Texaco Gets Shows In Spraberry At Upton Prospector

The Texas Company found some shows for possible production from the lower Spraberry on a drillstem test in its No. 1-AA State of Texas, wildcat between the Benedict and Flat Rock-multipay fields of East-Central Upton County.

The test was taken in the interval from 7,339 to 7,530 feet. Tool was open two hours and 55 minutes. Gas surfaced in 18 minutes. Recovery was 800 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Had Good Shows
The top 300 feet was slightly oil cut and the bottom 300 feet was heavily oil cut. No formation water was present.

Operator was running electric logs at total depth 7,530 feet. Location is 1,999 feet from north and 2,097 feet from east lines of section 18, block 3, University survey and two and one-half miles northeast of the Flat Rock field and three miles southeast of the Benedict pool. It is 10 miles northeast of Rankin.

Armer To Re-Enter Gulf Dry Hole In N-E Crane Sector

L. H. Armer is making plans to re-enter and drill out to 11,000 feet an Ellenburger failure in North-Central Crane County.

It will be drilled out as No. 1-EE TXL. It was plugged under that well number and fee by Gulf Oil Corporation on total depth of 12,350 feet.

Armer plans to try to complete the well from the Devonian in the section from 9,910 to 10,900 feet. Some shows of oil were logged when that formation was drilled through.

The Ellenburger made sulphur water. Drilling is 1,990 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block 43, T-4-S, T&P survey. Elevation at drillsite is 2,760 feet. Site is 16 miles northwest of the town of Crane.

Spraberry Oiler Extends Field In NW Reagan

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Nunn, one and three-quarter mile south extension to the Weimer-Floyd field of Northwest Reagan County, was completed for a daily flowing potential of 358.86 barrels of 38.9-gravity oil plus 16.14 barrels of water.

Completion was through casing perforations opposite the Spraberry at 6,588-6,595 feet and at 7,360-7,372 feet. Potential test was taken through a 35/64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 704-1.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 3, block B, L&SV survey.

Sohio Schedules Spraberry Test In SW Glasscock

In an undeveloped area between two portions of the Driver-Spraberry field in Southwest Glasscock County, Sohio Petroleum Company spotted location for its No. 1-C M. V. Bryans.

Drillsite is 1,997 feet from west and 1,994 feet from south lines of section 8, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey and 22 miles southwest of Garden City.

Closest producer to the new site is one and one-quarter miles to the east. The closest well northwest of No. 1-C Bryans is one and one-half miles away.

Contracted to 7,800 feet to test the lower Spraberry, operations are to start by June 10.

Jones & Stasney Stake Wildcat In C-W Cottle Area

Twelve miles west of Paducah and in Central-West Cottle County, Jones & Stasney of Albany will drill No. 1 U. L. Willie as a 6,500-foot wildcat.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 6, John H. Stephens survey.

New Depth Set For Wildcat In Yoakum Sector

J. W. Murchison and Leland Fikes No. 1 Mattie Neely, active wildcat in South-Central Yoakum County, has a new destination.

The project, originally started out as an 11,500-foot wildcat, has been

All Texas Gets Soil-Soaking Rain

Heavy Winds Lash Sections Of Gulf Coast

A twister leveled two houses and caused four injuries at Rio Hondo, and winds caused minor property damage at Corpus Christi Wednesday as drench-breaking rains continued in many parts of the state.

Rio Hondo is in the lower Rio Grande Valley, north-east of Harlingen.

The small twister cut through the town at 6 a.m. It leveled the two houses, damaged several others, and injured Mrs. Camilla E. Lopez, 32.

She was taken to Valley Baptist Hospital with a broken leg, concussion, and bruises. Her three-room frame dwelling was demolished and scattered over a 300-yard area.

Her husband, Ambroccio; her small son and daughter, and the children's nurse, also were in the building when the storm struck. The children and the nurse received minor injuries, were treated at the hospital and released.

The storm did extensive damage to crops in the Rio Hondo area, and knocked out power lines in the vicinity. A revival tent was blown down and several small buildings were overturned and moved from their foundations.

Rio Hondo is about 15 miles inland from the Gulf, and no major communities were believed in the path of the twister as it headed over the flat, Gulf coastlands.

Snyder, in West Texas, reported 1.2 inches of rain and some lightning and wind damage. And San Angelo's long-standing water shortage eased. Rains in that West Texas section ranged up to two and three inches on Dove and Spring

OPS To Okay New, Higher Food Ceilings

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government is expected to announce Wednesday night ceiling price boosts of about a penny each for a wide range of food items.

That's how much the Office of Price Stabilization estimated the increases would bring to the grocer—although it said the nation's food bill would go up about $100,000,000 a year under the new ceilings.

These figures were challenged by four food distribution groups which said the adjustments would have little effect on prices. They said that if the grocers got all ceiling boosts they are seeking it would cost the consumer only about five cents a week per person.

"OPS is using scare tactics in an effort to perpetuate controls," said a statement by the National Association of Retail Grocers, the Co-operative Food Distributors of America, the National Association of Food Chains and the Super Market Institute.

The OPS order will authorize higher margins for all retail food stores—both chains and independents.

Wide Range Of Items
OPS officials said the action is necessary because earnings of the grocers have declined.

Affected will be some of the items in this wide range of foods: Dry cereals, canned vegetables and soups, pickles, vinegar, olives, most canned meats and processed fish such as smoked fish and herring, oleomargarine, cookies and crackers, frozen foods, jams and jellies, canned fruits and others. Tuna and salmon are not included.

Regular civilian traffic continued to flow normally, but a new formula for transit visas adopted by the Reds Tuesday could choke off traffic between West Berlin and the Bonn republic at any time.

The new visa formula tears up an agreement between the Western powers and Russia which had allowed West Berlin and West German authorities to issue interzonal passes for transit travel through the Russian zone in either direction.

The move had the following significance:
1. Every truck driver, railroad employe or canal barge operator traveling through the area is at East Germany's mercy.
2. The 2,200,000 West Berliners can be virtually cut off from travel into or through the surrounding Soviet zone.

RYDER, LITTLE BEAVER COMING
Red Ryder and Little Beaver will attend the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, which opens next Wednesday.

Fred Harman, the artist who draws the popular comic strip characters whose Wild West antics appear daily in The Reporter-Telegram, Tuesday advised Delbert Downing, C. of C. manager, he will be here to participate in Midland Rodeo activities.

The invitation to attend the celebration here was extended by Tommie Wilson, Midland merchant and rancher, who has a place joining the Red Ryder Ranch in Colorado.

C. Of C. Committee Revives County Exhibit Building Plans
A proposal to finance the erection of an exhibit building here again may be placed before Midland County voters this year if plans of a Chamber of Commerce Exhibit Buildings Committee are carried to completion.

R. L. Miller, chairman presided at a meeting of the committee Tuesday afternoon when it was decided to proceed with the project, investigating first legal aspects and the possibility of submitting a petition asking the Commissioners Court to call a bond issue election.

A similar proposal was defeated by a small margin three years ago. The proposal has the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce. Miller exhibited plans for a building 308 feet long and 160 feet wide. He said the building perhaps will cost upwards of $200,000. The structure would seat 3,800 persons and would serve multiple uses, including the staging of stock shows, exhibits and shows of all kinds, athletic contests, entertainment events, banquets, oil shows, flower shows, and meetings, conventions and gatherings.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing discussed the varied benefits to be derived from such a building, and mentioned numerous meetings and events which could be held in it.

"Midland is a natural meeting place," he said in discussing further the need of adequate meeting facilities.

"Midland needs an exhibit building the worst I ever saw," Stanley Erskine, a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

Park Tie-Up Suggested
City Councilman Ray O. Howard suggested the proposed project be included in the overall park program being considered by the city

TAFT STEAMROLLER IN ACTION—Faced with a split between Taft and Eisenhower factions, Mrs. Ralph Currie and Edward T. Dicker, top, with microphones, rally their Eisenhower forces with the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" after the State Executive Committee voted, 46-14, to seat a Taft delegation at Mineral Wells. Walter Rogers, bottom, a Taft leader in Texas, presents a Taft delegation's case, charging Taft forces have been harassed by mass infiltration of Democrats supporting Ike.

Texas Democrats, Republicans Each Put Two Shows On Road To Chicago

MINERAL WELLS—(P)—Feuding Texas Republicans and Democrats, busy for months in intra-party family fights, have put two shows each on the road.

Each party is sending two sets of delegates to the national conventions in Chicago. Each party is badly split in Texas.

Republicans split over Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Democrats split over the party loyalty pledge. Anti-Administration leader Gov. Allan Shivers opposed the pledge and wanted an unstructured delegation to the national Democratic convention.

Forces of the Loyal Democrats, led by Fagan Dickson of San Antonio and former Rep. Maury Maverick of San Antonio, insisted on delegates pledged to support the party nominee.

To be seated at the July conventions are 38 Texas Republican delegates and 52 Democratic delegates.

The Maverick-Dickson-led Liberals walked out of the Democratic convention at San Antonio without asking a vote. They knew they were hopelessly outnumbered. The Loyalists held a rump meeting and declared they were the "real Democrats" because they took the party pledge.

The official break-up among the Republicans came here when the Ikenen stomped out of the Taft-dominated convention chanting "We want Ike."

They joined their exiled cohorts—the Eisenhower delegates disqualified by the State Executive Committee Monday and again by the State Convention—in a rump convention across the street.

The Taft faction named an unstructured delegation, and one not bound by the unit rule. A recheck of these Wednesday showed 30 delegates known to be for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for President, and four not committed, but with preference for Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Eisenhower convention instructed 33 for Eisenhower and five for Taft. They argued 45 minutes before deciding on the Eisenhower instruction.

In Fighting Mood
They were in a fighting mood, anyway.

Malcolm McCorquodale, Houston attorney who was the Eisenhower convention chairman, declared he had the word their case would be taken to the Republican National Committee.

He said Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts sent word he was "thoroughly disgusted with the Republican State Executive Committee in Texas" and was calling on the national committee "to turn this thing inside out."

Back in Taft Convention Hall, Henry Zweifel, national GOP committeeman from Texas and state Taft campaign director, charged that Lodge had an organization "of

New Deal Democrats trying to cross party lines for the purpose of taking over a conservative Republican organization in Texas."

That was the basis of the reason the Taft-dominated State Executive Committee gave for throwing out Eisenhower delegations in 24 contested counties. They gave Eisenhower two of the contested counties and split two.

New Demo Battle
Both Democratic factions at San Antonio claimed confidence in ultimate victory.

They faced a new series of precinct and county meetings to be climaxed by another state convention in September. The Supreme Court has said that convention may have the last word on what electors cast.

18 Midland County Candidates Neglect Filing Of Initial Accounts Of Expense

Eighteen candidates for Midland County offices faced the possibility Wednesday of losing their places on the July 26 Democratic primary election ballot.

The embarrassing point was raised as the deadline passed for the filing of the initial expense account as required by the state election laws and only a dozen of the 30 candidates had complied with the requirement.

County Clerk Roselle Cherry, with whom the campaign expense statements must be filed every 20 days, beginning 60 days before the primary election, said the deadline for the initial statement was Tuesday.

There is a possibility, she added, that some still may arrive by mail, postmarked before midnight Tuesday.

Frank Bezon, chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee, immediately began a study of the situation and admitted it may result in the filing of a mandamus action to require the executive committee to accept late filings and thus test the 1952 election code.

Under the provisions of the election laws, candidates failing to meet the specified requirements forfeit their right to have their names placed on the primary ballot.

It is the executive committee which is charged with the responsibility of certifying that candidates have met the necessary requirements and with the actual preparation of the ballots.

The list of those who filed expense statements Tuesday included most of the incumbents in county offices, although not all of them.

But in only one race had more than one candidate met the expense statement requirement. The exception was in County Commissioner Precinct No. 4, in which three of the candidates had filed the necessary statements.

If the delinquent candidates' names are stricken from the ballot, it would leave only the lone county commissioner's post contested.

Ike Convention Names Midlanders

Richard E. Hughston, Midland County Republican chairman, was named Tuesday as a District 16 delegate to the National Republican Convention by the Eisenhower GOP convention in Mineral Wells.

Jack E. Bliss, also of Midland, was named an alternate delegate-at-large to the national convention.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

FORT WORTH—(P)—A giant B-36 bomber exploded and burst into flames as it hit a runway at Carswell Air Force Base at 12:05 p.m. Wednesday, and still was burning 30 minutes later. An airman at the field, when asked if they got any of the crewmen out, said: "They didn't have a chance."

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Wednesday rejected, by a 41 to 33 vote, a further $500,000,000 cut in the $6,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

PARIS—(P)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met Wednesday at the French Foreign Office for a discussion of problems in French North Africa, Iran and Indochina.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 18,977 Wednesday, an increase of 270 since last week.

County To Receive Oil Field Road Bids

The county has called for bids on two more major oil field road improvement projects.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said Wednesday bids will be opened June 10 for a 17-mile long road extending south from U. S. Highway 80 at Warfield, and for a six-mile-long road running to Hadacol Corner.

The Warfield road will provide access to the Pegasus oil field in south Midland County.

The Hadacol road will connect with the Spraberry Loop road now under construction and on which the laying of blacktop was begun this week.

Keefe Cast As Cantor, Looks Like Eddie At 24, Skolsky Says

By ERKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: "Everybody thinks of Eddie Cantor as he looks today. I can show you photographs of Eddie at 24 and Keefe Braselle looks just like him."

That's how Producer Sidney Skolsky answered Hollywood and Vine critics who lifted surprised eyebrows when glamor-boy Keefe was announced as star of "The Eddie Cantor Story."

"Keefe was okayed by Cantor and signed by Warner Brothers for the role without a film test (he did an impersonation of Eddie singing "Whoopee"), and that's proof of Sidney's judgment, which wasn't wrong about Larry Parks as Al Jolson. As Sidney sees it:

"Keefe has the same kind of vitality, drive and nervousness as Cantor. You can't do it just with make-up."

There's not one worry line in Keefe's face about being pegged as a Cantor type after the film is released. He commented: "I look like Eddie as he looks today; only when I pop my eyes and comb my hair his way."

Hollywood's glamor queens have forgotten how to act-off stage. That's the word from Buddy Rogers, the screen's heart-throber of the early '30's, who short-circuited theater air-conditioning systems with his hot celluloid romancing of such fiery feminine stars as Clara Bow and Nancy Carroll.

"Clara and Nancy were more vivacious than any of the modern stars," said Buddy. "They realized that movie fans wanted a perpetual show. They were always acting. They even acted in their cars going home."

What happened to handsome Buddy's movie career?

"I was the clean, polite type guy who was always winning the girl," he grinned. "Then Cagney came along and pushed a grapefruit in Mae Clarke's face, and I was washed up. The knock-em-down, drag-em-out lovers became the rage."

Buddy's been touring supper clubs—"every once in a while I get the urge to play the bugs"—starring on New York TV and now plans a series of TV films to be made with a mobile camera unit in Europe this Summer. He and wife Mary Pickford sail for Rome on June 12.

About his perennial youth, Buddy said:

"I played golf yesterday with Richard Arlen. You should have

Engine Trouble Changes His Mind

LONDON—(AP)—A reception committee waiting to greet Charles Laughton Tuesday night learned that a 300-mile false start across the Atlantic in a plane with a shaky engine had changed the stage and screen star's mind.

The committee headed by author J. B. Priestley said it had been informed earlier Laughton had left New York all right. But there was no Laughton aboard when the plane reached London.

He had been aboard, fellow passengers said, but the plane developed engine trouble 300 miles out of New York and turned back. When the flight was resumed four hours later, Laughton wasn't around.

Hollywood Socialite Found Dead In Alley

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Police Wednesday tried to trace the recent movements of an attractive, 34-year-old Hollywood socialite who was found dead in an alley, victim of an abortion.

Autopsy surgeon Victor Cefalu said the illegal operation on Patricia Steele was performed either Sunday or Monday.

The body was found Tuesday in a neighborhood several miles from Miss Steele's luxurious Hollywood Boulevard apartment. There was no evidence to indicate violence.

The woman's father, financier Victor H. Steele, said she returned a month ago from a three-month stay in Hawaii. His daughter had been restless, traveling much of the time since the death of her fiancé, a Marine lieutenant, in the wartime invasion of the Marshall Islands, Steele said.

Miss Steele had been prominent in club and charity organizations but contacted a fever in Hawaii and had been keeping to herself since her return, the father said.

Pretty, Washable Petticoats Are Important Fashion Accessories

Your petticoat wardrobe is more important this Spring and Summer than ever before. Available in a variety of materials, petticoats insure that wonderful full-skirted look (right). And to keep them clean, simply resort to a batch of lukewarm suds (above). Use a warm iron to take out any wrinkles.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Don't look now—but your petticoat is showing. It's all right, though, for this season fashion is pointing to tiny waistlines and billowing skirts puffed out with pretty underpinnings.

A variety of colors and materials allow you much more leeway than great grandmother ever had, plus the wonderful advantage of completely washable fabrics.

Nylon nets and tricot are petticoat favorites permanently finished to retain their stiffness after countless soapy dunkings. You can eliminate all ironing if you finger-press close gathers or tucks. Simply draw the material through your fingers slowly and firmly.

You're A Good Hostess If You Say 'Yes' To These Questions

How good a hostess are you? It's a smart idea to check up on yourself once in a while, especially if you seem to get more than your share of refusals when you invite people to your house.

If you find yourself dreading even the simplest kind of entertainment as a job to be done, rather than a pleasant time to be anticipated, then it is time to take a look at yourself.

Well, how about it? When you phone to invite the Smiths to dinner, do you make the invitation sound special and cordial and show by your manner that you expect them to WANT to come? Or do you make the invitation sound like duty by some lame apology about meeting to have had them over for ages, or by belittling the invitation by saying: "It's not going to be anything special?"

Are you always ready to welcome your guests when they arrive on time? Or does the doorbell often find you, still with your make-up off, or busy in the kitchen, or rushing around in a last minute scramble to do odd jobs that should have been done that morning or even the day before?

Total Control, Bad As None; Teach Child Use Of Freedom

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A reader tells me I have failed to show proper respect for the Victorian idea that children should be "seen and not heard." She writes: "In those days, children were better behaved, more polite and much happier than boys and girls today."

Better behaved, more polite maybe. But much happier? How do we know? I certainly don't. However, I do know that I have just finished reading a biography of one Victorian child who, though well behaved and polite, seemed to be about as miserable as anyone can get.

If anyone was kind to her, she developed such an intense "crush" on him that she fell sick with excitement. During adolescence, she spent much time in sessions with a secret diary, scribbling down all her terrified, furiously resentful feelings about her family.

As she grew into womanhood, she felt a power for greatness in herself, but since any exploration of it produced fainting fits in her mother and sister, she allowed herself to be seen and never heard by anyone who could possibly object to what he heard. Fear of insanity developed. She fell into "trances," had hallucinations. In her diary, she wrote, "I see nothing desirable but, death."

She was Florence Nightingale, that star in the Victorian firmament, England's heroine of the Crimean War. She didn't do nearly so well for herself as we have supposed. She raised enough confidence in herself to come through in her country's emergency and visit Queen Victoria—but when the captains and the kings went home, she lapsed back into her old chronic, guilt-ridden invalidism.

An awful lot of Victorian ladies spent their lives in negligees. It seems to me.

Let's not make a habit of romanticizing the past, the "good old days" when we didn't have to find answers for Johnny—because he didn't dare ask any. It's probably reaction to our own recent experience with the "never stop them" school of discipline.

We're quite right to have lost patience with zealots who told us to give Johnny freedom before he'd earned it. But just because we were thrown off balance by one foolish idea, we don't want to go swinging off on the pendulum of another one.

Total control is as dangerous as none at all, and parents who dominate or are dominated by children create equal havoc. The job is to teach Johnny the responsible use of freedom—and we just can't afford to be distracted from it again by promoters of tyranny for him or for us.

Cecil Woodham-Smith's biography of Florence Nightingale makes for pretty interesting thought. It scores one up for us who want children's anger out in the open, not hidden away, distilling poison drop by drop in lonely monologues with hidden diaries.

When I finished reading it, I felt pretty proud of the moral courage of this generation, which seeks to know when, why and how anger is aroused in a child so that we can obey the ancient counsel, "Fathers, provoke not your children to wrath."

The suggestion that we are entitled to children's honor without earning it accounts for more family conflict and sorrow than any we suffer from.

We have set our hearts, we modern mature parents, to the job of deserving the honor of our children. It is the grandest job any generation of mothers and fathers ever undertook. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY

by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality... and help you get the most from your telephone service.

One of the most aggravating experiences a person can have is to run to a ringing telephone, only to find that no one is there. But just how long should one let a phone ring before giving up?

At least a minute, is the experts' answer. After all, the person you're calling may be in the yard or away from the telephone. And the figures show that an estimated 350,000 calls a day are lost by Southwestern Bell customers who hang up too soon. A call worth making is certainly worth waiting a minute for.

In today's busy life, at home or in the office, it's only natural to leave the telephone as quickly as possible. Is there any special reason why you should replace the receiver carefully?

There certainly is! Your telephone is just one continuous "busy signal" if your receiver is not securely in place. You can't receive any calls, and if you are on a party line, neither can your party-line neighbors. It's a good idea to hang up carefully, and to check the telephone occasionally if there are small children in your home.

A great many questions about telephone manners center around the party line, and there seems to be some question as to the best way to use it. For example, should one space calls, or make them chain-style?

Spacing your calls works out best for all concerned. For one thing, others can't call you if you hold the line for a long time. Spacing your calls gives others a chance to call you—and also gives your party-line neighbors a chance to use the line. That results in better service for everyone.

Schools Protect America's Freedom, Speaker Tells Midland Senior Class

America's capacity to be free depends on the progress and integrity of its public education system. Dr. Willard Goslin told the Midland High School Class of 1952 in its commencement exercises Tuesday night.

The 189 white-robed graduates received diplomas from Board of Education President John Cornwall to mark the end of their course in the public schools.

Dr. Goslin, outspoken school administrator and professor of education at Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., charged the graduates to maintain the high ideals on which rests the stability of American free enterprise and personal liberty.

"Heated debates were held for years in our early history as to whether or not public funds should be used to insure a free education for all of America's citizens," the speaker recalled. "But such a system was necessary in order to underwrite and guarantee our new freedoms."

Similar debates will continue to be voiced, Dr. Goslin predicted, as requirements of a complex society begin to tax the limitations of our growing public school systems. He urged the graduates to compare the education they have received with that given pupils in Iron Curtain areas and to continue to seek a free exchange of ideas everywhere.

To provide citizens of stature.

he summarized, "is the primary object of education for free people."

Controversial Figure
Dr. Goslin, a controversial figure among educators and school administrators, was introduced by School Supt. Frank Monroe, who described him as a recognized authority in school administration and a close personal friend.

A highlight of the ceremonies in the MHS Auditorium was the presentation of a Columbia University scholarship, valued in excess of $5,000, to James Lineberger, president of the graduating class. The New York university offers ten of the awards annually to outstanding high school students, and Lineberger was one of 250 in this area nominated for the award.

The scholarship was presented for the university by Edwin Stitt, attorney and judge of City Corporation Court, an earlier winner of the award.

Others in the program were Dianna Anderson, valedictorian, and Mary Ann McRae, salutatorian. Music features included "Impromptu, Opus 90, No. 4," by Schubert, played by Tommy Miller at the piano, and Handel's "Where'er You Walk," sung by Ross Graham with Patricia O'Brien as accompanist.

Diana Daugherty played the professional and recreational, and Betty Campbell led her graduating classmates in singing the "Alma Mater."

At Communist insistence, the truce delegations will meet again at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. Thursday.

CRANE—A year and three months of continuous effort was brought to a dramatic climax Sunday when the first services of worship were held in the Presbyterian Church of Crane.

The masonry building measuring 38 feet by 38 feet has been constructed with the aid of volunteer labor. Foundations for the edifice were laid in March, 1951. Since then members of the congregation and interested friends have contributed countless hours of volunteer labor to the building of the church.

A formal opening service will be held June 29 after the finish work has been completed.

L. M. Pittman has served as chairman of the building committee which directed the project. C. D. Birdsong is construction committee chairman.

Since its organization in the Summer of 1949, the congregation has been meeting in the Crane County Courthouse. A building committee began to function early in 1950. In the Fall of that year a financial campaign was initiated and work was begun early the next Spring.

Each part of the construction has been undertaken only as money was made available. After the foundation and walls had been built, the men of the church took over, building most of the rest of the building on a volunteer basis.

The building has an estimated value of $30,000, and the congregation has an indebtedness of less than $5,000.

Dr. Jack Ramsay, Jr., is pastor of the church.

Two Airmen Die In Jet Plane Crash
TOKYO.—The U. S. Air Force said two American airmen were killed instantly Wednesday in the crash of an F-94 star-fighter jet plane after a takeoff from Comaki Air Base in Central Honshu Island.

Their names were withheld.

The two-seater jet was assigned to the Japan Air Defense Force.

City Must Wait For New Brooms
The City of Midland, it seems, is too poor to buy a new broom.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt explained to City Council Tuesday night that one of its two street sweepers is having continuous mechanical difficulties and two new ones are needed badly.

But, he added, no funds are available at this time to purchase the $9,600 devices.

The council decided to wait until October 1, when funds can be set up for the new ones.

Reds Again Hint At New Korea Offensive
MUNSAN, KOREA.—(AP)—For the second straight day, Communist truce negotiators Wednesday hinted that Red armies in Korea would march because of Allied handling of captured Reds.

The UN command delegation dismissed the threat as propaganda.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il repeated Red charges that captured Reds had been mistreated. Then he added:

"The Korean Peoples Army and the Chinese Peoples Volunteers absolutely shall not sit idle while their fellow combatants are being wantonly murdered by your side." He said almost identically the same thing Tuesday.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior Allied delegate, told Nam Il his statement "is indicative of your obvious intentions not to use these conferences to arrive at an agreement, but merely to generate your propaganda."

There was no progress in the explosive issue of what to do about 100,000 captured Red soldiers and civilian internees who say they will fight repatriation to Communist soil. The Reds demand that each person will be forced to return against his will.

At Communist insistence, the truce delegations will meet again at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. Thursday.

Senate To Postpone Action On Certain Tideland Veto

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Another week may elapse before the Senate acts on President Truman's expected veto of the submerged lands ownership bill.

The President must act by Friday, but Senators reportedly have reached an informal understanding that the issue won't be brought up before June 5 or 6. It was asked by some Republican senators who plan to attend homecoming ceremonies for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Abilene, Kan., June 4.

White House officials told a reporter the President has until Friday midnight to sign or reject the measure, which would give the states clear title to the oil-bearing lands beneath the marginal seas.

Truman has declined to say in advance what he plans to do. But he told the Americans for Democratic Action here May 17 that success of the states-ownership plan would be "robbery in broad daylight."

A veto message would go first to the Senate, since the measure originated in that body. The Senate plans to adjourn Thursday until Monday, but the message could be delivered in the meantime to Senate Secretary Leslie Biffle.

Heated debate is likely in the Senate, where leaders on both sides of the controversy say the margin of overriding or failing to override may be decided by one or two votes.

Both sides say absentees may be the determining factor. Since a two-thirds majority to override is required, each absence among senators inclined to support the President is of double value to the states-ownership faction.

The states-ownership group claims 58 senators already on record through votes or public commitments. Hopeful of picking up at least two or more senators who had voted against them on passage of the bill, they point out that 60 votes, with six absentees, would give them the required two-thirds vote to override a veto.

Crane News
Crane—Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Meisner were hosts recently to the Yoncos Club at a chicken dinner and bridge meeting. The party was held in the Meisners' Gulf Camp home.

Three Craneites will be among the students enrolled in a two-week art course to be conducted by Frederic Taubes, well-known artist and instructor. The course will begin June 28 at the Cloudercroft Art Colony. Those attending from Crane will be Mrs. Lela Wilson, Mrs. Ina Martin and Gene Hester.

Billie Marie Wood was honored with a party recently given by her mother, Mrs. Bill Wood, in the Community Hall.

The Couples 42 Club met recently in the Gulf Recreation Hall with Mrs. R. V. Russell and Mrs. W. E. Horne as hostesses.

Mrs. Bob Copeland, the former Joyce Sharp, was honored recently with a bridal tea in the Gulf Recreation Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Bert Mark, Mrs. Basil Chaffin, Mrs. Clinton Carroll, Mrs. G. L. Goble, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Shaffer, Mrs. S. G. Bernard, Mrs. Bill Haught, Mrs. D. L. Crittenden, Mrs. Thomas Knell, Mrs. S. C. Rodgers, Mrs. George Teague and Mrs. Nell Grimes.

Four members of the Midland Toastmasters Club addressed their fellow members in the group's Tuesday night meeting. John Braus, president, presided and Dr. Henry Schlichting was toastmaster.

The speakers were George Brown, "Money and Time," Braus, "Radio Speech," Halsted Walker, "The American Spirit," and Jerry Harris, "Remember."

Larry Lees, entertainment chairman, announced a stag barbecue would be served to members and their guests at 6 p. m. Friday in the Officers' Club.

County Approves Migrant Reception Center Building

Plans for the construction of Midland's first Migrant Reception Center, to provide shelter for crews of migratory workers during the cotton-picking season, had the approval of Midland County commissioners.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said Tuesday afternoon the commissioners had agreed to finance construction of the center, to cost an estimated $6,000, which will be located on the site of the former city dump in the Latin American section.

Kentucky Democrats Back Barkley With 26 Convention Votes

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP)—Kentucky Democrats backed Tuesday with their 26 nominating votes their choice for the presidency, fellow-Kentuckian Alben W. Barkley.

The 74-year-old vice president hasn't said whether he would be a candidate.

But there was no mistaking what his home state Democrats want him to do as they pledged him the 26 votes for the party's presidential nomination.

They made him a state-at-large delegate to the Democratic National Convention opening in Chicago July 21. And the delegation was instructed to vote as a unit; hence, he'll be voting for himself.

Senator Earle C. Clements, key-noting the state convention, recommended Barkley to the nation as the "best qualified Democratic candidate."

Standing Ovation

Senator Tom R. Underwood told the convention Barkley is "the least reluctant man to accept the nomination that I've seen in Washington. I believe he's going to be nominated and he's going to win."

Clements' first mention of Barkley's name brought a long, standing ovation. Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, the convention permanent chairman, also praised the vice president.

Clements declared Kentucky "can furnish to the nation a man to lead not only this nation, but the free peoples of the world against their arch enemy—communism."

That man, he added, is Barkley. The senator said the vice president is qualified "by experience, by training, and by leadership."

The city previously had agreed to furnish the site if the county would finance construction of the two buildings necessary for the center.

The Midland Council of Church Women, which has been working on the project more than a year, met with the commissioners to discuss the situation.

Mrs. Albert Russell, chairman of the group, explained that the Texas council had made a yearly project of providing shelter for migratory workers between the time they arrive in the city and the time they contract with farmers.

She was accompanied to the meeting by a delegation of 18 church women, headed by Mrs. Edward Gideon, president of the council.

Contingent On Rain

Judge Keith said the agreement to build the center was contingent on the crop outlook for July 10.

"If we're not going to have any rain," he said there won't be any cotton for the migrant workers to pick.

"But if by mid-July it looks like there'll be a need for it, we'll get busy on the project."

The cotton-picking season normally begins in September and extends through December.

The Migrant Reception Center will include a shelter house, in which an office will be located, and a shower house. The Texas Employment Commission has agreed to keep one man at the center during the season to be contact man between crew chiefs and farms.

The site is bounded on the South by Orchard Lane, on the east by Carver and on the west by Madison.

Members of the council will help staff the center on a voluntary basis.

The council is composed of representatives from the Trinity Episcopal Church, First Presbyterian Church, First Christian Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, First Methodist Church, Asbury Methodist Church and St. Mark's Methodist Church.

The Douglas fir is named for the Scottish botanist, David Douglas, who visited the Pacific coast in the 19th century.

Memory Expert To Address Rotarians, JayCeers Thursday

"Don't forget me" usually is the parting remark of Robert H. Nutt, known as "the man who won't let you forget," as he walks away from an individual or a group.

And one is not likely to forget this dynamic person who is spending this week in Midland as the guest of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Robert H. Nutt

He will address a joint meeting of the Rotary Club and Junior Chamber Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer, after having spoken and presented memory demonstrations before the Kiwanis, Optimist and Lions Clubs of Midland.

Widely known as "America's foremost memory expert," Nutt will conduct classes on memory development here June 12 and 13 under the sponsorship of the JayCeers. A free demonstration open to the public, is scheduled in the Junior High School Auditorium June 10. The following classes will be held in the same location.

"How to remember faces, names and facts" will be the general theme of his lectures.

Nutt is said to be the leading instructor of memory developments in the United States and Canada. He has taught more persons how to improve their memory than any other living person.

"You were not born with a poor memory," Nutt says. "Remembering is a process that must be learned, just like walking, talking, or telling time. Anyone can do it."

What may be the first sarus crane to hatch in the United States pecked its way out of the shell at the Philadelphia zoo over the week-end of July 21. Although his parents stand about six feet tall, the little chick measured only nine inches high.

JUSTICE BOWS TO BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP)—The complicated figures of security underwriting took a back seat Wednesday to a score card for the Brooklyn Dodgers-New York Giants baseball game.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina has adjourned for the day the 18-month-old civil anti-trust suit brought by the government against 17 investment banking firms.

In the midst of the complicated case earlier this month, Medina asked: "How about going to a ball game?"

There were no objections, and Wednesday court moved from the Federal Building to Ebbets Field.

Police Recover Stolen Gold Bricks

MONTREAL (AP)—A Quebec mining company got back three stolen gold bricks—real ones—Wednesday, but still is out a fourth.

Provincial police said Tuesday night they had solved the $115,000 theft with the arrest of two employees of East Malartic Mines, Ltd. Authorities declined to identify the men at present, but said at least one more arrest is expected.

They said three of the stolen ingots, weighing 105, 103 and 86 pounds, had been recovered. The fourth brick was expected to turn up Wednesday.

The bricks were stolen last Wednesday from the mine refinery. Thieves burned open a vault containing the gold with an acetylene torch.

Police said the loot was found hidden near the refinery and expressed belief the thieves intended to haul it away later.

George Ochoa Still Awaits Court Rule On Deportation

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—George Ochoa, thinner and tanned, said Wednesday he is resigned to delays in his fight to avoid extradition to Texas for trial on homicide charges.

"There are men here," he said in the Federal Penitentiary, "who have been waiting 13 years for a decision on an appeal. If I can get a judgment in less than two years, I'll be lucky."

U. S. Court Rules Combination Rate Is Law Violation

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)—The Times-Picayune Publishing Company planned Wednesday to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court from a decision that it had violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

U. S. District Judge Herbert Christenberry, in a decision Tuesday, held that the violation came through the company's requirement that advertisers buy space in both the morning Times-Picayune and the afternoon New Orleans States.

Application of the forced rates, Judge Christenberry ruled, injured the New Orleans Item, an afternoon newspaper. The forced combination rates are used by more than 170 morning and afternoon newspapers under joint ownership in the United States.

The government filed the suit in June, 1950, the first in civil anti-trust history where one daily newspaper organization was accused of hurting another competing daily paper.

Texas Senators Vote Against Aid Bill Cut

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Both U. S. senators from Texas, Lyndon Johnson and Tom Connally, voted against the motion to cut an additional billion dollars from the $6,900,000,000 foreign aid bill Tuesday. The motion by 11 Republicans was defeated, 35-27.

shooting case in Laredo, Texas, said he hoped the Supreme Court will pass on his appeal next month. President Miguel Aleman ordered his extradition to Texas and Ochoa's lawyer then asked the Supreme Court for an injunction to keep the government from returning him. He is awaiting final action on whether the injunction shall be made permanent.

Ochoa, wearing a white shirt, open at the neck, and slacks, seemed interested to hear that feeling against him had died down in Laredo.

"Do you advise me to give up the extradition fight and go back?" he chuckled. Then he added:

"Those are good people in Laredo—all over the Southwest, in fact. I have a lot of friends there." Ochoa said he had lost weight and gotten back into good physical shape by playing handball and running around the cell block in the exercise yard. That and sunbathing keep him tanned. His wife is here and he sees her from time to time in the penitentiary. His children are back in school in the United States.

"The boy is six feet tall and weighs 200 pounds," he boasted. He is 37 now.

Jose Farah, secretary to the warden of the penitentiary, said "Ochoa is most tranquil now."

"At first he was impatient and wanted to cut short all the legal proceedings," Farah said. "His attorney had to argue with him to get him to appeal his case. But now he is resigned to waiting and it has been good for him."

RRC SETS RULES FOR ROBERTSON FIELD

AUSTIN —(AP)—The Railroad Commission Wednesday announced adoption of field rules for the Robertson (Lower Clear Fork) Field, Gaines County.

The regulations included spacing of 1,320 feet between wells and 467 feet from wells to property lines; gas-oil ratio of 2,000 cubic feet per barrel of oil produced; 40-acre production units; daily allowable based 75 per cent on acreage and 25 per cent on number of wells.

JENNIFER DIES OF OVERWORK

CUDWORTH, ENGLAND —(AP)—World's tiniest Jennifer — the hen that laid 19 eggs in less than an hour — was dead Wednesday from overwork.

The pink-eyed, prolific chicken hadn't produced for farmer Charles Rogers for days. But he brought her into his home in front of the fire on Monday and Jennifer let loose — a jackpot of 19.

"Jenny spent Monday night in her cardboard box and I tried to make her eat," Rogers' daughter explained. "But the laying effort had been too much for her."

Neither Jenny nor her 10 eggs will provide a single morsel on any dining table, despite Britain's food shortages.

"I've asked a taxidermist to set Jenny up in a glass case with those 10 eggs," Rogers said.

Humane Association Officer To Speak Here

Larry Andrews of Albany, N. Y., director of the American Humane Association, will be the guest speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Midland Humane Society at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Cowden Junior High School Cafeteria.

Society officials said the public is invited to attend.

Teen-Ager Drowns In Possum Kingdom Lake

Jerry dived for a life preserver in the middle of the lake and failed to come back to the surface.

Daniel Will Open Campaign At Waco

WACO —(AP)—Lloyd Gregory, Houston advertising man and South Texas campaign manager for Attorney General Price Daniel, will be master of ceremonies at a state-wide Daniel Rally here Thursday night.

The attorney general formally will open his campaign for United States senator.

Frank Wilson, Waco manager of the Daniel campaign, said Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, would make a welcoming address.

Daniel is opposed by Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, young congressional veteran and former state representative, and attorney E. W. Napier of Wichita Falls.

Daniel speaks Thursday night, 8:30 to 9 p.m., over a state-wide radio hookup.

Island Kingdom Becomes Republic

COLOMBO, CEYLON—(AP)—The world's newest and one of its smallest republics—the Maldives Islands—has just blossomed in the Indian Ocean, 400 miles southwest of Ceylon.

Inhabitants of the 2,000 tiny islands, scattered over 325 square miles of ocean, voted 99 per cent to become a republic with an elected president after more than 800 years as a sultanate. For the last century it has been under British protection.

The first president is 41-year-old Prime Minister Amin Didi, island strong man who will function as a virtually one-man government. The transition from sultanate to republic will be completed some time in December, when the Maldives adopt a new Constitution—now being written by Amin Didi—and seats him as its first president. The British government will continue to handle Maldivian foreign affairs. It has promised to send a cruiser and its high commissioner to Ceylon to the inauguration at Mave, the Maldivian capital.

Creation of the republic of more than 92,000 islanders followed the death in Ceylon two months ago of 78-year-old Amir Abdul Majid, last of the Maldivian sultans.

A spokesman said there was no suitable elder statesman to take over as sultan, so it was decided to convert the Maldives into a republic.

One of the first steps the new president took was to acquire two steamships to supplement trade between Ceylon and the islands. Up to now, it has been handled entirely by picturesque schooners—a cross between Chinese junks and the "half moon" vessels once used by Henry Hudson.

No Police Force
Maldivian islanders subsist on fishing. Millions of dried fish—caught one by one on hook and line—are exported annually to Ceylon.

Food is the biggest problem on the islands. The exports help pay for supplies brought in from Ceylon, through which all Maldivian trade is conducted.

The islands have a small army but no police force and no prison. "We have never needed one," said a spokesman.

Few foreigners visited the islands until World War II, when Britain set up seaplane and naval stations there.

The Maldives have been a British protectorate since the days of Queen Victoria, at one time paying annual tribute to its British rulers.

Mave, the capital, has few streets and only two automobiles imported for the use of the late sultan in traveling the mile-long island. Some of the islands are only a few hundred feet square, grouped in a series of tropical atolls.

Jury Probes Deeper Into Sheriff's Affairs

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The Tarrant County grand jury met Wednesday to hear more concerning the affairs of Sheriff Sully Montgomery.

Tuesday, the grand jury heard two federal attorneys and the foreman of a special grand jury report on Montgomery's affairs.

Clyde Weed, foreman of the grand jury which indicted the sheriff for income tax evasion and the two attorneys were to talk to the grand jury again Wednesday.

Montgomery is under sentences totaling seven years after conviction in the indictments.

Myron Hunt, 84, Famed Architect, Dies In California

PASADENA—(AP)—Architect Myron Hunt, 84, whose projects included the Hollywood Bowl, the Rose Bowl, the Huntington Art Gallery and Library in San Marino and the Ambassador Hotel, is dead.

Born in Sunderland, Mass., he was graduated from the University of Chicago and studied in Europe before coming here in 1903. He became one of Southern California's foremost architects, designing buildings including:

The Santa Barbara and La Jolla Art Galleries, the Santa Barbara County National Bank Building, Greek theaters on the campuses of Occidental and Pomona Colleges, and the Pasadena Public Library. Hunt died Monday.

Bra-less French Showgirls Put Staid BBC In Dither

LONDON—(AP)—The staid British Broadcasting Corporation agreed Wednesday to let French showgirls be televised without their bras—but only if the act originates in Paris, where such things are customary.

Last year, the French girls were imported to London for a TV show and shocked BBC officials sent out a hurried call for a batch of bosom covers.

A Paris show scheduled to be relayed to Britain in July brought the problem again. BBC said this time it didn't want to bust up the show. Semi-nude showgirls are okay in Paris and BBC wants to retain the true Parisian atmosphere.

One small precaution will be taken, however. BBC will send along its own camera crews to select the angles from which the girls will be televised.

HEARSE VIE WITH PANTIES

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(AP)—Seems there's a new fad less publicized than "pantie piffing" developing among New England's college boys.

It's buying second-hand hearse for making long, overland trips.

The Yale Outing Club has one, and seven members of the club are scheduled to head for Denver on Thursday.

The Yales report there are three similar hearses at Harvard and a fleet of six at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Farmers Welcome Rain; More Needed

Every drop of Midland County's rain was welcomed and much more would be appreciated.

A light sprinkle still was falling on the windows of his office as Charles Champion, administrative officer of the PMA for the county, spoke for the farmers and stockmen Tuesday afternoon.

"There'll still be time to plant some cotton after the middle of next month," Champion observed, "and after that the grain crops will need moisture."

Rainfall has averaged about a quarter of an inch in the county since the dark clouds began to roll across the South Plains Monday evening. The showers came down in a haphazard pattern, inundating a few patches and leaving others relatively dry.

The Henry Neal ranch southwest of the city received a heavy shower for the second time in little more than a week, it was reported.

Champion said the rains were most beneficial to cotton areas and grazing lands. City dwellers would add that their lawns also got "a shot in the arm."

"Most of the cotton already in the ground is in irrigated fields," Champion pointed out, "but the greatest part of the 1952 crop—perhaps as much as 75 per cent of it—remains to be planted."

"This slow rain is going right into the ground with little or no run-off, but plenty more will be necessary before Fall."

Thirsty soil left little water on the surface to run into the county's fear-empty tanks, and grazing lands, until now parched and dry for the most part, will turn green again.

"We hope," Champion concluded, "that it won't be just temporary."

Humble's Baytown Workers Get Raise

BAYTOWN—(AP)—Settlement of wage negotiations between union members and Humble Oil & Refining Company was announced here Tuesday night.

President A. E. Oliphant of the Baytown Employees Federation said the workers agreed to accept a 2.4 per cent increase retroactive to Oct. 17, 1951, plus an eight-cent hourly increase retroactive to May 1.

The company made the offer last week.

OLD SCHOOL TIE—Queen Juliana of The Netherlands had more than a passing interest in the centenary celebration of the "King's School" at Apeldoorn, Holland, where she displayed her royal way with children. Officially named, "The School of His Majesty King Willem III and Her Majesty Queen Emma of The Netherlands," the school was established by Juliana's grandfather in 1852.

Tulsa Oil Heiress Found Sane, Ordered To Stand Trial For Husband's Slaying

EL PASO —(P)—Mary Jean Parsons, 21-year-old socialite Army wife and heiress to an oil fortune, must stand trial for murder in the fatal shooting of her husband. A district court jury here Tuesday night found the pretty, blue-eyed blonde was sane when her husband was shot twice in the head with a .22 target pistol and sane now.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Fleeger of Tulsa, Okla., had been a patient in a Dallas rest home, Timberlawn Sanitarium, since the February 16 shooting of her husband. Witnesses testified during the sanity hearing that they believed she was emotionally unbalanced. A Midland brother of the woman testified he had told his mother, "Mary Jean is crazy."

Mrs. Fleeger, the young man testified, told him she did not want to hear him make any more remarks like that.

The state closed its case Tuesday after calling three witnesses in its successful attempt to prove Mrs. Parsons sane when Lt. Richard O. Parsons was shot to death.

Police Sgt. J. D. Hudson said she was "very quiet and reserved" when she was jailed.

Mrs. Lillie Forbes and Mrs. Lena Cleve, El Paso County jail matrons testified they saw nothing abnormal in the oil heiress' behavior while she was jailed 71 hours following the shooting.

Assistant District Attorney Jack Fant, in his closing argument to the jury, said the young woman knew what she was doing when she pulled the trigger "that ended her love and her life."

Fant said, "She said in her so-called suicide note, 'I know I will pay the full penalty. She knew she was going to pay the full penalty, either in this court or in heaven.'"

Defense Attorney O. B. Fisher of Paris, Texas, contended Mrs. Parsons was insane when she pulled the trigger inches from her husband's head as he slept.

FROM BROWNFIELD

Mrs. Carrie Brown of Brownfield is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital. She was admitted Tuesday.

POPULATION INCREASES

BELOGRADE —(P)—New census figures recently released fix Yugoslavia's population at 16,338,504 as of January 1, an increase of 566,397 over three years ago. Belgrade's population is 390,733.

Fisher, a renowned North Texas criminal lawyer, said the best psychiatric treatment available had been unable to restore her to normalcy.

After Mrs. Parsons surrendered to officers, she told them she had stayed in the Parson's apartment with the dead body of her husband for hours.

Soon after her arrest she was taken to the Dallas sanitarium, where attendants kept her in seclusion and away from representatives of the press.

She told officers the shooting followed arguments over the amount of the financial aid given the couple by her parents. Her husband, the twice-married socialite said, had objected to so much help from the wealthy Tulsans.

VART Unit To See Special Films

Three films will be shown at the weekly meeting of the 9816th VART unit in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The films are "Elements of Radar," "GCA" (ground control approach), and Basic Electronics. All Air Force Reservists are invited to attend, Lt. E. J. Elliott, reserve information officer, said.

Americans Teach Higher Output

FREGENE, ITALY—(P)—In this beach resort, American industrial experts have recently completed a school course to train teachers for higher output from Europe's factories.

It is the first school of its kind in Europe. Nine Americans, one Austrian and one Italian directed classes. Twenty-five production "students" from Austria, Germany, France, Italy, Holland and Denmark attended.

These lessons will be carried to foremen in demonstration plant projects throughout Europe. The program aims at more production by reducing waste and inefficiency.

Rosa Lee Bent, 208 North Lee Street, was admitted Tuesday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

Ozark Preacher Vows Fast To Death To Save World From Sin And Communism

CHERRYVILLE, MO.—(P)—An Ozark preacher—claiming he hasn't eaten in 27 days—vowed Wednesday to fast until death unless his prayers are answered for a religious revival to save the world from sin and communism.

The Rev. J. J. Ivie, 55-year-old minister of the Assembly of God Church, is weakening physically but was reported by friends still able to walk.

The stocky minister has kept to his room since he began his fast, rejecting efforts by authorities of his church to persuade him to end it.

Ivie has given his wife strict instructions not to permit a physician in their home, even if he becomes unconscious. He has prepared a signed statement to protect his wife from possible legal action in the event of his death.

The Rev. J. P. Myers, pastor at neighboring Steelville, conferred with the church's national headquarters at Springfield, Mo., regarding the fast.

He said that a sustained fast which does "bodily harm" is not a tenet of the church. Myers added that he and another official of the church went to Ivie's home May 16 to see whether Ivie wouldn't end his fast, but that he refused to see them.

Mrs. Ivie said a prolonged "sense of sinfulness (of the world) has driven him to his fasting and prayer."

The minister, pastor of a church at nearby Davisville and a part-time carpenter and repair man, has refused to see anyone but members of his family and persons who wish to join him in prayer in his room.

Sheriff Roland Giles of Crawford County said he considered the fast a personal matter and planned to take no action. He has known the minister 25 years.

Mrs. Ivie was interviewed by Mrs. W. R. Willis, wife of the publisher of a weekly newspaper at Steelville. Mrs. Ivie played two recordings in which Ivie explained the reasons for his fast.

Ivie said in one of the recordings: "Communism, in a mad rush, is invading the nation and the government. "Nothing but a speedy evangelization or divine intervention can save the world. For if we go on as we are now, it will take a thousand years to do it."

Cites Old Testament
In the recordings, Ivie expressed hope his prayers would help produce a revival, starting with ministers and spreading to the people.

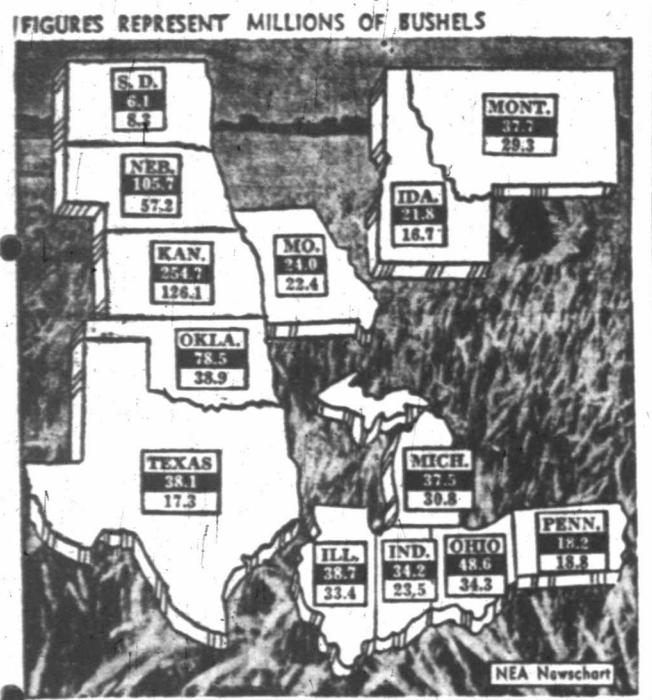

He said he based his fast on the twelfth to the twenty-fourth verses of the second chapter of the Old Testament book of Joel.

This passage begins: "Therefore also now, saith the Lord, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fastings, and with weeping, and with mourning..."

Residents of this village of 36, some 80 miles south of St. Louis, told Mrs. Willis the minister remains mentally alert. Mrs. Ivie said he had experienced vomiting spells recently and had been unable to retain any water since Sunday.

"He says he doesn't feel hungry, physically," Mrs. Ivie said. "His hunger is for God and the people who need God."

FIGURES REPRESENT MILLIONS OF BUSHELS

BUMPER WHEAT CROP IS FORECAST FOR '52—Newsmagazine compares 1951 yields of chief winter wheat producing states with 1952 yields predicted by Department of Agriculture. With all but two (Pennsylvania and South Dakota) of the wheat states expected to have larger crops than last year, the forecast for 1952 is a bumper crop of 986,468,000 bushels. Despite crop damage caused by recent midwest floods, 1952's winter and spring yields are expected to total 1,293,468,000 bushels—third largest crop in history.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

The car that wears its own Sun Glasses

2-door, 6-passenger Super Riviera.

You may have to look twice to see it—but a lot of the new Buicks have a soft blue-green tone in all glass areas—plus a slightly darker band which shades down from the top of the windshield.

And you have no idea what comfort all this adds to hot-weather driving.

Its name is "Easy-Eye Glass"—which tells only half the story. While it filters out 18% of the glare (and tones down the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night)—it also cuts down sun-heat as much as 50%.

So it's the best cure we know for hot laps in summer driving, when the sun beats down on the windshield.

Maybe you'd like to try this out before you buy your next car.

And while you're trying it out—you can also discover how it feels to boss around a Fireball 8 Engine, that puts its own exclusive added wallop into a high-compression valve-in-head power plant.

You can sample the sure-footed way a Buick settles into a curve—the way the front wheels seem to seek their course automatically—the smooth surge and falterless ease with which Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power—the level confidence of Buick's million dollar ride.

You can get an idea also of the room, the comfort, the smartness, the thrill that your dollars buy in this brilliant performer.

So why not arrange for a demonstration soon?

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

re-stated for a 12,500-foot depth.
The amended application, asking for the new depth, which was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas, carried the operator as Fikes, Murchison and G. E. (Blondy) Hall.

Magnolia Making Plans To Re-Drill SE Gaines Wildcat

Magnolia Petroleum Company is planning to re-drill its No. 1 W. C. Hicks, Ellenburger dry hole in Southeast Gaines County.
It will be drilled out and re-worked to 11,580 feet.
It was plugged and abandoned on total depth of 13,271 feet after failing to develop production in the Ellenburger which was topped at 13,102 feet, elevation 2,986 feet.
Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of block 16, league 273, Loving County school land survey and 14 miles southwest of Lamesa.

Outpost Staked To Brahaney In W-C Yoakum Area

One-half mile north and slightly east of the discovery well of the Brahaney field of West-Central Yoakum County, Great Western Producers, Inc., will drill No. 3 J. D. Webb Estate.
Drill site has been staked 860 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 423, John H. Gibson survey and four miles west of Plains.
Contracted to 5,500 feet, the project is to be started at once.

Blocker Gets Water In Spraberry Zone; May Try Dean Again

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 J. W. Blocker and others, Central-South Martin County wildcat swabbed two barrels of salt water in one and one-half hours from the lower Spraberry through perforations at 8,175-8,272 feet.
The swabbing was natural and came after the load oil which had been put in the hole had been swabbed out.
Operator is to wash the perforations.

ations at 8,175-8,272 feet with 500 gallons of mud acid and test further.
West Of Stanton
This prospector is seven miles west and slightly north of Stanton; three miles northeast of Germania and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block 37, T-1-S, T&P survey.
The only shows of oil this exploration has found so far was a swabbing recovery of 28 barrels of new oil and 24 barrels of water in 24 hours from perforations at 8,810-75 feet in the lowe Dean sand and a swabbing recovery of 7.8 barrels of new oil and one barrel of water in 24 hours from perforations in the upper Dean at 8,700-80 feet.
May Go Back To Dean
Both the Dean zones had been fractured. It is possible that should the Spraberry fail to show any signs of production operator may go back and complete the wildcat as a small pumping discovery from the Dean pay sections.
It drilled to a bottom hole of 12,100 feet in barren Ellenburger. None of the sections between the Ellenburger and the Dean had any shows of possible production.

Balboa Stakes New Test In Tom Green
Balboa Oil Company of Midland has staked location for a 5,900-foot wildcat in West-Central Tom Green County.
It is No. 2 M. D. Bryant and is located 2,250 feet from most southerly south and 2,130 feet from most easterly lines of section 1146, R. E. Tankersly survey.
Drill site is two and one-half miles southwest of Tankersly.
Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Sinclair Running Logs After Water DST In Crosby
Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was running electric log surveys in its No. 1 Wood, wildcat in Southwest Crosby County, after finding salt water in the Ellenburger.
Operator took a drillstem test in that formation—from 9,116 to 9,168 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 300 feet of mud-cut salt water and 4,560 feet of salt water.
The Ellenburger was topped at 9,105 feet, elevation 2,727 feet.
Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 13, block B-9, ELARR survey and 11 miles north of the Buene field in Northwest Garza County.

Cisco Sand Opener Finished By Texaco In E-C Scurry Area

The Texas Company No. 202 Fuller has been completed as a discovery from the Cisco sand in East-Central Scurry County.
Operator reported a daily pumping potential of 55.03 barrels of 41.1-gravity oil plus 8 per cent basic sediment and sand. No formation water was found.
Completion was from perforations at 6,123-39 feet after the pay had been washed with acid. Gas-oil ratio was 218-1.
Location is 467 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 498, block 97, H&TC survey and 12 miles north of Snyder.

Magnolia To Plug No. 1 Klapproth, Midland Failure

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Klapproth, North-Central Midland County wildcat, two miles south of the southeast side of the city of Midland is to be plugged and abandoned on total depth of 12,863 feet in barren Ellenburger.
That formation did not have any shows of possible production, neither did the Devonian.
Had Slight Shows
Operator tested several zones in the Pennsylvanian which had logged some slight shows of oil and gas. Some of those shows developed small amounts of new oil and some salt water. None of those shows were sufficient to make a commercial oil well.
The latest section tested was at 10,851-671 feet. That section was treated with acid.
After that injection the project swabbed 24 hours and recovered three barrels of salt water with no shows of oil or gas. After that showing operator representatives ordered the project abandoned and plugged.

Offset To Discovery
The testing in the Pennsylvanian covered the zones between 10,938 feet and 10,651 feet.
Location of the duster is 660 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 14, block 38, T-2-S, T&P survey.
It is one location west of Moore Exploration Company No. 1 Baumann, the discovery and lone producer in the Baumann-Pennsylvanian field.

Balboa Stakes New Test In Tom Green

Balboa Oil Company of Midland has staked location for a 5,900-foot wildcat in West-Central Tom Green County.
It is No. 2 M. D. Bryant and is located 2,250 feet from most southerly south and 2,130 feet from most easterly lines of section 1146, R. E. Tankersly survey.
Drill site is two and one-half miles southwest of Tankersly.
Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Sinclair Running Logs After Water DST In Crosby

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was running electric log surveys in its No. 1 Wood, wildcat in Southwest Crosby County, after finding salt water in the Ellenburger.
Operator took a drillstem test in that formation—from 9,116 to 9,168 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 300 feet of mud-cut salt water and 4,560 feet of salt water.
The Ellenburger was topped at 9,105 feet, elevation 2,727 feet.
Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 13, block B-9, ELARR survey and 11 miles north of the Buene field in Northwest Garza County.

Dry DST Reported From Ellenburger Project In Reagan

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-C-48 University, indicated Ellenburger discovery in Southeast Reagan County, was being drillstem tested on total depth of 9,207 feet.
Operator found no additional shows for production on a drillstem test from 9,133 to 9,160 feet.
Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 1,900-foot water blanket and 90 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil.
Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 19, block 48, University survey.

Magnolia Completes Vealmoor Outpost

Magnolia Petroleum Company has completed its No. 1 E. W. Love as a new producer on the southeast side of the Vealmoor reef field in Northwest Howard County.
The project is 560 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 34, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey.
On the 24-hour potential test it flowed 137 barrels of 43.4 gravity oil through an 11/64th inch tubing choke. It made no water.
Casing pressure was 200 pounds. Tubing pressure was between 435 pounds and 650 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 956-1. The production came from open hole between the bottom of the 5 1/2-inch casing which is cemented at 7,895 feet and the total depth at 7,905 feet. The production was natural.
Although wood charcoal is about a quarter of the weight of the wood from which it is derived, it has two-thirds of the bulk of the wood.

PINAY'S PARTY GAINS—Incomplete returns of French senatorial elections indicate that the right-wing government of premier Antoine Pinay, above, gains new strength at expense of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People party. This indicates further popular support of Pinay's economic stabilization policies.

W-C Upton Pool Receives Another Good Producer

The Wilshire-Ellenburger field of West-Central Upton County has received a new producer.
The new well is The Wilshire Oil Company No. 14-130 McElroy Ranch Company completed for a daily flowing potential of 3,570 barrels of 53.6-gravity oil.
Production was through open two-inch tubing and from open hole at 12,090-12,236 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 615-1 and tubing pressure was 400 pounds. Completion was natural.
Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 130, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Ellenburger Test Staked By Standard In Wilshire Pool

Standard Oil Company of Texas staked location for a 13,000-foot Ellenburger test in the Wilshire-Ellenburger field of West-Central Upton County.
It will be drilled as No. 12-119 McElroy Ranch Company, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 119, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey and 18 miles northwest of Rankin. It is one location east of a producer in the south side of the field.

Texas Crude Plugs Failure In Pecos

Texas Crude Company No. 1-35 Pryor, North Pecos County wildcat, six and three-quarter miles southeast of Buena Vista had been abandoned and plugged on total depth of 3,290 feet in Permian lime.
It had a slight show of oil, gas and salt water in the bottom section. It did not find any possibilities of commercial production.
Location was 330 feet from southeast and southwest lines of section 35, block 2, H&TC survey.

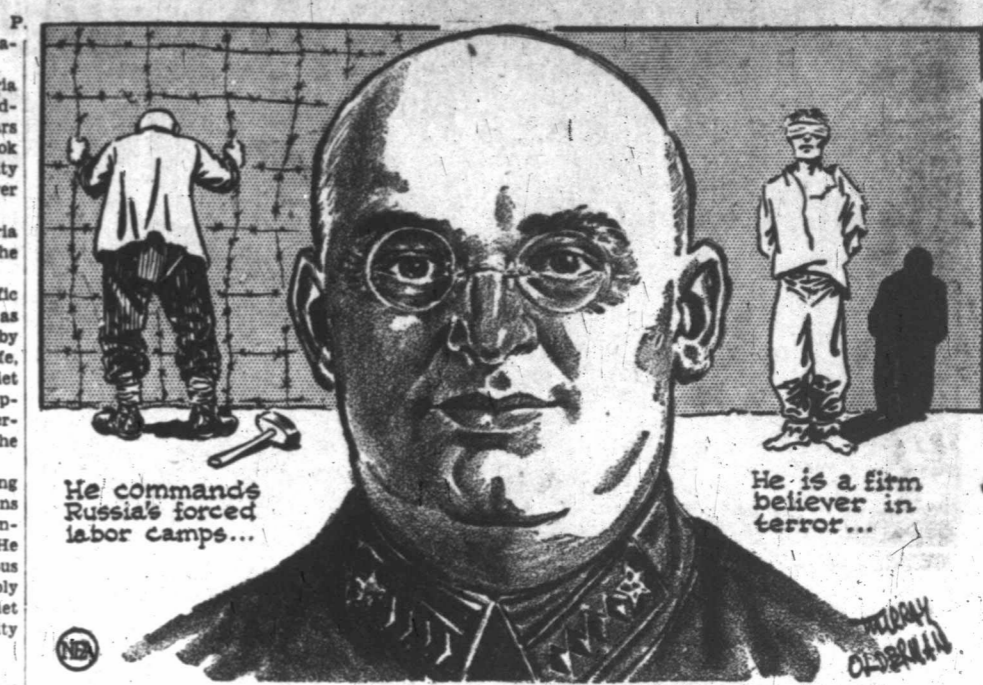

ROBINS FIGHT REFLECTIONS
NEW YORK—(AP)—Don't be surprised if you see a robin fighting its own image in a window or hub cap, says the National Audubon Society. They and other birds do it all the time during the nesting season under the impression they are driving away another of their own species. If you want to stop the fight, hang a cloth over the reflecting surface.

Beria Is Dark Horse In Red Race

PARIS — (NEA) — Lavrenti P. Beria is the dark horse among Stalin's successors.
Balding, stocky, 52-year-old Beria has mild manners and an even milder appearance. He usually wears pince-nez which makes him look like a pre-revolutionary divinity student. He is also a firm believer in terror.
As head of the secret MVD, Beria wields unlimited power wherever the Kremlin's agents operate.
By a combination of scientific planning—which he had learned as a student of architecture—and by ruthless disregard of human life, he helped Malenkov keep the Soviet war industries humming. By keeping the firing squads working overtime he assured the safety of the Communist dictatorship.

Beria is a firm exponent of strong measures and direct action. He runs a vast espionage ring in the countries outside the iron curtain. He commands all of Russia's numerous forced labor camps which supply most of the manpower for Soviet industry. He is in charge of security in the satellite states.

No Outside Ties
Like Malenkov, Beria has no cord to the outside world. He first came to Stalin's attention in 1934 when he published an incredible book on the clandestine battles of Bolshevism in Stalin's native Georgia.
The future chief of Russia's secret police realized early in the game on which side his bread was buttered. He attributed to Stalin the major part in Bolshevism's conquest of Georgia—although the Red dictor played practically no role in his own country.

In 1921, Georgian Socialists established an anti-Communist republic. It was drowned in blood on Lenin's orders—almost unnoticed by the civilized world.

Georgian Socialists again revolted in 1924. This time the chief of the firing squads was Beria. It is the only connection between Beria and Socialism, Beria and history.
The chief of the MVD is probably the most hated man in Russia. He could never rule the country alone. Only as a member of a "troika" (triumvirate) including Molotov and Malenkov will he ever be able to succeed his Georgian predecessor, Stalin.

To stay in power, Beria will have to throw his support to one of the two leading heirs to Stalin's mantle. He has apparently decided that Malenkov is his man.

With Malenkov and Beria against him, Molotov will face an uphill struggle to remain in power—despite the support of Marshal Bulganin and other members of the Politburo.
Without Stalin to control them, his heirs may well tear each other and themselves to pieces in mutual rivalry.

But no matter who succeeds Stalin the Western world has little reason to expect a breathing spell. In the concrete, nothing will be changed.

The single party, the enslaved trade unions, the all-powerful police, the brutal armed force will continue as in the past to keep an iron grip on the oppressed peoples of the Soviet empire.

With Stalin dead, his agents will still remain everywhere they are in the world. The Communist plans for aggression will remain what they are now. The hot-cold war will continue to be led by the same men.

It is customary in Asiatic countries to keep the death of the chief a secret. This allows time to quietly regulate the details of the succession—especially when the reign of the deceased has been despotic.

Will the Politburo continue this tradition after the Asiatic Stalin disappears from the scene? Some Soviet experts in Western Europe believe that the Russian people—and the world—may not find out about Stalin's death until long after the dictator has died.

Truman Assails Kremlin For Germ Warfare Charges

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman raked the Kremlin Wednesday for "passing out the lies" that the UN has used germ warfare in Korea.

The President told a White House delegation:
"The Kremlin cries that we have used germ warfare."
"There isn't a word of truth in that. We have never broken the Geneva Convention in our operations in Korea."
"And they know that. They know it well. But they keep on passing out the lies that have no foundation in fact whatever."

A delegation from the American Action Committee Against Mass Deportations in Romania heard the President assert:
"The Kremlin bombards the world with cries of peace-peace. And the Kremlin brings on war-war, at every point that she possibly can."

HERE'S HOW ADS MAKE MONEY FOR YOU

USUALLY when you read or listen to advertising, you think only of the fact that it's trying to sell you something. And advertising's job certainly is to sell you something. That's what it's for.
But let's look at advertising in a broader sense. All the jobs and all the pay checks in America ultimately depend on people buying and selling. Yes, jobs depend on somebody selling something to somebody else.
So good, hard-working advertising is really the sparkplug of American business. And by stimulating business it makes jobs—more and better jobs for all.

In the last analysis, advertising does more than sell you something. It plays a big part in creating the job by which you get the money to buy.
So be glad there's plenty of advertising. Be glad Americans love to hear and read it. It plays a big part in American prosperity—a big part in making your job more secure.

OTHER WAYS ADVERTISING HELPS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

- 1 Brings you better goods for less money.
- 2 Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
- 3 Gears consumer demand to production; to create prosperity.

Olympic Prospects Head Entry List Of AAU Meet

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Darrow Hooper, Texas A&M weight star; high jumper Walt Davis of A&M; Charles Holding of East Texas State and Texas sprinters Dean Smith and Charles Thomas head the list of entries for the Texas AAU Track and Field meet scheduled here Saturday night.

All age Olympic prospects. Hooper has thrown the discus 170 feet and the shot over 55 feet. Davis and Holding have high jumped better than six feet nine. Davis once reaching 8-10 1/2. Smith and Thomas are top men of the nation in the 100 and 200-meter runs.

Another Olympic prospect is Jim Gerhardt, former Rice athlete, who has done better than 48 feet in the hop, step and jump. Gerhardt may have the best chance of any Texas trackster of getting into the Olympics. He has leaped farther than anybody else in the nation this season.

Another Olympic Hope Still another Olympic hope is Javier Montes of Texas Western, who has the best time in the nation in the 1,500-meter run. He did 3:52.6 in the Texas Relays.

Contending Smith and Thomas in the sprints will be Hayden Fields and Del Townsend of Howard Payne. Roy Renfro of North Texas State, Joe Childers of Odessa High School, Buddy Goddard of Southern Methodist and Ronald Clinckale of Texas Christian.

The 110-meter high hurdles will send Val Joe Walker of Southern Methodist against Willie Valls of Texas and Charlie White of Howard Payne. Walker has run the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.1.

Ralph Person of Texas is the favorite in the 200-meter low hurdles.

The 800 meters is due to provide some top competition among W. C. Burns of Howard Payne, Sam Volpe of Abilene Christian and Les Pam-brough of Howard Payne.

A Texas team will be picked from this meet to go to the national AAU, a major step in qualifying for the Olympic games.

The University of Alabama's 1951-52 basketball team was the highest scoring quintet in Crimson Tide history.

Maglie Gives Bums Cause For Distress

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Brooklyn is distressed blame it on New York's Salvatore Maglie.

His dreaded curve ball cutting the corner as sharp as a razor, Sal (The Barber) Maglie treated the Dodgers to one of his copyrighted clippings Tuesday night as he pitched the Giants to a 3-0 triumph.

The right-hander was in an especially clip-happy mood. He not only straddled the Brooks with four meager hits but cut down six of them via strikeouts. Sal's earned run percentage is now 1.14.

It was a big victory for the Giants as well as for the 35-year-old Maglie. It now only was the Giants sixth straight triumph but it was their second in a row over their arch interborough rival and it increased their National League lead over the Brooks to a game and a half.

For Maglie it was the ninth straight win. He has yet to taste defeat this season. It also was his second straight shutout over the Dodgers. He limited them to two hits the other time he faced them.

Get Only Six Hits
The Giants got only six hits off loser Ben Wade and John Rutherford but they included homers by Willie Mays and Don Mueller. The latter singled and eventually brought in the third run in the ninth inning. Mays, who was in the play his last 1952 game for the Giants Wednesday before his induction Thursday, also doubled twice.

Maglie's was not the only outstanding pitching performance. Alie Reynolds of no-hit fame yielded only two safeties as he hurled the New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory over the Washington Senators. Both came in the fourth inning and accounted for the Nats' tallies.

Yogi Berra, Reynolds' battery-mate in his two no-hitters of last year, hit a pair of homers and a double. Ivy Noren, principal figure in the May 3 trade with Washington, chipped in with a two-run homer. Jackie Jensen, who went to the Nats' in the deal, doubled in one Washington run and moved a runner to third from where he scored on Mickey Vernon's fly.

Sens Still In Tie
Washington remained in a tie for second with Boston still two and a half games off the American League pace when both Cleveland and the Red Sox were beaten. Vic Werst's three-run homer climaxed a six-run sixth inning outburst by Detroit to give the Tigers a 5-4 decision over the Indians. Bob Lemon absorbed his fourth defeat after pitching five innings of hitless ball. Hal New-houser, in relief, picked up his first victory.

Gus Zernia's two-run homer in the fifth and Eddie Joost's two-run double in the ninth gave rookie Harry Byrd his first win and the Philadelphia Athletics a 7-3 triumph over the Red Sox.

Paul Rogovin pitched the Chicago White Sox to a six-hit, 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Eddie Stewart singled in two runs in the first and Eddie Robinson bashed his fifth homer in the ninth. Ned Garver, who turned in shutouts in his first two starts, absorbed his fifth straight licking.

Enos Slaughter rapped four hits, including a home run, and Stan Musial also came through with a four-bagger to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-5 win over the Chicago Cubs. Gerry Staley coasted to his eighth mound success.

Eddie Pellagrini, inserted at first base because of a recurrence of a shoulder injury to Hank Edwards, bashed a fourteenth inning home run to give the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

Boston's Braves and Philadelphia's Phils split a two-night doubleheader. Three singles and an infield out gave the Braves two runs in the fifth and a 4-2 opening game win. A triple by Del Ennis and Willie Jones fly gave the Phils a 5-4 second game triumph in the tenth.

Aga Khan's Horse Wins English Derby
EPSOM DOWNS, ENGLAND—(AP)—The Aga Khan's Tulyar came up with a terrific rush through the stretch to win the 173rd and richest running of the English derby Wednesday.

Gay time, another English-bred colt, was second and Faubourg II one of eight French invaders, was third. Thirty-three Colts started in this race which is the basis of an international sweepstakes. Tulyar was a 100 to 8 choice in the pre-race betting.

Lanfranconi Waived Out Of Texas Loop
DALLAS—(AP)—Walter Lanfranconi, an Eagle starter since 1949, has been waived out of the Texas League, Dallas Club Owner Dick Burnett said Wednesday.

Burnett said the veteran right-hander went unclaimed by any Texas League club.

Burnett said he would try to work out a deal for Lanfranconi with some out-of-league club, possibly Long-view in the Big State League, but barring that would give Lanfranconi his outright release.

Lanfranconi has a 1-3 record this season. His release is necessary to make room on the Eagle roster for Jose Santiago, the Puerto Rican right-hander who was obtained from Indianapolis last week.

INDIANS WILL PLAY ROCKETS

The Midland Indians meet the Roswell Rockets at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Indian Park in the first tilt of a three-game stand. The scheduled Midland-Artesia game which was postponed Tuesday night because of a wet field, will be played at a date to be announced later. No starting pitcher was designated by club officials for Wednesday night's tilt.

QUICK STARTER—Cap in hand, Faye Throneberry heads home for the Red Sox. The recruit right fielder has two grand slam home runs, drags the ball and steals in a pinch.

Emil Ogden Reports For Workouts With Semi-Pro Ball Club

Superb hitting featured an inter-squad game of the Midland JayCee Semi-Pro Baseball League at Borden Park Sunday, in which the South won over the North by a 11-4 count.

Home runs were clouted by Howard and Lane.

Fifty-two boys now are signed for the league, with Emil Ogden, former Midland Indian star, among the latest to join the workouts.

The JayCee nine will meet the Latin American Colts at Colt park here at 3 p.m. Friday and Sunday journey to Kermit for a clash with the semi-pro nine there at 3 p.m.

Suits will be ordered this week. Workouts are held at 5:30 p.m. daily at Wadley Park.

1,651 Golfers Enter Qualifying Rounds

NEW YORK—(AP)—Some 1,651 golfers will try to qualify for the U. S. Open golf championship next Monday, and when the close to 60,000 holes have been played, only two players in 25 will make the grade.

Nine hundred professionals, 795 amateurs and two applicants for reinstatement to amateur status made up the original record-breaking field for the annual 72-hole grind, to be played this year at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Texas, June 12-14.

Nelson Adds Farming Trophy To Collection

DENTON—(AP)—Golfer Byron Nelson has added a new trophy to his big collection.

This one is for farming. The Lewisville Lions Club Tuesday night gave Nelson a plaque as the "outstanding conservation farmer in the Denton-View Soil Conservation District for 1951-1952."

Nelson owns a 630-acre ranch near Roanoke.

Walker Cup Ace Upset By Milkman

PRESTWICK, SCOTLAND—(AP)—Bobby Knowles, Walker Cup ace from Boston, was upset by a Prestwick milkman Wednesday but other big name American golfers swept ahead in the British Amateur championship.

Playing in winds of near-gale intensity, Knowles was ousted by Matt Alexander, better known hereabouts for his milk deliveries than his golf ability, 3 and 2.

But another Walker Cup member, giant Jim McHale of Philadelphia, and the popular former U. S. college champion, Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C., won third round tests, Lesser-known U. S. players also kept winning.

Ward, playing near par golf under miserable conditions, walloped Ireland's S. B. Williamson, 6 and 4. McHale took a 4 and 3 decision from a young Scottish rival, Reid Jack.

Other early American winners were Bill Shields of Albany, N. Y., who defeated W. S. McLeod of Scotland, one up; and Ted Bassett of Westchester, N. Y., who downed J. F. McNeilly of the U. S. Army, 2 and 1.

George Hackl, Jr., of Princeton was a third round victim of A. C. Miller, of Scotland, 6 and 5.

Knowles' defeat left only 19 Americans in the field and this figure would be trimmed to at least 13 by nightfall because of the pairings.

America's triumvirate—U. S. champion Billy Stranahan of Odessa, Texas, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and defending champion Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C.—still were considered the men to beat. Their third round matches were scheduled later in the day.

Longhorn League Battle Centers On Second Place
When nothing else helped, rain and cold weather fell on the Longhorn League Tuesday night to give the seven trailing clubs a moment's rest from Odessa's continuous domination.

Odessa recently has jumped so far ahead—six and a half games—the big battle now is currently being waged over second place. Roswell holds a half game lead over San Angelo at the post. The two were slated to play it out between them in a series opener Tuesday night but they called it off when the rains came.

Other games postponed were Odessa at Vernon, Artesia at Midland and Sweetwater at Big Spring.

Pampa Takes Pair From Amarillo

By The Associated Press
Not even a day off, granted by rain, could keep the faltering Abilene Blue Sox from slipping farther back in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Pampa and Amarillo stuck out the bad weather that stopped three other loop contests and played a nip-and-tuck doubleheader.

Pampa took both ends of the bill, winning 2-0 in the first game and 6-5 in the finale.

Abilene, second place nine days ago, got a rest from a bad spell that has cost the Sox eight of their last 10 games. They still dropped into fifth, tied with Lubbock, as Pampa jumped to fourth place.

Hiram College in Hiram, Ohio, will be the 1952 training site for the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League. For the past six years the Browns have trained at Bowling Green State University.

Qualifying Opens In Fem Golf Meet

A field of approximately 50 golfers took the fairways in the qualifying rounds of the Midland Country Club's Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Although the registration list was not complete, there was a bevy of top-notch golfers entered. These include Betty London and Mrs. Lowenstein of Brownwood, to mention a pair of out-of-town luminaries.

Among leading Midland contenders are Gloria Ezell, winner of the recent Midland Country Club Women's Golf Tournament, and Sybil Floaroy.

Other opening day activities include a buffet luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., a barbecue dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the famous Calcutta at 8:30 p.m.

The first round of match play will get underway Thursday morning and a buffet luncheon will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Second round match play will be held Friday, with the third round scheduled Saturday. An orchestra dance will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, the finals in all matches will be held, with presentation of prizes to the winners set at 5 p.m.

Pat Garner, champion of the tournament, did not enter the meet this year because it coincides with the Texas Women's Open Tourney in which she is participating.

Perplexed Dodgers Wondering About Balls Used By Sal

BROOKLYN—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, perplexed and bewildered by their inability to cope with the pitching of New York's Sal Maglie, were seeking the answer to still another mystery Wednesday.

"Was Maglie aided and abetted by cut-up baseballs in his spectacular 3-0 shutout win over the Brooks last night?"

That was what several unidentified Dodgers insinuated Wednesday after an eagle-eyed and somewhat suspicious Dodger discovered that five of the used baseballs in the Dodger bat-bag had ominous cuts on them.

"I've never seen such cuts on a ball before," said one Dodger who did not want his name used. "I'm not saying Maglie made those cuts but he certainly took advantage of them."

Manager Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers minimized the latest development, stating the cuts could have come from a number of things.

Minimizes Development
"Balls are always getting cut up in a game," said Dressen. "They could have been scuffed up when they hit against a railing or bounced off the brick background behind home plate."

Maglie professed ignorance of any cut-ups.

"I didn't see any cut-up baseballs," he said. "But if I had, I certainly would have taken advantage of it."

At one stage of the game, Jackie Robinson requested plate umpire Dusty Boggess to examine the ball Maglie was throwing. Boggess inspected the baseball, then threw it out of play.

Court Gives Reason For Ruling On Taft-Ike Delegate Question

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN — (AP) — The dispute over Taft-Eisenhower delegates is strictly a party fuss and outside its jurisdiction, the Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The court split 5-4 on the question. Actually the court had ruled against the Eisenhower faction's claims last week, but its reasons were not given until the opinion was filed Wednesday.

Livestock

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Cattle 1,900; calves 700; steady. Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $30-$34; common and medium $20-$25; beef cows $18-$23; good and choice fat calves $30-$34; common and medium $21-$25; good and choice stocker calves $32-$37; common and medium $23-$30; good and choice stocker steer yearlings $30-$34; stocker cows $17-$24.

at Mineral Wells Tuesday made the wrangle just what the court said it had to be under new and old Texas law: a party matter to be settled by the party.

The opinion confirmed a former State Supreme Court decision which held that former statutes decreed intra-party wrangles were not matters for the courts to rule on.

The majority gave the Eisenhower people a qualified shred of hope. It said if the Dicker bill passed by the last Legislature is constitutional, its provisions may be harmonized with the election code by holding that all party contests shall be tried in the first instance by the executive committee, "with a right to appeal to an appropriate court for redress against unlawful acts on the part of such committee."

to issue an injunction, and that there was no need for a writ ordering the secretary of state to do something he was planning to do anyway.

It said that article 220 of the new election law says plainly that except for a place on the party ticket for a public elective office, "all contests within a political party" shall be decided by the appropriate committee.

The majority gave the Eisenhower people a qualified shred of hope. It said if the Dicker bill passed by the last Legislature is constitutional, its provisions may be harmonized with the election code by holding that all party contests shall be tried in the first instance by the executive committee, "with a right to appeal to an appropriate court for redress against unlawful acts on the part of such committee."

The Dicker bill was designed to bring the GOP within the jurisdiction of the courts. The majority said it was not ruling on its validity.

RODEO TICKETS SELL RAPIDLY

Tickets to the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo went on sale Wednesday in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer, with a rapid-fire sale of the du-cats reported.

Mrs. Delbert Downing, who is staffing the ticket booth, said her largest sale of the morning was $150. Another rodeo fan purchased $95 worth of tickets.

The booth will be open daily prior to and during the big annual celebration. Both general admission and reserved seat tickets are on sale. J. T. Baker is chairman of ticket sales for Midland Fair, Inc.

Taft Expects Fair Decision On Texas Delegate Contest

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Robert Taft said Wednesday he expects the Republican National Convention to make a fair decision on the seating of disputed Southern delegations, including Texas' rival 38-vote groups.

Taft told a reporter he regards the Texas fight—between Henry Zweifel, Texas national committeeman who backs Taft, and Jack Porter, Texas campaign manager for Eisenhower—as more of a party organizational battle than a fight between Taft and Eisenhower supporters.

Chambers Services Held Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for two-year-old Kaeron Chambers, who drowned after falling into a fish pond near her home Monday night.

The services for the child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chambers, 604 South Loraine Street, were held in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Vernon Yearby officiating.

In addition to the parents, Kaeron is survived by a sister, the paternal grandmother and the maternal grandparents.

School Children Get Reports, Start Summer Vacation

Midland's school children returned to their classrooms at 1 p.m. Wednesday for a few final minutes. They received their report cards, and, elated or dejected by the marks on them, began the long Summer vacation.

Teachers had conked the final examination papers and averaged the semester's grades, while students had waited since examinations, hoping for the best.

About 65 students will register for Summer school at 9 a.m. Thursday, School Supt. Frank Monroe said. For the others it will be "no more teachers, no more books" until Fall. For 169 students who graduated there will be widely varied paths to follow away from the school. But in the Fall the elementary schools will find that number more than adequately replenished by a new generation entering the classrooms for the first time.

Memory Expert Is Lions Club Speaker

A man who neglects to remember names hurts himself and his business, Robert H. Nutt, noted memory expert, told members of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

The "man who won't let you forget" discussed the art of remembering faces, names and facts, mentioning also the importance of remembering things. He was introduced by Charles Lacy, a JayCee member.

Three Jay Cees assisted Nutt in conducting a memory demonstration.

Larry Andrews of Albany, N. Y., director of field services for the American Humane Association, spoke briefly concerning the work of the national and local humane associations.

Club members voted overwhelmingly in favor of a unified finance campaign proposal.

Pickett, Downing Take Air Jaunt As Pioneer's Guests

Mayor Perry Pickett and Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing boarded a new Pioneer Air Lines' Paecmaster at noon Wednesday at Midland Air Terminal for a special flight to Santa Fe, N. M., as guests of the airline.

Vern DeBolt, Odessa publisher, and Jesse Owens, Odessa C. of C. manager, also boarded the Paecmaster here.

The Midland-Odessa passengers are among representatives of 12 Texas and New Mexico cities making the flight. Gen. Robert J. Smith of Dallas, Pioneer president, heads the group of airline officials who are serving as hosts on the trip.

Other cities represented include Fort Worth, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Clovis, Tucumcari, and Albuquerque.

The group will return Thursday afternoon.

Paecmaster planes are replacing Pioneer's DC-3 planes over the company's routes in Texas and New Mexico in June.

POOL TO OPEN HERE SATURDAY

The swimming pool at Pagoda Park will be open for business Saturday.

The City Council Tuesday night authorized the opening of the pool for the Summer season and agreed to conduct a free swimming program, including learn-to-swim instructions, for the youngsters.

For those not enrolled in the swimming program, the price will be 15 cents for children and 30 cents for adults.

C. C. Schultz will be manager of the pool.

Demos, GOP—

Leaders of both Democratic factions urged their followers not to relax between now and September. Both remembered 1944, when Texas had another fight just like this one. Pro-Roosevelt Liberals won that time.

The Eisenhower people maintained they had the majorities—the Taft people said the majorities were "overnight Republicans" and really Democrats.

The Taft convention sailed through its meeting. Chairman L. J. Benckenstein of Beaumont rapped several times to call a would-be speaker out of order. There were no protests.

A man played the organ while the committees made their reports. Delegates drifted out and by the 6:06 p.m. quitting time the hall was only half-filled. Some 4,000 had filed in earlier during the day.

No Major Disorders

There were no major disorders. Both GOP conventions got together unknowingly on some resolutions. They both called for something like a national preferential primary and made a demand that the Tideland be returned to the states.

The Eisenhower convention approved a resolution endorsing H. J. Porter, Houston oil man and state Eisenhower campaign director, for national committeeman from Texas.

Neither Democratic convention instructed its Chicago delegation for any individual candidate. But it seemed likely most of Shivers' folks would follow his personal backing of Senator Richard Russell (D-Ga.), while the Liberal leaders sloped toward Rayburn or perhaps Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.). There was no certainty on that point among the Liberals.

Liberals Vs Regulars

The Liberals warmly praised Fair Deal policies. The Regulars loudly complained of the FEPC, the two-third rule, mink coats, big city bossism, and plugged for all-out restoration of states' rights. The Shivers convention said Texas wanted justice on the Tideland question—return of property it has always owned. The Liberals deplored loss of the Tideland, but said Shivers and Attorney General Price Daniel erred in not accepting an early compromise which would have salvaged more for Texas.

The regular convention lauded the Shivers Administration. The Loyalists and their spokesmen blasted it.

Neither convention had a delegation from Duval County. Sheriff George Parr, who runs politics there, didn't appear in San Antonio.

The Shivers convention re-nominated Wright Morrow of Houston as Democratic national committeeman and Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin as committeewoman. The rump session selections were Fagan Dickson of Austin and Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumford.

Time Will Tell

Leaders of both conventions carefully screened their Chicago delegate lists to be sure there were no enemies within the camp.

The Shivers delegation included a few one-time New Dealers, a good many more former Texas' Regulars and leader in 1948's States' Rights Southern splinter party.

Some Liberal war horses of past factional Democratic fights stayed with the Shivers convention. Among them were former Mayor Tom Miller of Austin and former State Senator Woodville Rogers of San Antonio.

Loyalists promised to use that as a strong arguing point, in the plea before the national convention Credentials Committee in July.

The Shivers forces planned to push their claim of a heavy majority in their bid at Chicago. The Loyalists were saying the majority of the voters didn't turn out at the precinct meetings.

Only time will tell who wins.

West Proposes Limit On Armed Forces Personnel

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — The Western Big Three powers have agreed upon a proposal to set a ceiling of 1,500,000 men each for the armed forces of the Soviet Union, the United States and China—provided all three and the UN concur.

This proposal was scheduled to be presented late Wednesday to the UN Disarmament Commission. It is the West's answer to Russia's demand for a flat one-third reduction of all armed forces of the big powers.

The paper makes it clear the ceiling will not become effective until and unless it is agreed upon by the powers concerned and by the UN. It also calls for strict safeguards to see that no one violates the limits.

Pistol Stolen In Midland Is Used As Suicide Weapon

They finally found one of the guns stolen in the April 27 burglary of the Midland Pawn Shop.

Officers got their first lead on the gun as well as a wide assortment of other articles when William Bunyard, a 26-year-old former Midlander, was arrested in Lovington, N. M.

After he was returned here and charged with burglary, he started telling Deputy Sheriff Guy Fletcher where all the loot was located.

He said he had sold a .38 revolver to a pawn shop. The pawn shop operator in New Mexico checked his record and reported he had sold the gun to a Denver City man.

Fletcher called officers there, gave them the man's name and described the gun.

"We already have the gun," the Denver City officer reported. "The man who bought it used it last week to kill himself."

OPS—

(Continued From Page One) cents or slightly more. Although overall margins will be higher, they said in some cases it may not mean an increase on an individual item.

OPS officials said the increases generally will come on those items which are in scarcer supply. They pointed to vegetables as being in this class. The order is due to hike ceilings on most or all canned vegetables.

New All-Time Peak

About 10 days ago OPS permitted wholesale grocers higher margins on some canned vegetables, fruits and juices. Officials said this meant higher ceilings of one to two cents a can at retail on these items, since the retailer applied his markup to higher wholesale costs. The higher retail ceilings could be applied only by those retailers who buy through wholesalers on those items, officials explained.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall told Congress members Tuesday that a sharp spurt in wholesale food prices as of May 20 indicated further higher retail prices for foods generally. He said this probably means the cost-of-living now is at a new peak.

HOW ADVERTISING AFFECTS YOUR JOB

Raises, Cuts, Promotions, Layoffs Often Depend on How Much the Firm Sells

NEXT time you hear or read advertising, just stop and analyze how it affects you. Its purpose is to sell goods or services. More sales mean more work to be done. That means more jobs in the firm that advertises... and more jobs in the hundred and one firms with which it does business. It's a never-ending chain. Now when more jobs open up, that means more security for everyone. It means promotion to many, with wage increases. It means opportunity—particularly for friends and sons and daughters of present employees. Whether or not you work for a firm that advertises, remember that this modern method of mass personal selling affects your company's business and its future. Hence it affects your job and your future. Advertising, by selling goods, starts businesses humming, makes them bigger. That's how advertising affects your job. For tomorrow, it creates opportunity... for today, it makes your job more secure.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

MECHANIC—I like advertising. It sells goods. And when sales go up, our shop is plenty busy. My wife and I can then have real peace of mind.

WAITRESS—Advertising my boss means more tips in my pocket. Advertising other firms does means more business, steadier jobs for my customers and bigger tips in my pocket. So I'm all for plenty of advertising.

BOOKKEEPER—I know what a difference advertising made in my firm... made our volume four times as big in five years. Now instead of just being a clerk, I have seven people working for me.

Advertising... Makes your job more secure

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

IF YOU ENTERTAIN you will appreciate the floor plan of this elegant Austin Stone home. You and your guests will love the spaciousness of the off-set room with 1/2 bath and storage.

CUT YOUR RENT IN HALF

own your own home. What about this lovely 2 bedroom, clean kitchen, and large living room home? It has smart carpeting throughout, large closets, detached garage.

EXCLUSIVE COUNTRY CLUB DRIVE

WEST—If you were to design your own luxury home, it would be very similar to this 3 spacious bedroom, 2 tile bath, Austin Stone home.

NO INFLATED PRICE on this nice 2-bedroom home located NORTH of town.

It has an Austin Stone trim entrance hall and closet, large living room, and service porch in the rear.

BEFORE THE RODEO STARTS, drive by 305 Spruce Street.

I will not tell you any other fact about the house except that it is priced at $11,500.

SURELY, WE'LL TRADE WITH YOU on this West Kansas home.

It has 3 bedrooms (one is 11x17, and the other is 13x17), large living room, delightful and cheery kitchen, attached carport.

IT'S SO CLEAN IT SPARKLES, and it's close in.

It is a lovely 2-bedroom brick home with luxurious carpeting in the living room, furnace heating, washer connection, nice closets.

SEE 1406 NORTH WHITAKER. Two bedrooms, living room, dining room, nice kitchen, attached garage.

Three years of care given to the lawn—and you'll appreciate it when you see it. Tile fence, water well, some carpeting, Venetian blinds, washer connection, furnace heating.

LOOK FOR OUR SIGN in front of one of three new homes in the 400 block of Spruce Street.

Then enter to see the 3 lovely bedrooms, ceramic tile bath, large living room and dining area (which will be carpeted), the attached garage which can later be converted into a den or rumpus room.

WHENEVER YOU SEE, anywhere in Midland, the FOR SALE sign of KEY, WILSON & MAXSON, you may be assured that our coveted and proud reputation stands behind it.

Exercise Signpost, Joint U. S.-Canada Air Exercise Slated

WASHINGTON—(P)—The first continent-wide air defense exercise for Canada and the United States will be held during the week of July 19, the Air Force announced Wednesday.

The exercise, designed to test all military and civilian agencies involved in air defense, will be carried out by about 250,000 persons, the Air Force said. In addition to regular units of the Air Defense Commands of Canada and the U. S., the exercise will involve civilian ground observers and the radar net which stretches across the northern perimeters of the two countries.

The training maneuver—called "Exercise Signpost"—was planned and will be directed by Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw and Air Vice Marshal A. L. James, respective commanders of the U. S. and Canadian Defense Commands.

University Owns Old Automobile

DALLAS—(P)—One of the most unusual assets of Southern Methodist University is an elegant 1929 Franklin automobile.

It was given to SMU by a whimsical alumnus in 1950 and has been parked on fraternity row ever since. The idea of the donor was that the engine be used in laboratory displays.

"We'll have to get some special equipment before we can tear that engine out," says Prof. Charles A. Besio of the SMU mechanical department. "It's a six-cylinder, air-cooled engine and still runs fine. But it weighs four times as much as most auto engines today."

GETS PERSONAL ATTENTION
DILLON, MONT. (P)—Firemen who were summoned to a motel to fight a blaze made the run for nothing. Off duty, assistant fire chief Ken Kenison had controlled the flames. He owns the motel.

WRAPPED UP IN HIS WORK

OTTAWA—(P)—Police Tuesday night arrested a city fireman they said really loved his work. They charged him with arson.

The man, Frank Eric Thompson, 27, a member of the Ottawa Fire Department more than three years, was accused of starting blazes within 30 minutes in two small hotels three blocks apart.

A waiter spotted the first, in the Victoria Hotel, and it was put out without serious damage. The second, in the LaSalle Hotel, caused a $20,000 loss.

Thompson, in civilian clothing, rushed into the burning LaSalle to aid his fellow firemen and was one of several overcome by smoke. Police became suspicious of his actions before the fire and, after investigating, picked him up.

Plans For 265-Mile Texas Freeway Get Highway Panel Okay

AUSTIN—(P)—Plans are underway for a 265-mile modern freeway through the heart of Texas.

The State Highway Commission Tuesday directed the necessary steps be taken for that development, in stages, of U. S. Highway 81 from San Antonio to Fort Worth.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer was instructed to coordinate the planning, acquisition of right-of-way and construction.

A number of years will be required for completion of the project. Present announcement of the long-range project was aimed at giving cities and counties along the route an opportunity to plan ahead, Highway Department spokesmen said.

Counties linked by the highway include Bell, Bexar, Comal, Falls, Guadalupe, Hays, Hill, Johnson, McLennan, Tarrant, Travis and Williamson.

Freeway specifications call for four lanes, divided in the center, with controlled access roadways feeding traffic on and off the main artery.

Midland Project
Other commission actions: Agreed to a modified Gulf Freeway design in Houston to permit alternating one-way streets in the Houston business section.

Proposed joint city-state improvement of State Highway 349 in Midland, the state widening the pavement and its support from Texas Street to one block north of George Street if the city will furnish the right of way, curb, gutter and other features where needed.

Jury Acquits Potts In Night Club Slaying

FORT WORTH—(P)—A jury that deliberated about two hours found Tommy Potts, 38, innocent of murder Tuesday night in a night club shooting.

Potts had been charged in the death of Clyde Neal, Jr., 38, on a parking lot at the Skyliner Club July 23, 1950.

The trial had been postponed seven times.

The defense contended the shooting was accidental and occurred while Potts was defending himself in a fight.

310 Americans Face Death In Holiday Weekend Traffic

CHICAGO—(P)—The National Safety Council estimates 310 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the Memorial Day weekend—if motorists fail to drive with extra caution.

The council said Wednesday it expects the roads and highways to be jammed with more than 35 million vehicles.

The grim estimate of fatalities was made for a three-day holiday period—from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday.

Friday is Memorial Day. Memorial Day fell on Wednesday last year, and it was a one-day holiday. Traffic deaths then numbered only 84, a post-war low. Fifty lives were lost in other types of accidents, and the total for the day was 134.

The council urges all drivers to "honor the dead by protecting the living." It also requests them to take this pledge:

1. To make sure my car is in safe mechanical condition.
2. To start a trip in plenty of time.
3. To keep my speed down so that the car is under control at all times.
4. To pass other cars only if there is plenty of room.
5. To stay far enough behind other cars so that I can stop in an emergency.
6. To keep my temper, to be courteous and patient in heavy traffic.
7. To refrain from drinking before driving.
8. To stop and rest whenever overtired or sleepy.

Grasshoppers can travel at least 10 miles a day, and as far as 215 miles in 14 days, according to North Dakota tests.

Everybody In Allentown Wins As Plan To End Problem Of Parking Pays Off

ALLENTOWN, PA.—(NEA)—Out in this eastern Pennsylvania city, they've put the hoop-de-do in a box. Actually, the box is a game called "Park & Shop," but it's really a gay way of popularizing the city's solution to its parking problem.

Park & Shop (the game) is modeled after Park & Shop (the actual parking plan). Both are clever, and both are easy to operate. And behind both is the dynamic, cigar-chewing general manager of Allentown's Call-Chronicle newspaper, Donald P. Miller.

In 1944, Miller began thinking about parking. His city, like most in America, had too many cars for the parking space available. There was danger of business moving out to the suburbs. Out of his research, persuasiveness and eight years of work came a master plan which today makes it cheap and easy to park in the heart of Allentown's business area.

There are three types of parkers, and three types of parking facilities, in Allentown. For the all-day parker, the Allentown Parking Authority runs lots on the fringe of the shopping district, but still within easy walking distance. These are metered, and it costs 25 cents a day—or $5 a month or $50 a year—to keep your car there.

Streets Metered

For the short-shopper, the streets are metered. But there's an intermediate group, and a large one, that is virtually ignored in many cities. That's the motorists who plan to spend a few hours downtown on a variety of shopping and business errands.

These people are considered in Miller's Park & Shop plan. The city's merchants banded together, bought land in the center of the city, and began operating privately-owned Park & Shop lots. As their ads say, it's easy as one-two-three.

Parking is a game in Allentown, too. Here youngsters play "Park & Shop," based on city's successful traffic plan. The board on which they play resembles Allentown business area.

You pull into a Park & Shop lot, one of 10 in the business area. They're easily identified by big blue signs. You give the operator—who leases the lot from Park & Shop, Inc.—a quarter, and he gives you a ticket. Your fee entitles you to park for two hours.

Secondly, you go shopping. In any of the Park & Shop member stores—and the 72 stores represent nearly all Allentown merchants—you make your purchase. If it is over one dollar, the merchant stamps your ticket.

Park For Free

When you pick up your car, you give the lot operator the stamped ticket and he gives you back your quarter. You've parked for free.

Every week the lot operator sends his stamped tickets in to Park & Shop headquarters, and gets 18 cents for each one. Park & Shop then turns around and charges the merchant who validated the ticket 20 cents. The merchant, in the end pays for your parking. But he's happy because now you're shopping in town more often.

The plan, which began operating on a small scale in 1947, is now a big-time operation. Park & Shop, Inc. is a million-dollar corporation. They've built a modern structure at one busy corner with parking space on the roof and stores on the ground level. They're paying dividends on their stock this year. They're busy planning new, bigger lots.

The Park & Shop game is the brainchild of B. Camps Ewer, an artist on the staff of Miller's newspaper. You play on a board which has a colorful diagram that's an almost exact duplicate of the Allentown shopping district.

Aim Of Game
The aim of the game is to go shopping and go home. You're dealt cards, which make up your shopping list. You have a little colored car and move from the starting point to a Park & Shop lot. Then you do your shopping (moving a pedestrian figure of matching color), go back to the lot, pick up your car and drive home.

The stores correspond almost directly to the real Allentown stores, although they're not named. The lots are located almost where they're located in full-size Allentown. And there are penalty and bonus cards to imitate the unexpected incidents of a real shopping trip.

Although it's been incorporated, and is a definite profit-making enterprise, the game has the secondary aim of driving home one message: it's faster to park in a lot and walk to the store. To emphasize this, you only roll one die when you're in your car, but two while you're a pedestrian.

"The game," says Miller, "adds the color and hoop-de-do."

On "Park & Shop Day"—the day when the game was introduced—Allentown's schools closed, its merchants ran big sales, and the Park & Shop game was played in store windows up and down Hamilton Street, the main thoroughfare. The city was flooded with shoppers. But there was plenty of room to park.

Benjamin Franklin proved the identity of lightning and electricity by his famous kite experiments.

home to the monkey house, all to drink a glass of milk with a scrambled coconut cookie to eat.

"Happy day dere, Mugwumps," said a voice that was coming through the bushes.

"Uh-oh," said Mugwump, because he knew that the voice belonged to Huffy Tuffy, the huffiest and the toughest somebody in the whole forest.

"Happy day, dere to you, Mugwumps," Huffy said again.

"My name's 'Mugwump,'" Mugwump answered. "There's only one of me, and why don't you learn how to talk?"

"Wot's de matter wit de way I talk?" asked Huffy, because he had never been to school.

"Oh, never mind," said Mugwump. "Do you want to be friends?"

By WESLEY DAVIS

Huffy said he did want to be friends all right, although he did have a feeling of flouncing and trouncing. Oh my yes! He had a feeling of flouncing and trouncing a someone like Mugwump.

"Humph!" said Mugwump. "You'd better not try to flounce or to trounce your little old friend, Mugwump. Why, if you did—if you did—I'd flounce and trounce you right back like this!"

Mugwump began to kick up dust with his feet, all to show how much he could trounce if there were ever a fight. Yes, he waved his arms around in the air with his fists all doubled. "Huffy Tuffy," said Mugwump, "that's how I'd flounce and trounce you if you ever tried to flounce or trounce me."

"Hah!" said Huffy. "And if you did dat, den I would flounce and trounce some more like this!" Huffy Tuffy, then, began to kick up dust in the air with his feet. He waved his arms around in the air with his feet. He waved his arms around in the air with his fists both closed tight. He did it to show how he would flounce and trounce if any flouncing and trouncing ever needed to be done.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

'Parents Should Feel No Blame For Birth Of Mongoloid Child

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
A correspondent writes "my baby was born three and one-half months ago. One doctor said that he was a mongolian baby, another thought he was, and two others say he isn't. Please write about mongolism in your column."

It should be possible to make a definite decision as to whether this baby is mongoloid or not since the signs of this peculiar condition are present at birth and can be diagnosed then nine times out of 10. In mongolism, the skull is small and round, the slits for the eyes are narrow and tilted and a fold is present over the inner margin of the eye. The cheeks are often red, the hair is coarse, the teeth appear late, the tongue tends to protrude and the nose is stubby and depressed, with nostrils angling forward.

The name "mongolism" comes from the appearance which is something like that of the far-eastern race known as Mongols.

Most mongoloid children are happy and friendly. During infancy they are great imitators and often like music. They rarely learn to speak properly and the voice tends to be rough and harsh. Many die in infancy and few live beyond their teens.

Many possible causes have been suggested, studied, and abandoned. Some people think, or at least have thought, that mongolism comes from some hereditary tendency, the exact nature of which has not been discovered yet. In recent years, however, most of those who have studied the subject agree that there is a definite relationship between the age of the mother and the frequency of mongolism in a child, that is, the older the mother the greater the chance of having a mongoloid child.

Separation Desired
The birth of a mongoloid child comes as a terrible shock to the parents. It should be considered as a pure accident and does not reflect in any way on the parents, the diet, the medical care, or any other known factor. Most doctors experienced in this field believe that mongoloid infants should be committed to an institution as soon as possible after birth. Immediate separation before emotional ties are formed is the best solution for family and child. The chances are good (about 20 to one) that other children born later will be normal.

ZIONIST FOUNDER
Theodor Herzl, born in Budapest in 1860, is considered the founder of the Zionist movement. Influenced by the anti-Semitic reaction of the Dreyfus affair, he published The Jewish State in 1896, which advocated a theory of Jewish nationalism, and which later led to the creation of the Zionist movement.

Old-Car Hobbyists Revive Old Game

PASADENA, CALIF.—A San Gabriel Valley's Horseless Carriage Club has revived the old game of scavenger hunting.

Members think nothing of traveling hundreds of miles in hopes of getting a pair of nickel door handles for a 1928 Packard or a rumble seat lid for a 1906 Buick.

Those in possession of old car parts can swap them for something that goes on an early model they're reconstructing.

Wives of the horseless carriage-men conduct their own scavenger game. They comb attics and auction sales for celluloid collars, old style shoes and picture hats to complete old-time wardrobes. Then, when they go for an outing in their horseless carriages they can dress the part.

I got Conoco's NEW 1-2-3
"50,000 Miles No Wear" Service!

Conoco's great new "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service will help your engine perform better, last longer, use less gasoline and oil! And here's proof:
This is exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular "50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!
In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.
Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's, today!

Here's the Famous "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service!

- 1 Your Conoco Mileage Merchant Will Drain Out Grit and Sludge, preferably while engine is hot! "Hot-oil" drains every 1,000 miles flush out grit, dirt, acid and contamination—leave your engine sparkling clean!
- 2 He'll Recondition Air and Oil Filters! He'll clean filter elements, replace dirty cartridges, record mileage. Every time hood is lifted, he'll check mileage-to-be-grease filters have been serviced at proper intervals.
- 3 He'll refill with great Conoco Super Motor Oil! Conoco Super is fortified with additives that curb dangerous accumulation of dirt and contamination—protect metal surfaces from corrosive combustion acids—fight rust—OIL-PLATE against wear.
