Many Still Missing As Tornadoes' Toll Climbs

Cleanup Is Accelerated

By The Associated Press

The search for missing victims of tornadoes that ravaged sections of the Midwest Palm Sunday continued today amid accelerated cleanup operations.

The toll of known dead over the stricken six-state area stood at 248. The Red Cross estimated at least 5,000 persons were injured. Estimates of damage caused by the twisters totaled $237 million.

Indiana, worst hit of the six states, counted 141 known dead. Officials said the toll could go higher.

"It will be days and weeks before the final toll of human and physical damage is known," said Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigan after a tour of the smashed northern section of the state.

Rescue workers combed the debris in fields, homes and businesses in a hunt for more victims.

"I think we'll find more bodies," predicted Sheriff Woody L. Caton of Elkhart County, Ind. The tornadoes claimed 65 victims in the county, 45 of them within one square mile.

Similar searches, coupled with vast cleanup operations, took place in Ohio and Michigan, where the grim Sunday twisters claimed 53 and 44 deaths, respectively.

Seven persons were killed in Illinois and three in Wisconsin. A tornado seriously injured an Iowa farmer but no deaths were reported there.

The cleanup operations were hampered by power shortages, damaged communication systems, highways strewn with debris and, in many places, heavy looting.

Hospitals and families were plagued by the possibility of water shortages and health perils. Many pumping systems failed to operate.

As the search for more twister victims went on, officials in Minnesota battled to contain the Mississippi River, which threatened to overflow at record heights.

Riverfront businesses shut down, employes stayed away from work and school children from school as the flood threat grew in the St. Paul, Minn., area.

At least six persons have been killed and 20,000 made homeless by Minnesota and Wisconsin floods.

The Palm Sunday tornadoes first were sighted in Iowa and then moved to the east, increasing with intensity with every strike.

Destruction was so great in some areas that officials said it was impossible to estimate damage.

Elkhart, Ind., officials placed the tornado cost at $100 million to $150 million. Ohio estimated damage at $50 million, Michigan at $20 million, Illinois at $12 million and Wisconsin at $5 million.

The barrage of tornadoes was the worst disaster in Indiana history.

Two towns, Russiaville and Alto, were completely wiped off the map.

Some highways remained blocked 36 hours after tornadoes ripped three wide swaths through the central and northern sections of Indiana.

Snarl In Steel Talks Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration officials reportedly fear that vital steel industry labor negotiations, rapidly approaching a May 1 contract deadline, will be snarled by demands for a new election for the union's presidency.

Informed sources report strong signs that President David J. McDonald of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America will seek a new election if he loses his reelection bid to the union's secretary-treasurer, I. W. Abel.

Unofficial tallies have put Abel ahead. The official vote is still being tabulated.

The sources say McDonald's supporters have been dropping strong hints to government officials that he will seek a new election under federal labor law if the official vote count goes against him.

The union is scheduled to report the official vote count May 1, the day major steel industry contracts expire.

Under the union's constitution, the winner will take office June 1.

Labor Department representatives at the invitation of both sides, have been observing the vote count but have emphasized no action is presently in the works that could lead to a recount.

Although government spokesmen won't comment publicly, high officials watching the steelworkers election appear to agree with reports indicating Abel will emerge the winner.

If so, administration officials hope McDonald will step down quietly and clear the way for settlement of the contract talks without the confusion of an official election protest.

Another factor of the steel talks reportedly worrying the administration is the joint handling of negotiations by McDonald and Abel.

While the union has indicated some of its demands are negotiable, officials here reportedly feel that as long as the two contestants for the union's presidency jointly control the talks there will be a reluctance to pare down bargaining table demands.

Rough estimates of the cost of union demands now on the table figure out to about double the administration's suggested 3.2 per cent wage hike guidelines.

The 3.2 figure is based on estimates by the President's Council of Economic Advisers of the annual productivity increase for U.S. industry as a whole.

Concert Assn. Drive Best Since 1958

"Our largest membership since 1958."

That was the word today from the Scurry Concert Association as it finalized reports of its annual membership campaign concluded last Saturday. Some 620 persons have secured memberships in the Scurry Concert Association - a solid 50 per cent increase over the total number of members at this same time last year.

A third program was announced for the 1965-66 season. It will be the duo-piano team of Ronald and Jeffrey Mariowe. The Mariowes, identical 24-year-old twins, provide their own Steinway concert grand pianos for the program, which will be presented in October. SCA officials indicated that the Mariowe twins should continue the high calibre of duo - pianists presented here in the past.

Other programs already scheduled are the New York Sextet, a mixed vocal ensemble featuring bass - baritone, Edmund Karlsrud, and the Chicago Little Symphony, a highly rated, 20 member, orchestral ensemble. The New York Sextet will be presented next February and the Chicago Little Symphony next March. SCA officials indicated that a fourth program will be added if at all possible.

Scurry Concert Association officials extended their thanks to the many persons who worked to make the recent drive such a success. They extended particular thanks to the many individuals and business firms which purchased complimentary student memberships making it possible for deserving youngsters to attend the concerts.

Viet Cong Shoots American Captive

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — An American aid official captured by the Viet Cong last Aug. 8 was shot and killed by his Communist captors on Jan. 12 after he escaped for seven days, a U.S. spokesman announced today.

The official was Joseph W. Grainger, 39, of Sumter, S.C. His mother, Mary F. Grainger, lives in West Hartford, Conn.

Grainger, an Air Force veteran, was the U.S. economic assistance mission's representative in Phy Ye Province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

He was captured in an ambush with a Filipino assistant and the Vietnamese manager of a sugar cane experiment station.

The U.S. spokesman said independent eyewitnesses had reported his death.

"The American mission condemns in the strongest terms this brutal murder of an unarmed civilian, weakened by hunger and unable to defend himself," the spokesman said.

"This is a violation of international law and accepted humanitarian principles.

"His murder is a wanton violation of the 1949 Geneva convention on the protection of civilians."

Seven Vietnamese air force Skyraiders bombed and destroyed the Thanh Yen bridge in North Viet Nam 70 miles north of the South Vietnamese border today, a Vietnamese spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a number of U.S. Air Force planes accompanied the Vietnamese planes and attacked Communist antiaircraft positions. The number of American planes on the raid was not disclosed.

The spokesman said the antiaircraft fire was "relatively fierce" but no planes were downed.

The Viet Cong threatened a week ago to execute another American civilian captive, Gustav C. Hertz of Leesburg, Va., if a Viet Cong terrorist held for the bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon was executed. The terrorist was subsequently sentenced to die, but the sentence has not been carried out. There has been no further word of Hertz's fate.

Three Killed In Dust Storm Crash

QUEMADEO, N. M. (AP)—Three persons were killed Monday when their cars collided in a blinding dust storm on U.S. 60 about 15 miles east of the Arizona border.

Killed were Mrs. Helen Allan, 66, of Denver; Edward Holmstead, 69, of Iron River, Wis., and his wife, Elsa, 64.

Cutler Named To Succeed Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington attorney Lloyd N. Cutler is slated to succeed Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. as undersecretary of commerce, the Washington Post said today.

Roosevelt is considered a possible Democratic candidate for governor of New York next year.

Connally Vetoes Plan For Medical School

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Connally, butting heads with Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock, vetoed the Texas Tech medical school bill today.

Efforts to bring Smith and Connally together on the governor's insistence that the medical school be made subject to approval of the new College Coordinating Board broke down Monday. Smith rejected Connally's idea.

Smith accused Connally of "an unwarranted interference with the procedures of the legislature" by seeking reconsideration of the bill.

In a message read to the House, Connally said the legislation was premature because no through study was made of the problem.

"In my opinion, this is contrary to sound planning of graduate programs in the highly complex and expensive field of medical education," Connally said.

Connally recalled that he made an attempt April 8, five days before his veto, to compromise the issue with the bill's sponsors.

"I advised them that I could not conscientiously sign the bill in its present form and that I had begun preparation of this veto message," Connally said.

He told them if the legislature wanted to recall the bill and amend it "to make the creation of the medical school and its location subject to a study and a report by the coordinating board of the overall needs in this state for additional medical schools, I would not veto it."

Connally said that after considerable conferences between the sponsors and his office a "tentative agreement" was reached.

"Because of my understanding of this agreement, I withheld action until the legislature had an opportunity to consider a recall resolution," Connally said.

"Then, Monday the recall resolution was approved by the House but sidetracked to a Senate committee by Smith, followed by Smith's statement to newsmen.

"I feel that I have no justifiable alternative to the course I am taking by this message," Connally said.

Opportunity Programs Are Discussed

Various programs of the government's Office of Economic Opportunity as they could apply to a city the size of Snyder and to Scurry County were discussed here Monday night.

Bob Allen, a member of Governor John Connally's staff, met with members of the city council, the fire and police chiefs, the president of the chamber of commerce; and the superintendent of schools.

Allen explained the various phases of the programs which could be related to the local situation. Such programs include part - time work for potential school drop - outs and training programs for unemployed.

The meeting actually was for informational purposes only. No action as to participation in the program was expected to be taken at the meeting last night.

Further discussion of the programs will be held by members of the various groups which were represented at the meeting.

US, British Doubt Soviets Find New Space-Civilization

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet astronomers beat a hasty retreat today from suggestions attributed to them Monday about another civilization in outer space.

The radio astronomers from the Sternberg Institute of Astronomy in Moscow were quoted by the Soviet news agency Tass as saying mysterious signals from outer space came from intelligent beings.

Prof. Josef S. Shklovsky, head of the radio astronomy department, said that "to speak now about the artificial origin of the signals would be premature. We have to approach this question very thoroughly and very carefully."

Shklovsky made his remark at a hastily summoned news conference as astronomers throughout the world expressed doubt and amazement at the Russian speculation about life in outer space.

"Highly improbable," said Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank observatory, and added: "Certainly we at Jodrell Bank have never corroborated the discovery of any distant radio sources that are other than natural."

Fred Hoyle, professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, was also skeptical.

"I received data on this subject from America a week ago," he said, "and it doesn't seem to me that what the Russians say could possibly be true."

The statement that "a new supercivilization has been discovered" was attributed Monday by the Soviet news agency Tass to Nikolai Kardashev, a highly regarded scientist at the Sternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

Another Soviet scientist, Iosef S. Shklovsky, was more cautious.

"To say the least," he said, "an absolutely new, still unknown type of cosmic object has been detected in the galaxy." Tass said Shklovsky does not rule out the theory that it might be the "remnant of a super new star."

Western scientists would not rule out the possibility of an intelligent form of life on a distant stellar body. But they said signals would need a lot more study before they could be accepted as proof of the existence of life elsewhere.

Tass said the fluctuating signals came from CTA102, an invisible source of radio signals first heard by giant radio telescopes in 1960. Scientists call such sources "quasars" or quasistellar radio sources.

The signals vary in strength and the variations are repeated regularly every 100 days, Tass reported. It said the variations had been characterized as unlike any other known radio emissions from space.

In Ithaca, N.Y., however, Dr. Frank D. Drake, associate professor of astronomy at Cornell University, said he doubted the Russians had proved the existence of intelligent beings in outer space.

Seoul Reports Bloody Riots

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Bloody clashes erupted today as 5,000 students protesting government talks with Japan battled riot police.

Police fired tear gas to check the advance of the largest group, about 2,000 students of Korea University. Police hit the students on the head with wooden clubs. Students retaliated by throwing rocks.

Scores of students injured. A police announcement said 49 policemen were injured.

The announcement said 409 students and 15 other persons were taken into custody for questioning.

The talks to normalize Japanese-Korean relations are nearing completion.

The demonstrators today concentrated their protest on virtual abolition of the Korean fishing boundary which had barred Japanese fishermen from waters around the Korean peninsula.

Experts Expecting New Red Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Johnson administration official said today an upturn in Communist guerrilla activity in Viet Nam is expected in the weeks ahead and the United States is concerned at what he termed a very dangerous situation.

The official, who could not be identified by name, gave the report at the opening session of a two-day foreign policy conference of U.S. editors and broadcasters.

He emphasized that there have been no indications, private or public, from Communist North Vietnamese, Chinese Communists or the Soviet Union that the Communists are ready to restrain their attacks and reach a settlement of the Viet Nam conflict.

Rejection by Peking and Hanoi of the proposed visit by Patrick Gordon Walker, special emmissary of Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson, contributed to the impression here that the Communists are following a hard line.

It was pointed out that Gordon Walker was representing Britain, which was cochairman with the Soviet Union of the 1954 and 1962 Geneva conferences.

Another adverse factor was Peking's rejection of the idea that the United Nations could play any part in a Viet Nam settlement or that Secretary-General U Thant could visit the Chinese and North Vietnamese.

Top U.S. policy makers decided that while the Communist side does not want a war over Southeast Asia, they very obviously want to win Southeast Asia without a war.

President Johnson has made it clear the United States will meet its commitments and will not be driven out of Southeast Asia by military actions from North Viet Nam or Communist China, the officials point out.

A high U.S. authority said this country knows beyond doubt that North Viet Nam is exercising strategic and tactical direction of the Viet Cong guerrillas. Therefore, this source said the United States will not negotiate with the Viet Cong or with the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Communists.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our 40's and I guess we could be called an average couple. We have three children and my husband is a good, steady worker. Although he rarely gives me a compliment, and he's not the affectionate type, I've been satisfied with him. I mean I never went looking for attention from other men.

Well, for the past year I've been watching the Weather Man on our local TV station, and he has really got me dreaming about him night and day. Please don't think I'm terrible, Abby, but I can't get him off my mind. He's not especially good-looking (he's losing his hair) but there's something about his smile. Or maybe it's his voice. Anyway, I've been trying to figure out a way to meet this Weather Man in person. Would it be wrong?

SECRET LOVE

DEAR SECRET: YES! Forget it. If you meet him, I predict turbulence and heavy precipitation, followed by a light frost.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a rather difficult one and I hope you have a reasonable answer for me. I have a stepfather who dominates the TV set. If I am watching something when he comes home, he walks right up to the set and changes the program. No one in the family has anything to say about it — not even my mother. We can't afford a second TV set, so that's out. He is the most unfriendly man I've ever known. No matter how hard I try to start a conversation with him, all he ever says to me is "Yeah," or "Hi," or "Goodbye." Please answer this in your column because I don't want my mother to know I wrote to you.

DISGUSTED STEPSON

DEAR DISGUSTED: Right or wrong, your stepfather is the head of the house, so don't attempt to reason with an unreasonable man. His inconsideration is setting a bad example, but you can get a better one by tolerating the injustice with good humor, patience and understanding. (P. S. Besides, young people seldom know what problems their parents might be battling.)

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a couple inviting you and your husband to a "dinner party" that turns out to be an aluminum ware demonstration?

We dressed up as if we were going to a social gathering. I had my hair done and my husband had his blue suit cleaned and pressed. I am a nurse, so to top it off, I had to find a suitable registered nurse to replace me on the 3 to 11 shift. I was so furious when I got home that I made up my mind not to accept any more dinner invitations unless I know there is no trap.

LOST A DAY'S PAY

DEAR LOST: Your hostess should have told you when she invited you what kind of a "dinner party" she had planned. But if the companionship and the food were good, why rant about the side show? It could have been worse.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are 50. Our four children are married and gone. We have seven fine grandchildren. Abby, I thought, when a couple reached fifty, they could enjoy a sort of second honeymoon, if you know what I mean. But my wife says "NO" as she doesn't want to risk getting pregnant so late in life. Abby, do you think a woman of 50 could get pregnant?

GRANDPA

DEAR GRANDPA: The chances are considerably minimized. But this is a question for your wife's doctor.

Perfectionist Apt To Be A Worrier

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — You know the guy who always gets to work on time and does his job well — makes the rest of us look like slobs? Well, the poor fellow may be suffering from chronic anxiety.

The chronically anxious feel miserable, but they are physically, intellectually, emotionally and socially above average, Dr. Herman A. Dickel, University of Oregon Medical School psychiatry professor, said Monday.

The chronically anxious patient was described and methods of treatment were outlined by the psychiatrist at the annual convention and scientific assembly of the American Academy of General Practice.

Anxiety and fear are the same, Dickel said. When a person bottles up his emotions but forces himself to keep going while holding back, he is a typical victim of chronic anxiety. They are like persons who "drive a car by stepping hard on the gas, and then put a foot on the brake to hold it down to the speed they wish to go," he said.

Lodge Is Assigned To Tour East

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson assigned Henry Cabot Lodge today to take a six-nation swing through the Far East as his personal representative to consult friendly governments on the Vietnamese situation.

Lodge is a former ambassador to Viet Nam and former ambassador to the United Nations. Several weeks ago Johnson asked him to serve as a consultant on Viet Nam and Lodge has been kept posted on developments.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said Lodge will leave for the Far East later in the week, after seeing Johnson, and go to Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Formosa, Japan and Korea.

Reedy said the purpose is to keep the governments of these nations informed of American views and to receive their views in return.

The length of the trip is uncertain. Reedy said also he did not know who might accompany the ambassador.

Raids Fail To Slow Red Supplies

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite months-long harassment of their reinforcement routes, the Communists have been able to build up enough men and supplies to launch limited offensives in Laos, sources said today.

However, U.S. officials have detected no clear indication as to whether the Communist-backed Pathet Lao forces and their North Vietnamese allies intend to start a spring attack this year, as they have done with regularity in past years.

These officials are withholding judgment as to whether the bombing of the reinforcement routes leading from North Viet Nam have had a significant effect.

If no spring offensive develops by mid-June, the onset of the rainy season, some key officials will be prepared to believe that the air attacks have really hurt the Communists in Laos.

Attacks have been carried out since last spring by T28 propeller planes piloted by Laotians and by American fighter bombers.

Pathet Lao strategy has been to nibble away a bit each spring at territory held by the neutralists and loyal Laotian forces.

One theory in official quarters is that the Pathet Lao forces never really have tried for a decisive blow. Those who hold this theory cite as evidence the customary opening of Communist offenses late in the dry season, rather than months earlier when there would have been much more time to press the attack.

Since 1962, the officials said, the Communist moves in Laos have been designed to stop short of the point where the Reds calculated the United States might intervene on a major scale to halt them.

Johnson Puts Wreath On FDR Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's first memorial to President Franklin D. Roosevelt was dedicated Monday, and a short time later President Johnson placed a wreath of red and white carnations at the stone. Roosevelt died April 12, 1945.

"Truly today's America is his America more than it is the work of any man," Johnson said in a memorial statement.

Johnson won his first election to Congress while Roosevelt was president, and has long regarded him as his mentor.

Sorority Donates To Funds

The Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan.

Impressive candlelight ritual ceremonies were performed for incoming members by Frances Shamburger, president.

In the business meeting, following the ceremonies, the "Girl of the Year" and "Pledge of the Year" were voted on. Each girl will be announced at the Founder's Day banquet, which will be held April 29th at the Country Club.

It was voted that the club send $5 to the Latina Hopper fund. Proceeds of $175 from the Barbie Vardy Bowling Tournament were donated to the Kayla Ramage fund, in memory of Barbie. Club members are planning to work with the Cancer Drive.

Pineapple cake and Cokes were served to: Pat Allen, Patty Slatter, Barbara McClung, Pat Shaw, Jeanne Rigsby, Ann Yielding, Martha Baker, Frances Shamburger, Pat Pate and Betty Winkles. Pat Pate received the door prize.

SMOKE SIGNAL!

Energetic LBJ Completely Outshines Executive Branch

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one voice that drowns out all else in Washington is President Johnson's. His Cabinet members sound like thin echoes of him and even Congress is muted.

This is an extremely unusual year in Washington — for the absence of feuds, fights and flaps — although it may be overlooked in the bang-bang-bang way Johnson is getting things done and attracting attention.

After almost 17 months of exposure to Johnson in the White House the nation is getting used to its bouncy, highly energetic President whose performance Monday was more or less typical of his activity any day.

He flew back from Texas; opened the baseball season by throwing out not one ball but two; stopped off on his way back to the White House to lay a wreath on the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial which was dedicated Monday, and Monday night entertained one-third of the Senate again at a combination reception and idea-swap in the White House.

Tonight he is having a 5 o'clock reception for the congressional leaders who put through his aid-to-education bill Monday night; at 6 o'clock he will have a reception and idea-swap with the second third of the Senate (again); and Wednesday night he will have a reception and idea-swap with the third of the Senate (again). (again).

Johnson manages to stay in print practically every day by doing something or saying something, although the general public has no idea of what a talker the President is.

He has many, many sessions with newsmen, singly or in groups, with the understanding he won't be quoted directly or, depending on what he is saying, at all. In some of these group sessions he has talked as much as three hours.

His complete domination of the executive branch of the government, at least, can be illustrated by what two men above all others say, or rather what they don't say: Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk is the quiet, technician type who apparently expects the top man to do the talking anyway, which is quite a contrast with President Dwight D. Eisenhower's secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Rusk was a pale figure even under President John F. Kennedy but under Johnson he has become almost shadowy, saying hardly anything, and when he does talk it's mostly the obvious, or a banality, or a repetition of something Johnson has said or some line Johnson has laid down.

This is true of all the Cabinet members who, when they do have to say something, do it with a minimum of commotion and disappear off stage again.

Humphrey, twice as ebullient as Johnson when he was in the Senate and before he became vice president, has been making a lot of talks to various groups, including an international azalea festival, but is strictly a salesman for what Johnson calls the "Great Society" or for whatever else Johnson is pushing.

Only in looking back over the past three months can it be realized how great is the silence that has settled down over almost everyone in Washington except Johnson.

There's comparative quietude even in Congress which has been outdoing itself to give Johnson what he wants.

Southern Democrats have complained about his bill to assure Negroes' voting rights but even they seem less noisy, as if reconciled to the reality that they will be overrun by the rest of the Congress in filling Johnson's requests.

Big Money Confuses This Actress

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Twelve years ago Barbra Streisand was a beatnik kid who made 50 cents an hour as a baby sitter. Today her income is nearer a million dollars a year.

The onetime Flatbush gamin has become a show world empress.

The girl who once looked like a skinny Jewish gnome now has the grace and imperious profile of a Babylonian queen. Instead of a walkup flat she dwells in a Central Park duplex that has nine glittering chandeliers. Once she dressed like a 1925 mannequin in a lower East Side thrift shop. Now few socialites could match her wardrobe.

But as her 23rd birthday nears, Barbra finds herself still basically unchanged where she feels it counts most—inside.

"No one thing has made life very different for me," she said. "In a way I'm disappointed that it hasn't."

"What is suffering to one person is joy to another," she said in her theater dressing room from which hangs a 10th glittering crystal chandelier, the symbol of her stardom.

"I went through a lot of adolescent pangs that were critical to me, but I never had to scrub floors or do anything like that.

"I was so gawky no one would hire me as a model. So I worked as a cashier in a Chinese restaurant for $1 an hour and all the chow mein I could eat. I loved that.

"I also licked envelopes for a printing firm for $45.17 a week — and saved $15 of it. I always was saving. The main thing I didn't want to be was a typist. I let my fingernails grow long so I couldn't type."

In addition to her stage earnings, royalties from phonograph albums and other sources of income, Barbra has a television contract guaranteeing her $5 million over the next 10 years.

"Any amount of money over $50,000 confuses me. I feel you can live as well on $25,000 a year as on a million. You can ride in only one limousine at a time," she said.

"I allot myself only $25 a week, and I never spend it all. I like to pay in cash. It gives me a great feeling.

"When I pay by check, I feel like I'm getting it for nothing — because it's just paper."

Maturity has somewhat tamed Barbra's prankishness with which she used to call attention to herself. She remains a loner, given to introspection. Her dark blue eyes smolder with electric intensity.

"I like Chantilly lace and avocados, scarey movies and Bartok's violin concerto. Gardenias and enameled snuffboxes, gingerbread and lavender roses, Rembrandt paintings and Thomas Mann's novels. Good shoes, the feel of fur blankets, the smell of Italian cooking, studying languages and talking to doctors; steak Diane for breakfast, the color of wine but not the taste of it; Sundays, when nothing is going on and everything has stopped.

"I dislike fake fur, arriving early to an appointment, crowded streets, dirty ashtrays, newspapers lying around, candy with gooey centers, eggs, overcooked food, opportunistic people and ladies who smell like flowers instead of like ladies."

A Junior Editors Quiz About IRON CURTAIN

QUESTION: Is the Iron Curtain really made of iron?

• • •

ANSWER: We think of a thing made of iron as being solid, hard, rigid, immovable. This is what Sir Winston Churchill meant when in 1946 he spoke of an "iron curtain" descending across Europe. He did not mean that an actual wall of iron had been built, but that Communist Russia was cutting off the countries on her western border, which she had seized and over-run, from any communication or trade with the free world countries. The phrase was so apt and descriptive that soon people spoke of formerly free countries, such as Czechoslovakia, now controlled by the Communists, as countries "behind the Iron Curtain." Later, the Iron Curtain came to mean all the barriers against travel and communication Russia has set up between herself and the free world.

Another telling phrase is the "Cold War." This means the present struggle between nations, such as the U.S., who believe the state should exist for the benefit of the individual, and the opposing communist nations who downgrade the individual for the benefit of the state. It is a "cold" war because we are not fighting each other with weapons, which would make it a "hot" war.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: To the right of the Iron Curtain we show the names of six cities, these being capitals of countries controlled by Russia, often spoken of as Russian satellite countries. Locate these capitals on an atlas—finding out the names of the satellite countries as well. 4/13

AREA HAD TWO

Twisters Played A Deadly Game

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP) — The tragedy which struck a 10-mile-long corridor south of here was almost beyond human endurance. Not one — but two — tornadoes raked the area within 30 minutes.

"The first had us reeling," said Branch County Sheriff Keith Wilhelm. "The second knocked us out."

The deadly game of follow-the-leader was played by the twisters down a two-mile-wide corridor on Palm Sunday.

Two Coldwater Lake resorts were wrecked, cars were tossed from a highway as far as 200 feet and a house trailer wound-up 50 feet out in the lake.

When it was all over, the county had 20 dead, and at least 200 injured.

Even amid the death and destruction there was something to be thankful for.

The toll of dead and injured at the resorts — Pearl Beach and Crystal Beach — "probably would have been terrible two months from now," said Sheriff Wilhelm. "At this time of year most of the cottages are vacant."

Erwin Feller, a member of the Michigan State Fair Board, and his wife were in their home at Pearl Beach when the first tornado demolished their guest house.

The couple ran out to survey the damage and spotted an injured woman lying on the beach, bleeding badly. They did what they could to help.

"Then the second one came along," Feller said, "and smashed our own house."

Juel Weigh, a Branch County sheriff's deputy, was en route to check on the situation after the first twister hit. As he neared the lake, his car was snatched up by the second and demolished.

Weigh was sucked out by the wind and rolled 75 feet, suffering minor injuries.

Dazed and bewildered survivors told similar stories in other storm-ravaged sections of Michigan.

North of Grand Rapids, a raging twister plowed its way across rich fruit lands. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingersoll were in the barn doing chores when they heard "an awful roar" and the rattle of hail. They ran to a basement corner just as a small mountain of hay came tumbling down and the roof fell in.

Their home — where they had lived 26 years — was pounded into a pile of splinters.

"Our whole life's work is gone," said Mrs. Ingersoll tearfully.

On the other side of the state, at Manitou Beach, another tornado swooped down on the Lyle Ferguson farm where Ferguson, 47; his wife, Irene, 46; their daughter, Carol Martin; her husband, Larry, and their two children were spending a quiet night.

In an instant, the one-story frame house was scattered over a quarter of a mile — and all six were dead.

Falfurrias Reports Screwworm Case

MISSION, Tex. (AP)—The screwworm eradication center says it has confirmed a screwworm infestation 10 miles west of Falfurrias, the first in Texas in 10 weeks and in Brooks County since Dec. 18, 1963.

The center sent personnel to the area to take measures for preventing the spread of screwworms to other areas. Officials said current weather conditions are ideal for spread of the insects.

PASTOR AND WIFE HONORED—Members of the entertainment committee at First Baptist Church extend congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Lightfoot upon the second anniversary of the beginning of Dr. Lightfoot's ministry as pastor of the local church. From left are Mrs. Kenneth Cole, Mrs. Rex Robinson, Mrs. Nolan von Roeder, Mrs. Lightfoot and Dr. Lightfoot. The anniversary reception was held following the church service Sunday evening.

Presidential Succession Plan Due Before House Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to make certain that there will always be a president and a vice president able to carry on their duties comes before the House today.

It is the last major business before the House starts its Easter recess. Approval is expected Wednesday.

The House proposal is similar one passed in February by the Senate by a 72-0 vote. Should the measure finally clear Congress by two-thirds vote of both branches, it would have to be ratified by 38 states to become part of the Constitution.

The measure is designed to provide for such contingencies as the disability of a president, or a vacancy in the vice presidency when that officer moves into the White House.

In the event a president died and the vice president took over, the new chief executive would nominate a vice president who would take office if confirmed by a majority vote of the Senate and the House.

Should a president become disabled enough not to be able to carry out his duties, he would notify Congress. Then the vice president would act as president until the disability is removed.

However, should a president decline to declare himself incapacitated, the vice president and the majority of the Cabinet could give Congress a written opinion that they believe the president should be relieved of his duties temporarily. The vice president then would assume the powers of acting president.

A disabled president could determine when he was fit and ready to resume his official duties. If the vice president and a majority of the Cabinet disagreed with the presidential finding, Congress would have 10 days to decide the issue. At the end of that period, the president would resume his office unless a two-thirds vote of both branches decided otherwise.

The 10-day limit on congressional action is the main difference between the Senate and the House bills.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — In these days of industrial expansion, many of you no doubt wonder about international finance and how it functions.

Possibly you read in the newspaper that Mexico will sell 200,000 tons of wheat to Italy and this starts you thinking. What actually happens in such a transaction.

Will the ship load of wheat put in to an Italian port and a merchant waiting at the dock with his scale weighs the whole shipment, then counts out 75 million Lira to the ship's captain?

This would be the normal way of doing business. The ship's captain would take the money to Mexico and everyone would say happily, "Things are picking up."

Unfortunately, international finance is a bit more complicated.

First of all, everything is conducted by means of paper work. Anyone who can write figures higher than $1,000 can successfully enter the field of finance. Let's use the wheat transaction as an example.

The ship delivers Mexico's wheat to Italy and in due time, Italy sends a check by regular mail to Mexico. It is then deposited in a bank and the bank applies several rubber stamps, files the check in an old wardrobe and sends a note informing Italy of the steps taken.

Someone in an Italian Bank writes $756,281 on a piece of paper and gives it to a messenger who then sends it to France. This means that France can buy $765,821 worth of spaghetti from Italy and trade it to England for ball bearings.

All Frenchmen ride bicycles which require ball bearings or the pedaling will be mighty hard.

Under the normal procedure, England would then borrow a million dollars from the United States and someone from the Treasury Department or possibly a Senator who has nothing to do at the moment, writes $1,000,000 on a slip of paper and sends it by telephone to England.

The following day, England telegraphs West Germany saying $600.01 and officials there (not too sure what it means) airmail several small automobiles to Mexico.

Mexico immediately sends 156,000 bales of cotton to Japan which ships Mexico $87,000 worth of binoculars and everyone is back more or less where they started from.

Probably you thought the various nations used money to pay each other but trade would be impossible under such circumstances. By the last count, there was only $11.35 in currency circulating around.

In order to understand things a little more clearly, we might examine a typical statement by Nation "X" which does billions of dollars each year in this sort of business.

STATEMENT

Imports	$1,601,347,001:23
Exports	1,601,347,001.25
Gross national theory	777,777,777.77
Paper on hand	100,000,000.00 (tons)
Life expectancy	68 (years)

Add these figures and think of a number between 10 and 2,500, then divide by three. Add the result to your bank account and if the answer is more than 20, you are qualified for a cabinet post in any government.

Fort Worth Gets TFX Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has awarded its first production contract for the TFX fighter plane.

The $1.5-billion contract is for 431 planes and went to General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., the same firm which developed the craft.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara chose the Texas company in 1962 over the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash., thus triggering a major controversy. Boeing was the lower bidder.

The first production contract is to provide 407 Air Force models, called the F111A, and 24 Navy planes, the F111B. The difference stems primarily from provisions allowing the F111B to operate from a carrier.

Ultimately, it is expected that $7 billion will be spent for 1,500 F111As and 200 F111Bs.

The plane is conceived as the standard fighter for the 1970s. It would travel at speeds of up to 1,650 miles per hour, have a ceiling above 60,000 feet and be able to cross oceans without refueling.

Crop Duster Crashes; Debris Hurts Woman

BEAUMONT (AP)— Mrs. Josephine Williams, 29, was injured by flying debris as an airplane crashed while she fished in an irrigation canal near her home Monday.

She was reported in good condition Monday night at a Beaumont hospital.

Pilot Jim George escaped injury in the crash near China, 6 miles west of here. He works for a Nome, Tex., farm service.

George said the plane's engine conked out as he was crop dusting. It hit the ground between Mrs. Williams' home and a church, narrowly missing both.

Nicklaus Now Top Winner

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' record-setting victory in the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga., Sunday sent him zooming to the top of the Professional Golfers' Association money list.

Nicklaus has won $34,400 in official money on PGA sanctioned tournaments and $8,425 in unofficial money for a total $42,825. Only official money counts toward the PGA standings.

Doug Sanders was second with $30,707 in official money, $3,257 in unofficial earnings, for a total of $33,964.

Billy Casper was third with $21,948 and $20,106 for a total of $42,054.

What's the catch? There isn't any.

Plunk $1691 into a salesman's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it.

Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

Texas Probation May Be Lifted

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference, meeting at College Station May 6-7-8, can remove the probation against one of its schools—Texas.

The way was paved for this action Monday when the NCAA at Kansas City reaffirmed the conference's rulings that Southern Methodist be placed on two-year probation and Texas and Arkansas each get a year for recruiting violations.

The NCAA was paralleling action at Lubbock, May 9, 1964, when Southern Methodist was handed its probation with sanctions (cannot participate in bowl games) and Texas was placed on "indefinite" probation that will be removed in one year if the recruiting practices complained of have been corrected.

Southern Methodist's probation can be lifted in May, 1966.

The NCAA also affirmed the indefinite probation given Arkansas Dec. 12, 1964, at Dallas and left the way open for it to be lifted in December if Arkansas also has corrected its practices.

Neither Texas nor Arkansas was prohibited from playing in bowl games.

Texas already had corrected its practices, Coach Darrell Royal said at the Lubbock meeting.

"The probation means we are supposed to be certain that it doesn't happen again," said Arkansas president Dr. David W. Mullins. "We have already done that. We don't intend to have anything like that happen again."

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, said "the conference is pleased that the NCAA upheld its action."

The NCAA commended the Southwest Conference for its actions and complete investigation of recruiting violations in each case.

The NCAA also ruled on two other Texas cases. It terminated a two-year probation against Hardin-Simmons and a one-year probation against Prairie View A&M.

Koufax Plans To Take His Regular Turn

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) —Sandy Koufax, the mystery man of the Los Angeles Dodgers, expects to take his regular pitching turn Sunday in Philadelphia.

After a three-inning test run at Washington Sunday in which Sandy struck out five batters, there was no recurrence of the swollen elbow that sent him home from spring training.

The troublesome left elbow, which had puffed up to grapefruit size after his last outing in Florida, was packed in ice for 20 minutes after his trial in Washington. Earlier in Los Angeles he had been given a cortisone injection.

"I am going to try a new system," said the personable Dodger lefty who could be the greatest pitcher in modern-day baseball.

"I am going to leave out throwing between games, once I get back in regular turn. I may have to do a little throwing Friday because it will be so long between starts.

"All I know is that I have traumatic arthritis. I'll have to play it by ear as I go along. The arm felt fine in Florida but the day after I pitched the last time down there I couldn't straighten out my arm.

Long Odds For Bullets, 76ers Bad

By The Associated Press

The short odds are great, the long odds murderous for Philadelphia and Baltimore in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The 76ers entertain the Boston Celtics and the Bullets host the Los Angeles Lakers tonight in the sixth games of best-of-7 semifinal series. If form holds up, there will be a seventh game in each set — and the 76ers and Bullets will be in big trouble.

The Celtics, bidding for a ninth consecutive Eastern Division playoff title, hold a 3-2 edge over the 76ers. The Lakers have the same margin over the Bullets in the Western Division finals.

Tigers Host Cubs Today

The Snyder Tigers were to host the Brownfield Cubs in a District 3-AAA baseball game at 4 p.m. today on the Towle Park diamond.

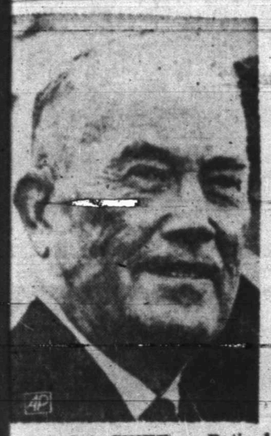

The Cubs, who won the district championship last year, were winless in two league starts going into today's game. However, bolstered by strong pitching from Amalio Garcia, who made the all-state team last year, and a hitting attack that was potent in non - district games, the Cubs still are considered contenders for the title this year.

The Tigers are leading the District 3-AAA race with two victories in as many starts, a pair of 7-2 decisions over Sweetwater and Lamesa, respectively.

The Snyder team will go to Levelland Saturday to complete their first round of the triple round robin district slate.

Peace Envoy Unwelcome In North Viet

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Britain's special peace envoy, Patrick Gordon Walker, said today that Communist China and North Viet Nam have refused to allow him to visit their capitals. He expressed hope they would reconsider.

Gordon Walker, a former foreign secretary, told newsmen on the eve of his Southeast Asia mission he had received "discouraging replies" from Peking and Hanoi to a formal British request for facilities to visit Communist China and North Viet Nam.

"Nonetheless I am leaving time in my itinerary for visits to both these capitals and I hope to visit them either now or later," Gordon Walker said.

"I do not believe that this can be their last word and that they will continue to refuse even to discuss the possibilities of peace."

Gordon Walker was named to survey the situation in Southeast Asia as a special representative of Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart. He leaves Wednesday for Malaysia. From there he will visit Thailand, South Viet Nam, Laos, Burma and Japan.

Peking Radio, in announcing Monday that Gordon Walker was not welcome, said:

"As a co-chairman of the 1954 Geneva conference, the British government — far from taking a just stand by condemning and trying to stop this naked aggression on the part of the United States — has been supporting each step taken by the United States in expanding its war of aggression."

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson prepared to leave tonight for the United States to talk money and the Viet Nam situation.

Wilson will take up the Vietnamese question with U.N. Secretary-General U thant, possibly to see whether the world body could usefully intervene where partisan national governments have failed.

Highest on his agenda in New York is his talk at a banquet Wednesday night arranged by the Economic Club of New York. Wilson will tell the 1,500 bankers, industrialists and economists attending that the shaky pound sterling now is over the hump and that an era of modernization and expansion lies ahead of Britain.

The prime minister will lunch with President Johnson Thursday, and Viet Nam will dominate the conversation.

Autopsy Ordered In Executive's Death

HOUSTON (AP)—An autopsy has been ordered in the shooting death of Humble Oil & Refining Co. executive Joe Delayen.

Police reported his wife found Delayen, a section head of Humble's crude oil department, dead in his garage Monday.

He dressed for work, Mrs. Delayen said later, and told her he was going to return his guns from the garage—where he cleaned them Sunday—to the den.

Police said Delayen was killed by one blast into the left chest from a double-barreled shotgun.

The case was still under investigation. Officers said there appeared to be no reason Delayen would want to end his life and the shooting apparently was accidental.

CANYON GUN CLUB
SNYDER, TEXAS

Twenty - Three contestants were present for Big Bore Shoot held Sunday at the Canyon Gun Club's Range. A number of out-of-town contestants were present for the shoot.

First place in the shoot went to Pat Gilstrap with a score of 100 with 9x's, shooting a 257 Roberts.

The second place trophy went to Mickey Sterling, shooting a 30-06, with a close score of 100 with 8X's.

The third place trophy went to a Big Spring contestant Horris Reagan. He was shooting a 30-06 with a score of 100 with 7X's.

The "crying towel" award went to Dr. Harry Ward with a score of 69 with 4X's. He could not find his target with the last three shots.

The next Canyon Gun Club match will be held on May 2. The scheduled shoot will be a pistol match, off - hand, any caliber, with 10 shots at 25 yards.

Kathy Whitworth, second leading money winner on the Ladies' PGA tour in 1962 and 1963, finished third in 1964 with official earnings of $20,434.50.

'Circus' Acts Spice Opening Tilts In AL

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

At least Charlie Finley advertised HIS circus.

New York and Minnesota kept theirs a secret until just before game time.

A multitude of errors and wild pitches following a flood-forced helicopter ride heavily punctuated Minnesota's 11-inning 5-4 opening-game victory over the Yankees Mnday.

Finley's follies, flavoring Detroit's 6-2 triumph over Kansas City at night, included Charles O's trot around the bases on Charlie O. plus a menagerie of pigeons, pheasants and a chick.

In the only other American League game, Boston whipped Washington 7-2 in the presidential opener. Rain washed out Cleveland at Los Angeles while Chicago and Baltimore were idle.

The highlight of the circus preceding the Kansas City game started when Charlie O. the mule plodded into the spotlight.

Finley, the A's uninhibited owner, climbed aboard the team's new mascot and began a tour of the base paths. As they reached second base and home plate, Charlie Sr. waved his white cowboy hat to the assembled audience.

When Charlies O. ended their duet, Miss U.S.A. took over in the center ring. Shapely Bobbi Johnson threw out the first ball, then played batgirl for the first two innings.

The game finally started but wasn't more than a half-inning old when plate umpire Bill McKinley stepped on a button which raises the automatic ball dispenser behind home plate. Out flew four pigeons and two pheasants.

Several innings later, in the seventh and eighth to be exact, two-run homers by Jerry Lumpe and rookie John Sullivan flew out of the park and Charlie O's debut was a failure.

The Twins-Yankees game was only slightly less comical. Even before the contest started, Minnesota officials decided today's game would be postponed because of travel difficulties resulting from flood conditions.

These conditions forced the airlifting of four Twins, including starting pitcher Jim Kaat, from the suburb of Burnsville, where they live, to the park. A helicopter picked them up in a school yard and dropped them in a parking lot.

Both teams might have been better off if the flood had inundated Metropolitan Stadium. The Yankees made five errors and the Twins committed three while New York pitchers contributed three wild pitches.

The most dramatic, miscues came in the ninth and 11th innings. With two out in the Yankee ninth and the Twins leading 4-3, rookie third baseman Cesar Tovar dropped Joe Pepitone's easy pop-up, and pinch runner Arturo Lopez raced home from second with the tying run.

Tovar and Lopez exchanged places in the Twins' 11th. Lopez, also a rookie, opened the inning by misjudging, then dropping Bob Allison's fly ball for a three-base error. Two intentional walks and two outs later, Tavor rapped a single to center for the game-winning run.

Boston smashed six homers against the Senators, Lennie Green leading the attack with two. Tony Conigliaro, Felix Mantilla and Lee Thomas each contributed one while Don Lock and Ken McMullen connected for the Senators.

In the National League, Pittsburgh blanked San Francisco 1-0 in 10 innings, Philadelphia shut out Houston 2-0, Milwaukee beat Cincinnati 4-2, Los Angeles downed New York 6-1 and St. Louis and Chicago battled to a 10-10 tie in an 11-inning game halted by darkness.

Colt-Pony Session Set

All persons interested in the local Colt and Pony League baseball programs have been urged to attend a meeting tonight at the Snyder Savings and Loan community room.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m.

Officers to serve during the 1965 season will be elected, and team managers and coaches probably will be appointed, said Bill Starnes, coordinator of the Colt - Pony program here last season.

Those interested in working with teams or sponsoring teams in the leagues are especially urged to sit in on the session tonight.

Hermleigh Wins Crown In 70-B

Hermleigh placed first in seven events to capture the District 70-B track and field title Monday afternoon in Tiger Stadium.

The Cardinals amassed 152 points in the meet to edge out Hobbs, which finished with 134 points.

Individual star of the meet was Ira's Larry Holladay who scored 41 points, or nearly half of his team's total of 87. Holladay placed first in the broad jump with a leap of 19-2¼, ran as anchor man on the winning mile relay team and was second in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Three new district records were set in the meet. Hodges of Hobbs ran the 440 yard dash in 53.9 to lower the 54.0 standard he had set last year; Taylor of Hermleigh ran the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.2 to eclipse his own mark of 15.6 set last year, and then lowered his own standard in the 180 yard low hurdles from 21.3 to 20.8.

Qualifying for competition in the regional meet April 24 were the following:

SHOT PUT — 1. Kubala, Hermleigh, 44-3 2. Finley, Loraine.

HIGH JUMP — 1. Holladay, Ira 5-6; 2. (two-way tie) Martinez, Hobbs, and Taylor, Hermleigh.

POLE VAULT — 1. Lay, Hobbs, 9-6; 2. (two-way tie) Hull, Hobbs, and Crawford, Ira.

DISCUS — 1. Smith, Hermleigh, 132-0; 2. Garcia, Hobbs.

BROAD JUMP — 1. Holladay, Ira 19-2¼; 2. McMahon, Westbrook.

440-YD RELAY — 1. Hermleigh (Sturdivant, Kubala, Taylor and Smith), 45.7; 2. Hobbs.

MILE RELAY — 1. Ira (Sorrells, Poe, Wiggins and Holladay), 3:47.1; 2. Hobbs.

100-YD DASH — 1. Smith, Hermleigh, 10.6; 2. McMahon, Westbrook.

220-YD DASH — 1. McMahon, Westbrook, 23.6; 2. Smith, Hermleigh.

440-YD DASH — 1. Hodges, Hobbs, 53.9 (New record, betters old mark of 54.0, Hodges, Hobbs, 1964); 2. Alvarez, Loraine.

880-YD RUN — 1. Rodriguez, Hermleigh, 2:12.6; 2. Netteton, Hobbs.

MILE RUN — 1. Stansell, Fluvanna, 5:18.9; 2. Casterend, Westbrook.

120-YD HIGH HURDLES — 1. Taylor, Hermleigh, 15.2 (New record, betters old mark of 15.6, Taylor, Hermleigh, 1964); 2. Holladay, Ira.

180-YD LOW HURDLES — 1. Taylor, Hermleigh, 20.8 (New record, betters old mark of 21.3, Taylor, Hermleigh, 1964); 2. Holladay, Ira.

TEAM TOTALS — 1. Hermleigh 152; 2. Hobbs 134; 3. Ira 87; 4. Loraine 53; 5. Westbrook 52; 6. Fluvanna 18.

Study To Include Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says it will include Texas and Oklahoma in a study of grain marketing and transportation problems in the Midwest.

Rep. Richard White, D-Tex., had asked why the two states, both large producers of wheat and grain sorghum, were omitted from the study originally.

He said Monday the department informed him there was no particular reason for leaving out Texas and Oklahoma.

Under a contract with the department, the University of Oklahoma and the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M will gather and analyze data to determine what action if any can be taken to improve the handling of grains in the area.

The work is expected to be done in May and June.

100 Sign Here For Sales Clinic

Approximately 100 persons representing over 30 local business firms have signed up so far for the clinic on customer relations and sales scheduled here later this month.

The clinic will be held on April 26-27-29 at the Lamar Junior High School.

It will be conducted by Frank A. (Pat) Patterson, who has conducted such clinics throughout the nation. Many of his more recent schools have been conducted in the Texas Panhandle, South Plains and West Texas areas.

Those interested in signing up for the clinic have been asked to contact the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the clinic here.

Patterson has been selling since 1926 and is recognized as an expert at it. He has been teaching salesmanship and customer relations since 1938, having trained some of the top-flight business leaders of the nation.

Among the firms here who already have signed up for various numbers of personnel to take the course are Beacon Motor Lodge, Bell - Seale Funeral Home, Bill's Auto Salvage, Bud's Office Supply, Charles and Sue's School of Beauty, D&D Auto Supply, Ezell - Key Grain Co., Forrest Builders Supply, Glover's Dress Shop, Bennett's Office Supply, Higginbotham - Bartlett Co., J. C. Penney Co., Key Bros. Implement Co., KSNY Radio, Les Francis Chevrolet, McAlister Transfer and Storage, Merle Norman Cosmetics.

Also, Montgomery Ward, O'Rear Furniture Co., Pat Buick - Pontiac, Sis's Friendly Flower Shoppe, Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning, Snyder Laundry and Dry Cleaners, Snyder National Bank, Snyder Truck and Tractor, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Thompson's Shoe Store, West Texas State Bank, White's Auto Store, Whitfield's, Williams Jewelry and Wilson Motors.

Big Spring Escapee Would Stay In Texas

BIG SPRING (AP)—A court-appointed lawyer for escapee Jack Eubank says he will ask the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to keep his client from being returned to New Mexico.

Dist. Judge Ralph Caton overruled Monday 10 objections by the lawyer to an executive warrant from New Mexico seeking the extradition of Eubank, who walked away from a prison farm after serving five years of a life sentence for murder.

Eubank was arrested here March 6.

Planting Is Still Slow

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers continue to lag behind last year's schedule in planting cotton, sorghum and corn, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

Most spring commercial vegetable crops showed good growth in the Rio Grande Valley and onion harvest around Laredo made a good start.

East Texas watermelon planting is active, and tomatoes are being transplanted to fields. Onions and cantaloups around Presidio are looking good.

Cotton planting is 16 per cent complete compared with 22 per cent last year. Sorghum planting is 30 per cent complete, 1 per cent behind last year, and corn planting is 73 per cent, 11 per cent behind last year.

In the High Plains, irrigating wheat and pre-plant irrigation and fertilization for cotton and sorghum progressed in warm, open weather.

Texas Crude Output Dropped Last Week

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—U.S. production of crude oil and lease condensate increased 25,400 barrels last week to a daily average of 7,782,300 barrels, the Oil & Gas Journal said today.

For the week ended April 10, Texas production was down 7,800 barrels daily to an average of 2,663,000. Oklahoma's output was 593,300 barrels a day, up 41,400, and Louisiana's 1,619,100 barrels, up 2,900.

Production was unchanged in New Mexico at 335,000.

Inspection Here May 12-13 Will Pinpoint Fire Hazards

Finding and marking major fire hazards before they burst into flame will be the purpose of a Texas Town Inspection to be held in Snyder, May. 12 and 13. Representatives of the West Texas and Oil Basin Divisions, who are members of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association, and who are specially trained in fire prevention, will conduct the inspection to include Snyder's mercantile and public buildings, schools, and churches.

The groups have been invited by the city and are conducting the inspection under the sponsorship of the Snyder Fire Department.

Red and white "Fix - me" tags will be attached marking the danger spots and suggestions for correcting them left with the property owners and tenants. City fire officials will make a follow - up inspection at a later date to determine how the corrections are followed.

"Town Inspections are not a new idea," explained Dean Enabnit and J. H. Schuchard, Presidents of the Inspecting groups. "The plan was begun around 1900 elsewhere in the country and the first Texas Inspection was conducted in Gatesville in 1948."

The Texas Town Inspection program was introduced in Texas at an Insurance Fieldmen's meeting 17 years ago by a group of men dedicated to the proposition of reducing the toll of death and destruction due to fire each year in the Lone Star State.

The plan was accepted unanimously by the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association whose members took special training courses in fire hazard inspection, the causes of fire, and how to prevent it. They then make themselves available to Texas communities to perform this service without charge or obligation.

The Division Presidents outlined the purpose of the Inspection as three - fold: (1) for property owners and tenants, it creates recognition of fire hazards otherwise overlooked; (2) for local fire officials, it provides a guide for pinpointing danger areas in a community, and (3) for the inspectors, it affords the opportunity to take part in a community service.

Over 130 inspections of this type have now been conducted in the state of Texas since the program was begun, and it has received the acclaim of former Texas Governors, civic leaders, and fire prevention officials for the job that is done.

Cotton Growers Hire Executive

SWEETWATER — Terry Julian has been named executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. He is the first executive officer to serve the 30-county, 21,000 - member cotton producer organization formed Oct. 26, 1964, at Knox City for boll weevil control and other problems of a common nature.

TERRY JULIAN

Julian joined Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. after almost two years of service as office manager for Rolling Plains Compress. Directors said that he has become well - acquainted with farmers, ginners, and agricultural leaders throughout the rolling plains area by his contact with producers and their problems.

He is a native of South Plains, a cotton farming community near Floydada, and has been associated with cotton farming and processing virtually all of his life. He attended Hardin - Simmons University where he played basketball and was in the Cowboy Band. He worked at a South Plains gin to help earn college expense money, and attended West Texas State University at Canyon where he was on the baseball team, was a varsity cheer leader, and was one of five named in the senior class popularity contest. From West Texas he was graduated a "distinguished military graduate," outstanding senior student and received his B.S. degree. After graduation in 1957 he received officer training at Armor School in Fort Knox, Ky., and was sent to Germany as a member of the 7th U. S. Calvary.

Held For Assault On Blind Wife

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—Richard Morris, 26, was held in lieu of $10,000 bond today on charges of assault with intent to murder his blind wife.

Police said the Modesto, Calif., man himself is partly blind and walks with crutches.

A Weatherford couple out for a Sunday drive found Mrs. Morris, 24, an expectant mother, lying in a five-foot hole beside a road. She apparently had lain there since Friday night.

She was taken to a Fort Worth hospital with fractures of both arms, a broken jaw, a head cut and bruises.

Deputy Sheriff Chester Causbie said Mrs. Morris gave this account:

The couple, their five-month-old child and a seeing eye dog had visited relatives in Wichita Falls and were en route to Mexico for a vacation.

They stopped south of Weatherford Friday night to sleep in their car. She awakened to find herself alone and lying in a ditch. She had no idea what happened.

Police found Morris and the child in Fort Worth late Sunday.

They quoted him as saying his wife was injured accidentally, he thought she was dead and he left her in the ditch because he was frightened.

Group Names New Chief

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Fellow members chose one Texan to succeed another Monday as president of the Southern Gas Association.

The new president is Clyde McGraw of Houston.

Joe Darrow of Dallas, as retiring president, urged at the group's 57th annual convention that the gas industry try to check a growing trend toward municipal ownership of gas distribution systems.

There now are 750 city owned gas systems compared to only 200 in 1950, Darrow said.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., told the association there is no justification for reducing the oil depletion tax allowance and he will continue to oppose any such move.

Ford's Mustang Has Proved Its Ability As Pace Setter

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — It was just a year ago this week that Ford's Mustang galloped onto the automotive scene.

In the intervening 12 months, it proved to be the pacesetter in the strongest sales year in automotive history.

A small sign on the office desk of Ford Division's general manager, Donald S. Frey, capsuled the story this week. It read "417 by 4-17."

Translated, that meant the company's goal was the sale of 417 thousand Mustangs by the car's first birthday, April 17. Since sales passed the 400 thousand mark last Thursday, the record is in the bag.

Mustang's history since the car's introduction last spring has proved to be one of the biggest success stories in automotive history.

It is doubtful if any car ever had more advance fanfare than the Mustang did. It was sold to the public as a sports car for the masses.

Ford figures show that more than four million persons visited Ford dealer showrooms during introduction week and backed up their interest with 22,000 orders.

Since its introduction, Mustang has been the strong man of the Ford sales line.

Fortune smiled on two of Mustang's principal supporters from those early days when it was just another dream car to be built some day in the future. They are Lee A. Iacocca and Frey.

Iacocca, who was Ford vice president and general manager of the Ford Division when the Mustang got the go sign, has since been moved up to vice president car and truck group at Ford. That gave him direct responsibility for Ford and Lincoln-Mercury divisons and Ford of Canada. He is the fourth-ranking member of the Ford high command.

Frey, who had been assistant general manager of the division and also was elected a vice president.

Frey has breathed much easier since early returns fgom the auto buying box office showed Mustang much in demand. He recalled the many conferences held from 1961 on when decisions were being made about what the car should be like.

"We had no particular wheelbase in mind when we started out and in fact were not even sure whether we wanted it to be a two-seater or a four-seater. But a lot of people as well as Lee and myself had the good fortune to make some decisions which the buying public backed up," he said.

Looking back to 1961, Frey said, "The Corvair Monza was in the market place but good then and it was telling us something — that Ford needed a sports car of the Mustang type."

Iacocca and Frey settled on the four-seat, 108-inch wheelbase Mustang.

Frey said he underestimated Mustang's sales potential in its first year. He had figured it would sell about 250 thousand and he was overjoyed with the 400 thousand figure.

As for Mustang's future, he said it will be pretty much more of the same. No drastic styling changes are in the immediate future and no station wagon will be added to the line which now has a hardtop and a convertible.

INTENTIONAL CRASH?—This was the scene early April 10 after a twin-engine private plane skidded across a parking lot and slammed three cars into the wall of the Branding Irón Bar in Pittman, Nev., five miles from Las Vegas. The pilot, John Covarrubias, 38, was killed but only one customer in the crowded bar was seriously injured. Sheriff's deputies said Covarrubias quarreled with his ex-wife, Nellie, owner of the bar, and threatened to crash his plane into the building. (AP Wirephoto)

Portugal's Arms Aid Mozambique

By LYNN HEINZERLING

(AP) — Portugal is turning Mozambique's northern region into a virtual fortress to thwart the proclaimed plan of African nationalists to impose black rule on Mozambique, Rhodesia, Angola and South Africa.

Mozambique officials say Algeria, Red China and Russia are helping the Organization of African Unity stockpile weapons and ammunition in Tanzania for the drive.

Two ships arrive monthly at Tanzania ports with arms and ammunition from Algeria and China, they say. The OAU has committed itself to the fight and Tanzania has furnished training areas for rebel troops.

"We don't think they ever will be able to launch an army against us," a high Portuguese official said. "If they do, we are ready for them."

Military information is hard to obtain in Nampula, northern army headquarters. Estimates of the number of Portuguese soldiers in Mozambique vary between 30,000 and 70,000.

Nampula, once described by Moscow radio as "running with blood," is quiet, relaxed and unworried.

Since Jan. 1 there have been more than 150 "incidents" on Mozambique soil, the Portuguese say.

An "incident" is an ambush of troops, the burning of an African village, the kidnaping of tribesmen, blowing up of installations or any act of terrorism.

The Mozambique Liberation Front of Dr. Eduardo Mondlane, Mozambique intellectual and former United Nations official, announced last October a "general armed insurrection in Mozambique."

Not much happened immediately but since December the tempo has quickened. Rebel bands, armed with machine guns, hand grenades and explosives, slip across the Ruvuma River on the Tanzania border. They are mostly Makonde tribesmen who either followed Dr. Mondlane into exile or live in Tanzania. The tribe, described by the Portuguese as "primitive and warlike," straddles the border.

They shoot up villages, kill or kidnap tribesmen who refuse to join them and are particularly active against unrebellious chiefs, the Portuguese say. Two whites, a Roman Catholic priest and a bus conductor, have been killed.

Forewarned by Holden Roberto's unsuccessful "liberation" campaign in Angola, Portugal was prepared for the move on Mozambique.

Along with infiltrations come propaganda broadcasts from Dar Es Salaam, Cairo and Peking. Joao Granjo Pires, governor of the Mozambique district where the Makonde live, says the Dar Es Salaam radio tells them that everyone in Tanzania has either an automobile or an airplane and nobody has to work.

"Our people regard it as a Makonde (tribal) war," he said.

But Lisbon and Lourenco Marques, the Mozambique capital, do not regard it as a Makonde war. They feel they are against a movement aimed at the richest, most developed part of Africa. If it is not Communist-inspired, it certainly has the support of Peking and Moscow.

A disturbing element recently has been the increase of incursions from Malawi, a poor, pint-sized country whose southern tip stabs into the very center of Mozambique.

One informed Portuguese official said Henry Chipembere, arch foe of Prime Minister Hastings Banda of Malawi, has joined forces with the rebels. Dr. Banda has charged that Chipembere and other former ministers tried to make a deal with the Communist Chinese in Dar Es Salaam in return for diplomatic recognition. Banda stopped that.

If trained guerrilla forces from Tanzania could gain easy access to Mozambique from Malawi their potential for creating trouble would greatly increase.

Portuguese officials are positive about the great influence of the Russians and Chinese in Tanzania.

"The Russians and Chinese are putting these people at war," one said. "While we can't say it is a real war yet, it gives us great concern.

"If all Africa goes crazy free, we will have great trouble here. We have to have a bastion here because we don't know what the future will be."

Hollywood Busy With New 'Harlow'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Harlow" No. 1 — or is it No. 2? — has been shooting on the sound stages. If you were quick about dropping in, you could see a new kind of show business.

This is the electronovision version, and it seems to be a combination of live television, theater in the round and the roller derby.

Electronovision uses four or more cameras simultaneously, their input being cut by the director as the scene progresses, the same as a television director selects his angles on the spot.

"We'll shoot 'Harlow' in six days and at the end we'll have a completely edited movie," said an electronovision aide.

What's more, they expect to book the film into 600 Western theaters May 12, a month ahead of the Joseph E. Levine "Harlow," play it for two weeks and switch to 700 theaters in the East.

Such enterprise deserves a look-in, so I dropped by Desilu Cahuenga studios to watch the progress of filming.

TV veteran Alex Segal was directing a scene in which Harlow (Carol Lynley) storms into the office of Paul Bern (Hurd Hatfield) and meets her future hero (Efrem Zimbalist Jr.). The latter is one of the few figures to bear a fictitious name; his obvious prototype, William Powell doesn't happen to be dead.

After a few rehearsals, Segal disappeared from the scene and his disembodied voice continued directing from an offstage control center. The cameras use video tape which is later converted to film. Between one of the lengthy shootings, I caught a word with Miss Lynley.

Easter-Time Bad Weather Slows Many Areas' Sales

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bad weather has put a crimp in Easter buying in many areas but merchants generally are optimistic that their cash registers will ring up record sales.

The late Easter — it comes three weeks later than in 1964 — was a favorable factor.

"It's always better for business when Easter is late," said a Denver merchant. "A woman is less apt to be in the mood to buy a flowery spring hat when it's snowing."

"We would have fallen on our faces if Easter had been early this year," said an executive of Filene's, which has 10 department stores in the Boston area. "People are like crocuses. They don't come out until the sun gets warmer."

Only a few retailers contacted in a nationwide Associated Press survey said that the heavier income tax payments which many people faced due to underwithholding had affected sales.

"Business has been — in one word — lousy," said an executive of a big Philadelphia store. "Unfavorable weather. The late Easter. Then there is this IRS (tax) thing, which must be fouling up the affairs of millions of people, and certainly not helping the economy."

In New York, David Yunich, president of Macy's, big department store chain, said, "We have noted an upsurge that indicates a big pickup this month and I expect Macy's New York to turn in about a 3 to 4 per cent increase for March and April" over the like period of 1964.

Bernard Zients, executive head of Gimbel's, another major New York department store chain, said he expects a "wonderful" Easter business and indicated the present trend shows "all the earmarks" of a gain over last year.

Rich's, Inc., Atlanta, Ga., department store, expects a 6 per cent gain over last year, according to its president, Harold Brockey.

"What Easter buying?" remarked a Minneapolis merchant when asked if much finery was moving. "Weather the last two months has killed everything but miserable weather during February and March."

Edward Marcus, vice president of Nieman-Marcus department store in Dallas, Tex. said: "We haven't seen that the income tax underwithholding has made any difference yet, but it might as the days get close to Easter. Styles and colors are about the same with the exception that they're a bit younger this year."

An executive of a leading Seattle, Wash., department store reported sales running between 10 and 15 per cent ahead of last year.

An executive of a leading Seattle, Wash., department store reported sales running between 10 and 15 per cent ahead of last year.

Sales in Los Angeles stores appeared to be better than last year for the most part.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. reported sales for its entire system in March were up 8.8 per cent over a year earlier despite the later Easter.

Asked on April 6 about Easter sales, a spokesman for Goldblatt Brothers department stores in Chicago, said, "They just let the Easter bunny out of its cage today." He was referring to the first warm, sunny weather of the year.

Clouds Loom On Business Horizon

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The brighter the April business sky the more trouble spots stand out against it. Some may be comfortably distant but others are moving in as fast and unpredictably as a thunder storm.

The steel labor stalemate is one. With it is labor unrest in other industries. Union battles make wage negotiations the more uncertain and increase strike threats.

The weather is a great upsetter of plans and hopes. In some areas, storms floods or cold are hampering the Easter retail trade and industrial production schedules, shipments and prospects.

The slump in home building in many places and the cooling of the booming growth of some communities take some of the shine off the general prosperity in the nation.

Viet-Nam and the East German autobahn seem far away, but trying to tell what flareups in these spots may lead to is a preoccupation of business, political and defense planners.

French President Charles de Gaulle's distaste for the U.S. dollar's ranking with gold as a monetary reserve and for U.S. private investment in European industies has lost its shock effect but still can be troublesome.

Close ties between American and British economies and currencies mean that U.S. financial and business circles must still watch the pound sterling's health and the British balance of trade's deficit to see if recent austerity measures will work. And if they don't the United States must take steps to keep the American dollar from being involved too much.

Most U.S. corporations are reporting increased profits for the first quarter of 1965, one of the more convincing proofs of business health. But some executives believe the rate of increase may have hit its peak, perhaps leveled off. They say effects of increased productivity and of tax cuts have been realized, with future stimulants unsighted or hazy. They also warn of rising costs ahead.

Much of this talk is based on belief that labor is more demanding now, seeking both higher wage scales and increased, fringe benefits, especially in the fields of job security and pensions.

In the sighting of other clouds, observers split into two camps.

Some see the economy in danger of overheating. They cite stockpiling by companies fearing that strikes will cut off supplies or raise profits. They also worry that the continuous upgrading of plans for business spending for new plants and equipment may lead to excess productive capacity such as plagued many industries after the expansion spree of the middle 1950s. They fret about rising public and private debts and the possibility of another wage-price spiral.

One group sees a letdown coming and argue that the present rush to build up stocks as a strike hedge means a drop in orders when the labor settlements are reached. They also say that the very age of the present business upswing, now in its 50th month, means that sooner or later there must be a slowdown. Their argument: There always has been.

The other camp says the concept of inevitable recessions is as obsolete now as some of the machines that companies are eager to replace. For this new breed of economists the April skies are bright and the clouds too distant or passing to bother about.

House Gets Plan For Waco School

AUSTIN (AP) — The House State Affairs Committee has moved to the House floor Gov. John Connally's propsal for a model vocational - technical school at Waco.

The committee held a hearing Monday night and reported it favorably after a brief study by a subcommittee.

Rep. Jack Woods of Waco, Texas A&M President Earl Rudder and Harry Provence of the Waco Chamber of Commerce testified for the bill. It would create the school at Connally Air Force Base under the direction of A&M. The base will be deactivated in June, 1966.

The committee also approved another Connally proposal, Rep. Bill Satterwhite's bill to create a state office to coordinate state and federal relations; and Rep. Jim Nugent's bill to require state officials and legislators holding a substantial interest in any business under authority of any state regulatory agency to file a statement disclosing this intergst.

Trinidad To Vote On Legalized Sales

ATHENS, Tex. (AP)— Residents of Trinidad, 20 miles southwest of here in East Texas, will vote May 4 on a proposal to authorize sales of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption. County commissioners set the date Monday on petition of a group of Trinidad residents.
