ELLIOTT CLAIMS IT WAS ACCIDENT

Faye Emerson Roosevelt Uses Razor And Slashes Own Wrist

(By The Associated Press)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 28 — Faye Emerson Roosevelt, beautiful actress wife of Elliott Roosevelt, slashed her left wrist with a razor early Sunday in the couple's Hyde Park home, sheriff C. Fred Close said last night.

The sheriff quoted Dr. H. Sherman Hirst, who treated the 31-year-old Mrs. Roosevelt, as saying he understood the wound was self-inflicted and that she had to be restrained from injuring herself further.

But Roosevelt, reached by telephone, said the injury resulted from an accident.

"There is nothing to it," he added.

The cut was described as superficial. It required no stitches.

After treating the blonde actress, Dr. Hirst sent her to Vassar Brothers hospital here where she spent the night under observation. She was released at noon yesterday.

When informed of Roosevelt's statement that the wound was inflicted accidentally, the sheriff said:

"I can't help what Elliott says. This is what Dr. Hirst told Deputy Sheriff (Hugh) Brennan.

"It is my impression that the

Air Force Rescues 12 Stranded Men

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Twelve men who have been stranded on a frigid Greenland icecap up to three weeks were rescued today, the Air Force announced.

They were picked up by a C-47 operating from an air base which is 270 miles northwest of the crash scene, the announcement said.

The rescue came as the U.S.S. Saipan drove northward through the storm-swept Atlantic in an effort to reach the men with helicopters. The Navy carrier sailed from Norfolk, Va., on Christmas day.

First Count in Error

The Air Force said it had been in error in previous announcements that 13 men were stranded on the ice peak.

It had assumed, it said, that two men were aboard a glider which made the last previous rescue attempt, when in reality only one man was aboard. Seven men were stranded Dec. 9 when their plane was forced down. Five others joined them from time to time in unsuccessful rescue operations.

The rescuing C-47, which had jet-assist takeoff equipment and skis, landed on the crusted snow at 8:30 a. m. (CST), loaded the men aboard, and took off at 9:08 a. m. (CST).

Previous rescue operations have been conducted from Bluie West One, an Air Force base about 110 miles from the stranded men, but the Air Force said that base is closing in because of heavy snow.

The rescue plane is expected to refuel at Bluie West Eight, its base and take the men to Labrador.

Air Force officials said, however, that if the men are in good condition, they may remain at Bluie West Eight until they can be returned to Bluie West One.

All of them were stationed there, and five of them have their families at that base.

The rescue plane was piloted by Lt. Col. Emil G. Beaudry, a native of Manchester, N. H., now stationed at Westover (Mass.) Air Force base.

West Sets Up Ruhr Control

LONDON, Dec. 28 (AP) — The western powers set up today a strict international control system to bar Germany's industrial Ruhr valley from war production.

The Ruhr was ordered to produce solely for peace.

Their decision was announced in a formal communique as the climax of a six-week conference here attended by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Russia Not Admitted

It contained no admission of Russia as a partner in the international control board to be known as the "Ruhr Authority."

The agreement offered Germany a place on the board as soon as it develops a legal government. The Germans will have three votes — the same as the United States, Britain and France

New Rumors Of Diplomatic Moves Raised

President Attacks Soviet Opposition To Understanding

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 28.—President Truman declined to elaborate today on his disclosure that "certain leaders" behind the Russian iron curtain are anxious to end the "cold war."

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman does not intend to name the men within the Soviet government advocating an "understanding" with the United States.

The President's surprise revelation in a luncheon speech yesterday and his new indictment of the Russian government for blocking peace effort spawned widespread speculation as to whether it heralded new moves on the diplomatic front.

Soviet Policies Indicted

Ross said the President told him he had nothing to add to his off-the-cuff luncheon address before approximately 200 Missourians gathered to honor Eddie Jacobson, former partner of Mr. Truman in a haberdashery store.

The press secretary turned a deaf ear to all inquiries as to whether there was an information indicating a "revolt" within the top ranks of the Russian leadership.

Without a prepared manuscript and in the absence of an official White House stenographer, Mr. Truman fired a straight-from-the-hip indictment of the Soviet government for:

1. Refusing to keep the agreement Premier Stalin made at Yalta and Potsdam.

2. Using a "system of morals that are not morals."

3. Opposing agreements which might pave the way for preserving the peace in troubled spots everywhere.

Leaders Not Named

4. Making it clear that "contracts are not sacred" in its dealings with the United States and the Western powers.

He followed up his most severe castigation yet of controlling powers at Moscow with this statement:

"There are certain leaders in the government of that great country who are exceedingly anxious to have an understanding with us."

Under pressure from newsmen as to what "leaders" the President had in mind, Ross held a consultation with Mr. Truman, and reported afterwards:

"He doesn't intend to name

Three Die In Tulia Mishap

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 28 (AP) — Three men were crushed to death in Tulia yesterday afternoon by a shifting load of railway ties.

They were Ruben R. Martinez, 20, Santanta, Kans.; his brother, P. G. Martinez, about 35, and Tony Garcia, of Las Vegas, N. M.

The railroad workers were standing on the floor of a freight gondola between the end of the car and a pile of ties. When the gondola bumped into another car as it was being switched, the ties crushed the men against the end of the car.

Burglary Suspects Will Be Questioned

ANADARKO, Okla., Dec. 28. (U.P.)—Sheriff Ty Yount left today for Tyler, Texas, to question two men suspected of burglarizing 10 stores in Apache and Cement, Okla., on Dec. 21.

Young said before leaving that Tyler officers had found the suspects in possession of merchandise taken in the burglaries. Accompanying the sheriff were Undersheriff Curtis Williams and one unidentified Apache merchant who lost heavily to the robbers.

Nine Apache business houses and a drug store in Cement lost merchandise and cash totaling $5,000 to the burglars.

Future Shortage Of Texas Teachers Seen

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP)—A minimum of 51,772 new teachers must be secured for Texas schools in the next 10 years, the first vice-president of the Texas State Teachers association said today.

"There is already a tremendous shortage of teachers and the profession is not proving sufficiently attractive to induce enough people to enter it," Miss Waurine Walker of Waco said in a statement released from TSTA headquarters here.

Slayer Of Husband Is Given 20 Years

Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo Is Found Guilty In Germany; Defendant Stands Impassive

(By The Associated Press)

MARBURG, Germany, Dec. 28—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, 23-year-old Malden, Mass., mother, was found guilty today of homicide with malice aforethought for shooting her husband. She was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The verdict was returned by a three-man American military government court which spent eight days in taking testimony and spent another week in considering its verdict.

The attractive Mrs. Ybarbo, mother of a six-year-old son, Jimmy, admitted to the court that she shot her husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo, Goliad, Tex., three times with a tiny Hungarian pistol but pleaded that she acted in self defense.

She said her husband often beat her. On the night of last Sept. 20 when he was shot, she said he had beat her again and had threatened to kill her.

Ybarbo was shot three times. One of the bullets struck his kidney and he died 11 days later.

Mrs. Ybarbo was charged under both military government law, which provides the death penalty for killing a member of the armed forces, and German law.

The German charge originally was first degree murder but later was reduced to homicide. The military government charge also was reduced and the court found her guilty on two charges of homicide with malice aforethought.

Mrs. Ybarbo stood rigid and impassive as Presiding Judge Dewitt White, of Morgantown, W. Va., an-

HEARING IS SCHEDULED TODAY

"Phantom" Petition Creates Stir Here

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Several inquiries continued today into a phantom petition in which some of the members of the fire department reportedly asked the removal of Argo Peek as city personnel director.

While the inquiries progressed, members of the city Civil Service commission planned a special meeting this afternoon to hear the appeal of Woodrow Quinn and J. W. Pruitt from their discharge from the fire department by Chief W. E. Twitty.

Attended Houston Meet

The discharges, ordered by the city commission, resulted from information that Quinn and Pruitt had attended a firemen's meeting in Houston recently after a leave of absence for that purpose had been twice refused by the commission.

Undisguised resentment developed among some firemen who accused Peek of having "tattled" to the city commission about Quinn and Pruitt, costing them their jobs.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers said the information to the commission in the matter came from another source, identity of which he would not disclose.

Inquiries Are Made

"But if Peek had known about such defiances of specific orders of the city commission and had failed to report them, I would be in favor of firing him," the mayor added.

The mayor, other members of the city commission and City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., were included among those who were making independent inquiries into the rumored circulation of the petition demanding the ouster of Peek.

The information thus gathered probably will be coordinated when the city commission meets. The next regular meeting is not scheduled until Jan. 13, but a called session is probable before then.

Authority Is Limited

Members of the Civil Service commission pointedly were keeping out of this phase of the investigation. Harry Morris, chairman of the group, said its authority is limited to hearing and acting upon appeals of firemen and policemen

Bridegroom Nervous In Wire Ceremony

Sergeant Weds Italian Girl By Phone From Texas Church

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 28 — M/Sgt. John Kent, 30, was married to his Italian sweetheart early today in an overseas telephone ceremony performed by a Fort Worth Minister and lasting only six minutes.

Even though his bride was thousands of miles away, the sergeant was as nervous as any bridegroom. He arrived first on the scene at the Sylvan Heights Baptist church at 6:40 a.m.

Next was a reporter, followed by the Rev. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the church, and H. E. Shurley. The latter represented his wife, who as a Red Cross worker has been helping arrange the ceremony from this end.

For the sergeant, who arrived here shortly before midnight last night from Barksdale air field, near Shreveport, La., it was the end of nine nervous days of waiting, delays and snafus.

The overseas call went through the United Press office in Milan at 7:35 a.m. (CST). Waiting on the other

Assassin Fails In Attempt To Take Own Life

Nokrashy Pasha Is Victim; Six Shots Fired By Slayer

(By The United Press)

CAIRO, Dec. 28—Egyptian Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha was assassinated today by a college student identified by police as a member of the outlawed Nationalist organization, the Moslem Brotherhood.

The assassination was believed in retaliation for Nokrashy's action in suppressing student political demonstrations, which often verged on terroristic activities, and for outlawing the Moslem Brotherhood early this month.

Officers Were Arrested

The brotherhood was declared an illegal organization and its officers arrested on grounds that it had been active in fomenting student terrorism. The brotherhood claimed 1,000,000 members, but was believed to be much smaller.

Nokrashy's assassin, firing point-blank, killed the premier with five out of six revolver shots. The shooting occurred near an elevator in the ministry of interior building at 2:57 a.m. EST.

Police identified the assassin as Abdel-Meguid Ahmed Hassan, a veterinary college student who was disguised in the uniform of a first lieutenant of the Egyptian police.

Loitered In Building

First reports said the assassin, a tall, fair young man, was seen loitering in the building before Nokrashy arrived with his aide de camp in an automobile. Nokrashy, 60 years old, was minister of interior and minister of finance in addition to holding the post of premier.

Ministry guards wished to question the young man because of his loitering, but they were prevented by another policeman named Abd Rabbu.

"Leave him alone, don't you see he is a police officer?" the second policeman was quoted as saying.

Saluted And Fired

The assassin saluted and immediately whipped a revolver from his pocket. He fired six shots. Five bullets struck the premier.

Police said the assassin then tried to commit suicide but was arrested before he could take his own life.

Nokrashy, often described as Egypt's "strong man," assumed office as premier on Dec. 10, 1946. One of his predecessors, Premier Ahmed Maher Pasha, was assassinated in 1945.

Nokrashy was born in Alexandria in 1888. He was premier once before and assumed the post a second time two years ago.

Light Rains Fall In Central Texas Area

(By The Associated Press)

Drizzle and light rains fell in a broad belt in the center of the state this morning from the Red river to below San Antonio, the weather bureau reported.

All of the state was cloudy early this morning, but a very mild cold front, pushing down from west to east, was causing clouds to break up behind it.

Rainfall reported to the weather bureau for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. all was less than a tenth of an inch, although some rain fell after that time. Points reporting rain included Austin, San Antonio, Waco, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Abilene, Texarkana, Clarendon and Wichita Falls.

Total Of About $21 Billion In Sight In 1949

Conflict's Spread Could Make Price To Nation Higher

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 — The cost of the cold war is heading upward by about $3,000,000,000 next year to a total of around $21,000,000,000.

The total is the minimum sum President Truman is expected to recommend to Congress next month for financing American foreign policy.

It includes predictable expenditures for this country's "security insurance" — its own Army, Navy and Air Force — plus all kinds of foreign aid.

Could Go Higher

For the American taxpayer, the demands on his pocketbook would be far less were it not for the conflict with Russia. On the other hand, if the cold war — already hot in China and Greece—suddenly bursts into flame elsewhere, even these figures would go up astronomically.

According to the most reliable estimates now available from official sources, foreign policy financing will make up approximately half of Mr. Truman's $42-to-$43 billion budget for the year beginning next July 1.

Comparable costs in the present fiscal year will amount to around $18,250,000,000 barring any sudden change in the world situation.

Figures Approximate

All these figures are approximate since the China aid program is still a question mark, and the cost of military aid to western Europe can only be guessed now. The figures are based, however, on such facts as these:

The United States military establishment (land, sea and air) is costing about $11,750,000,000 this fiscal year.

It will cost in actual cash outlays about $13,500,000,000 next year.

The United States is spending about $1,200,000,000 for relief and some other help to the civilian populations in Germany, Japan and some other help to the civilian populations in Germany, Japan and other Army-occupied areas this year.

Next year the cost will drop slightly, but about $100,000,000, as recovery progresses and the Economic Cooperation administration —the Marshall plan agency—absorbs more of the burden.

Taken altogether, the American military program amounts to ap-

Sen. McKellar Hits Publisher

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. (AP)—An altercation between 79-year-old Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) and Silliman Evans, publisher of the Nashville Tennesean, in a corridor of the Mayflower hotel here came to light today.

SEN. M'KELLAR

McKellar said he struck Evans in the face during a chance meeting in the hotel. He said the incident occurred on a Sunday night about two weeks ago.

Evans said, "I simply folded my hands behind my back and did not return the blow as I had no desire to strike the senator in view of his age." (McKellar is 79, Evans is 54.)

That was all Evans would say about the incident. McKellar told a reporter:

Senator Tells Story

"I had left my room on the 6th floor of the Mayflower hotel and was walking down the corridor . . . when I saw three men approaching. I didn't know the men and paid little attention to them.

"As I reached the elevator one of the men rushed up, grasped my right hand as if to shake it and with his left hand touched my shoulder."

"'Senator McKellar, Senator McKellar,' he yelled in a loud voice, 'although we don't like each other there's no reason why we shouldn't shake hands when we meet.'

He Was Startled

"I was startled, not knowing the man, and I asked him, 'Who are you, what is your name?' He yelled, 'Don't you know me, don't you know me?'"

"I asked him again what his name was. Finally he said, 'I'm Silliman Evans.'

"I said: 'Are you the skunk who has been writing those stories about me being old and decrepit, with one foot in the grave, and being in the hospital. Are you the man who has been writing those lies?'

"He said, 'Senator, there's a difference of opinion about whether they are lies.' And with that I hit him in the face with my right fist.

"He fell back and his companions took him away. He didn't strike back. But he didn't appear

Plane Carrying 28 Is Missing

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28 (U.P.)—A chartered passenger plane carrying a crew of three and 25 passengers is missing and presumed down at sea somewhere between San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Miami, the Coast Guard reported today.

The plane, a DC-3 operated by the Airborne Transport company of New York City, took off from San Juan at 10:03 p. m. yesterday for Miami, where it was due at 4:03 a. m. today.

Signal Picked Up

A garbled distress signal was picked up by the Civil Aeronautics authority radio station at New Orleans, La., at about 4:15 a. m., indicating a position somewhere south of Miami.

Coast Guard officers said nearly 20 Coast Guard, Navy and air sea rescue planes from fields in Florida and Cuba were searching a wide area of the Atlantic and Caribbean.

The distress signal was not a "positive contact," the Coast Guard reported, but the search was concentrated in an area about 50 miles south of Miami.

Store Robbed After Futile Try At Bank

PRIDDY, Dec. 28. (U.P.)—An attempt was made last night to rob the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Priddy, but failing in that the burglars took $12 to $15 from a store cash register and some $50 in merchandise.

The bank is housed in the rear of the Carl Jeske general store. The burglars gained entrance by removing a window pane.

They knocked the knob off the door of the bank vault with an axe from the store, but that's as far as they got. They then proceeded to rifle the cash register and pick up cigarettes, men's work pants (size 34 and 36) and some shoes.

Sarah Nicodemus Is Mr. Scale's Bride

Before the altar at St. Paul's Episcopal church, which was decorated with flowers and candelabra, Miss Sarah Nicodemus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Nicodemus, 2805 Twenty-seventh, and Rolland Terry Scales of 2014 Avenue. V, exchanged wedding vows at 11 o'clock this morning. The bridegroom is a son of S. H. Scales of Lubbock and Spur.

Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of the church, officiated at a single ring service.

Mrs. Wayne L. Kelly, organist played an organ prelude of Clair de Lune (Debussy), Calm As The Night (Bohm) and To a Wild Rose (MacDowell), She accompanied Miss Marion Canterbury who sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a navy wool shantung suit with navy hat and shoes. Her other accessories were white and she carried white camellias arranged on a prayer book.

Mrs. Silber Is Attendant

Mrs. John Silber of San Antonio, matron of honor, wore a dusty rose wool suit and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Jack H. Edwards was best man and Mr. Silber and Mr. Kelly were ushers.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pickle, 2115 Main. The bride placed her bouquet on the table which was covered with an imported linen cloth and was centered with a three-tiered cake.

Miss Jeannette Farmer of Fort Worth, aunt of the bride, presided at the silver service and assisting the bridal party in hospitalities were Mrs. Pickle, Mrs. Nicodemus, Mr. and Mrs. Silber, Mr. Scales and Mr. Edwards.

Miss Wilda Ruth Hanna of Slaton registered guests.

After Jan. 3, the couple will be at home in Nashville, Tenn. For travel the bride wore a brown wool suit with brown accessories. She is a B. A. graduate from Trinity university, San Antonio, and a M. A. degree from Texas Technological college. Mr. Scales is a B. A. graduate from Tech college and is now attending Vanderbilt Law school in Nashville. He served with the Marines in World War II.

Anniversary Is Monday

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Formby of McAdoo observed their Golden Wedding anniversary Monday.

An open house program had been planned for the couple but Mr. Formby was stricken with a heart attack last Wednesday and is ill in St. Mary's hospital, but his condition was reported slightly improved Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Formby were married in Como, Hopkins county, Dec. 27, 1898, near his birthplace. Mrs. Formby, the former Miss Rosa Mae Freeman, was born in Ellis county.

The Formbys moved to the plains because Mr. Formby wanted to get away from a wooded country and move to a place where he could "set out his own shade trees." They moved to Dickens county in the fall of 1916, bought raw land from the Matador ranch and moved to their present home in January, 1917, on the east plains.

Recalls Former Days

Though laying no claim to the title of "old timer" in West Texas, Mr. Formby recalls that in the 32 years on the plains he has seen the country change from one of extensive ranches to a farming area.

He hauled lumber for his home over ungraded roads from Roaring Springs, 18 miles away, and passed only two houses in making those trips. His first cotton also was hauled to Roaring Springs.

Both are active members of the Baptist Church at McAdoo, Mr. Formby being a deacon and Mrs. Formby a Sunday school teacher.

Their three children and their families will be present for the celebration. These are Mr. and Mrs. John Formby of McAdoo and their son Clint, a senior at Texas Tech, where he is president of the student body; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Formby, jr., of Hereford; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan and daughters, Frankie Sue, Carol Ann and Mary Jane, all of Vernon.

Dinner Held For Couple

A rehearsal dinner for Miss Sue Boulter, and Lynn B. McCarty and their wedding party was given Monday night at the Hilton hotel Chimayo room by Mrs. G. J. McCarty, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The wedding will be performed tonight at 8 o'clock at St. John's Methodist church.

The dinner table at which places were laid for 29 guests was decorated in a green and white motif, chosen colors of the bride-elect. A white floral arrangement with white candles on either side centered the table.

Mr. McCarty presented his attendants cuff links.

Miss Boulter entertained her attendants with a luncheon today at 1 o'clock in her home at 2604 Twenty-second and presented them gold perfume dispensers.

On the luncheon list were Mrs. E. H. Boulter, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. J. Robert Duncan and Mrs. David Weaver, sisters of Miss Boulter; and Mrs. C. M. Trout, jr., Mrs. John McLarty, and Misses Xen Harris, Martha Enochs and Lam McKay.

Baptist WMS Reports Given At Meeting; Mrs. Mead Speaks

Quarterly reports were given by Mesdames Claude Key, A. C. Bowden, J. Ralph Grant and S. A. Hamilton, standing chairmen of First Baptist Women's Missionary society, at a Monday afternoon business session held at the church chapel. Miss Marie Jackson, young peoples secretary, made a report, also. Mrs. A. E. Cook presided.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Bowden with Mrs. Dalton Blevins at the piano. Forty persons attended.

Miss Louie Paulger told a Christmas story as a closing devotion.

GUEST SPEAKS FOR SOCIETY

Mrs. Bill Mead, a Monday afternoon guest of Calvary Baptist WMS, spoke on "Our Responsibilities to Young People and Children."

Mrs. J. W. Williams and Mrs. B. H. Diggs led prayers and Mrs. G. L. Schantz presided for business.

Seven persons attended and 10 Sunbeams met during the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Pharris Visiting Daughter

Mrs. Charles Pharris of Ogden, Utah is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Bob Blanton of near Lubbock. She will visit other relatives and friends here; go to Amarillo to see a sister, Mrs. Winnie Lowe, and to O'Donnell to visit Mrs. Bill W. Davis, her sister-in-law and a former Lubbockite, before returning home after Jan. 1. She flew here and will return by air.

The trip to Texas was occasioned by the fatal illness of Mrs. Pharris' father, Harry Davis, 87, who died in Weatherford Christmas day. Mrs. Pharris' son, Marshall Pharris of Ogden, also is a guest in the Blanton home.

Married Man Wants His Friends To Accept Secretary Into Social Companionship

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Perhaps we are making a mountain out of a molehill; but we would, however, appreciate your viewpoint.

For some months now my husband and I have been associating socially with a friend of long standing and one of the stenographers in his office. Our friend is married and has three children; and his wife, too has been a close friend of ours for many years. At present she is living in another city with the children.

It is becoming increasingly noticeable that Jud (I'll call him) is very much in love with his stenographer and it seems to be mutual. He rarely mentions his wife, although frequently he discusses the children with us. When we ask him a few pointed questions, he turns them off nicely without giving much information.

GIRL'S CHARMING, GRACIOUS, LOVELY

JUD HAS never told us that he and his wife are separated, but we feel that the hint has been implied. Our religion does not sanction divorce, as Jud knows, and we are torn by loyalty to his wife; and yet we have only the best of thoughts for the girl with whom he is going. Both women are charming, gracious and lovely.

Our problem is simply this: Should we, in loyalty to his wife and children, refuse to accept social engagements that include the girl, and also discontinue inviting her to our home with Jud? The latter probably would mean that he would decline our hospitality, and we would hate to lose his friendship. Signed E.P.

COUPLE DELICATELY DODGE THE ISSUE

DEAR E.P.: If Jud isn't divorced and you have no statement from him or his wife that they are decisively separated by mutual agreement to live apart, your religious scruples against divorce can't be levied against him at this writing. So, aren't you hemming and hawing instead of naming your embarrassment specifically?

As I see the picture, you are dealing with a situation in which a married man, an old friend of yours, is sponsoring a girl employe as a social companion; and the problem, as it affects you, seems to be that he expects you to sponsor (or accept) her too, by including her in hospitality offered him and by accepting his invitations that include her also.

It is your feeling, and indeed I daresay the tacit understanding all around, that in effect or implicitly he is asking you, an eminently respectable couple, to lend a respectable aura to the irregular camaraderie;—irregular, that is, from the conventional viewpoint and the legal as well, which would construe the companionship as a major breach of propriety, and a figurative (if no worse) form of infidelity to the wife.

MAN'S BEHAVIOR IS SELF SERVING

SO THE CRUX question is, can you muster any good logical reason to oblige him to that extent? It occurs to me that he may be influential in your husband's scheme of things and shrewdly trading on his prestige to involve you as character-witnesses in the event scandal brews.

In my opinion, the gist of his behavior doesn't establish a very sympathetic case for him. The fact that he hasn't seen fit to appraise you, his old friends, of the status quo between himself and wife, and that he neatly evades leading questions, suggests that he is simply drifting, as regards the girl, and probably giving her no forthright "reading" of his mind and martial situation either.

For advise, clear your head of sentimental tosh about loyalty to Jud versus loyalty to his wife, and then decide whether you can, with good conscience, stay "on the record" as lending comfort and encouragement to his anomalous romance. M.H.

Vows Read At Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Roman of Bryan announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alice Sue Roman, to Clifford B. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunter, sr., 1924 Fifteenth, which took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Hunter residence. Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, read the service.

The marriage altar was decorated with white gladioli, chrysanthemums, carnations and poinsettias.

Brother Is Escort

Given in marriage by her brother, W. P. Roman, jr., of Bryan, the bride wore a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

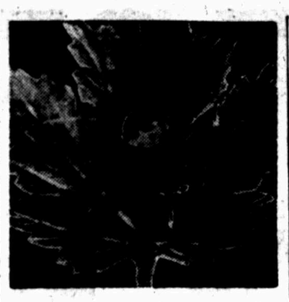

Miss Sue Mitchell of Bryan served as her cousin's maid of honor, and W. M. Hunter, jr., was his brother's best man.

At a reception that followed, Mrs. W. M. Hunter, jr., served cake and coffee to family members and to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Delisle, Mrs. Elda Mae Paulger and Miss Louie Paulger.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Texas and Mr. Hunter is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college. He fought in the CBI theater during the late war. He is employed at the Veteran's administration office here.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2623 Twenty-sixth.

Lubbock Club Hears Talk On Optimism

A brief talk on "Optimism" by Charles Greer featured the program at today's weekly Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Some 40 members present voted to re-activate the "buddy" plan of attendance formerly used by the club, in order to boost attendance during 1949.

Charles Cobb disclosed that an anonymous donor had contributed $50 to the club's fund, in appreciation of the work of the Optimists in promoting Boys club activities in the Arnett-Benson addition.

One guest, Charles Moeser, was introduced.

G. C. Stewart, vice president, presided, with invocation by Dr. A. W. Young.

Paul Allingham And Miss Fain Engaged

AMARILLO, Dec. 28 (AP)—The engagement of Miss Winney Fain and Paul Allingham was announced here yesterday.

Miss Fain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fain of Canyon, Tex., is director of the national advertising department of the Globe-News.

Allingham is general-manager of the Globe-News and vice president of the Panhandle Press association.

Liens Hear Musical Numbers At Lunch

Two numbers by Miss Frances Watson, Lubbock girl now studying music in Hollywood, and a report on club activities during the last six months, highlighted the luncheon of the Lions club today at the Hilton hotel.

Miss Watson, daughter of Charles Watson, a Lions club member, sang Maybe You'll Be There and Sunny Side of the Street, with Lawrence Ivy at the piano.

H. Groves Denman, club secretary, gave a brief outline of club activities the last six months, and believes that the next six months of the fiscal year under club President Wayne Henly will show an even better record of achievement.

Others who spoke briefly included Raymond Burford, who outlined the procedure by which new members are accepted into the club, and awarded keys to four Lions for bringing in new members; and K. L. Riggs, who presented briefly a proposition by which the city could buy 18 acres of land near the north side of the Tech campus for use in erection of an auditorium-coliseum for which bonds were voted several years ago. Cost of the land would be $200,000, Riggs said the proposal showed.

Buster Moxley was introduced as a new member. Henly announced that Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech college, is to speak at next Tuesday's luncheon. Invocation was by Elmer Tarbox.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Telford of 211 Ave. F have returned from Ardmore and Paul's Valley, Okla., after spending the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives there.

College Set To Be Guests

Four young college women, Misses Marion Benson, Betty Jim York, Patricia Hogan and Joan Prouty, are to be hostesses with a semi-formal holiday dance at the Lubbock Country club tonight, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Decorations for the holiday season will be used and Burl Hubbard's orchestra will play.

Out-of-town guests among the 200 who have been invited will be Jean Rowan, Bert Honea and Patricia Murphee, all of Fort Worth; Abe Pounds, Bert Scott and June Lewis, all of Tyler; Ann McGuire and Jim Billingsley of Lamesa; Jack Fred Reese, New York City; Bette Huff and Barbara Jones, Wichita Falls, and Bob Miller of Oklahoma City.

Miss Mary Hayworth left today for her home in Dallas after a visit here as the guest of her sister Mrs. Tom L. Biggs, and family.

MOVEMENT IS CLAIMED SECRET

Some U. S. Forces Have Left Korea

(By The Associated Press)

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 28—Some American occupation forces have left Korea. But there was no announcement today of how extensive the move might be.

The U. S. military command declined to talk about it. President Syngman Rhee of Korea said he had not been informed but that he was sure it was no threat to Korean security.

It has been apparent for some time that some troop elements and a headquarters section were being prepared for shipment. Associated Press dispatches from Tokyo today reported the arrival in Japan of some units of the seventh division, which has been part of the U. S. occupation force in Korea.

One American official, who declined to be quoted by name, said the matter was classified as secret by Washington authorities.

President Rhee, who has asked U. S. occupation forces to stay in South Korea until the young republic has sufficient military strength to prevent possible invasion from Soviet-occupied North Korea, commented:

"The Korean government is confident that the reported departure of some American Army elements from Korea is not in conflict with the best interests of both Korea and the United States.

"The Korean government would not be surprised to find that the 24th corps, which directed the military occupation here until the establishment of the republic, is being replaced soon by some other type of military establishment.

Adequate Strength Wanted

"We have not requested that any specific number of American troops remain, but only that America keep enough of her armed strength here until this young republic is certain of its ability to cope with the existing danger."

Russian occupation forces are withdrawing from North Korea. Moscow has said they would all be out by New Year's day.

Eight Hurt In Mishaps Here

Eight persons suffered injuries in four traffic mishaps here Monday and today.

Hospital reports indicated none of the injuries was serious.

Two of the accidents happened on the newly-constructed traffic circle south of Lubbock on the Tahoka highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Barham of Tahoka route 5 were taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital today after their 1948 Plymouth sedan overturned as it approached the circle at about 4 a. m. today.

Barham had suffered a heart attack, highway patrolmen reported, and Mrs. Barham was driving him to Lubbock for treatment. As she approached the circle, she steered to the left side of a mid-road safety island, the car hit a soft shoulder on the highway and overturned once.

Taken To Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Barham were taken by Plains ambulance to the hospital, where neither was thought to be seriously hurt.

James H. Wilson, 18, his mother, Mrs. Edith Wilson, 45, and an aunt, Mrs. Zelma Jones, all of Midland, were reated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for injuries suffered when their 1946 Dodge failed to negotiate the curve on the traffic circle south of town and jumped a culvert into the center of the circle.

Mrs. Wilson, the most seriously hurt, suffered several cuts on the forehead and one across the nose. The other two were treated for minor cuts and bruises about the face and body.

Mrs. Kathleen Gregory, 30, of Dallas, and 10-year-old Anna Fendrich of Sundown were treated for injuries suffered in a two-car collision at Texas avenue and Nineteenth street early Monday evening.

Sutures Required

At West Texas hospital where she was taken by Plains ambulance, Mrs. Gregory required sutures to close a cut on the forehead and was treated for a slight injury above the lip and contusions of the ribs. The Fendrich child suffered bruises of the neck and cheek as well as an injury to the mouth, Lubbock Memorial hospital attendants said.

The car driven by A. G. Fendrich, was making a left turn off Texas onto Nineteenth from the wrong traffic lane, police reports showed, and was struck by another car driven by F. W. Gregory, 40, who was going south on Texas. Fendrich was charged with negligent collision and Gregory with having an expired operator's license.

A 1949 Ford driven by Thomas E. Cox, 17, of route 7, was in collision with a 1946 Nash driven by Mrs. Thora P. Pierce, 40, of Paris, at the intersection of Tenth and Ave. Q about 9 p. m. Monday.

Injured was Vivian Stricklin, 19, of Lubbock, who suffered cuts and bruises of a minor nature and two severe bumps on the head.

Mrs. Pierce was given a ticket charging she ran a red light just prior to the accident police said.

Crooner Frankie Laine Eyes Picture Deals; Parks To Act First Air Show With Jolson

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28—Song-shouting Frankie Laine, latest idol of the bobbysoxers, looks set for a movie splurge.

Laine, whose rags-to-riches career would make a film story in itself, makes his screen debut in "Make Be-lieve Ballroom." Now he's being dickered by MGM for "Duchess of Idaho" and by Paramount for "The Broadway Story." He's no romantic figure, but he could score in films as a singing character.

Robinson Plays Banker

Meanwhile, Laine's career continues to zoom. His theater price has risen to $6,500 a week and he has been doing one-night stands with an orchestra for a take of $3,000 or so.

Edward G. Robinson, who used to rob banks in films, plays an Italian banker in "East Side Story." He's anxious to do a picture abroad and has submitted a story with an Italian locale to 20th-Fox. Eddie has grown a mustache for his current role. Surveying his pan, he comments, "anything would be an improvement."

Larry Parks will make his first air appearance—with his alter ego, Al Jolson, Jan. 6. Larry was originally set for Eddie Cantor's show, but Jolie put his foot down.

Want to get confused? Then figure this one out. Jolson and Parks were sitting in a projection room watching "Jolson Sings Again" scenes. On the screen was Jolson, played by Parks, meeting Larry Parks, also played by Parks. Wow!

Paris Notes Laughton's Dress

Year-end news notes . . . James Mason continues to add to the cat population of Beverly Hills. A feline gift from Judy Garland makes it eight . . . Las Vegas is making a strong bid for Hollywood greenery over the holidays. Hildegarde, the Ritz brothers, Carmen Miranda and Ina Ray Hutton are entertaining at the Casinos.

Esther Williams is planning a string of gasoline stations. She's letting her first one pay for the next . . . Charles Laughton, Hollywood's sloppiest dresser, has been featured in a Paris fashion magazine. His usual costume around Paris is a black homburg hat, untucked green sports shirt, blue suit and red tie. Hope it doesn't start a fad over there.

Cyclists Increased

Barry Fitzgerald got a bicycle from Paramount, joining such cyclists as Hope and Crosby. Irishman Barry is puzzled by the color—fireman red . . . Melvyn and Helen Gahagan Douglas are having a belated election celebration. Their three kids are home from school to help them.

Gloria DeHaven gets a change of pace in her career. After the musical "And Baby Makes Three," she does a straight role in "Scene Of The Crime" . . . Darryl Hickman joins radioman Norman Corwin in "The Glass House," destined for the Broadway stage.

Capsule review: "That Wonderful Urge" (TCF), like most of the current comedies, is not so funny as it might be. It has an amusing premise—an heiress (Gene Tierney) who fakes a marriage with a newspaperman (Tyrone Power) for revenge—and it is carried off pleasantly enough. But don't expect any surprises.

Funeral Held For Parker Pioneer

WEATHERFORD, Dec. 28 (Special)—Funeral services for Harry I. Davis, 87, Parker county pioneer and former resident of West Texas, were held Sunday.

Davis died Christmas day in Bowie hospital after a short illness.

Born in Arkansas, he moved with his family to Parker county as an infant. He married Mollie M. Scarlett on Christmas day of 1894.

From 1914 to 1933, he lived in various West Texas towns, including Lubbock, Plainview, Snyder and Silverton.

He was the father of the late Bill W. Davis, who was with Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Lubbock for a number of years.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Roxie Whitley of Childress, Mrs. Laura McMinn Roy of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Carrie Pharris of Ogden, Utah, and Mrs. Winnie Lowe of Amarillo; three sons, Fred L. of Austin, Perry P. of Portland, Ore., and Roy H. of Amarillo; 27 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Bob Blanton, a granddaughter who resides near Lubbock, attended funeral services Sunday.

Texas Pilot Seeking Return Of Airplane

MANILA, Dec. 28 (AP)—James Harvey Fleming, Texas freelance pilot who returned here five days ago from Jogjakarta, appealed to the United States and Dutch legations yesterday for release of his aircraft which he valued at $45,000.

He said nothing about his arrest by Dutch paratroopers in Jogjakarta for fear it would imperil return to the plane impounded in Batavia.

The Kilgore, Tex., flier also said yesterday that Bobby Freeberg of Parsons, Kas., known as the one-man Indonesian air force, is alive. He indicated he will make a full report on Freeberg later.

Eighty per cent of American manufacturing is concentrated in the northeastern part of the country.

Switzerland Having Trouble With Spies

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Dec. 28 (AP)—The Swiss are worried about spies operating in Switzerland in the guise of foreign students. Edmont Jaquet, head of the police department of the Canton of Vaud, told the cantonal assembly recently that the 5,000 foreigners studying at Swiss universities were known to include spies and agents detailed by foreign governments to watch fellow students and refugees.

Jaquet declared that a special watch should have to be kept on "possible agents of totalitarian regimes" among foreign students, in the interests of "the preservation of Swiss democratic institutions."

Governor Will Not Attend Inauguration

AUSTIN, Dec. 28 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester will not attend President Truman's inauguration Jan. 20.

The governor reported today he has wired Rep. Tom Pickett, president of the Texas society in Washington, D. C., that he will be unable to go to the presidential ceremonies because of his own inauguration here Jan. 18 and other pressing official duties.

Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers will represent the state of Texas at the Truman inaugural, Jester said.

Rites Conducted For Littlefield Infant

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 28. (Special)—Funeral services for Dennis Lowell Moore, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny L. Moore, were conducted Monday afternoon in the First Baptist church of Littlefield.

Survivors include the parents; a half-brother, Lonnie D. Womack; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moore of Littlefield and Mrs. J. E. Williford of Lubbock.

Burial was iin Littlefield cemetery, under direction of Hammond Funeral home.

No Clean-Cut Grid Champ In Class AA, City Loops Named

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Dec. 28 — The Texas schoolboy football campaign is at an end. There was considerable dissatisfaction over it, particularly the City conference race.

This year the big city schools had their own league and there also was a race for class A schools. The latter was quite popular but the former wasn't because no clean-cut champion of Texas was determined.

Playoff Is Favored

The City conference had Arlington Heights of Fort Worth as its titlist. Waco won class AA and Monahans class A. No one considered that there should be a play-off involving class A but they did think the City conference champion and the class AA winner should be matched.

The Interscholastic league formed the City conference because of congestion—too many teams in class AA. Apparently the City conference is here to stay but it may never be popular. We believe the districts could be so arranged as to do away with the congestion plea. Why not put Highland Park in the Dallas district, Cleburne and Mineral Wells in the Fort Worth district and so on?

Upsets In Two Divisions

Speaking of schoolboy football, there were big upsets in two of the three divisions this season.

Port Arthur was supposed to win the class AA title. Waco won it. New Braunfels was the people's choice to take the class A crown. Monahans beat New Braunfels.

But the greatest upset in schoolboy history in our opinion—and this includes Highland Park's victory over Odessa in 1947 — was a scoreless tie played back in 1925.

That year, Cleburne met Cisco in the semi-finals. Cleburne had a team averaging 143 pounds to the man. Cisco's averaged 193 — just 50 pounds to the man heavier.

Had A Great Kicker

Cleburne had a great kicker named J. B. McKemie but in those days when a boy became 21 years of age his eligibility ended as of that day. McKemie became 21 before the Cisco game. A youngster named Seaman Squyres, playing his first year, was put into the breach.

As I recall, Cleburne made a total of seven yards running with the ball that day. Cisco must have gained 350. But in some way the Cleburne lightweights would stop Cisco just short of the goal line and Squyres would get off a long, booming punt.

Cleburne almost won the game. At one time Cisco fumbled and the ball rolled out behind the entire Lobo backfield. A Cleburne player was headed straight for the oval and a sure touchdown (in those days you could run with a fumble) when a Cisco man's hand reached out and caught him by the belt before he could reach the ball.

The whole game was like a dream of the impossible. One feature happened with regularity. Blondy Blair, 143-pound Cleburne back, blocked 193-pound Honk Irwin to earth so that Skeeter Copeland (123) could straddle his head and thus prevent him geting up and going on.

Coach of the Cleburne team was Howard Parker, who today is physical education director of the Cleburne schools.

Attendance at all final games this year was disappointing. There were 9,858 for the City conference title battle, 16,000 for the class AA play-off and 10,000 for the class A final. The latter came closer to meet expectations than any.

Our suggestion to Waco and Amarillo officials is that the crowd at Fort Worth for the class AA final could have been somewhat larger if they had adopted the usual attitude toward the press—that of giving some complimentary tickets.

No, sir, not one was given and if a sports writer took his wife to the game he paid for a ticket. Who do those guys think gets the crowd out in the first place? It would have looked better to fill up some of those empty seats even if the schools didn't get any money out of it.

Sun Carnival Due To Start Despite Rain

EL PASO, Dec. 28 (AP)—Despite three days of rain, the city of El Paso plans to open the 14th annual Southwestern Sun carnival here today with full ceremony and pomp.

The sun was sighted here only briefly Saturday, Sunday and yesterday.

Scheduled to be on hand for the official start of festivities this afternoon is the winner of the 230-mile endurance foot race from Chihuahua City in Mexico to El Paso.

Late yesterday, nine weary Tarahumara Indian runners neared the 112-mile mark of their endurance contest. One Indian was reported running strong with the others near exhaustion but not far behind the leader.

Mexico's hospitals are dismissing all untrained nurses.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

That was a pretty fair country thumping the Oklahoma Aggies handed Texas Tech last night. It wasn't surprising to anyone who follows basketball closely. The Aggies have a pretty fair country coach to go along with that thumping, which makes it unanimous. Henry Iba has been coaching basketball almost longer than we can remember and coming up with winners each year. It doesn't matter where he goes; he has the magical touch.

He also spends some five or six hours a day on the court with his squad, which is gathered primarily to play basketball in college, nothing else. The Aggies start practice as soon in the season as it is allowed and they keep up a steady dose of it. One of our official friends told us in Dallas that week-end that Iba wasn't entirely satisfied with the way the Cowboys looked. So he merely had them working out three times a day.

If it's true that practice makes perfect, the Aggies should be the best, for they spend most of their waking moments on the court. There they learn the deliberate style of play that has most of Iba's opponents cursing him—and trying to steal his stuff. Most of Tech's plays were picked up from Iba, who has been one of the most successful coaches in the peach basket game. The Aggies continually press on defense and play percentages on the offense.

As a result, the brand of ball is tedious from a spectator standpoint and not too interesting to the opponents. No team gets many set shots against the Aggies; there are usually hands and arms in their faces. Iba's defense is so tight that players seldom slip through for layups. And from the foul line, the Aggies maintain as good a percentage as any college team. The Aggies aren't anywhere near the top in team offense, generally keeping their own scores low; but they stand fourth on defense behind Kentucky, Columbia and Alabama, the latter entered in the Oklahoma City tourney.

The Aggies rank 19th nationally in free throw percentage, but there isn't another team in the Oklahoma City tourney close to them in the national rankings. The Aggies don't have a single player in the nation's top 50 among scoring leaders. But they have a team defense and offense that ranks with the best. The secret of their success is in controlling the ball. When they have it, they hang onto it until they can work it in. And on defense, they simply rush the offensive team to death.

The Aggies, in their first four games, held the opposition to an average of 37.3 points a game. They won three and lost one, St. Josephs of Philadelphia, Pa., beating them 46-43. Their victories were over Baylor, 56-40; Long Island, 46-38; and Arkansas, 53-28. They averaged 49.5 points per game during this carnival. But the surprising (and significant) thing is that both the Aggies and their opponents tried the same number of field goal attempts, 238. The Aggies hit for 27 percent; their opponents, 18.

Capt. Bob Harris, the Cowboy center, is leading scorer with 45 points in four games. Last night he potted 14 points, enough to break Tech's back right there. In addition, he held Don Grove, Tech's fine center, to seven points. That has been one of Harris' strong points, the ability to stop opposing pivot men while scoring consistently himself. He held Baylor's highly rated Don Heathington to no field goals and he has been as tough on others. He's the backbone of the Cowboy attack.

Tech gets back into a class nearer its own tonight when the Raiders play SMU, a team with whom they split in two games. Victory would send them against the winner of the Auburn-Colorado Aggie game, while defeat would send them against the loser of that game. We believe that the Raiders will win one of the two remaining games. We don't believe they are one of the four best teams in the tourney, but they might be. At least they are picking up valuable experience and should be that much tougher to beat in the Border Conference.

Oklahoma Ags Defeat Tech

OKLAHOMA CIAY, Okla., Dec. 28. (Special)—The Red Raiders of Texas Tech, soundly spanked 47-26 last night by the Oklahoma Aggies, tangle with the Southern Methodist Mustangs here today.

The game, third of the season between the two teams, will be the second in the consolation bracket, Colorado A & M meeting Auburn in the opener.

SMU Eliminated

SMU was eliminated from championship play at the hands of Alabama yesterday afternoon in the first upset of the tourney. The Crimson Tide scored a 42-39 victory. A few minutes later, Texas hustled out a 56-47 win over Colorado Aggies.

The first night game paired Baylor and Auburn, with the defending Southwest Conference champs taking a 59-44 victory.

In the championship round, the defending all-College tournament champion Oklahoma Aggies will open the night play against Alabama and the second game brings together Texas and Baylor in what may be a preview of the SWC.

Last night's finale between Tech and the Aggies was no contest after the opening few minutes. The Cowboy cagers were as cool as ice at the basket and threw up a blanket on defense.

Bears Have Experience

The teams exchanged free throws the first five minutes when the score stood three—all. Then Tom Jacuet hit a long shot and the Aggies were never headed.

Baylor's Bears showed too much experience in defeating a sophomore-filled Auburn team.

Baylor took the lead in the first two minutes of its contest and was never headed. Auburn was shaky and couldn't find the basket as the Bears went out at halftime with a 28-16 edge.

It wasn't any different in the second half. The closest Auburn came was midway in the half when a promising sophomore center, 6-foot-8 Glenn Nixon, hit two straight buckets and a free throw and Bill Mobberly added another charity toss to cut the lead to seven points, 39-32.

Alabama's Crimson Tide provided the first upset of the All-College Basketball Tournament—turning back the favored Southern Methodist Mustangs 42-39 in the opening game here yesterday.

Martin Paces Steers

The Mustangs put on a spirited but futile rally to pull within two points of the Tide, with only three minutes to play. Alabama, however, met the challenge and pulled ahead by four points on a close-in field goal by Gene Palmer in the final 60 seconds.

A sensational scoring spree by Guard Slater Martin carried the University of Texas Longhorns to a 56 to 47 victory over the Colorado Aggies.

Four Cage Tilts Set Today At Boys Club

Four games will be played this afternoon and tonight in the Lubbock Boys club basketball program, with four games yesterday opening up the post-holiday season.

Bobby Owens scored eight points to singlehandedly lead the Blue Jays to a 15-7 victory over the Wolverines last night in a Pee Wee League game, as court play at the Boys club resumed.

The Five Little Devils beat the Mustangs 30-26 in a Midget League game, with Jerry Shipp hitting 10 points for the winners and Jimmy Solley getting 17 for the losers.

The Dirty Demons turned back the Basketeers in a Junior tilt, Don Washington getting 15 points for the winners, Billy Presley getting 11 for the losing side.

In the night's final game, the Hardwood Five took a 50-35 victory from the Sharpshooters. Jack Cook had 16 points for the victors, Roger Van Cleave had 10 for the losers.

Gil Johnson's Passing Magic Is Major Worry For Oregon

DALLAS, Dec. 28. (AP)—Gil Johnson, Southern Methodist's mighty bomber, is one of the major concerns of Coach Jim Aiken of Oregon as he prepares his Webfoots for Saturday's Cotton bowl game. But Gil says he hopes he does better against that Pacific coast team than the last one he faced.

Southern Methodist beat Santa Clara 33-0 but through no help of Gimlet Gil, who had the worst day in his passing career. Gil threw five passes, had two intercepted, failed to connect on two and completed one for a loss of eight yards. Coach Matty Bell told him after the game: "Well, you did pretty well for Santa Clara—you threw two for them and one for us."

Rest of Record Good

But the rest of Johnson's two-year record at SMU reads well. Even including the Santa Clara debacle, he has hurled 206 passes and completed 123 for 1,591 yards and 14 touchdowns. This by a fellow who has averaged about eight minutes per game.

Last year he didn't actually play enough to letter. This season he got in 86 minutes. Of course, Gil usually made those minutes count. In four years he won or tied four games with his pitching in the final two minutes.

Against UCLA last year he had a minute and forty seconds to go when he connected with Paul Page with a pass that ate up 85 yards and put the ball on the UCLA three-yard line to set up the score that won the game. Against Texas Christian, he had 15 seconds to go when he pitched the touchdown pass that tied the score. This year he passed for a touchdown as the final gun shot to beat Arkansas and against Texas Christian he pitched for a touchdown with 15 seconds remaining to gain a tie.

Won Other Games

He won some half-dozen other games with his passing but in earlier stages.

He started passing back in his junior high school days at Tyler where he played a couple of seasons. He was with Tyler senior high school for three, was in the service until 1946 when he went to Southern Methodist but found he was ineligible for a year because he had been in Texas A. and M. a summer semester in 1942.

Johnson has a trick knee. It will lock on him and he has to take time out to get it straightened out. Coach Bell always bandages both of his legs so the opposition won't know which is the trick one. After the Cotton bowl Gil will have an operation.

Sugar Bowl Tilt Will Present Nation's Top Punt Returners

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28. (AP)—The Sugar bowl football game will present the country's most spectacular punt returners. But whether there will be any spectacular punt returns is quite another matter.

Before anyone can run a kick back through an open field (as thousands cheer) somebody has to boot the ball to him.

Take Oklahoma's double safety combination of Jack Mitchell and Darrell Royal. They give their team the country's highest average in yardage of returns during the past season.

Mitchell Returns 22

Mitchell ran back 22 punts for 517 yards, an average of 23.1, and went for three touchdowns. Royal returned eight for 263 yards, a 32.8 average, and two touchdowns. The team as a whole returned punts 963 yards, more than it gained in forward passing.

And on the other side will be North Carolina's All-America Tailback Charlie Justice. About 60 per cent of the time he has Wingback John Clements back there with him for a double safety combination like Oklahoma's.

Ran 19 Punts Back

Charlie ran 19 punts back for 326 yards, an average of 17. He carried one 84 yards to a touchdown against Georgia, and another 50 yards to score on Virginia.

Both squads continued drills today, Oklahoma at Biloxi, Miss., and North Carolina at Hammond, La.

(Meanwhile, the Sugar bowl's week-long sports carnival gets under way with boxing tonight and basketball tomorrow.)

Rose Bowl Coaches Pray For Sun As Rain Pelts California

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28 (AP)—The two Rose bowl coaches are going to be unhappy if the tournament of Roses sunshine luck runs out New Year's day.

A long range forecast has not been issued as yet, but amateur predicters, watching the rain pelt Southern California yesterday, began to worry that the California-Northwestern contest may be a battle of the mud.

Want Fast Field

Both coaches, Bob Voights of Northwestern and Lynn Waldorf of the California Bears, are on record as praying for clear skies and fast field.

The Wildcats did not play a single game in the mud this season. They have practiced several times in the mud, however—including yesterday. (California had a comparatively poor day in the only wet game the Bears played.)

Voigts, incidentally, was well aware of California's sunshine claims, but he didn't forget to bring along the squad's mud cleats.

Had Amazing Luck

The Rose bowl for years has enjoyed amazing luck in the weather line. Actually, the last time it let loose from above was the 1934 game, which is known as the year of the big flood. It is also well remembered for Columbia's 7-0 upset via the ancient hidden ball trick over a heavily favored Stanford eleven.

It poured by the tons the night before, fire department pumps were employed to help drain the water off the field, and it rained during the contest. Strong young men charged $1 to carry ladies through the mud from their cars to the stadium, and the place was further inundated at the final gun by the burst of Stanford tears. Also, Coach Lou Little may have added a few tears of his own, caused from excessive laughing up his sleeve.

Wharton Session Due Before Oleander Tilt

GALVESTON, Dec. 28 (AP) — Wharton junior college is due here this afternoon for last minute drill sessions before the Oleander bowl game tomorrow night.

Wharton's opponent, Paris junior college, rolled into Galveston yesterday afternoon. Paris went through a light drill yesterday and plans signal drills this afternoon.

Crippled Longhorns Plan Final Workouts

AUSTIN, Dec. 28. (AP)—With three second stringers sick with flu, the Texas Longhorns go through their final workouts today before leaving tomorrow morning for Florida and the Orange bowl.

Left Halfback Byron Gillory was added to the sick list yesterday.

Coach Blair Cherry was unusually pessimistic after yesterday's workout in the chilling cold.

Texas Elevens Will Fly To Bowl Games

DALLAS, Dec. 28 (AP) — Two Texas football teams will fly to bowl games tomorrow.

The Texas squad, which meets Georgia in the Orange bowl, will leave at 8 a. m. from Austin. The Baylor squad, which takes on Wake Forest in the Dixie bowl at Birmingham, Ala., will depart from Waco at 8:30.

Santa Anita Starts 12th Racing Season

ARCADIA, Calif., Dec. 28. (AP)—Santa Anita's handsomely bedecked merry-go-round starts a 50-day whirl today, with a field of California two-year-olds racing for a plum that may be worth $80,000.

Sventeen youngsters were entered in the California breeders champion stakes, a $50,000 purse swollen to the larger figure by added money.

It will be the richest race ever run exclusively for homebreds of this state. If all 17 start, it will be worth $80,391.50.

A throng of 35,000, depending on the weather, is expected for the opening of Santa Anita's 12th season. Heavy rain yesterday turned the track muddy.

Westerners To Enter Tourney

A "back to work" practice session was held Monday afternoon by the Lubbock High Westerner cagers, who are scheduled to battle some of the top basketball teams in the state this weekend at the annual Brownwood Invitational tournament.

The Westerners, idle since their impressive victory over Abilene last Wednesday, were sent through a lengthy practice session at the O. L. Slaton Junior High gymnasium, with Coach Roy Morris stressing conditioning and play patterns.

Not In Top Form

The cagers were obviously far from top form, as a result of their layoff, but Coach Morris hopes to smooth out the rough spots in the Lubbock offense and defense with another rugged drill period this afternoon. Most of the boys are in good physical condition, with only veteran Charles Galey hampered by an injury. Galey is still slowed by a foot injury received three weeks ago.

The Lubbock basketball team will be one of 16 high school quints competing in the sixth annual invitational meet at Howard Payne college, Thursday through Saturday, tourney officials have announced.

Teams from all areas of the state will compete in the tough event, which is considered one of the "big" tournaments of the state. Pampa's Harvesters of District 1-AA have been installed as one of the pre-tourney favorites, and Olney's strong squad will be on hand to defend their meet crown won in 1947.

Trophies To Be Awarded

Other fives slated to participate in the tourney include Goldthwaite, Laredo, Gatesville, Throckmorton, Odessa, Big Spring, Brownwood, Dublin, Midland, Temple, Eula, Cisco and Burkett.

Lubbock is scheduled to meet the Dublin five in a first-round encounter at 7 o'clock Thursday night, with the winner of the setto meeting the winner of the Olney-Midland clash. Most important games in the lower bracket will send Pampa against Gatesville at 9 o'clock Friday morning, following the Odessa-Throckmorton encounter at 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Trophies will be awarded in both championship and consolation brackets.

Only 11 feature motion pictures will be produced in Brazil this year.

Boxer Changes Mind, Wants To Meet Louis

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Like Joe Louis, Ezzard Charles has changed his mind. The negro contender from Cincinnati now is anxious to fight the Brown Bomber for the heavyweight title in June.

So said Jake Mintz, manager of Charles, when he arrived in town to consult with Harry Markson, managing director of the 20th Century Sporting club.

Ceylon has imported 2,760,000 tea chests to pack its 1948 tea crop.

BLONDE TWINS MAY GET SIGHT

Bus Drivers Give Day's Pay For Two Little Blind Girls

SEATTLE, Dec. 28. (AP)—So two little blonde twins may someday see. . .

That's why many a Seattle transit system driver worked long hours on Christmas day without pay. Others did the same on earlier holidays. Nearly all dug into their pockets as well until now there's nearly $3,700 accumulated.

Unaware that they live in a strange world different from that of normal children are the petite twin girls, Bette Jean and Barbara Jo Nord, born blind 28 months ago.

Father Bus Driver

Their father, Walter A. Nord, has been a Seattle municipal bus driver for almost 11 years. He and his wife, Ina, the twins and their son, Steven, 7, live in a modest home on the city's outskirts.

Hospital and doctor bills have piled up since the girls were born prematurely. Each had a thin membrane between the lens and pupil of her eyes. The medical name for their affliction is retrolental fibroplasia, which the father said is not uncommon among babies weighing less than three pounds at birth.

Bette Jean tipped the scales at only two pounds, two ounces; Barbara Jo at two pounds, 10 ounces.

Treated Two Years

For two years they have been receiving treatment at the Children's Orthopedic hospital. Doctors say their sight may be restored by cutting away the membrane which now shuts out all but a faint glow of light.

The Nords said little of their plight. But a few fellow members of the AFL street car men's union, local 587, knew and wanted to help out. They started a drive Dec. 16.

So on Jan. 10, Nord will receive approximately $1,000 in cash—donations from the 1,800 bus drivers—and a check for approximately $2,700 from accumulated holiday pay.

"I don't know what to say," the father remarked tonight. "It's just wonderful to know there are friends like that."

Cold War Cost

proximately twice the cost of all other foreign policy spending.

A total of $6,500,000,000 this year will cover European recovery, Greek-Turkish civilian and military aid, relief in occupied countries, China military and civilian aid, and a variety of lesser expenditures.

Next year the actual outlay of cash for European recovery will rise by several hundred million dollars and a billion or more will be necessary to help finance a proposed new military aid program to Europe.

The wide spread between military and other foreign spending emphasizes one of the main foundations of present American policy — that this country's security and in fact the security of the whole non-Communist world must be based primarily on American armed strength.

To Keep Positions

Beyond this the billions which President Truman will recommend to Congress are supposed not so much to hold a line against Communism, as to keep several strategic positions within the non-Russian world.

One of the fundamental concepts of cold war strategy as devised by Secretary of State Marshall and his top advisers is this:

There are only five areas in the entire world where the vigor and drive of the people coincide with the availability of such vital resources as coal and iron to create modern power centers.

These five areas are the United States, the British Isles, the Ruhr section of western Germany, the Urals-Volga region of Russia, and the islands of Japan.

Of these five areas, three — the United States, the British Isles and Japan — are firmly in the hands of the western, non-Soviet peoples. The Ruhr is safely held at present, but the aim of much of Russia's policy in Europe apparently is to shake western control, and win access for Russian power to that area.

Presumably, the major aim of Russian foreign policy eventually is to combine the Ruhr with the Soviet Urals-Volga area and thereby confront the rest of the world with a possibly unbeatable commination of resources for massive modern war.

The counter aim of American foreign policy is to build Germany, cooperatively with Britain and France, into a peaceful base for European recovery and to build convalescent Europe itself into a great, new center of political, military and economic strength.

Wrist Slashed

cutting was deliberat and I am asking Elliott Roosevelt to appear at the district attorney's office Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for further details."

Later Close said he had received word from Roosevelt's attorney that the son of the late President would appear.

The Roosevelts were married four years ago, he for the third time and she for the second.

A native of Elizabeth, La., Mrs. Roosevelt was reared in San Diego, Calif. She has appeared in a number of moving pictures and starred in the Broadway stage hit, "The Play's The Thing," until it closed here Dec. 18.

Roosevelt is 38. He has four children by his previous marriages and Mrs. Roosevelt one by her former marriage.

The couple's home is about three miles from the Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

MARKET FORCED DOWN

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP) — A sudden expansion in selling pressure forced the stock market lower today.

Final prices were down fractions to more than 2 points. Signs of a come-back developed in the last few minutes of business.

Trading volume expanded on the way down. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,600,000 shares, which would be the highest since more than 2,000,000 shares changed hands on Nov. 10.

Most brokers saw nothing special in the news to account for the unexpected decline.

American Broadcasting went off on a tangent of its own, reaching a new high for the year at one time. Rumors persist that informal negotiations are still on for purchase of the company by Twentieth Century-Fox.

Mahoning Coal railroad, one of the highest priced stocks traded in the exchange, plunged 17½ points to 490, low price for the year.

Also lower were National Steel, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Philip Morris, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP) — Cotton futures turned easy today in later dealings on profit taking. New crop months were lower in anticipation of a decline in the mid-December cotton parity compared with the November figure. The market also lacked the aggressive covering against export sales which was evident in Monday's trading. Mill buying and short covering extended early gains by as much as 50 cents a bale before the market reversed its uptrend.

Cotton closed barely steady.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 (AP) — Purchase of part of her first quarter of flour allocation by Italy rallied wheat prices from the day's low. The Italian government took 900,0000 hundredweight of flour today.

Prospect of heavy snow fall over the winter wheat section had weakened new crop deliveries partway through today's board of trade session. The May delivery, however, had shown some strength on commercial buying.

Corn was fairly steady during the greater part of the session. Country bookings were placed at only 45,000 bushels. The Commodity Credit corporation advanced its purchase 1 cent at Atlantic seaboard.

There was considerable selling on soybeans. Oats, however resisted selling on other futures.

At the close wheat was ¾ higher to ¾ lower than yesterday's close, May $2.28⅝-½. Corn was ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.49⅛-¼. Oats were ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, May 78⅛. Rye was ½ higher, May $1.72½. Soybeans were 2¼ to 2¾ lower, March Hundredweight lower, January $16.90.

them. I just talked to him."

And Ross maintained tight-lipped silence when questioned as to why the President chose yesterday's luncheon for his major foreign policy discussion.

Conference Slated

His address recalled another impromptu talk in Oregon last June in which he said he "liked old Joe" Stalin.

Stalin, he said at the time, would keep his agreements if he could.

The Soviet leader, he added, is "a prisoner of the Politburo" which won't let him carry out his promises.

The President is flying back to Washington tomorrow for an important White House conference Thursday with Vice President-elect Barkley and Speaker-to-be Sam Rayburn.

They will discuss organization of the new Democratic party and the party's legislative program.

Final touches will be made at Washington on the state of the union message the President will deliver to the new Congress on Jan. 5.

Trouble Traced To Reds

The White House plane, the "Independence" will take off from the Fairfax airport in nearby Kansas at 11 a. m. (EST).

The President has accepted an invitation to be the guest of Washington newspaper and radio correspondents and photographers at a luncheon at the Hotel Muehlebach today.

It was in this same hotel that the President let fly his newest punches at Russia yesterday.

He said he was "exceedingly sorry" that agreements have not been kept "because the Russian people are a great people."

"I am sure that if the Russian people had a voice in the government of Russia there would be no trouble," he added.

Sulphur Dioxide May Be Cold Protection

LONDON, Dec. 28 (AP)—An English doctor says sulphur dioxide fumes seem to give protection against the common cold and influenza. Dr. T. H. Durrans of Bourton-on-the-Hill described in the British Medical Journal how workmen employed in part of a factory where the air was heavy with the fumes were markedly free from colds.

Workers elsewhere in the plant "did not enjoy the immunity," Dr. Durrans wrote. "It therefore seems probable that the presence of sulphur dioxide in the saliva for periods of eight hours or more daily has a protective effect," he said.

Italian Paintings To Be Shown In America

FLORENCE, Dec. 28 (AP)—Famed Italian paintings of the 19th Century will be shown at the Wildenstein Gallery in New York soon. The show includes 120 paintings by 12 leading artists of the last century, among them Cremona, Segantini, Boldini, Michetti, and Fattori.

The show is under the honorary presidency of Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza and of the U. S. Ambassador to Italy, James C. Dunn. Mario Vannini-Parenti, president of Tuscany's tourist organization, will accompany the paintings to the United States.

"Breather" Reported By Local Officers

A relatively quiet night and an even quieter day were allowing law enforcement groups a breathing spell in which to continue investigations of numerous breaches of law over the Christmas holiday period.

Police were informed this afternoon of the theft of a .22 caliber revolver from the glove compartment of the car of W. R. Harral, of 2813 Twentieth.

Officials said Fred Shockley, 23, of 2208 Twenty-fifth, was treated for cuts of the back, then released from a hospital. He declined to tell a police detective what had happened, and said he preferred not to prosecute.

Cliff Brown of Levelland reported that four guns were taken in a burglary of a residence there. Included among the missing weapons were a scope-sighted 30-06 caliber rifle, a 12-gauge automatic shotgun and two .22 caliber rifles. All were in cases or scabbards, he said.

J. N. Marks of a mile east of Lubbock said his residence was burglarized, but nothing had been removed.

A pair of gloves and seven silver dollars were taken in a burglary of the Billy Sides place, a watch from the H. V. Sowder residence, a woman's coat valued at $46 from C. H Soape.

Person Leaves Tools

Charles Lackey of 2122 Nineteenth street said that someone had attempted to gain entrance to his grocery store at that address. The would-be burglar was apparently scared off, since a wrench was left at the scene where he had attempted to remove bolts that held the lock to the store's door.

Germans Warned Of Hard Work In U.S.

FRANKFURT, Dec. 28 (AP)—A warning was issued to German "enthusiastic emigrants" by Heinrich Kierzek, a German editor, just back from the states.

"You've to work hard overseas and fruits of your work are often collected by your descendants and not by yourself," he wrote in an article rounding up his experience in the States. Kierzek, who is the editor of the American licensed "Fuldaer Volkszeitung," belonged to a group of German journalists who completed a study tour through the United States recently. The trip was sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation and Columbia university.

"Work tempo there is without mercy and loafing much more difficult than here," Kierzek told German workers.

"What is different in America" was banner-lined over his article. A remarkable feature of American people for Kierzek was that "they save money." "Every second worker in the states is feeling himself a future capitalist. One day, so he reckonss, he will have saved so much money that he can open a shop, can buy a big piece of land or invest his money otherwise and become independent."

Comparing the living standard of an American worker with that of his German colleague, Kierzek comes to the result that "the US workman can buy for his earnings about eight to ten times as much goods as a German worker in the same job can."

Product Of Jungle Makes Gum Possible

SINGAPORE, Dec. 28 (AP)—So that America's millions may champ their jaws on chewing gum, sarong-clad Malays, Sakais, Dyaks and some Chinese dare wild animals in the jungles of Malaysia to collect jelutong.

This milky sap from a wild rubber tree of the same name is one of the main constituents of chewing gum. It's found only in Malaysia—the Malay peninsula, Indonesia and Siam.

American chewing gum manufacturers in 1947 bought 3,295 tons of jelutong worth US $1,700,000, from Singapore, where exporters gather the gum from neighboring North Borneo, Brunei, Sarawak, Riouw and Billiton. The Dutch-administered Riouw archipelago is the biggest producer. Small quantities are also obtained from Siam.

In Dutch territory collection is mostly carried out by independent tappers and smallholders. In British territory tapping and collecting is supervised by the Government Forest Department. Hence, say foreign buyers, a superior product results.

The jelutong tapper, usually a seasoned, weather-beaten middle-aged man, lives unarmed in isolation. Usually he lives on rice and dried fish. Vegetables come from edible plants growing nearby.

The jelutong tree, unlike cultivated rubber, grows wild. But jelutong is tapped just like its domesticated cousin that gives you the auto tire.

will have, and two more than each of the Benelux countries which it overran in World War Two.

Inspection Planned

It set up an international system of inspection — the framework of an industrial police — to keep the Ruhr from becoming once again a war-making industrial machine as it did under Hitler and Kaiser Wilhelm.

It left unsettled the dynamite-laden question of ultimate ownership of the Ruhr's industries—a plain concession to France.

The French want international ownership. Britain prefers German public ownership. The United States favors private enterprise.

The agreement was for an indefinite term, leaving open the possibility the Ruhr might forever continue under international supervision.

City Bird Good As Country Pheasant

LONGMONT, Colo., Dec. 28 (AP) Harold Dawson was walking along a downtown street when something struck his hat. He made a quick grab for the hat, missed it, and felt his hand close around a struggling feather leg.

The leg belonged to a pheasant which had somehow been flushed from the doorway of a store across the street. No one was able to explain the bird's mysterious business in this city, but Dawson said later: "It cooked up just as nice as a country pheasant."

end of the line was Dina Macchetta, the sergeant's 21-year-old blonde sweetheart.

Sergeant Kent picked up the phone when the connection was completed. He trembled.

"We're ready to be married, Dinah, Honey," he said in a low voice into the telephone transmitter.

"I have waited long enough for this. It's about time," was the reply from the bride at the other end of the line.

Then the Rev. Lightfoot started the ceremony. Throughout the six minutes, the sergeant was fidgety. His jaw muscles worked. And his face was flushed.

He managed his "I do" faintly. On the other end, Dina said: "I will."

The couple will be re-married in a church ceremony when Kent gets to Milan on his re-enlistment leave, probably late in January. He said he expected to be sent overseas shortly after the first of the year.

SALE OF FINES URGED

LEWISTOWN, Mont., Dec. 28 (AP)—An unidentified urban planner has suggested through the press that a "meal ticket" system of collecting overtime parking fines be tried out. He says the city should sell five $1 overtime parking fines for $4.50 in book form. Then "regular customers could leave their books at the city hall, where they could be punched whenever a traffic regulation was violated."

City firemen said they answered a 9:15 a. m. alarm from 3020 Walnut, where electric wires shorted and caught fire. At 8:30 a. m. they received a call that Hunter Cabinet shop on East Broadway was burning. The department found that a pipe from a stove was smoking so that, to persons outside, there was an appearance of fire. At 12:35 a. m., two police patrolmen following an automobile saw it suddenly catch fire. They stopped the car at Broadway and College Ave. They called firemen by shortwave radio, by way of the police transmitter, but the fire had been extinguished upon arrival of department equipment.

Today's wind reached such a velocity in the vicinity of the Hilton hotel at 1 p. m. that a plate glass window in the coffee shop, next to the alley on Main street, was blown out. A passing pedestrian barely escaped being cut by some of the falling glass.

Petitions

from actions of their department heads. Marion Sanford and George W. McCleskey are other members of the commission. Peek is ex-officio director of the group.

Rumors as to a fire department petition were given a phantom-like appearance when the mayor investigated them Monday night. He had been out of the city most of the day on business and did not learn of them until he returned home well after dark, he said.

"I talked to several members of the fire department," he said. "All denied knowledge of any petition being circulated. Some said they had talked about a petition, and were mad enough to circulate one. But they said the idea never got further than the talking stage."

Reports Contradicted

These reports apparently were contradicted by information from several city employes who claimed they actually saw and were asked to sign such petitions.

Some of the signatures reportedly were solicited in the police department. But if anyone there, or elsewhere in the city, actually signed such a petition, this fact remained unconfirmed.

The indications were that, if a petition should ask Peek's removal for the reasons rumored, it would be rejected abruptly when presented to the city commission.

Questions Are Raised

However, questions have been raised in commission meetings a number of times as to whether Peek has the maturity and the experience for the job as "director of personnel" of nearly 500 city employes. Although he is 32, he looks a good deal younger, and some city employes, older in years and seniority, have been openly resentful of him.

Members of the city commission said leaves of absence were refused members of the fire department to attend the Houston meeting because the "department is under-manned without allowing two men to leave."

The proposal of other firemen to work for absent members during off-duty time was rejected by the commission as being bad as a precedent.

The commission was informed, however, that other members did work during off-duty hours for Quinn and Pruitt. Members of the commission indicated this will be a subject of further inquiry when they meet.

The primary purposes of the Houston meeting, according to information to Lubbock officials were two-fold: First, the further perfection of the unionization of firemen; and, second, to further strengthen a lobby in Austin to work for legislation looking toward increased pay and other benefits for members of city fire departments.

Senators Disagree Over Whether Conference To Fix Fair Wage Standard Is Worth While

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP) — Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) today tossed cold water on the idea of a labor-management conference to fix a "fair wage" standard for collective bargaining.

So did a business spokesman.

But Senator Morse (R-Ore) said he is all for it and thinks the scope of such a conference should be even broader. He would like it to produce recommendations for new labor legislation to replace the Taft-Hartley law.

So would the CIO, except that the labor organization still insists repeal—and re-enactment of the Wagner act—must come first.

Pre-War Action Cited

The President's council of economic advisers suggested over the week-end that a new national labor-management conference might come up with a non-binding wage standing to serve as guide for voluntary settlement of pay disputes.

Thomas is slated to be chairman of the Senate labor committee when the Democrats take over control of Congress next week.

He told a reporter he is skeptical about the value of a wage yardstick on the basis the economic council viewed it.

"The tendency always is for such non-binding agreements to become binding in practice and thus cause trouble," Thomas said.

He cited as an example the 1941 labor-management conference which produced a "no strike—no lockout" pledge and brought about creation of the war labor board. Later the board established the "little steel formula" which clamped a lid on wartime pay boosts.

"I participated in that conference," Thomas said, "and I know that the little steel formula which followed was not intended insofar as it became binding."

As for Morse's suggestion that any new labor-management conference recommend provisions of a new labor law, Thomas said that would be passing the buck.

"That decision is up to Congress, after proper public hearings," the Utah lawmaker declared.

But a CIO spokesman, commenting privately on the council's suggestion, said he thinks a conference would be a fine place to draft recommendations on such things as: (a) what to do about jurisdictional disputes, (b) how to eliminate certain secondary boycotts and (c) how to handle "national emergency" strikes.

C-C Meeting Set

At the same time, a Chamber of Commerce official—also talking with the understanding he would not be named — said he thinks the average management representative doubts that any good could come of a new conference.

This official added, however, that the chamber's labor relations committee will meet here January 12 and probably will discuss the council's suggestion.

The AFL last month proposed a broad-scale economic conference to consider means of combatting inflation.

Morse outlined his ideas in an interview before leaving to make a speech in Cincinnati.

"It seems to me," he said, "that leaders of American labor and business have an opportunity to perform a service of industrial statesmanship by reaching as many agreements as possible on the broad question of labor and business legislation to be considered by the 81st Congress."

The Oregonian noted, as the economic council did, that the labor-management conference of 1945, accomplished little. But Morse said he believes the situation has changed since passage of the Taft-Hardley law in 1947.

"It is certainly to be hoped that labor and management have learned the lesson that discriminatory legislation which seeks to weaken bargaining strength does not in the long run work to the advantage of either," Morse said.

"The time has come for both labor and management to stop jockeying for position to secure passage of legislation slanted in their favor. To that end, a conference of both sides would be a constructive aid to Congress.

Husband Sought After Wife Is Found Strangled In Apartment

LYKENS, Pa., Dec. 28 (AP)—State Police Sgt. George Funk said today a search was being made for the husband of a 39-year-old woman whose body was found in her apartment with two pairs of silk stocking tightly knotted about her neck.

Sgt. Funk said the woman, Mrs. Michael Begani, had deep head cuts and her right index finger was almost ripped off.

The state policeman said a search was started for the husband, a 47-year-old coal company employe, to question him about his wife's death.

Missing Since Sunday

Deputy Coroner Sherman E. Herrold said Begani had not been seen since about 5 p. m. (EST) Sunday when he left his pocketbook, some money and a watch at the home of his mother in this community of 3,000, 20 miles south of Harrisburg.

Dr. Herrold said the woman apparently had been dead since Sunday. Her body—clad in night clothes—was found on a blood stained bed in the couple's apartment yesterday by her husband's brother.

The Beganis had been married seven months. She was the mother of two children by a former marriage, Dr. Herrold said.

Michigan Youth Makes Claim For Pistol Bullet, After All He Got Shot With It

DETROIT, Dec. 28. (AP)—Eleven-year-old Johnny Leroy, like other youngsters his age, likes to play cops and rob[illegible]. But he also knows how to shoot fast when someone pulls out a real gun.

He did just that when his 13-year-old playmate, Paul Humphrey, showed him the family .38 caliber revolver.

Forgets Coat and Hat

Outside in the cold, Johnny remembered he'd left his hat and coat behind in his haste.

Cautiously, the boy reentered the house where Paul was still fingering the weapon. Keeping behind the door Johnny asked his pal to please put down the gun.

Paul looked up. The gun discharged.

The bullet went through the door, pierced Johnny's left calf and dropped down his pant leg.

He stood examining it when police arrived.

Given first aid, Johnny claimed the bullet.

"I guess I can keep it," he said. "I got shot with it."

Singer, Sax Player Strike Sour Chord

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28 (AP) — The marriage of singer Doris Day and saxophone player George Weidler struck a sour chord today.

The blonde movie actress, who once before dropped divorce proceedings against Weidler, said the marriage definitely is ended.

Miss Day has gone home to mother. Weidler, brother of ex-child star Virginia Weidler, has gone home to his mother, too.

YOUTH ELECTROCUTED

SILSBEE, Dec. 28 (AP)—A 19-year-old construction worker, D. H. Jones of Pasadena, Tex., was electrocuted near here yesterday when a metal barrel he was handling contacted a 7,600 volt wire.

He was guiding the barrel of fuel oil to a welding machine when the contact was made.

Nearly 7,100,000 acres of forest areas in Japan are now in need of reforestation.

Our selection for the most unusual news story of 1948: The finding of a red herring in a yellow pumpkin!

SPEAKING of red herrings, Mr. Truman may best live up to the mantle of greatness which his election triumph draped upon him by confessing his mistake in assaying the importance of the spy investigation and its disclosures.

If Mr. Truman is really great, he'll say something like this:

"I was mistaken (or was playing politics) when I characterized the spy investigation as a 'red herring,' unimportant and nothing more than a political 'red hunt.'

"We all know now that we have been victimized for years by enemies within; that they still are active, with help from our own people in high government places.

"More important than protecting my party and my political predecessors is open admission of our danger and the taking of all necessary steps to protect the nation against the possibilities of another Pearl Harbor.

"I am going to let the chips fall where they may. I am not going to protect anybody—but the people of the United States.

"What I ineptly called a 'red herring' now is disclosed as a very serious threat to our peace and our liberties. I order all in my administration to stamp out this threat now!"

If Mr. Truman has the wisdom to admit his error, and the courage to war relentlessly against our enemies within, he will go a long way to proving that he is of the stature his greatest admirers claim for him.

"The American Press," a magazine, reports the appearance of two unusual cards of thanks in a Texas weekly paper of recent date.

According to the magazine, the first card read:

"In Appreciation: I thank the Lord that the mad dog didn't bite me as he passed within three feet of me one day last week.—(Signed) Mrs. So-and-So."

In a later edition of the same paper, the following card appeared:

"In Appreciation: And I thank the Lord I didn't bite Mrs. So-andSo! — (Signed) The Mad Dog."

Whoops!

TOM GORDON, who used to practice law in Levelland and Lubbock before going to Houston where he now is at the bar, sent us a clip from the Houston Chronicle concerning duststorms.

The clip came from the front page, "Our City" column, dashed off daily by our old chum, Editor Emmet Walter of the Chronicle We, like Tom, thought it slightly incongruous that anybody in the Houston area would set himself up as an authority on dust.

Those who know Houston and environs know that the climate there is as bad as any climate in the U. S., if not worse. But it isn't dust that normally bothers Gulf Coasters; it's the stifling, muggy summer days and nights, the raw, chilly, Winter fogs and rains.

But when we had our duster out here the other day, Houston had one, too. So Editor Walter, ever alive to writing stuff that people are thinking about, beat out some comments on his old Oliver.

"Dust storms," pontificated Mr. Walter, "seem to have mysterious and unpredictable qualities. They affect people differently. (He's telling US!)

"While other Houston motorists cursed the dust getting in their eyes and lungs recently, a mathematically inclined reporter for The Chronicle played at mental arithmetic as he drove.

"He estimated that at least a half ounce of dust had fallen on his car during the day.

HE knew his car, an average model, had an exposed area of about 95 square feet. He recalled that 43,560 square feet make an acre. Asking his family to be quiet while he concentrated on the problem, the reporter allowed his subconscious mind to take over the driving.

Dividing 43,560 by 95 he found that 458.5 bumperless cars could park on an acre. By gripping the steering wheel and biting his tongue, he managed to multiply the latter figure by 640 (number of acres to a square mile), and came up with 293,440 as the answer.

That gave him the number of cars without bumpers it would take to cover a square mile, but he wanted to know the weight of the dust. So, believing a half-ounce fell on the average car, he divided his last sum by two and found he had 146,720 ounces. It took only another mile or so of driving to reduce that to pounds and then to tons.

He found that, according to his calculations, 4.5 tons fell on each square mile during the two hours he was driving. Since Houston has about 75 square miles of area within its corporate limits, that would mean 337.5 tons of dust fell on the city during the two hours.

"Boy, howdy," he told his family, "that's erosion for you. That stuff blew all the way from the Panhandle. Think of what it cost the Panhandle in topsoil and what it added to the farms and pastures on the way down here!"

By the time he reached his home, he had given his children an easily absorbed lesson on soil conservation.

Well, Mr. Walter's sermon on dust, its causes and cures, is well thought out and points up a fine moral.

But more striking (and, we must admit, more gratifying) to us is the fact that Houston had a dust storm while we were having one—which indicates that we had plenty of company in our misery!

Next time we have sand or dust (look out the window, maybe we have both now!) let us remember, in addition to needs for soil conservation, that other places are having it, too.

The fact that others share our misery won't cut down the air's soil content, but it will make it easier for us to bear!

WE never think of Houston and its sticky climate, and West Texas and its relatively short rainfall, that we don't think of our late, great friend Mr. Walter succeeded as The Chronicle's editor, George W. Cottingham.

Mr. Cottingham used to kid us a bit about dust and sand and drouths and we used to kid him, too, about mugginess, oppressive humidity, unpleasant rain squalls, etc. The kidding went on for years, for we saw each other as often as we could, distance between Lubbock and Houston considered.

One day we were sitting in our office fiddling with a typewriter and the phone rang. It was Mr. Cottingham, calling from Houston.

"Hello!" his cheery voice said, "Listen a minute!"

We listened, but all we could hear was a dull roar.

"Know what that is?" Mr. Cottingham asked after a moment's passage.

"Naw," we answered, "what is it?"

"It's rain," he replied, "r-a-i-n, rain. I figured it had been so long since you'd heard any you might enjoy the experience!"

Where George Cottingham is today, the sun always shines, but the grass is always green, too.

Sometimes we try to visualize him there, smiling his shy smile and peering at both Lubbock and Houston, serene in the knowledge that rain, or no rain, there is a place infinitely better than this earth.

BY DREW PEARSON: STATE DEPARTMENT URGES MEXICO TO REOPEN OIL LANDS TO U. S.

Shanghai's White Russians Choose Mass Suicide

WASHINGTON — Antonio Bermudez, President Aleman's top oil adviser, has informed the State department that he will "publicly deny" any news leaks regarding secret negotiations, now in progress, for an oil agreement between the United States and Mexico.

PEARSON

However, it is nonetheless a fact that both the State department and private American oil interests—chiefly the Texas company and Cities Service—have been trying for some time to persuade the Mexican government to reopen Mexican oil lands to American operators.

The State department contends that this would greatly benefit both countries, since Mexico is sorely in need of American dollars for trading on world markets, while we need all the additional oil Mexico can sell us.

So far, the negotiations have been stymied by two factors. One is the refusal of American oil companies to invest further capital in Mexico unless they are assured by Aleman of legal protection against future confiscation.

Also President Aleman has feared that Mexican Communists would incite revolt if American oilmen renew operations in Mexico. Instead, Aleman wants a loan from the United States so his country can expand its oil production under Mexican management.

Christmas Junket

All this explains why President Aleman has sent his own private airplane to Washington to carry back Rep. Bob Crosser of Ohio, Crosser's daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren on a Christmas vacation junket to Mexico—all at Aleman's expense.

What the president of Mexico knows is that Congressman Crosser will be the new chairman of the House interstate and foreign commerce committee, which has a lot to do with foreign purchases of oil and other imports. His ideas on Mexican oil may be important.

Besides Crosser and his relatives, others included in the vacation flight to Mexico were Elton J. Layton, clerk of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, his wife, and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John Meyer. Colonel Meyer is an Air Forces liaison officer on Capitol Hill.

Note—compromise on Mexican oil may be a loan to Mexico for the construction of nonspeculative refineries and pipelines, with the understanding that American companies be permitted to drill in Mexico on a limited scale and with full legal protection against confiscation. Also, Mexican oil exports to the United States would be sold through "Pemex,' the Mexican government monopoly.

FIVE thousand grim and desperate White Russians—Communism's first victims—are waiting with their backs to the wall for the Chinese Communists to sweep into Shanghai. Pushed as far as they can go, these tragic refugees who fled across Siberia in 1917-18 have chosen the only escape left—mass suicide.

Intercepted letters from Shanghai's White Russians reveal that many are actually carrying poison or planning to hurl themselves off buildings in case the Communists take over. All too vividly they remember what the press had said little about—the fate of their Russian cousins who were swallowed up by the Chinese Reds in Manchuria.

Hysterically the White Russians are trying to leave China. The International Refugee organization has helped evacuate those of Jewish ancestry to Palestine and a few others to South American countries. But the U. S. consulate has slammed its doors in the faces of those who have besieged the United States for visas.

The story of Shanghai's White Russians is one of the most epic in modern times. Many had been noblemen and aristocrats under the czar. Others had been laborers on the czar's Siberian railroad. Fleeing across Siberia, they eventually filtered dowin to Shanghai, where king and commoner worked side by side—often as coolies.

After V-J day, the Soviets granted amnesty to Shanghai's White Russians—and gave them a salestalk about coming back to Russia. Two-thirds of the community flocked to the Soviet consulate for citizenship, and four Russian boatloads sailed for Vladivostok and disappeared behind the iron curtain.

By prearranged code they hinted of bitter disappointment in the few letters that trickled back. One couple escaped, and gave a first-hand account. Then the newly inducted Soviets began renouncing their citizenship simply by announcing it in the vernacular press. More than 1,000 returned to their stateless status.

Today they are "political lepers"—a lost colony in the heart of Shanghai's teeming millions. They have no country to turn to, no embassy to protect them. Their only hope—if the worst comes—is the poison they carry in their pockets.

The Dew-Drop

Senators who got a free ride in the Dew-Drop—the plush airplane supposedly built for "president" Dewey—have about concluded that airplane junketing doesn't pay.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, nephew of the senator from Michigan and chief of the Air Force, escorted Democratic Sen. Joe O'Mahoney and Senators-elect Clinton Anderson of New Mexico and Lyndon Johnson of Texas up to New York in the Dew-Drop to attend the Town Hall dinner in honor of Vice President-elect Alben Barkley. However, the Dew-Drop landed in a snowstorm at Mitchell Field, L. I., and an Air Force staff car got so bogged down in traffic that the V. I. P.'s grabbed their suitcases and waded through the snow on foot.

After a long subway ride, they finally reached the Barkley dinner four hours and fifteen minutes after they left the airport. If they had gone by train instead of sponging o nthe government for a free airplane ride, they would have arrived two hours earlier.

The word "rhyme" is more correctly spelled "rime", but the customary spelling is due to a confusion with the word "rhythm."

Time Magazine's Criticism Of Newspaper Columnists Scored

MAN Killing Time—The record shows Whittaker Chambers was a Communist agent involved in espionage. He kept espionage evidence hidden for a decade, thus making it impossible to prosecute those guilty of the crime under the espionage law — because of the 3-year statute of limitations . . . Chambers admitted he lied when he testified before a Congressional committee that he lacked documentary evidence to support his revelation of Communist espionage. That's obvious perjury.

WINCHELL

Yet a man with that sordid record was a senior Time editor since 1939! That fact alone deprives Time of the privilege of criticizing anybody.

The Luce Mag pompously declares columnists should show "a greater sense of responsibility in deciding what is legitimate public news and what is mere trouble-making gossip" . . . And who is to decide what is mere trouble-making gossip and what is legitimate public news—Time's Court of Anonymous Nobodies?

This reporter has more respect for the judgment of one of our most eminent journalists — Joseph Pulitzer. He wrote: "Now about sensationalism. Some people try to make you believe that a newspaper should not devote its space to long and dramatic accounts of murders, political corruption, frauds, graft, divorces. Say what you will, I tell you they are wrong."

WHAT one person may consider legitimate news another may tag as mere trouble-making gossip. It's strictly a personal opinion.

A New York gazette once aptly put it this way: "We don't know who has been feeding this line about the theory of American journalism that news is separate from opinion. But we'll bet it wasn't a working newspaperman. The theory not only isn't true but it couldn't possibly be true on any newspaper. Men, not machines, report news stories, and men, not machines, edit and make newspapers. Editors have to use their judgment. Judgment is opinion."

Time once insisted it practiced "objective and scientific journalism." Its original prospectus bragged that it would be "free of bias."

However, a short time ago the same publication proclaimed "the editors recognize that complete neutrality on public questions and important news is probably as undesirable as it is impossible and are therefore ready to acknowledge certain prejudices which may in varying measure predetermine their opinions of the news."

Such consistency!

THE screwluce brigade has made a habit of pouncing on reporters who occasionally blunder. They pose as arbiters of what is right and wrong in journalism and deliver stern lectures to superior newsmen. In its silver anniversary issue that newsmag confessed: "Time, seeking a truthful summation of the news, knows well that it can be wrong."

Yes! It can be wrong—and it has been again and again. Its list of inaccuracies is longer than any three columnists' record of boners.

We have always called a spade a spade and a rat a rat—and backed it up with documentary evidence. Time may label it name-calling (while calling you names at the same time) but we believe in spicing a column with pungent wordage . . . Incidentally, can you think of more highly respected newspapermen than Joseph Pulitzer and Charles A. Dana? Well, they played star roles in epic journalistic pier-sixers. Pulitzer always referred to Dana in print as Charles Ananias Dana, and Dana would refer to Pulitzer as Judas.

Hell, they even attacked each other's personal appearance and the type of clothes they wore.

CONSIDERING the peculiar record of the Luce publications (and their hook-up with Chambers) it is as ridiculous for them to belittle newspapermen as it was for mobster Dutch Schultz to criticize the New York Times . . . When reporter Meyer Berger met Schultz the gangster said: "Ain't you the one who wrote I was a pushover for blondes? Didn't you write that in the Times?" . . . Berger admitted it and added: "Someone told me you were a pushover for blondes."

Schultz replied sternly: "That is beside the pernt. I only remember it made me feel bad when I saw it in the Times. I don't think 'pushover for a blonde' is any kind of language to write for newspaper like the Times."

Luce periodicals should be the last to scorn any newspaperman—or offer journalistic counsel. If those mags are eager to improve journalism, they can start by editing themselves.

How can they have the audacity to rap others is difficult to savvy. It is an illustration of almost unbelievable hypocrisy and abject deceit. A Luce mag once planted wet kisses on Mussolini's ugly face—and offered words of praise for Fascism!

It Just Doesn't Make Sense

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"WE must glamorize the job of homemaking," says a home economist.

Okay. Say we do start a campaign to glamorize the job of homemaking. And we succeed so well that it looks like the most glamorous job a girl could choose for herself.

Then what? Well, then she marries. And in short order she finds out that making a good home for a husband and bringing up children isn't glamorous at all, but a hard job, a good deal of which is plain drudgery.

Then won't we have even more dissatisfied and disillusioned homemakers than we have right now?

Instead, shouldn't we try to show young girls what homemaking is really like—without glamoring it up?

STRESS THE FACTS

SHOULDN'T we stress the fact that it takes hard work to run a home, that it takes wisdom and tolerance as well as love to make a happy marriage, that it takes work and worry and infinite patience and understanding to be a good mother?

Homemaking isn't a glamorous job. It's a hard job that demands that a woman be able to step out of the limelight that was hers as a girl and settle down to thinking of her husband and children first and of herself last.

But the satisfaction of being a good homemaker, wife and mother is real and deep and true.

There are plenty of jobs for the girl who is looking for glamor. Homemaking is for the girl who can be happy without it.

"The adoption of the French mode of kissing on both cheeks would diminish the prevalence of common colds."—Medical Press (London). It would also reduce heart trouble considerably.

Diplomats Would Rejoice Over Clear U. S. Policy In Europe

WASHINGTON—There is one Christmas present that diplomatic Washington fervently prayed for. If this gift could be promised for the coming year, there would be general rejoicing among the diplomats who must cope with the ins and outs of American policy.

CHILDS

This gift would be a clear and unmistakable course in Europe, and, above all, in Germany, that would end the zigzags of the past year and a half. Such a policy fixed at the top would leave no one in any doubt as to what line the United States intended to follow not merely during the coming year but for the next decade.

This would mean a determination by President Truman to make sure that a consistent policy was carried out. The confusion of a Pentagon policy, a General Clay policy, a State department policy and, perhaps a White House policy would be ended.

The French believe that they now have won what is, at any rate, a temporary victory. As the result of French insistence, the British and the Americans have apparently agreed to an international force that would exercise top supervision over the German management of the Ruhr.

Gets Tacit Support

According to current report, this has been brought about with at least the tacit support of the State department. It means that the General Clay - Pentagon policy of turning the Ruhr industrial complex back to German direction and control has been overruled.

Public opinion in this country undoubtedly played a part. There was a strong revulsion against restoring the discredited past to authority. A lively and position interest has grown up in the proposal to give supervising direction in the Ruhr to the International Co-operative alliance.

At a recent press conference President Truman declared that cartels would never be restored in German industry so long as he was president. But the capable commission sent to Germany by Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall is discovering, according to a report to the New York Times, that in certain fields the same old cartel structure is being put together again.

THE truth is that without a firm policy resolutely laid down from the top, what you get is a warfare of the specialists, each with his own favorite specially to push. In Germany this has gone much further than is realized in this country.

Thus the military specialists are beginning to argue that it is unwise, in view of the Soviet menace, to waste German military manpower. The industrial specialists in the European co-operation administration are suggesting that since the United States must provide most of the rearmament for western Europe, German plants could be turned in part at least to production of arms for the western alliance.

That may be the function of specialists—to argue the case for their special responsibility and special job. But such talk scares the wits out of Germany's western neighbors who live in fear of a Germany that would seek to wield the balance of power between east and west, ready to throw in with the side that offered the most. And behind this fear, too, is the fact that the specialists have from time to time won their way.

Busy Policy-Maker

Busiest of all the Germany policy-makers is Under Secretary of the Army William H. Draper, jr. Draper, who has given every evidence that he believes in restoring the old industrial structure, works at his job intensively in close liaison with General Clay.

This warfare of the specialists is not confined to Germany. From the Pentagon came the drive to restore Franco Spain to grace. The deep concern in France was that this move meant a strategic decision to hold a line on the other side of the Pyrenees, abandoning the rest of Europe to another long occupation in the event of a third world war.

These are gloomy thoughts for this season of the year. But it must be realized that they are the thoughts of the watch the involved evolution of U. S. policy.

At one time consideration was given to naming a special assistant to the President to advise him on foreign policy. That proposal as now been put aside, since it was feared it would lead to rivalry and controversy. That might have been true. But the fact remains that a new and positive approach is essential in the year to come and afterward.

Today's Thought

He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him; he is filled full with reproach.—Lamentations 3:30.

"Try And Stop Me"

A DOCTOR in a small Polish town, trying desperately to collect enough fees to balance his wife's extravagance, was called to treat the sick daughter of a poor scholar. "Name any fee, and I'll raise it for you," begged the scholar. "Only save my daughter."

"It's a difficult case. What if I don't save her?" asked the doctor.

"Whether you cure her or kill her, I'll pay," promised the scholar.

Unfortunately, the daughter died despite the doctor's best efforts, and he submitted a bill for a thousand dollars. The scholar cried this was exorbitant, and the case went to the local judge for arbitration. The judge considered all the evidence and then turned to the doctor. "As I understand it, sir," he said, "you were to be paid whether you cured this poor girl or killed her. Did you cure her?" "No," the doctor admitted. "Did you kill her then?" "Certainly not," roared the doctor. "Very well, then," decreed the judge, "the case is dismissed, and the doctor deserves nothing at all."

Today's Journal Editorial

NOT FOR THE U.S.A.!

Posibilities are exceedingly remote of U. S. support for a Chilean proposal that American governments pledge joint action in suppressing rebellions which might occur in the Western Hemisphere.

There can be no pretense that most Latin American governments are true democracies. The majority are governed by military cliques which gained power through violence and which are likely to remain in control until removed by force. Such governments usually are endurable because of the awareness of those in power that their people can and will rebel if pressed too hard. Concern for their own hides usually places a restraint upon excesses by those who govern.

So Chile is suggesting nothing more nor less than that the United States pledge itself to fight, if necessary, to perpetuate a bunch of Latin American dictatorships. The idea merits the instant brushoff it seems sure to get.

Year-End Clearance Sales Are Sweeping U. S. As Before War

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (AP)—Post-Christmas clearance sales came back in the nation's department stores today, just as in the good old days.

Prices may be higher than before the war, but the year-end mark-down percentage is just about as great as ever. Goods which weren't moved before Christmas were being offered across the country at cut prices—one-third to one-half off are the terms commonly mentioned in the advertisements. Cuts in fur prices seemed the greatest in most places.

In many cities the sales ads seemed to spell the end of the trade pattern of the war and post-war shortage years and the return to the usual post-Christmas way of doing business.

Price Cuts Deeper

An Associated Press survey of 14 key cities throughout the nation showed department stores everywhere advertising clearance sales.

Some cities—New York, Chicago, Boston, Washington, Kansas City, Dallas—said nothing like the sales this year had been seen since the days before the war. But others, such as Denver, St. Louis and Atlanta, reported the sales were about the same as recent years.

Ralph Goldsmith, chairman of the department store division of the Merchants and Manufacturers association, Washington, says the sales this year are more general and price cuts average deeper than in the pre-war boom years and wartime shortage years. But he says they are comparable generally to previous periods when goods were in abunduant supply.

Goldsmith adds that stores generally closed their Christmas books with "a big season," despite a shaky start in early December.

Women's Apparel Featured

Furs were particular centers of price - cutting attention most places.

Most cities reported sales emphasis on women's apparel, particularly "fashion" items.

Sales on men's clothing were held in New York, Boston, Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City and Dallas.

A Chicago store out 10,000 men's fall suits on sale, "greatest sale in 10 years." Another store in the windy city put quality men's suits and overcoats on sale for the first time since before the war.

Kansas City stores were putting on sale women's apparel and shoes, men's suits, home furnishings, blankets and sheets down about 60 per cent from last year, and radios and other home appliances with big reductions.

Dallas, although reporting that for the first time in eight years men's apparel stores were having sales, added that on some other lines department stores had underestimated the pre-Christmas demand and now were cancelling prepared advertisements for post-Christmas sales.

Littlefield Seaman Finishes Navy School

Keith L. Wren, electronics technician, third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wren of Littlefield, has successfully completed a course of instruction at the electronics school, located on Treasure island, San Francisco, Calif.

Wren entered the naval service in July 1947, and received his reeruit training at the Naval Training center, San Diego, Calif.

Before entering the Navy, he attended Littlefield High school.

Woman's Lifeless Form Is Strung Up

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28. (AP)—It was gruesome, an excited motorist phoned police. This woman's body was hanging from a tree on Colorado street.

When officers arrived several hundred cars had clogged up the main drag, occupants staring at the sight. A passerby, Harold Walker, 20, climbed a telephone pole and cut down the lifeless form.

It proved to be a store mannequin, fully clothed.

Ex-Peddler Gives Another $500,000

BOSTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—John Deferrari, the 85-year-old former fruit peddler who last year gave the Boston public library $1,000,000 to start a trust fund, dug deep again today and gave the library $500,000 more.

The latest gift of the multi-millionaire represents downtown real estate holdings. It swells funds eventually available to the library from his trusts to $3,500,000

Deferrari once peddled penny fruit from a basket around Boston office buildings. The man who fastens his pockets with safety pins swapped the basket for a wagon and a horse, then moved into a quality fruit store a block or so from the site of the library.

His business acumen, he says, was sharpened by books found in the library, but the details of his life have been largely his own secret.

Even now his address is simply "general delivery, Boston."

Greece has placed an export embargo on olive oil to check speculative price advances.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Takes His First Steps Without Any Help

SPANGLER, Pa., Dec. 28 (AP)—An eight-year-old boy walked with firm steps about his home today, scarcely able to believe he no longer need the hands of others to help him.

"I can walk now," Antonio (Tony) Cantelope repeated over and over, "I don't need anybody's hands."

The dark-haired, brown-eyed youngster took his first unaided step last Wednesday, his parents said.

"We believe it is a miracle," declared his mother, Mrs. Jennie Cantelope. "It is the result of our prayers and novenas to Mother Cabrini."

Prayed Every Day

Tony took his first wavering steps on the day set aside by the Roman Catholic church in honor of Mother Cabrini, the nun who is the first United States citizen to be elevated to sainthood.

"Every day I told Antonio to ask Mother Cabrini to make him walk," his mother related. "He would tell her picture, 'I want to walk. I want to walk.'

"Then last Wednesday — I don't know what prompted me to do it—I told Tony to walk to the bed. He got up from his chair and just walked over."

Mrs. Cantelope, who also has two-year-old twin sons, said Tony suffered a brain injury at birth that prevented his walking. Doctors, she said, told her he would never walk. Two years ago the family turned to prayer.

Delegate To Annual Cotton Meet Chosen

Roy B. McQuatters, president of the board of directors of the Littlefield Farmers Cooperative Gin and Frozen Food Locker plant, has been elected to a three-year term as West Texas delegate to the National Cotton Council of America.

The annual national meeting of the council will be held March 7-9 in Los Angeles, Calif.

McQuatters is also a director of the Plains Cooperative Oil mill of Lubbock, and of the Farmers Cooperative compress, Lubbock.

Cutting Down Trees Sad Sight In Peiping

PEIPING, Dec. 28 (AP)—It's a sad sight for the people of Peiping.

Troops are cutting down Cypress trees—some of them nearly 1,000 years old—in the grounds of the Temple of Heaven.

Government forces need the space for a new airfield within the city to give isolated Peiping a regular link with the outside world.

The Communists are within artillery range of the field, but they haven't shelled it.

If shells overreach the target, they could easily land on the Altar of Heaven; there the emperors of China used to bow to the only superior they have ever acknowledged—Heaven.

Some Chinese consider the center of the altar the center of the universe itself.

Negro Claims Draft Unfair

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28 (AP)—A 25-year-old Philadelphia negro today sought to prevent his induction into what he called the "segregated" U. S. Army.

Devereaux Tomlinson, who served as a deck officer in the merchant marine in World War II, was scheduled for Army induction today.

But yesterday he asked the U. S. district court in a bill of equity to bar that induction. He also asked a preliminary injunction to restrain operation of the selective service act in his case until the matter is decided.

Contention Stated

Judge George A. Welsh set Thursday morning for a hearing.

Tomlinson contended in an affadavit that his service in a "segregated unit" would cause him "embarrassment, pain, anguish and loss of personal dignity."

He also maintained that he would be denied "opportunity for training, service and advancement granted to white inductees solely because of race or color."

Named as defendants in the action were: Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service; Henry M. Gross, Pennsylvania state director; Rudolph Sternberg, chairman, and other members of Philadelphia local board 124, selective service;

Meat Prices Show 19 Per Cent Drop

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 (AP) — The American Meat institute says the general wholesale price of all meat in the nation has dropped about 19 percent since the mid-September peak.

The AMI said the wholesale price report was based on compilations by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Included were all grades and all weights of beef, lamb, pork and veal.

The decline was based "primarily on government and trade quotations" on wholesale markets in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, the AMI said. The retail price check was based on a survey of Chicago chain and independent stores.

For the four weeks ended on Christmas, the AMI said wholesale and retail prices declined some four percent as compared with a similar period in November.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Gerow, commanding general of the Second Army, and Maj. Dorsey H. Cullen, head of the Schuylkill arsenal induction center here.

Apples Tip Scales Of Justice For Actress

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28. (AP)—Three apples tipped the scales of justice for Actress Lien Deyers in divorce court.

Miss Deyers, 38, Dutch film player, testified that her husband, Furrier Irving Rubin, 47, threw a tantrum when she came home with six apples after he had sent her to a market for three apples.

"He said I was too extravagant," she said.

Applesauce, said the court, in effect, awarding her the decree and $1,250 monthly.

THE QUESTION

Do you think children should be given allowances? Why or why not?

THE ANSWERS

E. S. (SANDY) WALDREP, 1526 Hill, salesman at S & Q Clothiers: "Yes, I do. If you will give them allowances, it will teach them to save their money. If not, they will spend it all the time. We find it true with ours. If they know they have so much to spend, they will save more."

MRS. PAUL WALSH, 3101 Twenty - first, housewife: "I think so—when children are old enough to know how to use an allowance. I think they learn how to use their own money and spend it, if they have an allowance. They learn the value of money."

MRS. DEE ODEN, 3402 Twenty - eighth, housewife: "I think that if they are given an allowance and made to stay on their allowance, that is all right. If they are made to stay with their allowance, it's fine and it teaches them the value of money."

L. H. JOHNSON, 2214 Twenty-seventh, seismologist for Honolulu Oil Co.: "Yes. I think it teaches them to watch their money. They might as well start young. Sooner or later they have to know."

MRS. SAM MALONE, jr., 2203 Sixth, housewife: "Yes, We give Samye (four-year - old daughter) one. She learns to keep her money better that way. She stretches 25 cents over a whole week. Otherwise, she spends 75 cents to a dollar."

MRS. JOHNNIE JORDAN, 1215 Nineteenth, cashier at Mark Halsey No. 4: "Yes. They feel kind of independent and self-supporting when you give them an allowance. I have two grandchildren and they feel so independent and self-supporting when they have their money. Even if they are small, I think they need allowances."

CLAIMED BY DEATH

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Harriet Frances Hadlock, 102, who knitted socks and entire uniforms for Union soldiers in the American Civil war, died today. Mrs. Hadlock came to Windsor from Nashua, N. H., in 1937. She was born in Boylston Center, Mass.

Germans Learn New Freedom Of Press

BERLIN, Dec. 28 (AP) — The newspaper business, American style, is teaching the German a new kind of freedom. The lesson has been taught so well in the past three years that German editors now openly complain that the American-sponsored "Die Neue Zeitung" is unfair competition to their own publications.

The attacks serve to bring into the open the question of whether the official paper is actually competition. "Die Neue Zeitung" editors note with some alarm the amazing rate at which the Germans no longer are buying the paper. The Zeitung once sold 1,900,000 copies. That circulation rate has fallen now to 600,000.

"Die Neue Zeitung" under American management printed what the editors thought the people should read. The German papers print what they know the German wants to read.

Military government recently took cognizance of the difference. A mild shakeup resulted. The editorship of the official newspaper changed hands. The new editor is Kendall Foss, former Berlin correspondent for the "New York Post." Now, the powers that be recognize that the German is going to buy his local paper—maybe it is a political party organ—with his first few pfennig.

Extension For Lubbock Field Is Complete At No. 1 Travis

An extension to the Lubbock field of central Lubbock county was completed by Tobe Foster, et al, at their No. 1 Travis, 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 4, block A, Gibson survey.

This project, located about four miles northeast of the city of Lubbock, pumped 24 hours on an initial production test and made 103.41 barrels of oil, with a gas-oil ration of 100-1.

Gravity of the petroleum was 23.6 degrees. Of the total fluid developed on the test, three per cent was water.

The pay section at 4,863-4,990 feet was acidized with 16,000 gallons of acid, by stages.

Hockley Test Completed

A small discovery from the San Andres, upper Permian, in northwest Hockley county was completed by Edward C. Lawson of Tulsa.

On a 24-hour potential, Lawson's No. 1 George L. White pumped 93.82 barrels of oil per day. Gravity was 31.9 degrees. The gas-oil ration was too small to measure.

In addition to the oil pumped on the test, 12 per cent water developed.

Production was safer after the San Andres pay zone between 4,617 feet and 4,648 feet received a 1,000-gallon acid treatment.

This new pay opener is 440 feet from south and east lines of labor 16, league 704, State Capitol Lands survey, abstract 236, A. Taylor original grantee, about 18 miles northwest of the town of Levelland.

Nearest production is in the Yellowhouse field, a few miles to the southwest.

Drillstem Test Made

Placid Oil company drillstem tested the northeast Scurry county Ellenburger with its No. 1 Cornelius Davis, wildcat 6½ miles northeast of the town of Snyder and 660 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 387, block 97, H&TC survey.

The tool was open 50 minutes at 7,755-7,830 feet. A slight blow of air held at the surface for part of the period.

Recovery was 150 feet of very slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. Salt content of the mud was 10,000 parts per million.

Last report had the prospector making hole deeper into the Ellenburger below 7,850 feet in lime.

Core To Be Taken

Lubbock Woman's Good Deed Repaid On Radio Program

Mrs. Grace Hurd, Lubbock's Good Samaritan, can bear full witness to the saying that "goodness is the only investment that never fails."

Monday afternoon she was awarded some $5,000 in prizes by an American Broadcasting company give-away program, "Second Honeymoon." She won the weekly "Heart of Gold" contest.

Months ago Mrs. Hurd, while employed at a drug store, made personal sacrifices to help a nearly destitute woman with two school-age boys.

Story Is Repeated

The Sunday Avalanche-Journal, in its issue of Nov. 28, related her story. In a letter to the program Mrs. A. C. Wheeler, whose address is listed as 203 Sixth street, repeated the story.

The letter wins for Mrs. Hurd an impressive array of goods, including: an automatic laundry, an ironing machine, a 72-piece sterling silver service for 12, a radio-phonograph console, a gas range, Duncan Phyphe dinette suite, a ranch-type bedroom suit, five cases of canned fruit, venetian blinds, linens, blankets and miscellaneous other items.

Mrs. Hurd was working at her job in the kitchen of the American restaurant, 1611 Ave. H, when the news came shortly after the 3 to 3:30 o'clock program.

Mrs. T. E. Buckner, a friend of long standing, was the first to call:

"Grace!" she exclaimed. "Have you heard what's happened?"

Mrs. Hurd suffered a pang of apprehension, since her mother has been ill. But when Mrs. Buckner explained, she said she was so happy "I burst into tears."

Her friends were happy, too. Her employer, O. L. Peddy, owner of the restaurant, said: "It couldn't have happened to a nicer person. She certainly deserved it."

Her daughter, Mrs. G. C. Stalter of Tahoka highway,

Quakes Strike Reno Section

RENO, Nev., Dec. 28 (AP)—Seven earthquakes hit Reno within four and a half hours last night—the third one causing "a good deal of jiggling" in Reno's 42-year-old city hall and bringing prompt adjournment of a city council session. There were no reports of damage.

Frank McCulloch, city hall reporter covering the council session for the Reno Gazette, said the "jiggling" shock was accompanied by a slight rumble. At least two of the earlier tremors were "relatively sharp," he reported.

Made House Creak

The second of the series "made our whole house creak, caused candles on our dinner table to sway violently, and almost upset our Christmas tree," he related. The first noticeable tremor swung chandeliers and rattled doors and windows.

Although some of the lesser tremors were not generally felt, Prof. Vincent P. Gianella, University of Nevada Seismologist, said seven were recorded between 5:10 p. m. and 9:24 p. m., PST (8:10 p. m. and 12:24 a. m., EST). Four were "very feeble," he said. He reported that he had heard a rumbling sound at 6:24 and again at 9:24 (PST).

Gianella said all the quakes centered "very close to Reno," a city of 35,000 to 40,000 population. Residents from Reno eastward to Sparks, three miles distant, felt the tremors and deluged police, firemen and newspapers with calls.

The area has had no major earthquake in the past, although a 1932 tremor cracked walls and broke plaster and window panes.

Gianella reassured callers, many of whom were near hysteria, he said. They feared a major disaster would follow the minor quakes.

Faculty men of the University of Nevada's Mackay School of Mines said they believed the series resulted from slipping in the steamboat fault in the Washoe valley eight miles south of Reno. (A fault is a break in the earth's crust; earthquakes result when the two edges slip.)

Typically American, with a tart Yankee humor and a stout heart, Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, first woman to win an initial election to the U. S. Senate strictly on her own merit, has been voted the woman of the year by editors of Associated Press newspapers.

Campaigning against what appeared to be overwhelming odds, capable, smiling Mrs. Smith, who once worked in a ten-cent store, rolled up a popular vote which was more than that of her three male opponents combined. In a heavily Democratic Congress, this Maine Republican's decisive victory proves once more that the American people love a fighter.

Among other women outstanding in their fields for 1948 are a number of new faces and several familiar to the yearly lists of the distaff Who's Who.

Dr. Helen Brooke Taussig, associate professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and noted heart surgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital, was voted the year's outstanding woman of science because of her sensational work in "blue baby" operations.

In the field of business, the vote went to Vivien Kellems, the Connecticut cable grip tycoon, who has made the headlines regularly during the year by talking back to the U. S. government's income tax dignitaries.

Loretta Young won the crown as movie queen of the year, as Academy Award winner of her performance in "The Farmer's Daughter."

Jane Froman was named first lady of radio, because of her gallant comeback as a major star of the air after her tragic accident near Lisbon in 1943, when she was almost killed in a plane crash as she was flying to Europe to entertain servicemen. It took 25 operations and 5 years to restore a fractured leg, crushed ankle and arm, broken ribs and dislocated back and put her on her own two feet again. Last March she married John Curtis Brown, pilot of the clipper that crashed in the Lisbon harbor, who saved her life by holding her up for an hour after the crash, although his own back was broken and his skull fractured.

Outstanding in the field of education was Mabel Studebaker, biology teacher at Strong-Vincent

UN To Take Up Complaint That Israel Broke Holy Land Truce

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Dec. 28 — The United Nations Security council will take up today an Egyptian complaint that Israel broke the Holy Land truce by attacking Egyptian positions in the Negev.

Britain has prepared a draft resolution branding Israel the aggressor in the current fighting in the southern Palestine desert and was reported seeking American support.

The text of the British resolution was sent to the State department in Washington last night.

To Take Up Report

The council also will take up a report from Acting Mediator Ralph Bunche on the renewal of fighting in Palestine.

The report contains statements by U.N. truce observers accusing Israeli forces of attacking Egyptian units in the Negev desert but Bunche says he is not blaming either side.

The lengthy report forwarded to the Security council over Bunche's signature tended to support Egypt's complaint to the Security council that Jewish forces had reopened hostilities in violation of the truce order.

Unable To Say

Bunche later said at Lake Success, N. Y., he was unable to say who fired the first shot in the new Negev fighting. The current battle began six days ago and has spread to areas along Egypt's border.

The mediator explained the report contained statements from truce observers with the Egyptians which tended to blame Israel. He said he was unable to include statements from observers with Israeli forces because establishment of observers' posts in the Jewish-held areas of the Negev had not been permitted.

Bunche said in the report "I have no knowledge of any incidents which could be claimed as provocation for the fighting in the Negev."

The report said the Israelis expelled U.N. observers from posts with the Jewish forces on Dec. 21.

Makes Declaration

The following day, the report said, Israel declared itself "bound to reserve its freedom of action." One of its warships then shelled Egyptian positions on the coast at Gaza and Israeli planes bombed Gaza.

The report said Israel's refusal to permit 3,000 Egyptians surrounded at Faluja to withdraw under a plan approved by the Security council was "a major factor in preventing progress" toward peace.

The report also said Israel has not allowed food and medical convoys to reach Faluja and that Jewish forces have not evacuated Beersheba. Both were ordered by the Security council.

In a radio address from New York last night Bunche said the end of Holy Land warfare definitely was in sight.

He declared that the Negev fighting is an overt violation of the Security council truce order and should not be minimized but added:

"However, I reiterate my belief that resumption of fighting in Palestine on any widespread or general scale is highly unlikely.

Death Ends Actor's Long Theater Career

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28 (AP)—Actor John Westley's long stage and screen career is over. He died yesterday of a stroke at the age of 70.

A veteran of 35 years on the stage, he appeared on Broadway with the Dolly sisters and later played opposite Lynn Fontanne in "Dulcy." He was a co-founder of Actors Equity association and came to Hollywood in 1935. He played small roles in movies, including "My Favorite Brunette" and "My Girl Tisa" recently.

He was divorced from the late actress Helen Westley. His widow, Dorothy, survives.

Artificial Respiration Saves Ailing Goldfish

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 28 (AP)—George, the goldfish, owed his life to artificial respiration today.

For three years he swam circles around his bowl in Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kulp's home here. They returned from a holiday trip to find George floating on his side and looking mighty low.

Kulp found that gas fumes were escaping from a nearby hot water heater, decided that was what ailed George.

"I worked the gills with my fingernails for about an hour," Kulp related, "changing him from warm to cold water to shock him into breathing. I took him by the tail and wiggled him around the bowl.

"I was just about to give up when he began to breathe. Within an hour and a half after I started, he was moving under his own power right side up."

Magazine Story Tells Of New Deal Campus

The colorful campus of New Deal school, between Monroe and Lubbock, is the subject of a full-page article in the December issue of The Extensioner, monthly publication of the Extension Service of Texas A&M college.

The article describes the remarkable campus landscaping job done by Superintendent and Mrs. A. L. Faubion of the school, particularly noting the three dahlia gardens grown by the Faubions and their 14-year-old daughter, LaRuth.

The dahlia selection of 450 bulbs of 127 varieties, and accents the landscaping of the 20-acre New Deal school tract.

A picture of Mr. and Mrs. Faubion accompanied the magazine article.

Sultan Resumes Governing Of Important Province In Java

By KENNETH LIKES
Associated Press Staff Writer

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 28—The Dutch announced today that the Sultan of Soerakarta had resumed governing that important central Java province "in close cooperation" with Dutch civil authorities.

The civil authorities are accompanying the Dutch army as it sweeps through the Indonesian republic.

The announcement said that "partly as a result" of the sultan's action "it will very soon be possible to start distribution of textiles and other provisions."

A Dutch army communique at the same time summed up losses in the first nine days of their campaign against the republic.

41 Men Are Killed

The Dutch said 41 of their men had been killed and 99 wounded since they swept across demarcation lines separating Dutch territory from that of the Republic. No mention has been made of casualties among Republican forces in Dutch communiques thus far.

The communique said four planes had been lost, "two of them probably having been shot down by an anti-aircraft battery manned by about 30 Japanese."

This was the first mention of Japanese remaining on Java in connection with the current hostilities.

The Dutch said they were "mopping up" all the areas occupied since they began their land, air and sea "police action" against the Republic.

Major Attack Reported

A Chinese newspaper, Keng Po, yesterday reported a major guerrilla attack against Netherlands forces only 45 miles east of Batavia.

The newspaper said Republican units armed with automatic weapons and mortars entered the rail junction city of Tjikampek Christmas night and held the market place there for 10 hours before the Dutch drove them out.

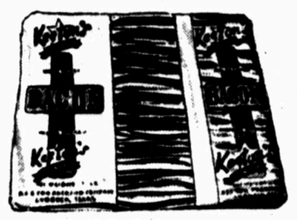

Rail workers in the town were said to have begun a strike just before the attack. Other reported guerrilla activities in the area were derailment of a freight train and destruction of a railway bridge.

Briefcase Frightens Mexico Congressmen

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 28. (AP)—Jittery Mexican congressmen dashed out of the chamber of deputies shouting "bomb" yesterday when a package plumped down from the balcony.

Chamber guards detained Leo Endert Ropp, a German piano tuner, until he explained in broken Spanish that his briefcase had slipped from his clutches.

Proposed Amendments to Zoning Ordinance of the City of Lubbock, Texas

NOTICE is hereby given that the Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended to the City Commission that Zoning Ordinance No. 681 be amended so that

Lots 1 thru 9, Block 30, Helm Subdivision to the City of Lubbock be taken out of a "C" District and placed in an "H" District.

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on January 13, 1949, at 2:00 o'clock P. M., in the City Commission room on the second floor of the City Hall in Lubbock, to consider the recommendations of the Zoning and Planning ability of adopting its proposal, and Commission to determine the advisability of adopting its proposal and at which time and place all interested persons will be given an opportunity to protest against the proposed amendment or make recommendations in support thereof.

After said hearing the City Commission will determine whether the Zoning Ordinance will be amended in accordance with such recommendation.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honora... Mayor and City Commission of Lubbock, Texas, will be received at the office of M. R. Smith, Jr., City Manager, until 2:00 P. M. January 13, 1949, for furnishing all necessary materials, equipment, superintendence and labor for constructing Swimming Pool Improvements, for the City of Lubbock, Owner, Lubbock, Texas.

Bidders must submit Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the owner, for 5% of the amount of the base bid, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lubbock, or a Proposal Bond in the sum of the same amount, from a reliable Surety Company, as guaranty that Bidder will enter into contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The Successful Bidder must furnish bond on the attached form in the amount of 100% of contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety, or other Surety or Sureties acceptable to the OWNER.

All lump sum prices must be stated in both scripts and figures. The owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the price in the bids, the owner reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid. Unreasonable or "unbalanced" prices will authorize the owner to reject the bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding the local conditions and conditions under which the work is to be done. Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, page 91, Chapter 45, (Article No. 5159A Civil Statutes 1925) concerning the wage scale and payment of prevailing wages established by the Owner. Said scale of prevailing minimum wage is set forth in the specifications.

Instructions to bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file at the office of R. L. Oldham, Acting City Engineer, City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

Copies may be secured upon deposit of $10.00 to be returned to the Contractor on submission of bona fide bid on the work with such plans and Specifications; or upon returning the Plans and Specifications immediately after examination of same before the date of receiving bids, and advising the City Engineer that bid will not be submitted, otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited.

High School in Erie, Pa., who was elected president of the National Education Association.

Voted outstanding in the field of sports for 1948 was Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen, of Holland, who made history by winning four gold medals for track events in the Olympic games. A housewife and mother of two children, Mrs. Koen amazed the sports world with her sensational performance.

Runners-up in the voting for sports queen of the year were: Vicki Draves, of Los Angeles, Olympics diving star; Ann Curtis, of San Francisco, swimming champion; Babe Didrikson, the veteran golf champion; Barbara Ann Scott, Canadian skating sensation; Alice Coachman, track star; Zoe Ann Olsen, who also won Olympics diving honors, and

In the field of literature, Betty Smith, raconteur of Brooklyn, scored again with her new novel, "Tomorrow Will Be Better," based on the same pattern as her earlier success, "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn."

Beauty honors of the year went to Beatrice Bella Shopp, of Hopkins, Minn., chosen Miss America for 1948.

Stage honors went to Tallulah Bankhead, long one of the great ladies of the American theater, who won fresh acclaim for her performance in the Noel Coward play, "Private Lives."

Laurels for public service were voted again to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, for her work with the United Nations.

Communists Plan Drastic Wage Reduction In Eastern Germany

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Dec. 28 — The Russians in Germany are upset because workers are making too much money under their Communist system in eastern Germany.

Their cure—an old "capitalist" device denounced over the years as a form of oppression of the workers—a cut in piecework rates.

Over 1,000,000 industrial workers in the Soviet-occupied area of eastern Germany thus were threatened today with a cut in their earnings.

Workers Surprised

P. Morenov, chief of the manpower division of the Russian military government, announced that a speedup campaign in zonal industries this year had falsely inflated wages.

He called for a drastic downward revision of piecework rates. Morenov cited Rollings Mills as an example. He said production had climbed 30 per cent in 1948 but labor costs had soared 60 per cent.

Morenov's announcement of the severe new wage policy was featured on the front page of Taegliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Soviet occupation army.

It came as a chilly surprise to east German workers whom the Socialist Unit (Communist) party had attempted to stir to a high pitch of enthusiasm for the Russian stakhanovist (shock worker) system of boosting individual output.

Rigid Inspections Made

Communist-controlled police of the Soviet sector of Berlin meanwhile installed rigid controls over crosstown traffic.

Even a hearse was stopped at the sector frontier and a coffin inspected.

All passengers on street cars, subways and elevated trains were searched. Large packages and suitcases were dumped open and their contents seized unless the owners possessed Soviet sector ration cards.

The new controls began on a small scale last week but hundreds of east Berlin police were assigned yesterday to make the system airtight.

1948, Year Of Rising Plenty, Comes To Fine Final Harvest

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—The year has come to final harvest—and the harvest was fine.

1948 A. D. will go down in the record books as one of the best years of our lives.

It was a time when, on many fronts, man rescued his spirit from the chaos of the post-war world. And it was a time when he openly dared to hope for an enduring pattern of wide peace, even though it be at present only a peace of truce.

It stood out as a year of rising plenty. A flood tide of American goods and machines flowed out in waves that had the power to wash away some of the miseries in other lands.

Jingling In Pockets

There was work for almost everyone. There was a jingling in the pockets, and many things in the stores to buy. The price tags were high. But at the end of the year the price tags were coming down.

1948 had romance, adventure, death, prosperity, tears—and a great big belly laugh.

In Brief:

The heart of boyhood was broken with the death of Babe Ruth, victim of one of mankind's oldest enemies. "Black Jack" Pershing doped his colors and rode off to the endless resting place of all good calvarymen — "Fiddler's Green."

Two apostles of peace—saintly Mohandas K. Gandhi and Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden—fell to assassins' bullets. The Jew and the Arab played a mortal scrimmage. Communal strife bloodied ancient India.

The promise of peace flew chiefly with the thousands of anonymous young British and Americans who fed Berlin with an aerial ladder. And they were the larger heroes of the year, for they signalled that the west would make no second Munich compromise.

Somewhere, unknown to us now, a child perhaps was born in 1948 whose memory the earth will have reason to bless always. The mother of the year was Princess Elizabeth of Britain, who had a bonny prince the world wished well.

Truman Provides Laugh

The big belly laugh was provided by the little man from Missouri. Harry S. Truman hatched a memorable surprise for the people who count their chickens before they are hatched.

That was the finest gift of 1948 was the confidence it brought, the clearing of at least some of the clouding confusions left by the second world war. If hysteria throughout the world isn't dead, it is at least dying.

Well, so long 1948. We only hope 1949 can keep up the good work. People already are saying, "everything fine in '49."

Agreement Will Aid Gifts For Britain

LONDON, Dec. 28. (AP) — The flow of gift parcels from the United States to Britain will be increased by an Anglo-American agreement signed in London. The pact exempts the gifts from customs duty and provides for repayment of freight charges to senders. Parcels affected:

Relief goods sent by American voluntary non-profit agencies to charitable organizations in the U. K.; Standard packages sent by non-profit relief agencies to individuals in Britain on the order of individual Americans; and Relief packages sent by parcel post or commercial channels to individuals in Britain.

Under the Economic Cooperation act, ocean freight charges for relief packages already are being paid by ECA. Under the new agreement transportation charges within the U. K. will be defrayed out of the sterling counterpart fund set aside by Britain to match ERP dollar grants.

The British customs duties on such parcels have been waived by Britain for some time. The agreement on this point merely formalizes procedure already in effect.

Prefabricated aluminum theatre and motion picture auditoriums are being produced in Hanover, Germany, for sale throughout the world.

IT'S A FUR CRY—It's a fur cry from the sunny beaches of Florida to the wintry blasts up north, but this outfit is good both places. Dee Gentner, "Miss Caracul of 1949," wears a caracul jacket over a caracul bathing suit.

Norwegian Firewater Starts Lona Journey

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 28 (U.P.)—A group of Minneapolis Norwegians is sending a load of their native firewater on a boat trip around the world.

When it gets back home in November, 1949, they'll drink it.

The Norwegians are members of Torske Klubben, or Luncheon Club. The firewater is aquavit, a Norwegian liquor which burns going down.

In olden days, Norwegians aged their favorate potable by sealing it in a keg and sailing it around the world for a year. The ship's rocking and the climatic changes did things.

The Torske Klubben shipment was sealed reverently at the 15th anniversary meeting and sent to New York to begin its journey.

Santa Missed Little Sick Girl In Hospital But Return Trip, Just For Her, Is Likely

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Dec. 28 (AP)—In all the confusion, Santa may have missed a little sick girl here Christmas Day. But it's rumored the kind old gent with the white whiskers may make a return trip, just for her.

The girl is 11-year-old Betty Mae Clyngenpel, who recently won out over a seige of polio and now is confined to bed with spinal tuberculosis. She was one of 88 patients carried to safety when a Christmas fire swept through the Eau Claire Tuberculosis sanitarium.

Note To Santa Found

And that's why she wasn't in her customary room when Santa arrived at the charred building. But police touring the structure found something else in Betty's room.

It was a note which read:

"Dear Santa:

"I know that I have nothing but candy and nuts, but you are welcome to them. So here are a couple of chocolate cherries. I am willing to give something to someone who gives to children all over the world. Here they are.

"Love and kisses, "Betty Mae."

The note was propped up by two pieces of candy, and it adjoined a full candy box in case Santa was extra hungry.

The story reached Eau Claire residents who are personal friends of old St. Nick, and they say he's busy readying things for a whopping big trip, just to see Betty Mae.
