cities on the same watershed.

Approves Changes

Sturrock said he advised W. K. Tippen, Abilene legislator, this morning that he personally would be willing to see such amendments made to the code in committee, and added "I feel sure the members of our water laws committee will offer no objection, although they feel that the 'recapture' clause is unconstitutional and bond buyers have told us they consider it clouds the property rights of water appropriators."

He told Bandeen he had drafted a letter of reply to John D. Mitchell, of Odessa, West Texas chamber president, which would be mailed tomorrow, with a copy to Bandeen, embodying this willingness to compromise their differences.

The West Texas chamber manager added that after Sturrock's

Dimes Campaign Is Given Boost

A total of 496 contribution letters had been received by late Wednesday afternoon at local March of Dimes campaign headquarters, thus boosting the total contributions received there to $3,409.

Although the total is still far from the minimum county goal of $12,000, things were indeed "looking up" for the local drive, for 175 letters containing $1,150 were received Wednesday at campaign headquarters, 612 Myrick building, thus making it the "biggest day" in amount of contributions since the drive opened here Jan. 14.

Weather Hits Drive

The fund was boosted further Wednesday night after Sled Allen, local wrestling promoter, donated 10 per cent of his gate receipts from his Wednesday night matches after federal and state admission taxes were withheld.

And, too, the fund is expected to be increased by contributions to the March of Dimes "Wishing Well" which is located at the corner of Broadway and Ave. J. However, the "Wishing Well," like contribution letters to headquarters, was slowed down by inclement weather and was not operated Wednesday.

The Exchange club, sponsor of the local drive, is reminding city and county residents of the three President's Balls to be held here next Monday night at Supper club, Cotton club, and Hotel Lubbock. Music for the three benefit functions will be furnished by the Wes Jones, Ross Edwards, and C. A. Rodgers orchestras. Tickets are for sale at $1.20 per person.

Chicago Man Held As Suspect In Blaze In Which Six Killed

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (INS)—A 26-year-old Chicago man was held today for grand jury action on manslaughter charges in connection with the deaths of six persons in a tenement fire.

A coroner's jury recommended the grand jury take action in the case of Albert Butler, who was said by police to have admitted that his carelessness started the fire early Saturday.

Butler told authorities he dumped some hot ashes on the floor of his apartment in the building.

Weather Deals Hard Blow To City's Needy

New Appeal Is Made For Relief Supplies

Response to a new appeal for donations of clothing, quilts, blankets and the like which was issued Wednesday by the City-County Welfare association, last night was termed "encouraging" by Mrs. Nancy Green, of that association.

The City-County Welfare association, the Salvation Army, and other welfare agencies Wednesday reported heaviest demands in recent months on their resources as many persons entered their third week of weather-enforced unemployment.

Heavier Response Expected

Mrs. Green last night was confident that a heavier response to the appeal for clothing would come today from Lubbock residents, since many were not aware of the acute need for clothing and similar articles for distribution among local needy families until the appeal was issued Wednesday afternoon. She said the majority of the contributions made Wednesday were by persons who regularly make contributions or who had sensed that the drain on the association's reserves would be greatly increased by bad weather.

She urged that all presons with clothing, blankets, quilts, shoes, and the like take them to the Salvation Army headquarters, 1112 Seventeenth, since there is a minimum of storage space at City-County Welfare association offices at 1411 Thirteenth.

Agencies Work Together

The contributions, she said will be distributed to those in greatest need by the Salvation Army. The City-County Welfare association and the Salvation Army are working together in distributing garments and in investigating needy cases.

Meanwhile, a survey endorsed by the City-County Welfare association, was begun Wednesday to determine the extent of the local emergency.

Volunteer workers from the American Red Cross home service department, Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, representatives from the Woman's auxiliary of that church and from the St. Joseph's Catholic church, were in the group that called at homes in the Mexican quarters and elsewhere.

"In numbers of homes, there was not even any heat," one of the volunteer investigators said.

The workers were briefed at the Red Cross office by Mrs. L. B. Holly, and left from there for their unannounced visits. They checked on the food situation, lists of illness, fuel scarcity, and urgent needs reported to the City-County Welfare office.

The Red Cross is cooperating with the other welfare agencies in case investigations and in relief work as much as it is able to. However, spokesmen for the local chapter last night said that most of the local needy cannot be classed as transients and therefore are not eligible for Red Cross aid. That agency this month has had "the heaviest case load of the past year," it was reported.

PLEA MADE FOR AID TO LATIN AMERICAN GROUPS

An appeal was issued Wednesday to Lubbock residents for food and clothing for needy Latin-American families residing in and around Lubbock.

A number of these families have no money to purchase food or clothing. Small children especially are in need of shoes and clothing, according to Mrs. R. E. Thompson, who has offered to distribute such garments among the needy.

Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church yesterday stressed that children's shoes are needed, and that numbers of small children are going bare footed despite present freezing weather.

Mrs. Thompson spoke of one family in which there were eight small children, all in desperate need of clothing and food.

"The situation demands immediate action," she said. "These children must have adequate food and clothing now."

Mrs. Thompson, who lives at 1606 Ave. R, said she would distribute contributions of food and clothing among the needy if such contributions are brought to her residence. Her telephone is No. 8077.

Acuff Farm Land Brings $360,000

Evidence that Lubbock county land values are still holding up was given Wednesday in the report of sales the past week of 2,640 acres in the Acuff community, east of Lubbock, for a total of $360,000

The land belonged to the A. H. Baer estate, of which the Bellville National bank of Bellville, Ill., acted as trustees. The land had been intact as a block since Baer acquired it on Sept. 30, 1907, and is one of the largest farm tracts to be sold off in the county in recent years.

Averages $135 Acre

Price of the land, none of which has irrigation wells on it, ranged from $100 to $200 an acre and averaged above $135 an acre for the 14 tracts which were sold.

Sale of the land was handled by J. W. Chapman & Sons, local real estate firm, and all the land was sold in less than a week's time. Twelve farmers, most of whom reside in the Acuff community, purchased the land in tracts of one-quarter and one-half section.

The land, all in cultivation, had been rented by the state for the past two decades.

Fort Worth Woman Wins Quick Divorce From Lawyer Husband

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26. (AP) — Mrs. Ella B. Simpson, weeping throughout the eight-minute hearing, today was granted a divorce from Marvin B. Simpson, sr., Fort Worth lawyer.

District Judge Young issued the decree and approved an out-of-court property settlement giving Mrs. Simpson $18,250. Her husband did not appear in court and the divorce was unopposed.

The couple were married after he successfully defended her in a Tulsa court in 1946 against a charge that she killed Mrs. T. Karl Simmons of that city.

Herbert Wade, Simpson's lawyer, gave Jesse Martin, counsel for Mrs. Simpson, a $15,000 check and a $3,250 note payable in four months. Mrs. Simpson, under questioning, said she understood she would give up all claims on Simpson's property, which includes a Lake Worth home and ranches near Mineral Wells and Junction.

India is expanding its cement output.

State Liquor Men Oppose Changes

AUSTIN, Jan. 26 (AP) — Texas liquor and beer men today joined the WCTU in opposing any relaxation of liquor control laws by the legislature.

The Wholesale Beer Distributors of Texas said they would oppose "any attempt" to change curfew provisions of the Texas liquor control act.

The Texas Wholesale Liquor Dealers association said they are not sponsoring reported efforts to legalize sale of liquor by the drink and to extend the hours during which sales may be made.

Recently both the WCTU and the United Texas Drys announced they would battle any attempts to legalize sale of liquor by the drink, or to liberalize the curfew law. The WCTU suggested a statewide prohibition drive might be the best way to fight any plan to loosen the liquor laws.

Another organization also got in its word today. J. A. Stanford of Austin, general counsel for the Texas Package Stores association, said he understood a Houston organization with a somewhat similar name is advocating proposed legislation to legalize mixed drinks.

Present Laws Okayed

"It should not be confused with the Texas Package Store association," Stanford said.

R. O. Smith, executive secretary of the Wholesale Beer Distributors, stated their position in a letter to members of the legislature, and Gov. Beauford H. Jester. He said the been industry "strongly supported" the present curfew law which prohibits sales after midnight on weekdays and between 1 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sundays.

R. Emmett Morse, representing the wholesale liquor dealers, also addressed a letter to members of the legislature.

Morse said his group opposes sale by the drink and favors the present hours—9 a.m. to 10 p.m.—for package stores.

Texas' Predatory Animal Kill Hits All-Time High For Period

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 26. (AP)—More predatory animals were killed in Texas during the last fiscal quarter than during any previous three-month period, C. R. Landon, district agent, Fish and Wildlife service, reported here today.

Combined efforts of federal, state and county hunters accounted for 11,663 predators during the period October-December, for an all-time high, Landon said.

Coyotes headed the largest group of predatory kill, numbering 10,856. Bobcats killed totaled 651.

JEALOUSY MOTIVE IS CLAIMED

Defense For 'Axis Sally' Again Claims 'Hypnotism' Was Involved

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The "hypnotic" German professor who directed Nazi propaganda broadcasts during the war figured today in the treason trial of "Axis Sally"—American-born Mildred E. Gillars.

The defense brought up his name—Max Otto Koischwitz—in an attempt to establish a "jealousy motive" in one of the witnesses against thin-lipped, fiftyish Miss Gillars.

Inga Sylvia Doman, 32, ex-Nazi radio announcer, had just testified that she saw Miss Gillars make the "Axis Sally" broadcasts many times. Defense Counsel James J. Laughlin asked:

"You knew Max Otto Koischwitz, manager of the U. S. A. zone of the German radio?"

Jealousy Motive Introduced

When Miss Doman said she knew him "slightly," the attorney snapped:

"You were a little jealous of Miss Gillars, weren't you?"

Miss Doman replied:

"No I wasn't. My duties were completely different from hers. I was only an announcer. I had no business to be jealous."

The suave former professor who directed radio programs designed to undermine American morale figured in the opening statements of both the prosecution and the defense.

The prosecution said he accompanied Miss Gillars wherever she went for broadcasting material. The defense said he exercised a "hypnotic" influence over her.

Technical Evidence Stressed

Most of the third day of the trial was taken up with technical matters—evidence that Miss Gillars and "Axis Sally" of the airwaves were one and the same and submission of 22 actual recordings of her broadcasts.

Miss Doman also testified that Miss Gillars was snubbed by American prisoners of war for making the propaganda broadcasts for the enemy.

Miss Doman said she found Miss Gillars, in March, 1944, depressed because of her cool reception by Americans in one of the Nazi prison camps. The witness added:

"She mentioned that at one of the prison camps she had some difficulties because the soldiers threatened her.

Threatened By Soldiers

"She had gone there to get broadcasting material. The soldiers told her they didn't like her to be there and she had to leave."

Miss Doman who denied ever having been a Nazi although she said she announced the "Axis Sally" programs, testified that she occasionally saw Miss Gillars make the broadcasts.

Another German, Hans Von Richter, 38, made the same statement earlier in the day. Von Richter said he was a former German consular aide in Cleveland and had served as assistant manager of overseas broadcasts in Germany during the war.

Two eyewitnesses to the act are necessary to establish a treason conviction.

Services Set Today For Infant Son Of Mr. And Mrs. G. C. Riek

Larry Douglas Riek, 14-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Riek of 2103 Thirty-first, died at 11:20 a. m. Wednesday in West Texas hospital.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Sanders Funeral home chapel, with Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church, officiating. Interment will follow in Tech Memorial Park under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Survivors in addition to the parents include the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Maner of 2108 Thirty-first; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Riek of 2406 Ninth; and the paternal grandfather, R. W. Riek of Odessa.

Pallbearers will be Homer Lawson and Buddy Boles. Honorary pallbearers named include Bob Nicks and Don Davidson.

Formal Sentence Is Given In Bomb Case

Formal sentence of five years in the state penitentiary was assessed Wednesday afternoon against Drew Story, 42, of Hobbs, N. M., who was convicted last week of placing dynamite June 14 in Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., here with intent to damage property.

His counsel, J. E. Vickers of the law firm of Vickers and Vickers, gave notice of appeal to the court of criminal appeals in Austin.

No bondsmen appearing, no recognizance was entered with the court, and Story was remanded to custody of the sheriff.

A plea of guilty of swindling by $780 check was entered before the court, after a jury was waived, by I. B. Jameson, 41, of Brownfield.

Judge Pardue sentenced Jameson to two years in the penitentiary.

E. G. Pharr, an assistant district attorney, represented the state.

Services For John C. Hill To Be Held In Wolfforth Today

Funeral services for John C. Hill, 80, former resident of Wolfforth who died Monday in Los Angeles, will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of Christ in Wolfforth, with Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial will be in Wolfforth cemetery beside his wife who died in November, 1947. Rix Funeral home will be in charge.

Mr. Hill's body is to arrive here this morning and will be taken by Rix to Wolfforth for the services and interment.

Survivors include four sons, Lennon Hill of Lubbock, Dalton Hill of Sweetwater, Sam Hill of Perryton, and A. C. Hill of Vernon; three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Johnson of Fort Worth, Mrs. Tress Patterson of Dallas, and Mrs. S. E. Stein of Los Angeles; one brother, Walter Hill of Walnut Springs; one sister, Mrs. Willie Simmons of Los Angeles; and 11 grandchildren.

Paralysis Victim Aids March Of Dimes

Polio-Fund Drive Has Special Meaning For Lubbock Girl

"Look, I can walk again," the exclamation on March of Dimes posters, holds special significance for eight-year-old Vernette Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lynn of 612 Ave. O.

Five years ago last Thursday Vernette was able to walk again after having been stricken with infantile paralysis the month before.

Treated At Hospital

That night, she placed five dimes in the March of Dimes envelope she had received at school. Tuesday, she took her envelope back to school.

The girl was stricken with infantile paralysis Dec. 13, 1943. She received treatment at Amherst hospital at Amherst, Lubbock Memorial hospital and a clinic at Dallas.

She was almost completely paralyzed and was unable to use either her arms or legs. The parents were told her muscles were "completely dead." The Kenny hot pack treatment was used.

Help of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was not sought for her treatment, but she is anxious to see other children helped through March of Dimes funds.

Hollywood Writer Advertises For Bride With $15,000 Fund

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26. (INS) — The line forms to the right, girls.

Six-foot, 29-year-old Forest Hill, erstwhile screen writer, advertised in a Hollywood trade paper today for a bride.

Only hitch was that the potential bride must have $15,000, so that Hill will be able to write "free from frustration and poverty."

Hill ended his advertisement with a fervent appeal:

"In all the world is there not a woman with heart so pure and soul so sweet, she cannot accept a man for the fool he is?"

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 33¢ at any druestore. Adv

German Court Frees Ex-Nazi Von Papen

NUERNBERG, Jan. 26 (U.P.) — Franz Von Papen, ace of Hitler's diplomatic corps, was freed by a De-Nazification appeal court today after serving four years of an eight-year sentence as a major Nazi.

The suave member of the German diplomatic team who served as ambassador to Turkey and Austria was sentenced by a De-Nazification court here on Feb. 24, 1947, to spend the eight years at hard labor.

But the appeal court ruled the four years already served were enough.

He appealed the sentence on Jan. 18 this year.

Papen, 70 and ailing, was acquitted by the International Military tribunal that met here in 1945.

When he filed his appeal, spectators in the courtroom applauded his plea that he could have remained in Turkey during the war instead of returning to Germany.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lilly of Veterans Village, Lubbock Air Force base, on birth of a son weighing 5 pounds 1 ounce at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday in West Texas hospital. The father is a student at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hollums of 2404 Sixth on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 13 ounces at 3:50 p. m. Wednesday in West Texas hospital. The father is an oil operator.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smith of 2116 Fifteenth on birth of a son weighing 6 pounds 8½ ounces at 10 p. m. Wednesday in West Texas hospital. The father is a student at Texas Tech.

letter was received, he also would be willing to have a meeting between them in Austin with legal advisors to work out the actual wording of amendments to the code to be presented in the legislature.

CORBIN HEADS GROUP TO HANDLE WATER PROPOSALS

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (AP) — West Texas legislators met here tonight and appointed "floor managers" for a proposed revamping of the Texas water priority laws.

The meeting was called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. And the principal speaker was Joe James, WTCC research director.

Representative W. H. Rampy of Winters was selected to direct the progress of water bills in the House Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa was named for the upper House. Twenty-one West Texas lawmakers were present.

"The greatest obstacle facing West Texas cities is adequate water supply," James told the group. "The only purpose of this meeting is to ask you to consult us on any bill affecting water resources to see what we know about it."

Recently WTCC directors met in Amarillo and voiced strong protest against a new surface water code proposed by the Texas Water Conservation association. They contend that "water belongs where it falls and that water must not escape from West Texas for other uses."

E. V. Spence, chairman of the State Water board said tonight his advice to West Texas was to "impound water for your cities now before others get vestive rights.

Copies of the proposed TWCA surface water code were distributed to the legislature today. It probably will be presented tomorrow or early next week.

Committee Appointments Delay Legislation

Legislature In Session Less Than 18 Hours Since Jan. 11

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 26—The 51st legislature has worked less than 18 official hours since it convened Jan. 11.

The legislature has held business sessions nine of the 16 days since convening. House sessions have totaled approximately 17 hours; Senate sessions 14½ hours.

That is an average of 1 hour, 53 minutes per day for the House and 1 hour, 36 minutes per day for the Senate during the nine days. Legislators are paid $10 a day for the first 120 days of the session regardless of whether they conduct business or not.

Hourly Pay Rate Figured

The rate of pay for hours actually in session thus far is $5.30 an hour for representatives and $6.25 an hour for senators.

Why so little work these first 16 days?

Legislators place most of the blame on the fact House committees have not been named. Bills can not be introduced in the House until the commtitees are ready to handle legislation.

But most legislators have not been critical of Speaker Durwood Manford, who has the job of appointing committees. He must place 149 members on 43 committees ranging in size from 5 to 21, taking into consideration the desires, capabilities and political leanings of the representatives.

Manford hopes to announce committees Monday. That will be about as fast as previous speakers have been able to do the job. He has been at a disadvantage because the speakership race was not settled until the day the session began.

Solon Suggests Remedy

Rep. Bill Jameson of El Paso suggested two ways to remedy the situation.

"The House could hold an unofficial caucus before the legislative sessions begin and determine who will be speaker. Then he could go to work on appointments. The Senate uses the caucus system to determine its president pro tem, and the caucus method is used to settle the House speakership in Congress," Jameson said.

"Or we might change the law to make the speaker of the House elective just like the lieutenant governor. After all, the speaker has to do about as much campaigning as the lieutenant governor. He has to get around to see members all over the state."

Jameson also suggested that the chief clerk of the House be allowed to send out committee preference cards to representatives immediately after their election so the speaker could have that information well in advance of the session.

Court Acquits Mexican National Accused Of Slaying Countryman

MARFA, Jan. 26 (AP) — Celestino Perez, 27, Mexican national charged with murder in the rock slaying of another Mexican national, was declared innocent by a Presidio county jury today.

The verdict of acquittal was returned at 5:15 p.m.

Perez was charged with murder in the death of Francisco Ramos, struck in the head by a thrown rock, April 6, 1943.

The case attracted unusual attention because Perez maintained he had served a term in the Chihuahua, Mexico, penitentiary for the slaying of Ramos then voluntarily returned to the United States.

S. M. Swearingen, Marfa, was the court-appointed attorney for Perez.

The verdict was returned after 30 minutes deliberation by the jury.

Prominent Attorney Dies Of Heart Attack In Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 26. (AP) —Bert King, prominent Wichita Falls attorney and Democratic party leader, died of a heart attack here this afternoon. He was a member of the law firm of King, Dawson and Jones.

King, 65 years old, was on his way to his office today for the first time following a week's illness. He collapsed in a barber shop in the building where he had his office and died within a few minutes.

He was an ardent Roosevelt Democrat and was a national delegate in 1940. In 1944 at Dallas he fought conspicuously in retaining Texas Democratic control for the Roosevelt forces. He had been a delegate to the state Democratic convention regularly for almost 30 years.

King was graduated from the University of Texas in law in 1912 and became county attorney for Baylor county that year. He became county judge for Baylor county in 1914 and in 1918 moved to Wichita Falls.

Tooth Decay Taking Heavy Toll In U. S.; Suggestions Offered

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—That buzzing noise which sounds like a great number of termites, busy at work, is really the sound made by the 22,000,000 teeth that are decaying this year in the heads of U. S. moppets from six to 18.

And if you're curious as to how a bum like me comes by as erudite a cluster of figures as that, well, I'm on the mailing list of the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., a non-profit, educational organization which every now and then issues a pamphlet teaching me something about the human body.

Warning Is Given

The newest one "Your Teeth—How To Save Them" is a slightly alarming tract written by Herbert Yahraes. The pamphlet has a lot of things to say about those curious ivory-like tusks with which the average human being is first, primitively endowed some eight months before birth. For instance:

By the time the average American is 30 he has only 12 healthy unfilled teeth instead of 32. Fifteen out of every 100 U. S. adults wear artificial choppers and another 20 ought to.

We seem to know less about teeth than any other part of the anatomy. Of 80 public school textbooks recently examined by dental authorities, almost all carried misleading information. Most of these books, for example, urged the drinking of milk as a guard against tooth decay. Milk helps the body; doesn't do the teeth a lick of good in the decay department.

Early Care Needed

Children's faces are shaped by the care (or lack of care) of their baby teeth. At the age of six, the primary teeth are pushed out of the way by the permanent ones, and 12 more, the permanent molars, begin to sprout. All but four per cent of all Americans have some sort of tooth decay by the time they are five years old!

Mr. Yahraes, tampering with the libel law, blames this chiefly on a culprit named nature. Nature, the scoundrel, just hasn't compensated for modern foods by giving our teeth enough enamel. Some allies of an erring nature, a gang of germs named lactobacillus acidophilus, war on all teeth night and day—as eager to find an opening as a high-school drama critic.

"Love that sugar," each little lactobacilli mutters evilly as he flits through the mouth. For that reason the pamphlet urges those interested in having good teeth to use sweets moderately, and watch the diet. Things good for both you and unharmful to your teeth:

Milk and milk products, meat, fish, poultry, eggs, butter or fortified (whatever that is) margarine, green and yellow vegetables, citrus fruits, fruit.

Study Is Surprising

Curiously, U. S. dental investigators, looking into the mouths of 4,000 Italian war refugees who were grossly undernourished, found strikingly fewer cavities than in a country which is the last word in plush dentistry and which spends $80,000,000 a year on tooth paste, powders and liquids.

The same was true of Dutch and British children, and of American prisoners who emerged from Japanese prison camps. The inescapable conclusion, the pamphlet states, was that they were denied an abundance of sweets—if they got any at all.

A University of California survey showed that the diets of 122 students free from cavities consumed only half as much sugar and sugar-containing products and produce as did 122 with an addiction for same. Smoking, by the way, doesn't hurt the teeth. Just gives them the delightful sepia tone of Citation's grinders.

Brushing the teeth doesn't stop decay, our painless pamphleteer asserts, which time I hereafter plan to save and devote to a novel that has been kicking around in my head for a time: A story about a handsome blackhaired union blockade runner, a rake at heart, who wooes a wasp-tempered southern belle I shall call Scarlet.

Brushing mainly helps the gums, it seems. Eating an apple is as good an investment in oral hygiene as brushing. Care should also be exercized in using dental floss, and everybody should move to a town whose water supply contains at least one part fluorine for one million parts water.

Either that or demand of the city fathers that they buy some of the stuff and dump it in the reservoir. Fluorine is a super preservative for your crockery.

Also, get around to your dentist twice a year. If everybody goes, that is, everybody who needs work done on their teeth in this country, the national bill would be $7,000,000,000. Yeah, seven billion, the man said.

It is estimated that 97 per cent of people who live beyond midlife develop bone and joint changes characteristic of arthritis and rheumatism.

Johnston Backs World Program

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26. (INS)—Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, tonight proposed a world-wide industrialization program, with American capital, techniques and know-how teaming up with capital and manpower abroad.

His idea was set forth in a talk before the 58th annual banquet of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, a meeting at which Earle V. Grover, a steel company head, was installed as new president of the chamber.

Plan Not Imperialism

Johnston's proposal was an elaboration of a proposition first advanced in his book, "We're All In It." He said his plan was "partnership and not imperialism, it is co-operation and not exploitation, it's the 20th century Democratic way of raising the living standards of the peoples of the world."

The film group executive offered his plan as a program to put into effect when ERP comes to an end in 1952.

He rallied for the formation of a world economic development corporation to utilize fully all of the world's natural and human resources.

He said the plan would mean "organizing for recovery, for reclamation, for intelligent land use and for the proper flow of capital."

Johnston asked that the suggested corporation be backed by billion-dollar government fund to protect investors against nationalization and confiscation, but not against normal business risks.

He said the development corporation idea already was working very successfully through an international corporation set up by Nelson Rockefeller for operation in South America.

Mistrial Declared In Damages Action

A 72nd district court petit jury reported Wednesday afternoon to Judge Dan Blair that it was unable to answer one of two special issues submitted to it by the court in the debt and damages action of Bob Robinson against W. C. Roberts.

The court dismissed the jury and declared a mistrial.

The case was tried Tuesday. E. I. Shelton was foreman of the jury.

Evidence was concluded about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday in the action of Jesse Davis and others against Service Finance company, for conversion of an automobile. Judgment of $950, plus $500 in exemplary damages, is asked. Plaintiffs are Slaton negroes.

Judge Blair will have his jury charge completed this morning, after which counsel will argue the case.

The jury is composed of Allen Jones, jr., L. A. Copeland, L. E. Guillot, J. D. McGinnis, Ennis Jernigan, H. D. Keith, Lee Pierce, Cecil White, J. C. Odom, J. C. Massengale, L. O. White, and B. W. Kennedy.

A. W. Salyars and James Denton represent the plaintiffs, Carr and Carr the defendant.

Three Oregon Brothers Admit Series Of Criminal Assaults

ALBANY, Ore., Jan. 26 (INS)—Three brothers admitted today raping five girls and women in the last few months by using such tricks as pouring water into gasoline tanks to get a girl's date out of the way.

They are William John Perkins, 24, an ex-convict; Cletus Perkins, 18, and Merle Clayton Perkins, 16. All live at nearby Silverton. The elder two were bound over to the Linn county grand jury today, with bail $5000 each.

In addition, two counts of sodomy have been filed against William John, the eldest.

Group To Confer On Home Rule Charters

AUSTIN, Jan. 26 (AP) — Citizen groups from Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth will confer here tomorrow on legal steps leading to the writing and submission of county home rule charters.

Dick Connally, secretary of the Dallas County Citizens association, said the study will deal first with the legal possibility of writing and adopting county home rule charters under present constitutional provisions.

If this is considered impossible, then the group will study the outline of a proposed new amendment to authorize such charters, he said.

No question is involved of any movement toward merging city and county governments into single governmental units, members of the Dallas group said.

Widow To Administer Estate Of Prominent Marshall Man

MARSHALL, Jan. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Lou T. Foster, widow of B. B. Foster, prominent Marshall business man who died Sunday, today had been named temporary administratrix.

Mrs. Foster estimated the value of the estate at $500,000.

It was cited that today's action was necessary for the operation of furniture stores in seven East Texas cities.

Foster's will bequeathed a half of the estate to Mrs. Foster and named her trustee for their son, Harold, with full power to handle his half of the properties until he is 21.

The Worst IS YET To Come

It's been cold... but the worst is yet to come.

Some lucky folks are all set with electric blankets already at home. But for the rest ... those who are looking forward to sleeping under a load of blankets this winter... of suffering from a series of colds ... the word is to "go electric."

Electric blankets bring you not only guaranteed sleeping comfort on the coldest nights, but a definite relief from colds. Under a comfortable featherlight electric blanket, you're not exposed to energy-draining nights of cold discomfort.

While the original cost is just a little more, you'll save money on cleaning your single electric blankets, and on storage problems. One night under an electric blanket, and you'll KNOW that you want the many advantages offered you by an electric blanket.

CURBS LONG NEEDED

Senate Filibusters

THE abuses of the filibuster of which the U. S. Senate has been guilty repeatedly are indefensible in a democracy. In theory it serves the commendable purpose of guaranteeing full hearing to minorities upon any controversial proposal which might be made. In practice it has been used by minority groups—sometimes by a single senator—to block action favored by the overwhelming majority by talking it to death.

So the Senate now is considering—as it has done dozens of times in the past—changes of procedure which could be applied to put a limit upon debate. Previous attempts to apply such restrictions have failed because too many senators have not known when they might want to resort to the filibuster themselves to block some particularly objectionable legislation. They have regarded it as a sort of ace in the hole available for use, just in case.

But the probabilities appear stronger than in any congressional session in 50 years or longer that the Senate actually may do something to curb or forbid the filibuster. If so, the chief motivating purpose will be to force approval of the President's "civil rights" program over the violent objections of the South.

Something should be done to correct the condition which enables small minorities to defeat the wishes of the majority. The immediate effect unquestionably would be objectionable to the South. But, further down the line, such restrictions should be a step toward guaranteeing that this actually is a government by the majorities. It should improve one of many congressional practices which repeatedly have enabled small minorities to impose their will upon the nation.

If it should do that, the ultimate effect should be to strengthen the United States as a working democracy, regardless of the motives which inspire the action.

'Rainy Day' Surplus

FIRST impressions of many thrifty and practical Texans may be favorable to recent proposals in Austin that a reserve of $50,000,000 or more be maintained in the State treasury for emergencies.

The plan may be sound. Certainly it is common sense for any private business or individual to try to lay something aside for a rainy day. Perhaps a similar precaution would be wise in the government.

But the creation of a treasury reserve like that suggested involves several risks. One is the fact that the existence of a huge sum of cash creates the temptation to spend it. The Texas treasury now holds a surplus of almost $100,000,000. Texans therefore know from actual experience that someone constantly is dreaming up some pretended "emergency" as an excuse for getting their hands on the reserve.

The risk involved in a commitment to maintain a reserve for "emergencies" is that taxpayers would be faced continually with the demand to replenish the fund in order to make up for drains upon it. The reserve would mean another temptation to spend, and would make the spending much easier. The legislature would have a pile of cash into which it could dig instead of going to the taxpayers for extra money.

The realistic view argues, therefore, for hesitancy in approving the emergency reserve plan. Texans probably will save money if they reject it and if they discourage the excessive taxes which have been necessary to the accumulation of the present State treasury surplus.

"A pill that will alleviate hunger is now available." Just the same, as long as we may be able to afford to do so, we're going to continue to alleviate our hunger with food.

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: When sixteen-year-old Merry Carson learns that her dashing father, Kin, has asked her selfish mother, Susan, for a divorce, her whole world turns topsy-turvy. Kin leaves home and Susan goes to pieces. Aunt Jane comes to look after things. The doctor advises a change for Susan and they take her to St. Vincent's, an inland resort. Here Susan buys a house from Carter Bagby. Carson treats her gallantly and Susan begins to perk up. But when Kin phones Merry to spend a couple of days with him in their home town, Susan makes a scene. Merry, however says she is going.)

XIII

MERRY was at the airport the following afternoon when the big passenger plane set itself down and taxied to a stop. She watched, eager-eyed and breathless, as the passengers began to appear, and then suddenly cried out like a happy child, "Dad! Dad—here I am!"

She raced to meet him and flung herself into arms that closed tightly about her and clung to him for a glorious few moments that seemed to wipe out a surprising amount of the ache of loneliness she had felt for him.

"Here, let me look at you! I don't know this very soignee young lady!" protested Kin a trifle wryly, as he held her off.

Merry crowded back into the circle of his arms and rubbed her soft cheek kittenwise against his.

"Oh, it's still me, Dad. It's just a new paint job! Also a new hairdo, and I'm using lipstick now—the won't-rub-off so-help-me kind. It's the same old me inside!" she told him breathlessly. "But I do graduate, Dad—that is, not here, but I finished my course at St. Vincent's—a super-duper, very frantic private tutoring job. And I dare any old college we choose to turn thumbs down on me!"

Kin laughed, and they followed his baggage across to the taxi ranks.

"Where's the car?" he asked, puzzled.

"I came up on the bus," answered Merry. "We'll have to take a taxi."

A cab drew up and Kin stowed her inside, saw his luggage in place, climbed in beside her, and asked the question Merry had been expecting from the first, "How is Susan?"

"Busy," said Merry, and added swiftly, "We've bought a house, you know."

Kin said dryly, "Yes, I know. I got the bill for it."

Merry caught her breath and her eyes widened.

"But, Dad, I thought you made a settlement on Mother!"

"I did, but apparently Susan felt that it wasn't enough," said Kin ruefully.

There was a moment of silence, and then Merry asked reluctantly, "Can you afford it, Dad?"

Kin slipped her hand in his and gave it a friendly squeeze.

"Of course, provided she doesn't make a habit of it," he answered lightly. "I just had to do a bit of rearranging of plans, that's all. But let's not talk about it. It's all been attended to, anyway.

THE taxi was swinging down the main street of Marshallville now, approaching the hotel, and Merry was looking with eager eyes at all the old, beloved scenes.

Kin watched her his eyes fond and tender, obviously delighted with her and as glad to see her again as she was to see him. There was a reservation for them at the hotel, and as they crossed the lobby, they were greeted with surprise and pleasure by old friends. And when they had been shown to the suite of two rooms with a private sitting room, Merry was bright-eyed and glowing with excitement.

"I have an appointment with Jeff Layne, chick," Kin told her once they had been settled in their suite. "I'll run over and see him and be back in time for dinner. Okay by you?"

"Of course, darling. I'll have time for a shower and some fresh clothes by then." She laughed and stood on tiptoe to kiss him, and to say breathlessly, "Oh, Dad, I am so glad to see you. I've missed you like the dickens."

Kin said huskily, "I've missed you, too, chick. And I've got something to discuss with you the first spare moment we have. I'll try to get back as early as I can. Meet me downstairs in an hour and a half, will you, honey?"

"All prettied up and with my hair slicked back," she promised him gaily, and closed the door behind him.

SHE went to the window and leaned out as far as she dared, to see as much of Marshallville as she could. Because Marshallville was home. While Merry liked St. Vincents and loved the charming, friendly new house, it would never hold the same place in her affections that Marshallville had. Not even to herself would she admit that Tip Kennedy had any part in that affection or that memory.

She turned away at last and went about the business of removing travel stains and dressing for dinner. Marshallville did not quite rise to evening dress in the hotel dining room, so she selected a new frock of candy-pink chambray that was devastatingly becoming and definitely had "the new look," with its longer skirt, a pleated flounce that gave a demure glimpse of an eyelet-embroidered petticoat ruffle; tiny cap-sleeves, a low, square neckline and a fitted bodice. With her burnished brown hair swept up in a soft knot of curls and a sprig of baby snapdragon broken from the bowl on the dressing table tucked into her hair, she decided that she looked nice enough to make her father proud of her, which, of course, was her chief aim tonight.

She stepped out of the elevator into the lobby a few moments before the time her father had mentioned, and Tip Kennedy, sitting watching the elevator door, rose and came to meet her.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

THIS is a most important column.

It covers an inauguration.

Not President Truman's inauguration.

BRANDEIS

You read all about that with headlines, with pictures. You heard it on the radio, saw it on television.

But this is a different inauguration.

It is the inauguration of my new typewriter.

"Is the fellow crazy?" you may rightfully ask, "comparing the inauguration of his new typewriter with a Presidential inauguration?"

What is crazy about it?

If I had my old typewriter overhauled and did a lot of celebrating about it, that would be crazy.

Just as an elaborate Presidential inauguration with all its expense and all its fanfare would in my opinion, be justified only if it inaugurated a brand-new President.

However, that is not what I want to talk about.

I want to tell you about my new typewriter.

This is the first column being written on it.

My old typewriter was almost twenty-seven years old.

The keys were worn out. The spacing had become irregular. (Ed. note: Erich, you said a mouthful!) Ribbon after ribbon got fuzzy after using it a few weeks. The thing made a terrific racket.

But I hated to part with it. It had served me well.

The original price of that machine had been around seventy-five dollars.

The new one cost $149.

"How much will you allow me on the old one?" I asked the typewriter man.

He looked the serial number up in the book.

It didn't show. Too old.

But he took a chance. He gave me ten dollars out of his own pocket in the hope of finding a su - - - (pardon the error), a customer for it.

WHICH reminds me of an experience a writer friend of mine had.

He, too, needed a new typewriter. The dealer allowed him only five dollars on his old one. "No good." "Worn out." "Ready for the junk heap." That's what the dealer said about my friend's old typewriter.

A few days later he went into the same dealer's store.

There, on a counter, was his old machine, all shined up, with a sign on it "A wonderful bargain! As good as new! $75.00. tax included."

Two days later he went back. The machine was gone.

Sold at $75, the clerk told him.

I guess that is what you call supply and demand.

You ought to see all the gadgets on this new machine of mine. Everything is done with a flick of a key.

Everything but the thinking. That's still done the old fashioned way.

DOCUMENTS ARE COSTLY

Federal Waste Scored

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee's survey of the federal government's publishing activities reveals that the printing of official documents has become an extravagant and wasteful and chaotic business.

The annual cost now reaches $55,000,000, which does not include the charge for writing and editing more than 40,000 reports, pamphlets and other papers. Nor does it take into account millions of mimeographed forms.

TUCKER

In view of the tremendous shortage and cost of white paper, federal officials' carelessness in this neglected field strikes the Senate investigators as "appalling," to quote the comment of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, who began the inquiry when he headed the committee.

That Appropriations instead of the committee charged with keeping tabs on government expenditures should undertake this task shows Congressional concern over this prodigious "paper work."

WASTE: Huge stocks of unused, unnecessary and undistributed booklets of no general interest or value clutter government warehouses, shelves, office aisles and corners, or they are sold in bulk to junk dealers for $38 a ton.

Here are a few samples of the needless waste of precious paper, not to mention the man hours of work and printing costs involved:

Fifteen hundred copies of a 170-page Public Health Service document are now in dead storage. Only fifty-one copies have been asked for in the last three years. It was printed in 1937.

Only 113 copies of a batch of 1950, issued by the same agency in 1942, have been given out. There are from 20,000 to 30,000 surplus booklets printed at request of Interior's Fish and Wildlife branch. Agriculture cannot dispose of numerous publications totalling from 70,000 to 100,000 each.

CHITS: The departments with the heaviest publishing costs are: Army, $8,600,000; Navy, $4,900,000; Treasury, $5,000,000; Veterans' Administration, $4,000,000

In Washington alone there are sixty-one printing and duplicating plants. There are twenty-three in San Francisco, twenty-five in Philadelphia, sixteen in Chicago, six in Kansas City, six in Denver, sixteen in New York, and many others elsewhere.

The Army and Air Force own 140, the Navy 87, Commerce 26 and Interior 15, to mention only the worst offenders.

A human interest angle is the fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt's addiction to "chits," scribbled messages to his aides around Washington, set every minor official to imitating the "big boss."

When Mr. Roosevelt mentioned that he had sent or written a "chit" on some question at an early press conference, both the word and the act became the vogue. Now, everybody writes a "chit," instead of telephoning or walking a few doors to the office of the recipient.

PIGEON: Here are a few of the titles of pamphlets which, for obvious reasons, cannot be sold or given away:

Recipes for Cooking Muskrat; Attracting Birds; Interaction of Sex, Shape and Weight Genes in Watermelons; Directions for Poisoning Thirteen-Striped Ground Squirrels: Habits and Economic Status of the Band-Tailed Pigeon; Deer Mortality from Gunshot Wounds—and The Sponge Industry in Turkey.

Basic explanation for publication of these and many other worthless tracts, according to the committee findings, is that nobody in authority in the downtown departments exercises any supervision in this field. It seems that if an over-enthusiastic expert on some subject feels the urge to unwind his mind, he just lets go at the taxpayers' expense.

BLAME: Congress must share part of the blame for these unnecessary expenditures.

It had a check on overprinting some years ago when it had a committee for "the disposition of useless papers." That body reported periodically on waste of newsprint. But nobody wanted to serve on such a peculiarly named committee, and it was abolished.

Nor do many ambitious members now care for the tedious, non-sensational task of giving taxpayers, schools, business houses and publishers a better break by conserving the supply of precious, scarce and costly white paper.

The $55,000,000 annual printing bill may seem like "small change" in these days of a $41,900,000,000 budget, but that sum would build almost 1,000 modern bombers.

ELECTRIFICATION: One of President Truman's principal charges against the "do nothing 80th Congress" was that it cut appropriations for the extension of rural electrification facilities. This indictment of Republican legislators contributed to his victory in several normally GOP farm states.

The annual report of Rural Electrification Administrator Claude R. Wickard, however, refutes this criticism. The number of new REA members increased by 420,000 in 1948, twice as large as the gain in 1940's peak year. Funds advanced in 1949 totalled $246,235,957. The previous top was $190,085,857 in 1947. Almost seventy per cent of the nation's farms are electrified—4,019,746 in comparison with 743,954 on January 1, 1935.

Texas, Missouri, Minnesota and Wisconsin, in that order, lead in the total amounts of money they have borrowed from REA. All gave their electoral votes to President Truman.

PLEDGES: "Would you please state in your column," asks A.H.C. of Jerome, Id., "the places and dates of the 'Big Three' meetings attended by F.D.R., Stalin and Churchill? Which was the 'Big Three' meeting at which Franklin D. Roosevelt pledged asistance to the Jews, and then turned against them, secretly for the time being, and later openly, by favoring the Arabs?"

Answer: The only conferences which Stalin attended were at Teheran and Yalta. They were held in November of 1943 and February of 1944, respectively.

I do not believe that F.D.R. made any specific pledges on Palestine at any of these meetings. As I recall, on the eve of the 1944 election, he wrote a letter to Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, who was also seeking reelection in that year, in which Mr. Roosevelt promised that he would strive for a Jewish homeland.

The Democrats were fearful that Governor Dewey of New York would carry the Empire state, and the Palestine proclamation was regarded as a smart political gesture.

Subsequently, and after Mr. Roosevelt's death, there was published a letter from him to King Ibn Saud of Sudi Arabia, in which F.D.R. declared that there would be no Palestine settlement detrimental to Arabian interests.

FIGHT ON FILIBUSTER PUSHED

Barkley Urges Change In Rules

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Until 1940 it was customary for the vice president-elect to take the oath of office in the Senate chamber before the assembled senators, the president-elect himself, and other dignitaries, in advance of the swearing-in of the president-elect at the front door of the Capitol outside.

This ceremony was a sort of introduction of the vice president to the body over which he would preside thereafter. He would make an inaugural address of his own, and the affair usually passed off pleasantly and very rarely with the excitement, for example, that Andrew Jackson stirred up on such an occasion in 1865, so history tells us, by the speech he made.

STOKES

There was another surprising and somewhat tempestuous scene in the Senate chamber in our own time. That was 24 years ago at the swearing-in of Vice President Charles G. Dawes, who served under Calvin Coolidge in the latter's second term. Instead of making the usual routine address of good will and sweet nothings, Mr. Dawes launched into a tirade against the moribund rules of the Senate that permitted filibusters. He bluntly demanded an effective cloture rule to limit debate.

Solons Were Shocked

The assembled senators literally were shocked at such a lecture, especially from an outsider who, though distinguished in war and government service, never had been a member of Congress, one of their own, but a businessman and banker.

When they recovered, which took a little time, they issued haughty statements—and, of course, never did anything about reforming procedure, nor has anything been done since. The Senate takes its privileges most seriously, even if the public finds it hard to do so.

It is time for somebody to deliver that lecture again. Nobody, of course, expected it from Alben W. Barkley, our new vice president. He is too old a hand around the Senate and too much the Kentucky gentleman. Nor did he. But, in the course of a few pleasantries from the Senate rostrum when he made his first appearance in his new role, he showed that the Dawes dilemma is much on his mind, too, as it is on that of the administration. After he had bestowed the usual praise on the Senate of being "the greatest deliberative body in the world," he interjected that often, after observing the length of debates, he had thought it also the "most" deliberative body in the world. He let the matter rest with that gentle hint.

But the matter won't rest. It is of the utmost importance now to the administration and its future because of the solemn pledges for civil rights legislation which won many voters to Harry S. Truman. Unless something is done to limit debate and stop filibusters it is hard to see how anything much can be done about civil-liberties bills. For southerners are ready to talk them to death again. That mandate of the election did not penetrate below the Mason and Dixon line.

Just before Vice President Barkley made his little speech the Senate Rules committee began to wrestle with the problem. The crux of the whole difficulty is that under present rules a filibuster can be started merely against a motion to take up a bill or resolution. Thus a filibuster can keep a resolution to change the rules from going before the Senate for action.

Administration On Spot

The aim of all the numerous proposals before the Rules committee is to apply cloture to such motions as well as bills and resolutions, so the only difference is whether a two-thirds or only a majority vote should be required.

The administration is truly in a delemma. For obvious reasons it wants to proceed as swiftly as possible in this session and get some of its social reform measures on the statute books. But, if it forces the rules change and civil rights issue, it will start a filibuster that not only will delay those measures but will antagonize the sensitive southerners whose votes are needed on other measures.

There is one other way, the "sweating-out" method. That is to bring the issue forward and hold the Senate in session day and night to try to break a filibuster. That might take a long time. But if the party means what it says, it will have to come to that sooner or later to show its good faith. The further it gets away from the election, the harder it will be to get what it wants, and likewise, the closer it gets to the next election two years from now without doing something, the more dangerous that will be politically for the party.

No wonder the vice-president slipped in that reminder of the problem of his own party—and a problem for himself.

FOR SALE AT LOVINGTON, NEW MEXICO—COUNTY SEAT OF LEA COUNTY
193 Acres of good farm land—150 acres under cultivation—planted in cotton last year. Two irrigation wells on this tract. Land adjoins the town of Lovington, part of it within the town limits, main house situated ½ mile from the school. The house is one of the finest in Lea County. Has nine large rooms, beautiful hardwood floors, gas furnace, basement and wide porches. It is surrounded by evergreen and other trees. Water supply from two wind mills and an electric pump. Double garage with modern three-room house adjoining. Large poultry house and other outbuildings. Private swimming pool and two other pools. Am retaining oil lease but will give a small amount of royalty. Will sell house with improvements and ten acres for $30,000.00. House alone could not be built for less than $50,000.00. Remaining 183 farm acres at $250.00 per acre makes total price $75,750.00. Will take $70,000.00 with ¼ down. Rest in easy payments. Interest 5%. STEEL TRADING ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. (AP)—U. S. Steel common stock was the toast of today's market.

Orders to buy streamed into the exchange and raised the price 4⅝ points to 77½. The buying rush was touched off by news that directors had voted a special $1 common dividend and recommended to stockholders a proposal to split the stock on the basis of three shares for one. In addition, the company reported the largest earnings in 1948 since 1929.

Interest in big steel appeared to spread to other steel stocks. The balance of the market, though, turned in a sloppy performance.

While leading steels moved up fractions to around 3 points, other key issues showed a majority of losses running to above a point.

"X" the ticker tape symbol for U. S. Steel common, didn't appear on the tape until 35 minutes after the gong had sounded which opens trade on the exchange. The first trade, for 15,000 shares, was at 76½, an overnight gain of 3⅝ points.

Reason for the delay was the stack of buy orders which had piled up since the steel company had made its announcement late the previous day. There weren't enough orders to sell available immediately. Exchange officials stepped in to give the specialist a hand and the opening price was finally agreed upon.

The opening gain was soon trimmed. In late trading, however, another surge of demand developed and the price mounted. The final quotations were high for the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .2 of one point to 65.2, the third average decline in a row. Of the 990 issues which appeared on the ticker tape, 441 declined and 299 advanced.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. Nearby March and May, which sold at a premium over the balance of the market, encountered profit taking and hedging. Offerings were well absorbed, however, through buying by spot firms against export sales and also for mill account. New crop deliveries were steady.

A new ECA credit of $8,000,000 was granted to Italy for cotton purchases here, according to Washington reports. This would cover an estimated 45,000 bales of cotton.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced early here today but gradually sagged under profit-taking from the long side and scattered hedge selling. Closing prices were steady, 40 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 10 designated southern spot markets was 25 cents a bale lower at 32.84 cents a pound, average for the past 30 market days 32.49; middling 7/8ths-inch average 30.35.

Livestock

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26 (AP) — Cattle 250; calves 150; trade uneven, mostly steady; medium to good slaughter steers, yearlings and heifers 18.00-24.00; common kinds down to 16.50; butcher and beef cows 15.00-17.50; canners and cutters 10.00-15.00; bulls mostly 15.00-19.50; odd head to 21.50; good and choice fat calves 22.00-24.00; common and medium 16.50-21.00; culls 15.00-16.50; few stocker steer yearlings 18.00-23.50; older stockers scarce.

Hogs 200; mostly steady; feeder pigs dull; top 20.00 paid for good and choice 190-280 lb. butchers; most offerings medium to good light and medium weights 18.00-19.00; sows 15.50-16.00.

Sheep 500; mostly shorn slaughter lambs 50c higher; few club lambs steady; medium to choice wooled lambs 23.00-24.00; about 500 good 88-lb. shorn slaughter lambs, No. 3 pelts, 22.50.

Grain

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.34¾-39¾.
Oats No. 2 white $1¼-92¾.
Corn No. 2 white 1.75-76.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs. 2.67-72.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP) — Grains made an attempt at a rally today and then gave it up as too big a job. The market opened lower, advanced above the previous close around noon, and then sold off again in the last hour of trading.

Selling was most pronounced in the near-by deliveries and one result was that July corn went to a premium over May. All oats contracts, as well as December wheat, sank to new lows since trading in these contracts started.

Wheat closed 1 to 1⅞ lower, May $2.19¼-⅛, corn was 1¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.41⅞-1.42, oats were 1 to 1⅜ lower, May 70¾-⅞, rye was 2 to 2¼ lower, May $1.61¼, soybeans were ⅛-1½ lower, March $2.44¼-½, and lard was 12 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.57-14.58.
