

Societs Declare Three Envoys Of Red China Are Unwelcome

Krush Hit By Letter

By Reinhold G. Ernst
MOSCOW (AP)—Red China brought its ideological feud with the Soviet Union to the door of the Kremlin Saturday. It announced to surprised Western diplomats that three Chinese ambassadors have been declared unwelcome in the Soviet Union for distributing a letter assailing Premier Khrushchev's cold war policies.

Peking was apparently ready to play by diplomatic rules and recall the officials. But diplomatic sources said the Chinese were preparing to defy a Kremlin ban on the letter and begin a new distribution in Moscow.

The sources reported the Chinese had flown in large batches of English language copies of the letter in "handwritten" printed pamphlet form. The letter was issued by the Chinese Communist party, and the Kremlin had taken the unusual step of announcing it would not be published in Moscow.

A statement defiantly released in Moscow by Peking's official New China news agency called the Kremlin action against the officials irresponsible.

Quoting Red China's foreign ministry, it demanded to know if the Russians were trying to undermine Chinese-Soviet unity at the moment of talks here in Moscow.

The Chinese could have kept the matter quiet, said one Western diplomat. "It's beginning to look as if they don't really want to come here next month."

But there were indications the Russians, too, may want out of the talks.

The Soviet Communist party organ, Pravda, Saturday printed a sharp speech by Khrushchev, accusing the Chinese of using a "racial approach" on ideological matters.

"This was a reference to the fact his speech had not been translated into their skin color to win friends in such places as Africa and Southeast Asia."

But there was no comment from the Soviet foreign ministry on the Red Chinese structure that the Russians had demanded the recall of three Chinese embassy staff members in Moscow, a Chinese past had said in an official statement.

The Kremlin note was sent to the Chinese embassy Thursday, the Chinese news agency said.

The Chinese announced June 18 it would not publish the letter in the Soviet Union.

But this did not inhibit the Chinese Members of their embassy from distributing it in other embassies in Moscow and to foreign newsmen.

Chinese students at Moscow University passed it around to fellow students in Kharkov, Kiev and Leningrad.

The Chinese apparently have been distributing the letter in Communist countries of Eastern Europe. In East Germany, news men bought an original from the East German government. Portions of the letter were published in Romania, which has about 100,000 Chinese students.

One of the strongest points in the Chinese letter is the statement that "general discrimination" by the Chinese government against "imperialists" are allowed to remain.

This is a direct attack on one of Khrushchev's pet proposals for a "peace with honor" in Western imperialism, are allowed to remain.

The Chinese news agency quoted a Peking foreign ministry spokesman as saying the Soviet action was "unreasonable and its excesses intolerable."

It is marginal and unimpeachable for the Chinese embassy and Chinese personnel to the Soviet Union to distribute official documents of the Central Committee of the Communist party of China.

The Soviet establishment and personnel in China have always been doing the same and no objection has ever been raised.

What indignation has the Soviet government to lodge a protest with the Chinese embassy in Moscow in this connection?

"What price peace with honor?" the Chinese government recall the five Chinese.

"One is fully justified in asking this. In taking this step, which is unprecedented in the history of the relations between the two socialist countries of China and the Soviet Union, in the event of the talks between the Chinese and Soviet parties, whether or not the Soviet government is deliberately trying to undermine Chinese-Soviet unity, will the relations between the two states and cease to be the same as before, the Chinese and Soviet parties?"

Kennedy Joins Mac For Test Bay Talks

By Arthur Gavnion
CHELSEA, Mass., England (AP)—President Kennedy arrived in England Saturday and joined Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for talks on prospects of negotiating a test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

Kennedy first made an unannounced pilgrimage to the grave of his younger sister, Kathleen, in the Derbyshire village of Esher. Kathleen died in a 1948 plane crash.

Then the presidential jet, which has carried Kennedy through a number of Western European and a sentimental journey to Ireland, took him to a quiet welcome at Gatwick Airport in Sussex. He was greeted by the Earl of Mountbatten, the Queen Elizabeth, and by Macmillan.

A note of two ways, outside the airport, Kennedy and Macmillan were greeted with banners saying, "Welcome Mr. K. but no politics please."

Kennedy never saw the Earl of Mountbatten, who is the prime minister's son. Birch House, about 35 miles south of London, to spend the next 24 hours.

But outside the gates of Macmillan's country home, he has a number of demonstrators. Many of them are carrying anti-nuclear weapons. They vowed to refuse food until Kennedy leaves for Bay Sands. Kennedy did not see them.

The 102-hour tally period will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, and will end at midnight Sunday, July 7.

Kennedy and Macmillan are expected to broaden the scope for their talks in the coming Moscow talks.

They are likely to authorize them:

1. To try to convince the Russians that international inspection of any test ban treaty is not in fact a spying system.
2. To go beyond the central issue of the test ban by taking up other questions as, preventing the spread of nuclear weapons to countries which do not have them.
3. To discuss the general situation of the world.

Attending the Birch Grove talks were the U.S. and British foreign ministers, Dean Rusk and Lord Home, U.S. and British ambassadors, and two diplomatic aides.

During Sunday's conference the most important item to be discussed is the conflict of view between the Americans and British on the test ban.

This is an American proposal which the British are hesitating.

Macmillan, brushing aside his domestic political woes, went into the talks prepared to press for a test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

He has his eyes on an early Big Three summit conference, which could consolidate his leadership and perhaps even allow him to retire in a blaze of greater glory than now seems possible.

The conference at Birch Grove began shortly after Kennedy and Macmillan had arrived by helicopter.

Lord Dorothy Macmillan was on the steps of the square, greeting Kennedy in his blue, pin-stripe suit.

After the greetings, Kennedy and Macmillan retired to a study for a brief conversation completely in private. Later they were joined by advisers and spent 90 minutes in negotiations with Macmillan.

The occasion of the meeting provided a useful opportunity for Kennedy to set out his own views on the test ban.

He should play the hard line, said Harold Evans, a spokesman for the British government.

Kennedy was guest at a special dinner party given by Macmillan Saturday night.

Underlining the nuclear weapons issue, Kennedy said in answer to Macmillan's speech of welcome, "I am glad to have an opportunity to talk about the forthcoming test ban to our representatives to the Soviet Union."

This was a reference to the new U.S. special ambassador W. Averell Harriman and British Science Minister Lord Haldimann are making to Moscow in mid-July to discuss a treaty to ban nuclear testing.

Market's Decline Seen As Part Of Corrective Process

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ended the last trading week of the first half of 1963 with an "immoderately severe loss" but not the lightest trading in three months.

Analysts saw the decline as part of the corrective process due logically following the huge recovery movement which got under way in late October and reached a peak at the end of May.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks declined 3.11 to 229.64 on Friday. The Dow Jones industrial average ended March 3 when it dropped 6.8. The decline in the March week was followed by a straight-line advance which continued for two months.

Whether the stock list will repeat the recent history was a question of one day or two to the end of the year.

The Street was cautious. Analysts also remarked that the vacation season was starting and that the July 4 holiday week is coming up, usually one of desultory trading.

Some analysts looked for a test of the "support level" represented by the 600-point level in the Dow Jones industrial average.

The Dow industrials this week fell 1.96 to 207.86. Weekly volume, shown by the 100,000 shares from 22,008,311 the week before, it was the lightest trading since 166 weeks ago, almost 30, when 19,349,540 shares changed hands.

The week began with a slight advance in the Dow and the average. The second day, however, the rise continued as a whole but was nipped by late 1960's trading which put the average a shade below a "floor" in the average which had held during several weeks of irregularity late this spring. As this level was penetrated more deeply on Wednesday, selling was continued.

Nevertheless, retail sales held above year-ago levels at the same time that a University of Michigan survey said that consumer base. Retailer's buy plans in the last few months during the week and some of the merger-minded rates were very much in the spotlight.

The Dow's most active issue this week on the New York Stock Exchange was 499 shares of Pennsylvania Railroad up 3/4 at 19 1/2. U.S. Steel off 1/4 at 48 and American Viscose up 1/4 at 66.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were 50 shares of Goldfield up 1/2 at 24. Great Basin Petroleum off 1/2 at 34. Canadian Javelin off 1/2 at 17 1/2 and Technocrat off 1/2 at 11 1/2.

Rotary Rig Count Dips

Rotary drilling activity declined in the Permian Basin oil fields last week according to Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey.

The basement showed an active rig count compared to 230 a week ago and 232 for the same week in 1962.

Mitchell County's rotary rig count was up from 2 to 3 and Borden County's count increased from 1 to 2. Scurry County's count was unchanged at 3 and Fisher County had no rotary rigs running compared to 3 the week before.

Lea County, New Mexico, continued to top the list with 31 active rigs. Feltor County had 22 and Pecos County 17.

Ex-Actress Case Won By Dismissal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When he failed to show up, ex-actress Barbara Payton won dismissal of a soliciting charge.

Miss Payton, 33, at one time was married to actor Frankfort Tovey.

She was arrested Feb. 7 by policeman F. L. Lamonia. He alleged she invited him to her Sun-land apartment in Hollywood if he would pay $40.

Prosecutor Judge Martin E. Fisher dismissed the charge Friday on a motion by the city attorney's office. The court noted that Lamonia, the chief witness for the prosecution, had repeatedly failed to appear in court to testify.

Texas Racial Curtain Is Lifting Gradually

By RONNIE THOMPSON, Associated Press Writer

The racial curtain that has existed for decades between Negroes and whites in Texas hotels, restaurants, theaters and other public facilities is gradually and calmly being raised.

In many areas where strict segregation was once enforced, a Negro now can get service.

Demonstrations have been few. Violence has been almost nil.

In many cases, desegregation in Texas has been voluntary. An unmarked increase has been noted since recent uprisings in Southern cities such as Birmingham and Jackson.

Some business men have integrated silently, without fanfare. Racial committees are working in several cities, seeking a course of action.

Many City Councils, Chambers of Commerce and business associations have disclosed plans to work with mixed committees of Negroes and whites.

Figures on desegregation moves in Texas don't exist. Businessmen appear to think that the less said, the better.

Ten of Texas' largest cities have taken long steps to end racial discrimination. These include:

Houston. Most privately owned public facilities are integrated, including hotels and restaurants. Except for a few sit-ins several years ago and an Emancipation Proclamation Day mass meeting this year, no incidents have been reported.

Dallas. A community relations committee of white and Negro leaders recently reported that every phase of the business community had responded "exclusively by voluntary action." Some hotels and restaurants are integrated. The state fair Music Hall admits Negroes.

San Antonio. The City Council Committee for Voluntary Desegregation set July 4 as a target date for the desegregation of all business enterprises to integrate on a voluntary basis. Integration pledges came from 42 restaurants, 38 hotels, the San Antonio Motel and Hotel Association and all public bowling alleys. All downtown lunch counters serve Negroes. All theaters are integrated, although one still maintains a Negro box office.

Fort Worth. A race relations committee recently said all public facilities would begin serving all customers regardless of race. This included all hotels, restaurants, theaters, department stores and athletic contests. Complete desegregation was timed to coincide with the desegregation of the city's schools.

El Paso. Total integration exists in this city, where only about 1,620 of the 310,000 area residents are Negroes. The City Council approved an ordinance a year ago prohibiting any hotel, motel, restaurant or theater from refusing to serve any persons because of race, creed or color.

Austin. The capital has been in the forefront of integration moves several years. Some 62 eating places which make 70 per cent of the city's sales are desegregated. All downtown hotels are integrated. The Chamber of Commerce recently passed a resolution urging all legal businesses voluntarily to integrate their facilities.

Corpus Christi. Most downtown eating places, theaters and many restaurants are integrated. Negro leaders say bowling alleys, hotels and motels are the major holdouts to total integration. A Negro spokesman predicted hotels, motels and restaurants will fully integrate soon.

Amarillo. The Panhandle city is generally desegregated, although some businessmen maintain a segregated operation. A major problem does not exist because less than 5 per cent of the population is Negro. About 30 Negroes lined up in front of a theater last week to buy tickets and were refused while they were en masse. Later two Negroes were admitted.

Lubbock. Some 72 cafe owners said this month they had integrated. The action was taken, a spokesman said, "to continue racial harmony."

Beaumont. To Herbert, mayor of the Beaumont chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said last week all race barriers had been broken and residents they were complying in all areas with NAACP demands for equal rights. Major hotels are integrated, he said. A spokesman for local the

Small Amount Checks Brings County Money

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—King County is $26,000 richer because hundreds of taxpayers failed to cash refund checks for a levy which the state supreme court said was unconstitutional.

Authorities said Saturday the bulk of the checks were so small—only a few cents in most instances—that the payee didn't bother to cash them.

Traffic Accidents Costly Any Way You Look At Them

America is nearing the end of the second century of its independence, and a lot of history has been made since '76.

At the forefront is the arrival of the machine age and the accompanying problems which were unknown when the nation came into being. For example, one insurance company has predicted that Independence Day highway casualties this year "will far outstrip" those suffered by car fatalities who fought the War of Independence.

This prediction includes the staggering total of 550 traffic deaths, with thousands of injuries and appalling property damage.

It is a bleak prospect indeed, and one that Americans of Revolutionary War days probably could not comprehend if they were permitted to take a look today at the country they created. The highway toll in 1963 is likely to make the Boston Massacre of 1770 appear as little more than a tea party, unless, of course, something is done to prevent it.

Surveys indicate that nearly nine out of 10 accidents are caused by driver error, and lack of judgment. Nobody can cure this, except the drivers themselves.

And if we need still another "practical" incentive to do a better job at the wheel, it can be found in the new automobile insurance rates which Texas is scheduled to put into effect Aug. 1. Traffic accidents are costly from every angle.

Investigation Set In UN
NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations is investigating reports that prostitutes prowled the delegates' lounges in search of business.

Secretary General U. Thant said Friday the reports were brought to his attention Thursday and he immediately asked for a probe by U.N. security officers.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Immigration and Naturalization Service said that Christine Keeler and Mandy Rice-Davies, stars in Great Britain's Profumo affair of sex and security, visited New York last July for a week.

Long Session Is In Prospect

By STERLING GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—There is thick, bipartisan doom on Capitol Hill.

It begins to look as if Congress may meet itself expiring back into session next January.

Vacation plans are going limping for thousands of staff aides, Capitol employees, and workers in the executive branch.

There is also talk—just wishful, so far—of a fortnight's recess starting in mid-August. This would be a king-size fortnight, because Congress wouldn't reconvene until after Labor Day.

The House majority leader, Carl Albert, D-Okla., says adjournment will come in November. The speaker, Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., just expects "a long session."

The minority leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., said "it looks as if we'll be here all year" but was not too dispirited to add his familiar gibe: "I've always said that, for the good of the country, you can't adjourn a Democrat Congress too soon."

Goldwater Remains Uncommitted

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., talked like a presidential candidate but remained noncommittal about his plans Friday night at a rally where he lashed President Kennedy for what he called inaction on communism in Cuba.

About 7,000 persons, mainly Republicans of the party's conservative wing, cheered Goldwater's charge that the President has been a man of inaction and inaction in Cuba.

Goldwater said part of the trouble was in Kennedy's advisors, because "you can't be a strong leader surrounded by people who think weak."

"Russian troops aren't leaving Cuba, he said, but being rotated. He called the Cuban situation the greatest single problem facing this country now."

"And where's our President Kissing the blarney stone," he said.

At a news conference preceding his talk, the senator said he'd wait and see what happens before deciding whether he would accept the presidential nomination.

Goldwater said President Kennedy told him recently that he felt his own announcement, in January of election year, was too early.

"I have indicated all along that this is no time to make any announcement about future political plans," said Goldwater.

Contract Of TFX Backed By Korth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy Sec. Fred Korth says no political, financial or other outside influence entered into award of the controversial TFX warplane contract.

Korth defended the award, during more than five hours of closed questioning by the Senate investigating subcommittee Friday.

A transcript of testimony made public Saturday showed that Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., asked Korth:

"And there were no extraneous influences of any kind of character, financial, influence, politics or anything else?"

"Absolutely not," Korth and other top Pentagon officials, including Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, are defending their decision to give a $28 million development contract to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth.

The decision overruled findings of military evaluation boards which reported that a design proposed by the Boeing Co. gave promise of a better and cheaper plane.

Korth said the TFX (tactical fighter, experimental) as designed by General Dynamics would be up to twice as maneuverable at French author Voltaire reportedly drank 50 cups of coffee a day when he was 80.

Korth defended his decision as Navy secretary to overrule the recommendations of aeronautical experts and veteran Navy officers.

As an experienced businessman, Korth said he was and is convinced that the General Dynamics version will be better and less costly than that of Boeing.

He conceded he had spent many weeks preparing his testimony to justify this decision.

New Water Line Is Six-Months Miracle

The Colorado River Municipal Water District and Sun Oil Company, which has completed a six-month miracle.

In less than that time, the Water District brought off the drawing board, arranged for $1,750,000 in finances, let contracts for 32.7 miles of 24-inch and 18-inch pipe, and delivered water from Lake J. B. Thomas in Scurry and Borden Counties to Sun's terminal in northern Coke County.

While this was going on, Sun Oil Company planned and then built a filter plant, pump stations and 37 miles of distribution lines for a waterflood operation in three Coke County oilfields, all at an expenditure of $2,000,000. Snyder Construction Company of Houston laid the pipeline system for Sun Oil Company in the Coke County oilfields, and Elnor Fork Construction Company of Dallas was the contractor on Sun Oil Company's Filter Plant which was designed by Freese, Nichols and Endress, Consulting Engineers of Fort Worth, Texas.

When talks between the CRMW and Sun Oil came to a head in January, 1963, and a mid-year completion date was projected, it appeared impossible that 64 miles of work could be engineered and accomplished within that short a span.

Continuing its history as a do-it-yourself outfit, the CRMW issued $2,750,000 in Revenue Bonds and tackled the job without help from state or federal sources. Nor did it have to resort to alternating its water rate structure to other customers. What did happen, explained E. V. Spence, General Manager for CRMW, was a tremendous effort and display of teamwork by the Board of Directors, Engineers Staff, Contractors and others.

The project was thrown suddenly and dramatically into action January 12, 1963, when the CRMW authorized execution of a contract to furnish Sun Oil Company up to 3,000,000 gallons of water per day starting January 1, 1963.

On the strength of this, the District's Board on January 15 advertised for bids for $2,750,000 in Revenue Bonds, and on January 29 the low proposal submitted by Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Company for 2.4839 percent interest for six-year bonds was accepted.

Meantime Sun had signed the contract and announced plans for its distribution system in northern Coke County. At this point and all through the project, O. H. Ivie, Assistant Manager of CRMW, and W. Paschal Odum, Engineer, conferred regularly with Sun Oil Engineers to coordinate the job.

Freese, Nichols and Endress, the District's Engineers, burned the midnight oil to get out plans in time for a February 5 bid opening in the District's pipeline from Lake Thomas to Silver, in northern Coke County. R. H. Fulton, Contractor, of Lubbock was awarded the contract in the amount of $2,941,435 for 31.2 miles of 24-inch diameter line and 31 miles of 18-inch steel cylinder concrete line.

Things happened so fast, that when the pipeline job was advertised in January, the CRMW and Engineers had 107 days out the pipeline route from topographic maps, then hastily staked it in the field for contractor's inspection.

There was no right-of-way field notes, and these had to be drawn. By March, Ivie and R. A. Schoeling, the District's Lake Superintendent, were spending night and day in the field with Harry Ratcliff, Colorado City Attorney, signing easements. Most came readily. In a few instances negotiations were long and drawn out, yet in every case an amicable agreement was reached without resorting to condemnation.

A project of this magnitude meant that the pipe manufacturer United Concrete Pipe Corp. Odessa had to obtain supplies of steel, but during the week ending March 29, the first 200 joints of 18-inch pipe were manufactured. The first load of pipe reached the right-of-way at Silver on April 2, and on April 11, the first ditch was out. Four days later, the initial joints of pipe were laid.

Working ahead, contractor first bored under state and federal highways, inserting a conduit through which the pipeline would be inserted later. Right-of-way was cleared, and fences were re-enforced where they would have to be cut.

Production of the 24-inch line began in Dallas by United Concrete Pipe Corporation, and in early May the contractor commenced laying this section. The District awarded a $1,625 contract to Bruce Construction company of the Colorado River, and another to J. D. Jones Construction Company of Big Spring for $33,000 for a pump station at Lake Thomas.

On June 17 Fulton laid the last joint of pipe, connecting the 24-inch and 18-inch sections, and at noon June 26 first water from Lake Thomas reached Sun's Filter Plant at Silver. Charles B. Perry, Odessa, President of the CRMW, said a letter officially dated June 27, 1963, tendering water to Sun Oil Company on July 1, and Robert Beggs, Sun Superintendent of Production, said that water injection would be started on that date in the James Reef and Southwest Nina Luica Units.

Project Provides Several Benefits

While the Sun Oil Company Colorado River Municipal Water District water supply line project is impressive within itself, it has many more important benefits.

This is the opinion of E. V. Spence, General Manager for CRMW.

Because Sun has agreed to take as much as 1,000,000 gallons a day in salt water from the Colorado River, this ultimately will open the way for impounding a second major lake on the upper Colorado River. This is vital to the water security of mid-west Texas he said.

Important too, for the Mitchell County and Coke County area is the increased recovery of crude oil by reason of the water flood made possible by the ample water supply. Sun is planning to spend $1,000,000 in addition to the $2,000,000 already invested in developing the waterflood project. All of this means vastly longer life and yields for the oilfields, supplying jobs and stable tax revenues for the affected areas.

To the economics of the picture in the Mitchell and Coke County areas can be added considerable recreational benefits accruing from the second lake, Spence noted.

The CRMW entered into a contract to furnish Sun Oil water from Lake J. B. Thomas at 47.62 cents per 1000 gallons, and salt water from the Colorado River at 42.62 cents per thousand. The District has available funds necessary for the construction of two low-water channel dams and for lateral lines to take intercepted salt water to the Lake Thomas-Sun Oil pipeline.

By intercepting and disposing of the salt water, which originated from open pits in the Sharran Ridge and North Coleman Ranch Oil Fields of Scurry and Mitchell Counties, the quality of water on the Colorado River will be improved to the point the Texas Water Commission will allow the CRMW to go ahead with plans for a lake in southern Mitchell or northwestern Coke Counties. The District has appropriated up to $50,000 for studies toward location of a dam site.

The availability of a supply of good quality water in northern Coke County or southern Mitchell County have a whole new effect on the outlook in this area of West Texas, for municipal, industrial and recreational purposes, the Manager observed. A second lake certainly would result in water security for the area.

Another potential benefit of the project is the added flexibility to the CRMW supply system. The 24-inch section of the new pipeline extends to a point twelve miles east of Moss Creek Lake, the reservoir from which the Standard-Sinclair Oil Companies waterflood units are supplied and from which Big Spring obtains water for peaking periods. Closing this gap and enlarging the line from Moss Creek lake to Big Spring would insure Big Spring of far more water than it has ever used in a day. Moreover, it would relieve the Big Spring Odessa supply line of the potential lake at satisfactory levels to meet Standard-Sinclair demands. It also would assure that Odessa always could receive the maximum of 15,000,000 gallons daily through the 27-inch line from Lake Thomas via Big Spring.

Wind Erosion Damage High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Soil Conservation Service said Saturday more than twice as much farm land in the Great Plains was damaged by wind erosion during the season ending May 1 than a year earlier.

Area damaged during the past 12-month period totaled 3,049,000 acres compared with 1,430,000 in the previous period. Damage this past year included 1,891,000 acres in the southern great plains and 1,157,000 in the northern great plains.

Colorado suffered the most with damage to 1,050,000 acres. North Dakota was next with 687,000 and Texas third with 303,000.

Ex-Waitress Is Due Some Compensation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Trudy Tavares got a job at airport as a cocktail waitress.

Her uniform was a Chinese dress with a slit.

She wore a slip under the uniform, and was fired for refusing to discard the slip.

"The slip was so revealing that when I would bend down it exposed my whole rear end," she swore.

The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board decided Friday that Miss Tavares was entitled to unemployment compensation.

Boy Strangles Girl After Seeing TV

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—An 11-year-old fifth-grade boy was in custody today after police said he admitted strangling a 4-year-old neighbor girl in an idea borrowed from television.

Kenneth Warner, who police said experimented by strangling six cats and kittens, was placed in the custody of Will County Sheriff Joseph Trime by Judge James W. Barr of Circuit Court.

The youth was ordered detained in a juvenile home pending hearing on a delinquency petition.

The body of Lynn Ann Kozlowski was found in an oat field near a housing development south of Joliet in northeastern Illinois Friday about two hours after the girl disappeared from a playmate's yard. The body, fully clothed, was partially hidden by oaks and weeds.

Will County officials said the youth's father helped him to re-enact the incident without emotion and made no attempt to explain why he did it, except that he got the idea from television and his fascination of strangulation.

Gas Imports From Canada To Boom In Next 10 Years

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Gas imports from Canada will boom in the next 10 years.

A recent survey indicates Canadian gas deliveries to the United States should increase to more than 25 billion cubic feet a day by 1973. The 1962 rate was about 955 million cubic feet.

This estimate of future demand for Canadian gas seems conservative. The new survey indicates imported gas requirements by 1973 could reach 27 billion cubic feet daily.

The trend has prompted some concern in Canada.

A citizens group in Manitoba, for instance, has recommended action to protect Manitoba's interests. A special committee appointed in 1961 to investigate actual and potential gas requirements of the province's economy submitted a report on its 18-month study in March.

One committee lacked on a warning after expressing confidence Canada has sufficient gas reserves to meet increases in Canadian demand and exports to the U.S. The group said:

"Under no circumstances should individual industries in west and north Ontario, or the Dakotas and Minnesota, receive Canadian produced gas or electricity on terms more favorable than those available to the same industries in Manitoba."

"Government intervention may be necessary in order to ensure that consumers in Manitoba enjoy a price advantage over competing areas in the east and south."

Manitoba is one of the main avenues of oil and gas transport from the West to the more populated and industrialized eastern states.

Gas has been imported into Manitoba from the West only four years but already is supplying 9 per cent of the province's total energy requirements.

The report on long-range U.S. requirements for imported gas was prepared by the Canadian Corp., New York.

The report said it will be necessary to increase imports substantially and this is probable

The 7th billion cubic feet per day estimate by 1973 will be a minimum increase needed for balancing supply with demand.

Man Kills Wife, Self

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A 55-year-old man, having failed at reconciliation with his former wife, killed her and wounded eight other persons before taking his own life early today.

Police said Willie B. Williams shot himself in the chest with the 12 gauge sawed-off shotgun he used during his wild shooting spree.

Killed moments before was Minnie Jones, 32.

Three of the wounded were children of their 39-year marriage.

Police said Williams shot Mrs. Jones and wounded the others after the door to Mrs. Jones' apartment was opened to him by a son shortly before midnight.

Reported in serious condition at a Phoenix hospital were Willie B. Williams Jr., 32, the son, and Linda Robinson, 9, a neighbor.

The younger Williams was shot in the chest while facing his father. He staggered from the apartment and fell in a nearby yard.

The visiting Robinson youngster was struck in the head by one of seven shots police said Williams fired into the dwelling as he stood at the door. Shell casings were found scattered on the ground outside the apartment.

Police said all involved were Negroes.

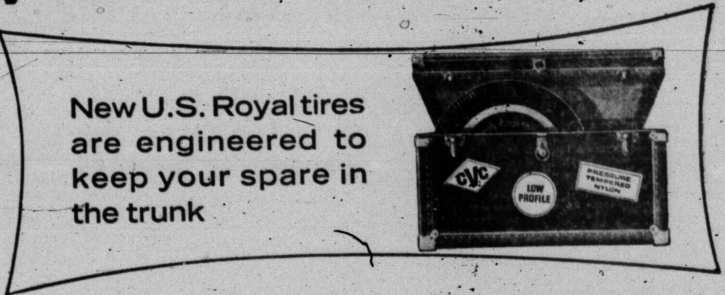

Production of the 24-inch line began in Dallas by United Concrete Pipe Corporation, and in early May the contractor commenced laying this section. The District awarded a $1,625 contract to Bruce Construction company of the Colorado River, and another to J. D. Diplomatic Relations Broken With Portugal

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic foreign ministry announced Saturday it is breaking off diplomatic relations with Portugal, signed a letter officially dated June 27, 1963, tendering water to Sun Oil Company on July 1, and Robert Beggs, Sun Superintendent of Production, said that water injection would be started on that date in the James Reef and Southwest Nina Luica Units.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — A great big "Happy Birthday" to Mexico which is 600 years old today. Properly a little more by the time this appears in the journals but at the age of 600 we do not quibble about a matter of days. Tenochtitlan was the name given to this city when it was founded by the Aztecs in 1363.

No doubt there is a great deal of celebration going on which will be business for the aspirin people tomorrow.

At first we thought of calling up the President to convey our best wishes for the occasion but he is a little hard to reach at times. So we finally selected Mexico's Good Will Ambassador, Mr. Pepe Romero who is a famous columnist here.

Mr. Romero also is the author of TWO books (I can't even get a pamphlet in print) called "The Mexican Jumping Bean and My Mexico City and Yours. Good literature for travelers who are coming down for a spell in the sun.

And we located Mr. Romero at his office which is the Montezuma Bar in the Hotel Del Prado.

"Happy six hundredth birthday, Pete," we said and he replied that he felt every day of it.

So we asked what he was doing and he said he was sitting there with a glass of snake bite medicine just in case any plumed serpents came flying through. Completely absorbed in Aztec history.

Now everybody knows a little about the Aztecs. How they walked up to this huge lake that used to surround the place, and there was an eagle perched on a cactus having a snake for dinner. This was the sign that the Aztecs were to build their city on the spot.

But Mr. Romero asked if we knew where the Aztecs came from?

men and let's move out." Generations later the trees were scouting the lake shore here and one of them exclaimed, "Look over there — The Sign!"

And another (apparently Mr. Romero) said, "For Heaven's sake right where we will build my Mexico City and yours." And as an after thought, "What a terrific title for a book I'll write."

At this point of the conversation a serpent apparently bit Mr. Romero because there was a long gurgling sound and he hung up the telephone.

It's a hazardous life any way you take it.

Two Men Charged With Murder

PITTSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Two white men from Mount Pleasant were charged Saturday with murder with malice in the shotgun slaying Friday at noon of Ed Hatley, 71, a Negro, at his home in nearby Leesburg.

The charges named Hiler Hess III, 20, and Raymond Benson, 28. Bonds of $5,000 were set. Hess was released on bond. Justice of Peace T. H. Miller said an examination of the bodies would be held July 10.

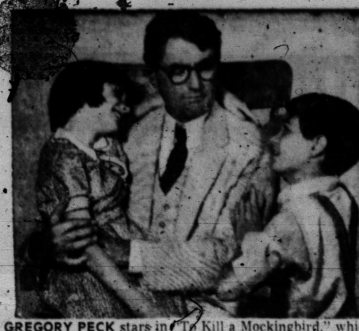

Sheriff H. H. Loveliss said the Negro was shot twice near the heart. Loveliss said it was reported that the men represented a "man company" in which Hatley owned money and had gone to see him about the account. Neither of the men made a statement.

Negro Man Named To State Office

AUSTIN (AP)—Philip Crawford of Austin will become Texas' first Negro assistant attorney general July 1, first Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert Jones said Saturday.

Crawford, 33, will be assigned to the state and county affairs division which represents a large number of state bureaus and boards in suits.

Crawford is a 1935 graduate of the University of Texas Law School. He has practiced law in Austin several years.

GREGORY PECK stars in "To Kill a Mockingbird," which is coming to the Canyon Drive In Theater here July 7.

New Trial Ordered For McClelland

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial Saturday for former Houston Probate Judge Clem McClelland, charged with conversion of an estate.

McClelland was convicted in Belton Nov. 17, 1962, of conversion of $10,000 from the Clara Currie estate and sentenced to 10 years. Also indicted in the alleged conversion was Houston lawyer Richard Putney.

The appeals court said that "Under the facts, appellant (McClelland) was not shown to be a principal to the crimes of conversion of the estate, but was shown to be merely an accomplice there to."

"In this state, an accomplice cannot legally be convicted of a felony as a principal."

McClelland is under indictment on several other allegations, including unlawful appropriation, conversion, felony theft and perjury. The charges grew out of a June, 1962, court of inquiry into dealings of his court.

McClelland, 45, was appointed the state's first full-time probate judge in 1949 and was elected twice with liberal opposition. He agreed to suspension last year after he was indicted.

Your family's silent partner

Lying there on the doorstep, it can't speak. Or Move Or Hear. But open it in your hands and it becomes a living, powerful partner in daily living. In the decisions you make, the opinions you form.

It takes you to the highest chambers of government. It takes you to the bloodiest streets of warring countries. It takes you to the heart of history in the making. In short, it tells you what in the world is happening and why.

But people depend on it for needs beyond the need to know. It's where families turn when something's to be bought or sold. It's where hints on health, cooking, religion, amusements, dressmaking, etiquette, marriage are found.

It's where charities first turn for help, and a place where a letter to the editor is published. It's where campaigns are fought and lost dogs are found. It's where criminals are exposed and newly-weds applauded. Where birth and death meet on the same page.

Mary Ann Savage, Billy Ray Harless Exchanged In Greenhill Baptist Church

Greenhill Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Mary Ann Savage and Billy Ray Harless on Friday, June 21, at 7:30 p.m. The Reverend Allan Carline, pastor, read the rites for the double ring ceremony. A brass arch candelabra with crystal votive cup candles flanked on each side with tall baskets of white gladioli.

As wedding guests were seated, a brass band presented by Mrs. Robert Hagin at the organ. Mrs. James Jones, soloist, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

Mr. and Mrs. Travis, Faries Savage of the Ennis Creek community north of Snyder, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay L. Harless, 2701 Avenue L, Snyder.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of bridal satin and featured a princess-line bodice with a V-shaped panel of embroidered Alencon Lace appliques. The appliques were repeated on the panels which enhanced the front of the skirt.

The bride's train fell from a bustle back. Her veil of silk illusion was caught by a tiny crown of seed pearls and was fingertip length. Her bouquet was a cascade consisting of a white orchid and "frenched" mums with "piped" satin streamers of lovers knots atop a white pearl Bible. The Bible was brought from Lexington for the bride by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Susan A. Johnson.

The only bridesmaid, Miss Mary Ann Savage, sister of the bride, wore a white gown of pearls which was a gift from the groom. Traditionally, she carried four something's: the handkerchief of her aunt, while something new was her pearls. She wore a blue garter and she borrowed a penny which was minted in the year of her birth to wear in her slipper.

Miss Bon Cole of Higgins, New Mexico, was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Savage, sister of the bride, Miss Rita Harless, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Billy Kingston of Lubbock.

These dresses were of mint green dacron designed with a fitted bodice, bateau neckline, and the white memory candle which was lit by the bride's brother, Miss Shirley Harless attended the guest register.

After the three "focal" cake was cut by the bride and groom, Miss Anita Thompson served cake and Miss Linda Staron served punch. Rice bags were distributed by Misses Sherri and Marsha Hart.

After the reception, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Dallas. The bride wore for traveling a tri-colored suit of double knit anel with black patent accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A 1962 graduate from Snyder High School, the bride attended Howard County Junior College in the Spring last year. The groom is also a Snyder High graduate, Howard County Junior College, and will continue his studies at Texas Tech this fall.

A number of town guests for the wedding were from Dallas, Sweetwater, Lubbock, San Antonio, Canyon, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The wedding party and guests were honored on Thursday night with a rehearsal dinner which was hosted by the parents of the groom. The centerpiece for the table was a miniature latticed archway decorated with white carnations. Under the arch stood a tiny bride and groom of ceramic. This arrangement was also used on the register table at the wedding reception.

Following the wedding trip, the couple will live in Lubbock.

Hogue Family Reunion Held

The 14th annual reunion of the Hogue family was held in Snyder on June 22 and 23. The Beacon Motor Lodge was the scene of the gatherings, where the families enjoyed visiting, swimming, etc.

On Sunday morning the group went to the Union community center for the annual day of visiting. It was decided to hold the 1964 meeting also, based on the Thirty-six relatives were in attendance. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fox, Mrs. C. Hogue, Mrs. J. A. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogue and Brent, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hogue, Jr. and sons, Tommy, David and Matt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Brown and children, Cynda Lu and Rick all of Brownfield.

Mr. Earl Goodrum of Van Sicks, California; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Heath and children, Fred, Lance, and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Benton and daughters, Gina and Charis all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hogue and sons, Rex and Jon of Irving; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hanes of Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hogue of Snyder.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT. The delicate balance of a circus aerialist was caught by amateur photographer Herbert T. Marcus of Cincinnati. Using a Canon Reflex 35mm camera with a 135mm f-2.5 lens, his exposure was 1-250 at F-4. The tri-X film was developed in Acufine, mixed 1:1 for 9 1/2 minutes.

Camera Angles

HOW DOES a beginner in photography develop into an accomplished cameraman?

Many join a camera club where the stimulation of association, competition and guidance by more experienced members makes for progress. Some go to photography school for technical know-how or take home study courses. Others attend photo lectures and go to photo exhibitions for inspiration. Still others learn from photography books, photo magazines and newspaper articles.

Herbert T. Marcus, an ardent amateur in Cincinnati, Ohio, whose achievements are slowly becoming known nationally, acknowledges still another contributing factor in his photographic advancement—his camera store dealer.

"I'm what they call a 'self-taught' photographer," Marcus said as we studied a diverse and interesting portfolio of his pictures in beautiful, well-lit self-illumination enlargements, "but without the reaction was wonderful! It led to a second exhibition—and everything that followed."

Specializing in available light photography with 35mm cameras, he found a wealth of material for subject matter by attending local theatrical productions, circuses, carnivals, ice shows, concerts and sporting events and shooting from his seat. The circus was a favorite target and he developed a sense of split-second timing and coordination in capturing the dramatic highlights of the aerial artists; animal acts and other features under the big tent.

"That's how my camera store dealer first began to help me," Marcus recalled. "He explained what different lenses would do and loaned me telephoto lenses so that I could get close-ups from a distance. He recommended Herber Marcus is a fine example for other amateur photographers to follow. And, if it were possible to have a David Tondow in every camera store in America, that would help amateurs everywhere and be a big boost for photography in this country."

Barbara Floyd, Melvin Byrd Exchange Vows In Candlelight Ceremonies

The East Side Church of Christ was the setting when Barbara June Floyd and Melvin Lynn Byrd exchanged wedding vows on June 29th, at 8 p.m.

Bro. Richard Williams officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony before a background of branched candelabras and baskets of white gladiolus.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Floyd, 609 Twenty-third Street, Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Byrd, 407 North Avenue H, Post.

The musical program was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lieb, Mrs. Garth Austin, Mrs. Wade Davis, Tommy Minton, Kay Martin, Jay Don Rogers and Fred Finley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length white strapless satin dress with a chantilly lace, long-sleeved jacket that buttoned down the front. Her elbow length veil of net was trimmed with matching lace and fell from a satin halo decorated by a satin bow and a string of pearls.

She carried a star-shaped bouquet of four-arm white gladiolus accented with satin streamers, centered by a detachable corsage.

Constance Stagg was maid of honor, Susan Nevel was flower girl and Jackie Neal Floyd, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Ann Byrd, sister of the groom and Gary Floyd, brother of the bride, were candlelighters.

Bridal attendants were attired in lavender cotton sheath dresses with elbow length sleeves. Their headpieces were of daisies and

 - 1 small green pepper, cut in thin strips
 - 1/2 cup catchup
 - 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 teaspoon paprika
- Make 3 or 4 diagonal cuts in each frankfurter, but not all the way through. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet over low heat, add onion and green pepper; cook until wilted, add catchup, water, vinegar, Worcestershire and paprika; mix well. Add frankfurters, spooning sauce over them. Cover and simmer (do not boil) for about 10 minutes or until frankfurters are hot through. Makes 4 servings.

Amateur Explorer Rushed In

THE LOST WORLD OF QUINTANA ROO. By Michel Peissel.

An amateur man of adventure sometimes blunders in where professional archeologists would fear to tread.

The author was only 20 when this bizarre adventure began. In 40 days he made a one-man walking trip down the coast of Quintana Roo, through more than 250 miles of jungle, infested with insects, reptiles, pirates, disease and natives of questionable intent.

And where is Quintana Roo? It is an isolated area of the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico, containing many ruins of the Mayan civilization. There had been a few sea-borne explorations of this coast, but Peissel explored it the hard way, on foot.

There are two aspects of his account which is almost like a diary. The first, many would have called it "footpath" trip. One is that as an amateur archeologist he glimpsed some Mayan temples, pyramids and cities that had been only suspected to exist. The other is that he observed many primitive phenomena, and like an amateur anthropologist he records the jungle life of present day Mayans, ruined plantation owners, vicious chicle-hunters and simple-minded jungle rangers and smugglers.

The author swings frequently into that dourly phrase of the adventure-writer, "Little did I realize that..." With accompanying shivers.

Peissel made some contributions as an explorer. But the real substance of his story, detailed narrative is the series of pictures to be found here, of naive, primitive souls in the jungle to whom he entrusted his own fate, luckily.

NUPTIAL DATE SET—Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Taylor of Belton, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara June, to Tommy Melvin Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Minton of Snyder. The wedding is planned for August 27th in the Belton Church of Christ.

The Gardeners Corner

BY EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

SOMEONE was missing at the annual Rose Festival at Newark, N. Y. this year. The 300 rose plants and the brilliance of uncounted other blooms he loved could not be seen because of the absence of Charles H. Perkins.

Charles wasn't around to walk through the 1-acre Jackson & Perkins garden where he had quietly watched thousands of guests who came to admire his handiwork. His eyes had peered through his glasses to catch their reactions to the giant and dwarf blooms his tender hands had helped to develop.

Perkins had presided; at virtually all of the 21 Rose Festivals before his death last March. Charles had made a brief speech of welcome in which he told a bit about one of his new roses. He was very proud of them and he never failed to give credit to those responsible for the new beauty.

Charles had spent 61 of his 73 years among his roses. As long as the famed gardens offer color and fragrance, Perkins will be remembered.

For June 22, the spacious garden was dedicated the Charles H. Perkins Rose Garden in honor of the late president of J. & P. There were other honors at the 32nd annual festival.

Mathis Tamm, who heads a German rose firm, bearing his name, was recognized for his magnificent hybrid tea, Tropicana, the 1963 Rose of the Year which earned a record-breaking 14 international awards.

And new glory came to Eugene S. Boerner, J. & P. plant research director and long-time friend of Perkins, who has had more roses patented under his name than any other man.

The opening of the festival also was the occasion for the public display of Boerner's 1964 All-America winner, the white floribunda Saratoga.

Another scheduled guest was Hermann Knudsen, one of two German hybridists who developed the bicolor roses, Perfecta, the 1959 Rose of the Year.

MRS. LARRY MAX SMITH

Jackie Deloris Seyer, Larry Max Smith Exchange Double Ring Vows In Dallas

The Preston Road Church of Christ, Dallas, was the scene of the marriage uniting Jackie Deloris Seyer and Larry Max Smith on June 29th at 10 a.m.

Brother Eldred Stephens, minister, read the double ring ceremony before a background of greenery and baskets of white gladiolas on white pedestals.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Seyer of Lexington, North Carolina, formerly of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Smith of Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white imported French lace over white satin, fashioned with a scalloped neckline, long pointed sleeves and the bottom of the floor length gown was scalloped. Her veil of French illusion was gathered crown style, falling to shoulder length in front and elbow length in back.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by individual gladiolus.

Linda Kay Seyer attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a dress of lilac silk organza over an iridescent tulle with corded scooped neck, short sleeves and pointed waist. Her accessories were of white. She carried small lilac and white spider lilies. Her headpiece of lilac silk organza had an orange-face veil.

Kay Jean Goodrich of Midland and Matt Boltlinghouse of Dallas were ring bearers. Miss Goodrich was dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Robert Wayne Green, of Lake Jackson was best man. Ushers included Albert Cooney, Donnie Pounds and Don Scott of Dallas; James Minor of Abilene and George Leockle of Texas City.

A reception was held in the Terrace Room of the Brookhaven Country Club. Assisting the couple in receiving were their parents and the maid of honor.

Eunice Robinson registered guests, with Peggy Brown and Sandra Coomes serving.

The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to the coast and various lakes to water ski and skin dive.

After July 15th the couple will be at home at 3221 Bonita Avenue, Apt. 202, Dallas.

Mrs. Smith, a graduate of Midland High School, received her B. S. from Texas Woman's University, a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, American Dietetic Association, and served her dietetic internship at the University of Oregon in Portland, and is employed as dietitian at Baylor Hospital.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Snyder High School, received his B.S. from Abilene Christian College, was an Alpha Chi, and is a chemist for Texas Instruments.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Seyer and children of Bartlesville, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Skinner of Heidelberg, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Roberts of Wynne, Okla., Mrs. John P. Seyer of Purcell, Okla., Miss Bobbie Jo Ivy and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodrich of Midland.

Summertime Calls For Ice Cream Cake

It's summertime again and the serving is easy with the advantages of bake-ahead desserts that can be so much a part of warm weather menu planning.

Ice cream and cake are frequent family favorites throughout the summer season. This winning combination brings to mind an array of serving suggestions.

A new ice cream loaf cake offers your family a spectacular dessert that is nourishing yet a delight to serve.

The Ice Cream Loaf Cake features popular chocolate cake, vanilla ice cream and lofty whipped cream icing.

The loaf cake offers an economical and easy one-bowl recipe. Baked with self-rising flour, the loaf cake will rise to the necessary extra height needed to split the loaf for the surprise layer of vanilla ice cream.

This tasty dessert is as elegant as a Baked Alaska yet calls for proven baking methods and is planned to be prepared in advance. The complete frosted cake can be prepared ahead of time and then be placed in the freezer.

ICE-CREAM LOAF CAKE
 1 1/2 cup sugar
 3/4 cup shortening
 2 teaspoons vanilla
 1/2 cup cocoa
 2 eggs
 2 1/2 cups self-rising flour
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1 quart vanilla ice cream
 2 cups whipped cream
 choice of chocolate garnish

Cream sugar, eggs, vanilla and shortening. Add cocoa, self-rising flour, milk and beat well. Bake in floured and greased loaf pan (9 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 3 1/2) in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes. Turn oven to 300 degrees and bake for ten more minutes. Cool cake, remove from pan and chill in refrigerator.

Chilling process allows cake to be split easily, neatly, and prevents crumbling. Slice cake lengthwise into two loaf layers. Spread softened ice cream on bottom layer until approximately the thickness of the cake layers. Top with remaining loaf.

Spread top with whipped cream spread over top and sides. Garnish with chocolate shaves, chocolate chips or chocolate candies. Serve immediately or place in freezer for freezer storage, either before or after icing is applied, place cake in plastic bag. Remove from freezer 10 minutes before serving time.

The old-fashioned goodness of the new Ice Cream Loaf Cake makes the ideal dessert suggestion for parties, holiday treats, picnics, special family occasions, or regular family - night dinners.

COOL ICE CREAM CAKE offers your family a spectacular summer dessert. This special loaf cake baked with self-rising flour rises extra high and can be split to add the surprise layer of ice cream. Topped with whipped cream icing, this dessert idea is easy to prepare yet as tempting as a Baked Alaska.

 A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

This may come as news to you, but aspirin is one of those drugs that may be of a deductible nature on your federal income tax return.

But to claim it, you must be able to offer proof you bought it.

When you buy it from us, you get that proof. But when you buy it at the corner grocery, or in a department store, or in a restaurant, you are likely to forget about it.

That goes for a lot of other things, too—such as antiseptics, cough and cold preparations, laxatives, and so on.

Our customers like to buy all of their drug supplies from us, because they know they will get the benefit of a complete record of all purchases of a deductible nature.

Our customers get an annual statement (mailed in February) which tells them how much they spent on drugs of a deductible nature. It's called a Drug Tax record, and we offer it to our customers free of charge.

Next time you buy aspirin (or any drug item), be sure you're in a store that gives you a Drug Tax record. Come income tax-time, it can save you money.

Vacation Watering Tips

If you won't be away more than four or five days and want to keep your plants moist, place them on thoroughly soaked bath towels in the bathtub, kitchen or laundry sink. There should be some light - but not direct sunlight. Open the faucet so that one drop of water will fall every few seconds on the bath towels. The towels will feed moisture to the plant soil.

If you will be gone for more than a weekend, you don't need to get the faucet drip. Soaked newspaper in this case will be as competent as towels.

Another method is to water plants thoroughly and enclose them in a plastic bag, which will reduce evaporation.

Warm Weather Menu

Serve meat salads, fruit or pudding fillings in shells - to make tart shells. To prepare the shells, roll out rounds of pastry about 6 inches in diameter. Place each one over an inverted, mustard or muffin tin. Bake in a greased oven at 475 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. The pastry will shape around the cup during baking.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures BY SID KRONISH
TWO BRITISH colonies, vastly separated from one another, have made stamp news with interesting new issues. Singapore has released two new stamps commemorating its "National Day." The 4c and 10c stamps depict large apartment houses recently built by the Singapore Housing and Development Board.

From the Caribbean area, Dominica has announced the issuance of a new set of 17 stamps showing various scenes and items of interest in and around Dominica, reports the Crown Agents Stamp Bureau. Some of the items featured on these stamps are: The seashore at Rosalie, a sailing canoe, a road, a traditional costume, a banana, a cocoa, parrots and portraits of Queen Elizabeth.

The United Nations Postal Administration deserves a vote of thanks for the excellent job it has been doing in providing a wide variety of stamps publicizing the aims and activities of the United Nations and its specialized agencies. In addition to issuance of stamps, the United Nations participates in philatelic exhibitions throughout the world. The material for these exhibitions ranges from large displays suitable for showing at international exhibitions to small exhibitions appropriate for display at local stamp clubs. They even furnish on loan film and film strips. Stamp clubs may receive further information on these matters by writing to the United Nations Postal Administration, United Nations, N. Y.

Tunisia has issued four new stamps honoring its "National Day," reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The 15M value features mosques and minarets of the town of Kairouan, the ancient capital of Tunisia. A woman in traditional dress is seen in the foreground. The 25M depicts a woman of Djarba, a beautiful island of Tunisia. The 55M portrays a woman of Kasser Hellar, a town of olive groves. The 60M illustrates a woman attired in the garb of the Arabian Nights.

The General Post Office in England reports that it will issue special stamps on April 23, 1964, to mark the 300th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare. Artists are now being commissioned to submit designs for the British Post Office.

From Czechoslovakia comes word that two new stamps were issued to commemorate the 10th anniversary of Czech television. One stamp features a television camera, an aerial and a TV set. The other stamp shows a television aerial and a transmitter.

Enough Hot Water?

Hot water goes fastest at bath time. It takes three gallons a minute for a shower and about 15 gallons for a tub bath. Before you replace an antiquated water heater, make sure the new one has enough capacity to supply all of your household needs. Gas water heaters outsell competitive types 4 to 1 because they require less heat at an exceptionally high rate.

Dutchman's Story Is Little Classic

THE ARTIST. By Jan de Hartog.

Within the compass of a small book, de Hartog has woven quite a magical spell. His story ranges from a fable-like beginning, through a comedy of errors acted out by a cluster of grotesque figures, and finally into a resolving end that touches heartily upon the age-old theme of life.

That's a giant span for a writer to achieve, but it's all here in a few pages.

In Part I there is a story of the Dutch boy Jansen, who likes to draw pictures and is fascinated by the sea. Becoming a cadet in a naval academy, he chances to brush against the lives of two painters of diametrically opposed schools - de Neef, the meticulous recorder of realistic water scenes, and Bangma, the wild, drunken, colorful expressionist. The upshot is that young Jansen takes a conservative course - he must earn a living before he can paint.

In Part II, years later, we find Jansen as a retired harbor pilot, a man who has sacrificed every emotion and ambition so that in his late years he may go to Paris in a houseboat and become a painter. The tragedy - which he soon realizes, there in his houseboat on the Seine - is that the juice has gone from his life; he is working blindly toward his goal, he has lost his gift of seeing the world as an artist sees it.

But then, the broken and disillusioned old man is swept into some mad scenes involving the river hoboes and a dog - Stubbart, Dutchman that he is, Jansen lets the whole universe crash about him because of the dog. And finally, in a lonely scene of gothic tragedy, there is a closing episode that turns stark failure into a gently liberating flight of the spirit.

For any mind sensitive to the rhythms of human emotion and to the clean, incisive words of a fine writer, this is a little classic to be remembered.

Count on four pounds of corned beef, weigh before cooking, serving eight when it is offered hot. If it is offered cold and sliced thin with a substantial salad you'll increase the servings.

State Sales Tax Changes Going Into Effect Monday

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

A State Bookback salesman revealed how some customers are being affected by the new state sales tax changes that go into effect Monday. That is good news for diabetics, newspaper readers, farmers, coffee stand operators, churches, and the state treasury.

The changes will be unhappy for clothing buyers.

Many retailers are most tax conscious now, says the salesman. In the month-end 2 per cent sales tax.

"I don't think the changes will affect anything," the sales tax man said. "The way of life is the same. I saw a Harris executive in Dallas."

W. W. Garrett, manager of an Austin department store, disagreed.

"People who shop with us are looking for bargains and they want every penny they spend. A lot of people don't know what is taxable now and they will wonder when we start taxing something new."

He referred to a removal of the exemption on outer wear, such as apparel, costing less than $10. The change is expected to net the state an increase in revenue in two years.

Most retailers say the clothing tax change is a blessing.

Shah Of Iran Counting On Revolution

By DAVID LANSCHIRE

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi of Iran, a complicated king with a West-by-eye for progress and an Oriental sense of politics, is betting on a royal revolution to re-ignite the ancient nation. A lot of Iranians are betting against him.

A hard-working monarch who sometimes relaxes by gambling at poker in one of his seven palaces, the Shah is his success counted by challenging the traditional, backward, and often backward religious leaders who dominate Iran's 16 million people.

He is including "new villages" controlled by the military in his huge, hazardous land reform program and granting Iran's veiled women the vote. The Shah hopes to break the hold of the clergy on the people and to give the peasants a political force behind the throne.

"The Shah feels he is under pressure now," said one diplomat. "He has a look at the Arab world and knows he must find a way to change the base of power instead of depending on the elite."

Some critics of the Shah, which is the Shah's argument, is that he is not doing enough to change the situation. He has launched a program to reduce the land barons, to bring generals on corruption charges, and passed other reforms that upset wealthy industrialists who grow fat on favoritism.

Those who know him, and who are Iranian, who oppose the Shah, say he has changed in the past two years from a nervous, indecisive blueblood but made stirring proclamations but little about them, to a determined ruler with a sense of direction.

His leadership was tested this month when the mullahs sent a message on a rampage of rioting in Teheran and stirred uprisings in other cities. Troops opened fire with submachine guns, hundreds were killed, and the mullahs ordered "holy wars" in opposition to the landowners and mullahs, restless students who want change faster than any government can provide it.

The underground Communist Tudeh party, and political groups, whose leaders are in jail, want the Shah to be a powerless constitutional monarch.

In the name of the group appears strong, or united enough to try a revolution and could headed Iran's Shah, the Shah's overthrow would mean chaos because there is no system ready to replace him. Others glared nervously at the Soviet Union across Iran's northern border and maintain Moscow would step in if the Shah stepped out.

Junior Editors Quiz on PHOTOSYNTHESIS

QUESTION: Are all plants which produce food by photosynthesis green?

ANSWER: No, we have all heard the photosynthesis process, in which a green leaf, if it were a tiny factory, taking in carbon dioxide from the air, the trunk or stem of the plant, which brings it up from the roots, and the green specks in the leaf cells called chlorophyll then use energy taken from sunlight to manufacture a kind of sugar which is the basic substance of food. Plants grow because they get nourishment from these sugars. We get them from eating plants and animals, which also eat plants. So, it is true that these tiny leaf factories are the most important ones in the world.

specks of chlorophyll are the workers in these factories. Leaves look green because chlorophyll is a green substance. Yet not all leaves are green. Think of the ornamental trees you often see with gold or purplish red leaves. These are plants whose leaves may be yellow, red blue or brown, but green chlorophyll cells are still at work in such leaves. It is just that there are other color pigments present as well which give the leaf its color appearance.

FOR YOU TO DO: In some part of the garden where it won't do any harm, cover a small patch of grass with a board or stone. Then look underneath it a few days later. You will see the green color is going out of the grass. This shows that without light the little chlorophyll factories have to close down.
