Japan Orders China To Settle Grave Problem Or Face War Guns

(By The Associated Press)

The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported today that the Japanese army has served a "last warning" on China to settle the North China crisis on Japan's terms or face war.

The virtual ultimatum, Domei said, was delivered to General Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese minister of war, and General Cheng Chien, Chinese chief of staff, by Major General Seiichi Kita, Japanese military attache in China.

The two governments remained at odds today on proposals for settlement of the tense situation despite a military agreement reached yesterday at Tientsin.

The Chinese government was said to have informed Japan it could not accept the Japanese demand for local settlement of the conflict.

At Nanking, the Japanese charge d'affaires told the Chinese he would wait until midnight (11 a. m., E. S. T. for the Nanking government to submit a new reply.

New Clash Reported

A new clash between Chinese and Japanese troops west of Peiping was reported. Japanese officers said that Chinese soldiers opened fire on a Japanese unit 10 miles west of Peiping.

Japanese said they took a grave view of the situation.

The headquarters of the Japanese army in North China, at Tientsin, announced the verbal settlement of the crisis, reported to have been made yesterday, was not sufficient.

Gen. Sun Cheh-Yuan, commander of the 29th Chinese army, was said to have apologized for the clash between his troops and Japanese July 7, promised to punish several officers, agreed to suppression of anti-Japanese agitation, and promised to support Japan's fight against communism.

The Chinese government protested to Japan that Japanese scouting planes had machine-gunned Chinese troop and supply trains inHopeh province, violating China's territorial sovereignty.

At the same time, the Japanese government accused China of aggravating the North China crisis by direct aggression against Japanese interests.

Several Hundred Children Are On Hand For Play Period At Local Parks This Morning

Several hundred children of various age groups were present in city parks this morning for the new schedule of playground hours set up today under the new WPA city parks recreational project, according to Bill Witt, WPA supervisor.

Henceforth, he said, play periods will be from 9 a. m. until noon and from 4 until 9 p. m. each day. Last week, while organization was being completed, only an afternoon period was provided while members of the supervising personnel spent forenoons attending a school of instruction.

Activities this week, Witt said, will center about the organization of three softball leagues for boys and one for girls. Boys' leagues will be for junior midgets, from 9 to 12 years of age; midgets, from 12 to 14; and for twilights, from 14 to 20. Girls' teams will be made up of those from 14 to 18 years of age.

In the smaller boys' and the girls' groups, teams will be formed at Seventh, Twenty-seventh and Mackenzie parks. Plans are to form a five-team league for the twilights, including the three parks, CCC camp and Mexicans. Diamonds are being laid out this week.

Witt extended an invitation to parents to visit various of the parks during recreational hours.

Taxi Driver Is Feared In Hands Of Bandits

(By The Associated Press)

CUSHING, Okla., July 19.—Search for a missing Tulsa taxicab driver was pushed near here today by state patrolmen and local officers who theorized the taxicab might have been seized by Roy "Pete" Traxler, elusive southwestern desperado, and two other Texas prison farm fugitives.

Police Chief P. W. Stroup said the taxicab was found abandoned on a country road near here last night. Nearby, he said, was a cap badge believed to be that of Paul Sanderson, 31, Tulsa cab driver, reported missing.

No Clues Found

Stroup said Cushing officers and members of the state highway patrol from Perry searched the brush but found no additional clues.

Search for Taxler, Charles Chapman and Fred Tindol also was being conducted near Okmulgee after a farm woman near there told officers three nervous men in a black coupe had asked her the way to Beggs, Okla.

Okmulgee officers said the woman identified a picture of Traxler as that of the driver of the car.

When last seen, the fugitives were driving a black coupe taken from Baird H. Markham, Jr., near Ada, whom they released near Sapulpa.

Work Started Upon Paving

Laying of six-inch caliche base preliminary to immediate paving of seven blocks in the southern edge of the city started this morning when WPA labor became available, according to City Engineer Marlin R. (Red) Smith, jr.

WPA workers had been off duty since last July 3, after having worked their maximum hours for the month.

Base To Be Laid

Present program of work will be laying of base on Avenue S from Thirty-fourth to Twenty-ninth street, on Twenty-ninth from S to T, and on T from Twenty-ninth to Twenty-eighth, there to tie in with pavement to connect with Nineteenth. When completed, the paving will provide a new and important paving outlet from Nineteenth into the southern part of the city.

Another improvement project to receive attention soon, the engineer said, will be on S from Nineteenth to Twenty-third. When all is completed, an unpaved stretch will be left on S from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth, but that is a project tabbed for early attention.

The city engineer estimated that about 10 days will be required for putting the base on projects started this morning. Toppings of approximately an inch and one half of asphalt will follow as soon as the base has set.

Jail Population In City Is Revealing A Sharp Decline

Sheriff Tom Abel "may have to vag my deputies."

Only 10 persons were in county jail Saturday—"a record for this administration."

Thirteen were in city jail this morning "which is not a low number for us," said C. E. Luce, city recorder.

Of the 10 in county jail Saturday, three were women. One of the seven men was held for Lamb county, Leroy Kelly, slayer of Sheriff F. A. Loyd of Olton last spring.

Answers To Two Big Problems Being Sought By AF Of L

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP) — President William Green of the American Federation of Labor asked his executive council today to decide in August two major problems of its fight against John L. Lewis' Committee on Industrial Organization:

1. Should the federation push the organization of unions covering entire industries (the Lewis method) as well as the organization of its traditional craft unions?

2. Should a permanent increase in dues be recommended to finance the fight for labor leadership?

Navy Abandons Search; Fliers Believed Dead

Greatest Hunt In History Is Closed Today

Over 250,000 Square Miles Of Territory Searched; Last Hope For Pair Given Up

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, July 19. — The mystery of Amelia Earhart's fate was left unsolved today in the South Pacific vastness where she and her navigator disappeared July 2 as weary searchers gave the pair up for dead and started homeward.

Four naval vessels, manned by more than 1,500 heat plagued men, sailed away empty handed from the torrid equator where they completed the greatest ocean hnnt ever launched.

Many Miles Covered

More than 250,000 square miles of ocean, reefs and islands was scoured by ships and planes in desperate efforts to find Miss Earhart and her companion, Frederick J. Noonan.

Somewhere near the equatorial dot which is Howland island, the plucky aviatrix and her companion dropped from the skies in their fuelless land plane on a 2,570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea to the mid-Pacific sand pit.

The tousle-headed, 39-year-old flier, known the world over for her aviation exploits, was circling the earth "just for fun," she said, but also to blaze possible new commercial routes.

Hunt Is Called Off

The great naval hunt, which began a few minutes after the pair were overdue at Howland, was called off late yesterday when navy authorities estimated they had exhausted every possibility of ever finding the missing fliers.

The closing order crushed the last hope of rescue held by George Palmer Putnam, motion picture executive husband of Miss Earhart, who obtained leave from his duties to further her world-flight plans.

The huge Lexington, with its brood of 63 fighting planes, and three destroyers were the last searching vessels. Last week the doughty coast guard cutter Itasca, the minesweeper Swan and the battleship Colorado steamed toward this port after searching thousands of square miles by air and sea.

All Havens Covered

All possible land havens were covered in the hunt, and Friday the navy concluded the fliers had not landed on any of them.

The Lexington, which launched its first planes Tuesday, continued sending them out Saturday and Sunday, however.

Despite the magnitude of the search and the personnel involved, not a single casualty was reported. The cost of the search was not estimated, but unofficially it was set at several hundred thousand dollars.

Planes from the Lexington flew more than 70,000 miles, and fuel costs for the Colorado and Lexington probably ran in the tens of thousands of dollars.

The search was a disheartening affair from the beginning, due to lack of definite information as to the position of Miss Earhart's plane when it flashed its last message at 3:14 p. m. (EST) July 2—"we are in the position of 157-337. . . . We are now running north and south." She reported gasoline was running low and she could see no land.

Many Messages Received

Numerous radio messages received in all points in the Pacific sometimes bolstered the hopes of the searchers, but apparently none was authentic.

From the start Miss Earhart's 'round-the-world flight seemed jinxed. Her first attempt traveling west ended in mishap in March when a tire burst on a takeoff from Hawaii for Howland island. She and two companions had a narrow escape from death.

The plane was shipped back to Los Angeles to be repaired.

When ready, she experienced a minor mishap in Tucson, Ariz., on a test flight when her motor caught fire. The blaze was quickly extinguished. Later she flew from Oakland to Miami, and with Noonan, a veteran mariner and navigator, took off on June 1 on her ill-fated flight for an eastbound world flight.

Smoothly they hopped 1,033 miles to Puerto Rico; to Carnipito, Venezuela, 650 miles, and in short jumps to Fortaleza and Natal, Brazil. From there they flew 1,900 miles across the Atlantic to St. Louis, Senegal, Africa, on June 7.

Dodging a storm they took Africa in stride—St. Louis to Assab, Erit-

Jimmie Mattern Is Preparing Plane For Hop To Russia

KANSAS CITY, July 19 (AP)—Jimmie Mattern, aviator, flew here last night from Los Angeles to have his plane and its equipment checked in preparation for his proposed non-stop flight to Russia via the north pole.

Mattern said he planned to retrace the route over the top of the world, of the two Soviet planes which completed flights from Moscow to the United States.

COURT SHOWDOWN NEARS

Final Action On Measure This Week

Motion To Send Proposal Back To Committee Will Be Made; Opponents Are Confident

(By The Associated Press)

ABOARD SPECIAL CONGRESSIONAL TRAIN, July 19. — Opponents of the president's court bill announced today they would seek a senate vote on that bitterly-fought issue early this week.

Senator Burke (D-Neb), a leader of the opposition, said a motion to send the supreme court reorganization measure back to committee for further study probably would be made tomorrow, and added

Confident Of Victory

"We are confident we can carry the motion by a comfortable margin."

Ending the political truce declared immediately after the death of Senator Robinson (D-Ark) Democratic senate leader, last Wednesday, Burke's statement indicated the five-month struggle over the judiciary legislation was nearing its end.

If the motion to recommit the bill is carried, it would bury the measure for the rest of the session. Its defeat, many senators agreed, might bring a speedy collapse of the opposition, which expects to muster its greatest strength on the recommital motion.

Challenge Is Accepted

Burke's challenge quickly was accepted by Senator Minton (D-Ind), one of the court bill's most vigorous defenders, who declared:

"We are ready to vote any time, and I know that we can win."

Foes of the bill scheduled a club-car caucus for this evening, when they will work out final details of their strategy.

Vice-President Garner, who joined the party at Little Rock, told senators he would takek no part in the court controversy, nor in the equally close drawn struggle for the senate leadership.

He conferred today with both candidates for the leadership, Senators Barkley (D-Ky and Harrison (D-Miss), but carefully avoided any appearance of favoritism.

(By The Associated Press)

WARSAW, July 19.—An attempt toassassinate Col. Adam Koc, leader of the Polish nationalist movement, failed late last night, it was learned today, when the bomb exploded prematurely and tore the assassin to pieces.

The attempt on the Polish leader's life was made at his villa in the little village of Swidry, near Warsaw. The assassin was said to have made his way into the garden of the villa with a powerful explosive. It apparently exploded before the time for which it was set.

Identity Is Unknown

The identity of the assassin was unknown.

Bitter Party Fight In Arkansas Is Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 19 — The prospect of a bitter party fight over selection of the successor to the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson loomed today as the state Democratic committee was called into special session Friday.

Governor Carl E. Bailey indicated a special election would be held about Sept. 14 to fill the post.

Likely To Be Candidate

The 42-year-old governor, considered a certain candidate, held in his hands the power both to set the time for the election and to select a possible interim appointee.

The state Democratic committee is empowered to nominate the party candidate or order a primary. Most committee members are politically aligned with the governor.

It was indicated Brooks Hays, Democratic national committeeman, might receive the interim appointment but Bailey disclosed he had advised Postmaster General James A. Farley that he preferred to make no temporary appointment.

Stormy Session Looms

A stormy session of the state committee was presaged by the telegraphed protests of seven county committees against reports that a nomination would be made. They demanded a primary, the counties offering to bear their share of the election costs, estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000.

Should the committee nominate, other Democrats could run only as independents. Republican leaders remained silent on their plans. Last year Republicans competed unsuc-

Final Tribute Paid Senator

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 19.—The epic chapter of American history written by Joseph Taylor Robinson of Arkansas ended today in a flower banked grave.

Scores of the nation's leaders joined thousands of saddened Arkansans yesterday in final tribute as the state's illustrious son was returned to his native soil.

Garner Is Present

Vice-President John Nance Garner came from his home at Uvalde, Tex., to officially represent President Roosevelt. Postmaster General James A. Farley stood beside the grave. Nearly 50 of Senator Robinson's colleagues and a large delegation from the house served as honorary pall bearers.

"Perhaps no man in our generation has been more nearly a representative American," said Mr. Watts in his funeral sermon at the church.

Alone For Few Hours

For a few brief hours the gray casket remained at the family home —a private period during which Mrs. Robinson was allowed to be alone.

Vice-President Garner led the congressional delegation past the open casket at the capitol. As he approached, the rugged Texan averted his head, refusing to look upon his long time friend in death.

Man Armed With Spears Plans To Go After River Monster

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 19—Armed with spears, a river bottom walker of 14 years experience is going after the "White river monster" that has excited Newport, Ark., residents for more than a week.

Charles B. Brown of the U. S. engineer's office here said he plans to don diving togs and "get to the bottom" of the "monster" reports Thursday.

"I don't figure I'll need any extraordinary protection," he said, "but I'll carry some spears and be ready to get out of the way of anything if possible."

"I'm convinced there's something in the river, all right.

"I visited Newport the other day and talked with Bramlett Bateman, the farmer, and Dee Wyatt, the negro farmhand, who have seen the thing several times."

"In my opinion," he added, "it's nothing more than a large fish—maybe a catfish—but I'll find out."

The wife of Dee Wyatt was the first to sight the "monster." Her husband saw it next and Farmer Bateman finally saw "a gray hulk" rise to the surface of the stream.

Army Perfects Mighty Plane For Warfare

Most Potent Fighting Ship Ever Built Is Ready For Preliminary Tests Today

(By The Associated Press)

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 19. — What the United States army calls the most potent fighting airplane ever built was ready today for preliminary tests here.

A war department announcement, issued in conjunction with the aircraft corporation which designed and built the five-man ship, kept secret its speed but declared "this plan can overhaul anything in the air."

Six Machine Guns

The racer strikes with six machine guns—"more powerful armament than ever before carried by a fighter"—and carries small bombs in addition, the announcement said.

Pursuit planes have been small, it added, mostly one-place ships, but this fighter is nearly as big as the giant bomber she is designed to escort or annihilate.

The motors are of the pusher type, a radical change from fighting aircraft design. With the propellors on the trailing edge of the wing, gunners have a clean sweep in front. They need not fire through the whirling blades or fight the wind blast.

All Gun Handlers

Pilot, co-pilot and radio operator —all of them gun handlers in a fight—sit in the central cockpit. Several feet out on each wing are outboard cockpits with additional guns.

Each spot is headed, because the army said it expected the plane's fighting ceiling to be around 30,000 feet. The men aboard can go from one station to another while the ship is in flight.

The new ship is low winged, of all-metal construction. It has wing flaps for lower landing speeds. An auxiliary power plant operates nine electric motors which run the retractable landing gear, lights, radio, starters and a telephone system that connects the three cockpits.

Fuel is carried in liquid-tight wing compartments to reduce the fire hazard.

Labor Shortage Is Reported Plaguing American Farmer

CHICAGO, July 19. (AP)—A new headache—labor shortage—plagued the American farmer today as he swung into the most bountiful harvest in several years.

In the midwest grain belt, in the northeast and throughout the vegetable-growing region, farmers reported harvest crews short-handed. And they were offering, federal statisticians said, the highest wages since 1930 for farmhands.

Works Progress administration payrolls in 13 states showed a decline after officials announced men would be permitted to quit jobs on projects to work in the midwest harvests. The men, if still in need, officials said, will be reemployed within 90 days.

In the air, an estimated 160 planes fought for supremacy, with government forces gradually gaining a slight advantage.

Thirteen Dead In Accidents Over Texas

Three Lives Snuffed Out In Lamesa Section; Two Die As Result Of Collision

(By The Associated Press)

Two persons who died from injuries suffered in a traffic mishap Saturday night near Lamesa made a total of three lives snuffed out as a result of highway crashes in the Lamesa section and extended the Texas week-end human toll to 13 victims.

Death of Coy Spurrier, 20, of Nugent in an Abilene hospital Sunday afternoon was the second fatality resulting from an automobile collision 15 miles east of Lamesa Saturday night.

Cousin Also Killed

Franuk Spurrier, cousin of Coy, died an hour after the accident. Coy was taken to Abilene after receiving emergency treatment at Lamesa.

Funeral of Frank Spurrier was to be in Breckenridge this afternoon and Coy Spunrrier will be buried in Fort Phantom Hill cemetery, Jones county, Tuesday.

Struck By Auto

A. C. Tune, 53, of Lamesa was the third victim in the Lamesa section. He died early Saturday after being struck by an automobile near the Dawson-Howard county line.

The violent death toll was one of the lowest for a 1937 week-end. Eight persons were victims of traffic mishaps, two were run over by trains, one was shot accidentally, and two were drowned.

Motorcycles Are Blamed

Of the traffic deaths, two victims, J. L. Hopper, 20, of Fairview, and Alvin Birch, 25, of Austin, crashed while riding motorcycles.

Automobile collisions took the lives of Wyman Baker, 43, of Port Arthur and Albert E. Gentry, 48, of Elam.

Albert C. Allen, 45, of Ironton, and Francisco Rodriguez, 55, of Lockhart, were crushed beneath trains.

Hit By Another Truck

Alvin P. Fulton, 38, truck operator, was injured fatally when his truck, striking a bridge abutment, threw him in the path of another truck.

The two who drowned were Pelly Sledge, 28, of Sherman, and C. D. Gaines, 15, of the Bagwell community near Clarksville.

John Adams, 14, of near Clarksville, died of accidental gunshot wounds.

German Camp Is Launched

(By The Associated Press)

ANDOVER, N. H., July 19—Three hundred uniformed boys and girls settled down today to the healthy routine of outdoor life at Nordland, nazi-emblemed camp in the Sussex hills, after a day of "heiling," folk dancing and beer drinking by 8,000 parent members of the German-American Volksbund.

The 100-acre site is one of 21 camps in the United States where more than 200,000 children of German descent spend the summer hiking, swimming, playing and sun bathing, said husky Fritz Kuhn, New York chemical engineer who is the Volksbund leader.

Discipline Is Strict

The boys and girls think the camp is "swell," but find the militaristic discipline a bit strict. One rule is that all conversation must be in German. The object, said one leader, Fred Espenschied, is that the youngsters "won't forget they're German."

All were welcome—including those who sought a federal investigation on the charge the camp was under nazi control—at the first of the season's adult gatherings yesterday.

Flying the stars and stripes and the swastika banners, 1,000 uniformed men accompanied by a military guard paraded by a platform featuring a picture of Chancellor Hitler.

Italians Join Ceremonies

Joining in the ceremonies were a group of Italian World war veterans headed by Dr. Salvatore Caridi, who told "my nazi friends:"

"We are the best law abiding citizens in the United States and we don't like to have anyone insult the leaders of the nations from which we come."

The crowd applauded when Rudolph Markmann, eastern district leader of the Volksbund, said "we are against John L. Lewis and the CIO and will fight them because they are communists and ruled by Moscow."

Black, Gray And Brown To Dominate Fall Fur Picture; Swaggers Are Luxurious

Pelts, Designs Are Elegant

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff

NEW YORK, July 19—Novelty furs, pelts worked in unusual ways, and new and different looking combinations will make the August Fur Sales shopper sit up and take notice.

It's a year when a black caracul swagger is teamed up with a white caracul vestee which can be worn under the coat or separately—for skating, skiing, winter hiking and such. A designer has dared to make an evening wrap with basque bodice of sleek white ermine, floor length skirt and collar of sumptuous silver fox. And there are flowing, full-length evening capes of lovely dark gray squirrel galore.

A coat house puts bulky pockets of monkey fur on the short swagger coat of a heather wool suit; tops a wool dress in claret wine with a simulated mole jacket, lined with fabric to match the frock; uses bands of shiny Persian lamb down front and around square armholes of a cape ensemble.

Young girls and their slim, sophisticated elders will like the interesting new treatments in novelty furs such as ocelot, leopard and burunduki. Among the dyed furs, Hudson seal (this is dyed muskrat) is a headliner.

Various stores are doing educational promotion for the benefit of customers who cannot distinguish one fur from another. There's a movement afoot to inspire confidence. And confidence in the store is something any woman should have before she buys a fur coat there. One who knows little about fur coats ought to be able to ask frank questions and receive equally frank, honest answers.

Know what you are getting before you order your furs. No need to be embarrassed about asking to have the silk and inner lining opened so you can inspect the pelts and determine whether the coat you like is made from full-size ones or little bits of odds and ends.

Once you get the coat home refrain from petting or stroking it with your hands. Simply shake it vigorously before you put it on. Furriers often beat coats with a tiny switch. If you have been out in the rain with yours hang it up to dry, then beat it as they do.

Black, gray and brown in the order named dominate the fall fur picture. Gray is most widely discussed right now but the practical-minded still like black and black will come in first, even though gray is a close second.

For college girls and the practical-minded, new muskrat swaggers cannot be beat. At the Fur Coat and Trimming Fashion show held recently these were featured in profusion. Almost nothing is more durable than muskrat and few furs look sleeker and smarter. Also in the inexpensive category are Hudson seal, kidskin and various forms of rabbit like lapin—all designed in the 1937 manner.

Hubbers To Tackle New Moore Today; Scoring Heavy

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The Hubbers and the New Moores take the spotlight today in the third game of the Lubbock tournament.

Only one contest is scheduled, as Sport Wooldridge's veterans clash with a combination team including the best of New Moore's sons and players conscripted especially for the tournament from Lamesa and Punkin Center.

Today's contest, the third of four first round battles among the eight clubs in the tournament, begins at 4 o'clock sharp.

Two clubs got off to impressive starts and two others dropped into the lower bracket yesterday as the big guns of Hobbs and Tahoka spoke against Brownfield and the Lubbock Collegians, defending tournament champions.

Frank Larkin's Tahoka club, which got organized late and has had trouble scoring runs this season, looked somewhat like the Tahoka teams of old yesterday to swat down the favored Brownfield club, 14 to 5, in the first upset of the tournament.

Fans Are Due To Arrive

Tahoka fans, slow to take cognizance of its ball club this season, are due to be here in full force next Wednesday when Larkin's gang takes on the winner of today's Hubber-New Moore game.

Pete Edwards, who used to pitch a little, play the infield and outfield for former Tahoka teams, was in the outfield yesterday shagging flies when he wasn't at the plate knocking the cover off expensive baseballs. The Brownfield club hasn't got him out till yet. He lashed out two singles in the early part of the game, two more in the last inning, and drew a pair of passes in the middle for a perfect day. He scored two runs himself and batted in three others for individual stick honors of the day.

Evans, veteran infielder who plays third base for Tahoka, also got four hits, including a double, scored twice and knocked in three runs.

Amerada Proves Tough

The second affair of yesterday's opening day schedule went slightly haywire as the defending champions got off to a dizzy start and couldn't begin to hold the tough Amerada Oilers from Hobbs, a pre-tournament favorite with all the trimmings.

The score was 24 to 0, favoring the New Mexico sluggers when Umpire Otis Gunter finally called the game before any were out and after five had scored in the first part of the sixth inning. The official score was 17 to 0, since the Collegians failed to come to bat in their part of the sixth.

The Amerada Oilers, who dusted off the Lubbock Hubbers in Hobbs a week earlier, hit everything that four Collegian pitchers tossed up, but it was a case of a defense going to pieces that enlarged the count.

Webster Is Knocked Out

Deep Webster, who helped the Collegians to the title last year with his deliberate southpaw pitching, started against Amerada. He came out in the second after giving up five hits and after his mates had let in nine runs. Spruell, another southpaw, went in, did all right for three innings, but in the fifth the Ameradas batted around, scored seven times off three hits, none of them for extra bases, and Spruell retired in favor of Chuck Webster. Chuck gave a walk, then Red Greer doubled, and Simmons blasted one over the right field wall. Alex Blair singled, advanced on a wild throw and scored on an error as Tonky Marsh went safe. Simpson, replacing Red Ramsey, singled to drive in a run. Then Webster walked out to third, changed places with Shaw. What happened after that was not surprising. Somebody knocked the ball to the outfield, the outfielders played catch with it, letting in two more runs, finally threw the ball to Webster at third who wheeled and threw it out of the park. Gunter called the game at that point.

The Collegians are capable of playing better ball than they did yesterday. Berl Huffman has not had time to get his crew organized, evidently. Huffman started in right field, missed several fly balls, then tried catching for a spell. Nearly every player on the team made errors.

Oilers Hit The Apple

But the Ameradas were hitting and fielding as if they intended to win the tournament money. G. W. Walker led the hitting with three bingles. Simmons bagged a home run with two mates aboard, and Red Ramsey got a triple on his first trip to the plate.

Everett Gurule, who blanked the Collegians in a warm-up game last Sunday while pitching for the Phillips team of Hobbs, has been added to the Amerada pitching staff. He allowed seven hits in the five innings, but kept them scattered and had fine support from his mates.

It was a very jolly contest—for everybody but the Collegians, who come back Wednesday to play the loser of Tuesday's Big Spring-Wolfforth game.

The Ameradas, managed by Tip Gressett, will be back in the tournament field Thursday, playing the winner of the Big Spring-Wolfforth game.

One team will bow out of the tournament Tuesday, another on Wednesday, leaving six to fight it out for the last four days of championship baseball.

After a shaky start, the Brownfield and Tahoka teams settled down and played nice baseball for six innings, Wild Bill Estes of Tahoka opposing Vic Herring and Tee West of Brownfield in a nifty pitching duel.

Both clubs played nervously at the outset. Tahoka jumped off to a three run lead in the first frame on hits by Evans, W. Holland, Edwards and Thomas. Blevins, first man up for Brownfield, tripled off Estes, and Kelly, up next, doubled to center,

Ten-Day Baseball Tourney Is Being Planned At O'Donnell

O'DONNELL, July 19. (Special)—A 10-day baseball tournament which is expected to draw representative teams from Lynn, Dawson and Borden counties will be opened Aug. 9 in the old ball park south of O'Donnell. Shack Blocker is manager of arrangements.

Three prizes will be offered by business men and merchants: A first prize of $100, second of $60 and third of $25. An entrance fee of $5 for each club will be charged.

Amateurs only will be allowed to play and team rosters must be made up strictly from players who reside in the towns they represent.

COFFEY IS VICTOR

SAN ANGELO, July 19. (AP)—Young Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth today won the San Angelo country club invitation golf crown after defeating Bill Boyer, Abilene "giant-killer," in the 36-hole finale yesterday, 5 and 4.

Up to 1926, fatalities in scaling the Alps did not exceed 50 a year. They have always exceeded 100 a year since then except in 1928 when the number was down to 87.

SPOTLIGHTER

By COLLIER PARRIS

TOUGH LUCK YESTERDAY, for Brownfield and the Huffman Collegians, but that's the way it is sometimes in baseball. Don't let those one-sided defeats whip you down, Brownfield and Collegians, and don't let the big scores discourage you fans.

We gotta have the fans if we have tournaments, or any kind of baseball. The future of the Lubbock tournament depends, naturally, on the turnout of cash customers, but you're not being asked to donate. You'll get your money's worth if you keep coming, because this thing is going to get hot and close before it's over.

The boys had the big jitters yesterday, no doubt, but they'll get over it. Each of the losing clubs has power and baseball ability to spare, just as soon as it gets strung out, so don't give up. Let's make 'em all glad they came here to play ball. The first round is always the toughest in tournament play.

Only one game scheduled today, but it ought to be a honey. The Hubbers open their campaign against a free-swinging New Moore outfit—and don't let that name fool you. Sport Wooldridge himself has been nominated to start the mound chores, and that ought to be worth coming out to see in itself. New Moore has several old players from Lamesa and Punkin Center, and they play a lot of ball around Punkin.

As special guests today, the Kiwanis club's Knothole gang will occupy a special stand, and there'll be plenty of rootin' and tootin' as well as lots of baseball. The game gets under way at 4 o'clock, so you'll have plenty of time.

And don't forget the Tuesday lineup. Brownfield and the loser of today's game come back to battle it out to see who stays in the running. That'll be the first game, and there'll be a lot of new faces in the second — Big Spring's Cosden Oilers vs. Wolfforth's Wolves.

CONGRATS RIGHT NOW to Edgar Doherty, the new City Open golf champ. Cotton McAfee, the loser, is due a sprig of orchids, too, for staging a fine comeback in this tournament to reach the finals and give Doherty a real final battle, all the way through the scheduled 36 holes.

And golfers should not forget Tuesday's program at Country club. The women are prefacing their annual invitation tournament, which starts Wednesday, with a mixed foursome event Tuesday, and all the menfolks are urged to turn out and "partner up."

Edgar Doherty Cops City Open Title

Hot Battle By Pair Of Stars Staged At Meadowbrook

Long-driving Edgar Doherty achieved a long-time ambition yesterday at Meadowbrook Golf club when he won the annual City Open championship tournament.

Hot with his irons as well as long with his woods, Doherty nevertheless had a tough battle on his hands and got more than a few scares, as the gallery got more than a few thrills, when W. L. "Cotton" McAfee of Country club took him to the final putt on the 36th and final green. The score was 1 up, 36 holes. They halved the 18th green, which was the 36th in this case, with par fives, enabling Doherty to hold a lead he gained on the 35th and win the championship.

The finalists, one representing Meadowbrook, the other from Country club, smacked par in the face all day. For a two-up advantage at the end of the morning half-way round, Doherty had to show a medal of 66, the same with which he qualified for the tournament. McAfee was hot on his heels with a 68, two under par.

For the afternoon round, Doherty showed three under par for a 67, and McAfee was four under, duplicating Doherty's morning round of 66. For the thirty-six holes, therefore, Doherty showed a seven-under 133, to McAfee's hot 134.

First flight honors went to Wright Kerr, who defeated E. B. Wheelock of Country club, 2 and 1, in their 18-hole final. The consolation prize in the first flight went to Bob Crawford with 1 up victory over H. J. Patterson.

The championship flight consolation final was won by Bob Hale, Texas Tech golfer, who was four under par through 15 holes to defeat Bill DeGarimore, 4 and 3. Hale was hitting the ball like a champion, and was strictly unbeatable.

Second flight winner was Delmar Sears, who won from Joe Bailey Powers, 3 and 2, in the final match yesterday. For consolations, father met son, and the father triumphed, C. W. Goodgion needing 20 holes to subdue Jack Goodgion.

First Quarter All Square

Setting out in championship quest Sunday morning, Doherty and McAfee played along with par for the first nine, passing the first quarter mark all square, each with 35s.

As they started the back side, McAfee took a lead with a birdie. He took a bogey on the 11th to lose the advantage. They parred the 12th to stay even, then Doherty started his assault on par. He birdied the next four holes, winding up with a couple of pars, for a two-up advantage at the half-way mark. McAfee, four down through the 16th, birdied the last two to cut his deficit in half.

McAfee was only one down after the second hole of the afternoon round, snapping up a birdie 2 there. They halved the next two, and Doherty went two up with a birdie on the fifth. McAfee got it back with a birdie at No. 7, but lost No. 9 to a par after they both birdied the 8th.

McAfee Fights Back

Fighting back, McAfee got a birdie on the 10th, but lost with a bogey on the 11th. He lost to a par on the 12th to go three down, but picked up two holes on the 13th and 14th with a par and a birdie. They halved the 15th, and the match went all square on the 16th, or 34th, when McAfee got a birdie. He lost to a birdie on the 17th, and Doherty coasted in with a par for a half and the match and the championship.

To advance, Doherty first defeated Joe Bihl, 2 and 1, then won from Hugh Anderson, 1 up. His most decisive victory was turned in over Glen Smith, 5 and 4, in the semi-finals.

McAfee won from Garland Allen in the preliminary, 4 and 2; took out Weldon Counts, 2 and 1, in the quarter-finals, and won over Donald Doherty, 3 and 2, in Saturday's semi-finals.

Oklahoma City Goes Even Farther Ahead

(By The Associated Press)

The top-flighters, tail-enders and a team middling in the standings found things to their liking in the Texas league last night and grabbed both ends of double-headers.

The loop-leading Oklahoma City nine, featuring four-hit pitching performances by Jim Moore and Ash Hillin, handed the Houston Buffs two lickings, 8 to 0 and 4 to 1. In the first game the Indians pounded Marvin Quante from the hill.

Dallas' cellar dwelling Steers surprised with a double victory over Beaumont, 3 to 1 and 9 to 7. The winners used four hurlers and the losers three in a loosely-played second game. Baker restricted the Exporters to four hits in the initial tilt.

San Antonio's second division leaders walloped the Fort Worth Cats 3 to 1 and 10 to 4 when Howard Mills gave up only two hits and an unearned run in the opener and Les Tietje allowed the hard-hitting Cats but five in the nightcap.

Galveston and Tulsa split their twin bill, the Bucs winning the first game, 6 to 5, and the Oilers staging a three-run rally in the sixth to annex the closing tilt, 3 to 2.

The Canadian Broadcasting corporation has announced plans for the construction of two large broadcasting stations near Montreal and Toronto.

Pan-American Games To Be Perpetuated

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, July 19. (AP)—Acclaimed by statesmen and fans alike as another link in the "good neighbor" policy, the Pan-American games, cheered by 55,000 Texans the past four days, will be perpetuated.

Plans have started to have the games, instituted as the athletic feature of the Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition, moved to Rio De Janeiro, capital of Brazil, in 1938.

Invitation Is Extended

Brazilian Ambassador Oswaldo Aranha informed exposition officials and newspapermen that an active drive would be started in his native country to bring the western hemisphere's crack track and field performers and soccer teams there in the summer of '38.

Contacts will be established with the National A. A. U., exposition officials said, and the games will be placed on an annual basis, with one-year intermissions during Olympic games years.

Unschooled in big-time track and field and soccer, the southwest responded with large crowds, topped by the 23,000 Saturday night who saw track history made when John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh negro, raced the 800-meters in world-record breaking time of 1:47.8—two seconds faster than a five-year-old mark.

Experts Are Amazed

Track experts, amazed at the lanky negro's race, predicted the mark would never be touched.

The Argentina soccer team, composed of youngsters less than 20 years old and hand-picked off the many soccer fields of their nation, made Texans soccer conscious with their amazing handling of the ball.

Last night they bagged the Pan-American soccer tourney by walloping Canada, 8-1, in the final game. Angel LaFerrara, center forward and star of the eleven, scored four goals to run his tourney total to nine.

In the final event of the four-day sports festivals, Pat Dengis, the Baltimore tool and die maker, celebrated his 37th birthday by winning the 26-mile marathon in two hours, 32 minutes and 43 seconds. In second place was Argentina's Jose Ribas, holder of the world's 20-mile title, while Mel Porter, 33-year-old New York civil engineer and American champion, trotted in third.

Athletes from 10 nations started home today, some of them with a 6,000 mile trip ahead. Most of the Americans prepared to leave for foreign shores on A. A. U.-sponsored trips.

Joe DiMaggio Slaps Apple Into Stands

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old Blubber Malone is somewhat sore in certain portions of his anatomy today—but he figures it was worth it.

When he saw that home run shot of his teammate, jolting Joe DiMaggio drop into the far away left field stands at Cleveland yesterday bringing in the four runs that sent Bobby Feller down to a 5-1 defeat, Old Blubber just had to up and turn handsprings.

The clout had a lot of significance for Joe.

Evidence Piled Up

It just piled on the already overwhelming evidence that he is the top sophomore in the baseball business this year. It also gave a brand new talking point to those who are carrying the torch for Joe as the season's most valuable player.

Ever since he came back to action after an early season shoulder ailment, he has been powdering that apple at a terrific rate. Right now he's leading the big time in homers—yesterday's was his 24th—and is giving his teammate Lou Gehrig a merry battle for the American league batting lead.

Defensively, his arm is being talked of in the same breath as the greatest the game has known.

Drives In All Runs

double as well as his homer, drove in all five of the Yankee runs, and generally put the needle in Feller's third straight futile "comeback" effort.

With Augie Galan hitting two homers, the Cubs clouted Brooklyn twice, 7-6 and 9-4, to retain their margin of three percentage points in the senior circuit chase. The Giants stayed in the running by finding the Cardinals a double-header pushover, 6-5 and 11-0, dropping the Cards into fourth place.

Peaches Davis pitched a five hitter and Lefty Grissom produced a two-hit shutout as the Reds whipped the Boston Bees, 4-1 and 1-0. The Pirates managed only an even break with the Phillies, winning the nightcap 6-5 in 11 innings, after dropping the opener 5-2 to Claude Passeau's pitching.

Although held to two hits by Monte Weaver and Ed Linke, the Tigers topped the Senators 3-1 on walks and errors. Chicago's climbing White Sox socked the Boston Red Sox, 6-5 and 1-0, the latter on Monte Weaver's three-hit pitching. The Browns beat the Athletics 10-6 in their opener, and then lost the nightcap 7-6.

HEAT CAUSES BLOW-OUTS. PROTECT YOURSELF AGAINST THOSE BLOW-OUTS WITH THIS HEAT-RESISTING GOLDEN PLY

A TRUE STORY BY ZANE GREY

HE WAS RIDING ON DYNAMITE AND NEVER KNEW IT UNTIL..

ZANE GREY
Famous Author of Popular Western Thrillers

"This Close Shave," says Zane Grey, "Should Make Every Motorist Think Twice Before Gambling on Tires."

THERE is one motoring mishap that the best of drivers cannot forecast. And it caught Edward Zachary of Hartford, Connecticut, completely off guard. He was whizzing along at a good clip. He had the Northford Road practically to himself when BANG—the right front tire blew out. An uncontrollable drag yanked the car smack alongside of a guard-rail. Flying wheels mowed down fence posts before Mr. Zachary came to a sudden stop.

Special Goodrich Tire

Today's faster driving conditions call for a special tire. The Goodrich Safety Silvertown is just that kind of a tire. It's the only tire with the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This life-saving invention is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the internal tire heat that causes many of today's high-speed blow-outs. By resisting this heat inside the tire, these Golden Ply Silvertowns give you, and everyone that rides with you, real protection against those high-speed blow-outs.

From now on you'll find Edward Zachary's car equipped with Silvertowns. For your own peace of mind—for the protection of your family and friends make your next set of tires Golden Ply Silvertowns.

That Girl on Broadway says there are two sides to all questions and a great many people are very adept at taking both.

The six-year old girl awoke from a fitful sleep at 2 o'clock the other morning.

"Mummy," she whispered to her mother, "tell me a story."

"Shhhh," whispered the mother, "be quiet, dear. Daddy will be home in a little while and he'll tell us both a story!"

KENNETH I. KIMBRO, formerly of Lubbock but in recent years an executive of the state comptroller's department in Austin, was here the other day spending, with his lovely wife, the former Muff Robertson, of near Slaton, a vacation in and around his old stomping grounds. Although the mercury was flirting with the 105 mark, Kenneth reported it was so much cooler here than it is when it's 90 in Austin that he wasn't a bit bothered by the heat.

Further, he offered a suggestion. "You fellows here on The Journal make a mistake in giving out the real temperatures to the Associated Press. What you need to do is get your temperatures like they do in Austin—from a shaded thermometer placed on the highest building in town and set so every breeze can hit it. If you did that, Lubbock's temperature report would always be 10 to 15 degrees lower. The trouble with you guys is, you're too honest."

Kenneth is right about doctored temperature reports, but Austin is not the only place where the system is followed. It is followed nearly everywhere and The Plainsman has been cognizant of the method ever since he was a boy in Tulsa where official heat records were taken atop a 22-story building with everything but an ice pack on the thermometer's bulb.

There should be a set method prescribed for taking temperatures and since people walk on sidewalks and steaming concrete streets—and not on top of high buildings carefully shaded — that's where temperatures should be recorded.

What's the sense of knowing the temperature on top of the Hotel Lubbock, in the shade where every capricious breeze is caught?

Very few of us can be at that point, while all of us are on the streets?

UNDER the very logical heading "Turn About's Fair Play", Hubert S. Hunter, editor of the El Paso Times, recently presented the following item which he reported was brought him by a garage man.

It ought to make good reading, not alone for everyone who has ever been put over the jumps of ultra-ethical, modern day medicine but also for the doctors with a sense of humor!

"Good morning. Will you look at my fan belt, please? It seems to have come off."

"Ah, yes, doctor. Have you ever been in this garage before?"

"Why, no, I don't believe I have been here before."

"Well, then, it will be necessary to take a brief history before we can proceed. Just routine, you understand, doctor."

"But listen! All I need is a new fan belt! Merely a matter of 79 cents."

"One never knows, doctor. We had a fan belt case in here last week. Owner just wanted a new belt quick, and hurried away. This morning we got an emergency call to his home. Differential had dropped out. Very sad. So you see, all these things had better be checked."

"Great Scott!"

"How long has it been since you had this trouble before?"

"Don't remember having the same trouble before."

"Tell me, do you have trouble starting in the morning?"

"Well, cold mornings, it sputters."

"Very significant. Well, suppose we have a look at that fan belt now."

"Here it is."

"Tch, Tch, Tch! I must say, doctor, I don't like the looks of that fan belt. Not for one minute, I don't. Fortunately, it's a clean break. But any one of a number of complications might set in. With your permission, I'd like to have Mr. Axel Johnson, of the Acme garage, see this fan belt. He's one of the best fan belt men in the country today."

"All right. If you say so."

"And while we're at it, I'd like to have Mr. Frank Smith, of Commercial Service, look into the block, too. He can tell us a little something if it has a piston slap. Better to be safe than sorry, eh, doctor?

"Now, doctor we better drain a little of the oil and have it examined to see how much viscosity it contains. Viscosity has to be maintained at a certain minimum and yours might be a little low."

"I buy the best in the market."

"In this bottle, doctor, we would like to have a little gasoline so we can test the octane in it."

"I hadn't noticed any knocks or bad effect."

"Notice, doctor, and see if when I hit this fender with the hammer it bends or shows a dent."

"It made a small dent on the fender."

"That indicated we had better test all of the fenders."

"Well, all right. When can we do all this?"

"Let's see. I'm doing a rebore this morning and a valve-grind and rear-end reassembly this afternoon. How about 9 a. m. tomorrow?"

"All right."

"I may be a little late. I'm tightening a connecting rod at eight, but you can sit in the office and read the back numbers of the Auto Mechanic's Journal!"

SYNOPSIS: Josh Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, tries to buy Kay Crandon's Lazy Nine after her ranch house and barn burn. He also tries to court Kay. She distrusts him and is determined to keep her ranch and rebuild. Hastings' cowhand, Scrap Johnson, molests Kay, but Ted Gaynor, a puncher she impulsively hired, rescues her and whips Scrap. Later they shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings, hating both, finds them and murders Scrap, using Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a shack where a girl takes him in. Hastings escorts Kay home one night, telling her an ugly story about Ted.

Chapter 24

'Don't Be A Fool!'

"What's the hurry?" Josh Hastings pounded up beside Kay and, reaching over, put a possessive hand on her arm. "It's a crime to go rushing through a moonlight night at this pace! Slow down and I'll promise not to tell you any more sordid stories."

Kay's only answer was to shake her arm free and urge Flicker on to greater speed.

An ugly look settled on Josh Hastings' face as he was forced by her action to follow suit. Flicker was a faster horse than his, and he had no more time for talking, if he was going to keep up.

Already, he was losing ground a bit, and as Kay glanced over her shoulder and saw him falling behind, a reckless spirit of mischief overcame her prudence.

She knew it was a silly thing to rouse his temper but she couldn't resist the temptation to pay him back for telling her that story about Ted. Realizing perfectly that nothing was more galling to a man's pride than to be left behind by a girl, she deliberately pushed Flicker to the limit, and streaked ahead of him.

She had arrived at the corral, turned Flicker loose, and was just starting back to her cabin when he came pounding up.

He pulled up so sharply that his horse slipped to his haunches and almost went down. The next instant he was off, and before Kay could guess his intention, he seized her in his arms, and pressed his lips savagely to hers.

"That'll teach you not to play monkey tricks with me!" His voice was thick with rage and passion, as he held Kay's shoulders in an iron grip and bent his face close to her. "You'd better learn it now! Because I mean to marry you, you little spitfire!"

Regardless of Kay's blazing eyes, and her choked "Let me go!" as she writhed in his grasp, he kissed her again. Then he sprang into his saddle and galloped off without a backward look.

Panting and trembling with fury, Kay watched him go, her mind seething with the outrage. It had all taken place so swiftly, that she could hardly believe it had happened at all.

With a gasp of disgust, she wiped the back of her hand across her lips, and clenched her fist as she gazed after the retreating figure in the moonlight.

Much as she had disliked Josh Hastings, she had never thought to be on her guard against an act like this! Why, he was old enough to be her father! She grabbed her handkerchief and scrubbed her lips as though to cleanse them of his polluting touch.

Marry him! A shudder ran through her, and a weak, helpless feeling of dread laid a cold clutch on her heart. Suddenly she felt utterly defenseless and alone. Who could she turn to? Aunt Kate and Babs were completely under Josh Hastings' spell; she could expect no help from them. And if Ted failed her—

Summons To Aunt Kate

Josh Hastings' insinuating story flashed in her mind, and in spite of her disbelief, she found herself going over it, bit by bit.

Even if the worst implications about the girl were false, Ted had probably been involved in some sort of affair with her. And there was that other rumor about the dark haired girl he had fought over that very day when he had later come so splendidly to her rescue—

Kay straightened up suddenly and walked quickly back to the cabin, her head proudly high, though her breath still came in quick, uneven jerks. It was certainly nothing to her how many girls Ted had! All she wanted him to come back for was to rebuild her house and barn for her!

Memory of Josh Hastings' kiss flashed over her again, and running up the steps of her cabin, she hastily lit a candle and flung herself down at her father's desk. Something in its very solidity, and the associations that clung to it, gave her a truly comforting sense of strength.

"He thinks he's going to marry me, does he?" Kay savagely pulled open a drawer and took out a sheet of note paper. "We'll see about that!"

She scribbled a note to Aunt Kate, saying that she was going to send over for them the next afternoon. They could have her cabin, and she could sleep outside in her sleeping bag. Signing it without further explanation, he left it on her desk, so that she could give it to one of the boys to take over the first thing in the morning. Then, with the same feverish haste, she undressed and flung herself into bed.

After a restless night of both waking and sleeping nightmares, Kay was out at the crack of dawn, and over at the bunk house with her note.

After she had actually dispatched Shorty with the summons to her family to leave the Flying Six, she felt better, and by the time breakfast was over, she had persuaded herself that Josh Hastings had made up that story out of whole cloth, for the sole purpose of damaging Ted in her eyes.

"When Ted comes back, I'm going to tell him the whole thing," she resolved, as she made her way over to the bunk house to consult Seth about getting another cot put up in her cabin for Babs.

It was nearly 10 o'clock before Shorty came back from the Flying Six. Kay hastily tore open the note he handed her, addressed in her aunt's cramped, old fashioned handwriting. A slow color rose in her cheeks as she read it through and then started it over again.

She was suddenly aware of Shorty's eyes on her. Biting her lip to steady herself, she looked up at him.

"Thanks, Shorty. There isn't any answer." She turned away with the note clenched in her hand, and ran down to her cabin. Seated at the desk, she spread it out before her, and incredulously read its surprising contents again.

Dear Kay:

Don't be a fool! You're not the first girl to be kissed on a moonlight night! Josh Hastings has told me all about it, and his generous and honorable intentions toward you.

I certainly have no idea of coming back until the house is finished. You can insist on Babs coming, but you'll be pulling a hornet's nest about your ears if you do.

I say again—don't be a fool!

Your affectionate
Aunt Kate

Kay drew a long quivering breath as she settled back and gazed at the door, where some flies buzzed drowsily in the heat. Suddenly, one of them brushed against a cobweb and became more and more enmeshed as it tried to get away.

With an impulsive movement, Kay jumped up and put a finger through the web, thus setting the fly free.

"If only someone would do that for me!" she murmured, as she settled down and read Aunt Kate's letter again. Forcing herself not to let her judgment be influenced by her indignation, she tried to consider it calmly.

No Way To Fight Him

What Aunt Kate said about Babs was perfectly true. Kay realized that she hadn't any too firm a hold over Babs' headstrong and self-willed nature. And if she insisted on her coming back in the face of Aunt Kate's determination to stay, life wouldn't be worth living.

Viewed in the light of Aunt Kate's scornful "don't-be-a-fool!", it did seem ridiculous to make such a fuss about a moonlight kiss. And by forestalling her, and telling Aunt Kate about it, and his desire to marry her, Josh Hastings had cut most of the ground for righteous indignation from under her feet.

There just didn't seem any way to fight this insidious move of Josh Hastings, to get her family under

PURCHASING POWER IS THE BIG NEED

Overproduction! Overproduction! Overproduction!

The Journal has been seeing that word so long and so often that we are moved to say a few words in its defense.

Since the war every business lull, every increase is unemployment, has been attributed to overproduction. It has become popular to diagnose every economic maladjustment as overproduction. Manufacturers, farmers and workers are being told that they are producing too much. In recent years world production of raw materials and foodstuffs has increased more than twice as fast as the population.

There seems to be a surplus of most worldly goods, but in the final analysis it is an inaccuracy to say that the world is producing more than it needs. The fact is that it isn't consuming as much as it should. Consumption sould be increased, rather than production diminished.

Today the real economic problem of the United States is to increase the purchasing power of the consumer. Factories and farms are producing more than the people can buy, not more than they can consume.

Our economists, if they ever have the time, should remember that the commonest of phrases is "I'd buy that if I had the money."

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 19. — These are prosperous times for Hollywood stunt men and cowboys. For former wrestlers and prizefighters, too. And ex-gridiron gladiators are finding more jobs than they can fill, because this is the Hollywood football season—when nearly every studio prepares a college picture or two for early autumn release.

"Ebbtide," "Hurricane," "In Old Chicago," "The Adventures of Marco Polo," "Big City" and a wide assortment of less important pictures are being packed with action.

Not since the old serial days have the stunters had such splendid opportunities to break their necks.

The former pugilists and tug-and-grunt men mostly are being recruited for gang fights in "Big City," which features a war between a couple of rival taxi gangs.

International Set

The cowboys are bewildered by what is happening to them. Some of them stand before mirrors and still can't believe what they see.

For they have been taken out of their chaps and sombreros and made into Orientals with wispy whiskers, slant eyes, painted fingernails and gaudy costumes. They're working in Samuel Goldwyn's "Marco Polo."

There are very few Chinese in this cast. The reason is that the picture is laid in the thirteenth century, and in that day the Mongolians of Kublai Khan's army are supposed to have been large men—tall and bull-necked and very tough indeed.

So there are few Orientals, but quite a lot of Russians, Greeks, Englishmen and a handful of strapping South Sea Islanders. Reading the cast of principals—Gary Cooper, Sigrid Gurie, Ernest Truex, Verree Teasdale, Basil Rathbone and George Barbier—you couldn't guess what type of picture it is.

Barbier is Kublai Khan. Robert Stephanoff, head of the makeup department, worked two weeks getting Barbier to look like Kublai Khan, and even now the actor has to spend two and a half hours in the chair each morning having his cheekbones heightened, his eyes slanted, his hairline raised and his whiskers applied one by one. He can tell you that it isn't any fun.

Miss Gurie, who plays Princess Kukachin, is a Scandinavian. Stephanoff could make her look Chinese, but he'd rather not twist her features away from their natural beauty. So he describes her makeup as "impressionistic Chinese," adding that there's no one around now, anyway, who remembers what a princess looked like 700 years ago.

This picture probably couldn't have been started if the striking makeup artists had not returned to work. On some days, Stephanoff has to have 60 to 70 assistants, and 20 hairdressers to handle the wigs, when the cast includes 600 extras.

His staff averages about 40 artists and the makeup department's budget for this picture is $35,000—all to be spent for yellow paint, wigs, whiskers and plastic material for building up cowboys' cheekbones.

Bump Men Ruin Scenes

Talkietown stunt men finally have got their business on a sounder basis than it has been for several years. They had been encountering a lot of competition from "bump men," who are extra players with much brawn, little brain and a devil-may-care willingness, born of desperation, to hurl themselves into danger for a pittance.

Harvey Parry, who's one of the top-ranking stunters of a dozen who work in Hollywood, says that studios finally have learned that they actually can save a lot of money and production time by hiring an expert risk-taker.

Bump men ruined too many scenes and caused endless delays besides suffering numerous casualties.

Studios now have set a minimum wage of $35 for stunting, but that rate applies only for minor items such as falling down stairs and engaging in brief fights.

For extra-hazardous automobile skids and turnovers, fights and falls and dives, the stunt man who is called in studies the situation and names his price, which may run to $200.

Nine times out of ten he'll accomplish the trick without sustaining a bruise or even mussing his hair. Careful preparation, perfect timing and physical fitness make the feats look easy.

Democratic Split Is Forecast By Man Whom Dutcher Says Is 'Very Close To Roosevelt'

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Certain men very close to the White House, convinced that the Democratic party is going to split and frothing with impatience over the delay, already have begun to list the goats they expect to go galloping or to be pushed—toward the Republican party. And the sheep they expect to remain in the fold.

Technically, there are 75 Democrats in the Senate and 333 Democrats in the House.

Dutcher

Actually, says a high official about as close to F. D. R. as any White House secretary—and whose name would make a large Page One headline if your correspondent were allowed to use it—there are about 55 senators and 275 representatives who can be counted as Democrats. They will go through for a progressive New Deal program such as has been outlined by Roosevelt, the party leader. This man goes on to talk as if he expected the other Democratic members to be sloughed off.

"Some of the 55 and some of the 275 won't like what we're trying to do," says this New Deal nose-counter. "But they'll take it!"

Fish Has His Troubles

Significant of Republican efforts to honey up to Southern conservatives is a bill by Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York, who led a regiment of colored troops in the war.

Fish urges a pretentious memorial or statue here in honor of the Southern hero, Gen. Robert E. Lee. He keeps pestering Congressman Kent Keller of Illinois, chairman of the library committee which has to do with such things, about it.

But Fish is having trouble getting anything out of a Democratic House, even though it be a tribute to "Marse Robert," since his accusatory exposure of the fact that Mrs. Roosevelt has her radio earnings turned over to charity without paying income tax on them.

Lewis Will Be Advised

John L. Lewis is going to get some free advice on personal publicity. Some of his journalistic admirers are convinced he has been getting bad publicity breaks, and that much of it is his own fault. So they plan to sit down with Lewis and make some suggestions.

This group believes Lewis does not appreciate the importance of middle class opinion, that he should make it more obvious he is a human being, that he should have more press conferences, and that he must realize his public relations technique and organization are more important than they were when he was simply head of the United Mine Workers.

(Fact is the Lewis press conferences, usually attracting 30 to 50 news men, are at least as impressive as Roosevelt's. Lewis stands. The correspondents sit in handsome brass-studded leather chairs. Lewis rumbles, seldom smiles and then but faintly, addresses correspondents as "Mr. ——," never by first names, as Roosevelt does. No gales of laughter sweep the room, as at the White House. Lewis is at his best before a crowd, but indifferent on the radio.)

Many friends of Lewis believe he should have avoided the swank reception party for the three Soviet flyers at the Russian embassy. Everybody does go and you see reactionary Republicans as well as radical New Dealers. There were a thousand persons there that night.

But the photo of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis descending the embassy stairs, after staying briefly, probably was the only one you saw.

Executions Cast A Pall

Society reporters failed to report that reception's outstanding feature—the atmosphere. The wave of executions in Russia cast a pall. Some of those invited didn't come at all. Others who came left quickly.

Those remaining looked vainly for certain attaches and guessed as to their fate. Most of all the crowd whispered about popular Ambassador Troyanovsky, just ordered back to Russia for a time. Some of Troyanovsky's best friends —Doletsky, Romm, Mikhailsky—had been arrested, presumably doomed. Did Troyanovsky fear the worst, secretly in his heart? No one knew. But many felt tension in the air.

It was Congressman Sirovich of New York who approached Troyanovsky and Lewis as they stood talking, and blurted out:

"Say, what about all these generals being shot over in your country?"

"Congressman," intervened Lewis, obviously trying to relieve the ambassador's embarrassment, "wouldn't it be just as appropriate for the ambassador to ask you what about all these workers who are being shot in your country?"

Troyanovsky, with a grateful smile at the labor leader, rapidly moved away.

Relieve "Morning After" Headaches The "BC" Way

Over-indulgence often results in a dull, "morning after" headache; upset nerves and an "all in" feeling. When you wake up like this let "BC" lend a helping hand.

The quick-acting ingredients in the "BC" formula will relieve headaches and neural pains of an inorganic character, and greatly aid you in snapping back into your stride. Remember this: Keep a package of "BC" handy. Convenient 10c and 25c sizes, or by the dose at fountains. (adv.)

Equipment To Distill Water Is Installed

Equipment to distill water has been installed at the city water plant, Avenue J and Fifth street, after having been asked by a committee of Lubbock doctors, according to announcement this morning by Mayor Ross Edwards.

Water will be sold in quantities of five gallons or more at two cents per gallon, he said. Five gallon glass bottles are available as containers at the city plant, the price being $1.35. The purchaser, it was explained, must supply his own container.

Physicians had asked that water be made available which is as nearlyly free as possible of the chemicall, flourine, which is blamed for discoloration of teeth. Flourine, it was explained, is present in practically all domestic supplies of water, to larger degree in the southwestern United States than in most other sections of the nation.

Claim also is made that the distillation improves the quality of the water for cooking purposes. Enough mineral matter has been left, as determined by state laboratory tests, not to affect its value for drinking purposes. Water can be so thoroughly distilled, officials were advised, that it becomes unfit for drinking.

They crossed the Dutch East Indies and northern Australia to Lae in three days. They left this outpost on July 1 over a route never before flown, and over ocean wastes never before charted.

Searchers believed after the extensive hunt that the plane landed somewhere in the white-capped Pacific, and was either damaged badly and sank soon, or went down immediately.

Theft of a motor car and of personal property was reported to the police Sunday night. Mrs. O. Lee, jr., 2412 Sixth street, said some property was missing. Miss Margaret Wood, 2213 Eighth street, reported a 1929 Ford coach was stolen between 9 and 11 p. m. from in front of Montgomery Ward store.

Two cases of domestic trouble were reported but were settled without arrests. Police brought in two drunks. Three doors of business houses were found open and owners notified. A Mexican woman signed a complaint against her husband.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP) — Cotton futures opened quiet, down 1 to 4 points on lower Liverpool cables and favorable weather. Oct. 11.98; Dec. 11.93; Jan. 11.95; March 12.01; May 12.03.

The selling was not active.

Reports of weevils from Texas and forecast for showers in the eastern belt brought in some local buying causing December to rally from 11.93 to 12.00. Shortly after the first half hour it was selling at 11.98 with prices generally 2 to 4 points net higher.

Declines at Liverpool were attributed to disappointing overseas advices. Reports from Shanghai to the bureau of agricultural economics indicated an increase of 10 to 15 per cent in the Chinese cotton acreage and said that this could produce a crop of 4,000,000 bales and would place China as a rival to India as the world's second largest cotton producer.

The market was quiet later in the morning. Price movements were narrow and by midday the market was at or within a point of Saturday's closing levels.

December, which rallied from 11.93 to 12.00 was selling at 11.95 at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 19 (AP) — Cotton opened steady and unchanged to two points lower here today on a little selling induced by lower Liverpool cables.

Some buying of near positions was encountered after the start and these months rallied to levels 3 to 4 points above the previous close.

Oct. opened at 12.00 and rallied to 12.05, while Dec. recovered from 12.04 to 12.08. Jan. opened at 12.04, March at 12.11 and May at 12.14.

Selling became aggressive as the morning progressed and toward mid-session active positions were ten to eleven points under the previous close.

Continued favorable weather and crop reports and uncertainty over the French financial outlook appeared to be the main factors behind the offers.

October contracts traded off to 11.90, December to 11.93, March to 12.01, and May to 12.05, while other positions were inactive at their starting levels.

Funeral Rites For Accident Victim Are Held Sunday

LAMESA, July 19, (Special)—Funeral rites were read here at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for A. C. Tune, 53, of Lamesa, who instantly was killed early Saturday when struck by an automobile.

Tune, who apparently was wandering in a dazed state after his own machine had overturned and injured him, was taken to Big Spring for identification. The crash was several miles southeast of Lamesa near Ackerly on highway 9.

M. H. Atwood of near Abilene was driver of the car that struck Tune, he told investigators, explaining he noticed the man trying to wave him down and that Tune walked into the path of his car when Atwood made an attempt to pull off the road to the right to avoid a crash.

Rev. Berry Baker read services at the First Methodist church and burial was in a cemetery here.

Four sons, Clois, Carrol, Cecil, and Carlton Lee, and two daughters, Una Vac and Lamoine, all of Lamesa, survive.

FOURTEEN YEARS LATE

GARY, Ind. (AP)—The Rev. Michael C. Gadacz will not preach at the cornerstone laying at St. Adalbert's Catholic church, South Bend, although he has an invitation to do so. The reason: the ceremony was held 14 years ago.

The Rt. Rev. Msgn. John W. Osadnik, St. Adalbert's pastor, mailed the invitation to Father Gadacz, but it was lost in the postoffice.

Father Gadacz received the letter just the other day.

Morton Reporter Is Purchased By Publisher At Levelland

LITTLEFIELD, July 19, (Special)—W. J. Baldwin, editor and publisher of the Hockley County Herald, one of the well known South Plains newspapers, said here that he had purchased the Morton Reporter from E. F. (Hunt) Huntsucker and J. A. Price.

The Reporter is to be consolidated with the Cochran County News, owned by Joe Baldwin, son of the Hockley editor. The plant of the Reporter is to be moved to another location.

Huntsucker was formerly owner of the Amherst Argus, later sold to Price. He established the Reporter more than a year ago.

scoring Blevins. But Core lined out to Edwards in center who threw to W. Holland who threw to Evans cutting down Kelly.

Tahoka kept clouting the ball in the second for three more runs, and Brownfield retaliated with two, Anderson and M. Parker hitting.

Then came three scoreless innings as the boys bore down. Tahoka got its seventh run in the sixth after West, young brother of Sam West, went to the mound. The run was unearned. Larkin was safe on a bobble at short, Holland singled. Edwards walked, filling the bases, with one out. Thomas grounded past first, but Second Baseman L. Parker covered the bag to make the putout, Larkin scoring. Parker completed the double play then by nabbing W. Holland at the plate.

There followed two more scoreless innings, and young West struck out two and gave up one hit, while big Bill Ellis kept getting hotter, striking out five in the seventh and eighth.

Tahoka found West's weakness in the ninth to go hog-wild, however, bat around and score seven runs off four hits and four walks. Larkin and Edwards hit doubles to produce runs. Estes came in to retire the side. Brownfield rallied in the last of the 9th for 2 runs, McAteer getting a single, scoring on L. Parker's single, who scored on Hardy's single.

Lynn And Dawson Cotton Crops Open Earlier Than Usual

O'DONNELL, July 19, (Special)—Visual evidence cotton may open in Lynn and Dawson counties two or three weeks earlier than usual and that crops of the two counties are more advanced than in other South Plains counties was offered when W. E. Burke, district supervisor of the WPA district office at Lubbock, showed stalks pulled from representative areas of the two counties upon a visit here last week.

Knives and cultivators have nipped the weed menace. Much of the success of the farmers of the two counties lies in the fact rains were not so heavy as they were to the north and lesser acreage replanting was necessary.

his influence, and lined up against her.

She could tell Aunt Kate about his plot to get her timberland away from her. But that would involve telling the whole beastly experience with Scrap Johnson, and Kay had none too much confidence in her aunt's discretion, to want to trust her with that story.

Besides, she'd probably explain away Josh Hastings' part in it by saying that he'd been trying to protect her from making a foolish move.

As long as she was caught in the trap, she might as well accept it gracefully. To have Babs at home, in a rebellious mood, when there was so much to be done, would be anything but a help. And to put such tragic emphasis on a kiss snatched in the moonlight, was to magnify the importance of it out of all proportion.

Reluctantly admitting that perhaps she had been a fool to be quite so hasty and dramatic about it, Kay crunched up the note, and threw it into the waste-basket.

The sheriff brings Ted's gun to the Lazy Nine, tomorrow, for Kay to identify.
