(Q) Why do the four young doctors (Jones, Lindsey, Noonan and Thomas) expect the hospital (which belongs to the taxpayers of Mitchell County) to pay them for treating patients in the emergency room?

(A) Dr. T. A. Noonan stated, "We do not object to treating our own patients in the emergency room—the problem comes from those who apparently view the emergency room as a free 24-hour out-patient clinic."

Dr. Noonan went on to explain that physicians who worked in emergency rooms had to pay high fees for malpractice insurance as well as incurring expenses for the time and materials used by the office staff in what usually turned out to be useless billing.

The worst aspect, he continued, was that working all hours in the emergency room often resulted in fatigue which interferes with the physicians' treating their own patients during regular office hours.

Additionally, he noted, treating people in the emergency room who really do not require emergency treatment and who often have no intention of paying, interferes with the doctors' time with their families.

In conclusion, Dr. Noonan said, "We sincerely appreciate our own patients and enjoy our practice here. However, everyone expects to get paid for doing their job and that is all we want."

Voters to decide on the Sewer Treatment Plant

"Colorado City is on the move," said Mayor Elmer Martin, "and we have to plan for growth."

"Part of that plan includes the renovation of the sewer treatment plant which is projected to last for 20 years," he added.

The renovation project depends on the passing of a bond issue that comes before Colorado City voters next Saturday, April 2 which will allow the selling of $750,000 in bonds. The bonds would be paid for by levying a tax rate of approximately 21 cents per $100 valuation on property for 10 years.

"I don't see how we can afford to vote against it," stated B. B. Hardee, one of the co-chairmen of the Mayor and Council's Bond Election Steering Committee.

The City of Colorado City is currently in violation of state laws with its present method of allowing all of the effluent from the plant to go into the Colorado River after treatment and thus is subject to a $1,000 per day fine for each day it is in violation.

In addition to the money question, J. O. Dockrey, Jr., candidate for mayor, commented, "I hate to see any effluent emptied into the Colorado River. I'd like to see it all used for irrigation."

Under the proposed plan, almost all of the effluent would be used for irrigation and no more than 50 percent would ever be emptied into the river.

Ray Anne Carlock, another co-chairman of the steering committee, noted that the proposed renovation was superior to a new plant, not only in its impact on the Colorado River, but also in both present and future cost.

For example, the annual electricity cost for the renovated plant is estimated at $6,000, while a new plant would use about $21,000 in electricity; annual operating maintenance cost for the renovated plant would be $12,000 and a new plant would need $15,000 annually; the annual chemical cost for the renovated would be zero and a new plant would use about $1,500 in chemicals.

Also, the renovation would be paid for in 10 years (at 9 percent interest) while a new plant would take 15 to 20 years to pay for at the same interest rate.

Hardee concluded, "The proposal seems to be well accepted by the citizens of Colorado City. We have seen very little opposition to it."

Members of the steering committee have been working with various civic groups to inform the public of proposal and the city's need for it and a speakers bureau consisting of Hardee, Paul Hunter, Woody Anderson, Tom Lovell, Brenda Tarter and Jim Baum was appointed for this purpose.

Two vie for mayors race

Both incumbent mayor Elmer Martin and J. O. Dockrey have filed for the position of Mayor of Colorado City. Martin has been mayor for more than two years and Dockrey, although not currently on the city council, has previously served four years on the council.

For the other three vacancies on the council, incumbents Don Bennett and Ray Mason have filed again and Dee Hearn has filed for the third position.

The April 2 election will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Colorado City Hall and the election judge is Sue McGuire.

Bid awarded on seal-coating roads

During a called meeting of the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court Monday morning, Grimmitt Bros., Inc. of Snyder was awarded the bid for seal-coating approximately 12 miles of county roads.

Their bids of 50 cents per square yard will amount to less than $6,000 per mile and the actual number of miles to be seal coated will be determined by the amount of money set aside for the project.

Other bids were submitted by Bob and Bobby Nobles of Colorado City and Gross & Smidt of Big Spring.

Weather alert exercises still in progress

The practice exercises staged by city and county officials to make Colorado City citizens aware of the procedures in the event of severe weather have been going as planned and will be continued through Friday, April 1.

For those who are unaware of what the exercises have been, the Civil Defense alarms have been sounded each morning at 8 a.m. and KVMC has been interrupting its regular broadcasting to conduct tests of emergency broadcast systems at the same time.

3 seats open on Loraine council

Only 2½ months after a special city council election in Loraine, the regular election for three council seats, plus the mayor's position, is coming up on April 2.

The incumbent mayor, Royce Beights, is running unopposed, but four people are in the race for the council positions: Tommy Green, Lillian Hallmark, Jack Brewer and Kent Boyd.

Green, Brewer and

Boyd are incumbents, with Boyd having gained his place on the council during the election on January 15; this is Mrs. Hallmark's second bid for a council position, having lost in her try during the special election.

Balloting will take place at Loraine Lions Club building on Saturday, April 2 from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. in conjunction with the school board elections. Opal Jo Blair will be the judge.

Lone Wolf Relays Thursday

The fourth annual Girls Lone Wolf Relays will take place today (Thursday) at Wolf Track Field with field events starting at 2:30 p.m.

There are six teams entered, and it shapes up to be a thrilling and competitive track meet. Teams entered in the meet will be the Wolves, Sonora, Ballinger, Lubbock Roosevelt, Merkel, Coahoma and Aspermont.

The race for the team championship is expected to be a close one, with Ballinger being strong in the field events and Coahoma having good team speed. The Wolves, who are coached by George Martin, are expected to be up in the running.

The Ballinger Bearcats bring a lot of possible points in the weights events. Angie Jones and Debbie Stubblefield are both tossing the shot put around 35 feet. Louis of Aspermont has tossed the shot over 34 feet.

The discus will be one of the featured events at the meet. The Wolves Stacy Hamrick will be one of the top competitors with a best of 104-0. Jorgenson of Ballinger and Sonora's Lindy French has also thrown the discus over the 100 foot barrier. But all eyes will be on Coahoma's Vickie Buchanan, who is in the state's top 10 with her toss of 130-5.

In the long jump and triple jump Wolves freshmen Sandra Williams will be a top contender. She has been over 16 feet in the long jump, and according to Martin is very capable of going 35-36 feet in the triple jump. Aspermont's Cochran has been 32 feet in the triple jump, and Coahoma's Tobie Henry has long jumped 17-3.

Cochran has jumped 4-10 in the high jump. She will be contested by Coahoma's Becky Crech (5-0), and Merkel's Kelly Beights (4-10).

The Wolves are expected to score heavily in the running events along with Coahoma. The 400 relay is expected to be close with the Wolves team of Hollie Taplin, Williams, Tomika Randle and Robyn Turner having closed a 51.4 while Coahoma and Sonora has run a 52.0. C-City's 800 relay team of Turner, Taplin, Staci Free and Randle has clocked a 1:57.4 while Merkel has turned in a

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rivera

Couple united in evening ceremony

Lisa Rene Rivera and Edward H. Rivera were united in marriage during a 7 p.m. ceremony in First United Methodist Church on March 19 with Rev. M. Ronald Hamby officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Eli Rivera of Colorado City and grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jake Boatright and Mrs. Alvina Rivera, all of Sweetwater.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Juan Rivera of Colorado City and his grandmother is Mrs. Fermina Herrera of Big Spring.

The double ring vows were said before an altar rail trimmed in greenery accented with votive candles. The steps to the altar were flanked with blue and white carnations and greenery. To one side of the altar, the Unity candle was decorated with flowers and greenery.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Kent Boatright, the bride wore a gown of organza featuring a Queen Anne neckline with Victorian sleeves. Pearls traced the Venice lace on an empire bodice. A band of tiny pleats marked the hemline of the semi-bouffant skirt with lace heading. A repeat of the trim enhanced the them of the chapel-length train. She carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis accented with lace.

The maid of honor, Kristie Swann of Colorado City, wore a soft blue dress with a Victorian neckline accented by lace. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations with baby's breath and lace.

Randy McPhaul of Colorado City was the best man and Victor Jackson of Brownwood and Marty Martin of Colorado City served as ushers.

Traditional wedding music was played during the ceremony and at the reception following by Mrs. James E. Payne, organist.

At the reception, in the fellowship hall of the church, a three tiered cake accented with blue bows and tiny blue and white roses was served from the bride's table, which was draped with a lace cloth underlaid with blue and centered with a silver candelabrum.

The groom's table featured a German chocolate cake and was draped with a floral damask cloth. The table was adorned with flowers and silver appointments were used.

Hostesses for the houseparty were Mrs. Kent Boatright of Sweetwater, aunt of the bride, Ms. Cecilia Gonzales of Arlington, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Lana Stander of Colorado City, Mrs. Adon Madrid of Loraine and Mrs. Irene Gamez of Colorado City, sisters of the groom.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple is living in Colorado City. The groom is a 1982 graduate of Colorado High School and is currently employed by Strickland & Knight Construction Co. The bride is a senior at CHS and is employed with the Colorado City RECORD.

Out-of-town guests attended from Sweetwater, San Angelo, Big Spring, Monahans, Arlington, Dallas and Waxahachie.

Golf season is well underway

Golf season is well underway for golfers at Colorado High School, under the direction of Walt Staats.

The golfers had to play two qualifying rounds to determine who would make up the first team and the second team.

The Wolves A and B teams competed in the first district tournament on the Colorado City Country Club course.

In this first district tournament, Colorado City A-team players combined their four best scores for a total of 344. This was good enough for second place, 15 strokes ahead of third place Ozona.

The four best scores turned in were: Jay Piland-90, Kevin McLain-85, Mike Griffith-94 and Tom Rees-75.

Tom Rees' five over par, 75, took the lead in the district medalist race. Mike Haught scored a 77, to stay just two strokes behind.

The following tournament was held at Robert Lee, but it was not a district meet. The Wolves scored a 343 to take third, six strokes behind the winners, Eldorado, and three strokes off second place Wylie. Tom Rees turned in a score of 9 over par, 81. This put him in a sudden death playoff for second medalist. On the first hole his competitor hit a good drive and Tom pushed his drive right of the fairway. However, Tom pulled out a par and his competitor from Eldorado took a bogey, so the playoff went only one hole.

The next district tournament was at Crane. The A-team which remained the same, shot a 362 to remain in second place, 8 shots in front of Ozona and 25 shots ahead of Sonora. The B-team of Tip Chaney, Gary White, Fred Dakan, John Longley and Robert Lemons, shot 440, showing considerable improvement.

The A-team took scores of: Tom Rees-77, Kevin McLain-99, Jay Piland-92, and Jardy Powell-94.

Tom Rees' 5 over par 77, kept him on top of the district medalist race by one stroke over Jeff Pinkston who fired in a 3 under par 69. At the present, Tom Rees has a two tournament total of 151; Pinkston stands at 152 in the district competition.

The next district tournament is in San Angelo.

1:54.0 and Sonora a 1:52.0.

The 800 shapes up to be a very exciting contest as Wolves freshmen Michelle Garcia will try to win in front of the home folks. Garcia has clocked a season best of 2:35.0, while Merkel has Debra Carey and Barbara Kinder who have also run a 2:35.0.

Loretta Morris, the Wolves senior 100 hurdler has run a 17.4, and is expected to score points in that event. But Sonora's Lorri French will be a favorite (15.8).

Another hotly contested race will be the 400. Wolf hopeful Sherry Fite will try to improve her time of 64.4. French of Sonora and Henry of Coahoma have clocked in the 62's this year. Kelly Stoval of Merkel has posted a 66.0.

The sprints might belong to the Wolves, especially the 200 meters. The Pack has three runners, Williams, Randle and Free, who are all capable of running in the low 27's. Julie Nair of Coahoma ran a 27.4 last week at the Sweetwater Relays. Heights of Merkel has run a 27.5.

The 100 looks like it might boil down to a dual between Williams and Coahoma's Nair. Last week at the Sonora track meet Williams broke the meet record running a 12.54, Nair clocked a 12.7 last week for second place at Sweetwater.

Coahoma seems to be the "cream of the crop" in the 1600 relay. The Bulldogs have a best of 4:21.0. The Wolves will be looking forward to knocking some time off of their 4:43.0.

Preliminaries in the running events get started at 4:39 p.m., with finals getting started at 7 p.m.

Auxiliary helps hospital

Since its beginning on October 17, 1967, the Root Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has worked in any way it could to help the hospital, from making beds to buying new equipment to sending women to school to become nurses.

First organized by Mrs. B. D. (Marion) Bassham in 1967, the group became a working organization in October of 1968. At first, the women primarily did things like making beds and helping with the laundry, reports the president, Edna Pace, but as the need in that area slackened off, the group started doing more toward buying equipment for the hospital.

"The longer we keep the equipment up-to-date," noted Mrs. Pace, "the longer we'll be able to keep it."

The latest purchase was a fibulator-synchronizer which they got on sale for $6,631. Other equipment provided by the Auxiliary, popularly known as Pink Ladies, includes an ultra sound scanner for $19,000, three stainless steel cribs for $15,000, a blood gas machine for $17,000, Rare Earth screen for the X-ray machine for $3,569, gastroscope-colonoscopy for $17,500 and heart monitors for $38,000.

The Auxiliary was also responsible for the nursery getting an evacuation apron, a device which allows a nurse to carry as many as six babies to safety in case of fire, tornado or some other disaster.

One of their purchases, two tables for the emergency room at a cost of $6,600, came about as a result of one of the members of the organization having to go to the emergency and finding out first-hand how uncomfortable the old ones were.

The parking lot across the street from the hospital was provided by the Auxiliary, too. It was constructed in 1981 at a cost of $15,000.

Other things the Auxiliary has been involved in are the laundry facilities enabling the hospital to do the linens there and providing scholarships for 3 LVNs.

The money for all these projects and equipment come from several sources: memorials, donations, garage sales, a booth at the county fair selling baked goods and homemade items, the vending machines in the lobby, the televisions rented to patients in the hospital and the gift shop in the lobby of the hospital.

The gift shop is probably the largest money-maker for the Auxiliary, said Mrs. Pace. The articles for it are made by the members of the organization and many of those articles are made during workshops held every third Tuesday in the home of one of the members. Mrs. Pace noted that each woman takes a covered dish and the ladies stay all day working on projects for the gift shop.

There are currently 38 associate members of the Auxiliary, 35 active members, including one man, two charter members, Mrs. Pace and Versie McMillan, and two life members, Vista Harrell and Mrs. Ola Terry.

The present officers of the Hospital Auxiliary, which is affiliated with the Texas Hospital Auxiliary Association, are: Mrs. Pace, president; Geneva Killian, vice president; Jo Carter, treasurer; Ferrel Boney, secretary.

New officers will be installed during a covered dish banquet in April, at which time awards will be given out.

Mrs. Pace finds working as a volunteer with the Auxiliary to be very rewarding work, adding, "I don't know exactly how much I do for the hospital, but I know that working with the Auxiliary has done a lot for me."

THE PICTURE SAYS IT ALL—This parking lot east of Root Memorial Hospital was provided by the Hospital Auxiliary in 1981.

News from...

Root Valley Fair Lodge

By PAM JARNAGIN

"And when they looked, they saw the stone was rolled away: for it was great."

"And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were afraid."

"And he said unto them, Be not afraid: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: He is risen; He is not here: Behold the place where they laid him." Mark 16:4-6.

This is the Good News from Root Lodge this week, as we celebrate this Holy Week before Easter.

Sammy Parham will be the speaker at our sunrise service this Easter morning as we give thanks and celebrate the resurrection of our Lord.

xxx

The Easter bunny has to take second place in this great event, but he will make an appearance Thursday to hide his eggs in our front yard. Our residents plan to aid her by coloring eggs and hiding them. The children from the elementary school will be hunting the eggs as we watch them search and scramble for their brightly colored prizes.

We had a resident council meeting last week to present suggestions, problems or praises that the residents might want to discuss.

Billie Norman, dietitian, and her assistant, Bertha Snyder, were present to take a list of their favorite food and their least favorite.

On the favorite list was, you guessed it—Hamburgers.

Two of our ladies, Nora Wood and Velma Sheppard went to the museum last week. They like the old-time buggies and kitchen but were not taken with the bones and two-headed calf.

Bertie Strain is under the weather. We want to wish her a speedy recovery.

Last but not least, we at Root Lodge want to wish everyone a Happy Easter. See you in church this Sunday.

Seventh grade boys win Snyder track meet

The Colorado Middle School track teams participated in the Canyon Reef Junior Relays last weekend in Snyder and the seventh grade boys continued their "mastery" on the track field by taking the team championship.

They racked up 137 points outdistancing schools from Snyder, Sweetwater and San Angelo; in fact the Wolves were the only class AAA school entered in the meet.

The seventh grades got strong finishes in the shot put and discus and some steady running performances to cop the championship.

The Pack swept the discus with Mark Hill's school record breaking performance (105-9), Dereck Ramsey was second (100-6) and Cory Flanagan was third (100-0). Eduardo Melendez won the shot with a toss of 35-11, Hill was fourth (34-4) and Bill Alsobrook was fifth (33-1).

Ismael Silva continued his onslaught of school records by breaking his own records in the 600 and 1200 to gain first place. Silva clocked a 1:42.20 in the 600 and 3:47.86 in the 1200. Other school records were broken by Guy Compton in the high jump, 5-3 for second place and Israel Davilla placed fourth (4-11). The 400 relay team of Davilla, Ken Norman, Cary Ritchey and Tom Davenport won first and broke the school record with a time of 50.0.

Other top finishers for the Pack were a first by Davilla in the 300 (41.68), and a fourth and sixth place respectively by Melendez and Norman in the 110 and 300 hurdles. Davenport was fourth in the 200 and Davilla was fifth in the long jump.

Mark Flores took second in the 1200 (3:54.29) and G. Rodriguez was sixth. Flores was also fifth in the 600. The 1200 relay team of Davilla, Melendez, Ritchey and Melendez placed fifth.

The eighth grade boys, led by Wylie Dakan's double win in the 1200 and 600 took third place with 69 points.

Dakan, plays lineman for the Wolves in football, won the 600 with a time of 1:35.59 and the 1200 in 3:47.31.

Others scoring points for the Wolves were Michael Swann, third in the 110 hurdles (18.09), Domingo Salazar, second in the 300 (40.37), Jerry Salazar fourth in the 300. Larry Mayes placed fifth in the 300 hurdles and Ralph Gonzales fifth in the long jump.

The 400 relay team of D. Salazar, J. Salazar, Gonzales and David Birmingham placed fourth, while the 1200 relay team of D. Salazar, J. Salazar, Gonzales and Gene Barber finished third (2:46.79). According to eighth grade coach Ronnie Gainey, the Wolves were in last place when anchorman D. Salazar got the baton, a strong leg by him (39.0), pulled the Pack into third.

The seventh grade girls finished sixth with 16 points. Top finishes were turned in by Hilda Rodriguez, third in the 1200 (4:44.38) and C. Beltran, third in the 300 (49.95). The 1200 relay team of Margie Beltran, Rodriguez, Yolanda Salazar and Jennifer Monroe placed fifth and Selvera was sixth in the 600.

The eighth grade girls scored 10 points in the meet to finish in eighth place.

Mary Ann Bailey finished fourth in the 300, Tarter and Fiscus tied for fourth in the high jump, Baker was fifth in the discus and the 400 relay team of Robin Edwards, Bailey, Maria Coranado and Anna Rivera finished sixth.

The Wolves next meet will be Thursday in Coahoma.

Netters win tournament

The Wolves varsity tennis team ended a banner week by taking the team championship at the West Texas Invitational Tennis Tournament held Friday and Saturday in Abilene.

Coach Carolyn Walker's netters won the "C" Division championship by scoring 21 points. The Abilene tournament is one of the largest tournaments in the West Texas area with over 300 participants competing. Top finishers for the Wolves were Randy Bucy, who won second place in boys singles, and Laura Baum, who won the girls singles championship.

Bucy was defeated in the championship match 4-6, 7-5, 5-7 by Shiver of Abilene Mann. On his way to the championship, Bucy defeated Freire 6-0, 6-2, Boyle 6-1, 6-2, Cole 6-3, 6-4 and Shuler 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Baum defeated four Abilene opponents before reaching the finals against Anderson of Abilene. Baum won the first set 6-4, lost the second set by the same score, and came back to win the final set 8-6 for the championship. Baum won all of her other matches in straight sets.

In other girls action, the doubles team of Kerry Spivey and Mickie Palmer won two matches before being eliminated 2-6, 7-5, 3-6 by eventual champions Carlson and Dowling of Andrews. The C-City duo defeated Gibson and Holloway of Abilene 6-2, 6-2 and Lindsey and Pritchard of Eastland 6-0, 6-0.

On March 18-19 the Wolves participated in the Snyder Tournament.

Top finisher for the boys was Bucy who came in fourth place in singles play. He won his first match 6-3, 6-1, won his second match 2-6, 6-3, 7-6 before losing his final two matches. Chris Aguilon placed 16th in singles play, while the doubles team of Trey Cade and Tim Nowell and Larry Hamilton and Tony Nobles finished 15th and 16th respectively.

In girls action, the doubles team of Spivey and Baum had the highest finish coming in eighth place. They lost their first match to Craig and Beldon of Midland 4-6, 7-5, 3-6, but then came back to win three consecutive matches.

The duo defeated Holley and Blackard of Snyder 6-1, 6-2, Queby and Pundt of Borger 7-6, 6-0 and LaRue and Montemayor of San Angelo 6-4, 6-4.

In other action, Palmer finished 13th in singles play and Bennie Hampton finished 14th. Shannon Perkin and Mona Molina placed 16th in doubles.

Monday at the Colorado High School Tennis Courts the Wolves bested the Forsan Buffaloes in a dual match.

The Wolves won 14 of 20 matches, with the boys winning six and losing four, while the girls won eight and lost two.

In boys singles play Bucy downed Harris 6-4, 6-4, Aguilon defeated Smith 5-7, 6-3, 6-0, and Powell beat Mirada 8-2. In other singles action Nowell lost to Price 4-8, Cade lost to Little 2-8 and Harold Kling lost to Thompson 0-8.

In doubles competition Bucy and Hamilton lost to Little and Price 4-6, 5-7, Cade and Nowell defeated Patterson and Thompson 6-3, 7-6, 7-6 and Nobles and Hamilton downed Smith and Mirada 8-4.

In girls singles play Baum defeated Strickland 6-0, 6-2, Perkins downed Nichols 8-6, Garner defeated Thompson 11-10 in a tiebreaker and Neff defeated Melton 8-6. Longley was defeated by Johnson 0-8.

In doubles play Palmer and Spivey defeated Kraus and Fuller 6-2, 6-3 8-1. Molina and Erwin were defeated by Lucas Duffer 5-7, 6-4, 1-6. Rounding out the action Perkin and Weaver defeated Thompson and Melton 8-4, while Barber and Wood downed Nichols and Johnson by the same margin.

New drugs help epileptics

Epileptics for years faced an uphill battle against the stigma that society placed on them. But anti-convulsant drugs now available have helped change the picture.

Proper use of the right medication can help make an active and fulfilling life possible for most epileptics and limit the chances of an epileptic seizure, says the Texas Medical Association.

Epilepsy is a nervous-system disorder with symptoms that may include muscle spasms, mental confusion and loss of consciousness. Seizures can range from mild to severe and usually last only a short time. The drugs are designed to prevent these seizures, in which brain cells create abnormal electrical discharges that cause temporary loss of certain body functions.

Bulldogs take second at Robert Lee

The Loraine Bulldog boys track team made a good showing at the Robert Lee track meet last Friday as they brought home a second place finish at the rain-shortened meet.

The Bulldogs, powered by a first place finish in the 400 relay, and double wins by Jerry Darnell in the 400 and long jump scored 60 points to finish second in the 17 team meet.

The 400 relay team of Darnell, Aundra Rose, Ruben Garza and Adam Merket posted a time of 46.02 for first. According to Bulldog coach Ronald James, their time would have been much better if not for a bad handoff on the third leg.

Darnell, who has one of the area's top times in the 400, ran a 51.87 to win the event. Darnell earned his third gold medal when he "leaped" 19-9 in the long jump.

Others scoring points for the Bulldogs were Martin Leija, second in the 800 (2:12.0), Gene White, fourth in the 3200 (11:20.11), Garza, third in the 100 (11.6) and Rose fifth in the 100 (11.7).

James says he has been pleased with the performance of his team so far this year. "We are surprising a lot of folks. The kids have been working super hard, and hopefully we'll continue to better our times."

The Loraine girls didn't fare so well at the meet, as they scored 30 points.

Twenty of those points came from the arm of shot putter and discus thrower Leslie Rose.

Rose, who has the second best shot put toss in the state won the event handily with a throw of 38-11. She also won the discus with a throw of 100-7.

Loraine's other points came from the 400 relay team of Tency DeLoera, Kathy Wright, Shelia Darnell and Margie Oliver, who placed fifth with a time of 55.8. The 800 relay team of DeLoera, Oliver, Wright and JoAnn Barrera placed fifth, running a season best of 1:57.9. Mary Jane Madrid finished fourth in the 3200 with a time of 15:01.

Bulldog coach Jimmy Fine said it wasn't one of his girls best track meets but hopefully his squad will peak at the district meet.

The Bulldogs next meet will be Thursday at Irion County.

JR. CANYON RELAY CHAMPS—The Colorado Middle School seventh grade track team, headed by coaches Ronnie Gainey and Mark Merrell proudly display their trophies they have won this year. The group has won three of four track meets this year.

Varsity girls place third in Sonora

The Colorado City varsity girls track team fared well at the Bronco Relays in Sonora last Friday as they finished in third place in the rain shortened meet.

The Pack scored 57 points, one less than second place Llano. Coleman won the meet scoring 116 points.

Coach George Martin got another good performance from his sprint relay team of Hollie Taplin, Staci Free, Tomika Randle and Sandra Williams. The four-some placed second with a time of 51.40, the same team, with Robyn Turner instead of Williams finished fifth in the 800 relay with a time of 1:59.60, after having posted a 1:57.63 in the prelims. Taplin led off with a 31.41, Turner followed with a 29.86, Randle ran a 28.71 and Free anchored with a 28.65.

Freshmen Sandra Williams copped a first for the Pack in the 100 with a 12.66, Stacy Hamrick was second in the discus with a throw of 94-11. The Wolves got 10 points in the 200 as Williams clocked a 27.56 for second place and Randle was fifth with a 27.80. Freshmen Sherry Fite placed second in the 400 (65.18) and Williams scored a point in the triple jump with a leap of 33-1.

The 1600 run and 1600 relay were cancelled because of rain.

Martin was pleased with his team's performance. "The girls did a super job, everyone competed well. Now we are getting our confidence," said Martin.

DIRECTOR CARL BEERY MOORE applies make-up to Kristy Frizzell as she prepares for her role as Tituba in Colorado High School's production of the one-act version of "The Crucible."

Young Careerists host B&PW meeting

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday, March 8 in the Civic Center with the members of the Young Careerist Committee as hostesses.

The guest speaker, Flerta Lewis, presented a program on "How Today's Young Careerist Differs From When She Was One Twenty-Nine Years Ago." Mrs. Lewis, who now owns her own real estate business and has worked in banks and in her husband's store when he owned E-Z Way Superette, challenged the young careerist to take advantage of the many opportunities for a career.

Sherry Spivey, the club's Rodeo Queen candidate at the rodeo last summer was also present and informed the group that she plans to pursue a career in dental assistance.

During the business session, it was reported that a total of $180 has been contributed to the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston by Colorado City club members.

It was also announced that club members will attend a leadership seminar to be held in Sweetwater on April 23 at the Sunday House

The Playday sponsored by the Jackrabbit Driders Association at the rodeo grounds Sunday afternoon was very successful, according to Jenie Bell.

There were more than 40 participants and spectators present and the kids who did participate in the pole bending, cross pole and barrel events, did exceptionally well," reported Mrs. Bell.

Gymnastics for toddlers is set

A new class in Gymnastics for toddlers ages 2 to 6 years will start April 6 in the Hutchinson P.E. building. The class will meet each Wednesday beginning at Motel; the fee will be $10.

Deanna Myers was pinned by Club President Virginia Dearn.

JDA Playday very successful

Sergeant John Walker of the Colorado City Police Department was also there to give tips on motorcycle safety and also to take serial numbers of the bikes so they could file, improving the chances of recovery in case of theft.

"We were really proud of the turnout," concluded Mrs. Bell, "and everything went as planned."

CHS wins third place in district competition

Colorado High School participated in UIL district 6AAA one-act play competition in Midland on Tuesday, March 22 with a version of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible."

The production was selected as the alternate or third place, with the two winners being Sonora and Coahoma. Yvonne Lujan, portraying Mary Warren, was selected to the All Star Cast. Honorable Mentions went to Tip Chaney as Deputy-Governor Danforth and Oren Upton as Rev. John Hale.

The play is a dramatization of the Salem "witch hunts" of 1692 and the trials that followed. Stacey Tarter portrayed the principle character, John Proctor, who faced his personal crucible as he confronted the "witch hunters." His wife, Elizabeth, was played by Cheryl Bradbury. Pam Wilson was Abigail Williams, a vindictive girl who catapulted the suspicion of witchery into a full-scale legal confrontation.

The other members of the cast were Kerry Wright, Staci Wood, Naomi Mize, Carrmon Longley, Kristy Frizzell, Julie Waid, Ronnie Womack and Perry Conner. Set construction was done by Reed Powell and Todd Whitesides. Stacy Hamrick was stage manager and technical operator. Carl Beery Moore directed the production.

Birth

Tyeskie Teray, daughter of Jessica Eugene Randle of Colorado City was born in Root Memorial Hospital March 22 weighing 7 lbs., 4 ozs.

Stars of show are announced

Young Disciples, Crystal River and Murrell and the Gospel Four will be the groups performing at the Stars of Gospel Music show to be held at the Colorado High School auditorium at 7 p.m. on Friday, April 8.

Linda McCombs, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the show, said that there were still some free children's tickets available at the Chamber of Commerce office and that adult tickets were still on sale there. The price of an adult ticket is $4 and anyone wanting to purchase a child's ticket can do so for $3.

Mrs. McCombs added, "I am sorry for the inconvenience caused to those who were billed for their tickets after they had paid for them. I hope we have this situation straightened out now."

Wheeler's report on trip to Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler have returned from an eight-day visit in Italy. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery of Euless who went to visit their daughter, Gloria Montgomery. Gloria is stationed in Naples with the United States Navy.

They flew on TWA from Dallas via New York to Rome where they were met by Gloria. Their first three days were spent in Naples, a city with more than a million people.

During the time in Naples, the highlights of their sight-seeing included a trip to Pompeii and a tour of the ruins there. They also visited the National Museum and Art Gallery. In this area they traveled by car, train and even had a cart ride up to the ruins. The Wheelers experienced a "run-away" on their cart, but no one fell off.

They traveled to Herculaneum, a city near Naples that had been buried in 79 A.D. at the time Pompeii was destroyed when volcano Vesuvius erupted and toured the ruins there. In the National Archeological Museum in Naples history-telling artifacts, statues, works of mosaic art, etc., revealed a glimpse of the pre-Christian world.

They also toured the Royal Palace in Naples, viewing the arts and riches of the "Old World" in the form of marble, gold, famous pictures and statues and tapestries.

While in Rome they visited the Vatican extensively and were in a congregation of thousands that attended a service with the Pope.

The Sistene Chapel was a standout and is recognized as one of the greatest monuments of Italian Renaissance and Universal Art. Biblical history was revealed in the art on the walls and ceiling.

They toured the Colosseum, which is still considered a most important monument in Rome's history. They visited the Roman Forum and were privileged to see the prison where Apostle Paul was held prisoner. They also traveled over the famous Appian Way.

They visited Florence, now a cultural center as a result of its historic past, and is also the birthplace of the Italian language. The magnificent cathedrals were the great works of famous craftsmen and artists were visible added up to a "mind boggling" experience—just actually seeing works of Michelangelo, Raphael, Dante, Botticelli etc. They toured the baptistry and the church of Santa Croce. In the latter are the tombs of Michelangelo, Galileo, Rossini and other Greats. During the tour, the original statue of David which was done by Michelangelo was seen in the Galleria dell'Accademia.

It all added up to a knowledge of the rich, elaborate, artistic history of a world beyond our imagination.

Space and time will not allow further comment, but the Wheelers say, "We enjoyed every minute of it, but the real climax was arriving back safely in our own beloved USA."

Bake Sale slated

Loraine Senior Citizen members will have a bake sale at the Center on Election Day, Saturday, April 2.

There will be pies, cakes, cookies, brownies, all kinds of Easter goodies. Buy one slice and eat with your free coffee they will be serving, or take a pie or cake home with you for your Sunday dinner, they suggest.

They say go to the polls and vote, then come on to the Center for coffee and refreshments and visiting.

Loraine Area Personals

By Ida Baird

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Matejowsky were in Sweetwater Monday night where the men accompanied Milton Templeton and attended the annual Rotary Club banquet.

The women visited and had dinner with Mrs. Milton Templeton.

Tuesday night, the Templetons were in Sweetwater and attended the Travelogue program at the Sweetwater High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Albus and children, Kendra and J. D., from Midland spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mearse. Mrs. Albus and children remained for several days day's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler visited in Temple in the Stephen Daugherty home on Friday and Saturday. The main point of interest was to see their great-granddaughter, Lauren Daugherty, born to Drs. Stephen and Micki Daugherty on March 5.

They also visited with Jimmie and James Jacks from Waco who were also visiting in the Daugherty home.

Mrs. Edwin Hallmark had as her guests Saturday a nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harris from El Paso.

Mrs. Al Walker of Crane spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Harvey Leach, and returned with her Monday for a visit this week.

Mrs. Marion Zetzman of Dallas spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Pratt.

Mrs. Truitt Butler of Houston and daughter, Mrs. Al Figoski and daughters, Amy and Allison, of Austin spent Saturday with Mrs. Clara Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Butler returned home Monday after a weekend visit in Eunice, N.M. with Mr. and Mrs. Cat Irving.

Templeton hosts meeting

Mrs. J. M. Templeton was hostess for the regular meeting of the North Loraine TEHA Club at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday March 16.

Club prayer was led by Nina Meadows and roll call was answered with "An attractive table arrangement I have seen."

Mr. Joe Freeman from Kiker-Seale Funeral Home was speaker for the afternoon. He gave advice on what to do first when a loved one dies, or when this occurs while away from home. He gave some pointers on funeral services, on Social Security payments, and also donating body organs.

An announcement was made that the District meeting of TEHA would be held in Sweetwater April 3.

A short business meeting was held.

One visitor, Ruth Blair and the speaker were welcomed. Members present were Mmes. Roy Wells, Rosie Hamrick, J. E. Price, Nina Meadows, C. A. Matejowsky, Jack Linam and the hostess.

Open house held for new apartment complex

A large crowd was welcomed by the Loraine Senior Citizens Club members when the club held open house for the 16 unit apartment complex which is now complete.

Hostesses welcomed the callers and served punch and assorted cookies and other members showed them through the apartments. All were highly pleased with the compact living quarters and especially with the large amount of storage in each unit. Many expressed wishes for a vacancy for them when the time comes for home and moving to smaller quarters becomes necessary.

Stewart honored with baby shower

A baby shower honoring Cinda Stewart was held Saturday, March 19, in the home of Joan Merket. The table was decorated with an ivy and fresh yellow daisy centerpiece with crystal appointments.

The cake, decorated with a rocking horse theme, was served by Karen Hackfeld. Amy Merket served the lime sherbet punch.

Trees have been planted, grass sowed and come spring the landscaping will be coming alive.

Government lock mail boxes are located on the grounds at a center area of the lots for convenience of the residents. They can step out their doors and be only a few feet from the Senior Center where nutritional meals are served three times a week. Those who enjoy walking will be able to walk to the post office, bank, grocery and dry goods stores. Several who will be moving into these apartments have sold their homes and this will give Loraine more people moving into town.

Businesses in Loraine, Colorado City and Abilene sent arrangements and potted plants which made decor for the Center.

KRBC television of Abilene covered the activities and showed the film at 10 o'clock that night. Roy Wells, president, was spokesman for the club and Willie Taylor also spoke in the interest of the program and invited others in this community who are not members to come and enjoy and help make this program even greater. There are more than 200 members now.

Darlene Hamrick is On-Site Manager of the Loraine Senior Citizen Club.

Cancer Society meets quota

Mitchell County Cancer Society met the quota set by President Charlie Useton and his committee, netting more than $3,464.

The successful Crusade '83 was organized and directed by Fleta Lewis, chairman, who said, "Our volunteers were superb. Their commitment to the cause and their enthusiasm to help educate Mitchell County about cancer were inspirational."

She added, "When I say volunteers, that is exactly what I mean. No one is paid for long hours of service, and I thank everyone."

Education Chairman Kathy Wilson and members of the Colorado High School Student Council worked the downtown area for special gifts, turning in $330.

"We were happy to serve," commented Ms. Wilson. "Training in public service during early years forges a foundation for service in future years."

Student Council members working in the Crusade were Becky Albin, Anthony Anderson, John Mayo, Laura Baum, Shelia Benson, James Blackwell, Cheryl Bradbury, Carla Calaway, Cindi Calloway, Christine Castillo, Doug Chitsey and Dennis Rivera.

Other members who participated were Sherry Fite, Amy Franco, Michelle Franco, Lisa Garner, Allyson Haggerton, Larry Hamilton, Barbara Heredia, Patricia Holguin, Dianne Jones, Jody Mann and Loretta Morris.

Also helping were Mickie Palmer, Melissa Raschke, Melanie Rees, Tom Rees, Martha Rios, Armando Rivera, Melinda Selvera, Kerry Spivey, Stacey Tarter, Ashly Weaver, Ronnie Womack and Kerry Wright.

Cancer Memorial gifts totaled $787 at check point time. Etta Parnell, memorial gift chairman is available to receive gifts at City National Bank where she is a cashier.

Colorado City Block Captains who walked many blocks to make the Crusade a success were Sandra Pawkett, Lizzie Lewis, Mary Ann Fincher, Ruth Eaton, Shirley DeLaney, Mabel Merritt, Geneva Findley, Joy Dockrey, Margaret Harrison and Sue Noel.

Also participating were Lou Ree Upton, Gene Rowe, Betty Say-ger, Carolyn Shaw, Barbara Useton, Fleta Lewis, Erna Lou Burt, Kathy Wilson, Jolene Blankenship and Jan Lemons.

Other volunteers were Mary Ellis, Mac Perkin, Terry Revis, Winnie Putman, Betty Shawn, Frances Deregibus, Mary Womack, Versie McMillan, Elizabeth Elliott, Geneva Killian and Sybil Stevens.

Also working were Rita Latimer, Gerry Stone, Sue McGuire, Brenda Aguilar, Teresa Boyd, Vesta Shaw, Jack Hollis, Leslie Perkins, Anna Staats and Lillian Vest.

There were also others who worked but have not yet turned in their envelopes and are urged to do so as soon as possible so that the business of Crusade '83 can be finalized.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Adams filled the educational packets for Mitchell County citizens.

"That educational material is most helpful as a guide for noticing symptoms," Mrs. Lewis remarked.

"Colorado City RECORD did an excellent job in publicizing this united community endeavor and we thank them for it," both Mrs. Lewis and Useton said.

"We also want to thank Virginia Dearen and KVMC for their many reminders of the cancer crusade. This was a successful endeavor that all of us can look back on with pride," Useton added.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL of Colorado High School helped with the Cancer Crusade by collecting $330 in the downtown area.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Bert S. Day of Burleson announce the engagement of their daughter, Lauren Sue Day, to Richard Raymond Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boddy R. Crowley of Hamlin.

The couple plans a 7:30 p.m. wedding on May 21 in First Baptist Church in Burleson.

The bride-elect a 1977 graduate of Burleson High School, attended Tarrant County Junior College and is employed as Senior Account Clerk for the City of Burleson.

The future groom is a 1974 graduate of Hamlin High School, a 1978 graduate of Texas Tech University and is currently employed as the City Manager of Colorado City.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor and Constituents:

The 68th Legislature has passed the half-way mark of the Session. Between now and the end of May, I will be asked to vote on a number of major issues.

In order to better serve my constituents, I would like to hear your opinions on major issues before the Legislature. Please take a few minutes to answer the following questions. If you are interested in other issues as well, I would welcome your comments about them.

1. Should teacher's salaries in Texas be above the national average? No Yes No Opinion
2. Should members of the Public Utility Commission be elected rather than appointed? No Yes No Opinion
3. Do you favor the development of a comprehensive water plan for Texas? No Yes No Opinion
4. Should the drinking age be raised from 19 to 21? No Yes No Opinion
5. Should the Texas Constitution be changed to allow either voluntary (at the employee's request) or involuntary (court ordered) deduction of child support payments from an employee's paycheck? No Yes No Opinion

6. Do you favor additional gas taxes, over and above the recent Federal gas taxes, as a means to finance road construction and repair? No Yes No Opinion
7. Should the carrying of open containers of alcoholic beverages in a moving vehicle be prohibited? No Yes No Opinion
8. Should pari-mutuel betting on horse races be allowed in Texas on a local option basis? No Yes No Opinion
9. Do you favor establishing a permanent building fund out of general revenue that includes Angelo State? No Yes No Opinion
10. Should the Texas Blue Law be repealed? No Yes No Opinion
11. Should the trucking industry be deregulated to allow for unrestricted competition within Texas? No Yes No Opinion

Please forward your opinions to me in Austin:

Programs presented by Roach

The Loraine Homemaking classes recently completed a series of programs on fashion presented by Winnie Roach, owner of Merle Norman Cosmetics in Colorado City.

The first of four programs was on skin care and the second focused mainly on new trends in applying eye, cheek and lip colors.

Mrs. Roach showed the girls how to give themselves a complete manicure in the third session.

In the last session she showed them ways to camouflage figure problems, the types of accessories to wear with their clothing to achieve a total fashion look and finished up with hair care tips.

The programs were all very interesting and beneficial to the Homemaking classes.

TOPS meet March 28

TOPS TX 692 met Monday, March 28 at 5 p.m. in the Housing Authority building with 15 members present.

The queen was a new member who has been in the club about a month and has lost approximately eight pounds. The leader says, "She has been a refreshing inspiration to us."

An installation service was held and each new officer was given a charge to go forward in 1983 and be the best in their job; a different color ribbon was pinned on each officer and a picture was taken to put in the scrapbook.

The leader reported that "Our meeting closed, then and only then, the women had a low calorie salad meal with crackers, coffee and tea."

Another member also joined the organization.

Loraine School News

By SHELLY MARTIN & MELISSA CLIFTON

This week has been a busy one so far. Monday the girls tennis team went to Big Spring for the district tennis meet. The girls did a great job representing Loraine. Debbie Browne and Stephanie McAdams, our doubles team, are in the finals which were held Wednesday.

Tuesday, a number of students participated in the annual UIL contest in typing, shorthand, number sense, spelling, poetry and prose. They represented Loraine very well in these subjects.

Thursday the girls and boys track team are traveling to Forsan for a track meet. Saturday they again will participate in the County track meet. We wish them good luck.

Friday, school will be out for Easter vacation. We wish everyone a Happy Easter.

Richardson surprised with party

Mrs. Moody Richardson was really "surprised" last Tuesday night when a knock at her door revealed a group of relatives and friends greeting her with "Happy Birthday."

They brought two freezers of ice cream and two birthday cakes for refreshments and the evening was filled with visiting and fellowship.

Those present were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilmon from Monahans, her two brothers and wives, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Dual Blair.

Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Blair and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Herrington, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kidd and Mrs. Ruth Blair.

Speak Out.....

What does Easter mean to you ?

We asked these six youngsters at Kinder-care Day Care Center what Easter means to them. Here is what they said.

Heath Hendricks, five—"You hunt eggs, and then put them in a basket. Then you take them home, rabbits come and little baby chickens come out of the eggs and you keep the chickens. I'm going to play with my cousin and my sister. I am going to church."

Edward Ferdin, four—"I get new shoes and shirt and I go to church. I hunt Easter eggs in the backyard. The most eggs I've found is three. I like the candy eggs the best. I get more eggs than my brother. Sometimes my mom buys some Easter eggs and saves them."

Susan Hartman, four—"I get new clothes and new shoes and a new Easter basket. I put eggs in it. I get the eggs from the Easter bunny, he leaves them for me in the ground. Me and my cousin Mark use to look for eggs in the house at my grandmothers, and I could find them. We don't have any eggs at my house, so we go over to my grandmother's. We go to First Baptist Church on Easter Sunday. Also you could go to church, and they might have a hunt."

Kim Russell, four—"The Easter bunny comes to see me, and he comes to hide eggs. You can pick them up in your basket. I hunt them at church. I got a new dress and it has a bell on it, my mama and granny brought it for me. I am going to say my speech at church."

Likita Atkins, five—"I go to church, buy some brand new Easter shoes, dresses and go hunt for Easter eggs. I go hunt them in the park, I find a lot of them and I eat them. I am going to go home and play with my sisters and Rodrick."

Chesney Lynn Soto, five—"I get dresses, Easter bags and eggs. You also get candy in your Easter bags. We sometimes hunt eggs at the park or at my house in the backyard. I have a brother and sister and we hunt eggs together. I find the most eggs. I go to church in Snyder."

Agricultural Forum a success

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) presided over the organizational meeting of the National Agricultural Forum and called the gathering "A resounding success and a hopeful sign for the future."

Stenholm, instrumental in founding the Texas Agricultural Forum in 1982, said the guiding principle of a Forum, whether state or national, is to provide a full view of the policy options which face the agricultural community.

"The key word is 'alternatives,'" Stenholm said. "Through the Forum, producers and others are able to identify the alternatives before us. Then, through the democratic process, we can begin to see more effective action on the legislative front."

About 300 agricultural leaders from across the nation were present in the historic Cannon Caucus Room in Washington as Stenholm and other members of Congress, including House Agriculture Committee chairman Kika de la Garza, presented the Forum concept and led a discussion on how it would work. Those present ranged from Kansas wheat farmers to Federal Reserve Board economists, and from Texas cattlemen to fertilizer company executives.

Stenholm stressed that the National Agricultural Forum cannot be in competition with existing farm groups which take positions on various issues.

"This is not another general farm organization," the Stamford Democrat said. "We've got some fine groups already, and the last thing we need is another one to duplicate their work. The Forum will not lobby, nor will it impose a position on the issues with which it deals."

"It will say, 'These are the options before us,'" he added, "but it will not choose among them. That's up to the individuals and groups who belong to the Forum. The lobbying, the advocacy is their job."

Stenholm led a bipartisan group of farm-state Congressmen in organizing the kickoff Forum meeting. The group includes nineteen other members of Congress, and Stenholm said the list is growing all the time. "There's a great feeling, both in the Congress and among agricultural groups, that the time has come for an approach like this," Stenholm said. "The idea is to bring a little unity to our diversity, not by imposing a consensus, but by helping one to develop through education."

Groups like the Texas Agricultural Forum have been formed in several states, Stenholm said, and the national effort would aim at pulling them together. In addition, he said, all segments of agriculture and agribusiness would be represented. Staffing for the Forum would be provided through the Agriculture Council of America, a nonpartisan educational group which annually sponsors National Agriculture Day.

The first full-scale meeting of the National Agriculture Forum is tentatively slated for early May in Kansas City. Once the group's work gets off the ground, Stenholm said, various groupings within the larger Forum would analyze each issue and its alternative solutions, and try to predict the likely consequences of each so that policy-makers will have a better basis on which to choose.

"Never in my political experience," Stenholm said, "has there been a greater opportunity to bring agriculture together than right now—because never before have our problems been so critical. The vital thing is to move toward greater unity, and I believe the Forum is one step—a crucial, important step—along that road."

Water proposal presented

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and state Sen. John Montford (D-Lubbock) Thursday presented details of a water conservation proposal that potentially "could save almost 200 times as much water as Texans presently drink."

The proposed constitutional amendment, co-sponsored by Senators Montford and Bill Sarpalius (D-Hereford), would create a state Agricultural Water Conservation Loan Fund to make low-interest money available to Texas farmers to convert to more water-efficient crop irrigation systems. The proposal is a component of a comprehensive "state water plan," a package of legislation unveiled Monday by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Hightower and the senate sponsors of the bills.

"More than 70 percent of all the fresh water used in Texas is used for agricultural purposes," Hightower explained at a Thursday news conference in the Senate Chamber, "so it goes without saying that agricultural water use must be a major component of any statewide plan addressing Texas' future water needs. We're all in this together, so it's critical that we come up with a plan that urban Texans and rural Texans, West Texans and East Texans can agree on."

"I'm supporting the whole package," Hightower said, "but I'm especially pleased with the approach of this proposal sponsored by Senators Montford and Sarpalius. It will be financed by the sale of bonds, and the loans made to farmers from the fund would be repaid to the state, so the cost to the taxpayers will be precisely zero. Our farmers will save money on their production costs. And the water they save through more efficient irrigation techniques will then be available to cover the needs of industrial development and population growth. Everybody wins."

"The focus of the entire water plan is essentially on conservation," Hightower noted, "but in no other area of water use is the potential for conservation savings as great as in the agricultural sector. Currently available technology can achieve 95 percent efficiency of water use—that is, it can get 95 percent of the irrigation water to the plants that need it. The fact is, however, that on the vast majority (71 percent) of the irrigated acreage in Texas today, more than 40 percent of the water is wasted—it's lost to seepage, evaporation or run-off. If we concerted all the irrigation systems in Texas to the more efficient techniques, we would save more than 900 billion gallons a year. That's almost 200 times more water than every man, woman and child in Texas now can gulp down even in a year-long heat wave."

Boxers bring back gold

The Mitchell County Boxing Club travelled to Seminole last Friday and Saturday to participate in a boxing tournament.

The team, under the direction of Vince Gaona, Sr., made its presence known by bringing home four gold medals and one bronze medal.

Gaona said that the flu bug has kept some of his boxers out of recent competition, as they are getting their strength back.

Greg Gaona, in his first year of boxing kept his record unblemished as he defeated his opponent. The win raises his record to 13-0 on the year.

Gabriel Gaona, who is headed to the National Amateur Boxing Tournament in Cleveland, Ohio defeated his opponent in an exhibition bout. The opponent was a 106-pound New Mexico champion, and he was out pointed by the 88 pound Gaona.

Vince Gaona, Jr., who is also headed to the National Amateur Boxing Tournament in Cleveland defeated his opponent for first place.

Leonard Rico was the other local boxer who earned a gold medal at the tournament.

Bobby Arocha had to settle for a bronze medal as he won third

THE NEWLY FORMED Dance, Twirl Team received first place in its first competition March 26. The group will be competing throughout the spring. They are left to right Tracey Cook, Julie McPhaul, Shelia Benson, Cindi Calloway, Shannon Perkin and Carla Calaway.

Twirlers win 1st in Slaton

A Dance and Twirl Team has been formed by young ladies in Colorado High School and Middle School.

The newly formed group

under the direction of Kakai Calloway, a senior at Colorado High won top honors March 26 in the Senior Dance Twirl Team Division held in Slaton at the Miss West Texas Twirling Pageant.

Advanced gymnastics

class to begin soon

New classes in Advanced Gymnastics are scheduled to start April 6. Debbie Goforth is the instructor. Tuition for the six weeks class is $25. The class will meet each Wednesday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the Hutchinson P.E. building.

Instruction will include tumbling, uneven bars, high and low beams, vault, floor exercises, routines for competition—all apparatus. This class is not for beginners, it is designed for those having previous training in gymnastics.

Pre-registration is necessary for this class. To do so, come by the Wallace Center. For more information you may call 728-2392.

Citizens attend conference

Local cooperative leaders Tom C. Moore, director, and his wife, Minnie Lee, and gin manager Ross Hargrove and wife, Mamie, representing the Producers Co-Op Gin were among more than 300 agricultural cooperative managers, directors, and wives from across Texas that attended the 32nd Annual Cooperative Manager-Director Conference in Corpus Christi on March 13. The conference was held at the Holiday Inn Emerald Beach Hotel.

The conference theme "Cooperatives—Survival During Stressful Times" emphasized the importance and the purposes of the conference: (1) to broaden skills in managerial decision-making for managers and directors; and (2) to keep abreast of changes and challenges facing agricultural cooperatives. Speakers at the conference included Dr. Randall Torgerson of the Agricultural Service, USDA, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Bill Black and Dr. Ron Knutson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station; Owen Hallberg of American Institute of Cooperation, Washington, D.C.; Don Nettles of Texas Bank for Cooperatives, Austin; Mike Fletcher, Omaha Bank for Cooperatives; and C. W. Browning, general manager of Lyford, Texas Gin Association. A special ladies program featured Mrs. JoAnn Cagle, wife of co-op manager and school counselor of Floydada High School. When these conferences began in 1952, they were known as Agricultural Cooperative Managers School, but in 1961, the name was changed to include both managers and directors of farmer cooperatives.

In addition to the various general and small group sessions, participants had the opportunity to visit several local cooperatives, and the beautiful Coastal Bend area of Texas. The conference was sponsored by the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Cooperative Ginners Association, Texas Bank for Cooperatives, and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Tower to introduce savings plan

U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) announced he will introduce legislation to promote increased savings and home ownership.

"The Mortgage Retirement Account (MRA) Act of 1983 would allow individuals to establish a tax-deferred account to save for a down-payment on a home. Those who own homes could establish an MRA to pre-pay principle on their mortgages. Regulations and limitations on the MRA would be virtually identical to those now covering IRA's," Tower explained. Tower is the new chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Housing and Urban Affairs.

"This legislation would simultaneously encourage savings and stimulate the vital housing industry," Tower said. "Young people who may not wish to save for their retirement would have a significant incentive to combine the tax advantages of an IRA with the opportunity to set aside money for a home. Renters will have a way, under the existing IRA mechanism, to own a home of their own while providing equity for financial security when they retire."

"Current and future homeowners who choose to pay off their mortgages at a faster-than-scheduled rate will be 'saving' as well, since they will be reducing their debt and therefore increasing the amount of money available to other borrowers," the senior Texas senator said.

"For financial institutions, early payment of mortgages would mean that some of their assets would be freed earlier than scheduled. That, in turn, would give them greater ability to respond to fluctuations in interest rates," Tower said.

"Additionally, the housing industry is such a vital part of our economy that recovery in this sector is vital to the overall prosperity of the nation. This plan would directly stimulate this industry without drawing from the federal budget. In fact, the long-term impact on tax revenues from enactment of this plan could very well be positive, given increased employment and reduced mortgage interest tax deductions," he said.

Tower informed his colleagues of his planned legislation.

Painted eggs full of meaning to different people

Tokens of love—as fragile as the sentiments they embody, as winsome as a painted egg...

Throughout time, painted eggs at Easter have been imbued with myriad meanings. Their significance spans from the creation myth to witchcraft, from fertility to the red eggs of the Resurrection.

In many cultures, one of the most prevalent and charming of Easter egg traditions has been to give them to one's sweetheart as a token of love.

According to the earliest records, the link between love and painted eggs seems to have been swept across the globe from China to middle and eastern Europe, where romance is most noticeably woven into the fabric of this tradition.

In China, spring rites, painted eggs and the intimate relationship between a man and a woman were inextricably bound. Thus, the link between painted eggs and love's expression was transformed into courtship rituals which have followed certain patterns, even within living memory.

In Bulgaria, they say of a man in love, "he looks after her (his beloved) as carefully as a painted egg."

And in Hungary, young girls will color 20 or sometimes even 30 eggs for a special boyfriend, all the while aware that he may receive others from several different girls. The lucky boy then puts all of the eggs away for several weeks, eventually taking them out again to have another look. The girl whose eggs had lost the most color was said to be pining for him.

In Germany, it was a similar honor for a man to be given a large number of eggs. But, a girl, in case she was rejected, could save face by not giving all of her eggs to the same person, truly a way of ensuring that all of her eggs were not in one basket.

A Polish lover might receive many dozens of elaborately decorated eggs, but in return he is required to buy his sweetheart back during the customary auction on Shrove Tuesday. For the girl without a special boyfriend, the giving of eggs to someone whom she particularly fancied was a way of securing him as a dancing partner.

Alsatian girls prepared eggs with bold inscriptions expressing their love for all to see: "With love and steadfastness I give you an Easter egg."

Swedes, however, were more discrete. They painted eggs with patterns of flowers and filled the hollow shell with slips of paper containing verses and messages of love.

In Italy, a girl would bake a circular loaf as a special Easter bread for her beloved. Colored eggs would be secured between two thick strands of dough that were wrapped about one another, creating something of a braided effect.

The closely interwoven cords of dough were symbolic of the closeness between the two, the circle indicative of the strength and eternity of their love.

But it was not always the woman who expressed her love by giving eggs. In some countries, men, too, presented their sweethearts with these same delicate gifts.

Hungarian men often made presents of eggs—gifts that the girls would treasure for years to come.

And, in Bohemia, it was customary for the man to knock on his girlfriend's door on Easter morning. If she gave him some eggs, it was sign that they were engaged, but there was always the chance that he might be refused.

In France, certain kings were known to have showered their paramours with elaborately decorated eggs, illustrated with the work of such renowned artists as Lancelotti, Watteau and Boucher. Such were the gifts of Louis XV and XVI to their respective mistresses, Madame du Barry and Madame Victoire de France.

The techniques used to decorate the eggs are as various as the countries from which they originate. Scratch-carving—a method whereby the eggs are dyed a single color and then scratched with a sharp object to create a design, is popular in northern Poland, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Another method, known as etching, is similar. Here, eggs are dyed and then a design is etched out in acid.

Applique eggs are made in Portugal and Austria, where seashells or little strips of dough are applied to the surface of the egg to create a design.

Eggs with inscriptions were found in certain

Slav countries such as Moravia, Poland and Yugoslavia, but they did not exist in the Ukraine, probably because lettering would not combine well with the intricate geometric designs.

In Germany, however, where this method is practiced most extensively, it is said that Mozart composed one of his first songs as an Easter-egg decoration.

Ukrainian eggs, perhaps the world's most famous, are known for their brightly-colored beauty and exquisite geometrical patterns. These are the pysanky, the richly decorated raw eggs that are never eaten.

They are decorated by a complex dying process that is similar to batik. Melted wax is applied with a stylus, and then the egg is successively dipped in dye baths starting with the lightest color and progressing to the darkest.

Between dippings, wax is applied over the area where the preceding color is to remain. After the color is set, the wax is rubbed off and a hard glaze is applied.

For the girls who paint these eggs, it is an act of love, imbued with the mysteries of past generations. Painstakingly created, these tokens of love are a moving tradition, as delicate and beautiful as the eggs themselves.

Fill those Easter baskets with homemade goodies

The Easter Bunny runs a close second to Santa Claus in the hearts of children, and his traditional gift, the Easter Basket, brimming with candies bedded on bright green "grass," is a favorite of children of all ages.

If tykes and toddlers are thrilled to receive a basketful of multi-colored jelly beans, marshmallow chicks and foil-wrapped chocolate eggs, with a molded chocolate rabbit or pink plush bunny as the piece de resistance, imagine the rapture of the adult who receives an Easter Basket formed of hand-dipped chocolate, its precious cache of chocolate truffles and European hard candies peeking over the edge!

The conclusion is obvious—there's an Easter Basket to suit everyone's taste and fulfill everyone's favorite fantasy.

If you've decided to assemble Easter Baskets for those special people in your life (by all means, don't limit it to the under-15 crowd!), you'll give—and get—the most pleasure if you tailor them to individual tastes. Concentrate on sweets made with carob, honey, nuts and dried fruits for the natural-food lover, choice chocolates for the chocolate, confections with crunch for those who enjoy hearing what they eat as well as tasting it.

If you have the time, you may wish to experiment with making candy yourself. Below, are several recipes for confections which would enhance any Easter Basket.

Best of all, none of them requires specialized candy-making apparatus, such as a candy thermometer.

If you're looking for a change of pace, Jelly Bean Jollies are cookies flecked with jelly bean bits. Recipe is courtesy of the National Confectioners Association.

JELLY BEAN JOLLIES
 1/2 cup butter or shortening
 One-third cup sugar
 One-third cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda

1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
 1 1/4 cups flour
 1/2 cup rolled oats
 1 cup jelly beans, cut up (gumdrops can be substituted)
 Cream together shortening and sugars. Beat in egg, baking soda, baking powder, salt and vanilla. Stir in flour and oats until blended. Add jelly beans. Heat oven to 375 degrees.

 Drop rounded spoonfuls of batter about 2 inches apart on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake 10-12 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 3 to 3 1/2 dozen.
 Decorative and delicious, gumdrop bunnies are easy to assemble, and add a whimsical note to any Easter Basket they adorn. Instructions for making Gumdrop Bunnies are courtesy of the National Con-fectioners Association of the United States.

GUMDROP BUNNIES
 Attach 2 large gumdrops on toothpick to form the body. Fasten single gumdrop with toothpick at base to make a tail. For head, attach a single round gumdrop.
 Make face with cloves, candy bits or licorice. Make bunny ears with 2 stick gumdrops affixed to head with toothpicks. Make feet with 2 small gumdrops.

Following are two recipes for easy-to-prepare confections, Fruit Candy and Peanut Butter Balls, which are as nutritious as they are delicious. Reprinted from Foods for Healthy Kids (McGraw Hill), by Dr. Lendon Smith, these tasty morsels are emphatically not for children only!

FRUIT CANDY
 3/4 cup dried figs, chopped
 1/2 cup ground nuts (walnuts, almonds, or pecans)

1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel or orange peel
 3/4 cup ground coconut, wheat germ, or unhulled sesame seeds
 Combine first 4 ingredients. Make into balls and roll in the coconut, wheat germ, or unhulled sesame seeds.
 Prep. Time: 30 minutes.

Yield: 2 dozen.
PEANUT BUTTER BALLS
 1/2 cup natural-style peanut butter
 1 cup nonfat milk powder
 1/4 cup fruit preserves (strawberry, cherry, pineapple)
 1/2 cup unsweetened coconut, wheat germ, or ground unsalted nuts.
 Mix together first 3 ingredients. Form into 1-inch balls. Roll in coconut, wheat germ, or ground unsalted nuts.
 Prep. time: 20 minutes.
 Yield: 2 dozen.

Wright named winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Kerry Wright has been named a 1983 United States National Award winner in Mathematics. This award is a prestigious honor or very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Kerry, who attends Colorado High School, was nominated for this National Award by Bo Merket, a math teacher at the school.

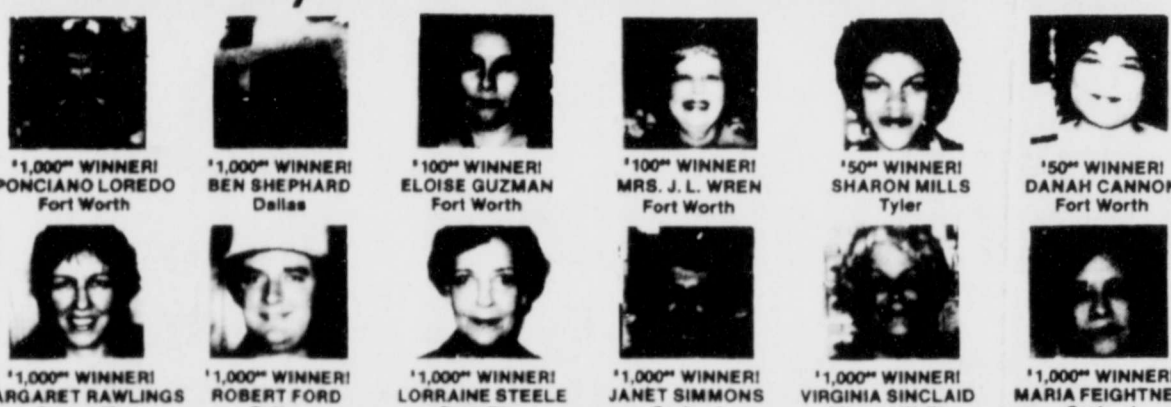

He will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wright.

Safety seat law could save many children from accident

In 1981, 68 children under age 4 died as a result of traffic accidents in Texas. Safety leaders across the state are urging mandatory child safety seats to cut down those numbers which represent personal tragedy for all involved," said George R. Gustafson, executive director of the Texas Safety Association.

Mandatory child safety seats was a key recommendation of the Texas Task Force on Traffic Safety, a 17-member group chaired by Colonel James B. Adams, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Legislation mandating child safety devices for children under 4 passed the Texas Senate and is being considered in the House.

"Although there is no doubt that people of all ages will have a better chance of surviving crashes if they are wearing occupant protection devices, restraints for young children are crucial because of anatomical and physiological reasons," Gustafson said. Dr. Dale Coln, director of the Pediatric Trauma Center of Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas, has explained those factors in testimony during this legislative session.

According to Coln: "An unrestrained child in an auto accident is more likely to be seriously injured than an unrestrained adult. Because of his smaller body mass, the unrestrained child is catapulted through the car as an "unguided missile" upon impact. The risk of serious injury is age related, with a disproportionate number of deaths occurring in infants under one year of age."

"The anatomic differences of young children in part explain their predisposition to serious injury. The relatively large head of a child and the high center of gravity result in a higher percentage of serious head and chest injuries than occur in adults. Muscle mass, which offers some protection in adults, is less well developed in children. The flexibility of the rib cage predisposes a child to greater risk of injury to the chest and upper abdominal organs. The relatively large size of the head, the thin skull, and the less well protected spinal column increase the risk of central nervous system injury," Coln said.

Gustafson pointed out that unrestrained children are not only at great risk during accidents, but also in sudden stops.

"It is easy for parents to assume that a child is safe riding in an adult's arms. Unfortunately, that is not true. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety reports that an adult's body often becomes a battering ram, crashing the child into the instrument panel and windshield," Gustafson said.

He pointed out that most child safety seats accommodate children up to 40 pounds and 40 inches.

"Legislation now under consideration assumes that many 4-year-olds have reached those limitations, and indeed many have. The important thing, however, is for parents to be guided by their own children's needs. Because the seats are designed to distribute the force of an impact over a large area of the body, a child in a safety seat is better protected than one of the same weight category riding in a safety belt. Parents would be well advised to keep buckling their children into safety seats until they have exceeded the weight and height recommendations of the manufacturer, regardless of the age," Gustafson said.

"Twenty-three states and the District of Columbia have child passenger protection laws; two others have passed legislation which is awaiting their governors' signatures. That means Texas has the opportunity to become the 26th state to ensure safer traveling for its young children," Gustafson said.

Tiller hosts Self Culture club meeting

On Friday, March 18, the Self Culture Club met in the home of Jewell Tiller, with Fannie Beeman as co-hostess, to discuss crime prevention.

You Can Stop Pornography was the theme of Ida Keith's talk. She stated "Pornography is not a harmless diversion-somebody usually pays the price. It provides the rationale for rape, child sexual abuse and the battering of women, as stated by a professor of psychiatry."

One of the tips she gave the group in fighting pornography was: "Organize parents to tell store managers how they feel about this material, collect receipts of what mothers have spent in the store within one week and present them to the manager and tell him this business will go elsewhere if the material isn't removed from the shelves."

Linnie Williams spoke on "If Your Child Is Molested," saying "Anyone knowing of abuse or neglect should report the information to the Department of Human Resources. The whole family needs treatment."

She concluded, "The family must seek to build healthy family interaction."

Della Fox discussed "preventing the Saddest Family Crime," reporting, "A molested child needs to contact personnel trained to deal with this situation."

She added, "Confront the perpetrator if he is a family member and don't be surprised that he denies it. Tell him you believe the victim. Don't believe it won't happen again; insist that he get therapeutic help."

Those attending the meeting were Eddie Barclay, Mrs. Beeman, Lil Brown, Elizabeth Elliott, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Tiller, Pearl Watson, Mrs. Williams and one guest, Ida Mae Shawn of San Angelo.
